Study: area costs average in state

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

Big Spring ranks as a fairly reasonable place to live, according to price statistics compiled by the American Chamber of Commerce Researcher Association.

The association's cost of living index, which measures intercity differences in the costs of 59 consumer goods and services based on a scale of 100 percent, has indexed Big Spring at 102.1 percent. This means Big Spring is 2.1 percent above the national average.

The figures released by the association for the second quarter of the year show Big Spring's cost of living standard ranked 14th out of 28 other Texas cities tested. Two years ago Big Spring ranked fifth lowest out of 29 cities.

The index, which is collected four times a year, is based on a weighted average of 100 percent, and six categories make up the index: grocery items, housing, utilities, transportation, health care and miscellaneous goods and services.

LeRoy Tillery, executive vice president of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce said the association's report is a good sign.

Consumer Price Index continues moderate pace

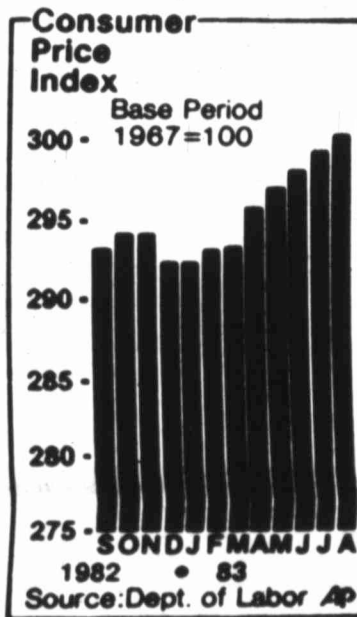

WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher prices for gasoline and fresh vegetables pushed consumer prices up a moderate 0.4 percent in August, matching the gain of the previous month, the government said today.

So far this year, prices have risen at an annual rate of just 3.4 percent. Over the last 12 months, the gain was 2.6 percent.

As for last month, the Labor Department said, gasoline prices rose a sharp 1.1 percent after a more modest 0.4 percent increase in July. Those prices, however, were still 8.4 percent below their peak of March 1981.

The 0.8 percent rise in fresh vegetable prices reversed a 3.6 percent July decline and boosted food prices overall a small 0.2 percent.

Food prices, which had fallen in the two preceding months, are likely to rise at a steeper clip in the coming months as the effects of this summer's drought and devastating declines as producers sell off their herds rather than pay higher feedgrain prices. Beef and veal prices fell 0.7 percent in August; pork prices tumbled 0.6 percent.

The continued moderation in the overall Consumer Price Index bolstered economists' predictions that inflation this year will better 1982's 3.9 percent clip. Indeed, some expect inflation could dip to roughly 3 percent, which would be the lowest full-year rate since 1967.

Ironically, today's report said prices have tripled since that benchmark year. What cost $10 then cost $30.03 in August.

The department offered these specifics of August price activity: —Medical care costs climbed 0.5 percent, about the same as in the previous five months. Even so, those costs have soared 8.0 percent in the last 12 months, the sharpest advance for any of the major components of the index.

Roping, barrel racing take a 'team' effort

By NICK GREENWALT

Dawn Waggoner made her first trip around the obstacles in 18.095 seconds and her second in 18.355 seconds to win the barrel race competition at the Howard County Fair last night.

Skipper Driver roped his first calf in 9.75 seconds and the second in 9.25 seconds to win the calf roping.

"You can usually tell if you had a good run because both of you (horse and rider) are tired," Waggoner said. "You have to work at pushing the horse, keeping it straight and then holding on."

"The horse has got to be an athlete, and he has got to want it," said Tricia Wright, who finished second in the second race.

Waggoner and Wright are both professional racers. Waggoner has been racing for 15 years and was once fourth in the Kansas Futurity. Wright is a rookie.

"All my life I've wanted to be a professional barrel racer," Wright said.

While Wright and Waggoner say they'll participate in about 75 events a season, many athletes just run in a few events. One such performer is Skipper Driver, who won last night's calf roping. Skipper said he runs about 12 to 15 events a year, picking ones that are close to home to give him time with his family.

"We go because we can go as a family and pick the one we want," he said, noting that it was different for a beginner. "When you're starting out and trying to make a living, your here today and somewhere else tomorrow."

One lady echoed his feelings, telling about one day when her husband competed in three events in two different states, arriving for the third just as the contestants were being introduced.

"At least he won two of them," she said.

Pinkie's puts cork on Russian vodka

By KEITH BRISCOE
City Editor

Proletarian palates in Big Spring have said dos vidanya to a beloved Bolshevik brew after the two local Pinkie's liquor stores last week stop selling Stolichnaya, the czar of imported Russian vodkas.

The ownership of Pinkie's, the largest retail liquor chain in West Texas, instructed its 23 store managers to exile the distilled delicacy in protest over the Sept. 1 Soviet downing of Korean Air Lines Flight 007.

One might think a company with the name of Pinkie's would be more tolerant toward Reds. But the firm is firm in its decision to break the color connection.

"We really did it after what the Russians did to the Korean airliner," said Bob Grimes of Lubbock, regional manager for Pinkie's. "We decided not to sell their biggest import — vodka."

Stolichnaya, known affectionately as "satin Stalin," is favored among vodka-viks because of its smooth taste, said Terry White, manager of the Pinkie's outlet on East Third Street.

"Russian vodka is considered the best because the Russians make it with wheat," White said.

"Probably the wheat we sold them," Grimes added.

Although Russia is to vodka what France is to wine, Grimes said drinkers here need not suffer because of the beverage's banishment. "There are a lot of other vodkas in the U.S. — as good or better," he said.

Police Beat

Officer reports assault

Big Spring police said officer William Talamantez was bitten twice Thursday afternoon by a suspect he was attempting to arrest. According to police reports, Teresa Sunday of 3603 Hamilton, tried to escape from the officer after he stopped her on suspicion of speeding.

The report said that Sunday bit him twice on the right forearm and then bit Explorer Scout Sean Restelli when he came to the officer's assistance.

Sunday was released today on bonds totaling $10,000 after being arraigned before Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt on suspicion of assault, aggravated assault on a police officer and resisting arrest.

An unknown person entered Olive Murphree's residence at 1307 Tucson Thursday afternoon and ransacked all the bedroom dresser drawers and closets, according to police reports. Murphree said a .22-caliber revolver was stolen.

Reba Grisham of 604 Holbert, was arrested for driving while intoxicated and disorderly conduct yesterday at 4:21 p.m., according to police reports.

Candy Man to appeal again

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An appeals court says Ronald Clark O'Bryan, a Texas man sentenced to die for poisoning his young son with Halloween candy in order to collect life insurance, should have time to file another appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, which last month upheld O'Bryan's capital murder conviction, issued a stay of mandate Monday. It will extend until the nation's high court deals with the plea.

A "mandate" is the court order authorizing the state to proceed with punishment.

O'Bryan, 38, of Deer Park, Texas, was found guilty of poisoning his 8-year-old son, Timothy, on Halloween 1974 in an effort to cash in $30,000 in life insurance. The case has been tied up in the courts on various appeals ever since.

O'Bryan has insisted he never killed his son and said he wants a new trial to prove his innocence.

A three-judge panel at the 5th Circuit rejected O'Bryan's request on Aug. 26. The panel split 2-1 in the decision, with U.S. District Judge Jerry Buchmeyer of Dallas arguing the case needed further hearings.

Buchmeyer said two potential jurors never absolutely, unequivocally, positively said they would never vote for a death penalty, regardless of the law or the crime, and therefore their dismissal may have been illegal.

The Supreme Court has ruled that only potential jurors who would never vote the death penalty may be excluded from capital punishment trials.

The high court has held that a defendant is entitled to jurors who strongly oppose the death penalty but say they could conceivably vote for it.

Drought loans available

Those businesses which sustained damages because of the drought since Jan. 1 are eligible.

The Big Spring area is covered by the program. Interest rates on the loans will be 8 percent.

Auto insurance hike recommended

AUSTIN (AP) — An average statewide increase of 4.3 percent in passenger automobile insurance rates was recommended Friday by the staff of the State Board of Insurance.

The staff recommendation compares with the 11.4 percent increase asked recently by the industry.

Both recommendations will be considered by the board along with testimony heard at the annual public hearing on auto insurance rates on Sept. 30.

The rates approved by the board will be effective Jan. 1.

Statewide auto rates were increased 14.8 percent by the board in 1982 and 16.3 percent in 1981.

The staff recommendation would increase premiums that motor vehicle owners pay in 1984 by about $97.5 million while the industry increase would increase premiums $258 million.

The staff recommendation calls for the following changes in various insurance coverages:

Liability:

Basic limits ($10,000 and $20,000) bodily injury, 2.7 percent increase; Increased limits bodily injury, 16.6 percent increase; basic limits property damage, 16.8 percent increase; personal injury protection, 5.2 percent increase; medical payments, 10.9 percent decrease;

In a breakdown of the six categories, Big Spring ranked above the national average on grocery items, housing and miscellaneous goods. Those items carried

Austin driver riled by Turkish impunity

AUSTIN (AP) — Thomas Scholl doesn't want to get involved in a diplomatic controversy with Turkey but he wants an apology and someone to pay $824 for fixing his 1975 Trans Am.

