Many historians define an Arab nation as one which is culturally dominated by Islam. Others say an Arab is a non-Hebrew Semite. Take your pick.

Midland-Odessa: Is feud over?

ODESSA (AP) — Midland and Odessa, twin cities that have long been bitter rivals in the heart of the state's oil industry, kick off an $1 million advertising campaign Sunday that officials hope will mend some fences.

"It's taken a lot to push egos aside and get this thing started," said Price Womack, an advertising executive and member of the Permian Basin Media Coalition Bridge Co., about a traditional rivalry between Odessa and neighboring Midland.

The "famous duos" theme of the campaign mentions cooperation between performers like Laurel and Hardy, and Abbott and Costello. It urges residents and industry to "get it together," and will run for 26 weeks.

The initial advertisements will focus on the March 10 dedication of the newly completed State Highway 191 which connects the northern sides of the two cities, Womack says.

Media coalition members will donate $1 million worth of advertising time, space and talents to the campaign.

Dave Lyons, publisher of The Odessa American, said earlier this week that his newspaper has scheduled "two to three" ads a week representing nearly $14,000 worth of advertising space during the first six months of the campaign.

According to a survey released last December by Marketing Research Consultants Inc. of Odessa, 88.9 percent of 207 residents of the cities interviewed agreed that the cities can work together to become a "united community for industrial growth and prosperity."

Recent squabbles between the cities have extended to a branch of the University of Texas, located in Odessa, and their airport, which is at Midland.

But the fence-mending campaign has received national publicity, Womack said.

The campaign has been reported by The Associated Press, the Wall Street Journal's southwest edition, the New York Times and other newspapers, he said.

"Already, people have picked up on the story and we've gotten some positive feedback," he said.

But Joe Milam, an advertising executive involved in the campaign, said that much of its effect will be "intangible."

"We won't achieve a real dramatic change of attitude," he said. "We see this (campaign) as ongoing beyond a year. Attitudes don't change overnight."

The saga of San Angelo's liquor election

EDITOR'S NOTE — Despite its image as wild and woolly, hard-drinking and fast-living, much of Texas still clings to a certain 19th Century morality. It is part of its charm, or perhaps its curse, depending on one's point of view. But rarely is it more evident than during a good old West Texas liquor election.

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

Probably half a hundred rural hamlets once lay claim to being the "wettest little dry town in Texas," suggesting that illegal booze flowed freely if not openly.

Usually both.

But up until recently, only San Angelo, population 75,000, the sheep and goat capital of the country, could call itself the driest little wet town in Texas.

That came about last year after voters in Tom Green County approved liquor by the drink in an election that some said ran long on emotion and short on validity.

In effect, County Clerk Marie Russell rendered the election meaningless by refusing to certify applications for mixed drink licenses.

She maintained it was not her Church of Christ convictions that compelled such inaction. Instead, she said, a series of justice precinct elections dating back to the 19th century apparently took precedence over the more recent countywide election.

What's more, the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, which regulates the state's liquor industry, tended to agree. Said the ABC's assistant administrator, Joe Darnall:

"The upshot of this is I would have serious reservations as to what the election legally accomplished, if anything at all."

Thus, San Angelo found itself in a most unusual quandry. By a 2-1 margin, the citizenry had endorsed open saloons, yet the city remained bound to the less spirited whims of its electoral past.

It was enough to drive one to drink. Indeed, a miffed resident named B.D. Shaffer III fired off a letter to the editor of the San Angelo Standard-Times in which he berated local officials for the "mockery" they made of the democratic process.

He conjured up the image of the iconoclastic Howard Beale in the movie "Network" and, like Beale, declared he too was "mad as hell and wasn't going to take it anymore."

In his indignance, Shaffer gave the controversy a name and maybe even a battlecry.

He called it "Liquorgate."

In advance of the Nov. 8 election, the pro-mixed drink faction identified itself as the "Free in '83 Committee."

Opponents cleverly formed a rival party called the "Stay Free in '83 Committee." They raised such familiar arguments as crime, litter, moral degeneration and highway carnage.

Likewise, an uncommonly articulate letter writer named David P. Hughes accused the anti-liquor party of running ads that "pander to irrational emotion." He said one in particular "assaulted my sensibilities with its sanctimonious appeal to irrational fears, supported by questionable statistics."

Meanwhile, records showed that 16 alcohol elections had been held here since Prohibition was repealed in 1933. During those 50 years, voters approved beer sales on and off premise and permitted package liquor stores to operate outside city limits.

Actually, open saloons were legally foreign to all of Texas until the 1960s when Gov. John Connally, a non-drinker, coerced legislators into passing a mixed beverage law on a local option basis.

He did so in the name of tourism and convention business.

Still, liquor by the drink was slow in coming to many areas outside the major cities of Houston, Dallas, Fort

Property valuation nears 100%

Harte-Hanks
Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Taxpayers may not be too happy to hear it, but county appraisal districts have made dramatic progress toward listing property at 100 percent of market value.

Howard County appears to be in step with the trend, with 1983 taxable property carried at 94 percent, according to a study released Friday by the State Property Tax Board. Those figures — weighted averages — are preliminary and subject to correction by the board.

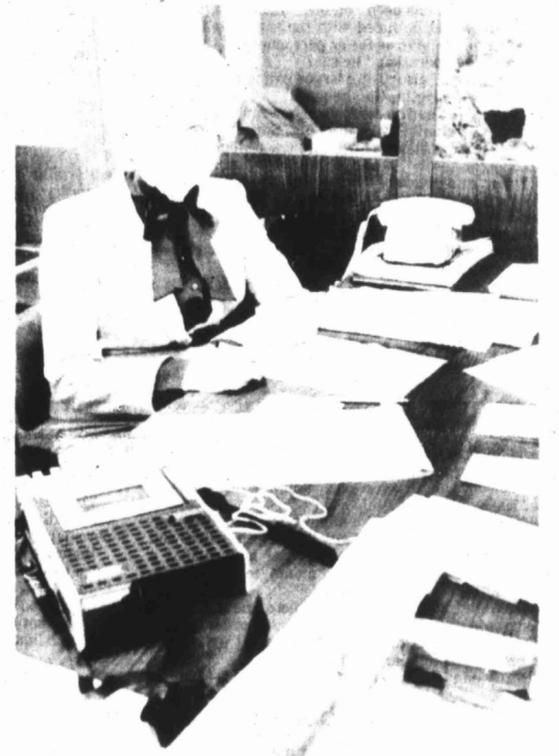

The study, which also breaks down that information by type of property, is expected to be handy for taxpayers in deciding whether to challenge their local districts' decisions on the value of their property.

For example, a homeowner could use the study to argue that his or her valuation is out of line with that of other homeowners. The taxpayer could try to prove at an equalization hearing that his or her home is being carried at a higher percentage of its market value than what the study shows to be the average in the district, a staff spokeswoman said.

In Howard County, the weighted averages by category were:

- Single-family residences: 79 percent.
- Multi-family residences: 88 percent.

Mineral show

Prospectors polish regal rocks

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

The Howard County Fair Barn sparkled with the shine of precious stones and polished rocks Saturday as the Big Spring Prospectors Club kicked off its 1984 Gem and Mineral Show.

Visitors milled among the displays of valuable metals, gems and rocks and were treated to demonstrations of cutting and polishing of the minerals.

Perhaps most spectacular of the show's exhibits were the more than 300 opals of Mrs. Bianca Clutter of Australia.

One fiery stone in Mrs. Clutter's collection was a 10 1/2-carat opal she had mined herself in the outback of the down-under continent.

The stone has been appraised at $125,000 by the Gemology Institute of America, she said.

According to Mrs. Clutter, she dug the valuable opal out of the Australian rock 16 years ago and let it stay in its natural state for several years after that time. It was only when she polished it and took it to gem shows around the world that she knew she had a stone of such value, she said.

The German-born Mrs. Clutter said she mined many of her stones in the harsh conditions of the Australian outback country, where temperatures sometimes reached 125 degrees in the shade.

"I ate kangaroo and rabbit because I was broke, and I brought my children down into the mine with me to protect them from the temperature," she said.

"I finally found a pocket of opal that has kept me going for several years," she said.

Mrs. Clutter's display was one of several commercial exhibits which included rocks and gems from surrounding states and tools for cutting and polishing the minerals.

Giving demonstrations on the cutting of precious and semi-precious stones were members of the Faceters Guild of Midland.

Guild member Bob Warfield was grinding a raw amethyst into an oval shape when he explained about the "Lone Star" cut that he has used in several stones he cut for friends.

A stone cut with the Lone Star design shows the Texas symbol in its interior, he said. The cut is usually reserved for the blue topaz semi-precious stone because the stone was designated the official gem of the state of Texas by the Legislature, he said.

Vergil Perkins, president of the Prospectors Club, said the show began 15 years ago as the organization's main source of funds.

The club uses money derived from the show to finance its meetings, which are held on the second Thursday of each month, and to allow the club to maintain its machinery and workshop, he said.

The club also sponsors several field trips throughout the year so that members may search for gems and minerals in their natural state, he said.

The show will continue until 6 p.m. today.

City officials take junket to Atlanta for trash machine

By RICK BROWN Staff Writer

A group of city officials, including the mayor and two councilmen, today will travel to Atlanta, Ga., to inspect trash baling machines that may extend the life of the city landfill by more than 15 years.

Scheduled to make the trip are Mayor Clyde Angel, Councilmen Jack Y. Smith and Robert Fuller, City Manager Don Davis and Public Works Director Tom Decell, Davis said Friday.

"We'll be looking at two baling operations in the Atlanta area," Davis said.

According to Decell, the type of baling machinery the city is interested in has been in operation around the country since 1974.

The machinery compacts solid waste refuse into bales approximately 3-by-4-by-5 feet weighing 2,000 to 3,500 pounds, Decell said.

The baled waste is then taken to the landfill area, stacked three or four bales high and covered with dirt, he said.

"Our intention and purpose is to go and look at the operations to determine if it's a cost-feasible operation for Big Spring," he said.

Preliminary costs for setting up the system in Big Spring run in the $500,000-$600,000 range, Decell said.

The figures compare favorably with the cost of setting up another landfill site, he said.

With methods currently in use, the city landfill has about 18 months left before it is filled, Decell said.

The baling and stacking method that officials will investigate will extend the life of the landfill by 17 1/2 years, Decell said.

According to the public works director, officials are particularly interested in the operation used by the city of Scottboro, Ala., which is approximately 100 miles northwest of Atlanta.

The system in Scottboro, a city about the same size as Big Spring, has been "on line" since 1977, he said.

"They would be faced with the same kind of constraints as we have as far as personnel and the size of their baling operation," he said.

Officials will also visit a larger baling plant used by the city of Marietta, Ga., he said.

Although he had no estimate of how much the official junket to Atlanta will cost Big Spring taxpayers, Decell said flight costs for each person would run $240 round trip.

Davis said notice of the trip was posted in City Hall "just to be safe" since the three council members going on the trip represent a quorum.

No decision will be made on whether to purchase the system until officials return and their findings are presented to the entire council, Davis said.

The officials are scheduled to return to Big Spring on Tuesday, he said.

'Afoot' stands up well

By JOY CULWELL C-3 City Correspondent

COLORADO CITY — Agatha Christie would have enjoyed the musical mystery, "Something's Afoot," presented this weekend at the Opera House.

The opening night crowd Thursday night enjoyed it and showed it by applauding for individual scenes and giving a standing ovation at the last curtain.

Theater lovers from Big Spring, San Angelo and Snyder, as well as the locals, were fascinated by the special effects and the set.

One thing the audience immediately knew about the plot was that the butler, Don Delaney, didn't do it because he was one of the first ones done in. Nearly everyone on stage died in various ingenious ways, but the audience is kept guessing until the final minute of the play who the murderer is.

Kristy Frisell shines as the maid, Lettie. Monte Jones played the caretaker to perfection. Alyce Kay, who portrayed Hope Langdon, had probably the best voice on stage. Marie Jackson and Tandy Curlee played out my favorite scene when they sang and danced to "The Man with the Giner Moustache."

