Ice hits; causes wrecks

From staff and wire reports Traffic accidents kept law enforcement officials scrambling this morning as area residents skidded across icy roads coated by a snowfall of one to two inches.

The snow, which began falling here about 7:30 p.m. Thursday, resulted from a low pressure system that pushed freezing precipitation eastward as far as the Big Spring-Midland area and southward to Monahans.

A major accident was reported on Interstate 20 about 10 p.m. Thursday 2 miles west of Big Spring. A 1978 Toyota pickup driven by William D. Richters of Coahoma spun out of control and flipped over on a median. Injured in the incident was passenger Larry D. Kerr, also of Coahoma. Shaffer Ambulance was called to the scene and records show Kerr injured his wrist. The accident was blamed on sleet, snow and icy road conditions.

A Kerrville Bus skidded out of control at 7:45 a.m. this morning 200 feet south of the Big Spring city limit. The bus hit two cars parked on the shoulder of the eastbound lane. No one was injured in the mishap.

The Big Spring Police Department said this morning it had received many calls about minor traffic accidents this morning as children and their parents hurried to school for the final day of classes before the holiday break and others ventured out on the road on their way to work. Icy conditions were forecast to remain throughout the morning, although highs should reach the low 40s by this afternoon.

Big Spring recorded a low of 22 degrees last night and .05 of an inch of precipitation. Snow drifts measured from one to two inches in the city.

The 22 degrees is several degrees higher than the record low for Dec.

15, which was 14 degrees in 1972.

A winter storm dumped up to six inches of snow along the Red River this morning, left behind hundreds of accidents on slickened roads across much of North and East Texas and closed some schools, authorities said.

Travelers advisories were in effect for much of the northern half of the state because of the snow which began falling Thursday afternoon in the Panhandle.

The heaviest accumulations of snow were at Wichita Falls, where six inches had fallen in six hours by 3 a.m., and Denton. Interstate Highway 35 in Denton was impassable this morning as a result and a few area schools were forced to close for the day or to open late, authorities said.

Most of the snow in North and West Texas had stopped by early morning, but heavy snow continued to fall in the Longview-Marshall area of East Texas, which had about five inches by 9:30 a.m., officials said.

"We're being swamped. We've had a lot of fires and power lines down. There have been several major accidents, with some injuries," said Longview Police spokesman Gene Noble.

"It's coming down like crazy," he said. "Our switchboards have been clogged since early this morning. The number of snow-related calls is astronomical."

In Dallas, two to three inches blanketed the ground at dawn. The snow snarled rush-hour traffic and caused numerous minor accidents as overpasses were glazed with a layer of ice, authorities said.

Public schools in both Dallas and Fort Worth remained open.

Schools in Wichita Falls opened about 1½ hours late. Dozens of accidents were caused by the snow, See Weather page 2-A WAITING IT OUT — Eight-year-old Billy Joe Fox of Amarillo waits for his bus home from school as the snow piles up on the ground. The snow started to fall in the morning and no end is sight.

City's firemen unionize

By RICK BROWN Staff Writer

Members of the Big Spring Fire Department said today they have elected to unionize and join the International Association of Fire Fighters.

The local chapter, known as the Big Spring Professional Fire Fighters Association Local 2922, met last night to adopt a charter and install union officers.

A news release from the chapter says the organization of the union comes in order to "improve working conditions, benefits, wages and promote a more professional attitude."

"The Big Spring Fire Department is losing a high percentage of quality firefighters each year to higher paying jobs," the release said. "We, the Big Spring Professional Fire Fighters Association feel that the citizens of Big Spring deserve the best fire protection possible and the primary goal of our association will be to provide this service citizens deserve."

City Manager Don Davis said Friday he had no comment on the formation of the union.

Fire Chief Jim Ryals said Friday he has no objection to the union "as long as they stay within the rules and regulations of the personnel department."

Tests show local students above average

By CAROL BALDWIN Staff Writer

Students in the Big Spring Independent School District scored "above the anticipated level" in recent achievement tests, but the superintendent says "we're not ever completely satisfied" with the results.

Superintendent Lynn Hise told the BSISD board of trustees Thursday that students in grades 2-11 scored above the national norm on the California Achievement Tests administered in September.

BSISD administrators Helen Gladden and Janice Rosson presented the results of tests in vocabulary, comprehension, total reading, spelling, mechanics, expression, total language, computation, concepts and applications, total math, and total battery.

• A breakdown showed district second graders scored slightly above the national anticipated mean in reading, spelling, language, math and total battery. Administrators said 394 second graders were tested.

• In testing of 374 third graders, students scored slightly higher than the national anticipated mean in everything but computation, where they were even with the mean.

• In the fourth grade, 380 students again were even with the norm in computation and total math but were slightly higher in other areas.

• In fifth grade, 352 students were even in spelling, were slightly below the national mean in computation, even in concepts and application of math and even in total math.

• In sixth grade, 413 students were even in spelling, computation and higher in all other areas.

• Of the 400 seventh graders tested, results showed students to be slightly below the national mean in computation, concepts and applications of math and in total math but above average in most other areas.

• In grade eight, 400 students scored even or above in all categories.

• And in grade 11, students were above the national mean in almost every category.

Mrs. Gladden said the test is distributed so "we can see what we can do to strengthen areas of weakness."

She said "we are a little low in math, so math is a high priority area" for study.

However, overall results show "We are slightly above what would See Test page 2-A

Hispanics ask police for better relations

By RICK BROWN Staff Writer

In one and a half hours of honest talk yesterday, local LULAC President Pat DeAnda told members of the Big Spring Police Department that "Hispanics feel they are forgotten," and she predicted increased "militancy" among younger Hispanics.

DeAnda added there is a feeling in the Hispanic community in general that "things are getting better" and that Rick Turner is the first Big Spring police chief to say "My door is open."

The comments came in a police seminar on human relations held yesterday at Howard College. Approximately 15 police officers received certificates after listening to seminars and taking part in discussions with DeAnda, Chestnut Brown of the Northside Community Center and Harvey Rothell, psychology professor and counselor at Howard College.

Discussion in DeAnda's seminar touched on issues of misunderstanding between the police department and the Hispanic community in Big Spring.

Officer Hank Weilbacher commented: "They (Hispanics) call us, but they don't talk to us."

PAT DEANDA ...speaks to police

DeAnda answered this often happened because the person who called the police would realize by the time police arrived at the scene the repercussions within the Hispanic community of calling authorities.

DeAnda told officers of the concept of relaje, or "getting even", which sometimes governed behavior in the community.

"If we had a better rapport with See Hispanics page 2-A

WINTER IS REALLY HERE — Several Big Spring school children were bundled up against the cold this morning after a cold front blew through West Texas dusting the city with 1 to 2 inches of snow. The icy roads caused several accidents around the city, according to law enforcement officials.

Stats show crime decrease

Police statistics for 1983 through the month of November show the number of reported motor vehicle thefts in Big Spring has been running at a lower level than last year, Police Chief Rick Turner said Friday.

The statistics also show a marked decrease in the number of theft, burglary and assault reports in the city during the latter part of this year.

Computer may replace psychiatrist's couch

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The computer is taking its place beside the psychiatrist's traditional couch at the University of Wisconsin, where a researcher has developed a program that helps patients pin down their problems.

Robert Ellison, the researcher, said the computer has proven to be a valuable aid because it can remember a patient's responses, remain emotionally uninvolved and define the source of a patient's stress.

And it's cheap — about $2 for an initial diagnostic session in which the computer asks 80 questions, then produces a written profile to which the patient writes his reactions, Ellison said in a recent interview.

Currently, the program is being tested at the university's counseling center on students who, after an initial person-to-person interview, are determined not to be facing an immediate crisis but to be having trouble with the stress of becoming adults, Ellison said.

For such students, said Ellison, the computer program can do much of the work that usually consumes most of a patient's first therapy session.

The program asks a sequence of questions — about beliefs, stress situations, moodiness and pleasurable pursuits — to highlight such common problems as academic achievement, career goals and roommates.

In a debate-type manner, the questions "move from vague symptoms to specific behavioral problems," Ellison said.

The patient's written reactions to the computer's report is the basis for the first therapy session with the psychiatrist.

Most students have been surprised at their own ease in working with the computer, and come to their first counseling session with two or three pages of written reaction, Ellison said.

"The counselor also has a copy of the profile," he said. "It makes the session more efficient and maybe more effective."

Ellison said the computer is not just a machine asking questions because it took a person to write the program.

"How people solve problems is my interest," Ellison said. "And how they can use the computer to define the problem and possibly help themselves before seeking professional help is an eventual goal."

COUNSELING COMPUTER — Robert Ellison, a University of Wisconsin psychiatrist department researcher, has developed a computer program to help psychiatrists and patients in problem analysis and solving.

Right now it is just a tool, one with useful features such as memory and the ability to not tire or get burned out.

The University of Wisconsin, which in the late 1960s became one of the first schools to use computers for medical purposes, is currently one of the few nationwide to experiment with direct patient-computer contact in mental health work, said Ellison.

"With all of the stress this society produces today, there will never be enough human resources to solve all the problems," he said.

the kids, that might help things," Officer Fred Pace said.

DeAnda said that Hispanic children's attitudes toward police officers came from "experiences they have had."

She said children have a higher opinion of the police department now as a result of its involvement in the Howard County Boxing Club.

"I have always been very cautious of the police department because of things I've seen," DeAnda said.

She explained one incident: "A man. He lost his eye. They kicked it out. He was on the ground and they were calling him 'dirty Mexican.'"

Mrs. Rosson also displayed figures from recent ACT college entrance testing which showed 104 district students scored lower than

"We came out of this pretty well. I was a little worried early this morning," she said.

Scattered rain showers were also falling over South Central Texas as a cold front was slowly pushing through South Texas and the upper Gulf coast.

By late Thursday night in the Panhandle, Paducah had received three to four inches of snow, Amarillo more than four inches, Tulsa two inches, Plainview an inch and a light dusting also fell in Lubbock. Freezing rain was reported as far south as Midland.

About one to two inches fell around Midland and Odessa and about an inch around San Angelo. Another one to four inches fell on

Trustees receive surveys of public

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Results of a survey distributed at random earlier this semester questioning the public about strengths and weaknesses in the Big Spring Independent School District were handed out at Thursday's board meeting of the BSISD trustees.

Superintendent Lynn Hise said that the surveys were "raw data" and had not yet been studied by BSISD administrators.

The surveys will be used "to help us in setting our priorities," Hise said. The surveys also help district administrators to understand "what the community feels is important," Hise said.

Board members were given results of about 300 questionnaires sent to Big Spring residents. Next year they will be given data collected from students in the BSISD and from staff and faculty members.

Board president Charles Bell asked trustees to study the information and be prepared to discuss it when the board meets again after the first of the year.

Details of the survey were not disclosed.