On Sept. 15 a big black limousine forced Scholl's car out of its traffic lane and onto a raised median, causing considerable damage to the underside of the car.

The big black car, which happened to contain Turkish Ambassador Sukru Elekdag, just kept going. "I'd like an apology," Scholl said Thursday. "In this country, it's common respect that when you run someone off the road, you stop to make sure they're not hurt. I guess someone ought to tell the ambassador that."

The Turkish ambassador to the United States was in Austin to address the Austin World Affairs Council.

Elekdag and his Turkish bodyguard were en route to an appointment, riding in a distinctive black Lincoln Continental with the words "City of Austin" on the side. The car was driven by Gwendolyn Ross, a 29-year-old city employee, and was being escorted by an unmarked police car with two plainclothes officers and another limousine with additional bodyguards and the rest of the ambassador's entourage.

The motorcade stopped at a red light near downtown Austin and Scholl stopped in the left lane.

When the light changed, the city's limousine moved over into Scholl's lane.

"I could have either hit their car or run into the median," Scholl said. "I went into the median."

Ms. Ross said she saw Scholl's car hit the median, but was told by the ambassador's bodyguard not to stop.

"I felt bad about not stopping, but with the ambassador and his bodyguard — who is apparently very worried about terrorists — telling me not to, I thought it best to keep going," she said.

When Scholl found that his car could still be driven, he backed off the median and pursued the ambassador's car, honking and trying to wave it over. The limousine didn't stop and Scholl, after writing down its license number and seeing the city seal on the door, decided to go home and report the accident to police.

Police said they would not cite Ms. Ross for leaving the scene of an accident because she was warned not to stop by the Turkish bodyguard. Because several Turkish diplomats have been attacked in the United States and because Elekdag is the ranking Turkish diplomat, she and the other drivers in the motorcade acted correctly by not stopping, police said.

However, the city will probably pay the $824 to have Scholl's car fixed, a police spokesman said.

He was born in Beaver County, Okla., on March 13, 1909. He came to Dawson County in 1920 from Brownfield, Texas. He was a member of the Northridge Methodist Church, the Masonic lodge No. 909 and a 32nd degree Mason. He was also a member of Scottish Rite, where he was past worshipful master. He married Pauline Herndon on Dec. 20, 1925 in Lamesa.

He is survived by his wife; three sons; Wilton Bartlett of Lamesa, Bill Bartlett of Big Spring and Milford Bartlett of Dover, averages of 103.6 percent, 107.2 percent and 101.1 percent, respectively.

However, the city's utility, transportation and health care costs were under the national average. Utilities ranked at 96.6 percent, transportation at 99.5 percent and health care at 96.1 percent.

Elsewhere in Texas, Odessa ranked as the most expensive place to live with a 112 percent average. Also ranking high were San Antonio and Beaumont with 111 percent averages.

The most reasonable places to live of the cities in the test were Texarkana and Hereford which both measured 94.4 percent.

Vodka

Pinkie's is taking a loss by not selling Lenin's liquor, Grimes said. A liter bottle of Stolichnaya goes for $15.29, and the chain sells about 20 cases of the brand a month.

Grimes said the company's decision to put the cork on Stolichnaya shows that capitalists can apply political pressure on the Politburo by putting a dent in Marxist marketing. Pinkie's is responding to the will of the American people, Grimes said.

"We had people in other towns come in and ask if we were selling Russian liquor," Grimes said. "When we 'yes,' they said 'we're not going to trade here anymore.'"

Pinkie's capped Stolichnaya once before when the Soviet Union invaded Afghanistan, Grimes said, and the company will keep the Soviet spirits spirited away until the bottled up anti-Russian spirit in America is consumed.

"We just want to wait and see what the Russians have to say about shooting down that airliner and what the American people's reaction would be to it," Grimes said.

"We'll keep it off as long as the American people stay angry," White said.

In White's store, on the top shelves where Stolichnaya once proudly ruled over other classes of vodka, there is defiantly displayed a large red sign emblazoned with "Nyet!"

Survivors include one son, LaRoy Shafer of Vincent; two sisters, Bethel Ashburn of Crane and Joy Collins of Arkansas; three grandchildren, Terry Shafer, Tony Shafer and Tami Hill; three great-grandchildren, Segun Shafer, Caleb Shafer and Natalie Hill.

Palbearers will be Jack Wolf, Vernon Wolf, Ronald Ashburn, Freddie Kenemer, Joe Harding, Butch Hodnett, Jack Dunn and Elmo Dunn.

Natalie on probation

LOS ANGELES — Singer Natalie Cole was put on two years' probation and fined $300 after pleading guilty to a reckless driving charge, the district attorney's office said.

The Grammy Award-winning daughter of the late singer Nat King Cole had been charged with driving under the influence of drugs. But prosecutors allowed her to plead guilty to a lesser charge, and a Beverly Hills judge imposed the sentence Sept. 13, District Attorney's spokesman Al Albergate said Thursday.

The charge stemmed from a June incident in which she had been stopped by the California Highway Patrol in Beverly Hills. Prosecutors alleged she was under the influence of a depressant.

Miss Cole, 33, entered a drug rehabilitation program earlier this year after a judge appointed her mother conservator of her affairs.

She won a Grammy in 1976 as best female rhythm and blues performer for "Sophisticated Lady."

Everly Brothers reunite

LONDON — The Everly Brothers, once one of the top acts in rock 'n' roll, sang all their old favorites including "Bye Bye Love" and "Wake Up Little Suzie" in a triumphant three-hour reunion concert at Royal Albert Hall.

The 6,000-seat auditorium, normally the site of classical concerts, was packed for the Everlys, making their first public appearance since they split up 10 years ago.

Don, 46, and Phil, 44, provided a night of nostalgia for middle-aged fans. Women put flowers on stage and danced in the aisles of the domed auditorium as the brothers sang backed by a five-piece British band led by one of the country's top guitarists, Albert Lee.

"And they said it wouldn't last," said Don to rapturous applause. "I thought you might ask if we've really made up. Well, we're friends again."

The Everlys last played Albert Hall 20 years ago during their final British tour before they were overwhelmed by the popularity of the Beatles. Ex-Beatles Paul McCartney and Ringo Starr were among the appreciative fans on hand Thursday night.

Tired Hope puts out

LONDON — Comedian Bob Hope, known for his love of hitting a golf ball as well as tickling a funny bone, called it quits after completing only half the 18-hole course at the British golf tournament named after him.

"Bob is feeling very tired," explained tournament organizer John Spurling after the 80-year-old Hope dropped out Thursday after playing nine holes in par.

The tournament raises thousands of dollars for charity.

Pianist to help Poland

LONDON — Australian pianist Alan Kogosowski, who refused to let a broken hand wreck his career, is helping raise funds for SOS Poland, an organization that sends provision to Poland in the winter.

The 30-year-old Kogosowski, who was in an auto accident when he was 21 and smashed all the bones of his right hand, gave an all-Chopin concert in a London church Thursday night.

Peace plan hawked

BEIRUT — The USS New Jersey, the world's only active battleship, steamed toward Beirut today as the Lebanese government leaked a report that a new peace plan had been drafted to halt the bloody civil war.

Beirut radio stations and newspapers said U.S. and Saudi mediators had worked out a comprehensive plan to halt the fighting and convene a Moslem-Christian national reconciliation conference in Saudi Arabia.

The officially leaked reports said President Amin Gemayel's pro-American administration and the Soviet-backed Syrian government were due to make a final decision on the new plan by Saturday. Syria has been supporting Druse militiamen and Palestinian guerrillas in fighting against the Lebanese army since Sept. 4.

The state-run radio also reported that U.S. Navy jets streaked over Beirut and anti-government rebel strongholds in central the mountains today while Syrian warplanes flew over the Bekaa Valley in eastern Lebanon.

Blast rocks Boston

BOSTON — A surge of high-pressure natural gas burst into 4,000 homes and businesses early today, setting off an explosion that demolished a restaurant and triggering 20 fires as gas stoves erupted in flames.

Hundreds of residents of East Boston were routed from sleep and ran into the dark streets as gas wafted through their homes or small fires broke out. There were no reports of injuries.

Two three-family homes were damaged and an explosion gutted Mamma Catina's restaurant.

Police sealed off the densely populated community of three-story homes for nearly two hours, closing tunnels, bridges and roads into East Boston, a finger of land in Boston Harbor.

Deputy Fire Chief Joe Houghton said it appeared the gas surge was caused by a

The protest has not produced any response from the Soviets, said the official, who briefed reporters on the condition that he not be named.

Richard Hull, a spokesman for Boston Gas, said that briefly there was "considerably higher pressure" in gas lines to 4,000 homes and businesses in the area.

