How's that? Beehives

Q. Is there an ordinance permitting city residents to keep beehives? When did the city council grant permission and why? Is there a limit on the number of hives? Are there any public safety or health requirements regarding beehives?

A. According to City Manager Don Davis, "The City Council passed an ordinance in November, 1979, repealing the ordinance prohibiting the keeping of bees within the city limits. Therefore, there are no regulations regarding same."

Davis added, "The Health Department says there are no health requirements regarding beehives or the keeping of bees."

Rutledges file bond on Christopher

Staff reports
Former O.I.L. president Charles "Chris" Christopher, currently fighting corporate management of Fiberflex Products Inc. for control of the company, was placed on peace bond Wednesday.

Tom Rutledge and Russ Rutledge, both corporate officers of Fiberflex who opposed Christopher's attempted takeover, Wednesday filed a $2,500 peace bond against Christopher in Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin's court.

In requesting the peace bond, the Rutledges alleged Christopher was harassing them, both at their homes and at their offices at Fiberflex.

Christopher Monday filed two $2,500 peace bonds against both the Rutledges, following a Sunday night incident at the Big Spring Country Club.

According to witnesses at the country club, the Rutledges threatened Christopher. A witness at the scene said a steak and a tray were thrown. Members of the Howard County Sheriff's Department were called to the scene.

Christopher Monday asked that the Rutledges be placed under permanent peace bonds. Heflin said at that time that he had set a hearing Aug. 27 to determine whether the Rutledges should be placed under permanent peace bonds.

Christopher recently announced he controls 53 percent of Fiberflex stock.

Fiberflex voting block challenged

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Two Fiberflex Products Inc. shareholders, seeking to have voting agreements ruled invalid, testified today at a hearing involving injunctions on both sides of a fight for control of the company.

Anne Jones of Graham and Leroy Reeves of Ackerly granted 11-month agreements, or proxies, to Fiberflex corporate officers Tom Rutledge, Russ Rutledge and John Freeman, which the shareholders now testify they want revoked.

Both Jones and Reeves signed later voting agreements with former O.I.L. president Charles Christopher, who is trying to gain control of the company. Mrs. Jones has sold part of her stock to Christopher, and Reeves sold half of his stock to the Rutledges prior to signing the Christopher agreement.

Mrs. Jones testified that she signed the 11-month proxy to corporate management after talking to Tom Rutledge.

In a phone conversation with Tom Rutledge, Mrs. Jones testified Rutledge told her he and three other corporate officers — Russ Rutledge, Freeman and Fred Morrow — would resign if they did not gain control of the majority of company stock by Jan. 15, 1984.

She also testified Rutledge told her Dallas banker Robb Ferguson, at that time working for the company, that she was working for the company. See Fiberflex page 2-A

Freeze heating gas war

Bill angers Texans

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — House Speaker Tip O'Neill, after heavy lobbying by Northeastern and Midwestern congressmen, has made a move to open a legislative path for a bill this year that would put a two-year lid on natural gas production prices.

The regionally divisive measure, fought by members of the Texas congressional delegation on all levels, has been blocked in the House in spite of being touted by northern congressmen as a political year necessity because of rising gas prices during a period of oversupply.

Northern House members also fear repercussions from constituents if prices for "new gas," discovered after 1977, are decontrolled under current law on Jan. 1, 1985. The price freeze bill would hold back decontrol for most new gas for at least two years.

Chances for passage of such legislation in the Senate, if it gained last-minute approval this year in the House, were considered slim. But Texas congressmen and their aides said they would take nothing for granted in trying to defeat the bill in the House.

Pan Am workers back on job

NEW YORK (AP) — Vowing to "shut down the world," unions for thousands of Pan American World Airways employees staged a surprise strike over a freeze in pensions that grounded eight flights before a court order sent their members back to work today.

Pickets at airports nationwide came down late Wednesday after U.S. District Judge Joseph M. McLaughlin in New York issued an injunction ordering the Transport Workers Union's 6,000 members back to work, said Victor Diaz, of the union's air transport division.

"We have a court injunction, so we're abiding by the law," Diaz said. A telephone operator for Pan Am in New York confirmed today that all operations were normal.

The strike, called at 2 p.m. Wednesday by the TWU, forced the cancellation of eight of the carrier's 500 daily flights, Pan Am spokeswoman Pamela Hanlon said. All of the flights were either to or from New York, she said.

The Teamsters, the Air Line Pilots Association and the Union of Flight Attendants said their members would honor TWU picket lines.

GOP leaders worried about image, apathy

DALLAS (AP) — Republican leaders, polishing up President Reagan's 1984 campaign platform, are worrying over how television will play next week's GOP convention and about energizing loyalists who might take the president's reelection for granted.

Those issues — and not the sparring over nuances in writing the party platform — were uppermost as a made-for-television convention was taking shape in the August heat of Texas. The convention begins Monday.

Today, Republican moderates were making another attempt to resurrect support for the Equal Rights Amendment in the party platform. Such a move failed to attract a seconding motion in a subcommittee.

The president's daughter, Maureen, was lobbying for the amendment, but the Los Angeles Herald Examiner reported she was rebuffed early in the week in a meeting with platform officials.

"We have been working on this on behalf of a number of our women officeholders and candidates. I don't consider it over yet," she said. "So I certainly wouldn't sit here and say we've lost."

Citing polls showing Reagan leading Democrat Walter F. Mondale by 15 or more percentage points, Republican Chairman Frank J. Fahrenkopf Jr. brushed off the ideological skirmishes between moderates and conservatives when he reported to the party's governing National Committee on Wednesday.

Election day over-confidence was on his mind.

"The greatest threat, as I view it, to the re-election of Ronald Reagan and George Bush is not domestic policy; it is not foreign policy," Fahrenkopf said. "The greatest threat is over-confidence by those in this room and throughout this country who are charged with the responsibility for voter motivation and voter turnout."

He laid out plans for the party to spend a record $20 million on exhaustive efforts to get Republicans to the polls.

Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois, a party moderate in a tough reelection fight against liberal Democratic Rep. Paul Simon, took one look at the platform draft and disassociated himself from it.

Percy deplored the pledge to appoint only judges who oppose abortion.

"Having been to a great many conventions, I would not feel that a convention is a cross-section of the typical mainstream of America or the mainstream of the Republican Party," Percy told reporters in Springfield, Ill. "This convention tends to be somewhat more conservative."

