Sept. 16 events mark Mexican independence

The LULAC-sponsored Diez y Sies de Septiembre celebration will kick off with a parade at 2 p.m. Saturday.

Other activities will continue through Sunday with festivities planned at the Old Settlers Pavilion at Comanche Trail Park.

The floats will assemble at N.W. Seventh next to the Giant Food Store at 1 p.m. The parade will run down Gregg Street, east on Second Street and right on Main Street to the State National Bank.

The crowning of the festival queen will be at 6 p.m. Saturday and the coronation dance at the pavilion will be from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. Sunday. There will be no admission charge for the dance.

The queen contestants for this year are Lisa Ramirez and Amanda Landin.

The celebration commemorates the date Mexico declared its independence from Spain in 1810. The local celebration is a two-day event.

Trophies for the top three places in the float contest will be awarded. Decorated cars will also be included in the parade.

Over 1,000 people attended the celebration last year, which features food booths and live music during both days of the festivities. Local LULAC president Pat DeAnda said more people are expected to attend this year.

Other activities include a washer tournament, volleyball games, baseball games and possibly a boxing exhibition by the Howard County Boxing Club, Ms. DeAnda said.

Abilene cuts water; lake level down

ABILENE (AP) — Residents of this drought-stricken West Texas city could be slapped with stiff fines beginning Saturday for watering lawns, officials say.

The city council on Thursday voted unanimously to ban lawn watering in an emergency conservation measure, after reports that the level of a city reservoir has dropped. Fines for violations reach up to $1,000.

Earlier, utility company spokesmen warned that the low level of the reservoir, Lake Fort Phantom Hill, threatens to shut down a power plant. Municipal officials said the lake level has dropped to 19.8 feet below the spillway.

"Normally, the month of September brings cooler temperatures and reduced water consumption. This has not been the case this year," Dwayne Hargesheimer, director of water utilities, said Thursday.

"The lake water supply not only provides municipal and industrial water, but it is necessary for cooling water for electrical generation which is an integral part of the West Texas Utilities Co. system," Hargesheimer said.

On Wednesday, utility company spokesmen said the power plant could be shut down if the level drops three more feet.

The National Weather Service says Abilene has been in a drought since August 1983. Rainfall in Abilene so far this year totals 9.12 inches, compared with 16.19 inches in a normal year.

Libel suit attorney ruled out

Staff reports

118th District Judge Jim Gregg Thursday disqualified a Midland attorney from representing Midland Police Chief Wayne Gideon's defense in a $4 million libel suit brought by Midland County Sheriff Dallas Smith.

Gregg is judging the case, formerly assigned to retired 118th District Judge Ralph Caton, because the hearing conflicted with Caton's personal schedule, Gregg said.

Under the ruling, attorney Charles Tighe, a partner in the law firm of Cotton, Bledsoe, Tighe and Dawson, was disqualified because of possible conflict of interest, Gregg said today. Tighe's firm represented Smith in oil and gas matters in Smith's divorce settlement.

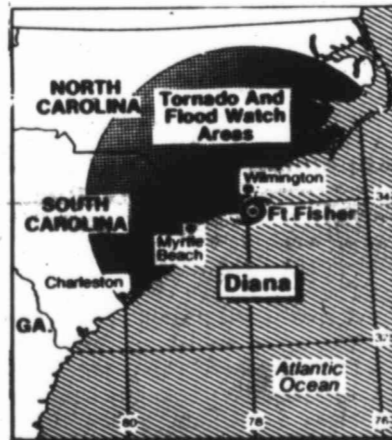

Smith testified that he told Robert Bledsoe, his attorney, about confidential matters in the divorce. Bledsoe testified that he did not recall any such discussions, Gregg said.

"It was close," Gregg said. Smith, who lost the Republican party nomination for re-election to his office, is now running as a write-in candidate.

He claims in the suit, filed about a month ago, that he lost the May primary because of rumors he claims Gideon spread. According to the suit, Gideon spread rumors that Smith beat up his wife, Gail Smith, before the election, and caused Smith's loss.

