Q. Which is more popular in Big Spring, country or rock music?

A. Sales at the Record Shop indicate that it's customers are split about 50-50 in their preferences, according to Mercy Glickman. Country music probably has a slight edge in Big Spring, Mrs. Glickman said, but that preferences depend upon a person's age.

U.S. Embassy bombed

Blast injures ambassador, kills 28

BEIRUT (AP) — A van filled with explosives and driven by a suicide commando ran a hail of gunfire and blew up today a yard from the U.S. Embassy annex outside east Beirut, severely damaging the building and reportedly killing 23 people. The U.S. State Department said two Americans were among the dead.

Lebanese military sources put the total number of casualties at 23 dead and 60 wounded, but could not say how many were American and how many were Lebanese. At the blast scene, officials supervising the rescue reported two Americans were killed and 21 wounded.

Among the injured were the U.S. and British ambassadors. Neither man was seriously hurt.

Richard Murphy, assistant secretary of state for Middle East affairs, said in Washington that two Americans and at least four or five Lebanese employees of the embassy were among the dead.

The names of the dead were not immediately available.

The explosion ripped a 6-foot-deep, 16-foot-wide crater in front of the six-story annex and injured people inside and outside the building. The Voice of Lebanon radio estimated the van carried 330 pounds of explosives. Murphy said the vehicle, which he described as a small pickup truck, bore forged Dutch diplomatic license plates.

Islamic Holy War claimed responsibility for the blast. The same shadowy terrorist group also claimed last year that it blew up the U.S. Embassy in west Beirut, killing 63 people, and the twin bomb attacks on U.S. Marines and French peacekeeping troops, in which 299 servicemen died.

American and Lebanese guards said they fired at the speeding van today as it scraped through concrete anti-vehicle barriers on the road next to the embassy annex. British bodyguards waiting outside the annex for their ambassador said they fired at the van and hit it several times.

Despite the gunfire, the vehicle rolled to a spot directly in front of the main entrance to the annex and exploded.

Murphy said he was told a Marine guard killed the driver of the van just before the explosion.

Lebanese Red Cross officials at the annex, which is in the east Beirut suburb of Aukar, said they had taken 15 bodies from the wreckage two hours after the blast, and had treated 18 wounded. Abu Jawdeh hospital officials said they had received two bodies and treated 40 wounded.

U.S. political officer David Winn said neither U.S. Ambassador Reginald Bartholomew nor British Ambassador David Miers was seriously hurt in the blast.

Coahoma schools may run on deficit

By LUIS RIOS Staff Writer

COAHOMA — Coahoma school Superintendent Jerry Doyle said this morning the district could end up with a deficit budget for the 1984-85 fiscal year.

The possibility of a deficit budget is a direct result of a $54 million loss off the district's tax roll from last year, Doyle said. The $54 million represents approximately $500,000 in actual tax revenue to the school district.

The 1983-84 tax roll was $342 million compared to the 1984-85 tax roll of $287 million, Doyle said.

"Every bit of it ($54 million loss) is attributable to the tremendous decrease in mineral values," he said.

The CISD, on a recommendation by attorney Paul Lyle of Plainview, will investigate the possibility of an independent appraisal. This second appraisal will be compared to the Howard County Tax District appraisal, according to a release from Doyle's office.

Lyle told the board he would contact Capital Appraisal Co., an Austin-based company, for the appraisal of minerals.

"The appraisal will be a three-day appraisal or a spot check," Doyle said. "We are not pointing the finger at anyone yet; we are just gathering comparable data."

The loss of $54 million for the tax roll has prompted school board members to raise taxes 7.99 percent. Taxes will jump from 76 cents to $1.08 per $100 property valuation, Doyle said.

The 7.99 percent represents the district's tax hike based on the difference between the 1983-84 tax roll and the 1984-85 tax roll. But the hike from 76 cents to $1.08 represents a 42 percent jump.

"The reason we set it at 7.99 percent was to avoid a tax rollback," Doyle said. "A tax rollback election cannot be called."

The budget for the CISD is set at $5.17 million, Doyle said. Approximately $1.16 million of the budget will go toward the payment on a school building, he said. The CISD See Coahoma page 2-A

Strictly business

Airpark charts course of old Air Force base

With the closure of Webb Air Force Base a memory, and Big Spring's boom years faded to bust, the Big Spring Airpark must attract new tenants in a climate of agricultural and oilfield slump, officials say.

"We run a business out here," said Airpark Manager Hal Boyd, a former City Council member and Malone-Hogan Hospital administrator who resigned both positions in 1981 to take the Airpark job.

"We're not seeing companies move to the Sunbelt now as rapidly as they were two or three years ago," said Boyd. "People were willing to come into the Permian Basin and recognized the facility here as an alternative to locating in Midland or Odessa." His office used to receive 10 inquiry calls a week, he said. Now the calls have slowed to a trickle.

However, Boyd said the facility is not a drag on the city. "We're holding our own in this climate of agricultural drought and energy glut. When we lose a smaller business, we gain another one," he said.

In contrast, the loss last year of Oilfield Industrial Lines (O.I.L.), an Airpark business that once employed more than 1,000 workers, represents at least a potential problem for Boyd and the facility he runs.

Backed by expected O.I.L. rent revenues of $30,000 monthly, the city in 1982 sold over $1 million in airport improvement bonds. The company, although current on its rent payment, shut down operations last December and still holds a lease that runs until 1997.

"As of Sept. 1, this office has received no official word as to the status of the O.I.L.-Kidd lease and of any future plans," Boyd said. "Grapevine information is that sometime in the near future a representative from O.I.L. will sit down with us on some negotiations," he said. He would not comment further.

As a safety measure, the city maintains a reserve fund that covers more than a year's worth of bond principal and interest payments, Boyd said. The fund is mostly made up of royalties from See Airpark page 3-A

Economy slows, inflation steady

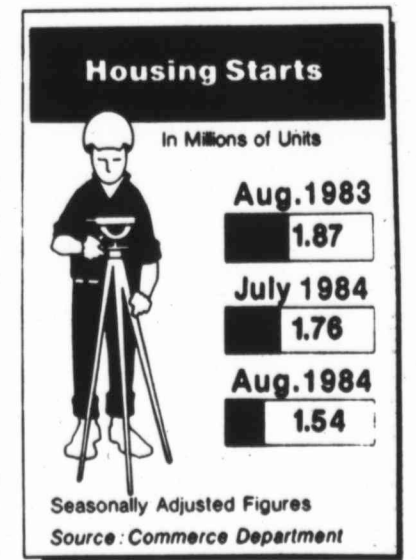

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. economy has slowed dramatically from its breakneck pace of the first half of the year, but inflation has edged down also, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department reported that the gross national product, the broadest measure of the nation's economic health, was increasing at an annual rate of 3.6 percent from July through September.

That preliminary estimate for growth in the current quarter marks a pronounced slowdown from the 10.1 percent pace set in the first three months of the year and the 7.1 percent revised estimate for the period from April through June.

Retail sales also registered declines in July and August, as did housing starts, which the government announced Wednesday fell to their lowest level since December 1982.

The slowing of economic growth had been widely expected, given a string of weaker business statistics released in recent weeks. Some economists had feared the drop would be more pronounced, predicting the GNP rate could dip as low as 2 percent.

The more moderate growth rate is welcomed by most economists as a signal that the recovery from the 1981-82 recession can be sustained without kicking up inflationary pressures.

City, hospitals plant seed money for jogging course

By CAROL BALDWIN Staff Writer

Malone-Hogan Hospital, Hall-Bennett Hospital and the City of Big Spring are joining together to install a gamefield jogging course at Comanche Trail Park, according to Craig Brace, director of wellness at Malone-Hogan.

The course, which will be located at the site of the Rose Magers Jogging Course, will include 20 pieces of equipment designed to be "played, not endured," Brace said.

The equipment will include bars and ladders for stretching exercises, push ups, leg lifts, sit ups and other warm up exercises.

The project will be opened following a "Celebration of Fitness" scheduled in October. Details of the celebration will be announced later this month, Brace said.

Weather

Rains pummel SE Texas

By The Associated Press

Light rain and showers covered a large portion of the middle and upper Texas coast early today, spreading inland into Southeast Texas before dawn.

The showers, triggered by a trough of low pressure in the central Gulf of Mexico, spread inland into Southeast Texas in an area stretching from College Station to Huntsville.

A large ridge of high pressure over the country's mid-section kept skies mostly clear over West Texas and North Texas early today. Some high cloudiness was reported in Central Texas.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 60s, ranging from the mid 40s in the Davis Mountains of West Texas to the mid 50s in the Panhandle to the 70s along the coast. Extremes ranged from 45 at Marfa in Southwest Texas to 76 at both Beaumont and Corpus Christi.

Other early morning temperatures around the state early today included 56 at Amarillo, 60 at Wichita Falls, 66 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 65 at Waco, 69 at San Antonio, 72 at Brownsville, 56 at San Angelo and Lubbock, 60 at Midland and 64 at El Paso.

Forecasts called for scattered thunderstorms over Southeast Texas and along the coast today, spreading over the remainder of South Texas tonight. Skies over North Texas and West Texas were to be clear to partly cloudy. Temperatures were to remain warm statewide. Highs were to be mostly in the 80s except in the Lower Rio Grande Valley where readings were to be in the lower 90s.

Thunderstorms moved across the Florida Keys today, and a few thundershowers lingered over the intermountain region, the northern Rockies and the Pacific Northwest.