Convention preparations rolled along. Work crews unfolded thousands of bright red padded seats on the floor of the empty Dallas Convention Center, where the air conditioning made the hall frosty cold.

Debate dropped

Gramm, Doggett can't agree on when to disagree

BRYAN — Sponsors of a statewide debate between U.S. Senate candidates Lloyd Doggett and Phil Gramm withdrew their offer late Wednesday, saying they were caught in the middle of the candidates' political "games."

Spokesmen for the San Antonio Bar Association and KMOL-TV of San Antonio, which had offered to broadcast a one-hour, prime-time debate and feed it to all Texas television stations, said their negotiations with the two candidates on a date for the debate failed.

"During the past two months, neither campaign committee was able to agree on a date," said Edward Cheviot, general manager and vice president of KMOL. "It became apparent to us that their political consideration outweighed our need to get a firm commitment from both parties on a date that we could depend upon."

Jay Solomon, KMOL news director, said the station offered as many as 10 dates during the negotiations which began in mid-June.

"We were caught in the middle with the games they were playing," Solomon said. "Both of them were making this a political issue."

At the same time, the bar association's board of directors voted unanimously Wednesday afternoon to withdraw as a sponsor of the debate after neither candidate could agree on a date.

"It was a very unfortunate situation that probably couldn't be helped," said Jimmy Allison, executive director of the bar association.

The major deadlocks between the candidates has been the timing and number of the debates — Doggett wants a total of seven with six after Oct. 1, and Gramm wants three debates all before Oct. 1.

The two sponsors had received a commitment from Gramm, a Republican congressman from College Station, to debate Doggett on Sept. 11.

31 Brazilians drown in offshore drilling fire

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Fire broke out this morning on an offshore oil drilling platform, and at least 31 people drowned when a lifeboat capsized during evacuation of the workers, the state oil company reported.

Petrobras, the oil company, said in a statement that a gas leak at 3:30 a.m. (1:30 a.m. CDT) sparked two successive fires on the main drilling platform at the Enchova oil field.

Firefighting boats were still battling the blaze several hours later, the company said.

The deaths occurred when a lifeboat overturned in heavy seas while evacuating workers from the platform. The total number of people aboard the boat or the platform were not immediately known. "During the operation of abandoning, one of the lifeboats with a capacity of 55 people overturned due to the severe sea conditions and high waves, provoking the death of 31 persons," the Petrobras statement said.

The company press office said only two of the workers, both Brazilians, had been identified.

The platform, which produces 40,000 barrels of oil a day, is located on the southeast continental shelf near Macae, 130 miles east of Rio. After the fire broke out, the Enchova field's oil and gas wells were shut down to avoid further risk and ecological damage, Petrobras said.

Israeli planes attack Lebanon

TEL AVIV — Israel air force planes attacked a Palestinian guerrilla base near Bar Elias in eastern Lebanon's Bekaa Valley today, the Israeli military command announced.

The command said the target was a regional guerrilla command post that was a staging base for attacks on Israeli forces. All the planes returned safely to base, the military command said.

Israel says its policy is to strike at guerrillas whenever possible.

Military sources said the guerrilla base about three miles north of Bar Elias was used by the Syrian-backed breakaway faction,

Opinion

McDonald's isn't the one to blame

As piranha fish smell blood, certain lawyers sniff out money. A giant corporation is wounded and litigants swarm over it, looking to devour its assets. The McDonald's Corp. was an innocent victim of the San Ysidro, Calif., massacre. There is nothing it could have done to foresee the savage onslaught of James Huberty or protect its customers and employees. Yet McDonald's is being sued for damages. What is our society coming to when the victim is treated as the victimizer?

We don't know. But the courts must throw out unjust suits. The human plight of the survivors of the massacre remains. A fund has been set up to help the motherless children, the widowers, the wounded and their families. But if they take money from the fund, they may lose welfare benefits.

This bureaucratic Catch-22 is as outrageous as the suits against McDonald's. California Lt. Gov. Leo McCarthy pledged to get around it and we hope he succeeds. This is, after all, a very special case.

The legal minds should be turned to the job of helping the victims, not pitting human victim against corporate victim. The man who brought on this tragedy is dead. Likewise, his family should not suffer for his actions.

When the guilty is dead, the community must take responsibility for the living. The San Ysidro Family Survivors Fund was established for this purpose. And the caretakers of that fund must ensure that the money goes to the survivors. But the victims must take nothing from McDonald's or the criminal's family. They are not to blame.

Eating humble pike

Anyone who resents the fabled arrogance of the news media can take heart that this representative of the media, at least, has spent the last week being humbled. Not by press critics, citizens' groups or politicians, but by a small creature of nasty countenance, sharp teeth, tiny brain, slimy skin and cold blood — much like a journalist, now that I think of it — known as the northern pike.

The press may be able to destroy candidacies, determine the outcome of elections, even bring down presidents. But on the matters that really count, namely those settled with a line of monofilament, it has no more power than anyone else. All men, said Herbert Hoover, are equal before fish.

If the Pope regards himself as infallible, that's only because he doesn't fish. The apostle Peter, who gave up angling to become a "fisher of men," probably never presumed so much. To pursue aquatic quarry is to be reminded repeatedly of the limits of human intelligence. Fish have no outboard motors, barometers, lunar tables, or A.J. McClane on which to rely, yet they have no trouble eluding creatures who do.

Actually, as humiliations go, this one isn't bad. Some fishermen, I suspect, use a spinning rod purely as an excuse to get away from the city and onto a tranquil body of water, away from the assorted curses of modern life, and secretly care nothing about catching fish.

I am not one of those, but there are consolations even in fruitless expeditions. (Finding consolation in a reel whose gears have been stripped or a rod that has shredded under pressure, as I tried to do last week, is harder). A little communion with nature never hurt anyone.

Still, there are frustrations in spending countless hours casting in every possible spot using every conceivable technique and still coming home with an empty stringer. Being outwitted by a creature who is millions of years behind you on the evolutionary ladder is never satisfying.

One's own incompetence only becomes more obvious in light of the vast array of hardware available to any fisherman with an open wallet. A visit to a bait shop or sporting goods store is a tribute to the irrepressible inventiveness of free markets. Anyone who is relatively new to the sport, like me, finds himself spending a lot of time with his mouth open and his eyes wide, contemplating the astonishing proliferation of devices meant to facilitate (though not exactly simplify) the task of finding, hooking, landing and preparing fish.

