September respite

THE EAST SIXTH STREET RIVER — Runoff from the thunderstorm yesterday afternoon cascaded down East Sixth Street, causing the road to flood for a short time before drains were able to take care of the heavy rains. Vehicles were able to navigate the street providing they maintained a slow speed.

GREAT LEAP — A Big Spring High School student attempts to jump over a large puddle created yesterday by a late afternoon rainstorm. The location of the picture is the intersection of 11th Place and Young Street.

BLURRED VISION — The rains that pelted the Big Spring area yesterday limited visibility on Interstate 20 as evidenced by this photo. The rain lasted approximately 30 minutes with sections of the city reporting from five-tenths to two inches of rainfall.

Heavy thunderstorms roll through Big Spring

From staff and wire reports

A 40 percent chance of rain paid off yesterday as heavy thundershowers rolled through the Big Spring area dropping temperatures and drenching the dusty soil.

The U.S. Big Spring Field Station reported nine-tenths of an inch from the showers that fell from about 3:15 p.m. to 4 p.m. Rainfall for the year now stands at 6.09 inches, well below the 13.83 normal recording for this time of year.

Elsewhere in the city, rain gauges measured varying amounts. Red Thomas of 103 E. 17th recorded one-half of an inch, Chuck Benz of 2807 Apache said 1.15 inches fell at his home and reports from the Industrial Park said two inches fell there.

In the surrounding area, Knott farmer Larry Shaw said it rained one-half inch east of that community, while reports from Fairview south of Knott showed 1.8 inches fell in that vicinity. The Lomax Community west of Big Spring got about one inch.

Colorado City recorded 1.4 inches at radio station KVMC. Reports in south Mitchell County said about three inches were received in that area.

Also, some damage to roofs was reported in C-City due to high winds.

Howard County Agricultural Extension Agent Don Richardson said the shower could stimulate late developing cotton; however, the rain was too small and late to help the majority of cotton in the county.

He said the rain would help build up subsoil moisture and bolster the growth of wheat, oats and grasses now planted.

The forecast today calls for cooler temperatures and a slight chance of rain.

A cool day dawned across Texas today as temperatures dropped into the 60s over wide sections of the state.

A few scattered showers dampened western sections of the Trans Pecos and a few thunderstorms were noted before dawn across North Central and Northeast Texas.

Patchy areas of light fog dotted sections of the upper coast and Southeast Texas. Otherwise, skies were mostly fair.

Pre-dawn temperatures ranged from 59 at Amarillo to 78 at Galveston. Winds were mostly light and from the north.

The forecast called for partly cloudy skies with scattered thundershowers across South Texas, western sections of North Central Texas and across an area from the Concho Valley to the Big Bend.

Fiesta planned for city

Mexico's independence will be celebrated in Big Spring Saturday during "Fiesta Day" sponsored by the League of United Latin American Citizens.

Lulac along with the Howard County Boxing Club, Chicano Golf Association and the Alsa Car Club have planned a busy day of activities in Comanche Trail Park at the Old Settlers Pavilion. Events will feature a parade, music, a baseball game and the crowning of a Fiesta Day queen.

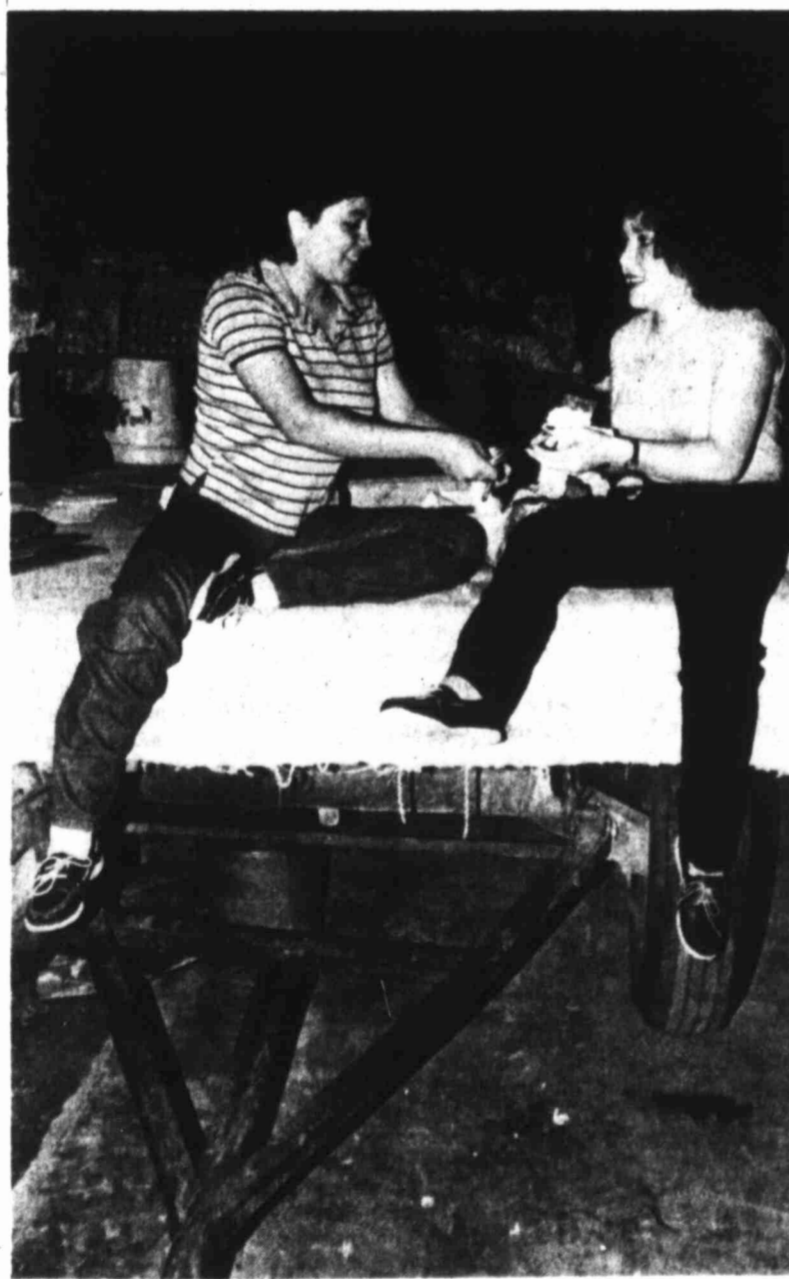

The day will begin at 9 a.m. with a washer toss tournament followed at 10 a.m. by the opening of several booths that will sell authentic Mexican food, and beverages.

Then at 1 p.m. a semi-pro baseball game featuring the Big Spring Cardinals managed by Frank Rubio and a group of "old timers" managed by Pat Martinez will be played at the Comanche Trail Park field.

Following the game, a parade with floats and decorated cars will begin at 3 p.m. at the 400 block of N.W. Seventh. The Parade will travel down Gregg Street over the viaduct to Second Street where it will turn left and proceed to Main where it will turn right and travel to 10th Street.

Trophies will be awarded to the top three floats. A $10 entry fee is required for those float entries wishing to be considered for a

Questions about city agreement with Big Spring Cable TV raised

By RICHARD HORN
Staff Writer

Questions about the city's franchise agreement with Big Spring Cable TV were raised last night when the firm asked to transfer its ownership to its publically-owned parent company.

Big Spring city councilmen tabled the request, saying they need more information on the deal.

Jim Lancaster, the local firm's vice president, appeared before the council to request that his company be allowed to transfer its private ownership to TCA Cable TV, Inc. of Tyler. He said the TCA firm currently manages Big Spring Cable TV.

"There will be no change in management," he told the council. "But it will make it easier to finance growth."

He asked that the council approve the transfer before Oct. 1.

After Lancaster's statement, B.D. Mason of 551 Hillside said the council should renegotiate the cable franchise because the agreement does not allow for outside competition.

"I feel we ought to consider it a public utility. It ought to operate in the same way," he said.

Councilman Jack Y. Smith said the franchise permits competition.

Prosecutor says Mattox probe continuing with contract inquiry

AUSTIN (AP) — The prosecutor who helped indict Attorney General Jim Mattox on bribery charges says the investigation is continuing with inquiries into an artificial turf contract and state intervention in a private bankruptcy case.

Mattox became the first Texas attorney general in modern history to be indicted while in office Tuesday. He was accused of threatening to ruin a Houston law firm's public bond business unless it stopped trying to interrogate Mattox's sister.

Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle mentioned two subjects Tuesday when asked what was "left on the table" as matters still under investigation concerning Mattox.

"Allegations involving Superturf and Shearn, Moody," Earle said in referring to two other controversial matters reported in The Dallas Morning News.

The newspaper said Mattox steered a $1.3 million synthetic turf contract at Texas Southern University to a political supporter after it had already been awarded to someone else. It was alleged that the university changed its specifications for the turf after Mattox intervened. Mattox denied any wrongdoing and said he saved the state $50,000.

The paper also has reported that Mattox intervened on behalf of Moody in a private bankruptcy

Masters V in concert tonight

Gospel music will ring through First Baptist Church tonight as the Masters V, a highly touted singing group, will be in concert.

The performance will begin at 7 p.m. There is no admission charge. The church is at 705 W. Marcy Drive.

The group has been together about two years and combines the talent of Blackwood Brothers J.D. Sumner and James Blackwood with Statesmen Hovie Lister, Jake Hess and Shaun Nielsen. The Masters won a Grammy award this February in the category of traditional gospel music.

Here is a career sketch of the Masters V members:

- J.D. Sumner is acclaimed the world's lowest bass singer. He has 37 years of experience in the music business. Sumner served as Elvis Presley's bass singer for seven years appearing on Presley albums and in Presley movies.

- Hovie Lister was the founder of the Statesmen, a noted gospel group. He is known for his showmanship and ability to play the piano.

- Jake Hess is regarded as the best lead singer in gospel music. He also excels in record production and arranging.

- James Blackwood founded the world-famous Blackwood Brothers. He is a member of the Gospel Music Hall of Fame and has won several Grammys for his work.

- Shaun Nielsen is noted for his tenor work and interpretive style of singing. Nielsen also has sung with the Imperials and the Statesmen.

Cable

He said the city should look at its cable franchise.

"We made this deal with people we know," he said. "We ought to study this and see where we stand with this agreement."

Smith and Councilman Larry Miller said they want time to check into the larger company.

Lancaster said the company was the same the city had been dealing with, but Smith said there must be some change involved since the firm's 10 private stockholders were affected.

Councilman Russ McEwen moved that the council allow the transfer.

"In 1980 the council seated here approved an agreement with (Big Spring Cable TV) if they met minimum standards. In my opinion they have met and in some cases exceeded those standards.

"I don't think we should open this (agreement) up. I think we should take a positive step as opposed to a negative step."

McEwen's motion died for lack of a second. Smith moved the council table the matter so the transfer could be studied. Miller and Smith voted for the tabling; McEwen voted against it. Councilman Robert Fuller abstained because of his friendship with Lancaster.

Lancaster said this morning he wasn't sure what the council was asking for.

"I plan to find out," he said. "I'm a little puzzled by the request to check on the people (with the Tyler company). They are the same people they have been dealing with for the last 21 years."

He said he had supplied the council with information on TCA before last night's meeting.

According to Lancaster, Big Spring Cable TV is owned by 10 stockholders. One of those stockholders is in Big Spring, and the others live out of town. Four of the stockholders are associated with TCA. All 10 have approved the transfer, he said.

"We want to find out from the city manager what it is the council wants," he said.

According to Lancaster, the city's current franchise agreement may be renegotiated in 1985. He refused to comment when asked about the council's possible re-evaluation of the agreement.

Miller said this morning he wanted to look at the larger company and the city's franchise agreement.

"I want to see how stable this larger company is, and I want to give our attorney time to look at the franchise agreement," he said. "It may stay the same as it is, but this is a pretty big move, and I'd like to study it."

case, and that 10 days later A. Don Crowder, Mattox's former law partner, received a $20,000 payment from Moody, a Galveston millionaire.

Mattox acknowledged Crowder phoned him on behalf of Moody, but denied they discussed the merits of the case. Mattox said the $20,000 was a retainer and paid for Crowder's legal services after Mattox had already intervened.

Mattox, who did not criticize Earle during the 2½-month investigation, said Tuesday after the indictment that he was sorry the district attorney "caved in on this thing. I hope he's got guts enough to come down to the courtroom and try me himself."

State District Judge Mace Thurman set a $5,000 personal bond for Mattox and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Mattox was smiling and talkative when he surrendered at the sheriff's office, where he was fingerprinted and photographed. He predicted he would be found innocent and would emerge a "hero."

The indictment accuses the attorney general of telling attorney Wiley Caldwell of Fulbright & Jaworski that the state would not approve certain bonds handled by the Houston firm, unless that firm would quit trying to take a deposition from Mattox's sister in a suit between the state and Mobil Oil Corp., the firm's client.

The indictment was returned by a Travis County grand jury that has been investigating Mattox's campaign finances and allegations against the attorney general since Rep. Larry Don Shaw on hand for the ceremony. Michelle Deanda, Lisa Ramirez and Cyndi Sosa are candidates for the crown.

The day will end with a variety show from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. and a dance from 8 p.m. to midnight featuring the Los Amigos Band.

For those interested in entering the float competition or wanting to sponsor a booth, call 263-6071 after 3 p.m. A $10 fee is required for setting up a booth.

All proceeds from the festivities will go into a fund designed to benefit the community, according to Fiesta Day organizers.

Bank official pleads guilty

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — Ladd waived his right to a grand jury hearing and trial before entering guilty pleas on two counts of federal bank fraud Monday, according to court records filed in the case.

The first count of the federal bank fraud hearing stemmed from a Nov. 5, 1982, incident in which he cashed a $12,000 loan check payable to First National.

Stuart M. Ladd is scheduled to face sentencing before U.S. District Judge Lucius Bunton on Oct. 5.

Ms. Mattox said her brother "will not be intimidated into letting Mobil Oil off of what they owe the state of Texas. If Jim is making those people mad, he must be doing his job."

