How's that?
Knot public

Q. I'm getting married soon, and I noticed that when people get their marriage license it comes out in Saturday's newspaper. I was wondering if there's a way we could stop it from coming out. We don't want our names in the paper because it's very private.

A. No way. Marriages, like births, deaths, divorces and arrests, are part of the public record, which we publish because the public has a right to know what's going on. In this case, the newspaper is fulfilling its responsibility to democracy. To make an exception in your case would not be a very democratic thing to do. If you don't want your name showing up the local newspaper, get your license in another county.

2 charged with murder

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

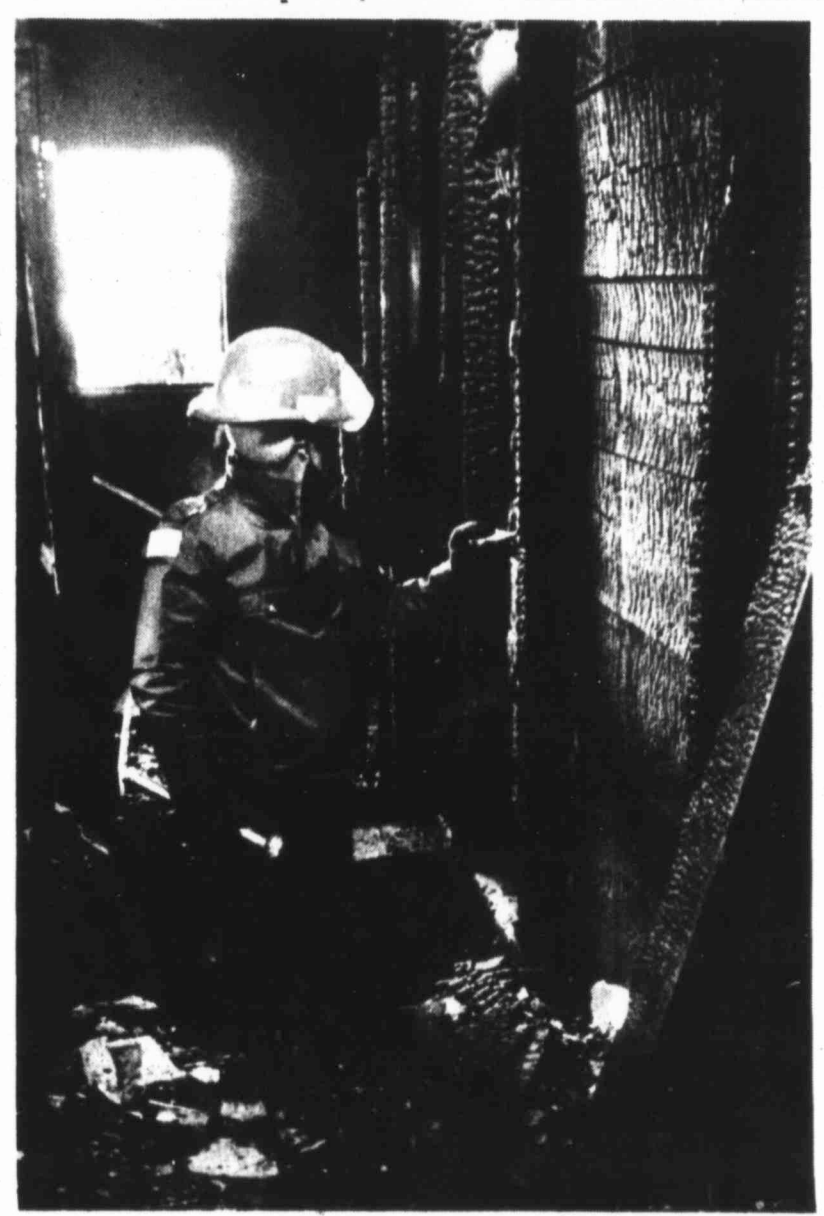

Local law enforcement officials Tuesday afternoon filed murder charges against two convicted burglars in the shooting death of a man whose body was found Jan. 30 near a county road.

Murder complaints were filed in Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin's office against Ralph Gutierrez Rodriguez, 19, of 1901 Donley and Juan B. Marquez, 21, of 606B S. Douglas or 803 N. Scurry in the death of Robert Dutchover Jr., 23, of 1205 Lamar, Assistant District Attorney Don Richard said.

Prosecutors will present the case to the next session of the grand jury, Richard said.

Dutchover's bullet-ridden body was found Jan. 30 near Gail Road about two miles from the Snyder Highway by Howard County sheriff's officers and Texas Ranger Charles Brune after a motorist reported seeing an object resembling a body at the side of the road.

Justice of the Peace Willie Grant ruled the death a homicide by gunshot wounds after an autopsy by Dr. Robert Rember. Mrs. Grant said Dutchover had been shot three times, twice in the head and once in the abdominal area. One of the wounds to his head was determined SEARCHING THE SCENE — Big Spring Fire Department Lt. Rodney Phillips investigates the scene of a house fire that started early this morning at 1301 Scurry.

House gutted by fire

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

A house fire at 1301 Scurry early this morning brought four units of the Big Spring Fire Department to the scene for a 2½-hour fight against the blaze, department spokesmen said this morning.

No one was injured in the fire, which caused a near total loss to the two-story, wood frame house, Fire Marshal Carl Dorton said.

Fireman received the alarm at 3:02 a.m. this morning, Dorton said. Four units answered the call, including the department's new mini-pumper and the "snorkel" crane unit, he said.

The fire was brought under control at about 5:45 a.m., according to Fire Chief Jim Ryals.

Cause of the fire remains under investigation by Assistant Fire Marshal Burr Settles.

Howard County tax roles list the house's owner as Albino Albiar, who has not been located, Dorton said.

Fire department authorities also have not been able to locate the house's occupant, Armando Lopez, Dorton said.

The investigation continued through noon today.

Crews to begin Birdwell paving

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

Paving will begin tomorrow on Birdwell Lane between Fourth Street and FM 700, Bob Price, vice president of city streets contractor Price Construction Inc., said Tuesday.

Work should be completed on the street on about March 6, "weather permitting," Price said.

According to the street contractor, plans are for paving crews to begin work Thursday on the street's western two lanes at its north end. He said work on the western lanes should be completed by Feb. 29.

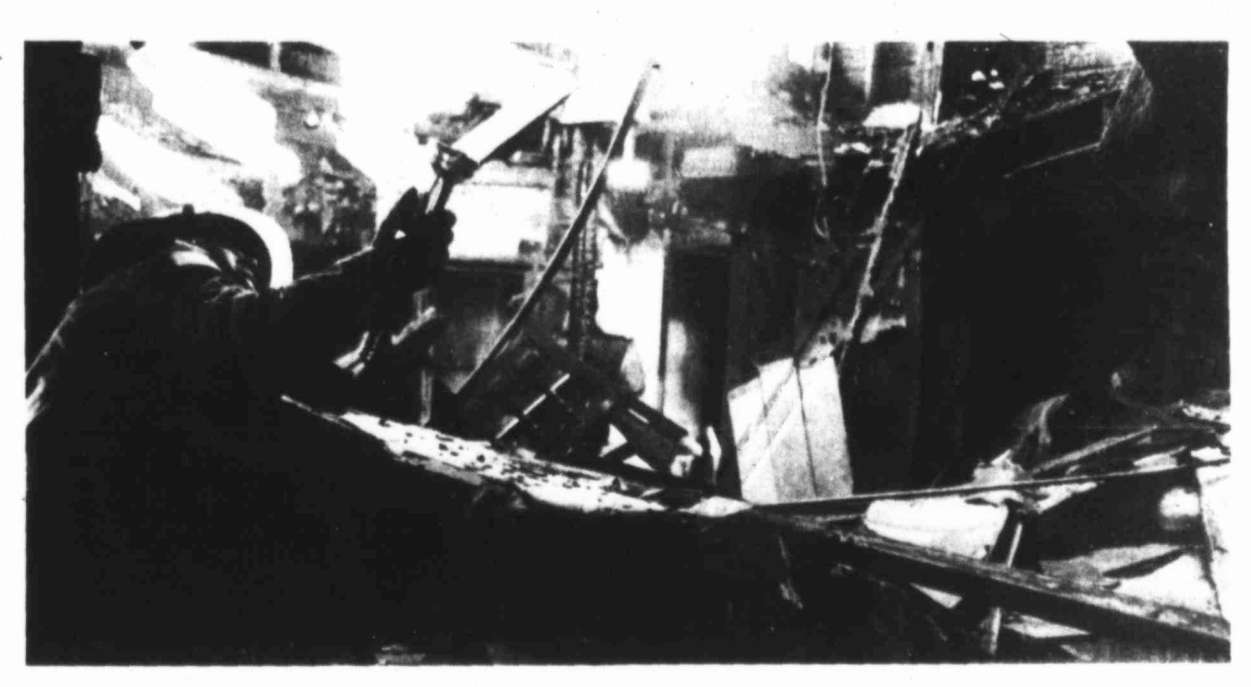

"Then we'll turn around at (FM) 700 and head back down," he said.

