City may call election on park land

By CAROL DANIEL Staff Writer

You can't fight City Hall and win, they say, so what's the chances when not only the city, but the state and the Boy Scouts of America are involved?

Larry and Nancy Tinsman are finding out just how complicated it can be, even when the city is on their side

City councilmen are scheduled to vote tomorrow night on whether to call an election to sell four tracts (about 76 acres) of city park property south of town. The council meets at 6:30 p.m. in City Hall at Fourth

and Noian.

The question of the sale came up last December when Larry and Nancy Tinsman asked to purchase about ½-acre of park land to expand their mobile home park. The Tinsman's operate the 18-space Country Club Mobile Home Park on 4.3 acres of land off U.S. Highway 87.

When the couple sought land from the city to construct seven more spaces, city hall staff ran into several obstacles:

1. The property is part of 388 acres purchased by, or given to, the city in 1935 for city park land. State law prohibits park land from being sold or leased without a citywide election. About 98.3 acres were developed into Comanche Trail Park and golf course.

2. At least three parcels of the land have been sold — without an election — to the VFW, the American Legion and Lowell Jones. The Tinsmans bought their property from Jones. The rest lies undeveloped.

3. The local Boy Scout group has a 10-year lease on tract 4 (including the ½ acre the Tinsmans want) which expires in 1989. The scouts use part of tracts 2, 3 and 4 (more than 51 acres) as wilderness and camping grounds and recently made plans for improvements.

They have a 30-day vacate clause on tracts 2 and 3.

4. If the city elects to sell the land, it will not automatically be sold to the Tinsmans. State law requires that it be sold to the highest bidder in a public sale

5. If the land is sold to the Tinsmans, it will have to be rezoned for mobile home use.

The Tinsmans met with the city council twice, in December and at the council's last meeting on June 14, to request the purchase.

PIK program twist may raise prices for local cotton

By MIKE DOWNEY Staff Writer

An unexpected twist to the government's Payment-In-Kind program may raise prices for locally produced cotton.

Tim Hall, Howard County director of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, said a shortage of cotton available for allocation to producers will probably force prices up as the government moves to buy the crop to fulfill PIK obligations.

PIK was enacted earlier in the year to control production and reduce government surpluses of commodities. Farmers are paid with commodities for not growing that particular crop. Officials had hoped PIK would increase cotton prices by reducing the government's surplus.

ment's surplus.

Heavy participation in the crop reduction program led the government to allow producers to take back their own cotton already in the government Commodity Credit Corp. loan program, Hall said.

However, not enough producers had cotton in the program so that sufficient amounts to meet the 1983 PIK needs could be returned to them, he said. Currently the government plans to count the 1983 harvest as part of the PIK payment, Hall said.

"It (the 1983 harvest) will go into the government loan; the government will buy it and give it back as PIK," Hall said.

To add to the confusion, the government is having difficulty fin-See PIK, page 2A

SUNDAY STROLL — Two unidentified walkers take advantage of the sunny warm weather the city has been experiencing as they stroll down Main Street in front of the Howard County Courthouse. Warm weather with temperatures reaching the 100 mark is forecast for the week.

Rain misses city again

From staff and wire reports

Severe thunderstorms rumbling across Texas Sunday once again missed Big Spring as residents stayed dry, watching the mercury climb to 103 degrees.

Thehigh
temperature, however, failed to match 1916's high of 108 degrees on the same day, according to the U.S.
Big Spring Field
Station.

Forecasters are predicting more hot temperatures today with the possibility of s e v e r e thunderstorms in North Texas.

All was not quiet in West Texas yesterday, however, as a town reported property damages of more than $1 million as a thunderstorm blasted its was across the the state.

Officials at Haskell, about 50 miles north of Abilene, said homes were unroofed, power lines downed, crops lashed and windows shattered by the thunderstorm that struck the town Sunday.

No injuries were reported,

The storm system moved through the Dallas-Fort Worth area beginning about 9:15 p.m. Lightning hit a transformer, throwing several banks of lights into darkness at Arlington Stadium and causing an early end to an American League baseball game between Texas and Oakland.

Hot temperatures were forecast for Texas today, a condition that will set the stage for more threatening weather today for the Texas Panhandle and low Rolling Plains.

The National Weather Service warned of the likelihood that "very hot and dry air will collide with sultry Gulf air" in the Panhandle and Northwest Texas

Stanton man shot; Big Springer stabbed

A 25-year-old Stanton man is in "very critical" condition today with a gunshot wound to the head, and a 27-year-old Big Spring man is in stable condition after being stabbed at least five times this morning, say police and hospital officials.

Roel Rosa of Stanton was taken by Shaffer ambulance to Malone-Hogan Hospital at 11:15 p.m. yesterday after a .25 semi-automatic gunshot was fired into his head, police Lt. Alvis Jeffcoat said.

Two persons witnessed the shooting which occurred at 310 W. Seventh, Jeffcoat said. Their initial statements indicate the wound may have been self inflicted, he said.

Clerance Friday, 27, of Thrifty Lodge room 205 also is in the hospital's intensive care unit suffering from stab wounds to the chest, left arm, left leg and back.

Friday told police that at 12:22 a.m. today two unidentified Hispanic males stabbed him several times with a machete and pocket knife in the yard of a residence at 1515 Wood, police reports said.

Jeffcoat said there was one witness to the stabbing, but no suspects have been identified.

Lubbock mayor Bill McAlister found dead of heart attack Sunday in home

LUBBOCK (AP) — Bill McAlister, 42, mayor of Lubbock and a longtime broadcast and televiion owner and personality, died of a heart attack late Sunday, a spokesman at Lubbock's Methodist Hospital said early today.

Brent Magers, the hospital's vice president of public relations, said McAlister was pronounced dead on arrival at Methodist Hospital at 12:54 a.m. today by physicians in the emergency room.

A teen-age daughter discovered McAlister unconscious at his home, Magers said.

"EMS (Emergency Medical Service) got the call at 11:58 p.m. and were on the scene at 12:05. He was unconscious with no pulse," Magers said.

Life-support measures were applied at the scene and en route to the hospital, and additional rescusitive measures were applied by physicians at the hospital, but McAlister responded to none of them, Magers added.

"Cause of death was declared as cardiopulmonary arrest," the hospital spokesman said.

McAlister, who was divorced, served on the Lubbock City Council before being elected mayor of Lubbock.

He was the owner of KAMC-TV in Lubbock. He was a familiar on-camera TV personality in Lubbock and had been a widely known broadcast figure in the city—dating back to his teen-aged years—before his family purchased the television station.

