dusty in the West Texas drought. Recent showers

Farmers, ranchers compare fields and pastures to desert

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

The landscape is dry, flat and barren. Short rangeland grass, usually three to four inches high, grows no tailer than 1/2 an inch in intermittent patches. A few clumps of shriveled cacti and knee-high mesquite trees are spaced out on the land. In many places, the dust has no cover.

Visitors are reminded of the desert, instead of what used to be "some of the best pasture in the county," according to Howard County rancher

The land is so barren that a visiting reporter from San Angelo told Barr she hadn't seen a jackrabbit, a bird or a grasshopper in two of the sections she toured, he said.

While showing another reporter around, he stopped his pickup truck in the middle of a clearing, got out and looked around. "What does this remind you of? The Sahara?" he asked.

"It hurts to see pastures in that shape. You try to take care of them and not overstock. Then you drive through (the pastures) and you think, 'Well, I wasted my time," Barr said.

To say the drought has hurt area farmers and ranchers in Howard, Martin, Mitchell and Glasscock Counties is an understatement. Area farmers say cotton production is down by at least 50 percent in neighboring counties and as much as 85 percent in Howard County alone, farmers and agricultural agents say

Howard County normally produces about 110,000 bales of cotton in a good year, while this year's crop will produce less than 10,000 bales, Howard County extension agent Don Richardson said. Neighboring counties are in the same shape. Scurry and Mitchell Counties are a little better off, Martin County a little worse and "nothing is growing in Midland,' farmers and ginners said. "Nothing looks good on the land in Martin County," said Howard County Farm Bureau President

Paul Hopper, who also has land in Martin County. "There's no cotton there except on land that's irrigated. Irrigation is so expensive that in a lot of places the cotton looks good, but there's not any profitability. Area ginners probably will decide within the next two weeks whether they will open their gins this year. If they do open, most will not break even and the number of workers hired and the hours of operation might be cut as much as 50 percent. Planters Gins general manager Ted Smauley said. Gins must pay three months of electricity at a cost of $3,000 to $6,000 a month if they open, according to ginners and farm supply businessmen.

But even though ginners are facing an almost certain loss by opening, many feel they have to, Big Spring Co-op Gin manager Billy Bryant said. The Co-op Gin will need to gin 8,000 bales of cotton to break even, but will gin about 3,000 to 4,000 bales this year, he said.

"It's hard for a gin not to open because each gin has its own particular customers. If the gin doesn't open and the customers go to another have hard feelings, and they may not go back to the gin when it opens again," Bryant said. "But you have to look at costs, too.

Cotton, where it has come in, ranges in quality but generally is poor, Hopper said. Sorghum has not done well this year either, Richardson said.

Nor is there a surplus of hay for sale in the county. The U.S. Department of Agriculture Howard County bureau of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) keeps a list of area ranchers and farmers with extra hay for sale. This year, only one person from Howard County has called the ASCS to say he is selling hay. The next closest sellers are located in Ector and Crane Counties, program assistant Betty Shankles said.

"If they are harvesting any hay, they are using it for themselves," Shankles said. Horse breeders are feeding their stock at a cost of about $40 to $70 a month. Barr's horses, although fed, are thin enough that the ribs show clearly. Ranchers like Paul Allen who were planning to build a new herd by breeding now are having to consider selling their stock. Barr, who raises show steers, has sold 94 calves and said he worries about having to sell more.

"You can't get back to where you were by buying cattle. You can't buy what you want on the market after you've had to sell cattle that took years to breed," Barr said.

He spends $100 a day feeding his herd 18 sacks of high-protein feed at $5.25 a sack. His cattle have See DROUGHT, page 2A

Independence fete draws large crowd

By NICK GREENWALT

Over 2,000 people joined together with the League of United Latin American Citizens Saturday to wish Mexico a happy birthday in celebration of Mexican Independence Day.

According to LULAC president Linda Arsiaga, the festivities included a parade, a washer-toss tournament, a coronation of the fiesta's queen and authentic Mexican food and music

"I'm just glowing because of the way people cooperated," Mrs. Arsiaga said. "The city officials were super — the way the people set up their booths to help us by selling food — I'm very pleased. As you can see I'm just glowing."
Arsiaga said this is the first outdoor fiesta that she can remember since she was thirteen. "Last year we just had a dance and a queen, but I'm hoping that this can become a tradition in Big Spring." The day's festivities also featured the music of a Mariachi band. Elso Garcia, a trumpeter with the band, said with a smile of his own band that "We're not considered good so I don't know if it would be proper to call us a Mariachi band. The true Mariachi is the Beethoven of See FIESTA, page 2A

Fair to feature something for everyone, director says

By BOB CARPENTER Staff Writer

A baby lion, a variety of booths, live bands, craft demonstrations every day, a carnival and an array of show animals promises something for everyone at the Howard County Fair set to begin Monday and continue through Saturday.

Fair president Smitty Smith along with more than 100 volunteers have fashioned a week-long show that has strong emphasis on crafts, agriculture, livestock and children's entertainment.

'We have many new and different exhibits this year that haven't been to the fair before, as well as some of the old favorites," Smith said. "We're trying to design the fair so that something is always going on in several places to please everyone."

One of Smith and Co. proudest achievements is the Texas Safari exhibit which features a petting zoo full of exotic baby animals.

The exhibit, which is sponsored by the Texas Safari

Big Spring man dies in accident

A Big Spring man died Saturday morning in a onecar accident one and 1/2 miles east of Stanton at the intersection of U.S. Highway 80 and Interstate Highway

Paul Raymond Stovall, 30, of Big Spring, was pronounced dead at about 8 a.m. at the scene of the accident by Justice of the Peace Francis E. Kennedy. Stovall died from massive head injuries suffered when he apparently lost control of his 1976 Datsun B210. Stovall was driving east on I.H. 20 when the car ran into a guard rail, flew into the air and traveled about 90 feet before hitting the ground and rolling over two and 1/2 times. Stovall then was ejected from the car, which became wrapped around a 36-inch concrete column

Stovall was a night auditor at La Quinta Motor Inn in Midland and had lived in Big Spring since 1974, when he moved here from Frederick, Okla. He was a member of the Church of Christ and had served in the

He was born July 9, 1953 in Mountain Home, Idaho He graduated from high school in Warner Robbins, Ga., and attended Odessa Junior College. He was a student at Howard County Junior College.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Monday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Charlie Huffman and Royce Clay, ministers at the 14th and Main Church of Christ, will officiate. Burial will be in Mt. Olive Memorial Park.

Survivors include a daugther, Amy Stovall of Warner Robbins, Ga.; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Stovall of Big Spring; three brothers, Terry, Philip and Jeff Stovall, all of Big Spring; two sisters, Cheryl Cockrell of Big Spring and Leslie Stovall of Lubbock; his maternal grandmother, Mary Pritchard of Visalia,

Stovall was the third person to die this month as a result of a traffic accident in Martin County

Restaurant reports damage

An employee of Bonanza Family Restaurant at 700 F.M. 700 told police an unknown person tried to force their way into the restaurant by prying open a metal plate on the door.

Cynthia Oftman of 1205 Johnson reported that the only damage done was to the metal plate on the wooden door, according to police records.

• Steve Bracken of 900 Hearn told police at 8 p.m. Friday that unknown persons entered his doorless garage between 8:30 p.m. Thursday and 5:30 p.m. Friday and took musical instruments and other items

Among items he reported stolen were a $300 electrical guitar, a $250 basement amplifier, a $750 Fender receiver, a $30 extension cord and a $343 pair of painter's stilts.

 Jimmy Joe Earnest of Box 1582 Saturday reported a burglary of a motor vehicle between 9:30 p.m. Friday and 1 a.m. Saturday.

Earnest said an unknown person entered through the right front door of his blue 1978 Datsun parked at Fiberflex and stole his $50 Kraco eight-track stereo and his $65 Kraco four-band equalizer.

 Paula Weaver of Odessa reported a burglary of a motor vehicle at 12:10 a.m. Saturday to police. Weaver said she was visiting friends at the Ponderosa Apartments and found her purse and checkbook, worth a total of $166, missing from her yellow two-door 1980 Pontiac. Police arrested David R. Buendia, 19, of 2508

Hunter and John A. Arnold, 21, of 2609 Fairchild at 4:23 a.m. Saturday at Cactus Jack's in connection with charges of public intoxication. An unknown person pried open the lock of the west rear door at B & B Barbecue at West U.S. Highway 80 and stole a $500 microwave oven and $300 of meat. The person also caused about $500 of damage to a jukebox and $100 of damage to a cigarette machine, according to police reports.

• Myra Drake of 1201 Lindbergh told police that between 2 and 4 a.m. Saturday someone she knew took $350 from a money bag in her house.

Animal sacrifices growing

NEW YORK (AP) - Ritual slaughter of animals is "quite common" among cultists in New York, says an official of the humane society that sought homes Saturday for 52 animals - including goats and chickens - found in an apartment and destined for sacrifice.

"It's happening more frequently all the time," said James T. Hill, deputy director of law enforcement for the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. "Florida, New York, California it's happening all over."

Although he had no figures, Hill said animal sacrifices are "quite common" in the city among practioners of Santeria, which he described as a religious cult found mainly in Hispanic

"It's a pretty good guess" that ceremonies involving animal sacrifices take place weekly, Hill said.

the U.S. secretary of state. Tass did not say when Gromyko had planned to go to New York, but if he had followed past practice he would have flown in Sept. 25 — the Sunday following the opening of the General Assembly session. A spokesman for the Soviet mission in New York said other members of the delegation would attend.

Another part of a typical Mexican celebration is the crowning of the fiesta queen, and this year the title went to Cindy Sosa.

Sosa earned the honor by raising more money for LULAC than any of the other entrants. This money will be used for scholarship money according to Arsiaga, who said that a fall ball may also be held to beef up the fund.

"I just thought it would be nice to help out the organization," Sosa, who raised money by getting donations from her relatives and friends, said. Other members of the court were Lisa Ramirez and Michelle DeAnda, who were crowned princess and dutchess respectively.

was found innocent of all charges after both trials. "It's not right, but it's a fact of political life," said Carr, who served 10 years in the Texas House including four as speaker, before becoming attorney general. He is now a private attorney in Austin.

Carr spent three years and more than $1.5 million fighting the charges against him, which were an outgrowth of the Sharpstown Bank scandal that shook state government 10 years ago.

For Connally, a popular three-term Texas governor who also served as treasury secretary under President Nixon, the indictment and trial fueled his critics' characterization of him as a big-time wheeler-dealer too closely linked to corporate interests.

The federal charge, which stemmed from the Watergate investigation, accused him of accepting $10,000 from dairy lobbyists in exchange for persuading Nixon to raise milk price supports.

WHEELING, W.Va. - The coal miner's daughter who turned country singer has revisited a crucial point on her trek from Butcher Hollow, Ky., to stardom - a radio station that took a chance on an unknown more than 20 years ago.

Loretta Lynn and her husband, O.V. Doolittle "Mooney" Lynn, whom she married when she was 13, had set out by car in 1961 to promote her homeproduced record "Honky Tonk Girl."

Along the way, they stopped at Wheeling's country music station WWVA and got the record on the Concert draws thousands

JACKSON, Miss. — Country singer George Jones drew more than 6,000 fans to a concert born of his troubles with the law.

Friday night's concert originally was planned as part of a proposed plea bargain after he was arrested on cocaine possession charges in Jackson. It went on even though the charges were dropped.