By paving only two lanes of the street at a time, the street should remain open to traffic, he added.

In addition to the work on Birdwell, Price said paving has progressed well on the more than 75,000 square yards of mostly residential streets that were torn up for water line replacement.

Of these streets, only about 12 blocks remain to be paved, he said. The streets left to be paved are N.E. Tenth, N. Runnels, Douglas between Fourth and Ninth and Alford between Fourth and Fifth.

Streets where asphalt has already been laid over the water line ditches are E. Eighth, E. Ninth, E. 15th, N. Montecello, Ridgeroad, Manor, Stadium, Rosemont, Sycamore,

Jobless rate rises slightly

County's January rate finishes at 7.1%

The end of the holiday business season brought a slightly higher unemployment rate to Howard County for January as 90 workers returned to the jobless ranks.

The number of jobless here rose from 1,106 in December (6.5 percent) to 1,196 in January (7.1 percent), according to figures released today by the Texas Employment Commission.

The total number of workers employed in the county during January dropped by 90 to 15,761 from the January total of 15,851.

The civilian labor force of 16,957 for January here was down by one person from its December total of 16,957.

The Howard County rate remained below the state average of 7.3 percent, the TEC said.

John Eckley of the TEC office in Big Spring said the rise in unemployment in January is a seasonal occurrence which is expected after the holidays.

The county unemployment rate here for December declined four-tenths of 1 percent from November's rate of 6.8 percent.

The unemployment rate for Big Spring in January was 8.2 percent. Figures for December have not been revised, so no comparison is possible, the TEC said.

The total labor force for the city last month was 12,815, with 11,768 employed and 1,047 unemployed.

Surrounding cities and their unemployment rates for January are: Abilene, 5.3 percent; Midland, 5 percent; Odessa, 6.7 percent; Lubbock, 7.3 percent; and San Angelo, 5 percent.

JIM MATTOX ...rate ruling

Mattox tries to delay Bell increase

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorney General Jim Mattox has ruled that Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. must wait until April 22 to put $279.7 million in higher rates into effect. Bell had scheduled the increase for Thursday.

Mattox issued the attorney general's opinion, which unless overruled by the courts has the effect of law, on Tuesday at the request from Public Utility Commission counsel Jim Boyle.

Bell told the Public Utility Commission on Feb. 15 that the company would raise residential rates by $2.75 per month on Thursday, pending the PUC's decision on Bell's $1.3 billion rate case.

One-party business rates would go up $3.85 per month under Bell's bonded rates, which means Bell guarantees refunds to customers if the PUC denies the full amount requested.

Boyle called Bell's statement of intent "illegal" and asked Mattox for an attorney general's opinion on whether Bell could put the increase into effect immediately.

Boyle argued that Bell was using the old utility law to put bonded rates into effect, but the new law, effective Sept. 1, would extend the time for 60 days, or until April 22.

"For those customers who must disconnect from the phone system because of higher charges, the 'refund mechanism' is a hollow defense against bonded rates," Boyle said.

Mattox agreed Tuesday that Bell's original filing for higher rates last June 24 was "materially deficient and therefore invalid." He said Bell's filing was not substantially complete until Oct. 19, which was after the effective date of the new law.

"Under the new version, the company may not bond higher rates until April 22, 1984," Mattox said.

Some Lucas charges dropped

PLAINVIEW, Texas (AP) — Authorities said lack of evidence forced them to dismiss an indictment that accused Henry Lee Lucas of killing an unidentified woman whose body was found in Plainview in 1982.

State District Judge Marvin Marshall granted a motion Monday by defense attorney Bob Bass and District Attorney Ron Felty to dismiss the indictment.

Marshall said the Hale County grand jury's indictment failed to insure that Lucas would not face subsequent prosecution for the same or similar offense where the alleged victim is unknown.

The headless body of the young woman was found Feb. 16, 1982 in a ditch east of Plainview.

For the Record

A story in Tuesday's Big Spring Herald regarding a series of burglaries and rapes in the Main and Johnson area of the city incorrectly identified police officer Lonnie Smith as a lieutenant. Smith is a captain.

EXERCISE TIME — An American bald eagle spreads its wings as Jane Gulley holds it aloft. Mrs. Gulley, known as the Arkansas Eagle Lady, rehabilitates birds of prey and uses them in her Eagle Awareness program.

Eagle lady

Woman rehabilitates injured birds of prey

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Martha One-Wing lives at Jane Gulley's house. So does Wargo. Unusual names. But then, these houseguests are unusual.

They're bald eagles — magnificent creatures that can't return to the wild.

So Mrs. Gulley, who also cares for injured hawks, owls and other birds, takes Martha One-Wing and Wargo around to schools and civic groups, educating her audiences about birds of prey and their role in the environment.

Martha One-Wing and Wargo, to be fair, alternate weeks on the road to alleviate the stress of the job.

The female has even traveled to the state Capitol and to Washington. She flew there — on a plane because one of her wings had to be amputated after she was shot. And the eagle, whose head and tail plumage has turned from a mousy brown to glistening white, even gets Christmas cards.

Some people attend the Eagle Awareness seminars at state parks each February just to see Martha, Mrs. Gulley said in a recent telephone interview. "She's become somewhat like a Smokey The Bear" to Arkansas' eagle program.

Wargo is an immature bird and hasn't cultivated such a following yet. Although his appearance isn't as dramatic as Martha's, it is as educational. Mrs. Gulley said his brown coloring shows audiences what immature birds look like.

It usually takes five years for an eagle to fully mature.

Asked how she became an eagle mother, Mrs. Gulley, 38, says, "It just sort of came about."

After taking in her first, she says, she decided that there was no point in caring for such birds unless the public was better educated about them. Hence the Eagle Awareness program. She bears the brunt of the cost and says she wouldn't accept money for her work.

But money isn't the only form of pay. "I was awarded a public service award by Fish and Wildlife in Washington last year," she said. "I felt like I got a lot just from going to Washington and having that experience."

She has prepared a packet of material which she sends to students, civic groups, scouts and any interested individuals. Eagles are a big topic this year for term papers, she said. Mrs. Gulley also has developed a slide presentation.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service pays for the mailings.

Mrs. Gulley has all the special permits needed to care for the birds, and a veterinarian trained in treating birds of prey lives next door.

She has eight permanent residents, including the two bald eagles.

The birds have to be fed and exercised each day. Their cages must be cleaned. And, in winter, water must be hauled out to the cages.

"At one time I was feeding (them) 16 chickens a day," she said. The chickens had to be skinned, gutted and cut up.

To lessen the financial burden, Mrs. Gulley said she takes a green garbage bag with her when she's on the road. "I have to recycle road kill," she said.

She said doesn't collect dead domestic animals because she doesn't want anyone to think she kills dogs or cats to feed her feathered friends. And she leaves dead opossums behind because the birds just don't like them.

When Mrs. Gulley sees one of her charges fly off into the horizon, she says she has mixed emotions.

"It's just like being a mother," she said. "You wonder what will happen to them on their own. You're glad they're going. You'd like to know what happens and keep up with them and that's not possible."

TSTA worried about teacher exams

AUSTIN (AP) — Using a "quickie exam" to decide whether teachers are competent is "absurd," the president of the Texas State Teachers Association said Wednesday.

"It is equally absurd to suggest that principals can't simply tell us who is literate and who isn't just by looking at the blizzard of paperwork teachers submit every day," Dale Young of Fort Worth told a Capitol news conference.

Young called reporters together to air TSTA's views on several proposals under consideration by the Select Committee on Public Education, which is in the midst of a major review of Texas schools.

A proposal to mandate competency testing for teachers makes no sense, according to Young.

"For some reason that we don't understand, some of us seem to be forgetting the fact that school administrators are legally charged with gathering solid information about the work teachers perform," he said.

"We realize that present evaluations are often not performed on a routine basis or are performed improperly," Young told reporters. "But to compensate for that by trying to decide whether or not teachers can teach from the results of a quickie exam is absurd."

The push for teacher testing is a result of "some cloudy political gamesmanship" or "some misguided attempt to appeal to voters," Young said.

Teacher testing would force the state to "spend literally millions of taxpayers' dollars to find data that is readily available in the principal's office," he said.

Young also questioned a proposal to add 10 days to the school year. The idea could work out well if teachers are asked how the additional time should be used, he said, but Young tossed out a major question about the additional time.

"Where will the money come from?" he asked, adding that the 10 extra days could cost $200 million for salaries, transportation and other operating costs.

Proposals to lengthen the school day also concern teachers, who do not want to be "baby-sitters" for two hours before classes and two hours after, Young said.

The added hours could cut "teacher preparation time for classes the next day" and leave "no time for family or to take a break from the classroom," he said.

Any proposals from the special committee are "doomed to failure" if teachers are not allowed "meaningful involvement" in the process, Young said.

Reagan scolded by Bentsen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan has been urged by Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen to order the Department of Education to spend $30 million earmarked by Congress for the education of immigrant children.

The department has taken the position that while Congress agreed late last year to provide the $30 million it did not authorize the creation of a program through which it could be spent.

