Odessa rates 'most murderous city'

ODESSA (AP) — City officials here don't dispute Odessa's rating as the most murderous city in the United States, but they contend the finding paints a more unflattering and violent picture than this West Texas city deserves.

"It has some of the finest churches and Christian people ... to be found anywhere in Texas," said Odessa Mayor Bob Bryant. "Odessa, per capita, is one of the church-goingest towns I know of."

According to figures compiled by the FBI and released Monday, the Odessa metropolitan area had the highest murder rate in the country in 1982, with 29.8 murders for every 100,000 residents.

The National Coalition to Ban Handguns interpreted the figures as a reflection of the traditional popularity of handguns in Texas.

"We feel there's a definite correlation" between the Texas murder rate and the availability of handguns in the state, said Paul Lavrakas, coalition field director.

"It's awfully easy to get a handgun in Texas," Lavrakas said.

Bryant told the Fort Worth Star Telegram that Odessa residents, as well as other West Texans, are more aggressive in protecting their property than are people in other parts in the country.

"If you go out and break into a guy's house, he's liable to shoot you," Bryant said.

Jenny Welch, executive vice president of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce, said that crime increased as transient workers sought work in the oil-rich region during the oil boom.

"We were probably one of the last areas in the nation to feel the recession. As a result, we had a lot of people coming in," she said. "We feel like the report about Odessa's violent crimes is not really representative of the community that we have now."

Ms. Welch said that during the oil boom, Odessa's population peaked at about 125,000. But now that the recession has tapered off, she said the population has dropped to about 100,000. She said the crime rate dropped along with the population.

"It just means we had a bad year," said police Lt. Rusty Baker.

He said that within the Odessa city limits, 18 slayings were committed in 1981 and 27 in 1982.

Police Sgt. Jerry Smith said last year's higher unemployment figures and smaller police force may be the culprit for some of the homicides. But he urged residents to "look at the whole picture."

Anthony Foster, an assistant district attorney in Odessa, agrees.

"At this particular time, we've had less murders than we had last year," Foster said.

Odessa's police department recently was authorized to increase its force from 156 to 221, and officials say this will aid in further deterring crime.

Lamesa vote sparks opposition

LAMESA (SC) — Despite opposition from a group of Hispanic residents, the Lamesa city council yesterday voted to establish a reserve police force.

The council heard from several persons who claimed police force members discriminate against minorities in Lamesa.

Jose Zorola said he opposed the reserve force because it would add to the problems of the Hispanic community.

Others pointed to a history of police brutality toward Hispanic residents, such as the incident three years ago at the National Guard Armory which resulted in the resignation of Officer Lee Bartlett Jr.

Mayor Nelson Hogg and other members of council said they are trying to get the best qualified people for the force.

Mayor Pro-tem Nickey Smith said, "Until there is more trust going on in both directions, the problems are going to get worse and worse."

TESCO hearings in 2nd week

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN — The last day of hearings on West Texas Utilities Co.'s $26.6 million rate hike case became a "my formula is better than your formula" battle Monday.

Hearings examiner Jesus Si-fuentes is expected to take about a month to write his recommendation for the three-member Public Utility Commission.

A final decision should be made by Oct. 21, West Texas Utilities (WTU) Vice President G.H. King said after the five days of hearings ended. That's the date WTU could impose temporary new rates without commission approval, subject to refund.

Meanwhile, Texas Electric Service Co. (TESCO) began its second week of hearings on a request for a $195 million increase in annual revenues.

Attorneys in that rate case are hoping to complete testimony by Friday but acknowledge it could continue into next week.

At stake in WTU's battle of the formulas was a $6.9 million difference between the utility's request for working capital and that proposed by the Texas Municipal League, which represents a number

McGovern's presidential plans opposed by wife, former aides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former South Dakota Sen. George S. McGovern, rejecting the advice of family members and longtime aides, is running for president once more, a decade after his longshot liberal campaign won the Democratic nomination but lost to Richard M. Nixon's landslide.

"When I lost in 1972 they said I was 10 years ahead of my time," McGovern, 61, said late last year when he disclosed he was thinking about running for the Democratic presidential nomination. "Well, it's 10 years later."

The formal announcement was expected today before an audience at George Washington University.

This time, as in 1972,

GEORGE MCGOVERN ...plans campaign

McGovern begins far behind the field of contenders for the 1984

Democratic nomination.

But he has additional handicaps, as well.

His wife, Eleanor, is against the race and won't campaign with him this time. Many former aides are involved with other campaigns, and still others have urged him strongly not to run.

"I'm not enthusiastic," Mrs. McGovern said in a telephone interview. "I have said 'No, I won't campaign.'" She said she might change her mind as the race wears on.

For McGovern, it will be the third try for the White House.

He ran for the nomination but lost in 1968. Four years later he started out far behind the field, but captured the nomination. He was buried beneath Nixon's land-

One-cent drop approved for county tax rate

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

Howard County Commissioners voted unanimously Monday to set the 1983-84 county tax rate at 23 cents per $100 valuation, a one-cent reduction from the 1982-83 tax rate.

Commissioners also agreed to raise county employee salaries 5 percent in the 1983-84 budget.

Commissioners will wait to adopt the $6.58 million budget until their next meeting Sept. 25.

The proposed budget would increase by less than 3 percent over the 1982-83 budget, commissioners said.

County auditor Jackie Olson estimated a balance of $1.5 million at the beginning of the fiscal year on Oct. 1. A 23-cent per $100 property tax on approximately $1.5 billion in net assessed property value should produce $3.46 million in taxes, Olson said, but she estimated that about 10 percent of the taxes could not be collected.

She also said the county would collect $20,000 in last year's delinquent taxes, leaving a total tax revenue of $3.13 million for fiscal year 1983-84.

Property taxes and other funds should bring in $5.08 million dollars. However, county expenditures are estimated at about $5.5 million. The remaining balance at the end of the 1983-84 fiscal year is expected to be $1.8 million.

Commissioner Louis Brown said he was concerned the budget would not include any money to improve the county jail, which he said could

New Coahoma mayor named

COAHOMA — Jim Rackley was appointed mayor of Coahoma last night by the city council after Mayor Johnny Justiss resigned.

Justiss, vice president of Coahoma State Bank, said he was "too busy" to handle the responsibilities of the office and also attend his bank duties.

He said there were no personal disagreements with the council or town that led to his resignation. Justiss had served as mayor since his appointment in January. He was elected to the post in April.

Councilman Ronnie Dodson said Justiss previously had discussed the possibility of stepping down, so the resignation came as no surprise to the council.

Rackley, a computer salesman, has served on the council since April 1981 and was mayor pro tem at the time of Justiss' resignation.

Action/reaction: School busing

Q. Why did the Big Spring Independent School District charter buses for the Lubbock Estacado football game? And how much did they cost?

A. According to BSISD superintendent Lynn Hise, the athletic team travels by bus to games more than 100 miles away. The band went in chartered buses because transporting it in school buses would have meant letting school out early so the drivers could drive the regular after-school bus routes. The chartered buses also could return home faster, an important factor since the game was on a Thursday night, he said. The four chartered buses used for the band cost "in the same ballpark" as the cost of five school buses, which would be needed to transport all the instruments and equipment, Hise said.

MAKING PREPARATIONS — The colorful room where Dar al-Islam followers wash their feet before prayer awaits worshippers to make their preparations.

Islam comes to N. Mexico with mosque

ABIQUIU, N.M. (AP) — The 2,260-square-foot adobe mosque is hidden among the juniper trees and scrub bushes that dot the rolling hills of northern New Mexico.

But for the 20 families living north of this 300-year-old Spanish village, the mosque, with its self-supporting domed roofs, vaults and arches, is the focal point of their small colony and is the only rural Muslim mosque in the United States, supporters say.

"We're not building a community. We're not trying to change what is already here," said Nuridin Durkee, explaining what he and his non-profit educational and religious organization, Dar al-Islam, are hoping to accomplish. "We're not a commune. We're not remnants of the '60s or '70s."

So far, reaction from the residents of this area north of Santa Fe has been cautious but favorable.

"They (the Muslims) have been no problem," said one woman, who asked not to be identified. "When they first bought the land, we didn't know what to think. But they have made every effort to be nice and stay to themselves. I don't think anyone here cares."

The mosque, built out of clay, mud, straw and adobe bricks, was dedicated in June 1981.

