Legislators fail to update fund distribution plans

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Several Big Spring-area school districts may lose thousands of dollars in state minimum aid and be forced to hike local taxes or cut programs after state legislators failed to update the formula for distributing those funds.

The Big Spring Independent School District would lose an estimated $367,700 over the 1984-85 fiscal year, according to preliminary figures.

Almost half of the Texas school districts could miss out on $111 million in state funds earmarked to keep their state aid from sinking below previous funding levels.

A list of other affected districts in this area follows below. The list and is based on a preliminary computer analysis by the Texas Education Agency. Districts most affected by the failure to update the formula are those whose tax bases have increased.

AFFECTED SCHOOLS in the Big Spring area and the amount they could lose include:

Dawson ISD, $13,000; Sands ISD, $11,700; Glasscock ISD, $120,400; Coahoma ISD, $121,600; Forsan ISD, $122,200; Stanton ISD, $19,700; Grady ISD, $74,900; Colorado ISD, $29,400; and Westbrook ISD, $61,400.

A parliamentary maneuver on the next to the last day of the session kept legislators from changing the formula. Since the regular legislative session has closed, the subject has been mentioned as a possible topic for a special session. But House Speaker Gib Lewis has called the unspent funds a good cushion for the state in case of economic turbulence.

Johnny Veselka, representing the Texas Association of School Administrators, said districts that will lose state aid will have to turn to the local property tax base to offset the loss or cut programs. "With the 8 percent limitation (on increasing the effective tax rate) that could trigger a rollback election, the problem becomes even more significant," he said.

Education Commissioner Raymon Bynum said the minimum aid program is designed to keep the local districts from dipping further into their own tax bases when their property values increase.

He said that many school district officials will be upset to hear the news about minimum aid. The Texas Education Agency is reviewing the impact of recent legislative action on school finance and will release the

Jobless rate down again

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's civilian unemployment rate edged down to 10.1 percent in May, the third consecutive monthly decline, as 99,000 people found jobs in an improving labor market, the government reported today.

The number of people officially listed as unemployed fell by 136,000, from 11,328,000 to 11,192,000, the Labor Department said.

The civilian jobless rate was 0.1 percentage point below the April level and was the best monthly job market showing since the nation registered a 9.9 percent unemployment rate last August.

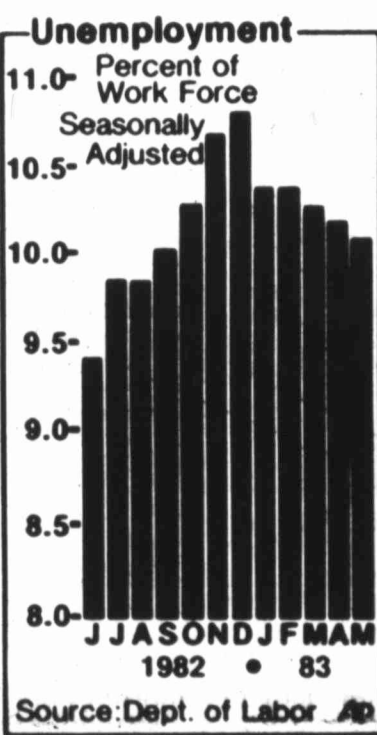

At the White House, Martin Feldstein, the chairman of the presidential Council of Economic Advisers, called the new figures "the first broad indicator of economic activity in May" and said they show "that May was another month of solid recovery."

Speaker of the House Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., however, said he still was disheartened by the unemployment rate.

"This is a rich man's economy out there," O'Neill, D-Mass., told reporters. "The rich are getting richer and the poor are suffering."

Since the depth of the 1981-82 recession, when joblessness reached 10.8 percent and more than 12 million people were out of work in December, the seasonally adjusted civilian rate has dropped gradually, by 0.7 percentage point.

See JOBLESS, page 2-A

State rate falls

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' unemployment rate dropped one-tenth of a percent during May to 8 percent of the work force, the Texas Employment Commission said today.

"The decline is slight but it is encouraging to see it continue," said James Barnes, labor market analyst. "The decline also reflected continued improvement in the labor force although there was a slight increase in those entering the labor market."

Barnes said the June figures likely would reflect the expected large numbers of college and high school graduates looking for jobs.

The TEC figures show a total of 7,469,400 in the labor force with 6,873,300 total employed. There were 596,100 unemployed.

23 die in midair plane fire

Three Texans killed; Odessa man injured

CINCINNATI (AP) — A pilot managed to land his burning Air Canada DC-9 despite blinding smoke in the cockpit, but 23 of the 46 people aboard died in the fire within a minute after the plane touched down, authorities said today.

The fire, which apparently started in a rear lavatory, charred the plane's interior and burned the fuselage. Rescue workers found bodies strapped in seats and in the aisles, some burned beyond recognition.

Smoke filled the plane while it was in the air and after it landed fire surged through the cabin "like lighting a fuse on a firecracker," said passenger Roy Grubbs, 52, of Waxahachie, Texas.

But survivors said there was no panic, no screaming.

An East Texas couple was killed and an Odessa man was among those injured.

Among those killed was television manufacturer Curtis Mathis Jr., a Canadian resident returning home after a business trip.

Eighteen other people were taken to hospitals after the plane, Flight 797 from Dallas-Fort Worth to Toronto, landed at Greater Cincinnati International Airport in northern Kentucky at 7:19 p.m. Thursday, 13 minutes after the pilot had reported the fire to air traffic controllers. Sixteen passengers remained at two in fair condition and 14 in guarded condition.

Jack Barry, assistant director of airport operations, said at a news conference today that all the victims died within one minute after

The plane caught fire en route from Dallas-Fort Worth to Toronto. 23 people have died.

Dallas' Curtis Mathis among dead

DALLAS (AP) — An East Texas couple and the chairman of a Texas-based television manufacturing company were among the 23 people killed when fire broke out on an Air Canada flight bound from Dallas-Fort Worth to Toronto.

The Texas couple killed in the fire was identified as Mr. and Mrs. Cranfill H. Cox Jr. of Gilmer. Cranfill owned a Dairy Queen in the East Texas town.

Also killed was Curtis Mathis Co., relatives said. At least seven Texans were injured.

A DeSoto woman who survived the blaze said the fire started in the rear of the DC-9 near a bathroom and filled ed the cabin with choking smoke.

Connie Kirsch, who was treated for smoke inhalation at a hospital near the Greater Cincinnati Airport Thursday night, told her husband by telephone that she was one of the first passengers moved away from the fire on Flight 797.

"She was sitting in the back and she said the smoke started coming from the back of the plane so they moved her to the second row from the front," said Rick Kirsch.

"She told me that the smoke was coming from the rear. Someone went back and opened the door to the rear. Someone went back and opened the door to the rear. Someone went back and opened the door to the rear."

Red Cross going broke; local campaign launched

By CAROL DANIEL
Staff Writer

A tornado twists through Big Spring, shattering homes and wrecking normal life. Dozens need the basics just to survive: food, clothing, shelter.

Where do the people look for help? The American National Red Cross.

But what if that century-old succor can't afford to provide their needs?

That supposition is close to a possibility. Red Cross representatives say their disaster funds are depleted after spending more than $33 million to aid more than a million disaster victims in the past 10 months. They expect to spend much more as a potentially heavy disaster period looms on the horizon, including Texas hurricane season.

Thus the organization launched a nationwide campaign last month to raise money for the Red Cross disaster relief fund. Their goal is to collect $12,000,000.

Louise Nuckolls of Big Spring, a disaster relief volunteer, says the local Howard-Glasscock County Chapter's quota to help reach that goal is $1,400.

Red Cross is supported entirely by voluntary contributions. Although Congress mandates that the Red Cross aid disaster victims, the government does not assist in the funding.

"We always tell the people — sometimes they almost bow to you — we tell them it comes from the American people," Mrs. Nuckolls said.

