How's that? Scenic

Q. Has Scenic Mountain always been referred to by that name?

A. The hill south of town where the state park is located was not known as Scenic Mountain until a road was built around its rim in 1930. Before that it was called Big Spring Mountain or Bead Mountain, in reference to Indian artifacts that once littered the point.

Calendar: Holiday

TODAY

• The Northside Community Center is having a garage sale to benefit the center at 1801 DuQuoin from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. The center is also accepting donations. Call Jessie at 263-7103 or the community center at 263-2673.

Regis Hairstylists in the Big Spring Mall will sponsor the annual cut-a-thon for Muscular Dystrophy from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the mall. The cost for the haircuts will be $7, he said. All proceeds from the fund raiser will go to the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon drive on Labor Day.

TUESDAY

• VFW Post 2013 and its auxiliary will meet at 7:30 at the post home on Driver Road.
• Soccer registration forms are due at the YMCA before 5 p.m. Coaches will meet at 7:15 p.m. at the YMCA.

Outside: Hot

Highs in the lower 90s are forecast with southeasterly winds, 10 to 20 miles per hour. Look for partly cloudy skies and a 20 percent chance of rain. By tonight, lows should fall into the upper 60s.

Off the wall: Birthdays

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP) — What are the odds of a woman giving birth to her first two children on her birthday?

About one in 133,225, according to Jim Standley of the Hastings College mathematics department.

But that long shot came through at St. Francis Medical Center in Grand Island on Tuesday. At 7:48 p.m. Regina Chandler gave birth to a 6-pound, 8-ounce daughter, Andrea. Three years earlier to the day, she gave birth to another daughter, Deborah.

The Chandlers' family doctor had predicted the baby would be born Sept. 22. So when Andrea arrived 3 weeks early, Mrs. Chandler was surprised.

But not too surprised. Her husband, David, had been teasing her all summer, saying the baby would be born on her birthday.

Late news Exiles return

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Six left-wing exiles, including a former Cabinet minister, returned to Chile Saturday in defiance of a ban by the military regime, but police barred them from leaving the plane.

The Air France jetliner that brought them here from Buenos Aires, Argentina, in the afternoon remained parked at a far end of the Santiago airport with the six still inside.

The men were exiled after the death of President Salvador Allende, who was ousted in a September 1973 coup led by the army commander, Gen. Augusto Pinochet.

PRESIDENT REAGAN

Reagan's radio talk fires labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan on Saturday used the Labor Day holiday to proclaim the resurging economy "a hopeful thumbs-up" sign for American workers, while the head of the AFL-CIO accused him of seeking "to undermine and weaken the trade union movement."

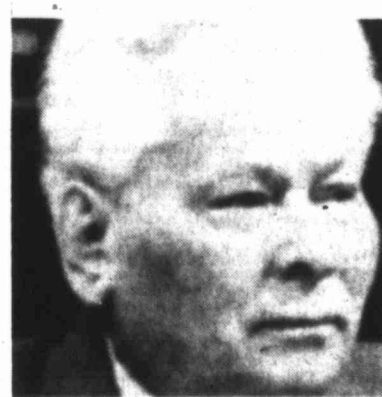

"The outlook on Labor Day weekend 1984 is for a continuation of strong, steady growth, more jobs and low inflation," Reagan said in his weekly radio address, paid for by his re-election committee.

AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland, used his traditional Labor Day radio address to urge Mondale's election as president. He said "the trade union movement stood against Ronald Reagan and for common sense the first time around (in 1980), and we are prepared for Act Two."

Kirkland acknowledged that the Republican administration has brought inflation to its lowest ebb in years. But he argued that Reagan did this "in ways that wounded the middle class ... What he eliminated was millions of jobs. ... He gave us the most massive unemployment since the Great Depression."

Civilian unemployment stood at 7.5 percent of the labor force when Reagan took office in January 1981. It soared to a post-Depression record rate of 10.7 percent in November 1982, during the depths of a long recession, but has since

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers members overwhelmingly approved strike authorizations against General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co., which offered no raises in contract proposals, union officials said Saturday.

Employees of both companies gave the go-ahead to strike by better than 90 percent margins, the UAW said in a statement.

GM earned $3.73 billion last year and Ford earned $1.87 billion. Both could nearly double those records this year, and union members want a bigger share of those profits.

Voting was completed last week at both companies, said UAW vice presidents Stephen Yokich, the union's top bargainer at Ford, and Donald Ephlin, its top bargainer at GM.

Yokich said in the statement that union members "know that they have widespread support from the American public for their overall bargaining goals of keeping auto jobs in this country, coupled with reasonable wage and benefit gains."

Said Ephlin, "Our membership has sent a clear message." The UAW has its richest strike fund ever, $563 million.

The current contracts expire Sept. 14. Officials had announced Friday that bargaining would continue over the Labor Day weekend.

Chief GM bargainer Alfred Warren said that "by Monday night, we hoped to have out of the way" some minor items in the contract.

UAW President Owen Bieber appeared at the bargaining table last week for the first time since the talks' ceremonial opening session to warn the auto companies that they should throw out their proposals and "start all over."

Neither GM nor Ford offered to raise their blue-collar workers' base pay, although GM offered $900 in lump-sum payments over two years to its 350,000 UAW workers.

The companies said they want the base wage frozen. While willing to start cost-of-living payments at the present $3.04, they want increases to be granted more slowly than the union demanded.

The union asked that the present GM base wage of $9.63 an hour and cost-of-living adjustment payments of $3.04 per hour be combined in a base wage of $12.67.

Soviet boss may be seriously ill

MOSCOW (AP) — The last time Soviet leader Konstantin Chernenko was seen in public was July 13. Two days later, according to the Soviet news agency Tass, he left Moscow for a vacation.

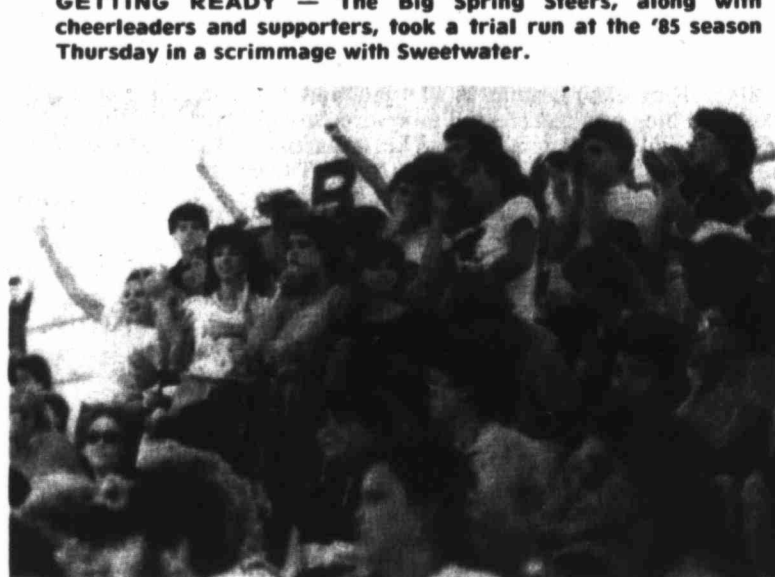

He has not been seen in public since and speculation is growing about the health of the 72-year-old Kremlin chief. Chernenko previously had been reported to be

Many go without health insurance

Texas Poll
More than one-eighth of the people represented by Texas Poll respondents don't have medical insurance.

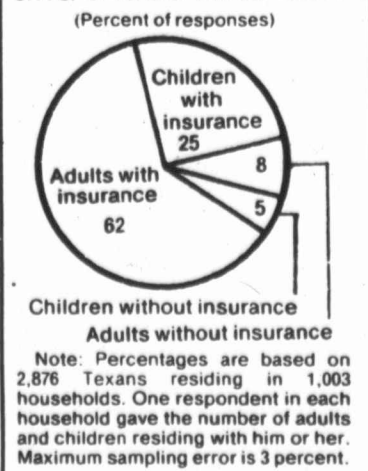

The total number of people in the respondents' homes was 2,876; more than 13 percent of this total are uninsured. Eleven percent of the adults and 5 percent of the children represented by the respondents are not covered.

The poll contacted 1,003 Texas homes; 15 percent of the respondents said that at least one person in the household wasn't insured. Uninsured people were more likely to be found in homes in which the respondent was Hispanic, Catholic, unemployed or low-income.

More than 10 percent of the respondents said someone in their family had lost or dropped medical insurance recently. Most of these uninsured had no choice: 16 percent of them said they had to drop because of cost, and 38 percent dropped because they left or lost a job with a group policy.

Health care plan favored in Texas

Texans overwhelmingly support the idea of free or reduced-cost hospital care for poor people, according to a Texas Poll released today.

More than three-quarters, 79 percent, of the most recent poll's respondents said they would support free or low-cost hospitalization for indigents. Another 12 percent opposed the idea; the rest had no opinion.

The poll also found that most Texans have health insurance, that most have had no problems in getting health care, but that the cost of health care is a concern among a substantial minority.

The Texas Poll is a quarterly nonpartisan survey of public opinion throughout the state. Some of the summer poll's questions, dealing with health care and costs, were commissioned by the state's Task Force on Indigent Health Care.

The task force was appointed to study how changes in the state's health-care system will affect the

Weather

Rain pounds E. Texas

By The Associated Press
Heavy thundershowers pounded Southeast Texas Saturday while other parts of Texas were cooler and expected to stay that way the remainder of the Labor Day weekend.

Showers continued to stretch over the eastern fringes of the state on Saturday, producing heavy thundershowers from north of Houston to the coast.

The cloudy skies and scattered showers brought welcome relief from dry 100-degree weather that dominated the state during the month of August.

Temperatures across Texas Saturday ranged from the upper 80s to the middle 90s.

The National Weather Service predicted an increase in showers over South Texas through Labor Day.

Widely scattered showers and thundershowers are expected over West and North Texas through Monday.

It will be a little cooler in northern regions and in the Panhandle Sunday. Lows will be in the 50s and 60s, rising to the mid 70s in the Big Bend.

High temperatures across the state will range from the middle 80s to near 104 degrees in extreme southern regions.

Cooler weather settled into the central Plains on Saturday but the central Mississippi Valley faced more blistering heat.

A cold front and showers brought early afternoon temperatures only in the 50s to the upper Midwest. And showers were scattered from the central Rockies through the northern Plains and into the Great Lakes region and the Ohio Valley.

By contrast, St. Louis, Mo., reached 100 degrees by 3 p.m. EDT and the rest of Missouri, southern Illinois and eastern Kansas were in the upper 90s.

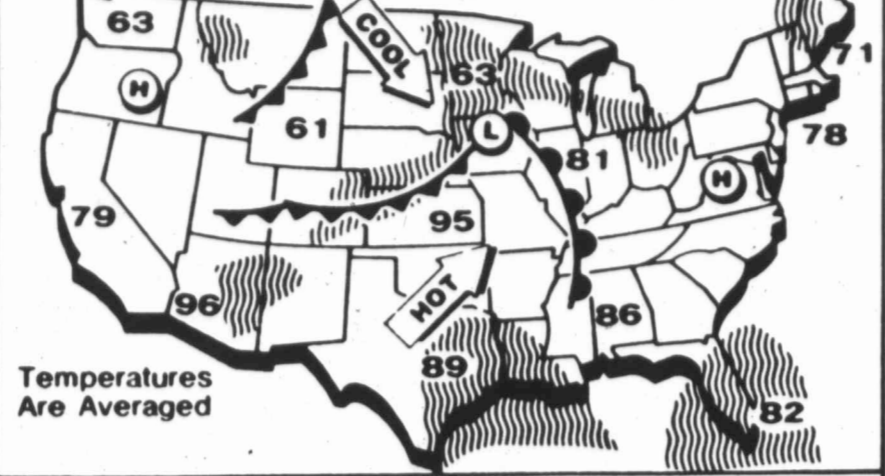

Elsewhere, a few thundershowers developed along the Gulf Coast.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 p.m. EDT ranged from 54 degrees at Duluth and International Falls, Minn., to 102 degrees at Palm Springs, Calif. The low for the day was 29 degrees at Truckee, Calif.

2 injured in 2 wrecks

Police investigated two major accidents Friday afternoon. Two people injured in the collisions later were treated and released, two hospital spokesmen said.

Jackie Tibbets, 32, of 2401 Scurry was arrested on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and failure to yield right of way in an accident on 4th and Aylford, reports said.

The driver of the other vehicle, Marie Lowmes of 1609 Canary, was transferred to Malone-Hogan Hospital by Shaffer Ambulance Service, reports said.

A cyclist was injured in a car-bicycle collision at 3rd and Lancaster was taken to Cowper Clinic and Hospital, according to reports. The injured person was not named in the police report. The collision occurred at 3:15 p.m.

In other police reports:

Police at 8:42 p.m. arrested Timothy John Wilbur, 20, of Fort Hood on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and speeding 113 mph in a 55 mph zone, reports said. He was transferred to county at 9:05 a.m. Saturday, reports said.

Bobby F. Boyd of 1000 E. 20th told police at 11:37 p.m. Friday someone took his 1981 Jeep, reports said. The Jeep was valued at $8,000, reports said.

Man arrested on pot charge

Milton (Emeterio) Lozano, 36, of 1500 11th Place was transferred to the county jail at 5:30 p.m. Friday on charges of delivery of marijuana and a warrant from Dawson County, Howard County Sheriff's Department reports said.

Lozano was released on a $5,000 bond and a $500 bond, reports said. Also transferred to the county jail and later released on bonds were Robert Dale Hutchinson, 22, of Apartment 59 Crestwood and Jackie Tibbets, 32, of 2401 Scurry, reports said. Hutchinson was transferred on a charge of theft and was released on a $2,500 bond, reports said. Tibbets was released on a $1,000 bond for a charge of suspicion of driving while intoxicated, reports said.

Crash kills race plane pilot

MARTINDALE (AP) — The pilot of a small race plane was killed Saturday when his aircraft began falling apart and plunged into the ground.

The dead man was identified as 40-year-old Charles Thomas Andrews of Beckley, W. Va. There were no passengers in the aircraft.

The accident occurred at 11:20 a.m. about one mile east of Martindale in Caldwell County, said Department of Public Safety spokesman David Wells.

receded to 7.5 percent.

That rate, however, jumped back to 7.5 percent from a three-year low of 7.1 percent from June to July, and more than 8 million people were unemployed.

In response, Christopher Matthews, spokesman for House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., said: "This is the first president to celebrate Labor Day by calling for lower wages. Speaker O'Neill believes that instead of cutting peoples' wages, President Reagan should be cutting his deficits."

Matthews added that if Reagan "can call the MX (missile) a 'peacekeeper,' I suppose he can refer to ghettos as enterprise zones. Unfortunately, both are equally inaccurate and equally destructive."

of Manchester, England, on nuclear free zones.

In the interview, to be published by Pravda Sunday, Chernenko said Reagan administration officials are "flaunting with open cynicism their great power ambitions, exaggerated notions about America's role and place in the modern world."

He said the Soviets are ready for "honest and serious talks" with the United States, but offered no new proposals for opening such discussions.

While previous Soviet leaders have used their long summer vacations to entertain visiting dignitaries at their Crimean resorts, Chernenko has not been reported to have followed this custom this year.

Western diplomats in Moscow say they have not received any independent confirmation of reports that Chernenko's health has deteriorated. But they note that the Soviets' strict control of information makes it difficult, if not impossible, to verify such reports.

"It's something we are all watching very closely," one foreign political specialist said. Chernenko, long-time Communist Party ideologist, has been at the Kremlin helm for less than seven months. He succeeded Yuri V. Andropov, who had been in office for only 15 months following the death of Leonid I. Brezhnev on Nov. 10, 1982.

