Five dump trash woes on city's lap

Businessmen can landfill user fee

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

A group of five local landlords and small businessmen said they left last night's Big Spring City Council meeting dissatisfied with council action on new user's rates for the city landfill.

"We've wasted our time, as far as I'm concerned," said Chuck Cawthron after addressing the council. Cawthron is the owner of Chuck's Surplus at 904 W. Third.

At issue was the city's current policy of charging commercial landfill users a $6 fee each time they dump at the site, while allowing private individuals to use the site for free.

"This has really created a problem for a bunch of people," landlord Jimmy Ray Smith of 808 Edwards told the council.

Smith said that because he already pays a monthly trash fee, and because his tenants also pay the monthly fee, he should be able to use the landfill at no charge.

"I'm willing to pay a man, buy his gas and send him on out there, but I'll be darned if I'll pay again once he gets out there," he said.

Councilmen were of differing opinions on how to handle the problem.

"The more you haul, the more you pay. That's the way it should be," said Councilman Harold Hall during discussion.

Councilman Larry Miller said, "Every business should pay a garbage fee," although he said that businessmen should not be charged when hauling their own garbage.

"I don't disagree that they ought not to pay twice," said Councilman Russ McEwan.

Councilmen later passed a motion directing city administrators to study the businessmen's problems and "find a more feasible charge for our garbage."

However, a motion to suspend dumping fees while administrators studied the problem died because the lack of a second.

In other action, the council:

- Approved an emergency resolution authorizing distribution of the bond prospectus for Phase III of the city's capital improvement's program. Bid openings for the almost $2 million bond sale have been set for July 24.

- Appointed Micheal Russell to fill a seat on the Parks and Recreation Board vacated by the resignation of Jack Barber.

- Approved the city's revised 1983-84 Revenue Sharing Budget. The action came during a special 6 p.m. public hearing held in the police department conference room. City Manager Don Davis said the police department hearing location was necessary because of new revenue sharing laws that state such hearings must be accessible to the handicapped.

House fire blamed on kid's firecracker

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

A house fire Tuesday afternoon that resulted in more than $10,000 in damage was caused by a child's firecracker, according to Big Spring Fire Marshal Carl Dorton.

No one was injured in the fire, officials said.

Dorton, who was at the scene of the fire Tuesday afternoon, said the home of the William Warner family at 2611 East 24th caught on fire early in the afternoon when a 1½-inch bottle-rocket belonging to one of the Warner children landed on the roof and ignited the house.

Dorton said the Warners, who live just beyond city limits, were aware their children were playing with firecrackers and that the family had wet down the cedar-shingled roof with a garden hose.

The precaution, however, wasn't enough, as the bottle-rocket burned a hole through the roof and caused heavy structural damage to the home's attic and water and smoke damage throughout a large portion of the home.

Dorton said the fire should serve as a timely reminder to people tempted to play with firecrackers around a home. Firecrackers and wooden shingles are a dangerous combination, Dorton said.

Using firecrackers within the city limits "is against city ordinances," Dorton said.

Fire Chief Jim Ryals said about 15 men, two pumpers, a mini-van and a rescue van were called to the scene.

Fire investigator Burr Settles said the call was received about 2:15 p.m. and firemen were on the scene at 2:20 p.m.

Dorton said because the home was outside city limits, firemen had to lay between 1,500 and 1,600 feet of hose from city hydrants to reach the home.

Settles said, "With July 4th coming up, we would like parents to absolutely sure that their children are safe with their fireworks."

Michael's mail

Mail order rush a thriller as fans beat it to post office

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Big Spring Postmaster Frank Hardesty says he is "surprised" at the number of $120 postal money orders his employees have sold to persons wanting tickets to the Michael Jackson concerts in Dallas July 13-15.

Tickets to Jackson's three concerts can be obtained only by mail and must be purchased with postal money orders. Tickets are sold in blocks of four only at $30 each. The money orders must be mailed in to the ticket promoters with a newspaper coupon. The ticket company will select coupons at random to determine who receives tickets to the three shows, which are expected to be sell-outs.

"I think we've sold about 14 or 16 (money orders) in the last two days," Hardesty said Tuesday. "Beverly (an employee) said she sold six yesterday (Monday), so it could be around 18."

Asked how many money orders for the concert his post office will sell, Hardesty said, "I have no idea. There might be a lot as more persons find out how to get the tickets."

Meanwhile, Pancho's News Stand was selling out its supply of copies of the Dallas Morning News, according to an employee who works during the day. The Morning News is the only newspaper Pancho's carries that has the necessary coupons for the concert.

"We didn't get any more (papers) than usual," store owner Maria Hoag said Tuesday night. "We usually have a few left. We only have one copy left today."

"I don't really think we are selling that many more than usual," Mrs. Hoag said.

Spokesmen for the Morning News said the paper will print the coupons again in today's paper. The ads were carried Monday and Tuesday.

'He knows the U.S. Postal Service is the only way to go.'

Frank Hardesty
Big Spring Postmaster

An Associated Press story said elsewhere in the state, newstand copies of the Morning News, the Dallas Times Herald, and the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, all of which are carrying the coupons, are selling out.

The extra money order sales are "no extra strain" on his employees, Hardesty said. "We need the business. We're glad to get it."

Hardesty said he was impressed by Jackson's intelligence because tickets are being sold by postal order only. "He knows the U.S. Postal Service is the only way to go," he said.

"It shows the lad has good sense. I might even buy one of the lad's records," Hardesty said. "Seriously, I think he's a great artist."

Hardesty said he doesn't plan on going to the concert.

Jackson mania

TICKETMANIA — U.S. Post Office employee Beverly Tubbs makes out a postal money order for a customer wanting to attend the Jacksons concert in Dallas. Ms. Tubbs said she sold about six $120 money orders Monday for the concert. Tickets must be purchased with the postal money orders by mail.

21 booze bill OK'd by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 21-year-old national drinking age bill is headed back to the House, where quick action could help it become law in time to give the nation a symbolic warning about drunken driving before the Fourth of July weekend.

The measure, which passed the Senate 81-16 Tuesday night, would not take effect for two years. But Sen. Paula Hawkins, R-Fla., said it could send an immediate message that the nation is cracking down on drunken drivers.

"It would be symbolic if, before we have a big roaring holiday, we have this in everybody's mind," she told a post-vote news conference.

The House also passed a "minimum 21" bill June 7, but must now decide whether to accept a Senate-added incentive program for states that enact automatic jail terms and fines for convicted drunken drivers.

Rep. James J. Howard, D-N.J., the bill's chief House sponsor, said he would have to study the Senate version before recommending a position to the House.

But he added, "The chances are very good that we will have a 21 year old minimum drinking age pass the House again before the July 4 break" — which begins Friday.

President Reagan said he supports the bill even though he normally doesn't like the federal government telling states what to do.

He said the measure would combat the "national tragedy" of highway deaths, caused in part by

The area of showers was mainly concentrated along the weak front extending from Lufkin through Waco to north of Midland.

Skies were mostly cloudy over Central Texas and along southern portions of the High Plains and clear to partly cloudy elsewhere.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 70s, ranging from the mid 60s over the High Plains and Davis Mountains in Southwest Texas, to the 80s along the Rio Grande. Highs were to be mostly in the 90s, ranging from the upper 80s in the Panhandle to near 105 in the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas.

The National Weather Service forecast for Thursday calls for showers stretching from Maine along the East Coast through the Gulf Coast states.

Showers are also predicted for western Washington, southern Arizona, southern New Mexico, and parts of Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa.

Rain is predicted for southern Florida, New Hampshire, Vermont, and parts of New York and Maine.

Temperatures around the nation Thursday should range from a high of 110 degrees in the desert southwest to the mid 70s in the northeast sections of the nation.

Sheriff's Log

5 transferred to Huntsville

Five county jail inmates were transferred Tuesday to the state prison system in Huntsville, Howard County sheriff's office records show.

