Snyder oilfield worker dies in well blast

From staff and wire reports
CLAIREMONT — A Snyder oilfield worker was killed and two others were hospitalized in very critical condition after a fire they were using to warm themselves ignited a well, authorities said.

Three other workers also were injured in the Monday afternoon explosion, officials said.

Sparks from the fire ignited fumes in the producing well about 15 miles northwest of this snow-covered West Texas community, Kent County Sheriff's Deputy Phil Standefer said.

The fire, which broke out about 12:35 p.m., was under control in about 35 minutes, Standefer said.

"The fire pretty well burned itself out," he said Monday afternoon. "They're trying to keep it cool now so they can close it back up."

David Brecheen, 32, of Snyder was pronounced dead at the scene by Kent County Justice of the Peace Louie Hilton.

Standefer identified the injured as Bob Milton, 29, Jerry Moore, 41, Henry Wood, 25, Lloyd Israel, 25, and William Pohlman, 40, all of Snyder.

Wood, who was burned over 75 percent of his body, and Israel, who was burned over 99 percent of his body, were flown from Cogdell Memorial Hospital in Snyder to Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas, according to Gail Anderson, a spokeswoman at the Snyder hospital.

She said the other three men are listed in good condition at Cogdell.

Wood is listed in critical condition in the Dallas hospital's adult burn unit, according to a Parkland spokesman, while Israel is listed as serious in the surgical burn unit.

The well is one of several located on land leased by Mobil Oil Corp. about 80 miles southeast of Lubbock.

Brecheen, Milton, Wood and Israel worked for B&F Well Service Co. of Snyder, Standefer said. Pohlman was employed by Mobil and Moore worked for H&L Well Service Co., also of Snyder, he said.

The Spur, Jayton and Post fire departments all helped battle the blaze, the deputy said.

Services for Brecheen are pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home in Snyder.

Los Ybanez 'illegal,' judge rules

LAMESA (SC) — An Andrews County District Judge has ruled that the newly incorporated town of Los Ybanez and the election of its city officials are "illegal and invalid."

James H. Clack, judge of the 109th State Judicial District, ruled Friday that lawsuits filed by Dawson County residents John Dell Barron and Milton Earnest claiming errors in the boundaries of the town had a basis in fact.

Referring to a surveyor's map, Clack said a portion of the incorporation application called for an election to be held in an area situated in the southwest corner of Section 12 in Dawson County. The election was actually held in Section 9, he said.

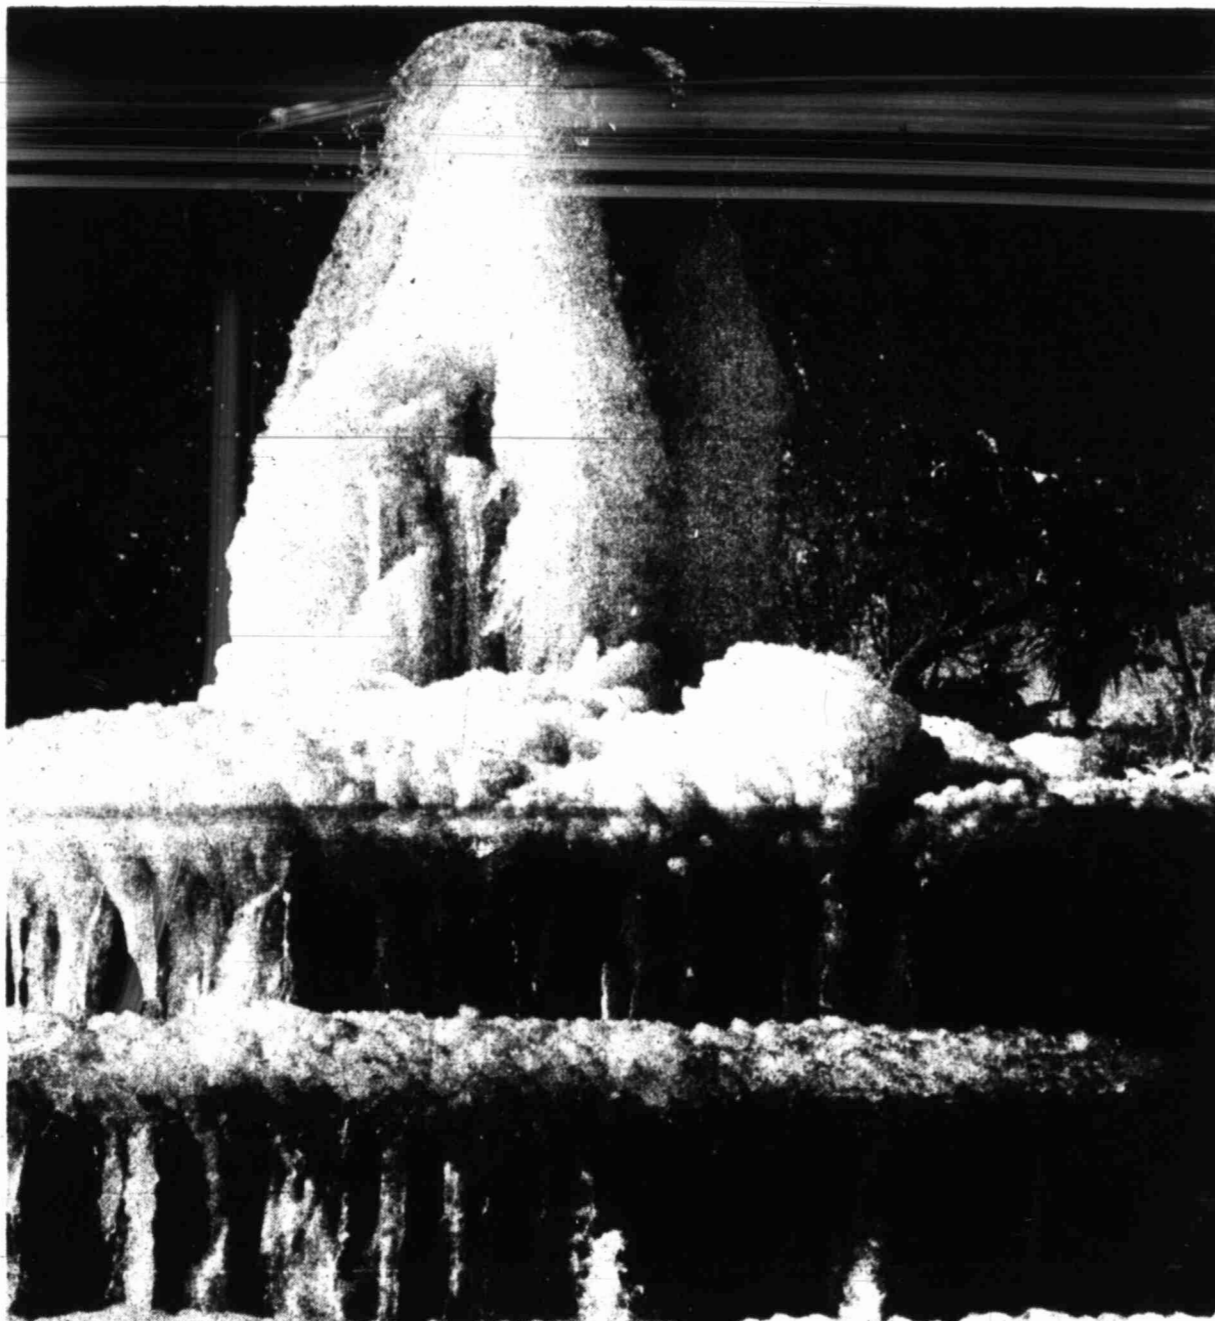

Clack said the apparent mistake by the surveyor rendered the application "erroneous."

Attorneys representing the three defendants in the case, Los Ybanez mayor Israel Ybanez and city commissioners Mary Ibanez and Francisco Rodriguez, said they would file an appeal in the State Court of Appeals in Eastland.

Bill Flynn, commissioner and district supervisor for the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, said approval of an application to grant Israel Ybanez a license to sell beer at his package store in Los Ybanez has been postponed.

Flynn said the commission would study Clack's ruling when it considers Ybanez' application for a license.

Ybanez has faced organized opposition from other Dawson County residents to his long fight to incorporate the community and sell beer there. The county has not allowed liquor sales for than 70 years.

ICE SCULPTURE — Plummeting temperatures froze the flow of water from the Colorado River Municipal Water District fountain, transforming it into a frothy mass of ice. The thawing on city streets is going slow, thanks to freezing temperatures at night.

Gramm to become Republican?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Phil Gramm, who was dropped from the House Budget Committee by Democratic leaders, is planning to resign his seat and run as a Republican in a special election, according to a published report.

The Dallas Times Herald, in today's editions, quoted several sources close to Gramm as saying that the College Station congressman has been considering the option for several weeks and has laid plans for informing key supporters of his intentions.

The newspaper reported that one source said that Gramm justified the move by saying: "My old mammy said if you're elected as a Democrat, you should serve as a Democrat. I don't want to be a Democrat, so I'll go back and run as a Republican."

Gramm refused to discuss his plans further, the newspaper reported, saying, "I have looked at many options, but I have not made a final decision."

The Steering and Policy Committee voted 26-4 on Monday against giving Gramm another term on the Budget Committee.

Gramm said he would return to his district today and that he expected to announce by Wednesday his decision on whether to switch parties.

Earlier in the day, Gramm, a former professor of economics, sipped coffee behind a desk adorned with the American and Texas flags and acknowledged, "There's no question about the fact that I face a real dilemma."

"If I'm taken off the (Budget) Committee, I would have a difficult time continuing to serve as a Democrat. On the other hand, I was elected as a Democrat."

Gramm said he grew up in a Democratic family and that when he first ran for the House in 1978, "I never gave any thought to running as a Republican. It just basically didn't seem at that time to make a difference. I knew what I wanted to do."

What he wanted to do was promote the kind of conservative economic policies eventually embraced by President Reagan. His alliance with Reagan on budget issues angered a number of Democrats. But some say it is his style, as much as his positions, that led to Monday's vote in the Steering and Policy Committee.

For the committee, said Rep. Charles Wilson, D-Texas, "he's an example. In the second place, he's an irritant. In the third place, he's always been on the tube with the White House people and by participating in the plotting sessions."

"In other words, it's one thing to vote the other way (with the Republicans)," said Wilson. "It's another thing to rub the leadership's nose in it, so to speak."

Gramm counters that such explanations are just a smokescreen. "The House leadership would

TESCO to offer utility bill help

A new energy aid program designed to help people with severe financial hardships pay their energy bills was announced today by the Texas Electric Service Co.

The financial aid is aimed toward needy senior citizens, the disabled and others whose dire financial situation makes them unable to pay for energy services, according to Hooper Sanders, division manager at TESCO.

Three injured in gunfire at Houston emergency room

HOUSTON (AP) — A man seeking treatment at one of the nation's busiest hospital emergency rooms was critically wounded in a gun battle after shooting two policemen, officials and witnesses said.

Billy Ray Clark, 29, was shot in the stomach Monday and listed in poor condition after undergoing surgery at Ben Taub General Hospital, a spokeswoman said.

