Q. If you let water set out overnight will it make the water safer to drink?

A. Big Spring-Howard County Health Department supervisor and sanitarian James Luck said "no, setting out water doesn't do anything" to remove certain elements in the water.

Luck explained that recent information on trihalomethenes in the city water may be frightening some residents, but he advised the local water is drinkable.

Luck said tests on the water "have shown no immediate danger" from drinking the water and that the city is conducting tests on alternate means of sanitizing the water.

McDonald's massacre Gunman kills 20 in California restaurant

SAN YSIDRO, Calif. (AP) — A fired security guard shouted "I've killed thousands and I'll kill thousands more" as he turned a McDonald's into a slaughterhouse, shooting 20 people to death before police killed him. It was believed to be the worst one-day massacre by one man in U.S. history.

Twenty others were injured, four critically, in Wednesday's rampage, which lasted 90 minutes before a police marksman felled the gunman, James Oliver Huberty, 41, authorities said. His targets ranged from an infant girl to a 60-year-old woman.

Huberty, clad in jungle fatigues and a black T-shirt, burst into the border-town restaurant about 4 p.m. with a semi-automatic rifle, a shotgun and a handgun and began methodically firing at diners, employees and passers-by, pausing to reload each time his weapons were emptied, authorities said.

When he died, he still had a shoulder bag full of ammunition and "more ammunition out in his car.... If he had not been shot, he would have injured a lot more people," said San Diego police Lt. Paul Yberrando.

Huberty was using armor-piercing bullets, said Police Chief William B. Kolender.

Police sharpshooter Charles Foster was able to pick the gunman off as he wandered through the bullet-riddled, blood-spattered restaurant.

"It's a slaughterhouse. They're just executed," said Lt. Bill Nelson.

Authorities knew of no motive for the shootings.

The San Diego Blood Bank put out a plea today for "blood donors of all types to replace the blood that was used last night.... We sent out 60 pints," said spokeswoman Lynn Stedd.

Huberty lived with his wife Etna and two daughters, aged 11 and 14, in an apartment 200 yards from the restaurant and had moved to the San Diego area seven months ago from Ohio, Yberrando said. He was fired last week from his job at a security guard at a condominium project, Yberrando said, describing Huberty as "possibly psychotic."

A neighbor told The Los Angeles Times that Huberty's daughter said her parents had fought earlier in the day. Other neighbors said Huberty was a reserved but angry man and recalled incidents in which he had fired guns.

He was "a quiet man who seemed like he was always mad at somebody. He was always frowning," said Sandra Martinez, assistant manager at the Cottonwood Apartments, where Huberty lived.

Another neighbor said Huberty had once fired a shot to scare off someone he thought was trying to steal his motorcycle.

Huberty and his family had moved to California seven months ago from Massillon, Ohio. He became bitter when he lost his welding job with the closing of a Babcock & Wilcox power plant at Canton, Ohio, said Stark County sheriff's Deputy Terry Kelly, who worked with Huberty.

"He said that if this was the end of his making a living for his family, he was going to take everyone with him," Kelly told the Akron Beacon Journal in a copyright story. "He was always talking about shooting somebody."

Kelly described him as a "radical" who worried about nuclear war and Soviet aggression and a survivalist who bought and hoarded "thousands of dollars of See Massacre page 2-A

It's Fritz Hart, Jackson pledge support for Mondale

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Walter Mondale, even as he prepares to accept his hard-won presidential nomination, is acting swiftly to pull the Democratic Party together for his campaign to oust Ronald Reagan from the White House.

The Democratic presidential nominee planned to take time out from polishing his acceptance speech to attend a victory luncheon today with Senate and House Democratic campaign officials as part of his effort to achieve maximum cooperation among party candidates at all levels.

In his post-victory visit to the convention hall, Mondale reached out to supporters of Sen. Gary Hart and the Rev. Jesse Jackson.

"I also want to say a word to those of you who supported other candidates," he said, appearing on the podium less than an hour after his first-ballot victory.

"Sometimes it doesn't feel very good to lose," he added. "I know, because it's happened to me in the past. I not only ask the support of those of you who've given me your support, but I've got to have the help of everyone ...

"It's not just my cause, it's our cause."

The night he became his party's presidential nominee was a moment Mondale had fought for years to achieve.

He first sought the presidency in 1974 but dropped his bid after concluding he didn't have the stomach for the ordeal of a two-year campaign. Two years later he was Jimmy Carter's choice for vice president.

Within days of the Carter-Mondale ticket's defeat in 1980, Mondale met with top aides in his White House office and told them to put him in a position to be nominated for president in 1984.

The road to that nomination was rougher than Mondale or his aides expected.

Pereira to keep tax district post

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

The chief appraiser for the Howard County Consolidated Tax District, Gene Pereira, will retain his job, despite public calls for his removal.

The five-member district board of directors discussed "personnel and pending contracts," according to the agenda, for an hour and 15 minutes during a meeting Wednesday afternoon at the county courthouse before announcing they would take no action on their discussion.

Board members refused to reveal what was discussed.

After the executive session, board Chairman Billy T. Smith told the approximately 50 persons waiting in the county courtroom, "The board has reached no decision as far as the item we discussed in executive session."

Smith then called for a motion to adjourn, and board members left the room quickly to a grumbling audience.

Smith had "no comment" when asked whether the board discussed the possibility of terminating Pereira. When he was asked whether the board discussed the hiring or firing of any district personnel, he replied, "I told you no comment."

Board members most likely discussed Pereira's resignation, based on comments at previous meetings. Board members D.D. Johnston and Harold Pearce had told the more than 100 persons at the board's June meeting they would put the item on the agenda.

Pereira angered many Howard County residents earlier in the year when they received notices of the new appraised values of their real estate, showing their valuations had jumped by as much as 200 percent in some cases in a year when the real estate market is described by real estate agents as "soft."

The new valuations were tossed out in favor of the 1983 values, with certain exceptions. Under state See Tax board page 2-A

Paper to return as Martin News

By LUIS RIOS
Staff Writer

STANTON — The Stanton Reporter, which ceased publication a week ago today, will resume weekly publication under the name of Martin County News beginning Friday, said Bonnie Witt of the First National Bank of Stanton.

Bank president Ed Lawson said today neither he nor the bank had purchased the Reporter as reported Wednesday.

Lawson, who was out of town Tuesday and Wednesday, was not available for comment before today.

First National Bank of Stanton held the mortgage on the newspaper under former owners and publishers Grant and Connie Mabry, Mrs. Witt said.

Marby, who left Stanton last Thursday, is scheduled to start working for the Wharton Journal-Spectator in August.

"We are keeping the paper going for the benefit of the community," said Lawson. "The bank is taking responsibility. We did not purchase the paper."

Mrs. Witt, Lawson's secretary, said, "The bank has a responsibility of having it just closed or having it printed on an interim basis until a buyer can be found."

"The bank has no wish to be in the position that we are in," she said. "The bank is not the sole owner (of the newspaper)."

The printing of the newspaper will be done by Feather Printing of Midland, she said. Larry Speck is listed as the publisher of the new newspaper, she said. The newspaper will be printed on Wednesday and distributed on Thursdays with the exception of the first edition, she said.

The announcement for ceasing publication came as a surprise, Mrs. Witt said.

"They (Mabry's) had the option of remaining in business until they could find a buyer," Mrs. Witt said. "It was a surprise to us they chose not to do this."

Witt said the bank hopes the News will be self-sufficient and will See Paper page 2-A

Weather

Rain continues in area

By The Associated Press
Scattered showers and thundershowers lingered over parts of West and Southwest Texas this morning.

The activity was along the remains of an old frontal boundary, extending from the upper Texas Coast into South Central Texas and into the Trans Pecos region.

Thunderstorms also fell early today over the northern Texas Panhandle, in conjunction with a low pressure trough that was moving out of eastern Colorado and New Mexico.

Overnight temperatures were mostly in the 60s and 70s, ranging from 66 at Amarillo and Dalhart to 80 at Victoria, Cotulla and Del Rio.

Thunderstorms pounded scattered locations across the Southwest early today as other storms erupted over the Gulf Coast states and snaked up the southern Atlantic Coast.

Cool weather settled into the Ohio Valley and the Great Lakes region. Fair weather prevailed across the West Coast and the northeastern corner of the nation.

A sudden thunderstorm burst Wednesday over San Bernardino and Riverside counties, east of Los Angeles, unleashing floodwaters that caused $2 million in property damage and took the life of an 8-year-old girl who drowned when she was swept away.

