FIRST NATIONAL BANK — The First National Bank of Midland is under investigation by two Federal banking agencies for losses of $300 million in energy related loans. The FNB has borrowed $535 million

Bail-out plan for Midland bank eyed

MIDLAND (AP) — The First National Bank of Midland has scheduled a special shareholders' meeting for mid-October to consider a plan for bailing out the financially troubled bank, its president said Friday.

Hundreds of people filled the bank's lobby Thursday, withdrawing large sums of money in reponse to rumors of insolvency, the Midland Reporter-Telegram reported. Others made deposits and a few opened

But Thomas J. Wageman, president and chief executive officer, said at a news conference Friday that he "would not call it a run on the Wageman, who was appointed president in August, said he did not know how much money had been withdrawn, but that more was taken out than deposited. He added that he expected more withdrawals

He asked for the community's support in exchange for the help the bank has given Midland for nearly a century.

According to a recent shareholders' statement, deposits dropped by more than 30 percent between December 1982 and June 1983. Between June and August, deposits dropped by another 40 percent. The bank has been relying on loans from the Federal Reserve to help make up for these lost deposits, the statement noted. It had borrowed $535 million as of Sept. 30. Bad loans to the beleaguered oil and gas industry have contributed to the bank's problems since the end of 1982. Delinquent loans doubled during 1983, from $150.4 million to $314 million as of the end of June. At the meeting Oct. 14, shareholders will consider a new capital plan to keep the bank open, Wageman said. Observers told the newspaper the plan calls for the bank to sell stock to raise $40 million to $100 million in capital. Analysts said if the plan is not approved, the bank's only alternative would be to find a buyer. The proxy statement, however, said the bank has been unsuccessful in attempts to locate a buyer since the first of this year. The statement said that capital raised through stock offerings may not "be sufficient to absorb future loan losses or losses from operation."

And help from the federal government also may be at an end. "The Federal Reserve could terminate its funding assistance at any time, followed by action by the comptroller of the currency to declare the bank insolvent," the proxy statement declared

Wageman declined to say what would happen if the plan were not ap-

Air enthusiasts fly into city

All-Texas Fly Tour includes 2,000 mile area

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

They are lawyers, engineers, painters and businessman in "real life." Yet about once a year, for the last 35 years, these businessmen climb into their small airplanes and fly to airports in small Texas towns.

"We're just boys playing," said Donald Hollman of Friendship, Wisc., one of 61 pilots and air enthusiasts who Friday flew 34 planes into the Big Spring Airport as part of an air tour of the state.

Pilots on the week-long 35th All-Texas Air Tour fly biplanes, Cessnas, Mooneys and even a homemade Mosquito that rests with its nose down on a bumper on the ground and looks "scrawny," according to its owner and maker, Frank "Pop" Lawski of Ennis,

The pilots were in Wichita Falls Thursday night and had stopped in Midland earlier in the afternoon on their 2,000-mile tour of Texas, according to tour director Jeff Anderson. The tour's next stop is San Angelo, he said.

Financed and organized by a nonprofit organization, the tour entertains pilots and promotes general aviation at smaller airports, Ander-

Participating pilots usually are businessman who fly as a hobby or learned how to fly in the military and have continued their interest in aviation, Anderson said.

Hollman learned how to fly in the Army Air Corps during World War II at bases in San Antonio, Waco and Uvalde. He flew B-25s and C-46s on skip-bombing and paratrooperhauling runs in the Pacific theater, he said

A pilot for about 38 years, Hollman said he started in the Army as a combat engineer at the same time Gen. George S. Patton "was running hot and heavy in North Africa.

"I didn't see any future in that, so I transferred (into the Air Corps),' Hollman said. He now practices law in Wisconsin and considers flying as "a good, safe means of transportation."

"I enjoy flying as a mode of transportation. I'd be very disap-pointed if I didn't fly," Hollman Hollman, who flew a Mooney on the tour, said small aircraft today have more instrumentation than commercial planes had 15 years ago. He prefers flying with lots of equipment to his days as a WWII fly-boy when pilots flew by the seat of their pants.

"It's (flying is) all by numbers and buttons now. You utilize your plane more. A thousand miles is nothing to these planes," Hollman Hollman, who transferred to the Air Corps to avoid the high mortality rate of combat engineers in the African campaign, contrasts with pilots like Gene Howard of Fort Worth, who joined the Navy to learn how to fly and "finished just in time for the Korean War," he said.

