

Texas House adopts proposal to aid young farmers, ranchers

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Texas House members adopted a proposal Wednesday that would give state officials the constitutional authority to finance a $500 million bond program to help young farmers and ranchers. By a 115-28 vote, the House paved the way for a constitutional amendment authorizing the program to be placed before voters in November. The enabling legislation for the program cleared the House April 14 and is in the Senate Committee on Natural Resources. The resolution must be submitted to the Senate for approval. The consent of the governor is not required for the resolution to be enacted. If voters approve the program, the loans could be obtained for 5 percent down payment, meaning a farmer or rancher could obtain the maximum $100,000 loan with a $5,000 down payment. In passing the resolution, bill sponsor Rep. L.P. "Pete" Patterson, D-Brookston, weathered a last-minute challenge from an urban-area representative. Members had already cast their votes when House Speaker Gib Lewis ordered the votes stricken and opponents allowed to speak.

"Really, how much are we going to do for farmers and ranchers and what is going to work?" asked Rep. Bill Ceverha, R-Richardson. Rep. Larry Don Shaw, D-Big Spring, rushed to the defense of Patterson's resolution claiming that low-interest loans for ranchers and farmers were needed to help a "severe situation."

Mail fraud

Scams cost unsuspecting $500 million a year

WATCH OUT FOR SWINDLERS — J.R. Price, inspector with the U.S. Postal Service, recently made a sweep through West Texas warning consumers of mail fraud scams and teaching them how to recognize such frauds. The postal service estimates $500 million is swindled through the mail every year.

Need a job? We'll get you one. Our jobs are easy to obtain and there's no shortage of them. They are easy to hold, in fact, you can hold several of them at once. For the small fee of $5 we'll send you one.

The above sales pitch recently appeared in an advertisement. Those who thought $5 could get them a job, or what they considered a job, were disappointed. The only jobs in this deal were plastic letters 1 inch high and 2 inches long spelling the word J-O-B. Incredible as it may seem, estimates show persons are swindled out of $500 million dollars a year by similar ads. Unsuspecting persons are taken by scams that range from envelope stuffing for extra income to miracle devices that melt away unwanted pounds.

Most of these fraudulent operations are carried out through the mails. A "company" sets up business in a mail box, places a few ads for a non-existent or worthless item, and then waits for the money to come in. After receiving a few easy dollars, the company moves elsewhere, leaving no forwarding address and virtually no recourse for the victim.

The U.S. Postal Service says it is in a constant battle against fraud, checking out shady operations like those described above. In 1982 the U.S. Postal Inspection Service completed 2,867 investigations and obtained 966 convictions.

In spite of its hard work, the service still needs help, seeking assistance from consumers who are made aware of ripoffs and scams. Education about fraud is

Panel okays boost in 118th judge's pay

By BOB CARPENTER
 Staff Writer

A House committee has approved a proposal by Rep. Larry Don Shaw, D-Big Spring, that would allow Howard County officials to supplement the salary of 118th District Court Judge Jim Gregg by more than $8,000. Shaw's aide, Sally Wilson, said that it is common for counties to supplement a judge's pay, but the Legislature must first approve.

According to County Commissioner Bill Crooker, the supplement is used as a feature to help attract and keep qualified judges seated on the bench.

For the first time last year, the commissioners budgeted money to supplement the district judge's salary. County Auditor Jackie Olson said Gregg will draw $8,200 from the county this year if the proposal gets final approval by the Legislature.

The commissioners have also been presented with a recommendation to supplement the district attorney's salary. They have not yet taken action on this request.

Gregg draws $50,900 a year from the state — as do all district judges — in addition to the supplement from the county, according to Vance Tyler of the state comptroller's office.

Gregg serves Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties.

Martin County Judge Bob Davenport said Martin County does not supplement the district judge's salary. Martin County, however, budgets travel money for the district attorney and court reporter.

Officials in Glasscock County could not be reached by phone.

Gregg was in a hearing today and could not be reached for comment.

The bill was referred to the local and consent calendar, which is reserved for unopposed legislation.

SAXY LOOTELLAN CABLE — Bloody Mary, played by high school junior Michelle Bowers, discusses the mysterious island of Bali Hai with Luther Billis (junior Charley Ragan) and Lt. Cable (sophomore Jim Cowan) in a scene from the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "South Pacific." The play will be presented April 22 and 23 at 8 p.m. in the Big Spring High School auditorium.

How to avoid being taken

The U.S. Mail has always been a popular way for con men, hucksters and quacks to advertise miracle gimmicks, cures and instant income.

Although the U.S. Postal Inspection Service devotes a great deal of time and manpower to fighting these swindle schemes, the sheer multitude of scams makes it impossible to completely stop this kind of crime.

According to the inspection service, the best way to fight fraud is to inform the consumer of possible schemes lurking in the U.S. Mail.

Recently, Inspector J.R. Price of Fort Worth was in Big Spring offering tips on how to avoid swindlers preying on basic human interests and weaknesses. Price's tips are part of the U.S. Postal consumer education service's campaign against mail fraud.

Following are several ways to spot fraudulent promoters:

- Examine the offer carefully. If it sounds too good to be true, it often is. Beware of exaggerated claims on profits. Read advertising claims for what they actually say, rather than what you might hope they offer.
- If there are any doubts about a company, check the company out before placing an order. Information on a company's reliability can be checked by making an inquiry with the Better Business Bureau or chamber of commerce.

