Freak accident

TRUCK OVERTURNS — Big Spring Patrolman Ed Covington examines the damage to a truck which overturned yesterday while traveling westbound on I-20. The truck driver, Victor Lujan Jr. of Seguin, Texas, swerved to miss a wheel which fell off an east-bound trailer. Lujan is in good condition at Malone-Hogan Hospital with minor injuries.

Seguin man injured in accident

A Seguin, Texas, man was injured yesterday when his 18-wheel tractor-trailer truck hauling frozen chicken parts overturned on Interstate Highway 20 near Cosden Oil & Refinery Co. after it swerved to avoid hitting a loose wheel.

Victor Lujan Jr., driving for Robert Boman, Inc. of Bakersfield,

Calif., was traveling west when the wheel broke off a flatbed trailer being pulled in the east bound lane. Big Spring Patrolman Ed Covington said the wheel rolled over the highway divider and in front of the truck.

Lujan was listed in stable condition this morning at Malone-Hogan

Hospital, said a hospital spokeswoman.

The owner of the trailer, Gary Lynn Stallings of Big Spring, was not injured, police said. No other vehicles were involved in the accident, police said.

Shaffer Ambulance attendants worked to free Lujan from the truck's cab, which was resting on its right side between the interstate and the north service road.

Traffic on the interstate was not interrupted by the mishap, but cars using the north service road were redirected until the truck could be hauled off by wreckers.

White pans aid refusal

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Gov. Mark White, D-Texas, in an obvious attempt to turn the heat up on U.S. Agriculture Secretary John Block, has written a column published in Friday's Washington Post that sharply criticized Block's refusal to approve additional aid for drought-stricken farmers and ranchers.

White suggests the federal farm chief does not understand the severity of the drought because he has refused to visit the parched lands.

"Up close, it hits you in the pit of your stomach in a way that it never will sitting behind a desk," White states, noting that Block last week declined a tour of the ranching country of West Texas.

White adds: "A day spent in the scorching sun, a breath of dust in your lungs, or one conversation with a desperate rancher might convert the most dispassionate viewer."

Block, who is attending a "Farm Progress" show in Iowa, was unavailable for comment Friday.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture last Wednesday approved almost a 40 percent reduction in interest rates on emergency loans for drought-plagued farmers and ranchers.

GOP Reps. Tom Loeffler of Hunt and Phil Gramm of College Station applauded the decision and said it would eliminate the need for an emergency feed assistance program. Ranchers can use the loan money to buy feed grains, the congressmen said.

But Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower, after meeting with Block on Wednesday afternoon, reiterated White's call for disaster payments, an emergency feed program and immediate release of federally owned corn stored in the Panhandle. Hightower said the governor would continue to fight for these measures in Congress.

The column, which was published exclusively in the Washington Post, seems to be the first blow in the battle.

White writes that the drought will drive food prices up and ranchers out of business.

"If that isn't justification to hoist the safety net and provide some fair protection to the guy at the end of the rope, then we need to go back and re-examine the concept of government," White says.

Sen. John Tower, R-Texas, and other drought-state congressmen said this week they will continue to press for emergency feed assistance legislation.

Truck with Texas plates flees death scene

RUTHTON, Minn. (AP) — Police searched today for two suspects in the ambush killings of a bank president and a loan officer who were lured to a vacant overgrown farm that their bank had repossessed three years ago.

Officials refused to say if they knew the identities of two men seen fleeing the farm in a 1978 white pickup truck after the Thursday morning slayings.

The truck's Texas license plate was traced to James L. Jenkins, the dairy farmer on whom the tiny Buffalo Ridge State Bank had foreclosed in October 1980.

In Luverne, about 25 miles away, two men authorities believed to be the suspects used a check drawn on the account of a James Jenkins to buy 100 rounds of .30-caliber ammunition about five hours after the 9:10 a.m. killings, a gun dealer said.

Neighbors said Jenkins had moved to Texas after the foreclosure but had recently returned and bought some land near Hardwick, about 30 miles south of Ruthton in southwestern Minnesota.

Bulletins were issued in Wisconsin, Iowa and South Dakota, but Lincoln County Sheriff Abe Thompson said late Thursday there was "a good possibility they are still in Minnesota."

He added that heavy rain and thick fog made it "difficult to do much" Thursday night. But the fog lifted this morning, and the mayor of Ruthton said that would allow three airplanes to join the search.

SHOOTING SCENE — State and Lincoln County investigators leave a rural Tyler, Minn., area farm Thursday where two bankers were shot to death earlier in the day. The slayings touched off a widespread search in southwestern Minnesota for two suspects.

The victims, 42-year-old Rudy Blythe and 37-year-old Deems "Toby" Thulin, were the only officers of the Buffalo Ridge Bank, which, according to Lincoln County Court records, had bought the farm in August 1981 after Jenkins filed for bankruptcy.

Blythe, the bank's president, had gone to the two-story wood-frame farmhouse with his wife, Sue, after receiving a call Wednesday night from a man expressing interest in buying it. Thulin, the bank's vice president and loan officer, met them there.

Noticing people hiding at the farm, Blythe sent his wife to get the sheriff from Ruthton, said Ruthton Mayor LeRoy Burch.

Deputies hastened to the farm, which is posted with a "For Sale" sign, and found Blythe's body in a ditch and Thulin's body halfway out of a car. County Coroner Richard Mulder said Blythe was shot twice. See MURDERS, page 2A

2 die in mobile home fire

LAMPASAS (AP) — Two children died despite efforts by family members to rescue them from a burning mobile home, authorities said. The bodies of Elena Gauna, 11, and Genie Gauna, 1, were found in the gutted remains of a bedroom following the fire Thursday, according to police spokesman Rene Martin.

The victim's mother, Carol Gauna, discovered the blaze, which apparently began in the living room, when she was awakened about 5 a.m. by the crying of her 7-month-old son, Martin said.

Mrs. Gauna and her husband, Alejos, grabbed the infant and their 10-year-old son before escaping. Gauna and the boy both tried to go back into the home for the other two children, but the fire's heat singed their skin and hair and drove them back, according to Martin.

The cause of the fire was under investigation, Martin said.

Father of mayor beaten

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Mayor Kathy Whitmire's 72-year-old father was beaten and robbed Thursday afternoon at his northeast Houston home, officials said.

Karl Niederhofer was alone in the house when a man knocked at his door about 2:30 p.m., mayoral spokeswoman Twila Coffey said. Niederhofer answered the knock and the man forced his way inside, Ms. Coffey said.

Niederhofer was beaten by the assailant, who knocked him to the couch, took his wallet and fled, Ms. Coffey said.