Mimi Johnson directed the play, and Sharon Nelms directed the music.

The play will be repeated Monday and Tuesday night, and the final performances are slated Thursday through Saturday.

Showtime is 8 p.m., and tickets are $7.50. Reservations may be made by calling the Opera House after 1 p.m. Monday.

SOMETHING'S AFOOT — The musical "Something's Afoot" continues at the Colorado City Playhouse March 6, 8, 9 and 10. Curtain time is 8 p.m. For reservations call 915-728-3491. Tickets are $7.50 each.

Police Beat

El Paso man arrested

Robert Arthur Norris, 49, of El Paso was arrested at 11:46 a.m. Saturday at Rip Griffin's Truck Stop at Highway 80 and Interstate 20 in connection with a felony violation of a probation warrant from Florida, carrying an unauthorized weapon and possession of over 4 ounces of marijuana, police reports said.

Two Big Spring men were arrested at 8:02 p.m. Friday in connection with a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages, reports said. Arrested in the 2300 block of Wasson after being stopped on a traffic violation were Michael Hecker, 18, of 2627 S. Albrook and Cecil Guy Willy, 18, of 2701 Connelly, police reports said.

Four arrests for suspicion of driving while intoxicated were logged on the Big Spring police reports between Friday and Saturday.

Arrested were Raul Estrella, 27, of Pecos, at 5:33 p.m. Friday; Opal M. Kirsham, 59, of San Angelo, at 6:33 p.m. Friday; Dora Velasquez, 38, of 4114 Parkway, at 12:29 a.m. Saturday; and Jose Rijo, 23, of 1308 Hunter, at 4:57 a.m. Saturday.

Mrs. C. M. Williams of 906 S. Birdwell told police at 9:55 a.m. Saturday that someone between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m. Saturday stole a wheel and a tire worth $235 from her yard, police reports said.

James Williams of 211 Channing told police at 12:30 p.m. Saturday that someone before 10 a.m. Saturday stole a 3-year-old female German shepherd dog worth $500 from the animal's pen in the residence's back yard, police reports said.

Liquorgate

Worth, San Antonio and El Paso.

So pitched were some battles that NBC-TV cameras were on hand when Abilene, population 100,000 and the so-called Buckle on the Bible Belt, ended a 76-year dry spell by legalizing liquor sales in 1978.

By 1983, San Angelo was one of the last medium-sized cities in Texas without open bars. That's not to say anyone suffered from thirst.

Every major restaurant, and more than a few bars, bought private club licenses which permitted them to dispense mixed drinks to anyone willing to fork over $3 to $5 for a membership card.

On the eve of the Nov. 8 election, the Standard-Times editorially assailed the "hypocrisy" of the not-so-private private clubs.

"The way things are today," the newspaper said, "a private club could open anywhere in Tom Green County. When you strip away the facade, the pussyfooting words and the issuance of membership cards, a 'private' club is a bar."

Obtaining and carrying the cards was a "considerable nuisance," it said, declaring that "To people from out of town the situation is a joke ..."

The vote was 11,098 to 6,032 in favor of liquor by the drink.

It was a hollow victory. Less than two weeks later, Marie Russell announced there would be no certification of liquor licenses.

She said County Attorney Bill Moore, relaying word from the beverage commission's Darnall, insisted the election was invalid. It was Darnall's opinion that the ABC Code gave precedence to precincts over counties.

The reaction was swift and maybe predictable and frequently surfaced in the form of letters to the newspaper.

Harrison Youngren wrote that "the real villain must be the Texas Constitution ... (which) can support both sides of any question simultaneously."

Suggested one Charla Warren:

"Why not lower the drinking age to 12 years? The beer and liquor industry needs the extra money so they can purchase the other half of prime television time and we can watch beer commercials without being interrupted by programs."

Reginald Smith wrote that drinking "is a silly, nasty, dangerous, expensive, unnecessary habit."

As the war of words raged on, something called the "American Citizens of Texas" scheduled a rally to protest the refusal by county officials to process the mixed-drink permits.

The rally drew two police units, a squadron of unmarked law enforcement vehicles, a deputy sheriff, a half-dozen journalists — and no demonstrators. And then, on Jan. 20, without advance notice, Marie Russell, in an apparent change of heart, said she was setting aside her reservations and would certify the mixed drink applications.

In a terse statement signed also by County Attorney Bill Moore and a lawyer for the pro-drink forces, Mrs. Russell said she was placing the matter "squarely" with the Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

"Since the TABC now appears to be willing to abide by the results of the election, we do not believe that any burden should be put on the local authorities to take a position contrary to the clear desire of the voters," the statement said.

Most club and restaurant owners toasted the news. Others were wary, especially since the ABC's Darnall said he still doubted the validity of the election.

"I'll believe it when I see it," said Eric Barth, manager of a restaurant club called Friends.

His fears were unfounded. On Feb. 3, the Crystal Confectionery received its permit from the ABC and dispensed San Angelo's first legal, non-club mixed drink. It went to Tom Weaver, a leader in the "Free in '83" movement.

Bobby the bartender, with no sense of history, refused to divulge the contents of his landmark concoction.

So ended the saga of Liquorgate. By the end of February, some 20 drinking establishments had applied for licenses.

And San Angelo reigned no more as the driest little wet town in Texas.

City requests advice

on handicapped access

Big Spring city officials are asking handicapped persons for their ideas on how to make the city's buildings and services more accessible, administrative intern Pat Hardy said Friday.

Hardy said persons who might be able to offer suggestions on accessibility of city buildings, services and personnel procedures should contact him so that a meeting can be set up this month to discuss the problem.

Although the city must complete the structural changes necessary within three years in order to comply with federal regulations, Hardy said, "We want to go beyond the regular requirements."

Hardy can be contacted at City Hall at 263-8311.

Man kills neighbor's 3 kids

AUSTIN (AP) — A 21-year-old man broke into his next-door neighbor's home early Saturday and bludgeoned three children to death with a lead pipe after sexually assaulting one of them, police said.

James Carl Lee Davis was charged Saturday afternoon with one count of capital murder by Municipal Court Judge Wilfred Aguilar who denied bond.

Austin police Sgt. Lloyd Sigler said the attack occurred between 1 a.m. and 1:30 a.m. He said the man sexually assaulted a 15-year-old girl in the bedroom of her northeast Austin home. Another girl who was in the bedroom screamed and the man "then turned on her," Sigler said.

"He then attacked two smaller children in the same bedroom," he said.

Tony Johnson, 3, and Tyrone Johnson, 6, were pronounced dead at the scene, and Yvette Johnson, 15, was pronounced dead about an hour later at Brackenridge Hospital, Sigler said. He said all the victims were beaten on the head with a lead pipe.

Kody Newman wins grand champion title

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's grand champion steer, raised by 14-year-old Kody Newman of Stanton, was sold Saturday for a world record $150,000, or $120.96 per pound.

The 1,240-pound black crossbreed was purchased by Houston oilwell firefighter Paul "Red" Adair, who also bought last year's grand champ for $140,000.

Miss Newman's steers have won grand champion honors at the four largest steer shows in the nation back to back.

Her steer, named Ringer, was chosen grand champion Friday night. He dragged his young owner around the arena when the judge startled him by slapping him on the rear to signify his selection as grand champ.

The steer Adair bought last year, a 1,255-pound chianina named Black Velvet, was later disqualified for breaking show rules and Adair donated the money to charity instead.

Bidding on Ringer started at $50,000, and rose quickly in $5,000 steps to an Adair bid of $120,000. Then a group of businessmen who call themselves "the Poor Boys" offered $125,000, and steak house owner Sonny Look called $130,000.

Adair responded with $135,000, and bidding temporarily ceased. Then, as though reluctant to see the animal sell for less than last year's winner, somebody offered another $1,000.

The bid stood at $138,000 when Adair closed the auction with an offer of $150,000 — and the jam-packed arena exploded with stomps and shouts and applause.

The reserve grand champion steer, Dillinger, shown by 17-year-old Sharla Morrison of Muleshoe, was auctioned for $65,000 to "the Poor Boys," Ed Stone, Barry Galloway, E.A. "Bud" Olson, Jesse Sharman and Bill Austin.

GOING ONCE — Charley Dee, a DJ at KBST radio, looks for a buyer Saturday at the Elks Lodge. The auction raised money for the Texas Elks Foundation for Handicapped Children.

Emperor discovers crab

TOKYO — Japan's Emperor Hirohito, a biologist of note, has been credited with discovering a new species of a tiny crab near his beachside villa in Shimoda.

The emperor found two specimens of the crab in November 1977 and January 1978, said Tsune Sakai, chairman of the Japanese Society for Crustaceology and honorary professor of Yokohama University.

The society has named the crab "Mikado Awatsubu-gani," Sakai told the Tokyo Shimbun newspaper.

He said the crab, a fan-shaped crustacean with a shell that is only 0.4 inches long and 0.6 inches wide, is a species that belongs to the "Ogi-gani" which consists of 75 varieties.

The discovery will be officially reported in the society's magazine on March 5.

Beatle's son got the bug

LONDON — Julian Lennon, son of slain ex-Beatle John Lennon, says he has formed his own band and hopes to have a record out by the end of 1984.

"We will eventually tour, but we want to make sure we've got it right before we show ourselves," Lennon said at Heathrow Airport before boarding a Concorde flight for New York, where he plans to talk with record company executives.

Lennon, 20, said he will be the lead singer and co-write songs with guitarist Justin Clayton. Drummer Carlos Marally makes up the third member of the group.

Their music, Lennon said, ranges "from ballad to funk with a bit of rock."

Lennon, son of the ex-Beatle's first wife, Cynthia, said he expects to spend two weeks in the United States.

"I can't say very much about the project at this stage, and as for the name of the group, that would be telling," he said.

As for the group's prospects, "It would certainly be nice to follow in my father's footsteps, but we'll have to wait and see," he said.

Country crooner recoups

NASHVILLE — Country music singer Webb Pierce, famous in the 1950s and now semiretired, is recuperating at St. Thomas Hospital after surgery to remove part of his colon.

A hospital spokeswoman said Saturday that the 57-year-old Pierce was in fair condition after surgery the previous day.

Pierce is known for his high-pitched vocals, such as those for "In the Jailhouse Now." He also is famous for a guitar-shaped swimming pool at his home which has been a tourist attraction.

Terrorists kill 6 in Sri Lanka

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Tamil separatist guerrillas in Sri Lanka killed six people, tied the bodies to telephone posts and left behind leaflets explaining the victims' "crimes," the United News of India reported Saturday.

The bodies of the victims were found in the past three days in the island nation's northern Jaffna district, UNI reported from the capital Colombo.

Five of the victims had been shot while the sixth was beheaded.

Gemayel meets opposition

BEIRUT — President Amin Gemayel met with opposition leaders in northern Lebanon Saturday to discuss the outcome of his negotiations with Syria. Heavy fighting persisted at the frontier between east and west Beirut.

French Foreign Minister Claude Cheysson headed for Beirut, meanwhile, to meet with Lebanese leaders and discuss the withdrawal of French troops, the only contingent of the multinational force which remains in Lebanon.

A French Foreign Ministry spokesman, who in accordance with government policy cannot be identified, disclosed the topic of Cheysson's scheduled talks with Gemayel and other Lebanese officials.

France has yet to announce any date for withdrawing its force, which has stuck to its posts in Beirut while the U.S., Italian and British contingents withdrew.

Police said exchanges of gunfire and artillery killed 11 people and wounded 43 Friday night and Saturday along the "green line" between Christian east and mostly Moslem west Beirut.

Police said the fighting was the heaviest in the area since anti-government Moslem militias captured west Beirut from the disintegrating Lebanese army Feb. 6. Mortar blasts shook east Beirut during the morning and scattered gunfire from along the green line could be heard throughout the day.

