The last bank robbery in Big Spring

The year, 1964; the take, a cab ride

By MIKE DOWNEY
Staff Writer

The last bank robbery in Big Spring was committed by an albino flamenco guitarist who called himself the Silent Gun.

It was not your average bank robbery, even by 1964 standards.

For one thing, 25-year-old Higinio Soto used a taxicab as his getaway car. The cab waited outside Security State Bank while he filled his pockets with $4,960.

After a brief ride to the Big Spring State Hospital — his chosen destination — the Puerto Rican native was easily arrested by a Texas Liquor Control Board agent.

When taken to the police station, Soto was questioned by then-District Attorney Guilford Jones. He asked Soto if he used a gun. When he said yes, Jones asked

'With his accent and his appearance, he just seemed to be having a great time. When asked his name, he'd say 'Higinio Soto — thank you' every time.'

what happened to it. Soto held the gun up and proudly said "Here it is." Police had somehow overlooked his weapon.

While awaiting trial in Howard County jail, Soto attempted escape twice. While being taken to the dentist, Soto leaped out of Deputy Sheriff A.G. Mitchell's car and sprinted down Fifth Street.

The officer pursued Soto, firing a warning shot into the air. Mitchell recaptured the bank robber when he crumpled to the ground after being shot through the pants leg.

A second attempt occurred on the jail block. Soto and another inmate were wrestling with the jailer before help arrived to return the men to their cells at gunpoint.

Soto's trial in 118th District Court was a brief affair, memorable because a bank president strangely ended up as jury foreman. Needless to say, Soto received a 25-year prison sentence.

However, he got a full pardon after seven years and was released from the Texas Department of Corrections in 1972, according to the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles.

Probably the one person with the strongest memories of Soto and the bank robbery is Darlene Dabney, now a vice president at Security State Bank.

Mrs. Dabney said she was behind the counter before noon Oct. 28, 1964 when Soto walked up and handed her a note. She remembers being very frightened since Soto said he had someone watching her daughter.

The note warned "Your life is first" and demanded the teller be quick and natural in turning over all the money. It was signed "Silent Gun."

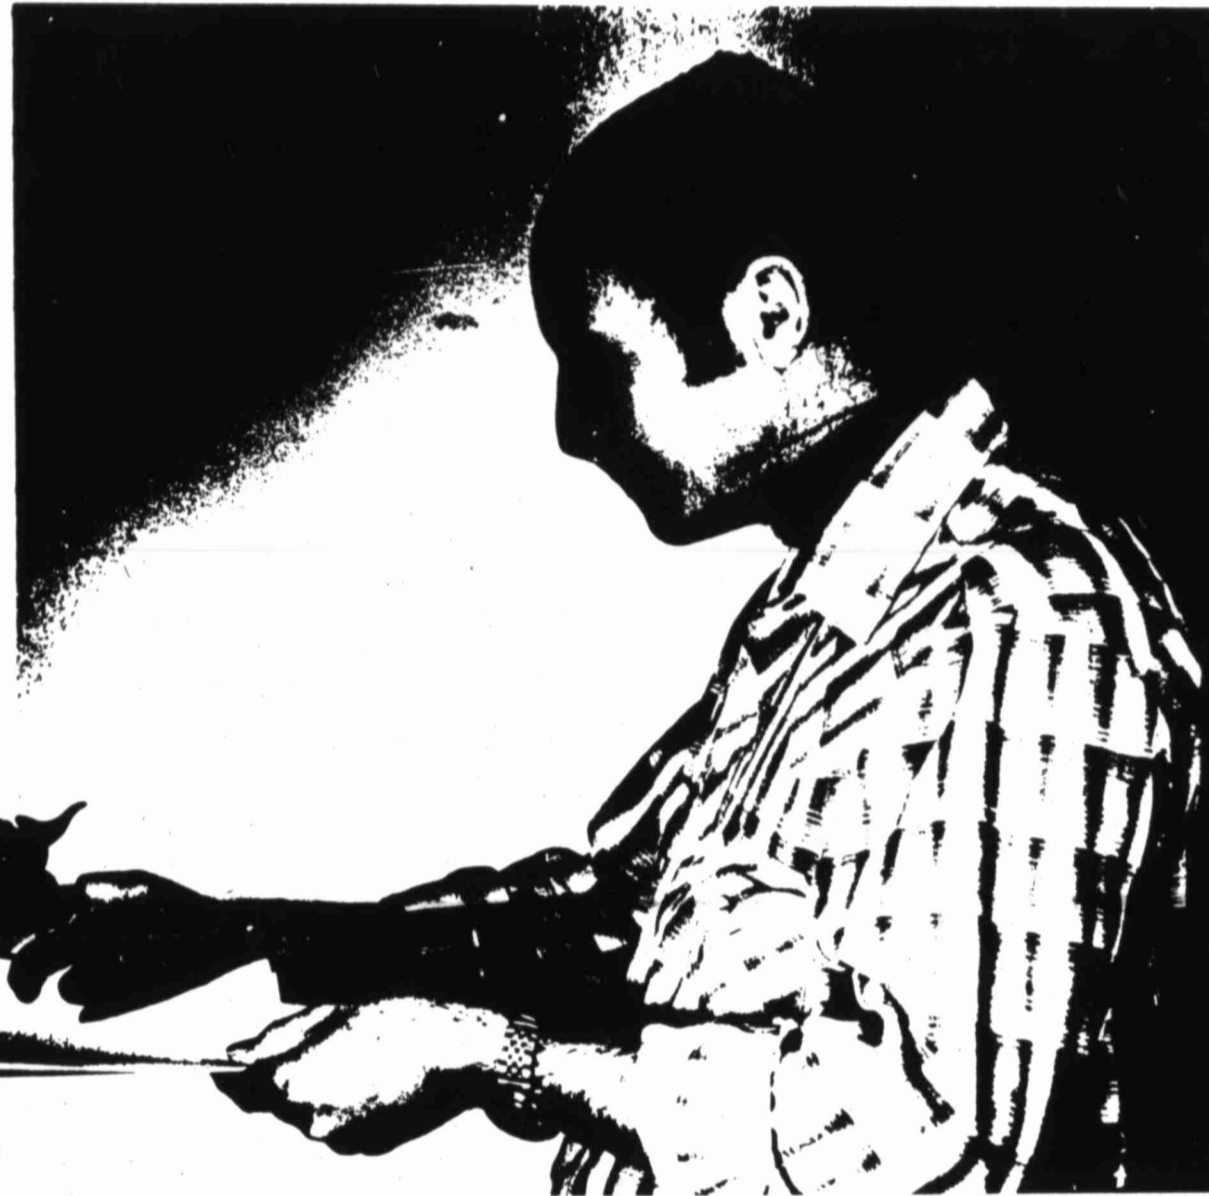

She started pulling out packets of money, Mrs. Dabney said. Why no one saw that she was piling money on the counter and that he was scooping it into his pockets, Mrs. Dabney still can not understand.

"I kept thinking surely one of the other girls would notice what was going on," Mrs. Dabney said. "It's an experience you hope you don't repeat — once is enough."

Mrs. Dabney said Soto turned as he was leaving and told her not to tell anyone for 10 days. Of course she called the police immediately and "then I fell apart," she said.

The memory of that fear occasionally haunts her, Mrs. Dabney said. People sometimes tease her by passing her notes at the bank, she said.

'82's spelling champ hopes to keep crown

MICHELLE GEORGE
...at last year's contest

Michelle works on the spelling words about an hour twice a week with the other students and their teacher, Mrs. Robyn Voight. The teen-ager said she likes studying with the others because she can be more at ease. See Spelling, page 2-A

Students throughout Howard County are already preparing for the Howard County Spelling Bee March 30, but studying particularly hard is last year's winner Michelle George.

The shy 13-year-old captured last year's county spelling bee after 18 rounds of competition. This year, Michelle hopes to repeat as champion, but she knows it will not be easy.

The Immaculate Heart of Mary student said she was nervous about the bee since "there are a lot of good spellers this year." Although she has already won her school spelling bee, she is still in competition with five other Immaculate Heart students for the privilege of going to the county spelling bee.

"It gets a little bit harder each year," Michelle said. "But I'm saying this year 'If I get it, I get it. I'm not going too gung-ho.'"

Khadafy threatens military action

By The Associated Press
Libyan strongman Col. Moammar Khadafy has threatened military action if Libya is "pushed too far" by U.S. naval maneuvers that might extend into Mediterranean waters claimed by his country.