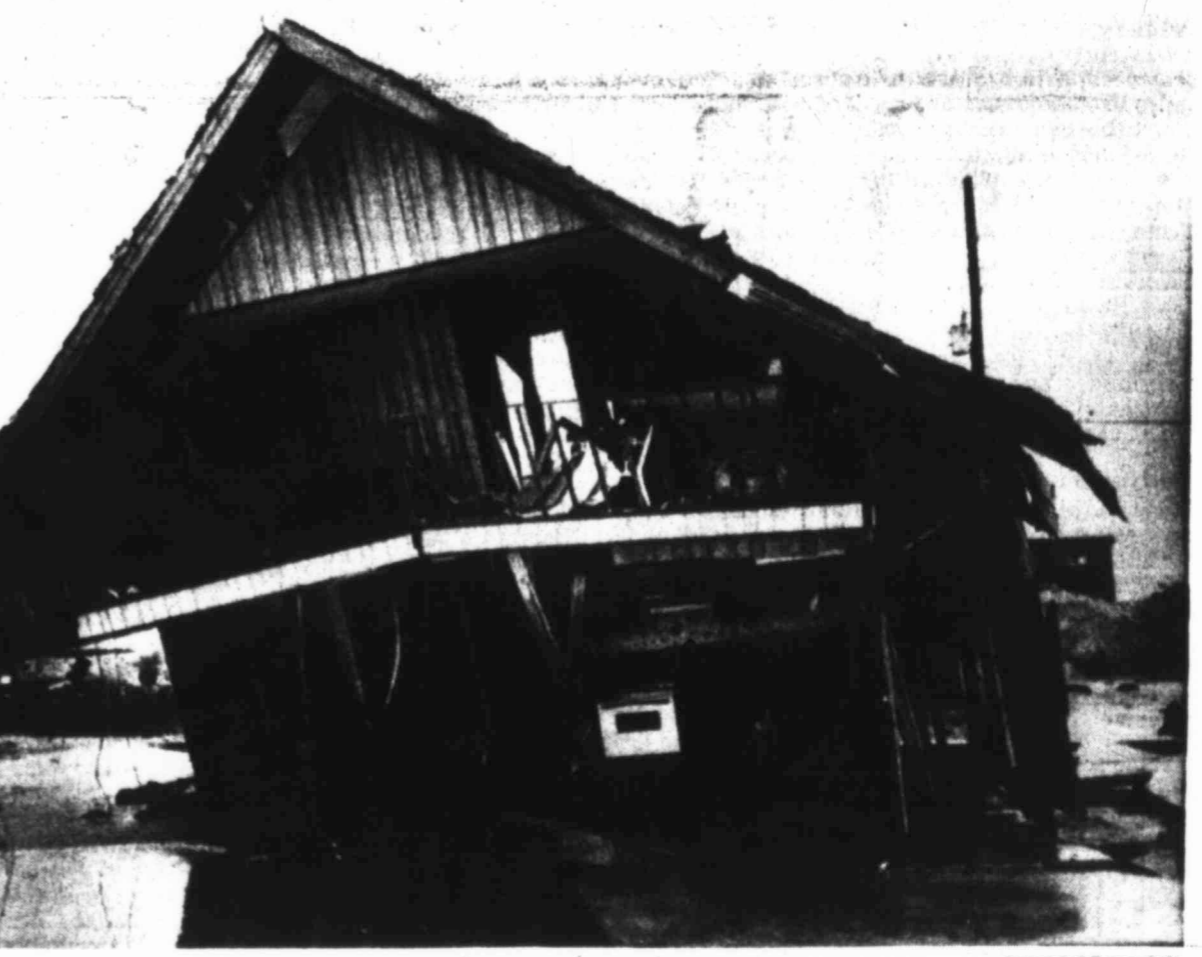

Gideon has since told reporters that Mrs. Smith, now divorced, called him and told him about the incident, claiming her husband assaulted her.

No date has been set for the trial, Gregg said.

morning was downgraded to a tropical storm as land absorbed its energy.

Hurricane loses punch slugging Carolina

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Torrential rains pounded a "terribly damaged" North Carolina today as thousands of coastal residents emerged from shelters to view Hurricane Diana's swath of destruction, which caused more than $25 million in damages.

As Diana rapidly lost intensity Thursday and was downgraded to a tropical storm, Gov. Jim Hunt asked President Reagan for federal assistance because adequate cleanup from the season's first Atlantic hurricane is "beyond the capability of state and local government."

At 8 a.m. CDT, the center of Diana was estimated near latitude 35.2 North, longitude 77.2 West, or just north of New Bern. It was expected to move toward the east-northeast at 5-10 mph, and the National Weather Service said there was a chance Diana could strengthen as it moves toward the Atlantic.

The storm had sustained winds of 45 mph, with gusts to near hurricane force. Gale warnings were posted from Cape Lookout to Chincoteague, Va.

In this southeast coastal city, Diana's 110 mph winds toppled trees and power lines that clogged many streets, blew roofs off homes, swept boats off trailers on land and smashed and sunk many in the water.

Borden County comes up dry

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

The three-hour, six-ranch tour of Borden County's ranchlands was missing one thing Wednesday — livestock.

Only once did the approximately 70-person tour see any cattle on the 1984 annual agricultural tour sponsored by the county extension office. The tourists saw a bull and about five head of cattle grazing along a pasture fence — in a county whose primary agricultural product is cattle and sheep.

Where's the beef? Not in Borden County this summer or winter, ac-ording to agricultural officials and ranchers. The primarily ranchland county has shipped its beef north and west — anywhere to escape a drought that some officials say has lasted four to five years.

Rancher Fannie Flint has moved her cattle from her land between Fluvanna and Gail up north to a pasture near O'Donnell because the drought has dried up many of her stock tanks.

"Some of the tanks have been out for 1½ years. We haven't had good water for two years," she said. "It's the first time some of those tanks have gone dry since my father bought the land in the 1940s."

"We haven't seen any cattle on three stops," said Rickey Linex, a range conservationist with the Scurry-Borden County Soil Conservation Service office. "Lack of tankwater is a real problem."

The Thursday tour visited some of the same spots on the last county tour in 1982, but the land has changed drastically since that time, said County Agriculture Extension Agent Alan Day.

Iraq bombs Iranian ship

MANAMA, Bahrain — Iranian helicopters evacuated five men from a burning supply vessel after it was attacked by Iraqi gunboats, but six other crewmen died, shipping sources said today.

The sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said the six victims were two Germans, a Filipino and three British divers. The names of the dead were not available.

The sources said five other men — two Britons and three Filipinos — survived after Iranian helicopters plucked them from the Seetrans 21 on Thursday and ferried them to Kharg Island. The ship, owned by a West German company, was under contract to Iran's national oil company.

USSR rejects invitation

FRANKFURT, West Germany — The Soviet Union has refused an invitation to observe NATO's fall maneuvers in a further signal of chilly East-West relations, the West German government said.

A spokesman for the Defense Ministry, Ruediger Drews, told The Associated Press by telephone on Thursday that the Soviets did not explain their refusal.

"Their rejection of our invitation to send observers came as no surprise," Drews said, adding that the refusal on Tuesday apparently "has something to do with the general cooling" of contacts with the West.

Peres sworn in today

JERUSALEM — Former opposition leader Shimon Peres was sworn in as Israel's eighth prime minister early today and his bipartisan government promptly turned its attention to Israel's worsening economy.

In interviews with three leading newspapers, Peres was quoted as saying his first priority will be to revive the economy and seek financial aid from the United States.

Both Peres, leader of the Labor Party, and former Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir, leader of the right-wing Likud bloc, are expected to travel to Washington in the next few weeks. Shamir will serve as foreign minister and deputy prime minister in the new unity government, then switch places with Peres halfway through the 50-month term.

Men salvage containers

OSTEND, Belgium — Salvage crews today retrieved nine containers of slightly radioactive material from a French freighter that sank in the North Sea nearly three weeks ago, a salvage company official said.

"Nine full containers were lifted to the surface on Friday, three of them in the early hours of the day," said Myra Giltay of the Dutch salvaging company Smit Tak International.