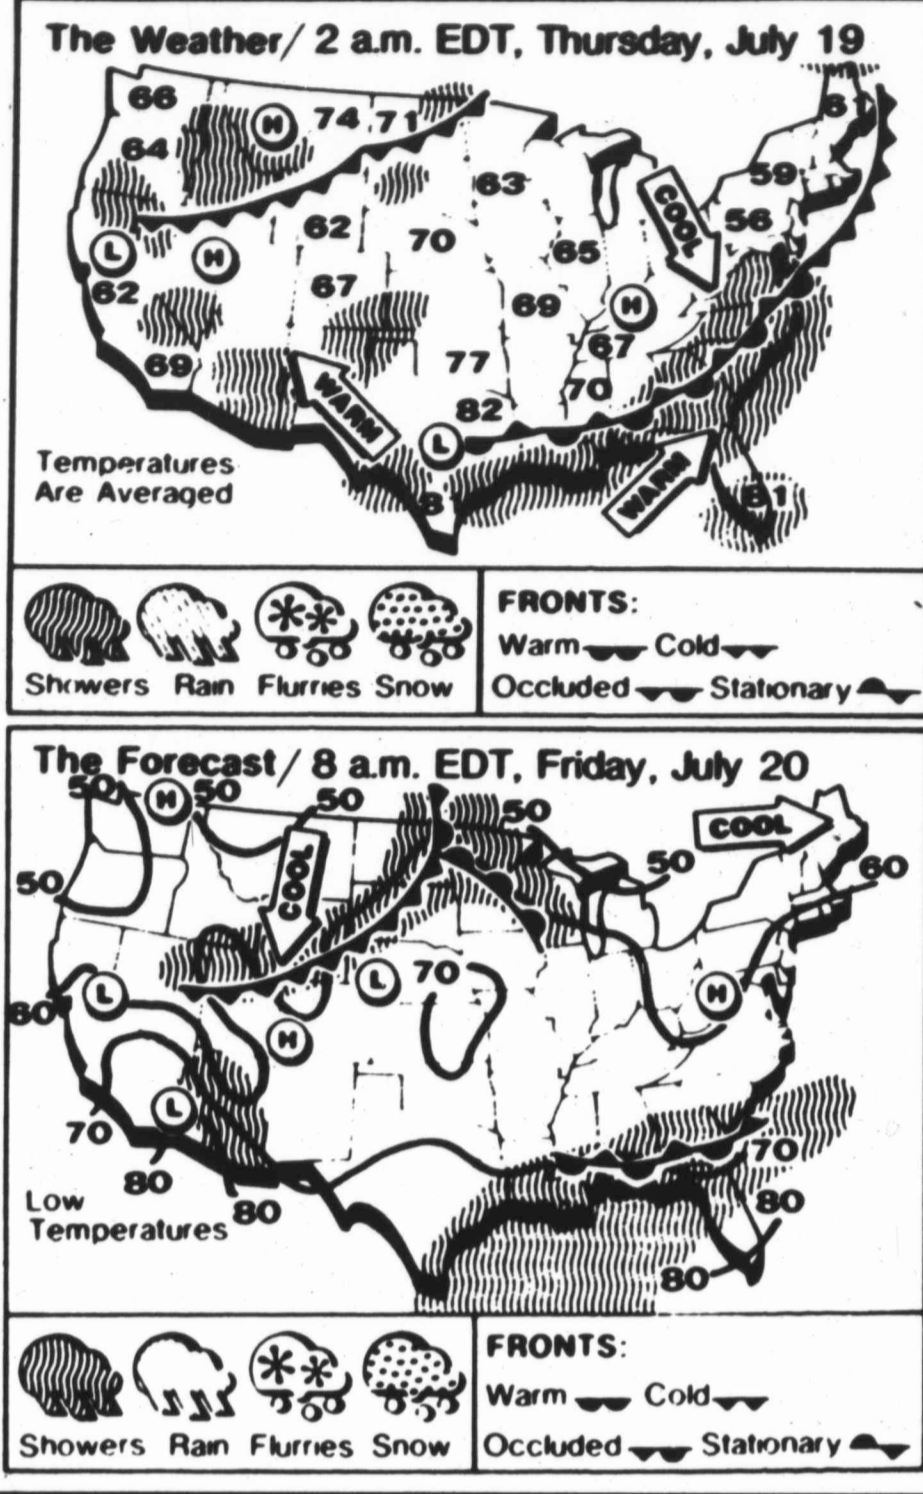

Debris and high water forced closure of several roads and two state highways and swept three vehicles off parking lots and carried them into Big Bear Lake, officials said.

The thunderstorm lasted more than an hour and was accompanied by hail. An inch of rain fell at Big Bear Lake in only 20 minutes and measured four inches in other parts of the valley.

Today's forecast called for thunderstorms scattered over the southern intermountain region, the lower Mississippi Valley and along the southern Atlantic Coast. The northern states were expected to enjoy generally sunny skies.

Mild temperatures continued over the East, with 70s scattered from the Great Lakes to New England, and 80s from the Gulf Coast states to the southern and middle Atlantic Coast.

West Texas - Partly cloudy with no important temperature changes. Isolated afternoon and evening thunderstorms all sections Saturday and Sunday, continuing South Monday. Lows mid 40s to highs lower 90s Panhandle. South Plains lows upper 40s, highs lower 90s. Permian Basin and far West lows near 70 with highs mid 90s. Lows lower 70s Concho Valley and highs upper 90s. Big Bend lows lower 40s mountains to mid 70s Rio Grande. Highs lower 90s mountains to near 102 along the river.

Local man reports car stolen

A Big Spring man told Howard County sheriff's deputies Wednesday afternoon that his 1973 Chevy Impala was stolen about 1 p.m.

Fernan Cantu of 1204 Mobile told deputies he had parked the car on the south service road of Interstate Highway 20 about five miles west of Big Spring while collecting aluminum cans. When he returned to the car 20 minutes later, it was gone, according to deputies' reports.

Charles Woodley of Forsan told deputies early today that someone had overturned his Porche 914 between midnight and 4 a.m. today while it was parked on F.M. 461, just off S. Highway 87.

According to the report, Woodley had left the vehicle parked on FM 461 when he ran out of gasoline. When he returned, the vehicle was flipped over, damaged on its top and sides and had broken windows. Damage was estimated at about $1,000, he said.

Both Johnston and Pearce have gone on record in open meetings calling for Pereira's dismissal. Board members Robert Roberson and Arnold Marshall have indicated support for Pereira. If action were taken on Pereira's employment, Smith would cast the deciding vote, and he has indicated he supports keeping Pereira in office.

food." He said a friend of his who visited Huberty's home in Massillon "said he had a gun in every corner of his house loaded."

More than two dozen customers and employees were in the McDonald's on busy Interstate 5 when Huberty entered and began "shooting everyone in sight," both inside and outside the restaurant, police Commander Larry Gore said.

"He shot randomly, he shot at anybody that moved," Nelson said. "Our officers got called. When they got there they found four people outside that were wounded. They were unable to get to them because of the firepower, the shooting ... When he (Huberty) came in and said 'get on the floor' he was carrying his weapons and everybody did comply."

He said there was "no time" for negotiations. "There was a constant barrage of fire.

Motorists jumped from their cars seeking cover, and the freeway was closed, as was the San Ysidro border crossing to Mexico, one mile away.

Oscar Mondragon, 27, a customer who escaped the gunfire by hiding with a companion under a table and then dashing to safety when the gunman's attention was diverted, said they had just finished their hamburgers when Huberty entered, yelling "Everybody down!"

"I've killed thousands, and I'll kill thousands more," Mondragon quoted Huberty as saying. There was speculation that Huberty might have been referring to wartime experiences, but police spokesman Jim Kurupas said today, "Without a doubt, we can say he was not a Vietnam veteran."

"He came in and just said,

Area chamber board declines stand on election for PD chief

The Board of Directors of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce yesterday decided not to take a stand in an upcoming election on whether the city should have an elected police chief.

"On a local level, it's not within our scope of interest to take on something that's that controversial," Chamber President Paul Shaffer told board members during discussion.

However, the board passed a resolution urging Chamber members to vote and become involved as volunteers in the Aug. 11 election.

"You don't want to get caught letting someone else do your voting for you," Shaffer said.

The board yesterday also heard a report on the CLEAN campaign from organizer Johnny Rutherford, who told members the campaign is facing a cutback of about 50 percent for the 21 students who have spent the summer cleaning up vacant lots, alleyways and residences around the city.

Rutherford told the board his campaign needs more work from private companies and individuals to avoid the cutback.

Rutherford also recommended the board pass a resolution urging the City of Big Spring to create an ongoing year-round clean-up program to make sure CLEAN's work is continued.

"We've just scratched the surface," Rutherford said. If there is no on-going program, "then (our work) just dies on the vine," he said.

The board subsequently passed Rutherford's resolution.

Chamber directors also heard reports on the proposed 1984-85 Convention and Visitors Bureau Budget, which is expected to top $120,000, and chamber involvement in the downtown Heart of the City project.

Joe White of Central Freight Lines also told directors of service his company will begin in Big Spring as a result of its merger with Perry Freight Lines.

"You can take pride in saying if you have an industry that's going to locate in Big Spring, you have a carrier to meet their needs," White told directors.

Absentee voting scheduled

Absentee voting for a referendum on whether Big Spring should amend its charter to have an elected police chief will begin at 8 a.m. Monday at City Hall, City Secretary Tom Ferguson said this morning.

Persons who are 65 years old or over or expect to be out of town for the scheduled Aug. 11 election may cast their ballots between 8 a.m. Monday and 5 p.m. Aug. 7 at the City Secretary's office, he said.

According to the election ballot, voters will decide whether they are "for" or "against" the "proposition that the City Charter be amended to make the Chief of Police of the City of Big Spring elective for a term of office of two years and that any candidate for said office must be a resident of the city for a period of at least one year immediately prior to filing for candidacy."

All registered voters who live within the city limits are eligible to vote in the election, Ferguson said.

Persons asked to use CLEAN

Persons who would like to take advantage of the Chamber of Commerce-sponsored CLEAN campaign should call Dewayne Wallace at 267-8426 or the Chamber of Commerce at 263-7641 to schedule an estimate.

According to organizer Johnny Rutherford, CLEAN is capable of clearing or cleaning up vacant lots, alleyways, residences or commercial establishments. The organization can "handle anything where (the persons) can envision four or five kids working," he said.

City rainfall below average

Rainfall over the last two days brought the official total in Big Spring to 2.54 inches, according to Nell Rogers of the U.S. Big Spring Field Station.

Mrs. Rogers said .01 of an inch of rain was measured at the U.S. Big Spring Field Station north of town Wednesday afternoon. Thursday morning and Thursday afternoon showers registered .12 of an inch. Big Spring's normal rainfall to date is 9.96 inches.