Andropov's long absence from public view before his death in February fueled suspicion among Kremlin-watchers who were unable to confirm Andropov's failing health when those reports began surfacing last fall.

There have been no diplomatic visits since Chernenko began his vacation July 15 that would demand the appearance of the Soviet leader. Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko has received several foreign visitors, including former U.S. Sen. George McGovern, who was in the Soviet Union in July.

But events like the opening ceremony of the Friendship '84 games might have been expected to draw the attendance of Chernenko.

The Soviet leader missed the ceremonial opening of the games staged after the Moscow-led Olympics boycott, but five other Politburo members attended, including Mikhail Gorbachev, considered by many to be the No. 2 man in the Soviet hierarchy.

obligation to the poor under Hill-Burton.

Many people who live in counties without public hospitals seek treatment in neighboring counties' public hospitals. But some counties don't think they should pay these nonresidents' bills; they contend that the obligation rests with the person's home county. The result: lawsuits to recover these costs, filed by counties with public hospitals against neighboring counties that don't have such facilities.

Texas' system of supplementing federal Medicaid dollars allows payments to reach only about the bottom 25 percent of those the federal government classifies as impoverished.

Some people don't seek care immediately when they get sick, holding out because of the cost, and going only after their conditions worsen. When many of these people finally seek treatment, they visit emergency rooms, where the costs of treatment are the highest.

Some people don't seek care immediately when they get sick, holding out because of the cost, and going only after their conditions worsen. When many of these people finally seek treatment, they visit emergency rooms, where the costs of treatment are the highest.

Many public and nonprofit hospitals were built with money from the federal Hill-Burton loan program. In order to get these construction loans, hospitals had to agree to set aside some portion of their services for poor people.

Many hospitals still have this obligation, but the obligations also can be retired early by rendering more services to the poor. So in areas with many poor people, hospitals are retiring their Hill-Burton obligations more rapidly. Corporations that buy hospitals built with the federal money also may pay off the loans before they mature, ending the hospital's

LULAC preparing Sept. 16 festival

Plans for the annual Diez y Sies de Septiembre celebration, which will include a parade and all-day festivities, are underway, said local LULAC president Pat DeAnda.

The September 16 celebration commemorates the date Mexico won its independence from Spain in 1810. The local celebration honoring the date is set to begin Sept. 15, Ms. DeAnda said.

The local LULAC organization is trying to encourage community participation in the event. Heading the festivities this year are Ms. DeAnda and Linda Arsiaga.

The festival will be held at the Old Settlers Pavilion at Comanche Trail Park. Float entries are now being accepted, Ms. DeAnda said. The deadline to enter a float is Sept. 8. Trophies for the top three floats and decorated cars will be awarded.

There will be food booths on the grounds, and live music is planned during both days of the festivities, she said.

Over 1,000 people attended the event last year, Ms. DeAnda said. She said more people are expected to attend this year.

Other activities will include a washer tournament, a volleyball game, baseball game and possibly a boxing exhibition by the Howard County Boxing Club, she said.

The parade will begin N.W. Seventh next to the Giant Food Store and run down Gregg Street, east on Second Street, and right on Main Street to the State National Bank.

The parade will begin at 2 p.m. Saturday with the floats assembling at 1 p.m., Ms. DeAnda said. A $20 fee is being charged for the booths, she added.

The Diez y Sies de Septiembre queen will be crowned at 6 p.m. Saturday, and the coronation dance will be from from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. Sunday.

For more information on the festivities please call Ms. DeAnda at 267-7839 or Linda Arsiaga at 267-9038 between 7 p.m. and 2 a.m. Friday and Saturday.

12 killed in state Labor Day traffic

By The Associated Press

Twelve people have died so far in Labor Day holiday traffic accidents, nine of the accidents involving one-vehicle crashes, the Department of Public Safety reported.

The DPS is predicting 54 deaths by the end of the holiday period Monday night. The DPS count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Monday.

The latest reported fatality on Texas highways was 21-year-old 2nd Lt. Everett Shaw, who was killed in a hit-and-run accident.

Shaw, who was stationed at Fort Bliss Army base, died after being struck by a car as he walked along Lee Trevino Street in El Paso, DPS officials said. The accident occurred at 1:25 a.m. Saturday.

Ruben Barrera Jr., 20, of Corpus Christi, died at 10:35 p.m. Friday when his car struck a utility pole at a Corpus Christi intersection.

Leroy Gallien, 45, of Houston was killed when his car struck a cement pole on Holmes Road in Houston at 2:11 a.m. Saturday.

Kathryn Ann Taylor, 29, of San Antonio, died after her car flipped over on Interstate 35 just south of Jarrell, which is north of Austin. Ms. Taylor, who wasn't wearing a seat belt, was ejected from the car in the accident, police said.

Patrick Shawn Evins, 17, of Port Lavaca was the first reported fatality of the Labor Day weekend. Evins was killed when the car which he was driving was struck broadside by a truck at 8:47 p.m. Friday, DPS officials said.

Troy Shannon Cook, 17, of Grand-bury died at 8:50 p.m. Friday when his vehicle failed to negotiate a curve on farm-to-market road 1190 south Fort Worth in Hood County.

Mark Raymond Harper, 22, of Gonzales was killed at 9:14 p.m. Friday when his vehicle struck a group of trees head-on about three miles east of Gonzales on farm-to-market road 532.

Mary Rodriguez, 28, of Odessa died in a one-vehicle accident Saturday at 12:35 a.m. when the vehicle in which she was riding struck a deer and rolled over. The accident occurred about 14 miles northwest of Ozona on state Highway 137 in Crockett County.

Cecil Clifford Wells, 36, of Dublin, Texas, was killed at 1:01 a.m. Saturday when the pickup truck he was driving struck a tractor-trailer rig head-on about two miles southwest of Stephenville on U.S. 67 in Erath County south of Fort Worth.

Ronald Earl Pockrus, 41, of Port Isabel was killed when the pickup he was driving struck a guard rail and overturned at 2:10 a.m. Saturday on farm-to-market road 510 near farm-to-market 24809 in Cameron County.

Louis Edmundo Munoz, 30, of Zapata was killed when the vehicle he was driving overturned at 3:40 a.m. Saturday on Sierra Vista Lane in Zapata.

Louis Alberto Rodriguez, 18, of Eagle Pass was a passenger on a motorcycle that went out of control while crossing a railroad track in El Paso and struck a tree at 4:45 a.m. Saturday.

Aggie hazing investigated

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Students this weekend were mourning the death of a Texas A&M University sophomore as officials vowed to make sure the hazing he underwent before he died never happens again.

Corps of Cadets Col. Donald Burton said that in January 1983 he outlawed "motivational exercises" such as those forced on Bruce Goodrich, 20, of Webster, N.Y., but former Corps members say physical abuse of freshmen and sophomores is common.

Goodrich and his roommate, John McIntosh, were awakened by three juniors in their Corps unit at about 2:30 a.m. Thursday and taken out for "motivational exercises" that included nearly an hour of running, push-ups and sit-ups, officials said.

Bomb rips Afghan airport

KABUL — About 30 people were killed and nearly 100 were wounded when a bomb exploded Friday in the main terminal building of the international airport in Afghanistan.

Most of the victims were women and children among the travelers and relatives gathered at the airport.

The tightly guarded airport also serves as a base for Soviet warplanes.

Saudis leave Beirut

BEIRUT — Saudi Arabia told Lebanon Saturday it has withdrawn its diplomatic mission from Beirut to protest an attack on its embassy compound by pro-Iranian zealots nine days ago.

Saudi Charge d'Affaires Abu Bakr Rafi and his staff left the Lebanese capital Thursday. There was no word on whether the Saudi decision will affect Lebanon's chances of getting a promised $450 million reconstruction grant from the oil-rich kingdom.

Cyprus peace talks OK'd

NICOSIA — Greek and Turkish Cypriots both have approved the new U.N. peace initiative for the divided eastern Mediterranean island.

Rauf Denktaş, president of the self-proclaimed breakaway Turkish Cypriot Republic of Northern Cyprus, announced acceptance of "working points" submitted to both sides in August by U.N. Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar.

Liberia arrests 1 in coup

MONROVIA — The defense minister says a petroleum refining official missing for more than a week has been arrested in connection with an alleged coup plot.

The detention of Francis Nappy Manneh brought to eight the number of people arrested since head of state Samuel K. Doe cut short a European tour on Aug. 19 on learning of a reported plot against his 4-year-old military regime.

Ancient tombs destroyed

PEKING — Highway construction workers in Shanxi province crushed 182 ancient tombs, damaged bronze relics and scattered priceless coins, bone carvings and other historical treasures found at a work site.

Provincial leaders ordered the project stopped and accused local officials of allowing the destruction at the site in Yuci city in violation of state laws. The tombs date back to 400 B.C.

Orchestra ends boycott

BERLIN — The Berlin Philharmonic has agreed to an uneasy truce with conductor-for-life Herbert von Karajan but set a deadline for reconciliation talks.

The orchestra said Friday it would end a mutual boycott that began in June to perform under Karajan's baton Sept. 29-30 at the Berlin Festival.

Tropical storm June lashes Asia

By The Associated Press

At least 53 people have died and 150,000 others have been left homeless from a severe storm that has battered the northern Philippines, and 68 people were reported dead or missing today in torrential rains around the South Korean capital of Seoul.

Tropical storm June — with winds weather forecasters said were up to 60 miles per hour — destroyed homes, washed away bridges, uprooted crops and triggered landslides in the Philippines, causing damage estimated at $4 million.

Reports from the Philippine Red Cross and from Civil Defense authorities indicated 53 were killed in 12 provinces, with most of the deaths in the northwestern part of the main island of Luzon.

Red Cross officials said casualty figures could go much higher after reports were received from remoter areas. The Ministry of Social Services said 25,000 families lost their homes. Officials estimated the average family includes six people.

Earlier, President Ferdinand E. Marcos had declared 19 provinces in a state of calamity and ordered rescue operations with mobilization of military helicopters, amphibious trucks and navy frogmen to reach stranded villagers.

Newspaper reports said 45,000 pounds of relief goods were shipped by air force jets to Marcos' home province of Ilocos Norte after a river dike collapsed and inundated large tracts of land.

In Pangasinan north of Manila, one of the hardest-hit provinces, bridges reportedly collapsed or were swept away by the swollen Agno River. Reports said 14 towns remained underwater and sand roads from Manila were impassable.

In nearby Benguet province, the death toll rose to 20 after a family of six was buried in a landslide Tuesday night.

Other deaths were reported in eight northern provinces, two central provinces and one province in southern Mindanao island.

June was the tenth storm to hit the Philippines this year. The SEOUL SWAMPED — A small car is buried under mud Saturday after Tropical storm June dropped 11 inches of rain on the Korean capital.

Philippines averages 19 storms yearly, and 115 people died in the worst storm last year.

The heaviest rain in 12 years battered this South Korean capital and its vicinity, the Home Ministry reported. The ministry said 68 people were missing or dead.

Officials said 11 others were also buried and their chances of survival were small.

Korean weather forecasters said 11 inches of rain fell in Seoul in one day, the most since 1972. In Seoul, about 2,500 homes in low-lying areas were flooded, sending 10,500 people to temporary shelters, police reported.

Many railway services, including subways in and around the city, were interrupted and telephone links between Seoul and many provincial areas were down. International and domestic flights reportedly were not affected.

Shuttle launches 3rd satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP) — Discovery's astronauts successfully launched their third commercial satellite Saturday, achieving a turnaround for a shuttle program whose image as a reliable transportation system has suffered from delays and failures.

There was relief on the ground because the satellite, Telstar 3, employed the same kind of rocket booster that shot two similar $35 million satellites off course in February. Those failures raised launch insurance rates and caused customers to think about shifting their satellite business to a NASA competitor in Europe.

Two of the three satellites deployed on this inaugural flight of Discovery used the booster, validating the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's contention that its flaws have been found and corrected. Many of the satellites to be launched from the shuttle in the future use the same rocket to propel them to higher orbit.

2 planes collide; 6 killed

THE DALLES — Two single-engine airplanes collided in Oregon Saturday morning and "disintegrated" as they plunged to earth, killing all six people aboard the two craft, authorities and witnesses said.

There were two people on one plane and four on the other. There were no survivors. The airplanes hit the ground about a mile apart, at separate ends of a large field, and burned on impact.

Debris was scattered over the area and one body was hurled onto a nearby hillside. The other five bodies were burned severely.

4 die in apartment fire

CHICAGO — Four members of one family, including a 12-year-old boy who jumped from the 13th floor, died as the result of a fire in a public housing project Saturday, authorities said.

Debra Mitchell, 24, and her sons Favor, 5, and Jeffrey, 3, died of burns suffered in the blaze in their apartment, while Andre Mitchell, Ms. Mitchell's brother, died of injuries received when he leaped to escape the flames.

Car slams into 9 walkers

CHICAGO — A car ran a stoplight Friday evening, collided with another car, then smashed into a group of children and adults, injuring at least nine people, three critically, authorities said.

The victims, including three children, were taken to four hospitals. Among the critically injured was 5-year-old Maya Johnson who was walking on the city's South Side with her mother and aunt when the speeding car slammed into two other cars, struck the pedestrians and overturned, bursting into flames.

Wanted gunman arrested

LEWIS RUN — A "highly dangerous" gunman wanted in a four-day spree in which he allegedly took two families hostage, shot three people and stole vehicles and guns was captured today after a homeowner held him for Pennsylvania police.

Donald F. Biauice, 27, who has addresses in Union City and Kane, was captured by state and local police at 1:30 a.m. in northwestern Pennsylvania and taken to jail in Bradford, where he was arraigned in his cell before Bradford District Justice Kenneth Jadowlic.

Chicken plane plummets

ALBERTVILLE — A twin-engine airplane carrying 8,000 baby chicks from an Arkansas farm crashed Friday in woods near this north Alabama city, killing the two people aboard.

The plane crashed and burned about 8:30 a.m. in dense fog about 1 mile south of the city's airport. The chickens were being flown from Peterson Farms in Decatur, Ark., to McElrath Farms in Albertville.

Marshall County Coroner Dempsey Hipps identified the victims as Bob Jansen, 58, the pilot, and Fred Wilmoth, both employees of Peterson Farms.

Learning's future like a new dawn

In many respects, the changes students and parents will feel this year in public school education harken back to a generation ago. As Superintendent Lynn Hise explained last week to Big Spring school district parents, school reform "keeps students in school and demands academic achievement."

Social promotion, the weak solution to dealing with failing students too young to leave school, is outlawed. Parents will be advised more often of a student's standing — every six weeks instead of every nine. Punishment for unexcused absences has the teeth written back into it. "Testing out" of final exams is gone.

Academic progress will be under greater scrutiny and tutorial services will be available to give students intensive education when necessary. Basic skills will be tested more frequently. Eleventh graders will be tested before they enter their senior. Those which fail this test will be retested at the close of the senior year. Those who still fail won't graduate.

A generation ago, the specter of the dreaded summer school was a carrot to encourage learning. Summer school meant retaking a course under the drone of sleep-inducing fans while your friends cavorted freely on vacation.

It wasn't fun. It was an inducement to study hard the first time around.

Extracurricular activities were extracurricular. Participation was a privilege extended to those who succeeded in their basic educational activities, and it was not allowed to interfere substantially with the skull work of the classrooms.

Education in 1984 and beyond will look a lot like education of 1954, except better. Class sizes will be pared down, lowering the teacher-pupil ratio and raising the level of individual instruction. Tutoring will be available to those who need it. Four educational tracks will be extended — general, vocational, advanced and advanced with honors. The future of education looks brighter than ever.

