CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) — The delayed debut of space shuttle Discovery was aborted just four heart-stopping seconds before liftoff this morning when computers detected a questionable fuel valve and stopped the engine firing in mid-sequence.

It was one of the most agonizing scrubs in U.S. space history, with a six-person flight crew sitting atop 500,000 gallons of volatile fuel. Two of Discovery's three main engines actually fired before receiving the shutdown command and their ignition started a small gas fire at the base of the rocket. It was quickly extinguished as officials nervously watched the pressure of the main fuel tanks. NASA officials said the flight crew — five men and a woman — were never in direct danger.

Discovery, a brand new ship, faces a launch delay of several days to several weeks as technicians study and fix whatever went wrong — if anything — with the four-inch-diameter fuel valve. One of the shuttle indicators showed no problem with the valve, while another indicated trouble. This morning's was the second scrub in as many days, but bore no connection to Monday's trouble — a bad computer that was replaced and operating perfectly today.

After a smooth, overnight countdown, the abort sequence went like this: Precisely on schedule, just before 8:43 a.m. EDT, two of Discovery's engines flashed to life, 120 milliseconds apart. But a computer saw an errant signal from a fuel valve and sent out the command to shut down. One of the engines had not kicked in and never did. The others closed off immediately and NASA said there was no physical damage to the new ship despite the small fire.

The engine that did not fire — No. 1 in the NASA designbook — was borrowed earlier this month from sister ship Challenger, but the fuel valve was located on No. 3.

Both engines have flown flawlessly in previous shuttle missions. "We had a clear go and we were well underway," when the signal for a suspect valve was received, said shuttle operations director Thomas Utsman.

STOPPED TIME — The countdown clock at the Kennedy Space Center press site was stopped at four seconds to go this morning when the launch of the maiden voyage of the space shuttle Discovery was scrubbed.

Downtowners plan 1st event

By RICK BROWN

About 50 local residents who make up the newly dubbed "Heart of the City" project — a group interested in the renovation of downtown Big Spring — last evening heard plans for the group's first big event.

Special Events Committee chairman David Mills said a combined farmer's market and arts and crafts show will be held downtown July 28.

Currently, plans are to close off Main street on that day between Third and Fourth streets, making room for about 40 booths to be used by local craftsmen and produce sellers, he said.

Residents of Howard County's Knott community have already committed to using about 10 of the booths, according to city administrative assistant Pat Hardy.

Local entertainers, including Michael Jackson look-alike Kevin Watson, are also scheduled to perform throughout the day, Mills said. In addition, two street dances are planned for the event, one scheduled for July 27 and one planned by the Chemical People Youth Events Committee for July 28, he said.

During the general meeting, in which progress reports were heard from all Heart of the City committees, Hardy said, "The moment we begin to stop doing what we're doing, (downtown) will begin to deteriorate again."

Rodeo!

Ridin' a reputation for ropin' good time

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Professional rodeo riders, long-time rodeo enthusiasts and even some who will be seeing a rodeo for the first time will be on hand Wednesday through Saturday for the 51st annual Big Spring Rodeo and Cowboy Reunion.

Skipper Driver, a member of the rodeo board of directors, said directors and volunteers were busy today preparing the grounds for the rodeo, sorting out tickets and programs and putting livestock into pens at the rodeo bowl.

Top circuit cowboys and cowgirls, including Roy Cooper, the 1983 Professional World All-Around champion, local bull rider Wacey Cathey, world champion roper Toots Mansfield, three-time world champion team roper Leo Camarillo and barrel racing champion Diltzie Edmondson will be among the top-ranked rodeo riders in Big Spring for the yearly event.

In recent years, the Big Spring rodeo has suffered from another large rodeo scheduled at the same time in Las Vegas, Nev. This year, however, the Big Spring and Las Vegas events are on different dates, which should mean a larger turnout for the local event, Driver said.

And the Big Spring rodeo "has a good reputation," Driver said. In addition to entry fee purses, participants will be riding for an additional $1,000 per event.

Entries this year "are up," Driver said. As of Tuesday, 387 entries in seven events had been logged, Driver said. Events at the rodeo include bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling, team roping and barrel racing.

Tom Hadley will be this year's announcer. Big Springers will be familiar with Hadley's voice because he has served as emcee locally for several years.

Rodeo schedule

TUESDAY

WEDNESDAY
4:30 p.m., parade, downtown
8 p.m., The Outlaws Prison Band, rodeo bowl
8:30 p.m., Grand entry, Big Spring rodeo
9 p.m., dance with Hoyle Nix, fairbarn

The rodeo is one of the top 50 rodeos in the U.S. and Canada, according to members of the rodeo board of directors. It is sanctioned by the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association.

The rodeo will open each night at 8:30 p.m. in the rodeo bowl at the Big Spring fairgrounds. Tickets, priced at $5 for adults and $3 for children, are See Rodeo page 2-A

Shaw: A lot of help from home

LARRY DON SHAW

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau AUSTIN — School finance is a tangly web of formulas and factors that sometimes leaves legislators scratching their heads.

But Rep. Larry Don Shaw, D-Big Spring, said he had a lot of help from school officials in his district while the Texas Legislature has been rewriting school finance law. "I've been in close contact with them," Shaw said.

Shaw also said that he has received a variety of mail from people in his district on various education issues.

On taxes, Shaw said he has been contacted by architects and people who sell advertising in his district who are opposed to stripping away sales tax exemptions for them.

Asked if he felt pressure from back home on the education issues, Shaw said, "there's been a lot of pressure. This is by far the most important issue that I have ever voted on. Then right behind it we have got a tax bill."

On school finance, Shaw said that the wealthy districts in his area lose money in both plans under consideration in a House-Senate conference committee. Yet he also has poor schools in his district and they would gain under either proposal, he said.

"I have realized early on that I had to do what is best, that nobody was going to be too happy," Shaw said. But the House bill, rather than the Senate version, is the most financially palatable for his district, he said. Shaw said that about six of the 25 school districts in his House district will lose money while the rest will gain.

The majority of his schools should not have to raise local taxes, he said. "But the Legislature could be used as a scapegoat for raising taxes. Time will tell. I think most of my school districts will get by without raising taxes. But that remains to be seen."

Senate: No nukes in W. Texas

AUSTIN — The Senate yesterday passed a resolution telling the federal government that it must look someplace other than West Texas for its high-level radioactive waste dump sites, even though the state plans to build a low-level waste dump there.

"Our answer is no, no, no, when it comes to locating a nuclear waste site here," said Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D-Austin, co-sponsor of the resolution.

"With this resolution, we are saying to the (U.S.) Department of Energy, 'Look elsewhere,'" he said Monday.

At present, the Department of Energy has chosen two sites in Texas among five nationwide as possible locations for a high-level repository for nuclear waste matter.

The state's Low-Level Radioactive Waste Authority has signed an option to purchase land in Garza County for a nuclear waste dump. The agency also is looking at acreage in Borden County for a dump.

"Right now, we stand a two-in-five chance of having them choose Texas," Doggett said.

"We're speaking about high-level nuclear waste. That's the really hot stuff," added Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin.

Federal law allows governors and state legislatures to veto putting a nuclear dump in their states within 60 days of the president recommending a location to Congress.

The Senate's resolution, adopted without opposition and sent to the House for action, would exercise that veto and empower the lieutenant governor and House speaker to register the veto if the Legislature isn't in session when a presidential decision is made.

It also orders the Texas Water Commission to deny the Department of Energy permission to drill a test shaft needed before locating a dump site.

Weather

Pre-dawn storms

Strong thunderstorms moved across the Texas Panhandle early today as impulses from a low pressure system over Colorado began moving southeastward, triggering thunderstorm activity.

The heaviest thunderstorms during the pre-dawn area ranged from northwestern Oklahoma to near Childress. Other, light activity was reported before dawn along the Texas-New Mexico border.

Most of the state had warm conditions and clear to partly cloudy skies early today. A few high clouds were reported over South Texas and along the Red River.

Patchy fog was reported along the gulf coast near Beaumont-Port Arthur, but the National Weather Service said visibility was reduced to only less than two miles.