Red Cross emptied its disaster relief fund this year because weather pattern changes have launched storms, floods, mud slides and tornadoes all over the country, and an earthquake shook California.

"We've had plenty (disasters), but it's just beginning," said Mrs.

Nuckolls, disaster chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter. "Hurricane season began officially this (Wednesday) morning. You don't ever want to think about it happening, but it has happened before. We don't try to outguess Mother Nature, we just try to deal with it."

Red Cross operated at 26 major disasters sites in the past 10 months, spending more than a $1 million each in eight of them and about $5 million each in two others.

In Texas there have been eight tornadoes, five storms, four floods, an explosion and 206 fires since July 1, 1983, the start of the Red Cross fiscal year.

Mrs. Nuckolls, who calls herself a "volunteer person," helped in her first disaster relief program 13 months ago at Wichita Falls after a tornado and flood devastated that city.

"I'd rather not see devastation," she said. "They've lost everything but their birthday suit practically. After working a 10 to 14 hour day you just want to crawl into your hotel room and get off by yourself."

"I've seen them cry," she continued. "I'm going to say that without a doubt I've seen some of the biggest bunch of faith. Their house is four feet under water, the

Three drown in rescue try at Abilene lake

ABILENE (AP) — Two men and a woman drowned at Lake Fort Phantom Hill in a futile attempt to rescue each other from a strong undertow, authorities said.

The bodies of Charles Powell, 33, Benny Flores Jr., 20, and Teresa Quinette Woodard, 25, all of Abilene, were recovered by 7 p.m. Thursday after an hour of dragging operations, officials said.

The lake is located at Johnson Park, north of this West Texas city.

The tragedy began about 5 p.m. when Ms. Woodard and her 9-year-old son, Charles Anthony, moved into deep water and were unable to swim back to shore, said Abilene Police Sgt. Roger Dickey.

"We were led to believe the two men went in to help the boy and the female," Dickey said.

A lake lifeguard managed to rescue the boy, but was unaware that Ms. Woodard also was drowning, police said.

Powell raced into the water in an attempt to save the woman, but also was pulled underwater, said Officer Mike Dawkins.

Flores and some other people formed a human chain to reach the couple, with Flores on the end, but the chain broke and Flores and Powell went under together, witnesses said.

The boy was revived and was taken from the scene by family members, officials said.

The undesignated swimming area was known to have a "strong, bad undertow" and a steep drop-off a few feet from the shore, Dickey said.

Officer Curtis Jones of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department said the drowning scene was about 100 yards south of the designated swimming area.

"There is a designated swimming area here, but basically people can swim anywhere they want to in the lake," Jones said.

Four boats were used in recovery operations. Powell's body was found at 6:35 p.m., and 15 minutes later Flores' body was recovered. Ms. Woodard was pulled out of the lake shortly after 7 p.m.

Lake officials said the deaths Thursday were the most who had drowned at a single time in the lake's 44-year history.

Panhandle without phones

AMARILLO (AP) — Several thousand persons in 13 Texas Panhandle communities remained without full telephone service today after a utility crew hit a buried line, a Southwestern Bell spokesman said.

The outage occurred after Southwestern Public Service Co. crewmen digging a hole for a utility pole struck two buried cables Thursday in southwestern Amarillo, said Bell community relations manager Gary Stevens.

Each of the cables was about four inches thick, Stevens said. They were buried about two feet deep. He said that phone service was partially restored by 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Communities affected were Happy, Gurley, Canyon, Westway, Sharp, Milo Center, Parmer, Hub, Bovina, Friona, Hereford, Umbarger and Dawn.

"One of our crews was digging to set a pole on Soncy Road and hit a cable," utility company spokesman Larry Milner said.

Legless Sandhill crane dies

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Bonaparte, the feisty sandhill crane who lost his legs in a coyote trap but walked again with the aid of plastic limbs, has died of a heart attack.

The crane's death ended what officials said was a "milestone" effort to fit prosthetic legs onto the amputated limbs of the bird.

"I'm totally bewildered. This morning, he was out in the back yard doing his mating call, and now he's dead," said Debbie McCreeless, who had taken care of the male bird for several weeks since its fitting with the artificial legs.

An autopsy conducted by Dr. Richard A. Schafer, a Corpus Christi veterinarian, showed that a rupture in a pulmonary artery of the 1- to 3-year-old bird sent blood into both its lungs.

Galveston gambles on vote

GALVESTON (AP) — Citizens who hope to bring gambling back to Galveston won a victory when City Council members voted 6-1 to submit the idea to a straw poll.

About 70 people attended a meeting Thursday at which the council decided to let the community voice its opinion on legalizing gambling. No date was set for the non-binding referendum, except that council members agreed it should be held before April.

State Sen. Chet Brooks, D-Pasadena, has said a group of businessmen have encouraged him to back legislation which would make gambling legal on the island.

"We ask them, 'Are you going back?' 'Yeah, we have to,' they say, 'that's our home.' A lot of them were elderly people who have no other place to go. They may live on a river and may see it happen all over again, but it's the only home they have."

Two days after she returned from Wichita Falls, a hail storm ravaged homes in the Sand Springs area. About $6,000 from the national disaster relief fund purchased aid for those families.

Mrs. Nuckolls also went to St. Louis and Grafton, Mo., for 16 days last December to help flood victims.

She was asked to go to Baton Rouge last month, but family illnesses kept her here.

"I hated to turn them down, I really did," Mrs. Nuckolls said. "I imagine I'll end up going to Houston before it's all over."

Why does she volunteer for the Red Cross, from which she gets no salary?

"Gosh, I hope someone would say they would help someone when they need it," Mrs. Nuckolls said. "I think it's kind of what I'm supposed to do. I always thought I'd never make a good nurse, but I find myself not cringing too much. All we do is help all we can."

Mrs. Nuckolls said she doesn't know how Howard and Glasscock County residents will respond to Red Cross's plea for contributions.

"We depend more on volunteers than anything else and it's getting more so," she said. "Economic conditions have restructured things. That's probably why people don't have as much and can't give as much as they would like."

"I hope they do respond," she added. "I sure hope they do; it has to come from somewhere. If you help, you're doing something."

Contributions to the Red Cross will be sent by the local chapter directly to Washington for the disaster relief fund. Mail donations to: American Red Cross, Howard/Glasscock Chapter, P.O. Box 1970, Big Spring, 79720. Checks should be earmarked "disaster relief fund."

Jobless

Today's figures show that, over that period of time, the total number of Americans with jobs has swelled by more than 500,000, from 99.1 million to 99.6 million.

When the Bureau of Labor Statistics combined the civilian labor force figures with those for the approximately 1.66 million military personnel stationed in the United States, the overall unemployment rate also fell slightly, from 10.1 percent to 10.0 percent.

Private economists said in advance of today's report that they expect civilian unemployment to decline only gradually, but steadily, as businesses await stronger signals of a lasting recovery before hiring in substantial numbers.

Despite the increasing signs of recovery — the government's composite Index of Leading Indicators rose by a healthy 1.1 percent in April — the civilian labor force actually fell by 37,000 in May, to 110.7 million.

landing. He credited the five-member crew for "getting off all those people who got off."

"When you have this, you have only a few seconds to get out," he said. "I don't know why some got out and some didn't."

In Washington, Federal Aviation Administration spokesman Fred Farrar said the fire apparently started in a lavatory. The exact cause was unclear.

Air Canada officials don't know what started the fire or where it started, airline spokesman Ted Morris said at a news conference today.

He also said airline officials don't know whether the victims died while the plane was in the air or after it landed, adding, "That's what the coroner is going to have to tell us."

Morris said the plane had been equipped within the past year with "the most modern of interiors" and that Air Canada had never had a fire on one of its jetliners.

An Air Canada spokesman, Dave Pember, said he had "no reason to expect anything untoward" about the cause of the fire.