Witnesses said Clark pulled a .38-caliber pistol from the holster of Robert McMenemy and shot him in the stomach, and then shot Houston Police Department officer James H. Legg in the head.

McMenemy, 31, an off-duty Texas Medical Center policeman who was working as a security guard at the hospital, was listed in critical condition. Legg, an 18-year veteran with the Houston Police Department, was in fair condition after a bullet grazed his head.

Water import far in future, CRMWD executive believes

By MIKE DOWNEY
Staff Writer

Importing water to Texas is "quite a distance in time away from being resolved," says O.H. Ivie, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Ivie was responding to a recent Associated Press story in which a state energy committee proposed a governor-appointed group to work on importing water to Texas.

Ivie said the Texas Energy and Natural Resources Advisory Council was primarily concerned with reviewing former Gov. Bill Clements' water program at its December meeting. State control of ground water was a more important issue of the meeting, Ivie said.

"Water importation had been studied diligently for 20 years," Ivie said. "But before any water is imported into the state, a lot of answers have to be given."

Establishing who pays and devising a conveyance system are difficult questions that need to be resolved, Ivie said.

Review for the development of a state water plan was the main purpose of the meeting, Ivie said.

"TENRAC is trying to implement various programs where the state can assist with water supplies," Ivie said.

Ground water — the water below the surface and controlled by the land owner — is closer to coming

Focalpoint

Action/reaction: Water bill ads

Q. My city water bill has an ad on it. Is it legal for city bills to have business advertisements on them?

A. Yes, according to Big Spring City Manager Don Davis and City Attorney Doyle Curtis. Davis said the city checked on the legality before letting bids on the water bill space and awarding it to the highest bidder. Curtis said he saw no problem with the ad, and it helped defray costs of mailing.

Calendar: Tumbleweeds

WEDNESDAY

- The West Texas Tumbleweeds will hold their monthly business dinner at the Rock Front Restaurant at 7 p.m.
- Spring City Dance Club will meet at 7:30 p.m. at 703 W. 3rd. Guests are welcome.

THURSDAY

- The Young Homemakers of Texas will hold their monthly meeting at 7 p.m. at the Big Spring High School homemaking department.

Guest speaker will be Sherry Bordoske of United Way, Big Spring.

Tops on TV: 'St. Elsewhere'

At 7 p.m. on channel 13 Robert Guillaume hosts a comedy special focusing on the ways we cope with the frustrations of everyday life. Sid Caesar, Cheech and Chong and Bob and Ray are guests. At 9 p.m. on channel 13 "St. Elsewhere" has an episode in which Dr. Morrison is chided for making a house call, and Dr. Fiscus pulls his gun on a stunned patient.

Outside: Clearing

Continued sunny skies today and tomorrow. High today in the mid-40s. Low tonight near 20. Winds light and variable. Wednesday's forecast calls for a high in the low 50s.

Testimony begins in Sundry civil suit

Testimony began this morning in 118th District Court in the $80,000 civil suit concerning the 1981 traffic death of 18-year-old Sherri Sundry. The parents of Ms. Sundry, A. E. and Mary Sundry, are seeking damages from four defendants. An eight-woman, four-man jury was selected yesterday. Sundry testified today. Ms. Sundry died five days after she was involved in an auto accident in Big Spring. She was a passenger in an auto driven by Robert Walker of Big Spring April 27, 1981 when it collided with a parked AB-Texas Beverage Truck driven by Allen Nidiffer at the intersection of 18th and Johnson Street, according to the original petition. Because Walker was uninsured, the Sundys should have collected from their insurance company — Members Mutual Co. — but did not, the suit states.

Malone Hogan begins school gift program

A program designed to encourage employees, physicians and hospital board members to make contributions to colleges and universities has been introduced at Malone Hogan Hospital in Big Spring. The plan, called the Educational Gift Matching Program, will match monetary gifts by employees to qualifying institutions of higher learning. Locally, Howard College and the hospital's School of Radiologic Technology are eligible for the funds. Introduced to employees in July, 1982, the program garnered over $10,000 in matching funds from Malone Hogan's parent company, Hospital Corp. of America. Encouraged by the response, the corporation will open the program to active staff physicians and board members Jan. 1, 1983. With federal assistance decreasing and because of tougher government loan policies, many schools across the nation are experiencing financial difficulty, said John Bingham, hospital administrator. "HCA feels a responsibility to the institutions in which our employees have received their educational experiences. Without the health programs at Howard College, we'd have a hard time staffing our hospital." HCA will match personal contributions on a dollar-for-dollar basis. A single gift matched must be at least $25. Individual gifts per calendar year cannot exceed $200 and gifts must be in cash or marketable securities. Any non-profit junior college, community college, four-year college or university, technical or other school which meets appropriate or professional accreditations, is eligible. Bingham said.

Police Beat

- Two arrested for shoplifting Police said they arrested two men yesterday in connection with shoplifting incidents at Furr's Supermarket at 900 11th Place. Eugene Maxwell, 19, of 1504-B Virginia was arrested at 12:20 p.m. on suspicion of shoplifting two bottles of cold medicine. David Cates, 77, of 1405 Sycamore was arrested at 5 p.m. on suspicion of theft under $5. Dawn Barnett of 509 1/2 S. Bell told police that someone stole a $50 radio-cassette recorder from her residence yesterday afternoon. Vera Nidiffer of 1706 1/2 Johnson told police that someone stole a case of potato chips and a case of cheese crisps yesterday from a Tom's candy and snack truck stopped at 15th and Settles. L. C. Gibbs Jr. of Route 1, Box 442 told police someone stole four hubcaps last weekend from a 1976 Continental parked at B&B Motors, 700 E. Fourth. Police arrested a white male juvenile yesterday afternoon on suspicion of theft under $5. The boy was released to his mother. Terry Payne, 20, of 704 Creighton was arrested yesterday afternoon on traffic warrants and released after posting bond. Vehicles driven by Charles V. Kimble of Sterling City Route Box 209 and Steven A. Morris of 510 N. San Antonio collided at South Gregg and West 18th about 4:30 p.m. yesterday. Police cited Morris for running a red light. Vehicles driven by Mariann W. Heffington of 1011 W. Sixth and Sherry F. Halstead of 2301 Alabama collided at West Ninth and Scurry about 5:35 p.m. yesterday. Police cited Heffington for failure to yield right-of-way. A vehicle driven by Vincent G. Garcia of Coahoma slid into a vehicle driven by Mary M. Hanson of Route 2 Box 69 yesterday in the College Park Safeway parking lot. Police reports said Garcia's parking space was extremely icy, causing his car to slide into Hanson's as he pulled out. Garcia was cited for failure to show financial responsibility. Vehicles driven by Arthur L. Tamplin of 1106 11th Place and Donald M. Richardson of 1411 Johnson collided at South Nolan and East Fifth about 11:35 a.m. yesterday. Police cited Tamplin for failure to yield right-of-way.

JUST A PLANE ACCIDENT — This Beechcraft Bonanza airplane owned by Jack Lewis was totaled in a plane crash Sunday morning, but Lewis and his passengers — two nephews — were unharmed. Lewis was flying to Dallas when his plane fell 200 feet from the air and crashed at Big Spring airport.

Local automobile dealer's plane crashes at airport

By CAROL DANIEL, Staff Writer "When you run out of altitude, air speed and ideas at the same time, there isn't much you can do." That's what Jack Lewis, local automobile dealer and plane enthusiast, said happened to him Sunday morning when his Beechcraft Bonanza airplane crashed at Big Spring airport. Lewis said he and his two nephews, Danny and Johnny, were flying to Dallas when the accident occurred. As they reached an altitude of about 200 feet, the plane abruptly rolled to the left, Lewis said. "I've been flying 21 years and had 26 planes and I never had anything happen that felt like that," Lewis said. "It's a freak feeling to feel so helpless: It's like running your car at 80 miles an hour and losing the steering wheel." Lewis said the plane landed on a wingtip and skidded, tearing out the landing gear. The crash completely wrecked the plane, but Lewis and his nephews escaped harm. The quality of the runway and the weather were not contributing factors, Lewis said. He said the plane's controls probably malfunctioned and that the Federal Aviation Administration would inspect the craft. "All you can say is nobody was hurt," Lewis said. "Like a man told me once, a good landing is one you walk away from."

Water

Continued from page one under some sort of state control. Ivie said. However, the resolution of the issue was "further down the road," Ivie said. "Every year ground water gets more deeply discussed," Ivie said. "Some kind of control by the state at some point in time is coming." Ivie said two primary concerns of the TENRAC water proposal were financial assistance on multi-million dollar water projects and proper distribution of surface water. Ivie added that water importation was an energy issue without immediate resolution. "If importation is in, it always kills the plan," Ivie said. Ivie said he did not expect any action on the water plan for at least a couple of months.

TESCO

Continued from page one "We see customers everyday that have a need for help," Sanders said of the proposed program. "There's no question the need is there." Sanders said the aid will apply to both electric and natural gas bills. Sanders said TESCO will seek out established charity agencies to assume responsibility for the program. Both TESCO and the agencies will determine criteria for obtaining assistance and the eligibility of those who apply for the aid, he said. The agencies will administer the program and will send financial aid payments directly to the proper utility company which, in turn, will credit the accounts of the customer. The program will go into effect in about 90 days after agreements can be made with agencies in TESCO's 48-county service area. The company will provide customers with further information shortly before the program is to begin. TESCO will make an initial donation of $30,000 to the program, and its employees will be given the chance to make individual donations to the fund, Sanders said. Residential customers will also be given the opportunity to donate $1 per month or more to the fund. Other donations from Texas utility companies is expected to make up an initial fund of $100,000, Sanders said.

Gramm

Continued from page one desperately have people believe that the problem is me," Gramm said. "They are very much afraid that their action will send a signal to the country that says, 'We won't tolerate an activist conservative.'" Wilson, a member of the Steering and Policy Committee, said he nominated Gramm for another term on the Budget Committee at the request of members of the Texas delegation, after a motion to renominate all members of the committee except Gramm. The Steering and Policy Committee recommendations are expected to be approved Thursday by the full House Democratic caucus. Rep. Jim Wright of Texas, the House majority leader, said he did not regard Gramm as having been "kicked off" the Budget Committee. "No member has any expectation of staying on Budget," said Wright. "It is a prize... it is a gift bestowed by one's colleagues for responsible behavior." Gramm said, "It punishes me for practicing in Washington what I preached at home. That may be unusual, but I didn't know it was a crime." Last month, Gramm received a letter from Reagan inviting him to join the Republican Party. "I sent it to my mother," said Gramm. "My mother takes all these criticisms of me very personally. She doesn't understand politics. And so somebody saying something nice about me for a change, she'd appreciate."

