Outside: Nice

Partly cloudy today with a high expected in the mid 50s. Low tonight should be in the mid 30s. Winds today from the northwest at 10 to 20 miles per hour. Less than a 20 percent chance of showers today. High temperature Tuesday expected in the mid 60s.

Off the wall: Body clues

SHEFFIELD, England (AP) — The South Yorkshire police are adding a new weapon to their arsenal of crime-fighting techniques: the ability to read clues hidden in body language.

The idea, Chief Inspector Brian Mordew of the community relations department said Sunday, is that learning how a person is thinking or behaving by his movements, posture or speech could help police improve their performance. So, a behavioral psychologist has been recruited to teach the officers what those signals mean.

"It may be an officer will find a person more responsive if he takes a certain approach or way of speaking, and we may also learn how a policeman can offend members of the public without intending to do so," Mordew said.

Now, presumably, if a masked man runs from a bank with cash spilling from a suitcase and stops to rub his chin suspiciously, officers will know something strange is indeed in the works.

Ex-Big Springer busted for drugs

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

A former Big Spring resident that police have reason to believe transported and sold narcotics in the Big Spring area was arrested in Austin Friday for possession of large amounts of cocaine and marijuana, Police Chief Rick Turner said in a news conference this morning.

Steven Paul Riordan, 34, was arrested at 12:30 p.m. Friday in his Austin home by members of the Big Spring Police Department and Midland and Austin Department of Public Safety authorities for possession of four ounces of cocaine and 30 pounds of marijuana, Turner said.

The drugs have an estimated street value of $30,000, Turner said.

Riordan was released from Travis County jail Saturday morning on $40,000 bond, police investigator Bud Jones said.

Turner said the investigation that led to Riordan's arrest originated in Big Spring and led officers to Riordan's Austin home at 4204 St. Clair.

"We had information that gave us reason to believe he was trafficking narcotics into Big Spring," Turner said, "and we subsequently got enough information to secure a search warrant for his residence," he said.

Police authorities said they did not know the extent of involvement

Riordan may have had in Big Spring.

Jones said Riordan told him he was a former student of Big Spring High School and was raised here.

According to transcripts at Big Spring High School, Riordan is the son of C.V. Riordan, former Democratic Party Chairman in Howard Co.

Big Spring receives .25 inch

Gentle rain dots area

From staff and wire reports

A flash flood watch was posted for portions of South Texas today as widespread rain and scattered thunderstorms moved across the eastern half of the state before dawn.

Scattered showers brought rain to Big Spring and other area communities during the night. The Big Spring Experimental Field Station reported .25 of an inch of rain, while the city received .35 of an inch, Red Thomas of 107 E. 13th said.

Rod Lewis, assistant district manager of the Colorado River Municipal River Authority, said both the CRMWD station north of town on Snyder Highway and at Lake Thomas reported half an inch of rain, while Lake E.V. Spence received one-and-a-half inches.

Colorado City received "so much rain, we've got a 100 buckets in the station to collect. It's coming through the roof," a spokesman for KVMC-radio in Colorado City said. The station reported .06 inches of rain, he said.

Meanwhile, Lomax reported .6 inches of rain last night, Richie Tubb said.

Skies are supposed to clear tomorrow, but area farmers say they need rain.

Vincent rancher and farmer David Barr said the recent cold spell dried up his land.

"We need rain. A couple days of that freezing weather'll dry up the land fast," Barr said.

Forecasters expected the shower activity to intensify during the day over southern sections, bringing the threat of local flash flooding.

Locally, forecasters are calling for a 20 percent chance of showers through today. The high temperature today is expected to be in the mid 50s, with the low tonight expected near 30. Tuesday's high should be in the mid 60s. Winds today should be from the northeast at 15-20 miles per hour.

The extended forecast calls for warm days with occasional scattered showers. Highs are expected to be in the mid 50s to upper 60s through Friday.

Other showers were noted during the pre-dawn areas in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and in West Texas, near San Angelo and Abilene. Dense fog formed near Stephenville and Del Rio.

Clear skies were noted in the Panhandle as a cold front pushed into the state. Colder temperatures were expected across most of Texas as the front pushed southward tonight and Tuesday.

Pre-dawn temperatures were mostly in the 40s and 50s. Readings at 4 a.m. ranged from 34 at Amarillo to 70 at Brownsville.

Winds were light and variable over Central Texas, while easterly breezes were reported in East Texas. Winds had shifted to the north behind the front in the Panhandle.

The forecast called for showers and thunderstorms, mostly in South Texas, through tonight. A few showers could linger in Southeast Texas on Tuesday, the National Weather Service said.

Stenholm says he'll run for re-election

STAMFORD — Rep. Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, announced today that he will seek a fourth term as the representative from the 35 county 17th Congressional District.

