St. Lawrence celebrates Fall Festival

By KEITH BRISCOE

City Editor ST. LAWRENCE — In the Southwest corner of Glasscock County flourishes a young community that does things the old way.

The 800 residents of this area 35 miles south of Big Spring nourish a centuries old faith, farm the land with the dedication of their immigrant ancestors and protect their Central European heritage in closely knit families.

The German farmers of this 35-year-old settlement celebrated their 26th annual Fall Festival Sunday, a celebration of the year's cotcouple of disastrous harvests some families retreated to Wall.

A "few hard-headed Germans" stayed on in Glasscock County and with new irrigation methods began to build a prosperous cotton farming community. Father Fidelus, a Franciscan priest who served the early settlers, founded a mission here in 1946. The parishioners voted to name their community and church after the patron saint of the farmer, Saint Lawrence.

The residents here trace their roots to the great wave of German immigrants which washed ashore in South Texas during the last century. Around 1915, several families left the Schulenburg-Columbus area to settle in West Central Texas around Rowena and later Wall. Twenty years later, the founders of St. Lawrence moved to Glasscock and northern Reagan counties. About 90 percent of the St. Lawrence community is German-Catholic, Schwartz said. The remainder of the population is composed of Polish, Czech, Bohemian and Hispanic families.

Voters to decide amendments

Big Spring area residents will help decide tomorrow whether the state constitution should be amended to allow for such contingencies as nuclear attack and provide for garnishment of wages to pay for child support.

Following is a brief discussion of the 11 proposed amendments. • AMENDMENT 1 — If this proposal is approved, counties with less than 18,000 residents would be allowed to have a few as one and as many as four constable and justice of the peace precincts. The Texas Constitution now requires a minimum of four and a maximum of eight constable and justice of the peace precints.

 AMENDMENT 2 — Approval of this proposal would change the maximum urban homestead exemption from $10,000 to one acre.

• AMENDMENT 3 - Texas agricultural commodities groups, if this proposal is passed, would be allowed to deny exemptions for fees used to finance marketing and production efforts: • AMENDMENT 4 - This amendment would outline procedures used to replace the state's 181 lawmakers in the event they become "unavailable" because of nuclear war or enemy attack.

 AMENDMENT 5 — If this proosal is approved, the state could use its chief education funds - the Permanent and Available School Funds - to back local school district bond issues. Theoretically, at least, that could result in districts obtaining better bond ratings and reduced interest rates on construction projects.

• AMENDMENT 6 - Approval of this proposal would remove a 107-year state prohibition against withholding employee wages, or garnishment, to satisfy creditors' claims. This proposal would authorize garnishment only to satisfy back child support debts in which the non-custodial parent has missed two or more payments.

• AMENDMENT 7 - The Legislature will be authorized to issue an additional $300 million in bonds for the Veterans' Land Fund and $500 million in bonds to establish a Veterans' Housing Fund if this proposal wins voter acceptance. • AMENDMENT 8 - Approval of this proposal would allow veterans' and fraternal groups to be added to the list of those granted property tax exemptions.

• AMENDMENT 9 - This proposal is designed to help county court eliminate backlogs of probate cases. It would be accomplished by allowing the judges of statutory county courts to substitute in any county for a judge of a constitutional or statutory county court. • AMENDMENT 10 - Approval of this amendment would enable the Legislature to allow cities, with the consent of property owners, to contract for the relocation of the sewer laterals with affected property owners repaying the city within five years.

• AMENDMENT 11 - Approval of this amendment would remove the Board of Pardons and Paroles from the constitution and require the Legislature to establish it by law and to enact laws giving it exclusive power to revoke paroles by removing the governor's ability to veto parole decisions.

ton harvest, a time to gorge homemade German sausage and swill American beer, an opportunity to show 2,500 visitors to this peaceful, rolling land how hard work and piety can make the West Texas desert bloom.

The one-day festival, which featured German-Texas food (weisswurst and jalapeno peppers), carnival games (bingo and spinning wheel) and dance music (country and western - no oom-pah this year), required months of preparation. Proceeds from the event go to the Saint Lawrence Catholic Church, site of the festival and focal point for the deeply religious, conservative community.

Alfred Schwartz, 55, a thirdgeneration German-American and 25-year resident of St. Lawrence, is the community's unofficial historian. In his Bavarian hat and butcher apron, Schwartz, a rolypoly friendly fellow who speaks German, appears more like a Munich street vendor than a Permian Basin cotton farmer.

According to Schwartz, the families here moved from Wall near San Angelo after World War II for greater acreage. Dry-land farming techiniques proved unprofitable in the harsh climate, and after a

"We had a German-Lutheran family here," Schwartz said. "They were nice folks, though. They converted to Catholics."

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau WASHINGTON - Texas Sen. John Tower, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, is expected back in Washington today after an unpublicized tour of the troubled island nation of Grenada. .

Tower, who left on Saturday without informing the press, has, been an enthusiastic supporter of President Reagan's decision to invade Grenada. But he apparently wanted to get a first hand look at the U.S. military presence in the East Caribbean nation.

Linda Hill, Tower's press

secretary, confirmed Monday morning that the veteran Republican senator went to Grenada over the weekend. But Hill said she could not give any further details on the trip until Tower returned.

 An Armed Services Committee spokesman also refused to discuss the trip, except to say that Tower was accompanied by at least one committee staff member.

Tower was not part of the 14-member congressional delegation who also visited Grenada over the weekend. Many members of that group expressed doubt on Sunday that the U.S. Marines will be

County murder suspect tound

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

A 36-year-old man being held in Jacksonville, Fla., on suspicion of murder has been identified as a suspect in two 1982 murders in Howard County, according to Howard County law enforcement agencies.

The suspect, who was interviewed Thursday in Jacksonville by Texas Ranger Charles Brune and a Howard County sheriff's deputy, confessed to the murders of two men whose bodies were later found in or near Big Spring, Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard said today.

According to Standard and Brune, the suspect confessed to the murder of Happy Howry, 66, of Odessa, whose body was found May 8, 1982 beneath bushes in a field near the 500 block of Sunset Boulevard in west Big Spring about a week after he was reported missing on April 25, 1982 from Odessa. Howry was the manager of the shoe department at the Odessa J.C. Penney's store at the time of his death.

Howry's car, a 1980 gold and tan Chevrolet Malibu

Classic, was found on April 28, 1982 just a few blocks from the Big Spring police station in the 100 block of South Nolan, police said. Blood stains in the trunk area of the car led police to suspect foul play, they said. Police said they believe Howry was killed between 2 p.m. and 9 p.m. April 29, 1982, the day he was reported missing after he failed to return home after eating Sunday dinner at his mother's house.

According to an autopsy performed by Dr. Robert Rember, Howry was killed by a crushing blow to the skull with a blunt instrument. He had received numerous blows to the head.

Standard and Brune said the suspect also confessed to the June 1, 1982 murder of William Boyd Hite, 22, of Meridian, Miss., whose body was found on FM 2599 just off Interstate Highway 20 west of Big Spring. Hite, who had been hitchiking, died from numerous gunshot wounds to the body, according to an autopsy performed by Rember.

Hite's body was found at 3:45 p.m. on June 1, 1982 by See Suspect page 2-A

Action/Reaction: Bad taste

Q. What substances are added to the city water supply?

A. Lime, alum, and carbon are added, Director of Public Works Tom Decell said. Lime is added to adjust the acidity-alkalinity, or pH balance, of the water. Alum is used in settling out solids from the lake water, and carbon is used to control the bacteria and organic matter that create odors and affect taste.

Calendar: Chili weather

TODAY TUESDAY • The Senior Citizens Annual Chili Supper will be from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Air Park Building No. 487. Cost is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12. • The Big Spring City Council will meet at 6:30 at City Hall.

Tops on TV:

The New York Giants take on the Detroit Lions on "Monday Night Football" at 8 p.m. on cannel 2. On channel 5 at 8 p.m. PBS presents another installment in "The Life of Verdi."

At the movies: Comedians

Here and Now starring Richard Pryor stays at the Cinema, along with Romantic Comedy starring Richard Gere. The Ritz is showing Deadly Force and The Final Terror. Man from Snowy River also will be shown at the Ritz. Game of Death and Return of Dragon play over the weekend at the Jet Drive-In.

Outside: Warm

Fair to partly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of showers. High temperature today expected in the lower 70s. Low tonight expected in the 50s. Winds should be from the southsouthwest at. 5-10 miles per hour.

