Solar eclipse

Herald photos by Tim Appel

Phenomenon

If you noticed a mysterious haze around 11 a.m. this morning, you were seeing the effects of an almost total solar eclipse, with the moon passing between the earth and the sun. This series of photos was shot between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. with a Canon F-1 camera and a 400 mm lens. An exposed piece of page negative film was attached to the front of the lens as a filter, and an exposure of 1/30 of a second at f-stop 4.5 was given to 400 ASA film. About 70 percent of the sun, as it appeared over West Texas, was blocked by the moon at the peak of the eclipse.

How's that? Call Chamber

Q. Where do I find out the names of local representatives for national companies?

A. Call the local Chamber of Commerce office for this information. If they don't have specific names, you can call the library, which should have a directory listing national companies and their corporate headquarters' addresses. Because such information is in many cases simply advertising for those companies, the Herald will not print this information in "How's That?"

Coahoma bank VP resigns post

By JIM BROWN
Staff Writer

COAHOMA — A bank loan officer at Coahoma State Bank has resigned "in his own best interest," according to Bill Reid, bank president.

Two weeks ago Jim Ezell, a vice president at the Coahoma bank, issued a statement to law enforcement officials saying former used car dealer Anthony "Tony" Ginnetti of Big Spring had used fraudulent car titles to secure loans from the bank.

Bank vice president Johnny Justiss today said Ezell offered his resignation last week and would continue to work with a Texas Rangers investigation of the suspected fraud.

Ezell today would not comment on his resignation. He referred all questions to his attorney, Lanny Hamby, saying "later on I'll have something to say."

Hamby's office said he was unavailable for comment.

According to Reid, Ezell approved over $250,000 in loans to Big Spring car dealer Anthony "Tony" Ginnetti, who allegedly used bad car titles as collateral.

A statement by Ezell to law enforcement agencies was used to obtain arrest warrants for Ginnetti, the former owner of Car City Auto Sales and Service at 1506 Marcy.

Ginnetti remains at large. Ezell's statement said Ginnetti used bad titles to automobiles to secure loans from the bank.

Ezell has said he approved the $38,000 loan used by Ginnetti to start his used car dealership.

In October 1982, Ezell accepted the titles to seven cars as collateral for the loan after approval by the bank's board of directors, the statement said.

Ezell also said during an earlier interview that Ginnetti bought a $20,000 certificate of deposit to additionally secure the "floor plan."

Justiss today said several of the cars to which the bank holds title do not exist, according to the records of the Department of Motor Vehicles in Austin.

When asked if the bank expects to recover some of the missing money, he said, "I just can't comment at this time. There's still an active investigation going on, and I don't know what it will turn up."

Reid said Ezell retained ultimate responsibility for accepting the car titles and raising the floor plan limit, although Ginnetti dealt with several bank employees.

Justiss said that there had been no other recent resignations at the bank and that he wasn't expecting any.

U.S. trade deficits up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's foreign trade deficit surged to a fourth straight monthly record in April, with imports surpassing U.S. exports by $12.19 billion, the Commerce Department reported today.

A department trade specialist said the trade imbalance for all of 1984 now appears headed toward $130 billion, which would nearly double the current yearly record of $69.4 billion set just last year.

The Commerce economist, David Lund, said the same strong demand for goods that is fueling the rapid U.S. economic recovery is also sucking in products from abroad, pushing the trade figures out of balance. He said the deficit could begin narrowing at least slightly later this year, but he also raised the possibility that more monthly records would be set before then.

Calling the April deficit "unheard of," he pointed out that the imbalance for all of 1974 — one decade earlier — was $12.8 billion. Before the new April figures came out, the monthly record had been March's $10.26 billion.

The imbalance for the first four months of 1984 stands at $42.01 billion, meaning the deficit would soar to just over $126 billion for the year if the current pace continued. And Lund said it now looked as if the final figure would be "closer to $130 billion." Before today, officials had been estimating about $110 billion, with some private analysts saying the figure could be $10 billion higher than that.

The largest U.S. trade deficit now on record is the $42.6 billion imbalance of 1982.

Government officials and private analysts have said the high trade deficit is mainly due to two factors:

- The relatively high-valued U.S. dollar, which makes American exports expensive overseas and makes foreign goods less expensive here.

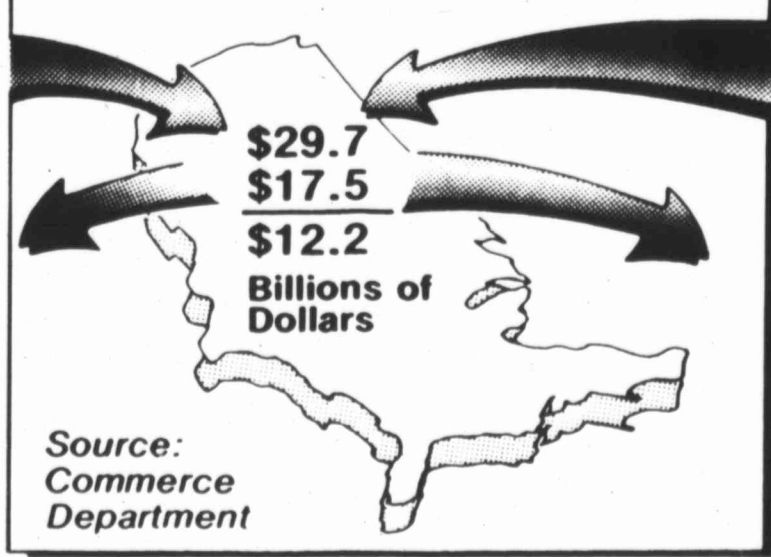

- The fact that most foreign economies have recovered less robustly than America's, leaving those nations less able to buy U.S. exports and Americans better able to buy from overseas.

In April, the new report said, total imports rose 6 percent to a record $29.71 billion, while exports declined 1.2 percent to $17.52 billion.

Part of the increase in imports was accounted for by an 8.5 percent rise in the value of oil products coming into the nation. The average number of barrels per day

Man arrested in sexual assault

A Fort Stockton man remains in city jail after his arrest this morning on suspicion of the sexual assault of a 21-year-old Big Spring woman, police said.

Arturo Sotelo, 23, was arrested at 3:57 a.m. at the Great Western Motel at 2900 E. Interstate 20. He is charged with sexual assault and burglary of a habitation in connection with an incident on the city's east side reported to police at 2:19 a.m. this morning.

Judge Melvin Darratt issued a warrant for Sotelo's arrest, Lt. Jerry Edwards said this morning. Darratt set bond at $20,000 on the charges, Edwards said.

40 felony cases go to grand jury

The Howard County Grand Jury met today to consider possible indictments in about 40 felony cases presented by the 118th District Attorney's office.

Among the persons whose cases will be presented to the grand jury is Mart Dwayne Smith, 21, of 1402 S. Main, whom police say they suspect of committing 14 burglaries in elderly homes. According to the district attorney's office, one complaint of burglary has been filed against Smith.

- Juan B. Marquez, 21, of 606B S. Douglas or 803 N. Scurry and Ralph Gutierrez Rodriguez, 19, of 1901 Donley will face possible indictment for murder in the January death of Robert Dutchover Jr., 23, of 1205 Lamar.

Dutchover's body was found Jan. 30 with three bullet wounds near Gail Road, about two miles from the Snyder Highway by law enforcement officials after a motorist reported seeing an object resembling a body at the side of the road.

His death was ruled a homicide by gunshot wounds by Justice of the Peace Willie Grant of Coahoma. Eight shell casings were found in the area near the body, according to Assistant District Attorney Don Richard.

- The grand jury also will investigate the death of Carla Perry, a Department of Human Resources employee, who died of gunshot wounds. According to the district attorney's office, Mrs. Perry's husband, Richard, claimed she died accidentally when he tried to take a gun away from her. Richard said Perry told police his wife was trying to commit suicide.

Mrs. Perry had filed for a divorce earlier that week.

- Joseph William Diliberto, 23, of Route 1, could be indicted for involuntary manslaughter for the March 27 death of Helen Zeigler, who died of injuries suffered in an accident March 19. Diliberto was arrested on driving while intoxicated at the time of the accident.

- Three separate cases of incidents involving sexual assault, sexual abuse or indecency with a child also will be presented to the grand jury.

Record lows noted

A high-pressure dome moving through Texas in the wake of a cold front brought record low temperatures to the Lone Star State today, but forecasters predicted a warming trend.

An unseasonably chilly 57 degrees was recorded at Jefferson County Airport in the Golden Triangle, which encompasses Beaumont, Port Arthur and Orange, the National Weather Service said.

The reading at 5 a.m. broke the previous record of 59 degrees, established in 1961 for the Southeast Texas cities, said the weather service.

