The heaviest showers were located in an area bounded by Monahans, Andrews, Big Spring and Crane. Highs will be in the 60s, and lows tonight will be in the upper 40s. Winds will be from the northeast and east at 10 to 20 miles an hour. Tonight will remain cloudy and cold. A "warming trend" won't appear until Monday.

Rain lingers; cold front hits

Isidore retreats to E. Coast

Staff and wire reports
Rain began falling on Big Spring early today as the city was included in the heaviest portion of a 240-mile area of concentrated showers in West Texas.

Rain remains in the forecast throughout the weekend, although expected precipitation caused by Tropical Storm Isidore will not materialize because the storm reversed direction and headed back toward the Atlantic coast, according to the National Weather Service.

The U.S.-Big Spring Field Station reported .03 of an inch of rain for the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today, but more rain fell since the measurements were taken.

Coupled with the last two days' rainfall, the total precipitation for the month is 2.89 inches, the most this year for a single month. The yearly total is now 6.82, still less than half the average annual rainfall for this date of 15.03 inches, according to field station statistics.

Big Spring resident "Red" Thomas of 107 E. 13th said he received only a trace of rain Thursday night at his gauge.

"I had more rain on my windshield than I had in my rain gauge," said Thomas. "It started to come down after I measured it this morning."

Knott received about three-tenths of an inch today, according to resident Paul Hopper.

In Florida, Tropical storm Isidore swept across the state with 50-mph winds, reversed direction today and headed back toward the Atlantic coast, where gale force winds and heavy rains flooded roads and eroded beaches a day earlier.

One man was electrocuted late Thursday by a downed power line in Oviedo, an Orlando suburb in Seminole County, officials said. Another man in Orlando was injured trying to land his plane in high winds.

Before dawn, Isidore had drifted across the state toward the Gulf of Mexico, but its northwesterly movement stopped, forecaster Bob Case said today from the National Hurricane Center.

At 9 a.m., Isidore's broad center was just south of Gainesville at latitude 29.5 north and longitude 82.3 west. It was expected to drift to the northeast at 10 to 15 mph today and Saturday, Case said.

Isidore's new direction probably would put it back over the Atlantic by Saturday morning, forecasters said.

Before the meandering storm started turning east, it threatened Florida's west coast with high winds and rain, prompting gale warnings.

The Sunshine Skyway bridge connecting Tampa and St. Petersburg was shut for about five hours after midnight because of wind gusts estimated at 65 mph. The span was reopened by sunrise as the storm backed toward the east.

In St. Augustine, gusts were clocked at 70 mph, the St. Johns Civil Defense reported.

Firefighters in the Orlando area reported responding to more than 50 storm-related calls Thursday night, most of them for downed power lines or trees.

SHATTERED — A pickup truck, driven by a 35-year-old Big Spring man, rammed the front doors of the Big Spring Police Department on Fourth Street and shattered the glass doors. The man was immediately arrested on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and felony criminal mischief.

Was it a case of a mistaken drive-in window?

"He might have been mad at us, but I don't know," said Sgt. Ken Hallmark. Thursday afternoon a Big Spring man drove his four-door pickup truck "straight through" the front plateglass doors at the Big Spring Police Department.

"In our opinion, it was deliberate," Hallmark said.

Carlos Flores, 35, of 1709 Meadow was arrested immediately on suspicion of driving while intoxicated and felony criminal mischief after the incident about 2:30 p.m.

"It sounded like a bomb going off, and I've heard some — glass shattering all over the place. That's the first thing that hit my mind," Hallmark said.

"Everybody jumped up to see what it was and saw this guy sitting in our doorway," he said.

Although damage amounted to about $2,400 to two sets of aluminum and glass doors, the criminal mischief charges against Flores were dropped this morning, said the police sergeant. An angry

Abilene cuts back water to businesses

ABILENE (AP) — Commercial and industrial users of water must cut back their monthly consumption of water by 10 percent because of an extended drought, the city council has ruled.

Abilene city council members voted Thursday to order that commercial and industrial water users must cut water consumption except for drinking and restrooms by 10 percent, based on their average usage over the last seventh months. But they can use more water if they are willing to pay additional fees.