"Such a stance is utterly without merit," Bentsen, a Democrat, told Reagan in a letter on Tuesday. "It is in fact clearly inconsistent with the policies of an administration that frequently seeks to bypass the entire congressional authorization process."

Bentsen told the president, "I urge you to acknowledge the intent of Congress and direct the secretary of education to promulgate regulations for the distribution of these funds at the earliest possible date."

He said communities along the Mexican border face an especially serious situation because they "must provide expensive services to large numbers of immigrant children while simultaneously coping with a deep recession caused by devaluations of the Mexican peso."

The $30 million was provided by Congress in an amendment attached to a large appropriations measure by House Majority Leader Jim Wright of Fort Worth.

The measure, known as a continuing resolution, was approved by the House and Senate and signed into law by the president.

But Sally Christensen, Department of Education budget officer, said that the continuing resolution signed by the president did not provide the authority needed to actually spend the $30 million.

"Our assessment of the situation is that we do not have authorizing legislation," she said.

She said the administration also opposes creating a new program for educating children of aliens because such children are already served by "many, many other programs."

"It's not that we're not serving these children," she said. "These children are a high priority of this administration."

However, Rep. Solomon Ortiz, D-Texas, said that in a letter to Wright on Jan. 5, Education Secretary Terrel H. Bell had said that "we recognize that the program must be implemented without delay and have already started the process within the department."

Ortiz said the department's current position is "fundamentally inconsistent" with Bell's letter.

"I think this is just another way the administration is trying to cut back on education funding and in this case they're trying to end run the Congress," said Ortiz.

Klan postpones Austin march

AUSTIN (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan, upset with restrictions placed on its scheduled Saturday march in Austin, has decided to postpone the parade until a federal judge looks at the rules.

Attorney Ed Sherman of Austin, representing the Klan, said Tuesday the white supremacist organization expects U.S. District Judge Jim Nowlin to hear its complaint next week.

Officials granted a parade permit for Saturday, but tacked on restrictions aimed at averting a repeat of a February 1983 Klan rally here that injured 12.

The Black Citizens Task Force, which also has a city parade permit for Saturday, has filed a similar complaint against the city decision not to grant the requested times and routes for the rallies.

Wife is good luck charm

LOS ANGELES — Alfred Hitchcock made a brief appearance in all the films he directed. It was his trademark. Ron Howard has his own signature: his wife, Cheryl.

"She has appeared in everything I've ever directed, starting with my Super 8 and 16mm movies and continuing into features," said Howard.

The former star of TV's "Happy Days" gave his wife brief appearances in "Grand Theft Auto" and "Night Shift." In his current release for Walt Disney Pictures, "Splash," she is seen on a New York street, talking to a man.

"I didn't have another actor so I played the scene with her," Howard said.

Is Mrs. Howard a good luck token for him? "Not exactly, but since my directing career is going well, I'm not going to tamper with it."

'Dynasty' clothes designed

LOS ANGELES — First it was perfume. Now Krystle and Blake Carrington of ABC's "Dynasty" are inspiring a new line of formal wear.

Twentieth Century Fox Licensing and Merchandising Corp. has signed an agreement with After Six Inc. for the line of men and women's evening wear, to be called "The Dynasty Collection." The formal wear will reach stores in the fall.

The apparel company also will introduce a new color, "Dynasty Blue," which will be darker than midnight blue and almost black.

Earlier, Fox and Charles of the Ritz announced a line of perfume inspired by the characters played by Linda Evans and John Forsythe.

Face lift will be for real

LOS ANGELES — The face lift operation that actress Jeanne Cooper will undergo on the CBS soap opera, "The Young and the Restless," will be for real.

Miss Cooper plays Kay Chancellor. Her operation will be taped at the Beverly Hills Medical Center on March 12 for telecast two to three weeks later. Dr. Harry H. Glassman will perform the surgery.

The operation has been worked into the story line of the serial and future shows will deal with the unwrapping of her facial bandages and her medical recovery.

It was revealed earlier on the show that her glamour secret was cosmetic skin lifts, which pull back the skin to give the illusion of smoother and younger skin.

Miss Cooper, an original cast member, plays a wealthy, glamorous woman in her 50s, according to Lynne White, a spokeswoman for Columbia Pictures Television.

Rockers to make USO tour

LOS ANGELES — A group of veteran rock 'n' rollers is getting ready to prove that the USO isn't all Bob Hope and pretty girls.

Dubbing themselves the First Airborne Rock & Roll Division, 11 members of Kansas, Cheap Trick, Pablo Cruise, Le Roux and Patrick Simmons, a former Doobie Brothers member, will be making a three-week USO tour starting in mid-March — the first such venture by a group of major rock performers.

Iran launches offensive

Iran said today its forces smashed through Iraqi defenses in a new offensive launched overnight and captured two heights overlooking the highway that links the Iraqi capital to its main port in the south.

The announcement came hours after Iraq warned a major new offensive was imminent and appealed for international help. Iraq's state radio and television broadcast messages from President Saddam Hussein urging his troops to victory.

"The Iranians wanted a decisive battle, so let it be a decisive battle... that will confirm the defeat of Iran's expansionist greed," he said.

Shortly after the offensive reportedly began, Baghdad radio broadcast a statement by an unidentified military spokesman saying the Iranian offensive had been "totally wiped out."

The conflicting claims by the warring sides cannot be independently confirmed as neither country allows foreign correspondents to visit the battlefronts. The war began in September 1980 when Iraq invaded Iran to seize control of the Shatt-al-Arab waterway, Iraq's only access to the Persian Gulf.

Syria offers peace pact

BEIRUT — Syria said today it would cooperate in new efforts to bring peace to Lebanon, but one of President Amin Gemayel's Christian allies warned him not to bow to Syria's demand to scrap the troop withdrawal pact with Israel.

Gemayel is reportedly considering a new Saudi Arabian-sponsored proposal that calls for a cease-fire throughout Lebanon and a government declaration canceling the May 17 Lebanese-Israeli security pact.

Syria, which supports Gemayel's Druse and Shiite Moslem opponents, rejected an earlier Saudi-mediated peace plan. But Syria's official news agency said today, after a meeting between Saudi mediator Rafik Hariri and Syrian Foreign Minister Abdul-Halim Khaddam, that joint Syrian-Saudi efforts "to ensure peace and security in Lebanon" would continue.

"We have discussed and decided a few things," another mediator, Prince Bandar bin Sultan, the Saudi ambassador to the United States, said after the meeting. Noting Hariri was sent from Damascus, the Syrian capital, to Beirut today, the prince said, "We hope to have better news to say to you when he comes back."

Beirut's leading newspapers, the independent An-Nahar and the leftist As-Safir, said Gemayel hoped that by canceling the May 17 agreement he would be able to form a national coalition Cabinet that would meet the demands of Druse and Shiite rebels battling his army.

DeBakey transplants heart

HOUSTON — A new era in heart transplant surgery, possibly leading to use of an artificial heart, is beginning at Houston's Methodist Hospital with famed surgeon Michael DeBakey performing his first heart transplant in 14 years.

"We have established the policy," DeBakey said Tuesday, just hours after implanting a heart in a 42-year-old Florida man. "We are going to perform transplantations. We will be doing these as the occasion arises."

DeBakey, saying the results did not justify the expenses, gave up heart transplants in 1970 after performing a dozen of the operations in 18 months. Just two of his patients lived more than four months.

The artificial heart, a device "we have worked on... here for a long time," would be similar to the one used in December 1982 in an operation in Utah. Barney Clark, a Seattle-area dentist, survived 112 days with the mechanical heart.

"We may get to that stage here," DeBakey said.

In Tuesday's operation, George Serahn, of Daytona Beach, Fla., who nearly died twice in the past month while waiting for a transplant, was given the heart of an unidentified 17-year-old Houston man who died of injuries to his head in a fall on concrete.

'Footloose' takes movie lead

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "Footloose," the story of a teen-ager who rebels against a small town's ban on dancing, jumped to the front of the box office charts in its first week at the theaters.

The Paramount film, starring Kevin Bacon, grossed $8.6 million in its first weekend, while "Lassiter," starring Tom Selleck, grossed $5 million in its debut.

"Terms of Endearment," nominated for 11 Academy Awards, continued to have "legs" — the Hollywood term for movies that last. "Terms" grossed $4.5 million in its 13th week

Major storm brewing

A major snowstorm threatened to dump up to 18 inches of snow in the Utah mountains today as winter turbulence swirled through the Sierra Nevada and bore through Nevada into the central Rockies.

A winter storm watch was posted across Colorado, where heavy snows were predicted. Eight to 20 inches of snow fell Tuesday on the Sierra Nevada.

A winter storm warning was in effect for all of Utah, and travelers' advisories for snow were posted from northeast Nevada to southwest Montana.

Showers and thunderstorms lingered today over Florida. An inch of rain was recorded at Tampa.

Elsewhere, skies were generally fair, although a few snow flurries fluttered over parts of New England. In New Hampshire, 3 inches of snow fell at Mount Washington.

Temperatures were in the teens across the central Rockies and in the 20s in the Northeast.