- Avoid ads that offer a "secret plan" for success or that offer the plan for an amount of money.
- Avoid ads that use buzz words like "quick and easy," "work in the comfort of your home," and "big, fast profits." Odds are the only quick and easy profits made will be by the promoter.
- Steer clear of medical cures and treatments which are effortless, painless and cheap. There are no known reputable products on the market that can burn off fat, reverse the aging process, increase bust size or cure cancer.
- Avoid ads with "testimonials" from persons identified by initials, a snapshot, and a state. Those individuals usually exist only in the mind of the promoter and it is virtually impossible to check the validity of such testimonials.
- Avoid offers that sell name brand merchandise at far less than retail or even wholesale prices. Many times these products are cheap imitations, and in more flagrant cases, the products do not even exist.

Sailing to the South Pacific for an enchanted evening

"On Some Enchanted Evening" Big Springers can travel to the "South Pacific."

Maybe the sand and the sea air won't be there, but the popular musical will be presented Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p.m. by Big Spring High School.

Choir Director Majorie Dodson says the play has everything a good show should contain: humor, suspense, good characters and a love story.

"South Pacific" is set in the Pacific, of course, during the Second World War. The costumes and backdrops for the play were designed and constructed by the cast and crew, according to Mrs. Dodson.

Rehearsals for the complicated musical have covered six weeks, she said.

The cast includes the following: Scott Underwood — Emile; Lesley Overman — Nellie; Michelle Bowers —

Bloody Mary; Charley Ragan — Billis; Jim Cowan — Lt. Cable; Amy Ragan — Liat; and John Paul Anderson — Capt. Brackett.

"They're such a talented group," Mrs. Dodson said. "They learn quick and have fun while learning, too."

Every year the high school performs a musical. Mrs. Dodson said she picked "South Pacific" because it is so much fun to perform.

"I had done it before and it was a lot of fun," Mrs. Dodson said. "I thought these kids should do it since they had never performed it."

Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein composed such musicals as "The King and I," "The Sound of Music" and "Oklahoma" in addition to the popular "South Pacific."

Action/reaction: Cut rates

Q. When will we get the long distance telephone rates like MCI?
A. According to a spokeswoman at MCI in Midland, plans were made a month ago to introduce MCI into Big Spring. However, a hold-up occurred. No new date has been set, but the service is still coming, she said.

Shots fired near British embassy compound

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Two shots were fired near the British Embassy today, sending Marine guards and bystanders diving for cover at the bomb-shattered U.S. Embassy 750 yards away, witnesses said.

"Apparently someone didn't stop at a checkpoint," a secretary at the British Embassy told The Associated Press.

U.S. Marine warrant officer Bill Henderson said the shots were fired at about 11:15 a.m. (4:15 a.m. EST) by soldiers guarding a stretch of coastal highway between the two embassies.

"The Lebanese army was shooting at a speeding vehicle," he said, "and our people reacted to that by deploying combat positions."

This reporter, in an apartment overlooking the U.S. Embassy, saw Marines crouch behind cars and lie flat in the street, pointing their M-16 automatic rifles in all directions.

Henderson said none of the more than 200 Marines posted at the building since Monday's bombing had been hurt.

The U.S. Embassy spokesman's office today put out an updated casualty count that placed the death toll of the bombing at 47, instead of 49 as U.S. Ambassador Robert Dillon said Wednesday. The discrepancy was not explained.

The new count listed 15 Americans as confirmed killed and two other Americans missing and presumed dead. Seventeen Lebanese staffers of the embassy were confirmed dead and 13 others were missing and presumed dead.

Dillon's figures Wednesday listed the Lebanese staff toll at 32 confirmed or presumed dead.

Lebanese Red Cross officials on the scene said nine bodies, five of them American, were excavated from the rubble during the night.

They said the bodies of Deborah M. Hixon, a 30-year-old foreign affairs analyst, and Kenneth E. Haas, a 38-year-old political officer, were recovered about 3 a.m.

Two and one-half hours later, the bodies of James Foley Lewis, 39, a political-military analyst, and his wife Monique, 36, a part-time secretary, were brought out, the officials said.

Also recovered were the body of Phyliss N. Faraci, 44, an administrative specialist at the embassy, and those of three Lebanese and one Egyptian, the officials said.

It could not be determined immediately whether the Egyptian was included in the overall toll or not.

In another development, Lebanese police said today they had released four passers-by detained after the bombing for questioning about what they had seen.

The witnesses did not waver in their testimony that a suicide terrorist wearing a black leather jacket had driven a bomb-laden black pickup truck into the embassy and died in the explosion, police said.

Police also said they released five members of a Moslem scout group attached to the civil defense corps who were called in to verify the testimony of the witnesses.

Police declined to elaborate, saying only that no one was now under arrest or in custody in connection with the bombing.

On Wednesday, Red Cross workers pulled the body of Lance Cpl. Robert V. McMaugh, 21, of Manassas, Va., from the heaps of concrete and masonry at the foot of the devastated embassy building, and draped it with the American flag.

McMaugh, who had been in Lebanon for six months, manned the embassy's "Post No. 1," a bulletproof glass booth near the embassy entrance where visitors registered their names in a log book.

TAKING COVER — U.S. Marines take cover Thursday morning, their automatic rifles at the ready after shots were fired near the American Embassy. The Marines are on guard duty following Monday's bombing at the Embassy. Lebanese army soldiers on the Corniche fired at a speeding car 750 yards from the Marines' position causing them to react. No one was injured in the incident.