Elsewhere in the state, readings hovered mainly in the 50s and 60s. El Paso reported a warm 69 degrees.

Low temperatures early Thursday were expected from the mid-50s in South and West Texas to the 60s in eastern and northern sections.

The high-pressure system was expected to keep skies sunny through Thursday, with highs in North Texas expected from 79 to 91 degrees.

The mercury in the Big Bend of far West Texas should reach 104 degrees Thursday, forecasters said.

Winds were light and easterly at 5 to 10 mph, the weather service said. Winds were expected to become light and northeasterly in East Texas on Thursday.

Flood warnings were posted throughout the Northeast today as streams and rivers gorged by up to 5 inches of rain this week rose over their banks, while the desert Southwest braced for more broiling heat and the Tennessee Valley shivered in record-breaking low temperatures.

Clearing skies were reported over the Southeast today, cheering astronomers and amateurs gathered to witness the nation's last major solar eclipse this century. Clear skies also were forecast today for the western two-thirds of the country.

West Texas: Fair, warming trend through Thursday. Highs today 81 mountains and Panhandle to 99 Big Bend. Lows 57 Panhandle and mountains to 64 south. Highs Thursday 88 mountains and Panhandle to 104 Big Bend.

Woman injured in accident

A Big Spring woman remains in stable condition at Cowper Hospital following a major two-car accident that happened late yesterday afternoon near the intersection of Fourth and Lancaster.

Gerilyn Byers of 906 W. Sixth was taken to the hospital by Shaffer Ambulance after her 1975 Pontiac Catalina was struck from behind by a 1981 pickup driven by Michael Coleclazer of 418 Ryan, reports said. Both vehicles were heading east in the 400 block of Lancaster at the time of the accident, reports said.

After Big Spring police arrived at the scene, Coleclazer was ticketed for following too close, reports said.

Raymond Gerner of 1405 Lincoln told police at 1:21 p.m. Tuesday that someone between 9 p.m. Sunday and 3 a.m. Monday entered his apartment through a window and stole between $1,200 and $1,500 in cash from his billfold, police reports said.

Mike Hughes of Hughes Rentals and Sales at 1228 W. Third told police at 1:56 p.m. Tuesday that someone rented a TV and a stereo from the business and then gave the property to a third party, police reports said. Reports said Hughes wanted the merchandise, which was valued at a total of $955, returned to the rental business.

County Attorney Robert Miller told police at 4:11 p.m. Tuesday that he gave someone he knows two checks for a total amount of $4,125 as Miller's share in drilling an oilwell, police reports said. Miller told police the money was never paid to the driller, reports said.

Jerry Grimes of Pollard Chevrolet at 1501 E. Fourth told police at 5:24 p.m. Tuesday that someone between 6 p.m. Monday and 8 a.m. Tuesday stole a 1975 Ford Thunderbird valued at $2,250 from the car lot, police reports said.

Kevin Hattenbach of 1806 E. 15th told police at 11:55 p.m. Tuesday that someone between 5 p.m. and 11:50 p.m. Tuesday shot out the rear and left front windows of his 1978 Pontiac Grand Prix with a pellet of BB gun, police reports said. According to police reports, the incident occurred on the west side of the Furr's Supermarket at 900 E. 11th.

Sheriff's Log

Pleading guilty were: Robert Richard Pearson, 25, of 1304 1/2 S. Main; Miguel A. (Hinojos) Hingos, 20, of 1003 N. Runnels; and Ernesto Fidel Rivera, 23, of 1613 Young.

All three were fined $100 each, $86 court costs and three days in jail. Hingos and Pearson were credited with serving one day in jail.

Deputies Tuesday arrested John B. Corrales, 50, of 604 N.W. Eighth on a state warrant for parole violations. He remains in jail. Bond has been denied.

Bank

He said deposits had not dropped and that the bank had discontinued loans to dealer floor plans.

"We'll continue to make auto loans but on an individual basis," Justiss said.

State Banking Commissioner James Sexton said this morning: "Coahoma State Bank is not on our watch list and remains in a strong financial position."

of imported oil rose to 6.2 million from 5.6 million in March, while the price per barrel rose to $29.65 from $29.60, the report said.

It said an increase in non-petroleum imports "was the result of sizable increases in a variety of manufactured goods — including new passenger cars, telecommunications equipment and parts, organic chemicals, footwear and numismatic coins — agricultural commodities and nonmonetary gold."

The decline in exports reflected lower figures for such commodities as wheat, animal feeds, soybeans, tobacco, chemical products and oil, the report said.

Youth to meet with governor

DALLAS (AP) — An 11-year-old Dallas boy will meet with Gov. Mark White and discuss the youth's concerns about state highways and public policy, the governor's office says.

Fifth-grader Evan Fetter wrote to White, saying he felt the governor "doesn't do everything the best."

He said there were a few problems that needed fixing and even offered to help the governor start a fund-raising campaign in Dallas to expedite highway repairs.

White wrote back, explaining his plans in detail for a special legislative session this summer to raise cigarette and gasoline taxes.

Last week, White publicly announced that the session would open June 4 to consider highway and education reforms. Both have been long-discussed and long-debated issues in Austin.

"He got a letter back and it wasn't a form letter. He (White) went into detail about what he would be doing," said Tricia Michaelson, the boy's mother.

Evan, she said, "came to me and said he wanted to write a letter to the governor and tell him that the highways are a mess."

After White's response, Evan — who keeps track of the governor by watching the news and reading newspapers — decided to write a second letter asking to meet the governor.

His mother, unaware of the second letter, was shocked when the governor's secretary called one day while the boy was in school to discuss the meeting.

The governor's office is currently attempting to set up a date for Evan to meet White, said Janis Monger, a spokeswoman for the governor.

"I wanted the highways fixed up because they were all messed up and stuff and they hadn't been fixed in a long time," Evan told the Dallas Morning News.

Gold Star mothers meet

ARLINGTON (AP) — Rosa Bland and Dorothy Jean Coleman met for the first time Monday, but they say their sons' deaths have bonded them in a lasting friendship.

The sons of the two women were killed last October during a bombing of the Marine headquarters in Beirut.

Mrs. Bland of Arlington and Mrs. Coleman of Dallas are both widows and saw each other for the first time Monday at a veteran's Memorial Day service in Arlington.

"We'll see each other lots more," said Mrs. Coleman after the service. "I think this will be a lasting friendship."

Stephan Bland and Marcus Coleman were two of nearly 300 U.S. soldiers killed when a truck loaded with explosives broke through Marine compound barricades and exploded. Both men had enlisted in the armed forces to get a college education.

The women embraced when they met, then walked hand in hand into

Sheriff's office to have own dispatching service

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

The county sheriff's office will have its own nighttime dispatching service as a result of a 3-1 commissioners' vote taken today.

Bill Crooker was the only commissioner to oppose the motion made by David Barr that the county hire one full-time and one part-time night dispatcher at an estimated cost of $16,800 a year, excluding benefits.

Crooker said he favored accepting the modified contract with the City of Big Spring in which the police dispatcher would handle county calls at night.

According to a letter to Judge Milton Kirby from City Manager Don Davis, the city would have two dispatchers from 7 p.m. to 3 a.m. and would grant equal priority for telephone and radio use to the county.

According to the letter the sheriff's calls would not have been recorded.

Davis said the city and county would write a procedure manual for dispatching and other areas of cooperation between the police and sheriff. Included in the manual would have been a plan for emergencies within the county, a provision for switching dispatch from county to the city during daytime emergencies, and a call list of persons to contact in case the dispatcher could not communicate with the deputy and police backup within the county on emergencies upon request.

Crooker said he voted against the county dispatch service because it would take deputies in from the field to cover the dispatching service for 35 hours a week.

According to Sheriff A.N. Standard, the full-time dispatcher will work eight hours a night. The remaining hours will be handled by deputies.

Crooker claimed that because deputies are paid more than dispatchers they would be costing the county $35,000 to $40,000 a year for dispatching services.

"I can't reconcile in my own mind the dollars involved in paying the city $700 a month compared to $35,000 to $40,000 a year for our own dispatching service," Crooker said.

Crooker said if the county needs a matron for prisoners at night that one should be hired on call for that duty alone. Standard had said a nighttime dispatcher could serve as a matron for the jail.

Crooker said to Standard, "I understand your desire to improve service. I don't want to be obtuse. I'm flexible and willing to change."

Standard told commissioners although he preferred to have his own dispatch service, "I can survive and give reasonably good service either way."

He said the city manager and the police chief were cooperative and willing to make modifications in the original contract.

Commissioners were concerned by the possibility that the Department of Public Safety might transfer its prisoners to the county jail at night instead of first taking them to the city jail.