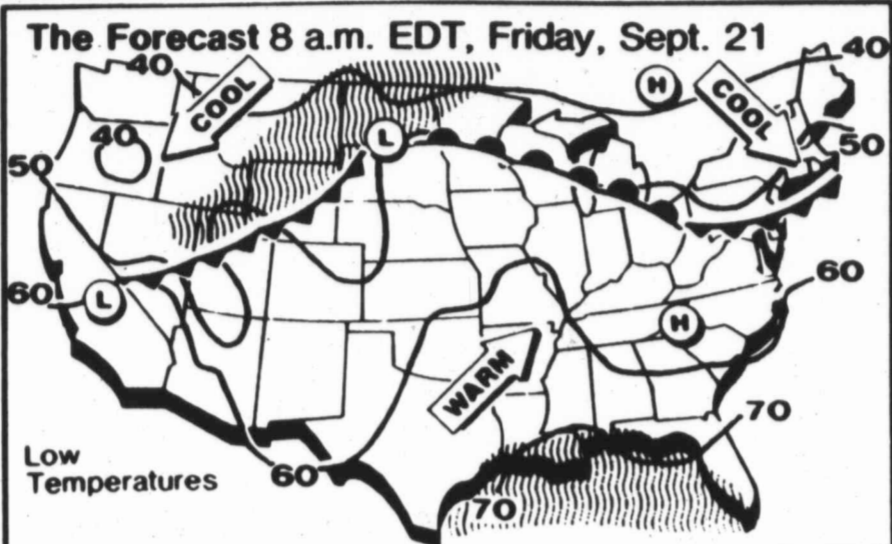

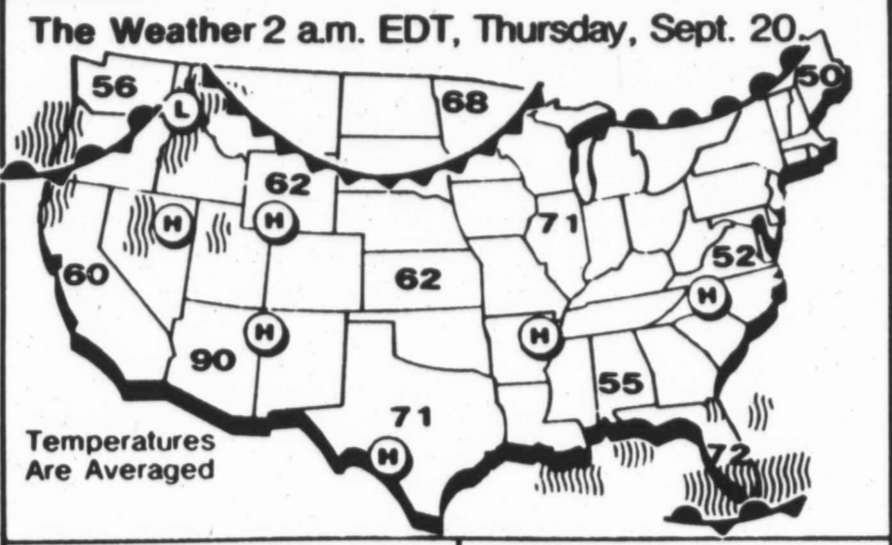

Skies were fair across much of the eastern two-thirds of the nation early today with temperatures mostly in the 50s and 60s.

Skies were cloudy to partly cloudy over southern Florida and portions of Texas and Louisiana.

Record high temperatures were set across portions of the northern Plains and upper Mississippi Valley Wednesday afternoon, but cooler air moved into the area early today.

Heavier rainfall in the 6 hours ending at 2 a.m. EDT ranged around an inch at Vero Beach and Miami, Fla., and Ely, Nev.

West Texas - Partly cloudy southeast otherwise fair tonight and Friday. Widely scattered showers southeast Friday. Highs Friday mid 80s Panhandle and mountains to low 90s Big Bend valleys. Lows tonight mid 50s Panhandle to near 60 Concho Valley with mid 60s Big Bend valleys and near 50 mountains.

Police Beat

Couple injured in collision

A Big Spring woman remains in satisfactory condition today and her husband was treated and released at Malone-Hogan Hospital Wednesday morning after the motorcycle they were riding collided with a pickup.

Pattie Anciso, 25, and Pedro Anciso, 23, both of 1501 Avion, were taken to the hospital by Shaffer Ambulance after the accident that happened in the 1100 block of N. Lamesa.

According to police reports, the Ancisos, riding a 1976 Honda motorcycle, collided with a 1983 Ford pickup driven by Roberto Calderon of San Angelo as Calderon changed lanes. Both vehicles were northbound at the time of the accident, reports said.

Calderon was ticketed for failure to yield right of way following the accident, reports said.

In other police reports:

- Two pieces of carpet valued at a total of $450 were reported stolen at about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Bob Spears of 1605 Hardins told police someone entered his residence and stole the 13-by-15 foot and 10-by-12 foot rugs sometime between Sept. 5 and Sept. 19.

- A wallet containing credit cards, identification and $250 in cash was reported stolen at about 2:30 p.m. Wednesday. Thomas Patton of Route 2 told police he was in the K-Mart discount store when the wallet disappeared.
- Paul Tobin of Beeville, a carnival hand, reported a female chihuahua dog stolen from the 7-Eleven convenience store at Highway 80 and Willia. Tobin said the dog, which was valued at $300, was stolen at about 11:20 p.m. Wednesday.
- A Big Spring woman told police Wednesday night that someone tried to run her over with a white, 2-door car while she was at the Sonic Drive-in on Gregg Street. Mildred Brown, 61, of P.O. Box 2274 told police the car's driver twice backed into her 1974 Lincoln Mark IV before almost running her over as he drove away, according to police reports.

Woman receives sentence

A 23-year-old Big Spring woman pleaded guilty Wednesday in 118th District Court to a charge of felony theft by check.

District Judge Jim Gregg sentenced Della Dickson of 2522 Hunter to three years probation.

County Court Judge Milton Kirby Wednesday revoked the probation of Tomas Gutierrez, 19, of 408 E. 11th for driving while intoxicated.

Gutierrez was sentenced to 60 days in county jail and credited with serving three days.

- Sondra Denise Williams, 20, of the Northcrest Apartments was transferred Wednesday from the police department to the sheriff's office on suspicion of burglary. Williams was released on $10,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

raised the operating budget only 2 percent for the 1984-85 fiscal year, excluding teachers' salaries, he said.

Doyle said Lyle told the board members he was surprised amazed that not one major oil company complained of its appraised values to the Appraisal Review Board.

"It really startles and scares (Lyle) and concerns him that everybody was so amiable with the appraisal process," Doyle said. "Only one small independent complained to the board about the appraisal process and the assigned values."

The formal hearing for the tax rate was Sept. 17, he said. The tax hike requires a proposal to raise taxes and a third hearing to actually raise them, Doyle added.

"All of us are concerned," Doyle said. "The taxpayers in the district need to remember the board members are taxpayers, too."

Economy

Indeed, the latest report contained good news on the inflation front. An index of prices tied to the GNP declined for the second consecutive quarter. The index rose at an annual rate of 2.9 percent in the third quarter, down from a 3.3 percent pace in the second quarter and a 4.4 percent rate in the first quarter.

The combination of low inflation and strong growth, especially in the first half of the year, is expected to give the country its best economic gains in more than three decades.

The Reagan administration has predicted that GNP growth for the entire year should be 7.2 percent, the best rate since 8.3 percent growth in 1961. That would compare to a 3.7 percent gain in 1983 and a 2.1 percent decline in 1981 as the country was mired in its worst recession since the end of World War II.

Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige said the new report showed "the economy has shifted down to a more moderate and sustainable growth rate." He predicted that growth for the "foreseeable future" would average about 4 percent.

Allen Sinai, chief economist for Shearson Lehman-American Express said the 3.6 percent growth estimate was neither too big or too small. A higher number would have sustained fears the economy was growing too quickly while a lower number might have spawned worries of a recession.

In its report today, the Commerce Department said that it had made no adjustments for the effects of the auto strike against General Motors Corp., which began last week. However, it estimated that if the strike lasts at its current level for the final two weeks of the quarter it would shave no more than 0.3 percentage points from the preliminary 3.6 percent estimate of GNP growth. It gave no predictions for the impact if the strike drags on into the fourth quarter, which begins in October.

Money for the project comes from the Wells Fargo Bank of California, which is supplying $2,500 grants to thousands of cities around the country for such projects. Malone-Hogan Hospital matched the grant, as did Hall-Bennett Hospital. The American Heart Association is also sponsoring the project.

The equipment is on order now and will be installed during the next few weeks, John Bingham, Malone-Hogan administrator, said. The equipment will be installed with the cooperation of city employees and members of the Community Fitness Task Force.

Johnny Rutherford is the chairman of the newly-formed task force. Rutherford said he hoped the task force could help get the community excited about the project.

Brace said the course is only one of several projects sanctioned by the wellness department at Malone-Hogan Hospital.

"We hope to promote wellness through fitness," Brace said. "We want to make Big Spring a happier, healthier community. This is an opportunity for people to improve their lifestyle by getting involved" in an exercise program.

Malone-Hogan Hospital, through the wellness department, is launching a "Lifestyle Enhancement Program" which will sponsor leisure counseling, smoking cessation programs and other programs in designed to involve people "in a deliberate effort to stay healthy," Brace said. "The gamefield is a catalyst tool to help the community get involved."

Dr. Gordon Golden of Malone-Hogan Hospital offered full endorsement of the program. Too often, "illnesses are due to things that we do to ourselves," Golden said.

Bingham said the city and sponsors have discussed increasing security at the park and plans are to add additional lighting in the area if funds become available.

In the future, the task force and sponsors of the gamefield hope to add a fitness court, which will include 16 different pieces of equipment for exercising.

Bingham thanked sponsors for their support. He added, "We could not do this without the support of the city."

Ritz Theater in hot water with health inspectors

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

A lack of restroom hot water is all that keeps local health inspectors from giving Big Spring's Ritz Theater a clean bill of health, according to city-county health inspectors.

"We're giving (Ritz owner Keith Pherigo) permission to hold off (on hot water installation) until he decides it's worthwhile to progress with improvements," said Luck.

"If he determines that he will keep the building, then we'll require—somehow, someday—that he provide hot water in the restrooms," Luck said.