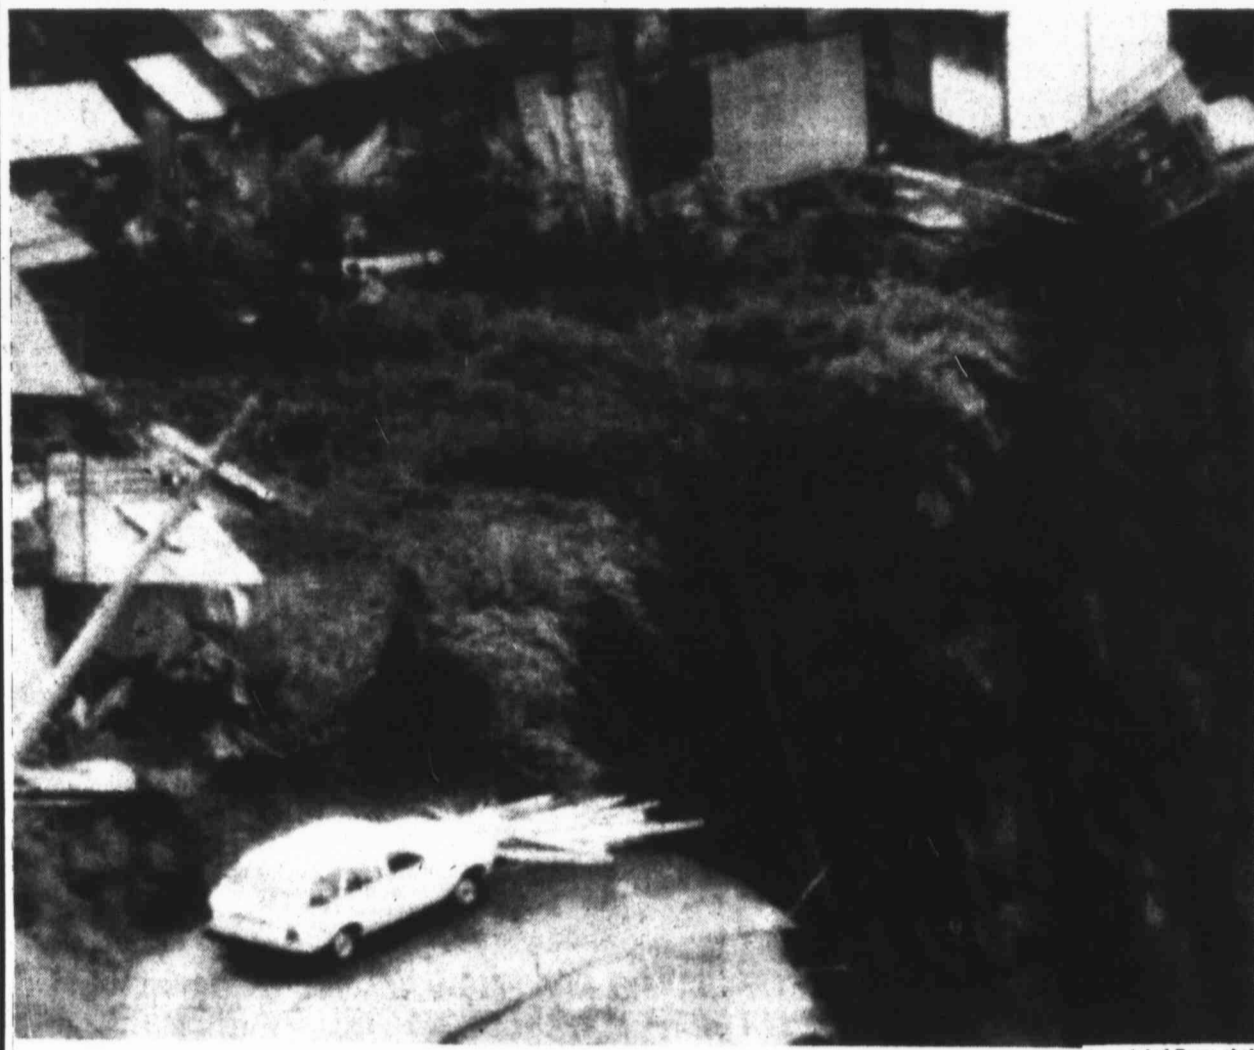

Ten of the sunken freighter's 30 steel containers of uranium hexafluoride have been brought to the surface and placed on a pontoon anchored off the wreck, said Ms. Giltay. The first container of uranium hexafluoride was recovered Thursday, and officials said it was undamaged.

Pope tours Nova Scotia

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia — Pope John Paul II said today the work of Roman Catholic missionaries will always be linked to "development and liberation" around the world.

But the pontiff, preaching to tens of thousands at a Mass on a Halifax hillside, said the central message of evangelization must remain "salvation in Jesus Christ."

The pope's words, though general, represented the first time he has approached the subject of liberation theology on his tour of Canada.

SITTING PRETTY — A house was swept away leaving only the automobile in the driveway after a severe earthquake triggered a landslide in the mountain village of Otaki in Central Japan Friday. Several houses were washed away and a dozen people were reported missing.

Quake casualty

Earthquake rocks Tokyo, landslide kills man

TOKYO (AP) — A powerful earthquake struck a wide area of central Japan today, shaking Tokyo and triggering landslides that killed one man, injured eight and left 13 missing in a mountain village, authorities said.

The quake, registering 6.9 on the Richter scale, caused buildings to sway and creak for about 30 seconds in Tokyo. Hundreds of houses closer to the quake's center were reported damaged.

Some high-speed "bullet train" service west of Tokyo was temporarily halted so tracks could be checked for damage — a customary procedure in earthquake-prone Japan.

The Central Meteorological Agency said the quake measures 6.9 on the Richter scale, powerful enough to cause severe damage. A series of at least 198 aftershocks, including seven strong enough to be felt by humans, were recorded in the area by the agency. One registered 5.1 on the Richter scale.

Police said the only reports of casualties were from Otaki, a village of 2,300 located 120 miles northwest of Tokyo at the foot of Mt. Ontake, a 10,107-foot dormant volcano at the south end of the Japanese Alps.

Mt. Ontake is the site of the Ontake shrine, a famous landmark where Shinto priests went for training during Japan's feudal era. The shrine still is popular with tourists and pilgrims.

Six hours after the quake, a National Police Agency spokesman said a 65-year-old man was confirmed dead, eight people were injured and 12 were believed buried in landslides that tore through Otaki, destroying houses and collapsing roadways.

Akio Hayakawa, a schoolteacher, said in a telephone interview that he had just begun classes in the school near Otaki when the tremor hit, causing window panes to break and doors to open and shut. "I could not keep standing" because of the vibration, he said.

The school's 191 pupils, who like all Japanese youngsters undergo periodic earthquake drills, took cover under their desks until the shaking stopped, and then were evacuated to the schoolyard, he said.