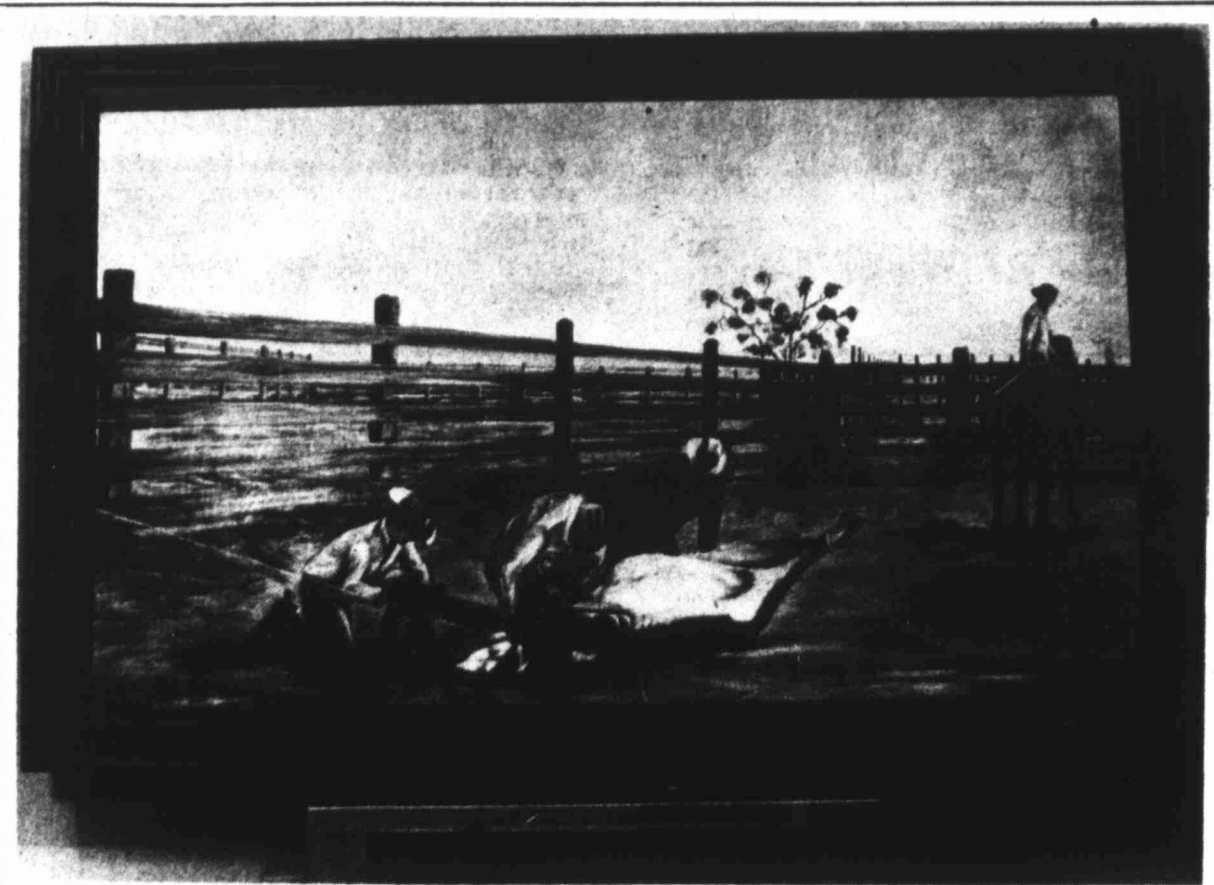

Niederhofer, an electrician, received a facial fracture and a swollen eye during the assault. He was taken to Northwest Memorial Hospital by private car, treated and released.

 in the abdomen and once in the shoulder, while Thulin was shot at least once in the neck. Autopsies were planned today. "If Toby had a gun, they would have never got him. He was the best shot walking," Thulin's father, Larry, said after arriving at the bank, which was closed Thursday. An off-duty, part-time police officer, who did not want his name used, said he had passed the farmhouse Thursday morning and saw two men, one wearing a stocking cap, leaving in a 1978 Chevrolet pickup. Shots were fired at a deputy as police chased the truck across the western Minnesota countryside. In Luverne, gun dealer Harvey Ball said two men whom Thompson identified as the suspects appeared calm as they asked for 100 rounds of ammunition. Ball said they told him they were hunting deer. "They were in no hurry. They just ambled out" after paying with a check drawn on a Hardwick bank, Ball said. That was the last reported sighting Thursday. Residents of Ruthton, a town of about 300 people located 200 miles southwest of Minneapolis, were shocked. "Things like this just don't happen out here in the sticks," said dairy farmer Howard Swanson,

Report delays special session

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Mark White says the only thing keeping him from calling a special session of the Legislature is a report from the Select Committee on Public Education. "As quickly as they can bring that report back ... then we'll be able to move as quickly as we can into a session," White said Thursday at his regular weekly news conference. He said that could be as early as December or January, but if it comes after that, he said he would wait until after the May 5 primary elections. White said he and Dallas entrepreneur H. Ross Perot, chairman of the select committee, had agreed to move ahead "swiftly," but White said, "This is more than just an effort to raise teachers' salaries. This is an effort to try to give permanent improvement to lay a foundation for the long term into the next century, and I think that's worth three or four months, or five or six months of effort." White also applauded the agency that regulates public school athletics, the University Interscholastic

League, whose director on Wednesday called for a reduction in sports programs. "The UIL has recognized their responsibility to constrain interscholastic sports to a point that it's reasonable," White said. "We're not going to do away with interscholastic sports — that's a vital part of our educational process. At the same time, it's not the dominant reason for those people to be in school." He said the schools need athletic programs that give children exercise at an earlier age, and later, programs for students who aren't big enough or fast enough to be on the school football team. "We're not dealing as much as we should with the physical development of children through the elementary years," he said. "They just don't get the physical exercise they need." White said he talked with Perot on Wednesday and came away convinced that committee members "are moving as fast as they can. I've urged them to continue to move swiftly."

Another $138 worth of items were also stolen. David Payne of 1706 Donley told police that five martial arts weapons, including two oriental swords, were stolen from his home yesterday. James R. Morrow, 26, of 1302 Wood was arrested at 12:20 this morning for DWI and traffic warrants.

Man arrested on peace bonds

Howard County sheriff's deputies Thursday arrested Arland Galin Gilbert, 30, of Coahoma in connection with two peace bonds. Gilbert was released later on two $1,000 bonds set by Justice of the Peace Willie Grant. Sheriff's deputies Thursday also arrested Gilbert Moncada Sanchez, 22, of 1011 W. Eighth Street in connection with a charge of revocation of probation. He was released on $1,000 bond set by County Court Judge Milton Kirby. Ms. Juan Morales of Lamesa was arrested Thursday by the Dawson County sheriff's office in Lamesa in connection with a Howard County warrant on a charge of issuance of a bad check. Ms. Morales paid the fine and checks in Dawson County and was released. Police transferred Laura Mae McCommon, also known as Laura Mae Roberts, 22, of Route 1, to the sheriff's office in connection with a charge of criminal mischief. She was released on $1,500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin. Also transferred from the police department to the county jail were Eusebio Chavito Galaviz, 19, of 903 Runnels Street and Ray Galaviz, 19, of 1903 Runnels Street in connection with a charge of aggravated assault. Both were released on $15,000 bonds set by Heflin.

Welfare 'mother' a fraud

FORT WORTH (AP) — A federal indictment charging mail fraud has been returned against a Dallas woman accused of using seven aliases to claim more than $117,000 in food stamps and other benefits for 52 fictitious children, a prosecutor said. The 10-count indictment, returned this week by a federal grand jury here, charges that Delphine Woo used "false and fictitious" identification, including driver's licenses and baptismal records, to obtain food stamps, Medicaid benefits and Aid for Dependent Children payments. The alleged fraud took place between July, 1980 and June 1983, according to the indictment. Ms. Wattlely said the alleged fraud was detected in late June through a computer audit that revealed repetitive claims in the children's names and other irregularities.

Workers cannot be escorted

PORT NECHES, Texas (AP) — Police cannot escort non-union construction workers into the Texaco Asphalt plant here, despite complaints that large groups of people have tossed rocks at the employees, authorities said. An employee of Sunland Construction Inc., based in Eunice, La., reported earlier this month that a group of men threw rocks at him as he drove by the Texaco plant in a company truck, police Capt. Leslie McCoy said Thursday. Pipefitters Local 195 has posted two pickets at a gate to Texaco Asphalt on Texas Highway 365 since early September, the Beaumont Enterprise reported. State District Judge Ronald Walker on Tuesday ordered that Local 195 be temporarily restrained from engaging in any violence at the picket line. On Monday, three of four trucks that tried to cross a picket line were damaged and two employees injured, including one man who was hit in the forehead with a railroad spike, McCoy said. Police Chief C.R. Bennefield said officers who investigated the incident turned up nothing. Bennefield said Sunland employees also reported rock-throwing incidents early Monday and Tuesday. Texaco's asphalt plant, located just outside the city limits, receives police protection from Port Neches as part of an industrial contract. But police said the protection does not include escorting Sunland workers into the plant. "We can't escort people," Bennefield said. "That is a civil matter, not a criminal problem."