Although inspector Dr. H.F. Schwarzenbach said the Ritz was in "real good shape" on last inspection Aug. 23, the addition of hot water to customer rest rooms constitutes "a major repair job," according to Luck.

Schwarzenbach said prospective new owners of the theater would be barred from re-opening until the water problem was fixed.

According to Schwarzenbach, the state health code requires food service operations, including theaters, to maintain hot running water in restrooms for customers. Otherwise, "the Ritz as far as sanitation was 100 percent better," said Schwarzenbach. "They're doing a real good job of keeping it clean," he said.

"If a customer comes in and really feels that strong about (hot water), we'll let him use the storeroom (hot water faucet)," Tina Arguello, secretary to Ritz owner Keith Pherigo, said yesterday.

Ms. Arguello said the state law regarding hot water had been in effect for three years, but the theater's previous owners had not maintained the necessary precaution.

"We're trying to correct it, but it just takes time," she said.

She said the theater presently contracts with a sanitation service to clean the theater weekly and theater employees give the facility a daily cleaning.

"The theater is just incredibly cleaner," she said. "Our regular customers have commented and know this."

Pherigo today could not be reached for comment.

Levelland man named to Board of Education

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Gov. Mark White named dentist Paul C. Dunn of Levelland on Wednesday to the new State Board of Education to represent District 15, which includes Howard County.

Dunn, a Levelland school board member and real estate broker, will serve until Jan. 1, 1989. The seats are up for election in 1988. The new 15-member board, which replaces the current 27-member body, was created this summer to carry out public school reforms adopted by the Legislature.

District 15 is composed of Andrews, Armstrong, Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Cochran, Collingworth, Crane, Crosby, Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Donley, Ector, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Gary, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hockley, Howard, Hutchinson, Kent, Lamb, Lipscomb, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Mitchell, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Scurry, Sherman, Swisher, Terry, Wheller and Yoakum counties.

Dunn was in competition with Amarillo businessman J. Benjamin Latham III and former superintendent W.L. Willingham of Lubbock for the job.

Other members are Volly C. Bastine Jr. of Houston, a lawyer and current board member; Mary Helen Berlanga, a Corpus Christi lawyer and current board member; Jon Brumley of Fort Worth, an oil and gas firm president; Texas Instruments president Fred Bucy of Dallas, a Texas Tech University regent; Rebecca Dawson Canning of Waco, a former teacher and board vice-chairwoman of Paul Quinn College in Waco; Dr. Emmett Conrad of Dallas, a physician and Huston-Tillotson College board chairman.

Also, Carolyn Crawford of Beaumont, head of Beaumont school district's guidance services; Charles Duncan of Houston, a Coca-Cola Co. board member and Rice University chairman; Maria Elena Flood of El Paso, a Texas Tech health sciences professor; William V. McBride of San Antonio, a retired Air Force general; Devine businessman Pete Jose Morales Jr.

Also, John Prescott of College Station, a Texas A&M University professor and head of the Institute of Occupational Medicine; Katherine Percy Raines of Cleburne, a financial planner, local school board member and former teacher; and former state Sen. Jack Strong of Longview, who sponsored major education legislation.

Selecting the board was "one of the most difficult decisions of my life," White said at a news conference. He had kept reporters waiting more than an hour before the announced release time while he completed his work.

White said he hopes to name a board chairman from the appointees by Thursday. He said he wanted more time to interview for the job.

"I wanted a diverse board to oversee our schools, and I think you will find the qualifications of these new board members as wide-ranging and comprehensive as possible. I wanted a board with strong management background, and the expertise of these men and women will provide that," White said.

MONTREAL — A 65-year-old American accused of planting the bomb that killed three people in a Montreal railroad station lowered his pants during a court session at which he declared his innocence.

"I'm not part of the bomb squad, I am the truth squad," said Thomas Brigham, a native of Rochester, N.Y., during a six-minute arraignment Wednesday on three charges of first-degree murder. "I couldn't be part of a heinous thing like this."

Although handcuffed, Brigham managed to drop his trousers moments after he arrived in the courtroom. He remained in his shorts until he was led back to his cell.

Scientists seeking help

VIENNA, Austria — Hungarian environmentalists are asking Austrians to help them fight a huge Soviet bloc power project which they say will cause irreversible damage to a long stretch of the Danube River.

The Hungarians, members of a group known as the Independent Danube Circle, are seeking Austrian support for a petition campaign they began this summer. It was believed to be the largest environmental protest ever in the Soviet bloc.

Republic elects leaders

SAN MARINO — The Parliament of this tiny mountain republic has elected a Socialist and a Communist to share executive power for the six months beginning Oct. 1.

The Great and General Council, San Marino's legislature, picked Socialist Marino Bollini, 51, and Communist Giuseppe Amici, 45, to be the new captains-regent, according to an announcement Wednesday.

A Communist-dominated coalition has ruled San Marino, a 23.6-square-mile enclave in Italy's Apennine mountains, since 1978. New captains-regent are elected every six months by the council.

San Marino, founded in the year 301, is the world's oldest republic.

Iranian terminal raided

BAGHDAD, Iraq — Iraq said its armed forces attacked Iran's main Persian Gulf oil shipping terminal at Kharg Island today, damaging installations there in retaliation for an Iranian attack on two Iraqi ports.

A military spokesman announced in Baghdad that Iraq attacked "some facilities" on Kharg Island but did not elaborate.

The unidentified Iraqi spokesman, reading a communique over the state radio, termed the attack "a warning strike."

Liberian minister fired

MONROVIA, Liberia — Head of state Samuel K. Doe has fired his information minister for allegedly implying that the military leader wants to establish a dictatorship.

A statement issued by Doe's office Wednesday said Alhaji Kromah was dismissed because he made persistent references to the establishment of a dictatorship.

Soviets release 5 American sailors Wednesday

GAMBELL, Alaska (AP) — Five tired but smiling American sailors said they were glad to be back on American soil today after a week in Siberia, where they were taken by a Soviet warship that seized their supply ship during a souvenir-hunting jaunt.

The seamen, released Wednesday in a rendezvous between an armed Soviet icebreaker and a Coast Guard cutter in the Bering Sea, were not harmed during their detention, said Tabb Thoms, skipper of the 120-foot Frieda K. With his crew by his side, Thoms spoke to a mob of reporters and villagers Wednesday night after the freed vessel beached on Gambell, located on St. Lawrence Island about 50 miles east of the rendezvous site where the vessel and crew were freed earlier in the day.

Thoms said he and the crew piloted their ship to the rendezvous, where Coast Guard Capt. Jack Billington met with the commander of the Russian icebreaker Aisberg in the wheelhouse of the Frieda K to sign documents turning over the crew and vessel to the Americans.

The transfer took place in the Bering Sea near the international date line at 3:20 p.m. ADT (7:20 p.m. EDT). "There was just a very warm hello. We were very happy to see them," said the Frieda K's cook, 29-year-old Charles Burrall.

Coast Guard officers who boarded the Frieda K were met by five armed Soviet crew members, said Chief Petty Officer Dan Dewell. Thoms said the Soviets confiscated film from cameras, the ship's log and charts from the Frieda K.

Thoms said the crew was pressured to sign papers admitting an intentional violation of Soviet territory, but refused to do so.

"We collect T-shirts and sweat shirts from where we go, from time to time, and this was our intention" when the encounter with the Soviet warship occurred Sept. 11 in the Bering Strait, said Thoms.

The crew, which delivers supplies to remote villages, was heading for a village on Little Diomed, an Alaskan island only 2 1/2 miles east of Soviet-owned Big Diomed, when the boat was stopped and boarded by "many, many" Soviet soldiers, he said.

Thoms, who did most of talking for his crew, said they were approaching the narrow passage between the two islands when he saw a gray ship approaching.

He said he steered the Frieda K closer and saw an officer on the bridge. "As we neared the ship...one of the officers on the vessel motioned" and Thoms interpreted that to mean they should tie up to the vessel.

"So we threw our lines on and before the wink of eye, you could say, there were many, many soldiers on board, armed with guns, knives and pistols, and they seized my crew."

Thoms and other crewmembers said they were happy to be back on American soil and said they were grateful to the Coast Guard crew that came to pick them up.

The skipper acknowledged to reporters that he may have strayed into Soviet territory, but said he was not aware of it at the time.

"My navigation equipment said I was 15 miles inside U.S. waters, but apparently that was off," he said.

Thoms said the Soviets shut down the vessel's radio equipment and detained the crew on deck and him in the wheelhouse. Another ship arrived and towed the Frieda K to the Soviet port town of Urelik in Siberia, he said.

Before being taken to what appeared to be a barracks at a military installation, the crewmen were told they could take clothes and one other item. "We asked only to take our Bibles," Thoms said. "They refused" to permit it, he said.

Man executed in Florida

STARKE, Fla. — James Henry, who denied killing an 81-year-old civil rights leader, died in the Florida electric chair today, the seventh person executed in the state this year.

Henry, 34, electrocuted minutes after a court-imposed stay expired, was the ninth person executed in Florida since 1976 and the second this month. Twenty-five people have been executed nationwide since the U.S. Supreme Court reinstated the death penalty in 1976.

The execution was carried out despite pleas from national civil rights leaders that the inmate be spared.

About 30 demonstrators — a few supporting capital punishment — held vigils in a pasture across the street from Florida State Prison as a black-hooded executioner put Henry to put death with 2,000 volts of electricity administered over 60 seconds.

He was pronounced dead at 7:09 a.m., four minutes after the electricity was turned off.

Gov. ponders execution

RALEIGH, N.C. — Gov. Jim Hunt, having met with people on both sides of the issue, says he'll decide "relatively promptly" whether to commute the death sentence of Velma Barfield, who could become the first woman executed in the United States in 22 years.

Hunt met Wednesday with groups favoring capital punishment for Mrs. Barfield, 51, who is scheduled to die Nov. 2 for poisoning her fiancé to death with arsenic. Mrs. Barfield's children and others who oppose executing her saw Hunt on Tuesday.