The area was cut off by mudslides that blocked or severed roads, and was without electrical power, officials in Nagano state said. In Nagano and Gifu states, 452 houses were reported damaged or destroyed.

Authorities said 100 Japan Self Defense Force troops and about 300 police officers were mobilized to help in relief efforts.

Guerrillas take radio stations

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Leftist guerrillas burst into four radio stations in El Salvador's capital and forced employees at gunpoint to broadcast tapes criticizing President Jose Napoleon Duarte.

In Nicaragua, opposition leader Arturo Cruz returned from a five-nation tour and accused three kidnapped Sandinista officials and the leftist Sandinista government of "irresponsibly" involving Nicaragua in the East-West conflict by aligning with the Soviet Union and Cuba.

In Costa Rica, Nicaraguan rebel leader Eden Pastora's forces said they are holding three kidnapped Sandinista officials and negotiating a prisoner exchange.

Indian leader jailed

RAPID CITY, S.D. — American Indian over-ment leader Dennis Banks, who fled before he could be sentenced for 1975 riot and assault convictions, has returned and will be held in jail until his sentencing hearing Oct. 8.

After Banks, 47, turned himself in at the Rapid City airport Thursday, Circuit Judge Marshall Young denied his request for bail.

The convictions, which carry a maximum sentence of 15 years, stem from a 1973 riot at the Custer County Courthouse protesting the state's failure to charge a white man with murder in the death of an Indian man.

2 may get death penalty

CHICAGO — Prosecutors say they'll seek the death penalty for a man charged with two murders and considered a suspect in as many as 23 other slayings in four states if he is convicted of murdering a 16-year-old male prostitute.

Attorney David Schippers on Thursday entered an innocent plea on behalf of Larry Eyler, 31, in the killing and dismembering of Danny Bridges.

Eyler, who is in the Cook County Jail without bond, was earlier charged in Lake County with the murder of a man whose body was found last summer.

Jackson aide charged

CLEVELAND — The national campaign manager for the Rev. Jesse L. Jackson has been charged with two felony and two misdemeanor counts of illegal interest in a public contract.

Arnold R. Pinkney, chairman of Pinkney-Perry Insurance Co., was indicted Thursday by the Cuyahoga County grand jury. Pinkney, 53, assumed the top organizational post of Jackson's presidential campaign in November 1983.

The indictment involves allegations in August 1982, September 1983 and April 1984.

A woman who answered the telephone at Pinkney's Cleveland residence Thursday said he was out of town at an unknown location.

Freighter drops anchor

SAN FRANCISCO — A Taiwanese freighter that spent six weeks anchored off the coast because its owners have not paid a fuel bill has docked, and its crewmen will be asked if they want to go home to Taiwan, officials said.

The Panamax Nova pulled up to Pier 96 on Thursday, and two bulldozers will be lowered into the hold to stabilize the cargo of low-sulphur coal destined for Taiwan.

"We'll be interviewing the crew to see who wants to stay aboard and who wants to leave," said Phil Berns of the U.S. Department of Justice.

BSISD enrollment down by 254 students

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, Sept. 14, 1984

5-A

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

All grades within the Big Spring Independent School District, with the exception of kindergarten and third, are down in enrollment this year, Harold Bentley, assistant superintendent for personnel, told the BSISD trustees Thursday.

Overall, enrollment for the district is down by 254 students over the same time last year. Bentley told the board that 4,502 students are enrolled in Big Spring schools, compared to 4,756 last year.

A breakdown shows 2,105 students enrolled in the elementary grades, compared to 2,173 last year; 2,338 enrolled on the secondary level, compared to 2,521 last year; and 59 in the special classes, compared to 62 last year.

Bentley said that October will be an important month for figuring the average daily attendance (ADA). These figures are used when calculating state money allotments for the districts. Attendance during October will be crucial for local funding, he said.

Bentley also pointed out that the largest classes in the district were in the third grade, with an average of 23 students. Next year, under House Bill 72, no class may have more than 22 students. The bill will mean hiring additional personnel, Bentley said, with no additional money offered from the state.

Bentley said the district is 200 students below officials' estimate of average daily attendance.

In other business, trustees approved the resignations of three district personnel. They are Bonnie Anderson, a high school band director who resigned to accept another position in Hamilton;

Sharon Kelly, who resigned at Runnels Junior High School; and Theresa Roback, who resigned as a district speech therapist.

Ten new employees were approved Thursday. They include Cindy Alderton, a speech therapist; Betty Cain, Bauer Elementary; Melinda Curtino, special education; Jack Gartman, Marcy Elementary; and Brenda Goates, Goliad Middle School.

Also Mark Ham, high school; Barbara Herrera, Runnels Junior High; Keith Stone, Runnels; Jan Staff, Marcy; and Deanna Jo Strahl, Goliad.

Don Crockett, assistant superintendent for business, told the board that the district had $1,944,447 in reserves as of Aug. 31, the end of the fiscal year. Crockett said the school district under budget for the 1983-84 year by $322,956.

Trustees approved a number of local policy updates during their meeting.

Several trustees will attend the joint TASA-TASB conference in San Antonio Sept. 28 through Oct. 1. Several trustees will also attend the Texas Association of School Boards-Permian Basin meeting Monday in Odessa. Aubrey Holden, executive secretary of the TASB, will speak about House Bill 72.

Speaker highlights Hispanic Week

By LUIS RIOS
Staff Writer

The belief and use of the "Cisno Kid and Pancho" syndrome has caused many of the problems for Mexicans in the United States, a professor of Education at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin told several Veteran Administration Medical Center employees Thursday.

Dr. Pat Jamarilla, a registered psychologist in Texas who has published research related to Mexican-American issues, lectured as part of Hispanic Week at the hospital, said organizer Lupe Dominguez. The program was put on by the Hispanic Historical committee at the hospital.

"I guess I have to say Hispanic," Jamarilla told the audience. "It took me four years to learn Chicano. Labels don't mean that much, but they sound good."

The portrayal of the Mexicans has also caused problems, he said. The use of stereotypes — such as machismo in the male and the misconception of the introverted female — has also led to a misunderstanding of Mexicans, he said.

Being poor is one misconception associated with Mexicans, he added.

"There is a difference between being poor and being Mexican-American," Jamarilla said. "A more careful analysis of literature suggests the common stereotypes that have been perpetuated in Mexican-Americans are generally invalid."