Gemayel, a Christian, went to northern Lebanon to inform opposition leaders Suleiman Franjeh and Rashid Karami of the outcome of his meetings Wednesday and Thursday with Syrian President Hafez Assad in Damascus, the Syrian capital.

Details of the discussion Saturday were not disclosed. Afterwards, as Gemayel returned to Beirut, Franjeh issued a statement in which he referred to the Gemayel-Assad meetings as a "historic development," but did not elaborate.

Foreign Minister Elie Salem, meanwhile, wound up an overnight visit to Saudi Arabia, where he discussed the Gemayel-Assad talks with his Saudi counterpart, Prince Saud al-Faisal.

Ohio N-plant shut down

PORT CLINTON — Toledo Edison Co. officials in Ohio say they don't know how long the Davis-Besse nuclear power plant will be out of operation following an automatic shutdown triggered when a valve stuck open in the steam system.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission said no radiation was released in the Friday incident, which the agency said was an "unusual event," one step below an alert and the lowest of the NRC's four emergency classifications.

It was the second "unusual event" in less than three months at the plant, which is operated by Toledo Edison and co-owned by the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co.

Warning sirens in the vicinity sounded twice, once for a routine test and once because a siren button was accidentally pushed, said Jan Strasma, a spokesman in the NRC's Chicago regional office.

"There have been no releases of radioactivity," Strasma said. "The reactor is being cooled down using normal cool-down methods."

Richard Wilkins, a spokesman for Toledo Edison, said the plant was operating at nearly full capacity when the shutdown occurred. He said the utility did not know how long the plant would be off-line.

The defective steam release valve was replaced early today and a second steam generator began providing added cooling for the reactor, said Cindy Naegeli, a spokeswoman for Toledo Edison.

The stuck valve was one of 18 used to relieve pressure from the line that carries the steam, which drives the electrical generating equipment, Ms. Naegeli said.

Ms. Naegeli said water chemistry testing confirmed that the steam generator components were not damaged when they lost cooling water and that no radioactive materials were released.

Ms. Naegeli said there was a possibility the plant could be brought back on line by next week.

Hart woos the Northeast

PORTLAND — Gary Hart interrupted his campaign march through Dixie to rally support on the eve of Maine's caucuses Saturday, as he and Walter F. Mondale stepped up their hide-and-seek battle in the icy North.

Hart, who until Friday had not intended to campaign in Maine again before Sunday's caucuses, planned an hour-long outdoor rally in sub-freezing temperatures at Portland's Eastern Promenade overlooking Casco Bay.

Mondale, who launched a counterattack on New Hampshire winner Hart at a State House rally in Augusta on Friday, planned to return to Maine late Saturday after Hart headed back to Washington.

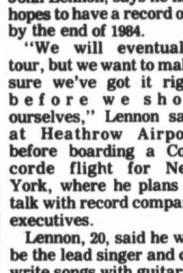

Mondale, defending against allegations he is tied too closely to special interests, retold the story of his mother's fight with cancer — for which Medicare paid the bills — and added:

"Let's get this straight. Are 33 million wonderful senior citizens who ask nothing but a little security in their later lives, is that a special interest? I don't believe so. It's an interest that's special to me and I'm going to protect them every way I can."

IRA bomb kills undertaker

ARMAG CITY — An IRA booby-trap bomb killed a Protestant undertaker in Northern Ireland Saturday, as he prepared to drive a young bride to her wedding, police and friends said.

Herbert Burrows, 37, was killed instantly when the bomb went off as he opened the door to a black limousine parked in his garage, police said. His body was blown over a wall and across the street. The wooden garage collapsed.

Snow dusts Rockies, East

Snow fell steadily Saturday on the Colorado Rockies and dusted the state's eastern plains, while thundershowers moved across northern Texas into the lower Mississippi Valley.

Six inches of snow fell Friday night and early Saturday in Aspen, Colo., forcing postponement of a World Cup men's downhill ski race. Scattered snow showers and, along the Front Range, rain and snow, were expected to last until Sunday.

Hail the size of golf balls pounded Houe and Dodridge, Ark.; an inch of rain drenched Monroe, La., Saturday morning. Temperatures in the 60s and 70s were common on the Gulf Coast.

Cool weather and light snow persisted across the Northeast. Temperatures in the 20s were common; northern New England had noontime readings in the teens.

In Rochester and Syracuse, N.Y., weather forecasters claimed that the "Great Leap Day Snowstorm of '84" ended early Saturday after having dumped 32.7 and 29.8 inches of snow, respectively, on the upstate cities. Meteorologists claimed that cold winds remaining from the storm continued to pick up moisture from the Great Lakes and dump it on upstate New York.

Fair skies and temperatures in the 40s and 50s prevailed in the Southwest and the West Coast, while Southern California and the desert Southwest warmed into the 70s.

Temperatures around the nation at 2 p.m. EST ranged from 12 degrees in Caribou, Maine, to 84 in Palm Springs, Calif.

Sunday's national weather forecast calls for snow spreading across the central Plains into the upper Mississippi Valley. Rain and a few thundershowers will be scattered from the southern Plains through the Gulf Coast states and the Ohio Valley.

High temperatures will be in the 20s and 30s across the Northeast, in the 40s and 50s from the mid-Atlantic Coast through the Ohio Valley and southern Plains, in the 60s and 70s in the South, and in the lower 80s in southern Texas.

When both of my sons became members of the Stanton FFA Chapter, I began working with that organization and have remained an Honorary Chapter Farmer to support our young future farmers. I have also served with the Stanton School Board for 3 years. My son Danny now resides in and serves as mayor for Stanton and Stevie lives in San Angelo.

I have served 28 years with the Howard County Farm Bureau, 5 years as vice-president and 7 years as president. I have spent 11 years working with the Howard County Fair, serving as both president and vice-president and currently as General Superintendent of the Fair Board.

I have served as vice-president and been an active board member for 18 years of the Caprock Electric Board. I resigned my position there to enter the commissioner's precinct race. I have also served 10 years with the Howard Soil and Water Conservation Board and am presently vice-chairman of the organization. I am a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Oberammergau Passion Play Keeps 350 Year-Old Promise

When the citizens of Oberammergau once again performed their Passion Play in 1984, they'll be keeping a promise made 350 years ago.

The play's presentation can be traced to 1633 when the Black Plague swept Europe. Thousands died and entire villages were annihilated as the dread disease roiled across the continent.

To protect themselves from the illness, the city fathers of Oberammergau imposed a strict quarantine, refusing to let anyone enter their small village. For a short time they were successful, and it appeared as if the town would be spared.

However, the quarantine proved intolerable to one citizen of Oberammergau, a man working in a nearby community who was not permitted to come home. One night, unable to bear the absence from his family, he stole silently back into the village.

Unfortunately, he brought the Black Plague with him, and three days later he died. In the next three weeks, another 84 residents succumbed to the disease. In desperation, the citizens of Oberammergau took a solemn oath: if God spared them, they would present a play depicting the last week in the life of Christ. They vowed they would do so every 10 years for the remainder of their lives.

According to the story retold now for more than three centuries, God heard them and spared them. There were no further deaths, and in 1684, the townspeople performed their Passion Play for the first time. Eventually, their children and their children's children, took up the vow, holding themselves responsible for the promise made by their forefathers.

In recent years the play has been staged at the beginning of each decade in years ending with a zero. 1984 is a special presentation, marking the 350th anniversary. Again, as in the past, the Oberammergau Passion Play is expected to draw thousands of tourists to the small German village in the Bavarian Alps, about 70 miles southwest of Munich. And again — as in the past — the citizens of Oberammergau will present their play with the same devotion and love they have shown for 350 years.

Places and Pleasures Travel Agency extends to you an invitation of a lifetime. Come join them for a European experience you will never forget. Including the special 350th anniversary of the magnificent passion play, plus AUSTRALIA, FRANCE, SWITZERLAND and GERMANY.

EDB plants seeds of a public panic

The fear of chemicals, especially those suspected of causing cancer, is something we will have to live with for a long time to come. It must not degenerate into hysteria.

Much has been accomplished in achieving cleaner air and cleaner water as a result, in large part, of concern about the effects of pollutants on public health. The anti-smoking campaign, which has convinced millions of Americans to stop smoking, has been successful mainly because of people's fear of lung cancer.

Fear is a powerful motive in influencing human conduct, and it is not to be underrated or condemned. But it must always be kept under control, especially in situations where mob psychology can take over.

In the recent scare over the carcinogen ethylene dibromide (EDB), the fear has been kept from becoming irresponsible. William Ruckelshaus, administrator of the federal Environmental Protection Agency, has issued guidelines for EDB in the food supply and suspended the use of EDB as a fumigant for stored grain. Earlier the agency had suspended the use of EDB as a soil treatment and announced a phase-out by next fall of post-harvest fruit and vegetable uses.

Some states have gone farther. Massachusetts, in particular, decided to ban all food products with 10 parts per billion or above. Ruckelshaus would allow 900 parts per billion on raw grain, 150 parts per billion on baking mixes and other products that must be cooked before being eaten, and 30 parts per billion on ready-to-eat products, such as bread.

EDB is a potent carcinogen, as shown by laboratory tests on animals. But there is no direct evidence of its effect on humans. We have been using it as a pesticide in this country since 1948, and the residues have not caused any great increase in the age-adjusted cancer rates, which have remained stable or declined in the last 50 years (except for lung cancer).

The Ruckelshaus order will effectively remove EDB from the food chain in this country within two or three years. That's good. But in the meantime there is no reason to panic over odds so minuscule that a person could eat muffins every day for a year and still be more likely to win a super jackpot in one play at Las Vegas than to have ingested any EDB.

A Hymie prayer

Hey, I'm a Hymie!
Or so says Jesse Jackson, who last week admitted he had recently called Jews Hymies and New York City Hymie Town.

To tell the truth, when I first heard the candidate's revelation, I wasn't quite sure what Hymie meant. I had to call my father for a quick lesson in etymology.

According to Dad, Hymie is an archaic, offensive term for Jews which was virtually unknown outside New York City until World War II when American GIs began using the word in reference to — of all people — German soldiers.

Of course, had Jackson any sensitivity to the feelings of other groups which populate this country, he would not have felt compelled to employ slanderous appellations. And if he knew anything about modern Jewry, he could have summoned the intelligence to issue a slur of at least more contemporary usage.

Jackson apologized for the remarks because he realizes the strength of America is that its political system has allowed a wide diversity of peoples to assimilate into our society without sacrificing their cultural, ethnic and religious characteristics. This has been made possible by a Constitution which treats all men equally and respects their differences.

In other words, any Hymie in New York City can claim he's just as American as Jesse Jackson because the Constitution guarantees that he has a right to be equal and different.

This noble intent of our basic law is being endangered by another distasteful incident which surfaced last week.

President Reagan's long-threatened school prayer amendment to the Constitution emerged from rhetoric in the Senate chambers Wednesday as the Republicans convened a special study session to publicize the issue of religion in the public school.

The proposed amendment reads: "Nothing in this Constitution shall be construed to prohibit individual or group prayer in public schools or other public institutions."

Not only does this proposed amendment fly in the face of the Bill of Rights, it purposefully contradicts landmark Supreme Court rulings in 1962 and 1963 which held that religious activities in public schools are unconstitutional.

The amendment's sponsors claim the Supreme Court "kicked God out of school" and that our children have been sliding deeper into ignorance and moral depravity ever since.

Let's get serious, folks. What the Supreme Court said, in effect, was that by allowing prayer in school, the government had established de facto a state religion because only one faith was being represented.

My God was never kicked out of school because he was never allowed in. The prayers, devotionals and religious assemblies I was forced to sit through during my early grade school days were the ordinances of someone else's faith.

After the court forbade these activities, I was treated as an equal.

If we are to allow prayer again in public school (and I pray this does not occur) then one faith will dominate or we will have to give equal time to all faiths. Considering that there are about 250 different religious groups in the U.S., equal treatment could get a little out of hand.