TV show closed-captioned

"The People's Court," aired locally over channel 9, KTPX-TV, and Channel 4, KWAB-TV, is now closed-captioned for the hearing impaired, according to station officials. "The People's Court" airs at noon weekdays. Closed captions are visible only if a person has a special telecaption decoder unit attached or built into the television set. Currently, closed caption programs are aired over the ABC and NBC networks. "The People's Court" features Judge Joseph A. Wapner who hears small claims cases during the 30-minute program. All cases are tried just as they would be in California Small Claims Court, and the decisions are legal and binding.

Seeger to perform

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Folk singer Pete Seeger has agreed to perform in a benefit concert to help survivors of the November 1979 Greensboro shootings, which resulted in the deaths of five anti-Ku Klux Klan demonstrators.

Seeger, 64, of Beacon, N.Y., will donate profits from the Oct. 9 performance to the Civil Rights Fund, organizers at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro said Wednesday. The fund provides legal help to widows and survivors of the shootings, which took place during a Communist Workers Party "Death to the Klan" rally.

Lawyers for the fund have filed a $48 million lawsuit charging nearly 90 defendants — mostly government and law enforcement officials — with complicity in the killings. The case is pending in U.S. Middle District Court in Greensboro.

"Obviously, he must have been shocked by the situation ... both as a matter of freedom of speech and as to what the Ku Klux Klan has been doing," said his manager, Harold Leventhal.

University officials said the concert does not mean the school's administration endorses the fund's objectives.

Mick sells autobiography

NEW YORK — Rock superstar Mick Jagger, 40, has sold his autobiography to Bantam Books, Inc., for an undisclosed amount, according to Bantam vice president Linda Grey.

But industry reports have put the sale as high as $1.5 million.

Ms. Grey, who is editorial director of adult fiction and non-fiction, said Jagger's memoirs from childhood until the present will be out next fall.

Watt appreciation day

FORKS, Wash. — James Watt Appreciation Day in this small logging town isn't going to be short-circuited just because the guest of honor isn't coming, organizers say.

"We're still going on with our celebration, with or without him," jeweler Lloyd George said Thursday. "We realize he is busy. We want to honor him."

A clamor for Watt's firing arose last week following comments he made about members of a coal leasing commission. But that merely served to ignite support for the outspoken Interior secretary in Forks, population 3,000, in the Olympic Peninsula.

"Out here, if you say you're against James Watt, you're down," George said.

Watt was invited to attend the Oct. 15 celebration, organized in part to acknowledge work by the Interior Department on the west side of the peninsula, where portions of the Olympic National Park are located.

Watt received the invitation but has a scheduling conflict and won't be able to attend, Phil Million, an Interior Department spokesman in Washington, D.C., said Thursday. "He will send his warmest personal thanks to the community."

Pilots planning walkout

HOUSTON — A proposed nationwide pilots walkout would be a "last resort" to point up the need for government fare regulation, a pilots leader said, as Continental Airlines pledged to keep flying despite a separate strike called for Saturday.

The executive board of the Air Line Pilots Association gave permission Thursday for its president, Henry Duffy, to ask pilots if they would support a nationwide shutdown of air transportation. Duffy would determine the timing and length of the shutdown.

Duffy said the walkout would be geared to focus attention on the difficulties airlines have felt since routes and fares were deregulated five years ago. He said it would take several weeks to explain the board's decision to ALPA members and for a vote to be taken.

Once armed with pilots' approval, Duffy said he would ask a congressional committee to set minimum fares for airlines. If Washington ignores the plea, Duffy said he would call a shutdown as a "last resort."

In addition to Continental's filing for reorganization under bankruptcy court protection, Eastern Airlines has said it needs 15 percent wage concessions from workers or it too will seek to reorganize. And Trans World Corp. said it was considering shedding its money-losing Trans World Airlines subsidiary.

Industry officials and workers alike have blamed the losses in part on the cut-throat competition that followed the government's deregulation of airlines in 1978. After deregulation, carriers were free to set their own fares, fly to any domestic destination at will and suspend service to previous points.

Road traffic paralyzed

Heavy attacks by Nicaraguan rebels trying to overthrow their leftist government paralyzed international road traffic Thursday in much of Central America, and scattered fighting between guerrillas and the army plagued El Salvador.

The Nicaraguan Foreign Ministry made public a note from Costa Rica protesting that Nicaraguan rebels used Costa Rican territory in a hit-and-run attack Wednesday on the border crossing town of Penas Blancas.

In Washington, Henry A. Kissinger, chairman of the National Bipartisan Commission on Central America, announced his 12-man panel will visit Panama, Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras and Nicaragua Oct. 9-15 to talk to top officials, including Nicaragua's Sandinista leadership.

The former secretary of state said the commission has no plans to meet on this trip with anti-communist Nicaraguan or Salvadoran leftist rebel leaders, but there will be meetings with the democratic opposition in the area, he said.

Relations between the United States and Nicaragua have been severely strained since the Sandinistas ousted pro-American President Anastasio Somoza four years ago. Washington accuses the Sandinistas of establishing dangerous military ties with Cuba and the Soviet Union and smuggling weapons to Salvadoran leftist rebels.

U.S. Navy battle squadrons are maneuvering off Central America's coasts and thousands of American troops are conducting land exercises in Honduras if attacks by rebels in that country do not cease.

Thatcher heading home

WASHINGTON — British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher is returning home after accusing the leaders of the Soviet Union of trying to sidetrack genuine arms control with "ridiculous" and unrealistic demands.

Mrs. Thatcher used virtually every appearance here, including television interviews, a news conference, a speech, and remarks after a two-hour meeting with President Reagan to bolster the U.S. arms control position. She declared that Soviet intransigence in arms control talks will be met with Western resolve and newly deployed weapons.

She raised at the White House meeting the Soviet demand that British and French nuclear weapons systems be included in any arms deal curbing the size of the Soviet intermediate-range weapons aimed at European targets.

"It's sidetracking, and we must not be sidetracked," she said at a British Embassy news conference.

Mrs. Thatcher said that if the Soviet union ever permits radical cuts in its arsenal of long-range, strategic nuclear weapons, Britain might re-examine its options regarding its own forces.

But in the meantime, she said Britain's nuclear deterrent represents only about 2.5 percent of the Soviet force and that demands it be placed on the bargaining table now are "absolutely ridiculous."

Watt catches more flak

WASHINGTON — A conservative Republican congressman says Interior Secretary James Watt must step down or face no-confidence votes in the House and Senate.

One of the most conservative Republicans in the House, Rep. Newt Gingrich of Georgia, became the latest Watt supporter to abandon ship, sending a letter Thursday to President Reagan calling for the interior secretary's dismissal.

Gingrich warned that if Watt isn't fired, the administration will lose a series of embarrassing votes in the Senate and House over Watt.

"Mr. Watt's sick joke is a slur on millions of Americans," Gingrich said in his letter. "Retaining him in office clearly implies an indifference to or insensitivity about fundamental human decency."

But at the White House and the Interior Department officials were declaring the flap over Watt's wisecrack about "a black ... a woman, two Jews and a cripple" at an end.

"The Watt matter is behind us as far as the White House is concerned," presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said Thursday, echoing statements made in recent days by various Reagan aides that the president considers Watt's apology sufficient and will not seek his resignation.