Early morning temperatures were again warm, ranging mostly from the mid 70s to the lower 80s. Extremes ranged from a cool 59 at Marfa in the mountains of Southwest Texas to a sultry 82-degree reading at both Abilene and in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Forecasts called for widely scattered showers and thunderstorms over section of West Texas and Southeast Texas today. The rest of the state was to have more clear to partly cloudy skies and warm to hot temperatures. Highs today were expected to reach the 100-degree mark or slightly above in North Texas and Central Texas and in the 90s elsewhere.

Powerful thunderstorms pounded the floodweary Midwest again today after scattered storms produced hail and high winds in North and South Dakota, Minnesota and the Texas Panhandle.

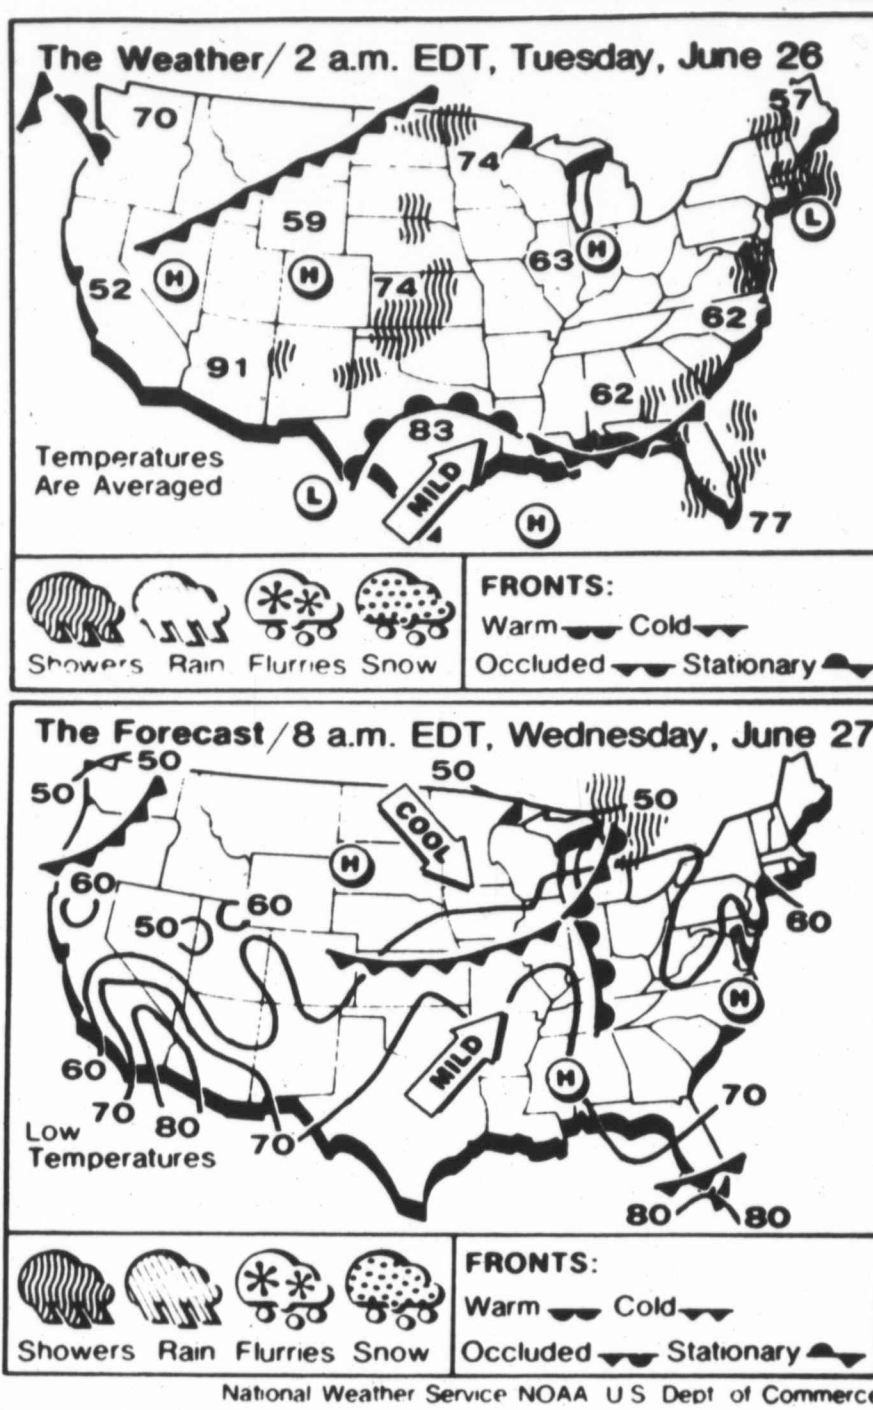

Wet weather was expected for Maine and from the upper Great Lakes to the middle Mississippi Valley, with afternoon and evening thunderstorms over Florida, the southern Plateau and the Great Basin, the National Weather Service said.

The weather service also forecast rain today over northern and eastern Maine.

Overnight, strong thunderstorms raked northern Minnesota and much of Kansas and northwestern Oklahoma into the Texas Panhandle, dumping hail the size of golf balls in North and South Dakota, Kansas and Minnesota, the weather service said.

Although floodwaters that have ruined millions of acres of farmland in the past two weeks, water levels receded Monday with the exception of the Missouri River, which matched a 33-year record at Waverly, Mo., Sunday.

West Texas - Partly cloudy and very warm to hot afternoons through Wednesday with isolated late afternoon and nighttime showers and a few thunderstorms. Lows tonight mid 60s Panhandle and mountains to mid 70s extreme south. Highs Wednesday near 90 north to near 104 Big Bend of the Rio Grande.

Commissioners get hot over cool courthouse copier

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

Howard County commissioners Monday took more than an hour to reach a 3-to-1 vote in selecting the high bid of $7,120 for a copier for the second floor of the courthouse.

Commissioners accepted the Xerox Corp. bid after listening to representatives from both Xerox and Monroe Business Systems, which submitted bids on two other copiers. The Monroe bids were less than the Xerox bid.

Voting for the Xerox copier were Commissioners Paul Allen and Bill Crooker. County Judge Milton Kirby also announced that he favored the Xerox bid. Opposed was Commissioner Louis Brown. Absent from the meeting was Commissioner David Barr, who was helping verify livestock at the sale barn.

Commissioners Allen and Crooker said they rejected the Monroe bids because both of the company's copiers were desktop models. Bid specifications asked for company bids on either a particular heavy-duty non-desktop Xerox model or its equivalent.

The commissioners who favored the larger Xerox model said they were concerned that desktop models would be too small and require waiting time in the middle of large jobs. The current Xerox model was too small and was overheating when large numbers of copies were made consecutively, county employees said.

"I'm afraid we'll get back in the same shape we are now," Allen said. "We need a bigger and better machine to handle the load. By the time you add the other things on a stand and other items), there's only $2,100 difference.

Another factor was the availability of service repairmen, according to commissioners. Xerox also has two service representatives working in Big Spring. Monroe's service representative is based in Midland.

Crooker also said the Xerox purchase would improve employee's efficiency because they wouldn't have to wait for the machine to cool down in the middle of jobs.

Commissioners agreed to purchase the copier at the request of County Engineer Bill Mims, in whose office the machine will be placed. The machine currently in his office will be moved downstairs to the county tax assessor-collector's office. Assessor-Collector Dorothy Moore had requested a copier in next year's budget.

Brown, who opposed the budget, said he thought the smaller copier was sufficient. Monroe bid on two copiers, one that made 21 copies a minute, and one that made 30 copies a minute. The Xerox copier that the county agreed to purchase made 30 copies a minute.

The Monroe sales representative disputed statements by commissioners that her company's copiers would not be able to handle the workload because they were desktop models. "They can do the work. They just don't need all that space. Ours are more compact," Joan Buzard said.

Commissioners also accepted the Xerox low bid of $1,870 for an electronic typewriter. Xerox granted the county a 15 percent discount on the typewriter because of the purchase of the copier.

El Paso man dies in rollover

GARDEN CITY — A 24-year-old El Paso man was killed Sunday night in a one-car rollover in Glasscock County, according to a Department of Public Safety report.