"I'd always wanted to be a pilot." See AIR TOUR, page 2A

FLY-BOYS — Veteran pilots Gene Howard of Fort Worth, left, who flew in the Navy during the Korean War, and Donald Hollman of Friendship, Wisc., a World War II bomber pilot, pose next to Howard's plane. Howard and Hollman Friday landed at the Big Spring Airport on one stop of the week-long 35th All-Texas Air Tour.

NOSE-DOWN -- A "home-made" Mosquito rests on the faxiway in front of Mac-Air at the Big Spring Airport. Frank "Pop" Lawski of Ennis, owner and pilot of the one-year-old light plane, said he built it inexpensively out of used parts. Lawski, 70, has been flying since 1929 and came to Big Spring on

Senate OK's drought-related bill

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Agriculture Department would be required to sell millions of bushels of damaged corn at bargain basement prices to livestock growers suffering from this year's drought, under legislation approved Friday by the Senate.

The livestock aid provision was included in a tobacco and dairy products price support measure approved by the Senate on a voice vote and sent to the House.

The provision was sponsored by Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, who said a recent government move to lower interest rates on emergency loans for farmers and ranchers was not enough to cope with the effects of the drought.

"They need something a cow can eat, not another note at the bank,' Bentsen said. The ranching country of West Texas has been one of the areas most seriously affected by the drought, which has led ranchers there to liquidate 60 to 70 percent of their herds.

As a result of the drought, 23

Texas counties had been declared disaster areas by the Agriculture Department and Friday three more counties - Crockett, Glasscock and Irion — were added to the list, Rep. Tom Loeffler, R-Texas, announced.

Under the legislation approved by the Senate, the department would be required to sell at reduced rates about 83 million bushels of damaged corn held by the government in warehouses around the country, Bentsen's office said.

Eligible to buy the corn would be livestock growers in counties throughout the country that have suffered from drought or other natural disasters and have been declared disaster areas by the department.

The price would be 75 percent of the government price floor for corn. That price varies from county to county, but in Lubbock County, Texas, for example, ranchers could buy corn at about $2.04 per bushel compared with a market price of about $3.15, according to Bentsen's office.

Flat-rate phone bill alternatives mulled

AUSTIN (AP) - Southwestern Bell, bolstered by a survey showing Texans are interested in local measured service, will ask the Public Utility Commission to approve the per-call billing system as an alternative to flat-rate monthly

Carlin Brandt, Bell division staff manager for revenue requirements, said the request would be made late this year or early in 1984.

Under local measured service, customers would be billed for local calls based on time of day of the call, distance and duration similar to the way the price of a long-distance call is calculated. In 1981, the PUC turned down a Bell request to offer local measured service as an option. The commission told the company not to come back with the request until it studied Texans' reaction to it.

Bell paid $130,000 - which will be recovered from ratepayers - for a Boston firm to survey Texas telephone customers. The results of the survey were delivered to PUC staff members at an informal meeting on Friday.

Brandt said Bell was "very encouraged to find there's high level interest in local measured service as an alternative to the prices we have today.' However, a Consumers Union spokeswoman said she was concerned about the 5 percent of the customers who said they would give up their telephones if faced with a choice between escalating flat rates of local measured service.

"I know a number of people who are perfectly affluent that would give up their phones," said Judith Farrell of Consumers Union.

The survey conducted by Peter

Merrill and Associates of Boston involved 1.252 Texas residential telephone customers. The customers were asked at what price level they might be interested in local measured service.

Given a choice between flat-rate service of $10 per month or local measured service of $5 plus usage charges (an average of 10 cents per call), 69 percent chose the flat-rate

However, at $22 for flat-rate service er $11 plus usage for local measured service, 50 percent favored the measured service. Thirty-nine percent said they'd still prefer flat rates

If flat-rate bills increased to $34, and local measured service was offered at $17 plus usage, 64 percent said they'd pick local measured service and 18 percent chose the flat

It was at that level that 5 percent of the respondents said they'd choose to get rid of their phones.

'What that means is they got mad," said Bill Tice of the Boston firm, who presented the survey results. "I find it difficult to believe the doctors and lawyers in the group would have their phones taken out." Local measured service drew the most interest from Texans who use the phone sparingly. That goes along with the company argument that customers should pay only for what they use, and some customers use the phone more than others.

"There are a substantial number of people in Texas interested in a pricing alternative," Brandt said.

The company proposal will include "packages" that would allow a certain number of calls without a per-call charge, he said.

