Judge rules against Fiberflex vote

By KEELY COGHLAN
 Staff Writer

A federal district court judge in Wyoming ruled Friday that an "irrevocable" proxy granted by two Fiberflex Products Inc. shareholders to the company's corporate officials was not irrevocable.

In the decision, Federal District Judge Clarence Brimmer of the District of Wyoming found that corporate management — Tom Rutledge, Russ Rutledge and John Freeman — did not offer the shareholders who granted them 11-month proxies, A.W. and Patsy Reeves of Casper, Wyo., enough consideration or interest for the proxies to be termed "irrevocable."

The judgment states that the proxies, due to expire in December, were not irrevocable and were cancelled when they wrote letters of cancellation to the Rutledges and entered into subsequent proxies.

The decision favors former O.I.L. president Charles "Chris" Christopher in his struggle for control of the multi-million dollar oilfield industry related manufacturer. The Reeves later granted a proxy to Christopher.

"I think the judgment is clearly wrong. I don't think the judge considered the law or the facts correctly," said Midland attorney Steve Kiser, who is representing the Rutledges and Freeman in litigation in the 118th State District Court in Big Spring.

"It was a summary judgment.

That means there was no testimony. The judge ruled on the affidavits and the pleadings," Kiser said.

"We think there was plenty of consideration. They (the Reeves) intended them to be inevitable when they signed them until Christopher stepped into the picture and offered them a better deal," Kiser said. "We don't agree that that's adequate grounds for revocation."

Kiser said he was uncertain whether the Rutledges and Freeman would appeal the federal ruling because of the short time remaining on the proxies, due to expire before the end of the year, and the expense involved.

The younger division sported entries dressed in a tutu, painted as flags or spotted in red polkadots.

Chemical train derails

COLORADO CITY — A Union Pacific Railroad train containing a hazardous chemical derailed three miles west of Westbrook at 3 a.m. Tuesday morning, said a DPS trooper.

One of the cars contained butadiene, a flammable liquid, said Trooper Buddy Hertenberger. No spills or leaks were reported by Union Pacific, Hertenberger said.

"We had five cars turn over on their sides," he said. "Three other cars had their wheels knocked off. All had contained a hazardous material, but they were lined only with (chemical) residue."

'Webb Air Force Base will close over my prostrate body.'

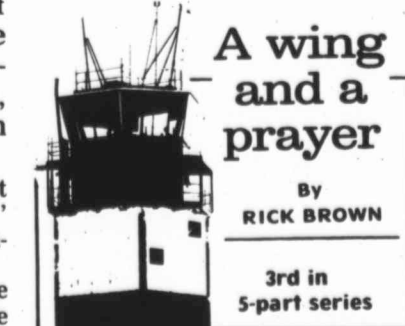

Sen. John Tower

If the role of scapegoat were assigned in the closing of Webb Air Force Base, would it go to Sen. John Tower?

"He made some statements that came back to haunt him," remembers businesswoman Johnnie Lou Avery.

"Webb Air Force Base will close over my prostrate body," was one such Tower gaffe. Former Mayor Wade Choate remembers the statement was paraphrased by the late Winston Wrinkle into "Over my prostrate body, there goes the last plane," during a final, dreary base ceremony on Sept. 7, 1977. It was the last ceremony of any consequence at the base.

Reasons for Webb's closure were "strictly politics," says former Webb Wing Commander Harry Spannaus, with Tower and Big Spring coming out on the short end. An atmosphere of military

Floods reign in Bville

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — Residents of this border town braced for flooding today after two days of thunderstorms dumped about 8 inches of rain and lagoons around the city threatened to overflow their banks.

About 5.6 inches of rain fell on Brownsville Monday and 6.7 inches in Bayview and 6.7 inches in Port Mansfield.

The National Weather Service issued a flash flood watch for Cameron and surrounding counties Monday and warned that a frontal system that brought the rain could stay around for at least another day.

Small craft advisories had been posted on the Gulf of Mexico as the wind was blowing about 30-40 mph.

Cameron County Sheriff's Department officials said they were trying to get a road closed near Los Fresnos and Olmito. No accidents were reported Monday.

In Brownsville, police Sgt. Luis Alvarez said no streets were closed late Monday night, but that "many were beginning to flood and with the way the rain is keeping up, it may flood yet."

He said the problem the city is having is that all the lagoons around the city are "are pretty well loaded and if it keeps raining we may have a problem."

He said police units would patrol throughout the night, monitoring street flooding.

In South Padre Island, police dispatcher Sue Ann Lopez said authorities expected coastal flooding throughout the night.

She said vacationers in their recreational vehicles were advised to get off the beach.

Brownsville's high temperature of 73 for Monday was the city's lowest on record.

