THE "LEVADE" — Senior trainer Alan Cox instructs one of the production's 12 white Lipizzan stallions to perform the "levade," where the horse maintains a haunched position at a 45 degree angle to the ground.

Stallion dies during show

Vet says heart attack possible cause

By CAROL DANIEL
Staff Writer

A small crowd of people who attended the Royal Lipizzan Stallion Show last night saw one of the trained horses fall to the coliseum floor and die, apparently of a stroke or heart attack.

The 15-year-old white stallion died about an hour after the show began when a trainer prompted the horse to perform the "coubette," one of the leaps for which this breed is famous.

In the coubette, the horse balances on the hind legs and then jumps, keeping the hind legs together and the forelegs off the ground. One trainer said the horse, named Pluto Elma, had performed the leap many times during the show's 190-city, 10-month tours.

Last night the riderless horse — one of 16 in the Miami-based production — acted skittishly and the trainer could not get it to leap. Then the stallion collapsed, striking its head on the padded floor. About 15 minutes later the horse died.

LOCAL VETERINARIAN Dr. Sid W. Hanslik said he hasn't performed an autopsy yet to determine the cause of death, but said he believes the horse had a stroke or heart attack.

"This is very rare," Dr. Hanslik said. "Sometimes things like that just happen. The horse was very well taken care of. He was just out there doing his job and it happened."

Before the show's tragic ending, the crowd of cowboys, children, parents and college students seemed to enjoy themselves. They gasped at the exquisitely trained Lipizzaners and the muscled beauty of the American Saddlehorse. Their ballet-like steps and movements, performed with very little reining, prompted the audience's applause.

BEFORE THE SHOW, emcee Pat Simpson said the 20-member, 13-year-old production travels and lives like a family and that the horses come first.

"They get the best feed and the best stabling possible," Simpson said. "The riders and trainers bathe them, groom them, take care of their medical needs and polish the tack."

They are scheduled to perform in Bryan-College Station next, Simpson said.

After the horse collapsed, one woman grabbed her daughter and ran out the door. About 10 minutes later, the emcee said the horse apparently had suffered brain injury when it struck the floor and asked the audience of about 230 people to exit quietly. The $7.50 ticket prices were refunded.

As the audience left, the trainers and riders stood around the horse, heads bowed, wiping tears from their eyes and stroking his neck.

"He's gone," the resident trainer said.

New deductions can ease tax fright

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

Are you beginning to feel the April 15 jitters? The income tax blues? 1040 fever?

If so, take heart, there are a few new ways to spell deduction in the 1982 income tax laws.

Now's the time to thumb through your income tax instructional booklet and get familiar with the sections talking about new deductions. Be sure and study them close — they could save you a few dollars in tax money.

Robert Ray of the Internal Revenue Service in Midland offered several tips recently on important tax law changes which are advantageous for the average taxpayer.

The following suggestions are not meant to be definitive. Anyone wishing to consider such deductions should read his instruction booklet for qualifications and contact the IRS if questions arise.

Ray, group manager of examinations in the Midland office, recommended that working married couples planning to file a joint return should check out a new deduction written specifically for them.

Generally, couples can deduct 5 percent of the wages, salaries and tips of the lesser-earning spouse up to a maximum of $1,500, he said. Incidentally, the deductible amount for qualifying couples increases to 10 percent for 1983.

Couples qualifying for the deduction must fill out Schedule W and return it with their tax return, according to Ray.

Those considering or already dealing in individual retirement accounts (IRAs) will notice changes also.

"The biggest change this year is that almost anyone can participate in an IRA," Ray said. "Before, if person was covered by an employer's plan, he couldn't have a IRA."

Also a person may put up to $2,000 into an IRA as long as the amount is not more than his wages, See Taxes, page 2-A

Man killed when car hits truck

A late-afternoon traffic accident yesterday resulted in a 32-year-old Big Spring man's death.

John Russel Geiger of 1217 Madison died yesterday at Malone Hogan Hospital about an hour after his car struck a dump truck at the West Highway 80 and F.M. 700 intersection, police said.

Police reports say the accident involved a red dump truck driven by 62-year-old Raymond F. Dodd of Route 1 and a black Chevrolet Z-28 driven by Geiger.

Lt. Alvis Jeffcoat said that as the truck — heading west on F.M. 700 — turned left onto West Highway 80 at about 4:48 p.m., the east-bound car struck the truck and caused it to overturn. Police reports say the car was speeding.

Apparently the impact caused Geiger to fly through the windshield, police say. Geiger was taken by ambulance to the hospital where Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt pronounced him dead at 5:49 p.m.

Dodd received minor injuries but did not require medical treatment, Lt. Jeffcoat said. Fire officials hosed down the area to wash away fuel spills.

TRAFFIC FATALITY — Big Spring resident John Russel Geiger, 32, died in a local hospital yesterday about an hour after his car struck a dump truck at F.M. 700 and West Highway 80. The impact apparently overturned the truck and sent Geiger through the car's windshield.

Chamber urges county court of law

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer
The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce yesterday passed a resolution recommending the Howard County Commissioners Court ask the state Legislature to create a Howard County court of law.

The new court would help lessen the burden of criminal cases now on file in the county's court of record, according to R.H. Weaver, a chamber board member.

Primarily the new court would deal with traffic cases, Weaver said.

"This would eliminate getting out of a ticket just by appealing it or having it dismissed after being on record for several years," he said.

Courts of law have already been established in about 40 of the state's

4 C-City men testify

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Four Colorado City men were in California early this week to serve as character witnesses for the Rev. David Feathers, a former minister here charged with the first degree murder of his son.

Subpoenaed to testify during the trial were Colorado school district Superintendent Charlie Usleton and local ministers Glen Roenfeldt, Ron Hamby and Monte Jones.

No verdict has been reached in the trial in which Feathers is accused in the 1978 shooting death of his son in California.

Feathers was arrested in 1981.

JPs get pay raises

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mitchell County commissioners approved pay raises for two justices of the peace recently.

Joann Merket of Loraine was given a 20-cent per mile car allowance and a salary increase of $150 a month.

Justice of the Peace Charles Ray Watlington of Colorado City also requested a pay hike, which was granted, increasing his salary to $13,600 per year with a $75 per month gas allowance.

In addition, the commissioners agreed to buy a new radar unit for highway patrol, selected the City National Bank for its depository and heard a report from Sheriff Wendell Bryant on the cost of keeping prisoners in the Mitchell County Jail.

Loraine sets trustee vote

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Loraine school trustees have scheduled the school board election for April 2.

Two board members face expiring terms — Stanley Moore and J.D. Clifton. Moore says he probably will not seek another term, while Clifton says he is undecided at this time.

The action by the Loraine trustees cleared the way for the school board elections to be held at the same time Loraine city elections are held.

The board also agreed to extend the contracts of principal Al Pulcher, band director Debbie Wickman and coaches Jim Fine and Ron James.

White promises teachers more pay

By JANET WARREN
Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Gov. Mark White told a teacher group Thursday that he wants to help them win a pay boost, hold down the number of children in the classrooms and support teachers in their disciplinary efforts.

White, who campaigned heavily on education issues in his successful bid for governor, received a standing ovation from the Texas Classroom Teachers Association board of directors before and after his address.

White said that appropriating state funds for school finance is the most important issue facing the 1983 Texas Legislature. While he didn't say how much he would want to raise teacher salaries, White said he remains committed to giving them an "adequate" increase.

In his state of the state address to the Legislature last month, White said he wanted lawmakers to consider the Texas Education Agency's recommendation for a 24 percent teacher pay increase over the 1984-85 biennium as a "starting point."

White decried the shortage of math and science teachers, saying that better pay has attracted them into industry.

Sympathizing with teachers over classroom discipline problems, White said he knows there are many times when administrators and parents won't back up teachers in their decisions. He also said that too many children in the classrooms adds fuel to the fire.

Improvements in these two areas along with an orderly school finance system would greatly enhance Texas education, White said.

Bringing up a theme from the campaign trail, White said that those who fall through the cracks of Texas' education system wind up in prison. "You go to Huntsville to see the (educational) failures," White said.

He claimed about 50 percent of Texas' 37,000 inmates were or should have been in school six or seven years earlier. "Somehow they went from a school setting to a prison setting," he quickly added, "I'm not blaming you'll for it," but went on to say that Texas schools need to do a better job of identifying and educating potential convicts.

salary or tips. Ray said the limit last year was $1,500.

