Brief, heavy showers fall

From staff and wire reports Thunderstorms rumbled over Big Spring again yesterday, pelting the city with heavy but brief showers in the second consecutive day of rain

The U.S. Big Spring Field Station reported two-tenths of a inch of rain, bringing the year's rainfall total to 6.30 inches. Normal for this time of year is 13.92 inches.

Other sections of town received more rain as reports in the eastern part of city said three-fourths of an inch fell there, while in the southern and western portions of town totals of one to 1½ inches were recorded.

The rain began about 4 p.m. yesterday and lasted for about 30 minutes, causing some city streets to flood from the downpour. However, the rain apparently fell mostly on Big Spring and southern part of the county as reports from Knott and Luther to the north and Lomax to the west indicated no Bill Cregar, principal of Elbow Elementary School south of town, said it rained 1.4 inches there yesterday, causing some high water and flooding of roads. He said the Elbow Community had now received 3.5 inches in the last two days.

No rain was reported in Lamesa or Colorado City.

"No, we didn't have any rain," said Margaret Baum of radio station KVMC in Colorado City. "No wait, I take that back, we had a total of nine drops.

Yesterday, Big Spring recorded an officials nine-tenths of an inch. Other reports in the city indicated as much as two inches fell during the 45-minute shower. Surrounding area reports ranged from one-half inch at Knott to almost 2 inches in the Fairview Community north of Big Spring.

Howard County Extension Agent Don Richardson said yesterday the rains would be beneficial to subsoil moisture and wheat, oats and fall

Tax board OK's budget

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

Two directors of the Howard County Consolidated Tax Appraisal District yesterday needed a third to make a quorem to approve the district's 1984 budget, so they waited half an hour for another member to get out of his sick bed and attend the meeting.

Director Clay Reid, who had been in bed with arthritis, drove 15 miles to help the five-member board constitute a quorum and comply with a state law requiring the district's budget be approved by today. The two members who were not present at the meeting were out of town for hospital tests or on business.

Once the quorum was established, the district dispensed with a public hearing (no one was present) and approved a $379,705 budget for Political entities that comprise the district will provide $374,849. The difference between the approved budget and revenues from member entities, about $4,500, will be funded from the balance of the 1983 budget.

The City of Big Spring is expected to contribute about $50,000 to the tax district's revenue next year, while the Big Spring Independent School District is expected to provide about $109,000.

Other member political entities and their approximate contributions to the tax district's budget are: Howard County, $73,000; Howard County Junior College, $42,000; the Colorado River Municipal Water District, $600; the City of Coahoma, $1,300; the Coahoma Independent School District, $52,000; the City of Forsan, $240; and the Forsan Independent School District, $43,000.

The three board members present at the meeting, Arnold Marshall, Bill Smith and Reid, approved the budget unanimously, See TAX, page 2A

JIM MATTOX ...rejects suggestion

Mattox rejects suggestion to resign

AUSTIN (AP) - Attorney General Jim Mattox invited news reporters to a press conference today, two days after he was indicted by a Travis County grand jury, accused of threatening a law firm.

Mattox said Wednesday was

"business as usual" for him, and he brushed aside a suggestion by state Republican Party Chairman George Strake that he should remove himself from office pending his trial.

'That's what you would think of a fellow who's speaking for oil companies," Mattox said Wednesday. "I'm not worried about it." Mattox was charged Tuesday with threatening to block govern-ment bond packages handled by the Fulbright & Jaworski law firm of Houston. The felony indictment, the first against a Texas attorney general while in office, says Mattox made the threat in hopes of getting a lawyer for the prestigious firm to stop trying to get a deposition from Mattox's sister in a $1.67 billion lawsuit with Mobil Oil Corp. Meanwhile, the Dallas Times Herald reported today that Mattox might announce that he has hired Austin lawyer Roy Q. Minton, a veteran of some of Texas' most publicized cases.

Minton refused to confirm or deny the report, saying "there might be an announcement in the next 18 hours.'

Mattox and Mobil are on opposing sides in the suit, and Mattox has ac-cused Mobil of "leaking" adverse news tips to the press in an effort to discredit him.

In New York, Mobil issued a statement denying it had anything whatsoever to do with the criminal action against Mattox.

"For anyone to try to cast Mobil in the role of attempting to intimidate Mr. Mattox because of the state's participation in the civil case is simply wrong," spokesman John Flint said.

A pre-trial hearing in the criminal case against Mattox was set for Sept. 22 before District Judge Mace Thurman. Bob Jones, Mattox's personal lawyer, said he had not yet decided whether to press for a quick

"They (the district attorney's office) have been doing the investigation, and we have not had the opportunity to get access to materials that have been presented," Jones said. "Generally it takes time to acquire those materials."

Strake, who served as secretary of state under former Gov. Bill Clements and ran unsuccessfully for lieutenant governor last year, said in a news conference that Mattox should remove himself from office "until he is either cleared or convicted of these charges. To do otherwise would undermine public confidence."

Musical offering

Songster comforts families with his voice

By NICK GREENWALT

Staff Writer For nearly half a century, local funerals have featured the singing of Dan Conley, who has offered comfort to grieving families in Big Spring with his soothing voice. The 78-year-old songster either performs by himself or in a quartet; the other three members have varied over the years, except for his wife.

"Singing for a funeral is something personal that you can do to alleviate one's sorrrow," said Conley, who also visits the families of the deceased to offer sympathy. "You have to make yourself do it; you do get emotional, though, with someone who has been your friend for years. We've had some very dear friends we sang for."

A voice is not all Conley offers, according to Ernest Welch of Nalley—Pickle Funeral home, who has known him for 30 years.

"He is a very compassionate person to start with, and music is a very important part of the funeral service," Welch said. "It expresses the hope the families have that there will be another day.

"It depends on the kind of life a person lived," he said. "Most of the time you should be rejoicing because they've gone to a better land, but you can't help from being sad. Songs can make you happy or they can make you think. Either the funeral home or the families will request his singing. Although the mortuary has offered him fees and families have sent him checks, he has never used the money on himself.

'The first check that I got suprised me so much that I decided to put it in a special fund," he said. In the past two years the fund has allowed him to set up a weekly singing school, which met for four days one week and was instructed by a professional singer. He has also given teaching workshops and bought 600 new song books for his church.

He doesn't keep track of the numbers, but he estimates he has done between 100 and 120 services

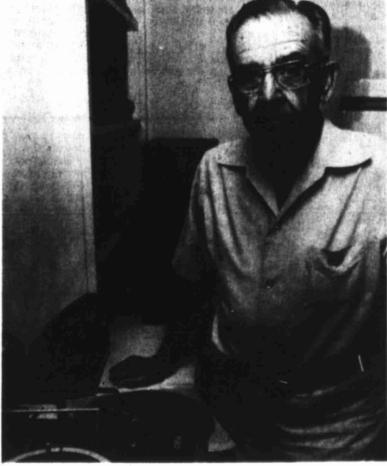

"Somtimes I won't sing at one for a month or so, then I may have a month where I do two or three.

He has also been part of many weddings.
"Oh Promise Me," "I Love You Truly," and "The Wedding March" are his standard wedding tunes. He likes some modern music but says, "I just don't like to sing them that much."

Conley also plays the piano "for my own pleasure and amusement. I don't play well enough to play for

NOT TALKING - Former San Jacinto County sheriff James C. "Humpy" Parker, 47, says no comment as he and his wife, Melba, pushes the microphone out of the way. Parker and two of his former deputies were convicted of conspiring to violate the rights of prisoners by subjecting them to water torture.

Charges called 'conspiracy'

HOUSTON (AP) - The conviction of a former Texas sheriff and two of his deputies on charges of violating the civil rights of jail inmates by torturing them to gain confessions is part of "one big conspiracy" in an East Texas county, the prosecutor handling the case says.

James C. "Humpy" Parker, 47, the former sheriff of San Jacinto County, and two deputies, John Glover, 65, and Carl Lee, 63, were convicted Wednesday of conspiring to violate the rights of prisoners by subjecting them to water torture.

The trio also was convicted by a jury of six men and six women on multiple charges of torturing inmates to deprive them of liberty without due pro-cess of law. Lee was acquitted on one of those charges.

Parker's guilty plea to similar charges earlier this year was rejected by a federal judge who believed sentencing in a plea bargaining arrangment was too lenient.