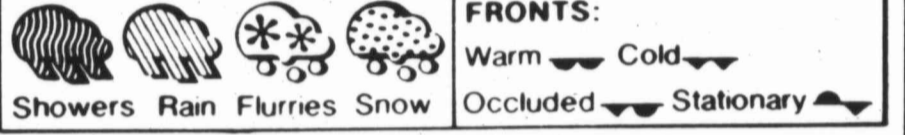

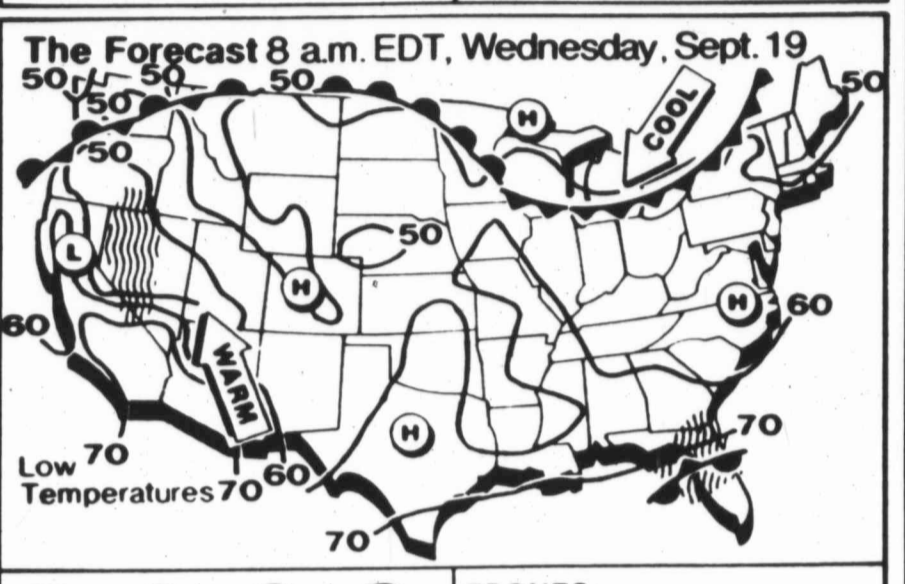

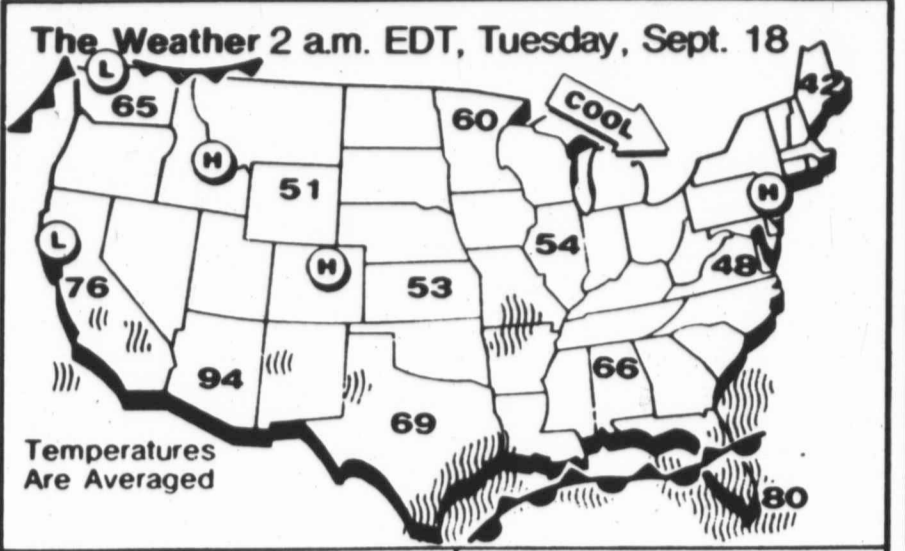

The National Weather Service predicts more showers for the Lower Rio Grande Valley for the next two days.

Rain continued early today across southern portions of the state. Some of the widespread rain and isolated very heavy thunderstorms skirted the middle to upper Texas coast and extended offshore into the northwest Gulf of Mexico.

Elsewhere around the state skies are clear over the western third of the state and partly cloudy to cloudy skies are reported over the remainder of the state early today.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 50s and 60s except in parts of South Texas and along the coast where readings were in the 70s. Extremes ranged from 48 at Marfa in Southwest Texas to 77 at Corpus Christi.

West Texas — Mostly fair through Wednesday with no important change in temperature. Highs Wednesday mid 80s; Panhandle and mountains to mid 90s extreme south. Lows tonight mid 50s Panhandle, mountains and far west to near 60 Concho valley with mid 60s Big Bend valleys.

For the record

The Herald incorrectly stated the name of the church cooking and selling lunches at the fair as Temple Baptist Church.

Members of the Trinity Baptist Church are operating a kitchen at the fair. Temple Baptist Church has never been involved in selling anything as a fundraiser, according to church secretary Bess Wagner.

"One thing about a goat — they aren't bashful," said County Judge Milton Kirby, who judged the show. Shaundra Walker, 7, of Coahoma also carted off awards with her red-white-and-blue goat, Stinker, painted like a flag complete with star. Shaundra, who said her father came up with the idea for painting the goat, also wore an Uncle Sam hat and an American flag shirt.

Shaundra and Stinker won first in the best goat competition and was reserve champion for her age group.

Kori Caffey, 5, of Sand Springs won best costume with her goat, Curly Dawn, who wore a pink tutu to match her owner's white ballet outfit.

Federal case questions troopers' reputations

Harte-Hanks News Service

The reputations of state troopers James Burson and Thomas Johnson for truthfulness are "not good" in Colorado City, Mitchell County attorney Pat Barber testified Monday in a black truck driver's civil rights suit in Abilene Federal Court.

Burson and Johnson are being sued by Midland trucker George Williams, 47, and his employer, Farmers Cooperative Association of Stanton, over Williams' arrest at Colorado City on the night of Jan. 2, 1982.

Judge Hal Woodward dismissed cases against other defendants because he found no evidence of wrongdoing, he said. These defendants were Mitchell County Sheriff Wendell Bryant and businessmen J. Dossey and R. Dossey and J&R Dossey Wrecking.

Williams and the co-op are seeking unspecified damages in excess of $10,000, Williams claiming false arrest and the co-op damages to its 18-wheel flatbed truck while impounded.

Barber testified he dismissed the 1982 case against Williams for "insufficient credible evidence."

Barber testified he previously had announced he would no longer prosecute cases that relied solely on Burson's testimony and that he had asked the state Department of Public Safety Director as recently as two years ago to transfer the Colorado City DPS trooper.

Williams, who pastors Galilee Baptist Church in Midland as well as driving a truck, was arrested when he refused to sign tickets issued by Burson and Johnson.

The heavy-set Williams, who testified he weighs between 300 and 400 pounds, said Burson told him he was going to jail "for six months" if he didn't sign the ticket.

Williams said he was handcuffed and taken to the Mitchell County Jail where he was recognized by jailer L.C. Devorco, who told Burson: "Hey you've got one of West Texas' leading Negro pastors. What's his fine? I'll pay it."

"He goes to jail. Ain't no fine," Williams said Burson told Devorco, who is black.

Council to set new tax rate

COAHOMA — The Coahoma City Council will set a new tax rate for the 1984-85 year and discuss the Revenue Sharing Budget and city funds, during a special meeting at 5:30 p.m. today.

The city, which is currently fighting financial problems, may have to pass a measure to increase taxes. The city increased water rates to $7.50 earlier this year.

New tax law seminar slated

Howard County residents with questions about changes in state tax laws can get answers during a special seminar at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the Howard County Courthouse.

Persons who cannot attend the seminar is sponsored by the State Comptroller's office.

"The state sales tax rate is going up and a number of new items and services will be taxable for the first time beginning Oct. 2," State Comptroller Bob Bullock said. "We are holding seminars across Texas so these changes won't come as a surprise to anybody."

Videoconference centers on downtown renovation project

"Revitalizing Downtown: A National Videoconference" was aired to 450 sites, including Big Spring, today as 20 people from Big Spring, Andrews, Pecos and Lamesa joined more than 15,000 people nationwide in viewing tips for saving downtown areas.

The conference, aired on the Biznet network, featured an opening address by President Reagan, followed by tips from members of the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

Pat Hardy, administrative assistant for the city and one of the organizers of "Heart of the City," the local renovation program, welcomed participants and told them the local renovation project "is going fairly well."

Because of economic hard times in West Texas, "It's not just our downtown area that has suffered," Hardy said. Through projects such as "Heart of the City," Hardy said he and others were hoping to revitalize all of Big Spring's shopping areas.

Reagan, in his welcoming statement, told participants of the videoconference that "downtown renovation makes good sense." He added that "Big cities are the muscle of America, but America's heart is in our small towns."

John Block, secretary of agriculture, spoke this morning and told participants: "Main Street is the center of life for millions of Americans. Small towns and the rural economy is growing."

Other speakers throughout the day-long conference will include Mary Means, vice president for program development, National Trust for Historic Preservation; Scott Gerloff, Tom Moriarity, both of the National Main Street Center; several participants in pilot-program renovation programs, and Francis Hodson, chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts.

Dock strike called off

LONDON — Transport union leaders today called off Britain's 25-day-old dock strike, which has idled nearly half the nation's seaborne trade.

At a morning-long meeting, the docks committee of the giant Transport and General Workers' Union voted 78-8, with three abstentions, to end the stoppage immediately, officials said.