His father, the late R.B. "Mac" McAlister, was active in the broadcasting business with him and served in the Texas Legislature.

HENRY LUCAS
...victim identified

Missing Abilene woman may be victim of Lucas

PLAINVIEW (AP) — Hale County Sheriff Charles Tue says an unidentified woman Henry Lee Lucas is accused of raping and beheading may be an Abilene woman who disappeared in October 1981.

Lucas, a former mental patient, was indicted last week in the death of the woman, whose headless body was found east of Plainview in February 1982. A head was found two weeks later in the desert near Scottsdale, Ariz.

Lucas was charged in the murder after drawing a picture of the woman which resembled one sketched by pathologists using the skull as a guide.

The 46-year-old former mental patient told police he picked up the woman near Abilene in December 1981, raped her, cut off her head, raped her again and disposed of the body.

Tue said he has asked Abilene police to send him dental records of a woman identified by police as Elizabeth Bishop, a former auto repair shop worker and part-time topless dancer.

Officers said Ms. Bishop was last seen Oct. 4, 1981 when she and some friends went to a topless bar where she occasionally worked. She did not leave with her friends and they never saw her again, police said.

Lucas is being held under $1 million bond in Montague County, See SHOOTING, page 2A

San Antonio mayor upset after second Klan march

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — San Antonio plans to fight any attempt by the Ku Klux Klan to "hold the entire city hostage" for a third time this year, a disgusted Mayor Henry Cisneros said after the group's second rally in two months.

About 40 heavily guarded Klansmen marched four downtown blocks in stifling 100-degree heat Sunday to protest "illegal aliens and communists." "I think there's no question we have allowed them their constitutional rights," Cisneros said. "Any court would agree to that. These are people who abuse the notion of free speech.' KKK members said they returned because the city had not allowed the Klan's "white power" message to be heard by San Antonians during a May 1 march. Officials estimated Sunday afternoon's one-hour visit cost the city $40,000.

"We have spent about $100,000 to allow the Klan to be able to exercise their whim, to hold the entire city hostage," Cisneros said, referring to both marches.

Klan Grand Dragon Charles Lee of Pasadena used a microphone to boom his message to the crowd as his fellow Klansmen shouted "White Power" and "White Victory" and toted flags representing the United States, the Confederacy and the Klan.

"Our borders must be sealed off," Lee said. "Illegal aliens are a slap in the face to every American.'

Later, Lee paid tribute to the Alamo by saying a brave band of Texans had fought off "an illegal alien army," a reference to the troops led by Mexican General Santa Anna. Lee again criticized the heavy police protection, saying: "We'd be willing to come to this city and guard ourselves, but we're afraid we'd have to kill a few Communists.' City Manager Lou Fox said he is investigating ways to make groups such as the Klan pay peace bonds to absorb the city's expenses "I hope this is our last experience in a long time

On June 14 the council directed the city staff to compose an ordinance calling for an election to sell the park land. The ordinance, included in tomorrow night's meeting, declares an emergency which dispenses with the usually required three readings before an ordinance or resolution can be passed.

"We're proposing an emergency reading simply to try to speed up the process," City Manager Don Davis said. "The council may not want to do that, but the Tinsmans have been working on this since December and the staff has been neglectful in accommodating them.

The ordinance includes three propositions that residents would vote on. One is to sell a 60-feet wide strip adjacent to the Tinsmans mobile home park; another to sell the balance of tracts 2, 3 and 4; and the last to sell 25 acres of park land west of the golf course. possibly for residential development.

The Boy Scout district council will meet on Tuesday, July 12 at the Howard County Library to discuss its position if the council passes the ordinance.

Bradley declined to say what action the Boy Scouts may take if the ordinance is passed. "Yes, we do (use the land), but I'd rather not speak for the district until we have our meeting," he said. City Mananger Don Davis recommended that the election cost, estimated to be at least $1,500, be included in the land price.

The council agenda also includes: • The third and final reading of an ordinance that increases the admission fee to Moss Creek Lake from 50 cents to $1 per person. • A lease renegotiation with Big Spring Christian Academy. The academy requested to lease building 327 at the Big Spring Airpark to be used as a family life center. The academy currently occupies building 484, which the SouthWest Collegiate Institute of the Deaf where he is charged with murder in the death of 80-year-old Kate Rich of Ringgold, who had been missing since September 1982.

Police said they recovered what are believed to be Mrs. Rich's burned bones from a wood-burning stove in Lucas' Stoneburg house.

Lucas also has been charged in the death of his 15-year-old traveling companion, Freida Powell, described by investigators as a Jacksonville, Fla. runaway, whose remains were found scattered over a field in Denton County.

Central Texas law enforcement officials have questioned Lucas in two of the so-called "I-35" murders, in which about 20 young women were found dead along the highway from northern Oklahoma to Austin in the late 1970s and 1980

Williamson County Sheriff's officials said Lucas gave them a statement regarding the death of an unidentified woman whose body was found near Georgetown in 1980.

The woman, thought to be in her 20s, apparently was a hitchhiker, investigators said.

Travis County Sheriff's spokesman Curtis Weeks said after questioning Lucas in Montague last. week that investigators were "very close" to solving the murder of a Missouri woman whose body was found next to Interstate 35 south of Austin in October 1979.

Sandra Dubbs, 34, was on her way to a job interview in San Antonio when she apparently had car trouble, investigators said. She had been stabbed 35 times.

Lucas, who grew up in Blacksburg, Va., was convicted in 1960 of murdering his mother in Michigan. He drew the maximum 40-year prison term and spent six years in a mental institution. He was paroled from prison 1970.

Testimony begins in murder trial of Odessa man

ODESSA (AP) — A state disrict judge set today for the beginning of testimony in John C. Skelton's capital murder trial in the 1982 death of an Odessa man killed when a bomb exploded in his pickup truck.

Lawyers questioned 70 prospective jurors during lengthy selection proceedings that finally resulted Wednesday in the seating of a panel.

Attorneys said jury selection took so long because of many potential jurors' attitudes toward the death penalty. Skelton, 53, is accused in the death of 46-year-old Joe

Lee Neal, who had worked as a salesman for Skelton's oil field business from 1979 to 1980. Investigators said a dynamite bomb apparently was rigged to the ignition system of Neal's truck, which exploded in a shopping center parking lot across from Neal's house after Neal started it. Skelton has been free on $150,000 bond since he was arrested on June 10, 1982, after surrendering to Odessa police. Skelton had sold his business and moved to Arkansas. Neal's widow, Peggy, filed a $12 million lawsuit against Skelton in April. Police said Neal's 15-year-old daughter, Becky Lyn, narrowly escaped injury when she walked toward the truck just before it blew up.