At the Interior Department, chief spokesman Doug Baldwin refused to even discuss the controversy further.

"I see no further purpose to be made by commenting on an issue the president has said is closed," Baldwin said.

But Gingrich said the president and his staff were "deluding themselves" if they believed the Watt controversy would go away.

GTE off the hook

LONG BEACH, Calif. — General Telephone Co. will paste a beach scene onto 260,000 phone books to avoid having to pay the U.S. Olympics Committee for mistakenly placing an Olympics trademark on the covers, a GTE spokesman says.

The trademark of five interlocking rings was printed without authorization on those phone directories plus another 175,000 already distributed, said GTE spokesman Hal Compton.

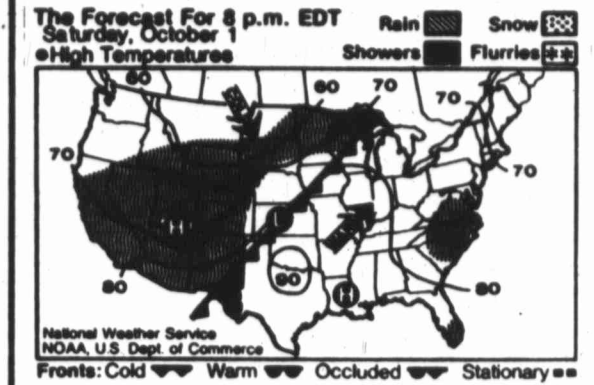

The 260,000 directories, now stored in a warehouse, will be distributed after the beach scene photographs are pasted on their covers, he said.

Compton said that the books that have been distributed will not have to be changed.

No penalty was assessed for the unauthorized use of the trademark Olympic symbol after negotiations between lawyers for the USOC and GTE Directory Co., which was responsible for the mistake, Compton said. The agreement was reached Wednesday.

But Compton said the phone company may have to scrap plans for an Olympics cover devoid of the five interlocking rings because the revised cover, as well as the unauthorized one, includes an Olympics torch that apparently is a protected Olympics symbol.

Weather

Showers linger

By The Associated Press

A storm system over southeastern Ontario brought gusty winds, rain and cool temperatures to much of the Northeast today, while a few showers and thundershowers lingered along the Gulf Coast.

Skies were overcast across the Great Lakes, upper Mississippi Valley and westward to Washington. Fair weather prevailed for much of the rest of the nation.

Showers were scattered from western New England to the upper Ohio Valley. Western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio received the heaviest rainfall, with half an inch at Bradford, Pa. Southerly winds gusted up to 25 mph, and temperatures dipped to the 50s in the stormy areas.

The rain was expected to continue over the Northeast, with showers and thundershowers predicted across Florida and the Central Gulf coast region, across Arizona and southern Utah and over the middle Mississippi Valley. Mostly cloudy skies across the upper Mississippi Valley, the upper Great Lakes and the Middle Atlantic region. Sunny skies were forecast elsewhere.

Today's temperatures were forecast in the 90s across the lower Mississippi Valley and southern Plains, in the 80s to over 100 in the desert Southwest and below 80 from the northern Pacific Coast across to the middle and southern Atlantic coast.

West Texas — Mostly cloudy north and partly cloudy south with widely scattered showers or thundershowers through Saturday. Highs near 80 north to 72 Big Bend. Lows 58 mountains and Panhandle to 65 south.

Editorial was clear, logical

Dear Editor: Your editorial response to the petition to fire Keith Briscoe was clear in its logic and effective in conveying its message. Hopefully, it influenced some of the petitioners to reconsider their belief in censorship. I'm surprised they didn't ask to be established as an advisory committee to screen all applicants for the Herald. Wonder if they thought of just not reading Mr. Briscoe's column as the easiest way to avoid being offended. You should run a poll to show them how many more people believe in freedom of expression as an inalienable right of the American citizen than support their unhealthy position. Moral and religious matters such as prayer and abortion should never be subjected to governmental control. Congratulations, also, on the editorial on equal rights for men. Amen to all of us being courteous and unafraid of doing something for another.

Bible Fund a great success

Dear Editor: On behalf of the Howard County Ministers Fellowship and the Bible students at Big Spring, Coahoma, and Forsan High Schools I would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation for the loyal support to the Howard County Ministers' Fellowship Bible Fund. First, we owe a debt of gratitude to the many loyal supporters who have given year after year to the Bible Fund since 1946. Our total gifts for 1983-84 were $12,997.25. Thanks for helping us once again. Secondly, we owe a debt of gratitude to the Big Spring Herald especially the Editor, Linda Adams, for their support in promoting this year's campaign.

Individuals may still make contributions by mailing them to Bible Fund, 705 W. Marcy Drive, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Your gifts will greatly be appreciated.

Person gave enough already

A Letter to the Editor: I would like to suggest a re-thinking of current policy regarding one aspect of fund raising in the public schools. On Tuesday afternoon I had well over a dozen opportunities to buy candles (desperately wanted, of course) from school children. I bought four — one from each child in the first group — in the spirit of "goodwill towards neighbors," and thinking that would be the end of it. But offers to sell kept coming for the balance of the afternoon. On the preceding Sunday I pledged to purchase 18 pizzas from various sources in support of the High School Band. I do these things because the nature of my work involves children of all ages; I believe in them and wish to lend them support insofar as I can.

Either of these incidents can be cited as practices which are fair neither to area residents nor to its children. Any one household ought not to have to fund an entire class — and it seems grossly unfair that some of the children "make it" while others must be refused out of sheer economic necessity.

I find it further repugnant that some of the children who are making house-to-house treks for the purpose of funding the PTA are so young they have no earthly idea what they are really doing or why they are doing it — but apparently they do it under the full sanction of the School District.

Personally, I would much prefer to make a generous start-of-the-year contribution to the School District; providing it would be divided for the equal benefit of all of the schools, and they would furnish me an "I GAVE ALREADY" sticker for my front door. That certainly seems more sensible and equitable to me than does the present practice.

Sincerely,
M. KEITH ROSS

Wet phone line infuriating

Dear Editor: My name is Bob C. Smith, owner of Bob's Bail Bonds, 3911 West Hwy. 80, Big Spring, Texas. I have been in business over 18 years in the same location, with the same phone number, and for that same 18 years nearly every time it has rained my phone has been inoperative, as was the case on September 13, 1983.

The phone company was notified and we were given the standard answer, "Your phone will be repaired between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. tomorrow." As was the case, when the sun came out and dried the lines, the phone repaired itself, as it has done for the past 18 years. Unexpectedly, it rained again that afternoon, and the phone went out again. We made the same complaint to the phone company, and were given the same reply, it will be repaired between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. tomorrow. However, the sun did not make its repair this time, as it rained a

Billy Graham

Husband still feels guilty

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I never thought I would write someone like you, but I don't know what to do and it is getting to me. You see, I was unfaithful to my wife several years ago, and although I woke up to the foolishness of what I was doing and got away from it, I am still haunted with guilt for what I did. My wife has forgiven me — but I still feel guilty. — W.C.N.

DEAR W.C.N.: Many centuries ago David, one of the kings of Israel, committed adultery with another man's wife, a woman named Bathsheba. Like many others who have done the same thing, he thought he could get by with it and not have any consequences, but he was wrong.

One of the consequences was a deep-seated feeling of guilt in David's heart — although he tried to run from it. Listen to what he tells us: "When I kept silent, my bones wasted away through my groaning all day long. For day and night your hand was heavy upon me; my strength was sapped as in the heat of summer" (Psalm 32:3-4). Why did he feel this way? He felt this way — and you feel burdened by your guilt also — because he had sinned against God.