Jones' car was stopped by a state Highway Patrol officer who charged the driver with speeding. A search of the car allegedly turned up traces of cocaine.

However, a judge dismissed the charge when statements Jones made after the arrest were ruled

The crowd cheered every song in the concert that ran an hour and a quarter. He had drawn criticism in some previous appearances for cutting his performances short, or not showing up at all. His staff said he had donated $18,000 of the proceeds to charities in the Jackson area.

"We don't want to go into the past," he said at the concert. "I love this state, that comes from the

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

(Complicated — Don't Get Trapped) Good tax planning usually involves sheltering some of your income via long-term capital gains, accelerated depreciation, investing in all-savers certificates, etc. Such items are given favorable tax treatment and are therefore called "tax preference

Taxpayers with large amounts of "tax preference items" may find themselves subject to the expanded alternative minimum tax (AMT) and find that the favorable tax treatment they so aggressively sought is diminished considerably Generally, here's how the new AMT is calculated. You begin with adjusted gross income and add to it the so-called tax preference items: your capital gain deduction (the 60% you exclude from regular tax), interest from all-savers certificates, the $100/$200 dividend exclusion, the bargain element of incentive stock options, certain accelerated depreciation, percentage depletion, intangible drilling costs, and

From this total, you subtract an exemption, $30,000 if you're single, $40,000 if you're married filing a joint return, plus your charitable contributions, your home mortgage interest, casualty losses, medical expenses exceeding 10% of adjusted income, other interest to the extent of total net investment income and a few other miscellaneous

The balance is your "alternative minimum taxable income" subject to a 20% tax rate. If the tax so calculated is larger than your regular income tax, you are required to pay the higher amount. Very few credits can be used to offset the AMT, so don't count on sizeable investment credits, targeted jobs credit or other such credits to eliminate this tax.

The AMT is one of the most complicated provisions in the tax law. If you think you may be faced with it, you should definitely review your situation with your accountant.

50 judges and seven years later...

Chief Justice Warren Burger rarely misses an opportunity to complain about the endless cycle of appeals which the courts are allowing to delay final judgment in criminal cases. To his catalog of flagrant examples he can now add the case of Jimmy Lee Gray, who was recently executed in the Mississippi gas chamber for a murder committed in 1976.

Gray was convicted of sexually abusing a 3-year-old girl and then drowning her in a mud puddle and throwing her body off a bridge. At the time, he was on parole from a sentence in Arizona for murdering a 16-year-old girl.

Defense lawyers kept Gray's case shuffling through the state and federal court system for seven years. It was reviewed by more than 50 judges and went before the U.S. Supreme Court four times. The appeals were based on issues of law and procedure. At no time was there any dispute over whether Gray had done what he was accused of doing.

Now, what do we make of a judicial system that involves 50 different judges in the process of convicting and punishing a criminal and takes seven years to do it? Toward the end, even Gray's mother was urging state officials to let the death sentence be carried out.

The Bill of Rights calls for speedy trials in criminal cases, and forbids cruel and unusual punishment. There is reason to question whether our indecisive criminal justice system is capable of meeting its constitutional responsibilities.

Around the Rim

Who am 1?

My boss, Linda Adams, asked me to write this particular column. No, she forced me to

Linda got it into her head that some readers might be so desperately bored they would be interested in learning something about me. She's also tired of explaining to curious callers just who

I am the city editor of the Big Spring Herald, in which capacity I make assignments to reporters. also am charged with ensuring all newsroom elements coalesce into a recognizable entity from the crucible of deadline pressure.

I started in journalism 11 years ago as a copy boy for The Dallas Morning News. Last December 1 transferred here from The Commerce Journal, another of Harte-Hanks' Texas newspapers

I was born in Dallas and attended public schools there. I took two in langua from East Texas State University.

I BELIEVE I have developed dialectically, the synthesis of two extremes represented by father and his father

A former Navy pilot and minor league baseball player, my father is capitalism's most grandiloquent advocate. An independent contractor, he believes in limited government, the abolition of the IRS, and self-reliance.

He is a tough, rowdy character who doesn't hesitate to speak his mind, taking much delight in offending pretentious and privileged people with his colorful vocabulary. He is somewhat of a self-taught genius who hates religion, Germans and bureaucracy.

The Briscoe patriarch, an immigrant from Lithuania, was a devoted socialist and Hebrew scholar, alternating studies of Karl Marx and U.S. labor laws with investigations into the Torah and Talmud. He organized unions, sandlot baseball teams and charity drives for those pitiful few who were poorer than he was.

He taught me Yiddish, physics and why man shouldn't swat the

"Every act is a moral act," he once told me. "You have only one life, so don't squander it.'

As disparate as these two men appear, they shared a common Jewish ethic, bequeathing to me a high standard of conduct.

According to their values, man must improve himself and the world around him. Man is morally perfectible, and he should consciously strive to do good works. Poverty, racism, ignorance, inequality and oppresiveness are evils to be combatted. Lending a helping hand is my father's answer Socialism was my grandfather's

All this they both taught me, and much more ()ne of the most valuable lessons I received from them is that I am very fortunate to have been born in the United States. My grandfather called this the goldene medina, Yiddish for the golden land. To paraphrase my father's less poetical salute, "Here I don't have to kiss the Czar's behind to stay alive."

I've had a love affair going with America ever since I read the Declaration of Independence and discovered the phrase "all men are created equal.

That was bold talking, I thought. A little reckless, maybe. But a grand declaration.

My teachers told me that statement means that no matter what you are - black or white, Jew or gentile, socialist or capitalist you're entitled to the full protection and benefits of this country. I also was taught that if we ever discover this not to be the case, we are charged by our duty as citizens to see the injustices are rectified.

So the Briscoe philosophy of life corresponded rather neatly to the political ambitions of the United States. America is morally perfectible. This country is in a process of becoming, of improving itself, of doing good works to eradicate the The Declaration of dependence is a tall order, but it's obtainable. And it is our responsibility as Americans to see that goal is reached.

I HAVE written much, but not much about myself. To satisfy my boss, here are the details.

I am 29 and married. My wife and I have no children, but we keep a rat, Hillary, and a parrot, ZuZu, as pets. I am Jewish, very religious, but not very observant. I keep a kosher diet, which infuriates my wife who fancies hot dogs and cheeseburgers. In my spare time I read history books and listen to music by the great German composers.

I hate excessive wealth, hunting, racism and people who believe America is reserved only for Christian whites. I am a Democrat, and I vote a straight ticket.

Some persons. I hear, have gotten upset over my weekly contributions to the opinion page. There's no reason for the fuss. The opinion page is just that — opinion. As Americans we have the right to speak or write what we believe.

I understand the power of words and the responsibility of publishing. Freedom of speech does not give us the right to shout "fire!" in a crowded theater. I never intentionally write to incite, inflame or propagandize.

I sincerely believe in the themes I assay. That's not to say I don't use literary devices to dramatize or embellish a point. But the message is clear and from the heart.

If you disagree with what I believe, that's great, because debate keeps our democracy healthy. If you disagree that a person has a right to publish what you consider unpopular or controversial beliefs, you're un-American.

My editorial writing is a selfish enterprise. I love being American no one relishes in his Americanness more than I. So when I see events, institutions or persons that blacken the American spirit, defame its character or inhibit its growth, I pursue with pen.

I have only one life, and I'm not going to squander it by remaining

Who am I? I'm an American. No more, no less.

Essay on a pecan tree

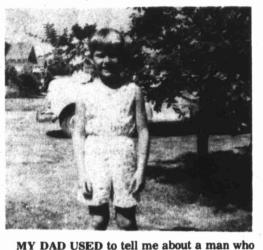

I drove by the house I grew up in at Sweetwater the other day. I was surprised to see three huge pecan trees towering over the house. Their trunks were huge and strong and straight. The branches were sturdy, the foliage I have a picture of myself when I was five years old. My front teeth are missing, my hair is in dog-ears and bangs, and I'm wearing a jumpsuit made out of a speckled-cloth flour bag. In the picture, I'm a skinny little kid with knock knees, and I'm standing next to a puny little pecan tree, not much taller than me

And now that puny little pecan tree is a magnificently huge tree twice as tall as the house — and looks as if it's been there for ages. Does this mean I'm getting old?

I wouldn't mind growing old if I could grow as strong and beautiful as that tree.

Sure enough, it worked. The trees grew. But my dad laughed and said the magic 'medicine" was nothing more than water with a drop of food coloring in it. It was the 50 gallons of water that made the tree grow. How dumb could people get?

FOR A.WHILE our trees and I grew up together. As their branches developed, I learned to climb, to hang from my knees, to develop the most accessible "routes" to the top, to sit quietly and survey the world below me.

Fall was "'con-pickin" time, a ritual of picking, shelling, baking, giving. I still feel the need to go out and pick 'cons every year.

Yes, columns are written by fools like me ... not nearly as lovely as a pecan tree.

Billy Graham

Words, actions both important

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Which do you think is more important in sharinig our faith with other people, our actions or our words? - W.E.

DEAR W.E.: Someone has said that this is almost like asking which wing of an airplane is more important — the left or the right? Of course both are essential if the airplane is to fly, and in the same way both our actions and our words are important if we are to share our faith with others who do not believe

The reason for this is that our outward lives give witness to the reality of our inner faith. The Bible says, What good is it, my brothers, if a man claims to have faith but has no deeds? ... faith by itself, if it is not accompanied by action, is dead (James 2:14, 17). Paul prayed that 'you may live a life worthy of the Lord and please him in every way: bearing fruit in every good work" (Colossians 1:10). Jesus declared, "If anyone loves me, he will obey my teaching" (John 14:23). In other words, if our outward lives do not give evidence of our inner commitment to Christ, people will not really believe that Christ has the power to change lives.

That is not to say that our words are unimportant — far from it. I am afraid far too many Christians say, 'Well, I'll just let my life be a witness but I won't say anything about my faith in Christ because I might embarrass someone." But coming to Christ involves a response to a definite message the message that God loves us and sent his Son into the world to die for our sins on the cross. If people do not understand that message, they cannot commit themselves to Christ. That does not mean we are all called to be preachers, of course. Often the most effective witness is the quiet word of encouragement about Christ we speak to someone who is facing a problem. or a word of testimony about what Christ means to us spoken to a friend across a cup of coffee. It is important to base what you say on the Bible — God has promised to bless his Word

Pray that God will help you be a better witness for him. Pray that he will give you a love for others, and a burden to see them come to know Christ also. Sharing our faith with privileges of the Christian life.

Dear Abby column was misleading

Dear Editor, A number of folks have contacted me with reference to a "Dear Abby" column which recently ran in newspaper columns throughout the 17th District and across the nation. The subject of that particular column was the social security 'notch." Unfortunately, some of the information contained in that particular column was incorrect and misleading, and I think it is necessary to discuss this issue in some detail. Let me begin by providing some background information concerning the social security 'notch.'

The 1972 Social Security Amendments indexed social security benefits to the cost-of-living or, in other words, provided social security beneficiaries with a cost-of-living adjustment (COLA) every year. Every time retirees received a raise, the amounts in the benefit table also increased: these amounts would be used to compute benefits for new and future retirees. At the same time that the benefit tables were increasing, many workers in the labor force were receiving wage increases. The result was that new retirees were compensated twice for increases in the cost-of-living during their working careers (through higher benefit tables, and higher wages upon which their benefits would be based). If this system had been left in place, many people would have received retirement benefits higher than their salaries had been while they were working.

