"Sixteen Candles" is showing at the Ritz. Harrison Ford stars in "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom" at the Cinema. Also at the Cinema is "Splash" with Tom Hanks and Daryl Hannah.

Outside: Rain

Thunderstorms threaten the area with heavy rain and hail, according to the National Weather Service, which predicts 30 percent rain through tonight. High today will be in the 80s, low tonight in the 50s. Winds will be 10-20 miles an hour. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer.

Fugitive snake

ATLANTIC BEACH, N.C. (AP) — The call about the fugitive came in on a Saturday night. Description: Long (7 1/2 feet) and skinny (25 pounds) and sort of bronze and brown in hue.

And did Atlantic Beach police hop into their cruisers and launch a hot pursuit?

Well, said Chief C.W. Pelletier, he asked Brad Johnson just where his missing pet python was last seen, "and he said on Cedar Street."

"I told him that's the last place I'm going," Pelletier said with a laugh. "I don't care what the reward is, I'm not going after it."

Pelletier said Sunday night that he did not know the amount of the award Johnson had offered, nor whether anyone else was out in hopes of catching both snake and money.

The snake was last seen in the western part of Atlantic Beach near a patch of woods, Pelletier said.

"We made a search of the area, but we don't know where it is," he said. "I mean, where do you look for a snake? It's like a ... gorilla. It sleeps wherever it pleases."

Patriots, war casualties honored

By KEELY COGHLAN

In a Memorial Day service Sunday at Trinity Memorial Park, U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm (D-Stamford) called on the audience to remember those who sacrificed their lives in battle.

The original patriots "ideals of freedom would have been left in the dust under the king's boots if they had not been willing to cement their ideals in blood," Stenholm said.

But in a speech at the dedication of an "Avenue of Flags," to be flown on Memorial and Veterans' Day at the cemetery, he also called on the nation's leaders not to send troops to battle before a majority of citizens support a war.

"This nation should never commit troops before the nation is committed," Stenholm said. "No veteran I have talked to wanted to become anything more or less than a veteran."

But some veterans have become victims, he said, including the Marines who died in a bunker in Lebanon.

"The question of commitment should first have been answered by the Congress of this nation and by the President of this nation," Stenholm said.

REMEMBERS PATRIOTS — Charles Stenholm, the keynote speaker at a Memorial Day service Sunday, remembered patriots and war casualties in a speech at Trinity Memorial Park. The Avenue of Flags was dedicated during the ceremony.

He also spoke of his feelings when he attended a memorial service for the eight veterans who died in the failed attempt to rescue Americans held hostage in Iran.

"The thing I shall never forget is not President Carter (who gave the address at the memorial service), but the eight young wives and children of those who gave their lives in the service of our country," Stenholm said.

"Wars do not end when the shooting stops," Stenholm said, quoting a former veteran and director of the Veteran's Administration.

Although the United States might question its involvement in Lebanon and the Middle East, the citizenry does not question its battle against Grenada, Stenholm said. He warned of Soviet ambitions to dominate the world, and said the U.S. should be prepared to protect its own interests, especially in Central America, which is closer to Big Spring "than we are to my office in Washington, D.C." Everywhere the United States has interests in the world, the Soviets are trying to takeover control of that area, an action he called no more accidental than "arms and ammunition in Grenada is accidental, or the presence of a Soviet sub off the west coast is accidental," Stenholm said.

"We need to recognize our responsibilities," he said. "Let today be a day of memory and recognition of this fight to keep the peace."

During the ceremony, veterans' groups placed wreaths at the base of the flagpole. Among the groups placing wreaths were the American Legion Posts No. 355 and 506; the Daughters of the American Revolution; Disabled American Veterans Chapter No. 47; Goldstar Mothers; Permian Basin Chapter of American Ex-Prisoners of War; Veterans of World War I Barracks 1474; Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 2013; Texas Army National Guard Detachment, First Company 11th Engineering Battalion; Employees of the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Big Spring; and the Buffalo Trail Council, Lone Star District of the Boy Scouts of America.

Rain, hail recorded in areas of county

Rain and, in some cases, hail dotted the county early today as thunderstorms travelling just ahead of a cold front swept through the state on its way north.

Clouds developed about 11 p.m. Sunday and the thunderstorms started moving into Big Spring about 1 a.m., bring hail and rain.

Electrical power was off for about 15 minutes in portions of the city near downtown, residents reported.

Around the county, Luther received about 1.02 inches of rain and hail, according to Mrs. John Couch. Residents of Centerpoint said they received about one-half inch of rain.

Big Spring residents on East 16th Street and in the Ridgelea and Kentwood sections reported hail and a trace of rain.

However, Knott residents said they did not receive any rain during the storms last night.

The National Weather Service is predicting a 30 percent chance of rain and thunderstorms through tonight. The high today is expected to be in the 80s, and the low tonight will be in the 50s. Winds will be blowing at 10 to 20 miles an hour. Humidity will remain high.

At 10:30 today, the weather service reported heavy rain and thunderstorms extended from east of Big Lake to 30 miles west of Brady.

Stenholm tours land damaged by drought

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm (D-Stamford) told Martin County farmers Sunday he was "cautiously optimistic" about their prospects to convince U.S. agricultural authorities to extend the planting deadline required for federal crop insurance.

Many area farmers have started dry-planting their cotton crops to meet the June 10th deadline, although most of their farmland has received less than two inches of rain all year.

But even if they do plant, knowing they could be destroying their topsoil, they might not receive any insurance payments because of the "workmanlike manner" provision of the insurance policy.

Stenholm called the clause a "Catch-22," because "you've got to plant by June 10th, but then they might rule you did not plant in a workmanlike manner," he said.

"I wouldn't worry about that happening, though," he said. "I'm not able to say with any authority, except that I am cautiously optimistic that a big hunk of common sense" will be used when examining the situation in Martin County.

At the request of local farmers, Stenholm said he is trying to convince Federal Crop Insurance Corporation Manager Merritt Sprague and Secretary of Agriculture John Block to delay or eliminate the planting clause deadline.

After touring Martin County farms in Lomax, Fairview, Brown and Lenora, Stenholm said the land "could almost bring tears to the eyes of farmers."

"No one will contend that it makes sense to go out and plant on the farms we saw today," Stenholm said of agriculture officials he has talked to. "I am cautiously optimistic that we will get relief on planting. I think we will get relief on the date."

West Texas farmers are in dire straits because of missed crops for three to five years, and because the disaster aid program in former farm bills was removed, Stenholm said.

It is unlikely farmers will have the full disaster program restored because of cost and because of abuses by wetland farmers who would collect insurance payments because of too much rain and then plant hay or soybeans as a crop, he said.

Instead, Stenholm said a farm bill he is sponsoring, H.R. 4565, would introduce permanent legislation that would establish bases and yields, in contrast to present farm legislation, enacted every five years.

Under his legislation, farmers would receive a farm acreage base established by a five-year moving average of crops planted. The high and the low years would be dropped.

An individual crop acreage base would allow farmers to decide how they want to plant, and would allow them to change 25 percent of that base to a crop by 60 days before deadline, under the bill.

Stenholm also said he is proposing federal crop insurance insure the cost of production, not the cost of the yield. Under the current system of insuring the yield, farmers who have three bad years can only insure their crops for the average yield during that time.

And agriculture committee legislators are considering mandatory supply management programs and subsidies of products to ensure the U.S. maintains the same share of the export market in commodities it has now, Stenholm said.