- Another reform written in this year is a deduction for charitable contributions.
- "In the past, the only way a person could get credit for contributions was if he itemized deductions," Ray said. "Now a person can deduct up to $25 even if he doesn't itemize deductions."
- While that doesn't sound like large amount, Ray said the charitable contribution deduction will increase to a maximum of $75 in 1984. And in 1985, barring federal intervention, will increase to a 50 percent deduction of whatever the person contributes to charity.
- Reinvested stock dividends from qualifying public utility companies have also received a tax break.
- Ray advised individuals reinvesting in a qualified public utility and receiving dividends in common stock rather than cash or other property may deduct $750 — $1,500 on a joint return — of stock dividends on a tax return.
- He cautioned the rule applies only to individuals and not nonresident aliens or persons owning more than 5 percent of the voting power or value of stock in the corporation.
- Ray also said individuals or couples having to pay for child or disabled dependent care while working or looking for work can claim larger tax credits this year.
- Ray said persons generally qualify for the credit if they had a home that included a child under 15 years old or a dependent that could not care for himself.
- The maximum credit a person or couple can receive is $720 per qualifying dependent or child, Ray said.
- Along with the law changes the IRS has simplified some of the tax forms, according to Ray. "This year we have the new 1040EZ form for single taxpayers that only has 11 lines to fill out and I find that extremely simple," Ray said.
- The 1040EZ is for single persons with only one exemption, no dependents, no dividend income, interest income of less than $400 and taxable income of less than $5,000.
- Ray also the wording and directions in the 1040A and 1040 have been simplified this year. "We're always striving to make the form easier," Ray said. "However, I've not seen any simplification of the tax laws."
- Ray said persons with questions about returns should call the toll-free numbers listed in the 1040EZ, 1040A and 1040 instructional booklets.

The theft of five community repeaters, valued at $25,000, occurred Jan. 24 at the radio tower shacks south of Big Spring. The 100-pound repeaters are used by large companies to maintain communications between base and mobile units. Four repeaters belonged to Permco Service and the other to the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

One man is in custody in San Angelo in connection with the theft, according to Sheriff A.N. Standard.

State posts lookout; Ranger threatened

PECOS, Texas (AP) — Authorities have posted a statewide lookout for Gordon Wendell Kahl after a man claiming to be the federal fugitive called the FBI and said he will not surrender until he has killed a Texas Ranger.

FBI spokeswoman Kathy Hagan in Dallas said the call was made by an "unknown person" and that authorities had not been able to confirm the caller was Kahl, who is wanted in connection with the slaying of two U.S. marshals in North Dakota.

U.S. Deputy Marshal John Josey of Pecos told the Pecos Enterprise that the caller said "he won't quit until he kills Texas Ranger Frank Horger."

Horger, reached in South Texas, told the newspaper he knows of no reason why Kahl would want to kill him. He said he does not remember any connection with Kahl or any of his followers and suggested Kahl may be looking for a park ranger, or some other law enforcement officer.

Kahl is wanted in the killing of two U.S. marshals and the wounding of a third law enforcement officer Sunday near Medina, North Dakota. The men were hit in a barrage of gunfire after they stopped a vehicle in which Kahl was believed to be riding.

The officers were attempting to serve an arrest warrant on Kahl for violations of his probation on a 1977 tax income tax evasion conviction in Midland.

60 persons killed in Australian fires

By PETER O'LOUGHLIN
Associated Press Writer
SYDNEY, Australia — Firefighters choking in billowing smoke struggled today to control raging brushfires that in 24 hours ravaged 500 miles of the drought-plagued southeast coast, leaving at least 60 people dead and 8,000 others homeless.

Early government estimates put the damage at more than $97 million.

Winds of 62 mph swept off the central Australian desert and pressed the reckless blaze through two states toward the Indian Ocean.

The flames left an ashen trail of seven wasted towns, burned-out sheep farms and blackened skeletons of cars on the roads, authorities said.

South Australian state fire officials said the charred vehicles contained the incinerated bodies of drivers and passengers, including a family of five, imprisoned by the inferno.

"People are dying as they try to reach their homes," said a firefighter in Lorne, Victoria, where many of the townsfolk fled to the beach for safety. "We can't stop it ... It's just like a holocaust. We don't know where to start looking" for bodies.

The firestorms engulfed Adelaide, a city of 1 million in South Australia, and burned out of control near Melbourne, the state capital of neighboring Victoria and Australia's second largest city after Sydney.

Huge clouds of smoke and dust forced the closure of major airports in Melbourne and Adelaide.

More than 4,000 firefighters in the two states battled the flames in 108 degree temperatures on Wednesday. Authorities said 12 volunteer firemen died near Cockatoo, a tiny hamlet 31 miles from Melbourne which was almost destroyed by the fire.

While the men fought to stave off the blaze, Cockatoo mothers rushed 120 children ranging up to 12 years old to the local kindergarten school.

"The children were wonderful, they never made a sound," said teacher Lola Tilley. "They placed wet towels over their heads and never complained despite the air being thick with smoke."

"How they weren't killed by the flames or lack of air, is a miracle," said one of the fathers, David Adams, who sat on the school roof pouring water on the menacing fire.

Australian Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser suspended his election campaign today and flew over the devastated areas aboard an air force jet, promising all possible federal assistance.

He said that at one time Wednesday, at least 100 fires were burning in the state. Police said some had been set deliberately.

EPA probe ordered

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, seeking to stem a flood of allegations enveloping the Environmental Protection Agency, is ordering the Justice Department to conduct a full probe of agency actions.

At the same time, Reagan says he is also dropping the claim of executive privilege he had used to keep dozens of EPA documents concerning hazardous waste dumps away from Congress.

"I can no longer insist on executive privilege if there's a suspicion in the minds of the people that maybe it is being used to cover some wrongdoing," Reagan told a press conference Wednesday night. "That we will never stand for."

Reagan defended the agency and its embattled administrator, Anne Gorsuch, but he said the "splendid record" of the past two years was being engulfed in a "flurry of allegations."

Monahans wants quick end to murder trial of doctor

By RANDALL HACKLEY
Associated Press Writer
MONAHANS — A pathologist testified there was no reason for a Cuban-born doctor to inject air into the veins of a gunshot victim unless he was trying to cause death.

Wednesday's testimony by Odessa pathologist Richard Cohen further stunned Monahans, a small West Texas oil town that has been in shock since Dr. Juan Perez Valladarez was charged with aggravated assault and the attempted murder of a mortally wounded oil field worker.

The popular Perez, 57, one of five town doctors, may testify today in his trial on the charges that accuse him of trying to kill Michael S. Hoffman, an Indiana man shot in the forehead a point-blank range during a Nov. 4, 1981, barroom brawl in Monahans.

Ward Memorial Hospital emergency room nurses Brenda Rowan and Peggy Brown testified they saw Perez, who had been complaining he was tired and wanted to go home, inject a 20 cubic centimeter syringe of air into Hoffman's right arm.

The nurses also said Perez violated medical ethics when he took urine and blood samples from Hoffman before the man died. Hoffman died two minutes after the injection, Ms. Brown said.

"There is no known therapeutic benefit to injecting air into a human," Cohen said. "We used to knock off dogs in medical school that way."

But under cross examination by Perez's attorney, Warren Burnett, Cohen conceded Hoffman died from the bullet shot through his brain 40 minutes earlier.

James Ralph Echols, of El Paso, has been charged with Hoffman's murder. Echols, 29, currently is being held in a Riverside, Calif., jail on a 1982 robbery charge.

Cohen testified that medical experts believe it takes 100 to 300 cubic centimeters of air injected rapidly into the body to kill an adult. Enough air injected into rapidly into the blood stream can cause an embolism to travel to the heart, where it forces the heart to fail, Cohen said.

Ms. Rowan testified she nearly vomited when she witnessed Perez inject air into Hoffman.

But Monahans residents say they also are sick of the allegations that Perez is a killer.

"Everyone who knows Dr. Perez knows he's not a murderer," Joe Bravo said. Bravo, a 19-year resident of the town of 9,000, said Perez was one of the Monahans' best citizens.

For weeks, the talk of the town has been Perez upcoming trial, a clerk in a Rexall drug store said.

The crowds that have packed Ward County courthouse echos Bravo's sentiments.