Instead of arguing about whether prayer should be allowed in school, or whose prayer should be adopted, we should be studying better ways to teach English, mathematics, biology and history.

The public school is built for everyone, and the rights of everyone there must be respected. Subjecting one student to the religious practices of his classmate is not very democratic.

Prayer in the public school would deny our right to be different, and it would involve the state in religion. This is a First Amendment no-no.

When we deny rights to a minority, we are treating them as something less than American. Jesse Jackson should know this.

And the Supreme Court knew well the meaning of our country when it ruled that a majority religion should not be furthered in the public school.

I may be a Hymie, but its my Constitution too.

Second glances

By JOHN RICE
Managing Editor

I'd like your opinion. There's a new cartoonist in the newspaper market, recently signed by Los Angeles Times Syndicate, whose work is just going into syndication.

Buddy Hickerson is from Texas, sort of. I think he's the most refreshing cartoonist to come along since Trudeau with Doonesbury. You may disagree, since — like Doonesbury — Hickerson is the kind of work destined to draw definite reaction. Mediocre and nondescript, he's not.

Hickerson was born in Germany and lived in California and Kansas before attending North Texas State University in Denton as an art major. He is currently an illustrator for the The Denver Post.

His creation is The Quigmans, a cast of four diverse characters who cope with modern life in an offbeat, and refreshingly disarming way. This is how the syndicate describes the cast:

• Bob Quigman (myopic, with cowlick) is a submissive, absent-minded, timid nerd. He's a victim of every situation, but an individual with a strong appeal because beneath the weak traits there is a certain amount of weak pride.

• Francine Quigman (blank stare, sometimes through horn-rimmed glasses) is the romantic interest of Bob and sometimes Moe. She has good intentions, but because she isn't too bright her actions can prove disastrous, especially for Bob.

• Moe (harsh expression, crewcut) is the antithesis of Bob. A nasty, scheming, overbearing, irresponsible, cruel snake-in-the-grass... well, you get the idea.

• Dog is the nonchalant pet of Bob. It is displeased with its role of "pet" and constantly battles to rise above it.

The Quigmans is billed as a satirical reflection of the absurdities of modern life, but I think the kernels of truth reflected by Hickerson draw the laughs. The Quigmans hits more than it misses, and when it hits it scores big. There are few smiles evoked by Hickerson — he either draws a quick frown or a belly laugh.

That's why I think the cartoon is special, and that's why I'd like to bring it to the Herald's editorial page — one panel a day, five days a week. It will be in addition to the traditional editorial cartoon, and will serve to lighten a typically "heavy" page.

Papers like Dallas Times Herald, San Francisco Chronicle and Seattle Times have begun publishing Hickerson's work. The people I've shown the Quigmans to have liked it — not every one of the cartoons, but most of them.

Who's to blame for TV?

Parents, do you know what television programs your children watch? Do you care what they are learning from TV?

The Coalition for Better Television says that profanity on television has increased by 140 percent from 1982 to 1983.

The group used 2,400 monitors in 30 states to make a survey last fall. Its findings were based on listening to 1,294 hours of prime-time shows.

In view of the fact that children watch many hours of television, these findings are very disturbing.

They reveal a lack of responsibility on the part of the industry. Considering the amount of violence on television, perhaps the increase in profanity is not surprising. Nevertheless, it is distressing.

We certainly do not believe that there should be any efforts to censor television. That would violate the First Amendment. But it is time for network executives to start doing a better job of controlling their programming.

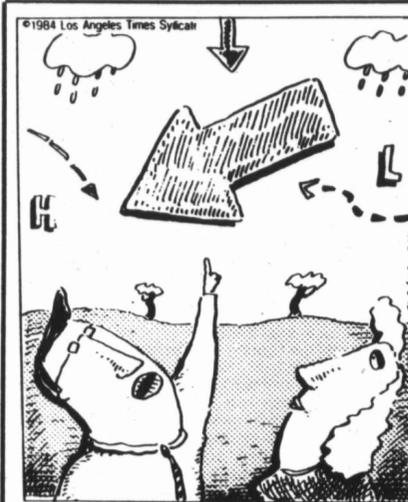

Because they have tremendous power to influence the thinking of young people, TV networks have a great responsibility. It is a responsibility that they are not meeting.

Quotes

By The Associated Press
"I challenge Mr. Hart to bring his campaign to the whole South. I challenge him to compete with me here head-to-head. If Mr. Hart wants to be our national nominee, he should join me here and actively contest these primaries and caucuses." — Former Vice President Walter F. Mondale, seeking a direct clash with Colorado Sen. Gary Hart, who upset him in the New Hampshire Democratic presidential primary.

"I listened to my heart and saw if there were any signs in my destiny in the sky and there were none; there were just snowflakes." —

Introducing, the Quigmans

"Look, Francine! Just like the TV weatherman predicted!"

"Before you make that move, remember who buys the dog food."

Moe's evening was ruined when his date made it known that she too would like something to eat.

In his rush to kiss Francine, Bob fails to notice her cigarette.

Now it's time for a wider sampling. I don't want to bring the Quigmans to Big Spring unless you want them here. So, help me decide. Please take a moment to fill out the coupon accompanying this column — yea or nay, and, if you desire, with a comment. Or give me a call with your vote.

- × Yes, bring the Quigmans to Big Spring
- × No, send the Quigmans to California

We really need the public school

To the editor:
Recently, I have had to spend considerable time at two of our public schools. I might add, not by choice. Walking back into these buildings a lot of old memories came flooding in. One of those memories, brought on by the circumstances, was how I dreaded my parents going up and talking to the teachers. However, I can remember also, the disappointment I felt, if my mom did not help at the class party.

How long has it been since you have taken the time to go up to the school and visit with your child's teachers? I found that there are a lot of parents who never go. A lot of these parents are sent reports telling them they need to come to the school. Now you're saying, "I never have received any notes from the teacher." I know, I didn't either. My sons weren't bringing them home. Some of them they signed themselves, some were forgotten about by the teacher and the child. Take the time during the Open House at the schools to go and talk to these people. They need your help and take a minute to think about it. We really need them.

Just saying thanks to nice policeman

To the editor:
I just want to write a note of thanks to Officer Bill Anderson of the Police Department.

Wednesday night I had to rush my mother to the hospital and I needed an escort. It didn't take any time until Officer Anderson arrived.

Without his help and escort I couldn't have had the courage or nerve to drive so fast.

So many thanks again. It's good to know someone is always there when needed in an emergency.

Why Texas Demos will vote for Hart

AUSTIN — If the current presidential nomination race comes down to it, would Texas Democrats who go to precinct conventions on May 5 favor former Vice President Walter Mondale or U.S. Sen. Gary Hart?

A stranger in our midst simply looking at the character of these men and the character of the state probably would give the nod to Hart.

Texans, that stranger would reckon, probably hold little regard for Mondale, the second fiddle in a failed administration soundly rejected four years ago. A slick liberal from Minnesota should no more be able to capture the hearts of sons and daughters of the Southwest than a duck could catch a football.

Hart also has a rather liberal voting record, but he gets away with it in his home state of Colorado through his boyish charm and impressive intelligence.

He looks natural and comfortable in cowboy boots even when wearing the campaign-required suit and tie. He talks about new ideas at a time when many people probably feel like giving up the old ones.

So, our stranger might conclude that Gary Hart could capture in Texas the same sort of impressive victory that he won in New Hampshire on Feb. 28. But that could be a very wrong conclusion.

The presidential nomination system in Texas more resembles Iowa, where Mondale scored big, than New Hampshire, where Democrats are few and quirky and vote directly in a primary.

In Texas, the delegates to the July National Democratic Convention are selected in a series of conventions that begin on election night. There are thousands of things to do at night besides going to precinct conventions, and most people elect to do one or more of them.

Only a few politically minded souls bother to attend their precinct conventions to elect delegates to their county or district conventions, which lead to the state and national conventions.

In such a political system, organization is the key. Mondale understands that and has spent the past four years lining up the Democratic Party's traditionally active groups, such as organized labor, minorities and women's organizations.

These groups can turn out supporters at the precinct conventions. The former vice president also worked early and hard to line up support from many of the leaders and active workers of the state party machinery.

For Hart to counter that, he would have to build almost from scratch an organization to convince Texans not only to like him but also to attend precinct conventions to fight for him. That's difficult, particularly in two months.

Then there's the John Glenn factor. If the Ohio senator can hang in there long enough, he might find Texans more attracted to his conservative alternatives to Mondale's and Hart's programs than were the voters of Iowa and New Hampshire.

Hart's new prominence could lead to Pac-Man chomping between him and Mondale, damaging them both. If Glenn could maintain his credibility as an alternative until May 5, he might still have a chance. But his decision to aim his campaign at "average voters" rather than special-interest groups makes that unlikely in a convention system state.

Mondale, thanks to the coalition he has been working on for years, still seems to have the edge on collecting a large share of Texas delegates to the national convention.

And the Hart challenge, if it continues to grow, could make that Texas delegation much more important to Mondale. On May 5, if he still needs a good share of Texas delegates' votes for the nomination, the influence of Texas Democrats on his campaign would soar.

Former LULAC presidents give Krueger endorsement

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Bob Krueger's bid to gain the Democrats' U.S. Senate nomination got a boost Monday when the former congressman won the endorsement of three former presidents of the League of United Latin American Citizens.

The endorsement by the Bonilla brothers of Corpus Christi — Ruben, Tony and William — is the latest volley fired by Krueger in his running battle with state Sen. Lloyd Doggett of Austin to court the Mexican-American vote.

By their own admission, it is the first time the brothers have stood at the same dais to support the same political candidate for a statewide office.

The endorsement, Krueger conceded, does not reflect the views of the LULAC organization itself, the nation's oldest and largest Hispanic group with 100,000 members nationwide.

All three brothers hailed Krueger's work as President Carter's ambassador-at-large for Latin American affairs. They declared him the only candidate with the ability to wrest control of the U.S. Senate seat held by retiring U.S. Sen. John Tower, a Republican, for almost two decades.

Doggett, last week, announced the endorsement of Julian Nava of Los Angeles, who served as the United States ambassador to Mexico while Krueger worked as the special envoy.

Tony Bonilla, whose two-term tenure as LULAC national president ended last year, said the family has failed to support the same political candidates before because of "different political philosophies."

He called it "essential for the people of Texas to elect someone with some congressional experience."

Krueger represented a largely South Texas congressional district before waging a close — but unsuccessful — bid to unseat Tower in 1978.

The name of U.S. Rep. Kent Hance, D-Lubbock, also a Democratic Senate contender, was not raised by the trio despite his having received a letter of praise from LULAC's executive director for his opposition to controversial proposals addressing the illegal alien problem now pending before Congress.

Ohio town to vote on handgun ban

CLEVELAND HEIGHTS, Ohio (AP) — A proposal to make this city the second community in the nation to ban handguns has prompted sharp opposition from gun owners and drawn overflow crowds to normally quiet committee hearings.

A longtime City Council member is leading the campaign for the handgun ban. The mayor opposes it. The city manager says he is neutral — even though the death of his young son is often cited as a reason for the ban.

The proposed ordinance is scheduled for a vote by the seven-member council on Monday evening.

The proposal was made last November by Councilman Richard G. Weigand, who argued that "possession of handguns by otherwise law-abiding members of the public poses a serious danger to public safety in cases of the theft of the handgun or its accidental discharge."

Cleveland Heights, a city of 57,000 adjoining Cleveland on the east, now requires handgun owners to be licensed with police.

The proposed law would allow only police officers, members of the U.S. military, security guards and collectors of antique firearms to own handguns. Guns with barrel lengths of more than a foot and which require two hands to fire would not be banned.

Weigand, a member of the council for 10 years, said his proposal is modeled after the gun-ban or-inance passed in 1981 by Morton Grove, Ill., a Chicago suburb. The following year, Kennesaw, Ga., enacted an ordinance requiring heads of households to own and maintain a firearm and ammunition, but that ordinance carries no penalty.