Pity the pious

The Republican Party thinks that every day, in every way, America is getting better and better — all thanks to Ronald Reagan. Its platform is nothing if not self-satisfied. But smugness is not a policy, much less a vision.

The platform is grandly titled "America's Future: Free and Secure." Under what the Republican's reflexively call the "Carter-Mondale administration," it supposedly was neither. Slavery, imposed by either Washington or Moscow, was our unhappy prospect.

Unfortunately, the GOP's conception of freedom is hopelessly contradictory, and its view of security borders on paranoia. The policies advocated in the platform, like those of the party standard-bearer, would constrict personal liberty and increase the risk of war.

No one can blame the Republicans for dwelling at great length on good economic news. Reagan's preaching for tax cuts, monetary restraint and deregulation, though inconsistent, has helped to reinvigorate the American marketplace. But that achievement creates a temptation to exaggerate the President's success. And the Republicans, like Oscar Wilde, can resist anything but temptation.

No one will fault them for insufficient chutzpah. They point to the decline of inflation and boast, "We did it" — ignoring the minor role of Paul Volcker, whose policies are elsewhere denounced. They blame the Democrats for excessive federal spending, while claiming credit for cutting "the growth rate in half."

They brag that "the rail and trucking industries are now allowed to compete in both price and service," not mentioning the efforts of the Reagan-appointed chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission to block deregulation. They call for action to stop abortion but ignore Reagan's reluctance to exercise leadership on the issue.

All this reveals the platform's central theme: Everything good that has happened since January 20, 1981, is owed to Ronald Reagan; everything bad is the fault of someone else.

There are other flaws. One is the authors' inability to think consistently, even from one sentence to the next. On the one hand, the platform expresses reverence for the Constitution. On the other, it demands action to weaken the exclusionary rule and allow preventive detention of criminal suspects, which would substantially repeal two provisions of the Bill of Rights. The platform extols the First Amendment in the passage criticizing election laws. But when it vows war on pornography, the right of free expression is nowhere to be found. Personal freedom is to be accorded the highest respect, except when it permits the sort of conduct Republicans deplore — like the use of certain unacceptable drugs (marijuana, cocaine) instead of certain acceptable ones (alcohol, tobacco).

The sections on defense and foreign policy are no more coherent. The GOP criticizes the Soviet Union for acquiring first-strike nuclear weapons and applauds the President's effort to do likewise. Republicans never learn: You need first-strike weapons only if you plan to start a nuclear war. To deter the enemy from starting one, second-strike weapons will do just fine.

To justify Reagan's costly military buildup, the platform hides behind deceitful statistics, like its claim that under President Carter, defense spending "had fallen to only 5 percent of gross national product." The Republicans will not tell you that, in inflation-adjusted terms, defense spending in 1980 was higher than in any year since 1971. During Carter's presidency, the military budget rose by more than 8 per cent. This is what the platform calls "unilateral disarmament."

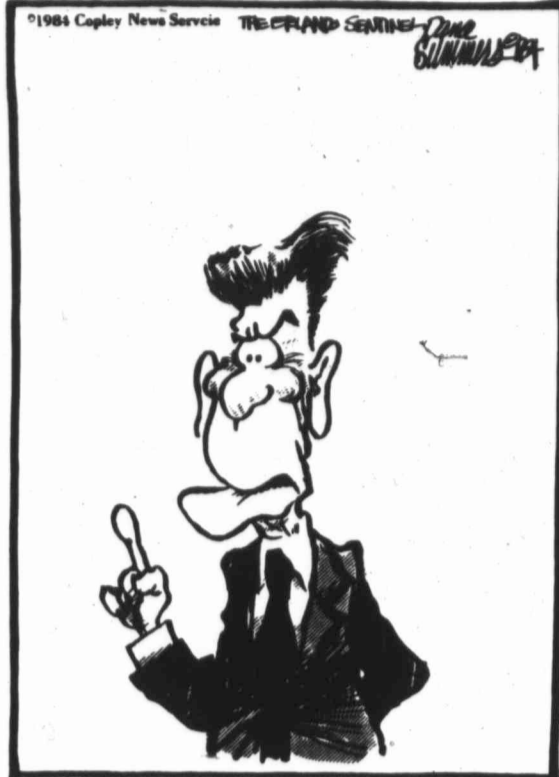

The party that makes so much of its distrust of government power is oblivious to the dangers posed to individual autonomy by an expansive military role abroad. The Republicans ought to know that not only serves better to fuel the growth of government than the invocation of national security, and that none is more inimical to the preservation of basic rights. For the GOP, anti-statism is a rhetorical device, not a principle.

Nineteenth-century British Conservatives were once dismissed as "the stupid party." Stupidity is the least of the GOP's defects.

Around The Rim Love of labor

By KEITH BRISCOE

If you get the day off tomorrow, thank the unions.

The labor movement in America amassed enough power and respect to get a national holiday for all workers, union or not.

And while you're picnicking, playing softball and visiting loved ones Monday, take a minute to consider all the benefits you enjoy because of the unions.

Labor Day is a celebration of the American worker, whose recognition came about only as the result of unity. A labor union is an organization of the workers, by the workers and for the workers.

If you get a vacation, belong to a company health care plan, can take off from your job when you're sick, and get paid overtime when you work late, you should thank the unions.

Worker benefits just didn't exist before labor began to organize in the early 20th Century. Men worked 16 or more hours a day for a pittance, barely earning enough to feed the family. Often, 10-year-old children would be forced into the workplace, spinning the silk of the capitalist's robe instead of going to school.

Too long the American workers were taken advantage of. "Without me, you wouldn't have a job at all," the factory owners would tell the workers.

But 50 years ago, the workers finally responded: "Without us, you wouldn't have a factory." So workers organized, walked out on strike, and shut down American business. And the workers got what they deserved. A right to organize, negotiate contracts and strike.

From these very basic rights the union movement continued to produce benefits and better conditions for all workers. After World War II, the American worker was the best paid, best protected and best cared-for laborer in the world.

With such an impressive record, the union movement should be held in high esteem, but it is not. It has two powerful enemies: big business and politicians owned by big business.

The National Labor Relations board, established to protect unions, now cripples them. The Department of Justice enforces so-called right-to-work laws. President Reagan uses federal authority to break strikes.

The United States Chamber of Commerce distributes anti-union propaganda. "Free enterprise," not workers' rights, is taught in public schools. And now the car companies, which pay their executives $1 million bonuses, say they can't afford to increase wages and provide job security.

The unions need our support. They deserve it. And enjoy your day off tomorrow. You deserve it.

Lighter side

MIAMI (AP) — Phil Fitzsimmons, whose high school football team hasn't had a winning season in 14 years, has a new strategy to lift his players out of their slump — hypnosis.

All they have to do is concentrate — until they feel relaxed, relaxed, relaxed ...

Fitzsimmons, coach of Southwest High School's Eagles, recently called in hypnotist Bonnie Lake to help the team catch the winning spirit.

"She told me that she could help the team by getting them to think positively," he said. "I knew something had to be done, so I looked to get someone who could change the perspective of the football players."

Ms. Lake, a former University of Miami psychology professor, went to the Dade County school for an introductory therapy session. By the third and final session, she had hypnotized the Eagles en masse.

"What we do is work with people who have not had great success in their field of activity and try to rid them of all negative memories, Ed Suarez, another psychology professor at UM, said this week.

"What Bonnie did was hypnotize the players and try to show them that those negative memories are not really important."

The new strategy will be tested next week when the Eagles meet Coral Park in their season opener.

Slashing spending will cut us all

Jack Anderson's leap from writing about crusaders to crusading himself caught my eye last week. It made me wonder about the wisdom of a print journalist, particularly an investigative journalist, advocating a cause — even to the point of publishing a "form" protest and how-to-mail-it information. But it also got me to thinking about the subject of his indignation, the federal deficit.

If a journalist is going to jump on a bandwagon, the federal deficit is a pretty safe one isn't it ... or is it?

Anderson is up in arms because Peter Grace and his commission spent 18 months scrutinizing government spending and "found 2,478 ways that the federal bureaucracy skins taxpayers." Anderson's worried that Congress won't take the Grace Commission to heart and move to "derail the government gravy train." So he's abandoning the role of information-giver for the moment in favor of championing a cause — a national petition protesting government misspending.

On its face, that looks like an organization everyone can support, and I'm not saying it doesn't deserve backing. But those sums of money spent on "foolish projects, wasteful programs and inefficient operations" may not all be foolish, wasteful and inefficient, depending on who's doing the judging.

Much of government's public money helps boost local economies. Webb Air Force Base was closed down because someone decided it was no longer necessary to have a military base in Big Spring, Texas. Ask the people in Minneapolis whether the base was necessary, and the response would be predictable. Ask the people of Big Spring the same question and the answer would be equally predictable.

Abilene's Dyess Air Force Base is yes-sir necessary, if the people of Abilene have a say. But the residents of Muskogee would not doubt feel differently.

Does a federal facility merit expansion, construction or program additions? Ask the hometown folks. And then ask the residents of a distant city, or a city competing for the same growth.

It's a long-standing tradition for congressmen to lobby for projects which will benefit their constituency. Some do it with less justification than others, but they all do it.

If the federal role is to diminish, everyone hopes it diminishes for the other guy. It's a question of whose ox is to be gored.

We received word Thursday that Big Spring will be granted more than $550,000 in federal funds for improvements at the Big Spring airport. That money is needed to do things locally that we can't afford to do otherwise. In our minds it is wholly justified. But Mr. Grace may think it's just another government boondoggle.

Simply, my point is this: A lot of the "wasted" money is money that pumps up local economies. If we are truly dedicated as taxpayers to wiping out federal deficit-spending, then we must be prepared to sacrifice locally if need be.

I think we must have that dedication. We must come to grips with federal overspending which mortgages our children's future for immediate political gratification. But make no mistake, if push comes to shove on federal spending, there will be painful reverberations right down the line. It'll hurt big cities with mammoth federally assisted programs a lot more than it'll hurt Big Spring, Texas. But we should be prepared for fallout to filter everywhere.

Billy Graham

Tax dodge is no reason to sin

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am a widow in my late 60s. I like this man who lives near me very much, and he wants to move in with me. I know it is probably wrong, but we are both kind of lonely and for tax reasons or something he says it would be better not to get married. — Mrs. B.N.D.

DEAR MRS. B.N.D.: What you are thinking of doing is wrong and I sincerely pray you will not give in to your friend's urgings. Is saving a few dollars really worth sacrificing your self respect and even your happiness? Furthermore, there is no lasting, mutual commitment to each other in this kind of relationship.

I don't know the true motives of your friend, of course, but every day I get letters from men and women who have gotten involved in this kind of relationship, only to have it collapse later because there was no real commitment.

But this would be wrong most of all because it is contrary to God's command. No matter how young or old you may be, God's view of marriage does not change: It involves the sacred vow of commitment of a man and a woman to each other which is not to be broken. "Therefore what God has joined together, let man not separate" (Matthew 19:6).

You have a decision to face, and you need to face it squarely and decisively. But there is an even more important decision you need to make right now, and that is your decision for Christ. You are older, and at some time not far from now you will die. Are you ready to face God? Apart from Christ, you have no hope of salvation, for "Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to men by which we must be saved" (Acts 4:12).

Don't let sin lure you into something which is wrong, but turn instead to Christ. You need His forgiveness, and you need the hope of eternal life which He alone can give. Make your commitment to Christ right now.

"I propose we make the world safer by signing treaties that limit the testing of nuclear weapons... and radio microphones."

JIM LETHERER...cross-country trek

Cap'n Jim

Amputee walks for charity

How do you describe a man with one leg who walks the length of the nation for charity? Acerbic is the only word for Jim Letherer. He has a repertoire of one-liners that Don Rickles would give his eye teeth for.

Letherer, passing through Big Spring last week on his 3,000-mile trek across the country, stopped by the Herald long enough for an interview.

"It's really nice of you to hire the handicapped," he told Managing Editor John Rice after taking one look at photographer Tim Appel.

Getting past the good-natured kidding, we found "Cap'n Jim" to be sincere in his mission. With his walk across the country he is raising money for research to cure cancer, the disease that claimed his right leg when he was 10 years old.

In addition, he is trying to inspire "special kids" — children who have handicaps — "to follow their dreams and hopes."

Letherer is a sports "super-fan," keeps in his head a wealth of sports trivia, and has hitch-hiked around the country following his favorite teams.

"I think sports can give you the most exhilarating highs and the most devastating lows," he said.

A native of Raleigh, N.C., he attended the 1980 NCAA Basketball Championship in which North Carolina State defeated the University of Houston. "I was the team good luck piece," he said.

He was confined to a wheelchair at the time. The victory "kind of turned my life around," he said.

After the win, the North Carolina school permitted him to train with future Olympic participants, and he lost 87 pounds. "My graduation — my gold medal — came when I traded my wheelchair for crutches," he said.

Students at the school designed special crutches with shock absorbers for him after he discarded the wheelchair, he said. And, despite the loss of his leg, he turned in a 9 min., 2 sec. time in the mile run.

Since then, Letherer has made the acquaintance of sports personalities across the country. As recently as three weeks ago, he was presented with an autographed football by Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry, who also took up a collection among Cowboy players for Letherer's trek, he said.

The man who insists that he isn't "handicapped," but "special," said he needs more help in collecting money. He said he currently has only four pledges of $1 for every mile he walks.

Jerry Lewis father of the telethon

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Lewis was a young goofball comic and television had only two colors. It was 1956, the first year Lewis was host of the Muscular Dystrophy Association telethon in New York City. It appeared on one television station and raised $500,000.

Lewis is still a goofball when the spirit strikes, but all the rest has changed. In 1981, its best year, the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon was beamed from Las Vegas to 210 television stations and received pledges of $31.5 million.

Along the way, the telethon has endured controversy and foul-ups; Lewis has had some perilous personal times, including a heart attack Dec. 31, 1982, and double-bypass heart surgery. But he and the association have turned the telethon into what may be the most powerful single outpouring of charity in the nation. They have reshaped the way Americans give.

This year's 21-hour telethon will be the 19th broadcast over the Labor Day weekend and will feature another all-star cast. It will be broadcast from Caesars Palace in Las Vegas to 194 television stations in the United States and cable television in Canada.

"Our goal," said telethon coordinator Jerry

Weinberg, "is always $1 more than last year." In 1983, the telethon had pledged of $30,691,627.

The Muscular Dystrophy Association was founded in 1950 to help combat a range of muscle-destroying diseases that fell under the general heading of muscular dystrophy. The same year, United Cerebral Palsy held the first telethon. MDA followed about two years later.

The organization found its star in 1956, when Lewis began playing host for a series of Thanksgiving telethons in New York. They lasted until 1959, fading mostly because of scheduling conflicts.

The passing of an era

Hooray for Colorado City coach Tom Ramsey and his coaching staff, they are making a step to escape from the dark ages of West Texas football, the three yards and a cloud of dust era is not branded in their system, they are more of the new generation, the one that includes the forward pass in their playbook.

Yes Ramsey and his staff is bucking the old West Texas cliché that if you gain three yards on every running play and play good defense you will win games.

It doesn't matter if you run the same three plays the entire game until the defense knows how many steps the running back takes to get the handoff or if the opposition has stacked seven players waiting on the play — you still run the ball.

Well Ramsey and his crew down in Wolf Land have added a passing game to their Veer offense and it seems to be working wonders. The Wolves are again one of the top clubs in West Texas because their coaching staff has seen that a passing attack can work wonders for your running attack.

Since C-City has gone to using a passing attack the Wolves offensive production has been almost even between rushing and passing. Balance is what you want in a football team isn't it?

