Q. Do you have to register with some agency before keeping children in your home in a day-care type setting?

A. Yes, according to city/county health director James Luck. People who want to keep children in their homes must register with the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Luck then makes an on-site visit and the DHR also makes an inspection.

Homes which pass inspection are given a permit. Permits must be periodically renewed.

Calendar: Celebration

TODAY

• The First Annual Heart of the City Festival will kick off at 9 a.m. at the Courthouse Square downtown. Activities will last until 8 p.m. when a street dance will begin.

• As part of the "Heart of the City" Festival, the Potton House will be open from 2 to 5 p.m.

• The Ice Cream Supper Summer Repertory Theatre Company will present "A Coupla White Chicks Sitting Around Talking" at 8 p.m. in the Howard College Auditorium. For reservations, call 267-6311.

The Big Spring AJRA and local contestant rodeo continues at 8 p.m. at the Rodeo Bowl.

SUNDAY

• The Potton House will be open to the public from 2 to 5 p.m.

• "His Children" will perform its entire prison concert tour program at 6 p.m. in the sanctuary at First Baptist Church. The public is invited.

• The Ice Cream Supper Summer Repertory Theatre Company will present "A Coupla White Chicks Sitting Around Talking" at 2 p.m. in the Howard College auditorium.

Tops on TV: Games

Special opening ceremonies for the Olympics is scheduled on ABC today.

At the movies: Conan

Arnold Schwarzenegger stars in "Conan the Destroyer" at the Cinema. Also showing at the Cinema is "Karate Kid". "The Jungle Book" is showing at the Ritz. "The Corsican Brothers" starring Cheech and Chong is also at the Ritz. "Breakin'" is showing at Show Place.

Outside: Cloudy

Today, expect partly-cloudy skies with 20 percent chance of rain. Highs will be in the upper 80s with southeasterly winds 5 to 10 miles per hour.

Off the wall: Runaways

DORCHESTER, Wis. (AP) — Ethel Vieh says she and her husband, Reuben, had a good excuse for running away to join a traveling carnival eight years ago: They wanted to be with their grandchildren.

The Viehs wound up spending the ensuing summers working and touring with the Skerbeck Carnival.

It all began when their daughter, Debbie, married into the Skerbeck family enterprise, founded in the 1880s when Frank Skerbeck Jr. — an acrobat, sword swallower and trapeze artist — arrived from Europe.

Nowadays, the carnival that evolved from his circus tours the upper Midwest during warm-weather months.

'Dust devils' spark storm watch

The Big Spring area received scattered showers for the fourth straight day Friday amid numerous but unconfirmed reports of funnel clouds.

The Howard County Sheriff's Department said it received several tornado sightings, but none were verified by deputies.

The Big Spring U.S. Field Station said Friday afternoon it received .15 inches of rain from a cloudburst that swept north of the city.

The storm, carried on the wings of dark, low clouds, gained intensity as it passed over the city and headed toward Dawson County.

Someone reported a funnel cloud touched down in an open field between Vealmoor and Fairview at approximately 2:25 p.m., said a sheriff's spokesman. No damage reports were received by sheriff's office, she said.

The city was getting reports about the same time calls were filtering into the sheriff's office, she said. However, police units and deputies were unable to confirm sightings in the northeastern and eastern parts of the county, she said.

Several large "dust devils," kicking up dry farm land into swirling funnels of orange sand, were apparently mistaken for tornadoes.

The National Weather Service

from Midland issued a tornado warning for Howard County effective until 3:40 p.m. Friday. Big Spring Airpark director Hal Boyd said the city's warning sirens are not set off until he receives a confirmed report from a law enforcement agency.

"It is just a judgment call," he said. "I want a confirmed report from either the sheriff's office, police department, Border Patrol, DPS or National Weather Service."

The U.S. Field Station has received 2.71 inches of rain to date. Red Thomas of 107 E. 13th St. said he received one-half inch of rain Friday afternoon. The normal total for the year is 10.62 inches.

A Dawson County Sheriff's Department spokesman said Lamesa did not receive any tornado sitting reports Friday afternoon.

Aliens bill 'dead'

WASHINGTON — Rep. Charles Stenholm was among several Texas congressmen Friday who said they now believe the Simpson-Mazzoli immigration control bill is all but dead in Congress, a victim of last-minute election-year politics.

"There's always a chance, but I believe this (immigration) bill is drawing its last breath," said Stenholm, D-Stamford, a West Texan who has opposed the legislation this year.

"We're close to nailing down the coffin on the bill," agreed Rep. Tom Loeffler, R-Hunt, another West Texas congressman whose district would be sharply hit by the immigration bill.

"The nails are in the hand, the hammer is in the hand, but we haven't nailed down the lid (on the measure)," said Loeffler.

Prior to the Democratic National Convention, at which Hispanics pressured former vice president Walter Mondale into issuing a strongly worded statement against the bill, the measure seemed secure.

The bill already had passed both the House and Senate, but because there were variations in the House and Senate versions of the bill, it must go back to both houses for final passage after a conference committee resolves the bill's differences.

Attorneys quiz patent lawyer

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Opposing attorneys Friday tried to discredit the testimony of Fiberflex Products Inc. patent attorney Guy Matthews of Houston regarding his purchase and sale of 20,000 shares of company stock.

One of the major legal issues in the case is the ownership of the 20,000 shares, which could determine whether a group of outside directors led by former OIL president and owner Charles "Chris" Christopher or current corporate management — Tom and Russ Rutledge, John Freeman and Fred Morrow — controls the company.

Christopher's lawyer, Tom Thomas of Dallas, introduced a copy of a 1978 permanent injunction from the 127th District Court in Harris County against Matthews prohibiting Matthews from the sale of "capital stock of South Texas Bank, or any other securities" by fraudulent means.

Thomas introduced the court order to influence jurors to award exemplary damages to a meeting in a Houston restaurant called the Cellar Door sometime before his Sept. 17, 1983, stock purchase from Spikes.

Matthews testified he was unable to recall when the meeting took place or the terms of the note, if any. "The note's not even in existence. I don't know (when he signed the note)," Matthews said.

Matthews also testified under cross-examination first he was not sure when the stock deal with Spikes took effect. Later, he testified the deal "went into effect the night I signed the note (Sept. 17, 1983)."

Christopher sued Matthews in return, also claiming fraud in the sale because Matthews did not inform Christopher of a 10-year agreement in which he had previously assigned voting rights to the stock to the Rutledges.

Big Spring attorney Gil Jones, who represents a group of five stockholders who now support Christopher and were the original plaintiffs in the case, also tried to discredit Matthews' testimony.

Jones repeatedly questioned Matthews about the details of his purchase of the 20,000 shares he bought from former Fiberflex director and West Texas banker Sam Spikes in September, claiming Matthews' testimony at the trial differed significantly from his testimony on three separate occasions in pre-trial questioning.

Throughout his testimony, Matthews said he was unable to remember or recall events and conversations.

Thomas and Jones also questioned Matthews extensively about a blank bank note Matthews signed at a meeting in a Houston restaurant called the Cellar Door sometime before his Sept. 17, 1983, stock purchase from Spikes.

Matthews testified he was unable to recall when the meeting took place or the terms of the note, if any. "The note's not even in existence. I don't know (when he signed the note)," Matthews said.

Matthews also testified under cross-examination first he was not sure when the stock deal with Spikes took effect. Later, he testified the deal "went into effect the night I signed the note (Sept. 17, 1983)."

A sad love bird story

By KEITH BRISCOE
City Editor

A foreign romance ended tragically in a shotgun honeymoon for a couple of migrating South American birds this week when one was killed and the other badly wounded by pellets from a child's air gun.

Big Spring ornithologist Bebe McCasland said she discovered two Mississippi Kite birds Wednesday in the 100 block of Cedar where the wounded bird apparently had managed to return to look after his fallen mate.

The fine feathered friends were shot while hovering above the Park Hill neighborhood.

The injured bird was taken Friday afternoon to the Eos Bird Sanctuary in Midland where experts will try to patch his mangled left wing and broken heart.

Mississippi Kites, native to Paraguay and Argentina, migrate to the southern United States in summer to feed on insects, Mrs. McCasland said. They pair off and raise their chicks here before returning to South America, she said.

The birds, distinguished by slender gray bodies and deep red eyes, are listed under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act. Several birds classified as endangered species have been shot in the county recently, and Mrs. McCasland said people who harm or kill the birds are violating federal and state laws.

