How's that? Chiefs

Q. How many police chiefs have we had in the last 25 years in Big Spring?

A. According to Doris Smith, police department secretary, since 1960, the city has had six chiefs in 25 years. They include C.L. Rogers, who left in 1960; Jay Banks, 1960 to 1971; Vance Chisum, 1971 to 1975; Stanley Bogard, 1975 to 1980; Elwood Hohertz, 1980 to 1982; and Rick Turner, from 1982 to the present.

Calendar: Raggedy Ann

• The Ice Cream Supper Summer Repertory Theater will present "The New Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Andy" at 8 p.m. in the Comanche Trail Park Amphitheatre. Admission

• The Big Spring Area Concert Band will rehearse from 7 to 8 p.m. in the Howard College music room

WEDNESDAY · A ceremony honoring the Shroyers will be at 11 a.m. at Shroyer Motor Co. Big Spring Independent School District Board of Trustees will have a special budget.

• A new exhibit, "The Way We Were," opens at the Heritage Museum. The exhibit will be displayed through Aug.

Tops on TV: Friends

Brad Davis and Karen Allen star in "A Small Circle of Friends" at 8 p.m. on channel 7. In the 1960s, the friendship and idealism of three Harvard students is threatened when one is drafted to serve in Vietnam. ABC features continuing coverage of the Olympics beginning at 6 p.m.

At the movies: Conan

Arnold Schwarzenegger stars in "Conan the Destroyer" at the Cinema. Also showing at the Cinema is "Karate Kid". "The Jungle Book" is showing at the Ritz. "The Corsican Brothers" starring Cheech and Chong is also at the Ritz. "Breakin" showing at Show Place.

Outside: Fair

Tonight, look for fair skies with southeasterly winds 5 to 10 miles per hour. Lows will be in the mid 60s. Tommorrow, expect fair skies with highs in the low 90s. Winds will be southeasterly 5 to 10 miles per hour.

Bulletin

Mayor Clyde Angel this morning scheduled a special session of the Big Spring City Council for 12:15 p.m. today to discuss a settlement on the issue of back pay for city fire fighters.

According to Angel, the council would meet in executive session at 12:15 p.m. and then take action in open session.

The Association of Big Spring Professional Firefighters, a union representing 35 members of the department, has asked for compensation from city officials for periods when the men were substituted into higher job classifications but not paid at a higher rate.

Oil spill heads toward coast

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) -Pollution fighters gathered to begin a cleanup as crude oil from a grounded tanker spread into the Gulf of Mexico today, and a state official said they would try to contain the spill before it reached two nearby wildlife preserves.

The 690-foot British tanker Alvenus, with a cargo of 14.7 million gallons of oil, was en route from Venezuela to Lake Charles when it ran aground along a dredged ship channel Mondr.y and became stuck in about 3) feet of water, the Coast Guard said.

The impact opened a 115-footlong seam up one side of the ship, across its deck and down the other side from which oil was seeping, said Lt. Kathleen Donohoe, a Coast Guard spokeswor.an. The crack did not appear to go below the waterline, she said.

The Coast Guard said the extent of the spill probably wouldn't be known until after daylight. See Spill page 2-A

Hijack hostages freed; officers kill 2 gunmen

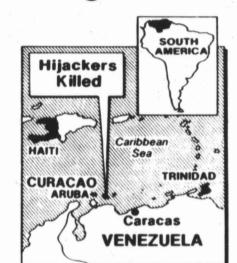

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao (AP) - Security officers stormed a hijacked Venezeulan jetliner early today, killing the two hiiackers and rescuing the 79 people aboard who had been held hostage for 36 hours, officials said.

Details of the lightningfast attack, carried out at 1:50 a.m. EDT, were sketchy and witnesses, and government officials offered conflicting information. Several passengers suffered minor injuries in scrambling from the Venezuelan Aeropostal DC-9, which was hijacked

Sunday after leaving Venezuela.
The hijackers had threatened to blow up the plane unless they received an escape helicopter, millions in cash and if possible,

"Ladies and gentleman, we're all very happy and very tired. Let's all go home and rest, and later we can give you more information," Don Martina, Prime Minister of the Netherlands Antilles, told reporters as they pressed him.

Venezuelan and U.S. antiterrorist specialists assisted in the operation. But a Pentagon spokesman in Washington, Navy Lt. Tom Yeager, said that although sent to help deal with the hijacking, no Americans participated directly in the assault.

The operation was carried out under the direction of the government of the Netherland Antilles. All the security personnel from the friendly nations helped in the planning," said Martina, leader of a largely self-governing, six-island Dutch territory. He declined to give further details.

Witnesses said the rescue force moved in from the front and rear end of the plane. The hijackers apparently allowed the plane's left front door to be opened after the wife of one of the gunmen appealed to her husband over a radio to free a woman passenger who reported-

Even if the June decline does hold, economists have said it would not signal the beginning of another recession. Instead, they believe the decline would confirm that the economy is slowing from the torrid pace set earlier in the year. Economic growth, as measured by the gross national product, slowed to 7.5 percent in the second quarter, still robust but down from the 10.1 percent pace of the first three months of the year. The last decline in the index was a slight 0.1 percent drop in August 1982, just before the economy hit the bottom of the 1981-82 recession. Since that time, the index has registered 21 straight months of increases

The decline in the index for June was widespread with seven of the 10 indicators available showing weaker activity.

Contributing to the decline were average weekly claims for unemployment insurance, manufacturers' new orders for consumer goods, the number of companies reporting slower business deliveries, new business See Economy page 2-A

Sky watch—

SKY WATCH - Jim Roberts, a construction worker at the Canterbury II project in Big Spring, looks heavenward after a couple of rain sprinkles dotted his eyeglasses Tuesday morning.

Rainfall wrings hazy, humid day

A light cloud cover early this received less than 3 inches so far morning gave way to scattered showers over the Big Spring area by mid-morning.

