College president resigns

Hays rips The Forum

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Dr. Charles Hays resigned as president of the Howard County Junior College District during a district board meeting Tuesday.

Hays has been with the district the past 10 years. His resignation is effective Aug. 31. Appointed as president is Dr. Bob Riley, current vice president for instruction.

Hays denied that the resignation was related to recent controversy over the non-reappointment of several district faculty members.

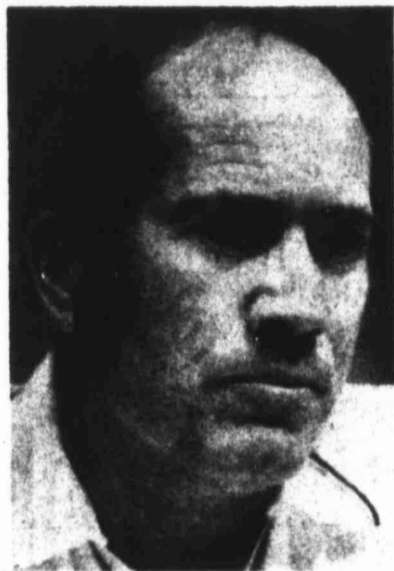

Hays said, "I can honestly say that has not one thing to do with it."

Hays, who owns Big Spring Automotive, told trustees, "I am submitting my resignation based on the fact that I've come to the point in time where I've got to spend time on my personal business. In order for it to thrive and to reach its potential, I've got to give it my best shot."

Hays told the board "a great deal of consideration and duress" preceded his decision to resign.

In a report to the board, Hays said, "I look back with no reservations. It's been fun. I've never worked with a better group of men."

Hays praised the board for their work and added, "Some people don't know when they've got it good." Looking back over his tenure as president, he said, "We can't be doing everything wrong."

Hays turned his attention to a recent publication by the Howard College Faculty Association, The Forum, which includes articles titled, "Board sidesteps issue," regarding the recent faculty non-reappointments, "Riley fires five, threatens five more," concerning recent removal of several college personnel, and "District financial concerns," an article that stated, "Large bookkeeping errors and an overspent budget were the real causes of the decline" in college

VP Riley takes post

Staff report

Bob Riley, incoming president of the Howard County Junior College District, is currently serving the district as vice president for instruction. Riley has been with HCJCD since the fall of 1982.

Riley came to HCJCD from Southwestern State University in Weatherford, Okla., where he was a professor and administrator. He has served as dean of instruction at Clarendon Junior College and as an administrator and instructor for the Del Rio branch campus of Sul Ross State University.

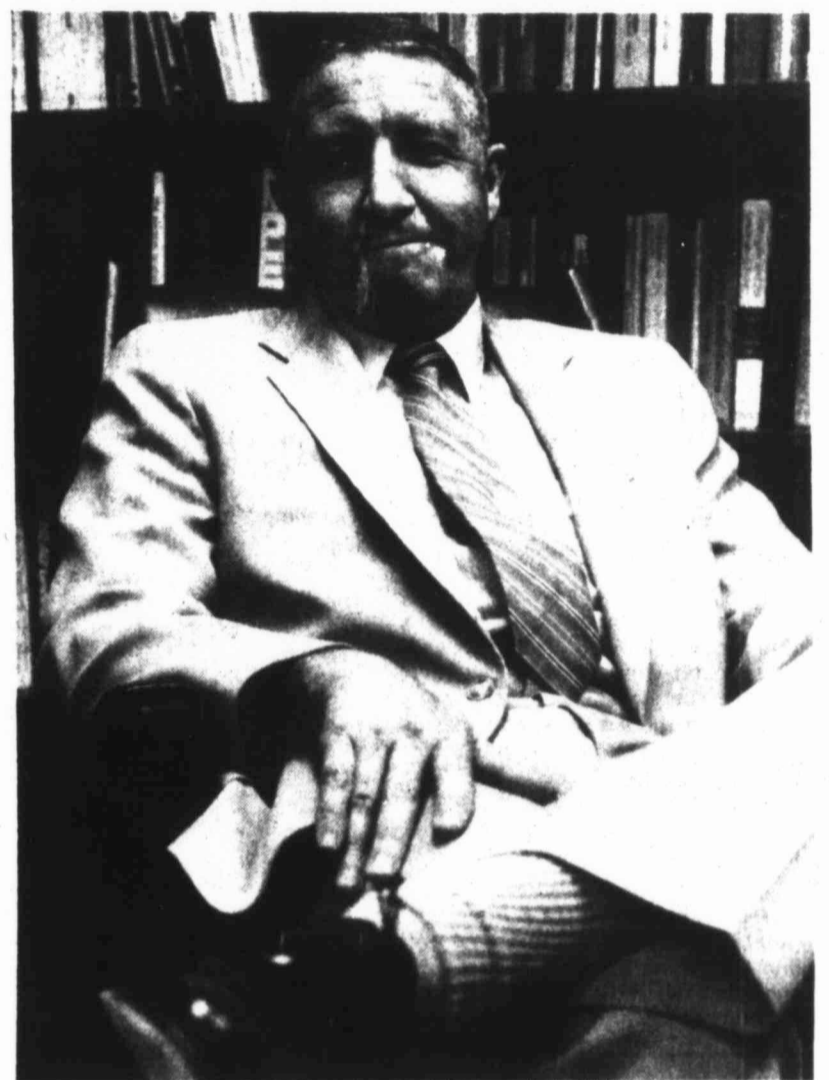

Riley has a bachelor's degree in social science from West Texas State University, a master's degree in education and psychology from WTSU, and a doctorate in education administration from East Texas State University.

Riley said he plans to emphasize the areas of instruction programs and faculty, which he calls "current strengths."

Riley was the subject of recent controversy concerning employee terminations. He was called on to present his side of the controversy during the May board meeting.

When asked if the ill feeling between himself and several district faculty members might hamper

Stanton paper bought

Bank president to publish weekly

By LUIS RIOS
Staff Writer

STANTON — The publishing rights to the Stanton Reporter, which ceased publication following the July 12 weekly edition, have been obtained by First National Bank of Stanton president Ed Lawson.

Feather Printing of Midland was contacted by Lawson to print the paper. The Reporter had been printed by the Big Spring Herald until it ceased publication.

"He asked us to," said Herb Feather Monday, concerning the printing work for the paper. It is not known if the newspaper will be published under the same name.

Lawson was not available for comment Tuesday or

Wednesday morning. His secretary in Stanton said Tuesday Lawson was out of town and was scheduled to return late Wednesday or Thursday morning.

Martin County Printing, Inc. suspended printing of the newspaper following an announcement made by former owners Grant and Connie Mabry in the Reporter's last edition.

Mabry listed the condition of the general economy, interest rates and difficulties caused by third parties as the major reasons for ceasing publication. The Mabrys published the newspaper for four years.

Mabry, who will be employed by the Wharton Journal-Spectator in August, said he had tried "everything to keep the paper afloat."

Perjury charges dropped

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

Federal perjury charges have been dropped against a local man who told a San Angelo federal grand jury last January he "hasn't seen any coke (cocaine) in Howard County."

TERRY WHITE

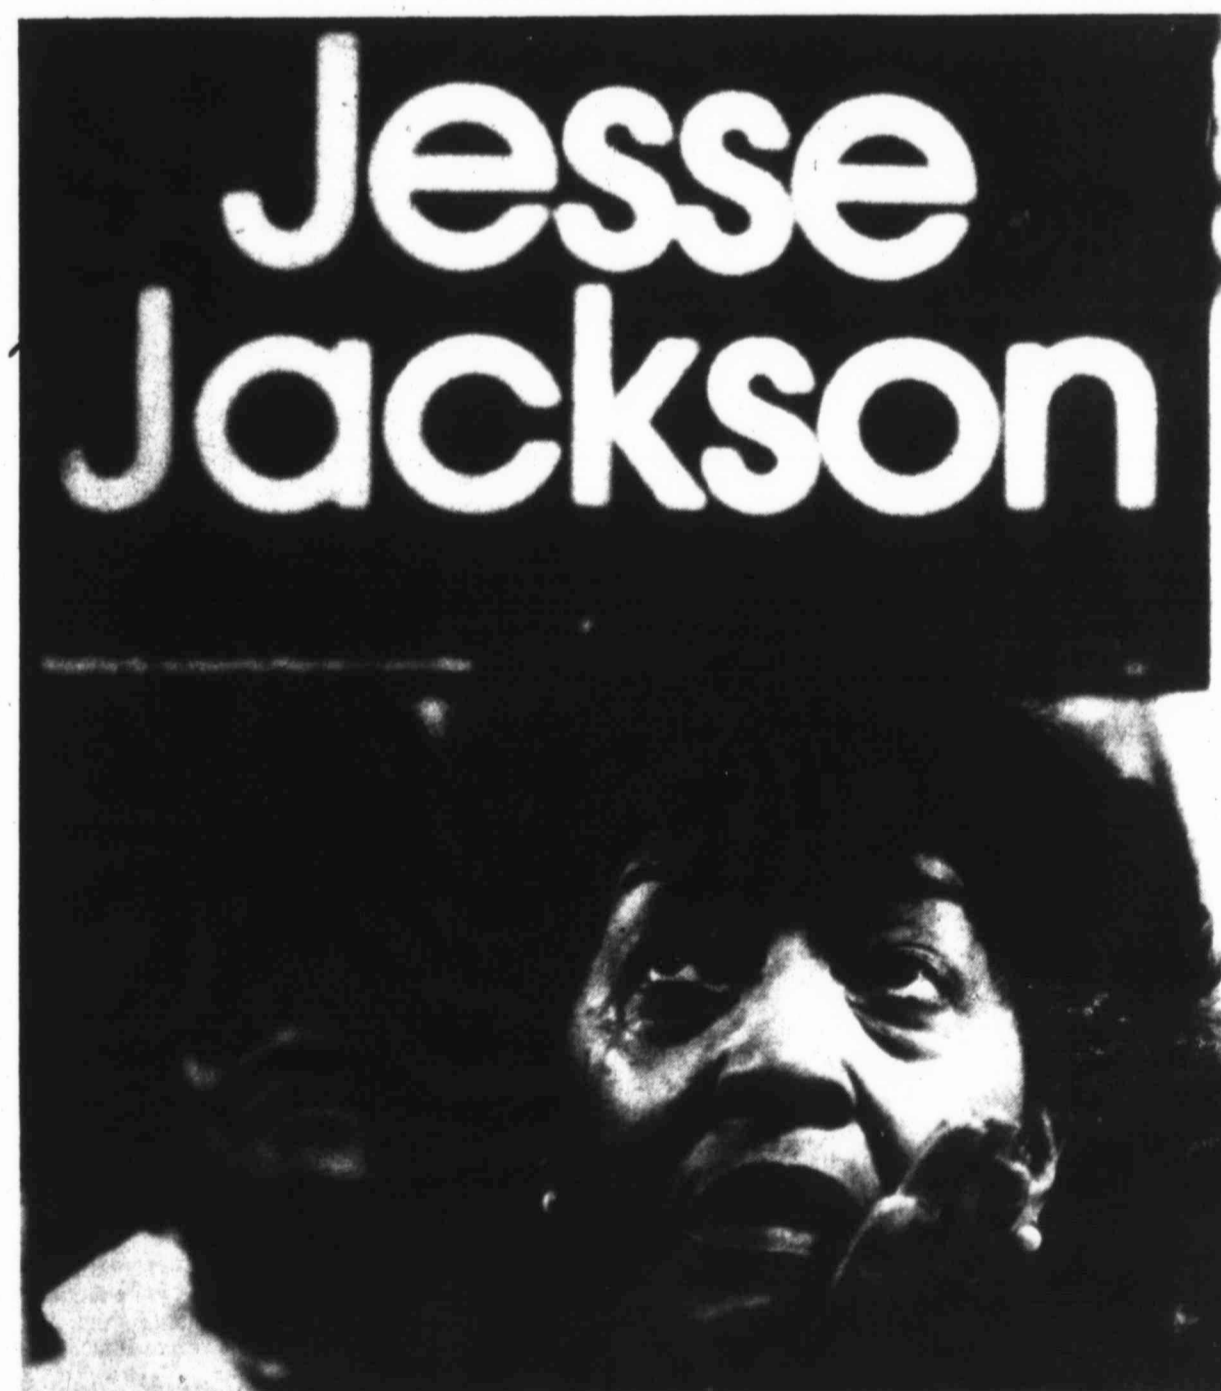

The motion to dismiss all charges against Terry White, 35, of Sterling City Route was filed June 22 by Assistant U.S. Attorney Richard Stephens in San Angelo Federal Court. The motion was granted July 13 by Judge Hal Woodward, Federal Deputy District Clerk Ann Loyd said Tuesday.

No reason for dismissal was stated in the motion, Ms. Loyd said.

White, manager of Pinkies Liquor Store at 1414 E. Third, was indicted May 8 by an Abilene grand jury for making a false statement about his knowledge of cocaine distribution in Howard County.

Cocaine-related indictments against three other Big Spring residents were also handed down the same day. One resident, Caitano Chavarria, 35, of 3703 W. Highway 80, pleaded guilty June 12 to one count of cocaine distribution. Another, Kay Jimenez, 22, address unknown, pleaded not guilty the same day to two counts of cocaine distribution but is set for re-arrestment on July 26. U.S. Attorney See Charges page 2-A Convention Tuesday evening in San Francisco. See story on Page 3A.

Battle of first ballot

Mondale wary of defections

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Walter Mondale, moving to quell the last flicker of rebellion and claim his presidential nomination, is meeting with black and Hispanic delegates who are being urged to join an effort to deny him a first ballot victory tonight.

Mondale aides said his black and Hispanic delegates were holding firm and pointed to votes Tuesday on platform planks as evidence supporting that contention.

After speeches to the two caucuses, Mondale planned to appear at a rally at the Japanese Cultural Center Peace Pagoda and then return to his hotel to await results of the convention roll call.

Mondale was holding a private meeting this morning at his hotel — aides wouldn't say who the session was with — before meeting with the Hispanic caucus and then the black caucus at the Sheraton Tower.

Tom Bradley, the black mayor of Los Angeles, was to deliver the speech offering Mondale's name for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The last faint hope for rivals Gary Hart and the Rev. Jesse Jackson lay with longshot efforts to deny Mondale a first ballot majority by convincing blacks and Hispanics to withhold their support.

Substantial defections by blacks and Hispanics on the first ballot could leave Mondale short of the 1,967 votes he needs for the nomination.

Showers douse state

By The Associated Press

An almost stationary front brought cloudy skies to most of the central, eastern and western sections of Texas today, and triggered scattered showers which forecasters predicted would continue through Thursday.

The front extended from near Lufkin to Del Rio. It caused a very heavy thunderstorm to develop over the Toledo Bend reservoir in East Texas.

The National Weather Service said isolated showers fell over West Central Texas near Abilene and San Angelo and along the Coastal Bend.

Elsewhere in the state, skies were mostly clear. Winds south of the front were southerly and southwesterly at 5 to 10 mph. Winds were light and variable north of the front.

