The Howard County Fairgrounds were coming alive this morning, as persons rushed to put up decorations on their booths, rearrange tables and check the lights and carnival rides one last time before the fair officially opens at 4 p.m. today.

Fair President Smitty Smith was directing traffic between buildings, and laughed good-naturedly when someone suggested his post is now permanent. "You have to die to get out of it now," the man told Smith.

Smith, also fair president in 1983, shook his head. "I already told them this was the last year," he said, as he watched the coke machines being unloaded from vendors' trucks.

ing, electrical work, whatever." Across the way, workers from the Temple Baptist Church had already started cooking the day's lunch, and persons were lined up buying cakes.

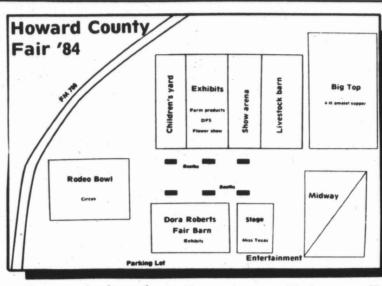

The women's division was crowded as persons lined up to enter cakes, canned goods, quilts, clothing and crafts. "We had 1,500 entry cards and we've almost used them all," said Zula Rhodes, Fryar said. "I've been here every women's division. "We may have spirits.

day all last week, I'll be here all to hit the printers. I'm pleased with the response.'

According to Mrs. Rhodes, the department already had one unusual entry. "We had a man come in and see if he could enter in the canned goods (category). And we told him, 'Certainly, we were an equal opportunity entry-taker.""

Art department director Becky Smiley was also busy accepting entries. She expects 200 pieces of art entered by the 1 p.m. deadline, she said. In addition, she was setting up a space for the evening art demonstration. Thursday's featured Roberta Ross and 'wipeout" art, she said.

Others, relative late comers to the entry takers, began to stream into the building to set up booths. Most persons preparing booths Twelve years," fair director Neil general superintendent of the for the fair were joking and in good workers on the street in nine states at midnight Friday. That number fell to 58,000 Sunday when a California plant settled its strike.

The lengthy bargaining session which began about 10 a.m. Sunday and ran through the night with only a few breaks for meals - suggested the two sides were making progress toward a tentative agreement covering 350,000 UAW workers at GM.

The union says any national settlement at GM would serve as a model in negotiations with Ford Motor Co., whose 115,000 UAW workers' contract also expired Friday.

One of 13 strikes by UAW members over local issues was settled Sunday. But GM officials said they were worried that the remaining 12 spot strikes against the giant automaker would begin causing parts backups today, the first day of companywide production since the strikes began at midnight Friday.

"If the strike lasts, we'll be sen-ding people home," said Mark White, personnel director of GM's See Strikes page 2-A

Front cooling off state

By The Associated Press Another cool morning greeted Texans when they awoke today. A high pressure system moving into the northeastern United States continued to build southwestward across Texas, which served to maintain cool, dry weather across most of the state.

However, isolated heavy thundershowers mixed with light rain continued to dampen parts of South Texas and the lower Rio Grande Valley, as a stationary cold front was offshore in the northwest Gulf of Mexico. Generally, skies were mostly clear over the state.

East to southeast winds were common over much of the northern half of the state while northerly winds were the rule over the south. Wind speeds were generally in the 5 to 15 mph range.

The National Weather Service said temperatures should be slightly warmer on Tuesday. Today's highs were expected to be only in the 80s, except for the Big Bend area of West Texas, where readings in the 90s were likely.

Showers and thundershowers were widely scattered from the southern Rockies to western portions of the central Plains and over the southern tip of Texas today, as late-summer frost warnings were posted as far south as Maryland

Meanwhile, forecasters today were watching two tropical depressions in the Atlantic for signs they would strengthen and become the season's sixth and seventh tropical storms. One storm was south of Bermuda, and the other was off the African coast.

In California, temperatures Sunday over 100 degrees combined with moist, unstable air to spawn sudden thunderstorms and gale-force winds that knocked out power to 120,000 customers, with many of the problems occurring in the eastern suburbs of Los Angeles.

National Weather Service specialist Stan Massey said the rapidly changing conditions were "going to continue for the next few days at least."

Diana, a storm that reached hurricane strength and moved inland in North Carolina before heading back out into the Atlantic, died over the weekend.

'The remnants of the storm have been totally absorbed and it has lost its identity," said Bob Case, a forecaster with the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables, Fla. A few showers lingered over southern California early todav

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy and warmer through Tuesday. Lows tonight mid 50s Panhandle to lower 60s Concho Valley and near 70 Big Bend. Highs Tuesday lower 80s Panhandle to near 90 Concho Valley and upper 90s Big Bend valleys.

Delegates upset over racial discrimination

FORT WORTH (AP) - Some delegates to the NAACP state convention don't want to come to Fort Worth where blacks are not on membership rolls in the city's six private country clubs

Bert Williams, a black city councilman who represents the city's south side, blames racial discrimination for rejection of his attempts at membership at Woodhaven Country Club.

Williams, an insurance executive, recently was turned down for the second time in 13 months.

"It's disturbing that Fort Worth still has discrimination," Robert Starr, vice president of the Fort Worth and state NAACP, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

'We're trying to get people to Fort Worth for the convention. When this (Woodhaven incident) goes out, it hurts our chances. People don't want to come here," Starr said.

