How's that? Constable

Q. What are the duties and the salary for county constables?

A. According to County Auditor Jackie Olson, the constables serve civil court papers. They are reimbursed for their travel, but do not make any money off serving papers. Nor does the county pay them anything, though they were paid $1 one year "because the county is supposed to pay them something," Mrs. Olson said.

HC teacher fights to keep job

Claims he is victim of unfair evaluation practices

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

A Howard College instructor whose contract was not renewed claimed yesterday he is the victim of vague administration policies and unfair evaluation practices.

No decision was made Tuesday at a Howard County Junior College District board meeting concerning the fate of Dr. Bill Damron, a business instructor at Howard College whose contract was terminated.

District personnel are charging Damron with "ineffective instruction" in the classroom and said they have had student complaints about his classes.

Damron and his defense attorney are charging the district with not giving clear reasons for his dismissal and with giving him too short a notice of termination.

District officials also cited a need to reduce the number of instructors in the business department as the reason behind Damron's dismissal.

Although most personnel matters are discussed in closed sessions, Damron requested that his appeal to the termination of his contract be held in open session. More than 60 district personnel and administrators, members of Texas United Faculty and attorneys for both sides were at the four-hour long meeting.

Damron was represented by Barry Odell of Austin. Odell is general counsel for the Texas Federation of Teachers and Texas United Faculty. John Ferguson of Weaver, Ferguson and Yeats represented the district.

Faculty handbook policy states non-tenured, probationary employees must be notified of termination not later than March 1 during their first through fourth years of service with the district — and not later than Dec. 15 if they are in their fifth year or more with the district — if a contract is not to be renewed the following year.

Damron was notified Feb. 14 that his contract would not be renewed. Odell said he felt Damron should have been notified prior to Dec. 15, 1983 because of his accumulated service time with the district. Dr. Charles Hays, president of the district, told trustees "there is nothing in the faculty handbook that states that prior employment counted."

The defense maintained that the handbook also does not state that the prior employment does not count.

Odell said Damron "has been here 8½, five years full time and 3½ years part time. He was entitled to notice Dec. 15, 1983, according to the (HCJCD faculty) handbook."

Damron, called to speak in his own behalf, said that early in his career here he received a letter from Dr. Thomas Salter, president of Howard College on Dec. 5, 1972 telling him he would not be re-employed due to declining enrollment. He worked for the college until the spring, completing three years of service.

Salter referred to the non-renewal of the contract as a "furlough" and said in the letter to Damron that he would be considered for re-employment at a later date if he wished to return to Howard College.

Damron re-applied to the District and went to work in January 1981 as a part-time teacher. He began working full-time in the fall of 1982 and has worked at Howard College con-

Chances for rain improve

Howard County has its best shot at rain in several months as forecasters are predicting a 50 percent chance of precipitation this afternoon.

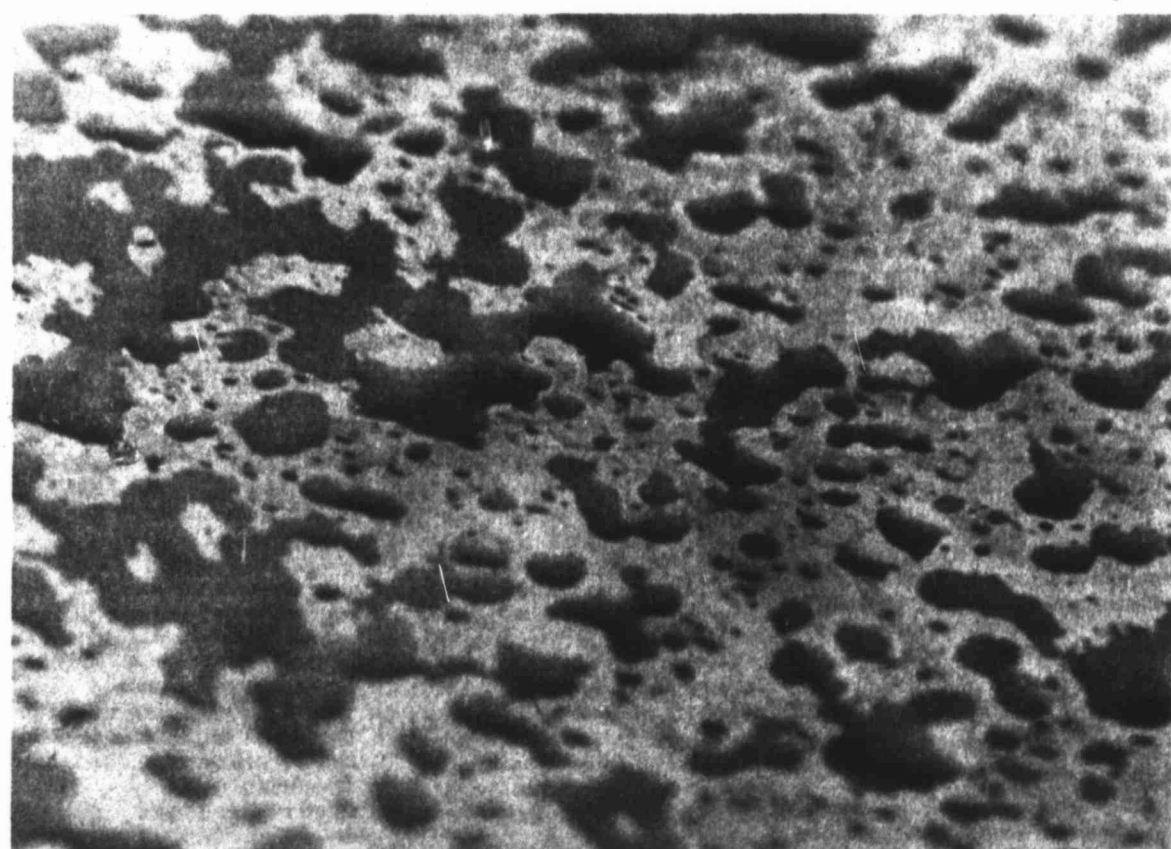

However, no measurable rain had fallen on Big Spring or in the area as of noon today. High clouds and patches of blue sky left drought-weary residents fearful that the chance of rain would again pass by the area.

On Tuesday, parts of the city received a few sprinkles, but no measurable rainfall.

Cloudy skies and temperatures in the low 80s are forecast this afternoon with lows tonight falling to near 60 degrees. The city's chance of rain decreases to 40 percent tonight.

On Thursday, forecasters are calling for a 20 percent chance of rain.

Bill Fryrear, research director at the Big Spring U.S. Field Station north of town, said the last measurable rainfall in Big Spring was Feb. 26, when .19 fell on the city. On Jan. 8, the city received .25 of an inch of rain. Those two days are the only times this year the city

RAIN, RAIN COME AGAIN — A car's hood reflects the accumulation of rain yesterday in Big Spring. Forecasters are predicting a 50 percent chance of rain today, which is the best chance for rain the area has had in several months.

has received any measurable precipitation, he said.

During December 1983, Big Spring received four days of very light rainfall that never measured more than .05 of an inch per day.

The last significant rainfall measured in the city was Oct. 19, when 2¼ inches fell, Fryrear said. Area cotton farmers are waiting for a significant rainfall before they plant a crop this year, Fryrear said Tuesday. Area fields are in poor condition due to lack of rain and high winds.

Housing values decline in city

Downturn blamed on economy

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

More home sellers and fewer buyers have combined to push the value of Big Spring houses down, real estate experts say.

In what he calls a "conservative estimate," real estate appraiser Rufus Rowland, past president of the Big Spring Board of Realtors, said home values have decreased 8 to 10 percent in the past year.

Statistics compiled by the real estate board's Multiple Listing Service (MLS) show that 541 residential properties were on the market during one recent week, compared with 335 in a comparable period one year ago.

1st of 2 parts

Jeff Brown of the Society of Real Estate Appraisers concurs with Rowland's estimate. "Since temporarily more people are moving out than are coming in, we naturally have had a build-up of certain residential properties," Brown said.