Crime records are public issues

When you're dealing with rape, you're dealing with a sensitive issue. You're also dealing with a violent, detestable crime, one which — in more cases than not — is repeated by an offender who remains unapprehended. Rape is a crime which it is imperative that people be made aware.

That was not the case in the recent spate of sexual assaults, believed ended with the arrest of a man Monday on unrelated charges.

Although four rapes occurred here in as many months, the police department withheld information from the public about those offenses. Police Chief Rick Turner now says the offense reports were restricted because of an intense paranoia on the part of the victims about publicity.

We can well understand their trepidation. News reporters are acutely aware of the damage to be caused a victim of sexual assault. For this reason it is long-standing policy not to identify victims of sexual crimes.

Reports of the rape offenses should have been made public at the time of the crimes. It is not good enough to trumpet to the community that the problem of which it was not aware is now solved — although we applaud the apprehension of a suspect. We have to ask ourselves, as many residents are no doubt doing right now, whether the public would have ever been informed of these crimes had the cases not been solved. If there was no compelling reason to inform the public immediately, would there be any compelling reason six months or a year after the fact? So, by extension, could we expect that if there had been no apprehension the city would have remained blissfully unaware of a rapist in our midst?

No one should be so naive as to think the word would not have gotten out. It already had on the recent rapes. We were fielding calls about rapes in a specific area of town just prior to the chief's announcement Tuesday. As usual, the city's rumor mill distorted and expanded the real events into much more than they were.

We told the callers there was no truth to the rumors — because we trusted the police not to hide reports of crime in this city. It was trust misplaced. We hope it is a situation not to be repeated, that the law of the legislature and the courts is upheld in Big Spring in connection to crimes against its people. It is only in an atmosphere of openness and awareness that we can do our job of keeping this community informed.

Reagan betrays the right wing

WASHINGTON — Skillful selling has blinded opinion to the worst features of the Reagan administration. So the spirit of irony has to be smiling at the storm of criticism which broke over the redeployment in Lebanon.

For the basic decision was sound, indeed almost inevitable. But its elementary wisdom has been obscured by shockingly bad public relations.

The worst flaw in the packaging was the claim by administration briefers that, in announcing the redeployment, the president only completed a decision he had begun to make a week earlier. That happens not to be true. Reagan had been considering a suggestion that the American forces in Lebanon be changed from a peacekeeping role to an advisory role. He never made the call because events, notably the resignation of the Lebanese cabinet, rendered the issue moot.

Even if redeployment had been contemplated for days, it was stupid to say so after the event. For the upshot is that Reagan is made to seem both a fool and a knave. All his comments about "standing tall" and not being ready to "surrender" are now turned against him as if they were calculated pieces of Nixonian deception.

The loss of credibility cuts particularly deep with the right-wing ideologists accustomed to supporting Reagan. On the whole they are fundamentalist in their attitude toward foreign policy. They evince little tolerance for the sudden chops and changes often enjoined upon political leaders by reality. They took at face value the patriotic claptrap handed out by Reagan. They put down, as self-serving liberal folly, complaints about manipulation of opinion by the Reagan administration. Now they feel a personal sense of betrayal. They are like jilted lovers, and their wrath is terrible.

Almost equally inopportune was the decision by the president to leave Washington for a home-town birthday celebration in Dixon, Ill., and a vacation in Santa Barbara. Especially since Secretary of State George Shultz was in Central America. For one thing, the disarray inside the administration came vividly into the open. Indeed, one evening the television cameras first showed Shultz saying Reagan was "on top" of the crisis, and then showed Reagan at his birthday party.

That bad impression was made worse by the story that the president had been planning the redeployment all along. For the implication is that he positively arranged to be on vacation and to have Shultz in Central America at the time of crisis. Which is not exactly the image of a president on top of things.

The militant tone taken at the White House, the State Department and the Pentagon also sounded a false note. Tough messages, to be sure, had to be delivered to the Syrians and, maybe, the Russians. Private warnings were essential, and a round of naval gunfire also made some sense.

But public rhetoric about toughness at a time of withdrawal invites scorn. A nice example comes from a particularly bombastic memorandum handed out to foreign governments. It made reference to increasing the military strength available to President Amin Gemayel. His soldiers are known in U.S. government parlance as the Lebanese Armed Forces. That translates in acronyms as LAF. So hollow jokes have been circulating in certain quarters about the new American policy of promoting LAF.

The tall tales of a famous 'Indian'

WASHINGTON — One of the country's most celebrated Indians has fabricated much of the background that made him famous. In fact, some Indian leaders doubt that he is an Indian at all.

The name he goes by is Jamake Highwater. He has written several books and academic articles on Indian culture, detailing the pain of his life as an Indian. With his dark hair, sculpted profile and majestic presence, he appears to be the very model of an Indian. And his credentials as an Indian have been accepted without question by TV personality Bill Moyers, Who's Who, The New York Times, The Christian Science Monitor and other leading newspapers.

Highwater has produced recordings and television programs; 30 years ago, he founded a dance troupe in San Francisco. The Corporation for Public Broadcasting has put up $250,000 for a TV show now being produced by his non-profit corporation, CPB and the Public Broadcasting System have offered him $600,000 more if he can find matching funds for another TV production that would cost more than $2 million.

Yet under persistent questioning by my associate Les Whitten, Highwater finally admitted that he has lied repeatedly about many details of his life. Asked why someone of such genuine and extraordinary talent felt he had to concoct a spurious background, Highwater said he felt that doors would not have opened for him if he had relied on his talent alone.

"Society puts certain pressures on people," he explained. At one point, he said, "Maybe I should have been more forthright."

Although he still insists he is an Indian, Highwater has dropped any claim to Indianhood from his approved press release. "I'm not going to say I'm an Indian any more," he told Whitten. "But (expletive deleted), I'm an Indian ... I've taken a lot of (expletive deleted) being an Indian." He has also made a pile of money as an Indian.

Here are the highlights, culled from various sources: — Highwater gave Who's Who his birthdate as Feb. 14, 1942. But when confronted with an old newspaper clipping that named him as founder of a professional dance company in San Francisco in 1954 — when he would have been 12 — he said he had guessed at his birthdate, and could be as much as 10 years off.

— His place of birth has been listed variously as Los Angeles, Canada, South Dakota, Montana and Normandy, France — though he said he was misquoted on the last site. Told that the place he gave Who's Who — Glacier County, Mont. — has no record of his birth, Highwater said he picked it "right off the top of my head."

— He has claimed a bachelor's and master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley, and a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago. In fact, he admitted he never got any such degrees.

— Highwater claims his mother was a Blackfeet and his father a Cherokee. But beyond an affidavit in 1974 from his adoptive mother and another from his foster sister, attesting their belief that he is an Indian, he has no proof. He is not on the official Blackfeet tribal rolls, and such respected Indian leaders as Vine Deloria Jr. and Hank Adams say flatly that Highwater is not an Indian.

— Highwater's father was either an "illustrious motion picture director," an "alcoholic stunt man" or a rodeo clown, and died when the boy was 7 (or 9 or 10 or 13). His mother, according to Highwater's promotional materials and published interviews, either married a rich man or was destitute — or wasn't a Blackfeet at all, but a Cherokee who ran away at 15 to marry a Greek-born circus aerialist.

— He has claimed fluency in 11 languages — including Nahuatl, the Aztec tongue. Yet when questioned in rudimentary French, German and Italian — three of his supposed languages — he could reply only in bad French and finally admitted that he speaks only English fluently.

Footnote: One of Highwater's proudest moments, he said, came in 1979 when Ed Calf Rope, a Blackfeet elder, conferred on him the name Pitai Sahkomapii, or Eagle Son. Highwater said the name's ceremonial meaning is "He soars highest and catches many truths, which he carries to many lands."

INTELLIGENCE DIGEST: The Israelis are preparing to pull back their forces to stronger defensive positions in southern Lebanon. But they'll leave behind Lebanese guerrilla units, which they're now arming and training.

— West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl has decided to go ahead with the sale of arms to Saudi Arabia. When a delegation of Jews protested, he told them not to worry. "The Saudis don't know how to use the equipment," he assured the delegation.

— There was concern in Washington over the election of Felipe Gonzales, a confirmed socialist, as premier of Spain. But there's no cause to worry. He has antagonized the Kremlin by declaring, "I would rather die on a subway in New York City than live in Moscow."

Billy Graham

Doing wrong about wrong is not right

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have been in business for myself for several years. Now I am in serious financial trouble, and I think one reason is because a man has probably been cheating me. I have a great deal of anger and hatred toward him. I guess I shouldn't feel that way, but all I can think of is finding some way to get back at him. — G.D.

DEAR G.D.: If this man has cheated you — which I gather you cannot actually prove — he has certainly done wrong. But it would be equally wrong for you to seek revenge against him — and two wrongs do not make a right. The Bible says, "Do not say, 'I'll do to him as he has done to me; I'll pay that man back for what he did'" (Proverbs 24:29). Or again the Bible declares, "Do not repay evil with evil or insult with insult, but with blessing" (1 Peter 3:9).