She said parents should understand that when their children leave with a rifle, they could return home as felons.

Besides their physical beauty, Mississippi Kites are valuable because they devour cicadas, crickets and grasshoppers, she said.

The injured kite most likely will regain the use of his wing after surgery, enabling him to join his flock for the return home, she said.

Maybe next spring he can fall in love again.

INJURED BIRD — This South American Mississippi Kite was injured, and his mate killed, by a child's air gun in Big Spring. The bird was taken to Midland in the hopes that he will recuperate from his wounds.

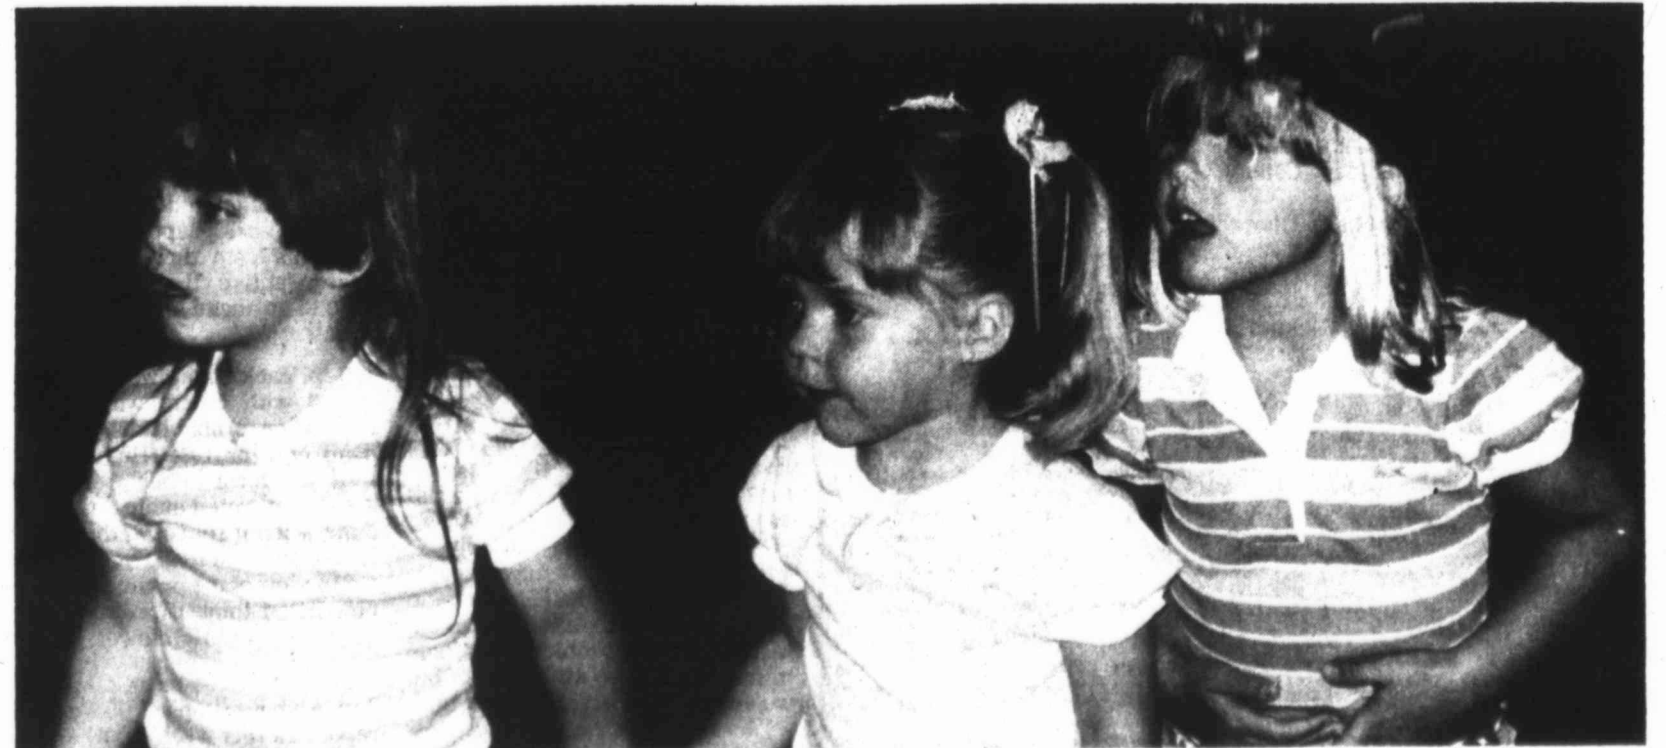

Costly bank failure

WASHINGTON (AP) — First National Bank of Midland, declared insolvent and sold last year, could turn out to be the costliest single commercial bank failure for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., an FDIC spokesman said.

Alan Whitney, FDIC public information officer, said Thursday the cost of liquidating First National's assets could rise to $346 million.

The Wall Street Journal reported the figure Thursday, saying that would make First National Bank of Midland the FDIC's costliest single commercial bank failure.

Weather

Front triggers showers

By The Associated Press

While Big Spring received showers Friday afternoon, much of the rest of the state was under clear skies today with only light winds.

Scattered thunderstorms were reported along a weak cold front that covered the northern portion of the Texas Panhandle. Other storms developed offshore in the Gulf of Mexico — in an area east and southeast of Galveston.

Winds were southerly over much of the eastern two-thirds of the state and west to northwesterly over most of High Plains and the Trans Pecos. Wind speeds were generally in the 5 to 10 mph range.

Overnight temperatures were generally in the 60s and 70s, with a range from 59 at Marfa, in the Davis Mountains, to 80 at Austin.

The National Weather Service said partly cloudy skies are likely through Saturday, with a chance of widely scattered mainly afternoon and evening thunderstorms.

Showers and occasional thunderstorms covered much of the East today, breaking over Ohio and fanning north into New York and south through South Carolina, northern Georgia, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Rain showers and thunderstorms also continued to plague areas from Idaho into Oregon, Montana, Wyoming and Utah.

Today's forecast called for showers and thunderstorms extending from New England to Florida, from the lower Great Lakes across the upper Ohio Valley, the Tennessee Valley, the Gulf Coast, the lower Mississippi Valley and northern Texas.

Showers and occasional thunderstorms were expected to reach from the intermountain region into the central Rockies.

High temperatures today were expected to range from the 60s to the mid-70s from New England across the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley.

A reading of nearly 100 degrees was expected across much of Montana and inland California, with 105 or higher in the desert Southwest.

Temperatures at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 50 in Limestone, Maine, to 87 in Las Vegas, Nev.

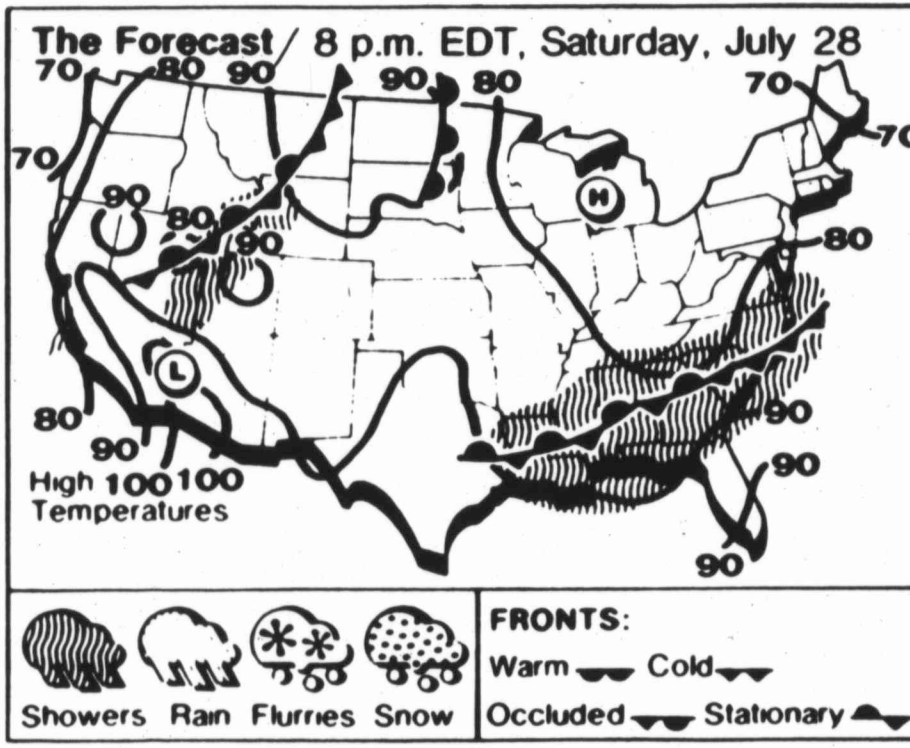

Some other reports:

—West: Albuquerque 69 fair; Anchorage 55 fair; Las Vegas 87 cloudy; Los Angeles 70 fair; Salt Lake City 75 partly cloudy; San Diego 75 cloudy; San Francisco 57 fair; Seattle 63 fair.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy through Saturday. Widely scattered thunderstorms. More numerous in South Texas, then diminishing especially north. No significant temperature changes. Highs Saturday 85 Panhandle to 95 in the Big Bend. Lows 63 in the Panhandle and mountains to 69 extreme south.

