How's that? Rights

Q. When must a person's rights be read to him or her during an arrest?

Capt. Lonnie Smith of the Big Spring Police Department said a person's rights, or the Miranda warnings, must be read before any questioning can be done or if a subject decides to volunteer any information about criminal activities. If no questioning is needed then the warnings do not have to be read.

Smith said when a person has committed a county offense, "they will have their rights read to them by a magistrate who reads the warning and sets bond."

Perot panel OK's school reform plan

DALLAS (AP) — An educational reform plan scaled down to under $1 billion is on its way to the Legislature after receiving final approval from its creators — the Select Committee on Public Education.

The committee voted Thursday to postpone some costly items in its blueprint for a revamped public school system in Texas, but maintained the heart of the package.

If approved by the Legislature in a special session expected this summer, students will spend more time in the classroom and will have more homework. Teachers will be better paid and will work under a "career ladder," but will have to take basic skills tests. Extracurricular activities and sports will be limited.

The committee promised teachers an across-the-board 10 percent increase in the minimum salary scale.

"I do believe we have the foundation here for great progress in the education system in Texas," Gov. Mark White after final approval of the report. "I believe the people of Texas will applaud the work of this committee."

Just to make sure, the governor said he and the state's other top elected officials will tape television commercials aimed at selling the reforms — and the tax hike needed to pay for it — to the public before a special session of the Legislature.

The blue-ribbon committee chaired by Dallas businessman H. Ross Perot, meeting formally for the last time after 10 months of study, scaled its plans back from a package of more than $2.4 billion to one of more than $967 million.

Most of that money is earmarked for teacher salaries and "equalization aid" to poor school districts.

In its final report, the committee left intact reforms approved last month that will not cost new tax revenue, such as limiting extracurricular activities and sports, requiring more homework and giving teachers basic skills tests.

Both White and Perot said they believed that if the program is implemented, it would give Texas one of the finest public education systems in the country and ease the state's transition from an oil and

Montford to stage meetings

State Senator John T. Montford will be holding town hall meetings throughout the 28th Senatorial District on the recent report issued by the Governor's Select Committee on Public Education.

Montford will be at Big Spring High School Monday, May 7, at 7 p.m.

The Select Committee, headed by Dallas businessman H. Ross Perot, recently issued a report with recommendations for changes in public schools.

"These town hall meetings will give me the opportunity to visit with people and get their ideas on these various changes which have been suggested," Montford said.

Some of the suggested changes include adding of 10 days to the school year, opening school to 4-year-olds for an optional pre-kindergarten program, and lowering the compulsory age for beginning school from 7 to 5.

Other proposals include a reduction in funding for vocational programs, a requirement that teachers pass a basic skills test, establishment of a career ladder for teachers that would take them from the rank of teacher to master teacher, and replacing the State Board of Education with an appointed board.

"Indications are that Gov. White will call a special session to discuss these education proposals in mid-May or early June," Montford said.

Montford is a member of the Senate Education Committee which will be involved in shaping the legislation affecting public education.

Other town hall meetings will be held at Ackerly in the Sands school auditorium at 5 p.m. Monday, May 7.

People who cannot attend the meetings may mail their opinions to Sen. John Montford, P.O. Box 1709, Lubbock, Texas, 79408.

Borden Co. readying to fight N-dump

By JIM BROWN
Staff Writer

GAIL — Borden County officials are organizing residents to fight a proposed nuclear waste dump here.

County Judge Van York said yesterday the group probably will be organized in about 10 days to combat proposals by the state Low Level Radioactive Waste Authority to locate a waste disposal site here.

The state currently is negotiating with a Borden County land owner for purchase of several hundred acres.

York said the group is being formed along the lines of a similar organization in Hudspeth County that has so far successfully opposed proposals to build a waste dump on land owned by the University of Texas in that county.

York said the Hudspeth County organization hired a Washington, D.C., law firm that specializes in environmental law.

Residents of Hudspeth County raised over $10,000 in their fight to stop construction of the dump, he said.

U.T. regents decided during their last meeting they would have to review extensive environmental impact studies before giving further consideration to relinquishing land for the dump. They cited negative reports from environmentalists as a major reason for their decision.

And Borden County resident Pat Porter says the community here is also alarmed over the possibility of a federal high level nuclear dump in Swisher County.

High Plains Water District director Bob Wyatt said Swisher County, located in the Panhandle, is situated on the Ogallala aquifer, which also runs under Borden County.

"Communities downstream like Gail would be in more danger... if there was a nuclear accident," Wyatt said.

Swisher County residents also have organized to fight the federal waste dump.

Surge in economy may be temporary

By The Associated Press
Economic growth will slow for the rest of 1984 as businesses begin to sell off the big inventories that helped boost the gross national product in the first three months, economists in and out of government predicted.

On Wall Street, where markets were closed today because of the Good Friday holiday, prices opened lower Thursday on the New York Stock Exchange after the Commerce Department reported the economy grew at an annual rate of 8.3 percent in the first three months of the year.

Although the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks managed a late rally to close 1.57 points higher at 1,158.08, analysts said investors were concerned that the strong growth would raise business credit demands, keeping upward pressure on interest rates.

The Commerce Department's report said economic growth based on the gross national product was up from 5 percent in the last three months of 1983.

But the Reagan administration, concerned that fears of renewed inflation could push interest rates higher, stressed its belief that economic expansion was slowing to a moderate, more sustainable rate with inflation under control.

"Although there may appear to have been a sharp spurt in demand, there is less there than meets the eye," said Martin Feldstein, the president's chief economist.

LUCAS CONFERENCE — Representatives from the 118th District attorney's office have been invited to a May conference to discuss where Henry Lee Lucas will next be tried.

DA's office invited to Lucas conference

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Representatives from the 118th District attorney's office have been invited to a May 3 conference in Georgetown to discuss where self-confessed mass murderer Henry Lee Lucas will be tried next.

According to Texas Ranger Sgt. Bobby Prince, who heads a task force on Lucas, letters were mailed Friday by 26th District Attorney Ed Walsh to Texas prosecuting attorneys in counties where Lucas is a suspect. The letters invite the prosecutors to discuss the merits of their cases against Lucas.

The May meeting is an effort to determine the order of the cases Lucas will be tried for on the merits of prosecutors' cases, Prince said. Prior to the formation of the task force, the order of cases was determined by which area was able to obtain court orders on Lucas, Rangers said.

"At the conference, I hope they will decide who is next in line," Prince said. "They will meet to discuss the quality of their cases."

Prosecutors are attempting to find a capital murder case to obtain a second death penalty against Lucas, in case the first one is overturned on appeal, Prince said.

Lucas, who admits to more than 360 murders, was condemned to death April 13 by a San Angelo jury for the Williamson County murder and sexual assault of an unidentified female hitchhiker.

In addition, he has been found guilty of three other Texas

Ex-Hitler deputy turns 90

BERLIN (AP) — Rudolf Hess marks his 90th birthday next week in West Berlin's Spandau prison with the Soviet Union still adamantly blocking parole for Adolf Hitler's former deputy.

A prisoner since his "peace flight" to Britain in 1941, Hess appears destined to serve out the life sentence imposed by the Nuremberg war crimes tribunal for his role in planning and carrying out Nazi Germany's war of aggression.

His son, Wolf Ruediger Hess, a Munich businessman, has applied to visit him on his birthday, April 26, as he did last year. Other family members may also go along.

Hess has been the only prisoner since 1966 at Spandau, which is operated by the Four Power victors over Nazi Germany — the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

The Western powers have long urged his release on "humanitarian grounds," with Britain renewing the appeal April 16. But Moscow insists that Hess remain behind bars as a "symbol of the victory over Hitler fascism."

