County's secret tax board vote nixed

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Howard County Commissioners will have to retake a vote for the board of directors for the Howard County Consolidated Tax District that was conducted improperly during the executive session of an emergency meeting last Thursday, County Court Judge Milton Kirby and County Clerk Margaret Ray said Tuesday.

The vote has been rescheduled for the commissioners' regular meeting on Nov. 14, the deadline set for the participating taxing entities to return their completed ballots to the county, Kirby and Mrs. Ray said.

Confusion over the voting procedure arose last Wednesday before the commissioners were scheduled to meet for the vote, Mrs. Ray said. After one commissioner asked her how the vote should be conducted, Mrs. Ray said she called the state property tax board in Austin to find out the proper procedure.

At the meeting, commissioners followed her instructions to pass a resolution in an open meeting, and then to go into executive session to discuss their vote and mark the ballot. The commissioners then marked the ballot and placed it in a sealed envelope, which the clerk said she was told not to open until Nov. 15.

However, after being questioned about the matter, state officials said Monday and Tuesday the commissioners' actions violated Texas Open Meetings Law.

Commissioners were allowed to go into executive session to discuss the candidates for the tax board, Assistant Director of the State Department of Education and Standards Debbie Wheeler said. But they are forbidden by law to take any action in closed session, she said.

"They could go into closed session to discuss the merits of the candidates because if they discussed them in open session, they (the commissioners) may face libel charges (if commissioners said anything disparaging about the candidates)," Ms. Wheeler said.

"But after the executive session, they must say (in open session) that they cast x votes for a candidate or candidates," Ms. Wheeler said. "The action must be in the open."

Commissioners took the action in good faith, Kirby and Mrs. Ray said.

"I called the enforcement section (of the tax board), and asked him if I could reveal the votes before Nov. 15

KC football star declared father in paternity trial

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

An 118th District Court jury Tuesday night determined that a Big Spring native, now a Kansas City Chiefs wide receiver and former All-District wide receiver for the Big Spring Steers, is the father of a 5-year-old boy born to a Dallas woman.

After deliberating for more than an hour and a half, the three-woman, ...Big Spring native nine-man jury decided 10-2 that John Thomas Smith, 28, is the father of Jeremy Tramont Johnson, born Oct. 8, 1978 to Reta Diane Johnson, a Denton resident at the time of her relationship with Smith. Jeremy is Mrs. Johnson's second son.

JOHN THOMAS SMITH

Neither Smith nor Mrs. Johnson would comment on the outcome of the trial, characterized by testimony that sounded like "As the World Turns," according to Smith's attorney, Wayne Burns. It included testimony about each person's extramarital affairs.

Earlier, Mrs. Johnson said she "would be glad just to get the trial over because it had been going on so long."

She filed the paternity suit April 2, 1979, within half a year of the child's birth, in Tarrant County, where she moved from Denton after Smith left North Texas State University and became a professional football player. The trial was moved to Big Spring at Smith's request.

According to testimony, both Mrs. Johnson and Smith were married to other persons at the time of the child's birth. At the time of their relationship, from August 1977 to December 1978, Mrs. Johnson was separated from her husband, Cedric Johnson, whom she married in 1973 when she was 19 and pregnant.

CHECKING THE DAMAGE — Members of the Big Spring Fire Department survey damage done by an early morning fire at the YMCA at 801 Owens. The fire was contained to the sauna room, although smoke drifted throughout the building. The YMCA is curtailing activities today to clean up damage.

Four units called to douse YMCA blaze

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

Four units of the Big Spring Fire Department rushed to the Big Spring YMCA at about 7:45 a.m. today after a fire broke out in the sauna of the building.

YMCA Director Wallace Gill said the fire probably started in the sauna's heater unit, which is turned on each morning and normally shuts itself off after reaching 170 degrees. The heater had been repaired two months ago, Gill said.

Big Spring Herald sports editor Greg Jaklewicz — who had been swimming at the YMCA — called in the fire to authorities and fought the blaze along with YMCA secretary Charlotte Becker until units of the fire department arrived.

Firemen were able to douse the flames but not before smoke filled the pool area, locker rooms, training room and weight room. Firemen opened windows and set up fans to clear the smoke from the building.

The sauna — made of redwood — appeared to be a total loss, with blackened beams hanging from holes in the ravaged ceiling.

Fire Marshall Carl Dorton said replacement of the sauna would cost between $8,000 and $10,000.

Had the fire occurred during the night, there would have been only the slightest chance for it to engulf the entire building, Gill said. The area around the sauna is mostly tile-covered with fire walls and adequate insulation, he said.

Becker, who said she had come in for opening duty "for the first time in a month," turned the sauna on as part of normal procedure. When the unit reach a certain temperature, it should have cut itself off, Gill said.

Robert Patterson first smelled smoke while showering after an early morning basketball game and phoned Becker at her front door office. At the same time, Jaklewicz noticed smoke filtering into the pool and met Becker outside the men's locker room.

Concerned about the amount of smoke, Jaklewicz phoned the fire department and then saw flames break out in the sauna room ceiling. He emptied two fire extinguishers into the blaze before firemen arrived to put out the fire.

Although the YMCA was not officially closed, Gill said activities would be halted Wednesday while the damage was cleared and facility aired out.

The Big Spring High swim team, which normally works out at the time of the fire, had the morning off because of an out-of-town meet Tuesday night.

City joins Chemical People war tonight

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

The Chemical People are fighting a war against drug and alcohol abuse and they are determined to win it.

THE CHEMICAL PEOPLE

The Chemical People program is an all-out, nationwide effort sponsored by First Lady Nancy Reagan, organized to make citizens aware of the signs of drug and alcohol abuse and committed to combat the problem.

Two public television specials — one to be shown today at 8 p.m. and the other scheduled for Nov. 9 at the same time — are the centerpiece of the Chemical People effort. The first will help concerned parents and friends identify the signs of drug and alcohol abuse. The second will suggest ways to help persons who are affected.

In conjunction with the television specials, two town meetings at the Big Spring High School Auditorium have been scheduled for both evenings starting at 7:30 p.m. Those attending will be able to watch the specials on large-screen televisions and discuss the problems of drug and alcohol abuse with a panel of experts.

The panel will include Superintendent of Big Spring Schools Lynn Hise, Police Chief Rick Turner, and a former drug seller and manufacturer now interned at the Big Spring Federal Camp.

Area radio stations KBST and KBYG have been mobilized to broadcast the town meetings live. Listeners are invited to call in at 267-7461 with questions and comments to the panel.

Paul Shaffer, local Chemical People sponsor and moderator at the town hall meetings, emphasized the preventative nature of the Chemical People program which is aimed at educating parents and children about the nature of drug and alcohol abuse.

"We want to keep straight people from going crooked and rescue those who can be salvaged," Shaffer said.

Stockpiled grain triggers suit

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN — State officials, frustrated by their inability to force the federal government to release stockpiled grain to drought-stricken West Texas farmers and ranchers, have taken their case to federal court.

In a lawsuit filed Tuesday with U.S. District Judge Lucius D. Bunton III of Midland, the state charges that U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block's refusal to release the grain is "arbitrary, capricious and an abuse of discretion."

Bunton set a Dec. 1 hearing in El Paso on the state's request for a preliminary and permanent injunction to force the release of 18 million bushels of grain that state officials claim is rotting at a Panhandle storage facility.

The lawsuit, filed by Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox and Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower, is the latest in a simmering tiff between Texas' Democratic-controlled leadership and President Reagan's Republican administration over the handling of drought assistance programs.

"We've sued him (Block)," Hightower said. "We have no choice. We've gone to court to pry John Block's cold old fingers off the locks on the corn-bin."

Hightower said he is still hopeful "the Reagan administration has a

Local couple awaits word on son's fate

Search on for survivors of oil drilling ship

From staff and wire reports A Big Spring couple is awaiting word on the fate of their son, a crew member aboard an oil drilling ship which sank last week off the China coast.

John Lawrence Jr., 38, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lawrence of Big Spring, is among 81 people missing after the Glomar Java Sea went down off Hainan Island in a typhoon.

The ship's owner, Global Marine Inc. of Houston, said yesterday the ship had been located by sonar 300 feet below the surface.

The ship's crew, which included

42 Americans, 35 Chinese, two Singaporeans, an Australian and a Filipino, has not been found, but air and sea searches continued today for signs of survivors, said the U.S. West Pacific Rescue Coordination Center in Okinawa, Japan.

Lawrence, a former resident of Odessa, has never lived in Big Spring, said his parents, who moved here recently from Odessa.

The ship was exploring for oil for the Chinese government when it sank, Global said. U.S. and Chinese air and sea craft have been searching for the 5,926-ton ship since it was reported missing Oct. 25.

Global said that sonar readings at the drilling site had positively identified the vessel.

The ship had two escape capsules on board; one was sighted capsized, but the other has not been spotted.

Officials said they could not estimate how many survivors might be in the capsule, which is designed to hold 54 people.

Two fenders and 10 lifejackets from the Glomar Java Sea have been recovered. The rescue center said a life raft had also been found.

A Chinese ship was expected to arrive Thursday from Singapore to support possible diving operations, oil industry sources said.

In addition to U.S. Navy reconnaissance planes and patrol craft, three Chinese ships and a vessel under contract to Global were conducting the search today.

Over the weekend, U.S. pilots said they might have seen flashing lights, a buoy and life rafts. These were later identified as strobe lights floating unattached in the water.

Aircraft have been searching an area 337 miles long and 92 miles wide in the South China Sea and the Gulf of Tonkin. The search hasn't yet entered Vietnamese waters.

Commissioners

(the deadline for all votes from the seven governing bodies to be delivered to the clerk)," Mrs. Ray said.

"The man told me over the phone that it would definitely be unfair to let the other voting entities know how the court voted," Mrs. Ray said.

"The way he explained it, the vote was just like a ballot in an election (which is kept secret). He told me it was just like an election for mayor. It would be unfair if you announced that 'so and so was elected mayor' before everyone voted," she said.

Commissioners are able to elect one person without anyone else's votes. A person can be elected to the board with 1,000 votes and the commissioners can cast 1,115. The Big Spring Independent School District also has more than 1,000 votes.

The confusion arose because Mrs. Ray talked to someone in the wrong section or in another state agency about the situation, Ms. Wheeler said.

The analogy between the commissioners' vote for the tax board directors and a municipal election was incorrectly drawn, Ms. Wheeler said.

"It's not a closed ballot-type voting process," Ms.

Wheeler said. "It's a selection process, not an election process."

Mrs. Ray said she was to blame for not getting the name of the person she talked to last Thursday, but said she was busy trying to get the agenda posted and the media and the commissioners notified about the meeting.

The clerk is responsible for receiving nominations from each voting taxing unit before Oct. 15, for preparing a ballot and delivering one to each unit before Oct. 30, receiving the ballots back from each unit before Nov. 15, counting the votes and declaring the winners before Dec. 1, and resolving any ties.

"I asked him (the official in Austin), 'Are you going to back me up on this?' My girls (employees in the clerks' office) heard me ask him that. And he said, 'Yes, I will,'" Mrs. Ray said.

Both Kirby and Mrs. Ray said part of the confusion was caused by differing answers from state officials.

"You can call the (State) Attorney General's office one day and get one answer, and call back the next day and talk to someone else and get another answer," Kirby said.

percent said they think the city has a teen-age alcohol abuse problem.

The number of people who said they use either alcohol or drugs was much lower than the number who said they knew someone who would either give or sell them alcohol or drugs.

While 71 percent of the respondents said that they personally had not used marijuana, 76 percent said they knew at least one student who was a user.

Grain suit

use that grain." Hemphill said the benefits of releasing the grain for drought assistance programs could be offset by the costs of shipping the surplus equitably across the United States.

Both Hightower and Mattox claimed the release of the grain is essential if Texas hopes to stabilize meat prices in Texas. Otherwise, they said, forcing ranchers to find other markets for winter feed to replace drought-stripped winter rangelands will inevitably drive prices up.

The lawsuit characterizes the summer drought as "devastating," noting that "ranchers have been forced to purchase substantially larger amounts of feed grain than normal, and at prices substantially higher than they have traditionally paid."

"Ranchers can no longer obtain feed through normal channels without incurring undue financial hardship. They have been compelled to sell off their herds, including their breeding stock. This is an injury to both the present and future vitality of agriculture in Texas."

Hightower claims that 53 percent of the more than 22 million bushels being stored by the federal government in the Panhandle facility is unfit for human consumption and 77 percent of it has seriously deteriorated.

Federal agriculture officials dispute those figures, and that disagreement prompted U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Texas, on Tuesday to urge the Senate Agriculture Committee to investigate discrepancies between the state and federal figures.

Block has maintained he lacks the authority to release the grain, but has agreed to follow a Senate-approved provision sought by Bentsen that will require that the deteriorating corn be sold at about $1.75 a bushel.

Smith

nant with her first son. The Johnsons separated in December 1975, and saw each other only when Cedric visited his child, Mrs. Johnson testified.

At issue during the trial — because of a state law presuming that a child born while the mother is married is the son of her husband — was whether Mrs. Johnson's separated husband had "access" to her, a word both attorneys defined differently.

Although the jury found that her husband did have "access" to her, they declared the child was Smith's. Critical testimony included blood tests of the child, the mother, and Smith showing the probability that the child is Smith's is "98.8 percent," or that only "three males in 1,000" would have compatible blood types with the child.

During the trial, the jury also heard testimony about both persons' marriages and alleged affairs, including Mrs. Johnson's subsequent remarriage after her divorce and her current pregnancy. Mrs. Johnson was divorced March 23, 1983 in Fort Worth, and married Thomas Edward Johnson

April 7 in Ardmore, Okla., according to testimony. Her present husband is unrelated to her former husband. Smith remains married but separated from his wife, Sandra, who lives in Tyler with their two children. He testified that she returned to Tyler after Mrs. Johnson began harassing her with phone calls, but he also testified that he continued to have sexual relations with Mrs. Johnson after the separation.

He also testified that he is having sexual relations with a University of Columbia student and other persons during his separation. The affair began when Mrs. Johnson, an telephone operator then, placed a long distance call to his wife in Tyler. Both parties were "over-friendly" during the phone call, and began seeing each other when Mrs. Johnson moved to Denton, according to testimony.

They began having sexual relations "three or four times a week" in September 1977, one month after they began seeing each other, and continued to have sexual relations after his wife returned to Tyler in the spring of 1978 and until Smith left in June for the Washington Redskins training camp, according to testimony by both Smith and Mrs. Johnson.