Officials at the U.S. Big Spring Field Station north of the city said it was still raining at 10:30 a.m. At 11 a.m., officials had measured .02 of an inch of rain at the field station In the downtown area and in a continuous path toward the city's southwest side, rain fell sporadically over a two-hour period and was still falling at 11 On the city's east side, however, one resident reported "we heard some pleasant thunder but we received only three or four sprinkles of rain. By 11:30 a.m. sunshine began breaking through the clouds and muggy temperatures began a slow upward climb. This morning's cloud cover was part of a high pressure ridge that was spread over the Texas Panhandle and into West Texas. Cooler temperatures today were triggered by a weak high pressure system over the area which dropped readings into the high 60s in much of the area.

Normal rainfall to date is 10.55 inches. The Big Spring area has this year.

In other parts of the state. shower activity was also associated with the trough of low pressure that stretched across the northwest Gulf of Mexico. Otherwise, skies were mostly fair over the state, except for scattered areas of low clouds along the upper coast and the lower Rio Grande

South to southeasterly breezes of 5 to 10 mph were also common across much of Texas but turned northerly over eastern sections, the coastal plains the lower valley.

The weak high pressure system also brought cooler temperatures to much of the state, with readings in the 60s and 70s. In southwest Texas, the mercury dipped into the

The early morning extremes ranged from a chilly 52 degrees in Marfa to a warm 80 degrees at Galveston.

The forecast called for widely scattered showers and thunderstorms to continue over the Panhandle, southwestern mountains and coastal sections of the state through Wednesday.

Highs will be mostly in the 80s and 90s, except near 100 in the Big Bend Valley.

Showers drench South

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms were scattered across the Southeast and Southwest today, while heavy storms hit parts of southern Nevada. But at Blanca Peak, Colo.,

there was a dusting reminiscent of winter. Light snow fell early today at the high spot, 14,345 feet

While rain will continue today in many spots, the sun was expected to shine for a third day over the Summer

Olympics in Los Angeles.

Parts of the high Plains had heavy storms early today, and a few showers lingered over Minnesota and the eastern Dakotas.

Almost 2 inches of rain fell in an hour Monday night on the southeastern part of Aurora, Colo., just east of Denver. More than 2 inches drenched Glenrock, Wyo., east of Casper, in just over half an hour Monday afternoon.

Temperatures were in the 60s and 70s across much of the country early today, although the mercury dipped to the 50s over parts of the Northern Tier and the northern Pacific Coast.

For the rest of today, the National Weather Service forecast thunderstorms over the southeastern corner of the nation, with scattered storms developing over the Plateau, the Rockies, the northern high Plains and the upper Great Lakes.

The Northeast will be partly cloudy, while the Plains and West Coast will have sunshine.

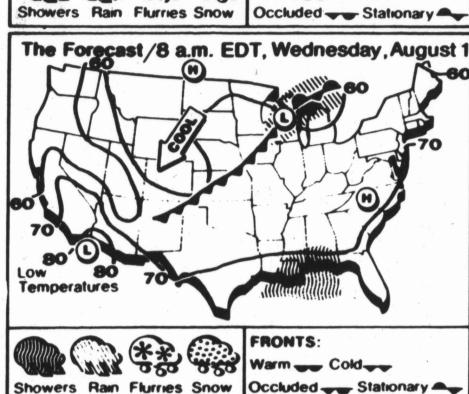

Cool temperatures will continue over the Southeast, with 70s scattered from Alabama to the Carolinas. The northern half of the country will be in the 80s, with the southern Plains and Southwest in the 90s. Temperatures will reach 100 to 110 degrees in the desert Southwest and the inland California valleys.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 50 degrees at Meacham, Ore., to 93 at Phoeniz, Ariz. Some other reports:

-East: Atlanta 67 rain; Boston 66 fair; Buffalo 58 fair; Charleston, S.C. 72 partly cloudy; Cincinnati 68 fair; Cleveland 63 fair; Detroit 59 fair; Miami 81 partly cloudy; New York 71 cloudy; Philadelphia 64 partly cloudy; Pittsburgh 61 fair; Washington 69 cloudy.

West Texas - Isolated afternoon and evening thunderstorms Panhandle and South Plains, otherwise continued mostly fair and mild nights with partly cloudy and warm afternoons. Panhandle, South Plains, Permian Basin and far west highs in the lower 90s and lows in the mid to upper 60s. Concho Valley highs in the mid 90s and lows near 70. Big Bend highs from the upper 80s mountains to upper 90s valleys and lows from near 60 mountains to near 70 along the Rio Grande.

Absentee voting mark rising

Absentee voting for the Aug. 11 election to decide if Big Spring should have an elected police chief is expected to jump over the 250 mark today, causing city officials to order printing of 1,000 more ballots for the election.

City Secretary Tom Ferguson said this morning he expects the final absentee figure to reach between 400 and 500 persons by the time voting closes at 5 p.m. Aug. 7.

The predicted high level of absentee voting, if reached, will shatter a previous record of about 260 absentee ballots that were cast in a regular city council election two years ago, the city secretary said. As of 10 a.m. this morning a total of 210 of the ballots had been cast at City Hall, he said.

Ferguson said 250 of the new ballots he ordered will be earmarked for absentee voting, with the re-maining 750 ballots designated for use in the Aug. 11 general election. Ferguson had previously ordered printing of 3,000 ballots for the general election, a figure representing some 20 percent of the city's registered voters.

All voters who are registered within the City of Big Spring are eligible to vote in the election. Voters will mark their ballots either "for" or "against" the pro-position that Big Spring should have an elected police chief, that his term of office should be two years and that candidates for the office should reside in the city for one year prior to filing for election.

TDC assembles search team

HUNTSVILLE (AP) - The Texas prison system will assemble a 30-man team to search cells, a move which follows the discovery of almost 500 weapons at one prison unit last week, officials said.

The team will be chosen later this week and could start operating in about two weeks, Lane McCotter, operations director of the Texas Department of Corrections, said Monday.

McCotter said the team's searches will begin at units where violence has been especially common. Eight inmates have been killed by other prisoners this year. Nine convicts died in prison assaults last year.

There have been eight assaults in Texas prisons since July 18, including the stabbing of a guard at the Coffield Unit in Anderson County. That prompted prison officials to lock 1,700 inmates in their cells around the clock while guards searched for weapons.