Man arrested in slaying

PHILADELPHIA — Survivors of an execution-style shooting in a bathroom that left three Asian immigrants dead provided a nickname that led police to arrest a man in the shootings.

A woman critically wounded in the Tuesday night shooting, Linh Diep, 25, and her 8-year-old daughter, who watched the shootings, gave police the nickname of one of two men who herded the victims into an upstairs bathroom and shot them, said homicide detective Daniel Bennett.

Police Wednesday morning arrested Tuan Van Tran, 24, the brother-in-law of two of those slain, Bennett said.

Big Spring Airpark charts course for old air base

Airpark oilwells, which currently pay about $2,500 monthly to the city.

Boyd, who sat on the City Council that negotiated the original O.I.L. lease, defended the controversial contract. "How could a community refuse a viable industry regardless of size — if it can bring jobs to the community?" he said.

"The Airpark as far as its lease with O.I.L.-Kidde is not losing anything. The thing that hurts the community is that we don't have the jobs," he said.

"As long as they meet their obligations, there's little from a legal standpoint that we can do," he said.

The city's $1 million rent-backed bond issue furnished the money for three new airplane hangars and, more important, the division of the former Air Force base into separate aeronautical and industrial areas.

The latter was "strongly recommended" in a airport master plan prepared with Federal Aviation Administration guidance and money.

The master plan recommends about $3 million in improvements at the Airpark. City officials estimate a four-year completion period for the project, hoping federal grants will cover 90 percent of its costs.

Already, the federal government has pledged about $70,000 for reconstruction of the Airpark's main runway and lighting system improvements. Plans are also in the works for a new crosswind runway, security fencing around the runway and a lighted guidance system to direct taxiing planes.

Are the improvements worth the city's time and effort?

"Airports themselves are a monetary liability for a community," said Boyd. "But they pay a community off in other ways."

"In 90 percent of the industrial inquiries we get, they ask 'Are you located in close proximity to an airport?'" he said.

Boyd said most corporate aircraft, such as those kept by Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., Partee Enterprises and Guthrie Oil Co., are multi-engine or executive jets. "This airport (with its 8,800-foot runway) can take anything up to a 747," he said.

On the industrial end of Airpark, the city currently has almost 1,000 acres ready for development "if the economy improves to the point where industries are relocating," Boyd said.

In searching for new business, Boyd said he tries to attract what he calls "patent-developing companies," like some that are already in residence. Western Container Corp., Fiberflex Inc., the Co-Exx Pipe Co. and Permian Research are companies that he said fit this mold.

Boyd said small businesses also play a part in the overall Airpark picture. The facility needs "successful local firms that expand," he said. "Regional growth is the key."

Boyd said the 39 businesses currently in operation contribute about $69,000 monthly to city coffers.

In all, they employ about 560 people, he said, but the total payroll at the former Air Force base numbers about 800 persons, with the addition of the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp and the SouthWest Collegiate Institute for the Deaf.

Although the Airpark is "holding its own" economically, Boyd said he does not foresee a facility filled to boom-level capacity in the near future. "Maybe I'll never see it," he said. "But I think it's down the road."

"We're in the center of West Texas, and if Midland-Odessa continues to grow, there's no reason why Big Spring can't grow."

"We have the desire to grow," he said.

Meese cleared of all charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special prosecutor reported today he found no basis "for the bringing of a prosecution" against presidential counselor Edwin Meese III whose nomination by President Reagan to be attorney general bogged down in charges of ethical misconduct.

Special prosecutor Jacob A. Stein, reporting to a special court which appointed him to investigate allegations concerning Meese, said he looked only for violations of the law and would "submit no comments on Mr. Meese's ethics and the propriety of his conduct or an evaluation of Mr. Meese's fitness for office."

The three-judge panel accepted Stein's report and made it public.

A tax on fools

Michael Wittkowski has gotten so much good news lately that it was probably inevitable some bad tidings would come his way. I hate to be the messenger, but the winner of the record-breaking Illinois state lottery is going to find out sooner or later.

The truth is, Wittkowski didn't win $40 million. Oh, he'll be paid $40 million, but it isn't worth $40 million. That's because the payoff is stretched over 20 years, at $2 million a year. Its real worth — what actuaries call "present value" — is much less.

To illustrate, consider what you'd be willing to pay in exchange for the right to collect $1,000 in 10 years. Obviously, you wouldn't pay $1,000 — you'd be better off putting the money in the bank, where it would draw interest.

What you'd be willing to pay is the amount you'd have to put in the bank now in order to have $1,000 10 years from now. If the interest rate is guaranteed at 8 percent, you'd have to sock away just $463.19 today. That's the present value of collecting $1,000 in 10 years.

What's the present value of Wittkowski's so-called $40 million payoff? Just $15.4 million. That's what the state had to pay for an annuity that will pay $2 million a year for 19 years, plus the $2 million it pays him directly this year.

Then there are taxes. So he gets married and divides his winnings equally among himself and three members of his family, as he plans, and that the Internal Revenue Service doesn't rule him liable for gift taxes. Taking no steps to reduce his taxes, Wittkowski would have $500,000 in income next year and pay $231,400 in federal taxes. (For simplicity's sake, let's assume he moves to a state with no income tax.) That leaves him with $268,600 in spending money.

Of course, there are plenty of ways a millionaire can shield his income from the tax man. Barbara Pope, a tax partner in the Chicago office of the Price Waterhouse accounting firm, says Wittkowski could probably find enough investments in oil and gas, real estate, research and development and the like to cut the federal taxes on his yearly income of $500,000 to about $73,000. (Cutting them any further probably would cost more than it saves.)

But doing this isn't free: it requires Wittkowski to come up with the cash to put into tax shelters. Pope figures he'd have to put up $200,000 a year to keep his taxes that low. The money he'd actually have left to spend would be just $227,000 for the year — though, of course, he also now owns some assets that will earn a return. Still, he may find that his standard of living won't rise quite as dramatically as he expected.

Not all of this is the fault of the Illinois state government. Any other millionaire would have the same tax problems as Wittkowski. But the lottery, however you figure it, is a bad bet.

The real scandal is how steeply the odds are stacked against bettors. For each dollar spent on lottery tickets, only half goes into the prize pool. The state skims 50 percent right off the top. After covering its operating expenses and commissions, it's left with 42 percent to 43 percent of the total — a huge profit margin. So it netted about $26 million on its record payoff, or roughly $10 million more than the cost of covering the winning ticket.

Well, gambling may never be wise, but in some places it's less stupid than in others. At Illinois' thoroughbred tracks, more than 82 percent of the money wagered goes back to the horseplayers, with the rest divided between the state and the track. At a typical Nevada casino, from 74 cents to 80 cents of each dollar bet are paid out. The chances of winning are thus much better than in Lotto.

The problem for Illinoisans who like to gamble is that casinos are illegal here, and to play the horses you have to go to the track. So betting folks have to either break the law or waste a lot of time. Lotto is a bad deal, but it is by far the most convenient one. As long as the same state government that is getting rich from it is in charge of the laws on gambling, it will probably stay that way.

But the government of Illinois ought to get out of the gambling business and let private enterprise in. What exists now is an institutionalized hypocrisy that thrives only because its customers are forcibly deprived of choices. The lottery may be a tax on fools, but even fools deserve better than this.

Japanese join guerrilla war

WASHINGTON — In its first known venture into undercover military operations since preparations for the attack on Pearl Harbor 43 years ago, the Japanese government has taken a modest part in the guerrilla war against the Sandinista regime in Nicaragua.

This astonishing development was disclosed recently by my roving reporter, Jon Lee Anderson, by a top contra leader in the Honduran capital of Tegucigalpa. The source is an intelligence agent for the Miskito Indian rebel force based in Honduras.

He said that from February to June of this year, six Japanese military instructors had been sent by their government to train commandos for missions against the pro-communist Sandinista regime in Nicaragua.

The Japanese trained 100 specially selected Miskito warriors in guerrilla tactics. "They taught hand-to-hand combat, martial arts and how to make bobby traps," the source said.

Beyond that, the Miskito agent offered no further information on the Japanese instructors, other than that they had kept to themselves during off-duty hours and that they apparently spoke neither Spanish nor English, let alone the Indian language.

My associate had been discreetly inquiring about the Japanese since earlier this summer, when he encountered a Japanese in civilian clothes in Tegucigalpa, in the company of an American mercenary.

The American was head of a three-man team from the "Interpoint Consulting Corp." based in the Cayman Islands. My reporter first met him in the Miskitos' base camp inside Nicaragua. The mercenary said he was there "on spec" — to see if any money could be made by training the Indian guerrillas and selling them weapons.

After several weeks of scouting around, he left because, he said, he had concluded the Indian forces were virtually broke. When my reporter saw him again in Tegucigalpa, he was accompanied by the Japanese man. The latter said not a word, and when my associate spoke to him, the Japanese merely nodded and turned away.

Precisely how the Japanese government got involved in the CIA-initiated guerrillas war against the Managua regime is not clear. Other countries — Taiwan and Israel, for example — have reportedly given covert aid to the Nicaraguan contras, and Japan is an influential voice in the international anti-communist movement.

The Miskito intelligence agent said the Japanese government got involved through direct contacts with Steadman Fagoth Muller, the 31-year-old leader of the Misura coalition of Indian guerrillas. The source refused to say whether the U.S. government played any part in getting Fagoth and the Japanese together.

The Japanese guerrillas trained by the Japanese are Miskito youths who make up the special-force unit called "Lakya Tara," or "Big Star" in the Indian tongue. The little-known unit has yet to be committed to any sustained actions, since it completed its training just as CIA funds were being cut off.

But the unit's permanent cadre said that Lakya Tara and a 70-man explosives team known as TEA (Tropas Especial del Atlantico) have shown their mettle in some sabotage missions against bridges and other targets inside Nicaragua. The TEA sappers were trained by CIA contracts agents.

