PUC judge studying water flak

From staff and bureau reports
A Public Utility Commission judge is expected to make a recommendation in about two months on a dispute over who will sell water in an area between Big Spring and Coahoma.

But administrative law judge Angela DeMerle warned in a hearing Wednesday that the commission may not need to give permission to either party — the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 and the city of Coahoma — to serve much of the sought-after area.

Ms. DeMerle asked attorneys to give her written, legal arguments on that point next month. She will then review the case and make a proposal to the commission for a final ruling.

The water district asked that it be given exclusive rights to retail business outside of Coahoma.

Klondike road to be widened

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Klondike school district officials have won half their battle with the state highway commission.

Commissioners agreed Wednesday to widen three miles instead of six miles of Farm Road 828 in Dawson County from the high school to Texas 137 near Lamesa.

School officials wanted the commission to set aside $775,000 to widen the full six-mile stretch from Texas 137 to Texas 829 to make it safer for school buses.

In August, County Judge Glenn R. White complained that the road is only 18 feet wide with no shoulders, and any car or bus straying from the pavement hits deep, soft sand. That can cause the vehicle to flip.

He added that with eight buses full of students traveling the road twice a day, a serious wreck could come at any time.

The highway department's assistant engineer-director, A. Henry Pearson, said, "We took as big a See KLONDIKE, page 2A

Stacy Dam opponents dispute construction of dam

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Opponents of the Stacy Dam project told the Texas Supreme Court Wednesday it would be foolish to allow construction of the reservoir and make West Texans dependent on water that legally belongs to Central Texas.

That view wasn't shared by an attorney for the Colorado River Municipal Water District of Big Spring, who claims blocking construction of the reservoir will signal a continued waste of state water supplies.

Supreme Court justices heard arguments on the issue for almost 90 minutes before taking the matter under consideration. A final opinion is not expected until early 1984.

Opponents, led by the Lower Colorado River Authority, want the Supreme Court to invalidate a Texas Department of Water Resources permit authorizing the Colorado River Municipal Water District to construct a 554,340 acre-foot reservoir.

The district plans to build the reservoir about 24 miles south of Ballinger and sell municipal water to several West Texas cities, including Big Spring and San Angelo.

Construction of the dam, which would inundate portions of Runnels, Concho and Coleman counties, is expected to cost about $50.5 million.

Under the Texas Department of Water Resources permit, the Colorado River Municipal Water District would be allowed to use up to 25,000 acre-feet annually as a cooling pond for a planned steam electric generating station adjacent

FINALLY A REALITY — The Rainbow Project held an open house yesterday for residents who wanted to see how the project has progressed since its inception several months ago. The home, designed for neglected and abused children, is now ready to begin operating, officials of the project say.

Rainbow Project now a reality

By BOB CARPENTER
Staff Writer

After countless hours of planning, labor, sweat, worrying and fundraising, the Rainbow Project shelter for abused children is a reality.

And yesterday, the Rainbow Project held open house so the community could view its own handiwork.

"It's a tremendous relief," said Tim Winn of the Howard County Ministerial Fellowship, the organization which proposed the idea for an emergency shelter. "When we first started, we kept worrying about not having enough money and interest to get it off the ground, but the people of Howard County have responded so well."

The shelter, located at 2906 W. 18th, is designed to give neglected and abused children a home-like atmosphere in which to live while social workers seek ways to help the troubled child.

Children from birth to 17 years old will be allowed to live in the home for a period of no longer than 30 days. The average stay is expected to be about 7 to 10 days.

Remodeling of the building, once a fire station, began in January. And since that time the station has been transformed into a comfortable home that can house up to 12 children and two houseparents.

Two large rooms serve as dormitories for the children while the rest of the building is divided into a kitchen, dining area, living room and an apartment for the caretakers. All furnishings and appliances are modern and new.

"It's very thrilling, and I'm very happy about it," said Fellowship member Keith Gibbons yesterday as he surveyed the home. "About a year ago we started with an impossible dream and at times we didn't think we could do it, but we have. The people of the community deserve a lot of credit."

Gibbons said the idea for the shelter was born in the spring of 1982 followed by research by Winn and Fellowship member Victor Sedinger on the need for such a project.

"In September of 1982 the Ministerial Fellowship said 'Let's work on this,'" Gibbons said.

In a little over a year, the Fellowship and the community raised money, donated manhours and applied for licenses enabling the shelter to open for what is described as a "critical" need.

Statistics compiled by the Fellowship show that the Texas Department of Human Resources, the county juvenile probation office and the police department could place 12 children a month in such a home.

"It's moving," Sedinger said. "It tells me the people of Big Spring and Howard County are ready to See RAINBOW, page 2A

STRIKE UP THE BAND — The Air Force Band of the West and the Dimensions in Blue will appear in a free concert at 3 p.m. Nov. 6 in the Big Spring High School auditorium. Although admission to the concert is free, concert-goers are urged to pick up tickets for the event, sponsored by the Big Spring Herald.

Air Force bands to present free concert

The Air Force Band of the West wind ensemble and the Dimensions in Blue jazz band will appear Nov. 6 at 3 p.m. at the Big Spring High School Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Big Spring Herald.

The concert is free and open to the public. Tickets may be obtained by calling the Herald at 263-7331 or by sending a written request to P.O. Box 1413, Big Spring, Texas 79721. Concert-goers may either pick up their tickets at the Herald or receive them by mail.

Conductor of the Band of the West LT. Col. Nevin Lantry has chosen a program that includes music from Broadway, La Belle Helene Overture by Offenbach and Dixie Land Festival by Bernard Green.

The Dimensions in Blue, under the direction of Staff Sgt. Carl Block, will present a variety of big band music including music of the Thirties and Forties and the sounds of today's big bands.

As the oldest specialty group in the Band of the West, Dimensions in Blue continues to generate excitement as it performs our country's only native musical art form: jazz.

It's 20 musicians perform an average of 160 performances annually, entertaining over 800,000 people and logging over 20,000 miles of travel.

Shows include the music of such traditional artists as Glenn Miller, Woody Herman, Count Basie, Buddy Rich and the Tonight Show Orchestra, as well as such contemporary artists as Chic Corea, Quincy Jones and Al Jarreau.

The jazz band performs at high schools and colleges throughout Texas and adjoining states and has won recognition as featured performers at the Texas Jazz Festival, the Texas Bandmaster's Convention, the Tri-State Music Festival and the Fiesta in Blue activities in San Antonio.

Race on for island

DUBLIN, Ireland — The race is on for the Irish isle of Dornish, which the late former Beatle John Lennon described as "one of the most peaceful places on earth."

The secluded island, which Lennon, who had a Dublin-born grandfather, bought in 1967, is among the $5 million in property, cash and drawings that Lennon's widow, Yoko Ono, is putting up for sale for the benefit of orphanages and other charities.

Dornish is a remote island two miles offshore in Clew Bay, on Ireland's Atlantic coast, consisting of about nine acres of stones and sand and 10 acres of grass. It has no buildings and is valued at about $7,500.

Auctioneer Frank Chambers said Wednesday he had already received offers for the 19-acre isle although Ms. Ono had not yet officially put the property on the market.

The widow of the slain Beatle announced Tuesday in New York that the recent violence around the world prompted her to make the donation.

Lennon, shot and killed in December 1980, had planned to build a holiday home on Dornish.

Actors support fund

LONDON — Hollywood star Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and other actor friends of the late David Niven hope to come up with a Christmas present of $325,000 to aid research into amyotrophic lateral sclerosis, commonly known as Lou Gehrig's disease.

Niven, who appeared in more than 90 films, fought the disease for more than a year before he died at the end of July at age 73.

The 73-year-old Fairbanks and the others launched the drive Wednesday at London's Mayfair Hotel. Niven's widow, Hjoridis, also was present.

There, so were British playwright John Mortimer and actors Sir John Mills, Deborah Kerr and Bryan Forbes.

"There is no way old Niv, wherever he is now, would be more happy for his memory to be used than in this appeal," said film star Anthony Quayle.

"If the memory of David Niven, one of MND's most famous victims, proves to be a means of substantially increasing the money available for this work, then that brave and talented man will not have died in vain," said Roy Price, director of the Motor Neuron Disease Association.

Actress Jennifer O'Neill, who accidentally shot herself last year at her suburban New York home, will be moving back to the area after a brief spell in California.

David Kramer, Miss O'Neill's public relations agent in Los Angeles, confirmed that the 35-year-old actress, who starred in the 1971 film "Summer of '42," is planning to buy the White Plains house she now is renting.

However, the deal on the four-bedroom English Tudor house listed for sale at $212,000 is not yet closed, according to real estate agent Nicholas Wolff.

Miss O'Neill moved to California to star in the television series "Bare Essence," which has since been canceled.

Minister headed for jail

EDMORE, Mich. — The minister of the First United Methodist Church probably is headed for a stay in jail, and he says he won't mind it a bit.

Last month the Rev. Ron Finkbiener, who has a reputation for doing zany things for good causes, challenged his congregation to bring in at least 200 church-goers every Sunday in October. If they came to church, he said, he'd go to jail.