Trustees approved a transfer of $2,500 in funds for the purchase of computer hardware for the elementary librarian.

Fifteen persons were named to a textbook committee. They are Hise, John Bagnall, Gillespie "Bud" Baker, Harold D. Bentley (as ex-officio), Wilbur Cunningham, Gary Earhart, Helen Gladden, Nancy Koger, Kathie McFarland, Virginia Miller, Ruth Quisenberry, Janice Rosson, Ruth Salisbury, Carol Simmons and Beth Tevis.

A low bid of $22,143.22 was accepted from Bob Brock Ford for two three-quarter ton 1984 pickup trucks for district use. Other bids were received from Pollard Chevrolet and Highland Pontiac.

Don Crockett, assistant superintendent for business, told board members the school tax office will take the same holidays observed by the county tax department. Both offices will be closed on the Friday before and Monday after Christmas and New Year's.

Big Spring schools will dismiss 45 minutes early today, Hise said. Schools will remain closed for the holidays until Jan. 3.

Fan joins Menudo rockers

NEW YORK — The newest member of rage rock group Menudo — Robby Rosa — is a 13-year-old New York native who was an enthusiastic fan of the young Puerto Rican performers long before he ever thought he would join them.

Robby was picked to join Menudo this week and will make his debut with the popular Latin group on Valentine's Day at Radio City Music Hall.

In the meantime, he'll help the group record its first English-language album for RCA records over the Christmas holidays.

Robby is replacing Johnny Lozada, who must retire at 16 because his voice is changing.

Robby said he used to watch Menudo when he was a child in Westbury, Long Island.

"It was like a real fan," he said, in a telephone interview from his home in Ponce, Puerto Rico, where his family now lives. "It looked like fun. So I thought I'd see if they'd take me."

Gene gets more fan mail

NEW YORK — Dancer Gene Kelly says he gets more fan mail than ever these days, since the younger generation has seen him dance in "That's Entertainment II," a collection of clips from old Hollywood movies.

"A lot of the younger people had never seen me dance until that picture was released. But after they saw it, they said, 'Hey, he's pretty good. What else has the guy done?'" the 71-year-old dancer said.

Kelly said his work is now being studied on college campuses and he is often asked to narrate dance documentaries.

"He feels that the popularity of such movies as 'Flashdance,' 'Saturday Night Fever' and 'Staying Alive' has little to do with graceful moves as he practiced them, and a lot to do with sex.

"The dances in today's movies feature lots of nearly nude, sexy bodies, male and female. These films reek of raw sex and youthful energy," says the entertainer in an interview in Sunday's issue of Parade magazine.

"The John Travolta pictures sell sweaty masculine muscle, and he moves like a leopard. Today's audiences like to see sexy bodies. Fred Astaire, on the other hand, could dance with an overcoat on, and you'd still watch him."

"You couldn't produce films today with the kind of music, for instance, that was in 'An American in Paris.' As a result, a lot of lovely art forms have practically disappeared," he said.

"Look at Broadway today, and what do you see? Mostly revivals."

A Shirley Temple, please

SAN FRANCISCO — Shirley Temple Black, the former child movie star and U.S. Ambassador to Ghana from 1974-76, has been elected president of the Commonwealth Club of California, a public forum group.

Mrs. Black, 55, a club member for 12 years, will serve a one-year term as president in 1984. She was vice president this year.

The 14,000-member club bills itself as the nation's largest public forum. It's known for its weekly luncheons featuring prominent public figures as speakers.

Sherman is fun to watch

LOS ANGELES — Actor Sherman Hemsley, better known as television's irascible George Jefferson, is easy — as well as fun — to watch, judging by the eighth annual survey from Man Watchers Inc.

Hemsley, along with ABC-TV anchorman Peter Jennings and eight others, was on the group's list of the 10 "Most Watchable Men in the World."

Others selected as easy on the eyeball in 1983 were film star Richard Gere, baseball player Steve Garvey, actors Christopher Atkins, David Hasselhoff, Jon-Erik Hexum and Stacy Keach; "Hour Magazine" host Gary Collins and race car driver Danny Sullivan.

Man Watchers president Suzy Mallery said the list, announced Thursday, was compiled from ballots submitted by 1,000 to 2,000 Man Watchers members — including a few men.

"The only surprise is that we don't have any politicians for 1983, which might not bode well for the 1984 election," she said.

Salvador rebels attacked

SAN SALVADOR — Government troops retook a strategic army base on an eastern volcano, but fighting persisted in the area as army units pursued rebels with artillery, warplanes and helicopters, military sources said.

The sources, who requested anonymity for security reasons, said Thursday they had no further details on the battle at Cacahuatique Volcano, a 5,000-foot peak 100 miles northwest of San Salvador.

The volcano has served as a launching base for rebel attacks on the Morazan province capital of San Francisco Gotera, 10 miles to the east. The area north of the city is a stronghold for the leftist rebels waging a four-year war to topple the U.S.-backed rightist government.

About 1,000 rebels seized the peak Wednesday and the army launched a heavy counterattack early Thursday. The guerrillas said they killed 60 government troops, wounded 75 and captured nine. Fourteen rebels were reported killed.

The Defense Ministry only confirmed that 44 soldiers were missing.

In the capital, the Constituent Assembly approved a new constitution Thursday night, ending a 20-month job of writing the new document which will be formally presented Tuesday to interim President Alvaro Magana.

The new document — El Salvador's 36th since 1824 — closely resembles the 1962 constitution, although it strengthens slightly the legislative and judicial branches at the expense of the executive. The 1962 constitution was suspended following the 1979 military coup that deposed Gen. Carlos Humberto Romero.

Inflation rate remains low

WASHINGTON — Spurred by November's 0.2 percent drop, the first in eight months, inflation at the wholesale level is running at just 0.3 percent for the year, the government said today. Food prices last month plummeted 1 percent, their steepest fall since July 1982.

The new report virtually ensures that, for all of 1983, wholesale price inflation will be less than 1 percent, which would mark the economy's best performance in nearly two decades.

Prices rose 7.1 percent in 1981 and 3.7 percent last year. Not since 1964, when the gain was 0.5 percent, have wholesale prices risen at a rate below 1 percent.

The Labor Department said energy prices, as expected, also fell in the latest monthly calculation — down 1 percent. Those prices had been off in the previous month after six months of increases.

Detailing the good news for food prices in November, the department said vegetable prices were down 16.5 percent. Fresh fruit prices fell 9.5 percent.

Department economists attributed those sharp declines to improved supplies of bananas, citrus fruits, corn, lettuce, tomatoes and beans.

Beef and veal prices fell 1.6 percent. Pork prices were off 2.9 percent.

Meat prices have been down through the fall as producers sent their livestock to slaughter rather than pay feedgrain prices driven higher by the summer's drought.

Food prices overall had risen a sharp 1.1 percent in October and 0.7 percent in September.

As for energy, gasoline prices fell 1.1 percent last month while natural gas prices were up 0.4 percent. Home heating oil prices fell a sharp 1.8 percent.

Over the last 12 months, the department said its Producer Price Index for finished goods rose only 0.7 percent, the smallest 12-month rise since the 0.6 percent pace set from September 1964 to September 1965.

Prices had risen 0.2 percent in September and 0.3 percent in October of this year.

Price changes that show up in the wholesale measure are a good barometer of how food, energy and other commodity prices will move at the retail level. The Consumer Price Index, though, checks for a broader range of items, including housing and medical care, than does the wholesale inflation index.

Retail prices rose at an annual rate of 3.9 percent for the first 10 months of the year, the same as for all of 1982. The November consumer price report is due out next Wednesday.

Analysts generally attribute the bright inflation picture to the lengthy recession and the falling energy prices of earlier in the year.

Police shadow Walesa

GDANSK — On the 13th anniversary of bloody food price riots, hundreds of helmeted riot police fanned out around the Gdansk shipyards to guard against demonstrations by crowds of Solidarity supporters gathering at a workers' memorial.

The heavy security and concerns about keeping his shipyard job led Solidarity leader Lech Walesa to reconsider plans to give a speech and lay flowers at the monument — dedicated three years ago to scores of shipyard workers massacred nearby on Dec. 16, 1970.

LECH WALESA

He indicated his wife, Danuta, might lay a wreath, but not read his prepared speech, which appealed for the legalization of his union.

Six carloads of uniformed and plainclothes police were stationed near the Walesa apartment, in a housing complex in the suburb of Zaspka.

Communist authorities barred Walesa from speaking, but said he could lay flowers at the monument about 90 minutes after the shift change, when a smaller number of workers would be in the area.

Walesa, who was granted a six-day sick leave starting Wednesday by a doctor who diagnosed the flu, said Thursday he would not speak at the monument if too many police were present, but would lay flowers "even if I have to crawl there" from his sick bed.

Jackson, pilot dispute N.Y. plane 'tragedy'

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The wings of a plane carrying Jesse Jackson dipped as the craft landed Thursday, but the pilot was able to "avoid a tragedy," the Democratic presidential contender said.

But Buffalo International Airport Air Traffic Control Tower Supervisor Bruce Chamberlain said there was "no validity" to Jackson's claim.

"I even talked with the pilot and he said, 'I don't know what he's (Jackson) talking about,'" Chamberlain said.

Jackson referred to his rough flight from Boston in explaining why he was late, saying his plane encountered 160 mph tail winds and snow during the trip.

Lebanese call cease-fire

BEIRUT — An agreement to stabilize the latest cease-fire in the civil war was announced today by Lebanon's warring factions as guns around Beirut were stilled and the international airport reopened after a 17-day shutdown.

Fifty miles to the north in Tripoli, however, Israel staged its fourth naval assault in a week against PLO chairman Yasser Arafat's loyalists, who are waiting for ships to evacuate them from the northern port city.

In Damascus, the anti-government National Salvation Front announced the three-point agreement to stabilize the cease-fire, which was proclaimed Thursday night after representatives of the Lebanese army, Islamic Druse and Shiite anti-government militias met with Foreign Minister Abdul-Halim Khaddam of Syria.

The Weather For 1 a.m. EST Rain ☐ Snow ☐
Friday, December 16
Temperatures Are Averaged Showers ☐ Flurries ☐

West Texas: Fair extreme southwest. Decreasing cloudiness elsewhere today. Scattered light snow south central early this morning with additional accumulation generally less than one inch. Mostly fair tonight. Continued fair extreme southwest, becoming partly cloudy east of mountains Saturday. Colder south today. Not so cold in the Panhandle tonight. Warmer most sections Saturday. Highs today lower 30s in the Panhandle to upper 60s in the Big Bend valleys. Lows tonight upper teens in the Panhandle to lower 30s far west. Highs Saturday mid 60s to lower 70s.

Winter hits the South

A blanket of snow up to six inches deep covered northeastern Texas and Southern Arkansas today, as wintry conditions invaded some southern states, the National Weather Service said.