McCotter said the new team will strictly adhere to a search routine which calls for them to record everything found in a cell. He said the guards will scrupulously avoid destroying or disturbing prisoners belongings.

Goodbye, Beirut

Last U.S. detail leaves Lebanese capital

BEIRUT — The last U.S. combat Marines serving in Lebanon were airlifted out of Beirut today to American warships offshore.

The airlift began at 8:32 a.m. when a CH-47 Chinook helicopter took off from the seafront boulevard in front of the old U.S. Embassy compound with a load of 15 Marines.

Thirty seconds later, another helicopter lifted off with 15 more Marines as the withdrawal operation moved into high gear on a rainy, hazy day. The departing unit, left over from the multinational peacekeeping force that pulled out of Beirut last February, consists of about 90 to 100 Marines who had been guarding the U.S. Embassy A Marine combat unit from each Marine amphibious unit serving in Lebanon has been guarding the embassy in the west Beirut neighborhood of Ein yards to the west in Ein Mreisseh. The new chancery was officially opened today, and an annex in east Beirut, where embassy personnel will live, is to open Wednesday

The U.S. Embassy has hired an extra guard force drawn from local militias to supplement the regular 15-man Marine security unit in protecting the new embassy premises

The Marines leaving today were in full field gear, with helmets, flak jackets, rifles and heavily loaded packs. They ran across the boulevard, scrambling aboard the helicopters in seconds.

Shortly after the first two CH-47s took off, another pair landed. No warships were visible from the shore because of the haze.

The fifth helicopter was a larger CH-53, which loaded barrels and boxes of equipment. Light antitank rockets could be seen among the gear. Meanwhile, a Marine dismantled spotlights that had been put up on the small roads either side of the embassy. U.S. Ambassador Reginald Bartholomew arrived during the operation, but left within a few minutes escorted by two cars full of bodyguards.

No disturbances were reported during the Marine pullout either in Beirut or the central mountains overlooking the capital.

Air Force stops delivery of F-18s

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Navy says it will not acept delivery of any more new F-18 fighter planes until their maker, McDonnell Douglas Corp., fixes a design flaw that has caused cracks in a key tail fitting.

The move followed the imposition last week of flight restrictions on the aircraft, the Navy's newest and most versatile fighter, and the grounding of some of them.

Navy Secretary John Lehman also has told the giant St. Louis-based defense contractor that the company will be expected to bear the cost of making repairs, estimated at thousands of dollars per plane. Lehman's move came in a letter sent to McDonnell Douglas Friday and disclosed by the Navy late Monday.

Views on Vanessa

Two earth-shattering things happened in recent weeks that affected every person in this country. One was that the Democratic National Convention selected a woman as its vice-presidential candidate, and the other was that Miss America of 1984 appeared on the nation's newsstands au naturel in Penthouse magazine.

For those Americans who are far more interested in the fate of Miss America than they are in the Democratic ticket, the news that Vanessa Williams lost her crown split the country down the middle. Everywhere you went you found bitter arguments between those who believed Miss Williams was treated unfairly, as opposed to those who claimed abdication was the only honorable way out.

I was so shaken by the whole affair I sought out a bar where Washington opinion-makers meet to discuss the latest world crises. Grown men were yelling at each

Once again the right wing lined up against the liberals in voicing their moral indignation.

A conservative columnist said, "The pageant people had no choice but to force her to resign. Miss America is the nearest thing this country has to Princess Di, and by posing in the buff Vanessa tarnished this country's tiara."

"She was hoodwinked into posing for the pictures two years before she went for the title," a liberal columnist shouted. "I would be the last one to condone nudity in any magazine, but in this case an exception should have been made, particularly since Vanessa Williams, as Miss America, has always behaved like a queen.'

Another conservative columnist piped up, "that's typical doublestandard left-wing thinking. Your heart bleeds for everyone who shucks off all her clothes for Penthouse, but you people still will never forgive Nixon for Watergate."

I didn't want to be left out of the conversation. "I don't believe we ideological question. We have to put the pictures in context. Those of us who respect the family and live by the Judeo-Christian ethic tradition do not buy Penthouse, and therefore will not be exposed to the photos. The only ones who will be affected by them are the people who actually purchase the magazine, and they comprise just a handful of dirty old men in this country."

The conservative columnist retorted, "What about all the kids who pick it up at the newsstand, look at the pictures and then put the magazine back? Don't you think it has an effect on them?"

"Possibly," I admitted, "but why throw out Miss America with the bathwater? There isn't a man in this bar who doesn't wish that Vanessa Williams had not posed for the pictures. But as Jesse Jackson has said many times, 'We must condemn the sin and not the

"I'll drink to that," one of my liberal supporters said.

"I won't," a conservative columnist yelled. "She was punished so that generations of future Americans will never have to fear that the person who holds the second highest position in this land will ever pose for a skin magazine again. What kind of message would we be sending to the Soviets if we allowed Miss America to wear her crown on the Bob Hope show, but showed her wearing nothing in Penthouse magazine?

The bartender, trying to avoid a fistfight, said, "You know what I would have given her?"

We all asked what. "F-11 at 100th of a second."

Big killer 'worry list' grows longer disclosed a few weeks ago that the Environmental Protection Agency had covered up evidence that the common bug spray malathion causes cancer, the response from readers was overwhelming - and with good reason.

Malathion is one of the most popular pesticides, used by backyard gardeners and huge agricultural enterprises alike. It is recommended by virtually every gardening book on the market. The possibility that millions of Americans are exposed to a carcinogen without knowing it understandably worries a lot of people.

But for some reason it didn't worry the EPA officials whose job is to review the agency's own analyses of chemicals approved for

Instead of passing along the misgivings of their own scientists, free bureaucrats simply glossed over the bad news. Their 'cut-and-paste' reviews deleted warnings that malathion causes cancer, and included sections of analyses that minimized the pesticide's dangers.

Now I've learned that three more widely used chemicals — metalaxlyl, permethrin and harvade may be more dangerous than the EPA has let on. My associate Donald Goldberg has seen a series of internal agency reports on these pesticides. They make you wonder what the EPA's evaluators are being paid for.