Abortion amendment heads for Senate floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — After years of debate, a proposed constitutional amendment to allow states to ban abortion is headed for a Senate floor showdown, but sponsors concede chances for approval seem slim.

Senators were to debate the measure today, setting up a vote Tuesday. Yet in advance of that vote, opponents of the proposal were already claiming victory. "We have the votes to defeat the amendment. (Backers) are quite short of the two-thirds" margin needed for Senate approval, said Sen. Bob Packwood.

Packwood characterized the vote as something of a last stand for the anti-abortion movement. However, these groups are divided among themselves on the best way to try to restrict abortions, with some favoring strong, new federal laws instead of the constitutional route favored by Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah.

Despite the early optimism of New Right conservative groups, little social legislation has made it through the Senate in the 2 ½ years since it went Republican

"For the first time in the history of this country, we'll have a debate on the merits of abortion," Hatch, the prime sponsor, has said.

Every other time the abortion issue has been before Congress, it has taken the form of an attempted amendment to nonrelated legislation.

Because the Hatch proposal would amend the Constitution, it requires a vote by two-thirds of the Senate — 67 senators if all 100 vote — for approval.

"If we get more than 51 votes, it will be a victory. Hatch isn't fooling himself that we have the votes to pass it," said Hatch aide Paul Smith.

The proposal, if passed by both houses of Congress and ratified by 38 states, would empower states to enact new bans or restrictions on abortions. "A right to abortion is not secured by this Constitution," the amendment would read.

Hatch failed in 1981 and 1982 to win a floor vote on similar proposals. Last April, the Senate Judiciary Committee deadlocked 9-9 on the measure, sending it to the Senate floor without a recommendation.

Although the proposal was expected to be defeated, anti-abortion activists were expected to renew their efforts later in the year with other pieces of legislation.

Poisoned gravy found in New Jersey stores

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Three bottles of a gravy mix laced with lethal doses of insecticide have been found in supermarkets, and the FBI is hunting a fourth bottle and the tamperer who wrote of "hate" for the manufacturer.

In a letter to the New York Post, the tamperer warned that four bottles of tainted Gravy Master Seasoning and Browning Sauce — each marked with red fingernail polish — were on the shelves of Pathmark stores in four northern New Jersy communities.

Each bottle was contaminated with the insecticide nicotine sulfate, and a teaspoon of the tainted sauce could be fatal, Dr. Allen N. Koplin, the deputy state health commissioner, said Sunday.

The manufacturer, Gravymaster Inc., recalled the product in New Jersey after tainted bottles were discovered in supermarkets in North Bergen, Weehawken and Jersey City on Saturday. The fourth is believed to be in Belleville, if the letter was to be believed.

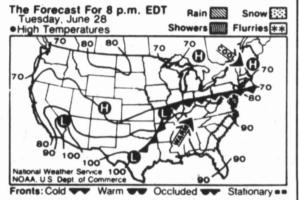

"Why I hate Gravymaster is my business," the letter to the newspaper said. But officials said it also indicated that the poisonings were intended to drive the company out of business.

"Some prankster has decided to create a problem just like they did with Tylenol," said Gravymaster President John Mills, referring to the deaths last fall of seven people in the Chicago area who took cyanide-laced capsules of Extra-Strength Tylenol, a pain reliever reliever.

There are no plans to pull the product in the 17 other states where it is distributed, said John Accola, a vice president of the Norwich, Conn.-based company.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms soaked an area stretching from Idaho tothe Great Lakes and into New England today, as more rain moved across the Ohio Valley and central Gulf Coast.

More than 1,200 residents were forced to evacuate several neighborhoods in Grand Junction, Colo., where the Colorado River had exceeded record crests and was threatening two earthen dikes.

Volunteers worked overnight to fend off the rising river which was fed by record snowmelt and rain.

West Texas: Generally partly cloudy north and fair elsewhere today through Tuesday. Not quite as warm north today. hold parades

By The Associated Press Fears about AIDS, the mysterious disease that strikes mostly homosexuals, dampened some of the traditional enthusiasm as more than 400,000 gay rights supporters turned out for parades in cities from California to New York.

"This community together is saying, unequivocally, enough is enough. We are fighting for our lives," Virginia Apuzzo, director of the National Gay Task Force, proclaimed to cheering marchers following a Lesbian and Gay Pride parade that police said drew 40,000 people Sunday in New York

San Francisco's Market Street was clogged for nearly four hours as about 200,000 marchers, many in colorful costumes, marched behind a motorized cable car bearing about 20 AIDS victims in the city's 13th annual Gay Freedom Day Parade

Andrew Small, who said he once was asked to leave a jury because of his disease, drew cheers as he told a crowd in the San Francisco Civic Center, "I am here to celebrate with you the largest gathering of lesbians and gay men in the world.

"Those of us with AIDS are fighting not just for our lives, but for all of our lives," Small said.

Discharge for the dog tag

With computers programming their way into every facet of life, it had to happen sometime. A nine-member Soldiers Data Tag Task Force is designing a plastic dog tag for the U.S. Army with a microchip that can carry a record of a soldier's medical and personnel history.

Like the metal dog tag that has identified GIs for decades, the electronic version, when it is issued later in the decade, can be worn from a chain around the neck. But it also could be carried elsewhere, and many soldiers may prefer not to carry the notso-macho data tag so close to their heart.

This is viewed as one of the Army's major weapons in its battle to reduce the mounds of GI paperwork. So one hopes the new divisions of systems analysts and programmers pressed into active duty to develop computer systems for the plastic tag have more success than in some recent military innovations.

In the meantime, Hollywood scriptwriters and war novelists had better start revising those tear-jerking dog tag scenes.

Special sessions

Once again the Texas Legislature and the centralized power of has had to resort to a special session to clear up leftover business from the 140-day biennial session just passed

It is likely another special session will be called in the near future to deal with teacher pay raises. In the previous long session, three special sessions were needed to shore up gaps left by legislators. And at a half a million dollars the sessions are no bargain.

The other 10 most populous states have annual sessions to conduct state business, but Texans continue to believe their state legislature does more harm than good when it's in session. Therefore, all attempts at trying to give the Legislature more time to handle the complex issues and budgetary matters have been ignored.