He said the Gulf of Sidra will be turned into a "red gulf of blood" if the U.S. aircraft carrier Nimitz and its battle group move too far into the disputed waters in the southern Mediterranean off Libya's north coast.

"We will not permit America or any foreign state to enter the Gulf of Sidra or any other part of Libyan waters," Khadafy said Thursday in a speech to his Parliament. "The Libyan people are ready to fight to defend their land, their water and skies."

President Reagan has said there are no plans to engage U.S. forces in the region even if Libya clashes with its U.S.-backed neighbor Sudan. But Reagan did say American troops are authorized to defend themselves if fired upon.

In August 1981, two U.S. jet-fighters from the Nimitz shot down a pair of Libyan planes after being fired on while conducting war games over the gulf. The Nimitz and its battle group just completed another set of maneuvers in the area.

Today, the official Soviet news agency Tass denounced the U.S. naval movements as a "dangerous provocation ... a continuation of the U.S. anti-Libyan campaign."

Tass said the Pentagon's "provocative militarist fuss" was intended to "establish undivided rule of U.S. imperialism in the region through military pressure, undisguised blackmail and diktat."

Khadafy, in his speech, said, "Entering Sidra is an invasion of Libya. Libyan people want to live as free people and won't accept foreign occupation. The Gulf of Sidra will turn into a red gulf of blood if anyone tries to sail through it by force."

Ex-C-City minister convicted of murder

COLORADO CITY (SC) — A San Bernardino, Calif., court yesterday convicted former Colorado City minister David Feathers of first degree murder.

The 58-year-old man was found guilty of murdering his son five years ago in California to collect insurance money. He was arrested in Colorado City in 1981.

The penalty phase of the trial is expected to begin today in San Bernardino.

Four Colorado City men were subpoenaed to serve as character witnesses for Feathers. Colorado school district Superintendent Charlie Usleton and local ministers Glen Roenfeldt, Ron Hamby and Monte Jones were in California.

"ARF" — U.S. Marine corporal Robert Teters, right, 22, of Wyoming, engages in a tug-of-war Thursday with Arf, the Marine mascot in Beirut. Watching is Lance Corporal Kevin Rice, 19, of Maryland.

Arf the mutt befriends U.S. soldiers

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Arf, a trusting black-and-brown dog with a pencil-thin white streak down her snout, has snuggled into the hearts of the American soldiers helping to keep the peace in this ravaged city. The young female, white-pawed mongrel wandered up to a beach where U.S. troops were landing a few months ago. She became so popular that the Marines and Navy men plan to use profits from selling beer and soda to pay to fly the dog to the United States. "Arf is the friendliest dog I think I've ever seen," said Marine Maj. Al Shively, 35, of Easton, Pa. "She's partial to anyone with camouflage utilities."

It was Shively, coming ashore, who spotted Arf. He decided the beach, only a few yards from the heavy traffic of the four-lane coast highway, was too dangerous for the gentle dog. Arf now sleeps in the room of two Marines from North Carolina: Capt. Glen Hausold, 32, of Sneads Ferry, and 1st Sgt. Leonard Heath, 40, of Jacksonville. Hausold is executive officer of a Marine amphibious unit support group. "Arf has so far chewed up the executive officer's boot, a sock and part of his blanket," says Capt. Dale Dye, a Marine spokesman from McAllen, Texas. Arf's usual bedtime snack is a bone or a dog biscuit. Before leaving Monday as part of troop rotation, Petty Officer 3rd Class Harry Smith of Wilmington, Del., wistfully chuckled Arf under the chin as he packed his gear. Smith, with the 6th Fleet, had adopted Arf. Shively said the soldiers have decided to use the profits from beer and soft drink sales in the enlisted men's and officer's clubs to fly Arf to the United States for a reunion with Smith or another Beirut veteran. "Arf is going to become big time," Shively said. During the day, Arf is tied outside the headquarters. Marine Cpl. Robert Teters, 22, of Lowell, Wyo., came by Thursday and stuck the brim of his fatigue cap in his mouth and let Arf grab the other end for some tug-of-war. Arf is a "free dog," says Johnson, and shouldn't be tied up. "We went up there and tried to cut her loose, but the Marines caught her and kept her," says Johnson.

Arms nominee denies he called talks a 'sham'

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenneth L. Adelman, whose nomination to head the U.S. Arms Control Agency has foundered in the Senate, denied on Thursday that he had ever characterized arms control talks as a "sham."

Adelman's critics have seized on the interview, published in the New York Daily News in May 1981, to buttress their contention that he is not sufficiently committed to arms control.

"I have no recollection of making any such a statement at any time," Adelman told reporters.

Adelman urged the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which had postponed a vote on Wednesday, to send the nomination to the Senate floor for action so that the administration can "get on with the serious business of seeking real arms reductions."

He would not answer any questions after reading his statement.

Columnist Ken Auletta, whose column appears on Sundays in the Daily News, had quoted Adelman as saying in reference to arms control negotiations, "My policy would be to do it for political reasons."

Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., an Adelman foe, had distributed copies of the column in the Senate.

Meeting reporters at the U.S. mission to the United Nations, Adelman said: "These were not my views then and are not my views now. I have no recollection of making any such statement at any time."

"My views favoring strong arms control with real reductions have been consistent throughout my adult life during which I have grappled with these very issues as assistant to the secretary of defense, senior political scientist of the

KENNETH ADELMAN ...arms control nominee

Strategic Studies Center of the Stanford Research Institute, well-published author in these areas, deputy permanent representative to the United Nations and now director-designate to the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

Adelman said he was "immensely grateful" for President Reagan's words of support during his Wednesday news conference, and added that he believed "my confirmation has become a vehicle for a larger debate on arms control."

Auletta said in a telephone interview that the "sham" statement came out during an hour-long telephone interview with Adelman on May 24, 1981.

"It seems to me that he (Adelman) would have said he thought he was inappropriately reflected" in the article, said Auletta, adding that he heard no protest from Adelman after the column's appearance.

Weather Fair skies, warm weather forecast

Light rain fell over North and East Texas early today, but the weekend forecast showed the promise of mostly fair skies and unseasonably warm temperatures.

A few heavy showers were falling before dawn northwest of Fort Worth. Dense fog had formed over the Panhandle and along the coast.

Pre-dawn temperatures were mostly in the 30s in West Texas and the 40s and 50s over the rest of the state. Readings at 4 a.m. ranged from 25 at Marfa to 56 at the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

Winds were mostly variable, blowing at speeds ranging from 5 to 15 mph.

The forecast called for the shower activity to end, leaving fair to partly cloudy skies through Saturday. Cooler temperatures were forecast for Northwest Texas, while warmer readings were on tap for the rest of the state.

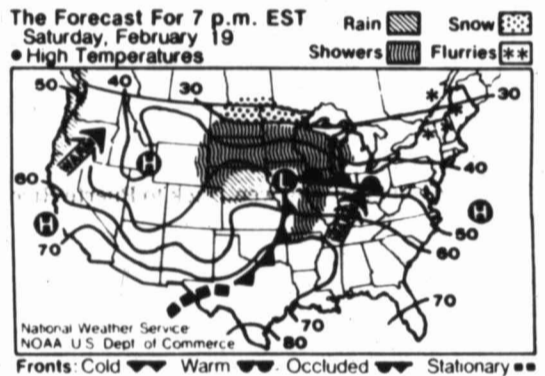

A COLD FRONT spread rain and strong wind across the Pacific Northwest on Thursday, but temperatures were mild and heavy rain was confined to the coast.

Hoquiam, Wash., got 0.90 of an inch of rain and Eugene, Ore., got 0.93 of an inch.

Southerly wind gusted to 45 mph at Bellingham, Wash., and gale warnings were in effect over the coasts of both Oregon and Washington.

In the East, light rain was scattered from Georgia to New York.

A cold front spread clouds and cool temperatures over the Midwest, with readings dipping into the teens over northern Minnesota and North Dakota. Readings in the 20s and 30s were scattered from New England to the central Plains. Dense fog sharply reduced visibility in parts of California, and chain-reaction collisions, one involving 19 vehicles, sent at least 21 people to hospitals.

TODAY AND SATURDAY West Texas — Fair to partly cloudy through Saturday. Highs 65 north to 75 south, except 82 Big Bend valleys. Lows 35 north to 45 south. Highs Saturday 55 Panhandle to 75 south and near 80 Big Bend valleys.