 Metalaxyl is a fungicide used mainly to combat "blue mold" on tobacco leaves. According to an analysis by Dr. Adrian Gross, a respected senior scientist at the EPA, metalaxyl "is a tumorinducer or carcinogen."

But the EPA's Hazard Evaluation Division seriously misled other officials in its review of the chemical. Gross found that the reviews left out evidence of important tumors that indicated metalaxyl's potential as a carcinogen.

"Some of the ... reviews on this produce were of the 'cut-and-paste'

 Permethrin was restricted to cotton crops until 1982. That year, its use was expanded to a variety of other crops, including lettuce, potatoes, pears, celery, cabbage and brussels sprouts. The published findings on the chemical stated: "Even if permethrin is a human oncogen (tumor causer), which is unlikely, it is highly unlikely that it would present a significant risk to humans at the levels to which they will be exposed."

In your hat, said Gross. In a report to the EPA's registration division, he wrote bluntly, "I submit to you that this represents a vast understatement of such risks.

According to Gross, the levels of exposure to permethrin permitted by the EPA could lead to a risk of cancer in 5 percent to 10 percent of they really wanted was some the persons exposed. "I should chocolate." " he wrote with barely concancer of this order for a relatively new insecticide are unacceptable

Harvade is another pesticide that the reviewers failed to give any group would slaughter 40,000 of decision-making officials adequate its own supporters to blacken its warning about. Gross found that the reviewers neglected to do their own analysis. No wonder: According to Gross, the reviewers had relied on ble pace of the 1980-82 slaughter. evaluation summaries prepared by Maria Julia Hernandez, director of the manufacturers and-or their research contractors.

Gross' courage in challenging the system has evidently not endeared him to EPA bureaucrats. He felt obliged to write one official: "You have remarked ... that to feel up-tight whenever I am Salvador last December and gave had carred out shoddy work which death squads' butchery, the killcould affect the health of the ings dropped sharply for two monpublic, they ought to fear such ths. REPORT FROM EL SALVADOR: Jose Napoleon Duarte, the new president of El Salvador, has his work cut out for him. Detested by the oligarchs of the "Fourteen Families" for his nationalization of banks and confiscation of huge estates when he was head of the ruling junta from 1980 to 1982, he is distrusted by the left-wing guerrillas for failing to stop the bloody work of the rightwing death squads.

Play break

Let's face it. We can't watch the Olympics every minute of the broadcasting day, even if the United States athletes keep up their stellar performances. I can think of no better break from the Olympics than the Howard College Creative Dramatics programs, which continue through Aug. 10.

I saw "A Coupla of White Chicks Sitting Around Talking" during the Sunday matinee and really enjoyed the performance. Mary Owens and Pam Riddle were the only actors, and it isn't often that a two-person team can hold an audience's attention for a long period of time. But the pair put enough emotion into their roles to keep a Sunday afternoon audience hanging on to every

But if you haven't seen "A Coupla White Chicks" by now, you've missed your chance. Director Tim Haynes and his crew put together an attractive set and a fast-paced show.

Another offering of the Creative Dramatics team was presented by children in clown outfits at the Heart of the City celebration Saturday. Lois Brace, also of the Howard College theater department, worked with children to present a unique version of the Jack and the Beanstalk fable on Main Street's sidewalk, not your usual play setting.

Junior high and high school kids will perform tonight in "The New Adventures of Raggedy Ann and Andy." The show, part of the city's Starlight Specials, is free to the public. The show is slated for the Comanche Trail Park amphitheatre, a perfect place to spend a summer evening.

This Friday, Saturday and Sunday, another troupe of actors within the Creative Dramatics team will present "Mousetrap." This is one of Agatha Christie's most popular plays and features familiar faces and a few people new to local theater. "Mousetrap" is set for the Howard College auditorium.

Then there's "Wally's Cafe," a comedy that sounds like a lot of fun and one which features three performers. The play will be presented in the little theater room off to the side of the Howard College Auditorium Aug. 6-10.

Any group that puts on five quality productions in one short summer deserves our attention. Anyone whose been involved in a play knows how much work one show is. But if "A Coupla White Chicks Sitting Around Talking" was any indication, all five of the productions received plenty of attention from the casts and crews.

Here is our opportunity to watch live theater featuring home-town folks. I've been involved with local theater productions, and I know it is disheartening to worry that the shows will not be well attended. I hope theater-lovers and people looking for good entertainment will turn out for the remaining performances.

Appointed chief is best for the city

To the editor:

Recently a petition was filed by a group of Big Spring residents to change the manner in which the Chief of Police would be employed and this requires a change in the City Charter which sets forth the current procedure of providing a Chief of Police for our city.

First of all, I believe that many who signed the petition did not understand the facts in the matter. Big Spring is an incorporated city and through its adopted charter provides for a commission or council form of government. This provides that our city, a municipal corporation, will periodically elect a Board of Directors or the City Council. The Council or Board of Directors hire a professionally trained person to run the business of the city, the City Manager. The Department Heads of our city government are responsible to the City Manager as to the operation of their departments. This includes the Chief of Police. We the citizens and taxpayers of our City are stockholders of this Municipal Corporation and in order to get trained, qualified personnel we adopted a City Charter many years ago to run our City in an efficient and professional manner.

Just as in the industrial world we are going to find some people who are not always happy with everything every city employee may do from time to time, but each

To support the petition calling for an elected Chief of Police and change the City Charter would set our City back 50 years. Any one who believes that anyone can please all the people all the time is a fool, and I say this advisedly.

If you are not happy with current employees, the way to handle that is through the regular elections. Electing a Chief of Police will only cost taxpayers more money for more elections. If, as the petition states, the qualification is only that the candidate be a resident of Big Spring one year, WE ARE IN TROUBLE! No qualifications or training are stipulated in the

Today in history

By The Associated Press Today is Tuesday, July 31, the 213th day of 1984. There are 153 days left in the year. Today's highlight in history:

On July 31, 1777, the Marquis de Lafayette offered his help to the rebelling American colonies, and was made a major general in the Continental Army. On this date:

In 1498, explorer Christopher Columbus discovered the island of Trinidad. In 1556, St. Ignatius of Loyola, the founder of the Society of Jesus, died in Rome. In 1875, the 17th President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, died in Tennessee at age 66. In 1953, Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio died in New York at age 63.