Labor nixes deal

TEL AVIV — Leaders of the opposition Labor Party today discussed an invitation by Prime Minister-designate Yitzhak Shamir to join in a national unity government, but Israel Radio says the party's two key leaders have already rejected the offer.

Party leader Shimon Peres and former Labor Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin, who is currently in the United States, made the decision in a telephone conversation, the radio said Thursday night. But in an interview with Israel Army Radio, Peres stopped short of confirming this.

Labor Party spokesman Yossi Beilin told The Associated Press a final decision on the Shamir offer will not be announced until after party leaders meet again on Sunday.

Arab airliner down

ABU DHABI — A Gulf Air jetliner crashed near Abu Dhabi airport today, officials at the airport said. The number of people aboard was not immediately known.

The plane, believed to be a Lockheed TriStar, was on a flight from Karachi, Pakistan to Dubai via Qatar, the sources said. They said it crashed about 30 miles from the airport.

The fate of the people aboard the jet was not immediately known, the sources said.

The sources said a statement was expected from officials in Abu Dhabi.

The wide-bodied jetliner was nearing the airport when it "suddenly lowered its altitude and vanished," said one airport source.

Airport sources said rescue squads were rushed to the Um al-Daham region in Jebel Ali, the apparent site of the crash, and that civil aviation and army helicopters were trying to spot the wreckage.

Autumn arrives

with warm temps

Texas had some cool fall temperatures the last day of summer, but autumn rolled in with forecasts for the mercury to hit summerlike 80s and 90s across the state.

Skies were clear, except for South Texas where there were scattered clouds. No rain was reported before dawn.

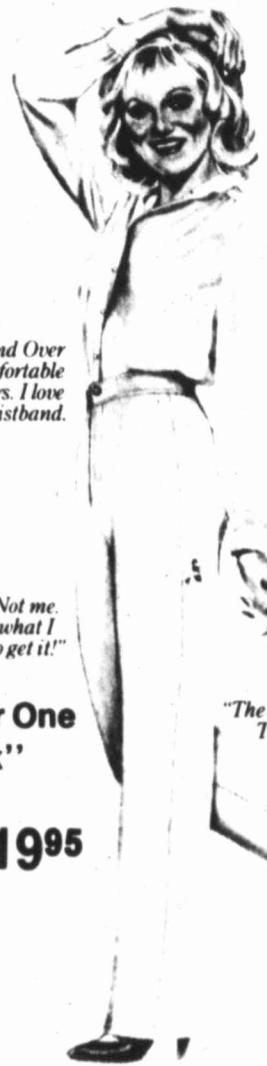

At 4 a.m., temperatures ranged from 46 at Amarillo to 69 in Brownsville.

The young need intellectual tools

Many Americans say that the Japanese and the West Germans and others are outcompeting the United States, taking American jobs. They say something must be done about it — something like quotas on foreign products and tariffs and "domestic content" legislation that would require automobiles sold in the United States to be made with mostly American parts.

Americans would do better to look at the domestic content of minds. A number of blue-ribbon commissions have done just that and agree that this nation faces what one of them, the National Commission on Excellence in Education, called a "rising tide of mediocrity."

Now yet another commission, this one appointed by the National Science Board, policymaking body of the National Science Foundation, has been heard from. But will it be listened to? The 20-member panel, headed by William T. Coleman, the former Philadelphia attorney who served as secretary of transportation under President Ford, spent 17 months studying the condition of precollege education in science, mathematics and technology. It arrived at a somber conclusion:

"The nation that dramatically and boldly led the world into the age of technology is failing to provide its own children with the intellectual tools needed for the 21st century."

Like its predecessors, the Coleman commission notes the "severe shortage" of qualified teachers of mathematics, science and technology. It points out that American children are much less likely to take three years of science and math in high school than are children in Japan and West Germany as well as in the Soviet Union, whose military competition the last six presidents repeatedly have warned against. It calls for higher achievement standards and longer school days and years — the average school year in the United States is 180 days, as against 204 in the Soviet Union, 210 in West Germany, and 220 in Japan.

Like its predecessor again, the commission insists that, as Coleman put it, there is a "crying need for national leadership and a national commitment" to overcome the failures of American education.

Early this year, the Reagan administration, which practically had eliminated federal support of science education, proposed a quick-fix program of $75 million to recruit and train science and math teachers. The Coleman panels calls for the commitment of $4.6 billion over the next six years for the same purpose and for improved curriculum standards and a network of "exemplary" science and math schools.

Is the price too high? What's the price of losing American jobs and business to foreign competitors? What, in a world where science and technology are racing ahead, is the price of falling behind? What's the price of mediocrity?

Around the Rim

By NICK GREENWALT

Let's be serious

I read recently where the NAACP's Benjamin Hooks compared the crowning of the first Black Miss America to Jackie Robinson entering the National League as the first black baseball player. The NAACP has done a lot of good things and I'm sure Mr. Hooks is an intelligent man, but I wonder if he thought about that statement. Robinson broke into baseball as an infielder with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1947, seventeen years before the civil rights movement began. Back then many hotels and restaurants barred black customers, they had to sit in the back on buses and they had to sit in the balcony in theaters; even restrooms and drinking fountains were marked for whites only. Many people who were not outright bigots believed in "separate but equal," the only problem being that for blacks, facilities were not equal. During his rookie season Robinson experienced segregation as well as name-calling from opponents and fans, opposing baserunners trying to spike him when they slid into base, opposing pitchers trying to hit him, an occasional player refused to play as long as Robinson was in game and he was even the target of occasional death threats. Despite all this, or maybe because of it, Robinson hit .297 and led the league in stolen bases. He was also second in the league in run scores, led the Dodgers in home runs with 12 and was named rookie of the year at season's end. I don't know about you but I think comparing a woman who wins a beauty contest in 1963 to a man who faced hate daily and still performed is a bit much. It's more than a bit much, it's an insult to Robinson who excelled in a business where he was not wanted by many and regarded as an oddity by others. Why do we have this endless compulsion to compare? While I'm a strong critic of beauty contests I feel bad that Vanessa Williams is being compared to anyone. She has even said that her win was for her, not for her race. Anyway, I thought our society had at least grown beyond the point of calling a person a credit to his or her race. Comparing is unfair to both parties. For example, both Andy Rooney and I write columns, but I'd hate anyone to compare me with him. Rooney is a brilliant man capable of moving a reader to laughter and tears in the same paragraph while I still get excited at producing a sensible sentence spelled soundly. We all have a right to be judged and accepted for our own achievements.

Pentagon garage sale

The Pentagon was having a spare parts garage sale the other day, and I went over to see if I could pick up any bargains. There were spare parts spread all over the parking lot. I picked up a Phillips screwdriver, and a colonel came over and warned me, "If you break it you pay for it." "How much is it?" "The colonel looked in a book. "I'll let you have it for $760." "Seven hundred and sixty dollars for a screwdriver?" "We paid $990 for it. It's a heckuva bargain. This is not an ordinary screwdriver. It was made to screw bolts in F-16s." "Let me think it over. What else have you got?" "Here's a chief petty officer's flashlight that you can't pass up. It's yours for $230, without batteries." "How much are the batteries?" "The colonel referred to his book. "We paid $140 for two. I'll throw in the batteries for $50 if you take the flashlight for $220." "You'll be losing a lot of money on the deal." "This is a garage sale, and we've been told to get rid of our spare parts before Congress finds out how much we've been paying for them." the colonel said. "What are these little black squares?" "They're silicon chips for our night fighters. The aviation company who made the fighters sold them to us for $1,500 apiece. But you can have a dozen for $999." "You can buy these chips in any Radio Shack for $4.95," I said. "We just found that out," he replied. "That's why we're selling them so cheap." "What are these tires over there?" "They're for mobile missile-launchers. They're a steal. The defense contractor charged us $1,200 for each tire, but we've reduced them to $600." "How can you afford a 50 percent markdown?" "We're suing the contractor for overcharging us $900 a tire, and if we win we'll come out ahead." "And if you lose?" "It doesn't matter because every time we fire a missile all the tires on the launcher blow out." "I really don't need tires." "If you want a good buy you ought to take one of these M-1 tank transmissions. We paid $400,000 for each one, but we're letting them go for $50,000." "Do they work?" "If they worked do you think we'd be selling them for $50,000?" "Are those Army pup tents over there?" "You better believe it. They've never been used. The list price was $6,000 for each one, but because it's General Patton's birthday, we're giving them away for $4,000 today. You'll never get to buy a pup tent at that price again." "I've been to garage sales before," I said, "but this one beats them all." The colonel said, "The way we look at it is the taxpayer paid for these things, so he should get first crack at buying them at a discount. It's our way of thanking him for supporting the military buildup." "There are so many bargains, I'd like to buy everything in the parking lot." "I wish you would. It would get me off the hook." "Why?" "I was the chief purchasing officer for the Pentagon until they found out this $7,000 walkie-talkie could be bought at Sears Roebuck for $18.95."

