How's that? Training

Q. Does Shaffer Ambulance service have a paramedic on each run they make?

A. Jim Parker, an emergency medical technician with Shaffer Ambulance, said Shaffer Ambulance has only one paramedic on staff at this time and one special skills attendant, and six emergency medical technicians.

All Shaffer Ambulance employees are to begin training as paramedics in September, Parker said. Shaffer Ambulance hopes to convert to an Advanced Life Support system, which requires that all attendants be trained as paramedics.

Shaffer Ambulance has five units at present and eight employees. Employees go out in crews of two with the option of calling in for more help in certain situations, Parker said.

RONALD REAGAN...in the heart of Texas

Eyes on Texas

Reagan, Bush attack Lone Star left

AUSTIN (AP) — President Reagan, venturing into heavily Democratic territory, today invited Texas Democrats to abandon a party that is "going so far left they've left America."

Reagan and Vice President George Bush appeared at an outdoor rally in the capital city where Democrats have dominated for many years.

"At their convention, the leadership of the Democratic Party gave Texas the back of their hand," Reagan said. "Well, we've come to give you a message from our heart: We care about Texas."

State Democratic leaders were somewhat dismayed when Democratic presidential nominee Walter Mondale chose New York congresswoman Geraldine Ferraro, rather than a Texan, as his running mate. Bush is a Texan.

"To those of you who are still Democrats and who might share my belief that government should not plunder more of our earnings, ... I extend an invitation to you and millions of others," said Reagan. "Come where you will be welcomed and appreciated. Join George Bush and me, and together we will make history Nov. 6, 1984."

The Reagan-Bush visit, their first joint campaign appearance of the year, puzzled some Democrats. "I can't figure out why they're coming here," said Dwayne Holman, a Gov. Mark White aide who ran the Mondale campaign here this spring. "They could have certainly drawn bigger crowds elsewhere."

That's the point, says GOP U.S. Senate candidate Phil Gramm, who'll share the stage with Reagan and Bush.

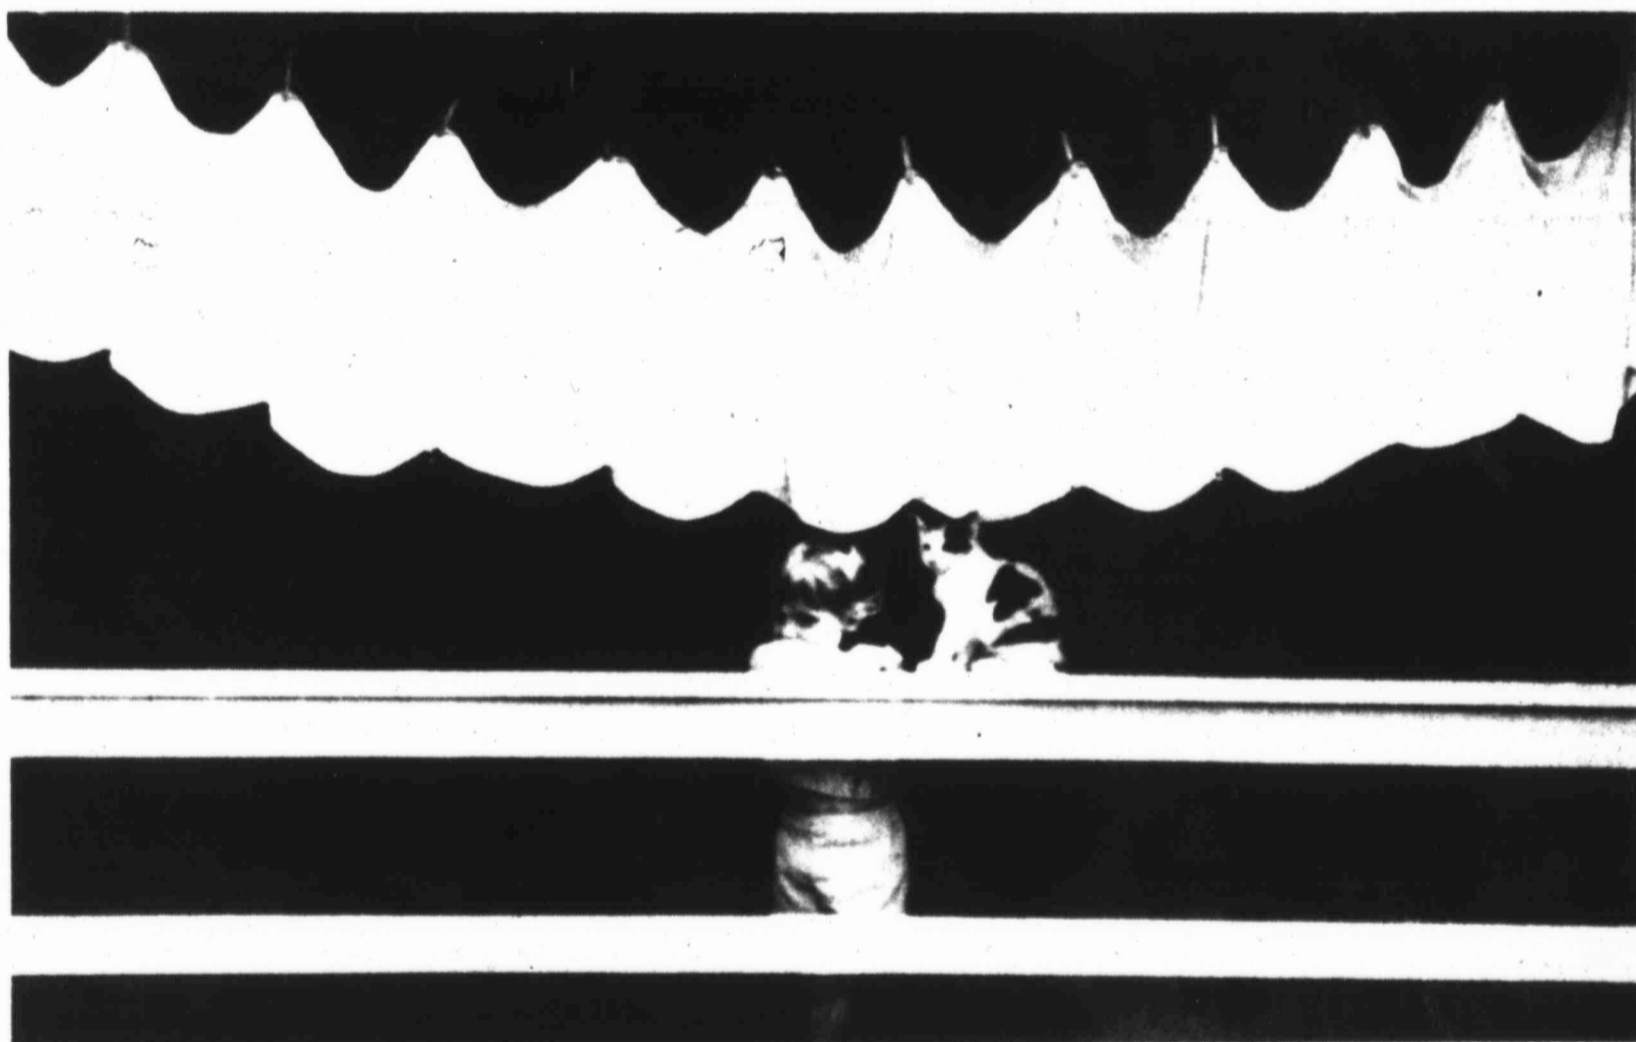

"If you come to convert, you don't want to preach to the choir," said Gramm.

Texas Republican Party Chairman George Strake and Gramm agree the Republicans want to make sure Texans remember that Bush is one of their own.

"First of all, the significance is to emphasize the point that the Democrats had a chance to pick a Texan for vice president and

Fiberflex head takes trial stand

Fiberflex Products Inc. President Tom Rutledge testified for more than two hours today on the continuing disputes between management and outside directors battling for ownership of the company.

He also testified that he warned company patent attorney Guy Matthews about purchasing 20,000 shares of stock from board member and West Texas banker Sam Spikes. The 20,000 shares are the swing stock in the company, and their ownership is one of the major legal disputes in the case.

"I told him (Matthews) I thought Sam was in financial trouble, and he'd (Matthews) better watch it," Rutledge said.

Asked by Matthews attorney if Spikes financial problems were general knowledge in West Texas in September 1983 — the time of the stock sale — Rutledge said, "I think so."

Rutledge also testified that he was told by a federal judge in September that both Spikes and former director Don Wilson were involved in trying to sell the company's trade secrets.

Rutledge told about the details of two shareholders meetings that switched control of the company back and forth from corporate management to outside directors.

Jurors were selected Tuesday after extensive questioning. On Tuesday, they sat through six opening arguments in which attorneys called each others' strategies "smokescreens" and questioned their opponents' claims.

Opposing attorneys agreed on very little in their opening arguments, including whether the trial was a control fight.

Fiberflex corporation attorney John Burgess of Big Spring told jurors the trial was a fight between current corporate management and a group of stockholders who wanted to takeover the company's million-dollar business of manufacturing and selling fiberglass sucker rods for the oil industry.

Burgess referred to the trial as a fight between the founders and inventors of the company's fiberflex rods, Tom and Russ Rutledge and John Freeman, and Charles "Chris" Christopher, a business entrepreneur who in February joined forces with dissatisfied

Crowd calls for Root resignations

Hospital may get certification

Staff reports

COLORADO CITY — A crowd of approximately 250 angry Mitchell County residents concerned at the possibility of losing complete Medicare privileges at Root Memorial Hospital voiced their complaints at a regular meeting of the hospital board Tuesday night.