PLANE GROUNDED — A Soviet-built Ilyushin cargo plane of Libya's Jamahiriya Air Transport sits grounded under guard on the runway Wednesday in the Brazilian Amazon jungle. Four Libyan planes were grounded in northern Brazil on suspicion they were ferrying arms to Nicaragua and were unloaded and inspected by Brazilian officials, the government said Wednesday.

Mystery surrounds Libyan planes' cargo

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The weapons bound for Nicaragua on four Libyan planes seized by Brazilian authorities may have been manufactured in Brazil, a leading Rio newspaper reported today.

The Jornal do Brasil also quoted the navy minister, Adm. Maximiano da Fonseca, as saying, "I don't know what the cargo is, but (Libyan leader Col. Moammar) Khadafy has sold our arms to many countries."

Khadafy said Wednesday in Tripoli that the four planes were loaded with weapons for the leftist Sandinista regime in Nicaragua, adding he regretted any problems caused to Brazil.

In a statement reported by the official Libyan news agency JANA, Khadafy expressed regret for the incident and blamed the "insincerity" of an unnamed Libyan civil aviation official "who failed to inform the friendly Brazilian authorities of the entire contents of the cargo."

A Brazilian Foreign Ministry source said that when requesting permission on April 12 to make a future "technical stopover" in northern Brazil, Libya claimed the four aircraft carried "ambulances, hospital equipment and medical supplies."

Brazilian President Joao Figueiredo's press spokesman Carlos Atila said authorities will examine the cargo on Friday and "if any war material is found, it will be impounded." He said Libya would be asked to send a representative to the inspection.

Atila said the planes would be allowed to leave Brazil after the examination, which was delayed until Friday because today is a national holiday. It honors a revolutionary hero who unsuccessfully tried to overthrow Portuguese colonial rule and was hanged in 1792.

In Washington, the State Department said the arms discovered aboard the planes offer new proof of Libya's "deep involvement" with the Sandinista government.

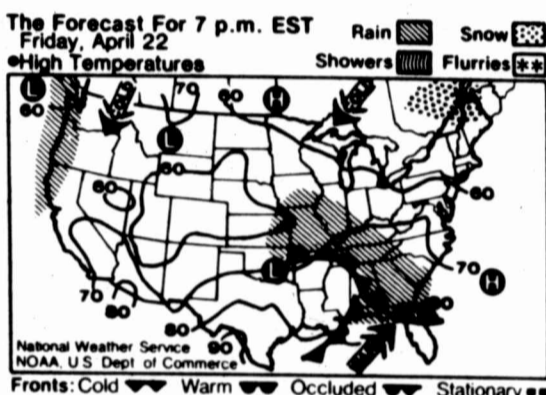

"This report of clandestine arms shipments is yet another indication of Libyan support for the Sandinistas' arms buildup and their destabilization activities against their neighbors in Central America," the department's statement said.

Nicaragua is trying to put down insurgents who are believed to be receiving U.S. arms and other American support. The Reagan administration has accused the Sandinistas of supplying arms to leftist guerrillas in El Salvador.

The Jornal do Brasil, citing a military source who requested anonymity, said the weapons aboard the planes might have come from Brazil in the first place. There was speculation the government was trying to avoid a diplomatic incident so as not to interfere with its weapons sales, which are helping to pay off a $90 billion foreign debt.

The privately owned AJB news agency said Wednesday a diplomatic incident could wreck negotiations between the Brazilian government-controlled airplane company Embraer and Libya for the sale of 150 Tucano trainers.

Attorney: tape was reason Wolf got life

BROWNSVILLE, Texas (AP) — An attorney for a man convicted of murdering a Rio Grande Valley schoolteacher says a tape recording made by the victim's fiancée was the only reason jurors sentenced his client to life in prison.

Paul Wolf, 21, of La Feria, was found guilty Wednesday of the murder of Leticia Castro, 26, a fourth-grade teacher in Pharr.

The seven woman, five man State District Court jury deliberated about 80 minutes before returning the verdict and another 20 minutes before sentencing Wolf to life in prison and fining him $10,000.

The sentence was the maximum possible in the case.

Wolf's attorney, James Mardis of Harlingen, said the key evidence against his client was the so-called "murder tape" made unwittingly by Miss Castro's fiancée, Billy Staton, as he was being bludgeoned by Wolf the same night.

The testimony of a man who confessed to helping Wolf kill Miss Castro and Staton "didn't have hardly anything to do with the outcome of the case," Mardis said.

Wolf "would have had a very good chance" of being acquitted had it not been

PAUL WOLF ... sentenced to life for the tape recording," Mardis said after the trial. He said the jury ordered life imprisonment because of the "horrible sounds" on the tape.

"It's not something the jury could ignore" despite testimony that Wolf had been a peaceful law-abiding citizen all his life, Mardis said.

Wolf pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to the slaying, saying he killed Miss Castro and Staton in a sudden uncontrollable act of violence over seeing the child he called his own cry.

Cameron County District Attorney Rey Cantu, however, convinced the jury that Wolf had planned to ambush Staton and Miss Castro using Staton's daughter as "bait."

Cantu said Wolf and his wife, Sherry, killed the pair because they were tired of fighting with Staton in and out of court over visitation rights he had been granted to see his daughter, Melanie, who was 2½ when the slayings occurred.

Staton was formerly married to Sherry Wolf and is Melanie's father.

Three mental health professionals testified during the 6½-day trial that Wolf was unable to handle the stress caused by Melanie's screams over having to visit her natural father.