Federal judge may order U.S. to support Haitians

MIAMI — A federal judge, concerned that the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service won't assist 1,771 Haitians freed from detention, is considering whether he can order the government to support the refugees.

Officials estimate 30 to 50 percent of the aliens have jobs. But the INS' insistence on not providing aid for the Haitians will force some of them onto local welfare rolls.

Until now, the refugees have been getting assistance from private voluntary agencies. The charities say the aid cannot continue without help from the government.

U.S. District Judge Eugene P. Spellman said he never intended for the Haitians to wind up on welfare rolls when he "paroled" them from immigration camps last summer.

"I'm truly, truly disappointed," Spellman said at a hearing Thursday. "I just feel sorry for the state of Florida and the communities where these people exist. It was never the court's intent" that they should go on welfare.

The judge scheduled a hearing for early March to determine whether he has authority to order the immigration agency to pay public assistance to the refugees in order to comply with his release order.

The paroled refugees are scattered in 22 states. About 900 live in Florida.

Welles Klein, executive director of the American Council for Nationalities Service, said the agencies have spent $2.2 million more than the government provided for between the two sides is substantial."

The voluntary agencies wanted the INS to pay $180 per month per Haitian. The service has offered to pay medical expenses and $10 per month for administrative expenses.

"It seems clear they (INS) know the alternative is welfare and they're saying OK," said Gerry Wynne, a director of the U.S.

'It seems clear the INS knows the alternative is welfare and they're saying OK.'

the Haitians' first 120 days in this country. That doesn't include contributions raised by individual congregations and parishes.

U.S. Justice Department lawyer Robert Bombaugh said INS Commissioner Alan Nelson has decided further discussions about the aid "would not be fruitful."

"The position of the government is final," said Bombaugh. "There has been at least two months of discussions on renewal of these contracts and the amount of money bet-

Catholic Conference.

Linda Berkowitz, refugee coordinator for the state of Florida, said "very, very few" Haitians have asked for welfare here.

"If they're determined eligible for it, they get it... We have seen very, very few," she said.

Attorneys for the Haitians and the government had returned to court Thursday to consider a four-point plan to change the conditions of the refugees' temporary parole status.

Reward offered for tax protestor

JAMESTOWN, N.D. (AP) — After four days of futile searching, the U.S. Marshal Service is offering a $25,000 reward for the arrest of an anti-tax radical accused of killing two marshals, because "the perpetrator is so dangerous."

The announcement Thursday night came hours after a small army of law enforcement officers searched three houses in Ashley and a farm in nearby Wishek without finding the protester, Gordon Kahl.

(Numbers for information about Kahl are (800) 732-5218 for calls from North Dakota and (800) 437-3395 for people calling from elsewhere in the United States.)

"This is the first time we've offered a reward of this amount," said U.S. Marshal Howard Safir. "We do this because we feel that this case is so significant and that the perpetrator is so dangerous that the sooner we can get him apprehended, the better off the citizens of North Dakota and of the country will be."

The reward will be paid for information leading to Kahl's arrest, Safir said.

Kahl, 63, has been wanted since Sunday night, when two marshals were shot to death and another was wounded critically as they tried to arrest Kahl for violating probation on a 1977 income tax evasion conviction.

During Thursday's searching, more than a dozen vehicles carrying 50 to 60 law enforcement officers drove from Jamestown to Ashley, a prairie town of 1,200 residents 10 miles from the South Dakota border.

The officers sealed off highways into Ashley, where they searched the homes of three men involved in a local anti-tax movement, authorities said. They have said Kahl was active in Posse Comitatus, a right-wing paramilitary organization that opposes federal taxation.

Mike Phillips, one of the three, said in a telephone interview that an FBI agent called him about 9:30 a.m. and said his house was surrounded and he should come out peacefully.

"I said, 'Hey, you bet. Right away. I want no trouble.'" Phillips recounted.

Judge delays ruling on new Harrelson trial

Hears testimony about possible 'murder cult'

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A federal judge, who heard a construction worker testify about a murder cult, has deferred a ruling on a motion for a new trial for Charles Harrelson, convicted of killing U.S. District Judge John H. Wood Jr.

U.S. District Judge William Sessions, who listened to the testimony Thursday, said he wasn't convinced a new trial was warranted. But he delayed a formal ruling on the appeal by Harrelson, who was convicted in December of killing Wood for a $250,000 fee.

James E. Benskin, 31, of Austin, testified that he saw a shadowy figure — a man he identified as Charles Brazil — with two women in a Victoria restaurant on Halloween in 1978, and that they talked about joining a professional murder ring known as the "Black Wings."

He said one of the principal prosecution witnesses at Harrelson's San Antonio trial was one of the women he saw with "Charles Brazil" at the Victoria restaurant in 1978.

Benskin said that prosecutors never believed his story, and he even wrote to President Reagan trying to find a forum to give his account.

Wood, known as "Maximum John" for the stiff sentences he meted out to people convicted of drug offenses, was shot to death in May of 1979 in front of his

CHARLES HARRELSON
...in San Antonio

townhouse in San Antonio.

Harrelson's motion for a new trial was based on the premise that prosecutors did not tell Harrelson's attorney of Benskin's contention that Brazil had killed the judge.

Also testifying Thursday was Joe Chagra, who received a 10-year prison sentence on a murder conspiracy charge in a plea-bargain agreement.

Chagra, brother of high stakes gambler Jimmy Chagra, says Chagra got special considerations as a part of a plea-bargain arrangement that his jury should have been told about.

Chagra testified against Harrelson and two others charged in the Wood death, but did not have to appear in the trial of his brother, who was acquitted earlier this month in a trial at Jacksonville, Fla.

Chagra denied suggestions by Tom Sharpe of Brownsville, Harrelson's attorney, that the return of property seized by government agents from Chagra's El Paso home in 1981 was a part of the plea-bargain agreement, although most of the property was returned after the San Antonio trial.

Sharpe contended the return of the property was an understood part of the agreement and should have been explained to the San Antonio jury. On that basis, Sharpe said, a new trial should be granted.

Benskin said he attended Harrelson's trial several times last year and recognized local attorney Chrys Lambros as one of the women Brazil was talking to in a Victoria restaurant.

Ms. Lambros testified during Harrelson's trial she saw Harrelson at Wood's townhouse complex the morning the judge was shot while leaving for work.

"I've seen her in this courtroom and I've seen her in Victoria," said Benskin, who testified he worked in Victoria in 1978.

Ex-CIA agent faces special offender status

HOUSTON (AP) — Former CIA agent and convicted arms smuggler Edwin Wilson, accused of plotting to hire the killing of two federal prosecutors, faces 25 years in prison if he is declared a "dangerous, special offender."

U.S. District Judge Ross Sterling scheduled a 1:30 p.m. hearing today on a motion by government prosecutors for the designation.

Wilson was convicted Feb. 6 on charges of conspiring to transport explosives, filing false customs documents, exporting without a license and illegally transporting hazardous materials.

He was accused of plotting to ship 21 tons of the plastic explosive C-4 to Libya in October 1977. The explosives were placed in five-gallon cans that were topped off with drilling mud and labeled as drilling mud, a substance used to lubricate and cool oil well drilling bits.

Chain letters blocked

FORT WORTH (AP) — Mail addressed to Money Tree, a Fort Worth-based organization accused of operating a chain letter scheme, will continue to pile up in a post office here because a federal judge issued an injunction blocking its delivery.

U.S. District Judge David O. Belew Jr. on Thursday issued the preliminary injunction preventing operation of Money Tree until an administrative postal service hearing determines if the operation is legal.

Postal officials are trying to shut down Money Tree, which they say is an illegal scheme because it is not selling a product.

Since Belew issued a temporary restraining order last week, 1,000 pieces of mail addressed to Money Tree have piled up here, postal officials said.

Money Tree attorney Jim Shaw said 25,000 people are involved in the organization, many of them in Texas and Louisiana. Money Tree is legal, Shaw contends, because the company sells a quarterly newsletter for the $20 fee.

"It's working for some people. I think people are caught up in it," Shaw said of Money Tree. "It's kind of a faddish thing for them to do — a $20 fling."

Money Tree promises up to $100,000 in $5 money orders to individuals making an initial investment and recruiting more subscribers. Money Tree subscribers pay $20 — $5 to a sponsor, $5 to the home office and $5 to two others whose names appear on a progressive list. The new recruit's name goes on the list when he recruits four members.