He also said he liked a proposal from one of the Martin County farmers present in the audience that local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices be in charge of setting planting dates for each county or area.

Other changes he supports in federal crop insurance, which 85 to 90 percent of farmers in the five-county area are participating in

Tulsa disaster

SEARCHING FOR BODIES — Tulsa fireman Herb Allison searches for bodies in Dirty Butter Creek in Tulsa, Okla. A total of 12 cars washed down the creek and at least two people died at the scene. Flood waters from a foot of rain left at least 10 people dead.

Residents brace for more rain

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — With hundreds of people left homeless and 11 people drowned or missing after a record rainfall sent 6-foot walls of water crashing through city streets, residents were warned to be alert today for more flash flooding.

"We don't need people dying in their cars again," said Yvonne Rehg, a spokeswoman at the city's emergency center.

The flooding early Sunday claimed at least 10 lives and other bodies may be found as streams recede, Deputy Chief Herb Hartz said Sunday. The American Red Cross reported five people hospitalized and 78 others treated for injuries.

The flood came exactly one month after a spate of tornadoes killed nine people outside this eastern Oklahoma city.

Witnesses said the flood came in waves as high as 10 feet. Most of the victims died when their cars or mobile homes were swept into creeks or drainage ditches, and a 57-year-old woman who lived in a trailer park remained unaccounted for Sunday night, Hartz said.

Eight bridges and numerous streets remained closed by high water late Sunday, and an aerial survey revealed "six or seven major pockets" of flood damage, said Mayor Terry Young, a former television weatherman.

Emergency workers and the National Guard reported evacuating 2,100 families, but Young said that was "a very conservative figure." The estimate of 200 mobile homes destroyed "likely will go up as well," he said.

Gov. George Nigh asked President Reagan for $3.7 million in federal disaster aid for Tulsa and Rogers counties, but that too was an estimate, said John Reid, Nigh's press aide. The total damage will probably amount to "many millions" of dollars, Reid said.

Floodwaters had receded from many streets by Sunday evening, but the National Weather Service warned that several streams and rivers throughout eastern Oklahoma continued to overflow.

Young cautioned residents of low-lying areas to "be prepared to move to a place of safety." Residents also were advised to stay off city streets because of the threat of more floods from late storms that had moved out of Tulsa by early today.

The weather service said up to 13 inches of rain had fallen in and around the city since Saturday night to set a new 24-hour rainfall record. The previous 24-hour record of 7.54 inches in Tulsa was set July 27, 1963.

Young, who declared a state of emergency at 2:45 a.m. Sunday, called the deluge "probably a 200-year rainfall," meaning rain that heavy could be expected only once every two centuries.

A second wave of thunderstorms, this one bearing numerous tornadoes, hit eastern Oklahoma later Sunday.

A tornado siren — which proved to be unneeded — struck fear in residents of Mannford, just west of Tulsa, where residents huddled in a cell at the jail and prayed against a repeat of the April 29 twister that killed one man and injured dozens.

Mannford is still cleaning up from the April twister, which struck two days after a tornado killed nine people in nearby Morris.

In Tulsa, many evacuees were

Thunderstorms reported

By the Associated Press
Heavy thunderstorms were reported across Texas early today ahead of a cold front that was moving slowly into the northwest sections of the state.

Hail as large as golf balls accompanied some of the storms that began Sunday night, and several towns reported wind damage.

Power outages were reported at the Collin County communities of Parker and Allen, north of Dallas, from high winds. Trees and power lines were down near Sulphur Springs in Hopkins County, where winds reached 60 to 65 mph.

High winds from the same system caused structural damage to a wall in nearby Rockwall. North to northeast winds were blowing behind the front, which was located from east of Wichita Falls to just north of Midland this morning. Wind speeds were averaging 15 to 25 miles an hour. Elsewhere over the state, winds were southerly at 5 to 15.

Temperatures this morning were in the 60s and 70s across Texas, ranging from 61 at Amarillo to 76 at Del Rio.

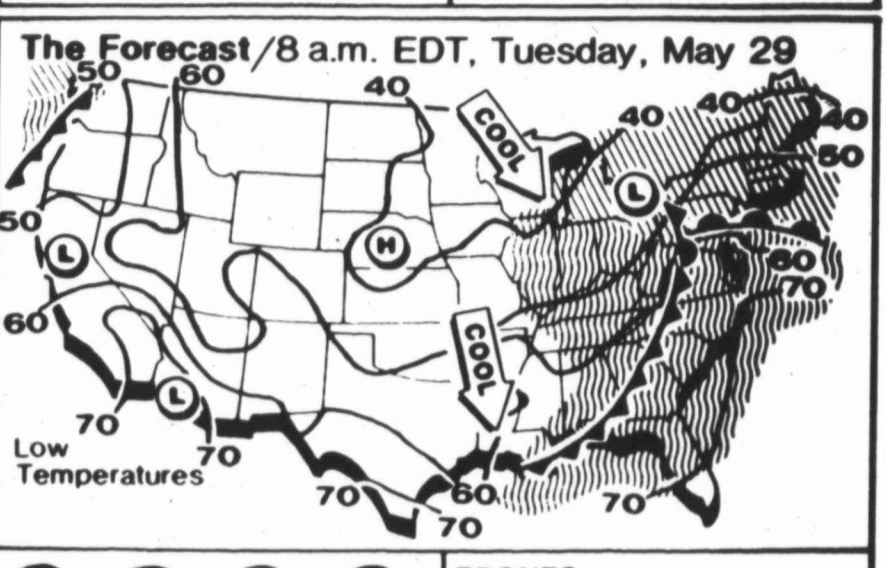

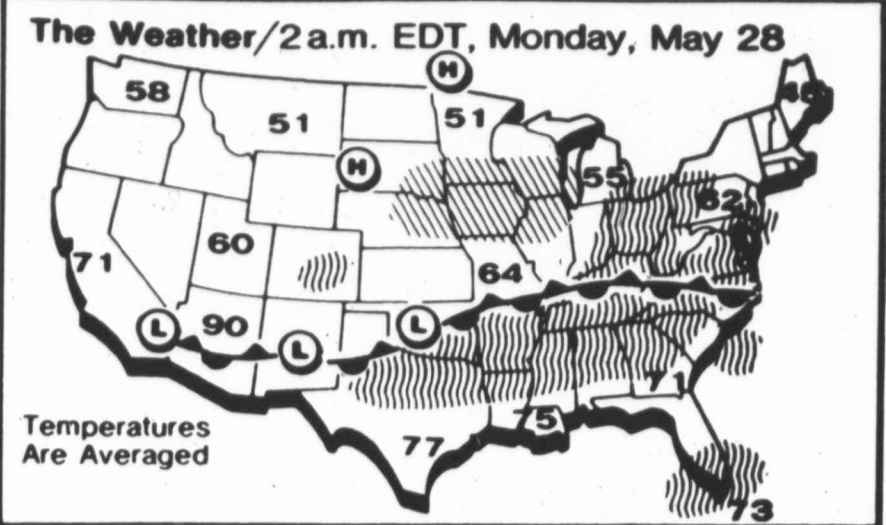

The National Weather Service predicted sunny and cooler weather for the state Tuesday, with highs mostly in the 80s.

Severe thunderstorms departed Oklahoma today and rumbled into northern Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Alabama after a weekend that saw at least 10 people killed by flash floods in Tulsa.