Today's forecast is calling for a chance of more rain. The prediction is for isolated afternoon thunderstorms and a 20 percent chance of rain.

Burt's boiling over buck

JUPITER — Burt Reynolds is offering a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of whomever killed one of his whitetail deer, a Florida state official said.

BURT REYNOLDS

The deer, an 8-point buck, was killed last week on the actor's BR Ranch and then hauled away, Biff Lampton, spokesman for the state Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said Tuesday.

The deer was one of 12 Reynolds kept at the ranch and had been a gift from the Dreher Park Zoo in West Palm Beach.

Lampton said he could not say exactly when the deer was killed, but said the commission has been investigating for about a week.

Reynolds has ordered tighter security at the ranch, Lampton said.

Me Boy, you Bob Marley

KINGSTON — Boy George, the British singer whose dress attracts as much attention as his voice, is on a two-week Caribbean vacation and says he "won't get bogged down with any work."

BOY GEORGE

Boy George and his photographer, identified only as Andre, arrived Monday at the Sangster International Airport in Montego Bay, on Jamaica's north coast, from Florida.

While he declined to say exactly where he planned to spend his holiday, Boy George said he would spend time on the beaches and "learning about Jamaica and its people."

Boy George said he also planned to visit Rita Marley, widow of the late Bob Marley, Jamaica's reggae superstar.

He said he would return to Jamaica for a concert in November, but gave no other details.

A fight for Bo in the buff

LOS ANGELES — Director John Derek has been ordered to turn over about 1,000 photographs, including some showing his wife Bo in the buff, which were taken during production of the film "Bohemia."

Superior Court Judge Lawrence Waddington on Monday ruled that Derek must relinquish the photos, some of which appeared in a recent issue of Playboy magazine, to producer Cannon Films, Cannon attorney Sam Perlmutter said.

Cannon paid for processing the photos and is entitled to them for promotional purposes, Perlmutter said. The Dereks' attorney, Alfred Rothman, did not return telephone calls for comment Tuesday.

Derek argued that publishing the pictures would be an invasion of his wife's privacy, Perlmutter said.

Armed team hunts for 'mountain men'

BIG SKY, Mont. (AP) — A heavily armed 12-man tactical squad assembled today to search out a father-son team of "mountain men" suspected of kidnapping a woman athlete to make her the younger man's bride, then killing a would-be rescuer.

Don Nichols, 53, and his son, Dan, 19, vowed not to be taken alive when they fled into the rugged mountains after the woman, Kari Swenson, 23, was shot and wounded and one of two searchers, Alan Goldstein, 36, was shot to death.

The special weapons and tactics team from Billings, armed with sophisticated weapons and equipment including night-vision goggles and night-vision rifle scopes, was to move by helicopter today.

French Reds out
Communists won't join new government

PARIS (AP) — Newly appointed Socialist Premier Laurent Fabius formed a government today that included no Communists and few new names. The Communist Party said it had been invited to participate again but would not because it was dissatisfied with government economic policies.

The Communists, who had been junior partners in a Socialist-led coalition since 1981, said they would continue to support the Socialist majority in the National Assembly.

The new government included 16 full ministers, according to a statement read on the steps of the Elysee Palace by Jean-Louis Bianco, secretary-general of the presidency. Secretaries of state and sub-ministers will be announced Monday, Bianco said.

The crucial Ministry of Economy, Finance and Budget post went to Pierre Berégovoy, formerly minister for social affairs. Berégovoy replaces Jacques Delors, who has been named president of the Executive Commission of the Common Market.

Jean-Pierre Chevènement, leader of the Socialist Party's extreme left wing faction who resigned his post as minister of industry and research a year ago in a disagreement over policy, returns to the government as education minister. He will take the post held by Alain Savary, who reportedly resigned earlier after his bill reforming private schools was withdrawn from Parliament.

Fabius, a moderate Socialist and close associate of Socialist President Francois Mitterrand, was appointed premier Tuesday after Premier Pierre Mauroy's government resigned. In the previous coalition Cabinet, Communists had held four of the 41 posts.

Claude Cheysson remains as foreign minister, Charles Hernu as defense minister and Roland Dumas as minister for European affairs and chief government spokesman.

PRESIDENT MITTERRAND ...opens Cabinet doors

Three new names appeared in the list. Pierre Joxe, head of the Socialist group in the National Assembly, takes over as interior minister from Gaston Defferre, now minister for planning. Joxe served one month in the Mauroy government as industry minister.

Hubert Curie, president of the National Centre for Space Studies and head of the Board of the European Space Agency, was named minister for research and technology. Curie is known as the father of the Ariane rocket, which has jumped into the satellite launching business in competition with the U.S. space shuttle.

Michel Delebarre, who headed Mauroy's office, will serve as minister of employment and professional training.

Other ministers retaining their posts were Robert Badinter at Justice; Paul Quilès at Housing, with added responsibility for transportation; Michel Rocard at Agriculture; and Hugue Bouchardeau at Environment.

The remainder of the Cabinet includes Edith Cresson at Industrial Redevelopment and Foreign Commerce, Georgina Dufoix at Social Affairs and Michel Crepeau at Commerce and Tourism.

The Communists have been urging a change in the government's economic and industrial policy that would focus on growth and reduce unemployment, now at 2.3 million.

But after unsuccessful talks on the jobs issue Wednesday with Fabius, the Communists decided to withdraw from the Cabinet.

The outgoing government numbered 43, including the premier, 14 full ministers and the secretaries of state.

Communists in the outgoing Cabinet included Charles Fiterman, transportation minister, Marcel Rigout, minister of professional training, Jack Ralite, employment minister, and Anicet Le Pors, secretary of state for the civil service.

Pierre Juquin, a member of the Communists' Politburo, said Fabius had offered the Communists an equal number of seats in the new Cabinet.

But in a statement released after a meeting that lasted until 3 a.m. today, the Communist Party Central Committee said: "... we are not looking to occupy posts but to participate usefully in the realization of a good policy for France."

"What is necessary today is not fine words, but the clear definition of a new policy and resolute acts to implement it," the statement said. "That we have not obtained."

Lionel Jospin, first secretary of the Socialist Party, said he regretted the Communist decision, saying the Socialists "were and remain favorable to the participation of the Communists in the government."

The Communist entry into the government after the legislative elections of June 1981 marked the first Communist presence in the Cabinet in 34 years, but the party's value as a political ally diminished after it polled just over 11 percent in the recent European Parliament elections.

News in brief

Army leaves temple city

AMRITSAR — An Indian army commander said today that soldiers were beginning to withdraw from this Sikh holy city, 45 days after troops stormed the Golden Temple to flush out armed militants.

Meanwhile, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi reshuffled her Cabinet, moving Home Minister P.C. Sethi to the job of planning minister. Critics had demanded Sethi's resignation, charging he had not dealt effectively with unrest in Punjab and the neighboring state of Kashmir.

Mrs. Gandhi replaced Sethi, a close associate who had served as home minister since September 1982, with P.V. Narasimha Rao, who had been minister of foreign affairs. Government spokesmen said Mrs. Gandhi would personally take charge of the foreign affairs portfolio.

Sandinistas celebrate 5th

MANAGUA — The leftist Sandinistas today celebrate the fifth anniversary of their rise to power, but opposition groups and the Reagan administration used the occasion to assail the ruling junta.

Sandinista officials said they expected 150,000 people to turn out today for a rally marking the anniversary of their overthrow of rightist President Anastasio Somoza in 1979 after a guerrilla war.

However, opponents of the government predicted the crowd would be only a third of that size, and they again threatened to boycott elections scheduled for Nov. 4 unless the Sandinistas ease restrictions on freedom of press and other liberties.

Israelis defy Beirut order

BEIRUT — Despite a Lebanese government order that it be closed, Israel's liaison office in a suburb of Beirut remained open today, the last vestige of a troop withdrawal agreement that Lebanon disavowed.

Lebanon's defense minister, Adel Oseiran, ordered the office closed Wednesday in a letter he handed to Col. Fawaz Abu Farhat, the head of the Lebanese liaison team. Farhat was reported to have delivered the letter to the Israeli office, according to a Lebanese announcement Wednesday night.

Several Lebanese soldiers guard the hilltop office in Dbaye, six miles north of Beirut, in an area controlled by the rightist Christian Lebanese Forces. Arsa said the Lebanese army was still guarding the office today.

Quake rattles Britain

LONDON (AP) — An earthquake, rare in Britain, rumbled across north and northwest England at breakfast time today, reaching across the Irish Sea to Ireland and north to Glasgow in Scotland, officials reported.

There were no immediate reports of injuries, but ambulance crews in the port city of Liverpool said they treated several elderly people in their homes for shock.

Initial reports indicated damage were limited to chimney pots toppling in Liverpool and in Cheshire. Terry Turbitt, a seismologist at the Institute of Geological Science in Edinburgh, Scotland, said preliminary readings of the tremor gave a measure of just over 5 on the Richter scale. A quake of magnitude 5 can cause considerable damage in populated areas.

Abuse of children demands action

Child abuse is a crime that sickens Americans. Yet, it is a crime that we unquestionably need to know more about to protect families and loved ones.

First, the alarming statistics: More than 1 million children are abused or neglected each year in this country. This figure includes as many as 200,000 children who are physically abused and as many as 100,000 who are sexually abused.

Child abuse sometimes kills. In almost every case, it scars. The scars can be physical or emotional, or both, and they often never completely heal. Child abuse, especially sexual abuse, once was a taboo subject, which inhibits efforts to alleviate it. Now, the taboo has at last been lifted, which alone may eventually save thousands from being victimized.