HOUSTON (AP) - Three Fort Myers, Fla. sports fishermen who survived 10 days of drifting powerless in a small boat in the Gulf of Mexico said they were passed repeatedly by ships and their anger at being ignored helped keep them alive.

"Every time a boat went by we felt punished," said Roger Ulrich, 38. "We saw boats that almost ran us down and others went around us. Every time that happened, we got depressed. We prayed, but we were too angry to cry." them alive.

Ulrich, an appliance repairman; his stepson, W. Beasley, 25, a pipeline construct foreman, and Donald M. Balsley, 42, an appliance repairman, were picked up by the freighter Leslie Lykes on Wednesday, 210 miles from home.

They arrived at the Port of Houston Friday, sunburned and each about 10 pounds lighter, but otherwise in good condition.

They said that some 30 ships passed close to their small boat and never offered help or indicated that they were seen. It made them mad, said Ulrich, but inspired them to try to find ways to attract attention. That helped keep them alive, he added.

Their adventure started as a simple day fishing trip in Redfish Pass near Captiva Island, a barrier island off the west coast of Florida.

Ulrich said winds whipped up to 30 mph and waves started running at about 5 feet. When they started toward land at mid-afternoon, waves washed into the boat and drowned the engine. Restarting efforts ran down the battery and the powerless boat started drifing. Ulrich said they tossed out the anchor, but the line parted. They improvised sea anchors, but all failed. As night fell, the boat drifted out of sight of land. Ulrich said they could see the glow of lights from Fort

No final decision made

WASHINGTON — The United States has not made a final judgment as to whether the Soviet Union had prior knowledge that the Korean Air Lines jetliner downed by a Soviet interceptor was a civilian aircraft, the State Department said Friday.

The statement by department deputy spokesman Alan Romberg was prompted by a New York Times report that American intelligence experts have come up with no evidence that Soviet air defense personnel knew the identity of aircraft before it was Romberg insisted, however, that the incident was a violation of international law and of procedures established to identify and warn intruding aircraft.

Nonetheless, Romberg appeared to alter somewhat the administration's previous emphasis when he said the administration has made no judgment on whether the Soviets were aware that the KAL plane was a civilian aircraft.

The body of the cardinal, who died of leukemia Thursday at age 62, was brought Friday evening to St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth Avenue, the seat of his power for 15 years and his resting place in death.

An honor guard of 50 city police officers and firefighters in dress uniforms lined the front steps of the cathedral as the coffin was brought inside for a service and evening prayers. It will be on view all

Cooke will be buried Monday in the crypt beneath the main altar, joining six of the nine prelates who preceded him as spiritual leader of New York's Roman Catholics.

Cooke died of leukemia after 15 years as the bishop of 1.8 million Roman Catholics in an archdiocese spread over a 125-mile-long stretch of southern New York. He also was U.S. military vicar, making him the chief chaplain for more than 2 million Roman Catholics, including dependents, in the armed services, the Veterans Administration and the diplomatic corps.

Plans for the burial service took shape with an announcement by the archdiocese that Archbishop Pio Laghi, the apostolic delegate to the United States, will celebrate the Mass of Christian Burial at 2 p.m. Monday and the homilist will be Cardinal William Baum, Pope John Paul II's personal representative.

Virginia Paper Judged Best in Newspaper Contest

How the Winners Won

Brian Daugherity, the student editor, proofread all the finished articles and also wrote articles himself. The class had two typewriters, but the finished typing was done by a parent volunteer. Brian is shown above with the teacher-adviser, Ms. Mary O'Dell.

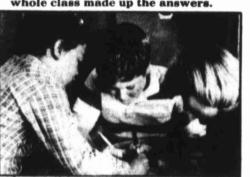

The Harrowgate Herald, published at the Harrowgate Elementary School in Chester, Va., won the 1983 Mini Page Best School Newspaper Contest.

The adviser was Ms. Mary O'Dell, a fifth-grade teacher, whose class put out the paper. Ms. Jean Welch, a reading teacher, also advised the group.

The judge for this year's contest was Mrs. Rose Eisenstein, the adviser for last year's winning newspaper, Harrison Happenings, published by the Harrison Elementary School in

For the entertainment section, three students made up scrambled sentences and word puzzles, word finds, secret codes, and collected recipes, jokes and riddles. They were in charge of the advice column, "Dear Harold," but the whole class made up the answers.