Audrey Ruttan, 39, of Midland, Ont., escaped onto a wing after the plane landed and smoke filled the cabin. "There was no panic. There was absolutely nothing. Nobody screamed or yelled. There were no cries. It was just dead calm."

"I went out on the wing, out one of the exits," she said. "You couldn't see where you were going — you could feel air."

Among the victims was folksinger Stan Rogers, 33, of Dundas, Ont. National Transportation Safety Board investigators were sent to the airport to examine the charred aircraft, a DC-9 model 30 capable of carrying 101 passengers. Barry said the FBI also would be involved in the inquiry, because it routinely investigates air disasters.

Officials declined to immediately identify the jet's crew, but said they all got out alive. Barry said the clothing of one of the pilots caught fire.

Most of the damage was to the middle of the plane, which was "completely gutted," said Jim Lanagan.

Police Beat

Businesses report vandal strikes

Several Big Spring businesses were vandalized Wednesday night by unknown persons throwing rocks through windows, according to police reports.

Rosie Stapp, an employee of the Salvation Army, reported to police that between 5 p.m. Wednesday and 9 a.m. Thursday someone broke the plate-glass window of the SA's thrift store at 503 N. Lamesa.

An employee of Park Oil Co. at 303 E. First reported someone broke eight windows in the business sometime Wednesday.

David Gomez, owner of Pilly's Beauty Center at 601 N. Lamesa, told police someone threw a large piece of asphalt through the front door of the business between 12:30 p.m. Wednesday and 8 p.m. Thursday.

Police reports estimated the damage done by the vandals to be about $600.

Police reports also showed the following:

• Bert Hilliger, an employee of Bob Brock Ford at 500 W. Fourth, told police that between 5 p.m. Wednesday and 8 a.m. Thursday unknown persons broke the right-side vent windows on two pickup trucks and stole their radio-cassette players.

• An employee of the Space Station in the Highland Mall reported to police that someone had burled the business sometime Wednesday taking $287 in cash and damaging a cash register and several video games.

• An employee of Powell and Surratt Grain Co. at 403 E. First complained to police that someone stole 226 feet of wire from the business between 6:30 p.m. Wednesday and 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

• Jimmie Daniels of 2201 Alabama told police that an unknown person had stolen a bicycle worth $100 from his home between 6 p.m. Wednesday and 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

Sheriff's Log

Woman arrested on warrant

Howard County sheriff's deputies arrested Carlene Coleman, 28, of Fort Worth in connection with a Tarrant County warrant for revocation of probation. Ms. Coleman remains in county jail without bond.

• Manuel P. Arteaga, 25, no address listed, is in county jail after his transfer from police custody. Arteaga was arrested for suspicion of armed robbery. Bond was denied by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

• A traffic accident on Interstate Highway 20 yesterday afternoon between a tractor and a pickup resulted in no major injuries. Clay Adams of Big Spring was traveling east on the highway west of Big Spring when the tractor he was driving was hit from behind by another vehicle.

Henry Lee of San Antonio had apparently fallen asleep and ran into the tractor, according to a Martin County Department of Public Safety trooper. Although the tractor rolled over once, no injuries were reported. The tractor is owned by Harry Middleton.

• A 10-speed bicycle that fell off a vehicle traveling on Third Street north of the Howard County courthouse at 5 p.m. yesterday can be recovered by the owner if he contacts the sheriff's office and identifies the bike.

• Sheriff's deputies arrested Jay F. Morren, 25, of 120 Air Base Road in connection with a county warrant for issuance of bad checks. Morren posted $200 bond set by Heflin.

• A grass fire was reported on Kyle Road in the Tubbs addition at 1:55 p.m. yesterday. Volunteer fireman Paul Roy was dispatched to the scene in the Silver Heels fire truck.

• A car on fire near the old Howard County Airport was extinguished by the Sand Springs fire department at 4:13 p.m.

final figures to the school districts in about two weeks, he said.

THE STATE minimum aid fund has been criticized for favoring the "haves" rather than the "have-nots." One legislator said if the Legislature had opted to hand out the minimum aid, the action could have provoked a lawsuit challenging the 8-year-old program as discriminatory.

As the law now stands, the formula is based on the 1980-81 school year. If the base year had been changed to 1982-83 as the Texas Education Agency expected, Texas schools would have received an additional $111 million in state minimum aid as opposed to the $9 million they will receive if the formula isn't recalculated, Bynum said. Texas school districts are expected to take $44 million in minimum aid in the 1982-83 fiscal years, Bynum said.

Veselka said, "the number of school districts affected is significant. We're talking about in excess of 40 percent of the school districts in the state" or about 500 school districts.

"Superintendents across the state feel it is extremely important we address the funding issues in a special session and do it as quickly as possible so we can prepare for the coming school year," he said.

Other issues that need to be addressed include a teacher pay increase and other facets of school finance, he said.

John and the smoke really started coming out," he said. "She said someone tried to put it out with one of those fire extinguishers."

About 18 people suffered smoke inhalation and other minor injuries.

Flight 797, carrying 41 passengers and five crew members, was en route from Dallas-Fort Worth to Toronto when the fire began, said Federal Aviation Administration spokesman Dennis Feldman in Washington.

The non-stop flight left on time at 4:15 p.m. but was forced to make an emergency landing in Cincinnati, said Ron Waters, district manager for Air Canada at the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Kirsch said his wife, who had originally wanted to sit in a forward seat, escaped through a door near the front of the aircraft.

"She said they couldn't bring down the oxygen masks because of the fire. People started panicking, but she didn't and that's how she got out I think," Kirsch said.

Kirsch said he initially believed his wife had escaped from the rear of the plane and that most of the casualties had been towards the front, but he learned in a later phone call that his wife had been one of the first to move forward.

"I took her to the airport and put her on the plane. She almost sat in the front but decided to sit in the back," said Kirsch.

"I'm just going through hell still even though I know she's all right," Kirsch said. "My mind's just swirling."

Waters said Air Canada established a "family room" at a D-FW terminal for relatives of those aboard Flight 797, although no relatives arrived at the airport. Air Canada officials were urging anxious friends and family members to stay home near telephones.

Waters said a list of the dead would not be released until all relatives had been notified.

Other Texans injured in the accident were Randy Morris and Lisa Ehrlich, 28, of Denton; Roy Grubbs, 52, of Waxahachie; Harry Mosely, 42, of Dallas; Dianne Fadley, 24, of Garland, and Gerald Regan, 54, of Odessa.

3 children die in school shooting spree

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — A man waving a pistol in each hand burst into a classroom today and sprayed it with gunfire, killing three children, a teacher and a policeman who tried to stop him, police said. The gunman then took his own life.

Officials said 13 others were wounded in the 20-minute shooting spree, and radio reports said two of them were in critical condition. The dead children were about 12 years old.

Panic-stricken parents rushed to the school in a northwest suburb to look for their children, while the wounded were taken to hospitals in ambulances and helicopters, police said. About 30 children suffering from shock were taken to hospitals or their homes in a Red Cross bus.

Police spokesman Kurt Kraus said the gunman, who was not immediately identified, burst into the classroom and fired about 40 rounds from two guns at the students and their teacher, 35-year-old Hans Peter Schmidt.

Hearing the gunfire, Gisbert Beck, a 45-year-old police officer who had directed traffic outside the school for several years, rushed into the second-floor classroom and was shot down by the killer, Kraus said.

The gunman, who was about 30 years old, then killed himself, Kraus said. The motive for the attack was not known.

Police said they found seven bullet clips on the floor of the classroom, some of them still containing live rounds. It was not known what type of weapons the gunman used.

As the shots rang out, "we at first thought it was some silliness in a classroom," said Irene Thomas, deputy principal of Freiherr von Stein public school in the suburb of Eppstein-Vockenhausen. "Suddenly there was a dull thud."

Janitor Erich Weigl, whose office is directly under the classroom, said he heard the shots as he was returning from an errand.