Children today are being taught to forcefully say "no" to overfriendly older persons, including family members and friends. Perhaps more important, children are being taught to tell somebody when they suspect someone is trying to abuse them. And parents are being taught to listen.

It is indicative of this new awareness and new resolve that shelters such as the Rainbow Project here have sprung up. Rainbow Project, 2906 W. 13th, offers "a warm, caring shelter for abused, neglected or displaced children" for up to 30 days. The presence of Rainbow Project should help in reporting by observers such as teachers because it offers an immediate source of aid and comfort. It truly provides an alternative.

Child abuse not only must be reported, it must be dealt with. Our society historically has been reluctant to interfere in family matters. We are beginning to overcome those reservations in child abuse cases. No one is doing a child, or a child abuser, a favor by protecting him or her.

Dial R for Revenge

My idea of heaven is a place where I never have to pick up the telephone to find that the caller has dialed a wrong number. Better still, a place where there are no phones to start with. But that is for the next world; in this one I seem to exist only to disappoint hot-blooded males in search of Cheryl or Patty or Marianne.

I admire their persistence. Neither rain nor gloom nor dark of night deters them — in fact, they think nothing of pressing their pursuit right up to dawn. They don't stop to eat, or to let me. Broken eardrums, from hearing me slam the phone down in ineffectual rage, don't bother them either.

Nor do they let my transparent evasions — "No one here by that name" — put them off the scent. Cheryl gets more calls at my house than I do. Sooner or later, her admirers know, they'll find her there. Well, one of these days they will. One day, the phone will ring at 4 o'clock in the morning. I will answer, a man will ask if Cheryl is there, and I will muster the presence of mind to reply that, yes, she is indeed here, but at the moment she and I are busy throwing ourselves into every imaginable form of debauchery. Let him stew for a change.

Wrong numbers are only one of the many side effects of Alexander Graham Bell's little invention. It also provides aid and comfort to magazine solicitors, survey takers, lawn care salesmen and other people I'd rather not talk to, which includes nearly everyone who calls on the phone. The telephone is purely an offensive weapon. Short of ripping the wretched machine out of the wall, there is no defense.

Until now. While President Reagan has been dreaming up ways to protect Americans from being stir-fried by Soviet missiles, a few blessed souls have been laboring to protect us from the plague of unwanted telephone calls.

The New York Times reports that Bell of Pennsylvania is testing a new service which enables customers to "reject unwanted calls without hearing a ring, have their telephone ring the number of a caller they missed, or have a distinctive ring for calls they want to be sure to answer." It also displays the number of the caller before you pick up the phone.

Here is the key to my counterattack against careless dialers. Instead of fuming vainly at the caller who has interrupted my slumber, only to hang up upon hearing my un-Cherylesque voice, I can read his number off of my telephone display, call him back and scream to my heart's content.

Better still, I can wait until noon, by which time he is sound asleep, and ask him to remind Cheryl of our scheduled rendezvous at the Ramada Inn out on the interstate. Or I can post notices around the neighborhood advertising free tickets to the Michael Jackson concert, with instructions to call his number. The possibilities for revenge are unlimited.

Of course, the phone defense is still in a primitive stage. The one being tested by Bell of Pennsylvania allows you to ring your phone so that when that certain pest you know calls, he or she will get a recording that says, "At this time, the party whose number you're calling is not accepting your call."

The improved version will say something like, "You useless wretch! Don't you have anything better to do than aggravate people with your ceaseless pestering?" Behavioral psychologists could be enlisted to devise messages that will induce intense guilt and shame in the caller, causing him to shun any use of the telephone.

More advanced technologies can be imagined. For instance, my phone could be equipped with a gadget to deliver a disabling electric shock to anyone who calls my number by mistake. Eventually, I will be able to zap would-be callers preemptively, as soon as they reach for the phone.

Outlandish? The ravings of a madman, you say? As it happens, through a special arrangement with the wizards at the Pennsylvania phone company, my telephone has already been equipped with all of these features — the first one of its kind in the country. Admirers of Cheryl, Patty and Marianne, I'm waiting for your calls. Go ahead. Make my day.

Union favoritism sacrifices quality

WASHINGTON — A two-year Senate investigation of labor union corruption has turned up alarming evidence that job favoritism by union bosses has produced shoddy work at chemical and nuclear plants. When inexperienced workers are hired to help construct these plants, there is potential danger of an accident once the plants start running.

The Senate Labor and Human Resources subcommittee, chaired by Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, has been investigating the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and the Operating Engineers Union. Evidence has been uncovered that unqualified welders and mechanics have been hired to work at such sensitive plants as Three Mile Island.

A staff memo to Hatch, summarizing the investigators' findings, has been obtained by my associate Indy Badhwar. "Business agents of local construction trade unions routinely refer friends and relatives, regardless of qualifications, as journeymen to the most dangerous field construction projects," the memo alleges.

These unqualified workers were assigned to restricted jobs that could endanger the public safety, including the construction of "nuclear and conventional power and chemical plants." The memo cited sworn testimony from union members. For example, a Louisiana local "referred inexperienced women, including a beauty shop operator, to operate heavy construction equipment at chemical plants in return for sexual favors."

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How can I avoid committing the unpardonable sin? I'm not sure what it is, but I have heard a lot about it and want to avoid it because I want to go to Heaven. — F.A.

DEAR F.A.: I have known people who were haunted by the fear they had committed the unpardonable sin. They feel God will never forgive them, and that there is no hope for their salvation. Yet they do not understand what the Bible says about this subject.

Jesus mentions the sin which cannot be pardoned in these words: "I tell you the truth, all the sins and blasphemies of men will be forgiven them. But whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit will never be forgiven; he is guilty of an eternal sin" (Mark 3:28-29). Notice Jesus says God is willing to forgive every possible sin — anything you can imagine — except for this one sin of blasphemy against the Holy Spirit.

What is this unforgivable sin? What does it mean to blaspheme the Holy Spirit? We need to understand that one of the main tasks of the Holy Spirit of God is to give us God's truth about Christ. Jesus declared, "When he, the Spirit of truth, comes, he will guide you into all truth... He will bring glory to me" (John 16:13-14). When we deny the Bible's truth about Christ — who He is, what He has done for us, what we must do in response — we are saying the Holy Spirit is a liar. We are blaspheming the Holy Spirit.

Between 1979 and 1982, according to the memo, the Pittsburgh local referred 273 unqualified workers as journeymen to construction projects that included the Beaver Valley nuclear power plant. "Youthful relatives of the Pittsburgh business agent, though barely qualified as journeymen, earned $40,000 to $49,000 a year," the memo said, "while veteran journeymen who were at odds with the business agent made as little as $1,400."

A legal opinion submitted by the boilermakers' counsel in January 1983 insisted that workers can qualify for journeyman's pay only if they have at least 8,000 hours of actual field experience or have completed their field-construction apprenticeship.

But when Hatch confronted union officials with their counsel's opinion, they resorted to what Hatch called "newspeak" — the baffling jargon developed by George Orwell in "1984." According to the staff summary: "The union witnesses argued that those words meant the opposite of what they said."

Six union welders testified that they had taken proficiency tests for unqualified job applicants under threat of losing their jobs, the staff memo noted.

"The union pressures you on every job to get their favorite people past the test or allow them to work without taking the test," veteran boilermaker Joe Danko testified. "There's a lot of nepotism that goes on — the hiring of their sons, cousins and so on."

Thomas J. Smith, a Pittsburgh

painter, confessed in an affidavit that he had worked on a power plant precipitator with "a welder who welded brackets on upside down because he didn't know what he was doing. I had no boilermaking experience, so that I had to ask the foreman, pusher or other workers how to do each job assigned."

The subcommittee staff memo demanded: "Must we wait for a major accident caused by a bad welder doing a bad weld before we take the necessary steps to ensure the public safety?"

BOMBS AWEIGH?: The Pentagon and State Department are quietly but passionately at odds over a shipment of weapons-grade plutonium from France to Japan.

The Pentagon is afraid the plutonium may be hijacked by terrorists if it is shipped on a civilian freighter with no military escort. The State Department is afraid the Japanese will resent being told how to handle the nuclear material. For reasons of their own, the Japanese don't want military involvement in the plutonium shipment.

The reason the United States is involved at all is that the material used to make the plutonium came from this country. By law, U.S. officials are obliged to approve any subsequent use or disposal of the deadly product.

The Japanese plan to use the plutonium strictly for peaceful scientific research. That's no problem there. The sticking point is in the method of shipment.

Trivia tidbits

The other day, I glanced at some of the questions from the game, Trivial Pursuit. I've never played the game before, and I'm not sure I want to now. I was amazed. There was important information there that I never learned in school. The questions were right out of left field and very hard to answer.

Instead of learning history, science and math, I should have been learning trivia. If nothing else it's a lot more fun. For example, what did Superman call Lois Lane? Miss Lane. That was a trick question.

I really think the game is a good idea, because it makes people think. People get into ruts and don't try to learn anything new. Others think they are pretty smart, and are experts in their fields, but they need to expand their minds. The game could help anyone expand his mind.

From now on I'm going to learn one piece of trivia each day, and use it. That's the only way to remember things. Using the information can be fun too. Want to get someone's attention in the middle of a conversation? The best way is to come out of left field with a bit of trivia. "Did you know the Bank of North America was incorporated in Philadelphia May 26, 1781?"

Or say you want to talk to a stranger. Don't know what to say? Use a piece of trivia. Go up and say "Did you know Charles Bronson was born in Scoopstown, Pa.?" Either they'll stare at you and go into shock, say "that's very interesting," or walk away from you.

If the following questions aren't part of the game, they should be added. They are things everyone should know. Incidentally, I had to look up the answers in the World Almanac.