The action came despite the heaviest rain this week in the past three years. Rainfall amounted to 2.60 inches of rain between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Runoff into Lake Fort Phantom Hill, the city's primary water source, accounted for a rise of two-tenths of a foot, authorities said. But the lake remained 20 feet below the spillway.

Commercial and industrial water users can use more than their allotted water, but they face the payment of additional fees and possible disconnection of their water. There will be a $200 reconnect fee for anyone who is disconnected for violating the water conservation ordinance.

The fees are $5 per 1,000 gallons of water for the first 5,000 gallons used over the allotted amount, $10 per 1,000 gallons of water for the next 5,000 gallons and $20 per 1,000 gallons for higher usage.

Car washes that do not have recycling systems must cut usage by 30 percent. Earlier car washes without water wells or recycling system were required to close on Sunday and Monday.

A ban on lawn watering will remain in effect for all customers, officials said.

The allotment for commercial and industrial users applies to customers who use more than 10,000 gallons per month.

The minimum fine for violating the water conservation ordinance is $75.

FDR's New Deal left a good deal in Scenic Mountain's state park

Big Spring State Park

'Future generations will thank you for the enduring work being done on Scenic Mountain.'

U.S. Rep. George Mahon Anniversary speech to CCC Co. 1857
July 27, 1935

Three new generations have enjoyed Big Spring's Scenic Mountain since the Civilian Conservation Corps completed a state park in 1936.

But those Dust Bowl doughboys, civilian soil soldiers enlisted by the Army in a land conservation campaign, have gone unthanked. No memorial on Scenic Mountain credits the park to the CCC.

Only the park itself, stately and graceful, stands as a testament to President Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal. The best way to thank the boys of CCC Co. 1857 and the men of Co. 3811 is to strike out on foot and explore what they made of the mountain.

Until 1969, when the State Parks Board poured $150,000 onto the mountain, the CCC's work was neglected by Austin and left to wither. The state remodeled all buildings except the pavilion, resurfaced the road, patched a section of the Roman wall and added several picnic sites and a prairie dog town. Otherwise, Scenic Mountain retains its CCC signature.

• 1. The parking lot inside the entrance was the site of the CCC tent camp, where the troops lived until their Army camp was built. Nothing remains of the tent camp, except the cleared area around the parking lot.

• 2. The site of Camp SP-45-T is clearly marked by walking paths, crumbling foundations and broken dishes and glass. Housing 250 troops and several Army officers and National Park Service officials, the camp occupied a large tract. Note: The rock sign on the camp's eastern end reads CCC Co. 3811, the unit that replaced Co. 1857.

• 5. Midway along the nature trail are the remains of a pump house used to lift water to the peak's summit.

Cold front sweeps area

By The Associated Press
A weak cold front moved southward into Texas early today, bringing with it another round of cloudy skies, cooler temperatures and rainfall.

The front was located just before dawn along a line from the northeast corner of the state to near Waco to San Angelo, southwestward into the Trans Pecos region.

Scattered light rain was reported early today over the northwestern third of Texas. Most of the state had cloudy skies with the only clear skies reported in extreme South Texas and along the upper Texas coast.

Winds were northerly at 10-15 mph over northern sections of the state and east to northeast at 5-10 mph in South Texas.

Early morning temperatures were in the 40s and 50s behind the front and in the 60s and low to middle 70s south of the front. Extremes ranged from 42 at Amarillo to 77 at Brownsville.

Other early morning temperature readings around the state included 53 at Wichita Falls, 58 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 60 at Longview, 64 at Waco, 69 at San Antonio, 76 at Corpus Christi, 55 at San Angelo, 47 at Lubbock, 52 at Midland and 67 at El Paso.

Forecasts called for continued cloudy skies and cool temperatures and scattered rain over the northern two-thirds of Texas today. It was to be mostly cloudy over the south with mild temperatures. Highs were to be mostly in the 70s and 80s except in North Texas where readings were to be mostly in the 60s.

Tropical storm Isidore roared across Florida early today, heading for the Gulf of Mexico where forecasters feared it could gather strength and become the third hurricane of the Atlantic season.