VANCOUVER, Wash. within 10 days. (AP) - The southern portion of the lava dome inside the crater of Mount St. crater of the volcano Helens is continuing to swell at an increasing rate, 2,300 feet and stands 750 scientists said Friday.

If the swelling continues, Mount St. Helens' May explosive activity "more 18, 1980, eruption left 57 vigorous'' than normal day-to-day gas and ash emissions is possible, according to the U.S. Geological Survey and University of Washington geophysics center.

DENISON (AP) - If the resolution of a longoverdue football bet between the governors of two neighboring states was somewhat fishy, then the outcome of this year's wager no doubt will be one to beat the band.

Odessa Bronchos trample Steers, 35-6

By GREG JAKLEWICZ Sports Editor

ODESSA - The name is Hunter. Charles Hunter. Running back, Odessa High.

The senior Odessa back, the number two ball carrier in the most recent District 4-5A statistics, did nothing to tarnish his reputation Friday night, rushing for 267 yards on 26 carries and scoring four touchdowns as the Bronchos routed Big Spring 35-6.

It was a night of total frustration for the Steers. The OHS defensive line overpowered the Big Spring front five much of the first half, holding BSHS to 87 total yards. The Steers finally got untracked in the fourth quarter but their offensive spurt was the cliched "too little, too

Adding to Big Spring's misery were injuries to two important defensive players. Linebacker Mike McKinley was knocked out of the game with an injury to his right leg while noseguard Danny Arista was taken from the stadium in an ambulance late in the game with a lower back injury.

Trainer Everett Blackburn said Arista had not lost any motor control but Blackburn was unsure as to the seriousness of the injury.

The game was decided in a twominute span in the first quarter when Hunter displayed his ample talents to the Ratliff Stadium crowd. On Odessa's second possession, the 200-pound senior took a pitchout to the right, broke back across the field and dashed 68 yards for a touchdown.

That was with 6:67 to go in the first quarter. Big Spring quarterback Tommy Gartman was intercepted three plays later and Odessa took over on the Steer 25. Two penalties momentarily backed up the Bronchos but on third down, Hunter got the pitchout call again and raced down the east sidelines for a 21-yard score.

That was with 4:59 to go. Freddy Alvarado, who hit all five extra point attempts, and barely missed on a 40-yard field goal try before the half, kicked his second PAT.

By the end of the quarter, Hunter had rushed six times for 131 yards, matching his per-game average.

And on retrospect, the end of the first quarter signaled the end to Big Spring's chances for their first district victory. The Steers had escaped earlier danger when punter Jay Pirkle had his first kick blocked on his own 3-yard line. Odessa, however, had 12 men in on the play and the Steers maintained possession although they were forced to punt again three plays later. Big Spring might have gotten the lift it needed after Hunter's show of moves and speed had Pirkle been able to convert a fake punt early in the second quarter.

The Steers moved to the Odessa 25 but a mis-timed pitch to Eric Sherman and a loss on a screen pass backed BSHS to the 38. Pirkle moved back into punt formation on fourth down but chose to run the ball instead. He ran to the Odessa 19, four yards short of the first down. That was the closest Big Spring came to scoring in the first half.

Hunter capped a 54-yard drive — set up by Gartman's fumble to everpresent linebacker Joe Terry with a 2-yard scoring run with 7:35 to go in the third quarter to make it

Big Spring showed its first signs of life late in the game when substitute cornerback Billy Wegner intercepted an Albert Cruz pass and returned it 61 yards for a touchdown. But for the second time this season, his defensive play was called back by a penalty.

Mark Johnson replaced Gartman at quarterback and whipped the Steers 73 yards in six plays for their lone touchdown of the game. It was all passing, as the senior hit wide receiver Robert Porras on throws of 29, 15, and 15 yards, the last completion going for the score with eight minutes to play.

The run by Sherman for two points failed.

An onsides kick attempt failed, but after two trades of possession, Big Spring got a break when Richard Lawler fumbled to Arista at his own 49. The play proved costly for the Steers as Arista took a helmet shot in the back and was removed from the game.

After a lengthy time-out, Johnson was intercepted and the Bronchos marched 47 yards in six running plays, Hunter going the final 16 for the touchdown with 3:56 to go.

Big Spring tried to pass its way downfield again but a tipped Johnson pass was intercepted by Terry at the Steer 30 and returned to the 16. On the next play, Jeff Wright slipped through a half-dozen armtackles to score his first touchdown of the year.