Melanie's psychologist, Bert Levine of McAllen, testified the child suffered "severe panic reactions" when she was with Staton or his parents. He said he advised the Wolfs to keep the child away from her father.

Court-appointed psychiatrist Joel Kutnick of Corpus Christi testified Wednesday that Wolf was sane when he killed Staton and Miss Castro.

Staton had concealed a mini-cassette recorder under his shirt hoping to demonstrate in court that the Wolf's displayed animosity toward him over his visitation rights.

Instead, he recorded his own slaying on a tape Cantu called "23 minutes of murder."

RRC sets 100 percent oil allowable

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — The Railroad Commission has again set the statewide monthly oil allowable at 100 percent of potential.

The maximum allowable for May applies to all but 10 fields, including the East Texas Field, which was restricted to 86 percent of potential to avoid possible waste.

The allowable has been at 100 percent virtually every month since April 1972. Commission Chairman Mack Wallace said purchaser requests for Texas crude oil in May totaled 2,473,449 barrels a day, an increase of 14,069 barrels daily from April.

Wallace also reported that crude oil and petroleum products imported into the United States averaged 3,441,000 barrels daily for the four weeks ending April 1, down 1.1 million barrels a day from the same period last year.

Here are major buyers' requests for Texas oil in May, in barrels per day, with any changes from April in parentheses:

- Amoco 171,000 (down 2,000)
- Arco 125,000 (down 500)
- Cities Service 74,000

ALOHA FROM HAWAII — Barbara Carr of Big Spring enjoyed the beauty of Honolulu's Diamond Head Mountain during her recent five-day Avon trip to Hawaii. She earned the trip through a sales challenge by her company.

Spoons had their role in courtship

In the 18th century, when a young man wished to propose marriage, he carved an ornate wooden spoon for his intended, the woman with whom he most wished to "spoon." So says Mrs. F. C. Tibbs in her program "Spoons — Stirring Collections" during the recent Modern Women's Forum meeting in the home of Mrs. Curtis Hill.

If the woman accepted his offering, Mrs. Tibbs said, the engagement was official. From this custom, collectors have derived the term "spooning," meaning a love for and pursuit of their hobby.

Spoons were among the earliest tools fashioned by neolithic man. Along the coasts, primitive tribes used shells, while their inland relations used utensils made of wood. The word, "spoon" is derived from Old English "spon," meaning a splinter of wood.

Since the time of the building of the Pyramis spoons have been crafted from all materials and in every shape and decoration devised by man.

The club sent a donation to the Buffalo Trail Boy Scout Council for its Boy Scout Camp.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. H.M. Rowe Friday.

Family considers itself company, not a crowd

DEAR ABBY: We have a mildly retarded 17-year-old son. (I'll call him "Bill.") We can't leave him alone (especially at night) except for short periods, and he is too old for a "sitter," so we take him with us wherever we go. Bill is friendly, well-mannered, neatly groomed, and he's not a source of awkwardness or embarrassment to anyone.

Our problem: When we are invited to a dinner at someone's house, is it all right to call the hostess and ask if Bill may be included? After all, he's not a small child — he's almost an adult. Sometimes the hostess is a stranger — for example, when we're invited to a wedding and don't know the bride's family.

Most folks, when they learn the situations, are happy to include our son, but occasionally they don't want an extra person. How can we tactfully find out if Bill is welcome?

I might add, if we can't bring Bill, we won't go either.

BILL'S PARENTS: You say your mildly retarded 17-year-old son can't be left home alone, yet he is too old for a sitter. If he can't be left home alone, regardless of his age, he needs a sitter, and you should make provisions for one rather than take him everywhere with you.

When you call your hostess whom you hardly know and "explain the circumstances," whether she wants an extra person or not, she will find it almost impossible to exclude your son. That's not fair to her.

I know you mean the best for Bill, but he needs a social life of his own, and by denying him one, you are further handicapping him.

Rather than refusing all invitations that do not include Bill, please consider helping him build a life of his own. He will not always have you around to look after him.

DEAR ABBY: To make a long story short, my sister has dumped Tammy, her 3-year-old child, on our mother, and it has us all upset — especially Dad.

It started out when Sis asked Mom if she could leave Tammy overnight, then for the weekend, and now she's living at Mom's full time. Sis drops in to see her now and then.

Poor Mom is exhausted and has no time for anything else. (She has two other grandchildren.) We feel that Mom and Dad raised their family, and they shouldn't have to raise a grandchild.

We think Sis should face up to her responsibilities as a mother, but she's living it up and having fun instead. Meanwhile, Mom is raising the little girl. Mom knows she being taken advantage of, but she doesn't say anything to Sis because she's afraid Sis will dump the kid on someone else, then Mom wouldn't know how her granddaughter was being treated.

Is there any solution? Maybe Mom would listen to advice from you.

END OF OUR ROPE

DEAR END: Your sister appears unwilling to raise her 3-year-old daughter. Your mother appears unwilling to allow the child to be raised by anyone else. Unless that double deadlock can be broken by appeal and reason, Tammy will be raised by your grandmother.

Leslie Norman feted at two bridal showers

Leslie Norman, bride-elect of Tim Newton, was honored at two bridal showers April 7 and 16.

Miss Norman was honored April 7 with a shower at Prairie View Baptist Church. Hostesses were Mmes. Robert Harrison, Donald Long, E.M. Newton, Bob Nichols, Dois Ray, Alden Ryan, Gary Stallings, Raymond Stallings and Delmer Turner.

