Strike up the band

AIR FORCE BAND OF THE WEST — Members of the U.S. Air Force Band of the West will be in concert in Big Spring Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Big Spring High School Auditorium. Ticket holders are urged to be seated by 2:45 p.m. Sunday for the 3 p.m. show. The Air Force Band of the West is located at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and features a variety of musicians trained in colleges and universities around the country.

Air Force band displays talents

When the United States Air Force Band of the West appears in concert locally at 3 p.m. Sunday in the Big Spring High School auditorium, a number of talented musicians will be participating in the event.

One such member of the band is 1st Lt. Melinda Wonder, deputy commander and associate conductor of the United States Air Force Band of the West.

The Band of the West, also designated the 539th Air Force Band, is located at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

A native of Tennessee, Lt. Wonder is a 1974 graduate of Tennessee Technological University, where she earned a bachelor of science degree in music education. While an undergraduate, she studied percussion, specializing in tympani and keyboard percussion and conducting.

Upon graduation, Lt. Wonder assumed the duties of Associate Director of Bands and Percussion

State's unemployment rate drops

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' unemployment rate dropped to 7.4 percent in October, leaving employment officials optimistic but Gov. Mark White unsatisfied.

The October figures released Friday showed a brightening of the state's economy, with the unemployment rate down from 8.5 percent in September, and 8 percent in October 1982.

"I think what it is suggesting is that the recovery in Texas is beginning to pick up a little momentum," said Terence Travland, assistant chief of the Texas Employment Commission's economic research department.

In Dallas, Nic Santangelo of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said the October figure is part of "a nice, steady downward trend." He said the statistics show "that we're slowly working our way out of the recession."

White, concerned about high unemployment on the Texas side of the Mexican border and in Southeast Texas, said he was "pleased to see the direction we are moving in, but I'm not satisfied with the success statewide yet."

"I would like to think we really haven't done our job until we have seen an employment rate, which is an average of the state, reduced in those areas where we have had extraordinary unemployment," White said.

The number of Texans without jobs fell from 659,000 in September to 571,000 in October. Compared with October 1982, the number of working Texans was up by 329,000.

The number of unemployed has dropped by 21,000.

Santangelo said the October drop fits into a healthy pattern for the state.

"From its peak of 9 percent in March of this year, the trend in unemployment has continued downward. July and September's figures rose, but those were just blips in what would otherwise be a nice, steady downward trend," said Santangelo, chief of the bureau's southwest regional office.

The October decline in unemployment is a good sign, but "the important change comes from looking at the long term trend, the longer the better."

Since the 9 percent peak last March, unemployment has declined by 2.6 percentage points.

Travland said White might have a long wait before seeing major improvements in employment along the border.

"I've been reading stories that suggest the federal government in Mexico is finally beginning to get a handle on their problems," said Travland. "But I wouldn't expect anything really remarkable to occur there for a year or so."

Travland also said he has "seen some numbers" that indicate increased activity in Texas' stalled oil and gas industry, but there's "nothing really significant on the horizon there that says there is going to be dramatic improvement."

Texas now has the nation's third lowest unemployment rate, trailing New Jersey's 6.8 percent and Massachusetts' 6.9 percent.

Federal board closes New Mexico bank

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — State Savings and Loan Association of Clovis was closed by federal regulators Thursday, the day after half a dozen men were indicted on charges of defrauding the institution.

The federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington, D.C., declared the association to be insolvent and said "its assets are less than its obligations to creditors."

The federal board appointed its insurance arm, the federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp., as receiver and directed it to protect depositors by transferring their accounts to another association or paying out their insured accounts.

The federal board action superseded an order issued late Wednesday by District Judge Reuben Nieves of Clovis, who placed State Savings and Loan in temporary receivership under control of Snider Campbell, the New Mexico savings and loan supervisor. Campbell was relieved of his obligation at 4:30 p.m. Thursday when special representatives of FSLIC assumed control of the financial firm. There was a depositors' run when the savings and loan opened its doors Thursday morning.

"By 10:30 a.m. we paid out $2 million," Campbell said. "That was the extent of the available liquid assets and we stopped honoring withdrawals."

He added that the withdrawal demand "wasn't as severe as I anticipated." An indictment handed down Wednesday by a Curry County, N.M., grand jury charged six men and four corporations with fraudulently obtaining more than $20,000 from the savings and loan company in connection with loans secured by purchase contracts on time-share property.

Other counts allege the defendants engaged in fraud or embezzlement in the use of State Savings and Loan funds to buy notes representing an obligation of buyers of products from Southwest Solar Products Inc.

The investigation which led to the criminal indictments began in mid-summer as a joint effort by Attorney General Paul Bariacke and District Attorney Bill Bonem of Clovis.

Campbell said Thursday that an investigation of the condition of the State Savings and Loan Association by the New Mexico Financial Institutions Division was begun last spring. His office, with legal assistance from Bardacke's office, filed a petition Wednesday asking Nieves to place the association into receivership.

Bardacke indicated Thursday that the criminal investigation was the civil probe by the Financial Institution Division were separate.

"I felt it was important that when the indictment was handed down that a receiver be in place to protect the depositors in the savings and loan from any untoward activity," Bardacke said.

"However, the court receivership action and the criminal investigation and our assistance to the grand jury were absolutely independent of each other," he said. "But as administrator of this office, I was aware both investigations were going on and felt that the receivership and the incident should be somewhat contemporaneous with one another."

Bardacke also said it was determined by the Financial Institutions Division that the liabilities of State Savings and Loan Association exceeded the assets.

Campbell said petition filed with the district court Wednesday alleged the liabilities exceeded the assets. "The difference amounted to something over $800,000. But this figure changed daily," Campbell said.

The federal Home Loan Bank Board said in a statement Thursday it has scheduled a bidders conference for the weekend for associations interested in acquiring the failed State Savings' insured deposits.

The Clovis firm, which was chartered by the state, has assets of about $41.2 million. Its only office was in Clovis. The federal board said State Savings was the 20th federally insured S&L to be shut FESTIVAL TIME — Area German residents Thad Byars and Kathy Schrum toast the Fall Festival which will be held this Sunday in St. Lawrence, which is located south of Big Spring near Garden City.

St. Lawrence readies for annual Fall Festival

ST. LAWRENCE — This small German community near Garden City will turn out Sunday to celebrate its annual rites of fall by gorging on homemade sausage, auctioning off cotton and dancing the night away to country and western music.

The Rhineland revelry, called the Fall Festival, will be held at the parish hall of the Saint Lawrence Catholic Church.

Dinner will be served between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the festival and will include homemade German sausage, barbecue and homemade pies and cakes. Tickets for the meal are $5 for adults and $3 for children. Sausage sandwiches priced at $2 will be served from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. Uncooked sausage will be sold by the pound.

The auction will begin at 2 p.m. Items to be auctioned are bales. See FESTIVAL, page 2A

Baby returned to parents

RICHLAND HILLS (AP) — A 7-month-old girl kidnapped from a Fort Worth hospital last spring by a woman posing as a nurse was returned to her parents Friday night in a tearful airport reunion.

Cherie Ann Kennedy, the abducted infant, looked into bright television lights and smiled broadly as she was placed into her mother's arms.

She was taken from a woman at the Mexico border in El Paso and flown to the Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport after a positive identification was made, authorities said.

Cherie Ann was identified through blown-up photographs of her footprints, said Fort Worth police Capt. Ben Dumas. He said blood and saliva tests also would be run on the baby.

"She's a lot different. She's grabbing, pulling hair and getting into everything," said the child's 21-year-old mother, Penny Jo Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy said she was afraid the Cherie Ann, who continued to smile and laugh after returning to her grandmother's house in this Fort Worth suburb, had suffered psychologically during the abduction.

"I'm worried, but now I'm pretty happy," Mrs. Kennedy said.

Cherie Ann suffered from mosquito bites, not chicken pox as reported by Fort Worth police, but otherwise was in good health, said officials at Thomason General Hospital in El Paso who checked the infant.

Linda Lee Ashmore Gomez, 32, of Fort Worth, was charged with kidnapping and three unrelated charges and was also flown here, in the custody of FBI agents and Fort Worth police, on the same plane with the infant.

Authorities said Cherie Ann was taken from Ms. Gomez after she was stopped Thursday at the border. A dark-haired 3-month-old girl taken into custody apparently was the woman's, said El Paso police Lt. Ed Agan.

Cherie Ann was 7 weeks old when she was abducted May 10 from John Peter Smith Hospital, where she was due for a checkup and immunizations. Mrs. Kennedy said a woman posing as a hospital nurse told her she wanted to show Cherie Ann to the other nurses, but then left the hospital with the baby.

"We've had our hopes built up in the past. They've never promised us anything but they said they had a lot of leads and then the leads began dropping off and then all of a sudden last night I knew it was her," said the girl's father, Andrew Kennedy.

"People have told me all along that they were praying for her safe return and maybe it did some good," added Kennedy, a machinist. "People have really been wonderful to us."

Singer George Jones

taken to Houston hospital

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Country singer George Jones fell ill while en route to a performance Friday in a north Houston suburb and was taken to a hospital, a club owner said.

Jones' manager Richard McMeen canceled his client's 10 p.m. performance at Kat Bullew's, a club in Humble about 30 miles north of Houston, club owner Richard Tate said.

Tate said McMeen called him shortly before 7 p.m. Susan Hackney, Jones' publicist in Nashville, said,

"He did go to a hospital. He had some kind of upset stomach, a very upset stomach problem but he was not admitted and he's resting comfortably in a hotel, I think outside of Humble, Texas."

"That's all the information that I have," she said. The promoter of Jones' show, Jerry Fuhs, also said the singer had developed a stomach virus.

"George called down here and talked to family, just to reassure everybody" after the performance was cancelled, Fuhs said. He said he was not certain whether Jones had been treated at a hospital.

Fuhs said the show had been rescheduled for Jan. 18.

John Yearwood, a neighbor of Jones' in Woodville, said McMeen told him the singer was in a hospital in Huntsville.

But Jan Bollier, a receptionist at that Huntsville Memorial Hospital, said Jones had not been admitted unless he was "under an assumed name."

The couple maintains a home in Louisiana and is building a home near Woodville.

Candy shop is hard to find

DEXTER, Iowa (AP) — Drew's Candy melts in your hand as well as your mouth.

The owners wouldn't have any other way.

"You know the gas station Snickers Bar that stays in the same place for three years and never changes? Well, our candy won't do that. It melts," says Mary Kim Tigges, 19-year-old daughter of the shop's owners.

Drew's Candy Shop has been making easy-to-melt candy ever since Helen Drew founded it 57 years ago. When Norbert Tigges, an independent trucker, and his wife, Phyllis, bought it in 1977, they decided to keep everything pretty much the same.

They never advertise, doing most of their business by mail — not recommended, of course, in the summer.

Boxes — the one-pound variety pack costs $4.75, $5.50 with dividers — are stuffed by hand, old-fashioned machines do the stirring and each candy is dipped, one by one, and shaped by workers using a tool that looks like a child's bubble blower.

It melts easily because, unlike many commercial chocolate companies, Drew's doesn't use paraffin.