An estimated 15,000 people in Cleveland Heights — about 25 percent of the residents — own handguns.

Their opposition, including frequent recitations of the Second Amendment "right to bear arms," amounted to about 80 percent of the testimony in recent council hearings.

Wiegand said many other people in a "silent majority" have told him and other council members they won't testify in public but do support the handgun ban.

"They certainly were motivated by incidents that occurred in Cleveland Heights, including one family tragedy where a child was accidentally shot and killed," Weigand said.

That tragedy was the July 1982 death of the 8-year-old son of City Manager Richard V. Robinson. Robinson and his wife were away from home when their son Todd, 14, found a .38-caliber revolver Robinson kept concealed in the den.

The older boy removed bullets from the gun, pointed it at his brother and pulled the trigger. One bullet, accidentally left in the chamber, struck Raymond Robinson in the face. He died two days later.

Robinson has not been involved in the debate. "I wouldn't have any comment on it," he said. "I have no position."

Mayor Alan J. Rapoport, who also serves as city council president, said he would vote against the handgun ban because it was unworkable. He refused to predict the outcome of the council vote.

"The major point is that the guns cause more damage to the people who own the guns than to intruders," said Dr. Joseph Liebman, a pediatrician who supports the proposal.

"The data is very clear that accidents, murders and suicide occur far more often than does a deterrence. Criminals get their guns anyway."

Switch blamed in power failure

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A tiny switch that sent out a false alarm is being blamed by Pacific Gas & Electric for the power failure that blacked out parts of six Western states.

The utility said Friday the switch was part of an installation at the Round Mountain Substation in Shasta County in northern California.

The switch sent out a false emergency signal at 5:57 p.m. Wednesday that shut down a major transmission line from the Pacific Northwest and triggered "rolling blackouts," said PG&E spokesman Dick Davin.

"We know what happened, but we don't know why," said a PG&E official.

The switch, small enough to fit in the palm of a hand, is designed to monitor the 500,000-volt line and activate other equipment to shut it down when it detects an emergency.

Power was knocked out to about 2 million PG&E customers in California and 3 million to 4 million more in parts of Arizona, Nevada, New Mexico, Texas and Utah.

Power was restored to most of the areas within 12 minutes, but some areas were in the dark for up to two hours.

Trial date set in Odessa murder cases

ODESSA (AP) — A state district court judge has set a May 14 trial date for Kenneth A. Venne, charged in connection with the beating deaths of his mother-in-law and her two teen-age sons, but court officials were still considering where the trial will be held.

Judge Joe Connally of the 244th Judicial District set the trial date late Friday after a brief meeting with defense attorney Warren Heagy and Ector County District Attorney Mike Holmes.

Venne is charged with three counts of capital murder for the July 13, 1983, beating deaths.

Autopsy reports have indicated Ruby Kay Fieseler, 50, and her sons Paul, 17, and 13-year-old Keith were slain while they slept in their home. Police found a bloodied baseball bat in the living room of the residence.

During a January pretrial hearing, prosecutors introduced Venne's statement to Odessa police detectives in which the defendant allegedly admitted killing the family after breaking into their home.

Should Venne be convicted on the capital charges, he faces a maximum penalty of death by lethal injection.

Venne has remained in the Ector County Jail on $300,000 bond since his arrest last July 14.

Dallasites tested for lead

DALLAS (AP) — City officials say youths from the Boys Club of Dallas will canvass neighborhoods near a westside lead smelter today and Sunday to sign up residents for free blood tests.

Margo Branscomb, public information officer for the city's Department of Health and Human Services, said Thursday that she and another official of the department will accompany eight members of the Boys Club on a door-to-door tour of houses within one-half mile of the RSR Corp. smelter.

Top turkey in record sale

HOUSTON (AP) — A 24-pound grand champion tom turkey has sold for a record $52,000 at this year's Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

The turkey was bought Friday by four Houston businessmen from Kenneth Moy 19, of Floresville. Moy, who has been raising livestock since he was 9, said he plans to invest the money.

The previous record was $40,000, paid last year.

'Daddy' Pete's twin standard

Okay class! Today's lesson is about the double standard and its most common advocate — 'Daddy' Pete Rozelle's private domain, the National Football League.

Recently, in fact this week, Pete told Baltimore Colts, er, Colts that is, owner Robert Irsay that it is very much all right if Mr. Irsay moves his had impression of a professional football team to Indianapolis.

On the other hand — and Pete would very much like to cut this one off — you have the Oakland, Los Angeles, El Segundo — or whatever they're calling themselves — Raiders. Most people are calling them World Champions.

'Daddy' Pete raised such Cain when his arch-rival, and chief competitor among the clans of teams, Al Davis wanted to up and move from the Oakland bay area to nice sunny Southern California that he ended up in court over the matter. And not a very nice court at that from the NFL's point of view.

Granted, Davis' pulling up stakes was a blow because it left the folks across the bay from San Francisco without a team and it may prove to be a major mistake in the long run what with the Rams still claiming Los Angeles although they play near Disneyland.

And let's face it there is already enough havoc being borne about in the world of professional sports without owners getting in on the act by simply deciding the grass is greener elsewhere. Things are unstable enough. Dallas ought to sue for the Cowboys to come back to the Cotton Bowl and New York should try and stake a case against the Giants. No, on second thought let the Giants stay in Jersey — they deserve each other. The Jets can keep them company.

But back to the Raiders-Colts issue. If it was such a major catastrophe for the Raiders to transfer their address then why isn't 'Daddy' Pete making a big deal out of the Colts' decision?

It seems Pete just has a personal vendetta out for old Al baby. Al is the only one of the self professed management that hold a threat to Pete's job. Remember Al was himself once a commissioner and in fact was a force behind the merging of the old AFL and NFL. That guy named Tex in Irving is always touted as commissioner material, but he's one of Pete's boys so that's okay.

Let the Colts go ahead and move anyway, but at least put up an objection or two. The folks of Indianapolis might start making waves, but that remains to be seen.

With the Pacers of the NBA playing in the same city with the once proud, but now broken Colts, Indianapolis will have a hit worthy of Broadway. It will be on view from late July to late March or early April and it will be billed as, "Misery Loves Company."

Hawks knock Northwood for win

In a couple of hitter's games the Howard College Hawks came away with a split in a Region V doubleheader against Northwood Institute of Dallas Saturday at Hawk Field.

The Knights took a wild 20-13 win in the first contest to makeup for a one run loss in Friday's single game. Howard went through John Wilson, David Rodriguez, Kevin Kolodzie and Brian Robbins on the mound with none proving effective.

Northwood banged out a 7-4 lead in the first three innings against the combined arms of Wilson (0-3) and Rodriguez while Kolodzie was nicked for three in an inning and one half.

It was Robbins who had the misfortune of feeling the full wrath of the Knights' bats, however. The sophomore from St. Louis came on the fifth after Kolodzie had manged one out and walked one with Northwood leading 10-9. A long single turned into a round the bases trip for Stephon Hodge via an error in Northwood's outfield. Doug Hatch came home just ahead of Hodge to make the score close. Bobby Behnisch followed Hatch and Hodge with his 10th homerun of year — a monster of a blast over left centerfield.

After Kolodzie's exit, however Robbins gave up a pair of singles and was hurt by an error. Those items added to a 12-9 Knights lead. Another error on a fielder's choice and a sacrifice upped the margin to 14-9. Three singles and a hit batter helped Northwood parlay it all into an 18-9 cushion. Hodge and Doug Myers rounded out Howard's too little, too late surge with their runs in the sixth.

Second game all Hawks

In the second game the Hawks and starting pitcher Kevin Sturday left little to the imagination as they slaughtered the Knights in a game called after five because of the 10-run rule and Howard leading, 13-3 which was the official final.

Sturdy allowed only three hits and struckout three. He did not walk a batter and was backed up by nine Howard hits.

Sturdy retired the first seven batters he faced before Northwood collected a triple which eventually led to the Knights' first run of the game in the third.

By that time the Hawks had already built an 8-0 lead with a three run first and five run second.

Hatch and Jeff Hodges scored on a Hodge triple and Hodge added the third run of the game when Blake Rosson sacrificed to center field.

Five more runs crossed the plate in the forms of Jeff Friesenhahn, Hatch, Hodges, Hodge and Behnisch in the second. After the Knights made their mark in the scorebook, the Hawks whipped another three runs on their side of the ledger behind a double by Hatch, single by Hodges and triple by Hodge. Hatch led the Hawks in the shortened game with three hits. Hodges and Hodge had two each and Hodge paced the team with four rbi's.

The Hawks scored the final runs in the fourth with Friesenhahn and Joey Ortiz doing the honors via Hatch's single and a sacrifice by Hodges.

Howard is 2-1 in Region V action and 11-5 overall. The Hawks will host Allen County of Kansas beginning Tuesday, Mar. 6.

Midland struggles in WJCAC opener, 92-87

The race for the final two spots in the Region V Men's Basketball Tournament got underway Saturday night and defending champion Midland was taken to the limit before taking a 92-87 overtime win over New Mexico JC.

In other games Western Texas beat Phillips, 61-51; South Plains whipped Clarendon, 100-83; and Amarillo ripped NMMI, 100-67.

In games Monday Midland will be at Amarillo and South Plains travels to Western Texas.

Steers turn season's best times in second meet of the season

LUBBOCK — Although the Big Spring Steers didn't qualify a busload of folks to the finals and only scored four more points (6) than in their initial meet of the year, BSHS head track and field coach Randy Britton was all in very pleased with the performances turned in here Saturday at the Lubbock Independent School District Relays.

"Basically the kids did a good job of competing and all of our times were better than at Fort Stockton (the season's first meet)." Britton added, "If we had not shown any progress I would have to worry, but the kids showed that their hard work is paying off."

Jimmy Cearley had the varsity Steers highest finish with third place in the discus (133-0). Eric Sherman tied for the eighth and final spot to the finals in the 100 meters dash withy an 11.5, but missed the chance to better that when he lost a coin flip for the last place.

Another Steer running a personal best, although not qualifying for the finals included Brian Reid with a 43.8 in the 300 intermediate hurdles.

Dale Crenshaw (43.4) and Bobby Madigan (44.4) also competed in the event for Big Spring. Crenshaw's time was good for seventh.

In the relays a bad handoff prevented a finish for the 400 foursome of Eric Sherman, Roddy Fair, Reid and Crenshaw. The 1600 relay of Fair, Derek Logback, Eric Sherman and Crenshaw finished seventh in 3:38.

JV does well

Britton was really enthused over the performances of his JV group. Although a point total was not kept on teams in that division, Big Spring would have undoubtedly finished high based on several individuals.

Dewayne Sherman ran a first place 42.3 in the intermediate hurdles. He had only worked on the event two days prior according to Britton and the younger Sherman's time was a personal best and only two-tenths of a second off the Big Spring sophomore record.

Dax McCracken was first in the 800 meters with a personal best of 2:04 while McCracken joined the trio of Chris Hill, Colin Carroll and Reid on the 1600 relay for first place (3:41). Hill placed fourth in the 400 meters (57.4). McCracken and Sherman, along with Hill and Ray DeLeon finished high in the 400 meter relay with a time of 45.8.

DeLeon was sixth in the 200 meters (25.1).

Stanton girls, boys take titles during running of Buff Relays

STANTON — Both Stanton High School track and field teams took their respective championships in the Third Annual Stanton Invitational Relays held here Saturday.

The Lady Buffalos outdistanced Wall by a slim three points (179-176) while Plains was third, Sands fourth, O'Donnell fifth and Klondike sixth in the girls' division. Stanton was a 143-111 winner over Plains in the battle for first place boys' honors. Wall took third, Forsan fourth, Sands fifth and Klondike, O'Donnell and Grady rounded out the the sixth through eighth spots.

Stanton had a pair of double winners in Dawna West, the daughter of Lady Buffalo head track and field coach Bill West, and Sandra Henry.