One reason the Bible says this is that anger and hatred can destroy you. The Bible, in fact, says that uncontrolled anger is foolish because it harms you. "Do not be quickly provoked in your spirit, for anger resides in the lap of fools" (Ecclesiastes 7:9). Among the works or fruits of our sinful nature are "hatred, discord, jealousy, fits of rage" (Galatians 5:20). Anger can blind you and cause you to do things that are not only wrong but harmful to you and other people as well.

This does not mean that God is unconcerned about right and wrong — quite the opposite. If someone clearly breaks the law, he is accountable for his actions. But in addition, the Bible also teaches that a person is also accountable to God, and some day will face his judgment. That is why the Bible says, "Do not repay anyone evil for evil ... Do not take revenge, my friends, but leave room for God's wrath, for it is written: 'It is mine to avenge; I will repay,' says the Lord ... Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good" (Romans 12:17,19,21).

Don't let anger eat away at you and destroy you. Instead, confess your feelings to God, and ask him to give you a spirit of love and forgiveness toward others — even when they have hurt you. After all, we have hurt God by our sins far more than we can imagine — and he still loves us and sent Christ to die for our sins. Let Christ come into your life and be Lord of all — including your problems and your feelings.

Pig of my dreams

"June, I'm worried about the Beaver," my dream starts.

Such are the stuff life is made of, to misquote Old Bill, not to mention straw polls, Iowa and hogs.

Especially two hogs named Chester White and Spot.

Chester and Spot, two out-of-towners from Iowa, have, in my jumbled dreamworld, been leading off the news on Les Nesman's broadcasts for WKRP Cincinnati. The topic: straw polls and candidates politicking for the pig vote.

Film at 11. I think I can explain this. In a 24-hour period in reality this weekend, news editor Bob Carpenter, a Stamford farm boy, convinced me that pigs — those lazy, fat, greedy, sloppy slob of Animal Farm — are cute. Not only are they cute, but pictures of them trying to escape from their pens are adorable, and deserve their own spot on the front page.

During the same time Bob was plastering pigs on the front page, my eye caught a sidebar to the regular AP update on the Iowa straw polls. The story was a serious pig piece on how politicians hoping to win the straw vote in Iowa have to pal around with pigs. George Bush, the article said, was great with pigs four years ago. He headed out to the barn first thing and picked one up like it was his best friend. "George, where have you been all my life?" I heard Chester ask.

Other politicians hop into the sties for a closer pig-to-pol discussion. Still others, covering their audiences' inattention, said pigs just weren't interested in issues this year, according to AP.

If that's not enough pig propaganda, Bob's saved a "funny ha-ha" short story about hogs just waiting to fill an empty four inches of space in the paper. If I didn't know better, I'd say he was out to get Les' coveted "Golden Sow" award.

Add the recent hog hoopla and barrow results from the stock shows, and how could my dreams fail to include members of the porcine population parading prominently through my life. Ches and Spot have won a place in my dreams, if not my heart.

Not even Gary Hart on a tractor and the Bob Krueger Tractorcade are a match for Chester White and Spot doing a stand-up in Iowa, humming "The Beatles' 'Piggies'" while they wait for the cameras to roll.

You see, Chester and Spot, the pigs of my dreams, are not just any pigs. They are BIG PIGS. Pigs that are roughly the dimensions of the 289-pound Spotted Poland Chinas that win grand champion awards at state fairs. In my dreams, these pigs wallow down Gregg Street and around Birdwell in search of the perfect pig delicacies, truffles and triple-dip ice cream cones.

Pigs. In My dreams. What ever happened to Cary Grant?

My mother keeps telling me, with a straight face, that learning about pigs and cattle and cotton is good experience. She admits she doesn't dream about pigs.

She does say maybe I should write home more often. I've always prided myself that I was in touch with reality. I never bought into the metaphysical too much; I always figured that too much inner contemplation of self led to disassociation with reality and a permanent place in the unemployment line.

But lately, to quote a friend, my dreams have been "weird." Spot and Chester are only part of "a cast of thousands."

Some of the strange substance of my dreams is caused by the grim realization that the only time you can get hold of farmers is in the early hours of the morning, between 5 and 7 a.m. No man's hours. My eleventh commandment states that mornings are to be slept through as long as possible.

And so last week, I was greatly surprised when my alarm went off at 5:45 a.m. Greatly surprised because I could have sworn I'd been up for the last hour on the phone to Knott and Coahoma and Luther, discussing the 1984 farm program with farmers and ranchers.

I even remember Larry Shaw inviting me to a Knott barbecue. Main course: Bud Hughes' cattle, conveniently dead of arsenic poisoning. I distinctly told Larry I was on a new diet — vegetarian.

Frankly, I'm worried. I never used to remember my dreams. Well, there was the one the first Sunday night after I'd started my very first job, at Winchell's, in high school.

In this dream, I was standing behind the counter, facing a snarling, starving Sunday morning crowd. Behind me in the kitchen, the bakers are having flour and grease fights. The doughnut racks are barer than old Mother Hubbard's cupboards. The theme to Jaws is playing on the radio.

I ended up hating that job, not to mention the dream.

Do normal people have dreams like this? I doubt it.

If only I had dreams like Dorothy's, complete with yellow brick roads, and lions and tigers and bears, oh no.

Instead, I dream about driving on the top of a double-decked Central Expressway in Dallas, in monster traffic, only to realize there are no down or exit ramps. I cry in the dream when I pass a "Welcome to Ardmore, Oklahoma" sign, and the car runs out of gas — and I'm still on the top layer of Central.

Are these dreams normal? Only in a pig's eye.

Supreme Court may give prosecutors edge in court arguments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court said Tuesday it will consider giving prosecutors more leeway when they try to rebut the closing arguments made to juries by defense lawyers.

The court agreed to study Justice Department arguments aimed at allowing prosecutors to raise otherwise inappropriate points when rebutting arguments that attacked the prosecution's integrity or fairness.

Government lawyers are urging the court to reinstate the mail-fraud conviction of an Abilene, Texas, oil man.

Billy G. Young, vice president and general manager of Compton Petroleum Corp. in Abilene, contracted in 1976 and 1977 to deliver low-sulfur crude oil from Oklahoma to the Apco Oil Corp. refinery at Cyril, Okla.

Although delivery invoices certified that all the delivered oil was crude oil, some of it was fuel oil — an already refined product different from and less valuable than crude oil.

The false certifications were relayed to the Federal Energy Administration, leading to Young's indictment on charges of mail fraud and making false representations to a government agency.

Convicted in a federal trial in Oklahoma, he was sentenced to two years in prison and fined $39,000.

In his closing argument to jurors, Young's lawyer pointed to the prosecutors' table and said, "There's not one person in this courtroom, including those sitting at this table, who think (Young) intended to defraud Apco."

In rebuttal, a federal prosecutor responded by reviewing some of the evidence and stating, "I don't know what you call that but I call it fraud... I think it's a fraud."

The 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals threw out Young's conviction last Feb. 22, saying the prosecutor's stating of his personal views "were sufficiently egregious as to constitute plain error."

SMU to debate gay rights issue

DALLAS (AP) — The faculty senate at Southern Methodist University says it will debate the issue of gay rights that has been raging on the campus for more than a year.

Faculty members say the decision to end faculty silence on the issue was stirred by last week's third student senate vote in 10 months to deny official recognition to a gay student organization, and by subsequent support for that vote by SMU President L. Donald Shields.

The 39-member faculty senate, an elected body of university professors representing the 450-member SMU faculty, last week passed a resolution to debate "whether the student group calling itself the Gay and Lesbian Student Support Organization is in the principles consistent with the goals, purposes, philosophy and religious heritage of Southern Methodist University."

Shields issued a statement declaring that university recognition of the organization is "inconsistent" with the goals and philosophy of SMU.

"Accordingly," Shields said, "it is my conclusion that it is not in the best interests of the university to grant recognized student organizational status to the GLSSO now or in the foreseeable future."

That statement roused strong feelings among many faculty members, the Dallas Times Herald reported today.

"I was shocked and offended and embarrassed at the president's remarks," said Willard Spiegelman, an associate professor of English.

The date and format for the debate are to be worked out Wednesday in a meeting of the faculty senate's executive committee, said Marion Sobol, faculty senate president.

Recipes discovered while cleaning out files

While I was cleaning out my files at the office this week, I came across several tasty recipes that have not been published in the Herald Recipe Exchange before.

Some of these came from food companies, while others came from the Associated Press and Texas Agricultural Products. You see, not only do we get recipes from our readers, we also receive them from many other businesses, governmental services, magazines and newly published cookbooks.

I think you will enjoy these. Let me know what you think about them. Also, we still want your recipes. We like to focus primarily on our area cooks. If you have a recipe to share, send it to Herald Recipe Exchange, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

In a 1-quart saucepan stir together the water and fruit pectin. Stirring constantly, bring to a full boil and boil 1 minute. Stir into reserved strawberry mixture; continue stirring for 3 minutes — a few crystals will remain.

Quickly ladle into scalded ½-pint preserving jars or similar containers. Cover at once with the jar lids or with tight-fitting container covers. Let stand at room temperature for 24 hours; store in the freezer.