McDade had no comment on the indictment. In San Antonio, Manges said through a spokesman, "If there ever was a doubt about the power of an oil company, let there be none."

Mattox, who received $50,000 in contributions from Manges, became involved in the $1.67 billion suit over disputed oil and gas leases shortly after he took office, although the state had already entered on Manges' side. The state intervened because it owns some of the mineral rights involved.

Mattox came under grand jury investigation after newspaper articles questioned the source of a $125,000 loan on his 1982 campaign finance report, and McDade accused him of threatening to use the power of the state against his law firm.

Council okays 2-cent tax hike for '84 budget

By RICHARD HORN
Staff Writer

Big Spring city councilmen last night gave preliminary approval to a recommended $11.6 million budget and a 2.3-cent increase in the city tax rate for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

The council also approved on first reading a 40 percent homestead tax exemption and exemptions for senior citizens and disabled persons.

The council will take two more votes on the budget and tax rate proposals.

The tax increase would bring the city property tax rate up from 65.7 cents to 68 cents per $100 value. The taxable value of a person's property is the value after exemptions are applied.

Councilman Jack Y. Smith said the increase was necessary to maintain and improve city services.

"I don't like it. But in our services, if anything, we've got to do more," he said before the council voted on the matter. "We're trying to improve the police department. I think the better services will far exceed the increase in taxes. We're not doing all we can, but we're doing the best we can."

The proposed budget calls for:

- Three full-time jailers for the police department to provide 24-hour jail watch.
- A $100-per month, per man pay increase for law enforcement personnel.
- A 4 percent across-the-board pay increase for city employees.

City Manager Don Davis said recently that the tax increase is not specifically for the added features of the budget but was needed to make up for a drop in sales tax revenue and a drop in the tax roll resulting from last year's property reappraisal.

The certified tax roll for this year is $418,627,078. Last year's tax roll was $419,374,077. Both figures represent taxable values before exemptions are included.

Davis said the tax increase would add about $70,000 to the city's general fund.

In other business, the council:

- Presented a plaque to Administrative Assistant Bill Hall for his five years service to the city. Hall is leaving city employment Friday to become utilities director for The Colony near Dallas.
- Presented a 20-year service award to Police Detective Avery Faulkner and a 5-year pin to Air Park custodian Clarence Yates.
- Denied a request from Victor Y. Garcia of 1406 Bluebird for a livestock permit. City inspection officials said the premises were unsuitable for the keeping of livestock.
- Approved a resolution "deploring" the Soviet Union for its attack on Korean Air Lines Flight 007.
- Awarded a bid for $33,747 to Riggs First Line Equipment Co. for a mini-pumper and a bid for $54,979 to Daco Fire Equipment for a single stage pumper for the fire department.
- Increased maximum fines for violations in zoning, fire and safety, public health and sanitation ordinances.
- Agreed to abandon a ¼-foot section of property along the west edge of the Petroleum Building.
- Designated the intersection of 13th and Nolan streets as a yield intersection.

Proposed pet law leashed

COLORADO CITY (SC) — A city council proposal to limit the number of pets a family can own brought out cat-calls and howls from several residents here Tuesday night.

The proposal, which would have allowed no more than six pets per family, was tabled.

In other action the council:

- Opened insurance bids from Elliot Godwin, Lovell-Carr, Prudential, and Blue Cross-Blue Shield. The bids were referred to the insurance committee of the council.
- In landfill trench bids, Muncie Dozier Service of Marlyneal, Texas, submitted the apparent low bid of 81 cents per cubic yard to remove 11,111 cubic yards from the city's landfill.
- Approved the beginning of advertising for bids on two new pickups to be used in meter reading and animal control.
- Approved preliminary plans for a new addition (Oakwood) to the city. The project is designed for professional offices.
- Authorized advertising for bids on the new sewer system treatment plant. This will start Phase I of the wastewater treatment plant improvements.

Routine saved by judge

PHILADELPHIA — Comedian Bill Cosby's "Poppy Whitehead" routine does not extend beyond the bounds of decency, a federal judge ruled as he dismissed a suit filed by two brothers who didn't find it funny.

They claimed they were defamed when Cosby, 46, performed the monologue on "The Tonight Show."

In the routine, Cosby described how he and "Poppy," as 7-year-olds, spied on the amorous activities of Poppy's older brother.

Eugene "Poppy" Whitehead, watching the show from his home in Philadelphia in 1980, was not amused. Nor was Walter Whitehead, his brother.

But Judge John P. Fullam said Tuesday that the monologue was "incapable of a defamatory meaning" and "by no stretch of the imagination" beyond the bounds of decency.

Zappa suing record company

LOS ANGELES — Rock star Frank Zappa, best known recently for "Valley Girl," the oddball hit recorded with his teen-age daughter Moon, is suing Warner Bros. Records Inc. for $6 million, his lawyer says.

Attorney Christina Jacobs says the suit filed Monday in Superior Court charges that Warner Bros. failed to account properly for sales under the 42-year-old entertainer's two record labels, Bizarre Records Inc. and Discreet Records Inc., and seeks $3 million in compensatory damages and another $3 million in punitive damages.

"The complaint also alleges that Warner Brothers had a position of trust and confidence with Mr. Zappa, and that Warner Brothers breached that trust and confidence," Ms. Jacobs said.

Phones calls to the Warner Bros. West Coast legal and press offices were unanswered Tuesday evening.

Ex-wife seeks more money

BOSTON — Pulitzer Prize-winning author Norman Mailer is being asked for more money by one of his ex-wives, but his lawyer says that's nothing new.

"If I bothered him every time they filed an action, he'd never write a word," said the attorney, Monroe Inker.

Mailer was not in state Supreme Court on Tuesday when arguments were heard in his fourth wife's appeal of the divorce decree she won three years ago from the author, whose works include "The Naked and the Dead."

A lawyer for Beverly Rents Bentley Mailer, Gerald Nissenbaum, told the five justices that at the time of the trial Mailer, now 60, was working on two books, "The Executioner's Song" and "Ancient Evnings," and had been given an acting role.

Because none of these money-making ventures came out in original testimony, Nissenbaum asked for a new trial in Probate Court.

Inker said that despite his client's productivity and high earnings, "his entire estate has been dissipated by having to support seven children and three other wives."

Navy jets in Lebanon

WASHINGTON — President Reagan, expanding U.S. air defenses in Beirut, is allowing Navy jets to support Lebanese army forces trying to hold off Syrian-backed Druse militiamen.

While the Marines did not immediately call in the fighters based on the aircraft carrier Dwight D. Eisenhower, two British Buccaneer fighter-bombers flew a rooftop sweep over Beirut in a show of force for the multinational peacekeeping force.

With Congress paying increasing attention to the use of the troops in Beirut, the commandant of the Marine Corps, Gen. Paul X. Kelley, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Tuesday that there is "not a significant danger at this time in terms of imminent hostilities to our Marines."

"There is no evidence that any of the rocket or artillery fire has been specifically directed against Marines," Kelley testified.

The president's decision to allow local Marine commanders to call in air strikes was described as a new policy intended to protect the Marines, who have come under fire from the Druse militiamen attacking Lebanese positions.

It was reported in Beirut by the privately-owned Central News Agency that Reagan had pledged air and naval artillery support for the Lebanese army. The agency, with access to President Amin Gemayel's inner circle, said: "If any of the Lebanese army's current front lines in the mountain are penetrated, the Lebanese government can count on U.S. Navy air and artillery intervention."

Senate wants sanctions

WASHINGTON — Senate conservatives are trying to nudge President Reagan into ordering specific sanctions against the Soviet Union beyond his strong rhetorical attacks against the destruction of South Korean Flight 007.

"The president is missing a golden opportunity if he doesn't nail the Soviet hide to the wall," said Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C. "I want him to go beyond the rhetoric and do something substantive."

Senate leaders of both parties had agreed on a resolution — to be voted on today — which would harshly condemn the Soviet Union for shooting down the civilian airliner carrying 269 people, including 61 Americans, on Sept. 1.

The Soviets, the resolution says, are guilty of a "cold-blooded attack on a commercial airliner ... which will rank among one of the most infamous and reprehensible acts of aviation history."

It has the support of the White House, and almost all congressional leaders.

But the resolution, written by Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., and Minority Leader Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., recommends few specific actions against the Soviets, except for reparations to survivors and U.S. support for joint actions with other nations.

Helms and a group of about 10 conservatives have agreed on much tougher wording which would urge Reagan to recall the U.S. ambassador to Moscow for urgent consultations, to sharply reduce the number of Soviet diplomats in the United States and to link strategic arms negotiations with the plane incident.

Helms said he wants Reagan to use the shooting down of the plane as a reason for a broad re-examination of U.S.-Soviet relations, including "willingness of the Soviet Union to abide by international law as a responsible member of the community of nations."

China doesn't coddle criminals

Communist China, not widely celebrated for showing many tender mercies toward some of its citizens, is becoming increasingly hard-nosed in dealing with its criminal element. Stiff new penalties have been imposed for certain types of crime.

In a new crackdown on crimes of violence, China has increased penalties for a wide range of offenses, instituting the death penalty for many of them.

According to a report from Peking, the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress, China's Parliament, ordered Chinese courts to impose much harsher penalties, including execution in serious cases, for those convicted of aggravated assault; leading criminal gangs; trafficking in women and children; or attacking policemen, government officials or citizens trying to prevent crimes.

Other targets of the intensified crackdown will be those using illegal firearms, offenders whose actions cause "extremely harmful results" and organizers of any "reactionary secret society" using "feudal superstitions for counterrevolutionary activities."

For all their faults, and for whatever else the Red Chinese may be accused of, nobody can say they coddle criminals.

Last of a breed

WASHINGTON — Any number of senators can replace Scoop Jackson in such specialized areas as energy, defense, civil liberties and Great Power politics. But nobody else can draw all these themes together in ways that make things happen.

So his untimely death represents a genuine national loss. The more so as it comes against a general decline in the caliber of public servants.

The Scandinavian heritage marked Jackson in palpable fashion. He was a self-reliant individual, not, as so many politicians, a groupie. He liked to work things out for himself. While not a subtle or deep thinker, his convictions, once established, held firm.

Much fuss has been made as to whether he was a liberal or a conservative. In fact, his shaping political experience was the New Deal. Like all New Dealers, he believed in the power of government to solve problems. He looked to government to redress the balance between rich and poor, to protect the rights of labor and minorities, to make available cheap power and abundant water and recreation. He also counted on government to manage national security in a robust way.

Because his views were so steadfast, he developed over time a personal constituency of extraordinary depth and research. He won six terms as a congressman from the state of Washington, and six as a senator — the last with 69 percent of the vote. No one was closer to the Jewish community in this country. Nor to labor. So unlike almost all other senators and congressmen, Jackson did not merely speak for himself. He commanded big battalions.

His New Deal connections, moreover, carried him beyond narrow support of the congressional prerogatives to a presidential perspective. He knew the ins and outs of the federal agencies better than most of their leaders. He sought the White House twice himself, and worked hand in glove with two Democratic presidents — Kennedy and Johnson. A Republican, Richard Nixon, offered him the post of secretary of defense.

Because he had troops and a feel for the presidential viewpoint, he exerted extraordinary influence on the course of events. He practically determined energy policy. He shaped basic legislation on the environment and the development of water resources. His insistence on tying relations with Russia to explicit guarantees on Jewish emigration frustrated the policy of detente undertaken by Henry Kissinger under Nixon and Ford.

Most important, he personified bipartisan support for a strong defense. Other senators — notably John Tower, the Texas Republican who now heads the Armed Services Committee, and Sam Nunn, the Georgia Democrat — set as much store by efficient military force as Jackson. But he alone crossed ideological lines. He fostered trust between the Pentagon and the unions. He kept labor patriotic, and the generals in touch with ordinary people. He thus served as a potent factor in the building of national consensus.

Had he lived slightly longer, the true extent of his influence might have been made manifest. For the chances are the Democrats will carry the Senate in 1984. Jackson would have become chairman of the Armed Services Committee. He would have dominated the Appropriations Committee, for the likely chairman, John Stennis of Mississippi, is over 80 and not in the pink. The combination would have given Jackson far more power than any senator has held since Richard Russell some 30 years ago.

As it is he is the last of a breed. New senators are made on television, and in an age where ideological fashion is turned against government. They do not build loyalties quietly from within. They go for the evening news, usually by profiling themselves, from right or left, against the powers that be. More and more, the Senate is a collection of egos.

Leadership in the Senate, accordingly, has lost its appeal to men of large views and high ability. Howard Baker, the Majority Leader, is stepping down in large part because the petty quarrels of the Senate afford him scant springboard for the presidency. John Tower is quitting at least in part because of wounds sustained in a nasty debate over the MX missile last month.

The corrosive forces at work in the Senate operate throughout government. The quality of Cabinet officers, and governors, and mayors, has slipped. Private satisfaction exerts, particularly for intelligent people, a stronger appeal than public glory.

Just why is hard to say. There seems to be, as Albert Hirshman has pointed out, a kind of "private-public cycle." "Societies," he writes in his fine work "Shifting Involvements," "are in some way predisposed toward isolation between periods of intense preoccupation with public issues and almost total concentration on private improvement."

If so, the frustration fostered by selfishness will eventually breed a new realization that the "pursuit of happiness" means a quest for public good. When that happens, we may see again the likes of Henry Jackson.

There's irony in Korean plane tragedy

WASHINGTON — Evidence locked in secret CIA files suggests that the Soviets knew exactly what they were doing when they shot down an unarmed civilian airliner that had strayed off course into Soviet airspace.

The bitter irony is that Russian airliners are probably guilty of the aerial espionage that the Soviets wrongly thought the doomed South Korean airliner was engaged in.

A CIA report, stamped "Secret" and barred from foreign distribution, claims that Aeroflot, the Soviet airline, "is a significant instrument of Soviet intelligence collection."

The report cites "a prolonged employment of Aeroflot by the Soviets for both counterintelligence and foreign collection purposes." The Soviets are suspected, for example, "of using Aeroflot for signal intelligence collection operations."