How many letters does the Hawaiian alphabet have in it? 12. They are a, e, i, o, u, h, k, l, m, n, p, and w.

What is the official language of Bahrain? Arabic. (My question is where is Bahrain, anyway?)

Where is Elmendorf Air Force Base? Anchorage, Alaska.

When is Bill of Rights Day? Dec. 15.

Who wrote "Death and the Lover" and "Siddhartha"? Hermann Hesse. (Has anyone ever read these books?)

What state is nicknamed "Land of Opportunity"? Arkansas. (I thought that was what they called the United States.)

What is the capital of South Dakota? Pierre.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Avoiding the unpardonable sin

What, then, is the unpardonable sin? It is to deny Christ — to turn our backs on Him and His grace. God loves us, and He wants to forgive us. Christ died on the cross to make our forgiveness possible. But if we refuse God's gift of salvation in Christ, then there is no other way of salvation and we have committed the only sin that cannot be pardoned.

Canterbury II, residence pace local increase

Staff and wire reports
Housing starts across the nation climbed 5.3 percent in June, reversing a sharp decline in the previous month, the government said Wednesday.

The increase was spurred by the biggest rise in multi-family units since September 1973. Permits for new construction edged up 1.8 percent last month; they had tumbled 10 percent in May.

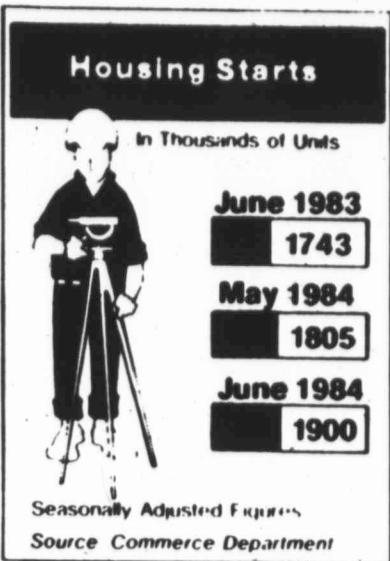

Permits filed with the city of Big Spring during June totaled $2,346,245, according to the city Public Works Office.

With the addition of June's figure, year-to-date construction has reached a total of $9,590,525 in the city. Permits for a total of $6,898,146 had been filed with the office during the same period last year, the office said.

New construction starts in June were led by a permit for $2,241,900 for the new Canterbury II retirement home at 1600 Lancaster. A permit filed by John Haro for a new $30,000 home at 703 Lancaster led new residential construction in the city.

On the national scene, spokesmen for the housing industry have complained that they're being hurt by high interest rates and that they see few prospects for those rates to fall significantly anytime soon.

Mortgage interest rates shot up in June to their highest levels in about two years, putting home loans out of the reach of many homebuyers. Charges for conventional, fixed-rate mortgages stood at an average of 14.76 last month, according to a survey by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which oversees the savings and loan industry.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige took note of rising interest rates, which he said "are beginning to affect the housing sector." But, he added in a statement, other signs "are favorable."

"Strong home-buying plans, low inflation and continued growth in income and employment should help maintain housing activity at a good level," he said.

At the White House, deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said today the new report "continues to demonstrate that people have confidence in the economy. The continued strength of housing, despite existing rates of interest, shows the resiliency and the underlying strength of the economy."

Today's report by the Commerce Department said the June increase was due to a gigantic 32.5 percent surge in starts for buildings with five units or more.

For single-family homes, it said, starts were down 7.2 percent last month after falling 3.8 percent in May.

Overall, the report said work was begun on new homes at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.9 million units in June, up from the 1.8 million of May. Starts had plummeted 10.4 percent in May from the April rate.

Permit applications rose at an annual rate of 1.78 million, up from 1.75 million in May. That increase was also attributed to a burst in applications for buildings with five units or more.

June's housing starts were 9 percent above the year-ago level, and permit applications were 0.7 percent higher.

All the figures in today's report were adjusted for normal seasonal variations.

Before such adjustment, the report said, work was actually begun on about 185,400 new homes in June, up from 181,900 in May.

Postmaster: No spying on unions to stamp out strike

Staff and wire reports

Big Spring Postmaster Frank Hardesty said Wednesday afternoon his office has not received a memo from the U.S. Postal Service ordering supervisors to listen in on employee conversations to determine if they are planning wildcat strikes.

According to an Associated Press story filed Wednesday, the U.S. Postal Service, faced with possible wildcat strikes after its labor contracts expire this weekend, has told supervisors to be alert for illegal job actions instigated by "outside interest groups not in sympathy with the USPS or our form of government."

A copy of the contingency plan, addressed to postmasters and other supervisory personnel, was obtained by The Associated Press. The document is labeled "restricted information."

Hardesty said he had no knowledge of such a document, but said the plan might have been mailed to postmasters in larger areas, he said.

"I've never heard of anything like that," Hardesty said.

The local president of the American Postal Workers Union, one of the two main unions who have broken off talks with the Postal Service, said she has not heard of the contingency plan or of any similar plan in the past. "It might be more propaganda," said APWU local president Pearl Shifflett, a postal clerk. "There's been a lot of that."

"I just don't think they'd be justified (in ordering supervisors to report private conversations)," Mrs. Shifflett said. "I just don't think they'll be a strike."

According to Hardesty, about 58 or 59 of the Big Spring post office's 61 employees belong to the two Big Spring union locals for the APWU and the National Association of Letter Carriers, the two largest unions in the postal service.

The Postal Service is bargaining with four unions representing 600,000 workers whose contracts expire at 12:01 a.m. EDT Saturday, but the two largest unions, with about 500,000 members, have broken off talks over management's refusal to budge from its demand for a three-year wage freeze.

A strike against the mail service is illegal, and the presidents of the two main unions — Moe Biller of the APWU and Vincent Sombrotto of the NALC — have said they would not even consider a general work stoppage until the labor organizations hold their conventions beginning Aug. 19.

But the two also said there could be wildcat strikes by employees acting without direction from the union leadership.

In the unsigned Postal Service plan, management personnel are told to report comments "overheard" in employee conversations and maintain "close observation" of workers.

Supervisors also are told to "vary their normal patterns of breaks, lunch hours, etc., in order to prevent employees from anticipating their absence."

Even if he got such a plan, Hardesty said he would not ask his employees to report others' private statements.

"I would not order my supervisors to 'snoop,' or to listen to the private conversations of employees," Hardesty said. "I feel that that would be infringing on their rights to privacy. They have a right to meet and to talk."

"There has been no semblance of any action (for a wildcat strike) down here," Hardesty said.

The unsigned Postal Service plan tells supervisors:

"There are several possibilities as to who might instigate a strike. This could include outside interest groups not in sympathy with the USPS or our form of government."

Dr. Donohue

His walking causes hand swelling

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a 58-year-old male, weighing 170 pounds. I am 5 feet, 8 inches tall. I am active physically and except for some high blood pressure (under control) in good health. Here's my problem. When I go shopping and walking through the mall or for a walk at night, after about a half hour my fingers begin to swell and my hands feel tight and uncomfortable. I cannot close them into a fist. This just happens in the hands. Can you come up with an answer? And how can I prevent it? — A.G.T.

I can come up with a guess, but you'll have to check it out yourself. This sometimes happens to runners. When a runner runs with his hands down by his side, a pendulum effect results, creating a centrifuge action. Sometimes this drives the fluid portion of blood out into the hand tissue, causing a tightness sensation.

With runners, the answer, of course, is to alter the arm position when running, bring the hands upward. I don't know whether you can do this comfortably in a normal walking gait, but you can try. Or you can periodically pause and raise your arms. If this works, then my guess is right. If it doesn't, then you've got me stumped.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have been watching your column for a long time now for some reference to breath odor. Am I the only one with the problem, or what? I've had the condition for years and have tried meticulous hygiene along with all the drugstore remedies. Please tell me what to do for this. — Mrs. P.O.

I have no sovereign treatment for bad breath. The dearth of items on the subject in this space does not, however, indicate lack of interest in it. My mail contains many questions from people like yourself. There's very little I can say to help, except for banalities like the need for oral hygiene.

Beyond that, all one can do is suggest some of the specific ailments that can be associated with various types of breath odors (fishy odor-liver failure, ammonia odor-kidney failure, fruity odor-diabetes, and so forth). And the conclusion, as unsatisfying as it can sound, is to be seen by a doctor when a chronic breath odor does not respond to improved hygiene.

It's not common for a single sign, like breath odor, to be the only one present when the person has one of the ailments associated with it. That's why the examination is important — to look for those other signs. If you care to, you can look through the booklet I'm sending along for other hints. Other readers who've written on this subject can obtain a copy by writing me in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents for printing and handling. Ask for "Bad Breath Can Be Corrected."

Glickman collection to be shown

Jake Glickman will display part of his collection of military items of the Indian Wars Period, 1870-1890, at the Heritage Museum, 510 Scurry, from 1 to 5 p.m., July 21-22.

One of Glickman's prize items from the collection is a rare 1887 Hospital Corps knife. Another interesting piece is a trowel bayonet, which is shaped like a cement trowel and was attached to a rifle. The trowel bayonet was used as a weapon and a digging tool.

The collection also includes an 1880 hunting knife from the Springfield Arsenal which served as a knife and an entrenching tool. Several other knives, bayonets and entrenching tools along with additional military accoutrements will be on display. Glickman will be available both days to answer questions and discuss his collection.

Tax-Deferred

"It's really remarkable how the government thinks of us... every April 15th, that is."