Makes four ½-pint jars chock-full of strawberries and syrup. You will have ½ to 1 cup extra syrup that may be stored in the refrigerator up to 3 weeks and served as a dessert sauce.

Dr. Donohue

Caesarian

Dear Dr. Donohue: My first child was delivered by Caesarian section 18 months ago, using the "bikini cut." Two obstetricians have told me different things about the advisability of having a trial of labor for my second child. What are the risks? Are there emergency facilities that a hospital needs to provide? — G.M.

I'm sorry for the delay in answering, G.M. One Caesarian section does not, ipso facto, mean that subsequent deliveries have to be Caesarian sections, especially with the kind you had. You had a "low uterine segment" C-section. In the older kind of C-section the incision was made higher up in the uterus, where there was more likely to be a rupture in subsequent pregnancies when the uterine muscles contract during birth.

I cannot, of course, comment on your present status, but there has been growing interest in normal vaginal deliveries for some women who have had the previous low C-section, the "bikini cut" to which you refer, if (an important if) the condition that necessitated the original C-section no longer exists. I want to be very careful about this.

Let me give you an example. If the woman has a pelvis demonstrably too small for vaginal delivery, then she will need a repeat C-section. But if the woman had a C-section for a condition that existed just for that pregnancy, like a premature separation of the placenta from the uterus, then she and her doctor must decide about the safety of vaginal delivery for the next pregnancy.

However, it is common practice to permit a trial of vaginal delivery (trial of labor) in such a situation done in a facility equipped to deal with any emergency.

Dear Abby

Grieving mother reassures woman's good intentions

DEAR ABBY: Concerning the letter signed "Good Intentions," I want to assure her that she made the right decision in calling the police to check on a friend in another city when the friend, during a telephone conversation, threatened suicide. (The friend was "furious" and never forgave her.)

Our son was many miles from home and we were not aware that he was having a mental breakdown. He had mentioned his plans to kill himself to his co-workers, but they assumed that as long as he "talked about it" he wouldn't actually harm himself.

Our son has been dead two years now.

Abby, it's important that the public know that when someone talks suicide, it is a cry for help — especially if it's accompanied by a change of personality and depression.

May God bless "Good Intentions." We wish our son had told such a caring friend.

HEARTBROKEN MOM

DEAR ABBY: What name should appear on the gravestone or marker of a woman who had been married twice and is being buried next to her husband? Her second husband will be buried next to his first wife.

NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: There is no set rule on this. When a woman is buried beside her first husband, she usually resumes his name so that both names will be the same on the headstones. In some instances the second husband gets second billing — his name in parentheses.

Have you ever been asked to participate in a chain letter which is guaranteed to earn you lots of money with one small investment?

Don't waste your money! These chain letters are illegal and they don't work.

Anyone who promotes or participates in a chain letter which requires the payment of something of value, such as cash or money orders, and offers a prize dependent upon chance, is in violation of federal mail fraud and lottery laws. Even if the chain letter itself is not mailed as long as the payment or prize is sent through the mail, the entire scheme is illegal.

Why don't chain letters work? The chance that all participants in a chain letter will receive money as promised is mathematically impossible.

The progress of a chain letter is so rapid that the number of participants who continue the chain is soon exhausted. Later investors receive no payment or prize; instead, they become losers.

For example, a typical chain letter scheme may require participants to mail letters containing money to six new participants, each of whom must mail six letters to six more individuals, and so on. But the scheme soon requires more participants than there are people in the United States.

Remember: If you receive a chain letter, you are under no obligation to participate. To do so may be a violation of federal and state laws.

Dragnet tightened in search for escaped convicts

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Police widened their search Tuesday for escaped convicts and captured one of three "extremely dangerous" inmates believed in the area as he walked along a road carrying a shotgun, authorities said.

The manhunt, focusing on the Brownsville area, was expanded Monday night to Mason and Braden, two smaller towns along the L&N Railroad running toward Memphis, about 40 miles away.

This morning, Riley Arzeneaux, 26, of Memphis, was recaptured as he walked along Tennessee 59 near Braden, about 25 miles northeast of Memphis, said a dispatcher for the Fayette County sheriff's office. Arzeneaux was serving 25 years for second-degree murder.

Five inmates escaped from Fort Pillow State Prison, about 40 miles west of Brownsville, on Saturday morning by overpowering guards while on a work detail.

One of the escapees was captured Sunday and another one was believed to have fled the area after stealing a car from a supermarket parking lot late Saturday, officials said.

Dick Baumbach, a spokesman for the state Department of Correction, said Monday the other three "extremely dangerous" inmates, including Arzeneaux, were believed to have remained in the same general area of western Tennessee where they first were spotted Saturday.

The five inmates used pistols in their escape that apparently had been hidden for them on the medium-security prison's farm. The inmates also took a shotgun from a guard and fired it twice during the escape without injuring anyone, authorities said.

In the day following the escape, the inmates held two families hostage, stole at least four vehicles and shot out the windows of a pursuing vehicle, authorities said. No one was injured.

Randolph Oliver, 33, who was serving six life sentences for murder and rape, was recaptured Sunday as he tried to hitchhike along U.S. 70 in Brownsville.

Brownsville Police Chief Jerry Wyatt said his 16-officer force has been flooded with calls from frightened citizens.

"Oh, I was scared. I sure was," Etherine Coble said as prison guards searched a shed behind her rural residence. "I haven't got a gun, and nobody here but me and my little boy. I was scared to leave my house."

Guards wearing flak vests and armed with sawed-off shotguns went door-to-door in the rural area just south of Brownsville, checking on residents while searching barns and other farm buildings.

Teresa Ann Alexander, 2714 Carol, was named to the fall semester honor roll at the University of Texas at Austin.

To qualify, students must carry 12 or more semester hours, pass all courses and must have earned a 3.5 average in all courses.

Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABs) testing will take place in the Big Spring public schools during this week and next week. Each building will set its own test schedule in order to insure maximum participation and to provide the best possible testing conditions for students. TABs tests measure student mastery of basic skills in math, reading and writing.

Third, 5th and 9th grade students are required to take the TABs tests. In addition, for the first time this year, any student in grade 10, 11, or 12 who has not previously mastered any one of the basic skill area tests (math, reading and writing) will be required to retake the test for that area. In the past, retaking unmastered skill area tests has been voluntary.

Results of the tests will be received in early May. The State Board of Education is requiring that this

Bob's Custom Woodwork Is Three-Shops-In-One

Bob's Custom Woodwork is actually three businesses in one: General Contractor, "Furniture Doctor" Repair Service and the Strip Shop.

With all these services, it's hard to think of any home and business remodeling or repair job that Bob's Custom Woodwork couldn't handle.

As a General Contractor, Bob provides turn-key construction on room additions, everything from slab to roof, including sheetrock, painting, electrical, plumbing and cabinets.

Remodeling is a specialty, including redesigned kitchens and baths. "The Furniture Doctor" shop offers complete repairs to furniture in your home or in the shop. This includes the repair and refinishing of antiques. Bob's has hard-to-find specialty hardware for trunks, chests and other furniture.

In The Strip Shop, they do wood and metal stripping for home and industry. Bob's will do the stripping and refinishing — or they'll strip an item and provide complete supplies for the do-it-yourselfer.

Bob's Custom Woodwork has the largest selection of veneer and hardwood in Big Spring, plus a selection of door locks sets. They install microwave ovens, dishwashers, and Majestic heat circulating fireplaces and mantels.

They also handle insurance estimates and repairs.

There's no job too small or too large for Bob Noyes and his crew. Bob does the estimates and give his personal supervision to all jobs. His wife, Jan, oversees the Strip Shop, handles bookkeeping and customer service. Pablo Jara does framing carpentry and custom doors. Armand Nunez specializes in general carpentry, counter tops, installation of cabinets, custom doors and acoustical ceilings. Vickie Bell and Craig Neighbors do the stripping and refinishing. Elvin Bearden handles furniture repair. Rick Cohn does drop/suspended ceilings and general carpentry. Cabinets and bookcases are a specialty at Bob's.

Bob's is located in Building 613 in the Industrial Park. The Shop is open from 8 a.m. til noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. Their number is 267-5811.

Lamesa pulls off warmup victory

LAMESA — The Lamesa Tornados tuned up for Class AAAA boy's bi-district action with a 76-75 overtime victory against Seminole in a warmup game here Tuesday night.

Seminole, winner of District 4-AAA, gave the District 2-AAAA champion Tors all they wanted as Lamesa needed two free throws by Todd Sons with six seconds remaining in the overtime period to insure Lamesa of the victory.

Son's free throws, gave Lamesa a 76-73 lead. Seminole scored the final basket of the game. The Mason brothers, Chris and Jerry scored 28 and 20 points respectively in the win. The duo also combined for 35 rebounds.

Mark Murphy chipped in 16 points and 10 rebounds as Lamesa upped its record to 26-3 with its 22nd consecutive win.

The Tors will battle Berger in bi-district action Friday night at Lubbock Coronado Gym at 7:30.

DENVER CITY — The Greenwood Rangerettes earned a berth at the regional tournament in Levelland with a 52-42 victory over Anton in area play.