Their relationship continued after Smith was cut from the Redskins and the child was born, and during Mrs. Johnson's visit to Smith with the child while he was playing for Kansas City.

Smith and his lone witness, Loraine native Michael Wilkerson, a former college football teammate who now lives in Dallas, testified that they later believed Mrs. Johnson was having sexual relations with several other people, including her former husband. They were unable to produce any witnesses or statements from the persons they named.

Smith also said that three of his letters to Mrs. Johnson included as evidence in the trial contained statements in which he said the baby was his, although he said he later doubted the child was his.

The jury's decision establishes the child as Smith's. Mrs. Johnson can now sue for child support or Smith can sue for custody.

Judge dismisses suit

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A federal judge has dismissed a lawsuit filed against the University of Texas at Austin by a woman who contended she was relieved of her teaching duties for inviting two homosexuals to address her classes.

U.S. District Judge Fred Shannon ruled Tuesday that Kathleen Kelleher of Boulder, Colo., was not discriminated against by the university.

Shannon listened to 1 1/2 days of testimony in the $500,000 suit before deciding the former assistant instructor was not entitled to damages.

Ms. Kelleher, a doctoral candidate in UT's government department, testified that she was relieved of her teaching duties for allowing two speakers from an Austin-area gay group to address her classes in 1980.

But Charles Cnudde, chairman of the department, said he decided not to let her teach because she refused to follow university guidelines.

Ms. Kelleher expressed a reluctance to include a required Texas history book in the class and also questioned other textbooks on the approved list, Cnudde said.

She also declined an offer to accept a non-paid teaching assignment, he said.

Houston attorney Suzan Cardwell, who represents the university, said before the verdict that Ms. Kelleher would be allowed to return to teach for one semester, which represents the time left on her teaching agreement.

"She is in fact a student in good standing," Ms. Cardwell told the judge.

Lubbock to receive aid

LUBBOCK (AP) — Flood-stricken homeowners and businesses in Lubbock County will be able to get low-interest federal loans to help rebuild from damage suffered last month when heavy rains struck the area.

The Small Business Administration Tuesday declared the county a disaster area as the result of an Oct. 19 storm that dumped more than 7 inches of rain on the area. Texas Gov. Mark White made the request for aid last week at the recommendation of Lubbock Mayor Alan Henry and Lubbock County Judge Rod Shaw.

The declaration means home owners, renters and businesses will be eligible for low interest loans to pay for damage not covered by insurance, an SBA spokesman said in Washington. He said applications would be accepted beginning Thursday at the SBA office in Lubbock.

Officials have estimated half a million dollars in damages alone in the hard-hit Maxy Park area of Lubbock, where a nursing home was evacuated.

The SBA said homeowners whose residences or land were damaged can get up to $50,000 for uninsured losses, or $10,000 for uninsured personal property losses, up to a maximum combined limit of $55,000.

Businesses with physical damages can receive up to 85 percent of net uninsured loss, not exceeding $500,000.

Small businesses unable to get credit elsewhere can receive up to $500,000 at 8 percent interest through an economic injury loan.

"The injury must be directly attributable to flooding," said Jim Jennings, an SBA spokesman in Washington.

Homeowners who are judged able to recover from the disaster through their own resources can get a loan at a 12.7 percent. Those without other credit can get a 6.375 percent rate. The loan can be made for up to 30 years.

Oil storage criticized

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Strategic Petroleum Reserve, damaged four years ago by fire at its West Hackberry site, still has a poor fire protection system there and at almost all of its other oil storage caverns in Texas and Louisiana, according to a new U.S. Department of Energy study.

The lengthy report faults some private contractors for poor work and high executives' salaries but lays even heavier blame on the government's project managers — mainly those based in New Orleans.

The government officials are charged with poorly maintaining project equipment, to the point that they risk not being able to get oil out of the ground unless repairs are made soon.

In addition the report says they failed to get good fire protection systems in place; failed to set up adequate security at oil storage sites; and failed to monitor contractor performance, on the one hand, while frustrating contractors' efficiency by requiring that even minor decisions be made by only a handful of government project managers in New Orleans.

Many of these charges have been made repeatedly by a U.S. House Government Operations energy subcommittee, headed by Oklahoma Democrat Mike Synar. However, in hearings before Synar's subcommittee, program officials based in New Orleans said the problems had been corrected.

Later, Energy Secretary Don Hodel took some project management duties away from the New Orleans officials and gave them to DOE's Joe LaGrone, based in Oak Ridge, Tenn.

LaGrone was told to investigate all charges of government mismanagement and possible contractor fraud at SPR.

On Tuesday, LaGrone reported privately to Synar, and the congressman later released LaGrone's full report, with an accompanying "executive summary." LaGrone's investigating team cites an old cause for the program's current problems: that mistakes were made, because DOE felt its key — and almost sole — mission was "to get oil in the ground."

Project managers testified this year that they have abandoned that "rush" policy and are concentrating on building a sound project to give the nation a secure, and readily available, temporary oil supply in emergencies.

Burns can't afford to die

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Comedian George Burns signed a five-year contract with Caesars World, vowing to see the pact through to its conclusion because "I can't afford to die when I'm booked."

Burns, 87, joked with reporters at the announcement Tuesday, making frequent references to his age.

"The last time I played Caesars Palace, it was owned by Julius," Burns dead-panned. He called himself the original performer for the Roman Empire.

Burns will star at Caesars Palace in Las Vegas and Caesars Tahoe in Stateline, Nev. His first engagement for the resort chain is Dec. 27 through Jan. 1 at the Lake Tahoe property. The contract calls for a two-year option at the end of the five-year period.

He is currently at the Las Vegas resort filming "Oh, God III." In a departure from his two previous "Oh, God" films, the new movie will feature Burns as both God and the devil. It is scheduled for release by Warner Bros. in 1984.

Burns was a fixture on the Las Vegas stage for years, introducing such stars as Ann-Margret and Bobby Darin. He quit appearing in the city nearly 20 years ago, then returned last year for a series of sell-out engagements at the Sahara Hotel.

Burns recently authored the book "How to Live to be 100 — or More!" which is described as "the ultimate diet, sex and exercise book."

Football players defense

NEW YORK — New York Jets defensive end Mark Gastineau and rookie quarterback Ken O'Brien say they were only trying to break up a fight — not assault anybody — in the brawl that broke out Sept. 30 at the Manhattan disco palace Studio 54.

Each is charged with third-degree assault and innocent pleas were entered in court on their behalf Tuesday.

Studio 54 employees have said the brawl began after the 6-foot-5, 269-pound Gastineau lost an arm-wrestling match to the club's bartender.

Of three men injured in the melee, two received broken noses, according to the complaint filed in Criminal Court.

Gastineau, 26, and his 6-foot-4, 210-pound teammate were released in their own recognizance and had no comment for reporters as they left the courtroom.

Pacino on the stand

NEW YORK — Actor Al Pacino spent an afternoon on a witness stand where the talk was about tapes — around 1,000 of them left by the renowned acting instructor Lee Strasberg.

The 43-year-old Pacino, currently appearing on Broadway in "American Buffalo," was called to testify Tuesday by Strasberg's widow, Anna.

She and the Actors Studio are engaged in a court fight over ownership of the tapes, which contain her husband's critiques of students.

Pacino is co-artistic director of the studio.

Mrs. Strasberg contends the tapes belong to her late husband's estate and said she wants to make them available to "everybody who has an interest in the theater and acting."

The studio, supported by affidavits from its president, Paul Newman, and co-artistic director Ellen Burstyn, contends the tapes are "teaching tools" essential to the educational process there.

Pacino said in court the critiqued sessions "could get very personal," but "I don't think I have a problem" with other actors hearing them.

The case was continued to later this week.

Drug education important

PITTSBURGH — Former first lady Betty Ford, an outspoken critic of drug and alcohol abuse since her own battle against addiction, says community awareness and education are essential in fighting the problem.

"Perhaps they will make a choice not to abuse their bodies if they know what it does," the 65-year-old Mrs. Ford told a news conference Tuesday before being honored by Abraxas, a statewide organization offering alternative rehabilitation for young drug and alcohol offenders.

As she spoke, her husband, former President Gerald Ford, listened quietly with crossed arms.

In April 1978, Mrs. Ford admitted herself to the Long Beach Naval Hospital Alcohol and Drug Rehabilitation Center in California where she stayed for nearly four weeks battling an addiction to alcohol and arthritis medication.

Hustler publisher arrested

LOS ANGELES — Hustler magazine's publisher, promoting himself in a "Larry Flynt for President" T-shirt, cursed at a judge who ordered his arrest for failing to hand over a tape connected with John De Lorean's drug trial — but avoided a contempt citation.

U.S. District Judge Robert Takasugi released the paraplegic Flynt after the publisher apologized for his outburst Tuesday.

Flynt, who was delivered to the courtroom by a platoon of federal marshals who arrested him at his heavily guarded Bel-Air mansion, had said he feared for his life if he went out.

He had threatened to shoot anyone who tried to serve a contempt warrant, but he offered no resistance and told 100 assembled reporters and photographers that his threat was "a publicity gimmick."

"If anyone is going to put a bullet in me, I want the whole world to be watching," said Flynt, 40, who has been confined to a gold-plated wheelchair since a 1978 assassination attempt in Georgia.

Takasugi had found Flynt in contempt for failing to appear in court with a barely audible tape recording which allegedly shows a government informant, James Timothy Hoffman, 42, threatening De Lorean if he refused to go through with a drug deal. The 58-year-old former automaker faces federal charges that he conspired to distribute $24 million in cocaine, part of an FBI "sting" operation.

"Mr. Flynt does not have the tape referred to in the subpoena," attorney Alan Isaacman told Takasugi. "We are reluctant to put him on the stand and have him answer questions for fear he may waive his Fifth Amendment privileges... we feel he does not have to answer questions."

At one point in Tuesday's bizarre proceeding, Flynt loudly fired his three lawyers and said, "I'm my own attorney now. I have the right to defend myself." He later changed his mind.

When the judge sought assurances that Flynt would appear in court again if released, Flynt shouted, "Please, I'm begging you, Your Honor. If you're so interested in justice, let me talk." His comments were punctuated by obscenities and a blunt sexual epithet.

Takasugi freed Flynt on his own recognizance, ordering him to return Nov. 14 when the issues of the tape and whether he should be held in contempt will be discussed. Meanwhile, the judge vacated the earlier contempt citation.

Red ink blues everywhere

WASHINGTON — Today is the second day the federal government operated without authority to borrow money and the red ink blues were everywhere.

Its credit exhausted, the Treasury Department struggled to do business on a cash-only basis. Congress searched for ways to reduce growing deficits and President Reagan ordered his Cabinet secretaries to shrink the budgets for their departments.

"The U.S. government is living on a hand-to-mouth basis as the Congress creates uncertainty in the financial markets," Treasury Secretary Donald T. Regan said Tuesday in response to the Senate's 56-39 refusal Monday night to raise the national debt limit above its current ceiling of $1.389 trillion.

That limit was reached Tuesday when the Treasury Department made a $4 billion payment to the Social Security system. Until the limit is raised, the government will be operating only on the cash it has on hand.

Congressional leaders have indicated they may let the problem worsen as a way to prod reluctant legislators to go along with increasing the borrowing authority.

Senate Majority Leader Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., said Tuesday he would delay further consideration of the debt bill until next week. An aide said Baker will "wait and see if there is a crisis and how people react to it."

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., said that when there is a crisis, "we can accomplish things that you can't accomplish a month previously."

The House already has acted to meet a Reagan administration request to raise the debt limit to $1.615 trillion.

However, Sen. William L. Armstrong, R-Colo., who was among the majority voting against raising the debt limit, said Tuesday, "There is a growing consensus... that growing deficits put our whole future at hazard."

Armstrong said that he and about a dozen other conservatives were seeking a meeting with the president to tell him "we think it's time for some institutional reforms or some spending restraint."

Aftershocks kill two

ERZURUM, Turkey — Four more earthquakes, aftershocks of a quake that destroyed 44 villages Sunday, jolted eastern Turkey during the night, killing two people and frightening thousands of survivors sleeping outdoors in near-freezing temperatures.

Rescuers looking for additional survivors of Sunday's quake found four bodies today. That discovery, along with the two deaths from the aftershocks, raised the overall death toll from the series of tremors to 1,239.

Monitoring stations recorded four tremors of medium intensity late Tuesday night. The quakes shook villages northeast and southeast of Erzurum, a provincial capital, and in Horasan region, believed to be the epicenter of Sunday's tremors.

Turkish military officials said two bodies were found in the rubble of collapsed homes in Kalebogazi, a village between Erzurum and the Soviet border. Kalebogazi had escaped the devastation of the quake which struck Sunday morning.

No Richter scale reading, a measure of intensity of ground movement, was immediately available for the quakes Tuesday night.

A Swiss disaster team using search dogs found 15 bodies on Tuesday. "There was nobody alive under the ruins," said Jean Pierre Racle, a team member.

The massive quake on Sunday rocked four townships and surrounding villages in Erzurum and Kars provinces near the Soviet border. Some 30,000 cattle and sheep, the source of main income for the peasants, were killed.

Watt, Clark similar

WASHINGTON — The answers Interior Secretary-designate William P. Clark gave at his confirmation hearing make it hard to tell where he and James G. Watt part company philosophically. But in one respect the two men couldn't be more different.

Clark's mouth is unlikely to ever get him in trouble.

For more than six hours Tuesday, the soft-spoken Clark answered each question as if he were still crafting judicial opinions on the California Supreme Court — carefully weighing the impact of each word.

Clark was due back for more grilling today, followed by testimony from 23 witnesses, including many environmental organizations who are opposing his nomination.

Try as they might, senators on Tuesday were unable to get Clark to criticize Watt.

'Day of Dead' observed

HUEJUTLA, Mexico (AP) — Millions of Mexicans join in a feast with the dead today in a ceremony stretching back to the times of their Aztec ancestors.

It is the Day of the Dead — a bizarre blend of pagan and Roman Catholic tradition and for many Mexicans the country's most important holiday.

In this isolated mountain town 150 miles north of Mexico City, as in thousands of other villages and towns, symbols of death are everywhere in the weeks before Nov. 2.

Bakery shelves are piled high with bread in the shape of bones. People buy and eat sugar skulls that carry their names. Children play with toy skeletons. Friends exchange poems that jokingly refer to each other's funeral. Radio stations play song after song about death.