Three of the five inmates were parolees, according to records. They were: John Windell Harmon, 32, of Lubbock, who had five outstanding warrants for theft or theft of service at the time his parole was revoked; Johnny Baeza Corrales, 50, of 604 N.W. Eighth; and Daniel Martinez Marquez Jr., 27, of 610 N.W. Eighth.

Also transferred were James Edward Winn, 21, of Balch Springs, whose probation was revoked for three years; and Danny Lee Eagle, 23, of 507 1/2 Johnson, who was sentenced to two years in prison for forgery and six years probation for theft of rental property.

The Howard County sheriff's office was notified that two persons who were reported missing, Rosa Lee Stewart and Nita Harris, had been located in Royce City, Okla. The women were driving from Dallas to Big Spring, according to Charles Merritt, who asked the sheriff's office to try to locate the women.

Inez Owen of Sand Springs told deputies someone was taking mail from her mailbox and tearing it up. The Post Office was notified of the problem, according to the sheriff's log.

• Jones Robert Gunn, 21, of Route 1 was released from the Taylor County sheriff's office on $12,500 bond set by Howard County Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin. Gunn was arrested on suspicion of violating his probation for robbery.

• The Jonesboro Volunteer Fire Department Tuesday afternoon extinguished a grass fire that broke out across the street from the fire station. The fire started at 1:49 p.m. and was put out by 2:33 p.m., according to reports.

• Rex Christopher Davis, 27, of Lubbock was transferred to the sheriff's office Tuesday from the police department after he was arrested Saturday on suspicion of aggravated assault and resisting arrest. He was released from jail on $5,000 bond for the assault charge and on $1,000 for the resisting arrest charge.

• Dwayne Hubert Johnson, 21, of Odessa was transferred to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of DWI. He was released on $1,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

Senate

Both the House and Senate bills would withhold badly needed highway construction money for states refusing to enact a minimum drinking age of 21.

Sen. Frank R. Lautenberg, D-N.J., the chief Senate sponsor, said the penalty period would begin Oct. 1, 1986, and last for two years. A state would lose 5 percent of its allocation the first year of the penalty period and 10 percent the second year.

However, any state raising its drinking age within the two years would have its money returned, while states not acting in that time period would never regain the funds.

Lautenberg estimated the cost would be $260 million the first year and $520 million the second year if all 27 states currently without a minimum age of 21 failed to act.

The incentive part of the program would fatten a state's treasury with additional highway safety money if the state enacted automatic punishments, a computerized traffic records system and laws against drivers under the influence of drugs.

The non-profit National Safety Council said 23 states have set the age at 21 for purchasing all alcoholic beverages. Nine states plus the District of Columbia have an age 21 minimum for some alcoholic drinks.

Before approving the bill, the Senate voted 62-35 to defeat a rival measure that would have rejected the penalty approach while retaining the incentive program for states with a minimum 21 drinking age.

Several hours of debate focused on whether the incentive-only program or the penalties would be the best way to stop alcohol-related highway deaths.

"The war on drunken driving must take place on many fronts," Lautenberg said. "Our program includes incentives. But for one interstate problem, it turned from the carrot to the stick."

But Sen. Gordon J. Humphrey, R-N.H., a sponsor of the pure incentives approach, countered that Lautenberg's position "takes a lot of gall and a lot of brass" because traffic safety is a state matter.

"The Congress is not virginal on this point," he argued. "What will be next? Shall we force the states to mandate the use of seat belts?"

He said the federal government should stop attacking "the sovereignty of the states" and added that the uniform age would have little effect on overall highway fatalities. He contended 84 percent of highway-related traffic fatalities are caused by those older than 21.

Water supply at 17-year low

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Edwards Aquifer, water supply for San Antonio and surrounding areas, has hit a 17-year low, water officials say.

A test well of the aquifer Tuesday registered 624.5 feet. The level is the lowest since Aug. 10, 1967, when it was at 624.9 feet, said Russell Masters, assistant director of the Edwards Underground Water District.

The dropping water levels prompted officials Monday to call for voluntary water conservation measures in Bexar, Medina, Uvalde, Comal and Hays counties.

Meanwhile, officials predicted the Guadalupe River and Comal Springs would dry up sometime in July if the area does not get a drenching rain.

Should the springs cease to flow, said New Braunfels Utilities Manager Bob Sohn, the Comal River below Clemons Dam would be dry overnight.

John Specht, general manager of the Guadalupe-Blanco River Authority agreed if there is no rain, the Guadalupe River could stop flowing in just a few weeks.

The Comal and Guadalupe Rivers attract thousands of tourists every year in the New Braunfels area.

In 1956, during a seven-year drought in the 1950s, the Guadalupe river was dry from New Braunfels to Gonzales, Specht said. The voluntary water conservation procedures in San Antonio include limiting lawn watering and car washing, and serving water in restaurants only on request.

San Antonio Mayor Henry Cisneros said he thinks the voluntary measures will cut down on water consumption. But asked if he thinks the voluntary program will work, he said, "Will anything work, given the fact that rainfall is down and there is a minimum amount of usage required?"

A voluntary plan has not worked in Corpus Christi, the city's public utilities supervisor, Douglas Matthews, said.

Sunday, that city will begin enforcing a mandatory rationing plan, the key feature being a prohibition on lawn watering.

The voluntary measures would become mandatory in the San Antonio area once the level in the Edwards Aquifer reaches 612 feet. Officials have said that level could be reached in as little as three weeks.

The key component of the mandatory plan is a surcharge on water bills. Details of the surcharge have not been worked out, but City Manager Lou Fox said the penalty may be charged for usage over an amount required for basic human needs.

Red Cross seeking contributions

Following an extensive mailout campaign, the Big Spring chapter of the American Red Cross has received $1,090.

But the organization says it needs an additional $1,410 in order to meet its budget goal of $2,500.

Red Cross volunteers will be contacting various businesses in Big Spring during the next few days.

The recent decision by the United Way to include the Red Cross as a member agency will bring an additional $3,380.

This money plus existing revenue will allow the Red Cross a total budget of $6,495 for 1985. The 1983 budget was $11,758, of which $8,333 came from United Way.

Parolee walks in to Gatlin's room

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A federal parolee described by police as a smooth operator talked his way into the hospital room of country music singer Larry Gatlin and later was charged with criminal trespass, authorities said today.

Police said Gary Charles Smith, 31, of Marietta, Ga., was jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond after visiting Gatlin on Tuesday afternoon at Southern Hills Hospital where the singer is being treated for hepatitis.

No one was hurt, and officers said they did not believe Gatlin was in danger at any time during the incident.

Smith told police he was a teacher at the University of Houston. He was wearing a Phi Beta Kappa pin on his shirt and said he had a doctorate degree, officers said.

Lt. Bill Hamblin of the Metro Nashville Police Department said Smith was on a transportation pass from federal prison in Danbury, Conn., to go to his home in Marietta, Ga. to serve his parole. Smith had been in prison for cocaine possession, Hamblin said.

Gatlin, 36, has been hospitalized for the past week. He is known for hits like "All the Gold in California," "Broken Lady" and "I Don't Want to Cry." Police said Smith apparently learned of Gatlin's hospitalization through news reports.

Hamblin said Gatlin received a call from Smith on Tuesday morning, in which Smith identified himself as a doctor and inquired about the singer's health.

She trains drinkers

CHEYENNE — Sybil Carter, the wife of former first brother Billy Carter, balked when a doctor told her she needed treatment for alcoholism as badly as her husband, but she discovered "counseling was the most important thing to happen in my life."
Five years later, she is promoting a drug and alcohol program at Union Pacific railroad designed to encourage railroad offenders to seek help without fear of punishment.
"I can't tell you how much good counseling does. Do not leave the families out," she told a group of Union Pacific representatives Tuesday.
Mrs. Carter said her husband has also been sober five years.
"Billy still cusses a lot, but he doesn't drink anymore," she said.