Man forced to hide from union

WASHINGTON — When Walter Mungovan telephoned, his wife never knows where he is — and she never asks. Mungovan is in hiding, not because he's a criminal, but because the Justice Department believes his life is in danger. Unlike others in the federal witness protection program, Mungovan must be separated from his wife and their 12-year-old son. She has filed suit against the people the Mungovans hold responsible for the family's plight. So she has to be available for court appearances and fund-raising efforts to finance their lonely flight. Mungovan has not been permitted to talk with reporters since he entered the witness protection program, but he relayed a message to my associates Dale Van Atta and Indy Badwar. My associates have been investigating the case for three months. "I am in the position of being cut off from my family, whom I dearly love, through no fault of my own," Mungovan said. "I can't justify what has happened to men when all I did was work hard and try to make an honest living." How did this happen to Mungovan? A memorandum filed in federal court last July by U.S. Attorney Daniels A. Bent lays the blame squarely on officials of the Carpenters union in Hawaii. "(They) were the driving forces behind the destruction of a man, a family, a business and an ideal," the prosecutor wrote. "They transformed Walter Mungovan, a combat veteran, a carpenter and a successful contractor, into a man whose business and family life were virtually destroyed, and into a man who feared for the safety of himself and his business. They bullied him, they threatened him, they shut him down and they willfully and maliciously perjured themselves. They deserve to be severely punished." In fact, two union officials have been convicted of perjury and two others are facing trial. But it is the Mungovans who have been punished most severely. After 13 years as a carpenter and union member, Mungovan went into business for himself in 1979. Within a year, his construction company had 20 employees and was still growing. Then the Carpenters union decided to organize Mungovan's employees. Picket lines went up at the company's work sites, charging that Mungovan was paying substandard wages. But the employees, who were actually paid at or above union scale, voted unanimously not to join the union. That should have ended the picketing. In federal court last year, Mungovan testified that union officials indicated the pickets would remain until he signed up. At one point, Mungovan testified, a union official told him that another contractor's work site would be "torched" if he didn't unionize — a remark Mungovan interpreted as a threat against his own company as well. The months of picketing were slowly wrecking Mungovan's fledgling firm. But the decorated First Air Cavalry veteran decided to fight back. He gave the FBI affidavits and secretly-taped conversations with union officials. That's when the Justice Department decided Mungovan must go into hiding. His business is now ruined, and he is more than $30,000 in debt. His British-born wife, Cher, came to Washington to speak to members of Congress, and hopes to be able to make a personal appeal to the president for help. She wrote to the White House: "I am here alone... trying to fight for what is right... I'm the wife of an innocent man who cannot ask, but needs your help. I am the mother of a son who said to me on the phone, 'Mom, why don't you ask President Reagan? Maybe he cares?'" Footnote: The Drew Pearson Foundation, P.O. Box 2300, Washington, D.C., 20013, will accept contributions to help people like the Mungovans. WATCH ON THE KREMLIN: Everything is hunky-dory with the Vietnamese laborers pressed into service on the Siberian pipeline, letters smuggled out tell a different story. The workers, who thought they were signing up for a few weeks' instruction in Russian and maybe some simple mechanical training, are now stuck for five or six years in a bitterly cold climate, rejected by their Soviet and East European neighbors and working for starvation wages. (One-third of their pay is kept by the Soviets to repay Vietnam's military debts, and another third is grabbed by the Hanoi government).

Billy Graham

Please explain

10 commandments

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I suppose this may sound like a dumb question to you, but where are the Ten Commandments found? Does God still expect us to follow them? It seems like I never hear any sermons on them. — S.P.

The Ten Commandments are found two places in the Bible. The first is in the Old Testament book of Exodus, Chapter 20, verses 1-17; the second is in the book of Deuteronomy, Chapter 5, verses 6-21. In both places it is stressed that the Ten Commandments are given to us by God, and they tell us what God expects of us. If you look carefully at them you will notice that the first four commandments especially concern our relationship to God, telling us that we are to love God and serve him above all else. The second set of commandments (the last six) tell us how we are to act in our relationships with other people.

Yes, the Ten Commandments are just as valid today as they were when God gave them to Moses. They reflect the moral character of God, and they also provide the foundation of right living with others. God's character does not change, and neither does his moral will for us.

Farmers need protection plan

Dear Editor, The Federal Crop Insurance and the Agriculture Stabilization Service recently hosted a meeting for their personnel and the Private Insurance Sector. It was obvious that the intent of the meeting was to impress upon company directors and the government personnel that the 1984 crop insurance was here to stay. And that since it is "the only ball game in town" it would behoove them to put forth the necessary efforts to sell and service it. It was very heavily stressed that this program has the backing of both sides of Congress and Senate. The Secretary of Agriculture is solidly behind it and will support the concept to its fullest. ASCS stated emphatically, that they will furnish "what it takes" to make it a success in their areas of responsibilities. The Private Insurance Sector, Marketing Associations and agents under the auspices of FCIC will sell and service it. One of the major changes from 1983, is to use actual yields to establish all guarantees for cotton and rice with other crops following. I personally agree with this concept. However, I have proven by my consistent efforts to get them changed, that I do not agree with many of the rules and guidelines that will be used to establish these guarantees and related premiums. I will continue to use each and every avenue within the realm of reason to secure future changes. But to be successful, these efforts must be backed by farmers, agribusinessmen and local officials. It makes me heart sick to drive by our drought-devastated farms knowing that only a bare percentage were insured. Knowing that for the most part the farmers concerned are "hooked to the hilt" and just can't afford this. Many may not have insured because of statements by farmers, leaders and officials, who may not have been knowledgeable of last year's advantages and disadvantages. They probably heard someone say "it ain't no good" so they spread the word. I constantly hear statements like "we wouldn't need insurance IF we could get better prices — we wouldn't need insurance IF we had a disaster program — we wouldn't need insurance IF — I agree but we don't. Insurance is what we have. Crop Insurance is and will be the farmer's disaster protection. (Running to Washington after the disaster occurs, to hopefully receive "some aid" and a splash of publicity "just won't do it any more.") We must take steps to secure for this area a COST/VALUE protection plan that will give us the continuous protection we need (not want) before the disaster strikes or in the present case — continues.

Smoking, children studied

BOSTON (AP) — Evidence of slow lung development and an increased risk of emphysema and bronchitis among children whose mothers smoke suggests that parents should snuff out their cigarettes when the youngsters are present, a researcher says today.

The study by Dr. Ira B. Tager of Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston concludes that children may risk serious lung diseases later in life if they are brought up by mothers who smoke.

"I think there is reasonable grounds to advise parents that if it's possible, they ought to minimize the extent to which they expose their children to cigarette smoke," said Tager.

However, he cautioned that it is not yet clear whether the lung damage occurs before birth, when mothers smoke during pregnancy, or later, when the youngsters breathe smoke-filled air at home. "Most of the mothers who were smoking when we did the study were also smoking during pregnancy," Tager said.

CBS News plans new show

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Moyers and Charles Kuralt will co-anchor a new CBS News show tentatively called "The American Parade" that will include Walter Cronkite and Dan Rather as occasional contributors, the network has announced.

Gene Jankowski, president of the CBS Broadcast Group, said Wednesday that CBS News has been given the go-ahead to develop the program for broadcast in 1984.

Jankowski told a meeting of the Radio-Television News Directors Association in Las Vegas that the new prime-time broadcast will also have Bill Kurtis and Diane Sawyer as major contributors, while they continue with their anchor duties on the "CBS Morning News."

Rather, current anchor of the "CBS Evening News," and his predecessor, Cronkite, will participate in the program, "as their schedules permit," Jankowski said.

Dr. Donohue

New thinking on diabetes diets

Dear Dr. Donohue: What's the story on diabetics not needing to abstain from sugar? I've been a diabetic for 10 years and have always used artificial sweeteners. Now I read that I can use table sugar like anyone else. Is this right? — Mrs. E.E.

Before you abandon your artificial sweeteners and begin using table sugar, you must check with your doctor to see if this is safe for you. The information you read about sugar needs some explanation, but I want to be sure to get the first point across to you right away.

Let's look at sugars. What are they? They are one form of foodstuffs, called carbohydrates. Starches (potatoes, pastas, etc.) are another kind of carbohydrate.

The healthful diet, the experts tell us, and that includes for the diabetic, should be such that from 50 to 60 percent of total daily calories are in the form of carbohydrate foods. We've been taught that a diabetic should use simple carbohydrates (like table sugar) sparingly.

The reason for that warning is that simple carbohydrates are more rapidly digested and are thus more easily absorbed into the blood than the more complex kinds, like starches.

This rapid absorption of sugars could cause wide fluctuations in blood sugars. And of course, the diabetic's problem is an unstable blood sugar level.

Recent evidence suggests that simple sugars may be OK for a diabetic IF taken in controlled amounts as part of a well-balanced diet and when weight reduction is not needed. So, yes, there is some revision in thinking about the use of sugar in diabetes. But please, before you abandon your artificial sweeteners and begin using table sugars, check with your doctor to see if that is safe for you. You must never alter your treatment on the basis of something you read.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Will a drink of whiskey on a very cold day help keep the body warm? — H.D.

