City celebrates Diez y Seis

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer
A celebration unfolded Saturday in Comanche Trail Park as scores of people gathered to celebrate the heritage of the Mexican people during the annual Diez y Seis de Septiembre.

The event began as a commemoration of Mexico's independence from Spain. It has evolved into a chance to remember the Mexican-American heritage in a time when that heritage is undergoing transition.

The celebration continues through today and is sponsored by the League of Latin American Citizens. Pat DeAnda, president of LULAC, said the festival is important as a reminder of the past.

"It is important that we maintain our culture. We're not losing Americanism," Ms. DeAnda said. Rather, the celebration of the Hispanic culture is a tribute to America, which is a mixture "of all kinds of people and all kinds of languages," she said.

As Ms. DeAnda talked, the park was filled with people wandering around concession booths around the Old Settlers Pavilion. A band set up in the corner, ready for a dance and the coronation of the festival queen.

Lisa Ramirez, 18, daughter of Luis and Isabel Ramirez, took the honors as queen. First runner-up was Amanda Landin, 15. Second runner-up was Michelle DeAnda, 17.

As winners were announced, they walked around the cement floor of the pavilion, surrounded by a court of young women and their escorts.

The festival kicked-off earlier with a parade featuring the Big Spring Steer marching band, area horsemen and decorated cars and floats.

Sally Yanez took first place honors in the float division. Julia Correas was second.

Linda Arsiaga took first place in the car division, and Efrie Mier won first in the horse and rider. See Festival page 2-A

UAW walks out

Strike's a ball on picket line

By The Associated Press
United Auto Workers members walked picket lines at 13 General Motors Corp. plants around the nation with high spirits Saturday, saying they were "prepared to do whatever it takes" in the first widespread strike against the giant automaker in 14 years.

Union members "are feeling, 'Hey, if they don't want to give in, then they are willing to stay out there as long as it takes, a day, a week, a month, many months,' till we can reach an agreement we can live with," said Ted Creason, 42, assistant financial secretary at Local 160 at Warren, Mich.

The UAW authorized strikes Friday on local issues at 13 plants — mostly assembly facilities — when the national contract expired at midnight. The national talks resumed Saturday morning in Detroit.

About 62,000 of the 350,000 GM workers represented by the UAW were idled by the walkouts. More than half of the striking workers were in Michigan, at plants in Flint, Pontiac and Warren.

The union also struck plants at Van Nuys, Calif.; Doraville, Ga.; Arlington, Texas; Wilmington, Del.; Linden, N.J.; Bowling Green, Ky.; Shreveport, La.; and Wentzville, Mo.

"Production stopped at 12 o'clock and the plant's empty. It's just security guards now," said Hector Villanueva, a worker at Linden. He said he was near the See Strike page 2-A

Guard foils skyjack attempt

TEL AVIV (AP) — A security guard on Saturday night apparently foiled the intended hijacking of an Iraqi Airways Boeing 737 carrying about 100 passengers and crew on a Cyprus-to-Baghdad flight, a radio monitor and airport officials said.

At least three would-be sky pirates and the guard were wounded in the struggle before control of the plane was re-established over Jordan, the Israeli radio monitor said.

The official Iraqi media did not report the incident and the information desk at Baghdad Airport refused to answer questions early Sunday about the alleged hijacking, including whether the plane had landed. The identities of the hijackers were not known and it was unclear what motivated the seizure attempt. Iraqi government officials could not be reached for comment.

Michael Gurdus, an official monitor for Israel radio and television, said the pilot radioed the Amman, Jordan control tower at 9:20 p.m. to say a hijacking attempt had been foiled and the plane was continuing on to Baghdad.

The Iraqi Airways Flight 124, carrying about 100 passengers and crew, had taken off from Larnaca, Cyprus, at 8:10 p.m. on a nonstop flight to Baghdad, according to airport sources on the Mediterranean island.

However, Gurdus earlier quoted the pilot as telling the Amman control tower that he was abandoning plans to set down in the Jordanian capital and was proceeding instead to Baghdad. It was not clear if the pilot had radioed for permission to land in Amman as a result of the attempted hijacking.

Bombs away: U.S. Army Air Corps picks city for bombardier school

A monument, a memory, a promise for the future. The Big Spring Airpark stands today as all of these in its relationship to the city and its surrounding area.

The 2,200 aeronautical acres that lie directly west of Big Spring have been firmly tied to the city's life and heart, first in World War II as the Big Spring Bombardier School and later as Webb Air Force Base during the Korean War, the Vietnam War and beyond.

In 1976, word that Webb would shut down hit many city residents with a feeling of panic, but citizens soon mobilized to fight the closure. And when the fight became futile, they put their resources and ideas together to establish the combined airport and industrial park that stands at the site today.

Active city involvement in putting the land to use goes as far back as two years before Pearl Harbor. City leaders made contacts with Army personnel about locating an air training school in Big Spring, and two months after the surprise bombing of the U.S. Naval base, their secret negotiations began to bear fruit.

Sensational Herald headlines of the era relayed news of the fall of Corregidor, the siege of Stalingrad and British progress in North Africa. On the home front, articles outlined the local mobilization effort with news of draft number calls, local enlistments and gas, tire and food rationing.

The announcement that Big Spring would get its Army Air Corps training school came April 2, 1942. In what was called a "four months miracle," the training base rose out of bare pastureland west of town between May and August of 1942, with the first troops, a "preparatory contingent" from Midland, arriving on a hot August Saturday.

"By Saturday evening, troops were milling about town, surveying their new home," recorded the Herald. Later, in September, the school's first cadets arrived to begin 24 weeks of training.

What the soldiers' new home had to offer was a community firmly behind the war effort and determined to make the cadets' short stay entertaining. Clubs, both on and off the base, were established, including a USO chapter in the Radford Building in the 100 block of Runnels.

Elnora Hart remembers that "civilians had a great respect and appreciation for the soldiers stationed at the airbase," although "when we said goodbye, we were wondering if they'd survive combat."

Mrs. Hart was a member of the Skyettes, an organization of 90 young women who entertained the homesick soldiers. "Sometimes we'd have dances at the base," said Mrs. Hart. "They put us on those old GI trucks and took us out to the dance. After it was over, they would take us each to our houses — right to our doors."

Strict rules that reflect the times governed the Skyettes. They had to be invited to join and pledged not to leave the dance floor, to come and go only with their adult sponsors and use no intoxicants.

Aside from the increased social life, construction of the base affected the city in other ways. An expected 20 percent surge in school enrollment prompted the school district to apply for emergency funds. Registration for sugar rations reflected a probable population increase of 1,500 persons over the 1940 census.

In addition, housing grew scarce. After the city was declared a "critical housing area," construction began on 70 units near the base entrance. These became the Ellis Homes complex.

And, perhaps inevitably, petitions were circulated for a wet-dry election. After a bitter scrap, the county stayed wet by a margin of 1,819-1,602.

Graduation of the Bombardier School's first class, composed of 118 men from 30 states, came Dec. 17, 1942, a year and 10 days after See Airport page 8-A

Cold front covers state

By The Associated Press

A cold front continued its move across the state Saturday, bringing lower temperatures and triggering showers in South Texas.

Winds were northeast 10 to 20 mph south of the front, which Saturday afternoon was situated in southwest Texas, the National Weather Service said.

Afternoon temperatures were in the 90s south of the front and mostly 70s to the north, but ranged from near 60 in the Panhandle to the 80s near the front.

High temperatures in North Texas Sunday will be between 75 and 82 degrees, while lows Sunday night will range from 50-62, the weather service said. Monday should be warmer with highs between the 80s and 90s.

South Texas should have considerable cloudiness Sunday night and Monday, with highs Sunday in the 80s and lows ranging from 50-70. Highs Monday will be between 80 and 90 degrees, the weather service said.

The forecast called for West Texas to be warmer Sunday as the cold front moves out of the region. The weather service predicted highs in the mid 70s in the Panhandle to near 90 in the Big Bend. Lows Sunday night will be in the mid 50s in the Panhandle to the mid 60s in the extreme south of the region, with highs Monday ranging from the 80s to the 90s, the weather service said.

Unexpected, violent thunderstorms developed Saturday over southern California, and cloudy skies, cool temperatures and rain were common over much of the northeastern quarter of the nation.

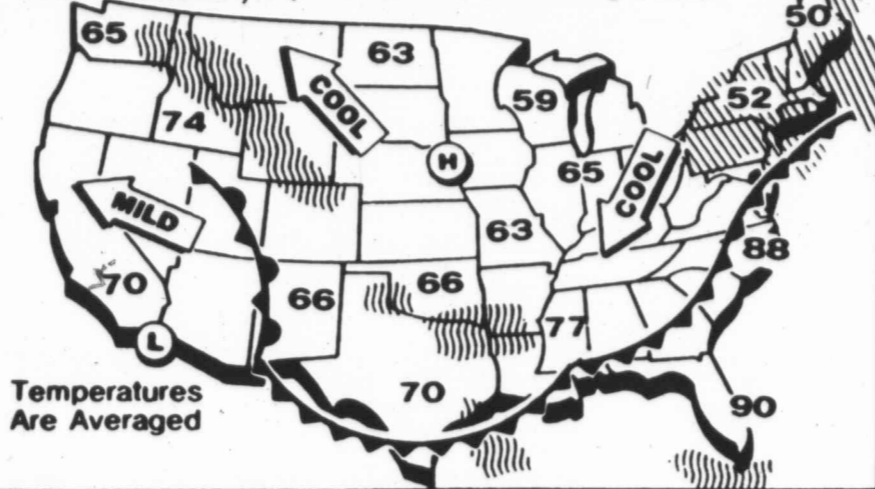

A power outage cut electricity Saturday morning to 2,500 customers in Rancho Palos Verdes, 20 miles southwest of Los Angeles, Southern California Edison spokesman Russ Hawkes said. It wasn't known if the lightning storm was to blame, he said.

Afternoon temperatures were only in the 40s and 50s across New England, the northern half of the mid Atlantic states and the upper Ohio Valley.

Five arrested for gambling

Law enforcement officials, including members of the Big Spring Police Department and the Alcoholic Beverage Commission, arrested five people Friday night on charges of keeping a gambling place and gambling.

James Brown, 56, of 1301 Lexington, was charged with keeping a gambling place. Brown was transferred to county jail, placed under a $1,000 bond and released early Saturday.

An employee at KBST radio told police at 3:39 a.m. Saturday that someone had broken into the radio station and taken several items, including a Sanyo cassette recorder valued at $465.

Gary Lewis told police that a lamp, ashtray, record, coke bottles and an outdoor thermometer were also taken in the incident.

Jesse Lara of 3200 W. Highway 80 told police at 9:37 p.m. Friday that someone he knows damaged a storm door on his property. Damage was listed at $75.

Octaviano Ramirez, 26, of 707 N. Scurry was arrested at 3:06 a.m. Saturday and charged with driving while intoxicated. A 29-year-old man in the car with Ramirez was arrested and charged with public intoxication.

Ramirez was transferred to county jail and placed under a $1,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Willie Grant. He was released Saturday morning after bond was posted.

Rosanne Barton of No. 8 November Circle told police at 9:50 p.m. Friday that a person she knows assaulted her at her home. No arrests were made in connection with the case.

division. Second place in the horse and rider division was John DeLa Garza, and third was Adolpho Garcia.

Ms. DeAnda said LULAC hoped to involve "all cross-sections of the community" in the festival.

"We're all people," Ms. DeAnda said. "We may do things differently, but we're all people. We're all part of America."

Because America is "multi-cultural and multi-tongued," Ms. DeAnda said she hoped celebration's such as this one might encourage Mexican-American youth to hold on to its past.

"It's not a shame to be able to speak two languages and to practice them fluently," she said. "To see young people turning away from Spanish 'is frustrating,' she said.

"There are those who will tell you there is no place for our culture," she said. "But I will tell you there is a place for it. As long as we can remember our forefathers, then there is a place for it."

She said she would like to see people with different backgrounds "accept each other. There is no need to concede any part of your culture."

By late afternoon, scores of people had gathered for the approaching dance. "Last year we had 1,000 people, and this year we're anticipating more," Ms. DeAnda said. She also had plans for next year, saying, "We'd like to have all clubs and organizations in the city work with us. We want this to be a unifying event, where everyone can get to know the differences in each other...We need each other."

end of his shift when a UAW leader walked in and told workers "punch your clock and get out of here."

The mood along the picket lines in Michigan was mostly festive and jovial, according to union members.

"We're doing all right," said Bill Spencer, president of Local 5960 at GM's Lake Orion plant near Pontiac, where Cadillacs and Oldsmobiles are made. "We're prepared to do whatever it takes."

Ted Creason, assistant financial secretary at Local 160, described the atmosphere on the picket line as "very festive."

"They were happy to be out on strike...because of problems the shop committee has been having," Creason said. A main issue in local talks has been seniority, he said.