Dawna captured the 100 meter low hurdles in a time of 14.86 to easily outdistance the second place time of 18.19. The talented senior also took the 200 meters in 26.91 compared to the runnerup clocking of 29.28. Henry won the shot put with a 36-6 effort and the discus by fling the oval 111-11.

Other first places for the Stanton girls came in the 1600 meter run where Mary Beth Tollison was a winner in 6:03.11 and the 1600 meter relay (4:24.53). Tom of Stanton ytook first place in the 1600 with a time of 14:19.08.

Buffalo boys roll

In claiming their 32 point margin of victory the Buffalo boys received only two individual first places — that from Rocky Barnes in the 400 meters (52.73) and Eddie Thomas in the pole vault (11-0). The Buffs got relay firsts in the 400 (45.89) and 1600 (3:38.42).

Depth played a large part in Stanton's victory.

The Buffalos had Darren Sorley place second in the long jump and 110 high hurdles while more second place points came from Bobby Almagar in the shot Benny Tarnago in the 3200 (11:28.55) and Butch Jordan in the 100 meters (11.95).

After NFL assurances

Young returns Express' mail

NEW YORK (AP) — Brigham Young quarterback Steve Young, object of a month-long pursuit by the Los Angeles Express of the United States Football league, said today he has been assured he will be the first pick in the National Football League draft and has put the USFL team on hold.

Earlier, Young's attorney, Leigh Steinberg, told ABC Radio that Young had decided to wait for the NFL draft on May 1 before making a decision.

But speaking by telephone from Steinberg's office in San Francisco, Young said he had been informed that he would be selected by the Cincinnati Bengals, who have the first pick in the NFL draft.

"Now that we have two options, we hope we can wrap something up before May 1," Young said.

Young, who grew up in Greenwich, Conn., has always been an NFL fan and said he had a long-term desire to play in the older league. And he said that while the money offer from Los Angeles is larger at this point, "money isn't my sole criterion in making a decision."

Steinberg told the Associated Press that the money offered by the Express was "staggering," and would most likely make Young the highest-paid athlete in professional sports. Asked if it was more than the $2 million a year paid New York Yankees slugger Dave Winfield, Steinberg said "substantially more."

One report put the figure at $6 million over four years, with $36 million in deferred payments. Young said it included a scholarship fund at Brigham Young and a separate fund to provide money for Mormon missionaries.

Young, the great-great-grandson of Mormon pioneer leader Brigham Young, is a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

"What they've done is they've researched me very well in terms of what's important to Steve Young, and that's very impressive," Young said of the Express management. "I really feel they've made an effort at doing the right things."

Young would not say how much money was included in the Express offer, which earlier reports have placed at several million dollars over five years. He said Cincinnati had not offered as much money.

"If it was just money, I would have gone to Los Angeles weeks ago," Young said. "As far as which is more lucrative, I'm not a tremendous money guy."

Earlier, the Express signed Young's close friend and favorite collegiate receiver, former BYU tight end Gordon Hudson.

The Express took Young in the first round of the USFL draft. Young, runner-up in the 1983 Heisman Trophy voting, also has spoken frequently with management of Cincinnati, which owns the first selection in the NFL draft in May.

Young said he had anguished for several weeks over the decision, but enjoyed his position.

"I'm where I want to be," said Young, who led BYU to a 12-1 record and a Holiday Bowl victory over Missouri.

Cincinnati owns the first spot in the NFL draft after trading quarterback Jack Thompson for Tampa Bay's first-round selection. Tampa finished with the worst record in the NFL this past season.

The 22-year-old Young set NCAA single-season records for pass completions at 71.3 percent, total offense at 395.1 yards per game, most completions in a season with 306, highest pass-completion percentage in a career with 65.3 percent and 18 games with over 300 yards in total offense.

Barie sets new world record in CH 10-K race

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Tanzania's Zakarie Barie outkicked Australia's Rob de Castella in the final mile and went on to break the world's record by six seconds with a time of 27:43 in the second annual Continental Homes 10-kilometer road race Saturday.

The 24-year-old Barie, who won the NCAA cross country championship in 1983 while running for the University of Texas-El Paso, took the lead in the second mile before de Castella caught up at the six-mile mark.

The two alternated taking the lead for the next 200 yards, then Barie turned it on and shattered Michael Musyoki's world record of 27:49.

The 27-year-old de Castella finished second at 27:47, which also bettered Musyoki's previous standard.

Defending champion Alberto Salazar, who set an American 10K record with a 28:01 clocking here last March 5, came in eighth at 28:18.

"I just didn't have it," said Salazar, 25, who won three New York City Marathons from 1980-82 plus the Boston Marathon in 1982. "I was ready. I just didn't run well. I didn't have that speed at the end."

Seniors Darren Hagen and Rocky Barnes were named to the squad from Stanton. District Champion Wall placed three players in the group.

Hagen, a 6-1 forward averaged 10 points while Barnes, a 6-1 guard also averaged 10 points per contest.

Lady Steers nab fourth in P'view

PLAINVIEW — Big Spring finished fourth here Saturday in the Lady Bulldog Relays.

The Lady Steers received a first place in the 400 meter relay with the team of Aretha and Latresa Cork, Joi Tate and Pam Palmer running 48.97.

The same tandem turned in another gold medal in the 800 relay with a time of 1:45.84. Palmer won her third gold competing in the 200 meters where she won in 25.96.

Palmer was high point girl for the Lady Steers by virtue of another scoring spot when she went fifth in the high jump (4-8).

Other points came from discus thrower Amanda Solis who was sixth (94-8) and the 1600 relay of Lisa Bacon, Tate, Tina Smith and Paula Spears. That group clocked a 4:24.16.

Big Spring loses to Abilene, 10-8

ODESSA — The Big Spring Steers played a little closer in their second day of action at the District 4-AAAAA baseball tournament Saturday, but the Abilene High Eagles managed to edge Big Spring, 10-8 to put the Steers at 0-3 for the season.

Big Spring pounded out 15 hits for an edge in that area over the Eagles who picked up 10. Unfortunately the Steers also had the edge in errors with five miscues charged against them while Abilene was guilty of a pair.

Mike Leuschner was the losing pitcher. Tommy Gartman went four for four to lead Big Spring at the plate. Teammate Sammy Watson had three hits in four trips.

The Steers will play their next game Monday, Mar. 5 when Lubbock Coronado comes calling for a 4 p.m. first pitch.

Steer swim team saves best for last

MONAHANS — Big Spring won't have any swimmers at the state meet in two weeks, but coach Harlan Smith was very pleased with the times turned in by his boy's 200-yard medley relay at the Region I-AAAAA Swim Meet held here Friday and Saturday.

The Steers swam 16th in the relay in a time of 1:57.3. The time turned in by the team of Terry Bordofski, Chad Lofton, Brigham

Martin and Robert Chase, however was the four-some's best of the year. They qualified for the District 4-AAAAA meet in a time of 2:00.3.

Individually Bordofski was ninth in the 100-yard backstroke in a time of 1:03.7

Smith said of his relay, "If you are going to swim your best time the place to do it is at regional or state."

Lombard pulls double duty

With almost equal success as coach of two teams

AUSTIN (AP) — Ramona Heiman's 28 points powered Nazareth to a 64-32 win over Petty West Lamar Saturday, giving the Swiftettes their seventh girls Class A state basketball title in the past eight years.

For Swiftette Coach Joe Lombard, clad in his traditional tuxedo, it was the first half of what he hopes will be a historic double in University Interscholastic League basketball. Lombard also coaches the Swifts, Nazareth's boys team, who are still alive in tournament play.

After a Friday semifinal win here with his girls, Lombard flew to Levelland for a Friday night boys' win over Booker. The boys won a regional semifinal game Saturday morning and Lombard flew back to Levelland for the regional final.

"I'm in the gym all day long," Lombard said of juggling the schedules.

His Swiftettes made quick work of Petty West Lamar, running to a 19-2 lead after the first quarter.

Nazareth, which is 60 miles southwest of Amarillo, finished the season at 35-0.

Heiman, a 5-foot-9 sophomore, hit 13 of 16 field goal attempts and was two of two from the free throw line. West Lamar, 26-4, was led by freshman Danni Battle with 19 points.

After the slaughter, Lombard said, "I don't feel like we played to our potential in either game at the state tournament. At the same time, nobody played us close."

Nazareth lost the state title last year by losing to district rival Sudan in regional play. The Swiftettes had collected six straight state titles before that loss.

This year's Nazareth record include lopsided wins over larger schools that made it to tournament play. The Swiftettes twice ran away from Abernathy, which won the Class 3A state championship Saturday. Nazareth also took two easy wins over Hale Center, which played in the 2A final on Saturday.

Nazareth also beat Levelland, a Class 4A finalist.

Central keeps Hale Center from title

AUSTIN (AP) — Senior Lesa Thigpen banked in a short shot with 42 seconds to play Saturday to give Pollok Central a 37-36 win over Hale Center in the title game of the Class 2A girls state basketball tournament.

Abernathy gets Groesbeck's goat

AUSTIN (AP) — Abernathy, paced by Phoebe Dunn's 29 points, survived a fourth-quarter scare Saturday and beat Groesbeck 67-57 for the girls Class 3A state basketball championship.

The victorious Lady Lopes seemed headed for an easy win when they built a 46-35 lead after the third quarter. But the Groesbeck Goats, sparked by Sherrie Cooks, knotted the game at 51 with 4:25 to play.

Abernathy then ran off six points, including four by sophomore Dunn, to seal the title. Groesbeck had one more chance to tie, but with 1:24 to play the swarming Lady Lopes forced Groesbeck's Linnet Jones into a bad shot that Vicky McKenzie quashed any hopes of another Goat missed everything. comeback by hitting six free throws for Abernathy in the closing minute. McKenzie finished with 21 points, including 13 of 16 free throws. She also added 14 rebounds.

Dunn collected her 29 points by hitting 12 of 15 field goals and five of seven from the line.

Cooks used her sensational speed to pick up 18 points before fouling out with 1:08 to play. Bobbie Whitfield scored 14 and Jones added 13 for the Goats.

Abernathy finished the season at 32-3. Groesbeck posted a 35-2 mark.

Thigpen's last-minute shot capped a comeback that saw the Bulldogs overcome the Owlettes, who led much of the way.

After Thigpen's basket, Hale Center worked the ball inside the Rhonda Nivens, who missed a short shot and then fouled Central's Angie Jacobs.

But Jacobs missed the first half of a 1-1 free throw situation, giving the Owlettes another chance. With 7 seconds to play, Hale Center took the ball on the sidelines but Kristi Lockett missed a shot with 2 seconds to play that would have given Hale Center the state championship.

Central's top scorer was junior Julie Flowers with 10 points. Hale Center relieved heavily on junior Donna Cummings, who hit 24 points.

Central, which is near Lufkin, finishes its season at 29-5. Hale Center, a Panhandle school, finished at 23-10.

AAAA champs lose title, 56-43

AUSTIN (AP) — Maggie Davis put in 23 points as Waco Richfield capped a perfect season Saturday by whipping Levelland 56-43 in the finals of the Girls 4-A State Basketball Tournament.

The Richfield victory over the defending champion Lobos gave the Ramblers, coached by former University of Houston player Poo Welch, a 33-0 season mark. Levelland finished the season at 30-4.

The Ramblers broke open a close game midway through the third quarter. They took the lead for good with 3:38 to play in the period. Tracy McKinney hit a short shot to make the score 31-30.

Richfield led by only a point at halftime.

Late in the fourth quarter the Lobos got sloppy on offense and Richfield ran away with the championship game.

Davis, a 6-0 junior, hit on 10 of 17 field goals and 3 of 5 free throws for her game high of 23. Junior Martha Estable added 14 points for the winners.

Levelland was topped by Darla Isaacks, a 6-0 senior who scored 16. Kamie Schonerdst added 10, and ran the Levelland offense effectively most of the game.