"The bricks are smaller than those conventionally used," said Durkee, a New York native who converted to Islam from Catholicism about 17 years ago. "They were laid by hand in a way to support each other. It's the way it was done almost 1,000 years ago, and it's a much cheaper way to build."

Wooden doors, hand-made by Dar al-Islam members, open into the mosque, which is barren except for a colorful Mexican-tiled foot wash on the side and a row of wooden boxes similar to mail slots where shoes are placed before worshippers can enter various praying rooms.

Other plans for the 1,200 acres of land Dar al-Islam purchased for $1.3 million include a school and library, a medical center, several small houses and "one day, hopefully, a hotel-motel complex and restaurant," Durkee said.

The complex is expected to take 10 years to complete.

Most of the Muslims work at Dar al-Islam, either helping with the construction or teaching the 40 children who live there, Durkee said.

"There are projects like this all over the country, but they're in urban settings," he said. "We wanted to be able to build this foundation in an area where we felt we could expand our project in a peaceful environment."

"The topography is similar to the Middle East. So is the climate. And the people, the Spanish people, they're traditional and conservative. We're traditional and conservative," he said, adding that has helped the relations between the Muslims and the local people.

"We hire some of the people from Abiquiu and we use a lot of their facilities, like the school, until we can get ours done," he said. "Of course, we've gone out of our way to not get involved. We're trying to go slowly."

He said current plans call for the addition of five families annually.

"Our aim is to have about 100 to 150 families and that's over the 10-year period," Durkee said.

The money needed to complete the project and used to buy the land comes to Dar al-Islam from donations, he said.

"It's given from Muslims all over the world," he said. "You know, people hear the word Muslim and they think we're all rich, with an oil well in each pocket. Well, that's not the case. We get the money from private donations. It's like any non-profit organization."

The "misconceptions" about Muslims and Islam account for the involvement of many people in Dar al-Islam, according to a member of its board of directors, Sahl Kabbani, a Saudi Arabian businessman.

Kabbani said he always wanted to "repay America" for the education he received at the Worcester Polytechnic Institute in Massachusetts.

He and Durkee devised the idea of Dar al-Islam after meeting in Mecca several years ago.

"We both had the same dream — to bring Islam to America," Kabbani said. "And since Nuridin was a Western Muslim, we knew it could work. We knew he could communicate with Americans."

Dawson to fight beer sales

LAMESA — Dawson County Commissioners yesterday unanimously agreed to fight County Judge Glenn White's ruling last week that granted a retail beer sales license to the newly organized town of Los Ybanes.

Lamesa resident Homer Etheridge Monday presented commissioners a petition containing over 1,000 names calling for the revocation of the license, which would bring legalized liquor sales to Dawson County for the first time in more than a century.

Cap Rock recounts; Phillips in

A recount of Saturday's Cap Rock Electric Cooperative District 3 board race showed incumbent Edgar Phillips has been re-elected for a three-year term.

The election committee announced Saturday that Phillips had been defeated by Ray Walker. However, due to the closeness of the results, election committee Chairman L. C. Hazlewood Jr., and a member of that committee, Eldon Welch, called for a recount.

The recount showed that Phillips was the winner. Other elected directors were P. G. (Sammy) Yates in District 6, and incumbent Bob Cox in District 8.

West in hospital for tests

Justice of the Peace Bobby West has checked into Hall-Bennett Hospital for a general checkup, according to a spokeswoman at his courthouse office.

West had not been feeling well and went into the hospital for some tests, according to his office. Hall-Bennett officials today said West is "in good shape" and resting comfortably.

Tax district presents budget

The Howard County Consolidated Tax Appraisal District will conduct a public hearing at 1 p.m. Wednesday on its proposed 1984 budget.

Directors also will discuss making several amendments to the 1983 budget.

The amendments include the addition of more than $13,000 for a computer system and the transfer of more than $14,000 for the creation of a new account, the Board Liability Insurance account.

Blood drive scheduled

KBST radio and the National Guard are sponsoring the second annual M-A-S-H 1490 blood drive on Saturday from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m.

The blood drive is intended to educate the public on the shortage of donors.

Big Spring used 2,421 units of blood in 1982 and gave only 1,876 units. The rest was made up by donors in surrounding areas.

The blood drive will be held at the Big Spring National Guard Armory. Various weapons, including a 90 mm recoilless rifle, an Army field ambulance and possibly a medivac helicopter will be on display. The Guard's Delta Company, including personnel from Midland, will be drilling.

Tax rate

"If something comes up that we have to build or do anything, we don't have that budgeted," Brown said.

Other commissioners suggested the county raise any needed funds for the jail by selling bonds.

"Sure, but do you think a bond (election) will pass with this drought?" Brown asked.

In other action, commissioners voted 3-0 to provide $3,400 a year to continue participating in a tri-county breathalyzer program operated from Midland College.

Brown and William Crocker were not present for the vote. The vote reversed a decision commissioners made last month not to participate in the program. Instead, commissioners decided to participate in the breathalyzer program run by the Department of Public Safety for free.

However, they changed their minds after a chemical test supervisor from the Austin DPS office, Brian Edmiston, testified at the meeting that the DPS program in Abilene already is overburdened and includes 18 or 19 other counties.

Commissioners also said the price quoted for the Midland College program at the last meeting was about $9,000 a year, almost three times the price Edmiston quoted Monday.

Commissioners said they had no choice but to pay for the program used in prosecuting persons for driving while intoxicated, which originally was funded by a federal grant.

"If we don't furnish it (the breathalyzer), the city will go out of business. The police will go back to charging (persons who are) DWIs with public intoxication. They ain't going to tell you that's what they are going to do, but that's what they're going to do," County Judge Milton Kirby said.

To fund the $700 a month fee, 18 percent of the total cost of the program the county shares with Midland and Ector counties, Kirby said he is considering adding a $20 court cost to DWI-related cases.

County commissioners also decided not to block unemployment benefits for a former county employee, Linda Arsiaga. Arsiaga was fired as Justice of the Peace Bobby West's secretary this summer because she could not "adequately perform the work required," according to unemployment records.

Commissioners declined to contest her application for unemployment benefits partly because West is in the hospital and could not discuss the problem.

Hearings

"Working capital is what you need to pay your bills," said league witness Gregory Tarasar, a partner in the Dallas accounting firm of Touche Ross & Co.

In the case of electric utilities, he noted, it must take into account the "lag time" between providing the electricity and being paid for it.

Under his analysis using the so-called "balance sheet formula," Tarasar said West Texas Utilities needs only $5.2 million in working capital.

However, the utility used another formula in arriving at its $12.1 million estimate of working capital.

With $6.9 million at stake, "you can see why they're upset about it," Tarasar said.

In trying to rebut Tarasar's testimony, WTU brought in the Public Utility Commission's former chief accountant, Thomas L. Boudreaux of the accounting firm Arthur Andersen & Co.

Despite his lack of faith in the balance sheet formula, Boudreaux acknowledged that during his early years with the commission he used a simplified version of it.

Abilene City Attorney Harvey Cargill asked Boudreaux how he reconciled touting one method while working for the commission and another while working for electric utilities. Boudreaux said that after some years of reflection and examination of several studies, he has found that the utilities' method is more accurate in measuring the modern electric utility business.

In the TESCO hearing, the utility's witnesses completed their testimony, giving way to witnesses for those groups protesting the proposed rate hike.

One of the last TESCO witnesses, New York investment banker Eugene W. Meyer said the company's AAA bond rating holds down their monthly bills.

McGovern

McGovern and his aides have said he intends to campaign strongly against President Reagan's foreign policy and the "unfairness" of his economic policies.

He is expected to come out for a variety of steps to promote full employment, curb the arms race and trim defense spending — all delivered with what one adviser called a "sharper edge" than he feels the other Democrats have wielded.

One longtime adviser, Henry L. Kimelman, noted that McGovern won his national reputation by opposing the Vietnam War.

He believes "we have no alternative but to live peacefully and to coexist with the Russians," said Kimelman. "He will project himself as the kind of man who will sit down with them."

A spokesman, Mark Kaminsky, conceded the campaign starts out months behind the field, including former Vice President Walter F. Mondale, the frontrunner; former Florida Gov. Reubin Askew and Sens. Alan Cranston of California, John Glenn of Ohio, Ernest Hollings of South Carolina and Gary Hart of Colorado.