The Tiggeses consider this to be a mark of distinction — not being able to pass the gas station shelf test — and although they boast of using only "natural ingredients," they know the price they pay is that Drew's will never reach the big time.

But that suits them just fine, they say, although they add that it is sometimes a struggle to stay small.

The Tiggeses say they have turned down several marketing offers from retail mail outlets, fearing that the product's reputation would suffer.

Through word of mouth, business is brimming, especially at Christmas, although Tigges says that for tax reasons, he wants to keep gross sales under $200,000 a year.

"And you want to know the real reason we don't expand?" he asks, walk-

Bank

Campbell said Thursday the federal board has jurisdiction because the deposits in State Savings were insured by the federal government through the FSLIC. He said federal law provides that the Home Loan Bank Board does not have to get a court order to place an institution in receivership but can take action independently.

Charged in the indictment with fraud in excess of $20,000 or embezzlement of more than $2,500, with securities fraud and criminal conspiracy were Glen Houston, a Hobbs attorney; Lewis Nance of Brownfield, Texas; Joe Boyd of Odessa, Texas; Jack Brown of Las Vegas, Nev.; Randolph Shipley of Laguna Beach, Calif.; and W.W. "Doc" Taylor of Dallas.

Taylor and Boyd were charged with operating a racketeering enterprise, Southwest Mortgages Services Corp. of Dallas, and with obtaining control of State Savings and Loan Association through a pattern of racketeering.

Taylor, Boyd and Brown were charged with racketeering in connection with the operation of Credit Plan Corp. of Corpus Christi, Texas, and with investment of proceeds derived from a pattern of racketeering in State Savings and Loan.

Band

Continued from page one this position until 1977 when she was granted a leave of absence to pursue her graduate studies. She then attended the University of Tennessee, where she earned the master of music degree in performance. While at the University of Tennessee she studied percussion and conducting.

In 1979, Lt. Wonder entered the United States Air Force as deputy commander and associate conductor of the band of Flight, Wright Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio. In October of 1980, she was appointed commander of the Air Force Band of the Gulf Coast, Keesler Air Force Base, Mississippi, where she remained until she received her current assignment in July of 1982.

Lt. Wonder brings to the field a versatility ranging the spectrum of music from Bluegrass to ballet, having performed professionally as a folk musician and a summer-stock Bluegrass musician, as well as belonging to such organizations as the Knoxville Symphony, Cumberland and Knoxville Opera companies, and the Maryville-Alcoa Ballet Company. Additionally, she toured with the University of Tennessee Singers, a choreographed show group, as a member of the rhythm section and assistant conductor. As a conductor, she has presented music across the entertainment panorama.

In 1981, Lt. Wonder was named Tennessee's "Outstanding Young Woman of the Year" for achievement and service to community.

The U.S. Air Force Band of the West concert is sponsored by the Big Spring Herald. Ticket holders are requested to be seated in the Big Spring High School auditorium by 2:45 p.m. Sunday prior to the 3 p.m. curtain time.

Festival

The dance, featuring the group Westwind, is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. and continue until midnight.

Raffle tickets will be sold during the festival on a trip for two to Las Vegas, a handmade queen-size quilt with matching pillow, a baby quilt, and a choice between a shotgun and a rifle. Drawings will be held during the dance.

The St. Lawrence Parish Hall is located 12 miles southwest of Garden City. Those wishing to attend the festival from Big Spring should drive 10 miles south of Garden City on State Highway 33, turn right on Farm Road 2401 and drive five miles.

Marine Board opens investigation

HOUSTON (AP) — A Marine Board of Investigation opened Friday into the sinking of a U.S. drilling ship in the South China Sea as rescuers for the 10th day searched for the 81 crew members.

The five-member panel will be looking for clues into the sinking of the Glomar-Java Sea about 200 miles east of Vietnam and 60 miles south of Hainan Island.

Panel members said they believed it was the first American drilling ship to sink because of bad weather. No survivors have been found, and the order for the panel to begin its investigation assumed a "multiple loss of life." But officials of the company that owned the sunken vessel said they hope crewmen safely escaped, saying a SOS signal picked up last week apparently originated from one of the ship's hard-top lifeboats.

Coast Guard Capt. Walter McDougall, chairman of the board, said the panel will reconvene in four to six weeks to hear testimony about the accident. He said they also will seek a joint investigation with the Chinese government.

The 5,930-ton ship, leased to ARCO China Inc., apparently sank Oct. 25 when Typhoon Lex rumbled through the area, packing 75-mph winds and pushing 26-foot waves. Sonar confirmed Tuesday that the vessel was lying on its side in 300 feet of water.

Physicians earn extra credit

Area physicians can earn up to 100 hours of continuing medical education credit annually by attending weekly medical education seminars at Malone-Hogan Hospital, Pediatrician Bernard Zilberg said Friday.

Area health care professionals are invited to attend Malone-Hogan's continuing education series, which is held Wednesdays from 12:30 p.m. in the hospital's first floor classroom, Zilberg said.

"Hypertension" was the seminar topic presented Nov. 2 by Dr. Craig Brater, Associate Professor of Medicine at Southwest Medical School in Dallas. With the assistance of Ken Cost of Pfizer Laboratories, Dr. Brater dealt with current trends in the treatment of high blood pressure.

Upcoming seminars will be presented on the following topics:

• Nov. 9, "Metabolic Bone Disease," presented by Dr. R.K. Reddy, orthopedic surgeon at Malone-Hogan Clinic.

• Nov. 16, "Reconstructive Surgery of the Hand," presented by Dr. Royce Lewis, Lubbock orthopedic surgeon, with help from Ken Cost of Pfizer Laboratories.

• Nov. 23 "Ophthalmology Update '83," presented by Dr. Harvey DuBiner, ophthalmologist at Malone-Hogan Clinic.

Reservations for the 12 p.m. lunch that precedes each program can be made by calling Robbi Crow at 263-1211 ext. 195 by 4:30 p.m. the day before each seminar.

In a related story, a spokesman for Malone-Hogan Hospital announced Friday that the hospital is $7,900 nearer its $10,500 United Way fund-raising goal.

To celebrate, hospital management threw an early victory party for employees Wednesday morning. Special guests at the sausage and eggs breakfast cooked by management were 68 "My Fair Share" donors.

United Way campaign reaches $62,000 mark

The local United Way campaign has reached 28 percent of its goal with $62,410 collected by Friday afternoon, according to United Way representatives.

Money collected thus far in the campaign includes: Out of town: $3,818; Pacesetters: $33,180; Special: $4,546; Metro: $2,343; Professional: $5,455; Special event: $8,310; Loaned executive: $2,863; Rural: $1,895; Total to date: $62,410.

Man who allegedly stashed cocaine released

BEAUMONT (AP) — Bond was raised from $1 million to $2.5 million for a Colombian man who allegedly stashed 70 pounds of cocaine in a handmade iron box and welded the container under his pickup truck, authorities said Friday.

State troopers stopped Gustavo Alberto Roldan Wednesday night along Interstate Highway 10 after lawmen in Houston warned that cocaine might be hidden in the vehicle.

Armed with a warrant from State District Judge Larry Gist, narcotics agents searched the vehicle and found 32 packages of cocaine, each weighing about 2.2 pounds.

Clarence Edward Roth to receive law license

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN — More than 1,200 people, including Clarence Edward Roth of Big Spring, will be licensed to practice law in Texas beginning Nov. 14.

All received passing marks on the July 1983 Bar examination administered by the Texas Supreme Court's Board of Law Examiners.

Jamie Stephen Vandivere of Lamesa also was among the list of those earning passing grades.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Jack Pope will swear-in those who passed the examination during a Nov. 14 ceremony at the Frank Erwin Center on the University of Texas' Austin campus.

Replacement announced

NEW YORK — Connie Chung, anchor of an early morning NBC News broadcast, will sit in for Jane Pauley for part of the time that the "Today" show co-host is on maternity leave, a network source says.

Ms. Pauley, who is married to "Doodles" cartoonist Garry Trudeau, will take a three-month leave beginning Nov. 28. The source, who declined to be identified, said Ms. Chung will replace her for one month.

The source stressed that Ms. Pauley would return to "Today" and Ms. Chung to "NBC News at Sunrise."

Before NBC newswoman Jessica Savitch drowned last week, the network had planned to divide the three-month period among Ms. Savitch, Ms. Chung and Mary Nissenson, an NBC reporter who has covered the Midwest.

Ms. Nissenson is still being considered as a replacement, and Carol Marin, a broadcaster with WMAQ-TV in Chicago, is also a possibility.

NBC spokeswoman Mary Lou O'Callahan said Thursday that no official choice had been made for Ms. Pauley's replacement. She acknowledged, however, that Ms. Chung was being considered.

Singer bringing smiles

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Country singer Loretta Lynn wants to "bring some smiles to the boys away from home" so she's going to spend 17 days overseas performing for free at Army and Air Force bases, her manager says.

"It's been a long time since I've seen her looking forward to something like she's looking forward to this tour," manager David Skepner said.

Miss Lynn is scheduled to leave Nov. 15. She plans to perform a dozen shows, mostly in Germany.

The tour, her first overseas in more than a decade, will conclude with a performance for U.S. troops in the Sinai Desert, Skepner said.

The tour is sponsored by United Service Organizations and the Defense Department.

"She wants to shake hands, talk with them, have some fun, and just like they say in the press releases, bring some smiles to the boys away from home," Skepner said.

Contract extended

NEW YORK — The New York Philharmonic has extended Zubin Mehta's contract as music director, giving him the longest tenure in a century, the orchestra announced Friday.

Mehta has been music director since the 1978-79 season.

His 12-year tenure when the new extended contract expires in 1990 will be the longest since Theodore Thomas, who was music director from 1877 to 1891 with the exception of one intervening season and conducted only 79 concerts.

The announcement ended speculation that Mehta was considering leaving the Philharmonic and perhaps going back to his former orchestra, the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

Albert K. Webster, the New York Philharmonic's managing director and executive vice president, said the four-year extension had been under discussion since November 1982 and conformed to the organization's policy of planning two years in advance.

Webster denied Mehta had considered leaving. "It certainly was a vote of confidence," Webster said, "but not in response to anything."

Mehta earlier had received a five-year extension. The new contract increases the number of guaranteed weeks with the orchestra from 18 to 20, and Webster said Mehta's salary will be increased but no figures were given.

Mehta was in rehearsals Friday and was unavailable for comment, according to the Philharmonic's offices.

Militancy is handicap

LINCOLN, Neb. — Tom Sullivan, a blind singer, composer, author and actor, says the greatest problem confronting the disabled is their own militancy.

Sullivan, whose life story was told in the movie "If You Could See What I Hear," said many handicapped people have let anger and impatience make them overly aggressive.

"So many feel they have a right to demand things," the Californian said Thursday while in Lincoln for a workshop with disabled students and for an evening musical performance on the University of Nebraska campus.

With 71 percent of all people with disabilities working in job-related programs for the disabled and 79 percent of all blind married people with a blind spouse, Sullivan said "we're not cutting the barriers down."

But backing a prospective employer into a corner with talk of quotas won't win jobs for the disabled, he said.