DOWNPOUR — Beverly Wilson puts a large sack to good use Friday afternoon as she walks in the rain in downtown Big Spring. Rainfall hit the city during the afternoon and more rain was predicted through the evening.

Police Beat

Woman arrested after accident

A 21-year-old Big Spring woman, who was injured in a one-vehicle accident Friday morning on the 3500 block and E. Interstate 20, was treated and released from Malone-Hogan Hospital and later arrested for suspicion of driving while intoxicated, according to police reports.

Malone-Hogan by Shaffer Ambulance.
In other police reports:

• Cameo Mobile Homes at 8:27 a.m. reported someone had taken a motor from the premises and also had done some damage to a fence, reports said. The motor was valued at $450 and the fence damage totaled $50, according to the report.

• Police arrested Jackie Merrick, 30, of Ackerly at 1:33 p.m. on two DPS warrants.

Texas prison inmate stabbed

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — A Texas prison inmate was stabbed to death Friday afternoon at the Department of Corrections Eastham Unit in Houston County, TDC officials said.

Roderick Wayne McClendon, 23, serving a 10-year term out of Dallas County for attempted capital murder, died of wounds suffered in an altercation in the Eastham Unit's day room, a recreation area, about 12:15 p.m., prison spokesman Charlie Brown said.

McClendon had been stabbed in the chest, ribs and lung with a homemade knife, Brown said. He had been in TDC custody for about 2 1/2 years.

McClendon is the eighth homicide reported in the TDC so far this year. For all of last year, the department reported nine homicides.

Brown said charges were pending against an inmate serving a life prison term for attempted capital murder in Harris County. That inmate had been incarcerated since November 1978.

The slaying may have been sparked by an argument and possible threats on Thursday, Brown said.

Brown said Houston County authorities and the Texas Rangers had been notified.

Warden David Meyers said the shank believed used in the slaying was taken from the suspect inmate's cell. The suspect inmate was moved to an isolation area, he said.

According to the warden, no other inmates were believed involved and a lockdown was not ordered at the 2,231-inmate facility, north of Huntsville near Weldon.

Meanwhile, an inmate was slashed with a bandsaw earlier Friday while he slept in his cell at the TDC Ramsey II unit near Rosharon.

Billy Clyde Evans, 30, was taken to Angleton-Danbury General Hospital Friday after the assault occurred about 4:30 a.m., Brazoria County Sheriff's Department Sgt. Wayne DeBose said. He was treated for cuts to his neck and chest and released back to the TDC.

DuBose said the incident occurred while other inmates were being returned to their cells following breakfast.

A 24-year-old prisoner serving a 16-year term for burglary was suspected in the case, DuBose said. The matter will be forwarded to a grand jury for charges, he said.

College seeking rooms for students

Howard College officials are seeking additional housing for students who have applied to live in the college dorms.

The dorms are full for the 1984-85 year. People in the community are being asked to rent a room to a student for a temporary time. As dorm space is available, students will move back to the campus.

Linda Woodley of the Office of College Information said several options are available. Students renting rooms with no meals included will pay $125 per semester. Students who pay room and board will pay $800 per semester, including meals five days a week, or $930 per semester, including meals six and a half days a week.

HC will screen all persons interested in renting a room to a college student. Students living in the community will be monitored by the HC Dean of Students.

The dormitories were built in 1959. The Howard County Junior College District trustees are considering plans for additional dorm space. The men's dorm accommodates 98 and the women's dorm holds 48.

Anyone interested in renting space to an HC student may contact Bill Griffin, HC dean of students, or Cheri Sparks, vice president for student life.

Tubing joints missing

Jake Tayton reported a theft of 10 joints of 2 3/4-inch tubing belonging to Sun Oil Company from the M.C. Hyden location well No. 6 northeast of Big Spring, according to sheriff's reports.

The tubing, valued approximately $861, was believed to have been taken July 23, the same time several elevators were stolen from the same location, the report said.

In other sheriff's report:
• Patrick Dion Stewart was released on a $5,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Mrs. Willie Grant and made by B&M Bill Bonds, according to reports. He was arrested on a charge of auto burglary, the report said.

• Tereasa Ann Shipley, 21, was transferred at 11:35 a.m. from the city on a suspicion of driving while intoxicated, reports said. She was released on a $1,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt and made by Bob Smith Bail Bonds, reports said.

• Adolfo Castor, 38, of El Paso was transferred at 11:35 a.m. from the police station to the county on two DPS warrants, reports said. Bond was set at $1,000 by Daratt and made by B&M Bail Bonds, reports said.

• Jackie Merrick was transferred from the city to the county on two outstanding DPS warrants. Bond was set at $200 and made by Mouton and Hamby, according to reports.

Attending the workshops from Coahoma will be Stanley Blackwell.

Among people on the program is humorist Dan Baker, Paul Lindsey, associate commissioner for occupational education and technology of the TEA, Jack Nelson, president of the Texas Young Farmers Association, Clemon Montgomery, vice president of the Texas Agriculture Cooperative Council, and Marcus Hill, vice president of ag workers Mutual Auto Insurance Company.

17)," but also said he had an understanding with Spikes regarding some sale of stock as far back as July 23, 1983. He testified he was not sure when the stock became legally his.

Although Matthews testified the 20,000 shares of stock were "mine," Jones and Thomas kept referring to a letter Matthews had written Spikes, in which Matthews referred to both a $400,000 loan at a Hobbs, N.M., bank and the 20,000 shares of stock as belonging to Spikes. In the letter, Matthews asked Spikes to get them out of Matthews' name.

Matthews testified the $400,000 loan was made in his name but the proceeds went to Spikes, who was having financial difficulties with his banks in West Texas. He also testified the loan agreement was made in the presence of Hobbs bank executive vice president Scotty Blymn. According to civil attorneys, bank approval of such a "mustached" loan could be illegal. Earlier Friday, Matthews testified about the Feb. 28, 1984, sale of stock to Christopher in return for Christopher's assumption of the Hobbs bank note, saying he did not tell Christopher about the 10-year agreement assigning voting rights to the Rutledges.

"We never even discussed it," Matthews said. If someone had asked if the stock was encumbered, "it might have triggered something. It (his failure to inform Christopher) certainly wasn't deliberate."

Also present at the stock sale to Christopher, according to Matthews' testimony, was former company director Billy Massingill, at whose invitation Christopher became involved in the directors' battle for company control.

Matthews testified Thursday that Massingill offered him $10,000 not to vote his stock at a Feb. 21 special shareholders' meeting in which control of the company returned to its corporate management.

Asked in cross-examination if he did not become concerned at Massingill's presence, Matthews replied, "I didn't trust or mistrust him."

However, earlier in his testimony, Matthews stated he "slammed down the phone and signed several proxies to the Rutledges," when Massingill offered him $10,000 not to vote his stock.

Throughout the trial, retired 118th District Judge Ralph Caton has ruled mostly in favor of Dallas attorney John Skrhak, who represents Matthews, in objections against Skrhak's introduction of evidence the lawyer claims will prove a conspiracy existed between Christopher, the original plaintiffs and the Hobbs bank.

• In his opening statement Tuesday afternoon, Burgess quoted Christopher as testifying in pre-trial questioning that he "fought off and bought eight or 10 companies," not 400 as previously reported.

Burgess went on to say that none of the companies were presently active.