"I grabbed the keys for several classrooms, ran to the schoolyard, threw the keys (through open windows) to children in three classrooms and shouted: 'Lock yourselves in, lock yourselves in!'"

Just before the shooting, Beck and another officer had been giving a traffic safety lecture in the schoolyard, police said, changing earlier reports that Beck already was in the classroom when the shooting started.

Kraus also said at first that the gunman had been killed in a shootout with police, but later said his information had proved to be incorrect.

Police said the other officer in the yard with Beck followed him into the school and found the dead and injured in the classroom.

Weather

Fog covers Southeast Texas

Moist, southeasterly winds brought low clouds and fog to Southeast Texas before dawn today. Skies were air to partly cloudy over the rest of the state. Temperatures were mostly in the 50s and 60s, except for readings in the 70s in the southeast.

A weak cold front dipped just south of Amarillo and turned Panhandle winds to northwesterly at around 10 mph.

The forecast called for fair to partly cloudy skies with warm afternoon and mild nights through Saturday. Some scattered showers and thunderstorms were possible in the late afternoon and early evening hours.

TODAY AND SATURDAY
West Texas — Fair to partly cloudy through Saturday. Highs 82 Panhandle to 102 Big Bend. Lows 52 Panhandle to 68 south. Highs Saturday 82 Panhandle with 90s to near 100 elsewhere.

Mudslide cleanup begins

More floods on way, Utah residents told

Although northern Utah residents have begun the soggy job of cleaning up after massive mudslides and floods caused an estimated $200 million in damage, officials warned people near Salt Lake City to "be prepared," because the worst is yet to come.

Meanwhile, the threat of dangerous flooding subsided slightly Thursday in Colorado, but rivers threatened to spill over their banks today in the western and northeastern parts of the state. Federal officials said water levels are "probably the worst ... in 40 years" in Nevada.

Hydrologists from the National Weather Service called a news conference Thursday in Washington to warn residents of other Western states — notably California, Nevada, New Mexico and Nebraska — to be ready for similar flooding from a record snowpack that is up to three times the normal depth for this time of year in the Sierra Nevada.

Federal officials in Nevada braced for what they believe may be the highest water levels on Lake Mead since Hoover Dam was completed on the Colorado River nearly a half-century ago. On Thursday, the lake was just nine feet below the dam's massive spillways, which have only carried water once — in a 1941 test.

Snowpack in the Wasatch Mountains to the east worries Salt Lake City officials, Holzworth said. At Brighton, a ski resort community about 25 miles southeast of Salt Lake City, 32 inches of snow has yet to melt.

"It's normally dry up there this time of year," said Terry Holzworth, flood control director in Salt Lake County. "If it heats up, the flooding could be down on us in a hurry."

"I don't want to scare anyone, but we need to be prepared, very prepared," Holzworth said.

Several Salt Lake City arterials already have been turned into sandbag-lined, makeshift rivers to carry mountain runoff. And more streets could be turned into sandbag rivers later this month when the swollen Big and Little Cottonwood creeks, Mill Creek and the Jordan River are expected to wash over their banks.

The threat of mudslides appeared to have lessened for several northern Utah communities Thursday as weary residents took advantage of cooler weather to clean mud and water from their homes.

An evacuation notice for 1,000 Bountiful residents ended at 1 p.m. Thursday, although most of the evacuees had trudged back to their homes by late the previous day.

FLOOD PREVENTION — Volunteers in Bountiful, Utah, place sandbags in hopes of preventing further damage from flooding Thursday. In other areas, the cleanup continues.

Controversy sparked at NCPAC rally

HOUSTON (AP) — The main hero scheduled to speak at a conservative rally, "American Heroes for Reagan," was unable to appear but said afterward he was angered that a Texas Republican leader suggested the government should not support disabled veterans.

Roy Benavidez, a Congressional Medal of Honor winner, said a doctor's appointment forced him to cancel his speech at the National Conservative Political Action Committee rally Thursday night.

Benavidez, reached by phone at his El Campo home, reacted with anger to George Strake's suggestion that the government should not pay the support of American disabled veterans.

Strake, the chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee, suggested that individuals and private charities might be a better source of financial aid.

"Maybe the government per se should not take care of even its Medal of Honor winners," Strake said. "We as individuals can take care of the Roy Benavidezes of the world."

Rich ranchers blamed for quarantine scare

OLMITO, Texas (AP) — The battle against a brucellosis testing program in Texas breeder cattle is being waged by wealthy, proud ranchers who are out of touch with today's cattle business, says rancher Bud Wentz.

"You're talking about third- and fourth-generation ranchers with a lot of money and a lot of land and it's all paid for, and they've got a lot of gas and a lot of oil to make a living with," Wentz said.

"Nothing makes the cattle business better than having an oil derrick to shade them in, I promise you that," he said.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has issued an order prohibiting the interstate shipment of breeder cattle from Texas, but U.S. District Judge James Nowlin of Austin temporarily halted the quarantine.

Habib, ambassadors to meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. special envoy Philip Habib and several American ambassadors to the Middle East will meet here next week to review peace efforts in the troubled region, according to a high-ranking State Department official.

Nicholas Veliotos, the assistant secretary of state for Near East and South Asian Affairs, also told a congressional panel Thursday that the administration's peace process was "at a pause."

Habib was expected to return to the United States next Thursday from the Middle East, where he had attempted to mobilize Arab pressure to get Syria to withdraw from Lebanon.

Israeli Radio reported that Habib had little success in his mission.

Testifying before the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Europe and the Middle East, Veliotos was asked about U.S. attempts to get Syrian cooperation on the withdrawal of all foreign troops from Lebanon. He was also asked for a progress report on President Reagan's initiative for an Arab-Israeli peace settlement.

"With regards to the formal peace process, we are at a pause," he said. But he added that he did not believe that meant "we are admitting defeat ... these things take time."

He said the recent agreement between Israel and Lebanon for the withdrawal of forces from southern Lebanon "is a major step toward peace and national reintegration for Lebanon, and we hope, toward a wider process of reconciliation in the region ... it is therefore vital that Syria and the PLO also agree to withdraw their forces soon."

Dear Abby

Dirty laundry

DEAR ABBY: Guess what my husband brought me for Mother's Day? His mother's dirty laundry for me to do!

Her certainly lacks imagination, because that's what I get for Christmas, Easter and every Sunday. LESS THAN THRILLED IN TUCSON

DEAR ABBY: The Saturday before Mother's Day my husband handed me a $20 bill and said, "Honey, please buy yourself something for Mother's Day. I never know what to get you." He never knows what to get his own mother for Mother's Day, either, but a week ago, he handed me a $30 bill and asked me to buy his mother a Mother's Day gift.

So, what's the difference between a wife and a mother?

USED TO IT IN JERSEY DEAR USED TO IT: I'd say the difference was $30.

DEAR ABBY: It's nothing new when daughters disappoint their mothers, but how's this for a switch? I invited my mother to have dinner with me on Mother's Day and she accepted. (Mom's divorced.)

The Friday before Mother's Day she called me and said, "I hope you won't be angry, but my 'boyfriend' invited me to fly to Las Vegas with him for the weekend, so I won't be able to keep our dinner date on Sunday."

Care to comment? DENVER DAUGHTER DEAR DAUGHTER: What's to say? I hope your mother hit a jackpot.

DEAR ABBY: I had the most wonderful Mother's Day I've ever had. Instead of having all my children and grandchildren to my house for the usual Sunday dinner, they bought me a corsage and took me to a fancy restaurant. I didn't have to cook or clean up and I felt like queen for a day.

MARYLAND MAMMA DEAR ABBY: Mother's Day is no joy to me. My only son lives in the same city, but all year long I am ignored. Then on Mother's

Day he sends me a plant with a card saying he "loves" me. This is love? SAD IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR ABBY: I took a page out of your book. Whenever some nosy person asks me what my husband gave me for Mother's Day, I say, "He gave me the kids. And on Father's Day, I give 'em back." BURLINGAME GAME PLAYER

DEAR ABBY: Whoever said, "A son is a son 'til he takes a wife, but a daughter is a daughter all of her life," hit the nail on the head.