News Roundup

Break-in was a 'game'

LOS ANGELES — Trying to break into computer files was "like a game of Monopoly" for the UCLA physics student charged with using his home computer to illegally enter government, business and university data banks, his mother says.

"This is all ... publicity for the district attorney's re-election," Al Bublikaukus said after his stepson, Ronald Mark Austin, was arraigned on 14 felony counts of malicious computer entry.

District Attorney Robert Philibosian, who was appointed to the job and faces his first election next June, said at a news conference that Austin caused damage to computer programming which would take some $200,000 to correct.

"Nonsense," said Austin's mother, Jesse. "Everyone knows what he did didn't involve military secrets and he wasn't after anything like that. To him, it was like a game of Monopoly would be to other boys."

"He let them take away the computer when they searched, he cooperated, he didn't run away. So why the sudden arrest?" she asked.

Austin, 19, pleaded innocent Thursday to the 14 computer entry counts and to charges that he stole two round-trip airline tickets to London. Austin was released from jail on $2,000 bail Thursday night on the condition that he stay away from computers.

Municipal Court Judge Michael Tynan also ordered Austin to appear for a preliminary hearing Dec. 2. "Here is a boy who doesn't even drink or smoke," said Bublikaukus. "Ronald found those airline tickets."

The district attorney's office released investigative memos indicating at least two other people were involved in the assault on the data banks linking a dozen universities, military research labs and private firms.

In those memos, Austin was quoted as admitting he gained access to the data banks and had often "worked together" with Kevin Poulsen, 18, of the North Hollywood district, to "capture (computer) accounts."

Ammunition seized

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada — U.S. Army officers on Friday seized 38 AK-47 automatic rifles, five loaded pistols, ammunition and bayonets that Soviet diplomats tried to "smuggle" onto U.S. Air Force planes evacuating them from Grenada, U.S. officials said.

The 49 Soviets were among 127 Communist-bloc diplomats, dependents and others evacuated in two DC-9 jets that took them from Point Salines airport, several miles south of St. George's, to Mexico, where they transferred to a Soviet jetliner that took them to Havana then Moscow.

Fifty-four Cubans who had taken refuge in several embassies during the American-led invasion of Grenada were among the evacuees.

The AK-47, known as the Kalashnikov, is the standard infantry weapon of Warsaw Pact countries.

Johnson did not say why the Soviet group, which included five children, wanted to take the rifles with them, and there was no immediate comment from Soviet officials.

State Department spokesman John Hughes told reporters in Washington there was an eight-hour standoff at the Point Salines airport marked by "verbal altercations," with the Soviet ambassador objecting to any search of baggage and the Americans ultimately hunting unsealed crates and bags and finding the arms cache.

The United States protested the Soviet attempt to smuggle out automatic weapons on U.S. aircraft and we pointed this was unacceptable behavior and that Soviet actions could have seriously endangered the safety of the American aircraft and the air crew," Hughes said.

In Mexico City, U.S. Embassy spokesman Lee Johnson said said the crates of weapons, addressed to the Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow, were mixed with a large quantity of personal effects in other containers.

He was taken off exhibit last week because he was listless, slept most of the time and wasn't eating his food, zoo officials said.

On Monday a medical team anesthetized him and pulled out six infected teeth. He is now down to his last three.

On Friday, Massa was eating peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, drinking grape juice and moving about in his cage, which was concealed from public view by sheets of brown paper, research director Bob Snyder said.

The zoo planned to remove the paper Saturday, putting Massa back on exhibit, public relations spokeswoman Debbie Derrickson said.

"In fact, he's a pretty tough old cookie," Schaff said.

But Massa's passing is only a matter of time, and when it comes, the zoo and health specialists will be ready.

"Aging is something we don't understand," Snyder said, explaining why there was so much interest in Massa.

PHILADELPHIA — Massa, at 52 the world's oldest captive gorilla, is still a "tough old cookie," but researchers have made plans for the day he dies so they can study his brain, preserve his organs and learn why he has lived so long.

"He's the oldest primate outside of man," said Dietrich Schaff, curator of the Philadelphia Zoo, where Massa has lived since Dec. 30, 1935. "He's very, very valuable to the scientific world."

The ape is going back on exhibit at the zoo after surviving a life-threatening tooth infection.

Moisture recorded

A weak high pressure system over the Gulf of Mexico continued to pump moisture into Texas Friday and prompted a flash flood watch through Saturday for the Hill Country, the Big Bend and Permian Basin and the Concho Valley.

Skies were mostly cloudy Friday with scattered showers and thunderstorms in all but the northern portion of the Panhandle.

The National Weather Service said an upper level storm system would continue moving into Texas from the west, increasing the threat of heavy rains.

In Austin, a funnel cloud was seen but never reached the ground.

Afternoon temperatures reached only in the 60s in the Panhandle, and climbed into the 70s in the central part of the state and 80s along the coast.

Winds were variable at 10 to 15 mph. Overnight temperatures were forecasted to range from the 40s to the 60s, with heavy rains in the Hill Country and western portion of Texas.

Highs Saturday were expected in the 60s in the Panhandle and the 70s and 80s elsewhere.

A low-pressure system over southern New England brought a taste of winter to the northeastern corner of the nation Friday.

Cold, steady rain fell across New England, while there were rain and showers from the southern Plains through the Southeast to the southern Atlantic Coast.

There were a few scattered showers across the Pacific Northwest and northern intermountain region. Clouds and drizzle covered much of the northern and central Plains.

The western Great Lakes and the lower Ohio Valley enjoyed sunny skies, as did Florida. There were fair skies from California through the Great Basin to the Rockies.

Temperatures around the nation at 2 p.m. EST ranged from 24 degrees at Bradford, Pa., to 87 at McAllen, Texas.

Quadriplegic youth recovering with aid of computers

MODESTO, Calif. (AP) — James Putney Jr. is a quadriplegic programming buff who nukes computers along with the twitch of an eyebrow.

The Modesto youth was hit by a car while riding his bicycle to school last Nov. 22, a day before his 14th birthday. He is scheduled to return home from the hospital for the first time a few days before the anniversary.

Putney was "a dedicated hacker" before the accident in his hometown 90 miles southeast of San Francisco. In the words of his father, James Putney Sr., the boy is "one of these teen-age kids you read about in the paper getting into other people's computers."

He was in a coma for several months, is just beginning to regain muscle control but still cannot talk or move any limbs. The boy's curiosity about computers encouraged his father to plan his recovery around the machines.

"He has a slow but increasing return of function of neck and head," said his father, an administrator at Scenic General Hospital in Modesto. "It's an evolutionary kind of process."

The teen-ager learned to communicate again by blinking and expanded his silent language by learning Morse code, signaling words with a mixture of long and short blinks.

He now uses a signal switch triggered by eyebrow movement to close a circuit, transmitting letters or phrases to a computer that spits out words on a human voice synthesizer.

Our Neighbor to the South

Central America

Central America is made up of seven small countries that have a total land area equal to the size of the state of Texas.

This troubled area has been in the news a lot lately.

Most of these countries are very poor and need to develop better ways than farming to bring in more money.

A civil war has been going on in El Salvador for the past four years. The United States has sent money and military advisers to help the government that is in power. U.S. military forces have also been on maneuvers in Honduras.

We do not want the fighting to spread.

As Central America's neighbor, we are very interested in these countries and their future.

- Bananas
- Coffee
- Sugar
- Cotton
- Cattle

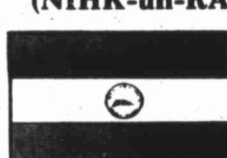

Most of the people in Central America make their living working on the land and raising such crops as bananas, coffee, sugar and cotton and such livestock as cattle. The United States is Central America's biggest trading partner.

Guatemala (GWAH-teh-MAH-lah)

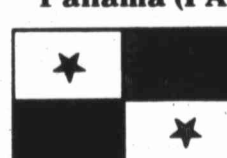

More people live in Guatemala than in any other Central American country. Over half of them are Indians who live in tiny farming villages. Coffee is the most important crop.

Nicaragua (NIHK-uh-RAH-gwah)

Nicaragua is the largest of all Central American countries. Cotton is the most valuable crop grown in the country's rich soil. Mining is another source of income.

Panama (PAN-ah-mah)

Because of its location as a bridge to South America, Panama is a big transportation and banking center. The Panama Canal provides jobs and brings in money, too.

Most of Central America is very mountainous and covered with forests. There are many volcanoes, some of which are active.

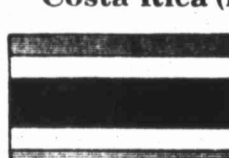

Belize (buh-LEEZE)

Belize has fewer people than any Central American country. Many of them are from an African background. Belize is a "dependency" of Great Britain, which appoints the governor and is responsible for the country's defense. Sugar is the most valuable crop.

Costa Rica (KAH-stuh REE-ka)

While farming the rich soil is the most important way people make a living, the number of factories is growing. Costa Rica is known for its democratic government.

El Salvador (El SAL-vuh-dawr)

El Salvador is the smallest, poorest and most crowded country in Central America. Sixty out of every 100 people live in rural areas. There is much unemployment. Many of the people cannot read and write. Coffee is the most important product.

Honduras (hahn-DOO-ruhs)

Honduras is the most mountainous of all Central American countries, and one of the poorest. Bananas are the most valuable crop.

The Mini Page Teacher's Guide

For use by teachers and parents at home and at school.

For use with issue: Central America

Main idea: to introduce children to the Central American countries. The following is a list of activities to be used with this issue. They are listed in order of difficulty, with the easier prereader assignments listed first. Ask the children to do the following:

1. Pretend you are going to talk to a Central American child your age. Make a list of five questions you would ask him or her. Think of some things you could tell your new friend about where you live.
2. Discuss the different Central American flags. How are they alike and different? Look in an encyclopedia to find their colors.
3. Draw a line from the name of each country and its pronunciation to its location on the map.
4. Place the Central American countries in alphabetical order.
5. Find Central America on a map of the world or a globe. Is it above or below the equator? How do you think the location affects the climate?
6. Discuss the facts and figures on the chart of Central America. Which country is the poorest? Which is the largest in population? Which is the smallest in area? Which has the largest percentage of people who can read and write?
7. Do some research to find out how your state compares with the facts and figures given for the Central American countries.
8. Write a paragraph or have a discussion on why you think it is important for the United States to have Central America as our friend.
9. Look in your paper for articles on Central America. Discuss the problems in some of the countries.

WORDS TO FIND

Words that remind us of Central America are hidden in the block below. See if you can find: Spanish, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, El Salvador, hot, humid, mountains, rain, valleys, coffee, bananas, cattle, Caribbean, Pacific, Indian farms, corn.

PETER PENGUIN'S PUZZLE & LE-DO

Peter Penguin knows that it rains a lot in Central America. It also "rains" a lot in this puzzle. Complete each word in these sentences by adding a letter or letters to R A I N.

1. Your ___rain is in your head.
2. Catch the ___rain at the station.
3. He ___rained his ankle.
4. See the water go down the ___rain.
5. He ___rained his muscles lifting the couch.
6. ___rain from hitting your sister.
7. Wheat and corn are types of ___rain.