The showers and thunderstorms also extended over much of the Ohio Valley into the middle Mississippi Valley. Numerous tornadoes accompanied the latest sweep of thunderstorms across Oklahoma on Sunday afternoon evening, touching down at Norman, Beggs, Mannford, Silver City, Pawnee and Sapulpa. Two twisters touched down northeast of Washington, N.C., and another struck near Roseboro, N.C.

Nearly 2 inches of rain had fallen at Dothan, Ala., in the six hours ending at midnight. Other heavy amounts across the South included 1.3 inches at Muscle Shoals, Ala., more than three-fourths of an inch at Greensboro and Hickory, N.C., and half an inch or more at Tupelo, Miss., Crossville, Tenn., McAlester, Okla., and London, Ky.

West Texas: Clear and cooler tonight. Sunny Tuesday. Lows tonight mostly 50s except mid-40s Panhandle and mid-40s along the Rio Grande in the Big Bend. Highs Tuesday ranging from 7/s north to 90s extreme south. Coastal Waters: A cold front is expected to move off the Texas coast Tuesday morning.

Fire guts shopping mall

WAXAHACHIE (AP) — A fire in a major shopping center that raged for nearly four hours destroyed 15 businesses, including the city's only bakery and two major restaurants, and caused up to $5 million in damages, fire officials said.

The fire at the Northgate Center, which started just before midnight Saturday, was put out at 3:30 a.m. by 68 firefighters from Waxahachie and five other fire departments from nearby cities.

Gone with the blaze were the bookkeeping department of the First National Bank, including all records of deposits made last Thursday and Friday, the town's largest paint store, a drug store, an art shop, a printing press, five clothing stores and offices of the Ellis County Committee on Aging.

The cause of the fire was under investigation by the Waxahachie fire marshal's office and agents from the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

"It will be two or three days before it'll be cooled off enough that we can get in there to see where it started and how," Presley said.

Waxahachie firefighters were aided by units from Dallas, Ennis, Midlothian, Palmer and Italy, firefighter Dwaine Williams said. About 80 firefighters were on the scene at the height of the blaze, said Williams.

Wendell Presley, Waxahachie fire marshal and fire chief, set damages at $3.5 million and $5 million. He said the cause of the blaze, or exactly where it had started had not been determined late Sunday.

"There's not even any speculation at this time," Presley said. "It started in the back of the mall and spread fast."

He said the blaze escalated when aerosol cans at the Eckerd's drug store and paint and Sherwin & Williams exploded. All but four of the mall's 19 businesses burned to the ground before the fire was put out.

Five hurt in crash

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A pilot and four passengers escaped serious injury when a helicopter flying at a low altitude crashed while flying near about 25,000 people at Memorial Day weekend boat races.

Another man was treated for minor burns suffered as he helped pull the victims from the wreckage Sunday afternoon.

One of those aboard the helicopter was Ronnie Wagner, one of the promoters of the boating event, Stroh's Spring National Drag Boat Races at Braunig Lake in south Bexar County.

Witnesses said the helicopter crashed at 3:27 p.m. as the pilot was flying around the lake with Wagner, Wagner's 7-year-old son and two other passengers.

Injured were the pilot, Arnulfo Martinez Jr., 43, of San Antonio; and passengers Wagner, 32, of Bulverde; his son, Toby Wagner; George Gill, 11; and Sam Arzpe, 33, of San Antonio.

Ax murderer sought

AUSTIN (AP) — A man was sought for questioning today in the weekend slaying of a 41-year-old San Antonio man, whose bludgeoned body was found in a motel room in north Austin.

Kenneth Eugene McEachern died sometime Saturday, several hours after he was struck 13 times in the head with an "ax, tomahawk or some other type of chopping instrument," Travis County medical examiner Dr. Robert Bayardo ruled.

"Although he suffered massive brain injuries, he lived for several hours after the attack," Bayardo told the Austin American-Statesman.

Homicide Sgt. Dusty Hesskew said McEachern, whose last known address was in San Antonio, was found about 9:30 a.m. in his room at the Texan Motel.

taken by boat to a half-dozen emergency shelters at the state fairgrounds and elsewhere, and at mid-morning Sunday authorities appealed for more flat-bottomed boats to help.

At least 2,100 houses were flooded in low-lying areas around Mingo Creek, Joe Creek and Dirty Butter Creek in east and north Tulsa, said Bob Patton, Tulsa City-County Civil Defense spokesman. Flooding also dislodged mobile homes and washed out bridges in west Tulsa.

"We have one mobile home park that has been, well, probably totally demolished," Patton said. "It tore trailers from their footings, turned them over, washed them downstream and that sort of thing."

Several hundred cars were abandoned across the city and many were washed off bridges, Patton said. Cars were overturned by the force of the water and several were stacked together where roads washed away.

"People not knowing the rapid pace of the water attempted to drive through low areas," he said. "The cars became flooded. They abandoned them, then the cars became washed downstream."

Janey Freeman said she and nine others, including four children, escaped from their mobile home by tying sheets together and using them to make their way to a large tree about 3 a.m.

The 10 people clung to the tree until firefighters arrived with a boat and rescued them a short time later, she said.

"We were lucky to get out alive. We won't be going back," said Ms. Freeman, adding that her trailer was full of mud and most of her belongings were destroyed.

compared to 3 percent last year, are a lessening of the severity of the penalty for late planting. Right now, every five day delay means a decrease in 10 percent of the possible benefits.

But even if farmers manage to persuade agriculture officials to delay or eliminate the planting provision, they still must meet a planting deadline for ASCS program benefits whose deadline is set in law. The insurance deadline is set by administrators of the insurance corporation, Stenholm said.

Man arrested in unsolved slaying

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Pennsylvania police say they have arrested a 32-year-old Texas man wanted in Albuquerque in the death of an Air Force officer five years ago.

Pittsburgh police identification officer Robert Fester said Sunday two officers of a Pittsburgh suburb, Stowe Township, arrested James Elbert Skibo, of Vidor, Texas, after answering a report of a man with a knife.

Fester said the man refused to give his name after his arrest on two felony charges, and a check with the National Crime Information Center turned up the name James Skibo. The identification was confirmed when the man's fingerprints matched those on file with the FBI, he said.

Albuquerque police filed a criminal complaint against Skibo in September 1979 in connection with the death of 2nd Lt. Harley Stone, a Dexter native stationed at Kirtland Air Force Base in Albuquerque.

Richard Ness, an Albuquerque detective at the time of Stone's disappearance, described Stone as an "all-American boy."

Boy's body found on Port Arthur beach

PORT ARTHUR, Texas (AP) — The body of a 12-year-old boy who disappeared in the Gulf of Mexico washed ashore at Sea Rim State Park, a Jefferson County sheriff's dispatcher said today.

Authorities continued to search the area for his 11-year-old companion.

The boy, identified as Curtis Francis, and Cherique Victor disappeared Sunday afternoon, said the sheriff's dispatcher, who refused to give her name. Seven hours later, the boy's body was found on the beach near Sabine Pass, she said.

Meanwhile, authorities in El Paso were looking for a boy who was believed to have been a Mexican national was missing and feared drowned in the Rio Grande.

She said sheriff's deputies, the Civil Air Patrol, the Coast Guard and the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department were looking for the girl. A witness reported seeing two children playing near the river about 5 p.m. Sunday, just before they ran into the river to retrieve a ball that got away from them, border officials said.