Perez left to his feet Wednesday when hospital administrator Gary Shreve alleged the doctor confessed the day after the incident that "I don't know why I injected (Hoffman)."

The partisan audience gasped when Perez shouted "liar" at Shreve.

Test-tube baby born in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston woman made pregnant with her husband's sperm through "test tube baby" techniques gave birth this week to a healthy boy, hospital officials announced.

Parents of the 5-pound, 6-ounce infant were not identified, but a spokesman at the University of Texas Medical School here said Wednesday the mother carried the baby full term and had a normal delivery.

It was the first baby born in Texas using the "test tube baby" or in vitro fertilization, techniques pioneered in England.

The Houston couple were patients in a University of Texas Medical School program headed by Dr. Martin M. Quigley, the director of reproductive endocrinology and infertility at the school.

A University of Texas spokeswoman, Ina Fried, identified the mother only as a 32-year-old Houston-area resident married to a 33-year-old man.

The in vitro (Latin for "in glass") fertilization technique involves the surgical removal from the mother's ovaries of mature eggs. The microscopically-sized eggs are put into a laboratory petri for a union with the father's sperm.

After two days, the embryo is placed into the mother's uterus and a normal pregnancy is allowed to proceed.

A child, Louise Brown, born in England in July, 1978, was the first to result from this procedure. A child born in Norfolk, Va. in December, 1981 was the first in the United States. There have been at least nine others in Norfolk and three at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles.

The Houston parents, said Ms. Fried, requested anonymity.

"The parents didn't want all the attention they would get," said Ms. Fried. "They want to raise him (the baby) as a normal child."

3 indicted in nuke protest

AMARILLO (AP) — An Ash Wednesday protest at the final assembly point for the nation's nuclear arsenal resulted in the arrest of three people who tried to climb a security fence at the plant, officials said.

Department of Energy spokesman Dave Jackson said no breach of security occurred and no violence was reported at the Pantex Nuclear Weapons Assembly Plant here. The plant is operated by the DOE.

Christine Eirene, 31, Kathleen Jennings, 29, and Ladonn Sheats, 48, were charged with trespassing on federal property before U.S. Magistrate Robert Sanders. The trio later was indicted by a federal grand jury on the same charge, and each was held in lieu of $20,000 bond.

Ms. Jennings, from Pittsburgh, Pa., and Sheats, from Berkeley, Calif., were arrested Feb. 10, 1981, at the plant and convicted of a similar charge. Ms. Eirene also is from Pittsburgh.

Tips on writing elected officials

Since Big Spring residents have good reasons to write their elected officials in Austin and Washington — on issues such as the survival of the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf, and the unfair law requiring savings institutions to withhold 10 percent of the interest earned on savings accounts — perhaps it would be well to review some of the principles of writing effective letters to elected officials.

- Write on your personal or business stationery. Sign your name over the typed signature at the end of your message.
- Be sure that your return address is on your letter. Envelopes sometimes get misplaced before the letter is answered.
- Identify the subject of your letter clearly. Give the name of the legislation you are writing about. Use the appropriate House and/or Senate bill numbers, if possible.
- State your reason for writing. Your own personal experience is your best supporting evidence. Explain how the legislation would affect you or your family, business or profession — or what effect it would have on your state or community.
- Avoid trite phrases and sentences. Cliches make your letter appear to be part of an organized "pressure" campaign — and, thus, minimize the impact of your message.
- Be reasonable. Don't ask for the impossible. Don't threaten. Don't say, "I'll never vote for you unless you do..." That will not help your cause; it may harm it.
- Be constructive. If a bill deals with a problem that you admit exists, but you believe that the bill takes the wrong approach toward solving that problem, explain what you believe the right approach is.

• Don't pretend to wield vast political influence. Write your representative as an individual, not as a self-appointed spokesman for your neighborhood, community or industry. Unsupported claims of political influence only cast doubt upon the views you express.

• Don't become a constant "pen pal." Quality, rather than quantity, is what counts. Don't try to instruct your Members on every issue that comes up. And don't nag them if their votes do not reflect your thinking every time. Remember, each Member has to consider all of his or her constituents and all of their points of view.

• Don't undertake writing to all 435 Representatives and all 100 Senators in Washington, who cast their votes in the interests of other districts and other states.

• Consider timing. Try to communicate on a bill while it is still in committee. Your representatives will be more responsive to your views at that time — rather than later, when the bill has already been shaped by a committee.

• Thank your Members if they please you. Everybody appreciates a complimentary letter — and remembers it. On the other hand, if they displease you, don't hesitate to communicate your displeasure — that, too, will be remembered.

Game birds die of lead poisoning

WASHINGTON — Like Soviet historians who rewrite the past every time the Kremlin's political wind shifts, officials of the Interior Department have been trying desperately to eradicate all trace of a documentary film produced during the Carter administration.

Fish and Wildlife Service employees were ordered to turn in all copies of the film and sign statements attesting that they had complied with the confiscation decree. An environmental group that had obtained a copy quite legitimately was accused by an Interior Department vigilante of having stolen it.

Why all the uproar? Technically, I guess you could call the documentary film "explosive." It dealt with the kind of shotgun pellets used by the nation's nimrods.

There are two kinds of shot on the market — lead and steel. Some hunters prefer lead shot. They say it goes further and truer, and doesn't chew up their gun barrels the way steel shot does.

But conservationists — including many hunters — say there's a serious problem with lead shot. It pollutes the environment.

Most of the pellets shot into the air miss the ducks or geese they're aimed at. Unlike Longfellow's arrow, they fall to earth where we know just where — in the marshlands where the waterfowl feed. Some are inevitably ingested in the birds' food; if the pellets are lead, the game birds can die of lead poisoning. Thousands reportedly have met this fate.

IN HOPES of weaning hunters away from lead shot, the Fish and Wildlife Service assigned one of its ballistic experts to make a movie showing that steel shot — which doesn't poison the waterfowl — is just as good as lead shot.

The little movie was produced by an Oregon firm, Dan Biggs Productions, at a cost to the taxpayers of $28,500. But by the time it was completed, G. Ray Arnett, a Reagan appointee, was the Interior Department official who oversees the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Arnett is an enthusiastic hunter. Sources told my associate Vicki Warren he's a traditionalist — a lead-shot man. Arnett himself would not answer questions on the subject.

At any rate, the confiscation order was issued. But the film hunters learned they had missed one copy of the film. The National Wildlife Federation had it.

A Fish and Wildlife minion was dispatched to retrieve the film. He accused the environmental group of stealing it, but the federation produced a bill of sale from the producer.

Meanwhile, the ballistics expert lost his job in a reduction-in-force. He's now pushing steel shot through the Wildlife Federation and other environmental groups.

Footnote: Dan Biggs resents the fact that taxpayers won't be able to see the film they paid for. He's thinking of making another documentary — about the first film and the administration's efforts to shoot it down.

A modest proposal for boxing

Anyone who's been paying attention knows that the latest crusade of the high-minded is to outlaw boxing. Like Paul on the road to Damascus, they have made a stunning discovery: prizefighting is hazardous. Like enemies of horse racing and bourbon, they are not content to merely avoid it themselves. No one else can be allowed to enjoy it either.

The American Medical Association, architect of the most notorious cartel in American history, is the latest to — pardon the pun — weigh in. "Boxing seems to me to be less sport than is cockfighting; boxing is an obscenity," declares Dr. George Lundberg in the AMA's official magazine. "Boxing as a throwback to uncivilized man, should not be sanctioned by any civilized society." Never mind that the Marquis of Queensberry was civilizing boxing back when Dr. Lundberg's forebears were still using leeches.

The editorial was provoked by a new medical study indicating that "boxers with even a moderate number of bouts may suffer cerebral atrophy" — i.e., brain damage. "Furthermore," it found, "the correlation of cerebral atrophy and number of bouts is significant."

NOT ALL doctors share the AMA's horror. A few years ago, after taking up the sport as an occasional weekend diversion, I asked one how to minimize the reputed dangers. "Keep your right up," he replied.

The boxing prohibition movement is nothing new. Prizefighting once was illegal in every state of the union, a situation which led to the arrest of John L. Sullivan, a 19th century heavyweight champion, for daring to defend his title in his homeland. Burdened by this disgrace, he was never the same fighter again.