Low temperatures ranged from the 70s to 80s. The extremes were 61 degrees at Amarillo and 82 at Galveston. The weather service said widely scattered thunderstorms were expected Thursday over Southeast, North and West Texas. Otherwise, conditions should be partly cloudy and warm elsewhere in the state.

A 20 percent chance of thunderstorms was expected for North Texas on Thursday. The high temperature should reach the middle 90s, with the low Friday in the middle 70s.

Thunderstorms erupted across the eastern third of the nation today as cool weather settled into the Midwest.

Flash flood watches were in effect for eastern Tennessee, the southern and central mountains of North Carolina and western South Carolina.

A few thunderstorms continued over the warm southwestern states and heavy rains briefly flooded streets in Phoenix, Ariz.

Today's forecast called for continued thunderstorms scattered from the Gulf Coast to New England. A few thunderstorms were expected to linger over the southern intermountain region. Fair skies were expected in the Midwest, the Plains, the Rockies and along the West Coast.

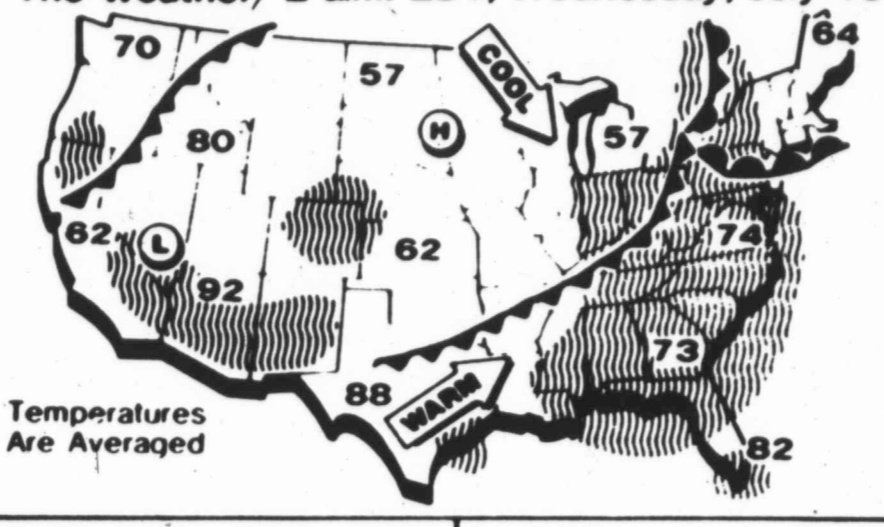

Temperatures today were expected to be in the cool 60s and 70s from Minnesota to New England; in the 80s from the middle and southern Atlantic Coast, through the Tennessee and Ohio valleys, into the Plains and over the Pacific Northwest.

Highs in the 90s were expected in the southern half of the Plains, the Rockies and the intermountain region. Readings of 100 or more were predicted for the desert Southwest.

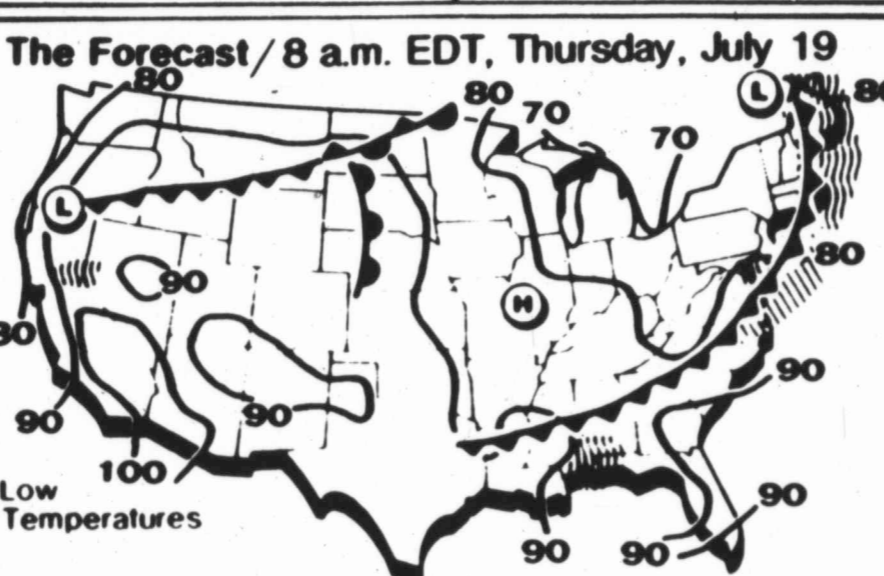

Temperatures at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 44 in Hibbing, Minn., to 92 in Las Vegas, Nev.

West Texas: Mild north, otherwise, partly cloudy with isolated to widely scattered late afternoon and evening thunderstorms through Thursday. Highs mid 80s north and mountains to near 104 Big Bend. Lows tonight upper 50s mountains, mid 60s north to mid 70s extreme south.

Sentencing dates scheduled for Howard County residents

Six Howard County residents who pleaded guilty to federal cocaine-related charges, including local attorney Roy Lee Ford and body shop owner Pat Gray, have been set for sentencing on July 26 and July 30 in Abilene.

Set for the July 26 sentencing date are:

• Roy Lee Ford, 46, of 1308 Princeton. Ford pleaded guilty Jan. 24 in San Angelo Federal Court to one count of distribution of 1/2-ounce of cocaine on May 12, 1983. Ford had previously withdrawn from a plea bargain arrangement in his cocaine case Nov. 3, 1983 in proceedings before Federal Judge Hal Woodward in Abilene.

Ford, a native of San Angelo and former Coke County attorney from 1971 to 1974, was defeated in 1970 in the Democratic primary election for state representative from Big Spring.

• Richard Dalton Carr, 28, of 1601 Kentucky Way. Carr was indicted Jan. 24 by a San Angelo Grand Jury on two counts of cocaine distribution on April 27, 1983 and April 28, 1983. He pleaded guilty Feb. 23 in Abilene Federal Court to one count of using the telephone to facilitate cocaine distribution on April 27, 1983.

Carr is a former employee of the Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. and a former part-time employee at Creighton Tire Co. at 601 Gregg.

• Joe David Fewell of 2524 Fairchild. Fewell pleaded guilty in a plea bargain arrangement Nov. 3, 1983 in Abilene Federal Court to one count of using the telephone to facilitate cocaine distribution on May 12, 1983.

He is a former employee of Pat Gray Body Works at 700 N. Owens.

• Richard Paul Jenkins, 25, of 2607 Barksdale. Jenkins pleaded guilty Jan. 24 in San Angelo Federal Court to one count of using the telephone to facilitate distribution of cocaine on April 14, 1983. He is a former employee of the Cosden Oil and Chemical Co.

Set for sentencing on July 30 are:

• Patrick Claude Gray, 32, of Derrick Road. Gray pleaded guilty Nov. 3, 1983 in Abilene Federal Court in a plea-bargain arrangement to one count of using the telephone to facilitate distribution of cocaine on May 12, 1983. He is the owner of Pat Gray Body Works at 700 N. Owens.

• Cooper Lee Proctor, 34, of 2601 Hunter. Proctor pleaded guilty Nov. 11, 1983 in Abilene Federal Court to one count of using the telephone to facilitate cocaine distribution on March 21, 1983. Proctor was laid off last year from the Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., where he worked as a boiler operator in the maintenance department.

The single "telephone counts" against Gray, Fewell, Carr, Jenkins and Proctor carry maximum penalties of 4 years on prison and $30,000 fines, Tallant said.

Charges

torney Jim Tallant said yesterday he could not comment on the reason for the Jimenez arraignment.

A third set of charges was handed down May 8 against Guy Talbot, the former Howard County chief probation officer who was found not guilty June 14 in Abilene Federal Court on four counts of cocaine distribution and one count of conspiracy to distribute cocaine.

"I feel that the credibility of the government witnesses was so weak that they had no choice but to drop (the charges against me)," White said Tuesday on receiving news of the dismissal.

"Mr. Stephens finally realized that these so-called government witnesses were acting as prostitutes for the state," he said about several Big Spring residents who were allowed to plead guilty to lesser charges in return for their testimony before the grand jury.

Stephens, who is on vacation until July 30, was unavailable for comment, according to a secretary in his Dallas office.

White's perjury charge stemmed from a Jan. 24 appearance before a

San Angelo grand jury in which he stated (according to the indictment): "I haven't seen any coke (cocaine) in Howard County... I am not going to be a stoolie for you or anyone else, and I hope these people understand that, too."

"I am asking you to tell the truth," said the federal prosecutor, according to the indictment.

"I am. I haven't seen any," said White. White said Tuesday his civil rights had been restricted during the time he was under indictment. He said he was barred from voting in elections and restricted in travel to the north and west districts of the court. "I could go to Dallas, for example, but not San Antonio," he said.

In addition, White said he had to report monthly to Donna Gribble, a San Angelo federal probation officer. Ms. Gribble said this morning that while White was not on probation during the period, he was under "pre-trial bond supervision" as set out under provisions of the Bond Reform Act of 1964.

"I'm glad it's over and I can go on with my life now," White said yesterday.

Huntsville newspaper folds

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — The Huntsville Morning News threw a scare into its established rival, The Huntsville Item, but could not afford to keep losing enough money to stay in business, the Morning News' publisher says.

Officials of the 11-month-old Morning News announced Tuesday the paper would cease publication and sell most of its assets to Harte-Hanks Communications, which owns The Item.

Morning News publisher Gary Randazzo said the decision to shut down was reached at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

"We had a terrific impact on the market," Randazzo said. "Both papers were losing money. Our pockets just weren't as deep as Harte-Hanks' pockets."

Randazzo said the Morning News, which published its final editions Sunday, "won most of the ma-mor battles, but lost the war." "We had most of the local advertisers," he said. "We had broken into the major chains. We had made a significant impact."

Randazzo said he believed 35 employees were working for the paper at the time of its closing.

Bob Hardy, the newspaper's chairman and chairman of Huntsville's First National Bank, said the original purpose of his paper was "to present a positive approach in the media to our community. The result of our publication not only affected our newspaper, but caused our competition to react most favorably to our philosophy."

Morning News spokesman James Chase said his paper's unaudited circulation was about 3,000 last week.

Sheriff's Log

Men plead guilty, sentenced

Two men pleaded guilty on separate criminal charges in 118th District Court Tuesday, and received probated sentences.

District Court Judge Jim Gregg sentenced Steven Jason Salazar, 20, of Dallas to six years probation for felony escape from the Big Spring city jail. Salazar was transferred today to the Dallas County sheriff's office on a warrant for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Michael Gene Anderson, 23, of 3708 Hamilton was sentenced to five years probation on a charge of forgery by passing.

Mart Dewayne Smith, 21, of 1402 1/2 Main was transferred to the state prison system today to serve a 14-year sentence for burglary.

Smith pleaded guilty to a burglary charge in a plea-bargain arrangement. At the time of Smith's arrest, Police Chief Rick Turner said the department had cleared a string of burglaries and rapes against elderly women.

James Fontenot, 44, of San Angelo was released Tuesday afternoon to the San Angelo sheriff's office on a warrant for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.

Howard County sheriff's deputies Tuesday arrested Geraldine Hoffman, 51, of Vealmoor on a warrant for issuance of a bad check. She was released on a $200 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin.

Leland Wallace told the sheriff's office someone stole some equipment between Saturday and Monday from an area east of Wild Horse Creek and one mile of Highway 350. Taken were a 10-foot chain, a 12-foot chain and a "come-along," a piece of machinery.

Lee Jimenez Jr., 25, of 1106 Johnson was transferred to the county sheriff's office from the police department on a county warrant for a peace bond. Jimenez was released on $1,000 bond set by County Judge Milton Kirby.

Jackie Gass reported missing cows and calves to the sheriff's office. Persons who have found the cattle or know of their whereabouts should call 263-3444.

W.M. Hyden, 57, of Luther was transferred to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. Hyden was released on $1,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

Police Beat

HC student reports burglary

Karl Reiter, a student at Howard College, told police at 3:55 p.m. Tuesday that someone entered his dormitory room at the college and stole a Panasonic stereo-cassette player valued at $120, police reports said.

Joe Cook, 33, of 2101 Main was arrested at 2:34 p.m. Tuesday at the Big Spring State Hospital in connection with a warrant for revocation of probation, police reports said.

Gregory Williams, 19, of 1019 Johnson was arrested at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday at the intersection of N.W. Second and Gregg on suspicion of driving with license suspended and having no insurance, police reports said.

William Jack Watson, 26, of 2903 Lawrence was arrested at 1:33 p.m. Tuesday near the intersection of Couble Road and Interstate 20 on suspicion of driving while intoxicated, police reports said.

Riley

him as president of the HCJCD, Riley said, "In any educational organization, there will be some faculty members who do not understand the workings of the college and will consequently become overly concerned."

"This minority certainly should be heard... (The district) will use a different vehicle and strategy than is currently used. I intend to open up lines of communication."

Riley said he would have "a different administrative style than Dr. Hays... We will approach things in a different way. I think the situation will improve."

"If it doesn't, it will not be my fault. I want to unify the faculty and move forward to give students the best possible education we can."

Hays

reserves. The publication is written by instructors Bill Sprinkle and Gary Grant.

Hays told the board, "the district is not going down the tubes financially. Some of the folks reading the audit reports don't know how to read. In the most recent issue of the Forum, I hope you realize there are untruths and innuendos." Hays called the publication "garbage."

Sprinkle, who is out of town but who contacted the Herald after the meeting, said, "We stand by what we've written. Dr. Hays said the Forum was full of lies. If he would give us a specific statement, we would be glad to find an answer to it."

Sprinkle admitted the publication contained "some touchy subjects" but, "we felt like the story needs to be told."

Hays said the publication was put together by two faculty members "who have been on probation." He said the men had been doing "inadequate jobs" and that the publication was their way "of being heard and getting even with the administration."

Although Hays did not mention Grant and Sprinkle by name, Grant acknowledged later that he and Sprinkle were the two men in question.

Hays told the board, "You and I have serious concerns. If these people conduct their classrooms with the same disregard... then we have serious concerns." Hays urged the incoming administration and board to "scrutinize" the situation and "if they are not doing the job they are being paid to do, then (the administration) should move these people out."

Another section of the Forum has an article headlined "$12,468.33 per student," which deals with expenditures in the college Dental Hygiene Program. The article said that due to salaries, budgeted operating expenses and expenditures, "the 1983-84 cost per student of the dental hygiene program was a whopping $12,468.33."

This college is larger than...one or two persons. It is larger than all of us."

Trustees had their hands full Tuesday dealing with resignations and appointments of new personnel. Trustees accepted the resignation of board trustee Louis Stallings. Stallings resigned to avoid a conflict of interest. He is related to a new district employee.

Trustees approved the employment of four other district personnel and the reassignment of several other personnel.

During Tuesday's meeting, resignations were accepted from Linda Miller, an Associate Degree in Nursing instructor; Vicki White, a SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf instructor; and Sherrill Easterling, a math instructor at Howard College.

Hays said "those figures are totally false" and said the figures had excluded "contact hour costs, tuition fees and lab fees." Hays said half the salary costs in the program were being paid through a donation from local doctor Roscoe Cowper.