TAXPAYERS' PURSUIT: Who watches your money after the government gets its hands on it?

That's the theme of today's game of Taxpayers' Pursuit. Try to answer the following questions, then check the answers at the end.

1. Who knows how much cash the government has on hand?

2. Does the government ever borrow money it doesn't need?

3. What is the amount of the government's outstanding loans and guarantees?

4. How much of this debt is current and how much delinquent?

5. What are the latest statistics on the Army's data processing system?

6. The Rural Electrification Administration borrows money, which it then lends to utilities. What are the interest rates?

Answers: 1. No one. 2. Yes, it often borrows money when it doesn't have to, thus incurring needless interest costs. 3. Between $800 billion and $900 billion. 4. The government simply doesn't know how much debt is current, how much is delinquent and how much is at a subsidized interest rate. 5. The Army doesn't know how much it spends on automatic data processing, what kind or how many computers it has, where these computers are and whether or not they should be replaced. 6. The REA borrows money at about 12 percent interest, then loans this money to utilities at 2 percent to 5 percent interest.

Lost love has her worried

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am just about to go crazy from worry and depression, because the man I have been living with for the past year has left me. I would do almost anything to get him back, but how can I convince him I love him? — H.A.

DEAR H.A.: Your desire in life is to be happy and secure — but you will never find lasting happiness as long as you keep living the way you have been. Suppose, for example, that somehow you could persuade your friend to return to you. Do you really think you would be secure and happy? I doubt it — because without marriage there is no commitment to each other, and in your heart you know that he is likely to leave you again.

I invite you to turn your life over to Jesus Christ and seek to follow Him in your daily life. The way you have been living is wrong in God's eyes — not just because you have been living with this person outside of marriage, but because you have left God out of your life altogether. But God loves you. He loves you so much that He does not want you to ruin your life. It may not be easy, but I pray you will have the courage to let Christ take over your life. God's way is always the best way, and you can discover that if you will ask Christ to come into your heart as your Lord and Savior. The Bible says, "You will fill me with joy in your presence, with eternal pleasures at your right hand" (Psalm 16:11). Then ask God to direct you every day. Let His Word, the Bible, be your guide. Find a church where Christ is preached, and ask God to lead you to Christians who can help you and be your friends.

Taxing promises

To the editor:

Walter Mondale wants to raise my taxes and the taxes of everyone else in this country with the promise of reducing the deficit.

His proposals could cost my family anywhere from $1,890 to $3,350 a year in new taxes. They could cost the taxpayers of Texas anywhere from $13.73 billion to $24.26 billion.

I might be willing to accept this additional economic burden on my family if I thought Mr. Mondale needed the money to reduce the deficit, but the sad truth is he needs the money first to pay for all his campaign promises.

In his quest for the Democratic nomination for president, Mr. Mondale made promises which independent sources, including the Wall Street Journal, have said will add anywhere from $69 billion to $176 billion in new federal spending....

If Mr. Mondale is serious about trying to reduce the deficit, then let him tell us how he intends to reduce federal spending. He can't reduce federal spending because he has already made campaign promises which will increase that spending.

I'm sorry, Mr. Mondale, but I was taught that you balance budgets by cutting expenses, not increasing them. I was also taught that if it isn't broken, you don't fix it and, to me, an economy where interest rates have been reduced by 40 percent, where inflation has been cut by more than half and where more than seven million Americans have been put back to work is something that is working right.

So please leave the economy alone, Mr. Mondale. You and Jimmy Carter tried to wreck it once and I don't see why we should let you do it again.

Area farmers may have a tough time deciding whether to participate in the 1985 cotton program, according to Howard County ASCS Director Tim Hall.

The program, announced Wednesday by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, calls for a 30 percent acreage reduction in planting for participation, a 5 percent increase from 1984. The 1984 program called for a 25 percent acreage reduction, said the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service director.

In addition to the increased acreage reduction, decreased 1985 program yields also might cause area farmers to pause before entering the program, Hall said.

"The initiative to go into the program will be dependent on the '85 program yield (based on production in the last five years)," Hall said. "A lot of farmers will wait and see what the program yields will be because the yields are going down."

"Maybe they'll do a lot of gut-checking before they do anything," Hall said.

He estimated yields will decrease by 20 percent from 1984 levels because of "the tremendous drought we've had."

"The merits of the '85 program may be somewhat dampened because of the reduction in program yields for '85," Hall said.

Following are other provisions of the 1985 cotton program.

- Of the 30 percent reduced acreage required for participation in the cotton program, 10 percent will be eligible for a diversion payment of 30 cents a pound, multiplied by the number of acres in the reduction program.
- No payment will be available for the remaining 20 percent of acreage in the planting reduction program.
- Cotton producers who participate in the program also will be eligible for loans and any deficiency payments applicable. The 1985 loan program will be announced after Oct. 15.
- The 1985 cotton target price will be 81 cents a pound.
- The feed grain program also was announced this week, Hall said. The 1985 program will require a 10 percent reduction, but none of the acreage will be eligible for a diversion payment.
- Advance payments will be possible for those who enroll in the 1985 cotton and feed grain programs. The advance will be based on one-half the expected crop deficiency payment of 19.8 cents a pound in 1985.
- Advances on the diversion payments will be 15 percent per pound of the expected payments.

JUST DANCIN' — Chasey, a little crowd charmer, breakdanced his way into winning third place in the elementary age division of the Howard County Fair's breakdance contest Wednesday.

Break dancin' Fair contest spins spectators

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

Moonwalks, back and knee spins and worms thrilled more than 500 Howard County Fair participants last night during the fair's first break dance and popping contest. At the show's climax, the Jacksons of Big Spring did their thing.

About 20 break dancers participated in the contest in three divisions: elementary, junior high and high school. Fair officials underestimated the size of the audience in the big top and found crowd control to be difficult as people tried to get a glimpse of the action. The officials interrupted the contest and moved it to the entertainment tent where spectators could easily view the competition.

Winning the elementary division was the team of Manual Cuellar and David Rodriguez. Phillip Ridge was second, and a little boy crowd charmer named Chasey came in third.

The older the participants got the more skilled and technical the dances became. In the junior high division, the team of Alonzo Parras and Robert Moran won first place. Denise Munoz Salazar and Rosie came in second and Tootie Parras was third.

The contest was more competitive in the high school division, making the judges' decision difficult to make. The participants thrilled the crowd with their skill in all forms of the dance, including back, knee and hand spins, footwork and floor dancing. In the end, the audience knew Jeff Ford would win the division with his brilliant style and character. Second place winners was the team of Juan Rodriguez and Jessie. Wesley Watson took third place.

To complete the evening, the Jacksons of Big Spring made a guest appearance impersonating Michael Jackson and his brothers. The group's lead dancer impersonated the superstar's dance movements to "Billie Jean."

Attorneys for the competing factions of Fiberflex Products Inc. stockholders met for about 1½ hours this morning in judge's chambers to discuss a contempt motion and other litigation in the struggle for control of the corporation.

A hearing on a contempt charge against corporate management — Tom Rutledge, Russ Rutledge and John Freeman — was cancelled. The hearing had been slated for 9 a.m. today.

The contempt motion, filed by former O.I.L. manager Charles "Chris" Christopher, claims that corporate management violated an order by District Judge Jim Gregg when managers refused to let Christopher's representative examine certain financial records.

"They agreed to supply us the details, what we originally asked," Christopher said.

However, Midland attorney Steve Kiser, who represents the Rutledges and Freeman, said the three "were not refusing to let them (Christopher's representatives) look at company records" included in Gregg's order.

"We've supplied them a great deal of financial records," said Fiberflex corporate attorney Bob Moore. "We have a dispute over what we consider proprietary information."

Gil Jones, Christopher's attorney, said he will amend the original suit against the Rutledges and Freeman to include the corporation. The three men, while stockholders, corporate officials and directors, have been sued individually in this particular case, according to Moore.

Also today, Gregg signed an agreed order that would extend until Jan. 15, 1985, a temporary restraining order forbidding the Rutledges and Freeman from receiving interim royalty payments from the company.

Christopher claims the Rutledges and Freeman have issued royalty checks to themselves of about $17,000 each, for an estimated total of about $50,000, he said.

"We have asked they voluntarily refund to the company royalties drawn out," Christopher said, a request that Moore denies the corporation or the three officers were asked.

A trial date in the pending litigation has not been set. However, because many of the 11-month voting proxies granted to the Rutledges — an important issue in much of the current litigation in 118th District Court — run out in early December, many of the litigated issues could become moot.

• Christopher also has filed for a partial summary judgment to cancel corporate management's right to vote 31,500 shares of stock previously owned by corporate patent attorney Guy Matthews.

Matthews had signed both an 11-month proxy and a 10-year voting rights agreement granting voting rights to the Rutledges and Freeman. He later tried to revoke the agreements when he sold part of the stock to Christopher in an out-of-court settlement in earlier litigation in the stock battle.

The summary judgment calls for Gregg to rely on a federal district court judge's decision last week in a Wyoming suit involving disputes over a contested "irrevocable" proxy granted by Wyoming Fiberflex shareholders to corporate management.

In the Wyoming suit, the federal judge found that the proxy granting voting rights to corporate management could be revoked in favor of a later agreement with Christopher.

Both Christopher and Jones said the Wyoming decision should weigh heavily.

Computer bytes budget Chamber tells official to find cheaper machine

LeRoy Tillery, director of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce, told board members Wednesday that a computer system for the chamber would cost $10,000 more than originally budgeted.

Tillery estimated a new system will cost $20,000. He said the new computer would streamline operations in the chamber and allow more productivity from staff members. The $20,000 estimate includes software, hardware and new furniture on which to place the system.

Board member Granville Hahn said, "Where is the extra $10,000 going to come from?" Other board members said the $20,000 figure sounded too high.

Board members agreed to allow Tillery to check out more computer systems and obtain bids for a system.