Local contractor Charles Henderson presented the board with a petition containing 429 signatures asking for the removal of Ray Dillard as hospital administrator. Henderson also asked the board to consider the removal of Dr. Tom Noonan and Dr. Pat Thomas from the hospital staff. The two doctors did not sign over 500 medical charts for Medicare patients, according to a recent Medicare survey.

Approximately 13 persons spoke seeking reasons for the Medicare decertification of the hospital set for Aug. 1.

Dillard told the crowd that Medicare had set Sept. 4 as a new certification date for the hospital. If approved, the hospital would be certified immediately, he said.

Board member Jane McCarley asked the board to take no action on the issue until an executive session could be called to discuss personnel.

Henderson asked the board why Thomas and Noonan did not sign over 500 medical charts for Medicare patients. Gus Armstrong, a Loraine senior citizen, asked for a statement from the two doctors present at the meeting.

"The board explained the two doctors had not signed the charts, and suddenly the charts were signed," Armstrong said. "Can you tell us about that?"

Noonan told the board and the crowd that a medical records clerk had told him it was not necessary to sign the charts. Thomas replied that he was to blame and he would not accept anyone's word again.

City raises fire pay offer

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

Following a pair of Tuesday meetings between city administrators and firefighter union officials, City Manager Don Davis said the city will upscale its previous offer of $15,000 in back pay for city firemen.

But union officials said yesterday the new offer will probably not be high enough to avoid a lawsuit.

Although Davis said he was not sure what the city's new offer will be, union president John Branham said yesterday he expects the city to raise its previous $15,000 proposal by "five or six thousand dollars."

Tuesday meetings among Davis, union officials and city Personnel Director Emma Bogard prompted the latest revision of the city's position, Davis said. During the meetings, city administrators showed the union officials how the city reached its original $15,000 figure, he said.

During the investigation of personnel records "they pointed out a few things to us that we were unaware of," Davis said. "And we're making some changes in our position."

The new city proposal, which Davis said will be made formally "in a day or two," is the latest development in negotiations on the issue of back pay for firemen who were substituted into higher classifications but not paid at a higher rate.

City administrators have not disputed the union's contention that substitutions were made without giving extra pay. City Hall last December instituted a new

A pretender to the throne

WILLIAMSTOWN — Farah Diba Pahlavi says "a lot of people see ... hope for the future" in her older son, and she's convinced he one day will occupy the throne of Iran like his father, the late shah.

FARAH PAHLAVI

"I am not saying that because of who I am, but because we hear from Iran," the exiled empress, 45, said in a copyright interview with The Transcript in North Adams, Mass., on Monday.

Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi was deposed in 1979 and died of cancer a year later. After the family's protector, Egypt's late President Anwar Sadat was assassinated, she said President Reagan sent her a message "through a third party" that she would be welcome here.

She has spent much of the past four years raising her youngest children in this sleepy college town.

Her older son, Cyrus Reza, a former Williams College student, assumed the shah's title in exile at age 20 in October 1980. His mother said he is orchestrating the opposition movement to the Ayatollah Khomeini from exile.

The empress said she sometimes engages "in what you Americans call Monday morning quarterbacking," and plans to write her memoirs. The family is moving to Greenwich, Conn., and her younger son, Ali Reza, will attend Princeton University in the fall, she said.

Round No. 1 in court

NEW YORK — A jury has been picked to hear the misdemeanor assault trial of actor Tony Danza, the former amateur boxer who played a boxer-turned-cab driver on the TV series "Taxi."

"It's going to be a long week," Danza, 33, said Monday as a six-member jury was selected in Manhattan Criminal Court. "We're sure the facts are going to vindicate me."

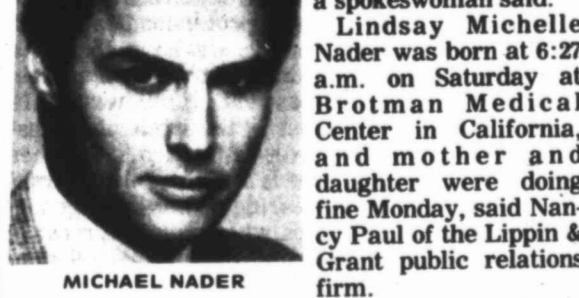

Danza and Albert Sinacari, 29, of Malverne, N.Y., were accused of hitting security guard William Sawyer, 35, the night of Feb. 3 at a Manhattan restaurant. They allegedly were loud and boisterous, and when Sawyer asked them to quiet down, the altercation started.

Sawyer suffered a concussion, partial hearing loss and contusions over his head and body, according to court papers. He has filed a civil suit against Danza.

Danza suffered a bloody nose in the fight. He and Sinacari were charged with third-degree assault and criminal mischief.

Lindsay Michelle Nader was born at 6:27 a.m. on Saturday at Brotman Medical Center in California, and mother and daughter were doing fine Monday, said Nancy Paul of the Lippin & Grant public relations firm.

Refinery blast death toll reaches 14; cause probed

ROMEIOVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Union Oil Co. investigators, continuing to probe the rubble of a refinery for the bodies of two missing people, say it could be weeks before they determine the cause of a thunderous explosion and fire that killed at least 14 people.

Thirteen of 14 charred badly bodies pulled from the smoldering rubble Tuesday were identified through dental records, Will County Coroner Robert Tezak said. All but two were Union Oil employees, including refinery fire chief Kenneth E. Armor, 46, of New Lenox, Ill., he said.

Monday's blast, which injured 23 people, sent a fireball hundreds of feet into the air and was felt up to 35 miles away, may have been caused when a mechanical failure allowed gas to leak, investigators said.

However, Union Oil spokesman Bill Redding said he could not say how long it would take to pinpoint the source of the blast, which he said would cost the company millions of dollars.

"It could be tomorrow, it could be two weeks from tomorrow," Redding said.

RESCUED — A gunshot victim (in white) stumbles away from a motel office, collapses and then is carried away by rescue workers during a shooting spree in Hot Springs, Ark.

Hot Springs shoot-out

Gunman wounds cop, kills 4 in bar incident

HOT SPRINGS (AP) — A gunman who was wounded in a shootout with police but escaped to kill four people at a motel before dying himself had twice been thrown out of the motel's bar for obnoxious behavior, a waitress said.

A policeman also wounded in Tuesday's shootout was in critical condition today. A passenger in the gunman's car and a bar patron were also injured, authorities said.

It was not known whether the gunman, whose name was not released, killed himself or was shot by officers, said police spokesman Paul Jackson.

The bloodbath began when Sgt. Wayne Warwick radioed that he was stopping a green Dodge carrying four men for a traffic infraction on a downtown street in this resort town, police said.

But when the men got out of the car, the driver, described as about 30 years old with dirty blond hair and a stringy beard, suddenly pulled a .45-caliber automatic pistol.

In the ensuing shootout, Warwick, 36, was critically wounded in the neck, abdomen and leg but emptied his .38-caliber revolver before collapsing. One passenger was wounded, and he and another passenger were immediately apprehended, police said. The third passenger fled on foot, but was caught a couple of hours later, police said.

The driver was also wounded, but although bleeding, got back in his car and drove four blocks to the Grand Central Motor Lodge.

He entered the motel's lounge and opened fire with his pistol, then went back to his car, got a shotgun and returned to continue shooting, Jackson said.

The dead included the bartender, the lounge proprietor, a truck driver and a woman, none of whom were identified, police and witnesses said. A bar patron was also wounded, Jackson said.

Linda Schmidt, a waitress who had served the gunman on previous occasions but didn't know his name, said she left the bar when she saw him coming in.

"He gave me the creeps... He was not a nice guy; in fact, he was pretty vulgar. He was always very dirty. I didn't want to deal with him," she said.

While Jackson said police were still trying to determine a motive for the shootings, Ms. Schmidt said the slain bartender and proprietor had both thrown the gunman out of the bar previously.

"Both of them had ordered him out of there, had banned him," once for being loud and vulgar, she said.

Ms. Schmidt said the dead truck driver had said he was from North Dakota and had been held over in Hot Springs. "He had just come in for a drink," she said.

Padre sharks attack 2 teens

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND (AP) — Police patrolled beaches overnight and city and county officials planned to meet today to decide whether it is safe for sunbathers to frolic in the surf following separate shark attacks on two teen-age girls Tuesday.

Both were swimming in chest-deep water in front of their luxury hotels when they were attacked.

Carmen Gaytan, 18, of Mexico City, underwent surgery for six hours Tuesday for "severe leg injury" at the Valley Community Hospital in Brownsville. She is listed in guarded condition, said hospital spokeswoman Susie Payne.

Ms. Gaytan required up to 60 stitches in both legs, including her ankle which was severely mangled, hospital officials said.

She was swimming shortly after noon Tuesday outside the South Padre Hotel when beachgoers heard her screams for help.

Cidonio Barron Leon, of Reynosa, Mexico, said he saw the shark when he grabbed Miss Gaytan's arm to pull her out.

"Help me please, a fish is killing me," Barron quoted Ms. Gaytan as saying in Spanish. He said he was about 15 feet from her at the time.

Running and half-swimming through the water to Ms. Gaytan, Barron grabbed an arm while Hernandez lifted her legs, "and when I saw her feet I wrapped my hand around them and squeezed to stop the bleeding," said Hernandez.

Labor may join coalition

TEL AVIV — Leaders of the opposition Labor Party, seeking to break Israel's election stalemate, reversed their stand today and said they would consider joining the rival Likud bloc in a unity government — but only if it were Labor-led.

The idea of a joint government was proposed two weeks ago by Likud's leader, Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir, but had been rejected by Labor until today. Likud has said it should head a joint government because it has more support among small parties.