Answers: 1. brain, 2. train, 3. sprained, 4. drain, 5. strained, 6. refrain, 7. grain.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Look into the various projects that you have that have not been completed and handled in a conscientious fashion. Concentrate on the remainder of the work to be performed on them.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Good day to make collections and pay bills, get statements in order and know exactly where you stand.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be sure to keep any promises you have made and gain good will you need, meet expectations of others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get at that unfinished work and complete it in a very precise and clever fashion. Use your creative talents.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Avoid those amusements that are too expensive and build up a little reserve quickly for added benefits.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You feel restrained at home, but once your work is done, all goes better for you. Spend some time with loved ones.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have ideas how to improve routines, but be sure they are practical before putting them in motion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Analyze your monetary position and set up a better budget for yourself. Your tendency to be lavish is catching up with you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't get discouraged if things are not going just as you want them to, but persevere. Conditions will change.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Rid yourself of private worries that are frustrating and you can handle them very well now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Know what your true aims are and how best you can gain them and then full speed ahead with them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be wise but say little both in public and at work, or in the community in which you dwell for best results today.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have ideas you have not completed and now is a good time to do so and then you can utilize them to your advantage.

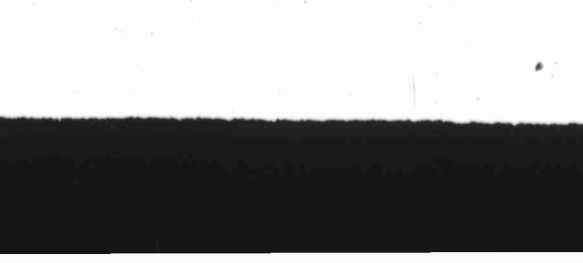

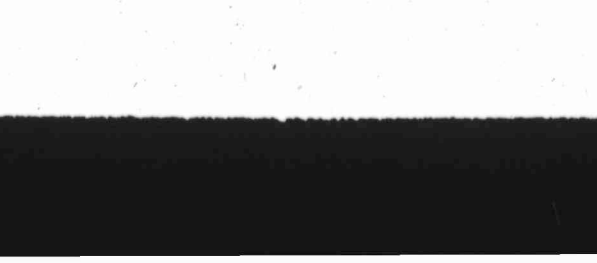

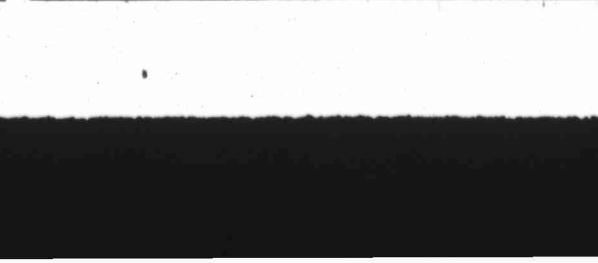

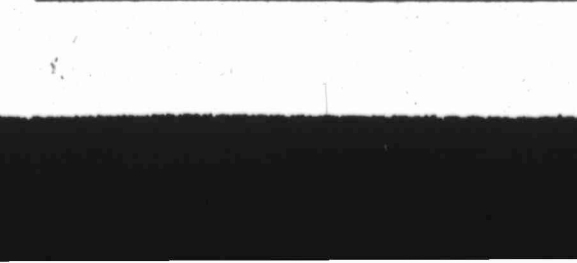

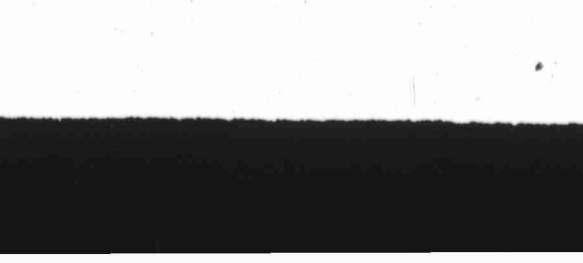

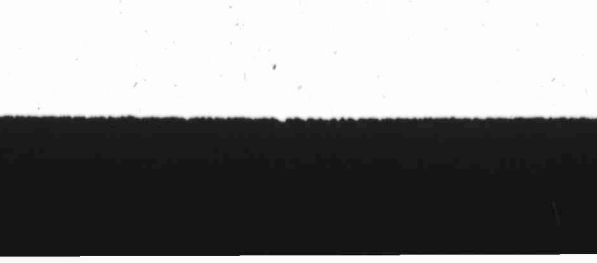

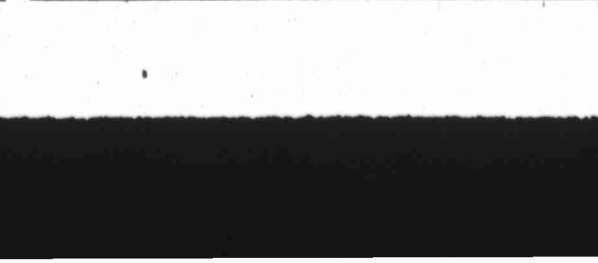

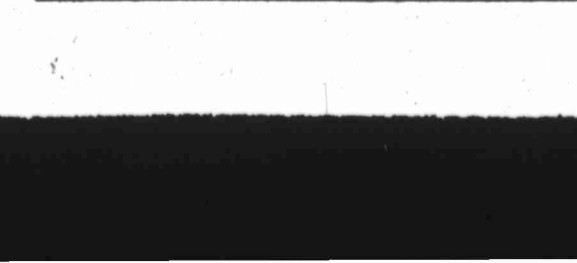

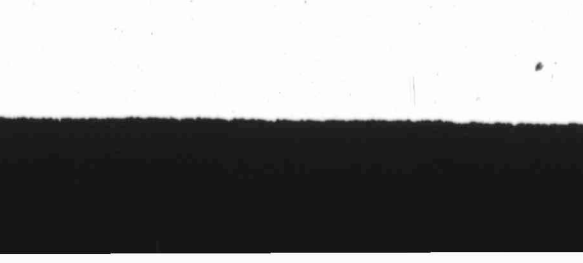

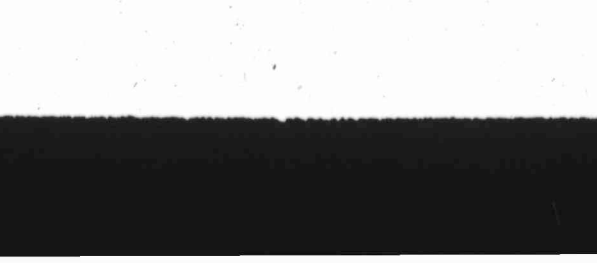

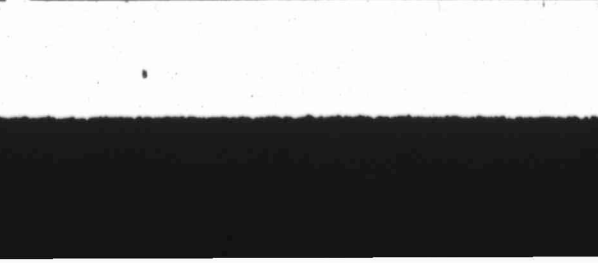

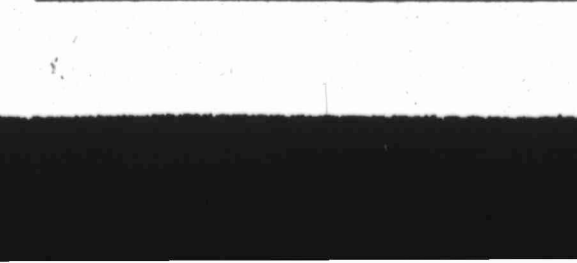

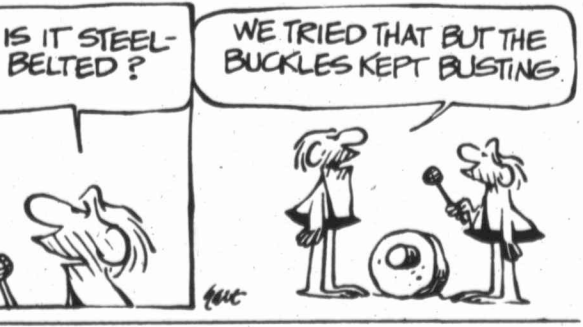

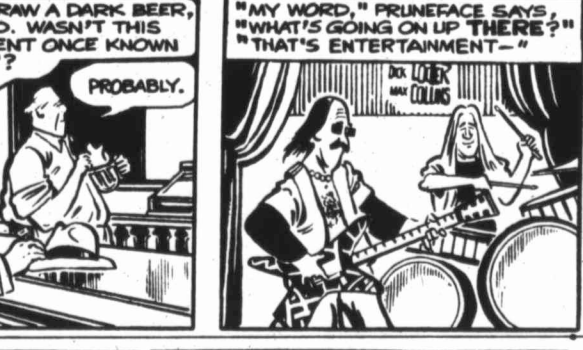

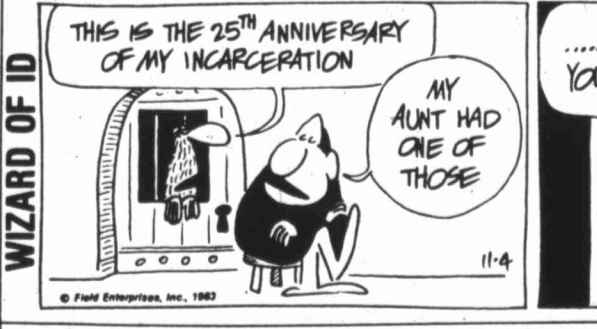

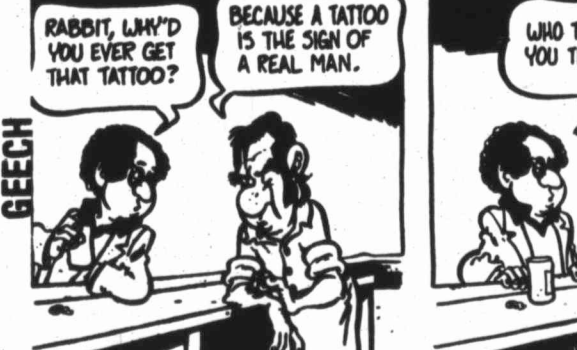

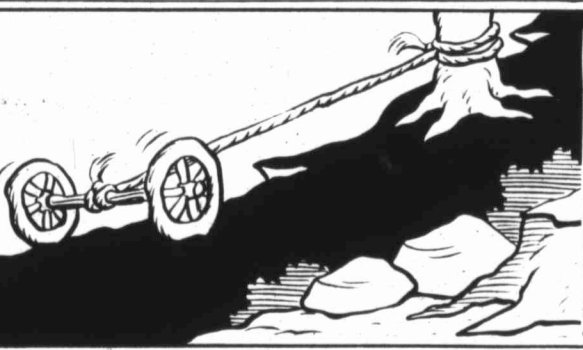

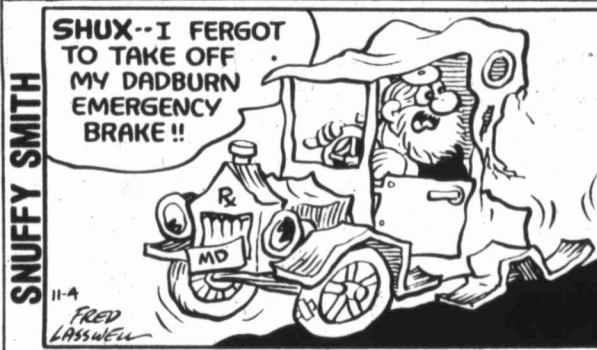

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young persons who will early understand the importance of making plans for far into the future and getting ideas and activities well organized. Politics is a good field here.