Hart served as McGovern's campaign manager in 1972, and sources said the two men corresponded briefly early this year. McGovern wrote Hart at one point saying he didn't believe this year's contenders were saying "what needed to be said," according to one source, who asked not to be identified.

Hart responded by shipping off copies of some of his speeches and position papers. This source said McGovern read the Hart material, then boned up on what the other contenders were saying.

Sheriff's Log

Two arrested on warrants transferred

Howard County sheriff's deputies Monday transferred two persons arrested on Howard County warrants by the Midland County sheriff's office to the county jail.

Bernard Hastings, 59, of 403 Trades was arrested in connection with revocation of probation and driving while intoxicated. Jimmy Pena, 30, of Midland also was arrested in connection with revocation of probation. No bond will be set, according to deputies' records.

John Raymond Elrod, 34, of 403 Washington was arrested Monday in connection with a charge of DWI and a traffic violation. Elrod was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Willie Grant. Bond was set at $1,000 for DWI and $200 for the traffic violation. Elrod remains in the county jail awaiting the arrival of a probation officer.

Domingo Galaviz, 22, of 301 N.E. Seventh, was transferred Monday from the city jail to the county jail in connection with charges of drinking while driving, failure to carry a driver's license and failure to carry liability insurance.

Galaviz later was released on $1,500 bond for the DWI charge, $200 for failure to carry insurance and $100 for driving without a license. Bond was set by Peace Justice Lewis Heflin.

Juan Earl Williams, 35, of 1502 Bluebird was transferred Monday to the county jail from the police department in connection with a charge of evading arrest. Williams was released on $2,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

Sharon L. Crawford, 22, of 1600 Robin was released on $1,000 bond in connection with a charge of revocation of probation. Bond was set by County Court Judge Milton Kirby.

Sheriff's deputies Sunday arrested Earnest Franco Diaz, 30, of 710 W. Sixth and Humberto Ochoa, 25, of Ozona in connection with unlawfully carrying a weapon and possession of under 2 ounces of marijuana. Both men were released on two $1,000 bonds each. Bond was set by Peace Justice Heflin.

Richard T. Blevins, 28, 1308 E. Sixth St. was released Monday after serving seven days of a 10-day sentence in the county jail for revocation of probation on a charge of drinking while driving. He received three days credit.

Jerry Don Kinman, 43, of Gail Route and Manuel Rodriguez Gutierrez, 31, of Route 2, were transferred to the county from the Department of Public Safety in connection with charges of DWI. Daratt set bond at $1,000 for each person.

The DPS also transferred Jack Frazier Jr., 55, of Route 1 and Fred James Wilkinson, 31, of Snyder to the county jail in connection with charges of DWI. Daratt set bond at $1,000 each.

The police department transferred Sirilo E. Nieto, 38, of 1400 Dixie to county authorities in connection with a charge of DWI and fleeing arrest. Daratt set bond at $2,500.

Continental dials lower figure for phone rate hike

AUSTIN — Continental Telephone Co., which serves Mitchell and Scurry counties, agreed Monday to a $1.76 million boost in annual revenues instead of the $10.6 million increase they originally requested.

The settlement came after several days of negotiations between the Public Utility Commission staff, Texas Municipal League and company representatives. The commission hearing examiner must still make a recommendation on the case. A final decision rests with the commission.

Negotiations began last week with the commission staff proposing the company's revenues be cut by almost $1 million. But commission staff attorney Eric Stein said the company convinced the staff it had evidence in some areas, such as payroll expenses, to support a revenue increase.

Proposed rate figures under the settlement were not available Monday afternoon. Originally, the company sought to increase rates from $7.60 to $11.50 a month in the smallest cities and from $9.85 to $14.40 in the largest exchanges.

Continental Telephone serves 136,000 customers in 113 Texas counties.

Large cash amount stolen

Odell Domino of 3622 reported $10,000 stolen from his residence yesterday. Domino told police that a person known to him entered his residence and took the money while he was in another room. The money was in 10 stacks of $1,000 each.

Senate breaks into song

BOSTON — Actress Stephanie Mills, star of "The Wiz," was right up front — on the podium — as cast members of the touring musical visited the Massachusetts Senate, causing Senate President William Bulger to break into song.

"There's No Business Like Show Business," sang Bulger who later joined performer-director Geoffrey Holder in a duet of "Danny Boy."

As Ms. Mills, star of the updated stage version of "The Wizard Of Oz," appeared on the podium Monday, Bulger eased legislative rules so photographers could take pictures as she had fun banging Bulger's gavel.

"When she banged the gavel three times, the big question was whether we were in Kansas or still in Oz," quipped Sen. George Bachrach.

Spelling has big heart

LOS ANGELES — Television producer Aaron Spelling, touched by the story of a young man needing a heart transplant, has donated $100,000 to help pay for the operation.

"I was overwhelmed," said 20-year-old Derrick Gordon of the gift Monday from Spelling, who helped create such hit TV shows as "Dynasty," "Charlie's Angels," "Mod Squad," "Hart to Hart," "Love Boat," "Fantasy Island" and "Starsky and Hutch."

The contribution will give Gordon "a new chance at a new life," says Dr. Linda Kocsis, who has been treating Gordon.

The operation would be performed at the Stanford Medical Center and Spelling's gift would pay most of the $125,000 guaranteed fee the hospital requires.

Cardinal recovering

BOSTON — Cardinal Humberto Medeiros is able to walk about as he recovers from what was described as a mild attack and may be released from St. Elizabeth's Hospital late this week, a spokeswoman for the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston says.

"His eminence spent a restful weekend in the interim coronary care unit," spokeswoman Ethel Froia said Monday. "All signs indicate that his mild heart attack is healing properly."

Through the use of special monitors, the 67-year-old Medeiros is able to walk around, she added.

This is Medeiros' sixth hospitalization in the past 18 months. He suffers from diabetes and high blood pressure.

Hash may soon start flying

BURBANK, Calif. — The hash can soon start flying again at Mel's Diner. Mel — also known as actor Vic Tayback — is out of the hospital after triple heart bypass surgery.

"He had an excellent recovery," said spokeswoman Rhoda Weiss of St. Joseph's Medical Center after the 53-year-old actor, a star on TV's "Alice," was released Monday, nine days after he underwent the operation.

"It usually takes anywhere from 10 days to two weeks" to recover, Ms. Weiss said.

Taping of 16 episodes of "Alice" this season have been delayed due to Tayback's surgery, Warner Bros. Television spokeswoman Bette Ashley said. Six episodes for the new CBS season however were finished before Tayback's surgery, she said.

Reagan OK's support plea

WASHINGTON — President Reagan has decided to let Marine commanders in Lebanon ask for aerial support from Navy fliers if it is needed to defend U.S. troops in Beirut, White House officials say.

But it was understood that while such Navy support can be requested, the Marines could not expect air strikes without higher approval.

"There's no blanket authority to the Marine commander to get tactical air support any time he'd like it," said one official, who spoke Monday night on condition he not be further identified.

"The local commander has the authority to use defensive means to defend American personnel in the area. He has tanks and mortars and small arms. If he needs to request additional support, such as the naval gunfire used last week," said White House spokesman Anson Franklin.

While officials would not comment on specific instructions relayed from the White House to Beirut, one said, "You can imagine that if you've got Marines who need whatever support is available to defend themselves, we're going to provide it."

Asked if that meant assistance from the Navy aircraft, the source said, "We will go that route if necessary."

He pointed out that over the weekend, the Marines experienced some "pretty rough incidents."

Jet interceptors scramble

Eight Japanese jet interceptors scrambled today when at least seven Soviet bombers appeared off the northwest coast of Japan, in the general area where a South Korean jetliner was shot down.

A Japan Defense Agency official said he did not know whether the Soviet planes were part of a live-fire exercise begun by Soviet warships today near where a Soviet jet fighter shot down the jet with 269 people aboard two weeks ago.

The defense official, who requested anonymity, told reporters in Tokyo that the Soviet Backfire and Badger bombers were first tracked 140 miles west-northwest of Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island.

He said the Japanese interceptors scrambled and followed them for 370 miles, to a point about 100 miles northwest of Japan's Sado Island before returning to base.

The official said there was no violation of Japanese airspace, no encounter between the interceptors and the bombers, and that it was the 300th time this year that Japanese jets scrambled during a flight by Soviet warplanes.