Among those charges were accusations that Parker took $30,000 in kickbacks from a bail bondsman and operated a "marijuana trap" on U.S. Highway 59, about 70 miles north of Houston.

In that trap, the government contended motorists. primarily young people and blacks, were searched without consent and equipment on their cars was altered to make it appear the original stop was

"I think you will find that's one big conspiracy," Assistant U.S. Attorney Scott Woodward said. "It would be improper for me to say who might be indicted. We have been investigating that throughout and even in the course of this trial." Additional indictments could come soon, he said.

On Wednesday, the jury deliberated for about five hours before returning a verdict. The three defendants showed no emotion as the court clerk read the verdict, although Glover's wife sobbed quietly.

The conspiracy conviction carries a maximum penalty of a $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison. Each of the other counts of which they were convicted — two for Parker and three each for Glover and Lee could result in a year in prison and $1,000 fine.

None of the three defendants had any comment. Bert Moser, Glover's attorney, said, "I'm just very disappointed."

Drilling company sues O.I.L. over mud pumps

G.S.M. International Drilling Service, Inc. Tuesday filed suit in 118th District Court against Oilfield In dustrial Lines, Inc., alleging that Oilfield Industrial Lines failed to honor a contract.

G.S.M. International Drilling Service alleges in the suit that the oil equipment company failed to deliver. two mud pumps ordered on Sept. 12, 1981.

According to the suit, O.I.L. failed to deliver the.

pumps as promised by Nov. 14, 1981. G.S.M. is seeking $410,000 actual damages with interest, the difference they claim they had to pay to pur-chase pumps elsewhere to complete their oil drilling rigs.

G.S.M. also is asking the court for $103,000, the dif-ference between the fair market value of the rigs they had been promised and the fair market value of the rigs in their defective condition or to repair the rigs.

The plaintiff also claims they overpaid O.I.L. $119,000 because G.S.M. was required to purchase other items in a package deal to receive the pumps

In additon, G.S.M. states that the suit falls under the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices-Consumer Protection Act, and therefore O.I.L. is required to pay attorney's costs should G.S.M. win. Under the act, G.S.M. also would be entitled to receive three times the actual damages exceeding $1,000.

By The Associated Press Actor is still Archie

BOSTON - Actor Carroll O'Connor is leaving behind the restaurant business for a post as a tough uion boss in his latest dramatic venture. But he says when he's greeted on the street, it's often still, "Hey, Archie!"

The 59-year-old O'Connor, who portrayed the opinionated and bigoted male chauvinist Archie Bunker for 14 years on television's "All In The Family" and "Archie's Place," is starring in and directing a play called "Brothers," opening Saturday at the Colonial Theatre.

It concerns a crisis involving a union local president, played by O'Connor, and his four sons. At a press luncheon Wednesday, the actor said he's still getting a public response from the televi-

Joe headed for Broadway

NEW YORK - Nicknamed "Broadway Joe" in his days as a quarterback, Joe Namath is about to make a real Broadway debut Namath, 40, who had a well-known fondness for Manhattan nightlife when he played football for the New York Jets, goes on stage Tuesday in the role of Lt. Maryk, the officer on trial for seizing control of a Navy minesweeping vessel from Capt. Queeg in the revival of Herman Wouk's "The Caine Mutiny Court-Martial." Maryk "is a big, somewhat naive guy .. who gets taken advantage of," said a spokesman for the play, David Roggensack. Namath is "a big. open, nice guy" who will "be right for the part physically," he said.

The former football star faces a real-life trial on a misdemeanor drunken driving charge Wednesday in Beverly Hills, Calif.

He was stopped by the California Highway Patrol the night of Aug. 20 after he "crossed over the yellow lines, and was weaving" and failed sobriety tests, police said.

Namath's lawyer entered an innocent plea in Beverly Hills Municipal Court. A pretrial hearing is scheduled next month.

Senate awaits sanctions

WASHINGTON - The Senate is preparing to add its collective voice to the House in denouncing the Soviets' destruction of a South Korean airliner, but some conservative senators are holding out for additional sanctions.

The Senate planned today to take up a resolution, ssentially identical to one passed 416-0 by the House on Wednesday, condemning the Soviet Union for a "cold-blooded, brutal, barbarous attack on a commercial airliner.

It demands an explanation to the world from Moscow for the Sept. 1 incident and reparations for the families of the 269 victims, among other steps.

But Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., joined by about 10 allies, said he planned to bring up an amendment urging President Reagan to go beyond the limited steps he has taken thus far in retaliation for the attack, which occurred after the Korean Air Lines jumbo jet wandered into Soviet airspace.

Helms' proposal called on Reagan to recall the U.S. ambassador to Moscow temporarily, to sharply reduce the number of Soviet diplomats in the United States and to undertake "a comprehensive reappraisal of the complete spectrum of U.S.-Soviet relations, including arms control, human rights, East-West trade and regional issues.

Fake evidence expected

WASHINGTON - President Reagan's national security adviser says he expects the Soviets to "fabricate so-called newly discovered evidence" in an attempt to prove their contention that the Korean Air Lines jumbo jet they shot down was spying for the United States.

"The absolute and incontrovertible fact is that KAL 007 was not on an intelligence-gathering mission of any kind," National Security Adviser William P. Clark told the Air Force Association on Wednesday

The director of Reagan's National Security Council staff also predicted the Kremlin would use the strain in U.S.-Soviet relations over the plane incident to call for a summit meeting to reach a 'greater understanding.'

The Reagan administration has said repeatedly that it would only be interested in meeting with the Soviets if there was some likelihood that the meeting would result in tangible progress in relations between the two superpowers.

An administration official, speaking on condition

he not be named, said after Clark's speech that the security adviser's remarks were based on an assessment by U.S. intelligence analysts.

"We're not just guessing," the official said, but he

Israeli soldier killed

BEIRUT, Lebanon - Lebanese air force jets today buzzed hilltop positions of Druse militiamen for the first time in the 12-day civil war, and the Israeli army suffered its first fatality since its troops redeployed in southern Lebanon.

State and privately owned radio stations in Beirut said the six air force jets flew low over the city and insurgent positions on the overlooking hills but did not bomb or strafe the Syrian-backed Druse fighters. Druse gunners had shelled Lebanese army positions in the Chouf Mountains and near the U.S.

Marine base on Beirut's southern edge overnight. In Tel Aviv, the Israeli military command said one soldier was killed and seven wounded in a bazooka attack in southern Lebanon. The fatality was the first among Israeli troops since the army pulled out of the central mountains 11 days ago and deployed behind lines closer to Israel in hopes of reducing casualties.

The command said the soldiers' position was hit just after midnight by several bazooka shells fired at toward a village seven miles east of Tyre. The identity of the attackers was not immediately

Lawyer says law frustrated

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. - A lawyer for the family of a security guard accused in a $7 million Wells Fargo heist says authorities are "at a loss" to solve the crime and arrested the guard's fiancee out of frustration.

FBI agents and West Hartford police arrested the fiancee of Victor M. Gerena, 25, accusing her of giving police a false statement and of hindering Authorities also searched the suspect's apartment Wednesday and sorted through data on cars he rented. The rental information indicated Monday's robbery — the second-biggest cash theft in U.S. history — may have been planned for two weeks earlier.

Details also emerged about Gerena's needy childhood, followed by success in high school. His first two marriages ended in divorce and Paul Perzanoski, a friend, said Gerena was always short of money because of his expensive tastes and child support payments, on which he was $3,000 behind.

Gerena's fiancee, Anna Elizabeth Soto, 20, was released on $7,500 bond after her arrest and was to appear in West Hartford Superior Court later this month, police said.

Police Chief Francis Reynolds and Hartford County State's Attorney John Bailey refused to say what statements Miss Soto made when she was questioned Tuesday, but Reynolds said he "hopes it (her arrest) will bring police close to the arrest of Her attorney, Michael Graham, called the arrest harassment.

'They have to appear as though they're doing something and a 25-year-old has so far eluded all of the forces of the United States," he said. "State and federal authorities are at a loss.

Miss Soto was to marry Gerena on Friday, but Graham said, "I don't think he's going to show up for the wedding."