Safe taken from restaurant

A safe containing about $1,500 in currency was taken from the Crossroads Restaurant at 1810 S. Gregg between 10 p.m. Saturday and 5:30 a.m. Sunday, restaurant employee Patricia Perez told police at about 5:30 a.m. Sunday.

rested Matthew Scholes, 22, of Coahoma on suspicion of DWLS at Moss Creek. He was transferred to the sheriff's office and released on $500 bond set by Daratt.

In addition to the safe, worth about $950 excluding the items in it, the burglars damaged the roof. They left their tools behind when they were unable to open the safe at the premises, according to the police report.

Police also arrested Tommy Lee Gartman, 17, of 2608 Alamesa on suspicion of criminal trespass at the Jet Drive-In on Wasson Road at 12:49 a.m. Saturday.

A Mr. Lagourney of 302 Circle told police at 4:45 p.m. Sunday that someone took two Betamax recorders, videotape, an 1884 $10 gold piece worth $780, and $1,205 in wheat pennies from his house between Friday morning and 4:40 p.m. Sunday.

Lydia Torres of 910 W. Fourth told police someone caused $1,317 of damage to a color TV, a couch, a lamp and a picture frame in her home while she was gone between 4 p.m. Saturday and 12:20 a.m. Sunday.

Police arrested two men on suspicion of driving while intoxicated in separate incidents Saturday morning. Arrested were Johnny Jack Thorp of 1508 Main, and Eloy Garcia, 26, of Knott. Thorp was transferred to the county jail and released on $1,000 bond.

Ross Ballance of 1704 Austin told police at 2:30 p.m. Sunday that someone took $60 in $20 bills from his carport where he was having a garage sale.

Police arrested Juan Medina, 22, of Route 1 at 4:41 p.m. Sunday at Moss Creek on suspicion of driving while license was suspended. He was transferred to the sheriff's office and released on $500 bond set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

Charles Barbee of 2710 Cindy told police that someone between 5 p.m. last Monday and 4:40 p.m. Sunday took two AM car radios from two different vehicles.

At 7:30 p.m. Sunday, police ar-

Dewey McSwain told police at 7 p.m. Sunday that someone took his daughter's black 20" bike from in front of his residence.

Deputies arrest woman

Howard County sheriff's deputies Sunday arrested a 38-year-old woman on a warrant for issuance of bad checks.

Ron Brooks of 202 Circle told police at 2 p.m. Sunday that someone damaged his television cable connector during the weekend when they tried to splice into the cable. Damage was estimated at $25.

Judith Orne Puga of 911 W. Fifth was released on a $200 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin.

Three persons were transferred Saturday to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of criminal trespass on Delta Lightning Arrestors.

Department of Public Safety troopers arrested James Neil Ford, 24, of Odessa on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and speeding at 12:48 a.m. Sunday 13 miles west of Big Spring on Interstate 20. He was transferred to the sheriff's office and released on $1,000 bond for DWI and $200 bond for speeding.

Transferred were: Darrell Loyd Thomas, 46, of Lamesa; Sara Thomas, 28, of 1516 Sycamore; and Mary Moreland Tyra, 37, of Lamesa. Two more persons were transferred for the same offense on Sunday morning: Richard Kent, 26, of 1904 E. 25th; and George Jimmy Bolton, 32, of 3701 Calvin.

DPS officers also arrested Roberto Hernandez, 20, of Del Rio at 2:45 a.m. Saturday on suspicion of DWI, and failure to carry a driver's license and liability insurance. He was transferred to the sheriff's office, and released on a $1,000 bond for DWI and two $200 bonds for the other charges. Bonds

All were released on $500 bond set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

Students out-buzz competition

DALLAS (AP) — Four Ohio students have out-buzzed the competition in the National Academic Championships, solving such bafflers as the geological classification of slate and the name of the English Navy's commander in 1588.

DPS officers Saturday arrested two men on suspicion of separate incidents of DWI. Arrested, transferred to the sheriff's office and released on $1,000 bond were: Robert Earl Aten, 33, of Lamesa and Leroy Aldridge, 29, of 1317 Mobile.

The Wheelersburg High School team managed to out-think teenagers from 51 schools around the nation to win the championship.

Three persons were transferred Saturday to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of criminal trespass on Delta Lightning Arrestors.

Dallas Baptist College was the financial sponsor for the week-long brain power test, and WFAA-TV in Dallas broadcast the final heat Sunday.

Transferred were: Darrell Loyd Thomas, 46, of Lamesa; Sara Thomas, 28, of 1516 Sycamore; and Mary Moreland Tyra, 37, of Lamesa. Two more persons were transferred for the same offense on Sunday morning: Richard Kent, 26, of 1904 E. 25th; and George Jimmy Bolton, 32, of 3701 Calvin.

"I had no idea we'd do it," glowed Bridgit Boggs, a 17-year-old from Wheelersburg who earlier identified the reason for the characters' flight in Boccaccio's Decamerion.

Miss Boggs burst into tears when the final buzzer sounded and gave the team's mascot — a stuffed dog named Lively — a real bear hug.

The students might be an intimidating group if they weren't so modest.

"We pick up a lot of this stuff at school," allowed Deborah Mauskopf, a member of the second-place Charles E. Jordan High School team from Durham, N.C.

Wigs on display

NASHVILLE — Entertainer Dolly Parton's famous wigs and the guitar on which she wrote many of her hit songs will be featured in a yearlong exhibit saluting her at the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum.

The exhibit, which opens June 1, marks the first biographical salute to a single country music star in the museum's 17-year history.

The 38-year-old singer, born in the Smoky Mountain town of Sevierville, Tenn., chose the items for the exhibit with help from associates and the Country Music Foundation, which runs the museum.

"She has been extremely excited about this whole concept," said Bill Ivey, foundation director. "Her enthusiasm has been overwhelming."

The exhibit traces Miss Parton's life and career through her latest movie, "Rhinestone," which co-stars Sylvester Stallone. It will also include her favorite banjo and scripts from her first two movies, "9 to 5" and "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas." Also featured is a re-creation, sewn by Miss Parton's mother, of the coat that inspired her to write the hit song "Coat of Many Colors." The fourth of 12 children in a poor family, the singer wore such a garment while growing up.

Miss Parton won Grammy awards in 1982 for "9 to 5" and in 1979 for "Here You Come Again."

ANOTHER BOMB FOUND — This device was found along railroad tracks Sunday in Stillwater, Minn. Police say the bomb was detonated when a man threw a rock into a pile of freshly cut tree limbs.

Search on for hidden bombs

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP) — Officers combed parks and buildings for explosives after a rock thrown by a passer-by touched off a hidden pipe bomb that was "identical" to six bombs found earlier in Wisconsin, police said.

The 6-inch bomb that went off Sunday morning caused no injuries, but police were treating it "as a serious matter," said police Chief Wally Abrahamson. "We consider this to be a warning," he said.

About 20 officers spent Sunday searching parks along the St. Croix River and about 50 buildings, but no other bombs were found, Abrahamson said. Police asked residents and visitors to avoid any suspicious-looking packages or other objects they might find.

The search by Stillwater police, police from two neighboring towns, Washington County sheriff's officers and agents of the Federal Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms was to continue today, the chief said.

"We're using plain-clothed officers to avoid any panic," he added.

The discovery of the bomb in this town of 10,500, about 25 miles northeast of Minneapolis-St. Paul, came less than two days after six pipe bombs were found in La Crosse, Wis., 160 miles away. One of the six exploded without incident Friday, and the others were detonated by an Army bomb squad.