Jamarilla said the stereotypes evident today can be traced back to early interactions between Mexicans and the United States, he said. Labels came into existence as a result of the social movement in the 1960s, he said.

Hotline session announced

A training session for volunteers to work on the Crisis Hotline will be Monday from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Canterbury. There will be five additional sessions dealing with topics such as communication skills, suicide, rape and drug and alcohol abuse.

The Crisis Hotline, part of the Chemical People project, is an information and referral service. The caller does not need to have a crisis in order to be helped.

The Hotline is open Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 8 p.m. to midnight. The number is 267-4111.

"When we look closely (at data compiled in studies) there is very little actual data to have based conclusions," Jamarilla said.

Jamarilla was the featured speaker for Thursday's 2 p.m. program. A reception was held after the program.

Tech grad is new county agent

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

Howard County has a new Extension agent. She is Lisa Hoff, a 22-year-old Texas Tech University graduate from Windthorst.

Miss Hoff arrived in Big Spring Friday and began working Tuesday with the county's 4-Hers in home economics-related subjects as well as with other activities.

"I'd like to see the kids get with the older people and do things together," she said as one of her goals for 4-H. She spoke positively about the strength of the Howard County 4-H program, and added, "I'd like to see more record books and method demonstrations for 4-Hers."

"They have a lot established. I'd like to build the 4-H Clubs, and the weaker 4-H clubs, and find leaders for them," she said. "There is a lot LISA HOFF coming up. It's the beginning of the year for everyone."

Miss Hoff grew up in 4-H. "I grew up on a dairy and had an agricultural background." Her 4-H experience of showing dairy animals and products, participating in state and national 4-H projects and meetings, and her home economics education major in college provided her with the background for the job of a county agent.

In college, Miss Hoff was active in Home Economics Council, which gave her the feeling of doing something for her college, and Fashion Board, which provided her opportunities to model and promote fashion. She also was a member of American Home Economics Association and Vocational Homemaking Teachers Association of Texas. Miss Hoff graduated in May.

Unsure about where she wanted to go with her career, she began reflecting on her past experiences, interests, skills and goals. "My whole life has reflected back on my 4-H years. I learned so much," she said. Her decision was made.

"A lot is still so new to me," she said about her job working with 4-H. She has been on the job four days. "I'm learning their needs and what they are doing right now." She will work alongside Naomi Hunt, county extension agent — home economics, Don Richardson, county extension agent — agriculture, and Dennis Poole, county extension agent — 4-H and agriculture.

Dr. Donohue

The pill can ease menstrual cramps

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a 20-year-old woman, and I get very bad cramps before and after my period. I went to my gynecologist and she advised me to begin using the Pill, even though I had never used it before. She told me the Pill would help regulate my periods and make them more pain-free. I am confused by this. Isn't it wrong to be using the Pill just to prevent pain from my periods? — T.F.

Uterine menstrual cramping is most likely due to excessive contraction of the uterine muscles. That muscle contraction is turned on by substances in the body called prostaglandins. Oral contraceptives can relieve that because in addition to their contraceptive qualities they decrease the amount of prostaglandins released. That's the rationale behind your doctor's recommendation. The Pill is being used by many women for this very purpose.

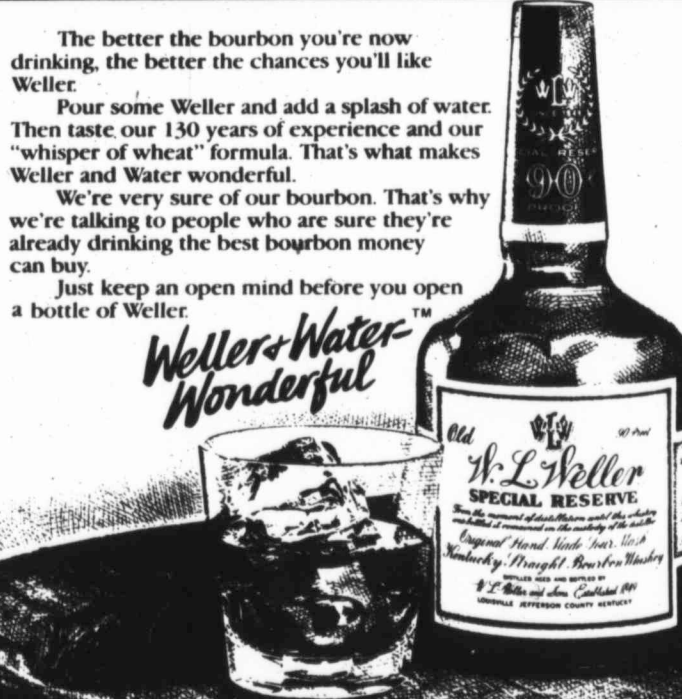

"I'm not sure what you mean by 'wrong.' But if you have reservations about it, there are other medicines that may be effective. Drugs like indomethacin and naproxen work for some. You have to use trial-and-error. Such medicines are also anti-prostaglandin in action.

There's another interesting alternative, especially for someone your age. If you are inactive, you might begin and stick to some physical fitness program. I cannot guarantee results from that but I'd lay some odds it would help. In fact, it's a way to summon forth your body's own natural medicine, certain pain-blocking chemicals the brain produces when stimulated by exercise.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My daughter is using over-the-counter diet pills. One of the ingredients listed is phenylpropanolamine. That sounds too impressive to be entirely harmless. What does the phenylpropanolamine do? I am trying to lose weight myself, part of my doctor's advice for my high blood pressure. What about these pills? — H.W.

With high blood pressure, it's best to avoid such pills. Most diet pills contain the drug you mention, often in combination with caffeine and sometimes with a bulking agent. Phenylpropanolamine has a mild stimulating effect, similar to that of amphetamines. It actually is a derivative of amphetamine, a central nervous system stimulator. Caffeine adds to that effect, but it may also have a blood-vessel-constricting action. People like you or those being treated for ailments like asthma or angina should certainly get permission to use such pills.

If you swear by the bourbon you drink now, keep an open mind, then open a bottle of Weller.

The better the bourbon you're now drinking, the better the chances you'll like Weller.

Pour some Weller and add a splash of water. Then taste our 130 years of experience and our "whisper of wheat" formula. That's what makes Weller and Water wonderful.

We're very sure of our bourbon. That's why we're talking to people who are sure they're already drinking the best bourbon money can buy.

Just keep an open mind before you open a bottle of Weller.