It's a lot easier to defend yourself against a one-arm man than one that has two arms. In essence that is what a football team does to itself when it only runs the ball — cut one of its limbs off. Midland Lee found that out in the Class 5-A state championship game last year.

It was very enjoyable watching C-City buck the West Texas tradition and pass the football. Other West Texas teams didn't have much of a chance of defending against it, why should they? They never got much practice playing pass defense, since most opponents run the ball, so you always end up playing run defense in workouts.

My theory is instead of teaching the younger players so many running plays you drill them early in their careers how to throw the football, catch the thing and run good pass routes, then the foundation is laid for a all purpose attack. It is certainly easier to teach pass blocking than run blocking.

Slowly I see more coaches in the area using passing attacks and the West Texas running trend is slowing coming to a halt. I think it's about time for a new era to pass this way.

Aggies nip stubborn Miners, 20-17

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M's Kevin Murray completed two first-half touchdown passes and Alan Smith kicked a 27-yard fourth quarter field goal to brunt a Texas-El Paso comeback and lead the Aggies to a 20-17 season opening victory Saturday.

But the Aggies still had to survive a late scoring attempt by the surprising Miners. Hugo Castellanos, who had kicked three earlier field goals, bounced a 36-yard attempt off the goal posts that would have tied the game with 1:39 to play.

The Aggies took a 17-6 lead early in the third quarter on Smith's 24-yard field goal before the Miners, 2-10 last season charged back aided by a series of A&M turnovers.

Texas-El Paso's Castellanos kicked his third field goal, a 32-yarder, following a fumble recovery by Robert Murray. Moments later, Murray threw an interception to Luther Johnson, setting up a 19-yard touchdown pass from Sammy Garza to Larry Linne.

Garza then went to Linne again for a two-point conversion and a 17-17 tie with 2:15 to go in the third quarter.

Darrell Smith's fumble recovery at the Aggie 40 preceded Smith's game-winning field goal with 10:20 left in the game.

Murray's two first half passes, a seven-yarder to halfback Rod Bernstine in the first quarter and an eight-yarder to Jeff Nelson in the second quarter, lifted the Aggies to a 14-6 lead at the end of the sluggish first half.

The Miners, 2-10 last season, drove to a 42-yard field goal by Castellanos on the first drive of the game, keyed by the passing of quarterback Sammy Garza.

Garza hit pass completions of 11, 17 and 16 yards to set up the score.

A&M's first touchdown followed a fumble by Garza and a recovery by A&M's O'Neal Gilbert at the UTEP 42. James Flowers intercepted a Garza pass at the Aggie 30 and Murray hit Jimmy Teal with a 41-yard bomb prior to Nelson's eight-yard TD catch.

It was the season opener for both teams.

AGGIE DRAG — University of Texas El Paso tailback Toney George (1) drags Texas Aggie defensive back Wayne Asberry for extra yardage during the second quarter of their game at Kyle Field Saturday. George's effort was not enough as the Aggies held on to win, 20-17.

"We can play with anyone," said Bosco, who completed 25 of 43 passes — nine to Haysbert for 141 yards.

"We just have to keep on going and keep winning," said Bosco, whose Cougars extended their winning streak to 12 games.

Haysbert, beating Pitt team.

Pitt Coach Foge Fazio wasn't ready afterwards to write off the season, pointing out 1983 national champion Miami lost its first game, 28-3 to Florida, a year ago.

Brigham Young led 3-0 at the half, but a pair of Pitt interceptions within a three-minute span in the lead on a five-yard scoring pass from freshman walk-on quarterback Kerwin Bell to Frankie Neal.

But Kosar, whose pinpoint 11-of-12 passing in the second period also brought Miami from behind, was not to be denied.

The 6-foot-5 sophomore, who tied a school record with 25 completions in 33 attempts and passed for 309 yards, went to work after Darryl Oliver's 16-yard kickoff return to the Miami 28.

First, he hit tight end Willie Smith with a 36-yarder. Next came a 17-yard bullet to split end Eddie Brown and a four-yarder to Oliver, who went out of bounds at the Florida 15 with 17 seconds remaining.

After Oliver ran for three yards, apparently setting up a field goal try, Kosar found Brown in the left rear corner of the end zone behind defensive back Vernell Brown for the winning touchdown and a 13-game winning streak — 2-0 under new head Coach Jimmy Johnson.

Florida had time for one play after the kickoff and Bain, a freshman defensive back, picked off Bell's desperation pass and was en route to the end zone when the final gun went off.

Florida was the last team to beat Miami — 28-3 in the 1983 opener — and the Gators, opening their season six days after head Coach Charley Pell announced his resignation effective at the end of the year as the result of a 20-month NCAA probe, almost captured what would have been an emotional victory.

But the setback just added more tears to a stunning week in which the Gators not only had their coach announce his resignation, but lost quarterback Dale Dorniney, the projected starter, for the season with a knee injury last Tuesday.

DEKALB, Ill. (AP) — Quarterback Darryl Taylor threw four touchdown passes, including a 69-yard, game-winning bomb with 10 seconds left, to lead Northern Illinois to a 40-33 non-conference football victory Saturday over West Texas State.

Taylor hit Carl Aikens for the winning score after the two had connected on a 67-yard scoring play earlier in the contest.

West Texas State pulled ahead 33-32 with 25 seconds left on a 1-yard run by quarterback Tod Mayfield. Mayfield also threw for one touchdown and rushed for two more. The Buffaloes' other points came on a 53-yard field goal by Dennis Steinbock and a safety.

Taylor completed 12 of 23 passes for 238 yards in the game, while Aikens had four receptions for 158 yards. Taylor's other touchdown passes went to Curt Partridge and Steve Quinlan.

The Huskies also scored on a 6-yard touchdown run by Joel Kinkade, and a 25-yard field goal by Darren Monnett.

The game was the season opener for both teams.

Week one in NFL ready to unfold

By The Associated Press

The Washington Redskins meet the Miami Dolphins in a rematch of Super Bowl XVII opponents as the National Football League opens its regular season today.

Since beating Miami in the NFL's championship game 27-17 two years ago, the Redskins have played the Dolphins once in an exhibition game that resulted in a 38-7 victory for Miami last year.

"They are among the elite — a well-coached, disciplined team that doesn't do anything fancy but out-execute you," said Washington assistant coach Richie Petitbon of the Dolphins.

The Redskins' growing injury list — which includes defensive linemen Dave Butz (back) and Darryl Grant (knee), cornerback Darrell Green (thigh) and offensive linemen Joe Jacoby (ankle) and Russ Grimm (leg) — remained a primary concern heading into the season opener.

"The injuries will play as great a part in planning our game plan as what Miami does," said Redskins Coach Joe Gibbs.

The Dolphins don't have as many injury problems as the Redskins —

Hogeboom, who is supplanting Danny White. They also have 12 rookies on a 49-man roster that lost five players to retirement.

Most of the Dallas newcomers are replacing a group of blue-chip retirees — Harvey Martin, Drew Pearson, Billy Joe DuPree, Pat Donovan and Robert Newhouse. The last time the Cowboys lost as many players, in 1975, they went to the Super Bowl.

Coach Tom Landry's vote of confidence in Hogeboom, however, is not overwhelming.

"This could be a one-week thing. We're playing it game by game," he said. "I'm not sure which quarterback will take us to the Super Bowl, Hogeboom or White, time will tell. I hope Gary will live up to it, but who knows?"

The Rams will try and repeat their 24-17 triumph over Dallas in the National Football Conference's wild-card playoff game last year.

The Jets-Indianapolis game will be played in the new Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis, where the Colts have moved from Baltimore.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — You can add Robbie Bosco to the list of Brigham Young passing wizards that includes names like Steve Young, Jim McMahon and Gifford Nielsen.

Bosco threw for 325 yards and rifled a game-winning, 50-yard scoring pass to Adam Haysbert with 1:37 remaining as the Cougars, once trailing by 11 points, rallied to score one of the biggest wins in their football history by upsetting third-ranked Pittsburgh 20-14 Saturday.

Bosco, making his first start for college football's most famous quarterback factory, outdueled Pitt quarterback John Congemi in engineering a shocker that all but eliminates the Panthers from the national championship race.

"A lot of people have never seen our team, but we showed today that sophomore defensive back Keith Tinsley in man-to-man coverage on his crucial catch, said the Cougars knew "We could throw on Pitt."

"We just had to execute," he said. "They dropped their backs way off us."

Brigham Young Coach LaVell Edwards lived up to his reputation as one of football's most effective offensive strategists and said the Cougars were looking to throw to Glen Kozlowski when Bosco instead elected to pass to Haysbert.

The score came against a Pitt defense has been nationally ranked on defense the last five seasons.

"It was the way we won it that impressed me the most," Edwards said. "We were down 14-3 after making some pretty big mistakes and that's the making of a fine, fine third quarter quickly boosted the Panthers to a 14-3 lead.

Miami 32, Florida 20

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Bernie Kosar took Miami 72 yards in 29 seconds and lobbed a 12-yard touchdown pass to Eddie Brown with seven seconds left and Tolbert Bain returned an interception 59 yards on the final play as defending national champion Miami pulled out an incredible 32-20 victory over 17th-ranked Florida Saturday night.

The 10th-ranked Hurricanes, who upset No. 1-ranked Auburn 20-18 six nights earlier, were 41 seconds away from having the nation's longest winning streak snapped at 12 games when Florida took a 20-19

Area teams fare well in scrimmages

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

In the Howard County area football roundup both District 6-3A teams Colorado City and Coahoma played on even terms with the "big boys" while class A team Garden City was nipped by Sterling City and six-man team Grady ran over

"We were pretty pleased with the outcome," stated Ramsey. We figured we would be doing good to hold our own against a 4-A club. We didn't whip them and they didn't whip us. I was pleased with our defense, we hit very well and we did move the ball offensively. Now it's time to go hunting for a red and black Tiger (Slaton).

Coahoma's first unit played District 4-2A opponent Lamesa to a 1-1 deadlock while Lamesa's second unit outscored Coahoma 2-1.

Coach Bruce Mitchell's Bulldogs did indeed generate more offense than it did last week versus McCamey as the Red and White rolled up over 300 yards on the ground. Coahoma's scores came on a four yard run by quarterback Brian Calaway and a five yard run by Dale Hodnett.

Jimmy Yanez led the balanced Bulldog rushing attack with 70 yards on seven carries. Mitchell was greatly pleased with his team's offensive spark this week. "We really moved the ball well this week because our offensive line blocked better. Our quarterbacks did a good job of throwing the ball, we dropped three touchdown passes."

The Coahoma secondary also had a good night versus Lamesa Run and Shoot Offense picking off four passes, two by Dee John Douglass. "Now it's for real, time to start playing for the marbles," concluded Mitchell.

Garden City was outscored by Class A foe Sterling City 2-1. Bearkat coach Tony Stricklin said he was pleased with his defensive performance but the offense is still struggling.

"We still have yet to move the ball offensively," said Stricklin. We are still behind the defense because the players are still learning a new system."

The lone Garden City score came on a 10 yards pass from Bryan Thompson to split end Doyle Schafer. "We are still finding people offensive showing over their counterparts amassing 221 yards rushing and 108 yards in the air. Dennis Sawyer led the rushing barage with 70 yards on six carries.

only linebacker A.J. Duhe is missing due to lingering knee and shoulder problems. Quarterback Dan Marino bounced back from a dislocated finger to throw for 204 yards against Tampa Bay in last week's exhibition game.

In other action Sunday, the defending NFL champion Los Angeles Raiders — who walloped the Redskins 38-9 in last year's Super Bowl, open on the road at Houston. Also Sunday, it's Atlanta at New Orleans, Kansas City at Pittsburgh, New England at Buffalo, Philadelphia at the New York Giants, St. Louis at Green Bay, San Diego at Minnesota, San Francisco at Detroit, Tampa Bay at Chicago, Cincinnati at Denver, and the New York Jets at Indianapolis.

Cleveland plays at Seattle in a Monday afternoon game and Dallas visits the Los Angeles Rams in the first of the weekly Monday night games.

The Cowboys open the season with a new quarterback in Gary Dome, will be greeted by a capacity crowd of 61,000. Mike Pagel will direct a ground-oriented offense featuring running backs Curtis Dickey and Randy McMillan against the Jets, who will have six-year backup Pat Ryan at quarterback in place of Richard Todd, traded to New Orleans.

Oiler quarterback Warren Moon will try to prove he can play in the National Football League and the Los Angeles Raiders will try to disprove the myth about the difficulty of defending a Super Bowl title when the two teams open the regular season Sunday.

Kickoff is at 3 p.m. CDT in the Astrodome.

Los Angeles Coach Tom Flores recalls the Raiders' 1980 Super Bowl season and the lackluster 7-9 1981 season that followed.

"We intend to go out and have a good season and destroy the myth that occurs around the world as to how it's almost impossible to repeat," Flores said.

BRIAN CALAWAY

Midland Christian in scrimmages played Friday night.

Colorado City tied 2-2 District 4-2A opponent Snyder. Again Tom Ramsey and his Wolves put the ball in the air, 22 times to be exact as the Wolves first unit tied with the Tigers 1-1 as did the second unit.

The Wolves scored on a 30 yard pass from quarterback Doug Chitsey to running back Bill Jackson and a four run by Kevin Norman.

Stricklin credited linebacker Larry Lopez, lineman Sergio Rosas and Doug Schafer and defensive backs Frankie Ramirez and Thompson as having good defensive games.

Grady got the best of Midland Christian by a score of 4-1. Coach Currie McWilliams' Wildcats had a 44 yards while Sawyer caught two passes for 32 yards. Michael Mitchell was the leading passer for the Wildcats completing four of seven passes for 88 yards.

Sawyer and Miller accounted for two touchdowns each.

McWilliams said he was especially pleased with his team's defensive performance. "We were very aggressive and that is a plus," he said.

Astros get past Cards, 8-4

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Pinch-hitter Kevin Bass rapped an RBI triple to cap a three-run rally in the sixth inning, leading the Houston Astros to an 8-4 triumph Saturday night over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The triumph by Houston overshadowed rookie Tom Nieto's inside-the-park home run for St. Louis with two teammates on base.

Mark Ross, 1-0, gained his first major league victory with relief from Dave Smith as Kurt Kephire, 4-4, absorbed the loss.

one out, Nieto blasted a drive to center which skipped over Mumphrey's head.

Willie McGee singled, swiped second and scored on a single by Tommy Herr to cap a four-run uprising and give the Cards a 4-2 lead before the Astros bounced back.

Bob Knepper pitched the first four innings for Houston, with Ross hurling a scoreless fifth before giving way to Smith, who blanked St. Louis the rest of the way en route to Landestoy ran for him.

Landestoy moved to second on a sacrifice bunt and Marshall, batting for Dave Anderson, stroked his single over the head of second baseman Doug Flynn.

Fernando Valenzuela, 11-15, scattered ten hits while pitching into the ninth. He also stroked his second homer to tie the game 1-1 in the third.

The left-hander struck out five, walked five and stranded ten runners, including three in the fifth.

Mets 7, Padres 4

NEW YORK (AP) — Darryl Strawberry drove a two-run homer in New York's four-run fourth inning to lead Dwight Gooden and the New York Mets to a 7-4 victory over the San Diego Padres in the opener of a two-night doubleheader Saturday.

Gooden, 14-8, allowed six hits over eight innings. He struck out 10 Padres to increase his league-leading total to 223 strikeouts.

Gooden won his fifth straight start and pitched his third complete game of the season, walking five batters. Gooden has struck out 10 or more batters 12 times this year.

Jesse Orosco pitched the ninth for his 28th save.

Strawberry, who had not homered in 82 at-bats since July 31, snapped a 0-for-19 drought.

GOOD GRAB — New York Mets second baseman Wally Blackman, left, dives to catch catcher Ron Hodges wide throw as San Diego's Luis Salazar steals a base.