Glasscock County Justice of the Peace J.E. Wooten pronounced David Moreno dead at the scene of the accident on FM 33 about 14 miles north of Garden City, according to the DPS report.

Moreno was killed about 7:15 p.m. when he was thrown out of his 1981 Dodge after losing control of the car, according to Stanton DPS trooper Vic Taylor.

Moreno's body was taken to the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home pending services.

According to Taylor's report, Moreno was traveling north on FM 33 when he went off the road on the east side at a curve in the road. Moreno overreacted, turning the car into a bar ditch on the west side of the road, the report said. His car struck a fence post, and rolled five times, ejecting Moreno.

Bailbonding to be meeting topic

Bailbonding procedures will be the subject of a meeting Thursday sponsored by the Legal Affairs Task force of the Chemical People anti-drug organization.

The meeting will be held at 4 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce board room at 215 W. Third.

Chemical People chairman Tom Watson said his group became aware of "a considerable amount of discontent and misunderstanding" about bonding procedures in Howard County following a recent meeting with bail bond company owners Mary Thomas and Danny Heckler.

Watson said local magistrates, bail bond agents, the Bail Bond board of directors and law enforcement officials have been invited to attend the Thursday meeting.

Two men plead guilty

A Big Spring man and a Balch Springs man pleaded guilty Monday in 118th District Court on separate charges.

Danny Lee Eagle, 23, of 507 1/2 Johnson pleaded guilty to forgery and to theft of rental property. District Judge Jim Gregg sentenced Eagle to two years in prison for the forgery charge and to six years probation for the theft charge.

Gregg sentenced James Edward Winn, 21, of Balch Springs to three years in prison after revoking his probation for theft of more than $700. He was credited with serving 77 days in jail.

Winford Dewayne Allen, 28, of 701 E. 13th was transferred to the county jail from the police department twice within 24 hours. Allen was transferred Monday morning on suspicion of aggravated assault, speeding and driving while license suspended. He was released on $3,500 for the assault charge, $500 for the DWLS charge and $200 for the speeding charge; all the bonds were set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

Allen was transferred again at 1:15 a.m. Tuesday on suspicion of DWLS and failure to maintain financial responsibility. He was released on two $500 bonds set by Gregg.

Sheriff's deputies are trying to locate two missing women, who left Sulphur Springs last Wednesday en route to Dallas and Big Spring, at the request of Big Spring resident Charles Merritt. Missing are Rosa Lee Stewart and her sister, Nita Harris. Both are black females. Ms. Stewart is in her 70s. Ms. Harris is blind. Stewart was driving a dark green 1968 or 1969 Pontiac.

The pastor at Crestview Baptist Church, Sammy Simms, told Howard County sheriff's deputies that someone, between 8 a.m. Sunday and 4 p.m. Monday, took an air conditioner unit from the window of the church.

Employees from D & A Pipe and Steel on Snyder Highway told deputies someone had stolen a tire from their business.

Armando Lopez, 26, of 511 Abrams was arrested by deputies on a felony theft warrant after his bondsman went off bond. He was released on $1,500 bond.

Gladys Diane Dorsey, 24, of Midland was transferred to the county jail from the police department on suspicion of failure to carry liability insurance and three Department of Public Safety traffic warrants. She was released on $500 bond for the insurance charge and three $200 bonds on the traffic charges. Bonds were set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

Julian Reyna, 30, of the Westex Compress Yardhouse was transferred to the sheriff's office on suspicion of two counts of driving while intoxicated. He was released on $1,000 bond each.

Luis Vasquez, 33, of 900 E. 12 was transferred to county jail from the police department on suspicion of DWI. He was released on $1,500 bond set by Darratt.

Rodeo

available at the gate as well as from Ward's Boot and Saddle Shop, Smallwood's Western Wear, First National Bank, Highland Chrysler Dodge, Morgan's Western Wear and Coahoma State Bank.

The rodeo will kick-off Wednesday with a parade beginning at 10th and Main streets at 7:30 p.m. It will continue along Main to Second Street, then return to Scurry Street back to 10th street.

Any organizations wishing to participate in the parade should meet at the starting point at 10th and Main prior to the parade's kickoff, parade officials said.

Prior to each night's performance of the rodeo, the Outlaw Prison Band from the Big Spring Federal Camp will perform. The rodeo begins at 8:30 p.m. with John Scheidler and his Western Band performing during the rodeo.

A dance featuring Hoyle Nix and the West Texas Cowboys will play each night after the rodeo in the fair barn.

On Saturday, the Whoop and Holler Barbecue is slated at the fairgrounds. Judging in the event is scheduled for 6 p.m. The contest, limited to the first 100 teams, will feature teams from Fiberflex, the Jaycees, KBST and Coors. Each team must have five members.

Eight trophies will be awarded, including trophies for best pit, best costume, and first through third places in goat and brisket.

Prizes in the cookoff will include $150 for first place; $100 for second place, and $50 for third.

One of the highlights of the Big Spring rodeo is the appearance of Coahoma's Quail Dobbs, a long-time rodeo clown who is well-known on the rodeo circuit. Dobbs has been a clown for many years and appears in rodeos from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Houston.

Joining Dobbs this year will be bullfighters Kirby Burney and Rick Young.

Driver said he was optimistic that the rodeo would draw large crowds throughout its four day run. "We put this rodeo on for the enjoyment of people in Big Spring, Howard County and the area."

Police check out fireworks

Police were called to the 100 block of Lincoln at 7:06 p.m. Monday after receiving a report of fireworks explosions.

Several persons were warned that using fireworks is illegal under city ordinances, police said. However, officers were called back to the location at 9:08 p.m. after a second report was received. The persons had left the scene, police said.

In other police reports: Gwen Casto of 1601 Cardinal was treated and released at Malone-Hogan Hospital Monday evening following a two-vehicle accident in the 500 block of Main, a hospital spokeswoman and police reports said.

Ms. Casto was a passenger in a 1976 AMC Hornet that was west-bound on E. Sixth when it collided with a 1968 Pontiac Firebird driven northbound on Main by Angela Nelson of 2618 Hunter, reports said. The driver of the AMC Hornet was Jack Jewett, also of 1601 Cardinal, reports said.

According to reports, Ms. Nelson was ticketed after the accident for running a stop sign at the intersection of 6th and Main. Also ticketed by police was Jewett, who failed to show proof of financial responsibility, reports said.

Eddie Aciri of 2500 Larry told police at 6:01 a.m. Monday that someone between 9 p.m. Sunday and 5:50 a.m. Monday stole golf equipment valued at $600, a $40 automatic weapon and $20 in quarters from a van parked at his residence, police reports said.

Winford Dewayne Allen, 28, of 701 E. 13th was arrested at 10:31 p.m. Monday outside the Crazy Horse Saloon at 3204 W. Highway 80 on suspicion of driving with license suspended, police reports said. According to reports, the arrest came after police answered a call of a fight at the saloon and observed a vehicle recklessly leaving the parking lot.

Linda Wagner of 106 E. 21st filed an assault report with police at 1:24 a.m. Monday at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital after she was treated for bruises and cuts to her arms, legs and head, police reports said. Ms. Wagner told police she was assaulted by two females near the intersection of 22nd and Main streets, reports said.

E.S. Morgan, an employee of the Big Spring Independent School District, told police at 8:30 a.m. Monday that someone between 4 p.m. Friday and 7 a.m. Monday stole an air conditioner valued at $175 from a classroom window at the Lakeview Elementary School at 1107 N.W. Seventh, police reports said.

Anselmo Ontiveros, 21, of 406 N.E. 10th was arrested at 9:41 a.m. Monday in connection with Midland Department of Public Safety warrants, police reports said.

Dwayne Hubert Johnson, 21, of Odessa was arrested at 10:59 a.m. Monday near Interstate 20 mile marker 184 on suspicion of driving while intoxicated, police reports said.

Not a real newsman

PHOENIX — News anchors Jane Pauley and Bryant Gumble may have the looks, but NBC-TV weatherman Willard Scott says he's "the comic relief" of the Today Show.

WILLARD SCOTT

"I don't consider myself a real journalist," Scott told the Kiwanis International convention Monday.