According to commissioners, if the DPS transferred prisoners at night to the sheriff's office, another nighttime employee would be needed.

In Davis's letter to the county, he said, "In regards to the jail contract, I understand that further consideration of this will be delayed until such time as we determine who's responsibility the DPS prisoners are."

According to Kirby, the city and DPS are negotiating transfer of prisoners to the city at night.

Commissioners decided at their last meeting not to enter into a contract with the city to house county prisoners in the city jail.

Gospel concert is scheduled

Gospel singer Mona Lue Tonn will present a benefit gospel concert at Midway Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. June 2.

son Hospital in Houston. Richardson of Sand Springs is at home recuperating.

Graveyard of the Gulf

Wrecked ships monuments to Iran-Iraq war

MAMANA, Bahrain (AP) — Three crippled ships, watched over by a fleet of salvage tugs, lie 70 miles northeast of Bahrain in a section of the Persian Gulf that shipping companies are calling the "graveyard" of the Iran-Iraq war.

Moored within six miles of each other are two Saudi Arabian-registered tankers hit by Iraqi missiles and a Liberian oil-chemical carrier struck by Iranian missiles.

On a visit to the area this week on a Bahrainian coast guard boat, a reporter saw huge blackened gashes in the ships and melted, bent superstructures.

Salvage tugs were scattered nearby, their crews watching with foam sprayers in case fire erupted anew as hundreds of thousands of barrels of crude oil from the Saudi ships, the Safina al-Arab, and the al-Ahood, were transferred to other ships alongside. The Safina al-Arab was attacked April 25, and the al-Ahood, May 7.

The Liberian ship Chemical Venture was empty, heading for Kuwait for a load of naptha when attacked on May 24.

At least 19 ships have been reported attacked in the gulf by Iranian and Iraqi warplanes since January. The attacks have sharply increased since April, prompting fears that the war could expand to other gulf nations and nations that import oil from the region.

In the triangular "graveyard," a gash the size of a bus had been opened in one ship. The sea washed in and out of a gap that opened up when a bomb went through a deck and exploded on the waterline. A 30-foot-wide hole had been punched in a billboard-size "no smoking" sign on the chemical carrier.

Black streaks of thick oil, its stench evident from a mile away, coated the waters.

Traffic through the gulf waterway was down this week, with shipping unions deciding to boycott the gulf waters as long as the tanker war continued.

A Filipino on a salvage tug said the only aircraft he had seen in recent days was a helicopter "with someone taking pictures." A U.S. warship had cruised by, he said.

The United States has a five-ship force led by the flagship La Salle stationed in the gulf, and another force led by the aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk in the Arabian Sea, off the coast of Oman.

Britain has a three-ship fleet, and the French navy has some vessels rotating in and out of the gulf waters.

U.S. ships often dock in Bahrain's territorial waters for fuel and supplies. The USS Luce, a guided missile cruiser equipped with 40 surface-to-air missiles, and the USS Boone, a guided missile frigate, were docked off Bahrain for supplies this week.

Tankers docked at Bahrain harbor were clustered around the U.S. warships.

Sailors from ships that ply the gulf waters said they often encountered military vessels on their trips through the oil-rich waterway.

Saudi arms sale worries Israel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Arens is registering his concern over the delivery of 400 U.S. anti-aircraft missiles to Saudi Arabia despite assurances of "strict safeguards" to keep the Stingers from terrorists.

The deal authorized Tuesday by President Reagan permits the Saudis to deploy the missiles anywhere on their territory or on tankers carrying oil through the Persian Gulf. "They are purely defensive in every sense of the word," said Larry Speakes, the White House spokesman.

But having faced Saudi arms in four Mideast wars, Israel is worried the missiles might be trained on them, fall into the hands of rebels if the monarchy is overthrown or be taken over by terrorists.

However, the sale is final and cannot be reversed by Congress since Reagan invoked his emergency powers, so Arens does not plan to dwell on the issue in a meeting with Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger and at a lunch at the Israeli Embassy.

U.S. arms sales was the likely topic at the luncheon, and top Pentagon and State Department officials in the security field will attend.

Besides, U.S.-Israeli relations are warm, and the two governments are making unpublicized but steady headway on military cooperation in the Middle East. "We're expecting a judicious exposition," said a State Department official before Arens arrived.

Iran says N-plant attacked

By The Associated Press
The International Atomic Energy Agency said today it had received a complaint from Iran protesting an Iraqi air attack on the site of an unfinished nuclear reactor.

A source in Vienna, Austria — the headquarters of the U.N.-affiliated agency — said there was no damage to the plant at Bushehr and there were no fissionable materials at the site when the attack occurred March 25.

Construction of the reactor was started under the late Shah of Iran but was stopped by the regime of the Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini. Iran has been at war with Iraq since September 1980.

The source, who declined to be identified, said experts from the West German firm which had been building the reactor went to the site this spring at the request of Iran government and were scheduled to complete feasibility studies this fall on the future of the project.

Hans-Friedrich Meyer, a spokesman for the atomic energy agency, said the Iranian complaint was addressed to the agency's Director General Hans Blix but had not been discussed in the Board of Governors because its last session was in February. The next board meeting will be June 5, but there was no official word whether the complaint would be on the agenda.

The agency was established by the United Nations in 1957 to promote peaceful use of atomic energy. It monitors nuclear plants and fuel processes in an effort to prevent their being used to make weapons.

News in brief

Tass says Sakharov well

MOSCOW — Andrei Sakharov is feeling well and eating regularly, the official news agency Tass said today, contradicting reports that the prominent Soviet dissident is on hunger strike.

A Soviet source said earlier today that the 63-year-old Nobel Peace Prize winner had been hospitalized Friday because of complications stemming from a hunger strike he began May 2 to try to persuade Soviet authorities to grant his wife, Yelena Bonner, an exit visa for medical treatment abroad.

Punjab violence claims 12

AMRITSAR — Sikh terrorists made hit-and-run attacks that killed 12 people in the northern state of Punjab, police said today, and Sikh activists announced plans to block the flow of grain and water to neighboring states.

Sikhs have been agitating for greater political and religious autonomy for their sect and for Punjab, the only region of India in which Sikhs are a majority.

Police said two Sikh extremists shot a state electricity board employee through the head today as he rode his motor scooter to work in Patiala, about 120 miles southeast of this Sikh holy city.

Labor talks called off

FRANKFURT — Employers locked out more than 26,000 metalworkers today and angry union officials called for mass street protests after negotiations collapsed in West Germany's worst labor conflict since 1978.

The lockouts at 16 shops in the state of Hesse brought to about 350,000 the number of workers idled by the dispute over labor demands for a 35-hour workweek with no pay cut. The unions say the change would reduce unemployment and protect existing jobs.

Food riots sweep Haiti

PORT-AU-PRINCE — Soldiers patrolled two cities today after rioting broke out in Haiti for the second week in a row. A mob tried to storm a food warehouse, and two people reportedly died of gunshot wounds after troops fired at the crowd.

A Haitian army spokesman confirmed that troops were deployed to put down disturbances in Cap-Haitien, the second largest city in this poverty-stricken Caribbean nation, but he said no one was injured.

UK union leader arrested

SHEFFIELD — Arthur Scargill, the leftist leader of Britain's striking National Union of Mineworkers, was arrested today while leading pickets at a coke plant in northeast England, police said.

The Orgreave coke plant in the county of Yorkshire was the scene of violent clashes Tuesday between police and miners who have been on strike for 12 weeks to protest the Conservative government's plans to close unprofitable mines.

Emmy Lou, don't be blue

SAN FRANCISCO — Country singer Emmy Lou Harris, a winner on the charts with such hits as "One More Bottle of Wine," has scored to the tune of $60,000 in royalties in a federal appeals court decision.

The 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals on Tuesday upheld a lower court ruling that Miss Harris had a right to royalties from a re-release of her "Gliding Bird" album.

The singer recorded six songs — including five she wrote — under a contract with Jay-Gee Record Co. After Jay-Gee filed for bankruptcy in 1971, its trustees sold the album's master tape to Suellen Production, which then transferred its rights to Emus Recordings.

Emus re-released a duplicate of the album, with Roulette Records licensed to handle foreign sales. Miss Harris never received any royalties from the three companies or from co-defendants Adho Music Corp. and Promo Records Distributing Co., according to testimony.

The court agreed Miss Harris is entitled to $10,000 per song and upheld a $34,152 award for attorney fees in the case.

Getting heard the point

WASHINGTON — Singer Marie Osmond will be taking to the air waves this weekend in a telethon she hopes will raise $16 million for children with hearing and speech problems.