DETRACTORS of an expanded session believe the government can only think up more ways to spend money if it is given more time.

The electorate does not take into consideration that harm can come from legislators having to consider a multitude of bills (3,500 in the last session) in too short a time.

WASHINGTON — The latest political developments in Russia underline a fundamental truth of international politics. The East-West relation is not a naked struggle, a zero-sum game where what hurts Moscow helps Washington, and vice

At times, on the contrary, bad news for the East equals bad news for the West. Events have now come to just such a pass, and sensible people have to hope that the troubles burdening Yuri Andropov will not block the move toward "constructive dialogue" initiated last week by the Reagan administration.

The administration's gambit came in testimony by Secretary of State George Shultz to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last Wednesday. Shultz brought together all the familiar charges lodged by the Reagan administration against Russia — the massive military buildup; the penetration in Central America, Africa, the Middle East, Central Asia and Southeast Asia; the brutal violation of human rights in Russia and other Communist states, notably Poland.

But the Shultz statement marked a watershed because it moved past confrontation. Shultz said the administration had devised a strategy that went beyond "containment" and "detente" to active global deterrence - the building of a capacity to deal devastating blows against Russian expansion all over the world. He said that policy found expression in steps toward more robist defense, which commanded a consensus in the U.S. and among the allies. Accordingly, he found the time ripe for "constructive dialogue'' between the superpowers.

An occasion for dialogue not set in the win-lose calculus was delicately indicated by Shultz. In his statement he referred to the Austrian State Treaty of 1955, a deal concluded by Moscow and Washington after the death of Stalin. The clear message was that the death of Brezhnev and the accession of Andropov provide a similar moment.

But just as the Reagan administration was opening avenues, Andropov was battening down hatches. Though he has now added the job of president to his party post as general secretary, Andropov emerged from a series of high-level meeting in Moscow last week on the defensive.

His health, all recent appearances indicate, is not robust. Perhaps for that reason, he has lost political momentum. Though the ruling Politburo is now at a low of 11 members, no new additions were made at the Central Committee plenum last week. The inference is that Andropov does not command the majority in the Central Committee necessary for full personal

The attack on poor economic performance, foreshadowed after his accession, has also not materialized. Ideological conformity, not economic dynamism, was the theme of the main speech to the Central Committee plenum — a speech delivered by Andropov's formal rival for the leadership, Konstantin Chernenko. The major personnel move — the designation of Grigory Romanov, the Leningrad party boss, to a post on the party Secretariat in Moscow — also suggested sticky going in improving the economy. For Romanov has been noted for feathering his own nest, and for emphasis on the outmoded iron and steel complex.

Neither have matters gone well in foreign policy. The Soviet effort to split the allies on nuclear defense powers will pass in the night.

has been turned back by the rise of new leaders in West Germany (Helmut Kohl) and Japan (Yasuhiro Nakasone), and by Margaret Thatcher's electoral victory in Britain. Soviet moves toward rapprochement with China have been spoiled by a third Communist country, Vietnam. The Pope's visit to Poland shows that disaffection in Russia's East European back yard is acute.

ANDREI GROMYKO, in a speech that wound up the week's political doings in Moscow, cast a bleak eye on the international scene. He asserted that Poland "has been and remains an inalienable part of the Socialist community." He charged the U.S. and Israel were trying to "impose anti-Arab deals" in the Middle East. He reiterated the threadbare propaganda charge that the Reagan administration was subiect to "militarist intoxication." He labeled President Reagan's most recent arms control proposals an "unacceptable" invitation to Russia for "unilateral disrmament.'

A SLIGHT chink was left in the Gromyko speech. The Soviet foreign minister said that "parity" defined the present level of the superpowers in nuclear weapons. He called for negotiations on that basis, and warned against "letting slip by the truly historic

Those of us who do not want confrontation for the sake of confrontation have to hope the opportunity will not be missed. But the clouds over Moscow make it hard for Andropov to show the kind of give the U.S., not wrongly, seeks. So the odds are that the ships of the super-share with you and your readers: TOO BUSY The television is on all day

But I'm too busy. I love to hear my favorite play I could listen just all day

The radio is blasting away

Lord you know I'd love to pray

But I don't have time to pray No Lord I'm too busy I love to drive my car all day

And look at sights along the way But when it's time for church I say I'm too busy.

I love to read my favorite book, And on its pages I love to look But when it comes to God's Great I'm too busy!

I love my tennis, golf, softball From early spring till late in fall But when the Lords begins to call It seems I cannot go at all I'm too busy!

I love to sing and play and shout And do my best without a doubt To get the glorious Gospel out But Lord I'm too busy.

The party's over in Saudi Arabia

WASHINGTON — If you have no one to feel sorry for at the moment. you might want to shed a few tears for Sheik Zaki Yamani, the dapper, dashing, smooth-talking Saudi Arabian oil minister who for years has been the man who cheerfully announces OPEC's latest price

Secret reports reaching the Reagan administration detail the Saudis' financial discomfort caused by the world oil glut, and suggest that Yamani may be the fall guy for the Saudi royal family's displeasure. Insiders say the U.S.-educated sheik may be kicked upstairs as punishment for somehow allowing the flow of petrodollars into the Saudi coffers to dwindle to a relative trickle.

Sources in the administration told my associate Lucette Lagnado that Yamani has always had his enemies within the large and competitive royal family, and the current fiscal crisis gave them an excuse to make him the scapegoat. But he remains a favorite of King Fahd, and if replaced he will be given a face-saving position as a royal adviser.

Internal cable traffic from the U.S. Embassy in Riyadh to Washington makes clear that the Saudis are hurting financially — at least compared to the good old days when they could spend billions with hardly a second thought. The oil money just isn't coming in the way it used to.

"The economic retrenchment that began last year will continue in FY 1983-1984," the American Embassy economic trends report predicts. "Few new development projects were funded last year, and fewer are expected this year.'

That means hard times ahead for such giant firms as ARAMCO and Bechtel, which for years have been waxing fat on Saudi contracts. According to sources in the State and Commrce departments, Bechtel has already laid off a couple of hundred American employees, and ARAMCO is also preparing to cut

To make matters worse, the Saudis have been stalling on their payments to the U.S. firms. Some bills are reportedly several months overdue.