It was the likes of the AMA that A.J. Liebling had in mind when he complained: "If a boxer, for example, ever went as batty as Nijinsky, all the wowers in the world would be screaming, 'Punch-drunk.' Well, who hit Nijinsky? And why isn't there a campaign against ballet? It gives girls thick legs. If a novelist who lived exclusively on apple cores won the Nobel Prize, vegetarians would chorus that the repulsive nutriment had invigorated his brain. But when the prize goes to Ernest Hemingway, who has been a not particularly evasive boxer for years, no one rises to point out that the percussion has apparently stimulated his intellect."

If the boxing puritans can't ban it, the least they demand is new safety measures, such as headgear, shorter rounds, shorter fights and so on. But both the safety and the hallowed tradition of the sweet science can be served by a simpler reform: going back to bare knuckles.

At first glance, this may look like the height of barbarism. It is a common misconception that gloves were introduced to reduce the damage of punches to the head. In fact their main purpose was just the opposite. A bare-knuckled fighter who insists on ceaselessly pounding his opponent's cranium will soon be a broken-knuckled fighter. Gloves protect a boxer's hands allowing him to hit unyielding surfaces like a skull without damage.

BACK IN THE good old days, knockouts were comparatively rare, since blows to the head had to be rationed carefully. Fights of several hours' duration were not unheard of. One publicized 1860 fight lasted 42 rounds. Only after gloves came into use did knockout artists like Jack Dempsey gain ascendance.

This can hardly be counted as progress in the manly art. Brute strength now counted for more than agility and defensive skill. The critics should note that the new style made the sport vastly more popular with pugilistic illiterates. "The wider the audience became," the Encyclopedia Britannica notes, "the less it cared for the refinements of the old school, the more it roared for the knockout."

Without gloves, the chief source of all that cerebral atrophy would be drastically reduced. Of course, kidneys and livers would stand in greater peril than now, but that is a small price to pay. Presumably this change would also scare off the more squeamish boxing fans, thus helping to bring down the scandalously high price of a ringside seat.

The great Liebling's views on this issue aren't known, but one story of his should settle it. One day in his favorite bar he met a "resonant old gentleman, wiry, straight and white-haired. The shortly-to-be nonagenarian wore no glasses, his hands were shapely, his forearms hard and every hair looked as if, in the old waterfront phrase, it had been drove in with a nail. On the card of invitation he laid on the bar was printed: 'Billy Ray. Last surviving Bare Knuckle Fighter.'"

Impatience can be harmful

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you ever have trouble being patient with other people? I think this is my biggest problem, particularly at work when others don't do things as quickly or as well as they could. — O.T.

DEAR O.T.: I'm sure every person has trouble with impatience to one degree or another. However, impatience can be very harmful both to ourselves and to other people. It can make us angry, it can harm our relationships with other people, and it also can keep us from getting things done because we refuse to be part of a team effort.

It is interesting to me that patience is listed as one of the fruits which the Holy Spirit gives to us when we are yielding our lives to Christ. (You can read of the fruit of the Spirit in Galatians 5:22-26). This suggests to me that true and lasting patience is not something we can somehow manufacture in our own strength, but is something which only God can give us. That means the first step in learning true patience (or a deeper level of patience) is a firm commitment to Jesus Christ.

Have you consciously and clearly committed your life to Christ, and are you seeking to have him be Lord of your life every day by yielding every detail of your life to him? Only you can answer those questions honestly and if you need to make that commitment, or recommit your life to Christ, I urge you to take that step right now.

Then I believe one way you will learn about patience is to study and learn from the Bible about God's patience with us. Have you ever thought how patient God is with you? I am sure there are many times every day when we disobey God and don't get things done as we should in his eyes. But he is still patient with us! "But you, O Lord, are a compassionate and gracious God, slow to anger, abounding in love and faithfulness" (Psalm 86:15).

God is patient with us because he loves us — and that is another clue to learning patience. We often are impatient with others because we do not love them as we should and do not accept them as they are. Pray that God will give you love and patience, and the discipline to act as you should toward others.

The most often used words in English are "the," "and," and "to."

Around the Rim

By GREG JAKLEWICZ

A few years ago, an unknown songwriter named Mac McAnally came out with an album that didn't go much further than the cut-out bin at record stores.

Jimmy Buffett must have listened to McAnally's work, however. A month later he recorded "It's My Job" from the album and had a top 40 hit. The song was a simple number, describing those few special people who have ordinary jobs but somehow find a way to whistle while they work.

Not everyone can be a president of something, a multi-million dollar sports hero or heir to an estate worth the state of Rhode Island. Most of us have to work 8-to-5 (some get lucky and work 9-to-5) or some other eight-hour shift.

Some of the work is tons of fun. Some paychecks are earned digging up burst water mains in rush-hour traffic. Some workers screw on door mirrors at auto plants all day. Folks are needed to refill ice tea glasses and coffee cups at restaurants during holidays, chauffeur people around in taxis or run sacks of groceries out to cars in pouring rain.

Going to college was one way to avoid hard labor and position the graduate behind a nice desk and conservative tie to make a living. But even with a diploma (or diplomas, as the case may be), our ailing times have drawn the white collars onto the streets in search of work...any work. And they aren't too thrilled with having to sweat to make a buck.

There are people who don't mind manual labor, however. They are happy just to have a job, put greenbacks in their billfolds and live. Perhaps that is the key to the whole scheme: they enjoy living. Work is part of life, and life is great.

IT HAS BEEN months since the newspaper hired yet another in a long line of janitors. So many janitors came and left the Herald, the rest of us didn't know who they were. "Would you like to buy a classified ad, sir?" we asked. "No," the stranger responded, "but I do need to empty your trashcan."

"Oh, you're the new janitor," we said.

Anyway, things were getting pretty dingy around here until Rudy showed up one day. We didn't see him first — we heard him. Whistling as he made his rounds, I couldn't believe my ears. It's hard enough for me to talk coherently at 8 a.m., but to bounce around the building and whistle? What's with this guy?

Thanks, Rudy

Within a few weeks, he knew all our names. There are people here I still don't know the names of and I've been at work over a year. And here was Rudy. "Good morning Greg...hard at work already? Hello Bob...busy at it?..."

Rudy is exactly the type of guy Buffett sang about; a man who has a twinkle in his eye and a bound in his step as he works. Why? "It's my job," he answered in the song.

FOR THIS, I give Rudy all my respect. I am not the most heart-warming person to work around (just ask anyone in the newsroom) because I get uptight too easily. But here comes Rudy with a smile and a "good morning." Even when I'm in the office after hours, he comes over to say "Hello Greg...working some more late hours?"

Thanks for asking, Rudy. If I seem grumpy in the morning, give me a break — I haven't yet learned to enjoy life as much as you.

Dear Abby

Surgeon upsets patient

DEAR ABBY: I am a 39-year-old woman recovering from a hysterectomy. I had the operation less than a week ago and I am in a state of shock — not from the surgery, but from the behavior of my doctor.

The last day of my hospital stay, my doctor came into my room to remove my stitches just as I had picked up my telephone. It was my 18-year-old son calling from another state. He was calling me from jail! He said he was allowed only one telephone call, and, Abby, before I could ask any questions or hear what else he had to say, my doctor yelled in a loud voice, "All right, hang up — have them call you at home!"

I covered the mouthpiece and said, "Please, it's my son. He's in jail!" The doctor rolled his eyes heavenward, gestured, palms up, got red-faced and ordered me to "quit tying up the hospital telephone lines."

When I tried to find out what my son was in jail for, the doctor kept shouting at me until he finally took the telephone out of my hands!

Abby, I feel so depressed and betrayed. This doctor calls his patients "my girls." Aren't we "girls" entitled to even common courtesy? Aren't the priorities of my life deserving of respect?

DOWNHEARTED IN DOWNEY, CALIF.
DEAR DOWNHEARTED: I am glad you were able to vent your anger in a letter to me. But for maximum results, and a change of behavior on the part of your doctor, let him have it with both barrels.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a saver. He saves newspapers and magazines, insisting he will read them "someday" when he has more time. Our garage and basement have this stuff stacked to the ceiling. Now he's started to clutter up our guest room.

He refuses to throw this stuff away. Some of it is 10 years old! How can I get him to get rid of this collection and break him of the saving habit?