The UAW has said the main issue in the talks is job security, a bid to keep the automakers from farming out work to plants overseas.

But it was also seeking wage and benefit increases following billions of dollars in contract concessions made two years ago when the industry was losing money.

Tropical storm loses punch

MIAMI (AP) — Tropical storm Edouard died Saturday, becoming tropical depression as it hovered off the Mexican coast, and forecasters expected little movement out of the system overnight.

"The broad center of the depression is near the coast just north of Veracruz, Mexico," said Neil Frank, a forecaster at the National Hurricane Center here. "The system is expected to remain stationary tonight and continue to weaken."

Edouard was the 1984 Atlantic hurricane season's fifth named storm, but became tropical depression Edouard after maximum winds fell to 30 mph, said a hurricane center statement issued at 6 p.m. EDT Saturday.

Storm Edouard had been hovering

Storm Edouard had been hovering over the Gulf of Mexico, 45 miles north of Veracruz, Mexico at noon Saturday. It had produced winds up to 55 mph several hours before it weakened.

The storm was born as a depression Thursday as former Hurricane Diana weakened in North Carolina, was heading northeast up the Massachusetts shore at about 65 mph Saturday, and was about 150 miles southeast of Nantucket island.

A tropical depression becomes a tropical storm and is named when winds reach 39 mph. It becomes a hurricane when winds reach 74 mph.

S. African blacks march

SHARPEVILLE, South Africa — Carrying 34 coffins shoulder high, several thousand chanting blacks Saturday marched from two mass funerals to cemeteries where they buried victims of fierce rioting two weeks ago.

Gaza Strip mayor killed

TEL AVIV — The mayor of an Israeli-occupied Palestinian city was shot and killed by assailants in a passing car, and police were reportedly questioning four suspects today.

Filipino volcano calms

LEGASPI, Philippines — A "big bang" from the Mayon volcano was still possible, scientists said Saturday, but the current eruption appeared to be dying down.

Government volcanologists said Mayon will probably continue to spew ash and lava sporadically over the next month, but that it was unlikely a major explosion would take place.

Meanwhile, the Office of Civil Defense said the number of evacuees from farms and homes near the volcano had grown to more than 21,000 in temporary centers. Most evacuees are in Legaspi, 15 miles from the volcano famous for its nearly perfect cone shape.

Flood leaves 27 dead

DHAKA, Bangladesh — Twenty-seven more deaths were reported in northern Bangladesh Saturday, bringing to 1,100 the number of people killed in month-long flooding.

The official Bangladesh news agency said the latest deaths occurred in Chapainawabganj district, located on the Indian border 170 miles north of Dhaka.

The agency said authorities started evacuating 70,000 of the 300,000 people marooned in the district. The state-run radio Saturday said all the country's major rivers, including the Ganges, Brahmaputra, Padma and Meghna, were running at dangerous levels.

Back in the USSR

THE RABBI WORE RED — The Rev. Billy Graham Saturday toured the main synagogue in Moscow, shaking hands and chatting with members of the congregation.

Standing room only

Soviet Baptists bar crowd from Graham sermon

MOSCOW (AP) — About 100 plainclothes and uniformed police barred hundreds of invited guests and all Western reporters from attending a sermon by the Rev. Billy Graham at Moscow Baptist Church Saturday night.

Graham's spokesman, Bob Terrell, said the decision to keep out certain guests and reporters was made by officials of the Baptist church, but that neither Graham nor his organizers were told about it.

Terrell said he had no idea why the service was closed off to many or how the invitations were distributed. "I didn't even know they needed invitations," Terrell said.

Another person traveling with the Graham delegation told reporters on condition that he not be identified that the decision to bar the news media was made by church officials who feared demonstrations might take place at the service. He said there were no protests.

Graham was whisked away in a limousine escorted by a militia car with flashing lights. Terrell said Graham noticed reporters he had met earlier on his 12-day tour of the Soviet Union and commented that it was strange that they were standing outside in the cold.

Graham attended a dinner party hosted by the Soviet Baptist church Saturday night but did not raise the matter there because it was in a loud restaurant and "nobody could hear a thing," Terrell said.

He added that Graham, whose hotel telephone number was not given out to reporters, "will try to find out about it and see that it does not happen again."

No advance arrangements with the Soviets were made to ensure that anyone who wanted to hear the evangelist speak would be allowed into the churches where he had scheduled sermons, Terrell said.

Asked if Graham and his delegation had been under the impression that any Soviet could attend the services, Terrell replied: "I was certainly assuming that, but I see that assumption was very wrong."

About 1,500 people were allowed in and "there was not very much space left, if any," Terrell said.

Cop killer suspects held

SAN DIEGO — Two men were arrested Saturday for investigation of murder, but investigators said they had not learned a motive in a shooting that left one city police officer dead and two wounded, one of them critically.

Police were citing two men in a parked car late Friday in Balboa Park for drinking in public and providing alcohol to minors — two teen-age girls in the auto — when one of the men opened fire with a semi-automatic handgun, homicide Lt. Paul Ybarro said.

Reds take Alaskan boat

ANCHORAGE — Five Alaskans are being held in the Soviet Union and their 120-foot supply vessel has been seized, the Coast Guard said Saturday.

The last reported location of the Freida K was in the Chukchi Sea just south of Point Hope on Tuesday. The tip of the Seward Peninsula, which the Freida K would have had to pass on its way back to Nome, is only about 50 miles from Soviet territory.

Hurricane loss totaled

BOLIVIA, N.C. — Three days after Hurricane Diana blasted onto land along the North Carolina coast, damage assessment crews scoured the hardest-hit areas Saturday adding up the toll, already more than $65.5 million.

Diana forced the evacuation of some 13,000 people, but only 325 remained in emergency shelters Friday night, mostly because their homes lacked electricity. About 42,000 people were without power at the height of the storm.

No deaths or injuries were blamed directly on the storm.

Crime boss' body found

GLOUCESTER TOWNSHIP, N.J. — A body found beside a road in the rural southern New Jersey community was that of reputed organized crime figure Salvatore Testa, the Camden County prosecutor's office said today.

Testa's body was identified by fingerprints which were sent to Philadelphia police. Testa, 27, was the son of reputed mob leader Philip "Chicken Man" Testa, who was killed by a nail bomb on his front porch in March 1981.

brother, 2-year-old Prince William. Buckingham Palace announced that the child was born at 4:20 p.m. (10:20 a.m. EDT) at St. Mary's Hospital.

U.N. opens new assembly

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly opens this week faced with what a top U.N. official called "the familiar chronic problems of the world." He said that of 142 items on the Assembly agenda, only four are new.

"There is no significant departure on any major topic in terms of Assembly debate from those we have seen in previous years," said William Buffum, an American who serves as undersecretary-general for General Assembly affairs.

Satellite Signals

by Mike Murphy General Manager

267-3607

You see them everywhere you turn now. Large, saucer-like contraptions, looking a lot like something that just landed from Venus in your back yard. They sit quietly, an ear to the skies, listening for the hundreds of satellite signals being beamed through space. The explanation for this sudden invasion of dishes on America's back yards?

It's because satellite television is the newest development in home entertainment since the electric can opener, and it has caught on much like cable TV did in the 70's. Everyone who remembers when Cable TV came into being can recall a whole new world of viewing that opened up to the public. Programs that had never before been seen were suddenly available right in your home, thanks to the magic of satellite transmission.

But something extraordinary happened in the late 70's... a handful of electronics pioneers realized that by having a dish in their own backyards, they could harness this vast world of viewing and be in total control of what they watched. Satellite TV for the home was born, and since that time, several significant things have happened:

First, the FCC deregulated satellite reception in 1979 which made it legal to own and operate your own system;

Second, satellite systems have become more affordable to everyone thanks to the volume of mass production techniques;

Third, legislation has been introduced to Congress to continue to protect your rights to view any program that is being beamed onto your property; and Fourth, many channels, recognizing the tremendous acceptance by consumers, have created more programming to address your desires, and hundreds of new channels are being added over the coming years.

In essence, a victory has been won by everyone who owns or wants to have their own satellite TV system. We have overcome the price barrier with lower prices and convenient financing, we have built better product as a result of improved technology and mass production, and we are going on our 4th year of service to West Texas in the satellite communication industry.

It's a great time to join the satellite revolution by making a wise investment in a quality system from American Satellite at 1201 S. Gregg in Big Spring, Tx., or call 267-3607. Our hours are 9:00 to 6:00 Monday through Friday and 9:00 to 12:00 on Saturday. Remember American Satellite for service and experience. And HAPPY VIEWING.

Pleasant images usher in autumn

Black and gold images danced before the spectators' eyes. A soft summer breeze turned abruptly and advanced instead from the cooler northeast. Sweat and strain on the field of play contrasted the animated faces of the sideline cheerleaders and exuberance from the stands.

The first home football game, the start of school, the statement of youth, the expectation of a new season — it was a potpourri to usher autumn. Nature orchestrated a preview Friday night. As the waning minutes ticked off the game clock, the wind changed direction and pushed pockets of cool air across the open stands at Steer Stadium.

On the field, the athletes were working for the miracle finish that did not come. But the loss on the field was mitigated by the victory in the stands — comradery, wholesome entertainment, a cohesion of spirit, a sense of renewal.

The air tingled. Part natural, part manmade. Like scenes captured by the whirl of a camera's motor, images were framed in the mind, to be retrieved and examined when autumn falls to winter's fury. And the soft, steady, cooling breezes — be they the biannual reprieves from nature's extremes or time outs for overworked minds and souls — are too short and too few. Enjoy.

We owe a debt

Dac Tat Mai is a genial 39-year-old Vietnamese whose cheerful bearing belies his past. Now a coordinator in the refugee program at Chicago's Truman College, he and his wife and two children escaped Vietnam four years ago, making their way on a small boat to Indonesia, where they gained admittance to the U.S.

Mai was a captain in South Vietnam's navy when his country fell to the Communists in 1975. Without a trial, he was put in the first of the three "re-education" camps where he would spend three years. These housed no common criminals — only people with a connection to South Vietnam's government.

In the camps, he says, disease was rampant, food meager and discipline brutal. A day's food consisted of two bowls of a grain for which Mai doesn't know the English word, but which normally was fed only to horses. Meat and sugar were served only once or twice a year. Medicine was scarce, and many prisoners died of ordinarily minor diseases like diarrhea. Still others developed debilitating vitamin deficiencies.

Inmates who violated rules — accepting cigarettes or food from outsiders, for example — were beaten or locked in tiny sheds for an entire day or longer, often with their hands and feet bound. Mai also saw 18 prisoners executed during his term. On one occasion, an enraged soldier drew his pistol and killed six prisoners on the spot. In all, he figures, about 15 percent of the prisoners died in custody.

Mai was released from his camp in June, 1978, but they still hold an estimated 6,000 to 8,000 Vietnamese. These include his wife's brother and many of his friends, for whom, he says, "my heart breaks." There is an unfortunate fate, but one from which the U.S. government may be able to rescue them.

The government of Vietnam has offered repeatedly to free the prisoners if the U.S. will take them.

Blue law has faded with time

The perpetuation of the blue law in Texas is more a matter of economics than of theology, even though ardent moral objection to its demise is mustered whenever the issue comes before the Texas Legislature.

The religious objections may be the most vocal, but business complaints are the most effective. The blue law has faced many challenges; it always emerges victorious.

The state comptroller believes Saturday-Sunday opening would generate "plus" business. His office reported last week a study which estimates repeal of the blue law would mean $337 million in additional retail sales in 1985. He's interested in those sales because that would mean $13.5 million in extra sales tax.

And the religious argument is shaky. There is no law restricting Sunday merchandising. The law only restricts sales on consecutive weekend days. A store willing to close its doors on Saturdays is free to open them on Sundays. In larger markets, many stores do, betting the Saturday sales losses will be more than offset by Sunday business, when nearly everyone else is closed.

Would employers be forced to stay open seven days a week should the blue law get the boot? Quite possibly, if they want to reach their full sales potential. But there may be trade-off possibilities for closing another day of the week — Mondays maybe.

The concept of seven-day-a-week retailing is hardly new, though. Grocery stores do it routinely, some of them day and night, never closing their doors. They apparently think it is good business even though it means higher operating costs.

The blue law would be more tolerable if it weren't for its quirks: hammers are OK, nails are restricted; disposable diapers can be sold, but not a baby bottle; canned food but not the can opener. And there's the consumer frustration caused by misinformed sales clerks. Yes, light bulbs can be sold on Sunday-closing days, but try arguing a clerk out of them if he has his mind set that they are a prohibited item.

In smaller cities, where many retailers opt for 6 p.m. weekend closings instead of 9 p.m., the problem for the consumer is compounded. Working parents often make it home until near 6 p.m., leaving no time for weekday shopping.

Maybe early weekday closing is an indication that Sunday sales time isn't needed, but I doubt it. If it is, then retailers can choose not to exercise their weekend option should the blue law be repealed.