The American companies are playing down the situation, in hopes that business will pick up. But this may be in vain hope. The embassy's economic report notes that Saudi revenues have already dropped by 17 percent, "suddenly reversing a pattern of rapid growth." Last year alone, Saudi oil production fell from almost 10 million barrels a day to just over 6 million. This year, it's been running at 4 milion barrels a day. There are still signs of apparent prosperity, as construction work in urban areas continues. But the embassy notes that these are projects launched earlier, in boom times, and warns that some of them will be halted as the Saudi government tries to retrench

In fact, the Saudis' past profligacy is catching up with them to the point that they will have a $10 billion deficit in fiscal 1983-1984. This may seem like peanuts by U.S. standards, but as the report pointed out, "Saudi Arabia has not had a budget deficit in 20 years." Some sources predict that the Saudi deficit will run as high as $30 billion.

"The outlook for the foreign business community is not encouraging," the embassy cable warns with some understatement. "To the extent that the government succeeds in directing a larger share of available opportunities and sales to Saudi firms, the foreign firms will be squeezed.

In short, the party's over. Both hosts and guests are in for severe hangovers.

PROFITABLE POT: Each year, as much as 11,300 tons of marijuana is smuggled into this country from Colombia. A Drug Enforcement Agency study gives the dollars-andcents reason why the traffic is impossible to halt: It's simply too lucrative.

Some 10,000 Colombian farmers have found they can earn five times as much growing pot as they could with other crops.

The farmers harvest their plants by hand and pack them loosely into 100-pound sacks. Transported on muleback, the crop brings anywhere from $2 to $5 a pound from middlemen, who compress it into bales weighing 35 to 50 pounds. The American smugglers pay $50 to $100 a pound. Much of the difference goes for payoffs to corrupt officials. A Secret DEA report notes drily that the Colombian govenment 'lacks the manpower, material resources and persistence" to combat the pot traffic.

A joint U.S.-Colombian effort in 1981 netted only 2,000 tons of marijuana, less than one-fifth of the annual "export." And as the DEA noted, smugglérs can lose four out of five loads and still make a profit.

Dear Abby

Friend's accusation hurts

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old married woman who goes to a female obstetrician-gynecologist.

One of my female friends made some snide remarks concerning my choice of a female doctor, hinting that I may have some "latent lesbian tendencies."

I, in turn, cannot understand why a woman would choose a male obstetriciangynecologist, since no male has ever experienced menstrual cramps, pregnancy, childbirth or menopause.

If you took a poll, I'm sure you would find that most men go to male doctors. Does that then mean that they may have some "latent homosexual tendencies"? IRATE AND STRAIGHT

DEAR IRATE: One's sexual feelings are rarely a factor in choosing a physician. Since the doctor-patient relationship is anything but romantic, for your friend to suggest "lesbianism" where none exists could raise some questions about where she is coming from.

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 and Jim is 23. We've been married for two years and have two kids. A few months after we got married, Jim started to accuse me of looking at other men — even my two brothers-in-law. He accused me of cheating on him while he was at work and he started to hit me when he thought I was

Well, six months later I caught him calling an old girlfriend. He also went out with her one night. As time went by, I forgave him, but I never forgot it. Jim never wanted to stay home. He said the kids made him nervous, then he'd take off for a friend's house. I was never allowed to go anywhere. I had no friends to confide in because I never got out of the house to make any. After two years of this I said, "No more!"

That's when I went back to my parents and told Jim things would have to change.

Two weeks later I saw him drive by my house with a girl in the car. They were sitting very close and he had his arm around her. I talked about this to him, and he told me it was all my fault because I was the one who left.

Abby, my heart is aching. The girl he is seeing is 16. He says he still loves me, and crazy as it may seem, I still love him. I can't divorce him because I don't want to hurt him, myself or the kids. But maybe that's what he wants. Please give me some advice.

ACHING HEART IN NEW MEXICO

DEAR ACHING: Your husband has a lot of growing up to do. Jim's actions are that of an abusive, selfish, domineering, deceptive, irresponsible bully. Do not even consider going back to him until he agrees to straighten himself out by getting some serious therapy. If he refuses, you need therapy, too.

Scoliosis causes family fued

Please settle this family argument as quickly as you can. My sister and her husband have a daughter who has scoliosis. It has since been corrected. However, their doctor told them this is inherited and they are now both blaming my mother and father. Her husband is not speaking to us. Is it inherited? - S.S.

Most scoliosis is idiopathic (cause unknown). However, scoliosis falls into one of several categories: traumatic (from direct injury), neurogenic (from nerve damage), or congenital (present from birth). But even scoliosis present from birth does not necessarily mean it was inherited. In fact, the closest we can come to calling scoliosis inherited is to note that sometimes there is a family tendency to develop the problem. Exact inheritance factors have never been defined. I don't know whether this information will alter your brother-in-law's attitude toward your family. Arguments within families usually are silly affairs, and those involving medical problems seem to be sillier than most.

I don't understand your brother-in-law's position. Does he think that people with scoliosis should not marry and have children? That's absurd. Does he have access to genetic information that has eluded doctors studying scoliosis over the years? And does he realize that such problems can skip generations if they, indeed, are inherited? That could place the inheritance "blame" on his side of the family.

You don't blame people for illnesses. You try to help the victim, proceeding rationally. The important point is that the problem was detected and steps taken to correct it.

Volunteers battle floods along Colorado River

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP) - Volunteers worked overnight in darkness and rain to build up two sagging dikes and fend off the rising Colorado River, which forced more than 1,200 people to evacuate as storms and spring runoff pushed it to a record crest.

Meanwhile, hundreds of miles downstream, federal officials were considering whether to release more water today from Parker Dam. It is one of three dams between Arizona. Nevada and California on which floodgates were opened last week because of brimful reservoirs that store water and control floods from the

One man died and 15 were injured in a weekend rafting accident in the river's rapids in Grand Canyon National Park, while two men died in the swollen river in Mexico, officials said.

Weekend rains and mountain snowmelt sent the river nearly 2 1/2 feet above its 11-foot flood stage at Grand Junction on Sunday, its highest level since record-keeping began in 1908, National Weather Service officials said. The old record crest of 13 feet came by as much as another foot later today, and stay near that level several days before receding "We're talking about three to four days before it recedes enough not to worry about it," Tom Gancarz, a police spokesman, said Sunday night The rising waters inundated part of one Grand Junction neighborhood, Rosevale, causing the evacuation of about 50 of its 250 residents, and threatened a dike protecting the Riverside area, forcing authorities to order its 1,200 residents from their homes. Meanwhile, 300 residents of the Connected Lakes area began their sixth day away from their homes today after a leaking dike prompted Mesa County Sheriff Dick Williams to impose a mandatory evacuation last

Although crews have worked since Wednesday to reinforce the Connected Lakes dike, it was saturated and seeping badly early today and the river was lapp-

Williams and Gancarz said they didn't believe the dike would withstand the river's crest, and that about 75 homes could be flooded if it failed. Williams was so concerned about the dike that he allowed only a few people to work in the area Sunday.