Will Rogers

Sometimes it seems like the government doesn't know who you are, but come April 15th, it's mighty easy to feel like you're at the top of its list. To help you with your taxes, Homestate Savings is thinking of you all year 'round, by offering you ways to keep the tax bite down. Even though tax-time has come and gone, what you do today will affect what you pay next April 15th. Even Will Rogers would approve of the GNA Tax-Deferred Annuity, now available at Homestate Savings. This safe, competitive plan not only helps insure a secure retirement income, but qualifies you for a great tax break at the same time.

11 1/2% Annualized Yield (10.88% compounded daily) — GUARANTEED until December 31, 1984

Tax-Deferral You pay no taxes on the interest earnings until you withdraw money from your account. That means your money compounds faster because there's more left in your account to grow.

No Deposit Limit There is no ceiling on the amount of interest earnings you can shelter from current taxes. ($5,000 minimum deposit)

Safety Your principal and interest are guaranteed by GNA, a qualified legal reserve life insurance company.

Flexibility There are over thirty different pay-out plans to meet your future financial needs.

Will Rogers knew there's no such thing as a free lunch. On the other hand, the winner is the one who exercises good, old-fashioned common sense when making decisions. That's where the GNA Annuity comes in. It's the common sense approach to a tax-advantaged today and a sound financial tomorrow. Call or come into any Homestate Savings branch, or mail the coupon below to find out more about the GNA Tax-Deferred Annuity. Exercise your common sense. Open a retirement account that goes to work for you today, and every day.

Clanton clan meets in Arkansas

More than 150 freinds and relatives gathered at the Clanton family reunion in Leslie, Ark., June 8-10. The event — held to celebrate Clyde and Eula Clanton's 60th wedding anniversary, Clanton's 90th birthday, and Mrs. Clanton's 75th birthday — was hosted by all of the couple's ten children.

The Clantons were married Jan. 29, 1924 in Snyder. They lived in Polar and Big Spring communities until they moved to Arkansas in 1962.

Their children are: Delora Scarborough and W.C. Clanton, both of Big Spring; Murrell Clanton of Artesia, N.M.; Alveta Szitar and Wilma Jean Alley of Mineola;

Wanda Gortney of Odessa; W.G. Clanton of Golden, Mo.; R.B. Clanton, Danny Clanton and Clydean Echols of Leslie, Ark. The couple also raised Patsy Morris of Humnoke, Ark., also in attendance.

Guests attending from the Big Spring area were: Aulden Clanton; Neoma Clanton; Alton Richardson; Patsy Richardson; David Richardson; Steve Park, Judy Park, Jenny Park, David Park and Cade Park, all of Forsan; Shane Clanton; Jimmy Hopper; Janice Hopper; Jacoby Hopper and Jarrett Hopper. Other guests were from Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, Washington, Florida, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

MR. AND MRS. CLYDE CLANTON

Dear Abby

Frustrated caller adopts credo

DEAR ABBY: Please do us older people a favor and print this. I cannot describe my frustration at picking up my telephone just in time to hear the caller hang up on me!

Why in the name of heaven would anybody make a telephone call and hang up after the third or fourth ring? Unless one carries a cordless telephone around, it takes at least five or six rings before most people can answer it. Sometimes I'm in the laundry room or busy elsewhere and can't hear the phone ringing until it has rung three or four times.

When I call a friend, I always let the phone ring at least 10 times. Then if nobody answers, I assume he's not home.

GIVE ME A BREAK DEAR GIVE: Here's your break; hope it helps. I wonder how many people have broken arms, legs, shoulders and hips because while they were in the bathtub, the yard, in the middle of scrambling an egg or otherwise occupied, the telephone rang and they ran to answer it?

DEAR ABBY: I learned in school that when Columbus discovered America, the American Indians were already here, but I would like to know where the Indians came from.

LIKES TO LEARN (12 YEARS OLD)

DEAR LIKES: The Encyclopedia Britannica says that the North American Indians probably migrated to the Americas from Asia. Some 15,000 to 25,000 years ago they crossed from northeast Asia to the Bering Strait. By the time the Europeans arrived in the 15th century, waves of these Asiatic migrants had spread over the Americas.

Drug abuse reportedly down

HOUSTON (AP) — Fewer and fewer Americans are abusing drugs, but the problem of cocaine abuse is still "horrendous," a special White House assistant says.

Carleton E. Turner said Wednesday the nation's drug abuse problem is decreasing so rapidly he hopes his job can be eliminated in a decade.

"If you look at where we were in 1981, it's astounding," he said at a news conference. "We've come light years since 1981."

Turner was in Houston to address about 20,000 people attending the national convention of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

The Elks have targeted drug awareness education for youth as its key assignment in the upcoming year.

"I hope that my job goes away very quickly because if we can show we can deal with the drug problem, then my job should no longer exist," he said.

Despite the general decrease in drug abuse, cocaine use, particularly among people over the age of 26, continues to increase, Turner said.

"People still think it's an innocuous drug," he said. "The problem we face with cocaine is that it's the most psychologically addictive drug known to man. We're seeing more cocaine deaths and overdose cases."

Turner said 4.5 million Americans could be described as heavy cocaine users. "We still have a horrendous problem. People say it's the police's fault. That's a bunch of bull. As long as there's someone who has a desire for the drug, there's some despicable character that's going to bring it in. And wall-to-wall policemen is not going to solve the problem."

He said general drug use has been slowed down through the use of entertainers as spokesmen, comic books and community organizations like the Elks, Turner said. Federal officials turned to such tactics, he said, because the federal government had no credibility among young people.

An Elks program aimed at children aged 9 to 14 was "right on target," Turner said, because 25 percent of 9-year-olds said in a recent survey that they feel pressure to use drugs and alcohol.

Tornado rips station roof, tumbles antenna

HUMBLE (AP) — A tornado which ripped the roof off a fire station and knocked down a 110-foot high antenna probably caused about $55,000 in damage, Humble Police Chief Lennie Hendrick said.

The twister roared down the main street of a north Houston suburb about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. Hendrick said it remained about rooftop level for a minute or 90 seconds.

"It whipped down, did the damage and then whipped back up into the clouds," Hendrick said. The storm also twisted and downed a transmitter antenna, knocking it into the middle of Main Street.

Hendrick said treetops were broken off and dropped onto cars in an apartment complex parking lot. Many people were calling to report roof damage and leaks, Hendrick said.

Homicides may involve Lucas

GEORGETOWN (AP) — Mass murderer Henry Lee Lucas has told Mississippi law enforcement authorities that he is linked to two unsolved homicides in the state.

Lucas told the chief criminal investigator for the Mississippi Highway Patrol on Wednesday that he knew of two Mississippi homicides not previously reported to the Highway Patrol.

However, authorities also believed Lucas could have been connected to other murders in the state that remain unsolved.

Edd Jussely, a spokesman for the Mississippi Highway Patrol, said Maj. Walter Tucker, along with authorities from Jackson and Long Beach, traveled here to meet with Lucas, a self-avowed mass murderer.

"Maj. Tucker met with Lucas for about four hours today," Jussely said in Jackson, Miss., but Lucas offered no information about the cases the Highway Patrol was investigating, he said.

However, Lucas provided information on homicides in Jackson and north of the Gulf Coast, Jussely said. Both will now be investigated.

"Lucas said on tape that he killed a black prostitute in Jackson, Mississippi," said Jackson Police Chief Jim Black earlier this week. "For me, that's enough to send anybody out there."

Jackson homicide detective David Fondren, patrol Lt. T.P. Naylor and Long Beach Police Chief Kenneth Pell traveled to Texas as well to interview Lucas.

Lucas has been meeting with law enforcement officers from around the nation "almost daily for the last several months," Tucker said. Authorities have been bringing their unsolved homicides to Lucas, who has claimed to have killed 360 people, including about 60 from Texas alone.

Lucas has been indicted in 18 murder cases in five states and has been convicted of three killings in Texas.

Mississippi authorities have been reviewing unsolved cases dating back to 1975.

Thursday Notes

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

Golf leads the sports parade in today's notes:
There will be a two-man scramble at the Big Spring Country Club July 21-22. Entry fee is $50 per team with entries being flighted after the first round.
A 1 p.m. shotgun start will begin things on each day. For more information call 267-5354.

And in weekend youth baseball action, the Big Spring American Senior League All-Stars will begin action in sectional tourney play Sunday, July 23 in Lubbock. Game time is 8 p.m. against a Lubbock entry at Lowery Field.
The team is managed by Terry Brumley and coached by Butch Fraser.

In some more news about All-Stars:
Teenage 13-year old League All-Stars have been named in Coahoma
Named to the team are Sam Linderman, Darrell Hunt, David Grant, Lindon Dennis, Dustin Belshe, Matthew Holbrook, Richard Nix, Ronnie Ruiz, Carlos Cervantes, Andrew Aguirre, Saraya Kingsley and Allen Carlile. Charles Linderman is the manager with assistance from coach Dale Bentley.

Baseball and softball news is in overflowing abundance this week because here's more:

Plans are currently underway to stage an Old Timer's Game between former Big Spring Cardinals players.

Members of the Cardinals teams of the 1970's would play a team comprised of past and current players in the 1980's. Labor Day weekend is the target date, although nothing definite has been reported just yet.

The idea is the brainstorm of "old timers" Billy Pineda, Felix Martinez and others. Some other "golden oldies" from the '70's include Joe, Tony and Pat Martinez, Andy Gamboa, Jesse Zapata, Jody Flores, Jimmy Fierro and Junior Mendoza.

In high cotton:
Cotton Mize and his fast pitch softball team, the Cotton Chippers, are rolling toward a state tournament berth with a 37-7 record.

The state tourney will be held in Stephenville July 26-27 and the Chippers are taking this weekend off after two straight tourney successes.