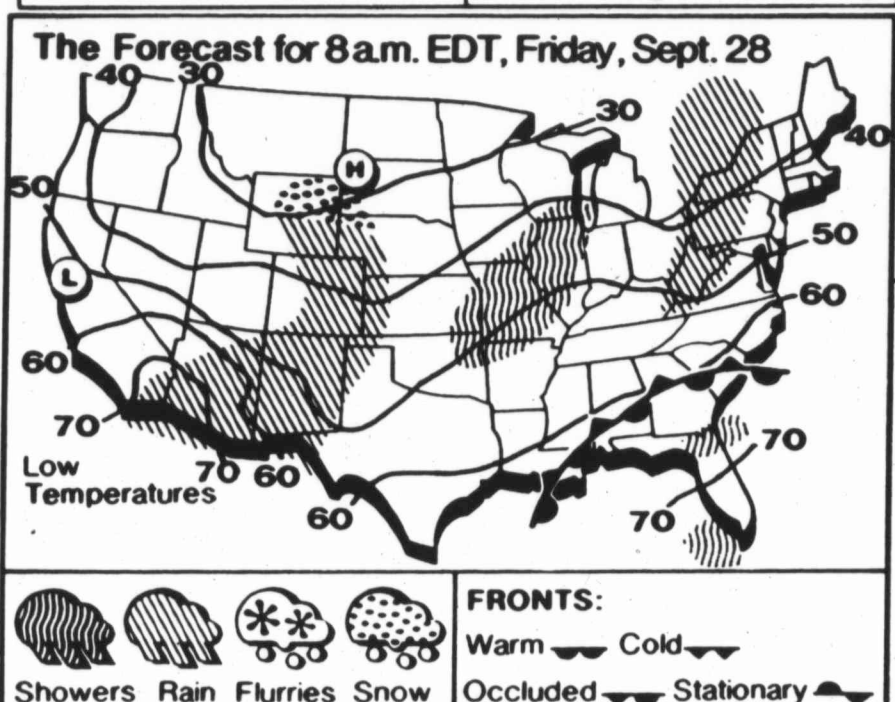

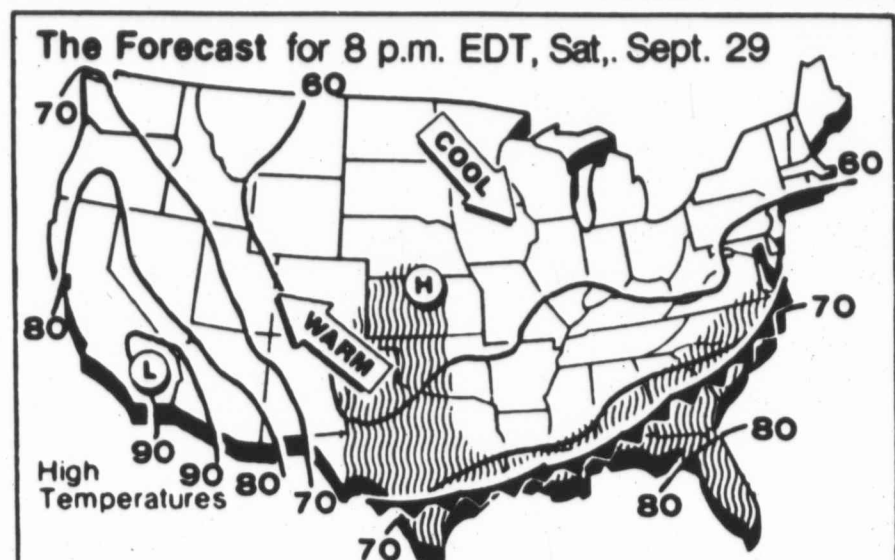

With highest sustained winds estimated to be 45 mph, the gale force winds from Isidore extended out 100 miles from the center, the National Weather Service said.

Gale warnings were issued for Florida's west coast, and remained in effect on the east coast, where the storm washed out roads and eroded beaches Thursday after moving in from the Atlantic Ocean.

The weather service said the storm could bring 3 to 5 inches of rain to central and northern Florida and southeast Georgia today.

The two hurricanes of the season so far were Diana and Hortense. Hortense remained a tropical storm about 300 miles east of Bermuda at midnight Thursday.