This January may usher in the legislative session which turns the corner on the antiquated blue law and moves Texas retailing into modernity. I hope it is; I, for one, am tired of being denied the right to buy that needed nail to finish a Sunday project.

Cults seek out the lonely

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: A few years ago I got deeply involved in a cult. They brainwashed me into thinking I could only be happy as long as I was loyal to the cult and its leader. Recently I broke away from this group, but it has been hard. Why do people like me get involved with cults? — D.F.

DEAR D.F.: There are undoubtedly many reasons why the cults have a strong appeal to some people. Often, for example, they intentionally seek out people they know are lonely (such as newcomers to a big city, or people on a large university campus who feel lost in the crowd). They also tend to appeal to people who are unsettled in life and want to feel part of a group which claims to have all the answers to life's problems.

Around The Rim

By KEITH BRISCOE

For Big Spring, it's a matter of mountains. For the nation, it's a mountain of matters.

Sen. Dan Quayle, R-Ind., is holding up bipartisan legislation to fund an American Conservation Corps, a widely supported program designed to provide jobs for disadvantaged young Americans who would be put to work on rural, urban and park conservation.

Introduced in 1983, the bill overwhelmingly passed the House 301-87. Saying nay was Big Spring's representative, Charles Stenholm of Stamford, one of only five Democrats to vote against the measure. The bill lacked the support of three senators in failing to win immediate, unanimous consent.

A legislative aide to the bill's sponsor, Rep. John Seiberling, D-Ohio, says the ACC has a 50-50 chance of reaching the floor before the Senate adjourns in October. If it doesn't come to a vote, it's dead. What a great tragedy.

Funded by an annual allotment of $300 million from federal revenues, the ACC would employ 100,000 young men and women age 16-25. These civilian soil soldiers, administered by the Department of the Interior, would fight soil erosion, restore parks and forests, clean up ghettos and polish up monuments and historical sites.

If the ACC sounds a lot like FDR's Civilian Conservation Corps, that's because it is. The ACC bill was introduced on the 50th anniversary of the CCC's founding. And the most ardent supporter of the ACC is the National Association of CCC Alumni.

Opponents claim the country's "economic recovery" makes "a large federal jobs program unnecessary." Employment "and public projects, they say, are best left to private industry. These are the same people who call ghettos "free enterprise zones" and sell public land to rapacious corporations.

For the nation, it's a mountain of matters. What matters more: subsidizing private business or rescuing a generation from the despair of unemployment and giving them a hand in building America?

For Big Spring, it's a matter of mountains. South Mountain was developed by private business. Scenic Mountain was developed by the CCC. South Mountain can be enjoyed by a very few. Scenic Mountain can be enjoyed by everyone.

The issue surrounding the ACC is very simple: We either take responsibility for developing our human resources and conserving our natural resources, or we allow private interests and privilege to hold sway.

Would America benefit from the ACC? Just ask any CCC alumnus. Better yet, ask yourself the next time you're enjoying a picnic on Scenic Mountain.

Aggie takes issue with news on A&M

To the editor:
I disagree with the opinion expressed by Keely Coghlan in the "Around the Rim" column of Sept. 12. I can understand how some A&M traditions may seem "annoying, but tolerable" to someone who is not an Aggie. But ... this letter deals with one specific incident: the untimely death of Cadet Bruce Goodrich.

I deeply regret the passing of Cadet Goodrich, but one question bothers me concerning the media coverage of this incident. Would the unfortunate death have been given as much press coverage if it had occurred under different conditions such as during "two-a-day" football training at the local high school? Some would say football training has a purpose. Well, so does the cadet training at Texas A&M.

The primary purpose of the Cadet Corps is to train military officers. Military officers (especially infantrymen) are sometimes called upon to perform physically demanding activities at odd hours during the course of battles. The training cadets obtain at A&M helps the officers lead their men during adverse conditions by giving them an understanding of their own limits and capabilities.

... I feel the press has grossly erred in its condemnation of the Corps of Cadets and Texas A&M.

Governor blasts immigration bill

AUSTIN — Gov. Mark White is lending a hand to Hispanics hoping to defeat a controversial immigration reform package. White sent 36 letters Friday to U.S. House and Senate conferees who are attempting to hammer out differences in the reform measure before Congress adjourns Oct. 4.

In the letter, White questions the wisdom behind major elements of the bill, including a controversial proposal to impose criminal penalties on employers who knowingly hire illegal immigrants.

Hispanic groups staunchly oppose employer sanctions, claiming they cause employers to discriminate against Hispanic workers.

"I oppose any employer sanctions which would result in discrimination against Hispanic citizens or any other ethnic group," White wrote. Such sanctions, he added, effectively make employers enforcers of immigration law.

The employer sanction provision, contained in the House and Senate versions, would encourage "employers to avoid hiring individuals that appear foreign," White added.

White's stand goes against recommendations from his own Task Force on Immigration, which reluctantly endorsed the measure in a mid-1983 report.

The governor also criticized a proposed guestworker program included in the House version of the bill, claiming it would adversely affect the wages and working conditions of U.S. workers already plagued by a sagging economy along the Texas-Mexico border.

White urged the conferees to retain language in the House version calling for full federal reimbursement of medical and education costs related to the bill.

"It is the federal government which is responsible for national immigration policies," he said. "Taxpayers in the states most heavily impacted should not be forced to bear a disproportionate burden for resulting expenditures such as education or medical assistance."

The immigration legislation, dubbed the Simpson-Mazzoli bill after its legislative sponsors, seems endangered even without White's letter-lobbying. Republican U.S. Sen. John Tower of Texas has threatened to lead a filibuster against the bill should it reach the Senate floor.

Fake documents popular with aliens entering Texas

HOUSTON (AP) — Illegal aliens wanting to enter the United States can spend as little as $10 to secure fake immigration papers, a situation one official says is "out of control."

But new techniques and equipment have been developed to spot document fraud, and officials said they have reported increases in detection at those places where the new practices have been put to use. Dallas lawyer Robert Harm Bliss, who sat on Gov. Mark White's Task Force on Immigration, said he estimates about 75 percent of the 2 million illegal aliens in the state have the phony papers.

"The situation is out of control," Bliss said.

Democrats enlist state's 1982 party slate

AUSTIN — The same slate of statewide Democratic candidates who trounced 1982 Republican challengers is being tapped to recapture some of that power for Mondale-Ferraro and U.S. Senate candidate Lloyd Doggett in 1984.

"All their influence is going to be needed," said Democratic strategist George Christian, who claims Mondale-Ferraro isn't even in "shouting distance" of Reagan-Bush in Texas.

Gov. Mark White, who pulled a surprise upset of a Republican incumbent two years ago, and U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen are particularly important to the Democratic efforts, he said.

"Mondale needs to have more moderate to conservative support or he can't win. White and Bentsen have more influence in that wing of the party than anybody," Christian said.

White, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Treasurer Ann Richards, Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower, Attorney General Jim Mattox and Land Commissioner Garry Mauro have vowed to walk the precincts, raise money and do what they can to spark another Democratic win.

"I hope it will have considerable effect," Hobby said. "We will all be working very hard. Some or most of the state officials will be traveling with Mondale or Ferraro whenever they are in Texas. Mondale will be in Houston Sept. 24. I'll be with him."

JIM HIGHTOWER

White rarely misses a chance to appeal to conservatives on behalf of Mondale-Ferraro, frequently pinning the growing national debt on President Reagan. He has gone "two steps beyond what most governors have done" to aid Mondale-Ferraro, Christian said.

At the recent state Democratic convention, White waived some bolt cutters that he said Mondale-Ferraro will use to cut "the lock of indifference" at the White House. White gave the cutters to Doggett, who is seeking conservative backers in his battle with Republican U.S. Rep. Phil Gramm. When White took office in 1983, he ceremoniously clipped a lock from a Governor's Mansion gate — one his staff put there to remove as a symbol.

Bentsen, once a contender for Mondale's running mate, also has been raising money and campaigning for Mondale-Ferraro and Doggett, said Bentsen press secretary Jack DeVore.

But "the effect Sen. Bentsen will have on the presidential race will be much smaller than if he were part of the race," DeVore said. "There is a difference between saying vote for me and vote for somebody else."

Christian agreed that political popularity is often hard to transfer: "Bentsen carried the state with 60 percent of the vote in 1982. But he can't go out and say Mondale is it and get 60 percent of the vote for him. A great many people who support White and Bentsen are not for Mondale."

Comptroller Bob Bullock said he hopes to do some traveling for the campaigns but that the influence of officeholders other than Bentsen or White is almost none.

Mondale attacks 'Hollywood' foe

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his effort to "smoke out" President Reagan, Democratic challenger Walter Mondale is using some of the toughest language publicly directed at Reagan since he took office.

"This is not Hollywood, this is America we're dealing with," Mondale told a cheering partisan crowd at a rally Friday in front of the Michigan State Capitol in Lansing.

At that rally and in an earlier speech at Washington University in St. Louis, the Democratic nominee referred to the president's "arrogance" and called him "the most isolated president in American history."

He said Reagan was campaigning for re-election with "cameo performances, photo opportunities."

In words and tone, Mondale repeatedly expressed outrage over what he described as the cruel and unkind cuts the president tried to make in domestic programs.

Mondale said many of those cuts were rejected by Congress because "there is a decency in America. There is a caring and compassionate element to this country of ours."

"Mr. Reagan, you don't understand the sense of decency and caring that is found across the board with Americans."

Then his voice rising sharply, Mondale asked, "Who do you think we are to go along with cuts like that?"

During a campaign tour that began Monday in Philadelphia and included stops in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Mississippi, Tennessee, Missouri, and Michigan, Mondale steadily escalated his attacks on the president.

But with time running short in his underdog presidential campaign, Mondale appears to have dropped that cautious approach.

Reagan launches surprise tete-a-tete offensive with invitation to Gromyko

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidents often adjust their foreign policies during election years because of political imperatives, but few have undertaken the sweeping changes that President Reagan has in this campaign season.

The polls indicate Reagan's strategy has been highly successful but, for a president who took office intent on pursuing a "consistent" foreign policy, his behavior lately suggests this objective deserves a decidedly lower priority than the political requirements of the day.

AP news analysis

In his shift toward the center, Reagan has alienated some conservatives; at least one, renowned fund-raiser Richard Viguerie, has accused Reagan of appeasement policies reminiscent of those of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain in the late 1930s.

When Reagan meets with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on Sept. 28, the veteran diplomat may be wondering whether he will encounter the Reagan who two years ago looked to relegating the Soviets to the "ash heap of history" or the one who last week said he "means no harm" to the Soviets after all.

Publicly, the administration has minimized the significance of the Gromyko meeting on the election campaign. But Reagan's eagerness to capitalize on it was reflected in his decision to announce the meeting himself last Tuesday.

All this year, in fact, Reagan has steadily disavowed hallowed foreign policy precepts of his earlier White House period, a deliberate "rock-the-boat" strategy aimed at keeping the Democrats off balance.

He has said he would be willing to have a meeting with Soviet President Konstantin Chernenko "anytime," repudiating his earlier stand that superpower summits are not wise without prior assurances of a productive outcome.

He also has dropped his insistence on U.S. military superiority over the Soviets, saying that "parity" would meet American requirements.

CUTICLE CARE

Have you been good enough to yourself to have regular manicures by a professional manicurist? Notice that she never cuts the cuticles. They are there to protect the only living part of the nail, the matrix, where nail growth begins. If the cuticles were to be cut, the body would defend itself naturally by growing them back even thicker. The correct way to care for cuticles is to first apply a softening cream to keep them supple. They are then pushed back using a hindo stone, which is a fine pumice in the shape of a pencil, or an orange wood stick wrapped in cotton. Entrust your nails to a professional manicurist. She will do an excellent job and provide you with some moments of luxuriant relaxation.

ANNIVERSARY — British troops prepare for a 1944 airlanding that resulted in disaster for Gen. Bernard Montgomery's great offensive to the Rhine.

U.S. paratroopers to re-enact World War II disaster

GROESBEEK, Netherlands (AP) — Forty years ago Monday, American and British paratroopers plummeted out of the sky over occupied Holland in the biggest air-landing attack in history, a daring thrust its planners hoped would end World War II early.

Modern-day paratroopers of the U.S. Army's 82nd Airborne Division planned to re-enact their unit landing here Sunday to commemorate the Allies' last great military failure in Western Europe, the Battle of Arnhem.

Retired Lt.-Gen. James M. Gavin, who led the division 40 years ago, is scheduled to watch them hit the ground.

"We thought when the operation was launched that the Germans were beaten, and a really good blow might have finished them off," recalled retired Maj.-Gen. R. E. Urquhart, who commanded the British paratroopers.

"But of course, it wasn't the case."

The Sunday jump will be part of the biggest-ever World War II commemoration in the Netherlands, a month-long period of remembrance and reunion for British, American and Polish troops involved in the Allied thrust that did manage to liberate southern Holland from German forces.