Once, the Soviets rescheduled an Aeroflot flight "to permit coverage of a U.S. command post exercise." Another time, an Aeroflot airliner, flying over the United States, "was viewed as having a collection mission since signal intelligence intercept gear was observed on the aircraft."

Yet there has never been the slightest suggestion that Aeroflot planes should be shot down when they intrude into U.S. airspace with their espionage gear.

Just about every Aeroflot flight, suggests the CIA, has an ominous passenger on board — a KGB officer. "On domestic flights over the U.S.S.R.," reports the CIA, "the KGB officer probably acts in a security capacity to inform on the activities of foreigners or to block attempts by them to gather intelligence."

"On overseas flights, the function of the KGB officer would be to maintain control over the flight crew and prevent any possible defections. The use of Aeroflot for cover, coupled with the KGB presence on most flights and the inherent collection capability of the aircraft, corroborates the threat that this airline constitutes..." concludes the secret CIA report.

The Soviets probably attributed to the fateful South Korean airliner what their own commercial planes would do over someone else's territory. The airliner strayed dangerously close to the Kuril Islands, which are loaded with Soviet military installations.

The islands contain early warning radar sites, surface-to-air missile sites, military airstrips, a maritime base and a geophysical seismicographic observatory which, according to a secret Defense Intelligence Agency report, "is involved in anti-submarine warfare-related projects in the northern Kurils."

Earlier this year, 20 MiG-23s were moved onto the biggest airstrip, which is located on the Kuril Island of Iturup. Oddly, tanks are also stationed on the tiny island where they would seem to have no place to go.

Concludes the DIA report: "The military significance of the four islands is considerable."

The South Korean airliner passed north of the Kurils over the Sea of Okhotsk. The Soviets are extremely sensitive about this area, according to classified papers obtained by my associate Dale Van Atta.

The United States takes the position, states a top-secret CIA report, "that the Sea of Okhotsk is an international body of water." Yet any U.S. penetration into the area invariably draws a Soviet response. "Such operations usually provoke reconnaissance and surveillance by Soviet naval aircraft and ships," notes the report.

Billy Graham
Person feels like oddball

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I feel like an oddball in our church, because I am almost the only single person around. I don't feel like I have much in common with all of the married couples my own age. What do you think I should do? — W.D.M.

DEAR W.D.M.: There are two main choices available to you. First, you can accept your situation and work to improve it so that your church begins to reach out to other singles, and you take steps also to establish firmer friendships with those who are married in the church. Or second, you can seek out a church where you feel more comfortable because of its ministry to singles.

I cannot tell you which choice is right for you; you certainly should make it a matter of prayer and seek God's will about it. But look at each of these choices. First, you could work to improve the situation in your church — and this is probably the way you should go if at all possible. For one thing, you should talk frankly with your pastor about your concern. You may be surprised to find that he is very sympathetic to your feelings and will appreciate your willingness to mention the problem to him. He may in fact ask you for suggestions on ways the church can help — so be prepared with some specific suggestions! Many churches today are beginning to reach out to singles, and you actually may have an excellent opportunity to be used of God in your church to reach out to single people who need Christ. In addition, he may be able to suggest ways in which you can be of service in the church, and this is often an excellent way to establish friendships.

It may be you will come to the conclusion you would be happier — and would grow spiritually in a great way — in a church which has others who are single. But remember most of all that you need other Christians and you need to grow in your relationship to Christ. Even if your present church is not ideal according to your wishes, ask God if he has a ministry for you there and if you can grow spiritually there. "But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (2 Peter 3:18).

New Jersey is the state with the highest population density — nearly 1000 people per square mile.

Sixty days

President Reagan's administration finally has decided to appear before Congress, and in a compromise move, agree to let Lebanon be declared a combat zone.

In return for this truly beneficent gesture, he will ask Congress to extend the Marines' participation as part of a multi-national peace force for another year.

There is no need for compromise. The Marines have been in Lebanon for at least a year. During that time, Israelis, Druze Moslems, Christians, Syrians, Palestinians and Phalangists have been killed in a civil war whose borders have expanded to include not only its neighbors, but various European and Western nations as well.

Not the least among these other nations is our own country. U.S. Marines were sent over there with assurances that they would be back within 60 days, according to the President.

MORE THAN 60 days have passed. Our Marines are still in Lebanon, and likely will remain so until the end of the year. They have been attacked. Their base has been shelled repeatedly. They have fired back — repeatedly.

Our naval vessels have moved closer to the coast in order to return fire on the artillery bases bombarding our Marines.

President Reagan declared this week that American commanding officers in Lebanon can now order air strikes against the Syrians if they continue to attack the Marines' base.

Four Marines are dead, their bodies shipped back in body bags to the United States for burial. At least three more are wounded.

And Reagan finally is ready to concede that Lebanon is a combat zone?

WHAT KIND of chief executive doesn't realize that his forces are in a combat zone — when armies are exchanging fire — until his men are dead? A man whose only experience with war has been in the movies?

For that matter, Congress has confined its action to mutters and complaints. Legislators should not have to wait for the executive branch to appear before them to recognize that there is a combat situation in Lebanon. If they have to wait for the Administration to appear before them, they have plenty of ways to bring pressure on a recalcitrant president.

The War Powers Act was designed to prevent any undeclared wars without Congress' consent, but the act is just paper unless it's used.

Americans, the last few weeks show, can die as easily in undeclared combat as declared combat. But recognizing what we are involved in before we go any further is a must.

Should both Congress and the Americans expected to serve in a battle zone decide that American deaths are necessary to achieve peace in Lebanon, they have that option.

But a lot of blood has been shed in the Middle East this decade. Israeli, Palestinian and Syrian deaths haven't brought the area any closer to war. What makes us think that American deaths will?

you know that you do care. Just try the words: "I want to join your PTA."

Granted not all of us have time to get involved in the day-to-day work of a PTA unit. However, the strength of the national and state PTA organizations as far as what they can accomplish legislatively as advocates for children often comes down to a simple numbers game. Even if you have time for nothing more, be a number for the children of Big Spring, Texas and America.

Surely Midland, Odessa, Austin and Dallas don't care more for children than Big Spring does. Big Spring, let's take time for kids this week!

Please stop by your neighborhood elementary and join PTA. So little can accomplish so much for our children.

Parents urged to join PTA

Dear Editor, "Take Time for Kids" is theme of the current Texas PTA membership drive.

Last year 685,000 Texans took the time. Big Spring, though, is not taking time for kids! The response to PTA membership drives in Big Spring's six schools that have PTA units has been most disappointing.

Bauer Elementary, which for years has been without a PTA, is trying to start one this year. The PTAs at College Heights, Kentwood, Marcy, Moss and Washington are simply trying to get off the ground again. We can't do it without you.

Membership in PTA is open to every citizen — not just parents. How easy it is to show the children

'Texanese' outlined in 'Towns West' article

Jean Warren, a local schoolteacher, had an article published in the last issue of Towns West, a slick regional magazine originated three years ago by Madolyn and Bob Tinsley of Odessa. Jean's article is entitled, "Texanese". She recounted her experiences of marrying a Texan and learning that the language can be difficult and confusing to a non-Texan. It's a funny story.

Towns West recently merged with another publishing company in Abilene, which will give it a broader financial and regional base. The publisher's goal is to become a top-notch area magazine of the caliber of the statewide Texas Monthly. For more information about subscriptions, advertising rates, or submitting free-lance photography or writing, contact my office at 210 Permian Building, 263-1451.

As a result of a request by a Boy Scout troop looking for a home, KBYG Radio stepped forward and offered them some space not being used. Thanks Dick Fields.

The Dora Roberts Rehab Center will benefit from a unique event Saturday at the amphitheater. The first Annual Dust Bowl Jam will unfold at noon and last late into the evening. Featuring country-western music, it will also have special performances by a troop of belly dancers and Indian rain dancers just for a change of pace. Five western bands have already signed commitments, and at least another five bands are expected to sign before deadline. Admission is $4 at the gate or $3 in advance. Sponsored by Ambucs, Coors, KBYG and KIOF, all proceeds go to the Rehab Center. Advance tickets may be purchased by calling 263-7326.

Cultural habits from Mexico were studied this week by kindergarten students of Lakeview School. This will be climaxed on Friday by a parade celebrating Mexico's Independence, Diez y Seis. The children, dressed in red, white and green, will parade in the gym for the parents, friends, and Head Start pupils. They will perform songs in Spanish and English and exhibit a Mexican dance.

Parents of teacher Ruth Nanny's children will prepare a breakfast of tortillas, eggs and beans. Parents of teachers Bernice Daniels, Jessye Myles, Elmira Forman, Cruz Martinez, and Cindy Schaffer will prepare a Mexican luncheon for the children.

The Evening Lions Club really knows how to throw a party. Before the first Friday night Steer game, the annual Lions Club Barbecue held at the high school cafeteria served in excess of 800 people and cleared approximately $2,000 which will be used entirely to aid its charitable causes such as Crippled Children, Save the Eyesight and Emergency Medical Assistance programs. Congratulations to all those who worked hard under the leadership of President Al Valdes.

Big Spring's generosity never ceases to amaze me. There was tremendous response to the KBST radiothon for Jackie Romine — almost TRIPLE the original goal. Then... thanks to the Jaycees, deejays, firefighters and police who answered the local phones, Big Spring set a record in its history of giving to the Jerry Lewis MD telethon. Big Spring has a heart!

Congress is back in session. Last Saturday, our congressman, Charles Stenholm, had his annual Funday in Stamford for all his friends and supporters. There were at least 16 Big Springers there that I counted and more may have come in after we left.

Most recent economic indicators are showing healthy signs with increases over one year ago in Big Spring. Total bank deposits are up almost 11 percent; savings and loan assets up 21.8 percent; civil labor force is up 2.5 percent (however, overall unemployment was up also). Building permits were up 9 percent (but real estate sales were down). Optimism is continuing to grow as industrial prospects are picking up, retail sales have increased and wholesales have jumped.

Tapes say Nazis plotted to bomb sites in Greensboro, N.C.

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Six Nazis plotted to haul barrels of explosive napalm to at least three sites in Greensboro and trigger the bombs by remote-control, according to secretly recorded tape recordings played in federal court Tuesday.

On the tapes, played before the jury in the conspiracy trial of the six avowed Nazis, the defendants were heard to say napalm would cause the "maximum psychological effect."

The Nazis are charged with conspiring to bomb parts of Greensboro in 1980 while six others — Nazis and Ku Klux Klansmen — were on trial for murder in state court in Greensboro on charges of killing five Communist Workers Party members at a "Death to the Klan" march in November 1979.

Prosecutors say they cancelled their plans after the six Klansmen and Nazis were acquitted.

The tapes in the current trial were recorded on Oct. 1, 1980, by former federal agent Michael Sweat, posing as Maj. Mike Swain, a soldier of fortune.

"I was wanting napalm, the psychological effect," defendant Frank Lee Braswell told Sweat. "Let's face it, downtown Greensboro right about four o'clock in the evening when it's good and crowded." The first trial in July 1981 ended in a mistrial when jurors could not reach a unanimous verdict.

The Howard County Fair will be here Monday, and our 4-Hers will be very busy during this week. The Omelet Supper will be held on Tuesday starting at 6 p.m. Tickets are $2.50 per person, and will include omelet, salad, toast and tea. This will be a good supper for you and at the same time you can support our 4-H project.

The raffle tickets are on sale for the Remington Model 1100 Shotgun. The tickets are $1 each and you may purchase them from any 4-Her or come by our booth at the fair and we will sell you as many as you want.

The Youth Goat Show is to be held Monday. Entries will be accepted from 4:40 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. and the show will begin promptly at 6 p.m. Classes will be set up at the time all entries are in. All goats may arrive anytime during the day Monday, and pens will be available.

Fans focus on 'Hobbit' manuscript

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Frodo and Sam would probably prefer a convivial evening singing by a hearth, but scholarly fans of J.R.R. Tolkien's works chose to study the author's literary import at an academic conference on his original manuscripts.

Tolkien, the British fantasy writer of "The Hobbit" and the trilogy "The Lord of the Rings," is the focus this week of a conference at Marquette University.

But instead of the pointed hats and furry feet of Tolkien's mythic Middle Earth that might grace other Tolkien fans' fetes, this meeting will have a distinctly academic tone.

"Part of the reason for originating this conference is we felt he was a literary figure and not just a fantasy writer," said program coordinator Terry Margherita, who is also the curator of the university's collection of Tolkien manuscripts.

Marquette's archives include the handwritten manuscripts for "The Lord of the Rings" and "The Hobbit" as well as unpublished drawings by Tolkien. The conference is the first to focus on the manuscripts, which arrived at Marquette 25 years ago, Ms. Margherita said. It also marks the 10th anniversary of the writer's death.

Speakers at the three-day gathering, which starts Thursday, will include English professor Joseph Mc-Clatchey and professor emeritus Clyde S. Kilby, both of Wheaton College in Illinois. Kilby is the former curator of the Marion E. Wade Collection at Wheaton, which includes many of Tolkien's letters and the papers of six other writers.

McClatchey stressed that Tolkien's work should be ranked among literature of the highest order.

"Tolkien didn't just sit down and dream up a story and call it 'The Lord of the Rings,'" McClatchey said. "Its depths are as deep as English literature and the English language. The difference between Tolkien's work and any other fantasy or romance is like day and night. Tolkien's work is deep and intricate. To me, it is without peer in its literary genre."

5 students shot at outside class

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Five high school students were shot during lunch hour on their first day of classes, and two youths were arrested, officials said.

The shootings Monday outside a classroom at the 1,300-student Manuel Dominguez High School apparently stemmed from rival gang activity, police said.

"There are shootings down here (in the district) every week. This just happens to be on the first day of school," said Roy Sykes, a security officer for the school district.

The most seriously hurt student was Adrian Brailsford, a 15-year-old sophomore shot through the neck, said district spokesman Jose Lopez. She was hospitalized in serious but stable condition at Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center, a hospital spokesman said.

Rosalyn Kelly, 16, a junior, was shot in the back, and Yesenia Perez, 17, a senior, was shot in the ankle, Lopez said. Both were in stable condition at Harbor-UCLA Medical Center, he said.