Dear Abby

Husband's rejuvenation isn't cause for jubilation

DEAR ABBY: I found a paid hotel bill in my husband's possession. A room had been rented in a lady's name at a very expensive local hotel. It showed that a party of two had spent the night there and had room service. I was out of town at the time.

I also found a canceled check indicating that my husband had given this same lady a nice sum of money. (We have separate checking accounts.)

When I confronted my husband with the hotel bill and canceled check, he said he "found" the hotel bill at his place of business. The canceled check, he said, was a loan he had made to a young woman he hardly knew.

Abby, I know he's lying. I did some checking around and learned that the lady is 26 years old and married. (My husband is 58.)

When I told my husband I was going to mail the hotel bill and canceled check to the lady's husband, he begged me not to, but contends that he is innocent of any wrongdoing.

My husband has been impotent for the last eight years due to medication he's been taking for high blood pressure. (I've been told that a young woman can arouse an older man when a woman his own age cannot.)

Should I mail the check and hotel bill to her husband? I think he should know, since I do. I understand he is a very nice man.

I will not make a decision until I hear from you.

Youth leader has scriptural prescription

SCOTT POND

By KIM KIRKHAM
Church Editor

A former medical student, Scott Pond has a prescription for youth.

"I'd like to see that the young people can become who they are through the Lord," said the minister of education and youth at East Fourth Street Baptist Church. "I'm trying to get them to see that they're an individual and that God loves them as they are," he said.

Pond, 27, said that he hopes to teach the approximately 30 youth at the church that the Bible can be used in every day life. "I enjoy working with all groups," he said, "but youth are the ones I zero in on."

A special moment in the Virginia native's life at the church is "seeing the kids start respecting me as a person. I try to become a part of them outside the church," he said.

Pond says his wife, Rae, is a major part of his ministry. She was the "biggest influence" on his decision to go into the ministry, said Pond. "I think the Lord spoke a lot through her," he said.

He says his parents also influenced his ministry "as far as seeing to it that I was brought up in a church and brought up right," Pond said.

"I was planning on going into medicine when I was in college," said Pond. But "it just wasn't where I was supposed to be," he said.

When Pond graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Dallas, he said it was "just like a worship service. It meant a lot to me," he said.

Pond has his masters degree in religious education with an emphasis on youth. He also has a bachelor of science degree in biology from Cumberland College in Williamsburg, Kent.

After his graduation from seminary, Pond came to Big Spring in July 1983 to begin work as a minister.

"I felt the Lord had called us to come here," said Pond. He intends to stay in Big Spring "until I feel like my ministries through here. I came with the idea that I would be here until the Lord would be moving me on," said Pond. "It could be two years from now or 10 years from now. It just depends," he said.

Attendance up

The congregation at the First Church of the Nazarene has begun its "Super September" emphasis with the goal of increased attendance and professions of faith.

The first two Sundays of September showed an 11 percent increase in the churches attendance over last September's attendance. Cotton Mize, Christian life chairman, said that both the Sunday School staff and class members are working to achieve the increase.

Classes are provided for all age groups at 9:45 a.m. The 10:50 morning worship service provides Kinder Church and a worship experience for youngsters in grades 1 through 5, meeting in Kid's Korner. Adult worship services are held in the church's new sanctuary, with Dr. Carl Powers leading the service. Special music is featured including the Sanctuary Choir directed by Jerry McGuire. An evening service begins at 6 p.m. and includes spirited music, testimonies, prayer time and a sermon by Powers.

The church has begun an additional outreach, the Lancaster Learning Center and Day Care. It provides care for infants and pre-school youngsters in a Christian surrounding.

Presbyterian Women elect officers

The Presbyterian Women held a covered dish luncheon Monday at the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church. Following the luncheon, the women held their regular meeting, with Margaret Cooper presiding.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd installed the following new officers: Margaret Cooper, president; Kit Moody, vice president; Libby Dirks, secretary; Bobbie Peters, treasurer; and Ruth Stovall, historian.

Committee chairmen installed were: Kate Hershey, personal faith and family life; Ida Lee Read, leadership and resources; Jeane Woodall, Kate Irons, Lucy Bouillon and Winnie Patterson, Christian community action; and Grace Kinney and Ella Carroll, ecumenical missions and relations.

A solo, "There Was a Man", sung and written by Chuck Bolen, accompanied by Keith Ross, church organist, followed the meeting. The next meeting will be at 10 a.m. Oct. 1 at the church.

Bartell speaks on 'Armageddon'

"Armageddon will be the worst thing ever to hit the earth within the history of man. God's new world will be the best thing ever to come to distressed mankind and will never pass away. For us to know the best follows the worst gives us courage to consider the subject of our discussion," said Frank Bartell.

Bartell began a Bible lecture "War at Armageddon — Is It Near? What Will It Mean?" for the Jehovah's Witnesses.

Bartell discussed the term "Armageddon". He explained that the word is used largely by world leaders to describe a nuclear war between nations. He said there is a need to educate the world as to the meaning of Armageddon and that Jehovah's Witnesses have undertaken this task on a worldwide scale.

Bartell used the Bible text of Revelations 16:14, 16 to show that Armageddon is a righteous war originating with God that will do away with only the wicked.

Bartell outlined two points: Armageddon will vindicate Jehovah's

Religion roundup

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — A long-time leading Southern Baptist official says that religion and government are so entwined in this country that "we don't talk about right and wrong, we talk about right and left."

The Rev. Grady Cothen, retired Baptist Sunday School Board president, who has long fought government intrusion into religious affairs, told a meeting at Oklahoma Baptist University:

"The result is an increasing confusion over the function of religion in reinforcing social values and the role of government in reinforcing religious values."

Oil pollution threatens wildlife refuge

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Federal officials fear oil pollution in the Intercoastal Waterway could be poisoning a national wildlife refuge, home to the nearly extinct whooping crane.

And next month crane "families" will begin arriving at the refuge with the largest flock of whooper chicks in 43 years, officials said.

The rare, majestic whooping crane shares the Aransas Wildlife Refuge with at least 10 other endangered species including the peregrine falcon, Attwater's prairie chicken, brown pelican and five species of sea turtle.

High levels of oil and grease contamination were discovered in the Intercoastal Waterway by the U.S. Army Corp of Engineers last December prior to a routine dredging operation. Dredging was delayed until further tests could be run to determine exactly what is in the greasy sludge lining the canal. "We were amazed to find it," said Brian Cain, contaminant specialist with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife service in Clear Lake. "This oil wasn't there four years ago when we tested last."