The Rockies and the Great Lakes region continued their own battles with stubborn snowstorms, while the north central states endured bitter cold, with strong winds in some places making below-zero temperatures seem even icier.

There was rain over parts of New England, while skies were clear over the Pacific coast and clear but cold in states across the Gulf coast. Sunshine warmed the southwest.

Wichita, Texas, got six inches of snow in six hours by early morning, and Waurika, Okla., woke up under a five-inch blanket.

Meanwhile, Colorado dug out from its 34th straight day of snow Thursday, which added 17 inches at Vail and prompted avalanche warnings in the southwestern part of the state.

Criminal hunts publicity stunts

Tennessee Democrat Estes Kefauver won national recognition in 1950 as head of the U.S. Senate committee for investigating organized crime.

Since then there have been numerous such committees dedicated to halting crime. They seem to have accomplished little else than creating favorable publicity for politicians and bad publicity for a few mobsters.

Now we have the President's Commission on Organized Crime meeting for the first time in Washington, D.C. What does it hope to accomplish and by what methods?

President Reagan expects the commission to analyze and expose crime region by region, measure its impact on American society and make recommendations for its destruction.

"The time has come," the president said, "for all of us to assist in the fight to break apart and ultimately destroy the tightly knit regional and national networks of career criminals."

The presidential commission, under the leadership of Federal Judge Irving Kaufman, will have three years to conduct public hearings. Its membership includes members of Congress, the judiciary, law enforcement, the academic community and the private sector. There are 19 members in all.

In conducting the public hearings across the nation, Judge Kaufman says the committee "shall not witch-hunt neither shall we whitewash. ... We shall leave no avenue unexplored in our quest."

We hope the crime commission accomplishes much, but experience teaches us to be prepared only for more publicity. A presidential commission can do little to restore among all decent citizens that moral courage and respect for law which alone can make it impossible for the mob to prosper and achieve power and respectability in America.

Meese flying cover as full bird

WASHINGTON — A year ago, White House counselor Edwin Meese III was quietly promoted to the rank of bird colonel in the Army Reserve. This sudden improvement in Meese's military fortunes, given its political overtones, outraged another reserve colonel who raised a squawk.

The Pentagon brass, always cautious in their derelictions, passed this hot potato to the Army's inspector general. He conducted a delicate investigation to determine whether "undue influence" had been involved in the promotion of President Reagan's right-hand man.

The still-secret IG report exonerates Meese himself of "any inappropriate actions." But the IG's investigators did concede that hallowed Army Reserve procedures were "misapplied, violated or ignored."

This has been confirmed by my associates Dale Van Atta and John Dillion who have just completed their own investigation. They found that Meese got a boost up the military ladder by pals in the Pentagon.

Though Meese wanted the promotion, which assures him a fatter pension, the brass hats appear to have wanted it even more, perhaps as a means of buttering up an influential White House official.

In fact, one Army source says that Meese's powerful Pentagon friends are already plotting to grease the skids for his promotion to general. If this works out, Meese's military reserve career would be distinguished by the kind of rapid promotion that is usually achieved only by active-duty officers in wartime.

Here's the chronology of Meese's rise in rank:

- June 1981: Meese spoke privately to Col. Joe Sullivan, a friend who'd served with him in a California reserve unit. Meese indicated he'd like to be in the Ready Reserves, which would give him a better shot at a promotion. But he stressed that no rules should be stretched in his behalf.
- July 1, 1981: Meese was assigned to the Ready Reserve at Selective Service headquarters, in the his boss, Maj. Gen. William R. Berkman, who commands the Army Reserve and, coincidentally, also served with Meese in the California reserve unit. Together with other Pentagon brass, they agreed that the president's closest adviser deserved to be a full colonel.

All that remained was to work out the grand strategy. This required some quiet finesse. They had to find an assignment that wouldn't interfere with Meese's White House duties and an excuse to relieve him from mandatory attendance at the Command and General Staff College, which he wouldn't have time for.

The Pentagon strategists came up with an artful solution: Meese would be assigned as the Selective Service System's liaison with the Defense Department. Promotion requirements in that branch, it seems, are less stringent than in other outfits.

• July 1, 1981: Meese was assigned to the Ready Reserve at Selective Service headquarters, in the specially created liaison job. The position called for a full colonel. Meese's mandatory retirement date, incidentally, was less than a week away. With unaccustomed speed, the Pentagon paper work processors beat the mandatory retirement deadline.

• October 1981: Yet another Meese friend from the California reserve, Thomas K. Turnage, was appointed head of Selective Service, assuring that Meese's status — and his pending promotion — would not be disrupted.

• November 1982: Meese was recommended for promotion to colonel. The supposedly ironclad requirement of staff college graduation was waived by giving Meese "constructive credit" for his White House experience. Gen. Berkman and others notified the Army promotion board of this unusual dispensation while it was considering the promotion — an action that some military officials equate to tampering with a jury during its deliberations.

Motor madness

I'm telling everybody up front right now that I'm getting a new car.

I can hear the moans and groans already from those of you who have been through a similar experience. It's not pleasant, is it? Or at least it had it's ups and downs for me.

I'm not talking about the car itself. Geez, I guess we're all excited by the thought of slipping into one of those slim machines put out these days: that velour, that cluster of instruments.

This particular model I am getting is one of those Japanese import models, and it galls me to tell you so.

Call it prejudice, but I've spent a number of years in that little county and I know (I don't mean think, not believe, not figure, guess or imagine. I know) that somewhere along the line, our cars are being kept out of their country while their cars spew into ours like oil from a gusher. It's just not fair.

How is this happening? It's simple — they mark ours up. A lot.

Check these figures: A loaded, new Chevrolet Camaro, a car kids dream of owning in both countries, has $14,500 on the sticker over at Pollard Chevrolet. In Japan, the same car would be $25,000. It really is a dream for those kids.

A new Cutlass Supreme Coupe with power everything at Shroyer's has 12 grand on the sticker. In Japan, it would be at least 20.

Bob Brock has one of those sleek new Tempos for about 10½ grand. In Japan, 18. If they have them yet, which I doubt.

If you are wondering why American cars don't seem to catch on over there, you can stop right now.

Now let's go the other way: A new Honda Civic in Japan would be in the 1,500,000 yen range (don't gasp, we're talking yen). Putting it into American, we get $7,000. Add 500 for this and that getting it over here and another grand for dealer mark-up because these babies are hot, and you get $8,500. Now that's not so bad, is it?

As a matter of fact, it's not. It's great. It's just what I can afford. So now you see why I'm getting a Japanese car.

I must apologize here for not shopping Big Spring for this purchase. I know, someone in town handles at least one species of these Japanese models, but after making the painful decision that it was a foreign jobby I wanted, I had to see the whole gamut. Not even Midland or Odessa could handle this tall order.

I wanted to get beyond mere Datsuns, Toyotas and Hondas into more exotic country — Subarus, Mazdas, Isuzus (such a fun word to say) and Mitsubishis (bet you can't say that one). And there is only one city around that can corral this group into one place: Irving.

Irving, where the freeways meet. Irving, city of traffic jams, city of bleary-eyed motorists staring blankly ahead at slow-moving tailights.

A former resident of Irving says it's the kind city that unless you live there, you just pass through. It is significant that one never hears cries of "Let's go to Irving." As far as I'm concerned, the only time to be caught dead in that town is when the Raiders play the Cowboys. And, as in my case, when buying a car.

Yes, Irving. What better place to find the import of my dreams.

I ran the mill in Irving. I saw every Japanese import under Heaven and test drove most of them. I pushed them up to 90 on the freeway, ran them over roads that would gag an Oldsmobile, pounded brakes with such glee as to make salesmen fear for their lives, and griped at every price they mentioned.

The trick in handling salesmen is to intimidate them before they can intimidate you. The best defense is a good offense, to turn a phrase. It was a gambit that I hoped would get me the best price, and it worked. The salesmen crumbled at my feet, and I got what I wanted at the price I wanted.

I'll be going back to Irving tonight to pick up my new Mitsubishi.

I'll go with a feeling of self-satisfaction, knowing they weren't able to put one over on me this time.

"First, we go to your mother and stepfather's house. Then, we go to my father and stepmother's. Then, we go to your father and stepmother's, then to my mother and stepfather's. Your ex will pick up your kids there and bring them home tonight. On the way home, we leave my kids with my ex and pick them up tomorrow. I worked it out on the computer."

We have all made mistakes

To the editor:
And the mayor, members of the city commission, and citizens of Big Spring:

Okay, let's face, we've all been wrong.

1. You, Mayor, and Commissioners are, in effect, abrogating the most basic right of our citizens — The Right of Representation.

You may recall that slightly over 200 years a major rebellion took place and a war was fought over this issue.

2. I believe you acted in what you believed were the best interests of all of our citizens. You addressed a problem, head on, and settled it quickly. LULAC asked you to extend some commissioners terms so there would not be the possibility of five brand new commissioners at one time. This makes sense, but it does not make law.

3. It is my understanding that most, if not all of those whose terms were extended did not wish to serve another term (and who could blame them).

4. Herald, you really messed up, but to your credit, you've admitted your error on your Editorial page, and maybe, have given the rest of us reason to admit our own mistakes.

5. Citizens, these men and women who serve on the City Commission, School Board, Howard College Board, and all our other public bodies are among the best of what we are. They are willing to do our job for us; that's why they are our representatives. In most instances, they serve reluctantly because it is always a thankless task. Irregardless of what action they take, some of us will be opposed and criticize. They serve almost without pay, give untold hours of their time, devote their heart and soul to our welfare, and are generally awarded with abuse. If they are at fault, we elect them. You say you didn't vote? you are at fault most of all. I'm complaining about being disenfranchised by others and you did it yourself.

Now this is the season we celebrate the birth of the only One who ever walked on this earth and was without error. It is also the season for giving, so let's try these gifts. Mayor, Commissioners, give us back our vote; Herald, give us timely reporting, and our public officials some consideration in their difficult decisions. Citizens let's give support to our elected officials, support to our paper and radio stations, and to our community. Maybe, we could all make a New Year's Resolution to work harder, work smarter, and more lovingly in 1984 to make Big Spring and Howard County even greater than they are.

JOHN L. TAYLOR

City councilmen need our support

To the Editor:
As a resident of Howard County for 24 years, having lived in the City the past four years, I am afraid that, like a lot of others, I have become accustomed to the never ending criticism of our City and County officials and have taken the attitude, "ok, well, it's no skin off my nose, they are not picking on me."

After reading the headline story in Thursday and Friday's Herald, and the feature editorial (Friday) I am both awake and upset!

I am upset that our elected officials (several of them I know personally, and have found to be men of the highest integrity) are second guessed and treated as they are in your editorial. These men are not paid $50,000/year to do these jobs. They are public spirited citizens who want to see our city grow and prosper, not just survive.