In 1977, two years before I came to Congress, the Congress established a new benefit computation formula which affects all those born after 1916. The new formula went into effect in 1977, and lowered overall benefit levels by about 5 to 7 percent. Everyone who turns 62 after 1978 is going to get lower benefits than they would have received under the previous formula. Contrary to current rumor, however, there will not be a $100 difference in benefits between those born in 1916 and 1917 except in a limited number of cases at the maximum benefit

The term "notch" refers generally to the difference between the age-65 benefits for those who turned 62 before 1979, and those who turned 62 during and after 1978. This difference is caused by the reduction in overall benefit levels brought about by the 1977 amendments. In order to ease the transition into the new benefit computation, the Congress made provision for a fiveyear phase-in of this new formula. Thus, people who turned 62 in the period 1979-1983 came under the transition provision which allowed them to get the higher of two benefits: either a benefit using the old law benefit table (frozen at 1978 levels, and thus not increased for inflation) but using only earnings before age 62; or a benefit using the new formula and using all earnings both before and after age 62.

As a result of this provision, individuals born during the years 1917-1921 receive benefits which are somewhat greater than they would have been under the new formula. The "Dear Abby" column implied that the folks born during the years 1917-1921 would receive less in social security benefits, and everyone born before and after those years would not be affected; this is simply not true. The 1977 Social Security Amendments affected everyone born after 1916.

If this issue had not been addressed by the 1977 Congress, benefits to retirees would have far exceed the ability of the social security trust funds to pay them. The alternatives were steeper tax increases or a bankrupt system. By the time Congress had corrected this problem, benefit levels had already climbed higher than any time in the history of the program; these are the high benefits enjoyed by many people born in or just before 1916. A line had to be drawn somewhere, and any delay would have made the problem worse. Already, it would cost $9 billion in the first year, $20 billion the second year, and more thereafter to go back to the old

Earlier this year, the Congress made certain reforms of the Social Security Program and addressed the financial crisis facing the trust funds. The Congress determined that increased payroll taxes were necessary to meet the needs of today's social security recipients and the needs of future generations. Given the fact that the use of the old benefit computation formula would be prohibitively expensive, it is highly unlikely that the Congress will make any further changes in this particular provision of the law. Our nation's elderly have worked hard to make this nation what it is today, and I do not believe that they want to leave a legacy of excessive taxation and debt to their grandhildren and great-grandchildren; a return to the old benefit ocmputation formula would do just that.

What's that, sir? You're from out of state and never heard of Mike Martin? Well, that's no excuse. All the networks and wire services carried the story two years ago when he was shot in the arm with shotgun pellets and blamed a Satan-worshiping

It turned out he had a cousin shoot him in an effort to win sympathy for a Texas Senate race. He went back to East Texas after pleading guilty to misdemeanor perjury charges.

Those of you from San Antonio probably will notice Representative Joe Gamez's desk over there. He's still on probation after missing five courtrelated appearances regarding a drunk driving charge.

You North Texas folks undoubtedly will want to see where former legislator David London of Fannin County used to sit. Three weeks ago you could have visited him in the local county jail, but now he has been transferred to prison on cattle rustling

Up on that platform is where Speaker Gib Lewis presides over the House and... Yes, ma'am. You remember correctly. He had a little problem over an incomplete personal financial statement and pleaded no-contest to a misdemeanor charge this

But that's pretty tame when compared with the federal felony indictment of his predecessor, Billy Clayton, in the Brilab investigation a few years ago. Of course, a jury found Clayton innocent. Another former speaker and a fellow House member weren't so lucky in the famous Sharpstown scandal

Now, here we are in the Senate chamber. This is a pretty dull place, usually. The last excitement came in 1979 when the "Killer Bee" senators hid out to deny the Senate a quorum and kill a presidential primary bill. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby sent the state troopers out to find them and it was front-page news

Otherwise, the police haven't gone after a senator since one was charged with receiving stolen diamonds 10 years ago, and a jury found him

What? Yes, sir. The lieutenant governor did have the misfortune, during his younger and friskier days, of having a legal rule named after him. It's called the "Hobby rule," regarding release after a drunk driving arrest. But that was years ago and nobody has accused him of anything stronger than dullness since then.

Now, we'll go up to the third floor to see the Old Supreme Court Room. No, that isn't where Don Yarbrough served briefly as a Supreme Court justice before resigning under the threat of impeachment. He served in the new courtroom in another building. Now he's serving in a prison for lying to a grand jury.

Here we're in the basement, and there's the old vault where the State Treasury Department used to keep its money. The department now has offices in another building, so you won't be able to see where Warren G. Harding was state treasurer until he was indicted on official misconduct charges and dropped his re-election efforts last year.

He served a one-year probation after pleading guilty to a misdemeanor charge of using state employees for political purposes.

Usually someone on one of these tours will ask me about the attorney general's office, so let me go ahead and point out that it's on the seventh floor of that building to your left as you leave the rear of the

You might even run into Attorney General Jim Mattox, although he may be over at the county courthouse dealing with the recent indictment charging him with commercial bribery. He'll be real glad to see you if you say you're part of "the people" and don't let him know you have a Mobil credit card...

Well, that ends our tour of the Capitol. I hope you found it interesting and that you will leave here with a clearer understanding of our state government, its history and traditions. Thank you.

Stress of remarriage studied

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Second and subsequent marriages go on the rocks more often and in less time that first marriages, according to a University of Kentucky researcher.

But Kay Pasley, who says "remarriage research is in its infant stage," has found that her work has raised as many questions as it has answered. So she and other researchers will meet later this year to try to find some answers.

Legions of researchers were exploring the breakup of marriages long before the 1980 census revealed that the American divorce rate was nearly 50 percent.

Ms. Pasley, an assistant professor of family studies who also did research at Washington State University and California State University at Sacramento, is among the few studying the causes of stress unique to Infidelity, for example, is a leading cause of divorce in first marriages, but apparently is seldom a factor in subsequent divorces, she said.

She said one problem in her research is that census reports no longer document remarriages. And there seem to be many distinct types of remarried family instead of a "normal" model.

"The remarriage rate has been high since 1940-something," Ms. Pasley said recently. "You can't spot a remarriage (in census figures). Ms. Pasley and Marilyn Ihinger-Tallman, a

Washington State sociologist, last year took what they termed a "first step" toward explaining the 60 percent divorce rate of remarried couples.

Their paper, published by Brigham Young University, identified three main causes of stress in remarried

 The clashing of different family cultures while trying to establish a new family identity. Differing perceptions of how the family's time, energy, material goods and affection should be shared. Feelings of loyalty to previous family members. One finding of the study was that stress increases as the family structure - children, in-laws, former in-laws and ex-spouses — becomes more complex. examined 360 remarried couple Northwest, but Ms. Pasley said she and Ms. Ihinger-Tallman "have taken a lot of criticism" because there was no control group with which to compare the surveyed couples "One thing I'm real convinced about is that the least satisfied (couples) are those whose situation is more complex," she said.

Ms. Pasley said her sample group also was criticized because it contained few minority couples, reflecting the population of the Northwest but not the nation.

Yet, no one has been able to decide what would constitute a truly representative group, she said. That is one of the problems to be discussed in November when Ms. Pasley and eight other divorce researchers gather for a conference she has arranged at the University of Pennsylvania

Junior Library Club resumes

The Junior Library Club will resume its meetings this fall and hopes to expand its membership. Once again its members provided a lot of support during the Summer Reading Program and we would like to encourage more participation by our young patrons.

The club will be open to students from sixth through 12th grades. Meetings will be held at the library once a month, usually the first Saturday of the month. The first meeting will be Saturday, Sept. 24, from 10 a.m. to

The purpose of the club will be to familiarize its members with the resources and procedures of the library and meetings will include topics to acquaint members with various aspects of the library

Members will be expected to spend approximately two to four hours a month at the library performing various duties. These duties will include learning how to use the card catalog and Readers' Guide, helping organize books for the book sale and keeping books in order on the shelves.

Library use does not end with high school graduation and those who are familiar with what a library can offer will benefit all their lives.

Students interested in joining the Junior Library Club are encouraged to join us for the first meeting at 10 a.m. Sept. 24.

Joy to the world

Creative clutter

I always clean off my desk when it rains nine days in a row. This is to explain why it hasn't been cleaned off lately. Just because it is piled high is no reason to believe that I don't know what is on it. I use "the pilot system" to sort things out on my desk — pile it here or pile it there!

This front pile is bills I intend to pay. The second pile is unopened mail. I get so much mail where I could possibly win a million dollars or may have already! I'll open those my very first day off. This pile is fan letters from wonderful, smart and sophisticated people who like my radio show or this column - both by the same name. I can't put those away. They have to stay out so I can see them. Somebody great once said "You can either be creative or neat never both!" Put me down as creative because I'm sure not neat. I tried to be one time. I cleaned my desk off to the bare wood and for weeks I was helpless because it was so neat and I couldn't work. It takes a certain amount of clutter to turn on the creativity in me.

In this plastic bag I stuff all my S&H Green Stamps I intend someday to put in books and I will, too, my first day off — the day I open all those sweepstakes letters. And if I have time, that same day, I will throw away this 1981 calendar. Right now I need to keep it because a couple of phone numbers are written on it that I may need someday.

In the middle of the desk is my telephone. I can find it most of the time. My very patient husband sometimes questions me about where the phone book is. Now that's when I say "Just look around and you'll see it. It's wherever I used it last."

He seems to think that the book should be put back in the same place everytime. How narrow minded. This is the same fellow who still has a muffler off a '50 Mercury. He says he may need it sometime! I think we deserve each other.

Someday when it rains in consective days I'll clean my desk off and look at the fun I'll have - finding things I thought were lost. In the meantime, I'll just hang this sign over it, "Lord, please bless this walls of arteries in 11 of 30 patients with atherosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, the Baylor College of Medicine researchers report in today's issue of The Lancet, a British medical journal.

Dr. Michael DeBakey, Dr. Joseph Melnick and four other researchers said their discovery may encourage greater efforts to develop a vaccine against CMV and provide researchers with a lead to the cause of blood vessel disease.

This study provides at least preliminary evidence that infection by cytomegalovirus may be a primary cause" of atherosclerosis, said DeBakey, a pioneering vascular surgeon who is chancellor at Baylor.

Arson attacks Jewish home on high holy day

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — An arsonist acting on the holiest day of the Jewish calendar torched the home of a state legislator Saturday, the fourth attack on the local Jewish community in the past two months, police said. The home of state Rep. Joan Kemler and her husband, Dr. Leonard Kemler, a surgeon, was set ablaze before 6 a.m. The Jewish couple and their two adult children escaped safely and firefighters contained damage to one outer wall of the two-story house.

Mrs. Kemler had spoken out against the arson attacks on two synagogues and a rabbi's home since Aug. 11. The Kemlers are active in West Hartford's conservative Emanuel Synagogue, one of the buildings set afire last month.

"It definitely was a case of arson," West Hartford Police Chief Francis Reynolds said as he stood on the Kemlers' front lawn. "We found a bottle containing accelerants.' Reynolds said the fire fit the pattern of those at the previous arson fires. The four buildings are in an affluent section of West Hartford.

Soon after the fire was out, the Kemlers went to Emanuel Synagogue to observe Yom Kippur, the Jewish day of atonement

"It's a pattern," Mrs. Kemler said as she walked past reporters. "It fits into some troubled person's pattern. Obviously, there is someone very close in the area who has targeted a few places and a few people in the area.