Cain said oil and grease pose "minimal" threat to the cranes, but a chemical component of the sludge has scientists worried.

"We're concerned about a component found in oil, PHA," polynuclear aromatic hydrocarbons, Cain said.

"Those components are cancer-causing in mammals. If there is oil in sediment near the feeding grounds, then there are also PHAs. We just don't know how much yet," Cain said.

Scientists fear PHA compounds could enter the food chain, poisoning the crabs, clams, mudshrimp, frogs and crawfish which whoopers find delicious.

"If there are PHAs in the food chain, we have a big problem," Cain said.

Research indicates that such contamination can cause potentially fatal liver and kidney damage in birds or affect reproduction, experts said.

Cain said additional tests are now being run on sediment, water and aquatic life. Results may be back as early as next month, about the time the cranes begin arriving for the winter.

Authorities are awaiting test results to decide what to do next, he said.

More than half of the world's 140 whooping cranes live part of the year at the refuge, 45 miles north of Corpus Christi, said refuge manager Frank Johnson, who estimated 73 adult cranes wintered in Texas last year.

Another group of 16 whoopers live with their relatives, the sandhill crane, in an experimental flock at the Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge in New Mexico.

Accountant to review records for Fiberflex

An accountant working for former O.I.L. president Charles "Chris" Christopher will be allowed to examine the company records of Fiberflex Products Inc., 118th District Court Judge Jim Gregg ruled Thursday afternoon in a temporary injunction.

Gregg's ruling sets strict guidelines on the issue, permitting Christopher's accountant and two assistants to examine the records daily.

Christopher, who is fighting corporate management — Tom Rutledge, Russ Rutledge and John Freeman — for control of the company, has claimed the Rutledges and Freeman disbursed corporate funds improperly by granting themselves monthly royalties.

Attorneys representing the two battling factions had been unable to reach an agreement allowing Christopher access to corporate financial records.

Gregg continued a hearing set for 9 a.m. today to determine whether certain shareholders who own stock with conflicting dual proxies should be allowed to vote those shares themselves.

Because the hearing has been postponed, Gregg also extended for 10 days a temporary restraining order prohibiting six Fiberflex shareholders from voting approximately 16,800 shares whose voting rights are contested. The shareholders have granted conflicting proxies and voting rights agreements to both corporate management and Christopher.

Gregg Thursday afternoon also signed five temporary injunctions in Fiberflex-related litigation on issues decided at a hearing last week.

The orders, in effect until a final judgment in the case is reached, would prohibit:

- The corporation and its board of directors, including the Rutledges and Freeman, from issuing any previously authorized but unissued stock, treasury stock, redeeming or purchasing shareholders' stock for the corporation, or taking any other action to alter the percentage of stock owned by each faction.

- Christopher, his partner Billy Massingill, the Rutledges and Freeman from voting approximately 16,800 shares of stock owned by third parties who have signed conflicting proxies and voting agreements with both factions.

Mustangs hurt Rochelle, 40-0

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

ROBERT LEE — In an abbreviated contest here Thursday night the Sands Mustangs blanked the Rochelle Hornets 40-0.

The non-district encounter involving the Mustangs of 7-A and the Hornets of 8-A was ended after three quarters due mainly to the fact that Rochelle freshman quarterback Gary Gossett was unable to continue. Gossett received a concussion on the kickoff following Sands' final score and he never recovered. He operated the Hornets for the final series of the third period, but his eyes were dilated and he was still slightly dazed. In the judgement of the officials and Rochelle coach Jack Browning it would have been futile to continue.

Browning indicated after the contest was called that Gossett was his only healthy quarterback. The Hornets' other signal caller was injured and another was left at home for disciplinary reasons. The Hornets started six freshmen.

On the other side of the field Sands head coach Jim White admitted his team has seen tougher games. "We needed the work though and it was a lot better to play somebody than go against each other." The game was drawn up over the weekend. Sands had a cancellation for the second week and Rochelle, located east of Brady, was stuck with an open date. The two schools agreed to play at Robert Lee.

Rochelle probably wished the game had ended sooner.

Sands took the opening kickoff and drove 58 yards in 14 plays. The Mustangs reached the endzone when quarterback Johnny Willis passed 13 yards to Joe Valle with 6:39 showing on the clock. The extra point failed.

The following kickoff fell short and was recovered by Sands' Ray Gutierrez at Rochelle's 33. It took only one play for a 12-0 lead as Willis found Mark McMullan streaking down the right sideline. The score came at 6:30 — two touchdowns in nine seconds.

Once again the kickoff fell short and Jay Fryar was on the spot to pounce on the ball at the 50. It took the Mustangs a little longer to get their third score, but Fryar finally took it in from nine yards out to cap a five play march. Fryar also ran in for the two point conversion and Sands led 20-0 with 4:19 to play in the first quarter.

White said afterward that the short kicks were not deliberate. "The kicking game is something we'll definitely work on. A team like Klondike would have killed us — kicking the way we did." Sands did not punt at all.

Rochelle did get the ball for three plays in the first quarter before McMullan intercepted a Gossett pass to end Rochelle's hopes of denting the scoreboard. The Hornets finished the opening stanza with -1-yard rushing.

After driving to the Rochelle 15 in the second quarter, the Mustangs were stopped short on fourth and one. After forcing the Hornets to punt, the Mustangs were back in business at the 17. It took only one play again for the Mustangs to up their margin.

John Covarrubias did the honors with a 17-yard run at the 9:13 mark. Oscar Gonzales booted the extra point and Sands led 27-0.

After the final score of the first half, Rochelle put together its best offensive series of the game. The Hornets took the kickoff at their own 45 and used eight plays in reaching the Sands 33. Disaster struck, however with 4:24 to play in the half when a loose football was recovered by Fryar. The workhorse for Rochelle in the drive was fullback Ray Clark. Clark picked up 14 of his team high 21 yards on the drive.

After beginning the third quarter by trading fumbles Sands went ahead 33-0 when Arnold Velasco scored from one yard out. Velasco, who led the Mustangs with 11 yards on 17 carries, was the kicker of record on the extra point that gave the Mustangs their 34th point with 6:16 in the third quarter. Mickey Franco set up the score by recovering a fumble at Rochelle's 13.