Battling in Class A title game

CLASS A FINAL — Jackie Barry of Petty-West Lamar (14) tries to grab a loose ball as Leona Gerber (32) of Nazareth moves in during the final quarter of the Class A title game in the State Girls Basketball Tournament in Austin. Nazareth ended the season at 35-0 and its eighth state crown in nine years.

Mariah Adversity unifies guard

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

The fate of Mariah, Big Spring High School's award-winning color guard, was up in the air for a day when news of director Bill Bradley's death stunned the members, parents and school.

But Mariah is determined to go on as strong as the wind it was named for. Bradley would have wanted it that way.

"They decided they had to go to the competition (that weekend) because that would be what he wanted," Mariah staff member Bonnie Anderson said.

"We would talk about what he would want, and the kids wanted to do what he wanted. He wasn't the type who would sit around, but had get up and go. We feel like he will always be a part of us no matter what," she said.

"I think the people are pulling harder together and realizing what Mr. Bradley has done, not only in color guard but for their lives," said Robby Roten, a student and rifle captain for Mariah. "He gave people a positive aspect. Nothing about him was negative. He made you feel good as a person.

"He was always rewarding you in his own way. To most of us, he was like a father. You couldn't call him just a teacher, he was your friend," Roten said.

"His dying made the guard stronger than it ever was," said Tina Hillyer, a Mariah flag captain.

Following Bradley's death, Ms. Anderson took over the financial and business responsibilities of Mariah. She was Mariah's assistant director previously. "He always took care of everything. The business part was handled by him. Now I'm doing it. I'm trying to keep up with what he did, and they (the members) are trying to support me and keep me together," she said. "He was so organized. He always had instructions. But we joke to each other now, 'Mr. Bradley, you haven't told us what to do now.'"

A FEW DAYS FOLLOWING Bradley's death, Mariah won first place at its first competition this year at LBJ High School in Austin. The members dedicated their performance to Bradley and performed for him. "The judges felt it was a good show, and it had a good variety of things happening in it," Ms. Anderson said. Mariah's first win motivated the guard to work harder the rest of the season. According to Ms. Anderson, the guard won by six-tenths of a point, a small point spread. "They felt they did their best (at the contest)," Ms. Anderson said. "Mr. Bradley always said, 'if you do your best that is good enough. If you didn't do your best, then we worry about it.'"

To get a wider point spread, more individual practice on the equipment will be needed. "We have sectionals Tuesday and Wednesday to clean up the equipment work. When we say it's dirty, we mean little things need to be perfected — timing, precision, tosses. They have to do their heads and hands the same way," she said. According to Ms. Anderson, Mariah is undefeated in Texas and is trying to keep its winning streak going.

"We're probably a little bit ahead of where we were last year at this time," says Glenn Mellinger, a rifle team captain for Mariah. "The work was a lot harder last year, and it's easier this year. Everyone is catching on faster."

The guard competed in two competitions in the Dallas area this weekend. It will compete in the Rocky Mountain Regional Contest in Denver March 17. It was there two years ago that Bradley and Mariah members realized they had an award-winning style. Before then, the guard thought it was just average.

Each member practices at least six hours a week at two evening rehearsals. Members also attend camps where they donate their entire weekend to color guard practice. The last camp was the weekend before Bradley's death. During spring break, the guard will rehearse a full day the day before leaving for the Denver contest. At Denver, Mariah will compete with guards from at least five states.

Mariah will again attempt to defend its Texas State Color Guard Championship title for the second year in a row at Berger Center in Austin, March 24. Mariah has been the only champion in this two-year-old contest's history.

Prior to the state contest, Mariah will have a dress rehearsal at Runnels Junior High School's Boy's Gym, March 22. Open for public viewing, the guard will present its state contest program twice. "It's our way of thanking the people for their support," says Ms. Anderson.

MARIAH WILL NOT participate in the Winter Guard International Olympics competition this year, an event it won fourth place at last year. "We lost one of our rifles and we felt with five rifles we shouldn't compete," Ms. Anderson said. "It's not the right number in the group. The financial situation is not good, and they would have to fly there and back and miss more school. So we felt we couldn't do it this year."

Mariah is partially supported by the school's budget this year, Ms. Anderson said. The rest of its funding comes from donations and fund raising activities the members and parents are involved in.

"If it wasn't for the parents, I don't know how we would make it. They visit clubs and businesses for donations," Ms. Anderson said. The parents also accompany and provide transportation to the contests.

The parents say they know that Mariah takes a big chunk of time from the kids' schedules. Ms. Anderson said. "But they know where their kids are and know they are in good hands. They trust us."

Mariah members enjoy participating in a color guard, Janice Duncan, a flag captain said. "It's hard on us socially, but we get over it because it's worth it. You feel good about it and are doing something most people can't do. You get to go to a lot of places and learn things from it — like self-discipline — meet people and make friends."

"Just being with a bunch of friends" is one aspect Mellinger likes. "We're one big happy family. The satisfaction is not in winning; it's whether the crowd likes you."

The shows Mariah performs are designed by Victor Mellinger, a student at Texas Tech University, and Tracy Burch, a color guard instructor. To design a show, "you watch other guards and get ideas and adapt the ideas to your style," Ms. Burch said. A doodle on a piece of paper can be a drill design. "You experiment with the equipment work and keep trying (to perfect it) until it works."

MARIAH IS GRADED by five judges at each competition, Ms. Burch said. Two general effects judges look at the overall form of the show, how well it's designed, the crowd's response, emotion displayed with the equipment work, how well the show is staged, how well the performers perform and if the performers seem to enjoy doing the show.

Two individual analysis judges look at the responsibilities of the individual performer. One judges the body and form and the other judges equipment work and the body.

The ensemble analysis judge credits the totality of demands placed upon the performers through form, equipment and body responsibilities.

If the members work hard together and if the public supports them well, they believe they could win the state championship for the third year in a row, the captains say.

TOSSING FLAGS — Mariah members practiced their routines during three rehearsals this week. The award-winning color guard traveled to the Dallas area this weekend for two competitions. In upcoming weeks, the guard will compete in Denver, Colo. and Austin. Mariah is striving to keep its Texas crown for the third year in a row. Mariah members are: Janice Duncan, Tina Hillyer, Diane Boothe, Michelle Deanda, Lori Griffice, Lisa Mason, Keri Myrick, Shelley Neill, Rachel Tedesco, Jane Tercero, Tonya Tompkins, Amy Cox, Robin Butler, Glenn Mellinger, Robby Roten, Todd Badgett, Tim Carroll, Tim Marshall and Calvio Salvador Jr. Mariah staff includes David Armstrong, Bonnie Anderson, Tracy Burch, Victor Mellinger and Steve Waggoner.

Gem and Mineral show

Several things have been going on this week.

The PROSPECTOR'S CLUB has sponsored its annual Gem and Mineral Show at Dora Roberts Exhibit Building this weekend. If you haven't gone by yet, there is still time. Today is the last day.

JAMES B. McNALLEN is visiting his parents MR. AND MRS. G. B. McNALLEN, 2800 Navajo, this week. He is employed by the government and is living in Washington, D.C. He will be here about five days.

BOB and NITA TARBET observed their 25th wedding anniversary Thursday. They also are the proud grandparents of a new granddaughter, TABITHA LEE TARBET, born Feb. 15 in Dallas. Tabitha is the daughter of DAVEY and MELISSA TARBET of Dallas, and also the granddaughter of RONNIE and BETTY SCHMIDT of Birdwell Lane.

LEE NIX retired from her position at the occupational therapy department of Big Spring State Hospital Wednesday. Her fellow employees, children and friends at the hospital threw a party in her honor. About 80 people attended. She received a money tree and other gifts.

Lee is looking forward to her retirement, son JODY NIX says. But she will miss her friends and work at the State Hospital. She plans to travel and spend time with her church, friends and family.

They finally did it and made it public. No more rumors will have to be dispelled now. BILL NEHLS and MARILYN COLLINS are officially engaged. They started letting the cat out of the bag to friends, Feb. 25.

DIANNE JONES has had spinal surgery for removal of a disc recently at Malone-Hogan Hospital. From what I have heard she is doing well and will be dismissed at midweek.

A fund has been set up at Security State Bank for little KARRIE TONN, daughter of MR. AND MRS. JACK TONN.

Karrie was born without a fibula bone in her right leg. Karrie has had a cast on her leg since she was two days old. Doctors changed the cast periodically, then attempted to pull her foot into place. When they got her foot in place, they saw that her right leg was more than two inches shorter than her left. Eight months ago, the Tonns thought they might have to have Karrie's leg amputated until one day when Mrs. Tonn came across an article about a Pittsburgh, Pa. doctor who replaced a bone in a child's foot. She called the doctor and was told to bring Karrie to Pittsburgh, where Karrie underwent a 13-hour, extensive surgery Sept. 28. She has had another surgery since then and continues to fly to Pittsburgh for checkups and treatment.

The fund was established to help with Karrie's expenses. Although everything has been a blessing to her and her family, the Tonns are having a difficult time financing all the hospital bills and flights to and from Pennsylvania, MONA LOU TONN says.

ANNIE MATT ANGEL was the keynote speaker at a Business and Professional Women's "Boss Night Banquet" at the country club in Hobbs, N.M. this week. She mixed a little sense with nonsense and presented her speech based on the topics of "Sense and Nonsense" and "Brass Hat Our Executives." Until next week...

Engagement

ENGAGED — Bettye Holder of Wimberley, and Eddie McLain of Big Spring announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Tracy McLain, to Peter L. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Allen of Taylor. The couple will be married at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Austin. The Rev. Charles Davis, priest, will officiate.

Plans for party made at meeting

Plans for a cocktail party and arrangements for the Valentine's Charity Ball were the main topics of discussion at the Feb. 7 meeting of Alpha Phi Delta. Alpha Phi Delta is a chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority.

The meeting was at the home of Beckie Baker.

New Grapefruit 'Super Pill' Guarantees Fast Weight Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special)—An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

"Pill Does All the Work"

According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs." It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately.

Pill Contains ALL Daily Vitamins

The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill". It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Contains Japanese 'Glucomannan'

Each pill also contains an amazingly effective amount of "glucomannan", the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public

You can order your supply of these highly successful "super" grapefruit pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail order only) by sending $12 for a 14-day supply (or $20 for a 30-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Citrus Industries, 9903 Santa Monica Bl., Dept. T94, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not satisfied.) Visa, MasterCard, and Amer. Express OK. (Send card number, expiration date, and signature.) Copyright 1984.

Silhouettes plan pageant

Silhouettes of America, a youth development program for ages three to 17, will hold a pageant at Forsan High School Auditorium in Forsan, March 24.

Pageant modeling requirements for girls are a party dress and casual sportswear. Boys need a suit and tie and sportswear. Talent routines should not exceed three minutes 10 seconds. All contestants will have a short interview with judges.

A "beauty only" category has been added this year. One and two year olds may enter this category and photogenic only. Contestants will model party dress only. Extra modeling categories and talent competition also may be entered by contestants.

Girl Scouts celebrate birthday

Girl Scouts will be celebrating its 72nd birthday, March 12. "We Found a New World" is this year's theme.

Girl Scouting in America was started by Juliette "Daisy" Gordon Low in 1912. It was Juliette Low's commitment to high ideals, confidence in the abilities of girls, and sense of new horizons for women that led her to call to order the first meeting. Now, 30 million girls and adults are involved in Girl Scouting.

Girl Scout Week, March 11-17, serves to remind others that for 72 years, girls have been having fun, gaining solid learning experiences and enriching their worlds through Girl Scouting.

These are judged separately from the pageant and are not required.

For information contact Ida Lou Beall at 263-0930 or 263-8107, or Tena Henkel at 263-8745 after 5 p.m. Entry blanks may be picked up at Helen's, The Kids' Shop, Grandmother's Delight, The Cottage, Connie's, and Spoiled Rotten.

BIRDVIEW HOTLINE

By Tom Arcand

Why buy half of a satellite system when you can buy a "whole" system from Birdview?