In 1973, a Delta Airlines jet crashed in fog on landing at Logan Airport in Boston, killing 88 people.

Dallas banker and Fiberflex Products Inc. director Rob Fergusor testified today on his banks' loar involvements with company patent attorney Guy Matthews, who spent more than two days on the witness stand in 118th District Court.

Matthews testified he sought a loan from Ferguson's bank when a $400,000 note at a Hobbs, N.M., bank came due March 14. The note at First City National Bank of Hobbs - now renamed Moncor Bank — was part of a deal Matthews made with West Texas banker and company director Sam Spikes for 20,000 shares of stock and was to have been paid by Spikes, according to Matthews' testimony.

Ferguson testified about the details of a loan he was negotiating on Feb. 28 for Matthews through Ted Groebl and company corporate management. The loan would pay off Matthews $400,000 note at the Hobbs bank, in which the 20,000 shares were serving as

According to Ferguson's testimony, the Rutledges and Groebl apparently had a verbal agreement to buy the 20,000 shares of stock from Matthews before Matthews sold the stock to former OIL owner Charles "Chris" Christopher on Feb. 27.

Christopher is leading a group of unhappy shareholders in their attempts to wrest control of the company away from corporate management.

The consistency of Ferguson's testimony was called into question by Big Spring attorney Gil Jones, who represents the shareholders who brought the original suit and who oppose Ferguson's placement on the board of directors.

In Monday afternoon's testimony, Moncor executive vice president Mike Fisher testified about the bank's dealings with Matthews and Christopher, who purchased the stock from Matthews in a disputed deal and who later bought the stock at a bank foreclosure.

Fisher testified the bank offered better terms to Christopher and his partner, former board director Bily Massingill - $360,000 for 18 months at half a percent less interest than it did to Matthews, who borrowed $400,000 for six months at a

Pre-menstrual blues

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a they also trap worn red blood cells, 27-year-old female with the menstrual blues. I have bloat and general malaise at my time of the month. Can diet have much to do with this? - Miss D.H.V.

Sure, diet can play a significant role. The woman who drinks several cups of coffee a day often finds things improve when she eliminates that and other sources of caffeine. Lowering salt (sodium) intake is helpful to relieve the edema (bloat) many women experience in the pre-menstrual days. As to diet in general, one authority suggests that women with PMS have three smaller wellbalanced meals a day and three high-protein snacks interspersed

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am 14, a female with an enlarged spleen. I was told it is from too much exercise. The pain is worse, and I'm scared. What can be done to treat my spleen? - A.M.B.

I've never heard of exercise causing an enlarged spleen. And you treat it by correcting the cause of it — certain infections, like mono, an anemia, arthritis, or other problems. Spleens make antibodies to help fight infections and

Stigmas of suicide targeted

EDINA, Minn. (AP) — When her 21-year-old stepdaughter killed herself, Adina Wrobleski found herself facing not only guilt and grief but also what she calls archaic taboos.

The taboos against suicide, which discourage people from talking about the subject and inhibit them from comforting survivors, penalize the dead person's friends and loved ones, she said. Those who survive are also victims of suicide, she added.

"It's a pathetic and primitive form of social control for a medical problem," she said.

With 30,000 suicides reported nationwide each year, Mrs. Wrobleski estimates that 90,000 people are added annually to the roster of "suicide survivors." All but a few cope with their grief in virtual isolation.

Mrs. Wrobleski wants to change that.

After studying the subject of suicide since her stepdaughter, Lynn, shot herself in 1978, Mrs. Wrobleski began publishing a newsletter for suicide survivors six months ago. Called "Afterwords," the quarterly newsletter is aimed at two groups - mental health professionals and people who have lost loved ones to suicide.

With only two editions published, 200 people have paid the $5 annual subscription fee. She hopes to build circulation into the thousands.

Each newsletter includes about 10 brief items dealing with aspects of suicide, research into the subject, problems of survivors and even some gentle humor.

There is no national organization offering support to survivors of suicides, Mrs. Wrobleski said, because they are perceived as "unpopular, guilty victims." Four groups offer help in Minneapolis and St. Paul, but only 60 to 70 nationwide, she said.

By contrast, she cited Mothers Against Drunk Driving, which lobbies for stronger laws against Lynn Wrobleski Oja, the has popular, 'innocent' victims. Just since 1980, they've started 222 chapters in 42 states and provinces.'

Problems of suicide survivors include not knowing, in many cases, why the person died, coping with how the person died, the trauma of discovering the body and the necessity of reconstructing events leading to the death.

'One of the things that startles and surprises people about suicide is that many people who kill themselves are like my daughter. They look like they have everything going for them," Mrs. Wrobleski said.

drunken driving, as "a group that youngest of three children in a close-knit family, had been married for almost two years. At the time of her death, she and her husband were getting ready to move into a new house they had built.

> "We have to make physical com-parisons," Mrs. Wrobleski said. "If you've got a million dollars and the most loving husband in the world and you've got cancer, you're going to die. It's the same with psychiatric illness.

"Most peple who kill themselves are suffering from unrecognized, undiagnosed depression," she said.

The most common problem among suicide survivors, she said,

Billboards seek children

five billboards with pictures of young children will be displayed here in a test of a national program to coordinate efforts of parents and government agencies searching for missing youngsters, officials an-nounced Monday.

The program will include a tollfree telephone number for people who have or want information about missing children, said Jim Abbott, a spokesman for Rep. Barbara Mikulski, D-Md.

"(The government) sees this as an opportunity to test the hotline' before it is implemented on a national scale, he said.

The billboards will be placed in Ms. Mikulski's district because she has been a major supporter of missing children legislation, Abbott said at a news conference. The faces pictured on the billboards will be those of models, not actual missing children, he said.

The program is being funded by a $10 million federal grant given last May to create the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children, said Abbott.

The billboards are being donated and erected by the Foster and Kleiser Outdoor Advertising Agen-

BALTIMORE (AP) - Twenty- cy and the Billboard and Outdoor Advertising Association of Baltimore.

> The new national agency will have access to the FBI's central trace missing children, said.