In Waco the Chippers took fourth place in a 32-team field by beating the big boys from Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Austin and Dallas. Only the Alamo City, San Antonio, bested the Big Spring bunch to strike a blow for the big cities. SA took the Chippers, 3-2, but in nine innings.

At Denton the Chippers again came in fourth out of 16 teams. Along the way the Chippers beat the New Mexico state AA champs, 2-0 before the New Mexicans took a 2-1 decision in the finals.

In the all in the family department:
Darrell and Dean Hodnett were big winners at the recent Hill Country Gun Club Shoot held at Marble Falls.

The brothers are members of the Big Spring 4-H Shooting Club.

Darrell was second in skeet and third in trap competition while Dean was first in both categories. Both teamed up for first in the two-man team event and Dean was the high overall individual.

At a shoot in Borden County first places were won by Amanda Anderson in sub-jr. trap, sub-jr. skeet and Anderson teamed with Darel Spears for first place in two-man skeet and two-man trap.

In senior skeet, Shon Parker was first before teaming with Todd McKimney for top spot in senior two-man skeet. High overall went to Dean Hodnett.

Steve Baldwin and Bob Fuller captured first and second place in the 40-49 age group during the 2nd Annual Big Brothers-Big Sisters 10-K race in Midland recently.

Baldwin finished in 38:05 and Fuller came in at 39:13. Steve Stallings of Stanton was the overall winner in a time of 32 minutes in the race that accounted for over 70 entries.

The last few weeks have been busy for James Doss as he tries making almost every open rodeo for miles around.

Doss, the nation's fifth best collegiate calf roper while competing for Southwest Texas State University back in June, has been to rodeos in Nocona, Ranger, Seymour, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Tulia, Amarillo, Stamford, Dickens, Wimberley, Leakey and Bandera. Sometimes Doss has been to as many as six different rodeos in one weekend. It's paying off financially, however and Doss feels the competition will help him when he resumes his role for the SWT team this Fall.

Newhouse is latest retiree for Cowboys

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Cowboys fullback Robert Newhouse retired Wednesday after a 12-year career with the National Football League club.

Newhouse, 34, informed Coach Tom Landry of his decision in telephone call Wednesday night, said team spokesman Greg Aiello.

Newhouse, who played collegiate ball at the University of Houston, was a second-round draft choice in the 1972 NFL draft. He finished his career with the Cowboys as the team's fourth all-time leading rusher.

For the past three years, Newhouse was a backup fullback to Ron Springs and a special teams player.

"It was not unexpected," Aiello said. "He did not report Sunday with the other running backs because of an illness in his family and had promised to let Coach Landry know of his decision by Thursday."

Newhouse led the Cowboys in rushing in the 1975 Super Bowl season with a career-best 975 yards. One of the most memorable moments of his career took place in the 1978 Super Bowl, when he tossed a 29-yard pass to Golden Richards to seal Dallas' victory over the Denver Broncos.

He played in 96 straight regular-season games for the Cowboys during the 1970s, a streak that ended when he suffered a broken leg against New Orleans in 1978.

Newhouse is the fifth veteran Cowboy to have retired since the end of the 1983 season.

Defensive end Harvey Martin, tight end Billy Joe DuPree and offensive tackle Pat Donovan retired before training camp began. Wide receiver Drew Pearson announced his retirement recently after being told by doctors that a liver injury he suffered in an off-season traffic accident had not healed.

Three other Cowboys — quarterback Glenn Carano, defensive lineman Elvin Bethea and linebacker Bruce Huther — jumped to the United States Football League.

In addition, wide receiver Butch Johnson was traded during the off-season to the Houston Oilers.

Texas Leaguers rally, 7-6

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

One trait of any successful team is its ability to comeback.

Wednesday night at the American League Park the Big Spring Texas League All-Stars showed why they are one of four remaining teams in the District Little League Tournament as they rallied for a last inning 7-6 win over the Big Spring Nationals, eliminating the Nationals from the tourney.

Texas rallied from a five run deficit in the third inning to take the nail-biting win. The climax came in the bottom of the sixth inning after Texas had fought back to knot the count at 6-6.

Neal Mayfield, the third National hurler of the night, walked Danny Valle to lead off the inning. Valle advanced to second on a wild pitch and went to third when Renee Villa collected an infield hit.

This brought up Texas shortstop Sambo Rodriguez who had collected one hit in three previous trips to the plate.

After working the count to 2-1, Rodriguez ripped Mayfield's offering between the gap in center and right field, bringing in Valle with the winning run.

After four-and-a-half innings of play the Nationals seemed to be in the driver's seat with a 6-1 lead. Going into the fourth inning the Nationals had taken a 3-1 lead. The other three runs came in when Mayfield hit a three-run-homer, upping to lead to 6-1.

Mayfield's blast proved the coaching prowess of National manager Pete Rosenbaum who inserted Mayfield as a pinch-hitter for Chase Frazier. After Bobby Gertsenberger reached on an error and catcher Brandon Mullens singled, Mayfield drove the first pitch from Texas starter Villa over the rightfield fence giving his team a commanding 6-1 lead.

But that would close out the scoring for the Nationals as Texas lefty relief hurler Valen Garcia would shut them out the final two-and-a-third innings. Garcia got the win for Texas allowing one hit and fanning five.

David Lee started for the Nationals and hurled three good innings. Lee allowed the Texas stars one run on three hits, but his reliever Artie Valdez had his problems. In one-and-one third-innings Valdez allowed five runs on four hits, leaving the game in the middle of the fifth inning when Texas tied the score 6-6. Mayfield came in to strikout the next two batters to get out of the inning.

The Nationals got three runs in the second inning thanks to hits by Lance Newell and Gertsenberger and a throwing error by Texas catcher Robert Lara.

Texas rallied for three runs in the fourth and two tallies in the fifth inning. Lara's double which scored Louis Hinjos who had a bunt single were the only hits in the inning, a throwing error by Valdez allowed Raul Castillo and Garcia to score.

Two more Texas runs came in the next inning when they loaded up the bases and Valdez walked in Garcia and Hinjos to tie the game, setting the stage for Texas' last inning comeback.

OTHER GAME

In other tourney action, Midland Tower jumped out to a 7-0 third inning lead over the Big Spring International All-Stars enroute to eliminating the Internationals from the tourney.

In tonight's action a battle of unbeateans will take place when Midland Western and Midland North Central meet at 8 at the American League Park. Big Spring Texas will try to stay alive when they battle Midland Tower at 8 at the National League Park.

British Open boasts tri-leaders

St. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Greg Norman of Australia, Peter Jacobsen of the United States and Bill Longmuir of Britain each fired a sizzling 5-under-par 67 and tied for the early first-round lead today at the 113th British Open golf championship.

With nearly half the players back in the clubhouse, the three leaders had a two-stroke advantage over American Tom Kite.

son was another stroke behind at 70, but Jack Nicklaus, going for a third successive St. Andrews victory, had a disastrous day and finished with a 4-over-par 76.

Norman, picked by several of his colleagues to win his first "major" after a sensational season in the United States, reached the halfway stage 1-under. But he ripped up the back nine of the Old Course in 32, including a flurry of five birdies.

Norman, runner-up to Fuzzy

Zoeller in a playoff for this year's U.S. Open, drove the ball with enormous power, including a monster at the 10th. He nearly took the overall lead on the 18th green when his 10-foot putt rolled around the hole but stayed out.

Playing before a record, first-day British Open crowd of more than 31,000, Norman began his round ominously with a bogey at the second but he later said the setback did not deter him.

Jones, White involved in contract hassles

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Defensive end Ed Jones and defensive tackle Randy White were expected to report to Dallas Cowboys training camp today with the remainder of the veterans although they want their contracts renegotiated.

There was talk that Jones and White might leave camp at a later date together to strengthen their bargaining positions in a holdout power play.

White, an unanimous All-Pro selection last season, is in the option year of a contract that pays him some $350,000 annually.

Attorney Marshall Simmons is handling negotiations with White's agent, Howard Slusher.

Normally, team vice president Gil Brandt would be handling the negotiations but Managing Partner Tex Schramm hired Simmons because of acrimony between Brandt and Slusher.

Jones is in the third year of a five-year contract that pays him over $300,000 per season.

"We made the deal with Jones in good faith and a five-year deal is what he wanted," said Brandt. "It was his choice and he was pleased when he signed."

Jones said he was happy with the contract which was to be his last within the NFL.

"I was happy but it's all changed around the league now," Jones said. "Players are making a lot more money."

However, Jones' agent, Don Cronson of New York, has asked for more money because of Jones' market value, increase in television revenue and the coming of the United States Football League.

"Fans have a tendency to forget a players' accomplishment when something like this happens," Brandt said. "All they will remember is the contract hassle."

Brandt said, "It's hard to understand. What would have happened if television had cut our money? Would the players take a pay cut?"

Veteran fullback Robert Newhouse retired Wednesday after a 12-year career. Newhouse, who informed Landry of his decision by telephone, said he would concentrate his efforts on his business interests.