He appeared here without the hairpiece he wears on television, saying he charged an extra $20 to wear it to engagements, but then pulled the toupee from a pocket and demonstrated its versatility as a wig, fake chest hair and a skeet-shooting target.

Flashbulbs popped as Scott took the stage at Arizona Veterans Memorial Coliseum, so Scott whipped out his own camera and snapped three pictures of the 11,000 people in the audience.

One reason for the pictures was to prove to the Internal Revenue Service that he really flew to Phoenix, he said. The other reason, he said, was to prove it to his wife.

Andy gets a spanking

LONDON — Buckingham Palace denied as "a complete invention" reports that Prince Andrew got a mock caning at a London restaurant, and a teachers' organization criticized the prince for going to the eatery.

British newspapers reported Monday that the 24-year-old son of Queen Elizabeth II was caned last week by a waitress at the Schoolboys' Dinners Club. Patrons of the restaurant who don't finish their meals or fail to raise their hands for permission to go to the toilet get mock canings from waitresses.

"The facts are that Prince Andrew was there, he sat down to dinner and then left," a palace spokesman who would be quoted only on condition he not be identified said Monday. "There was no spanking — it's a complete invention."

The newspapers quoted proprietor Peter Byfield as saying Prince Andrew was "caned." But on Monday, Byfield said he wasn't sure Andrew had been caned.

However, the Society of Teachers Opposed to Physical Punishment had already written the prince protesting "your thoughtless, irresponsible and puerile behavior in attending this establishment."

MEETING IN HAVANA — Jesse Jackson is greeted Monday evening at Havana's Jose Marti Airport by Cuban President Fidel Castro. Jackson and Castro were scheduled for two days of meetings.

Jackson meets Castro

Candidate urges U.S.-Cuban reconciliation

HAVANA (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson, welcomed here by President Fidel Castro, declared the United States and Cuba must forgive each other for decades of hostility, "redeem each other and move on."

The Democratic presidential candidate received a ceremonial greeting from Castro when he arrived Monday at Jose Marti Airport from El Salvador on his five-day visit to Latin America. He planned some sightseeing before a scheduled 3½-hour talk with the Communist leader.

Castro told reporters at the airport that Jackson's visit might "possibly" lessen strains between Cuba and the United States.

"I invited him out of our friendship to the United States," Castro said through an interpreter. "He honors us with his visit."

Jackson called for an end to 25 years of enmity between the two nations.

"We must forgive each other," he said. "We must redeem each other and move on. We must give peace a chance. Together, our nations have the capacity to bring peace in this hemisphere!"

Jackson attended a folk festival Monday night at the National Theater of Cuba and later told reporters his discussion with Castro would take in not only Cuban-American tensions but a wide range of Latin American concerns.

"In the course of our dialogue, we will be talking about human rights and political prisoners," Jackson said. "We will be talking about the divisions in El Salvador and Honduras and what's happening in Nicaragua."

Cuba and the United States have been at odds since 1959, when Castro and his supporters deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista. Diplomatic relations were broken in 1961, when a CIA-backed force of 1,400 Cuban exiles was defeated in an invasion attempt at the Bay of Pigs.

Recent American presidents have accused Castro of sending troops and advisers abroad to act as surrogates for the Soviet Union. The Reagan administration says they are now stationed in 12 countries. It also criticizes the Cubans for encouraging revolutionary movements in Central America and alleged human rights violations.

News in brief

Artillery rocks Beirut

BEIRUT — Four people were killed and 16 injured during the night in artillery battles that rocked the hills and suburbs surrounding Beirut, police said today.

Heavy fighting occurred around the town of Souk el-Gharb, where the Lebanese army has a garrison. Army troops and Druse militiamen exchanged sustained rocket, mortar and tank cannon fire, police said.

Fighting around Souk el-Gharb and neighboring ridges east of Beirut killed three people and injured seven, police said. The other casualties were reported in suburban Beirut.

Parents were told by telephone not to send their children to classes because school administrators feared an escalation of the fighting despite government efforts to stop it, local radio stations reported.

Kuwait buys Soviet arms

KUWAIT — This tiny Persian Gulf country is turning to the Soviet Union for missiles and possibly other sophisticated weapons because of the United States' reluctance to supply it with shoulder-fired anti-aircraft missiles, officials said.

Kuwaiti officials have said they want new missiles to defend themselves against a possible widening of the Iran-Iraq war, and Defense Minister Sheik Salem Al-Sabah said Monday night he will visit Moscow on July 9 to conclude an arms deal.

Afghan leader returns

NEW DELHI — Afghan guerrilla leader Ahmad Shah Masoud, who reportedly slipped out of the strategic Panjsher Valley prior to a Soviet offensive in April, has returned to direct attacks on Soviet positions, Western diplomats said today.

Quoting reports from Kabul, the diplomats said rebels led by Masoud attacked Soviet positions in two side valleys. Soviet troops retaliated with three days of air raids. Casualty reports were not available.

Masoud was able to control the 100-mile gorge that dominates supply routes between Afghanistan and the Soviet Union before the April offensive. He reportedly evacuated most of his forces from Panjsher before the offensive, said the diplomats, who asked not to be identified.

Haiti publisher released

PORT-AU-PRINCE — Publisher Pierre Robert Auguste, jailed on June 18, was released Monday, sources close to government said.

The government of President-for-Life Jean-Claude Duvalier had refused to confirm or deny his arrest.

Auguste's opposition newspaper L'Information was closed after publishing an interview with a legislator from southern Haiti who said food riots in Cap-Haitien and Gonaives last month were justified. As many as five people were reported killed in western and northern Haiti.

Safety net holds for truly needy

Charges to the contrary notwithstanding, the Reagan administration has not slashed the safety net for the truly needy. Federal expenditures on welfare programs have increased 10.5 percent since 1981. Considering inflation, that reflects a holding pattern — and perhaps a slight decrease — but not a slashed net.

The president has, however, pared several proposed increases in welfare spending. Consequently, the states have picked up a larger share of costs for those 54 social programs that Washington has asked them to administer. States such as New York and Massachusetts have enacted some additional programs of their own. Meanwhile, high-growth states in the South and West have barely felt the impact of federal budget reductions.

These findings from a Princeton University study conclude that the impact of the Reagan budget cuts has not been as severe as initially imagined. A previous Princeton report and countless media accounts suggested that the poor had been savaged by the administration's budget cuts.

The most recent Princeton study, which covers the Reagan presidency to date, discloses a far different picture. Apart from the working poor who have lost extended benefits, the report concludes that most welfare recipients continue to qualify for federal and state assistance.

The study also found that even though state agencies have generally gained greater independence from the federal government, the president has yet to achieve the grass-roots control he sought three years ago. Nor has he reduced the federal share of these programs to any great extent. The administration has managed to shift some of the welfare burden back to the states — and since it can be better administered there, it seems that's a logical approach to take.

Swept away

Due to an illness, my wife has been out of action and I have found myself in the role of home manager. I must admit, I never paid too much attention to what a wife did to maintain a house, and assumed it was a snap compared to solving the Iraq-Iran war.

I am now realizing there is more to housekeeping than the TV commercials would have us believe. Here are some of the things I discovered in my new consciousness-raising position:

A laundry hamper only holds dirty clothes. It does not wash them.

There is no such thing as an empty dishwasher.

Garbage disposal units do not grind up steak bones, or forks and spoons.

Appliance repairmen all have answering services but never call them for their messages.

You cannot grow food in a refrigerator. You have to go to a supermarket and buy it. No matter what you buy for dinner your bill always comes to $49.50.

Many varieties of food have to be cooked. This requires pots and pans. Fresh fish and meat do not come with instructions. Neither do fresh vegetables. Frozen meals taste just as good as fresh meals.

A person can overdose on hamburgers and scrambled eggs in less than five days.

Garbage has to be put on the street once a week, or no one will take it away.

Grass has to be watered or it will turn brown.

After making up beds two days in a row, the thrill is gone.

A neighbor never congratulates you on your waxed floors.

Polyester-blend suits start to smell if you don't take them to the dry cleaner.

When a fuse blows in the house it has to be replaced or the lights won't go back on. United Parcel only rings your bell when they have a package for the person next door who isn't home.

The telephone only rings when you're in the bathroom, or outside watering plants.