John Walsh, whose son Adam was kidnapped and murdered in 1981, said that when he was searching for his son, it was impossible to call somewhere and find out if anyone had seen his son or had information about him.

Walsh, whose story was depicted in the television movie "Adam," is an adviser to the National Center for Missing and Exploited here in early August.

West German sets second world mark

mericans swim to 800 freestyle record

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Michael Gross, West Germany's 6-foot-7 "Albatross," set his second world record and won his second Olympic swimming gold medal in two days Monday but even he couldn't overcome a world record performance by the United States in the 800-meter freestyle relay. Mike Heath of Dallas, David Larson of Jacksonville, Fla., Jeff Float of Sacramento, Calif., and Bruce Hayes of Dallas out-touched the Gross-led West Germans by the peach-fuzz thin margin of .04 seconds

Hayes, given a body-length edge over Gross going into the final leg, actually fell behind the 200 freestyle world record-holder in the final lap before finishing in 7 minutes, 15.69 seconds.

The time broke the world mark set in the morning preliminaries of 7:18.87 by the U.S. team. Heath and Float replaced Geoff Gaberino and Rich Saeger in the final.

That brought to five the number of events with world records in two days of Olympic swimming competition, all in men's races.

"I was surprised I won after he caught me so fast," Hayes said of Gross. "I didn't know if I could hold medal in 72 years. George Hodgson on after that.

"I didn't expect him to catch me in the first 50 (meters). In the last lap I just put my head down and started kicking."

"Knowing that we were in the United States and that everyone loves us and was behind us ade a big difference," Larson said.

Also Monday, Alex Baumann lowered his own world mark in the 400 individual medley and won Canada's first swimming gold won two freestyle races for Canada in the 1912 Games in Stockholm for that country's only swimming golds.

A few minutes later, Anne Ottenbrite won another gold for Canada in the women's 200 breaststroke.

Gross, who admitted after the morning preliminaries that "I don't like the 100 buterfly too much," nevertheless outduelled Pablo Morales of Santa Clara, Calif., for the gold in the event.

Gross, who set a world record in the Olympic 200 freestyle Sunday and also holds the world mark in the 200 butterfly, was timed in 53.08 seconds. That surpassed the world standard of 53.38 established by Morales last month in the U.S. Olympic Trials.

Morales, 19, whose parents moved to the United States from Cuba in 1957, also was under his previous world mark, clocking a 53.23 after leading most of the second lap of the two-lap race.

"This is absolutely unbelievable," Gross said. "I cannot believe it. It is amazing, can it be? I thought perhaps I could swim a 53.5, but 53.0, that is amazing. I am almost speechless.'

"I swam my best time and got beat by a great athlete," Morales

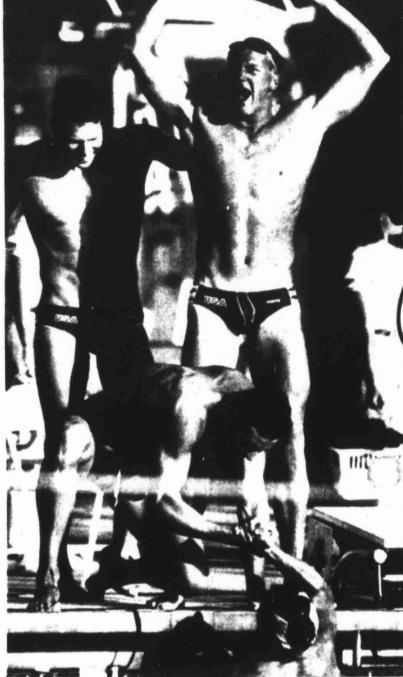

In the qualifying heats, Morales and Gross both erased the last listing of 1972 Olympic hero Mark Spitz from the record books. Spitz, who won seven golds and set seven world records in the Munich Games, went into the day with the Olympic record of 54.27, but he said before the prelims he expected the record to fall and it did.

Glenn Buchanan of Australia was third in the final, taking the bronze in 53.85.

In another medal final, the United States got a 1-2 sweep in the women's 200 freestyle from Mary Wayte of Mercer Island, Wash., and Cynthia Woodhead of Riverside, Calif.

Baumann, who wears a diamond stud in his left ear and a red maple leaf tatoo on his chest, was timed in 4:17.41 in the individual medley, besting his own previous mark of 4:17.53.

Former world record-holder Ricardo Prado of Brazil was second in 4:18.45, while Robert Woodhouse of Australia was third in 4:20.50. Americans Jesse Vassallo and Jeff Kostoff, both swimming with shaved heads, were fourth and sixth,

Magers and netters win first match

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) -The United States, after a slow start, rolled past West Germany 17-15, 15-8, 15-10 thanks to some timely play by Big Spring native Rose Magers. Magers came of the bench during the first match to help ignite her squad with her powerful spikes and timely blocks.

Earlier in the day, China downed stubborn Brazil 15-13, 15-10, 15-11; Japan overcame a horrendous beginning to whip Korea 8-15, 15-11, 15-2, 15-7, and Peru overwhelmed Canada 15-9, 15-10, 15-4

The Americans, who along with China and Japan are considered the teams to beat in the eight-team tournament, struggled throughout their first game against West Germany.

The West Germans scored the first three points and led 13-10 before the USA battled back to win. The Americans spotted West Germany a 4-1 lead in the second game before really getting their game in gear. The USA outscored the West Germans 11-2 to make it 12-6 and wasn't threatened after that.

The third game was tied 2-2 before the Americans rattled off five straight points to take command.

Among those who contributed to the USA victory were Flo Hyman, Rita Crockett, Debbie Green, Magers, and Paula Weishoff.

China's world-chan pionship team made its first-ever Olympic appearance a successful one. although Brazil provided a stiffer test than was expected.

China is taking part in the Olympics for the first time since 1932. Volleyball became an Olympic sport in 1964.

Brazil gave China all it could handle in the first game, leading 11-10 in the late going, but the world champions battled back to win and led throughout the final two games.

Korea seemed on its way to a major upset before Japan got its game together. The Koreans won the first game easily and it was 7-7 in the second game before Japan, the clearcut Pool B favorite, took command.