Among others scheduled to attend observances will be President Chaim Herzog of Israel, who fought as a British tank commander in the liberation of the nearby city of Nijmegen; Lord Carrington, secretary-general of NATO, and Premier Ruud Lubbers of the Netherlands, as well as members of the Dutch royal family.

Cardinal Josef Glemp, Roman Catholic primate of Poland, is to say a memorial mass for Polish soldiers next Friday, and Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, plans to attend a Sunday memorial service Sept. 23.

Urquhart will also be attending, along with retired British Army Maj.-Gen. John Frost, who commanded the only unit to reach the Arnhem Bridge.

They will mark a bold undertaking that ended in disaster for thousands of Allied troops.

"When the idea was thought of, and taking into account the state of affairs in the southern parts of Holland, we thought that it was worthwhile," said Urquhart, now 83, in a telephone interview from his home in Stirling, Scotland.

Despite American paratroopers' capture of a corridor from Belgium to Nijmegen, the final 10-mile thrust failed, thousands of troops were trapped behind German lines.

Polish plane make surprise landing in Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — A lone pilot aboard a single-engine plane from a Polish sports club made an unauthorized landing today at Tempelhof U.S. Air Base in West Berlin, a spokesman said.

The man was being questioned by American security police at the airport. It was not immediately clear whether he was a Pole seeking asylum, said Capt. Steven Genser, spokesman for the U.S. command in Berlin.

He said the man would be turned over to local police after being questioned. The pilot broke the law by landing without authorization, Genser said, but he did not know if police would charge him.

The markings on the plane indicated it was from a private Polish sports club, Genser said. He said he had no further details.

Removal of radioactive cargo from ship delayed

OSTEND, Belgium (AP) — Weather changes Saturday again stopped removal of the radioactive cargo from a French ship that sank near here three weeks ago.

John Huylebreeck, spokesman for the Belgian Environment Ministry, said three more containers with uranium hexafluoride and one empty tank were retrieved from the wreck Friday night and early Saturday before a northern wind freshened and forced divers to halt work.

Thirteen full and 16 empty containers have been removed, leaving 17 tanks with radioactive material still in the French cargo vessel Mount Louis, which rests on its side, half emerging from the water at low tide.

A race to get the cargo to the surface began Thursday when the weather improved after two weeks of rough sea.

Huylebreeck said a new oil leak had developed at the rear of the ship and oil slick about 1½ miles long was being sprayed with detergent.

The Mont Louis contained close to 600 tons of oil when it left France.

It sank 12 miles from the Belgian coast on Aug. 25 after colliding with a passenger ferry in one of the busiest parts of the North Sea. It broke in two last Monday, raising fears that the containers might roll out of the wreck and bury themselves in the seabed.

The ship sank on a sand bank where water is shallow, but below-wave visibility is practically zero in a water filled with sand.

No radioactivity has been noticed so far. French authorities claim the containers can resist high shocks and pressure, but some doubts had been expressed about their valves.

The uranium hexafluoride, said to be only slightly radioactive, was to be enriched in the Soviet Union.

Pearl Harbor.

"It isn't my custom to write to you," read a front page open letter to Adolph Hitler in that day's Herald, "but enemy to enemy, I think you'll be interested in this piece of news." The letter's composer, staff writer Bob Whipkey, went on: "A lot of things took place here today that you wouldn't understand — because they were American things. But you can understand a group of husky, courageous and skilled Yankee bombers. That's exactly what came out of the Bombardier School today."

As the war progressed, the ages of the men who came to Big Spring became increasingly younger, remembers Mrs. Hart. The more mature men were sent overseas and the younger ones were trained and left stateside, she said. "I felt like they were keeping some of them over here — they were too young to be in battle."

With the joy and relief of eventual Allied victory came news that the training school would be closed and the land would revert to city control.

According to former Herald Managing Editor Tommy Hart, the new Big Spring airport that resulted "had every chance in the world for becoming the airport in West Texas." American Airlines continued its commuter air service to Big Spring that had begun in the 1930's. Pilots stayed in the Hotel Settles before continuing service the following day, Hart said. However, economic growth in Ground crewman lines up bombs at air base the Midland area precluded the port from taking shape. Howard College received its dream of a Big Spring regional air-charter and moved into temporary quarters at the former air base. Later, buildings from the base were moved to the college's present campus, according to former college administrator Johnnie Lou Avery.

And, foreshadowing the establishment of Webb Air Force Base in 1952, a clause in the military's ceding of the facility allowed the government to take back the land at any time, Hart said.

"City Fathers were quite ready for that to happen. They offered every type of cooperation possible," he said.

sent rebels planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A raid by U.S.-backed rebels in Nicaragua two weeks ago was executed with three rocket-equipped light aircraft supplied by the Central Intelligence Agency in an apparent drive to increase the guerrillas' firepower, The Washington Post reported.

The newspaper, quoting government and aircraft industry sources in Saturday's editions, said surplus Cessna 02A observation planes fitted with rockets were secretly transferred from the New York Air National Guard to "contras" fighting the Marxist Sandinista regime in Nicaragua.

The planes were used in the raid in which two American members of a private military group based in Alabama were killed

ALL DRESSED UP — A group of children participating in Big Spring's Diez y Seis celebration Saturday wait anxiously for the parade to begin.

The event marked Mexico's independence from Spain in 1810.

Mexico celebrates independence

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A huge open-air fiesta that attracted half a million people at El Zocalo square in the capital was the main attraction Saturday night in Mexico's celebration of the 174th anniversary of its independence from Spanish colonial rule.

The celebration, capped by a gaudy display of giant fireworks, drew more than 500,000 people in the square outside the Presidential Palace — twice as many as last year when the festivities were on a more reduced scale because of a severe economic recession.

A dozen of the country's main "mariachi" bands and some of the country's best known musical and entertainment groups began performing at sunset on a large stage erected in front of the palace.

Then, at 11 p.m. (12 a.m. CST Sunday), President Miguel de la Madrid appeared on a balcony of the palace and rang an old bell — the one used when independence was first proclaimed in 1810 — and both the president and the crowd yelled: "Viva Mexico!"

Seconds later, the 30-minute display of fireworks began.

Steers and turkeys

Try as they might, the Big Spring Steers couldn't come up with another final minute rally Friday night and the end result was the Steers first loss of the young season.

The mistakes the Steers capitalized on, however in their first game victory, came back to haunt them against Estacado.

"Too many mistakes, especially on offense," said head coach Quinn Eudy in the coaches office at Big Spring High School after the game.

"We had our opportunites, but just didn't take advantage of them," he added in reference to the four turnovers suffered by the Steers. Only one of the two fumbles lost led to an Estacado score. One interception killed Big Spring's last ditch effort at snatching defeat from the jaws of victory and the other two simply bogged down the offense to the point it had to punt away.

Defensively, the Steers played a good game in the eyes of the coach. "We made some mistakes on defense such as missing some alignments, but all in all we were a very improved defensive ball club. We need to work on our tackling though," said Eudy.

He emphasized tackling will be one thing that gets a great deal of work in practices this week — tackling and the kicking game.

In specific he mentioned the punt return unit. Eudy was not pleased with the fact that Steer punt return men allowed two kicks to fall in front of them without any effort at a return when bringing the ball back up field was a real possibility. On those occasions the Steers were forced to start from their five and 10-yard lines respectively.

Again, however Eudy noted that the youngsters making up this year's Steers did not give up or give out. "That's important," he said. "We've got to stick together to be successful."

Just how successful, remains to be seen. One thing is certain though. With the proper attitudes and just a few less mistakes anything is possible.

TURKEY SHOOTING TIME

Well, it is hunting season once again.

We are not talking about dove, duck, quail or geese. The public will have none of those birds. Instead, it is turkey season — the time of year when folks love taking potshots at the kind of turkey that would dare pick against the local and hometown favorites when it comes time to tee up the football for those much cherished Friday night football games.

Before any turkey hunters start looking up the address and telephone number of yours truly, let's say a word in defense. The Steers are this guy's choice every week because he truly feels they can win every week. Call it the power of positive thinking or of beating the odds every time my old high school team took the field. Anything is possible. Even the shot that will be heard around the Permian Basin when the Steers throw the scare of the year into the Permian Panthers. Believe me, the only bird I want to have anything to do with is the crow I make the other guys eat when the Steers win.

But before more of the brethren out there in Bulldogland, Buffalo hollow and the Wolves' den start fanning the countryside looking for the rest of the Pigskin Predictors, remember one thing: All persons have certain rights (yes, sportswriters are people, reargardless of rumors to the contrary).

Among those rights is the freedom of choice and that includes the right to pick the team of one's favor in the big game wherever it is being played and against whomever — even the Dallas Cowboys.

This column is written 50 percent tongue-in-cheek and 50 percent in all seriousness. That's exactly the chance any team has when playing another. So don't get all hot and bothered if the picks aren't unanimous across the board.

What does a turkey know?

Texas holds on to down Auburn

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Todd Dodge ran for one touchdown and passed for another Saturday night as No. 4-ranked Texas defeated an Auburn team 35-27 that was ranked No. 1 in preseason.

The victory before 78,348 fans and an ESPN television audience was a rematch of last year when Texas defeated Auburn 20-7.

Dodge, a record-breaking schoolboy passer who has struggled for three years in college play, ran 10 yards in the first quarter for the Longhorns' first score and tossed a 32-yard touchdown pass to teammate Brent Duhon in the third quarter.

Two second-half fumbles by No. 11 Auburn, which had no mistakes in the first half, and a goal-line penalty cost the Tigers.

Brent Fullwood fumbled at the Auburn 16 in the fourth quarter and Jim Moore recovered for Texas. Fullback Jerome Johnson scored from the 10 and Texas led 28-19.

Auburn drove to the Texas 1, but was penalized five yards for motion on a fourth-down play on which All-American Bo Jackson appeared to have scored.

Robert McGinty then missed a 23-yard field goal. Earlier in the second half, a 35-yard attempt by McGinty was blocked.

Texas clinched the game with its fifth touchdown after Auburn quarterback Pat Johnson was hit and fumbled at the Auburn 45. James McKinney recovered for Texas.

Johnson, who started the week as a third-team fullback and had never started before, scored his second touchdown on a twisting 14-yard run.

Auburn pulled to within a touchdown on a 77-yard drive that was capped by Fullwood's 1-yard run with about 2½ minutes left in the game. Pat Washington ran for two points on the conversion.

Auburn recovered an onside kick on its 46 and had an opportunity to tie the game but All-American safety Jerry Gray intercepted Washington at the Texas 18 with 2 minutes remaining.

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Running backs Timmy Smith and Freddie Wells scored a touchdown apiece and rushed for 114 and 131 yards respectively Saturday to lead Texas Tech to a 44-7 non-conference college football victory over Texas-Arlington.

Texas Tech, 1-0, scored on their first three possessions and led at the half 27-0.

Ansel Cole ended a 54-yard drive with a 2-yard run around the left end to put the Southwest Conference Red Raiders on top 7-0. The Southland Conference Mavericks, 1-1, then drove to Tech's 33-yard line before quarterback Phil Blue fumbled.

The Red Raiders added a 29-yard field goal by Ricky Gann. Arlington running back Andre Gray fumbled on the first play after kickoff and Gann's 36-yarder gave the Raiders a 13-0 lead at the end of the first period.

Smith broke through tackle on the first play of the Red Raiders' second possession in the second quarter and ran 35 yards to give Tech a 20-0 lead.

On their next drive, the Mavericks came close by driving to the Tech 10. A missed 27-yard field goal by Scott Tension gave Tech the ball back on their own 20.

TCU 62

Utah State 18

LOGAN, Utah (AP) — Tony Jeffery rushed for 182 yards and Texas Christian amassed 677 total yards as the Horned Frogs opened their season with a 62-18 non-conference victory over Utah State Saturday.

Jeffery, a freshman, led TCU's rushing attack, which gained 494 yards — eclipsing a TCU mark of 436 yards set in 1970 against Texas-Arlington. The total offensive mark of 677 yards also was a record for the Southwest Conference school — bettering the mark of 549 yards in 1969 against Rice.

Jeffery played sparingly in the second half after gaining 171 yards in the first half.

He ran for 53 yards during TCU's first scoring drive and later in the first quarter ran 72 yards for the team's second touchdown.

The first quarter ended with a TCU 21-3 advantage as Kenneth Davis scored on a 32-yard run through the right side.

Utah State, a Pacific Coast Athletic Association member, fell to 0-2.

USU scored all of its points in the first half. Willie Beecher kicked an 18-yard first quarter field goal. In the second quarter, quarterback Brad Ipsen connected with senior wide receiver Paul Jones on a 62-yard scoring toss.

With three seconds left in the half, Mark White added the final touchdown from 1 yard out.

SMU 41

Louisville 7

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jeff Atkins and Reggie Dupard rushed for two touchdowns each and Reggie Phillips intercepted two passes in the end zone, running one back for a touchdown, as No. 14 Southern Methodist routed Louisville 41-7 in a non-conference college football game Saturday.