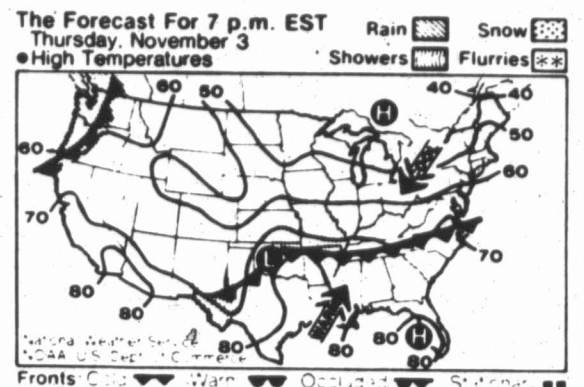

The celebration tells much about this nation of 75 million people.

The Day of the Dead coincides with All Souls Day, but for Mexicans the celebration is very different from the traditional Catholic holiday.

A prescription for drug abuse

Drug use has been assimilated into our society. By the time most teen-agers graduate from high school, they have tried marijuana. Most college students have tried some form of speed — legal or illegal — at least once to stay awake for all-night study sessions for tests.

It is not unusual to see students in their first year at college away from home taking drugs in an effort to prove no one can tell them what to do.

Recent studies seem to indicate that current high school and college students are taking more alcohol than drugs, partly because alcohol usage is accepted in society. But because students are drinking more than they are taking other drugs does not mean they are mentally or physically in any better shape. Alcohol is a drug, and the effects of addiction to it are as strong, and as hard to break, as that of most drugs.

Drug and alcohol abuse among teen-agers and children is not uncommon any more. But to some extent, usage is a reflection of what they see in a larger society — parents' increased reliance on prescription drugs to calm their own neuroses, the open use of cocaine and other high status drugs by affluent members of society, heavy drinking at adult parties.

Children imitate what they see. And when they see parental misuse of drugs or alcohol, they see no reason why they shouldn't follow the example.

Drug and alcohol abuse in both children and adults is symptomatic of other problems — loneliness, stress or other emotional problems that the person feels he can't cope with.

Gone are the days, if they were ever present, when the only abusers were tough-looking juvenile delinquents or poorly educated persons. Some of the best and the brightest use alcohol and drugs to hide from problems at home or at school.

Condemning students and children for using alcohol or other drugs will not solve the underlying problems that caused them to turn to alcohol or drugs. We are confident that dedicated groups like "The Chemical People" realize that to successfully combat drug and alcohol abuse, we must treat the causes and not just the symptoms.

Blind TV blues

My television doesn't work. Well, it's not that the set is actually dead. It just needs intensive care or retirement at a nursing home. You see, it's gone blind from age, I guess.

My tv is a battered old black-and-white that dates back to the '60s. It has endured several long distance trips in my car and fought a never ending battle with the poor reception in the residence halls at Texas Tech.

And now, just in time for the Cowboys game, it stopped working. Actually, that wasn't so bad since some kind soul can always be persuaded to invite you over to watch America's Team triumph over the loser of the week.

What is bad is trying to watch your favorite dramatic show, one that engages in wit, subtlety and the lifting of actor's eyebrows, without a picture. Needless to say, you don't watch it — you sort of imagine a picture and a plot to go with the fuzzy sound.

Do you know how hard it is to figure out what is going on during a silent break-in of an art gallery? Now I know the five minutes of silence last night on Remington Steele occurred while the stars were breaking into an art gallery. But last night, I had no idea whether the reason my tv was only emitting sounds of heavy breathing was because Remington Steele and Laura Holt were a) kidnapped and under gunpoint to be silent b) breaking in some place to find missing paintings c) engaging in amorous activity or d) my television had lost the sound and picked up some obscene phone call.

I felt like I was back in the "golden days of radio," only they always had plenty of sound effects and dialogue in those days. This doesn't mean the show did not any sound effects.

Just the opposite. I heard two cars madly racing around bends, through street lights, and down hills to the sounds of gunfire. But who was shooting at who? For a while, I thought someone's loud moans meant he'd been shot. No, he just couldn't believe that his demure detective romantic lead was leaning out the window and shouting with the wild abandon characteristic of Bonnie Parker.

Trying to figure out was going on became even more complicated as I realized that the missing paintings Steele and Holt were trying to find had duplicates. The forgeries were meant to confuse the people watching the show, let alone those in the audience just listening.

What was truly saddening about the whole situation was that I was unable to gaze adoringly at every inch of Pierce Brosnan as he oozed charm and intelligence. My imagination's good, but I guess the only advantage to the whole situation is that my imagination is in vivid color and my tv picture, even when working, is in black, white and gray.

I gave up on tv after my abortive attempt to determine the plot on Remington Steele. I mean, how can you figure out what is happening on Bay City Blues from the sound? The show is similar to Hill Street Blues: the plot keeps jumping from character to character, which would be fine if I knew who was who yet. But since it's only the second show, I knew I'd be lost.

About the only thing that does make sense without the picture is the news. "Wounded soldiers are being flown in today from Grenada and Lebanon....The bus strike is delayed another day"

I guess I'll have to do battle with the tv repairman today.

The Nashville, Tennessee area purchases the greatest number of cookbooks per capita in the U.S.

Donations stolen; police didn't care

Editor:
I work at Willie's Cafe 304 E. 3rd, and we were broke into sometime Friday night. We were collecting money for Bruce Walker to help pay on his medical expenses and ever who broke in took this money. It was in a canister, written on it what it was for. So who ever took it, had to know it was needed badly. It just makes me sick, derrange persons are running loose in the world.

We were just hert broken about this, and to top it off, the police acted like they could have cared less, that we were broke into. This is the second time in less than six months, and we got the same reaction from the police before.

It may not seem like much to them, but we have to work hard for our money.

Maybe the police should spend more time patrolling our streets, and less time in 7-11 stores and coffee shops.

New gun proposal will weaken laws

Editor:
On Nov. 22, we mark the 20th anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. More than 400,000 Americans have been killed in gunfire since his death. Ironically, on this anniversary, Congress is considering legislation which would weaken, not strengthen, America's feeble gun laws.

In 1968, when Congress passed the Gun Control Act, our legislators

WASHINGTON — In an earlier column, I revealed that the historic 1962 "agreement" between President John Kennedy and Premier Nikita Khrushchev over Soviet nuclear missiles in Cuba was never a real agreement, and certainly not the ironclad pact the American public believes has existed for the past 21 years.

The State Department has determinedly covered up this situation, even withholding from top White House officials the secret documents that chronicle the delicate U.S.-Soviet negotiations in the fall of 1962. My associate Dale Van Atta has seen secret and top secret papers which show that the situation today is no better — and in some respects worse — than when the missile crisis took the world to the brink of nuclear war.

The Soviets have many more offensive weapons in Cuba — and are more sophisticated ones — than the 42 medium-range ballistic missiles that touched off the 1962 confrontation.

Faced with a determined President Kennedy and a clear American military superiority, Khrushchev reluctantly agreed not to deploy the missiles he had planned for Cuba, removing those already in place. But he balked at the U.S. insistence that the Soviets also pull out the IL-28 "Beagle" bombers on the specifically prohibited mail-order gun sales because President Kennedy's assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald, used a cheap rifle purchased from a Chicago mail-order house. The weapon was fitted with a telescopic sight, also acquired through the mail. Less than an hour after killing the President, Oswald killed police officer J.D. Tippitt with a .38 caliber handgun acquired from yet another mail-order house.

Now, the National Rifle Association wants to gut the 1968 Act through passage of the McClure-Volkmer Gun Decontrol Bill (S. 914 and H.R. 2420). This bill would lift the prohibition on mail-order sales and again allow easy access to firearms by criminals and would-be assassins.

This bill must be stopped. Our Congress should not enact legislation which only invites mail-order murder.

Paper covered up story of stripper

Editor:
I heard there was a male strip-teaser entertaining employees of the County Court House one day last week. I also heard that your Court House Reporter and several other persons of the medias were there, and what I would like to know is how come you did not run a story about it in your paper. Is this the way you censor or cover-up the news? I think you should have photographed the event and published it on the front page of your paper, so everybody could see.

Pray with Reagan for country, GIs

Editor:
President Reagan spoke to the people Thursday evening at 8 o'clock on the TV with tears in his eyes and a lump in his throat. He explained, as best he could, why it was necessary to send troops to Lebanon and Grenada, and his heartfelt sympathy to those who had — lost loved ones over there and elsewhere.

Someone had asked him if there was anything they could do to help out in their troubled and dangerous times; Yes, he said, I am depending on you for some great and important part you can do. We are a God loving nation, we know the power of God and the mercy of his hands and we can go to him in prayer; Pray earnestly and diligently for those who are bereaved and that nothing we may do will be for revenge. But keep everything we possibly can from happening which necessarily take the lives of those we love.

The president explained why it was necessary to send troops to Lebanon and Grenada. The Cubans under the supervision and power of a godless nation was preparing to take over that island country and make it a Cuban stronghold, and if that had been permitted to happen we would have had another disgraceful IRAN mistake on our minds and conscience.

Let us all who love God and His creation; Pray as we have never prayed before, the Bible says — "The prayers of a righteous man availeth much." (All statements are not direct quotes).

Billy Graham Forgiveness key in our salvation

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I heard a preacher say on the radio the other day that the Bible says God will not allow any sin into Heaven. But if that is true then how can anyone ever be saved and go to Heaven, since we have all sinned? — J. A.

DEAR J. A.: Yes, at first it seems like an impossibility for anyone to be saved and go to Heaven if in fact God does not allow any sin there. But your question touches the very heart of the Christian faith, and I want you to understand a very simple and yet profound truth that the Bible reveals to us.

What the preacher you heard say is true, and it is true because God is holy. The Bible says concerning God, "Your eyes are too pure to look on evil; you cannot tolerate wrong" (Habakkuk 1:13). We also read concerning Heaven that "Nothing impure will ever enter it, nor will anyone who does what is shameful or deceitful, but only those whose names are written in the Lamb's book of life" (Revelation 21:27). At the same time, the Bible also tells us that we are all tainted by sin, for "there is no one who does good, not even one ... for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:12,23).

Clearly if anyone is to go to Heaven their sins must not only be forgiven but removed. Can we do this ourselves, in our own strength? No! There is only one answer. If our sins are to be removed, God must do it. And the good news of the Gospel is that God has made this possible! When Jesus Christ died on the cross, he took upon himself our sins. He took upon himself the death and hell that you and I deserve. It is as if a judge had fined you for a crime you had committed, and then walked down from his bench and paid the fine for you himself out of his pocket. The penalty of sin is paid fully and completely by Christ, and our sins are taken away. "God made him who had no sin to be sin for us, so that in him we might become the righteousness of God" (2 Corinthians 5:21).

Christ offers forgiveness to you right now. Is there any reason for you not to accept it? You can know that Christ has taken away your sins by opening your heart and life right now to Jesus Christ by faith and trusting him for your salvation.

General George Washington received an honorary degree from Harvard College in 1776.

Another Cuban missile crisis island.

In a secret letter to the Soviets, U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson listed the weapons the United States considered offensive in nature. The list specifically included bombers.

In a Nov. 5, 1962 memo to the president, Attorney General Robert Kennedy reported on a meeting with Soviet ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin. He said he had told the Russian that "certainly it was very clear that the bombers, the IL-28s, had to go."

But Khrushchev did not agree. Secretary of State Dean Rusk sent Stevenson these top secret instructions on Nov. 7:

"Soviets take position that Kennedy-Khrushchev agreement related only to missiles ... Our primary purpose is to get the MRBMs (missiles) and IL-28 bombers out, and we would go far in reducing the list of offensive weapons in order to achieve this purpose."

On Nov. 20, Khrushchev wrote to President Kennedy complaining that during their exchange of correspondence in October the president had not made "a single mention of bomber planes ... I informed you that the IL-28 planes are 12 years old and by their combat characteristics they at present cannot be classified as offensive types of weapons."

Khrushchev then added that "we intend to remove them within a month" anyhow, so the United States should call off its quarantine of Cuba. After some stalling, the Soviets did remove the bombers and the U.S. quarantine was then lifted.

But the sad fact is that the Soviets now have more and better warplanes in Cuba than they did in 1962. They have a dozen Tu-95 "Bear" bombers, some with strategic nuclear capability, and they have about 40 MIG-23 or MIG-27 fighter-bombers, the latter capable of carrying nuclear bombs.

In secret testimony to Congress, top intelligence officials admitted that the United States has no reliable way to tell if the Soviet planes actually have nuclear weapons.

Delivery of at least six nuclear missiles by submarines was verified in 1972 and 1974, and the Cuban naval base of Cienfuegos is known to be linked by rail to a nuclear warhead storage facility.

Sens. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., and Steven Symms, R-Idaho, have rightly raised questions about what they believed were Soviet violations of the 1962 agreement. The fact that there actually was no agreement doesn't lessen the practical dangers posed by the Soviets' offensive weapons 90 miles from the U.S. mainland.

BOONDOGGLE OF THE WEEK: Despite employee complaints and a critical inspector general audit, the General Services Administration is insisting that a district Internal Revenue Service office in Nassau County, N.Y., move into bargain-basement quarters that have been nicknamed "Horror Hotel."

GSA officials say the rent of $520,000 a year was the lowest bid for leased office space. The disgruntled employees say the reason is obvious: There are heating, air-conditioning and fire safety problems.

The GSA's inspector general found other faults with the bidding process, including these:

- Price was the only factor considered; quality was not a priority.
- Even the price evaluation wasn't done properly. For example, only the winning bidder had been allowed to negotiate for base services to trim expenses. The other bidders had no such opportunity.
- The winning bidder submitted the low bid only after being allowed to figure the base contract price over 10 years, instead of the originally mandated five. Then, the relevant documents were backdated to make it look acceptable.

Despite all this, GSA officials found "no reason to take action" that would have canceled the deal.

People important project

Tonight and next Wednesday night are two opportunities of critical importance to the well-being of this community and in particular our young people. The Chemical People Project town hall meeting will take place at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Drugs and alcohol adversely touch every life in America. Come to this program for education and awareness, to learn prevention measures, and to become a community action force.

Former Herald editor, Linda Adams' new address will be 5936 East Lovers Lane No. 210A, Dallas, Texas 75206, as of this weekend. She assumes her new duties at the Dallas Times Herald Monday.