After being vetoed for membership in July 1983, Williams tried again this summer. The club's bylaws provide for automatic rejection if five members protest an application. Several of Williams'

Troop removal planned

PARIS - France and Libya plan to begin a mutual withdrawal of troops from the wardivided central African nation of Chad on Sept. 25, the French Foreign Ministry announced today.

At the request of Chad's president, Hissene Habre, France sent 3,000 troops to Chad in the summer of 1983 to prevent a military takeover of its former African colony by Libyan and Libyan-backed forces, which began an offensive earlier that year.

The agreement by both countries to pull out their troops was reached during a recent visit by French Foreign Minister Claude Cheysson to Libya's capital, Tripoli, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said. He did not say when the visit took place but said it involved talks with Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy.

The spokesman said both countries had "signaled their desire to develop their relations and cooperation and to eliminate all obstacles" to that goal.

Catholics oppose plan

WARSAW — Three independent Roman Catholic members of the Polish parliament have criticized a proposal that would give Communist authorities the power to expel their political opponents.

The three deputies in the Sejm, or parliament, issued a statement Sunday saying chief government spokesman Jerzy Urban contributed to a "lowering of the international authority" of Poland by disclosing that legal experts were discussing an expulsion provision.

Urban said earlier this month that a government panel reviewing revisions to the penal code was considering a proposal that would give authorities the power to expel anyone showing "a persistent lack of respect" for Poland's socialist system.

The proposal is viewed as a warning to Poland's opposition intellectuals and former leaders of the now-outlawed Solidarity labor movement that the government is resolved to stem any renewed outbreak of public dissent.

Remarks upset premier

ROME - Premier Bettino Craxi has moved to smooth over a diplomatic row caused by his foreign minister's remarks about separate. Germanies, telling West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl that the friendship between the two nations was solid.

On Saturday, a spokesman for Kohl in Bonn said the chancellor was "extraordinarily displeased" by Foreign Minister Giulio Andreotti's remarks last week that "there are two German states and there must remain two German states."

In Bonn on Sunday, West Germany's foreign minister, Hans-Dietrich Genscher called Andreotti's remarks a "serious insult."

Craxi's office released a statement Sunday saying the premier told Kohl that the Italian government "maintains the highest respect for the principles and ideals that inspire the Federal Republic of Germany and that make up part of its constitutional foundation."

Crowds cheer as new prince heads for home

LONDON (AP) - Prince Henry Charles Albert David, at two days the newest member of Britain's thousandyear-old royal family, today was the toast of a nation delighted by a Buckingham Palace announcement that he will be called Harry.

Henry was the name of eight crowned kings of England, more than any other, but the last was long ago - Henry VIII, the excommunicated monarch who died in 1547.

"Hurrah for Harry!" yelled the crowds on Sunday as Princess Diana, the baby's mother, left St. Mary's Hospital and carried 6-pound, 14-ounce Henry, wrapped in a white shawl, to his first night home in Kensington Palace. Henry, or Harry, made his first public appearance at age 22 hours, launching his lifetime in the limelight

"The baby is fine! My wife is even better!" Prince Charles shouted to the crowd after a three-hour visit on Saturday, when the child was born. Charles watched the delivery of his son, the palace said.

Charles said that watching the birth of his first son, William, was a "marvelous experience." William turned 2 in June.

Watched by more than 1,000 people crowding the sidewalks, the happy father took William on Sunday to see his mother and new brother. "There was lots and lots of laughter - William was very excited about seeing his new brother," a nurse said.

Henry is third in line for the crown, behind his father and brother. He was born at 4:20 p.m. Saturday at St. Mary's Hospital in west London's shabby Paddington district, in the same room as William. The selection of the name Henry surprised Britons but quickly caught their fancy. "We didn't take a single penny on Henry, which was a 50-1 outsider," said Graham Sharp of the country's biggest bookmakers, William Hill. "George was 6-4 favorite but most money was on Philip at 5-2. I think most people thought Henry was too oldfashioned," Sharp said.

"Wild About Harry" was the favorite headline in today's London newspapers, and celebrated namesakes saluted the choice.

"It's a knockout of a name - he won't go far wrong being called that," said former British heavyweight boxing champion Henry Cooper.

"The Harrys of the world now have a new leader," said comedian-singer Sir Harry Secombe, himself a royal family favorite.

But a royal biographer and genealogist, Hugh Montgomery-Massingberd, felt the name was overcomplicated.

'In some ways, I would have thought they might as well have gone the whole hog and called him Prince Harry,' the writer said.

"In a way, to call him Prince Henry and then to say he will be known as Harry is a bit off. If you're going to call him Harry from the word go, why not christen him Harry?

"It's perfectly right that he should be called Harry. It's in Shakespeare's 'Henry V' with 'Cry God for Harry! England and Saint Georger and 'A'little touch of Harry in the night.' It's a splendidly English name," Montgomery-Massingberd said.

Prince Charles played polo Sunday afternoon and scored three goals, but his side lost 5-4. Opposing captain John Kidd handed him a magnum of champagne and another friend gave him the traditional new father's gift, a large cigar.

The prince took plastic cups out of his car trunk, un-

Officers die in shooting

SAN DIEGO - Joint service are planned Tuesday for two police officers who were fatally wounded in a nighttime attack while citing two men for drinking violations.

Timothy Ruopp, 31, who had been hospitalized in critical condition since the shooting Friday, died Sunday, said Officer Manuel Garcia.

Kimberly Tonahill, 24, died shortly after the attack. She was the first woman officer to die in the line of duty in the department's 95-year history. A third officer, who came to their aid, was hospitalized in good condition, Garcia said

Two men arrested for investigation of murder and attempted murder Saturday remained in custody, authorities said.