"Last year we raised $5.3 million. We plan to triple that this year," she told reporters Tuesday.

Forty minutes of each hour of the "Children's Miracle Network Telethon" will feature national performers, including Ms. Osmond and her brother, Donny. The remaining 20 minutes will feature the accomplishments of children's hospitals in the 90 television markets in which the telethon will be broadcast.

All the money raised during the 21-hour telethon Saturday and Sunday will go to 91 hospitals around the country, Ms. Osmond said.

Not very original Picasso

NEW YORK — A calligrapher has filed suit against Paloma Picasso, claiming the daughter of the late artist Pablo Picasso stole designs for her line of expensive jewelry.

In the suit filed in federal court in Manhattan, Arthur Baker charged that Ms. Picasso's "Gold Fish" jewelry was taken from illustrations in his book "New Calligraphic Ornaments and Flourishes."

The 18-karat-gold pins sell for up to $500 each at Tiffany's, which also was named as a defendant in the suit. Baker seeks profits from sales of the pins, plus $1.2 million in punitive damages.

In an affidavit filed with the court, Ms. Picasso admitted using Baker's book, according to the June issue of Connoisseur magazine. But Anthony Ostrom, president of Tiffany's, said, "It's not a case of copying, but of inspiration, of poetic license."

Marc Schiller, Baker's lawyer, said Ms. Picasso "brought about as much 'originality' to her copy of Baker's designs as a child might in rendering 'three-dimensional' cookies with a cookie cutter."

Who's on first in 'world' classes

The Rev. Jesse Jackson's frequent references to the Third World have generated renewed interest in the phrase. Although many voters have a vague understanding that this geopolitical classification encompasses the underdeveloped countries, there is a general confusion about its origin and the nations that belong to the First and Second Worlds.

The phrase Third World first emerged during the late 1950s, following the Bandung Conference of non-aligned nations in Indonesia. It gained general acceptance during the next two decades to describe those poorer African, Asian and Latin American countries that have high illiteracy rates and burgeoning populations.

By contrast, the First World consists of highly developed countries including the United States, Western European nations and Japan. The Second World is made up of communist states.

These world designations are sometimes inexact and confusing. Where, for example, does one place Yugoslavia, which distances itself from Moscow and is neither highly developed nor economically depressed? Then there is Communist China, which fits into the Second or Third World categories, but considers itself a Fourth World country, even though that phrase is generally reserved for impoverished nations, such as Bangladesh and Senegal.

As though this were not enough, several years ago there was even talk of a Fifth World consisting of South Africa, Taiwan, Israel and those nations that are increasingly isolated in the world community.

Suffice it to say that the geopolitical-phrase game is similar to a sporting event; you can't keep the contestants straight without constantly consulting your program.

Shultz on State

WASHINGTON — A recurrent report in Washington asserts George Shultz doesn't like his job and will step down as secretary of state immediately after the election. But a half-hour chat with Shultz the other day yields precisely the opposite impression.

The secretary, after a rocky period, clearly feels at home at State. While meticulous about not pressing President Reagan, Shultz seems clearly prepared to stay on for a good part of a second term.

He was standing, gazing at a painting of Yosemite Park, when I went to see him at his office the other day. The painting had been given to the State Department by Herman Phleger, a San Francisco lawyer who served as the department's legal adviser when John Foster Dulles was secretary.

Phleger is now 93. Shultz said he had come to know him fairly well in San Francisco. He remarked that Phleger had done many interesting things as a lawyer for major corporations and as a trustee of Stanford. But Shultz had noticed that the experience Phleger kept harking back to all the time, the most memorable part of his life, was his service at the State Department.

A broad first question asked for a resume of achievements in the past two years, with a summary of hopes for the future. Shultz started his response on a personal note. He said:

"I suppose no one ever masters the issues in the State Department — it's too extensive — but by this time I'm getting to feel comfortable with all of the issues. I feel as though by now I've inhaled them as distinct from just taking them in intellectually."

Did he like the job? was the next question. Shultz replied: "Oh, yes. I think it's a fascinating job. It's very tiring and there are times when you get pretty damned exasperated. I don't think there is a more inherently interesting job..."

In speaking of substantive issues, Shultz first mentioned arms control. "I think I have a pretty good sense of the arms control field," he said. He went on to acknowledge that, since the departure of Lawrence Eagleburger as Under Secretary for Political Affairs, there was nobody at the top level of State with extensive experience in the field, or the general area of East-West relations. He expected Michael Armacost, Eagleburger's replacement, to take up some of the slack there, and he mentioned both Deputy Secretary Kenneth Dam and the assistant secretary for Europe, Richard Burt.

But I came away with the feeling that Shultz expected, if named as secretary in a second term, to take on some additional heavyweight help in the arms control area. He certainly talked as if there was lots to be done. Things being what they are with the Russians now, important progress could only be made after the election.

Two "flashpoints" were identified by Shultz as matters of immediate concern — the Middle East and Central America. The secretary reiterated the administration view that a large part of the problem was lack of cooperation from the Congress.

But he also acknowledged that the common denominator was the application of force to political problems — "power and diplomacy." In response to a question about differences within the administration as well as between the administration and Congress, Shultz acknowledged the administration had to be "careful." When asked whether this country had the appropriate forces for delicate problems — wasn't in fact "too muscular" in dealing with "fragile" situations — Shultz turned agnostic. He said:

"I don't know the answer to that question. I assume that we do somewhere, because we have such variety in our forces. But whether there is a need for some different kinds of training or not, I just don't know..."

In three areas, Shultz seemed well satisfied with the shape of American foreign policy. "I think, on the whole, things are going quite well in Asia," he said. He seemed equally easy about relations with the European allies, and cited a "good" statement by the European Community on the Iran-Iraq war.

On the problem of the Third World debt, he was positively reassuring. He said: "It's one of those problems...that we don't solve — we have to keep working at it. We have to keep running over our ideas."

DeLorean 'mystery tape' a fraud

WASHINGTON — The celebrated "mystery tape," which was to be the key to automaker John Z. DeLorean's defense against cocaine dealing charges, has been pronounced a fraud by an FBI speech expert.

Federal prosecutors are prepared to use the expert's conclusions if the defense tries to introduce the tape as evidence at his trial in Los Angeles. The implication is that DeLorean helped to fake the exculpatory tape.

This mysterious audio tape supposedly recorded a telephone conversation between DeLorean and FBI informant James T. Hoffman. It was released last November by porn publisher Larry Flynt. In the purported conversation, "Hoffman" threatens to harm DeLorean's 5-year-old daughter if he tries to back out of the multi-million-dollar cocaine deal that FBI undercover operatives had set up.

My associates Tony Capaccio and Indy Badhwar had obtained a copy of the tape before Flynt did. They were trying to have it authenticated or debunked when Flynt released his copy. The experts we consulted concluded that one voice on the tape was DeLorean's and the other might be Hoffman's. But the tape was virtually unintelligible, and the overpowering background noise made scientific voice analysis impossible.

I turned the tape over to the FBI laboratory, whose experts could not identify the voices. They also could not determine whether the tape had been faked.

But on Jan. 30, Murray S. Miron, professor of psycholinguistics at Syracuse University and a long time FBI consultant, went much further. He reported to Los Angeles U.S. Attorney James Walsh that the tape was phony.

Based on a non-electronic comparison of the mystery tapes and known samples of DeLorean-Hoffman conversations, Miron concluded: "I find no evidence in any of the aspects of this recording which might lead me to accept it for what it purports to have been." Instead, Miron found "ample evidence which supports the conclusion that it is nothing more than a rather amateurish and tendentious fraud."

Miron stated flatly that "the disputed tape recording is not a recording of the voice of James Hoffman." He explained that "its content is entirely inconsistent with the pattern, speech habits and style of the other conversations known to have occurred between Hoffman and DeLorean."

The professor was struck by the contrast between Hoffman's friendly, low-key manner on the authentic tapes and the voice on the mystery tape, which he said was "quite aggressive and seemed to be almost Mafioso."

Miron wrote to Walsh that "the style and mannerisms of the individual purporting to be Hoffman differ quite dramatically from those of Hoffman." He noted that the known Hoffman spoke to DeLorean "in a non-aggressive, benevolent style," while the mystery tape voice "employs an arrogant, aloof style."

And while Miron was satisfied that one voice on the tape was indeed DeLorean's, he noted that "the content of the conversational turns of the individual speaking with DeLorean (was) unresponsive and independent of DeLorean's remarks."

This anomaly led Miron to a devastating conclusion: "It is as if the person playing the role of Hoffman had rehearsed a set of comments which were artificially interpolated into what began as a continuous monologue originally spoken by DeLorean." The speech cadences of "Hoffman" on the mystery tape, Miron wrote, "are consistent with those to be expected from one who has rehearsed or is reading from a script."