Congratulations to the new officers of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors: Paul Shaffer, president, Clyde McMahon Jr., vice president; and Maxwell Green, treasurer. They will guide the Chamber through another year of progress for Big Spring area. Call them and volunteer to help when needed.

Ray Slaton has been named office manager for the Howard County Farm Bureau. With the Farm Bureau for four years and with 15 years in the insurance business, Ray was promoted from assistant manager.

Wesley Methodist Church will hold its first bazaar in several years providing hand-made items and baked goods. Chili by Jack Price will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Nov. 5. The bazaar will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Call Jan Keyes, 263-3543, for more information.

Some other upcoming events:
Nov. 5 — Elks Lodge annual chili supper bowl cook-off.

Nov. 10-12 — Howard College play, "Glass Menagerie."

Nov. 11 — 8 p.m. The Fort Worth Chamber Orchestra presented by the Big Spring Concert Association (tickets at door).

Nov. 12-13 — Sports Car Club of America competition at Howard County Industrial Park.

Nov. 17-19 — Howard College Queens' Basketball Classics.

Our total bank deposits and savings and loan deposits are up by a healthy percentage over last year. This is a statistic that is often overlooked by people in a community, and those in the banking profession oftentimes forget that the rest of us don't always realize the importance of our deposit levels. For example, a few days ago in a conversation about the overall economic conditions, the impact of the poor agricultural picture, and the oil problems, it was noted that despite all the negative factors, this area has been able to maintain a high level of deposits. One man in the group said, "Why are deposits so important to a bank?" This was a successful businessman, yet not really aware of just how important he was individually to the collective economy through his deposits.

To put it simply, "no money, no bank". Deposits provide money for loans, services, flow of funds to promote business and industry, and in some manner touches every person.

Less than a year ago, the Blue Blazers were formed for the purposes of promoting the effectiveness of women in public, business and home life, of providing perspective for social and political change, and of using women's combined energies, wisdom and unique qualities for the best interest of this area.

Since January a lot has been done by this fledgling group and an even brighter future of service is expected. The first year was planned as a "shake out" year of getting a larger number of women involved and organized, then making the public aware of the Blue Blazers, and finally to begin a strong tradition of positive impact in this community.

The Blue Blazers are the Women's Division of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce. Membership is open to any woman who is an individual or business member of the Chamber. One doesn't need an invitation to join, just a desire to be involved.

Each Blue Blazer serves on one of the nine task forces plus the "hostess" group. The task forces are: resource/research; personal/career development; public relation/information; community service; governmental affairs; network development; membership; administration; and mediation and appeals board.

There's a place for every woman in this community to put her skills, intelligence, ideas, and interests to good use. The by-laws are set up so that leadership is rotated with no one serving more than one year in the same capacity.

Some of the activities and accomplishments to date are: Attending ribbon cuttings and official community functions, sponsoring monthly networking meetings, having a monthly luncheon meeting of the total group as well as individual task force meetings; publishing a monthly newsletter; developing a resource list of all helping agencies in Howard County; developing a resource data bank for women; sponsoring the Howard County Rodeo Queen's contest and helping with various rodeo events; chairing the Miss Merry Christmas competition and helping plan the community Christmas festivities; researching and supporting various legislative issues including SWCID; supporting through various ways the Rainbow Project, Northside Community Center, rape crisis and battered women's seminars, voter registration, blood donor drives, and many others.

Two major projects have been The Chemical People Project and the United Way.

At the last minute before the United Way Campaign was to begin, a car wreck incapacitated the executive director, and the Metropolitan Division Chairman resigned when his company transferred him. The Blue Blazers stepped in and took over the entire Metropolitan Division, which is all small businesses with less than five employees. This means about 550 personal visits by the Blue Blazers. Already, in about a week, the Blue Blazers are at 25 percent of the goal of $20,000.

The Howard Co. 4-H Food Show will be held Sat., Nov. 19, at the Coahoma School Cafeteria. Members who want to be in the food show need to pick up a menu form, recipe form and project record form at the county extension office.

All forms are due in the office on Friday, Nov. 11. No late entries will be accepted.

There will be a foods workshop make-up for members who missed the Food for Fun and Fitness Workshop. If you want to participate in the make-up workshop, call Peggy Kalina by Nov. 3. The deadline to enter Major Stock Shows is Nov. 7.

Howard Co. 4-H is helping sponsor the Chemical People, Nov. 2 and Nov. 9 at Big Spring High Auditorium.

Oct. 29 County Lamb valadation was held; 225 lambs were valadated. Also a showship and sheep shearing demonstration was held.

A reminder to anyone who has information about the history of Howard Co. 4-H Clubs. Information should include dates, events, names, etc. and may be sent to Peggy Kalina at the county extension office.

Three Gay Hill 4-H members have been selected to participate in the calf scramble at the Feb. 26 matinee performance of the 1984 Houston Livestock Show. They are Kneil Stallings and Kevin and Duncan Hamlin.

The Gay Hill 4-H Club held its regular meeting Tuesday Oct. 25. The program was presented by Gary Earhart, Vo. Ag. teacher at Big Spring High School and his F.F.A. Chapter Conducting Team. They presented a demonstration on parliamentary procedure. Amy Newton was introduced as a new member.

Use Our Lay-A-Way Plan For Christmas

Easy ways to save.

When the temperature starts to drop, here's what you can do to help hold down your heating bills and save money. Set your thermostat at 68° or lower.

Remember, the lower you set your thermostat during the winter, the lower your electric bill will be. At night and when you're going to be away, set it at 55° or lower. Open drapes during the day to let sunlight in, and close them at night to help hold in warm air.

These easy ways to save can help you use less energy this winter. And you can learn more ways to help hold down your electric bill — winter and summer — with a TIPS booklet from Texas Electric. For your copy call us or ask for it on the comments section of your electric bill.

Dear Abby

Registry for adoptees nixes surprise reunions

DEAR ABBY: What are your views on adopted children one day being able to meet their birth parents?

Nineteen years ago my parents forced me to give up a baby girl for adoption because I was 16, unmarried and pregnant. I was very bitter at the time because I wanted to keep my daughter, but I realize that my parents did what they thought was best for me.

I am now a happily married mother of three, but my nightly prayer is to meet my first-born child. I have no desire to "surprise" her with a telephone call or an unexpected visit. I want to meet her only if she wants to meet me.

I heard that there is a national organization with whom birth parents and adopted children may register, and if all parties are agreeable to meeting, they may do so.

I am not a wealthy person, Abby, but I would gladly pay a fee. Thanks for any help you can give me.

MY NIGHTLY PRAYER
DEAR PRAYER: There is such an organization. It is: International Soundex Reunion Registry, P.O. Box 2312, Carson City, Nev. 89702.

I have checked the organization out and have found it to be a legitimate, non-profit corporation that provides this charitable, humanitarian service gratis. Contributions are welcome in order to keep the operation going, but no fee is charged for services.

For a registration form, write to the above address, and please enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Good luck and God bless.

DEAR ABBY: Although this is not a common problem, I hope you will help me. I am a 5-foot-10-inch woman who weighs 120 pounds, and I'm fed up with people telling me how "skinny" I am. I have even been asked if I'm "anorexic," which I consider an extreme put-down because I most definitely am not!

No one would say to an overweight person, "Gee, you're fat!" I have never dieted to get thin — in fact, I have tried unsuccessfully to gain weight, and I am plain sick and tired of being picked on because I'm so thin. By the way, I'm in excellent health. Please give me a witty comeback to use when people tell me I am painfully thin.

THIN BUT HEALTHY
DEAR THIN: Those who would remind someone that he/she is fat, thin, short or tall are either woefully ignorant or brutally insensitive, or possibly both. So resist the desire to respond with wit and assure them that you are in excellent health, then quickly change the subject.

Every teen-ager should know the truth about drugs, sex and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send $2 and a long, stamped (37 cents), self-addressed envelope to: Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.

Auxiliary celebrates birthday

The Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary celebrated its 10th birthday anniversary, Oct. 17, with a dinner at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall.

The following committees and chairpersons were introduced: Chairman, Gertrude McCann; Entertainment, Clara Lewis; Registration, Katie Spivey; Mrs. McCann presented the history of the organization. C.B. "Buck" O'Neal and M.H. "Jack" Spivey worked the charter up. Malata Latham Brownwood, commander of the State of Texas, issued the charter Oct. 3, 1973.

The following charter members were presented red roses with white streamers by Mrs. McCann: Opal Gaskins, Lee Rogers, Katie Spivey, O'Letha O'Neal, Beatrice McCray, Annie Branson, Carlo Gunner, Earline Luna, Delores Scott, Jackie Doering, Mary Acri, Alma Arnold, Elsie Prevo, Margarite Miller, Callie Williams.

White roses were placed in memory of deceased charter members: Jessie Seitz, Isabell Blackely and Margaret Caldwell. Past auxiliary commanders were introduced: Annie Branson, Mrs. Spivey, Clara Lewis, Nelda Decker, Mrs. McCann, Gladys White, Fannie Clark, Mrs. O'Neal.

Three members served as Region I commander: Mmes. O'Neal, Lewis and Miller. Special guests attending were Gold Star Mothers; state and Region I officers, Chapter 47 DAV officers, and past Region I officers. Other out-of-town guests were from Lubbock and Lamesa.

Dr. Donohue

Boils: finding the hiding places

Dear Dr. Donohue: Please tell me all about boils. What causes them? The treatment? Is there anything to take to prevent them? At the time I have a big one on my face and it has caused some embarrassing moments besides being very painful. —G.T.

Boils are pus-producing infections with the staph germ, which has burrowed into a hair follicle and begun to multiply. It's also called a furuncle. A person with recurring boils has to look for the staph hiding places, for the germ can be transferred to other body areas by hand contact, as in scratching.

Prime hiding places for these germs are inside the nose, under the arm, groin creases, beneath the breasts. From these hairs the germ can be transported, not only by scratching, but even from washing. So the order of business by way of prevention is paying attention to hygiene.

Now, what to do about an existing boil? When a boil is large and painful, a penicillin antibiotic checks the infection by killing the germ at the site. This usually takes care of most boils, but it doesn't get to their havens of safety. You have to apply an antibiotic ointment to the inside of the nose and in those other spots mentioned earlier. And you have to use the ointment for two weeks or so. Often, other family members have to be treated, for one case can spread to others. Anti-bacterial soaps are good preventives in this regard. Keep towels separated from non-infected family members so spread will be minimized.

Usually, with the anti-bacterial treatment of the affected family member and these other preventive measures, you can eradicate the staph problem and prevent boil recurrence. You do, of course, have to make sure that you don't have one of the illnesses that can make you susceptible to such infections — diabetes, for example.

Dear Dr. Donohue: What effect does a lack of magnesium have on one's health — i.e., blood pressure? — P.D.

The answer to your question is unknown, so my comments are all in the realm of speculation based on limited findings with regard to low magnesium levels in the body.

A low level of body magnesium has been found in some people with high blood pressure, but it doesn't tell us much and its significance is not at all clear. And a low level may put one at greater risk for heart attack and increase the severity of artery hardening, sudden narrowing of a heart artery, or abnormal heart rhythms. Let me repeat that all this is speculation.

Fortunately we don't usually have to worry about low magnesium levels. The metal is found in many foods: bananas, whole grain cereals, dry beans, milk, most dark vegetables, nuts and peanut butter. Rarely do people with normal diet develop a magnesium deficiency, although one may result from certain intestinal disturbances that hinder proper food absorption. But that's a very special situation. Now will you tell me what prompted your letter?

Dear Dr. Donohue: Recently you wrote: "I have never met a spider I could really like." Well, I have never met a doctor I could really like. But you could learn to like spiders. Like the entertaining jumpers or the fascinating wolf spiders — marvelous mothers they are! I'd like doctors if they were as friendly as spiders. That's my tongue-in-cheek comment for the day. — R.R.

Please do not take my aversion to spiders as a personal insult or as an indictment of the arachnid world. It is a personal quirk, probably due to some parental bias during upbringing. I want you to know I am trying to overcome my fear of and dislike for spiders. I know they have important ecological duties. It's just a matter of me overcoming my emotions. Give me time.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Can an older person with nerve-related hearing loss be helped with a hearing aid? — J.P.C.

Yes, he can be helped with careful selection of an amplification device. The kind of loss that cannot be helped by aids is central hearing loss, the kind that is traceable to changes in the brain.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Donohue, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for his booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Choice not to seek transplant recalled

WESTLAND, Mich. (AP) — A woman whose infant daughter died in her arms after the family decided not to seek a liver transplant for the child says she wondered "10,000 times a day" if the decision was right.

Five-month-old Samantha Decker succumbed Monday to liver failure, but her parents said in a newspaper interview before the death that they let her slip away in order to spare her more pain later.

"People need to know that we're not wrong, uncaring or unfeeling," said the baby's mother, Kelly Decker, 23, of Westland, a Detroit suburb.

Still, she said, "I feel terrible guilt. I asked my husband 10,000 times a day if we were making the right decision. But we'll never know."

The child's condition had worsened over the weekend as her breathing became more difficult and she showed signs of total liver failure, said the infant's aunt, Janet Czapski.

Mrs. Decker and her husband, Erik, said they decided in August against seeking a liver transplant because the chances of finding a suitable donor were less than 1 percent and the baby's survival chances afterward would be less than 1 percent.

Even if she survived a transplant, the operation would have meant a long and painful recovery for the tiny child, more than 50 medications each day and the possibility of undergoing kidney dialysis, they said.

"We loved her enough not to do that to her. As much as we want her to live, we couldn't put her through all that pain," Mrs. Decker said. The interview appeared in the Monday edition of the Detroit Free Press.

"The media do not tell you the facts," Mrs. Decker had said. "They make heroes out of the people who decide to go for transplants, but they don't tell you what people like us are going through. We couldn't put her through all that pain."

The cost of the operation and post-operative care at Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh was estimated at $150,000, the Deckers said, and the family medical insurance would pay for none of it.

"My husband makes $25,000 a year, but this is beyond normal, middle-class control," she said.

"We also have to think of our other daughter (16-month-old Jessica) and the fact that we might be mortgaging her future as well," said Decker.

Family earnings rise during 1983

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government says median weekly earnings of American families rose to $481 in the third quarter, a $26 improvement over the same three-month period in 1982, which helped to keep household budget-managers well ahead of inflation.