Ship's crew goes ashore

SAN FRANCISCO - The crew of a stranded Taiwanese freighter enjoyed a few hours ashore, a tour of the city and a meal with the mayor — their first time on dry land in about two months.

Half the Panamax Nova's 27-man crew went on escorted shore leave Sunday, and half went Saturday

The 759-foot freighter was seized for nonpayment of fuel bills when it sailed into San Francisco Bay on Sept. 7 after six weeks at anchor. The Way Wiser Navigation Co. of Taiwan has been unable to come up with the cash for payrolls or fees and fuel bills incurred during the voyage.

'Copter crash kills two

COLUMBUS, Ind. - The crash of two Army Reserve helicopters flying in formation after a mock disaster drill, killing two people and injuring 15 others, was "like a horror show, but you couldn't change the channel," said Fire Chief Jim Miller.

The helicopters fell about 100 feet to the ground, narrowly missing about 150 spectators.

The Huey helicopters from the Reserve's 412th Medical Helicopter Evacuation Co. crashed Saturday when their rotor blades tangled during a flyover near Columbus Municipal Airport before their return to Louisville, Ky.

Seven of the injured remained hospitalized in good or fair condition, officials said.

1 killed in shark attack

SAN GREGORIO, Calif. - A 28-year-old diver's splashing was "almost a sure shark lure" and may have attracted the 15-foot shark that killed him, a witness says.

Swimmers were warned Sunday to avoid the area.

Omar Conger, an experienced diver, was attacked while paddling on an air mattress about 150 yards offshore Saturday. The shark took him 15 feet to the ocean bottom, then dragged his body to the surface and released him, said Chris Rehm, who was diving with Conger.

A witness, diver Steve Guzzetta, said sharks "are attracted to splashing on the surface."

Yard said today. A Yard spokesman added that a positive identification of the remains is "virtually impossible without the top half."

He said the heiress, Suha Younis Hawa, the 15-year-old daughter of a millionaire Saudi businessman, spent the summer in London with an aunt and uncle and "is believed" to have been kidnapped for ransom by three armed men on Aug. 25.

The Yard said it used the phrase "is believed" because it has no other evidence of the kidnapping, apart from a statement made to detectives by an unidentified businessman who knows the family.

Egypt unveils budget

CAIRO, Egypt — The government has unveiled a $19 billion budget for fiscal 1984-85 and hinted it will increase customs revenues and reduce oil consumption to help finance a nearly 13 percent spending boost.

The budget, presented Sunday to parliament by Finance Minister Salah Hamed, also forecast a 22 percent increase in the money earmarked to hold down the prices of food, energy and basic services for the country's 47 million people.

Foreign economists have urged the government for years to restructure the subsidy system, which they say drags down the nation's economy.

But the government has been reluctant to tamper with the subsidy system and raise prices of essential items since the January 1977 food riots that erupted after then-President Anwar Sadat announced sweeping price hikes.

Scottish dockworkers' leader John Hardie said he expected an assurance by employers about job security for boatmen and tugboat crews on the Clyde River to be accepted this week by the Transport and General Workers Union.

The docks stoppage, idling half of Britain's ports, began on the Clyde Aug. 24, when British Steel Corp. defied a union ban and docked the Panamanian coal ship Ostia at Hunterston to supply Ravenscraig steel works.

The corporation acted to step up fuel supplies to the works by 4,500 tons above the 18,000-ton maximum set by unions at Hunsterton in support of the miners

Miners' leader Arthur Scargill said Sunday night after a meeting of his executive at their Sheffield headquarters that he is prepared to put the National Union of Mineworkers' case to an independent arbitrator and that further moves could be made in the next few days.

Scargill wants power workers, railwaymen and other key unions to use their muscle to help the miners defeat the state-run National Coal Board plans to close unprofitable mines and reduce the 183,000 workforce in the pits by 20,000

Denmark's move a welcome step

Denmark is taking steps to reduce the flow of child pornography to the United States. It is a welcome move.

Child pornography is detestable. It victimizes the children who are used as models. It can encourage people who might be inclined to crimes involving sex and violence against children.

Denmark has been one of the world's most flagrant purveyors of sexually oriented materials in recent years. It was one of the first countries to legalize adult pornography.

In 1969, the world's first sex and pornography trade fair was held in a stadium in Copenhagen.

Even after Denmark banned child pornography in 1981, production continued. NBC reported recently that Denmark and the Netherlands were among the biggest exporters of child pornography to America.

The Danish government reacted quickly after NBC's program was shown on Danish television. Prime Minister Paul Schlueter announced that the Justice Ministry will push for mandatory jail sentences for convicted distributors of child pornography.

More vigorous prosecution of those who exploit children sexually is obviously needed not only in Denmark but wherever else the practice exists. A continuing effort must be made to eliminate child pornography and the violence and degraduation that are associated with it.

Labor in trouble

Labor Day this year found the unions more on the defensive than they have been in half a century. This time it is not a matter of failing to unionize the South, or lagging behind growth in the service sector of the economy.

The unions now are up against the wall on their home turf. They are fighting to stay alive in basic industry, in regional strongholds and in the Democratic Party.

The greatest gains ever scored by organized labor came in job areas marked by work with the hands and the muscles. The unions did their best in the steel mills, the auto plants, the coal mines; the trucking industry, the docks, and on the large construction sites.