St. Lawrence____

The community continues to grow as new settlers make the migration from Wall.

The original immigrant families have remained intact, as the Schwartz, Braden, Jansa, Jost and Halfmann clans will testify readily.

"We're all one big family, from here to Wall to South Texas," said James Seidenberger, a 34-year-old cotton farmer.

The Fall Festival, he said, is the community's way to give thanks for the prosperity enjoyed in Glasscock County

The Rev. David Holley, who was appointed the parish's priest in July, said he was surprised at the amount of preparation required to hold the Fall Festival

"The Germans are very methodical, they keep very accurate records," Holley said. "I was impressed with the routine precision that produced the festival."

Schwartz, who directed the sausage making, said 1,200 pounds of sausage and brisket were prepared from locally produced pork and beef. According to kitchen commisars Marilee Jost and Lillie Havlak, residents cooked up 24 gallons of instant potatoes, 90 gallons of green beans, 150 pounds of pinto beans, and 300 pounds of cabbage to feed 3,000 people at the festival.

On Saturday morning the men of the community assembled at a church building to butcher the meat while the women set up tables and chairs, prepared the booths and put the finishing touches on homemade pies and cakes

stalled for the moment

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - Stalled talks between Greyhound Lines and 12,700 striking employees will probably stay stalled at least until next week as the company gauges whether it can operate during the walkout, union officials predicted.

"We won't see any talk until after the company tries to roll the wheels," president Jim Hayes of the Omaha, Neb., Amalgamated Transit Union, Local 1126, said Sunday. "It might take them a week to see they can't roll those buses without us.'

Hayes' remarks, at a Sunday rally of 300 strikers and spouses in Omaha, followed a charge by chief union negotiator Harry Rosenblum that the bus company had refused to resume talks.

Company officials could not be reached for comment, with corporate headquarters closed. Home phones of several spokesmen went unanswered Sunday

Greyhound says it needs wage cuts of 9.5 percent, employee contributions of 5 percent to the pension plan, and cuts in other employee benefits to again become competitive with discount airlines and other major bus lines.

Greyhound has said that under its proposal drivers would average $29,578 in wage and fringe benefits. The company said mechanices would average $23,534: terminal workers $22,273 and office workers $18,476.

The notice was served on Ms. Kelley on Sunday at a fund-raiser put on for her by the Washington Independent Writers Legal and Educational Fund. The court action was filed Sept. 20 in Santa Monica, Calif.

Ms. Kelley said the writers' legal organization, which is backing her effort to write Sinatra's biography, raised over $2,000, including $15 from the process server after Ms. Kelly invited him to join the party.

Ms. Kelley, 40, wrote the biographies "Jackie O!" about Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis and "Elizabeth Taylor, The Last Star." She said she wants to write about Sinatra's life because the singer "is an important figure," and she has a $1.5 million contract for the biography with Bantam Books.

She said she's been working on the book "full time for a year and a half, but not a word has been written. I'm still researching.'

McCartney fails blood test

LONDON - The results of blood tests back up what rock singer Paul McCartney has contended he is not the father of a 20-year-old German girl, a British newspaper reports.

The 41-year-old former Beatle was sued by Erika Huebers, 41, who says she had an affair with him while he was appearing at the Star Club in Hamburg, West Germany, from 1959 to 1962 - before he became famous as a guitarist, singer and composer with the Fab Four.

She demanded child support for her daughter, Bettina, in a suit filed in West Berlin.

McCartney said he authorized his agents to pay Miss Huebers the equivalent of $7,533 in 1966 but that he did it only so a Beatles tour of Europe would not be placed in jeopardy. The British tabloid Sunday People reported that Professor Volkmar Schneider of the legal medicine department at the University of Berlin says the tests prove McCartney is not the father. McCartney's spokesman, Bernard Doherty, refused to comment on the report.

Arafat's stronghold bombed

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) - PLO rebels in north Lebanon bombarded Yasser Arafat's last stronghold

with up to 50 shells a minute today, and Lebanese army experts in Beirut defused a "huge amount of exolosives" in a stolen French ep parked near the Iranian SSY.

The French contingent of the multinational peacekeeping force reported one of its jeeps was stolen a few days ago. Police spotted the jeep near the Iranian Embassy in west Beirut at dawn and explosive experts were summoned to dismantle the deadly cargo, a police statement said.

Beirut radio stations said Syrian-backed mutineers of breakaway Palestine Liberation Organization Col. Saeed Mousa rained heavy artillery fire today on the Palestinian refugee camp of Baddawi, outside the port city of Tripoli, apparently preparing for a final Arafat's outgunned loyalists abandoned the Nahr el-Bared camp Sunday to make their last stand around his headquarters in Baddawi.

Lebanese police said more than 1,000 people have been killed and 3,000 wounded since Thursday, when the rebels began their attack.

Burning oil tanks at a refinery on the edge of Baddawi spewed thick black smoke for a fifth straight day over Lebanon's second largest city. Police said thousands of Tripoli's 500,000 inhabitants have fled to safer areas.

The rebels say they want to oust Arafat because he has abandoned the struggle with Israel. Arafat's men say Syria is backing the assault because it wants to control the PLO.

Military party leads in Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey - The Motherland Party led by Turgut Ozal seized a large lead over the army-backed Nationalist Democracy Party in partial returns Sunday from Turkey's first parliamentary elections since a 1980 military takeover.

State radio and television, reporting unofficial results, said that with 43 percent of the vote counted, Ozal's centrist party had 3.6 million votes or 45.1 percent.

The Nationalist Democracy Party led by retired Gen. Turgut Sunalp was running third with 1.9 million votes or 23.8 percent. Necdet Calp's center-left Populist Party had a grip on second place with 2.4 million votes or 29.9 percent. Independent candidates won the other votes. Final results for the 400-seat Parliament were not expected before late Monday.

The Interior Ministry announced that turnout among 19.2 million registered voters was high, despite rainy weather in many areas. Voting was mandatory and failure to cast a ballot carried a $10 fine. No violent incidents were reported at the 84,000 polling places.

A total of 1,217 candidates were in the race, 50 of them independents and the rest from the three parties permitted by the military to run in the country's first general election since 1977.

overtime, poor working conditions and safety and health problems. Negotiators reached the settlement Saturday after a 34-hour bargaining session.

The agreement gives plant workers every third weekend off beginning in January. The plant, which produces all front doors and most of the steel underbodies for Chrysler cars, had been operating seven days a week to meet the demand for parts.

The company also agreed to provide more janitors at the plant. Union officials said sanitary conditions and oil spills had worsened as production increased.

"There were no money issues in the strike," Weissman said. "It doesn't make any sense. I hope they learned their lesson and we don't have to go through this again."

In Detroit on Saturday, Chrysler issued a statement saying, "We are gratified to have an agreement and look forward to ratification so we can get back to building cars."

Because the parts made at Twinsburg are crucial to auto production, plants in four states and Canada were forced to shut down in a chain reaction, idling 20,000 workers.

Chrysler said it would reopen assembly plants today in the St. Louis area. Plants in Windsor, Ontario, and Detroit will reopen Wednesday; a Newark, Del., plant will reopen Thursday, and a Belvidere, Ill., plant will reopen Nov. 14, the company said.

The first plants to close were in Belvidere and Windsor, where employees were laid off Wednesday. Those at Newark and Detroit did the same on Thursday, and two plants in Fenton, Mo., were closed Friday. The only assembly plants not affected were another plant in Windsor and one in Warren, Mich.

Congressmen visit Grenada

ST. GEORGE'S, Grenada - Most congressmen completing a two-day trip to Grenada indicate they have accepted President Reagan's rationale that the U.S. invasion was necessary to protect Americans on the island.

Rep. Michael Barnes, D-Md., a frequent critic of Reagan's Latin American policy, said Sunday he believed it was "the over-whelming view" of the delegation that the president's decision to send U.S.

also seemed willing to give, Reagan more time to withdraw U.S. forces than

'We have to make sure what was gained here is not lost," said Rep. Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., chairman of the 14-member delegation.

Foley, who began the trip urging a pullout as soon as possible, said he now hopes the troops can be withdrawn within three to four months.

When the invasion began Oct. 25, the Reagan administration talked about pulling out the troops within days or weeks.

On Sunday, Langhorne Motley, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, refused to set a "time line" for the withdrawal, but he and Foley agreed the troops should be removed before Grenadian elections, expected in six months to a year.