In West Germany, Hess is referred to as the "world's most expensive prisoner." The Bonn government has spent the equivalent of $7.7 million to pay for the prison since 1966.

An official wall of silence has been erected around Hess, with the Allies refusing to comment and his family, which is permitted monthly visits, forbidden from discussing his situation.

An informant who could not be identified in any way told The Associated Press that Hess is in remarkably good health for his age despite reported stomach and circulation problems in recent years.

The source said the aging Hess refuses to make use of a $47,300 elevator built last year to ferry him to and from his tiny cell to the prison yard where he is permitted daily walks — twice around the area bounded by a high brick wall.

The informant said Prisoner No. 7, the last surviving member of the Nazi hierarchy, is awakened daily at 6 a.m. in his 9-by-7½ foot cell and given breakfast an hour later.

He is permitted to read four newspapers daily, all censored of references to his case or the Nazi regime — a subject he is forbidden to read about or discuss, according to the terms of his imprisonment.

Hess can receive and write one letter per month and watch some television if he submits a request in advance.

Although Hess is forbidden to see anyone connected with the Third Reich, the informant said he came on a published report about the bogus "Hitler diaries" published by Stern magazine last year and found the hoax amusing.

Once a month, Hess is permitted a family visitor for one hour. An extra Christmas visit is allowed for a two-hour period. Meetings take place in a special room, separated by a wooden wall with an open window, in the presence of the four Allied wardens of Spandau. No body contact is permitted.

The informant said Hess's son usually visits. His elderly and ailing wife, Ilse, last visited Spandau prison in October 1981.

Authorities have not said what will become of Spandau prison after Hess' death.

There is speculation that the prison, a former Prussian military jail built for 600 inmates, may be razed. However, the Soviets have proposed turning the building into a memorial for victims of the Nazi regime.

Spandau prison and an air traffic security installation are the only Four Power agencies still operating in West Berlin.

The West Berlin government has suggested modernizing the prison to handle the overflow of criminals now jailed in city penal institutions.

Hess became the only prisoner in 1966 after former Nazi Armaments Minister Albert Speer was released. Seven Nazi war criminals served time at Spandau starting in 1947.

The son of a German export businessman, Hess was born April 26, 1894, in Alexandria, Egypt, and later returned to Germany for schooling.

He was an early Nazi supporter and devoted Hitler follower, taking dictation for "Mein Kampf" from the Nazi dictator during their imprisonment following the abortive 1923 Munich "Beer Hall Putsch."

But the Fuehrer later denounced Hess as a madman after Hess, wearing a Luftwaffe uniform, flew a Messerschmidt from the Bavarian city of Augsburg across the North Sea to Scotland in what he insisted was a private mission to make a separate peace with Britain.

He was condemned to life imprisonment at Nuremberg for planning and waging aggressive war, but was acquitted on charges of committing war crimes.

Additional tax revenue needed to fund the Perot committee's plan could be raised through a one-cent increase in the sales tax or a combination of so-called luxury or "sin" taxes.

"We think this is an obtainable figure," Lewis said.

White acknowledged that it would be difficult to convince lawmakers to raise taxes during an election year, but added: "The worst thing we can do in an election year is to turn our backs on the real needs of the state of Texas."

Ruby" types, Prince said.

If his office is invited to the conference, Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard said he would consider sending a representative "if it were of substance. I would have to review it first."

Officials from the 118th District attorney's office say it is unlikely Lucas will be tried in Howard County "for quite a while," although Lucas and his sometime traveling companion, Otis Elwood Toole, are charged in a capital murder here.

"We just don't have any physical evidence," Assistant District Attorney Don Richard said. "The only thing we have linking him to the murder is his statement."

"The future of the state and the future of our cities — the future of San Antonio and El Paso — is tied to getting this new educational system," said Perot, founder and chairman of Electronic Data Systems, a Dallas computing company.

To trim its program, the committee recommended that the 175-day school year be extended by five days instead of 10 and that class size limits be dropped to only 20 students in first and second grades. Originally, the committee had recommended class sizes be limited to 15 students in grades one through four.

The committee also put off until 1988 plans to extend the seven-hour school day by two hours for optional extracurricular activities, and tutoring and requiring a full day of kindergarten for 5-year-olds.

O'DONNELL

AUSTIN (AP) — Peter O'Donnell Jr., a Dallas investor and former state chairman of the Texas Republican Party, was the anonymous benefactor behind an $8 million gift to the University of Texas, the Austin American-Statesman said today.

The American-Statesman said O'Donnell declined to discuss the contribution publicly, but several sources confirmed that the Dallas philanthropist made the contribution.

UT officials announced Monday that an anonymous donor had agreed to give $8 million to endow faculty positions in science and engineering if UT could generate another $8 million from private sources.

Five major foundations came forward to match the $16 million. That $16 million was matched by UT through a university program called the regents endowed teachers and scholars program.

The money will be used to create 32 chairs in science and engineering endowed for $1 million each.

UT President Peter Flawn told the American-Statesman he would neither confirm nor deny the identity of the anonymous contributor.

Flawn said the donor approached him about the gift before Christmas.

"He was very much concerned with science and engineering education around the country and he thought it should be accelerated. He investigated and

Police arrest local man

on sex assault warrant

Ronnie Ray Rayos, 24, of 2536 Hunter was arrested Thursday night at the Big Spring Police Department on a warrant for sexual assault of a child.

Rayos was placed under a $10,000 bond set by Judge Lewis Hefflin and later released after bond was posted.

Rayos was arrested March 23 for indecency with a child in connection with an incident involving "several other" juveniles on the west end of town, said police Capt. Lonnie Smith.

Smith said "another victim came in" to the police department this week to identify Rayos in connection with the March 23 incident.

Rayos was placed under a $17,000 bond in relation to the first incident. He was out on bail at the time of his arrest Thursday.

100 absentee ballots cast so far

In the Democratic primary, 97 persons have voted in the office, 42 have requested ballots mailed to them and one person has returned his ballot.

Fifty-two Republicans have requested ballots by mail, nine have voted in the office and four have returned their ballots, figures show.

The clerk's office is closed today and will open again at 8 a.m. Monday.

Stevie speaks at Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Musician Stevie Wonder never attended college, but he received 10 standing ovations during a visit to Harvard Law School, where he led 1,200 students in a sing-along and urged them to help the poor.

Wonder, appearing as a guest of the Harvard Law School Forum, was greeted Thursday by prolonged cheering and shouts of "We love you, Stevie" from the packed house.

"OK, Harvard," the 33-year-old singer asked once the cheering had stopped. "Will you have the courage to share your experiences? Will you speak out in those affluent crowds?"

Wonder, who began his hit-studded career at age 12, encouraged the future attorneys to provide their services to the poor for free.

"In my career, I've learned that giving of services free gives you a great return on your investment," he said. "Not just financially, but morally..."

The audience joined in a rendition of Wonder's classic hit "You Are the Sunshine of My Life" and the song "Let's Join Together as One ... and Have Some Fun." Afterwards, the winner of 23 Grammy awards jokingly reprimanded them, saying, "You messed up."

An organization of black law students presented Wonder with an award, and the university also gave him a plaque honoring his efforts to establish a national holiday in honor of Martin Luther King Jr.

Skelton's reruns may air

LOS ANGELES — Red Skelton's TV comedy shows, which he once threatened to destroy, may be reaching the nation's home screens again this year. "I was going to release them last year in half-hour versions, but I ran into a snag," the comedian remarked during a recent interview with The Associated Press.

"It turned out that the producers and directors of the shows messed up themselves by throwing their relatives in as extras and bit players," he said. "All of them have to be paid when the shows are re-released, even if they don't appear. So now I plan to release the shows in hour form."

Skelton, whose characterizations included The Mean Widdle Kid, Clem Kadiddlehopper, Sheriff Deadeye and Willie Lump-Lump, was one of television's most enduring stars. He was on NBC and CBS from 1951-71.