"We feel it is such a potential danger that we don't want anybody in there," said sheriff's Capt. Bob Silva. Officials concentrated their efforts Sunday on the dike between the Colorado and the Riverside neighborhood, the largest one in danger.

The roar of heavy machinery echoed across the river as volunteers using donated construction equipment added two feet of dirt to the top of the dike.

Below, 600 volunteers stacked sandbags in an effort to build a 4-foot wall parallel to the quarter-mile long dike in case the river sloshed over the top of the earthen barrier.

The rising river also closed Interstate 70 about 15 miles west of Grand Junction between Fruita and Loma, while rain triggered mudslides on the Grand Mesa, east of Grand Junction, sending boulders crashing onto Colorado Route 65.

In Boulder City, Nev., officials of the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation said they were considering speeding the flow over Parker Dam because of increased snowmelt, but that an increase today probably would catch many homeowners off guard.

Navratilova unstoppable

Martina takes quick match from W. German

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - Continuing her awesome destruction of the women's field at Wimbledon, top-seeded Martina Navratilova crushed West Germany's Claudia Kohde 6-1, 6-2 today to advance into the quarterfinals of the All-England Tennis Championships.

The defending champion stopped Kohde, the No. 16 seed, in a rapid 39 minutes. Earlier in the tournament, she eliminated South African Beverly Mould in 32 minutes, then needed 40 minutes to oust Mima Jausovec of Yugoslavia in a third-round battle.

Wimbledon '83

Moving with quickness and grace, Navratilova broke Kohde in the second and sixth games of the first set, which took 15 minutes to complete. The Czechoslovakian-born left-hander then broke Kohde's service in the fifth and seventh games of the second set as the 19-year-old West German won only 16 points in

The 6-foot-2 West German never knew what hit her. Navratilova ripped off the first eight points of the match take take a 2-0 lead. Then she held her own serve for the second time, this time at 30, and she was quickly on her way to victory

Kohde finally was able to break through in the fourth game, holding her own service at love. But Navratilova was not to be denied.

She held her last two service games at love and broke Kohde at 30 in the sixth game.

In the second set, the two traded love games. When the West German girl held her service in the third game, she needed to fight through deuces to do it.

Kohde then fought Navratilova to deuce in the fourth game. But Navratilova took the next two points, the game-winner coming on a smash.

She then reeled off the next four games to close out

"I'm surprised at the score," Navratilova said afterward. "I expected a tougher match. But I was in the driver's seat in the second set after I went up 4-2."

GENERAL TENDENCIES. Not a day to indicate that you make some drastic or dramatic changes, but carry through with what you have already agreed to do. Show respect to others.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Forget a temptation to go off on some tangent with peculiar people or to break up existing friendships that are worthwhile.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't allow yourself the luxury of unloading burdens on one in authority or you can soon regret it. Don't socialize today.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You get many new ideas, but do not take any positive steps until you have studied them further. You need to rest tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't gamble with your business affairs or you're bound to fail. Use patience with a loved one8tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Be with individuals who are more your own kind. Forget worldly matters that are disturbing. There's nothing you can do about them.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Put off new systems you have in mind where your work is concerned. A fellow worker can be annoying, but take it in stride.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) The situation may not be good between you and a loved one, so be patient. All will soon be better than ever.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A family tie could need your help, so make sure you give it. Use the gentle approach for best results in this.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You may be worried about something and drive carelessly so be wary. Be diplomatic in conversations and correspondence. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try to cut down on expenses instead of being such a spendthrift. If you have one car too many, sell one.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are in a violent mood, but get hold of yourself. Do nothing later that could cause friends to worry about you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) One you rely upon for sympathy has his own worries now, so learn to be less dependent. Break a despondent mood. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will listen to the dreary, sad stories of others and become pessimistic if you don't plan for a good education. Your progeny can be quite a boon to society in general and therefore should have good spiritual training.

Panther rookie sets pass record, blisters Blitz

580 Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Mon., June 27, 1983

By The Associated Press "It just seemed like everything fell into place," was the way Michigan Panthers rookie quarterback Bobby Hebert summed up his record-breaking performance. Five of his passes fell neatly into the arms of receivers Anthony Carter, Derek Holloway and Ken Lacy as Hebert set a United States Football League record for touchdown passes in one game and increased his league lead in that department to 26. Hebert defied the heat in Soldier Field — where the temperatures reached 99 degrees in the stands and zoomed to an estimated 134 degrees on the artificial turf — and blistered the Chicago Blitz secondary with 12 completions in 21 attempts for 247 yards.

His performance before 25,041 fans - 7,100 above the Blitz's average home attendance — led the Panthers to a 34-19 triumph Sunday over their Central Division rivals and pulled them into a tie with Chicago for the division lead.

USFL Roundup

Each team is 11-6 with one week to go in the regular season. But Michigan would win the division in case of a tie because they won both head-to-head confrontations this season.

In other USFL games Sunday, the Washington Federals defeated the Los Angeles Express 28-21 and the Philadelphia Stars beat the Birmingham Stallions

On Saturday night, the Oakland Invaders clinched the Pacific Division championship with a 17-16 victory over the Boston Breakers and the New Jersey Generals beat the Arizona Wranglers 21-14.

The Denver Gold meets the Bandits Monday night at Tampa Bay.

"I thought it would be a dogfight to the end. But we got the big plays when we needed them," said Hebert. who opened the scoring with a 39-yard pass to Ken Lacy. His other TD passes were of 42 and 15 yards to Holloway and 35 and 32 yards to Carter, whose eight receptions for 143 yards gave him over 1,000 yards for the season.

'We lost to a better team today," said losing Coach George Allen, whose team must combine a win against Oakland next Sunday with a Michigan loss to Arizona in order to win the remaining division title.

"It's like going through four years of medical school, getting all 'A's' and 'B's' and when it comes to getting your degree you don't pass the final exam."

Federals 28, Express 21

Craig James, benched early in the game after his seventh fumble of the season, came back to score two touchdowns to pace Washington to only its third victory of the season.