Reynolds said that, because of the holiday, his department "had stepped up patrols of the neighborhoods, giving special attention to the synagogues.

Mrs. Kemler said she awoke smelling smoke and went downstairs to discover flames burning the living room walls. "I realized we had a problem and got the rest of the family up and out," she

Mayor Charles Matties was among those huddled outside the Kemler home as fire inspectors began looking for

"An incident like this gets everyone wary," Matties said. "We're trying to find the common thread. We're trying to get into that person's mind, really.

Reynolds said footprints had been discovered outside the home, but he didn't know if they had been made by the person responsible for the fire. He said there were no other leads.

On Aug. 11, fire destroyed the chapel area of the orthodox Young Israel of West Hartford Synagogue

Carriers of the Month

Some say an Episcopal funeral is cold. It's short, simple, and taken straight from the Prayer Book. Never maudlin. The casket remains unopened. It's covered with a pall, so you don't know if it cost a hundred dollars or a thousand. And there is no eulogy for the dead. Episcopalians, though say the funeral service affords one of the strong reasons for their faith in the Church, because it's conducted as much for the living as for the dead In such a context, eulogies seem hardly apropos. After all, we're all children of God and equal in His sight. How important, really, is the fact that the departed was highly regarded by his fellow man? It seems pretty insignificant compared to God's loving promise of eternal salvation.

Like its funeral service. the Episcopal Church is conducted for living people Afterwards, it's between you and God. Your nearest Episcopal minister would be de lighted to talk with you about this "living theology.

A. A procer is trained to help you find a property that matches both your pocketbook and your desires. For this reason, you would be wise to "level" with your broker, furnishing him or her with ample information to help him determine how much you can afford to spend. To help you eliminate unproductive "viewing" trips, your broker may show you photographs and descriptions of properties listed by his firm. This will also help him determine the uses you foresee for the house or building you want, so that he can help you locate the area that offers the special features you desire.

Medeiros, who opposed the nuclear arms race and backed integration as cardinal of the nation's thirdlargest archdiocese, was a "humble giant of a said Gov. eacemaker, Michael S. Dukakis.

Pope John Paul II, informed of Medeiros' death, prayed at the chapel of his summer palace Castel Gandolfo, a Vatican source said. The source said a message of condolence probably will be sent Sunday.

'The church in the Archdiocese of Boston has suffered a grievous loss with the death of this zealous priest and bishop," said Bishop Thomas V. Daily, vicar general of the archdiocese. "In life and now in death, he was the Lord's trusting servant."

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. law. (AP) - An orphan who found $1 million in jewels along a railroad track has been threatened, his lawyer says, and police say they are worried about the teen-ager's safety.

On Saturday, the day the gems formally became his property, Eric DeWild, 16, and the aunt he lives with were in hiding.

"The police are back and forth here constantly," said neighbor Gene Russo, who lives next door to the aunt, Modena Trost. "They get strange phone calls ... This has been hard for them

"We're honestly concerned about the kid's safety," said Hollywood Police spokesman Tony Alderson. The youth's lawyer,

Charles Morgan, said his client has been threatened. He would not elaborate. Police and neighbors talked of unusual incidents. A strange man was spotted in DeWild's driveway after he found the sparkling booty. A hit-and-run driver knocked him off his moped. 'We don't know if it was intentional," said Police Detective Fred Lakosky. Since Wednesday, when it became clear DeWild would become rich. reporters and camera crews have staked out Ms. Trost's frame house, but she and DeWild have elud-

"Everybody and his brother is calling here, even the BBC (British Broadcasting Corp.)," said Alderson. "It's a circus."

DeWild, a high school freshman, found the gems in a yellow bag March 16 while playing hooky. No one else could prove a claim to the treasure trove within 180 days, and it became his property by

LOS ANGELES (AP) -John De Lorean, his cocaine trafficking trial a little more than two weeks away, says he has information about his arrest that will leave the public "outraged.

The former automaker also has two young lawyers who have dramatically changed his defense.

There is no longer any talk of pleading entrapment at the trial, scheduled to begin Oct. 4. Instead, the and writing copiously in lawyers say they will be "trying the government" for its investigation of De Lorean.

Tall, silver-haired and wearing impeccably tailored clothes, De Lorean spends so much time at his lawyers' office that he comes and goes almost unnoticed these days.

In the year since his arrest at a Los Angeles International Airport hotel, De Lorean went through a number of lawyers before settling on Weitzman and Re. De Lorean's wife, Cristina, first went looking for criminal lawyers while her husband was in prison awaiting release on bail.

"I was too stunned and naive to know who was who," said De Lorean.

Then, while De Lorean was at Terminal Island federal prison, another inmate mentioned Weitzman's name.

'He told me that of all the people he'd gone through, Howard was the most competent," De Lorean recalled.

Later, while working with another law firm, De Lorean found that Weitzman and Re had been called in to consult.

"They just magically appeared on the scene,' said, and he decided before long to cast his lot with them permanently.

"I now know that in criminal law you're not just an attorney. You have to be a Sherlock Holmes operating in a legal format," said De Lorean, praising his lawyers' ability to search out the facts. He has tried to help by

Serious on the Series

Way, way back in April — April 3 to be exact - I consulted my favorite crystal ball and made my annual predictions for the upcoming major league baseball season. Not always an easy chore, I projected four divisional winners and a suggested several premium challengers.

Now, with just over two weeks left in the regular season, my wisdom in solving the baseball races before their time is definite-

In the American League East, I picked Milwaukee to repeat with Baltimore pushing hard to unseat the Brewers in the playoffs.

That prediction came before it was finalized that reliever Rollie Fingers was out for the year and starter Pete Vuckovich would be absent from the starting rotation for the Brews. Excuses, excuses, I know. But take two guys like that off your roster and you have trouble.

In the West, I picked Kansas City. What a mistake. Fortunately, I named Chicago as the darkhorse candidate to win the division. Well, the darkhorses have galloped off into the sunset since the All-Star break.

Overall, not too bad. I didn't name the right winner but at least I knew who would be the best competition.

Now for the National League.

I gave the nod in the East to the Cardinals to repeat. How was I to know that Joaquin Andujar would be as useless as an eighttrack tape? How was I to know Lonnie Smith would miss several weeks for drug rehabilitation? How was I to know Bruce Sutter would be as effective out of the bullpen as Rodney Daingerfield? How was I to know an injury would knock Tommy Herr from the lineup? How was I to know Keith Hernandez would be traded to the Mets?

And with all that, the Cards are still in the hunt but won't make back to the Series.

I picked Pittsburgh and Philadelphia third and fourth respectively. The division has played so poorly, it would be a shame if these guys won.

In the West, I picked the Dodgers. Yea, I got one right. I knew in my bonës the Braves would fold up and choke. Not even Noc-a-homa can save them now.

The big surprise was the inspired play of the Astros and the huge disappointment from the Padres. All that fuss about Steve Garvey and he goes and dislocates a thumb. Tch, tch.

And so with two weeks to go, who will win?

Baltimore in the AL East, Chicago in the West. Wanna argue? I didn't think so.

For the Series? Let's go with the Sox. Baltimore had a great August and has rumbled onward in September but can't match up to Chicago's talented pitching staff and heavy hitters.

In the National East, I hope it's Montreal. It's pointless for Philly to win because they haven't been able to beat LA all season. Pittsburgh is too young to get to the Series.

Anyone who wins the East can't stand up to the Dodgers who suddenly have their pitching back in order. Even with bumbleglove Steve Sax in the infield, the Dodgers will be in the Series.

Now for the whole ball of wax...the Series. LA's got Pena, Valenzuela, Ruess, Honeycutt, Welch. Chicago's got Dotson, Bannister, Burns, Hoyt. Nod goes to the Dodgers on pitching.

Hitting-wise, the Sox counter with a power lineup that features soon-to-benamed Rookie of the Year Ron Kittle, Greg Luzinski and Carlton Fisk. LA has Pedro Guerrero, Dusty Baker and Kenny Landreaux. Power vs. timely-hitting. The Cardinals proved solid hitting can outdo homers last year. Nod to Dodgers again.

Defense. Are you kidding? Any team with Sax in the lineup is in trouble. Give it to the Conclusion. The Dodgers will win the '83 Series. We'll have to put up with all the LA fans who will emerge from the woodworks around here. It'll be disgusting.

So there you have it. Predictions II, revised and updated. But don't make your bets yet. If you think I'm positive these will be the final results, you're in bad shape. Just look how I did the first time out.

LONGHORN STAMPEDE IN 'BAMA — Texas quarterback Rob Moerschell (8) dives inside for a first down Saturday against Auburn. Defending on the play is John

Steers' progress in non-league tilts encourages coaching staff

By GREG JAKLEWICZ Sports Editor

Big Spring High won two of three non-district football games and Steer coaches like where the team stands prior to Friday's District 4-5A opener with Abilene High.

BSHS toppled Levelland 23-0 Friday night, piling up over 300 yards in total offense and getting the squad's first shutout of the 1983 season. Both points of fact pleased coaches Lynn Reed and Roland Atkins.

"That was one of our goals," Reed, the team's defensive ends coach. "That was our No. 1 goal, to shut them out. We showed a lot on that goal line stand. It was big improvement all the way around.'

'The defense really showed improvement this week," said Atkins. "We put in special blitzes and our technique caught them by surprise. I thought coach (Mike) Sharp did a great job in his placement of players and on play selection.

The Lobos mounted only two major drives against the Steers. The most threatening came during the third quarter with Big Spring leading 9-0. The Lobos drove from their 43 to the Steer five after recovering a fumble: a touchdown could have the game Instead, the Steers held on four plays from inside the five as senior strong safety Robert Porras made two big plays. "He was put in the position to make those plays," Atkins said, referring to Sharp's defensive ploys from the sidelines. Porras was stunting from the left side of the line of scrimmage and made a third down tackle of Lobo back Walter Washington on a sweep. On the next play, he was in the right corner of the ...standout game Friday end zone to bat down a pass to preserve the successful defensive stand. "The kids can play good defensive football," Atkins said, "when the ready to play defense. We need to be more consistent and make fewer mistakes but we're improving."

Reed was pleased with the play of his linebackers, especially with starter Mike McKinley having chest pains and Pete Crabtree nursing an injured finger. Center Jimmy Cearley and newcomer Jerry Anderson called up from the junior varsity — filled in well for the starters.

"They played real well considering they had just a week of training," Reed said. Getting players like Anderson into the game to gain experience was also a plus factor Friday. "We have people who can step in there and do the job for us," Reed agreed. "They all know now they can play.

Both coaches saw improved pass coverage. The Lobos had thrown the ball only five times in two previous games but put up 15 passes against the Steers. They threw the ball more than we thought would but we knew they had to throw it to beat us,' Atkins said.

Cornerbacks Jay Gonzales and Billy Wegner made interceptions, Wegner returning his theft 75 yards for an apparent touchdowns that was brought back to midfield because of a penalty. Offensively, Atkins emphasize the Steers still have work ahead of them. "We are not consistent yet," he said firmly. "We make a good play, then we make a bad play. We need to be more consistent. work, suggested Atkins, v down. Depending upon the yardage gained, first downs determine what follows on the next two downs. "It's the most important thing in football," he said.

The Steers had both good and bad luck on offense. A potential scoring pass to Porras was dropped while Tommy Gartman's strike to end Dale Crenshaw carried a couple of feet beyond the back of the end zone in the first quarter.