Begin sends resignation

JERUSALEM - Prime Minister Menachem Begin, reported to be unwell and in seclusion, today sent his resignation to President Chaim Herzog through an envoy, ending growing uncertainty about who was running the country. Begin remained secluded in his Jerusalem residence while Cabinet Secretary Dan Meridor presented the letter of resignation to Herzog, ending Begin's six years in "The prime minister asked me to convey to the president of the state his letter of resignation. The prime minister wanted to do so himself but since he was still obliged to stay in his home he asked me to carry out this mission for him," said Meridor as he handed the letter to Herzog in a ceremony in Herzog's study

Begin, who announced his intention to step down 17 days ago, stayed at home nursing what his spokesman Uri Porat called a "skin sensitivity." The dailies Yedioth Ahronoth and Maariv had reported today that Begin was suffering from a skin

Fiesta Day is time to celebrate

This weekend, Big Spring residents will have the opportunity to honor Mexico's independence.

Fiesta Day is just what it sounds like - a celebration. It begins at 9 a.m. at the Old Settler's Reunion in Comanche Trail Park Events include the crowning of the Fiesta Day queen, a parade, music and a semi-pro baseball game.

It is important that all Texans recognize the importance of Mexican history to our culture. The events this weekend provide perfect opportunity to do so.

Saturday is "Grito de Dolores," named for the independence movement started in the small village of Dolores on Sept. 15, 1810. The revolt was led by Miguel Hidalgo de Castillo; Saturday is the day Mexicans honor Hidalgo as "The Father of Mexico" and Liberator from Spain.

Too often today, relations between Mexico and Texas are strained because of political and economic issues. But the two cultures have also shown great capacity to live together.

Saturday's events are being organized by the local chapter of the League of United Latin American Citizens, the Howard County Boxing Club, the Chicano Golf Association and the Alsa Car Club. All proceeds will be set aside in a fund to help the community.

Around the Rim

By GREG JAKLEWICZ

Things are hopping

Darkness crept ever faster towards the west, leaving only an orange glow in the direction of California After sitting behind the wheel for hours, it was always relaxing to drive upon the hill, lean against the hood and watch the sun

Tonight, however, the peacefulness of a sky filled with so much natural beauty did not ease the knot growing in his stomach. If it had been someone else at the station, they would have called it a hunch. Detective Rose downtown would have every unit keeping a double-eye out for trouble if this queasy feeling was pulling at him.

But Ned Cannon, patrolman, only lit another cigarette, sipped on his soft drink and wondered what could be wirting. The chirping of a nearby cricket and the occasional rush of the wind was sure enough peaceful But something was wrong

The crackling of the radio startled him out of his daze. "Unit three, we have a 10-37 reported at the interstate and Highway 277. Please respond." The ill feeling swamped his conscience again. "This is unit 3 responding," he answered.

For some reason be drove faster to the north side of town than normal. There was no emergency, just a call to investigate but already he was sure there was a need for lights and siren.

Nothing. Just evening traffic was all he found at the interstate crossover. What was the problem? About to ask for a re-transmission, his keen eyes picked up something to the north. He peered down 277 and for some reason, the dark creeping down the four lanes appeared more ominous than usual.

The yellow stripes were disappearing. Why? He turned on his searchlight and saw them.

Like some living oilslick, millions of crickets were marching towards his city. The sight was fascinating.

Hopping in unison, each individual insect became one mass. He recalled reading "Lenigan Versus the Ants" in junior high and now felt the same fear caused by an unknown approaching enemy.

'Unit three, respond...unit three..." the radio crackled. But Cannon was frozen behind the dash. A truck turned north onto the highway, sped headlong into the army and lost control. The explosion coincided with the arrival of the crickets at the truck stop.

In a moment, the place turned into a free-for-all. It didn't last long. Another car, covered with the insects and driving in wild blindness, plowed into a row of gas pumps. The entire business burst into flames.

Cannon had seen enough. When one of the crickets leaped on his shirt, he screamed madly. Beating it off with his night-stick, he gunned the engine and wheeled the vehicle back towards town.

Crickets had already covered the patrol car. He flipped on the windshield wipers but they were useless in batting off the insects. The black mass was enveloping the city. He reached for the radio receiver but grabbed a cricket instead. It buzzed his face. He almost lost control of

It was just like his boyhood science thrillers, just like those Saturday matinees at the Majestic. Except this was real. What could stop this attack...

A drop of rain splattered on his face. Patrolman Cannon woke with a start, waving his arms wildy at his attackers. But there were no crickets, only a moth flitting around inside the car. The peacefulness of the orange sunset had caused him to drift off to sleep during his break. No man-eating crickets. No explo-

New attacks on the tax program

Critics of the Reagan administration's tax cuts, who insisted that the economy would remain in a recession unless they were repealed, have watched this year's recovery with with some dismay. With the old criticisms sounding less persuasive all the time, they had to come up with a new one. Now the claim is that Reagonomics, which promised to increase savings, has actually

The case has been made in its most comprehensive form by Peter Kilborn, a reporter for The New York Times. In a front-page story Sept. 6, he reported that "the largest tax cuts in history," show "primary objective was to encourage the country to save and invest more of its income," have not worked: "Americans are saving less now than they did" two years

The implication was that the tax cuts have falled at their main purpose. "We have a declining rate of capital formation as a result of policies intended to do the opposite," crowed economist Barry Bosworth, who as an adviser to Jimmy Carter helped to create the worst inflation in post-war history. The Congressinal Budget Office's new director, Rudolph Penner, a servative, lamented that profiligate Americans are "slowing economic growth in the long run." So much for supply-side economics.

If this New York Times reporter were in the habit of reading The New York Times, he would know that the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia had recently reported that the "largest tax cuts in history" were not tax cuts at all. "For most families with constant real income, the share of income taken by federal taxes will rise, slightly, from 1960 to 1964," it noted. For most families, "total marginal tax rates (for federal taxes) will be virtually the same in 1984 as in 1980. The combination of bracket creep and higher payroll tax rates will offset the 23 percent cut in marginal personal tax rates."

Supply-side economics, of course, holds that reductions in the marginal tax rates of individals will increase productive activity, raise savings and investment and stimulate economic growth. But there have been no such reductions. Supply-side economists can't be said to have failed, because it hasn't

The most important part of the administration's tax "cut" was the third-year reduction of 10 percent, which took effect July I. But the Time's damning figures on personal savings — coincidentally or not — cover a period that ended June 30.

Those figures show that the personal savings rate did fall in the last quarter of 1982 and the first half of 1983. But there's no need to contemplate the Ke an tax cuts to figure out why. During a short recession, the savings rate normally rises, as people worried about their jobs put away money as protection. But during a long recession, or a depression, that tendency may be more than offset by the need of unemployed people to deplete past savings. Given the severity of this slump, it's no surprise that toward its end (and in the first stages of the recovery), the savings rate fell.

When savings are considered on a yearly basis, rather than a quarterly one, the picture changes. According to the Federal Reserve Board. the savings rate rose by 42 percent between 1973 and 1982 — due largely to the decline in the inflation rate, but also to the administration's changes in the tax treatment of savings and investment.

The Time's reporter ignored the evidence since the end of the second quarter. Data from the Commerce Department shows a sharp increase in the personal savings rate after the July 1 tax cut, from 3.7 percent of disposal income in June to 5 per-

The figures cited by the Times also leave out a crucial component of what is rightly classified as savings — increases in the value of assets. If you put all your savings into stocks and the value of your stock portfolio doubles (as has happened to many investors in the last year), your savings have doubled. If that happens, you may feel less impelled to forgo consumption, and your personal savings rate though not your total personal savings - may drop. That's not a l of economic decline. The New York Times might have figured all this out, had its reporter been less eager to bury the administration's policies. But the evidence for his case is weak, conflicting and already obsolescent. Once again supply-side economics escapes the grave. You just can't keep a good theory down.

God understands your suffering

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am in constant pain due to a serious illness — one which could be fatal. I have always believed in God and been active in church, but now I find myself wondering if God even cares about us. — Mrs. F.S.

DEAR MRS. F.S.: No, God is not indifferent to your suffering at all and in fact he wants to come into your life in a special way during this time of suffering, and help you grow closer to him as you learn to commit the future to him.

How do I know God is concerned about you? I know it because God knows what it is to suffer. Look at Jesus Christ. He was God's only Son, perfect and without sin, and yet sinful men condemned him to death on a cross. When Christ died, God was telling us that he knows what it is to endure suffering and death. Why did Christ submit to that suffering? He did it because he loves us, and he wants us to know the joy of eternal life with him in Heaven. On the cross, Christ took upon himself our sins, and he removed the barrier that separates us from God. "He himself bore our sins in his body on the tree, so that we might die to sins and live for righteousness; by his wounds you have been healed" (1 Peter 2:24).