Shooting

Continued from page one Police spokesman Raul Correa said authorities did not know what prompted the argument that led to the shooting about 1:45 p.m. Monday. Ann Siford of Shepherd and Teresa Graham of Pasadena said McMenomy had escorted Clark outside the emergency room registration area when an argument erupted. The officer returned with Clark immediately, with Clark protesting that he was a patient, said the women, who were at the hospital to check on a friend. As the officer tried to pin one of Clark's arms behind his back, the man turned on him and grabbed his pistol, they said. "The first shot went wild. The second shot hit him (McMenomy) in the stomach and he fell backwards and started screaming. He screamed about eight times and nobody could get to him," said Ms. Siford, 52. She and other witnesses said an older man grabbed Clark's neck but was thrown to the floor. Paramedic R.D. Wisnoskie said "the guy who shot the officer was holding a gun over the top of him and wouldn't let anyone near him." Clark was holding a gun in one hand and a police-style baton in the other when Legg and another Houston police officer arrived, Correa said. They told Clark twice to drop his weapon, but he responded with gunfire, which was returned by the officers, he said. Ms. Siford said she counted 10 shots in all, including the two initial shots at McMenomy. "It was terrifying," she said. Wanda Hebert, a clerk in a nearby office, said she crawled under a desk when she heard the shots. She said many of the approximately 50 people in the area ran into the office she was in when the shooting began.

Sheriff's Log

Man released on bond Howard County sheriff's deputies say they arrested Barney Cockrum, 22, of Lamesa Monday in connection with bondsman off bond on a charge of failure to stop and render aid. Cockrum was released on bond, records show. Jeffery Griffith Starr, 25, of Box 783 in Big Spring was released from county jail on $1,500 personal recognizance bond. Starr, who had been in jail since his arrest Dec. 18 for revocation of probation, criminal trespass and disorderly conduct, was transferred to Big Spring State Hospital, according to sheriff's office records.

Cool days forecast

By The Associated Press
Another cool day shaped up across Texas as a thick blanket of low clouds and fog covered many eastern and southern central portions of the state before dawn.

Forecasters expected the haze to burn off later in the day, leaving fair to partly cloudy skies across most of the state.

Pre-dawn temperatures were in the teens over Far West Texas, while readings hovered near the freezing mark across North and East Texas. Temperatures in the upper 40s were noted along the coast.

Winds were variable, ranging in speed from five to 15 mph.

The forecast called for low clouds, fog and a chance of drizzle for portions of South and Northeast Texas today. Partly cloudy skies and warmer afternoon temperatures were expected elsewhere.

GALE-FORCE winds whipped the coasts of Washington and northern Oregon today as rain showers spread over the Northwest. Snow fell in the higher elevations of both states and across Idaho.

Snow flurries also were scattered over North Dakota and Minnesota.

Dense fog and light rain hung over Oklahoma City, while light snow was dusting the lower Great Lakes.

Showers were expected to continue in the Northwest, extending as far south as northern California.

Snow was forecast later today for the Cascades, northern Minnesota and northern Michigan.

Fog was predicted for northern Utah, while windy weather was expected for the mountains of Wyoming and Montana.

FORECAST
West Texas — Mostly fair with a slight warming trend through Wednesday. Highs 35 South Plains to 55 southeast and near 60 Big Bend. Lows 20 Panhandle and mountains to near 30 southeast and extreme south. Highs Wednesday 45 South Plains to near 60 southeast and 65 Big Bend.

EXTENDED FORECAST
West Texas — Partly cloudy and warmer. Highs 50s and 60s except 40s over still snow covered areas and near 20 extreme south. Lows 20s north to 30s south except teens and 20s in snow covered areas.

Democrats show new strength

As 98th Congress opens, Reagan could find the going tougher

By BOB FICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON — House Democrats — strengthened by the last election — have already flexed their muscle in the new 98th Congress by winning rule changes as well as by removing an outspoken "Boll Weevil" from a key committee post.

The House opened the new session by adopting Democratic-backed rule changes that Republicans claim will muzzle them.

The rule changes and the action against Gramm could signal tough times ahead for President Reagan's policies in the new Congress.

House Democrats added 26 to their ranks in the November elections. The Senate remains in control of Republicans, though the body has become increasingly hostile to administration proposals.

The rules changes include revisions to discourage members of either party from using spending bills to implement legislation like restrictions on abortion, bans against school busing or limitations on military and foreign aid expenditures.

Democrats said the House will now operate more orderly and efficiently. They said the use of so-called legislative riders on appropriations bills usurps the power of other congressional committees.

But critics said the changes were designed to choke off initiatives by conservatives.

Rep. Bob Michel of Illinois, the House Republican leader, called the package an "exercise in expediency" so that Democratic leaders can "endure less dissent, less debate, less legislation."

"This is no way, in my opinion, to start a bipartisan and reasonable session... to swallow hook, line and sinker the dictates of the Democratic Caucus," added Rep. Toby Roth, R-Wis.

The search for solutions to the soaring unemployment and swollen federal deficits will dominate the new 98th Congress.

Although the economy is the No. 1 priority, other difficult problems — many lingering from last year — still must be solved.

The unfinished work includes propping up the Social Security system, setting new air pollution standards, investigating natural gas pricing, and adjusting farm support payments.

Congress convened Monday to begin a two-year session. The opening was mostly ceremonial, with little real work scheduled until after President Reagan makes his State of the Union address Jan. 25.

In preparing for business ahead, congressional leaders quickly made it clear that no matter what issues are unsettled, the economy would be addressed first.

"The time for waiting for jobs has passed," said House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., who was elected to his fourth term as speaker on Monday. "The time for action for jobs is at hand. The federal government must not bide its time waiting for an economic recovery. It must take those steps necessary to ensure a strong recovery."

Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said he plans to develop a legislative agenda aimed at tackling economic problems well in advance of Reagan's speech.

"The first job has to be to get the economy going," Baker told reporters Monday.

Dry weather gives flood victims break

By The Associated Press
Dry weather is giving four flood-weary Southern states a much-needed breather, but volunteers patrolled sandbag dikes today where some waters are still rising and officials began adding up damage that may reach $200 million in Louisiana alone.

Up to 18 inches of rain fell on portions of Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas during a two-week period beginning at Christmas. The ensuing floods inundated well over a million acres of lowlands, forcing about 10,000 people to flee their homes and causing at least three deaths and 250 injuries, officials said.

Gov. Dave Treen declared 19 of 64 Louisiana parishes disaster areas while Gov. William Winter put nine Mississippi counties on the list.

President Reagan, during a 1 1/2 hour tour of the Monroe, La., area Sunday, promised he would respond favorably — and quickly — to any requests for federal aid.

Inspectors from the Federal Emergency Management Agency arrived Monday in Monroe to begin totaling damage claims that will determine the extent of federal assistance. The total may not be known for several weeks, officials said.

Damage in Ouachita Parish, which includes Monroe, was estimated at $81 million, Treen said. Statewide damage could reach $200 million, the governor said.

Harry Borah, with the agency's National Flood Insurance Division, said 300 household flood claims have been filed through a temporary office in Monroe. "Because of the depth of the water in these homes, and the amount of time the water has remained in the homes, and the high cost to repair them," damage claims in the Monroe area probably will be higher than the national average, Borah said.

The average flood claim has been close to $3,000 for contents and $3,000 per building where the agency underwrote flood insurance, he said.

Warsaw Pact meets, backs nuclear weapons reduction

By LARRY GERBER
Associated Press Writer
PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — The Warsaw Pact opened its first meeting under the leadership of new Kremlin chief Yuri V. Andropov today with the Soviet Communist Party proclaiming the members "unanimously support" his proposal for reducing nuclear weapons in Europe.

The party newspaper Pravda and other East bloc Communist papers issued a barrage of criticism against the United States on the first day of the conference, which is expected to endorse Andropov's nuclear arms proposal formally.

"The U.S. armed forces are getting ready to wage an aggressive war," Czechoslovakia's Rude Pravda charged.

The Warsaw Pact meeting had been delayed from its December opening date because of the death of Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev. The conference is Andropov's first trip abroad since he replaced Brezhnev as Soviet Communist Party general secretary on Nov. 12.

"The fraternal countries unanimously support the far-reaching proposals made by the Soviet Union," Pravda said in a dispatch from Prague.

Echoing Andropov's contention that the United States is trying to gain a nuclear edge over Moscow, Pravda said, "The policy of gaining military superiority over the Soviet Union has no future."

"Let NATO commanders not hope that someone will be able to put at risk with impunity the life of the peoples in the socialist community. Those over the ocean should not take our peacefulness for lack of vigilance. Let them not try to deceive the masses in the West by fabrications about the alleged Soviet threat."

Pravda did not mention President Reagan or his proposals for nuclear arms reduction specifically. But it clearly was referring to his "zero option" plan and U.S. arguments that NATO must go ahead with its planned missile deployment to force the Soviets to bargain at nuclear arms talks in Geneva.

Reagan's proposals calls for NATO to abandon its planned deployment of 572 U.S. nuclear missiles in Western Europe in exchange for removal of all Soviet SS-20 missiles targeted on NATO nations.

The Warsaw Pact consultative committee did not publicize its agenda, but Communist sources said it would formally approve Andropov's proposal to reduce Soviet medium-range nuclear missiles in Western Europe to 162, the current level of British and French arsenals.

In exchange, Andropov demanded NATO cancel its missile deployment plans.

The Western allies already have rejected the proposal, announced Dec. 21, on ground the Soviet SS-20 missiles have triple warheads, giving them a 3-to-1 firepower advantage over the British and French missiles.

The consultative committee, composed of heads of seven national Communist parties, government leaders and other officials, is the coordinating political body for the Warsaw Pact alliance and usually meets every two years.

Besides Andropov and President Gustav Husak of Czechoslovakia, the leaders participating are Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski of Poland, President Nicolae Ceausescu of Romania, Janos Kadar of Hungary, Todor Zhivkov of Bulgaria and Erich Honecker of East Germany.

"At the present time the international coordination of the foreign policy of the Warsaw Pact countries has reached such a level that essentially there exists a single foreign policy strategy and level of these countries," the Slovak youth newspaper Smena said.

Smena reported the meeting also would focus on deteriorating relations with the West, including American restrictions on trade and technology exports, and the economic problems of the Soviet bloc.

The East bloc, hard hit by the worldwide recession and huge debts owed the West, is trying to tighten economic cooperation. But shortages of food, consumer goods, electrical power and exports persist.

Polish sources in Warsaw said the committee probably would give special attention to Poland's debt to the six other members of the alliance. They contributed funds over the last two years of social and political upheaval, when Western aid dried up.

Western diplomats and East European sources said they expected few new initiatives but cautioned against discounting the meeting's importance.

"The leadership change in Moscow came at a time of economic crisis, at a time when a lot of this is coming to a head," said one Westerner. "These people are bound to be thinking, 'What is my role? What is my status?'"

Around the Rim

By RICHARD HORN

Houston, my Houston

Let's hear a laugh for the man of the world who thinks he can make things run.

Tried to build a New Jerusalem And ended up with Houston.

Ever since I came to Big Spring more than two years ago I have fallen victim to a bad habit which befalls almost anyone who comes from Houston. I try to deny its existence, at least its existence as a nice place to live, even as a nice place to visit.

No one in the world hates Houston as much as West Texans. West Texans believe, with some justification, that their region is the True Texas; Dallas, San Antonio, Austin and El Paso are on the fringe; Houston is in another state, another country, another galaxy.

Ex-Houstonians usually do not debate this, primarily because they cannot develop a solid enough counterpoint. My new year's resolution is to find a firm argument for Houston's sake. It can't be that hard.