Stenholm made the official announcement on the square of his hometown of Stamford. Local as well as district-wide supporters attended the activities.

Fareed Hassen of Stamford, Stenholm's Chairman of Finance, presented the Congressman with a $1,500 certified check filing fee for the Democratic primary.

Stenholm and wife, Cindy, unrolled a scroll bearing the names of grass root supporters from all over the 17th District. Signatures for the scroll were collected by area coordinators. Stenholm told the crowd, "Their past five years have been a rich experience for me and my family. None of this would have been possible without your support."

Stenholm ended by saying, "Circumstances have provided an unusual opportunity for me to have an influence on the direction of our nation. I am thankful that I can make all my decisions based on what I sincerely believe is best for our country and know that you are behind me."

Marines tighten security after ambush

MARINES BEHIND BARRIER — U.S. Marines, their M-16 rifles ready, are seen behind a concrete barrier Sunday on the Corniche in West Beirut near the U.S.

Embassy after they came under fire by unknown gunmen. One Marine was killed by a rocket propelled grenade during the attack.

BEIRUT (AP) — U.S. Marines tightened security today following an ambush which killed an American corporal, and police said six people were killed in new fighting between Druse and Christian militiamen south of Beirut.

Police said rival militias were engaged in battles with mortars, rocket-propelled grenades and machine guns this morning in the Kharroub region, 20 miles south of Beirut and three miles from Israel's front line along the Awali River. Police said all six casualties were civilians.

Despite the fighting, negotiators met again today in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, in an effort to resolve final details of a proposed security plan that would disengage Lebanon's warring factions and stabilize an often-broken cease-fire.

But the meeting of Saudi Arabian, Syrian and Lebanese foreign ministers broke up without an agreement. Sources said the main stumbling block was Syria's insistence on revoking the May 17

Lebanese-Israeli troop withdrawal agreement.

Sources said Syria's foreign minister, Abdul-Halim Khaddam, left for Damascus after the meeting ended, and they described the two-day talks as "tense."

In west Beirut, the Marines moved their helicopter landing zone several hundred yards northward on the main seaward boulevard following a guerrilla attack Sunday that killed a Marine. He was the 25th member of the U.S. contingent of the multinational force killed since the Marines arrived in Lebanon in September 1982.

Navy helicopters today landed troops on the broad sidewalk of the boulevard stretching between the British and U.S. Embassy buildings instead of the previous landing zone at a beach below the road where Sunday's attack occurred.

The half-mile stretch of the boulevard between the two embassies is sealed off by waist-high concrete barriers and manned by

County gets clean audit report

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

The county today received a clean audit for fiscal year 1983 from outside auditor Guy White Jr., and commissioners approved changes in election precinct lines adding seven more voting boxes.

According to White, the county has $6.4 million in assets — $1.28 million more than last year's total of $5.1 million.

White said the county received $3.3 million in revenues for the general fund, an increase of $787,000 over the budgeted figure of $2.5 million. Commissioners also spent $167,930 less than they budgeted out of the general fund this year, spending only $2.5 million instead of $2.7 million.

Commissioner David Barr said, "I think everyone is satisfied with it

(the audit), I know I am."

County Treasurer Bonnie Franklin said that as of Dec. 30, 1983 the county has $2.7 million in investments and cash.

In other action, the commissioners voted 3-1 to approve changes in election precinct lines for general and presidential elections.

The changes were made to comply with state law which says county precinct lines cannot cross city district lines in general or presidential elections. The city's election boundaries recently were changed in a settlement with the League of United Latin American Citizens, thus causing a need for county boundaries to change.

Under the change four more voting boxes will be added in the four commissioner precincts.

Precinct 4 will get one box, Precinct 3 will get two boxes and Precinct 2 will get one box.

Barr said he opposed the creation of the four additional boxes.

"It (the city-LULAC agreement) zoned off too much. I believe in being for treating every one the same. But LULAC was doing exactly what they accused us of doing. They should be represented. I think they carried it a little too far," Barr said.

"If they wanted to add to the ward, they should add in one area, and not go around picking areas from here and here to get more votes. I don't think they had to do that," Barr said.

Commissioner Louis Brown disagreed, saying that Barr's way of thinking would leave minority representation "in the same boat."

Every program has faults. You can't wipe them out in the first year."

Commissioner Paul Allen, who voted for the changes, said he didn't like the necessity of adding new boxes, "but what can you do?"

The commissioners also:

• Agreed to have county employees put insulation on the Luther fire station. The pump in the station froze during the recent cold spell and would have been useless in an emergency, commissioner said.

• Voted unanimously to rehire White as auditor for 1984, and to commend both White and County Auditor Jackie Olson for their job.

• Extended the county's participation in Intoxilizer lab testing with Midland County for another six months.