Hays agreed that the program was not coming out in the black yet. "We anticipate in the next two years it will be paying its own way."

"We knew up front that (the program) was not going to be a freebie." Referring to the story in the Forum, Hays said, "They are trying to paint a picture of how smart they are and how dumb we are."

Hays said, referring back to the publishers of the Forum, "If they would spend the time they ought to be teaching class, they would not have time to run the college...They're not trained to do that."

Responding to that statement, Sprinkle said, "Neither one of us has any ambition to run the district."

Hays also referred to Sprinkle in regard to the dental hygiene expenditures and expenditures in other areas of the college.

Although he did not mention Sprinkle by name, Hays said that in the automotive department, students were allowed to charge up to $10,000 worth of parts to the HCJCD. "As of today, $5,000 of that has still not been collected."

Hays said the instructor (Sprinkle) "was warned this was not to happen and he continued doing it. He who lives in a glass house should not throw rocks."

Grant said of the expenditures, "Bill is in the process of collecting it." Of the $5,000 outstanding, "I thought it was less than that," he said.

Tulips, and he caters, too

PHILADELPHIA — Tiy Tim, the warbly-voiced singer whose nationally televised marriage ended in divorce, returned to TV to serenade a couple who had just exchanged wedding vows on the show.

TINY TIM

Tiny Tim appeared Monday on KYW-TV's "People Are Talking," after the wedding of Diane Barker, 27, and Thomas Norris, 42, of Wilmington, Del.

Tiny Tim reminisced about his marriage to "Miss Vicki" on the "Tonight Show" in 1969 and sang "I Love You Truly" to the newlyweds as he strummed his ukulele.

Tiny Tim said he married "Miss Jan," a graphic artist from New York City, on June 26 at the Imperial Palace in Las Vegas, Nev.

"I hope it lasts for another week, because right now I'm having some problems. I'm very insecure, I'm very jealous and she'd better not be looking at too many men."

She was nothing until Ken

INDIANAPOLIS — In her 25 years, she's had short hair and long; she's been black, white, Hispanic and Oriental; she's grown from a debutante to a career woman; and she's been produced 200 million times over.

She, of course, is Barbie. And now she's in sterling silver.

"Silver Barbie," a replica of the doll made by Tiffany & Co. for Mattel Toys, was introduced on Sunday at a garden party at the Indiana State Museum.

From Dec. 1 through April 13, 1985, the museum will exhibit "Twenty-five Years of Barbie," billed as the first ever retrospective of the doll with the perfect figure, handsome boyfriend and charmed, eternally young life.

The exhibit will include more than 400 Barbies. Since Barbies were introduced in February 1959, 200 million have been sold worldwide.

Spock just ain't cricket

LONDON — British children won't be joining Capt. James T. Kirk and Mr. Spock on four of their journeys to explore new worlds and go where no one has gone before.

The British Broadcasting Corp. will not televise four "Star Trek" episodes because they are not suitable to be shown on early evening television when children watch, Ann Rosenberg, BBC publicity officer, said Monday.

The BBC received complaints after the broadcast of "Miri," in which the Enterprise crew, led by William Shatner's Kirk and Leonard Nimoy's Spock, saves the surviving inhabitants of a planet where everyone dies upon reaching puberty, she said.

Jesse Jackson...power of the pulpit

Sermon of unity

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson, who has sometimes divided Democrat from Democrat, comes to the end of his path-breaking campaign for the presidency with the applause still echoing for his climactic sermon of unity and redemption.

With the eloquence that has lifted many audiences, the civil rights leader made an extraordinary plea for forgiveness in a prime-time address to the convention Tuesday night. Tears flowed from many delegates.

"If in my low moments, in word, deed or attitude, through some error of temper, taste or tone, I have caused anyone discomfort, created pain or revived someone's fears, please forgive me," he asked the Democratic National Convention.

Applause was frequent. The stirring message — interrupted 34 times by applause — was also the last major act of Jackson's bid for the nomination. With Mondale's formal victory tonight, the black leader's campaign officially comes to an end.

The speech included a long passage asking Jewish Americans to work with blacks once again, a plea stemming from the controversy following Jackson's reference to Jews as "Hymies" and his slowness in separating himself from Black Muslim leader Louis Farrakhan, who has been accused of anti-Semitism.

"Our communities, black and Jewish, are in anguish, anger and pain," Jackson said. "We must turn to each other and not on each other and chose higher ground."

Jewish leaders responded favorably to Jackson's pleas but said much has to be done to overcome some of his previous comments and those by some of his supporters.

"One speech does not in itself undo all that has gone before," said Henry Siegman, executive director of the American Jewish Congress in New York. "But we are encouraged by his effort to heal the wounds, and by the apology he uttered for the pain he caused."

Rabbi David Saperstein, director of the Religious Action Center of Reformed Judaism in Washington, D.C., said he was "gratified by...the generous and conciliatory tone he adopted tonight."

Jackson declared that Democrats do not have a perfect party and that he, too, is not perfect. "I am not a perfect servant. I am a public servant. I'm doing my best against the odds. As I develop and serve, be patient. God is not finished with me yet," he said.

While Jackson promised to support the nominee, he said that his Rainbow Coalition is going to need some help to be enthusiastic supporters.

"My constituency is the damned, disinherited, disrespected and the despised," he said. "They are restless and seek relief. They've voted in record numbers. They have invested the faith, hope and trust that they have in us. The Democratic Party must send them a signal that we care. I pledge my best not to let them down."

Jackson denounced President Reagan's policies, both here and abroad. He called the GOP incumbent's economic policies "a combination of cyanide and Kool-Aid, jelly beans and poison. It may taste good, but the results are disastrous."

The ordained minister closed, linking his themes. "Our time has come. Suffering breeds character. Character breeds faith. And in the end, faith will not disappoint," he said.

And then the delegates joined their hands in the air, as a hymn ended Jackson's part of the program.

'My constituency is the damned, disinherited, disrespected and the despised...They are restless and seek relief.'

French premier named

PARIS — The Communist Party chief cut short his Romanian vacation and rushed home today as reports circulated that President Francois Mitterrand's premier-designate, fiscal conservative Laurent Fabius, would name a new Cabinet on Thursday.

Georges Marchais' Communist Party had four seats in the outgoing 41-member Cabinet, but Fabius was expected to demand that the Communists quit sniping at the Socialist government's economic austerity policy if they want to continue to share power.

Beirut ceasefire broken

BEIRUT — Army commanders in charge of Beirut's security toured the city's demarcation line today following the first major violation of a two-week-old cease-fire that had halted militia warfare.

Generals of three army brigades inspected the three-mile "green line" to determine whether rival Christian and Moslem militias were rebuilding sniper positions on either side.

Local radio stations said re-establishment of such positions was a likely cause for a 30-minute outbreak of fighting in the Ain Rummaneh sector of the line Tuesday night.

UK truckers block ferries

LONDON — Truck drivers stranded by the nine-day-old British dock strike vented their anger today by blocking passenger ferry services across the English Channel.

The truckers blocked Britain's main ferry terminal at Dover for several hours during the night, and shortly after dawn drivers from Britain and other European countries took similar action across the channel at the French port of Calais, French police said.

One ferry voyage from Dover was canceled and another diverted to Ostend, Belgium, British port authorities said.

Sandinistas name Ortega

MANAGUA — Former guerrilla leader Daniel Ortega, now the coordinator of Nicaragua's three-man leftist junta, will be the Sandinistas' presidential candidate in the election scheduled for November.

The Sandinistas, who overthrew right-wing President Anastasio Somoza five years ago this week, picked another junta member, Sergio Ramirez, to be their candidate for vice president. The choices were announced after a meeting Tuesday of the Sandinista National Liberation Front's 81 top leaders.

Bus, truck collide; 1 killed, 12 injured

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — A Trailways bus collided early today with a tractor-trailer rig on Interstate 25, killing a passenger and injuring about a dozen people, including the bus driver, officials said.

The Wyoming Highway Patrol said the accident occurred just before 1 a.m. at the intersection of Interstate 25 and College Drive, a major belt route around the south and east sides of Cheyenne.

Northbound lanes on the interstate were closed after the accident.

The driver of the bus was hospitalized in critical condition after being trapped in the wreckage for several hours, the state patrol said.

Gary Scott of Fire District No. 2 said about 10 more people were taken to hospitals with injuries, mostly broken bones.

Trailways officials in Cheyenne and Denver declined immediate comment on the accident. Information about the route of the bus or the number of passengers aboard, was not immediately available.

The dead passenger was identified by Laramie County Coroner Roger Radomsky as Darwin Diede, 51, of Ipswich, S.D., who was working in Colorado and had been heading home.

He was crushed to death, Radomsky said.

Greeks bluster, but within limits

The most polite way to describe U.S.-Greek relations is to say they are strained. A less reserved description is more accurate: Athens views the United States as a bullying, pro-Turkish meddler, while Washington regards the socialist regime of Andreas Papandreu as almost pro-Soviet.

The caricatures that both sides have of each other are overdrawn, but it is easy to see why. Much of Papandreu's anti-U.S., pro-Soviet rhetoric is for domestic consumption. The U.S. government's name has been mud in Greece ever since Washington cynically backed the right-wing colonels of the Greek junta 15 years ago. Papandreu's anti-American talk is a good way of covering up the fact that he agreed to a five-year extension of the U.S. military base leases that he had originally said he would cancel.

There has been legitimate concern that Greece set free a suspected Jordanian terrorist despite U.S. and British warnings. Even France has warned Athens about its lackadaisical reaction to the possibility of Armenian terrorists operating out of Greece. Still, these are not major problems.

The broader interests of both the United States and Greece call for a lowering of the charge and countercharge rhetoric, and this is particularly true of Papandreu. The prime minister knows full well that if he carries his anti-U.S. line too far, Washington will further side with Turkey. That is the last thing Papandreu wants.

Arms talks, of sorts

WASHINGTON — The U.S. and Russia are backing into a session on arms control sometime in September. But Moscow knows exactly what it wants.

Washington is not sure. The Reagan administration thus courts an aborted negotiation that will hurt this country and tilt the inner balance of a second Reagan administration even further against arms control.

The immediate Soviet goal in arms control has been well advertised for some time. The Russians seek to block an American military capability in space. They are particularly concerned to cut short development of the so-called "star wars" project — an anti-missile defense in space. Accordingly, the Soviet note of June 29 calling for talks in Vienna in September specified as the topic "démilitarization of space."

The American emphasis, in contrast, has been on curtailing offensive weapons. This country sought to limit intercontinental missiles in the START talks. It sought to curtail intermediate-range missiles in the INF talks. Both sets of negotiations were broken off by the U.S. began deployment of new medium-range missiles in West Germany, Britain and Italy.

Since then, resumption of the START and INF negotiations has been a prime U.S. objective. So Washington's initial response to the Soviet proposal of June 29 was to accept talks in space, provided the Russians also agreed to talk about offensive weapons. Moscow denounced that condition, and Washington then backed away from making it a formal stipulation. This it seems clear that some kind of talks on space weapons will get underway in Vienna in September.

What is not clear, or easy to define, is the American position on the ban against space weapons. In theory, the simple, attractive stance would be what has been called — in another connection — "the zero option." The U.S. and Russia would both agree not to deploy any weapons in space. Verification could be achieved by an accord not to test such weapons. The way would then be open for resumption of talks on offensive weapons. If the Russians balked, the onus would be on Moscow.

But willing support for such a simple, clear proposal puts great strains on the Reagan administration. The president is personally on record in favor of the "stars wars" defense. So is Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger and the intellectual heavyweight of the Pentagon, Assistant Secretary Richard Perle.

Moreover, the military services, whose support for arms control initiatives is an absolute must, are loath to abandon space. The Air Force has an interest in the technological promise and the budgetary goodies of the "star wars" program. The Navy discerns possibilities for more sophisticated navigational techniques. The Army shares with the other services concern that the Russians might secretly gain a decisive advantage over the U.S. in space.

Some bureaucratic interests, to be sure, are arrayed against the Pentagon at this time. The State Department, as usual, wants to move down the arms control road. There is a feeling that once the Russians cross the threshold of negotiation with the Reagan administration, considerable progress could be made. The road would lead from defensive issues. Thus Secretary of State George Shultz has been a powerful advocate for going along with the Soviet initiative on talks about demilitarization of space.

The White House, if only for political purposes, wants to be seen moving toward peace at this time. So Robert MacFarlane, the national security adviser, went public in welcoming the latest Soviet initiatives. So far, Shultz and MacFarlane have been supported by both President Reagan and the White House Chief of Staff James Baker.

But the White House interest in a September meeting is temporary. The president wants to avoid the blame for any further break with the Russians; he does not need to be seen making concessions under pressure. So it is doubtful Reagan will go to the mat with the Pentagon for a clear, appealing U.S. position on weapons in space.

With White House backing so conditioned, Secretary Shultz is wary about putting his prestige on the line publicly. It is notable, in that respect, that he has already said he would not lead the American delegation to Vienna.

So what shapes up is a muddy American position of banning weapons from space. After some sniffing, the Russians will probably denounce the U.S. proposal as another example of unwillingness to negotiate seriously. It will, of course, not be impossible to start up negotiations after the election. But much will depend on the fallout within the Reagan administration. Specifically, how much damage will a rebuff do to Secretary Shultz? How much will failure profit the Pentagon hawks who want to force Shultz out?

Clever coup or Keystone Kops?

WASHINGTON — Did the U.S. Customs Service stumble onto a cloak-and-dagger operation that might have delivered a Soviet super-tank into U.S. hands? Customs officials say it ain't so, but the suspicion lingers that they have blown a secret caper.

The facts surrounding the mystery are being kept under wraps by the government, and that lends credence to the theory that it involved an intelligence operation. A federal judge has sealed court records in the case, but my associates John Dillon and Donald Goldberg have learned some of the suppressed details. The story sounds like a John Le Carre movie directed by Mack Sennett.

It all began more than two years ago, when the Defense Intelligence Agency tried to figure out a way to smuggle a Soviet T-72 super-tank to the West. The DIA wanted to study the tank's gun barrel, armor plating and infrared sensors.

Israel, which often turns over captured Soviet-made weapons to the Pentagon, came close to snagging a T-72 in Lebanon, when one of the tanks bogged down in the mud. But it was in Syrian territory, and the Israelis had to leave it behind.

The Kremlin's meddling in the Persian Gulf war gave the DIA another opportunity. The Soviets began shipping T-72s to Iraq.

The problem of intercepting the tanks en route to the war zone remained to be solved. Enter Leonard Berg, owner of a New York security company, and Solomon Schwartz, a consultant to the firm. The latter has close ties to the intelligence community.

Schwartz also had contact with a top Polish general through a friend who was close to the general. This general was high enough in the Polish communist hierarchy to get control of a T-72.

Schwartz traveled back and forth to Warsaw to arrange the secret deal. In exchange for his help in hijacking the tanks, the Polish general wanted money deposited in a Swiss bank account (protection for himself and his family if and when he defected) and a cut of another weapons deal.

The details are still sketchy on how the two Soviet tanks were supposed to be stolen, but one source believes they were to be diverted on their way to the battlefield in Iraq.