Guests were served from a table covered with a white linen cloth with white lace and centered with a peach and brown floral arrangement. The couple's mothers also were presented corsages.

The bride-elect was honored with a miscellaneous shower in the Fellowship Hall of East Fourth Street Baptist Church April 16.

The honoree, her mother, younger sister and grandmothers greeted guests. Peach and brown carnation corsages were presented to the honoree, her mother and sister.

Dr. Donohue

Infant croup shouldn't be ignored

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Will you please describe "croup" in youngsters and what can be done to relieve the breathing difficulty it brings? We have what I guess you'd call a "croupy baby" who's almost 3. We have had to help him with a couple of attacks — Mrs. R.W.

Spasmodic croup is a problem of infants and babies. It's an episode of harsh coughing that almost always occurs at night. The sound is like that of a barking seal. One reason it is so common among infants and young babies is that the structures at the backs of their throats are particularly sensitive to irritations that cause swellings there. Such swellings bring difficulty in breathing, causing the raspy cough. It is a problem that usually responds readily to steaming — for example, exposure to steam from running hot water into a bathtub.

I do not want to leave the subject at this point, however. It is vital to distinguish the croupy kind of breathing problem from other kinds that have other causes. If there is drooling or if there is a blue tinge to the lips, you are not dealing with croup, but with a more serious obstruction. An infection of the epiglottis is an example of what I mean, and that requires immediate hospital attention.

Furthermore, any episode of breathing difficulty in a young baby has to be treated with proper respect. Often, ingestion of a small foreign object can produce the same kind of symptoms as croup. If you suspect simple croup and if measures such as those mentioned above (steaming) or cold-air vaporizing do not help in a reasonably short time, the child should be seen promptly, especially if other symptoms (like the blue lips) are present.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: In your booklet on spine and back problems you refer briefly to "renal colic" as a cause of back symptoms. Please comment further on this, causes, etc. — P.T.

Colic means paroxysmal and abdominal pain due to spasm, obstruction or stretching of one of the body's "hollow" organs. In infants, colic occurs because of spasm of their intestinal tract, which is such an organ. The word colic refers to acute abdominal pain, with special reference to the colon (large intestine).

Renal colic is colic that arises in the kidney or the tube draining the kidney, both hollow organs for our purposes. Pain is felt in the spinal region because the kidneys are located on each side of the back, about a hand's breadth above the beltline.

Conditions leading to renal colic include stones and infection, and treatment depends, of course, on the precise cause. A small stone may pass by itself, or it may have to be removed by the doctor. Infections require antibiotics.

I have to expand on a statement I made earlier. I said colic means paroxysmal pain. Actually, renal colic is a misnomer, because the pain that occurs with kidney problems is most often of the steady type, not paroxysmal. The booklet "Backache and Spine Problems" is available to readers by writing me care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents. You can snip out this item and slip it inside the booklet as a kind of unofficial addendum to the text.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Electric device gives pigeons the buzz-off

MILAN, Italy (AP) — An inventive electrician who rigged up low-voltage wiring is winning the years-long battle against pigeons that had been dirtying and damaging this city's 600-year-old Gothic cathedral.

Chemicals, sticky substances and loudspeakers emitting frightening noises either failed to keep away the estimated 5,000 birds or their use was blocked by animal welfare groups.

Officials even tried in vain to reduce the pigeon population by mixing contraceptive pills with food bait.

Then electrician Ettore Galliani, 48, devised a network of stainless steel wires carrying moderate electric impulses.

"There is no doubt that the electric wires have proved the winning move against the pigeons," said engineer Carlo Ferrari da Passano.

Ferrari da Passano heads the Fabbrica del Duomo, which is in charge of preserving and renovating the giant cathedral, or Duomo, in downtown Milan. Galliani is the electrician at the Fabbrica.

"The pigeon droppings were actually destroying statues and spires of the cathedral. We had to develop a successful device at any cost," Ferrari da Passano told The Associated Press. He did not disclose the cost.

He said Galliani placed the wires "in an artistic way" so they are hardly noticeable by tourists and passersby admiring the cathedral's 135 spires and 3,200 statues. Construction on the Duomo was started in 1386.

A few weeks ago, the anti-pigeon wiring was completed on three-quarters of the Duomo. Work continues on the final quarter.

Galliani says pigeons, like most birds, are reluctant to leave the place where they nested after birth.

"They always tend to return to the native place. But they are also very sensitive to any disturbing effect. The network of wires and the electric impulses prevented their nesting and have definitely driven them away," he explained.

The pigeons, once accustomed to nesting and resting in niches on the cathedral's outer walls, quickly learned to stay clear.

They still flock into the large Duomo Square during the day to get food from tourists who like to be photographed with birds around them and the cathedral in the background.

But other buildings, neighboring the Duomo, have become their shelter for the night.

Galliani, the inventive electrician, already is thinking of offering his new method as a way of chasing the pigeons from other historic downtown sites.

He has begun installing the anti-pigeon device at the nearby San Fedele church.

Workfare gets House approval

AUSTIN (AP) — A proposal to put welfare recipients to work in a two-year pilot project was called "demeaning and dehumanizing" by one opponent but has been tentatively approved by the House 101-45.

Rep. Gerald Geistweidt, R-Mason, the bill's sponsor, said in floor debate Wednesday that the program would involve 2 to 5 percent of the state's recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

Numerous amendments by opponents of the bill were tabled by wide margins, as was an attempt to postpone the measure.