Birdview's Dual LNA System has these important features:

AUTOMATIC FINE TUNING — No more trying to "tweak" the fine-tuning control for the best possible picture — Birdview gives it to you automatically!

DUAL LNA — An LNA is a low-noise amplifier. It is the heart of the satellite receiver since it is the first stage the signal goes through after its 23,000 mile trip from the satellite. Most satellite systems have a single LNA. The signals sent from the satellite are sent on a horizontal and vertical polarity (this is done to prevent one signal from interfering with another). This means that those systems with a single LNA must physically move the LNA into the correct position. Usually the customer must remember to do this ... or no picture!

Birdview's Dual LNA System automatically selects the correct polarity, allowing you to concentrate on what you bought a satellite system for ... hassle-free viewing.

Multiple Receiver Hookups — After you have had your system for a while, you start to think about expanding it to other rooms for greater convenience in viewing. Ideally, you would want to be able to view everything available on a certain satellite without having to worry about missing half of what is available because you needed to switch the polarity. With Birdview's Multiple Receiver System, you can view everything available on a satellite from the convenience of your bed or easy-chair. You can split the signal to as many rooms as you like and each viewer can watch any channel they want completely independent of any other receiver. Again, only the Dual LNA system can give you this kind of flexibility.

Remote Control Operation — Increased convenience for the viewer, allowing you to choose the channel you want to watch from your chair.

Only Birdview Engineering gives you all these features in one package.

Why buy half a system when you can buy a whole system from Arcand Electronics at 905 Johnson — 267-5100.

Engagement policy

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald from anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks before the wedding.

We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this.

The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form should be signed by the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or parents of either.

We will use a picture of the couple or the bride-elect. The picture must be of a quality that will reproduce well in the newspaper. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to our paper. If only grandparents live in our area, please, give their names and addresses.

The information may be brought by the Lifestyle Department of the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry, or mailed to the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

Call us at (915) 267-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

A hairbrush is a beauty tool that should be cared for. Wash your brush once a week, more frequently if you have oily hair, in a basin of warm water and a small amount of mild shampoo. Soak and swish the brush in the soapy water for a few minutes, then, rinse in clear water. Take care not to subject wood-handled brushes to prolonged soaking. Remove excess water with a shake and place the brush, bristle side down, on a towel to dry. A brush that has broken plastic bristles should be replaced as should a natural bristle brush that has become too soft.

From a casual hairstyle to an elegant hairdo, LA CONTESA can meet your every need. We offer you all the latest in hair fashion for '84. Our staff keeps up to date on all the fashion trends and techniques necessary to achieve the finest in hair care. Come in and discuss your needs. We are located at 1508 Marcy. We are here to serve you Tues.-Sat. For an appointment, call us at 267-2187.

Dear Abby

Good example is best religious training

DEAR ABBY: Concerning your response to "Conscientious Mother," I would agree that consistency in religious training is essential, but far more important than going to the same church every Sunday is for parents to live daily lives that embody the best and most noble tenets of all religions.

If you take your children to the same church every Sunday and then set negative examples, you might as well take them to the pool hall for all the good it will do them. True religion is taught first in the home, and then in the church.

JIM ENGLISH

DEAR MR. ENGLISH: Thanks for saying in plain English what all churchgoing people need to know. To recap the letter to which you refer: The divorced mother of two daughters, 8 and 11, had custody of the girls, but their father had them every other weekend. Father had remarried and joined his wife's church (Baptist). The children had been baptized Catholic and had attended Mass every Sunday. Father wanted to take the girls to the Baptist church every other Sunday. Mother thought consistency in their religious upbringing was important—that going back and forth between the Catholic and Baptist services would only confuse them, so Father should take the girls to Catholic services when he had them for the weekend.

I agreed with Mother. Well, an avalanche of letters hit my desk—overwhelmingly critical of my view. Some said, "Of course you'd agree with the mother because you're Catholic." (I'm not. I'm Jewish.)

Most insisted that unless we are exposed to many different religious views, including Lutheran, Methodist, Jewish, Christian Science, Mormon and even atheism, we can't be expected to make an intelligent choice.

I agree. A variety of religious beliefs should indeed be studied, but I maintain that children under 10 should be brought up to believe in one church. To alternate weekly between the Catholic and Baptist churches at such a tender age would only confuse them.

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. There is a guy at work who is around 35, married and obsessed with me. I am in my mid-20s and single.

He leaves flowers on my desk, calls me on the phone and drops notes on my desk. Once he appeared drunk at my home looking for me. Today he handed me a note asking me to marry him!

I told him I care for him only as a friend, but that did not discourage him. He continued pestering me, so I finally told him to please leave me alone. I hate to resort to informing his supervisors because I don't want to see him lose his job.

A lot of women must have this problem. How should I handle it?

HARASSED IN MILFORD, N.J.

DEAR HARASSED: Tell him that you never date married men, and that if he continues to harass you, you will report him to his supervisor. And if that doesn't cool him down, report him.

Dr. Donohue

To cast or not to cast?

Dear Dr. Donohue: My son had a knee injury at the end of the football season and was very uncomfortable for many weeks with an ugly cast. We have noticed that often, injuries don't require casts. How is the decision made as to whether or not to cast a limb for such an injury? — M.M.

The question, to cast or not to cast, is usually answered by learning the degree of stability of the joint involved. For example, ligaments are important to the joint's stability. If ligaments have been torn or badly stretched to the point where the limb can be manipulated in abnormal ways, then casting is required so that further damage does not occur and the joint will have the best chance to heal itself. Such soft-tissue injuries, like those to muscles, tendons and cartilage do not show up on regular X-rays, so in many cases careful manipulation of the joint is the only way to tell just how much damage has occurred.

The doctor can tell much about a joint's stability or instability by comparing its range of motion with that of the corresponding joint on the opposite limb, the uninjured one. And just as important as the casting itself is the care taken in rehabilitation of the joint once the case is removed.

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have had headaches, not the kind that just come on for no reason, but the kind that come with certain motions of my body, and also when I have to sneeze, etc. Is this what is called "exertional headache"? Can you explain this term? — R.L.

Yes, exertional headache is the kind one might get from performing certain movements, like stooping over to lift a weight, or when coughing or sneezing. Such headaches should not be dismissed because they can be important signs of pressure against the brain, pressure which is aggravated during such motions. That possibility has to be investigated.

If no cause is found, then the headache falls into the "benign exertional" category. Such headaches can usually be relieved with simple drugs, like indomethacin. I advise you to interrupt your present physical training program, at least long enough to have your symptoms evaluated.

Headaches — you can beat them! Write to Dr. Donohue, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "How to Tame Headaches." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

By LILA ESTES

Q. My wife and I are looking for our first house, we're confused about a lot of things. What bearing do zoning laws have on where we buy?

A. Zoning is the way communities decide what their neighborhoods will be like. For example, in an area zoned residential, it is illegal for someone to build a factory. In an area zoned single family dwellings, one cannot erect an apartment complex. It is a good idea to look into the zoning laws of an area in which you are interested. More than one family has purchased a home on what they thought was a quiet street, only to have a bowling alley move in next door — because the area was zoned part residential and part commercial. Before definitely settling on a specific area of town, check with your realtor about its zoning.

Educational film on acne available

"Facing up to Acne," a new educational film from the American Academy of Dermatology, will be available in the Big Spring area the last week of March or the first week of April, says Dr. Thomas Long, Malone and Hogan Clinic dermatologist. Designed to combat the myths of acne, to help teenagers understand proper self-care and hygiene, and to explain various ways acne can be treated, this educational service is aimed at junior and senior high teenagers. Its producers suggest use of the film by schools, Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts, YMCAs, 4-H clubs, college students, PTAs and other parent and civic groups. Acne is a concern for 80 percent of teenagers, according to the Academy. With a variety of antibiotics, topical agents and the new drug Ac-cutane, all acne can now be controlled, Long says. Accutane, which has been available for prescription use for only about a year, works by stopping secretion of sebum by the sebaceous glands. It is used against severe cystic, nodular acne that has not responded to other treatments. In addition to a free-loan, 25-minute motion picture, the "Facing up to Acne" package comes with a comprehensive teacher/discussion leader package that includes a discussion guide, two take-home pieces in spirit master format for duplication and a teaching poster. Groups interested in reserving the film and materials should call Dr. Long at 267-6361. There is no charge. The film will be available for only one week.

 One beautiful place.
Jewels & Gems

The size of a pearl is measured by its diameter in millimeters. Note that a millimeter is approximately one-twenty-fifth of an inch. The prices of pearls generally increase with size because larger pearls are scarcer than smaller pearls. Formerly the unit of weight was the grain, which is equal to about 50 milligrams or one-fourth of a carat. Fine pearls are still sometimes measured this way. In the cultured pearl industry, the standard of weight is the momme, which is a Japanese term pronounced "mommie." Each momme is three-fourths of an ounce. A 6-millimeter pearl necklace, for example, would weigh about 5 momme.

For the ultimate in fine jewelry, watches sales and service and distinctive gift items we cordially invite you to plan a visit with us at BLUM'S JEWELERS today. Conveniently located at 222 Main, 267-6335 we not only offer exquisite jewelry, famous brand name watches and such exciting gifts as Waterford crystal, porcelains, Reed & Barton Silverplate; but the personal service that makes all of the difference. MasterCard & Visa accepted. Hours: Mon.-Sat. 9:30 am-5:30 pm. No two pearls are exactly alike.

Welch-McGraw

Connie Lynn Welch became the bride of Scott McGraw during a Saturday evening wedding ceremony at 14th and Main Church of Christ. Royce Clay, minister, officiated at the 7 p.m. rite before a large candle tree decorated with sword fern. The candle tree was flanked by two smaller candle trees. Accenting the candle trees were topiary trees of sword fern. A unity candle and twin arrangements of gerber daisies in shades of pink, hot pink and wine completed the setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Welch, 2702 Ann Dr. Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. McGraw, Midland, are parents of the bridegroom.

The Midland Golf Course Road Church of Christ Acappella Wedding Chorus performed music for the ceremony. Solos were given by Tim Walker and Mary Overall.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk organza gown enhanced with Alencon lace, bridal pearls and French crystals. The fitted bisque bodice was overlaid with Alencon lace forming a sheer yoke of silk English netting. Long slim sleeves of English netting with lace appliques that came to a point at the wrist. The slim A-line skirt of silk organza and English net was embellished with lace forming a front panel. Soft gathers at the back created the chapel-length train.

A Juliet cap of Alencon lace, pearls, crystals and silk satin roses formed the headpiece that held her fingertip-length veil of silk French illusion.

She carried a cascade of white French lilies, rubrum lilies, snowflake mums, pink roses accented with English ivy, and a ruffle fern atop a white Bible. The bride's mother carried the Bible at her wedding.

Rena Mullins of Stillwater, Okla., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kendall Waddill of Denton, Marta Whitten of Midland, and Marybeth Perkins of Mesquite. Robyn McGraw, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Mark Batson of Austin was best man. Groomsmen were Kyle McGraw and Tim McGraw, both of Midland and Travis McGraw of Abilene, all brothers of the bridegroom. Ushers were Paul Condit of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and Jeff Hartsell of Lubbock. Cameron Epley of Del City, Okla., cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, the couple was feted with a reception at the church's Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth and centered with a three-tiered cake assembled on a fountain. Pink sweetpeas and a bride and bridegroom ornament adorned the top tier. Multiple two-tier cakes were joined by stairways, which held a procession of bridesmaids and groomsmen. The cake was flanked on both sides by a silver candelabrum and greenery. The bridegroom's table was draped with an ecru cloth and lace overlay. A two-tiered chocolate cake decorated with marzipan fruit and topped with a confection oil derrick was served.

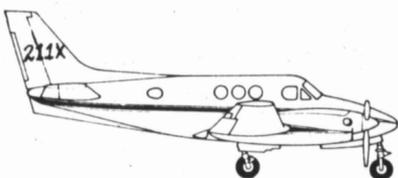

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Abilene Christian University in Abilene. She is employed by Sakowitz in