But to accentuate the positive you first must accept the negative. Houston is a hot, humid, cockroach-infested Swamp City. Its violence, often meaningless and gruesome, is, if not accepted, at least lived with by the population.

I was in downtown Houston awhile back. Some shots were heard. People started running around and getting under cars and three policemen ran by with their guns drawn. A second later everybody got up and returned to their conversations. No mention of the incident was made on television or in the newspapers.

Speaking of the newspapers, for big city papers they stink. There are no big investigative pieces. A LOT of wire service is used and rarely do you see color photos or charts.

Moving right along, Houston's traffic is diabolical, the police force is famous for its abuses and the town seems incapable of sustaining a winning professional sports team.

SO WHAT'S there to like about Houston? The trivial things first:

It's close to an ocean, there's never a lack of exciting things to do, be it museums, concerts, or sports, and it has more foreign restaurants for "great international cuisine" than any other place in the South.

Houston's size is its main problem and its main salvation. It has grown so huge so fast that it is unmanageable and unmanageable. But it has been able to keep its identity and sense of history where many other southern cities have not.

Only New Orleans tops Houston in this, I think. Dallas, Los Angeles and so on are totally prefab where Houston is only partially prefab — the best we can hope for these days. These cities try to conceal their problems. Houston is too emotional for that.

Yes, it does seem unTexan in ways, despite the fact it is from under Houston that Urban Cowboy chic crawled. The reason? Houston is filled with non-Texans. It makes for an unusual tug-of-war — a city still trying to act like a small town, with an old-Texas frontier justice mentality, is filled with Yankees trying to give their new home some of their Yankee culture.

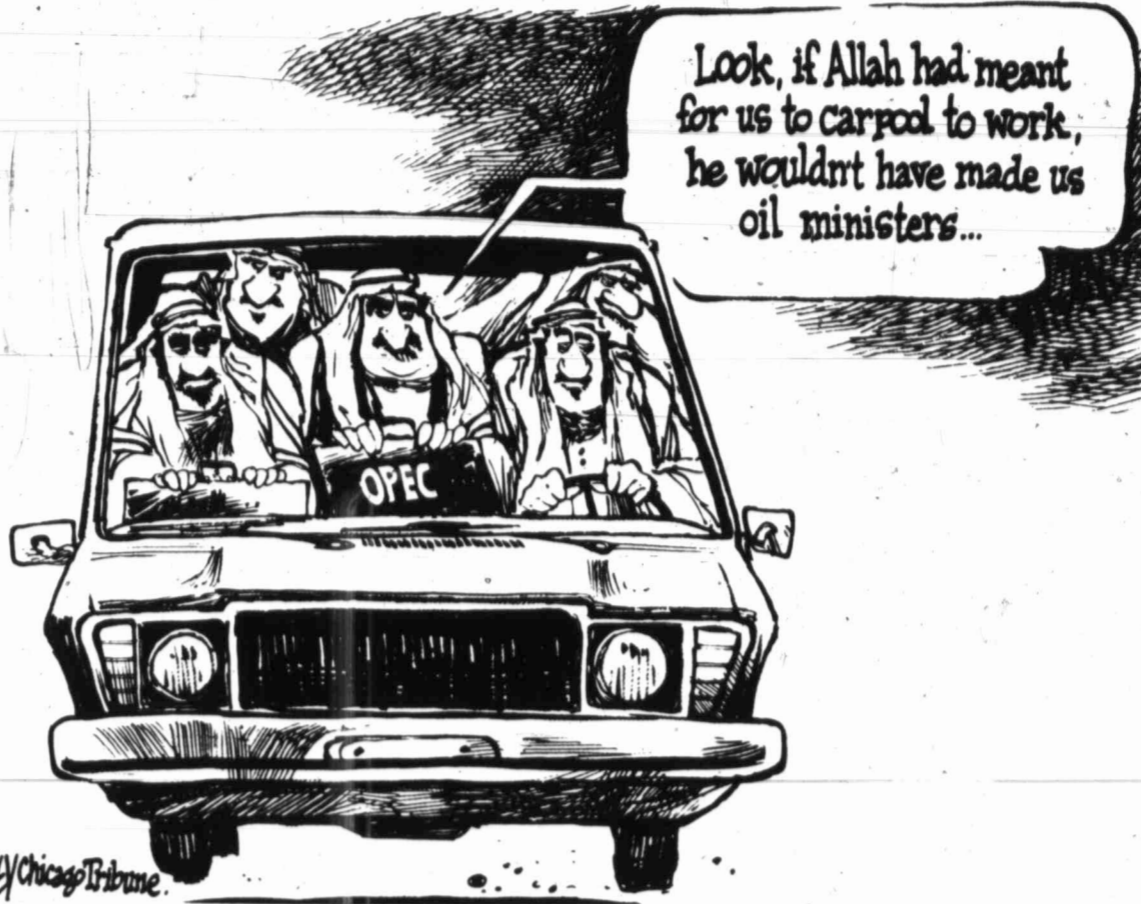

That fact alone is what destroys Houston in the mind of Texans. There is no other place in the state like it (Thank God, you say?), but that difference makes it alive and interesting — not dead and self-conscious like Big D.

In this world you don't build New Jerusalem. If you try you get weird misfits like New York and Houston, where you have to be half crazy to stay sane. Houston has picked this up from New York.

NORMAL PEOPLE, the ones who aren't trigger-happy, love and hate the place with equal passion. Houstonians who have settled in develop a sense of humor about the big mess — it draws a big, divergent city together somehow.

Those who can't settle in move on to other, more normal, less challenging places.

A lot of people do that, me included. I guess. But I'm finding that if you say you don't like Houston, you're saying you don't like big, growing, exciting cities.

An amended new year

"The Senate will come to order. Will the clerk read the bill now pending on the floor?"

"A Bill H.R. 20987 which provides a replacement of 1982 with a New Year to be known as 1983, commencing on January 1st and ending on midnight, December 31, consisting of 12 months, 52 weeks and 365 days whichever is greater."

"Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill be passed so we can all go home and watch the football bowl games on television."

"Are there any objections? The Senator from North Carolina."

"I wish to object to this bill on the grounds that it is being rushed through Congress without debate. How do we know we want a New Year, and how can we be sure what it will cost us?"

"Will the Senator from North Carolina yield?"

"Only for a minute."

"Mr. President, my subcommittee on New Years held hearings day and night, and we came to the conclusion that we need a New Year, because we were doing so lousy in the old one. We felt, as does the White House, that 1983 will be much better than 1982 for everyone. Without this bill things will only get worse."

"I would like the floor again."

"The Senator from North Carolina."

"Mr. President, I wish to offer an amendment to the New Year Bill, which will require 50 percent more subsidies for tobacco, prayers in school, bans against abortion and busing, and a constitutional amendment preventing the Supreme Court from declaring this amendment unconstitutional."

"Mr. President."

"The Senator from Michigan."

"If we're going to start adding amendments, I would like to propose that all Japanese automobiles sold in the United States be made in America."

"Mr. President."

"The Senator from Washington."

"I amend the bill to permit the Boeing Aircraft Company to sell $600,000,000 worth of planes to Libya."

"Mr. President, may I offer my amendment?"

"The Senator from Texas."

"I cannot accept the 1983 bill unless Texas is assured a fair price for its gas, and the United States bails out all Texas banks that made loans to Mexico."

"Mr. President."

"The Senator from Illinois."

"Will the Senator from Texas permit this amendment to read, 'as well as Chicago Banks that lent money to Brazil, Argentina, and Poland.'"

"I will."

"Can we vote on the 1983 bill, Mr. President? It is now a quarter to midnight."

"Are we ready to vote?"

"Mr. President?"

"The chair recognizes the Senator from New Mexico."

"We have a maid named Donna Flora, who slipped across the border from Juarez three years ago. I would like to amend the 1983 bill to make Donna Flora an American citizen so she can work for us legally in the United States."

"Mr. President."

"The Senator from New York."

"I would like to submit an amendment that if this body declares Donna Flora an American citizen, the federal government will guarantee that subway fares in New York City will remain the same as they were in 1982."

"Will the Senator from New York yield to the Senator from Alabama?"

"I yield."

"I wish to amend the bill making pre-marital sex a federal offense punishable by death and a fine of $100,000."

"Are we ready to vote? All those in favor of replacing 1982 with 1983 say 'Aye.' All those against say 'Nay.' The ayes have it. On behalf of a grateful nation, may I say I wish this body a 'Happy New Year.'"

I can't quite quit drinking

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have conquered my drinking problem for the most part, but I am discouraged because I have not been able to beat it completely. I will go for months without drinking, and then suddenly will get drunk for days. I really want to change but don't seem to have the strength. Can you help me? — P.E.

DEAR P.E.: God can help you with this, and he wants to help you because this is something that can hurt not only you but many other people as well. That is why the first step you need to take is to turn to God in simple faith and trust, and bring your life — including this problem — honestly and openly to him. He knows all about it, and while he does not approve of your drinking (or any other sin) he still loves you and wants to help you.

Those who have studied alcoholism agree that it often takes many forms and seemingly has many causes. Some people, for example, turn to alcohol out of boredom, and eventually find they are unable to free themselves from its grip. Others turn to alcohol to escape from problems or feelings they have. Often a trained counselor or a group that deals with alcoholism can help a person see why he has become dependent on alcohol (which is really an addictive drug).

But whatever the reasons may be in your case, realize that Christ can help you deal with those and find answers in ways that are totally different. I don't know about your own situation, of course, but I have known people who suddenly turn to alcohol from time to time to escape the pressures and responsibilities they feel. They know it is wrong, but they can't seem to fight it. But Christ can help a person like this, by helping them face up to their responsibilities and by giving them a new strength to meet pressures.

Therefore, I urge you to turn to Christ and let him into your life as your Lord and Savior. Then learn to walk with him each day and look to him. Get active in a church where Christ is preached and get to know other Christians — some of whom may have had a similar problem. Then when you sense temptations may be about to overcome you, seek spiritual strength immediately. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you. Come near to God and he will come near to you" (James 4: 7-8).

Get lady off her soapbox

Dear Editor,
In reference to the letter written by Tenna Wade, in Wednesday's paper. Not meant to be disrespectful, but honestly, someone needs to take this lady off her soap box. I have been involved with the library and its staff for a number of years, as a child and as an adult. I have always received all the help I needed.

The library is an information center and a learning institution, not a department store in which the employees are paid to be at your beck and call.

The present staff is the most knowledgeable and efficient staff ever. They are pleasant, understanding and helpful.

As small children (even in preschool), we are taught the rules and how they apply to everyone. We are also taught what a card catalog or file cabinet is, and how to use it. For as long as I can remember all libraries have alphabetized their books.

Now for the paper and pencil or should I say the lack of paper and pencil: as a service to the public the library keeps a supply of paper and pencils on the top of the file cabinet so that patrons have the option to write down any information of their choosing.

Now on to the subject of the attitudes of the ladies behind the desk. They have jobs to do, and like anyone else at times become engrossed in their work. They are professionals, not clowns, and they are paid to be pleasant and helpful but not to stand behind a desk and make people laugh. My highest compliments to every member of the library staff. I myself resent the vicious attack and accusations made upon and against the Library staff.