U.S. Postal Service Inspector R.E. Intriago told Belew that government calculations showed that after the Money Tree's standard list of nine names is sold just 16 times, 4.29 billion participants would be required before the 16th participant showed a profit.

The problem, Intriago said, is that there are only 3.6 billion people in the world.

Research Review featured hypersensitivity and hearts

The Howard County Division of the American Heart Association hosted a research review at the La Casada Restaurant Monday for the medical community and interested citizens.

Those attending included physicians, optometrists, nurses, dentists, pharmacists, medical administrators, the media and local board members.

Dr. John Marshall, president, discussed the American Heart Association in Texas. The mission of the AHA in Texas is the reduction of premature death and disability due to cardiovascular disease through a program of scientific research, professional education, public education and community programs. He said that though cardiovascular disease was still the leading cause of death in Texas, the death rate from cardiovascular disease has declined 10 percent over the past 10 years.

Dr. David Rickey, local representative on the state board of the American Heart Association, said the Texas affiliate of the A.H.A. funded 74 research projects at medical centers throughout the state with $1.3 million in support. The Texas affiliate received 211 research funding applications for 1982. Evaluation by the Affiliate's Central Research and Review Committee determined that 180 projects were worthy of support, but funds were available for only 74. A research funding gap exists and the A.H.A. is striving to fill the gap by increasing its funding efforts.

Dr. Thomas Tenner of the department of Pharmacology and Therapeutics, Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, Lubbock, discussed his research funded by the A.H.A. Dr. Tenner's research involves studying the mechanism of the hypersensitivity to heart stimulation in some severe cardiovascular disease patients who have been treated for long periods of time with Inderal and who have suddenly quit taking the Inderal.

His research has been funded by the Texas Affiliate and he says he has made progress in discovering the hypersensitivity reaction mechanism. He reiterated the need for proper funding and expressed thanks to those who work voluntarily for and those who support the American Heart Association.

Dr. Donohue

Atrial fibrillation: inconsistent heart

Dear Dr. Donohue: My sister was recently dismissed from the hospital and taking medication for a condition her doctor diagnosed as atrial fibrillation. She does not understand exactly what this means, and neither do I. Please explain.—Mrs. R.M.

Join a club, both of you. A lot of people think they're sure they know what this term means, but are at a loss to explain it.

In a normally-functioning heart, the pacemaker (in the upper chambers, the atria) controls how many times a minute the organ beats. The rate is regular from one minute to the next. That is, the heart beat 60 times a minute, or 72 times minute, or perhaps 80 or more times in that 60-second interval. Whatever the rate, if you measure the pulse (same as heart rate) you get the same approximate number of beats during any given minute.

That's not so in atrial fibrillation. One minute the rate might be 66, the next over 100, then the next may be 84.

This is what is meant when the doctor uses that even more confusing term, "irregular," a term that would seem to defy understanding outside of this context.

There just is no regular rhythm.

I notice that in your sister's report (another part of your letter) the term intermittent was attached to the word atrial fibrillation. Sometime atrial fibrillation is present all the time. At others it comes and goes intermittently. This kind can occur when there is no real heart problem. The chronic kind, however, may be when there is overactivity of the thyroid gland. In other cases, a damaged heart valve or poor heart vessel circulation can produce it.

So I can't say whether there is an underlying problem causing your sister to have this come-and-go atrial fibrillation. The medicine she is taking is important, particularly when the spells are frequent. It makes for a more efficient heart, allowing it to beat regularly. I hope that's enough explanation.

Headaches — you can beat them! Write to Dr. Donohue, in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "How to Tame Headaches." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dear Abby

Wife's ears ring when widow calls

DEAR ABBY: Four months ago my husband and I lost a very good friend and neighbor. Naturally we offered our condolences and help to this man's widow, who happens to be a very attractive woman about my age (middle 60s). Now my husband gets calls quite often. Her accent is dripping, her fur- ture is making a noise, her storm window needs fixing, etc.

His last visit to her house lasted 44 minutes. And there's always a freshly baked apple pie waiting for him over there. (His favorite.)

Tomorrow he is taking her to the dentist! That's where I put my foot down. But he said he had already promised to take her, so off they went. Of course, this is only the first of three appointments. Another neighbor made a little joke about how attentive my husband has been to this widow. I laughed it off, but I was burning up inside.

What now? I feel better just putting this down on paper.

GOOD OLD JANE
DEAR JANE: Don't be too "good" or you'll be old before your time. Jane, tell your helpful hubby that the neighbors are talking and enough is enough already. Then go along for the ride. And while you're riding between them, get Jane's recipe for the apple pie. Three may be a crowd, but there's safety in numbers.

DEAR ABBY: I recently read a verse in the letters to the editor column in the Youngstown (Ohio) Vindicator.

I don't know whether it's original, but I think it's worth passing on. I hope you agree.

NEWCASTLE READER
DEAR READER: I do.

And here it is:
IT ISN'T THE CAR, IT'S THE DRIVER

"Sir: It isn't the car that begins to whine when forced to stop for an old stop sign — it's the driver."

"It isn't the car that takes a drink, then quickly loses its power to think — it's the driver."

"It isn't the car that fails to heed the dangers of reckless, discourteous speed — it's the driver."

"It isn't the car that steps on the gas and causes an accident trying to pass — it's the driver."

"A car may be bent and twisted away, but it isn't the car that will have to die — it's the driver."

Scientists use sonar to chase Loch Ness monster

By EDITH M. LEDERER
Associated Press Writer

LONDON — The 1,400-year-old debate about the existence of the Loch Ness monster may be resolved soon by determining whether large objects detected in the lake are alive, a British scientist says.

Using sonar equipment, a team led by Adrian Shine has reported 40 contacts with objects in the Scottish lake which it believes could be the elusive Nessie and her offspring.

"If there are large creatures in Loch Ness, then they would appear on sonar just as we have recorded them," Shine said.

In the past twenty years more than 3,000 people claim to have seen a large creature in the lake, "whose waters could comfortably immerse every man, woman and child on earth three times over," Shine said.

Most often, Nessie has been described as a long-necked, dinosaur-like creature but countless other theories abound.

"We are excited," Shine said. "If these contacts prove to be animate, then they will almost certainly be Loch Ness monsters. If not, then there are no Loch Ness monsters in the deep midwaters of Loch Ness."

Shine, in an interview Wednesday, said sonar scanning and underwater photographic techniques already available can determine whether the objects are alive and possibly end the debate on whether Nessie is fact or fiction.

"The fact is that it is technically attainable now, if only equipment can be deployed," he said, estimating the cost of the equipment at $462,000.

Shine reported details of the 40 contacts, made on two sonar scanners during a four-month stay at Loch Ness last summer, in an article in the respected weekly British magazine New Scientist.

He said the team conducted more sonar tracking than all previous monster-hunting expeditions combined and found 40 distinct signals that were far stronger than those of the fish inhabiting the murky 726-foot deep waters of the lake.

Most of the signals came from a depth greater than 198 feet, the deepest level at which fish are detectable. One signal recorded last May 16 was tracked for 68 seconds and seemed to descend from 224 feet to 376 feet, Shine said.

He said the team couldn't determine the exact size of the objects "but we're talking about something much larger than normal lake fish known at Loch Ness. It would have to be because of the strength of the sonar echo."

Shine said he expects the mystery to remain unsolved for a few more years, but he is busy recruiting 150 volunteers "wanting a cheap holiday with a difference" to work for between $75 and $110 a week on this summer's search for Nessie.

St. Columba, an Irish missionary, first reported seeing Nessiteras Rhombopteryx — popularly known as Nessie — in the loch in the year 545. In subsequent years, the 23-mile-long lake has been exhaustively analyzed, explored and photographed.

Shine said his team's biological investigations, which he called the most extensive since 1904, discount the theory that the purported monster is merely rotting vegetation lifted by gas bubbles produced by bacteria in the loch bed.

He said samples taken from the lake bed show no signs of gas "nor does an underwater television camera towed through the sediment."

He also said there was no evidence to support retired Scottish engineer Robert P. Craig's theory that Nessie is a pine log propelled from the bottom of Loch Ness to the surface by a build-up of natural gas.

Now the Federal government wants to withhold taxes from your savings income.

Recently, the United States Congress passed a law that will hurt you and most other savers in America. Beginning July 1, 1983, this new law will impose a 10% withholding tax against the money earned on your savings.