Population figures from the U.S. Census Bureau show that Big Spring lost about 500 persons between January 1983 and January 1984. The bureau estimates the city's current population to be 26,000 persons, a figure which is down from last year's 26,500 population estimate.

Figures from Leland Calvert, route supervisor at the U.S. Post Office, Big Spring station, show that of a possible 11,433 postal deliveries in the city, 580 are vacant. The figures represent a 5 percent vacancy rate on city postal routes.

Brown blamed last year's recession, the downturn in the oil economy and the "plight of our farmers" as the culprits in the housing glut.

Janelle Davis, president of the Big Spring Board of Realtors, said the current housing market is "soft." MLS statistics show that homes are staying on the market an average of 126 days before they sell. The figure was 94 days one year ago.

"Not only are they on the market longer, but there are fewer of them getting sold," Mrs. Davis said.

Four to five closings, or sales, per week are being made, according to the board's figures, compared to 10 to 12 a week this time last year.

"Many people are sticking with their prices because they're not in a bind," Mrs. Davis said in explanation of the figures. "But people who are having to move are having to face the reality of the discount," she added.

"The lucky ones are the ones who get a quick sale, and if they do, they have priced (their homes) right at the market," she said.

Citing examples from three different city neighborhoods, Rowland said houses he appraised in the Kentwood addition had lost about $3 per square foot in value, falling from the $37-$48 per square foot range to $33-$45 per square foot.

Highland South area homes had fallen about $4 per square foot from the $45-$52 range to the $42-$48 per square foot range, he said.

Monticello area homes saw a $2 decrease, from the $20-$30 range to the $18-$28 range, he said.

Also "hindering" the market is the current level of interest rates, according to Mrs. Davis.

Rain still in forecast

By the Associated Press

Light showers brought only momentary relief to arid West Texas, but scattered rain was in the forecast through Thursday, the National Weather Service reported.

An easterly moving high pressure system continued to pull moisture from the Gulf of Mexico causing showers and thundershowers in scattered areas of the state Tuesday. Partly cloudy skies and warm, humid conditions were reported elsewhere.

Showers and thundershowers fell south of Lubbock and near San Angelo, the heart of Texas' huge drought area. But most of the showers around San Angelo were "virga" — rain coming out of the clouds but not hitting the ground — according to meteorologist Bryan Harmon in Fort Worth.

Harmon estimated that no more than a quarter of an inch reached the ground.

Remnants of a cold front located over the northeast corner of Texas also caused isolated showers and thundershowers in that area. Showers also were reported from Alice south to the Mexico border.

Del Rio reported 0.4 inch of moisture, while Brownsville had 0.01 inch of rain.

Southerly winds of 10 to 15 mph helped push temperatures into the 70s and 80s statewide. Temperatures hit the mid-90s in central Texas. Winds of 20 to 25 mph blew in the Panhandle. Lows were in the 60s and 70s except in the western portions of the state where lows dipped into the 50s.

HC board approves GPA minimum for aid

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Howard County Junior College District trustees Tuesday agreed to set a 1.75 minimum grade point average for financial aid students.

Students receiving any kind of federal grant must maintain a 2.0 grade point average. Students getting aid from the Howard County Junior College District must maintain a 1.75 average for 24 hours of work.

Trustees approved a request by the Southwest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf to remain within the HCJCD. More than a year ago, SWCID had requested to be separated from the district.

Dr. Charles Hays, president of the HCJCD, told trustees a vote was taken at SWCID several weeks ago and almost 100 percent of the employees there voted to remain with the district.

Board president Harold Davis asked if financial aid for the school would still be the responsibility of the state and not the district. Hays said the school would continue to be self-sufficient and operate on funds received from outside the district.

Hays said State Sen. John Montford and Rep. Larry Don Shaw had contacted him recently because they must soon begin obtaining funding for the facility.

"They asked which direction we wanted to go," Hays said.

Trustees also agreed to "look in to tuition" at SWCID. Tuition at the school now for out-of-state students costs more than $8,000 a year, a figure which is "prohibitive" to many students, Dr. Hays said.

Trustees will examine the situation to see if out-of-state tuition for SWCID can be brought in line with out-of-state tuition at other state colleges.

Trustees accepted the resignations of SWCID personnel Terry Dobson, Angel Ramos and Ron Hirano and Howard College Associate Degree of Nursing instructor Mary McClendon.

Damron

tinuously since that time.

Hays said when Damron re-applied and was given another contract. "We were specific. We never intended to count his prior years at Howard College."

Odell said Damron gave more than five years of service to the district and, "consequently, he (Damron) does have a contract. We do not waive the issue to give proper notice."

Odell said he wanted to talk about "the way Bill Damron has been treated."

An evaluation prepared on Damron by Dr. Bill Riley, vice president for instruction, was "improper," Odell said. He went on to accuse Riley of placing information in Damron's file "that is not true, not correct."

Damron said he had never received complaints about his teaching abilities prior to October 1983. He underwent an evaluation by Riley, who "made complaints at that time," Damron said.

He was notified Feb. 14 that his contract would not be renewed. Damron said he "did not consider the concerns to be legitimate. There were vague referrals" to his teaching skills, and Damron said Riley said, "I don't like your teaching."

Damron said he asked Riley five separate times to clarify what he meant by criticisms of his teaching style.

"I'm not a show person," Damron told the board. "After two days, the students recognize my style. I'm not the most popular teacher on campus. Neither am I the most despised."

According to testimony, Riley placed in Damron's personnel file memos concerning conversations Riley had had with Damron's former employers. The memos indicated that these employers criticized Damron's style and said they were glad Damron had resigned.

Damron said he contacted two of the men listed in the memo. Neither man was at Tuesday's meeting.

Damron said he called Dr. Marshall Box of Midland College to ask about a poor reference.

"I read that (the memo) to him and asked him if he thought it was the truth. He said it was not. Dr. Box said nobody from Howard College had talked to him about me," Damron said.

Box wrote a letter for Damron which read, "I have not been contacted by the administration of Howard College for any information about Dr. Damron."

Damron said he also called Bill Tindle, a Sul Ross University administrator working out of Uvalde.

Damron asked Tindle about his statements to Riley, and "in very colorful language, he said they were completely false. He was not contacted by anybody at Howard College."

Damron told the board he considered the statements recorded in his personnel file "malicious and defamatory. They are false."

Riley was later called to discuss the case. He was asked if he had talked to officials from other colleges about Damron's work.

Riley said Dr. Don Hunt, vice president at Midland College, told him "Bill worked hard but was not effective in the classroom." He said he had been told by at least two college officials that "they were pleased to see Damron leave."

When questioned about Tindle's accusation that he had never talked to anyone from Howard College, Riley said "It's a lack of memory on his (Tindle's) part."

"I did talk to Tindle. He did tell me those things. For you to say I'm lying is absolutely incorrect."

Odell later questioned Riley about a date for the conversation with Tindle. Riley said he talked to the Sul Ross administrator in the fall of 1983.

"I have no reason to lie," Riley said. Looking at Odell, he asked, "Do you think I'm lying?"

Odell said, "I think you are definitely lying. I think you're trying to save your skin."

Odell called Riley a "hatchet man" and accused him of making "bogus accusations" and "false statements."

Later Riley offered to give Odell and the board a summary of a student evaluation taken in 1982. Odell said "I certainly don't want the summary from this gentleman (Riley)...We have plenty of documentation to question Dr. Riley's credibility."

Riley said, "I have nothing personal against Dr. Damron. He did not measure up to what I expected to see in a college professor."

Riley said Damron had earlier received a bad evaluation from HCJCD administrator Dr. Dan Shockey.

"As a team we looked at several factors, and Bill Damron did not measure up," Riley said.

"Somebody at some time must make the hard decisions," Riley said. During Damron's evaluation by Riley, "His voice was shaky. He had no confidence."