U.S. men put pressure on United State men's gymnastics team, once an easy prey and now the hunter, battles powerful China tonight for the team gold medal at the Los Angeles Olympics.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - The more crucial, the Americans held a 1.05 lead over the Chinese.

The American team finished with a team score of 295.30 in Sunday's compulsory round, with the Chinese in pursuit at 294.25. Japan,

Buoyed by their first perfect in third place with a 292.40 total, appears to be too far back to

> A similar confrontation is shaping up in the women's competition, where favored Romania faces a strong challenge from a talentloaded American team bidding for its first medal since 1948. The women's team title will be decided Wednesday night during the optional round.

Led by its talented duo of Ecaterina Szabo and Lavinia Agache, Romania holds a 196.15 to 195.70 lead over the American women following Monday's compulsories. The Chinese are third with a score of 194.15.

U.S. men gymnasts haven't won a team medal since taking a silver t the 1932 Los Angeles Olympics behind the Italians.

"The U.S. won't play it safe to win the gold. We will do very tough routines. You can't play it safe and win the Olympics," said Coach Abie Grossfeld of New Haven,

Big Spring WINNER!

says "Let me do it for you."

THE LOSER says "That's not my job."

Dwight McCann President, Old Settlers Reunion

"I just sort of fell into it," Dwight says of his volunteer 5-term (that's 10 years) presidency of the Old Settlers Reunion. "I liked it and stayed with it." Last year 1200 Old Settlers and their descendants and friends from Howard and Glasscock Counties gathered at Comanche Trail Park for the annual reunion. This popular nostalgic day is the result of a lot of hard work - organizing, locating bands, setting up contests, planning and buying supplies for the barbecue, securing funds, publicizing the event and 1001 details. Everybody over 70 years of age eats barbecue dinner free. The entire event is supported by donations from Big Spring, Howard and Glasscock County business firms and individuals. "The community supports" it and wants the reunion to go on. Someday the new settlers will be 'old settlers". Dwight has outlasted four vice-presidents but has retained the same secretary-treasurer — his wife, Gertrude! "You need patience, time and commitment to serve in this position." Dwight says, but he believes the 60 year-old Reunion is a local tradition worth preserving. Dwight also serves as Commander of Disabled American Veterans, Chapter 47, and is a member of Masonic Lodge and East 4th Baptist Church. He is retired from a 32-year career with Cosden Oil & Chemical, and owned and operated a farm in the area. The McCanns' son, Coy Joe, is a well-known local artist. Dwight came to Big Spring when he was three years old — "I guess that makes me an Old Settler!"

These Big Spring business firms cared enough to tell you about Big Spring's WINNERS. Support them with your patronage whenever possible.

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, AUG. 1, 1984 GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning and late evening both find you with poor judgment and ricocheting between being too demanding at one moment and too unavailable the next.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You get excellent ideas that will help you to come to a far better understanding with an associate who is important to you.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study how to get your work done more precisely and carefully and improve your image. Spend the evening quietly at home.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Use that special talent you possess to get a partner to be more cooperative in business matters and make this a very productive day.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Concentrate on home and family so you can get everything working beautifully there in the future and have great harmony LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Use that smile more and be more cooperative with everyone including co-workers and you get fine results at this time.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get clear in your mind what it is you most want and then take the right steps in such direction. Be happy tonight. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Know what your personal aims are and which friends can be of help to you in gaining them. Be with pals during spare time. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Study into new ways to gain the attention of those in public life and you can better yourself appreciably.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can gain your fondest aims through the auspices of good friends at this time. Cultivate them nicely. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Consult an expert who can help you to merchandise your wares much better and gain the goodwill of the public in general. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A new set of conditions will help you to impress those who are important in your life. Be happy.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Expend some effort to make your home more charming and functional and you can add to its value. Feel satisfied in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will readily understand what the desires and needs of those around are and will try to help them gain their aims and be most cooperative. A good, hard worker in this chart. A lover of sports here.

AUSTIN (AP) - Gallon by gallon, car by car and license plate by license plate, Texans on Wednesday begin paying to patch a highway system that state officials say has gone to potholes.

The gasoline tax doubles to 10 cents per gallon, the motor vehicle sales tax goes up from 4 percent to 5 percent and the vehicle registration fee goes up - tripling for drivers of small, newer cars.

"There's nothing you can do about it. There's no use complaining about it. It's going to be there," Texas Service Station Association Director Bill Ligon said of the gasoline tax hike.

Legislators meeting in special session last month approved a $4.6 billion tax hike, the state's first general tax increase in 13 years. The highway-related hikes are effective Wednesday. On Oct. 2, the state sales tax will rise from 4 percent to 4.125 percent as part of an education revenue-raising package.

The nickel-a-gallon gasoline tax rise will bring in $1.34 billion over the next three years — the single largest increase. For many years, Texas' 5 cent tax was the nation's lowest.

Austin gas station owners expected many fill-ups before the Wednesday increase, and predicted they'll hear some bellyaching after the deadline.

"You just have to relate to them what's going on," said Doug Milligan, owner of an Exxon Bill Broaddus said he heard little Soon we'll hear from them. advance talk about the hike at his Gulf station.

"In the past you'd hear a lot of conversation on the driveway" about gasoline tax hikes, such as the federal government's 5-cent increase last year, said Broaddus. "I've heard none this time."

"It's certainly not like it was a few years ago when everybody was price conscious," he said. "It just doesn't seem to be as important as it used to be."

The biggest overnight tax hike is on passenger car registrations. Lawmakers changed the whole system, scrapping the weightbased tax for a levy based on age on car. Owners of new cars under 3,500 pounds paid $15.80 a year under the old system. As of Wednesday, it will cost $46.30 a year to register any car - regardless of weight made in 1982 up to now. "Ecology-minded people who complied with the request from environmental and government leaders to get smaller cars are now going to pay more for license plates," said Bill Aleshire, Travis County tax assessor-collector.

Motorists whose registrations come up in August are the first facing the new fees.

'Those people know about it. We've heard from them," said Dian Neill, staff officer for the motor vehicle division of the state highway department. "Now we're sending out September notices.