Footnote: Miron did not try to determine whether the mystery tape had been spliced. One of the experts I consulted subjected the tape to a battery of sophisticated electronic tests and could find no evidence of splicing.

UNDER THE DOME: Sen. Alan Simpson, R-Wyo., takes a lot of heat from his colleagues for his frequently controversial positions on issues of the day. But he remains wryly cheerful in the expectation of criticism. In a "Dear Colleague" letter seeking support for a proposed bailout of a rural electricity fund, Simpson began with this extended metaphor:

"Having been previously toasted lightly on the legislative fires of immigration reform, nuclear regulation and chairing of the Veterans Affairs Committee, I don't know why I should choose to tie myself to the stake for one last fry — but hear me out on this one..."

Motorola recently enlisted the aid of Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., to see if his clout could get the Illinois-based company a contract to build a mobile telephone system in Egypt. Motorola had been underbid by a Japanese firm by several million dollars. Percy's staff dutifully asked the Agency for International Development — which does out millions to Egypt — to intercede for Motorola. The Egyptians picked the Japanese firm, nevertheless.

In the Foreign Service, it helps to have influential friends back in Washington. So John Gavin, the U.S. ambassador to Mexico, knew where to turn for help on the embassy's air-pollution problem: to his old buddy, Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev., who heads the Senate subcommittee on State Department appropriations. The smog is so bad in Mexico City that even non-smoking embassy personnel inhale the equivalent impurities in two packs of cigarettes a day. Gavin's plea got results: Funds have been approved to install air filters for the embassy offices.

War talk

Vietnam, to me, is only dim memories of color battles on the evening news.

At the time the war started, I hadn't started school. When it stopped, I was still in grade school. It had little immediate effect on my life, I think, except for the games we neighborhood kids played — "war," "prisoners," and "cowboys and Indians."

Ammunition was plentiful. We used berries on our neighbor's trees. We had bombing raids, and torture sessions, dogfights and helicopter rescues, all pretty well removed from the actual thing.

So, I fear, are most speeches made on Memorial Day. A great majority — not all — politicians talk about wars as a great and honorable thing. From what I've read — and granted, it was limited — for the actual soldier, war had little or nothing to do with honor and glory, and much to do with simple survival.

In most Memorial and Veterans' Day speeches, there is a lot of talk about flags, and honor and glory. Not very much is actually said about the veterans, and what they endured in war. Nobody talks about the dysentery, the wounds, the fear this night patrol would be a soldier's last.

Nor is there talk about the looting and the bombing of innocent or sometimes-not-so-innocent civilians who were killed in war.

Few give more than a passing mention to those still missing-in-action and presumed dead. And the speeches say little or nothing about the families and friends left behind to wait and worry until their servicemen or women came home. During the last war, they often came home in a body bag.

What the speeches often are full of on these days of memorials to our dead are calls to battle elsewhere in the world — the Persian Gulf, the Middle East, Central and South America.

In an election year, politicians naturally use any opportunity for speech-making as a springboard for their positions. It's a shame an occasion meant to honor our dead is rarely used for that purpose.

Leaving aside the question of whether we should have become involved in the Vietnam War, let us remember the fallen — not as heroes, but as men and women whose names fill row upon row of the Vietnam Memorial. Looking at the countless names, one realizes the tremendous loss of life we suffered in that war.

A simple red rose lying near a loved one's name etched on the obelisk marker speaks more of the love and anguish that war caused than a thousand speeches.

I'm optimistic. I know, to hope we don't have a 10th war in our nation's history. Unlike Woodrow Wilson, I'll never think fighting a war "will end all wars." As long as there are nations that want another's wealth or territory, or that perceive of another culture as inferior, there will be wars.

But just once I'd like to see us honor the dead by remembering them without all the trappings of honor and glory, by letting them rest in peace. It is enough to remember they died and why.

Dear Abby

Pregnancy is possible anytime

DEAR ABBY: This letter concerns an argument with my roommate. She claims she read a letter in your column in which a girl got pregnant without taking off her clothes, and that the guy was also fully dressed. She said they were wearing jeans.

I told her this, but she still believes a girl can get pregnant while fully clothed.

If this is true, please print the letter again.

CAN'T BELIEVE IT
DEAR ABBY: You had better believe it because it's true. The item your roommate was referring to is as follows:

DEAR ABBY: I have been told by friends that it is possible to get pregnant through your jeans. I can't believe this!

I am a virgin, just turned 15, and know I am going to be more involved with guys now that I'm dating. If this is possible, I am scared to death to get very close to any guy. I need to know as soon as possible.

I hope you won't think this is a dumb question.

WORRIED IN EL PASO

DEAR WORRIED: It is not a dumb question. It's a very intelligent one. A lot of kids get aroused just by laying close to each other while kissing. Then they just naturally proceed to the next step, which is petting.

It's not possible to get pregnant through one's jeans, but sometimes kids remove some of their clothing because it's "in the way," or they burrow underneath it to explore each other's bodies with their hands. This is known as heavy petting, or "doing everything else but."

The technical (and legal) definition of sexual intercourse is "penetration." (The male's sex organ must penetrate the female's.) However, as impossible as it may sound, in the medical literature can be found cases where there has been no penetration — the girl remained a virgin, but after engaging in heavy petting, she found herself pregnant.

How can that be? Simple. The boy and girl were lying very close to each other (unclothed), doing "everything but," when a small amount of sperm leaked out...near (not inside, but very close to) the girl's vagina. The sperm got into the moisture around the vagina and found its way up into it, and fertilized the egg!

Dr. Donohue

Fibrocystic breast disease

Dear Dr. Donohue: On my yearly visit to my gynecologist I was informed that I have fibrocystic breast disease, and he mentioned a connection between this and coffee, chocolate and tea. I wanted more information, but the library had no information on it. Is it imperative that one refrain from coffee, tea and chocolate? Is the caffeine in these products to blame? — Mrs. M.R.

Fibrocystic breast disease is a common and non-cancerous disorder in women. The small, fluid-filled cysts become tender and painful with the fluctuations of female hormones through a monthly cycle. It was once thought that the condition presented an added risk for cancer development, but even that is now disputed. One fear, however, is that a cancerous lump may lurk within the fibrocystic breast and be missed or mistaken for a benign cyst. Aspiration of the cyst with a needle, or a mammogram, settles that uncertainty.

When your doctor suggested the coffee, tea, chocolate restriction, he was acting on some research which implicated the methylxanthines in those products as a possible contributor. That substance is also found in some medicines.

Many women have reported a diminishment in cyst size if they forego those products. Others respond well to restricting salt, especially during the menstrual periods. That prevents accumulation of fluid in the breasts, making them less tender. It certainly cannot hurt to give up the coffee, tea, chocolates (and cola drinks) to see if you are helped.

What can vitamins really do for you — and what can't they do? In his new booklet, Dr. Paul Donohue separates the common sense from the nonsense about this controversial health aid. For your copy of "Vitamins: Facts You Need to Know", send 50 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Donohue in care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611.

As soon as we can get all the information together, the Herald Recipe Exchange will feature Erby Aucoin, the Cajun cook brought to the Signal Peak Pro-Am Golf Tournament by Russell Erleben. The delicious Turkey Andouille Gumbo he prepared for tournament participants had people going back for seconds and thirds. All the Louisiana transferees in Big Spring will be interested in that feature.

- 8 whole cloves
- 2 Tbsps. butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/4 cup heavy cream
- 2 oranges, peeled, sectioned

Slash fat around the edge of the ham steak with a steak knife. Insert cloves in fat. In large skillet melt butter; brown steak on one side for five minutes. Turn, brown other side. Remove to serving platter; keep warm.

Add orange juice to skillet. Heat, scraping up bits from bottom of pan. Add heavy cream. Simmer until mixture is reduced to about 1/2 cup. Add orange sections; heat. Serve sauce over ham steak. Makes four servings.

- 2 large turnips, pared and cut in wedges

Strawberries awaken brunch dishes

Although we tend to think of strawberries as dessert, they make a delicious foil for eggy brunch dishes such as pancakes or omelets.

In the photo recipe, strawberries fill a baked pancake rather like a fallen popover. Most of the strawberries are sugared and sliced, the rest pureed in an electric blender for the sauce. Baking the pancakes is a no-watch proposition; you can also make them ahead and reheat them.

Start with icy glasses of orange juice, then accompany the pancakes, if you like, with slim ham slices lightly sauteed with a dusting of brown sugar, and pots of strong tea or black coffee. Should your guests still be in a strawberry mood, place a bowl of fresh berries on the table for dippers.