The loss dropped Louisville to 0-3, while the game was the season opener for the Mustangs.

Southern Methodist put the game away in the first half, scoring on every possession.

Dupard, a junior tailback who led the Southwest Conference last season in rushing with 1,249 yards, gave the Mustangs a 7-0 lead on a 13-yard scoring run with 9:09 left in the first quarter.

Atkins, who was the leading freshman rusher in the Southwest Conference last year, had the Mustangs' next two scores, crossing the goal line on two 1-yard runs to give SMU a 20-7 lead with 8:07 left in the half.

With 2:24 left in the first half, Phillips intercepted an Ed Rubbert pass in the end zone and ran it back the length of the field to give SMU a 27-7 halftime lead.

Louisville's only score in the game came when Rubbert hit Ernest Givins with an 83-yard touchdown pass with 8:17 left in the first quarter.

Louisville got inside the SMU 25-yard line four times in the first half, but three of those drives ended with a Rubbert pass attempt being intercepted in the end zone.

Arkansas 14

Ole Miss 14

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas quarterback Brad Taylor drilled an 8-yard scoring pass to Donnie Centers with two seconds left in the first half for what proved to be the final points in a 14-14 tie with Mississippi Saturday night.

In the second half, Ole Miss kicker Bill Smith of Little Rock was wide right on field goal attempts of 32 and 33 yards, and then missed a 54-yarder on the final play of the game.

Arkansas kicker Ernie Villarreal was wide left on a 42-yarder and way short on a 53-yard attempt in the second half.

Mississippi, 1-0-1, scored the first two times it had the ball. Arkansas, opening its season under new Coach Ken Hatfield, scored 14 points in the second quarter.

Houston 30

Miami-Ohio 17

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston sophomore quarterback Gerald Landry ran for one touchdown and passed for two others after a slow first quarter to lead the Cougars to a season-opening 30-17 college football victory over Miami-Ohio Saturday night.

The Cougars, who were plagued with 45 turnovers last season, lost possession on an interception and fumble the first two times they got the ball in the first quarter.

But Landry got the Houston offense moving in the second quarter and the Cougar defense shut down the Redskins until the fourth quarter, when Houston had to hold off a mini-rally.

Miami quarterback Todd Rollins ran 10 yards for a touchdown and completed a 29-yard touchdown pass to John Arthur with Houston turnovers setting up each score.

Landry's 1-yard touchdown leap and a 4-yard touchdown pass to Michael Simmons staked the Cougars to a 13-3 halftime lead after an error-filled first quarter.

The Redskins converted a fumble by Raymond Tate and a recovery by Steve Fitzhugh at the Miami 40. That set up a 25-yard field goal by Gary Gussman for Miami's only lead of the half.

The Cougars rallied in the second quarter, scoring both touchdowns over a 3:37 span.

Houston scored on its first two possessions of the third quarter to take a comfortable 27-3 lead on an 18-yard touchdown pass from Landry to Larry Shepherd, who skirted down the sidelines untouched, and a 1-yard dive by sophomore Raymond Tate.

Houston is 1-0 for the year and the Redskins dropped to 0-2.

Ohio State 44

Washington State 0

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Quarterback Mike Tomczak, seeing his first action of the season, led ninth-ranked Ohio State on two first-half touchdown drives Saturday as the Buckeyes whipped Washington State 44-0 in inter-sectional college football.

It was the first shutout in 43 games for the Buckeyes, 2-0. Washington State, losing to Ohio State for the fifth consecutive time, dropped to 1-2 this fall. Ohio State beat Wisconsin 21-0 for its last shutout in 1981.

Tomczak, recovering from a double fracture of his right leg in spring practice, replaced starter Jim Karsatos with less than 10 minutes of the first half, drawing a standing ovation from the Ohio Stadium sellout of 89,297.

Tailback Keith Byars, rolling up 145 yards rushing, capped both Ohio State second-quarter drives that gave Ohio State a 23-0 halftime lead. He dived 1 yard and caught a 5-yard pass from Tomczak, pushing his touchdown total to 24 in 13 regular season games.

Cubs cut magic number to five

CHICAGO (AP) — Ron Cey doubled home two runs during a four-run first-inning outburst and Scott Sanderson and Lee Smith combined on a six-hitter Saturday as the Chicago Cubs posted a 5-4 decision over the New York Mets and moved towards their first National League divisional championship.

The Mets got two runs back in the third when Knight lead off with a single, the first hit off Sanderson, 8-4. Mike Fitzgerald then doubled off the right field wall to put runners at second and third. Knight scored when Fernandez grounded out to second and Fitzgerald came home when Wally Backman also grounded out.

Majors

The victory gave Chicago a 9½-game cushion over New York — the largest first-place lead in the East this year. It also reduced the Cubs' magic number to five games.

Mets loser Sid Fernandez, 4-6, made his first major league showing against the Cubs and it didn't take Chicago long to figure him out. Bob Dernier drew a lead-off walk and second before Ryne Sandberg walked behind him. Gary Matthews then singled to score Dernier and one out later, Cey doubled through the legs of New York third baseman Ray Knight to score Sandberg and Matthews for a 3-0 lead.

CARDS & PIRATES 3
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Terry Pendleton belted two doubles and drove in three runs to help the St. Louis Cardinals to an 8-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday.

Dave LaPoint, 11-10, pitched his second complete game of the season, allowing seven hits, walking two and striking out one. John Candelaria, 12-11, victim of a four-run Cardinals' fourth, took the loss.

Lee Lacy smashed a first-inning homer and delivered an RBI single in the third to give Pittsburgh a 2-0 lead.

Willie McGee led off the St. Louis fourth with a single and Bill Lyons drew a walk before Pendleton's first double made it 2-1.

Hearns holds on to welterweight title

GOING DOWN — Fred Hutchings is knocked down in the first round by Thomas Hearns in Saginaw, Michigan, Saturday afternoon. Hearns put the fight away in three rounds to keep his title.

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Thomas Hearns, demonstrating his awesome punching power from the opening bell, knocked down Fred Hutchings twice and stopped him in the third round Saturday to retain the World Boxing Council super welterweight championship.

Hearns, who scored both knockdowns in the first round when he nearly ended the fight, had Hutchings in trouble in the second and finished the match in the third when he had the challenger reeling helplessly from a barrage of head punches.

Referee Arthur Mercante stopped Hearns' third title defense with four seconds left in the third round. At the time that Mercante stopped the bout, one of Hutchings' handlers had climbed into the ring, exploring the referee to take the action he did.

Hearns, who had knocked out Roberto Duran in the second round in his most recent defense, June 15 at Las Vegas, Nev., came very close to ending this fight in the opening round.

The 6-foot-1 Hearns, 154 pounds, hurt the 6-2 Hutchings, 153½, with a flurry of punches in the first minute of the fight.

Then he knocked out Hutchings' mouthpiece with a crushing right hand, and a short while later, knocked down the challenger from Stockton, Calif., with a right to the head.

Hutchings struggled up, then went down from another right hand followed by a left, but it was the right that did the damage.

Once again, Hutchings, ranked No. 3 by the WBC and a loser only once in 28 previous fights, got up. He reeled into a corner, where he took a mandatory eight-count.

Mercante peered into Hutchings' eyes for a few moments, and then signaled for the bout to continue, but the bell rang.

Hutchings remained on his feet in the second round, but twice was sent reeling across the ring as the champion scored with jabs, hooks and right hands, all of them stiff punches.

Hutchings got in a few jabs in the third round, but Hearns was in control and began the winning barrage with a hard right to one of Hutchings' eyes, followed by a hook.

"People are looking for a knockout all the time," said Hearns.

Four area teams remain unbeaten

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

After the second week of football action area teams Colorado City, Borden County, Forsan and Stanton all remain in the unbeaten ranks while Klondike and Grady received their first losses of the young season.

GRADY proved that it will be a power to be dealt with in six-man play by taking 12th ranked Dawson to the wire before falling 40-36.

The Wildcats were marching for the winning score when time ran out, resting on the Dawson 20-yard line. Grady lost starting quarterback Michael Mitchell midway through the third period to a slight concussion and starting running back Dennis Sawyer took over the duties.

"I was real pleased with the effort," said Grady coach Currie McWilliams. "The main thing is the kids didn't quit when we down 28-12 at the half." Defensively we were messing up on our pass coverages, making mental mistakes, reading the wrong keys."

For the Wildcats, now 1-1 for the season, Sawyer led their rushing attack with 46 yards on 15 carries. Mitchell, Sawyer and halfback Luis Gonzales combined for six of 14 completions for 178 yards. SANDS won their first game of the season by overwhelming Rochelle 40-0 Thursday night.

Although Sands coach Jim White was not that impressed with his team's victory. "I guess you could say we had a pretty good game. It's kind of hard to evaluate your play when you go against a young team of freshmen."

The Mustangs got their offense untracked as running back Arnold Velasco churned out 111 yards in 15 carries. Defensively the Mustangs held Rochelle to minus yards the entire contest. "Our defensive front and linebackers did a good job, they didn't leave the secondary many tackles, and that the way you want it," said White. The Sands mentor singled out the play of down linemen Micky Franco, Joe Hernandez and Marc Rogers.

"It's the last time we'll play a team this young. The kids realize that Klondike (next game) will be a lot tougher." KLONDIKE dropped out of the unbeaten ranks with a 25-6 loss to Forsan.

Klondike coach Jimmy Thomas was not happy with his team's performance. "On a scale from one to ten our performance would not be too good," said Thomas. "They outplayed us but we didn't execute, missed assignments and killing drives. We mentally weren't ready."

Klondike's main offense was tailback Tim Cope who gained 109 yards in 19 carries. The Cougar passing attack failed, completing four of 14 passes and four interceptions. "A couple of the interceptions couldn't be helped, our line wasn't keeping them out," explained Thomas.

"The only bright spot about the game is it's a humbling experience. It's good this happened before district. This week we will go back to the basics, teaching technique and the things went over back in two-a-days. We have the potential to be a good team."

Meanwhile FORSAN coach Jan East was pleased with his team's winning effort. "We did a pretty good job, our defense played well for the second straight week. We stopped Cope (Tim) pretty good, but we didn't have as many kids around the ball as last week."

The Buffaloes secondary were at their best, picking off four passes while coach East praised defensive end Brandon Wooten for his play. "Brandon did a fine job, after a while they quit running at him."

Mitch Hays was again the workhorse the backfield gaining 180 yards on nine carries and scoring two touchdowns. Quarterback Todd East also threw the ball well completing five of eight passes for 86 yards.

BORDEN COUNTY captured their second consecutive win with a 32-15 victory over Threeway. Last season the Coyotes were 0-2 at this time.

"Both teams played well in the first quarter," said Borden County coach Duke Frisbee. "Then that northern blew in and it put a damper on the passing game."

Frisbee was impressed with his team's outside running game as it churned out 224 yards on 23 carries as compared to 105 yards on 19 carries for inside running plays. Chris Cooley had a field day for BC gaining 224 yards n 23 carries. Frisbee credited middle linebacker Robin Hood and defensive end Kirby Williams with having outstanding games.

Frisbee said big reason for his team's fast start is its opponents. "Last year we had a tougher non-district schedule. We played four of

'Skins try for first win

By The Associated Press
The Washington Redskins already know they'll have to shatter precedent to make it to their third straight Super Bowl this season — no team that has lost its first two games has played in the National Football League's championship extravaganza.

So it's a matter of tempting the fates no further Sunday when the Redskins play the surprising — make that shocking — New York Giants.

tensity — Washington just hasn't had it in the first two games this season and in the 38-9 loss to the Los Angeles Raiders in last season's Super Bowl.

"If I can pinpoint one thing that's been missing from this team for the last 2½ games, it's emotion," said linebacker Rich Milot. "This is not a team that can get the big head. That's not the problem. It's just that we haven't been an emotional team."

The Redskins-Giants game

Vernon did a good job."

The Giants, meanwhile, are a little giddy after a 28-7 victory over Dallas last week that put them at 2-0 after a 3-12-1 season last year.

The biggest factor in their improvement has been Simms, who returned after missing most of the past three years with injuries. He has given the Giants a quick-strike offense they haven't had since Y.A. Tittle retired 20 years ago. In victories over Philadelphia and Dallas, Simms has thrown for 594 yards and seven touchdowns, all of them from 16 yards or longer.

The defense remains solid behind linebacker Lawrence Taylor, last week's NFC Player of the Week after three sacks against Dallas, two of which forced fumbles. One fumble returned 81 yards for a touchdown by Andy Headen.

NFL roundup

After losses to the Miami Dolphins and the San Francisco 49ers, the Redskins are last in the NFL in defense, both in yardage and points allowed — they've given up 72 points. The Giants are 2-0, and with quarterback Phil Simms healthy again, suddenly have found an offense capable of exploiting Washington's biggest weakness, its pass defense.