Alvarado kicked the last of his extra points and it was 35-6 with 2:31 to go in the game. Big Spring moved from its 19 to the Odessa 18 behind Johnson's arm but time ran out before the Steers could score again. "We got blocked and didn't tackle," Big Spring High School Coach Quinn Eudy explained Hunter's big night, which was se-cond only to his 284 yards earlier in the season against El Paso Burges. Eudy had few other comments on the game but promised, "We're going to come back next week and get after Cooper. We're going to rededicate our season. Cooper is the most important game of the season

Odessa finished with a whopping 460 total yards, 413 of that coming on the ground. Big Spring had 244 yards, 144 through the air as Johnson completed nine of 18 passes for 135 yards and the TD to Porras. Pirkle had 48 yards on nine carries to lead Big Spring rushers.

four-touchdown, 111-yard rushing performance of quarterback Doug Chitsey, the Colorado City Wolves thrashed the Coahoma Bulldogs 27-6 here Friday night in a District 6-AAA game.

The Wolves dominated the game with a ball-control offense that featured the rushing skills of Chitsey and the sure hands of receiver Dennis Rivera who nabbed

Colorado City scored first with 5:07 left in the first quarter when Chitsey rammed over from the 4 on a keeper. The score was the culmination of a 4-play drive which began on the Coahoma 36 after a poor punt by the Bulldogs. Chitsey and running back Larry Hamilton had runs of 16 and 10 yards, respec-

Coahoma failed to move the ball on its next possession and punted to the Wolves where they took over on their own 19.

Rivera of 21 and 6 yards, Chitsey moved the Wolves to the Bulldog 27 where the drive appeared stalled as a penalty left C-City looking at 4

However, on the next play, Chitsey found flanker Perry Conner knifing across the middle of the Coahoma secondary and drilled him for a 23-yard completion to the Bulldog 4. It took Chitsey two tries before he scored from the 1 to put the Wolves up 12-0 with 10:58 left in the second period. The extra point

CRUNCH - Sand's senior sensation Robby Creswell (No. 26) is stopped by two Forsan defenders in last night's district opener for both squads. Creswell was stopped effectively in the first half but exploded for two touchdown runs and a touchdown pass in the second half to lead the Mustangs to a 28-20 win Saturday night in Forsan. Forsan had taken a 20-7 halftime lead before Creswell and crew came back with their FORSAN — The crowd at last night's Sands-Forsan District 7-AAA opener was treated to a football doubleheader last night. The first game featured the running of Forsan's junior running back Mitch Hays who rambled for 111 yards and three touchdowns to pace the Buffaloes to a 20-7 halftime lead. The second game showcased the horsepower of Sands as they came back with two fourth-quarter touchdowns to gallop off with a 28-20 victory.

Sands' comeback began with a steady 75-yard fourth quarter scoring drive, highlighted by senior fullback Robby Creswell's 8-yard touchdown sprint through the middle of the Buff's defense which cut the lead to 20-14.

In the fourth quarter the Mustangs got a break when a short punt by Hays gave them the ball at the Forsan 47. Seven plays later Sands, faced with a first and goal from the 35 after a clipping penalty, gave Creswell a chance to show off his arm. Faking a run the senior dropped back and found Junior split-end David Ybarra outracing the defense with a touchdown pass. The extra-point kick was good and, with 6:47 left to play, Sands had stormed back to a 21-20 lead.

Four plays later the visitors forced Forsan to turn the ball over on downs, stopping Hays inches short on a fourth and two plays from the Buffaloes 43. Two plays later Sands had a first down at the 22 and three plays later Criswell squirted into the end zone from four yards out for the final score.

The home team tried to rally. Turning to the pass they moved from their own 20 to the visitors 11 with less than a minute to play. But again the Mustangs defense took the ball over on downs to end the

The first half had been an entirely different game for Forsan, beginning when Sophomore Rodney McMillian took the opening kickoff to the Sand's 35. On the next plays Hays raced for 17-yards and then scored from four yards out four plays later. The extra-point kick was good by Junior quarterback Todd East and the home team was

The visitors then tied the score on an eight play 68-yard drive, capped by sophomore quarterback Leland Bearden's 4-yard touchdown run.

After that the half was all Forsan as the Buffaloes charged upfield for two more touchdown drives, the first one ending with a Hays touchdown from 15 yards out with 21 seconds left in the first quarter and the second one climaxed by a 21-yard Hays run.

The loss drops Forsan, which plays Roscoe next weekend, to 1-4-1 overall. Sands is now 4-2 and meets Roby next weekend.