But David found peace in his heart, because he confessed his sin to God and sought his forgiveness and grace. "Have mercy on me, O God, according to your unfailing love; according to your great compassion, blot out my transgressions. Wash away all my iniquity and cleanse me from my sin" (Psalm 51:1-2). When he faced his sin and confessed it to God, God forgave him. When he knew God had forgiven him he found peace. "Blessed is he whose transgressions are forgiven, whose sins are covered" (Psalm 32:1).

Jesus Christ took away your sins on the cross. Open your heart to him, and trust him to take away your sin and your guilt.

reactions have been those of disbelief that one could hold the opinions that he does. At other times there has been that sense of appreciation because he has expressed an understanding that has been struggling to emerge from my own mind.

I appreciate the expression of support from "the Herald's top management" for its own policy which is stated daily on the editorial page. It is a statement from the also controversial Voltaire. Does it not need to be repeated every day of our lives especially during these days when the democracy we prize so highly is being threatened on every hand? "I may disagree with what you have to say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

How many of the ideas which we now hold to be true and self-evident originated in the minds of men and women who were considered to be revolutionary?

Respectfully,

Fiddling contest needs corrections

Dear Editor: My family and I attended the fiddlers contest held as part of the entertainment at the Howard County Fair, Tuesday, September 20, 1983. I would like to say that I enjoyed the music. I am a musician and there has been four generations of musicians in my family. Not just the run of the mill type either.

If the Fair Association is going to sponsor this event and have out-of-town musicians competing for prize money, they should get three judges that recognize a good musician and good music when they hear it. In my opinion, and a lot of others sitting next to me and my family, the best fiddler didn't place first but second. The second best fiddler didn't place in the top three. The judges gave first place to some guy from San Angelo and third to a local resident. From a musician's viewpoint there wasn't but two real fiddle players in the whole bunch in the older age bracket. One placed second and the other ignored.

It is my understanding that this is primarily an amateur contest for musicians who are not earning (in part or all of) their living by being a professional in the art of music. There was one such person who was given first place in the contest with three much younger musicians. In the past, his father also has been awarded first place in his age bracket. These persons have commercial records on the market (or have had). They have played on recording sessions with the late Bob Wills, Merle Haggard and other professional musicians.

In closing I find this contest to be more of a joke than a contest when permitting professionals to compete with amateurs, some of which were in their early teens. I hope in future contests that this situation can be corrected by awarding prize money to the best musician and by keeping professionals out of it.

Around the Rim

By NICK GREENWALT

Thank you

We met while I was a nervous sophomore in college. My ideas about journalism came from the "Lou Grant" show and she was in her second year of teaching after a stint with UPI as a reporter and an editor. We knew each other for less than a year, an illness forced her to quit teaching that next semester, but in the five months we knew each other she taught me more than I learned in the other 2½ years of college.

She brought reporting to life and her love for the craft was infectious. She cared about the quality of the writing as well as the integrity of the field.

"Reporting has been in trouble since reporters started calling themselves journalists," she once told our class. "We used to be looked at as funny little people scurrying about and sticking our noses in to other people's business. Then we started taking ourselves seriously; we began to become part of the elite and started to drift away from the people we were serving."

She was right, we have. She was also right about T.V. journalism being a sham. She thought it was an artificial occupation that ignored news for fluff.

She was right about that too. In my dreams I see myself winning a Pulitzer Prize while with the L. A. Times. When I do, that semester I spent with her will be a prime reason.

I remember how she always challenged me to do my best. "I don't think you're really trying, you're more talented than this," she told me on more than one occasion while I struggled with an assignment.

Her driving and sometimes rough exterior hid a fine sense of humor. One of my collegiate highlights is that a quip from me once broke her rhythm and made her laugh during a lecture.

Her exterior scared a lot of people. She was extremely honest, but I respected that. Most of the professors I had were good people who were afraid of hurting a student's feelings, but not her. She never hesitated to give an honest evaluation.

Sadly she died of cancer soon after she quit teaching, but while in the hospital she still touched me. She once asked me to postpone a visit because she had just switched medicines. "It makes me kind of drowsy and I don't want to fall asleep while you're here."

"Don't worry about it," I said. "Girls I take out do it all the time."

Later she wrote me a note about how much my offer to visit touched her.

I miss her and think about her often, but at least I had the chance to know her. She never knew it, and neither did I till after she passed away, but whatever success I find in this business I'll owe to her.

I just wish she were here to thank.

Checkout reunion brings sisters together

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pat Speer walked into a small-town supermarket and got more than she bargained for: a reunion in the checkout line with the sister she had lost track of 18 years ago.

"My husband said we made quite a scene," Mrs. Speer said Wednesday of last week's chance meeting with her younger sister, Madeline Cooke. "I was oblivious to everybody else. It was a real high, the feeling and the love. We (had been) very close. It was still there."

Mrs. Speer, 34, had gone to the store in Terra Linda, a Marin County community about 15 miles north of San Francisco, to buy housecleaning supplies. Her sister, who moved to Marin County less than a month ago, was looking for bargains on salmon.

Mrs. Cooke, 32, was standing in line in front of Mrs. Speer when their eyes met.

"I saw her look at me first. I kind of did a double take. I thought, 'My God, those eyes are familiar,'" Mrs. Speer said. "I said, 'Are you Mickey?' And she said, 'Are you Patti?'"

Then came the hugging, the laughter, the tears.

The sisters, adopted by the same family when their biological mother couldn't afford to keep them, had once been "very close," said Mrs. Speer. But they lost track of each other when Mrs. Speer ran away at age 16.

Their reunion "was meant to happen," said Mrs. Speer. On Tuesday, "I bumped into her in the library. If we hadn't met in the supermarket, we would have met in the library."

After hours of catching up, the sisters discovered they shared an intense desire to find their biological families. Both had been searching for about two years, and Mrs. Speer had found their mother and older brother with the help of a group called Adoptee Liberty Movement Association.

"I took a chance," Mrs. Speer said of her search for her real mother, who gave up her children because she could not afford to take care of them. "I know a woman who found her real mother, and her mother didn't want to see her, didn't want anything to do with her. But my mother was really, really excited. She said she had prayed it would happen."

Mrs. Cooke lived in Oregon 20 miles from her natural mother for years without ever knowing it. And Mrs. Speer said her adoptive family knew Madeline's whereabouts but refused to tell her.

"You get so obsessed and preoccupied with not having a family, and the heaviness of the obsession weighs you down until you decide you can do something — you can go out and find them," Mrs. Speer said, adding that now the sisters want a real family reunion. "I've been inspired," she said.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!!

Dr. Donohue

Woman has questions about bursitis

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Can you tell me something about bursitis? I had pain in my knee and my doctor said it was bursitis. I was afraid it might be a blood clot. I am wondering what causes it in the knee and what else besides aspirin can be used for it. — Mrs. V.E.

You know how some mechanical gadgets have little bearings that allow movement without friction. The body's version of such bearings are bursa. They are little sacs strategically placed throughout the body to allow tendons to glide over bones without causing friction and inflammation. We have bursa all over the place — hips, knees, shoulders, elbows, and so on. When one or several are inflamed you have bursitis.

Why does this happen? Why do the bursa get inflamed by simply doing the job for which they were designed? The answer most often is overuse or misuse of the joint in question. A notable form of bursitis involves inflammation of a bursa which is unfortunately located in front of the knee. It is a large bursa, which makes matters worse. So if you scrub floors for years your knees can become painful because of chronic irritation and inflammation of this bursa. That's housemaid's knee.

Often, simple rest, aspirin and warm soaks take care of matters as the inflammation subsides. The swelling goes down, and you learn afterwards to kneel differently or use a soft pad. If irritation has been going on for some time and the inflammation has gotten out of hand, then stronger medicine may have to be added to treatment — steroids, which are powerful inflammation fighters. But most bursitis, as painful as it can be, can be controlled with the simpler measures mentioned first.