S. Africa, SWAPO meet

JOHANNESBURG — South Africa reportedly held talks today with the black-nationalist guerrilla organization that for 17 years has fought for independence in South-West Africa.

The South African Press Association said the talks, not previously disclosed, were going on in the Cape Verde Islands. The independent news service said South African officials, presumably led by Foreign Minister R.F. Botha, were meeting with guerrilla leaders of the South-West Africa People's Organization (SWAPO).

4 killed by car bombs

GUADELOUPE — Four people were killed when two cars exploded in the main towns of this French Caribbean island. Police said the dead may have been victims of premature explosions of bombs they were making.

An explosion destroyed a parked car in a back street of Pointe-a-Pitre late Tuesday. Rescue workers found one occupant of the car dead and the other, severely injured, died later in hospital.

Two people were blown to pieces when their car exploded in the parking lot of a supermarket in Basse-Terre about an hour later, police said.

Little Mermaid repaired

COPENHAGEN — The bronze statue of the Little Mermaid, her right arm sawed off by vandals, was in a foundry today undergoing repairs.

The 4-ton statue, a national landmark, was lifted off its harborside perch Tuesday by a floating salvage crane, taken to a nearby dock and loaded onto the bed of a wrecker truck for a ride through the city to a bronze foundry.

City architect Ejvind Lorenzen said he expected it would take about a week for workers to weld back the hollow, 16-inch section of arm from shoulder to wrist.

Filming in Fabens

W. Texas location picked for eerie effects

By the Associated Press

Amid the desert bluffs east of the tiny West Texas town of Fabens, where the only sight is seemingly never-ending hills of sand, the only sound the rush of the wind, civilization appears to be hundreds of miles away.

But that desolate feeling, that eerie sensation of being alone in the world has drawn the makers of a new movie to the far western corner of Texas, where "there is a mood ... that really sets the mood for this piece," says Peter Burrell, producer of the film "Death of An Angel."

"It is so desolate, there's nothing growing here and the light and the area makes for interesting shapes and forms. There's a certain eeriness, a certain spiritual feeling," Burrell said recently as the filming of the movie's Texas scenes entered its second week. "It's a spiritual movie so it works for us."

"Angel," a U.S. directorial debut for Romanian political refugee writer and director Petru Popescu, originally was to be shot entirely in Texas, Burrell said.

But financial considerations forced the filmmakers to alter their plans and, part of the film already has been shot in the Los Angeles area, Burrell said.

"But because the story implies a real contrast between a lush urban city and a very dry, desolate area, this has worked out for the best," he said.

Burrell, who has worked on such movies as "Slapshot" and "The Turning Point," said he and Popescu were looking for an area in Texas with a deteriorating village.

Since the "perfect" site could not be found, a replica of a village in Indian Hot Springs was built near Fabens, which sits off Interstate 10 about 26 miles south of El Paso.

Building crews arrived in late May and within six weeks, a village for the movie was built and filming had begun.

A story peppered with action and adventure, "Angel" is a psychological drama that revolves around three primary characters: a mother, played by Bonnie Bedelia; her daughter, played by Pamela Ludwig; and Angel, a mysterious religious leader who possesses a crucifix that purportedly bleeds.

Nick Mancuso, an Italian-born Canadian actor, portrays Angel, "a man whose faith is so strong he is willing to sacrifice his own life."

The role of Angel "is one of the more difficult ones I've played," said Mancuso, whose American film roles have included "Ticket to Heaven" and the six-hour television mini-series "Scruples."

"But I very much like this guy," Mancuso said of his character, who deals with suffering, courage and faith during the course of the movie. "I am trying to make the character believable, to show that a man like this can exist in the real world," Mancuso explained. "I am trying to make him as relatable as possible without being untrue to him."

The screenplay of the low-budget "Death of An Angel" was one of less than a dozen scripts selected for presentation at actor-director Robert Redford's Sundance Institute, where nearly 500 screenplays are submitted for consideration each year.

Mancuso contends the story "is one of the best" he's ever read, adding that "it has fable qualities."

The movie unfolds as Ms. Bedelia, who has appeared in, among other films, "They Shoot Horses, Don't They" and "The Big Fix," sets out to find her runaway daughter, who has joined Angel's faith-healing cult in an unspecified desolate southwestern town.

Montford praised, Shaw criticized for contributions

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Common Cause of Texas, a self-styled citizens' lobby group, criticized 49 state officials and legislative candidates Monday for accepting political contributions from an out-of-state race track operation.

The general manager and two stockholders of Flagler Race Track, a Florida-based dog racing operation, contributed almost $50,000 to political officeholder and campaign accounts only four days after the May 5 party primaries, the lobby group said.

Common Cause's Executive Director John Hildreth called the contributions a blatant "attempt to influence or reward" legislative officials.

SEN. MONTFORD REP. SHAW

Common Cause officials praised five legislators at a Capitol news conference, including state Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, for returning the political contributions. Montford initially received $1,000 from the group.

The group said state Rep. Larry Don Shaw, D-Big Spring, received a $250 contribution which he kept.

A majority of those who received the contributions — which ranged from a high of $7,500 to a low of $100 — are either unopposed in November or nowhere near the end of their legislative terms, said Bob Dahlquist, state chairman of Common Cause.

Judge upholds closing of Houston nudist club

HOUSTON (AP) — The state did not violate bankruptcy laws when it ordered a nude northwest Houston nightclub to close, a federal bankruptcy judge says.

Judge Manuel Leal said Monday the Stone Fox night club was not entitled to protections under a bankruptcy petition owner Robert Porter filed on Dec. 5.

Porter filed the petition after a state court ruled on Nov. 29 that the club be padlocked because authorities said it was being used for prostitution.

Porter argued that the order to close the club was not signed until Dec. 19, after he had sought bankruptcy protection to maintain his business.

But the judge said the relationship between Porter and the state is not that of a debtor and creditor. The state court decision, Leal said, did not strip Porter of his title or power to control the property.

The terms of the closing order allowed Porter to put down a $5,000 surety bond to ensure that the Stone Fox would not again be used for prostitution, Leal said.

Kidney infection can be recurrent

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Our daughter, 32, has frequent bladder infections. By frequent I mean that she medicates for 10 days or so, gets well, and in about two months the problem is back. There is no explanation for this. She had infections as far back as age 11. At that time, the urologist said she had orthostatic albuminuria. Please explain that term. Would that be a cause of infection? Do you know any way to get rid of these infections? If she becomes pregnant would the problem be serious? — A.W.A.

Orthostatic proteinuria (albuminuria) means that a person loses a small amount of protein in the urine after being on his feet during the day. A check of urine in the morning would show no protein (albumin). During the night no protein is lost. Generally, this is not a serious finding, and I don't believe it's related to your daughter's recurrent infections. A number of questions have to be answered to learn why that is happening.

Is each infection due to the same germ? If so, then one suspects kidney rather than bladder infection as the primary cause. If it is the kidneys then long-term therapy with a high dosage of antibiotics would be needed to get rid of the infection once and for all.

If the recurrent infections are caused by different germs each time and if the bladder is the site of infection, then one of two options is open. Each infection can be treated as it appears with short courses of antibiotics, or a long course of antibiotics with lower dosage can be tried.

It is important to identify the germ, for it may be one that ordinary antibiotics won't kill. And she may need x-rays of her urinary tract to see if there is some abnormality permitting germs to hide out, leading to one infection after another.

Urinary tract infections during pregnancy are more serious than at other times. If the kidney is infected, that can impair the health of the fetus.

Artists to exhibit their works during festival

The Big Spring Art Association will hold an art exhibit at the Memorial Section of the Howard County Courthouse during the Heart of the City Festival, July 28. The Association met at Howard College, July 17.

Several artists will have sales displays on the southeast corner of the Courthouse lawn, it was announced at the meeting.

Norma Porter and Jean Baker were welcomed as new members. Jackie McElroy resigned as vice president. Lisa Nichols was elected to fill the vacancy.

Doris Vieregge, president, led a discussion of a membership show and sale to be held in September. The show's date was set as Sept. 15-16. Howard County artists will be invited to exhibit art work for sale.

Earnestine Day presented a program on "How to Choose a Correct

Mat and Framing Material." According to Ms. Day, the determining factor is to select a mat that appeals to the owner and will fit the decor of the room. The purpose for matting a painting is to keep space between the glass and the painting, to complement the painting and to fit it into the decor. When looking at a painting to determine which mat to use, one should look at the colors in the painting and select a complimentary color to enhance the painting and also blend well with the room's decor.

Mrs. Day pointed out that mats have changed from white to much more vibrant colors. She also said the mat should always be wider than the frame.

First place Tipping of the Brush award went to Johnny Zitterkopf for his wood carving of a quail, which will be on display during August.

Dear Abby

Dog food diet

DEAR ABBY: Is it harmful for a person to eat dried or canned dog food? Due to the economics of our household, we don't qualify for any government food program.

I am 4½ months pregnant and have been eating Purina Dog Chow as a source of protein, and I'm worried about the effect it could have on me or my unborn baby.

Can you give me any information on this product? Thank you.

—HUNGRY IN ST. PAUL
DEAR HUNGRY: I contacted the Ralston Purina Co. and was told by a spokesperson that pet food is not recommended for human consumption. I pressed for more information and asked, "Is it harmful for humans?" but was told again only, "Our pet food is not recommended for human consumption."

So, if you're eating dog chow because you can't afford food for humans, I urge you to contact your county welfare department at once and explain your predicament. You should be eligible for some kind of assistance.

Recipes make summer picnics a success

By RHONDA WOODALL
Lifestyle Writer

The summer isn't over yet, so there's plenty of time left for picnics. When picnicking, take along foods that will delight the taste buds and last all day. Below are recipes that will make any picnic a success.