Meanwhile, Lloyd's of London and other insurers paid Korean Air Lines $26.8 million today for the downed Boeing 747 — about three-quarters of the insured value of the plane. The rest of the amount is insured by a South Korean company.

MARIAZELL, Austria — Pope John Paul II paid tribute today to the 269 people killed when a Soviet jet shot down a South Korean airliner and to "the Woman fasts for peace

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A tired, weak and thin 52-year-old woman is beginning to lose her eyesight after 38 days of fasting along with three colleagues to protest nuclear weapons, but she vows to continue the effort despite warnings from her doctor.

"I made the decision before I entered this fast that I will be willing to sacrifice my life, and still am," said Dorothy Granada, who leaned on the arms of supporters at a news conference Monday.

Ms. Granada is suffering from increased signs of a form of eye muscle weakness called nystagmus, said Robin Knowlton, speaking for the international fast for life.

The condition causes the deterioration of nerve coverings and preceded blindness among Irish Republican Army victims of violence" in Lebanon and elsewhere.

"How could we forget today above all the dead which the fratricidal war in Lebanon claims on all sides, as well as the victims of violence in Latin America and Africa, and finally also the dead from the recent tragic shooting down of the South Korean aircraft," the pope said.

John Paul departed from his prepared text to make special mention of the victims of the Sept. 1 air disaster. He spoke following an outdoor Mass for members of religious orders.

The pope was welcomed by thousands of residents in Alpine costumes as he arrived in this mountain village to pay homage at the tomb of a Hungarian Cardinal Jozsef Mindszenty, who became a symbol of anti-communism in the 1950s.

Also greeting the pope were about 5,000 members of religious orders, twice the number of inhabitants in the picturesque town. The nuns, priests and friars turned the central square into a sea of brown, white and black habits as John Paul exhorted them to remember their vows of chastity and their dedication to Christianity.

An estimated 40,000 people lined the roads, many in traditional green, white and red Alpine clothing, to see the pope, who had spent the first three days of his four-day visit in Vienna, 60 miles to the northeast.

'Suicide team' studied

ASHEVILLE, N.C. — Six avowed Nazis charged with conspiring to firebomb parts of Greensboro three years ago organized a "suicide team" with access to 20,000 pounds of dynamite, a former federal agent has testified.

Michael Sweat, formerly with the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, testified Monday that he was posing as a soldier of fortune when the six asked him for help in escaping the country after terrorizing Greensboro.

"They said it would be a suicide team, that some probably wouldn't make it out," Sweat said.

Sweat was the first government witness to testify in the federal trial. The jury spent most of the afternoon listening to secretly tape-recorded conversations between Sweat and the defendants.

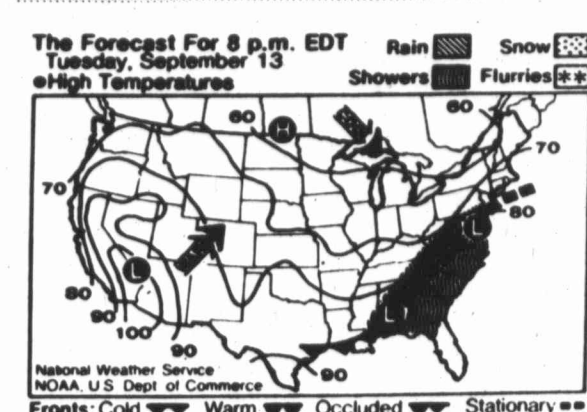

The panel was to continue listening to tapes and reading transcripts today.

The trial in Asheville is the third for the six defendants, all North Carolinians. They include Frank Lee Braswell and his wife Patsy Keeter Braswell, both of Penland; Raeford Caudle, of Winston-Salem; and Joseph Gorrell Pierce, his brother Roger Allen Pierce and James C. Talbert, all of Walnut Cove.

The first trial for the defendants resulted in a mistrial when jurors couldn't reach a verdict. In the second trial the six were convicted of one conspiracy count apiece, but the verdicts were thrown out by a federal appeals court because the defendants were not given free copies of the first trial's transcript.

The six face the same charge on which they were convicted — conspiring to blow up a fuel storage tank, a chemical company and a shopping mall in Greensboro.

Scattered showers

By The Associated Press

Scattered showers and a few thunderstorms developed before dawn today along the line of a weak cold front that moved into northern portions of Texas.

Most of the shower activity was noted in the Panhandle.

Patchy fog dotted the upper coast, while a few high clouds drifted across the Red River and over the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Otherwise, fair skies dominated Texas horizons.

Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 65 at Amarillo to 78 in McAllen. Winds were light and variable, except for northeasterly breezes near 15 mph in the Panhandle.

The forecast called for cloudy to partly cloudy skies with widely scattered showers and thunder-showers statewide.

Showers and thunderstorms lingered over the Gulf Coast states and the Tennessee Valley today and stretched up the Atlantic seaboard from Florida to southern New England.

West Texas — Decreasing cloudiness and warmer Thursday afternoon, then generally partly cloudy. Isolated thunderstorms most sections Saturday. Lows mid 50s north to mid 60s south. Highs mid 80 north to low 90s south with upper 90s big bend valleys.

BEDWETTER

LET THEM HAVE A DRY BED

The greatest gift you can give a bedwetter and the rest of the family, too, is an end to this serious problem, and make no mistake, bedwetting is serious. It can cause complicated psychological problems that last a lifetime. It's so needless because bedwetting, when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Editorial

It pays to be in Congress

People who reach the heights in the public world must observe the highest moral standards. They owe it to those who help them achieve success, those whom they represent, and to their families.

Too often, unfortunately, power and success cloud the eyes. Public figures read their own public relations handouts and start to believe that they are omnipotent citizens who are above the common rules.

This is the case with many members of Congress. They pontificate about ethics and honesty, but see nothing wrong with taking handouts from special interest groups.

Example: Rep. William Dickenson, R-Ala., top-ranking GOP member of the Armed Services Committee, accepted a $10,000 "award" from a group with many executives from defense companies.

Example: Another senior House member, Rep. Trent Lott, R-Miss., and his wife went to the Kentucky Derby and received all expenses plus a $2,000 fee from a tobacco company.

Last year House and Senate members were paid $4.5 million in honoraria for various services. Needless to say, the givers expected and often received favorable votes.

In addition, special interests provided members with all expenses-paid trips to Florida, California, Hawaii, Bermuda and other exotic places.

There also were huge campaign gifts provided by political action groups. Members hardly are likely to forget these donations when a special interest bill is up for a vote.

The members of Congress should lead by example. To do this they must tighten their rules and eliminate hypocrisy. It might be harder to raise campaign funds, but at least they would win public respect.

When the kids come home

What brings the kids back home, once they've left the nest? What makes them want to return home, after they have declared their independence? I wish I could say it was love of parents. I even wish I could say it was the dog or cat they left behind. I discovered what finally brings offspring back to their mommies and daddies.

You're with the Big Branch Herald, aren't you?

— A Washington bureaucrat

Since I am about the fifth person to leave the Herald in the last few months, I feel the need to say that no mighty axe is being swung by the management. The pay scale has not been lowered and no one in the office has contracted AIDS.

For me, at least, it's simply time to go.

That said, let me point out that I love Big Spring and many people here. I mean that. I'm still not sure God intended for us to live out here, but I realize a lot of West Texans take pride in something called "spunk."

I am leaving to get married and to start work for the Abilene Reporter-News (I will try not to confuse the two happenings). I don't know much about marriage except that I think it costs a lot of money, but I do know that starting a new job means I have to leave this one. This saddens me.

In my exactly 780 working days (counting holidays but not weekends) at the Big Spring Herald I have never once hated getting up in the morning. Well, maybe once or twice, but I have always been persuaded by the fact that a newspaper is a great place to work.

There are little things about the job and the city that may not conjure fond recollections, but I think I'm smart enough to realize there are experiences here I will never repeat, friends who will have no replacement and memories that unfortunately will fade within too short a time.

When I came here I knew very little about newspapers and I wasn't very knowledgeable of life, either. I still split infinitives and dangle participles and I still hurt myself and others for stupid reasons. Some will say I haven't progressed a bit, but I disagree.

I suppose I could write the rest of this about how rotten Big Spring water is or how nobody respects journalists. But I think I'd rather thank the people I have lived with, laughed with, worked with, cried with and argued with. And I voice regret that I didn't get to know some people better and contribute more in exchange for what I have learned and experienced.