The decision followed agreement between unions and state-owned British Steel Corp. to allow coal shipments to fuel-starved Ravenscraig steel plant in Scotland.

Miners end boycott

JOHANNESBURG — Black gold miners accepted a compromise offer today and dropped plans to stage their first legal strike, but more than 250 miners were reported injured in clashes with police before the settlement.

About 40,000 miners returned to work after a one-day boycott, the National Union of Mineworkers said. Cyril Ramaphosa, the union's general secretary, said "a large majority" of members accepted an offer from Anglo American Corp. to boost holiday benefits for black workers at seven Anglo mines.

Graham, Soviets spar

NOVOSIBIRSK, U.S.S.R. — Evangelist Billy Graham told Soviet officials today that world peace was dependent on knowing God and adhering to Christian morality. The Soviets countered that Marxism and Leninism are necessary to achieve peace.

Graham met today with officials of the peace committee of this west Siberian city and the nearby academic community of Akademgorodok.

"Take a little time to look at the cross of Christianity and read the New Testament," the 65-year-old American preacher told Yevgeny N. Meshalkin, chairman of the Novosibirsk peace committee, and about a dozen members of the group.

Meshalkin abruptly replied, "I have a Bible, I know it quite well" and suggested in turn that Graham study the ideas of Karl Marx and Vladimir I. Lenin.

Rebels OK pullout

TRIPOLI, Libya — Libyan-backed rebels in Chad have expressed support for the mutual withdrawal of French and Libyan forces from the central African country, Libya's official news agency JANA said today.

JANA said the withdrawal accord, announced by France and Libya on Monday, "opens new doors for the final solution of the Chadian problem and gives it its internal character."

The Chadian government opposing the rebels has yet to make official comment on the agreement, negotiated directly by France and Libya.

Minesweepers leave

CAIRO, Egypt — The U.S. unit that participated in a multinational hunt for mines left the Gulf of Suez today after completing its mission, while British and Egyptian salvage crews worked to retrieve a mine from the Red Sea.

A diplomatic source said the U.S. amphibious transport dock Shreveport, with four mine-hunting Sea Stallion helicopters aboard, sailed northward from the central sector of the gulf — the northwest fork of the Red Sea — and was expected to exit the Suez Canal and enter the Mediterranean tonight.

USSR offensive kills 300

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — As many as 300 Afghan rebels were killed in a new Soviet attempt to capture Afghanistan's best known resistance leader, Ahmad Shah Massoud, in the northern sector of his Panjsher Valley stronghold, Western diplomats said today.

Pentagon yanks Big Spring's air base

probable closures, Tower pledged "to fight to the last bloody ditch" to save the base. But the fact was inescapable that Tower was a Republican senator in a Congress controlled by Democrats.

"Although we supposedly had some clout, I guess we found out that we didn't," recalls Choate. "I don't know that we were betrayed. He (Tower) did all he could."

News that the base would close hit Big Spring hard.

"We'll probably starve," said Mildred Shaw in a Herald article. Mrs. Shaw's husband was a civil service employee at Webb.

"This town needs any payroll it can get. I've already seen too many places close," said Winnie Dell Rhoton.

"We have a lot accounts at Webb. We'll need new industry and new stores to make up for it," said local merchant Roy Scarborough.

A valiant effort was set up by city leaders to fight the closure. Teams of Big Springers, including Choate, Wrinkle, Herald Managing Editor Tommy Hart and local businessman Clyde McMahon went to Washington repeatedly to testify before various congressional committees and appeal to Pentagon brass.

"For several reasons, we thought that every effort had to be made to save (Webb) — to show that we were a community that was willing to fight for ourselves," remembers Mrs. Avery.

With the help of Spannaus, who served as the base's final Wing Commander, a statistical case was developed and taken to Washington as ammunition.

According to the former wing commander, keeping Webb open was simply good economics. The base had two good runways, low transportation costs due to its proximity to the oil industry, and generous flying time because West Texas weather was clear nearly 365 days a year.

In addition, there was a "community that backed the base more than any other community I have been in contact with," Spannaus said.

Still, there were demerits on Webb's side. "All the old buildings knocked us," recalls Choate. "We were not a modern Air Force base."

Choate also summed up the feeling of personal loss that the community suffered.

"Webb had a lot of young people and most of them were civic minded," he said. "They were patriotic types of Americans. When that's taken away from you, it's just a great shock."

The parades, the military maneuvers — "You just miss it," he said.

In hard, statistical terms, a study commissioned by the Air Force detailed the probable effects of Webb's closing.

The report forecasted a population loss of between 6,000 to 10,000 and an erosion of the city's tax base. The loss could result in either a decrease in public services or higher tax levies on remaining citizens, it said.

Unemployment — below 3 percent in 1976 — could rise to almost 13 percent or even higher and bring economic and social problems in its wake, the study said.

The city's housing situation could change from one of "very limited supply to one of considerable surplus," according to the report, and bring lower tax valuations and an income loss to investors.

School enrollment would be reduced by the departure of an estimated 1,200 pupils and lead to a reduction in federal and state funds.

Mrs. Avery remembers she was not personally demoralized "because I've seen too many things come and go. It makes your heart stop for a second, but it's just a matter of going on."

Efforts by community leaders to save the base bloomed into a task force to make the best of the situation.

The city of Big Spring, which would administer base property after closure, formed the Webb Steering Committee to act as a clearing house for ideas and contacts that might bring in new business.

One bright idea came in a proposal from Dr. P.W. Malone for a cancer treatment center at the recently-built base hospital.

And even before the last plane left, the leaders' efforts showed a smattering of success.

On July 27, 1977, Lubbock Manufacturing Co. announced it would become the first business to locate at the base. The company wanted three structures and 12 acres for its plants to repair damaged oilfield tanks.

Judge rules for workers

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Bethlehem Steel Corp. must pay back any health insurance premiums deducted from the pension checks of 18,000 retired white-collar workers, a federal judge has ruled.

U.S. District Judge John T. Elfvin, ruling Monday in a lawsuit brought by retired worker Carroll G. Heck, found Heck was correct in his contention that Bethlehem reneged on a promise to pay full medical insurance bills.

Heck and the retirees represented in his suit charged Bethlehem began deducting part of the cost of the premiums on April 1.

Neb. AG goes on trial

OMAHA, Neb. — Nebraska Attorney General Paul Douglas, facing trial Nov. 26 on charges stemming from his link with a failed savings company, will not face federal charges in the matter, a special prosecutor says.

Federal prosecution of Douglas "would be a duplication of effort," Assistant U.S. Attorney Patrick T. Murphy said Monday.

Douglas faces charges of perjury and obstructing justice in connection with his testimony before a legislative committee and a special prosecutor about his relation with Commonwealth Savings Co. of Lincoln, which was declared insolvent Nov. 1.

7 set for shuttle flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. — Two women will be among the record seven astronauts aboard the next space shuttle flight, which NASA says is scheduled to begin Oct. 5 and to end here Oct. 13.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Monday that Robert Crippen, making his fourth shuttle trip, will command the shuttle Challenger on the flight.