Fungus linked to AIDS

BOSTON — Federal scientists are "working around the clock" on a theory that a plant fungus may cause AIDS by spewing out chemicals that suppress the body's natural defenses against disease, a researcher says today.

Although the research is still in its early stages, the scientists suspect that the fungus — found in cultures of some AIDS patients' blood — produces a substance that mimics a drug usually given to organ transplant patients.

That medicine, called cyclosporin, suppresses immunity so that the body won't reject the new organ.

In a letter published in today's New England Journal of Medicine, researchers from the National Institute of Allergy in Bethesda, Md., said the fungus may be the primary cause of AIDS or may somehow contribute to the patients' immunity suppression.

However, the researchers cautioned that this fungus may turn out to be simply another opportunistic infection which takes advantage of the body's lack of defenses.

Victims of acquired immune deficiency syndrome lose their ability to ward off disease, and they frequently die of rare illnesses like Kaposi's sarcoma, a cancer. Until now, most attention in the search for the cause of AIDS has focused on viruses.

"We are working around the clock on it," Dr. Thomas Folks, one of the scientists, said in an interview. "We are very excited about it."

Heart bypass studied

WASHINGTON — Thousands of heart patients who are candidates for coronary bypass operations could avoid, or at least delay, the surgery with no added risk of death or severe complications, according to a 10-year study.

The National Institutes of Health study, released Wednesday, said there has been a trend toward performing bypass surgery on patients with less severe heart conditions. In these cases, it said, the operations do not prolong life any better than more conservative drug therapy.

Many heart disease patients with mild chest pain and those who survive heart attacks without complications do not necessarily need coronary bypass operations, the $24 million study said.

If heart specialists adopt the study's recommendations, up to 25,000 of the estimated 170,000 bypass operations performed annually in this country could be avoided or postponed.

Because the operations typically cost between $15,000 and $20,000, resulting in a total annual cost of about $3 billion, this could represent a yearly savings of up to $500 million in health care costs, the report said.

The study, which involved screening thousands of heart patients at 15 medical centers, resulted in a randomized clinical trial involving 780 patients, most of them white men with an average age of 51 years.

The researchers found "no significant difference in survival between medically or surgically assigned patients overall."

"At six years, 90 percent of the medically assigned and 92 percent of the surgically assigned patients are alive," said the report.

Old reruns may be axed

WASHINGTON — A high-stakes battle between Hollywood and the major TV networks is spilling into the Senate thanks to an appropriations bill that would temporarily keep the networks from syndicating reruns of old programs.

The appropriations bill is designed to provide additional funds for several federal agencies. It was amended by the Senate Appropriations Committee last week, however, to prohibit the Federal Communications Commission from changing its so-called financial interest and syndication rules for the next six months.

Those rules currently bar ABC, CBS and NBC from controlling the licensing of network reruns or from receiving any profits from program syndication. Controversy erupted when the FCC tentatively decided last August to relax the rules to allow the networks to enter the syndication business.

Unless Congress acts, the agency would make its proposal final next month.

The Senate committee vote was a clear-cut victory for Hollywood, but the amendment cleared the panel by only a 16-13 margin and its future on the Senate floor was considered uncertain. Hollywood producers have been lobbying the Senate vigorously, arguing the six-month postponement is necessary if Congress is to have time to review the FCC's proposal.

Syndication is the process by which a producer leases his show to independent TV stations or cable programmers after it has been shown on a network.

Most prime-time series programs are made by independent producers or studios, and they generally rely on the syndication market for their profits. A popular series like "M-A-S-H," for example, is worth millions in syndication once it has completed its network run.

Shultz braced for questions

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State George P. Shultz was braced for hostile questioning today from some key allies who object to the U.S. intervention in Grenada.

Shultz left nearby Andrews Air Force Base Wednesday night for a one-day meeting of the foreign ministers of the United States, France, Britain and Italy in Paris later today. He was to return to Washington tonight.

Although the meeting was called by Washington to consider the recent devastating attacks on the multinational peacekeeping force in Lebanon, U.S. officials said it was inevitable that the Grenada intervention would be raised.

Both Britain and France have questioned the U.S. action. Britain was asked to participate in the joint invasion by the United States and friendly Caribbean countries, but refused.

John Hughes, the State Department spokesman, said Wednesday that Shultz was prepared to answer questions about the invasion. Hughes also said, "We regret that there are other countries which do not share our view" about the invasion.

But Hughes played down the differences among the allies on the action. "In the case of a well-knit family, differences of opinion are often expressed."

Another official, who insisted on anonymity, said Washington is "somewhat disappointed" at the allied response.

Goat is stubborn

BELMONT, Calif. — May have been that the billy goat went for the popular Sporting Green section of the San Francisco Chronicle.

For whatever reason, the goat, which had escaped from its owner, jumped into the back of a Chronicle delivery truck Tuesday and wouldn't get out.

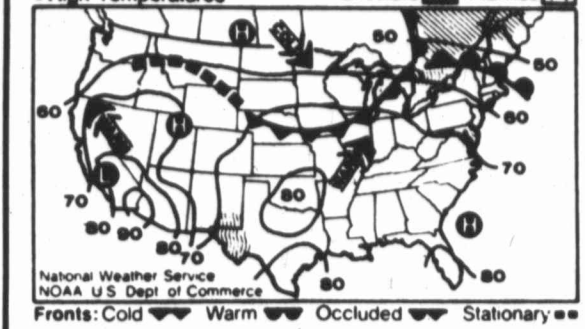

The driver said the goat jumped in about 4:30 a.m. while he was making his rounds. When he couldn't get the animal to leave, he drove to a telephone booth and called police.

After about 20 minutes, the goat finally was evicted and returned to its owner, said police Lt. James Scales.

"I guess they're just like dogs — they'll jump into anything," said Scales.

The Forecast For 8 p.m. EDT Friday, October 28

By The Associated Press

Skies are clear

Except for some rain over West Texas, skies were clear and temperatures cool over much of the state early today, thanks to a dome of polar air centered over the Brazos River valley in Central Texas.

Fair and mild was the prediction statewide, except for West Texas, where rain was expected to continue.

Waco, centered beneath the cool air mass, was the state's cold spot at 4 a.m. with a 44. Galveston and Corpus Christi were the warmest, each with a 61-degree reading.

Temperatures elsewhere were generally in the 40s and 50s, and winds were light and variable across Texas.

Though skies were generally clear across the state early today, an upper air disturbance over West Texas produced multiple cloud layers and a light rain in that part of the state. As of midnight, El Paso had recorded a third of an inch of rain and the precipitation continued through the night, the National Weather Service said.

No other rain or significant cloudiness was recorded elsewhere in the state.

Forecasters called for more sunny and mild weather today, with highs ranging from the rain-cooled 60s in the Trans-Pecos to the low 80s in far South Texas. But the rain over the Trans-Pecos region of West Texas was expected to spread into the Permian Basin.

Light rain and snow touched a few eastern states today as cloudy skies held sway from the lower Great Lakes region to the mid and northern Atlantic states.

A few showers also dotted the Pacific Northwest and Big Bend area of Southwest Texas.

Others areas were generally clear, except for some cloudiness over the Northern Plains and the Southern Intermountain region.

The first snow of the season hit western Maryland, where a quarter of an inch covered the ground at Oakland Wednesday.

Light rain covered most of New York state Wednesday and a few showers dampened the Central Appalachians.

Dense fog rolled over Lebanon, New Hampshire, sharply cutting visibility.

A frost warning was issued for northeastern Kentucky and subfreezing temperatures were reported in northern Maine and northern Michigan.

Temperatures at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 26 at Houlihan, Maine, to 77 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

West Texas — Isolated showers and thunderstorms Saturday otherwise partly cloudy. A little cooler north Saturday. Highs lower 70s north to mid 80s Big Bend valleys. Lows lower 40s Panhandle to mid 50s extreme south.

Mother of suicide victim to testify

PLANO, Texas (AP) — The mother of a Plano teenager who committed suicide earlier this year has been asked to testify before a congressional committee studying the problems of youth.

Elaine Difiglia, whose 18-year-old son, Scott, killed himself with a shotgun last August, will tell the Select Committee on Children, Youth and Families of "her personal experience, of what happens when you experience a suicide in the family," said Judy Smith, program director of the Suicide and Crisis Center in Dallas. Ms. Smith is also scheduled to testify.

Ms. Smith said she plans to present statistics showing how suicide has increased dramatically among Dallas adolescents and how Dallas and surrounding communities have responded to the increase.

The adolescent suicide rate in Dallas is 2.5 times the national average.

Mrs. Difiglia said Tuesday she believes her testimony will help committee members better understand the personal tragedy of teen-age suicide.

"I feel like if they can hear it from a person who has been through it and from a person who has been left behind," she said. "It might make them want to help kids more. We don't want our son's death to be in vain."

Authorities who investigated the Aug. 23 shooting said they believe he was distraught after breaking up with his girlfriend.