Linda has deep feeling

INDIANAPOLIS — Linda Marchiano, who appeared under the name Linda Lovelace in the X-rated film "Deep Throat," has added her support to the city's new law banning violent pornography.
Ms. Marchiano filed a friend-of-the-court motion Monday with U.S. District Judge Sarah Evans Barker in an effort to dissuade legal challenges to the ordinance approved in April by the City-County Council.
An injunction issued by Ms. Barker has put the ordinance on hold while its constitutionality is tested in the courts.
Ms. Marchiano says she was coerced into her role as Linda Lovelace during the 1970s by people from whom she has since "escaped."

NEW YORK — Bob Keeshan, who for nearly 30 years entertained children as kind-hearted "Captain Kangaroo," will close the curtain on the award-winning program in December.
Keeshan will continue on CBS with a new show, "Storybreak," starting in January, the network said Tuesday.
Keeshan, who created the clown Clarabelle on the "Howdy Doody" show, launched "Captain Kangaroo" on Oct. 3, 1955.
"Storybreak," a Saturday afternoon series, will try to motivate children to read by presenting original adaptations of literature.

Cuba releases 22; Castro wants talks with U.S.

HAVANA — Cuban President Fidel Castro announced today the release of 22 Americans from prisons here after meeting for more than eight hours with Democratic presidential contender Jesse L. Jackson.
Jackson and Castro began their talks in mid-afternoon Tuesday and continued on past midnight. Castro also said he was interested in restoring diplomatic relations with the U.S. and negotiating the withdrawal of Cuban troops from Angola.
At a 12:20 a.m. EDT joint news conference, Jackson said the 22 Americans represent most of the U.S. citizens held in Cuban jails. He said they would accompany him when he returns to the United States on Thursday after a visit to Nicaragua.
The head of the U.S. interest section in Havana, John Ferch, told reporters earlier that 29 Americans are imprisoned in Cuba.
Castro said those being freed represented every American held in Cuba except those imprisoned for hijackings.
Castro also agreed to permit the departure of Andres Vargas Gomez, identified by Cuban authorities as a CIA operative. He is a former prisoner who was let out of jail in an amnesty in the late 1970s but detained in Cuba.

The names of those to be released were not immediately available.
Asked if he were troubled because many of those being freed were alleged to be involved in narcotics trafficking, Jackson said that "the real point is to bring American citizens back."
"Whatever their case may be, they should be subjected to a judicial process," he said. "I should not make the judgment and the press should not hold a trial."
Asked about Central America, Castro told the news conference through an interpreter that there are no Cuban troops in Nicaragua or elsewhere in the region.
"We have no troops to withdraw from Nicaragua and no troops in Nicaragua," Castro said. He said that the Cubans scattered across the hemisphere are civilian advisers, doctors and teachers.

Trial slated for sex tapes lawyer

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Robert Steinberg, the attorney who claimed to have videotapes of model Vicki Morgan having sex with Reagan administration officials, will go on trial Sept. 24 on a charge of filing a false police report.
Steinberg is accused of falsely claiming the purported tapes were stolen from his Beverly Hills office.

The trial date for the misdemeanor charge was set Tuesday during a pre-trial hearing before Municipal Court Judge Andrew Weiss, said defense attorney Peter Brown.

Iraq attacks 2 ships

BAGHDAD — Iraq said its warplanes attacked and hit two large ships today south of the Iran's Persian Gulf oil terminal at Kharg Island.
The military communique read on Baghdad radio described the ships as "very large naval targets" but provided no details on their identity. There was no immediate confirmation of the attack from other sources.

Golden Temple reopened

NEW DELHI — More than 5,000 emotional Sikh pilgrims poured into the reopened Golden Temple complex today, one day after it was closed abruptly. Many wept as they viewed damage caused by the Indian army's raid on the shrine.
The 17th century temple, holiest shrine in the Sikh religion, was opened to 5,000 to 6,000 Sikh pilgrims for two hours today, police in Amritsar said.
The army took control of the temple complex in a bloody assault June 4-7.

Syria reports POW swap

DAMASCUS — Syria and Israel have agreed to exchange war prisoners, Syria's official news agency reported today. The exchange reportedly will include more than 290 Syrian prisoners.
Syria holds six Israeli prisoners, but the number of Israelis to be freed was not disclosed. The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv today declined to comment on the reported exchange.
The news agency SANA said the swap would take place Thursday near the southern Syrian frontline town of Kuneitra, provincial capital of the occupied Golan Heights which Israel annexed in December 1981.

German minister resigns

BONN — Economics Minister Otto Lambsdorff has resigned from the Cabinet after a court decided he must stand trial on charges that he accepted money for approving a $164 million tax break.
Lambsdorff decided to resign from Chancellor Helmut Kohl's government Tuesday because the charges make it "impossible politically or technically" to continue in the job he has held since 1977, Economics Ministry spokesman Dieter Vogel said today.

Tourist bus bombed

SAN SEBASTIAN — While a group of American high school students relaxed in a Spanish hotel, their tour bus parked outside was wrecked by fire-bombs, authorities said today. A Basque separatist group claimed responsibility.
The bus was attacked Tuesday after it had brought a group of 34 students and four teachers across the border from France to Spain, the civil governor's office said. None of the Americans — who are from Spokane, Wash., and Boise, Idaho — was injured.

Unions blast labor board ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — A union cannot restrict the right of a member to resign, a labor relations panel has concluded in a decision that labor officials say will almost surely end up in the Supreme Court.
The National Labor Relations Board, dominated by Reagan administration appointees, held that limiting conditions under which union members may resign violates provisions of federal labor law.

The 3-0 decision, reached last Friday and released publicly by the board Tuesday, was roundly criticized by labor officials as undermining union solidarity during strikes. A fourth board member refused to sign the decision.

Summer is time to go have fun

The next month is going to be a busy one in Big Spring. Rodeo days are in full swing today with 8:30 p.m. ropin' and ridin' anchoring Rodeo Week through Saturday. Good eats and some swing-your-partner round out the full week of activity.

Right behind the rodeo, though, is a July 4 offering, an event which had been lacking here. Armadillo and canoe races are but two of the slightly zany happenings on Independence Day. It's all supposed to be just good fun, but you can bet the competition between teams will be intense. Participants and spectators have an equal shot for a good time at the SummerFest — with Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center as the worthy beneficiary of fund-raising fete.

There's still more. "Heart of the City" will be coming our way in late July. Plans are still tentative for the activities which will focus some much-needed attention on downtown. The thinking is toward arts and crafts, spectator events, local entertainment and dancing in the streets. Seems guaranteed to make for a good time.

From rodeoing to racing, a rousing good time is in store for Big Springers now and in the weeks to come. Enjoy.

Courting the right

WASHINGTON — After years of fumbling, the Supreme Court under Warren Burger has finally evolved a coherent majority, eager to speak out confidently on doctrinal issues. In decisions last week, the dominant group asserted the straight conservative line on civil rights and law and order.

Given the liberal bias of the past, much room for adjustment exists. But a danger — especially if President Reagan is reelected — is that the conservatives will overplay their advantage, thus insuring yet another bout of sharp change.

Decisions affecting civil rights provide the surest evidence that a new majority has crystallized. During the 1960s many public and private institutions adopted policies designed to compensate for past discrimination. Those policies — known as affirmative action — afforded minorities special access to jobs and to educational institutions.

In several instances white males felt that affirmative action denied them opportunity in a discriminatory way. Suits were filed under the civil rights statutes, and several cases reached the Supreme Court. But for years, the Burger Court showed extraordinary ingenuity inducing clear-cut judgments in affirmative action cases.

The De Funis case of 1973, for example, involved a white male denied admission to law school despite grades equal to those of minority students who were accepted. The court ordered that De Funis be admitted provisionally while his case went forward. By judgment day, De Funis was within a year of graduation. On that ground, the court held that the case was moot, and rendered no decision.