Abrahamson would not release details of a note found with the Stillwater bomb, but he did say it was signed "Gay Strike Force." Badly spelled, handwritten notes found with the La Crosse bombs claimed they were the work of the "North Central Gay Strike Force Against Public and Police Oppression."

"The bombs and letters found with them are identical," said Abrahamson.

The Stillwater bomb went off when a man who was out walking along railroad tracks near the river noticed some freshly cut limbs and a string in the brush, the chief said.

Soldier receives honor

WASHINGTON (AP) — With solemn Memorial Day pomp and pageantry, a serviceman who lost his life and his name in the Vietnam War receives America's highest military award and burial in a place of honor among the nation's war dead.

President Reagan planned to attend today's funeral of the unknown serviceman at Arlington National Cemetery.

Reagan was to give a Medal of Honor, the nation's top award for military valor, before the burial in the Tomb of the Unknowns in the midst of the cemetery where 189,000 former servicemen and their families are buried.

The only serviceman not identified among the 58,012 Americans who died during the Southeast Asian war was to be interred between the unidentified dead from World War II and the Korean War. That spot is at the foot of the 79-ton marble tomb covering the remains of the unknown soldier of World War I.

The silver casket had lain in state for the past three days in the vaulting Rotunda of the Capitol, an honor accorded only 24 other people, including the three previous unknowns.

It was to be taken this afternoon to Arlington, three miles away, by a horse-drawn caisson. Thousands of people passed through the Capitol to pay their respects.

Counterfeit T-shirts

NEW YORK — Police and private investigators hired by the company that markets Michael Jackson memorabilia raided a Manhattan store and confiscated 452 counterfeit T-shirts bearing the superstar singer's likeness, authorities said.

The raid, executed Sunday with a federal warrant, also netted five heat-transfer machines used to make the T-shirts, said Bud Mills, a spokesman for AZ Investigating Services.

No arrests were made, but the raiding party encountered five men who had locked themselves inside the building, Mills said.

"There was a natural reluctance on their part to give up any merchandise," he added.

Mills' agency was hired by Entertainers Merchandise Management Corp., legal distributors of Michael Jackson items.

"We're trying to go after individuals at the source" of the counterfeit trade, Mills said. "We've been into this case for over a month."

Actress weds

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Actress Debbie Reynolds has tied the knot with Richard R. Hamlett, a Virginia real estate developer whom she met six months ago while doing a benefit show in Reno, Nev., an aide said.

"He asked her to dance and they've been dancing ever since," Cynthia Cutler, a spokeswoman for Miss Reynolds, said Sunday in announcing the actress's third marriage.

The wedding was held Friday night at the home of a friend of Miss Reynolds, who was performing Saturday on the SS Norway, the world's largest cruise liner. The ship had been docked at the Port of Miami.

Ms. Reynolds, 52, whose film credits include "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" and "Singing in the Rain," wore a short, pale green chiffon dress for the ceremony and was given away by her son, Todd, Ms. Cutler said.

News in brief

By the Associated Press
Missiles readied

WASHINGTON — The Reagan administration is ready to send 400 Stinger anti-aircraft missiles to Saudi Arabia and is considering U.S. refueling of Saudi jet fighters to help defend oil tankers and installations in the Persian Gulf, according to U.S. officials.

Only a final decision by President Reagan is required to begin immediate delivery of 200 launchers equipped with the Stingers as well as another 200 replacement missiles, the officials said Sunday.

They told The Associated Press the hand-held missiles could be deployed at Ras Tanura, the main Saudi oil depot; aboard tankers, which have been under fire in the Gulf, and at the royal palaces.

"Military force — ground troops — are not called for here," an official said. "But we have to provide the stability for a diplomatic solution."

The imminent move aroused the Israeli government. Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir told his Cabinet Sunday he feared Stingers could fall into the hands of terrorists or they could be used against Israel, a senior official said in Jerusalem.

The Stingers are designed to be effective at distances up to three miles and could bolster Saudi defenses against low-flying attack planes. The Saudis are already armed with 62 U.S.-built F-15 jet fighters, but the need for time to scramble diminishes their interception capability.

Problems with polio

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. — As many as 75,000 people stricken with polio in the 1940s and '50 are developing minor health problems related to it, including muscle pain, weakness and fatigue, a doctor says.

"It may be that post-polio patients are more susceptible to the effects of mid-life stress and the normal aging process," said Dr. David Weichers, a private doctor and former assistant clinical professor at Ohio State University College of Medicine.

"A few post-polio patients may face a change in lifestyle — a return to the braces, wheelchairs and aids for breathing that they had put away when they reached peak recovery," Weichers told a news conference Sunday after a symposium on delayed effects of the disease.

Some people don't know their electric bills can be about the same all year round.

Some do.

The Average Payment Plan will put you in the know; and just in time to take the heat off your hot weather bills.

You'll still pay for all the electricity you use. But under the Average Payment Plan, your bills will be more even all year round.

The plan is based on a 12-month average that's figured each month. So you can pay less during the months you use the most electricity, by paying more during the months you use less.

The Average Payment Plan is available to Texas Electric residential customers. So look into it today. It's definitely worth knowing about.

U.S. gets tough on loan defaults

The U.S. Department of Education has many failings, but the unwillingness and inefficiencies in collecting delinquent student loans are no longer among them.

Six years ago, the default rate on National Defense Student Loans was a scandalous 18.3 percent. By 1982, that total was 16 percent and, though the figures for the last fiscal year aren't in yet, department estimates place the current default rate at approximately 10.4 percent. Which isn't to suggest that the government is about to balance the student loan ledger, but the trends are much improved.

This turnaround can be credited to Education Secretary Terrel Bell. His crackdown on campus deadbeats and those colleges that are careless about collecting student loans has caused a flurry in the groves of academe.

In 1981, the Education Department began using private collecting agencies to recover delinquent debts, and by year's end the government had recouped some $60 million in outstanding loans.

Still, Secretary Bell isn't satisfied. Last summer, he asked other federal agencies to lean on their employees to recover $67 million in delinquent student loans. So far, nearly $6 million has been collected, and beginning July 1, the government will garnish the wages of federal workers who haven't made arrangements to repay their debts.

It would be premature to predict that the federal government will eventually eliminate student loan defaults. But if Bell has his way, these defaults will be drastically reduced during the next few years. And that's good news, not only for taxpayers, but for the millions of students who depend upon federal funds to continue their college education.

FBI uncovers cheating in ranks

WASHINGTON — A hush-hush internal investigation by high-level FBI officials has determined that several hundred bureau employees were involved in widespread cheating on examinations for coveted special agent appointments. Hundreds of applicants saw at least portions of the test ahead of time.

The revelations led to serious soul-searching among the FBI brass. They decided to tighten the admittedly lax security covering the entrance exam. The remedial action, designed to prevent future cheating, did not extend to disciplinary moves or investigations of applicants who passed the tainted exams during the leak period.

My associate Indy Badhwar has learned that in 1981 and 1982 several hundred candidates who took the standard special agent exam had seen it — or parts of it — beforehand.

According to a former FBI agent familiar with the scandal, a senior agent leaked a copy of the exam to his son, an FBI clerk who had applied to become a special agent. Copies of the exam were then clandestinely circulated to applicants both inside and outside the bureau through a network of friends and contacts.