Having held a few minor offices in Boy Scouts, Little League, Local 826 I.U.O.E., and being a first line supervisor for the past ten years, I can tell you from experience that when you work your "backside" off and are rewarded with nothing but criticism for your efforts, it hurts, to say the least. It takes a lot of personal pride and "intestinal fortitude" to even run for a public office, and even more to keep the job and try to do their best with this (the Herald's) "encouragement."

Maybe all of our city councilmen and our Mayor should resign; then we could move the council chambers to the Herald's Publisher's office and our town's business could run smoothly and efficiently? At least, I'll bet we would see a lot more positive stories.

I can't help wondering if the City Council had called a special election on this subject, would they have been criticized for 1) being insensitive to the rights of minorities, 2) incurring the expense of a special election in which (probably) less than 20 percent of the registered voters would vote, and 3) on something that the Attorney General's office could have ruled, regardless of the vote, that it be done along the very lines that now exist. Sounds to me like a case of damned if you do, damned if you don't, if someone wants to be negative to your every move.

We elected these people to do the job of taking care of our town's business—only with our support can they do this. Let's get BEHIND (without the knives, please) and support these people who are working so hard to help us and our city and community. If you have some input on a particular subject, let them know before time to vote.

The Herald generally does a good job and provides a badly needed public service, but wouldn't a more positive attitude or approach benefit all of us? Let's see some headlines and stories telling about how much progress we made on our water systems and streets instead of negative ones that say "more delays."

May I suggest that the writer of Friday's editorial present himself, or herself as a candidate for city council the next election? If you don't, and use some excuse like, "as a condition of my employment, I am not allowed to run for, or hold a public office," all I can say is "put up, or shut up." Don't criticize a man until you've walked a mile in his shoes.

Cartoon pulled from paper

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The cartoon feature, "The Far Side," was pulled from the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel after the newspaper's managing editor complained it showed "the humor of violence."

But after readers complained, the editor started a contest Thursday asking "Far Side" fans to participate in a contest to see if the strip should be reinstated.

The strip was pulled from its slot on the front page on Dec. 5. Managing Editor Joe Weiler said he felt the cartoon "too frequently played to the humor of violence."

In Thursday's editions, Weiler asked readers whether the comic should return to the News-Sentinel. "Let us know in a Far Side-esque manner whether you want the cartoon back," Weiler wrote.

The reader who submits the best and the most Far Side-like plea by noon Dec. 22 will receive an original drawing by Gary Larson, the 33-year-old Seattle artist who draws the comic.

"Too frequently I just didn't understand it," Executive Editor Stewart Spencer explained. "It baffled me."

"That's just because he's quite normal," said Larson, in a telephone interview from his Seattle home.

Pilot error blamed for crash

EL PASO, Texas (AP)— According to the tapes, Pilot error apparently caused a four-fatality airplane crash in the Franklin Mountains in northeast El Paso last month, a federal investigator says.
National Transportation Safety Board investigator J.O. Johnson said Thursday Lyle Foster, 46, of Temple City, Calif., was flying his Cessna P210N at a lower altitude than he was told to fly when he crashed it into the side of the mountains Nov. 22.

Johnson had said shortly after the accident that the crash might have been caused by erroneous takeoff instructions from the Albuquerque, N.M., Regional Air Traffic Control Center, which was controlling Foster's takeoff because the El Paso airport tower has closed at midnight since August 1981 when air traffic controllers went on strike.

The accident occurred about 12:30 a.m. Killed in the crash were Foster; the plane's owner, Gordon Coker, 49, of Santa Fe Springs, Calif.; and Coker's daughters, Cynthia Ann, 14, and Becky, 12.

Johnson said Thursday that although his investigation is not completed, tapes of conversations between Foster and an Albuquerque air controller show the pilot was told at takeoff to maintain a 260-degree heading, which would have sent the plane on a straight line west.

Ford announces recall of 600,000 automobiles

DETROIT (AP) — Nearly 600,000 1983 and 1984 Ford cars and trucks are being recalled because of problems ranging from weak safety belt attachments to loose engine bolts, Ford Motor Co. says.

There have been no reports of accidents or injuries in any of the problems, Ford spokesman Mike Davis said Wednesday.

The largest recall, of 590,000 1984-model cars and trucks, stems from a National Highway Traffic Safety Administration test showing vehicle shoulder-belt attachments above passengers and drivers do not meet federal load requirements, Ford said in a statement.

The recall affects 1984-model Ranger, Bronco II and Bronco light-duty trucks as well as most 1984-model cars except for four-door Tempo and Topaz cars and four-door and station wagon Escorts and Lynxes, the statement said. Some 1984 vehicles built early in the model year also are excluded.

"Even though the vehicles are being recalled, occupants should continue to wear their seat belts... as the belts provide substantial protection in the event of an accident," John P. King, service engineering manager of Ford Parts and Service Division, said in the statement.

Ford said 300,000 of the vehicles are at dealerships or en route to dealers. An additional 290,000 have been purchased by customers. Of that amount, some 37,000 are in Canada and 1,600 are overseas.

A second recall, of about 5,200 1984-model Ford Crown Victoria and Mercury Grand Marquis cars in the United States, stems from a faulty electronic engine control processor, the automaker said.

The processor may lack a gasket, which would allow moisture to get in the processor and affect engine performance, the statement said.

A third recall, of 1,658 1984-model Ranger trucks equipped with auxiliary fuel tanks, is due to the possibility that auxiliary fuel tank lines may have been damaged during installation, the statement said. Fuel could leak, creating the potential for a fire. Some 1,547 of the vehicles are in the United States and 111 are in Canada, the automaker said.

A fourth recall involves 192 1983-model Mercury Capri cars with 2.3-liter turbocharged engines. Ford said the cars' hoods may be too low, causing the throttle linkage to rub against the hood and not return to idle.

The last recall involves 39 1984-model F-250-350 series light-duty trucks equipped with 7.5-liter engines. Ford said incorrect front engine-mount bolts may have been used, which could result in engines detaching and a fuel-line fires.

Attorney sues city over pay reduction

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Circuit Attorney George Peach says he'll sue the city over a 33 percent pay cut — from $45,000 to $30,000 — scheduled to take effect Friday for him and six other officers.

City Comptroller Paul M. Ferrera said the payouts were required under a recent state Supreme Court decision striking down locally established pay raises as violations of a provision in the constitution.

"It's probably the most depressing Christmas present I've ever received," said Peach. "The people at City Hall have sold me down the river unnecessarily."

Dear Abby

Judge says to teens: go home and grow up!

DEAR ABBY: I am now the father of two small children. When I was a teen-ager, our minister read something from your column that contained a powerful message. It went something like this: "Kids, don't sit around asking where you can go and what you can do for entertainment, go home and do something constructive. Grow up!"

Does this ring a bell? If so, can you locate it and publish it again?
ROCKY MOUNTAIN NEWS FAN, DENVER

DEAR FAN: The item to which you refer was written by Philip B. Gilliam, a juvenile court judge from Denver. It was titled, "An Open Letter to a Teen-Ager." It appeared in my column nearly 20 years ago. And here it is:

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teen-ager: What can we do? ... Where can we go? The answer is, Go home!"

"Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk. Wash the car, learn to cook, scrub the floors. Repair the sink, build a boat, get a job.

"Help the minister, priest or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army. Visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And then when your through — and not too tired — read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you recreational facilities. The world does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick or lonely again.

"In plain, simple words, grow up; quit being a crybaby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like an adult.

"You're supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibility your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, helped, appealed, begged, excused, tolerated and denied themselves needed comforts so that you could have every benefit. This they have done gladly, for you are their dearest treasure. But now, you have no right to expect them to bow to every whim and fancy just because selfish ego, instead of common sense, dominates your personality, thinking and requests.

"In heaven's name, grow up and go home!" (Every teen-ager should know the truth about drugs, sex and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet,

Dr. Donohue

Blood test phobias

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Please explain the significance of an elevated SGOT blood level, which showed when I had blood tests done recently. I am a 38-year-old male. Enclosed is result. — A.J.S.

Blood tests are valuable tools of modern medicine; that's for sure. However, much of my mail is like your letter, from patients who become alarmed to the point of sleep loss when one of many tests indicates an abnormal level of this or that substance in the body.

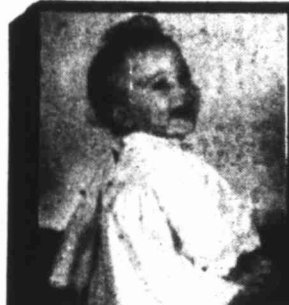

What is SGOT? It is an enzyme found in many organs — the liver and muscles, for examples. If you want the fancy name, it's "serum glutamic-oxalacetic transaminase." You don't really have to know what all that means, except that elevated levels in the blood may point to liver or muscle cell damage. Please note that I said "may," for often an elevation can mean next to nothing. Yours, incidentally, is not considered really high.

It doesn't mean that you necessarily have a problem. Lab tests have to be interpreted, not merely read in their original language. One slightly abnormal reading does not have to translate into the language of illness. You accept the reading for what it is in the context of other factors — the patient's general health, his own description of how he feels, and whether, for example, other symptoms and signs point to problem in the organs — the liver, for example. If these factors point toward a specific illness, other tests help in diagnosis. Then advice can be given.

If you have been given a clean bill of health in the face of this rather modest elevation of SGOT, it means that your doctor has gone through that translation process and has interpreted the level as insignificant so far as your health is concerned. You can safely stop worrying about this test result.

Troubled with gout? To learn about new treatment for this painful disease, write to Dr. Donohue, in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "Gout — The Modern Way to Stop It." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Visions of Christmas past

When Ebenezer Scrooge was visited by the Ghost of Christmas Past, he was reminded of the happiness he found in those long-ago days.

Today, we can find that same sort of happiness when we remember our favorite Christmas. Christmas stories from our past can spread the spirit of the holiday by sharing them with others.

This year, The Big Spring Herald is asking readers to send in their stories about "My Most Memorable Christmas." Herald staff members will select the best stories and publish them in the Lifestyle section on Christmas.

Your story doesn't have to be about the "perfect" holiday that was plentifully supplied with food and gifts. It may be a story of when money and gifts were scarce but love was abundant. Or when something major happened that makes that Christmas stand out in your mind. Maybe the Christmas tree caught fire, or Santa brought a brand new baby to the family.

We would love to read your stories. Please submit them by Dec. 20. Drop them by the Herald or mail to "My Most Memorable Christmas," Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. All stories become the property of The Big Spring Herald and cannot be returned.

Six honored at Cosden dinner

Six veterans were honored and inducted into the Cosden 25-Year Club during its dinner and dance at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum, Dec. 2.

Having completed 25 years with the company, the new inductees are Jesse M. Looney, Frank T. Parker, Loy D. Carroll, Donald L. Murphy, John E. Newman and William H. Tucker. The six brought the total membership to 442.