Ever since my son married, he has gone to his wife's mother to spend Mother's Day with his in-laws.

My daughter is also married, but she saves every Mother's Day for me. Mother's Day to me is bittersweet.

HALF-HAPPY IN CHERRY HILL, N.Y.

DEAR HALF: How do you think the mother of your son-in-law feels?

Dr. Donohue

Parkinson's drugs need monitoring

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My husband has Parkinson's disease and is being treated with levodopa. He is improved. How long will he have to take this medicine? Should he be checked periodically (he is now) to see whether he needs a lighter or heavier dose of the drug? Does one ever have to stop the medicine? — Mrs. F.J.

Your husband will take the drug for as long as his doctor continues to note the same positive results. That answer is not as simplistic as it may sound to you. After beginning the medicine, usually in lower doses, the patient is watched. The doctor wants to adjust dosage to arrive at the optimum level, the one that will control symptoms without producing undesired effects. The majority of Parkinson's patients do respond positively to the medicine you mention.

However, some may experience undesired effects and may have to take other medicine to counter them. And, after years of use, the levodopa may begin to have less of an effect on the illness. The dosage may have to be altered, or an alternative medicine given. So in order to gain maximum long-range control, your husband should definitely continue to have his periodic examinations.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have heard about the drugs being used for curing bed-wetting in children. If it works for children, why wouldn't it work for us older folks (70s) with the similar problem? Is it ever tried? — Mrs. E.E.

The medicine you are speaking of is Imipramine. Its effect is to inhibit contractions of the urinary bladder's muscles in cases where bladder spasm is involved in incontinence. In some, such spasm activity can overcome the natural resistance of the lower muscles (urethra) and cause incontinence.

Yes, the medicine has been used for older patients with this background to their problem. But there are so many other possible causes for incontinence in the young or old that only a complete examination will determine whether such medicine will help any individual patient regardless of age.

Annette Cregar feted at shower

Annette Cregar, bride-elect of Ricky Godfrey, was honored with a shower in the Fellowship Hall of Forsan Baptist Church, May 5.

Hosting were Mmes. Lanell Evans, Bobby Evans, John Wilson, Jon Hope, Oscar Booker, Leon Ward, George White, James Salvato, Roger Hudgins, Jack Clinkscales, Joe Hollingshead, Doug Parker, Derrell Baggett, Terry Sims and John Gustin.

Cregar of Tucumcari, N.M., the prospective bridegroom's mother Mrs. Charles Godfrey, and his grandmother Mrs. L.E. Hamlin. Also attending was the prospective bridegroom's sister Kim Godfrey.

Guests were served from a table draped with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of silk peach flowers in a white vase. The arrangement, an enameled set of cookware and a ceramic canister set were presented to the honoree.

Corsages were presented to the honoree, her mother Mrs. W.R. Cregar, her grandmothers Mrs. W.T. McRee and Mrs. Jack

The couple will be married June 18 at Forsan Baptist Church.

A NEW CITIZEN — A reception was held Wednesday at Big Spring State Hospital for Ms. Shirin Chinoy, an employee, in recognition of her becoming a naturalized United States citizen May 24. Ms. Chinoy, a native of India, has worked toward obtaining her citizenship for more than five years. She has been employed at BSSH as a social work supervisor on the admissions unit since April, 1980.

Shower honors Miss Limon

A miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Sandra Limon, bride-elect of Jody Ybarra, was held today at Jack and Jill School.

Hosting the shower were Delia Billalba, Pinkie Billalba, Vivian Marin, Frances Flores and Olga Billalba. The hostesses presented her with a canister set.

Special guests attending the shower were the bride-elect's mother Virginia Limon and the prospective bridegroom's mother Beatrice Ybarra.

Guests were served from a table centered with peach and white carnations. The couple will be married Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Garcia. Justice of the Peace Bob West will officiate.

Extension members visit two museums

A trip to the Petroleum Museum in Midland, Presidential Museum in Odessa highlighted the City Extension Homemakers Club meeting May 27.

The club also had lunch and shopped in Odessa. "Many had not ever been to either museum and it was a fun thing and very educational too," Jowili Etchison said. Mrs. Etchison is the club's reporter. "There are many educational places to go to and see in our own area so we do not have to make long trips to learn and enjoy our county."

The next meeting will be held Sept. 9.

Containers can be duplicated

Many plastic containers on sale at the dime store can be duplicated for free at home using leftover food and cleaning-supply containers.

For the record

Teresa White's senior piano recital will be Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at First Baptist Church Chapel, instead of Saturday as printed earlier in Herald. The Herald regrets the error.

Pistol-packing widow forced to leave home

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A pistol-packing 93-year-old widow has been evicted from her home of 75 years because she owed $410 in back taxes, authorities say.

Knox County sheriff's deputies on Wednesday evicted Louise Mormon from the house, which was sold at a court-ordered auction in 1978 because she hadn't paid county property taxes.

"I didn't think they could do anything, but look what they've done," Mrs. Mormon said Wednesday as she watched movers break two legs of her large antique table to get it out the front door.

Furniture and belongings from the eight-room house were stacked in a weed patch across the street.

"They (the movers) think it's funny," she said. "But it's not funny to me. They broke my spirit. I'm afraid if I close my eyes I'll die. I bet I'll see both my (deceased) husbands if I go to sleep."

Mrs. Mormon, who lives on a $240 monthly Social Security pension, lost her home because she owed $410 in back taxes. A Morristown man bought the house at court-ordered auction in 1978 for $690.

"I didn't think I was supposed to pay county taxes," the woman said. "Whenever time came to pay city taxes I paid them."

Mrs. Mormon threatened the movers, hired by the house's new owner. Deputies took a .38-caliber pistol from the woman's purse, Deputy Benny Walker said.

George Allen, the woman's lawyer since Tuesday, said she appears to have no legal recourse. He said the woman spent Wednesday night with friends, and social workers are trying to find her an apartment in a public housing complex.

Allen said Sidney Renert of Morristown bought the house in 1978, but apparently didn't try to remove Mrs. Mormon until last month.

An eviction order was

Luke Skywalker, R2D2 evacuated in Utah

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Among those evacuated because of flooding in Utah were R2D2, Luke Skywalker and a number of other visitors from a galaxy far, far away.

Officials said they would shift the movie "Return of the Jedi" from the Centre Theater in downtown Salt Lake City to the Regency Theater in the city's foothills, effective Friday.

Patrons have been having a hard time getting to the theater to see "Jedi," the much anticipated final chapter in the "Star Wars" trilogy, since a sandbag canal was built to divert Cl-

Tri-State Boxing Tourney

NOT A POUND TOO MUCH — Howard County boxer Marcos Garza, right, weighs in Friday morning for the Region IX Tri-State Boxing Tournament. The Big Spring boxer will fight in the 80-pound class of the junior division. Checking his weight is coach J.V. Martinez.

First bouts scheduled tonight

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

"Laaadeeeees and geennnllllmmnnnn...in this corner...wearingggggg the look of determination...representing the Howard County Boxing Club...waaaaaayggggg one hundred and six pound...zzzzzz...Jaaaaameeeee Baldwinnn."

Put an announcer with a flair for the dramatic, two boxing rings, an American flag and 200-plus boxers together under the rafters of Big Spring High gym, and you have the setting for the Region IX Tri-State Boxing Tournament.

The two-day event begins tonight at 7 p.m. Boxers ages 12-15 from Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi will be participating; senior division fighters aiming for a trip to St. Paul, Minn. for the national tournament.

Five American Boxing Federation associations are in town for the tournament: the Southern Association (Louisiana and Mississippi), the Gulf Association (Houston-Beaumont), South Texas Association (Corpus Christi-San Antonio-Austin area), Southwest Association (Wichita Falls-Dallas-Fort Worth-Waco area) and the West Texas Association.