"We determined that the scope of this was widespread," FBI spokesman Bill Baker candidly admitted when my associate approached him with the information. He added that FBI Director William Webster was "extremely concerned and quick to recognize the problem" once the internal investigation began to produce results in the fall of 1982.

Although Baker said the FBI does not have an institutionalized honor system, he admitted: "We allowed an environment that didn't support the integrity we'd hoped for from our employees." He said the exam leaked out because of poor security and because there were no written warnings to applicants against an advance look at the test.

Hundreds of 1981-82 applicants became full-fledged special agents.

First World debt

WASHINGTON — The global economy is so much of a piece that a basic defect can surface in many different kinds of aches and pains. The immediate sore spot, we are reminded by the visit of President Miguel de la Madrid, is Third World debt.

But largely because of the Mexican president's political courage and economic sobriety, the debt problem is proving to be manageable. So it makes sense for the Reagan administration to shower kindnesses on de la Madrid, especially in the touchy matter of Central America.

Record American budget deficits of $200 billion for the foreseeable future constitute the underlying vulnerability in the world economy. The Treasury has to borrow to pay the debt. Since January there has also been brisk demand for loans from the private sector. The competition has caused interest rates to soar. In the past two months the prime rate which banks charge their best customers has climbed from 11 to 12.5 percent — a straggling rise that could yield many adverse consequences.

Recession for one. If the Federal Reserve Board moved dramatically to tighten credit, interest rates would shoot still higher. Corporate and consumer borrowing would shut down, bringing the economy to a screeching halt. But the Fed has moved gently, not in abrupt fashion. All kinds of indicators — including good retail sales for April — show that the recovery continues apace. Those administration officials who have recently been attacking the Fed for tight money only prove they don't comprehend what has been happening.

Inflation is a second awful possibility. The economy has been growing to the point where some goods and some skilled labor are becoming scarce. The experience of the last 15 years makes people wary of inflation anyhow. The huge deficits feed that wariness. If the Fed printed more money to accommodate loan demand, an inflationary spiral could take off. But warnings by Chairman Paul Volcker and the gentle tightening of credit have made overheating of the economy a relatively distant prospect. A sudden inflationary spurt, like a bad recession, seems not on for now.

The panicky psychology engendered by uncertainty about deficits and interest rates represents a third general vulnerability. Investors all over the world sense that they are on uncharted seas. The stock market eases down despite record earnings for major companies. The bond markets go wild. Rumors of possible failure oblige the Fed and 16 private banks to put together the largest rescue package ever to save the country's ninth largest bank, Continental Illinois. A particular danger is that the Europeans, Japanese and other holders of big reserves might suddenly cease buying American securities in record amounts. A withdrawal would drive interest rates higher, depress economic activity and beget both recession and inflation. But that hasn't happened either, for the foreigners are continuing to pour money into this country.

That leaves the problem of the Third World debt. More than a score of countries, chiefly in Latin America, have accumulated hundreds of billions of dollars in debt to thousands of commercial banks in this country, Europe, Japan and the Middle East. The recession of 1980-1982, plus a huge rise in interest charges, made it impossible for the debtor countries to meet their obligations.

Most of the debtor countries have now worked out through the International Monetary Fund arrangements for rescheduling payment of what they owe the banks. As a condition, they have been obliged to swallow austerity programs that curb government spending, business activity and wages. Political difficulties — including protest riots — have developed in Argentina, Brazil, Peru, the Dominican Republic and other nations. The recent rise in U.S. interest rates, by suddenly increasing what the debtor countries have to pay, turns the screw sharply on the political tensions.

President de la Madrid comes on stage at that point as an undisputed blessing. A sober man, trained in finance, he has assembled a cabinet which rivals in quality — if it does not surpass — any government in the world. Mexico has led the rest of the world in rescheduling its debts, in applying austerity measures and in cooperating with international and American authorities on joint management of the debt problem.

Sinful weight

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I guess I am a bit overweight compared with others, but a friend of mine told me the other day that being overweight is a sin. Is that true? — Mrs. V.B.

DEAR MRS. V.B.: I'm not sure what you mean by "a bit overweight;" sometimes we place too much emphasis in our culture on physical beauty and appearance. We should take care that if we are just slim enough or only use the right cosmetics or wear the right clothes we will be happy — and that's not true. True and lasting joy in life comes only when we put our lives in God's hands and make him first in our lives.

However, if your weight is such that it is harming you physically, that is wrong, and God wants you to take steps to overcome this. Doctors tell us being overweight can cause many physical ailments, and make others much worse. Our bodies have been given to us by God, who created us and loves us. We have a responsibility to take care of them since they are a gift from God.

The Bible says, "Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought for a price. Therefore, honor God with your body" (1 Corinthians 6:19-20).

On a practical level, take whatever steps your doctor recommends to bring your weight in line with what it should be. Be as practical as you can, planning menus in advance so they include nutritious foods that will both keep you healthy and help you lose weight. Avoid those things that you know will only put weight on you — the fancy desserts, the fattening snack foods. In fact, the place to turn your back on these things is at the grocery store. If you have them around the house, you probably will not be able to resist the temptation to nibble.

Billy Graham's religious column is distributed by the Tribune Company Syndicate.

Today in History

By The Associated Press Today is Monday, May 28, the 149th day of 1984. There are 217 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On May 28, 1940, with the evacuation of Allied troops from Dunkirk already under way, Belgium surrendered to invading German forces during World War II.

On this date: In 1533, England's archbishop pronounced the marriage of King Henry VIII to Anne Boleyn valid.

In 1863, the first black regiment from the North left Boston to fight in the Civil War.

In 1934, a Canadian woman, Elzire Dionne, gave birth to quintuplets.

In 1972, the Duke of Windsor, who had abdicated the English throne to marry the woman he loved, died in Paris at age 77.

In 1977, fire raged through a nightclub in Southgate, Ky., killing more than 160 people.

but they have not been investigated, disciplined or disqualified, though it's obvious some of them cheated.

This has caused some understandable bitterness among applicants who were still in training when the scandal broke — and who were disqualified in droves. According to one source, an entire class of trainees at the FBI academy in Quantico, Va., was suspended.

"We had to take an institutional approach," explained Baker. He said applicants who were disqualified are being encouraged to re-apply and take an entirely new entrance exam that will be ready next month.

In the course of the internal investigation, all the applicants who had taken the test but had not become special agents were given two choices: withdraw with no stigma and wait for a new exam, or sign an affidavit that they had not had access to the exam and/or take a lie-detector test.

"During interviews, those found to have lacked candor regarding unauthorized access to the exam were suspended, while others were precluded from taking the exam again," Baker said. Some employees chose to resign rather than sign the affidavit or take a polygraph test.

From now on, Baker said, all candidates must sign a special form swearing that they had had no prior access to the entrance exam; lying on this form will constitute a crime. In addition, all FBI field offices have been issued new, detailed instructions on physical security of the exams.

"We sincerely believe we've solved the problem" the FBI spokesman said.

FORMULA UPDATE: Five years ago, thousands of American babies were permanently injured when Syntex Laboratories of Palo Alto, Calif., made a mistake in its infant formula. Salt — sodium chloride — was removed from the ingredients. While this got rid of harmful sodium, it also eliminated chloride, which is an essential nutritional ingredient.