Cronkite told to take a rest

TEMPE, Ariz. — A ceremony to present the Walter Cronkite Excellence in Journalism and Telecommunications awards at Arizona State University has been postponed because a doctor ordered the veteran anchorman to take it easy, a CBS News spokeswoman says.

Cronkite was scheduled to present the awards at a luncheon April 27 to CBS founder William S. Paley and CBS President Emeritus Frank Stanton. Paley, Stanton and Cronkite will attend a rescheduled ceremony in the fall, Ann Bergin, the university's public relations director, said Thursday.

Ann Morfogen, a CBS News spokeswoman in New York, said Cronkite's doctor told the broadcaster he was overworked and should take the week off. Cronkite plans to return to work on Monday, she said.

Libyan siege continues

LONDON (AP) — Police strengthened barricades around the besieged Libyan Embassy today and Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, back from a visit to Portugal, drove straight to her country retreat for a briefing on the diplomatic standoff.

Both London and the government of Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy are taking tough stands in the four-day showdown. Khadafy says he will settle for nothing less than an end to the siege while London is demanding to search the Libyan Embassy and question those inside about the shooting incident which began the confrontation.

In Tripoli today, Britain's Libyan ambassador, Oliver Miles, met for the second time in as many days with Libya's foreign minister, Ali Abdulsalam Treiki. "Both sides reaffirmed their wish to conclude matters in a peaceful manner," said a spokesman at the Foreign Office in London who declined to be identified.

In London, top government officials assembled at 10 Downing Street while police continued talking via telephone to the Libyans holed up in the embassy. Scotland Yard spokesman John Miller said the conversations were "cordial."

Lemonade, candy bars and American cigarettes were sent in before dawn and "talks are continuing as and when necessary," Miller said. He declined to elaborate.

The confrontation began Tuesday after a gunman firing from the embassy sprayed 70 peaceful anti-Khadafy demonstrators with submachine gun fire, killing a young policewoman and wounding 11 protesters.

Scaffolding and other materials were moved in to strengthen the 20-foot-high blinds of blue plastic sheeting blocking off the six streets that run into fashionable St. James's Square where the Libyan "People's Bureau" is ringed by marksmen.

Spectators who have gathered daily at the entrance from Regent Street, one of London's main shopping zones, can see only police officers and blue-bereted, flak-jacketed Scotland Yard snipers moving in and out of the barricaded area.

Still, the crowds reach up to 100 people at a time, and Scotland Yard said today, "We're expecting larger crowds than usual over the long Easter weekend. We're taking routine precautions."

Gemayel to pick new cabinet

BEIRUT — President Amin Gemayel returned from Syria today with plans to form a new Cabinet quickly to steer Lebanon out of civil war, sources said. Rival militiamen shook hands and withdrew from the capital's center as truce observers moved in.

Lebanese government sources said Gemayel would appoint a new Sunni Moslem prime minister within the next few days to form a half-Christian, half-Moslem Cabinet. There were reports from Syria that opposition Druse leader Walid Jumblatt and Shiite Moslem Amal leader Nabih Berri would receive Cabinet posts.

The plans for the new Cabinet were made after Gemayel met for 11 hours Thursday with President Hafez Assad of Syria.

At least three hours of the summit talks were devoted to a new approach to achieve an Israeli withdrawal from southern Lebanon, said the Lebanese sources, who spoke on the condition of anonymity. The sources refused to elaborate on the reported new approach concerning the Israelis.

AMIN GEMAYEL

Also today, 1,800 Lebanese policemen and army conscripts began moving into buffer zones in the second stage of a two-day operation aimed at disengaging warring militias in and around Beirut.

About 1,500 members of the disengagement force began moving today into 32 positions along the "green line" separating Christian east Beirut from the mostly Moslem west.

Just before the truce force took their positions, Jean Ghanem, a representative of the Christian Lebanese Forces, smiled and shook hands with a leader of the Shiite Moslem Amal militia. "Now we can shake hands and have peace," Ghanem said.

Leftists claim copter attack

MANAGUA — Two U.S. senators conferred here with Nicaragua's vice foreign minister, and leftist rebels in El Salvador said it was their gunfire that hit and forced down the senators' helicopter two days ago.

Sens. J. Bennett Johnston and Lawton Chiles met with Victor Hugo Tinoco, vice foreign minister of the leftist Sandinista government, soon after their arrival Thursday. Details of the discussions were not disclosed.

In El Salvador, a military commander said the army had beaten back a coordinated leftist rebel offensive on several towns in Morazan province, and in Costa Rica a spokesman for anti-Sandinista rebels said his group's forces had withdrawn from a Nicaraguan port town seized earlier in the week.

Prior to the meeting with Tinoco in Managua, Johnston, a Louisiana Democrat, said he and Chiles, D-Fla., wanted to talk to Sandinista leaders to "see what their intention is regarding the military buildup here."

Chiles said the senators would discuss Nicaragua's alleged support of insurgents in El Salvador. The Reagan administration backs the Salvadoran government in its civil war and opposes the leftist Nicaraguan regime.

Armed man spooks Mondale

DEARBORN, Mich. — An armed man who was hustled away from former Vice President Walter F. Mondale during a campaign stop has been released after questioning by Secret Service agents, authorities said.

William Polakowski, of Detroit, was not charged in the incident Thursday because agents decided there had been no threat to Mondale, Secret Service spokesman Jack Smith said in Washington.

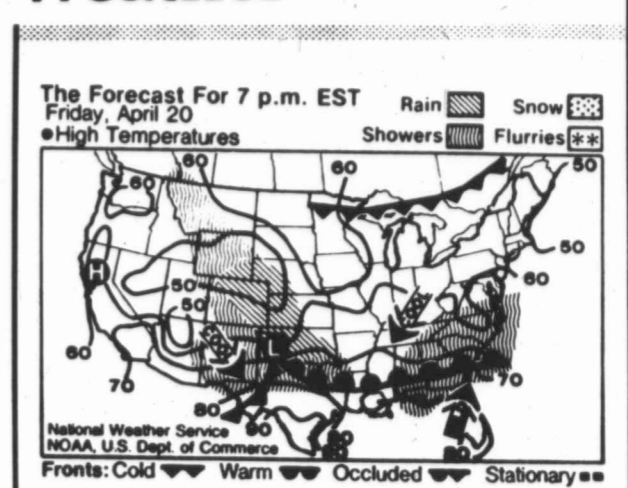

Polakowski, identified as an international representative for the United Auto Workers Union, had a permit for the gun he was carrying in his pocket.

Polakowski was reaching over some people between himself and Mondale to shake hands with the candidate, when agents noticed the gun in his rear pocket.

One agent locked the man's arm behind his back and rushed him into a men's room at the rear of a banquet hall where Mondale had been speaking. He was questioned for 15 minutes and released.

Ray Majerus, UAW secretary-treasurer, said Polakowski had a permit for the pistol but had forgotten it was in his pocket.

Oshinomics not good economics

Reaganomics no longer has cornered the market for belt-tightening. Japan now offers "Oshinomics."

Seems the long-debated Far East "economic miracle" has been on the skids for some time now. Unemployment burgeoned. Industrial production slowed. Japan's deficit rose. And the nation's middle class was grumbling.

Meanwhile, there was this charming, pretty, but poor country girl named "Oshin" who managed to achieve a modest success in life by enduring great hardship in a spectacularly popular Japanese television drama of the same name. She captivated the nation's heart. Viewers identified with their heroine's traditional Japanese virtues of patience, perseverance and stoicism.

Presto! Oshinomics became the talk of the land, as hard working Japanese tried the prescription of endless belt-tightening, slow growth and a balanced budget as a way out of their woes. "Think small" became the Nakasone administration's badge of courage.