ZESTY BEEF SANDWICHES
½ pound cooked roast beef, sliced ¼-inch thick
¾ cup bottled Italian dressing
½ cup green onion slices
1 Tbsp. prepared mustard
2 medium-size red or green peppers, cut into strips
¼ pound Swiss cheese slices, cut into ¼-inch strips
6 Pita pocket breads, cut in half
Leaf lettuce
2 medium-size tomatoes, sliced
½ cup mayonnaise
Alfalfa sprouts, if desired
Cut beef into ½-inch wide strips. Combine dressing, green onion and mustard in medium-size bowl. Add roast beef and peppers; mix well. Cover; chill several hours or overnight, stirring occasionally.

Immediately before serving, drain beef mixture, reserving dressing. Add cheese to drain meat mixture, tossing lightly. Combine mayonnaise with reserved dressing; mix well. Line pita bread halves with lettuce and tomato. Fill pita with meat mixture. Top each sandwich half with mayonnaise mixture and sprouts. Serve immediately. Makes 12 sandwich halves.

BEAN SALAD SUPREME

¾ cup cider vinegar
¼ cup water
¼ cup vegetable oil
2 Tbsps. sugar
½ tsp. basil leaves, crushed
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
2 medium-size zucchini, sliced
1 can (16 ounce) wax beans or chick peas, drained
1 can (15 ounce) dark red kidney beans, drained
¾ cup celery slices
¾ cup chopped red onion
Combine vinegar, water, oil, sugar, basil, salt and pepper; mix well. Add zucchini, wax beans, kidney beans, celery and onion; mix well. Cover; chill several hours or overnight, stirring occasionally. Makes four to six servings.

SUMMER FRUIT COMPOTE

4 cups honeydew melon balls (about 1 large melon)
4 cups pineapple chunks (about 1 large pineapple)
2 pints strawberries, cut into halves
½ cup maple flavored table syrup
½ cup white table wine or ginger ale
In four quart bowl, combine fruit. In small bowl, combine syrup and wine; pour over fruit. Cover; refrigerate for two hours or until chilled. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

SWISS BROCCOLI SOUP

1 cup instant nonfat dry milk
3 Tbsps. flour
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. garlic powder
2½ cups water
1 can (10½ ounce) condensed chicken broth, undiluted
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
¼ cup chopped green onion
1 package (10 ounce) frozen chopped broccoli, cooked and drained
1½ cups (6 ounce) shredded Swiss cheese
Combine dry milk, flour and seasoning in a three-quart heavy saucepan. Stir in water and condensed chicken broth until smooth. Bring to boiling over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil and stir one minute. Meanwhile, saute onion in butter until tender, about three minutes. Stir onion mixture and cooked broccoli into thickened mixture. Remove from heat and gradually stir in cheese until melted. If necessary, return to low heat to finish melting cheese. (Do not boil.) Serve immediately. Makes eight cups.

FLUFFY FRUIT PIE

Crust:
1¼ cups graham cracker crumbs

PASTA SALAD PRIMAVERA

2 cups tomato wedges

PICNIC TREATS — Sitting under a tree in the heat of the afternoon, picnickers can enjoy the refreshing taste of Cranberry Lemon Shake. Earlier in the day, they may dine on delicious Swiss Broccoli Soup.

½ cup butter, melted
¼ cup sugar
¼ tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. nutmeg
Filling:
1½ cups unsweetened pineapple juice
1 package (three ounce) lemon-flavored gelatin
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk
½ cup cold water
1 Tbsp. fresh lemon juice
1 can (11 ounce) mandarin orange and pineapple pieces, well drained
½ cup maraschino cherries, chopped, well drained
½ cup flaked coconut
Topping:
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk
½ cup unsweetened pineapple juice, chilled
1 Tbsp. fresh lemon juice
Orange and pineapple pieces, if desired
Maraschino cherry, if desired
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. For crust, combine all ingredients. Press onto bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate. Bake eight to ten minutes. Cool completely on wire rack. Refrigerate while preparing filling. For filling, heat one cup pineapple juice to boiling. Dissolve gelatin in liquid. Stir in remaining ½ cup juice. Chill until mixture is partially set. Sprinkle ½ cup dry milk over ½ cup cold water in chilled small, deep mixing bowl. Beat until foamy. Add lemon juice. Continue beating until stiff peaks form. Fold in whipped milk, fruit and coconut into gelatin mixture. Spoon into chilled crust. Chill several hours or overnight until firm.

About one hour before serving, prepare topping. For topping, sprinkle ½ cup dry milk over ½ cup chilled pineapple juice. Beat until foamy. Add lemon juice. Continue beating until stiff peaks form. Spread within one inch of edges. Garnish with orange and pineapple pieces and a cherry. Makes one nine-inch pie.

CRANBERRY LEMON SHAKE

2 cups water
¾ cup (half of a 12 ounce can) frozen cranberry juice cocktail concentrate, thawed
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk
1 pint lemon sherbet, softened
Few drops red food color, if desired
Lemon sherbet
Place water, concentrate and dry milk in blender container; cover. Blend until well combined. Add sherbet and food color; blend until smooth and frothy. Serve immediately in tall chilled glasses garnished with a small scoop of lemon sherbet. Makes four cups.

EL TACO SALAD

4 flour tortillas
Oil
1 pound ground beef
1 8-ounce bottle taco dressing
1 quart shredded lettuce
1 cup chopped tomato
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded natural monterey jack cheese
¼ cup pitted ripe olive slices
½ cup sour cream
2 Tbsps. green onion slices
Fry tortillas in two inches of hot oil, pressing down centers with large ladle to form shell. Continue frying until crisp and golden; remove with tongs. Drain. Brown meat; drain. Add ½ cup dressing. Cover; simmer for five minutes. In tortilla shell, layer lettuce, meat mixture, tomato, cheese, olive, sour cream and green onion. Serve

GREEN BEAN SCRAMBLE

8 ounces fresh green beans, cut into 1-inch pieces
¼ cup water
8 eggs
½ cup milk
1 Tbsp. instant minced onion
½ tsp. seasoned salt
½ tsp. tarragon, rosemary or savory leaves, crushed, optional
¼ tsp. pepper
2 Tbsps. butter
½ cup (2 ounce) shredded Swiss cheese
In medium saucepan, combine beans and water. Bring to boiling. Cover, reduce heat and simmer until beans are crisp-tender, 10 to 15 minutes. Drain and set aside.

Mix eggs, milk and seasonings until blended. In 10-inch omelet pan or skillet over medium heat, heat butter until just hot enough to sizzle a drop of water. Pour in egg mixture. Stir in reserved green beans and cheese. As mixture begins to set, gently draw an inverted pancake turner completely across the bottom and sides of the pan, forming large soft curds. Continue until eggs are softened but still moist. Do not stir constantly. Makes four servings.

CHEESY ONION BREAD

5 to 5½ cups all-purpose flour
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk
2 packages active dry yeast
3 Tbsps. sugar
2 tps. salt
1½ cups water
3 Tbsps. butter
2 eggs
2 cups (8 ounce) shredded Cheddar cheese
½ cup sliced green onion
Butter
Combine two cups flour, dry milk, dry yeast, sugar and salt in a large mixing bowl. Heat water and butter until very warm (120 to 130 degrees). Gradually add to dry ingredients. Beat two minutes at medium speed of mixer, scraping bowl occasionally. Beat in eggs. Add one cup flour. Beat for two minutes on high speed, scraping

EGGPLANT PARMESAN FRITTATA

1 egg
1 Tbsp. water
½ tsp. salt
2 cups diced pared eggplant (about 8 ounce)
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ cup butter or oil
8 eggs
½ cup milk or tomato juice
½ cup (2 ounce) shredded mozzarella cheese
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese
½ tsp. oregano leaves, crushed
6 drops hot pepper sauce
Parsley sprigs, optional
In medium bowl beat together egg, water and salt. Add eggplant and toss gently until eggplant is completely coated with egg mixture. Let stand 10 minutes. Drain. Return eggplant to bowl, sprinkle with crumbs and toss until completely coated with crumbs.

EGGPLANT PARMESAN FRITTATA

Combine dressing. Makes four servings.

SUNDAE TUNA SALAD

2 6½-ounce cans tuna, drained, flaked
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
½ cup chopped celery
Creamy cucumber dressing or Italian herb dressing made with cream cheese
¼ cup chopped green pepper
6 iceberg lettuce slices
2 tomatoes, cut into wedges
Combine tuna, eggs, celery, ½ cup dressing and green pepper; mix lightly. Chill. For each serving, top lettuce with tuna mixture and tomato. Serve with additional dressing. Makes six servings.

LAYERED SEA SALAD

1 8-ounce bottle bacon and tomato dressing
½ cup sour cream
2 cups (8 ounce) corkscrew noodles, cooked, drained
¼ cup chopped parsley
3 cups shredded lettuce
2 cups chopped cucumber
1½ cups celery slices
3 cups chopped tomato
1 pound cleaned shrimp, cooked or one 16-ounce can salmon, drained, flaked
Combine dressing and sour cream; mix well. Chill. Combine noodles and parsley; mix lightly. In 3½-quart serving bowl, layer lettuce, cucumber, noodle mixture, celery, tomato and shrimp. Serve with dressing mixture. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

FAJITAS

2 to 3 pounds fajitas (marinated and grilled pieces of skirt steak), cut into strips
1 (16 ounce) bottle Italian dressing
Flour tortillas
Salsa Alicia
If fajitas have not been skinned, ask butcher to skin or tenderize them. Marinate fajitas in Italian dressing for about four hours. Drain and cook over medium coals until done, about 20 minutes. Cut into bite-sized strips. Wrap in flour tortillas. Serve with Salsa Alicia. Serves six.