In closing, a word for the author of Wednesday's letter, you missed your calling. You should go into "melodrama"; you have a sensational way of appealing to the emotions.

Editor, I hope you find this letter in good taste and important enough to print as I feel it is only fair that the public hear both sides of what seems to be a totally one-sided story.

Thank you.

House phone operators happy

WASHINGTON — Older readers may remember a song from a few years back called "Three Coins in the Fountain." Hardworking telephone operators on the congressional switchboard are more likely to remember a two-year struggle that could be called "Three Coyne and a Cohen."

Here was the problem: For two years, there was a Congressman named Bill Coyne, a Democrat from Pittsburgh. There was also a Congressman named Jim Coyne, a Republican from Philadelphia.

Both were elected in 1980. Both had offices in the antique Cannon House Office Building — Bill on the fifth floor, Jim on the first. Both were on the Banking, Finance and Urban Affairs Committee, as well as its subcommittees on economic stabilization and housing and community development. Both were on the House Administration Committee on its policy group on information and computers. Both were also members of the Joint Committee on the Library.

Mixups were understandably endless. Visitors looking for Jim ended up in Bill's fifth floor office and had to be sent downstairs; Jim estimates that his constituents logged 100 miles in misdirected footwork during the 97th Congress.

The office staffs of both Coyne got used to switching phone calls from innocents who had called asking for Congressman Coyne of Pennsylvania. In the waning days of the lame-duck Congress, for example, Democrat Bill got a call from the Association of Building Contractors expressing confidence that he would vote to rescind the Davis-Bacon wage law, which guarantees union-scale wages on federal contracts. Wrong Coyne: Democrats generally support Davis-Bacon; Republicans generally don't. The contractors wanted Republican Jim.

Then there's Cohen — Sen. Bill Cohen, R-Me. Both Senate and House have the same telephone number. You can see the problem if someone just calls and asks for "Bill Coyne" or "Bill Cohen."

IN FACT, sources told my reporter Andrea Siegel, that's precisely what happened last summer to a former radio announcer and movie star now known as the Great Communicator. Democrat Bill Coyne of Pennsylvania got an unexpected call from the White House. President Reagan was his usually chatty and friendly self. This was puzzling enough.

But what really baffled the congressman was a remark from the president that he hoped Coyne would support the White House on an anti-abortion bill being considered that day. Coyne said he didn't think the abortion matter was on the House agenda that day.

It turned out, of course, that Reagan had intended his persuasive charm for Bill Cohen in the Senate, which indeed was considering the abortion legislation that day.

At least part of the name problem was solved by Pennsylvania voters last November. Bill Coyne was re-elected. Jim Coyne wasn't. That still leaves AuCoin and Cohen, of course. And Jim Coyne may be back in Washington anyway. He's being pushed for chairmanship of the Federal Home Loan, Bank Board.

DOING HIS BIT: Attorney General William French Smith is apparently heeding the president's plea to employers for licking the unemployment problem by hiring "just one worker." Smith is shopping for another cook to replace one who is leaving his four-person retinue of office kitchen help.

The attorney general doesn't want just any hash slinger off the street though. In the job description published by the Justice Department, the successful applicant will have to assist Smith's chef "in food preparation, setting tables for official function and meals; serving food both buffet-style and family style; checking trays and setups for completeness and attractiveness, and washing dishes, pots and pans."

The attorney general's sous-chef will need "the ability to keep things neat, clean and in order; (and) the ability to use sanitary food handling procedures." The wage scale is $6 to $7 an hour.

PLAYING GAMES: Samuel Pierce, head of the Housing and Urban Development Department, tried some sleight-of-hand to stop the investigation of a proposed action by HUD. Here's what happened:

Late last summer, Congress questioned the wisdom of a HUD plan to consolidate its offices dealing with multifamily housing. So the legislators told HUD it couldn't spend any money on the plan.

Meanwhile, Sen. James Sasser, D-Tenn., asked the General Accounting Office, Congress' investigative arm, to check the cost-effectiveness of moving a HUD multifamily housing office from Nashville of Knoxville. When the GAO investigators showed up at Nashville, they learned that HUD employees had been told not to cooperate with them.

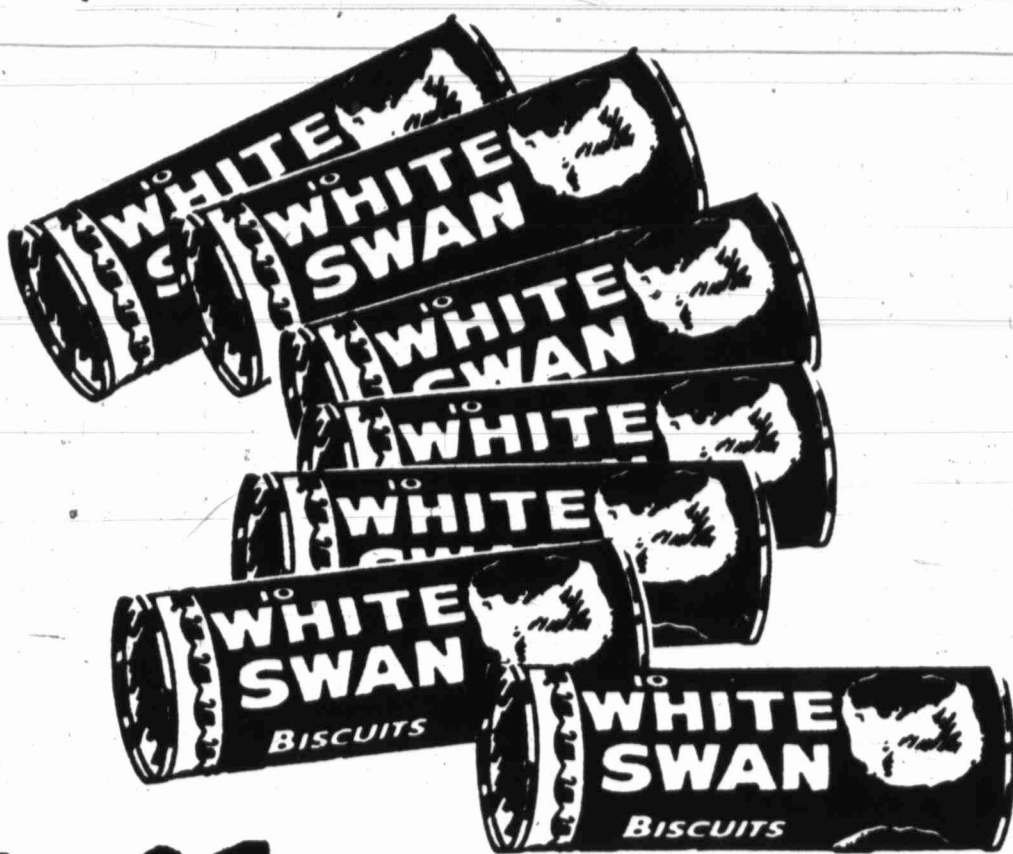

The reason, according to a HUD spokesman: Congress' refusal to let HUD reorganize the housing offices may also have forbidden HUD from allowing any investigation of a reorganization.

Congressional staffers didn't buy this disingenuous reasoning and forced HUD to open its books to the GAO auditors.

WATCH ON WASTE: Members of the House not only passed themselves a health pay increase during the lame-duck session, they also received a generous 10 percent increase in office expenses and 10 percent in travel expenses. Each member will now have at least $52,000 a year for such incidental expenditures, instead of $47,300. Airfares home have gone up, a congressional source explained.

Dear Abby

Waitresses claim tips are earned

DEAR ABBY: Please tolerate one more letter on tipping:

Beginning Jan. 1, 1983, federal law requires tipped employees to pay taxes on 8 percent of the company's gross sales whether they actually received the tip or not!

Tipping is not a way to "give the poor dear a gift." Waiters and waitresses are not dumb clods who aren't qualified to do anything else. They are organized, efficient people who can work the socks off the best bureau chief in Washington, D.C.!

Good tippers and non-tippers alike are given good service; older couples living on a fixed income, sharing a hamburger and a baked potato, and children in high chairs who make a terrible mess are treated with the same courtesy as a high roller.

Tips are not appreciated because they can be easily pocketed and remain undeclared. Tips are earned. They put food on the table, shoes on the children, gas in the car, pay for an evening at the movies and are dropped in church envelopes.

Good and bad service should be reported to the host or hostess. Good and bad food should be reported to the person who serves it. Restaurants appreciate compliments and criticism.

Sign us, your waitress, the restaurant owners and the chef. We're all of those.

KIM, DODGE, MARY, PAULINE, KAREN, CARL, ETC., WINDOM, MINN.

DEAR KIM, DODGE, MARY ETC.: Generalizations are dangerous. All waiters and waitresses are not efficient, organized and courteous, but most of them work hard and do the best they can and should be rewarded appropriately. Whether or not restaurant owners should pay their help enough so they wouldn't have to rely on the generosity of customers to make ends meet will not be settled here. But one thing is certain: People who work for tips need them, and the paying public should consider a tip a necessity and not a gift.

DEAR ABBY: I am allergic to you! I love reading your column — and in fact, it's the first thing I turn to in my newspaper — but before I'm halfway finished, my eyes are watering, my nose is running and I begin to sneeze. Help!

ALLERGIC TO ABBY

DEAR ALLERGIC: You're not allergic to me; you must be sensitive to the fresh newsprint. Stick your newspaper in a warm oven for a few minutes, or see an allergist. I don't want to lose a reader.

DEAR ABBY: Please pass this on to "Right-Handed Mama," whose husband is trying to force their naturally left-handed child to become right-handed:

LETTY

Getting married? Whether you want a formal church wedding or a simple, "do-your-own-thing" ceremony, get Abby's new booklet. Send $1 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope to: Abby's Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Dr. Donohue

Herpes: sores disappear with virus

Dear Dr. Donohue: I would like to know if there is a way for a doctor to tell for sure if you have herpes — if the sores have healed up before you can get an appointment? Can he tell from a Pap smear, or possibly a blood test? — A.R.

Once the sores have healed the diagnosis of herpes is very difficult. That means the virus has gone into hiding again, so the cells that previously indicated infection are no longer present. The best time to make the diagnosis, then, is when the sores are fresh. Then you can tell with a Pap smear if herpes is present.

You ask about blood tests. They are not usually done. When the sores of herpes appear, your body makes antibodies against the virus involved. About two weeks after the appearance of the sores, the antibodies will show up if herpes caused them. So you need two blood samples, really — one taken when sores appear and one taken about two weeks later. The blood test is another way of confirming the diagnosis.

Incidentally, I mentioned in an earlier item that herpes is contracted by skin-to-skin contact, which prompted a rather in-temperate response from one reader. He said people were likely to believe, from that statement, that shaking hands would do it — pass on the infection.

Dear Sir: If people are lead to believe that shaking hands is the kind of skin-to-skin contact I meant when speaking of this venereal disease, then there is no hope for medical communication. I cannot be more graphic or explicit about the kind of skin-to-skin contact I referred to and remain in public print. Readers with other questions about the disease may order my newest booklet, "Herpes: Don't Panic," by writing me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am a male who has come up with small red spots on my whole body. I am told that my blood count has dropped to a dangerous level.