The other arms deal, in which the general was promised a secret share, was the sale of police weapons to Mexico. It included several thousand weapons to be picked up in this country, Great Britain and Belgium.

According to competent sources, Schwartz and Berg hired a pilot to deliver the arms to Mexico, flying from New York to London, then on to Brussels — and Warsaw.

But 'unbeknownst to Schwartz and Berg, their pilot was a customs informant, and he tipped off officials to the arms shipment. Customs decided the weapons weren't destined for Mexico, but for Poland. So they seized the cargo in New York.

Customs' efforts to untangle the mystery took on the flavor of the Keystone Kops. They got a search warrant for Berg's company — but for the wrong floor. While one agent kept the employees at bay, another hurriedly found a judge to correct the error on the warrant.

The public may never know whether it was a bona fide intelligence operation, as defense attorneys claim, or if Schwartz and Berg were a couple of rogue spooks out for a fast buck, as customs claims. The case is now under the Classified Information Procedures Act, which means those involved are forbidden to discuss it.

However, sources close to the case say Schwartz and Berg believed they were working on a legitimate undercover plan to get a Soviet tank. They discussed the situation beforehand with at least one DIA agent and an FBI man who specializes in Polish intelligence.

The FBI agent would make only this Delphic comment: "The government has a case and the other situation, I believe, has its case."

"We're going to say the pilot was just a flunky and wasn't told the whole plan in order to protect the interests of the United States," Schwartz's attorney said.

But the prosecutor, David Kirby, said, "If the government had authorized this in some way, it is doubtful we would authorize a prosecution."

FEUD OF THE WEEK: It would be frightening to imagine economists from the Treasury and the Federal Reserve as surgeons operating together on a patient. The poor victim could bleed to death while they quibbled over the diagnosis.

As interest rates continue to rise, with signs that the prime will go as high as 15 percent by the end of the year, the squabbling economists are in such deep philosophical disagreement that they can't decide what to do about the situation.

The Treasury experts blame everything on the fear of inflation, and say the Fed's erratic management of the money supply in recent years is the reason for the financial market's uncertainty.

The Fed has its own single-minded idea of what's to blame: the huge federal budget deficits. Only when they are brought down will interest rates fall, the Fed insists. Its economists refuse to assume any of the blame.

Meanwhile, the patient — the nation's economy — is fast approaching rigor mortis.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

No-joke mom-in-law

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I know there are a lot of mother-in-law jokes, but our son has just married and now I am a mother-in-law for the first time. Do you have any tips on being a good mother-in-law? — Mrs. S.R.V.

DEAR MRS. S.R.V.: Yes, there are many jokes — but a mother-in-law can be a great blessing to her child's family. I will always be thankful to God for my wife's mother, who made a great contribution to our family's life before she went to be with the Lord about 10 years ago.

According to many letters I get, there are at least three difficulties that often arise. The first is the mother-in-law who constantly interferes in the lives of her son's (or daughter's) family. A second problem (which is closely related to the first one) is a mother-in-law who treats her daughter-in-law (or son-in-law) as if they were inferior — constantly correcting the way they raise their children or spend their money, for instance.

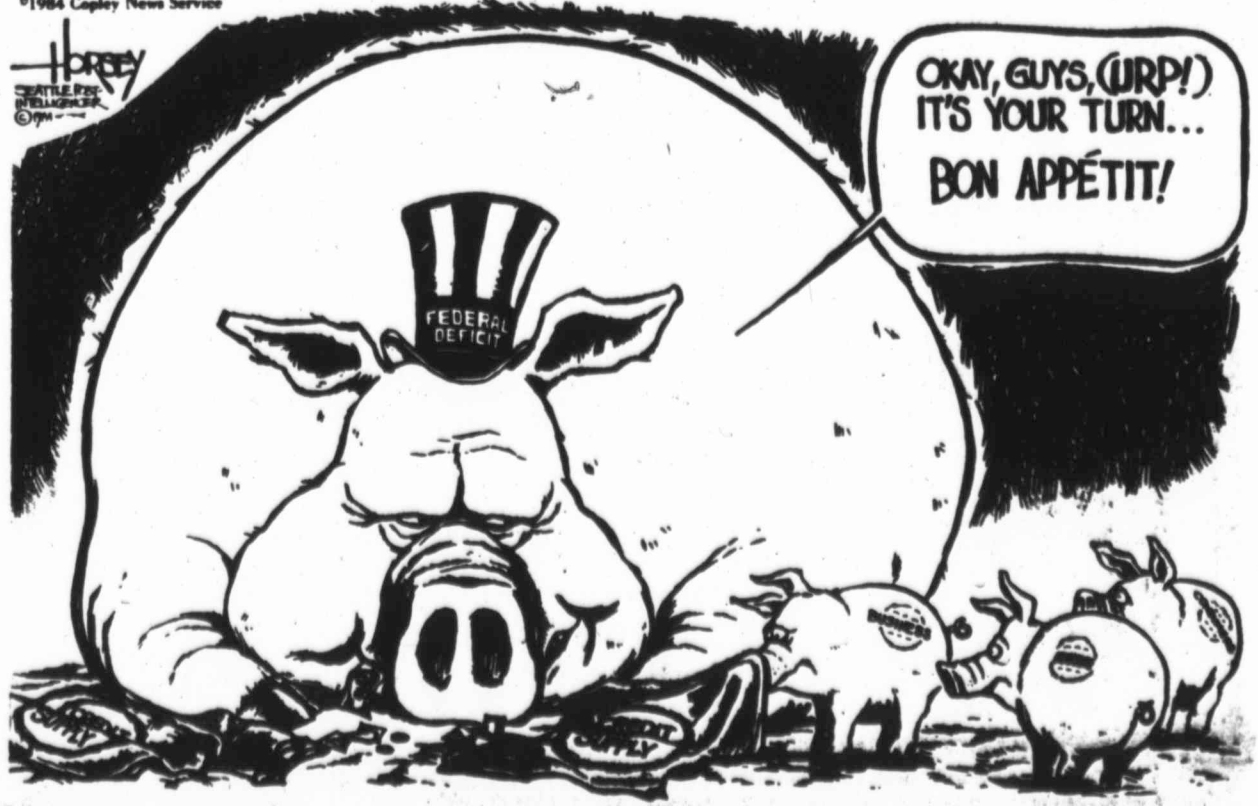

The third problem that sometimes crops up is favoritism, in which a mother (by her words and actions) makes it clear that she still considers her child "her baby" — and even tries to compete with the spouse for attention.

One of the most instructive passages in the Bible on this topic is the book of Ruth. I suggest you study it carefully (especially the first chapter). Ruth's mother-in-law, Naomi, faced a very difficult situation because her husband and her two sons were all dead. It would have been easy for her to be selfish and demanding of her daughters-in-law, but she was not. Her love of God made her a loving and considerate mother-in-law.

At the zoo

Political party conventions always look like insane asylums or large zoos. Before network news begins any opening day coverage of a convention, the surgeon general should read the following disclaimer:

Please don't pet the animals, and watch out for the crazies.

Of course, for Sen. Gary Hart of Colorado and the Rev. Jesse Jackson, the old standard, "Abandon all hope, ye who enter here" ought to do just fine.

Even the bands are a little off-beat at conventions. The guy leading the official band of the 1984 U.S. Demo convention, Dick Crest of the Dick Crest Orchestra, is waving a "glow-in-the-dark" baton in the preludes to somnolent speeches.

This year didn't seem like any exception. With the Republican candidate already chosen, and the Democratic challengers to the heir appointed just going through the motions, there really didn't seem a lot of point to all the hubbub in San Francisco and Dallas.

The Associated Press photos from San Francisco featured men in ballet tutus and dogs loaded down with trashy souvenirs bearing the Democratic insignia. See what I mean about the crazies? Only the Democrats would plan their convention to start the weekend after a full moon.

Even the yawn-stifling, right-on-the-edge-of-your-seat excitement of watching party figures pick a vice president promised to be missing, in both conventions.

Most of the network news coverage keeps focusing on the important question, "Can a woman be a vice president?" But why is choosing a woman as vice president considered daring? The post is largely ceremonial, and if the Reagan-Bush team is any indication of the influence she'll have on administration policies, she might as well stay home.

But I have to say it, even though I think Mondale should have at least interviewed former U.S. Rep. Barbara Jordan for the job, New Yorker Geraldine Ferraro can only add spice to a ticket headed by Walter Mondale. Even good vanilla ice cream has bite.

I have to hand it to the Democrats, though. The convention's preopening coverage of Mondale's attempt to supplant Democratic National Chairman Charles Manatt with his buddy Bert Lance was not media hype, but news of an actual event. Wonders will never cease.

The best thing out of the convention so far, though, is the promise of at least two interesting, inspiring speeches — and on consecutive nights. Network commentators called New York Gov. Mario Cuomo's unity speech brilliant. I don't know about that, but I did turn off the vacuum cleaner to listen.

Jackson and the floor fights over the platform planks probably also will be worth watching. It's a shame the expected nominee, Mondale, is going to have to follow it.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

UNBRIDLED CRITICISM — Joel Mullins, operator of a mule buggy ride in Jefferson, stands behind his animal's right to go bareback. Other citizens want to diaper the mule.

Mule diapers

Pro-poops won't pamper stubborn opposition

JEFFERSON (AP) — A petition to require that diapers be put on the mules that for 18 years have been pulling buggies through town has this small East Texas community in an uproar.

Those signing the petition are tired of the mules relieving themselves while they travel through town on a three-mile tour of antebellum homes and churches.

But a rival group quickly surfaced, declaring itself anti-diaper or, as an antique dealer put it, "I'm pro-poop."

The squabble started last month. Owners and employees of businesses on Lafayette Street in downtown Jefferson started a petition asking that the mules used to pull the buggies wear diapers — a baglike apparatus worn by police horses in New Orleans and other cities.

"This is a small town," said City Manager Sara Hernandez. "When something starts like this, everybody just chooses up sides."

"Those mules should be wearing diapers," said Van Clark, 40, owner of an antique store on Lafayette Street and a signer of the petition.

The petition asks that a city ordinance be designed "to control manure from commercially used domestic animals" while traveling on property owned or controlled by the citizens of Jefferson.

"It gets to smelling pretty rough out there," says Russell Cooner, 43, who works at Fulger's Barber Shop. "That seems to be one of the places where they like to dump," he said, referring to a nearby intersection.

The anti-diaper petition has drawn its strongest support from operators of antique stores who find the droppings "quaint" and "rustic."

"I'm pro-poop," antique dealer Bob Haynes declared. "Quite frankly, most of our tourists are city people. They don't object. They consider it part of this sleepy country town."

Hollywood sign gets Olympic facelift

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The idea of turning the 450-foot-wide "HOLLYWOOD" sign into a giant lightshow for the Olympics hit Rick Rutherford and Egils Vigants in January.

"We got a lot of $5 and $10 bills when we told our friends about it," said Rutherford, a 30-year-old professional lighting executive.

Their dream appears ready to become a spectacular reality on July 28, the day the Olympics open, when dozens of floodlights — 10 colors in all — turn the 61-year-old landmark into an flashing rainbow.

Beamed to a worldwide television audience, more than 2 billion viewers could see the 61-year-old mountain-side symbol splashed in color for the first time.

"It will be the world's biggest animated billboard," Rutherford said Monday.

From 9 p.m. to midnight, for all 16 nights of the Summer Olympics, the 45-foot-high letters will radiate the official color scheme of the Games: magenta, aqua, chrome yellow, lavender, violet, pink, blue, vermilion, info yellow, and light blue.

A "chaser" light will dart back and forth, drawing attention to the illuminated landmark, which is traditionally solid white.

"She's going to be gorgeous," said Andy Williams, a park ranger who keeps watch over the famed letters propped on the side of Mt. Lee, Hollywood's familiar backdrop.

After several months of trying to convince the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee to help fund the idea, Rutherford and Vigants got the OK on Friday.

The LAOC, the private enterprise group that is staging the Games, agreed to contribute at least $16,000 to the project and may kick in more to make the lighting even more spectacular, Rutherford said.

'Ghostbusters' breaking box office records

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Ghostbusters" scared up the most business at the box office last week, but the debut of "The Last Starfighter" came close to bumping "Gremlins" out of the No. 2 spot among the top grossing motion pictures.

The $10 million grossed by "Ghostbusters" boosted the Columbia picture's six-week total to $115.6 million, narrowing the lead held by "Indiana Jones and the Temple of Doom," which has an eight-week total of $141.7 million.

Universal's "Starfighter," a youth-oriented space adventure with a video game theme, grossed $6 million to fall just behind the $6.1 million brought in by Warner Bros.' "Gremlins" in its sixth week in release.

"The Karate Kid" was fourth at $4.7 million.

"The Muppets Take Manhattan" grossed $4.4 million on its first weekend, good for fifth place.

"Indiana Jones" remained sixth, but just barely. The $4.1 million grossed by the Paramount release was a shade better than the $4 million brought in by 20th Century Fox's "Bachelor Party."

Teens tap NASA computer banks

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A group of teen-agers illegally tapped computers at NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, destroying records and keeping scientists from their work, officials said after the FBI confiscated computers and equipment in raids on four homes.

"Valuable computer time was stolen and certain computer records have been destroyed by persons who made the penetrations," said Cecil Moses, special agent in charge of the FBI in Birmingham.

Following the raids Monday, Moses declined to comment on what types of records were viewed or destroyed. He also refused to disclose the identities of teen-age suspects who lived at the raided homes or the number of suspects.

No charges have been filed in the case.

Scientists at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration flight center discovered the computer break-in June 28 and reported it to the FBI, Moses said. The scientists were unable to use the computers while they were being tapped, he added.

Within a week, the FBI began trying to locate the telephones through which the data banks were tapped, he said.

The telephone lines allegedly used in the computer intrusions led agents to four homes, all in the same area of Huntsville and two within a short walk of each other, officials said.

Agents said teen-agers live in each of the homes, and in one the phone line allegedly used to tap into Marshall's computers was listed as the children's telephone.

William H. Graham, whose home was identified as the site of one of the computer seizures Monday, declined to say who broke into the NASA databanks. He did say, however, "I suspect it might have been some younger folks."

Woman labors while waiting for license

DALLAS (AP) — A determined 17-year-old woman in labor has gotten married at the courthouse, barely winning a dead heat between a marriage license and a birth certificate.

"She said she didn't want to leave until she was married," said Ardy Pyles, chief clerk for the marriage license office at the Dallas County Courthouse.

When Debra Tubbs and her 21-year-old fiance, Tony McDaniel, went to the courthouse Tuesday to get a marriage license, they were hoping for a church wedding.

Then things started getting complicated.

First, McDaniel found — after waiting in line for the marriage license — that the driver's license he needed for identification had expired.

When he went to get a new one, his name cropped up on a list of unpaid traffic tickets. The fine was $59 but McDaniel only had $41. A kindly police officer loaned him $18 to pay the rest of the fine, McDaniel said.

New driver's license in hand, McDaniel went back for the marriage license. Then he realized he'd spent all his money on the traffic fine.

This time Mrs. Pyles came to the rescue, loaning him $7.50 for the marriage license.

Just when it seemed all the obstacles had been swept away, Ms. Tubbs went into labor.