The great recession of the 1980s dealt staggering blows to all those areas of economic activity. Foreign competition put many steel and auto companies into the red. Chrysler nearly went bust, and practically divers out of the business. Deregulation made it easier for truckers and builders to hire non-union workers. High unemployment created huge pools of workers ready to take jobs below scale. With senior workers thus menaced, the strongest unions had to make concessions to companies in trouble. In special cases, like Chrysler, workers took cuts in benefits to keep the companies alive. In some general agremeents, the Teamsters, the steel workers, the machinists and the coal miners settled for far less than they had regularly won in previous wage bargains.

dominated by an alliance between labor and Democratic Party bosses have been cracked. Hence the emergency of a Republican congressman, Jack Kemp, in Buffalo. Hence too the elections of mayors Edward Koch in New York, Harold Washington in Chicago, Wilson Goode in Philadelphia and Dianne Feinstein in San Francisco Michigan, a state once dominated by the auto workers, has not voted Democratic in a presidential election since 1968. A tax revolt led to the recall of several Democratic state legislators last year. This year Reagan is running further ahead of Mondale in Michigan than in two neighboring states that usually tilt Republican - Illinois and Ohio.

The national Democratic Party bears many scars from the local challenges to labor. In 1972 and 1976, organized lobbies of blacks men put across presidential an nominees (George McGovern and Jimmy Carter respectively) disliked by the national leadership of the AFL-CIO. President Lane Kirkland committed the national organization to Fritz Mondale a year early in order to head off another successful revolt in 1984.

WASHINGTON - The heart of Latin American death squad activity beats most strongly in Guadalajara, Mexico. This is the conclusion of knowledgeable sources interviewed by my associates Dale Van Atta in Washington and Jon Lee Anderson in Mexico, Honduras and El Salvador

The first clue came last year when an admitted Honduran death squad member told Anderson that his group and others like it received direction from Mexico. He identified the coordinating organization as CAL, the initials of the World Anti-Communist League's Latin American affiliate.

After my report was published, the league belatedly kicked CAL out of the international body. The league's U.S. head, retired Army Gen. John Singlaub, told my office CAL had "knowingly promoted pro-Nazi groups" and was 'virulently anti-Semitic." As my has

The foremost set of current wage negotiations - the talks between the United Auto Workers and General Motors and Ford in Detroit — underscores the plight of the unions. The companies have record profits, and they paid handsome bonuses to top management. But such is the pressure of foreign competition that the UAW - which used to win annual wage hikes of 10 percent or more - is now not pressing for wage increases. It is concentrating instead on job security.

So far, the companies have hung tough. A first offer proffered, in the words of the Wall Street Journal. "no wage increases and little in job security guarantees." The UAW leader, Owen Bieber, warned early on of the strike. But most observers believed that, unless the companies deliberately sought to break the union, that the UAW would feel itself too weak to risk a walkout.

The economic difficulties of the unions have generated local political troubles galore. In bluecollar areas all across the country, city and county machines once Joseph Kraft's reports on Washington, national affairs and trends are distributed nationally by the Los Angeles Times Syndicate.

That preemptive strike succeeded, but only by a whisker. Mondale nearly lost the nomination to Gary Hart because his labor backers could not rally blacks, women and younger voters. Jockeying for position among labor, blacks and women still plagues the Mondale-Ferraro organization. Thus the list of demands presented to Mondale by black leaders last Tuesday included an emphasis on "black international concerns" that are generally not shared by labor, and on "social programs" that labor does not endorse.

Blame for these troubles no doubt falls to some degree on the unions. They were greedy in pushing for huge benefits at a time when the economy was struggling with increasing difficulty to compete abroad. Some union leaders at the local and national levels showed insensitivity to the aspirations of women and minorities.

Still, disinterested Americans cannot rejoice in the problems now dogging organized labor. For the unions, and especially their national leaders, have been key elements for consensus on divisive issues. Insofar as the labor leaders have no struggle to stay alive, the tone of American life is lowered, and the chance of evoking common sacrifice on behalf of high national ideals is diminished.

 CAL has been dirtected by a secret order called Los Tecos, based in Guadalajara. The secret society grew out of a right-wing, counterrevolutionary force known as Los Criteros during the Mexican revolution early in this century.

· Los Tecos was linked with Hitler's Third Reich when one of its leaders spent time in Berlin studying the Nazi regime. He then infused Los Tecos with a dogma that made enemies of Jews, Jesuits and communists - with a bit of medieval-Nordic mythology thrown in for good measure.

Though some Catholic priests and students initially applauded Los Tecos' conservatism, the group's bizarre religious rites led to a schism with Catholics in the 1950s

 Though Jews are obviously not encouraged to attend the university, one Jew, now a respected Mexican academic, infiltrated both the university and the secret society in 1978 using phony credentials. He found that they were "distributing their own (pro-Nazi) texts instead of the obligatory government-provided textbooks," and he was appalled at a youth rally reminiscent of a Hitler Youth spectacle, complete with swastika armbands on uniforms.

 Los Tecos tries determinedly to convert the university students to its brand of bigotry. And while the national university in Mexico City is so chaotic that few students ever get their degrees, the one in Guadalajara has security guards to keep order, so it is possible for the neo-Nazis to graduate.

Midlanders receive fall fashion treat

MIDLAND - It was an informative hour for the Midland Women's Club Friday as representatives of J.W. Charde of Big Spring answered members' questions about fall fashion.