Throughout the visit to the tiny, mountainous island, Grenadian politicians and common citizens said they favored an indefinite stay by the Americans. One citizen even suggested that Grenada be granted a legal relationship with the United States similar to Puerto Rico's

Fog, showers cover state

By The Associated Press

Fog blanketed the eastern two-thirds of Texas this morning as light winds combined with the abundant moisture covering the state.

Travelers advisories are in effect for the northern Panhandle, North and Southeast Texas, and along the upper coast as visibilities dipped to less than a half of a mile at Amarillo, Longview, San Angelo, and Wichita Falls early this morning.

Elsewhere, a few patches of light rain developed over parts of Southeast and Central Texas with some heavy thunderstorms ocurring offshore in the Gulf of Mexico. The rest of West and South Texas had crisp, clear skies.

Predawn temperatures were generally in the 60s statewide with readings in the 50s across West and East Texas. At 4 a.m., it was 48 at Lubbock, the state's cool spot, and 68 at McAllen.

Winds were light and northeasterly over most of the state, although the breezes had shifted to a more southerly direction, at about 10 mph on the northern Plains.

Today's forecast called for partly cloudy to cloudy skies and cool temperatures statewide. Periods of light rain and showers were forecast across Northeast Texas and the Panhandle with scattered showers and thunderstorms over Southeast Texas and along the coast.

A cold front carried rain and snow to the northwest today and up o a foot of snow was headed for the mountains of Utah, forecasters say.

Much of the eastern part of the nation was covered by clouds, with rain showers falling on the lower Mississippi valley.

Dense fog blanketed the south-central part of the nation and northeastern Texas, while fair skies stretched from the Florida peninsula through eastern South Carolina to Maryland and from the southern Pacific coast to west Texas, western Kansas and the middle Missouri valley.

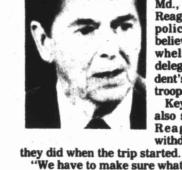

Temperatures at 3 a.m. EST ranged from 28 at International Falls, Montana to 77 at Key West, Fla.

West Texas: Sunny and warmer today in most of the area. Generally partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday. Turning colder in the Panhandle and far west Tuesday afternoon, but continued mild elsewhere Tuesday. Highs today mid 70s north to upper 80s extreme south. Lows tonight mid 40s in the Panhandle to near 60 in the Concho valley with readings near 50 far west. Highs Tuesday upper 60s north to 80s sou

Carter, Ford discuss Middle East problems

ATLANTA (AP) - Former President Jimmy Carte says he sees "a growing rift" between the governments of the United States and Israel over the issues that have sparked conflict in the Middle East for decades.

Carter, speaking Sunday at a dinner for 250 scholars and policy-makers, said the United States supports troops was right. Key members of the group

Jimmy Carter in which Carter said he had looked at women with "lust," spoke Sunday at the Target Seattle-Soviet Realities meeting, a series of seminars on the nuclear arms race.

Scheer is also author of the book "With Enough Shovels," which is sharply critical of Reagan's defense policies.

Scheer said Nixon's book, "The Real Peace," says that in spite of the tensions of U.S.-Soviet relations, talks and communication between the superpowers are more essential than ever.

Nixon makes the point that "you have to have a leader in the Soviet Union or United States who takes the initiative and says, 'Look, if we keep going this way, we're going to destroy the world,'" he said.

Miles Davis honored

NEW YORK - A big band led by Quincy Jones, seven jazz trumpeters playing high, fast and bright all at once, a Miles Davis alumni band and Davis himself playing with his present group were high points of "Miles Ahead," a concert tribute to Davis at Radio City Music Hall.

Many performers appeared Sunday night, some with no connection to Davis' music, attending simply to make an 8 p.m. concert last until nearly 1 a.m. Davis' exciting group — two electric guitarists, two drummers, a clarinettist, a synthesizer player and Davis playing another synthesizer with his right hand and trumpet with his left - performed the last 35 minutes. One wonders if it's fair to the honoree to bring him on after his audience is exhausted.

The Davis alumni group included Jackie McLean, Jimmy Heath, George Coleman, Pepper Adams, Art Farmer, Jimmy Owens, Slide Hampton, Walter Bishop Jr., Buster Williams, Roy Haynes, Philly Joe Jones, George Benson, Wayne Shorter and J.J. Johnson.

The trumpeters, who gave the first half of the concert a big finish, were Farmer, Owens, Jon Faddis, Lou Soloff, Randy Brecker, Wallace Roney and Maynard Ferguson.

The new constitution approved last November gives increased powers to President Kenan Evren, who as armed forces chief of staff > led the 1980 coup. Evren can appoint many high-level officials, including the members of the supreme court. The president also can ask for a national referendum on constitutional amendments. All his actions are subject to parliamentary approval. Evren is to remain president, and as heads of their parties, Sunalp, Ozal and Calp are in the race for the premier's job. Martial law remains in force throughout the country unless the new legislature, which convenes in late November, decides to lift it.

Evren implied in a Friday night speech broadcast on national radio and television that government by Sunalp's party would continue the work of the military administration which ended Turkey's widespread political violence when it took over in the coup.

At the time of the military takeover, clashes between leftist and rightist gangs were claiming 20 lives daily. A three-year martial law crackdown put 30,000 suspected terrorists and their allaged symphatizers in prison. Twenty-eight were hanged.

Chrysler workers return

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio - Autoworkers returned to Chrysler Corp. assembly plants today after settling a five-day strike at a key facility that forced five other plants to close, idled 20,000 workers and reportedly cost the automaker $50 million.

Members of United Auto Workers Local 122 approved a contract Sunday by a vote of 801-293 for the stamping plant at Twinsburg. Some of Twinsburg's 3,200 workers were called back Sunday, and full production began with the midnight shift today.

"I think the negotiators did a real good job," said toolmaker Jim Kontor of Cuyahoga Falls. "They got us more than I thought they would."

MOSCOW - President Yuri V. Andropov was too ill today to attend a maor military parade marking the 66th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution that brought the Communist Party to power.

It was believed to be the first time a Soviet leader has failed to be attend the annual celebration in Red Square. It also was the second major event of the holiday weekend marked by the 69-year-old Andropov's conspicuous absence, further fueling speculation that he is seriously ill. A government spokesman said he missed a speech Saturday night at the Kremlin Palace of Congresses because of a cold. He has not been seen in public in 111 days.

Andropov's predecessor, Leonid I. Brezhnev, last year climbed the stairs to the reviewing stand atop Lenin's tomb and stood an hour in freezing weather to view the parade. He died three days later of a heart attack.

This year, Red Square was bathed in sun and the temperature was an unseasonably high 46 degrees as tanks, armored personnel carriers and missiles mounted on trucks rumbled over the cobblestones.

Despite his absence, evidence that Andropov remained firmly in power was plentiful. A 9-foot-tall portrait of Andropov was displayed in the first float that followed the military hardware.

self-determination for Palestinians, an end to Israel settlements on the West Bank and the withdrawal of Israeli forces from occupied territories.

The former president's comments came on the first day of a four-day conference on the Middle East, spon-sored by the non-partisan think-tank Carter established at Emory University to address national and international issues.

The presence of Carter, a Democrat, and former President Gerald Ford, a Republican, as chairmen lent an air of non-partisanship to the project and attracted a group of scholars and policy-makers "unprecedented in scope and nature," according to Carter.

Government representatives from five Middle Eastern countries are participating in the conference, as well as about three dozen American and Middle Eastern scholars.

The relationship of the Israeli and American governments was a main theme of the first day's discussions, with Saudi Arabian Prince Bandar bin Sultan charging that the "tragedy of the Middle East" has been U.S. capitulation to Israeli demands that Palestinian representatives be barred from all peace negotiations.

Carter said it was "not possible for me to explain in a logical fashion" the decision by Congress to increase American aid to Israel after that country invaded Lebanon in 1982.

Ford said Congress in recent years "has tended to take away from the president his ability to have a stronger hand toward implementing peace in the Middle East.'

Our fair weather European friends

While the Reagan administration could expect partisan criticism at home for its liberation of Grenada, it deserves better treatment from Western European governments owing their survival to Uncle Sam.

The British government did abstain from last week's U.N. Security Council resolution (supported by France but vetoed by the United States) which deplored the intervention by Marines. But the British press is having a field day publicizing the disapproving reactions of everyone from Queen Elizabeth II and Prime Minister Thatcher on down to Labor Party backbenchers.