You never have enough card when you're vacuuming a rug. But you always have too much when you're trying to put it back in the closet.

People who live in glass houses have to wash their windows all the time.

The one item you need to complete a chore is downstairs when you are upstairs, and upstairs when you are downstairs.

Dogs and cats have to be fed or they'll turn on you.

The only serviceman who will come when you call him is the piano tuner.

The best way to clean up a son's room is to close the door and pretend it is not part of the house.

Taking a headache remedy does not necessarily mean there will be less dust in the living room.

No one gives you a bonus for getting a stain out of the sofa.

It's amazing how little comfort you get out of hearing sympathetic friends tell you they know exactly what you're going through.

I discovered, admittedly late in the game, there is no such thing as upward mobility in home management, no chance for advancement, and no opportunity for a wage increase. I now understand for the first time why wives need soap operas and The National Enquirer to get them through the day. It's their only link with reality. Somebody else's infidelity sure beats the hell out of getting grease off the stove with the perfect paper towel.

Arafat holds appeal to the masses

WASHINGTON — Yasir Arafat, the wily Palestinian leader, has more life than a cat. Last year, he was lucky to escape from Lebanon one jump ahead of a Syrian-supported assault force that was gunning for him. Now he is maneuvering to regain the leadership of the Palestine Liberation Organization, with the support of none other than the Syrians.

That's right, Arafat not only is trying to ingratiate himself with his mortal enemy, Syrian President Hafez Assad, but he may actually get away with it. He has the backing of Syria's bankroller, Saudi Arabia and arms supplier, the Soviet Union.

Arafat was defeated and discredited when he escaped from Syrian clutches in Lebanon. He spent the next several months wandering in the political wilderness, seeking refuge in one Arab country after another.

During the Israeli bombardment of Beirut two years ago, I spent a couple of hours with Arafat in his bunker. Face to face, he was impressive, even magnetic. But there was a tenseness about him, a wariness of eye, a sense of beleaguement.

The Israelis backed him into a corner, and he negotiated his way out. The Syrians backed him into a corner, and again he got out. Assad tried to replace him with Abuh Musah as PLO chieftain. Intelligence source tell me Assad still detests Arafat personally and distrusts him politically. Yet a reconciliation is possible, even probable.

For despite his repeated humiliations, Arafat still retains the loyalty of the Palestinian masses. The same cannot be said for Musah. So in the cause of Palestinian unity, Arafat has sought to make up with Assad.

Arafat has enlisted the intercession of the Soviet Union, Saudi Arabia and Egypt. So far, Assad has withstood the pressure. But a reconciliation, based on the hard realities of Arab politics if not mutual trust, might be worked out.

For his part, Arafat is reported ready to kowtow to Assad in return for a gesture of Syrian support, such as a public reception in Damascus as an acknowledged Palestinian leader. Intelligence analysts emphasize that any deal would have to be on Syrian terms. Assad would insist on retaining ultimate control over his military and diplomatic moves.

As one intelligence analyst summed it up succinctly for my associate Lucette Lagnado, Arafat would have to become Assad's "puppy dog." But Arafat is capable of doing whatever is necessary to assure his survival, and Assad appreciates the clout Arafat still has with the Palestinian people and international leaders.

GARRISON UPDATE: In past columns, I have charged that the Garrison Unit, which would irrigate a handful of North Dakota farms along the Canadian border, is more than a billion-dollar boondoggle. It could also be an environmental disaster, upsetting the delicate ecology of Canadian rivers with "alien" fish from the Missouri River.

North Dakota's pork-barrel politicians have hired a press agent to allay the Canadians' fears. They are also paying $20,000 a year to the North Dakota Water Users Association, a private group that lobbies for the project in Congress. Of course, Congress doles out the federal funds that keep the boondoggle alive.

Expenditure of public funds for a private lobbying effort, incidentally, appears to violate the state's constitution. State funds have also been used to send former governors to Washington-based lobbyists to hustle Congress for the Garrison funds.

The public relations firm North Dakota hired has tried to mislead the Canadian public. For example, one press release gave the clear impression that no construction would proceed until a U.S.-Canadian agreement was reached.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Billy Graham

Prayer can change things

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Do you think prayer really changes anything? It seems to me God is going to do whatever He wants anyway, so why bother to pray? — W.W.M.

DEAR W.W.M.: Yes, prayer can change things. This is both the promise of the Bible and the experience of countless Christians. "The prayer of a righteous man is powerful and effective. Elijah ... prayed earnestly that it would not rain, and it did not rain on the lands for three and a half years. Again he prayed, and the heavens gave rain and the earth produced its crops" (James 5:16-18).

Does that mean God will do anything we ask? No, God does not promise to do that — because He loves us and He knows many of the things we selfishly ask for would actually harm us. You see, the amin concern we should have in all our prayers is to seek for God's will to be done. We want God to work in a situation, and since He alone knows what is actually best, we should want above all to see His will done. Jesus taught us to say in the Lord's Prayer, "Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven" (Matthew 6:10). The Bible promises, "This is the assurance we have in approaching God: that if we ask anything according to His will, He hears us. And...we know that we have what we asked of Him" (1 John 5:14-15).

We may not fully understand why God connects His work so closely with prayer—but He does. Yes, He could do anything He wants to do, but one of the things He wants to do is use our prayers to accomplish His work. Through prayer we draw closer to God, and through prayer God uses us to intercede for others who are in need. If the Lord Jesus Christ felt the need of spending time in prayer, how much more should we feel the need of drawing closer to God in prayer!

Remember, however, that prayer is not just asking God for things. We should worship and praise Him in prayer. We should thank God for all His blessings in prayer. And we also should confess our sins to Him in prayer. Most of all, remember that prayer is possible because Jesus Christ has reconciled us to God by His death on the cross.

Around The Rim

By CAROL HART BALDWIN

Yes to PG-13

Kids grow up too fast today. But they get to view more than their share of adult situations during the movies they see which are rated PG.

Recent stories from the entertainment news wire have dealt with the PG-13 rating of movies, in addition to the standard PG rating the industry has used for several years.

PG-13 is a guideline for parents that the movie may be a little violent for children under 13. I agree that it is about time that movies separate the types of films that fall into the PG rating.

Take for instance movies making the rounds today. When my stepchildren visited Texas earlier this month, we went to see several movies, such as "Ghostbusters" and "Star Trek III." The kids had already seen "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom" and were going to see "Gremlins" when they got back home to Utah.

In these PG rated movies, we saw plenty of violence and heard some pretty rowdy language sprinkled with sexual overtones. Mixed in with all this, in all four movies, were monsters, violent deaths and devilish spooks.

For years I've been going to movies and not giving such things a second thought. But with two kids seated next to me, ages 10 and 8, I began sinking down into my chair, hoping they would ask their dad — and not me — any questions that might come up.

Kids seem more mature these days than I was as a kid. I remember hiding behind the seats at the Ritz 20 years ago, afraid to look up at scary previews on the screen. In every PG-rated show I've seen this summer kids have watched movies filled with violence and sex and seem to have taken it all in stride.

But I'm sure the kids have unanswered questions and some may be a little afraid after the lights go out at night.

Opponents of the PG-13 rating said that there is enough censorship of movies and that parents should decide whether or not a child should see a particular movie. But most parents don't see every show before their child sees the show. They go together or the parents don't go at all. The PG-13 rating would be a little added warning to the situation.

I don't advocate keeping kids in the dark ages. Times are changing and maybe kids have to grow up faster today that they did 20 years ago. Movie themes are bound to change and what brings people to the theater today wouldn't have worked in the past.

But ratings such as PG-13 may help parents be a little more aware of what is happening at the movies.

Dear Abby

It's for the birds

DEAR READERS: A bird lover wrote: "I love birds, and for many years now I have been offended by the expression 'For the birds.' When people want to express a negative opinion of something, they say, 'That's for the birds.' Where did that disparaging expression originate?"

Bird lovers (and haters) offered the following:

DEAR ABBY: The expression "For the birds" came from an old joke that's been around for at least 50 years. It goes like this: Two squirrels were making love in a tree. They became quite rambunctious, and the female fell to the ground. The male scampered down the tree and ran to the side of his fallen lover, asking, "Are you all right?"