You face a very critical time of decision right now. On one hand, you could become embittered over your situation and turn your back on God. Or you could realize instead that you need God, especially at a time like this, and you could turn to Christ in faith and trust. I suspect from your letter that you have always tried to be a good person and gone to church. But now you are facing eternity, and it is very important for you to know that you belong to Christ and are going to go to Heaven when you die. How can you know this? You can know it by opening your heart by faith to Christ and asking him to come into your life as your personal Lord and Savior. Don't turn your back on him. Instead, answer his loving call to you by turning to him by faith.

Hurray for the Steers, they won their home game. The fan lost the snuff battle.

I have supported the Steers for over 20 years, attending nearly every in-town game and out of town game, but have never gone home smelling like wintergreen SNUFF. until our first home game of the '83

As I was leaving the stadium, walking down the south ramp, someone poured or spilled a cup of snuff spit on my hair, clothing and arms. I did not appreciate this one bit. Bankers building own nets

WASHINGTON - Congress has voted a massive $8.4 billion transfusion into the International Monetary Fund for the incredible purpose of saving the big banks from their own reckless greed. The banks have been laying out high-interest loans to Soviet-bloc and Third World nations that have neither the will nor the wherewithal to repay them. When things go wrong, the bankers simply come to Congress, silk hats in hand, begging for help to overcome the predictable results of their greed.

The bailout money is funneled through the International Monetary Fund, which has assured Congress the $8.4 billion will be enough to save the impoverished countries and the banks from financial collapse. But in its internal papers, the Fund acknowledges that more money will be needed. States one document, stamped "Confidential": "It would appear necessary for the Fund to increase its recourse to borrowing. Further borrowing would appear necessary for the twoyear period after the quota

The big banks, meanwhile, have become governments unto themselves, with financial tentacles and political allegiances that extend beyond any national boundaries. So great is the financial power of these multinational, multibillion-dollar banks that their decisions can have drastic effects on the world economy.

One banking giant — Citicorp — at least is evenhanded in its contempt for national governments. It has engaged in questionable transactions, which have cost some Western governments millions of dollars. Yet no government has laid a restraining hand on the bank.

Citicorp officials deny any widespread violations of national banking laws, and claim they took active measures to prevent abuses. But evidence gathered by my associate Donald Goldberg from Securities and Exchange Commission reports, congressional files and Citicorp's own records, paints a different picture. Here's the story:

In 1976, a Citicorp employee named David Edwards discovered that the bank was maneuvering around European currency regulations by 'parking" huge amounts of money with the Citicorp branch in Nassau. The profits from this were enormous, if of dubious legality.

Citicorp denied Edwards' allegations and fired him. He took his evidence to the SEC, but despite a staff recommendation for enforcement action, the commission declined to take on Citicorp.

During the various investigations, Citicorp withheld significant evidence, including 1977 legal opinions by its own lawyers in Europe.

The bank's attorney in Switzerland, for example, wrote: "The shifting of profits by transactions which are not normal arm'slength transactions may constitute a violation of Swiss tax legislation, particularly if it results in a reduction of taxable profit in Switzerland." The bank's attorney in Italy warned: "The parking of foreign exchange positions outside of Italy violates (certain Italian laws) because it is intended to create, as indeed it does create, foreign exchange assets and availabilities outside the Italian Republic." The lawyer's warning stated the penalties that were possible: prison sentences of up to five years for responsible banks officials. In Switzerland, Citicorp's auditing form sent a letter to the Swiss banking commission at the same time bank officials were denying Edwards' charges.

"The foreign exchange position of the bank was incorrectly shown, the profits not correctly stated, and it cannot be stated that the accounting records have been properly maintained," the letter read.

As Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., noted in an internal memo to members of a House subcommittee, "Citicorp was thus in possession of legal opinions..(indicating) that the parking transaction would constitute violations of various European countries' currency and tax laws."

How extensive the questionable transactions were is anyone's guess. The SEC staff found some $46 million in profits traceable to such deals. The Swiss auditor identified $15 billion in questionable transactions; the profit from these could have been hundreds of millions of

But the bank apparently is too powerful for mere national govenments to discipline.

Politics may be issue in custody battle

CHICAGO (AP) - The rhetorics of revolution, dark conspiracies and political persecution. At issue is the future of one 12-year-old girl. Once in love and marching together against the Vietnam War, Tina Fishman Stevenson and her ex-husband, Ted Fishman, are now political adversaries and bitter opponents in a custody fight over their daughter, Riva.

Riva's mother, a supporter of the Revolutionary Communist Party, and her father, employed by a weapons manufacturer, face each other in Circuit Court Thursday for a custody hearing.

Past court action in California gave the girl to the father, holding that Mrs. Fishman Stevenson was too wrapped up in revolutionary politics to be a good mother.

Riva - now living temporarily in a Chicago foster home — has said she wants to live with the father and his family in Redwood City, Calif.

At a court hearing last June, Riva slapped her mother and screamed "I hate you!" Riva's father is a computer specialist with Lockheed Missile and Space Co. Her mother, who lives in Chicago, supports the Revolutionary Com-munist Party, a Maoist group. Those divergent philosophies have sparked acrimonious exchanges between Riva's parents, with the custody fight involving charges of govern-ment conspiracies, legal kidnapping, political persecution, sexism and brainwashing. "I definitely am being

Tanning pills

Dear Dr. Donohue: Will you please discuss tanning pills? Are they OK to use? What is in them? — G.K.
Tanning tablets contain a synthetic version of natural coloring substance or substances — beta carotene and/or canthaxanthin. Carotene, for example, imparts the yellowness to carrots, peaches and other yellow fruits and vegetables. It, along with canthaxanthn, is approved as color additive for fod. Canathaxanthin is found in some mushrooms and in crayfish and other forms of marine life. But the use in color additives is a fraction of what is in the tanning pills you sent me

The FDA (Food and Drug Administration) is currently investigating tanning pills containing such substances. Among the factors being studied is the nausea, cramping and diarrhea that may result from high doses of these substances. You ask (another part of your letter) whether liver damage can result. This has still not been proven.

Do I think you should be using these pills? I personally think it would be better to hold off taking any substance until there are well-controlled studies done to be sure there are no long-term problems. That's only my personal opinion and I express it knowing that the tablets have been used for some time in Europe.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have the same fungus that causes athlete's foot, determined by a dermatologist a year ago. Will you discuss this in your column? Please mention the latest treatment, length of time required to cure, and recurrence rate. B.O.B.

There are three kinds of fungi that cause athlete's foot. They can infect areas of the body other than the feet, such as the groin. Luckily, these three fungi usually can be treated with the same medication. Creams with miconazole or clotrimazole work well. But you have to use those creams for a couple of weeks — and I mean a couple of weeks after the signs of infec-tion are gone. If you don't do that the infection may return. And there are other effective creams and lotins to try — tolnaftate, for example.

When the infection is quite severe and resists the effects of the creams and lotions, the oral medicine, griseofulvin may have to be tried. That almost always works, but it's reserved as a last-resort treatment. The booklet "Relief and Care of Your Feet" will offer other tips on prevention of such problems. Other readers may order by writing me care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped. self-addressed envelope and 50

Did you know that 80 percent of stroke victims resume to some degree their former lives? The booklet "Stroke Recovery — Hope and Help" describes the causes and treatments of stroke. For a copy write Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing 50 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' ques-tions are incorported in his column whenever possible.

DEAR ABBY: I am a businessman with grown children and young grandchildren.

Recently I learned that my son's former girlfriend gave birth to a child conceived while they were living together. Neither of them has mentioned this to me, so if the child is his, apparently they have agreed not to acknowledge it. I am quite certain that he is not providing any financial support.

My estate will not be large, but it seems only fair that this new child, if indeed it is my grandchild, should share in what there is. Yet I cannot find out more without meddling in my adult son's affairs.

My attorney suggests I leave my will as it is, providing in general terms for my children and grand-children. But I fear my son would face a messy situation should the child's mother claim a share of the

My son would be furious - and justifiably so - were I to approach the girl to "negotiate" at this time. If I questioned him, he'd probably deny paternity and refuse to discuss it further.