Syntex said it learned of the chloride problem on July 2, 1979, and began recalling the formula later that month. In fact, as I reported last year, the company was warned about the danger on May 15, 1979, by a professor who was doing research on infant formulas. But Syntex ignored the professor's warning without even checking his findings. In the weeks between May 15 and July 2, countless additional babies were unnecessarily harmed by the lack of chloride in their diet.

The Food and Drug Administration recommended criminal prosecution of Syntex. But the Justice Department has decided not to press charges, using the incredible explanation that "we have no evidence of prior warnings or notice to Syntex or its employees from either external or internal sources that their processes were deficient in any respect."

The Justice Department also claimed it has no evidence that the company mislabeled the cans of chloride-free formula. But my sources have actual cans of the formula that say there's chloride inside when there's not. I have seen internal Syntex memos which show that while the salt was taken out of the formula in March 1978, the new labels were not approved until two months later.

Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, has promised to see that Syntex is brought to justice.

PROUD PAPA: Pakistan's foreign minister, Yaqub Khan, will meet with administration officials in Washington this week. The official purpose of his visit is to discuss Pakistan's burdensome problem with refugees from Afghanistan. But State Department sources suggest an equally important reason for the foreign minister's trip to the United States: His son, Samad, is graduating from Brown University this month.

Mears speeds to second Indy 500 win

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The biggest problem Rick Mears had all day was finding Victory Lane. He overshot it.

Not surprising, considering he spent Sunday setting a speed record in his second Indianapolis 500 victory.

He won it in 1979, when he was just 27 years old. The past two years he had come close.

This time, though, Mears led for 114 of the 200 laps and had the race in his hip pocket, thanks to a broken universal joint that knocked Tom Sneva, the record-breaking pole-sitter, out of competition with 32 to go. When he dropped out, Sneva was running a close second and had his sights set on becoming only the fourth driver to win two in a row.

From then until the end, Mears coasted — at 202 mph no less, "a comfortable pace," he said — to his record of 163.621 mph, surpassing the 162.962 set a dozen years ago by the late Mark Donohue.

There were only two race-day crashes. Patrick Bedard sustained a concussion and broken jaw and Johncock suffered a fractured ankle.

There were several other mishaps, mostly spinouts, stalls and the like. For the most part, though, it was blown engines or gremlins of one sort or another which sent one sleek, colorful machine after another back to Gasoline Alley.

Only 14 of 33 starters were running when Mears crossed the thin strip of bricks, the finish line which symbolizes the old, unpaved surface, with his red-gloved fist thrust skyward in celebration.

After the traditional victory lap around the 2½-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway, accepting the cheers of 400,000 fans, Mears swept into Pit Road, headed for Victory Lane, turned left — and missed it.

Kareem a 'headache' to Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Kareem Abdul-Jabbar ignored a migraine headache. The Los Angeles Lakers shook off fatigue. And Kevin McHale shook his head as he tried to explain the Boston Celtics' shaky start.

"Maybe I should get hung over before the next game and get a headache if I can play like that," McHale, Boston's top scorer with 25 points, said of Abdul-Jabbar's game-high 32. "Maybe we can pick up a scrimmage game with New York on Tuesday to keep us sharp."

Los Angeles had just one day between the end of its Western Conference final Friday night in Phoenix and the start of the National Basketball Association championship series here Sunday afternoon.

But the Lakers bolted out of the blocks and raced to a 115-109 victory and a 1-0 series lead over the Celtics, who hadn't played since wrapping up the Eastern Conference crown Wednesday night.

"Our rhythm carried over from the last game," said James Worthy, whose 20 points helped the Lakers hand Boston its first home loss in 10 playoff games this season.

For the Celtics, who are home for Thursday night's second game of the best-of-seven series, it seemed to be trickling.

"We just came out a little lax... We were just rusty," said Boston's Cedric Maxwell. "We had a chance to rest and read about how good we were."

Los Angeles didn't wait long to show it was better Sunday.

Trailing 4-3, the Lakers reeled off 17 of the next 19 points to grab a 20-6 lead. The spurt, keyed by excellent shooting and their running game, stretched to 27-8 as the Lakers built a 30-12 bulge with 3:16 left in the first quarter.

Abdul-Jabbar, the 37-year-old center who had 13 points in the Lakers' 99-97 victory over Phoenix Friday night, had eight of those 27 points and 13 in the first period. He made 12 of 17 field-goal attempts in the game.

All that from a man who woke up at 6 a.m. with a migraine headache and who showed up at Boston Garden one hour before game time.

"I said, 'why now,'" when he awoke with his first migraine since August, he said. "It wouldn't have kept me out of the game, but it's hard to play with that pain."

Boston, which has beaten the Lakers in all seven final series confrontations, trailed 34-22 after one quarter as the Lakers hit 73 percent of their shots.

The lead went to 65-52 at halftime despite a nine-point Boston run that had cut it to 56-48. A 14-foot jumper by Worthy with 6:01 left in the third quarter gave the Lakers their biggest lead, 83-64.

But with Abdul-Jabbar and Johnson on the bench with four fouls each, Larry Bird, who had 24 points, led a Boston surge. He got the final eight points of the period to cap a 24-9 burst that slashed the lead to 92-88.

Abdul-Jabbar and Johnson were back for the start of the fourth period in which Los Angeles rookie Byron Scott got the first two baskets on fastbreak layups in the opening minute.

Astros bats remain quiet

Rangers bats explode to 11-3 win over White Sox

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The Chicago White Sox left town happy they don't have to see the Texas Rangers' Larry Parrish again until August.

In seven games this season, Parrish had been poison on the White Sox, getting 13 of his 24 RBIs against them.

Parrish belted a three-run homer and knocked in another run with a fielder's choice to power the Rangers to an 11-3 victory over Chicago Sunday.

Dave Hostetler drilled a two-run homer and had a run-producing double while Pete O'Brien had a two-run double in a 12-hit Ranger attack.

Floyd Bannister, the victim of the Ranger outburst, also will be glad he won't have to see the Rangers and Parrish anytime soon. He is now 3-10 against them lifetime.

Parrish tagged him for a grand slam homer and a solo homer on May 11th.

Danny Darwin lasted seven innings and allowed eight hits including a solo homer by Vance Law to advance his record to 4-2. Reliever Odell Jones went the final two innings, permitting two hits.

Pirates 2, Astros 1

HOUSTON (AP) — Pitchers Rick Rhoden and Rod Scurry turned in another good performance — something the Pittsburgh pitching staff has been doing consistently — and it paid off with another victory.

Rhoden and Scurry combined for an eight-hitter to lead the Pirates to a 2-1 victory over the Houston Astros Sunday.

Rhoden, 4-3, pitched seven innings and gave up only one run. He was able to get out of three Houston scoring threats before finally giving way to reliever Scurry.

Pittsburgh took the lead in the fourth. Johnny Ray singled, pinch hitter Benny Distefano walked, and both scored when Tony Pena singled to left and leftfielder Jose Cruz allowed it to go to the wall.

The Astros scored their only run when second baseman Bill Doran hit a solo homer in the bottom of the fourth.

"DAD, ARE YOU MY OLD MAN?" "NOT YET... BUT I'M GETTING THERE."