The second recipe, an omelet soufflé, is also baked and topped with strawberry sauce. It doesn't fall, either, because of the cream cheese added to the eggs. The seasonings for the soufflé — onion powder and a bit of black pepper — create a savory contrast to the sweet vanilla-and-cinnamon strawberries.

with a wire whisk until smooth. Pour half of batter into each pie pan. Bake until puffed and firm, 30 to 35 minutes. Meanwhile, place 1 cup of the reserved sliced strawberries in the container of an electric blender; blend until smooth. Toss with remaining strawberries. Spoon into hot pancakes. NOTE: Pancakes can be made ahead, cooled, tightly covered and refrigerated overnight. Just before serving reheat in a 375 degree oven until hot, about 10 minutes. Yield: 8 portions.

BAKED OMELET SOUFFLE WITH STRAWBERRY SAUCE

- 1 pt. strawberries
- 2 Tbsps. sugar
- 1/4 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 1/4 tsp. pure vanilla extract
- 6 eggs, separated
- 1 pkg. (3 oz.) cream cheese,

- softened
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. onion powder
- 1/4 tsp. ground black pepper

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease an 8-inch square baking pan; set aside. To make Strawberry Sauce hull and slice strawberries (makes about 2 cups). In a medium bowl combine strawberries, sugar, cinnamon and vanilla; set aside. In another medium bowl combine egg yolks, cream cheese, salt, onion powder and black pepper; mix well until smooth. In a large bowl beat egg whites until stiff but not dry peaks are formed. Fold into yolk mixture. Spoon into prepared pan. Bake until eggs are firm when shaken gently, about 15 minutes. Immediately cut in squares and serve topped with Strawberry Sauce. Serves four to six.

Gov. White endorses Mondale in Democratic primary race

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Gov. Mark White, declaring Tuesday it was time to unify the Democratic party, endorsed former Vice President Walter Mondale as the party's nominee for president.

White said Colorado Sen. Gary Hart and the Rev. Jesse Jackson were fine candidates, but Mondale had a "wealth of experience" and "proven leadership and depth of vision to chart a bold new course for America."

"With Walter Mondale as the nominee, we will offer the American people the best choice of either party to become our next president," White said at a news conference.

The governor said he was certain the campaigning among the Democratic presidential hopefuls would continue to the July convention in San Francisco. But he said he believed the process "of mounting a strong and united campaign" must begin.

Mondale campaign chairman Jim Johnson, reached in Washington, hailed the White endorsement as a "real shot in the arm."

"We think this is a very important step toward the nomination," Johnson said. "Gov. White is highly respected. We believe he will be influential with other governors around the country and we're very encouraged that he saw fit to make this endorsement now because it will allow us to get started with his help in planning our Texas campaign against Ronald Reagan."

Mondale called the White decision "terrific," according to Johnson. "He said Mark White is one of the most respected governors in the country and this will be of tremendous help."

"I don't have any comment at this point," Hart spokeswoman Deborah Graham said from the Colorado senator's campaign headquarters in Washington.

In May, Mondale won the Democratic primary and the state's caucuses to select delegates to the convention. Hart finished second.

White denied the announcement Tuesday was timed to boost Mondale's sagging campaign efforts in the West, considered Hart territory.

KENT HANCE

Hance says remark was a joke

AUSTIN (AP) — A spokesman for Kent Hance on Tuesday said Hance's remark that Democratic U.S. Senate opponent Lloyd Doggett might consider physical violence was intended as a joke and has been misinterpreted.

Doggett said the only thing he would throw at Hance was the congressman's voting record, and he blamed the temperature on the campaign trail for the Hance remark.

"Kent was trying to use humor to address a very serious issue — that this has been a hard-hitting, tough campaign that sometimes has strayed from the issues," said Ken Vest, Hance's press secretary. However, Vest added, Hance didn't mean to suggest that he really believed Doggett would throw a punch at him.

"They've been friends for a long time. They go way back. He (Hance) did not mean to imply that Lloyd Doggett would do anything," Vest said.

On Monday, while campaigning around the state, Hance stepped up his criticism of Doggett and called the Austin state senator a candidate who has stayed "in the gutter most of the time."

AFL-CIO opposes new highway tax

AUSTIN (AP) — The president of the Texas AFL-CIO, saying the state highway department is ignoring the needs of city motorists, is urging the Legislature not to raise taxes this summer for highway construction.

In a letter to the chairmen of the House and Senate education committees, labor leader Harry Hubbard says there is no crisis in highway construction.

Gov. Mark White's call for a special session of the Legislature to begin Monday includes both education reform and highway improvements.

White proposes financing the road work with a 5-cent per gallon increase in the motor fuels tax.

Hubbard said that "one way to reduce the size of the immediate tax increase would be to deal only with education," where he said the real crisis exists.

Any increase in the motor fuel tax should be earmarked for schools, Hubbard said.

Under current law, 75 percent of the gasoline tax revenue goes to highways and 25 percent to education.

"Before any huge additional funding program for highways is launched, there should be a complete overhaul of the highway department," Hubbard said.

"The evidence is irrefutable that the highway department has directed appropriations based more on tradition and the needs of highway contractors rather than on the needs of the driving public," Hubbard said. "It is obvious that highways have been built in isolated areas of the state at the expense of the urban freeway system."

Police union threatens suit over 'incompetent' officers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The San Antonio police union, claiming some new officers are incompetent, has threatened legal action against the city.

In a letter to Police Chief Charles Rodriguez, with copies to city council members, attorneys for the union claim that there have been several documented cases of incompetence among new officers this year.

"It is the intent of the (union) to initiate civil litigation should any officer be injured in the line of duty as a result of the acts of omission by an individual documented previously as being unqualified," it said.

The letter was signed by lawyers Joe Scuro and Larry Souza on behalf of the executive board of the San Antonio Police Officers Association.

City Councilwoman Maria Berriozabal described the letter as "insensitive and myopic."

Riley lauds Worthy game

BOSTON (AP) — James Worthy's play dominated the third quarter when his Lakers won the opener of the National Basketball Association Championship Series against Boston.

It may have been a preview of the Los Angeles offense of the future.

Worthy scored 12 points in the first 5:59 of the period Sunday, including eight straight for the Lakers after Kareem Abdul-Jabbar had left the game with four fouls. He finished with 20 points.

Game 2 in the best-of-seven series will be Thursday night at Boston Garden.

On Tuesday, Lakers Coach Pat Riley was musing about the future of the team after Abdul-Jabbar's expected retirement in 1985.

"I'd like to have a lineup of five 6-foot-9 guys, with Magic Johnson and James Worthy as the nucleus," Riley said. "There would be no positions, just five guys rotating on defense, running, passing and scoring. It would be fun."

Fun, indeed, if Worthy continues to perform the way he has in playoffs. He and Abdul-Jabbar are the only players on the team who have scored in double figures in all 17 postseason games, and in the last three outings, two as a starter, Worthy has scored 23, 22 and 20 points.

"I don't think he's touched the surface of what he can do," Riley said. "He could be on the verge of superstardom, comparable to Julius Erving. Someday, he'll become the focus of our offense."

Even now, Riley says Worthy trails only Abdul-Jabbar, the all-time leading NBA scorer, as the player the Lakers most want to go to when they need a basket.

"All James needs is a little more pro experience and more consistent concentration," Riley said. "During the regular season, he sometimes has problems maintaining his concentration. But he is on the verge of having that problem be history."

Last season, Worthy's first in the NBA after leading North Carolina to a national collegiate title the previous year, he broke his leg just before the playoffs and had to sit on the sidelines while the Lakers lost four straight games to Philadelphia in the finals.

FIRES AWAY — Atlanta Braves' pitcher Pascual Perez fires the ball to a Chicago batter during Tuesday night's game in Atlanta. Perez went eight innings and gave up five hits, four in the first inning, to win his fourth game of the season against one loss. The Braves won the game 7-4.

Joke is on Pirates in 5-4 loss

By The Associated Press
Dave Concepcion has become quite a joker, but he won't get many laughs from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

When Concepcion came to bat with one out in the bottom of the 10th inning Tuesday night and the Cincinnati Reds locked in a 4-4 tie with Pittsburgh, he told Pirate catcher Tony Pena that he was going to end the game with one swing.

"When I got to home plate, I said to Pena, 'I know you're going to call a pitch right here, and I'm going to hit it out,' I was joking with him," Concepcion said.

The shortstop came up a few feet short on his bold prediction, bouncing a ground-rule double over the center-field wall. But he still managed to score the winning run in a 5-4 victory that extended the Reds' winning streak to four and moved them to within a half-game of the lead in the National League West.

BRAVES 7, CUBS 4
Atlanta kept pace with the Reds the hard way, rallying to win for the 10th time this season, this time from a 4-0 first-inning deficit.