Aleshire said the usual end-ofthe-month crush for license plates and stickers was about 25 percent worse this week as motorists with

July registrations tried to beat the Many drivers with August registrations tried to beat the hike by paying in July. For many, it was worthless effort because of a highway department ruling that the new fees would be charged for

"We had people showing up for the past two weeks for August plates who were upset that we were charging the new fees," said Aleshire, who has asked for an attorney general's opinion concerning when the new fees should have gone into effect.

Mark White signed the bill on July

Mrs. Neill said all August registrations - no matter when they were purchased - were billed at the new, higher rates because the new law was effective Aug. 1.

The registration fee increase will raise $708 million for the state over the next three years. The fees will increase $6.25 in each of the next two years, topping out at $58.80 for the newest cars in 1986.

The fees effective Wednesday are $46.30 for cars built after 1981, $38.30 for cars built from 1979-81, and $28.30 for cars built in 1978 or

AT&T cut request draws opposition

AUSTIN (AP) — An AT&T request to cut long distance rates has sparked opposition from competitors skeptical about a rate decrease for a company that has an increase request pending.

AT&T Communications wants Public Utility Commission approval for a "Reach Out Texas" program that would allow one hour of weekend and nighttime intrastate long distance calls for $14 a month. The plan also would offer evening rates 13 percent below current levels.

William O'Neal, an AT&T district manager, told PUC Hearing Examiner Deborah Miller on Monday that Reach Out Texas is an "everybody wins situation" because customers will get a rate cut and AT&T will bring in about $6 million due to increased calling.

AT&T wants to start the program Wednesday. Ms. Miller did not rule Monday.

Opponents complained that Reach Out Texas would set rates below cost, making it possible that rates for other AT&T services would have to be raised to make up the losses. AT&T has a $301 million rate hike case pending, but has put that case on hold.

When the rate case was filed AT&T officials said the money was vital to the company's Texas operations.

Martha Smiley, an attorney representing long distance company U.S. Telephone, complained Monday that while AT&T has the rate hike case pending "they come to this commission and offer a service that is clearly under cost."

But O'Bryan said tests elsewhere have shown the program is a money-maker.

"We found that customers who elected to choose this plan increased the number of calls they placed each month by 43 percent," he said, adding that call duration increased 10 percent.

Ray Besing, attorney for long distance company MCI, agreed with Ms. Smiley, saying, "Pricing of a product below cost is against said the AT&T proposal could force higher rates for other AT&T services.

Shiner Beer brewery sold Grand jury indicts attorney

DALLAS (AP) — The historic Shiner Beer brewery has been sold to a four native Texans who call their new endeavor a "labor of love."

The Great Texas Brewing Co. recently ended four years of negotiations by buying 100 percent of the stock of Shiner Brewery Investment Corp., a holding company for the 75-year-old Spoetzel Brewery.

"We don't plan to make any changes at the brewery. We are all native Texans. This is a labor of love," said Jules Silvers, a native Houstonian and former vice president of Accent Wine and Spirits in Dallas who will be the chairman of the board for the brewery.

Silvers said the brewmaster and the employees, who have an average tenure of 28 years, will continue to run the brewery. The brewery has 40 employees and a capacity of 75,000 barrels a year.

Silvers said the brewery is now producing about 38,000 barrels of beer a year, just above half capacity.

"We hope within five years to reach at least 60,000 barrels a year," Silvers said. "We want to market a world-class brew made in a very small brewery.

Other partners are George Korkmas, former president of National Beverage Co., a large Houston beer distributor; Roland Smith, a former Shiner stockholder and Houston beer distributor; and Lasker Meyer, chairman of the board of Foley's in Houston. Silvers declined to reveal the purchase price, but said the replacement value of the Spoetzel Brewery is between $7.5 million to $15 million.

Local farmers and several Shiner businessmen opened the brewery in 1909. They sold it in 1914 to Kosmas Spoetzel, a Germanborn brewmaster for whom the brewry is named.

Spoetzel kept the little brewery alive during Prohibition by selling ice and near beer. When Spoetzel died in 1950, his daughter became the sole owner. She sold it to Shiner Brewery Investment Corp. in 1966.

PUBLIC NOTICE

AT&T Communications has filed with the Public Utility Commission (PUC) of Texas to introduce a new intrastate, optional long distance service to begin August 1, 1984, the same date "Reach Out® America" plan will be available for interstate calls. A new service designed to give customers the opportunity to reduce the cost of long distance in Texas has been filed with the state PUC by AT&T Communications of the Southwest, Inc.

"Reach Out® Texas" is an optional calling plan which will provide addi tional discounts on long distance rates for Texas customers who frequently place calls in the evening, weekend, and night time calling periods. The new "Reach Out® Texas" plan for the first time extends the benefits of competition to many Texas consumers who previously have not had any discounted long distance service available to them. AT&T Communications customers who choose this new optional service will pay a monthly charge of $14 which entitles them to one hour of intrastate

"Direct Dialed" (1 +) calling during the weekend and night rate period. An additional customer savings for those participating in the plan will be that any Direct Dialed calls placed during the weekend and night rate period that exceeds the one hour period will be charged at an hourly rate of $12, or $.20 per minute.

Customers selecting this option also receive an additional 15 percent discount for intrastate Direct Dialed calls during the evening discount rate period for a total savings of approximately 38 percent.

A one-time charge of $6 is billed when a customer orders the "Reach Out® Texas" plan. The $6 is collected by AT&T Communications and paid to the local telephone company to establish the service. This charge will be waived during the first 90 days that the offering is available.

AT&T Communications is proud to offer this optional service for its Texas long distance customers and will in the future continue to introduce cost cutting programs to help Texans reduce their long distance bills. A complete copy of the "Reach Out® Texas" tariff and rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas. AT&T Communications estimates that the revenue impact of this new service would be significantly less than 2.5 percent of annual gross revenues. Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene or participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information also may be obtained by 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf. *Customer billing for the optional calling plan will be provided for AT&T Communications through billing contracts with the local telephone companies. Therefore, the introduction of these rate plans into a specific area is contingent upon local company billing capabilities. Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has agreed to handle the billing in its service areas effective August 1, 1984.