Bill

Statements this week by both President Reagan and Vice President George Bush indicated that the president might veto the bill if it survived a vote in both chambers for final passage.

Loeffler, third-ranking Republican in the House leadership, said he was told by White House officials that there is "a very very serious intent" by President Reagan to veto the bill. "It's no idle threat," he said.

"The House bill is unacceptable to the president and to many in the Senate, and the Senate bill is unacceptable to a majority of the House," said Stenholm. "Therefore, after it's been politicized as it has, I just can't see it passing both houses," he said.

Stenholm, as well as most other Texas congressmen, has opposed a liberal policy of amnesty for illegal aliens and sanctions against employers who hire aliens.

"I think this is not nearly as negative and pessimistic as people would contend," said Stenholm about the possible failure of the bill this year. "The problem (of illegal immigration) is still there, but we've got to go back and do it right. "I don't think there's any question it's going to come up next year and the year after that and the year after that, until we act," he said. "The problem is not going to go away. The prerequisite is the United States sitting down with Mexico first and negotiating immigration policy as a part of overall policies between two countries for better future relations."

A spokesman for House Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Fort Worth, confirmed Friday that Wright takes a pessimistic view about passage of the bill in this session of Congress.

"He doesn't believe that there's hardly any chance of getting it enacted this year," said Marshall Lynam, his top aide.

"What has happened is that Reagan's veto threat has erased any incentive the Senate might have to go ahead and pass it," said Lynam.

Rep. Jack Hightower, D-Vernon, joined with others who said the legislation probably has struck a dead end for 1984. Hightower, as well as most other Texas congressmen, voted against the bill in June when it squeezed through the House on a 216 to 211 vote.

"In view of the public statements now... I think it probably won't survive," said Hightower.

The Senate sponsor of the bill, Sen. Alan K. Simpson, R-Wyo., told reporters this week that he would hold on to the bill and make no further moves probably until after the Republican National Convention in Dallas.

Drifter to stand trial Oct. 15

CONROE (AP) — Henry Lee Lucas, a drifter who has claimed responsibility for hundreds of slayings nationwide, was ordered Friday to stand trial on Oct. 15 for the murders of three women.

Lucas was indicted here last October on three capital murder charges. He pleaded innocent to the charges at a hearing last month, and State District Judge Lee Alworth on Friday set the trial date.

Lucas is charged in the sex slayings of three women whose bodies were found in Montgomery County in 1983 and 1982.

The victims were Laura Donez, 16, of Houston; Gloria Stepan, 38, of Houston, and an unidentified woman.

Ms. Donez's body was found in Sam Houston National Forest in April 1983. Ms. Stepan's body was found near Magnolia on Oct. 2, 1982 and the unidentified woman was found on a road off of Interstate 45 in March, 1983.

Officials said all of the bodies had been sexually abused and two had been burned.

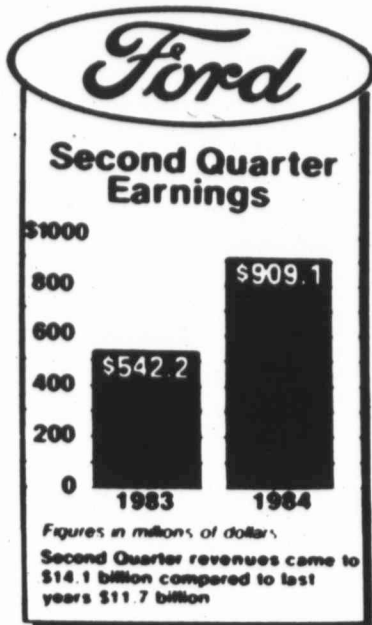

Montgomery County officials claim that Lucas on Aug. 23, 1983 led officers to the sites where Ms. Donez's body and that of the unidentified woman were found.

Lucas, who has claimed responsibility for as many as 360 killings nationwide, is under the death sentence for the 1979 slaying of an unidentified female hitchhiker near Georgetown. He also has been sentenced to a life prison term and a 75-year term for two other Texas murders.

Detroit profits soar

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. reported a $1.6 billion profit for the second quarter Friday, pushing this year's first-half earnings of the four major Detroit-based automakers past those of all of 1983.

With six months of profits yet to be announced, GM, Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp. and American Motors Corp. have made more than $6.6 billion, eclipsing the full-year record of $6.15 billion set last year.

One-fourth of GM's profit came from a one-time federal tax break of $422 million.

In an unprecedented move, GM handed copies of its earnings statement across the bargaining table to the United Auto Workers union in an effort to soften the impact the huge profits would have on their contract talks.

The UAW's contracts with GM and Ford expire Sept. 14. Among the union demands is a raise in base pay, which has been frozen since 1981.

GM's chief bargainer, Alfred Warren, said he also showed union bargainers secret plans for future cars and figures that show GM plans to spend $30 billion on new products in the next four years.

It was an attempt to show the union, Warren said, that despite the profits "we're still as uncompetitive as we were, in large measure, at the height of the recession."

One killed in blast

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — An explosion ripped through the walls and roof of a chemical plant today, killing one man and injuring three others, authorities said.

The 8:50 a.m. blast at the Joseph Ayers Corp. plant in Lower Nazareth Township, a few miles north of Bethlehem, ignited tanks of isopropyl alcohol.

Northampton County Coroner Joseph F. Reichel said a man in his 60s was killed in the blast. Reichel said he would not release the man's name until relatives had been notified.

Two men suffering from burns were admitted to the Lehigh Valley Hospital Center in Allentown, a spokeswoman said. One was in critical condition with burns over 90 percent of his body, while the other was in serious condition with second- and third-degree burns on his face and hands, she said.

Officials at Muhlenberg Medical Center in Bethlehem said one man was treated there and released.

Reichel said the plant made organic compounds from aluminum and chemicals. He said he did not know what the compounds were used for.

Israeli parties negotiating

TEL AVIV — Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's Likud bloc and the rival Labor Party of Shimon Peres intensified negotiations with potential coalition partners Friday in attempts to form a new government as soon as possible.

Labor won 44 parliamentary seats in Monday's election and the conservative Likud bloc won 41. Because neither got a majority in the 120-member Knesset, or Parliament, both are seeking support of enough smaller parties to gain con-rol of 61 seats.

Shamir and former Defense Minister Ariel Sharon met with Ezer Weizman to try to persuade him to ally his Yahad Party, which won three seats, with Likud. Israel television reported that Weizman, who is considered dovish on Middle East peace issues, asked Shamir how he could sit in the same government as the nationalist Tehiya party, which demands the annexation of the Israeli-occupied West Bank of the Jordan River.

Zaire head runs unopposed

KINSHASA — President Mobutu Sese Seko, the only candidate and representing Zaire's sole legal political party, is seeking a third seven-year term as head of this central African nation in weekend elections.

While the outcome is not in doubt, voters have been urged for weeks to give Mobutu a "100 percent vote" Saturday and Sunday as a measure "of confidence, of hope and of renewal."

Mobutu — "the Guide of the Revolution" — took power in a military coup in 1965. He was elected president in 1970 and again in 1977.

Army deploys in Beirut

BEIRUT — A 9,000-man army force has been ordered to deploy along Beirut's "green line" as part of the government's effort to reunite the divided capital, military sources said Friday.

The sources said the Lebanese army command has ordered three brigades to stand by for the deployment, scheduled for shortly after daybreak Saturday.

The operation is intended to allow free passage across the green line, a devastated strip of no-man's land which has separated the capital into Christian and Moslem sectors for most of the past nine years.

Iran vows to launch attack

TEHRAN — The speaker of Iran's Parliament said Friday his country will launch its long-expected offensive when it concludes that Iraqi President Saddam Hussein will not be "punished through a qualified tribunal."

The official Islamic Republic News Agency said Hashemi Rafsanjani, who is also Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini's representative to the Iranian Supreme Defense Council, made the comments during prayers at Tehran University.

Ousting Saddam Hussein is Iran's main demand for ending the war, which began with an Iraqi invasion in September 1980. Iran reportedly has massed nearly a half-million troops along the battlefield for a new offensive.

Talks on Hong Kong failing

PEKING — A British Embassy spokesman said Friday negotiators at talks to determine the future of Hong Kong face serious problems, and failure of the talks is "conceivable."

Britain's foreign secretary, Sir Geoffrey Howe arrived in Peking on Friday, and is expected to press for a detailed agreement to preserve the stability and confidence in the colony, the world's third largest financial center.