Other West European leaders are miffed that President Reagan did not jeopardize the security of the operation by consulting them in advance, in addition to Mrs. Thatcher. The postinvasion jubilation of Granadians also has been ignored in the European rush to characterize U.S. intervention as a human rights violation.

Mounting evidence gathered by American military forces is proving the Reagan administration's motives in Grenada went beyond any selfish reasons attributed by fair-weather friends and foes.

The only positive aspect of this hypocritical display of selfrighteousness is that it should disprove any notion that U.S. allies are U.S. puppets. Otherwise, it is ironic that in saving the eastern Caribbean from Soviet domination, the Reagan administration is attractinig harsher criticism from some European quarters than Moscow has received for its genocide in Afghanistan.

I give up.

For years now, out of some desire to be well read - or perhaps some latent masochistic tendency - I've tried to read John Updike.

You know Updike. He's that master of originality who has given up that superfluous trilogy of the Harry "Rabbit" Angstrom's life: Rabbit, Run, Rabbit Redux, and Rabbit Is Rich.

In my allegiance to contemporary literature, I've included Updike in the books I carry home to read. But I've always ended up flinging any of his novels aside, wearied by sentences ranging anywhere from 50 to 225 words long. It is no mean feat for Updike to keep a sentence

WASHINGTON — As a discrete operation, the invasion of Grenada succeded beyond expectation. But a full assessment depends on the spinoffs in Latin America and the Middle East, and on the coming confrontation with the Soviet Union. The surprise of Grenada was the huge arms cache and the deep involvement of the Communist international. Cuban engineers were preparing a giant airport. Cuban military men and political advisers were on hand. Also advisers from Russia, East Germany, Bulgaria and North Korea.

Joseph Kraft

It is fair to assume they were constructing another base for the projection of Soviet power. Wiping out that danger in advance is strategically useful.

The strategic gain carries con-siderable weight. For those of us who accept the principle that force plays an important role in international life, it transcends the question of hostages and pleas from small Caribbean democracies.

Still, the Russians already have the use of bases in the Caribbean. They may well acquire others in vears to come. What they can do with them is not so devastating. So while the action in Grenada has a strategic significance, it is minor. At best, the invasion eliminates a strategic nuisance experience. So the right reading is not that Grenada is a foretaste of more to come. It is that Grenada is the bottom line — as far as the Reagan administration will go in the deliberate use of force.

Winning Grenada for the Gipper

Lebanon proves the point. American diplomacy has been trip-ly humiliated there. Most dramatically by the savage act of terror against the Marines in Beirut. Before that, by a cease-fire which encouraged dissident forces to pick apart the Lebanese govern-ment of President Amin Gemayel. Before that, by the collapse of a deal - negotiated by President Reagan's personal emissary, Philip Habib, with Syria - for the withdrawal of all foreign forces.

The weakness of the American position in Lebanon has not been relieved in any way by the "suc-cess" of Grenada. The Marines are just as exposed as ever. Talks that weaken the Gemayel government are getting underway - under American sponsorship - in Geneva. The Reagan administration is scrounging around to find another presidential emissary

American invasion at the United Nations Security Council. Britain abstained, and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, the president's ideological soul mate, criticized the invasion publicly. The misgivings of the traditional allies are redoubled in the European countries most important to the U.S. West Germany, barring some Big Two arms control deal, is committed to lead the Atlantic allies in the deployment of modernized nuclear weapons on the Continent.

The prospect of deployment has called forth a passionate peace movement. While the peaceniks were driven into remission when Russia shot down a Korean jet two months ago, Grenada puts them back in business.

Which is where the Russians come in. Yuri Andropov, out of sight since August, is clearly in poor health. Russia may be on the edge of another successor crisis. So the Soviet militay holds very high cards

The instinct of the Soviet soldiers is to stand up to U.S. pressure. They will not get involved in Grenada

A few words about gossiping

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I wish I had time and space to tell you all the harm that has been done in my family because of one relative who seems to spend her time gossiping about other family members - and usually without knowing the full facts. Does the Bible condemn gossiping? - Mrs. K.U.W.

DEAR MRS. K.U.W .: Yes, the Bible has some strong things to say about gossiping. The Old Testament commands, "Do not go about spreading slander among your people." (Leviticus 19:16)., Among the sinful actions condemned in the New Testament are hatred, discord, dissensions and factions (Galatians 5:19-20) - all of which are a result of malicious gossip. Those who seek to follow Christ are commanded instead to "rid yourselves of all malice and all deceit, hypocrisy, envy, and slander of every kind." (1 Peter 2:1). Among the seven sins which are said to be "detestable" to God are "a lying tongue ... a false witness who pours out lies and a man who stirs up dissension among brothers." (Proverbs 6:16-19).

Gossiping is certainly one of the most common sins - so common, in fact, that most people do not take it as seriously as they should and tolerate it in their lives. But you have put your finger on one of the reasons gossiping is wrong: it destroys relationships between people. The Bible is right when it declares, "Consider what a great forest is set on fire by a small spark. The tongue also is a fire, a world of evil among the parts of the body. It corrupts the whole person, sets the whole course of his life on fire, and

3:5-6). The practical problem you face, however, is how to deal with this relative of yours. First of all, pray for her. This is a spiritual problem, most of all, and she needs to yield her whole life - including her tongue and her thoughts - to Jesus Christ as Lord. Then pray that God will not be easy, but in the long run it is far better to do this than allow her to continue to destroy the reputations of others. You may ac-

Aside from his marathon sentences, I am constantly irked by his incessant need to chronicle the innocuous. After reading two tomes of Rabbit's tedious existence, I cannot imagine any detail of his life that Updike has missed, and if there is, I don't want to know about it.

For example, here is Rabbit thinking about a strange woman's lips: "Her lips bumble on his, the spongy wax of gumdrops, yet narcotic, not quite tasteless: as a kid Rabbit loved bland candy like Dots; sitting in the movies he used to plow through three nickel boxes of them, playing with them with his tongue and teeth, playing, playing before giving himself the ecstaty of the bite." Remember, these are lips he's remembering.

Political signals, to be sure, are flashed by military actions. A high official in the Reagan administration says the main consideration behind the Grenada move was to prove the U.S. is not a paper tiger. It is possible that Castro and his pals will take a lower profile after the showing at Grenada that the U.S. can use force in a coldblooded way

But hardened revolutionaries are not apt to read in Grenada a threatening message for very long. The fact is that the U.S. had to strain its military forces to pull off the invasion. There were innocent victims, and President Reagan himself was visibly shaken by the whom the Syrians will find acceptable.

Opportunities to strengthen that position have, if anything, been dimmed by Grenada. The best hope was to withdraw the present multinational force, which includes the Marines, and substitute some other international military presence.

That way, with the Marines out of the Beirut trap, the U.S. would have recovered freedom of action as a superpower. This country would no longer try to use Lebanon as a base for peace in the Middle East - an effort as quixotic as trying to use Northern Ireland to launch a move for the unification of Europe.

Allied cooperation, however, is essential if the U.S. is to kick free from Lebanon. But Grenada has made the allies less willing to work with this country. France voted for a resolution condemning the

Surinam: the Grenada connection

WASHINGTON - The U.S. assault on the communist regime in Grenada has chastened one of the two surviving Marxist dictators in the Caribbean region: Lt. Col. Deysi Bouterse of Surinam.

Citing "concern over events in Grenada," Bouterse last week abruptly ordered diplomatic relations with Cuba downgraded to the charge d'affaires level. He gave Fidel Castro's ambassador six days to leave the former Dutch colony on the northeast coast of South America

This indignity was another blow to Castro's prestige in the Carib-bean. He clearly had hopes of mak-ing Surinam a Cuban client. It was to be his "first South American beachhead since the fall of Allende in Chile," as one State Department official put it.

Bouterse seems to have gotten the message from the recent "events in Grenada." Bouterse acted quickly to avoid the Cuban-Soviet bear hug that proved fatal to his friend and fellow Marxist, the late Prime Minister Maurice Bishop of Grenada. The Surinamese strong man clearly does not want to provoke the wrath of Ronald Reagan.

My roving reporter Jon Lee Anderson flew to Surinam a few weeks ago and found the U.S.-Soviet rivalry being conducted by sur-rogates: Cuba for the Kremlin, Brazil for the White House.