SALSA ALICIA

3 strips bacon, cut into small pieces
½ cup chopped onion
½ cup chopped green pepper
1 (16 ounce) can whole tomatoes
Salt to taste
2 to 3 chopped jalapeno peppers
Fry bacon. Sauté onion and green pepper in bacon grease. Add whole tomatoes, salt and jalapenos. Simmer and serve.

Advertising can mislead consumers

COLLEGE STATION — Consumers can be easily misled by food advertising that plays on their concerns about calories, cholesterol and sugar, says a Texas A & M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist.

Advertising is regulated by the Federal Trade Commission, and cannot contain incorrect information, says Dr. Alice Hunt. But some advertising claims take advantage of consumer's lack of nutrition information.

Many products are labeled "light" or "lite" to capitalize on consumers' interest in lower calorie foods, she says. While these products may be lighter in color or taste, they often have the same number of calories as other brands of the same product.

The labels on some vegetable oils, margarines and peanut butters state they have "no cholesterol." "Unfortunately, many consumers don't know that cholesterol is found only in animal products," says Hunt.

These consumers may also mistakenly assume that similar vegetable products contain cholesterol, simply because their labels do not claim otherwise, she adds.

Consumers trying to cut down on sugar may be misled by similar advertising. For example, some brands of orange juice claim to have "no sugar added." This implies that other brands do have sugar added.

Yet under federal standards, any product labeled "orange juice" must be 100 percent orange juice with nothing added," explains the nutritionist.

Products advertised as having "half the sugar," may or may not have less sugar than other brands. Often the product has fifty percent less sugar than did before, but it may still contain a high amount of sugar.

Advertising can provide some valuable and useful information, she says. But to avoid being misled, consumers must become informed about nutrition and take the time to carefully read the labels on food products.

Pioneer to view Halley's comet

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — The Pioneer spacecraft, launched six years ago to study the planet Venus, will be tilted to give scientists a good look at Halley's comet when it appears in 1986, NASA officials say.

The Pioneer Venus Orbiter will be the only spacecraft in position to observe the legendary comet when it is at its most spectacular, officials at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Ames Research Center said Monday.

That point is at perihelion, when the comet comes closest to the sun and is brightest, the scientists said.

The view from Earth won't be as good because the planet will be on the opposite side of the sun from both Venus and Halley's comet at perihelion, Ames officials said.

The comet's 1986 appearance will offer the "worst viewing for the naked eye in the last 2,000 years," said Ray L. Newburn, a leader of the International Halley Watch.

However, the orbiter will be well-placed to view the spectacle, scientists said. The spacecraft will come closest to the sun on Feb. 9, 1986, when the comet should be at its brightest.

Laughs beginning for former clown

BEAUMONT (AP) — The heat of the day was approaching its peak, but Mel Hall found a shady spot for his chair and settled in for a long talk.

Hall, 66, talks passionately about his life with the circus. Although he left the big top in 1977, Hall has not given up the business entirely. He'd try just about anything to get into show business full-time again.

Right now, he's teaching turkeys to walk a high wire and swing from a trapeze. He even is considering teaching a dance routine to one of his turkeys.

With a toothless grin and a chuckle, Hall says he sees the act as a novelty.

"Nobody's worked with turkeys before," he says. "I don't understand that. They're not dumb. They're natural walkers and got good balance."

Thinking about a future with the circus seems to remind Hall of why he wants to return to the business he has known all his life. How could a child born on the road to a juggling magician and a contortionist grow up to be anything but a circus performer?

"It's hereditary," Hall says. "The acts are handed down, so kids start young. The circus is a great place to raise kids."

Hall and his ex-wife brought up four children. Three still are circus performers.

Hall's youngest daughter left the business when she married. But her debut came at 18 months before she had spoken her first complete sentence when she rode a unicycle onto the stage during her father's act.

Hall built his act around the unicycle, which he says he mastered at 12, while still a part of his father's magic act.

At 20, Hall left his father's show and went out on his own.

"I didn't join another circus right away," he says. "I played at skating rinks, beer joints and nightclubs and then passed the hat. I didn't make much money that way."

Hall finally joined up with a carnival that paid him $1 a day plus food for his unicycle act. A friend, who was a clown, got only 50 cents a day.

"It's a lot easier to clown," Hall says. "Anybody could do that."

When the carnival owners found out Hall was mechanically inclined, they made him a mechanic, too, and paid him in gasoline.

Demo Convention snubbed by Nielsen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The networks' coverage of the Democratic National Convention drew only humdrum ratings in a week in which television viewership fell to the lowest level of the year.

NBC regained first place for the week ended July 22, but its winning rating of 9.4 was below that of an average third-place finish and was the lowest winning rate of the year.

The networks say the results of the A.C. Nielsen Co. survey mean that in an average prime-time minute 9.4 percent of all homes with televisions were tuned to NBC.

NBC also had the top-rated show in the "The A-Team," which joined two other NBC shows in the Top 10. CBS had five in the Top 10 and ABC had two.

The highest-rated convention program was CBS's coverage of the Rev. Jesse Jackson's speech Tuesday night. It was in 28th place; other convention coverage ranked down to NBC's Monday coverage in 54th place, fourth from the bottom.

NBC was in last place the previous week, but it had been first for the two weeks before that. ABC, first in the previous week, fell to third place and CBS remained in second place.

Here are the rankings for the network coverage of the Democratic convention: CBS Tuesday, No. 28; ABC Wednesday, 29; CBS Thursday, 31; NBC Tuesday, 32; CBS Monday, 38; ABC Tuesday, 40; ABC Thursday, 42; NBC Wednesday, 45; CBS Wednesday, 47; NBC Thursday, 50; ABC Monday, 51; NBC Monday, 54.

In the weekly network ratings, CBS was second with 9.1 and ABC was third with 8.9.

All the programs in the Top 10 were reruns of series and movies.

NBC's "The A-Team" was first, followed by CBS' "Trapper John, M.D.," second; CBS' "Alice," third; CBS' "60 Minutes," fourth; ABC's "The Love Boat" and the NBC movie "The Haunting Passion," tied for fifth; ABC's "Fantasy Island," seventh; CBS' "Scarecrow & Mrs. King," eighth; the NBC movie "Shogun," ninth; and CBS' "The Jeffersons," tenth.

The lowest-ranked show of the week was NBC's "Summer Sunday, USA." The five shows at the bottom in descending order were: CBS' "One Day at a Time," NBC's convention coverage, CBS' "Crossroads," CBS' "Mama Malone," and NBC's "Summertime, USA."

CBS remained ahead among the evening news shows, with NBC second and ABC third. The ratings: CBS 9.7, NBC 8.5, ABC 8.1.

Here are the week's 10 top shows:

1. "The A-Team," NBC, a rating of 15.8 or 13.2 million households.
2. "Trapper John, M.D.," CBS, 14.5 or 12.1 million.
3. "Alice," CBS, 14.2 or 11.8 million.
4. "60 Minutes," CBS, 13.9 or 11.6 million.
5. "The Love Boat," ABC, 13.4 or 11.2 million.
5. Tie-Movie—"The Haunting Passion," NBC 13.4 or 11.2 million.
7. "Fantasy Island," ABC, 13.2 or 11.0 million.
8. "Scarecrow & Mrs. King," CBS, 12.7 or 10.6 million.
9. Movie—"Shogun," NBC, 12.5 or 10.4 million.
10. "The Jeffersons," CBS, 11.6 or 9.7 million.

Coke not the real thing for teen-age boy

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A 14-year-old boy hurrying to meet relatives after arriving by jet grabbed the wrong suitcase at an airport luggage carousel and wound up with $1 million worth of cocaine and a loaded pistol, police said Tuesday.

Authorities returned the suitcase to the airport, set up a stakeout and arrested two men after a car chase, police said.

Randy Lange, 29, of Faribault, and Terry Rabenberg, 29, of Rochester, were being held in the Ramsey County Jail in lieu of $50,000 bond on federal charges of cocaine possession and conspiracy to distribute the narcotic. A bond reduction hearing was scheduled Tuesday afternoon before U.S. Magistrate Floyd E. Bolin in Minneapolis.

The name of the Colorado boy who found the cocaine and the family with whom he is staying were withheld at the request of family members, who were afraid of possible repercussions, said Anoka Police Chief Andy Revering.

"It (the suitcase) just looked to be the same as the one he had," Revering said. "He just grabbed it from the carousel. ... They were quite surprised and shocked."

Revering said the boy discovered the mistake when he opened the unlocked reddish-brown suitcase in the bedroom of his cousin's home in Anoka late Thursday night and saw a loaded .45-caliber automatic pistol with its hammer cocked.

The boy's uncle removed the clip from the pistol and then called police, Revering said. Officers found about 4 pounds of cocaine in a plastic bag in the suitcase, he said.

"They became scared afterward," said Randy Betlach, the Anoka police officer who found the cocaine in the suitcase early Friday. "They had the feeling that there could be reprisals ... that someone was tracing the bag and could be lying and lurking about their residence."

Betlach said he didn't think the family was in danger, but said officers were closely watching the home as a precaution.

Agents from the state Bureau of Criminal Apprehension returned the suitcase to Minneapolis-St. Paul International Airport and watched as Rabenberg claimed the suitcase Friday morning, according to an affidavit filed against Rabenberg and Lange.

Judge: No desire for dirty movies

BEAUMONT, Texas (AP) — State District Judge Larry Gist, considering evidence in an obscenity case, has ruled three video movies obscene and doesn't want to sit through 400 more tapes prosecutors contend also are obscene.

Rick Hughes, the attorney for the man charged in the case, Daniel Lee, estimates it would take 70 days to watch all of the tapes seized in a police raid of Lee's Port Arthur video store.