Board trustees heard from Reva Adams, division head of the business department.

Mrs. Adams said Damron was "a fine business instructor. He was well-prepared and has a sufficient knowledge of his subject."

"I can identify with Dr. Damron. I'm not a bubbly type," Mrs. Adams said.

Mrs. Adams said she had never been in Damron's classroom to conduct an evaluation but if asked to give an evaluation, "I have nothing but an excellent recommendation."

Eugene Wright, president of the American Association of University Professors and a professor from North Texas State University, gave a brief description of accepted policy for teacher evaluations.

"The procedures at Howard College are not in accordance with traditions of the academy...traditions of higher education," Wright said.

Odell, in his concluding statement, said, "I'm totally outraged by what I've seen in personnel files. They are an abomination. (Damron) was knifed and thrown out in the street."

Board President Harold Davis, who chaired the meeting said "we have some legal questions" that must be answered before a decision will be made.

Two rental cars stolen

Boy George OK's spin-off

MILWAUKEE — A radio station says lead singer Boy George of Culture Club has given permission for a Milwaukee-boosting spin-off of the group's hit record "Karma Chameleon."

BOY GEORGE

The song, with the refrain "I'm a I'm a I'm a I'm a I'm a Milwaukeee-an," follows the melody of the rock music hit.

Lawyers for Boy George were earlier reported to have threatened court action if WBTT did not stop broadcasting the spin-off. In response, the station refused to play any Culture Club songs.

But Rick Harris, a WBTT disc jockey, said British Broadcasting Co. disc jockey Simon Gates called Tuesday to advise that Boy George had given permission for production and broadcast of the song — as long as "every penny of profit" goes to leukemia research.

Harris said his station then checked with Boy George's management in London and received approval. "As soon as Boy George heard that it was not a parody against him and that it was something good for the city — and then he tagged on the leukemia research — everything was fine," Harris said.

The song, entitled "I'm a Milwaukeee-an," was recorded in suburban Wauwatosa by Guy Herman, whose real name is Derek Procell, and his group, the Bubbler Boys. A sample of the lyrics: "I'm a man with an addiction 'To beer and brats and sauerkraut 'Polka bands with Polish diction 'That's what life is all about."

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. — Apollo 14 astronaut Edgar Mitchell, the sixth man to walk on the moon, has been slapped with a paternity suit by a woman who claims Mitchell kicked her out of his home after she became pregnant.

EDGAR MITCHELL

Sheila Ann Ledbetter, who is about six months pregnant, is seeking support after the child is born and is asking that Mitchell be named the father, according to the suit filed Monday in Palm Beach County Circuit Court.

Ms. Ledbetter claims that in December, Mitchell threw her out of the house the couple shared and demanded she undergo an abortion. The suit says she became pregnant on or about Nov. 20.

Hart wins psychological lift in Nebraska, Oregon

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer

Sen. Gary Hart, manhandling Walter F. Mondale in Nebraska and Oregon, has won a psychological lift that overshadows the small number of delegates gained for his longshot drive to rebound and win the Democratic presidential nomination.

Although Walter F. Mondale lost by 2-to-1 margins in the two Western states on Tuesday, he noted his continuing improvement in the delegate count and predicted, "By the time of the convention, I think we'll have enough delegates to secure my nomination."

But Hart, in an interview broadcast today on the CBS-TV "Morning News," predicted that, by the convention, "I'm not going to be substantially behind. That delegate gap will be closed dramatically. It will be a neck-and-neck horse race."

The Rev. Jesse L. Jackson, in California, offered no comment on the results from Oregon, where he had not campaigned, and Nebraska, which he visited last week. He finished a distant third in both states.

Despite Mondale's big delegate lead, Henkel said, "The viability of (Mondale's) candidacy has to be seriously questioned."

There were 67 delegates at stake on Tuesday in states where Mondale campaigned not at all in Oregon and only one day in Nebraska.

Hart held a total of 45 — 29 from Oregon and 16 from Nebraska. Mondale led for 22 — 14 from Oregon and 8 from Nebraska.

Based on Tuesday's contests, the delegate totals are:

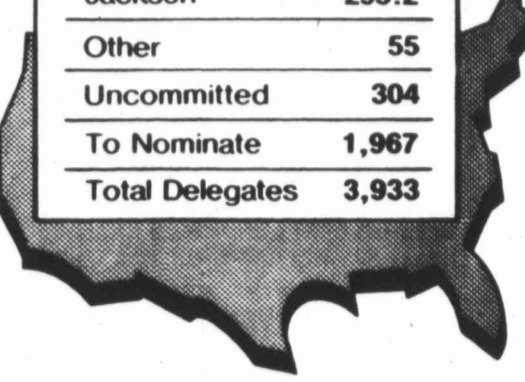

Hart, 979.75
Mondale, 1,599.05

Candidates' Scorecard

Here is a breakdown of the preference of delegates selected or allocated thus far to the Democratic Convention

Mondale	1,599.05
Hart	979.75
Jackson	295.2

Uncommitted	304
To Nominate	1,967
Total Delegates	3,933

1,967 delegates are needed for the nomination.

Close vote expected on MX

WASHINGTON (AP) — House opponents of the MX missile say they have the votes to shoot down the much-debated nuclear weapon, but President Reagan is lobbying until the last minute to try once again to save the centerpiece of his defense buildup.

The House was scheduled to vote this afternoon on whether to give the Pentagon authorization to go ahead and buy more of the 10-warhead weapons in the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

The vote will be only the first of several congressional decisions this year on the MX.

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill said Tuesday that MX opponents have 220 votes — two more than necessary — and predicted the Democrat-controlled House will send Reagan "a message: the people want arms control, now."

White House deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said Reagan "will continue to press for approval" until just before the vote. Reagan met with a dozen undecided congressmen Tuesday to try to win their support.

The president's last-minute lobbying efforts in the past two years have been credited by both MX supporters and opponents with providing the narrow margins of victory for the MX. The victory last fall was nine votes. Meanwhile, the Washington Times reported in today's editions that the White House quietly has abandoned its full MX request and will accept a compromise offered by Rep. Les Aspin, D-Wis., for half the number of missiles initially sought.

The MX battle is the major fight in House efforts to pass a bill authorizing the Pentagon to spend $285 billion in fiscal 1985. That would be an inflation-adjusted increase of 6 percent, compared to the Pentagon's original request of a 13 percent hike in the fourth year of Reagan's five-year defense buildup.

The bill contains a number of weapons that also will be challenged by opponents, including Pershing 2 nuclear missiles, the B-1 bomber, and preparations for a new generation of nerve gas.

The bill proposes $2.7 billion for 30 MX weapons to go along with the 21 approved last year. The Pentagon originally sought 40 next year and Speakes said Reagan would press for "full funding."

News in brief

Wyoming towns flooded

A dam break today forced authorities to order the evacuation of three small towns in Wyoming as Rocky Mountain states already besieged by damaging flooding and mudslides got a second straight day of rain.

Three people have died and a fourth is missing since temperatures in the 80s and 90s touched off snowmelt flooding over the weekend and forecasters said the "really rapid snowmelt is just starting."

Although cooler temperatures today temporarily slowed the snowmelt, showers spread from Montana to Mexico and the entire mountain region was affected by the runoff.

A small earthen dam on the Little Snake River at Slater, Colo., broke early this morning and officials ordered the evacuation of about 600 people who live in the three small towns of Baggs, Savory and Dixon just across the Wyoming border, about 30 miles downstream. Officials said the reservoir held about 3,000 acre-feet of water.

SLA fugitive surrenders

SAN FRANCISCO — A fugitive linked to the kidnapers of Patty Hearst says he abandoned a comfortable life built up during seven years as a wanted man and surrendered to the FBI because "it seemed to mean a lot" to his dying mother.

Michael Alexander Bortin surrendered Tuesday after staying up all night with his mother, Barbara, 65, who has cancer.