Rochelle bogged down once again and on fourth and 10 at the Hornets 27 a bad snap sailed to the 15. Larry Ybarra got the final touchdown of the night when he went in from three yards. The PAT was blocked.

On the kickoff Gossett was hammered with a tackle by Lee Young. The Hornets picked up five yards before punting 16 yards to Sands' 47 where the game came to an end.

Sands will face Klondike Sept. 21 in a non-district game slated for Ackerly.

Spikers stay atop 4-5A by beating PHS

ODESSA — The Big Spring Lady Steers kept their District 4-5A record unblemished by downing Permian 12-15, 15-13, 16-14; while posting their second victory in as many games.

Coach Susan Sharp credited sophomore setter Shelia Chatman, who played on an injured ankle, with having a big part in the final match win. Chatman served seven points and made some key saves in the match, according to Sharp.

Sharp also praised the play of spiker Tanya Ferguson saying, "Although her serve wasn't as good as it usually is, she made some good hits in crucial times." Sharp also added that Tammi Green and Monique Jones made key plays throughout the contest that kept rallies going.

Big Spring is now 10-9 for the season.

JV SCORES ECND LOOP WIN

The Lady Steers JV also pushed its district slate to 2-0 with a 15-2, 15-11 victory over Permian.

The win was the team's third in a row and upped its season record to 9-6. Sonya Evans led all Lady Steer servers with 14 points. Coach Elaine Stone said that Sheri Myrick had a good defensive game and added the key to victory was teamwork.

The Lady Steers will be in action Tuesday at 7 p.m. versus Abilene Cooper at Steer Gym. The JV game starts at 6.

Big Spring at Brownfield

Cross country season begins Saturday

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

BROWNFIELD — It may be football season and the Lady Steers are already in the thick of 4-5A volleyball action, but another Big Spring High School athletic team is slated to start its season here Saturday.

Coach Randy Britton's 1984 cross country team will be among those teams entered in the Brownfield Cross Country Meet that gets underway about 10 a.m. with both boys and girls competition.

Britton said he has some good talent on his boys squad, but the team is thin in numbers. Scores are based on a school's top five finishers and Big Spring only has four varsity tested runners for the three mile course.

Seniors Preston Harrison and Johnny Rangel have, "some ability," according to Britton. Dax McCracken and Bobby Madigan are juniors. The fifth member will have to come from freshmen hopefuls Calvin Harrison or Scott Owen.

Britton said the Brownfield meet will be a good one to check his team's conditioning. The Steers were scheduled to begin their cross country routine two weeks ago, but Britton said he was just, "too disappointed in the conditioning of his charges. It (conditioning) was poor."

At Brownfield Britton said he may be able to size up the rest of 4-5A since Permian, Odessa, Cooper and Abilene are expected to be entered. All the Lubbock schools and Hobbs, New Mexico are also among the field.

GIRLS PROSPECTS
The Lady Steer harriers are more plentiful in numbers said Britton. He noted that his top two runners of last year, senior Anita Flores and sophomore Anissa DeLoss Santos, should lead the team. Flores was 14th among district runners a year ago (13:47 for two miles) and Santos was 19th as a freshman (14:04).

JV talent expected to provide an influx is found in Nelda Saldivar, Lisa Dominguez and Jill Wells. Lisa Bacon and Melissa Fuller are regular tracksters who will lend their talents to the different running format used in cross country. Dinae Arnold is a senior who is out for the sport for the first time, but who has shown some potential.

JV, Sophs drop games to Pecos, Odessa

The Steers junior varsity and sophomore teams were both defeated in football action last night by Pecos and Odessa respectively.

The junior varsity dropped a hard fought contest to Pecos 12-6 in Pecos. Turnovers hurt the Steers as Pecos picked off three Hugo Hernandez passes. The last interception turned out to be an 87-yard touchdown return, sealing the contest for Pecos.

Bright spots offensively for Big Spring included the rushing of Brad Handon who accounted for 91 yards and the lone TD. Randy Hayworth snagged four passes for 46 yards while Kim Anding caught two passes for 32 yards. Hernandez completed seven of 20 passes for 106 yards.

Todd Badgett led the Steers defense with 13 tackles. Hernandez and Paul Sotels registered eight tackles each. Hernandez and Kevin Freeman each picked off a pass and Jose Hillario blocked a punt.

The JV Steers are now stand at 0-2 for the season.

Their next contest will be Thursday, Sept. 20 versus Midland High in Midland.

ODESSA DOWNS SOPHS
Odessa rallied for two touchdowns in the final quarter to down Big Spring 28-14 in a game played in Odessa.

After trailing 14-0 at the half, the Steers rallied for 14 third quarter points to tie the contest. Paul Decker, who led all Steer runners with 117 yards on 13 carries, scored both TD's. John Hart added the extra points.

Big Spring coach Roland Atkins said, "We played well as a team, we had two fumbles on drives that hurt more than anything else. We hit good and I'm real proud of the effort."

The loss drops the Sophs' record to 1-1 for the season.

Their next contest Thursday, Sept. 20 against Greenwood at 7 p.m. will be played at Memorial Stadium.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, SEPT., 15, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is good for attending to whatever your practical needs happen to be, and then to get both men and women to aid you in extending your present interests.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Make sure you keep practical promises you've made during the day, and tonight steer clear of some unknown chance acquaintance.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Get into those personal tasks you have had little time for recently, and they are soon behind you. Find better ways of gaining desires.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Be more practical in going after private aims and you gain them more easily now. Buy some nice gift for your closest tie.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Good day to see as many pals as possible and improve the relationships, but tonight is best spent at home.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Handle those small tasks that will gain you the approval of bigwigs and you gain favor. Forget about going out tonight and spending money.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have many little tasks to handle before you can get into that new course of action you have in mind.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Early get into business affairs that are important and study your accounting so that you feel more secure.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Maintain a cooperative spirit and the day will go right for you. If others want you to do what is not to your liking, just refuse.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Let your work come first today and gain the help of those around you who comprehend your aims.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are feeling aces in the morning and get into creative work with enthusiasm with fine results following.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make sure you do nothing that can disturb your family today since their ideas and yours are quite different.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You are able to put your ideas across to partners so that they will agree and give you backing for your proposals.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be very much down to earth and should have the kind of training to add to this natural bent. The career in business should start early before your progeny builds up all kinds of prejudice and then could have much trouble in dealing with others.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