Mrs. Difiglia said she wants the committee, headed by Rep. Lindy Boggs, D-La., to understand that suicide has become an alternative for all kinds of teenagers and not just for "the kids who drink and abuse drugs."

Million dollar winner sues state of Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Winning a big lottery jackpot would make most people feel like a million dollars, but it made Michael R. Ondrish angry enough to sue the state of Arizona.

The 60-year-old construction company owner from suburban Apache Junction sued after winning the $1 million "Big Bucks" Arizona lottery last November because he didn't get all the cash up front.

As in most state lotteries, the jackpot actually was an annuity that will pay $50,000 a year for 20 years, which adds up to $1 million.

"I think Mr. Ondrish knew, as did all the players, that the grand prize was $1 million paid at the rate of $50,000 a year for 20 years," said Charles E. Buri, the lottery's executive director.

"The front of the ticket said that, the brochures said that, the television advertisements said that. I don't think there could have been any mistake," Buri said Wednesday.

But Ondrish claims he's been the victim of false and deceptive advertising. His lawsuit filed last week against lottery officials seeks damage for breach of contract.

"We wouldn't have filed it if we thought it was frivolous," said Calvin Thur, Ondrish's lawyer.

"One of the things that had a bearing on it... is the fact they are still in the present ads not making it clear that a grand-prize winner receives $50,000 a year for 20 years," Thur said.

"That's the basis, for example, of the breach of contract suit," Thur said. "If somebody advertises a grand prize of a million dollars and you buy a lottery ticket based on that, you have a contract. If they have not disclosed in equally prominent literature or words in their advertisements that it's limited to $50,000 a year for 20 years, they are not paying you a million dollars."

Thur said Ondrish would not collect his $1 million until the 20 years is up, "and even then, by that time, with inflation and everything, the value, even at that point, would have been greatly diminished."

Ondrish could not be reached for comment Wednesday; several calls to his home went unanswered and he did not immediately return a call after a recorded telephone message was left at his business.

Dear Abby

Women who pays can play her way

DEAR ABBY: I want to congratulate the 16-year-old Iowa girl who didn't think it was fair for the fellow to always treat the girl. She said she had a job and could pay her own way, but her friends and parents thought she was crazy — the boy should always pay.

She is not "crazy" — she is smart. I am a senior citizen and have always felt that boys obligated girls by paying their way, then they expected sexual favors in return. (Maybe not all, but about 96 percent did.)

I say the girl should pay her own way, and if the boy makes romantic overtures, she is free to do what she wants, depending on the way she feels about him, because she won't owe him anything.

WISCONSIN GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: Another Wisconsinite shares your view:

DEAR ABBY: When I first started to date about 15 years ago, I was one of those rare girls who insisted on paying for myself. I got some strange looks, but that's the only way I felt comfortable.

My reason was twofold. First, I felt if a man treated me, I would owe him something, and that something could mean sex. Second, I believe male-female relationships should be mutual.

One of the few men I dated told me he appreciated my independent attitude. We're married now, and still share all the expenses.

IT'S WORKING IN EDGERTON, WIS.

DEAR ABBY: My mother was terminally ill, so we decided to keep her home in familiar surroundings instead of having her live out her last months in a hospital.

This decision necessitated constant care, night and day, changing bed linen several times a day, and trying to make Mother as comfortable as possible. This was exhausting enough, but worse yet were friends, neighbors and relatives who felt the need to visit from 7:30 a.m. until 11 p.m.

I had to stop whatever I was doing to prepare coffee for these visitors, make sure they didn't stay too long and answer the telephone, which rang at least 50 times a day — people wanting to know how Mother was.

My husband finally put a "No Visitors" sign on our front door, which did no good because everyone thought the sign didn't apply to him.

Abby, please ask your readers to be more considerate of dying relatives and their families, and not drop in at all hours expecting conversation and coffee.

EXHAUSTED IN NEW YORK

DEAR EXHAUSTED: The "inconsiderate" visitors who need to heed this message will think it doesn't apply to them, so it's up to those caring for the very sick person to meet the visitors at the door with a firm but gentle, "I'm sorry, but this is not a good time to visit." And put a muffler on your telephone.

Simple steps to learn the art of persuasion

It's called "the art of gentle persuasion," as if it were a talent someone had or hadn't. But actually the communication techniques of the great persuaders are easily learned.

Use the home-turf advantage. Psychologists at Johns Hopkins University found that many people are more winning in their own surroundings than in someone else's, whether or not they rated high in the ability to influence others. If discussions can't be held in home or office, try to meet on neutral ground so the other side won't have the home-turf advantage.

Look good. Experiments at the University of Massachusetts indicate that attractive volunteers were much more successful at influencing people than were their less attractive counterparts.

Identify with listener. Donald J. Moine, a psychologist who heads his own communications-training firm, discovered that top salespeople match the tone of voice, volume, rhythm and speech of the customer and mirror body language, posture and mood. Unconsciously, they may even breathe in and out with him. Moine has videotapes to prove this.

Reflect the listener's experience. If the listener indicates that he's worried about something, the persuader who says, "I understand why you feel that way," is showing respect and will gain his attention.

Make a strong case. Increase persuasiveness by giving listeners solid information instead of opinion. But in doing so, keep in mind that people who are uncommitted can be as much influenced by the source of the facts as by the facts themselves.

In the past, persuasiveness seemed to be a mysterious and personal gift. Today it's known it's largely the result of certain communication skills and techniques that can be learned.

People vary in their sleep patterns and sleep needs. But when a person's sleep habits and problems affect daytime performance then the term insomnia can be used. That's the key consideration.

Sleep disturbance, as you know, can be both physical or emotional in origin. A depressed person often spends hours in bed, trying to use sleep as an escape from the depression. Or a very anxious person will have trouble both getting to sleep and staying asleep long enough to satisfy

Dr. Donohue

Sleep problem needs evaluation

Dear Dr. Donohue: I am having a definite sleeping problem and it is starting to worry me. I do not sleep more than two or three hours and sometimes only an hour. I really haven't felt too bad until just recently. It takes me until noon to get organized. I am 75 and have arthritis and some heart problems and am taking medication. Please answer and tell what you think. It has become a very worrisome thing.—Mrs. C.

needs. These are the more common causes of sleep loss.

The physical causes are of immediate concern. The arthritic, for example, who takes medicine before retiring but awakens when the effects wear off has to consult the doctor about adjustments in dosage or kinds of medicine used. Or an ulcer may be aroused during the night and awaken the person.

Don't take more than one alcoholic drink after dinner and don't use foods or drink with stimulant effects—caffeine, (cola drinks, coffee, cocoa, chocolates). You'll find other tips in the booklet "Why Can't You Sleep?" which other readers may obtain by writing in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

Dear Dr. Donohue: How much vitamin A is too much? I read an article about the finding of the ancient skeleton of a woman who had evidently had much to much vitamin A. Her skeleton showed "pathological changes consistent with chronic hyper-vitaminosis A," probably, they think, from eating the livers of carnivorous animals. Please don't give me the line about an adequate diet supplying enough vitamins.—A.R.

Recommended amounts of vitamin A are 5,000 I.U.s (international units) a day for adult males and 4,000 for adult females. Toxicity from vitamin A results when more than 50,000 I.U.s are taken for any long period. An intake of 25,000 I.U.s daily is not prudent.

Entry level requirements for nurses is forum topic

District 24 of Texas Nurses Association began its year with a meeting at Howard College Oct. 11. Officers were installed and programs for the ensuing two years were discussed.

Mary Butler, president, presided at the meeting. The District plans to host a forum on "Entry Level for the Professional Nurse" Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. at the Cactus Room of Howard College.

Guest speakers Pat Yoder-Wise, R.N. and Helen Cox, R.N., members of TNA's Council on Education, will present a draft addressing entry level of education for becoming a Registered Nurse—that a baccalaureate degree will be required for entry into the profession. The final draft will be presented to the TNA House of Delegates for action at the TNA convention in March.

Forty-two states and 17 national organizations are supporting the baccalaureate degree as the level of entry educationally for nursing. A question and answer period will follow the presentation. All area R.N.s and L.V.N.s are urged to attend and become familiar with and have a voice in this concept affecting their professional lives.

The meeting concluded with a program by Delia

Graves R.N. and Purita Baylon R.N., nurses at Veterans Administration Medical Center. The nurses told about nursing schools regulations and friends in the profession.

Currently licensed R.N.s are invited to attend District 24 meetings on the 2nd Tuesday of each month. Membership in TNA/ANA is important for RNs interested in the future of nursing, says TNA members. Membership enables nurses to have a voice in the direction their profession wants to take.

Martin County artist to form association

Thirty-two artists in Martin County have been invited to a meeting Nov. 1 at Caprock Electric's Reddy Room in Stanton.

The formation of an art association will be discussed. The association will strive to "keep the fine arts alive, well and visible in Martin County," says Priscilla Williams, group organizer.

The organization will apply to Martin County Chamber of Commerce for permission to display art in the second floor meeting room of the restored 1908 County Jail into which the Chamber will be moving soon.

Corporation to drop TWA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Directors of the conglomerate that owns Trans World Airlines voted Wednesday to spin off the troubled airline into a separate company.