No; when a person takes a drink of whiskey, he may sense a warmth. That's because of a fleeting increase in blood flow to the skin and stomach. But that's it. After that transient warmth, it's all bad news. The person perspires, which means a loss of body heat. And, in large amounts, alcohol depresses the body's temperature regulation mechanism.

Temperature falls further. If the outside temperature is quite low, the body-temperature-lowering effects of alcohol will be more pronounced. Whiskey in the body doesn't act at all like anti-freeze does in a car radiator.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Our son is asthmatic and is on medicine. He has trouble when we are in our car, and it seems worse with air-conditioning. He wheezes more. Can it be the change in temperature? We'd give up the air-conditioning if we thought it was related. — K.B.

It would be worth a try to eliminate the air-conditioning to see if that is his problem. It might be. Molds can find air-conditioning systems convenient places to multiply, and they can be blown about a car's interior (or a home's) to elicit an allergic response. The same, of course, is true of heating systems.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Sheri Wilson tells lodge members about pilgrimage

Big Spring Rebekah Lodge #284 met Sept. 13, with Sheri Wilson, noble grand, presiding.

Robert and Sheri Wilson attended the pilgrimage for the Children's Home in Corsicana and the Home for the Aged in Ennis. Wilson is on the board for the two homes. During the trip they visited Carrie Acker at the children's home. Carrie is the girl the lodge sponsors.

A $50 donation was sent for the children and older adults to attend the State Fair in October.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served and birthday right held. Hostesses were Mary Leek, Jewels Fields and Lillian Rhyne.

Cake and coffee was served at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Sept. 14. Johnnie Kemper and Lillian Rhyne donated the cakes.

Lila Holland received the weekly gift, while Olean Melton was given the special gift.

Dear Abby

Mother's model son can go straight to the top

DEAR ABBY: My good-looking, 19-year-old son, "John," was encouraged to go to modeling school here in our city. Upon graduating he was accepted by a well-known modeling agency in New York.

My husband and I have been warned by someone in the fashion industry that most of the men in the modeling profession are homosexual. Since John expects to go to New York in a few months, do you or any of your readers have any advice for him other than to "forget it"? Do you think he can make it in that profession without being compromised or intimidated when he makes it plain that he is heterosexual?

Is a young man's sexual preference formed by his age, or is a man always vulnerable to try anything?

CONCERNED MOM
DEAR MOM: I have advice for "John," since he has asked for none. But I have some for you, Mom: If your son is heterosexual, you need not worry about the possibility of his being "compromised or intimidated" by homosexuals in the modeling/fashion profession; his sexual orientation — not "preference" — will have been formed by that time.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow of 70. My husband and I raised all our children with the same amount of love and understanding, but the only one who has shown any love and caring for me is our youngest. If my husband knew how the other ignore me, he would turn over in his grave.

Abby, the youngest telephones me every evening to chat for at least half an hour and visits me often. The others I rarely hear from (unless they want something), and if I want to know how they — or their children — are, I have to do the calling. We are on friendly terms, but it is apparent that they couldn't care less if I were dead or alive. Of course I invite them for dinner, they are all here to put their feet under my table and fill up. But they never invite me.

The big question: Do I treat them all alike in my will? My husband left me everything. I am thinking very strongly of leaving my estate to the one who deserves it.

If I tell the others now, they will probably treat me nicer only for the money, which is empty as an upside-down bucket. That kind of "love" I don't need. What do you say, Abby?

HEARTBROKEN MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Where is it written that children should automatically get what their parents have worked and saved for? Tell your lawyer how you feel. Do exactly as you please, and surprise your heirs.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter wants a big, fancy wedding, plus a reception, band and everything that goes with it, but we can't afford it. Not only that, but she and her fiancé have been living together as man and wife for two years already. Maybe we're old fashioned, Abby, but we don't think it's right for a couple who have been living together that way to have that kind of wedding.

Our daughter is very upset with us and thinks we should try to find the money somewhere. Both she and her fiancé work, and his parents are well-off financially. We are not. We love our daughter and want her to be happy. What should we do?

WEDDING WOES
DEAR WOES: If you can't afford to give your daughter the kind of wedding she wants, that should settle it.

Tell your daughter that you love her and want her to be happy, but she will either have to settle for a wedding that's within your means, or she and her fiancé should try to "find the money" somewhere.

If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, send for Abby's complete booklet on letter writing. Send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents) self-addressed envelope to Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Dr. Hope featured at nursing seminar

"Professional Nursing Issues of the '80's... Into the '90's", a two day workshop, will be held at the Veterans Administration Medical Center, Sept. 27 and 28. The seminar will be sponsored by the South West Regional Medical Education Center based in Long Beach, California, the educational arm of the Veterans Administration.

Featured speakers will be Gloria Hope, R.N., Ph.D. of Washington, D.C. and Mrs. Marjorie Wright, R.N., M.S.N. of Dallas. Dr. Hope has been associated with the VA Nursing Service for 30 years, having retired from the position of Deputy Director, Nursing Service. Additionally, she held positions in the VA as instructor, Chief of Education and Training where she was responsible for progressive policy making, program development and development of human potential in 172 VA hospitals. She is active in local community programs, regional medical programs where she develops nursing's input and on all levels of the National League for Nursing and the American Nurses Association, serving on committees and involved in goal setting. Dr. Hope has held faculty appointments at Penn State University and the University of Pittsburgh.

On the international level, earlier this year Dr. Hope conducted a workshop in "Change Theory" at St. Luke's College of Nursing in Tokyo. In April she presented a paper "The Health Care Industry in the 21st Century" at the International Economics of Health Care Conference in Paris. Mrs. Wright was Chief Nurse at Dallas VA Medical Center and prior to that was in VA Central Office for six years where she was liaison for Mental Health and Behavioral Science Services. Presently she is Assistant Professor at the University of Texas School of Nursing at Arlington.

The purpose of the workshop is to develop an appreciation for the emerging role of the nurse in the health care system. Participants will learn about recent technological developments that will substantially change the nature of nursing in the future.

VA personnel, Mrs. Purita Baylon, R.N., Patient Care Coordinator and Mrs. Paula Smichnick, R.N., Staff Nurse, served on the planning committee. Topics to be discussed include organizations as social systems, professionalism and accountability, and role theory and implications for nursing. Joan Shaw, R.N., M.S.N., Associate Chief, Nursing Service for Education at Big Spring VA Medical Center will present excerpts from her research on "Brain Dominance Theory and Implications for Nursing."

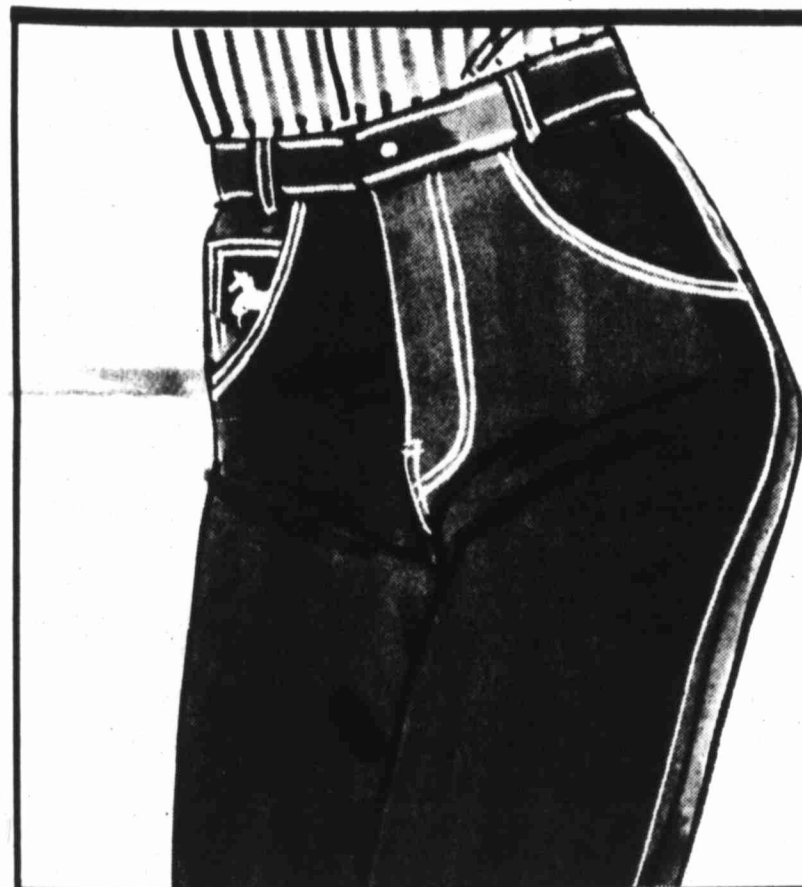

Participants will complete instruments designed to help them analyze strengths and weaknesses in relation to their present and future nursing roles in the health care system. The seminar is open to all professional nurses in West Texas.