The British and Chinese governments have been working out the details of how China's communist government will reincorporate the capitalist colony of 5.5 million people in 1997, the year Britain's lease on most of Hong Kong's territory expires.

NATO official target of blast

ROME — A blast tore through an apartment in southern Rome today, injuring two people, the Italian news agency ANSA reported.

ANSA said first indications were that the victims were the wife and son of a NATO official who is also an official of Italy's Ministry of Merchant Marine. It did not provide other information.

A spokesman for the anti-terrorist police confirmed the explosion took place and said it occurred at 2:30 p.m. He said he had no other details.

The apartment on Via Giordano is near the offices of the multinational Sinai peacekeeping force — the Multinational Force and Observers. A spokeswoman there reached by telephone said she had no information about the blast.

Gandhi admits Punjab error

NEW DELHI — Prime Minister Indra Gandhi conceded Friday that her government may have made some "mistakes" in handling the Punjab crisis, but said there was no choice but to deal harshly with Sikh extremists.

The United News of India, which reported the 66-year-old prime minister's comments, also quoted her as saying that "people should forget the recent incidents in Punjab and make a new beginning..."

Mrs. Gandhi has persistently defended her government's tough policy in the strife-torn northern border state, including the June 4-7 army attack on the Golden Temple in Amritsar to dislodge Sikh extremists.

UK's rebate payment halted

STRASBOURG — The European Parliament voted Friday to block a $600 million Common Market rebate to Britain, throwing the financial future of the 10-nation community into doubt just a month after a European summit appeared to have staved off bankruptcy.

The Parliament said in a resolution that it would not use the summit agreements as a basis for creating the Common Market's 1985 budget.

His Children on the road again

Ensemble to embark on annual prison tour

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

His Children, a contemporary gospel choral ensemble, will embark tomorrow on its 10th annual Prison Concert Tour which this year expands into three more states. Director Joe Whitten, music minister at First Baptist Church which is home base for the group composed of 16 high school and college-aged youths, said Arizona, California and New Mexico will be in this year's itinerary.

In its nine years, the group has visited about 27 prisons throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas and Louisiana. They have returned to many of these prisons for repeat performances. The home church funds part of the expenses and the ensemble members themselves pay the rest.

"(The tour) has really shaped up. I've never been prison into a temporary holding unit during the Olympics. "The government expects to arrest about 100 persons a day during the Olympics," Whitten said.

"In place of the Terminal Island Concert, we are going to do an outdoor concert that evening (Wednesday) outside the ticket office at California State College in Los Angeles," Whitten said. His Children will perform to the people standing in line to buy tickets for the Olympic gymnastics finals.

"The next day is an off day and we will go to Disneyland." Friday, the ensemble will perform at the large maximum security federal penitentiary at Lompoc, Calif. "This is where many of the Watergate inmates were sent," Whitten said.

The ensemble will perform for two units of the California State Prison in Soledad, Calif., Saturday. "The two maximum units are separated by a wall and they never mix the groups," Whitten said. "But they want both groups to hear us. They are bringing a total of 2,400 inmates out into the two prison yards, and our group will perform up on an elevated platform where we can be seen by both groups and we can see both groups. They just can't see each other."

"They (prison officials) have asked to do a video tape of our live concert and have offered us a copy. They will show their tape to 1,800 men that never get out of their cell. These men can view a television screen through a hole in their cell door, and eight cells can view one television. These men never get out to eat or go to chapel, they never get to hear the Gospel unless the chaplain goes to their cell. This is one way the Christian message can be taken to them," Whitten said. "The only performer to ever go inside these walls was Andre Crouch a few years ago, and this was so unusual that Time magazine carried an article about it."

FROM SOLEDAD, the ensemble will travel Sunday to San Quentin, Calif., and perform two concerts at the Main Unit and the Temporary Unit of California State Prison. "We have three concerts in one day that day. San Quentin is one of the most secure state prisons in the country. The warden there, when approached by Mr. Allman, said that they'd never even considered letting a group in before. But because Mr. Allman is a warden and is going to make the trip, they (said they) would love to have us for two concerts and lunch. The chaplain said he not only wanted us for two services, but he wanted us to give an invitation to Christianity at both services. And this is very rare at any prison," Whitten said.

Usually, His Children doesn't give an invitation because many states don't want the group to push its religion on prisoners, Whitten said. However, they may make appeals to prisoners who wish to become Christians or rededicate their lives to visit the prison chaplain.

Following the San Quentin concerts, the ensemble will perform at a third concert that evening at Pleasanton Federal Correctional Institute, a maximum security women's federal prison in Pleasanton, Calif. This is where the "Manson girls" are being held, including Lynette Alice "Squeaky" Fromme, who attempted to assassinate President Gerald Ford.

Aug. 6, His Children will be in Tracey, Calif. at Deuel Vocational Institute. Deuel is a young man's maximum security prison with 3,200 inmates between the ages of 15 to 21.

DEUEL "HAS GOT the nickname of 'Gladiator Prison,'" says Whitten, "because the young boys

IN CONCERT — "His Children," a contemporary gospel ensemble of high school and college students from First Baptist Church, performs at Lexington, Okla.'s A & R Unit of the Oklahoma Department of Corrections, Aug. 4, 1983. Joe Whitten, director, will take the ensemble there again during this year's tour to California, Arizona, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. His Children will leave Monday.

upon arriving at the prison are taught a life of crime by the older more experienced young men. They asked us to come there when they found out we were going to be in the area.

"(Deuel) is filled with many hoodlum gangs and would be right in the age bracket of our young people." When asked if the ensemble's youth are a little scared about seeing others their age in a prison like Deuel, Whitten replied, "We are leery of the fact that we don't know how we will be received; the younger the prisoner, the more of a chance of heckling. Yet again, we might just have a tremendous reception. This heckling is very rare, but in the past we've been able to turn the heckling into standing ovations halfway through the program."

One of the ensemble's biggest achievements was getting into the New Mexico State Prison in Sante Fe because of the riots there a few years ago, Whitten said. "We will be the first group to go into the maximum security prison since the riots."

After New Mexico, His Children will head east to Lexington, Okla. and the Oklahoma Department of Corrections' A and R Unit for an evening concert, Aug. 9. His Children has performed at this unit at least eight out of the ten years of the prison ministry. This is a medium security unit for men.

Last year, His Children performed for inmates in a chapel filled beyond its capacity, and many inmates stood outside to listen to the group.

HIS CHILDREN WILL perform at the Fort Worth Federal Correctional Institute in Fort Worth, Aug. 10. It is more of a coed minimum security unit, Whitten said. From there, His Children will go to Huntsville to Texas Department of Corrections' Ferguson Unit. This is His Children's fourth year to perform at Ferguson. "In Huntsville, 650 heard us in the gymnasium and if it hadn't been for a pre-season televised Cowboy football game we would have had twice that many in two concerts last year," Whitten said.

Gatesville is a favorite stop and the perfect end for the tour. His Children's first prison concerts were performed in Gatesville 10 years ago. The youth return at least once a year for concerts. The ensemble has practically been adopted as "family" by these prisoners, Whitten said.

His Children will perform three concerts Aug. 12 in Gatesville. Their first will be at the Hilltop Unit at 9 a.m. Their concert at the Riverside Unit will be at 11 a.m. "At Riverside, they will be combining two or three units together and using the women prisoners in for an open air concert," Whitten said.

Their final concert of the tour will be at the Mountain View Unit that afternoon. "The last concert is always at Mountain View, and we always have a tremendous reception. It is always the highlight of the whole tour and we end on such a high plane there."

A week after His Children returns to Big Spring, the ensemble will travel to San Antonio to perform at the American Congress of Corrections. His Children was asked to sing at the international warden's convention.

Veteran members of this year's ensemble are: Felecia Ford, Clark Dunnam, Matt Warren, Barbie Holmes, Mark Warren, Dianne Boothe, Jimmy Cowan, Debbie Husted, Dawn Underwood and Jay Perkle. The other members have never experienced the tour or going behind prison walls. They are: Tonya Gilstrap, Monette Wise, Kristi Wise, Sharla Bailey, Crystal Patrick and Brenda Shirey.

so excited. It seems like it's a culmination of 10 years and (is) blooming into something gigantic," Whitten said. "Last year's tour I thought was the greatest trip you could plan, but this is more spectacular."