I didn't know where Big Spring was when Tommy Hart asked me out here for an interview three years ago. Now I know, and when I look at the map years from now I will remember the place with one of those stupid smiles and maybe a happy tear.

And I promise I will never tell anyone that the big spring is running a little dry.

Jack Anderson

Father searches for son

WASHINGTON — For Miami businessman Murray Rozynes, the long search for a missing son is a poignant reprise of the movie "Missing" — but with the curtain scene yet to be written.

His son Steven, a 20-year-old attorney, disappeared in Panama four years ago. The elder Rozynes has tracked down every lead, followed every tip, investigated every rumor.

He has been to Panama 10 times. He has hired a battery of attorneys and investigators to help him in his quest. He has met with countless Panamanian officials and U.S. diplomats. He has questioned scores of Panamanian villagers and peasants in the constant hope that one of them just might have crossed paths with his son.

But like the father Jack Lemmon played in the movie, Murray Rozynes has come up against one stonewall after another.

Steven Rozynes was seen for the last time in the sea town of Viento Frio where he had gone, as an amateur anthropologist, apparently to study the people. He had planned to cover Panama by canoe, so he traveled light, carrying a radio, field glasses — and $2,000.

A postcard dated April 16, 1979, brought the Rozyneses the last message from their son. "Dear folks," it read, "all is perfect." The card was mailed from Balboa, Panama.

He reached Viento Frio the next month. Eyewitnesses in the town later told authorities that they had seen two national guardsmen, Pedro and Manuel Ceballos, stop Steven for a security check. After he was cleared, Steven apparently tried to hire one of the Ceballos and his motorboat to tow him in his canoe down the ocean to nearby Nombre de Dios.

The eyewitnesses said they had observed Steven and the Ceballos get into an argument over payment. But the two guardsmen, the last people known to have seen Steven alive, denied that there had been a quarrel or that they had known the younger Rozynes was carrying money.

Eyewitnesses insisted, however, that they had seen Steven show he had money during the argument.

Through U.S. Ambassador Everett E. Briggs, Murray Rozynes asked that the Ceballos be given lie detector tests. But Panamanian authorities won't issue the necessary order because, they say, lie detector tests are not admissible in the courts of that country.

In April 1982, the Panamanian Justice Department closed the Steven Rozynes case after a Panamanian marine expert submitted a report saying that Steven's canoe was unsafe for an ocean journey.

In "Missing," the father learns that his son had been killed by Chilean police. But Murray Rozynes, still uncertain about the fate of his son, persists in his search.

"I just want to know for sure whether my boy is dead or alive," he says. "But I don't know, and no one will tell me."

PERSONAL COMMENT: Of late, I have been portrayed as the bete noire of the press, let loose in the nation's capital to hound the resident politicians, who consider my existence to be an intolerable affront. I appreciate the honor and will try to measure up.

The Washington Post's Tony Kornhiuser discussed my minacious qualities with an unnamed Senate aide, who tried to describe what it was like to get an inquiry from my office. "His call is a grand clong," said the aide.

This is a political term which he defined as: "When things get hopelessly fouled up and you suddenly feel your bladder rushing to your heart."

Explained the aide: "Your first thought is that you're in big trouble. His power is incredible. The vast majority of people who read him represent a vast majority of people in the country. He can paint you any way he wants to."

Not long after this appeared in the Post, Newsweek magazine reported that Sen. Orrin Hatch, a Republican viewer-with-alarm from my native Utah, has been evoking my powers of intimidation to frighten fellow senators. "Some fear Hatch's access to the widely syndicated column of his good friend Jack Anderson," Newsweek noted.

Hatch is a man of intelligence, industry and integrity who has used his considerable analytical and forensic talents to discredit Democrats and occasional Republicans whom he believes to be misguided. But I should explain that I am not a partner in these endeavors.

So I accept with modest pride the latest honor bestowed on me by the political tenants on Capitol Hill. In a survey taken by the Washington Journalism Review, they named me their "least favorite journalist."

Billy Graham

Teenager is worried

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am a teenager, and I get very alarmed when I read the headlines every day about the future. It just looks like there isn't any hope for the future, is there? — K.J.

DEAR K.J.: No one knows the future — except God. Yes, there are many dark clouds on the horizon of our world. Some people are even feeling that things are out of control and we are nearing the terrible times of which the Bible speaks toward the end of history. Whether or not that is true, however, I want to point you to the only sure source of hope and strength as you face the future personally.

No matter what happens in our world, the most important thing you can do is trust God and commit your life to him. God is ultimately in control of this world — although for a time satanic powers have great strength. The Christians know that there will never be perfect peace and happiness on this earth by human efforts alone. No political or economic solution will solve our problems completely. Why? The reason is that our basic problem is a spiritual problem — it is the problem of the human heart. The Bible says, "What causes fights and quarrels among you? Don't they come from your desires that battle within you?" (James 4:1). Only Christ can change the human heart — and he will, when we open our hearts and lives to him as Savior and Lord.

The headlines each day warn you of the futility of man's efforts to solve his own problems apart from God. And they warn you as well that we need to trust Christ and commit our lives to him. Have you ever turned your life over to Christ and committed your future to him? If not, I urge you to do so right now.

Yes, there is hope for the future — hope in God. Some day Christ will come again, and all the sin and evil that infests our world will be taken completely away. That is our hope — and it can be yours as well as you turn to Christ.

Dear Abby

Mother penny-pinches at daughter's expense

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who is 85 years old, is failing in health and fast approaching the time when she can no longer live alone. She has over $100,000 in savings, but she refuses to spend dime of it because she wants to leave an "inheritance."

I am willing to take her into my home, although it is too small to accommodate three people comfortably. My husband is opposed to giving up our privacy and thinks my mother should spend her money on the care she needs.

We have no designs on her savings, and I agree with my husband that no amount of money is worth sacrificing our privacy. But Abby, how can I turn my back on my mother if she insists on living with me? She regards all nursing facilities as "sties." I'm afraid if I recommend one she would interpret it as an act of abandonment. I am frustrated and upset worrying about this. What is your advice?

TORN IN MASSACHUSETTS

DEAR TORN: Since you can't accommodate her in your home and she can well afford to pay for her own care, suggest that she enjoy a live-in attendant to look after her in her own home. And don't feel guilty. Every 85-year-old person should be so fortunate.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I had a very loving relationship almost every night. (I think you know what I mean.) If it matters, we're both in our late 20s.

Recently, my husband started a great paying job. Now the problem: Every two weeks he has to work swing shift, and he's exhausted when he gets home. I work from 7:30 a.m. until 4 p.m. and don't see him until he gets home around 2 a.m., so we don't have any time for lovemaking. We want to be more than just weekend lovers.

How do other couples manage their lives when they work overlapping shifts? NOT SWINGING WITH THE SWING SHIFT

DEAR NOT SWINGING: They somehow make do. And when they can't make do, they don't.

If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, send for Abby's complete booklet on letter-writing. Send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Dr. Donohue

Skin bumps can accompany strep throat

Dear Dr. Donohue: I recently had a strep throat infection. It cleared nicely with use of penicillin. But in the meantime I broke out in the most painful red bumps on my shins. The physician wasn't sure, but thought it may have been related to the strep infection. My brother-in-law suggested I send this question along to you as a stumper. Really, it is difficult to figure out how the strep throat and red bumps on my shins can be in any way related. Is this possible? — D.D.

I have seen this before. It's not only possible, but very probable that the bumps were related to your strep throat infection. You most likely had erythema nodosum, which is Latin for red bumps. They are painful and may be widespread on the skin, but are often only on the shins. These bumps are associated with a wide variety of infections and illnesses, including those from the strep bacterium. The bumps are caused by inflammation of blood vessels. They may represent an allergic reaction, but we're not sure; the cause has to fall into the "unknown" column.

I assume that your skin symptoms have disappeared by now. They usually do so in from one to five weeks, but they have been known to linger for as long as nine months, and (rarely) for years. When they are very painful and widespread steroid drugs can be used for a short time. But the usual treatment is simply to get rid of the infection associated with the bumps — in your case strep throat.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Would you please discuss the possibility of male sperm production being reduced in a man wearing jockey shorts so that I can pass the information on to my children. Thank you for your prompt attention. — D.B.