Dear Abby

Honesty is the best policy

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed "Thanks, but No Thanks" asks, "When a woman does not want to date a man, how does she turn him down without hurting his feelings?"

It isn't easy to turn down a man without hurting his feelings. As a man who's been turned down a lot, I should know. Be honest. If he has BO or bad breath, tell him. You will be doing him a favor. If you think he's too short, too fat, too young or too old for you, tell him, so he'll quit asking you.

Giving a guy false hope will hurt him more in the long run than an honest truth. Tell him! He'll live. I did.

CEAR RAPIDS, IOWA
DEAR ABBY: I've been turned down for a date with, "Sorry, I have to wash my hair." Now, if a man isn't turned off by that, he must be a masochist. I would have appreciated a lie such as, "I'm involved right now in a personal relationship where I simply don't date, but thanks anyway."

J.D. IN L.A.
DEAR ABBY: If a girl is asked out by someone she has just met and has no desire to date, she could tell him that she has an obligation to someone who is very important to her and she wants to remain faithful to that person, so she must decline. That "person" is herself, of course, but he doesn't need to know that.

SHARI, BIRMINGHAM, ALA.
DEAR ABBY: Saying, "Thanks, but no thanks" has always worked for me. But it must be said with sincerity and kindness. Don't waste his time or yours. The truth is sure to come out eventually, which will hurt his feelings much more than an upfront, honest answer. And since a lot of women are now asking the guys out, remember, this works both ways.

NO LIES IN MESA, ARIZ.
DEAR ABBY: When I was a cocktail waitress in Chicago, I worked with a very good-looking girl from Columbus, Ga., who had practically beat the men off with a baseball bat. When someone she didn't care for would ask her out, she'd smile sweetly and say, "Oh, honey, I can't go out with you; my fiance wouldn't like it!"

I REMEMBER BUNNY SUE
DEAR ABBY: What's so tough about turning down a date? I'm a guy who would prefer that the girl just say, "Sorry, you're not for me." Then I'd quit wasting my time and try someone else.

Dr. Donohue

Hyperemesis gravidarm

Dear Dr. Donohue: Please tell me if I'm crazy. I am pregnant for the fifth time and just like each time before, I am really sick. My friends and relatives all think I'm exaggerating, lying, looking for sympathy. They tell me to force myself to do things and forget about being sick.

I'm not talking about plain old morning sickness. I'm eight weeks along and about two weeks ago I started feeling sick and have gotten worse each day. My stomach is constantly upset, with a lot of vomiting and dry-heaves. I am unable to keep much food down. In the last three days I lost five pounds, which I didn't need to lose. I have shortness of breath, a tremendous energy drain and I hyperventilate. All this usually lasts about two months and then gets better.

It's so depressing to feel this way. At home my house is a wreck and I have to take sick leave. Please believe me, I am not faking or exaggerating. If anything, it's worse than I've described. Just tell me there are other women who go through this out there and I'll feel a bit better. — A.P.

I know you're not faking or exaggerating. From your description it seems that you are on or just over the brink of a condition of grave concern — hyperemesis gravidarum. This is not the morning sickness so many pregnant women have. It is loss of all food from between-meal retching.

When hyperemesis strikes, hospitalization is needed to prevent potential dehydration, starvation, or other damage to the fetus, as well as serious liver and kidney damage to the mother. The treatment includes feeding by vein until the condition quiets down. Then small oral feedings are started under watchful eyes.

We do not know the cause of hyperemesis. Psychological factors may be involved. But that's not important right now to you. What is important is for you to be sure you are getting the nourishment and liquids you need to have a successful pregnancy.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he

Tax battle may cost school district $10 million

FREER, Texas (AP) — Mistakes in the legal squabble between the Freer Municipal Independent School District and South Texas rancher Clinton Manges could be 20 times higher than the $462,000 the district says Manges owes in back taxes. It could cost the school district $10 million if Manges wins.

The district says that Manges and his Duval County Ranch Co. owe the money in delinquent taxes, penalties and interest, plus lawyers' fees for the years 1977, 1978, 1979 and 1982.

But Manges contends the school district cannot collect taxes because voters never gave the school district authority to levy and collect taxes. The courts have split on which party is right.

If Manges wins, the school district might have to refund about $10 million in taxes to all taxpayers, the Corpus Christi Caller-Times reported Sunday. Two other major Freer school district taxpayers already have asked about possible refunds, the newspaper said.

Manges' claim was upheld last April by a state appeals court in San Antonio in a decision written by Associate Justice Antonio G. Cantu. A state district court in Duval County had ruled in favor of the school district.

Now the case is before the Texas Supreme Court on a writ of error filed by the school district, Freer School Superintendent James H. Doughty said.