Blood gas tests tell lung efficiency

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have emphysema and bronchitis and recently was put on oxygen during my night hours. I also take medicine for it. I find it almost impossible to walk very far and breathe at the same time. Tests have shown my blood gases are very low. My oxygen level was 50. Can you explain these blood gases? I have always been active until now. I quit smoking a year ago this month. I was a heavy smoker for 40 years. I am now 56. — Mrs. H.M.

Blood gas tests measure the severity of your emphysema. They are also a guide to the effectiveness of your therapy. Blood in an artery has to maintain a balance of oxygen and carbon dioxide. The blood picks up its fresh supply of oxygen every time it passes the lungs. During that same pass the blood gives up the waste carbon dioxide it has picked up from the body during its circulation. A normal value for oxygen is around 100, so your 50 is quite low. The reading for carbon dioxide should be around 35 or less. When either level is beyond these norms it means you are having trouble supplying fresh oxygen to your body and getting rid of enough of the carbon dioxide.

I hope that with the oxygen you are using will begin to feel better, not so restless during sleep, and perhaps even a bit better during the day.

I know it's late to recover from your lifetime of smoking, but may I take the liberty of passing on your unexpressed advice to others? — Stop now. You may think nothing is happening to your lungs, but something is, and Mrs. H.M. has evidence of what that is. In time it catches up with us. For further discussion of emphysema, see the booklet, "Emphysema-Bronchitis:

'A terrible setback'

Reagan has harsh words for arms control foes

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — President Reagan, vowing to fight for his choice of a chief arms negotiator, says Senate repudiation of the nomination would hurt efforts to build support in western Europe for U.S. arms control proposals.

At the same time, the president declared his desire to keep out of the West German election campaign in which arms reduction has become an issue.

He added, however, that if the new German government rejects the Pershing II, it "would be a terrible setback to the cause of peace and disarmament."

Reagan, at his 16th nationally broadcast White House news conference, had strong words Wednesday night for both the Senate opponents of his nomination of Kenneth L. Adelman as director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, and for suggestions that the planned missile deployment in Europe might not be completed.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted 15-2 on Wednesday to delay a vote on Adelman's nomination. The move was said by its sponsors to be an effort to spare Reagan the embarrassment of seeing his nominee defeated.

"I don't believe that they in delaying this have done anything to help us in our efforts to get an arms reduction agreement," Reagan said.

He said it would be destructive to the effort at building western European support for the U.S. position "to see me repudiated by a Senate committee" on the Adelman nomination.

Reagan vowed to support Adelman despite the senators' opposition, and said, "I will try to be as persuasive as I can and make them see the light. If that falls short, maybe I will try to make them feel the heat."

When asked the consequences of a possible refusal of a new German government to deploy the 108 Pershing IIs that NATO decided to place in that country starting in December, the president said it would cause a setback to peace. But then he added: "We're not going to inject ourselves into anyone else's internal affairs or elections at all."

In the March 6 West German elections, Chancellor Helmut Kohl is being challenged by Hans-Jochen Vogel, the candidate of the Social Democratic Party.

Vogel has said that only "under extreme circumstances" would he station the Pershing II missiles in West Germany.

The progress of disarmament talks in Europe is an issue in the election campaign, and Reagan said Vice President George Bush found "great support all over Europe" for the administration's "zero option" arms reduction plan. Bush returned from a 12-day European tour one week ago.

Under the "zero option," NATO would cancel its planned deployment if the Soviet Union dismantled its intermediate range missiles in Europe.

In the news conference, Reagan also said he had complete confidence in Anne M. Gorsuch, the Environmental Protection Agency administrator.

The House has cited Mrs. Gorsuch for contempt, for withholding on Reagan's instructions about 100 documents involving the "superfund" program to clean up toxic waste dumps.

In his first public discussion of the controversy surrounding EPA, Reagan said, "We will never invoke executive privilege to cover up wrongdoing."

He also ordered the Justice Department to investigate all allegations of possible mismanagement of the "superfund" program.

Hart announces run for presidency

DENVER (AP) — Sen. Gary Hart, who masterminded George McGovern's Democratic presidential nomination in 1972, is announcing his own long-shot campaign for the White House, saying Americans face a choice between "national renewal and national decline."

"The next president must shape domestic policies that actually achieve progress — instead of perpetuating programs merely because there is a pressure group for them," Hart said in remarks prepared for delivery today.

Hart, elected to the Senate from Colorado eight years ago, is the second Democrat behind Sen. Alan Cranston of California to formally announce his candidacy for the 1984 race.

At 45, he is the youngest of six Democrats likely to seek the nomination.

Spelling out his remedy for economic recovery, Hart called for retraining millions of American workers, retooling worn out U.S. factories and opening up world trade markets, all long-term solutions.

But Hart offered no short-term proposals for lowering unemployment, which now stands at 10.2 percent, or reducing interest rates.

One of the younger breed of pragmatic liberals who do not flinch from some of President Reagan's budget cuts, Hart said, "We can be tender-hearted if we are also tough-minded."

Noting the economic decline of the Northeast and Midwest and prosperity in the Sun Belt and parts of the West, he said, "We must cease fighting among ourselves for the pieces of a shrinking economic pie."

Thursday Notes

"Tis the season for a one-man sports staff to be jolly, fa-la-la-la-la, ha-ha-ha-ha."

Want to know why most sports writers lose their hair and look 10 years older than they really are? Check out their schedules in February and March of each year.

Regular season basketball — both at the college and high school level — is winding down but the playoffs are just beginning. Post-season games begin right here tomorrow night when Highland meets Klondike (6 p.m.) and Greenwood tests Roscoe (8 p.m.) in a Class A bi-district doubleheader at Dorothy Garrett.

In addition, Stanton battles McCamey (at 7:30 p.m. in Crane) for second place and a playoff berth from District 8-AA Friday night.

Earlier in the day, the Howard College Hawks take the baseball diamond against U-Texas San Antonio in their first doubleheader in 30 years. The Hawks and Roadrunners play again Saturday with Wharton visiting Sunday and Monday for 1 p.m. twinbills.

Meanwhile, the other cast of Hawks and Hawk Queens complete their WJCAC schedules in hopes of making the Region V tournaments coming up in early March.

At the high school level, the Big Spring Steers complete District 4-5A basketball action in San Angelo Friday, the BSHS tennis team tries its skills at the San Angelo Invitational, the Steer track team travels to the Concho City for a triangular meet and Harlan Smith's swim teams vie for regional berths at the 4-AAAA meet in Midland.

Oh, and the BSHS golf teams are in Laredo (boys) and San Angelo (girls) for their second tournaments of the year.

All that leaves a writer wondering if he's dribbling, serving, hurdling, diving, putting or turning a doubleplay. Fortunately, with all the outdoors events starting, the weather has been great. Of course, just mentioning that fact here will probably be like the Sports Illustrated jinx — this weekend will be over and winds blow from the north at 50 m.p.h.

So, if you happen to be bored: catch two of the best area girls teams around Friday at the Coliseum, travel to San Angelo where the Steers will try to knock the Angry Orange out of the playoff, travel over to Odessa tonight for HC's hoop doubleheader with Odessa College or be in the bleachers Friday for the 1 p.m. baseball doubleheader with UTSA.

I need the company.

Big Spring High senior Kelly Rogers is one of seven junior members on the Amateur Trapshooting Association 1983 All-American team.

Rogers joins William Thompson of Milton, Del.; John Gray, East Point, Ga.; Mark Hobbs, Knoxville, Tenn.; Mark Ptak of Paudling, Ohio; John Rexius, Douglas, Wv.; and Robert Putegruff, Jr., Davidson, Minne.

Other Texans on the ATA teams are Neal Crausby of Sweetwater, Britt Robinson of Tahoka and Andy Smith of Lubbock on the Men's Second Team; Betty Johnson of Fort Worth on the Women's First Team; and Chuck Stanley of Odessa on the Junior Second Team.

The ATA studies beginning yardage, major shoots competed in, scores shot at major shoots, time of year and weather conditions and total number of yards earned to determine its winners. Juniors must have had minimum target requirements of 2,500 in singles, 1,500 in handicap and 750 in doubles.

Events of interest...

The Northside Recreation Center Four-on-Four tournament is schedule Saturday and Sunday. Basketball is also the word in Stanton Saturday as four benefit games (women 6 and 8 p.m., men at 7 and 9 p.m.) are scheduled to benefit the Martin Co. unit of the American Cancer Society. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children.