The dazed squirrel replied, "I'm all right. But I learned one thing... making love in the trees is strictly for the birds."

L.B. SMITH, BIGELOW, MINN.

DEAR ABBY: The saying "For the birds" originated with flight instructors. When a student would do something foolhardy or unsafe in the air, the instructor would say, "That kind of flying is for the birds!" This is one way of saying that birds were created to fly naturally; men were not, so they had better not try anything too fancy.

PILOT'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: If you have ever tried to sit in Pittsburgh's pigeon-infested Market Square, where a flock of misguided bird lovers go to coddle and feed those stinking, parasitic, disease carriers, you would understand what we mean when we say something is "for the birds."

Dr. Donohue

Brain tumor can be hard to detect

Dear Dr. Donohue: For 10 years I suffered from excruciating headaches, always on the right side, with ringing of ears, dizziness, etc. Last year, for the first time, I had special tests that finally diagnosed my problem. I had a type of brain tumor, acoustic neuroma. I had surgery, and despite hearing loss on the right side, I haven't had problems since. Why couldn't all of my doctors have diagnosed this before? All I was told was that it was psychosomatic.—Anon.

At the risk of appearing to cover up for my profession, I have to tell you that an acoustic neuroma is a very slow-growing tumor with very deceptive signs, many of which mimic other causes of headache, dizziness and ringing in the ears. The ear, nose and throat doctor who finally made the diagnosis should get kudos. But he had the opportunity of seeing you in the later stages of your illness, when the growth was more easily detected.

The tumor diagnosed grows slowly on the sheath surrounding the hearing nerve, which is very close to the brain and intimately connected with it. The signs can be typical of Meniere's disease, for example, or of circulation disturbance. Often this kind of tumor is so small that in its early stages it is not picked up with X-rays. With development of CAT scans, we are better able to distinguish them now and can do so much earlier. CAT scan techniques are of very recent development. Their use probably facilitated the eventual diagnosis you got.

I am sorry you had to wait so long for diagnosis and that your problem was dismissed as being psychosomatic. I do think doctors tend to do that too often when they cannot find an explanation for a person's symptoms. I've made that error myself. The goal of all doctors is to keep those kinds of mistakes to as few as humanly possible. Development of newer diagnostic techniques are helping toward that goal.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of Dr. Donohue's booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and what can be done about it. For a copy write to Dr. Donohue in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelop and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

NARVRE honors members' birthdays

Mrs. J.W. Weidel, Mrs. Earl Hollis and Mrs. S.A. Wilson were honored for their June birthdays during the National Association of Retired and Veteran Railway Employees meeting, Thursday.

The meeting was at Kentwood Center. A memorial service was held for those who died during the past year. Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. W.C. Cole and Mrs. J.J. Richardson were appointed to the refreshment committee.

A convention was held in Louisville, Ky. recently. Annual dues were raised by $2 beginning with the next fiscal year, which starts Sept. 1. Elected officers will take office at the time. The next convention will be in Eugene, Ore. in two years.

An ice cream supper will be held with the next meeting at 6:30 p.m. July 19 at Kentwood Center.

McNew descendants gather for their 57th annual reunion

The descendants of the late William and Mary McNew gathered for the 57th annual McNew Reunion in the Community Center in Lamesa, Saturday and Sunday, with 352 registering.

The oldest woman attending was Annie McNew of Lamesa, 86. The oldest man was Wesley Edmondson of Goldthwaite, 85. The youngest in attendance was Cody Warren of Luli, three weeks.

Participants enjoyed visiting, ball, swimming and working on the family genealogy. Those attending came from Tennessee, California, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona, Washington, Oregon and Texas. Visitors were: Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Airhart of Patricia, and C.C. SDA of Tawin.

Those attending from Big Spring were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack McNew, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Howland, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Posey, Denise McCann, Bobby McCracken, Jay McNew, Phyllis A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Forges, Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Castille, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight McCann, Robert Cline, Mrs. Callie Bennett, Jerry Bennett, and Mr. and Mrs. Cody Faulkner.

The next reunion will be at Powell Valley High School in Cumberland Gap, Tenn., Sept. 2.

Auxiliary members attend service

Fannie Clark, senior vice commander of the O'Neal Kunkle Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary, reported on the Memorial Day Service at Trinity Memorial Park May 27 at the chapter's meeting, June 18.

Along with Mrs. Clark, Gertrude McCann, Lois Ferguson and Clara Lewis attended the service.

Twenty-nine patients were served cake and coffee at the Veterans Administration Medical Center last month. Mrs. Clark, Katie Spivey and Lola Morrow will host the coffee for July.

Mrs. Spivey installed the following officers: Mrs. McCann, commander; Mrs. Clark, senior vice commander; Mrs. Morrow, junior vice commander; Mrs. Lewis, treasurer; and LaFern Pierce, chaplain.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. July 16 at the VFW Hall.

Fortenberrys reunite Sunday

The Fortenberry family held its annual reunion at the Kentwood Center, Sunday, with 45 members present.

Willie Fortenberry of Big Spring, 87, was the oldest attending. Shane Fortenberry of Big Spring, nine months, was the youngest. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Fortenberry of Big Spring and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Fortenberry of Coahoma.

L.W. Fortenberry of Austin traveled the farthest distance. Others out-of-town guests were from Colorado City, Midland, Odessa, Bonham, Lorraine, Kermit and Weatherford.

The 1985 reunion will be the last Sunday in June at Kentwood Center.

Josie Salazar Director, Adult & Continuing Education Howard College

This is Josie Salazar's hometown, and she's using her outstanding qualities and education for the betterment of the community. Josie is a graduate of Forsan High School where she was Senior Class Favorite. At Howard College she was on the Dean's List and named to Who's Who of American Junior Colleges. While at HC, Josie worked as a teacher's aide in Adult & Continuing Education and found it rewarding. After completing her degree at UTPB she returned home to teach adult education at Big Spring State Hospital, then became coordinator. She joined Howard College seven years ago as coordinator of Adult & Continuing Education, moving up to director a year ago. She's presently working on her Master's in Education at UTPB. Josie is a graduate of the new "Leadership Big Spring" program; a member of Blue Blazers, a member of the Community Action Affairs Board, serving 10 counties; and a member of Texas Assn. of Adult & Continuing Education. She and husband, Frank, occupational therapist's assistant at Veterans Hospital, have a daughter, Tina, 12. "We should encourage our young people to come back home and work together for the good of Big Spring," Josie believes.

Hats off to City LL Tournament

I had the opportunity to see some good Little League baseball while covering the City Little League Tournament last week, and from the looks of things Big Spring should have a fine crop of baseball players in the years to come.

The four day tourney was especially pleasing not only because of the youth's fine play, but in the smooth manner the 12-team tournament was run off, which is a tribute to all coaches and presidents in the American, National, Texas and International Leagues.

The coaches cooperation with the media was good. With so many teams playing it was impossible to cover each and every game, but the good old coaches always came through with much needed information on each game's outcome.

The opening round games went pretty much as expected with the exception of the National League Yankees taking a 14-11 win over the International League Pirates. The 'Yanks came into the tourney with the worst record at 5-10, but their bubble burst in a game the next evening as the Texas League Red Sox beat them 19-0. The Red Sox eventually claimed the City Championship.

Also in first round action, Neal Mayfield put on a hitting and pitching exhibition in leading the National League Rangers to a 10-2 victory over the International League Panthers.

The second round of play went pretty much as expected as league winners Red Sox, American League Pirates, International League Indians and National League Lions all took wins. The Lions and 'Sox got easy wins while the Indians nipped the American League Colts 6-5, while the Pirates turned back the Rangers 7-2.

In the semi-final round, the Lions dethroned the defending champion Indians 9-3 as Chad Soles and David Lee combined for a five-hitter and Peter Buske hit a three run homer in the fifth inning, the first of his career.

Meanwhile the Red Sox held on for a 7-5 win over the Pirates thanks to pitcher Renee Villa who stopped a Pirates rally when the leadoff man tripled in the last inning. This set the stage for Saturday's title clash. And the general consensus of most — the best two teams were in the finals.