There's only one problem: It isn't working. Despite chopping spending to the bone, the government is still bathed in red ink. Unemployment is still a plague. And overtaxed white-collar workers are still grumbling.

Oh, well. The Reagan administration has our big federal deficit to worry about. But with solid economic recovery afoot, it has plenty to brag about as well, including more jobs, lower taxes, more income, lower inflation and strong economic growth.

Double dipping and the sleaze factor

WASHINGTON — The Democrats have been trying to make a little political hay with what they call "the sleaze factor" — a colorful catch phrase they dreamed up to describe the supposed country club ethics of many past and present Reagan administration appointees.

So far, the Reagan-Bush '84 re-election committee has escaped any taint. This is due largely to the efforts of White House counsel Fred Fielding to avoid the kind of incestuous relationship that characterized the Nixon White House and the notorious Committee to Re-Elect the President (CREEP) in 1972.

But I've uncovered a situation that could give the Democrats ammunition for potshots at the re-election committee. President Reagan probably doesn't know about it, but it could cause him damage in the campaign.

It involves Milton "Mike" Masson Jr., who until last Feb. 16 was a director of the government-funded Synthetic Fuels Corp., a part-time position paying $10,000 a year.

On Oct. 18, 1983, Reagan-Bush '84 announced that Masson had been named regional campaign director for the Mountain states, also a part-time job.

Election records show that during the four-month period when he was wearing two hats — as a Synfuels director and as a campaign official — Masson was paid by both the corporation and the re-election committee. In addition to the $9,250 he received from Reagan-Bush '84, his Phoenix-based consulting firm was also paid $4,000 by the campaign committee. His last $300 paycheck from Synfuels was issued the day before he resigned as director.

Synfuels employees are not subject to the Hatch Act's prohibition of electioneering by most government employees, so Masson broke no law by his dual employment. He failed to return several phone calls for comment on the matter.

Last Aug. 23, however, Masson was rebuked by the Synfuels inspector general, along with the corporation's then-president, Victor Schroeder, for an "indiscretion" that "demonstrated at the very least an insensitivity to how public officials are viewed." The IG's report, seen by my associates Tony Capaccio and Corky Johnson, suggested that Masson tried to drum up business for his consulting firm — Ellers, Masson, Winstead Inc. — through Schroeder's intervention.

According to the report, during a discussion with Schroeder the night before a Synfuels board meeting in New York last year, Masson "requested an apparently routine introduction to a private sector organization — the Mobil Land Development Corp. — in the hope of advancing his own private business interests."

Schroeder came through with a letter of introduction to the Mobil group on Synfuels stationery, though it produced only a pro forma response from Mobil — and no business for Masson's consulting firm.

"The most troubling aspect of the conversation is the juxtaposition of a request for a personal business favor with a discussion of corporation policy decision-making," the IG report states. "While Mr. Schroeder's and Mr. Masson's conduct may indeed not have involved wrongdoing in the sense of violation of federal criminal laws, it was certainly an indiscretion and may well have given rise to the appearance of wrongdoing."

The Justice Department's public integrity section agreed that there wasn't enough evidence of criminal conduct to justify prosecution, or even further investigation.

Footnote: A re-election committee spokesman said Masson was — and continues to be — a part-time Reagan-Bush official.

UNDER THE DOME: Sen. Robert Kasten, R-Wis., changed his Wisconsin USS-2 license plate last year shortly after I reported a Capitol Hill neighbor's complaint that the senator parked in a bus zone and never got a ticket. The new license number, AN2952, lacked the old one's magic. Between May 15 and July 22, 1983, Kasten racked up seven tickets. Six remained unpaid until March 6, 1984, when he anted up $120. He changed his license number again — and has been ticketed three times since. A Kasten aide said these tickets will be paid, and added: "If any of his neighbors have a garage he can rent, ask them to come forward."

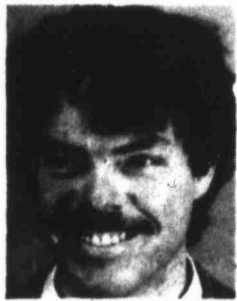

You can expect the Democrats to take the gloves off this year as they go after President Reagan. Consider this anecdote that House Speaker Tip O'Neill has been saving up for three years. He told it at a closed meeting of the Democratic whips, with the observation, "I assume you guys will tell this." It seems Reagan paid a courtesy call on O'Neill shortly after the 1980 election. Showing off his antique desk, O'Neill told the president it once belonged to Grover Cleveland. The new president remarked: "I played him in the movies once." O'Neill corrected Reagan: "No, Mr. President, you played Grover Cleveland Alexander, the baseball player."

Rep. Joe Minish, D-N.J., was given the job of cleaning up the scandal-ridden House page system, and he obviously takes his assignment seriously. As part of his program to exercise better supervision over the teen-age pages, Minish wanted to provide them with a handy place to eat dinner when they work after the Capitol cafeterias close.

Around The Rim

By RICK BROWN

In need of a lift

Bury me for a dead man and blow me over, matey, I've hit the Doldrums.

Haven't you felt this way before? It's as if you're lying drift on a stalled sea. You're listless and at a standstill.

Sailors of yore knew the Doldrums well. They feared them as much as typhoons and the scurvy.

Cursed by luck to be caught with no wind, these sailors starved before a decent breeze could move them to a safe harbor.

Since ships journey without sails these days, the Doldrums live on to describe a state of mind.

And these Doldrums are as real as any sailor knew.

These spiritual Doldrums, like the natural ones, don't hit with the force of a some God-created disaster, like a hurricane.

Rather, they are better characterized as an interruption in a navigated course, a cessation of movement.

Unexpected, they are usually recognized too late.

Plans are laid. Business is at hand. But the Doldrums are immobilizing and you can't find the Thing To Do Next.

Sometimes, this spiritual malady can take hold so strongly that you might be in a Bermuda Triangle of the mind. You're there and you're just lost.

Until, one fine day, comes a breeze.

Felt lightly on the face, it brings hope of movement, of full sails pushing toward a destination.

Yet it's really not so simple to compare the human spirit with such a natural occurrence. With spiritual Doldrums, it's not that the elements won't move you, it's that you can't move yourself.

The way out, of course, is to gather gumption together and press forth. If you're not sure of the direction, try any direction.

It's damn the torpedoes and full speed ahead. Do it if you do it wrong.

I know this is what I need to tell myself to get out of the general malaise that's had me down lately. But it's this gathering together of gumption that seems to be the hard part.

So much easier to stay in a funk and think of all the things I need to do instead of buckling down and doing them. You see, it's been really hard, lately. I've had to get my income tax in, and my apartment could really use a good cleaning after all the dust we've had lately, and then there's this story I've been thinking about writing for the ... Wait! Hold on! Don't tell me! Do I feel a breeze?

Reagan's high cost of (f)lying

One of the greatest problems, when an incumbent president is running for office, is how to differentiate a political trip he takes from one when he is on the nation's business. If Mr. Reagan goes out campaigning, the Republican Party is supposed to pay for it, but if he is traveling as a president, the taxpayer does. We're not talking about nickels and dimes. Every time the president leaves the White House with his entourage it runs into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

So who makes the decision whether the president is out on the road making a political speech or delivering an inspirational message as this country's elected leader? The White House staff does.

"How do you decide when Mr. Reagan is going out for political reasons, and when he goes out for presidential ones?" I asked a friend at the White House.

"We're very careful not to confuse the two," he said with a straight face. "During an election year it's always a close call."

"What are the criteria?" I wanted to know.

"Well, if the president flies out to attend a luncheon of businessmen to explain how well his economic plans are working, after inheriting the worst financial mess in 40 years from the Democrats, then that would be a presidential trip and considered nonpolitical."