"I've got a lot of things I'd rather do than watch dirty movies," the judge said. Lee, 58, is charged with possession of cocaine and marijuana, promotion of prostitution and five counts of distribution of obscene materials.

The judge wants attorneys in the case to come to some agreement to avoid watching all the tapes. But Hughes refuses to concede that the remainder of the tapes are obscene and prosecutors won't agree that the remaining tapes are not.

Odessa man burned in oil rig fire

PENWELL (AP) — An Odessa man was burned over 50 percent of his body today when fire broke out on an oil rig about three and a half miles south of this West Texas town.

Rick Sperry, 26, was taken to Medical Center Hospital in Odessa shortly after the fire broke out at 9:35 a.m. Hospital spokeswoman Linda Ham said Sperry may be transferred to a burn center in Lubbock.

She said he had second- and third-degree burns over 50 percent of his body.

Sperry was apparently the one person seriously injured, said Odessa Fire Department dispatcher Mark McCormick.

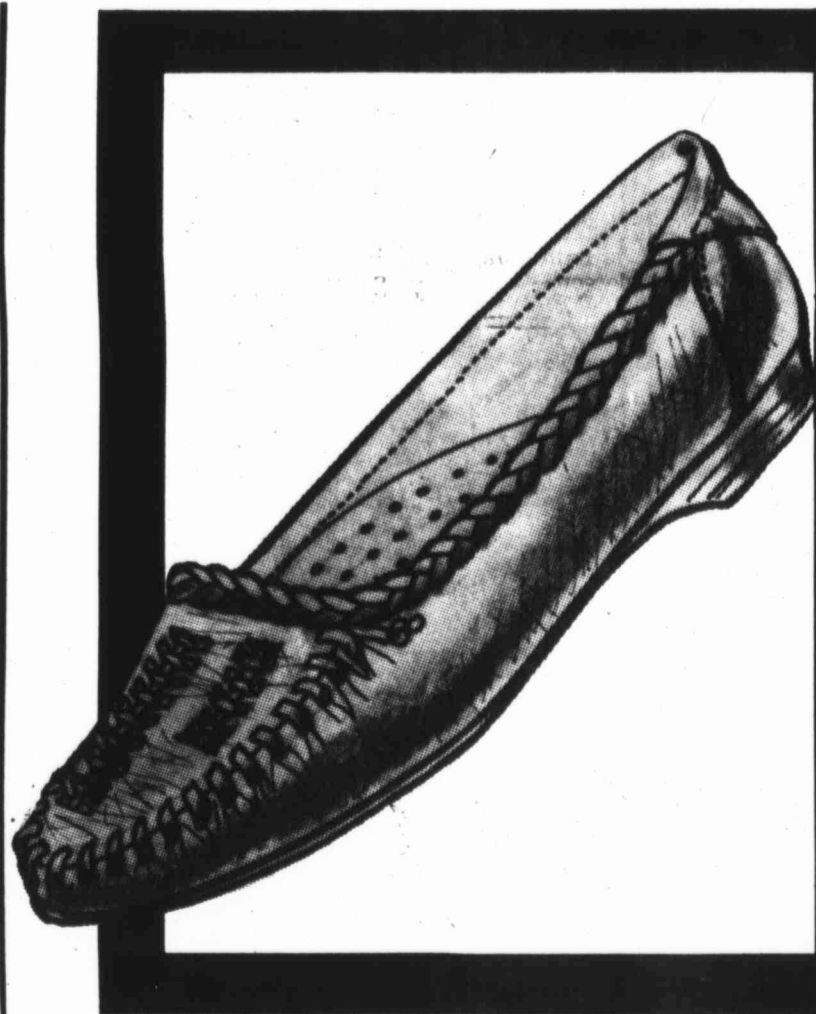

McCormick said the fire was reported at 9:35 a.m.

"We had an oilfield fire on an oil rig," he said. "We don't know what caused it. We don't know what was burning."

McCormick said a fire truck was still on the scene at 10:40 a.m.

"I don't know if the fire is out or not," he said.

Penwell is about 15 miles west of Odessa.

Austin rain is too little, too late

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin residents thought for a while Tuesday their prayers for rain had been answered, but dark clouds disappeared after dropping about half an inch of moisture on the parched Central Texas drought area.

City officials said Austin's mandatory lawn watering restrictions would remain in effect.

"It will take more than this to change the pattern," said Faith George, water conservation program coordinator for the city.

Wednesday's Austin forecast called for a "chance" of thundershowers.

There were no plans to cancel an outdoor political rally at Wednesday noon near downtown Austin featuring President Ronald Reagan and Vice President George Bush.

The state's capital has had only 8.96 inches of rain since the first of the year, 8.64 inches short of the normal rainfall at this time of the year.

Temperatures throughout July have risen to near 100 degrees daily in Austin with a high of 105 degrees on July 10.

The city has been under mandatory water use restrictions since July 16, after city water use surpassed 150 million gallons daily for three consecutive days.

GOLD FEVER — Edwin Moses' 89-race victory string will be on the line when the 1984 Summer Olympic Games start in Los Angeles later this week, but the 400-meter hurdler says winning a gold medal means a lot more than keeping the streak intact.

Gold fever strikes Moses

Win streak becomes secondary for Olympics

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A gold medal in the 400-meter hurdles in the 1984 Olympics would mean just a bit more to Edwin Moses than to some of the other athletes competing here.

Moses, the world record-holder in the event, has won 89 consecutive finals, a streak that has spanned seven years and hours of concentration.

"The hardest thing has always been maintaining the high level of concentration needed to win at this level of competition," Moses said at a news conference Tuesday.

Could it be possible that Moses can keep the streak going until the 1988 Summer Games in Seoul?

"I think so," Moses replied. "Physically, I feel good right now and the ways things are financially right now I can give everything to track. If those situations remain the same I can make it to '88."

Moses began his streak on Sept. 2, 1977 in Dusseldorf, West Germany, and in the interim has broken the world record three times, the last on Aug. 31, 1983 in Koblenz, West Germany when he was timed in 47.02 seconds.

The Games in Seoul are far off and so are Moses' thoughts of the streak and another world record.

"I'm going for the gold first of all," Moses said. "I could run a world record as I did last year, but I have to run three heats here and I would prefer the gold first and the world record later."

The gold medal here wouldn't be the first, however, for the 28-year-old Dayton, Ohio native. In 1976, Moses won the gold in the 400 hurdles, a year before he began his streak.

The last man to beat Moses to the tape in a final was Harald Schmid of West Germany, who is among the entrants in the Olympic race this year.

"He is the guy to beat," Moses said. "He should be on the minds of myself and the other Americans who qualified, especially since they have not seen him before."

The other Americans are Danny Harris and Tranel Hawkins, two relative newcomers to the scene who managed to edge Andre Phillips for the U.S. Olympic roster spots, despite Phillips being one of only four men to break the 48-second barrier.

Harris, 18, is the current NCAA champion from Iowa State where he played defensive halfback on the football team. He made his first competitive debut in the event in March and in the interim set five world junior records and was timed in 48.02, a clocking beaten only by Moses this year.

Big Spring teams cut down in sectional action triple slaying

LUBBOCK — It was a bad day for Big Spring teams in Sectional Tourney action here Tuesday as all three local teams were defeated.

The Senior League 14-15-year old All-Stars are the lone remaining Big Spring team in the tourney while the Big Leaguers and 13-year-olds, a 14-7 loser to Abilene, are out of the tourney.

ABILENE BIG LEAGUERS 9, BIG SPRING 7

Big Spring jumped on Abilene for a quick 6-1 lead in the top of the second inning, but faltered down the stretch as Big Spring starter Tommy Gartman suffered control problems, allowing Abilene to come back for a 9-7 win.

After Abilene scored a run in the first inning, Big Spring roared back for six big runs in the second. Abilene starter Todd Morgan also suffered control problems, combined with singles in the stanza from Sammy Watson, Chris Lamb, Jay Pirkle and Jerry Anderson.

Morgan was pulled from the contest after the second inning and was relieved by Mack Dennis who took the win.

Big Spring's five run lead was short lived as Abilene rallied for five runs in the bottom of the second, knotting the score.

Gartman took the loss. He was relieved by Watson who hurled three-and-a-third innings, allowing one run. Watson was the only Big Spring pitcher to get two hits in the game.

The loss ends Big Spring's record at 12-12 for the season.

ABILENE SENIOR LEAGUERS 11, BIG SPRING 4

Abilene unleashed a hitting attack in which four players collected two hits each as they went on to down the Big Spring Senior Leaguers 11-4, handing Big Spring their first loss of the tourney.

Abilene took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first on a RBI ground out by Scotty Pugh. Big Spring unleashed some "TNT" in the top of the second as the home team played long ball with Abilene.

Raymond Ontiveros opened the inning with a home run over the left field fence, Abilene starter John Thompson then retired the next two batters before issuing a walk, bringing Carey Fraser to the plate. Fraser followed Ontiveros' act by driving another ball over the left field fence, giving Big Spring their last lead of the contest.

It was the first time Abilene had trailed a team in the tourney and they roared back for three runs in the bottom of the second thanks to two Big Spring errors. The killing blow followed when David Tollinson ramed a three-run homer giving Abilene a commanding lead. Big Spring is now 2-1 in tourney play, gaining wins over Ozona 2-1 and Dixie 5-2. Brian Mayfield and Aaron Allen were the winning pitchers respectively. Big Spring will take on the winner of the Ozona-Dixie contest tonight at 6 p.m.

Bradshaw trades in football for broadcasting opportunity

NEW YORK (AP) — Tery Bradshaw, officially retired from the National Football League after guiding the Pittsburgh Steelers to four Super Bowl victories, hopes his new employer will be as patient as his former one.