In part, Washington Coach Joe Gibbs blamed the schedule for his team's poor start, noting that the Dolphins and 49ers are two of the NFL's toughest opponents. And he found some consolation in his team's comeback from a 27-0 deficit Monday night at San Francisco to a 37-31 final that can carry over into this week's game.

"Maybe this is the time when our team really comes together for the first time this year," said Gibbs.

But it's also been a matter of in-highlights a full NFL schedule this weekend.

In other Sunday games, Atlanta is at Minnesota, Chicago at Green Bay, Cincinnati at the New York Jets, the Raiders at Kansas City, St. Louis at Indianapolis, Seattle at New England, Detroit at Tampa Bay, Houston at San Diego, the Los Angeles Rams at Pittsburgh, New Orleans at San Francisco, Philadelphia at Dallas, and Denver at Cleveland, in a night game.

Miami is at Buffalo Monday night.

Gibbs already has made one change in preparation for the Giants — Vernon Dean will start at right cornerback for Anthony Washington, who was victimized often during the Redskins' first two games. "We're not making the plays back there," Gibbs said. "We felt like Anthony had a tough time two weeks in a row. We felt like the state's top 10 teams. This year the kids have improved and played well, though."

COAHOMA is still searching for its first win as they battled to a 14-14 tie with Stanton in a game coach Bruce Mitchell felt his team should have won.

"We let it get away," said Mitchell. "It was a close game, the effort was there but we just didn't reach down inside and pull the difference," he said commenting on the game ending with Coahoma resting on the Stanton 18.

The Bulldogs finally got their passing game clicking as quarterback John Swinney connected of 12 of 27 passes for 157 yards, not to mention at least six dropped passes. "Our passing game is coming around, its still sputtering because we dropped too many passes."

While Coahoma's passing attack clicked, their running game faltered, mustering only 34 yards. The Coahoma defense sacked the quarterback four times led by linebacker Luke Yarbar and defensive end David Hutton.

STANTON is still in the unbeaten ranks by virtue of their 14-14 tie with Coahoma.

It was a great comeback for coach Dale Ruth's Buffaloes as they marched 30 yards in 33 seconds for the tying score, leaving 27 seconds remaining in the game. "I was proud of the team, they didn't give up," said Ruth. "Coach Mitchell did a good job of preparing his boys, they shut down our passing game so we had to go back and start with our basic plays."

When the 'Buffs needed it their passing game came through as quarterback Kevin Glaspie hit Wayne DeLao and Derrick Sorley with key passes in the final scoring drive.

Danny Koonce, after being held to 17 yards in the first half, came back to lead all ball carriers with 74 yards on 15 carries.

Koonce, Benny Tarango, Jody Kelly and Sorley all played fine defensive games for Stanton.

GARDEN CITY played tough Bronte to a 0-0 tie, and G-City coach Tony Stricklin called it his team's best performance. "It was by far our best effort. We still need to score so some points but the kids attitude and desire is good," Stricklin stated.

With a revamped offensive line which included Greg Stringer, Doug Schafer, Jesse Aragon and Charles Parnell; the Bearkats had their best rushing output accumulating 185 yards. Abby Madrid collected 120 yards in 20 carries.

The Bearkat defense led by linemen J.J. Caswell and Willie Sanchez along with secondary men Frankie Ramirez and Doyle Schafer was spectacular, making three goalline stands to preserve the tie.

David Montgomery did an admirable job filling in for injured starter Bryan Thompson, according to Stricklin. "David stepped in and did a fine job. I know that we now have two fine quarterbacks." COLORADO CITY got their offense untracked as they overwhelmed Seminole 41-12.

It was "Air Colorado City" as the Wolves and quarterback Doug Chitsey bombarded the Indians for 336 yards passing. "We could do no wrong the first 18 minutes of the game," said C-City mentor Tom Ramsey. "We put it all together, it was our best game so far this season."

With starting running back Sammy Rivera injured, the Wolves went to the one back offense with Bill Jackson in the backfield and four wide receivers. The new offense responded with Jackson rushing for 168 yards on 22 carries while Chitsey hit his first 10 passes and ended the night 18 of 22.

Tight end Don Randle led a barrage of Wolves receivers with 10 catches for 180 yards. Armando Rivera and Perry Conner snagged three passes each for 77 and 48 yards respectively.

"The offense worked better than we thought it would," said Ramsey. "We were hoping for at least 100 yards on the ground so we could keep the defense honest. They were a pretty good ball club, we were just clicking, they got behind and couldn't catch up."

OBSTRUCTING THE DEFENSE

In baseball, the defense is allowed the freedom to make a play without being obstructed by an offensive player. A base-runner cannot run into a fielder or block his vision. In the early days of baseball, it was determined that a runner who was hit by a batted ball was automatically out. The batter would go to first base and all other runners were forbidden to advance. However, it was not until about 30 years ago that it was acknowledged that a runner could deliberately let a grounder hit him to spoil a possible double play. Now, if that happens, the umpire has the right to rule both the batter and the runner out if he thinks a double-play opportunity was spoiled.

Big Spring

by LISA SWINNEY

'Building on new directions'

At BSHS everyone is getting involved in clubs and activities which interest them, branching out in their own direction.

One club, Student Council, has chosen BOND — Building On New Directions — as its acronym, bringing attention to the many unique people and clubs at BSHS.

This year seems to be the time to do your own thing, go your own direction, "march to the beat of a different drummer."

The Student Council also says "never say never". It's the new theme for this school year.

It all comes down to attitude. If you say "never" then Big Spring "never" will succeed!

So, don't be caught saying "never". Instead, believe in yourselves and your fellow classmates and give it your best.

Student Council chose officers at the end of school last May; but, class officer elections were held Friday.

With officers already chosen, Tri-Hi-Y began with their meeting of the year at the YMCA. A ski trip, hay ride and monthly socials are among the activities planned. On Monday, another meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Guest speaker George Colvin of the Civitan Club is on the schedule.

Calendars of the Key Club, featuring the 1984-85 calendar girls, have been printed and will be sold this week.

An honor is to be bestowed on only two members and two calendar girls, Sept. 20. Mr. Baker, Key Club sponsor, explains, "Four of our chosen members will attend the Kiwanis Officer Installation Banquet held by the Kiwanis in Big Spring."

den, first vice president; Tonya Stevenson, recording secretary; Jim Cowan, second vice president; and Lorie Griffice, corresponding secretary.

Teams suffer disappointing losses

It was a busy week at Goliad. On Monday, the girls' volleyball team suffered a disappointing loss to Sweetwater.

The A team lost 15-10, 6-15 and 1-15. The B team lost 13-15 and 14-16.

Goliad's first pep rally was held in the gym Thursday morning. The football players, volleyball players, managers and cheerleaders were introduced.

Private school's music group elects officers

Christ Fellowship Christian School has begun its fall semester with the election of Music Parents Association officers.

They are president-Sheila Weddle, vice president-Randy Deubler, secretary-Susan Gaston, treasurer-Sharon Deubler. The music coordinator and director is Don Bryson.

The officers will aid the students in the fund-raising activities for CFCS choir and band. Funds will finance the student participation in the Texas State Convention and International Convention in Bloomington, Ind., later in the year.

The Stallions played their first football game of the season in San Angelo Sept. 14. Also added to the curriculum is the girls volleyball team. San Angelo was the site for the girls first game. Both games were played last Friday.

Students for the 1984-85 school year are planning trips, concerts and competitions. CFCS also has special programs in music, computer operation and sports.

New officers elected

The Forsan student body elected Student Council officers Sept. 13.

The results were: president, Todd East; vice president, Kristi Evans; secretary, Lana Nichols; and treasurer, Jennifer Salvato. Those who ran for officers are representatives of their class.

The band is practicing on Monday nights for their contest performance to be held in October. The drum majorette this year is Lana Nichols, junior.

The cheerleaders and spirit committee is meeting on Mondays after school to make signs for the football team and pep rallies.

Juniors ordered their class rings from Herff-Jones of Midland Friday. Seniors are selling hamburger patties, bacon, hot and regular breakfast sausage and ham as fund-raisers. Please support the class of 1985 by purchasing these items.

There was an FHA meeting Sept. 13 to elect officers. This week, officers will be announced.

The varsity Buffalo football team will play Robert Lee, there, Friday, Sept. 21, at 8 p.m. The junior high team will play Roscoe, there, Sept. 20 at 6 p.m.

Mum sales begin

The Coahoma Bulldogs took on the Stanton Buffaloes Thursday evening and the Coahoma junior high team took on Stanton junior high football teams Thursday, Sept. 13, in Stanton. Mum sales began Thursday and will continue until Oct. 21. The sale of these mums is sponsored by FHA. Money raised will assist in paying for members dues and help defray the cost to go to the area FHA meetings. Mum sellers are asked to "really get moving."

Elections slated

Due to new state laws on education, many of the students have been getting an average of between two to four hours of homework each night. This can be a real burden to students that miss school often.

On Friday, Student Council officer elections will be held. The football teams will play Greenwood and Snyder, in their respective towns Thursday.

The volleyball teams split with Sweetwater last week, the Red team winning by a score of 15-1, 15-7 and the White team losing with scores of 17-15, 15-4 and 15-7. There will be a volleyball Tournament the Sept. 22 in Big Spring.

POPE JOHN PAUL II

Pope warns of technology in appeal

TORONTO (AP) — Pope John Paul II, cheered by the greatest throng of his Canadian tour, championed the cause of the unemployed Saturday and called on society's leaders to make technology "truly serve man, woman and child."
"At times technology cannot decide the full measure of its own allegiance: whether it is for humanity or against it," the pope declared at a Mass for a crowd estimated by organizers at a half-million, spread over the runways of a military airport in suburban Toronto.

It was the fourth time in as many days that the leader of the world's more than 700 million Roman Catholics took a tough line on industry and government economic policies.

Canadian business was showing its irritation.

"It's a message that we regret having heard because it means, really, that the economic realities have not penetrated the people who wrote the text for the pope," the Canadian Chamber of Commerce president, Sam Hughes, said of the pope's calls for a restructuring of Western economies.

Bears terrorize Canadian town

EDMONTON, Alberta (AP) — Several residents of the Jasper townsite say marauding grizzly and black bears are terrorizing hikers and joggers in the area.

The latest in a series of incidents occurred Thursday when three joggers almost ran into a female grizzly and her cub on a hiking trail.

Cam Wilson, a Jasper ski instructor, said Friday "it has become a case of them or us."

People are encouraged to visit Jasper but are not told they may "become dinner for the grizzlies," said Ramsey Heckley, a railroad employee and Jasper resident.

"There are many people in town who want to ignore the bear factor because they worry it may hurt the town's economy," said Wilson.

Jasper Park Chief Warden Don Dumpleton says Parks Canada is aware of the bear problem. Although it is the worst in recent summers, it may be no more than the peak of a cycle, he said.

In the summer of 1983, wardens sighted 14 bears around Jasper. This year, the total went past 70. At one time during the summer, the golf course at Jasper Park Lodge was closed after a bear chased a woman golfer up a tree.

New events debut at Howard Co. Fair

By KIM KIRKHAM
Lifestyle Writer

What do barnyard animals and a barbecue cook-off have in common? No, one is not going to be cooked in the other. They are two of the many attractions featured at the Howard County Fair this week beginning tomorrow at 4 p.m.

BARBECUE COOK-OFF

A new attraction at the Howard County Fair is the first annual barbecue and bean cook-off. The cook-off will be held around the top of the rodeo bowl, beginning with registration at 6 p.m. Friday and ending about 3 p.m. Saturday. "We felt like there's a need for it," said Smitty Smith, president of the Howard County Fair Association. "It's just good family fair entertainment."

Contestants have from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday to set up. All meat must be raw for inspection. The entry fee $25 for meat (brisket only) and $5 extra to enter the beans competition.

Judging will be at 3 p.m. Saturday. Trophies will be given to the winner of best looking brisket, best beans, best looking rig, who came the furthest and best dressed or costume.

ENTERTAINMENT

This year, the Fair Association has provided a large 60 by 90 tent in which most of the entertainment will be featured. Local talent as well as featured guest Gloria Gilbert Barron, former Miss Texas, will perform each night.

The Fair Association is trying to have something for everybody every night, said Don Richardson, head of the entertainment division. It also is trying to have entertainment going on constantly from at least 6 p.m. to closing each night, he said.

Tim Haynes, head of the theatre department at Howard College, will emcee at all entertainment features throughout the week.

The Howard County Queen's contest will be held on the opening night of the fair. Gloria Gilbert and her ventriloquist act will perform at 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday night. Also on Tuesday night, Howard College will present a melodrama and other acts.

Hoyle Nix and his band will perform in the Big Top, and Haynes and Pam Riddle will host a breakdance contest Wednesday night. Local talent will perform on Thursday night.

At 5 p.m. Friday, a talent revue, "Howard County Kids," hosted by Ida Lou Belle, will be held. David McReynolds and his band, interspersed by Gloria Gilbert Barron, will follow.