I don't want to be a meddler, but a grandchild is a grandchild. What do you think.

CONCERNED FATHER DEAR CONCERNED: You come across as a kindly generous, farsighted man, but you'll get no medals for meddling, so listen to your attorney. Your son is a big boy now. Let him paddle his own canoe.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing to you, but I need help. I don't know if there's a word for what I have, but I have a fear of telephones.

In my job I have to use the phone a lot, and it's making a nervous wreck of me. When I talk on the phone, my throat closes up, I run out of breath and my voice changes. I can't seem to get the words out. I have no trouble talking to people in person, but when I talk on the phone, I fall apart.

Do other people have this problem? Or is it just me? If you have a solution, let's hear it, please. Think up a name, but don't use mine.

DER PHONAPHOBIC: You are certainly not alone. Make one more phone call — to someone who practices behavior modification therapy. If your physician can't recommend one, consult your local mental health

Fake doctor accused of killing patient

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A man who allegedly impersonated a licensed doctor at an Army hospital improperly administered anesthesia during surgery, causing a patient to become "brain dead," federal authorities say.

The U.S. attorney's office in Newark charged Tuesday that Abraham V.K. Asante had failed licensing exams seven times but stated on his employment application at the Walson U.S. Army Hospital at Fort Dix that he was licensed in the two states.

Asante was hired as an anesthesiologist at the hospital on July 21, but it was not until Sept. 7, two weeks after the operation, that U.S. Army officials learned he had failed licensing examinations five times in Connecticut and twice in Indiana, the complaint said.

Asante, 45, was arrested Tuesday at Fort Dix by FBI agents and charged in federal court in Trenton with two counts of filing false statements with the government and one count of aggravated assault, said U.S. Attorney W. Hunt Dumont.

U.S. Magistrate John W. Devine ordered Asante held in lieu of $10,000 bail and scheduled a Sept. 25 preliminary hearing. Asante, a Bordentown resident, faces a maximum sentence of 20 years in prison and a $20,000 fine if convicted, authorities said.

The charge of aggravated assault arose from the administration of anesthesia by Asante to a 46-year-old patient at the hospital during an Aug. 25 operation to remove a tumor from the patient's bladder, according to the complaint.

Because Asante improperly administered anesthesia, complications arose during the surgery, the complaint alleged.

As a result, the patient, who was identified only by the last name of Branda, experienced cardiac arrest and went into a coma, said the complaint.

'At the present time (Branda) is believed to be clinically brain dead," said the complaint. Army officials are attempting to determine the procedure used to verify Asante's application and credentials before he was hired as a civilian employee, said Col. R. Michael Luckey, chief public affairs spokesman for the U.S. Army Health Services Command in San Antonio, Texas, which oversees all Army

There is a procedure in which we routinely verify all credentials," Luckey said. "You just couldn't walk off the street and say you're a doctor and start operating. We're trying to

The complaint charges that Asante claimed on his application that he was licensed as a doctor as of 1980 in Indiana and as of 1981 in Connecticut. The U.S. attorney's office said it learned from authorities in those states that he had failed the exams.

Authorities said Asante never claimed to be licensed in New Jersey, but that such a permit was not necessary for him to operate in a federal facility.

Asante, the married father of four children. is a naturalized citizen who emigrated from Ghana, officials said.

A Nassau County State Supreme Court judge signed an order Tuesday which requires the in-laws, David and Anna Lucas of Elmont, N.Y., to bring their daughter to court today or appear and answer the charge.

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) - Like a growing number of kids, 10-year-old Kelly Houston often finds herself alone at home when she returns from school. But unlike more than 2 1/2

Huge sum won in

birth suit

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A couple has won a medical negligence settle-ment that could bring $44 million for their daughter, who they say is severely retarded because her birth was delayed.

Lauren Paroline, now 3, is guaranteed $3,000 a month for at least the next 20 years, or a minimum $3.5 million. If she reaches normal life expectancy, the figure could hit $44 million, said Mark Mandel, the lawyer for Helen and Richard Paroline of Pawtucket.

The couple's obstetrician, Dr. Kilza Lee, Memorial Hospital of Pawtucket, and former resident Dr. Timothy Whelan agreed to the settlement of the negligence suit Tuesday

The Parolines' lawyer said five doctors were prepared to testify in Superior Court that the defendants waited too long to deliver Lauren, whose umbilical cord had entwined her neck. She is blind, has no motor control and cannot walk or talk.

Lee left orders for a fetal heart monitor to be used on the mother but it wasn't turned on until 1 ½ hours after she was admitted to the hospital, the suit said. Once turned on, the monitor showed fetal distress, which should have prompted Whelan to perform a Caesarean section, it said.

Goodbye, Atlanta Braves, goodbye It was fun seeing you try again But even folks in Oklahoma Know you can't mess with Noc-a-homa Take-um down his teepee and you-um die ***

Well, we would have some District 4-5A stats to give fans today except that we don't have any District 4-5A stats to give you

The Odessa American staff tallies these up once a week and their latest sums haven't yet made it 60 miles to the east. I don't know if it's the mail or a delay in getting the numbers added up and averaged but are statless.

Have no fear, Steers stats are here. Jay Pirkle leads the team in rushing with 109 yards (4.4 carry) while tailback Eric Sherman has gained 7.5 yards each time he's touched the football. Mike McKinley, another fullback, has 63 yards on 12 carries.

Passingwise, starter Tommy Gartman is 5 of 12 for 73 yards while backup Mark Johnson is 6 of 17 for 99 yards. Both have thrown for touchdowns. Tight end Charley Ragan has pulled in four passes for 84 yards a score while Robert Porras has three catches for 59 yards.

As team, the Steers have rushed for 286 yards compared to 333 for their opponents. BSHS has 172 total passing yards; opponents, 180.

Pirkle has a 38.9 punting average.

The Steers have turned the ball over twice on fumbles and have had one punt blocked; opponents have fumbled five times and thrown two interceptions, also getting a punt blocked.

We'll try to have the final non-district stats next week, even if we have to drive duer to Odessa and get them ourselves.

Here are a few events of local note...

• A racquetball tournament benefitting the United Way is scheduled to begin Sept. 26 at the YMCA.

There are divisions for men and women, beginners and experts, single and doubles. Entry fee is $10 for one event. $15 for two and $20 for three. Deadline to enter is noon Spet. 23. Entry forms are availabe at the Y.

It's double-elimination. Matches will be played at noon and at 5 p.m. throughout that week until champions are determined.

• The Miller High Life Slow Pitch Softball Tournament begins Sept. 23 at Johnny Stone Park, also benefitting the United Way.

Entry fee is $90 with team trophies going to the first six teams and individual awards to the top four teams. An all-tournament team, most valuable player and golden glove winner will be selected.

Entry deadline is Sept. 22. Call 267-5201 before 5 p.m. or 263-6874 after 5 p.m. to

• The Jaycees are planning a weekend flag football tournament sometime in October says spokesman Dave Trusty. Cosponsored by Coors, the double-elimination event will send the Big Spring winner against the best from the Midland-Odessa area.

Officials rules, times, sites and other tournament details are still in the works but if you like football — and there have been calls to me on such, start organizing a team.

• Golfing-wise, the LaJet-Coors Classic begins next week in Abilene. Tickets are on sale at the Comanche Trails Pro Shop. Daily tournament tickets are $15, $10 for the pro-am or $50 for the whole week. Hal Sutton, Gary Player, Ben Crenshaw, Tom Kite and other big names in golf have committed to the $350,000 event. • The Chicano Golf Association Grand Tournament is this Sunday at Comanche Trails, for members only. The Big Spring Golf Association has its Grand Tournament Oct. 1-2 at Comanche, members only. And the annual city championships are coming up sometime in October with a special seniors division planned says CTGC pro Al Patterson. - GREG JAKLEWICZ

Lady Steers test Midland

MIDLAND — Big Spring High goes for win No. 2 in District 4-5A play tonight when the Lady Steers battle Midland High in a 7 p.m. match. BSHS downed Abilene High 15-12, 4-15, 15-11 in its league opener Tuesday night while Midland tripped Permian 15-13, 15-12. MHS represented 4-5A in postseason playoffs last season.

The Lady Steers, 5-10 overall, will be without senior Paula Spears who is completing a 3-day suspension for disciplinary reasons. Tammi Green, called up from the junior varsity team, has replaced Spears in the varsity lineup.