Stanton sews up Eldorado

ELDORADO — The Stanton Buffaloes coordinated "a team effort" to win Friday's matchup with the Eldorado Eagles with the score 12-7, according to Buffalo coach Tony Marsh.

Eldorado took the first points of the evening, however, when flanker Victor Crutierrez scored on a 71-yard pass from quarterback Michael Phillips. The score came with 1:56 left to play in the quarter. The PAT was kicked by Crutierrez. During the second quarter, Stanton scored on the last play of the half when tailback Robby Barnes caught a 5-yard pass from quarter-back Darren Sorley. The attempt at an extra point failed.

Sorley took the final score of the game in the third quarter on a one-yard run, leaving the score Stanton 12, Eldorado, 7

Coach Marsh said, "The Stanton defense really rose to the occasion during the fourth quarter. Eldorado was first and goal inside the Stanton five with 28 seconds left to play.' Stanton held their ground, however, and Eldorado failed to score.

This leaves Stanton with a 1-0 record in district play. Eldorado holds a 0-1 district record.

We want you to know we are opposed to telephone Access Charges.

and we're fighting to keep telephone rates down.

The Federal Communication Commission (F.C.C.) in Washington, D.C. recently adopted a ruling that will affect your telephone bill. Beginning in January 1984, all telephone companies in the U.S. will be forced to begin charging monthly "access charges" of $2 per residential line and $6 per business line. These F.C.C. charges are to cover access to long distance calling between states. The F.C.C. plan also requires that the Public Utility Commission consider adding more charges to cover access to long distance calling within the state. Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative, Inc. is against the "access charge" plan and has taken action to fight it.

"We are adamantly opposed to the Federal Access Charge Plan, feeling that it is grossly unfair to the residential consumer, especially in rural areas, and those who place few long distance calls.'

"The only winners will be profit seeking interexchange carriers and big business."

"Who are the losers? The biggest loser is the residential consumer and the rural residential consumer will be hurt even more. What does the rural consumer get? Higher local rates, and in all likelihood, higher tole rates."

"How will the residential consumer, and the rural, agrarian population of this state benefit in any way from these charges."

"Initial reaction by rural consumers to the publicity of "Access Charges" is that it is a concocted scheme by the small independent telephone companies to get additional revenues from them. They see access charges as local service increases, and are extremely upset." "If the sleeping bear of public hostility has not been aroused over dramatic increases in rates of all the utility services over the last few years, then "access charges" and their impact on consumers of this state, will undoubtedly cause the hostility of the silent majority to be vented as it has never been vented before."

"..... WE believe that if the access plan, with end user charges were fully adopted by this Commission, customer "drop off" would be at or exceed 15% .... This would take "basic" telephone service out of the reach of just about half the rural consumers in Texas."

The Board of Directors has, and will continue to fight "access charges" both on a National and State level. You can help us in our fight by writing to your Congressmen at the National Level, or write the Public Utility Commission in Austin, expressing your opposition to "access charges". There are several bills in Congress to overturn the F.C.C. decision if we are not successful we will be ordered to put Access Charges on your bill

Orioles whip White Sox, 11-1

CHICAGO (AP) — The slumbering lumber of Eddie Murray awoke with startling quickness Friday night, as did tempers on both teams, and the Baltimore Orioles defeated the Chicago White Sox 11-1 to take a two-games-to-one lead in the American League playoffs.

Murray ended an 0-for-29 postseason drought, dating back to the 1979 World Series, with a threerun home run in the first inning and was involved in the second of two bench-clearing disputes in Baltimore's two-run fifth.

Left-hander Mike Flanagan, who had not beaten the White Sox during the regular season, yielded five hits in five innings, and Sammy Stewart retired the first 10 White Sox he faced to finish the rout. John Lowenstein drove in two runs with a double in the fifth inning, and thus the Orioles were in position to win the AL pennant for the fifth time since 1969 in Saturday's Game Four of the American League Championship Series.

Right-hander Storm Davis, 13-7, was scheduled to start Game Four for Baltimore, facing left-hander Britt Burns, 10-11.

Murray began a night of feuding and fireworks in the first inning when he hit a towering, three-run homer off White Sox right-hander Rich Dotson, a hard-luck pitcher against the Orioles this season.