Linked by authorities to the terrorist Symbionese Liberation Army, Bortin was to be turned over today to San Francisco police after a brief appearance before a U.S. magistrate, who was expected to dismiss a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Duarte credited with win

SAN SALVADOR — The Central Election Council rejected a challenge by the far-right candidate and said moderate Jose Napoleon Duarte would be accredited today as official winner of El Salvador's bitter presidential election.

The council announced its decision Tuesday night after a two-hour meeting to consider a request that Duarte's victory in the May 6 runoff be nullified because of alleged improper vote counting.

Marcos still has majority

MANILA — A previously powerless opposition defeated President Ferdinand E. Marcos' candidates in several races in Manila and other areas, but Marcos predicted he would retain a majority in the National Assembly.

Two days after the election, with a little over half the nationwide vote counted, government and independent vote tallies differed today.

Israelis storm refugee camp

SIDON, Lebanon (AP) — Israeli occupation forces surrounded a Palestinian refugee camp with armored vehicles, then stormed it early today, blowing the doors off houses with explosives and arresting about 150 people, witnesses said.

At least 20 people were injured in the five-hour operation at the Ein el-Hilweh camp, hospital sources said.

Israeli military sources said, "During searches and actions meant to prevent terrorist actions, a few arrests of suspects have been made in Ein Hilweh camp near Sidon and quantities of weapons, ammunition and terrorist materials have been discovered.

Cop killer bullet targeted for ban

Armor-piercing bullets — the kind that can easily rip through the protective body vests police use — must be banned, but the National Rifle Association opposes such a move.

Police associations have been trying for the past four years to get Congress to halt the manufacture of this "cop-killer" ammunition, but so far nothing has been accomplished.

The cartridges in question are handgun rounds with hard-metal jackets — of steel or brass. These bullets can travel at high speed and maintain their shape on impact. They slice right through body armor.

Armor-piercing ammunition was once commonly used by police departments, because it could penetrate through auto metal and stop criminals. Now, most police departments have halted official use of armor-piercing bullets, because they are likely to go on beyond the intended target and injure innocent bystanders. In turn, law enforcers want Congress to bar the manufacture and importation of such bullets, except for the military and police.

Any effort toward this goal is opposed by the NRA. It fears such a ban would be "a foot in the door" toward additional restriction. The NRA says almost any bullet could be classified as armor-piercing under certain conditions.

Sen. Patrick Moynihan and Rep. Mario Biaggi, both New York Democrats, say that's not so. They insist such bullets are identifiable. They both have introduced legislation in Congress to ban armor-piercing bullets. Their bills would give the Treasury Department the authority to write regulations to establish guidelines.

Biaggi was a policeman for 23 years and was shot 10 times in the line of duty. He says the NRA opposition is "nothing but a knee-jerk reaction based on any semblance of reason."

We urge Congress to ban armor-piercing bullets. The longer it waits, the more it endangers law enforcement officers. Sportsmen have no legitimate need for such ammunition.

Today's Paris

PARIS — Ten years ago the terrace of the Cafe Flore in St. Germain des Pres was famous as a meeting place for students from all over the world keen on heavy talk about life and its deeper meaning. It looked very similar the other day when I returned in remembrance of things past.

Young people in blue jeans and sweaters sat for hours sipping coffee and other drinks. Waiters bustled among the tiny tables. The sun came and went.

But suddenly some changes asserted themselves. The common language was English — not French. Most of the girls were Scandinavians, and most of the young men were Arabs. Judging by the foursome next to me, the principal subject was not philosophy but money.

A short fellow named Khalid with glasses and a moustache was doing the talking when I tuned in. He was complaining that Eric, a friend of the two girls at the table, had wired him to make hotel reservations in Jiddah.

"He sent a telex," Khalid said, "asking us to reserve the Royal Suite at the Royal Palace. I thought he was just making a little joke, so I reserved him a good room in a good hotel. In fact, he never showed up. I didn't have to pay. But I lost credit with the hotel management."

One of the girls said she knew his whole family in Oslo. "They were all nice people. He didn't mean any harm. It was just a practical joke." Ahmed, the other young man at the table, said it was typical of the Scandinavians that they were frivolous about serious things. He said they really didn't understand business. So they had no influence in the world.

The other Scandinavian girl replied hotly that Sweden and Norway and Denmark and even Finland all had influence. She mentioned Dag Hammarskjold, the Swedish diplomat who had been secretary general of the United States.

"He died 20 years ago," Khalid hooted. "Who do you have now?"

"We're important in America," the girl persisted. "Walter Mondale comes from Scandinavia, or maybe it's his parents or grandparents. Anyway, he visited Norway, and he might become president of the United States."

"He won't become president," Ahmed said scornfully. "He might even lose to Jesse Jackson, a black. Or to Hart, who is only a senator. Anyway, Reagan will surely beat him."

"Even if Reagan doesn't win," Khalid said, "everybody knows that the best American president was Nixon. He went to China, and to Russia. He had Kissinger. He understood the world."

One of the girls pointed out that Nixon had been forced to leave the White House.

"Sure," Khalid said, "he was a liar and a cheat. But all leaders have to be liars and cheats. Everybody knows that except the Americans. They're naive. But I think he's coming back anyway. He'll be governor of New York or New Jersey. The Americans always change everything all the time."

Before I heard the end of the argument, I had to leave. But the conversation stayed with me even though it was jejune in character and a purely random event. For it reinforced a point that had been developing over a long period.

Intellectually Paris has lost much of its appeal. It may be an exciting place for young Arabs on the make, or for others from the Third World countries. For the Scandinavians, too, it perhaps offers an outlet for a provincialism enforced by geography and reinforced by language.

But American young people can hardly feel the attraction that drew so many of us to Paris in the years just after World War II. When it comes to new ideas and challenging problems and rich opportunities, Europe, even Paris, offers no great advantages. The U.S. is where it's at.

Young Americans of talent must be consumed with interest in their own country. The relative indifference to the rest of the world, which is a natural consequence, is yet one more element in the gradual drifting apart of the U.S. and Europe that is so palpably in the atmosphere.

Health hazards report suppressed

WASHINGTON — The Energy Department has suppressed an alarming report on possible health hazards at our nuclear weapons factories. The report shows that workers processing the raw materials for nuclear explosives have had suspiciously high rates of leukemia and lung cancer.

The government has known about the problem since 1976. The danger signs could not easily escape the attention of top officials. The essential facts about radiation were monitored too relentlessly for that. But the Energy Department kept the disturbing information from Congress.

Meanwhile, the government repeatedly has tried to disclaim responsibility for radiation effects. But the issue won't quite give up the ghost. Like a bludgeoned rattlesnake left on the ground for dead, it begins to stir and twitch again and then slink off unseen, to return another day.

Its latest appearance was in the form of a Colorado Industrial Commission ruling. The agency decided that the widow of a nuclear plant worker, who died of cancer, is entitled to compensation. Yet the victim's lifetime exposure to radiation was below what the federal government claims is safe.

This is a precedent that could cost the federal government a bundle. The radiation that nuclear weapons workers are exposed to is within federal safety standards. Nevertheless, they could be running a higher risk of cancer than non-nuclear workers.

The evidence indicating this is contained in a suppressed report. It covers only one nuclear weapons plant — the Savannah River facility at Aiken, S.C. — but it raises serious doubts about the safety of workers in all factories that produce nuclear weapons.

The Savannah River plant is operated under government contract by the DuPont Co. DuPont prepared the report. Its researchers found 11 cases of leukemia at the plant between 1966 and 1974; that's five more than the statistical likelihood. There were also 18 cases of lung cancer among one group of workers. That's seven more than the expected incidence.

Attached to the report is a comment by a government scientist:

"The apparent increased risk for leukemia in male wage employees appears real." It also calls the lung cancer figure "statistically significant."

Yet the DuPont researchers came to a puzzling conclusion: "It would not appear that cancer represents an unusual health problem at the Savannah River plant." Then, what about the increased risk and the significant statistics?