McKinley turns life around

By GREG JAKLEWICZ

Sports Editor Life has been sort of an obstacle course for Mike McKinley. Thanks to football. McKinley is becoming quite an obstacle for opposing teams.

Having to fill the vacancy left by George Bancroft, the area's top defensive player in 1982, McKinley was presented with more than an everyday challenge. But, to date, the senior linebacker-running back has scored another McKinley drew team honors for his defensive and special teams play against Lubbock Estacado. Although the coaches liked what they saw of No. 22 on film, McKinley wasn't too satisfied.

"I didn't do a good job," he said. "I didn't read at all. If I had had my head on straight, if both of us linebackers had gotten together, we probably would have won.

Aside from a possible "off-night" in Lubbock, McKinley has definitely put his head on straight. In the past, he had to work through his parents' separation and in the spring of 1982, overcome a personal problem in Coahoma.

McKinley, a sophomore, and several other track athletes were caught smoking marijuana at the regional meet. "It was a mistake." he recalls. "It and there's a lot more was the first time T tried it and with my luck, I got

He calls the incident "a blessing in disguise." He transferred to Big Spring to live with his mother and has life rolling in the right direction again.

"I love to play football," football part. Because he transferred, McKinley had to play at the junior varsity level last season. "I knew I could play (varsity) last year. Coach Eudy told me I could. I understood why I wasn't. It was like practice because I just tried to get can't break a real speedy everything together."

WHAT THE BIG FOOTBALL PLAYERS EAT ...Steers' McKinley needs strength for two-way duties

the varsity.

"It was rough, like it was for everyone" he said of the three-week practice session. "We didn't have spring training in Coahoma so it was the first time for me. I was real excited."

His play in the spring won him a starting job at linebacker and split-shift job with junior Jay Pirkle at fullback. He's had to adjust from 3-A to 5-A football. "It's a lot different. They hit harder in practice talent. It's a lot more physical.

I love playing linebacker...I love to hit, he said with a broad smile. And he likes to run with the football. "I haven't run as much as I've wanted to. But coach said me and Pirkle would split time a good game. I thought I had a fair game (against Estacado)," he said. He entered the game in the second half and rushed nine times for 50 yards. His big gains keyed the first Steers touchdown drive. "I run but I can go in the mid-A starter at both fullback dle and get yardage. and linebacker for Around the outside isn't my

The Steers, McKinley said, are "a lot more confi-together this week," he promised, referring to Big Spring's slow starts in its opening games. "We need to get all four quarters instead of just the second half. It's all mental."

Levelland presents a big challenge for the Steers. "It'll be a good game. I've felt good this week. I'm ready to hit and get some Lobo. I hope we can blow them out, the defense hold them to zero and the offense really crank up. If we concentrate for the whole game, we can do it." One thing that will help

McKinley and his teammates is hearing from the fans. "Now that Big Spring has something started," he "I hope everyone keeps behind us. I loved that Snyder game, with all the fans there. It was the first time I've played before that big of a crowd. It really gets the team fired McKinley is fired-up once again. He skipped track last spring for obvious reasons but is thinking of long-jumping for Big Spring High in 1984. "I went 20-9 as a freshman and qualified for regionals with a 19-9 my sophomore year.'

That would be one more obstacle presented, attacked and cleared for a man whose made a career out of

4-AAAAA Picks

By GREG JAKLEWICZ Sports Editor

LEVELLAND at BIG SPRING - The Steers proved they can move the football by air or land last Thursday against Estacado. Quarterbacks Tommy Gartman and Mark Johnson each threw touchdown passes, the first for BSHS since 1981. The Steers collected 150 yards of offense in the second half. A long pass play and blocked punt in the end zone put the stops to a victory effort over the Matadors. Levelland has an experienced backfield with Rodney Caddell at quarterback and Joe Shakespeare and Walter Washington at the running back positions. Steers want to finish pre-district 2-1 and to go out with a big win. They'll get both. Big Spring 28, Estacado 10

ABILENE at LONGVIEW - Abilene looked good in its opener and then died against Sweetwater. Longview is picked second in 13-AAAAA behind Marshall Harris). The Eagles won this game last year but the odds are against the Warbirds this time out. Longview 21,

EP EASTWOOD at LEE — Eastwood is picked No. 2 in 2-AAAAA and Lee is picked by many No. 2 in 4-AAAAA. That should mean a close game. No sir. The Rebels have moved into the state's top 10 with size, speed and ability. Eastwood has 17 lettermen back but they should have learned about 4-5A football last time out. Lee 30, Eastwood 6

ESTACADO at MIDLAND — Will the real Midland High Bulldogs please growl? Quarterback James Welborn bombed Andrews but the 'Dogs, known once for great defense, gave up 25 points in losing to Andrews. Estacado, No. 5 in AAAA football, is very basic but quick. This should be a great game. Having learned a lesson, Midland should win at home. Midland 22, Estacado 20

HOBBS at ODESSA — Odessa flexed his talented muscles last week against Burges. Hobbs is always tough and won this game 6-0 last year. Bronchos have too much offense in 1983. Won't call it a runaway but OHS goes 3-0 in predistrict. Odessa 28, Hobbs 14

FW WYATT at PERMIAN - The Panthers roughed up Hanks with over 500 yards in total offense. Word from fans at stadium was that Mojo could have had twice that. Wyatt is picked low in 6-AAAAA which means PHS fans can go to movie at halftime. Permian 45. Wyatt 14

SAN ANGELO at BROWNFIELD -Used to pick Brownwood in this one but times have changed. Lions aren't bad with having scored 71 points and giving up none in two games. If B'wood can stop Bevans Hoffmann, it'll be a ballgame. San Angelo 24, Brownwood 14

TEMPLE at COOPER — The Cougars did the great disappearing act against Wichita Falls last week, just seven days after stunning Brownwood. Temple is picked behind Bryan in 14-AAAAA with only three starters back. Hard game to pick but Temple seems to have Cooper's number. Temple 31, Cooper 21

Bengals, Browns set for Ohio rivalry

CLEVELAND (AP) - Though their "runaway beer truck" has been suspended and their quarterback is hurting, the Cincinnati Bengals always manage to play inspired football against their upstate rival, says Cleveland Browns Coach Sam Rutigliano.

The Bengals and Browns meet tonight in a nationally televised National Football League game.

Cincinnati, whose starting fullback, Pete Johnson, was suspended for four games along with lineman Ross Browner because of alleged drug abuse, is winless after two games. Cleveland

"We bring out the best in each other," Rutigliano said. "We'll be fighting to stay in first place (in the American Conference Central Division) and the Bengals will be look ing to get right back in it."

The effect of Johnson' absence was painfully evident to the Bengals on Sunday, when they lost 10-6 to the Buffalo Bills. Cincinnati was unable to score the go-ahead touchdown on four plays from inside the Buffalo 5-vard line with less than three minutes to play.

"When you can't get four yards in four tries at that stage of the game, you don't deserve to win," said Forrest Gregg, the former Cleveland coach who directed Cincinnati to a Super Bowl appearance two years

Rutigliano conceded that the Bengals are likely to play a different style of ball with Johnson sidelined, and he noted, "If you check their history, they are a much better football team with Johnson, when he's running for 100 yards.

"In the role he plays, I don't know anybody that's better. Plus, he's not a bad guy coming out of the backfield (as a receiver). If he catches a swing pass, it looks like a runaway beer truck."

But Rutigliano was not ready to write off the Bengals just yet.

"Who's kidding anybody? They're a playoff-type team, period," he said. "They're still the team to beat in the AFC Central."

Cleveland is coming off a 31-26 victory over the Detroit Lions in which quarterback Brian Sipe fired four touchdown passes, bringing his season total to seven Sipe and Cincinnati quarterback Ken Anderson, who has been nursing a sore neck, have had some of their best performances in the Browns-Bengals series. Cleveland leads the series 13-12.

Sipe has more victories (seven), completions (234) and passing yards (2,722) against the Bengals than he has against any other NFL

Against the Browns, Anderson has completed 304 of 494 passes for 4,091 yards and 26 touchdowns.

Leiding joins UT's Auburn injury list

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) - Senior middle linebacker Jeff Leiding has joined the list of Texas Longhorns who will be on the sideline Saturday when third-ranked Texas opens the 1983 football season against the fifth-ranked Auburn Tigers.