There's one further thing to mention. Bursitis that is allowed to progress unchecked can turn into chronic bursitis, and that is more difficult to cure.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a female. I was rushed to a nearby hospital for surgery when it was found I was pregnant in my tubes. I had ruptured. My question is, will I be able to become pregnant again with only one tube? Will I have the same problem again? My husband and I have been trying for so long but with no results. Please answer with good assurance. It could change my life. I also had other children, ages 15 and 13, with normal pregnancies. — Mrs. F.G.

I wish I could give you the great assurance you want. All I can do is run through a series of conflicting percentages that tell you the ability to conceive after having had a tubal pregnancy.

One source says that a third of women are able to conceive successfully when the tubal complication arose in their first pregnancy. And more than 80 percent of women who had children before the tubal pregnancy were able to conceive again without problems. That, I assume, is where you fit. Other studies state flatly that a woman who has a tubal pregnancy has a 50 to 60 percent risk of never becoming pregnant again.

Dear Abby

Bedroom controversy uncovered

DEAR ABBY: A friend and I are having a difference of opinion. Does a person "make a bed" or "dress a bed"? Please settle it.

FOR ACCURACY IN SPEECH

DEAR FOR ACCURACY: Speech is a method of communicating a thought or idea. Speech at its best is communicating simply and clearly.

When someone says, "I'll make the bed," I understand what the person means. "I'll dress the bed" sounds pretentious. (One dresses himself, a doll or a chicken.)

The word "make" is used in any number of ways: to make believe, make do, make good, make book, make fun, make eyes, make sport, make hay, make love, make waves, and to make a mountain out of a molehill, of which this is a dandy example.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I've never seen in your column. "Bobby" and I have lived together (happily) for three years. He's a beautiful, caring man, and I know he loves me, but he won't marry me for a reason you're not going to believe. He's afraid of the blood test.

Ever since he was a young boy he's been terrified of needles — so much that he hasn't been to a doctor for 10 years.

I'm pregnant now, and Bobby is delighted. Our child will have his name, but I won't. I hate the thought of being an unwed mother, but we can't get married unless Bobby takes a blood test, and he has flat-out refused.

What should I do? Don't suggest that Bobby see a shrink. He's been seeing one for five months about another problem, but he refuses to tell his shrink about his fear of needles.

NO MRS. IN MANHATTAN

DEAR NO MRS.: An ultimatum is in order. Tell Bobby that if he doesn't tell his "shrink" about his needle phobia and how it is affecting his life and yours, you will. Has that "beautiful, caring man" ever considered hypnosis for a painless blood test? Suggest it.

If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, send for Abby's complete booklet on letter-writing. Send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Mike Perry speaks on BSSH's plans for "Adopt a Patient"

Mike Perry, director of Chaplaincy Services at Big Spring State Hospital, presented the program "Adopt a Patient" at the City Extension Homemakers Club meeting, Sept. 23.

The meeting was held at Spanish Inn. Dolores Norred presided.

BSSH plans to initiate an "Adopt a Patient Plan" which would utilize groups or persons to adopt one patient and provide the patient friendship and an outside contact. Many patients have no family and receive no visitors or mail.

Perry explained the various methods in which the plan could be carried out. Perry is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

Roll call was answered by "A Book I Have Read." Alta Lee Underwood and Lillian Dawson participated in the Leader Training meeting at the County Extension Agents' office, Sept. 26.

The Home Economics Survey was used for picking programs for the upcoming years. The next meeting will be held at 600 Edwards Circle, at 2 p.m. Oct. 14.

A meeting also will be held Oct. 3 at the Youth Hall of First United Methodist Church for delegates to the State Meeting.

A CRYPTIC VIEW — Elderly Mankato, Minn., residents glimpse into a mausoleum burial at Woodland Hills in Mankato during a visit to burial facilities. The Vetter Funeral Home picks up elderly residents in its limousine and gives them guided tours of the funeral and burial facilities as part of their campaign to sell "pre-need" or "pre-arranged" funerals.

Funeral sales tour sparks business

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) — A funeral home employee spurning industry tradition may have come up with a sales plan whose time has come — even if the occasion hasn't. He offers freebie limousine trips as part of a "pre-need" funeral sales tour.

Dick Porter, a sales representative for the Vetter Funeral Home at Woodland Hills Cemetery, picks up potential customers for a day trip to the mortuary.

During one recent tour, a shiny black limousine cruised up to the door of the Walnut Towers senior citizens high rise to meet nine elderly women who oohed and aahed and tittered some.

In a flash, Porter bounded through the foyer. There was a let's-get-this-show-on-the-road urgency in his step and good cheer in his voice.

"Well, we got a real lovely bunch this morning," Porter said as he greeted the residents.

With that, the entourage was whisked into the limousine for an outing that netted them a crisp $2-bill, a fresh white carnation and a quick delve into mortuary science.

First stop on the Vetter tour was Sue's Floral for flowers for the women. Then on to the funeral home and cemetery, where the ladies spared no questions.

"Are we going to see where they do the cremating?" one woman asked.

"Absolutely," Vetter representative John Allen said.

The tour included stops in the funeral home's new chapel, mausoleum and "cremation niches" where, the women were told, ashes are placed and left "forever."

There were no overt sales pitches, only informational banter between the women and Vetter staff.

If the women felt any sense of the macabre, they weren't letting on. The mood was anything but grave, and there was laughter among the crypts.

"Listen to them," funeral home manager Howard Fletcher said. "Doesn't sound like there's much fear there, does it?"

The tour reflects aggressive marketing trends in the funeral industry. Fletcher says it is called pre-need sales and it differs from the traditional "we'll be here when you need us" approach.

It is a conflict that doesn't set well with many traditional funeral homes, Fletcher said Wednesday night.

"I'm sure if you talked with other funeral directors they would put it down so fast it isn't funny. They'd probably be repulsed." He's right. "I consider it an unprofessional act. Totally unacceptable," Landkammer's Funeral Home manager Edward Fraser said of the tour, which ends with a lunch stop at a restaurant.

Johnson-Boman Mortuary manager Larry

Essen also is put off by the idea, calling it "a gimmick."

"But that's fine," he said. "It's just a difference of opinion."

Essen agreed that pre-need funeral arrangements make sense. But he disagreed with the hitting-the-street sales approach. The aggressive funeral sales can produce a backlash, he said.

Innocent man gets $10,000 check

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A man who spent 4 1/2 years in prison for two attacks he didn't commit has received a $10,000 check from an anonymous donor.

The gift from a Milwaukee resident went to William Bernard Jackson, who was released from prison in 1982 after police charged Columbus physician Dr. Edward F. Jackson Jr. with the two rapes.

An unmarked envelope containing a cashier's check made out to William Jackson arrived this week at the offices of The Columbus Dispatch, along with an unsigned letter.

"I don't believe this. Look at this," Jackson, 31, said as he tore open the envelope and saw the check.

"He's a very private person and he wants to remain anonymous," an associate of the donor told the newspaper.

"All he's trying to do is achieve the end result and that's to help Mr. Jackson get back on his feet. Mr. Jackson obviously feels a lot of cynicism. Maybe this will help him ease the bitterness, although you can never fully pay him back for those years he spent in prison."

Jackson had been unemployed since his release from prison. Last week, he was hired by the Sutphen Corp. after company executives read a newspaper account of his efforts to find work.

"Buy a car, a nice car," Jackson said Tuesday when asked what he would do with the money. "I've been having a friend bring me to work, but he won't have to do that any more." Edward F. Jackson Jr. admitted the crimes, along with a dozens of other rapes, and was sentenced last week to more than 600 years in jail after a jury in Akron rejected his insanity defense.