The Bakke case of 1978 centered on a white male denied entry to medical school. Bakke had better credentials than some minority students, and he sued on the grounds that his civil rights had been violated. In the 5-4 decision, four liberal justices asserted there was no violation of the Constitution. Four conservative justices said there was a violation — but only of the civil rights statutes. A single justice, Lewis Powell, favored Bakke's admission to medical school on constitutional grounds.

The Weber case, a year later, involved workers in an aluminum plant. A company program provided that promotions be shared half-and-half by black and white workers. A white worker sued on the grounds that the program was discriminatory. The court upheld the program. But the vote was 5-2, and acceptance of the program was hedged on the conditions that it was voluntary, affected an industry known for past discrimination, afforded opportunities to whites and had a cutoff date.

But last Tuesday, the court delivered an explicit 6-3 ruling against affirmative action. The case involved white firemen laid off by the city of Memphis during a belt-tightening period in 1981. The year before the city had begun an affirmative action program to hire blacks. The whites sued on the ground that their layoffs were dictated by affirmative action considerations and were in violation of a seniority program which provided that those hired last should be fired first.

The Supreme Court could easily have mooted the case. The whites were re-hired in three months. But instead of ducking, the court met the basic issue head-on. Justice Byron White asserted in the majority opinion that in order to justify affirmative action individuals have to show that they "have been actual victims of discriminatory practices." Since the seniority system was not itself discriminatory, it prevailed. Affirmative action gave way.

Moreover, the opinion was framed to cover hiring and promotion and any other employment practice as well as layoffs. It even left a cloud over the constitutionality of any affirmative action program undertaken by public authorities.

The same disposition to assert doctrine emerged in two other decisions last week. In one, the court ruled, 7-2, that illegally acquired evidence could be introduced in trials provided it would have been discovered anyway. Thus a major exception was asserted against the "exclusionary rule" which denies use of evidence obtained by illegal action.

By themselves those decisions simply put limits on rights formerly deemed absolute by some liberals. They hardly change the face of the earth. But they reflect the views of a clear conservative majority. It usually includes Chief Justice Burger and Justices White, Powell, William Rehnquist and Sandra Day O'Connor.

The role of President Reagan in shaping this majority bulks large. He appointed Mrs. O'Connor, who makes the majority possible. He also gave respectability to views once rejected as reactionary. If reelected, moreover, he will probably have a chance to make several new appointments soon. So the odds tilt strongly toward an increasingly conservative Supreme Court, and unless the justices show self-restraint, the country will be launched on a sharp swing to the right that will, in time, beget a dramatic surge the other way.

Odds are against nuclear war

WASHINGTON — Deep in the Pentagon's secret planning councils, the Joint Chiefs of Staff have come to the conclusion that a nuclear holocaust is not likely. The reason for their guarded optimism is that the Soviet leaders are too cautious — and the United States is too strong.

The greater threat, according to our top military experts, would be limited military confrontations, with conventional weapons. The Soviets — who for years have been the world's greatest land power — are now challenging the United States for control of the seas.

It has been our carrier task forces that have given the U.S. Navy its power and reach. Not surprisingly, this is precisely where the Kremlin has decided to challenge us. After decades of neglect, the Soviets have seen that carriers are an effective means of extending their power.

The latest intelligence reports warn that the Soviets are building four new Nimitz-class carriers — nuclear-powered ships with conventional takeoff and landing capability that are expected to be deployed before 1990. The carriers will likely have 60 to 70 planes, including MiG-23s, an early-warning aircraft.

One secret Pentagon study estimates that by the year 2000 the Soviets may have nine aircraft carriers, including the four new ones.

The Soviet decision-making process on the carriers, and what they hope to gain with the ships, are revealed in highly classified intelligence reports and other studies reviewed by my associates Dale Van Atta and Donald Goldberg.

The Soviet navy's first proposal for an aircraft carrier came in 1925, but sank like a stone in the country's overriding necessity for defensive measures against a supposedly hostile capitalist world. The proposal surfaced again in 1936; Stalin's admirals wanted a carrier with icebreaking capability. In this period, a prestigious American company offered plans for three variations of a combined battleship-carrier.

The Soviets tried in vain to steal plans for the Nazis' aircraft carrier, Graf Zeppelin, before World War II. At the end of the war, the Russians captured the incomplete German carrier, which had been scuttled but not destroyed.

The Soviets raised the carrier and studied it closely. But it either capsized while under tow to Leningrad laden with war booty or was used for target practice and sunk in the Gulf of Finland.

Stalin eventually ordered a medium-sized carrier built, but Khrushchev halted construction after Stalin's death. Khrushchev viewed carriers as floating dinosaurs militarily vulnerable to nuclear missiles.

But with Khrushchev's abrupt departure in 1964, Leonid Brezhnev ordered full speed ahead, and in 1976 the Soviets' first carrier, the Kiev, appeared in the Mediterranean. As a Defense Intelligence Agency report interpreted Brezhnev's thinking, "an aircraft carrier would be militarily advantageous and politically useful," giving the Soviets "another of the trappings of great power status."

Although the CIA pronounced the Soviets' Kiev-class carriers "no military match for U.S. attack carriers," the new Soviet supercarriers are a different matter entirely. They suggest to the Pentagon's Kremlin-watchers that the Soviets have embarked on a deliberate policy of challenging the United States for control of the world's oceans.

UNDER THE DOME: Sen. Ted

Stevens, R-Alaska, has asked the Federal Election Commission if he can designate his daughter Beth as an "aide" for a trip on which he'll be paid travel expenses and an honorarium by an organization his office declines to identify. Why does he care? Under the law, a member of Congress can get travel expenses for himself, his spouse and one aide. Stevens also asked whether his 2½-year-old daughter Lily is eligible for travel expenses as "a dependent so young she cannot be left alone."

The National Republican Senatorial Committee picked up the tab for $105 in registration fees for staff members of Sen. John East, R-N.C., at an anti-abortion conference in Washington some time ago. The use of political funds for office expenses was "a book-keeping decision," according to an East spokesman.

A 78-year-old tuna is a hard fish to hook. Over the past year, the Senate's permanent subcommittee on investigations made 39 attempts to get reputed Chicago mob figure Anthony "Big Tuna" Accardo to testify on labor corruption. Accardo has spent time at St. Mary of Nazareth Hospital in Chicago and the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., for various ailments. At long last, he is scheduled to appear today for testimony before the subcommittee.

No better off now than 4 years ago

To the editor: I say Reagan no in '84. Are you better off now than you were four years ago? I am not. I will be 61 on August 1. Retired from civil service on disability. In four years, my insurance has gone from $90 per month to $140 and I get less service. Now I pay income tax on my pension. I have gotten two raises for cost of living in four years and get $4 less now than I did four years ago. Reagan says things are getting better. "Horse feathers." Maybe for the rich. He has done nothing for three years. Now he wants us to believe if he is reelected he will do this and that. What? Go from the White House to his ranch and to Camp David and back. He spends more of the taxpayers' money traveling in six months than I will ever make in my entire life.

He puts up a big-front about drugs and alcohol. But he lets Britain use his picture to advertise their beer. I cut his picture and ad out of the Big Spring Herald and wrote him a letter. And I told him that I thought that was in bad taste to allow that. You can't fool our young people and not all of us old hardheads. So don't try.

I say to the people of the U.S.A. if we reelect Reagan we deserve what we will get. And that will be less for the poor, the old and the desirable.

No thriller

Michael Jackson fans were supposed to be in hysterics today, elbowing each other out of line in post offices throughout the state.

It hasn't happened here or in Dallas, and I hope it doesn't happen anywhere.

This concert is more hype than substance, more moneymaking than musicmaking. If Jackson were truly concerned about his fans being able to see him, he would lower his ticket price and scrap this coupon drawing deal.

Even if his show lasts four hours, which I bet it doesn't, the $30 ticket price would turn out to be $7.50 an hour. For a two-hour concert, you're talking 15 bucks an hour — unless you want to add the hours spent trying to get in and out of the Texas Stadium parking lot. Personally, I'd subtract that three hours from the number of hours in the show.