Friday's football forecast

Coahoma (2-1) at Reagan Co. (2-1)

Coahoma is really rolling now, coming off a strong performance against Tahoka. The Bulldogs showed a new wrinkle with its passing attack last week as junior quarterback John Swinney tossed a pair of scoring passes. Defense allowed only 38 yards rushing and none through the air. Dogs must control running backs Howard Williams, a junior, and Timothy Thompson, a sophomore, two inexperienced but talented players says coach Larry Hudson. Reagan Co.'s split 6 defense will give challenge to Coahoma offensive line. CHS needs to keep improving before stepping in 6-AAA ring. They'll take big step tonight. (Game time 8 p.m.) Coahoma 20, Reagan Co. 13

Colorado City (3-0) at Wylie (1-2)

Colorado City is 3-0 and showing off a stout defense and multiple offense. Wylie played tough opening games against Sweetwater and state-ranked Ballinger before downing Jim Ned last week. Even though the game is in Abilene, the Wolves will howl for fourth time behind Chitsey-Rivera-Hamilton attack. (Game time 8 p.m.) Colorado City 26, Wylie 14

Stanton (1-2) at Hamlin (3-0)

Stanton is struggling and coming off a hard loss to Crane. Hamlin, meanwhile, is playing well enough to gain No. 1 state ranking in Harris Poll. Leading the Pipers is senior running Eddie Bolden who missed this game (4-0 Hamlin) last year. Buffs didn't get going until after this game last year but need strong performance tonight to stay on the field with the Pied Pipers. (Game time 8 p.m.) Hamlin 30, Stanton 12

Grady (1-2) at Trent (3-0)

Grady had three scoring opportunities but couldn't punch the ball into the end zone in homecoming loss to Ira. This week they meet Trent, unbeaten in three games, was one of coach Richard Gibson's choices to finish second in 2-A this year. The Gorillas have good size, good speed, good talent. The Wildcats will have to wait until later to get win No. 2. (Game time 8 p.m.) Trent 50, Grady 20

Sands (2-1) at O'Donnell (1-2)

Sands righted its ship after loss to Water Valley with big win over Smyer. Again it was Robby Creswell who led the way with three TD's rushing and two others on pass interceptions to provide senior leadership. O'Donnell dropped a heart-breaker at Klondike's homecoming, losing a last-minute field goal. It's O'Donnell's homecoming this time and Mustang coach Jim White is expecting a tough battle. But not tough enough to stop his team from going to 3-1. (Game time 8 p.m.) Sands 28, O'Donnell 20

Garden City (2-1) at Robert Lee (3-0)

The Bearkats have won two straight but are playing a team that has won three straight. Robert Lee put its scoring machine into high gear last Friday against Forsan, getting 34 points. The week before, G-City downed the Buffaloes 16-13. Bearkats are getting surprisingly strong running performance from sophomore Abelardo Madrid to compliment Richard Batla's throwing and running. This game will show how good Garden City really is. (Game time 8 p.m.) Garden City 26, Robert Lee 22

Klondike (1-2) at Jayton (1-0-1)

Klondike finally got on the winning road last week, edging O'Donnell on a late field goal. Coach Mickey Virdell thinks this week's game will tell if his young players have reached needed point of maturity. Jayton is traditionally tough and playing with a week's rest. Jaybirds have two solid backs Coogs will have to stop. Since this game is at Jayton... (Game time 8 p.m.) Jayton 22, Klondike 14

Munday (2-1) at Forsan (1-2)

Forsan was able to move the ball and score against Robert Lee, thanks to outstanding game by junior Mitch Hays. This week's foe, however, is from Class AA and ranked No. 40 in that classification by Harris. Moguls lost to top 10 Class A rated Knox City last week but RB Quincy Adams has team rolling towards repeat of last year's 7-3 mark. Moguls have scored 120 points in three games. Young Buffaloes outmatched in this one. (Game time 8 p.m.) Munday 40, Forsan 20

Sterling City (2-1) at Greenwood (1-2)

Greenwood combined both timely defense and a powerful running back to upset Iran for its first win last week. This week's foe is Sterling City for district opener and Eagles run the ball exclusively and won twice in non-district. Coach Joe Longley thinks his offense is on the verge of really exploding behind Roger Smith and Todd Foris and passing of sophomore Chad Longley. Tonight could be the night. (Game time 7:30 p.m.) Greenwood 23, Sterling City 18

4-5A's 'Battle of Unknowns'

Resurgent Big Spring tests mysterious Abilene tonight

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

ABILENE — Two teams searching for identity in District 4-5A meet in Shotwell Stadium tonight. To the winner goes a triple boost of confidence in preparation for upcoming meetings with the league's traditional bullies.

Big Spring High, longing to shed its image of the district's doormat, brings a 2-1 record into opening night; the Eagles, fighting for respect within the Key City under new head coach Don Crumpton, are trying to maintain their level of confidence after two successive defeats.

In other matchups, No. 2 state-ranked Permian (3-0) goes to Midland (2-1), No. 5 San Angelo (3-0) hosts Cooper (1-2) and No. 7 Midland Lee (3-0) squares off against Odessa High (3-0) in Odessa.

Abilene has won this traditional district opener for the past 11 years. Two seasons ago, a touchdown pass in the final 14 seconds of play lifted the Eagles to victory. Last year it wasn't close at all as an 80-yard scoring pass sparked AHS to a 20-6 win in Big Spring.

Big Spring head football coach Quinn Eudy isn't worried with the past, however. "The first district game," he explains, "is important because it is a district game, not because they've beaten us the last 48 years or whatever. We're not worried about the past or the future, just tonight. It's a pressure game, yes, but not because of tradition. These guys have their own identity and want to prove what they can do now."

Crumpton is thinking about the past, but dating back only two weeks. After whipping Ryder in its season opener, the Eagles blew a 10-0 lead in falling 21-10 to Sweetwater and then lost 17-3 to top 20-ranked Longview last Friday.

The former Hereford coach is "worried about the confidence level after losing the last two games" but his team's "practices have been excellent this week, the best of the season," he says.

The Eagle running game has been quiet with only junior tailback Guy Sims showing signs of consistency. Sims, who didn't play football as a sophomore, has gained 136 yards in three games and scored once. Eudy says Sims is in the same mold as the Eagles' 1982 all-district back Ron Lewis.

Junior Mickey Russell has bumped senior Steve Stacy from the starting quarterback's job while junior Lance Bowers is the new fullback, allowing former starter Damon Edwards to concentrate on defense.

Eudy is expecting the Eagles to run from the slot-1, trying to spring Sims free on the sweep or Bowers on counter plays up the middle.

Defensively, AHS goes with a 4-3 with middle linebacker Oscar Villalobos and free safety Ed Bane the players who key the Eagle attack. "They are playing a little more controlled than they did last year," Eudy says. "Their free safety is very aggressive and a fine hitter. They run to the football well and play good technique."

Edwards had to move to defense when linebacker Raymond Montelongo was lost for the season to a knee injury.

Abilene gains 187 yards on offense a game and surrenders 249 after three non-district meetings.

Eudy says to expect more passing from the Steers. Split end Robert Porras and tight end Charley Ragan have caught six passes each to only two for 1982 all-league choice Dale Crenshaw. "We'll go to whoever is open. Whatever gets you downfield."

Mike McKinley is starting in place of Jay Pirkle at fullback while Richard Hilario is working the free safety position in place of the Steer junior. Pirkle hyper-extended a knee against Levelland and although Eudy says he's "100 per cent" now, the other two players have been given the starting nod based on practice time.

McKinley is the team's top rusher, No. 8 in the league with 157 yards and a 6.0 average. Pirkle gains 4.5 and tailback Eric Sherman 5.0 yards a carry.

Junior Tommy Gartman will start at quarterback as Big Spring tries to establish its running game early. Expect to see senior Mark Johnson in passing situations.

As a team, Big Spring is grounding out 261 yards a game and giving up 247.

Pirkle will handle the punting chores for the Steers tonight. His average of 38.6 per kick is ranked fourth in the district.

Big Spring rolled up 200 yards in offense against Abilene last year but only scored one touchdown. Abilene has 238 total offense.

"The kids have shown an extreme amount of dedication," Eudy said. "It's important to them to show to their best ability. They've been busting their butts to do that."

Game time is 8 p.m. Radio station KBST begins its broadcast at 7:30 p.m.

Bean leads Caldwell by stroke

ANDY BEAN WATCHES TEE SHOT FLY
...iron shot from No. 16 gave him first round lead

ABILENE (AP) — Andy Bean, who devoted himself to two solid weeks of practice, proved an old golfing adage.

"It looks like it paid off," he said after taking a one-shot lead in the first round of the $350,000 LaJet Coors Golf Classic.

"It seems like the more I practice, the luckier I get," Bean said Thursday after he was the only golfer in the 156-man field to escape the wind-ripped Fairway Oaks Golf Club course without a bogey.