N.L. Roundup

Trailing 4-2 after five innings, Houston erupted against Kephire after Jose Cruz singled to start the sixth and was forced at second base on Jerry Mumphrey's grounder.

Mumphrey reached third on Enos Cabell's single. One out later, Craig Reynolds stroked an RBI single and a wild pitch by Kephire gave the Astros a 4-4 tie ahead of Bass' triple.

Bill Doran opened the game with a walk and Dennis Walling hammered his eighth homer an out later for a 2-0 Astros lead.

St. Louis wiped out that advantage in the second with the aid of Nieto's homer. After David Green and Ozzie Smith each singled with his fifth save.

Mumphrey and pinch-hitter Phil Garner singled home insurance runs in the sixth, helping Houston halt the Cards' four-game winning streak.

Dodgers 4, Expos 3

MONTREAL (AP) — Pinch-hitter Mike Marshall blooped an eighth-inning single that scored Rafael Landestoy from second base with the go-ahead run and helped the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 4-3 triumph over the Montreal Expos Saturday.

Mike Scioscia opened the eighth with a walk against starter Charlie Lea, 15-9, and

White Sox pound Kansas City, 7-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Roy Smalley' two-run home run capped a four-run third inning Saturday night to lead LaMarr Hoyt and the Chicago White Sox to a 7-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Hoyt, 11-15, the 1983 Cy Young winner, snapped a personal four-game losing streak. He had a three-hit shutout working before the Royals scored in the eighth inning.

The loss kept the Royals from going over the 500 mark and pulling within a game of American League West leader Minnesota, which lost to Toronto 12-4.

The victory was only the second in the last seven games for the White Sox, who moved within 5½ games of the division lead.

Hoyt gave up a looping double over third base to Jorge Orta in the second inning, then retired 11 in a row before Don Slaught doubled over first base in the fifth inning.

The White Sox staked Hoyt to a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Greg Walker singled and scored on Carlton Fisk's double off Bret Saberhagen, 7-10.

With one out in the third, Rudy Law singled and scored on a triple by Jerry Hairston, who in turn scored on a single by Walker. Smalley followed with his 10th homer of the season and third since being acquired from the New York Yankees.

The Royals averted a shutout when Slaughter led off the eighth with a double, went to third on a single by Greg Pryor and scored on a double by Willie Wilson.

In the eighth, Ron Kittle doubled and scored on a two-out single by Julio Cruz for the final Chicago run.

Rangers 8, Brewers 4

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Buddy Bell hit a two-run homer and a two-run triple to lead the Texas Rangers to a 8-4 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers Saturday night.

The victory, the Rangers fourth in five games, snapped Dave Stewart's personal four-game losing streak. Stewart, 5-12, had last won on June 19.

He pitched six innings, walking three and striking out five. Dave Schmidt pitched the final 1 1/3 innings to earn his 12th save. Mike Caldwell, 6-13, took the loss.

The Brewers took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on Ben Oglivie's two-run single.

Bell's homer gave Texas a 3-2 lead in the third. Billy Sample doubled and scored on Gary Ward's single. Bell then hit his eighth homer of the year.

Bell's triple keyed a three-run fifth-inning rally. Curtis Wilkerson led off with a single and advanced to third on Ward's double. Bell then tripled, giving him eight RBI in his last two games.

Tom Tellmann relieved and gave up a sacrifice fly to Larry Parrish for a 6-2 Texas lead.

Consecutive singles by Ed Romero, Rick Manning and Dion James in the sixth inning made it 6-3.

The Rangers increased their lead to 7-3 in the sixth. Jeff Kunkel wrap up a six-run, first-inning rally which carried the Oakland A's to a 7-5 victory over the Detroit Tigers Saturday.

The Tigers, who lost a fourth straight game, cut Oakland's lead to 6-5 by scoring three runs in the second and two in the sixth off A's starter Curt Young, 7-3.

Dwayne Murphy hit his 28th homer in the bottom of the sixth off Detroit reliever Bill Scherrer for the game's final run.

Tigers starter Juan Berenguer, 7-9, failed to finish the first, leaving

George Wright doubled and scored on Wilkerson's infield single in the eighth for the Rangers' eighth run.

A's 7, Tigers 5

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Mike Davis clubbed a three-run homer to after Davis' seventh homer of the season. Berenguer walked two batters and struck out one before Dave Kingman doubled for the game's first run, which raised Kingman's RBI total to 109.

Bruce Bochte's sacrifice fly drove in the second run and Donnie Hill doubled home another. Davis homered after Jim Essian walked.

In the second, Marty Castillo had an RBI single and Lou Whitaker a two-run single for Detroit.

The Tigers have lost four straight twice previously this year.

Favorites win in C-Club golf action

The Annual Big Spring Country Club Labor Day Club Championship got off to a flying start yesterday with most favorites in men's play win their matches.

In the championship flight favorites Ronnie Broadrick, Pat Weaver and Mike Hall all won their matches. These three are the top bets to take the crown won by Dan Wilkens last year. Wilkens was not present to defend his title.

In the first flight favorites Mike Scarbrough, Tommy Fletcher, Richard Terry and Bob Hecker all won their matches to advance to second round play.

In the second flight Bill Willis, Jack Cook and Richard Atkins all won to keep in their favorites role. Third flight favorite J. "Beetle" Bailey defeated Mike Arnold one-up 19 to advance him to second round action.

The golfers will play another 18 holes today and conclude by playing 36 holes on Monday with the final 18 deciding the winners.

In women's play Susie Welch fired a 92 to take a five stroke lead over Bernice Jordan in the championship flight. Beth Tevis is third with a 101.

The first flight lead went to Martha Saunders with a 98 while Marlene Kasch is second with a 104 and Barbara Hall third with a 106.

Flo Hallam leads the second flight contestants with a 107, Angela Parks trails by six strokes while Eileen Womack recorded a 117.

Cindy DeSive, wife of Country Club Golf Pro Doug DeSive took first in the Long Drive Contest, with a hit of 252 yards.

In the men's putting competition it came down between old veteran

Bill Chrane and the youthful Bobby Waters. Chrane who won the title in '82 and finished second last year, nosed Waters out by one shot to take his second putting title in three years.

"Bill was just too steady for me," stated Waters after the competition. Chrane said the key to being a good putter is "a lot of hard concentration not to hit the ball too hard. I'm already looking forward to next year," said the champ.

Don Cook edged out Drew Moulton and Bobby Heith for consolation honors. "The course is in good shape," said Moulton, "It's good and green. I hit the ball on the nose today, my wedge was a wand," he concluded.

Note Scores from the tourney can be found in scoreboard on Page 3B.

U.S. Open action

Lloyd-Martina on collision course

NEW YORK (AP) — Martina Navratilova and Chris Evert Lloyd continued their collision course Saturday, easily advancing into the fourth round of the $2.55 million U.S. Open Tennis Championships.

Czechoslovakia's Ivan Lendl, who has lost in the men's singles final in each of the last two years, also cruised past his third-round opponent, but several seeds were ousted on the hardcourts at the National Tennis Center in Flushing Meadow.

Eighth-seeded Aaron Krickstein, the 17-year-old who reached the fourth round here a year ago, was eliminated in a night match by Greg Holmes, the 1983 NCAA champion, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 7-6, and Tim Mayotte of Springfield, Mass., upset 10th-seeded Elliot Teltscher 6-4, 6-3, 6-4 in men's play, while West Germany's Sylvia Hanika knocked out No. 7 Zina Garrison 6-3, 6-2 and Austria's Petra Huber ousted No. 16 Andrea Temesvari of Hungary 6-1, 6-4 in the women's singles.

Other seeded men to advance to the fourth round included No. 4 Mats Wilander of Sweden, No. 5 Andres Gomez of Ecuador, No. 12 Vitas Gerulaitis, No. 14 Anders Jarryd of Sweden and No. 15 Pat Cash of Australia.

Third-seeded Hana Mandlikova of Czechoslovakia won her third-round match, as did No. 14 Carling Bassett of Canada, No. 12 Bonnie Gadusek and two other unseeded players — Petra Delhees Jauch of Switzerland and Lori McNeil of Houston.

Fourth-round pairings in the bottom half of the men's draw has Lendl against Jarryd, Gerulaitis against Gomez, Wilander against Mayotte and Cash against Holmes. In the women's draw, it will be Lloyd against Gadusek, Huber against Hanika, Mandlikova against McNeil and Bassett against Jauch.

Navratilova crushed South Africa's Jennifer Mundel 6-0, 6-0 and Lloyd cruised past Bettina Bunge of West Germany 6-1, 6-3. Mandlikova defeated Anne White 6-1, 6-1; Bassett topped Mima Jausovec of Yugoslavia 7-6, 6-0; Jauch downed Melissa Gurney 7-5, 6-1 and McNeil stopped Anne Minter of Australia 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

Lendl had no trouble with Jimmy Brown, brushing back the Brentwood, Tenn., youngster 6-1, 6-2, 6-4. Wilander fought off Bill Scanlon 7-6, 7-5, 6-3; Gomez toppled Jay Lapidus 6-3, 7-5, 3-6, 6-3; Gerulaitis outlasted qualifier Ken Flach of St. Louis 6-4, 6-2, 4-6, 6-7, 6-1; Jarryd dropped Australian Brad Drewett 6-2, 6-3, 6-3 and Cash eliminated qualifier Todd Nelson of San Diego 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

After a devastating 35-minute appearance, raising her 1984 match record to 55-1 and her consecutive winning streak to 51 matches, Navratilova said: "I feel I can get a lot better."

Mundel was outclassed in every phase of the game, winning 16 points in the first set and only four in the second.

SPORTS HIGHLIGHTS
 by Pat Gray

AL OERTER IN OLYMPIC COMPETITION.
 Al Oerter has won four Olympic gold medals in the discus throw. That means that he was number one in Olympic competition over a span of twelve years. The first time was in Melbourne in 1956 while the most eventful was at the 1964 Games in Tokyo. Oerter had ripped the cartilages off his rib cage in a practice throw. Team physicians encased him in ice packs to ease the pain and to stop the hemorrhaging. They allowed him no other form of exercise than walking. During the competition, he had four throws zing in too low against world record holder Ludvik Danek. However, figuring he had to give it his all, Oerter sent the discus to a new Olympic record on his next toss to win the gold.

Personalized service and attention is given to each customer's needs here at PAT GRAY BODY WORKS. We are equipped to restore all makes and models of domestic and foreign cars to their original condition. You'll find us located at 700 N. Owens, Big Spring, 263-0582, 263-2374. Civic clubs 'filling the stadium'

Don't forget to buy a ticket for the "Fill the Stadium" night planned for the Steers first home game of the year, Sept. 14 against Lubbock Estacado. Members of the various Big Spring civic clubs are selling the tickets. The clubs participating are the Greater Big Spring Rotary, the Big Spring Rotary, the Evening and Downtown Lions, the American Businessman's Club, Big Spring Civitan, Kiwanis, Optimist and Jaycees.

Coahoma community pep rally

COAHOMA — There will be a community pep rally in Coahoma Thursday, Sept. 6 beginning at 8:45 p.m. in Bulldog Stadium. Varsity football players and cheerleaders will be introduced. Seventh grade through JV players will be recognized as will seventh through JV cheerleaders.

Big Spring will host WTRC

Big Spring will host the West Texas Runners Club (WTRC) monthly run in September in conjunction with the Fourth Annual Bill Easterling Memorial Run.

Both events will take place Saturday, Sept. 8 at the McMahon-Wrinkle Air Park. Starting time is 8 a.m. for either the nine mile or two mile courses.

Registration can be done the morning of the race and registration fee will be $3 for non-WTRC members and $2 for members. For more information contact Don Davis at 263-8311.

SWT shocks Shockers

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Eric Cobble rushed for 117 yards on 17 carries, including one touchdown, and David Longhofer threw for 125 yards to lead Southwest Texas State past Wichita State 38-31 in a non-conference football opener Saturday night.

Cobble's 12-yard scoring run in the third quarter and a 2-yard plunge by Longhofer early in the fourth gave the Bobcats a 31-17 lead with just over 12 minutes remaining.

Longhofer, who completed nine of 11 passes, shared time in the quarterback spot with sophomore starter Rene Maldonado, who passed for 68 yards.

After the Shockers broke a 19-minute scoring drought with a 61-yard touchdown pass from Brian McDonald to Albert Hundley, Southwest Texas' Dwayne Orr dived 1 yard to make it 38-24.

McDonald added an 8-yard scoring strike to Hundley with 47 seconds left in the game. He completed 18 of 37 passes for 313 yards and three touchdowns to lead Wichita State.

The crowd of 27,481 at Cessna Stadium was the sixth largest for Wichita State, which is trying to save its NCAA Division IA standing.

Bats strike out on pitch to humans

WASHINGTON (AP) — They developed "sonar" long before human engineers and their reproductive habits could help scientists study artificial insemination. And contrary to popular belief, they don't suck blood. They lap it up.

But somehow, bats have gotten a bad rap.

Bats are profitable, clean, gentle, even cuddly, according to Merlin Tuttle, president of Bat Conservation International, who travels the world trying to save endangered bats.

Tuttle, curator of mammals at the Milwaukee Public Museum, has even eaten bats — stewed in coconut milk on Guam and chopped into hamburger in Thailand — but he only dined on the creatures to please his hosts on scientific trips.

He singles out one species of bat as especially romantic.

"...The female initiates the sex act when she enfolds her suitor with her wings," he wrote last year in an article for the magazine International Wildlife. "Intimacies include prolonged whining and mutual licking and grooming."

Elsewhere, the World Wild Life Fund has just announced an investigation to produce the first over-all figure for the cash value that bats provide by spreading seeds and pollen for more than 130 kinds of plants, from cloves to the cactus used for making tequila. And bat droppings are used as fertilizer.

They don't really get entangled in people's hair, but a baby bat might light on a person's head in the early stages of learning to fly, Tuttle said in an interview during a visit to Washington last week. Bats are the only mammal that flies.

Tuttle disputes the notion that vampire bats suck human blood. He says reports of vampires go back to the earliest Spanish explorers of Latin America, the only place where they exist. The vampire sinks its sharp teeth into the fleshy parts of the body where the skin is thinnest. Tuttle thinks some unwary conquistador must have been sleeping outdoors without his socks and got bitten in the big toe.

Wilfried Schroeder, professor of neuro-biology at the Institute of Brain Research in Leipzig, East Germany, notes that strictly speaking, the vampire bat does not suck blood, but laps it up. Since the true vampire is less than 3 inches long and weighs about an ounce it can absorb only about a tablespoonful.

Some human vampire victims did not realize they had been attacked until next morning, according to Schroeder, author of "The Lives of Bats."

But as many as 14 vampires have been seen on a single horse, and an animal can be bitten more than 30 times in a night. The bat's saliva contains a chemical that keeps blood from clotting so bleeding can go on for hours. Moreover, the vampire can transmit rabies, tetanus and other diseases.

Schroeder estimates the damage to cattle herds between Chile and northern Mexico at $100 million a year.

Though other kinds of bats can also transmit rabies and other diseases, Tuttle claims that records going back 40 years show only 10 deaths in this country attributable to bats, and accuses exterminators of endangering many more lives by using dangerous chemicals against them. In April he was instrumental in getting a law enacted in Wisconsin that prohibits the sale or advertising of pesticides for bat control.

Tuttle and Schroeder both emphasize the value of bats to scientists. Though not blind, bats do not see well. They preceded human engineers by thousands of years in working out their own system of locating objects by sending out sound waves and bouncing them off objects — now known as sonar. They can also distinguish the forms and structures of those objects, an ability that may one day help blind humans.