A cane pole and a piece of string are no longer enough. Here, American technology ranks second to none. No self-respecting tackle box can be without a sonar depth gauge, an elaborate device for removing hooks, a floating flashlight, a special scaling board or a dozen other gadgets — not to mention the absolutely minimal collection of lures, flies, leaders, sinkers, bobbers and hooks required of every angler, which must number 10,000 or so.

There are always new discoveries. One night, having quit fishing (on this occasion with minnows, an affront to snobbish anglers) because of the hour, I explained to a canny old fisherman that it was too dark to see the bobbers. He revealed that he had recently come across a bobber with a small battery-powered light inside, for a mere nine dollars. Try buying that in Russia.

If a fisherman has any possible use for it, or in some cases no possible use for it, some eccentric tinkerer will make it. The fisherman, in turn, will buy it and either a) lend it to a friend, b) lose it in the weeds, or c) destroy it, each of which mandates a new purchase. As a result, fishing is an investment potentially as big as buying a seat on a commodities exchange.

Of course, it's also about as risky. Despite all the geniuses devising new ways to empower the angler, the quarry sometimes refuse to cooperate. The same Providence who created us in His own image also created fish, to keep us from getting too self-satisfied about that special status.

Thus, two valuable lessons for every member of the press: never underestimate the inventiveness of entrepreneurs left alone to seek profits, and remember that some mysteries are too deep for understanding.

CIA moons over Nicaragua

WASHINGTON — In the Central American hinterlands, it is sometimes difficult to distinguish the CIA's operatives from the Rev. Sun Myung Moon's disciples. They appear to be working in harness against the communist-tainted Sandinista regime in Nicaragua.

This troubles at least one Pentagon analyst, now stationed in Korea, who has warned the White House that the CIA-Moonie connection could cause possible political damage to President Reagan's reelection campaign.

The analyst's unofficial memo, titled "Potential Problems," has been slipped to my associate Donald Goldberg. "Current Moonie involvement with government officials, contractors and grantees (in Central America) could create a major scandal," the memo warns. "If their activities and role become public knowledge, it will unite both the left and the right in attacking the administration."

The memo continues: "If efforts are not taken to stop their growing influence and weed out current Moonie involvement in government, the president stands a good chance of being portrayed in the media as a poor, naive incompetent who is strong on ideology and weak on common sense."

"The likelihood of a reporter or a Democratic staff member piecing the total picture together is too great to be neglected. Any thought that this festering problem will go away if ignored is foolish."

The "total picture" of Moon's activities in Latin America is not clear. But there is no doubt that the Korean messiah — now in prison for income tax evasion — has established a solid presence in the region, with ties to right-wing groups and U.S.-supported guerrillas.

My associate Jon Lee Anderson reports from Central America that CAUSA International, Moon's political front, has representatives working in programs that help the CIA in its "contra" war against the Sandinista government.

CAUSA maintains a publicity office in Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, but its principal activities are in the field. CAUSA provides cash and other aid to Honduran-based Nicaraguan contras and Honduran right-wing political groups. Many anti-Sandinista guerrillas wear red CAUSA T-shirts, with a map of the world on them.

But CAUSA and its affiliate, the Refugee Relief Freedom Foundation, provide more than T-shirts to rebel groups. They also funnel supplies to refugee families in and near contra camps and pay for trips by rebel leaders to the United States.

One contra leader, Fernando "El Negro" Chamorro, told my associate that as early as 1981, CAUSA representatives sent him on an all-expenses-paid trip to the United States to try to unify the Nicaraguan exile groups.

The airlift of supplies to the rebels by Moon's Unification Church has escalated since Congress cut off CIA funding for the contras. The administration has been attempting to "privatize" its war against the Sandinistas and is apparently willing to work with Moon's people.

Footnote: A Unification Church spokeswoman denied that the church is engaged in any but religious activities in Central America.

MONDALE'S MISSION: For Walter Mondale, whose political career has been built on the fine art of coalition building, the supreme challenge is at hand. Only if he can maintain the precarious unity that he achieved at the San Francisco convention will he stand a chance of beating Ronald Reagan.

Mondale is pinning his hopes on little more than two dozen states that would give him a bare majority in the Electoral College. But even this narrowly focused campaign depends on keeping the disparate elements of the Democratic Party happy — or at least not so unhappy that they might vote for Reagan or stay home on Election Day.

These contentious constituencies — blacks, Jews, Hispanics, labor, women, Southern populists and blue-collar ethnics — have their own conflicting goals and demands. Mondale needs all of them to win, yet every time he appears to "tilt" toward one group, he risks alienating one or more of the rest.

Barely a handful of political leaders interviewed by my reporter Norman Kurz honestly feel that Mondale will carry their states, even with the dramatic boost he gave the ticket by picking Rep. Geraldine Ferraro as his running mate.

Westerners are convinced — and rightly so — that Mondale, who did poorly in the region's primaries, has all but written them off. Southerners expressed pessimism about the chances of two Northern liberals in an area that voted against one of its own, Jimmy Carter, in 1980.

Two Texans had faint hopes for the Democratic ticket in that key state. "If the election were held today, there's no doubt we'd lose Texas, and without Texas the Democrats can't win," said Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, adding loyally, "but we have a chance."

House Majority Leader Jim Wright said: "It's going to be uphill all the way. Ferraro would not have been my first choice. ... But when the quarterback calls the play, I go block downfield."

Billy Graham

God's place

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How important do you think religious activities ought to be in a person's life? I have always believed in God, although I guess you would have to say I'm not very religious, but I see some people who seem to make religion the center of their lives. — B.W.

DEAR B.W.: Let me rephrase your question slightly, so you see what the main issue really is. The real question is, "What place should God have in a person's life?" Many people are very busy in "religious activities" and yet never really put God in His rightful place.

If we understand who God is, then we will realize He should be the foundation of our lives. You see, God did not create you by accident — He put you here for a purpose. And the greatest joy and peace in life come from knowing why God put us here and then doing His will. You can spend your life doing things that really do not matter, or you can spend your life seeking to do God's will. Can you see that if you knew God's will, then the only logical thing would be to build your life around God and His will? In other words, God should have first place in your life — ahead of your plans, your desires, your ambitions.

What is God's will for you? First of all, His will is for you to accept His only Son, Jesus Christ, as your Lord and Savior. Jesus declared, "For my Father's will is that everyone who looks to the Son and believes in Him shall have eternal life" (John 6:40). Open your heart to Christ, and by faith ask Him to come in and cleanse you from your sin. Then make it your settled purpose to walk with Christ every day as you let His Word, the Bible, be your guide. God wants you to have a personal relationship with Him and make you part of His family. This can begin right now if you will receive Christ as your Lord and Savior. Then God will truly have His rightful place in your life.