Dotson, 22-7, but who lost a one-hitter and a threehitter to Baltimore in 1983, struck out Al Bumbry to start the game. But Jim Dwyer doubled, and Cal

Ripken reached on an infield single to third. Dotson got behind Murray, 2-0, and the Orioles first baseman took the pitcher's next delivery deep into the upper deck over the 374-foot sign in rightcenter field. Murray had gone hitless in his first eight at-bats in this series and had gone hitless in his AL Playoffs final 21 at-bats of the 1979 World Series, which the Orioles lost in seven games to Pittsburgh.

The Orioles added a final note of ignominy to this night when they scored four runs in the ninth inning to tie an AL playoff record for margin of victory set by the New York Yankees in a 13-3 victory over Oakland in 1981. Two walks and a double by Ripken had loaded the bases, and a walk to pinch-hitter Gary Roenicke scored the first run. But two more runs scored when pinch-hitter Joe Nolan's fly to left fielder Jerry Hairston was dropped for an error, and the last crossed the plate on a sacrifice fly by Rich Dauer.

Each team scored lone runs in the second inning, but, in the bottom of the fourth, the game took an

With no previous control problems in evidence, Flanagan hit White Sox rookie Ron Kittle on the knee with a 3-2 pitch to lead off the fourth. Kittle rolled to the ground, then, as he regained his feet, pointed toward Flanagan and shouted something. Home plate umpire Nick Bremigan grabbed Kittle from behind as he stepped toward the mound, and both benches spilled onto the field.

Phillies wallop Dodgers, 7-2

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Rookie Charles Hudson, who had never pitched above baseball's lowest minor leagues until tis season, hurled the Philadelphia Phillies to a 7-2 victory over Los Angeles Friday. Hudson's sparkling four-hitter gave the Phillies a 2-1 edge over the Dodgers in the best-of-five National League Championship Series. Gary Matthews slugged his second home run of the series and drove in three more runs with a pair of singles; Hudson, a 24-year-old right-hander, struck out nine and walked two.

The Phillies will try to clinch the pennant Saturday night with 300-game winner Steve Carlton, who beat the Dodgers in Game One of the series. Los Angeles, hoping to extend the playoff to a decisive fifth game, will probably start Jerry Reuss, the first-game loser.

Hudson, who spent his first two professional seasons in Class A ball, was called up from the minors May 31. He had an 8-8 record that included two losses to Los Angeles. But he won some impor-tant games in Philadelphia's stretch run to the East Division title and was rewarded with the important third game start. If he had any jitters, they didn't show. Instead, the Dodgers suffered the case of nerves and it helped beat them.

Limited to two runs — both of them solo homers in the first two games, the Phillies scored twice in the second inning, without benefit of a base hit. The rally started innocently when Dodger starter Bob Welch issued one-out walks to Matthews and Greg Welch, who had been bothered with bursitis in his left hip, was forced to leave the game at that point. The reliever was Alejandro Pena, who won 12 games during the regular season, two of them shutouts against Philadelphia, which lost 11 of 12 against the Dodgers.

With Bo Diaz at bat, Pena threw a wild pitch allowing the runners to advance. His next pitch was high and glanced off catcher Jack Fimple's glove for a passed ball, allowing Matthews to score. Gross took third and scored a moment later on a grounder by Ivan DeJesus. So Philadelphia, still without a hit in the game, had a 2-0 lead.

NL Playoffs

In the third, the Phils made it 3-0 with the help of their two senior citizens at the top of the lineup, 40-year-old Joe Morgan and 42-year-old Pete Rose. Morgan opened the inning with his first hit of the playoffs. Rose tried to sacrifice twice, then, swinging away, singled to right, sending Morgan to third. One out later, Joe Lefebvre hit a sacrifice fly, scor ing Morgan

The Dodgers mounted their only attack in the fourth. Dusty Baker opened with a single and with two out, Mike Marshall smashed a long home run, reducing the lead to 3-2. But that was to be their last hit of the game

Matthews got one of the runs right back with his second home run of the series, tagging a 3-1 pitch from Pena leading off the fourth. Then, in the fifth, the Phillies got two more runs against relievers Rick Honeycutt and Joe Beckwith. With one out, Rose got his second hit, this one a high bouncer off shortstop Bill Russell's glove. He dashed to third on Mike Schmidt's double to center. Beckwith came in to strike out pinch-hitter Sixto Lezcano but Matthews followed with his two-run single for a 6-2 Philadelphia lead.

In the seventh, Rose got his third single, moved up on a walk to Schmidt and scored on Matthews' third hit of the game, making it 7-2.