College guide topples ivory towers

NEW YORK (AP) — The social event of the year at the University of Alaska is "Cheapo Sleezo Night." Carnegie-Mellon leads the nation in computer nerds. Radical politics lives at University of Wisconsin, while sex is all but dead at Oral Roberts.

Other college guides may be content with stodgy facts like grade-point averages and the number of books in the school library. But not "Lisa Birnback's College Book," a wise-cracking, occasionally X-rated guide to 186 college campuses she has visited over the last 2 1/2 years.

The 27-year-old author, who edited the best-selling "Official Preppy Handbook" four years ago, claims her latest book offers the "inside scoop" on the things students really care about: favorite drinks (beer at the University of Alabama and most other campuses, the "Cape Coddler" of cranberry juice and vodka at Smith College), best parties, the drug and alcohol situation, and the sex scene for both straights and gays — among other factors.

The book's publication date is September 24.

Ms. Birnback's guide lapses into seriousness often enough to serve a real purpose for the college bound.

...and now MORE than everything you want to know about college

- You can major in leisure at the University of Washington
- The smallest cafeteria portions are served at Macalester College
- The most imaginative hairdos are at Brigham Young University
- There are gun racks in the dorms of the University of Alaska
- The students most promiscuous in the nation are found at Boston University

Wellesley, business at University of Nebraska), famous alumni, best and worst dorms, best pizza, and the political climate.

There are also several broad essays on campus life. On sex: "In accordance with the born-again conservatism sweeping our country's colleges, sex — real sex — doing it before the engagement ring has been sized, has fallen off somewhat."

Another essay, "Mondo Granola: Whatever Happened to Hippies," answers that question with a look at Reed College in Oregon, and Beloit College in Wisconsin. Says one Beloit English professor: "Lots of people stay here forever. They sleep on Indian mounds."

In a "List of Lists" near the end of the 515-page paperback volume, Ms. Birnback bestows laurels and darts.

Bennington College in Vermont, she found, has the best food, University of Hawaii the worst. The "greatest looking campus" was the University of Washington. Runner-up: Cornell.

Brown University, Ms. Birnback's alma mater, is rated — with maybe a smidgen of bias — as "most popular."

The "cutest students" are to be found at University of California at Santa Barbara and Arizona State University, says the guide. The ugliest coeds are supposedly at the University of Alaska, and the worst-looking males are at the University of Pennsylvania and Indiana University.

"I'm speechless," responded Susan Hays, an Indiana spokeswoman. "I frankly think there are a lot of cute guys on campus, and I wish I were 30 years younger."

Rated most promiscuous campus: Boston University. Least: Oral Roberts.

Texas A&M University tied with Princeton as having the most school spirit, to which Aggie spokesman Lane Stephenson drawled: "I don't know how Princeton got up there, do you?"

Campuses with least school spirit, said Ms. Birnback, were Emory University in Atlanta and the State University of New York in Albany.

Northwestern University was said to have the worst football team.

To its mild chagrin, University of Miami, a school working hard to shake its sun-and-fun image, was still dubbed best party school.

Ape artist doesn't monkey around

NASHVILLE (AP) — Deena the painting chimp, whose artwork sells for $25 a print, made a guest appearance at a local day care center to show her stuff to a roomful of delighted children.

The 3-year-old chimpanzee owned and trained by a former pet shop owner from Texas donned her smock Thursday at the Cooperative Day Care Center.

Owner Michael Stower of Richardson, Texas, takes Deena and two other chimps around the country for charity events and private exhibits always accompanied by a painting demonstration by the guest artist.

Stower says he sometimes donates the originals to charity.

On top of Deen's demonstration, the youngsters received handshakes from the chimp who clowned with an all-white rabbit at the center.

Instead of the usual oils or watercolors, Deena's medium is tempera paint, commonly used by preschoolers for finger painting.

According to Stower, Deena re-creates "the world as only she sees it."

Water purchase floats canoe firm

NEW BRAUNFELS (AP) — A water purchase by a downstream utility company has given the tube and canoe rental businesses along the Guadalupe River an unexpected boost.

The river was expected to be running at 290 cubic feet per second Saturday, more than seven times the recent flow.

The additional flow comes from 500 acre-feet of Canyon Lake water bought by Central Power & Light Co., a Corpus Christi utility that needed the extra water for its Celero Creek pumping station.

An acre-foot is 325,851 gallons.

"This is real good. It means we'll have enough water to float rafts, which is something we haven't been able to do this year," said Ellen Martin, treasurer of the Lower Guadalupe Business Association and owner of Whitewater Sports, a river recrea-

Skins and glitter new trends for fall

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

The over-sized look, comfort, texture, glitter, and skins are key descriptions to this fall and holiday season's styles for women and young ladies. Ease and comfort will be important factors this fall. Jackets with strong rounded shoulders top long skirts or wide-leg trousers. Sweaters — long and fluid or short and square — enliven separates and range from simple, sophisticated cashmeres to innovative pictorials and countrified tweeds. Menswear inspired coats with bold shoulders and notched lapels work over pants and skirts, while swirling capes look dramatic over dresses. "Sweaters are the story this year," says Gary Steffen, women's fashion buyer at a local department store. "Women are wearing them rather than blouses or in combinations of sweaters with blouses." "Sweaters are the big item for daytime or evening," says Diane Clinton, fashion buyer at women's boutique. "(At market,) they have beautiful beaded sweaters for after five, and they are adding skins to sweaters." Sweaters help provide the needed texture for fall looks this year. They are slubbed, flecked or cabled, and tweeds, herringbones and finely corded fabrics shape up as strong wovens. Sportswear items are put together with an emphasis on mixing, often in tone-on-tone combinations: nubby sweaters play against brushed twill pants and leather-trimmed mohair jackets; fine silk blouses tuck into thick wool skirts. Mohair and alpaca line up with textured wools as important outerwear fabrics. Hand-knit and hand-loomed sweaters and vests are the strongest this season, according to trend setters at the Dallas Apparel Mart. Improved creativity in knits have mixed colors, patterns and textures and contributed to their popularity among retailers. "Oversized clothing means baggy jeans and big shirts with belts that draw in at the waist," says Steffen. "Belts are being worn this fall outside the shirt and not through the belt loops on the pants." Fashion looks for jeans are not the 5-pocket jean we are all familiar with. "The five-pocket jean has lost its importance," Steffen said. "Colors and stripes on navy, distressed or stone-washed denim are popular this fall. The crop ankle pant continues to be important." "Pants legs have changed from the stove-pipe width to a little wider width. Jumpsuits from casual to after-5 will be brought back again," Mrs. Clinton said. "Corduroy walking shorts with knee socks or textured hose and sweaters are big. Moving on to dresses, 'everybody at market is big on dresses,' says Mrs. Clinton. "Dresses have moved from the mannish cut to feminine flair again. The lines aren't as straight or drastic. They are putting a lot of capes with dresses and a lot of accessories and belting with them. For working women, 'they've made the clothes now where you can wear them to work and out to dinner,' she said. Wardrobes can be better coordinated to where a woman doesn't have to make as large an investment in separate pieces for evening, work or home. Apparel for career women is 'growing in importance, but it's not showing expansion,' says Steffen. "As more women enter the job market, it will continue to grow. 'Investment dressing' means man tailored outfits — suits, skirts and blazers." "For holiday, it's glitter, sequins and lace, and lots of it," says Mrs. Clinton. "There's going to be some velvet brought back in for holiday wear. It hasn't been offered much for a few years on the market. See Fashion page 5-C

Group promotes cotton with two contests

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

In addition to the "Sew It With Cotton" contest, the Dryland Cotton Promoters will sponsor its first annual "Farmer's Daughter" contest in conjunction with the Howard County Fair, Sept. 18.

Winners of both contests will be announced the evening of Sept. 18 at the Howard County Fair Barn. The Dryland Cotton Promoters is a group of local farming wives who support the need for their product — cotton. The group sponsors many projects aimed at the promotion of cotton products and usage.

"It takes the little strange things to catch the judge's eyes. It's the odd idea out on the garment that makes it win," says Patsy Fryar, winner of the Professional division of the first annual "Sew It With Cotton" contest in 1982 and member of the organization.

The third annual contest will promote cotton in the sewing of fashionable garments and in selecting ready-made garments. "We feel like that being farmer's wives it's our duty to promote our product and get the community involved in using our product. The best way we knew to do that was to get people wearing and sewing cotton clothing," says Beverly Jeffcoat, a chairman of the contest.

"With this year's current fashion trends, it seems cotton is very popular," she said. "We want people to enhance their wardrobes and have home-sewn garments, too, made out of cotton fabrics."

Not only is the contest held locally. Other counties and the district hold the contest as well. Sewers can enter here and other places and keep on going. The Dryland Cotton Promoters has information about the contests around the state.

"I'm not sure if it's a result of the contest or fashion trends, but when we started, few items being offered in the stores were 50/50 or above cotton blends. Now there are many, and the fabric stores are carrying cotton blends or 100 percent cotton," Mrs. Jeffcoat said. Fabric stores have worked well with the Dryland Cotton Promoters with past sewing contests. The stores have had many customers requesting cotton fabrics, she said.

"Because of our contest, people are more aware of what can be made with cotton — that beautiful fashions can be made with cotton and not just Levis and sportswear only."

Last year's contest "went very well," Mrs. Jeffcoat said. "We had a lot of participation in adult division. We had lower participation that we would like to have in youth division. We would like to see more youth enter this year."

"We would like to have young people, like the Future Homemakers of America and the 4-Hers, participate. They have made projects for other things that might meet the requirements of this contest," she said. The Dryland Cotton Promoters do not want to lump the junior and senior youth divisions together if participation is low but will if they have to.

"We had a very wide variety of fashions and high quality in last year's contest. In fact, the judges remarked that the scores were extremely close and all very high."

The contest rules have not changed this year from last year's contest. Last year, the contest was graded on the Olympic decimal point system.

"This worked real well. There weren't any ties," Mrs. Jeffcoat said. "The thing we would like to see is many more people enter it. The economy of Howard County is so dependent on farming and cotton being the main product," she said, "we want to see people buying and using it. Even though this has been a bad year for cotton, we are promoting it for a better year."

The contest's judging will be at 12:30 p.m. Sept. 15 at the Big Spring Mall. Awards will be presented at the style show at the Howard County Fair Barn at 7 p.m. Sept. 18. Prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in each of the three divisions.

Rules for the 'Sew it with Cotton' and 'Farmer's Daughter' contests may be found on pg. C-6

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER — Teresa Gaskins and her daughter Katy are wearing similar cotton garments they wore during the Dryland Cotton Promoters "Sew It With Cotton" contest last year. The organization is sponsoring its third "Sew it with Cotton" contest and a "Farmer's Daughter" contest during the Howard County Fair, Sept. 15 and 18.

Weddings

MRS. GREGORY L. STOVALL

Paige-Stovall

Gayla Danell Paige and Gregory Lynn Stovall were wed in a ceremony at Midway Baptist Church Saturday evening. Dr. Rick Davis, former pastor, officiated at the 7 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Paige, Rt. 1. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stovall of Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Clay Gable of Wildorado.

The couple exchanged vows before an brass archway with greenery, and brass spiral candelabra with greenery.

Jerry Lewis, guitarist, Lorene Barbee, pianist, and vocalists Andrea Gee, Ronda Fowler, Jerry Lewis and Shanon Lewis provided music for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother and father, wore a gown fashioned with a fitted princess-style bodice of re-embroidered lace and pressed organza off-the-shoulder sleeves. The wreath of illusion veil was made by the bride and her mother. Both the gown and the veil were accented by seed pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of white japelets with navy blue baby's breath.

Carmen Ritchey of San Angelo served as matron on honor. Bridesmaids were Annette King and Melissa Paige, sisters of the bride, and Janet Paige, sister-in-law of the bride. Amber Bennett was flower girl, and Jeremy Collier, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Sid Howard of Canyon served as best man. Groomsmen were Lance Stovall of McLean, brother of the bridegroom, Mark McDowell of Shamrock and Lanny Nelson. Perry Echols of Snyder and Kurk Bray of Dumas were ushers. Candlelighters were Cody Gable and Lee Gable of Wildorado, brothers of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church's fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth overlaid with a blue cloth. The table featured a three-tiered white cake accented with blue tipped roses. The bridegroom's table was covered with a lace cloth and featured a German chocolate cake was served.

The bride is a graduate of Coahoma High School and attended Howard College. She will attend West Texas State University in Canyon. The bridegroom graduated from McLean High School and Howard College. He will attend West Texas State University in Canyon. He works on a ranch in Wildorado.

Following a wedding trip to Ruidosa, N.M., the couple will live in Wildorado.

Anderson-Wristen

The St. Mary's Episcopal Church was the setting for the Saturday evening ceremony of Martha Anderson and Bert Cooper Wristen. The Rev. Robert Bonnington, pastor, and the Rev. Steve Birdwell of Roswell N.M., officiated at the 6:30 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Anderson of Gail. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clay Wristen of Lamesa.

Mary Skalicky, organist, Joan Bonnington, celloist, and Mary Anderson, sister of the bride and harpist, and vocalist W. A. Anderson, uncle of the bride, provided music for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory gown of Alencon lace, Point d'esprit, satin and pearls. The bodice of beaded Alencon lace and Point d'esprit featured an open pleated neckline, which was bordered with tiny rows of pearls. The bodice was fitted through the longated waistline. Full-shaped, puffed sleeves of Point d'esprit were beaded in rows of pearls and beads. The skirt of satin fell into a cathedral-length train. She wore a Juliet cap headpiece beaded with pearls and sequins, which held illusion bordered by tiny pearls and ornamented with sprays of beaded Alencon lace flowers.

The bride carried a spray of ivory bride's roses, stephanotis, baby's breath and ivy arranged on her grandmother's prayer book.

Joni Rogers Kirk of Greensboro, N.C. served as matron on honor. Bridesmaids were Sally Anderson of Lovington, N.M., sister of the bride, Gloria Schattle of Richardson, Darby Evans Albers of Houston and Jerri Nace of Conroe. Sarah Bland of Lovington, N.M., niece of the bride, and Ambra Davis of Kenai, Alaska, niece of the bridegroom, served as junior bridesmaids. Serving as acolytes were John Bland, bride's nephew, and John Clay Davis of Kenai, Alaska, bridegroom's nephew.

Joe Wristen of Manchaca served as best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Hadley Wristen of Lamesa, bridegroom's brother, John Anderson of Gail, brother of the bride, Steve Schuttle of Richardson, Don Ferrill of College Station, and Billy Ray Mayfield of Lamesa.

Following the ceremony, a reception and dance were held at the Muleshoe Ranch, home of the bride. The guests were greeted under a large briday tent. The bride's table held a wedding cake adorned with violets. The bridegroom's table featured a cake and homemade ice cream.

Stop Overpaying Your Taxes

What happened to the money earned during your first two hours and thirty minutes of work today? The average American taxpayer spends the first 150 minutes of each work day paying federal, state, and local taxes. Many of these taxpayers are overpaying their taxes needlessly because they have not been able to keep up with the rapidly changing tax laws. In a test program last year, H&R Block, the nation's largest preparation firm, found over $2,000,000 dollars in overpaid taxes for new clients in just one midwestern state.

How can you stop overpaying your taxes? By learning more about what is taking over one-third of your income. Learn about all the various tax deductions, credits, and adjustments that you may have been missing on your tax return. Learn from an expert about the benefits of owning rental property and using those write-offs to lower your taxes. Learn how to find all the employment-related expenses you are presently paying for but not deducting; find out how an IRA may cut your tax bill by many hundreds of dollars; learn how to lower your tax by deducting the taxes you have already paid; and learn how income averaging may save you hundreds of dollars in taxes. All these things may be learned the easy way by enrolling in the H&R Block Income Tax course starting Sept. 6th.