Cosden and Petrofina special guests were Wally

Whittington, Sam Hunnicutt and Vi Ballou and their sponsors. On behalf of the companies, Ross Westbrook and Whittington recognized the six inductees and presented them with diamond and gold jewelry, fashioned with the Cosden crest, and gold identification cards. Roy Bennett was elected president for 1984. Other officers are: Conny Wade, vice president; Marguerite Cooper, secretary; and Garrett Patton, treasurer. Music at the dance was provided by Ben Nix and Band.

Extension Club celebrates Christmas

The City Extension Homemakers Club had its annual Christmas party in conjunction with a meeting at the home of Opal Wooten, Dec. 9.

The Club donated canned food to the Northside Center for needy families. The exhibit for the county-wide program at the Presbyterian Church was set up in one room so members could view it.

Adele Tibbs presented "A Christmas Story" in story and song as the program. Background music accompanied it. She told how Christmas got its name.

Many Christmas legends came from the old countries, she said. The first carols were the angels announcing the Christ child's birth. Carols have been part of the holiday legend and festivities since.

The Santa Claus legend was originated in the old country but was called St. Nicholas. There really was a St. Nicholas and he was rich, according to legend. One of his friends was so poor that he couldn't provide a dowry for any of his three daughters. So St. Nicholas decided to help him. He dropped three bags of gold down the chimney and one bag rolled into a stocking, and so the legend was started.

The reindeer legend originated in Lapland. Decorations for Christmas have grown and each one has a special meaning. The holly and its berries mean the crown of thorns and the drops of blood. The laurel, ivy, mistletoe and evergreen each had significance.

Opportunities for college grads to increase in 1984

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Job opportunities for college graduates will increase next year more than 20 percent, ending a two-year decline, according to Northwestern University's annual 1984 Endicott report released today.

The report is based on a national survey of 262 large and medium-size business and industrial firms. It is regarded as an important indicator of employment opportunities for graduating students.

"The better prospects for graduates reflect the economic advances reported by respondents for 1983 and their continued optimism for 1984," said Dean Victor R. Lindquist, author of the report and director of placement at Northwestern.

He said that 57 percent of the firms replying from 26 states reported their business had improved in 1983, and half of those expect ever more improvement in the coming year.

Overall, 71 percent of all companies reported business would be better despite a nagging concern about the federal deficit and high interest rates, said Lindquist.

The survey indicated that employment will increase 20 percent for graduates with bachelor's degrees and 28 percent for those with master's degrees.

'Weird' thief likes to steal women's hair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Guards at a shopping mall here are on the alert for a "weirdo" who likes to steal women's hair right off their heads.

"Whoever it is has a hair fetish. He likes long hair," said Cal Potter, chief of security for Westland Mall. Two women have had unscheduled haircuts in the past two weeks, according to Potter, who characterized the hair bandit as a "weirdo."

In the first incident last week, a woman lost about a foot of her hip-length hair. "The first girl didn't even know her hair had been cut until she got home and her husband noticed it. The hair thief struck again at The Express clothing store at the mall Monday, taking 10 inches of Lynn Quay's waist-length blond hair.

"I was looking at some blouses, and he brushed up against me and said, 'Excuse me,'" the 20-year-old woman said. "The first thing I thought about was he might be trying to get in my purse. When I turned around, he was... holding a chunk of my hair."

Ms. Quay had let her hair grow for 14 years, and it cascaded below her waist. The suburban Dublin woman said that when she realized the man was holding a 10-inch hank of her hair, she gave chase. "He started running and I chased him through the mall until he ran out in the parking lot. I don't know what I would have done if I'd caught him. Witnesses said the man dashed out of the store, tipping over a cart full of candles.

Church news

Christmas cantata presented

The First Christian Church will have its Christmas cantata, "Son of The Highest", at 7 p.m., Dec. 18 in the church sanctuary at 10th and Goliad. The public is invited, and a nursery will be provided.

The church also will have "The Living Nativity" on the south lawn of First Christian Church, at 7 p.m., 7:30 p.m. and 8 p.m., Dec. 22, 23 and 24.

Open house held in Ackerly

The Ackerly United Methodist Church will have its Christmas open house at the parsonage, following the 5 p.m. worship service, Sunday.

The church also will have a church-wide Christmas party at 6 p.m., Wednesday.

Worship service rescheduled

The North Birdwell Lane United Methodist Church will have its Christmas worship service at 7 p.m., Dec. 22, instead of regular Sunday morning services, Dec. 25.

Dinner hosted by church

Trinity Family Church, 1008 Birdwell Lane, will host a "dinner on the ground" Christmas dinner following a morning worship service at 10:45 a.m., Sunday. The public is invited.

Pastor enters ministry after accident

By RHONDA WITT
Church Editor

"I was dying and had no hope," said Manuel Lozano, pastor of Templo Belen Assembly of God. He had been in an accident from which he received third degree burns all over his body.

He was 17 at the time, and doctors said he wouldn't live. He lived "through a miracle of God" and spent a year in Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas. That is when he decided to become a minister. "I felt it in my heart that the reason He let me live was to preach His word."

At first, Lozano found the ministry difficult. "I thought it was so hard, but God showed me for Him everything is possible. In every situation I have found Him there to help me along," he said. "That is what has made my faith in Him so firm and so strong. God helped me through a lot of things."

After Lozano recovered fully from the accident, Lozano attended and graduated Magdiel Bible School in Matamoros, Mexico in 1978. At one time, Lozano and his brother were tent evangelists ministering throughout Texas and Mexico. He has served churches in Denver City, Lamesa, Big Spring and in Mexico.

Lozano moved here from Lamesa three months ago to serve Templo Belen Church. He plans to foster continued growth in the church, build and fill another church that is "a bigger and better church for the Lord." Another goal is "to preach the word and let everyone know who Jesus Christ is.

"We are growing," he said. The church has 20 to 25 members. "When we came here they had no place to put us, but God made a miracle and we are living right here (on the church's property) in a mobile home."

Lozano enjoys working with people. "My greatest interest is working with people of all ages and all colors. The children, youth and adults are one whole part of my ministry, that is what makes our ministry so beautiful.

"The ministry God has given me is a special gift," Lozano said. "I wish everyone could receive the special gift so they would know what the life of a minister is like. It is more than just another job. I look at it as a privilege and gift from God."

Children's choir presents musical

First Nazarene Church's children choir will present a Christmas musical, "Angels, Lambs, Ladybugs and Fireflies", at 10:50 a.m., Sunday. Soloists will be Clayton Wayne Pate, Tiffany Ward, Nakee Laws and Kasi Welch. Steve Powers, children's pastor, will direct the group.

The sanctuary choir, directed by Jerry McGuire, will present a Christmas choral celebration, "Thou Shall Call His Name...Jesus" at 6 p.m., Sunday. The production will be divided into four parts "The Promise of the Messiah," "The Coming of the Messiah," "The Morning of His Coming," and "The Celebration of His Coming."

PAUL SILVA
...ordained
The Rev. Felix Silva, pastor of Calvary Baptist Mission in Colorado City, was ordained by the church, Dec. 11.

Silva ordained by church

The Rev. George Flores, pastor of Mission Temple Church in Snyder, preached the ordination sermon. Malcom Brown, area missionary, conducted the questioning of Silva.

Program given at meeting

Jean McCray presented a program, "What Shall I Give Him, If Not My Heart?", at a meeting of the Women of the First Church of God in the church's sanctuary, Dec. 5.
The shopper's view of Christmas was presented by some members. Members recalled special gifts they had received during the years.
The January meeting will be the first lesson of the winter study, "New Developments In Africa".

Cantata performed by choir

Trinity Baptist Church choir will present its Christmas cantata, "Christmas Rhapsody", in the church's auditorium at 6 p.m., Dec. 18. The public is invited and a nursery will be provided.
Soloists will be Barbara Murphy, Sheila Long, Lana Williams, Tim Yeats and Tammy Yeats. A selected children group will accompany the Adult Choir on the song, "Christmas Lullaby".

Program presented by choir

The Sanctuary choir of College Baptist Church will present "Noel, Jesus is Born" at 7 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. The public is invited. A nursery will be provided for children age four and younger.

Unity among religions can be made

NEW YORK - A leading Jewish historian of religion believes that unity between Jews and Christians can develop through Jesus, the "cause of separation" between them.
Dr. David Flusser, professor of Judaism of the Second Temple Period and of Early Christianity at Hebrew University, Jerusalem, declares that through "tension with Judaism" was once a historical necessity if Christianity was to become a world religion for former pagans, "such a necessity no longer exists."
Using the symbolism of

Martin Luther, he enumerates 57 theses on the emergence of Christianity from Judaism, beginning with the fact that Jesus was a Jew who lived and died for the Jewish faith and ending with the notion that separation was not Jesus' intent. According to Dr. Flusser, unity is possible if Christianity follows the real message of Jesus and purges itself of anti-Jewish tendencies. He goes on to state that "Christianity can renew itself out of Judaism and with the help of Judaism" become "a humane religion."

A HELPING HAND — Russel DaMetz, left, and Gerry Simoneaux assist in a "Teens-N-Trouble" meeting in Mrs. Simoneaux's living room in Lufkin, Texas, recently. She organized the group in hopes of helping troubled youngsters.

A kind heart

Woman takes troubled teens into home

LUFKIN, Texas (AP) — Teen-agers who are in trouble with the law or who have family problems seem to drift toward Gerry Simoneaux.

It's not unusual for the East Texas woman to wake up and find several teen-age kids — not her own — sleeping on her living room couch or on the floor.

"My heart goes out to these kids who have no place to go, no place to sleep and no money," Mrs. Simoneaux said. "I can't do much for them on my salary except give them a few hot meals, a place to sleep and a friend to talk to."

"I really care what happens to them. I love kids, especially teen-agers. They seem to be seeking adult friendship — someone they can trust."

When her 18-year-old son, David, was arrested for stealing from a local store this summer, Mrs. Simoneaux decided to organize interested parents and teen-agers for the purpose of helping troubled youngsters. Thus, Teens-N-Trouble was born.

"I asked the kids why, why, why do they do things to get in trouble?" Mrs. Simoneaux questioned her son and his friends. "Their responses varied from boredom to bad home environment to poor peer influence. Most of them can't get jobs, so they don't have money, so they end up stealing what they want."

TNT meets at 8 p.m. each Monday.

"The name of the organization is a play on words — teens 'and' trouble and teens 'in' trouble," she explained. "Some of our kids haven't been in trouble with the law; they just want to help other teens and to make Lufkin better for everybody."

During the meeting, which is basically run by the teen-agers, they discuss things they want to have, do or change in the community, said Richard Dowthitt, an active TNT teen.

"We need a place to hang out," Dowthitt said. "We don't care all that much about cruising up and down (the street), but there is nothing else to do."

"We want a place where we can play pool, dance, exercise, play video games, talk, watch TV, listen to music or study."