The lighter side

Honest mistake

WEST MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — City officials unwittingly employed an unusual method to raise an extra $60,000 this year. They charged taxpayers at the wrong rate.

"It's very embarrassing," said city Councilman Martin Yelen.

Homeowners were supposed to be taxed at $4.45 per $1,000 of their home's assessed value. Instead, they were charged $5.12, the tentative rate later lowered by the City Council.

The mixup cost the owners of a $54,000 home $19, and cost the population of 6,500 a total of $60,000.

"This is a completely new situation to me," said Jeff Binkley, an official with the state Department of Revenue who frequently deals with cities who have exceeded the 15 percent yearly tax increase allowed by law.

In those cases, the excess taxes are applied to the following year's budget, Binkley said.

Today

Today is Thursday, Aug. 16, the 229th day of 1984. There are 137 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Aug. 16, 1977, Elvis Presley, the "king" of rock and roll, died at his home in Memphis, Tenn., at age 42.

On this date:

In 1777, American troops defeated a British-led Hessian force at what is now Bennington, Vt., during the Revolutionary War.

In 1812, Detroit fell to British and Indian forces in the War of 1812.

In 1861, President Abraham Lincoln prohibited the states of the Union from trading with the seceding states of the Confederacy.

In 1948, baseball legend Babe Ruth died in New York at age 53.

In 1960, Britain granted independence to the crown colony of Cyprus.

In 1969, the Woodstock Music and Art Fair opened in New York. The rock festival would last for three days and involve nearly 500,000 spectators.

Ten years ago: President Ford ordered all of President Nixon's White House tape recordings and other documents held in custody until legal issues involving Watergate were settled.

Five years ago: One day after his resignation, UN Ambassador Andrew Young told a news conference he did not foresee a polarization between the black and Jewish communities of the United States.

One year ago: The United States expressed "deep regrets" that the Army had hidden former Gestapo officer Klaus Barbie after World War II and employed him as a spy.

Today's birthdays: Former Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin is 71. Actor Fess Parker is 59. Actress Ann Blyth is 56. Sportscaster Frank Gifford and actor Robert Culp are 54. Ranch roundup to feature area ranches, cowboys

Harte-Hanks News Service
WICHITA FALLS — Every grandstand seat will be filled and spectators will be hanging on the fences this weekend when the fourth annual Texas Ranch Roundup unwinds.

And in the arena will be more than 200 real working cowboys, wagon bosses, cooks and ranch family members.

Although its organizers insist it is not a rodeo, the roundup does feature contests patterned after everyday work done on the big cattle spreads found only in Texas. Teams of cowboys will compete in saddle bronc riding, team roping, team branding, wild cow milking, team penning and a wild horse race.

Teamwork is the rule of the game at the roundup, which begins at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Wichita County Mounted Patrol Rodeo Arena. Contestants earn points for the ranches they represent. At the close of the final roundup Saturday night, judges will name the "Best Ranch in Texas," and single out the "Top Hand" among the cowboys and the "Top Horse."

Country and western dances will round out the roundup's events. Participants hail from 13 of the state's largest ranches, comprising an area of about 2.2 million acres or almost half the size of New Jersey. Proceeds from the roundup benefit three state charities: the North Texas Rehabilitation Center here, the West Texas Rehabilitation Center in Abilene and the West Texas Boys Ranch in San Angelo.

The Lewis Ranches of Clarendon return to defend the title of "Best Ranch."

In addition to the Lewis Ranches, other participating ranches are:

R.A. Brown Ranch of Throckmorton; Coldwater Cattle Co., Inc., of Amarillo; Cowan and Son Circle Bar Ranch of Seymour; Double U Hereford Ranch of Levelland; Moorhouse Ranch of Benjamin;

Pitchfork Land & Cattle Co. of Guthrie; Scharbauer Ranches of Midland; Renderbrook-Spade Ranch of Colorado City; Tongue River Ranch Corporation of Dumont; Burnett Ranches, Inc., of Iowa Park; Paducah and Border U Lazy S Ranch of Post; and the W.T. Waggoner Ranch of Vernon. Tickets may be obtained through Falls Distributing Co, 3811 Tarry, in Wichita Falls.

Pecos names new publisher

PECOS (AP) — The Pecos Enterprise will be under new hands effective Sept. 1 as Larry C. Jackson currently of Round Rock assumes the duties of publisher and editor, current publisher Ray M. Stafford said.

Jackson, 40, who has been editor and publisher of the Round Rock Leader for the past 12 years will replace Stafford, who has accepted the position of publisher for the Mercury Register in Oroville, Calif.

Jackson has served as director of the Southwest Texas Press Association for five years and is beginning his second term as a director of the Texas Press Association.

Prior to becoming editor of the Round Rock Leader, Jackson was city editor of the Arlington Daily News and the Laredo Times and was also managing editor of the Henderson Daily News.

"I've been very impressed with the Pecos Enterprise," Jackson said. "My goal will be to continue publishing the kind of newspaper that serves the community well."

Stafford, who has been at Pecos since May 1980, joins the Mercury Register on Sept. 1. Both newspapers are part of the Buckner News Alliance.

Study reveals Dyess AFB lost money

Harte-Hanks
 Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Taxpayers in the 17th congressional district paid more money to the federal government for defense spending than the district received in return for military contracts, salaries or bases, according to a Michigan research group.

The district, which includes Abilene's Dyess Air Force Base, was one of 19 Texas congressional districts that lost money for defense spending in 1983, the Employment Research Associates Study said this week.

Based on per capita income, the 17th congressional district lost a total of $192.3 million in defense tax dollars. The district paid $522.5 million in taxes that went toward defense spending, and received $330.2 million for military-related expenditures by the federal government, according to the research group.

Overall, Texas taxpayers paid $3.1 billion more in taxes for defense than the state received for its many military bases and personnel, as well as defense contracts, the study said. The loss was in spite of a third-place ranking, behind California and Virginia, in the amount of the government's defense-related spending within the state.

The Defense Department spent $12.3 billion in Texas, while taxpayers paid out $15.4 billion that went into the country's defense coffers.

"For one thing, there are a lot more people in Texas, so you're paying out a lot more money (for defense spending)," said Marion Anderson, director of the research group.