A judge who had just taken a recess from a trial was quickly summoned. So were paramedics, who stood waiting to whisk the bride to the hospital as soon as the ceremony was over.

Amid a crowd of courthouse regulars, Ms. grasped her bridegroom's hand and was married as she lay on a stretcher.

"We didn't think we could get the ceremony over fast enough," Judge Candace Tyson said later.

Shortly before 5 p.m. Tuesday, the new Mrs. McDaniel gave birth to 5-pound, 5-ounce Jamal DeWayne McDaniel at Parkland Memorial Hospital.

"Everyone was so nice to us," she said. "I still can't believe it happened that way."

Astronaut trades wings for water

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — An astronaut who flew in both the Apollo and space shuttle programs says he will resign from the space program next year to take a new assignment with the Navy.

Thomas K. Mattingly, 48, a Captain in the Navy, announced Monday he will become director of the Space Program in the Naval Electronic System Command, headquartered in Arlington, Va., early next year.

Mattingly orbited the moon as command module pilot on Apollo 16 in 1972. He was the commander on the fourth flight of the space shuttle. And Mattingly is scheduled to command a Department of Defense space shuttle mission in December.

He was named an astronaut in April, 1966, and was a member of back-up crewmen supporting the missions of Apollo 8 and Apollo 11. He was scheduled to fly on Apollo 13, but was replaced at the last minute when he was exposed to the measles.

NASA administrator James M. Beggs praised Mattingly in a statement released from Washington.

"America's civil space program has profited immensely from having on tap the skill and expertise of military people like Ken," the released statement said. "We are proud of them all and pleased to have them on our team."

Mattingly will be the second veteran astronaut to leave the astronaut for a Navy assignment.

Richard Truly, who flew on two space shuttle missions, left NASA last year to become director of the Navy Space Command.

There currently are 75 astronauts and 17 astronaut-candidates-in-training.

LLOYD BENTSEN

Bentsen: Democrats must court Dixie

Harte-Hanks News Service
SAN FRANCISCO — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen stressed that the Democratic Party must regain some of its Southern base if it hopes to come from behind and unseat President Reagan this fall.
 A Southerner on the ticket with Walter Mondale, perhaps even Bentsen himself, would have helped the party to position itself for a White House comeback, the Texan told reporters Monday.

 In the first interview since he was bypassed by Mondale for the vice presidential nomination, Bentsen said a Southerner would have greater appeal in Texas than someone from outside the South, such as Rep. Geraldine Ferraro.

"But it's do-able," Bentsen said of Mondale's chances of winning Texas. "We've come from behind before."
 Mondale polls have suggested recently that the former vice president trails President Reagan by as much as 25 percentage points in Texas.

During Monday's breakfast meeting, he lashed out at Reagan for his farm policies and foreign relations.
 "We're going to have a president who doesn't need to rely on photo opportunities," Bentsen said, taking a jab at Reagan for making news with White House photo sessions.

 "We have the first president in 20 years who refuses to sit down with our main adversary," Bentsen said on the absence of dialogue between the White House and the Kremlin.
 "It's time for a change," the senator said, adding it will take a unified party to force the change.

TEC selects deputy new administrator

AUSTIN (AP) — Members of the Texas Employment Commission have unanimously chosen Bill Grossenbacher, an 18-year-old veteran of the agency, as the new TEC administrator.
 Grossenbacher was selected Monday at an emergency meeting of the commission members, just before the agency was to have started a nationwide search to fill the job.
 He replaces Ernie Tullis, who was fired on a

2-1 vote in April after a power struggle between Tullis and two new commissioners, Ed Grisham and Ronnie Luna.
 Grisham said there was no other motive behind the quick selection of Grossenbacher, except that the commissioners believed he was the best candidate.
 "We had talked to a lot of people informally about who would be the best. It always came back to Bill," he said.

Grossenbacher, 40, began his employment services career as a counselor in San Antonio and worked his way up to director of the Employment Service division in the state office.
 Two months ago, he was named acting associate administrator after Pat Joiner was fired. Joiner was accused of harassing employees into joining a letter-writing campaign on behalf of Tullis.

Insurance board recommends cut

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Insurance Board staff has recommended a statewide reduction in homeowners property insurance premiums that could save Texans $64 million, if the board adopts the recommendation.
 The staff report, released late Tuesday, calls for a 5.3 percent statewide decrease for all forms of property insurance available to private property owners.
 However, the report contained a proposed increase of 19.2 percent for tenant homeowners insurance, the insurance used for apartment and condominium dwellers.

 The board will hold a public hearing on property insurance July 28, then set rates to become effective on policies written or renewed after Dec. 1.
 The insurance industry has not made its recommendations on rates.

Drug money still unclaimed

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal prosecutor says he thinks someone will try to claim $6.8 million from a bank account confiscated as part of an alleged worldwide drug ring, despite the first deadline having passed.
 Nobody stepped forward when the initial deadline passed Monday, said Assistant U.S. Attorney Charles Lewis.
 "We have no knowledge of anyone preparing to claim it," Lewis said. "Although, for $7 million, I expect somebody to come forward. We will, of course, look at (a claim) with great interest."
 Members of a federal task force seized the money July 6 by contending it was part of the profits from an international drug ring.
 If the depositors try to claim the money, a trial will be held to determine if it is linked to drugs, Lewis said. If the money goes unclaimed, the government will request that a judge declare a default and turn the money over to the federal government, he said.
 A $400,000 home and lakefront property in Humble, also seized July 6, remain unclaimed, Lewis said.
 Task force officials have said the alleged drug ring operates in several nations and states, and is involved in smuggling marijuana, heroin and cocaine.

A PAUCITY OF PASSPORTS causes long line in New York.

The long, hot wait for passports

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the longest lines in New York these days has nothing to do with a Broadway show or the Michael Jackson tour. The reward for the toughest wait in town is a dark blue passport.

With American tourism abroad at record levels, the State Department has been handing out passports at a furious clip. In May, the latest month for which figures are available, the government issued 53 percent more passports nationwide than in the same month last year.

Nowhere has this sudden surge of wanderlust been more evident than outside the New York Passport Agency on Fifth Avenue and 50th Street in Rockefeller Center, where passers-by continually ask: "What's everybody waiting for?"

The answer is that people are waiting to save time. Mail-order passports are available through post offices and county clerks' offices, but they take four to six weeks to arrive. At the 13 passport agencies around the nation, passports are mailed out the day after people apply.

So those in a hurry have found themselves waiting in the summer sun, each consoling the next with the words: "I had no choice."

The New York agency has been processing passport applications at a rate of slightly under 1,000 a day. The line starts before dawn, stretches two blocks by 7 a.m. and creeps along.

It is amusing to some, infuriating to many others.

"They try to bribe you," said a bemused security guard, Levern Tillery, 27, whose job is to keep the line in order. One guard succumbed and took $50, he said.

"That was his last money," said Tillery. "He's unemployed now."

People often wait in line half the day only to be turned away at closing time, 3:30 p.m. They're back in line the next day.

Gena Giobbi, 24, of Manhattan, got into line shortly after 10 a.m. Tuesday and was told to go home three hours later. She left, came back Wednesday at 6:45 a.m. and "was nervous that I was late."

She made it to the passport counter a little more than four hours later, relieved but angry. So did another man just ahead of her, who left his house in New Jersey at 5:30 a.m. after waiting eight hours in line the day before.

"There have been delays and waits at various offices in our peak season, which began in March," said Richard Weeks, a press officer for the State Department's Bureau of Consular Affairs in Washington. "But there is no other office experiencing problems comparable to those in New York."

The reasons for the passport crush are numerous, but most experts agree that the keys are the health of the economy and the strength of the dollar abroad.

"The economy is much better than it has been," said John St. Denis, regional director of the Passport Agency in New York. "The dollar is stronger, the airlines are coming up with good, inexpensive tours, and there has been a lot more emphasis on overseas travel. Look at the Sunday travel sections — the heavy emphasis appears to be on foreign travel."

St. Denis said lines began at the passport office in February, started spilling onto the sidewalks in late May or June, and have been growing steadily since. He insisted that most people in line could have gotten passports through the mail.

"If you're going overseas, you have got to know two months ahead of time," he said, with a touch of exasperation. "You just don't pick up and go on an overseas vacation on three days' notice."

St. Denis apparently has not been talking to the people in front of his office.

"I just became sure that I had the time to travel about four days ago," said Warner Fite, 23, a Manhattan investment banker who is bound for Nairobi, Kenya, in the next two weeks. "There wasn't enough time to do it through the mail."

"I had no other option," echoed his neighbor in line, Skip Snow, a 25-year-old Manhattan artist who is going to Germany and Italy. "I just became absolutely positive that I was going to travel about two days ago."

Dear Abby

Sexual harassment doesn't end with complaint

DEAR ABBY: My ex-boss was an animal. First he asked me if I ever fooled around, then he asked me what kind of birth control I used. I didn't answer either question. He invited me to have a drink with him after work. I refused. When he tried to put his arms around me, I decided I had had enough, so I reported him to the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and filed a complaint. It was a hard thing to do, but I had to do it so he wouldn't pull the same stuff with his next secretary.

I work for the state and was immediately transferred to another job where I'm very happy.

Don't ask me how they found out, but the people in the office I left know that I filed a sexual harassment complaint against the boss. Now, whenever I see my former coworkers, I feel uncomfortable because they laugh and make jokes about the circumstances under which I left. To me it was a serious matter and I had to put a stop to it.

Do you think I did the right thing in filing that complaint? And why do they try to make me feel guilty?

UPSET
DEAR UPSET: You did the right thing in filing that complaint. Trying to make the victim feel guilty is a cruel game some people play. Don't let it get to you. Working women everywhere would do well to follow your courageous example.

***
DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I drove my mother downtown for a doctor's appointment. I have stickers on my car signifying that it's used to transport a disabled person, but I was using my husband's car that day. My mother is 52 and the picture of health, but she has a very serious medical problem and can't walk very far, so I parked in a space reserved for the handicapped.

As we were getting back into our car, a woman who was pulling out of a space not reserved for the handicapped stuck her head out of her car window, and did she ever open up a mouth at us!

She shouted, "You two strong, healthy women should be ashamed of yourselves — taking a parking space reserved for some poor crippled person!" Then she shook her finger in our faces and drove off.

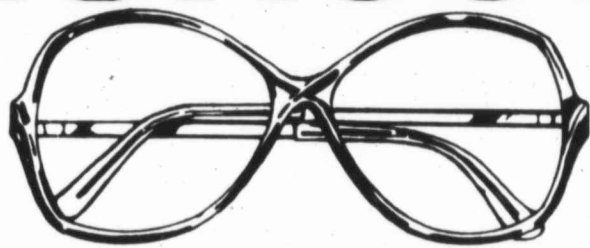

Abby, please tell people that not all handicapped people wear braces, walk with crutches or use a wheelchair. Some disabilities are not visible.

NOT GUILTY IN NORFOLK, VA.

DEAR NOT: Back off — the right she was seeking to protect were yours! You should thank heaven for people who are willing to speak up when they encounter what they perceive to be a selfish disregard for the rights of others. Although the woman was mistaken in your case, I applaud her spunk and good intentions.

Stone rocks International All-Stars with 16 strikes

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

Midland North Central pitcher Jason Stone did a number on the Big Spring International All-Stars last night in District Little League tourney action by registering 16 strikeouts as North Central handed the Internationals their first loss of the tourney by a count of 7-1.