Forgetful woman returns home

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A 79-year-old woman with a tendency to be forgetful was safely reunited with her husband after being missing for more than a week.
 A landlord found her watching television in an apartment blocks from home.
 "I found this little old lady I'd never seen before who seemed totally confused," says Robert Kane, owner of a two-story apartment building. "She said she had lived there for a year."
 But Kane said he knew better.
 For Miguel Prieto, 84, the worried vigil ended happily Tuesday night when Kane rang the doorbell of the Prietos' modest $175-walkup apartment to tell him the good news.
 A little while later, a policeman arrived, escorting Mary Prieto. She looked fit despite a bruise on the side of her chin and the loss of about 10 pounds.
 "The first thing she said was 'How you been? I've been waiting for you,'" recalled Prieto.
 "When I saw her I say to myself, 'I got a new lease on life. No matter what happened she's back with me.'" Prieto said as he sat with his wife of 60 years in their tiny one-bedroom apartment.

 Just what happened to Mrs. Prieto during the 10 days was not clear.
 She walked with her husband the 10 blocks from their home to Bayfront Medical Center on Oct. 22 when he was admitted for a bleeding ulcer. Knowing that she is forgetful and easily confused, he told her to take a cab straight home and to wait there for him. When Prieto got home Oct. 26 after his release, he realized his wife hadn't been there and he called police.

 "The taxi didn't come so I walked," Mrs. Prieto explained. She said she remembered little about what happened next. She said she was walking when she met a woman and a man, or two women, who took her to an apartment. She thought she knew them.

Child witnesses take the stand

By The Associated Press
 Renee Nicely got a 30-year prison sentence for killing her 3-year-old son, Shawn. "She always hit him on the head with a broom," a New Jersey Superior Court jury heard from the star prosecution witness — the victim's 5-year-old brother, Davell.
 Another 5-year-old, Lisa David, told a jury in suburban New York she had seen "Daddy stick a knife in Mommy." Her father, Glenn David, was convicted last Tuesday of second-degree murder in the June 16 stabbing of his wife, Donna Marie, and will be sentenced next month.
 Davell Nicely and Lisa David are among the thousands of children called into court each year, mostly in divorce and child abuse cases, and their testimony has raised concern among judges and lawyers over when and how children should take the stand.
 Their concerns are for the integrity of the judicial system and for possible psychological harm to children who become part of it.
 Legal authorities say most young children in court testify in criminal cases involving sexual and physical abuse — usually because they are the only witnesses.
 In Nashville, Tenn., for instance, prosecutors relied on the claims of a 10-year-old girl in the rape charge against Eugene Gold, a former district attorney in Brooklyn, N.Y.
 In Chino, Calif., 8-year-old Joshua Ryen had his throat slashed but survived a bloodbath that left his parents, sister and playmate dead. Joshua was the only known witness and will almost certainly testify when the murder suspect, Kevin Cooper, an escaped convict, is brought to trial.

 "With very young children, one of the things I worry about is what it's going to do to the child," said Carol Remer-Smith, a New York assistant district attorney. She said any victim who testifies in court, no matter how old, ends up "reliving" at least part of what happened.
 When possible, Ms. Remer-Smith said, she consults with social workers or psychologists to gauge the possible emotional harm to a child in testifying. She said prosecutors sometimes might be more likely to plea bargain with the defense if it means keeping a child off the stand.
 Judges occasionally bend the rules to keep children from being traumatized by the courtroom experience. A parent or other relative or trusted social worker, for instance, might sit next to the child on the witness stand. Or the child might bring a favorite toy.
 In the Nicely case, the judge allowed Davell to give his testimony in another room, with the jury viewing it on closed-circuit television. Courtroom spectators could not see the TV screens.
 Once a prosecutor decides a child will testify, the judge will often require that the child show he or she is competent. "Legally, there are a lot of problems in qualifying a child as a witness," said Josephine Bulkeley of the National Legal Resource Center for Child Advocacy and Protection.
 Under federal law, any child is allowed to testify; it's up to the jury to decide whether the testimony is credible.

Ghosts, goblins mark Halloween observance

A band of Halloween ghosts and goblins followed the Forsan High School Band through the streets of the Big Spring State Hospital Monday morning at 10 a.m. to open the annual observance of Halloween on the hospital grounds.
 For the past several years, the Forsan Band has volunteered its services to lead the hospital parade and provide musical entertainment for patients during and following the procession throughout the grounds.
 A. K. Smith, hospital superintendent, crowned the King and Queen during the festivities, and announced the winner of the prize for best decorated cart. As part of the awards, the king and queen received canteen coupon books. Sponsors of the winning cart were treated to a doughnut party.
 Volunteers and staff members sponsored a carnival for patients between 2 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. For the first time, the cheerleaders from Howard College volunteered their services to help in the manning of the carnival booths. They joined forces with volunteers from Ackerly, Midland and Big Spring, who helped Volunteer Services personnel with the parade and carnival.
 Carnival Booths included musical chairs, fruit walk, a fishing pond and a football throw. A refreshment

Steers stunned by Central's offense

SAN ANGELO — A 35-0 ballgame doesn't sound like much of a contest, but Friday night's Big Spring-San Angelo football game could not accurately be described as a blowout.

Two crucial defensive mistakes and Central's relentless rushing attack which ground out 342 yards were the difference in the game as the Bobcats maintained their faint playoff hopes. In Midland, however, the Lee Rebels were dashing those hopes with 35-0 score over Midland High.

It was a night of frustration for the Steers, ending a year of frustration. Leading 14-0 with 1:21 left in the first half, Bobcat quarterback Greg Thomas evaded a Steer rush at his own 30 yard-line and lobbed a bomb downfield. Big Spring defensive back Richard Hilario got tangled up with intended receiver Craig Hook and the referees' flags flew for pass interference.

That was on the Steers' seven yard-line, making it a 55-yard penalty. On the next play, Mike Fanning scored on a sweep and Richard McKnight's third PAT of the night made it 21-0.

For the third straight week, Big Spring was realistically out of the game after just two quarters. San Angelo outscored Big Spring 21-0 in the second and third quarters, but it was the Steers who dominated the action. After being held to two offensive yards and no first downs in the first quarter, Big Spring chalked up 75 yards in the second period but fell further behind.

In the third quarter, Big Spring again moved the football but a second untimely penalty led to San Angelo's fourth touchdown. The Steers had forced a fourth down punt by the Bobcats but a call for too many players on the field gave Central new life at the Steer 29. On the next play, Fanning — who led all rushers with 90 yards on just six carries — scampered those 29 yards for the touchdown.

Big Spring piled up 224 yards in the game but failed to score for the first time this season.

"We moved the football well in the middle of the field," said BSHS Quinn Eudy, "but we just didn't have enough consistency." Eudy did not question the interference call but disagreed with the personal foul in the third quarter. "I question that call," Eudy said. "I don't think we had 12 men on the field but I'll have to look at the film."

It looked to be an upbeat night for the Steers on the Bobcats' initial series. Hilario intercepted Thomas' first pass, giving the senior free safety his fifth interception in the past four games. Big Spring was unable to do anything with the turnover at the Central 46 and the Bobcats marched to their first score on their next possession.

Tailback Derrick Campbell topped the 1,000-yard mark when he broke for 30 yards and Fanning rolled to gains of 16 and 12 yards on sweeps from his flanker position. Fullback Bevens Hoffman capped the drive with a one-yard dive with 5:57 left in the first quarter.

Big Spring failed to move the ball again and San Angelo launched a 72-yard scoring drive, keeping the ball mostly on the ground. A 19-yard pass from Thomas to Brian Ross, however, kept the drive going. Hoffman broke 36 yards for an apparent touchdown but a motion penalty brought the score back.

It didn't really matter as Fanning burst 24 yards on the next play and Hoffman scored his second TD two seconds into the second quarter to make it 14-0.

San Angelo ran 14 plays to 21 in the second period but the two scores made it 21-0 at halftime.

After Fanning's third quarter touchdown made it 28-0, the Steers again moved the football. Beginning at his own 28, quarterback Tommy Gartman led an explosive drive downfield as Jay Pirkle escaped for 17 yards for the big gainer.

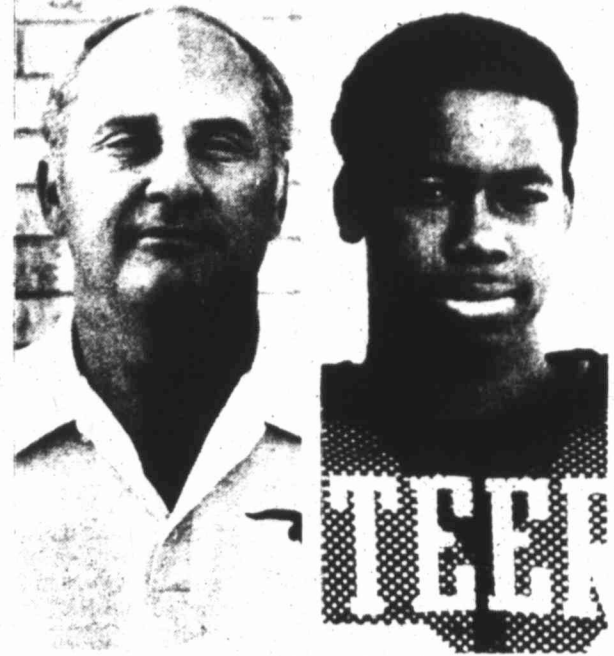

The drive fizzled, however, when tailback Eric Sherman was stopped for a 2-yard gain on a fourth and four play at the Bobcat 30. On its next possession, Big Spring moved to the San Angelo 26 as quarterback Carl Speck floated a perfect 46-yard pass to tight end Charlie Ragan. Speck was sacked on first down and the Steers couldn't recover from the loss. Another pass to Ragan on fourth down was short of gaining a first at the Bobcat 18.

San Angelo, running numerous substitutes into the game, marched to its final score against an exhausted Steer defense in the final quarter. Engineered by third-team quarterback Steve Lopez, the Bobcats drove 46 yards for a score. Lopez found Wes Harrel open behind Sherman in the left corner of the end zone and lofted a seven-yard TD pass to his receiver.

McKnight's kick with 1:59 in the quarter made the final score 35-0.

Eudy was particularly pleased with the play of Speck, a sophomore, who drove the Steers to a touchdown last week against Permian. "His composure was good," the Steer coach said. "I had made the decision to play both quarterbacks." Also playing was senior Mark Johnson who only Friday morning received a doctor's release to play. His final night as a Steer was not memorable, sadly, as he went incomplete for nine pass attempts.