The government scientist discreetly recommends: "The arguments against this risk being occupation-related need to be expanded." In other words, the government is more concerned about avoiding responsibility than protecting workers from cancer.

Sources told my associate John Dillon that the awkward findings of the 1976 study were not provided to the House Armed Services Committee in 1982 when it requested information on worker health studies. Instead, DuPont simply responded: "The total cancer experience of the Savannah River plant has been essentially the same as the DuPont Co. as a whole."

In 1983, the company acknowledged to the Georgia and South Carolina congressional delegations a "slight excess" of leukemia and lung cancer at Savannah River, but insisted, "None of the epidemiology studies have shown statistically significant excesses in deaths from cancer ... which can be associated with workplace conditions."

In the matter of cancer at nuclear weapons plants, the government has shown too much enthusiasm for budget-cutting and an insufficient ardor for safety.

Footnote: A DuPont doctor said some of the original data was provided to Congress in 1976. But subsequent studies, the doctor said, have shown no "statistically significant" cancer increases among plant workers.

Mean people

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I just can't seem to get along with other people. They always are doing things intentionally to hurt me, it seems. Why are people so mean? — Mrs. S.E.

DEAR MRS. S.E.: Recently I read the results of a survey done among a number of large businesses to find out why many people are unhappy in their work or even lose their jobs. The survey indicated the No. 1 one problem was that many people could not get along with their fellow workers.

Yes, some people can be difficult to get along with — but you also need to be sure you are not at fault to some degree. For example, when you believe someone has said something mean to hurt you, do you flare up and react with anger? If so, it not only drives a wedge between you and the other person, but it can make you say things that makes the situation even worse. The Bible says, "Do not repay anyone evil for evil. Be careful to do what is right in the eyes of everybody. If it is possible, as far as it depends on you, live at peace with everyone" (Romans 12:17-18). The Bible also states, "A gentle answer turns away wrath, but a harsh word stirs up anger" (Proverbs 15:1).

In addition, there are some people who are frankly more sensitive than others, even misunderstanding the intentions of others, and assuming others are speaking against them — even when this is not really the case. Perhaps you have that kind of nature. If so, ask God to help you be less concerned with what others think of you. The important thing is to remember that you are precious to God.

Also, make a point to do something good — a kind deed, an encouraging word — to those around you each day. The Bible admonishes, "Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good"

A good rain

By KEELY COGHLAN

After being drenched for the third day in a row in a sudden downpour last spring, I finally broke down and bought an umbrella from a street corner vendor.

The corner drugstore was out. Under the circumstances, I wasn't too surprised when I found the one thing I'd forgotten to bring when I moved east last spring was my umbrella.

Umbrellas were always the last thing I needed in West Texas. When and if it did rain, I'd always grabbed the first old newspaper I could find as an impromptu, if soggy, version of the plastic and wire standard issue. Once I crossed campus or the sun peaked out from behind the clouds, they were easily disposed of.

An umbrella's main disadvantage is its vanishing factor during dry spells. When it rains again, you've got to go buy, borrow or beg another. As for planning ahead and actually carrying one with me because the local weatherman predicted rain, I have no faith in the so-called scientific methods of meteorologists. I stop believing meteorology is a science every time one of those blow-dried TV announcers humiliates me into dragging the silly thing around on a hot, dry day without a cloud in sight.

When I moved east, I entered a benign version of the Twilight Zone. Suddenly, I was living in a world usually inhabited by very poor science fiction writers. The entire town was awash in alien life forms who sprouted large antenna when they walked outside.

I used to imagine that if I looked down in the spring rain on the mall subway station from the Washington Monument, I would see a tulip bed of colors — pearl, lavender, orange, green and grey — massing on the lawn. In reality, though, it looked like 99 colored ants crawling underground between sheets of rain, a huddled mass yearning to breathe dry.

I miss the rain. I used to get so dismayed at the cavalier treatment of rain up east. In Big Spring, now, I miss the rain even more. I used to greet rain — probably as a result of usually living in semi-arid areas — as a thing to celebrate, a time of life and joy.

On Saturdays, I used to walk the mile and a half in the drizzle to the Jefferson Memorial underneath the pink cotton candy puffs of the cherry tree blossoms — and I loved it.

I have problems understanding persons who are depressed by rain. When the rains come, they polish the streets and cars to a fine gleam in the mid-afternoon sun, intensifying even the ordinarily drab greys of sidewalks.

But more than simply brightening the landscape, a good rainstorm washes my soul of all its accumulated dirt and grime, the residue of self-doubt and discontent.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Celebrate salad days with a variety of recipes

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

The advent of warmer weather generates an abundance of fresh produce as well as an appetite for cool and light foods. With supermarket produce departments showcasing the season's harvest of fresh fruit and vegetables, and supermarket shelves filled with an unequalled variety of pourable dressings, the time is ripe to celebrate "salad days."

In recent years, as salads have moved from the side dish to the center of the plate, more innovative salad ideas have flourished. During summer's peak salad days, salad creations often become the star of a meal that displays the cook's creativity.

The popularity of salads has led to increased demand for new and unique flavors of pourable dressings for salads. Pourable dressings have become staples in many households, with a typical household keeping three bottles on hand at a given time. Dressings provide an inspiration for salad and cooking creativity. French and Italian remain the most popular dressings, with Thousand Island next in popularity.

Along with the many new dressings available, consumers are trying new and different salad ideas to go along with their dressings. While fresh produce is essential for most salads, salad ingredients can be found in almost every aisle of the supermarket. Favorite ingredients include pasta, beans, frozen or canned vegetables, cheeses and cold cuts, rice and canned tuna, and an assortment of other foods.

This week's Herald Recipe Exchange features salad recipes. If you have a recipe you would like to see printed, or one to share with other readers, please send your request to: Herald Recipe Exchange, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

Dear Abby

Distant relationship

DEAR ABBY: Eight years ago my husband came home and told me the doctor told him he had genital herpes. I'm 53 and he is 54.

I was shocked and hurt and tried to believe he caught it some way other than the obvious. He listed several possibilities, from building a house near an open sewer to kissing a lot of girls at a Christmas party. I never commented except to say that if I had come home and told him I had caught genital herpes that way, I wouldn't have been able to finish the second sentence. He laughed and agreed.

We rarely have sex, as he always has an excuse. I keep myself immaculate, am nice looking and wear size 9 jeans. I know other men find me attractive, but I never give them any encouragement. My husband and I occupy the same house but seldom talk. We can ride for two hours and no words are spoken except to criticize my shoes, clothes, etc. I never answer anymore; it's easier that way.

Thanks for letting me "talk" to you, Abby. I feel better already.

EMPTY MARRIAGE

DEAR EMPTY: The herpes virus could have been dormant in your husband's body for years until his lowered resistance caused it to become active. But where he caught it is the least of your troubles. You and your husband haven't been communicating either sexually or verbally for many years.

You're both too young to go on as you are, sharing only an empty marriage. At the risk of sounding like a broken record: somewhere there is a marriage counselor who can replace this cold war with a reasonably warm relationship. "Seek and ye shall find."

(Do you wish you had more friends? Get Abby's booklet, "How to Be Popular — You're Never Too Young or Too Old." Send your name and address clearly printed with check or money order for $2.50 (includes postage) to: Abby, Popularity, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Shower fetes bride-elect

Julie Ann Davidson of Midland, bride of Paul Wiseman of Midland, was feted with a shower in the East Fourth St. Baptist Church Fellowship Hall, May 7.

The event was hosted by Leta Kirby, Fannie Bell Adkins, Dianne Oliphant, Bettye Griffith, Frances Lee, Latrice Davis, Mary Cain, Ina Stewart, Dorothy Shanks, Francys Plowman, Delores Hitt, Joy Hester, Dania West and Tanga Cain. They presented the honoree with a bedspread.

Yellow rosebud corsages were presented to the honoree and her mother, Mary Ann Carter of Midland. Special guests were Ruby Reaves, grandmother of the bride, Kimberly Carter of Midland, sister of the bride, and Dorothy Anderson and Patsy Anderson, both aunts of the bride.