On the good side was Eric Sherman's touchdown run on a fumbled pitch-out at the Lobo one yard line in the second quarter. When Gartman's pitch-out to the right went behind Sherman, the senior tailback picked up the fumbled ball and outran the Lobo defense to the left to score the game's first touchdown.

Reed says the team, overall, is where the coaches would like it to be at this point in the season. "We are very young but each week we've gotten better." he "We've got to ready to take that into district. We've had three games to get everything straightened out. It's been a matter of getting experience. It's not that we're not talented. We just needed the

Texas runs by Auburn

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) - Third-ranked Texas came prepared for a war that never developed as the Longhorns manhandled No. 5 Auburn 20-7 Saturday in a regionally televised college football game that was never in doubt after the first half.

"We absolutely knew we were going to win this game, just knew it," Texas tailback John Walker said after the Steers rolled to a 20-0 halftime lead and seemed content to play out the string the final 30 minutes. Two big plays and one long scoring drive set the

Rick McIvor connected with Kelvin Epps on a scoring pass that covered 80 yards and Jitter Fields set up a field goal with a 66-yard punt return. "Auburn is a good football team," Coach Fred Akers of Texas said. "We just played very well today.

'The Wishbone (Auburn's offense) is a tough offense to stop, and we were fortunate," Akers added. "But it doesn't matter what offense you are in, or what defense, people play the game of football.'

It was a case of too many Texas people for the Tigers.

"I would have bet my life we were going to go out there and fight Texas tooth and nail," Auburn Coach Pat Dye said. "The first half was an embarrassment. We weren't ready to play.

"I don't know if we were scared or what," Dye said. 'They controlled all areas of the game.'

The Longhorns, opening their season later than most major college teams, took control of the game with an 84-yard scoring drive on their second possession and overpowered Auburn the rest of the way.

The Longhorn offense scored on three consecutive possessions to take a 17-0 lead and the defense stopped Auburn's wishbone offense cold, holding the Tigers to only two first downs and 51 net yards while building a 20-0 halftime lead.

Auburn, 1-1, which had crossed midfield only twice earlier in the second half, finally scored with 1:33 left in the game on a 1-yard run by Bo Jackson. The run capped a 95-yard drive on which sophomore Pat Washington completed passes of 20, 18 and 11 yards and also had two carries for 10 yards Rob Moerschell put the Longhorns ahead to stay on a one-yard keeper with 3:20 left in the opening quarter. Moerschell, who opened at quarterback in place of injured starter Todd Dodge, had five carries for 20 yards and also connected on two passes for 34 yards in the 16-play drive that consumed 7:57 on the clock.

Jeff Ward kicked a 37-yard field goal with six seconds left in the quarter, three plays after Fields raced 66 yards on the punt return to the Auburn 23, where Jonathan Robinson ran him down for a touchdown-saving tackle.

The long scoring pass from McIvor to Epps came three plays after Jerry Gray's interception on the

After John Walker had runs of 4 and 6 yards, McIvor hit Epps at the Auburn 30 behind defender Chuck Clanton, who missed an interception attempt

The Longhorns added a 32-yard field goal by Ward with 17 seconds left in the half, capping a 47-yard drive to the Tiger 14.

Brainy student repeats for football

JUSTIN (AP) - Kyle Burns, a 13-year-old straight-A student, is repeating the seventh grade - but his parents won't know for five years if the second time around will benefit the youth.

Kyle, a tight end, is being held back so that when he becomes a senior in high school he will be older and stronger than the other players

Physically, he's off to a good start. At 5 feet, 111/2 inches tall and 155 pounds, he's already as big as most of the varsity players at Northwest High, a Class AAA school halfway between Fort Worth and Denton. The idea is that Kyle will help

Northwest win more football games and that he will be better able to get a college scholarship. "That's why I'm holding back for athletic reasons," he told The Dallas Morning News. "I'm hoping I can mature a little. I think it will help me be better.' Kyle, whose birthday is Sept. 25, will be 19 when he graduates from high school in 1989. His father, Clay Burns, expects he will be bigger and stronger than his contemporaries. "I looked around, and the consensus was that if a boy can be held back, he will have a better chance," Burns said. But Kyle's mother, Linda Burns, who lives apart from the family, worries about the move. "I can see the wrong in it," she said. "If he gets hurt, or something goes wrong, it's been a wasted year. It's academic suicide.

The practice of holding back a student athlete, commonly known as red-shirting, was barred in Texas high schools in 1952. A rule passed by the University Interscholastic League provides for only five consecutive years of eligibility once a student enters the eighth grade.

But Bill Farney, UIL athletic director, told the News that there is very little the organization can do in cases like Kyle's where an athlete repeats the seventh grade 'We can't keep moving the rule back farther, because you would eventually get to the point where you would require a person to complete their schooling in 12 years, and the Texas Education Agency wouldn't like that very much, Farney said.

The only way the UIL can intervene is if it has evidence that the high school coach requested the red-shirting - a case that often is hard to prove, Farney said.

"Although, we did have a case once where the school sent out a letter encouraging red-shirting," Farney said. "And if the parents are holding back on their own, there is nothing we can do.

Burns, a former all-district running back at Northwest, said he and his son carefully considered the

'We sat down and put the pluses and minuses down on paper and decided this would be best," he said. "We didn't force this on Kyle. He wants to play for Texas A&M, and I want to give him every chance possible. Burns said there are many things that could happen to his son.

"We've got a few years to go before we know if this is worth it,' Burns said. "If he doesn't get a chance at a school like A&M, he might get a scholarship at a place like Sam Houston or Angelo State.

four-year college, I think it is worth it," he said. Kyle's mother told the News that she approved of the idea at first, but since has changed her mind. "Last year, after Northwest's first game, we were at a party at a neighbor's house and several of the coaches were there," she said. "We were approached about the redshirt program. They said that a kid like Kyle with super ability, if he were to follow a red-shirt program, by the time he graduated, he would reach his full growth. This would ensure his getting a scholarship." Mrs. Burns called the idea "a very hush-hush program. "They mentioned it in passing to try to encourage us to use the program," she said. "We confirmed some things about it with some people in Plano who had done it, and (See 'Burns' on page 3-B)

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Nebraska wingback Irving Fryar scored three touchdowns while piling up 229 total yards and running back Mike Rozier rushed for 196 yards and three touchdowns as the top-ranked Cornhuskers overwhelmed Minnesota 84-13 in a nonconference college football game Saturday night.

Unbeaten Nebraska, 3-0, struck quickly and often, building a 42-10 halftime lead and going on to score the most points ever against a Minnesota team and the most a Nebraska team has ever scored against a Division I-A school. It is the most points scored by a Nebraska team since a 100-0 victory over Nebraska Wesleyan in 1917.

The Cornhuskers moved the ball on the Gophers almost at will, rolling up 428 yards in the first half alone. They finished with 736 total yards, only 147 short of their own NCAA record. They rushed for 541 yards.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) - Sharpshooting Mike Tomczak fired his fifth and sixth touchdown passes of the season Saturday, both to tight end John Frank in the first half, and sixth-ranked Ohio State went on to defeat No. 2 Oklahoma 24-14.

Tomczak, who was the nation's No. 1-rated passer after completing 21 of 25 passes for 273 yards and four touchdowns in the Buckeyes' opening victory against Oregon, whipped a 16-yarder to Frank to cap an 80-yard drive following the opening kickoff.

Michigan St. 28, No. 4 Notre Dame 23

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) - Free safety Phil Parker's second interception of the game set up Dave Yarema's third touchdown pass Saturday to lead Michigan State to a 28-23 upset over fourth-ranked Notre Dame.

Parker, whose interception set up a first-half Spartan touchdown, picked off a Blair Kiel pass midway in the fourth quarter and returned it 42 yards to the Irish 3-yard line. After a 2-yard loss, Yarema hit Butch Rolle with a 5-yard scoring pass to break a 21-21 tie. With four seconds left, Yarema ran the ball out of the

The Huskies, 2-0, drove 80 yards in 11 plays for their last-minute touchdown after the Wolverines' Todd Schlopy misfired on a 32-yard field goal attempt with 3:40 remaining

Tulane 34, No. 9 Florida St. 28

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jon English, playing under a court order, led Tulane to three second half scoring drives as the underdog Green Waved upset ninthranked Florida State, 34-28, in college football Saturday.

Kelly Lowrey, 0-6-1 in the first quarter, got hot and led the Seminoles to three second quarter touchdowns to give Florida State a 21-14 halftime lead.

However, Tulane bottled up the nation's productive offense in the second half and Lowrey could manage only one more scoring drive for a team that averaged over 40 points a game in its first two outings.

English, son of first-year Tulane Coach Wally English, has played all three of the Green Wave's games under a state court's order that forbids his school to obey an NCAA decision that he is ineligible.

No. 10 North Carolina 48, Miami (Oh). 17

CHAPEL HILL, N.C (AP) — Third-string tailback William Humes rushed for 161 yards on 26 carries and a score, while Mark Smith tied a school record with three touchdown receptions as No. 10 North Carolina rolled to a 48-17 college football victory over Miami of Ohio Saturday

No. 11 Georgia 16, Clemson 16

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Eleventh-ranked Georgia's Kevin Butler kicked a last-minute, 31-yard field goal to tie Clemson 16-16 and cap a mistake-ridden, hardfought football game Saturday.

It was the first regular-season blot for the Georgia Bulldogs, who had won their last 20 non-bowl games. Butler's kick came 38 seconds before the end of the game before a record crowd of 81,000.

But the Tigers did not give up. With seven seconds left on the clock, Clemson tried to snap the tie with a 68-yard field goal attempt by Donald Igwebuike. But the kick fell short.

The ball changed hands and Butler tried a field goal from the same spot, failing on a 66-yard attempt.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Walter Lewis hit on 13 of 15 passes for 230 yards to lead an Alabama offense that oerwhelmed Mississippi 40-0 in a Southeastern Conference football opener Saturday.

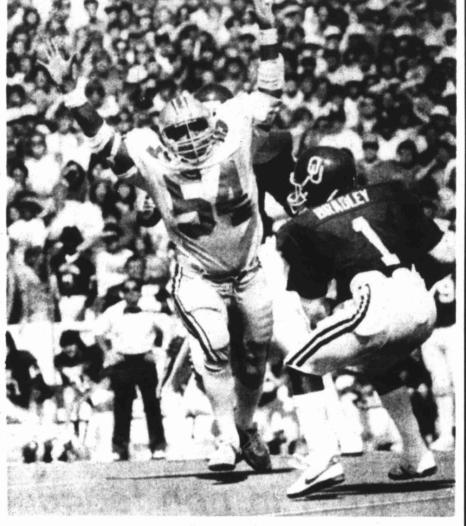

The decision gave Coach Ray Perkins, who succeeded the late Bear Bryant, his first victory on the Crimson Tide's home field and made Alabama's record 2-0. Mississippi is 0-3 under its new coach, Billy Brewer.

No. 13 Iowa 42, Penn St. 34

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Quarterback Chuck Long passed for an Iowa record of 345 yards as the 13th-ranked Hawkeyes capitalized on second-half errors to hand Penn State its third straight loss Saturday,

No. 15 Florida 17, Indiana St. 13

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) - Neal Anderson rushed for 165 yards and one touchdown and Wayne Peace tossed a 15-yard scoring pass to Joe Henderson with 9:22 remaining as 15th-ranked Florida came from behind to beat upset-minded Indiana State 17-13

Steelers visit Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers offense has been through all the gears in its first two National Football League games this season - including reverse.