Representing the West Texas Association are the Howard County Boxing Club and boxers from Tulia, Olton, Spearman, Amarillo, Snyder, Stinnett, Pecos, Abilene, Muleshoe, Lubbock, Crane and Fritch.

Fighting for the Big Spring-based team are 15-year-old Danny Dukes, 14-year-old Jamie Baldwin and 13-year-olds Juan Baldwin, Marcos Garza and Gabriel Gaona of Colorado City. Roy Sanchez, a 13-year-old from Olton, also will be fighting out of Howard Co.

Friday morning was spent with weigh-ins, physicals and drawings for opening round bouts reported J.V. Martinez, coach of the Howard Co. team. Approximately 225 boxers from the tri-state region showed up for the pre-tournament activities.

The senior division (ages 14-15) is broken into 16 weight classes. Depending upon the number of entries, a fighter may go unopposed or face up to four other contestants from among the five participating associations.

Senior boxers will fight three-round bouts, each round lasting two minutes. Junior boxers (ages 12-13) also go three rounds but at 1 1/2 minutes each.

"All boxers will be required to wear headgear, protective cups and mouthpieces," said Barney Wiegand of Amarillo, president of the West Texas Association.

Bouts will go off simultaneously with senior fights held in one ring and juniors battling on the adjoining canvas.

Big Spring was chosen as the site for 1983 tournament because of the Howard Co. team's success over the past year. In addition to many team championships, the team was invited to the Police Athletic League national tournament earlier this spring in Cleveland, Ohio. The 1982 tourney was held in Jonesboro, La.

Tickets per night are $4 for adults and $1.50 for students. Programs, souvenirs and other concessions will be available.

Swede vs. Frenchy Wilander, Noah play in Sunday finals

PARIS (AP) — Defending champion Mats Wilander of Sweden and Yannick Noah of France fought their way into the final of the $1.3 million French Open Tennis Championships today.

Wilander, who surprised everyone last year when he became the youngest French Open men's singles champion in history, made the return trip to the title match by wearing down Jose Higuera of Spain 7-5, 6-7, 6-3, 6-0 in a baseline marathon that lasted 3 hours, 44 minutes on the slow red clay court at Roland Garros Stadium.

Noah, 22, on the other hand, attacked the net at every chance as he battered Christophe Roger-Vasselin 6-3, 6-0, 6-0 in an all-French semifinal.

Noah became the fourth French player to reach the men's singles final and the first since Patrick Proisy in 1972. The last Frenchman to win the title was Marcel Bernard in 1946.

Some 14,000 fans sat around the sun-baked center court and watched Wilander and Higuera fight a war of attrition from their baselines.

The first set looked like it might never end. It lasted 1 hour, 21 minutes — only one minute less than the entire Noah-Vasselin match.

In the 12th game of that set, Higuera had eight game points. Wilander had four set points before settling it.

It continued an even struggle as Higuera won a tiebreaker 7-3 to take the second set and level the match at one set each.

But the bearded Spaniard, 30, was conceding 12 years to the champion, and in the third set he began to show signs of fatigue. Later he said he began at that stage to be troubled by tennis elbow, which he has been suffering from for the last two months.

In the first match, the fans at the sun-baked center court saw a match that began as a highly entertaining duel and developed into a rout.

Instead of playing from their baselines, like most Europeans on this slow clay surface, the two Frenchmen both attacked and went to the net.

They raced about the court retrieving and volleying, and there was little between them for the first few games.

Once Noah had broken service to 4-2, however, he steadily got on top.

Roger-Vasselin, 26 and ranked 130th in the world, scored the upset of the tournament by knocking out top seeded Jimmy Connors in the quarterfinals.

Fast-pitch event starts tonight

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

Eleven teams from Texas and New Mexico will converge on Johnny Stone Park tonight for the 7th Annual Cotton Mize Invitational Fast-Pitch Softball Tournament.

Back for the two-day event is defending champion Everheart Oil Co. of Lamesa. The Lamesa team, under the name of Plains Sporting Goods a year ago, was battling Levelland in a scoreless tie last year when a thunderstorm ended the game before either team could score. A coin-flip was held to determine the champion with Lamesa winning the toss.

Everheart faces tough competition this year in the host Cotton Chippers. The Chippers roll into the tournament with a 20-4 record and are coming off a team championship two weekends ago in San Angelo. After losing their first game to Lamesa, the Chippers battled back through the loser's bracket and met Lamesa again for the title.

The Big Spring team won in 12 innings to force a third game and then won again to claim its first tournament championship of the year. In all, the Chippers played 47 innings in one day.

In addition to the Chippers, Everheart and the runner-up Levelland team, tournament director Cotton Mize lists the Hobbs Bees as another team to beat. The Bees were the 1982 Class B state champs in New Mexico.

The tournament is divided into two divisions. Participating in the President's Division are the Chippers, Everheart, Levelland, Hobbs, Texas Ducks of El Paso and Big 3 from Coahoma.

Playing in the Governor's Division are McCutcheon Oil of Big Spring, the Stanton Super Sprots, Sterling City, Whiteface and K-K Industry of Lubbock.

Eight former Big Spring High players are on the Chippers' roster including James Walker who played on the 1982 Steers district championship team. Others are pitchers Johnny Mize and Larry Smith, catcher David Altom, Ricky Myers, outfielders Tommy Rodriguez and Paul Spence and third

Ace shoots Burns into Kemper lead

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — For the past five months, big George Burns has been, by his own admission, a golfer in search of a swing. He may have found it.

Burns, for whom great things were predicted when he joined the pro tour eight years ago, shot a 64 Thursday to tie the course record at the 7,172-yard, par 72 Congressional Country Club and take a four-stroke lead over Tom Kite and Scott Simpson.

"I've tried to change my swing which seems to be a never ending battle for me," said Burns whose round tied the 8-under-par round of Tommy Jacobs in the 1964 U.S. Open here.

Burns' had a hole-in-one on the 211-yard par 3 No. 16 on which he used a two iron.

Burns, who last won at the Bing Crosby in 1980, is having a terrible year, accumulating only $35,805 in prize money. His best finish was third place at Doral but he has not made the cut in seven of the 15 events he has entered and has had one withdrawal. Since Doral, he has missed the cut four times, withdrawn and finished tied for 75th, tied for 49th, and tied for 13th.

He said his woes could be attributed to his seeking a new swing along with lower back problems and, lately, a stress fracture of his right foot — a result of jogging to keep down his weight.

"I wasn't thinking about winning when I came here," he said. "I just wanted a good round and go on to the Westchester Classic, which is near my home. It really is nice to shoot a 64 on this course because I was struggling."

"I'm working on my golf swing to make it for five or six years," he said. "I'm not trying for an instant success with it. I hope it began today."

Kite was more than pleased with his 68 which put him and Simpson one stroke ahead of Andy Bean and Tze-Chung Chen, a tour rookie from Taipei, Taiwan.

Albeck case returned to Texas court

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Stan Albeck and the San Antonio Spurs were scheduled to be back in court today — a state district court rather than a basketball court.
Albeck and the Spurs have taken a contract dispute between the coach and the National Basketball Association team to court. At issue is whether Albeck is bound to a verbal agreement with the Spurs, or is free to pursue jobs with other teams.
State District Judge Fred Biery granted Spurs' owner Angelo Drossos a temporary restraining order last month that barred Albeck from leaving the Spurs. The judge also prohibited the New Jersey Nets from negotiating with the coach.
Biery scheduled the hearing today on a permanent injunction.
U.S. District Judge Fred Shannon of San Antonio on Thursday ordered that the proceedings against Albeck and the Nets be moved back to state court.
Attorneys for the Nets had asked Shannon and a New York state judge to allow the National Basketball Association to decide the issue.
The Nets told the federal judge they would not negotiate with Albeck until his contract is determined in a court of law.
"The Spurs made a motion to the court to dismiss their cause of action against the Nets, providing the Nets give assurance to the court that they will not negotiate with Albeck until it is determined whether he has a contract or not," said James Ingram, Albeck's attorney in San Antonio.