The key to Surinam's situation is money: It doesn't have any.

The price of its main source of income - bauxite - is depressed on the world market. Then, when Bouterse brutally liquidated his chief political opponents last December, the Netherlands abruptly cut off the $100 million-plus aid it had been providing each year.

Bouterse had to find money somewhere else. Last April, Brazil providentially offered him an economic and military aid package estimated at about $300 million. How did this happen? Brazil is broke, deeply in debt to international creditors. Yet suddenly it found $300 million to give its Marxist neighbor.

My sources tell me the United States secretly agreed with Brazil last spring in the Surinam deal. Whether the U.S. Treasury will ultimately be putting up the money cannot be confirmed. It is at least a reasonable possibility.

But there's a stick along with the carrot for Bouterse. There were not-so-subtle threats from both Brazil and the United States that he might be ousted by force if he didn't moderate his communist policies. Thus the Brazilian aid package was a godfatherly offer he couldn't Bouterse's aides hinted that the regime had been told: "Accept the offer — or else." One foreign ministry official told my associate, We know which side our bread is buttered on. Cuba is a good friend. But it can't give money. Brazil

Dear Abby

Woman finds company for her misery

DEAR ABBY: Last week I read in your column a letter from a young woman who discovered that her mother had been having an affair with her husband. Believe it or not, I was happy to read it because I realized that I was not alone! My mother and husband had an ongoing affair for 16 years before I found out. It had been going on right under my nose and I never suspected a thing.

It's been a year now, and I'm still struggling with the anger, bitterness and feelings of betrayal. I'm séeing a counselor who is helping me deal with this. Until I read that letter in your column, I thought I was the only person in the world in such a bizarre situation.

Abby, you do such a great service by allowing people to tell their stories. So many times we feel we're so alone that no one could possibly know what we're going through and how we feel.

Now I'm sure I'm going to make it. Thanks for being there.

CLIMBING BACK UP

IN COLORADO SPRINGS DEAR CLIMBING: Don't thank me; that's what I'm here for. Please write again and let me know how you're doing. I care.

DEAR ABBY: On a recent trip returning from London, I was driven to near madness by a hyperactive 5-year-old boy who ran up and down the aisles screaming and intentionally ramming people with his toy truck while his parents drank martinis and beamed at him.

After the third time he connected with my second-degree sunburn, I gave up hoping for either the flight attendants or the parents to discipline the child. I told the mother bluntly that the next time the boy rammed me I would probably "ram" him back.

A plane is no place for a child to be running around unsupervised. Also, it was not what I paid a thousand dollars for.

Perhaps major airlines should schedule two or three flights a week for families on long trips - and those of us who want some peace and quiet can fly on the other days when no children under a certain age are allowed on those flights. A sensible idea?

DEB IN SAN FRANCISCO DEAR DEB: Sensible indeed. But please don't offer the major airlines suggestions until they resolve their own major problem -

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to the 58-year-old feminist who is enraged by the phrase, "Who gives this woman in marriage?"

5-A

I always wanted my father to walk me down the aisle, but I never particularly cared for the tradition of being "given away." Although I did not express my feelings about this, after my father walked me down the aisle, and the minister asked, "Who gives this woman in marriage," my father said, "With her mother's and my best wishes, she happily gives herself.'

By the way, I had a real "family" wedding: My grandfather was the minister, and my grandmother was my matron of honor! LISANNE IN N.C.

War horrors linger for refugee children

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Children from war-torn El Salvador escape the bullets when they come to the United States, but psychiatrists say the horror lingers — causing nightmares, crying spells at the sight of TV violence and even drug addiction and death wishes.

"Some have witnessed torture, some have seen parents killed in front of their very eyes, and some have had family members disappear," said Dr. William Arroyo, a child psychiatrist in suburban Sherman Oaks. "Some of what they saw over there is not unlike what they see in horror films now."

Arroyo is studying the refugee children's emo-tional scars along with Dr. Spencer Eth at the County-USC Medical Center's Child Psychiatric Outpatient Clinic.

"Like the kids, sometimes I feel very hopeless and helpless," Arroyo said in a recent interview. "I am very much angered by the deaths these children have witnessed.

In interviews with 20 refugee children and their parents - the first half of the study - the children complained of nightmares, cold sweats, severe headaches, what the doctors defined as alienation from their families and homesickness for El Salvador, despite the ugliness they saw there. Gladys Cienfuegos, 16, was admitted to County-USC's psychiatric ward after trying to kill herself with an overdose of sleeping pills. Arroyo said the girl slept under her bed in El Salvador on some nights, trying to avoid gunfire.

"Some have witnessed torture, some have seen parents killed in front of their very eyes, and some have had family members disappear." Dr. William Arroyo

She saw two young girls hanging mutilated from a tree and a man killed by shots from a passing car in broad daylight.

"When she saw this, she did all she could to stop herself from crying in public for fear someone might assume she was related to the person who had fallen to the ground" and make her the next target, Arroyo said. The psychiatrist said Gladys feels abandoned by her mother, who went to Mexico and then the United States to earn money so her son and daughter could escape their native country. Gladys says her mother wrote her aunt and uncle while she lived with them in El Salvador, but not her. One day the uncle and aunt disappeared and were never found. The children were smuggled to the United States three years later. Today, Gladys fears being abandoned in her barrio home and wants to return to El Salvador.

Children like Gladys are "a danger to all of us," said Eth, "because there are so many of them who were exposed to months and years of institutionalized violence. The United Nations Commission on Refuge estimates that more than 250,000 Salvadorans live in Southern California. Eth said the children face an "extremely high risk for mental and physical illness.'

Arroyo speculates that many don't know about the free counseling available at County-USC or are afraid to seek help because they're in the United States illegally.

Seattle picks Cromartie first in re-entry draft

NEW YORK (AP) - The Seattle Mariners chose outfielder Warren Cromartie, who declared his free agency from the Montreal Expos, as the first player in baseball's re-entry draft today.

The New York Mets passed, then the Cleveland Indians made relief ace Rich Gossage, who pitched the past six years for the New York Yankees, the second pick in the draft.

The Chicago Cubs then picked another reliever, Kent Tekulve of the Pittsburgh Pfrates.

The California Angels chose Gossage, then the Cincinnati Reds picked Tekulve. The Minnesota Twins, the seventh team in the draft order, passed, and the St. Louis Cardinals chose Los Angeles utility man Derrell Thomas.

The Oakland A's selected Gossage and the San Francisco Giants took Cromartie.

The next two clubs, the Texas Rangers and San Diego Padres, each picked Gossage, and the Boston Red Sox chose infielder Darrell Evans of the San Francisco Giants.

The Montreal Expos picked Dennis Walling, a first baseman-outfielder from Houston, and the Kansas City Royals took Evans

The Pittsburgh Pirates chose Gossage and the Milwaukee Brewers and Houston Astros each picked Evans. The Toronto Blue Days and the Atlanta

Braves each picked Gossage and the New York Yankees passed. Philadelphia took Tekulve and the Detroit Tigers and Los Angeles Dodgers each chose Evans.

The Baltimore Orioles picked infielder Julio Cruz of the Chicago White Sox and the White Sox chose Evans, completing the first round.

The Twins and the Mets also passed in the second round, thus dropping out of the draft. The Yankees, who had passed in the first round, picked Evans on the second.

After picking Evans in the second round. the Yankees passed two consecutive rounds, thus taking themselves out of the draft.

Through four rounds, Evans had been chosen 15 times and Gossage 11.

Milwaukee's free agent catcher, Ted Simmons, was not chosen until the fourth round, when the Pittsburgh Pirates took him.

Outfielder Dave Parker, the Pittsburgh Pirates' free agent, was not chosen until the eighth round, when he was picked by the Cincinnati Reds.

Infielder Manny Trillo of Montreal was chosen for the first time by the White Sox in the eighth round.

No-miss White leads Dallas past hapless Philly, 27-20

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Coach Tom Landry said he felt his Dallas Cowboys' ability to come back within the final four minutes of the second quarter after falling behind 10-0 was the turning point in a 27-20 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Philadelphia came out fired up and held Dallas to minus-3 yards in the first period, while amassing 126.

But the Cowboys never panicked. They came back in the second quarter and almost reversed the figures, gaining 115 to just 11 for the Eagles.

More importantly, with 3:45 left in the half the Cowboys overcame that 10-0 deficit to gain a tie by intermission.