"My dream is a halfway house for teens who need a temporary home," Mrs. Simoneaux added. "Many of these kids have been kicked out of their house by their parents, or the parents moved away and left them to wander the streets alone with no money. Hopefully, then we could find someone to provide much needed counseling."

Animal owner leaves gift of $1.5 million to college

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — A woman who was grateful to veterinarians at the University of Missouri for trying to save her dying cat has left the school $1.5 million.

University officials said the bequest from Olive Gilbreath McLorn of La Plata was the third largest the school has received.

Mrs. McLorn died in 1981 at the age of 96. The announcement was withheld until this week, shortly after probate court proceedings on her will were completed.

The will left $700,000 to the College of Veterinary Medicine and the rest was to be divided among the entomology department in the College of Agriculture, the Museum of Art and Archaeology and the Friends of the Library.

Mrs. McLorn had earlier donated an extensive collection of Chinese art objects to the university museum, officials said.

The woman told veterinarians at the clinic in 1971 that she planned to make a donation to the clinic for the valiant work they did in attempting to save her part-Persian cat, officials said.

Nelson home still carries family spirit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The house known to television viewers as the home of Ozzie and Harriet Nelson and their boys Ricky and David still holds the spirit of the TV family, even though they moved out long ago.

Dr. Richard Ellenbogen bought the two-story, 22-room house from Harriet Nelson after Ozzie's 1975 death from cancer.

It was seen on "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," which lasted 22 seasons on radio and television before being canceled in 1966.

Ellenbogen has a photo of the Nelsons when Ricky and David were boys. David's chinning bar is still in an upstairs doorway.

"I still have the Hotpoint dishwasher, refrigerator and freezer that they advertised on their program," Ellenbogen said, "and they all still work."

Robot testifies before gambling commission

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A robot that resembles a tall, white fireplug was called to testify before the Casino Control Commission, swirling its mechanical arms and answering questions about its age and parentage.

The unusual appearance Wednesday followed a request by Resorts International Hotel Casino to use RICH the Robot — a radio-controlled machine — on the gaming floor, playing music from a speaker to entertain customers.

John Donnelly, an attorney for Resorts, explained that the robot would not interfere with table games, and said RICH's antics would be confined to the slot machine areas of the firm's 60,000-square-foot casino.

RICH's operator, Wayne Brown, controls the robot by radio, and also lends his voice to the machine.

Under questioning from Commissioner Carl Zeitz, RICH said, "My mother was a Kenmore," and it admitted that it was just a year old, to which Zeitz quipped that the panel may have to waive the age requirements for casino licensees.

Andrew receives new orders

LONDON (AP) — Prince Andrew, who flew as a Royal Navy helicopter pilot in last year's Falklands War, has been given new orders and will report to duty with the frigate Brazen when it comes back from the Middle East for maintenance in April.

In the meantime, the 23-year-old son of Queen Elizabeth II is about halfway through a six-month course in flying the Royal Navy's Lynx choppers at the Portland naval air station in southwest England.

The prince will spend most of his time aboard the frigate on surface search operations, the base said Wednesday.

Bowie ballhandler bombs Big Spring, 62-28

EL PASO — Hot-shooting guard Raymond Rodriguez fired in 24 points and his teammates allowed Big Spring just 28 shots in a 62-28 victory here Friday in the Jefferson High School invitational basketball tournament.

The Steers, now 1-11 for the season, played El Paso Parkland in a 2:30 p.m. loser's bracket game this afternoon.

Rodriguez, the No. 1 scorer in El Paso averaging almost 20 points a game, scored 13 points in the second quarter when Bowie turned a 9-8 lead into a 32-15 halftime advantage.

He scored nine of his team's 21 points in the third period.

Big Spring, attempting to slow the pace of the game, took only 28 shots and made 11 for 39 per cent. Jimmy Brown, the team's top scorer, accounted for half the Steers' total with 14 points. Three players had four points each.

Brown topped all BSHS rebounders with five while Dale Crenshaw had three. Crenshaw made his first appearance on the court Friday after missing the team's first 11 games with a severely sprained ankle.

Bowie, advancing into the tournament semifinals with a 7-3 record, played a man defense and worked a half-court trap against the Steers. The strategy paid off as Big Spring committed 37 turnovers and was unorganized on offense, recording its lowest shot-attempt total of the year.

Bowie hit 16 of 23 free throws for 70 per cent.

The Steers, losers of five straight games, play again Saturday before returning to Big Spring for a home game Tuesday night against Lamesa.

El Paso Bowie stayed out of foul trouble in the game, allowing Big Spring just eight fouls shots. The Steers made six of those.

Rodriguez, a 5-11 guard, hit the majority of his shots from the long distance range. Those he did miss, BSHS coaches said, were followed up for easy baskets.

Kuhn levies baseball's stiffest fines

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Bowie Kuhn sounded a stern warning as he imposed the stiffest drug penalties in baseball's history.

"We take the drug problem and our role as models for young people seriously," Kuhn said. "We will do what is reasonably necessary to protect the game."

On Thursday, the commissioner's office revealed that it had imposed one-year suspensions without pay on Steve Howe of Los Angeles, Willie Wilson and Willie Aikens of Kansas City and former Royals player Jerry Martin.

In Howe's case, the suspension could last even longer than one year. Howe's suspension cannot be reviewed until Dec. 15, 1984, at which time it could be extended if he has not conquered his cocaine dependency.

Kuhn left open the possibility of ending the other three players' suspensions as early as May 15, when their cases will be reviewed. Kuhn cited their three-month prison sentences for attempted possession of cocaine and public apologies as mitigating circumstances. At the same time, Kuhn said each of the three had admitted during his investigation that they had occasionally used cocaine.

"The two situations are very different," Kuhn said in differentiating between the suspensions given Howe and the three others. "In Howe's case, it clearly will be a year and could be longer."

Also facing possible sanction was Vida Blue, a former MVP and Cy Young award-winning pitcher who was cut by the Royals last August. Blue was to be sentenced on a misdemeanor charge of possessing three grams of cocaine on Monday.

Kuhn, who will end nearly 15 years as commissioner on March 1, said the players may work out with their teams during the suspension, but they will not be paid.

"A message?" the commissioner asked rhetorically. "Yes, I think it is a message."

While this message came through loud and clear to baseball's front offices, Wilson said he wasn't sure he agreed fully with it.

Interviewed from prison, Wilson told ABC-TV's Nightline news show that he understood Kuhn's warning, "but if he wants to make me a role model, that's fine on the field. Baseball is my job. But off the field, I'm a role model to my own kids. That's all I have to do."

Wilson said he had stopped using cocaine long before he was arrested and that he got involved with the police only because he made a phone call to a drug dealer for a friend.

Was there a lesson to be learned in all this?

"Don't make phone calls for other people," Wilson said, and it will be up to him to prove that he is capable of returning."

Howe had not surfaced for comment, but his attorney, Roy Bell, called the suspension a "turn-of-the-

At a news conference in Los Angeles, Dodgers President Peter O'Malley said, "We respect the commissioner's decision. We will certainly abide by it, and, quite frankly, I agree with it."

Howe underwent drug rehabilitation prior to last season, then went on the disabled list last May to re-enter the program. After failing to kick his cocaine habit, Howe was suspended by the club twice and fined $54,000, the equivalent of one month of his $350,000 annual salary.

Howe was 4-7 with 18 saves and a 1.44 ERA in 46 appearances this past season, but he was under suspension when the Dodgers lost to Philadelphia in four games in the National League playoffs.

And, in his statement, the commissioner said Howe failed three cocaine tests as recently as last month.

"I am optimistic that Steve will be pitching again in 1985," O'Malley said, "but he is responsible for his acutary, knee-jerk reaction."

"I don't think you should punish someone who has a disease," Bell said. "The guy is ill."

Although Howe will not be paid, Kuhn said that "with the advance approval of the commissioner's office, the Dodgers may, if they desire, advance funds for family necessities...."

Wilson and Martin, both outfielders, began serving their three-month sentences at a minimum security federal prison in Fort Worth, Texas on Dec. 5. Aikens, who is completing a drug rehabilitation program, is scheduled to enter the same facility on Jan. 3.

Wilson, whose .332 average earned him the American League batting title in 1982, was the only player who figured in Kansas City's plans for next season. Aikens, a first baseman, presumably will be traded, and Martin was set free at the season's conclusion.

"Having been handed this decision, we can now look forward to the 1984 season with clarity and plan accordingly," Royals General Manager John Schuerholz said. "The message is clear — he (Kuhn) cares about the integrity of the sport."

Wilson's agent, Jack Sands, said he felt his client had been through enough.

"I am very disappointed that Willie is away from his family over Christmas and being made to suffer the additional blow of knowing that once he is released, he will not be able to get back immediately and show the fans of Kansas City what he can do to help his team win a championship," Sands said.

The Major League Players Association was expected to file a grievance of Kuhn's sanctions.

"There will be a more formal, more complete reaction tomorrow," acting union head Don Fehr said. "I have just received the text of the letters the commissioner has written. While I have had a chance to glance through them, I have not had an opportunity to study them."

Fehr said a course of action would be determined only after speaking to all the players and their lawyers.

The suspensions were the longest given to active players since the 1945 Mexican League raid on wartime major leaguers. About 20 players, including Mickey Owen of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Danny Gardella of the New York Giants, were suspended for five years for going to play in Mexico. Commissioner A.B. "Happy" Chandler later rescinded most of the suspensions.

In his 15 years as commissioner, Kuhn's longest previous suspension was the half season he gave Denny McLain of Detroit in 1970 on firearms and gambling charges. The longest previous drug-related suspension was the one month given to Alan Wiggins of San Diego in 1982. Kuhn also suspended Ferguson Jenkins, then with Texas, for two weeks on a drug charge in 1980.

Generals, Theismann talking

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Joe Theismann, the quarterback of the Washington Redskins, is considering a multiyear, multimillion dollar offer to join the New Jersey Generals of the United States Football League, the Richmond Times-Dispatch reported Friday.

The newspaper said it learned from an unnamed USFL source that Theismann and Donald Trump, the 37-year-old New York real estate millionaire who recently bought the Generals, have talked by telephone several times and met face-to-face Nov. 29 in New York to discuss the possibilities of Theismann joining the team.

"Trump has made no formal offer," said the source, who insisted on anonymity. "But he and Joe have talked about a three-year deal that would make Joe the highest paid professional team sport athlete in history."

Reached at his northern Virginia home Thursday night, Theismann said, "I have no comment on any of that. I'm just not discussing my contract situation with anybody."

Asked if it were true that he had met with Trump and had received an offer, Theismann said, "I will not confirm that and I will not deny that. The less said about this, the better. You understand, don't you?"

Trump could not be reached for comment.

Theismann, the No. 1-rated passer in the National Football League who has thrown for 3,541 yards and 27 touchdowns this season, is in the second year of a four-year contract signed prior to the 1982 season, the season when Theismann led the Redskins to victory in the Super Bowl. This year, the Redskins are 13-2 and, with a victory over the New York Giants at home Saturday, can clinch the NFC East title.