Bob Horner led the way with two doubles and two singles to drive in three runs.

Trevino followed with a two-run single.

ASTROS 1, CARDINALS 0
Bob Knepper and Frank DiPino combined on a three-hit shutout and Jerry Mumphrey got a measure of revenge as Houston handed St. Louis its seventh loss in eight games.

Mumphrey drove in the game's only run in the sixth inning off loser Dave LaPoint. Kevin Bass led off

With the score tied 4-4, Horner legged out his second double to lead off the eighth and scored the go-ahead run when reliever Warren Brusstar, 1-1, walked Albert Hall with the bases loaded. Alex with a double, took third on Jim Pankovits' sacrifice, and scored on Mumphrey's double to right.

LaPoint, 5-6, struck out eight. Knepper, 5-5, allowed only one hit through the first seven innings.

OUT WHITTED — Toronto Blue Jays' Ernie Whitt, bottom, breaks up a double play after he was forced out at second by Chicago White Sox' Julio Cruz in the seventh inning of Tuesday night's game in Chicago. Alfredo Griffin was safe at first. The White Sox won 8-1.

Rangers fall, 7-5

White Sox pluck Toronto, 8-1

By The Associated Press
Harold Baines and LaMarr Hoyt may be among the reasons the Chicago White Sox aren't running away with the American League West like last year. But they're also among the reasons the Toronto Blue Jays no longer have a seven-game winning streak.

Baines, hitting just .201 entering the game after a 25-homer, 105-RBI season a year ago, broke out with four hits as the White Sox topped the Blue Jays 8-1 Tuesday night. Hoyt, last year's American League Cy Young Award winner, broke a personal three-game losing streak, limiting Toronto to six hits over eight innings and running his record to 4-5.

"I try not to talk about slumps," Baines said after setting up the first White Sox run with a double, tripling home the second, and starting a six-run eighth inning with a single.

"I never lose confidence in my ability and I never have a negative attitude." The Chicago win kept Toronto from moving closer in the American League East on the cooling-off Detroit Tigers, beaten 8-5 by the Oakland A's. It was the Tigers' fourth loss in five games and dropped them to a still torrid 36-9, still 5½ games ahead of the Blue Jays, who have the second-best winning percentage in baseball.

In other AL contests, Kansas City topped Texas 7-5 in 10 innings, Milwaukee beat Cleveland 5-3, Baltimore edged Seattle 2-1 and California nipped New York 6-5.

The game in Boston between the Red Sox and the Minnesota Twins was rained out after four innings with Minnesota leading 5-0 and Frank Viola working on a one-hit, eighth strikeout game.

A's 8, TIGERS 5
Mike Heath had a three-run homer and Rickey Henderson a three-run triple to pace Oakland and give the Tigers a taste of the medicine they've been giving to the rest of the American League. "We haven't had too many games like this. It's tough to play catch-up," said Detroit's Darrell Evans.

Bill Krueger, 3-1, was the winning pitcher and had the benefit of an 8-1 lead by the fifth inning.

"That's the kind of thing they've done all year. It's nice to be able to do it to them," said Krueger, who was battered by the Tigers in a loss at Detroit 11 days ago.

Chet Lemon had a homer for the Tigers as Milt Wilcox lost his second game in eight decisions.

the 13-hit California attack, which drove Phil Niekro 7-3 from the mound in the fourth inning.

BREWERS 5, INDIANS 3
Moose Haas yielded two runs in the third inning, one on Brook Jacoby's fifth homer, but settled down and retired 19 of the last 21 batters.

Ben Oglivie had two run-scoring singles for Milwaukee as the Indians lost their fifth straight. Dan Spillner, 0-4, took the loss, giving up five runs on nine hits in 3 2/3 innings.

ORIOLES 3, MARINERS 2
With Seattle leading 2-1 and two outs in the top of the eighth, Mariners reliever Paul Mirabella decided to pitch around Eddie Murray. He walked him, then he walked Gary Roenicke and up came Benny Ayala, hitting .116.

Ayala bounced a single up the middle, scoring the tying and winning runs.

ANGELS 6, YANKEES 5
Juan Beniquez had five consecutive singles as the Angels jumped out to a 6-1 lead, then survived three straight Yankee homers in the sixth inning to hold off the New Yorkers.

Rod Carew added two singles to

ROYALS 7, RANGERS 5
Darryl Motley, who earlier had crashed a two-run homer, ripped a bases-loaded single in the 10th inning to give Kansas City the win.

The Rangers had rallied for three runs in the eighth before Motley cracked his single off the glove of second baseman Wayne Tolleson.

George Brett and Dane Iorg, who had opened the inning with consecutive singles before Frank White was intentionally walked, scored on Motley's hit.

Dan Quisenberry, 2-2, relieved Bud Black in the eighth and gave up a single by Buddy Bell and a double by Larry Parrish to tie the game.

Trio in spotlight for run at Kemper title

BETESDA, Md. (AP) — It's a rule of thumb on the PGA Tour that the men who are playing well at a particular time tend to continue to play well.

And that puts the spotlight squarely on Andy Bean, Payne Stewart and Gil Morgan going into the Thursday start of the $400,000 Kemper Open.

Bean, already a winner this year, played his last two rounds in 67, 67 at the Memorial tournament last weekend and took Jack Nicklaus to a three-hole playoff before a putting lapse cost him the title.

"I'm playing well, making a lot of birdies. I'm not disappointed. I'm just pleased to be playing this well. Maybe this will be the week," Bean said.

Stewart, who came out of the pack with a birdie-birdie-birdie-par-eagle burst during the final round of the Memorial, is on a roll of his own. He's finished second and third in his last two starts.

And Dr. Gil Morgan, the non-practicing optometrist, has recorded three thirds and a sixth in his last five starts.

Craig Stadler, a winner in Dallas three weeks ago, has tailed off slightly in his last two starts but, for a different reason, must be considered a very important factor in the 156-man field that will be playing the tough, 7,173-yard, par 72 Congressional Country Club course in suburban Washington, D.C.

It is, almost certainly, Stadler's favorite playground. He has won this tournament two of the last four times it has been played here, and was second in another one.

"It just seems there are certain horses for certain courses," he shrugged. "This just happens to be a course I play well."

Fred Couples, the defending titleholder and winner of the Tournament Players Championship earlier this season, PGA titleholder Hal Sutton and U.S. Open champ Larry Nelson also are major contenders.

Winners of 1984 Tour titles included in the lineup are Peter Jacobsen, Bob Eastwood, Hale Irwin, John Mahaffey and Tom Purtzer.

The foreign contingent is led by South African Gary Player and his son Wayne, and also includes Australian Greg Norman.

Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by CBS.

Shorter is not better leveled at LPGA by standout players

MASON, Ohio (AP) — Officials of the LPGA Tour say they have not shortened tournament yardages this year, a charge leveled by such stars as Nancy Lopez, JoAnne Carner and Jan Stephenson.

"It's really become a putting contest more than anything else," Lopez said Tuesday after a practice round for the LPGA Championship beginning Thursday at the Nicklaus Sports Center.

Carner called LPGA Commissioner John Laupheimer after playing what she called short courses at Orlando and St. Petersburg on the Florida swing in April.

"I hit 2-irons and 9-irons into the par 4s at St. Pete and Orlando," she said. "That was the final blow. That's why I called the commissioner. I was so upset, I took three weeks off."

Stephenson became so infuriated that she announced she was boycotting the Boston Five Classic June 21-24.

"That course is set up too short," she said. "And it's getting shorter and shorter," said Stephenson, reaffirming her boycott intentions.

Laupheimer, the Tour's commissioner for the last two years, denied the players' charges.

"Our courses are set up in the same fashion as they have been for the last two or three years," he said. "But they may have been playing differently this year."

The commissioner said better weather conditions, improved equipment and more quality players have led to lower scores in 1984.

Child Find investigated

NEW YORK (AP) — An investigation of Child Find found nothing to support serious charges of wrongdoing, but the private agency that helps locate missing children has misled people about what it does, says New York's attorney general.

State Attorney General Robert Abrams, outlining an agreement with the nonprofit corporation based in New Paltz, said Tuesday an investigation found that Child Find "had misrepresented the services it performs and had made misleading claims."

Under the agreement signed Tuesday morning, Child Find admitted no wrongdoing but agreed to change its literature and accurately explain the services it provides.

"We'll go out of our way to tell people exactly what we do, be more specific and more clear," Schoch said.