Rep. Larry Evans, D-Houston, called the program "slavery" and Rep. Ron Wilson, D-Houston, said the required participation by targeted welfare recipients made it "demeaning and dehumanizing."

An amendment to make the program voluntary was tabled.

Under the proposal, welfare recipients would spend up to two months in a job-training program conducted by a participating employer. During that time, the trainee would receive only the $105 per month AFDC payment, plus subsidized child and health care.

The training would be followed by four months of subsidized job experience, and then, it is hoped, full employment of the welfare recipient.

Geistweidt said $1 million in AFDC funds would be diverted to the program and be used to subsidize child care, health care and the trainee's salary during the four-month work experience stage.

Geistweidt said he feared his colleagues didn't trust him.

"I think you think it's just Geistweidt the old redneck up here doing my normal thing," he said.

Rep. Lloyd Criss, D-LaMarque, offered an amendment that would prohibit the program from operating in areas of high unemployment, but the amendment was rejected.

Develops New Wrinkle Cream

By RICHARD MORRELL
Feature Writer

(Special). It's an exciting story of an Oregon pharmacist who developed a wrinkle cream which all of the Northwest has clamored for... and which soon the rest of the country may receive in limited quantities.

Robert Heldfond, a Portland pharmacist, developer of many national products, used knowledge from pharmacy school and years of experience to compound Formula EB5 wrinkle cream, which has produced dramatic results in symptoms of aging skin.

Women started besieging Mr. Heldfond's pharmacy when the word got around about its wonderful results in helping women look younger. The phones never stopped ringing and letters poured in, praising the results with Formula EB5 wrinkle cream.

Users reported... "I wish I had some before and after pictures so I could really show the difference..." "Thank you for helping an older woman look younger..." "My husband says I look years younger, I never want to be without EB5..." "My skin feels soft and velvety, almost shines..." and even, "It made a difference in my life."

Formula EB5 contains natural ingredients, including Li Progen*, collagen and Lipo-protein, plus Vitamins E and B5, and other fine aids to

Because of the unique method of compounding it, Pharmacist Heldfond was able to produce Formula EB5 only in small quantities, but now production is allowing limited quantities in other areas. If your skin is aging too fast, try in your area to find Formula EB5.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, APR. 22, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This could be a day of arguments and much tensions coming into the open unless you make a point to maintain self-control. The poise you display can impress others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Ask questions of an associate and then you will know better what is expected of you. A private matter can be resolved now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make certain you know the motive behind a favor a friend wants to bestow upon you. A social affair could be costly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Carry through with what a higher-up expects of you instead of being obstinate. Safeguard your reputation tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be sure to handle important business matters before engaging in social activities. Show that you have wisdom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Keep friends and advisers apart today and avoid trouble. You have latent talents that should be put to work.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Contact higher-ups and gain the support you need. Show kindness with one who offends instead of becoming vengeful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It's important that you carry through with regular routines today instead of going on a foolish fun spree.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't jeopardize your security by spending lavishly for entertainment. Save your money instead and invest it wisely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't join an argument between a family tie and a friend at this time. Streamline your social activities.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although you may be provoked, don't argue with a co-worker who happens to be out of sorts at this time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Find a more practical system for operating in the days ahead. Listen to what a successful friend has to suggest.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Try to get at the bottom of an unpleasant situation at home and establish more harmony. Strive for increased happiness.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be inclined to get in arguments and with little accomplished, so tend to get at underlying causes of trouble. Make sure your progeny develops the right philosophy of life. Don't neglect ethical training.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Walkers sign up for March of Dimes benefit Saturday

Registration for next Saturday's March of Dimes WalkAmerica/Teamwalk continues as the list of volunteer walkers for the event grows daily.

Dorene Zilberg, executive director of the March of Dimes Caprock Chapter, said city employees, local politicians and celebrities, and area businesses have joined the list of participants for the charity event.

Registration forms may be picked up at local 7-Eleven stores and Big Spring Athletics, Inc.

The Big Spring High School Band will herald the start of the walk at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Big Spring Mall. The Federal Prison Camp band will welcome the marchers completing the 10-mile route back at the mall.

Howard College cheerleaders will be on hand to cheer on the walkers while BSHS cheerleaders distribute balloons, caps and buttons.

The "Presidential Classics" of Howard College will carry the WalkAmerica banner, and symbolic walkers will lead the teams and individual volunteers during the opening stage of the march.

The symbolic walkers are Sen. John Montford, Rep. Larry Don Shaw, Mayor Clyde Angel, County Judge Milton Kirby, Woman of the Year Jane Thomas, Johnny Lou Avery, Miss TEEN Felecia Ford, Barbara Holdampf and directors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

A limousine provided by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home will return the symbolic walkers to the mall.

Poop-out trucks, provided by Highland Pontiac Datsun, will patrol the route of the march for those unable to complete the 10-mile stretch. In addition, paramedics from Howard College will man the five checkpoints where National Guard members will provide equipment and water services. At two 7-Eleven store checkpoints, vouchers will be distributed for free drinks.

The heartier walkers who finish the walk will be given a free Whopper by Burger King.

Walkers will raise money through the event by soliciting donations from sponsors. Prizes will be awarded to marchers based on the amount of donations received.

Persons who bring in $100 or in pledges will receive a WalkAmerica T-shirt, a Grogg thermal mug.

A walker with $75 or more in donations will receive a free meal from Burger King for every month of one year.

A donation total of $50 or more will bring the volunteer a free movie pass from Jack Lewis Buick & Cadillac.