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The morning finds it necessary to hold your tongue and not to get into any disputes where money or property matters are concerned but later in the day you are under fine influences.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study carefully what has to be done of a financial or property nature, and don't make promises you cannot keep.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't drive yourself too hard in order to gain your wishes and then later you can relax at pleasures that you like.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't hesitate to confide something important to a partner in the morning, and then you can be happy with a charming person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Leave it up to a trusted person to set up an appointment for fun in the evening. Don't hesitate to call upon your friends.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Steer clear of a confrontation with an outsider in the morning and later you can advance in career matters by being very charming.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Await the afternoon before taking on that new project which is very promising, then go full speed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get your accounts studied well and then you don't have to argue about them. Make sure you have enough money in the bank.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) It is important to compromise with some associate who is as stubborn as you are, and reach a fine agreement. Don't get fooled.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Take that chip off your shoulder in the morning and then you can carry through with ideas wisely.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You feel in the morning that nothing is going to go right for you, but later everything smooths out and becomes easy sailing.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have to make home conditions more harmonious and then all works out fine there. The evening is fine for entertaining.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't permit an early anxiety to keep you from achieving a good deal with associates and later get environment in finer shape.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will seem to take a very long time to... but this should not bother you, since upon reaching adulthood, your progeny will do better than most since the knowledge acquired will be more thorough than others.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you! 1984. The McNaught Syndicate, Inc.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS
1. Sealed Proposals addressed to Mr. Bill G. Mims, President, Board of Trustees, Forsan Independent School District, Forsan, Texas, shall be received in the Board Room until 7:30 P.M., Monday, June 18, 1984, at which time they shall be publicly opened and read aloud for the furnishing of all labor, materials, equipment and performing all work required for the construction of School Plant Additions & Renovations for Project A - Elbow Elementary, Project B - Tennis Courts and Site Renovations, Project C - Maintenance Facility for the Forsan Independent School District, Forsan, Texas, in accordance with plans, specifications and contract documents as prepared by Huckabee and Donham, Architects and Planners, Andrews, Texas.

2. Lump sum Proposals will be received for the General Construction which will include Plumbing, Heating, Air Conditioning and Electrical work on the above projects as set out in the Bid Proposal.

3. A Cashier's Check, Certified Check, or acceptable Bidder's Bond, payable to the Forsan Independent School District, in the amount of not less than 5% of the largest possible bid for the bid submitted must accompany each bid.

4. Attention is called to the fact that the contractor must comply with all Federal, State and Local labor laws, including Article 5156a, Vernon's Annotated Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas, which requires that the Contractor pay not less than the following prevailing wage rates, which have been established by the Owner as follows:

CLASSIFICATION:	RATE:

5. The successful bidder will be required to enter into a contract with the Forsan Independent School District, Forsan, Texas, and furnish a Payment and Performance Bond in the amount of not less than 100% of the contract price, conditioned upon the performance of the contract.

6. Attention is called to the fact that the Owner is exempt from the payment of the State Sales tax normally levied against material costs. In order to take advantage of this exemption, material and labor costs must be identified by the successful bidder. In developing this division of labor and material costs, the bidders are cautioned to include all costs and allowances not representing direct material costs with labor. The contract unit, as identified by the Base Bid, shall not include any allowance for the payment of State Sales tax on materials required to complete the work. The successful bidder, upon award of the contract, will be furnished with a permit number which will enable him to purchase the required materials without payment of such taxes.

7. Specifications and plans may be obtained from the Architect in accordance with the stipulation set forth under Deposits & Refunds.

8. The bidder acknowledges the right of the Owner to reject any or all bids and to waive any informality or irregularity in any bid received. In addition, the bidder recognizes the right of the Owner to reject a bid if the bidder failed to furnish any required bid security or to submit the data required by the bidding documents, or if the bid is in any way incomplete or irregular.

Dear Abby

Lupus victims can get support

DEAR ABBY: I am a 25-year-old mother of two who was recently diagnosed as having a disease I had never heard of before. It's called lupus. When I look back, I realize I've had it since I was 14. That summer, while vacationing at the beach, a rash broke out on my face, covering my nose and surrounding my eyes. When I got home, I was so exhausted I couldn't even get dressed for dinner.

A local doctor treated me for poison ivy and said the exhaustion was from sunstroke. After that, whenever I went out in the sun that same rash appeared, so I knew it couldn't be poison ivy.

Meanwhile my joints ached, and I got these terrible attacks of nausea, dizziness and pains in my lungs, stomach and chest. I went to numerous doctors who sent me to numerous specialists who took numerous tests, but no one could tell me what was wrong with me. One doctor said I was anemic and would "grow out of it"; another said I had syphilis; another said it was arthritis; another said I had emotional problems and sent me to a psychiatrist.

Finally, an internist told me I had lupus. At least now my family knows I wasn't faking. Although there is no cure for it, I'm taking medication, which helps when I get these episodes.

What I need most is someone to talk to. Is there a support group for lupus? If not, I'd like to start one.

LUPUS VICTIM IN SEATTLE
DEARER LUPUS VICTIM: Contact the Lupus Foundation of America. Through its literature I have learned that there are about 500,000 known lupus victims in the United States, and probably twice that number who don't even know they have it. Most victims are women in their 20s and 30s.

Lupus affects more people than does muscular dystrophy, cystic fibrosis, rheumatic fever or leukemia, but it has been misdiagnosed, misunderstood and ignored for years. It's especially frustrating because most lupus sufferers "look" so well between episodes that no one can believe that their energy level is so low they can hardly breathe or drag themselves out of bed.

It's enormously comforting to know that you are not alone. I urge you, and other interested parties — including doctors and others in the health care field — to write to the Lupus Foundation of America, 11921 A Olive Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63141.

You will be sent up-to-date information on the foundation's treatment and research findings, as well as a list of nearly 200 support groups throughout the United States and Puerto Rico. This is a non-profit health organization, so please enclose a dollar for its material and a long, self-addressed, stamped (37 cents) envelope.

DEAR ABBY: I've been entertained by the discussion in your column concerning whether "How are you?" is a question or a greeting.

I call it a greeting. (No one really wants to hear about your aches and pains.)

A couple of years ago I decided that that greeting deserved a more charming response that "Fine," so since then I've been saying, "The better for your asking. Thank you."

THE REV. JOSEPH A. KREMER, MELROSE, MINN.

Dr. Donohue

Female infertility

Dear Dr. Donohue: There are a few of us women who would like to see an article on what women must go through to find out if they can have children. What are the tests? Are they painful? Is there a certain test to ask for? Most of us are fairly naive about this. — B.P.

First of all, couples must face the problem together, for the male may be the reason for infertility, about four in 10 cases, in fact. But since you ask about women, I'll confine my answer to female infertility.

The problem may lie in many places — the ovary, the tubes, the uterus, or even in the pituitary gland, which makes hormones that regulate ovulation. For that matter, the infertility may begin in other areas completely apart from the reproductive system, per se, as in the thyroid gland. After a thorough examination, the doctor determines the point from which to begin a logical search for a cause.

He may want to have blood tests to determine hormone levels, to see if the woman's body is producing those required for pregnancy. Or he may ask her to record daily temperatures to see if there is the expected rise when ovulation occurs.

From this, the doctor may move to tests that determine whether or not the woman's tubes are open to permit passage of an egg from the ovaries to the uterus. The ovaries may have to be viewed directly with a scope. A biopsy of the uterus might reveal a problem there.

Not all these tests are needed for each patient. Each is done as part of a logical sequence until the doctor determines where the fault lies. Most of the tests are painless, although there is some discomfort in a few of them. I do want to re-emphasize the fact that in more than a few cases, tests of the male (such as sperm analysis) may reveal the cause of a couple's infertility.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading Dr. Donohue's booklet, "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Donohue in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.