Distracted Schrom blanks Rangers American League

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota pitcher Ken Schrom's mind was not on the game he was pitching Thursday, but rather on his wife, who is about to give birth.

"She called during the game and said there was some pain. I don't know," Schrom said after he earned his first shutout and 15th victory as the Twins beat the Texas Rangers 2-0.

"My mind was not with me the first few innings. I wanted to go home."

Twins owner Calvin Griffith called down during the game and told Schrom he could head to El Paso, Tex., and his wife Cindy after the game.

"Boy, girl, it doesn't matter as long as it has fingers," Schrom said of his first child.

Schrom raised his record to 15-8 in his first season as a starter, which didn't begin until he came out of the bullpen in May. He gave up seven hits.

Dave Stewart, 5-2, took the loss for Texas.

Twins 2 Rangers 0

Enos Cabell smacked a three-run homer during a five-run first inning to help Detroit complete a three-game sweep in Baltimore. Cabell's fifth homer came as the Tigers erupted against Mike Flanagan, 12-4.

Yankees 4, Red Sox 3

Don Mattingly slapped an RBI single past a drawn-in infield with one out in the bottom of the ninth, capping a two-run rally that lifted New York.

Winner Ron Guidry, 21-9, pitched a seven-hitter. One of those hits was Jim Rice's 38th homer. Dave Winfield belted his 32nd home run for host New York.

Indians 4, Brewers 2

Rick Sutcliffe got the win despite allowing 14 hits. Sutcliffe, 17-11, struck out six and walked one.

Mariners 5, Royals 4

Ken Phelps' home run helped Seattle avoid becoming the first team in the majors to lose 100 games this season. Phelps' blast, his sixth of the season, triggered a four-run seventh.

Braves hang tough as LA falls twice National League

HOUSTON (AP) — Atlanta Braves Manager Joe Torre says his team has been "playing scoreboard" of late. And for a change, he liked what he saw.

One game away from elimination in the National League West race, Torre's team continued to hang on Thursday night with a 5-4 victory over the Houston Astros while Los Angeles was losing a doubleheader in San Diego, 7-1 and 4-1.

Bob Watson drove in a run for Atlanta with a double in the eighth, and the Braves won it in the ninth on Randy Johnson's RBI single as the Braves came back from a three-run deficit.

Gene Garber, 4-5, earned the victory and Terry Forster secured the game's final three outs for his 13th save of the season.

Padres 7-4, Dodgers 1-1

In San Diego, Tony Gwynn's two-out RBI single and Kevin McReynolds' two-run hit keyed a sixth-run eighth inning to lead the Padres' first-game victory over the Dodgers.

Stadler's opening 62 leaves field behind

Texas Golf

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Although there are three rounds to go, Fuzzy Zoeller said he and the rest of the field have their work cut out for them in an effort to overtake Craig Stadler.

"It's about time he got his tail moving. He's a quality player. It'll take a very low number to beat him," Zoeller predicted Thursday after Stadler jumped two strokes in front of the pack with a spectacular, 8-under-par 62 in the first round of the $300,000 Texas Open Golf Tournament.

Stadler's effort, in ideal playing conditions — mild temperatures and just the hint of a breeze — included nine birdies, matched the competitive record on the 6,525-yard Oak Hills Country Club course and was within one shot of the low round on the PGA Tour this season.

Stadler one-putted 10 times and saved his best until the last, a 35-footer on the final hole that gave him the two-shot lead over Fred Couples and Lance Ten Broeck, who had 64.

Former Texas Open champ Ron Streck, Larry Mize and Brent Buckman at 65.

Zoeller, who needs to finish sixth or better this week to regain the money-winning lead, and Rex Caldwell, a winner in Abilene last week, led the big group at 66.

Also at that figure were Tom Kite, Bill Rogers, Jim Colbert, Bill Murchison, Dale Douglass, Tom Jenkins, Wally Armstrong, George Cadie, Allen Miller, Roger Maltbie and Steve Hart.

Sands wins 3rd game

Touchdown runs by Ybarra and Robby Creswell insured the victory, upping Sands' record to 3-2.

The Mustangs piled up 451 yards on the ground, offsetting Bryant's 247 yards through the air. He is the younger brother of starting Golden Tornado quarterback Kreg Bryant.

Sands battles Forsan next Friday in its District 7-A opener.

Bulldogs think they can win

"Last year," he says, "we couldn't throw well at all. Now, we can have John throw it and someone's going to catch it."

Before the season's start, Hudson pegged a lack of team speed as the Dog's major weakness, and he's yet to change his mind. "We're slow. We're just not gifted in the area of speed."

And although 175-pound fullback Richard Seals may not be the swiftest runner to ever grace a football field, the senior gets the job done. He's averaging 109 yards per game this year, despite gaining less than 90 yards in two games.

"Richard's been a great asset to us," says Hudson. "He rushed for 218 yards in 32 carries to score two touchdowns Friday night (Seals' performance against Reagan County earned him the Herald's Offensive Player of the Week honors)."

Going against Denver City tomorrow night, Hudson says he's looking for a tough game. "Denver City has a tough defense to crack, but with our offensive line and skills positions, I think we'll be able to."

As for Coahoma's future, Hudson again says that he wants to win a playoff berth. "If that means winning the championship as well, then that'll be just great. Also, I'd kind of like for it come down to a rematch with Ozona for that spot. That's really not our idea of taking them one at a time, though. Is it?"

Permian hands BSHS third straight defeat

ODESSA — Permian evened its District 4-5A record at 3-3 here Thursday night with a 15-4, 15-8 victory over Big Spring.

The loss dropped the Lady Steers to 2-4 in league play with their third straight loss. They host league-leader San Angelo Tuesday in Steer Gym.

Monette Wise had seven of Big Spring's eight points in the second game.

In other games, San Angelo remained unbeaten in six contests with a 15-10, 15-3 win over Odessa High, Cooper stunned Midland Lee 15-3, 15-5 and Midland clobbered Abilene 15-11, 15-1.

In the junior varsity game, Permian rallied by Big Spring 11-15, 15-10, 16-14. High point server for BSHS in the first game was Adrienne Allen with 8 while Allen and Amanda Soliz had five each in the third game.

BSHS is now 11-7 overall and 3-3 in league play. Big Spring prevented a Permian sweep by winning the freshman match 13-15, 15-10, 15-9 over the Mojo sophomore squad. Tabitha Green had 14 serving points for the match while Sonja Evans had 10 and Sheri Myrick had seven.

The freshman record is now 8-2 overall.

History of ranch discussed at meeting

The Executive Board of Circle Six Ranch Baptist Camp held their annual meeting, Aug. 30. The ranch is located north of Stanton on Highway 137. Jerry Bob Taylor, executive director for the ranch, presented a report.

The board accepted reports from the chairmen of four standing committees. They also moved on recommendations from two special committees appointed for this year.

Taylor informed the board members that in 1966 the ranch had set its previous record for people attending. That record was 4394. A new record has already been set in 1983 with the attendance exceeding 4400 campers.

Summer camps at the ranch are held primarily for children and youth. They learn about the Bible, about missions, and have old-time western fun. The attendance for summer camps this year has been 1129 campers. More than 200 people have made public commitments of some type in service at the ranch this year.

Guy White, pastor of the East Fourth Street Baptist Church and chairman for the Long Range Planning Committee, challenged the board members to give initial approval to the committee's long range goals for the ranch. Goals call for the Ranch's attendance to grow from an estimated 4500 campers this year, to 12,000 by 1990. White also asked for initial approval to be given for the ranch to formulate plans in the near future to raise $700,000 for capital improvements. The money will be raised over a time period, ending in 1990. The board unanimously approved the actions. Specifics will be presented to the board in 1984.