The Oilers accelerated with 38 points against Green Bay and broke down with only six against the Los Angeles Raiders en route to an 0-2 start.

Now Houston's rebuilt but inexperienced offensive line must try to regroup against the Pittsburgh Steelers and their rebuilt and inexperienced defense that has continued the old "Steel Curtain" ball control theory with new faces.

Rivera, a rookie from Texas Tech. could be the best of the group but he's been slowed by injuries. "I haven't played much," Rivera said.

finally cracked a surprisingly tough Rice defense with touchdown runs by Jeff Wickersham and Garry James over a 35-second span of the third quarter after fumble recoveries to lead the Tigers to a 24-10 college football victory Saturday

The Owls, winless in 15 straight games, battled the heavily favored Tigers to a 3-3 halftime deadlock on an exchange of field goals of 29 yards by Rice freshman Mark Shupak and 37 yards by LSU's Juan Betanzos. The Owls' bubble finally burst in the third quarter. Fumbles by Rice's Larry Collins and Melvin Robinson set up touchdown runs of five yards by Wickersham and two yards by James for a 17-3 Freshman fullback Craig Rathjen

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Quarterback Brad Taylor scored one touchdown and set up another as Arkansas struggled HOUSTON (AP) — Louisiana State past New Mexico 17-0 Saturday night.

The shutout ended New Mexico's 108-game scoring streak that dated to Taylor's 1-yard sneak gave the Razorbacks a 10-0 lead in the second quarter. His 39-yard pass completion to Keith Kidd carried to the 1 and led to a 1-yard scoring run by Marshall Foreman that made it 17-0 midway through the third

The Razorbacks wasted two first half opportunities when Greg Horne missed 26-yard field goal after a fumble recovery at the New Mexico 16. Foreman fumbled at the New Mexico 15 after the Razorbacks moved 50 yards in the second quarter.

Kansas St. 20, TCU 3

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) - Doug Bogue passed for 129 yards and two touchdowns to lead Kansas State to a -3 victory over Texas Christian University Saturday night.

The win was the first in three games this year for Kansas State.

Bogue led the Wildcats on two long scoring drives during the second half and the K-State defense made several big plays to stop the Horned Frogs, 0-1-1, who tied Kansas 16-16 last week

Baylor 20, UTEP 6

EL PASO, Texas (AP) - Senior tailback Alfred Anderson scored twice to lead Baylor to a 20-6 win over the University of Texas at El Paso in the first meeting ever between the two teams here Saturday night.

Baylor improved its record to 2-0. The Miners dropped to 1-2 before 25,709 at the Sun Bowl.

UTEP's offense, also guided by three quarterbacks, needed the help of two key Baylor penalties to manage second-quarter field goals of 38 and 25 yards by Scott Wedell.

Permian belts Wyatt, 38-0

ODESSA - Shane Easley hauled in two touchdown passes from quarterback Rex Lamberti to lead the Permian Panthers to a 38-0 non-district football win over Fort Worth O.D. Wyatt here Saturday night.

Lamberti passed 12 and 26 yards to Easley and hit Kirk Strayhan with a 20-yard pass in the first. Lamberti scored on a oneyard run and the Panthers got a safety to build a 31-0 halftime lead. A one-yard run by John Hamilton in the fourth quarter concluded the scoring.

Permian is now 3-0 for the season.

CGA sets Grand Touranment

The Chicano Golf Association, in conjunction with Budweiser, is sponsoring its annual Grand Tournament today at the Comanche Trails Golf Course.

Tee times are from 9 a.m.-12 noon. Players will be flighted in championship, A, B and C divisions. Trophies go to the top four finishers in each group. The tournament is for members only. A barbecue dinner will follow the completion of play.

Goliad sweeps in volleyball

The Goliad girls volleyball team swept Andrews Thursday, the A team winning in three games. Goliad downed Andrews 15-1, 14-16, 15-11 as Dacia Jones had 17 serving points. Michelle Lovelance added 9 and Melanie Payne 5. Shawn Chatman and Gina Johnson had outstanding games said coach

Tammy Newsome. The B team also needed three games to fight off Andrews, winning 15-7, 7-15, 15-9. Karen Tubb had 9, Tracy Schaffner 8 and Mary Reyes and Cindy Phillips 7 serving points in the match.

Both teams are in action Monday against Seminole.

C-City wins volleyball event

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Colorado City snapped a recent losing streak by winning the championship at its own Lone Wolf Volleyball Tournament here Saturday

Baum scored 11 serving points. Lynn Scott had 12 in a 15-13, 15-11 victory over San Angelo Lakeview.

Baum, Sheri Morris and Denise Jackson were named to the all-tournament team representing the Wolves, now 5-3 overall.

Sophomores, junior highs win week's football teams

The Big Spring Migh sophomore notched a victory but the junior varsity fell hard in football games this week.

The sophomores whipped the Greenwood High junior varsity 20-12 but Sweetwater blasted the JVs 38-6. In a pair of freshman games, San Angelo Lee crushed the A team 61-0 while the Big Spring B team

In junior high games, the seventh grade A team blanked Sweetwater 22-0 and the B team won 28-0. A C team fell 58-0 to Garden City. In eighth grade action, the A team downed Sweetwater 14-0 and the B team collected a 28-0 victory.

Four Cowboys consider jump to USFL

DALLAS (AP) - Four Dallas Cowboys are seriously considering a jump to the United States Football League, The Dallas Morning News reported Saturday.

Two starters - fullback Ron Springs and linebacker Mike Hegman and two prominent reserves linemen Don Smerek and Larry Bethea — are involved in contract dicussions with several USFL clubs, the newspaper said.

Hegman, Smerek and Bethea are in the option years of their contracts. Springs and the Cowboys disagree as to whether he is in his option year; Springs says he is, but the team says he has another year to go on his contract.

Cowboys vice president Gil

Brandt said he was aware the four Dallas players were talking to USFL teams.

"I'm kind of disappointed in that," he told the News. "They might think they can get a better deal for today, but it won't be over the long run. "The players got to understand all the things that come out of the NFL: the pension plan, the playoff money, severance pay, the health insurance. The USFL has none of

Cowboys spent night in Dallas hotel

IRVING, Texas (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys kissed their families goodbye and said hello to coach Tom Landry last night in another chapter of his 1983 gettough policy.

The Cowboys spent the night at a local hotel, where former FBI agent Larry Wansley and his security patrol will ensure privacy. Coaches were on hand to make certain the players heed the midnight curfew.

There have been a few grumbles about Landry making the team come together the night before a home game. And no one spoke up when Landry asked at a team meeting Landry asked, "Does anyone have anything positive to say about it?"

Bu Landry has not forgotten that some players broke curfew the night before Dallas lost to Washington in the National Conference title game.

The last time the Cowboys were sequestered in a hotel the night before a game was in 1974.

Landry has brought back a lot of old work ethic habits, including the dreaded grass drills and wind sprints which players loathe.

Superior conditioning, however has been the prime factor in Dallas' come-from-behind victories over Washington and St. Louis.

"Our conditioning paid off in those two games," said defensive tackle John Dutton. "We were tired but we kept plugging. You could see the other two teams hanging their heads."

The Cowboys are eight-point favorites in the National Football League game, which starts at 3 p.m. today.

The 1-1 Giants have lost seven consecutive games to the Cowboys in Texas Stadium.

The two teams did not meet in 1982 because of the players' strike. Landry is 28-11-2 against his old eam. Landry was a defensive back or the Giants in the 1950s and also vas an assistant coach for the club.

BLOW TO THE CHEST — Robin Blake grimaces as he

Texan Blake stops Paul in sixth round

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Undefeated Robin Blake of Levelland, Texas, made a strong bid to bcome the World Boxing Association's No. 1 lightweight contender by stopping Melvin Paul of New Orleans by technical knockout in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round bout Saturday.

Blake, ranked No. 2 by the WBA, entering the fight, forced referee Joey Curtis to halt the fight at 2:21 of the sixth after hitting Paul, 134, with three lefts and a right

Blake, 1351/2, jumped on Paul at the start of the sixth, stunning him with a left hook to the head. Another left to the head put him in even more trouble and after the tall Texan landed five lefts and a right to the head, Curtis called for a standing eight count.

The brief respite did Paul no good, for seconds later Blake stopped him for good to end the nationally televised main event at the Showboat Hotel.

The win gives Blake a record of 22-0 with 16 knockouts and, following the loss of the WBA's No. 1 lightweight Orlando Romero to Ray Mancini on Thursday, makes Blake a leading contender for the top sopt. Paul, a former two-time amateur champion, has a

ANOTHER RECORD FOR YAZ - Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox waves his cap to fans as he takes the field to play in his 3,299th game, the most every by any major leaguer. Yaz played first base in Saturday's victory over the Detroit Tigers in Fenway Park in Boston.

3.299: Yaz sets record

BOSTON (AP) — Slugger Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox became major league baseball's alltime "iron man" Saturday, setting a record by playing in his 3,299th game.

Yastrzemski, who plans to retire this year after 23 seasons with the Red Sox, was given a standing ovation by the crowd at Fenway Park as he took the field against the Detroit Tigers to play first base for the first time since Aug. 11, 1982. He appeared in 109 previous games this season as a designated hitter.

Yastrzemski, 44, broke the record of 3,298 major league games set by Hall of Famer Hank Aaron, who played 23 years for the Milwaukee Braves, Atlanta Braves and Milwaukee Brewers.

Yastrzemski, who ranks among baseball's all-time leaders in many offensive categories, and Brooks Robinson, inducted into the Hall of Fame this year after a brilliant career with the Baltimore Orioles, are the only players in history to play as many as 23 years for the same club.

"It may sink in later, but right now I'm not even thinking of the record," Yastrzemski said.

Yastrzemski, who broke into the majors as an outfielder and also played first base and third base, has played 2,075 games in the outfield. He played his last game as an outfielder last season.

BALTIMORE (AP) - Mike Flanagan won his fifth straight game and Al Bumbry went 3-for-3 and scored three runs as the Baltimore Orioles beat the Milwaukee Brewers 5-4 Saturday night.

Flanagan, 12-3, allowed seven hits in seven innings to pick up the win, Baltimore's eighth in nine outings. The win increased the Orioles' lead in the American League East to seven games and cut their magic Baltimore opened a 1-0 lead in the first as Bumbry led off with a single, Dan Ford walked and Eddie Murray later delivered a sacrifice fly.

The Orioles scored twice off Brewers starter Bob Gibson, 2-3, in the fifth. Bumbry led off with a single, went to second on Ford's sacrifice bunt and scored on Cal Ripken's single. After shortstop Robin Yount misplayed Murray's grounder for an error, John Lowenstein walked to load the bases and Ripken scored on Ken Singleton's sacrifice fly.

Baltimore added two in the sixth when Rich Dauer led off with a walk, moved to second on Bumbry's oneout single and scored on Ford's single. Bumbry later came around to score on 'Ted Simmons' throwing tie in the sixth against loser Jeff Russell, 3-3. The game was played before a sellout crowd of 53,790 on "Johnny Bench Night" as the Reds honored their retiring star.