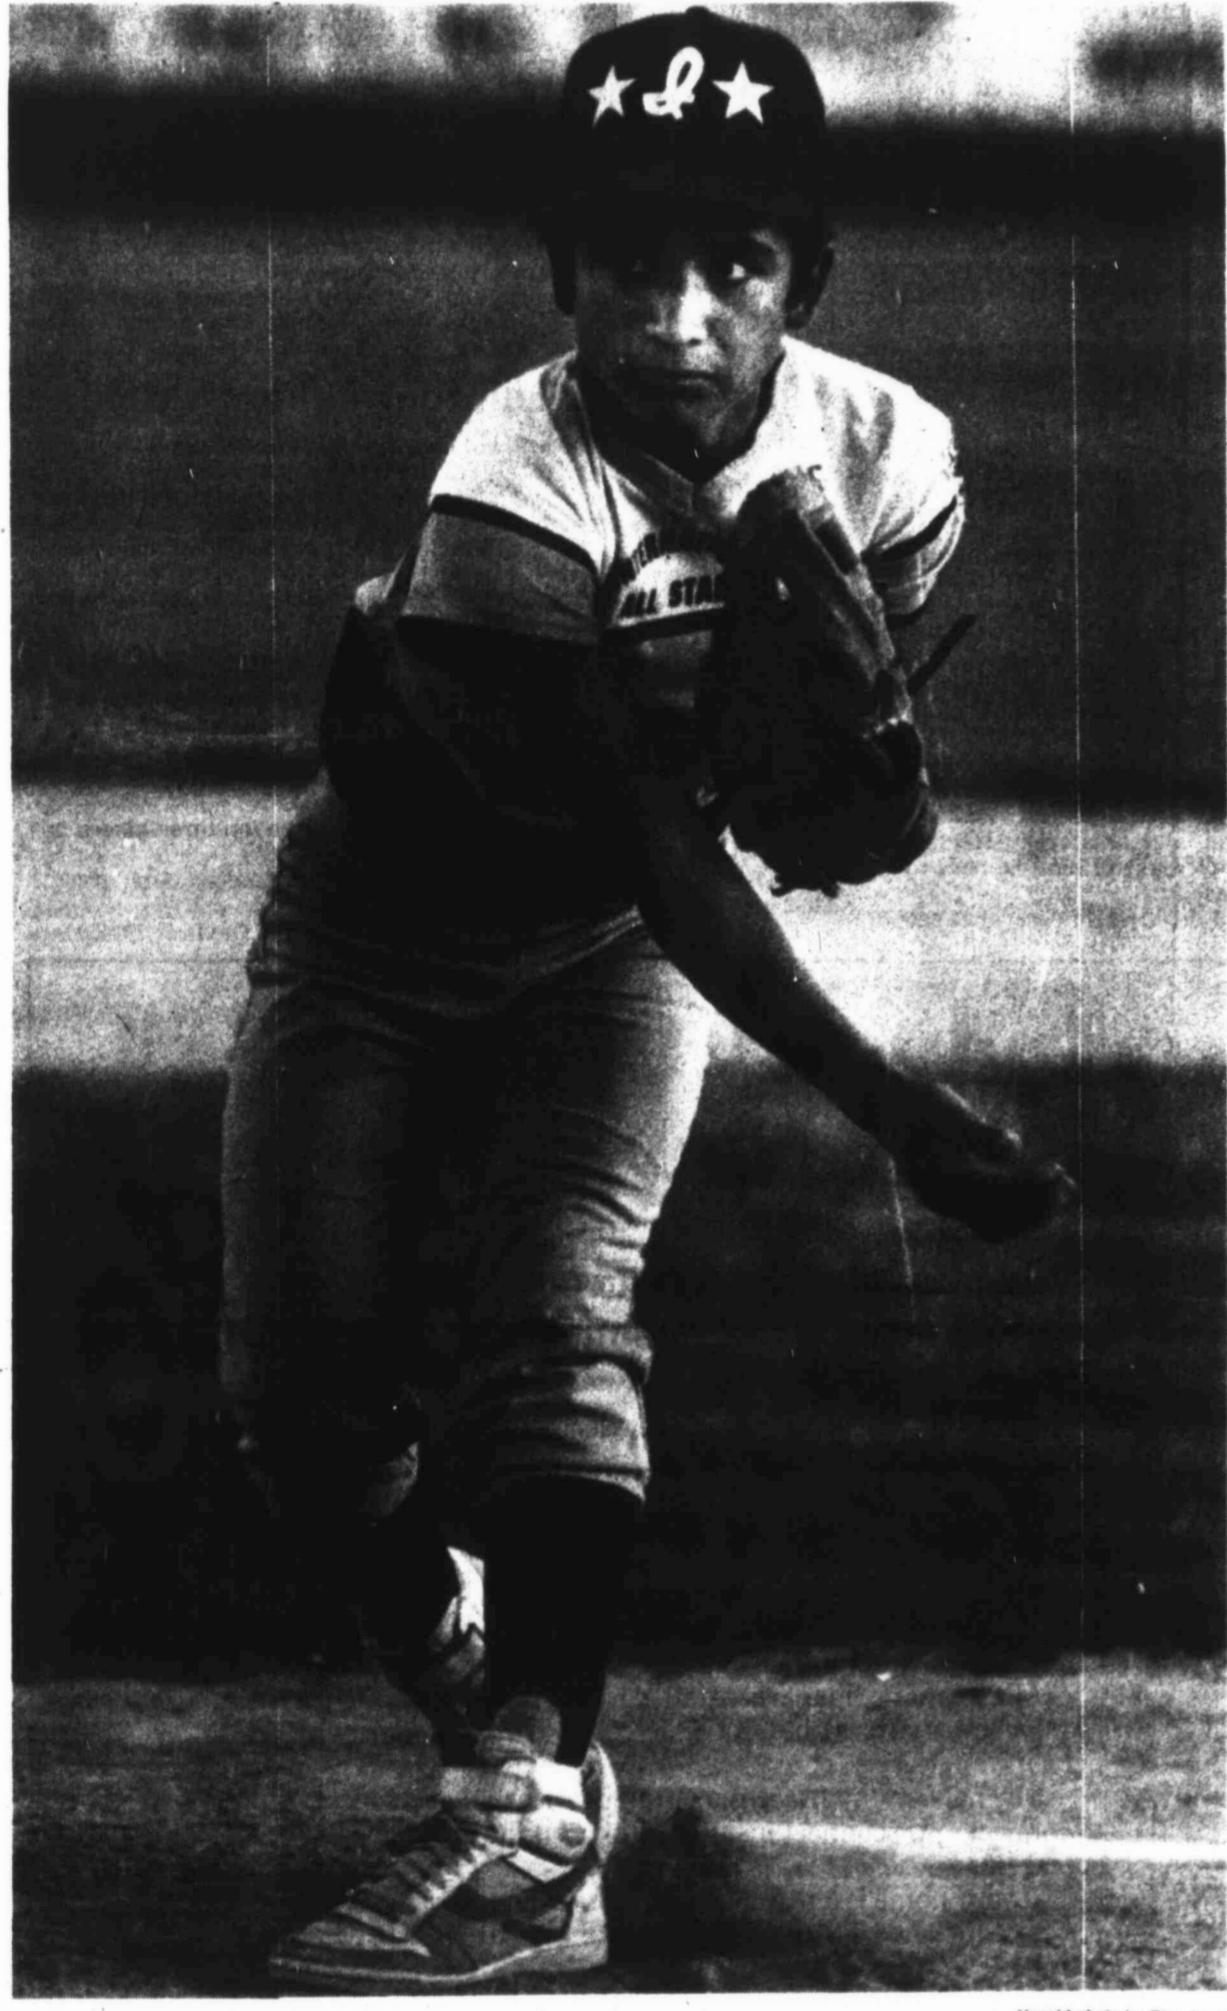

Time and time again the tall righthander blazed his fastball by opposing batters in limiting the Internationals to four hits while walking five. So dominating was Stone that he struckout the side the last four innings and fanned everyone in the Big Spring lineup at least twice with the exception of pitcher Michael Hilario and and first baseman Robert Perez. Both players got singles off Stone. Hilario didn't pitch too shabby of a game himself in going the distance. He allowed four earned runs while fanning 10 and walking five. After a scoreless first inning North Central scored an unearned run in the second inning when Randy Brown reached base on an error and scored when catcher Clay Atkinson let a pitch get by him. Two more North Central runs scored in the third inning when Hilario was touched for four hits. Singles by Stone, John Dickson, Brown and a double by Greg Rich accounted for the tallies. After North Central added another run in the fourth when Scott Melzer walked and scored when Stone reached on a error by shortstop Ben Islas, making the count 4-0. Big Spring scored its only run of the contest in the same inning when Hilario and John Flores walked and Perez singled to load the bases with no outs. After Donald Jones struckout, Stone walked Tooter Trevino scoring Hilario with the lone run. Stone regained his composure to strikeout Mark McKinney and Atkinson to end the inning. North Central went on to add three insurance runs in the final inning thanks to hits by Greg Shedly and Dickson, which was more than enough to put the Internationals one game away from elimination. Rounding out tourney action was Midland Western's 1-0 victory over the Big Spring Nationals. In tonight's action Big Spring Texas faces Big Spring Nationals at the American League Park while Midland Tower battles Big Spring International at 8 at the National League Park.

GOOD EFFORT DESPITE LOSS — Michael Hilario went the distance in the Big Spring International All-Stars loss to Midland North Central Tuesday night. Hilario struckout 10 in the District Little League Tournament game.

Big Spring, C-City basketball stars lean to Hardin-Simmons

Two area basketball standouts have made verbal commitments to play basketball at Hardin-Simmons University this year.

Monette Wise of Big Spring and Laura Baum of Colorado City have indicated they will play for coach Renee Hicks at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

Baum teamed up with Wise in the Big Spring backcourt until she moved to C-City her freshman year. She was a four year starter for the 6-3A Lady Wolves and an All-District pick the past three years. The 5-9 guard led C-City in scoring this year averaging 21 points per contest. She was also named to this year's All-Region team.

Baum said she is very excited about the possibility of playing for Hardin-Simmons. "I really happy with my choice and it's great teaming up with Monette again. I've waited four years for this."

Wise, a 5-9 guard for Big Spring High School, was named to the All-District 5-4A squad for the second consecutive time. She also received Sophomore-of-the Year honors. She was a four year letterwoman for Big Spring.

Wise was Big Spring's third leading scorer this season, averaging 12.5 points per contest. She had a season-high 24 points in the Lady Steers 68-62 victory over Odessa.

Hardin Simmons is an NCAA Division I institute. Last season the Cowgirls finished with a 7-19

Monette Wise in action for Big Spring record. Their conference, the Oil University of Texas of San Antonio, Country Conference, consists of West Texas State, Oral Roberts University of Texas-El Paso, and Oklahoma City.

Sports Briefs

Dora Roberts tournament on tap

The First Annual Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center's Women's Softball Tournament will be held at Johnny Stone Park July 27-29. The tourney is an open class, double elimination affair and trophies will be awarded to the first through fifth place teams. Individual trophies will go to members of the first, second and third place teams. A sportsmanship trophy will also be awarded along with 10 all-tourney and one MVP award.

Deadline for entering is July 25. For more information call Robbie McKnight at 267-3806 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. or 263-0998 after 5 p.m.

All proceeds from the tourney will go to benefit the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Car club will steer Big Spring course

The Sport Car Club of America will hold a race rally in Big Spring Sunday, July 21 at the Howard County Industrial Park located just off the Snyder Highway (350). Things start happening at 7 p.m.

Coahoma all-stars to be honored

COAHOMA — The Coahoma 13-18-year old Teenage Baseball League will hold its awards ceremony Thursday, July 19 at 8 p.m. at the Coahoma baseball park.

Awards will be presented to all players, after which there will be an ice cream supper following the ceremony.

UTEP narrows coaching choices

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — The process of selecting a new track coach for the University of Texas at El Paso began during the past week, with three major college coaches being chosen from a field of 40 applicants for interviews, school officials say.

Texas-El Paso Athletic Director Bill Cords said Tuesday that Tom Jones of North Carolina State, Mike Keller of the University of Idaho and Mississippi State's Bob Kitchens have interviewed for the job within the past week.

Cords would not say whether the interview process had been completed, but he said, "I am extremely pleased with the quality of candidates."

Spurs agree to contract terms with Robertson

SAN ANTONIO, Texas (AP) — Alvin Robertson is adding to his list of firsts with the San Antonio Spurs.

The 6-3 guard from the University of Arkansas was grabbed by the Spurs on the seventh pick of the first round — the highest draft slot the San Antonio team has ever had.

Tuesday, he became the highest-paid rookie in Spurs history when his agent agreed to a three-year contract.

The agent, Tom Selakovich, and Spurs owner Angelo Drossos would not reveal the financial terms of the contract.

But they did say it is for three years with an additional one-year option and a signing bonus. And they did agree the contract makes Robertson the highest-paid rookie in Spur history.

"I don't think it serves any purpose to reveal the terms," Drossos said in a news conference. "I don't think anyone could have gotten any more out of the rag."

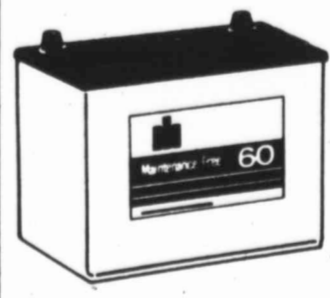

Robertson was with the Olympic basketball team in San Diego and could not be reached for comment.

However, Selakovich said Robertson is "aware of the parameters of the contract" and is pleased with it.

'Good boy' of McEnroe family approaches tennis differently

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — McEnroe's his name. Tennis is his game. But why isn't he screaming wildly about a controversial call that may have cost him the match?

And why, moments later, is he graciously signing autographs? And why, five minutes after losing, is he calmly explaining to reporters what happened? And why, after all, did he play with his right hand?

Because this McEnroe's first name is Patrick, younger brother of tennis' brilliant bad boy, Wimbledon champion John McEnroe.

"I guess in my first pro match I found out how the breaks go," was about as contentious as the apparently even-tempered 18-year-old got.

McEnroe, the second-ranked junior player in the United States, was trailing 5-4 in the third set against Francisco Gonzalez of Paraguay in the first round Tuesday of the $200,000 U.S. Pro Tennis Championships. At 30-40, Gonzalez' second serve was called out by the linesman, apparently tying the match. But the linesmen changed his mind and was upheld by the umpire.

The point was replayed. Gonzalez won that and the next two points to take the match, 6-7 (7-5), 6-3, 6-4.

"There were three marks there (where the ball landed) that were all out," McEnroe said. "I asked him if he (the umpire) could please look at it. No, he couldn't."

Showing only mild displeasure, McEnroe returned to his position, played out the game, and was accommodating to fans and reporters afterward.

His first name is Patrick, not John, and, whatever expectations people have of him, he tries to be himself.

"I don't really care what people expect from me," the blonde teenager said. "I know what I'm capable of. My parents and family and friends don't expect anything different from me. I'm not the same person as John and I'm just trying to do my own thing."

He's no newcomer to such comparisons.

"I've had it since I was about 11," McEnroe said. "I'm pretty much used to it now. I go about my business. I realize I'll probably never be as good as him. Few people are."

But, he added, "I'm trying to do the best I can and improve all the time," and big brother John is helping.

"We play when he's home, which isn't often," Patrick said. "He does (give advice), and I certainly listen intently ... I think it's an advantage for me."

Twice this year they teamed up to win doubles titles at pro tournaments. At Wimbledon earlier this month, Patrick reached the round of 16 in the junior event and lost in the second round of qualifying competition for the main draw.

But he isn't certain he'll make a career of tennis. He plans to attend Stanford, where John went, in the fall.

"I'm going to see how it (tennis) goes in college. I need to improve a lot," McEnroe said. "If I do, I may give pro tennis a shot. If not, there's a lot of other things."

He nearly didn't play tennis here this week. When Boris Becker, a West German junior player, withdrew, McEnroe got a wild-card invitation.

"I was kind of bored being home, so I was happy to get in," he said. Now that he's out, he's looking ahead to playing in several junior tournaments and hoping to get into the U.S. Open Championships in New York in late August.

His more excitable brother will be there, too. But, based on John's fine behavior at Wimbledon and his younger brother's occasional disputes Tuesday, Patrick joked that he may be the more irascible McEnroe.

"I was a little more questionable today than he, is so maybe I'm the worst one yet," he said.

Eagles softball tournament slated

The Eagles softball team will hold a Class B and under slow pitch tournament at Johnny Stone Park in Big Spring July 20-22.

Entry fee is $90 per team. Trophies will be given to the top five finishing teams and members of the first two teams will also receive individual trophies. There will be an MVP award and bat and 10 all-tourney players will receive bats.

For more information contact Warren Jeter at 394-4849 or Billy Sullivan at 394-46-88.

Main Street will be site for mile run

The First Annual Main Street Mile will be held Saturday, July 28 in conjunction with Big Spring's Heart of the City Festival.

The race starts at 7:30 p.m. and a $4 entry fee is required. Registration will start at 5:30 p.m. on the courthouse lawn or early entries can be mailed to Box 391 in Big Spring, 79720.

T-shirts will be given to all registrants and the top three places in each age division will receive awards.

Divisions for men and women include: 14 and under; 15-19; 20-29; 30-39; 40-49; 50-59; 60 and over.

For more information contact Pat Hardy or Don Davis at 263-8311.

Industry Changes Bring New Options

'Network Interface' or 'Protector' Marks Division of Responsibility

Among the many changes in the telecommunications industry is one which probably will affect you sooner or later, if it hasn't already. It deals with your connection to the telephone network. Let's start from the beginning ...

There's a device that marks the point where Southwestern Bell Telephone's lines (from a switching office) stop and where your inside wiring begins. (Inside wiring is simply the wiring inside your home.) That device is either a "network interface" or a "protector."

All telephone lines are installed with a protector (which protects against power surges), but not all telephone lines were installed with a network interface.

The network interface is a plug-in device which enables customers to connect or disconnect inside wiring from the telephone network access line.

If your home is a newer home, more than likely, it has a network interface installed either on the inside or outside close to where the telephone line comes to your home.

We started using network interfaces in 1982. If your home does not have a network interface, Southwestern Bell Telephone is responsible for the telephone line from the switching office, up to and including, the protector. This is where our lines ends and your inside wiring begins.

Until recently, we did all the installation and repair of wiring inside our customers' homes. Now that's all changed. Today, you have three options on how to handle installation and repair of inside wiring and jacks for your telephones:

- (1) hire Southwestern Bell Telephone to do it,
- (2) hire another contractor, or
- (3) save the money by doing the work yourself. Materials are readily available from numerous retail stores.

If you choose Southwestern Bell Telephone to do the work, you should know about some new charges called "Premises Work Charges," recently approved by the Public Utility Commission of Texas. The charges, which include materials, are billed according to the time required to do the job.