In addition, Grogg T-shirt and John Schneider iron-on decals and thank you letters will be handed out.

At all five checkpoints WalkAmerica certificates will be given those who have checked in.

Other prizes include two Magnavox radios for the oldest and youngest participants and a month's supply of Enfamil for the first mother of a new baby to check in.

Two "Battered Boot" trophies will be awarded to the person and team who has given the most support to the campaign.

And anyone interested is eligible to win a free vacation to Orlando, Fla., on American Airlines from Places and Pleasures Travel Agency of Big Spring.

Joining the walk will be representatives from City Hall, the city garage, the parks and housing departments, the sanitation department and the fire and police departments.

Businesses and other organizations which have registered for the walk include Beall's Department Store, radio stations KWKI and KKIK, the Big Spring State Hospital, Burger King, Citizens Federal Credit Union, Coors of Midland, Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., Cowper Clinic and Hospital, the First National Bank and Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital and Clinic.

Other organizations participating are Highland Pontiac Datsun, KBYG radio station, Malone and Hogan Clinic, Malone-Hogan Hospital, Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, the J.C. Penney Co., the Security State Bank, the Southland Corp. (national sponsor), the National Guard, the State National Bank, Trinity Memorial Funeral Home and the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp.

C-City cheerleaders chosen

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Colorado High School cheerleaders for the 1983-1984 school year were chosen this week by Angelo State Cheerleaders.

Senior student Robyn Turner will be head cheerleader. Juniors Traci Blackwell, Stacy Free and Denise Gregory and sophomores Yvonne Luman and Carmen Longley completed the roster.

Laura Baum returns for a second year as "Sluefoot," the Colorado City High mascot.

"We've set a precedent with cheerleading at CHS," said sponsor Kitten Arthur. "We have a young group this year, but it's a very talented group and I'm sure our past excellence will carry over in our new squad."

C-City regulates alcohol sales

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Colorado City Council last week approved an ordinance which will regulate the sale of alcoholic beverages within the city limits. Voters in Mitchell County Precinct 3, which takes in part of Colorado City, recently approved the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption. "We have adopted the provision in our code wherein the city states that no place that sells alcoholic beverages can be located within 300 feet of a church, public school or public hospital," City Attorney Pete McKinney said.

Lamesa's Teague holds Pecos

PECOS — Steve Teague struck out six, scored a run and drove in a run to lead the Lamesa Tors to a 9-7 victory over Pecos Friday afternoon. The Tors capitalized on five Pecos errors to go into an 8-2 lead in the top of the fourth. Lamesa committed four errors in the game. Pecos came back with three runs in the bottom of the fourth and two runs in the bottom of the sixth to narrow the score to 9-7, but Teague held them off in the last inning.

Library begins Monday hours

Quietly and unassuming, without fanfare, the Howard County library opened today for its first Monday. In celebration of National Library Week, the staff held a brief ceremony on the library steps to signify the new hours.

As Head Librarian Judith Gray replaced the old sign with a new one showing the Monday hours, the staff and a small crowd applauded. Mrs. Gray said the public had been demanding the Monday opening for some time.

"This has been a long time in coming," Mrs. Gray said. "We finally were able to get the money in the budget to do it."

Mrs. Gray invited everyone to attend Friday's Silver Tea and Open House at the library from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Suspect arrested for marijuana

Police say they arrested Nieves Garcia Jr., 29, of 1209 Utah last night on suspicion of possessing marijuana and drug paraphernalia and of public intoxication.

Garcia was arrested outside 1305 Utah where police had received a report of a fight in progress. When police approached the suspect, who was sitting in a car, he placed what police suspect to be marijuana underneath the car seat, police said.

Police reports also show the following: A 30-year-old woman, suffering numerous facial injuries, told police last night that people she knows assaulted her on her front lawn. She drove herself to 1609 Sycamore and reported the assault to police. The police report says she refused medical treatment, although she had a black eye, a cut lip and a lump on her head.

Andrya Glaser Underwood, 23, of 1413 Sycamore was arrested last night on suspicion of driving while license suspended.

Jack Wilson of Southwest Energy Distributors, Inc. at 201 N. Benton told police someone cut the chain on the door Saturday night and stole several wrenches from the business.

Edward Schlegel of 3900 Parkway told police a person he knows tried to run over him with a motor vehicle Saturday night while he was standing in his front yard.

Adam Valencia of 600 N.E. 10th told police a black male fired a shotgun at the Ford pickup truck he was driving Saturday night along the 1100 block of N.W. Seventh. The gunfire hit the pickup's left rear side window.

Esequiel Flores, 27, of 2115 Warren was arrested last night on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Police arrested Wayne Everett Henry, 27, of 106 Lockhart last night on suspicion of driving while intoxicated after he lost control of the car he was driving and struck the side of the bridge on North Benton street.

2 Odessans injured in one-car accident

Two Odessa residents were injured Sunday in a one-car accident on Interstate 20, according to the Department of Public Safety. Trooper Dean Richardson said 47-year-old James T. Morgan was passing another vehicle on the right west of Big Spring when his vehicle struck the railroad bridge commonly known as "Chicken Bridge."

One passenger, Anita M. Kelley, 17, was also hospitalized with Morgan. Both are in satisfactory condition, according to a hospital spokeswoman. Two other passengers, John Doyle Elledge, 25, and Robin J. Smith, 17, were not injured.

Richardson said charges are expected to be brought against the driver.