The plan is subject to approval of stockholders and a meeting was set tentatively for Dec. 28 at a location yet to be determined.

Trans World Corp. has been making more money with its other interests — among them Hilton hotels, Canteen food services, Hardees' fast food restaurants and the Century 21 real estate chain — than it has with TWA.

TWA has reported a $24 million loss on domestic operations in its third quarter but a $100 million pre-tax profit internationally.

Emerging from a 4½-hour meeting, Jim Painter, vice president of Trans World Corp., said directors concluded that a spinoff "would not put TWA at a disadvantage and in certain respects could help" the airline.

If the shareholders approve, TWA would become a separate company Feb. 1.

Asked what resources TWA would have as a separate company, Painter said the airline has a "reasonable balance sheet." He also said, "It's contemplated that Trans World (Corp.) would continue to guarantee the bank credit of TWA."

The airline has a $200 million available credit line from which it has borrowed nothing.

The spinoff would not affect cost-saving efforts under way at TWA, including company demands for $190 million in concessions from pilots, machinists and flight attendants in 1984.

TWA spokesman Jerry Cosley said the airline reached a tentative agreement Tuesday with pilots providing "significant relief and reduction of employment costs."

L. Edwin Smart, chairman of both Trans World Corp. and the airline, remained in the board meeting late Wednesday and was not immediately available for comment.

Search for nickname continues

GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — This city's search for a catchy nickname has brought in at least one entry that might make the town founder, Horace Greeley, turn over in his grave.

"Not a One-Horace Town Anymore," read one of the entries vying for the $1,000 first prize to be awarded by the Greeley Area Chamber of Commerce on Nov. 1.

Other entries capitalized on Greeley, the 19th century founder of the New York Tribune who penned the phrase "Go West, young man," and in 1870 founded the cooperative community of Union Colony that became Greeley.

"What Horace Had in Mind" and "Horace Sense Promotes Greeley," were a couple of others.

Some of the several thousand entries turned to the town's agricultural industry, with phrases like "The Meat and Potatoes City" to "The 'Beating' Heart of Colorado."

The city is home to the University of Northern Colorado and Aims Community College, which must have inspired "Collegiate Cowntown." For those who think Greeley is a good place to raise the kids, there's "The Mellow Metro."

Singer singled out for criticism

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Frank Sinatra was singled out for special criticism Wednesday in the first United Nations listing of entertainers said to have performed in South Africa despite a U.N. cultural boycott of the white minority-ruled nation.

The 5 1/2-page register listed 211 individuals or groups from 23 countries as having acted, sung, danced, played or conducted in South Africa since Dec. 16, 1980, when the General Assembly adopted a resolution calling for "cultural, economic and other boycotts of South Africa" because of its apartheid system of racial segregation.

The Beach Boys, a singing group described as a favorite of first lady Nancy Reagan, was on the list, said to have performed in South Africa in December 1981. So was the Sha Na Na rock group, described as having been there a month earlier.

But the U.N. Special Committee Against Apartheid, in comments accompanying the list, devoted particular attention to Sinatra and his appearances in the South African black homeland of Bophuthatswana.

The list was issued by the Centre Against Apartheid, a unit of the Department of Political and Security Council Affairs in the U.N. secretariat.

The Centre provides secretarial services for the special committee, publicizes U.N. work against apartheid and provides humanitarian, legal and educational aid to victims of apartheid.

"While some of the collaborators had perhaps visited South Africa because of ignorance of the situation, or lure of exorbitant fees," the committee said, "others have shown deliberate insensitivity or hostility to the legitimate aspirations of the oppressed people of South Africa."

"Special mention must be made in this connection of Frank Sinatra who performed in Sun City in Bophuthatswana in July-August 1981 for a reported fee of $1.79 million and again went to South Africa in 1983 despite many appeals and protests by anti-apartheid groups."

"Mr. Sinatra received a decoration from the so-called 'president' of Bophuthatswana... thus, he was not merely profiting from apartheid, but was demonstrating utter contempt for the African people who have denounced and fought against the so-called 'independence' of Bophuthatswana and other bantustans as a maneuver by the apartheid regime to dispossess the African majority of their inalienable rights in South Africa."

The account quoted Sinatra's press agent, Lee Solters, as having said Sinatra played Bophuthatswana because "we... were entirely satisfied with the condition of civil rights, integration and the like.... We think that the establishment of Bophuthatswana as an independent country is the right step for their future development."

The South African government aims to make its population of more than 20 million black citizens of 10 independent rural homelands. The four homelands so far declared independent have failed to win international recognition, and their leaders are widely considered to be subservient to the white government in Pretoria.

One of those on the U.N. register, Spanish soprano Montserrat Caballe, performed Monday night for a U.N. Day concert at the General Assembly hall, although U.N. officials were aware the singer's name was on the register. The concert was arranged by the Spanish National Orchestra.

Johann Eiselen, spokesman for South Africa's U.N. mission, commented that it "goes to prove how ridiculous these blacklists are — that they become an embarrassment to the (U.N.) Secretariat."

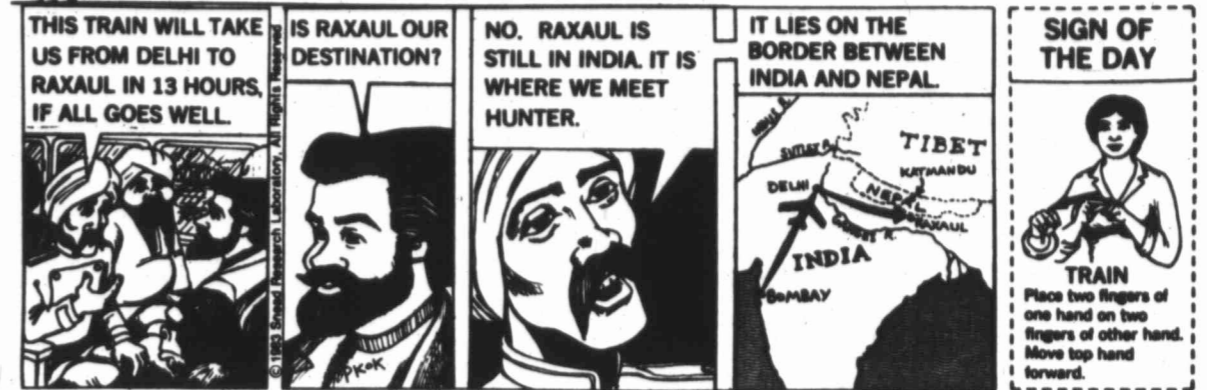

The special committee noted that singer Roberta Flack had rejected a reported $1.5 million to sing in Bophuthatswana, saying, "I have a moral commitment that supersedes money."

It said Ben Vereen, Gladys Knight and the Pips, Diana Ross, Lena Horne, Tony Bennett and others had turned down similar offers; the Boston Ballet canceled a 1981 tour of South Africa, and the Newport Jazz Festival had rejected a 1982 bid to go there.

The committee also noted "with satisfaction" that the O'Jays, James Moody and Lou Donaldson had decided not to play in South Africa again.

Among those it said had performed in South Africa were the Vienna Boys' Choir; singers Liza Minnelli, Helen Reddy, Cher, Rita Coolidge, Glen Campbell, Janis Ian, Johnny Mathis, Kenny Rogers, Paul Anka, Jack Jones, Barry Manilow, Dolly Parton, Neil Sedaka, Linda Ronstadt and Ray Charles; British singers Shirley Bassey and Rod Stewart; Irish singer Geraldine Brangan; Greek singer Nana Mouskouri and Italian opera singers Florenza Cossotta and Giorgio Lamberti.

Doctor says illnesses may be spread by artificial insemination

BOSTON (AP) — Women impregnated through artificial insemination risk getting a variety of sexually transmitted diseases, possibly even AIDS, according to the Centers for Disease Control.

At least 10 cases of apparent transmission of sexual diseases during artificial insemination have been reported to the federal disease center. Among them are gonorrhea and hepatitis B.

Other diseases that could be spread this way include herpes "and possibly the agent responsible for the acquired immunodeficiency syndrome," or AIDS, the report said.

Their report was published in a letter in Thursday's New England Journal of Medicine.

Woolly bears forecast cold weather

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — There's no need to wait for Groundhog Day, the "woolly bear" forecasts are in — calling for plenty of snow and cold temperatures in the months ahead.

Sam Taylor and Arnold Leuck issued their predictions for this year after examining the colors of woolly bear caterpillars, and finding most of them dark.

"I've looked at a couple hundred of these critters, and they're almost all the same — black at the ends with a brunette midriff," Taylor said. "You can't mistake what they mean."

Legend has it that woolly bear forecasting began with American Indians, who passed it on to Pennsylvania Dutch settlers hundreds of years ago.

Taylor, a retired Lancaster newspaper writer, and Leuck, an agriculture extension agent, seem to be the only ones issuing the forecasts now.

"It kind of fell on my poor skinny shoulders, but it doesn't bother me a bit," Taylor said Tuesday. "I accept it in the spirit of fun and in the nature of tradition."