Bradshaw announced his retirement Tuesday and move from the field to the broadcast booth as a television commentator for CBS Sports.

"I can remember the coin flip in 1970 between George Halas of the Bears and Arthur Rooney of the Steelers," Bradshaw said Tuesday at a news conference. "I can laugh now, but back then I had no idea what it meant to be the No. 1 draft choice in the NFL. The Steelers were very patient with me. I hope CBS will show the patience with me that the Steelers did in my younger years."

The 14-year NFL veteran said an elbow injury that limited him to one game last season led to his decision. He said he decided to retire when, despite months of rehabilitation, he was unable to throw without pain.

"It's a proud moment for me, but a sad one, too," Bradshaw said. "It's not a one-year retirement. It's forever. I regret it, but it's got to be done."

Bradshaw, 35, retires ranked ninth on the all-time NFL list with 212 touchdown passes, 12th in pass attempts with 3,901, 15th in completions with 2,025, and 13th in passing yards, 27,989.

In playoff action Bradshaw was especially effective, passing for 3,833 yards and 30 touchdowns in 19 postseason games. He completed 49 of 84 passes and threw for nine touchdowns in pacing the Steelers to league championships in 1975, 1976, 1979 and 1980. He holds the Super Bowl career record of 932 passing yards and also established single-game marks by throwing for 318 yards and four touchdowns against Dallas in 1979.

"We had so many great things happen for the city of Pittsburgh, which for so long had been a loser," he said. "It was great to not only play with a great football team, but to play a part in rebuilding the image of the city."

Oilers cut Whitley for choice that may go with USFL team

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — The Houston Oilers have cut veteran defensive lineman Wilson Whitley and now they're hoping for the possible arrival of rookie Doug Smith to take his place.

Whitley, a former University of Houston All-American and Lombardi Award winner as the nation's outstanding lineman, was among six players waived by the Oilers Tuesday.

Smith, a second round draft choice from Auburn, was deadlocked in a contract struggle, however, and remained the team's only holdout. Smith is reportedly close to signing with the Birmingham Stallions of the USFL.

"I told the club on the first day that as soon as we knew someone wasn't going to make the team, we'd let them know," Oiler Coach Hugh Campbell said in explaining Whitley's dismissal. "None of these players were disasters. They may have a chance to catch on with another team."

Also waived were wide receivers Danny Clark, West Texas State and Rory Hennings, Evansville; tight end Mark Swoboda, Wisconsin-Stout; running back Melvin Jenkins, Morehouse College and offensive tackle, Osby Mitchell, Rice.

All of the waived players were free agents, leaving the Oilers with 76 players on the roster.

The departures of Hennings and Clark still left the Oilers with 10 wide receivers in camp.

"We felt we needed to narrow the numbers so that the rest of the receivers could get more work on their timing," Campbell said.

The Oilers managed only 31 quarterback sacks last season and hope Smith will report in time to contribute his rookie season.

"That's the spot where we need the most help," Campbell said.

Campbell said the longer Smith remained out of camp, the harder it would be for him to contribute to the Oilers' defensive line, the weakest position in last year's 2-14 season.

Penalties touted for nations that boycott Olympic Games

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Juan Antonio Samaranch, president of the International Olympic Committee, warned Tuesday that further political boycotts could destroy the Olympic Games and the entire Olympic movement.

Formally opening a three-day IOC session on the eve of the 1984 Games, Samaranch linked the Soviet-led boycott in Los Angeles with previous American-led and African-sponsored boycotts and declared: "This practice is quite unacceptable to us."

"For various reasons, each closely linked with purely political problems, the very people for whom the Games are intended, the athletes who have worked so hard and confidently for many long years toward their participation in the Games, have found themselves excluded from this great quadrennial festival of youth and sport."

"One thing is certain, such decisions, when directly or indirectly inspired by political powers, can only cause harm to the whole Olympic movement," Samaranch said.

Samaranch made no direct reference to a proposal before the IOC to penalize nations which boycott future Olympics. But he called on the IOC to "begin the work of rebuilding" immediately after the Los Angeles Games, to safeguard the future of the Olympic movement and prevent "a repetition of so many unfortunate events."

Cheyenne first round winners named

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — South Dakota cowboy Marty Melvin won $2,835 for the top score in bull riding during the first go-round at the Cheyenne Frontier Days rodeo here Tuesday, with a score of 82 he turned in three days earlier.

No performer could match the score Melvin had on the first day of the 88th annual rodeo, which is offering about $430,000 to more than 1,100 competitors entered in seven events.

Melvin, 23, the 1983 all-around champion at the Frontier Days rodeo, was followed by Rickey Lindsey, of Huntsville, Texas, whose earlier 77 stood up through the late competition. Bobby Delvecchio, of Bronx, N.Y., who turned in a 74 earlier in the week, tied for third with Tim Matthews, of Hurst, Texas.

Matthews' bull, called "Haze" Stevenson, was spinning and snorting even before the chute gate was opened, and didn't stop until well after the 8-second buzzer had sounded.

Winning $2,567 for a score of 78 in the saddle bronc competition was Kent Cooper, of Delco, Idaho, while Dave Appleton, of Stephenville, Texas, took a check for $2,248 for his score of 79 in the bareback event.

Other first go-round winners included Jimmie Cooper, of Monument, N.M., with a time of 11.8 seconds in calf roping, Charlie Lowry, of Summerville, Ga., with a time of 7.3 seconds in steer wrestling, and Fred Peterson, of Riverton, Wyo., with a 72 in rookie bronc.

Cooper won $6,166, Lowry won $3,781 and Peterson won $754. Steer roping already is in the second go-round, after San Antonio's Bobby Kirkwood won $5,128 for the best first go-round time on Sunday.

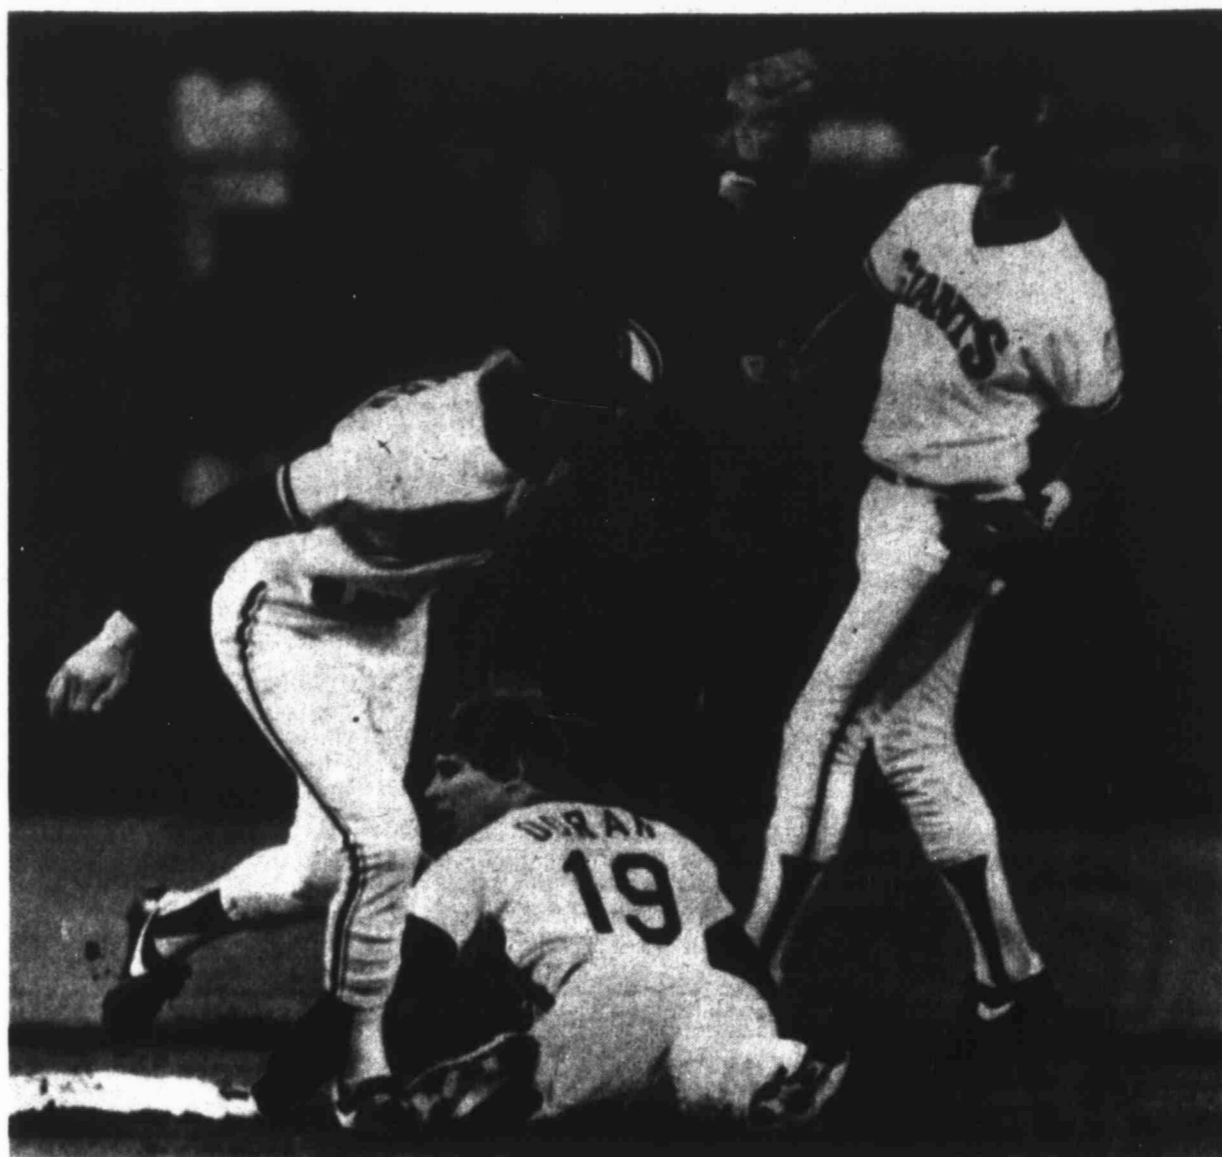

Leading after Tuesday's action was Kennard Windham, of Midland, Texas, with a time of 14.5 seconds. The second go-round finishes Saturday, with the top 15 performers in each event slated for Sunday's finals.