Fall is the season when fashion's biggest changes take place - be they as sweeping as silhoutte or mood, or as specific as hemlines, heel heights and collar widths.

Although fall isn't here officially, daily new fall clothes of bulky wool angora, cashmere and winter silks are selling briskly.

Charde's fashion consultants told the assembled women that this year's biggest fashion change will be the menswear influence that mixes a blend of tailored blouses, trousers, sweaters and jackets. The most feminine and sophisticated aspects of the look were represented in the show by a wool crepe suit by Kasper with a black shirt and red jacket, and a purple wool and knit two-piece St. John knit.

Nearly 200 women were greeted with sweetheart rose corsages and a display of Ferraggamo and Polly Bergan shoes. Proceeds from the show will benefit the Midland Women's Club and its many civic projects in the Permian Basin.

As fashion began coming down the club runway, the women learned the silhoutte for fall '84 starts with the exaggerated shoulder and ends with a long hem. Skirts and dresses, even coats, seldom stop shorter than the middle of the calf. The most popular lengths hide the calf completely. Pants will be cut long with the hem just brushing the top of the shoe.

Shape's message is relaxed, roomy and oversized, according to the designers from Howard Wolf who were represented by a red and black dress in wool. "When a designer focuses on the body the most frequent area is the zone from the waist to the hip featuring a shirted and wrapped effect as well as a low-slung belt," according to FALL FASHIONS - Midland Women's Club members were informed about the latest fall fashion trends during a luncheon in Midland, Friday. Paula Talbot of Big Spring, above, modeled a Miss Kipps design of black tones and white. Laura McEwen, left and also of Big Spring, modeled a twopiece grey suit accented with red stripes in the top.

Joyce Wash, owner of Charde's. Wash told the assembled ladies that this year's accessory theme is 'less is more." Jewelry, earrings, bracelets and necklaces are practically nonexistent for the day and only slightly more apparent after five. "Everything is pure and classic: a good reptile belt, a discreet watch, a large silky pocket square or a unique scarf is all that is generally worn," she said.

This fall's color message is one of high octane brights in three waves - reds, blues and purples emerging from the somber black and gray that have been dominant in recent years. Black continues to be cluded a coordinated skirt, blouse, a basic color used to enhance the other colors of the fashion rainbow. It was best illustrated in its new role by a two-piece Albert Nipon periwinkle blue silk dress and black crepe jacket and a Victor Costa in blue with a high frilly collar set off by a black crepe jacket. Oscar de la Renta also was represented in this grouping with a blue knit with black piping.

Plaids and stripes and all their combinations mixed with fall's new patterns were illustrated by a combination of purple, blue, black and grey ensemble from Dalton that in-

What is the causative organism? Are there hereditary factors? Why doesn't everyone get it who's scrat-ched by a cat? — S.P.

We don't know the causative organism of cat scratch fever. It may be a virus. Anywhere from one to eight weeks after the scratch the lymph node (or nodes) in the scratched area may swell and become tender. There may be a slight fever. In time, and without treatment, the fever disappears and the nodes return to normal size. All is well.

As you suggest, the real concern in the light of such symptoms is the fear that another, more serious, ailment is present, like cancer of the lymph nodes. And sometimes you may need a biopsy to definitely rule out such ailments

In answer to your other questions, there are no hereditary factors. It is an infection to which all are potentially susceptible. And I can't answer your other question; why everyone doesn't get it when scratched by a cat. Cat scratch fever is not widely prevalent, and when it occurs the illness is not serious. Cat owners need not get rid of their pets. DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I read your column daily and find that many of the problems are similar to mine, such as the one recently about headaches. I had the type of headache the writer had, on bending, etc. I learned to put on my shoes without bending. But a sneeze or a cough would start it and nothing would help. After breaking a tooth, I had to see a dentist, who studied my bite. By grinding down my teeth he made my bite normal and my headaches went away. What a difference! Now I can once again work in my garden and do other things I enjoy. - R.H.

Fine; I'm glad you were helped. But it is wise for others experienc-ing headache related to things like change in body position to have sérious causes ruled out. Rarely, such headache may reflect things like brain tumor.

Causes? There are many - infection from either virus or bacterium, certain drugs, kidney problems, heart attack, rheumatoid arthritis. All have been identified with pericarditis, and they give you an idea of what a diverse illness this is.

The most common cause is virus infection which is treated with time, pain medicine, and rest. This kind almost always gets better without serious complications. In a few patients the pericardium may be scarred, causing some impairment of the pumping action. Prevention? There is no special way to prevent pericarditis. (And speaking of the pleura)

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Can you tell me what causes a collapsed lung? What causes fluid in the lungs? I have read books on emphysema and they don't talk about this. - E.W.M. A very common cause of collapsed lung is pneumothorax, the seeping or air in between the double-ply lung covering - the pleura. The two layers separate and press against the lung proper, eventually collapsing it.

You mention emphysema. In a certain form of this illness (bullous emphysema) blisters form on the lungs. When they break it permits air to enter the pleura layers. That sets the scene for lung collapse. In other situations fluid can build up between the pleura layers. That's called pleura effusion and it, too, can cause collapse. Now if you want to tell me a bit more about the circumstances in which the lung collapsed, I might be able to be more helpful.

In addition, the base held an element of romance that excited the town. "Base commanders always maintained a military bearing," remembers Choate. "They liked to wear full dress, and I think we catered to that. We loved to encourage it."

"There was a certain amount of dash and flair," said Mrs. Avery.