Sally Ride, America's first space woman, will be making her second orbital flight, and Kathy Sullivan will become the first American woman to take a space walk.

Drug dealer kills himself

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — James O. Quintana, a convicted heroin dealer who talked of killing himself because of the lives he destroyed by selling heroin, died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound after a standoff with police, authorities say.

Police surrounded a house where Quintana, who had escaped from custody Wednesday, was holed up, and rushed in Sunday evening to find him dead at the end of a 21-hour siege.

A coroner on Monday ruled Quintana died of a gunshot wound, and federal marshal Lee Koury said the wound was self-inflicted.

During the standoff Quintana "did make comments to the effect, corny as it sounds, that crime doesn't pay," said Koury.

250,000 expected at Pope's mass

ABBOTSFORD, British Columbia (AP) — Many Americans have made the pilgrimage to this town just across the border from Washington state to be among the faithful to hear an outdoor Mass celebrated by Pope John Paul II.

About 250,000 people were expected for today's service and several of the cars and campers filling up the grassy spaces around the Abbotsford Airport runways Monday carried U.S. license plates.

"It's quite a once-in-a-lifetime experience," said Agnes Carroll of Oakhurst, Calif. She and her husband, Howard, decided to extend a planned vacation by a few days when they learned the pope would be in Vancouver.

"I feel like we're on a pilgrimage," she said.

Local tax rates signal austerity

How did the taxpayer fare this year? A survey of local taxing entities — the city, the county, the schools and higher education — shows he did pretty well. And in a tight economic year for Big Spring and county residents, that's the way it should be.

To properly preface a story on taxation, tax appraisals must be taken into consideration. That is, did the value of homes increase from last year? No, they did not. So taxing governments were working with a flat tax base this year — little if any increase in the worth of the real estate within their boundaries.

Taxing governments could have responded in one of two ways: go for budgetary growth by hiking the tax rate, or hold the line by keeping their tax rates at last year's levels. The city and county held the line; the schools went up. But all taxing governments approached taxation with care this year.

The city held its tax rate at 68 cents per $100 of valuation. In terms of total tax revenues, that provided an increase — but a minuscule one. Tax revenues will increase $22,800, about 1 percent.

Big Spring Independent School District upped the tax rate 1.4 percent — from 85 cents per $100 to 86.2 cents — which will result in a 5 percent increase on $5.5 million in tax revenues. Much of the reason for raising taxes falls at the feet of legislative mandate for teacher salaries — a worthy necessity.

And the Howard County Junior College District (Howard College and SWCID) pushed its tax rate up 2 cents, from 14 cents per $100 to 16 cents. Board president Harold Davis first said that even with the rate increase tax revenues would dip because of a decrease in the tax base. That's not quite right. Tax revenues are projected to go up $25,000 from last year, but on a tax budget of nearly $2 million, the percentage increase is 1.5 percent.

The county actually decreased taxes, and, in fairness, it must be noted that the county has a $3 million-plus reserve as a cushion. It shaved about $150,000 from total tax revenues of about $3.5 million. It's a modest reduction, but one that sends an important message to taxpayers about the obligation of government to be tight-fisted with its constituents' money.

These are not boom times. The local taxing entities' efforts on budgets and taxation this year reflect a heartening acknowledgement of that fact.

Royce rolls along

The issue of the separation of church and state has reared its head in the 1984 presidential campaign. It may not be good for the state but it's not bad for television preachers.

My favorite, the Right Reverend Rolls Royce, devoted his entire hour to this subject the other morning. He said:

"I'm going to speak to you today about God, sin and the American election. The secular humanists would have you believe that religion must not play a part in government — that we should not mix religion when it comes to reelecting the greatest president on this good green globe.

"Well, my friends, the Bible has something to say about this. What does the Bible say about state and religion? You can find out by sending $50 for this velvet bound illustrated edition, which we have printed at cost to guide you in making what could be the greatest decision of your life. For those of you who can't afford this beautiful gold-trimmed book, we are offering a paperback edition for $15, so no one can say that he or she wasn't informed on the issues.

"Do religion and government mix? Well, I'm going to tell you a story. A man came to me last month and said he didn't think he was better off today than he was four years ago. He had lost his job, his benefits were running out and he could hardly feed his family on the food stamps that he was receiving. He told me because of his precarious situation he was confused and didn't know whom to vote for in November.

"I told him when he goes into the voting booth, he must not think of his own petty problems. He must decide which party's platform supports God and which party's platform supports Satan. I gave him copies of both parties' platforms. Do you know what this man did after reading them? He gave me his last $5 for a Reagan bumper sticker.

"The aggressive humanists would have us believe that the fathers of the Constitution deliberately set out to keep state and religion separate. Well, I'm holding a copy of the Constitution in my hand, the most beautiful political document ever devised by man. This document can be yours free, if you send $10 for postage costs and handling. It is printed on parchment with the First Amendment in bold red type. Whenever a humanist cites the Supreme Court on keeping religion out of the government you can show him this document to prove the Supreme Court justices are wrong.

"My friends, too many of us take it for granted how blessed we are to live in a country under God. We're afraid to show our true feelings. But we have to shout to the world that we're the greatest so it can be heard all the way to the Kremlin. You may be asking how you can do this. You can do it by displaying this American flag. For just $100, you can hang one of these flags in your window. I have personally blessed each of them, so you're not just buying an American flag, but one that was touched by God's hand.

"Don't just sit there and let the secular humanists turn this country into a Communist state. Go to your phones now and call this toll free number. If God didn't want you to have this flag he wouldn't have let me accept your American Express, MasterCard or Visa cards.

Crash is evidence of covert war

WASHINGTON — The death of two Americans in Nicaragua, killed in a helicopter crash during an attack on a Sandinista training camp, is evidence that the CIA-directed "covert" war against the Managua regime has been taken over by the private sector since Congress voted to halt official aid to Nicaragua "contra" guerrillas.

Supplies for the anti-Sandinista forces and their families come from a variety of sources in this country, ranging from the Rev. Sun Myung Moon's Unification Church to U.S. politicians, evangelical groups and former military officers.

My associates Jon Lee Anderson in Central America and John Dillon in Washington have pieced together what's going on:

• The aid is being channeled through private foundations, councils and commissions, with the cooperation of influential friends in the Reagan administration and its New Right supporters.

• CAUSA has also been sending relief supplies to the Indians, through Moon's Refugee Relief Freedom Foundation, Misura leaders said.

• Jenkins' effort is intended to provide non-military supplies to families of two CIA-backed contra groups established in Honduras near the Nicaraguan border. Officers of Misura, an Indian guerrilla group, said they got 2 tons of foodstuffs by airlift in early July.

• Sources in World Relief, which handles United Nations refugee-aid programs in the area, said that the new relief supplies from the private sector are going to the several thousand contra refugees living near the Nicaraguan border outside UN camps.

• World Relief limits its aid to refugees who live 25 miles from an international border, to avoid charges that it is taking sides in a political conflict. But Jenkins hinted that the international agencies provide assistance mainly to pro-Marxist refugees.