First, Dallas got a 39-yard field goal from Rafael Septien. And before the half ended, quarterback Danny White threw a 12-yard touchdown pass to Timmy Newsome to tie the score.

The Cowboys went ahead 13-10 in the third quarter on Septien's 23-yard field goal, which was set up when safety Bill Bates recovered a fumble at the Eagles' 10-vard line.

They made it 20-10 on a 29-yard third period run by Tony Dorsett, who had been held to a minus-5 yards up to that point.

"I was frustrated and a little upset," said Dorsett. "But I'm a realist. I know that things aren't always going to go your way. I definitely had a strong feeling I was going to pop one sooner or later."

After Franklin cut the margin to 20-13 with a 37-yard field goal, Dallas then came up with an 18-yard TD pass from White to Tony Hill that made it 27-13.

White said the pass resulted from a busted play.

"It was supposed to be a screen pass to Dorsett. But they (the Eagles) were waiting for it. I should have thrown the ball away.

"But I was able to pick up Hill out of the corner of my eye running in the left cor-ner of the end zone. And I got it to him." White said it was a good thing the pass to Hill worked. "It was the kind of play that Coach Landry would have been cussing at me if it didn't work," he said.

White, who has been under fire in some places despite keeping the Cowboys on top in the National Conference East, had a brilliant day.

He completed 21 of 24 passes for 268 yards and two touchdowns. More importantly, in Landry's eyes, was the fact he held the Cowboys together when the Eagles were hot.

White was surprised with his performance because he said he didn't feel well.

the game. And during the game I didn't think I was throwing the ball better than I'd ever done."

The Cowboys, now 9-1, clinched their 18th consecutive winning season, an NFL record

The Eagles jumped to a 7-0 first-period lead on a 20-yard TD pass play from quarterback Ron Jaworski to Mike Quick, who caught seven for 120 yards. It was the fifth time this season he's gained 100 vards or more.

They made it 10-0 early in the second period on a 19-yard field goal by Tony Franklin. But their offense sputtered as Dallas caught up and moved ahead.

Franklin kicked a 37-yarder in the third period to cut the margin to 20-13. The Eagles didn't score another touchdown until late in the fourth quarter, a 71-yard pass play from Jaworski to Glen Young.

The Eagles had a last chance when they recovered a fumble at their 6 with 1:05 remaining. But time ran out on a drive that reached the Dallas 37.

Eagles Coach Marion Campbell was pleased with his team's performance.

"Our guys put out a top effort," said Campbell, whose team now is 4-6 and fast fading out of the playoff picture. It was the Eagles' fourth straight defeat, and 10th time in the last 11 games they've lost at home.

Wilder dashes for 219, Tampa Bay wins No. 1 JAR 99¢ MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Running back James

Wilder amassed 219 yards in 31 carries, including a 75-yard touchdown sprint, as Tampa Bay upended division-leading Minnesota 17-12 Sunday for the Buccaneers' first National Football League victory of the season after nine straight losses.

Wilder's touchdown, the longest run in Tampa Bay history, came midway through the third quarter and put the Bucs ahead to stay.

Wilder's 219 yards on the ground broke Ricky Bell's single game Buccaneer rushing record of 167. The total also the second most yardage chalked up against the Vikings ever. Chicago's Walter Payton had 275 yards in 1977

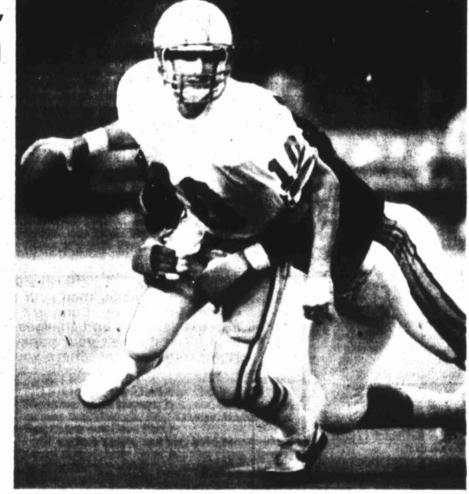

Minnesota had a chance to rally with two minutes left, but Tony Galbreath dropped a fourth-down pass inside the Tampa Bay 15-yard line.

Tampa Bay's Andre Tyler muffed a 51-yard Greg Coleman punt two minutes into the game and Minnesota rookie Joey Browner fell on the loose ball.

Four plays later, running back Teddy Brown bulled in from the 1-yard line to make it 7-0. Brown hurt his shoulder on the play and missed the rest of the game.

With 4:14 left in the half, Minnesota's Robin Sendlein blocked a Frank Garcia punt and the ball rolled out of the end zone for a safety, making it 9-0.

But Tampa Bay's defense came right back. Lee Roy Selmon jolted Minnesota guarterback Steve Dils from the blind side and David Logan scooped up the ball and scampered 54 yards to make it 9-7 at halftime. It was the third time Selmon and Logan have teamed up to score on a sack.

NY Giants, Lions making personnel changes

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) -- Detroit Coach Monte Clark is counting on six rookies to help the Lions in tonight's National Football League game with the New York Giants. The Lions, 4-5, have won three of their last four games and Clark gives much of the credit for that turnaround to fullback James Jones, the team's No. 1 draft choice from Florida, and center Steve Mott out of Alabama.

Jones, who has started every game, has rushed for 382 yards and six touchdowns on 107 carries. He also has caught 29 passes for an additional 314 yards.

'Jones has stepped right in," Clark said.

"His vision is really unbelievable. He's even better than we thought, and we thought he was pretty good when we drafted him.

Mott took over at center three weeks ago after beating out veteran Amos Fowler.

"It shows the value of a quality program like Alabama's," Clark said. "Steve really is aggressive."

Other rookies who see a great deal of play-ing time on offense are tackle Rick Strenger, the No. 2 draft pick out of Michigan, and wide receiver Jeff Chadwick, a free agent walkon from tiny Grand Valley State who has become the Lions favorite target in clutch third-down situations

On defense. Clark has turned increasingly to end Mike Cofer and middle linebacker

August Curley. "Those two guys were relatively low draft choices, but they can really play," Clark said. "It's a real tribute to our scouts."

The Giants, 2-6-1, making their third ap-pearance this season on Monday night, will be trying hard to protect quarterback Scott Brunner — the only experienced signal-caller they have left after injuries knocked out Phil Simms and Jeff Rutledge.

"I had bumps and bruises coming into Franklin 52. Red-hot Cincy cinges winless Houston, 55-14

HOUSTON (AP) The personnel changes in Cincinnati's 55-14 victory over Houston Sunday evoked strong emotions from the players involved.

Quarterback Ken Anderson regained his starting job and led a 34-point first half. He was happy Oiler guarterback Gifford Nielsen lost his position to Oliver Luck. Luck was glad, Nielsen was puzzled.

Earl Campbell left the game midway in the second quarter and did not return. He was mad.

But as the players' emotions rose and fell, the Oilers remained steady and extended their losing habit to 17 straight games and became the only winless team in the National Football League with an 0-10 record.

Cincinnati, headed in the opposite direction, won for the third straight game, now is 4-6 and feels confidence returning by the minute.

Houston Coach Chuck Studley benched Campbell after the Oilers fell behind 24-0 in the first quarter. Campbell gained 42 yards on 16 carries before retiring for the day and was upset afterwards

"I think now the only thing they (Oilers) can do is put me off this team,' Campbell said. "The Houston Oilers treated me bad today. They treated me like a dog today.

"I have individual goals. Nobody said nothing to me about coming out of the game. I feel like I've done nothing wrong. I come to practice on time every day and practice hard everyday and then play only the first quarter."

Anderson said reached an agreement with his offensive line prior to the game and he played the game unmolested

"I didn't have to worry about getting hurt today because noone came close to hitting me," said Anderson, returning after spending three weeks on the injury list. "I told the offensive line if they took care of me I'd take care of them.

"We didn't get specific about what it was but I'll have to think of something." Anderson completed 7 of 12 passes for 107 yards and did not throw an interception after missing three weeks of action. The Bengals put the game way quickly, jumping to a 34-0 halftime lead on Anderson's 14-yard touchdown pass to Chris Collinsworth, Pete Johnson's touchdown runs of five, one and one yard and field goals of 44 and 29 by Jim Breech.

Second-half scores came on runs of one yard by Stanley Wilson, three yards by Larry Kinnebrew and a 59-yard fumble return by linebacker Reggie Williams.