Each year on the Sunday evening prior to the group's departure, His Children presents the complete prison tour program for the people of Big Spring. The program will be tomorrow at 6 p.m. at First Baptist Church Sanctuary. The public is invited.

According to Whitten, His Children's previous inmate audiences primarily were from the Bible Belt region of the United States and probably had some Christian background or influence at some point in their lives. This year's tour will be to areas outside the Bible Belt where many prisoners have not had as much exposure to Christianity, Whitten said. Therefore, he doesn't expect His Children to be as well received as in the past.

Some prisons are well-known because of their prisoners, the type of prison or past riots. The ensemble will be on the road for two weeks with five of its last seven concerts at prisons where it has performed before.

John Allman, retired warden of Big Spring Federal Prison Camp and former assistant warden of Pleasanton Federal Correctional Institute in Pleasanton, Calif., was influential in arranging His Children concerts at many prisons. He and his wife will accompany the group as sponsors along with Mr. and Mrs. Whitten and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Bedell.

THE ITINERARY

His Children will depart from Big Spring tomorrow morning for Florence, Ariz. and Arizona State Prison, a medium to maximum security unit. "Arizona State Prison has asked to video tape the concert and show it to inmates on permanent lockdown, such as death row inmates who never get to leave their cells — even for chapel," Whitten said.

From Arizona, the ensemble had planned to perform at Terminal Island Federal Correctional Institute in Terminal Island, Calif. This concert was cancelled because the government has turned the

Dear Abby

Conscience, heart on opposite sides

DEAR ABBY: I need your advice on a problem that has been bothering me for some time. I am 40 years old and am married to "Betty," a good woman who loves me very much. I loved her when I married her, but I fell out of love with her over the years and became very unhappy at home. I moved out two years ago and found a job 500 miles away. I have continued to send Betty money for her support. (There are no children.)

Now I have fallen in love with "Lori," a wonderful person with extremely high morals. We have never made love. Lori and I are talking marriage, and I must now decide between her and Betty.

My heart tells me to divorce Betty and marry Lori, but my conscience keeps interfering. Lori did not take me away from Betty. My love for Betty was dead when I left home. Meanwhile, Betty keeps calling and begging me to come back.

I've talked to my pastor, who says I must honor my marriage vows with absolutely no regard for love. What do you say?

—GUILTY CONSCIENCE

DEAR GUILTY: I say you are shopping around for advice hoping to find someone who will give you approval to divorce your wife and marry your new love. Your problem is an unwillingness to make a choice and take responsibility for your own actions — a hallmark of immaturity.

DEAR ABBY: I am a waitress and my biggest complaint is customers who ask for coffee, and when it's served they say, "Could I have milk instead of cream?"

I go back to the kitchen for the milk, and when I serve it they ask, "Do you have any artificial sweetener?" Then I have to go all the way back to the kitchen again for the artificial sweetener.

Abby, after being on my feet for eight hours, three trips to the kitchen for one cup of coffee is really annoying. When people order coffee, why don't they say, "I'd like a cup of coffee with milk instead of cream, and please bring some artificial sweetener?"

I didn't mind all that walking when I was 20, but I'm 50 now, and I'm tired.

—VERICOSE VERA IN MASSACHUSETTS

DEAR VERA: Since that's a common problem, when someone orders coffee, simply ask, "...and how do you take it?"

Dr. Donohue

'Foreign chemicals' help body

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My husband and I are concerned about the coming school year. Our first will be entering. Our concern is about the shots they have to get. We don't like the idea of using foreign chemicals in the body. What good does it all really do? — Mrs. O.V.

If I didn't think it was right to put foreign chemicals into the body, I suppose I would have to find a calling other than medicine. Certainly I think it's right and certainly I think it does a lot of good.

Let me use the example of rubella, the usually mild childhood illness, which if caught by a pregnant woman results in severe damage to the developing baby. In 1969, when the immunization programs for rubella began, there were more than 57,000 cases of that illness in the U.S.; in 1983 there were only 950. Can you imagine what a change that has brought, how much of the devastating congenital rubella has been avoided?

If everyone followed instructions and had the recommended immunizations, rubella could be wiped out and with it the congenital rubella syndrome of babies born with cataracts, heart disease, deafness and mental retardation.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: With regard to the ulcer patient (who inquired about pain when sleeping on the side): In my experience with gastric hyperactivity, body position does not actually increase HCL (acid) production. However, lying on the right side does tend to pool the acid in the duodenal cap, thereby bathing the most vulnerable area with acid contents. The effect is relative and the discomfort caused by the acid is magnified. For many years I have advised my hyperacidity patients not to sleep on the right side, thus relieving much of the nocturnal pain — J.W.E.

Thanks. The "cap" referred to is the section of the duodenum just below the stomach outlet.

CENTERPIECE GALLERIES — Kenneth Moelling and Chris Yandell are shown in the showroom at Centerpiece Galleries at 1018 Johnson. The gallery will feature local art plus a variety of prints and pieces from well-known artists.

Centerpiece Galleries owner hopes to benefit local artists

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Kenneth Moelling, owner of Centerpiece Galleries at 1018 Johnson, enjoys art and "I like to be involved in it." Moelling opened the gallery to satisfy his love of art.

"I hope to try to bring as much good art by name artists into this area as I possibly can. I want to promote local artists and help them with their careers." Moelling, 40, is himself an artist who has found little time to devote to painting. "I've spent a big part of my life working for a living, and not devoting much time to art. I've not taken any professional training."

Moelling now works as plant operations and maintenance supervisor for the city's utilities department. He regrets that he has not spent more time on art. His love of art dates back to his childhood.

"As a child in Oklahoma, I won several awards in art. But when we moved to West Texas, I encountered a lack of interest in art in this area. I laid my interest by the wayside."

Moelling graduated from Big Spring High School in 1962 and has since traveled to various points in the United States working in construction and maintenance.

He feels now that abandoning his interest might have cost him a career in art.

"I'd like to give kids with talent a chance to do something with it," he said.

At Centerpiece Galleries "I intend to handle original art, limited editions, prints, bronzes, porcelains and oriental art, mostly jade and ivory. I'll also have decorator pieces, small, inexpensive items."

Moelling said he will also be selling gold and silver bullion.

The gallery is opened Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Manager is Chris Yandell, who mans the shop when Moelling is on duty with the city.

Moelling said, "I've grown to appreciate other people's work." He learned to appreciate others due to stumbling blocks he's hit with his own painting.

"When I can't get through (a painting,) I look at other people's art to help me. That's helped me through some troublesome areas."

Most of the pieces in Centerpiece Galleries now "are on loan or consignment. Everything is for sale."

Moelling lives in Big Spring with his wife, Peggy, and children Lisa, 12, and Byron, 13.

He is hoping by working in the gallery a few hours each week, he will have a chance to work on some of his own pieces.

"I'm not working on anything now," he said. "But I hope to get more training." Moelling is a member of the Big Spring Art Association.

Business briefs

SAN ANTONIO — Harte-Hanks Communications Inc., owners of the Big Spring Herald, announced that it will hold a special meeting of stockholders Sept. 5 in San Antonio for the purpose of voting on the leveraged buyout proposal which was first announced March 28.

The record date to determine stockholders entitled to vote at the meeting will be Aug. 2.

Harte-Hanks Communications Inc. operates in 27 states. The company owns and operates 27 daily newspapers and 75 non-daily publications, including weekly newspapers, advertising publications produced by newspapers and a trade publication for the radio industry.

Bivens has seven years experience in the hotel industry. Prior to his position at Big Spring, he was the general manager of the company's Holiday Inn Hotel in Missoula, Mont.

He studied at Texas A&I University.

In 1983, he was honored at the Top 100 award ceremony for Holiday Inns, received the H. Samuel Polack achievement award, won first place award for labor management and was second runner-up for food cost management combined for the company.

The Brock Hotel Corp., the largest franchisee of Holiday Inn, Inc., owns and operates 56 Holiday Inns in 23 states.

joined the staff of the WTCC as development director in 1973.

A total of 2,536 permits to drill for oil and gas were issued in the United States during the week ended July 20, Petroleum Information Corp. said today.

The total number of permits issued during the week is the highest reported this year. The previous high was reported during the week of June 11-15.

The total was 456 permits higher than the 2,080 permits issued the previous week, an increase of 21.9 percent. The weekly total was also higher than the 2,436 permits issued for the same week a year ago.