• Taxpayers' Quiz: Here's a short quiz for taxpayers on the subject, "How big is the federal government?" The answers appear at the end.

• At least one shipment of medical supplies to Central America, airlifted from a Michigan military base, was paid for by the CIA, according to government sources. But the Pentagon has balked at requests from the private groups for airlifts of their supplies.

• Despite a confidential National Security Council memo authorizing transport of the supplies in U.S. planes on a "space available" basis, Pentagon lawyers are hesitant to approve such flights, because military airlifts of relief supplies are illegal except in cases of severe national disasters.

• Sen. Jeremiah Denton, R-Ala., has introduced an amendment to the defense authorization bill that would get around this legal obstacle by ordering the Pentagon to institute "such procedures as are necessary" for the airlifts.

• Key contra leaders identified

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I have never admitted this to anyone before, but I am only 24 and I think I am an alcoholic. My boyfriend got me involved with alcohol, and when I tried to stop drinking a few weeks ago, I found I couldn't. I'm too ashamed to admit it to my family, but I don't know where to turn. — M.N.V.

DEAR M.N.V.: You have already taken the first step by admitting you have a problem with alcohol and wanting to do something about it. This is an important step; often the biggest problem many alcoholics have is their unwillingness to face the fact that they need help. And you do need help, because alcohol will destroy you if you do not break free of its grip. The Bible warns, "Wine is a mocker and beer a brawler; whoever is led astray by them is not wise" (Proverbs 20:1).

Don't let your pride get in the way. Seek out someone (such as a pastor you know) who can direct you to groups in your area that can help you (such as Alcoholics Anonymous).

Mormon Miss

I used to be against pageants such as Miss America, where women paraded around a stage like they were cattle and it seemed they were judged on their looks and nothing else.

I've changed my mind. I no longer think pageants and the people who stage them are the villains I once made them out to be. After all, the women who participate want to be there. They have a lot of confidence and big-time pageants such as Miss America give women the chance to sing, dance or perform before national audiences.

Instead, the villain on the pageant scene is Bob Guccione, publisher of Penthouse magazine. Guccione struck a low blow when he published photographs of Vanessa Williams, the 1984 Miss America, just two months before her reign was to end.

When word was released that Ms. Williams would give up her crown, it was hard to watch her on television because she was so distraught. The pageant must have meant a lot to her, and regardless of her past, it was cruel punishment to have to lose her crown while the nation judged her.

I don't know where Guccione gets the idea that his mission is to destroy the Miss America pageant. When he was defending his decision to publish the photographs which would cost Ms. Williams her career, he tried to convince us that it was the Miss America pageant that was at fault.

He said that the perfect, old-fashioned woman that the Miss America pageant was trying to sell to the public no longer exists and that the pageant was a farce. Feminists have been trying to convince us for years that the Miss America pageant is a farce and that women who participate are plastic and aren't good representatives of the American woman.

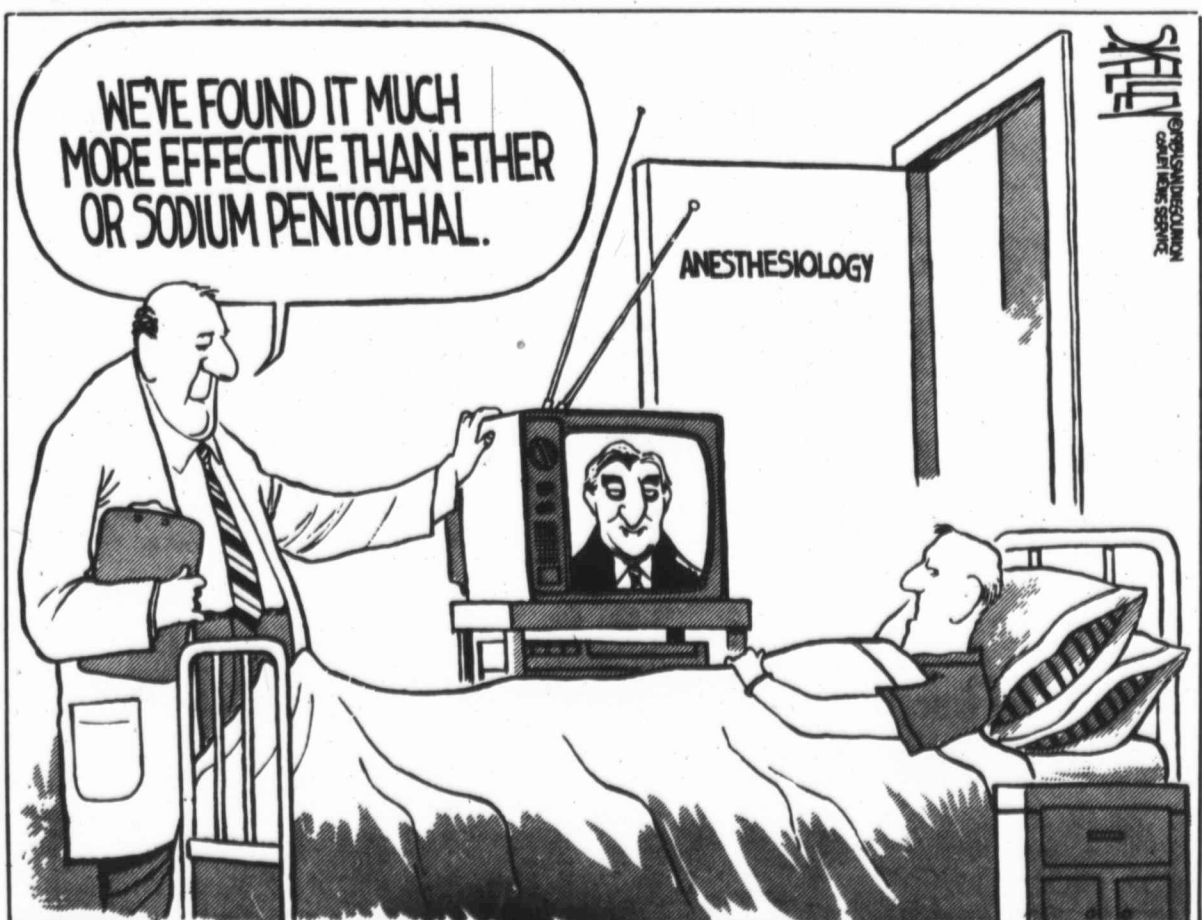

But surely Guccione doesn't have a better role model in Penthouse magazine. I'd rather have my daughter looking forward to being Miss America than appearing in Penthouse. Guccione convinced me that the pageant does have its merits.

Guccione was up to his old tricks again last week when he announced that he had photographs of another contestant in the Miss America pageant. But the pageant officials couldn't have made a better choice when they selected Miss Utah as the next Miss America.

Once she was crowned, Miss America told the press she was a Mormon Sunday school teacher with no skeletons in her closet and that her personal life was "above reproach."

Looking back now, the Miss America flap was really a lot of concern over a relatively unimportant event. But Guccione hurt people, such as Miss Williams, and he was in the market to hurt more people. While you may argue that Miss Williams knew what she was doing when she let the photographs be made, I doubt she knew what a nightmare would follow when Guccione took possession of them.