Heather Gardner and Jeremy Wilson, both 15-year-old sophomores, suffered minor wounds and were treated and released at Martin Luther King Jr. Hospital, Lopez said.

Classes resumed shortly after the arrests.

Former poster child killed in robbery

NEW YORK (AP) — A 22-year-old man who was once a March of Dimes poster child was shot to death by two teen-age robbers when he refused to hand over a borrowed portable radio, police said.

After a chase by police and the victim's brother and friends, two 16-year-olds were arrested a few blocks from the shooting scene, police said.

The victim, Matthew Harasek of Queens, was listening to the radio with his girlfriend in the parking lot of a Queens shopping center at about 12:40 a.m. Monday when the two gunmen approached, police said.

The youths demanded the radio, and when Harasek refused, one pulled a gun and fired a shot that struck Harasek in the chest, police said. The pair then fled with the radio, which Harasek had borrowed from a friend, police said.

Harasek's 17-year-old brother, Donald, and three friends, who had been tossing a Frisbee in the parking lot, heard the shot and chased the robbers, police said. They were joined in the chase by two police officers who were on patrol in the area and also heard the shot.

The group arrested Henry Goodson and Joseph Martinez, both of Queens, police said. The radio and a .25-caliber revolver were recovered, and the two teen-agers were charged with murder, police said.

Miss America pageant airing later to catch fall viewers

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Since the days when a flock of bathing beauties was the biggest thing to hit Atlantic City each year, the Miss America Pageant has always been held the first Saturday after Labor Day to extend the shore resort's summer season.

But as nine new casinos began pulling in crowds year-round, the tradition dating to 1921 became an expensive bother to the private corporation that took over the operation from the city.

Officials had to fight vacationers for hotel rooms and pay holiday overtime to crews working during the week of pre-pageant festivities.

This year's pageant will be the first held on the second Saturday after Labor Day. NBC, which won the broadcasting rights, will carry the show live from Convention Hall.

It's a gamble that Albert

A. Marks Jr., executive director of Miss America Pageant Inc., hopes will pay off in lower overhead and higher TV ratings, as more Americans are home from vacation and settled into their fall viewing habits.

The switch presents risks both to Marks' corporation and to NBC. A significant drop in the pageant's viewership could affect advertising revenues; sponsorship of future shows and negotiations for television rights to next year's pageant.

Marks will be in New York by Monday, ratings in hand, to begin negotiating with the three major commercial networks over the broadcasting rights for next year's show.

While the pageant has been the highest-rated program of the week each year since it was first broadcast in 1954, the ratings peaked in 1961 when the show scored an impressive 41.8 rating and 75 share.

That means that of the television sets that were on, three of four were tuned to Miss America and people were watching Miss America in 41.8 percent of all the households with televisions.

By 1982, the show scored a 23.4 rating and a 45 share — still high by television industry standards but well below the early showings.

"Over the course of a season, a ratings point is worth about $50 million in revenues for a network," said NBC spokesman Matt Messina.

With NBC's fall season to begin Sept. 26, the pageant will also afford time for better promotion of the network's new shows.

"Traditionally, Miss America is always the No. 1 rated show for the week and it would be a good opportunity to promote some of the new shows," said Hal Bender, another NBC spokesman.

Four sponsors will pay $135,000 apiece for each of the show's 28 "commercial units" of 30 seconds each. NBC will be allowed two station breaks and two 20-second promotions, Marks said.

Kennedy under investigation

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP) — Investigators obtained a search warrant to look for "controlled substances" in the luggage of Robert F. Kennedy Jr. after he got sick on a flight to Rapid City, officials said today.

There is "an ongoing investigation involving Bobby Kennedy Jr.," Rod Lefholz, Pennington County state's attorney, said today. "The investigation could take days or weeks."

Kennedy, son of the late senator, is a former assistant district attorney in New York City.

The pilot of the Republic Airlines plane radioed ahead Sunday night for the medics after passengers or flight attendants noticed Kennedy was ill, said Bob Vanderwaal, manager of Republic's Rapid City office.

"He got sick or something. I don't know how sick he was," Vanderwaal said.

Magistrate Jack Klauk said today he signed a search warrant that allowed investigators to open Kennedy's flight bag to "search for contraband and controlled substances."

Kennedy, 28, was conscious when he left the plane, was taken to the airport's VIP room and later left, airport manager Ernie Hansen said. Hansen also said he did not know what made Kennedy sick.

Debra Wallace attends symposium in Houston

HOUSTON — Debra Wallace, an employee of Malone-Hogan Hospital, was among about 400 health care professionals to complete the three-day Life Flight Emergency Care Sympo. The symposium was recently sponsored by Hermann Hospital and The University of Texas Medical School at Houston (UTMSH). The symposium attracted registered nurses, physicians, emergency medical technicians and licensed vocational nurses from throughout the country. It is held annually in Houston in conjunction with the anniversary of Hermann Hospital's Life Flight program, a medical air transport service. The 54 individual seminars offered over the three-day period addressed topics such as multiple trauma, respiratory failure, types of burns and individual treatment, acute pediatrics, neonatal emergencies, acute OBGYN emergencies, child abuse and Sudden Infant Death Syndrome (SIDS), overdoses, disaster management and air transport safety. James H. "Red" Duke, Jr., M.D., professor of Surgery at UTMSH, and medical director of Life Flight at Hermann Hospital, opened the symposium with "Trauma and Critical Care — A Human Issue." Special guest speaker at the symposium was George S. Sheldon, M.D., chief of Trauma and Hyperalimentation at San Francisco General Hospital. Dr. Sheldon spoke on "Systems and Education in Emergency Medical Care."

Dear Abby

Laundry plans don't wash well

DEAR ABBY: I've been dating a very attractive gentleman for about a year. We were getting along famously, to the point where I thought something permanent might develop.

Then I found out that his ex-wife is still doing his laundry! They've been divorced for eight years, but every week he goes back and forth to her house, drops off his soiled laundry and picks it up clean. I think this is sick, Abby.

He has had several relationships since his divorce, but none has lasted very long. The most enduring one he's ever had has been with his ex-wife to whom he is "tied" through his laundry.

What are the psychological implications of this strange bonding? Can there be an apron-string syndrome here? (A "mother-son" relationship?) And what about her accepting his soiled garments? (Symbolic of taking his "dirt" and returning everything spotless and renewed again? Total forgiveness, weekly — and weakly?)

And what of the starch she puts in his collars? Does she also stiffen his spine? I could go on and on. Please analyze this relationship and tell me if I should continue seeing him. I do not want to be hurt. SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: To quote Freud: "Sometimes a cigar is just a cigar." Ask him to come clean and tell you if he and his "ex" are washed up or not.

DEAR ABBY: What are people supposed to do when they mail out 112 invitations with RSVP on them and the date (wedding) is drawing near and more than half the people haven't responded? Do they assume that those who did not respond are planning to attend? Or do they assume they aren't coming?

It is one big job to telephone invited guests to find out whether they're coming or not.

The catering service charges so much per plate, and if fewer guests show up, there is no refund. I am ready to tear my hair out, Abby.

We even enclosed envelopes, addressed and stamped for their convenience, but it didn't help much. I can't call up all these people. Now what?

NERVOUS WRECK IN SKOKIE, ILL. DEAR WRECK: Ask two or three of your good friends to telephone the non-respondents. I know it's infuriating, but you can't assume that silence implies yea or nay.

CONFIDENTIAL TO UNDECIDED IN TUSCALOOSA, ALA.: Go to school and learn a trade. "He that hath a trade hath an estate; and he that hath a calling hath a place of profit and honor. A plowman on his legs is higher than a gentleman on his knees." — Benjamin Franklin.

Dr. Donohue

Hepatitis

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Ten years ago I had hepatitis and was yellow as an egg yolk with my joints affected. They swelled like balloons. I thought I was rid of it, but a few months ago I had a flu-like feeling. I was hospitalized and had a liver biopsy that showed I have chronic active hepatitis. I have been on prednisone since then. It was reduced in dosage following my last liver scan. I still get sick and get warm and cold spells.

I'm told to stay on my medication. No special diet. Is there a special diet to get my enzyme level down? By the way, I'm 63. Perhaps you can help, or at least give me some good news. — Mrs. R.K.

I am sorry you have had such a miserable time of it. Chronic active hepatitis is frequently difficult to manage. The term means that there is continuing inflammation and death of liver cells over a prolonged period. I assume that your early bout was caused by the hepatitis B virus, especially since you had joint problems at that time. Painful joints often accompany the first hepatitis B virus infection.

This particular virus has a way of remaining in liver tissue long after the yellowness and the other symptoms of infection have disappeared. It lies smoldering quietly like the embers of a fire. From time to time it may burst forth into a small blaze, not quite as big as the original fire, but enough to more than make itself known.

The blood levels of enzymes you refer to from your liver tests have nothing to do with the food you eat. Those enzymes indicate the debris from the continuing death of liver cells. They are released into your bloodstream and mark the progress of treatment. So diet doesn't help.

Steroids, like your prednisone, are often used to quiet the inflammation in the liver. Sometimes this medicine may contribute to a feeling of malaise or illness. It's hard to say in any specific case. However, if that is the case you may soon notice the effect of your lowest dosage.

Or perhaps it may be the fact that your medicine has not yet taken hold. I'm very hopeful that your next blood test will show marked improvement in your condition and that you can be rid of this unhappy situation.

Clinic celebrates doctor's birthday

By RHONDA WITT
Lifestyle Writer

Dr. P.W. Malone will celebrate his 80th birthday with a reception in the lobby of Malone-Hogan Clinic from 4 to 6 p.m., Thursday.

Malone and Dr. John E. Hogan founded Malone-Hogan Clinic and Hospital in 1938. Malone said the hospital and clinic had two physicians and eight hospital beds, compared to the 27 physicians and 150 beds it now has.

Why did Malone and Hogan begin a hospital? "Back in those days, we didn't have any clinics in this section of the country. There was one in Lubbock, one in Dallas, one in Temple. So many people had to drive great distance to a clinic," he said. "Back in 1930, we didn't have all these paved highways. Travel was difficult."

"The hospital and clinic wanted 'physicians in most specialties in order to prevent people from driving long distance for specialized treatment,'" he said.

Malone ended his managerial position with Malone-Hogan when he turned 70, he said, because of a rule in his contract. The reason for this rule was because the hospital wanted to give the younger people to have a chance in the managerial positions, he said.

Malone said the changes he has seen during his 53 years as an ophthalmologist, an eye doctor, has been terrific. "When I started practicing we didn't have many of the newer sophisticated instruments for examination and treatment or penicillin." He added newer techniques are being used today, that were not dreamed possible in 1930.

Malone developed an interest in medicine while he was a farm boy. "I think I was influenced by the life and characters of family physicians in our small town. I decided to become a doctor during my second year of high school." Being from a small farm, Malone found studying medicine a little difficult. "I had to work my way entirely through school," he said. "I received only $175 from my family."

His philosophy of life is "What you do for other people is the only thing you are going to have when you get to heaven," Malone said. "Some people want to be rich, and some want to help people. I've never had a desire to be rich."

He enjoys treating sick people, and seeing them feel better makes him feel better too.

He is proud to be one of the founders of Howard College, which opened in 1945. Malone has been on the board of trustees continuously since that time. Howard College "is one of the greatest institutions in Howard County," he said.

DR. P.W. MALONE
...celebrates birthday

"We don't want to be a four year college or a senior college. Most kids want to have a big school on their diploma. All we want to be is one of the best two year colleges."

Malone, born Sept. 15, 1903, grew up on a farm 45 miles east of Nashville, Tenn. He graduated from high school in Watertown, Tenn. Malone earned his bachelor of science degree from Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn. For medical school, he attended the University of Tennessee in Memphis, Tenn. Malone began practicing medicine July 26, 1930 in Big Spring.

Malone and wife Inez were married Oct. 22, 1926. The couple have one daughter, Mary Francis Clements of Jonesboro, Ark.

Through the years, Malone has participated in several community organizations. He served as chairman of the board of Wayland Baptist College in Plainview and Howard College. He also is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Lions. He was Selected as Outstanding Citizen in 1970-71 by the American Legion Post 355.

Malone has been president of Air Medic Association and Downtown Lions. He has received a distinguished alumnus award at Carson-Newman College.

Malone says his hobbies were the clinic, hospital and his church, First Baptist Church. He enjoys fishing.

"I have certainly lived through the golden age of development of medicine and surgery," Malone said.

4-H history is being traced

4-H is celebrating its 75th anniversary. Since 1908 when Tom Marks formed the first "boy's Corn Club", 4-H has grown and expanded. Today, it's the largest youth serving organization in the country. Howard County 4-H has received nation and state-wide recognition throughout the years. Howard County 4-H history is being traced and public help is needed. Persons having information, articles or pictures about 4-H prior to 1960, call Peggy Kalina at 287-1821.

Monaco strong year later

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — One year after the death of Princess Grace, the tiny Mediterranean principality of Monaco flourishes — if sadly.

Her prince and three children will mark the first anniversary of Grace's death today by attending a memorial Mass in the cathedral where she was married and laid to rest.

It was on Sept. 14, 1962, that the former American movie star Grace Kelly died at the age of 52. Her car ran off a hairpin turn on a twisting, Riviera mountain road and plunged 120 feet into a vegetable garden, but doctors said the cause of death — 36 hours after the accident — was a stroke.

Within months, there was speculation that real estate prices would plunge, conventions would cancel, tourism would decline and economic troubles would reign without the drawing power of Princess Grace.

The predictions have not come true. Monaco's commercial turnover last year was a record high $1.5 billion, bank deposits set a new mark at $1.9 billion, and hotel occupancy rose to 67 percent from 50 percent 10 years ago. The results for 1983 are expected to be at least as rosy.

There still is no personal income tax in Monaco, no national debt and virtually no unemployment. Of the principality's 28,000 residents, only about 100 are listed as unemployed — a jobless rate of 0.3 percent.