What causes it? Is it curable? Will it recur? It is diagnosed as thrombocytopenia. — Mr. W.F. Those small red spots you have are actually tiny bruises, and you have them because you platelets (thrombocytes) are too few (penia). When you have fewer than 100,000 for every cubic centimeter of blood you have thrombocytopenia.

These thrombocytes (platelets) are blood cells that seal up the tiny rents in blood vessels that occur normally on a day-to-day basis. The symptoms are indicators of just how low the thrombocyte is generally. When it drops to below 40,000 per cubic centimeter, you have a hard time forming a clot when you are cut. When it gets below 20,000 you see those small red spots on the skin, and you may have unexplained bleeding, as into the skin tissue.

Do you know what is causing your problem? There are many candidates — some medicines, antibody activity, bone marrow disturbance (that's where platelets are made). Sometimes it occurs without a detectable cause.

When the cause is known, you remove it and the cure comes. For example, if it is a drug, you have the patient discontinue it. Sometimes, steroid drugs are used for some forms of the illness. So you see, there is treatment for many forms. And yes, some forms of thrombocytopenia do recur.

What can vitamins really do for you — and what can't they do? In his new booklet, Dr. Paul Donohue separates the common sense from the nonsense about this controversial health aid. For your copy of "Vitamins: Facts You Need to Know," send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611. Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Save energy, water in home laundry

COLLEGE STATION — High energy and water prices can be cut by simple conservation practices in home laundry.

The water heater should be set no higher than 140 degrees, says Becky Saunders of Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Normally soiled clothes will wash well in warm — rather than hot — water. A cold rinse is as effective as a warm one and can save energy. Conserve water by setting the water level to match the load size. Wash time can be shortened and energy saved by using soak cycles.

When buying new appliances, consider how much hot water is used per cycle. Read the machine's manual and learn all energy and water saving instructions.

Savings also can be achieved by combining small loads. "Do not overload the machine, however, because this results in wrinkling, lint or cleaning problems and can cause damage to clothing."

Assure proper cleaning in shorter cycles by pre-treating or soaking heavily-soiled clothes, stains and spots. The heat of the dryer could make spots permanent. Use the correct amount of detergent for the load size.

Mend tears or holes in clothing before laundering them. Washing often worsens the problem, Ms. Saunders said.

Local policeman offers crime prevention tips for the home

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles on crime prevention.
By CAROL HART
Lifestyle Writer

Police Officer Fred Pace of the Big Spring Police Department says awareness of good security practices will help homeowners avoid a burglary in their homes. Pace adds that common sense, one of the best crime preventive methods, also is a valuable crime fighting tool.

Pace was one of four local police officers who attended a crime prevention school in San Marcos recently. Others were Sgt. Melvin Fowler, Sgt. Jimmy Wallace, and Sgt. Jerry Edwards.

Additional Big Spring Police officers will attend future workshops on crime prevention, according to Rick Turner, chief of the Big Spring Police Department.

Burglary is one of the fastest growing felonies. Statistics across the nation show a prowler enters someone's home every 15 seconds. More than $400 million worth of goods are stolen each year.

TO PROTECT YOUR HOME against burglary it is wise to install sturdy locks on both doors and windows and to have ample exterior lights at night when you are at home, and inside lights when you're not.

Here are some tips for protecting your home when you are away. Lock all outside doors and windows, and, at night, leave one or more lights on in locations not visible from windows. Light timers can be installed and programmed to switch lights on at certain times.

Leave a radio playing. Do not leave notes indicating your absence, and shut and lock the garage door. Also, never leave extra keys in places such as the mailbox or under a flower pot.

If you are at home, keep outside doors locked, never admit strangers without proper identification, install a chain lock or have caller identify himself, and do not keep valuables out in the open where they can be easily seen.

IF YOU MUST LEAVE your home for an extended period of time, have the milk, newspaper and other delivery services discontinued. Ask the post office to hold or forward your mail or ask a neighbor to collect it for you. It is wise to ask a neighbor to check your home periodically to be sure light timers are working and to vary lights and the position of drapes.

...crime prevention tips

It's wise to check out the many types of locks for doors and windows available before installing anything. Deadbolt locks are among the most popular. Many deadbolts have key lock on the outside and a bolt-retracting thumb key on the inside. Others require key on both sides, and are recommended if a glass is located within three feet of the lock.

Pace said that the law now gives Texans insurance cuts for following certain safety precautions.

To be eligible for the insurance cuts, exterior doors must be solid core doors that are 1 3/4 inches thick and must be secured by dead-bolt locks.

Metal doors must be secured by dead-bolt locks, and double doors must meet certain specifications.

Sliding glass doors must be secured by secondary locking devices to prevent lifting and prying. Dutch doors must have concealed flush-bolt locking devices to interlock upper and lower halves and must be secured by a dead-bolt lock.

Garage doors must be equipped with key-operated locking devices and windows must be secured by auxiliary locking devices.

There are several other requirements outlined in the law, Pace said. To apply for the reduction, homeowners must make an application through the Texas Crime Prevention Institute, Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos, Texas, 78666.

Once the application is received, the institute will assign an inspector, a position Pace and several other officers are qualified for, to Texas Crime Prevention check for the requirements. Then the inspector will file a report and send it to the institute.

To obtain the reduction in insurance, Pace said homeowners "must pass all of the requirements."

Pace added that he and other members of the police department are willing to assist homeowners who want to make their homes more secure. A phone call to the Police Department will get an officer dispatched to homes to run a security check.

Baby's birth announced

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wayne Cook of Stanton announce the birth of their first child, a son, Keith Wayne, on Dec. 21, 1982 at Malone-Hogan Hospital. The infant arrived at 7:03 a.m. weighing 7 pounds 4 ounces, and measuring 21 inches long.

Keith's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fleckenstein, Stanton. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Cook, Stanton.

His maternal great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ramsey, Stanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Regis Fleckenstein, Gail. His paternal great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Motley of 2009 Virginia St., Keith's paternal great grandmother.

Secret Sisters exchange gifts at meeting

Secret Sisters exchanged Christmas gifts during the Alpha Phi Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi meeting Dec. 21 in the home of Tonia Reid.

Cindy Jones won the door prize. Among items discussed at the meeting was the money donated to an Arkansas woman and her children, the presentation of a gift and gift certificate to Clarence Yates as the December service project and a reminder for the City Council members meeting Thursday.

The chapter's next meeting will be held today in the home of Linda Bowersox.

Insulation retains heat

If the wall behind a radiator or convactor is not insulated, a lot of heat may be lost. A thin insulation board, preferably with a reflective surface, can make a big difference.

Fast-motion feast: BSHS hosts Eagles

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

Fond of slow-motion replays? Grab the video recorder you got for Christmas and take it to the Big Spring-Abilene High game tonight. It might be the only way you'll be able to see the action.

This game headlines the opening night of play around District 4-AAAA tonight and promises its share of blurs, whirrs and sneaker-squeaks. With both teams revving the engines on their full-court man presses, this contest should be labeled a track meet rather than a basketball game.

In other games, San Angelo tangles with Cooper, Midland battles Permian and Lee tries its luck against Odessa High.

The game will pit two of the league's premier point-scorers, Big Spring's Jerald Wrightsil, an all-league first team choice as a junior, will toss his 21.8 average against AHS veteran Mike Simmons who is scoring at the very same clip.

Wrightsil has been the steadiest of performers in Big Spring's first 15 games. He's been over 20 points nine times with a high of 32 in a home win against Lubbock Coronado. Among his credits are all-tournament picks at the Tall City Classic and Reese AFB Christmas tournament.

But if teams think the Steers are solely a one man team, it could cost them. Senior Tony Randle has played beyond pre-season hopes, scoring 12.6 points a game and making double figures in all but three games. The fact includes a no-point showing in a season-opening loss to Levelland.

Other scoring helpers are senior forward Jinx Valenzuela who drops in nine points from underneath and senior play-making guard Kevin Watson who contributes eight points from out front.

Simmons has been over 20 points 11 times for the Eagles with a high game of 33. He's had to take a huge chunk of the scoring burden since fellow senior Shannon Daniel was not with the team through the 1982 portion of the schedule.

Daniel is back and in good form, too, having scored 44 points in three recent tournament games.

Leading the Eagles downcourt in small but quick guard Tony Roberts. Other players to watch are postman Tim Robertson and junior Rufus Brooks who can score big points.

Big Spring brings a 10-5 mark into the game while the Eagles have split their first 20 games.

While both teams are flashy scoring machines, each will try to defend the other into mistakes and easy hoops in return.

"To me defense is what wins the game," BSHS coach Archie Myers drilled his players Monday. "If you can throw the ball up more than the other team, you have a good chance of winning the game."

And so the Steers shuffle their feet and wave the hands in playing as a tight man-to-man defense as possible. And Myers thinks that if his squad can create the turnovers, they won't have to worry about breaking the Eagle press. But just in case, his team has been working on that phase of the game, too.

"I feel like that's their style. It's going to take some people in shape to play this game," Myers says.

The first-year coach wants his players to go full speed. When they're tired, he's got John Howie, Jimmy Brown and Jerry Wrightsil on the bench ready to join the flow.

What happens if the Eagles stop his No. 1 scorer?

"Jerald will pass it off," Myers says confidently. "He's not a selfish player. If they double-team him, he'll pass to a man that's open."

"We're playing for keeps, now," Wrightsil says. "We've got to play with intensity and go the things coach has shown us how to do. We're working together now, we're blending. We just got to do the little things right."

Abilene, the defending league champion, is picked No. 2 this year behind San Angelo Central. Big Spring was chosen to battle it out with Odessa High, for third place. The district season will not be divided into halves but played straight through. The two top teams will enter post-season play.

The Abilene and Big Spring junior varsities clash at 6 p.m.

JERALD WRIGHTSIL SCORES ANOTHER ...BSHS senior scoring 22 points a game

Lady Steers pluck Birds

ABILENE — Big Spring junior Paul Spears led the scoring with 20 points as the Lady Steers pressured the Abilene High Eagles into a 54-37 plucking in District 4-5A play Tuesday.

Spears was playing "under a great deal of pressure" herself, said Lady Steer coach Annette Fowler.

Spears' mother and sister are in serious condition in a Lubbock hospital following an auto accident New Year's Eve which resulted in the death of another of Spears' sisters.

The Steers controlled the contest by applying full-court pressure to last year's district champs throughout the game. AHS got as close as a 16-16 tie with 2:28 left in the first half, but the Steers' press gave a 25-16 halftime lead.

The press had not been a strong part of the Lady Steers' game this season, but it worked on the Eagles.

"We make a lot of mental errors that we can't seem to correct," said AHS Coach Pam Raughton. "We have several seniors but we lost several last year to graduation, so we are essentially in a rebuilding year."

The Lady Steers were able to use their "good bench support," said Fowler.

"I played just about everybody," said Fowler. "It was a real team effort — the girls played really well together."

Fowler said some of her usual starters didn't take the floor at the beginning of the contest because, "some of our people weren't at practice."

Fowler seemed proudest of her team's newfound ability to play together.