"The court must automatically remand the case back to state court to find out whether there is a contract," said Ingram, who has filed a motion to dissolve the temporary injunction granted by Biery on May 26.
"We are happy to be back in court," said Spurs attorney Larry Maco, who participated in a conference call with Shannon and other attorneys. The Nets "agreed to abide by whatever the state court says. In this lawsuit, Albeck is on his own."
Jerry Davis, Albeck's New York attorney, said a motion has been filed in a New York court to compel the NBA arbitration. Reese Harrison Jr., a San Antonio attorney representing the Nets, also moved that NBA commissioner Larry O'Brien receive the matter in arbitration.
"If the motion to dissolve the restraining order fails tomorrow, that (motion in New York) will be the second bite of the apple," Davis said Thursday. "A judge here can compel arbitration because the NBA is here."
Albeck led the Spurs to three straight NBA Midwest Division titles. But he does not have a written contract with San Antonio.
The coach's motion Tuesday to dissolve the order contends Drossos agreed to provide an additional assistant coach before last season and then refused, "browbeat" him and took away his authority on player personnel decisions and refused on several occasions to have the coach's oral agreement put into writing.

Last season, Albeck negotiated a three-year pact paying about $175,000 a year but did not sign the contract because Drossos did not fill his requests, said the coach's New York attorney, Jerry Davis.
Albeck does not have a written contract, but the coach should be held to the oral agreement, Drossos said.
Albeck also said in the motion that Drossos blamed him for this year's sixth-game playoff loss to the Los Angeles Lakers in the NBA Western Conference finals.
"On the night of the Spurs' last game of the season — a heartbreaking last-second loss to the Los Angeles Lakers — Drossos came down to the locker room after the game and blamed Albeck for the Spurs' loss," the document read.
"Albeck was deeply hurt and furious at this," it said.
Drossos denied he had blamed Albeck and said "no one did any browbeating."
"I said to the players, 'I am sorry to see it end this way. I am proud of you all and it was a good season,'" Drossos said.

Ottey, Joyner qualify in 9 final events

HOUSTON (AP) — Nebraska's Merlene Ottey and UCLA's Jackie Joyner have learned the way to the finish line and the media interview tent at the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships.
Joyner has gained the finals in five events in the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships and is in a position to earn high-point honors.
Ottey will represent the Cornhuskers in four final events beginning today at the University of Houston's Robertson Stadium.
Next week they'll rest but for now it's the vitamins and bring on the next race.
"I'm really tired," Joyner said after another routine trek to the interview area. "I like competing in several events. It's fun until you get this tired. This is the most events I've competed in for awhile but not necessarily the most work I've done."
Bob Kersee, Joyner's coach, said he multi-talented senior once competed in eight events in a dual meet against USC and she won five.

Joyner won the women's heptathlon event earlier in the week and has also gained the finals in the long jump, 100-meter hurdles, and will run legs on the Bruins' 400 and 1600-meter relay teams.
Joyner will taper off next year, however.
Kersee said Joyner would give up basketball to concentrate on the heptathlon.
Ottey led qualifiers into the finals of the women's 100 meters with a 11.20 clocking Wednesday and added three more events on Thursday with a 52.26 in the 400 meters, anchored the Husker 400-meter relay team to a qualifying time of 44.35 and ran to a 22.50 time in the 200 meters.

Ottey has not lost a race in the 100, 200 or 400 dashes this year and will be performing in four events for the second time.
Ottey, a native of Hanover, Jamaica, was a bronze medal in the 200 meters at the 1980 Olympics at Moscow.
Tennessee's Willie Gault qualified for the finals in the 100 meters, 110-meter hurdles and the will anchor Tennessee's 400-meter relay team. He might have competed in the 200-meter dash but a hamstring injury two weeks ago will restrict his activities.
The shot put showdown between defending champion Dean Crouser of Oregon and former champion Michael Carter of Southern Methodist will have to wait until Saturday's finals. Crouser easily had the best qualifying time of 67-10 while Carter was only interested in qualifying.

Veteran Bugner relives memories as he prepares for Frazier's son

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Joe Bugner wants to do for Marvis Frazier what Marvis' daddy did for him 10 years ago.
On July 2, 1973, in London, 23-year-old Joe Bugner was knocked down in 10th round and lost a unanimous 12-round decision to Smokin' Joe Frazier, the former world heavyweight champion.
"In going to a decision with Joe Frazier, it turns you from a boy into a man," said Bugner, who Saturday at the Sands Hotel and Casino will fight a scheduled 10-round bout against 22-year-old Marvis Frazier.
"This fight will definitely make a man out of kid," the Hungarian-born native of England said of Marvis Frazier, who will be fighting for the 10th time as a pro.
Father Joe will be in Marvis' corner as his manager-trainer.
Bugner says he isn't looking for trip into the past.
"I'm not looking upon him as Joe Frazier's son," he said. "I'm looking at him as an opponent, who is standing in my way for a shot at the heavyweight title."
Bugner challenged Muhammad Ali for the title in 1975 and lost a unanimous 15-round decision. Then between 1977 and last year he fought only once. But he returned to boxing in earnest in the fall of 1982 and has had five fights, winning four of them.

"He's another man," said young Frazier, explaining that there was nothing special about fighting Bugner just because his father fought him.
Both Bugner and Frazier admit to feeling ties to that fight a decade ago.
"The 10 years seem just like yesterday," said Bugner, who remembers buckling Smokin' Joe's knees.
"I was only 12-year-old at the time," said Marvis, who was in London to see his father fight Bugner. "But I remember sitting in the audience and seeing my dad win that fight like it was yesterday."

DeCinces powers Angels by Yanks

By The Associated Press
Doug DeCinces is starting his "second-half" surge a little early this season.
A player who usually produces big power numbers after the All-Star game, the California third baseman continued his hot start with two home runs Thursday night to lead the Angels to a 9-8 victory over the New York Yankees.
DeCinces belted a solo homer in the fourth inning and added a decisive two-run shot in the seventh which gave the Angels a 9-7 lead. He leads the league with 13 home runs this season.
Blue Jays 6, Tigers 1
Cliff Johnson drove in three runs and Luis Leal pitched seven tough innings to lead Toronto over Detroit.

Johnson put ahead to stay 2-1 with a run-scoring double in the fourth inning and added a two-run homer to highlight a three-run eighth. Leal, 5-3, scattered seven hits and struck out six over the first seven innings to get credit for the victory.
American League
Brewers 6, A's 1
Cecil Cooper and Robin Yount belted two-run homers and Paul Molitor hit a solo homer to back Mike Caldwell's six-hitter in Milwaukee's victory over Oakland.
Caldwell, 5-4, retired 11 successive batters over one span as the Brewers won their third game in their last four and handed the A's their seventh defeat in their last eight games.

Indians 3, Mariners 1
Rick Sutcliffe scattered six hits and Miguel Dilone stole two bases and scored twice as Cleveland defeated Seattle. Sutcliffe, 6-2, struck out seven and walked two in pitching his third complete game of the year.
White Sox 6, Royals 3
Rookie Chris Nym and Harold Baines each hit two-run homers to power Chicago over Kansas City.
Nym's first major-league home run keyed a three-run rally in the seventh that sent the White Sox ahead 4-3. Nym's blow, following Ron Kittle's single, tied the game at 3-3.

Former Cardinal silences St. Louis

By The Associated Press
When Pete Falcone is on, he gets the batters out. When Chris Chambliss is on, he gets the ball out. They were both on Thursday night.
Falcone, who has spent his seven big-league seasons in St. Louis, New York and now Atlanta bouncing between bullpens and starting rotations, silenced St. Louis' bats on four hits for 7 1-3 innings and Chambliss drove in five runs, four with a grand slam, as the Atlanta Braves mauled the Cardinals 8-1.
When Terry Forster took over with one out in the eighth inning, the Braves' fans gave the departing Falcone a standing ovation. "I haven't heard one of those in a long time," he said.