The Oilers didn't get on the scoreboard until the fourth quarter when Luck completed a 21-yard touchdown pass to Tim Smith and Curtis Brown dove one yard with 34 seconds left to play.

"They wanted to see Ollie (Luck) and see what he could do," Nielsen said.

"I don't know exactly what's wrong with my performance right now but I feel I can still contribute. I'm still walking around. I'm still breathing. Im okay.'

Williams plagued the Oilers throughout the game with two fumble recover: 's, two sacks and his 59-yard touchdo

Quarterbacks have rough day, Campbell mad over benching

By The Associated Press

Three teams lost their quarterbacks during action Sunday afternoon, while Houston running back Earl Campbell threatened to leave the Oilers after being benched in the second period.

Steve DeBerg suffered a separated left shoulder and will be lost to Denver for virtually the remainder of the season. The Raiders' Marc Wilson will be sidelined for at least six weeks because of a broken left shoulder, while Minnesota's Steve Dils was hospitalized overnight for observation after becoming disoriented after taking some heavy hits.

Roundup

Campbell was upset after being taken out of the game in the second period after gaining 42 yards on 16 carries.

"I think now the only thing they (Oilers) can do is put me off this team," said Campbell. "The Houston Oilers treated me bad today. They treated me like a dog today.

Rams 21, Bears 14

Rookie Eric Dickerson ran for 127 yards and scored twice to power the Los Angeles Rams over Chicago. Dickerson ran his 1983 rushing total to 1,223 yards and scored his 16th and 17th touchdowns of the season, both tops in the NFL. The Rams' victory overshadowed the achievements of Chicago running back Walter Payton. He carried 14 times for 62 yards to become the fourth man in league history to top 11,000 yards in career rushing. With 11,020 yards, he trails only Jim Brown, Franco Harris and O.J. Simpson.

Seahawks 27, Broncos 19

Dave Krieg, starting his second straight game after being replacing Jim Zorn at quarterback, passed for two third-quarter touchdowns and ran for another in the fourth period to lead Seattle over Denver.

The Broncos lost quarterback Steve DeBerg for virtually the remainder of the season when he suffered a separated left shoulder.

Saints 27, Falcons 10

Dave Wilson, playing in place of injured quarterback Kenny Stabler, threw for 146 yards and a touchdown, while reserve fullback Hokie Gajan ran for two touchdowns as New Orleans defeated Atlanta.

Atlanta, which took a 10-0 lead before the Saints began their comeback turned the ball over three times - twice on fumbles and once on Steve Bartkowski's fourth interception of the season.

Patriots 21, Bills 7 Two long scoring passes by Steve Grogan to Clarence Weathers and another 35-yard Grogan pass to Stanley Morgan to set up another touchdown keyed New England's victory. Grogan capped a five-play, 80-yard drive with a 40-yard scoring pass play to Weathers, giving the Patriots a 14-0 halftime lead.

Dolphins 20, 49ers 17

Rookie quarterback Dan Marino and Nat Moore combined for two touchdowns and defensive end Doug Betters recovered two San Francisco fumbles in the closing minutes to give Miami its fourth straight victory.

Uwe von Schamann broke a 17-17 tie early in the final period by kicking a 23-yard field goal. A pass interference call set up the winning kick.

Colts 17, Jets 14

Two touchdown by Curtis Dickey led Baltimore to its victory over the New York Jets.

The second of Johnny Hector's two fumbles deep in Jet territory set up Baltimore's go-ahead touchdown in the third period, a 1-yard sweep by Dickey that gave the Colts a 10-7 lead. The Colts then scored their clinching points on a 25-yard pass from Mike Pagel that deflected off defensive back Bobby Jackson's hands to Dickey in the end zone.

Steelers 26, Chargers 3

Defensive back Mel Blount raced six yards for a touchdown with a fumble and Pittsburgh's defense set up two of Gary Anderson's four field goals as the Steelers won their sixth consecutive game.

The Steelers, 8-2, have the NFL's longest active winning streak, while San Diego, 3-7, has lost four in a row.

Raiders 28. Chiefs 20

Jim Plunkett replaced injured Marc Wilson and rallied the Los Angeles Raiders past Kansas City. Linebacker Rod Martin returned an interception 40 yards for a touchdown with three seconds left in the game for the Raiders' clinching touchdown after Plunkett led the Raiders on three scoring drives. Packers 35, Browns 21

Lynn Dickey tossed four touchdown passes and Green Bay held off a fourth-quarter rally to top Cleveland.

The victory lifted the Packers' record to 5-5 and snapped a two-game losing streak.

Redskins 45, Cardinals 7

John Riggins scored two touchdowns and linebacker Mel Kaufman returned an interception 70 yards for another score to lead Washington over St. Louis.

Riggins' touchdowns, both coming on 2-yard runs, raised his season total to 14, a team record, and extended his consecutive scoring streak to nine games.

Spurs' bench sparkles in victory over Seattle

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (A) - The much-maligned San Antonio bench has finally flexed some muscle, thanks to newly acquired center Mark McNamara.

Spurs substitutes scored 34 points, grabbed 23 rebounds and handed out 13 assists Sunday as San An-tonio took a 132-115 National Basketball Association victory over the Seattle Supersonics.

McNamara relieved Artis Gilmore and scored eight points and grabbed five rebounds in 23 minutes. McNamara was traded to the Spurs from Philadelphia three days earlier. The Spurs were in control of the game from the opening moments, taking a 25-15 lead with five minutes left in the first quarter.

RIGHT THROUGH HIS HANDS - Lynn Reed, defensive coach for the Big Spring High Steers, can't hang on to a pass during a Saturday afternoon flag football game. Defending on the play are Bobby Riggs (84) and Cal Adams (41) of the Coors team from Odessa. Coors won the game 27-7 over the coaches' squad and went on to capture the championship of the 2nd Annual Big Spring Jaycees Flag Football tournament. Coors downed the Pipe Liners of Coahoma 42-13 in the title game. The Warriors, sponsored by KWKI-KKIK radio station were third. Sportsmanship awards went to the SWCID. Nine teams participated in the tournament, cosponsored by KWKI and Permian Distributors, with proceeds benefiting the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

It's time to go 'Bowl'-ing again

By The Associated Press In Miami, fans threw oranges as in Orange Bowl - on the field to celebrate the home team's win. In South Bend, representatives from seven bowls watched Pitt beat Notre Dame. Even Kentucky was talking bowl and it wasn't the Basketball Bowl.

It's that time of year again. One bid may have been clinched at the Orange Bowl, where freshman quarterback Bernie Kosar dove over from the 1-yardline with 1:04 left to give Miami a 12-7 win over that least-known of major college powers, East Carolina. Kosar heaved the ball into the stands and the fans heaved oranges back.

The fifth-ranked Hurricanes are 9-1 with only Florida State left and will probably stay home New Year's night, to meet (most likely) top-ranked Nebraska. While the Orange Bowl committee might prefer an out-of-town team to bring thousands of spenders to town, it has said it will select the top-ranked team available.

Assuming No. 2 Texas stays on top of the Southwest Conference, it will host the Cotton Bowl. Nos. 3 and 4, Auburn and Georgia, meet Saturday — the winner becomes Sugar Bowl host

GILMORE ON THE GO - San Antonio Spurs center Artis Gilmore (53) drives for a basket Sunday against the Seattle Supersonics. The Spurs won their second game of the season, downing the Sonics 132-115

San Antonio's George Gervin led all scorers with 32 points.

Keith Edmonson came off the bench for the Spurs and scored 12 pints. Another San Antonio substitute, Edgar Jones, totaled eight and grabbed nine rebounds, eight in the fourth quarter for the Spurs.

San Antonio led 36-32 at the end of the period and stretched the lead to 73-61 at halftime.

The Spurs were up 105-92 at the end of the third period and stretched the margin to 19, 130-111, with 1:04 left in the game when Spur forward Mike Mitchell hit a 15-foot jump shot. Mitchell finished the game with 24 points.

Spurs forward Gene Banks and Sonics forward Danny Vranes were ejected for the game with six minutes left in the third uarter following a fight that cleared both benches

"Gene grabbed my jersey and I pushed him away," Vranes said. "Then we got face-to-face, and said some things we shouldn't have said. Gene is a competitor and so am I.

Banks said Vranes "was getting a little out of his head.'