Economically, there is no question that Webb was at the center of importance in a "viable" Big Spring. In 1976, military and civilian Webb personnel numbered more than 7,600 among a total Big Spring population of almost 31,400.

The base payroll was $38,000,000 annually, with military purchases from local businesses reaching nearly $900,000.

Although public school enrollment since 1967 had slowly declined to 6,100 students, employment in the city had climbed to almost 15,500 people by 1976. In addition, bank deposits had climbed dramatically during the same period.

By the year Webb's closure was announced, Big Spring's economic activity had reached its highest point since 1968, with annual retail sales hitting the $63 million mark.

The cunning fox of 25 National Football League seasons dusted off one of his favorite trick plays Sunday to ambush the Philadelphia Eagles.

It took a 49-yard pass from flanker Mike Renfro to split end Doug Donley on a third period "flea-flicker" to put away the Eagles 23-17.

Renfro, obtained from Houston in an off-season trade for Butch Johnson, took a lateral pass from quarterback Gary Hogeboom before he launched the wobbly, but on target, scoring strike.

It was his first NFL pass.

Drew Pearson used to run the play to perfection but retired after a near-fatal automobile accident this spring. His target was always Tony Hill, who is currently on the disabled list with a shoulder separation. "I felt we had to try to open up our offense," said Landry. "It was tight. So I decided to try everything I could to get some points on the board.

"It's a play we used with Drew Pearson before he retired. It was setup good. Drew used to throw that pass good." Eagles Coach Marion Campbell said, "Needless to say it was a tough way to take a loss. Dallas made some big plays but that pass by Renfro really hurt."

Renfro said, "We worked on it in practice but I wasn't expecting Coach Landry to call it today."

Cowboy players praised the play as keeping them fired up in the game. Offensive lineman Howard

Richards said, "If you can keep a IRVING, Texas (AP) - Dallas team off balance it will wreck a defense. We need those kind of plays. I think they spark us."

With Dallas ahead 16-10, Hogeboom, making his first start in Texas Stadium, lateraled the ball across the field to Renfro, who saw Donley running clear behind the Eagle secondary.

Donley caught the ball in stride at the Eagle 5 and scored untouched for a 23-10 Dallas lead.

Eagle quarterback Ron Jaworski, who threw two touchdown passes to Mike Quick, grudgingly praised Landry.

"Coach Landry always seems to find a way to have one trick play that ends up being the difference in the game," said Jaworski, who was intercepted three times.

The Cowboys improved their record to 2-1 and are tied with the New York Giants atop the National Conference Eastern Division while Philadelphia dropped to 1-2. Dallas' Rafael Septien kicked field goals of 47, 51, and 30 yards, but missed a 28 yarder while Hogeboom completed a 25-yard scoring pass to Ron Springs.

Rookie Paul McFadden kicked a 39-yard field goal but the Eagles had trouble getting their offense going.

"Dallas made some big plays, more than just the pass by Renfro," said Campbell. "We've got to get more offense.

For Dallas, it was an error-free game. The Cowboys had nine turnovers in their first two games before Sunday's game.

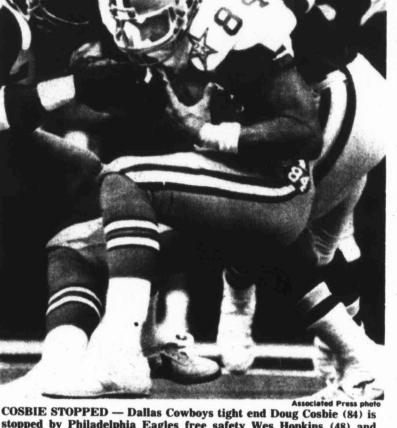

'We played pretty good and Donley and Renfro were outstan-' said Landry. "We just need ding,' to run the ball better."

Philadelphia held Dallas to only 95 yards rushing.

O'Mera holds on for first PGA title

MILWAUKEE (AP) - Mark O'Meara was three shots in front of Tom Watson with two holes to play when he stood on the 17th tee.

"That should have been comfortable, three strokes with two holes to play," O'Meara said.

'But it wasn't.

"I still had to finish. "When you're trying to win your first one, all kinds of things go through your mind. "I'm standing there thinking, 'What's going to happen? Am I going to faint? What's going to happen'?

O'Meara, four times a frustrated runner-up this season, hit it in about 20 feet, and made the birdie putt, then watched Watson 3-putt for bogey.

The two-shot swing wrapped up O'Meara's front-running five-shot triumph Sunday — the first of his ear PGA Tour career any pressure on Mark.

"He made a few putts here and there and didn't make any mistakes," said Watson, who finished second alone at 70-277. "He just stayed too far ahead for me to make up any ground.'

O'Meara, however, said pressure did exist.

"Oh, yes, it was there. I felt it. I'm very pleased I was able to keep my composure and pull off the victory," he said.

O'Meara's triumph was worth $54,000 from the total purse of $300,000 and vaulted him into se-cond place on the season's moneywinning list with $370,236.

Watson, a three-time winner this season, won $32,400 and maintained his money-winning lead at $471,185.

And, while he failed to gain the victory he needed to nail down the Player of the Year title, he did im prove his position, expanding his lead over Tom Kite to six points, 60-54

Chargers offense too powerful for Oilers

SAN DIEGO (AP) - San Diego Coach Don Coryell got the kind of performance from Kellen Winslow that Winslow is paid to deliver. Earnest Jackson's effort, on the other hand, probably seemed like a bargain.