This comprehensive 12-week course covers all of these topics plus many more ways to save on your taxes. You learn about income averaging, energy credits, child and dependent care credit, travel expense deductions to your second job or for charitable works, and many more money-saving benefits hidden from the average uneducated taxpayer. The course is taught using the latest programmed learning manuals and, more importantly, by actually preparing income tax returns. It will even teach you how to get back some of your overpaid taxes from last year.

For more information on how you can learn how to stop overpaying your taxes, call collect - 332-7801 or stop by the H&R Block office at 1512 Gregg to discuss the course and to review the teaching material.

Wade-Disch

Marilyn Dee Wade and John Adrian Disch II were wed in a Saturday afternoon ceremony at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Robert L. Bonnington, pastor, officiated at the 2 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conny Wade, 1751 Purdue. The bridegroom is the son of Ann Disch of Midland and John Disch of El Paso.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar of white day lilies and pale pink alstromira lilies. Organist Mary Skalicky provided music for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a two-piece dress of rose-tone beige crepe de chine. The bodice was fashioned with a gathered-edged yoke and boat neckline. The gathered skirt was belted with a crushed cummerbund. She wore a strand of pearls.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white bridal roses and baby's breath, tied with burgundy satin ribbon. The bouquet was carried atop a white, ivory inlaid Bible from Bethlehem, Israel.

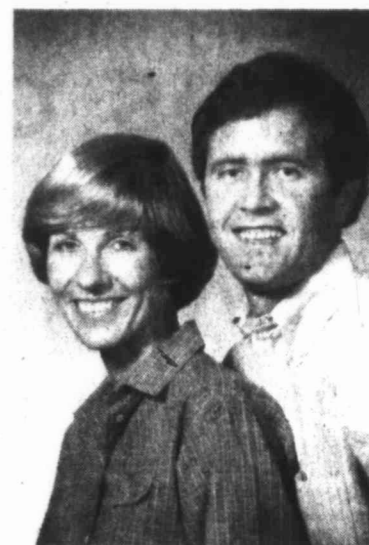

Michelle Baker served her mother as maid of honor. Allen Baker, the bride's son, was best man. Ushers were Steve Lancaster and Terrell Pierce, brothers-in-law of the bride.

A reception was held in the church parish hall following the ceremony. Both the bride and bridegroom's tables were covered with a hand-crocheted ecru lace cloth. The bride's two-tiered white cake was decorated with garlands of cornelli lace and white roses topped with symbolic wedding rings and white doves. Ecru candles, placed in crystal holders, Bible and the bridal bouquet were placed on the table. The bridegroom's table featured brass candelabra and burgundy candles. Hors-d'oeuvres were served.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Alberto's Crystal Cafe, and a miscellaneous shower was held for the bride recently by Angie Pearce and Lynn Whiteley in Midland. Members of the house party were Terrell Pierce and Larry Eichinger, both of Odessa, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Lancaster, Wayne Burns, James A. Lancaster and Lellah Adkins, all of Big Spring.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Howard College, and is the office manager of Midland Resources, Inc., in Midland. The bridegroom is a graduate of Midland Lee High School and Texas A & M University with a bachelor of business administration degree in finance. He is the director of information systems at Tom Brown, Inc. in Midland.

MRS. "TONY" LYNN MODISETTE

Balios-Smith

The wedding vows of Molly Beth Balios and Maurice Lynn Smith Jr. were solemnized Saturday afternoon during a ceremony at the 11th and Birdwell Church of Christ. Byron Corn, minister, officiated at the 2 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Balios, 1709 Alabama. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith Sr., 4037 Vicky.

The couple was wed before an altar decorated by nine candles and candelabra entwined with peach-colored flowers. Three large baskets of greenery were placed on each side of the altar.

Betty Downey on the keyboard and pianist Suzanne Cranford, Carol Boyd, Londa Henry and Ceil Bedell provided music for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an A-line silhouette gown of white satin designed with a Princess neckline and French puffed sleeves. The traditional gown was trimmed with re-embroidered Chantilly lace on the neck, sleeves and waist. The chapel-length train fell from a matching band of lace. The bride's finger-tip length veil of imported white illusion was fastened to a flower wreath. She wore pearl earrings and necklace that was handed down three generations from the bridegroom's mother.

She carried a bouquet of white roses with accents of peach with white lace and streamers. Mitzi Balios served her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Julie Quam of Greeley, Colo., Cindy Cozart of San Angelo, and Janice Boone of Irving. Alisha Thompson, niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl, and ring bearer was Jeremy Balios, nephew of the bride.

Bill Smith served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Tim Croyle, Alan White, and Greg Henry. Danny Nolting and Mark Balios, brother of the bride, were ushers.

A reception was held in the church's fellowship hall following the ceremony.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and light blue carnations tied with satin ribbon. Peggy Bryant served as maid of honor. Flower girl was Sarah Bristow, and Aaron Bristow was ring bearer.

Tommy Modisette served as best man. Ushers were Paul Walker, brother of the bride, and Bennette Modisette, brother of the bridegroom. Paul Walker and Marie Lavergne were candlelighters.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table featured a two-tiered cake topped with blue bells. The table was draped with a blue underlay and a hand crocheted cloth, made by the bride's great-grandmother. The bridegroom's table featured a lace cloth over a navy inlay. A German chocolate cake was served.

The bride earned a GED. The groom is a graduate of O'Donnell High School. He is employed by Cameo Energy Homes.

Following a three day trip to Dallas, the couple will live in Coahoma.

MRS. MAURICE L. SMITH

Pawlik-Flood

Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church in McAllen was the setting for the wedding ceremony of Cheryl Ann Pawlik and Joseph Dean Flood, both of Big Spring, Sept. 1. The Rev. James Pfeifer, O.M.I., uncle of the bride and pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in McAllen, officiated at the 7:30 p.m. rite before an altar decorated with mixed flowers in shades of dusty rose and white with greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Pawlik of McAllen. The bridegroom is the son of Jane Thomas of Big Spring and William Flood of Philadelphia, Pa.

Virginia Townsend, organist, and Veronica Sanchez, vocalist, performed music for the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white silk organza fashioned with a Victorian neckline and Bishop sleeves. The bodice was accented in Chantilly appliques with sequins and seed pearls. The chapel train was a cascade of wedgewood lace ruffles. The bridal veil of white illusion was held by a Camelot cape of Venice lace and seed pearls. The walk-length two-tiered veil was edged in Venice lace with lace applique accents.

The bride carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis and astroemeria.

Tina Atkins of McAllen was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Toni Schaar of College Station, sister of the bride, Jo Ella Pawlik of Kingsville, sister of the bride, Cindy Glick of Edinburg, and Stephanie Jarzombek of McAllen, cousin of the bride.

Bill Butler of McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey was best man. Groomsmen were Steve Flood and Jim Flood, both of Philadelphia, Pa. and brothers of the bridegroom, Mike Ladd of Midland and Mark Christenson of Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Ushers were Tim Pawlik of College Station and Jimmy Paulik of Baton Rouge, La., both brothers of the bride. Mat Fragile and Chris Fragile, both of Beckley, W. Va. and nephews of the bride, and Danny Waters of McAllen were altar boys. Travis Schaar of College Station was reader.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception at the Cimarron Country Club in McAllen. The bride's table was decorated with a candelabrum and aspergus fern. It featured a white three-tiered cake decorated with assorted dusty rose and white flowers. The bridegroom's table was decorated with aspergus fern and held the bridegroom's cake, a carrot cake decorated with the bride and bridegroom's names.

The bride is a graduate of McAllen High School and Texas Tech University. She is a civil engineer with the Texas State

MRS. JOSEPH D. FLOOD

Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Northeast High School in Philadelphia, Pa. and University of Maine at Presque Isle in Presque Isle, Ma. He is assistant manager of Brown's Shoe Fit Co. in Big Spring.

Following a wedding trip to Beckley, W. Va., the couple will live in Big Spring.

Walker-Modisette

Charlotte "Sheri" Walker became the bride of "Tony" Lynn Modisette in a ceremony held Thursday evening in Salem Baptist Church. The Rev. Kenneth Platte, pastor, officiated at the 8 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Sherry Walker, Sterling City Rt., and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Walker, Rt. 1. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Modisette, O'Donnell.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar flanked by a floral archway and candelabra.

Pianist Ryan Walker and vocalist Mona Lou Tonn provided music for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Chantilly gown. The bodice featured a scalloped Florentine neckline trimmed with sequins and long petal-point sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented by tiered lace ruffles. Her garland headpiece consisted of white roses and blue carnations.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and light blue carnations tied with satin ribbon.

Peggy Bryant served as maid of honor. Flower girl was Sarah Bristow, and Aaron Bristow was ring bearer.

Tommy Modisette served as best man. Ushers were Paul Walker, brother of the bride, and Bennette Modisette, brother of the bridegroom. Paul Walker and Marie Lavergne were candlelighters.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table featured a two-tiered cake topped with blue bells. The table was draped with a blue underlay and a hand crocheted cloth, made by the bride's great-grandmother. The bridegroom's table featured a lace cloth over a navy inlay. A German chocolate cake was served.

The bride earned a GED. The groom is a graduate of O'Donnell High School. He is employed by Cameo Energy Homes.

Following a three day trip to Dallas, the couple will live in Coahoma.

Play... Dallas Cowboy Football!

WIN UP TO $1,000

HERE'S HOW TO PLAY!

Obtain a free Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football weekly game card each time you visit a Winn-Dixie store. No purchase necessary. Then watch Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football each week on network television or check your local newspaper or radio poster at any Winn-Dixie store for the score of both teams at the completion of the game.

If the last number of the final score of each team matches the score on your Dallas Cowboy Pro-Football game card, you win the dollar amount indicated on your card, either $1, $2, $5, $10, $100 or $1000. EXAMPLE: If the score on your card reads DALLAS 9, NEW ENGLAND 7, it means the DALLAS score could be 9, 19, 29, 39, 49, 59, etc., and the NEW ENGLAND score could be 7, 17, 27, 37, 47, 57, etc. Any combination of scores ending in 9 for DALLAS and 7 for NEW ENGLAND would give you a winning card.

Coupons not always a bargain for consumers

"Cents-off coupons for use in food markets are a form of advertising and not necessarily a bargain for consumers, farmers or grocers," says Mary Clayton, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

Much attention has been focused on people who receive "free" groceries by collecting coupons and utilizing special coupon offers. Coupon clubs and newsletters have sprung up as more consumers look for ways to save money. "But using coupons may not be the best answer to high food prices for many families," says Clayton.

According to USDA research, coupons are primarily issued for storable, brand-name items instead of less processed, perishable products. Coffee, prepared foods, breakfast cereal, flour and flour mix products, account for 10 percent of the consumer food budget, yet make up about 60 percent of the value of coupons redeemed.

"If consumers are primarily concerned with reducing food costs," states Clayton, "they should compare the cost of brand-name products with cents-off coupons, to generic or house brands which may be less expensive." Consumers should also consider preparing more dishes from "scratch," which will generally result in lower costs than processed, prepared food items even with coupon reductions, recommends the specialist.

Many grocers object to coupons because they feel the reimbursement of their handling costs are inadequate and the doubling of coupon values cuts profits, says Clayton.

Coupons have little effect on the demand for agricultural products' raw farm products because they are mostly used to promote food with a low farm price compared to retail price, she adds.

Manufacturers have found that using coupons for advertising is a good way to introduce new products, build brand loyalty, and insure that price reductions are passed on to the consumer, notes Clayton. As a result, the coupons distributed by manufacturers skyrocketed from 10 billion to 90 billion between 1965 and 1980.

Although 3.3 cents of every $10 dollars spent by the consumer for food goes to cover the cost of coupons, it is unlikely that food prices would drop in the absence of coupons, says Clayton. It is more likely that manufacturers would shift to other types of advertising, she adds.

Low cholesterol diet not for everyone

A recent study by the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute which showed that reducing cholesterol with diet and drugs can reduce the risk of heart disease, has generated more public interest in low-fat diets, says nutritionist Dr. Alice Hunt. But not everyone needs to be concerned, since it's estimated that only about 25 percent of American adult men and women need to lower their cholesterol levels, says Hunt, a specialist with the Texas A & M University Agricultural Extension Service.

If you are considering a low-cholesterol diet, Hunt suggests having your blood cholesterol checked by your doctor. If it is above 240 mg/dl, your doctor may recommend that it be reduced with a low-fat diet.

Fashion

Furs are in this fall, as well as, leather and suedes, she said. Leather and suedes are big this year because they are easier and less expensive to have cleaned today than they were in the past.

"All year long, accessories have been a big item," Mrs. Clinton said. "And into holiday, they're going to be what sets off the different styles. Accessories are moving toward chunky and big — earrings, necklaces, belts and bracelets. Everything is chunky and big.

During the holiday season, "you'll see a lot of textured hosiery and a lot of colors being brought in. You will see a lot of different textures even in your basic hose," she said. "Hats also are a major accessory for daytime or evening.

"Beaded evening bags will be an important accessory. Hair ornaments are in. (Fashion trend makers) are going back to a lot of the pearls, clear beads and cut stones for after-five," she said. "A lot of the jewelry they were wearing in the 1950s they are bringing back again."

Many things are being trimmed with zippers and rubber, even in jewelry and bags. It's part of the punk influence.

"Even on fashions that are not punk, they are putting a lot of accessories that are off-slings of punk for people who do not care for punk but want to be updated," says Mrs. Clinton.

Basic fall colors — taupe, burgundy and black — are highlighted with brighter colors and accessories, says Steffen. "Charcoal gray is the main base color," Mrs. Clinton said. "Bright colors with charcoal gray are being used." Bright colors include royal blues, fuchsias, plums and mauves. "Winter white makes a big statement for wardrobes this winter season," she said.

March of Dimes plans for parent seminar

The Caprock Chapter of the March of Dimes made plans for a parent seminar entitled "Parents, It's Time to Talk" at its meeting Monday. The seminar will be held Oct. 13.

The seminar will be a joint effort between the March of Dimes Chapter, Parent Support Task Force Group and the Howard County Extension Service. Its goal is to try and help parents communicate with their children. Judi Atkins of the Parent Support Task Force Group, Naomi Hunt of the Howard County Extension Service and Linda Floyd, executive director of the March of Dimes, attended the meeting.

To make reservations for the seminar, contact the March of Dimes office at 263-3014. The time and place of the seminar will be announced after the next meeting, Sept. 4.

MR. AND MRS. JODY KEMPER

The Jody Kempers

Jody and Grace Kemper were honored for their 58th wedding anniversary during a luncheon Wednesday at Western Choice Steakhouse. The event was given by their daughters and sons-in-law.

Kemper was late for his wedding 58 years ago. The guests told the bride he wasn't coming. She said, "He will be here." Sure enough, he got there as soon as he got his car pulled out of a tank with a team of horses. He had driven the car there to wash it, and it rolled into the water. They were married Aug. 29, 1926.

The couple has three daughters: Joyce Ditto, Marvelene Bradford and Lou Ellen Romine. They have nine grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

The Vernon Sutphen

MR. AND MRS. VERNON SUTPHEN

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sutphen of San Angelo, formerly of Ackerly, will be honored on their 50th wedding anniversary with a reception at the Homestead Inn Halliburton Room. The event will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Sept. 8 with their children and grandchildren as hosts.

Vernon Sutphen and Laura Louise Langham were born and raised in Ackerly. They were married Sept. 1, 1934 in Big Spring and moved to San Angelo in 1968. Sutphen is a retired carpenter and Mrs. Sutphen worked for San Angelo's public schools for 14 years.