Training camp roundup

Zorn out, Barkum leaves Jets

By The Associated Press
Jim Zorn, demoted to a reserve role behind Dave Krieg, sees an end coming to his days as a quarterback with the Seattle Seahawks. "Frankly, I'm surprised I'm still here," Zorn said at the Seahawks' training camp. "There was so much quarterback movement in the league during the off-season. I figured I'd be one of those guys to move."

Zorn figures he can still help another club. "I'm not going to try to believe that something is there when it's not. I want to be realistic," Zorn said. "I still feel I can play in this league for another seven or maybe 10 years. I want to play, though. Playing is where it's at."

Rookie running back Greg Bell, a surprise first-round draft pick by Buffalo after having his career at Notre Dame cut short by injury, signed a four-year contract for a reported $1.8 million to $2 million.

There was mystery in the New York Giants camp after veteran tight end Jerome Barkum turned in his room key and left the club.

"He's not here," said head coach Bill Parcells after the club's afternoon workout. Asked if Barkum, who had spent only two days in camp, would be back, Parcells answered, "You'd have to ask him that." The 6-foot-4, 227-pound Barkum, who played his entire career with the New York Jets signed with the Giants on Sunday.

Parcells said Barkum told him, "I just don't want to be here. I can't explain it."

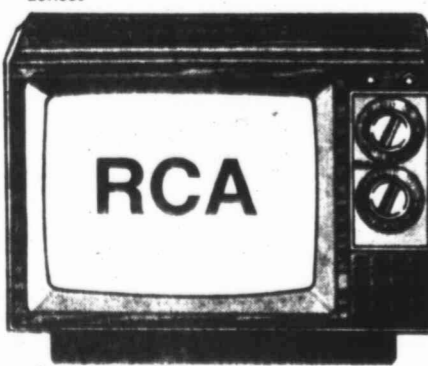

His agent, Gary Wichard, had no explanation for Barkum's move. "I haven't heard from him," Wichard said. "I don't know what happened."

Elsewhere, veteran wide receiver Freddie Solomon joined San Francisco while two of his teammates continued their holdouts.

The Wall Street waltz

Investors sidestep Reagan's merry tune of recovery

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — To the White House it looked like a bull but to Wall Street it had the dimensions of a bear.

They were viewing the same thing, the robust 7.5 percent expansion of the economy in the second quarter, but it produced exaltation in Washington and fear in New York.

As the White House viewed the report, it was additional evidence that the expansion would continue to bring more good things to the American people — and to its own political fortunes.

But in financial circles they saw it as a fire about to get out of control, a fire that would eventually consume indiscriminately, reduce the boom to a bust, and maybe even destroy a friendly regime in the White House.

The two communities exemplify a mammoth difference of opinion on the health of the U.S. economy, and the gap seems to be growing larger. Good news to the White House these days is almost certainly bad news here.

To an extent, each is a curse on the other. The White House burdens the investment community with deficit worries, and the investment community sometimes ignores White House accomplishments and follows fear instead.

Business mirror

Even before the economic upturn got under way there were many on Wall Street and all the other financial streets of America who said it couldn't happen. And once it happened, they said it wouldn't continue.

They were armed with volumes of conventional wisdom, the most credible of which seemed to be that an administration so deeply in debt would be forced to compete with the private sector for a limited amount of credit.

Such a scenario, they said, would deny the private sector the funds it needed for expansion, force interest rates higher, reduce sales, limit job expansion and otherwise abort hopes for a prolonged expansion.

But since the expansion began late in 1982, business has thrived, jobs have been created, inflation has held steady and interest rates, though high, have not vaulted into the stratosphere as feared.

The investment community seems unconvinced, however.

They point to the record $10.2 billion expansion of consumer credit in May, to a strong expansion in industrial capital spending, and an industrial plant now operating at more than 80 percent of capacity.

Such strong demands for funds, they say, eventually will bring the conflict between public and private sectors to a head. Each will fight for a limited supply of credit and, as in the waterhole, the elephant will win.

According to many Wall Street advisers, the economic recovery is the strongest in more than three decades, and some forecaster are now extending it into 1985.

It doesn't mean Wall Street's wrong, but so far it hasn't been right. And a lot of potentially good investments seem to have been lost while awaiting the big bust.

UAW accelerates demands on auto makers

DEARBORN — The United Auto Workers union took its demands for job security and higher wages to Ford Motor Co. Tuesday as labor negotiations began at the No. 2 U.S. automaker.

The Ford talks, covering 115,000 workers, began on a note of company optimism that was lacking Monday when the union presented its demands to General Motors Corp., which employs 350,000 UAW members.

GM and the UAW made some progress right away on health care, but job security and wages still loom as possible strike issues. At Ford, top negotiator Peter Pestillo, the vice president for labor relations, told the union that "we have enough enemies without fighting each other."

Nevertheless, Pestillo made it clear that the company wants the union to restrain its wage demands because the U.S. auto industry "is still on a cliff of sorts" in regard to foreign competition.

At the ceremonial opening of the talks, UAW President Owen Bieber reached across the main bargaining table Tuesday morning and shook hands with Pestillo.

The day before, Bieber and GM Vice President Alfred Warren shook hands and smiled for photographers.

The UAW is seeking to replace its historic 1982 contracts with Ford and GM which provided union concessions to the then-ailing automakers.

Both contracts expire Sept. 14. They were reached more than two years ago while the U.S. auto industry struggled through its worst slump since the Depression.

But Detroit came roaring back last year, with GM making a record $3.73 billion profit and Ford a record $1.87 billion. Both companies paid their top executives millions of dollars in bonuses based on those profits, and the industry is expected to double its black ink this year.

"GM workers are in fact entitled to and deserve" wage increases, said Bieber, who came out forcefully against GM on the union's No. 1 issue: the importing of cars and car parts from overseas to avoid U.S. labor costs.

GM's plans to import hundreds of thousands of small cars from Asia amounts to "blackmail" against the workers, Bieber said at a news conference.

"We pointed out first of all, very quickly and I think very clearly, that 1984 is not 1982," Bieber said. "The situation is totally different than when we were here the last time."

OWEN BIEBER

'The situation is totally different than when we were here the last time...We'll be prepared (to strike) if that becomes the only way we can resolve the issue.'

United Automobile Workers Contract 1984

UAW members at GM	350,000
UAW members at Ford	115,000
UAW members on indefinite layoff at GM	40,000
UAW members on indefinite layoff at Ford	21,300
UAW Strike Fund	$586 million

The average GM autoworker has seen his base hourly wage frozen at $9.63 for more than 2½ years, although cost-of-living increases brought that to $12.64 an hour this summer. Ford workers make a penny an hour more.

GM and Ford complain that wages are high enough and health care alone costs several hundred dollars per car. They peg the total cost per hour for a production worker at $22.

"We'll be prepared (to strike) if that becomes the only way we can resolve the issue," Bieber said.

"Now, we don't want it. We want to avoid that. We'll do everything we can to avoid it," he said. "But if that becomes the bottom line, this union has not been found to be wanting in that area before and they won't be in 1984."

Warren conceded to a union demand that had been mentioned as a potential sticking point in the bargaining: The GM negotiator said the company would not ask that union members pay more for their health care coverage. But Warren indicated that he expected the union to compromise on the way the health care is delivered.

GM and the union have compromised in the past few years by setting up health maintenance organizations. GM has even mentioned establishing its own health clinics. Bieber said Monday at GM that the union was willing to be creative.

One of Warren's aides put the price of GM's health care at $430 per car.

Bieber said that after GM and Ford agreements are reached, the union likely will ask Chrysler Corp. to reopen its contract, which is not due to expire for another year.

Chrysler workers made concessions and lost wage and benefit parity with GM and Ford workers more than four years ago when Chrysler nearly went bankrupt.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE
from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Now you have a very good chance to build your security and longings, and you also are able to engineer conditions as you would like them to be in the days ahead.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Clarify in your mind how to get along better with kin and others and see an expert also who can help you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Discuss with close ties whatever you want them to do in the outside world and then all works out well.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Study your monetary position and know how to improve it appreciably. Drive with utmost care.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Plan those sports and recreations that most appeal to you and make appointments. Then get busy at important duties.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You may find it difficult to gain the assistance of kin to solve a problem that is vital to you, but persevere and you will get it.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make yourself more available to friends who can be of assistance to you and try to please them.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You had better confer with a financial expert if you want to handle monetary affairs well. Be wise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try to get conditions around you better organized so that you can get ahead faster in the days ahead.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get into secretive affairs that can improve your position in life. Be sure you understand any papers you sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Others are willing to assist you today so that you can get ahead faster, if you ask for their help.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be efficient at your job since higher-ups are watching you, so try not to make any mistakes. The evening is best spent at home.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are inspired how best to gain your aims and can try a new system that is more modern and be more efficient.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she can easily figure out what the motives of others are and can be most resourceful and efficient, so give as fine an academic education as possible. Teach not to build up prejudices that could lessen the potential for success.