Terms of Theismann's contract with the Redskins call for him to receive approximately $315,000 this season. At that salary, he is among the lowest paid quarterbacks in the NFL, according to figures compiled by the NFL Players Association.

Since last spring, Theismann has been attempting to persuade Redskins owner Jack Kent Cooke to improve his contract.

Cooke and Theismann met as recently as Dec. 8 and were described by the source as "far apart, as far apart as they've ever been. Joe is really frustrated by the situation."

The source said Theismann and Trump discussed two possibilities.

"One, Joe joins the Generals right away and takes his chances on a lawsuit filed by the Redskins and the National Football League," he said. "Two, Joe plays out the last two years of his contract with Washington, then joins the Generals for the 1986, 1987 and 1988 seasons."

Dolphins, Jets renew rivalry tonight

MIAMI (AP) — The New York Jets and Miami Dolphins, based on their past performances, are a sellout in the Orange Bowl.

A good 75,000 screaming fans are expected in Miami tonight when the Jets and the Dolphins renew the bitter rivalry that culminated in last season's American Football Conference championship game.

"The Jets are the Jets," said Miami tight end Joe Rose. "There's no love lost between us. This would be an exciting game if both teams were 0-15. There's no question they love to beat us and we love to beat them."

The nationally televised National Football League game between playoff-bound Miami, 11-4, and the Jets, a disappointing 7-3 as they return to the scene of a 14-0 loss in the last AFC title game, sold out early enough for the NFL to lift the local TV blackout.

These Jets don't resemble the club that fell a game short of the Super Bowl last year. Picked to win the AFC this season by almost everyone who issues predictions, the Jets are now trying to prevent a losing season.

Twelve players — among them fullback Mike Augustyniak, linebacker Greg Buttle and offensive lineman Stan Waldemore — are on injured reserve.

Running back Freeman McNeil missed seven weeks — a span in which the Jets were 2-5 — with a separated shoulder.

Quarterback Richard Todd, the goat of New York just a year after "Todd is God" signs flew in Shea Stadium, is hobbled by a bruised thigh but expected to start. After last week's 34-7 loss to Pittsburgh, the Jets' last game at Shea before moving to New Jersey, police had to escort Todd off the field as people threw beer and debris and shouted obscenities.

The Dolphins will be without their regular QB, Dan Marino, who on Thursday became the first rookie signal caller ever named a Pro Bowl starter. Coach Don Shula, confident in veteran backup Don Strock, decided to give Marino a few more weeks rest to heal a sprained knee before the playoffs.

Miami, winner of four straight in this series and holder of an 18-17-1 advantage in the series, needs a victory to assure itself at least one home game in the playoffs this season.

Miami's 32-14 victory over the Jets in New York last October was a turning point for both clubs. The Dolphins, who had only three healthy linebackers that day and had to scrap their 3-4 defense, have lost only one since. The season went downhill from there for the Jets.

Steinbrenner near decision on Martin's job

NEW YORK (AP) — George Steinbrenner, who has kept Billy Martin's status with the New York Yankees in the headlines throughout most of the baseball off-season, may be nearing a decision on keeping or firing his field boss.

The owner of the American League club, speaking Thursday at a sports forum discussion, gave no hint when or if he will dismiss Martin for the third time. But Steinbrenner reportedly told Donald Trump, owner of the New Jersey Generals football team, not to hold a press conference today because he was planning one of his own.

"Look, you can't have it tomorrow, because I'm making my announcement tomorrow," Steinbrenner told Trump Thursday, according to today's New York Daily News.

Trump had planned to make a formal announcement that he has hired former New York Jets' coach Walt Michaels to run his United States Football League team. Trump said later that his conference was being postponed until Tuesday.

The Yankees had not called a press conference as of early today, but Steinbrenner was expected to be at the office of baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn. The commissioner has been investigating comments made by Steinbrenner as a result of the George Brett pine tar incident of last season.

Steinbrenner reportedly has been mulling over Martin's future, with former Yankee manager Yogi Berra waiting in the wings. Steinbrenner said Martin, who has four years left on his current contract, could "always" have a job in the Yankee organization.

"Sometimes, it's not a lot of fun," Steinbrenner said Thursday when asked about a possible 11th managerial change under his ownership.

Why do the Yankees change managers so frequently, he was asked.

"I'm glad you used the word change," he said. "Several of them took what we taught them and went on to great things elsewhere. Our alumni association is bigger than most. We believe in shifting. Everybody is subject to shifting. We stand on our record."

"I've made some difficult decisions, some of them not very popular," said Steinbrenner. "Sometimes you have to make the moves you feel necessary."

Team USA rallies to tie Russians, 4-4

Intensity gains as series goes to fifth game

SOVIET SETS TO SCORE — USSR forward Aleksandr Zyblin (24) sends a shot toward the USA goal and defenseman Mark Fusco (6) arrives too late to block it during second period action Thursday night in Cincinnati. The teams tied the fourth game of their exhibition series, 4-4.

CINCINNATI (A) — Center Pat LaFontaine feels animosity growing between Team USA and the Soviet Selects as they get into the deciding games of their six-city exhibition hockey tour.

LaFontaine had a goal and two assists as Team USA came from behind to tie the Soviets 4-4 Thursday night in the fourth game of the series. The game was punctuated by shoving matches between players, which continued briefly after the final horn.

None of the disagreements was serious enough to draw a major penalty, and the two teams shook hands afterward. But LaFontaine thinks the growing familiarity between the teams has sparked tempers.

"I think there is (animosity) between a few players," LaFontaine said. "They seem to be going at it a little bit."

Coach Lou Vairo described the game as the most physical of the series, which Team USA leads 2-1-1. The series concludes with a game today in St. Louis and one Sunday in Indianapolis.

Vairo said the Americans seemed to lack intensity in the opening period, when the Soviets reeled off three straight goals for a 3-1 advantage just 7:29 into the game, before a Cincinnati-record 14,153 hockey fans.

"I don't think we played with the intensity we needed," Vairo said. "They did. They came out really flying."

David A. Jensen got the Americans their only lead with a rebound goal eight seconds into the game. Just 28 seconds later, Evcieni Popikhin put in a slap shot off a faceoff to start the three-goal Soviet eruption.

Ilya Biakin skated down ice and pushed an unassisted score past goalie Bob Mason, and Victor Shkrdiuk slipped in a break-away goal. Both goals came during Team USA power plays, which have resulted in just one goal in four games.

"We're trying like heck to make adjustments (on power plays), but we're getting intense pressure from the penalty-killing units of the Soviet Union," Vairo said.

Scott Bjugstad's fourth goal of the series brought Team USA within one, but the Americans fell behind 4-2 on Sergey Odintsov's goal 40 seconds later. Vairo then pulled Mason and inserted Marc Behrend, who would stop the Soviets' last 20 shots.

LaFontaine's fourth goal of the series with 1:45 left in the first period gave Team USA a lift and prevented the Soviets from putting the game out of reach, Vairo said.

With the largest crowd ever to see a hockey game in Cincinnati urging them on with flags and chants of "USA, USA," the Americans tied the score in the final period with some slick stick handling. Ed Olczyk took a pass from LaFontaine at the left of the Soviet net, drew goalie Aleksandr Tyzhnykh to the ice, then maneuvered around and flicked a backhand shot into the net with 15:26 to play.

Spartans struggle against unheralded Brooklyn College

By The Associated Press

The Michigan State Spartans aren't having much trouble this year — except when they play the supposedly weak teams on their schedule.

Earlier this year, Jud Heathcote's Big Ten basketball power was upset by little St. Peter's of New Jersey. And Thursday night, the 17th-ranked Spartans struggled before beating unheralded Brooklyn College 85-72 in the only game involving a Top Twenty team.

Kevin Willis, Michigan State's 7-foot center, scored a season-high 17 points and grabbed seven rebounds.

SAMPSON GETS SLAPPED — Utah Jazz forward Mark Eaton goes up to slap down a shot attempted by 7-4 rookie Ralph Sampson of the Houston Rockets during Thursday night's NBA game in Salt Lake City. The Jazz won, 138-111.

Jazz jolts Rockets, 138-111

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Houston Coach Bill Fitch was "embarrassed" by his Rockets' play against the Utah Jazz. But Utah guard Darrell Griffith considered it a routine effort for a team that's won eight of its past nine games.

Adrian Dantley scored 32 points and Griffith 29 as the Jazz downed ATIONAL Basketball Association Midwest Division rival Houston 138-111 Thursday night to improve its season record to 15-10.

Griffith scored 17 of his points in the first quarter as the Jazz built a 30-24 lead and never trailed.

"We're getting there, but we're not there yet," said Griffith, whose team moved one game behind division leader Dallas.

"We're not satisfied. I mean, we're satisfied, but we don't want to get lackadaisical."

Utah center Rich Kelley concurred. "I'm still afraid to jump on the wagon, although this team, without a doubt, is a good team," he said. "My only doubt is when — and it will happen in an 82-game schedule — we hit a low spot and how we will survive a four or five-game losing streak." Houston is 0-3 against Utah this season — 9-15 overall — and Fitch clearly was perturbed. The Rockets turned the ball over 25 times, displaying "atrocious passing against a team that, every time we made a bad pass, they ran well."

Dantley scored 19 points in the second quarter as the Jazz rolled to a 65-52 lead at halftime. He took most of his passes from guard Rickey Green, who finished the game with 17 assists and eight points.

Lewis Lloyd, who paced the Rockets with 22 points, helped Houston pare the Jazz lead to 79-71 in the third quarter.

But Utah rookie Thurl Bailey and Jeff Wilkins combined for 15 points in the period to put the Jazz ahead 96-81 going into the final period of play.

The Jazz extended the lead in the fourth quarter, going up 131-99 at one point.

Rookie center Ralph Sampson contributed 11 points and 19 rebounds and two blocked shots for the Rockets. Two of his shots were blocked early in the game by Utah's 7-foot-4 Mark Eaton, who finished with four blocks and seven rebounds.

Nicklaus-Miller take 1-stroke lead

BOCA RATON, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Johnny Miller teamed up to card an 11-under-par 61 and take a one-stroke lead entering the second round of the $450,000 Chrysler PGA team invitational.

Nicklaus hit an eagle 3 on the next-to-last hole during the opening round Thursday. The duo hit 29 on the back nine, where they started, and 32 on the front of the 6,875-yard, par-72 No. 2 court at Boca West.

Two teams — Dan and Dave Edwards and Woody Blackburn and Mark McCumber — shared the second spot after both fell out of a first-place tie by bogeying the final hole.

Nicklaus got the eagle on the 515-yard, par-5 eighth hole. His drive hit the deep rough, but he recovered with a perfect 1-iron shot that landed within 20 feet of the hole. He sank the putt.