The Astros dampened the evening by scoring a pair of runs in the second. Cruz singled and stole second as Bench, starting at catcher for only the third time this year, had trouble getting the ball out of his glove.
Cruz came home on Ray Knight's double and Phil

Garner singled for a 2-0 Houston lead. Bench then thrilled the crowd and tied the game in the third. Paul Householder singled to start the inning, and Bench came to bat against Astro starter Mike

Flower Show at Howard County Fair. Entries may be

By TINA STEFFEN Lifestyle Editor

"The flower show adds a lot to the fair because people are interested in it," says Annie Matt Angel, past president of Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs and publicity chairperson for the Howard County Fair

The show, held in conjunction with the fair, will be held Sept. 19-24 at the Dora Roberts Fair Barn. "Anyone that wants to can enter. They don't have to be a member of a garden club," she said.

Entries in the horticultural division may be made by any amateur gardener who is a resident of Howard County. Entries will be accepted from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., Sept. 19. Late entries and those not conforming to the schedule will be placed on display. The classification committee may disqualify them.

PERSONS INTERESTED IN entering the show must pick up a copy of the flower show rules at the Howard County Agricultural Extension office in the basement of the county courthouse flower show has grown You wouldn't believe how many arrangements we have. It's just amazing how many people throughout the county bring their entries for horticultural awards," Mrs. Angel said.

The flower show has been part of the Howard County Fair for at least 15 years. "We sponsor it because we think it creates so much interest in beauty and in horticulture. Once you enter, you want to do it again next year," she said.

The flower show benefits the people and our city, Mrs. Angel said.

'One is closer to God in a apartment.' garden than anywhere else on earth," she said, quoting the show's motto. "That garden can even be a potted plant in an apartment." The flower show "seems to be an incentive for people to plan to grow something so they can enter the show. Winning a ribbon is very rewarding.'

Mrs. Fannie Wilkinson of Planters Garden Club is general chairman of the flower show. Mrs. C.Y. Clinkscales, also of Planters Garden Club, is cochairman.

Judges for the show are nationally accredited amateur flower show and standard student judges from outside Howard County. Judging will begin 1:30 p.m. No one is allowed in the exhibit area during

The show will be open to the public Monday from 3 to 6 p.m. It also will be opened to the public the rest of the week from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

ENTRIES MAY NOT BE removed before 9 p.m. Sept. 24, Mrs. Angel said. This rule eliminates people taking things home early making the displays less attractive for public viewing.

The standard system of flower show judging will be used. One blue, one red and one yellow ribbon may be given in each class or subdivision, if merited.

The Horticulture award of excellence will be given to an exhibit judged the finest in that division. All sections of Division I Horticulture will be eligible for the award. Other awards will be given to entries as well.

Anyone wanting to pre-register large plants may call Mrs. G.P. Morrison at 267-2978, or Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. at 267-6272, before Sept. 19.

Fiddlers preserve the old time music

By TINA STEFFEN Lifestyle Editor

The Old Time Fiddlers Contest is not a competition for old timers but a contest to preserve the old time fiddling music. The contest will be held at the Howard County Fair, at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

"Your fiddlers, they don't come for money. They love to fiddle," says Pete Jenkins, contest chairman and master of ceremonies for the event. "They come several miles even if all they get for winning is a

'We just have a love for music. We want people to have a good time and listen to the music," said Maxwell Green, a fiddler and assistant to Jenkins. "We are trying to preserve the heritage of fiddling and that's why we call it 'Old Time Fiddling Contest

The contest draws a big crowd every year. It is held between the fair barns where all the concession stands are. People sit down, rest their feet and eat supper while listening to the fiddling music for two hours.

Several people will drive miles to a fiddling contest to watch it and not necessarily play," Green said.

FIDDLING MUSIC WAS popular in the days in farming communities. Due to boredom and lack of things to do, people made their own entertainment. People in a community would hold a dance at their homes and invite residents from miles around.

A fiddler and guitarist would be selected to play at the dance. For no fee, the band would play waltzes, two-steps, schottische, polkas, swings and other dance tunes by ear using no sheet music. About 11 p.m. the musicians would get tired and let the party goers know they were ready to quit. By that time the dancers were just getting warmed up. So the people would pass a hat to collect money for the band. Sometimes they would give the band a little homemade moonshine. With those rewards, the band would continue to play and sometimes the dance lasted all night.

Those times have slipped away and fiddling music almost became a lost art, Green said. People who used to enjoy the music are now trying to preserve it by holding fiddlers contests. People from miles around will come to play or to listen.

TODAY, FIDDLING MUSIC is being adopted by a new generation. "Many youngsters are getting interested in this and the younger ones are learning the music to go along with it, plus the fact they've got a good ear to put with it," says Jenkins with a twinkle in his eye, excitement in his bones and showing pride in those youngsters. "The older people play by ear. And the kids can play by ear and by music.

The fiddlers contest "is a family arrangement," Green said. "When going to a contest, normally your wife and your kids and all your relatives will go with you. It's nothing unusual to see two or three generations show up there." Sometimes a group composed of a man, his children and grandchildren will be found competing in a fiddlers contest.

Any fiddler and his accompanists can enter the contest. They must play acoustical instruments and use no amplifiers. The rules for the contest depends on the judges. The bands will be judged on sound, how well they execute the music and showmanship. The judges will decide how many songs will be played, what type of songs and the scoring procedure. Cash prizes will be awarded to the top three fiddlers in each of two divisions: 36 and under, and 37 and older.

"I'm going to brag a little bit," Green said, grinning wide. "The fiddling contest is what brings the crowd in to look at the exhibits." Jenkins and Green roll with

Mail-order shopping protections

Christmas less than 3 months away, many consumers are poring over catalogs and advertisements deciding what to order. Mail-order shopping has taken on a whole new look in the last several years, with scores of 'special interest'' catalogs, and ads for products by mail in almost every magazine.

People who enjoy the convenience of mail-order shopping, however, can be unpleasantly surprised by some of the hassles involved.

Before ordering products by mail, consumers should be aware of the Federal Trade Commission's mail order rule, and how it affects this type of transaction.

The mail order rule requires companies to ship your order within the time promised in their advertisement. If no time period is promised, the company must ship your order within 30 days after they receive it, unless you are contacted and agree to a specific delay.

When there is a shipment delay, the company must send you "option notice", giving you the choice of either consenting to the delay or canceling the order and receiving a refund.

Many mail order marketers now offer tollfree numbers for easy ordering. Shopping by telephone may be even more convenient than shopping by mail.

But consumers should know that orders placed by phone are not covered by the FTC's mail order rule.

If you want to order by mail, but only have the company's 800 telephone number, call and ask for its mailing address. Calling is also useful to determine the company's refund policy, the availability of about the failure to deliver the product, and the total merchandise. to deliver cost of your order.

If you do decide to order by phone, however, you assume the responsibility for merchandise that is not delivered or is delivered late. So before ordering by phone, buyers should consider past experience with the company or its general reputation

To protect yourself when ordering by phone, keep good records. Write down the company's name, address and phone number; the price, description and item numbers of the merchandise ordered; the total cost of the order; the method of payment used (check, credit card, C.O.D.); the method of shipment and anticipated delivery date; and the date you place the order.

When you order by mail, make a copy of the order which contains this information. With either method of ordering, it's also useful to keep a copy of the ad or catalog thatg let you to place the order.

Thousands of consumers find shopping by mail - or - phone - order to be convenient and trouble free. Others have complaints Association (DMA). The

Stanton Johnson takes office

STANTON JOHNSON of Odessa, 57-year-old son of MRS. FANNIE JOHNSON KENT of 1608 E. 5th, was recently elected director of District IX of the Texas Association of Public Accountants. The election took place at the associations convention in Brownsville.

Stanton has a bookkeeping and tax practice in Odessa. He has been active in accounting and tax profession for more than 16 years and is serving his se-cond year on the state political action committee. He opened his practice in 1975.

Stanton's mother, Fannie, supplied me with more information about her son. Stanton volunteered and served four years in the navy when he was 18. He worked as a brakeman on the T & P Railroad for 221/2 years. The job moved him to El Paso and while there he worked and went to night school to study accounting. He opened his accounting business in El Paso and later moved it to Odessa. Stanton and wife Ada Mary have three children. The couple recently celebrated their 35th anniversary by going on a Caribbean Cruise.

LISA BROOKS, wife of American Gem Society jeweler GREG BROOKS of Blums Jewelers, was the winner of "The Great Chrysoprase Caper Contest" held by colored gemstone supplier R. Lary Kuehn, Inc. during Dallas jewelry shows.

The object of the contest was to guess within 50 carats of the correct weight of a cylinder of chrysoprase displayed in a showroom. The actual weight of the stones was 2, 684.57 carats. Lisa guessed within 22 carats of the actual weight. For her winning guess, she won a pendant worth $400 which featured a 5.47 carat chrysoprase stone set with a half carat of tsavorite garnets on the bale of the pendant.

An exciting place to shop & it all began as a teenager's bold & determined adventure!

Mary Ellen Guess married Randy Walls when she was 21...two years after she had opened THE COTTAGE! She credits her father's encouragement and the guidance of her banker for the backing it took for a 19 year old to start her own

It takes a lot of hard work and very careful planning to make dream come true and eight years ago The Cottage opened its doors to Big Spring. Back then, it was located on Main Street, but the unique combinations of delicate jewelry, ultra feminine accessories and exciting fashions were already a part of the image Mary Ellen was determined to project. When she moved to Highland Mall a little over three years ago, this was the base of her expansion and new customers are constantly attracted to the ever changing pallette of colors and popular priced clothing that Mary Ellen maintains at The Cottage.

Her philosophy has been to take care of her shop and service her customers to the best of her ability. Mary Ellen Walls is a very able young woman! Most of her business transactions are begun via the telephone when she alerts her customers to new arrivals. Then the customer injects the nuance of individual taste, picks out and puts together and layers until the desired combination equals taste and the excitement of good fashion.

This season Foxy Sox are the magic ingredients that say Fall — '83 at The Cottage. Wonderful combinations of embroidery on top of vivid colors with contrasting trims exactly match and accent pants, shirts, boots & shoes.

There's another side to fashion...The contemporary woman who still looks best in junior sizes. Especially in finely tailored garments like those great Generra shirts and sweaters. They make slacks and sport jackets too and the sleek fit extends right down to your pocketbook.

Ravissant is a progressive import line of dresses. They're made of all natural fibers and many of the styles are practically suited to the expectant mother. These dresses are just as lovely loose as they are when belted. Fashion has never been so accommodating!

From Izod through Red I, Fleece, Coqui and Pep, active wear is one of the featured looks for fall and winter in West Texas. Pandora and Choon provide dressier clothing options and fill an important slot at The Cottage.

Randy and Mary Ellen like to pack a picnic lunch and relax at the lake whenever their active schedules allow some free time. Mary Ellen has just become a rep. for the Coqui line of sportswear and travels her West Texas territory three days per week. Randy, who is an accountant for Cunningham Oil has given her the opportunity to add this extra dimension to her love of fashion marketing by assisting her with the bookwork at the shop. This young couple stays fit by working out and jogging every evening Mary Ellen is home. Randy grew up in Forsan and Mary Ellen in Big Spring. She attended college in San Angelo where she was a marketing major. She is a home town merchant with knowledge of the special fashion needs of her customers and a desire to give her customers her personal attention. It's typical of the attitude you'll find at Highland Shopping Mall, South Hwy. 87 & FM 700 in Big Spring.