*****

Remember, Dallas Cowboys quarterback extraordinaire Roger "The Dodger" Staubach will be in town Tuesday night for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. Tickets are $15 for adults (remember, Roger's retired now) and $7.50 for students.

*****

I didn't need to say "cheese" Wednesday when taking a team picture of the Sands Mustangs. Just one look at my argyle socks got the team to snickering. C'mon, guys. What's wrong with my socks?

Not too many times you can go somewhere and be remembered for your socks. They're lucky I had some on.

Reds split on salary disputes

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds now have a 5-3 record in three years of arbitration of players' salaries. They are 1-1 this year with one still at bat.

Pitcher Mario Soto, 14-13 with a 2.79 earned run average and whose 274 strikeouts were second in the National League, won his salary dispute with the Reds. The club said Soto will earn $625,000. The Reds offered him $450,000.

Last year he made $295,000 after winning another arbitration.

But pitcher Bruce Berenyi, who wanted $229,000 despite his 9-18 win loss record, has to settle for the $150,000 the Reds originally offered him.

Sands survives tougher slate

Schedule more demanding but Mustangs in playoffs

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

ACKERLY — With two more practice games remaining before their bi-district game against Highland, the Sands Mustangs could take only a .500 record into the playoffs. But that's just fine with coach Jim Hill.

After years of 20-victory seasons, the Mustangs have only recorded a 14-12 mark this year. "Our record's not that flashy but if you can make it to regionals, it's all right," Hill says. Sands could make that trip to Lubbock provided the team plays basketball the way it's capable.

Capable as in last week's District 11-A finale against Greenwood. The Rangers — having already clinched first place in the league with a 7-0 mark — brought a 21-2 record and No. 3 state ranking to Ackerly. Sands threw a fast movement press at Greenwood and the Rangers were lucky to go home with a seven-point victory.

According to Hill, had the Mustangs converted key free throw situations late in the game, his team could have recorded a big, big upset. "They hit 24 of 28 free throws and we something mediocre like seven of 13," he recalls. "That means we outscored them 24-19 in field goals but they got us by 17 at the free throw line."

And this goes back to the idea of toughening the schedule. Before the season began, Hill discarded teams the Mustangs have drummed for years and years. He put more skilled teams on the slate in hopes of teaching his players more about winning the pressure games.

"We can hit those free throws if we're ahead by 20 points," he shakes his head, "but in the pressure situations, we can't."

Even with eight seniors on the varsity, this has been a rebuilding year of sorts for the Mustangs as Hill teaches the new philosophy. Missing are the 20 wins but a stronger foundation is being built for a good junior varsity and even better freshman team.

Leading the scoring for the Mustangs this year has been junior wing Chris Wigington, hitting 14.5 points a game. "He's probably got the best court savvy of anybody we've got," his coach says. Older brother Perry is scoring 11 from inside range while post teammate Ronnie Long is getting nine. All three are about 6-0 in height and are the tallest of the 11 varsity members. Still, the trio collects 29 rebounds among them.

"I thought at the first of the year rebounding would be one of our best assets," Hill admits. "Our board strength is in our bulky size. We're not tall but I feel like that helps out. I'd say in 70-75 per cent of our games, we've been on top in rebounds."

Working the ball downcourt is senior guard Alden Franco who Hill describes as "our floor general." Franco works well at breaking a press and getting one started for the Mustangs.

At the other wing position is 6-0 Jamie Lopez. "He's our best leaper, as far as vertical jump. I think he's just now coming around. He's capable of playing excellent basketball." Lopez is scoring eight and adding seven rebounds to the attack.

Sixth man is 5-6 senior Brandon Iden who is a "good hustler" and "helps out a lot on the press." He alternates with Franco at the point-guard slot.

Other team members of seniors Russ Shortes (the tallest Mustang at 6-1), Layton Freeman, Roy Gonzales and Junior Cavazos and sophomore Johnny Willis.

On offense, the Mustang strategy is to get the ball inside. Three different formations aid an average shooting team as the players are in position to get rebounds and put up second and third shots. On defense, Sands presses and drops back into match-man and zone-man sets.

"We haven't been as successful as we thought we'd be," Hill admits, "but we felt like we need to upgrade our program. We thought it would help in district. I think we've done that and we'll be more competitive when it comes to the playoffs."

Sands was 22-8 last year but didn't make the post-season games. The last playoff year was 1980 when the Mustangs made the regional tournament. Behind those seasons are the state tournament teams of 1967-70-71 (coached by current superintendent James Blake) and 20-victory seasons under five-year coach Stan Pulliam.

The Mustangs battle District 12-A runner-up Roscoe tonight in Snyder and then test Snyder Monday. Smyer is the only team to have beaten Anton, one of the top Class A teams in the state.

Then comes the bid-district game Feb. 24 against Highland in Snyder.

Seeds fall at Indoors

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Sweden's Mats Wilander and hard-serving Steve Denton are the latest seeded players to be sent to the sidelines at the $315,000 U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships. Yannick Noah of France may soon follow.

Wilander and Denton were ousted in their second-round battles Wednesday, while Noah was a winner. But the fourth-seeded Frenchman suffered tendinitis in his left leg just above the knee and had a cortisone injection after eliminating Mark Dickson 7-6, 6-3.

Noah was scheduled to meet ninth-seeded Buster Mottram of Britain in a third-round clash today.

Wilander, who was seeded second in this 64-draw tourney at the Racquet Club of Memphis, was defeated by Fritz Buehning 7-5, 7-5. The seventh-seeded Denton fell to young Mike DePalmer 6-4, 6-3.

Other winners Wednesday included third-seeded Gene Mayer, No. 5 Peter McNamara of Australia, No. 8 Elliot Teltscher, No. 9 Mottram, No. 10 Brian Gottfried, No. 11 Brian Teacher and No. 15 Raul Ramirez of Mexico to complete the second round.

Renner gets San Diego eye

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Jack Renner, victim of one of the most dramatic shots in golf history, knows he has a mental fight on his hands.
 Renner returns to home surroundings this week to play in the $300,000 Isuzu-Andy Williams San Diego Open, which opens today at Torrey Pines Golf Course.
 Suddenly caught under the glare of publicity, the six-year pro knows he'll be placing added pressure on himself.
 "It will be testing from an emotional standpoint because I live here and everybody will be talking about what happened Sunday," said Renner, referring to Isao Aoki's astonishing finish in the Hawaii Open.
 The 26-year-old Renner, playing in the threesome ahead of Aoki, had taken a one-shot lead on the 18th hole for 19-under-par 269 total.
 Aoki, standing in rough 128 yards from the flag, hit a wedge shot that bounced once and popped into the hole for an eagle-3 and a one-shot victory.

 "It was almost comical, because the odds against it happening were so preposterous. All you can do in this situation is laugh. He (Aoki) might hit that shot a million times without holing it again," said Renner.
 The shot was one of the most spectacular since Lew Worsham won the Tam O'Shanter with a wedge shot in 1953.
 "It would have been worse if I had been standing at the edge of the green and had seen it happen," said Renner, who was signing a scorecard in the scorer's tent at the time.
 Renner, a former San Diego junior champion, spent considerable time at Torrey Pines, but not enough to consider it an advantage.
 "People think I've played Torrey Pines South a lot, but I haven't. I don't think of it as my kind of course because they don't let the rough grow," said Renner.

His past four years have been a series of peaks and valleys. He finished 14th in money winnings ($182,806) in 1979, when he won the Westchester Classic, but then dropped to 45th ($97,501) in 1980. In 1981 he was 11th, with $193,292 that included his other tourney title, at Pleasant Valley. Last year, he skidded to 41st with $95,589 in winnings.
 He makes no secret that his inconsistency has come from off-the-course factors.
 "It basically revolves around the fact that I'm single," he said. "My life on the tour is not as stable as that of the married guys. I'm at a stage in my career when what happens off the course affects me more than it does most guys.

"I had a lousy year last year, I went in the tank over a personal relationship that busted up. I didn't seem to care as much about golf as I had in the past, but now I'm eager to play again."