In fact, for the price, I'll stay home and watch MTV, and probably see more of him on MTV the night of the concert than I would have if I forked over $40.

I paid $18 for my Stones tickets, and the price for the last Who concert in Dallas wasn't much more. And the Stones concert included sets by Anson Funderburg and the Rockets, and ZZ Top; bands that headline at clubs and their own concerts. I've seen Jackson on his videos, and while he probably is worth a $15-20 ticket, he is definitely not worth twice as much.

What Jackson may find he's doing is pricing himself out of the marketplace. And not only that, he's made it real inconvenient to buy tickets.

No trips to the local record store to pick up tickets for this guy. No long waits camped overnight in front of a ticket service. We're talking status here. Mail in your money, folks, but you better not send cash, checks or your American Express card number. Postal orders only.

The Jacksons concert is probably the best thing for the post office since the pony express and the creation of stamps. And once you go through the rigamarole of getting four people and their money together, and a money order purchased and in the mail — even then you don't know if you'll get tickets.

You have to endure the hand of fate to decide whether Don Pardo or some other emcee type will pull your name out of the barrel and say, "Come on down to Texas Stadium. You — yes, you — are entitled to endure the body heat of umpteen million people in an unair-conditioned stadium to squint at Michael Jackson and his brothers for a few precious hours."

The rest of you adoring fans can beat it. The Jacksons will send you your money in a couple of months.

The only thing stupendous about this tour, aside from Jackson's dancing, is the colossal amount of hype and money surrounding it.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY NEWS

Al's Barbecue, 411 West 4th, will be closed for vacation June 30 through July 8. The staff includes: Daniel Garcia, left, manager; Frances Garcia, Eddie Thomas and Charlene Rinard, owner.

Al's Barbecue Offers Catering and Take-Out

Al's Barbecue has been a Big Spring landmark for nearly 20 years.

The menu is simple — and just what real barbecue lovers expect. They serve barbecue beef, ham, sausage and ribs. The plates come with choice of salad (macaroni or potato), slaw, beans, onion, pickle, pepper and bread. The combination plate (two or more meats) at $4.25 and the regular plate at $3.75, also come with cherry cobbler. There's a small plate for $3.35 and a child's sized barbecue plate for $2.10.

Barbecue sandwiches are available with choice of macaroni or potato salad. Sliced ham or beef sandwiches are $2.10 and chopped meat sandwiches are $1.95. Al's serves the only barbecue po' boy sandwiches in town — a hefty, hearty meal for $2.85.

Al's sells barbecue by the pound, as well as potato salad and cobbler by the pint and quart. In addition they offer take-out service on all their sandwiches and plates. The customer can phone ahead, and the order will be ready when he arrives.

Al's also will custom cook meats, including turkeys, for 50¢ per pound.

Al's catering service is much in demand. And the restaurant's dining room, with seating for 52, is available in the evenings for private parties.

The man for whom the restaurant was named operated it for 14 years and developed a following from many other towns and states. He retired several years ago and now it's owned by Charlene Rinard. Charlene is quick to point out that Al's original barbecue technique and his sauce are still featured.

Protect Your Vehicles With All Weld Carports

West Texas is hard on cars. The wind and hail and dust and sun can ruin your car's finish and lessen its value and attractiveness. For many West Texans carports are the answer.

Gary Faulkner's All Weld Carports can custom build a carport to suit your property — and to accommodate your cars, trailers, trucks, recreation vehicles and boats.

The carports Gary builds are made entirely of pre-painted all-metal, available in various colors. The finish is guaranteed for 20 years.

Faulkner has about ten years experience at building carports, and formerly worked for years in the construction of metal buildings.

Your custom carport can be enclosed on one or more sides, or can be enclosed entirely to provide a garage at much less cost than conventional construction.

All Weld Carports provides free estimates and can suggest size and design for every situation. In most cases construction can begin immediately.

To get your carport underway before the summer sun begins to take its toll, call Gary at 267-5378.

Herald Recipe Exchange

The great tastes of summer

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

Ice cream treats, barbecues, outdoor picnics and reunion potlucks are all part of the summer food scene. You may like to try these recipes for the summer events you have scheduled.

BARBECUE SAUCE

This sauce was used at the 1981 Smithsonian Festival of American Folklife.

- 3 chickens halved or several three-down ribs
- 2 cups catsup
- ½ cup beer
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- ¼ cup olive oil
- 2 Tbsps. minced onion
- 2 Tbsps. brown sugar
- 2 Tbsps. soy or Teriyaki sauce
- 1 Tbsp. vinegar
- 2 Tbsps. minced garlic
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. basil leaves
- 1 tsp. black pepper
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- ¾ tsp. thyme
- ½ tsp. oregano
- ½ tsp. chili powder
- ¼ tsp. cayenne

Mix all ingredients in a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer about 10 minutes. When the meat is just about done, brush sauce on and turn. Repeat several times for five or ten minutes. Remaining sauce may be heated and served on the side. Makes two quarts.

For great flavor and aroma, you may use hickory, mesquite or oak chips on a small amount of charcoal to grill your barbecue meat over.

BLUEBERRY CRUNCH BARS

This is a high-energy snack for summer days, great for hiking or biking.

- Base and topping:
- 1½ cups 100% natural cereal, crushed
  - ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
  - ½ cup butter or margarine, melted
  - ½ tsp. soda
  - ½ tsp. salt

- Filling:
- 2 cups fresh or frozen blueberries
  - ½ cup granulated sugar
  - 3 Tbsps. water
  - 2 tps. lemon juice
  - 2 Tbsps. cornstarch

For base and topping: Heat oven to 375 degrees. Grease 9-inch square baking pan. In large bowl, combine all ingredients; mix well. Reserve ¾ cup mixture; press remaining mixture onto bottom of prepared pan. Bake for 10 minutes.

For filling: In medium saucepan, combine blueberries, sugar and 2 Tbsps. water. Cover; bring to a boil. Simmer 2 minutes, uncovered, stirring occasionally. In a small bowl, combine remaining 1 Tbsp. water and lemon juice; gradually stir in cornstarch, mixing until smooth. Gradually add cornstarch mixture to blueberry mixture; cook and stir about 30 seconds or until thickened.

Spread filling over partially baked base to within ¼ inch of edge; sprinkle with reserved cereal mixture. Bake for 15 to 20 minutes or until topping is golden brown. Cool;

Ice cream desserts made easily by following tips

Ice cream is great for make-ahead desserts. The following tips help in preparing ice cream desserts.

Most of the work can be done the night before, such as baking cake layers, tortes or pie crusts. The key is to allow baked ingredients to cool completely, and chill if possible, before filling them with the ice cream to ensure that all are at the just-right temperature for filling. Hand-packed ice cream should be allowed to stand at room temperature until just soft enough to spoon so it will spread easily, but it should be returned to the freezer before it softens to the point that it begins to turn to liquid. This will protect its wonderful, light and creamy texture and avoid the formation of unwanted ice crystals.

When layering ice cream into pie shells, spring-form pans or molds, it is wise to spade thin sheets of hand-packed ice cream into the chilled container and arrange in even, overlapping layers, so that excessive pushing and spreading is not required during the finishing and smoothing of the layer. When the ice cream needs to be redistributed, slice off pieces and gently relocate, maintaining the original texture. If the ice cream is pushed and compressed into shape, it loses its volume and lightness.

An easy way to remove the ice cream from the mold is to line the pan or mold with plastic wrap before spading the ice cream in. When the dessert is frozen and ready to use, just peel off the plastic wrap, smoothing the sides as needed, and use as the recipe directs.

cut into bars. Store in tightly covered container in a cool dry place. Makes about 9 servings.

HEAVENLY CRUNCH COOKIES
Lots of good things go into these cookies. Kids will enjoy making them.

- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
  - ½ cup butter or margarine
  - 2 cups 100% natural cereal
  - 1½ cups all-purpose flour
  - 1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
  - ½ cup flaked or shredded coconut
  - 1 egg
  - 3 Tbsps. milk
  - ½ tsp. soda
  - ½ tsp. salt
  - ½ tsp. almond extract
- Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease cookie sheet. In large bowl, beat together sugar and butter until light and fluffy. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls onto prepared cookie sheet. Bake for nine to 11 minutes or until light golden brown. Cool one minute on cookie sheet; remove to wire cooling rack. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

CINNAMON BARBECUED DRUMSTICKS

Serve with a fresh garden salad, fresh fruit in season and milk.

- 1½ cups catsup
- ¾ cup maple flavored table syrup
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 2 Tbsps. cinnamon
- 1 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 Tbsp. instant minced onion
- ½ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. garlic powder
- 12 chicken drumsticks

Combine all ingredients except chicken in medium saucepan; bring to a boil. Reduce heat. Simmer 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Place drumsticks on rack of broiler pan or over ash-covered coals on outdoor grill so meat is six to seven inches from heat. Broil for 20 to 30 minutes or until chicken is fork-tender, turning frequently. Baste chicken with sauce. Continue cooking 5 to 10 minutes, turning and basting frequently with additional sauce. Serve with remaining sauce. Makes six servings.

BUTTERMILK HERB SALAD DRESSING

Here is a recipe for a popular new salad dressing

- 1 cup buttermilk
  - 1 Tbsp. mustard
  - 1 tsp. minced onion
  - 1 tsp. dill
  - 2 tps. chopped parsley
  - ¼ tsp. ground pepper
- Combine all ingredients in a blender and mix until smooth. Makes 16 tablespoons.

Did you know that ice cream lovers have a real reason to cheer? By an act of Congress, July 15 has been proclaimed National Ice Cream Day. 1984 marks the second year that National Ice Cream Day will be observed officially by ice cream producers and lovers.

SUMMER DELIGHT

- 1½ cups graham cracker crumbs
- ¼ cup sugar
- ½ cup butter, melted

- 1½ quarts peach or strawberry hand-packed ice cream
- 4 large peaches, peeled and sliced
- 1 cup strawberries
- 2 Kiwi fruit, peeled and sliced (if fresh fruit is not available, use frozen or canned)
- ½ cup apple jelly

Combine graham cracker crumbs, sugar and butter. Press into bottom and sides of large flat pan (11 to 12 inches). Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Cool and freeze. Spade thin sheets of ice cream into crust. Smooth into an even layer. Freeze. Not more than an hour before serving, melt apple jelly over low heat until fluid. Set aside. Prepare fruit and chill. Arrange fruit on top of ice cream. Start at the outside edge with a ring of peaches, followed by a smaller ring of Kiwi slices, then strawberries, in the center, cut side down. Spoon apple jelly syrup over fruit to completely cover. Tart may be served immediately or placed back in freezer for a short time (not long enough to freeze fruit). Makes eight to 10 servings.

SATIN 'N LACE

- ½ cup finely ground hazelnuts (filberts)
- ¼ cup butter
- ¼ cup sugar
- ¼ tsp. vanilla
- 1 Tbsp. evaporated milk
- 1 Tbsp. flour
- 1 pint hand-packed French vanilla or jamoca ice cream
- Chocolate-marshmallow sauce
- 2 Tbsps. chopped hazelnuts

Mix together first six ingredients in a saucepan. Cook over medium heat until butter is melted and mixture begins to bubble. Bake two lace cups at a time, by using ¼ batter for each. Spoon batter onto buttered and floured cookie sheet, allowing for room for wafers to expand. Repeat process for remaining batter. Bake at 350 degrees for seven minutes or until edges are slightly browned and center is still bubbly but beginning to brown. Remove from oven and cool on cookie sheet about one to two minutes. Carefully lift up lace wafers, one at a time, and transfer to a sherbet glass, forming a fluted cup. Work quickly as wafer will harden almost immediately.

Return to oven briefly if cookie becomes cool and brittle too soon. Repeat with remaining batter, preparing cookie sheet before using again. To assemble sundaes, place a scoop of ice cream in each lace cup, spoon on warm Chocolate-marshmallow sauce and sprinkle with chopped hazelnuts. Serve immediately. Makes four sundaes.

CHOCOLATE-MARSHMALLOW SAUCE

- 1 pkg. (6-oz.) chocolate chips
  - ¼ cup butter
  - ½ cup sugar
  - ½ cup evaporated milk
  - ½ tsp. vanilla
  - 10 regular size marshmallows
- Combine ingredients in double boiler. Place over simmering water and stir until well blended. Cook for five minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve warm.

SUMMER TREAT — Heavenly Crunch Cookies are great to carry along on hiking, bicycling trips or vacations.

Dr. Donohue

Brain test

Dear Dr. Donohue: Recently, there has been so much awareness of persons who abuse alcohol. I've read articles that say the alcoholic suffers from a disease and is not "weak-willed." He is sick. Would you discuss the physiological causes of alcoholism and how one can recognize the signs, and how it can be treated?—N.C.

Many researchers have tried to learn the physiological and psychological roots of alcoholism. Its exact cause remains elusive, although there's probable agreement that both genetic and environmental factors influence its development.

The genetic evidence stems from case studies. For example, it is known that twins separated from birth from their alcoholic parents themselves become alcoholic four times more frequently than do those of non-alcoholic parents. That's true of both twins and when each has been reared in separate families. The nature of such genetic factors is unknown.

Certain racial groups are known to be more sensitive to the effects of alcohol. They metabolize alcohol either more slowly or more rapidly than does the average person. All this evidence lends credence to the proposition that alcoholism is, indeed, a disease.

If alcoholism is a disease, it would behoove us to find what is no one broad laboratory test that will isolate the alcoholism-prone individual. A history of alcoholism in the family is seen as an important early-warning sign. And some doctors are now working on a specific laboratory test for use in further research.

The EEG (brainwaves) of a person is recorded after he has drunk alcohol. Those with no apparent potential for problem drinking. It is, to repeat, not a sure-fire indicator at this point.

How to treat potential alcoholism? The only reasonable approach to date is to convince the person of the devastating physical and sociaffects and to arrange structured group therapy settings in which the desire to remain a non-drinker is fortified.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Three years ago my husband had a rash and went to a skin doctor, as it would not clear up on its own. Ointments were prescribed but did not help any. Later, another skin doctor diagnosed it as mycosis fungoides. As far as he knows now, there is nothing that can be done for it. Have you got any information on this rash problem? — Mrs. O.L.

Mycosis fungoides occurs when a particular kind of white blood cell (lymphocyte) invades the skin. It usually happens in middle to advanced age and has different kinds of appearance. There may be only limited areas of the skin involved, with red, scaly plaques. Or there may be almost total skin involvement, or large masses of skin area affected by the lymphocyte invader cells. The lymph nodes and internal organs may be affected as well.

The cause of mycosis fungoides is unknown, but there are treatments and they depend on the form and degree of involvement. Sometimes radiation is used; or chemotherapy drugs. (Nitrogen mustard, for example, can be applied directly to the skin.) Even the now familiar psoriasis treatment (ultraviolet light combined with use of the psoralen drugs) is being tried in some instances. I am sure your dermatologist or an oncologist can help you decide on treatment. You can get the name of such a doctor from your family physician.

Dear Abby

Girl learns painful lesson

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I'm hoping you can help me with. I am 13 years old. I was going out with this guy I'll call Paul, then last November we broke up and he started going with this girl I'll call Julie.

I kept going over to Paul's house anyway, and when I did we would make love. He told me that he had never made love to Julie, that he really loved me and wanted me to be his lover, but he couldn't break up with Julie because he didn't want to hurt her. I guess he didn't care how much he hurt me.

Today I found out that all the time he was having sex with me, he was having sex with Julie, too. I still care for him a lot and just can't deal with the fact that he lied to me. What should I do?

BAD EXPERIENCE

DEAR BAD EXPERIENCE: What you should do is forget him. He used you. No experience is "bad" if you learned something from it. Thank God you didn't get pregnant — or contract a venereal disease.