Guests registered at a table covered with a pale yellow cloth edged in lace. The table held a crystal vase filled with yellow and white roses.

The refreshment table, which was covered with a white lace cloth and yellow underlay, held a centerpiece of a black wrought iron bird cage filled with yellow rosebuds and greenery and with a white dove on the cage door. Yellow candles in black metal holders and yellow daisy candle rings flanked the centerpiece.

The couple was married Saturday at Crestview Baptist Church of Midland.

Dr. Donohue

First months hold rubella danger

Dear Dr. Donohue: My cousin was exposed to rubella while pregnant with her third child. They worried, but as it turned out the baby wasn't affected. Was she truly exposed to measles or aren't all babies affected by it in the womb? — D.O.N.

A woman who has had rubella earlier in life or who has been immunized against it will have antibodies to protect her and her developing baby from the illness. I am speaking here of rubella (German measles), not the other kind (rubeola).

Had she been unprotected by not having had rubella and not having been immunized against it, then there may have been problems with her baby. And the greatest danger to the fetus in such circumstances occurs during the first month of development, when six out of 10 will become infected. As a pregnancy progresses, the chances of infection lessen, so that after the fifth month the chances are only four in 100.

Nevertheless, exposure to rubella during pregnancy is always considered a serious occurrence, and it has caused great anguish for many a pregnant woman. It always behooves the woman to know her status with regard to rubella. All children should be immunized against rubella and records of that preserved. If an adult woman of childbearing age has not been immunized, she should discuss her status with her doctor. He can determine whether she is protected with the antibodies against the illness or whether she needs to be immunized.

Luncheon honors volunteers

In conjunction with National Volunteer Week, May 7-11, an in-service luncheon was held to honor Big Spring State Hospital volunteers in the volunteer office, May 8.

Kathy Viccinelli announced the proposed plans for the addition of dressing rooms to the Dorothy Garrett natatorium has been approved by the Texas Department Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board in Austin. Plans for fund raising for this project and other projects were discussed. Volunteer groups were asked to sponsor summer picnics which are held in Comanche Trail Park for each hospital unit.

Shirley Glandon from Abilene was special guest. She is the new chairman for Region 1 and is replacing Bill Henning who recently moved to Arkansas. The Region 1 meeting will be held in Lubbock, August 24.

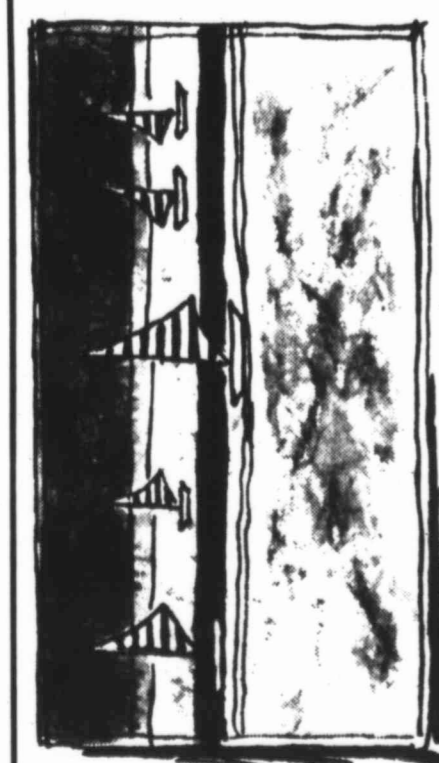

Information published by Central Office about volunteers' accomplishments in TDMHMR last year was presented. Volunteers provided 868,171 hours of service to clients. Through volunteer services, clients enjoyed the benefits of more than $1.9 million in cash and more than $6.6 million in other contributions of goods and services.

Twenty-eight capital improvement projects were launched by volunteer service councils across the state. If volunteers had not done the projects, seven chapels, five therapeutic swimming pools, a pool enclosure, a lakeside lodge building and five cabins, two multi-purpose activity buildings, a recreation building, a wheelchair park; two therapeutic playgrounds pavilions, and two greenhouses would have been lost.

Volunteers on public responsibility committees represented clients. They sponsored County Judges' Day, Media Appreciation Day, employee recognition events, open houses, groundbreaking and dedications. Volunteers helped with birthdays, Christmas parties, circus tickets, special olympics funding and materials, grooming aids, clothing, recreational events and excursions into the community.

Celtics credit tough series with Knicks for 119-96 win

BOSTON (AP) — During the past two weeks, the Boston Celtics were hardly grateful toward New York as they fought for their lives against the Knicks. Now, they realize what they gained from that hotly contested series.

As it did in its four Eastern Conference semifinal victories over the Knicks, Boston jumped in front early Tuesday night and cruised to a 119-96 romp over the Milwaukee Bucks in the opener of their best-of-seven Eastern Conference final.

"We came out aggressively," said Celtics guard Gerald Henderson. "I have to thank New York for this one."

While Milwaukee won its conference semifinal series last Thursday, Boston was pushed to the limit — the seventh game — here Sunday against the surprisingly strong Knicks.

"I'm sure the fact that they had not played in a while had something to do with their starting slow," Boston forward Cedric Maxwell said of the Bucks. "And, I'm sure our playing Sunday and then today helped us. We just got right back into the flow."

Milwaukee, which will try to even the National Basketball

Association playoff series here Thursday night, never did.

The Bucks, who swept the Celtics in four games in last year's conference semifinals, managed just six points in the first seven minutes. An 8-2 closing run brought them to within 22-17 after one period.

But Larry Bird, who led all scorers with 24 points, sparked a late second-half surge that put the game firmly in the Celtics' grasp.

With Boston leading 37-33, he sank three free throws to kick off a 17-9 burst that stretched the margin to 54-42 at halftime. Bird had nine of those 17 points. The Celtics' lead ranged from 11 to 23 points the rest of the way.

"It's true, we had a chance to rest, but that might have worked to our detriment," said Marques Johnson, who led the Bucks with 18 points. "We were rested but were never into our tempo."

Milwaukee's shooting was way off — just 28 percent in the first quarter and 42 percent in the game — and no Buck had more trouble than veteran center Bob Lanier. He made just one of eight field-goal attempts and scored only two points.

"They double-teamed me quite a bit down low," Lanier said. "It seemed every time I looked (center Robert) Parish had Bird at his side."

"Center is the dominant position for any basketball team. You've got to get your center involved in your offense," said Milwaukee Coach Don Nelson. "There was only one man on our team who played up to his potential and that was Paul Pressey. We got a big dud from the rest of the team."

Pressey had 17 points and Junior Bridgeman 14, but Boston held Sidney Moncrief to only four field goals and 13 points.

Maxwell, freed from the draining task of guarding New York forward Bernard King, and Parish had 17 each for Boston, which had seven double-figure scorers.

And from the start the Celtics were sharp on defense and allowed Milwaukee to lead just once, 4-3.

And that defensive pressure fueled Boston's offense.

"Part of our game plan was to get the ball and run it up the court," said Celtics' Coach K.C. Jones. "Tonight, they missed a lot of shots and that's the easiest way to get the fastbreak going. We ran well and got some easy baskets."

LCC signs Howard's Behnsch

LUBBOCK — The first player off Howard College's first ever baseball playoff team has signed a scholarship agreement with Lubbock Christian College. HC first baseman Bobby Behnsch inked the agreement Monday night according to LCC sports information director Walt Alexander.

Behnsch helped lead the Hawks to the state tournament in only their second year by hitting 18 homeruns, driving in 63 runs and hitting over 400. He played in all 47 games as the Hawks rang up a 28-19 mark.

LCC made overtures to Behnsch during his senior year at Marshall High in San Antonio, but Behnsch said, "I told LCC coach Larry Hays, however that he would like to finish his last two years at the school should Hays still show an interest after Behnsch completed HC.