Taylor is predicting snow by Dec. 1, a green Christmas, bitter cold in January and February, and a March snowstorm so bad, snowplow operators won't know what to do with it all, he said.

"Especially toward the center of the caterpillar, they are very heavy black," Taylor said. "I have seen some blondes, but they're like Dolly Parton — I think they just sneaked in."

Leuck expects a "more normal" winter, "nothing like last year, when it was so mild."

"There will be periods of heavy snow, and plenty of snow," Leuck said. "I don't anticipate any bitter cold."

CBS back on top of ratings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — CBS, pushed out of first place in the Nielsen ratings by ABC's World Series coverage, was back on top for the week ended Oct. 23 on the strength of two detective series and a prime-time soap opera.

According to figures released Tuesday by the A.C. Nielsen Co., CBS regained first place as "Simon & Simon" came in first and "Dallas" and "Magnum, P.I." tied for second. CBS had won the first two weeks of the fall season, but fell to second last week during ABC's telecast of the baseball championship.

CBS had five shows in the Top 10. ABC, back in second place, had three shows at the top, and third-place NBC had two.

CBS won the ratings with a network average of 18.0. ABC was second with 16.8, and NBC was third with 15.8. The networks say this means that in an average prime-time minute, 18.0 percent of the nation's television homes were tuned to CBS during the ratings week.

At the end of the season's first four weeks, CBS was first with a rating of 18.0, ABC was second with 17.9 and NBC was third with 15.4.

ABC's "Dynasty" — chief competitor of the most-watched prime-time serial, "Dallas" — was fourth. NBC's "The A-Team" was fifth.

CBS' "60 Minutes" was sixth, the show's highest so far this season. NBC's news magazine "First Camera," telecast at the same time Sunday as "60 Minutes," also moved up — off the cellar floor. It was replaced at the bottom of the ratings by two other NBC shows, "The Roustlers" and "For Love and Honor."

In seventh place was the NBC movie "Policewoman Centerfold," about a police woman who runs into trouble when she poses nude for a magazine. ABC's "The Fall Guy" was eighth, CBS' "Falcon Crest" was ninth, and ABC's "Hotel" was 10th.

Some new series have dropped in the ratings after initial viewer sampling. ABC's "Hotel" was the only new series in the Top 10 this week. CBS' "AfterMASH" fell to 17th place; the previous week it was fourth, and the first two weeks of the season it was first.

ABC's "Hardcastle & McCormick," which was first when it made its debut prior to the official opening of the season, was in 41st place.

Two shows premiered during the week. CBS' "Newhart," returning for its second season, was 36th. The new NBC comedy "Jennifer Slept Here" was 36th.

The lowest-ranking show was NBC's "For Love and Honor." The five bottom shows, in descending order, were NBC's "The Yellow Rose," CBS' "Cutter to Houston," and NBC's "First Camera," "The Roustlers" and "For Love and Honor."

For evening news shows, CBS remained in first place with a rating of 12.7, NBC was second with 10.6 and ABC was third with 9.7.

Here are the week's 20 top programs:

1. "Simon & Simon," CBS, a rating of 26.6 or 22.2 million households.
2. "Dallas," CBS, 25.3 or 21.2 million.
3. Tie—"Magnum, P.I.," CBS, 25.3 or 21.2 million.
4. "Dynasty," ABC, 25.0 or 20.9 million.
5. "The A-Team," NBC, 24.9 or 20.8 million.
6. "60 Minutes," CBS, 23.8 or 19.9 million.
7. Movie—"Policewoman Centerfold," NBC, 23.6 or 19.7 million.
8. "The Fall Guy," ABC, 23.0 or 19.2 million.
9. "Falcon Crest," CBS, 22.2 or 18.6 million.
10. "Hotel," ABC, 21.4 or 17.9 million.
11. NFL Football Special, Los Angeles Raiders vs. Dallas Cowboys, ABC, 20.7 or 17.3 million.
12. NFL Football, Washington Redskins vs. Green Bay Packers, ABC, 20.4 or 17.0 million.
13. Tie—"Knots Landing," CBS, 20.4 or 17.0 million.
14. Tie—"Scarecrow & Mrs. King," CBS, 20.4 or 17.0 million.
15. "Hill Street Blues," NBC, 20.1 or 16.8 million.
16. Movie—"Women of San Quentin," NBC, 19.7 or 16.5 million.
17. "AfterMASH," CBS, 19.5 or 16.3 million.
18. "The Love Boat," ABC, 19.4 or 16.2 million.
19. Tie—"Remington Steele," NBC, 19.4 or 16.2 million.
20. Tie—"The Jeffersons," CBS, 19.4 or 16.2 million.

Kidneys, high blood pressure linked

BOSTON (AP) — Most cases of high blood pressure may be caused by kidney defects, say doctors who found they could cure the disease with kidney transplants.

The idea that the kidneys are responsible for high blood pressure — a disease that afflicts about 20 percent of all Americans — was proposed a century and a half ago, but is still controversial.

In the latest research, doctors looked at patients with a form of high blood pressure called essential hypertension. It accounts for about 95 percent of all cases of high blood pressure.

"The word 'essential' means that people don't know the cause," says Dr. John J. Curtis. "We are suggesting that the cause probably sits in most cases — or at least in many cases — somewhere within the kidney."

The doctors performed kidney transplants on six people who had kidney failure because of nephrosclerosis. This disease, which is hardening of the arteries in the kidney, is caused by high blood pressure. After their operations, the patients have been free of high blood pressure for periods ranging up to eight years. Damage to the blood vessels in their hearts and eyes that had been caused by high-blood pressure also went away, researchers said.

Curtis said his conclusion that the kidneys are responsible for most high blood pressure is likely to be disputed.

"I would think that the term 'essential hypertension' will not become obsolete in the near future," he said in an interview.

Curtis' study was conducted at the University of Alabama in Birmingham and was published in Thursday's New England Journal of Medicine.

Between 5 percent and 10 percent of all cases of kidney failure are believed to result from high blood pressure. However, the problem is much more common in blacks than in whites.

Curtis said his work supports the theory that high blood pressure is caused by an excessive buildup of salt in the kidneys.

Thursday Notes

So you've wanted to see Permian play all year. You missed the Permian-San Angelo shootout. Too bad. And you didn't get to see Lee upended Mojo in Odessa. What a shame.

Alas, the Panthers are coming to town. Friday night. Memorial Stadium. Eight o'clock.

Permian in '83 is like Permian is years past. The Panthers are 7-1 and looking good for a playoff berth. With the loss to the Rebels, however, Mojo is actually in second place and still has Odessa High remaining on the schedule. But that's next week. They had better pay attention to matters this week.

The Big Spring High Steers are 3-5 and coming off a 52-12 shellacking at the hands of No. 6 state-ranked Lee. Permian is rated No. 7 this week, giving the Steers no relief.

PHS boasts the No. 1 offense in the league, grounding out 371 yards a game. Quarterback Rex Lamberti has thrown for 1,055 yards in 8 games and only two of his 105 throws have been intercepted.

There's also Britt Hager, perhaps the most gifted linebacker in this area and the district's No. 5 rusher with 662 yards and a 5.2 average per carry. Receivers Shane Easley (14-240) and Kirk Strahan (14-200) are among the league's top 10 pass catchers.

Let's not forget the Panthers' No. 2 rated defense (182 yards given up per game). Mojo has had 7 turnovers this year; its opponents 23.

What the game boils down to is a contest characteristic of all the others between the two teams in the past. Permian is the heavy favorite to win.

However, the Steers are playing at home and have lost just once (38-35 to Midland) in Memorial this year. Big Spring usually plays Permian tough. Two years ago, BSHS led 7-6 at halftime. Last year, sophomore Jay Pirkle stunned the Panthers with a 50-yard run that brought the Steers with 21-7 in the third quarter.

To say the Steers are going to win may seem foolish to most but the players and coaches believe they have a chance. And as long as they believe that and take the field playing to win, the fans should take the same attitude. If we were sure Permian would win, the game would not even be played.

Regardless of who wins, two things are for sure. Big Spring will hit and take it to the Panthers for four quarters. And Permian will demonstrate once again it is one of the classiest teams around.

Take a chance and come out to the game. It's the Halloween season and who knows what tricks or treats might tease fate Friday night.

Apologies to Jessica "SMICHNICK." A member of the YMCA swim team, Jessica was a winner at the Lubbock meet held last weekend. Finding no "SMICHNICK's" in the phone book, I assumed the name was misspelled and should've been "SMITHWICK."

Ah but her family has only recently moved to Big Spring from Pennsylvania and they are called the "SMICHNICK's."

Sorry Jessica. Perhaps now you dad won't throw me in the pool after all.

Speaking of the swim team, the 20-member Y squad goes to San Angelo Nov. 12 and coach Harlan Smith would welcome more interested youngsters to his program.

And from the Herald's "Hole-in-One Scrapbook," Don Belew shrugged off Saturday's Texas-SMU shootout to take in a round of golf. Good thing he did.