Here is the schedule of those charges:

PREMISES WORK CHARGES FOR JACKS AND INSIDE WIRING
		Other Times
		8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Monday-Friday	Monday-Friday All-day Saturday and Holidays
Installation	Initial 15 Minutes	$18.50	$22.75
	Each Additional 15 Minutes	$10.50	$12.50
Repair	Initial 15 Minutes	$28.25	$31.75
	Each Additional 15 Minutes	$10.50	$12.75

When we complete the work, you get a 30-day warranty against defects and malfunctions from the date of installation or repair. For your reference, keep this warranty handy.

For ease, convenience or cost savings, the choice is yours!

Families may favor simple, wholesome recipes

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor
and
RHONDA WOODALL
Lifestyle Writer

We don't know where these recipes came from. They have been sitting in our files for quite some time. They sound like some recipes our grandmothers would cook, but we don't think they are. These recipes all seem fairly easy to prepare and wholesome to eat. They also seem to be the kind of recipes that would become family favorites. Some can be prepared now; others in the fall when the vegetables are in season. We hope you will enjoy them.

MEATBALLS

- 1 lb. hamburger
- 1 cup raw ground potatoes
- 1 cup bread crumbs
- 1 onion, grated
- 1 egg
- Salt and pepper

Form into balls. Fry on all sides until brown. Put in baking dish and cover with cream of mushroom soup diluted with a little water. Cover and bake in 325 degree oven about an hour. You can substitute tomato soup or canned tomatoes for a change, if desired. Serve with creamy mashed potatoes.

OLD SOUTHERN CAKE

- 1 cup raisins or chopped dates
- 1 tsp. soda
- Over this pour 1 cup boiling water and let stand until cool.
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1 egg
- 1/2 cup walnuts
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 1/4 cup flour
- Cream sugar and shortening. Beat in egg. Alternately add flour and salt mixture and raisin mixture. Stir in walnuts. Bake in loaf pan in 350 degree oven until done.

MUFFINS

- 1/2 cup shortening or butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 cups flour
- 4 tps. baking powder
- 1 cup cold milk
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- Cream shortening and sugar. Combine eggs with milk and add to creamed mixture. Add baking powder and salt to flour; add to the first mixture. Stir just enough to dampen evenly. Fill hot, buttered, NOT greased, muffin pans 2/3 full. Bake at 400 degrees 25 to 30 minutes. Serve at once with butter, jam or jelly.

STUFFED PEPPERS

- 6 large green peppers
- 1 1/2 lb. hamburger
- 1 onion, chopped
- Pinch of thyme
- Salt and pepper
- 3 cups cooked rice
- 1 can tomato soup
- Pinch of baking soda
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 1/2 lb. ground pork sausage
- 1 tsp. poultry seasoning
- Pinch of marjoram
- 2 eggs, beaten

Dried bean gains in popularity

By TOM HOGE

AP Wine and Food Writer
The country cuisine of America has been growing steadily in popularity and nowhere has this been more pronounced than in bean cookery. For generations, both here and abroad, beans have been the mainstay of the laborer. They are hearty and usually cheap. Even today a bean dish that is the centerpiece of the meal can be cooked for a family of four for a little more than a dollar. Bean specialties have also shown up in the gourmet field, such as the Brazilian special composed of black beans and sour cream laced with spices and a little rum. One of America's favorites is the Boston baked bean classic that is still a Saturday night standby in many New England homes and a Sunday breakfast special as well in some. In America's southland the black-eyed pea still holds sway. It serves as the base for the "Hoppin' John" stew, which includes salt

QUICK AND EASY — Make a simple dish that adds elegance to your dinner. Saucy Mini Meatloaves for two can spice up any meal.

- 1 large can tomatoes
- Pinch of sugar
- 1 pt. sour cream

Remove seeds from peppers. Brown meat, onions and garlic. Cool; add seasonings, eggs and rice. Stuff peppers with mixture. Use remaining meat mixture to make extra meatballs. Place tomatoes and tomato soup in large pan. Place peppers and meatballs into this tomato mixture and heat slowly for 1 1/2 hours, covered. Let cool slightly, remove meatballs and peppers from tomato gravy. Add sour cream at room temperature to prevent curdling. Heat tomato-sour cream slowly; mix well. Add pinch of sugar and soda. Return meatballs and peppers to sauce. Heat thoroughly, but slowly. Serve with mashed potatoes or toast.

COCOA BISCUIT PUDDING

Soak nine leftover biscuits, broken in 2-inch pieces in 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Let soak until you can mash. Add 2 1/2 cups sugar, 4 heaping Tbsps. cocoa, 4 well-beaten eggs, 1/2 cup buttermilk in which you've dissolved 1/2 tsp. soda, 1 1/2 tsp. vanilla, 1 stick melted margarine. Beat Well. Grease a pyrex dish and pour this mixture in. Bake at 400 degrees about 20 to 25 minutes, or until it's done.

MEATBALLS FROM LEFTOVERS

- 2 cups leftover meat
- 1 onion, chopped
- A few boiled potatoes, chopped

- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1/2 cup bread crumbs
- 2 eggs

Grind meat, season and add other ingredients. Form into patties; roll in flour. Fry in butter.

LEFTOVER MEAT DISH CHINESE STYLE

Grind leftover meat. Mix with 1 can bean sprouts and 2 eggs; form into patties and fry in butter. Take out meat and make lots of gravy. (Add any leftover gravy and pep up with bouillon cubes, or soy packaged gravy). Add 1/4 cup soy sauce. Put patties back in gravy and simmer 10 minutes. Serve with rice.

PICKLE SQUASH

1 gal. yellow squash, sliced
4 onions, sliced and quartered
2 sweet green peppers, chopped
Put 1/2 cup salt over squash mixture and let stand three hours. Rinse and pack in clean hot sterilized jars. Add a pinch of alum in each jar. Boil:
5 cups vinegar
1 Tbsp. celery seed
1 Tbsp. tumeric
5 cups sugar
1 Tbsp. mustard seed
Pour over squash mixture and seal.

SALTY HOT PICKLES

- 3 qt. water
- 1 qt. distilled vinegar
- 1 head dill
- 1 bud garlic
- 1 cup canning salt
- 1 hot red pepper

Role of garlic is controversial issue

By TOM HOGE

AP Wine and Food Writer
Most people have fixed ideas about garlic. They either love the herb or hate it. I am among those who crave the controversial seasoning, and it was with delight that I finally read Lloyd J. Harris' exhaustive study of this cousin of the onion. ("The Book Of Garlic." Panjandrum-Aris Books, 11321 Iowa, No. 1, Los Angeles, CA 90025.) Among other things, the book tells of garlic's medicinal role over the centuries. Sometimes called Russian penicillin, it is one of the natural herbal remedies still used by the Soviets. At one point, the U.S.S.R. is said to have imported 500 tons of garlic during a flu epidemic.

The ancient Babylonians were garlic buffs and one Babylonian ruler reportedly had 395,000 bushels of the herb delivered to the court in a single batch.

Garlic was prized as a medium of exchange in Egypt. And the authorities there fed a diet of garlic, onions and radishes to thousands of workers laboring to build the great pyramid of Cheops.

When he passed through the Yunnan region of China, Marco Polo said he saw people eating raw liver, chopped and flavored with garlic.

Centuries later, the herb received a warm reception in France, particularly in Provence, where the peasants eat garlic on black bread for breakfast.

The British gave garlic a cool reception and were said to have sought some means of disguising the smell, but little was done. The Japanese are said to have developed an odorless fresh garlic, however. No mean feat, since it is estimated that one millionth of an ounce can be detected on one's breath.

Garlic is a key ingredient in gourmet dishes everywhere, but no one uses more of the herb than the Chinese, I believe.

Cucumbers
Pinch of alum
Have dill pickle size cucumbers at room temperature. Wash and dry. Pack in jars and add 1 head dill, 1 hot red pepper and 1 bud garlic and a pinch of alum in each jar. Heat vinegar, salt and water to boiling. Pour over pickles and seal. Be sure the jars are hot so they will seal.

DATE TORTE

- 4 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 Tbsp. flour (Yes, 1 Tbsp. is right)
- 1 cup walnuts
- 1 cup chopped dates
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- Beat eggs very light; add sugar and vanilla. Mix flour, baking powder, dates and nuts to egg mixture. Bake 45 minutes in 325 degree oven. Serve with whipped cream.

PEAR RELISH

- 1 peck pears
- 12 green peppers
- 4 cups sugar
- 1 Tbsp. salt
- 12 medium onions
- 3 hot red peppers
- 3 cups vinegar
- Grind onion and pepper. Let drain. Grind pears. Catch the pear juice to add to the mixture. Mix all together, add vinegar, sugar, salt and the juice. Cook for 30 minutes. Seal. Makes 12 pints.

BAKED CHOP SUEY

- 1 pound hamburger
- 1 medium onion, diced
- 1 cup diced celery
- 1 can cream of chicken soup
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 can Chinese noodles
- 1 1/2 cup hot water
- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup raw rice
- Brown meat, onion and celery in a skillet. Add soups, soy sauce, water and rice. Stir and put in covered casserole and bake at 375 degrees from 25 minutes. Uncover and bake another 20 minutes. Cover the mixture with Chinese noodles and bake 10 minutes more.

CHEESE FRANKS

- 1 pound (8 to 10) frankfurters
- 6 ounces roll process cheese food-pepper, garlic, smoky or bacon flavor
- 3 ounce package corn chips, coarsely crushed
- Split frank lengthwise, cutting only about 3/4 the way through. Place in shallow baking dish. Spread cut surfaces with cheese food; sprinkle cheese generously with crushed chips. Bake at 350 degrees until heated through about 15 minutes. Serve four or five.

CARTWHEELS

- 8 wieners
- 8 slices processed American cheese
- Catsup, pickle relish or chili sauce
- 4 hamburger buns, cut in half
- Cut wieners crosswise into 1/2 inch sections. Do not cut all the way through. Arrange halves of buns on rack of broiler pan. Place cheese slices on bun halves. Arrange the cut wieners in circles on the cheese covered buns. Place broiler pan on oven rack and broil 5 minutes or until the wieners are curled and the cheese is light golden brown. If desired, fill the center with catsup, pickle relish or chili sauce.

CORN DOGS

- 1 cup pancake mix
- 1 Tbsp. sugar
- 8 frankfurters
- 2 Tbsps. cornmeal
- 3/4 water
- Stir dry ingredients together. Add water; beat with rotary beater for two minutes. Dip franks in batter with tongs. Drain off excess. Fry in hot deep fat about 2 1/2 minutes. Drain on brown paper. Insert skewers. Serve with mustard and catsup. Serves four.

RANCHER'S PUDDING

- 2 Tbsps. butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 2 cups flour
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. salt
- Cream butter with sugar. Add milk. Sift together flour, nutmeg, soda and salt. Mix ingredients together into a smooth batter. Add one cup raisins or nuts and two teaspoon vanilla. Spread into bottom of a 13-x-9 inch pan. Pour hot sauce carefully over batter. Bake for 30 minutes at 375 degrees.

SAUCE

- 2 cups brown sugar
- 4 cups boiling water
- 4 Tbsps. margarine
- Place on heat until all is dissolved.

SAUCY MINI MEAT LOAVES

- 1/2 pound lean ground beef
- 2 Tbsps. finely chopped green pepper
- 2 Tbsps. finely chopped onion
- 1/4 cup wheat germ
- 1 (7 1/4 ounce) can ready-to-serve low sodium tomato soup
- 1 egg

- 2 tps. beef flavor instant bouillon
- 1/4 tsp. basil leaves
- 1/4 tsp. oregano leaves
- Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In medium bowl, combine meat green pepper, onion, wheat germ, 1/4 cup soup, egg, bouillon, basil and oregano; mix well. In shallow baking pan, shape meat mixture into two loaves. Bake for 20 minutes. Remove from oven; pour off fat. Spoon remaining soup over loaves; bake for ten minutes longer. Refrigerate leftovers. Makes two servings.

MACARONI SALAD

- 1 1/2 cups uncooked macaroni
- 1 green bell pepper, diced
- 1 small jar pimento olives, cut up
- 2 Tbsps. vinegar
- 1 grated carrot
- 1 chopped onion
- 2 heaping Tbsps. mayonnaise
- Cook macaroni according to directions on box. Cool and mix with olives and vegetables. Sprinkle vinegar over and toss. Season with salt and pepper. Thin mayonnaise with one tablespoon of olive juice and mix into salad. Season with freshly ground pepper and a little celery seed.

CHICKEN SALAD

- To each cup of cut-up chicken add:
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 Tbsp. chopped onion
- 2 Tbsps. chopped green pepper
- 2 Tbsps. cubed sweet pickle
- 2 Tbsps. chopped pimento olives
- 1 Tbsp. vinegar
- 1 tsp. poultry seasoning
- 1 grated carrot
- 2 Tbsps. mayonnaise
- Mix chicken, vegetables and olives. Sprinkle with vinegar and toss. Thin mayonnaise with 1 Tbsp. olive juice and mix into salad. Add freshly ground pepper and poultry seasoning. Serve on crisp lettuce.

CHILI MEAT

- 1 pound suet ground
- 2 pounds lean hamburger
- 2 Tbsps. minced garlic
- 1/4 tsp. cayenne pepper
- 1 Tbsp. cumin powder
- 2 Tbsps. chili powder
- 1 Tbsp. salt
- Fry suet until fat is well cooked out. Add hamburger and garlic and continue cooking. Add rest of ingredients, mixing well. Have heat fairly hot at first, then lower heat and cook slowly until all the moisture is cooked out and only the beef fat remains with the meat. This takes at least a couple of hours. Taste for seasoning and add more salt and chili powder if needed. Pour into a bowl to cool. It will harden so that it can be cut, and will keep well in the refrigerator. It also freezes well.

Grand Jury to hear cases

Howard County grand jurors today will consider whether to indict more than 30 persons in separate cases, including former Big Spring car dealer Anthony Ginnetti on one county of theft of more than $20,000.

Local law enforcement officials suspect Ginnetti, the former owner of Car City Auto Sales and Service Inc. on Marcy, of defrauding involving local banks and private individuals of more than half a million dollars.

Hamby is seeking to indict Ginnetti on an April 11 incident involving the use of fake car titles to secure a loan from the Coahoma State Bank. According to complaints for an arrest warrant filed by bank officials with Justice of the Peace Lewis Hefflin, Ginnetti may have defrauded the bank of $250,000.

Ginnetti also is wanted on another Howard County and a Swisher County warrant, both for felony theft of more than $20,000, and on an FBI fugitive flight warrant. He may also face federal charges under federal banking laws.

● Faustino Rios, 33, of 307 N.W. Ninth may be indicted for murder in the Oct. 17, 1983, shooting death of 31-year-old Elida Gutierrez Luna, who was found shot in the early morning of Oct. 17 in the back seat of a 1978 Lincoln Continental in a convenience store parking lot in Big Spring.

Ms. Luna died later the same day of two gunshot wounds in her chest and in both hands, despite surgery at Malone-Hogan Hospital, according to a hospital spokeswoman. Rios also received gunshot wounds in his chest in the same incident, according to police.