Butler speaks to ABWA about nursing career

Members of the American Business Women's Association Scenic Chapter were addressed by Molly Butler, superintendent of nurses at Big Spring State Hospital during the Aug. 7 meeting.

She spoke on "How and Why I Became a Nurse." She said her mother's desire to be a nurse influenced her decision to become one. Mrs. Butler took care of the stray animals and helped them to get well and always helped people. She enjoyed doing this and believes she received many rewards for this.

She worked one summer as a hospital aide and knew this was what she wanted to do for her life's work. She received a scholarship at Memorial Hospital in Houston.

After graduation and beginning her career, she put her husband through school. She has worked as a school nurse, with Senior Citizens Center and polio patients.

It has been a very rewarding career, the desire is still there, she said. She has worked for the hospital 17 years.

Pearly Mason and Opal Jones presented the vocational talk. They work with Tri-Chem and have recently returned from a Tri-Chem convention at Reno, Nev.

Lou Nutall and Betty Condry were guests. The next meeting will be at the La Posado Restaurant, Sept. 4.

Dear Abby

Has office affair lost its early promise?

DEAR ABBY: Until the first of the year, I worked as a secretary to a very sweet man, several years older than myself. He called me his wife didn't appreciate him and he found me very comforting to talk to. One thing led to another, and we became intimate.

His wife found out about us and he laid me off, but continued seeing me whenever he could. He called me every day and we'd talk on the phone. He continued my salary although I was no longer working for him, and he also paid off all my debts and made me many promises.

When he and his wife went on a vacation, he arranged for me to stay in a motel nearby so he could spend some time with me. Well, his wife must have had him tailed because she found out about it, and he told me we'd have to "cool it" for a while.

His telephone calls have been tapering off and he seldom gets away to see me anymore. Things are not like they used to be, and I'm beginning to worry. He made many promises.

Do I have any legal rights? This is the second time this has happened to me with a married man.

FOOLED AGAIN

DEAR FOOLED: Since I am not a lawyer, I'm not qualified to tell you what your legal rights are, but if I may offer a bit of advice: Stay away from married men! As my sainted father used to say, "Every once in a while the hog kills the butcher, but most of the time, the butcher kills the hog."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FEELS FOOLISH FOR ASKING": Foolish? No way. Take it from the sage and quotable Malcolm Forbes, who said: "One who never asks either knows everything — or nothing."

Factory seconds, irregulars can save consumers dollars

COLLEGE STATION — Careful shopping for seconds and irregulars can save consumers money, if they know how to look for signs of quality, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

Many manufacturers set standards for their products, says Bonnie L. Piernot. When those standards aren't met, they don't discard the items. Instead, manufacturers label the imperfect product a "second" or an "irregular" and direct stores to sell it below regular retail price, she said.

A factory irregular is usually only slightly below the manufacturer's standards, says the home economist. Irregular stockings, for example, may be not quite standard size. Irregular towels may be not quite perfect in color or weave and there may be a slight oil spot on an irregular shirt.

"Often you won't be able to spot the defect in a factory irregular," says Piernot. In general, you're more likely to find damaged goods among products labeled as seconds, she said. A second is often broken, torn or poorly made and the defect is easily identified.

But it can pay to carefully examine seconds, she said, because sometimes they are perfect. Occasionally a company wants to clear out some goods at sale prices without having to lower prices on similar items. So the company calls the goods seconds and sells them at a lower price.

To get irregulars or seconds that meet their needs, consumers should determine the marks of quality for the product they're buying, she said.

Whether the product is a kitchen appliance, sweater or carpet, there are specific indicators of quality that can guide the purchase decision. Reading about the product in consumer books or magazines and comparison shopping in person or by catalog can help consumers discern these quality features.

H&R Block To Offer Tax School In Big Spring

Thousands of people are saving money at tax time and earning money in their spare time as income tax preparers.

H&R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, is offering a basic income tax course starting September 6th with morning and evening classes available.

During the 14 week course, experienced Block personnel will teach students all phases of income tax preparation including actual experience in preparing individual returns. Instruction topics include current tax laws and tax theory and their application as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is classroom lecture and practice problems on each subject. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both practical and challenging and will also be able to use their new skills directly to save money on their own tax returns.

Anyone may enroll. There are no restrictions or qualifications. Courses are ideally suited for housewives, retired persons, teachers, persons wanting to increase their tax knowledge or anyone who files a tax return.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H&R Block.

The modest course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for completion of the school. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course.

Registration forms and a brochure for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting the H&R Block office at: 1307 E. 8th, Odessa or telephone collect 1-332-7801.

Dr. Donohue

Weakened heart

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: The doctor says I suffer from congestive heart failure, but that even though I am now 55 I can be sure to live 10 to 15 years more. Do you agree? He has told me to keep my blood pressure at about 130-80, take digitalis daily, also water pills, and to get a sodium-free diet of 1,200 calories to maintain my weight. — A.V.J.

Congestive heart failure is a confusing term. It certainly is a matter of more than passing concern, but it doesn't have to be quite so ominous as it sounds. It would seem to mean that the heart is ready to give out totally. Actually, all it means is that the heart has become weak and isn't circulating blood throughout the body efficiently. That's what is meant by "failure."

It's not a special kind of heart disease, but a condition that causes a constellation of symptoms related to the decreased circulation. Fluid stays in the lungs and tissues. That congestion produces shortness of breath and swelling. Ankles may swell and the person may be fatigued.

The better side of this coin is that if you can remove the cause of the problem or treat it successfully you can live a long time. You can get on with life and live for years, or decades. Contributors to congestive heart failure include uncontrolled high blood pressure, damaged heart valves, past heart attacks, etc.

You have good advice. It appears you are launching a program to help yourself. You're keeping your blood pressure low, watching your weight, eliminating sodium and taking your medicine. I have no reason to doubt your doctor's claims.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

TODAY IS NOT YESTERDAY; ALL THINGS CHANGE

To change and to improve are two different things and to accomplish anything noteworthy both must occur simultaneously.

Sometimes the significant changes do not shout out loud, but are subtle changes, taking that which is good to that which is great, that which is ordinary to that which is extraordinary.

For two days only during our Grand Opening let us introduce you to the extraordinary with 15% off on all store merchandise.

j. w. Chard'e Brings Flair To WT Fashion

The store at 125 East Third Street has been a fashion mecca in West Texas for over 50 years. Now called j. w. Chard'e, this unusual store not only continues to uphold the it-could-only-happen-in-Texas image, but has added new stars to its Stetson.