If the Supreme Court upholds the appeals court ruling, it could mean that all taxes paid to the school district from 1977 through 1982 were collected illegally, the Caller-Times reported.

School district records show that Manges and the ranch company last paid taxes in 1980 and 1981, the Caller-Times reported.

Manges and the ranch company owe $72,788.80 for 1983 taxes that will not become delinquent until the end of this month, school district Tax Assessor-Collector Romeo Bazan said.

The district was established in 1976, collecting its first taxes the next year.

Doughty estimated it could cost the district $10 million if it had to refund taxes for the five years from 1977 through 1981. Doughty said the refund issue would be "an interesting question and probably would have to be determined by the courts," but added that he thought it would not happen.

The superintendent said "a couple" of large companies had inquired about possible refunds.

Doughty and school district attorneys said they are confident the Supreme Court will rule in the district's favor.

Fort Worth plant lays off 125 workers

FORT WORTH (AP) — Union officials say that General Dynamics has laid off 125 employees because of a slowdown in the production of the F-16 fighter jet, and that 200 more workers might lose their jobs by the end of the year.

Pat Lane, president of the District Lodge 766 of the International Association of Machinists told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, "This is the first time we've had significant layoffs in the F-16 program."

A spokesman for General Dynamics said there were no "major" layoffs, however.

Lane, whose union represents 6,000 production workers at General Dynamics, said the workers were laid off last week when General Dynamics cut back production of the jets from 15 to 10 a month.

Charles N. White, vice president for manufacturing for General Dynamics, said he didn't know how many people were laid off last week.

"There's always some people coming and going," White said Saturday. "There are no major layoffs."

General Dynamics spokesman Z. Joe Thornton said he didn't know anything about the layoffs.

Employees told the Star-Telegram that company officials announced in a series of meetings last month that 200 workers would lose their jobs by the end of 1984.

"I think they'll lay off more than that," said Lane. He said he expected more layoffs to be announced this week.

Lane and the employees told the newspaper that workers with fewer than 3½ years on the assembly line and those in assembly line-support jobs were hardest hit by the layoffs.

Three employees and a union official, all of whom told the newspaper they did not want to be identified for fear of retribution, said there were smaller layoffs during 1983 and that rumors persist there will be more.

"In the past year, there's been a steady layoff," the union official said. "The total for 1983 amounted to 400."

One employee said the plant traditionally has laid off employees the year that a union contract expires. Union and General Dynamics officials will negotiate a three-year contract this fall.

But Lane and another union official discounted the allegation because layoffs are fairly common at the plant.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTEA INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR MONDAY, JANUARY 9, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until Noon make sure that you are careful to break no promises. Until 8, strange things can occur that require astuteness on your part so be careful to get a better idea how to handle conditions.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Find best way to get out of some confusing condition in the morning and later you can study new interests, but don't commit yourself as yet.
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't be too generous with friends today. Your feelings could have you quite mixed up if you don't use your common sense.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Take no risks with your good name in the morning. You will find that your friends are not available when you need them.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Avoid someone in the morning who wants to interfere with your job. Wait until later to discuss ideas with your boss.
LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Arguing with one in trade could get you into trouble in the morning. You would rather be less dependent upon others but be gracious about it.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't argue with a partner and avoid trouble in the morning. You have to be more tactful and diplomatic with others around you.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Although there can be delays, keep busy at your work. Perseverance is the keynote now.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't irk your mate in any way in the morning. Take any health treatments that you may need. Become a more dynamic person.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Help a close tie who may be disturbed in the morning. Recreation may be too costly, so forget it. Strive to have greater security.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be calm in any conversations with others. Don't drive if it isn't necessary. Use care with all your affairs.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Do not begin the week with lavish spending or unwise investments. Think about how you can increase your income. Be happy in the evening.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't try to be forceful in gaining your aims in the morning. Analyze your position. Know what it is you want in life.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be someone who will want to be educated very early in life so give as much education as possible since later the mind will turn to more practical and worldly matters, someone who will do very well in business. A family person here.

Book tells of child stars' lives

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Shirley Temple had few problems making the transition from child superstar to responsible and enterprising adult. Judy Garland, though an entertainment success, spent her adult years filled with misery.
Why do some child stars make it and others don't? "A lot has to do with the parents," says Andrea Darvi, a former child actress who has made a study of young performers.

Alien influx continues

EL PASO (AP) — Illegal Mexican aliens, looking for relief from devastating economic conditions south of the border, continued streaming into the United States during 1983, along with an increasing number of aliens from Central American nations, federal officials say.
More than one million illegal aliens were arrested along the Mexican border last year, setting a one-year record, according to the Border Patrol. The majority of the arrests were made in Southern California, but increasing numbers of aliens poured across the border into Arizona, New Mexico and Texas, officials said.