Bean called his 5-under-par 67, compiled under very difficult conditions, "without a doubt the best round I've played all year."

"The golf course played tough, very tough. In that wind, to get by without a bogey was a major accomplishment."

With the west Texas winds howling at 25 miles per hour — with higher gusts — his was one of only two rounds below 70. Rex

Caldwell, who scored his fourth runnerup finish of the year last week, had the other. He holed a sand shot for an eagle-3 on the 14th, made par-saving putts of 10 feet on both the 16th and 17th, then birdied the last from 20 feet.

"It was seriously windy out there today," Caldwell said.

"The wind was moving the ball around all over the place on the greens. And on a short iron shot, it could move the ball 30 or 40 feet."

"It was really very, very difficult." The conditions produced some exceptionally high scoring, ranging up to an 87 by Dave Jennings. Sixteen others were at 80 or higher. And Wayne Levi, the defend-ding titleholder, withdrew after posting his 79.

LaJet Coors Classic

Hal Sutton, the PGA champion who is attempting to regain the money-winning lead from Fuzzy Zoeller, was 2-under-par and among the leaders until he got to the water-guarded, par-3 16th. Sutton pumped two shots into the pond, and staggered off with a 7. He finished with a 73. Zoeller had the same total.

Two shots back of Caldwell, and three off the pace, at 70 were Lee Trevino, Wally Armstrong, Keith Ferguson, Lon Nielsen, Pat McGowan, Mike Donald and Mick Soli.

Bean, who has won at least once in each of the last six seasons, has yet to win a 1983 title.

He dropped putts of 25 and 30 feet for two of his birdies and reached the turn in 33.

On the back, Bean birdied both of the par-3 holes, each time hitting a 6-iron inside of 12 feet.

THE LIGHT TOUCH

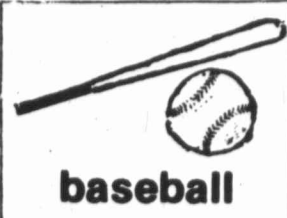

By Sherry Wegner

Did you ever notice how some mothers brag on their kids everytime they do something great? I would never mention that my son made a touchdown, then intercepted a pass & ran 75 yds. for another touchdown (which the ref didn't count due to a clip... it counted in my book son!) & during the last few seconds of the game ran several yards & got within a few inches of another touchdown.

That's right, I would never bore people with things like that. Incidentally, if you're bored I recommend you read Greg Jaklewicz' Sports coverage of the Steer football games!

Rangers regain second place

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Larry Parrish's three-run double in the eighth inning gave Danny Darwin his first victory since July 1 and the Texas Rangers a 5-2 victory over the Seattle Mariners Thursday night.
Parrish drove in Wayne Tolleson, Billy Sample and George Wright, who had all drawn walks.
Darwin, 8-13, had six losses and three no-decisions in his nine starts since the All-Star break before Thursday night.
Jim Beattie, 9-14, equaled his season high of seven strikeouts but was removed from the game after walking Tolleson to open the eighth.
Mickey Rivers led off the Rangers' first with a single, stole second and scored when Parrish doubled.
Tigers 5, Orioles 4
"Sweet Lou" Whitaker has certainly been just that for the Detroit

Tigers this year.
As a leadoff man, he's knocked in 70 runs, including three big ones Thursday night against the Baltimore Orioles that staved off

Chicago over California.
Jerry Koonsman, 11-7, scattered six hits through seven innings to gain the victory with last-inning relief help from Juan Agosto, who picked up his seventh save.
Indiana 9, Brewers 5
In Cleveland, Pat Tabler doubled in two runs and Karl Pagen singled in another as the Indians scored five times during a rain-delayed sixth inning to beat Milwaukee.
Winner Lary Sorensen, 11-10, scattered seven hits in eight innings.
Twins 2, Royals 1
In Kansas City, Kent Hrbek and Dave Engle each drove in a run and relief ace Ron Davis posted his 29th save as Minnesota edged the Royals.
Winner Pete Filson, 3-1, scattered nine hits, struck out three and walked three before needing relief help in the eighth from Davis, who got the last four outs.

Phils expand lead with sweep

By The Associated Press
With the Montreal Expos poised to strike, the stalked Philadelphia Phillies quickly changed into the stalkers.
Veterans Joe Morgan and Mike Schmidt led a first-game power display, and then rookie Charles Hudson fired a four-hitter in the nightcap as the Phillies swept the Expos in a doubleheader Thursday night.
The 9-7 and 7-1 victories in Montreal put the National League East-leading Phillies four games ahead of the Expos, who dropped into third place. Pittsburgh beat Chicago 8-2 to move into second, three games behind the Phillies.
All three contenders have nine games remaining.
"Two victories, that's just sweet!" exclaimed Phillies Manager Paul Owens during the postgame celebration in the Philadelphia lockerroom.

The Phillies won the opener as Morgan — who has 13 hits in his last 18 at-bats — doubled three times. Schmidt belted his 38th home run of the season, while Ivan DeJesus and Ozzie Virgil also homered.

Reds 6, Braves 4
Slumping Atlanta missed another chance to gain ground in the NL West as Dan Driessen's two-run homer, his 12th, put visiting Cincinnati ahead 5-4 in the sixth. The Reds stayed in front and reliever Tom Hume pitched the ninth for his ninth save.
Cincinnati's Jeff Russell, 4-3, allowed six hits over six innings to beat Ken Dayley, 4-7.
Cardinals 3, Mets 2
Rookie Danny Cox allowed five hits in blanking New York over eight innings before running into trouble in the ninth.
Cox, 3-5, departed after Darryl Strawberry led off the ninth with a single and scored on George Foster's double. Reliever Bruce Sutton gave up pinch-hitter Keith Hernandez's RBI single and then got his 20th save.

Aussies tie America's Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The stage is set for "the most significant yacht race in history."
Australia II, the spunky, speedy challenger, and Liberty, the steady, unspectacular defender, clash in the final battle for the America's Cup, sailing's most prestigious prize.
It happens Saturday on Rhode Island Sound. A vast armada of spectator craft is expected for the ultimate race in a sport hardly noted for its mass appeal. This time, it's different.
Australia II made it so. She whipped Liberty by a record 3 minutes, 25 seconds Thursday and tied their best-of-seven series, 3-3. One more victory and the never-say-die Aussies will put an end to sports' longest winning streak.
"It's going to be very exciting to be involved in the race of the century," Liberty skipper Dennis Conner, in danger of becoming the first American helmsman to lose the grand prize the United States has held since 1851, said Thursday.

"We have a very courageous crew and, somehow, I think we'll pull it out Saturday."
"I'm confident that we'll win," said helmsman John Bertrand after pulling Australia II back from a 3-1 deficit with consecutive must-win victories. "But it's going to be a tough race and it's a great finale to a summer."
There was an anxious calm today before Saturday's showdown. Australia II called a lay day to make sure the crew and craft are at their peak for the final thrust at the only international sports trophy never to change hands.

Conner won his fifth consecutive start Thursday, crossing the line seven seconds ahead of Bertrand. But midway up the first leg, Australia II caught up when she picked up a wind shift to the left as Conner failed to cover Bertrand's tacking. Australia II breezed to a massive advantage of 2:29 at the first rounding and led comfortably for the remainder of the 24.3-mile race.
Australia II already has won as many races as the eight other challengers combined in the 12-meter era that began in 1968.
No other Cup series ever has gone to a decisive seventh race.

Cooper crushes Lady Steers
ABILENE — Cooper High took advantage of a disorganized Big Spring team to claim an easy 15-7, 15-2 District 4-5A volleyball victory here Thursday night.
In other 4-5A matches, San Angelo crushed Abilene 15-7, 15-8, Midland rallied by Odessa 15-13, 4-15, 15-12 and Permian knocked off Lee 15-10, 6-15, 15-13.
Tammi Green and Jana Matthews had two service points in each game for the Lady Steers who fell to 2-2 in league play and 6-12 overall. Cooper is 3-1.
"We just didn't play," said coach Susan Sharp. "We made more mistakes last night than we have all year...net violations, bad hits."
"We were six people and not one," explained Vickie Halfmann. "They didn't play well...we just said 'Here, take it.'"
Cooper also won the junior varsity match 15-13, 9-15, 15-4, dropping BSHS to 2-2.
Both Big Spring squads host Midland Lee Tuesday in Steer Gym.

Softball tourney set Friday

A softball tournament sponsored by Miller Beer benefiting the Big Spring United Way is scheduled to begin today at Johnny Stone Park.
Team trophies go to the top six teams with individual awards going to the best four teams. An all-tournament team, most valuable player and golden glove winner will be named.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTEER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You will have lots of interest in making some new conditions that interest you come true and you would be wise to carefully consider them and not let your enthusiasm run away with you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have many ideas but can't decide which to get in motion as yet, so keep studying them and tomorrow you know better.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Good day to sit in the quiet of your study or office and decide on new outlets that fascinate you. Take time to meditate.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Being too busy with other affairs, you have been neglecting personal matters of late, so get at them now. Use care in motion.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get into career affairs early and achieve a good deal, plus being more efficient at them. Socialize with friends.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have some new and progressive course you want to put in motion, so go ahead with it, even if you have to change some partners.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Good day to make business plans that will extend far into the future and talk the matter over first with an expert.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try to gain more good will from associates and you will get better results in the future. Co-workers re helpful.