"Would a speech to the fundamentalist preachers about prayers in school be considered political or presidential?"

"Presidential, of course. The president would never make the prayer issue political. Only the liberal Democrats would do that."

"Recently, one of the president's main themes in his speeches around the country is that Congress is responsible for all his failures in foreign policy, including Lebanon. He has almost called them traitors. Would the upcoming elections have anything to do with the thrust of his remarks?"

"Certainly not. The president has a right to inform the people of this country who should be blamed for the collapse of his bipartisan foreign policy, and the loss of American lives, whether he makes the speech in New York, Chicago or Los Angeles."

"Couldn't he do that from the White House?"

"It's important that the people see their president, and the more he gets around to the key electoral states, the stronger the message he is sending to the Soviets that we intend to have peace through strength. It is also his duty as Commander-in-Chief to warn the nation of the disastrous consequences of a nuclear freeze now being put forth by the presidential candidates in the opposition party."

"Some might interpret those as political speeches in an election year," I said.

"How can they be considered political when the nation's freedom is at stake, and all he is saying is that the Democrats would deliver us into the hands of the Communists?"

"Who picks up the tab when the president goes out to talk to a group of Republican women about the unfairness of the so-called gender gap?"

"It depends. If the president stops off on the trip to visit someone whose house has been washed away by a flood, then the taxpayer does. If he flies directly to the speech without filling a sandbag, then the Republican Party would."

"It appears to me then, that so far most of the president's sojourns haven't cost the party too much money."

"President Reagan would never use his high office to campaign for re-election at the expense of the taxpayers. As he said in New York last week, every one of them is much better off today than they were four years ago."

"When will the president dig into the Republican war chest for his re-election?"

"If he stays presidential, not until he goes to Dallas in August for the Republican convention."

Billy Graham

Doing good works to impress others

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My friends all think I am a good person and very religious, but the more I examine my life the more I think I do all these good things just to impress other people. How can I tell what my motives really are? — J.F.

DEAR J.F.: You may not be able to tell completely what your real motives are; sometimes our motives can be very complex, and we may even deceive ourselves into thinking our motives are pure when, in fact, they are not. The Bible rightly says, "The heart is deceitful above all things and beyond cure. Who can understand it?" It then answers its own question, "The Lord search the heart and examine the mind" (Jeremiah 17:9,10).

But if you suspect you act the way you do just to impress other people, then you probably have put your finger on at least part of your inner motivation. This should concern you because God sees your heart, and he knows you are acting this way for selfish motives rather than because you desire to serve him. This is a dangerous position spiritually because you can never win God's favor by your good deeds — no matter how good your motives may be.

Be thankful you have had the courage and insight to face your wrong motives, and then turn in honest confession and repentance to Christ. God knows our hearts — and the amazing thing is that he still loves us. "The Lord is compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, abounding in love" (Psalm 103:8). In his love he sent Jesus Christ, his only Son, to die on the cross for our sins. Think of it — all the wrong you've ever done, all the evil thoughts you've had, and even all the wrong motives you have — were laid on Jesus Christ.

AT&T introduces new long distance options

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. on Thursday unveiled two new long-distance calling options, one of which would allow consumers to place an hour's worth of calls to any part of the United States for a set monthly fee.

The new plan, dubbed "Reach Out America," has two components.

Under the first, customers could place an hour's worth of calls after 11 p.m. and on weekends for a monthly fee of $10. The second option would require a monthly fee of $11.50 and would provide the same hour's allotment of calls during night and weekend hours plus an additional 15 percent discount for calls dialed during evening hours from 5 p.m. to 11 p.m.

The plans were presented in a filing to the Federal Communications Commission, which must give its approval before AT&T can offer them to customers.

Assuming AT&T can obtain FCC approval, the plans could place additional pressure on such competitors as MCI Communications and GTE.

Allen files suit against lookalike

NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Allen, who has been called one of a kind, wants to keep it that way because of the big bucks involved.

The Brooklyn-born entertainer has filed suit in federal court asking that a lookalike, Phil Boroff of Los Angeles, be barred from appearing as an Allen double in any advertising.

"I have suffered and continue to suffer ... harm," Allen, 48, said in court papers filed with his suit late Wednesday. "My right of privacy has been invaded. And my right to control the publicity value of my name and likeness has been usurped."

Besides the court order, Allen is asking for $10 million from Boroff and a company that used him to advertise a movie rental chain. The suit says Boroff is under contract with an agency to market the resemblance.

Boroff said Thursday that the advertisements carried a disclaimer making it clear he was not Allen.

Allen's quizzical face, with glasses and receding hairline, are familiar from several movies, including "Annie Hall," which won the Oscar for best picture in 1977; "Play it Again, Sam," "Bananas," "Sleeper," "Manhattan," and the recent "Broadway Danny Rose."

The suit filed in U.S. District Court in Manhattan asserts that National Video Inc. of Portland, Ore., tried to give the false impression that Allen endorsed its movie rental chain, although it later removed the disputed advertisement.

National Video said its attorney was in a meeting and could not be reached for comment.

Dr. Donohue

Side effects to expect from Medrol

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Can you please tell me what side effects to expect from Medrol? I had a stomach operation 20 years ago and since then I have not been able to digest medicine too well. The doctor gave me Medrol through injection, then prescribed the pill form. I am fearful of taking it. Can you tell me about it? — F.S.

Medrol is one of the cortisone drugs. If it's used for only a short time to control symptoms of your illness (which you don't tell me about in your note) you don't have to anticipate any side effects from it. If cortisone drugs must be used for extended periods, then you can expect the usual side effects. Often, they must be accepted in order to benefit from the medicine's potency. You might expect such things as a rounding of the face, acne, facial hair growth, some muscle weakness and some fluid retention, all of which subside when the medicine is removed.

I hope you have expressed your fears to your doctor. He can reassure you that you are able to absorb the medicine through the rest of your intestinal tract even though your stomach digestion is not all that it could be.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous

Moore Community holds reunion

Former residents and friends of the Moore Community attended the 22nd annual reunion at the Garrett Hall of First United Methodist Church in Big Spring, April 15.

Anna Smith presided and opened the meeting by reading a poem titled "I'm Fine." Oran Nichols, former resident, gave the invocation, and Truett Thomas and Mrs. Doyn Turney provided music.

Velma Clemnts of Franklin was recognized as having traveled the farthest distance to the reunion. Families having the most immediate family members present were the J.W. Phillips and the Odessa Stallings families.

Thomas sang a solo of "If That Isn't Love" preceding the memorial service, which was officiated by the Rev. Elra Phillips.

Former Moore teachers attending were Arah Phillips, Mrs. Cordelia Castle, Twila Lomax, Mrs. Odessa Stallings, Anna Smith, Mrs. Alden Ryan and Ted Phillips.

The program adjourned for fellowship following the group's singing of "The More We Get Together."

Retired teachers install officers

Officers were installed at a covered dish luncheon of the Big Spring Howard County Retired Teachers' Association at the Presbyterian Church Fellowship Hall, April 16.

Officers installed were Ed Shive, president; Roberta Wiley, first vice president; Cliff Ferguson, second vice president; Dale Ferguson, recording secretary; Gene Harrington, corresponding secretary; and Doris Mason, treasurer. Officers were installed by Dr. Anthony Hunt, state president of Texas Retired Teachers' Association and former president of Howard College.

Hunt stressed the importance of committed membership because the Retired Teachers' Association is the voice of all retired teachers to the legislature and the nation. Support of Retired Teachers' Association goals by active teachers is in their own interest since every increase in retirement benefits eventually helps the youngest teacher.

During the meeting, arrangements were made for a group to attend a district Drive-In Workshop in Colorado City, April 18.