Terps top Tars; Iowa halts Hoosiers

By The Associated Press
 As far as the North Carolina basketball team was concerned, the Maryland Terrapins picked the wrong time to find the three-point range.
 Relatively ineffective for most of the season with their long-range bonus shots, the Terps suddenly couldn't miss Wednesday night as they pounded the nation's third-ranked team 106-94.
 "The shot was there, so I took it," said Adrian Branch, who sank two of the long-range baskets to launch a 29-8 Maryland streak at the start of the second half. "Only this time, I made them."
 All told, the Terps hit half of their 18 attempts from beyond the three-point line after coming into the game with a .297 average.
 Branch, who had been 4-for-27 from the three-point range, hit 5-of-10 this time.
 It was the second consecutive loss for the Tar Heels, 21-5, and their first defeat in the Atlantic Coast Conference this season after eight victories.
 Maryland, 15-6 overall and 4-4 in the ACC, trailed 46-40 at halftime but took the lead for keeps with a 13-point string to go up 55-48.

three-pointer by North Carolina's Matt Doherty broke the string, but the Terps added another eight in a row to make it 63-51 and they extended their lead to 69-54 with 10 minutes remaining.
 Maryland's staggering 66-point second half helped the Terps run up their highest point total ever against a Tar Heel team. The previous high was 105 in an ACC tournament game in 1974.
 Meanwhile, second-ranked Indiana was upset by No. 16 Iowa 58-57. In other action involving the nation's Top Twenty, No. 8
 Villanova stopped Providence 64-58; No. 17
 Syracuse edged Seton Hall 96-68 and No. 19
 Oklahoma edged Oklahoma State 64-63.
 Greg Stokes scored 22 points and Bob Hansen snapped a tie late in the game and then protected Iowa's slim lead with two free throws in the closing minute as the Hawkeyes edged the Hoosiers.
 Randy Wittman, who scored a game-high 33 points for the Hoosiers on 16 of 21 shooting, hit a three-point field goal with six seconds left and the Hoosiers had one more chance to win after Hansen missed the first of a one-and-one free throw opportunity. However, Iowa stole a Winston Morgan pass to protect its second triumph over the Hoosiers this year.

Indiana led 50-46 when Hansen went on his tear, with his final basket giving Iowa a lead it never gave up.
 John Pinone and Stewart Granger had four free throws apiece in the final minutes night as Villanova held on to beat Providence.
 Villanova led 51-45 with 6:58 remaining and then was given a scare as Providence pulled within one point on two free throws by Carl Hill and a three-point play by Keith Lomax with 5:42 to go. However, the Wildcats slowed the pace and went into a stall, forcing Providence to foul.
 Erich Santifer scored 15 points in the first five minutes of the second half to lead Syracuse over Seton Hall.

Santifer's second-half spurt, combined with accurate long-range jump shooting by teammate Leo Rautins, proved to be too much for the Pirates. Rautins drilled five long-range jump shots over a sluggish Seton Hall zone defense to lead the Orangemen to a 45-35 halftime advantage.

Cavs surprise Mavs; Jazz jolts Spurs

RICHFIELD, Ohio (AP) — In the course of patting each other on the back for their recent impressive play, the Dallas Mavericks may have forgotten to notice the recent impressive play of their latest opponent, the Cleveland Cavaliers.
 Cleveland, paced by 23 points each from World B. Free and Cliff Robinson, won its fourth straight National Basketball Association game Wednesday night 99-96 over Dallas. The Cavaliers' longest previous winning streak this season was two games.

 The Mavericks have been playing like anything but a 3-year-old team.
 The loss was only their fourth in the last 16 games.
 They took a 53-49 halftime lead behind 21 first-half points from Mark Aguirre. Strong defensive play by Cleveland's Larry Kenon, however, helped restrict Aguirre to eight points in the second half.

Jazz 112, Spurs 101

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The Utah Jazz snapped a nine-game losing streak Wednesday night as John Drew and Darrell Griffith scored 33 points each in leading the Jazz to a 112-101 NBA victory over the San Antonio Spurs.
 The victory for Utah was the first against San Antonio this year and gives the Jazz a 19-34 record in the Midwest Division, 12 1/2 games behind the Spurs, now 32-22.

'Gandhi' tops Oscar nominations

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The richly textured biography "Gandhi" won top honors today with 11 nominations for the 55th annual Oscar awards of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. The comedy, "Tootsie," followed with 10.
"E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial" was nominated nine times by the Academy voters. "Victor-Victoria" collected 10 and "Das Boot" and "An Officer and a Gentleman" garnered six apiece.
"Gandhi," which Richard Attenborough struggled 20 years to finance and produce, was nominated as best picture and for Attenborough's direction and Ben Kingsley's performance as India's spiritual leader.
Besides Kingsley, the nominees for best actor were Dustin Hoffman, "Tootsie"; Jack Lemmon, "Missing"; Paul Newman, "The Verdict"; and Peter O'Toole, "My Favorite Year."

Nominees for best actress were Julie Andrews, "Victor-Victoria"; Jessica Lange, "Frances"; Sissy Spacek, "Missing"; Meryl Streep, "Sophie's Choice"; and Debra Winger, "An Officer and a Gentleman."
Nominees for best picture of 1982 were "E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial"; "Gandhi"; "Missing"; "Tootsie"; and "The Verdict."

Nominated for best supporting actor were Charles Durning, "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas"; Louis Gossett Jr., "An Officer and a Gentleman"; John Lithgow, "The World According to Garp"; James Mason, "The Verdict"; and Robert Preston, "Victor-Victoria."
Jessica Lange became the first actress to be nominated in two categories since Teresa Wright in 1942. Besides her starring performance in "Frances," Miss Lange was named for her supporting performance in "Tootsie."
Also selected in that category were Glenn Close, "The World According to Garp"; Terri Garr, "Tootsie"; Kim Stanley, "Frances"; and Lesley Ann Warren, "Victor-Victoria."
Attenborough won his first nomination as director, as did the German filmmaker, Wolfgang Petersen for "Das Boot." Also nominated as best director were Steven Spielberg, "E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial"; Sidney Pollack, "Tootsie"; and Sidney Lumet, "The Verdict."

A Nicaraguan film, "Alsino and the Condor" was listed among the nominees for best foreign language film, along with "Coup de Torchon (Clean Slate)" from France; "The Flight of the Eagle" from Sweden; "Private Life," USSR; and "Volver a Empezar (To Begin Again)," Spain.
Immediately following the nomination announcements, studio representatives were set to confer on a schedule of screenings at the Academy's Samuel Goldwyn Theater. Beginning Friday all of the nominated films will be shown to Academy members.
Final ballots will be mailed March 26, with an April 5 deadline for their return. The Oscars will be presented April 11 at the Los Angeles Music Center, with four emcees instead of Johnny Carson, who declined to return after four years of conducting the ceremonies. Liza Minnelli and Dudley Moore have been announced.
The Academy this year is repeating a luncheon for nominees, which was initiated in 1982. The event will be held March 22 at the Beverly Hilton Hotel. The reasoning is that only the winners get attention on Oscar night — why not honor all nominees?
Three Oscar winners already have been announced. The ageless Mickey Rooney will receive an honorary award for his half-century in films. He has been nominated for his performances, but his only previous Oscar also was honorary — as a child star.
Veteran producer Walter Mirisch is the recipient of the Jean Hersholt humanitarian award. The 40-year-veteran filmmaker received an Oscar in 1967 as producer for that year's best picture, "In the Heat of the Night. In 1977 he was honored with the Irving G. Thalberg Memorial Award.

SWCID finding support in Austin

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

Several favorable reports were heard yesterday by the Howard County Junior College trustees including optimistic news from Austin about the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf's funding needs.

Dr. Charles Hays, president of the HCJCD, said he and Sam Hill, vice president at SWCID, had just returned from two days of sessions with state lawmakers where he "felt real positive coming out of the meetings."

This was the second such meeting SWCID officials had attended in an attempt to build support for the deaf school's $7 million in funding needs.

SWCID officials have said the school will close its doors at the end of summer if additional funds are not found to bolster the institution's current funding of $2 million.

"SWCID is going to be funded," Hays said. I'm confident of that. It might not be as much as we need, and we'll have to act on that when it happens. But we'll get more than $2 million."

In other good news the trustees heard that contact hours (the number of hours in which students enroll) have increased 34.3 percent over last year's spring session, according to Hays.

"We don't have any more of an enrollment, but students are taking more hours," Hays said.

He attributed the increase to a tight job market. He said HC students traditionally work part-time jobs, but that the recession has made that type of work hard to find. This, in turn, has caused students to have more time to take more hours — an option many of them apparently have taken, he said.