Probably no specialty store west of Dallas' Neiman-Marcus offers the luxurious surroundings, high fashion and personal service you'll find at j. w. Chard'e. Although famous for its expensive attire, j. w. Chard'e carries a complete price range.

Remember the era when shopping for clothes was a pleasure? The salesperson remembered your name and taste and favorite color. Dressing rooms were beautifully appointed with large 3-way mirrors. The alteration lady came at the touch of a button, and proper fitting was complimentary. There was a sitting area where a gentleman could wait in comfort to view his lady's selections. Well, these things have never gone out of style at j. w. Chard'e.

Like a vein of gold flowing in the desert, the downtown store brings to Big Spring the finest names in fashion: St. John, Oscar de la Renta, Victor Costa, Albert Nippon, Kasper, Soo Young Lee, UMI Collection by Anne Crimmins, Dalton. Custom orders can be arranged.

Joyce Wash, owner of the specialty store, has added many new ideas of her own, which will be introduced to the public at the grand opening Friday and Saturday. She has opened a fine shoe department, featuring designs by Ferragamo, hand-lasted from hand-tanned leathers, in a range of sizes including hard-to-find. Handbags by Miguel Hernandez and Moskowitz can be found in coordinated skins. The new millinery department is the only one in Big Spring.

Mrs. Wash has computerized the business operations, enabling her to keep instantaneous track of merchandise in stock and on order, and allowing her to spend more time on the fashion floor.

To celebrate the opening she has arranged a showing of fine furs — prices $500 to $12,000 — unprecedented in this area. And an open house to honor two longtime saleswomen whose fashion experience is legendary — Roberta Shive, 30 years, and Janice Sursky, 20 years, with the store.

The Wash family is active in the Big Spring community. Charles V. Wash, Forsan Oil, is a member of the board of the Chamber of Commerce. Joyce is in charge of the annual Chamber banquet. Their children are Charla Lewis, Debbie Rutherford, Chad Wash and Renee King of Midland.

The management and staff at j. w. Chard'e extend a personal invitation to everyone in this area to come in during the open house and get acquainted. ADV.

Winners were announced recently at the Figure 7 Tennis Tournament where Rocky Tubbs came away with two first places in the junior high boys division. Tubbs won the singles competition and teamed with Eric McKinney to win in doubles.

Danette Holdamps captured the high school girls singles title while Richard Gibson won men's singles and Harry Jordan and Vicky Reher won the mixed doubles championship.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kubicki, McDonald's owner and operators in Midland and Big Spring recently visited the McDonald's Olympic Swim Stadium in LA, site of all swimming events for the Olympics.

Thanks to people like the Kubickis and all the others in the McDonald's chain the $4-million stadium is one of the best in the world and bears the names of 1,700 McDonald's worldwide franchisees which funded the pool's construction.

The state-of-the-art McDonald's Swim Stadium is the only commercial pool to awarded a gold medal in the National Spa and Pool Institute's 1984 international competition.

Now for some shooting news: The Howard County Shooting Sports fared well at recent competitions in Stanton and Midland recently.

At Stanton, Shon Parker won the senior division high-over-all with a total of 144. Greg Newton won the high-overall in the junior division. In all, Howard County brought back nine trophies and 20 ribbons.

At Midland, Parker again won the high-overall title. He and Todd McKinney won the high-overall two-man competition while Newton and Kerry Fryar won the high-overall junior two-man.

HC recorded 11 firsts and 15 second place finishes at the meet.

In news from the fishing report: Other species pushed striped bass off center stage at Lake E.V. Spence last weekend.

There were several reports of good black bass, white bass, along with some catfish.

At lake J.H. Thomas, catfish appeared to be the most popular catch.

Fishing out of Paint Creek Marina, Luther Cope of Seminole came in with 218 white bass in six days of fishing. Big Springer Johnny Walker had other ideas of his own as he reeled in an 18-pound catfish.

Reports from Thomas indicate that catfish are taking all types of bait and black bass are biting along rocks in deep water. Crappie fishing is said to be fair.

There was also some bad news from Thomas. A fire early Thursday morning destroyed the Lake Thomas Lodge, which had been existence since the opening of the lake in 1954.

Texas League Little League officials have been making large steps toward raising money to purchase lights for the park. Already $3,100 has been raised for the project which will cost the Texas League $7,500. President Jose Martinez and his staff would like to thank all business and individuals who have donated money to the cause. Anyone wishing to make donations may do so through the Big Spring First National Bank.

The Big Spring area has another female hoopster headed to the ranks of college basketball.

Belinda Duke, Greenwood's "All-Everything" guard, has recently inked a scholarship agreement with my old alma mater, Cisco Junior College.

The 5-6 All-State Guard led Greenwood to a second place finish at the regional tourney, losing to eventual state champion Nazareth. Duke led the Rangerettes in scoring at 15 points per game.

Speaking of poise: It's going to take some poise and perfect timing next weekend, Aug. 24-26 when the Cotton Chippers head for Dallas and regional fastpitch tournament action.

Riding on the outcome, namely a championship, is a chance to advance to nationals. On Saturday, Aug. 25, however second baseman Mark Ritchey is due to get married and four other Chippers are among the wedding party.

Now the hitch (no pun intended): The wedding is scheduled to take place in Kerrville. Pull out your road maps and figure the distance. There may be a new land-speed record set in the process.

COUGAR SHUFFLE — Members of the Klondike Cougars varsity go through drills earlier this week as non-contact work was the order of the day for the 7A team. Friday will be the first day in pads for most Class 4A and under teams across the area and state.

Rose goes home to dual role

CINCINNATI (AP) — Visions of the Big Red Machine of the 1970s were dancing in the minds of the Cincinnati Reds owners when they decided to hire Pete Rose as a player-manager for the struggling ball club.

"He and Tony Perez remind the people of the times when the Reds were big winners," said Marge Schott, a minority shareholder, who believes the fans will turn out for the Cincinnati native despite the team's next-to-last position in the National League West.

"Pete is history. If he gets close to the record (Ty Cobb's all-time career hit record), the people will pack the stadium," Schott said. "The man on the street here loves him. They are the ones who buy the tickets. They are going to go bonkers over Pete coming back."