Women honor BSHS grads

A Big Spring High School graduation brunch was held at the home of Joan Beil, April 7. The brunch honored Debbie Donelson, Kay Lynn Pollard and Tracey Williams.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Beil, Pat Anderson, JoAnn Brock, Katie Grimes, Pat Moore, Shirley Shroyer, Dorothy Stripling and Janet Wolfe. The hostesses presented the honorees a gift.

Dear Abby

Hygiene important to good health

DEAR ABBY: People come to you with every conceivable problem, so I'm encouraged to present one that is so touchy I've never seen it mentioned in your column.

How do you get people to wash their hands after using the bathroom? In our home, the bathroom is right off the kitchen, and when the water is turned on, it can be heard in the next room. Guests have gone into our bathroom, used the toilet (I can hear it being flushed), and they come out without having washed their hands!

turned on the faucet, so I know they haven't washed their hands. Then after supper they offer to help me dry the dishes! (I always say no, thank you.)

Worse yet, where I work there's a cafeteria, and I've seen some cafeteria employees walk out of a bathroom stall and go straight out to serve the people without having washed their hands!

Abby, please explain how dangerous this is. If you print this, I promise to frame it and hang it above our toilet. Thank you.

PLEASE WASH IN WINONA, MINN.

DEAR PLEASE: I cannot stress too emphatically how important this one specific area of hygiene is to good general health. Children should be taught to wash their hands (with soap) after using the bathroom, and adults should have made it a lifelong habit.

Last November, the Mayo Clinic, the medical mecca of the world, sponsored an "Infection Awareness Week" program. As part of its campaign, prominently displayed along the corridors of the Mayo hospital complex were posters showing a pair of hands under this terse message:

"The 10 Most Common Causes of Infection."

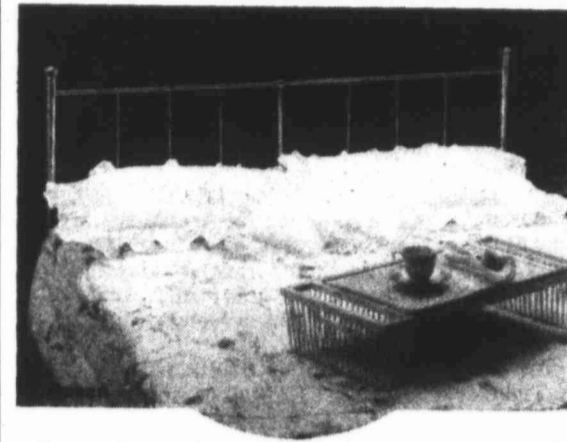

To remind doctors, nurses and employees of the Mayo Clinic to wash their hands frequently were other posters bearing this catchy message: "A milligram of handwashing is worth a kilogram of antibiotics."

That man's impossible (Pop, that is), came to see me this time. Showed me how to set up my filing system. He said that it had to be just so. He said "Tonya we can't afford to have a folder overlooked. Our customers depend on us to stay on top of every little detail every minute of the day." I said "Pop give me a little credit, I know that." But you know, as bad as I have to admit, he was right and his system is the best. The way that he has the system set up, there is no way that it could go wrong. Don't you dare tell him I said that.

Lewis wants death used positively

NEW YORK (AP) — Comedian Jerry Lewis, host of the annual Labor Day Muscular Dystrophy Association telethon, says he has written a letter to the association to be opened after his death.

"I wrote, 'Turn my death into paydirt,'" Lewis said in an interview with Parade magazine. "Anybody who's honest and cares can replace Jerry Lewis, but beg the people to give in his memory. Look at how much he gave; it probably killed him."

"Turn me into a theatrical martyr, use my death positively" Lewis said he advised the association. "Don't waste it. Use it."

Lewis, who underwent heart surgery in 1982, added, "I think the public gets a vicarious thrill wondering, 'Is he going to make it? He just had a double-bypass.' They know I never leave the stage; I'm there 24 hours."

RRC chairman blasts oil vote

EL PASO (AP) — A U.S. House committee decision to tighten federal government control of natural gas is a misleading move that "is cruel" to consumers, according to the chairman of the Texas Railroad Commission.

At a Thursday commission meeting, Wallace said the measure "masquerades itself as being a boon to consumers."
 The Energy and Commerce Committee recently voted 22-20 for a measure Wallace predicted would "give short-term relief on price at the longer-term expense of supply."

"The supposition that price controls provide exploration and production incentives, and, therefore, assure adequate supply, is without any basis of analytical support," Wallace told the statewide oil allowable hearing.

The commission routinely set the allowable at 100 percent of market demand for May. The commission first went to the ceiling on oil production in April 1972.

Wallace noted in announcing the allowable that crude oil and petroleum products imported into the United States averaged 5,044,000 barrels per day for the four weeks ending March 30, an increase of 1,603,000 barrels per day from the same period last year.

The 100 percent production factor applies to all fields except a few, including the East Texas Field, which was restricted to 86 percent production.

Major buyers of Texas crude oil submitted nominations for 2,401,616 barrels of oil in May, an increase of 14,416 barrels daily from April.

MCC comeback does in Hawks

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

The ledger now reads 1-12. That's the record the Howard College Hawks have managed against perennial Region V baseball power McLennan Community College in HC's two years of fielding a team on the diamond.

Losses 11 and 12 came Thursday at Hawk Field as MCC rallied in the first game of a doubleheader to win 3-2 in eight innings before hammering away in the second game for an 8-4 verdict.

The Hawks are 9-9 in Region V action while MCC is assured of a second straight conference championship at 19-2. Overall Howard is 24-17.

MCC's first game victory overshadowed a fine pitching performance by Howard's Chuck Ashcraft. Ashcraft went the distance and, "pitched well enough to win," said HC coach Bill Griffin. "We just didn't hit like we are capable of," added Griffin.

Instead, Ashcraft sustained only his second loss against seven wins. He scattered eight hits and walked five. He struck out four. He carried a 2-1 lead into the seventh when an error allowed the Highlander to knot things. With two out in the eighth, Teddy Hoffman doubled in Dodd Johnson with the margin of victory.

On Howard's end of things, the Hawks came out smoking by piecing together three second inning hits for a 2-0 lead. Bobby Behnsch and Doug Hatch began the inning with singles before Highlanders' starter Dirk Tidwell set down the next two men. Jim Garcia picked up the pieces with a double that scored both baserunners.

From there on it was slim pickings as Tidwell did not allow another hit until the sixth when Stephon Hodge singled. Until Hodge broke the string, Tidwell went through 12 straight Hawks without allowing a hit. He raised his record to 7-3 by allowing the Hawks only five hits. He only struckout two and walked a couple. His biggest strength was getting the Hawks out on 10 fly balls and eight grounders. "We just didn't put any pop on the ball," said Griffin.

SECOND GAME BLUES

In the second game the Hawks banged out 11 hits including a homerun by Hodge and double by Joey Ortiz. It still wasn't enough as MCC pounded a trio of HC pitchers for nine hits that counted a double and two homers among the base raps.

Howard jumped in front, 1-0 in the first inning with one out when Behnsch singled in John Friesenhahn who had reached the basepaths via an error.

MCC tied things in the second off starting pitcher and loser Steve Carrasco (5-2) when Hoffman singled and scored on a followup single by Brad Douglas. HC countered with a double by Ortiz and score by designated runner Jeff Davis when Garcia came up with a single to put Howard on top, 2-1 after two.

Back to back homers drove the nails deep into Howard's coffin in the third. With two out and Mike Qualls on first, Johnson batted his former Austin Westlake teammate around with a shot to left field, making the score 3-2 MCC. Kelly Guthrie rapped another round tripper to the same area for a 4-2 cushion.

Behnsch, who finished the second game with two hits, singled in Hodge to make the score 4-3 in HC's half of the third. Hodge, who led the Hawks with three hits, was on base with a leadoff single.