Foresyth-Phillips

Jana Lynn Foresyth and Ray Phillips were united in marriage Friday evening during a candlelight ceremony held at First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Keith Wiseman, pastor, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Foresyth, 2909 MacAuslan Dr. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Phillips, 501 Donley.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar centered with two ninebranch candelabra decorated with fresh greenery and baskets of apricot gladiolus, white carnations, woben abbey roses, and baby's beath. Mrs. Suzanne Cranford, vocalist, and Mrs. Delores Currie, organist, provided music for the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an ivory French lace gown styled in an oldfashion design. The fitted bodice had a sheer yoke which ruffled into a V at the front and back. Accenting the lace front were short puff sleeves. The full waltz-length gathered skirt fell into deep lace ruffles to the floor. A wreath of silk flowers held illusion. Completing the bride's attire was a baby's breath halo.

The bride carried a bouquet of woben abby roses with baby's breath, ming fern and apricot

Mr. and Mrs. Aggie Turner are on a trip to Cancun, Mexico following their wedding Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Wallace of Big Spring. The Rev. Phillip McClendon, pastor of Hillcrest Baptist Church, officiated the 7 p.m. rite before a unity candelabrum decorated with apricot, brown and ivory flowers and apricot ribbon. The bride, the former Claudia Gerstenberger, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Sullivan, 100 N.E. 9th. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Eckler, Abilene.

Pepper Sullivan, brother of the bride, played an electric baby grand piano as Bobby Baker sang during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an full-length apricot gown of sheer woven polyester and taffeta. The bodice was designed with a Victorian neckline and long full sleeves, which were embellished with point d'esprit lace. A tie belt complemented the waistline of flower trim. The bride carried a cascade of ivory carnations, apricot roses and small brown flowers. The bouquet was tied with apricot ribbons.

Wedding policy

Weddings are published in the Sunday Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. A wedding form, available at the Herald, should be filled out, signed by either the bride, bridegroom or a member of either family and in our office no later than noon the Wednesday before the

The information may be accompanied by a photograph either of the bride or the couple. A black and white glossy 5 x7 inch print is preferred. The picture must be of sufficient quality to reproduce in the newspaper.

Pictures may be picked up following publication.

If a wedding writeup is turned in after the wedding, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

Forms for wedding stories may be picked up at the Lifestyle Department of the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry. Writeups may be brought in to the department or mailed to Big Spring Herald, Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Please call our office if you have problems or questions. Our number is (915) 263-7331.

Rebrum lilies and a unity

Performing music for the ceremony were Shelley Tunnell, soloist, Mrs. Steve Maker, flutist, Vanessa Cooper, pianist, and Mrs. Roy Pickett, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal-length gown of in a lattice motif. A candlelight polyganza and cascade of Rebrum lilies imported Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice, accented with seed pearls on Chantilly lace motifs, featured a Queen Anne neckline outlined with a lace and organza rufflet. From the waistline the full skirt fell into rows of antique lace down the back into a cathedral-length train. A natural flounce bordered the hemline. Her matching silk illusion veil was attached to a cap of antique lace and seed pearls. The fingertip-length two-tiered veil was bordered with Chantilly lace.

She carried a nosegay of gardenias, stephanotis and pearled apple blossoms on a Bible covered in candlelight lace. The Bible represents something old. It was a gift to her parents on their wedding day.

Other traditions include a string of pearls for something new, a garter for something blue and a gold chain ring for something borrowed. Traditions established by the bride were a lace handkerchief made for her by Mrs. Myrl Mitchell and a Healthy skin constantly renews itself. As new cells are produced at the base of the skin, they push up to the skin's surface where they replace the dead, outermost layer. This is a continuous process that is especially apparent in young skin. As we get older, our skin needs help in sloughing off this layer of dead skin. We can accomplish this by rubbing our skin with a washcloth, skin sponge or grainy cleansers while in the shower. This needs to be done but once a week with a dry skin condition. Otherwise, twice a week is sufficient. The result will be glowing, healthy

Fall, a good time for landscaping in West Texas

We have somehow survived lone of the most severe droughts to hit West Texas in 30 years. This has presented problems for landscape development. Fall rains that usually develop in West Texas will help give time to do a lot of landscape development.

County Extension Agent

Landscaping can increase your home's value, living space, add beauty, individuality and serenity, not to mention reducing utility bills.

Just what is landscaping, anyway? It is more than the selection and placement of trees and shrubs. It is the development of spaces around house and buildings to achieve a maximum of beauty and utility with a minimum of maintenance.

The cost of landscape development can be fitted into almost any budget. In fact, once a plan is drawn, it can be implemented gradually over a period of several years.

Cost varies, but it can be as low as $300.00 for a do-ityourselfer.

A properly designed landscape can easily add 10 to 20 percent to the home's value, making it easier to sell when the time comes.

Before you go shopping for plants or dig that first hole, be sure to have a landscape plan in hand. Several important factors need to be considered as you plan landscape. Give thought to the needs and desires of your family members.

Consider hobbies and special interest. Do you want a vegetable garden, fruit trees, a cut flower garden, or an outdoor fireplace? Do you entertain outdoors a great deal? Do you need expanse of lawn for games or playtime for children?

Next, draw a simple sketch of your house, showing floorplan and lot, on a sheet of typing paper. List dimensions of property and all structures. Show location of existing trees and shrubs, telephone lines, walks and driveways. After your sketch is complete, draw in beds and planting areas around your home.

Meanwhile, talk to local nurserymen. Take a look at available plant materials that may fulfill your landscape requirements. Then re-examine your drawing and make any changes you wish.

Your nurserymen can be a valuable source of guidance, but do have a plan to follow before you begin work on a landscape investment. It's easier to erase a mistake on paper than it is to dig up plants planted in the wrong place.

If you deplore the thought of planting shrubs because of the tedious pruning that they require, you may want to consider dwarf plants. Dwarf plants are just about the nicest lthing to hit the nursery trade in recent years. And they are great news for home gardeners as

Texans are noted for their love of things big, but when it comes to shrubs, big overgrown specimens mean work and problems. Dwarfs, compact, lowgrowing plants can be the answer to landscape maintenance problems.

Many large old standards now come in "dwarf models." You can now find dwarf abelia, pyrancatha, ligustrum, nandina, pittosporum, quince, crape mertle, bamboo, oleander, azalea, many varieties of holly and others available at a nursery or garden center.

The versatility and adaptability of dwarf plants add to their popularity. Dwarfs are adaptable to fully shaded areas, open sun and partial shade. They can be used for clipped borders, groundcovers and for formal and informal plantings.

Dwarf plants are best used in small, detailed areas where they will be observed at close range, such as patio and entrance areas. They should, of course, not be used for background plantings, or in areas where they might be overgrown by larger shrubs or annual

Pruning can virtually be eliminated when using dwarf plants. But remember that even though they are dwarfs, they do require room to spread and grow. A nurseryman can advise you on the proper planting distance of the particular dwarfs selected Some favorite dwarf shrubs, and those we would recommend to you are: ● Dwarf Yaupon Holly — Excellent as a low hedge or a container plant. A very popular landscape shrub, with few insects or disease problems. Dwarf Abelia — Low spreading evergreen shrub. Shiny small leaves with reddish tinge. Delicate white flowers are borne on the plant most of summer.

• Wheeler's Dwarf Pittosporum - Compact evergreen shrub with glossy dark evergreen foliage. Possesses all desirable qualilties as regular pittosporum but attains only a fraction the size. Probably the most popular plant to hit the market in the past decade. Very versatile.

 Dwarf Nandina — Interesting dwarf mounding shrub. Plant form is very much inlike the regular Nandina. Produces small, compact plants with green foliage in late spring and summer that turns brilliant scarlet and bronze in the winter. Ideal as a speciman

 Rock Cotoneaster — It's flat, horizontal branches make this plant ideally suited for planting in rock gardens where these branches can rest on the ground or on a low bank where admirable as a ground cover, Dwarf Burford Holly — Erect evergreen with dark glossy green foliage. Slow growing. Spring bloom is followed by clusters or red berries. Larger than the dwarf yaupon. May eventually reach 5-6'. Dwarf Pyracantha — Several varieties of hybrid dwarf pyracantha avaiable "Tiny Tim" and "Red Elf" are two of the popular favorites. Dark evergreen foliage with bright reddish tinge. Delicate white flowers are borne on the plant most of the summer.

Mrs. Avery talks to study club

Johnny Lou Avery spoke at a president's breakfast for the 1941 Study Club at Wayne Henry Steak House in Coahoma, Saturday.

Mrs. Avery emphasized the importance a woman plays in the community. She stressed three things for kicking off the new club vear. First, the club needs to recharge its enthusiasm as this motivates people. Smiles are free, and it takes ten people with enthusiasm to overcome one negative person. The second thing is personal and group commitment.

The last thing was to recharge the battery a person needs to love herself. If a person doesn't, nobody will. A woman should never compare herself with someone better or put herself down. A person always strive to live up to

Mrs. Avery left two thoughts. The only peop who never fail are those addressed envelope to Dr. who never try. People watch examples better

Doris James, incoming president, commended Mrs. Dwayne Clawson, that, due to the tremendous outgoing president, and volume received daily, he presented her with a gift. Mrs. Rod Tiller made the motion that Mrs. Richard Souter's resignation be acin his column whenever cepted. New yearbooks were presented. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Ovis James with guest speaker Mrs. Jerry Gee at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 3.

Dear Abby

Man thinks ex-wife's digs aren't decent for daughter

it's optional.

DEAR ABBY: I'm sure this is not a unique problem, but I can't sleep because of it. Are there any always wanted a car and civil laws that prohibit an ex-wife from shacking up with a boyfriend in front of her 10-year-old child?

My daughter is being forced to live like this, and it seems that by Florida state law, I can do nothing about it. Is there no sanity even with our civil laws?

I love my daughter dearly and can give her a better life, but her mother got custody of her simply because she is her mother. Thanks for listening. HERATSICK IN

FLORIDA DEAR HEARTSICK: I'm no lawyer, but it seems reasonable to assume that in order to gain custody of your daughter, you would be required to prove that your ex-wife is an unfit mother, or that your daughter is suffering from some kind of child abuse or neglect. Since the deleterious effect of living with a mother who is "shacking up with her boyfriend" cannot be easily assessed at this point, the other aspects of child-rearing, such as attention to the child's health, upbringing, education, discipline and how much love she's getting, are probably the determining factors.

The wedding ring tradition is an old one indeed. Here at THE ACCENT SHOPPE, our research tells us that the first wedding ring was made for Prometheus, of iron and adamant. (The dictionary defines adamant as "an stone imaginary impenetrable hardness"). The iron symbolized endurance; the adamant, perfect agreement. However, in America during Puritan times, wedding rings disappeared altogether because their use was considered pagan. And so the cycle goes. Will 21st century spouses wear rings?

Having your jewlery stolen can be a traumatic experience, especially if the pieces have sentimental value. To aid the authorities in the search for your stolen treasures, and for insurance purposes, it makes sense to keep a written record of your jewelry. Note in carats; the hallmarks; the intitials of the maker; sizing marks; scratches and other distinguising featuers. In the case of the gemstone, note their type, color and size. Count the number of pearls on the necklace. Note their type and describe any hallmarks on the clasp. Next, it would certainly be worthwhile to take color photographs of your jewlery. Store all such information away from your jewlery.

In addition to keeping accurate records of your ewelry another helpful idea is to be sure that all your jewelry has been professionally appraised. Conveniently located at 222 Main St., BLUM'S JEWELRY cordially invites you to visit with us or call us at 26a -6335 for more information on how we can be of service to you.