I doubt whether the advent of jockey shorts has been a factor one way or another in the world's population statistics, but I'll tell you the rationale behind making such a statement. Maximum sperm production takes place when the testes are in an environment cooler than normal internal body temperature. If the testes are bound up closely to the body, there might be a slight reduction in the number of sperm cells produced because of the greater heat. This is usually of some significance only if the man has a very low sperm count in the first place.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters.

Divorce — military style

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — In March 1980, a dozen women divorced or separated from their servicemen husbands met in a northern Virginia restaurant, agreed they were angry and decided to do something about it.

They had followed their husbands from base to base, hampering any chance for them to develop their own careers. The military promised that their loyalty would be rewarded by hefty pensions and lifetime medical coverage.

But that promise ended with their marriages, the women said.

"We felt we were part of a team," said Nancy Abell, whose 23-year marriage to an Air Force colonel ended in divorce. "They (the military) depended on the women to take care of the home and the children so that these men were free to follow their military mission."

"We feel that those (benefits) are ours," she said. "Certainly we have earned them rather than the people that the man has married after he is retired."

The dozen women organized EX-POSE, Ex-Partners of Servicemen for Equality, and made Mrs. Abell their first president. The nationwide group now claims about 5,000 active members, nearly all of them women.

The Alexandria-based organization is among the most vocal of several groups prominent in the battle over who gets what when a military marriage goes sour.

Aligned against them are some military retiree organizations that believe the person who served should reap the benefits, especially the pensions.

Each side has its stories — the ex-wives tell of women and children forced onto welfare after being abandoned by their military husbands; the military retirees talk of former prisoners of war whose wives spent their money lavishly while the men were in captivity and then asked for a divorce upon their return.

Vic Wintriss, a former Navy commander who chairs the San Diego-based American Retirees Association, said retirement pay should not be considered community property in divorce settlements.

"There are some hard-working, diligent women who stood by their husbands and then were dumped on," he said. "There are some cases where the women did not support, did not help, did not contribute."

"It should be decided on a case-by-case basis," Wintriss added.

In 1981, the Supreme Court ruled that military pension benefits may not become part of a property settlement in a divorce.

But last year, after lobbying by EX-POSE and other groups, Congress reversed that ruling by passing legislation that allows judges to consider military pensions in divorce settlements.

Even with that victory, some EX-POSE members feel the legislation doesn't go far enough. Judges don't have to consider the pension, and many don't, they contend.

But Wintriss said military pensions are divided in community property states such as California, where marital property is split equally between husband and wife.

Because dividing military pensions is so controversial, EX-POSE leaders are directing their efforts toward getting more medical benefits for ex-military wives.

Shirley Taft, EX-POSE national president, said she found it nearly impossible to get health insurance after she was divorced, at the age of 61, from a retired Army lieutenant colonel.

She was no longer eligible for the medical benefits she had during her marriage, and private insurance companies weren't anxious to insure a woman in her 60s.

Besides changing the law on military pensions, the 1982 Uniformed Services

Former Spouses Protection Act allowed ex-spouses to have medical benefits if they had been married for 20 years to a serviceman on active duty.

Sen. Paul S. Trible, R-Va., and Rep. G. William Whitehurst, R-Va., have introduced bills which would reduce from 20 to 10 the number of years an ex-spouse must be married while a service member is on active duty.

BSHS's Spears out for 4-5A opener

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor
Big Spring High opens District 4-5A play against Abilene tonight but the senior Paula Spears will be absent from the starting lineup.

PAULA SPEARS
...won't play tonight

Spears is currently under 3-day suspension from school because of an incident which occurred before afternoon practice on Monday in the physical education gymnasium.

According to coach Susan Sharp, Spears and Yvonne Smith, another student at the high school, became involved in an argument which ended in fighting. The two students have had long-standing ill relationship, Sharp said.

Spears will miss tonight's game and possibly Thursday's league contest with Midland High. The senior spiker will be replaced in the starting lineup by senior Debbie Donelson and on the squad by Tammi Green who moves up from the junior varsity team.

reaction to the loss of Spears. "I think they're smart enough, though, to realize they can win without her."

After an 0-6 start, the Lady Steers have gone 4-4 with Spears playing a large role in the team's improvement. "She is a very effective blocker and hitter. She's got the ability to react to the ball and defend well."

Sharp also pointed to seniors Monette Wise and Beverly Tubbs as other keys to the BSHS attack. "Beverly has really been setting well. She was a little hesitant at first but now she's become a lot more aggressive on the court." Wise, her coach said, has been playing non-district defense at the net and moving well on the court.

Rounding out the starting lineup are seniors Vickie Halfmann and Jana Mathews and junior Tris Clemons.

"They are getting better every time and they're realizing it," Sharp said. Playing tough non-district matches against Monahans and Fort Stockton has helped the team. "I expect to beat Abilene in two matches. I may be putting my foot in my mouth but we should do it even without Paula."

Abilene enters the match 3-1 overall. AHS was 2-12 in 4-5A play and 9-14 overall last year and coach Jamie Brophy has an experienced unit back. Six seniors are on the team: Hailey Martin, Kaye Lewis, Bernie Robinson, Donna Priddy, Sylvia Tyson, Carla Munsom and Jacque Mein.

Game time is 7 p.m. with the junior varsities playing at 6 p.m. The Big Spring JV team is 7-3 overall.

Late drive pushes Chargers by Chiefs

KANSAS CITY, Mo (AP) — Don Coryell finally discovered a defense capable of clipping the wings of San Diego's high-flying passing game — his own.

And so the Chargers ran for 191 yards on a surprised Kansas City Monday night before finally emerging — thanks to a patented Dan Fouts-led drive — with a 17-14 National Football League victory.

Almost as satisfying as the final score to Coryell was the fact that the Chiefs ran off just 51 plays on offense.

"We just couldn't have our defense on the field for 82 plays like we did last week against the New York Jets," Coryell said. Despite rolling up almost 500 yards in total offense against the Jets the week before in the season opener, the Chargers came up on the short end of a 41-29 count because their defense was unable to keep up with the break-neck pace.

"As we've been saying, our defense is young and inexperienced, but they're talented and aggressive and they're just going to get better and better," Coryell said. "We just decided we had to keep the defense off the field, so we decided we were going to have to run more. If we hadn't been able to run, we naturally would have gone back to the pass.

But the Chargers ran with abandon. James Brooks carried 23 times for 86 yards and Chuck Muncie picked up 110 yards on 27 carries.

Fittingly, the game was decided when Fouts unsheathed his passing arm on a five-play, 80-yard drive capped by a 12-yard touchdown pass to Wes Chandler with 1:45 to play.

"At that point, I didn't care how quickly we scored," Coryell laughed. "I just wanted to score."

It was a bitter loss for the Chiefs, who were sky-high with their first Monday night national TV appearance in six years and encouraged by a season-opening victory the week before against Seattle.

"We held them to 17 points, and that's not a lot for San Diego," said cornerback Gary Green. "But we just let them run right at us in the second half. They live and die with the pass. We'd shut off any run they've attempted in the past, but today was different. That's what's so disappointing."

Two great defensive stands by the Chiefs were quickly followed by two touchdowns. After Rolf Benirschke kicked a 51-yard first quarter field goal, the Chiefs stopped Brooks for no gain on fourth-and-inches from the Chiefs' 3-yard line. Bill Kenney then went to work moving the Chiefs downfield, and put Kansas City on top 7-3 with a 45-yard touchdown strike to Anthony Hancock.

Muncie's 10-yard run restored the Chargers to a 10-7 lead with 8:26 elapsed in the third period and the Chargers were driving for what figured to be the clinching touchdown when Muncie fumbled and Green recovered in the end zone.

Moments later, Kenney laterelled to wide receiver Carlos Carson, who threw a 48-yard touchdown pass to Henry Marshall, dragging safety Tim Fox the final five yards into the end zone.

All the talk about the Chargers' weak defense had not set well with Fox and his teammates, said the veteran safety.

"If not for two plays, we would have had a shutout," he said. Coryell's plan to keep the defense off the field made sense, he added.

'Horns lose starting quarterback, Akers won't name replacement

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas coach Fred Akers, guarding his quarterback plans for the Auburn game on Saturday, says, "If you're asking me if I'm capable of lying about my quarterback situation — yes."

Akers responded that way Monday when asked if he already knew who would replace starter Todd Dodge, who suffered a shoulder separation in practice Friday.

Akers acknowledged Monday that he had decided to start Dodge before he was hurt although he had not announced a decision.