LCC competes as an independent and was the 1983 NAIA champion. The Chaparrals finished fourth in the nation this past season with a 51-14 record. They have won 65, 56 and 51 games over the last three years and at age 39, Hays is the youngest NAIA coach to reach the 600th victory level, which he did earlier this year.

Behnsch intends to concentrate on obtaining a major in business management with a minor on computer science.

wanted to go someplace where I knew I could play right away and Howard was the place." He

Johnson sets assist standard

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — While Earvin "Magic" Johnson was handing out a record number of assists, Los Angeles Lakers Coach Pat Riley was paying him a rather unique compliment — he wasn't really noticing.

"He does it every night," the Lakers coach said after Johnson had a National Basketball Association playoff record 24 assists in Los Angeles' 118-102 victory over the Phoenix Suns Tuesday night.

"I was unaware of the large number of assists he passed out," said Riley. "He does a great job night in and night out."

"When players like Magic play and they give their all, you may take it for granted, because they're just doing their job ... But I never take them for granted."

Johnson's 24 assists rewrote the playoff record of 20 set by San Antonio's Johnny Moore last year.

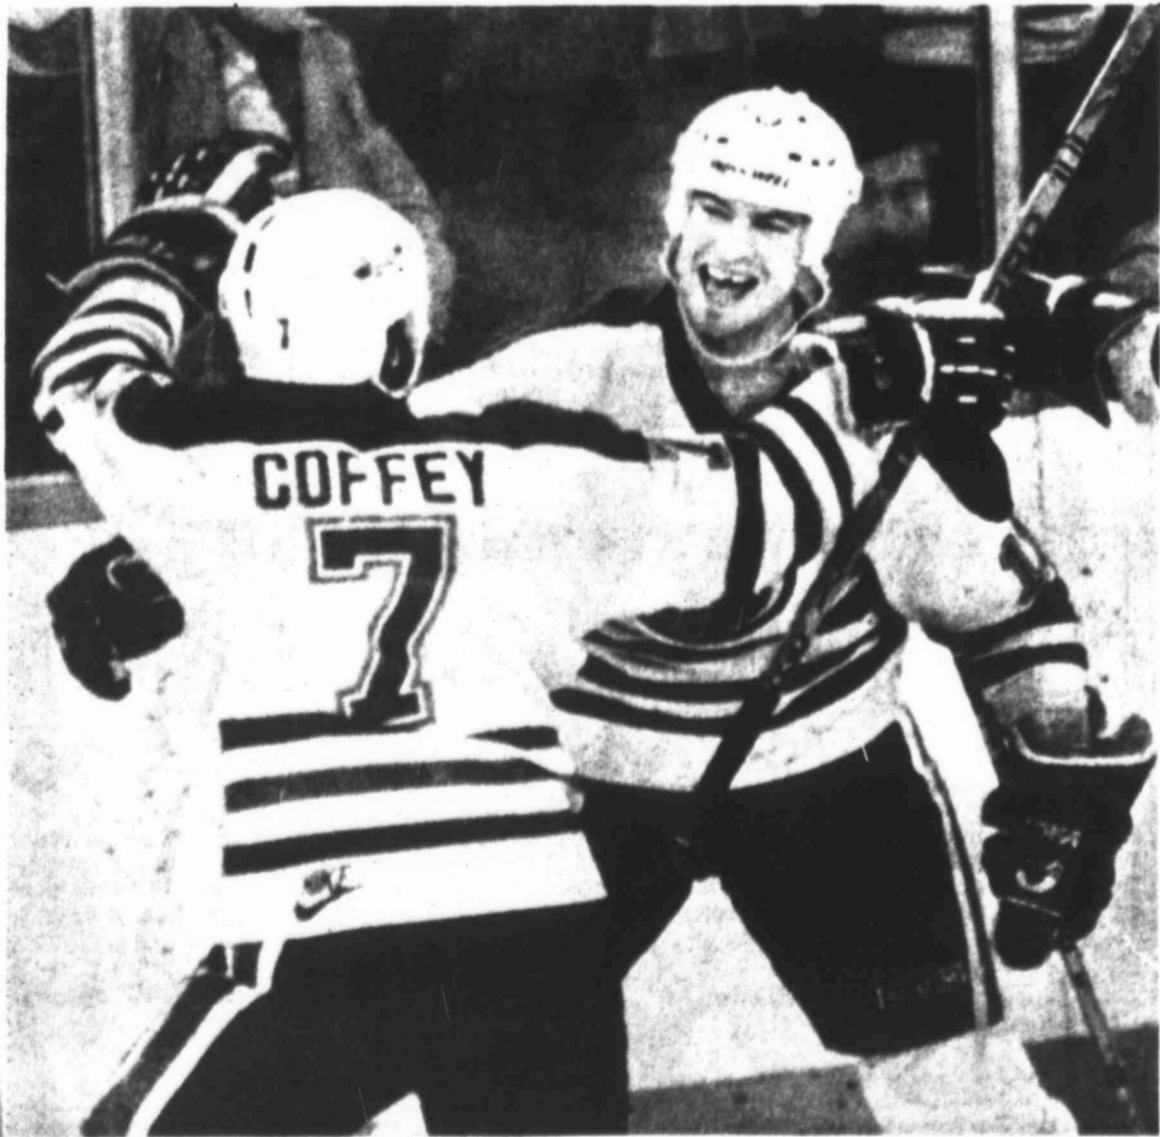

The victory gave the Lakers, who've lost just one of their 10 playoff games this year, a 2-0 edge over the Suns in the best-of-seven Western Conference Championships. The clubs now switch to Phoenix for games Friday and Sunday.

Johnson played down his record, saying: "Right now, it feels good, but we have not accomplished anything substantial yet."

"I'm a team player and I don't care about individual statistics," he said. "The stats are nice, but we are aiming at the title and that's our main goal right now."

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar led the well-balanced Los Angeles scoring with 21 points, as seven Lakers scored in double figures. James Worthy and Bob McAdoo came off the bench to chip in 19 and 16 points.

Larry Nance paced the Suns, who fell behind in the second period and got no closer than nine points in the second half, with 29 points. James Edwards added 16 and Walter Davis 14.

TAKE IT AWAY — Edmonton Oilers Paul Coffey and Mark Messier celebrate the fifth goal against the New York Islanders in Edmonton Tuesday. The Oilers won the game, 7-2.

Watson favored in Colonial

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Tom Watson makes his first appearance in three years in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament this week and comes in as a probable favorite.

After finishing fourth or better for four consecutive seasons, Watson did not qualify to play the final two rounds in 1981 and skipped the prestigious old tournament the last two seasons.

Now, actively and eagerly reasserting himself as golf's premier performer, Watson ranks as the man to beat in the elite, invitational field of 102 that begins a chase Thursday over the tough, old Colonial Country Club course. At stake is a total purse of $500,000 with $90,000 to the winner.

"I'm looking forward to it," Watson said before a practice round on 7,116-yard, par 70 layout on the banks of the Trinity River.

"I'm on a roll right now."

"Second, first and third in my last three starts. That's not bad," said Watson, who confirmed the end to his early-season slump with a runnerup finish in the Masters, scored his second victory of the season in the Tournament of Champions and was third last Sunday in the Byron Nelson Classic. He's in his customary position as the game's leading money-winner with $318,468.

"I'm playing well, and it's getting better," he said. "I have a good feeling about this week, about the next few weeks."

He will be part of a starry cast that is led by Masters champion Ben Crenshaw, U.S. Open titleholder Larry Nelson, the 1983 Player of the Year and PGA winner Hal Sutton and Lee Trevino, twice a winner of this event.

Banquet fetes CCHS athletes

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

COLORADO CITY — Lin Scott, Laura Baum and Dennis Rivera were named the top female and male athletes at the Colorado City High School Spring Sports Banquet held here last night.

Scott and Baum, both seniors shared honors as the C-City Booster Club's Outstanding Senior Girl Athlete. C-City girls head coach George Martin presented the award.