The first meeting of the new class of the Leadership Big Spring program met Tuesday. John Weeks of the convention and visitors bureau and a member of Leadership Big Spring said the first meeting included a tour of the Dorothy Garrett ranch house and the Potton House.

"A few of us were disappointed with the yard at the Potton House," Weeks said, explaining that the yard had not been watered all summer.

Weeks said Leadership participant John Bingham volunteered the services of a landscape architect who is working at Malone-Hogan Hospital. Leadership participants agreed to install a sprinkler system and to use an employee from the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission who will work 32 hours a week at the Potton House free of charge to the city.

Members of area garden clubs will plant flowers at the Potton House.

Greg Brooks of Blum's Jewelers was named a new member of the board, replacing Dick Helms, who resigned to accept the presidency of the Lion's Club.

Directors agreed to the appointment of Frank Hardesty as chairman of the governmental affairs committee.

Directors were reminded of the first Big Spring Symphony Association concert, Oct. 19, in the Municipal Auditorium. The Symphony Association will begin ticket sales and a fund drive next week.

Cattle injured in truck mishap

FORSAN — Some cattle were injured and several were let loose after a cattle truck jackknifed on Highway 87 Thursday morning around 6 a.m.

About 20 people were corralling the cows from nearby oilfields and farmlands after the accident in which more than 50 head of cattle, most of them calves, were freed and left to wander.

"The cows just went everywhere," said T.P. Morton, driver of the wrecked International truck. Morton said he was taking 70 head of cattle from Freer (in Duval County) to the Texas state line.

No injuries were reported in the accident, which disrupted traffic for a short time.

No other details were available from the sheriff's department this morning.

Stenholm unloads petitions

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Rep. Charles Stenholm and two dozen House colleagues convened Wednesday on the Capitol steps to greet a large dump truck carrying 3 million petition signatures demanding a constitutional amendment to balance the budget.

The event, co-sponsored by the National Tax Limitation Committee and Congressional Leaders United for a Balanced Budget, was designed to pressure the House Democratic leadership to bring the measure up for a vote before Congress adjourns in early October.

Stenholm, the Stamford Democrat who is a leader of the congressional group seeking the amendment, told an audience largely composed of staff members and reporters that the country is solidly behind the proposal.

"This is not a Republican issue and this is not a Democratic issue," Stenholm said. "This is a people's issue."

Stenholm last week blamed pressure from House Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill for apparently killing any hope this year of adopting the measure.

Rep. Larry Craig, an Idaho Republican who heads CLUBB, acknowledged Wednesday that the group has failed to meet a deadline to get 218 signatures on a petition that would discharge the bill from the House Judiciary Committee

Your Daily HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, SEPT., 21, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite a deceptive condition, some limitation from the past and a desire to be an introvert today, you have some excellent opportunities to advance by your own resourcefulness.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Put aside any trouble with kin or in business and concentrate on that new project you have in mind.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Ideas of intelligent persons and your own do not seem to coincide, so get the advice of an experienced person in business.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Listening to the ideas of an adroit associate is wise; then you can improve some plan you have made and get home conditions bettered.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) A pal and a regular ally are at odds with your ideas but a fellow worker is in agreement with them now.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You need some recreation since your ideas and those of kin do not help your present situation.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Distant affairs do not seem to go well and you are dissatisfied with own activities, so stay at home and be helpful to kin.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Private and financial affairs seem hard to solve, so get busy at your correspondence and get good results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be more practical and handle your finances yourself without the aid of a friend who is not sufficiently cognizant of your affairs.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Use mature judgment and gain benefits that mean a great deal to you. Don't let some unpleasant situation continue.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Not a good day to seek a new philosophy or be with buddies, but good for getting your affairs straightened out nicely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A good day to repay favors to good friends, so put practical affairs aside for awhile. Don't be so concerned with worldly affairs.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make sure you handle tasks in the world of business with much care and caution and steer clear of an overly glamorous person.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be able to solve problems very well since there is the ability to either be direct or philosophical in approaching them, depending on their nature. Teach not to get into the habit of worrying otherwise the fine potential here can be lessened a great deal.

Draper demonstrates flower arranging art

Kelly Draper of Faye's Flowers showed members of Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority several styles of flower arrangements at the Sept. 10 meeting. The meeting was in the party room at Barcelona Apartments.

Draper first made a small fresh flower arrangement from the same kind of flowers used in the 1984 Summer Olympics. This arrangement was the door prize won by Sharon Richardson.

Draper then demonstrated many ways to use vases with fresh, silk or dried flowers. He also shared tips on keeping flowers fresh for a longer period. One of those tips was to cut the flower stem at an angle with a sharp knife.

Baked potatoes with all the trimmings and Beirox are featured at the club's booth at the Howard County Fair this week, said Lisa Murphy, chairwoman of the Ways and Means committee.

Chapter hears program on recently passed resolutions

The Captain Elisha Mack Chapter of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution met in the home of Mrs. Lola Kilman, Saturday. Iris Hacker was a guest.

Mrs. Jack Alexander gave a program on the resolutions passed by the Continental Congress in April. She was presented with a past regent's pin for services beyond the call of duty during her term as regent.

Mrs. Curtis Driver was appointed chairman of the Jubilee Committee to plan for the celebration of the National DARS 100th birthday in 1986. Mrs. Alexander was appointed committee chairman of a program titled "Liberty Love Day", a Valentine's Day program

Coahoma chapter's year underway

The Coahoma Alpha Tau Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi is beginning its club year with a variety of activities.

Beginning Day took place Aug. 27 in the home of Cynthia Anderson. Each member brought a condiment for a salad bar supper. During the meeting, members were presented new yearbooks and drew for secret sisters.

The chapter held a bake sale Sept. 8 in downtown Coahoma.

Sept. 10 was the date of the second meeting for the chapter. Alicia Curry hosted the meeting in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church of Coahoma. Her husband, Danny Curry, pastor, presented a slide program on his visit to the Holy Lands.

Members are selling community cookbooks. The books have some recipes from members of the Coahoma community. To get a copy, contact any member of the chapter.

Dr. Donohue

Alcohol causes migraine-like headache

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My husband had to quit drinking because everytime he would have just one drink he would get a headache. Why would this happen all of a sudden? It was two years ago. He was not a heavy drinker, just a few beers on a weekend. — Mrs. E.K.

I can only venture a guess. Alcohol is an expander of arteries. Some headaches, migraines as an example, result from artery expansions. If the expansion is in brain arteries, then the spate of blood causes the pain. Perhaps that was what was happening to your husband.

I can't guess why it would appear at this stage in his life. We all change with age. What didn't bother us yesterday may bother us today. If I knew why it happens I would be on my way to Sweden to pick up a well-deserved Nobel Prize.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I was recently diagnosed as having duodenal ulcer. My doctor is retreating me with cimetidine and has given me certain food restrictions. One of them is coffee, which he wants me to avoid or limit pretty much. Does that also refer to decaffeinated coffee? — H.H.

Probably, but you had better ask him. I can tell you that some people think there may be some constituent in coffee other than caffeine that promotes stomach acid production. So they place all coffee off-limits. And you also may have to limit all caffeine-containing products — soft drinks, some medicines, etc. I am sending on the booklet "Peptic Ulcers: The Modern View and Treatment," which you requested. Other readers may order a copy by writing me care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1.00 for printing and handling.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I want to know. I have to know. No equivocations. Does coffee raise blood pressure? Yes or No. — F.P.

Yes and no. How's that? If a person is not used to caffeine he will get a transient blood pressure rise from it. As he gets used to the caffeine he won't get even the transient rise. There does not seem to be a long-term effect on blood pressure from drinking coffee. As you can see from this, I am a world-class equivocator.

ART SHOW — The annual Membership Show and Sale of the Big Spring Association opened Saturday night. The theme was Parisian Artists Review. Letha Lewis (left), chairman of the membership show, was the first place winner in the acrylic category. She also received Best of Show for her painting titled "Study in Light and Shadow." Carolyn Walker (right) of Colorado City was the judge for the event.

Membership show, sale display artists' talents

The Big Spring Art Association's annual Membership Show and Sale opened Saturday evening with an invitational reception at the YM-CA. "Parisian Artists Review" was the theme of the show.

Members and guests enjoyed refreshments from a sidewalk cafe setting complete with canopied area with tables for visiting. Becky Smiley, art instructor at Howard College, was the sidewalk artist for the evening and did pastel portraits for the guests.

Judging of the displayed art was done by Carolyn Walker of Colorado City. Best of show and first place winner in the acrylic category went to Letha Lewis for her painting titled "Study in Light and Shadow." Second place winner was "West Texas Sunset" by Linda Rupard. Chris Carter took third place.

In mixed media, first place went to Johnny Zitterkopf with "Covered Bridge." Roberta Ross won second with "Fall Beauty." Third place was a floral by Letha Lewis titled "It's Spring."

In oils, a painting of an Indian pueblo by Linda Rupard titled "Dwelling" won first place. Jean Money's "Antiquities", a still life, took second place. A landscaped painting near Llano by Madeen Blair was third place winner.

"The Chair" by Chris Carter won first place in graphics. Carter also won second place with "Cosden", and Doris Viergege won third place with "Capricorn."

Maydeen Blair took first place in watercolor with "In the Rockies." "Three's Company" by Roberta Ross won second. Two third place ribbons were awarded to Letha Lewis for her paintings "The Old Homeplace" and "Mom's Garden."

Zitterkopf won first place in sculpture with "Wild Turkey", a wood carving. "Big Cat" by Bob Traylor came in second, and "Pegasus" by Murphy Daniels won third place.

In pastels, Doris Viergege won first place for her "Nude." Roberta Ross won second place for "The Wary One." Hazel Dugan took two third place ribbons with "Bird of Paradise" and "Indian Girl."

Doris Viergege won all three places in photography with: "Poppies", first; "Reflections", second; and "Solitude", third.

Dear Abby

Introducing live-in companions

DEAR ABBY: Not only parents, but friends and relatives often have trouble introducing live-in companions. I have found the smoothest way is to say: "May I introduce John/Jane and his/her constant companion?"