Under the law, all credit unions, banks, money market funds, and other payers of interest or dividends will be required automatically to withhold 10% of the interest or dividends earned by their customers and transmit this "early tax payment" to the Federal government. Even modest-income senior citizens will be affected, unless they go through the complicated red tape of filing a Federal application for exemption.

The institutions listed below strongly oppose the withholding of taxes from the money you earn on your savings because it is unnecessary and unfair — unnecessary because you already pay taxes on your savings each year when you file your Federal income tax return; unfair because it will lower your earnings by reducing the benefits of compounded savings growth. In short, the law clearly will penalize you as a saver, and for that reason it should be repealed by Congress.

It should be repealed. That is our goal .. and we have joined with other financial institutions throughout the nation in a vigorous campaign to convince Congress to repeal the 10% withholding tax on your savings income, before it starts next July 1. But we will need the help of every saver to achieve this goal.

We urge you to join this campaign by writing a letter to your Representative in Congress and to the two Senators from your state. Tell them that you want the 10% withholding tax repealed because it would impose an unnecessary and unfair penalty on savers like yourself. You should address your letters as follows, filling in the appropriate names:

The Honorable Charles Stenholm
House of Representatives
House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515
"Dear Representative _____:"

The Honorable John Tower
The Honorable Lloyd Bentsen
United States Senate
Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510
"Dear Senator _____:"

Or just fill out and mail one of these special "save our savings" coupons.

Please act now. We must send Washington a clear message from the voters back home as quickly as possible to repeal the 10% withholding tax.

Dear Senator: I urge you to repeal the 10% withholding tax on savings income before the law takes effect on July 1, 1983. This law is unnecessary. I already pay taxes on my savings income when I file my Federal income tax return. Further, the law is unfair and penalizes savers like myself because it will reduce what I earn on my savings. NAME _____ ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____	Dear Congressman: I urge you to repeal the 10% withholding tax on savings income before the law takes effect on July 1, 1983. What about executive privilege?

Reagan says he won't use it during EPA dispute

By MARTIN CRUTSINGER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The administration is now hedging on just what President Reagan meant when he promised not to assert executive privilege over documents Congress is seeking for investigations of the Environmental Protection Agency.

The White House on Thursday said the president was in no way dropping his claim of executive privilege.

At his press conference, Reagan said, "I can no longer insist on executive privilege if there's a suspicion in the minds of the people that maybe it is being used to cover some wrongdoing."

But deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said Thursday that the president envisioned turning documents over to the Justice Department for review of possible wrongdoing, not to Congress.

The president's statement was "absolutely not" intended to waive executive privilege, Speakes said, adding that the issue was part of on-going discussions with Rep. Elliott H. Levitas, chairman of the House Public Works subcommittee.

The refusal of the administration to turn over dozen of documents to Levitas in December led to an historic contempt of Congress citation against EPA Administrator Anne Gorsuch.

The administration is now offering to let Levitas and the ranking Republican member of the committee see the documents and make excerpts available to other members of the subcommittee. Negotiations between Levitas and the administration were expected to resume today.

...seeks agency documents

"We're very confident an agreement will be worked out," said Justice Department spokesman Tom DeCair. "It just remains for Levitas and (Deputy Attorney General) Edward C. Schmults to get together and nail it all down."

The negotiations were taking place as two House subcommittee chairmen promised more revelations today of mismanagement at the EPA. Reps. James Scheuer, D-N.Y., and Mike Synar, D-Okla., scheduled a news conference to discuss failings in the $1.6 billion "superfund" hazardous waste clean up program.

Scheuer and Synar are heading two of the six congressional investigations of the embattled EPA into allegations the superfund was manipulated for political purposes, that "sweetheart" deals were struck with polluters and that EPA officials violated conflict-of-interest laws.

In another development, sources inside and outside EPA said Thursday that John P. Horton, the EPA assistant administrator for administration, was under investigation for allegedly using a government secretary and phone for private business.

In addition, the FBI and the Justice Department are conducting their own probes. All the activity was triggered after Reagan last week fired Rita M. Lavelle, head of the hazardous waste program.

Michael Brown, named acting assistant administrator to replace Ms. Lavelle, confirmed Thursday night that Mrs. Gorsuch has referred several items to the Justice Department to investigate.

Attorneys for Ms. Lavelle did turn over their client's appointment calendar for 1982, which was being sought by two House subcommittee investigating the conflict-of-interest allegations.

Ag official rapped for minority memo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's minority affairs director has been placed on a 10-day leave while officials investigate his memo proposing a reversal of civil rights enforcement policies, according to published reports.

The Washington Post reported in its Friday editions that Isidoro Rodriguez was suspended for urging that the department take the lead in stripping federal regulations of civil rights guidelines that include minority hiring and quota goals.

The newspaper said Deputy Secretary Richard E. Lyng approved an order putting Rodriguez on leave.

Rodriguez' memo, addressed to Secretary John Block, was sidetracked by aides before it could reach him.

Although the memo said the department was receiving support and guidance for the revisions from the Justice Department, Assistant Attorney General William Bradford Reynolds was quoted as saying he was unaware of the plan.

President Reagan was asked about the memo at his televised news conference Wednesday night and said he would "look into it."

FDA learns from panic of Tylenol

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chance of a repetition of last year's Tylenol poisonings have been greatly reduced by consumer alertness and tamper-resistant packaging of medicines, the government reports.

Dr. Mark Novitch, deputy commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, said Thursday that the deaths of seven people in the Chicago area who took cyanide-laced Extra-Strength Tylenol had increased consumer awareness about the possibility of drug tampering.

"It had never been part of the general consumer consciousness to be concerned about the integrity of a drug product, definitely not tampering," he said. "Now consumers will have drugs that will make tampering evident."

"In the last analysis, it will be consumer alertness that will prevent a repeat of this type of incident," the FDA official told a conference on product survival and revival.

New federal regulations on tamper-resistant packaging, approved in the wake of the Tylenol tragedy, cover over-the-counter drugs.

Steer tracksters open season in San Angelo

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

Normally the first weekend of track is run under sub-freezing temperatures but conditions are expected to be ideal when the Big Spring High Steers meet Abilene and San Angelo in a triangular meet Saturday in the Concho City.

While he's short on overall returning experience, coach Randy Britton has the numbers. Over 60 boys are out for track this year and 35 of them will make the season-opening meet in San Angelo.

With several potential tracksters still playing basketball, Britton will miss out on points in both running and field events. Totally new sprint and mile relay units will debut for the Steers.

Among the top returning upperclassmen are seniors Scott Griffin (discus and hurdles), Monte Lamb (discus) and Bret Crenweige (distance events). Both Griffin and Lamb have been throwing the discus consistently at the 140-foot mark in practice.

Other hopefuls are pole vaulters Mike Owens (transfer and 12-footer from Houston) and junior Billy Wagner; distance men John De Leon (junior) and Preston Harrison (sophomore); sophomore hurdler Derek Logback; junior weightmen Fabian Salazar, Randy Lamb and Jimmy Cearley; and high jumper Tommy Gartman.

Gartman, Roddy Fair (junior), Mike Higgins (sophomore) and John Roemer (senior) make up the all-new sprint relay team. A second unit of Mike

The No. 1 sprint relay team will also be the No. 1 mile relay unit with Wagner subbing for Reid on the No. 2 team. There will also be a 3,200 relay at San Angelo with De Leon, Crenweige, Ricky Garza (sophomore) and Dax McCracken (freshman) on the top team. Harrison, Quang Mai (sophomore), Danny Rubio (sophomore) and Teddy Hernandez (sophomore) running on the No. 2 squad.

While Britton expects Permian to be the dominant team in District 4-AAAAA — thanks to several speedy transfers from Odessa Ector, he thinks Central will be competitive. Abilene High, Eagle coach John McCabe says, will be down from last year.

"Our real strength will lie in the distance and weight events," Britton says. "We've got a lot of young, talented kids but it will be tough for them against the upperclassmen. We have 35 freshmen boys out and I want to concentrate on them. That's more than I've ever had before...more than double. Hopefully we can do some things to keep them interested in track and maybe have half of them out when they are seniors."

Other participants Saturday will be freshman shot putter Scott Allison, sophomore distance man Johnny Rangel and hurdler David Johnson.

Howard College debuts on diamond today

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

Fielding a team manned by freshmen at every position, the Howard College Hawks take the diamond for the first time in 30 years when the host San Antonio College today in a 1 p.m. doubleheader on the HC campus.