In the championship clash it was time for the Lions Sammy Carrillo and 'Sox Sambo Rodriguez to hook up in a duel of their own, and duel was just what they did.

Both pitchers displayed the control and poise of players many years older. They mixed up their pitches, stayed ahead of the hitters and consistently stayed around the strike zone.

Both pitchers pitched so well it's a shame there had to be a loser. On this day it would be Carrillo and the Lions as the Red Sox captured their first city tournament by a score of 5-1.

Both hurlers were superb, Carrillo allowed four hits — all in one inning — and fanned 11 batters in five innings. Rodriguez finished the night with a two-hitter while striking out six.

It was definitely the best played game of the tourney. There was no shabby fielding, senseless errors or mental breakdowns. Even better there were no unruly fans or players which simply added to the quality of the tournament.

Angola is the latest pullout

MOSCOW (AP) — Angola will not attend the Olympic Games in Los Angeles this summer, Radio Moscow said today.

The broadcast reported the refusal to go to the Games in English-language newscasts, quoting the Angolan News Agency as reporting the withdrawal based on a statement from Angola's state secretariat for physical culture and sports.

Lions roar in comeback victory, 21-12

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

The Downtown Lions spotted Cosden nine runs in the first three innings and then launched a 19 run outburst in the final four innings to down Cosden 21-12 in the opening round of Division III United Girls Softball Association city tournament.

Things looked bleak for the Lions in the opening innings as Cosden's bats clicked for six first inning runs, thanks to a grand slam by centerfielder Kelly Myles.

The big Cosden first inning occurred with two outs and no one on base. After Missy Wilson and Cosden pitcher Cheryl Alcanter scored, Cosden loaded up the bases bringing Myles to the plate. Myles then connected on a 3-2 pitch, driving the ball over the right-centerfield fence, giving Cosden a 6-0 lead.

After the Lions scored two runs in the top of the third inning Cosden went on to score five more runs in their half of the stanza, chasing Lion starter Libby Hernandez out of the contest. Myles, Janet Anderson and Missy Wilson all got key hits in the rally.

Debra Rubio came in to relieve Hernandez and from then on the Cosden bats would make little or no noise. Rubio got the win by pitching the remaining five innings, allowing one earned run on two hits and striking out four.

Going into the top of the fourth the Lions trailed 11-2 and it looked like a Cosden blowout, but the Lions made a rally of their own sending 17 batters to the plate, banging out six hits to go along with six Cosden errors. By the time Cosden finally retired the side, the Lions had taken a 14-11 lead.

Monette Wise, Rubio, Barbara Smallwood, Stacy Bott, Hernandez and Jill Wells all got key hits in the inning.

The Lions added five more runs in the sixth inning when Margaret West walked and scored on Wise's single. Rubio singled to score Wise and Hernandez doubled to score Rubio, pushing the lead to 17-11. Smallwood and Lori Maulden then collected hits as Hernandez and Smallwood came around to score, pushing the lead to 19-11, and for all practical purposes, the contest was over.

Cosden got its final run in the seventh inning when Mary Ann Herrera walked, stole second and third and scored on a wild throw.

Second baseman Wise was the big bat for the Lions getting two triples and three singles in six at bats while driving in five runs and scoring four herself. Wells had three RBI's for the winners while Bott went four-for-five at the plate. Myles led the Cosden bats with a double and homer and five RBI's in three at bats, Wilson and Anderson added two hits each.

The win propels the Lions into tonight's 8:30 contest versus Cunningham Oil while Cosden takes on Citizen's F.C.U. at 6:30 p.m.

Other tourney results
In other Division III action Cunningham Oil downed Citizen's F.C.U. 18-7. Jancy Cunningham got the win for Cunningham while Lori Gonzales took the loss for Citizen's.

In Division II action the First National Green Bombers defeated Gressett Gulf 15-8. Pam Gill got the win while Irene Jara took the loss.

In Division I Big Spring Athletics nipped Eagles Lodge 13-12. Angie Nichols took the win while Kayla Roberts took the loss. Rounding out the action was First Federal Filling downing the Elks Lodge 20-4. Cassie Underwood got the win while Amy Berringer was the losing pitcher.

First Federal honors the J. V. Bristows for their part in Howard County's Heritage Wednesday June 27

Meet Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Bristow
10 a.m.-4 p.m.

The J. V. Bristows are looking forward to seeing old friends from Vincent, Ackerly, Vealmoor, Luther and Knott — areas he serviced with butane for nearly 25 years — at First Federal tomorrow.

"We put a lot of homes on butane systems, beginning in 1946," J. V. says. "It meant a lot of new convenience for farm families. We brought butane for their tractors, too, and at that time butane was a savings over gasoline."

J. V. became personally acquainted with the farmers in the area and many of them became his friends. He was providing them with a service that improved the lifestyles and productivity on many farms.

"And in the 40's and 50's farming was not as sophisticated as it is today. Farmers had to chop weeds out of their cotton with a hoe ... gather cotton by hand ... and depend on migrant farm hands at harvest times."

J. V. owned butane companies in Ackerly and in Big Spring, and a combined butane business and grocery store in Vincent. He retired in 1969 and they moved to Midway.

The Bristows were married in 1933 in Rotan. They have five children: Wayne, owner of Southwest Computer Service in Big Spring; Darlene Caffey, Stanton; Jimmie, Arlington, who works at Army Air Force Exchange Service; Patsy Shaw, Midway, employed by Coahoma Post Office; and Linda Cowan, Denton, employed by Computer Language Research. There are 15 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

The Bristows' main hobby is visiting their children and grandchildren. The whole family is looking forward to a family reunion at Possum Kingdom July 14-15.

J. V. has a little garden at this home and likes to raise corn, peas, okra and watermelons. He also planted peach, apricot, apple and plum trees.

He also enjoys fishing and recently caught a 5-pounder at Colorado City Lake.

Thelma has a knack for hand work. She enjoys piecing quilts, and always has a crocheted afghan underway for one of the grandchildren's weddings or graduations.

They're both active in Midway Baptist Church and he is an assistant teacher in the Adult Men's class there. He served on the Ackerly school board when the children were growing up.

The Bristows are looking forward to seeing friends Wednesday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in First Federal's lobby.

Martina, Chris claim opening Wimby wins

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Top seeds Martina Navratilova and Chris Evert Lloyd scored lightning-quick victories today as women took to the center courts of the All-England Lawn Tennis championships.

Navratilova, the defending champion, took just 41 minutes to dispatch Peanut Louie, the 23-year-old right-hander from San Francisco, 6-4, 6-0.

Lloyd, a three-time Wimbledon singles titlist, lost just two games as she thrashed Sabrina Goleas of Yugoslavia, 6-1, 6-1 in 54 minutes.

Other women seeds advanced in straight sets. No. 5 Zina Garrison ousted Rina Einy of Britain 6-0, 6-0. Wendy Turnbull, the ninth seed, bested another Briton, Shelley Wolpole, 6-3, 6-3. Sixth seed Kathy Jordan defeated Heather Ludloff of Foster City, Calif., 6-1, 6-1. And 14th seed Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia beat Rafaela Reggi of Italy 6-3, 6-4.

On the men's side, Tim Mayotte, the No. 16 seed, defeated Marcus

Hocevar of Brazil 7-5, 7-6, 6-1 in a match continued from Monday.

Lloyd, with estranged husband John Lloyd watching from the stamulcourt, dominated her match with Goleas, a 21-year-old from Zagreb, Yugoslavia.

After three breaks of serve in the opening four games, Lloyd took seven straight games to go 4-0 up in the second set before Goleas held service again. Lloyd finished out with a combination of controlled groundstrokes and aggressive forehands.

Lloyd, beaten by Kathy Jordan in the fourth round here last year and again at the Eastbourne, England, grass-court championships last week, said she was feeling "much happier today."

Opposite field hit lifts Mets to one game lead in NL East

By The Associated Press
Mets 10, Phillies 5

An impatient Keith Hernandez couldn't find a pitch to his liking, so after fouling off eight offerings from Jim Kern he simply lashed the ball the other way.

It carried farther than anyone would imagine, considering Hernandez is not known as an opposite-field power hitter, and came to rest beyond the left-field wall for a three-run, fourth-inning homer that propelled the New York Mets into an 8-1 lead Monday night.