No one has misunderstood yet. MAE S., ARCADIA, CALIF.

DEAR MAE: I don't think it's necessary to clarify the living arrangements of John and Jane when introducing them. But if you do, "constant companions" do not necessarily live together.

DEAR ABBY: I thought the letter from "Big-Busted in Birmingham" was a riot, so I brought it up at my arts and crafts group at Valley View Nursing Home to give the residents a laugh. ("Big-Busted's" fiancé wanted to raise chickens but was too cheap to buy an incubator, so he asked her if she'd mind hatching the eggs in her bra.)

Well, the laugh was on me when an 88-year-old resident told me that her grandmother, a large-busted woman, had brought some chicks to full term in her bra after the mother hen had died.

LINDA A. MURPHY,
ACTIVITY DIRECTOR,
VALLEY VIEW, N.H.

DEAR ABBY: I am sick of hearing women complain because they don't think they're getting enough child support. My husband was paying his ex-wife $270 a month child support (one child). Last month the court increased the amount to $330!

We are living in a cramped trailer and can barely make ends meet. I just had a baby and most of our baby's things are hand-me-downs from friends.

Meanwhile, my husband's ex-wife lives high on the hog in a $100,000 condo in Houston, drives a Mercedes and shops at Neiman's.

Don't you think the courts should investigate the lifestyles of the people involved before increasing the child support money?

MAD IN DALLAS

DEAR MAD: They should. And some do. But with inflation, the cost of living increases along with everything else.

Thursday Notes

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

While Thursday Notes has a definite outdoors look this week, the first item of business deals with an indoor sport — namely Howard College Hawk basketball.

When the board of trustees for HC hired Ed Sparling as assistant for Mike Mitchell they gained more than just an assistant. Sparling brings 23 years of experience to HC that includes his most previous head coaching job at Burlington College in Burlington, Iowa.

Sparling has worked as an athletic director at one of the Texas Department of Corrections' units the past two years, but has some Texas college background from working at UTEP.

Perhaps the most glittering credential is Sparling's 450-110 record.

There will be a Hunter Safety class held at Air Park Conference Room 1106 Sept. 24-26.

Classes will run from 7 to 10:30 p.m. Cost for the class is only $1. Instructor for the course is Ed Wright. Call 267-6622 after 5 p.m. for reservations.

Hunters planning to hunt on land owned or leased by the Corp of Engineers in the state of Texas are required to complete the course regardless of age.

Anyone interested in hunting in Colorado and has a birthdate after July 1, 1949 is required to have a Texas Hunter Safety card showing completion of the course also.

Saturday, Sept. 22 marks the 13th annual celebration of National Hunting and Fishing Day (NHFD).

Since its establishment in 1972, National Hunting and Fishing Day has helped spawn more than 2,500 separate NHFD activities at sportsmen's clubs, schools, shopping centers and wildlife management areas across the country.

And it has not been a good year for the Ducks (not the Taylor Ducks who are already 0-2), but Ducks in the literal sense of the word.

Mallard populations are down 16 percent from 1983. Pintails are down 10 percent. Much of the decrease is attributed to drought conditions in the ducks' Canadian breeding grounds.

A total of 88 anglers were entered in the recent Colorado City Bass Club's bass fishing tournament. The lucky winner was Larry Stevenson of Monahans who outfished the rest of the field by tipping the scales with a total stringer of 13 pounds and four ounces.

And it is also time for the Big Spring Youth Football League to begin its season.

Games to be played this Saturday match the Packers against the Vikings at 1 p.m.; Cowboys against the Dolphins at 2:30 p.m.; and Bulldogs against Buffaloes at 4 p.m. All games are played at Blankenship Field located next to Big Spring High School.

For further information about the league contact Leo Williams at 263-1084 or Dick Helms at 267-1649.

Final non-district game

Lineup changes for Monterey

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

For the second week in a row the Big Spring Steers will play host to a team in search of its first win, but the Steers don't expect to be as gracious in giving this time around.

Lubbock Monterey will bring an 0-2 mark into Friday's 8 p.m. kickoff at Memorial Stadium. Last week the Steers turned the ball over four times as another Lubbock school, Estacado, escaped with a 12-7 victory and Estacado's first win.

The third and final non-district game of the season could be a good match, however.

According to Big Spring head coach Quinn Eudy, "Monterey is a lot like we are right now." He pointed out that Monterey, like the Steers, can play tough defense, but both team's offenses are still trying to find themselves. Big Spring is yielding an average of 186 yards per game. Monterey is giving ground at the rate of 273, but the Plainsmen have been downright stingy in letting other teams in the endzone.

Midland beat Monterey 10-7 in the season opener with a field goal and an interception return. Plainview needed a safety and punt return for a score to shutout the team from 3-5A, 9-0 last week.

"They have good skill people, but they've been struggling on offense, maybe even more than we have," said Eudy. The Plainsmen have already shown 17 different sets in two games, never settling on a basic plan of attack. And while such indecision hurts Monterey it is also working a burden on the Steers defense in preparations for the contest. Monterey divides its offense almost equally between the run (55 percent) and pass (45 percent). Big Spring is averaging 171 yards a game and Monterey is picking up 118 yards a contest.

Plainsmen to watch include quarterback-middle linebacker David Coleman (180), fullback Greg Rowe (190) and quick according to Eudy, splitend Carey Wallace (155 with good hands), tackle Mike Cushman (210 and above average said the coach), and tightend John enter (205).

Defensively Monterey, "brings people at you," said Eudy. He noted though that his offensive line, which includes a pair of juniors and sophomores, is improving. "We looked much better against Estacado than in winning against Snyder. We executed better, but we broke down in pressure situations."

The line should be bolstered by the return of sophomore left guard Jay Burcham. Burcham (180) sat out last week's loss with an injured hand. It's a good thing Burcham returned when he did. His replacement, Dwight Turner, has been weakened by a virus that has hit several players and caused them to miss parts of practice.

Fullback-cornerback Jay Pirkle, flanker Billy Russell and two way tackle Doug Walker also suffered from the "bug," but are expected to play — to what extent remains to be seen.

Eudy said that Pirkle will definitely play on defense, but will see only limited offensive time. To compensate for the senior's absence in the backfield Eudy said wide receiver Tommy Gartman will be moved to tailback and tailback Colin Carroll (the team's leading rusher) will move to fullback. Gartman averaged four yards a carry against Estacado and is a "slashing type runner," according to Eudy. "Jimmy Rodgers (160, jr.) and Terry Spears (160, jr.) both run well also," and may be called on to carry more of the load this time around said Eudy. Michael Dopoto, a 150-pound senior, will get his first starting nod when he lines up at wide receiver.

Another change will come on the punt return team, an area Eudy said broke down in the Estacado game. The prime negative factor was the failure of any return man to field a kick. On more than two occasions that failure resulted in Big Spring starting drives from inside its own 10-yard line.

The meeting with Monterey will mark only the second time Big Spring has tangled with the Plainsmen. Monterey leads the series 1-0 with an 11-7 victory in 1974.

Area Game of the Week

Forsan out to halt losing skid

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

ROBERT LEE — The sixth time might be the charm for Jan East and his Forsan Buffaloes when they travel to Robert Lee to take on the always tough Steers in a Class A non-district war set to kickoff at 8 p.m.

East is entering his sixth season as head coach at Forsan and has the drab distinction of losing to Robert Lee four of five times. The Steers, members of District 8-A, have been pretty hard on Forsan football the past half decade and East is hoping the skid will be stopped Friday night.

So dominant have the Steers been over the Buffaloes of District 7-A that Robert Lee has outscored Forsan 111-34 since East has been at the helm, including shutouts in '79 and '81. Forsan managed a 7-7 tie in '82.

East has reason for optimism this contest since he has one of the area's top running backs in Mitch Hays and a defense with eight returning starters that has allowed a mere touchdown in wins over

Bronte and Klondike. The Buffalo defense is allowing only 138 total yards per contest. Last week their secondary picked off four Klondike passes. "The experience is starting to pay off for our defense," said East. "The kids have decided they can win and their attitudes are great."

Second year Robert Lee coach Nelson Coulter has a good foundation to work with this season, returning six offensive and five defensive starters form a squad that finished 6-2-2 last season. The Steers fell to AA Big Lake 20-7 in the first game and downed Loraine 19-7 last week, a game which Coulter said his team played only one half of football.

"We played one good half of football and scored 19 points," said Coulter. "We lost our concentration in the second half. Talent wise Forsan is in between Big Lake and Loraine. They have a good quarterback (Todd East) and a speedy running back in Hays (Mitch)."

In fact the contest just might boil down to a rushing battle between Hays and Robert Lee's All-West Texas runner Greg Grim, a 5-10, 155-pound senior. After being held to six yards versus Big Lake he came back for 123 yards on 14 carries versus Loraine. East thinks Robert Lee will go to its star runner even more this week.

"I think they will try to establish their running game with Grim and then mix it up," said East. "Their quarterback Kirby Rasco is a good passer and runner. He puts a lot of pressure on the defense. This is by far will be the best team we've faced this season." Rasco has completed 12 of 22 passes for 130 yards and two touchdowns.

Coach East can counter with Hays in his backfield. The 6-2, 185-pound senior is coming off a broken jaw and has been worked slowly back into the Buffalo offense. In limited duty he has carried 17 times for 292 yards, prompting East to say he will get the ball to Hays more. "Mitch is just about over the jaw. He hasn't had any bad reactions. Last week he had an outstanding game (180 yards in nine carries, four TD's). This week we might give it to him

LOOKING FOR NUMBER THREE — The Forsan Buffaloes will be gunning for their third consecutive win of the season as they battle with Robert Lee Friday at 8 p.m. This year's herd of Buffaloes is made up of, front, left to right, Tony Miranda, Marvin Kendrick, Craig Creel, Brant Nichols, Bobby Headrick, Byron McElreath. 20-25 times." As for the losing drought, East expects it to end. "I think we can break the jinx this season. It depends on how the kids work and get prepared for the game. If we play good defense we will be in it. This game will show how much character we have." Hopefully that character is enough to stop Robert Lee's dominance.