Consider the pain of this humiliating experience as "tuition" in the school of experience, and promise to save yourself for a worthwhile man who cares about you.

***

DEAR ABBY: My 21-year-old daughter is getting married in September. She wants her father to walk her down the aisle, but here's the problem.

Three years ago my husband left me for another woman. After we separated, they lived together for two years, and after our divorce was final, they married.

My ex refuses to walk his daughter down the aisle unless he can bring his wife to the wedding. My daughter says if that woman comes to her wedding it will spoil her wedding day.

It would be awkward for me, too, because everybody knows the part she played in our divorce, and there would be a lot of gawking and talking that would take away from the full attention every bride expects on her wedding day. Her father will pay for the wedding, but only if he can walk her down the aisle.

We are at an impasse. What should we do?

UPSET MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You and your daughter should have the kind of wedding you can afford — even if it's only a few of your nearest and dearest. And tell your ex you will miss him.

(Getting married? Send for Abby's new, updated, expanded booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 (this includes postage) to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

I, Gallia Ann Perkins of sound mind and body, do love thee Donnie Gordon Hale until the end of time, no matter whatever happens in our lifetime whether we are together or apart, whether we be dead or alive.

My love forever,
Gallia Perkins

The Tipping of the Brush awards went to: Mrs. Dugan, first place, for her pastel of an Indian girl; and Edna Buchanan, second place, for her oil painting of roses and lilacs. Mrs. Dugan's painting will be displayed at First Federal Savings and Loan through July. Mrs. Buchanan's painting will be on display at State National Bank through July.

Mrs. Moates, Jean Baker and Mrs. Bruns are new members. The next meeting will be 7:30 p.m. July 17 at Howard College.

Lendl barrels by second round foe

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Ivan Lendl, seving like a bullet, swept into the third round of the men's singles at the All-England tennis championships today by overwhelming Derek Tarr of South Africa 6-3, 6-1, 6-3.

A semifinalist here last year, Lendl won his first grand slam tournament at the French Open earlier this month but struggled in his first match here Monday against America's Dick Stockton, who took him to five sets.

But against Tarr, he was always in control and played with supreme confidence. In his last three service games, Lendl hit a total of five aces and finished off Tarr, ranked 110th in the world, with two crisp volleys that landed just inside the line.

"It was much easier today than Monday when everything was a bit disorganized on the first day of the tournament," said Lendl.

"I'm not a natural volleyer but I know by experience that if I serve well enough, I get confident and play them automatically, almost like a machine."

As the seeds continued to prosper, two top-ranked women players also won through to round three.

Manuela Maleeva of Bulgaria, who beat Chris Evert Lloyd in the final of this year's Italian Open and is seeded No. 7, dropped only two games as she hammered Nataschia Revva of the Soviet Union 6-2, 6-2.

DEFENDS TITLE — Defending champion Martina Navratilova returns a shot from Peanut Louie, during their ladies singles match on the Centre Court at Wimbledon Tuesday. Navratilova began defense of her title by defeating Louie 6-4, 6-0.

Canada's Carling Bassett, seeded No. 16, beat Marie Christine Calleja of France 6-1, 6-4.

While the women's tournament here exactly 100 years, it was fitting that on Tuesday the doyenne of the game should receive a standing ovation for a first-round victory.

Virginia Wade, Wimbledon champion in 1977, 38 years old and playing in her 23rd consecutive All England tennis championships — an all-time record — came from behind Tuesday to beat Ann Henricksson of the United States 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Eagles have good Elk hunt in USGA City Tournament, 23-5

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

Propelled by inside-the-park grandslams from Tessa Olague and Kayla Roberts plus 18 walks issued by the opposition, the Eagles Lodge defeated Elks Lodge by a score of 23-5 in a three inning contest during second round action of the Division I USGA city tournament.

The loss eliminated the Elks from the tournament while the Eagles remain alive in double elimination play. The Eagles will face Big Spring Athletics Thursday at 6 p.m. The Athletics defeated the Eagles 13-12 in the opening round of the tourney.

It was a bad night for Elks eight-year-old starter Amy Berringer who had her troubles locating the plate. Berringer lasted two-thirds of an inning, walking seven and allowing seven runs. Kristen Sevey pitched the remaining two-and-a-third innings of the contest.

Eagles starter Olague pitched two strong innings for her squad, striking out five, allowing one hit and four runs. Karma Morrow came on relief.

After Olague fanned the first three Elks batters, the Eagles erupted for seven runs in their half of the first, mainly due to walks.

Debbie Cunningham, Shadie Casey, Morrow, Roberts, Angella McMullen, Sarah Cranford and Tina Crane all crossed the plate for the Eagles.

The Elks got their first run of the game in the second inning when Jenny Conaway walked, stole second and scored on an overthrow to third.

The Eagles came back for more in their second at bat behind Olague's base clearing roundtripper. Stacy Averette, Amber Fannin and Crane crossed the plate ahead of Olague, giving the Eagles a 17-1 lead.

The Elks scored four runs in the third inning, thanks to a triple by catcher Evette Castro which scored Jessica Thompson, Diana Gardner and Jody Willford.

The Eagles sealed their opponent's doom in the bottom of the third when Casey and Webb walked and Morrow singled, loading up the bases for Roberts who drove the ball to deep rightfield, clearing the bases and ending the contest.

OTHER TOURNEY ACTION

In other Division I action the First Federal Fillies remained the only unbeaten team in the division with a 22-10 win over previously unbeaten Big Spring Athletics. E.D. Barnett was the winning pitcher while Angie Nichols took the loss for the Athletics.

The Eagles and Athletics will meet Thursday at 6 p.m.

In Division II the Kiwanis Purple Panthers handed the First National Bank Green Bombers their first tourney loss by a score of 20-13.

Teresa Averett got the win while Adelia Ramariz took the loss for the Green Bombers.

The Green Bombers will face Gressett-Gulf tonight at 8:30. The two teams met in the opening round with the Green Bombers coming out on top 15-8. The winner faces the Purple Panthers Thursday night at 7:30 while the loser will exit from the tourney.

In Division III Cunningham Oil remained the lone undefeated team with a 10-7 win over the Downtown Lions. Melissa Paige took the win for Cunningham while Tanya Gilstrap was the losing hurler.

Meanwhile the Citizen's F.C.U. was eliminating Cosden Oil by a score of 17-7. Alice Lopez took the win for Citizen's while Connie Edens was the losing pitcher.

Citizen's will face the Lions Thursday night at 6:30 with the winner facing Cunningham at 8:30.

Rapp sets new breaststroke mark in earning swim berth

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Before setting an American record in the 200-meter breaststroke in the U.S. Olympic Swimming Trials, Susan Rapp said she saw the whole race in her mind.

"I practiced the race before I started ... the start, the split times and everything. It happened just the way I visualized it," said Rapp, 18, of Eden Prairie, Minn., after qualifying for the Olympics with an American record Tuesday in her best event.

She was timed in 2 minutes, 31.54 seconds to eclipse the previous U.S. mark of 2:32.41 by Jeanne Childs of Englewood, Colo., who finished fifth in the Trials in 2:35.95. Kim Rhodenbaugh of Cincinnati got the event's other Olympic berth by finishing second in 2:34.91.

Rapp, who attends Stanford University, said the mental preparation for her success in the race was no accident. She gave credit to Dr. Thomas Tutko, a sports psychologist who came to Stanford to help the swimming team relax.

When it was suggested by reporters that she looked calm before the race, Rapp said, "I had to keep my nerves from flying all over the place."

Although she made the 1980 Olympic team in both the 100 and 200 breaststroke events, Rapp had never finished first in a major meet until she won the 200-yard breaststroke at the NCAA championships this year.

Her best time for 200 meters coming into the Trials was nearly two seconds slower than her winning clocking Tuesday. Nevertheless, her victory was convincing, nearly 3 1/2 seconds over Rhodenbaugh.

"I don't think I'm that much better than the others," Rapp said. "I guess I just had a good day."