He recorded an ace on the par 3, No. 15 hole at the Comanche Trails Golf Course. Witnessing his accomplishment were James Belew, Jimmy Honea and Ben Sparks.

Finally, basketball begins next week. Can you believe that? Actually, basketball begins Friday in the NBA but Monday here in Big Spring as the Howard College Hawks step into action. The Queens wait until Wednesday before beginning their season in a tournament in Waco.

More on both teams is upcoming in this weekend's Sunday Herald. — GREG JAKLEWICZ

Rivera stable after additional spinal surgery

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Steelers rookie defensive lineman Gabriel Rivera remained in serious but stable condition after "successfully" undergoing an operation to stabilize a thoracic spine fracture.

Rivera, 22, returned to the trauma unit of Allegheny General Hospital following the three-hour operation Wednesday, spokesman Joe Gordon said.

"It is anticipated that surgery will facilitate his rehabilitation," Gordon said.

The surgery came a day after Donald Diamond, Rivera's physician, said the former Texas Tech star had massive internal injuries in addition to paralysis below the mid-chest. Diamond said the operation would have no effect on Rivera's paralysis, but would allow doctors to "better treat his lung injury."

Rivera will have to undergo extensive rehabilitation merely to regain the simplest of physical skills, Diamond said.

Diamond, chief of Allegheny General's trauma unit, said Tuesday that Rivera nearly died after his traffic accident in suburban Ross Township last Thursday night.

Rivera has been charged with drunken driving and speeding in the accident.

Diamond said he doesn't know how many mechanical skills Rivera will retain. It is possible Rivera could learn to move about in a wheelchair, he said.

In addition to fractured and dislocated vertebrae in the upper back resulting in the paralysis, Rivera has serious nerve damage in his right arm, a bruised heart, fractured ribs, serious contusions to both lungs and a puncture wound to the right lung. He is hooked to a ventilator to aid his breathing; as a result, he cannot talk.

The 6-foot-3, 285-pound Rivera was in "excellent physical shape," which could have saved his life, Diamond.

Hard work has earned Steers senior identity

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

At one track meet, his name came across as "Billy Wegner." There have been other such butcherings of his name but the Big Spring High senior is just glad people are getting to know who he is.

Beginning the season on the sidelines, Wegner — pronounced "Wagner" — has worked his way into a starting cornerback position and is the No. 1 offensive backfield replacement. Making a contribution to the Steers football team is all he wants to do.

"Just as long as I get to play," he says of his role as the team's "sixth man."

"From what coach (Mike) Sharp told me," he recalls, "on defense, I had a chance to start. The year started out and I wasn't on defense. That got me down but as the year went on, I guess I proved I could play."

Proved he could make the big play is what Wegner has done. Against Levelland, he was inserted as cornerback late in the game and picked off a Lobo pass. He returned the interception 75 yards for a touchdown only to have the play called back because of a penalty.

During a dismal night in Odessa, Wegner stole a Broncho pass and ran 61 yards for a touchdown. That scoring play was also disallowed because of a penalty.

"I guess I've been in the right place at the right time," he said. "I really felt good in the end zone," he said of the Odessa interception, "but I just had to turn around and look. Pete (Crabtree) was there and I told him there had to be a flag. Then I saw it. I almost started crying. But that's life."

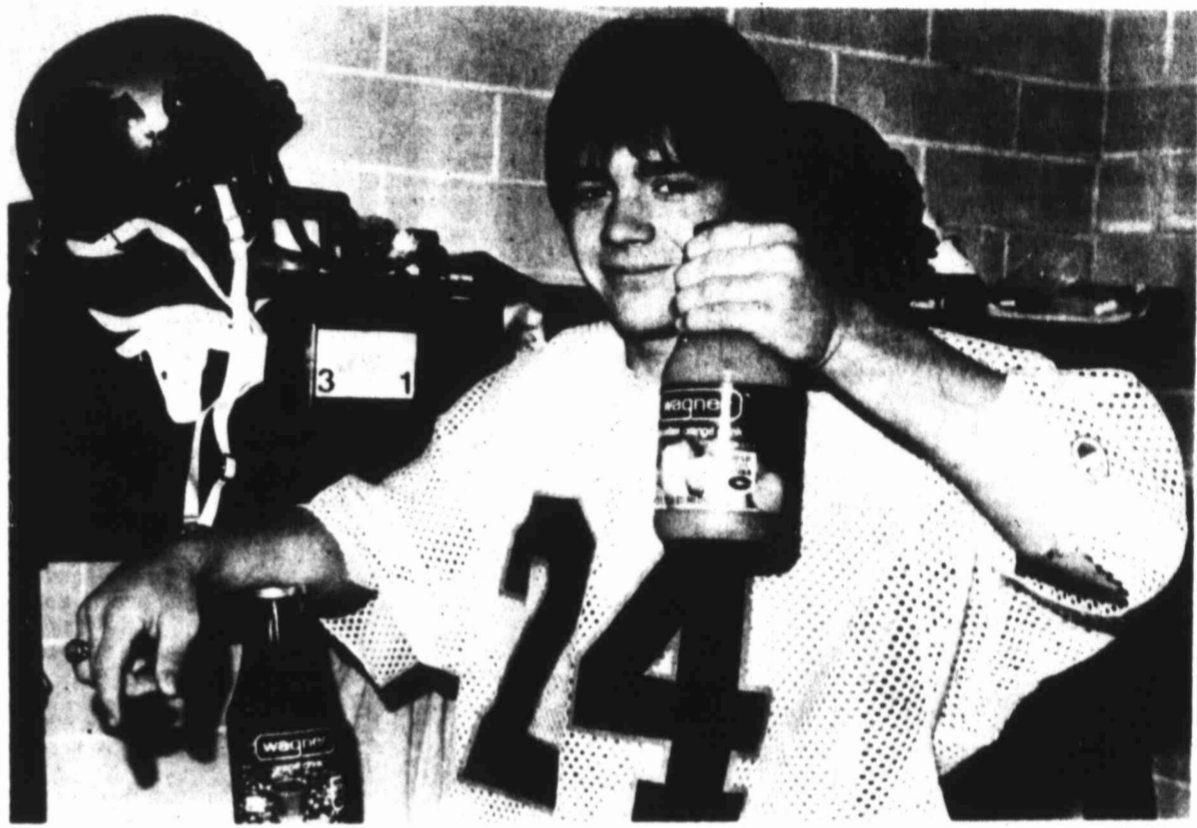

His hard luck hasn't been limited to defense. Against Levelland, he broke for a 12 1/2-yard gain on the last play of the game. He needed 13 yards to score.

"I really like it," he says of his running back duties. "You've got to run right up in there. If the hole is there, you can get some yardage. One thing that has helped me is track. It gets your legs a lot stronger and you can run over people. But I don't think I've run over anyone this year."

Do you have a back you pattern yourself after, Billy? "I guess I compare myself to George Bancroft," he deadpanned, referring to the former Steer linebacker who occasionally played fullback. "He'd just barrel straight ahead. Sometimes he'd lean so far over, he'd trip and stumble."

Wegner has relieved fullbacks Jay Pirkle and Mike McKinley this season and gained 62 yards and has a 4.1 average per carry. "Coach (Eric) Carlson said he trusted me with running when he put me in. He said I knew what I was doing when I got in there."

Defense, however, has been Wegner's calling card. "You've got to make the (running) backs cut in and not let them get outside. On the pass, you have to read the flats." This week against Permian, Wegner and the Steer secondary are reading the Panther receivers.

THE NAME IS 'WEGNER,' PRONOUNCED 'WAGNER' ...confusion aside, Steer senior making name for himself

"We have to talk a lot back there."

The Big Spring secondary has gained a reputation for its hard hits and that's the way they like it. "If we hit them hard, they'll say 'Oh man, I don't want to go out for a pass again. They'll hit me.' Coach Sharp has really stressed this in practice."

The Steers have patterned their secondary after the Dallas Cowboys and each player has gone as far as to fill a certain role. "I have to be (Dennis) Thurman," he laughs, referring to the Cowboys' cornerback. "I should be Bill Bates but that's Robert Porras. I told him I should be Bates because I'm white. But that's okay."

Wegner says the Steers may have had both "a lack of concentration" and some "overconfidence" in last week's loss to No. 6 Midland Lee. "The first quarter, we did okay. Then we just sort of let down. We've really tried to forget about it and just think about this week's game. We just want to work to get better."

Permian, this week's opponent and ranked No. 7 in the state, is a team the Steers have been aiming for all season. "This is a team we've wanted to beat for a long time. It's like Tampa Bay playing Dallas. Tampa Bay came out and just about killed them. They played so good because they wanted to upset a good team."

"We'd like to do that. We're just going to fire off the line and hit Permian. Maybe that'll slow them down a little bit. A couple of years ago, it was 7-6 at the half and they must have said, 'Look who we're getting beat by.' That's we want."

Wegner and his teammates are looking for a large crowd at Memorial Stadium. "I think it will be filled," he says. "In our home games, we've been playing real well. If they want to see a good show, come on out Friday night. There are usually a lot of people there. Everyone wants to see Permian play."