Unbeatens place marks on line in area matches

By BILLY NABOURS
and STEVE BELVIN

As three of only four unbeatens in the Howard County Area, Colorado City and Borden County will try and keep the slate perfect while Stanton tries to keep an almost spotless mark clean when the schoolboy football season enters its third week of the season this Friday.

COLORADO CITY is at DENVER CITY for an 8 p.m. kickoff where the Wolves will be trying to capture their third win of the season.

Denver City enters the contest with an 0-1-1 record, resulting from a 14-14 tie with Morton and a 7-0 loss to Shallowater. The most impressive thing about this Mustang team is their defense, according to Colorado City coach Tom Ramsey. "They are some big boys and they play pretty good defense," said Ramsey. "They didn't give up many points to two good teams."

Ramsey has a pretty good defense of his own as his Wolves have allowed 12 points this season, that coming in a 41-12 win over Seminole last week. The Wolves defense is allowing opponents 120 yards per game on the ground.

While the Wolves defense was sturdy last week, their offense was awesome, racking up over 500 yards. Their passing game clicked on 18 of 21 attempts for well over 300 yards. "Last week we caught them about the same as last week," said Ramsey.

The C-City mentor also stated that his team might employ the one back offense if junior running back Sammy Rivera has not recovered from a stretched achilles tendon. "It's just a day by day thing with Sammy," said Ramsey concerning the injury.

COAHOMA is at TAHOKA and coach Bruce Mitchell's Bulldogs are still searching for their first win of the season, after last week's 14-14 tie with Stanton.

Tahoka, 0-2, will have back the services of quarterback Darren Norwood, who missed the first two games with injuries. Norwood replaces 182-pound running back Johnny Morren who filled in at quarterback. This might pose a problem for the Bulldogs because "Morren is one of the best backs we'll face," said Mitchell.

The Bulldogs will try to get their passing game going. Last week it began to click as quarterback John Swinney hooked up with receivers Brian Calaway and Gary Vaughn. On the other hand, the running game was dismal, collecting 34 yards.

CRANE is at STANTON beginning at 8 p.m. where coach Dale Ruth's Buffaloes will be trying for their second win of the season.

The 'Buffs are coming off a 14-14 deadlock with Coahoma, a game in which Ruth said his troops showed a lot of character as they battled back in the waning minutes for the tie.

"Last week was a good learning experience for us. First it taught us must learn to pick up stunts better, and second it taught us never give up, because we can come back," said Ruth.

Crane comes into the contest with an 0-2 record. The Golden Cranes have yet to score a point, losing to Ft. Stockton 34-0 and Big Lake 6-0. Lack of offense on the part of Crane does not put Ruth's mind at ease. "They'll be tough, they still have a big line but they're not as strong as last year because they don't have the people in the backfield. They are inexperienced at the quarterback position."

Ruth will have a new look in his backfield this week by switching tailback Danny Koonce to fullback and moving wing back John Zugg to tailback. "We tried the combination out a little and it worked out well. We'll see how it goes this week."

Stanton will be without the services of split end Mark Gonzales who will miss two to three weeks. See perfect, pg. 2B

Perfect

... continued from 1B with a broken finger. WELLMAN is at BORDEN COUNTY at 7:30 p.m. where the Coyotes (2-0) are itching for the chance to avenge last year's loss against Wellman — a game where Wellman jumped to a 32-0 halftime lead.

This year could be the Coyotes' turn. BC owns wins over two tough foes in Dawson and Threeway. Wellman is not as strong and only has eight players — a liability even by six man standards.

Wellman runs a variety of offensive sets with a lot of motion and stunts most of the time from a 2-4 defense.

KLONDIKE is at SANDS where each team will be trying to push its record to 2-1 starting at 8 p.m.

Coach Jimmy Thomas' Klondike Cougars will be trying to rebound from a 25-6 loss to Forsan while Sands romped over Rochelle 40-0.

After a dismal showing versus Forsan the Cougars went back to the fundamentals this week, despite having players out with a cold bug. "We went back to some of the basic things we started teaching in two-a-days. We've had a lot of sickness this week and that gets to be a problem when you have only 18 players," said Thomas.

Thomas expects all his players to be well enough to play Friday, however. The Cougars will also have a new split end in the line up Friday night. Brian Kirkland will take over for Eddie Dickson, who transferred to another school.

Klondike will be seeking more ofensive punch, especially from its passing attack. The Cougars threw four interceptions last week. Running back Tim Cope was the offensive threat rushing for 109 yards in 19 carries. "We need to execute, it's as simple as that," said Thomas. "We need our running game to compliment our passing game. Our passing game just hasn't been what I wanted it to be."

Sands, under the direction of Jim White, displayed a powerful rushing attack last week rolling up over 250 yards. Arnold Velasco toted the pigskin 17 times for 111 yards. Quarterback Johnny Willis was perfect connecting on three of three passes for 57 passes.

White said the contest with Klondike will be a little tougher. "Klondike will be the best team we've faced so far," he said.

White said his main concern when Klondike has the ball is the Cougars' speed.

Jerry Long is expected to be back in the secondary for Sands after missing last week's game with a chin injury.

GARDEN CITY travels to GRANDFALLS full of confidence for an 8 p.m. game.

Confident because of a stellar defensive effort that battled tough Bronte 0-0 last week.

That defense will be called on again since Grandfalls offers up a ton of talent in the form of seven seniors starting on the offensive unit.

Head coach Tony Stricklin said, "Grandfalls is a wishbone oriented team, but they can air the ball out when they have to." Webb Rowe at fullback and Tim Norris at one halfback slot are the two players around which Grandfalls centers its attack. Grandfalls is 1-1.

Defensively, Aaron Brandenburg at noseguard and Norris at a linebacker, are the two players that bear the most watching from Stricklin's point of view. Norris totalled 13 tackles in Grandfalls' most recent game.

For the Bearkats (0-1-1) Stricklin said, "We're pretty set on our offensive line now. Things came together for us against Bronte." He noted his team moved down to the five on a couple of occasions only to come up empty. That was a considerable change from the season's first game with Miles when the Bearkats managed only four first downs.

David Montgomery, a junior, will start at quarterback after stepping in for an injured Bryan

Thompson last week. Thompson will return to the lineup at wide receiver and in the secondary. His handling of the wide receiver spot is a big plus since the tentative starter prior to the season, Doug Jost, is lost for the season after undergoing knee surgery last week.

"Doug would have helped us a lot and played well here the last two years," said Stricklin.

CHRISTOVAL is at GRADY for a 7:30 p.m. tilt and Wildcat boss Currie McWilliams said his team will have its hands full taking care of Chrisoval's speed. "They've got a couple of running backs that can go 4.6 in the 40. They're definitely faster than anyone we've played (Loop and Dawson) so far and I really think they're faster than Highland (two time state champ)."

McWilliams said the fact that head coach Buddy Luce is heading the team again can only mean that the Cougars will extra tough. Luce resigned prior to the season's start amidst personal conflicts at the school and sat out Christoval's first loss of the year against Highland.

THUNDERING HERD — The Sands Mustangs will try for their second straight win when they go up against Klondike Friday night in Ackery.

Sands won for the first time last week, beating Rochelle 40-0 while Klondike suffered its first loss, 25-6 against Forsan.

Chitsey honored by AP

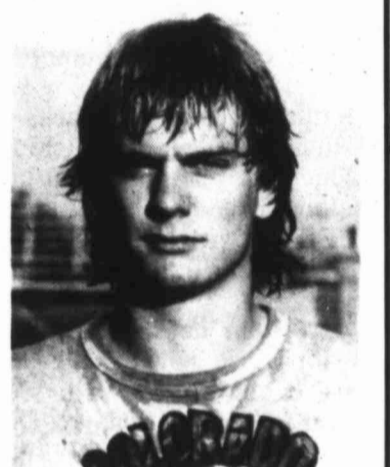

By The Associated Press The Class A Wink Wildcats, ranked No. 2 in the state, have a 27-2 record spanning three seasons with senior quarterback Travis Price leading the team.

His performance last week is an example of how he has led the Wildcats to the state quarter-finals and semifinals the past two seasons.

In last week's 46-13 victory over Eunice, N.M., Price gained 153 of the Wildcats' 177 rushing yards, with scoring runs of 17, 15, 6 and 47 yards. He completed 5 of 11 passes for 42 yards and a 23-yard touchdown pass.

Price earns mention in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Honor Roll, along with Colorado City quarterback Doug Chitsey who contributed to five touchdowns in a 41-12 rout of Seminole.

Chitsey started the season with one of the worst games of his career, but rebounded last week by completing 18 of 22 passes for 336 yards, including touchdown passes of 66, 44 and 35 yards. He also ran 1 and 2 yards for scores.

Chitsey, who passed for 1,616 yards last season, completed only 2 of 14 passes for 23 yards in a 10-0 victory over Slaton in the season opener.

Off the wall: Tax breaks

LONDON (AP) — Rose Stevenson decided there was only one way to reduce her property taxes — she reduced her house.

The 68-year-old widow employed two teen-agers to demolish the top two stories of her 12-room Victorian house in Croydon, a sedate south London suburb.

Welding sledgehammers, they knocked off the roof and top floor before being stopped by police summoned by neighbors dismayed at the crashing tiles and bricks.

"Our officers couldn't believe their eyes," David Mahony, a planning officer of Croydon Council, said Thursday. "The road is a prime example of Croydon's Victorian past and we have told Mrs. Stevenson to reinstate the property."

Taxes are the equivalent of $1,536 a year. "Everything is getting more expensive, so I thought I will reduce my house by two-thirds and my rates (taxes) will go down by two-thirds," Mrs. Stevenson said.