Although there has been a slight drop in real estate prices, it has been far less than that experienced in other resort areas, and its cause has been the general world recession rather than the death of Grace.

The linking of Monaco's economic health to Grace's death has shocked her husband Prince Rainier III. The portly, 60-year-old prince, whose Grimaldi family has ruled since the 13th century, has denied such a link in the few interviews he has given since her death.

"She did a lot for the glamour and prestige of the principality, but I don't think her disappearance means that people are not going to come," Rainier told Life magazine earlier this year. "Monaco has existed for 800 years. It can go on for a long time."

The public's fascination with Grace, the daughter of a Philadelphia brick-layer turned millionaire, also goes on.

One year after her death, photographs of Grace still grace the covers of magazines. Postcards of the Academy Award-winning actress and souvenirs with her likeness continue to sell in tourist shops across from the rocktop, sand-colored Grimaldi palace. The palace has received more than 25,000 letters of condolence.

The curious still stop and gawk at the treacherous turn where her car ran off the road. Almost daily, mourners pass by her tomb.

For the Grimaldis, the year since Grace's death has brought increased attention.

"Since the death of Princess Grace, the number of articles on the family has tripled," said Nadia Lacoste, the official spokeswoman for the family.

When the three-month mourning period ended Dec. 15, the royal family emerged to resume their official duties and begin filling the gap left by Grace's death.

In recent months Rainier has devoted himself to grooming Crown Prince Albert, 25, to take over the duties of running the principality that is about the size of New York's Central Park. Rainier often has said he plans to abdicate in favor of Albert, although no date has ever been given.

The handsome, athletic young prince, who received a political science and economics degree from Amherst College in Amherst, Mass., finished a six-month banking internship in June with Morgan Guaranty Trust in New York.

Albert recently has been linked romantically to Lady Helen Windsor, the 18-year-old daughter of the Duke of Kent and a cousin of Queen Elizabeth II of Britain. But Albert, like Britain's Prince Charles before him, has said he has no plans to marry before the age of 30.

Princess Caroline, 26, once the most rambunctious of the three children, has lived a more subdued life since her 1980 divorce from French playboy Philippe Junot. Vatican officials currently are examining a request to annul Caroline's marriage, which would allow her to remarry in the church.

Caroline now spends her time with childhood friend Robertino Rossellini, son of the late actress Ingrid Bergman.

Much of the recent press attention has centered on Princess Stephanie, 18, who has captivated the public by her romance with Paul Belmondo, 20, the car-racing son of French film star Jean-Paul Belmondo.

Stephanie had to wear a neck brace for three months because of a vertebrae injury suffered in the car accident with her mother, but she is now fully recovered. The two were alone when Grace lost control of the car after suffering the first of two strokes.

"Stephanie has told me only one thing about the accident," Rainier said in an interview earlier this year. "I didn't want to press her, of course. Maybe someday she'll be more talkative. One can feel that she's closed off on the subject. But she did say to me, 'Oh, Mommy panicked, Mommy panicked.'"

Sterilization most common birth control

NEW YORK (AP) — Sterilization is the most common method of contraception in use by American couples, according to a nationwide survey of women 18 to 44 years old.

Of the 33.4 million women who practice birth control, more than 11.6 million rely on sterilization either of themselves or their partner, according to the survey.

The use of birth-control pills was a close second, with 10 million women using them.

The survey, conducted by a marketing research firm for the Alan Guttmacher Institute of New York, also revealed that 3 million sexually active women risk accidental pregnancy because they use no birth control whatsoever.

The survey's results appear in the July-August issue of Family Planning Perspectives, published by the Guttmacher Institute, a research and education organization that is a special affiliate of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America.

Use of contraceptives was found to vary with age. Older women were more likely to rely on sterilization, while more than half of those under 25 use birth-control pills.

Business and pleasure may mix to produce deductions

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Mixing business with pleasure can bring the added bonus of a tax deduction if you follow a few simple rules, time your entertaining carefully and keep detailed records.

Researchers at Prentice-Hall of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., which publishes tax information, say there are lots of legitimate deductions for business entertainment.

In general, if you have a substantial and bona fide business discussion before or after something like a theater or dinner party, a night club outing or a sports event, the full cost is deductible by you or your company, depending on who pays the bills.

The expense must be associated with the active conduct of business and the entertainment usually has to take place on the same day as the business discussion unless the customer comes from out of town or there are other unusual circumstances.

There are some exceptions to the rule. You may, for example, deduct the cost of lunch or dinner with a business associate even if you don't actually talk about business, as long as the atmosphere is conducive to such a discussion. There must be no distracting influences.

You must keep accurate records. List each expense in a diary at or near the time the expense occurs and get receipts for each expense of $25 or more. Your diary listings should include the cost of the entertainment, the date, who was entertained and what the business relationship is; the time, place, length and nature of the business discussion and who attended it.

Prentice-Hall put together a hypothetical week of business entertaining to show how the deductions work.

Suppose one of your customers and his or her spouse come to town on Sunday. You and your spouse take them to a tennis match. Your company pays for the tickets.

You and the customer spend Monday morning talking about business. You take the customer and spouse to lunch — the company pays the bill again — and the out-of-towners go home Monday afternoon.

The company gets to deduct the cost of the tickets to the tennis match and the lunch. (If the customer hadn't come from out of town, the cost of the tennis tickets probably wouldn't be deductible.) The costs for the spouses are deductible as long as the entertainment itself is deductible. The company-paid lunch does not count as taxable income for you.

Now it's Tuesday. A prospective local customer comes to your office for business discussions. That night, you and your spouse take him and his wife to dinner. You pay the bill. The expenses — for all four of you — are deductible since the event is associated with the active conduct of business.

On Wednesday, you take another local customer to the theater. There is no business discussion so there is no deduction. If you give the tickets to your customer, but don't go along, however, you may be able to get at least a partial deduction. The tickets count as a business gift and gifts of up to $25 to one person may be deducted.

On Thursday, you entertain still another customer at the country club, with lunch and a round of golf. Again, there is no business discussion. The get-together is simply done for the sake of good will. Expenses include greens fees and lunch. The greens fees are not deductible, but the lunch is because the atmosphere was conducive to a business discussion, even though one didn't actually take place.

Sales drop seen as helpful to economy

By The Associated Press
Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige and private economists say a reported 1.4 percent drop in retail sales in August is not evidence that the recovery is losing steam.

A sales decline was expected and "should not be a reason for concern," Baldrige said Tuesday.

The 1.4 percent drop in August retail sales from the July level was the largest monthly decline since June 1982, the Commerce Department said.

The government also revised its estimate of July's sales drop, to 0.2 percent from the previously reported 0.1 percent.

Private economists echoed Baldrige's comments, saying a slowdown in sales was more consistent with a sustainable pace of overall economic growth.

"With gains in consumption now slowing noticeably ... the groundwork is being laid for a more balanced expansion of personal spending," said Stephen Roach, an economist at the investment banking firm of Morgan Stanley & Co. Inc. in New York.

Roach said spending had increased so fast last spring that the personal savings rate was depressed.

At a news briefing in New York, Treasury Secretary Donald Regan said a 9.2 percent drop in August sales of automobiles and auto supplies was due partly to low inventories. Separately, the Federal Reserve Board said Americans took on $4.84 billion more in installment credit than they paid off in July — a record gain. The report did not specify how much debt was newly acquired and how much was repaid.

Increases in outstanding debt usually are viewed by economists as a sign of people's confidence in the economy. The Federal Reserve's figures include all types of short- and medium-term borrowing, including auto loans, revolving credit card debt and personal loans from financial institutions. They do not include home loans.

In other economic developments Tuesday:

—Albert M. Wojniower, chief economist at First Boston Corp. in New York, told a meeting of the investment firm's clients that interest rates will continue to rise as long as the economic recovery is steady.

wednesday's quarterback

By GREG JAKLEWICZ Sports Editor

It's was a Friday night for inter-county rivalries. Coincidentally for Garden City, it was a Friday to break a long losing streak.

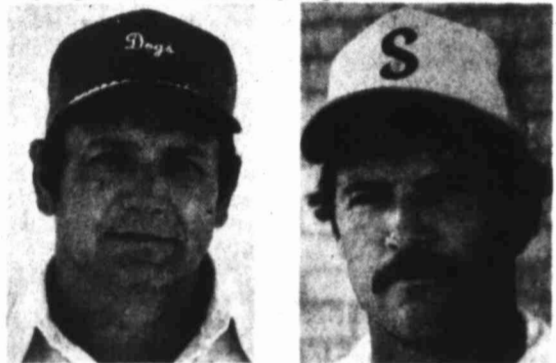

The Bearkats, representing Glasscock County, rallied by Forsan (Howard County) 16-13 and no one could remember exactly how long it had been since the Kats had beaten the Buffaloes. "I've heard '65 and '69," coach Stewart Cooper said.

In the other showdown, Coahoma of Howard County held on in Stanton (Martin County) to win 13-11. It was a reversal of last year's war, won by Stanton at Coahoma.

In another big game, Lamesa snapped a 9-game losing streak by blasting Brownfield 34-0 as Kreg Bryant tossed two TD passes and running back Kenneth Williams scored twice.

In other games, Meadow rallied by Klondike 21-14, Water Valley scored late to down Sands 21-14, Greenwood fell to No. 2 state-ranked Wink 26-6, Colorado City blasted Seminole 28-14 and Dawson powered by Grady 58-26.

Here's what the coaches had to say about Friday's game and what they expect this week:

LARRY HUDSON, Coahoma High Bulldogs — (On handling tough herd of Buffaloes) "I guarantee you were lucky to have won. I was pleased with the win but not the way we went about it. I was disappointed in our offensive and defensive play; we didn't play good technique or come off the ball good and didn't attack our opposition. But I guess you're going to have a bad game every once in awhile. I thought Stanton did an excellent job of coming after us. We've just got to come on and play football." (On hosting improved Tahoka) "We're expecting another very hard football game. They're real comparable to Stanton. They have an outstanding running back in Steve Pierce, one of the best in West Texas, and we'll have to stop sophomore quarterback Trey Taff. Regardless of the caliber of the competition, we have to play our game. We have to be Coahoma Bulldogs."

JIM WHITE, Sands High Mustangs — (On seeing a win wash away to Water Valley) "We just had a bad ballgame. Our kicking game was non-existent and it would've been nice to have had some blocking. They were a lot better than they have been but when you get inside the 20 four times and don't score, you know you're in trouble. We had a good practice Monday and I told them the good teams bounce back, they get highly chapped about an upset loss." (On bouncing back against Smyer) "Last year it was 9-3 at the half and we finally wore them down in the fourth quarter. Their quarterback Ricky Alford was second on the South Plains in passing last year. They have a 6-5, 195-pound lineman in Derrick Osborne and their I-back is good. It'll be a good game."

JAN EAST, Forsan High Buffaloes — (On narrow loss to Garden City) "We made a lot of mistakes, plus we turned the ball over too much. Those mistakes can be attributed to our young kids. We hope they go away as the kids get better. We had five turnovers in the first half so we pretty well beat ourselves. Those turnovers killed our drives. You've got to give Garden City credit for taking the ball 65 yards to score. When they had to score, they did." (On rebounding against Robert Lee) "It's going to be tough. They go about 190 across the front. Kirby Rasco, their quarterback, is a good one along with their fullback (180 Jimmy Skinner). I think they're probably the most overall solid team we'll see. They have good potential."

MICKEY VIRDELL, Klondike High Cougars — (On second 21-14 loss, this time to Meadow) "In both games, we felt with more maturity, we could have won both. I think we're one ballgame away from being a good football team. Against Meadow, our kids were up and didn't think at all about playing a senior ballclub. We were ahead 14-7 at the half and 210 yards on offense and they have 23. In the second half, our inexperience let them get back in the game." (On home-opener and homecoming battle with O'Donnell) "They're 1-1 right now and we're 0-2 so we're going to have to play well. They used to run the straight T and now they've gone to the I and that's made a big improvement in their team. For us, it's a big ballgame."

New faces pace Big Spring

By GREG JAKLEWICZ Sports Editor

In the absence of senior spiker Paula Spears it was Jana Matthews, another senior, who assumed the leadership role Tuesday night against Abilene High.

An inspired Matthews pounded in the winning points in the first and third games, getting support from newcomer Tammi Green, as Big Spring fought off the Eagles 15-12, 4-15, 15-11 in the opening District 4-A match for both teams.

In other 4-5A matches, defending champion San Angelo whipped Cooper 15-7, 15-13; Midland Lee tripped Odessa High 15-5, 15-12; and Midland High got by Permian 15-13, 15-12.

It was fairytale finish of sorts for Matthews who was docked her usual starting role because she was late for pre-match warm-ups. When she did finally take the court, she came up with valuable plays for the struggling Lady Steers.

After the teams split the first two games, Matthews got BSHS off to a 1-0 start in the deciding game with a scoring shot. Abilene quickly recovered and jumped into a 5-2 advantage. The score see-sawed before Big Spring took the lead for good at 10-9 when, guess who, Matthews spiked a winner down the near courtline.

The lead ballooned to 14-9 as Debbie Donelson hit a service winner, Tris Clemons blocked an AHS shot and Green scored. Abilene broke serve and scored twice before Sylvia Tyson made an illegal set.

The serve returned to Big Spring and Matthews promptly slammed in the match-winning shot.

"We just tried to forget about it," she said of the absence of Spears. "We can't be too dependent on her...she might get hurt or something later and we'd have to play without her."

Without Spears in the lineup, Big Spring had to do some readjusting. Vickie Halfmann became the squad's setter, playing her position at all points on the court. That left only two hitters at the net which hampered the Lady Steers' offensive attack.