The couple has four children: Larry Sutphen of Grapevine, Nelda Carstinsin of Garden City, Ronald Sutphen of Amarillo, and Shirley Oaks of Water Valley. The couple also has 12 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Guidelines to house plants

When it comes to selecting plants to enhance your home's interior settings, there aren't any hard-and-fast rules. But there are a few important guidelines to keep in mind.

First, choose plants which are well-suited to your normal home environment. Considerations, such as availability of light, range of temperature, and humidity must be made, as are decisions regarding how and where plants will be used.

How will plants be used? To brighten a small area, such as a bookshelf, wall unit, or a kitchen countertop? Or will they be used to divide a large room or "tie the dimensions" of a high-ceilinged room together? Then keep in mind that small is better in a small room. It's all a matter of proportion.

Second, how much care will be given to the plant? If a lot of time and effort can't be given to nurse delicate specimens, then go with the wide range of "easy-care" plants available.

Finally, it's a matter of personal judgement, along with due consideration of plant needs. Become educated on watering, feeding, potting and other aspects of nature's green gifts.

"Going For the Burn"

This is a chemical reaction, the result of a buildup of lactic acid because of a temporary lack of oxygen, which indicates that a muscle has been pushed to its limit. It takes 48-72 seconds for a muscle to reach fatigue. you will get 90% out of the movement in that amount of time — pushing beyond that (last 10%) increases your risk of injury. Stop when you feel pain or the burn sensation.

Microwave needs separate circuit

Power surges from other kitchen appliances can damage a microwave oven and result in costly repair bills, says a Texas A & M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

A microwave oven should have its own 15 amp circuit, especially if it has touch controls rather than a mechanical dial control, says Bonnie L. Piernot, a specialist in family resource management. A microwave oven with touch control number pads has a micro-processor which is susceptible to the rapid rise and drop of electrical power caused by appliances such as an ice-maker refrigerator or air conditioner. This surge of electricity can damage the micro-processor's electronic circuit board, causing the oven unit to fail, she cautions.

A warranty typically covers the control unit for two years.

Too much shade affects grass growth under trees

Deteriorating lawns are often blamed on lack of fertilizer or competition with tree roots when the actual culprit is too much shade.

This is especially true in newer residential areas where lawns were established and trees planted shortly after the owner moved in. Everything grew beautifully the first eight to 10 years, and then suddenly the grass began to thin out and weeds started to invade the lawn.

What actually happened was that as the trees grew larger, their shade covered more lawn area.

Bermuda grass is sun-loving and will look ragged in a shaded location. It is seldom worthwhile to attempt to grow Bermuda grass beneath trees.

St. Augustine is more shade tolerant, but it won't thrive in heavy shade. St. Augustine will do fine under young trees, but as they grow and produce more shade, the grass begins to thin.

Grass leaves need ample light to produce necessary sugars and starches through photosynthesis. Without light, the plant starves for lack of food, and no amount of fertilizer or water will cure it.

These few steps may help grass in shady areas:

- Raise the height of your mower blade so the mowing height is at least 3 inches in shaded areas.

- Avoid using high-nitrogen fertilizers which can promote disease problems.

- Practice deep watering at less frequent intervals.

- Avoid foot traffic over the area.

- Thin out the crowns of trees by cutting back to side branches, allowing more light to penetrate.

- Remove a few of the trees completely. The remaining trees will soon fill in, and you will seldom miss the ones that were removed.

- Remove leaves promptly as they fall.

- Remove a few of the lower limbs on existing trees to a height of 8 to 10 feet. This will permit more sunlight to reach the grass.

Shade tolerant ground covers can be an alternative to grass. Good shade-loving ground cover plants include English ivy, ajuga, vinca minor and mondo grass. If the shade is not too heavy, Asiatic jasmine also will do well.

Local women help at convention

Several Howard County Republican Ladies joined former Big Spring residents to man an information booth at the Hyatt Regency for the Republican Convention in Dallas last week.

ELMA MARTINEZ, former Volunteer Coordinator at Big Spring State Hospital and presently Volunteer Coordinator for the City of Plano, was chairman of the booth for two days. Former Big Spring residents living in the Dallas area, who had been active members of the Howard County Republican Women for many years, also worked. They are CAROL HUNTER, JOYCE GREEN, ROSEMARY FERRELL and LINDA PATTERSON-BYLSMA.

Elma asked the Howard County Republican Women volunteers to come from Big Spring to work. Those making the 300-mile trip were MARY JOY COWPER, POLLY MAYS, JUDY SMITH and NANCY DUNNAM.

The women agreed that it was exciting and entertaining to be a vital part of the Republican Host Committee and the Convention. Several of the women have held local public offices. All have done vast amounts of civic and church work in addition to their Republican volunteer time. Also, most are career women.

Delegates and other Host Committee workers who came in contact with the Big Spring women remarked that they typified the contemporary Republican woman. One reporter even took information for a story.

BARBARA SMITH SCIBETTA and ELFRIEDA SHUKERT of Pacifica, Calif. are writing a non-fiction book about World War II War Brides. Their goal is to locate 2,000 war brides to do a comprehensive study of their history and to learn what became of them.

American soldiers married women from all over the world during and after WWII and it is not unlikely that nearly one million foreign brides and fiancées entered the United States during the ten year period covered by their study (1942-1952), they say.

The women also plan to have a war bride reunion aboard the Queen Mary in Long Beach, Calif. in April 1985. Anyone with information about war brides or war grooms from WWII or immediately thereafter (1942-1952) is asked to contact the women by writing or calling: War Brides Revisited, 1101 Rainier Ave., Pacifica, Calif. 94044, (415) 359-4192.

Rebekahs and Odd Fellows honor Mark Corwin at dinner

A covered dish dinner honoring Mark Corwin and a Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 meeting were held Tuesday.

The Rebekahs and the Odd Fellows Lodge sponsored Corwin in a trip to the United Nations in July. He toured Washington, D. C., New York and the United Nations. He also saw the Niagra Falls from the United States side and the Canada side.

Margie Swan of the Mary Rebekah Lodge No. 117 of Austin was a guest. Birthday night will be Sept. 11.

Lifestyle policies

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement, wedding, silver or golden anniversary in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this.

The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form must include a name and telephone number of a person whom we can reach during the day for more information.

We will use a picture of the couple in the announcements. Or in the case of engagement announcements where a picture of the couple is not available, we will use one of the bride-elect. The picture must be a professional quality studio photograph. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print. We ask for this kind of photograph so that it will reproduce well in the newspaper. Following the picture's publication, it may be picked up at the Lifestyle department.

The information for the story may be brought to the Lifestyle department of the Herald, which is located at 710 Scurry. Or it may be mailed to Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Call us at (915) 263-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

ENGAGEMENTS
Information on engagement announcements must be submitted to the Lifestyle department of the Herald anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks prior to the wedding. Anything closer than three weeks will not be published. The engagement form must be submitted no later than Wednesday noon prior to the Sunday it is to be published.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to the Herald. If only grandparents live in our area, please, give their names and addresses.

WEDDINGS
If a wedding writeup is submitted to the Herald after the wedding has occurred, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

Injured children

Children who are ill or injured need some sympathy, but too much pity may convince them the pain is more serious than it really is, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

Not luck or talent: Success comes with work

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Ever wonder how people become successful? According to SEVENTEEN magazine, it's not just luck or even talent that brings the big payoff. Success really depends on whether someone is willing to work hard to achieve it.

"Successful people make their own good luck and create opportunities for themselves," says Dr. Adele Scheele, a career coach and author of Skills for Success and Making College Pay Off. Such people, she adds, are willing to take risks — and a few hard knocks as well — in order to do their very best.

How can teens learn to work at being successful? The key is to begin developig some of the important traits that most of life's winners seem to share.

First success involves the ability to take risks. "Every actress who ever auditioned for a role, every politician who ever ran for office, and every scientist who ever suggested a startling new theory was taking a chance on failure and ridicule," says Dawn Raffel, author of the article. Martha Quinn, for example, auditioned against 1,500 people to be an MTV video jockey. She was fresh out of college and competing against other hopefuls who had more experience and knowledge about music but she took the risk. As a result, "Her fresh outlook and enthusiasm turned out to be just what the producers were looking for, (and) she got the job."

In addition to taking risks, explains Dr. Carol Galligan, a clinical psychologist and executive director of the Women's Institute in New York, being committed to a goal is absolutely essential for success. "You needn't be selfish to succeed," she says, "but you do need to make your work a priority, and you need to work hard." Figure skater Scott Hamilton achieved his goal of winning a gold medal in the Olympics, Raffel says, but his success came from practicing five to six hours a day for 16 years and overcoming a rare pancreatic disorder.

Survey shows Texas invaded by young, urban professionals

By DAVID HILL
Texas Poll Director

Almost one in every five adult Texans wasn't here 10 years ago, and these newcomers tend to be younger, better educated and more urban than lifelong Texans, the Texas Poll has found.

It's long been recognized that people are moving to Texas in record numbers, but who these newcomers are, what characteristics they have, and how they might be changing the state are largely unknown.

Data from three Texas Polls conducted in the last nine months have been combined to provide an overview of these people.

The total number of people interviewed in the polls was 3,014. Of those, 565 (19 percent) said they had moved to Texas in the last 10 years — the Texas Poll classifies these people as newcomers. Almost one-fourth (23 percent) have lived in the state more than 10 years but not all of their lives — the older migrants. Lifelong Texans comprised 58 percent of the respondents.

Among the Texas Poll's findings:
• Newcomers tend to be better educated. Almost one-third of the newcomers are college graduates, compared to about one-quarter of the older migrants and only one-sixth of lifelong residents. Similarly, 25 percent of lifelong Texans have only grade-school educations, while about half that many (13 percent) newcomers do.

• Those moving into the state are in their peak earning years. More than four in five are between 18 and 44 years old: 43 percent are between 18 and 29, and 40 percent are between 30 and 44. Retirees represent only 5 percent of the newcomers but 19 percent of lifelong Texans.

• The areas supplying migrants to Texas are changing. Newcomers tend to come from the Midwest (31 percent) and states in the South and along Texas' border (28 percent). The older migrants are more likely to be from the South and less likely to be from the Northeast than the newcomers.

• Newcomers' are moving primarily to the regions around the state's two largest cities, Houston and Dallas. More than 60 percent of the newcomers live in North Texas or on the Gulf Coast.

• Newcomers are more likely to See Poll page 4-D

Gators fair game this week

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — Experienced hunters such as Sidney Dupuy and novices like Andrew Selbst lined up to buy alligator hunting licences Friday, one week prior to the first legal alligator season in Texas since the reptile was placed on the endangered species list in 1969.

Dupuy and Selbst were among a group of hunters and landowners who attended one of several orientation sessions conducted at the J.D. Murphree Wildlife Management Area to outline the strict guidelines for catching, skinning and selling the valuable hides.

Dupuy, 53, of La Belle, will harvest about 200 of the 780 alligators that the Texas Parks and Wildlife will allow to be taken in the brief season that begins Sept. 7 and ends Sept. 23.

Selbst, 25, of Houston, has never hunted alligators but purchased a license in hopes of getting a hide.

"I want an alligator brief case, it's that simple," Selbst said. "I'll maybe make some boots and a purse for my mom."

It's a business for Dupuy however. He was awarded the contract to harvest alligators from the Murphree sanctuary near here. He is returning to a business he enjoyed for about 15 years before the alligator population became depleted in the early 1960s.

"They (hides) were selling for about $5.75 per foot back then but now it's probably going to be between $15 and $18 this year," said Dupuy, an oilfield contractor.

Extensive alligator harvesting almost caused its extinction in the state and led to its protection by the state in 1969. Tougher federal standards were enacted in 1973.

OILY HAIR CARE

Do you have oily hair? Always use a very mild shampoo. Harsh, strong shampoos tend to completely strip hair of oils. This causes it to become even greasier because the oil glands then accelerate production to compensate. It is rare to find hair that is completely oily, particularly when it is long. The older ends are almost always dry due to months of abuse from sun exposure, salt or chlorinated water and blow-drying. Finding the right shampoo is essentially a matter of trial and error. One tip: the fewer the ingredients on the label, the less build-up on the hair and the lower the chances are of trapping oil and dirt. Only hair, like dry hair, requires conditioning but to a lesser degree.

The techniques necessary to achieve the highest degree of success in executing the latest hairstyles await you at LA CONTESSA. We are up to date on the latest beauty ideas and hair style trends making the headlines. Quality hair styling for the entire family is available to you at our shop. You will find us located at 1508 Marcy. We are available Tues.-Sat. Tel. 267-2187.

1 in 5 Texans comes from another state live in cities and less likely to live in towns and rural areas. They make up only 12 percent of the population in towns and rural areas but 22 percent of the population in very large metros.

- About one-fourth (25 percent) of the newcomers are professional people, compared with 14 percent of lifelong Texans. Few of the newcomers (3 percent) are retirees; among lifelong Texans, the number is 12 percent.

- The proportion of Anglos among migrants is greater than that among lifelong Texans. A vast majority of migrants, both old and new, (84 percent) is Anglo. Blacks comprise 6 percent of the newcomers; Hispanics, 10 percent. Among lifelong Texans, fewer than three-quarters (73 percent) are Anglo; 16 percent are Hispanic; and 11 percent are black. However, telephone estimates such as these may underrepresent minorities because they are less likely to have telephones.

- Texas is becoming at once more liberal and more Republican as a result of migration. Newcomers (30 percent) are more likely to align themselves with the GOP than lifelong Texans (21 percent). Meanwhile, fewer newcomers (25 percent) than lifelong residents (41 percent) say they're Democrats. Almost a quarter (24 percent) of the newcomers are liberals, compared to 16 percent of the lifelong residents, more lifelong Texans (37 percent) than newcomers (28 percent) are conservatives.

Since 1980, the annual net migration into the state has been more than 300,000, far more than the 177,000 annual average in the 1970s. What's more, the number of people coming into the state has grown each year, and the growth has not begun to taper, a Texas A&M University sociologist says. "It's really been phenomenal," said Dr. Robert Skrabanek, who has been studying Texas population patterns for 25 years. "Each year successively, the number of migrants got larger and larger in Texas."

Skrabanek says people come to Texas for many reasons, including:

- Lower taxes and lower costs of living than most other states have.
- Texas' unemployment rate is usually lower than that in many other states.

- Unions aren't as powerful in Texas, an incentive for many businesses to locate here.

- Some firms affected by new technology face the choice of modernizing plants or relocating. Given those options, and the aforementioned attractions of the state, some of these firms choose to build new plants in Texas.

- Overall, Texas has the image of being "the place where the action is."

The U.S. Census Bureau's most recent estimate gave the state 15.28 million people in 1982, a 7 percent increase in the two years since the 1980 census and 27 percent more than the Census Bureau's estimate of 12.05 million in 1974.

The three Texas Polls that form the basis of this analysis were conducted in December, March-April and July. The three polls interviewed a total of 3,014 people, yielding an overall sampling error of 2 percent.

Galveston halts clean-up

GALVESTON — Scattered patches of oil still stain Galveston beaches, but efforts to clean up what's left of the tar-like mess that washed ashore Aug. 3 have been halted because "you'll never get it squeaky clean," a Coast Guard spokesman says.

Beginning this week, Mayor Jan Coggeshall said, only one cleanup crew will be on call. Scores of teams scoured the beaches in the weeks after the spill.

Sand on the island's beaches still has an oil content of between 1 percent and 4 percent, Coast Guard Lt. Larry Clark said last week.

Ordinarily, Clark said, the sand contains no oil "except right where there's a tarball." But "natural processes" will break down the remaining oil, Clark said.

"You'll never get it squeaky clean," he said. "You'll never get it as clean as it was before the spill."