● The grand jury also will hear evidence from an investigation into the shooting death of Carla Perry, a Department of Human Resources employee. The case was passed by the May grand jury pending further investigation.

According to the District Attorney's office, Mrs. Perry's husband, Richard, claimed his wife died accidentally when he tried to take the gun away from her. Perry told police his wife was trying to commit suicide.

Mrs. Perry had filed for divorce earlier in the week. Also facing indictment are:

- Monico Delgado, 73, of 1004 N. Rannels; for sexual abuse of a child.
- Facundo Rodriguez, 66, of Coahoma; for indecency with a child.
- Ricardo Tobias Gomez, 34, of Achery; William Stewart Froman, 23, of 1400 E. Fourth; and Regina Payne, 17, of 509 S. Johnson; for felony delivery of marijuana. The three are suspected of being involved in a delivery on March 13.
- Albert Aguerro, 32, of 301 N.E. 11th and his brother George Aguerro, 34, of 4397 Walnut; for theft from a person.
- Leroy Aldridge Jr., 28, of 1317 Mobile; for a March 27 burglary.
- Manuel Bruce Armstrong, 23, of 1104 1/2 E. 11th; for hindering a secured creditor.
- Holston Banks Jr., 18, of 1108 N.W. Seventh; for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.
- Sharon Bernice Blackwell, no age given, of Lubbock; for forgery.
- Larry Deleon, 37, of Roswell, N.M.; for theft by check.
- Manuel Molina Garcia, 24, of Lamesa; for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.
- Juanita Gonzalez, 33, of Route 2; for theft by check.
- James Gunn, 21, of Route 1; for a June 21 burglary of a building.
- Lorenzo Jackson Jr., 30, of 906 N.W. Second; for unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.
- Richard David Long, 30, of 2911 W. Highway 80; for felony driving while intoxicated on March 15.
- Jackie Morris, 17, of 104 Lockhart; for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon.
- Arturo Sotelo, 23, of Fort Stockton; for the May 30 burglary of a building.
- Tonya Starr, 22, of 1900 Morrison or 2501 Hunter; for the unauthorized use of a motor vehicle.
- Brenda Thompson, 26, of 4297 W. Highway 90; for forgery by passing.
- Rose Angel Valdes Jr., 22, of 632 N.W. Third; for credit card abuse.
- Kell Vann, 28, of 2614 Hunter; for forgery.
- Larry Don Stephens, 22, of 200 Brown; for theft by check.

TESCO sets new sizzling mark

Texas Utilities Electric Company set a new summer peak demand Monday, the second time last year's record has been broken, according to Big Spring Texas Electric Service Company division manager Hooper Sanders.

Monday's demand was 14,737 megawatts, an increase of 5 percent over last summer's record, according to Sanders. Texas Utilities serves an area bounded on the east by Tyler, the north by Wichita Falls, the south by Waco and the west by Monahans.

"We were only predicting an increase in peak demand of 4 percent," Sanders said. He said Monday's record could be broken later this summer.

According to Sanders, the higher-than-projected growth in peak demand underscores the need for the Comanche Peak Nuclear Plant near Glen Rose, which he said would have a generating capacity of 2,300 megawatts when both units are complete.

Bird conference set July 28

The Agricultural Extension Service and U.S. Big Spring Field Station are sponsoring a Texas Game Bird Conference July 28 at Texas A&M University in College Station for local game bird breeders.

The conference, which begins at 9 a.m. in the Kleberg Center on the A&M campus, is also sponsored by the A&M Department of Poultry Science.

Speakers at the conference include: Mickey Olson of Glendale, Az., on ornamental game birds; Edward Kozicky of Alton, Ill., the longtime director of conservation for Winchester-Weston, on developing strong-flying quail; Bill Whalen of Hanover, Ill., on mallards; Jean Marc Ridel of Pefferlaw, Canada on partridge production; and avian pathologists Charles Hall and Leland Grumbles, professors in A&M's department of veterinarian microbiology, on quail disease and avian influenza.

Individual registration costs are $18 for the day-long conference. Tickets for spouses cost $6. Registration fees cover the conference cost, a barbecue lunch and two coffee breaks. Printed material is $2 extra.

An "early-bird special" entitles local game-bird breeders who postmark their applications by midnight July 21 to a reduced rate of $14.

For more information, call Dennis Poole at the Howard County Extension office at 267-1821 or Kaye at (409)845-4318.

Pretty prosecutor

Gets ugly in court with criminals

DENTON (AP) — Lee Gabriel has been accused of ranting and raving during closing arguments at criminal trials, but she says she does it to find justice for victims of crimes.

LEE GABRIEL

She has said she is in law not for political reasons, but because she believes in her role as a prosecutor. And being a woman, and the only female Denton County felony prosecutor, in a field still dominated by men has not presented any problems.

"The only roadblocks you create are for yourself," Ms. Gabriel said. "There are occasions you will run into a hardliner who doesn't believe a woman should be there (in the courtroom), but that's not an insurmountable problem."

In fact, the 29-year-old prosecutor said it can be advantageous.

"I can talk to jurors and get a reaction men can't," she said, adding, "If you go into a courtroom with a chip on your shoulder, people are going to see it. Other attorneys are going to see it and it will be a problem."

Ms. Gabriel's mother, whom she describes as the "best role model," never warned her about sex discrimination when she was growing up in West Texas. She said her mother's work in special education in the San Angelo School District made her mother "a career woman long before it was fashionable."

When Ms. Gabriel was a junior majoring in political science at Texas Tech, she decided to become an attorney.

"I didn't follow in my father's footsteps or follow in my grandfather's footsteps (to become a lawyer). It wasn't anything like that," she said. "It just sounded like a neat idea."

After graduating from Texas Tech in the top 10 percent of her law class in 1980, she was appointed as a law clerk for Chief Federal Judge Halbert O. Woodward for the Northern District of Texas.

In this position, which she described as a "wonderful job," she would sit through all the trials Woodward presided over, take notes, discuss the cases with the judge and write legal opinions. She said she has "more respect and admiration" for Woodward than any other person she has met.

"I really like the formality of federal court. It is a whole different world (from state court)," she said, adding, "You see the cream of the crop of attorneys in federal court. I picked up a lot of things from them."

world (from state court)," she said, adding, "You see the cream of the crop of attorneys in federal court. I picked up a lot of things from them."

But after dealing with the mostly civil caseload in federal court, she decided to pursue her interest in criminal law. She became a Denton County assistant district attorney in 1982.

"When I walk into court, all the inhibitions and reservations I have about myself disappear," she said, adding her job has helped her overcome her shyness.

In her two years as an assistant, she has successfully prosecuted individuals accused of murder, rape and other felonies.

Of her prosecutor role Ms. Gabriel said, "Logically, I buy all the arguments that a person is innocent until proven guilty, that they have a right to a fair trial and a right to the best representation at that trial until they are found guilty by a jury. I know that's right."

Ms. Gabriel said she inevitably will go into private practice and be faceted with defending criminals. "Emotionally I would have trouble defending someone who I know is guilty. But I haven't had to deal with that yet."

The murder trial of Eduardo Alcala, a 21-year-old man who received 99 years in prison for killing watch shop owner Porter Brockette in December, is one of the cases she considers her best.

"In my opinion it was the best coordinated work among police agencies I have had the privilege to deal with," she said. "My confidence was high."

Her toughest case to prosecute was the murder trial of Jerry Deanne Cullom, a 20-year-old woman who received a 15-year prison sentence in the November beating death of her 1-month-old son. "It was a very emotional case, but I was personally satisfied with the outcome."

She said she has learned a great deal about the criminal justice system from the trials in which she has prosecuted and from jurors.

After a recent rape trial, some jurors told Ms. Gabriel they never wanted to go through such an experience again.

"I forget how traumatic it is for them to listen to a girl's (the rape victim) story because I hear it every day. I get desensitized to it," she explained.

Some of her cases do not end in the result she desires. She sums those cases with a quote from 158th District Court Judge Jack Gray — "Even the best chef in France can't make an Easter ham out of a sow's ear."

Such cases afford her the chance to learn the hard way, she said, which is best. District Attorney Jerry Cobb allows each prosecutor to make his or her own decisions about a case.

SHOPKEEPER — Booster Moore still sells the town of Ben Wheeler what it needs from his small General Store downtown.

A nice place to do business

An economic revival puts life back into 'jerk water town'

BEN WHEELER (AP) — Who was Ben Wheeler?

The old timers in this rural community tucked away just south of Texas Highway 64 between Tyler and Canton say they know — or at least they've heard the stories. And they remember when Ben Wheeler was home to many more than the estimated 250 souls it claims today.

"I can remember when people were so thick on the sidewalks you had to walk on the streets to get across town," says retired Ben Wheeler barber Shad McNeill.

McNeill cut hair in his shop on the main street (it doesn't have a name) for 50 years. At 83, he says, he's the community's oldest resident. Well, almost.

"One man here is about three or four months older than I am," he confides. But, he adds, that gentleman hasn't lived here for as many years. McNeill has 60 years sunk in Ben Wheeler.

When he was 23, he recalls, he was on his way to Colorado from his home community of Colfax, also in Van Zandt County.

"I came to Ben Wheeler to get a shave and a haircut, and asked the barber if he needed a hand." The barber needed help, and McNeill stayed.

"This town's been up and down the hill,"

McNeill says.

When the young barber started cutting hair for 25 cents in 1924, Ben Wheeler was on top.

Pre-Depression Ben Wheeler boasted three barber shops, two drug stores, two doctors, a bank, a hotel, a school with 11 grades, even a college — but no bars — McNeill recalls.

M.L. Moore, Booster Moore's father, built the first grocery store in Ben Wheeler in 1905. Booster Moore as 2 then.

"M.L. Moore's General Merchandise" store is still the focal point of the community, and his son, M.L. Moore Jr., seems destined to carry on. The younger Moore and his family opened a new convenience store and service station on the highway this month. When talk turns to the future in Ben Wheeler, the new store is usually first on residents' lips.

Booster Moore recalls the community's boom times, and his childhood spent in them with grins.

"I can remember as a kid on Christmas holidays, one side of the town fought the other side of the town with Roman candles — 30 shooters," he says. Ben Wheeler had a central square then, Moore says. But the merchants whose stores were set back about 200 feet from the main street moved their buildings forward on wooden rollers. "That took up half of the town square."

During one Roman candle duel, "One fellow 'bout got burned up when a ball got in his coat pocket," Moore recalls. The flaming youth beat a hasty retreat to the fire station where his coat was doused.

Ben Wheeler's boom wound down with the nation's when the bottom dropped out of the stock market in 1929. Memories of the Great Depression are fresh on Leland Davidson's mind. The retired farmer's grandfather settled in Ben Wheeler, and Davidson has spent his entire 71 years there.

Davidson recalls the times of no work. "They said they needed men to spread gravel on the highway for 33 cents per hour. More than 150 men turned out," he says. "I happened to be one of the lucky ones."

McNeill got by — barely — by cutting hair. "You didn't make debts 'cause you couldn't pay 'em back," he remembers of those times.

The 1929 discovery of the Van oil field took some of the edge off the bad times, Davidson says. He recalls the town's dance halls with names like "The Blue Moon," and "Texas Slim." An enterprising daredevil once spent 30 days buried alive in front of a dance hall, he says. The man charged 10 cents a peek down a wooden shaft that led to the casket.

NEED A JOB? THEY CAN FIND THE RIGHT ONE ...Ruby Taroni, one of the experienced counselors at Big Spring Employment.

Big Spring Employment Puts Right Person In Job

Bringing the right job and the right applicant together is the specialty of Sue Brown and Ruby Taroni — the experienced personnel counselors at Big Spring Employment Agency in Coronado Plaza.

They bring a high degree of success to the applicant looking for a rewarding job and to the employer hoping to find the most qualified applicant.

Sue and Ruby have many contacts in the job market, carefully cultivated over the years. But perhaps even more important are the sincerity and genuine concern with which they approach each quest.

Big Spring Employment carefully evaluates each applicant so employers do not waste time interviewing persons not qualified for the job opening. The agency refers only those who measure up to the job's requirements.

This assures a smaller personnel turnover, and the efficiency of employees tends to rise once on the job.

Big Spring Employment carries on an extensive testing program in the area of office skills, exposing applicants to personnel tests in business and industrial situations.

All services are handled on a confidential basis.

Many highly qualified job applicants prefer to use the services of a private employment agency, thus protecting their own identity.

From the minimum-wage clerk to the highly-paid executive, job applicants come to Big Spring Employment because they know private agencies are specialists in job-hunting.

Because of experience and contacts, the company can place applicants in jobs sooner than the applicant can find a job himself.

Applicants desiring employment in other parts of the state or country can be referred for interviews through associated agencies.

Inquiries are welcome; call Sue or Ruby at 267-2535.

Midway Plumbing Stresses Quality Sales, Service

Quality is a commodity that is not emphasized as much as it used to be. But when you, the consumer, spend your money on a product or service, you deserve to get the best available. That's what they strive for at Midway Plumbing and Supply.

Their showroom is stocked with the finest in fixtures and supplies — from faucets to a complete line of bath fixtures.

Gary Belew and Arvin Henry, co-owners of Midway Plumbing and Supply, stress that their company's main aim is to provide quality service to their customers.

The firm is moving soon to a new and larger location in a solar heated building now under construction across I-20 from its present location. The building will house a larger workshop, larger showroom, and a display area for sales and information on solar systems.

In addition to Gary and Arvin, the staff includes Bonnie Foster and Colleen Henry in the showroom/office; Alan Matthes and Chuck Hesson, plumbers; and Paul Dunlap and David Buchanan, helpers.

Midway Plumbing and Supply is located about six miles from Big Spring. Take the Moss Lake Exit off I-20 East. Phone 393-5294.

7/18/84

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JULY 19, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You will have all sorts of wonderful and unique ideas now for getting ahead and being able to get together with the most interesting persons with whom you are acquainted.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Know what your goals are for the days ahead and good friends can help you to attain them more easily. Be active and happy.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Seek out advisors who can give you the information you need and then use it wisely and advance in your career. Increase happiness.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Good day to make new contacts and turn them into worthwhile friends. Some new idea will help you gain aim that means a lot to you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Get busy in the outside world and put aside home problems for the moment. You can accomplish a great deal at this time.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Some new condition inspires you to greater advancement in your career. If you have to travel some distance for a good purpose, do so.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Plan how to gain greater benefits but along more modern and ethical lines. Show your mate that you are broad-minded.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A dynamic new partner should have your cooperation so that you can get ahead faster by combining forces. Be clever.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to be more enthused at your work and you can get ahead of the game now. Try to understand the ideas of co-workers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Try a new tack where recreations are concerned and you can enjoy them much more, and spend less.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You had better talk matters over with kin before you make any changes there that you have in mind.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Stick to desk work and get it done accurately and efficiently. Have a little fun in the evening.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can initiate a new plan now that can be very good for you now and in the future, so get busy on it.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one who will be able to get into anything that is of an up-to-date nature so slant the education along modern lines for the greatest success in life. Definitely send to college and start saving now for the tuition.