Padres 4, Phillies 1
San Diego pitcher Dave Dravecky's concerns were (a) making it as a major-leaguer, and (b) making it past the sixth inning against the Phillies. He did both in style, becoming the NL's first eight-game winner with a seven-hitter for his sixth complete game.
National League
Cubs 3, Pirates 1
Ryne Sandberg was pivotal in the Cubs' victory — in more than one way.
In the second inning, the Chicago second baseman was the middleman in the team's first triple play in 11 years, on a Rick Rhoden grounder to Ron Cey at third base. And in the eighth, he sent a Rhoden offering over the wall for a game-winning two-run homer.

Expos 11, Giants 4
Andre Dawson sparked Montreal' highest score of the season with three runs batted in. He had an RBI single in a four-run first inning and a two-run homer in the seventh inning, and Jim Wohlford added a two-run single in a three-run ninth as the Expos raked four San Francisco pitchers for 15 hits.
Dodgers 5, Mets 4
Candy Maldonado, batting for former Mets pitcher Pat Zachry with two away in the 14th inning, ripped a single down the third-base line to give the Dodgers their fourth consecutive victory and keep them 2 1/2 games ahead of the second-place Braves in the West.

Pandas down Darlins, 18-5

The Purple Pandas got two hits from Renee Andrews and Pam Gill smashed a two-run as the Pandas ripped the Darlins' 18-5 in a Division I United Girls Softball Association game Tuesday.
Jennifer Hernandez scattered seven hits for the Pandas who won their fifth game of the season.
Michelle Chavarria hit a three-run homer in a four-run third inning for the Darlins'.

Minister concerned about senior citizens

By RHONDA WITT
Lifestyle Writer
Thomas Troy Smith, pastor of the First Mexican Baptist Church, focuses most of his and the church's attention on elderly citizens.

minister to them. My wife makes them special treats," Smith said. "We try to make them feel comfortable in the church. In moments of crisis, when they feel lonely, we try to keep them in fellowship with the minister." The church is working on several projects for the elderly. One being considered is a senior citizens revival.

Smith told about one revival he attended. "I can remember when we were concluding a revival and we were all feeling the same thing." He said the speaker didn't have to extend an invitation. "We all drop to our knees. It was a very gratifying moment; moments we don't feel very often," Smith said. "The present of the Lord is so heavy after a message that you don't care who sees you kneeling down."

The First Mexican Baptist Church, a Southern Baptist church, also is known as Primera Iglesia Bautista. Smith said church members try to make the building nice and beautiful. In front, trees and flowers have been planted and members are working on building a parking lot.

"I think our (the church's) greatest goal will be to double our attendance," Smith said.

THOMAS TROY SMITH
...pastor of First Mexican Baptist Church

Asked why he had become a preacher, he said "It's a calling. A person knows when he is called. Once the Lord calls you, you just go go."

"I haven't regretted one moment," he said. "I don't think there's a more noble cause that has such rewarding benefits."

Smith comes from a long line of preachers. His great-grandfather, Joseph Smith of Ireland was a preacher who married an Indian woman in Oklahoma. His father and five of his seven brothers also are preachers. They all preach in Texas.

Smith believes his father had some influence on his decision to become a preacher. "Fathers always have an influence on their children, and children want to be like their dad," he said.

Smith also believes in self-improvement and plans to attend seminary in the future. "That's a worthwhile goal," he said. "I think every preacher has going to seminary (on) mind if he hasn't already gone."

Originally from Cameron, the minister graduated from Littlefield High School in Littlefield and Wayland Baptist University in Plainview, Texas. He and wife Alicia have four children, Troy, Stella, Jimmy and Dorothy. "I like to take my children fishing," Smith said.

60 minute color presentation by Estus Pirkle of the Biblical teachings on the doctrine of Hell.

Admission to the Upper Room is free, and the public is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

The movie was filmed behind the walls of the New York Attica prison. Salem Baptist Church is located on North Salem Road, three miles north of Interstate 20. A nursery will be provided.

Avery to give lectures

Johnnie Lou Avery will present a lecture series for the first three Sundays in June at the First Christian Church, Christian Youth Fellowship and Chi Rho will sponsor the series.

Mrs. Avery begin at 5 p.m. each Sunday will help answer these questions, Who Am I?—Self-Awareness (June 5); Who are other people?—Relations with Others (June 12); and Where do I go from here?—Goal-setting (June 19).

The public is invited to attend the programs.

CONFIRMATION — Tracy Lintner, Angela Reid and Donna Sayles will be confirmed Sunday at St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Girls to be confirmed

Tracy Lintner, Angela Reid, and Donna Sayles will be confirmed at 10:45 a.m. at the St. Paul Lutheran Church, Sunday.

Ms. Lintner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Lintner, 2601 Carleton. Ms. Reid is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Reid of Coahoma. Donna Sayles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sayles of Coahoma.

The girls recently attended a pre-confirmation retreat in Carlsbad, N.M. They were accompanied by the Rev. and Mrs. Carroll C. Kohl.

Pastor earns degree

Herbert C. McPherson, bi-vocational pastor of Calvary Baptist Church and postal clerk, received a master of Divinity degree from Luther Rice Seminary in Jacksonville, Fla., May 6.

Commencement exercises were held at the First Baptist Church in Jacksonville, Fla. Dr. Robert G. Witty, chancellor of Luther Rice Seminary, was the commencement speaker.

Luther Rice Seminary, founded in 1962, is a post-secondary theological school.

Singers perform play

The Serendipity Singers from the First Church of the Nazarene in San Antonio will present the musical, "Beyond Imagination" at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday at 10:50 a.m.

The touring group consists of 16 teenage members. The group's summer ministries include performances in West Texas and New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Otis Thompson are the group's directors.

The Sunday Night Live Service begins at 6 p.m. with Jerry McGuire directing congregational singing.

Two women ordained

Dixie Lou Robertson and Lou Anne Wise were ordained as elders Thursday during the final worship services at the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church's annual meeting at Lubbock's First United Methodist Church.

Bishop Louis Schowengerdt of the Northwest Texas and New Mexico Conferences of the United Methodist Church led the ceremony to install 12 elders and nine deacons.

Ms. Robertson is a member of the staff at First United Methodist Church. Ms. Wise is the pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Coahoma.

Ms. Wise and her husband will be moving to Phoenix, Ariz. in June where her husband will be associate pastor at Shepard of the Valley United Methodist Church. Ms. Wise will be attending school at Arizona State University.

Film to be shown

"God's Prison Gang, a film about Al Capone's driver, the last member of the Bonnie and Clyde gang and two other criminals who become Christians, will be shown Sunday at 7 p.m. at Salem Baptist Church.

Shirley to minister music

Jakie Shirley has moved from the First Baptist Church of Pasadena to Hillcrest Baptist Church of Dallas, where he will serve as minister of music.

Shirley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Shirley, 911 Lancaster.

Church announces vacation Bible school

The First Church of the Nazarene, 1400 Lancaster, will have a vacation Bible school June 6-10. The event will be from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. each night.

This year's theme is "The Family of God." Activities will include crafts, recreation, and learning experiences with the Bible.

The goal of this summer's VBS is to help children from preschool age through juniors develop the spiritual dimension of their lives, Darlene Laws, VBS director, said.

The Rev. Carl Powers invites the public to attend the activities. For further information call 267-7015.

Christians to provide housing

PITTSBURGH (AP) — With 15,000 to 20,000 Southern Baptists expected to attend their convention June 14-16, the city's hotel facilities are being strained to the limit, but extra help is coming from fellow Christians.

Congregations of other denominations and the local ministerial alliance are acting to find private housing for Southern Baptists who can't find hotel space.