Dear Abby

Group helps smokers' spouses

DEAR ABBY: I take exception with your response to "Mrs. X," whose husband had suffered four heart attacks, was ordered by his doctor to quit smoking, but sneaked smokes every chance he got. (The poor man was not allowed to smoke in his own home.) You weren't much help, Abby. You told her that her husband was hooked on cigarettes, which she already knew. Then you suggested ways for him to quit, saying he could quit if he really wanted to (another needle).

This angry wife needs psychiatric counseling. She's been married to this man for 40 years, during which time I'm sure he smoked, and now suddenly she's developed a holier-than-thou attitude.

You should have told her to get off her husband's back and encourage him to exercise more, reduce his sodium (salt) intake, cut out all saturated fats and avoid sugar. He's in his 60s now, and her continual nagging will only destroy their 40-year marriage and shorten his life.

You should have encouraged her to create an atmosphere of love and understanding and try to make his last years peaceful.

In case you think I'm a smoker, I'm not, but my wife of 42 years is. SAME PROBLEM.

DIFFERENT SOLUTION
DEAR SAME: Your solution makes sense. Read on for another:

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "Mrs. X," whose husband continued to smoke after having four heart attacks.

My husband had a near fatal heart attack six months ago. Since then, he's made a remarkable recovery physically, but emotionally he's a wreck. Our marriage is on the rocks. I've asked him to seek counseling. He refuses.

A close friend suggested I get in touch with a self-help group through my local American Heart Association. I did, and it has helped me enormously. It's called "SOS" — Support Our Spouses. We meet once a month at a local hospital and learn how to deal more intelligently with our spouses' afflictions. We talk about smoking, diets, sex, personality changes, drugs, etc. It operates much like Al-Anon group meetings.

I've learned to quit nagging my husband about his smoking — that I cannot take responsibility for his actions, and if he chooses to ignore his doctor's advice, I should not feel guilty.

I look forward to those meetings. It helps to spill my heart out to others who have the same problem. MRS. R., NEW ORLEANS

DEAR MRS. R.: Thanks for sharing. Interested readers should contact their local American Heart Association to learn if there's an SOS group near them. If there is none, perhaps you can start one.

Dr. Donohue

Tourniquet usage

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: We are studying first aid in school. Our book teaches that in using a tourniquet, one should not loosen it once put on. Isn't it correct to remove it? — 8th Grader.

The book is right. Once a tourniquet is put on it's to be left on until removed by a doctor.

But I can't leave it at that. I don't want to imply that the tourniquet is the most appropriate way to stem bleeding. It is rarely needed, and it is dangerous. A tourniquet is to be used only when bleeding cannot be stopped in other ways and when continued bleeding threatens life.

Why this caution? It is because in using a tourniquet you often sacrifice the limb. And if you release it, you run the real danger of causing shock with the rebleeding. A tourniquet, once applied, has to be released only by a doctor.

You can stop bleeding in safer ways. Pressure applied directly on the wound with a sterile cloth pad or cloth often controls bleeding. This way you stop blood loss yet maintain circulation to the rest of the limb. Or you can apply pressure with the fingers over the major arm or leg artery. You have to know where that is, and you probably would need to go to a Red Cross class or some other emergency training program to learn how to do it. But this, too, is safer than a tourniquet.

Please, readers, reserve the tourniquet for the very last resort to save life. As I said, its use may cost the person a limb.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: What is the opinion among doctors about eating charcoal-broiled meats? I heard a few years ago that something in charcoal-cooked meat is cancer-causing. I've been nervous since. — W.K.

There's no evidence that charcoal-broiling meat causes cancer. Several years ago there was a flurry of excitement about this when a study turned up cancer-causing agents from it. Only very tiny amounts were found, the same chemicals produced in other methods of cooking where meat is burned.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble" — it could be dangerous. Read the booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need to Know About Them." For a copy write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 29 proposes a constitutional amendment that provides to state-chartered banks the same rights and privileges that are or may be granted to national banks of the United States domiciled in this state. For example, if national banks become authorized to maintain branch offices, this amendment would extend the same privilege to state banks.

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 19 proposes a constitutional amendment that restructures the Permanent University Fund to provide: (1) for the expansion of the institutions eligible to participate in the bonding capacity of the fund to include the components of The University of Texas and Texas A&M University systems that have been added to those two systems of higher education since the Permanent University Fund was last restructured by constitutional amendment; (2) for the expansion of the purposes for which bond proceeds can be expended from new construction to include major repair and rehabilitation projects and the acquisition of major capital equipment (e.g., computers and laboratory equipment) and library books and materials; (3) for an increase in the bonding capacity from 20% (1/2 for The University of Texas System and 1/4 for the Texas A&M University System) to 30% (20% for The University of Texas System and 10% for Texas A&M University System) of the value of the assets (exclusive of real estate) in the Permanent University Fund in order to provide sufficient bond proceeds to care for the addition of 10 new institutions to those authorized to participate in the Permanent University Fund bonding program and to care for the expanded purposes for which the bond proceeds can be spent; and (4) for the dedication of the dividends, interest, and other income from the Permanent University Fund remaining after payment of principal and interest due on bonds and notes issued, to the provision of support and maintenance (over and above normal legislative appropriations) for Texas A&M University in Brazos County, Prairie View A&M University, and The University of Texas at Austin.

House Joint Resolution 19 also annually appropriates $100 million in each fiscal year, beginning September 1, 1985 (from the first money coming into the state treasury that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution) for the use of those agencies and institutions of higher education which are not included in The University of Texas or Texas A&M University Systems and, therefore, not eligible to participate in the Permanent University Fund bonding program. The amount of this appropriation could be adjusted every five years by a 1/2 vote of the Legislature, but could not be adjusted in such a way as to affect outstanding bonding indebtedness. Each institution of higher education that is eligible to participate (i.e., those institutions of higher education outside The University of Texas and Texas A&M University Systems) would be authorized to expend directly its share (such share to be determined pursuant to an equitable formula) of the $100 million appropriation for the purposes of acquiring land, constructing and equipping buildings or other permanent improvements, major repair and rehabilitation of other permanent buildings or improvements, and acquisition of major capital equipment (e.g., computers and laboratory equipment) and library books and materials. Additionally, each institution would be authorized to issue bonds backed by a pledge of up to 50% of its share of the $100 million annual appropriation for the purpose of land acquisition, new construction, and major repair and rehabilitation projects.