Ed Carson, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Stanton and chairman of the special committee to revise the ranch's constitution, presented the committee's proposed constitution for the board's final approval. The board approved it after some minor changes were made. Before the new constitution becomes effective, it must be approved by the six Baptist associations which support the ranch.

The board also elected new officers for the 1984 year. Officers are Danny Vestal, president, (pastor of First Baptist Church in Midland); Kenneth Patrick, vice president (pastor of First Baptist Church in Big Spring); Rick McGee, secretary (pastor of Klondike Baptist Church near Lamesa); and four standing committee chairmen, Mike Brown (pastor of Ira Baptist Church near Snyder), Carroll Nall (layman from Alamo Heights Baptist Church in Midland), Floyd Pace (layman from First Baptist Church in Midland), and Gene Rotramel (pastor of Belmont Baptist Church in Odessa).

Ranch officers for the present year are Harold

Davis, Colorado City; Kelly Dickson, Odessa; David McNary, Loraine; Bill Nowell, Big Spring; Carroll Nall, Midland, and Dan Sanford.

The six associations are the Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association, the Permian Basin Baptist Association, The Big Spring Baptist Association, The Lamesa Baptist Association, the Odessa Baptist Association and the Midland Baptist Association.

The next Circle Six Ranch Executive Board meeting will be a husband and wife Christmas dinner, Dec. 13.

Church has new music minister

By RHONDA WITT
Lifestyle Writer

John Wilson, the new music minister and associate pastor at First United Methodist Church, will attend church services for the first time in his new capacity this Sunday.

Wilson decided to enter the ministry when he was a college freshman. He was influenced by his family and his work at his home church. His hometown church helped him by giving him some responsibilities and encouragement.

How did Wilson become interested in Big Spring? "They called me to interview for the job. I knew Charles Parham. We had come out here once or twice a year to visit my wife's parents," he said. Wilson's new job, he said, "allows me to be close to family and to work in a very fine church."

"The church is an excellence church with an excellent program. I'm glad to be here and looking forward to being a part of this community and church."

JOHN WILSON
...music minister and associate pastor at First United Methodist Church

As music minister, Wilson has several goals. "My goals are to provide music for worship that is meaningful and high quality, for each choir to develop a community and Christian fellowship, and to just make music a vital ministry that touches the community and congregation," he said.

Wilson plans to continue the Living Christmas Tree tradition which he thinks is a big outreach to the community. He has already begun work on the tree.

Wilson, originally from Tusaloosa, Ala., has worked with churches in Johnsons City, Tenn., Dallas, Royal Oak, Mich., and Kingsport, Tenn.

He did his undergraduate work at Birmingham-Southern College, a Methodist college in Birmingham, Ala. Wilson also received two master degrees from Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

Wilson became an ordained deacon in 1978 and an ordained elder in 1980. His hobbies include painting and tennis. He plays recorder, piano and organ. At church, his wife is his organist.

Wilson's wife, Mary Lea, is a native of Big Spring. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dibrell, 803 Dallas. The Wilsons have three children, Rebecca, 6, Emily, 3, and Jonathan, 7 months.

Abreo recalls memories of his work in ministry

Jim Ladielao and Carmen Abreo have been working in the ministry for more than 50 years. Abreo preaches to adults while his wife cares for children.

Abreo first heard about the Lord from a woman while he was a youth living in Van Horn. However, he did not become a Christian until 1925 when he was living in Del Rio. He married his wife in 1924, and promised her he would become a Christian.

"My life turn for the better because I married a Christian woman," he said. "I read my Bible everyday."

As a member of Primera Iglesia Basista, he became a friend of the Rev. Scott Cotton. They attended the Spanish Baptist Convention at Kerrville in 1935. When they return, Cotton started La Asociacio del o este de Tejas.

The association's first members included Cotton, Edward Gonzales, Julian Ramirez, Silviano Lara, Abreo, and Adan Artiz. The association now has 225 to 300 members and is composed of 10 churches. It meets once a month.

Abreo lead church services in Big Lake in 1937, in Sterling City during late 1930s, and has lead services at farms in Big Spring.

He became ordained at Primera Iglesia Basista by George Hank in 1939.

Abreo is a member of the Masonic Order #1340 and the Advisory Committee of the Aged. He enjoys woodworking and has made a violin and guitar.

The Abreos have one son, Sam Abreo of Big Spring.

Church presents series

Dr. James Dobson's "Focus on Family" series of seven films and discussions will be held at First Christian Church, 10th and Goliad, from Oct. 9-Nov. 20.

The films will be shown each Sunday at 6 p.m. for the seven week duration. The films present new ideas for family relationships.

Several well-qualified people have been selected to lead discussions following each film. This is in response to the Church's needs; however, the public is invited to participate in the meetings and discussions.

The schedule follows. "The Strong-Willed Child" will be shown Oct. 9. The Rev. Carroll Kohl, minister at St. Paul Lutheran Church, will lead the discussion. "Shaping the Will Without Breaking the Spirit" will be shown Oct. 16. Jerry Kelley, chaplain at Big Spring Prison Camp, will be the discussion leader.

The third film is titled "Christian Fathering." It will be shown Oct. 23 with W.C. Earnst, coordinator of Outreach services at Big Spring State Hospital, leading discussion. "Preparing for Adolescence I" will be shown Oct. 30. "Preparing for Adolescence II" will be shown Nov. 6. The Rev. Tim Winn, pastor of First Baptist Church in Knott, will lead the discussions at these two meetings.

The sixth and seventh films are titled "What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew." These films will be shown Nov. 13 and Nov. 20. Annie Matt Angel will lead discussion Nov. 13. Johnnie Lou Avery will lead discussion Nov. 20.

Refreshments will be served, and babysitting services will be provided.

Church celebrates diamond anniversary

The First Church of the Nazarene will be among 7,000 churches worldwide celebrating the Diamond Anniversary of this Protestant denomination during October.

The Church of the Nazarene comes from a series of mergers between several local and regional religious bodies in the United States and Great Britain which started from the Wesleyan Holiness Movement of the late 19th century.

The principal merger occurred in Pilot Point, Texas, Oct. 13, 1908. Nazarenes from across the country will return to Pilot Point for Diamond Anniversary celebrations Oct. 13. Twenty-five local people plan to attend.

The main identifying factor of this denomination is the Wesleyan doctrine of entire sanctification, which is a conviction that Jesus Christ not only saves from sin, but also provides for people's perfecting in

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon, emotionalism and disturbed feelings are apt to be the order of the day but after that time and through the night a very marvelous influence comes into effect.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you avoid arguments at home in the morning, you can get much done in the afternoon. Be discreet today.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be most careful driving. You know more precisely how to handle persons in business. Use that knowledge.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Handle money matters in the morning and avoid loss, then decide how to handle daily routines more cleverly.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Get out of that martyred feeling and then you can handle your affairs in a brilliant fashion. Things aren't that bad.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Get into the creative work that is most appealing and you can advance in your finest goals. You've been neglecting those talents.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Good day to plan any repairs or additions to abode and find the best way of doing so. You'll feel better.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Letters to and from others can bring excellent results at this time, so get busy on such and state your aims.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get right into monetary affairs that can help to build up your present abundance. Your dreams can come true.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can express yourself very well now and gain fine benefits. However, you must use tact and diplomacy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are inspired as to how to get your affairs better organized and should plan your activities now for the future.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try to meet more worthwhile and prosperous individuals who can be of assistance to you and show you how to get ahead faster.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Fine day for studying your finest aims and then talking them over with experts or higher-ups who can assist you in gaining them.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young persons who can view everything from its greatest scope, and while this may not be visible early in life, later amazing results can occur giving your progeny excellent opportunities to advance.