"He had as good a second nine as I've ever seen in golf," Miller said. "He was superb with the irons." Nicklaus and Miller, who last teamed up when they played the World Cup in Spain in 1971, were 4-under on their first nine then birdied four in a row, starting with Nicklaus sinking a 6-foot putt at the second hole. His 5-footer at the seventh and the eagle were added. They missed a chance for another birdie on the last hole, a par-4, when Nicklaus' five-iron shot left him 10 feet short and he missed the putt.

Chrysler Golf

Blackburn and McCumber also eagled the eighth on McCumber's drive, a 3-wood shot and 8-foot putt. This put them in a tie for the lead at 11-under but they ran into trouble on their last hole and Blackburn missed a 4-foot putt and settled for a bogey 5.

Only three of the top 17 scores were turned in on the No. 1 course, a 7,180-yard, par-72 layout as the field is scheduled to alternate courses on the first two rounds.

Dave Peoples and Gary Hallberg shot a 31-32 on No. 1 to tie Bill Sander and Sammy Rachels, 32-31; Lou Graham and Charles Coody 31-32, and Mark Lye and Ron Streck, 32-31.

Dallas jury acquits ex-Cowboy Niland on DWI charges

DALLAS (AP) — A jury has acquitted former Dallas Cowboy lineman John Niland on charges of driving while intoxicated.

The panel deliberated for about an hour Thursday before acquitting Niland on the misdemeanor charge.

Six Dallas police officers had testified that Niland appeared intoxicated when he was stopped April 6 because of an expired license plate sticker on his car. A breath test admitted into evidence also showed Niland's blood-alcohol content at 0.17 percent. The legal limit is 0.10.

Defense attorneys argued Niland was the victim of police harassment.

Niland did not testify, but two friends said they were with Niland at a Greenville Avenue nightclub before his arrest and that Niland was not intoxicated.

Police said they also found a small quantity of a white substance later determined to be cocaine. Niland pleaded guilty in September to a felony charge of possessing cocaine and was given a 10-year probated sentence.

Tigers sign Evans to 3-year agreement

DETROIT (AP) — Outbidding 16 other major league teams, the Detroit Tigers said they have reached an agreement in principle with Darrell Evans, 1983's most highly-sought free agent.

The ex-San Francisco Giant was expected today to sign a three-year agreement with the American League club after further negotiations overnight with Tigers General Manager Bill Lajoie, said Evans' agent, Jerry Kapstein.

"... Things are moving in a positive direction... if we can reduce to writing an agreement that both sides can sign, Darrell Evans will become a member of the Detroit Tigers," Kapstein said Thursday night from San Diego.

Detroit Manager Sparky Anderson said Thursday from his home in Thousand Oaks, Calif., that he hadn't decided where to play Evans, who was chosen by 17 clubs in the free agent draft.

Evans batted .277 with 30 home runs for the Giants last season, playing 113 games at first base and 32 at third.

"There's nothing yet to get into on that," Anderson said. "He plays first, he plays third, he plays the outfield. I'm not planning on the outfield."

The acquisition is expected to fill a major gap for Detroit, which sought a power hitter to play either first or third.

"I know he beat us enough times when I was in the National League," said Anderson, who managed the Cincinnati Reds from 1970 to 1978. "He never swings at bad pitches. That was one thing I liked about him. And he'll walk 80 to 100 times a year."

Evans began his major league career in 1969 with the Atlanta Braves, who traded him to San Francisco during the 1976 season. He has 262 career home runs.

DENNIS THE MENACE

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1983

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A full moon day which allows you to arrange communications, conferences, and mental ingenuity of all kinds, especially where transportation matters are involved. Your reasoning power is good.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Contact those who can assist you in your every-day routines. Be loyal to regular associates. Be tactful. Attend a social affair.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Solve monetary problems in the morning. Keep an eye out for good business ideas. Take no risks while driving.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Begin the week by stating what your needs are to those who can help you. You have the opportunity to make good friends. Be happy.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21): Make a workable plan for changes to make in order to get ahead faster in your career. The evening is best spent quietly at home.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21): Changes in partnerships are in the wind, so accept new regime intelligently. Entertain new friends in the evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): The full moon may cause higher-ups to vent their anger on you, so stay clear. But be conscientious in your work. Do some dancing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Begin working on plans that you formulated over the past week-end. Try to get the information you need. Learn to be more articulate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Contact experts who can assist you with important business affairs. Change your attitude. Show affection for your mate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Many new activities are possible because of the full Moon. Show partners that you are co-operative. Be kind and considerate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You are very enthused about getting your work done. This can bring you greater benefits. Relax at home in the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Ideal day to see those who can assist you in personal and creative matters. Show more affection for the one you love tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Handling fundamental affairs is important today, so put aside other activities. Being prejudiced at home could spoil the harmony existing there.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she will be someone who will be inventive and have nimble fingers so give a fine education so that these abilities can be well coordinated. This is one who will be very articulate. There could be fame in this chart.

Wake up call
CBS radio reporter is a real early bird

NEW YORK (AP) — When Judy Muller of CBS News calls people for a story, they can't hide in a "meeting." They can't hide behind a public relations apologist or bureaucratic barrier. And they can't even hide under the covers. Ms. Muller finds them in bed and wakes them up. As reporter-anchor for "First Line Report," the CBS Radio Network's early morning dose of news and commentary, Ms. Muller tracks down newsmakers before they can shower and shave their responses.

JUDY MULLER...radio reporter

"I'm the only one who starts phone calls with an apology," said Ms. Muller, whose introduction goes like this: "Hello, this is CBS News in New York. I know how early this is. Did we wake you? I'm sorry." Ms. Muller said the advantage of the wake-up interview is that subjects are less guarded. "They often aren't weighing each word so carefully," she said. Last summer, when she spoke to the late Sen. Henry Jackson about the presidential commission on Central America, he disclosed that Henry Kissinger would head the panel. Until the official announcement came later in the day, CBS was crediting "First Line Report" for breaking the Kissinger appointment.

not — at least not any longer. "I have to hope he rolls over and picks up first," Ms. Muller said. One time, the wife of Gary Hart, the Democrat Colorado senator running for president, intercepted Ms. Muller's call. Click. No interview.

Ms. Muller, the 36-year-old divorced mother of two grade-school-age daughters, arrives at work at 4 a.m. "For my kids, there's no such thing as mother in the morning," she said. "Often, I'm quite amazed what they're wearing when I see them at the end of the day."

She'll make her calls around 5 a.m., which is early in New York, but even earlier in other places. "Ideally, the best interview is in Tokyo, the worst is on the West Coast," she said.

If she can't find an appropriate news subject, she'll often chat with the CBS correspondents covering what she's analyzing. At first, the reporters were reluctant to leave their objective mode, but now many seem to enjoy the chance to interpret the news.

Mystery man with 43 aliases set free

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Authorities didn't learn the true identity of a man with at least 43 aliases before they set him free, but a Louisiana woman says she believes he is her son.

"Jack Wright" was arrested Dec. 3 by a Nueces County deputy constable who spotted him trying the doors of a jewelry store.

An inquiry to the National Crime Information System was answered by 20 feet of computer paper showing a 19-year record of petty crime, jail terms, 43 different aliases and nine Social Security numbers.

News accounts of Wright's flair for names reached Shreveport, La., where 67-year-old Wilma Wright has awaited word from her son, Joe Boyd Wright, for 20 years.

One of Wright's 13 siblings, Stella Warren of Shreveport, said the newspaper story "made the hair rise on my head. The more I read, the more

I thought it was him."

Mrs. Warren said her brother left the family's home in Delhi, La. 20 years ago saying he would change his name and "never come back."

"He said, 'Y'all will never be able to find me again,'" said Mrs. Warren.

"He said he was going to change his name. There were so many kids and he was in trouble so much. He said Wrights never get a job in this town."

when he left home. A year later, the first entry was made on Jack Wright's criminal record.

"I want to find him for my mother's sake," said Mrs. Warren. "It's got her old, not knowing whether he's dead or alive."

But Jack Wright last was seen Wednesday, when Dallas County authorities bought him a bus ticket to Corpus Christi and gave him $5.

Nueces County officers had taken him to Dallas when it was believed he was John Monroe Smith, wanted for violation of probation on a 1982 automobile theft conviction. His fingerprints did not match Smith's, however.

"We tried to rap him any way we could," said Sgt. Charles Deshazo of the Dallas County sheriff's fugitive division. "We couldn't hold him because he wasn't wanted anywhere else."

Deshazo said he assumed Wright returned to Corpus

Christi. "He was raising hell about wanting to go back to Corpus Christi," said Deshazo. "He was telling us the truth that he wasn't Smith."

Mrs. Warren said published accounts of the aliases Wright used included some family names. One of the many of Wright's birthdates, she said, "lacked one day of being his favorite sister's birthday."

But it was Wright's age and physical appearance that provided the most hope to Mrs. Warren.

"They said he was a white man, 36 years old with brown hair and hazel eyes," she said. "I know I could identify him if I could see him."

Mrs. Wright said she has tried to find her son for years.

"It would be the best Christmas present I could get if he would come home," said Mrs. Wright.

Elusive defendant gets 99 years

LUBBOCK (AP) — A West Texas man will serve a 99-year sentence for the beating death of his stepson — provided authorities can find him.

Lee Roy Orana Licon failed to appear in court after the first day of his trial Monday. On Wednesday, jurors convicted him anyway on a charge of serious bodily injury to a child.

The nine-man, three-woman jury took 14 minutes to return the verdict and another 38 minutes to return the maximum punishment, including a $10,000 fine.

Licon also was indicted on a murder charge in the 1982 death of 2-year-old Robert Hernandez, but prosecutors sought a conviction only on the felony injury charge.

Prosecutor Marta Rosas said that option was the safest in standing up to an appeal and said she feared a jury might become "hung up" on a murder conviction because no specific cause of death ever was determined.

Sheriff's deputies checked three tips as to Licon's whereabouts Wednesday but did not find him. Also missing is Licon's common-law wife and the boy's mother, Amelia Hernandez.

Miss Rosas, who had handled Licon's case when she was an assistant district attorney, asked the jury to make Licon pay the same "royal price" his stepson had paid.

She told the panel that after Licon and Mrs. Hernandez picked up the child at a relative's house to bring him back to Lubbock, the boy "went through nine days of living hell." Jurors were shown photographs of bruises and burns inflicted on the child.

Miss Rosas said testimony from Licon's 12-year-old daughter, Romelia, was a key to the verdict. The girl testified that she had seen Licon and Mrs. Hernandez hit her stepbrother and saw her father burn him with cigarettes.

Defense attorney Bill Wischkaemper asked the jury to convict Licon on a lesser charge of recklessly causing the boy's injuries, which carries a maximum 20 years in prison.

He told jurors Wednesday evening he did not know where his client was, saying, "Evidently he didn't believe in me, and he didn't believe in you."