Winslow, the recently unretired All-Pro tight end, hauled in 10 Dan Fouts passes for 146 yards, and Jackson, an unheralded secondyear pro from Texas A&M, ran for a career-high 97 yards and three touchdowns Sunday, leading the Chargers, 2-1, past frustrated Houston, 31-14.

It was the 100th professional coaching victory for Coryell, making him the only person ever to win 100 football games as both a collegiate and pro coach. The Oilers, meanwhile, suffered their NFL record 19th consecutive loss on the road, and fell to 0-3 under first-year Coach Hugh Campbell.

"Earnest Jackson ran in there. He did a fine job," Coryell said of his young back, who was called upon to fill a starting role when Chuck Muncie was abruptly traded to Miami last week. The trade ultimately fell through because Muncie failed a urinalysis test, and he has since been ordered to undergo drug evaluation and possible treatment before he can return to play.

"I felt I would be able to fill in. I just want to play the best I can,' said Jackson, who scored on touchdown runs of 3, 1 and 6 yards in the first half. "At the beginning of the season, I thought I would be a spot player, going in and out for a couple of plays at a time. I didn't know it would be like this."

One for whom Coryell generally has greater expectations is Winslow, who last week ended a six-day "retirement" from pro football by agreeing to a renegotiated extension of a con-reported $3.5 million through 1988.

The sixth-year pro from Missouri is the NFL's leading receiver since joining the league.

"Last week was a normal one for our team - as normal as we have," said Winslow, referring to both his and Muncie's situations. "There was no difference from any other week, practice-wise.

"It felt good out there today. I really felt like I was part of the offense, and things were going our way. I like to be part of things like that.

Winslow's deft grabs helped Fouts amass 336 yards passing on 26 of 37 attempts, the 37th time in his career the prolific guarterback has thrown for more than 300 yards in a game. Fouts had nearly 100 more passing yards negated by Charger penalties.

He directed the Chargers to touchdowns on each of their first four possessions, taking them 60, 90, 77 and 80 yards. Jackson took the ball over three times and 280-pound Pete Johnson scored from a yard out as Fouts completed 18 of 22 first half passes for 260 yards, seven of them to Winslow for 104 yards.

The Oilers, behind former Canadian Football League standout Warren Moon, scored once in the second quarter and appeared in position for a second TD, with a second-and-goal at the San Diego 1-yard-line shortly before halftime. But Earl Campbell was jolted by Billy Ray Smith as he tried to plunge over and fumbled, San Diego's Linden King recovering at the 1.

Instead of closing the gap to two touchdowns, the Oilers went into the locker room behind 28-7. They didn't score again until barely a minute was left in the game.

"I don't know what happened. I renegotiated extension of a con-tract that now will pay him a was over," said Campbell.

Steelers 24, Rams 14 Pittsburgh's defense, looking like the "Steel Curtain" of old, shut down Los Angeles' powerful runnhis coaching duties by University President Marshall Criser.

The announcement Sunday came five days after the National Collegiate Athletic Association informed the university of 107 violations turned up in a 21-month investigation of the Gator football program.

Criser, saying "the program must rid itself of its manifest imperfections," dismissed Pell and named Offensive Coordinator Galen Hall as the interim head coach until the end of the season.

Pell, 43, whose Gators beat Tulane 63-21 Saturday, had offered his resignation Aug. 26, but asked that he be allowed to remain as head coach through the end of the season

"I fully intend to be here (for the rest of the season)," Pell said after the game Saturday. "I have made a commitment to the players."

As for his plans, Pell said, 'I don't know. Things have happened so fast since 3 o'clock when I met with the president.

Criser said Pell will be placed on administrative leave until at least December 1, which was the date he offered to resign.

"I have carefully reviewed all the NCAA charges. Based upon these reviews, I have come to certain conclusions. After a thorough discussion of these conclusions with Coach Pell, I am relieving him of his responsibilities as head football coach as of 6 p.m. (EDT) tonight," Criser said in the statement.

When he offered his resignation in August, Pell said he wanted to minimize damage to the school and to the football program. At that time, Criser agreed to allow the embattled coach to remain, but he decided Sunday to end Pell's sixyear career with the Gators.

Bills set for Monday

Miami is unbeaten in two games, tight end Tony Hunter says it's "good timing" for his Bills to meet the Dolphins tonight.

"This will be a character builder," said Hunter of the National Football League game bet-ween American Football Conference East rivals. "This week is the perfect time to find who's going to play and who's not.'

Last week, the Bills were demolished by the St. Louis Cardinals, 37-7.

A similar effort against the Dolphins, who have easily handled the Washington Redskins and the New England Patriots, could put Buffalo in a hole too deep to emerge from.

Dolphins Coach Don Shula says he expects the Bills to play with emotion, which will make his team's task harder

"We know what they're going ty they're going to have Monday night," he said "We he said. "We also will hopefully know that you can't win without being involved, and mentally and physically being ready to play.

The Dolphins come into the game quarterback.

Marino, who has thrown for seven touchdowns in two games, and a standout wide receiving corps of Mark Duper and Mark Clayton.

They will be without their leading rushing threat, however. Fullback Andra Franklin injured a knee last week, and the Dolphins failed in efforts to find a replacement elsewhere when Chuck Muncie of San Diego and Rickey Young, a free agent released this year by Minnesota, flunked the urine tests which were part of their physicals. So, the Dolphins will enter the game with only three healthy running backs — halfback Tony Nathan, fullback Woody Bennett and versatile backup Eddie Hill. Rookie Joe Carter, who hasn't played since suffering a shoulder injury in the final preseason game, may be pressed into service at running back against the Bills, Shula said

The Bills will be without rookie cornerback Rodney Bellinger, who suffered a neck injury last week. The inexperienced Bellinger was a target in both Bills' losses.