Sherman finished with 79 yards on 17 carries for the Steers while Pirkle added 70 on 12 tries. Campbell, the

Coogs blast Sands

KLONDIKE — Behind the breakaway running of Tim Cope and Rolando Juanitos, the Klondike Cougars routed the Sands Mustangs 29-0 here Friday night to take second place in the District 7A North Zone and advance to bi-district playoffs.

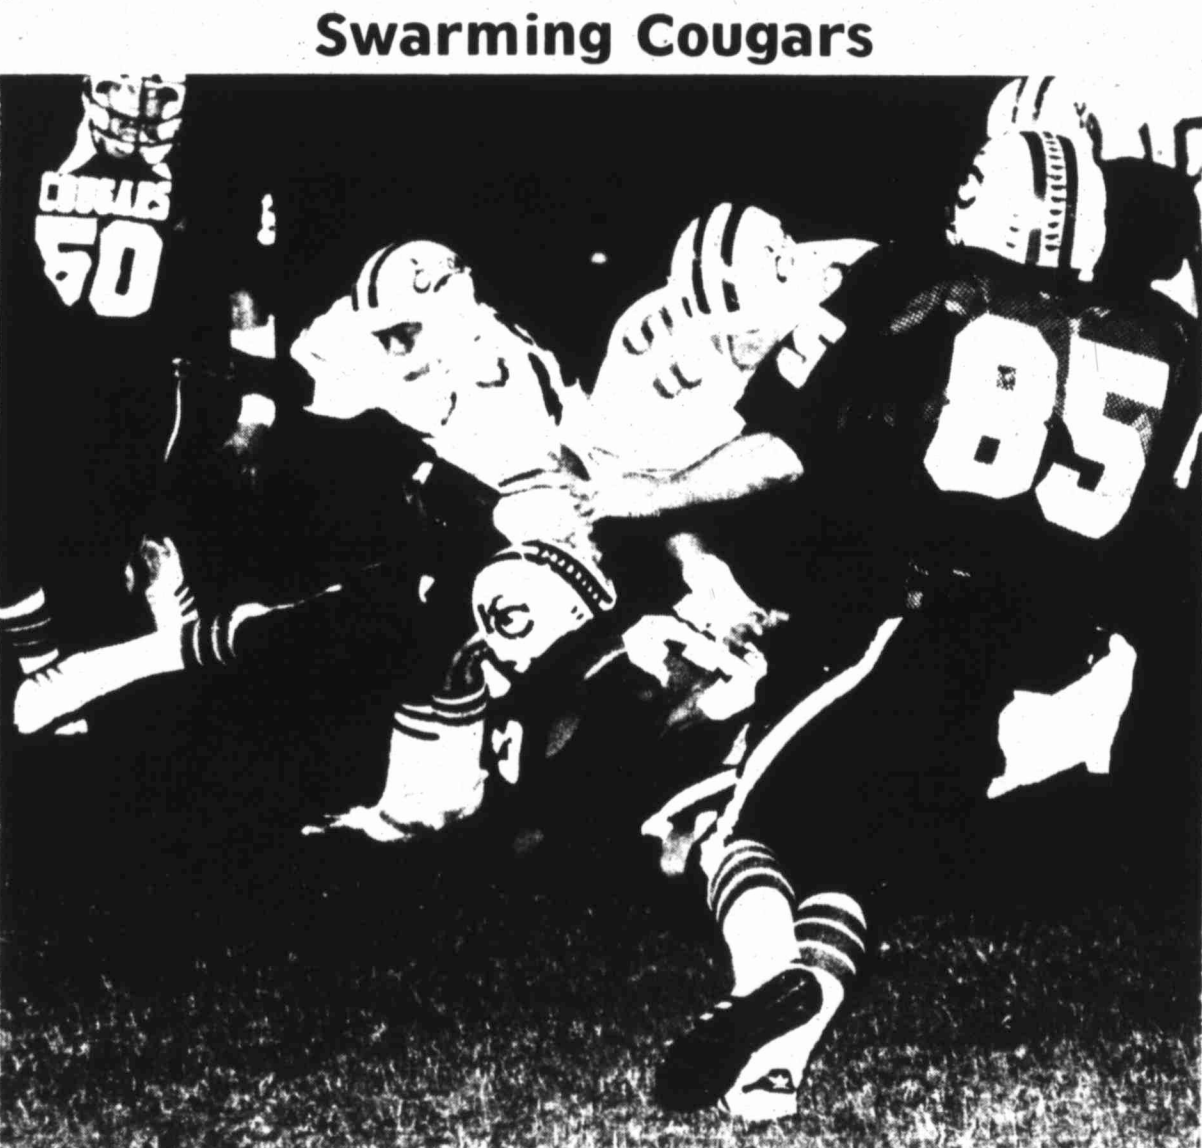

Klondike dominated the traditional rivalry both offensively and defensively, rolling up 366 yards rushing while holding Sands' star running back Robbie Creswell to only 66 yards. Creswell came into the game with 1,109 yards in eight games.

Klondike struck early in the game when running back Juanitos went off tackle on the Cougars' second play from scrimmage, kicked off a couple of tacklers and cruised 52 yards for the score with 9:55 left in the first quarter. Cope's extra point was good, putting Klondike up 7-0.

Neither team was able to mount a serious threat the rest of the half as slick field conditions and penalties kept both offenses ineffective.

However, the second half began at full speed as Juanitos once again displayed his running skills.

Klondike, after receiving the second half kickoff and setting up shop at its own 21, sent Juanitos on a sweep to the right, which netted five yards. Then quarterback Scott Arimendez (33), Leo Amador (85) and Ricky Webb (50). Sands' Chris Wigginton (58) attempts to clear the way for Ybarra. Klondike won the contest 29-0.

Runge called for Juanitos to carry up the middle — which he did for the next 74 yards and a touchdown. Cope booted the PAT to put the Cougars up at 14-0 with 10:45 left in the third quarter.

Klondike's next touchdown came with 2:55 left in the third period when Cope found running room on the left side of the Mustangs' defense, ripping through the line and outracing the Sands' secondary for a 57-yard score. Cope missed the PAT, leaving the tally at 20-0.

All three of Klondike's scores had come from two-play drives thus far. Sands was unable to move the ball on its next possession and punted to the Cougar 41. From there quarterback Runge engineered a 10-play drive that fizzled at the Sands 9 yard line. Instead of going for the

TD, Klondike elected to attempt a field goal — which Cope had no problem making — putting the Cougars up 23-0 with 6:53 to play in the game.

Klondike once again scored on its next possession as Cope started on a sweep to the right, cut back over the middle and sprinted to the end zone to make the final score 29-0. His PAT failed because of a bad snap.

Sands put together a last-ditch drive late in the game; however, it stalled at the Cougar 26 — the closest the Mustangs came all night to scoring.

Juanitos piled up 192 yards for the night to lead all rushers. Cope added 123 yards to Klondike's cause.

Sands finishes the year at 6-4 while Klondike now sports a 5-5 record and will advance in the bi-district playoffs. Klondike and Roscoe, both District 7A North teams, will be in the playoffs. Roscoe defeated Klondike last week 34-7.

Hawk Queens rally falls short, 78-73

WACO — The Howard College Hawk Queens made a come-from-behind effort here Friday night against Panola but finally went down to defeat 78-73 in the McLennan Classic Tournament.

Trailing Panola by nine points at halftime, Howard College tried to make up the difference in the second half, closing to within one point several times before dropping the game by five points, Queens Coach Don Stevens said.

The Queens had high hopes for Friday's game following their first win of the season. Wednesday night, a 74-58 victory over Navarro. Howard College opened play in the McLennan Classic with a 15-point loss to host High Lassies Wednesday night. Howard freshman sensation Debbie Hall played an outstanding game and was top-scorer with a game high 29 points, Coach Stevens said.

Hawk Queen Diane Dickson also played a stand-out game, guarding Panola top-scorer Bronwyn Wynn after Diane's sister, Alison, fouled out. In addition, Diane had a total of nine points in the game, Stevens said.

Other high-scorers for Howard were Molly Early with 11 points and Janene Berry with 10 points.

For Panola, Wynn had 27 points, Candy Wells had 15 points and Regina Vixon had 12 points. Howard County now stands 1-2 in the McLennan Classic.

The Queens return for a home game Tuesday night at 6 p.m., playing Ranger College in the first game of a "Nostalgia Night" doubleheader in the old Howard College gymnasium.

Mojo, Midland Lee advance to playoffs

ODESSA — Permian pulled out a last minute win against the tough Odessa Bronchos here Friday night as quarterback Brit Hager ran for the go-ahead touchdown with only 3:30 left in the game to give Mojo a 15-10 win.

Odessa led at the half 10-7, but Permian slowly crept back with a safety in the third quarter followed by Hager's TD in the fourth. Hager wound up with 127 yards rushing and two touchdowns for the game.

Odessa's Charles Hunter rushed for 127 yards also. He is the leading rusher in the district.

Odessa Permian and Midland Lee advanced to playoff berths Friday night by winning traditional rivalries against Odessa and Midland, respectively. Permian edged Odessa 15-10, while Lee blasted Midland 35-0.

Permian ended up with a 9-1 record for the year and Lee finished with an 8-2 mark.

Kareem admits drug use

DALLAS (AP) — Los Angeles Lakers center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar says he included admissions of drug use in his forthcoming autobiography because he wanted to be "completely candid" and "to set a few things straight about my life," the Dallas Morning News reported today.

The 14-year National Basketball Association star admits using heroin, cocaine and other drugs in his book "Giant Steps," according to the newspaper.

Jabbar, in Dallas to prepare for tonight's game with the Mavericks, said he believed "there will be a negative reaction" to his disclosures.

"Once in college I snorted some heroin. I threw up all out the window, and the next day I was sick. That was the end of that," Jabbar said in the book, according to the News.

In other excerpts, Jabbar said: "For a while there at UCLA I didn't want to hang out with anyone who didn't smoke reefer, but that was as parochial a view of the world as any uptight antidoper's ...

"I got involved with cocaine between college and the pros, but not for long. What turned me off was a minor brush with death ...

"But after four or five trips, what I ultimately learned from acid was that I did not need to take acid."

"I wanted to set a few things straight about my life," Jabbar told the newspaper in a brief interview Friday. "Through the years, I've had to deal with other people's opinions about me. I wanted my say, to do it in my words ... and to be completely candid in saying how I got to be who I am."

Jabbar wrote "Giant Steps" with Peter Knobler. The book is due in bookstores this week.

"I made the decision that if I was going to do a book, and open myself up, then I'd open up all the way," Jabbar told the News.

Jabbar said stirring up controversy was not his intent with the book.

"I dealt with all kinds of subjects. The toughest for me being my relationship with my parents," said the veteran of 14 National Basketball Association seasons.

"But everything relates to what has happened to me in my life."

In the book, Jabbar retraces his steps from Power Memorial High School in New York to UCLA and through his NBA years.

"Yes, I know there will be negative reactions," he said. "But it's a part of my life that I just couldn't conveniently ignore. There are people out there who know things I've done in the past, the mistakes I made. I couldn't leave them out and have those people know I wasn't honest. Then, it wouldn't be an honest book."