Righthander John Wilson of Snyder makes history when he toes up on the mound for the Hawks against SAC righthander Mike Sanders in the opener. Charlie Arcoss, another rightie, goes for the Rangers in the second game while HC coach Bill Griffin is undecided as to his second starter.

Three District 4-AAAAA standouts will be in the starting lineup for the Hawks. Blake Rosson, the league's Most Valuable Player in 1982 from Big Spring High, has gotten the starting nod at third base (he played shortstop for the Steers) while Mark Warren, all-district outfielder for BSHS in 1981, will play left field. Billy Mitchell, pitcher-outfielder for the runner-up Cooper Cougars, will start in right field.

Otherwise, coach Billy Richardson's team will feel right at home against the Hawks. Four of the remaining starters hail from the Alamo City.

Completing the starting infield are Bobby

Spears (San Antonio). Behind the plate is Gary Carr (San Antonio) with Doug Hatch (Lubbock) taking in the designated hitter's role.

RECORDS — Howard 0-0, San Antonio 0-0

SCOREBOOK — Righthander John Wilson will toss the opener for the Hawks with coach Bill Griffin uncertain to his second starter. SA coach Billy Richardson will start righthanders Mike Sanders and Charlie Arcoss

Behnsch (San Antonio) at first base, John Friesenhahn (San Antonio) at second and Stephen Hodge (Amarillo) at third. Joining Warren and Mitchell in the outfield is Kenny

The Rangers were 12-30 last year and Richardson hopes hitters like sophomore outfielder Chris Hubert and sophomore catcher Pancho Hedfet will lead his squad to a better record this spring.

Griffin has nothing to fall back on and can only look ahead to what his rookies will do in their debut season.

"I'm anticipating a good year," the former Panola coach says confidently. "I hope the fans come out and see our ballclub. I think they'll be pleasantly surprised."

The Hawks tuned up for their eight-game opening series — HC hosts San Antonio in a twinbill Saturday and entertains Wharton Sunday and Monday with doubleheaders — with a western road swing last week.

OC rips Queens, 81-66

ODESSA — In a sloppy WJAC game here Thursday night, the No. 2 Odessa Lady Wranglers held Nell Haskins to under 20 points for the first time this season as they shocked the Hawk Queens 81-66.

The loss keeps the Queens in fourth place in the league standings with a 5-6 mark and 17-9 ledger for the season. Odessa improves to 9-2 and a school record 25-7 mark.

Haskins hit just five of 20 shots and the Queens managed only a 22-for-69 (31 per cent) evening. Odessa hit 48 per cent and built a lead as big as 22 points in the second half before the Queens rallied to within 10 with eight minutes to play. The Lady Wranglers — led by Sharon Cain's game-high 22 points — hit another hot streak to win by 15. The loss was the by the widest margin of the season for Howard.

"They just jumped all over us," HC coach Don Stevens said. The game was not well-played as the teams combined for 54 turnovers, 28 by the Queens.

Susan Cordell led Howard with 19 points while Haskins had 17. Pam Roberson did not score a field goal before fouling out.

The Queens travel to Clarendon Monday. The winner of that game takes fourth place in the final WJAC rankings.

Hawks win in overtime

ODESSA — Dwight Harris and Willie James scored four points each in overtime as the Howard College Hawks fought off the Odessa Wranglers 93-92 in a WJAC game here Thursday night.

The win pushed the Hawks to the 20-victory plateau for the 10th time under coach Harold Wilder. HC is 20-8 for the year and 7-8 (fifth place) in the WJAC standings. Odessa slumped to 1-15 and 7-22 overall.

Odessa had the ball with 11 seconds to go but a five-second call was made as the Wranglers inbounded the ball. Nate Givens fouled downcourt and Tim Richards — who led all scorers with 34 points — stepped to the line with three seconds to play and the score tied 82-82. He missed the shot, sending the game into overtime.

HC led all the way in the bonus period, building a 93-86 advantage that withstood four closing points by Richards.

The Wranglers led 43-37 at halftime and held leads as large as seven points in the second half before the Hawks made their charge.

"Our plan was to get out ahead of them early," Wilder said, "but they got off to a good start and we had to play their style the whole way."

Givens scored 28 points and Harris 21 for the Hawks. Delbert Jones added 20 more for the Wranglers.

James had his best night of the year, coming off the bench to score 14 points and grab crucial rebounds down the stretch.

BSHS swimmers test 4-5A waters at Midland meet

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

MIDLAND — The chase after Cooper and Midland High begins this afternoon when swimmers and divers from eight District 4-5A schools hit the water for the annual league meet at the Mabee Memorial Swim Center.

Cooper and Midland are predicted to battle it out stroke-for-stroke in the boys division while Midland and San Angelo appear to be the class of the girls division. Big Spring High coach Harlan Smith is looking for his Steers to push for fourth and the Lady Steers for third place.

Two recent automobile accidents have knocked out two of the league's top swimmers from the Cougar and Bobcat lineups. Billy Ledbetter (50, 100 freestyler and 400 free relay anchor) is out for San Angelo while Cooper team captain Eric Jordan is still in the hospital in Abilene with injuries he received in another wreck.

Despite the loss of the two top swimmers, Saturday's finals should be heartstoppers. Smith labels Cooper the league's top boys team and Midland the best among the girls. Midland High, which defeated Cooper in a dual meet, could upend the Cougars along with San Angelo. Central and Permian join Big Spring as the top four girls teams.

The top BSHS hopefuls for regional swim berths are 100 butterfly man Tim Plew (senior) and 50 free swimmer Speight Grimes (senior). Juniors Cecil Willey and Terry Bordof-ske could qualify in the 50 free and 100 backstroke events. All for swimmers make up the Steer 400 free and 200 medley relay teams that Smith thinks should finish in the middle of the pack.

The best hopes come in the Lady Steer relay units. The foursomes of senior Mandy Gauer, junior Rita Fleckenstein, junior Carol Davey and sophomore Hartley Newell have steadily lowered their times in recent weeks. Fleckenstein, the school record holder in the 50 free, is a good regional bet in her event while Gauer (50 free), Newell (100 butterfly) and Davey (500 free) are strong competitors in their events.

The diving competition will begin at 6 p.m. at the Permian pool this evening. BSHS divers Joanna Atchley and Lisa Salazar need only make their dives to qualify for regionals. Only six divers are entered in the event.

Saturday's finals begin at 2 p.m. at the Mabee Center. Last year, the Steers finished sixth and Lady Steers eighth. Smith is confident those standings will improve dramatically tomorrow.

Mavs fall to Lakers

DALLAS (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers learned well their painful Reunion Arena lessons.

Stung on last-second shots in two previous visits to the home court of the Dallas Mavericks this season, the defending world champions ran their hosts ragged in a 127-110 National Basketball Association victory.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar took charge from the opening tip, scoring 32 points and yanking down 13 rebounds.

Earvin (Magic) Johnson and Norm Nixon each scored 25 points and Johnson handed out 11 assists.

Dallas was led by Mark Aguirre, who had 22 points, and Jay Vincent and Rolando Blackman, who had 20 points each.

Los Angeles outrebounded Dallas 56-39.

Pistons 113, Rockets 110

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Piston Terry Tyler says there's something about playing the "weaker teams" of the National Basketball Association that produces added problems for Detroit.

The Pistons ended their recent slump — which included losses to Cleveland, San Diego and Indiana — Thursday night with a 113-110 triumph over the Houston Rockets, the league's worst team with only 10 victories in 52 starts.

"Psychologically it seems when we play these weaker teams we just expect to go out and win," said Tyler, who paced the Pistons with 25 points, eight rebounds and four blocked shots. "We lack the intensity to get up for these types of games, which happen to be very important to us."

Wigington lifts Sands to win

SNYDER — Chris Wigington sent the game into overtime and won it in the double extra period with a three-point shot to squeak past Roscoe 59-58 in a practice game here Thursday night.

Wigington sank a 12-point jumper with two seconds left in regulation play to knot the game 56-56. After a scoreless first overtime — where Roscoe missed two opportunities because of turnovers, Wigington completed a 3-point play with 20 seconds to go that lifted his team past Darren Knight's field goal.

Craig Raughton missed a jumper from the corner as time expired.

Wigington finished with 21 points while brother Perry added 19 more more Sands, now 15-12. The Mustangs battle Smyer Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Tahoka in another tune-up game.

JACOBI CRITICALLY INJURED — Race car driver Bruce Jacobi of Indianapolis, Ind., flips his car on the back stretch at the Daytona International Speedway Thursday. Jacobi was taken to the hospital with severe head injuries.