Scott was All-District 6-AAA in volleyball and basketball and qualified for state in the 400 meter relay. Baum was a four year letter-winner in basketball and made All-District in volleyball, basketball and qualified for state in tennis. She was also named to the Region I-AAA basketball squad.

Rivera was presented the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce's Outstanding Senior Boy Award by Chamber President Horace Caldwell. Rivera was All-District and All-West Texas in football where he was the leading receiver in the area with over 50 catches.

He also started a point guard for the district basketball champs and was named Mitchell County's Most Valuable Player. Rivera was one of the area's top hurdlers while helping the Wolves to the district track crown.

Angelo State University Athletic Director Phil George was guest speaker at the banquet and told the athletes and crowd of approximately 300 to "be an achiever and push yourself to your highest goals." He added, "Be competitive in athletics as well as life. Dedicate yourself to the cause."

The ASU Athletic Director concluded by saying that pushing yourself towards goals will develop a better person as a whole.

After George's speech a special award was presented to Martin, who coached CCHS girls athletics for five years and is now moving to Haskell, by the female athletes.

Other awards presented were certificates to Baum and Don Randle for competing in the state meet. Randle finished sixth in the high jump.

The Most Contributing Trackster award went to Rivera and sprinter-long jumper Larry Hamilton. The Most Dedicated Trackster Award went to 200 meter runner Charles Igelhart.

Scott was recognized as the captain of the girl's track team, volleyball-basketball player Julie Waid received the Spirit Award while Baum was presented the "C" Award for her leadership.

HCBC fighters suffer losses

The Howard County Boxing Club lost only its second tournament championship in 20 tries this season when club members registered only two victories in Colorado City.

The HCBC took only three boxers to the tournament, which was won by Plainview, but received victories from Marcos Garza and Martin Baldwin. Juan Baldwin lost a decision to Steve Cortez from Odessa.

Garza and Martin Baldwin will advance to the State Junior Olympic Tournament in Victoria May 1-3. The duo will be accompanied by coaches Ed Garza and Jamie Baldwin. HCBC welterweight Gene Dukes, competing in an Olympic box-off in Colorado Springs, Colo. was defeated in his first bout by Steve Guterrez from California. Dukes will travel with coach J.V. Martinez to Ft. Worth to compete in the National Senior Olympics Tournament in early July.

Red Sox strike Oilers twice

The Big Spring Red Sox ran their New Mexico-West Texas League record to 4-0 with a doubleheader sweep over the Cunningham Oilers recently at the Roy Anderson Complex.

Tony Ontiveros notched his first win of the year in the first game as the Red Sox rolled 9-1. Luis Rodriguez is 3-0 after putting the clamps on the Oilers, 14-1.

Ernie Garcia led the Red Sox in the first game by picking up two hits. Lupe Ontiveros chipped in a homerun.

Garcia came back with three hits in the second game while Dave Anguiano and Pete Amaro added two hits apiece.

The Red Sox will be at home again Sunday, May 20 when they face the Ozona Royals. The first game of the twinbill begins at 1:30 p.m.

Grace Peters has opened the Rockhouse Tea Room at 1308 Scurry which formerly housed the Rockfront Restaurant. A step-by-step plan for converting this history-laden house into a multi-dining room restaurant began in January when the Peters purchased it. They opened for business only two weeks ago after completing phase one. Already finished are the major structural and plumbing, heating, and air conditioning work, two dining rooms, and all the kitchen and storage areas.

Much of the stainless steel fixtures and equipment in the spacious, modern kitchen came from the Brass Nail, as did all the dining room furniture. Grace and her staff of three rotate duties so that all master all phases of the operation. Employees are Tina Cunningham, Marie Watkins, and Becky Reeh. They open for business Monday through Friday at 9:00 a.m. with coffee, rolls, toast and jelly. At 11:30 begins the lunch period with soup, salads, sandwiches and a hot plate of the day. From 2:00-4:00 fresh cakes, pies and cookies plus all types of beverages are available. Most of the recipes used are from Grace's vast family collection.

It is a delightful different atmosphere with delicious, inexpensive food.  Another new business was just opened by Susan Alexander and Kathy Pickett from Forsan. They established the SONSHINE Christian Book Store in the Eleventh Place Shopping Center after buying out the Abundant Life Book Store on Gregg Street. An open house will be held soon.  Sharon Donaghe is the owner and Tiffany Bedwell the manager of a new women's wear store in Highland Mall. BEFORE, DURING AND AFTER sells junior and misses sizing and maternity clothing.

Tomorrow night at 6:30 p.m. the Humane Society will meet again at 210 Permian Building. Avery & Associates Conference Room. All those interested are invited.  The Altrusa Club Annual Spring Fling and Book Review will be held next Saturday at the First Methodist Church Garrett Room. Annie Matt Angel will review "Don't Call Me Collect on Mother's Day" and "Tough Times Never Last, But Tough People Do." Call Doris Guy, 263-7432, for tickets.  Proposed plans for the addition of dressing rooms to the Big Spring State Hospital Dorothy Garrett natorium has been approved by the Texas Department of Mental Health in Austin.  The Chamber Education Committee is looking for volunteers willing to go into classrooms as resource people. If you have expertise in any subject or work area which can be shared with a classroom from pre-kindergarten through college, call 263-7641 and volunteer for next fall.  Church Women United has published a cookbook, TREASURED RECIPES, a collection of tried and tested favorites. The best feature in the book, however, is a section about figuring amounts to prepare for different size groups. For example, would you know what and how much to buy to prepare light refreshments for 300 guests at a reception? You can get this and many more helpful hints from TREASURED RECIPES. Only 37 are left, but if you call me, I'll tell you how to get one.  This column is written by Johnnie Lou Avery, president of Avery and Associates, West Texas Program Bureau, Property Management Systems, and Professional Services Bureau. Her offices are located at 210 Permian Building and her phone number is 263-1451. She welcomes your comments about this column.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY NEWS

Bob's Custom Woodwork's crew is ready to serve you. Front row, Vickie Bell, Bob Noyes and Jan Noyes; second row, Elvin Bearden, Craig Neighbors, Pablo Jara; back row, Rich Cohn, Armando Nunez.

Bob's Custom Woodwork Is Three-Shops-In-One

Bob's Custom Woodwork is actually three businesses in one: General Contractor, "Furniture Doctor" Repair Service and the Strip Shop. With all these services, it's hard to think of any home and business remodeling or repair job that Bob's Custom Woodwork couldn't handle. As a General Contractor, Bob provides turnkey construction on room additions, everything from slab to roof, including sheetrock, painting, electrical, plumbing and cabinets. Remodelling is a specialty, including redesigned kitchens and baths. "The Furniture Doctor" offers complete repairs to furniture in your home or in the shop. This includes the repair and refinishing of antiques. In The Strip Shop, they do wood and metal stripping for home and industry. Bob's will do the stripping and refinishing — or they'll strip an item and provide complete supplies for the do-it-yourselfer. They install microwave ovens, dishwashers, and Majestic heat circulating fireplaces and mantels. There's no job too small or too large for Bob Noyes and his crew. Bob does the estimates and give his personal supervision to all jobs. His wife, Jan, oversees the Strip shop, handles bookkeeping and customer service. Pablo Jara does framing, carpentry and custom doors. Armando Nunez specializes in general carpentry, counter tops, installation of cabinets, custom doors and acoustical ceilings. Vickie Bell and Craig Neighbors do the stripping and refinishing. Elvin Bearden handles furniture repair. Rick Cohn does general carpentry and Steve Tillery is carpenter's helper. Bob's is located in Building 613 in the Industrial Park. The shop is open from 8 a.m. til noon and from 1 to 5 p.m. Their number is 267-5811.

This year she was a regional qualifier in shorthand, was named to the all-star cast of the one-act play, was selected FHA Sweetheart, won the Academic All-American Award and was editor of the annual.

Miss Gonzales played basketball and ran track in grades 9-11. During her junior year she was on the annual staff and was a crew member of the one-act play.