The weekly earnings figure was 5.7 percent above that of last year.

For individuals with full-time or salaried jobs, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said median weekly earnings, which includes overtime, tips and commissions added to paychecks before deductions, rose to $320, up from $307 over the same period last year, an increase of 4.2 percent.

During the same 12-month span, consumer prices were rising at an annual rate of only 2.5 percent.

Full-time workers in the managerial and professional fields had the highest earnings, especially those in executive, administrative and managerial jobs where average weekly earnings in the third quarter were $476. At the other end of the scale, workers in farming, forestry, fishing and household domestics earned the least, ranging between $194 to $113 a week.

In another part of the report, the labor statistics bureau noted that the number of families with one or more unemployed members shrank by 360,000 from the third quarter of 1982 through Sept. 30.

Median earnings continued to be higher for whites at $498 a week, than for blacks at $351, and Hispanics at $377, the report said.

While the some 44 million full-time and salaried male workers averaged $388 a week in the third quarter, the figure for the some 29.5 million women in the same category was only $251.

The agency, basing its findings on the Census Bureau's Current Population Survey of some 60,000 U.S. households, provided further evidence of the disparity between incomes earned by men and women when they were compared solely on the basis of worked full time, regardless of the nature of work.

Several women's organizations and labor unions, led by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, have been pressing the issue of "comparable worth" — contending that women doing work comparable to that of men are paid less.

The National Research Council concluded in a study last year that for every dollar paid to men, women make only 59 cents.

The average weekly earnings of men rose from $371 to $388, while the figure for women increased from $240 to $251.

In households where both the husband and wife were working in the third quarter, the man averaged $426 a week and the woman $262, according to the labor statistics bureau report. When a man was the sole household bread-winner, he had earnings averaging $379 a week. When a woman was in the same position she averaged $259, the report said.

Median family earnings for married-couple families, where both the husband and wife worked, reached $600, compared to $415 in those instances in which only the husband worked.

Recipes give new ways to prepare potatoes

Potatoes are America's favorite vegetable. Take advantage of the economy and convenience of the 10-pound bag of potatoes by using the following storage suggestions. Don't refrigerate and do keep in a cool (45 degrees to 50 degrees) dark place with good air circulation for up to a month; in room temperature, for about a week.

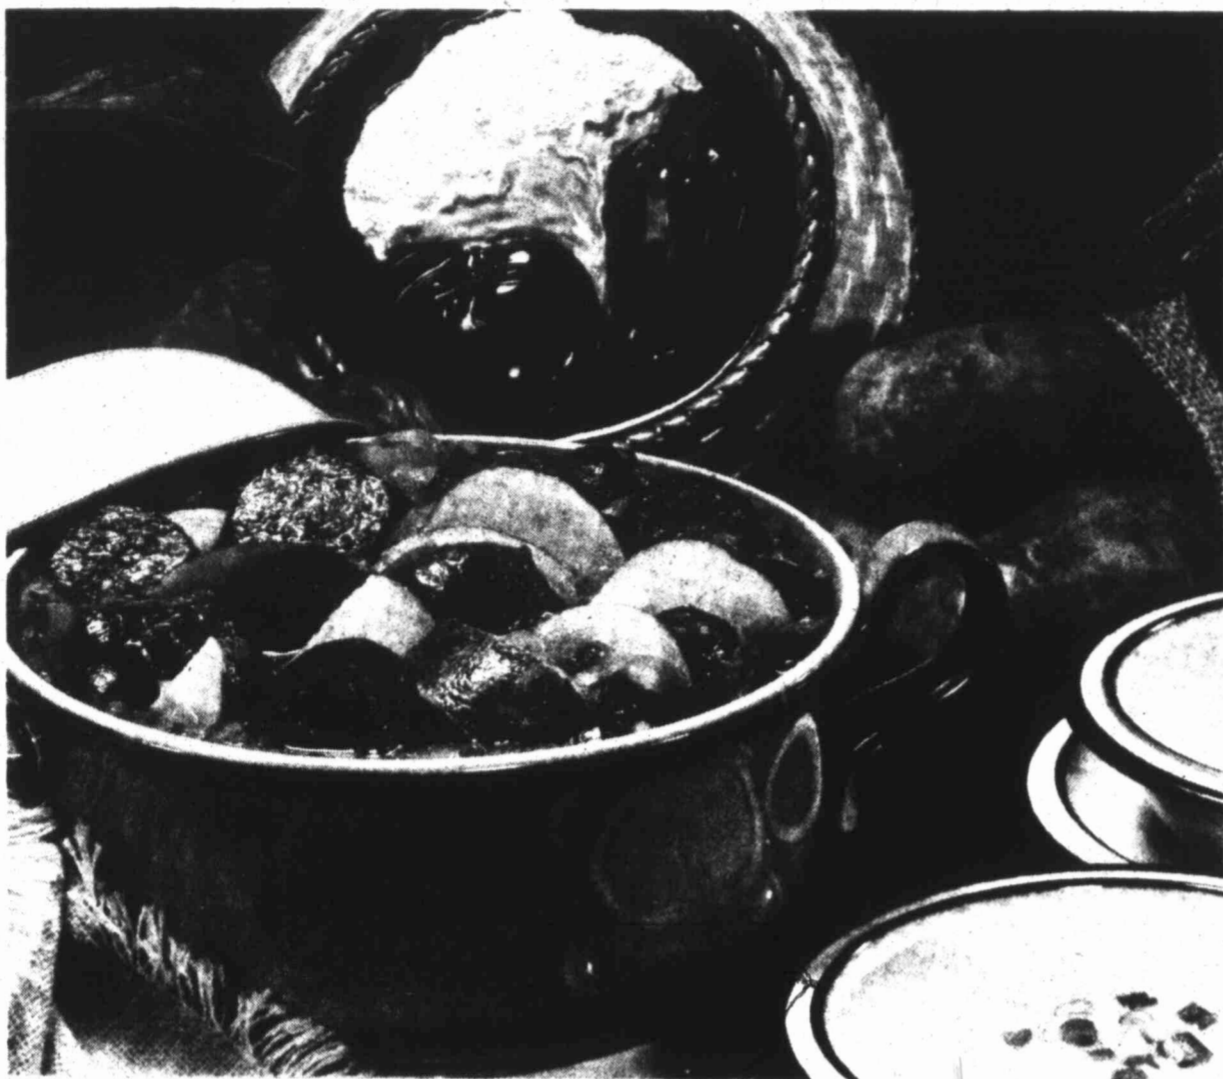

If you have recipes to share with the readers, a request for a recipe of something, or a cook you'd like us to feature, let us know. Write to Herald Recipe Exchange, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

POTATO DENMARK
6 small potatoes, cut in halves
1/4 cup sugar
3 Tbsps. butter
1/4 tsp. salt
Pinch of pepper
1/4 tsp. dried dill

Place potatoes in a large saucepan with 1-inch salted water. Bring to a boil. Cover. Reduce heat, simmer 20 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Peel as soon as they are cool enough to handle.

In large skillet, over low heat, melt sugar; stir constantly until sugar is golden. Stir in butter, salt and pepper. Add potatoes and toss gently until well coated. Sprinkle with dill. Serve immediately. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

GARDEN CASSEROLE
3 Tbsps. butter or margarine
1 large onion, sliced (1 cup)
1 large red pepper, cut in 1-inch strips (1 cup)
2 large cloves garlic, minced
1/4 cup flour
2 cups (1/2 pound) shredded Swiss cheese, divided
6 small potatoes, unpared, thinly sliced
1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut green beans, thawed
1 cup half and half or light cream
1/4 tsp. dried leaf rosemary

POTATOES — Potatoes are America's favorite vegetable and can be prepared many ways. One way is

1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
In large skillet melt butter; saute onion, red pepper and garlic until tender. Stir in flour; cook 1 minute. Spoon half the vegetable mixture into a 3-quart casserole. Sprinkle with one-third of the cheese. Layer potatoes and green beans; sprinkle with one-third of the cheese. Top with remaining vegetables and cheese. Combine half and half, rosemary, salt and pepper; pour mixture over vegetables. Cover. Bake in a 375 degree oven 45 minutes or until potatoes are tender. Uncover, place under broiler until top is golden. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SOME LIKE IT HOT VICHYSOISE
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 large onion, sliced (1 cup)
8 small potatoes, pared, halved
3 medium carrots, sliced
1 quart water
1 tsp. ground ginger
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper

2 cups milk
1 Tbsp. soy sauce
2 Tbsps. chopped scallion
In large saucetop or heavy kettle melt butter; saute onion until tender. Add potatoes, carrots, water, ginger, salt and pepper. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat. Simmer 30 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Remove 4 potato halves; dice and set aside. Puree remaining vegetables and cooking liquid in a blender or food processor. Return to saucetop. Stir in milk, soy sauce and cubed potatoes; heat. Sprinkle soup with scallions before serving. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

HEARTY POLISH STEW
1/4 cup butter or margarine, divided
1 pound stewing beef, cut in 1-inch cubes
1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
1 medium apple, cored, unpeeled, chopped (1 cup)
1 clove garlic, minced
1 pound sauerkraut, drained, rinsed well
1 can (14 1/2 ounces) tomatoes, drained, chopped
1 1/2 cups beef broth
7 small potatoes, unpared, cut in chunks
1/2 pound Polish sausage (Kielbasa), cut in 3/4-inch slices
3/4 tsp. caraway seeds
1/4 tsp. pepper

In a Dutch oven or large, heavy kettle melt 2 Tbsps. butter; brown meat quickly over high heat. Reduce heat to medium. Add remaining butter; cook onion, apple and garlic until tender. Stir in sauerkraut and tomatoes. Gradually stir in broth, scraping up bits from bottom of pan. Add potatoes, sausage, caraway seed and pepper. Cover. Simmer 1 hour 10 minutes or until meat is tender. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Combine sweet potato and butter. Gradually add sugar, beating until smooth. Add coconut, salt, lemon rind and vanilla. Drop from a teaspoon onto waxed paper. Cool until firm. Makes four dozen.

Tips help contestants in winning cookoffs

To improve your chances of winning cooking contests, consider these tips from a cook-off champ who won 16 contests since 1975:

- For any contest, keep the recipe simple and easy to reproduce by the average cook. And stick with ingredients that are readily available nationwide.
- Do research and learn to analyze a recipe — i.e., is there one specific step or ingredient (a seasoning, perhaps) that makes the recipe original?
- If you find a recipe that intrigues you, note what makes it so special in the margin and then clip it for your file.
- Write to contest sponsors to see if booklets with previous winning recipes are available. Check them out to make sure your entry isn't too similar to past entries.
- Give your entry an interesting name. "Beef 'n Ratatouille Torte," for example, is more appealing than "Ground Beef and Vegetable Pie."
- When developing a dish, make sure it's able to withstand at least a half-hour's standing time. It may take that long for judges to reach your completed entry.
- If invited to a cook-off, prepare the dish several times the week before. Experiment with garnishes and presentation. To assure exact duplication, bring along your own cookware and serving dishes. The reason? Most cook-offs provide only stoves, and feeling at home on a foreign range is easier with your own tried-and-true kitchen tools.

Now's the time to buy meat

COLLEGE STATION — "Now is an excellent time for cost-conscious consumers to stock up on meat for the freezer," says Mary K. Sweeten, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

More cattle and hogs are being marketed because of the summer drought. This increased supply has resulted in lower prices. According to USDA economists, steady to slightly declining prices for red meat are expected from October through December, says Sweeten. The economists expect that price levels for meat will be relatively unchanged at the first of the year, but anticipate moderate price increases 1984.

Consumers can take advantage of lower prices by buying a whole carcass, side or quarter; wholesale cuts; or retail cuts of meat. Before buying meat in quantity, consider available freezer space, the amount of meat the family can use within a reasonable amount of time, the type of cuts the family enjoys, and the amount of money available to spend. A carcass, side or quarter is sold by its "hanging weight," or total weight including fat and bones. The amount of edible meat will be about 75 percent of the hanging weight, with the other 25 percent lost in cutting and trimming.

The carcass or side will yield a variety of all cuts, and not all of them will be equally tender or equally liked by the family. A quarter is limited to only certain cuts, so the buyer can choose more specifically the type of meat wanted.

The hindquarter includes the short loin, sirloin, round and flank sections and will yield more steaks and roasts. It will also cost more per pound than the forequarter.

The forequarter contains the delectable rib section, but also has more of the less tender cuts coming from the chuck, shank and brisket sections, says the specialist. The yield of edible meat is actually greater in the forequarter. If freezer space is limited or cuts from a particular section are preferred, then whole or primal cuts (also known as wholesale cuts) will probably be the best buy.

Wholesale cuts usually are bought from locker and freezer provisioners and others who sell meat as sides or quarters, although sometimes they can be bought at a supermarket. Individual cuts of beef, like pot roast or T-bone steak are called retail cuts. Their wide variety allows consumers to buy as little or as much of a particular cut as they want. Even though the price per pound is usually greater, it is not as costly initially as buying a large quantity of meat all at one time. But retail cuts usually must be rewrapped for long-term freezer storage.

"Comparing costs and making sure you are getting a good value can be difficult when buying a product with which you are unfamiliar. And most consumers are unfamiliar with meats in carcass form," Sweeten says.

Bees produce sweet honey across Texas

The honey produced by Texas beekeepers is valued at about $7 million a year and with approximately 190,000 colonies of bees. Texas ranks fourth in the nation, producing roughly 220 million pounds of honey last year.

But C.L. Maserang of Fort Worth, a beekeeper for 56 years, believes the cross-pollination which bees provide Texas farm crops is worth 20 times as much as their honey.

"There are 50 crops here in the state that need cross-pollination, and your honey bee is the best source known for that," Maserang said. "Some fruits and vegetables, all your legumes, clovers, cotton, and sorghum grain depend on it. It helps them to produce a higher yield and a better seed if they are cross-pollinated heavily."

The Texas Beekeepers Association exists not only to produce and market excellent honey, but also to assist other commodity groups with implementing cross-pollination programs.

The association, with 500 members statewide, has beekeepers who live in the Valley and take care of the pollination in that area's citrus industry. A cotton-breeding program out on the High Plains around Lubbock also depends on the state beekeepers to pollinate their cotton.

Maserang predicts more than 100 different brands of honey are produced in the state. Several of them are marketed across Texas and into other states, while others are sold only locally.

Regardless, Maserang is convinced Texas produces some of the finest honey sold anywhere. A characteristic he says can be attributed almost exclusively to rich soils.