James scored the winning touchdown on an 18-yard run with 6:28 to play before 9,792 at RFK Stadium. There were 12,160 no shows. After the benching, James returned to match his high for the season gaining 90 yards rushing on 14 attempts. He scored his first TD on a 5-yard run with 7:35 left in the third quarter. Stars 31, Stallions 10

Allen Harvin ran for touchdowns of 1 and 19 yands and set up a score by Kelvin Bryant with a 44-yard option pass as Philadelphia built a 24-0 cushion and hung

Rangers win their sixth straight

ARLINGTON (AP) — The Texas Rangers are glad they have the opportunity today to take their winning ways on the road. The Oakland A's, on the other hand, are glad to get out of Texas.

The Rangers, winners of six straight games, capped the most successful long homestand in the history of the franchise with a 4-1 rain-shortened victory over the A's Sunday night.

For Oakland, the loss was the sixth in a row, the 10th in the past 14 games and the end of a long, frusurating road trip.

'Our pitching has kept us in a lot of ballgames,' said Texas hurler Danny Darwin, who allowed three hits and struck out six swinging for his sixth win in 12 decisions

"Now that our hitters are coming along, we're still getting the good pitching. If we keep those two things going, we're going to be a tough ball club," Darwin They already are. Texas leads the American League

Western Division in pitching and is 16-7 in June, tieing the club's record number of wins in the month with four games to go.

Texas opens an 11-game road trip tonight in California, which trails the first-place Rangers by a game in the standings

'It's a good time for us (to go on the road),'' Darwin said. "We're playing well. They (Angels) know we can play with them

The A's are hoping they can play better in Oakland than they did in Texas, where they lost every game of a four-game series. The loss ended the A's four-city road

"It's been too long a road trip. Fourteen days is sure a long time to be away from home — especially when you're playing bad baseball," said Oakland manager Steve Boros.

'This is going to be a roadtrip I'll remember for a long time,' he said. "We've had injuries and we've had ball games that got away from us. You name it, and we've had it on this trip.

"I hope things will be better when we get home," Boros said.

With one out in the top of the eighth inning, lightning hit a transformer and knocked out the stadium lights, which were restarted as heavy rain began. After a 52-minute wait, the game was called

Ricky Peters gave the A's a 1-0 lead in the first when he walked, stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored on Mike Davis' ground-rule double.

Billy Sample's checked-swing single drove in two Texas runs in the bottom of the inning against loser Steve McCatty, 1-3.

Buddy Bell hit the first pitch in the exas thir for his eighth homer and a 3-1 Texas lead. One inning later, Pete O'Brien tripled and scored on

Bucky Dent's single. Wayne Tolleson singled to extend his hitting streak to 15 games and stole a base, giving the Rangers a total of 64 steals this season, one more than they had during the entire season last year. Tolleson singled his first three at-bats and finished the evening 3-for-4.

'This was a tough homestand, and winning really does cure a number of things," said Bell. "It's too early to tell what's going to happen (this season), but we ought to be proud of ourselves for the way we've played.

Blue Jays 19, Mariners 7

Heaven help the pitcher that faces the Toronto Blue Jays on June 26, 1988.

On June 26, 1978, the Blue Jays destroyed Baltimore 24-10 in a game in which the Orioles resorted to using backup catcher Elrod Hendricks as pitcher.

On Sunday — June 26, 1983 — lightning struck again. Toronto pounded out 21 hits against five Seattle pitchers, including reserve infielder Manny Castillo, in slaughtering the Mariners 19-7.

"I don't want for anyone to get the impression I thought this was fun," said Seattle's new manager, Del Crandall, who replaced the fired Rene Lachemann on

Dave Collins, who had driven in just four runs all season, knocked in a career-high five to pace the Toronto onslaught. Mickey Klutts had a pair of solo homers and Rance Mulliniks added a solo shot — all off Castillo — while Ernie Whitt also homered for the Blue

The 21 hits and 19 runs were the most ever by a Seattle opponent and the loss was the worst in the Mariners' seven-year history. The victory enabled the Blue Jays to remain tied with Baltimore for first place in the AL East, while Seattle has lost nine of 10.

'What did you think we were going to do, win 30 in a row?" Crandall said. "I've seen it happen both ways. I don't want it to get blown out of proportion.'

Crandall's Mariners had beaten Toronto 5-2 in his first game Saturday night. But the Blue Jays wasted no time in jumping all over Seattle starter Bob Stoddard, 4-10.

Collins ripped a two-run double and Cliff Johnson added a two-run single as Toronto scored six times in the third inning to take a 9-0 lead.

When Roy Thomas, Seattle's only available long reliever, got raked for four runs in one-third of an inning and Mike Stanton, normally a short reliever, gave up three more runs in 21-3 innings, Crandall brought in Castillo, who had never pitched in the majors.

He got shelled for seven runs on eight hits in 2 2-3 innings, including a wild pitch and a hit batsman. He walked three and struck out Lloyd Moseby and Jesse Barfield, both swinging.

"They ran out of pitchers," said Toronto Manager Bobby Cox. "It happens to everyone sometime. I've been on the other end a few times.

Orioles 3, Tigers 1

Storm Davis held Detroit hitless for eight innings before giving up pinch hitter Rick Leach's leadoff homer in the ninth.

Davis had allowed only one runner — Enos Cabell, who walked in the fourth — before Leach's first homer of the season

Following the homer, Davis, 5-3, walked John Grubb and fell behind in the count to Lou Whitaker. Tippy Martinez relieved at that point and got his 10th save. Baltimore leadoff hitter Al Bumbry homered in the first and Cal Ripken hit a two-run blast, his 12th, in the

Red Sox 12, Yankees 5

Boston spotted New York a 3-0 lead after two innings and then roared back. Dwight Evans cracked a threerun homer to highlight a four-run fourth before the Red Sox added four more runs in fifth. Reid Nichols then doubled in a pair of runs during a four-run eighth.

Evans' 12th homer sparked the fourth-inning rally, fueled by errors by third baseman Roy Smalley and center fielder Jerry Mumphrey. After Evans homered, Carl Yastrzemski doubled and scored on Jerry Remy's single to put Boston ahead 4-3.

The double was Yastrzemski's 1,132nd extra-base hit, tying him with Tris Speaker for eighth place on the all-time list.

White Sox 9, Twins 7

Chicago's bats were hotter than the weather as Greg Luzinski hit a towering homer and Scott Fletcher drove in three runs with a single, triple and his first major-league home run.