The BSHS senior takes an active role in school in addition to his active role on the football field. He's serving as the senior class president, is a student government representative and participates in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

During the spring, he pole vaults for the Steer track team. When he's not busy with his school activities, he helps his father with his cotton farming.

Harvesting a Halloween weekend win against Permian, not cotton, is foremost in Wegner's this week.

4-AAAAA Picks

PERMIAN at BIG SPRING — This game shapes up to be another David and Goliath...but remember how that one turned out. Mojo has the No. 1 offense in the league, averaging 371 yards a game. The defense is No. 2, giving up 182 yards. Quarterback Rex Lamberti is No. 3 in total offense with 154.4 yards a game. He's the No. 2 passer in the league with 1,055 yards, 16 touchdowns and only two interceptions. Permian ranked No. 7 in state. Big Spring is coming off biggest loss of season to No. 6 state-ranked Lee. Quarterback Mark Johnson, a starter for only two games, has thrown for 500 yards and is No. 4 in league. RB Jay Pirkle is No. 10 in rushing with 371 yards. Robert Porras is third in pass receiving with 22 catches for 315 yards. This points to a blowout but Big Spring traditionally plays Permian tough. I've had a feeling about this game since July. Would you believe... Big Spring 27, Permian 24

LEE at COOPER — The Rebels are rolling now and with a win against the Cougars, could lock up a playoff berth. Lee is No. 6 in the state and led by fullback Isaac Garnett who has 1,018 yards and 15 TD's. The Rebs don't throw but who needs to with No. 1 ranked defense (178 ypg). Cooper is last in defense and was battered 54-7 by Permian last week. The Cougars won't fare much better this time out either. Lee 45, Cooper 7

ABILENE at MIDLAND — The Eagles plummeted from the heights (upset of San Angelo) to depths in 24-7 (exact score predicted) loss to Odessa High. This game is made interesting by status of Bulldog quarterback James Welborn. If he's back from knee injury, it could be long night for Abilene. If he isn't, the Eagles could win. Eagles have better defense. Abilene 14, Midland 10

SAN ANGELO at ODESSA — The Bobcats put their struggling behind with 30-0 win over Midland last week. Bronchos are stopping for no one since narrow loss to Lee. Bobcats have two good rushers (Campbell, Hoffman) but still hurting at quarterback. They'll hurt more after Odessa's Charles Hunter runs over them. Odessa 21, San Angelo 17

Cowboys' miracles ended

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Tom Landry has seen his team come from behind and pull out last-second victories before this season, and he thought the Dallas Cowboys might do it again against the Los Angeles Raiders.

But it wasn't to be. "I thought we might pull it out again," said Landry. "But you know it's not going to go on forever."

The Dallas Cowboys were 20 seconds short of being perfect for the first half of the National Football League's season. But they ran out of that special magic that had carried them to seven consecutive come-from-behind victories.

Chris Bahr's 26-yard, game-winning field goal brought them back to reality Sunday night.

The 7-1 Cowboys were the last NFL team to suffer defeat and the 40-38 loss to the Los Angeles Raiders Sunday night narrowed their lead to just a game ahead of Washington in the National Conference Eastern Division.

"We've got eight more games to go so we just have to pick up and get with it," Landry said. "You can't worry about this one."

The Cowboys did have some nagging things happen to them:

— Los Angeles getting a record 31 first downs, most ever by a Dallas opponent.

— Los Angeles getting 519 yards of offense, most against Dallas in two years.

— Los Angeles getting 318 yards passing.

"It was not one of our best games, obviously," Landry said. "But we kept hustling."

Dallas quarterback Danny White caught a touchdown pass, a 15-yarder from halfback Ron Springs, and threw for two scores but it wasn't enough.

White also threw two interceptions including one by Ted Watts which set the Raiders' 67-yard, game-winning drive in motion in the final two minutes.

"We played a great team," White said. "We can't let this be a psychological thing."

Dallas cornerback Dennis Thurman said, "We've won our share like they won this one, but we could have won it. That's what hurts."

Linebacker Anthony Dickerson summed it up for the Cowboys, saying, "We just couldn't make the big play at the right time like we did in the other games."

Oilers try Sipe-less Browns

BEREA, Ohio (AP) — Arm-weary quarterback Brian Sipe hates to be on the sideline, but that's where he'll be Sunday when the Cleveland Browns meet the Houston Oilers to begin the second half of the National Football League season.

Coach Sam Rutigliano said Wednesday that backup quarterback Paul McDonald will start Sunday in place of Sipe.

"It is difficult for me," Sipe said Wednesday. "I don't like to see anybody lined up on the field besides myself. I feel at this time we're doing what's in the best interest of everybody."

Sipe said he would "take this week off and see where we stand next week at this time." "Brian Sipe has a very tired arm," Rutigliano said. He said Sipe, 34, needed a shot of cortisone in his elbow last Friday, and that his arm has given him trouble for a couple weeks.

"It's a decision that we had to make because he's got too much courage — he's too damn competitive to make it himself," Rutigliano added.

Rutigliano said that as soon as Sipe rested, he will start again.

"Hopefully, he will be ready in a week or two or whatever. But whenever it's ready, he'll be our starting quarterback," the coach said.

He said the quarterback change had nothing to do with the fact that the 4-4 Browns have lost three of their last four games, but he said Sipe has not been throwing as well recently as he did at the beginning of the season. Sipe has had 17 passes intercepted, including six in the Oct. 16 game against the Pittsburgh Steelers, and 36 passes have been knocked down.

Rutigliano would not speculate whether the 25-year-old McDonald could win back the starting position. McDonald had replaced Sipe as the starter late last season and led the Browns into the playoffs. Sipe won the job back in the preseason.

"I'm excited, apprehensive, nervous and all those things that go along with being named the starter," McDonald said. "I'm going to go out and do the best possible job I can."

Former Oiler accused of writing hot check

HOUSTON (AP) — Vernon Perry, a strong safety with the New Orleans Saints, has been accused in an indictment in Houston of failing to make good on a $1,300 check.

Perry, who played for the Houston Oilers from 1979 until this season, was indicted Tuesday by a Harris County grand jury, said Assistant District Attorney Bill Camp.

Perry is accused of writing a check for $1,300 cash to Interfirst Bank-Fannin Sept. 10, 1982, Camp said. The check was drawn against a Mississippi bank, he said.

He said Perry could be sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $5,000 if convicted.

Mavericks' coach getting tough on drug violations

DALLAS (AP) — Dick Motta, head coach of the Dallas Mavericks, says he won't hesitate to report any of his players using drugs, and would like other National Basketball Coaches to be equally aggressive about the league's new policy against drug use.

"I believe in education and reforming people, but I guarantee you, and I'll tell our team the same thing: if I catch one (player with drugs), I'm turning him in. And I challenge the league to do that if they're going to do that (enforce the policy) properly," Motta said Wednesday.

Motta made it clear at the team's fourth annual media luncheon here Wednesday that drugs will not be condoned on his club. Anyone caught using drugs will be dealt with severely, he said.

The NBA and the players association agreed last month on a policy that takes effect Dec. 31. Players can voluntarily ask for treatment twice before being suspended. However, any player caught with drugs or implicated in legal proceedings could be banned from playing again.

Motta said he's never been able to see the attraction of drugs.

"I told Rick (Sund, player personnel director) the other day that we should get some of the stuff, because it must be great for a young man to throw his career away," Motta said.

"As a coach, I'd like to have as much fun as the next guy. But I don't want some druggie representing me on the floor with my paycheck in his back pocket."

Motta challenged the league to enforce the policy.

"It's only a piece of paper until enforced properly," said Motta, who said he hopes the league won't try to make examples out of marginal players while being lenient with superstars.

"I'm still waiting to see if it will be some sacrificial lamb instead of a superstar," he said.

Longhorns only tied for SWC lead

AUSTIN (AP) — After knocking off four top 10-rated college football teams this season, No. 2-ranked Texas is not even the leader in its own conference.

"All we've done is get in a position where we have a chance to be in the lead," Texas coach Fred Akers said Monday.

Texas opened by beating Auburn, and in the past three weeks has defeated Oklahoma, Arkansas and Southern Methodist. All four games were on the road.

The Longhorns, 6-0 overall and 3-0 in the Southwest Conference, return home Saturday to play Texas Tech, which also is 3-0 in the SWC but 3-3 on the season.

"We're really happy to be home. It's been a grueling three weeks," Akers told his weekly news conference. "We're anxious to be home before our home crowd, and I hope it's a great crowd."

The crowd estimate is "upwards of 70,000" with kickoff at 1 p.m., CDT.

Akers said Tech has always played well against Texas, "and they feel like this is the best football team that they've put together. They've got a lot of guys on their football team that were redshirted a year ago, and have had an extra year of experience and strength."

"They're quick. They have good speed among their running backs and wide receivers, and (Jim) Hart is a real tough, physical quarterback. He's the kind of quarterback that's on the move — sprint-out passes, options, they're a sweep team."