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 65 proposes a constitutional amendment which authorizes the legislature to provide for the payment of assistance to the surviving dependent parents, brothers, and sisters of officers, employees and agents of the state or its political subdivisions, including members of organized volunteer fire departments and members of organized police reserve or auxiliary units authorized to make arrests, who die in the course of performing hazardous official duties. Payments to surviving spouses and dependent children of such officers, employees, and agents are already authorized by the Constitution.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide for payment of assistance to the surviving dependent parents, brothers, and sisters of certain public servants killed while on duty."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 20 proposes a constitutional amendment which abolishes the office of county treasurer in Bexar and Collin counties if a majority of the voters in each of those counties vote in favor of abolishing the office of county treasurer in a local election to be held on the issue. All the powers, duties, and functions of the office of county treasurer in each of these counties would be transferred to the county clerk.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Bexar and Collin counties."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 22 proposes a constitutional amendment which provides a new method of filling a vacancy in the office of Lieutenant Governor. The amendment requires the President pro tempore of the Senate to call together the committee of the whole Senate within 30 days after a vacancy occurs in the office of Lieutenant Governor. The committee would be required to elect one of its members to perform the duties of the Lieutenant Governor until the next general election. This individual would continue his duties as Senator at the same time that he performs the Lieutenant Governor's duties. If the Senator who is elected ceases to be a Senator before the next general election, another Senator must be elected according to the above procedure to perform the Lieutenant Governor's duties. The President pro tempore would be required to perform the Lieutenant Governor's duties pending the election of one of its members by the committee of the whole Senate.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the state senate to fill a vacancy in the office of lieutenant governor."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that permits the use of public funds and credit for payment of premiums on non-assessable life, health, or accident insurance policies and annuity contracts issued by a mutual insurance company authorized to do business in this state. The constitutional prohibition against a grant of public money to an individual, association, or corporation or against becoming a stockholder in a corporation, association, or company has limited life and health group policies of political subdivisions to non-mutual insurance companies. The amendment would permit mutual insurance companies to bid for those policies.

Lady Steers are overachievers

Call Big Spring High School volleyball coach Susan Sharp an overachiever.

She doesn't know that when all odds are against her she should just set there and roll with the punches and let nature take its course.

Not Sharp. And she and her Lady Steers will put that trait on display tonight at 7 when they entertain Abilene Cooper at Steer Gym. She doesn't let things like bad odds and breaks get her down. She knows she can lick the problem. Take her Lady Steers for instance. Someone should please tell the woman that's impossible to think about reaching the playoffs with only three letterwinners and one starter from a team that went a dismal 9-15 last season.

You just don't reach the playoffs with a team that has two proven seniors, four juniors and two sophomores — but Sharp knows she can. It's very hard to win when you don't have a dominating spiker and your tallest starter is 5-8, but don't tell Sharp that.

Sometimes it's easy to second guess the second year Big Spring coach's logic. Her ability to get her team thinking positive and play up to its capabilities is a driving force, however that has turned a young group of Big Spring spikers into overachievers also.

If anyone had said at the start of the season that this young, untested team's season record would be 10-9 and 2-0 in district, they almost certainly would have been called a dreamer. Sharp has made the dream a reality and now all of District 4-5A is preparing themselves for the up and coming Big Spring Lady Steers.

Sharp says the start for the rejuvenated volleyball program did not come from the players physical abilities — but from their mental abilities, inserting in each player's mind that they could win games and be successful.

"We just had to make the girls believe they could win," Sharp said. "Once they won a few games they got their confidence up and started believing in themselves. The team is a lot closer to each other this year, they really care about each other."

Confidence and caring is fine, but surely it can't carry a team all the way. Where is the talent on this year's team? "The girls have really worked and strived to improve themselves. Yes we have some talent. Some of the seniors are coming around and we do have a lot of talent in our younger players."

Sharp states another plus is that she is the first volleyball coach in a while that has been with the program two years-in-a-row. "That has helped alot because now the girls and I have become familiar with each other."

When the subject of reaching the playoffs is mentioned, a gleam comes into Sharp's eyes. "Central is the team to beat. Right now they are in a class by themselves." Then she paused for a moment as the gleam continued to grow. "I think we can take second."

As a look of disbelief came across this sportswriter's face, she sternly said, "I think we can take second and on a given night we might even beat San Angelo."

Spoken just like an overachiever.

AN OVERACHIEVER — Debbie Hoiguin (6) has helped contribute to a better 1984 season for the Big Spring High School volleyball team. She and her teammates will attempt to make their District 4-5A record 3-0 when they entertain the Cooper Cougars tonight at Steer Gym beginning at 7.

Reggie slugs 500th

ANAHEIM Calif. (AP) — Reggie Jackson became only the 13th player in major league baseball history to reach the 500-mark in career home runs, and as is his wont, he did it at an appropriate time and place.

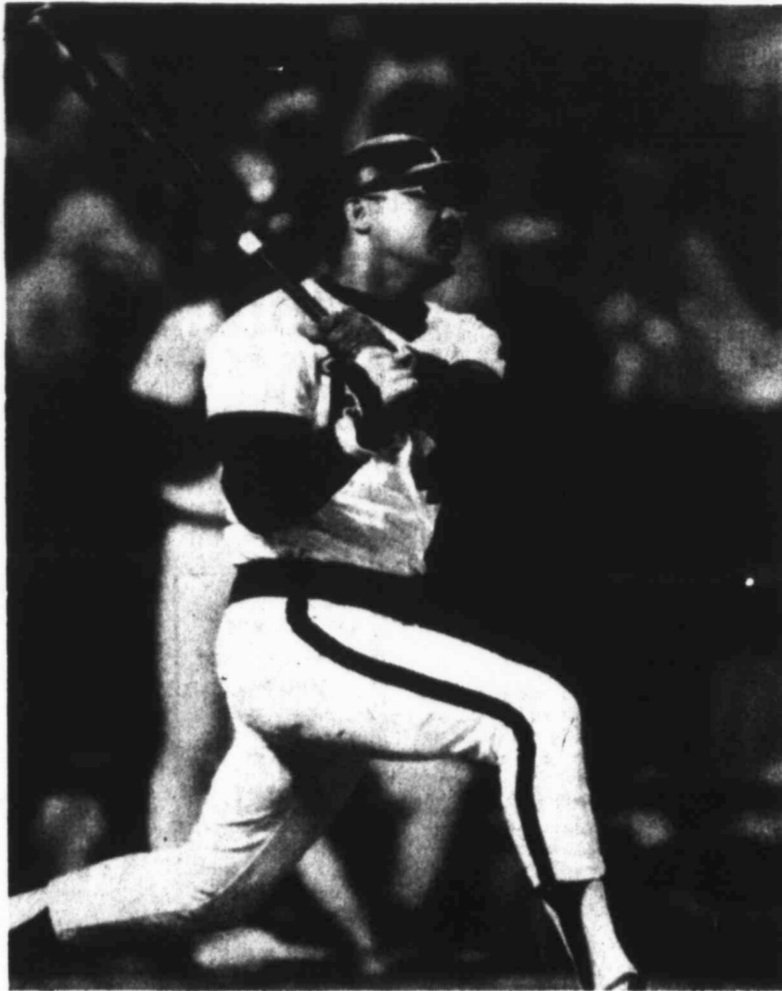

There was only one thing missing.

"I would have wanted the home run to be meaningful," Jackson said Monday night after blasting his 500th homer of the season and the 500th of his career deep into the right field seats at Anaheim Stadium. "It wasn't meaningful tonight.

"I would have liked to have won the game. The fact that we didn't somewhat tarnished the home run. I wish it could have been a seven-run homer to tie the score."