Tracy Caulkins of Nashville, Tenn., who had hopes of making the Olympic team in six individual events, finished sixth in the 200 breaststroke after winning the 400 individual medley on Monday.

Rapp was asked if there was a mystique surrounding Caulkins, who has won 48 national titles, that makes her more difficult to beat.

"In the 1980 Trials (when Caulkins beat her in both breaststroke events) I think there was a mystique, but in the last few years she hasn't swum the 200 breaststroke as much, so I don't have that feeling about her," Rapp said. "When I saw that she was swimming the 200 here, it didn't bother me."

The East Germans and the Soviets, who are boycotting the Olympics, are especially proficient in breaststroke events, but Rapp said she's sorry she won't face them in Los Angeles.

"Winning at the Olympics just won't mean as much without them there," Rapp said.

Big Spring bops Coahoma, 11-5

COAHOMA — Big Spring used an eight run blitz in the first inning to claim an 11-5 Big League win over Coahoma here Tuesday night.

Big Spring is 7-6 for the summer with the victory that went to starting pitcher Mike Wilson (1-0). Wilson went three innings, giving up seven hits and striking out two while issuing a walk.

Tommy Gartman and Jay Pirkle each tossed an inning in relief. Gartman struckout one and was nicked for one hit. Pirkle whiffed two.

Meanwhile Big Spring banded out 11 hits, led by Gartman's three for three performance and striking three batters. Wilson, Jeff Reed and Pirkle all had two hits. Jimmy Rodgers belted a double while Casey Weaver and Abel Carrillo chipped in to the hit and run quota.

Big Spring's next contest will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in Coahoma.

Slack unofficially signals start of Big Spring rodeo

World champion team roper Leo Camarillo and his partner Jake Barnes find themselves in third place with a time of 5.0 after the unofficial start of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Tuesday night with slack events in team roping, steer wrestling and calf roping.

The 51st annual event gets underway officially tonight at 8:30 at Big

Spring's Rodeo Bowl.

A pair of New Mexican cowboys, Sterling and Charlie Price, are the co-leaders in team roping with a time of 4.7. That mark is also shared by Walt Rodman of Gault, California and Brett Boatright of Conway Springs, Kansas.

In steer wrestling Matt Wynn of El Reno, Oklahoma is the leader at 4.7 while second place is held down by Sonora cowboy Monte Heatly in 5.4. Joel Edmondson from Columbus, Kansas is another world champ that found things tough. He shares third place with Milano's Butch Bode. Both threw their steer in 5.7.

Jim Hodge of Lometa is the calf roping leader at present with a time of 9.3. Second goes to Dave Brock of Springtown at 9.7 and Tod Sloan of Martindale is third with 10.0.

At Olympic Trials

Rogers brings home bronze

The race for an Olympic gold medal ended for Big Spring's Kelly Rogers last weekend at the Prado Recreation Area in Chino, California, but Rogers displayed a consistency that should have him gunning for a spot in the 1988 games.

Rogers was part of a 96-man field vying for only two remaining spots on the U.S. Olympic shooting team during the 24th U.S. International Shooting Championships and final tryouts for the U.S. team. He finished ninth overall and was a third place bronze medalist in the junior men's event with a score of 365 out of a possible 400.

Last year Rogers won the junior part of the event with a score of 372, but except for his final day score of 93 he shot along the lines that was good enough for gold in '83.

Rogers' scores over five days of competition included 66, 67, 71 and 68 through the first four days when shooters took aim at 75 birds and a 93 on the final day when 100 was a possible perfect score. When he won in '83 Rogers had days of 66, 69, 72, 67 and 98. His score of 71 this year was the second highest mark for that day.

Rogers was only three scores off the top spot which was won by Mark Hobbs of Fort Benning, Georgia at 368. Jay Waldron of Tacoma, Washington was second with a total of 367.

In the overall men's competition Dan Carlisle of Fort Benning took top honors and one of the Olympic berths with a score of 380. Walter Zobell earned the second and final spot with a 379. The U.S. alternate is third place finisher Richard Chordash of Plainsboro, New Jersey at 375.

Kelly Rogers with Olympic Trials medal

In the second game Big Spring regrouped to take a 9-8 win after entering the fifth down 8-0. Starter David Cruz was victim of Snyder's barrage and was relieved in the fifth by Beef Armenendarez.

The Red Sox started their rally with three runs in the fifth and concluded things with six more runs in the sixth.

Freddie Paradez's double drove in the tying run and David Anguano came up with the game winning base rap.

The next game for the 11-6 Red Sox will be in Abilene against the Abilene Eagles, Sunday, July 8.

First Federal honors the William Dawes for their part in Howard County's Heritage Thursday, June 28

Meet Mr. and Mrs. William Dawes
10 a.m. 'til 4 p.m.

"The people of Big Spring and Texas can be proud of their schools. The citizens have always supported schools and done well by their teachers. In my career I saw many improvements in education and the implementation of many good programs," says William Dawes.

He should know. Bill Dawes was born into a family of educators, and he has been a teacher and administrator all his adult life. His wife Josephine was also a teacher, and her father was a college professor.

Bill Dawes was born in 1908 in a home where the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center now stands. The area was once all residences which sprang up near the railroad. Bill's father came to Big Spring from England to work on the railroad with his uncle, Joseph Potton. In 1905 the elder Dawes opened a studio for piano and voice; he was organist for St. Mary's Episcopal Church for many years. Bill's mother took a teaching position in Big Spring's elementary school at Bell and 5th Street in 1899.

Josephine had lived in Canyon since she was 3 years old, and met Bill when they were both students at West Texas State Teachers College where her father was a professor.

Bill and Josephine had both been teaching several years when they were married in 1933 and moved to Lovington, N.M. They came to Big Spring in 1938, when he was hired to teach high school choir and assist the 54 elementary school teachers with classroom music instruction. He was principal of Marcy Elementary School from 1959 until 1973 when he retired.

Josephine began her career with Big Spring schools as a 7th grade music appreciation teacher. In 1956 she moved to the administration building and worked with Superintendents Floyd Parsons and S. N. Anderson until she retired in 1973.

Since their retirement, the Dawes have been active on the Howard County Council on Aging. She has served as secretary for the past 10 years, and he has been active in the Mobile Meals program for elderly, isolated residents. She also was a volunteer at Veterans Hospital and Malone & Hogan for several years, and was secretary for Howard County Historical Commission.

They have four children: Joe, a computer math teacher at BSHS; Robert, a PHD in math, works in R & D at E-Systems in Dallas; James Richard, an architect in San Antonio; and Martha Davis, Dallas, a former teacher. There are four grandchildren — with a fifth on the way.

Come renew memories with the Dawes tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in First Federal's lobby.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JUNE 28, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon there can be a considerable amount of confusion if you allow yourself to get upset by surrounding conditions. It is best that you pause and look directly at whatever faces you. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Communications have been puzzling you, but you can understand them very nicely this morning. Don't believe gossip. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study monetary affairs well, and don't trust others so much; then make out reports, statements, etc. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You may be befuddled about your true aims unless you think more clearly. Your longings need more self-expression. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Give that personal matter time to right itself since you are not certain just how to handle it. LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You are worried about how best to handle personal aims, so talk them over with advisor you usually rely upon. VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get your work done efficiently and conscientiously before you get together with a friend for completing some mutual project. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Some new idea needs further study before it can be workable; then complete some outside situation. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) First study your bills for the sake of accuracy, and then pay them all off. You have to try a new tack where your mate is concerned. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't misjudge a partner or you get into trouble. Be sure to keep promises you have made. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be careful at work since co-workers could be in an irritable mood and try to start some trouble. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Put more oomph into that talent you possess and make it work like a charm. Be happy tonight. PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get advice from home that will assist you to improve relationships with others during the day; later you can enjoy amusements you like. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she can easily find the blind spot in an argument and work on that to gain own viewpoints; be sure to add debating to any college course. He or she may be nervous in early life but will later be poised and calm.