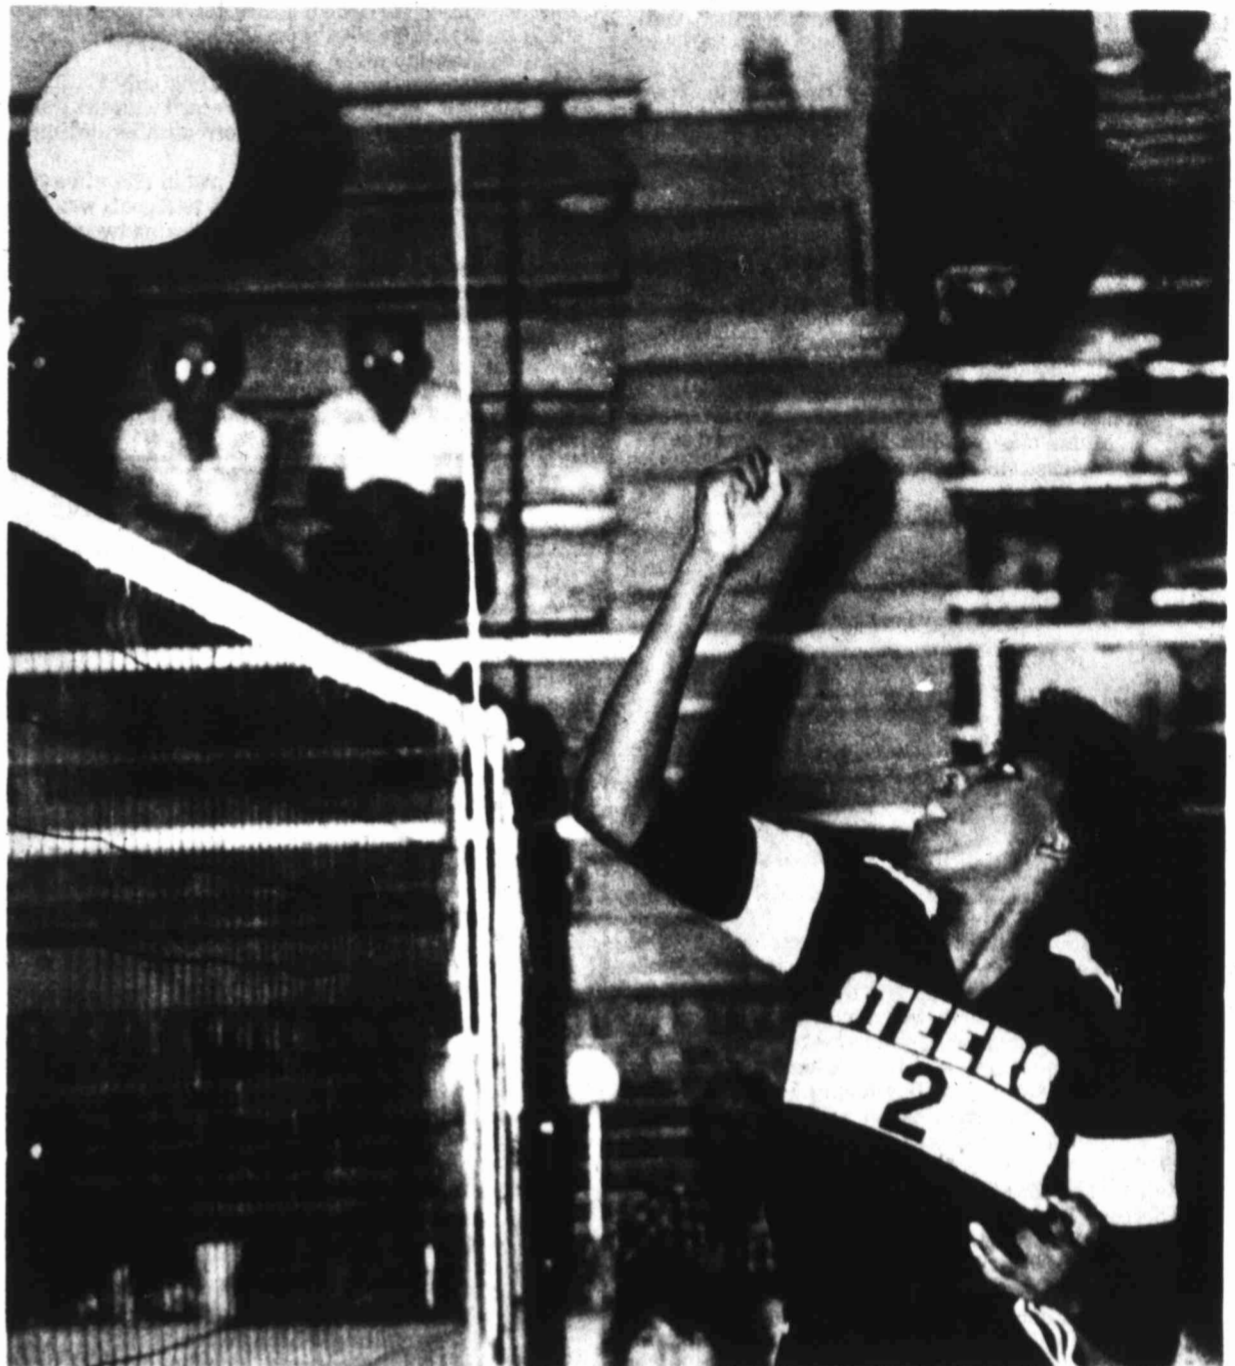

"Without Paula," coach Susan Sharp explained, "we had to play in some positions we weren't used to. A lot of times, we got in each other's way."

With Spears gone, too, the big-hitting role was left up to Clemons who suddenly went ice-cold in the second game, won by Abilene 15-4. With her shots flying long, she tried to take something off and her efforts then sailed into the net. Frustrated, the team got its lift from Matthews whose talk and timely hits saved the day.

Big Spring won the opening game 15-12, rallying from an 11-7 deficit. Clemons scored the tying point and followed with another winner to give BSHS a 12-11 lead. Matthews spiked a winner and after Green broke the AHS serve, came through again with the game-winning shot.

The second game was no contest as Abilene sped off to a 6-0 lead and was never threatened by the confused Lady Steers. "We stopped talking," Halfmann explained the blow-out. "They were in hit-coverage and we should have been dinking the ball. If we had played up, we would have played a lot better."

Sharp was pleased with Green, a junior varsity player moved to the varsity for Tuesday's match. "She with key hits as Big Spring won its District 4-5A opener 15-12, 4-15, 15-11 over the Eagles in Steer Gym.

and drew praise from coach Elaine Stone along with spiker Monique Jones.

The JVs are now 8-3 overall and also 1-0 in district play. Both teams are in Midland Thursday night to face Midland High. Spears will miss that match also as she concludes her 3-day suspension.

Honor Roll Hoelscher, Smith, Sawyer lauded

Coaches many times are reluctant to single out one player when it's an entire group that deserves credit. Such was the case this week.

Colorado City is off to a 2-0 start and coach Tom Ramsey thinks his teamplay has played a large part in that record. For example, quarterback Doug Chitsey threw for 230 yards against Seminole but not once was he sacked. Good play by the offensive line, Ramsey said.

And on defense, Dennis Rivera has intercepted five passes in two games. A good pass rush by his players up front has been partly responsible for that, Ramsey explained.

Still there were individuals who sparkled for four quarters of football Friday night.

Greenwood went up against the AP's No. 2-ranked team and running back Roger Smith responded with 174 yards on 32 carries to win Offensive Player of the Week honors. Of course, coach Joe Longley said strong blocking aided Smith's big night.

On the other side of the fence, Garden City outside linebacker Doug Hoelscher had 15 assisted tackles, many late in the game to stop Forsan drives, as the Bearkates upset the Buffaloes 16-13. He wins Defensive Player of the Week laurels.

Special notice of the week goes to Grady's Dennis Sawyer. The 5-10, 140-pound junior is proving to be invaluable to the Wildcats. As a quarterback, he ran for 89 yards and threw a TD pass against Dawson. As a safety, he was in on 10 tackles. "He's the kind of guy who uses his head and is consistent," said coach Richard Gibson.

Among the other top area performances, Sanders running backs Santos Ybarra and Robby Creswell teamed for 235 yards.

Elbert Hogg of Klondike was in on eight tackles in the only two quarters Cougar coaches got on film. — GREG JAKLEWICZ

CL' DE NOONKESTER, Lamesa High Golden Tornadoes — (On resounding win over Brownfield) "We realize the caliber of the opponent we played in Brownfield but I still think we did a real fine job. A win is a win, particularly here in Lamesa ... was a great big boost for us. Our kids feel like they can play with anyone. We're so darn little and inexperienced but if we make very few errors, take advantage of turnovers and get after it, we'll be competitive." (On facing Andrews which upset Midland High) "That didn't surprise me. The thing they do the best is have a balanced running game. They have six or seven backs and run inside-outside real well. I feel like we can move the football. We gained 130 yards against Levelland which surprised us. I know we can throw the ball. It'll be hard for us but we'll get after them."

DALE RUTH, Stanton High Buffaloes — (On loss to Coahoma) "It was a good game, especially for the defenses. We got the ball back and tried to get going but we got two penalties and time ran out on us. We still made mental mistakes. The two fumbles we lost, Coahoma took advantage of them." (On road game in Crane) "They are a much faster team than last year and have a better backfield. We have to eliminate our mistakes. If we play as hard as we did on defense last week, I think we can get hold of them."

JOE LONGLEY, Greenwood High Rangers — (On surviving meeting with Wink) "Wink has a pretty good ballclub. They get after it like Wink always gets after it. We weren't real disappointed. We got inside the seven and five and didn't score; we should have had two touchdowns there. We couldn't get them shut down in the third quarter. We did well in the fourth quarter. We have 9 or 10 people going both ways and they hang in there and stay after it." (On another tough assignment in Iraan) "We picked another easy one. Their quarterback (Troy White) is good one. They threw 28 passes against Eldorado. I don't know what to expect on defense. They ran a 5-3 against McCamey and a 6-2 against Eldorado. If our young kids keep improving we'll be all right."

STEWART COOPER, Garden City High Bearcats — (On drought-ending win over Forsan) "That's already behind us. It really helped the kids a bunch...it helped the coaches a bunch. It was definitely an improvement over the week before. We're still not executing at top notch but we're not going to take anything away from Forsan. We built on that (winning 65-yard touchdown drive in 4th quarter). It showed a lot of character." (On avenging '82 loss to Grandfalls) "They're a good ballclub, a junior-senior ballclub. Man, do they stunt. We've got to pick them up. If one man doesn't pick up, they'll ruin your play. That happened to us last year. We should be able to move the ball on them."

RICHARD GIBSON, Grady High Wildcats — (On suffering first loss to Dawson) "We had a horrible second quarter but after that, we played some fairly good football at times the rest of the game. We were down 44-8 at halftime but we came out and played fairly good in the second half and didn't wallow in our quagmire. I'm disappointed they beat us as bad as they did. We just have to be up for the occasion." (On homecoming opponent Ira) "They are much, much improved. We beat them pretty soundly last year but they've returned basically everyone back. They have two good backs and appear to be very physical and aggressive. We can win if we play more consistently. I think we're getting better."

TOM RAMSEY, Colorado High Wolves — (On win No. 2 over Seminole) "For the first three quarters it was slow. The game took 2 1/2 hours, there were 40 passes and 20 something penalties for both sides. We finally quit holding and clipping and jumping offside and moved the football. Doug (Chitsey) threw for over 200 yards...we have 377 yards in two games already. But he threw the ball 19 times and wasn't sacked. That's a credit to our offensive line." (On hosting powerful Denver City) "They're a tough one. Very physical. Similar offense to us. It'll be a hard game. They almost beat Post, the No. 1 team in the state, last year in the playoffs. They have some of those people back. We've got to keep improving."

Rickey steals by Rangers for 101

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Rickey Henderson has been running a little less and hitting quite a bit more this season, just as he planned in spring training.

"I've learned a lot this year about picking times to run. Davey Lopes has taught me things about pitchers' moves and how to get a better jump," Henderson said after reaching 101 stolen bases for the season with three in the Oakland A's 6-5 victory over the Texas Rangers Tuesday night.

Henderson has been caught stealing only 17 times. Last year, he set a major league record with 130 stolen bases but also was caught a record number of times, 42.

His batting average dropped to .267 in 1982 after two straight years over .300. High on his 1983 goals was getting back to .300. He's at .299 after stroking two singles Tuesday night.

Royals 4, Angels 3

For six innings, Dan Quisenberry strolled around the Kansas City bullpen just like he normally does, talking with teammates and fans in the stands.

And when the ninth inning rolled around in California, he was still resting comfortably, watching a well-pitched ballgame.

American League

A few minutes later, he set a major league record. Quisenberry was hastily summoned Tuesday night when Royals starter Bud Black ran into sudden trouble in the ninth inning against the Angels, and the submarining reliever got the final two outs of Kansas City's 4-3 victory for his record-setting 39th save of the season.

The right-hander's total surpassed the 38 recorded by Detroit's John Hiller in 1973.

White Sox 5, Twins 1

Rich Dotson, 18-7, continued his hot streak as Chicago won for the eighth straight time, reducing its magic number to three in the AL West.

Dotson gave up an unearned run on eight hits in winning his sixth consecutive game. He has won 14 of 16 decisions since May 28.

Orioles 7-7, Red Sox 4-1

Pinch hitter Jim Dwyer's three-run double with two outs in the top of 12th inning led Baltimore to victory in the opener.

In the second game, rookie Bill Swaggerty got his first major-league victory with 5 2-3 innings of relief and Gary Roenicke belted a grand slam, his 18th homer of the season.

Tigers 3, Indians 2

In Detroit, Jack Morris upped his record to 19-10 with a five-hitter. He struck out four to increase his AL-leading total to 207 and he tops the AL in complete games with 18.

Yankees 2, Brewers 1

Ken Griffey had three hits, including an RBI single in the eighth that snapped a 1-1 tie.

The setback in New York extended Milwaukee's losing streak to five games.

Blue Jays 6, Mariners 4

Jorge Orta belted a three-run homer during a five-run third inning for Toronto. The home run followed a two-run double by Willie Upshaw.

Luis Leal, 12-10, went 7 2-3 innings for the victory. Roy Lee Jackson got the final two outs for his fifth save.

Reuss shuts down Astros on 6-hitter

HOUSTON (AP) — Jerry Reuss wasn't cutting it — until he saw Rick Honeycutt cut it.