Leiding and starting quarterback Todd Dodge will not be able to play because of injuries. Texas coach Fred Akers said Wednesday that Leiding, who cut his leg while riding an inner tube down the Guadalupe River near New Braunfels last weekend, will be out for a week to 10 days and will miss the Auburn game. Akers said Wednesday the cut quired minor surgery. The infection "was pretty deep and they (doctors) had to enlarge the incision to get it all. It went very well, but Jeff will definitely miss became deeply infected and rethe Auburn game," Akers said. Leiding will be replaced by Junior Tony Edwards, who filled in for Leiding, who missed half of the 1982 season because of an injury, the coach said.

Akers declined Wednesday to name his starting quarterback for Saturday's nationally televised game.

It will either be senior Rick McIvor or junior Rob Moerschell, but Akers would not give his choice. "Now, I didn't say that I didn't know who it's going to be," he said. "I'm just not going to announce it. I might change my mind once we get down there. And I assure you both will play and I have great confidence in both of them.

OAKLAND (AP) — Texas righthander Charlie Hough expects to be hearing from Don Drysdale any minute now

"He'll proably send me a drink — he's safe again," said Hough, whose consecutive scoreless inning streak ended at 36 in the Rangers' 4-2 victory against the A's Wednesday night.

Drysdale set the major league record of 58 consecutive scoreless innings pitched with the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1968. The American League record is 54 innings, set in 1922 by Walter Johnson.

"I just ran out of gas out there," said Hough. "I'm certainly not going to shut everybody out forever; that's for damn sure. But I enjoyed it. It was fun."

The 35-year-old knuckleballer gave up two runs in the eighth inning when Oakland's Mike Davis lined a 3-1 pitch for a two-out, two-run single to left with the bases loaded.

Hough would need with a three-run double, and solo homer, his 24th of the season, a towering shot into the second deck of he left field stands. Both hits were off losing pitcher Steve McCatty, 6-8.

Yankees 4, Brewers 1 The Milwaukee Brewers soared to the top of the American League last year on the strength of their hefty hitters. Now, they are plummeting in th AL East because of a severe power shortage.

The Brewers, who came within one game of winning the 1982 World Series, hit 216 home runs last season while leading the league in runs and total bases. But their vaunted attack has sputtered in the second half of the season — only 44 nomers in 71 games - and, in the last week, they've scored a total of nine runs in seven games, the last six of which they've lost.

Ron Guidry threw a five-hitter and Ken Griffey homered to pace the Yankees Guidry is tied with Detroit's Jack Morris for the AL lead in complete games with 18 and has won six straight.

Orioles 5, Red Sox 0 As if the Orioles didn't have enough going for them with an eight-game winning streak — Baltimore has won 19 of its last 22 and has a 5½-game lead over Detroit in the East — they apparently have one of their former aces back on track.

Dennis Martinez hadn't started since Aug. 6 or pitched in nearly a month. But he combined with Sammy Stewart for a six-hitter and Gary Roenicke smacked a two-run homer to lead Baltimore. Twins 1, White Sox 0

Minnesota rookie Tim Teufel, who was called up from Toledo on Sept. 1, singled to knock in the only run with none out and the bases loaded in the ninth. The hit snapped a string of 17 scoreless innings by White Sox hurler Britt Burns

Tigers 5, Indians 0 The Tigers have won six straight but can't gain ground on the Orioles. Glenn Abbott, acquired on waivers from Seattle on Aug. 23, befuddled the Indians with an assortment of offspeed pitches, throwing a four-hitter. Alan Trammell scored three times for Detroit

Royals 1, Angels 0 Pinch-hitter Don Slaught singled in Hal McRae, who had tripled with one out in the 14th. Tommy John, 40, blanked the Royals over the opening 13 innings in the longest outing of his 21-year career.

Blue Jays 4, Mariners 3 Lloyd Moseby pinch-hit a double in a two-run seventh inning as Toronto won its fourth in a row. Reliever Doyle Alexander allowed four hits over the final six innings to pick up his fourth straight victory.

Garner keeps Astros' divisional hopes alive

HOUSTON (AP) — Phil Garner hit his first home run in the Astrodome since June 21 to power ouston to a 4-2 victory over Los Angeles and move the Astros within 71/2 games of the National League West-leading Dodgers.

Joe Niekro, 14-12, recorded the win for Houston, pitching nine innings and allowing eight hits. Bob Welch, 14-12, lost for the first time in his last seven starts.

Welch walked Jose Cruz to open the seventh. After Ray Knight struck out, Garner lofted Welch's 2-1 pitch over the left field wall for his 14th home run of the

Phillies 9-5, Expos 5-0

Len Matuszek was recently recalled by the Philadelphia Pillies from the minor leagues. He doesn't want to go back, and made some points for himself against the Montreal Expos.

Matuszek had two hits in the first game and a three-run homer in the second as the Phillies moved into first place by one game over the Pittsburgh Pirates, who beat the Chicago Cubs 6-3. The Expos fell into third place, 11/2 games behind the Phillies

Mike Schmidt hit a two-run homer in each game, giving him an NL-leading 36 for the season. His first round-tripper came in the fourth inning of the opener after a two-run blast by Joe Morgan, easing Steve Carlton to his 298th career

tempt and boosted his season record to 13-15. The all-time major-league strikeout leader with 3,683, Carlton fanned eight and walked four in eight innings before getting last-inning relief help from Al

In the second game, Schmidt hit a two-run shot in the first inning and Matuszek slammed a three-run homer in the third for his first in the major leagues. Both came off loser Ray Burris, 4-7

Pirates 6, Cubs 3 In Pittsburgh, Jim Morrison had three hits, including a two-run double, as the Pirates beat Chicago.

John Candelaria, 14-8, blanked the Cubs on six hits through six innings before leaving with stomach cramps. Cecilio Guante and Kent Tekulve finished up for the Pirates Reds 6, Braves 4

In Cincinnati, Nick Esasky hit a grand slam off reliever Steve Bedrosian to highlight a five-run seventh-inning rally that carried the Reds over the Braves. Dale Murphy slugged a pair of two-run homers for all the Braves' offense. Cardinals 2, Mets 1 In New York, Darrell Porter had three hits, including his 14th homer of the season in the sixth inning, as St. Louis beat the Mets

Neil Allen, 11-12, pitched 5 1-3 innings for the victory, while Bruce Sutter, the fourth Cardinal pitcher, was credited with his 19th save.

Padres 7, Glants 4 In San Diego, Tony Gwynn extended his hitting streak to 22 games with three singles and drove in two runs to lead the Padres over San Francisco.

Bobby Brown, who set the Padres' consecutive game hitting streak last month with 21 games, had three singles, stole three bases, and scored three runs. Gwynn's streak is the longest in the ma-

Mancini battles Peruvian in WBA title fight tonight

YORK (AP) - Ray "Boom Boom" Mancini will fight tonight in Madison Square Garden four days short of 36 years of the night his father, Lenny Boom Boom" Mancini last fought there.

On Sept. 19, 1947, Lenny Mancini, then an aging middleweight, lost an eightround decision to Rocky Castellani in a preliminary. He had been a highlyranked lightweight contender in the early 1940s who had never gotten a title shot and whose career was interrupted by World War II in which he was wounded.

Lenny Mancini will be on hand when his 22-year-old son appears in the Garden in the main event as the World Boxing Association light champion defending the title against Orlando Romero, the WBA's top-ranked, but relatively unknown challenger from Peru.

"My father hasn't been in the Garden since then (the Castellani fight)," said the champion. "This will be an emotional night for him."

The fight is scheduled to start at about 10:30 p.m., EDT, and will be seen on limited closed-circult and selected cable television. The bout will be televised in Peru and will be shown Saturday in the

It will be Mancini's third title defense and his first since Duk Koo Kim was knocked out in the 14th round and injured fatally last Nov. 12. He won a 10-round nontitle fight on a decision over George Feeney Feb. 6 at Saint Vincent, Italy, and was set to defend the title against Kenny Bogner May 27 at South Afarica. But the fight was canceled when Mancini broke a Mancini won the title on a first-round knockout over Art Frias May 8, 1982, at Las Vegas, Nev., and made his first defense with a sixth-round knockout over Ernesto Espana at Warren, Ohio, July 24, 1982. His record is 26-1, with 20 knockouts, Nino LaRocca of Italy, 51-0, with 39 knockouts, and ranked third by the WBC, will fight a scheduled 10-rounder against Jerry Cheatham of Phoenix, 34-10-2, with 21 knockouts.