Akers said defensive tackle Bill Heathcock would have surgery Thursday on his injured right knee and will miss the rest of the season. He will be replaced by Rocky Reid, 6-foot-3 and 245 pounds.

Akers also said cornerback Mossy Cade was having his thumb X-rayed, and he named eight other injured starters, including center Mike Ruether, who will miss the Tech game because of an ankle he sprained in the Oklahoma game Oct. 8.

"We're kind of bruised up and beat up," Akers said.

Bird feeders past season

Hummingbird feeders in the Big Spring area should now be brought in from the outside to persuade the diminutive birds to migrate south for the winter, a local ornithologist says.

Bebe McCasland said the feeders must be dismantled before colder weather arrives or the hummingbirds will be encouraged to stay past their migratory season.

"If the birds don't go south, they will freeze," Mrs. McCasland said. "As long as they have a feeder, they won't leave the area."

She said the birds usually know to leave the area when the trumpet vines and honeysuckle bushes lose their flowers in autumn.

"After the first blue norther, it's time to bring in the feeders," Mrs. McCasland said. "We might be able to save a few little birds from the cold."

Casino Night draws 400

Over 400 persons last Saturday attended the Monte Carlo Casino Night, the recreation of Las Vegas by the March of Dimes Caprock Chapter to raise funds to fight birth defects.

The hall at the Dora Roberts Community Center, called "a scene of shimmering silver," was decorated with red, black and white balloons and silver ribbons. Ferns draped the stage, and a silver background was centered with a large Casino sign.

The Howard College Classics, dressed in black with pink plumed headbands, carried large pink feathered fans.

"The evening was a great success with exciting games and a continuous supply of delicious food," said Dorene Zilberg, executive director of the chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Morris of Colorado City conducted an auction after the games.

Guests were greeted by Bill Laster, chairman of the executive committee; Gary Don Casey, chairman of the Casino committee; Barbara Holdampf, immediate past chairman; and Mrs. Zilberg.

Kelly Draper, decor chairman, planned the decorations and costumes. Gayle Moran made the two Casino signs.

Other volunteers and committee chairmen included Suzanne Haney and Pam Welch, guest list; Maria Foust, sponsor list; Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Grimes, catering; Ila McCormack and Sherry Newton, food; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wegner and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Geonopolos, dealers; Wayne Kuykendall, crap boss and trainer; Maxwell Green, black jack trainer; David Largent, Donna Laster, Donna Carey and Jean Kuykendall, cashiers; Rick Hamby, master of ceremonies; KWKI-KKIK, public address system and music; and David Webb, crap tables.

"Our volunteers are the lifeblood of our organization, and all our funds for research and education are raised solely by volunteers and the generous public," Mrs. Zilberg said. "We express thanks to all volunteers who helped us with the games, decorations and other aspects of the event."

Traffic commission to meet

Roy Ray will be inducted as a member of the Big Spring Traffic Commission at the commission's regular meeting Friday at 10 a.m. on the second floor of city hall.

Also on the agenda for the meeting are:

from the CARROLL RIGHTEER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds you inclined to be over-emotional and with your feelings easily wounded, so avoid that planetary trap. Seek out those who can help you attain some balance.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Don't get upset over home conditions in the morning, and later be careful you are not extravagant in any way.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Work and walk or drive at a measured pace today and avoid errors or accidents. Do something thoughtful for your family.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Monetary matters are not to your liking, so reality, and later friends or relatives can be disappointing, but don't let it throw you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Be more objective in the morning and get rid of that upset feeling by proper handling of your affairs, and try to economize.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Find the best manner of handling one you like but is acting erratically at this time, and get at the root of the trouble.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A friend may want you to do something you do not like, so ignore and get going on work ahead of you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Do not ink one who means a good deal to you and also don't take any chances with your worldly position.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You may find that new ideas could lead you astray, so forget them and tonight adhere to old and trusted friends, also.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Study how you are treating your mate and show more kindness and avoid trouble-making outsiders.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Try not to criticize a partner in the morning and come to a better understanding. Avoid being impulsive.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get rid of errors and handle your work more efficiently today, then deal with an outsider who is irritating.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't react to provocation from your mate in the morning and be gentle, and the same is true with co-workers later.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young persons who understand the problems of others and wants to help them and really be able to do so. Fields such as psychiatry, psychology, medicine are indicated here.

Medical students describe escape

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Medical students escaped the Grand Anse campus of St. George's University Medical School on Grenada under "heavy fire" after swimming to helicopters hovering above them, a mother of one of the students said today.

Miriam Jacobs, 46, said her daughter, Stefanie, 22, called her at 6:25 a.m. to tell her she was safe and to describe their escape from the tiny Caribbean island. "They left the Grand Anse campus under heavy fire," Mrs. Jacobs said.

"It's absolutely a miracle that they got out alive, no thanks to our armed forces who left them uncovered for 34 hours."

"Upon leaving — being pulled out of the water — their dormitory buildings were leveled flat to the ground," she said her daughter told her. "They left with the clothes on their backs and their lives."

Mrs. Jacobs said her daughter said the students were flown to Charleston, S.C., where the Red Cross "gave them a towel, a toothbrush and a piece of soap." Mrs. Jacobs said her daughter had travelers checks and a passport and her camera.

"Apparently they were taken hostage at one point by the Cubans. The Cubans surrounded them and perhaps even entered the dormitory at one point, but I'm unsure of that."

"Before they left, apparently 60 Cubans were killed," Mrs. Jacobs said. "They had to go into the water to get the helicopter. They were pulled out of the water."

Mrs. Jacobs said her daughter was expected to arrive in New Jersey later today.

Troops besiege last of defenders

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — American troops besieged the last of Grenada's stubborn defenders at a prison on the embattled Caribbean island today. The U.S. death toll rose to eight, and dozens of Cubans were reported killed in the invasion's first two days.

The prime minister of Barbados, one of the invasion's staunchest supporters, said elections for a new Grenadian government would be held within three months.

By early today, 375 American residents or tourists had been evacuated from the tiny island and flown to Charleston, S.C.

A Cuban force was "holding the high ground" around the island's Richmond Hill prison, where at least several dozen political prisoners were detained, a Pentagon source said in Washington.

"It's a matter of figuring out how to take them in a way that causes the fewest casualties possible, both to them and us," said this source, who insisted on anonymity.

Pentagon sources said today the number of U.S. servicemen killed in the invasion had risen to eight. Eight others were listed as missing, and 39 were reported wounded. A total of about 2,800 Marines and Army troops are on the island.

Various reports indicate at least 42 Cubans have been killed. The death toll among Grenadians remained unknown.

Defense Department releases list of dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has released the following partial list of U.S. servicemen killed or missing in the Beirut headquarters bombing Sunday. They are Marines unless otherwise noted. Most — and possibly all — of those listed as missing are presumed dead by the Pentagon and are included in the announced death toll of 221.

Medical students describe escape

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Medical students escaped the Grand Anse campus of St. George's University Medical School on Grenada under "heavy fire" after swimming to helicopters hovering above them, a mother of one of the students said today.

Miriam Jacobs, 46, said her daughter, Stefanie, 22, called her at 6:25 a.m. to tell her she was safe and to describe their escape from the tiny Caribbean island. "They left the Grand Anse campus under heavy fire," Mrs. Jacobs said.

"It's absolutely a miracle that they got out alive, no thanks to our armed forces who left them uncovered for 34 hours."

"Upon leaving — being pulled out of the water — their dormitory buildings were leveled flat to the ground," she said her daughter told her. "They left with the clothes on their backs and their lives."

Mrs. Jacobs said her daughter said the students were flown to Charleston, S.C., where the Red Cross "gave them a towel, a toothbrush and a piece of soap." Mrs. Jacobs said her daughter had travelers checks and a passport and her camera.

"Apparently they were taken hostage at one point by the Cubans. The Cubans surrounded them and perhaps even entered the dormitory at one point, but I'm unsure of that."

"Before they left, apparently 60 Cubans were killed," Mrs. Jacobs said. "They had to go into the water to get the helicopter. They were pulled out of the water."

Mrs. Jacobs said her daughter was expected to arrive in New Jersey later today.

Troops besiege last of defenders

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados (AP) — American troops besieged the last of Grenada's stubborn defenders at a prison on the embattled Caribbean island today. The U.S. death toll rose to eight, and dozens of Cubans were reported killed in the invasion's first two days.

The prime minister of Barbados, one of the invasion's staunchest supporters, said elections for a new Grenadian government would be held within three months.

By early today, 375 American residents or tourists had been evacuated from the tiny island and flown to Charleston, S.C.

A Cuban force was "holding the high ground" around the island's Richmond Hill prison, where at least several dozen political prisoners were detained, a Pentagon source said in Washington.

"It's a matter of figuring out how to take them in a way that causes the fewest casualties possible, both to them and us," said this source, who insisted on anonymity.

Pentagon sources said today the number of U.S. servicemen killed in the invasion had risen to eight. Eight others were listed as missing, and 39 were reported wounded. A total of about 2,800 Marines and Army troops are on the island.

Various reports indicate at least 42 Cubans have been killed. The death toll among Grenadians remained unknown.