"They looked for each other," she said. "They have to learn to trust each other, and that takes time. Sometimes they look at somebody and say, 'I don't want to pass to her, she might drop it.' That's what it looks like sometimes."

That has a demoralizing effect, she added.

"They get to thinking they're not important because somebody else is scoring all the points," she said, "but one person can't win the game."

The Lady Steers are now 8-8 on the season and 2-1 in District play. The loss drops AHS to 3-11 for the year and 0-3 in district.

The Lady Steers host Midland High here Thursday.

The Lady Steers' Junior Varsity also won, 40-35. Allen led the Steers with 12, and Robinson paced the Eagles with 10.

Vikings nip Cowboys

Dorsett's record run doesn't help

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minnesota Vikings came up with more big plays than did Dallas, and thus avoided another meeting with the Cowboys next week in the opening round of the National Football League playoffs.

CONGRATULATIONS — Dallas Cowboys placekicker Rafael Septien, right, gives Tony Dorsett a congratulatory grasp on the head after his record-setting 99 1/2 yard run in the fourth quarter of Monday night's game against the Minnesota Vikings. The Vikings came out on top, however, 31-27.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry said the Cowboys, who with the 31-27 loss finished second in the National Conference and play host to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in the playoffs Sunday, had nothing to gain by winning. "You have to give the Vikings a lot of credit, they fought to stay here and they deserved it," Landry said after Minnesota's nationally televised Monday night victory. "We just wanted to play hard. We really had no incentive except the prestige of winning."

The Vikings earned the home-field advantage against Atlanta in the first round of the playoffs Sunday.

In a game that featured big plays, the biggest was a 99-yard scoring dash by Dallas' Tony Dorsett, the longest in NFL history.

It came just after Minnesota cornerback John Turner ran back an intercepted pass 33 yards for a touchdown to give the Vikings a 24-13 lead. On the ensuing kickoff, Timmy Newsome fumbled the ball out of bounds on the Cowboy one.

On the next play, Dorsett went off right tackle for his history-making run.

"There wasn't a thing wrong about the (defensive) play," Minnesota Coach Bud Grant said of Dorsett's run, which broke the record of 97 yards set by Andy Uram of the Chicago Cardinals in 1939 and tied by Bob Gage of Pittsburgh in 1949. "He saw a crack and exploited it. I was in awe of the play myself."

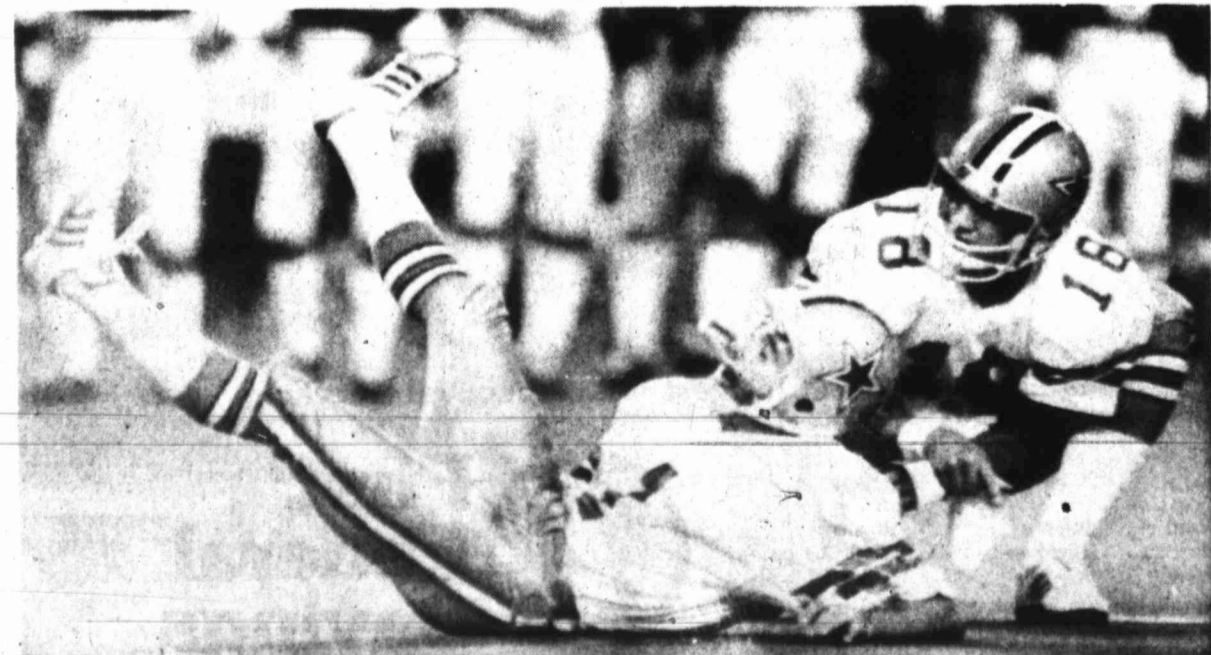

"I just saw a lot of green," said Dorsett, who finished the game with 153 yards and wound up second to Freeman McNeil of the New York Jets for the NFL rushing title. "I'll hold on to this one a long time."

"Nothing happened," nose tackle Charlie Johnson said of the effect of Dorsett's touchdown. "There was no emotion change. A lot of teams would have folded after that, but not us. That's what made the difference."

Later, Ron Springs' two-yard dash gave Dallas a 27-24 lead, but the Vikings came right back and drove 80 yards.

The Vikings went to running back Ted Brown for one of the big plays of the series. Brown, who scored twice and rushed for 100 yards and caught passes for 50 more, caught a 29-yarder in the drive to get into Cowboy territory. A little later, quarterback Tommy Kramer, who completed 18 of 34 passes for 242 yards and two touchdowns, hit Rickey Young with a 14-yard touchdown pass.

Young caught the ball as he slid to the ground, regained his feet and ran it the remaining 10 yards. Young said his first thought was to hang onto the ball and not get up.

IT WAS THAT KIND OF A NIGHT — Dallas Cowboys placekicker Rafael Septien slips on the wet artificial turf as he tries a field goal in the first quarter of Monday night's game against the Minnesota Vikings. Holding was quarterback Glenn Carano. The kick was far off the mark.

The NFL's most valuable pair

Moseley is Player of Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — They gave Mark Moseley an award for kicking footballs on Monday. It should have been for survival.

MARK MOSELEY ...Redskin kicker

In an often cruel, brutal world, the Washington Redskins place-kicker has risen above the heartaches of personal crisis both on and off the field to be named the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by The Associated Press.

Moseley edged San Diego quarterback Dan Fouts to capture the award and become the first kicker ever to win the league's MVP award. "I didn't even think kickers were eligible," Moseley said upon learning of the honor. "Most kickers never really think about this kind of award," Moseley said. "You just go out each week trying to be the best job you can."

Gibbs named Coach of Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Gibbs, who guided the Washington Redskins to the best record in the National Con-

JOE GIBBS

In his first season as Washington's coach, Gibbs suffered through losses in the team's first five games before his system began to take root. The Redskins won eight of the last 11 games in 1981 to finish at 8-8, remaining in playoff contention until the final Sunday of the season.

"I think we learned something from every game," Gibbs said. "We take away something from each of our experiences, even losses. I learned a lot about myself when the team started off so poorly. I learned a lot about my coaching staff, too." This year, the Redskins started off with victories in Philadelphia and Tampa Bay. After the strike they ran their record to 4-0 before absorbing their only defeat of the nine-game season, falling to the Dallas Cowboys.

Abilene's Spinks and Overton resign

In a surprise move, two Abilene football coaches announced their resignations Monday.

Ray Overton, head football coach at Cooper High, announced Monday that he will resign his post to become head coach at Irving MacArthur effective Jan. 17.

Abilene High Coach Louie Spinks dropped another bombshell when he said he would resign Jan. 10. Spinks said he was resigning to take advantage of a business opportunity outside football.

Both coaches ended months of speculation by fans who had been hearing rumors they would leave after poor seasons last fall.

Overton announced he would leave Cooper in the wake of the school's 2-8 season last fall. The season was the worst in over a decade.

Spinks' team posted a 4-6 record last fall. Shorty Lawson, Abilene Independent School District Athletic Director, said it would be "mid-February" before any new coaches were hired.

"We didn't know about the move (Overton's decision) until Monday morning," said Lawson. "I knew he had interviewed during the holiday, but until this morning, I didn't know he had taken the job."

Lawson said Spinks walked into his office about 3:30 p.m. Monday and told him he would officially resign Jan. 10.

"We lost two great football coaches on the same day," Lawson said Monday night, "and more than that, we lost two fine men."

Lawson was angered by the resignations. He said he believed they were due in part to a spate of irate fan mail published by the Abilene Reporter-News after the football season.

Although some letters were positive, Lawson said the negative letters hurt the coaches' reputations.

"Never in my nearly 40 years in athletics had I ever seen anything like that," Lawson said. "It really hurt the coaches. You figure how can you maintain the respect of a sixth, seventh or eighth grader after he reads a letter in the paper about you? These people might have a right to their opinion — everyone does — but should it be in the paper?"

"People believe what they read in the paper and when they read that Ray Overton or Louie Spinks were jerks, they believed it. These two coaches were excellent and I feel we are at a loss.

Overton's coaching career began at Paint Creek in 1948. After one year there, he moved on to Haskell where he coached for 15 years. He came to Cooper as an assistant in 1964 and has been head coach the last 11 years.

Spinks began his career at Cleveland, near Houston, where he was an assistant. He moved to Liberty for five years and came to Abilene in 1976. He took over as head coach in 1977.

Lawson said that he would want to hire "proven winners" to fill both posts.

Lawson said he would probably be calling a few candidates besides accepting applications for both jobs.

Indiana still on top

Tar Heels back in poll

The North Carolina Tar Heels are back in the Top Twenty basketball rankings, thanks to a strong showing in a holiday tournament.

ebounced out of the Top Twenty two weeks ago after a slow start, the defending NCAA champions moved into the No. 18 spot Monday with an impressive performance in the Rainbow Classic in Hawaii last week.

The Tar Heels, 8-3, who won the tourney with a 15-point rout of Missouri, avenging an earlier loss to the Tigers, are one of two new ace votes and stayed in second place with 1,074 points, followed by No. 3 Kentucky, 8-1, and No. 4 Virginia, 10-1.

Alabama, 8-0, got 0 in the place vote after beating Southern Cal and Georgetown, and moved up a notch to No. 5. UCLA, 7-1, dropped one place to No. 6.

St. John's, 10-0, defeated Brigham Young and Wake Forest to remain No. 7, and Iowa, 8-1, which also won twice, advanced to No. 8.

Syracuse, 10-0, made the biggest jump of the week — from 14th to No. 9 — with victories over Pittsburgh and Canisius.

Arkansas, 7-0, moved up one spot to round out the Top Ten.

The remainder of the Top Twenty includes Nevada-Las Vegas, 10-0, which won three times during the week and moved from 15th to 11th; No. 12 Tennessee; No. 13 Louisville; No. 14 Villanova; No. 15 Missouri; No. 16 North Carolina State; No. 17 Georgetown; No. 18 North Carolina; No. 19 Houston and No. 20 Purdue.