Jackson's big blow on the first pitch off Kansas City left-hander Bud Black in the bottom of the seventh inning was the only California run in a 10-1 victory by the Royals over the Angels in the opener of an important four-game series.

Jackson, who began his 18th season with 478 homers, moved past Lou Gehrig and into the 13th position on the all-time list.

HITTING THE BIG ONE — California Angels Reggie Jackson watches his 500th career home run head for the right field stands Monday evening in Anaheim, Calif., during the seventh inning against the Kansas City Royals. Jackson became the 13th player in major league history to hit 500 homers.

Dolphins hold off stubborn Buffalo

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (AP) — The emotion that was missing in the Buffalo Bills' previous two National Football League games was there, but the result was the same. "Buffalo was ready to play," said Miami Dolphins Coach Don Shula. "They did not resemble the team of the past two weeks."

Except on the scoreboard, where the Bills lost their third straight game Monday night 21-17, to a Miami team that has won their first three games.

Miami quarterback Dan Marino threw his eighth and ninth touchdown passes of the year in the game's first 20 minutes to Mark Duper and Mark Clayton.

Buffalo didn't concede the game after the early blitz, however and the Dolphins ended up on the run.

"We've just been getting off to slow starts," said Bills wide receiver Julius Dawkins, who caught three passes for 51 yards and a touchdown. "If we can just combine our second halves with our first halves, we can turn it around."

Once again, veteran quarterback Joe Ferguson was the prime mover on offense for the Bills.

He led Buffalo on scoring drives of 79 and 80 yards late in the game and had them moving for the winning score in Dolphins territory when wide receiver Byron Franklin fumbled after a catch with just over five minutes left in the game.

"You can't make mistakes to beat the Miami Dolphins," said Bills Coach Kay Stephenson after a game which saw Buffalo penalized nine times for 70 yards. "We've got to get those mistakes corrected. That to me was the big difference in the game."

Still Stephenson at least discovered his team has a pulse, acknowledging his team "played with a lot of heart and intensity."

Marino, whose touchdown passes to Duper, Clayton and Nat Moore accounted for all of Miami's touchdowns, finished the game with 26 completions in 35 attempts for 296 yards.

"When you have a guy like Marino and your running game is non-existent, I am not that stubborn that I won't go to the pass," he said.

Riding high with a 3-0 record, Miami, according to veteran Dolphin Moore, may be on the verge of something big.

New Oilers coach faces old problems

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Oiler Coach Hugh Campbell is starting his first season with the Oilers but he's faced with an old problem that plagued his predecessors — how to best utilize the running skills of Earl Campbell.

Earl Campbell gained eight yards on seven carries and retired at halftime Sunday after fumbling the ball to San Diego at the Chargers' one-yard line seconds before halftime.

San Diego's quick start forced Houston to junk any thoughts of a ground attack in hopes of catching the Chargers through the air.

Former Oiler Coach Bum Phillips was criticized for using Earl Campbell too much and Ed Biles, who succeeded Phillips, was blasted for not using Earl Campbell enough.

Hugh Campbell the coach, however, isn't ready to step into the controversy.

Asked if he thought it was time to play second year backup Larry Moriarty more, Hugh Campbell said, "It's not the biggest of my problems at this point. Both players got what yardage there was to get."

The former Heisman Trophy winner is considered a liability when the Oilers fall far behind and try to rally with a passing attack. Moriarty is considered a better pass receiver.

The Oilers gained only 27 yards rushing against the Chargers.

"In that situation, he's (Earl Campbell) useless to me," Oiler quarterback Warren Moon said. "Everybody knows his great strength is running the ball. But when you fall behind like that, it forces you to make an adjustment in your game plan. It swings over to the passing game."

Coach Campbell said all of the Oilers' offensive problems weren't centered around Earl Campbell's running. The offensive line took part of the blame.

"My first look at the offensive line was not a case of missing assignment, but not sustaining blocks long enough," he said.

Earl Campbell, who became angry and asked to be traded last year after he sat the second half of a game, took a different approach. "I don't do that anger stuff," he said. "Sometimes the boss just tells you, 'It's gotta be done my way.' That's what happened today."

Ann Gibson Houser Piano Teacher

For 54 years Ann Gibson Houser has been creating her special magic between the piano and Big Spring's children. She doesn't merely teach them to "play the piano." She teaches them to be artists. Seventeen of her former students now teach in colleges; many others are teachers in private and public schools. Many are professional musicians, others are preparing for the concert stage, and at least one is a rising international concert artist. From a long family line of musicians, Ann studied at Louisville Conservatory, Chicago Musical College and Memphis Conservatory, and once thought of a concert career herself. While a teacher at Hillman College in Mississippi she married Texan Ed Houser and moved to Big Spring in 1930. The Houser children are Eddie, who lives in Lubbock; Jerry, San Antonio, and Susan, Phoenix (all play the piano!) and there are 10 grandchildren. Ann has never stopped teaching; today she has 30 students who come once or twice a week, and she admits she still expects "prepared lessons." She's a volunteer coach for her older students who are themselves becoming teachers. "Every person should be able to do something special — it gives them a good feeling about themselves," Ann believes. That's why she continues to introduce children to the piano.

BUSINESS & INDUSTRY REVIEW

Inland Port 213, at 213 Main, is introducing Majorica Pearls to Big Spring. On hand to help you with selections are Sylvia Speaker, Bonnie Sheid, Roy Peet and Iris McGlothlin.

Inland Port Introduces Majorica Manmade Pearls

You have come to expect Inland Port 213 to bring to Big Spring the finest and most unusual items from around the world — but this time they've outdone themselves. Inland Port 213 has become the exclusive local distributor of Majorica Pearls from Spain, the finest in man-made simulated pearls that only an expert can distinguish from real pearls. And they cost only a fraction as much.

In a scientific laboratory experts emulate the oyster's work, "using natural essences, extracted from marine species of the warm Mediterranean waters; and a secret process to perfectly reproduce the iridescence, beauty, resistance and perfection of the finest natural pearl." An uncompromising system of quality control assures that each pearl is without defect, with unvariable color and brilliance and with resistance to humidity, perfume, perspiration, heat or cold. An International Certificate of Guarantee is issued with each purchase, ensuring the free replacement of any pearl showing a defect for up to 10 years.

A selection of Majorica Pearls, in many lengths and sizes, has just arrived at Inland Port, with several styles of matching earrings. Clasps are gold-filled. Buy a new length and wear them with your real pearls — no one will ever know.

Roy Peet, Inland Port 213's "importer", says new gifts are coming in every day in preparation for the Christmas season.

A brief tour this week turned up these new imports for your home or for gifts: Sword and gun replicas from Spain; musical wind chimes tuned to ancient 5-tone scales; travel bars; decorative monkey pod centerpiece and accessories from the Philippines; small cloisonne items (thimble, pill box, mini-vase) and silk oriental screens (one an antique) from the Orient; hand-carved chess sets from Russia; new musical jewelry boxes from Italy; hand-cut or etched lead crystal serving pieces from Germany, Rumania or Poland.

Make a point of dropping by every week from now on to get a head start on your Christmas list. Remember, Inland Port gift wraps at no extra charge.