Tigers magic number down ### to two

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS While the Tigers can switch n the cruise control, the race continues in earnest for the Twins, Royals and Angels.

Detroit all but eliminated Toronto with an 8-3 victory Sunday, reducing their magic number to two. Any combination of Tiger victories and Blue Jays defeats adding to two will clinch the East for Detroit.

Meanwhile, Minnesota and Kansas City stayed deadlocked in the West.

Frank Viola and Ron Davis put the brakes on the Texas Rangers as the Twins registered their second straight shutout, 2-0. Steve Balboni and Frank White stroked two-run doubles for the Royals as they beat the Seattle Mariners 4-2.

California remained a half-game back and tied in the loss column by downing the Chicago White Sox 4-2. On Saturday, Mike Smithson pit-ched a six-hit, 1-0 victory for Minnesota.

"We have had two super-pitched games back-to-back," Twins Manager Billy Gardner said. "We haven't been hitting the ball but the pitching has been outstanding. Smithson and Viola were outstanding.'

Had Viola, 17-12, finished with his shutout, it would have been his fifth, tying him for the league lead in that department, and his 11th complete game, tying him for fourth. But baseball's winningest left-hander wasn't upset.

"I think in this day and time your job is to give your team your best for seven or eight innings," Viola said. "This is the year of the relief pitcher. They are being paid a lot of money to do their job.

Balboni didn't get the nickname "Bye-Bye" by hitting doubles, but didn't complain.

"I'm not trying to hit home runs," Balboni said. "It's worked out better for me, rather than worrying about how hard I'm going to hit it.

Quarterback Neil Lomax hurled fourth-quarter TD passes of 46 and 56 yards to Roy Green and Neil O'Donoghue kicked a 46-yard field goal with seven seconds remaining to lift St. Louis past Indianapolis. The Colts appeared to have the game in control when Phil Smith scored on a 96-yard kickoff return and Tate Randle set up another TD with a 55-yard return of a pass in-terception. But Lomax and Green teamed up for their fourth-quarter scores and set up O'Donoghue's winning three-pointer.

Seattle had jumped out to its early lead by scoring two touchdowns within a minute as Paul Johns returned a punt 47 yards for a TD and Kenny Easley raced 25 yards with an intercepted pass for another score.

Vikings 27, Falcons 20

Rookie running back Alfred Anderson threw a 43-yard touchdown pass, highlighting a 21-point third quarter, and 41-yearold Jan Stenerud kicked a teamrecord 54-yard field goal as Minnesota defeated Atlanta.

It was the Vikings' first victory in three games under new Coach Les Steckel.

Broncos 24, Browns 14 John Elway threw touchdown passes to Clint Sampson and Butch Johnson and Rich Karlis kicked a field goal as Denver scored 17 points in the final five minutes of the first half of a night game in Cleveland.

Dodgers take Reds in 10

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS It may not have been the wildest game the Los Angeles Dodgers have played this year, but shortstop Dave Anderson says it was close.

"We've had some wild ones," Anderson said, "but in this one, we came out in front.'

The Dodgers lost the lead twice and finally beat Cincinnati 7-5 in the 10th inning Sunday as Anderson and Steve Sax each drove in runs. Los Angeles has won five in a row.

The Reds tied the score 5-5 in the bottom of the ninth on an error by Ken Landreaux that prompted Dodgers Manager Tom Lasorda to lament: "Now, I've seen it all."

With Duane Walker on second, Reds shortstop Tom Foley flied out to Landreaux in right. Landreaux's throw got past the cutoff man and went into shallow left field where third baseman German Rivera and left fielder Candy Maldonado collided. As both Dodgers laid on the turf in a daze, Walker raced home.

HOW MANY MORE DAYS TILL SUMMER VACATION, MIZ MALONE?

"They gave it a PG-13 rating, but it seemed more like a PG-21 to me."

WIZARD OF ID

FORECAST FOR TUESDAY, SEPT., 18, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when it would be wise for you to be alert for problems that require care and thought in solving where some nervous tension and strain are concerned.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be sure to keep any promises made, and be careful in motion in the morning. The evening can present a problem at home.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A monetary affair may seem hard for you to handle in the morning, but it is not the case. Use care in driving. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You may be irritated in the morning, but try to maintain your equilibrium. Don't take any chances with finances later. MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) A private anxiety could keep you from progressing as you had planned, if you permit. LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Don't be forceful with others in trying to gain a goal that means much to you; then handle duties well and be efficient.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make sure you handle outside duties exactly and then do likewise in going after personal desires.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't go off on any tangents and be sure you handle practical affairs very wisely now. Listen to what a new contact has to say.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be conscientious in handling some obligation and don't argue over it. Someone gives you an idea that is puzzling to you. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A rather silly pal could irritate you today, if you permit, and tonight your mate may be moody.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Although your labors may seem boring in the morning, get them done just the same.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A day to settle small issues at work, so do so. Forget social pleasure for the day and evening.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If something does not suit you at home, be silent and take care later you do not over-spend for anything. IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be quite nervous and irritated and should get a good deal of rest in early childhood if the life is to become successful. A practical kind of education is best here, and the field of selling is ideal for your progeny. Be certain diet is right.