It was 100 degrees in Chicago as Luzinski's two-run homer keyed a four-run third inning that put the White Sox ahead 5-4. Luzinski's blast landed on the upper deck roof in left field, making him only the 21st player to hit a ball on or over the roof at Comiskey Park.

Tom Brunansky's three-run homer, his 11th, pulled Minnesota within 9-7 in the eighth. Minnesota had scored three times in the first, two on Randy Bush's

Brewers 4, Indians 3

Cleveland and Milwaukee traded home runs before Robin Yount's eighth-inning double snapped a 3-3 tie. Cecil Cooper belted a two-run homer in the first inning and drilled No. 14 in the third to give the Brewers a 3-0 lead

The Indians came back in the sixth when Mike Hargrove tripled and scored on a wild pitch and Andre Thornton hit his 10th homer. Cleveland tied it in the eighth when former Brewer Gorman Thomas, who had been 0-for-9 in the series in Milwaukee, slammed a solo homer, his seventh.

But the Brewers bounced back in the bottom of the eighth when Jim Gantner singled and scored on

Knight, Astros outslug

Saturday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Houston's Ray Knight was in the race for the National League batting championship a good part of the 1982 season, but he fell off the final weeks of the season and finished 12th, at .294.

"I was thinking I had to get three hits every game, and I was worrying about what other guys were doing," recalled Knight, who's giving it another good run in '983. "This year," said Knight, who collected three hits Sunday when the Astros outlasted

Los Angeles, 7-7, "I'm taking it one at-bat at a time, that's all. Knight's 3-for-3 lifted his batting average to .333, second in the NL to St. Louis's George

Hendrick, who is hitting .342. "Ray reminds me a lot of Rusty Staub, when he was going for the batting title in '67,' said Houston Manager Bob Lillis. "Both are good hitters, they make contact, and they have good batting eyes. Knight got the Astros started on their first win all season against the Dodgers (they had dropped the first seven meetings) with a tworun single in the first inning. He singled again in the third inning and in the seventh.

Dickie Thon unloaded the decisive blow, a three-run homer in the sixth inning, his eighth of the season, expanding the Astros' lead from 5-3 to 8-3. The Dodgers came back with two runs in the sixth on Rick Monday's fourth home run, a run in the eighth on Mike Marshall's sixth homer, and an unearned run in the ninth.

"I don't try to hit home runs," said Thon. who has four in the last nine games after hitting only three his first four years in the ma-"I was looking for a pitch I could drive, and I got it.' The loss left the Dodgers with only a 21/2-game lead in the NL West after leading by 51/2 one week earlier.

"It's important we beat these guys," Thon said. "We've got to beat them all the time, at least three of four every time we play them, if we're going to catch up. The Dodgers have good hitters, and I knew they'd be tough, even when we got ahead. They keep coming back.' It was Thon's error that contributed to the Dodgers' run in the ninth. Mike Scott, 4-3, earned the win, but Dave Smith pitched the final 3 2-3 innings to preserve it with his second save. Alejandro

Pena, 6-3, the first of five Los Angeles pitchers, took the loss

"We're starting to score some runs," Los Angeles Manager Tom Lasorda said, alluding to the Dodgers' prolonged hitting slump. "But we got seven runs today and didn't win. That's tough to take.

Pirates 5, Cardinals 0 Manager Chuck Tanner of the streaking Pittsburgh Pirates put the situaion in perspective. "It's a baseball season, instead of a baseball month," Tanner said after his club had beaten St. Louis 5-0 Sunday for its eighth straight victory and sent the Cardinals to their sixth con-

For Rusty Staub of the New York Mets and Jody Davis of the Chicago Cubs, though, it's been a pretty good half-month of baseball.

Staub tied Dave Philley's single-season record with his eighth consecutive pinch hit, extending a streak that began June 11. Davis drove in six runs for the Chicago Cubs, four of them with his second career grand slam homer, exactly two weeks after he hit his first Staub's pinch hit single was wasted in Philadelphia's 8-4 victory in the first game of a doubleheader. His streak remained intact as he sat out the nightcap, won by the Mets 5-1 on a three-hitter by Mike Torrez.

Phillies 8-1, Mets 4-5

Joe Lefebvre ripped a three-run pinch homer and Bo Diaz drove in three runs with a homer and double as Philadelphia captured the opener. The Mets gained the split as rookie Darryl Strawberry drove in three runs with a triple and homer and George Foster contributed a two-run pinch homer to back the three-hit pitching of Mike Torrez.

Staub's ninth inning pinch single kept his streak alive. He has had two doubles, a homer and five singles in his last eight pinch-hitting appearances.

Cubs 9, Expos 5

Davis, the Cubs' catcher, upped his RBI total to 40 for the season, slugging his second career slam against Randy Lerch in the second inning. His first came on June 12, exactly two weeks earlier. Davis drove in two more runs in the fifth and credited new teammate Dick Ruthven with his recent surge

Despite the loss, Montreal remained 31/2 games in front of St. Louis in the National League East race.

Braves 5, Reds 1 Phil Niekro tossed a three-hitter, befuddling Cincinnati's rookie-laden lineup with his knuckleball as Atlanta beat the Reds for the fourth straight time.

Brett Butler led the Atlanta attack with four hits including two triples, and Rafael Ramirez contributed three hits

Giants 2-4, Padres 0-3

Atlee Hammaker pitched a four-hitter for his third shutout of the season and lowered his National League-leading earned run average to 1.52, pitching San Francisco past San Diego in the first game. Hammaker struck out 12 and won his 11th straight game over two seasons at Candlestick Park.

In the nightcap, San Francisco completed the sweep when Max Venable's two-out, tworun bloop double in the fifth inning snapped a

Pilots soar into championships

HOBBS, N.M. (AP) - The 18th World Soaring Championships were beginning today with sail plane pilots guiding their crafts in competition over the hot, dry plains of eastern New Mexico and West Texas. The 109 pilots in the competition are from 25 coun-championships Pilots last Tuesday began practice flights in their fiberglass aircraft. Most of the pilots took to the skies Saturday in the final chance for practice, but others opted for an extra day of rest before the 14 days of competition.

The terrain is unfamiliar to many pilots, and the practice runs gave them a chance to get a feel for the currents of air over the desert countryside.

Michelle Silver, spokeswoman for the Soaring Society of America, said the area has particularly strong thermals — columns of hot air that move up and carry the sailplanes to higher altitudes.

Other terrains, especially mountainous ones, have wind patterns known as ridge lifts and wave lifts that provide different soaring conditions, she said.