That was plenty for Hudson, who got a standing ovation from the Veterans Stadium crowd of 53,490 when he batted in the eighth inning, and left the Dodgers on the brink of elimination

Rivalries flavor college football

HIT AND A FIT - Chicago White Sox' Ron Kittle is

restrained by home plate umpire Nick Bremigan,

Baltimore Orioles' catcher Rick Dempsey and Sox

manager Tony LaRussa in the fourth inning after Kittle was hit by a pitch thrown by Mike Falanagan.

By the Associated Press

Two of the most famous rivalries in college football, one old and one relatively new but featuring four traditional powers, highlight Saturday's schedule.

In the Cotton Bowl, it's second-ranked Texas against No. 8 Oklahoma for the 78th edition of their border war, which began in 1900 and has been played in Dallas since 1929. Texas holds a 46-28-3 lead, but since World War II it's only 19-17 — Oklahoma is 5-4-1 over the last decade and the Sooners have bumped the Longhorns from the unbeaten ranks seven times in that stretch, including last year's 28-22 triumph

Meanwhile, at State College, Pa., third-ranked Alabama visits Penn State, which stopped defending its 1982 national championship during an 0-3 start (the Nittany Lions are now 2-3).

These folks first hooked up in the 1959 Liberty Bowl, with Penn State winning 7-0. But Alabama has taken the last four and this will be the first time the Crimson Tide has faced Penn State with anyone but Bear Bryant at the helm.

Alabama is 4-0 under Ray Perkins, who is beginning to sound something like his old coach.

"Penn State has lost three games, but they are the defending national champions and they've got a pretty good track record," says Perkins. "I still think they've got a great program and a great football team. We had mistakes against Memphis State (last week) that we can't make and expect to beat people like Penn State.'

Meanwhile, top-rated Nebraska visits Oklahoma State — unranked, but also undefeated — for the start of Big Eight play. Rounding out the Associated Press Top Ten, fourth-ranked North Carolina entertains Wake Forest, No. 6 Ohio State plays host to Purdue, seventh-ranked Auburn visits Kentucky for a night game, No. 9 Florida hosts Vanderbilt and 10th-ranked Arizona is at home with Colorado State under the lights. Fifth-ranked West Virginia is idle.

In the Second Ten, No. 11 Georgia is at Mississippi, Louisville at No. 12 Miami of Florida, Baylor at No. 13 Southern Methodist at night, No. 14 Michigan at Michigan State, Northwestern at No. 15 Iowa, Syracuse at Maryland (tied for 16th), Oregon State at Washington (the other No. 16), No. 19 Illinois at Wisconsin and No. 20 Brigham Young at Wyoming. Arizona State, No. 18, is not scheduled.

Oklahoma's Barry Switzer and Texas Coach Fred Akers were teammates at Arkansas and Switzer says his old pal has "the best team we have faced yet. They probably have the best defense we will see all season (the Longhorns are No. 1 nationally). It's a typical Texas team, one that doesn't beat itself, uses the kicking game expertly and comes after you aggressively. If we don't get better offensively in a hurry, we could be in for a long afternoon.

'We must eliminate some of the mistakes we have been making over and over. It appears we will be in pretty good shape physically, which means we may not have to move so many folks around like we have been doing. That in itself should help to steady our attack. It will be the same as always, though. Nothing will come easy against Texas.

Alabama-Penn State will be televised nationally (CBS, 3:45 p.m., EDT) in only the third regular-season meeting between the schools (the other three were in bowls). Penn State has been embarrassed the last two years (31-16 in 1981; 42-21 a year ago, the worst beating ever suffered by a national championship team) and Coach Joe Paterno can only hope the Nittany Lions have improved since the start of the season, especially when the other team has the ball.

"I just don't know if it's possible to stymie a good offense these days," Paterno said after last week's 36-25 victory over Rutgers. "I just don't know what good defense is any more. You used to be able to hold a team to a touchdown, or a touchdown and a field goal, and think you did a good job. Now, you might hold a team to three touchdowns and feel satisfied that your defense played well. 'Alabama has that kind of offense, and it concerns me very much. Their quarterback, Walter Lewis, impresses me greatly. He had an outstanding game against us last year. He reminds me quite a bit of Nebraska's quarterback, Turner Gill, who can also pass and run equally well.'

The Nebraska-Oklahoma State clash pairs two univeau... cams in a Big Eight game for the first time since 1975, when Oklanoma and Calarado were both