Permits to drill, obtained from government agencies, are a measure of the drilling intentions of the nation's oil operators.

New field wildcat permits, for purely exploratory drilling, totaled 269 for the week. Permits for other exploratory drilling, field extensions, deeper and shallower pools and the like, totaled 257.

The weekly total brings to 56,138 the cumulative total of permits issued in the United States during 1984.

CARL R. BIVENS

Carl R. Bivens has been named general manager of the Brock Hotel Corporation's Holiday Inn Hotel in Big Spring on Tulane Ave. Bivens will supervise a staff of 50 employees at the 103 room hotel with banquet facilities for 150 people.

ABILENE — Edward H. Coltharp has resigned as executive vice president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, effective Sept. 30, to enter private business in the Abilene area.

The resignation was submitted to the WTCC Executive Committee, meeting in regular session July 19 in Abilene. Robert Wootter, president of the regional chamber, commended Coltharp for outstanding staff leadership since assuming the top executive position in 1977.

During Coltharp's tenure, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce assumed a leadership role in promoting regional industrial development for West Texas, Chamber officials said.

Coltharp began his career in chamber management in 1961. He

Shroyers to be honored

I hope the whole town will turn out Wednesday at 11 a.m. at the special public reception at Shroyer Motor Company. The Shroyer family has been in business in the same spot for 53 years, 50 as the Oldsmobile dealer.

Officials from the Oldsmobile Corp. will be in town to pay special honor to the Shroyers. They will be joined by Paul Shaffer, president of the Chamber, Mayor Clyde Angel and Bob Brock, president of the Big Spring New Car Dealers Association.

The contributions of the Shroyers and Shroyer Motor Company shouldn't be understated. Take time out at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 1, to say thanks to this vintage institution.

Joe Reed, local high school science teacher, has recently had published some teaching aids in chemistry and biology for high school and college students. Publisher is J. Weston Walch, Inc., of Portland, Maine. These aids will be distributed throughout the United States beginning this school year. Joe has been the driving force behind the Regional Science Fair.

Long-time Red Cross volunteer Martha Moody recently received a letter from President Reagan congratulating her on being a finalist in the 1984 President's Volunteer Action Award. He said, "Although you weren't the final winner, your contribution to your community and your fellow man has helped revitalize the spirit of volunteerism in our nation... Nancy joins me in commending the way you have shared your time and talents."

One of the duties that Martha volunteers many hours to is writing letters for the VA hospital patients. She does this labor of love so painstakingly!

Bailout draws some complaints

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's record $4.5 billion bailout of Continental Illinois National Bank & Trust Co. has drawn some complaints in Congress that federal regulators had fashioned the arrangement behind the public's back.

But the regulators defended their action Thursday, contending it was the best way to bolster the ailing Chicago giant and maintain stability in the banking system.

"The bottom line is we have created, through this transaction, one of the very strongest banks in the world," said William Isaac, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which plays a key role in the plan.

On Capitol Hill, Rep. Fernand St Germain, D-R.I., chairman of the House Banking Committee, said the bail-out "raises the greatest array of questions in the history of the federal bank regulatory system."

He said other government rescues of such firms as Chrysler Corp. were fashioned in the public eye.

Bull riders assume control at Friday's AJRA go-round

The bull riders finally gained control on the third night of the Big Spring AJRA Rodeo which slates its final performance tonight at 8 at the Big Spring Rodeo Bowl.

Until Friday, only four cowboys in all three divisions had managed successful rides in either steer or bull riding. Half a dozen 16-19-year old riders hung on, however and going into tonight's last go-round Bucky Lewis and Robert Mitchell are tied with scores of 70.

In the 13-15-year old bull riding Buddy Read, who led the first two nights, slip to second in light of a 66 by John Pierce. Read has a 63. There has not been one rider in the boys 12 and under steer riding go a full eight seconds. Mike Carrillo managed a 60 in bareback bronc riding and leads that competition.

Dane Driver timed a 5.2 in boys 12 and under breakaway roping to take Friday's action and move into third overall. Kate Phinizy of Gail and LaDawn Puckett of Sweetwater are 1-2 in 13-15 girls breakaway with times of 3.0 and 3.1. Former leader Leslie Ward drops to third. Connie Zorner is the girls 16-19-year old leader at 4.1 followed by Kristi Taylor of Big Spring at 5.9.

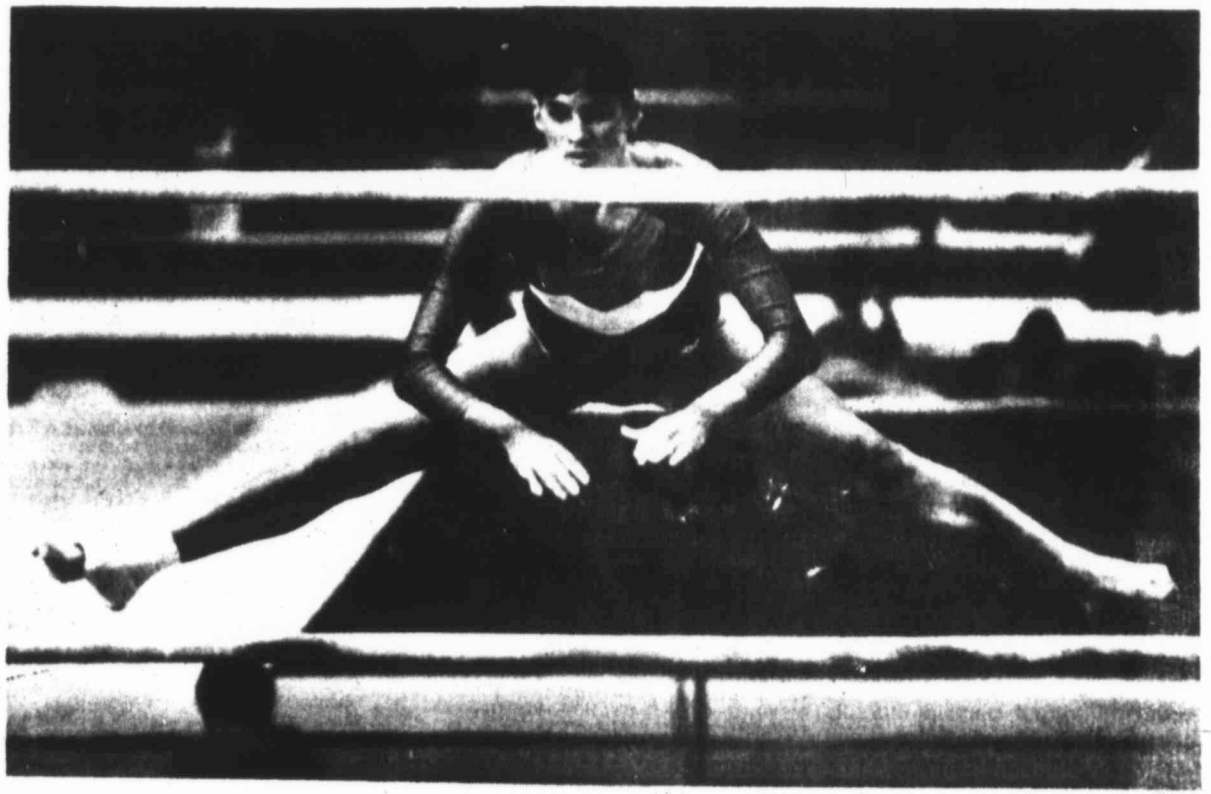

Tiffany Ross of Colorado City won Friday's 12 and under barrels in 18.6 and Vickie Proctor of Odessa assumed the 13-15 lead in 17.25. Johnna Puckett took Friday's 16-19 age group barrels in 17.75.

Jeff Chapman earned first place in tie down roping for 13-15 boys in 12.1. That time is good for second in the overall standings. Terry Kitchens took the third go-round of the 16-19 action with a 10.9.

Ribbon roping belonged to Joey Austin with an 11.5 in boys 12 and under while Brian Vossler took the 13-15 bracket in 11.3. Gary Otwell won the 16-19 ribbon roping in 8.2.

Judy Hollingsworth and Thad Springer are the new leaders in the 16-19 team roping event with a 9.6, showing Jim Smith and Cory Priest to second with their 12.5.

EYEING THE GOLD — U.S. gymnast Tracee Talavera is a study of concentration as she works out Friday on the uneven parallel bars in preparation for the 1984 Summer Olympics which begin Saturday in Los Angeles.