Daytona racer critical

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A week of spectacular and horrifying crashes, the worst of which has left journeyman driver Bruce Jacobi in critical condition with a brain injury, has cast a pall over the preliminaries to Sunday's Daytona 500 stock car race.

Jacobi, a 47-year-old driver from Speedway, Ind., was injured Thursday when his car became airborne as it exited the troublesome second turn at the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway. His Pontiac Grand Prix flew off the racing surface, turned over several times and dug into the rain-soaked infield turf.

The auto's roof was ripped off when it made contact with the ground just five laps into the first of two 125-mile qualifying races for the $1-million Daytona 500.

The accident overshadowed last-lap maneuvers which made winners of Dale Earnhardt and Neil Bonnett in the two 50-lap qualifiers.

Swirling winds, which have played havoc all week with cars entering or exiting the 31-degree banked turns, were a factor in both races and appeared to be a major factor in Thursday's two worst accidents.

"Something was tearing up on Rusty Wallace's car," said Slick Johnson of his involvement in an accident in the second race at virtually the same spot where Jacobi crashed. "His hood blew off and he hit the wall and he came down into me."

The 26-year-old Wallace was hospitalized for observation, but his injuries were limited to a mild concussion and a strained neck.

The problems began Monday with Cale Yarborough wrecking his Chevrolet Monte Carlo SS moments after setting an all-time Daytona lap record of 200.503 mph in time trials. The car had to be withdrawn and that cost him the pole position for Sunday's race.

Unknown leads San Diego field

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Jon Chaffee, a tour longshot who spent last year as an assistant golf pro in Minnesota, was at a career crossroads when he returned for another try last month.

"This is my fifth year," said Chaffee, 27, who lost his qualifying card in 1982. "I had better make the top 125 this year or find something else to do."

Chaffee, currently ranked 150th in money earnings with $827, got the spurt of the confidence he needed Thursday. A 7-under-par 65, one shy of the course record, gave him a one-stroke lead going into today's second round of the $300,000 Isuzu-Andy Williams San Diego Open.

"I did what everyone hopes to do on the North Course — and that's play the par 5 well," said Chaffee, who eagled two of the par 5s and birdied the other two during a bogey-free round.

His first eagle came on the 499-yard 18th hole, where he put a 1-iron within three feet. On the final hole, No. 9, he belted a 3-iron to within 15 feet and sank the putt.

Hawks open today

Throwing a new pitcher each inning, HC dropped 13-8 and 13-4 decisions to UTEP before taking two of five games against New Mexico State. NMSU scored two runs in the final inning to nip the Hawks 6-5 and won the second game 5-3. HC returned to win 9-5 and 7-5 with a 5-4 loss sandwiched between.

"The trip was beneficial in that I know who to play now," said Griffin who has 24 potential starters to choose from. "The important thing is that we played seven games and the kids got some confidence in themselves. And these were NCAA Division I teams. We're all freshman and I think we more than adequately held our own."

The main challenge before Griffin and the Hawks this opening weekend is seeing how far their pitching can go. "I know Wharton is a good outfit," Griffin says, "so I don't want to get blown out of the ballpark because I have no pitching."

Among the hurlers on his staff is BSHS standout Moe Rubio who will probably start Sunday against Wharton. Other pitchers are Brian Robbins (transfer from UTEP), Ben Kohnle (transfer from LCC), Behnsch and Mitchell.

As for the fan turnout for the games, Griffin hopes to see the bleachers packed. No admission will be charged and with the unusually spring-like weather of the past two weeks, Griffin says, "We'll see what kind of baseball fans there are in Big Spring."

Connors gains quarters

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Top-seeded Jimmy Connors, his eye now set on a record sixth title, will take an eighth-seeded Eliot Teltscher today in the quarter-finals of the $315,000 U.S. National Indoor Tennis Championships.

Connors' fifth crown in the world's oldest indoor tennis event came four years ago here at the Racquet Club of Memphis. That tied him with Wylie C. Grant, who won his fifth national title in 1912.

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, FEB. 19, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a good day to look over your surroundings and make plans for improvement. Devise quicker ways to handle chores. Maintain a cheerful manner at all times.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make plans to gain your finest aims. Make certain that you understand exactly what close ties expect of you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You can now develop good ideas for improving your personal and business life. Use tact in handling a communication.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Take time to go over business matters with others for mutual gain. Try to be more understanding of others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Take steps to cooperate more with close ties instead of bucking them and you get good results.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) There is much work ahead of you so waste no time early in the day in accomplishing your tasks. Control your temper.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Stay within your budget if you go out for amusement or you will regret it later. Engage in favorite hobby.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle routine chores early in the day and bring more concord at home. Plan how to add to present income via new interest.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Study your monetary position and figure out a sensible way to improve it. Make needed property repairs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Plan how to improve the quality of your life through idealistic concepts. Make this a most productive day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Making plans early in the day to gain your personal goals is wise. Take it easy tonight and express happiness.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get in touch with fine friends who can help you solve a delicate problem. Take good care of your health.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Plan how to make your future brighter and then visit with friends and have a good time. Strive for happiness.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will find the right philosophy to follow at a comparatively young age and it will last a lifetime. Teach to handle money wisely, and to be more considerate of others. Don't neglect religious training early in life.

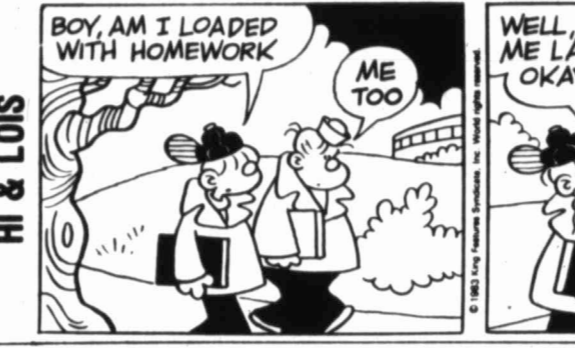

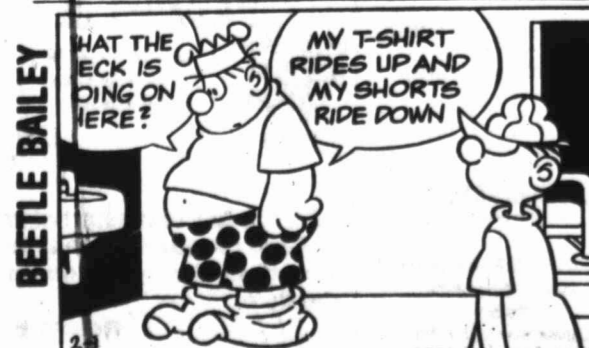

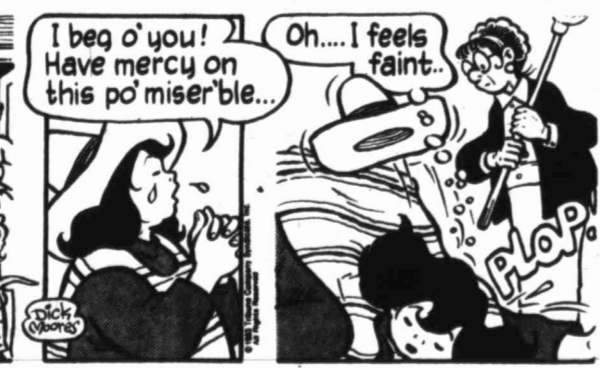

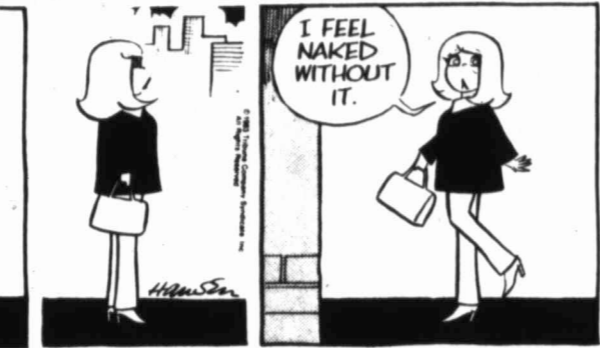

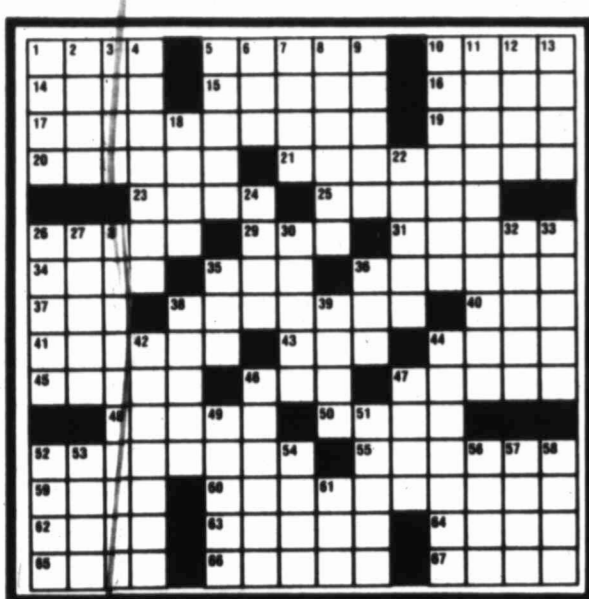

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Season is time for reflections

By CAROL HART
Church Editor

The season of Lent, which began Wednesday, is an annual event observed by Christians, but few people know what the season reflects.