A fiddler's contest will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday. At 6 p.m. the David McReynolds band and Gloria Gilbert Barron will be featured again.

4-H OMELET SUPPER

The 4-H Omelet Supper will be held from 5:30 to 9 p.m. Tuesday in the tent south of the new livestock barn. The club is expecting to serve more than 650 people, said Naomi Hunt, county extension agent and coordinator of the supper.

Tickets are $3 each and are available from any 4-H member, at the 4-H booth at the fair, and at the door.

Salad, Texas toast, and tea or coffee will be served with the assembly-line made eggs. There will be four serving lines to provide people with quicker service. Featured toppings are ham, cheese, onions, hot sauce, and/or hot peppers.

"Howard County has the distinction of having the largest 4-H Omelet Supper in the state of Texas," said Ms. Hunt.

The grocery list for the giant meal include: 1,950 eggs, 52 pounds cheese, 30 pounds ham, 32 pounds onions, 34 pounds margarine, 65 loaves of Texas toast bread, 52 heads of lettuce, 20 heads of cabbage, 26 pounds carrots, 2 gallons hot sauce, gallons and gallons of tea, and a truck load of ice, said Ms. Hunt.

Money raised will help send 4-Hers to various leadership training retreats and help provide supplies and equipment for 4-H activities, she said.

More than 150 people are involved in making the supper. "We certainly appreciate the support of the many donors who make the omelet supper possible," she said.

BREAKDANCE CONTEST

The breakdance contest is being held to appeal to the younger crowd, said Richardson. Trophies will be awarded to the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place winner on each level: grade school, middle school/junior high and high school.

There is no entry fee, and the youth can come in and perform.

CARNIVAL

The "Pride of Texas" carnival, sponsored by the Fair Association, will run every night beginning at 6 p.m. "That carnival runs as long as the kids want to ride," said Smith.

SHRINE CIRCUS

The Shrine Circus has been a special feature at the Howard County Fair since the fair began 12 years ago, said Verlin Knous, assistant Rebban of Suez Temple. Two performances will be held at 4 and 8 p.m. Monday in the Rodeo bowl.

CHILDREN'S BARNYARD

A petting zoo, featuring the typical baby farm animals — horses, calves, pigs, etc. — will be held each night of the fair for the youngsters.

SEW IT WITH COTTON CONTEST

The third annual "Sew it with Cotton" contest was held at the Big Spring Mall yesterday and is sponsored by the Dryland Cotton Promoters. Awards will be presented at style show at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the fair barn.

Prizes will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners in each category of the three divisions. The prizes are: first, $50; second, $30; and third, $20.

FARMER'S DAUGHTER CONTEST

The Farmer's Daughter Contest, sponsored by the Dryland Cotton Promoters, was held yesterday at the Big Spring Mall, directly after the "Sew it with Cotton" contest. Contest winners will be announced following the "Sew it with Cotton" finals Tuesday at the Fair.

Crowns and banners will be awarded to winners and gift certificates will be awarded to the first runner-ups in each age group.

OTHER THINGS TO SEE AND DO

Other events happening during the fair week include: a rabbit show, flower show, pet show, lapidary exhibit, photo contest, art exhibit, canned and baked goods, hobbies and crafts, lamb show, steer show, horse show, and much, much more.

Tuesday night will be kid's night at the fair, sponsored by Coca-Cola. Any kid who brings an empty coke can to the fair will get in free.

The gate will open at 4 p.m. Monday. The cost is $1.50 for ages 12 and up, 50 cents for ages six to 11 and children under six get in free. Tickets are available only at the gate.

TAKE ME OUT TO THE FAIR — A children's barnyard of pets will be featured at the 12th annual Howard County Fair. The barnyard will have baby animals such as pigs, calves and horses. Brandy Wilkerson (left) seems to enjoy the animals featured at a previous Fair. Another Fair attraction is the "Pride of Texas" carnival (above). The Fair will begin tomorrow at 4 p.m. and last until Saturday.

Fair workers strive for success

By TINA STEFFEN

The gates will swing open at 4 p.m. Monday as Howard County welcomes its residents and those of adjoining counties to the 12th annual Fair. The Howard County Fair will continue until 10 p.m. Saturday at the Fair grounds on the west side of Big Spring.

Officials of the Howard County Fair Association are predicting that this year's Fair will be better than ever with more entertainment and special events.

Smitty Smith, 1984 Fair Association president, says the Association's goals for the event are the same as those in the past, "to put on good family entertainment at a reasonable price," and to "try to put on a bigger and better Fair each year."

"And I truly think we did it this year," Smith said. He believes that the Fair will have good attendance because of the economic slump the area has been in. The Fair provides six days of good inexpensive entertainment for the whole family, he says.

Admission to the Fair has not changed in the past four years. Adults, 12 and older, are admitted for $1.50. Children six years of age to 11 are admitted for 50¢. Children under six are admitted free.

Planning the Fair did not take a month's work just prior to the opening. The Fair Association has worked continuously for 13 years, all year round, to make this year's Fair what it is today. The planning for each Fair begins before the previous Fair is over with. About a year of hard work on the part of the Fair Association and friends of the Fair is needed to produce each Fair. The continual improvements on past Fairs keeps the Fair growing and excelling.

FAIR PLANNING is many hours of hard work on the part of many people, Smith says.

Delbert Donelson and Skipper Driver handle the Fair's financial affairs throughout the year. Driver is the Fair Association's treasurer and general superintendent.

Jay Wallace is the head of the agricultural division. Dave Lambers is in charge of outside booth space and concession stands. Both are vice presidents of the Fair Association.

Wallace's work with the agricultural division includes: steer show, Howard Armstrong — chairman; lamb show, Jimmy Long — chairman; agricultural products, Danny Nichols — chairman; rabbit show, Sherri Newton and Joyce Hamlin — chairmen.

Geraldine Posey is in charge of booth sales and set up. She began gathering information in March and sent mail outs in June to get booths lined up for the Fair in September. She also is a general superintendent.

George Weeks heads up ticket sales, and has the tickets available for sale and ticket sellers selected to take tickets.

Don Richardson handles all the entertainment at the Fair. This year's entertainment is a major attraction to the Fair. Well-known ventriloquist Miss Texas 1982 Gloria Gilbert Barron and local talent will perform shows for all ages.

Zula Rhodes and Ruth Mitchell head up the women's division. In this division are several categories: hobbies and crafts; over sixty; baked goods; canned goods; clothing; handwork; youth; flower show and art show.

Wayne Rock handles Fair publicity, Fair catalog, radio, television and newspaper interviews, and getting information for special events. He also helps gather and prepare results information for the media.

Repps Guitar is in charge of Fair grounds security and protection for Miss Texas. Security is maintained 24 hours a day on the grounds and the parking lot.

Neil Fryar is general superintendent of the main Fair barn. He prepares it for the Fair and sees that it is cleaned daily.

J. Arnold Marshall is chairman of the board of the Howard County Fair Association. "Through his years of devotion and years of involvement in Howard County Fair Association, we let him do pretty much what he wants," Smith said. Marshall has handled arrangements with the carnival.

Dennis Poole will put on the third annual Goat Show for the children. R.G. Click handles everything that will take place in the rodeo bowl and the children's barnyard.

Jerry Roman is the operations manager and is in charge of getting needed equipment to the different divisions. "He is our Mister Handyman-on-the-Spot," Smith said. "We also call him our junior highway patrolman because he drives a three-wheeler fast to escort trailers to where they park. He really scoots that thing around."

LaVerne Gaskins and Becky Smiley are in charge of the art show. Terry Patterson and Pearl Armstrong ran the show in the past and are longtime Fair supporters. They retired this year.

Charles Phillips is handling the barbecue and bean cook-off, a new attraction this year. He checks everyone in, assigns spaces and takes care of the chef's needs. "I know that he and the board of directors have a lot to learn," Smith said, "but I think it will be a fun event and entertaining for the whole family."

June Nichols and Naomi Hunt are working with the Over 65 division and the Howard County Fair Queen pageant, which Ann Weaver chairs.

AS PRESIDENT of the Fair Association, Smith coordinates all the other directors and officials. "But they do all the work," he says. "If it wasn't for them we wouldn't have a Fair. I'm just a part of it, a small part of it."

"One director can't plan an event without checking with at least one other director," he said. This helps with the communication situation and working as a team to produce the Fair. "We've had a very open board of directors. We have monthly meetings and when things come up, it helps us communicate and plan."

Smith has been involved with the Howard County Fair for several years. "I've been in business here in Big Spring for a long time and wanted to give something back to my community." He had a Baskin-Robbins booth at the Fair for several years. That helped his business grow.

He joined the Fair Association about six years ago. "I didn't do very much when I first started. I went out and helped. The longer I stayed with it, the more I became involved in it." This is his second year as president.

"The only pay any director receives is just the thanks we receive from the people of Howard County," he said. He estimated that the Fair Association's members have put in at least 3,000 manhours planning for this year's Fair.

"This is the first year we've been able to bring 'name-brand' entertainment for the Fair like Miss Texas Gloria Gilbert Barron." This also is the first year the association has been able to put a tent up for Fair entertainment to perform in. Before we had to wait until the sun would go down and have them on a trailer." The county also added a new Fair building, which will house the new livestock barn.

"From spreading the directors out, we have more people working on the Fair and more friends of the Fair," he said.

"It's been an honor and a privilege to serve this board of directors and Fair for two years. It's been a lot of hard work, but it has been a lot of rewards."

Couple's daughter in hospital

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

LAQUITA CULWELL of Taylor, daughter of RED AND MARY ANN ROSS of Big Spring, was injured in a car wreck about three weeks ago in the Round Rock area. She has been in the hospital all this time with several broken bones and has about another three weeks stay to go.

Cards and letters really cheer her up. Friends of Laquita's may send them to her hospital at Round Rock Hospital, Round Rock, Texas 78664, or to her home at 1609 Castlewood, Taylor, Texas 76754.

"Passages," an exhibit of color photographs by BYRON ROGERS, is on display until Oct. 15 at Iman Galleries, 311 W. Concho, San Angelo. The exhibit may be viewed from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturdays.

Byron lived in Big Spring in 1975 and 1976 when he taught photography at Howard College in the Adult/Continuing Education program. His work has been exhibited at Howard College in addition to other colleges and universities throughout the region.

The exhibit includes 32 SX-70 taken over a 10-year period, which are single images and montages. "To me, photography is a way of seeking answers to questions, and the SX-70 process provides a unique means of discovery," he said. The exhibit also includes a poster featuring one of his photographs, 28 landscapes and still lifes and his "Homage to Ansel."

His "Homage to Ansel" in Monument Valley pays a humorous tribute to the late photographer, known for his magnificent landscapes.

Byron has lived in San Angelo for the past eight years. He studied photography and art at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. A former photographic equipment retailer, he has spent the last five years pursuing a career as an artist. He teaches photography at the Adult/Continuing Education Department of Angelo State University in San Angelo.

J.D. KEEL will judge the art show at the Howard County Fair Monday and will give a demonstration at 8 p.m. at the art exhibit. He studied art at Southwest College at Waxahachie and won first place awards at the school while there.

He has won numerous best of show and first place awards.

Keel has studied oil painting under well-known artist FREDERICK TAUBES and water color under other leading artists. He teaches art in New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma. In Ruidoso, N.M., he teaches at the Carrizo Lodge. Keel's home is in Seagraves where he has an art gallery and florist.

The schedule for other art show demonstrations during the week follows. Each demonstration begins at 8 p.m. at the art exhibit.

Tuesday — SHERRY HODNETT will demonstrate birds and leaves in oil.

Wednesday — NANCY MARTIN will demonstrate weaving.

Thursday — JEAN HILDRETH will demonstrate either oil or pastels.

Friday — BARBARA MERRYWORTH will demonstrate Huf-faker's technique of roses.

In the Women's Division of the Fair, ROXANNE RICH of Kopper Kettle will demonstrate kitchen gadgets, making cookies and moelii. What is moelii? I don't know. I guess I'll have to go and find out.

Dear Abby

Guest towels are pretty, useful

DEAR ABBY: May I air my pet peeve? I always put our pretty little hand towels for guests to use. They are easy to launder, but I never have to launder them because nobody ever uses them.

Instead, they dry their hands on the tip of a king-size bath towel, so I'm forced to launder a big bath towel rather than little hand towels that easily could be tossed into my washing machine. Instead of making less work for me, my guests make more work for me. Do other people have this problem?

ANNNOYED IN GEORGIA

DEAR ANNOYED: Yes, in fact, Mabel Craddock of Ventura, Calif., grew so weary of guests who dried their hands on toilet paper, bath mats and even her shower curtain, she wrote the following poem, which I published. Her poem was embroidered in cross-stitch, and she framed it and hung it on the wall in her powder room over her guest towels. That solved her problem. So here's the poem, and be my guest:

A GUEST TOWEL SPEAKS
Please use me, guests;
Don't hesitate.
Don't turn your back
Or vacillate.
Don't dry your hands
On petticoat,
On handkerchief,
Or redingote.
I'm here to use;
I'm made for drying.
Just hanging here
Gets very tiring.