"There are many enzymes and minerals in the nectar the honeybees pull out of the plants. Having rich soil like that gives a good, fine aroma and taste to our Texas honey."

Adopted child's mom wins suit

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A working mother who won a fight for maternity leave to care for her adopted baby daughter says she's elated about her victory and hopes the ruling will spare other parents "the hassle my husband and I went through."

From the beginning, I just wanted them to recognize I was a mother and entitled to an unpaid maternity leave. "Was that asking too much?" Carole Fezar said after reading a federal arbitrator's ruling, handed down Monday.

"I hope this decision will ensure no other adopted mothers will have to go through the hassle my husband and I went through," said Mrs. Fezar, who was denied maternity leave last spring because her only child, 9-month-old Kristin Marie, is adopted.

Mrs. Fezar, 39, a tax clerk in the borough of Ambridge for 18 years, said she wasn't surprised by the ruling. She telephoned her husband, Michael, 45, a chemistry professor, at work as soon as she learned of the decision.

"I'm happy. I feel good. We knew we were right and were going to win," said Mrs. Fezar.

"It's joy, elation. But we're not surprised," her husband said.

Mrs. Fezar filed a grievance with her union, Local 1015 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, after borough council denied on May 31 her request for a one-year unpaid maternity leave.

Council members explained they didn't want to set a precedent and that maternity benefits were meant for a female borough worker who conceived and got pregnant.

"A woman could adopt a 17-year-old child and receive a one-year child-bearing leave," the borough contended in hearings before Arbitrator Carl Stoltenberg of Pittsburgh.

The union, meanwhile, contended "maternity leave is a contractual right that cannot be denied."

Stoltenberg, whose decision is binding, criticized the borough's definition of maternity.

"It is apparent that the term maternity does not singularly embrace conception and child-bearing," he wrote, "but rather that it encompasses the duties and responsibilities of motherhood."

The very fact that maternity leave can cover a period of time up to one year in duration serves to establish the fact that it sets a major portion of the time for child-rearing. It must follow then that the adoption of an infant child requires the same care, the same responsibility as would be with an infant born to a natural mother.

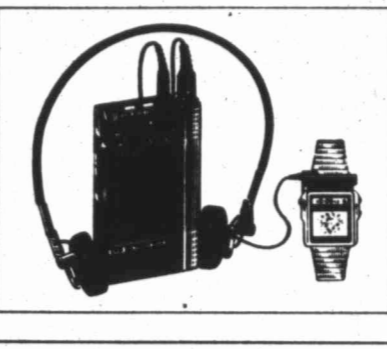

Stoltenberg directed the borough to immediately put Mrs. Fezar on maternity leave, dating back to her last day of work May 18.

Mrs. Fezar said she expected no problems when she first contacted her supervisor about a one-year unpaid maternity leave. The couple had waited for several years on an adoption list.

But Pugar doubts borough officials will change their stance on approving future maternity leaves for adopted mothers.

IBM reveals new computer

NEW YORK (AP) — IBM Tuesday unveiled the PCjr, its entry into the burgeoning home-computer industry that could redefine the $2 billion market for the sophisticated machines.

International Business Machines Corp. put the computer on display this morning for reporters. IBM previously had not confirmed the existence of the PCjr, called "PC Junior" after IBM's larger Personal Computer. The computer had been dubbed the "Peanut" by industry observers before its name was announced.

The industry eagerly has awaited the PCjr because the machine could redefine, or at least splinter, the current market for home computers — machines that now generally cost $300 or less.

That market currently is dominated by Commodore International Ltd., whose standing improved last week when Texas Instruments Inc. dropped out of the market after suffering multimillion-dollar losses with its $100 99-4A machine.

Texas Instruments' decision, nonetheless, cheered Wall Street on Monday, since the company's other businesses are strong. Texas Instruments' stock soared $22.75 a share to close at $124.50 in New York Stock Exchange composite trading. Commodore's stock rose $3.125 to $34.50.

IBM said it planned to begin shipping the two models of the PCjr in the first quarter of 1984.

One model, costing $669, can hold 65,536 characters in its main memory, can operate two software cartridges and comes with a cordless keyboard that can be used up to 20 feet away from the video display. The keyboard uses an infrared system much like the remote control device for a television set, but a cord can be hooked up if desired.

The second model, costing $1,269, carries a main memory of 131,072 characters, has the two cartridge slots and also provides a disk drive unit that allows for extra storage of 368,640 characters.

Neither model comes with a monitor or printer. Most home computers now generally cost $300 or less and have memories ranging down from around 64,000 characters.

The PCjr also has a 16-bit microprocessor that allows it to work much faster than most current home computers, which have 8-bit microprocessors.

IBM said it was introducing more than a dozen new programs for the PCjr, but that the new computer also is able to use many programs written for the Personal Computer, including IBM EasyWriter and IBM Multiplan.

The home computer also is capable of drawing color graphics, and an optional printer that can reproduce those graphics in color is available.

The Personal Computer effectively set a new standard in desktop machines for business after only two years on the market, and many competing companies now design their machines to run on IBM PC software in order to compete.

PC Junior is expected to have much the same effect on the home market.

PC Junior, Coleco Industries Inc.'s new $600 Adam computer and other machines also are seen forming a new, higher-priced segment in the home-computer market that stems from many consumers' growing perception that performance is more important than a low price, analysts said.

Consequently, the presence of IBM in the moderate-price range, combined with the shakeout now occurring in the low-price arena, is squeezing the prospects for low-price producers struggling financially.

Some low-end producers either will have to come out with more-expensive, more-advanced machines — even though they face IBM, the world's largest computer maker — or possibly face the same fate as Texas Instruments, analysts say.

Over the past 18 months, home-computer makers engaged in fierce price cutting that lowered the machines' costs to $200 or less. The companies thought lower prices would generate enough volume to make up for slim profit margins on each machine, or at least would increase the number of users who then would buy software and other accessories carrying higher margins.

The bargain prices spurred demand, but not to the extent the companies expected, and some were left with sizable inventories whose value had to be written off.

The exceptions appear to be Commodore and Tandy Corp., maker of Radio Shack computers for the home and office. Both companies are profitable, and Commodore commands about 30 percent of the home market.

IBM'S NEW COMPUTER — IBM officially announced its long-awaited and much-touted new personal computer Tuesday. The IBM PCjr, equipped with a diskette drive, offers a number of advanced features, including enhanced graphics and sound capabilities and an optional device which enabled it to communicate with other computers.

Water politician losing power

GLASGOW, Pa. (AP) — Perhaps the only American politician with direct veto power over the spigots and toilets of his constituents will lose that right soon — and he's flush with happiness.

Every morning, Mayor Dan Gallagher has to rise early to turn on Glasgow's water. At night, he shuts it off.

But now this village of 106 people on the Pennsylvania-Ohio line is installing a $100,000 system that will provide them 24-hour running water and give the mayor some extra sleep.

Nuclear war would end in starvation, scientists say

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major nuclear war could easily destroy the world's Northern Hemisphere and so badly damage the Southern Hemisphere that the surviving humans would starve, a scientist warns.

"If we have a full-scale nuclear war everyone is going to suffer, perhaps to the point of death," Paul E. Ehrlich of Stanford University told reporters Monday.

Ehrlich made his comments during a conference on the long-term effects of nuclear war. He and Carl Sagan of Cornell University represented about 100 scientists involved in the two-year study.

"The bottom line is the population of survivors ... are going to be starving to death in a cold, dark, smoggy world," Ehrlich said. "We have a very good reason to be scared."

"The extinction of the human species would be a real possibility," added Sagan.

Major and disastrous changes in climate could be triggered by even a relatively small nuclear war, and those changes would destroy crops and endanger millions of people.

Sagan estimated that a major nuclear exchange would kill 1.1 billion people and critically injure a similar number. There are about 4.7 billion people in the world.

The blast would also inject a huge dust cloud into the atmosphere cutting off sunlight and causing temperatures to drop well below freezing for weeks, Sagan said.

Sagan added that a nuclear war would damage the ozone layer allowing dangerous ultraviolet radiation after the dust settled, would fill the air with toxic chemicals from the burning of synthetics and would result in long-term radiation hazards as radioactive dust settled back to Earth.

Many of these effects have not been considered in earlier studies, he said.

In addition, he noted that most prior studies estimated that the effects of war would be limited to the Northern Hemisphere.

Lawyer says Toole denies killing young Adam Walsh

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A prison inmate denies earlier reports that he confessed to the murder of 6-year-old Adam Walsh, whose abduction inspired a new federal law and a network television docu-drama, a public defender said Tuesday.

Attorney Elton Schwarz told reporters in Tallahassee that the inmate, Otis Toole, "denies having made that confession and he denies killing Adam Walsh."

Police in Hollywood two weeks ago said Toole, 36, signed a statement saying he had snatched Adam from the sidewalk outside the Hollywood Mall on July 27, 1981, and later dropped Adam's head in a canal near Vero Beach, Hollywood police said.

The head was found by fishermen two weeks later. Authorities have been unable to find the body and no charges have been filed against Toole in the case.

Schwarz, in Tallahassee for a professional conference, said his chief assistant, Robin Friason, interviewed Toole in Jacksonville last Friday.

"He denies any knowledge of Adam Walsh at all," Schwarz said.

But Police Chief Sam Martin said, "I still feel we have a prime suspect, Toole, in this crime."

'Miss Lillian' buried in simple, fast ceremony

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — In a simple, six-minute ceremony "Miss Lillian" Carter, mother of former President Jimmy Carter, was buried Tuesday in the red clay fields of her homeland under a hot south Georgia sun.

Present at the graveside along with the 39th president were former White House aides Hamilton Jordan, Jack Watson and Jody Powell, former budget director Bert Lance, former United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young and about 300 other guests, including ABC White House correspondent Sam Donaldson, ABC's David Hartman and country music star Tom T. Hall.

The Rev. Fred Collins, officiating at the service, said Mrs. Carter, who died Sunday at age 85 of cancer, wanted the ceremonies "brief and simple" — and they were, lasting six minutes.

After the somber country service, the former president had the ropes which had separated the family from other guests taken down, and he began thanking people for coming.

Collins praised Mrs. Carter as "a friend of the great and powerful, but her heart was with the weak and needy."

She "lived an extraordinary life," he added; she was "courageous in life and death."

Collins recalled how as a nurse, Mrs. Carter had treated poor blacks and whites alike in the segregated Depression times of rural Georgia. He asked for remarks from the assembled mourners, but no one spoke. The former president, clad in gray, managed a smile.

The somber mood prevailed over the town where "Miss Lillian" held court as the matriarch of Carter's surprising political empire.

The burial site in the small Lebanon Cemetery is near Pond House where Mrs. Carter lived. The former president and his family gathered at the house before the afternoon services.

Some of the shops in Plains were closed Tuesday and an unusual number of tourists flocked to the town.

Mrs. Carter died at the Americus-Sumter County Hospital with her surviving children — Jimmy Carter, Billy Carter and Gloria Carter Spann — by her side.

Greenwood is in. Stanton and Colorado City are close. And either Klondike or Sands will make it. That's the playoff situation in a nutshell on the final week of regular season football for most area teams.

The Greenwood Rangers leashed the Eden Bulldogs 35-12 Friday night to win the District 7-A South Zone title. The win was the seventh straight for the Rangers and pushed their zone record to an insurmountable 6-0. Greenwood winds up district play Friday at Garden City and will meet the winner of the Klondike-Sands game in the Class A state playoffs.

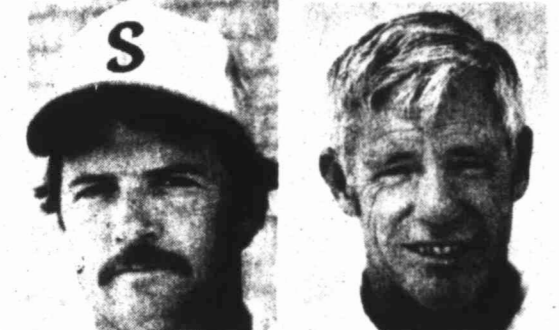

Stanton bowed to Wall 31-2 Friday but is still in the running for a playoff spot. The 4-5 Buffaloes are 3-1 in district and could advance to Class AA post-season play by knocking off McCamey, also 3-1 in league play, Friday night.

Colorado City is in a similar situation. The Wolves are 3-1 in district, losing only to No. 7 ranked Ballinger by a touchdown. A win over 6-AAA co-leader Crane (3-0-1) would send C-City into the playoffs. A loss would keep them home.

The Klondike-Sands game is always intense but this year, the action should be even more spirited with a playoff berth on the line. Both teams are 3-1 in the 7-A North Zone behind Roscoe (4-0). The winner of this year's shootout, scheduled for Klondike, will take to the playoffs.

Klondike is 4-5 overall while Sands is 6-3. In games played last Friday, Klondike lost 34-7 to the Flowboys, Colorado City edged Sonora 21-19, Sterling City nipped Garden City 22-21, Forsan buffaloed post Roby 20-0, Coahoma ripped Ozona 21-15, Grady held off Paint Creek 38-30 and Pecos popped Lamesa 38-0.

Here is what the coaches had to say about last Friday's and this week's upcoming game:

JIM WHITE, Sands High Mustangs — (On unexpected off-week) "We tried to rested up and healed up. Then we went over and watched Klondike play Friday night and didn't like what we saw. We didn't pretty banged up. We didn't try anything new, just tried to get the old stuff down. We still don't do that well. We wanted to play but at the same time needed the time to rest." (On fighting Klondike for playoff berth) "They have a real quick, hard-hitting, aggressive defense. We're going to have to block like crazed fools. They have been improving every week; we haven't been doing that. We'll have to be in a tackling mood. We've never been in the position where the 10th game had any meaning like this."

JAN EAST, Forsan High Buffaloes — (On big shutout win over Roby) "Probably the high point of the game was out defense. We really shut them out. I think they had 141 total yards on offense. The defense played a whole lot better. I think that was mainly because we could line up with them size-wise. We played a lot better technique and did a good job spreading out the defense. They never broke anything long on us...they ran a punt back 65 yards but they had a couple of clips and it was brought back. Maybe this will fire the ole kids up." (On finishing year against struggling Loraine) "We had a district meeting yesterday (Monday) and their superintendent assured me they would play. I have no idea what to expect. They haven't lined up two games in a row and done the same thing. We'll have to be prepared for anything. It would be good to win our last two games and end the year on a positive note and use that to build from next year."