New leaders emerge at Hartford

CROMWELL, Conn. (AP) — Mike Nicolette sank a 40-foot putt and a 20-foot chip shot for birdies Friday to tie Pete Jacobsen for the second-round lead in the $400,000 Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open. Both were at 6-under-par 136 after 36 holes, their final rounds played in heavy rain and testing winds at the Tournament Players Club of Connecticut.

One stroke behind them were Mark O'Meara, who surged from five strokes down at the start of the day, and Lance Ten Broeck.

Four players were tied at 4-under 138, with another four at 139. Seventy-seven golfers survived the cut, 3-over-par 145.

Nicolette, 27, of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., shot his second 3-under-par 68, bolstered by the two late birdies on the front nine.

On the par-4 sixth hole, his 40-foot putt rolled up over a mound and curd into the cup. He later said, "I thought someone planted a Volkswagen in there."

Because of the weather, aggressive players found themselves in trouble and conservative ones were safe. By the end of the round, the top scores were no farther below par than they had been after the opening round Thursday.

"It was a day where you had to have patience," said Nicolette. "Today wasn't a day when you'd try to force birdies. It was a slow-playing day spent drying off your grips and waiting under umbrellas."

Jacobsen, despite bogeying his first two holes, shot a 2-under-par 69, two strokes worse than his opening round.

He started the day in third place and fell farther behind after two holes.

Tigers roar past Red Sox, 9-1

DETROIT (AP) — Lance Parrish hit a two-run homer and Chet Lemon had a solo shot to back the six-hit pitching of Dan Petry as the Detroit Tigers beat Boston 9-1 in the first game of Friday's two-night double-header and snapped the Red Sox' six-game winning streak.

Petry, 14-4, walked three and struck out three in notching his third consecutive victory. Boston's Bruce Hurst, 10-6, gave up six runs and six hits in six innings.

Lemon hit his 14th home run of the season, a shot into the second deck in left field, with two out in the first inning. Parrish then walked, went to third on Larry Herndon's bloop single and was credited with stealing home while Herndon was trapped in a rundown between first and second. The throw from Boston first baseman Bill Buckner to catcher Rich Gedman was high and wide.

In the Detroit sixth, Barbaro Garbey doubled and Parrish blasted his 21st homer to give the Tigers a 4-0 lead.

Detroit added five more runs in the seventh. Pinch-hitter Dave Bergman hit a bases-loaded double that drove in two and Ruppert Jones, another pinch hitter, hit a singled home two more, with another coming home on a throwing error by right fielder Dwight Evans.

NEW YORK (AP) — Wally Backman's run-scoring single in the seventh inning broke up a pitchers' duel between Dwight Gooden, 9-6, allowed just four hits and struck out eight to run his major league-leading total to 162 and walked seven, pitching out of trouble several times in a less-triple home tie-breaking run in the sixth inning and scored on Jeff Kunkel's sacrifice fly as the Texas Rangers defeated the slumping Toronto Blue Jays 4-2 Friday night.

The win was only the third in the last 14 games for Texas while Toronto dropped to fifth in a row. The second-place Jays began play 11 1/2 games behind Detroit in the American League East.

Knuckleballer Charlie Hough, 11-8, went the distance for the 13th time, tops in the American League. He scattered nine hits. Loser Doyle Alexander, 8-5, gave up eight hits and struck out eight.

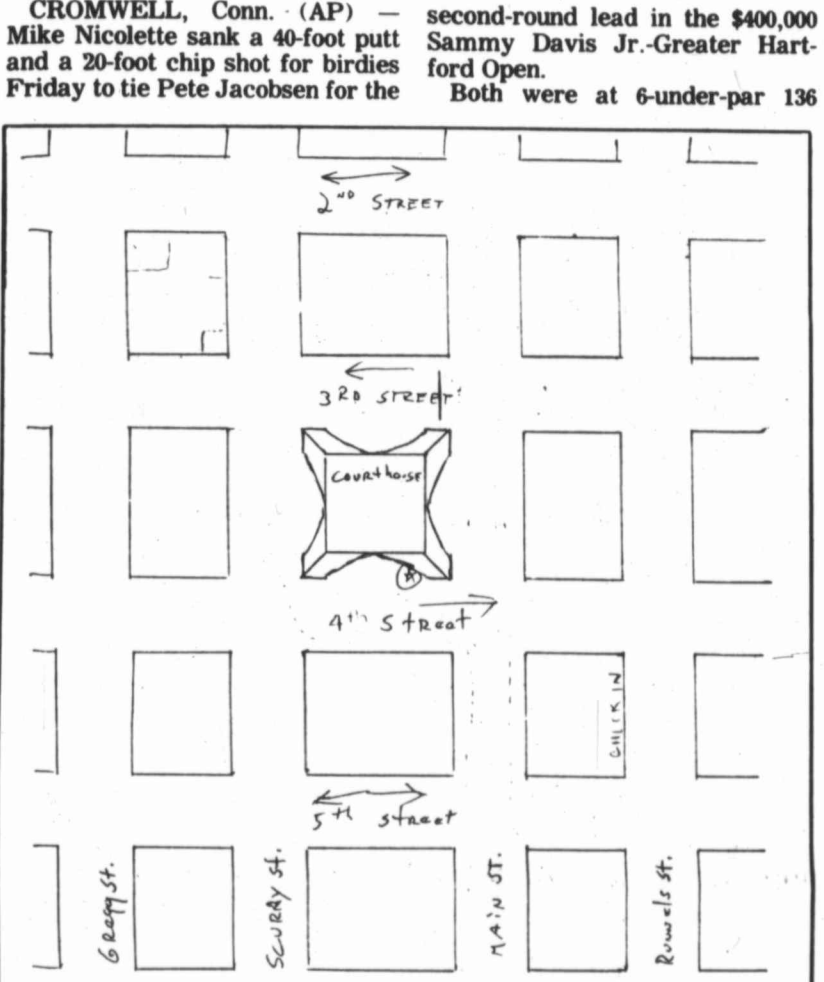

Texas took a 1-0 lead in the top of the third inning on consecutive doubles by Pete O'Brien and Buddy Bell. Toronto tied it in the bottom of the inning on singles by Alfredo Griffin, Dave Collins and Lloyd Moseby.

In the sixth, Mickey Rivers singled and scored on Ward's triple for a 2-1 Texas lead. Kunkel's sacrifice fly made it 3-1 and O'Brien hit his 12th home run in the seventh inning. Ernie Whitt led off the Toronto seventh with his fifth home run.

CHICAGO (AP) — Dave Winfield cracked a pair of doubles, including one in a five-run first inning Friday night, as the New York Yankees chased LaMarr Hoyt after just two-thirds of an inning for his quickest exit and held on for an 8-6 victory over the slumping Chicago White Sox.

The White Sox suffered their fifth consecutive loss and 12th in the last 16 games despite a pair of homers by Greg Walker, who drove in four runs.

Willie Randolph walked to open the game, was sacrificed to second and scored on a single by Don Mattingly. Winfield doubled Mattingly home and Don Baylor doubled to score Winfield.

COURSE MAP — This is a map of the course for the First Annual Main Street Mile Run to be held tonight in conjunction with the Big Spring's Heart of the City festivities. The race gets started at 7:30 p.m. and registration begins at 6:30 p.m.

'Big Picture' features 18,000

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Nearly a thousand proud residents of the City of The Angels turned out hoping to find themselves in a group portrait the size of three billboards.

"The Big Picture," focal point of the first phase of a downtown Los Angeles promotional campaign, made its public debut Thursday in Pershing Square, a one-block park in the midst of the downtown area.

"I haven't found myself, but it's beautiful!" said Verna Williams, one of the 18,000 Los Angeles who on July 13 gathered in a vacant lot commanding a view of the financial district's towering skyline for the shooting of the Big Picture.

Only 1,000 or so turned out for the unveiling. A show of hands indicated most had posed for the shot.

"It was a lot of fun," recalled Naomi Orr. "It was hot, but everybody was so jubilant. I couldn't believe the spirit."

It was hot again Thursday as spectators congregated in front of the 20- by 40-foot portrait, which was covered with a magenta sheet bearing the Big Picture logo.

He confessed that he had been worried beforehand about the smog — "The test pictures we took a few days before were really frightening."

But the sky was mercifully clear on the big day.