Friday's FINAL

Klondike, Greenwood make playoffs

Crane stops C-City 21-14

CRANE — The Crane Golden Cranes, now 4-0-1 in district play for the year, edged out the Colorado City Wolves, 21-14, for a playoff berth in a last quarter scoring blitz.

The Wolves and the Golden Cranes fought it out in a game in which both teams scored only in the first and fourth quarters, and were tied until the last two minutes of the game.

During the last quarter, a failed first-quarter two-point conversion attempt seemed to haunt the Wolves as they battled the 14-14 tie.

Crane's Joe Vasquez was involved on all three of Crane's touchdowns, while Junior Bishop kicked all three PATs.

The Wolves started scoring in the first quarter with 5:17 left. Doug Chitsey threw a 50-yard pass to Don Randle for the first Cranes' touchdown.

However, the Wolves' two-point conversion attempt failed. Crane came back quickly with 3:50 in the first quar. Bishop intercepted a Chitsey pass at the 40 yard-line and returned it to the 25 to set up the first Golden Crane score. Ted Rodgers then threw a seven-yard pass to Vasquez for the touchdown. Bishop's kick was good to lead the Wolves 7-6.

During the fourth quarter, Crane scored first on a 51-yard run by Vasquez with 10:26 in the game. Bishop kicked the PAT to lead C-City by 14-6.

But Colorado City fought back, and scored again on a three-yard run by Wolf Sammy Rivera. The Wolves tried for two points again and this time were successful.

Crane then came back to completely control the ball for the last eight minutes of the game on a scoring drive that took 17 plays and ate up 75 yards. Vasquez made the final score with 1:18 left in the game on a four-yard run. Bishop kicked the PAT to make the game 21-14.

Outstanding Crane players included Vasquez for the offense, and Bishop for his interception stopping the Wolves' drive late in the first quarter.

An especially impressive performance for the Wolves was turned by Rivera, who was moved from the junior varsity squad this week for the game against Crane. Rivera had 23 carries for 106 yards rushing.

Outstanding defensive player for the Wolves was linebacker Michael Luera.

The Wolves finished the season at 6-4 and placed third in district with a record of 3-2.

Crane came in second in district standings with a record of 4-0-1 and a season record of 9-0-1. Both Crane and first-place Ballinger will compete in the playoffs next week.

HEAD-ON COLLISION — Stanton Buffaloes Darren Sorley (12) moves up to stop an unidentified McCamey running back during second half action in Stanton Friday night. Stanton lost the game 31-6, which also edged them out of a playoff spot.

Stanton misses playoffs

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes Friday were eliminated from the playoffs for District 8-AA after losing 31-6 to the McCamey Badgers, now ranked second in the district behind Wall.

Next week, McCamey will face the winner of the 7-AA district.

The Badgers won by taking advantage of the many Buffalo turnovers and by a strong defensive play, blocking a Stanton PAT, to regain momentum.

Although the Buffaloes did not get called for any penalties, they penalized themselves by turning the ball over six times, four interceptions and two lost fumbles.

McCamey lost no fumbles and had only one interception.

McCamey almost doubled the Buffaloes' first downs — 15 to Stanton's eight. Stanton only managed 66 yards rushing and 66 passing — three of 20 — to the Badgers' 110 yards rushing, and 6 of 10 passes completed for 126 yards.

The Badgers began scoring with 6:53 in the first quarter on a one-yard run by Robert Day. Ray Zarate kicked the PAT.

McCamey scored again in the first quarter with 5:31 remaining after it recovered a Stanton fumble. Zarate threw a 31-yard pass to David Stephens for the touchdown and kicked the PAT.

Stanton's Darren Sorley scored the first Buffalo touchdown on a one-yard run with 10:18 in the second quarter. However, the Badgers blocked the kick. The Badgers' last score of the half came with 8:33 remaining, as Zarate and Stephens combined on a 14-yard pass for their second touchdown of the night. Zarate's kick was good.

The third quarter was scoreless, but the Badgers came back to score twice in the last five minutes of the fourth quarter.

Zarate kicked a 25-yard field goal with 4:32 in the fourth quarter. Less than 1½ minutes later, at 3:06 in the game, Day ran five yards for the final Badger touchdown. Zarate kicked the final point.

Stanton ends up 3-2 in district play and 4-6 for the season. McCamey is 4-1 in district play.

Wall, which won the District 8-AA standings, will play the second place team in District 7-AA next week.

Ballinger claws 'Dogs, 19-9

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs failed to even their season record here Friday night as they went down to defeat at the hands of the Ballinger Bearcats 19-9.

Two Ballinger interceptions inside their own 30-yard line kept Coahoma from upsetting the seventh-ranked Bearcats.

Ballinger fullback Eddie Galvan put the Bearcats on the scoreboard first with a one-yard run with 5:32 left in the first quarter. Matt Allan's PAT kick was no good.

Coahoma roared back in the second quarter with nine points. The bulldogs drove 87 yards and put the ball over with 6:55 left in the half on a 10-yard run by fullback Richard Seals. The point-after kick by Cliff ford McCartney was no good. Then, with no time left on the clock, James Sanders kicked a 37-yard field goal to take the Bulldogs into the locker room with a 9-6 halftime lead.

Ballinger dashed Coahoma hopes for an upset with two scores in the second half. First, with 2:31 left in the first quarter, fullback Galvans put the ball across on a two-yard run. Allen's PAT kick was good. With 11:16 left in the game, the Bearcats scored again on a 22-yard pass from Aaron Keese to Craig Teplicek to put the game away 19-9.

Coahoma fullback Richard Seals was an offensive stand-out with 17 carries for 111 yards. Other offensive stand-outs were center James Sanders and tackle Shawn Justiss.

Playing great defensive games for the Bulldogs were noseguard Jeff Dever, end Martin Bejarano and back Todd Engle.

With the loss last night, the Bulldogs ended the season with a 4-6 overall record and a 1-4 record in District 6AAA.

Ft. Stockton levels Lamesa

LAMESA — The Lamesa Golden Tornados lost their final game of the season here last night as they were rolled over by the Ft. Stockton Panthers.

The Golden Tornados end the season 2-7 overall and 1-5 in District 2-AAAA play. Pre-season favorite Ft. Stockton ends with a 2-4 district record and is 5-4 overall.

Ft. Stockton came on strong in the first quarter with four TD's. First was on a 54-yard run by Tony Munoz. Joe Salmon kicked the PAT with 9:21 left in the quarter. With 5:35 left, Russell Winn put the ball into the end-zone on three-yard run for the Panthers next score, and again the Salmon PAT was good.

Van Watson scored next for Ft. Stockton with 2:39 remaining with a 62-yard run from scrimmage, and for up, however, as they scored twice in the third quarter. First was on a 16-yard run by Louis Sanchez with Guy Gladstone kicking the conversion. Second was a seven-yard run by George Garcia and again Gladstone kicked the point-after.

Lamesa got on the scoreboard again with 10:53 left in the fourth quarter on a five-yard pass from Doug Warren. To Gilbert Arredondo. Gonzales kicked the PAT.

Not to be outdone, Ft. Stockton came back with a one-yard run by Joe Salmon and Gladstone kicked the conversion.

Lamesa made the final score of the game with a 16-yard Raymuro Rayes pass to Warren, but Ft. Stockton blocked the Golden Tornados' kick to finalize the game 56-20.

Bengals face winless Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — Cincinnati Coach Forrest Gregg says all the Bengals needed to do to discover their worst enemy was to look in a mirror.

"We were self-destructing from the beginning of the season until just two weeks ago," Gregg said. "We were stopping ourselves with holding penalties, illegal motions... the mental errors were killing us and it was just a matter of poor concentration."

The Bengals dropped six of their first seven games before suddenly righting themselves with victories the past two weeks over Cleveland and Green Bay.

Now they have a chance to continue the string of victories in a noon kickoff Sunday against the reeling Houston Oilers.

Greenwood 'perfect' in 35-15 victory

GARDEN CITY — The Greenwood Rangers got through the District 7-A season with a perfect record as they put down the Garden City Bearcats 35-15 here last night.

Greenwood completed the regular season with a 7-0 district mark and an 8-2 overall record and now move on to its first play-off game next week.

Garden City ends the season 2-5 in the district and 4-6 overall. On a clear night with no rain, Greenwood led off the scoring with a seven-yard run by Roger Smith with 2:59 left in the first quarter. Ranger kicker Scott Goff kicked the PAT.

Garden City came back with three points in the second quarter as Ranger Doug Hoelscher kicked an eight-yard field goal with 9:31 on the clock.

To the dismay of Bearcat fans, the Rangers scored twice more before the end of the half: first, on a one-yard run by Chad Longley with 3:46 left and again with 41 seconds remaining on a five-yard pass from Longley to John Ellis. Both PAT kicks by Goff were good to make the halftime score Greenwood 21, Garden City 3.

The Bearcat defense shut out the Rangers in the Fourth quarter and allowed ed Garden City to score two TD's. Abelardo Madrid scored on a 58-yard run with 11:17 left in the game and went on to complete the game with over 100 total yard rushing.

With 3:47 remaining, the Bearcats scored the game's final touchdown on an 18-yard pass from David Montgomery to Scott Halfmann, but it was a case of too little too late as the Rangers won it 35-15.

The Wildcats were penalized 10 times for 93 yards and lost two fumbles and one interception. The Raiders suffered nine penalties for 72 yards and gave up one interception.

Penalties, turnovers stop Grady 'Cats

GRADY — Paul Patterson scored three touchdowns to lead the Raiders of Leuders-Avoca to a 28-14 District 2A six-man victory over the Grady Wildcats here Friday night.

The Raiders opened the scoring with 5:41 left in the second quarter with a five-yard run by Kevin Clifton. The PAT was no good.

Grady responded on the ensuing kickoff when Jay

Billingsly returned the ball 70 yards for the TD. Fred Garza's two-point conversion was good.

The Raiders came back three minutes later when Patterson scored his first touchdown on an 11-yard run. Freddie Cosper got the two-point PAT.

Fred Garza knotted the score for Grady with four seconds left in the third quarter on a four-yard run and scramble. The PAT failed.

PAT. Patterson plunged in for the final score with 26 seconds left in the game.

Grady Coach Richard Gibson said several Wildcat drives were stopped by penalties and turnovers.

Grady, now 3-4 in the district, will travel to Roscoe next Friday night to play the defending state champs of Highland.

Vengeful Coogs eyeing upset win over No. 2-ranked 'Horns

By The Associated Press
 The Houston Cougars have at least 50 reasons to want to upset the No. 2 ranked Texas Longhorns Saturday night in the Astrodome.

The Cougars suffered a 50-0 humiliation to the Longhorns last year in the most lopsided defeat in the school's history.

Some Houston players and coaches said later they thought the 'Horns might have run the score up on them.

Houston has picked a bad year for revenge.

The talented and unbeaten Longhorns are whopping 20-point favorites.

They also have just installed Todd Dodge as their starting quarterback and he gives Texas a legitimate passing threat to go with the salty Longhorn ground game.

Texas' defense is the best in the nation.

Houston has already lost to Baylor, Texas A&M and Arkansas in SWC play.