WHAT WILL THE CHICKENS DO? James DuVall places chickens in a pen this morning at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta as part of an experiment regarding their reaction to day's solar eclipse. Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions. Information for bidders, proposal forms, specifications and plans are at the office of the Purchasing Agent, Big Spring, Texas. Copies of the plans, specifications, and contract documents may be secured at the office of Don Baily, AIA, 600 E. 4th St., Big Spring, Texas, upon payment of $25.00 deposit for each set of documents. Refund of the deposit will be made as provided in the INSTRUCTION TO BIDDERS.

Attention is called to the fact that there must be paid on the project not less than the general prevailing rates of wages as set out in the SPECIAL PROVISIONS. However, the inclusion of such minimum schedule of wages does not release the Contractor from compliance with any State Wage Law that may be applicable. The Contractor must abide by the Wage and Hour Laws of the State of Texas and must pay not less than the rates legally prescribed or as set forth in the SPECIAL PROVISIONS, whichever is higher. Additionally, the successful bidder must comply with the Davis-Bacon Act.

Violin donated to museum

Mrs. Denver Pettitt has donated a violin to the Heritage Museum. The violin was carved by her late husband, who was a nationally-known violin-maker. The Museum will have a reception and special program at 2 p.m. June 2 to honor Mrs. Eltie Pettitt and accept the gift violin. Tom Castle and friends will perform.

Local sculptor, Coy McCann, will be a featured artist at the 1984 Paris International Contemporary Art Exposition June 10.

Jack Barber, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce athletic committee, reports that the softball tournament on June 22-24 at Johnny Stone Park has been confirmed. The committee will also plan and conduct the World Championship Texas Style Domino Tournament from July 26-28.

Arnold Marshall, chairman of the Chamber's Transportation Committee, will be making the presentation to the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation in Austin on Thursday, June 21, regarding the development of a four-lane highway south of Big Spring to Sterling City and the need of a loop around town for Highway 87.

Wes Taylor, Vice President of Public Affairs for Texas Electric Service Company, was in Big Spring yesterday. A coffee was held in the Reddy Room where Wes made a few remarks concerning the nuclear plant, Comanche Peak. It is scheduled to open in August or September. Recent publicity about the Comanche Peak nuclear plant was carried in major Texas newspapers.

From the Dallas Morning News, Monday, June 6, 1983: "The purpose of Comanche Peak isn't to afflict North and Central Texans with radioactive diseases; it's to provide cheap and adequate energy — cheaper indeed than can be expected in the 1990's from crude oil and natural gas. And while a few lingering questions about pipe supports are to be resolved, Comanche Peak has been built with the utmost attention to the public safety."

From the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Thursday morning, Feb. 23, 1984: "Someday, of course, the facts about nuclear power will drown out the fears. After all, it has been operating safely in this country for 25 years — and longer in Europe — without a single person dying as a result of a nuclear accident at a commercial power plant."

Billy Johnson is initiating a charter bus service in Big Spring and Howard County. The service is authorized to serve 48 states by the Interstate Commerce Commission with a 29 seat bus and will cater to small charter groups. Call Billy at 263-8195 for more information.

The Women's Business Ownership Conference '84 will be held June 14-16 at the Hyatt Regency, Dallas Reunion Center. With the theme, Building a Brighter Future, it is sponsored by the U.S. Small Business Administration, Association of Women Entrepreneurs of Dallas, Inc., and the University of Texas at Arlington. This conference is part of President Reagan's National Initiative Program in support and assistance of women entrepreneurs. The purpose of the program is to increase the number and prosperity of women business owners through continuing education and development of private sector support. This conference is one in a series of national conferences. For more information call me at 263-1451.

Three weeks ago today, the Crisis Hotline was established by the Chemical People Project. Kay Hepner, coordinator for the Hotline, said that until enough volunteers can be trained, it will be open 3 nights a week — Wednesday from 8-10 p.m., Friday and Saturday nights from 8-12 p.m. In the first three weeks of operation, with little fanfare of publicity, there have been quite a few calls. The phone number is 267-4111 to reach trained counselors. Spread the word.

Resident accused of killing burglar

CHICAGO (AP) — A man who said his home had been burglarized up to 30 times has been charged with manslaughter after making the house look unoccupied, hiding inside with a baseball bat and knife and then confronting two intruders, killing one, police said.

Frank Janac allegedly beat 16-year-old Darrol Davis with the bat and stabbed him repeatedly, police said Tuesday. He then stuffed the youth's body in the trunk of his car, which he had parked about a block away so the house would appear unoccupied, police said.

The second intruder who entered the home about noon Monday fled, Janac told police.

Janac, who was being held in the police lockup, was to appear in court today to answer a charge of voluntary manslaughter, police said.

A 43-year-old construction worker, Janac lives alone in the home in which he was raised. He said the dwelling had been broken into 25 to 30 times in recent years and that Monday was not the first time Davis and his accomplice had forced their way in, said Sgt. Richard Moran.

"He'd seen them in the home before," Moran said. "He must have had all he could take. But he went too far."

Producer planning movie about John De Lorean

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A documentary producer says he has some of the money he needs to make a feature-length dramatic film based on the life of automaker John Z. De Lorean.

Woody Clark, a San Francisco producer, said Tuesday in a telephone interview that he was interviewing screenwriters for the project, which is expected to cost $5 million to $6 million. He declined to say how much of the projected film budget he had in hand or pledged.

De Lorean is on trial in U.S. District Court on charges of conspiring to sell cocaine to save his sports car company.

Clark said the film would chronicle not only De Lorean's drug case, but his early years as an executive at General Motors.

He said he has under option two books about De Lorean. One, "On a Clear Day You Can See General Motors" was optioned about 2 1/2 months before the automaker was arrested in October 1982, Clark said.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY NEWS

Classic Auto Sales has scheduled a Grand Opening of its new, larger facility at FM 700 and Birdwell Lane Saturday, June 2.

Classic Auto Sales Is Family-Owned Business

"We pride ourselves in our cars," says Gary Hopper, owner of Classic Auto Sales. "We work hard to purchase good, late model cars."

Eschewing the use of the term "used cars," Gary prefers to refer to them as "pre-owned cars," which better describes the quality of their stock.

"We look for cars with low mileage. We buy locally when we can so that we know the history of the cars," Gary explains. "We prefer to buy our cars from the original owners, or at least where we are able to locate the previous owner."

Classic Auto Sales is especially proud of its selection of exotic cars such as Jaguars, and luxury autos. In addition the Hoppers stock intermediate cars, such as Oldsmobile Cutlass, and pick-ups. They will also try to locate a particular car a customer requests.

Classic Auto Sales is owned by a Big Spring family that has been synonymous with the automobile business here for over 25 years. Jimmy Hopper owned Hopper Auto Sales in the 1960's and Jimmy Hopper Toyota in the 1970's. Son Gary has been in the business 14 years. The two founded Classic Auto Sales in 1979.

The firm recently moved to larger facilities on FM 700 at Birdwell Lane.

"Now we can provide a complete service department with the capability to work on any car including those with on-board computers. Our mechanic is Ray Phillips, a native of Big Spring who was with us at Jimmy Hopper Toyota."

Classic Auto Sales offers 3-month-3,000 mile warranty or the optional 12-month, 12,000-mile warranty at a low cost. Any problems with the cars should show up during this time so that it can be taken care of, Gary says. Every car they sell must pass a stringent 10-point check list before it is placed on the lot.

"Our cars are in excellent mechanical condition and ready to provide the buyer with dependable, quality transportation."

Classic Auto Sales is the only independent dealer with a service department, a service protection plan, financing and service after the sale, Gary says.

Other staff members are Evon Lauderdale, bookkeeper, a 3-year-resident of Big Spring; Bob Brown, a Big Spring native, salesman; and James Hulse, a 12-year resident, salesman.

A grand opening of the new facility is scheduled for Saturday, June 2. The public is invited to attend.

Midway Plumbing Stresses Quality Sales, Service

Quality is a commodity that is not emphasized as much as it is used to be. But when you, the consumer, spend your money on a product or service, you deserve to get the best available. That's what they strive for at Midway Plumbing and Supply.

Their showroom is stocked with the finest in fixtures and supplies — from faucets to a complete line of bath fixtures.

Gary Belew and Arvin Henry, co-owners of Midway Plumbing and Supply, stress that their company's main aim is to provide quality service to their customers.

The firm is moving soon to a new and larger location in a solar heated building now under construction across I-20 from its present location. The building will house a larger workshop, larger showroom, and a display area for sales and information on solar systems.

In addition to Gary and Arvin, the staff includes Bonnie Foster and Colleen Henry in the showroom/office; Alan Matthes and Chuck Hesson, plumbers; and Paul Dunlap and David Buchanan, helpers.

Midway Plumbing and Supply is located about six miles from Big Spring. Take the Moss Lake Exit off I-20 East. Phone 393-5294.