John Wilson, owner of Howard's only win in history against MCC (a 15-14 verdict last year), came on in relief in the fourth and encountered little trouble. He was rocked in the fifth, however by three hits and by walking two. It added up to an 8-3 MCC advantage and a change to former Big Spring Steer Mo Rubio. Rubio came on to get one batter out and stop possible further damage.

Rubio finished the contest by throwing two and one third innings of no-hit baseball. He faced nine batters and struckout one. He walked two.

Hodge homered to leadoff the seventh, but his sixth blast of the year to left was the last hurrah for the Hawks.

Howard goes on the road Monday and Tuesday, Apr. 23-24 for games against Hill County Junior College in Hillsboro. Game time in Monday's single contest is 3 p.m. while Tuesday's twinbill gets underway at 1 p.m.

DIRT IN THE FACE — Kenny Spears dives back to base on a pickoff attempt during game one of Howard's doubleheader against MCC Thursday afternoon. The Hawks lost both ends of the twinbill, 3-2 and 8-4 to drop to 9-9 in Region V action. Howard is back in action Monday and Tuesday against Hill County JC in Hillsboro.

Wolves devour 6-3A field

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

COAHOMA — Colorado City's Dennis Rivera's fourth place in the long jump, sixth place in the high jump, fourth place in the 300 meter hurdles and third place in the 110 hurdles was indicative of the entire Wolves squad as C-City rolled to the boys 6-3A district crown here Thursday.

The Wolves didn't win that many events, but scattered out enough points throughout the meet to out-distance second place Sonora by a 130-109 margin.

Coach Rick Robinson's Wolves took a 22 point lead over Sonora after the field events and never gave up the margin. Led by respective first places in the high jump and shot put by Don Randle and Fred Dakan, C-City rolled up 45 points, leaving Robinson surprised. "We figured we could score 35 points in the field events and be near the top," said Robinson. "We knew that Crane and Ozona had more skill perople, and Sonora had the depth."

In the end, Crane and Ozona didn't figure in the competition although Sonora, led by double winner Jose Escalante in the 1600 and 3200 races, presented the Wolves with their biggest challenge.

Randle got C-City rolling on the right foot with his 6-4 leap in the high jump, a career best. The junior had three near-misses at 6-5. "This was the best I've felt," said Randle. "I wasn't kicking hard enough when I tried 6-5. Hopefully I can clear 6-6 in regional and get to state."

The 6-2, 280-pound Dakan and Coahoma strongman Jeff Dever hooked up in another duel in the shot put. The fifth time the two have met this season. Dever took a 3-1 advantage into the contest.

But this day Dakan got the best of Dever in a classic confrontation. Dakan had the best throw going into the finals with 50-7, Dever followed with a toss of 50-4.

On Dever's second throw in the finals he uncorked a 51-9, but Dakan came right back with his season best of 51-9 to take the gold medal.

The current loss left Dever disappointed, "I could have thrown a lot better," he said. "But I'm happy to be going to regionals."

Dakan said the rivalry is an intense, but friendly one. "We keep the competition tough," he said. "Jeff and I have known each other for a while. When the competition is over, we are friends. I'm glad I proved that I could throw 51-feet."

Coahoma got a pleasant surprise when pole vaulter Tony Burnett improved his best by eight inches to take second place at 13-0.

Crane added to its downfall when they dropped the baton on the ir second exchange in the 400 relay. The C-City foursome of Larry Hamilton, Perry Conner, Kevin Norman and Joey Ritchey won in a season-best of 43.88.

The Wolves kept rolling up the points as distance runner Jay Clayton recorded a second and third in the 1600 and 3200 respectively, Norman took second in the 100 and the 1600 relay team finished third.

Coahoma miler Donald Ewing had the third best time going into the 1600, but responded with his season-best of 4:42.80 for a second place finish behind Escalante and a trip to regionals.

Lady Steers set school records at regional run

The 1984 track season came to an abrupt halt for the Big Spring Lady Steers at the Region I-5A track meet in Lubbock.

The Lady Steers 400 and 800 relay teams of Tina Smith, Aretha Cork, Latresa Cork and Pam Palmer finished out of the running in their bid for a berth at the state meet.

The 800 relay came very close finishing third behind Arlington Heights and Fort Worth Southwest in a school record breaking time of 1:41.33. Arlington Heights ran a 1:39.50 and Southwest finished second in 1:40.95.

Odessa High won the 400 meters in a meet record time of 47.40. Big Spring finished fifth in another school record of 48.55. Freshman Pam Palmer placed fifth in the 200 with a clocking of 25.85.

Midland 3200 runner Claire Hardy earned a trip to state by winning the event (10:57.27) and Sonja McIntire of Permian finished second in the 400 (56.55). Odessa's Kerry Evans finished second in the 200 with a time of 24.99.

LADY BUFFS TO STATE

The Region I-2A meet was also held at Lubbock and the Stanton Lady Buffalos had two tracksters qualify for the state meet.

Dawna West will be back to defend her 100 hurdles title as she won the event in a 14.85. Mary Beth Tollison won the 3200 run (11:20.53) and finished second in the 1600 (5:37.11). Lorrie Jansen barley missed out on a trip to Austin by finishing third in the 800 (2:20.05).

CLASS A STATE QUALIFIERS

At the Region II-1A regional meet Garden City's Gena Schafer and Forsan's Lorrie Roman are headed to state with their 1-2 finish in the 800. Schafer ran a 2:26.11 and Roman clocked a 2:28.64.

The Garden City 1600 relay team of Schafer, Jacque Jost, Carol Hoelscher and Michelle Pechacek finished second with a time of 4:11.49. Jost finished third in the 400 (61.08).

At Levelland, Gardy's Shanna Hale earned a trip to state in the 1600 meters by placing second in a time of 5:52, three seconds better than the sophomore's previous best.

Lee over Steers

The Big Spring Steers were shutdown, 6-0 by the Midland Lee Rebels at Steer Field Thursday afternoon.

Big Spring managed only one hit as the Steers sank to 0-12 in District 4-5A baseball action and 6-19 for the year.

David Renteria started for the Steers and gave way to reliever Mike Dodd. Dodd registered the only hit for Big Spring.

COMING AROUND THE CURVE — Colorado City's Joey Ritchey (left) and Coahoma's Monte Waters head around the curve in the prelims of the 200 meter dash at the District 6-3A track meet in Coahoma. Both runners made the finals in the event. Waters finished third while Ritchey came in fourth place. Colorado City won the meet with 130 points.

Sonics dump Mavericks to even series

DALLAS (AP) - The luck that had abandoned the Seattle SuperSonics in Game One paid a courtesy call in Game Two in the form of Gus Williams' dial-a-prayer, three-point bucket at the buzzer.

Williams' off-balance, beat-the-clock shot banked off the glass through the hoop Thursday night to give the Sonics a 95-92 victory over the Dallas Mavericks.

It evened their National Basketball Association playoff series at one game apiece and switched the homecourt advantage to Seattle.

Ironically, Williams had scored 37 points, including an NBA playoff record 23 in one quarter, two nights earlier and the Sonics lost.

The third game of the best-of-five series is set for Seattle Saturday afternoon.

"I've seen Gus do that shot on everybody, but we haven't had any lucky shots all year like that," said Seattle's Tom Chambers. "Nobody deserved it more than Gus. He worked for it."

Chambers scored a game-high 30 points and blocked a Pat Cummings' shot with three seconds to play to set up Williams' clutch basket.

"I consider myself lucky that it went in. I wasn't trying to bank it off the glass," Williams said.