The win ups Greenwood's record to 25-4. The Rangerettes won District 11-A with a perfect 10-0 mark.

Greenwood used a balanced scoring attack led by post player Kay Wallace who tallied 12 points. Guard Maria Morgette played another good all-around game for the Rangerettes by scoring 11 points and grabbing 10 rebounds.

Forward Cindy Lea came off the bench to tally 10 points, including sinking eight of 10 free throws. Greenwood never trailed in the contest taking a 7-4 first quarter lead and 20-16 halftime lead.

The Rangerettes pulled to their largest margin of contest early in the fourth quarter when guard Belinda Duke scored on a layup pushing the lead to 42-28. From there Greenwood coasted in for the win.

Greenwood will meet Iraan at 3:30 p.m. Friday in the opening round of regional play in Levelland.

SHOOTS FOR TWO — Shanna Fowler (44) gets two of her 13 points despite being defended by Breckenridge's Angela Tension. Fowler also hauled down 13 rebounds in Coahoma's area basketball win that propels the Bulldogettes to regional tournament action in Lubbock this weekend.

Coahoma breaks Breckenridge, 59-45

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

SWEETWATER — Coahoma fans outnumbered their Breckenridge counterparts and on the court the Buckaroos probably thought the Bulldogettes were playing with 10 players after the way Coahoma dominated Breckenridge in girl's Class AAA area basketball action here Tuesday night at Mustang Gym.

The 6-AAA Bulldogettes whipped the 7-AAA champions, 59-45 to advance to Regional Tournament action Friday in Lubbock. Coahoma (19-11) will play Slaton (22-6) at 7 p.m. as the Bulldogettes continue to make the most of their first trip to the playoffs in two years.

Against Breckenridge the Bulldogettes pressured the Bucks relentlessly. Breckenridge was so pressured that the Buckaroos failed to make a single field goal in falling behind Coahoma, 13-3 after one quarter. Coahoma's part of the quarter was keyed by Melissa Paige, Jana Griffin, Shanna Fowler and Tobie Henry. Paige and Griffin hit buckets and a pair of free throws that boosted Coahoma to an 8-0 lead. And although the Buckaroos eventually made things interesting by pulling within four, Coahoma never trailed.

Breckenridge moved within six, 13-7 at the start of the second period, but Shanna Fowler, who finished the game with 13 points, scored six straight and Paige added two more around a single basket by Breckenridge's Pam Vick for a 21-9 Coahoma lead. Coahoma led 28-20 at halftime.

Coahoma made 10 of 28 in the first half and 10 of 21 in the second. Breckenridge, after a three of 18 showing in the first half, blistered the net by making 11 of 28 in the second. Included in that total was a fourth quarter where the Buckaroos sank seven of 14, including six of the first eight. That mild rally allowed Breckenridge to pull to 47-42 with 3:01 to play in the game.

Coahoma coach Bill Dennis said, "When Breckenridge began pulling close we knew we had to get something going again." That something was Shanna Fowler, Griffin and Paige once again. Fowler and Griffin, who scored 16 points mostly from outside, had baskets for a 51-42 lead. When Angela Tension scored for Breckenridge in a last ditch effort at salvaging the game, Shanna Fowler made a steal and dished the ball off to Paige who was fouled on a successful bucket. Paige sank her charity effort for a 55-44 lead. After a slow start Paige finished as Coahoma's leading scorer with 17 points.

After a free throw by Breckenridge's Vick, Griffin and Paige made free throws of their own for the final score. On the night Coahoma sank 19 of 22 free throws and Breckenridge 15 of 21. Coahoma made 20 of 49 field goals. Breckenridge, after recovering from its first quarter shutout, made 14 of 42 in the final three periods. Combined with the first period, however the Buckaroos were even worse at 14 of 50.

Most of that poor shooting was the result of a defense that was keyed by Griffin, Tobie Henry, Leslie Kirkpatrick and Shanna Fowler.

Griffin pulled down eight defensive rebounds while Henry countered with six and Kirkpatrick five. Shanna Fowler had six on defense and seven offensive rebounds for 13. Overall, Coahoma swamped the Buckaroos on the boards, 45-20.

Coahoma (59) — Jana Griffin 5 6 16; Henry 1 0 2; Kirkpatrick 2 2 6; R. Fowler 0 1 1; Melissa Paige 6 5 17; Greenfield 1 0 2; Fowler 4 5 13; Totals 20 19 59

Breckenridge (45) — Cooper 1 0 2; Angela Tension 8 0 16; Pam Vick 4 7 15; Rodger 1 0 2; Boaz 1 6 8; Reynolds 0 2 2; Totals 14 17 45
Halftime: Coahoma 28, Breckenridge 20

Invitational girl's golf meet set for Thursday

Courses at Comanche Trail Park and Big Spring Country Club will be the locations for the Big Spring High School Girl's Invitational Golf Tournament that starts Thursday, Feb. 23 and winds up Friday, Feb. 24.

There are 14 teams entered which is down somewhat from the past according to coach Howard Stewart. "Usually there are 20 to 26 teams entered," he said. Some of the decline is attributed to the weather.

tournament the past two years. In 1982 the tourney was cancelled because of snow. Last year it was called after 27 holes because of sub-freezing conditions.

But, decline in numbers aside, Stewart said the tournament should offer some good golf.

Teams entered, in addition to hosting Big Spring, are Amarillo High, Andrews, Lubbock High School, Coronado and Monterey, Herford, Midland High and Midland Lee, Palo Duor, San Angelo, Stanton and Snyder's number one and two teams. Stewart said, "Midland High has a good team. Snyder is also a contender." Stewart added, however that he favors San Angelo for the team title. "San Angelo lost only one player and should be strong," he said.

Competing for Big Spring will be one junior, Margie Garcia, one sophomore, Pam Martinez and a whole slew of freshmen in Karen Brodie, Michelle Cox, Melissa Garner and Sam Subia. Martinez is the only returner from last year.

FIRST BASEMAN — Danny Arista handles first base duties while a Lamesa runner get set for a possible steal in Big Spring's first scrimmage of the year that resulted in a 7-3 favor for the Steers. Big Spring traveled to Lamesa Tuesday for another scrimmage and again took the Tors, but by a score of 4-2. Lamesa made the playoffs last year as 2-AAAA's second place team.

Big Spring outscores Tors, 4-2

LAMESA — For the third time in three scrimmages the Big Spring Steers came out on the top end in baseball scrimmage action here Tuesday.

The Steers outscored Lamesa, 4-2 to complete a sweep of the Golden Tors. In the first scrimmage of the year the Steers came out on top of Lamesa, 7-3. Big Spring also owns a 9-7 edge over Monahans in another skirmish.

Coach Roland Atkins said, "The kids are still hustling hard and even though we had our worst scrimmage defensively, we came up with the clutch plays you need to win."

The Steers also got only four hits, but Jay Pirckle had the big blast with a bases loaded double. Jerry Anderson, Felix Olivias and Robert Porras had Big Spring's other hits.

Atkins added that he was pleased with his trio of pitchers that saw action. Tommy Gartman, David Renteria and Mike Leuschner all pitched. Leuschner, just off the basketball court, "threw strikes," according to Atkins.

The Steers will begin their regular season Mar. 2 in Odessa with the District 4-AAAAA tournament.

Forsan to regional with 52-24 victory

MONAHANS — The Forsan Buffalo Queens advanced to the Class A girls' regional tournament to be held in Levelland with a 52-24 drubbing of Balmorhea in area basketball action.

The Queens, winners of District 16-A, upped their record to 20-8 with the victory. They had previously defeated Rankin in bi-district action.

Sophomore Kristy Evans keyed the win with her game-high 16 points, including 12 in the first half when the Queens jumped to a commanding 22-12 lead.

Forsan never trailed in the contest, leading 10-2 after one quarter of play. Evans scored two baskets and two free throws in the period.

Forsan controlled the boards in the contest, outrebounding its opponents 47-25. Post players Cathy Thurman and Tina Sterner led the charge with 10 rebounds each. Thurman, along with reserve forward Traci Painter added 11 points each.

It marked the second time in as many playoff games that Thurman has been a dominating figure on the boards for the Queens. The 5-8 forward is the lone senior on a sophomore-filled squad.

In their victory over Rankin, Thurman pounded the boards for a game-high 17 rebounds.

Forsan will face Borden County, a 48-36 winner of Sundown; in the opening round of regional action Friday night at 8:30 p.m. in the South Plains College Dome.

Borden Co. tops Sundown, 48-36

LEVELLAND — The Borden County Lady Coyotes survived the scoring output of Sundown post player Tanissa Martin, to take a 48-36 area basketball win.

The victory advances Borden County to the regional tournament in Levelland and versus Forsan Friday night at 8:30.

Borden County's win developed into a battle of the post players as Martin and the Lady Coyotes' Roxie Wolf hooked up in a scoring duel.

The 6-0 Martin led all scorers with 27 points, 16 of her tallies came in the final quarter after Borden County had built up a 26-29 lead and Wolf had fouled out.

Wolf, a 5-11 senior was a force at both ends of the court; scoring 19 points and blocking 11 shots, not to mention altering a number of Sundown field goal attempts.