"Anyone watching our practices saw he was always with our No. 1 unit. There was not much question," Akers told a news conference.

Dodge's replacement apparently will be Rick McIvor, who was injured last year and missed spring training with grade problems, or two-year punt returner Rob Moerschell.

Akers said four or five quarterbacks might make the trip to Auburn, Ala., for the regionally televised game between the two top 10 teams.

"Rick has had the biggest adjustment after not playing for a year, and he had a setback about two weeks ago when he had to take a week off because an infection he had in his wrist and elbow and that hurt him," Akers said. "Rob has been in tune with the things we've been doing last year, last spring and all fall."

"They're both working hard, and both have done some good things, but neither one has been as consistent as Todd Dodge." "What we've got now is a real scramble," Akers said.

He said, however, he would not shuttle quarterbacks, and when he was asked if he might alternate quarterbacks in any manner, he said, "I'm not planning on it, and I'm not planning on not doing it. I'm not telling you my plans."

Akers also disclosed Monday that starting middle linebacker Jeff Leiding had cut his lower leg on a rock tubing in the Guadalupe River on Saturday, and 16 stitches were required to close the wound, making him doubtful for the Auburn game.

Akers said doctors had told him Dodge would be out from three to five weeks, but "I've just got a gut feeling he'll be back before too long."

Other starters out of the Auburn game with injuries are tight end Bobby Micho and wide receiver Ronnie Mullins.

Yankees blank Brewers, 1-0

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Randolph singled home the game's only run in the fifth inning as the New York Yankees blanked the Milwaukee Brewers 1-0.

The victory moved the third-place Yankees within 6½ games of Baltimore in the American League East, while Milwaukee, which has lost four straight games, fell eight games behind.

Rookie Ray Fontenot allowed three hits, all singles, in six innings while striking out three and walking two before his arm stiffened. The 26-year-old left-hander was relieved to start the seventh.

Rich Gossage got the final three outs for his 20th save.

Chuck Porter, 6-8, took the loss. He gave up six hits, struck out two and walked three in pitching his sixth complete game.

The start of the game was delayed 1 hour and 33 minutes by rain.

Tigers 5, Indians 1

DETROIT (AP) — Rick Leach's two-run single keyed a three-run Detroit fourth inning and the Tigers went on to beat the Cleveland Indians 5-1 Monday night.

American League

Enos Cabell started the Detroit fourth with a single and went to third on Chet Lemon's single. Lemon went to second on a passed ball and Leach singled home both runners to give the Tigers a 2-1 lead.

Wayne Krenchicki followed with the fourth successive single off loser Bert Blyleven, 7-10, putting runners on first and third. Leach then scored on Lou Whitaker's hard liner off second baseman Mike Fischlin's glove, which was ruled an error.

Cabell hit a two-out double in the Detroit fifth, then Blyleven hit Lemon with a pitch, walked Leach and hit Krenchicki to force in Cabell.

NO COOLING OFF THE BIRDS — Baltimore Orioles pitcher Mike Flanagan cools during a rain-delay Monday in Fenway Park against the Boston Red Sox. The game was eventually rained out but the Orioles still have a comfortable lead over the Detroit Tigers in the American League East.

Philly grabs lead from Expos

By The Associated Press
If not for John Denny, Philadelphia Phillies Manager Paul Owens thinks his team "would be planning for next year" by now.

As it is, the Phillies are in first place in the National League East after Monday night's 2-1 victory over the New York Mets behind Denny's strong pitching. Denny pitched three-hit their runs in the third, on an RBI single by Von Hayes and a bases-loaded walk to Greg Gross by Mets starter Ron Darling, 0-2.

Denny, who had given up only one hit through the first four innings, was reached for a leadoff home run in the fifth by Darryl Strawberry. It was the 24th for the rookie outfielder and his 66th RBI in 108 games. Montreal's Steve Rogers, 17-10, took the loss, his first against Chicago in five decisions.

Moreland drove in Chicago's first run in the third with a grounder. Moreland triggered the seven-run sixth with a double and capped it with an RBI single.

Pirates 7, Cardinals 5
In Pittsburgh, Brian Harper hit a two-run pinch single in the sixth as the Pirates rallied from a three-run deficit to defeat St. Louis.

The Cardinals had taken a 3-0 lead in the first, ending the 28-inning consecutive scoreless streak of Lee Tunnell, 9-5, on an RBI single by George Hendrick and Ken Oberkell's two-run single. But the Pirates came back for a tie in the fourth on singles by Bill Madlock and Mike Easler, an RBI double by Tony Pena and Dale Berra's two-out, two-run double.

The Pirates made it 5-3 in the fifth, chasing loser Danny Cox, 2-4, on Madlock's RBI single and Dave Parker's sacrifice fly. After the Cardinals scored in the top of the sixth, the Pirates put the game away with Harper's two-run base hit in the bottom of the inning.

Harmon, Forte receive terms in cocaine case

TEXARKANA, Texas (AP) — Former National Football League running backs Clarence Harmon and Ike Forte have been placed on probation for 10 years after pleading guilty to cocaine possession charges. Harmon, formerly with the Washington Redskins, and Forte, who played for the New England Patriots, entered their pleas Monday and were also fined $5,000 apiece by State Judge Guy Jones.

Cannon enters jail to begin sentence

TEXARKANA, Texas (AP) — Billy Cannon, a former Louisiana State University football hero, has begun serving a five-year sentence in federal prison for plotting a $6 million counterfeiting operation.

Cannon, a Baton Rouge, La., orthodontist, arrived at the minimum-security prison in Texarkana on Monday.

U.S. marshals said because Cannon cooperated with authorities, he was allowed to travel unescorted to the prison.

Cannon, 46, received the maximum punishment after pleading guilty to charges he masterminded a scheme to print and distribute $6 million in counterfeit $100 bills — which the government called one of the largest fake money schemes in U.S. history.

He will have to serve almost two years before becoming eligible for parole.

Cannon won the Heisman Trophy at LSU in 1958. After a pro football career, returned to Baton Rouge to become a dentist.

He will return to Baton Rouge to testify at the Oct. 11 trial of four co-defendants who have pleaded innocent. Cannon also could be called to testify in the cases of two co-defendants who asked that their sentences be reduced.

National League

ball for eight innings and won his 15th game with Al Holland's relief help. The victory, combined with Montreal's 8-0 loss to Chicago, vaulted the Phillies into first place in the East by a half-game over the Expos.

"He's been so consistent," said Philadelphia first baseman Pete Rose of Denny. "I don't remember him having a bad game. Even when his arm was bothering him he gave a good effort."

"He had a good sinker and curve tonight, kept the hitters off stride. And he helps himself. He bunts, fields his position."

Denny, 15-6, struck out eight and walked two in eight innings before Holland pitched the ninth for his 19th save.

The Phillies scored both games. It also extended his hitting streak to 10 games. Owens said he went to Holland for the ninth inning because Denny told the manager he had had enough.

"He (Denny) has always been honest. He tells you when he's tired. He pitched his heart out in the eighth, and I had Holland well rested," said Owens. "That's what he (Holland) is there for and he did it."

Cubs 8, Expos 6
In Chicago, Dick Ruthven pitched a four-hitter and Keith Moreland drove in two runs and had two key hits in a seven-run sixth inning as the Cubs beat Montreal.

Ruthven, 12-11, struck out four and walked none to record his fourth complete game and snap a personal three-game losing streak against the Expos. Mon-

PUBLIC NOTICE
BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
SPECIAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 8, 1983

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 91 proposes a constitutional amendment which requires a county with a population of 30,000 or more to be divided into not less than four nor more than eight justice of the peace precincts. A county with a population of 18,000 or more but less than 30,000 shall be divided into not less than two nor more than five justice of the peace precincts. A county with a population of less than 18,000 shall be designated as a single justice of the peace precinct or, upon a finding of necessity by the commissioners court, shall be divided into more than one justice of the peace precinct but not more than four. The amendment provides further, that in any precinct in which there is a city with a population of 18,000 or more, two justices of the peace shall be elected. The amendment allows a justice of the peace, constable or commissioner to continue in office until the expiration of his term, although a change in precinct boundaries results in the officer no longer being a resident of the precinct for which he was elected or appointed and allows a justice of the peace or constable to continue in office until the expiration of his term even though a change in precinct boundaries results in the abolition of the precinct or more than one justice of the peace or constable serving the precinct. Vacancies in the office of justice of the peace or constable that result from a precinct boundary change shall be filled by the commissioners court until the next general election. The amendment would take effect on January 1, 1984, and counties with populations of less than 30,000 and with more than four justice of the peace and constable precincts would have until January 1, 1987 to comply with the amendment.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 105 proposes a constitutional amendment which would limit a homestead in a city, town or village to a lot or lots amounting to not more than one acre of land, together with any improvements on the land. The constitutional requirement that, at the time of designation, an urban homestead not exceed ten thousand dollars in value without reference to the value of any improvements on the land would be eliminated.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact legislation that permits representative associations of agricultural producers to collect refundable assessments on their product sales to be used solely to finance programs of marketing, promotion, research and education relating to those products. It provides, further, that adoption of the proposed constitutional amendment will bring into effect Senate Bill 607, Acts of the 68th Legislature, Regular Session, 1983, with rejection of the amendment resulting in Senate Bill 607 having no effect.