The trustees also agreed to place an item on next month's agenda concerning the purchase of a new IBM computer for the district's operations.

The trustees learned that a complete software program adaptable to the district's operations is available from East Texas State University with no charge.

Mike Bruner, vice president for fiscal affairs, said the software would normally cost from $200,000 to $300,000. However, ETSU is willing to give the software to the district because Terry Hansen, director of computer services at HC, helped to design the programs. "The kicker is that the software won't fit the computer we now have," Hays said. "It could be adapted, but it would cost more than changing computers."

The new computer and software would allow the district new capabilities with payroll, financial aid, grading and computerized instruction — capabilities the district does not have at the present time, Bruner said.

In other business the board approved standard changes in the district's college catalog concerning price and course changes.

It also heard a report that the district received about $8,500 in a recent auction.

BOSS OF THE YEAR — Betty Riley Williams (center), president of Riley Drilling, was named Boss of the Year by the Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association during the Business Associate Banquet Tuesday at Howard College. Mrs.

Williams was nominated by Elaine Tubb (left), a secretary at Riley Drilling. She was presented the award from the 1982 Boss of the Year, Johnny Justiss, who stands at right.

Drilling company president named club's Boss of the Year

By CAROL HART
Staff Writer

Betty Riley Williams, president of Riley Drilling Co., was named Boss of the Year at the Business Associate Banquet Tuesday night hosted by the Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

Mrs. Williams was nominated for the honor by her secretary-bookkeeper, Elaine Tubb. In a letter nominating Mrs. Williams for the honor, Mrs. Tubb said Mrs. Williams is "always eager for any employee to take training courses to improve their skills. She has offered courses to tool pushers, roughnecks and me, the bookkeeper. She has sent me to several oil industry seminars and we have been looking for a tax seminar.

She has encouraged safety habits with a monthly and semi-annual crew safety award program. This has reduced our accident rate tremendously.

"She is constantly aware of the cost of living and family needs. She has established regular pay raise schedules, bonuses based on service, paid vacations and generous contributions to the profit sharing program. She also found a new and better health program for employees and their dependents."

Mrs. Williams, a 1945 graduate of Albany High School, has four daughters. She worked as a beautician until 1971. At that time she quit her job to be with her husband, W.E. Riley, until his death in 1980. Following his death she became president of Riley Drilling, a job which called for the supervision of 48 employees.

She is a member of the board of directors of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and will serve on the United Way campaign. She is active in the Coahoma Church of Christ and is also a member of the Cactus Chapter of ABWA, where she serves as ways and means committee chairperson. She is married to Jim Williams.

Egg cartons

are insulators

for homes

Styrofoam egg cartons can be tacked up in an out-building or attic as insulation. Or use the individual egg cups as seed starters.

Another seed starter can be made from a 4-inch section of a paper towel tube. Cut slits in the tube, fold it up to make a container and fill it with soil mix. You can plant out the entire tube since the paper will decompose in the ground.

Man gets prison sentence

Cecil Douglas Hoard, 28, of 106 W. 16th received a two-year prison sentence yesterday in 118th District Court when his probation was revoked on a burglary conviction. Hoard remains in county jail pending transfer to the Texas Department of Correction.

• Charles Russell Carter, 20, of 1710 E. 3rd pleaded guilty in 118th District Court to credit card abuse and received a three-year probated sentence.

• Timothy Donald Taylor, 24, of 2908 Cactus was released from county jail after serving 22 days for revocation of probation on a driving while intoxicated conviction.

• Andrea Darant Hawkins, 23, of Huntington, Calif., was released from custody after being jailed Feb. 8 for suspicion of impersonating a police officer and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle. The impersonating a police officer charge was dropped on the authority of the district attorney's office.

• Howard County sheriff's deputies arrested Jo Ann Kennedy, 31, of Sterling City Route in Big Spring on a county warrant of issuance of bad checks. Ms. Kennedy paid a $75 fine and bad checks and was released, records show.

• John Vargas, 32, whose address was listed as labor camp, posted $1,000 bond to be released after his arrest by police for suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Local man critical after shooting

A Big Spring man is in critical condition in an Odessa hospital with a bullet wound to the head.

The man, whom Odessa police information officer Lt. Rusty Baker identified as William Anthony Bush of 308 Aylford, was found by a roadside in Odessa yesterday at 9:38 a.m.

Identification was made by a driver's license which police found on the man.

Baker said the man had a bullet wound in his forehead just above the right eye. A .25 caliber automatic pistol was found nearby, Baker said.

An Odessa police officer was searching the right of way between Reed Street and nearby railroad tracks for a weapon used in a robbery when he found Bush, Baker said.

The matter is still under investigation, Baker said.

A spokesman at the Medical Center Hospital said Bush remained in critical condition following surgery yesterday.

Big Spring police said no missing persons reports had been filed at the department. Local police and the sheriff's department are cooperating in the investigation.

The Baylor brain

17-year-old uses head to become college sophomore

Special to the Herald

Praveen Reddy doesn't waste any time — the 17-year old son of Drs. R.K. and N. Reddy of Big Spring is already a sophomore at Baylor University.

What's more, he has maintained a 4.0 grade point average in his first semester at the Waco school.

Praveen, who went straight from his junior year at Big Spring High School to a Baylor sophomore in three months, was one of five students in Texas to enter a summer program at Baylor last year which offered advanced placement if achievement requirements were met.

"I wasn't planning anything like this when I asked to look over college brochures on admissions, which the high school makes available to juniors planning to enter college when they graduate," he said.

But when Praveen looked at the requirements for general admission to Baylor, he read in the fine print of the brochure about special advanced placement for juniors who could meet certain scholastic grade requirements.

A "B" average in the advanced course allows a student to skip a full collegiate year, entering Baylor as a freshman. But Praveen's grades (an "A" average) were so good that he was allowed to skip not one year, but two.

He plans to be a medical doctor, but discounts his

Glasscock PIK ending

GARDEN CITY — Farmers here are being warned they have only a few weeks left to sign up for the Payment In Kind farm program, according to Dale Hillger, chairman of the Glasscock County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee.

After the March 11 deadline, no one will be allowed to enroll in the program, Hillger said. However, those who sign up before the deadline have the option to withdraw or change their enrollment, he added.

The PIK program is designed to bring supplies in line with demand to improve the farm economy. The reduction in planted acreage will allow the producer to receive the unplanted commodity from government surpluses.

Hillger said the program should be seriously considered by those farmers wanting to see an improvement in the market situation.

"We urge farmers to sign up now and not miss the opportunity by waiting or expecting the deadline to be extended," Hillger said.

2 businesses open in area

The Big Spring business community recently recorded the opening of two new businesses in the area.

The Big Spring Mall welcomed Yogurt Plus owned by Noyle and Martha Stone. The store opened Dec. 20 and the Stones are planning a grand opening during Feb. 24-25 and 26.

The store offers frozen yogurt in the flavors of vanilla, chocolate, strawberry and peach and various toppings are also available.

The store also has banana splits, hot fudge sundaes and other traditional treats. Yogurt Plus is open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Mrs. Morrow was born Oct. 7, 1907 in Lampassas. She married James G. Morrow Nov. 9, 1942 in Stanton. She had lived most of her life in West Texas. She was a resident of Big Spring the past seven years, having moved here from Buffalo Gap. She was a member of the First Baptist Church and a member of the Ladies Auxiliary of both the Disabled American Veterans and the Veterans of Foreign War.

Survivors are her husband, one daughter, Rosann Orewyler of San Juan Capistrano, Calif.; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by one son, James Marvin Morrow, who died in Korea.

Retired volunteers needed

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program is currently recruiting volunteers aged 60 and over to serve two to four hours a week or more at one of the seventeen volunteer stations currently associated with RSVP.

"There are several meaningful volunteer opportunities available and include working with children, hospitals, nursing homes, schools, and delivering meals to shut in elderly people," said Joy Decker, project director. "Children need a lap to sit on, a hug, story telling and the older ones need someone who is concerned enough to assist them with reading and other homework."

"This can be a rewarding experience," she said. Volunteers should contact the RSVP office at the Senior Center in the Industrial Park at 267-2589 or 267-2580.

For senior citizens who are unable to leave their homes but would like to be involved in the volunteer service there is the telephone reassurance program, Ms. Decker said.

In this program, she said, volunteers contact other shut-ins daily if desired or just visit by phone with someone who does not have much outside contact.