The self-destruct Cougars lead the SWC in rushing offense, but have also lost twice as many fumbles as any other league team, 25.

Texas Coach Fred Akers said his

'Horns expect the same suicide effort from the Cougars that they got from the Texas Tech Red Raiders last week.

"We represent a 'season-maker' for every team we play," Akers said.

Akers added, "Houston is a very dangerous football team. I doubt if anyone in the country is more physically talented.

"They have led the league in offense the entire season and we seem to bring out the best in our opponents," he said. "I'm expecting them to be at their best."

The Cougar defense has been a big disappointment and Houston ranks next to last in the SWC against the pass.

In other SWC action Saturday, No. 8 ranked Southern Methodist was a whopping four-touchdown choice over the Rice Owls at Texas Stadium; Arkansas was an 8-point pick over the Baylor Bears at Fayetteville; and Texas Tech was a touchdown favorite over Texas Christian at Lubbock. All are day games.

The Texas Aggies were idle. Texas Tech, SMU, and Arkansas each have one SWC loss and need victories to keep pace with the Longhorns, who are 4-0 in league games.

SMU Coach Bobby Collins is worried about Rice wanting to give Ray Alborn a going away present.

"Rice comes into the game with nothing to lose and everything to gain, playing a nationally ranked team," Collins said. "As we noticed in the Texas Tech game where Rice led late, if you don't go out and play well, you will be in for a fight."

It's Homecoming for SMU and Alborn has taken note: "It seems everytime we play on the road, it's somebody's homecoming."

Arkansas has a revenge motive itself on the Hogs' Homecoming. The Bears ambushed the Razorbacks 24-17 on Homecoming at Waco last year.

"No one needs to remind us how well Baylor plays against us," said Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz. "I don't think there will be a better game in the country."

Arkansas has a 30-29 all-time edge in the series.

Memories of Halas live on

CHICAGO (AP)—They came Thursday from the boardrooms of every National Football League club and from the NFL Hall of Fame.

They came from competing sports. Some even wandered in from the street.

More than 1,200 mourners crammed into the funeral Mass for George S. Halas, the revered co-founder of the NFL, longtime owner of the Chicago Bears, inventor of the man in motion, and coach of the most victories in football history—college or pro.

Halas died Monday night at his home at the age of 88.

Those who came to pay their last respects filed out of limousines and chartered buses through a thicket of popping cameras into St. Ita's, a Gothic-style church not even built by the time Halas had created the NFL in the early 1920s.

Attending the Mass were the more than 30 members of Halas' immediate family and a constellation of NFL owners, Hall of Famers, journeymen Bear players from decades past, stars of the present and rookies who barely knew the man who guided the team for more than 60 years.

NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle headed the list of mourners who included 80-year-old Pittsburgh Steelers owner Art Rooney, Dallas Cowboys General Manager Tex Schramm, Los Angeles Raiders owner Al Davis, NFL Players Association president Gene Upshaw; football oddsmaker James "Jimmy the Greek" Snyder, DePaul University basketball Coach Ray Meyer, Hall of Fame Bear running back Gale Sayers, current Bear Coach Mike Ditka, and former Chicago Mayor Michael Bilandic.

Although Halas was "a man of faith... anyone who knew George knew that his life was not always a happy one—there were moments of great pain and hurt, physical and emotional," the Rev. Charles Banet said in his homily.

"He went beyond that to share the hurts and pain of his players and friends—I know this personally."

"No one faces the death of friends, men you have coached, men you have taught, cajoled, threatened, even fined, nurtured, challenged, and in his (Halas') own inimitable way, truly loved without turning to prayer," said Banet, president of St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind., where the Bears trained in Halas' coaching days.

Some of Halas' many grandsons helped carry his flag-draped casket into St. Ita's as reporters and passers-by lined both sides of the street. It was an overcast, windy and chilly day—a little like a football

Sunday that Halas knew so well.

The entire Bear team was bused in from practice 30 miles north in Lake Forest, and a trio of obscure linemen who played briefly on Bear teams in the late 1940s came from as far away as Alabama.

"He was the father of football, he hated to lose, but he was a humble man, not an arrogant man," said Fred Davis, who played defensive tackle under Halas from 1946-51.

"He was the man who held the league together during the war, he was the glue," Schramm told reporters as he entered the church.

"With his determination, we have pro football today," he said. "He's beyond a legend. For those who have known him since 1947, when I came into the league, he was something else on the sidelines something we've seen once and probably never again."

Halas was 326-151 in 40 years of coaching the Bears, a stewardship that included seven NFL championships.

Cavaliers rout Mavs; Rockets blast Pistons

RICHLAND, Ohio (AP) — World B. Free scored 17 of his 40 points in the first nine minutes of the decisive third quarter to spark the Cleveland Cavaliers to a 105-84 rout of the Dallas Mavericks in a National Basketball Association game Friday night.

Cleveland is now 7-0 against the Mavericks since Dallas entered the league in 1980.

The Mavericks, 3-2 after having a two-game winning streak snapped, took a 50-45 lead into the third quarter before Free caught fire.

With the game tied 56-56, Free hit a 22-footer and a 15-footer and Cliff Robinson followed with a layup to give the Cavaliers a 62-56 lead.

Cleveland expanded the margin to 79-65 at the end of the period and never led by less than 12 points in the final quarter.

Cleveland, 2-3 following its second straight victory, got 18 points from Robinson and 14 from Phil Hubbard.

Dallas, which trailed 27-23 at the end of one quarter before taking its five-point halftime lead, was paced by Mark Aguirre with 20 points. Aguirre, however, scored only three points in the second half.

Rookie Dale Ellis had 17 and Rolando Blackman scored 14 for the Mavericks.

Rockets 113, Pistons 108

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — Ralph Sampson scored 26 points and Allen Leavell scored seven points in the final 1:20 Friday night to lead the Houston Rockets to a 113-108 National Basketball Association victory over the Detroit Pistons.

Leavell broke a 106-106 tie with a layup with 1:20 remaining. Moments later he stole the ball, was fouled, and connected on two free throws to give Houston a 110-106 lead.

Leavell made his final three free throws following a pair of free throws by Detroit's Kelly Tripucka.

Sampson scored 10 of his points in the fourth quarter. Caldwell Jones added 24 points, hitting 10 points in the third.

Trippucka led the Pistons with 22 points, while Isiah Thomas had 17 and Terry Tyler 15.

Houston forward Elvin Hayes set an NBA record for career field goal attempts. His second attempt of the game in the second quarter gave him 23,901 attempts, pushing him past former Boston Celtic John Havlicek.

Detroit, 2-3, led 81-79 at the end of three quarters after trailing by a point at halftime. Houston, 2-2, led 35-24 at the end of one quarter.

Nastase, Mandlikova score upset win in mixed doubles

HOUSTON (AP) — Ilie Nastase of Romania and Czechoslovakia's Hana Mandlikova continued a string of upsets Friday night by defeating Sweden's Bjorn Borg and West Germany's Bettina Bunge 6-3, 6-2 in a second-round match of the $400,000 World Mixed Doubles Championships.

BJORN BORG
...a rough game

Third-seeded Chris Evert Lloyd and Jimmy Connors met Carling Bassett of Canada and Vince Van Patten in a late quarterfinal match.

Borg suffered a cut over his right eye in the fifth game of the first set when he hit himself with his racket while returning a Nastase serve. The injury caused a 15-minute delay. The injury did not seem to bother the Swede, who was playing in his first tournament after a seven-month retirement.

Nastase-Mandlikova broke Bunge in the fourth game of the first set to take the advantage.

In the second set, Bunge was broken again in the third and seventh games and Nastase-Mandlikova won it on the first match point when Mandlikova served an ace to Bunge in the eighth game.

Borg-Bunge had one chance to get back in the match when they took Nastase to two break points in the sixth game before Nastase held his own serve.

The fireworks started with the afternoon matches that eliminated top-seeded Wendy Turnbull of Australia and Britain's John Lloyd, and second-seeded JoAnne Russell and Sherwood Stewart.

Andrea Jaeger and Roscoe Tanner took 48 minutes to beat Turnbull-Lloyd 6-1, 6-4, eliminating the possibility that Lloyd could play against his wife, Chris Evert Lloyd, in Sunday's finals.

Prior to the Turnbull-Lloyd upset, Betsy Nagelsen and Butch Waltz upset Russell-Stewart 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

The upsets left third-seeded Chris Lloyd and partner Jimmy Connors as the highest seeded pair left in the tournament. They met Carling Bassett of Canada and Vince Van Patten in a later match Friday. Bettina Bunge of West Germany and Sweden's Bjorn Borg also met Czechoslovakia's Hana Mandlikova and Romania's Ilie Nastase.

Jaeger-Tanner broke Turnbull in the fourth game and Lloyd in the sixth game of the opening set. In the second set, Turnbull was broken in the third game and Jaeger held her service after fighting through five deuces in the fourth game.

"Roscoe was serving out of his brain and we had to get Andrea. And we could have but we didn't," Lloyd said. "We made sloppy errors on stupid points, and there's no excuse for it."

Lloyd said Tanner was the best player on the court in the match.

"We were loose," explained Tanner. "We weren't second-guessing anything. We were just hitting the ball and seeing where it went."

Nagelsen-Walts broke Russell in the third game of the opening set for the early advantage, but the second-seeded pair won the second set by breaking Walts in the 10th game.

Russell's serve provided the breaking point in the seventh game of the decisive third set.

Aussie takes 2-shot lead in Kapalua Championship

KAPALUA, Hawaii (AP) — Australian Greg Norman birdied three of the first four holes and shot a six-under-par 65 Friday to take a two-stroke lead over West German Bernhard Langer after three rounds of the $300,000 Kapalua International Championship of Golf.

Norman, who trailed second-round leaders Langer and Scott Simpson by one stroke entering play Friday, got off to "a hot start," as he put it, with a birdie on the par-5, 492-yard first hole on the Kapalua Bay Golf Course. On the third hole, a par-4, 412-yard downhill oceanfront hole, he sank an 18-foot putt for a birdie.

At the next hole, a par-4, 330-yard ocean hole, he repeated the same performance for another birdie. Norman, who finished the three rounds at 201, 12 under par, birdied again on the sixth and eighth holes to finish the front nine in five-under-par 31.

Langer shot a 68 Friday and was alone in second with a 203 total, 10 under par.

In third place, another stroke back, was Simpson, who shot a 69, that included a bogey on the final hole.

Also bogeying the 18th hole was Masay Kuramoto of Japan, who shot a third-round 67.

"I finally got a feeling for the greens," Norman said. "The wind was not as severe today as it has been in the past and the pin positions were good."

Norman also birdied the par-4, 437-yard 15th hole when he sank another 18-foot putt.

Langer's front nine was not as successful as Norman's.

Langer's first birdie was on the par-4, 412-yard third hole, where he dropped a six-foot putt. The wind, which didn't bother Norman, didn't help Langer as he three-putted the sixth and seventh holes for bogeys.

"I was very cross with my putting on the front nine," Langer said. "I was playing well, but instead of being two or three under, I was one over. I said to myself to hit good shots and make some birdies."

And make birdies he did, on the next four holes.