Reds spokesman Jim Ferguson said Wednesday in St. Louis that Rose had been acquired as a player from the Montreal Expos and would replace Manager Vern Rapp starting Friday night when the Reds host the Chicago Cubs. The Reds, who were off today following an 11-inning, 3-2 victory over St. Louis in Rapp's final game, have to move someone to make room for Rose on the roster.

Ferguson said Rose, who had not been a regular with the Expos, would be primarily a manager but would be available for some games and as a pinch hitter. Rose, who earlier Wednesday in San Francisco denied he was taking the job, could not be reached for comment early today. The Reds scheduled a news conference for 3 p.m. CST.

The announcement was well received by veteran players. Team captain and shortstop Dave Concepcion, who played with Rose, said: "Pete will be a good manager and he will make a difference in the attitude here. He's a great guy to deal with and he was a great player. If he has to be hard with the players, he can be. He's got the ability and he knows the game."

Second baseman Ron Oester, another Cincinnati native who grew up watching Rose, added: "If anybody can motivate this team, Pete can. I can tell you this, he won't put up with anything less than an all-out performance."

Tony Perez, another member of the Reds powerhouse teams of the 1970s, returned to Cincinnati prior to the 1984 season but never expected to be playing for his long-time friend.

"He will help the attitude here," Perez said. "The attitude has not been bad but it hasn't been what it should be."

Rose left Cincinnati as a free agent in a wage dispute with former Reds President Dick

PETE ROSE

Wagner. He went to Philadelphia, where the Phillies won National League pennants in 1980 and 1983.

The 43-year-old Rose had difficulty finding a club to play with this year before he was signed by Montreal. But he was benched when the Expos acquired first baseman Dan Driessen from Cincinnati. The Reds have not said who will be sent to Montreal to complete the deal.

Newest Oiler coach has casual approach

SAN ANGELO, Texas (AP) — He glides silently around the practice field, his face bringing to mind actor Jack Nicholson and his relaxed manner reminiscent of Bum Phillips.

Hugh Campbell rarely raises his voice on the practice field, but when the new Houston Oilers coach speaks in a low, raspy voice that adds to the Nicholasque impression, the Oilers stop and listen.

They are eager to learn more about their new leader — what to expect from him and what he expects of them.

Could this quiet, unassuming man be the same coach who compiled a Canadian Football League record .773 winning percentage and led the Edmonton Eskimos to five Grey Cup trophies in six years?

Can he recharge a team that has won only three games in two years and had one of the worst defenses in the National Football League last year?

Campbell, one of four first-year coaches in the NFL, has been applauded for eliminating nightly curfew and for the relaxed approach he takes to conducting preseason workouts on the Angelo State University campus.

But they still wonder, "What's this guy like?"

"Most head coaches come out the first day and establish a perimeter and establish the ground rules," said linebacker Gregg Bingham, who is playing under his sixth head coach. "But everybody is treading a little lightly right now, because they don't know whether he's pitching or catching or on first or second."

Running back Earl Campbell says he likes the new coach, but that he's still adjusting.

"He's a different guy," the running back said. "He's a lot like Bum Phillips on the field except that Bum always went up in the tower and hollered down at you, like, 'Hey, Campbell, you can't run like that' and you'd say to yourself 'Hey, God's talking to me.'"

But Campbell the coach is even more out of sight down on the field, he said.

"With Coach Campbell, he never says anything and you never know when he's looking at you," Earl

Campbell said. "Every once in awhile, he'll say 'Way to run' and you'll say, 'Hey, that's our coach.'"

Several players have compared Campbell's style to that of Phillips, fired as Oilers head coach after the 1980 season. But where Phillips would have done a rowdy country-western two-step dance, Campbell is all soft-shoe.

At a recent barbecue honoring the team at a nearby ranch, townspeople had a difficult time recognizing the new head coach until he was introduced.

Campbell, 42, had slipped quietly to the edge of the crowd, much like he does in workouts, and sat down alone on a bale of hay far away from the makeshift stage.

"At our mini-camp, I kept mistaking him for someone else because he didn't look any older than Ted Thompson," said Earl Campbell, referring to the Oilers' prematurely gray linebacker.

Players may not know what Campbell is thinking or where he'll show up next, but veterans have cheered his decision to drop curfew.

"He's treating us like men now," linebacker Robert Brazile said. "We could mess it all up, but it's up to us. I think the atmosphere is about the same as when Bum was here. When ball players are happy, you don't mind going all out."

"When you are unhappy, you worry about the little things that could distract you from doing your best."

Campbell's coaching style has been described as "laid back."

"I don't really know what laid back is," Campbell said. "My philosophy is that my assistant coaches were hired as specialists and I believe in letting them do their jobs."

Warren Moon, who quarterbacked six of Campbell's Edmonton teams, is besieged daily by fans for autographs and by players asking about the new coach.

"I get it (from the players) everyday," Moon said. "I tell them he's not going to change much from the way he is now, even throughout the season."

Sutton primed for PGA chase

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Hal Sutton opens defense of his title in the PGA National Championship with renewed enthusiasm and a rejuvenated game.

"I've got my game worked out," Sutton said. "I'm ready to play this week. I'm enthusiastic. I can hardly wait to get started."

That attitude represents a sharp turnaround for Sutton, the 1983 Player of the Year who has had an indifferent season, hasn't won and has not been a factor in the major championships.

"There were a lot of demands on my time," said Sutton, who is involved in the oil and real estate business. "I didn't have the time to practice like I should."

But he changed that in the last month.

"Except for two rounds at the British Open (he missed the cut), I haven't played in five weeks," he said. "I've been working on my game."

"Most people thought it was my putting that was the problem. It wasn't. The problem was my tee-to-green game. I've worked it out."

Sutton and other major figures agreed that the ability to keep the ball in the fairway and away from the deep, punishing rough, will be the critical factor in this chase for $700,000 in total prizes.

"It's a ball-strikers course," Sutton said. "You have to look at people like Tom Kite, Bruce Lietzke and Hale Irwin — and Lee Trevino," he said. "Trevino is playing very well. He could be a factor here."

Tom Watson, who needs only this title to join Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Ben Hogan and Gene Sarazen as the men who have made career sweeps of the Big Four events, also pointed to the 44-year-old Trevino as a force to be reckoned with.

"It is absolutely essential to keep it in the fairway. And it's a fader's golf course, so you have to go with a guy like Trevino," said Watson.

"And," he added, there's Peter Jacobsen and Calvin Peete, guys who keep it in the fairway. Those are the guys you have to look at."

As for himself, said Watson, "I have to have a very good week off the tee to have a chance to win." He's won three times this season and been the runner-up in both the British Open and Masters.

Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday will be televised nationally by ABC.

GEARING UP — Big Spring assistant football coach Mike Sharp issues shoes, socks and shorts to Paul Sotelo Wednesday. The Steers will begin workouts, as will all 5A teams across the state, Monday, Aug. 20. A scrimmage at Memorial Stadium is slated for Friday, Aug. 24.

New recruits keep HC's San Antonio connection open

As was the case during the 1984 season when they swept to a State Juco Baseball Tournament berth, the Howard College Hawks will again have a sizable San Antonio delegation on the roster in light of recent signings.

Steven Valdez starred for private school St. Gerard's for three years. He was All-State during his sophomore and senior seasons and All-District all three years. Valdez's average was .458 with 32 RBI and 10 stolen bases and seven homeruns in 1984.

Richard Carroll from MacArthur is an outfielder who lettered two years for the Brahmas. The right-handed Carroll batted .389 and had 25 RBI along with five homeruns.

Both parties comment on Randy White

DALLAS (AP) — Even though the Dallas Cowboys say they are offering to make All-Pro Randy White the highest paid defensive lineman in the National Football League, agent Howard Slusher says White will sit out the entire season if the team doesn't raise its offer, the Dallas Times Herald reported today.

Both Slusher and Cowboys President Tex Schramm broke their month-long silence on White's contract feud Wednesday night.

White has missed the Cowboys' entire training camp while Slusher has been negotiating a new contract. White has only a $330,000 option year left on his contract, and reportedly is asking for more than $1.2 million.

Schramm said the Cowboys' offer would make White the highest paid defensive lineman in the NFL, even higher than New York Jet Mark Gastineau, who reportedly will make more than $750,000 a year.

"Our offer is outstanding," Schramm said. "There is no doubt that he would be the highest paid defensive lineman. That is just the way we fell about Randy White."

Slusher would not reveal specific figures, but the Times Herald said the $1.2 million figure cited by a source would make White the highest paid player in NFL history.

Both Schramm and Slusher said they have rejected two proposals from each other and that negotiations have reached a lull.

"What negotiations?" Slusher said. "We haven't talked since Aug. 6. The last contact was made by me. And they haven't returned my phone call."

Schramm disputed that, saying "Howard Slusher is notorious for not returning phone calls."

Schramm said Slusher told the Cowboys negotiator, Marshall Simmons, three weeks ago that "if he had his way, Randy White would sit out the entire season."

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon you will be able to arrange helpful undertakings, so make decisions then, for the afternoon and evening find you able to get into the nitty gritty details of making them work.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can plan your activities early in detail and later carry them out most advantageously.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Arrange confidentially whatever is necessary to gain your personal aims and then all goes well for you. Drive most carefully.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Come to a decision about that private wish you have and then act upon it confidentially and gain it.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Be certain to handle public affairs intelligently and gain the approval of higher-ups.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You have been studying plans that need right decision now, and later you can gain the help of a bigwig. Listen carefully.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you do something important for the one you love, you can then get into activities that are progressive and get good results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You can reach a decision on a new plan with partners early and then get right down to the work that needs to be done by you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Early get that pressing work behind you so that later you can be with outside partners so you can plan the future more wisely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get your finest talent across to bigwigs so that you can become more successful. Then get busy with the work ahead of you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Carry through with promises you made so that you improve conditions for kin, then later go out together for amusement.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Talk over your plans with partners so that you can produce more, and later gain the assistance of kin for some important project.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Find a better way of putting your assets to work so that you can command a greater income in the days ahead.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have much ability at investigative work and can come up with the right answers, especially with anything connected with the modern world, and should have as fine an education as possible so that upon reaching adulthood much success can be possible.

TDC inmate stabbed to death

HUNTSVILLE (AP) — A 24-year-old inmate at the Texas Department of Corrections Ellis II unit was stabbed to death early today, TDC officials said. Melvin Douglas, serving a 15-year term for aggravated robbery in Harris County, was dead on arrival at Huntsville Memorial Hospital, spokesman Phil Guthrie said.

Douglas becomes the 10th fatality at a Texas prison this year, surpassing the nine homicides in the state corrections system for all of 1983. All of this year's victims have died in stabbing incidents.

Guthrie said Douglas was stabbed three times in the chest with a homemade knife as cells were opened this morning for breakfast.

An inmate suspected in the slaying was in custody and the case has been referred to the Walker County Sheriff's Department for investigation, Guthrie said.

Also today, Guthrie said a vocational nurse held at knifepoint Aug. 1 at the TDC Ramsey II Unit says she was raped during the hostage incident. The 27-year-old nurse, who was also a guard at the prison, originally told authorities she was not injured but later said she had been raped.

TDC Director Ray Procnier negotiated with convicted rapist Richard Joseph Sisto for five hours, before he was able to convince the inmate to give up his hostage and surrender.

Meanwhile, a 21-year-old unidentified inmate at the Darrington Unit near Rosharon was undergoing surgery today after he was stabbed several times in the back. The incident, about 1:30 a.m., was the latest in a series of stabbings and assaults in the nation's second-largest prison.

The outbreak has prompted authorities to beef up security and scour prisons for weapons.

At the Ramsey II Unit on Wednesday, an inmate, apparently upset that his dormitory was being searched for weapons, smashed a fluorescent light in a guard's face and then attacked a lawyer who was talking with other prisoners, authorities said.

Arthur Williams, 28, serving a 30-year sentence for a murder conviction in Delta County, was placed in an isolation cell pending filing of charges, Guthrie said.

He said TDC guard Ronald Wright, 30, was hit in the face with the light Wednesday morning as he entered a dormitory that had just been searched for weapons.

Shortly after Williams was placed in isolation, he attacked attorney Jim Brady, who had been interviewing other prisoners in the wing, Guthrie said. As the lawyer walked past the cell, Williams grabbed Brady's necktie, pulled him against the steel bars and slapped his face several times, Guthrie said.

A guard standing nearby freed Brady by cutting his tie, Guthrie said.

"This guy wanted to complain about the search going on in his dormitory and that was when he smashed the fluorescent light across the guard's face," Brady said. "From now on, I will seriously consider wearing clip-on ties," he said.

Both Wright and Brady were treated for facial injuries at the prison infirmary and released.

Officials said a special team would continue to search the dormitory for weapons. On Wednesday, officials reported finding 25 weapons, including scissors, razor blades, nails and home-made knives.