Mimicking the new Dodger acquisition, Reuss turned his season around, and is currently riding a five-game winning streak. His latest triumph was a 5-1 decision over the Houston Astros Tuesday night. Before his current streak, he had lost seven in a row. Reuss, 11-10, struck out nine and walked three.

National League

Reds 6, Braves 0

In Cincinnati, Mario Soto pitched his NL-leading 17th complete game with a three-hitter and Nick Esasky slugged a solo homer as the Reds beat Atlanta. Soto, 16-12, walked two and struck out nine in hurling his third shutout of the year.

Expos 5, Cubs 2

In Chicago, Andre Dawson's triple highlighted a four-run first inning and rookie Bob James pitched one-hit ball in 4 1-3 innings of relief to lead Montreal over the Cubs.

Mets 5, Phillies 1

In Philadelphia, rookie Darryl Strawberry cracked a single, double and his 25th home run, batted in three runs and scored twice as New York beat the Phillies.

Pirates 6, Cardinals 0

In Pittsburgh, Rick Rhoden pitched a five-hitter and Tony Pena homered during a four-run third inning as the Pirates blanked St. Louis.

Padres 4, Giants 3

In San Diego, Kevin McReynolds' single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning led the Padres over San Francisco.

MIKE MCKINLEY ...back, linebacker

Senior Mike McKinley was a double winner in this week's team awards at Big Spring High.

McKinley was named both the "Bullet" and "Golden Spike" winner while senior Eric Sherman received the "Hawk" and junior Doug Walker the "Conan" award.

Coaches had yet to name a "Top Steer," an honor which goes to the top defensive player in the Estacado game.

Trainer Everett Blackburn named freshman Alfonso Morales the week's outstanding student trainer-manager.

Judson new No. 1 in 5-A, three 4-5A teams in top 10

By The Associated Press
 Converse Judson is Class 5A and Fort Bend Willowridge in Class 4A were the big winners in this week's Associated Press Schoolboy football Poll.
 Judson, after a short wait in second place, took advantage of Houston Memorial's loss and moved into the No. 1 position.
 Brazoswood shocked Memorial 31-13 and earned a 10th place tie with Memorial in the latest balloting of Texas sports writers and sportscasters.
 Willowridge, the defending 4A state champion, continued its domination of the division by receiving all 21 first place votes cast in this week's voting with New Braunfels remaining a distant No. 2 by a 210-169 point total.
 The other top ranked teams from last week held their No. 1 spots including Littlefield in 3A, Panhandle in 2A and Bremond in A.
 Irving Nimitz, a No. 3 preseason pick in 5A lost its second straight game and dropped from the list. Galveston Ball, 2-0, returned to the top 10 in the No. 9 spot following a 14-6 victory over Fort Worth Dunbar.

 Port Isabel, ranked No. 4 in 3A last week, was the lone loser in that classification last week and dropped out of the top 10 while Littlefield held onto its first place position by the slimmest of margins, 185-184 over runnerup Navasota.
 Littlefield gained 15 first place votes to only five for Navasota.
 Fourth-ranked Pilot Point, No. 5 Grand Saline and No. 8 Marfa were losers in the 2A ranks and only Pilot Point remained in the top 10 as the No. 10 ranked team.
 East Bernard, 2-0, and Boyd, 2-0, moved into the eighth and ninth spots. Boyd shut out Chico 41-0 and East Bernard beat Edna 21-6 in last week's games.
 Fourth-ranked Anton was the lone loser among the A ranks last week and was replaced in the No. 10 position by Knox City, which returned to the rankings after a one-week absence. Knox City drilled Seymour 19-7 last week after a season opening loss to Albany.
 Bremond received 17 of the 21 first place votes in A for a solid 199-187 lead over second place Wink.

Landry not getting a kick out of Dallas kicking game

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys are getting kicked in their kicking game — and Coach Tom Landry doesn't like it.
 Landry has taken personal charge of the specialty units to emphasize his displeasure in preparation for Sunday's National Football League game in Texas Stadium against the New York Giants.
 "We will start practice with it (the specialty teams) this week," Landry said. "I think it will pickup."
 He added, "We've got to start concentrating on our kicking game. Sometimes it gets lost in the shuffle."
 Landry isn't all that displeased with rookie punter John Warren.
 "John has handled himself well but he has been much more inconsistent than he was in camp," Landry said.
 His specialty teams are being outthrusted, outblocked, and tackling poorly.
 Dallas gives away about five yards every time it punts and some eight yards on each kickoff return. It's been one of the few dark spots in a 2-0 start by the Cowboys.
 On another matter, Landry is putting his players in the same hotel the night before a home game starting with this Saturday. It's the first time in a decade for the team to do this.
 "I just like seeing the guys," quipped

Landry, who has instituted a get-tough policy with his team which has lost in the National Conference title game the past three seasons.
 "We're going to do things differently this year," Landry said at his weekly press luncheon. "Concentration the last 12 hours or so before a game is very important. The mental aspect is important."
 Landry was disturbed by reports that some players broke curfew before the NFC title loss to the Washington Redskins last January.
 "It's a good time to change," Landry said.
 Landry said there will be an 11 p.m. or midnight curfew depending on the starting time of the Sunday home game.
 The New York Giant game Sunday is at 3 p.m. and the curfew will likely be 12 midnight at yet to be disclosed hotel.
 Landry said the Giants presented a tough challenge.
 "We didn't play New York last year because of the strike but they are still the same basic team, rough and they play hard," Landry said. "They have as good a defense as we will face."
 The Cowboys were early eight-point favorites over the Giants.

Tailgate parties make football games enjoyable

By RHONDA WITT
Lifestyle Writer

Brunch is to weekends as football is to fall afternoons. Whether heading out to cheer the home team or simply catering to a living room crowd of TV spectators, brunch makes a satisfying meal that bridges the weekend gap between late breakfast and early lunch.

A well-planned brunch makes good nutrition sense too. It will satisfy the needs of even the most determined snacker, and help conquer the desire to consume "junk food".

Make football season entertaining easy on yourself, too. Don't be stuck in the kitchen during the winning touchdown. Plan tailgate brunches that are easy to pack and to serve. Make brunch light, attractive, satisfying and you've scored with a winning meal. Some recipes for tailgate parties are given below.

If you have recipes to share with readers, a request for a recipe, or a cook you'd like us to feature, let us know. Write to Herald Recipe Exchange, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

TAILGATE PARTY SPREAD

- 1 large head iceberg lettuce
  - 1 carton (8 ounce) dairy sour cream
  - 1 pkg. (8 ounce) cream cheese, softened
  - 3 Tbsps. dehydrated vegetable flakes
  - 2 Tbsps. parsley flakes
  - 2 Tbsps. freeze-dried chopped chives
  - 3 Tbsps. soy sauce
  - 1/2 tsp. white pepper
  - Cocktail rye bread slices or melba toast rounds
- Core, rinse and thoroughly drain lettuce. Scoop out center of lettuce head from core end, leaving a 1/2-inch shell. Refrigerate shell in plastic bag or crisper until ready to use. Chop enough scooped out lettuce to measure three cups; place in steamer basket, col-ander and large strainer then place over, but not touching, boiling water. Cover and steam four minutes. Drain and cool. Squeeze out excess moisture with paper towel. Thoroughly combine cooked lettuce with sour cream, cream cheese, vegetable flakes, parsley chives, soy sauce and pepper. Cover and refrigerate eight hours or overnight for flavors to blend. To serve, spoon mixture into lettuce shell. Serve with bread slices or toast rounds. Makes about 2 1/2 cups.

SPORTING TOSSED SALAD

Toss together torn iceberg lettuce leaves, sweet spanish onion rings, mushroom and cucumber slices and whole cherry tomatoes in large wooden bowl. Cover and keep chilled until ready to serve. Toss again and serve with favorite salad dressing.

TERIYAKI LAMB RIBLET APPETIZERS

2 pounds lamb breast riblets, cut into serving-size pieces

1/2 cup teriyaki sauce

Place riblets in large saucpan. Add enough water to cover and bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer, covered, 20 minutes. Remove riblets from saucpan; discard water. Pat riblets dry with paper towel to remove excess water.

Place riblets on grill about 4 to 5 inches from hot coals. Brush thoroughly with teriyaki sauce. Cook about eight minutes, turning over frequently and basting often with teriyaki sauce.

Drain and cool quickly under cold running water. When cool enough to handle, drain well and lift centers from onion halves, leaving shell two layers thick. Remove bacon, reserving 1/4 cup drippings. Drain bacon on paper toweling, then crumble into bits. Blend cornstarch with two tablespoons onion marinade. Stir remaining marinade, soy sauce, mustard and pepper into bacon drippings in skillet. Heat to boiling. Stir in cornstarch mixture; cook and stir over low heat until

Qualities of eggs often overlooked

COLLEGE STATION — An egg is a bundle of nutrition sealed in its own package by the hen and delivered to consumers as fast as possible, practically untouched by human hands.

Americans spend millions each year for "health foods" and "natural products," yet often overlook the healthful qualities in ordinary foods like eggs, says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Eggs are a "natural" food in part because there's so little interference in the production process. If a hen receives enough proper nutrients, she will form an egg, and all hens of the same species produce eggs of about the same composition.

According to Dr. David Mellor, poultry specialist with the Agricultural Extension Service, the commercial laying hen probably receives a better balanced diet than any other animal. The ration consists mainly of ground corn, sorghum grain, soybean oil meal, calcium, phosphorous and a vitamin-trace mineral mix.

Any difference a consumer might notice between eggs is minor and really has nothing to do with the composition or nutritional value of the eggs. For instance, the natural yellow color of the yolk is from fat soluble pigments in green or yellow plant products such as alfalfa, grass or corn is the hen's ration. Slight variations are due to the mixture of feed given the hens and don't affect the quality of the egg.

Eggs can also vary in flavor, although you don't find this often with commercial eggs, says Mellor. If a hen eats onion grass, field garlic or even cabbage, its eggs will be highly flavored.

Since most consumers prefer to add their own flavoring to egg dishes, however, commercial eggs are produced so that the bland natural flavor is not masked. "It's most important for consumers to realize that when it comes to nutrition, an egg is an egg," states Cooksey.

All of the fat soluble vitamins A, D, E, and K in the diet of the hen transfer well to the egg. This makes eggs a good source of vitamins as well as an efficient and inexpensive source of protein.

Consumers should look for eggs that meet the Texas egg law which requires that eggs be graded, have a clean, sound shell and be maintained under 60 degrees F.

Even though special eggs, like "organic fertile" and "araucana" eggs may be sold as health food, there is no evidence to support the idea that they are any more nutritious than ordinary commercial eggs from the grocery store, adds the specialist.

Baked beans can make supper more nutritious

Don't forget the quick and easy dessert that's always a treat for children. Their favorite flavor of fruit gelatin dessert stirred together with canned cocktail packed the light way, in juice or light syrup, and use all the liquid with water added to make the quantity called for on the package. That way you are adding nutrients-Vitamin A and Vitamin C-that might otherwise be thrown out. Serve plain or topped with a fruit flavored yogurt for dessert or an after-school snack.

After school snack is quick, easy to make

Baked beans are a quick, nourishing dinner when served with grilled sausages or frankfurters. Live up the beans by stirring in a little dark molasses, two tablespoons of onions and one tablespoon of dry mustard. Then stir in about 1/2 cup juice or light syrup drained from canned cling peach slices.

Turn into a shallow casserole and arrange peach slices over the top. Sprinkle with shredded cheddar cheese and bake at 350 degrees until bubbly and the cheese is melted.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTEA INSTITUTE

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds you able to plan your day's activities and organize your time so that you can do those things which mean the most to you in practical ways. Energies are up.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Handling pressures of a public nature early is wise and later you can be with persons who can assist you in gaining wishes.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Morning is the best time to push those new ideas you have but later be out in the public for whatever you want to accomplish.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get those errands done for yourself and your loved one. Later be with persons who can be of assistance to you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Do something that will please a partner and then handle your own affairs most wisely.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can complete that detailed work, but later be with a partner to look into new deals or ventures. Do some favor for a fellow worker.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Early plan that amusement and then handle all those little chores that await your attention. Then do some favor for kin.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get home tasks done early and later you can take time for the recreation you need and like. Plan the future better with your family.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan just how to state your views to partners before you get busy on home responsibilities. Get correspondence handled.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get financial affairs handled wisely. Then you can see friends who are progressive. Get good ideas from them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get your health in better shape and later get into practical affairs that are important to handle. Get your home in order.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Schedule your time well so that you can get work done early and then be out impressing others with your talents.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Gain the advice of a very clever friend and then plan for an adventure that is interesting and exciting. Go after a personal wish.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those fascinating young persons who will have much energy and many ideas and should be guided properly otherwise your progeny could just as easily get on the wrong side of life.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Crime figures show thefts up

By RICHARD HORN
Staff Writer

Assaults, thefts and burglaries are up this year, robberies and motor vehicle thefts are down, and rapes and homicides are occurring at about the same rate, according to figures released by the Big Spring Police Department.

The largest crime increase in the first eight months of 1983 occurred in the category of thefts — there were reports of 159 more than in the same period last year. Assault reports increased by 58, and burglary reports jumped by 51.

Motor vehicle thefts are down by 17, and robberies are down by five, statistics show. One more homicide has been reported over last year.

Police Capt. George Quintero said the increase in thefts represents a growth in the number of reports, not necessarily incidents.

"Before, they wouldn't say anything because they said 'Well, they'll never catch them,'" he said. "I think people understand now that they have to report the crime for us to help."

He said the incidents include thefts of gasoline, beer and ice from stores and household items like lawnmowers and garden hoses.

Police Chief Rick Turner said he is battling the assault increase by having officers keep closer watch on businesses which sell alcoholic beverages. Assaults are up from 275 in the same period last year to 323 this year, and Turner said many of these are alcohol related.

"We're making more frequent walkthroughs (of establishments)," he said. "It is a violation for them to sell to intoxicated persons, and we're working to enforce that."