All veterans were due today. Quarterbacks, receivers and running backs have been in camp several days.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE
 from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Early part of the day is good for studies, looking into new business and personal relationships and for discussions to bring a new accord with other persons.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get busy pushing your talents and making fine progress during the daytime. In the evening a problematical affair at home arises.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) An advisor can give you fine ideas in the morning on how to handle that financial affair so follow it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A good pal assists you to gain an aim that is vital to your welfare but be careful later not to spend too much money. Be happy.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Contact experts who can advise you about your present financial status, and later avoid one who is depressing.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You get many fine thoughts how to improve your personal advancement in the morning, but be patient in the face of some limitation later.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make right arrangements for weekend activities some time during the day with your mate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A partner has a fine idea that will help you gain your cherished wishes. Steer clear of a higher-up who could be irate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) One of power will help you in some service work you want to do, but later avoid that person who is greedy. Be of assistance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are more broad-minded and can go after your aspirations and gain them easily. Do something thoughtful for your mate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Talk over with family ties just how best to handle joint matters in the days ahead. Cheer up a depressed partner.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Early handle that communication with an associate with whom you want to have more contact in the future.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get your environment beautified in some way and feel happier in it. Then be happy in the company of your mate.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will know how to improve natural talents so be more than encouraging in this during early life. One who will have a dynamic quality which can be retained throughout the lifetime if the health habits are good and plenty of sports are indulged in.

2 injured in crash

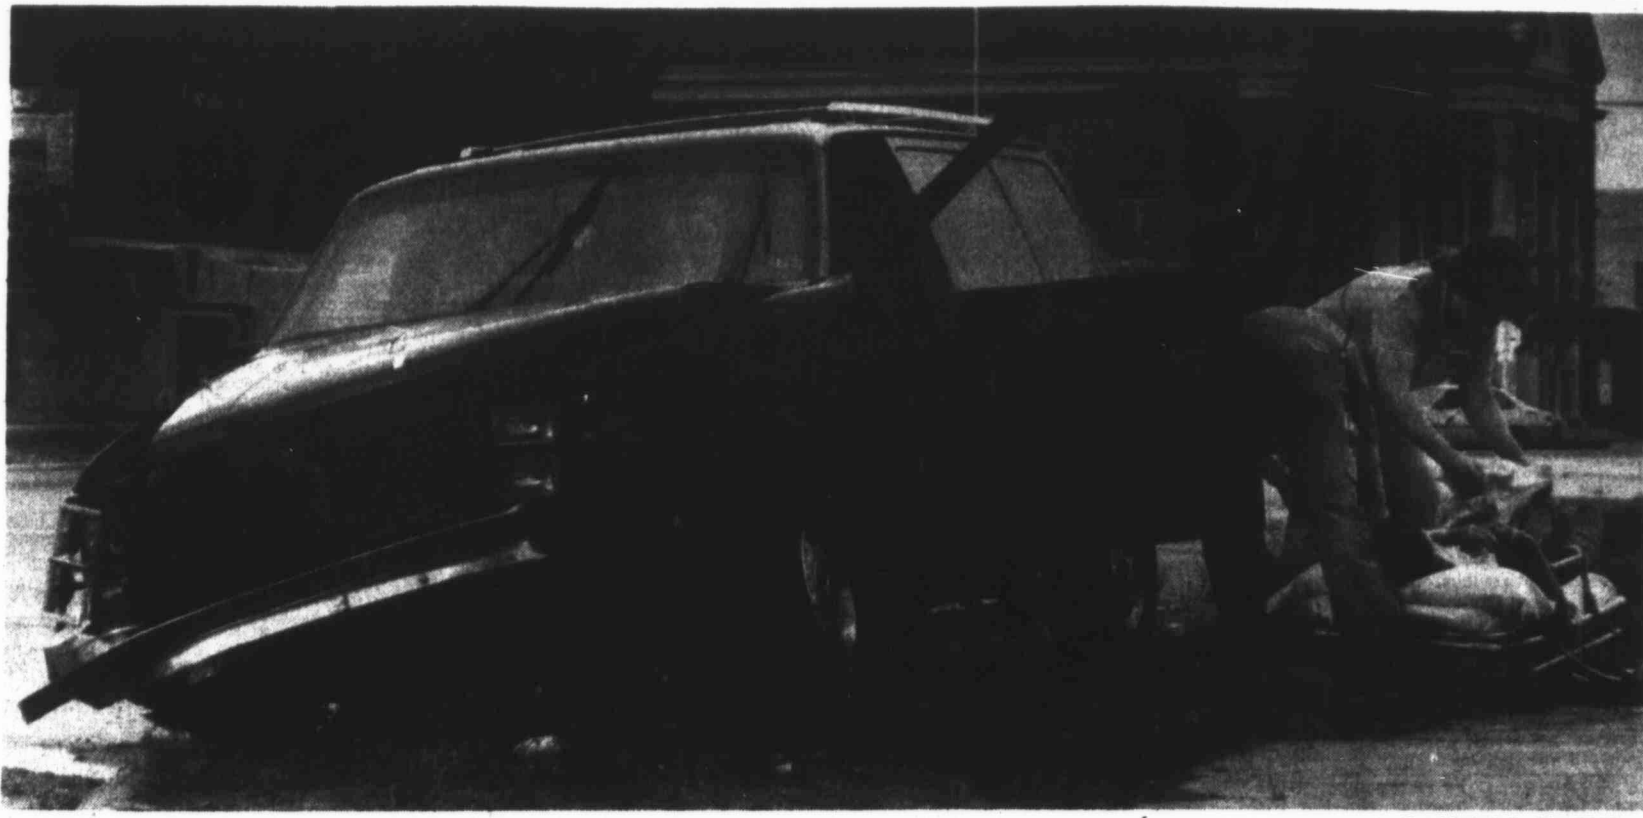

A major two-car accident Wednesday afternoon at the intersection of Sixth and Scurry streets sent one woman to the emergency room at Malone-Hogan Hospital and another for treatment at a local dentist's office.

Barbara Milikien, 35, of Sterling City Route was treated and released at Malone-Hogan Hospital, a spokeswoman said.

The accident happened at 3:31 p.m. during a light rainfall.

Deborah Slate, 26, of 906 Highland was taken by private vehicle to the dental office of Dr. John Myers after she lost several front teeth during the accident, according to Lt. Jerry Edwards.

Police reports said the collision occurred after Ms. Milikien, driving a 1984 Dodge Caravan heading west on Sixth, failed to yield right of way to Ms. Slate, who was driving a 1984 Oldsmobile Delta 88 north on Scurry.

SCURRY CRASH — Shaffer Ambulance attendants prepare an injured victim for transport to Malone-Hogan Hospital following a major two-car accident yesterday afternoon at the intersection of Sixth and Scurry streets. Two persons were treated for injuries received in the collision.

Missing minister reported

SAN ANTONIO — A minister missing for a week was reported seen at a motel and restaurant in Electra, Texas, last Thursday, police say.

Wesley Barrett "Barre" Cox, 33, has been missing since the early-morning hours of last Thursday when he refused aid from a law enforcement officer. He had run out of gas on a West Texas highway. His car was found abandoned and vandalized on a remote farm-to-market road three miles north of Tuxedo in Jones County later that day.

The latest report of a sighting of Cox came Wednesday when a man resembling the minister reportedly checked into Allison's Motel, said Cox family spokeswoman Cheryl Mann.

The same man ate breakfast at a nearby restaurant the next morning. The reported sightings occurred last Thursday.

A man matching Cox's description also has been reported seen in convenience stores in Crowell and Vernon.

Also, a tourist in the Van Horn area said he saw a man Monday matching Cox's description. The man was riding a motorbike, Ms. Mann said.

Crowell, Electra and Vernon roughly form a triangle near the Texas-Oklahoma border. Crowell is about 100 miles north of Tuxedo. Van Horn is in far West Texas, about 120 miles east of El Paso.

Man holds TV station hostage

AUSTIN (AP) — A man carrying a pistol took hostages in an Austin television station today but surrendered after employees fooled him into believing they had televised the statement he demanded to make, according to KVUE employees.

"It was a weird-type political statement," said reporter Karen Sonleitner. "He wanted air time to make this statement."

Austin Police Lt. Robert Wisian said the man, whose name was not released, was arrested. There were no injuries.

Ms. Sonleitner said the man held KVUE control room employee Denise Hodgson on his lap as he read the statement.

"He saw himself on a monitor. He thought he was on the air," said Ms. Sonleitner. "He said he just wanted to make the statement and then he would give up peacefully."

The statement was not televised.

Larry BeSaw, KVUE assignments editor, said the man "came in armed with a .45 and ran into the control room and fired a shot in the ceiling and told everybody to get on the floor, that he wanted to make a statement."

Nancy Cole, secretary to the news director, said the man came in the North Austin station's front door and told a receptionist he wanted to go the newsroom. He held a gun to her back.

"They got to the control room and he fired a shot there," she said.

BeSaw said the shot apparently was fired in the air, and not aimed at anybody.

Report: Bentsen declined VP post

HOUSTON (AP) — U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen told Walter Mondale he did not want to be Mondale's running mate two days before Geraldine Ferraro was selected as the vice presidential choice but kept his decision quiet so Mondale could keep using his name as one of the contenders, according to a published report.

The Houston Post, in a report today from San Francisco, said the Texas senator refused to confirm or deny that he bowed out of the vice presidential sweepstakes in a telephone call to Mondale on July 10.

"Who took who off a list gets pretty academic," Bentsen said, adding that his conversation with Mondale was personal and confidential.

Bentsen was considered a leading choice for the Democrats' No. 2 spot on the ticket until Mondale came under increasing pressure to select a woman.

Bentsen aide Jack Martin told the Post that the senator's lack of announcement eased the pressure on Mondale while he searched for a running mate.

"The inference was the delay in the disclosure of Bentsen's withdrawal would keep Mondale from having a situation where Bentsen announced he'd pulled out, like Sen. (Dale) Bumpers (of Arkansas) did," Martin said.

Martin said the source of his information was Mondale himself, who met with top Texas Democrats on Tuesday.

Bentsen told the Post he was "relieved" that he did not get the vice presidential nod and that his wife was "delighted."

The selection of Ms. Ferraro is "a gamble (Mondale) decided to take, and I can well understand it."