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 30 proposes a constitutional amendment which authorizes the Legislature to enact laws to provide for the succession of members of the Legislature in the event of enemy attack and allows the suspension of procedural rules imposed by the Constitution in the event of, or immediate threat of, enemy attack. The amendment empowers the Governor, after consultation with the Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant Governor, to suspend the constitutional requirement that the Legislature hold its sessions in Austin and allows the suspension of procedural rules by the Governor issuing a proclamation in which the House of Representatives and Senate concur by resolution approved by a majority of the members present. Suspension of the constitutional rules may not exceed a period of two years under a single proclamation; however, the Governor may renew the suspension by issuing a new proclamation concurred in by the House of Representatives and the Senate through a resolution approved by a majority of the members present.

The amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing statutory provisions for succession of public office during disasters caused by enemy attack, and authorizing the suspension of certain constitutional rules relating to legislative procedure during those disasters or during immediate threat of enemy attack."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 12 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact legislation providing for the use of the permanent school fund and income from the permanent school fund to guarantee bonds issued by school districts. The amendment provides, further, that the Legislature may appropriate part of the available school fund for administration of the permanent school fund or of a bond guarantee program established pursuant to the amendment.

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment which would permit the Legislature to provide for the garnishment of wages to enforce court-ordered child support payments. The garnishment remedy would not be available for other purposes.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Veterans' Land Board to provide for, issue, and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed $800 million to provide financing to veterans of the state. The amendment requires that three hundred million dollars of the state bonds be dedicated to the Veterans' Land Fund. The Fund is to be used to purchase land to be sold to veterans under such terms, rules and regulations as may be authorized by law. The amendment creates the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund and requires that $500 million of the state bonds authorized by the amendment be dedicated to the Fund. The Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund will be utilized by the Veterans' Land Board for the purpose of making home mortgage loans to veterans for housing within the state and for the administrative costs of administering the fund and issuing the bonds. The amendment provides, further, that if there is not money in either the Veterans' Land Fund or the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund available for payment of principal and interest on the general obligation bonds issued pursuant to the amendment, then money coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year is appropriated in an amount sufficient for payment of principal and interest due in that fiscal year.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes political subdivisions to exempt veterans' organizations from ad valorem taxation on their property. The amendment requires that the veterans' organizations be chartered by the United States Congress, be composed of members or former members of the United States Armed Forces, and be organized for patriotic and public service purposes. The amendment provides, further, that political subdivisions may exempt fraternal organizations from ad valorem taxation on their property. The amendment requires that the fraternal organizations be organized to perform and be primarily engaged in charitable or benevolent functions. The Legislature would be authorized to enact laws that prescribe eligibility requirements for fraternal organizations to benefit from the exemption and to pass legislation limiting the types or amount of property owned by a fraternal organization which may be exempted from ad valorem taxation.

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 70 proposes a constitutional amendment to authorize the Legislature to provide, by local or general law, a method by which judges of statutory courts with probate jurisdiction may be assigned to any other statutory court with probate jurisdiction and to any constitutional county court in any county in the state. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for assignment of judges of statutory courts to other statutory courts with probate jurisdiction and to county courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact laws which would allow a city or town to expend public funds to relocate or replace sanitation sewer laterals on private property if done in conjunction with the replacement or relocation of sanitation sewer mains serving the property. The amendment requires that the law authorize the city or town to affix a lien on the private property, with the consent of the owner, to cover the costs of the replacement or relocation of the sewer laterals on the property. The lien may not be enforced until five years have expired since the date the lien was affixed. The amendment provides, further, that the law require that the costs of the replacement or relocation of the sewer laterals on the private property be assessed against the property with repayment to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years and at an interest rate provided by law.

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 13 proposes a constitutional amendment that would change the Board of Pardons and Paroles from a constitutional agency to a statutory agency and would eliminate the Governor's power to revoke paroles. The Legislature would be authorized to establish the Board of Pardons and Paroles and to require it to maintain records of its actions and the reasons for its actions. The amendment would empower the Legislature to enact parole laws. Constitutional language specifying the qualifications and terms of office for members of the Board of Pardons and Paroles is eliminated. The constitutional language governing the composition of the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the manner of filling vacancies on the Board is eliminated.

PROPOSITION NO. 12 ON THE BALLOT

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to change the Board of Pardons and Paroles from a constitutional agency to a statutory agency and to give the board power to revoke paroles."

Cogeneration an old trick being learned by new businesses

NEW YORK (AP) — So much that is viewed as innovative today in the world of business and finance is really the rediscovery of old knowledge almost forgotten.

Such as the realization among automotive companies that you can't overcome poor quality and service with advertising and promotion, or the finding by labor unions that higher wages must be tied to productivity gains.

Belatedly and reluctantly, such lessons were resurrected from the past under the pressures of realities, but they are as old as cogeneration.

Cogeneration, a term used in power production, was practiced at the turn of the century and probably long before by industrial plant managers who saw no sense in venting the heat of their machines out an open window.

But that very thing happened of course, and on a huge scale, so long as energy costs were low. As prices rose, however, the amazing rediscovery was made that you could heat the plant at no extra cost by closing the window.

The list of such rediscoveries is endless. It was known by ancient people that added services inevitably produced higher taxes, that expenditures could not long exceed revenues, and that government excesses could debase money.

Nevertheless, generation after generation has seemed compelled to experiment with the possibility that there was a way to skirt the inevitable, learning only through hard experience that there are immutable laws.

Nowhere, perhaps, is this more obvious than in the stock market, where new trading concepts are discovered all the time, some of them enjoying a period of success that reinforces the anguish attending the eventual collapse.

The arena of labor relations probably has been the site of more momentous rediscoveries than anywhere else. Such as the realization that workers work best if they feel their efforts and skills are appreciated by management.

In fact, The One Minute Manager, a management book built on concepts as simple as praising a worker for doing well and criticizing him constructively when he did poorly, has remained on best-seller lists for almost a year.

Inherent in the book is the notion that workers give more if they feel appreciated, and one of the most obvious ways to do that is to seek their help and provide them with a sense of participation.

The concept of a participating worker being an appreciative worker has been repackaged as a Japanese import under the extremely popular name of Quality Circles, although wise managers understood it long before it had a name.

In many companies, however, such concepts were shunned. Some unions and managements, in fact, felt more secure as adversaries, arguing that it was best to keep the enemy at bay rather than invite him into the den.

The productivity impact didn't show up for a few years, but when imports undersold American products it led to disastrous consequences — job losses and financial losses — and to the rediscovery that management and labor worked for the same entity.

Many American companies, especially those in the new high-technology areas, now seek to have workers become shareholders too, the better to keep them happy and productive and, also to insure against them defecting to competitors.

Lessons are continually being relearned, it seems, to the benefit of worker and employer. An encouraging sign, of course — but history seems to suggest also that what is learned or relearned today might be forgotten tomorrow.

Food prices to be higher

By The Associated Press
Food prices next year will be higher than the government had projected because of a reduced 1983 corn harvest, which can be blamed largely on the summer heat wave and drought, Agriculture Secretary John R. Block says.

The agriculture department's reduced forecast means retail food price inflation is likely to run as high as 6.5 percent instead of the 4 to 5 percent estimated previously, Block said Monday. Even so, he contended, "there's no reason for anyone to become overly concerned about soaring food costs."

The department expects the corn harvest to be 4.39 billion bushels this year. That is 16 percent below the department's estimate one month ago and 48 percent below the actual 1982 corn harvest of 8.4 billion bushels.