Lloyd-Connors claim championship

HOUSTON (AP) — The jokes early in the week turned to cheers on Sunday for Chris Evert Lloyd and Jimmy Connors who were together again on the tennis court for the first time in nine years.

'At the beginning of the week, the players were joking about the fact that Jimmy and I were playing together because we are not established doubles players," Lloyd said

But Lloyd and Connors confounded the odds and, after struggling in some early round matches, rolled to a smooth straight sets, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4 victory over Andrea Jaeger and Roscoe Tanner in the finals of the $400,000 World Mixed Doubles Championships at Astroarena.

"People think that all you need in doubles is a serve and volley,' Evert Lloyd said. "But return of serve is so important and Jimmy and I are the best returners in the game so that helped a lot.

Connors and Lloyd will share the $100,000 first prize with $50,000 going to Tanner and Jaeger.

Mixed Doubles

Connors mixed clowning with masterful tennis and served for the match in the 10th game of the third set. Lloyd-Connors won it at the third match point when Tanner's forehand sailed long

Connors and Lloyd each hit volley errors at the first two match points. "To be able to try hard and deep down want to win but still having a good time is great," Connors said. "Everybody wanted to win but everybody was smiling." Although Connors took time out for antics with the crowd, he said it didn't bother his tennis.

"I only concentrate during the points anyway," he said. "For me to concentrate for the entire match would be wrong.'

Lloyd-Connors broke Jaeger in the third game of the match to take control of the first set.

The second set started with Tanner, Connors and Jaeger losing their serves in order

But Lloyd, who did not lose her serve throughout the match, held in the fourth game and Jaegerwas broken again in the seventh game.

A dream finals pitting Lloyd-Connors against Evert Lloyd's husband John Lloyd and Wendy Turnbull, the top seeded team, was averted in the second round when Jaeger-Tanner upset the top seeds.

Hagler still fighting other boxers' shadows

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) Marvelous Marvin Hagler has arrived at a station befitting his ability.

"This is the fight I've been waiting for," said undisputed middleweight champion, who has fought in the shadow of Sugar Ray Leonard, Larry Holmes, Thomas Hearn's and a few others.

"This is what a championship fight is all about. This is what a fighter wants ... to get the proper exposure, to get the proper attention."

And to get the big money. Hagler is getting the spotlight and the huge purse - he will probably earn between $8 million and $10 million for his scheduled 15-round title defense against Roberto Duran Thursday night at Caesars Palace. Hagler is enjoying his role on center stage, and seems not upset that big story of the match is Duran's rebirth as a fighter and his bid to become the first man to win four championships.

The WBA is supervising the Duran-Hagler fight.

Klan's image haunts Texas town

-Cash Sale-Bring Money

VIDOR, Texas (AP) - Students in Matt Mathis' class at Lamar University in Beaumont recently were discussing the willingness of today's management graduates to relocate for a job.

One black student said he would move or work "anywhere in the country ... except Vidor."

Instructor Mathis says that amid some chuckles, none of the white students challenged the statement. The other blacks, almost one-third of the class, nodded agreement. Vidor has had to live with the image of being a stronghold, even the Texas headquarters, of the Ku Klux Klan.

question the myth, especially if they rely on reports like one in October's Texas Monthly calling Vidor "the Texas home of the Ku Klux Klan.

- Area blacks - and whites - grow up with Vidor's image, discouraging many from visiting the city and seeing that stories of random Klan violence are dated.

- Community leaders bemoan the image as unfair and harmful but seem unable - or unwilling - to really challenge it.

Most civic leaders acknowledge any black would have serious trouble trying to live in Vidor. But they say, correctly, that some blacks now work there and that many, including travelers unaware of the city's reputation, stop to shop or eat without serious incident.

"I would say there is much more tolerance (of blacks) than in past years," says Buddie Hahn, a lawyer and school board president. "Vidor has gotten a bum rap."

But Hahn is one of only a handful of the 40 community leaders and businessmen who will say, for the record, that the Klan image is mostly myth and has hurt the city. Most civic leaders complain Vidor suffers unjustly from the Klan image but demand anonymity.

"You just don't want to risk driving up and finding all your plate glass windows smashed," the co-owner of a small Main Street business says. "The danger, I think, isn't those people still in the Klan. But there are fringe types even the Klan won't have who might do something hoping to impress them." Some civic leaders blame Vidor's image on media that report Klan activity and "ignore the good things" about the city.

Among such officials are Mayor Dru Stephenson and Chamber of Commerce president Jimmy E. Smith, who, however, flatly refused a chance to refute Vidor's image.

Smith suggests Beaumont media instead should "go (back) to Beaumont and ask (whites) about the NAACP ... No one goes after them and what they do to cause trouble."

The myths and realities of today's Vidor have their roots in Vidor's past: a rough, often violent logging camp during the first quarter of the century, later an alternative to expensive land, city taxes or government in-terference and, by the 1970s, an escape for some from school desegregation. Former Constable Hop Williamson says that while he wore a badge, from 1938 to 1964, the Klan was small but that "along in the '70s, it began to pick up."

The drastic increase in membership during the early and mid-1970s coincided with the resurgence of more radically racist national and regional Klan organizations.

One Vidorian who was the top Klansman in Texas for one of the national groups during the mid-1970s says he quit and "started a new life" after growing disenchanted with the increasingly violent tactics.

The publicity about attacks during the 1970s on black shoppers and workers and on white families who employed blacks as domestic helpers probably secured Vidor's image as a violent Klan stronghold.

Just as drastic as the earlier resurgence but widely ignored outside Vidor has been a decline in Klan activity and membership since about 1978, law enforcement officials sav

Some Vidorians' animosity about the city's sour image is directed at the other area cities they consider little different from today's Vidor.

"We're not any different than the many other all-white towns in this part of Texas, Hahn says

The Vidor leaders cite Lumberton, with no blacks, according to the 1980 census, and Bridge City, with 10 blacks. Also mentioned are Nederland, Port Neches and Groves, all with black populations of less than one-half of 1 percent.

Vidor lawyer Larry Hunter says that at the one Klan rally he attended as a spectator, he sem "a lot of cars from places like Port Neches and Lumberton. It intrigued me why they come to Vidor for their rallies, and Vidor gets the stigma."

something hoping to impress them." wate

'Vidor's past has haunted Vidor.''

Klan observers, however, say Vidor, about 90 miles east of Houston near the Texas-

Louisiana border, no longer deserves fully its image as a KKK hotbed. They say the image is mostly myth but won't die easily. They cite among the factors that keep the myth alive:

- Outiders have no reason or opportunity to

SECRETARY'S WIFE - Suzanne Block, wife of Agriculture Secretary John Block pet their dog "Shadow" outside their Washington home recently.

Mrs. Block, though tired of the Washington scene, says she has learned to live with the demands it places on her life

Cabinet member's wife

tired of Washington life

WAHINGTON (AP) - She goes to parties and receptions almost every night and says people look right through her.

She says she was scared about coming to Washington "and I would have been more scared if I'd known what we were getting into.'

She does not lead a life of champagne and limousines; she cleans her own house, washes the family car, sets her own hair and takes care of the yard.

Meet Suzanne Block of Knox County, Ill., a high school teacher for 17 years, mother of three, wife of Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block.

"People romanticize this cabinet," she said in a recent interview. "They like to think we all have maids and servants. But we don't.

At a time when it is considered chic for a woman to boast an MBA or a law degree, Mrs. Block is a Cabinet Wife.

"In Illinois, you're invited to someone's house because they like you," she said. "Here you're invited because you have a title. I'm invited because my husband has a title.

In the three years since President Reagan nominated her husband, a wealthy Illinois hog farmer, Mrs. Block has gotten an inside look at life in Washington's fast track. She has dined at the White House, glittered at embassies, met with the Pope.

"I was scared to death before I came," she said. "These were people I'd read about. Suddenly, here I am. I sat next to Zbigniew Brzezinski at a dinner and was so scared. I said to my husband, 'What shall I do?' He said, 'Just listen.' And it was fascinating. It turned out we had a lot of interests in common.'

Mrs. Block savors these moments, knowing that Washington is a fickle town, catering only to those in power, that if the president - or the people decide against a second Reagan administration, it's back to Illinois for John and Sue Block.

Mrs. Block said she is friendly with the wives of men who have resigned from Reagan's cabinet and are, no longer in the news or on the social circuit.

"In Washington, when you're in, you're in," she said. "You have a title and prestige. But when you're out, it's like you vanish from the face of the Earth."