MICKEY VIRDEHL, Klondike High Cougars — (On unsuccessful try at upset of Roscoe) "Roscoe just has a good football team. We thought that if you came out early and established a good running game, we'd be okay. We were able to do that, as long as we didn't make the mistakes. Our punting was our biggest problem. We didn't cover too well. They really only scored twice on our defense. The rest of it was mistakes by our specialty teams. We were really pleased with the way our kids played. We played real good football at times." (On meeting rival Sands for a playoff berth) "Besides the fact it is for second place and the playoffs, this is a big rivalry. We're 15 miles apart by the way the crow flies. The kids know each and have known each other since they started walking. Then you throw in the playoffs and it'll be a great ballgame."

CLYDE NOONKESTER, Lamesa High Golden Tornadoes — (On long night in Pecos) "They line up and whipped us. We didn't play too good. It was just one of those things. Our attitude was still there. They just hit us quick and nothing seemed to go right. We did fair on offense. We just got down 18-0 so quick, it was hard to get back in the game." (On hosting Fort Stockton) "They have a bunch of big folks. They've had a lot of bad luck. They were picked to win district. We'll have to rely on our quickness a little and hope they won't keep the ball on us. We're going to try to throw the ball a little."

Defense spurs Hawks' win

Mitchell debuts with 80-66 victory

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

Coach Mike Mitchell has been warning people about his defense. For the most part, Mitchell's words were put on accurate display Tuesday night in Howard College's season-opening win over Wayland Baptist.

Working their defense like a 20-armed octopus, the Hawks reeled off a 20-6 scoring streak to start the second half and rolled to an 80-66 win in Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

But even though his swarming defense keyed the win, the first-year Hawk coach wasn't totally satisfied. "We were good and we weren't good," he said after the game. "I've gotten them so conscious of pressure, pressure, pressure, that when their guy got the ball, he drove right past them. We did a good job denying the ball but not so good when they did get it. "Our defense played well off the ball but our offense on the ball wasn't so good," he summarized.

The defense and the hot-shooting of wing Dwight Harris broke open a tight game after the half. Harris had scored the final six points of the first half to give HC a 32-26 intermission lead and then scored eight points in the Hawk's second half spurt.

Three Pioneer turnovers and steals and downcourt lay-ins by Jerry Stroman and Joe Johnson supplied the Howard outburst. Seven minutes into the half, the Hawks had turned a six-point lead into a 52-32 advantage.

"Some of the fizz went out after that," Mitchell added. "We lost a little intensity and they hit four or five good shots. Then we quit guarding anyone."

Wayland narrowed the score to nine points on two occasions later in the game but never seriously threatened the Howard lead. Ahead 71-62 with two minutes to play, HC put on a 9-4 streak to close the game. A free throw by Johnson and rebound bucket by Stroman ended the scoring.

Harris and Stroman combined for 44 points in the game and Mitchell attributed that total to WBC's zone defense. "They were looking to make the play," he explained, "but they (Wayland) zoned us and naturally your outside guys are going to have to shoot the ball more." Michael Porter, the team's top scorer in pre-season scrimmages, drew his fourth foul with 12 minutes to go in the first half and was benched. He finished the game with just three points but Mitchell promised more from him in future games.

The Pioneers led early in the game but Howard took the lead for good at 15-14 when Harris camed his first long jumper. The game was tied eight times in the half, the last time at 26-26 before Harris connected on three buckets.

"We were only up by six at the half," said Mitchell, "but I didn't think we had played that bad. Wayland shot the heck out of it. We were really playing pretty good defense."

Each team grabbed 30 rebounds with Al Holland getting eight and Johnson seven for HC. Howard shot 55 per cent for the game while Wayland finished at 53 per cent.

Maurice Hoskin added 13 and Johnson 11 points to give HC four players in double figures. Michael Parks was the lone Pioneer in with more than 10 points, scoring a game-high 26.

The Hawks play again Saturday night, hosting the Sul-Ross junior varsity in an 8 p.m. game. HC also goes again next Tuesday in a special "Nostalgia Night" game against the Lubbock Christian College junior varsity. The 8 p.m. battle is preceded by the Queens' game against Ranger at 6 p.m.

Howard (80) — Maurice Hoskin 4-5-13, Michael Porter 11-13, Dwight Harris 11-22-24, Joe Johnson 5-14-11, Jerry Stroman 6-9-20, Al Holland 4-12-9, Totals 31-18-27-80
Wayland (66) — Bruce Johnson 3-12-7, Michael Parks 13-0-26, Todd Washington 4-0-0-8, Dale Gallon 2-0-4, Michael Harris 3-0-0-6, Kenny Oliver 3-0-0-6, Ronald Nedd 2-5-9, Totals 30-6-8-66
Halftime — Howard 32, Wayland 26
Total Fouls — Howard 13, Wayland 23
Fouled Out — Parks, Harris (WBC)

FAST-BREAK BUCKET — Howard College's Jerry Stroman (42) lays in two of his 20 points on a break-away bucket during the second half of Tuesday's game with the Wayland Baptist junior varsity. Trailing the play is WBC's Kenny Oliver (11). Howard won its season-opener, 80-66.

WACO — The Howard College Hawk Queens open their 1983-84 season here tonight against the host High Lassies in the McLennan Classic.

Both teams gained the Region V tournament last spring with the Queens, 21-10 overall, advancing to the semifinals before losing to eventual champion Amarillo. MCC also lost in the semis, falling to runner-up Clarendon.

Howard returns sophomore wing Kari Robinson and point guard Janene Berry. All-American forward Nell Haskins graduated and is playing in Houston while all-WJCAC pick Susan Cordell is playing in Waco for Baylor.

The tourney continues Thursday and Friday. HC takes on Navarro at 6 p.m. Thursday and finishes against Panola at 6 p.m. Friday. Their first home game is Tuesday at 6 p.m. against Ranger. — GREG JAKLEWICZ

Turnabout earns Phils' Denny NL's Cy Young

NEW YORK (AP) — John Denny, who turned his career around last season to become the winningest pitcher in the National League, was named the winner of the NL Cy Young Award today.

Denny, 30, posted a 19-6 record in helping the Philadelphia Phillies win the NL East division title. It was the best season of the right-hander's nine-year career and came directly after a year in which he was 6-11 with the Cleveland Indians and 0-2 with the Phillies, who acquired him on Sept. 11, 1982, to help them chase the East flag.

He faltered in that short stint but made up for it in style in 1983. In 242 2-3 innings, Denny registered a 2.37 earned run average (second in the league), struck out 139 and walked 53 while hurling seven complete games.

Denny was a landslide winner in the balloting by 24 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America — two from each of the league's 12 cities. He received 20 first-place votes and 103 points in out-distinguishing Cincinnati's Mario Soto. Denny appeared on 21 of the 24 ballots cast.

Following Soto, who was 17-13 for the last-place Reds and led the league in complete games with 18, was New York Mets reliever Jesse Orosco. Soto collected 61 points and had two first-place votes, while Orosco had one first-place selection and 19 points. Orosco, a left-hander, was 13-7 with a 1.47 ERA and 17 saves.

The other first-place vote went to Montreal's Steve Rogers, who fourth with 15 points.

JOHN DENNY
...NL's best hurler points), Phillies reliever Al Holland (four), Atlanta rookie Craig McMurtry (three), Bob Welch of the Dodgers (two), Nolan Ryan of the Astros (one) and reliever Lee Smith of the Chicago Cubs (one) also received votes. The writers voted for three pitchers, with five points searching for added pitching in the 1982 pennant chase, they sent three minor leaguers to Cleveland for Denny. But he pitched poorly and was considered the Phillies' No. 4 starter when the season began.

But with Philadelphia's other starters either hurt or faltering, Denny became the team's stopper, at one point winning seven straight decisions. He was 13-1 following the All-Star break and 6-0 in September, when the Phillies took charge of the division. He also was the winning pitcher in the Phillies' only World Series victory.

"I've grown a lot from last year," Denny said during the World Series. "This year, what I accomplished was consistency. Being consistent has allowed me to have the year I did and that's what separates this year from last."

wednesday's quarterback

DALE RUTH, Stanton High Buffaloes — (On running into a tough Wall ballclub) "Just about everything that could happen happened. We gave the ball up too many times. They have a pretty solid defense and a real good offense. We shut down their running game but their passing game hurt us with a couple of big plays. They kept it balanced in the second half. They're a ball-control team." (On hosting McCamey for second place playoff berth) "This will be for second place. It'll be another tough game. They have a real good defense. Their quarterback (Ray Zarate) is real quick and runs the option well. Also, they have a real good freshman tailback Rodney Terry. Their defense is always tough and we'll try to penetrate it. Our kids realize they still have a chance. It's a big rivalry. We get pretty high for its every year."

JOE LONGLEY, Greenwood High Rangers — (On clinching school's first district championship) "Well I tell you, it just makes you have to work harder. The players are excited. The fans still don't know what's happened. Our kids came out and played hard. Eden has a fast, quick team but they've been hurt by injuries. We came out bumped and bruised pretty good." (On the district crown) "I felt like if we didn't get the injuries to key people and our young kids came on and matured, we could challenge for it. We only had one kid who played the same position (TE John Ellis). We had a completely new look in the line." (On finishing up against Garden City) "We know it's going to be a tough football game. We're 25 miles apart and our kids know all their kids. It'll be a rock-em, sock-em type football game. We'll still be playing them one at a time. We'll be bringing up some JV players to give us some more depth. We'll be experimenting some. We have some kids that are beat up so if we can get our kids in the game, we will."

STEWART COOPER, Garden City High Bearcats — (On losing by a point again, this time to Sterling City) "I can't put a finger on it. We had them down and then gave up a score when we were in perfect position on the play. We moved the ball back down and got to the 15 and then had an illegal motion penalty. Little stuff. It was our best offensive game of the year. We had over 300 yards. We played good offense after our first three possessions. We had a possibility to score another time. They played pretty good defense." (On tangling with zone champ Greenwood in season finale) "They're a good, solid ballclub. We're a little bruised up from Sterling; it was a real physical game. We're going to play hard. The little of the pressure is off and we'll get after it the best we can. We're going to give it a valiant effort. We've got to go on pride and I'm counting on the kids to bounce back."

TOM RAMSEY, Colorado High Wolves — (On fighting off fast-closing Sonora) "We dodged another bullet. It was 21-0 in the first half and everything went right for us. In the second half, they had the field position and scored three times on us. It came down to a two-point conversion that they missed. We stopped Jeff Brittain a yard short with about 1:30 to go in the game. They tried an onside kick and we got it and ran out the clock. In the second half, we got the ball on our 3, 6, ran a kickoff back to our 38 but couldn't move and then got it after the onside kick. It was total domination by both teams." (On battling for playoff spot at unbeaten Crane) "They are undefeated and have a good football team. Fourteen points is the most they've given up all year. We feel, of course, that we can score on people. We've got to hold their running back, Jim Vasquez. He's the second rated runner in West Texas behind Odessa's (Charles) Hunter. We play as well on the road as we do at home."

RICHARD GIBSON, Grady High Wildcats — (On evening record against Paint Creek) "It was a good ballgame. Paint Creek has improved more than any team we've played this year. We were just glad to win. If we win this week, we have a chance to go 50-50 for the year. We let them score twice late in the game. It wasn't as close as the final score indicated." (On battling Lueders-Avoca) "It'll be a good ballgame. They run three different formations including one wide open. This is one of those games we can win if we play well or lose by a wide margin if we don't. I'm looking for a good game."

LARRY HUDSON, Coahoma High Bulldogs — (On snapping four-game losing streak at Ozona) "I thought that probably helped us more than anything in the world. It's just what we needed. It really helped our confidence. We still made some errors that we have to eliminate to play well against Ballinger. But we killed a lot of snakes on the sidelines that had been snake-biting us. We had 436 yards in total offense. Most of all, our young men learned that we can still do it." (On facing No. 7 Ballinger) "They are probably one of the best skill teams in the state of Texas. They have some great athletes. Aaron Keesee, their quarterback, can run and throw second only to the (Doug) Chitney kid of Colorado City, if second to him. They'll run right at you in a power offense. We'll have to play excellent pass defense and play against the run, too. We'll have our hands full. We'll have to take the role of Jack the Giantkiller and be the surprise team of Texas."

Dodge draws starting nod from Akers

AUSTIN (AP) — University of Texas head football coach Fred Akers says quarterback Todd Dodge has regained the starting job he lost because of a preseason shoulder injury.

Dodge, a Port Arthur junior, came off the bench to lead the second-ranked, unbeaten Longhorns to consecutive victories over Southern Methodist and Texas Tech. Texas, 7-0, visits Houston Saturday.

"He's played well, and he deserved it. He's done the best job," Akers said Tuesday after watching his team practice. "Todd has been there when we needed him, and he's gotten his confidence back."

Rob Moerschell started the Longhorns' opening-game win over Auburn and had started every game since. However, he had been plagued with turnovers in the 15-12 win over SMU Oct. 22 and last Saturday's 20-3 win over Tech.

"All of us know we need more than just one quarterback," Akers said. "I've really been pleased with the effort the quarterbacks have given all fall. They've complemented each other very well."

Dodge, who was played in all five games since his left shoulder healed, said he got the news at lunch Tuesday.

"I'm glad that I know early," he said.

Mavs nip Nuggets, Rockets, Spurs fall

DENVER (AP) — Mark Aguirre was game-high with 39 points to pace the Mavs, while teammate Rolando Blackman scored 10 of his 22 points in the comeback final quarter against Denver.

Trailing 63-60 at halftime, Dallas finally grabbed a 122-116 lead with 4:07 midway through the final period with rookie Derek Harper scoring two key baskets during a 21-10 spurt.

The Mavericks raised their record to 2-1 even without starting forward Jay Vincent, down with a torn calf muscle suffered Sunday night against San Antonio.

Dallas got 17 points from Brad Davis and 14 from Cummings.

NBA Roundup

Pacers 116, Rockets 108

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Houston had the worst record last year but won the rights to draft 7-foot-4 All-American Ralph Sampson in a coin-flip with the Pacers. In the first meeting of the season between the two teams, Sampson led the Rockets with 21 points and 18 rebounds in his second game in the NBA.

Sampson was matched in the middle against Indiana rookie Steve Stipanovich, a 7-footer from Missouri who was the second player chosen in last June's college draft. Stipanovich, who outscored Sampson 27-21 in a nationally televised college game last season, had 12 points and seven rebounds Tuesday night.