Jerry Wallace Harvill of Caldwell was arrested by Bryan law enforcement officials in connection with two Howard County warrants for theft of service and issuance of bad checks. Harvill posted $6,000 bonds to be released.

Kevin Jay Patterson, 23, of 1501 A Wood remains in Howard County jail after sheriff's deputies arrested him Friday on two county warrants of driving while intoxicated and driving while license suspended. County Judge Milton Kirby refused bond for Patterson.

Two persons remain in county jail under $10,000 bond each after their arrest by police earlier this week for suspicion of theft over $200. Donald Ray Jenkins, 33, and Alvin Andrew Jenkins, 39, both of Lamesa, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lewis Helfin.

James Edward Scott, 43, of Amarillo is in county jail under $5,000 bond after his arrest by police for suspicion of injury to a child. Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt set bond at $5,000.

George R. Mulvihill, 50, of San Antonio posted two bonds of $200 each in connection with charges of no drivers license and no insurance.

Terry Kinsey, 23, of Sterling City Route posted $500 bond to be released after his arrest by police on a warrant of theft by checks. Bond was set by Daratt.

Howard 2nd in livestock judging

An all-female livestock judging team from Ector County took first place at the First Annual Howard County Livestock Judging Competition Saturday, edging out the all-male Howard County team by eight points.
 A total of 273 4-H and FFA students from across the state competed in the livestock judging event that featured 53 teams in the swine, sheep and beef divisions and 12 teams in the horse competition.
 Jennifer Oman, Dawn Mitchell, Michele Lee and Lucy Childer from Ector County amassed 1,243 points in overall judging to capture top team honors.

The Howard County team of Kevin Hamlin, Blair Richardson, Cole Hunt and Jamie Phillips tallied 1,235 to place second in, team judging.
 Miss Oman was top individual with Danny Millican from Coke County placing second. Phillips grabbed third place honors while Kneel Stalling from Howard County took fifth in individual totals.
 The purpose of the livestock judging competition is to instill understanding of slaughter and breeding animals, Howard County Extension Agent Dennie Poole says. The students learn how to grade animals for quality foodstuff and breeding capabilities, he said.

 "The 39 awards are just an added incentive," Poole said. "The evaluation of an overall livestock program is more important."
 Student judges are given 12 minutes to evaluate four animals on a 1-2-3-4 basis, Poole said.
 The judging event was sponsored by the Howard County Extension Service, 4-H and the Howard County Adult Leaders Association. Extension Agents Don Richardson and Peggy Kalina were also involved in the contest.

HOW FAR ARE WE WALKING AGAIN? — That's 10 miles folks, but it is for a good cause. The 1983 March of Dimes WalkAmerica will be held this Saturday in Big Spring. Getting their legs ready for the pledge

Mariah places 4th among high schools

Scores high in national competition

DAYTON, Ohio — Mariah faced its toughest competition ever Saturday and ranked fourth among 25 high schools in Winter Guard International competition.

The Big Spring High School color guard finished in 23rd place overall, according to Bill Bradley, one of the unit's directors.

Fifty guards were entered in the Open Class competition — which includes older, more experienced independent units. Of that, only the top 15 can compete in today's national finals.

Mariah scored 72.88 points out of a possible 100.

"That's the highest we've ever achieved in WGI contests," he said Saturday night. The units were not able to hear judges comments on the performance until later Saturday night.

"I think they (Mariah) did a really fine job. I was very pleased. Big Spring can be very proud," he said.

The 18-member unit substantially defeated their Rocky Mountain Royale rivals — the Regiment Royale of Denver, Colo — who finished slightly ahead of Mariah in an earlier contest. Regiment Royale scored 67.033 Saturday.

"It felt really good to beat them that much," Bradley said.

Of the high schools, only two — Canandaigua Academy and Marcus Whitman, both of New York — made it into today's finals. Another New York school, Jamestown Express, finished third ahead of Mariah.

Bradley said one of the best guards, the independent Connecticut Skylarks, scored 94 points.

"To be in anything national and to be actually in the same room with the best — it's exciting and a little scary," he said.

Bradley said the unit would watch today's finals before leaving for Texas in the afternoon. They are scheduled to arrive at Midland Regional Airport at 11:06 p.m. on American Airlines.

Mariah has been Texas champion for the last two years. The unit's other directors are Tracy Burch, Bonnie Anderson and Steve Waggoner.

Ackerly aiming for health

By MIKE DOWNEY
Staff Writer

ACKERLY — Balloons, blood and better health tips were some of the things at the Ackerly Health Fair Saturday. More than 80 persons participated in the all-day fair that featured 16 booths and services at the Sands High School Gymnasium.

Health Fair Chairwoman Patty Schuelke said one purpose of the fair was to show what charities offered instead of the usual fundraising effort. The past fairs had just featured a blood drive, but the event expanded to include a wider range of activities, she said.

"We wanted to make the public more aware of the health services available in the area," Mrs. Schuelke said.

The Big Spring State Hospital, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, the March of Dimes, the Rainbow Project and the American Heart Association were passing out information in Ackerly. Blood pressure tests, CPR training, dietary tips and other health-related items were also presented.

A clown passed out balloons from a Big Spring pharmacy to several little children.

GIVING BLOOD'S NOT SO BAD — Doug Blagrave of Ackerly discovers donating blood is not as painful as he first thought at the Ackerly Health Fair Saturday. He advertises for more donors with a bumper sticker admonishing people not to be "chicken" and give blood. A record number of donors contributed blood at the blood drive yesterday, according to fair officials. See related story, page 2-A