Turner said department efforts have reduced somewhat the increase in the number of assaults, and he said a study of the statistics shows that the crime is a bigger problem during hot weather.

Capt. George Quintero said police are handling the cases better because more victims are following through on prosecutions.

"In the past, people would report (the offense), but would never press charges," he said. "There's better awareness of the problem now."

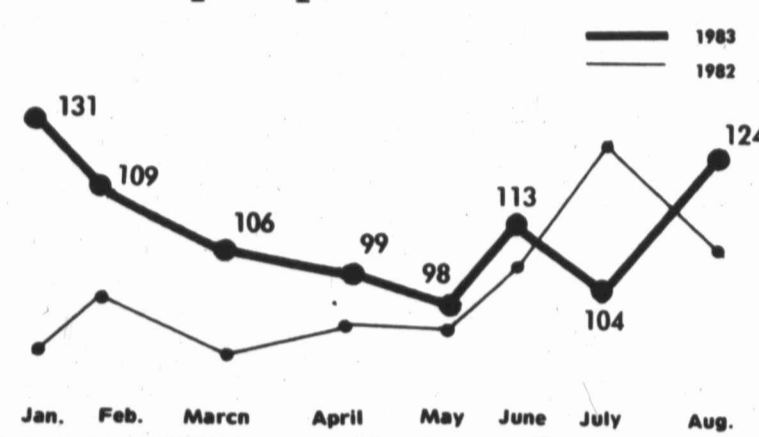

Turner said of the 47 reported assaults last month, 40 have been cleared by arrest. Only eight charges have been filed by victims, meaning suspects in 32 cases have gone free, he said.

Turner said that of the 47 assaults last month, five involved firearms, three involved dangerous weapons and 32 involved fists.

"A great deal of the assaults are family related," Capt. Sherrill Farmer said. "The problem is that there are very few preventative measures we can take."

"But there is an effort on the part of battered-children and battered-wives groups to get victims to report these crimes and follow through," he said.

Krueger visits city

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

Bob Krueger, a Democratic candidate for John Tower's U.S. Senate seat, visited Big Spring touching on a number of issues including national defense, foreign trade, Central America and nuclear waste.

Krueger is seeking the Senate seat he challenged Tower for in 1978 when he was defeated by 12,000 votes. Krueger has served as ambassador to Mexico and was congressman for the 21st District from 1975 to 1979.

C-City shooting probed

COLORADO CITY (SC) — District Attorney Rusty Carroll said Friday he expects to file charges next week in connection with the Thursday night shooting of a 39-year-old Colorado City woman at a truck stop here.

Sue Turner was listed in stable condition Friday night at Root Memorial Hospital where she was recovering from surgery for a gunshot wound to the abdomen.

Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant said yesterday Mrs. Turner was shot during an argument which arose between the management of Visa Energy Truck Plaza and the management of the Visa-Cattleman Restaurant over ice.

The two establishments are located together on Interstate Highway 20.

Carroll said two suspects in the shooting were treated for unspecified injuries and released from Root hospital after the incident. He would not say if the two are employees of either business.

Bryant said deputies were called to the scene about 8:37 p.m. when they received a report of aggravated robbery there. He said Mrs. Turner had been taken by private car to the hospital before deputies arrived.

No arrests have been made in connection with the incident, he said.

He said the shooting took place in the restaurant which was occupied by several customers at the time. Although several shots were reportedly fired, no one else was hit, he said.

TESCO continues plea

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — West Texas Utilities and Texas Electric Service Co. officials continued to plead their cases for revenue increases before the Public Utility Commission Friday, but the fruits of their labor won't be known for quite some time.

Both rate hearings began before commission hearing examiners Tuesday. Testimony in West Texas Utilities' bid for a $26.6 million annual increase in revenues is expected to close Monday.

Arguments in Texas Electric Service Co.'s bid for a $196 million annual increase in revenues, marked so far by conflict of interest questions, is expected to continue through at least next week.

The Texas Municipal League, which is fighting both rate requests on behalf of its member Texas cities, argues that WTU deserves only a $13.8 million increase while TESCO should get no more than $4.9 million.

A commission spokesman said Friday that once the hearings are completed, the examiners reviewing each case probably won't issue recommendations for two months.

Auto insurance rates here could jump 9%

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Automobile insurance rates in Howard County would increase an average of 9.2 percent if the State Board of Insurance follows the recommendation of the automobile insurance industry.

Statewide, automobile premiums would increase an average of 11.4 percent under the industry recommendation released Friday.

Those recommendations will be presented to the State Board of Insurance at hearings on state automobile insurance rates Sept. 27.

New rates adopted by the board would go into effect Jan. 1, 1984.

The state's insurance industry is represented by the Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office. The State Board of Insurance staff, which generally recommends rates lower than those proposed by the industry, is expected to release its recommendations late next week.

A staff spokesman said the agency is still reviewing the industry's investment income levels.

In Texas, automobile insurance premiums vary according to a variety of factors, including the type of automobile driven, the county it is driven in and a motorist's driving record.

The industry's rates are based on the use of a 1983 low- to medium-priced Buick, Chevrolet, Ford, Honda, Mazda, Nissan, Oldsmobile, Plymouth, Renault or Volkswagen not used for business but driven to and from work. The rates assume the driver is a male at least 25 or a female at least 21.

In Howard County, automobile insurance premiums would increase $54 over the $584 now being paid by the average motorist.

Included in policies renewed after Jan. 1 are higher bodily injury and property damage liability limits ordered by the 1983 Legislature. Motorists currently are required to carry a minimum liability of $10,000 for bodily injury, $30,000 for property damage and $5,000 for personal injury protection.

Those limits will be raised to $15,000, $30,000, and $15,000, respectively by the new legislation for policies renewed or issued after Jan. 1.

That increased liability requirement accounts for $14 of the premium increase proposal sought by the insurance industry in Howard County.

The industry's policy examples include a $50 deductible for non-collision coverage for $200 for claims resulting from collisions.

In Borden, Dawson, Glasscock, Martin and Mitchell counties, located in a different rating territory, the insurance industry proposes that premiums be increased 9.3 percent, or $47. Motorists currently pay $503.

A year ago the State Board of Insurance hiked automobile premiums an average of 14.8 percent statewide. In 1981, the board approved a 16.3 percent increase.

Product safety lawsuits increase

The safety of products sold in America's marketplaces continues to grow in importance and attention, according to Dr. Gary Nelson, a safety specialist with the Texas A & M University System. The terms "unreasonably dangerous" and "failure to warn of product hazards" are becoming more commonplace.

Injured parties are increasingly turning to the courts with their complaints about product safety. A reflection of the tendency for Americans to sue has been noted in the number of product liability lawsuits filed in federal courts. Although the number remained about the same in 1982, there have been increases of 17% in 1981, 27% in 1980, 40% in 1979, 7% in 1978, 10% in 1977, and 28% in 1976.

Nelson said the number of product liability lawsuits commenced in Texas federal district courts in 1982 increased 39% from 745 cases in 1981 to 1,039 cases in 1982.

Product safety hazards can be prevented. Hazards can be identified during product design and manufacture and either eliminated or controlled through the use of safety engineering and safety management techniques.

"Manufacturers should learn all they can about product liability law, how to identify product hazards before they cause injuries, new safety engineering techniques to eliminate product hazards, and recommended techniques for preparing safety warnings and operator's manuals," Nelson said.

Odoms enjoy life in Saudi Arabia

By RHONDA WITT
Lifestyle Writer

Leaving Big Spring after 21 years may be a difficult move. But it can be interesting if it means going overseas to live in a neighborhood that houses people of 54 nationalities.

Paschal and Lucy Odom moved to Saudi Arabia a year ago. The Odoms have been visiting Mrs. Odom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Thompson 1800 11th Place, during August and September. Odom has already returned to Saudi Arabia. Mrs. Odom will leave Wednesday.

Odom's job as engineer with Arabian Bechtel Co. Ltd. caused the couple to move to Jabel, Saudi Arabia, a new industrial city built by Bechtel to house more than 300,000 people.

"WE'VE COME INTO CONTACT with so many different nationalities that it is just fascinating," Mrs. Odom said. "We've been fortunate to meet a great deal of Saudi Arabia's people. They are some of the most charming people I have met."

"We've learned a lot of different things about customs and foods," she said. "Everyone has so much to offer from their own country. It makes you realize there is a big world out there."

Mrs. Odom and her foreign friends share recipes, take tap dancing lessons for exercise and have learned yoga.

"Most everyone speaks English that you deal with. English is really their second language," she said. Mrs. Odom also has taken some Arabic classes.

The Odoms made some adjustments to their lifestyle. "One thing I found difficult was women aren't allowed to drive except within the Ramco compounds. When you've been independent, it's difficult to wait around for your husband but you do learn to adjust," Mrs. Odom said. "You have to have your husband take your grocery shopping or you drag your groceries on the bus."

Women also aren't allowed to work in an industrial field, but can work in the health and education fields. Her husband has a male secretary.

People keep cash in their homes, because they don't write checks, Mrs. Odom said. When her husband writes a check he must have five signatures of approval.

"Our mode of dress is either slacks and a long shirt or tunic, or a long dress like a moo-moo or kaftan," Mrs. Odom said. "They also prefer long sleeves. They believe the body should be covered."

"THESE ARE THEIR RULES and you are in their country, so you have to abide by their rules," she said.

While the Odoms were moving, they made several decisions. "We were only allowed a small shipment of 1000 pounds," she said. "You do most of your decorating with what you buy over there."

"We had lived in the same house for 17 years. Moving was a very difficult thing. We had to put furniture in storage, because I had to be conservative in my weight limit," Mrs. Odom said. "I want to take some of their (her children) things, but I knew we couldn't. I had to readjust, but it was for the better."

Although the Odoms miss Big Spring, they like their new home. "Housing in our area is quiet nice because it is all new, and we consider it fortunate," Mrs. Odom said. "All our appliances are just like the appliances I had in the U.S."

"Our furniture in our area of our complex is from Lebanon. It's interesting and it's nice for a change."

The Odoms will sell their car, television and other possessions when they leave Saudi Arabia. "We do plan to have a Mid-Eastern room in our house when we come back to the states because it has become part of our lives."

The Odoms usually can buy the groceries they want, but sometimes they have trouble. "In our grocery store, we are not always able to get everything we want," Mrs. Odom said. "Pork is not allowed in the kingdom. We run out of strange things. For the last two months we've been without baking soda and sweet pickles. It is hard to adjust, but I've learned to be flexible in cooking." The Odoms' food comes from Lebanon, Holland, France, Australia and New Zealand.

A benefit of Odom's job is extensive travel. "The travel we get to do as a result of this job is terrific," Mrs. Odom said. They spent Christmas in Switzerland, Austria, Germany and Italy. This summer, they visited Bangkok, Thailand, Hong Kong, and Hawaii.

"WE HAVE ENJOYED the travel, and being able to spend it with our children," she said. The couple's children are Jill Spannus and Jack Odom. Jack, 22, attends Panhandle State University in Goodwell, Okla. Jill, 24, lives in Midland. Jack lives with his parents when he is not attending school.

Bell rate hike hearing delayed

AUSTIN — Hearings on Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.'s record $1.7 billion rate hike case have been delayed from Oct. 11 to Oct. 24.
 The two-week delay granted by a Public Utility Commission hearing examiner is considerably less than the two to three months requested by several consumer groups and the state's new Public Counsel's Office.
 Hearings examiner Jacqueline Holmes said she was not bowing to Bell's "doomsday drums" but she could not see delaying the case beyond Oct. 24.
 Bell is trying to win at least temporary rate increases by Jan. 1 to support the company after it becomes independent of its parent company, American Telephone & Telegraph.
 Representatives of the Texas Municipal League, the Texas Consumers Union and Public Counsel Jim Boyle said at least a two-month delay was necessary because Bell won't even complete its filing of rate case information until Sept. 26.

"We're not asking for a delay simply for the sake of a delay," league attorney Don Butler told Ms. Holmes. Such a complex and unusual case, he said, requires more preparation, especially in light of Bell's late filings.

"It's a question of balance and fundamental fairness," said Texas Consumers Union attorney Carol Barger. "We are being penalized. The company can file late but we're expected to go to trial a week later."

Big Springers pace open horse show

A barrel race entrant in the Howard County Youth Horseman All Breed Open Horse Show would have fallen out of his saddle Saturday — if he had a saddle to fall out of.
 Rick White, of the High Sky Girls Ranch, received permission to ride bareback in the barrel race — an unusual request — only to fall off his horse during the event, show manager Kenneth Williams said.
 Because the show was an all-breed event, Williams said he honored White's request. If the show had been sponsored by the American Quarterhorse Association, White would have been disqualified for riding bareback.
 Two Big Spring entrants, Larry Rebeck on Plaudit's Bimbo Joe, and Blake Shuttlesworth on I'm A Sweetie Pie Too, tied for first place in the adult high point competition. Shuttlesworth won a coin flip for the prize, a belt buckle.
 Winning the youth high point competition with 35 points was Colleen Fowler of Coahoma riding Karmel Candy.

Winners of other events were:

Play... Dallas Cowboy Football

WIN UP TO $1,000.00

NEW GAME EACH WEEK

Here's How to Play

Obtain a free Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football weekly game card each time you visit a Winn Dixie store. No purchase necessary. Then watch Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football each week on network television, or check your local newspaper or result poster at any Winn Dixie store for the score of both teams at the completion of the game. If the last number of the final score of each team matches the score on your Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football game card, you win the dollar amount indicated on your card, either $1,000, $100, $10, or $2. EXAMPLE: If the score on your card reads DALLAS 8, NEW ENGLAND 7, it means the DALLAS score could be 8, 18, 28, 38, 48, 58, etc., and the NEW ENGLAND score could be 7, 17, 27, 37, 47, 57, etc. Any combination of scores ending in 8 for DALLAS and 7 for NEW ENGLAND would give you a winning card. If you have a winning card, take it to any Winn Dixie store by close of business Saturday night following that week's game for verification. Store Manager will redeem authentic $10 and $2 winners on the spot and arrange for payment of $1,000 and $100 winners.