In a scheduled 10-round lightweight match, Alfredo Escalera of Puerto Rico, the former WBC super featherweight champion, who has a 47-13-3 record, with 28 knockouts, will fight 19-year-old Charley "White Lightning" Brown of North Haledon, N.J., 17-0, with 15

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 16, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day that you can best concern yourself by studying how effective you are being in doing your daily chores and duties and in thinking up ways and neans to put in motion a better campaign of action.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Analyze business affairs well and know what should be done in order to improve them so that you can gain greater profits.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A partner can be quite stubborn today so try to be understanding and come to a better agreement. Get into every angle of deals.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Ideal day to handle that myriad of little chores around the house so that all will be in fine order there. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You will be swamped by details today, so be patient. Then spend time at home relaxing tonight

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) There could be a quarrel at home today if you do not try to understand the other person's view-point. Get bills paid quickly. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Being particularly careful in motion is wise today, otherwise you could have trouble. Also do not criticize others. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Study your financial position and put in economy measures wherever possible. Then get into that repair work on your home. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want to have your way in all things but you had better be more tactful otherwise you can lose a benefactor. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Do something constructive about an annoyance of long standing and get it behind you cleverly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A locquacious friend can be of help to you today, so contend with all the talk and gain what you desire.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some new ambitions have to be studied very well so that you don't get into trouble after you have gotten into them.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those interesting young persons who is able to come up with the truth where puzzling and confusing matters are con-cerned, so slant the education along investigative lines and there can be much success during the lifetime.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Former employees of the self-proclaimed pioneer of local hot dog vendors tried to scare him into handing over his business with assaults and hints that they had underworld connections, police and prosecutors say.

Twelve men have been indicted on conspiracy charges following an investigation of alleged attempts by organized crime to infiltrate the resort city's $6 million-a-year pushcart business, state Attorney General Irwin I. Kimmelman announced Wednesday.

Undercover agents posed as hot dog hawkers to work on the boardwalk, where carts are sometimes overturned as vendors battle for space near the nine casino hotels that drew 23 million people to the city last vear.

The feuding that led to the indictments involved Diggity Hot Dogs Inc. and a group of its former employees who formed a company called Island Vets, said Thomas Cannon, a spokesman for Kimmelman. New Jersey law requires pushcart vendors to be veterans.

Bad back and all, Zoeller's 63 good for first round lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) - Fuzzy Zoeller, armed with a 1-stroke lead after the first round, put his fate in the world's richest golf tournament - at least partially — in the hands of his caddy.

"I didn't get here until Tuesday," Zoeller said after he'd compiled a nearflawless, 9-under-par 63 in the opening round of the inaugural Las Vegas Pro-Celebrity Classic, which offers $1,050,000 in total prizes for five days of play over four courses at this desert resort. "I haven't seen any of the courses. I've never played them before," Zoeller said Wednesday.

"In a tournament like this, you have to leave it to your caddy. It's like the Hope (the Bob Hope Desert Classic). I don't practice there, either.

"It's up to the caddy. It's his job. He'll get the yardage and we'll take it from

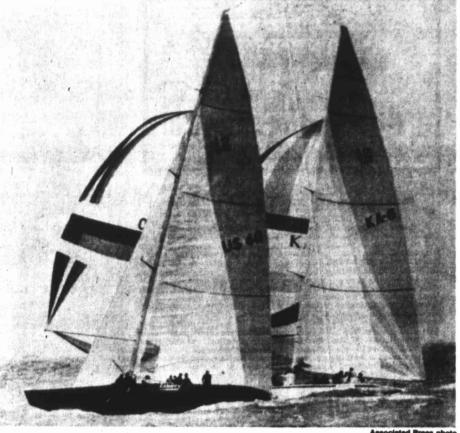

"Luckily, I've got a good one. Mike Mazzeo. We've been together six or seven years. He's a happy-go-lucky kind of guy, like I am. He knows how I play. He knows the things I need to know. He knows the kind of holes I like to use an iron off the tee. Heck, he could probably even play it for me.'

Zoeller, who has won once, lost once in a playoff, had two runner-up finishes and collected more than $270,000 in the best season of his 9-year tour career, did not make a bogey and did not have a five on his card in his early effort over the Stardust Country Club course. One of the tour's longer hitters, he played the par-5 holes five under with three birdies and an

One of the more obscure players in the starry field of 208 pros, Mark Weibe, came on to take second alone at 64.

FIRST DEFENSE OF THE CUP - The U.S. 12-meter yacht Liberty, left (US40), holds a lead over Australian entry Australia II Wednesday during the first race in the finals of the America's Cup. Liberty won the race, the first in a best of seven.

Liberty wins first test against Australia II

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Skipper Dennis Conner was generous in victory.

The opening race of the 1983 America's Cup challenge Wednesday had been one of the yachting series' tightest in years, and Conner's Liberty defeated Australia II by one minute and 10 seconds — a positive start in the best-of-seven competition.

"The breaks went our way and we won, but it could very easily have been something else," the American skipper said of the race that began the United States' 25th defense of yachting's most prized trophy.

It was a see-saw battle that began the long-awaited showdown until Conner got a break when the Australian yacht's steering gear broke on the fifth leg. For John Bertrand, master of Australia II, the race brought a hard lesson. He had nearly caught Liberty on the running leg when his boat lost its steering gear on a move to get an edge at the mark.

"As I was correcting the helm to peel around Liberty's stern, one of the steering pulleys collapsed and we broached," he said. "It was a bit scary after

"The crew did a fantastic job doing a repair with a block and tackle below decks to get her back on the steering in those few minutes," said Aussie syndicate chief Alan Bond, who is making his fourth try for the

The University of Houston and Kentucky announced separately Wednesday they had cancelled the games, events of the past weeks," said Athletic Director John Kasser in a prepared statement.

'This decision was made after thoughtful discussions with members of the university community and after a careful review of relevant policies and responses," the statement said.

Alborn jovial despite Owls' 14-game streak

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice University football coach Ray Alborn will talk about the Owls' deficiencies, how the elements played a trick on him in the team's latest loss or relate his favorite jokes.

But he won't talk about "the streak."

The downtrodden Owls have lost 14 straight games spanning three seasons that ranks as the second longest losing streak in the nation only because Kent State has lost 15 in a row.

The affable Rice coach politely changes the subject when "the streak" is mentioned.

"I don't like to talk about the losing streak because it is so negative," Alborn said. "The world is full of negative people. It's a lot easier to be negative than positive.

The Owls, off to an 0-2 start this season, will be heavy favorites Saturday to extend their losing streak to 15 in a row when they host the Louisiana State Tigers in Rice Stadium

"You've got to guard against looking on the negative side of things," Alborn said. "You've got to keep yourself, the players and staff from getting that 'Oh hell, syndrome.

What you don't do, Alborn says, is try to build false confidence in the team.

"We are honest with our football team," Alborn said. "You can go down the list of their (LSU) players and s and they've got better athletes. But tails in 1980 and we do have a chance to do it again." Gimmicks aren't the answer either, said Alborn, an assistant to former Rice Coach Al Conover, who delighted in symbolic antics to inspire his teams. 'Blocking, tackling, execution and concentration, that's what wins games," Alborn said. "I'm sure not going out and bite a tiger's head off." The Owls lost their opener to Houston 45-14 and were within minutes of breaking their losing string last week before Minnesota rallied to a 21-17 victory. Minnesota's Alan Reid broke four tackles en route to the winning touchdown to break an eight-game losing

Even the weather failed to cooperate with the Owls against the Golden Gophers.

'I figured the heat down here would get to them being from a cooler area, but the good Lord decided to have a thundershower and cool things off," Alborn said.

The game was delayed 30 minutes but it didn't change the final score.

Gunslingers of the United States Football League can resume building an all-weather track at Alamo Stadium now that a judge has dissolved a temporary restraining order.

State District Judge Raul Rivera decided Wednesday not to make the injunction permanent after the city conceded building the track did not violate a stadium deed restriction.

However, the Gunslingers and city officials still have other legal matters pending.

The city had obtained the injunction from Rivera late Monday by pointing out that local USFL officials had not gotten a city demolition permit.

Bulldozers had been used earlier in the day to knock down a small interior wall and collapse some bleachers to make room for the $250,000 track.