DEAR ABBY: Some good friends of ours have a boy who is 14 and a girl who is nearly 11. These children share a bedroom (twin beds). We don't think this is a healthy setup for children of these ages and of the opposite sex.

We've brought up the subject several times, but our friends say, "Oh, they're both good kids — there's nothing to worry about."

The father has been talking about building another room onto the house ever since we've known them, which has been six years now, but he never seems to get around to it. (He found time however, to build a patio and a sun deck.)

Abby, what do your experts say about this subject? If we can get a professional opinion, maybe these people will wake up.

CONCERNED FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: My experts say children of the opposite sex require their privacy after age 10.

(Every teen-ager should know the truth about drugs, sex and how to be happy. For Abby's booklet, send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 (this includes postage) to: Abby, Teen Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

Residents can enter flower show

The Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs again will sponsor the Flower Show at the Howard County Fair, Monday through Saturday.

All classes in the show are open to any Howard County resident. All specimens that are to be entered must be grown in Howard County.

Pre-entries may be made today from 1 to 3 p.m. by calling the entries chairman. The flower arranging entries chairman is Mrs. F.C. Tibbs. She can be contacted at 267-2269. State your name and the class number you are entering. The pre-entries are for all dried arrangements. Fresh arrangements and cut specimens may be entered Monday from 8 to 11:30 a.m.

Pre-entries for Horticulture will be made by calling Mrs. Clyde Thomas at 267-6272 or Mrs. G.P.

Morrison at 267-2978. Pot Plants and hanging baskets may be pre-registered.

Judging will be by nationally accredited judges and student judges on Monday. It will begin at 1:30 p.m. Only the general chairman, judges and clerks will remain in the judging area. Classification personnel will be nearby. Judges may withhold an award if it is not merited. The judges decisions are final. The flower show will be open to the public at 4 p.m.

Each active member of each club is expected to make one entry and to fill out entry tags and sheets in advance. All plants and arrangements must be removed by 8 p.m. Saturday.

Conservation material for District I may be used if accompanied by a card listing both botanical and accepted common names, stating it was grown by the exhibitor from seed or other method, or that it was an established wilding on her property.

The standard system of awards will be used: one first (blue ribbon, a score of 90 or above), one second (a score of 80 or above), and one or more honorable mentions (white ribbons, score of 75 or above).

The Horticulture of Excellence award will be offered for the finest overall horticulture specimen in Division I, Section A-E, in design F-G of the Flower show handbook. Three awards of merit may be given in sections A, B, C. An Aboreal award may be given in section E to the finest named exhibit.

Mrs. C.Y. Clinkscales is general chairman of the flower show.

Dr. Donohue

Don't exercise after a meal

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I would like some advice on working out, jogging, etc. Is it OK to exercise before eating or is it best to eat afterwards? What about fluids? — E.M.

The usual advice is not to exercise for three hours after eating a large meal, however, you can and should take fluids right up to the time of exercise, even during the activity if needed.

The idea of waiting before eating is to give your stomach time to empty so you won't be carrying a load of undigested food. That would drain some of the blood circulation required for digestion, circulation that should be going to muscles. Fluids pass through the stomach quickly and cause no problem.

An interesting point has been made by investigators at Cornell University. They found that moderate exercise (like fast walking) done 45 minutes to five hours after eating burns more calories than the same exercise done before eating. But notice that they are speaking of mild exercise. And you should not run right after a heavy meal. Those exercising for weight loss (calorie loss) might consider altering their eating/exercise schedule to time the activity to occur an hour or so after a meal.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What is "free" weightlifting? — A.K.

It's not a special offer from the local health club. Free weights are loose, like the standard barbells and dumbbells and are distinguished from weight machines such as the Nautilus and Universal types.

Those are not lifted freely, but are built into the mechanism by levers the lifter pushes or pulls.

There are advantages and disadvantages to each type. Machines have a better safety factor since they are attached, and they can be easily adjusted and fine-tuned to the lifter's immediate desires. The barbell-type weights offer greater versatility of movement. With the machines you lift only in the direction specified by the manufacturer or according to a specific setting.

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Donohue, in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Brooks-Hanson

The First Baptist Church sanctuary in Dallas was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Susan Lenoir Brooks and Gary Walker Hanson. Dr. W.A. Criswell, pastor, officiated at the 7 p.m. rite before an altar decorated with a candelabrum and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Brooks of Sherman. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Hanson of Stanton.

The Herald Trumpets of First Baptist, instrumentalists, Diane Daniels of Dallas, vocalist, and Jeff Herrick of Sherman, organist, provided music for the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a gown fashioned from handmade Guipure lace, Chantilly lace and embroidered batiste. The bodice featured insertions of each lace and batiste overlaid with scalloped edge embroidered batiste. The sleeves had Chantilly lace ruffles at the elbows. The bell-shaped skirt had 13 gores with insertions of Chantilly lace and embroidered batiste. A wide band of embroidered batiste with a scalloped edge topped three flounces of tiny lace edging.

For traditions, the bride wore a gold and pearl brooch belong to her great-grandmother; a sixpence brought to her from London by her grandparents, which was minted in the year of their wedding; and a handkerchief made by the bridegroom's great grandmother for his mother when she was a bride.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet like the one her great-aunt carried. It was fashioned with white bridal roses and floor-length satin streamers with stephanotis and lilies of the valley tied in sweetheart knots.

Mary Ann McMahon of Cleveland, Ohio was maid of honor. Cindy Owens of Sherman was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Layne Froman of Big Spring, Dian Griffen of Vincent, Susan Higgins of Amarillo, Sherrie Holman of Mansfield, Lela Gardner, Kayla Lister and Molly Meredith, all of Dallas. MRS. GARY W. HANSON

Nairn-Duke

Julie Ann Nairn and Marvin Andrew Duke Jr. were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church Chapel Saturday afternoon before an altar area decorated with two seven-branch candelabra entwined with greenery and white bows. The Rev. J.B. Bitner, pastor of First Baptist Church in Big Lake, officiated at the 2 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T.M. Nairn Jr., Rt. 1. The bridegroom is the son of Marvin Duke of Willis and Mary Wells of Montague.

Betty Downy, organist, Penny Smidt and Jimmy Cowan, vocalists, performed music for the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a gown fashioned of white silk organza and Venice lace encrusted with seed pearls. The Victorian neckline and fitted bodice featured overlays of silk Venice lace applique embroidered with miniature pearls. Near the wrist, a large applique of embroidered lace accented the Camelot sleeves. A flounce of ruffles encircled the front of the skirt and swept up the sides to the waistline where they joined in the back by a cascade of wide ruffles. The ruffles fell into a cathedral train. Her two-tiered fingertip-length veil of imported French illusion was held to a Juliet cap of pleated crystal organza, seed pearls and Venice lace.

The bride carried a bouquet of pink, white and burgundy sweetheart roses with miniature carnations and stephanotis. Pam Riddle was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Elvira Nairn and Pam Nairn, sisters-in-law of the bride.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception at the church's Parlor. The bride's table featured a three-tiered wedding cake separated with filigree columns, trimmed with mauve pink roses and topped with a bride and bridegroom figurine. The bridegroom's cake was a German chocolate cake decorated with chocolate roses.

The bride graduated from Coahoma High School and attended Howard College. She will attend Midland College. The bridegroom graduated from Forestburg High School and Midwestern State University. He is employed by Conoco, Inc.

FITNESS FACTS

By
Laurie Churchwell

Heavyhands are small hand-held weights created by Dr. Leonard Schwartz to improve cardio-vascular fitness. Combining upper and lower body exertion, Heavyhands is a great heart trainer and works more muscles in more ways. No other exercise consumes oxygen as rapidly as heavyhands, or burns fat as fast. The weights used should be relatively light and moved through a high number of repetitions.

With heavyhands you are trying to increase your body mass to stimulate the cardiovascular system. By exercising just your legs you use only 32% of your muscle mass. By adding heavy hands you use 90% of your total body mass. When you exercise with added weight to hands you will burn three times the amount of calories as without weights!

Ernst-Jamar

Maria Ernst and Terry Jamar exchanged vows in an afternoon ceremony Sept. 1 at the St. Lawrence Church in St. Lawrence. The Rev. Robert Bush of Big Spring officiated at the 4 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Ernst of Garden City. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Clyde Hearn, Tyler, and Fletcher Jamar, Bedford.

The couple was wed before an altar featuring baskets of apricot, blue roses, baby's breath and entwining hanging ivy. Pianist Linda Niehues and vocalist Reena Harris provided music for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, wore a formal-length satin gown featuring a sweetheart neckline and Bishop sleeves that ended in deep cuffs. The bodice and sleeves were embellished with lace. Floral lace applique of seed pearls and sequins accented the lace-edged skirt of illusion over satin panels. The skirt flowed into a chapel-length train. A two-tiered fingertip-length veil, edged in matching lace, was attached to a Juliet cap embellished with lace and pearls.

The bride carried a cascade of white and apricot roses, lotus blossoms, baby's breath and fern. The bouquet was accented by pearlized heart, love knots and long streamers.

Wanda Johnson served as matron of honor. Maid of honor was Jeannie Carstensen. Bridesmaids were Laurel McDowell and Shauna Johnson. Farrah McDougale was flower girl and ring bearer was Michael McDougale.

Adron Welch was best man. Groomsmen were Mac McDowell, Allen McDowell and Ricky McDougale. Junior Navarero, Curtis Pechaack, Will Lange, Brian Welch and Aaron Lange served as ushers. Lisa Welch and Daylan McDougale were candlelighters.

A reception was held in the St. Lawrence Hall following the ceremony. The bride's table was draped with a white cloth and centered by a blue fountain surrounded by a peach and blue floral arrangements. Two three-tiered white cakes and six satellite cakes were joined by three bridges and four filigree trellises. All were decorated in white, dark blue, light blue and peach beige flowers. One of the large cakes was topped with double rings under a floral arch. The other was topped with a church figurine. Filigree columns separated the tiers and doves and cherub angels sat between each tier. A bride and bridegroom figurine stood on the bridge, joining the two large cakes. Groomsmen and bridesmaid figurines stood on stairway bridges joining the large cakes to the tallest satellite cakes on each side. The satellite cakes were joined by trellises and topped with a cherub in a fountain figurine and flowers.

The bridegroom's table featured a chocolate filled cake decorated in brown icing, resembling a field. The cake was topped with tractors and trailers and had the couples names written on it. It was accented by autumn flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Garden City High School and will attend Howard College. The bridegroom attended Round Rock High School and is employed by the McDowell Ranch.

Following a wedding trip to Jamaica, the couple will live at the McDowell Ranch.

Davis-Deiler

In a candlelight double-ring ceremony at Marion Methodist Church in Marion, Ala., Deana Jo Davis became the bride of Michael Kevin Deiler, Aug. 31. Dr. Ralph Hendricks of Marion officiated at the 7:30 p.m. rite.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joe E. Davis Jr. of Marion. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Lee, 1600 State St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Deiler of Belle Chasse, La.

The couple was wed before several brass candelabra and candle trees, two large arrangements of white gladiolus and lavender cushion mums. Ferns, grown by the bride's father, ivy and magnolia leaves provided the background. Ivy and small candles outlined the altar rail. Dr. Betty Campbell and Dr. Bracey Campbell, vocalists, and Ila Jean Lake, organist, provided music for the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a gown of white organza over taffeta. The bodice, adorned with Venice lace, was fashioned with a high neckline and dropped sheer pouf sleeves fitted at the elbows and ending in points over the hands. A sheer yoke of illusion was enhanced by Schiffl embroidery and seed pearls. The full skirt fell from a slightly raised waistline to a demi-cathedral train bordered by Venice and re-embroidered Chantilly lace. She also wore a fingertip-length veil of self-hemmed illusion with blusher. The veil was attached to a wreath of white silk flowers and stemmed pearls.

She carried a Bible used by her mother in her wedding, topped with a cascade of white lilies, lavender asters, white sweetheart roses, and green spider plant foliage.

Bridal attendants were Ivy Alexander, maid of honor, Susan Williams, Mary Williams, and Cor-

Q.: Our home has been on the market for six months. We have had only one offer, contingent upon the sale of the buyer's house. That home is overpriced and on the market for over a year. We're tempted to take the offer. What's your advice?

A.: You know why the buyer's house isn't selling, but have you determined why yours isn't? Have you looked objectively at the price you're asking for your home? Is it overpriced? Are you asking an unreasonably large down payment? Are you asking for an all-cash transaction when you could offer to take back a second mortgage? In other words, before you accept a questionable offer, take a look and see if there isn't a way to have a few more offers — perhaps more attractive ones — from which to choose.