SCORPIO (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get into discussions about other sports and amusements than the usual with friends for the near future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Change your attitude somewhat and bring more harmony into your home and be happier there in the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Good day for shopping, running errands, making out reports and looking into the newspaper for good opportunities, ideas.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get busy doing whatever can bring you a greater abundance in the days ahead, and don't spend much money.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young persons who will fit right into the current swim of things, so, as parents be alert to what is going on also, and then you can assist your progeny more in realizing his, or her potential.

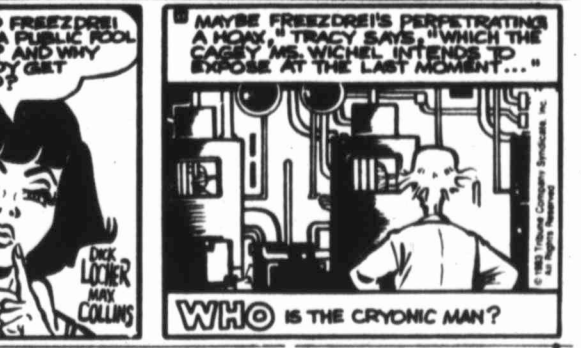

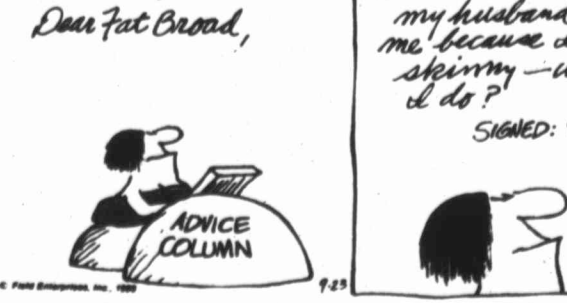

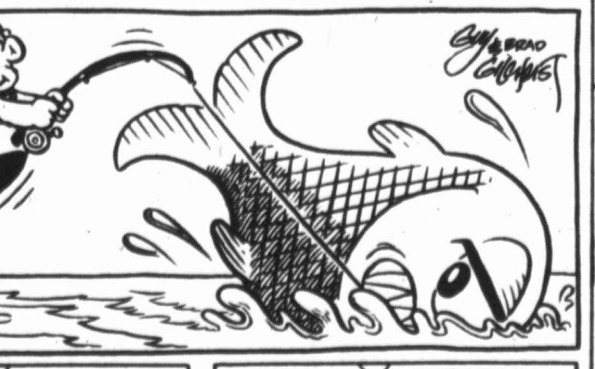

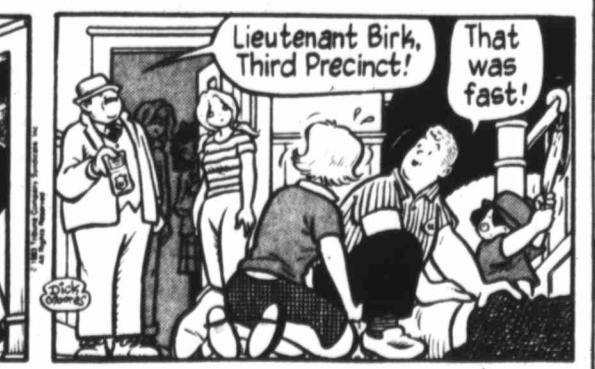

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Pastor helps revive churches

By RHONDA WITT
Church Editor

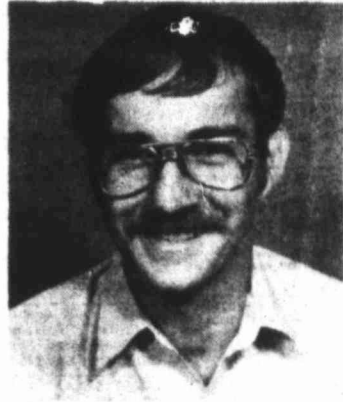

The Rev. Ray Bell, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Coahoma, enjoys rebuilding dying churches. "I come in when churches are in a great deal of trouble and provide them with leadership," he said. "I will only take small churches that are in trouble."

The average attendance on Sunday morning at the Coahoma Presbyterian Church a year ago was 12 to 15 people, Bell said. Now the average attendance is more than 55.

The congregation last year basically had no program and no Sunday school. The offices and social hall, which are now occupied, did not exist, Bell said.

During the past year, the church has begun a full Sunday School and youth program and is planning a young couple's group. The church also has built an $85,000 complex.

After the new social hall was built, church members divided the old social hall into classrooms. "Eighty-five percent of the congregation is involved on a permanent team doing church work," Bell said.

...pastor of First Presbyterian Baptist Church of Coahoma

Bell also is busy helping other churches rebuild their congregations too. He gives 80 percent of his time to his congregation and the other 20 percent for the Presbyterian churches between El Paso, Sonora and the border helping in the redevelopments of congregations. "This congregation cares enough that they are willing to free me of some of my time to help other churches," he said.

The church welcomes newcomers. "In the Presbyterian Church, there is room for everybody. I see the image of our church as one of loving people and not setting requirements," Bell said. "We are not in the business of changing people. Changing people is God's business. If you come we'll love you."

Bell thinks the ministry allows him to share other people lives. "The ministry may be the only place where a guy will come to show you his new car, let you hold his new baby, telephone you about a promotion, and share his despair. You get to touch the heights and depths of life more than any place else. You can really share people's lives."

Bell graduated from Westminster College in Wilmington, Pa., Presbyterian Seminary in Louisville, Ky., and the University of Edinburgh in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Originally from Ligonier, Pa., Bell has been in Coahoma for a year. He has served as pastor at churches in Hanover, Ohio and Warren, Ohio. He is a member of the Coahoma Lions.

Bell and wife Karen have one child, a son, Andrew, 9. Bell's hobbies include raising cactus and a pair of collared lizards.

Robert Polk named to post

ROBERT POLK
...elected to post

Robert F. Polk, former pastor of First Baptist Church, has been elected director of Cooperative Program promotion for the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

In the revised Convention structure, Polk will report to the associated executive director and will work with all boards, commissions, institutions and agencies of the convention in developing objectives, goals and programs of promotion for the Cooperative Program, Southern Baptist's plan of giving and distributing funds for worldwide mission causes.

Polk has served as pastor at the First Baptist Church in Ponca City. He also pastored churches in Bryan and Robstown.

He graduated from Baylor University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He has done graduate work at Princeton Theological Seminary and Union Theological Seminary. Polk is listed in "Who's Who in the South and Southwest," "Who's Who in the Protestant

...gives seminar

Clergy," "Who's Who in Religion," and "The Dictionary of International Biography."

Formerly secretary of the church stewardship program, Polk joined the staff of BGCT Executive Board in 1975 as an associate in the Church Stewardship Department.

Polk has served on the BGCT Executive Board, the BGCT Christian Life Commission, the board of directors of the Baptist Church Loan Corp., and the board of trustees of Oklahoma Baptist University.

Church has program

Hillcrest Baptist Church, located at 2000 W. FM 700, will present an old-fashioned program at 7 p.m., Sunday. The adult choir, orchestra, ensembles and soloists will perform. Participants will wear old-fashioned attire. The public is invited, and a nursery will be provided.

Some of the groups and soloists providing music will be Weldon Tibbs Family, Men's Quartet, Barbara Kennedy, Bobby Baker, Pam Watt, and Promise, a youth ensemble.

Dan Sampson will give a seminar, tonight and Saturday, for Hillcrest Baptist Adult choir in conjunction with the Sunday program. The seminar is designed to give the choir professional direction. Sampson is a singer, songwriter, and recording and concert artist. He is presently music minister at Prestonwood Baptist Church in Dallas.

ALAN HARRIS
...to appear at church

Harris gives program

Alan Harris, evangelist, will be featured during services at the Faith Baptist Church, located at 1209 Wright St., at 9:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., Sunday. He is sponsored by the Teen Action Ministries. The Rev. Bill Berryhill invites the public.

Hailing from Connorsville, Ind., Harris has traveled throughout the United States and abroad with his ministry of song and sermon.

Library for children to be dedicated Sunday

First Church of God, 2009 Main Street, will dedicate a new children's library, Sunday, at the end of morning worship service.

The library is on the second floor of the church. It will be named "The Coy Thomas Memorial Library" in memory of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Truett Thomas of Big Spring. Coy Thomas, who was born and raised in Big Spring, was killed in the Vietnam conflict.

The dedication will include the unveiling of a memorial plaque by librarian Suzanne McCray. The Rev. Robert E. McCray, pastor, will give the dedicatory prayer. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will do the ribbon-cutting. A vocal benediction will be given by Jean McCray and Betty Reagan.