Padres 9, Dodgers 4
Carmelo Martinez, Terry Kennedy and Graig Nettles homered to lead a 19-hit assault by visiting San Diego that snapped a four-game two home runs and drove in the game-winning run with a grounder as Houston extended Atlanta's losing streak to five in the first game.

Cardinals 5, Expos 4
Willie McGee raced all the way home from first on a bases-loaded single by Darrell Porter to cap a five-run, third-inning rally by St. Louis.

Porter's blow greeted Montreal reliever Dan Schatzeder after the Cardinals battered Montreal starter Steve Rogers, 3-6.

Reds 2, Giants 1
Wayne Krenchicki's one-out homer in the top of the ninth inning spoiled an outstanding performance by San Francisco's Bill Laskey, 4-7, who went the distance when Detroit failed to complete an inning-ending double play. An inning later, he came through with a bases-loaded, two-run single to complete his third five-hit night of the year.

Red Sox 7, Orioles 4
Tony Armas extended his hitting streak to eight games with a third-inning triple, then added a two-run double in the sixth following a 53-minute rain delay in Baltimore. Armas, who has a career average of just .205 against Baltimore — 52 hits in 254 at bats — has found the range for 17 home runs and 40 runs batted in against the Orioles in 47 games.

Rangers 5, Angels 4
Pete O'Brien singled in Gary Ward in the 11th inning to give host Texas the victory. Ward opened the inning with a single to right. After Buddy Bell — who had singled, tripled and homered in his previous at-bats — grounded out, sending Ward to second, Larry Parrish singled and O'Brien lined Doug Corbett's first pitch to right to win the game.

Brewers 2-9, Blue Jays 1-4
Milwaukee upped its record to 4-0 against Toronto, using timely pitching and explosive hitting for the sweep of the visiting Blue Jays.

Mariners 6, White Sox 1
At Chicago, Jim Beattie hurled his sixth complete game this season, scattering eight hits despite not having his best stuff. He lost his shutout when Scott Fletcher singled home Ron Kittle in the bottom of the ninth.

TEXAS TANTRUM — Buddy Bell of the Texas Rangers lets his temper get the best of him in the fourth inning Monday night after he was tagged out at home by Jerry Narron of the California Angels. Bell had tried to score on a Larry Parrish double to centerfield. The Rangers won the game, 5-4 in 11 innings.

Major Leagues

Los Angeles winning streak.
Tim Lollar, 7-5, got the victory as the Padres won their third straight game to extend their NL West lead to four games over Atlanta. The Dodgers fell 5½ games behind in losing to San Diego for just the third time in nine meetings this season.

Pirates 3, Cubs 0
Ailing Bill Madlock slugged a pair of solo home runs and Jose DeLeon, 5-4, hurled a four-hit shutout while fanning nine Chicago batters. Madlock, facing elbow surgery at the end of the season, connected twice off Chuck Rainey, 5-7.

Astros 8-4, Braves 5-6
Catcher Mark Bailey cracked

and extended his walkless streak to 36 2-3 innings.

Royals 16, A's 0
The Royals handed the A's their worst loss since moving to Oakland from Kansas City in 1968 with a 16-0 pounding. The Royals had 17 hits to back Mark Gubicza's three-hit gem, giving the youngster some rare offensive support — his teammates had scored a total of six runs in his seven losses.

Yankees 7, Tigers 3
Dave Winfield, who hit .383 against Detroit last season, is 13-for-19 (.684) this season against the Tigers. Winfield's two-run double tied the score 3-3 in the bottom of the seventh, and he raced home from second with the go-ahead run and extended his walkless streak to 36 2-3 innings.

Royals 16, A's 0
The Royals handed the A's their worst loss since moving to Oakland from Kansas City in 1968 with a 16-0 pounding. The Royals had 17 hits to back Mark Gubicza's three-hit gem, giving the youngster some rare offensive support — his teammates had scored a total of six runs in his seven losses.

Yankees 7, Tigers 3
Dave Winfield, who hit .383 against Detroit last season, is 13-for-19 (.684) this season against the Tigers. Winfield's two-run double tied the score 3-3 in the bottom of the seventh, and he raced home from second with the go-ahead run

TOP QUALIFIERS — John Moffet (right) is congratulated by Steve Lundquist after Moffet set a world record Monday in the 100-meter breaststroke to make the Olympic team at the U.S. Swimming Trials in Indianapolis. Moffet broke Lundquist's world record with a time of 1:02.13. Lundquist was second with a time of 1:02.16.

Sports Briefs

Bird named season's MVP

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Boston Celtic forward Larry Bird was named the winner of the Maurice Podoloff Trophy as the National Basketball Association's most valuable player.

In winning the award, Bird became only the fourth player in NBA history to win MVP honors for the season and the championship playoff series.

New York Knick forward Bernard King finished second, followed by Earvin "Magic" Johnson of the Los Angeles Lakers.

World swim mark broken twice

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — John Moffet of Costa Mesa, Calif., set a world record and qualified for the U.S. Olympic swimming team in the 100-meter breaststroke, while Steve Lundquist also finished under his own previous world mark in the event.

Moffet was timed in 1 minute, 2.13 seconds, and Lundquist was just a whisker behind in 1:02.16. Lundquist's previous world record, set last August, was 1:02.28.

BSGA, CGA combining for tourney

Members of the Big Spring Golf Association and the Chicano Golf Association will combine for a Team Point Quota Tournament Sunday, July 1.

All BSGA or CGA members interested in playing should call the Comanche Trail pro shop at 263-7271 by 5 p.m. Friday.

Sul Ross slates tennis tournament

ALPINE — The Sul Ross State University Physical Education and Athletic Association will sponsor the first tennis tournament on the university's newly renovated tennis courts June 30-July 1.

There will be men's and women's doubles along with mixed doubles. Each event will include both "A" and "B" divisions. Entry fee is $5 per person and one can of tennis balls per team.

The entry deadline is 10:30 a.m. Thursday, June 28. To enter, contact SRSU tennis coach Kay Whitley at 837-2702, Danny Ponce at 837-7149 or Ted Bedwell at 837-8197 between 2 and 6 p.m.

Odessa dusts Big Spring in Sunday sweep

ODESSA — Big Spring blew a 7-3, two-out lead in the bottom of the sixth inning here Sunday that allowed Odessa to sweep a Teen League doubleheader with an 8-7 second game victory.

In the first game Odessa limited Big Spring to only a pair of hits enroute to a 9-4 romp.

The second game loss was made worse by the fact Big Spring out hit the Teen League's first place bunch 10-4. Walks and errors down the stretch opened the gates, however as Big Spring fell to 6-6 for the season.

Mark Reed, Chris Lamb and Jeff Reed all had two hits for Big Spring and Jeff Reed knocked in a couple of runs. Mike Dodd, the losing pitcher, Jerry Anderson, Sammy Watson, Randy Hayworth and Mike Wilson all managed a hit.

In the first game Tommy Gartman threw three innings in the five run loss. His record is 2-2. Gartman saw all nine runs cross the plate during his stint on the mound although he was victimized by 10 errors on the part of Big Spring fielding.

Mike Wilson tossed the final inning in relief. Odessa ended the game with eight hits against the duo.

Meanwhile Anderson and Lamb picked up Big Spring's only hits. Anderson had a double and an rbi while Lamb had a two run single. Dodd scored twice for Big Spring while single runs came from Jeff Reed and Gartman.

The next game for Big Spring will be tonight at 7:30 in Coahoma and again on Thursday at the same time in Coahoma. There is a possibility that a Saturday contest with Midland will be played at Cubs Stadium.

Coe chosen to Britain team despite losing

LONDON (AP) — Peter Elliott defeated Sebastian Coe in the British Olympic Trials, but can only wonder why he ran the race at all.

The 21-year-old Elliott beat the triple world record holder in the 1,500 meters Saturday, yet Coe was chosen Monday for the British team in the event.

Both Coe, who won the 1,500 meters in the 1980 Olympics, and Steve Ovett, the 800-meter gold medalist at Moscow, will double up in the two middle distance events.

Elliott, 21, who beat Coe to the line with a late dash, already was assured of a place on the team in the 800-meter event.