In other games involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 2 Memphis State walloped the University of Baltimore 103-57; No. 3 Kentucky trimmed Mississippi 72-60; No. 5 Alabama lost to Florida 85-89; No. 7 St. John's whipped Seton Hall 79-62; No. 10 Arkansas stopped Nebraska 64-58; 12th-ranked Tennessee clipped Georgia 87-76; 13th-ranked Louisville turned back Cincinnati 64-58 and No. 16 North Carolina State hammered Fairleigh Dickinson 111-76.

guard Darrell Walker for another during a key two-minute stretch to ignite Arkansas over Nebraska.

Nebraska had overcome a 14-point deficit to take a 50-49 lead when Robertson hit an eight-foot bank shot that gave the Razorbacks a 51-50 advantage. He followed with a 10-foot jumper to counter two free throws by Nebraska's Lenard Johnson.

His latest arrest, in West Paterson, N.J., early Saturday, resulted in charges of burglary, aggravated assault and sexual assault. The arrest also could provide grounds for revoking the 10 years probation Ayala received for an attack on a young woman here four years ago, Millsap said.

So far, Ayala has avoided any lengthy stay behind bars, but Millsap said Monday he will try to change that.

"I believe this incident only serves to amplify what I have said repeatedly: that the powerful, or well-connected individual who can hire a good lawyer often goes unpunished," Millsap said.

"Ayala has a history of problems with the law which can no longer be tolerated," he said. "There will be no further instance of deals being made to gain his release."

Mr. Falcone has assured me that he will cooperate fully in our efforts, including allowing Ayala to be returned to Bexar County for a hearing on the motion to revoke probation, prior to trial in New Jersey," Millsap said.

The prosecutor said Ayala probably could not be tried in New Jersey for six to eight months because of a crowded docket.

"He signed a waiver of extradition as part of the conditions for probation, so we should be able to get him back quickly," Millsap said.

Attorney wants Ayala's probation revoked

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A Texas prosecutor, elected on his pledge to get tough with criminals, says he wants to send championship boxing contender Tony Ayala Jr. to prison for 10 years.

Bexar County District Attorney Sam Millsap says he will try to bring Ayala here from New Jersey for a hearing on whether the 19-year-old's probation should be revoked.

Ayala, the undefeated No. 1 contender for the World Boxing Association junior middleweight title, has registered 19 knockouts in 22 straight victories, but run into problems on the streets.

His latest arrest, in West Paterson, N.J., early Saturday, resulted in charges of burglary, aggravated assault and sexual assault. The arrest also could provide grounds for revoking the 10 years probation Ayala received for an attack on a young woman here four years ago, Millsap said.

"Ayala has a history of problems with the law which can no longer be tolerated," he said. "There will be no further instance of deals being made to gain his release."

Millsap said he talked to Passaic County Attorney Joseph Falcone by telephone Monday. A hearing on whether to present the case to a Passaic County grand jury is scheduled for Jan. 12.

"Mr. Falcone has assured me that he will cooperate fully in our efforts, including allowing Ayala to be returned to Bexar County for a hearing on the motion to revoke probation, prior to trial in New Jersey," Millsap said.

Newspaper folds to pay off lawsuit

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — A controversial publisher has folded his weekly tabloid three days after the sheriff put liens on advertising revenues to pay off a libel judgment.

On the front page of Friday's edition of The Independent Prospector — under the headline "1933-1983" — publisher Alex Bidnik Jr. said he would no longer produce the publication he bought in 1960.

Generally working alone to fill editions of more than 20 pages, Bidnik wrote a column, "Behind the Scenes," in which he alleged promiscuity, drug use and homosexuality among local officials and private citizens.

In 1981, Bidnik was convicted of five counts of extortion after complaints filed by a citizens' group charged that he threatened to damage the reputations of people who did not advertise in his publication or provide information.

The group, Citizens Opposed to The Independent Prospector, once collected nearly 6,000 signatures seeking to keep municipal advertising out of the publication.

Edward Looney, the owner of a liquor store who was among the organizers of the citizens' group, said he sought the liens because Bidnik never paid the $55,000 judgement issued in October 1980. Looney claims he is now owed $66,000, including interest.

During the extortion trial, Looney testified that when he decided to withdraw advertising and to stop selling the 25-cent tabloid in his store, Bidnik told him, "You mess with the bull and you're going to get the horns."

After the verdict, Bidnik was ordered to undergo psychiatric counseling, pay a $5,000 fine and serve three years' probation. But he continued to publish the weekly, despite the verdict and nearly a dozen libel suits brought against him.

The IRA tax trimmer

There's still time to open account for '82

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Nineteen eighty-two is over, but there's still a way to trim your 1982 tax bill. It's called an Individual Retirement Account.

Contributions to a qualified IRA — and the interest earned by those contributions — are exempt from federal income tax until you start withdrawals.

And you can establish an account any time until the due date for your 1982 return, counting extensions, and still claim a deduction against last year's income.

Here's an example of what an IRA can mean:

Suppose you're married, filing a joint return and have a taxable income of $30,000. Your 1982 federal income tax bill is $5,607; your marginal tax bracket — the maximum rate you pay — is 33 percent.

Assume you put $1,000 into an IRA. Your taxable income is $29,000. Your 1982 federal tax bill is $5,313; your marginal bracket drops to 29 percent. You have saved $294. (State and local taxes on IRA contributions and earnings also are deferred as a general rule; check authorities in your area for details.)

The due date for your 1982 return is April 15, 1983. If you get an extension of the deadline for filing your return, however, you also get an extension of the deadline for opening an IRA. You do not have to itemize deductions in order to claim credit for an IRA contribution.

Anyone who has earned income and is under 70½ can open an IRA. It doesn't matter if you are already covered by a pension plan. You can contribute up to $2,000 or 100 percent of your income each year, whichever is less. If both husband and wife work, each spouse can contribute up to $2,000 to his or her own account. A married individual with a non-working spouse can set up a separate IRA for that spouse; contributions to the worker's IRA and the spouse's IRA together cannot exceed $2,250.

It is important to remember that you will have to pay taxes on your money eventually; the tax is NOT eliminated, only deferred until withdrawals begin.

An IRA also ties up your money. You are not allowed to start withdrawals until you reach 59½. If you make a withdrawal before that, you pay not only the tax due on the amount withdrawn, but also a penalty of 10 percent. You cannot borrow from an IRA or use it as collateral for a loan.

The money you put in an IRA can be invested in dozens of ways. Banks, thrift institutions, brokerage houses and insurance companies all offer IRAs, and you have to compare terms to find the one that meets your needs.

The size of an IRA can mount quickly. The accounting firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co. calculated, for example, that someone who contributes $2,000 a year every year from age 35 to age 65 and earns 8 percent interest will have nearly $245,000 in exchange for a total investment of only $60,000.

But the accounting firm also offers some words of caution: "If inflation continues, amounts accumulated will not have the same purchasing power as today's dollars."

You must begin withdrawals by the end of the year you become 70½, and you must make a minimum withdrawal every year after that. If you don't, you must pay a 50 percent federal tax on the difference between the required minimum and the actual withdrawal.

You do not have to contribute to an IRA according to any fixed schedule. You can, for example, skip a year if you want to or have to. If you contribute more than the maximum allowed for any year, you will be subject to an excise tax of 6 percent of the excess amount.

Mortgages may increase '83 inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers likely will see a higher inflation rate this year simply because of adjustments the government is making in how it computes the cost of owning a home, economists say.

The homeownership costs, which include house prices and mortgage rates, have long been criticized for distorting the real rate of inflation, analysts say.

As a result, the Labor Department is changing the way it records those costs in its widely used Consumer Price Index.

"It's long overdue," said Edward Yardeni, chief economist for Prudential-Bache Securities Inc.

Added Allen Sinai, senior economist at the consulting firm of Data Resources Inc. in Lexington, Mass.: "It's a good step toward a more accurate measure of inflation."

The change goes into effect with the January report for the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers, due out on Feb. 25.

With that report, many economists expect to see inflation running a bit ahead of what it would have under the current formula.

That's because the homeowner costs overstate the effect of increases or decreases in home prices and mortgage rates since those factors are so heavily weighted.

When mortgage rates and home prices were going up, the inflation measure tended to be boosted even higher.

With the recent fall in mortgage rates and softening of home prices, the index may be understating inflation, which has been running at an annual rate of 4.5 percent in the first 11 months of the year.

In comparison, an experimental measure similar to what the department will use in January shows prices rising more, at an annual rate of 5.2 percent through November.

The millions of Americans whose income gains are linked to cost-of-living changes won't be affected by the adjustment for two more years.

Not until then will the department change the homeownership calculation for the companion index — the Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers — widely used in collective bargaining agreements and in adjusting Social Security and other government payments.

Under the new formula, the department will calculate what homeowners would charge if they rented their homes to someone else.

It now figures out homeownership costs by checking house prices, mortgage interest rates, property taxes and insurance, and maintenance and repair costs.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, JAN. 5, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You will have an excellent chance to express your talents in a direct manner now, so make a point to contact those who are in a position to help you. Strive to be more successful.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ideal day to be where you can gain knowledge and advance in career activities. Show more devotion to family members.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study the best way to carry through with any agreements you have made and get the right results. Be wise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Figure out how to have better relations with allies. Be more willing to compromise at home for the sake of harmony.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Find a more up-to-date system for handling your obligations and you have greater efficiency and benefits.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Planning social events and recreations for the future is wise at this time. Study outlets that can give you added income.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Look into new interests through which to better express yourself. Take treatments to improve health and appearance.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Use a new system and improve your regular routines. Go to the right sources for the information you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make plans that could give you more abundance in the future. Try not to argue with others in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are now able to get the backing of higher-ups in a new project you have in mind. Express happiness tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Making needed changes where your work is concerned will bring good results at this time. Be logical.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be your own gregarious self and express happiness with all the friends you can. Take no risks in motion.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Have serious talks with associates so that you can take advantage of a new situation. Be more reassuring to loved one.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... He or she will have many fine talents and should have the advantage of a fine education to make the most of them, and then much success is possible. Give good religious training. A sports-minded person in this chart.

'Listen to Your Heart': It's all just small talk

By TOM JORY Associated Press Writer NEW YORK — One problem with "Listen to Your Heart" on CBS tonight is that most of what you hear is not much.

The two-hour, made-for-TV movie starring Kate Jackson and Tim Matheson was shot on location in Chicago, and the background scenery — including a glimpse of columnist Ann Landers, who lives and works in that estimable place — is a plus.

But how much can you expect from a movie in which everyone, or so it seems, owns a telephone answering machine, eats sushi and uses trendy expressions like "capsize"?

'Listen to Your Heart': It's all just small talk

Miss Jackson plays Frannie Greene, who's a bit touchy after an unfulfilling affair with her boss. She's just taken a job as art director for a big publishing company, but before her first day at work, she meets Josh Stern at Houlihan's.

Josh (Matheson) takes Frannie home that night, and they chat. "Are you trying to get me drunk?" Frannie asks. "Then I wouldn't be a nice guy, would I?" Josh replies.

But nothing happens — remember, Frannie doesn't want to get involved.