"I had a feeling it was definitely going in, but not off the glass. The play was supposed to go to Jack (Sikma) and then Chambers off the job. But I popped out and got the ball. I turned and got a good look at the basket. That's not my normal shot."

in the lane that didn't work," he said. "We gave away the homecourt advantage."

tie the game 92-91 on Cummings' bucket with 46 seconds to play. They had won 88-86 Tuesday night by erasing a 16-point deficit. Rolando Blackman's follow shot off a miss with 10 seconds to play was the game winner. Blackman led the Mavericks again with 28 points and Mark Aguirre had 27, with 18 of them coming in the second half.

NBA Roundup

Dallas Coach Dick Motta said the Mavs probably got what they deserved. "We lost by three and we should have lost by 20. We got head 10-5 at the start then tried two fancy passes

Motta added, "We could have won the game. They just needed a prayer on their last shot, and their prayer was answered." The Mavericks overcame a 17-point deficit to

Woman's dream realized through recreation of tabernacle

Becky Garner has had a dream for years to recreate the tabernacle. Since July of 1983, she has worked with the help of family and friends in the activity building of College Baptist Church building a life-size three dimensional replica of the dwelling of God in the Old Testament times.

The building of the tabernacle in Biblical times was carefully outlined by God in the scriptures. It is mentioned in 50 chapters of the Bible throughout Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Hebrews. "The very sacred moveable building was intended to be a visible center of worship for the people of Israel," said Mrs. Garner. "It is particularly special to Christians of today since the tabernacle was God's way to show how a sinful man could approach the Holy God. It is symbolic of Jesus in every aspect."

The entire replica of the tabernacle exhibits the approximate measurements outlined in the Bible. Space and building facilities proved to be a hindrance to the building of an exact replica. The mobile unit consists of seven pieces of furniture including the altar, the laver, the table of shewbread, the altar of incense, the candlestick, the ark of the covenant and the mercy seat. "The furniture is an artist's representation designed to appear three dimensional while actually painted on a flat wooden surface."

The tabernacle also consists of a courtyard and an oblong building with two rooms separated by three curtains. The curtains are painted in acrylic with designs in the colors the Bible specifies. The colors of the curtains are specified in scripture as blue, purple and scarlet. Mrs. Garner was careful to match the scriptural concept of colors but found it difficult to match the sizes of the curtains. "Even in the slightly reduced version, the main curtain is six and one-half feet tall and nine feet wide," she said.

"The Shekinah Glory of God" or the actual dwelling of God Himself is included and made primarily of angel's hair with light reflecting from behind it to give it the smokey, cloud-like effect described in God's word," Mrs. Garner said.

An important part of the tabernacle worship was the high priest. This was a man who performed duties within the tabernacle where no one else was allowed. "This was an extremely significant person since he was the mediator between man and God," Mrs. Garner said. The high priest in Mrs. Garner's replica is a mannequin coordinated by a friend, Janice Tankersley of Midland.

Making up the royal array of the high priest is a white robe with a blue sash over it. Hanging on the blue robe are pomegranates embroidered between small bells worn so the priest could be heard in the tabernacle, where common men were not allowed, ministering in their behalf. Over the blue robe is a tunic called an Ephod. The Ephod is blue, purple and scarlet like the curtains and is interwoven with gold threads. Engraved stones, naming the tribes of Israel, join the Ephod at the shoulders. Engraving also does the 12 precious stones contained in the high priest's breastplate. Each stone is engraved with the individual names of the 12 tribes of Israel. "All of this symbolizes that the priest bore Israel on his shoulders and on his heart as he ministered to God on their behalf."

Hours of construction supervised by Mrs. Garner's husband, Cecil Garner, music minister of College Baptist Church, was involved in building the tabernacle.

"The artwork was a special challenge for friend, Terri Blackshear, since she had to make flat board appear three dimensional," said Mrs. Garner.

"Not only was Becky's undertaking her longtime dream, but it became the vision of countless others," said Susan Phillips, a friend of Mrs. Garner. "Time, money, encouragement and prayer were offered enthusiastically. The end effect is certainly a breath-taking display of talent — all God given and used to His glory."

Mrs. Garner read more than 35 books about the tabernacle to prepare to teach about the building. "Many hours were spent in study from early in the morning until late at night," Mrs. Garner said.

THE TABERNACLE — Becky Garner explains the building of the tabernacle in Biblical times to a group of women. Mrs. Garner recreated the tabernacle using the approximate measurements outlined in the Bible.

The Texas Tech Wesley Foundation will be concluding their "Cost of Discipleship Week" with a World Hunger Benefit Concert at 7 p.m., April 27 at St. Luke's United Methodist Church in Lubbock.

Tickets for the Country Dinner Theater are $3 for adults, $1.50 for children grades 1-6, and free for preschoolers. For more information or ticket purchase call 267-7429 or go by the church office.

Dr. Packer speaks at conference in Austin

Dr. J.I. Packer, author of "Knowing God," "God's Words," and "Evangelism and the Sovereignty of God," will speak at the second annual Texas Conference on Reformed Theology. The conference will be held at University Baptist Church, 2103 Guadalupe, in Austin, April 27-28. The conference theme is "God's Good News: The Sovereignty of God and Evangelism."

Packer, professor of Systematic and Historical Theology at Regent College, Vancouver, B.C., will be joined by Ernest C. Reisinger, author of "Today's Evangelism."

The conference will begin at 7 p.m., April 27 with Packer addressing the subject "The Sovereignty of God: The Prerequisite for Evangelism."

The conference will resume at 9 a.m., April 28 with Reisinger and Packer giving a series of messages dealing with "The Acts of the Apostles," "The Atonement of Christ," "The Holy Spirit," "The Church," "The New Creation," and how they relate to evangelism. The conference will end at 5:30 p.m., April 28.

Ministers and lay persons, regardless of denomination, are invited to attend the conference. The registration fee for the conference is $15 per person and $25 per couple. Children under 12 are admitted free. Nursery facilities will be provided. Relief organizations launch drive for Africa

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — A coalition of Protestant, Roman Catholic and Eastern Orthodox relief organizations has launched an unusual drive for an extra $100 million in "cash or kind" to feed the hungry in drought-stricken Africa.

Representatives of four organizations — the World Council of Churches, the Lutheran World Federation, the U.S.-based Catholic Relief Services and the international Catholic relief arm, Caritas Internationalis — say the crisis "demands the mobilizing and combining of all available resources and efforts."

The new effort is over and above the groups' current commitments for relief projects in Africa, totalling $270 million last year. Citing estimates from the Rome-based Food and Agriculture Organization, the groups said 150 million Africans in 20 countries are "immediately threatened with starvation."

The Whataburger Home Run Challenge.
Will you play it safe or will you go for it all?

It's easy to play the Whataburger® Home Run Challenge. Just come to any participating Whataburger restaurant and pick up a game card. Then you're ready to play ball. And win great food or cash prizes.

Go to the game going all you do is head to first base. Scratch off the box and if you're not out, you'll win a free Coca-Cola or another great prize.

And here's where the fun really starts. You can play it safe and redeem your prize on your next visit to Whataburger. Or, you can go on to second base.

If you're out, you lose the prize on first base. But if you make it, you win a bigger, better prize like a hot, juicy Whataburger or a tasty Taquito with cheese. Maybe even cash.

Now, do you stop at second or try for third? The further you go, the more you can win. And if you make it all the way to home, you could win up to $10,000!

"Here I go. I'm headin' to first base... and I win a free Coca-Cola."

"Okay, I'm safe at third for a free Whataburger. If I make it to home, I could win up to $10,000. Now, do I go? Or do I stay? Or do I stay...?"

Will you play it safe? Or will you go for it all? There's only one way to find out. Come play the Home Run Challenge. Only at Whataburger.

It's not just a hamburger, it's a WHATABURGER.

Whataburger's Home Run Challenge ends April 30. No purchase necessary. While supplies last. You must be 16 or older to play. Void where prohibited.

Enjoy Coca-Cola