Leading 16-11 at the half, Borden County went into their pressure defense to open the margin. The Lady Coyotes scoring punch came from Wolf and Shawn Vaughn, who tallied 10 points in the contest.

The win ups Borden County's record to 23-2. Both losses came at the hands of District 11-A champ Greenwood.

Michigan Panthers expected to rule USFL's Central Division

The Michigan Panthers are defending champions of the United States Football League and begin the second season in the Central Division — the softest in the expanded USFL. Yet, Coach Jim Stanley isn't smiling.

Life has been anything but smooth since Michigan defeated the Philadelphia Stars 24-22 in Denver's Mile High Stadium to capture the inaugural USFL title last July.

There have been several contract disputes — one involving Stanley, himself, an another involving second-year quarterback Bobby Hebert, who held out until last week.

Many of the disputes still weren't settled when training camp opened.

During camp, practice was slowed by the absence of Hebert and by nagging bumps and bruises to wide receiver Anthony Carter and offensive guard Tyrone McGriff, among others.

Then, in the final scrimmage against the Oakland Invaders last Saturday, offensive guard Thom Dornbrook suffered a knee injury and will be lost for the season.

"Our problem is that we're not very deep," Stanley said as he put the Panthers through final tuning for their opener Monday night against the Chicago Blitz in the Silverdome. "You never know what your chances are of repeating (as champion). There are a lot of improved teams."

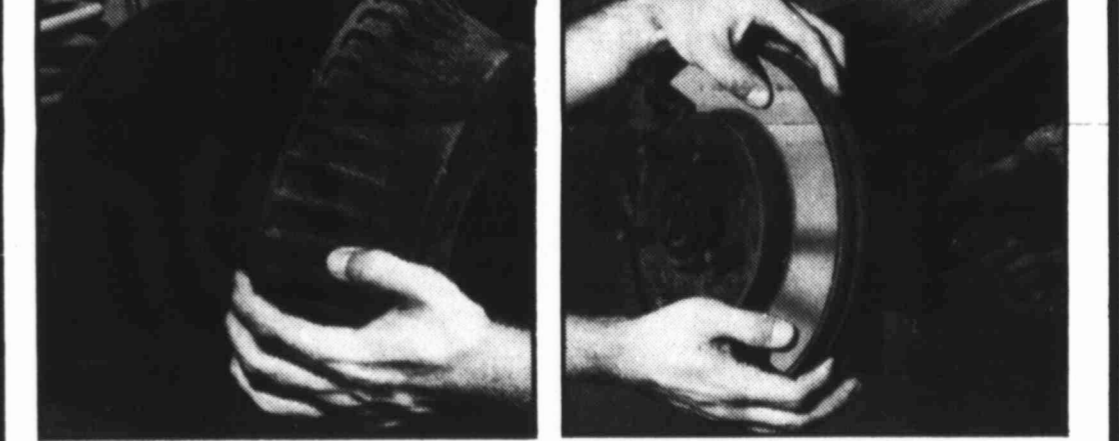

The only other established team in the division is Chicago — the 4-14 club which last year played as the Arizona Wranglers before trading towns and nicknames with George Allen & Co.

THE AUTO PARTS AND SERVICE STORE YOU'VE BEEN LOOKING FOR...and More!

We can offer a 4-wheel brake job for $89.95 OR LESS MOST CARS

...but don't bet your life on it!

Yes, we can advertise a simple brake re-line, but we don't like to. Here's why: your brakes are a complicated system of levers and springs, hoses and valves, drums and cylinders, disc assemblies and rotors, disc pads and brake shoes. We can replace the pad and shoes for the price quoted above, but if they're worn, other parts may be worn, too. For your safety, they should ALL be checked. We're not suggesting that every time your brakes need attention you have to get a major overhaul. We're simply saying that until we examine your car, we can't tell you what's wrong with it.

Once our technicians have given your brakes a thorough inspection, they can tell you precisely what needs to be done. That's why we offer a 4-Wheel Brake Inspection Analysis and Report. It will tell our technicians everything they need to know in order to fix your brakes properly. And the cost for this service is REFUNDABLE* Let us check your brakes first and you'll know exactly what you're getting and what you're going to pay before any work is started.

Your peace of mind may be the cost of a major brake overhaul, or it could very easily be just the amount we charge for our inspection. Either way, when you leave a Whites Service Center, you'll know exactly what's going on with your car's braking system.

Before you get your car serviced at the cheapest place in town, compare what Whites has to offer. We'll give you more to keep your car in safe, tip-top condition. And we offer this extra service at one low, stated price. No hidden charges, no added costs, no surprises.

Several Big Spring students received degrees from North Texas State University during fall commencement ceremonies.

Among graduates were Chris Steven Proctor, the son of Mrs. Dean D. Froman; and Jay Chris Shortes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny C. Shortes.

Scholarships for 150 area teachers will be available at the University of Texas of the Permian Basin this summer.

Joyce Thompson, UTPB director of financial aid and placement, said the program was organized in response to recent national and state reports focusing attention on teachers and their needs.

Scholarships are for $100 each.

Area teachers wanting scholarship applications or further information may contact UTPB's financial aid office at 367-2354.

Teresa Ann Alexander, 2714 Carol, was named to the fall semester honor roll at the University of Texas at Austin.

To qualify, students must carry 12 or more semester hours, pass all courses and must have earned a 3.5 average in all courses.

Gentry also was listed on the university's Distinguished Students list for the semester.

Freshman and sophomore students who have a minimum grade point average of 3.25 with no grade lower than C, and junior and senior students who have a minimum grade point average of 3.50 with no grade lower than C in good standing are designated "Distinguished Students."

Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) testing will take place in the Big Spring public schools during this week and next week. Each building will set its own test schedule in order to insure maximum participation and to provide the best possible testing conditions for students.

TABS tests measure student mastery of basic skills in math, reading and writing.

Third, 5th and 9th grade students are required to take the TABS tests. In addition, for the first time this year, any student in grade 10, 11, or 12 who has not previously mastered any one of the basic skill area tests (math, reading and writing) will be required to retake the test for that area. In the past, retaking unmastered skill area tests has been voluntary.

Results of the tests will be received in early May. The State Board of Education is requiring that this

All of this represents the new emphasis on basic skill learning that is sweeping the nation as well as the state and local community.

Bob's Custom Woodwork Is Three-Shops-In-One

Bob's Custom Woodwork is actually three businesses in one: General Contractor, "Furniture Doctor" Repair Service and the Strip Shop.

With all these services, it's hard to think of any home and business remodeling or repair job that Bob's Custom Woodwork couldn't handle.

As a General Contractor, Bob's provides turn-key construction on room additions, everything from slab to roof, including sheetrock, painting, electrical, plumbing and cabinets.

Remodeling is a specialty, including redesigned kitchens and baths. "The Furniture Doctor" shop offers complete repairs to furniture in your home or in the shop. This includes the repair and refinishing of antiques. Bob's has hard-to-find specialty hardware for trunks, chests and other furniture.

In The Strip Shop, they do wood and metal stripping for home and industry. Bob's will do the stripping and refinishing — or they'll strip an item and provide complete supplies for the do-it-yourselfer.

Bob's Custom Woodwork has the largest selection of veneer and hardwood in Big Spring, plus a selection of door locks sets. They install microwave ovens, dishwashers, and Majestic heat circulating fireplaces and mantels.

They also handle insurance estimates and repairs.

There's no job too small or too large for Bob Noyes and his crew. Bob does the estimates and give his personal supervision to all jobs. His wife, Jan, oversees the Strip Shop, handles bookkeeping and customer service. Pablo Jara does framing carpentry and custom doors. Armando Nunez specializes in general carpentry, counter tops, installation of cabinets, custom doors and acoustical ceilings. Vickie Bell and Craig Neighbors do the stripping and refinishing. Elvin Bearden handles furniture repair. Rick Cohn does drop/suspended ceilings and general carpentry. Cabinets and bookcases are a specialty at Bob's.

Bob's is located in Building 613 in the Industrial Park. The Shop is open from 8 a.m. til noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. Their number is 267-5811.

Hester's Supplies Can Organize Office

Now that the new year is underway, why not get into the habit of keeping your office and desk organized with accessories from Hester's Office Supply Co., 209 Runnels.

Think how neat your files can look with colored file folders in legal or letter size. For extra storage space, you'll need cardboard storage boxes in letter or legal size. Hester's has all sizes of Avery labels so you can identify your folders and file boxes.

Be prepared for meetings with your efficient notepad on legal, letter or junior size holders. Carry your business papers in a handsome brief case, priced from $35 to $100.

Hester's has a wide assortment of general desk accessories, including paper weights, pencil holders and desk size pads (such as the popular tear-off "doodle pad").

Copier papers in a variety of colors from Hester's will help give your office memos greater impact.

And of course, you'll find a wide selection of business papers, typewriter and adding machine ribbons, computer print-out binders in plastic or press board, calligraphy pens, and 5MM pencils.

Lastly, you'll even find a variety of lucite or metal frames, so you can put your favorite family photo on your desk.

A trip to Hester's is the first step to a more professional office.