Blazers 126, Spurs 124

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — A fiery Portland Trail Blazer defense handcuffed George Gervin, holding the NBA's No. 2 all-time scorer to 14 points, and led the Blazers to a thrilling 126-124 National Basketball Association victory over the Spurs.

"Jim Paxson did a great job on Ice (Gervin), although they didn't seem to go to him much," said Portland coach Jack Ramsay.

Paxson hit a 22-foot jumper with 47 seconds left in the game to give Portland the final lead. The game was tied 25 times.

Midland, Odessa top Big Spring swimmers

MIDLAND — Big Spring High dropped a swim tri-meet against Midland High and Odessa High here Tuesday night.

Midland took a 58-24 win over the Steers and a 54-25 victory over the Lady Steers while Odessa had a tougher time, downing the Steers 48-35 and the Lady Steers 38-36.

Big Spring coach Harlan Smith said his girl's team could have defeated Odessa. Diver Lisa Salazar, sporting an injured toe, did not compete while freestyler Kelly Williamson miscounted the distance in the 200. Thinking she had to swim 10 lengths — the distance at the Big Spring Y for the event, she held back to allow her Odessa competitor to pass her on the eighth and final lap.

Against Midland, the Steers grabbed only one first place as David Booth won the diving competition. Cade Loftin was second in the 100 butterfly (1:03.18) while Morris was second in the 100 freestyle (1:04.22), Scott Ferguson second in the 500 freestyle (6:17.77) and Terry Bordsoske second in the 100 backstroke (1:06.65).

Both BSHS relays were second. Against Odessa, the Steers won the medley relay (2:02.11), Booth again won the diving and Loftin and Ferguson notched wins in their specialties.

The Lady Steers won the medley relay against Midland and Rita Fleckenstein grabbed a first in the 60 freestyle (29.48). BSHS was second in seven other events, Fleckenstein adding a second in the 100 freestyle (1:05.47).

Against Odessa, the Lady Steers took four firsts. The medley relay (2:19.80) and Fleckenstein won a second time while Lisa Salazar got a first in the 100 breaststroke (1:32.57). Fleckenstein's 100 freestyle was a winner against the Bronchos.

Dever, Hays honored

It was the week for defense. Big Spring area football coaches lauded their defenses for their performances last Friday night. The best evening of all was turned in by Coahoma's Jeff Dever, earning him Defensive Player of the Week honors.

Bulldogs' 21-15 win over Ozona. Others? Greenwood's Steve Heryford (not pictured) had 11 tackles and an interception; Garden City's Doug Schaefer had 18 tackles and a fumble recovery; and Klondike's Mitch Mitchell was in on 26 tackles.

State's top teams stay on top; Lee drops out

By The Associated Press
There were no losses and one tie among the top five ranked teams in all classifications of The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll in a mild week for upsets.

Ballinger, ranked No. 4 a week ago in 3A, was tied 14-14 by Crane and fell to No. 7 this week.

But all others in the top echelons kept their positions including the No. 1's: Highland Park in Class 5A, Fort Bend Willowridge in 4A, Littlefield in 3A, Groveton in 2A and Bremond in A.

Midland Lee was the lone upset victim among the 5A ranks, losing to Abilene Cooper 23-21 and dropping from the top 10 with a 7-2 record. Odessa Permian, No. 7 last week, moved into Lee's vacated No. 6 position.

No. 10 Stafford Dulles, 8-0-1, was the only new face on the 5A list.

In 4A, sixth ranked El Campo lost to fourth ranked Bay City 13-7 and dropped to ninth on the latest list. No. 10 Tomball spent one week on the list and dropped off after losing to top ranked Willowridge 29-14.

Sinton, which beat Cuero 24-6 last week, became the No. 10 team in 4A.

Sixth ranked Cameron was another Class 3A casualty and dropped from the poll after a 14-7 loss to Hearne. Cameron was replaced by Van Vleet, 9-0-0, a 48-8 winner over Hitchcock last week.

No. 9 Clarendon and No. 10 Seagraves dropped off the 2A list after Clarendon lost to Wellington 23-21 and No. 7 Morton defeated Seagraves 21-14.

Flag football this weekend

The Big Spring Jaycees, in conjunction with Coors and radio station KWKI, are sponsoring a flag football tournament to benefit the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center this weekend at Blankenship Field.

The double elimination tourney carries an $80 per team entry fee. Rosters are limited to 20 players. To enter, call Dave Trusty at 267-4121 or Bo Strickland at 263-7866.

Volleyballers play Nov. 4-5

A coed church volleyball tournament sponsored by the First Baptist Church will be held Friday and Saturday at the FBC Family Life Center.

Trophies will be given to the top five teams with individual trophies going to the top three teams. The tournament ball will go to the team exhibiting the best sportsmanship.

Win A Dining Experience You Won't Forget!

ENTER AMERICA'S GREAT TASTE SWEEPSTAKES

Post® Fruit & Fibre® Cereal... "it tastes so good you forget the fiber."

2 Grand Prizes
A two week dining experience for two at some of the finest restaurants in New York, San Francisco and New Orleans. Trip includes hotel accommodations in all three cities, nightly dining, all airfare costs and $1,000.00 spending money. An approximate value of $10,000.00 each.

50 Second Prizes
An elegant dining experience at one of your favorite local restaurants. A $100.00 cash value.

1,000 Third Prizes
The "Good Food Book" by Jane and Michael Stern. A complete guide to restaurants serving great tasting regional specialties.

Official Rules

1. Redeem the store coupon by February 29, 1984 and you are automatically entered into the sweepstakes. Coupon entries must be legible and complete with your name and address to be valid. Do not mail coupons.
2. Alternate entry - no purchase necessary. Write Post® Fruit & Fibre® Cereal - it tastes so good you forget the fiber - and your name and address on a 3 x 5 card. Mail each 3 x 5 card separately to America's Great Taste Sweepstakes, P.O. Box 3550, Kankakee, IL 60902. All entries must be received by February 29, 1984 to be eligible. Not responsible for lost, late, misdirected mail or retailer submissions.
3. All prizes to be awarded. Winners will be randomly selected by Nicholas Marketing Associates, an independent judging organization, whose decisions are final. The odds of winning depends upon the number of entries received. Drawing will take place by 8:31:84.
4. One prize awarded per family, household or organization. Winners responsible for all taxes. No substitutes and no transfers of prizes allowed. Winners may be required to execute an affidavit of eligibility and release. First Prize trip subject to availability and must be taken by August 31, 1985.
5. Open to all U.S. residents 18 years or older except employees of General Foods Corporation, its affiliates, subsidiaries, agencies and Nicholas Marketing Associates and the families of each. Void where prohibited.
6. A list of major prize winners can be obtained by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to Americas Great Taste Sweepstakes Winners List, c/o Nicholas Marketing Associates, 64 West 36th Street, New York, N.Y. 10018.

WIN UP TO... $1,000.00

Obtain a free Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football weekly game card each time you visit a Winn Dixie store. No purchase necessary. Then watch Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football each week on network television, or check your local newspaper or result poster at any Winn Dixie store for the score of both teams at the completion of the game.

If the last number of the final score of each team matches the score on your Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football game card, you win the dollar amount indicated on your card, either $1,000, $100, $10, or $2. EXAMPLE: If the score on your card reads DALLAS 9, NEW ENGLAND 7, it means the DALLAS score could be 9, 19, 29, 39, 49, 59, etc., and the NEW ENGLAND score could be 7, 17, 27, 37, 47, 57, etc. Any combination of scores ending in 9 for DALLAS and 7 for NEW ENGLAND would give you a winning card.

If you have a winning card, take it to any Winn Dixie store by close of business Saturday night following that week's game for verification. Store Manager will redeem authentic $10 and $2 winners on the spot and arrange for payment of $1,000 and $100 winners.

WINNING POSSIBILITIES:

Amount	Number of Winners	1 Store Year	2 Store Year
$2	9,433	1 in 100	1 in 33
$10	500	1 in 2,000	1 in 667
$100	50	1 in 20,000	1 in 4,000

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A great day to get an early start seeing and being with and arriving at new and more effective understandings with those whom you would like to co-ordinate your talents in the future.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) If you change your attitude concerning your partners, you gain greater knowledge about what it is they expect of you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Tap your subconscious for best ideas as to how to handle any business at hand and get good results.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Bring your finest creative ideas to the attention of the influential and gain support for them. This will be profitable.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Be sure to combine the proven with new mechanisms at work for good results. Cooperate with co-workers.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Be with friends who are progressive and gain good ideas for your own advancement. Some excellent advice should be taken.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Have those talks with kin that can bring more harmony at home and make life happier there. Pay attention to details.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Talk over new arrangements with those you see daily at routines and gain more efficiency, better results thereby.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get the information you need from bigwigs just how you can become more prosperous and put the advice to work.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A generous person from out-of-town can give progressive ideas for your eventual advancement.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) One who is experienced in business can give you fine ideas for improving your practical matters, so follow them.

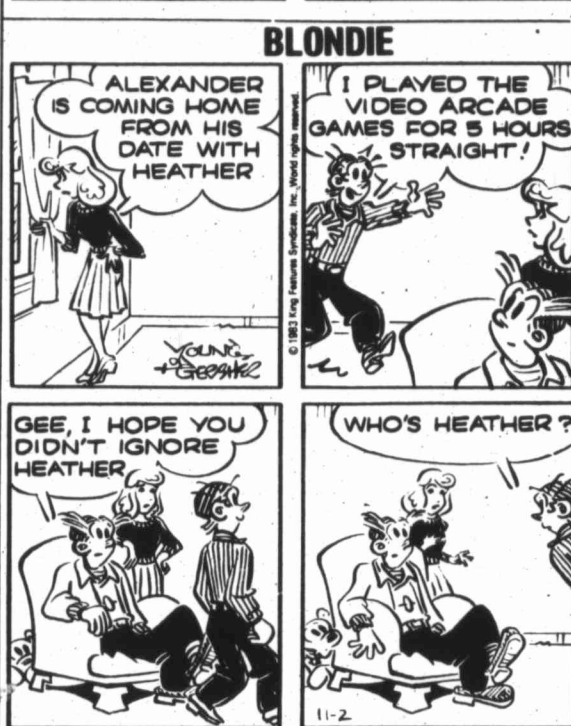

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Partners and friends see you in the best light now and will give you the backing you need for your projects.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have more than one option where business affairs are concerned, so consider them well and know which is best to follow.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young persons who can understand the over-all aspects of any condition, so add courses to the school curriculum that can add to this natural ability. There is an ability for sports here.

Home sewing program given by Naomi Hunt

Naomi Hunt, Howard County Extension homemaker agent, spoke about "Home Sewing Fashions from the Big Apple" during a meeting of the Centerpoint Home Extension Club in the Kentwood Older Adult Center, Oct. 25.

The program include instructions on how to change a pattern to fit when it needs to be enlarged or to be made smaller.

The next meeting will be Nov. 8 in the Kentwood Older Adult Center.

Cowbelles elect officers

Officers for the Tejas Cowbelles were elected during a meeting at the Villa Inn in Colorado City, recently.

Officers for the 1983-84 year are Sue Guelker, president, Martha Hud-leston, vice president, Margaret Thulock, secretary, Maureen Morris, treasurer, and Susan Alexander, reporter.

The CowBelles will contribute $500 to help pay for expenses of the National CowBelle president.

Reports about the chili sales at the Howard County Fair and the Scurry County Fair were given. Reports also were given about the booths at the Howard County Fair and the Mitchell County Fair.

Splash method aids in burping baby

To determine if a baby has burped after a meal place one hand on the baby's stomach and one on his back.

Gently jiggle the tot and see if a gurgling splash can be felt — like the splashing in a half-empty jug of milk that is shaken. The splash should completely disappear after the baby burps.

Educational packets, "Food Power Tower", were distributed to third graders in Colorado City, Snyder, Ira, Westbrook, Coahoma, Gail, Big Spring, Forsan and Water Valley.

The CowBelles will serve food at the Scurry County Museum during the White Buffalo Days Celebration.

The next meeting will be Nov. 8 in Big Spring.

GET READY FOR COLDER WEATHER — Large variety of leisure and work clothes are manufactured and sold at Walls.

Walls Factory Outlet Outfits Whole Family

If you enjoy cold weather sports — or if you work outdoors — Walls Factory Outlet at Interstate 20 and the Snyder Highway is the place to outfit every member of the family. The selection and value are tops.

Right here at the Big Spring factory, about 65 employees are busy producing insulated outerwear (leisurealls, vests, coats and coveralls) and snowmobile suits for skiing and snow recreation. They sell down- and fiberfill coats.

In addition Walls carries hunting clothes, khaki pants-and-shirts and jogging suits. Plus western shirts and name brand jeans — at less cost — for men, women and children; and ladies dress or casual blouses and pants.

And here's good news for the larger woman and the big or tall man: Walls has these hard-to-find sizes.

The Big Spring Walls factory produces the leisurealls and coveralls for all Walls outlets, located in Cleburne, Clifton, Hamilton, Gatesville, Arlington, Groesbeck, Sweetwater, Snyder and Merkel.

Walls Outlet Stores opened in 1971 to sell surplus merchandise from Walls manufacturing plants. In addition to irregulars, overcuts and discontinued styles from their factories, Walls carries both first and second quality merchandise from other manufacturers, including well-known, popular brands.

The Big Spring Store opened in 1973. Syble Pope is store manager and the sales staff includes Novena Butler, Liz Robles and Shirley Jenkins. Jack Letts is factory manager.

George S. Walls, founder and present chairman of the board, owned and operated Walls Clothiers in Dallas in the 1930's and 1940's; in 1953 he opened a small manufacturing operation in a loft in a downtown Dallas building.

Walls stores were founded on good merchandise, good value and good service. These qualities are obvious at the Big Spring Store. Unlike many establishments today, Walls has salespeople who still provide old-fashioned service. The store is attractively laid out and it's easy to find sizes and selections. They're open Monday thru Saturday from 9:30 to 5:30.

T. MARQUEZ JR. & SONS — Sales & Service is a family business serving Big Spring and surrounding areas since 1956. The late T. Marquez Jr. found the business as a TV repair shop, but has expanded to TV, appliances, and satellite antenna systems sales and service, servicing all brands. They are located at 1010 Lamesa Hwy, phone 263-3033.