The Rev. William F. Henning, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, explains that Lent "is historically a time of penitential preparation for Easter. It is often a time of fasting. Roman Catholics often give up something for Lent. This is in response to the fact that Jesus gave of himself, he suffered for me."

The Rev. Bernard Guiley, pastor of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, said that "giving up" something during Lent is "A positive type of sacrifice." The Gospel tells of giving alms, praying and fasting, "which is understood to be giving up something as a way of fasting," said Guiley. During the season of Lent Christians focus on "their need on God."

"Lent is a time of reflection — upon why Christ died and what his death meant," Henning said. Henning added that "Lent is a time of forty days, exclusive of Sundays, in remembrance of the forty days that Jesus spent in the wilderness before the beginning of his earthly ministry. It is traditionally a time that the church uses preparing for Easter, preparing to understand what the empty tomb is all about."

The Church "began with Easter, not with Christmas. No one would remember Jesus' birth if not for the empty tomb," Henning said. He added another bit of history, explaining "Christians worship on the first day of the week because that was the day when Jesus' friends went to the tomb and found it empty."

Lent is not observed on Sundays because "You can't be sad on Sunday," Henning said. "On Sundays, we celebrate the Resurrection. Sunday is a day of celebration."

The word Lent is actually an Anglo-Saxon word for spring. "Lent means length," Henning explains. The word reflects the lengthening days of spring. Ash Wednesday, which was observed this Wednesday, marks the beginning of Lent. "In some parts of the church it is a tradition to burn palms from the previous year's Palm Sunday, and use these ashes to mark the forehead (of people in the congregation) with the sign of the cross."

The ash is a mark of penitence. They are used to remind people of the Cross, and how so much joy can turn to burned ashes, Henning said.

"The joyous branches from the year before (Palm Sunday) are wilted, and thrown on the fire, and we mark ourselves with the sign of His suffering," Henning said.

Shrove Tuesday, which was observed last Tuesday, "is the last day of

REV. WILLIAM F. HENNING
...talks about season of Lent celebration" for 40 days, Henning said. Mardi Gras is observed on this day because "it is the last time to party. The whole idea is to 'Let it all hang out, because I'm not going to party again for seven weeks.'"

Easter marks the end of the season of Lent. Easter is a form of the word for "Persian goddess of fertility. The word itself has nothing to do with Christianity."

Easter is set each year "on the first Sunday after the first Monday after the full moon which follows the spring Equinox," Henning said with a smile. Therefore, Easter is a moving date in the Spring, falling sometime in the last week of March to the last week of April.

On Easter, the Church moves out of the season of Lent and into Eastertide.

Rabbi meets with Archbishop

Dr. Josef Zeitin, former rabbi of Odessa's Temple Beth El and chaplain at Webb Air Force and the Veteran's Administration Medical Center in Big Spring, met last week with Archbishop Robert F. Sanchez of Santa Fe, N.M.

Zeitin, currently rabbi of the Jewish community in Rio Rancho, N.M., was active in ecumenical programs during the early 1970s in the Big Spring area and was a visiting lecturer in comparative religion at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin.

In their meeting, Zeitin and Sanchez discussed the rabbi's contact with the National Conference of Catholic Bishops in Washington, D.C., and its section for Catholic-Jewish relations. They also discussed the progress and literature of the ecumenical movement in the archbishop's diocese.

Zeitin presented Sanchez with a copy of "The History of the Jews in Shanghai" which the rabbi wrote for "Jewish Life" in 1973. He also presented the archbishop with a video tape that includes the guidelines of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops of 1975 which the rabbi presented on television in 1976.

Zeitin also discussed the section of his doctoral dissertation dealing with the history of the Catholic press in Mainz, Germany, the rabbi's hometown.

"This meeting certainly contributed to a better understanding of the two religions," Zeitin said.

Holy Land to be discussed

Daniel Malka, an expert on Israel, will talk about the Holy Land during a meeting at 7 p.m. Friday at Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Malka, a graduate of the Hebrew University was a master sergeant in the Israel Defense Force and has been working in communications between the Christian community and Israel for several years. He has been involved as a liaison for the past three years, and had led four groups for the past six years.

He will be discussing passports, weather and sites of interest.

The meeting will be held in the Fellowship Hall of Hillcrest Baptist Church at 3000 F.M. 700.

Church to host car wash

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Church choir will be having a car wash from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at 1000 Hearn St.

All proceeds will go for a trip to St. Louis to the Musician's Pastoral Conference.

Donations will be accepted. Signs will be posted to mark the route to the church.

'Shadow of the Cross'

"The Shadow of the Cross" will be the title of the sermon by Dr. Carl Powers, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene, Sunday. The Sanctuary Choir, directed by Jerry McGuire, will present music for the season of Lent.

Church Women to meet

The board meeting and luncheon for Church Women United will be at noon Feb. 26 in the Salvation Army hall.

World Day of Prayer will be observed March 4 at 10 a.m. at First United Methodist Church. Women of all denominations are invited.

Five service projects

A new film series featuring best-selling author Joyce Lander will be presented by Baptist Temple Church, 400 11th Pl., for the next six Sundays at 8 p.m.

Entitled "The Stubborn Love," the series addresses the problems common to many women trying to balance marriage, career, and children, who are suffering from the conflicting demands on their time and their identities. These films bring hope, self-esteem and encouragement to women and their husband, church officials said.

The six-part series was filmed at one of Mrs. Lander's seminars near Dallas. The films are entitled "Change Points," "You Irregular Person," "Mourning Song," "God's Waiting Room," "His Stubborn Love," and "Tough and Tender."

For more information, call Baptist Temple at 267-6287.

Organist to present recital

The Episcopal Church of St. Mary the Virgin, 1005 Goliad, will present organist M. Keith Ross in a recital of music appropriate to the Lenten season at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Ross came to the community last July for the purpose of developing a music program at the First Presbyterian Church in conjunction with the church's acquisition of a new pipe organ. He directs four singing choirs and two handbell choirs and is the church organist.

A native Houstonian, Ross attended the University of Houston and served as music director of the First Presbyterian Church and Congregation Beth Israel in Houston. He has been heard in recital in Houston and along the Gulf Coast. This will be his third public recital in Big Spring.

Mary Skalicky, organist/choirmaster at St. Mary's, arranged the program. The recital will last just under an hour. The public is invited to attend.

Gospel singer to sing locally

Roger McDuff will appear in concert Sunday from 10 a.m. to noon at the First Assembly of God Church, Fourth and Lancaster.

McDuff has been a singer for many years. He has appeared on programs such as Jimmy Swaggart, Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship International, Good News, the 700 Club, Praise the Lord Club of Charlotte, N.C., and Trinity Broadcasting Network of California. For two years he hosted his own television program called "Roger" at TBN in California.

McDuff has sung with groups such as the Blackwood Brothers, Statesmen, the McDuff Brothers, the Stamps Quartet, Inspirational, and the Speer Family.

The public is invited to McDuff's performance Sunday at 10 a.m.

Singles group to be formed

A new organization is being formed to support people single from divorce, death or never having been married. The group will be non-denominational, and will meet at 3 p.m. Feb. 27 in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Church Chapel.

Mrs. Sandra ... of the Catholic Church of ... will be leading the event. Anyone interested in attending the session is invited.

Prison choir to perform

The choir from the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp will present a concert at the Christian Church, located at ...