West Texas - Cloudy with scattered rain most sections tonight and Saturday. Colder south tonight. A little cooler far west Saturday. Lows tonight near 40 Panhandle to near 60 extreme south. Highs Saturday upper 40s Panhandle to upper 70s Big Bend valleys.

Hughes was also arrested on suspicion of burglary and public intoxication after the incident that was reported at about 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

Janet Conaway, police dispatcher, turned in the criminal mischief report after the incident, Hallmark said.

Hallmark said Flores apparently drove south on Nolan street past City Hall, turned left onto Third, turned his yellow crewcab truck 90 degrees in the middle of the street and "drove straight into the police department front door."

He said Barber Glass and Mirror began repairs on the entryway last night and could be finished by Monday.

Local pupils receive honors

Two Big Spring High School students have been named Commended Students in the 1985 Merit Program.

The two students, Larry Reese and the late Richard Thompson, placed in the top 5 percent of the more than 1 million participants in the annual competition, according to Principal W.A. McQueary.

Thompson died earlier this year by drowning.

Reese and Thompson's family will receive Letters of Commendation in honor of outstanding promise for future academic success.

The participants entered the Merit Program by taking a standardized test, the PSAT, in the fall of 1983, when most were juniors. Qualifying test scores of the 35,000 Commended Students were high, but their test scores were slightly lower than the level required for Semi-finalist standing.

Students who attain finalist status in the academic competition are eligible to apply for 5,500 National Merit Scholarships to be awarded in 1985.

Symphony guild sets meeting

The Big Spring Symphony Guild meeting Sunday at 3 p.m. is for anyone interested in the symphony, Susan Conrace, guild president, said.

The meeting will be held in the Big Spring Country Club. Susie

Davis, past president of the Odessa symphony guild, will talk about the purpose of a guild.

The group will also discuss their upcoming tour of homes. The guild also sponsors receptions after each local concert.

Group applies for state grant

STANTON — West Texas Opportunities Inc. has applied to the Department of Health and Human Services for a $217,914 grant to continue operation of its Head Start Program in Stanton, McCamey and Lamesa.

The grant would partially fund operation of the year-round, half-day program for 1985. West Texas Opportunities would have to match the grant with $54,480 in local funding.

According to a program summary from West Texas Opportunities, the program would serve 120 four-year-olds in the three centers. Twenty children would be enrolled in the Stanton and McCamey schools; 80 would be admitted to the Lamesa school.

Ninety percent of the children accepted in the program will be from families whose income falls below the poverty level. Most students — 75 percent — will come from Mexican-American families; 15 percent will be from black families and 10 percent from white families, according to the program summary.

The Head Start Program tries to improve student's language skills, better adjust the child to society, increase parental understanding of the values of education, treat minor medical and dental problems and encourage more mature group participation, according to the grant application summary.

80 killed in explosion

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan — An explosion at a Pakistan border town killed at least 80 people and injured scores of others, according to government officials who said they were trying to determine if the blast was from an Afghan bombing raid.

"Eighty bodies have been recovered so far," government spokesman Younis M. Sethi said today.

The explosion occurred Thursday afternoon at Terimangal, a town in North-West Frontier province about eight miles from the Afghanistan-Pakistan border. It has been the scene of 10 bombing raids by Afghan aircraft since mid-August that claimed 54 lives, most of them Afghan refugees.

Amnesty decree frees 804

SEOUL, South Korea — The Justice Ministry said today that 804 prisoners will be paroled next week and 177 life-term prisoners will have their sentences reduced to 20 years under an amnesty decree.

Justice Minister Pae Myung-in said no political prisoners are covered by the amnesty, declared in conjunction with the upcoming National Foundation Day holiday on Oct. 3.

22 get death sentence

ISTANBUL, Turkey — A martial-law court reportedly has sentenced 22 leftist terrorists to death for the murders of 87 people, including five Americans.

The semi-official Anatolia news agency said the defendants, sentenced Thursday, all were members of the Marxist-Leninist Armed Propaganda Squad. The killings occurred before the military took power in Turkey in September 1980.

China explores Antarctic

PEKING — China's first independent Antarctic expedition, scheduled to start Nov. 20, will include more than 100 scientists who plan to set up a summer research station, the China Daily reported today.

The official English-language newspaper said China began research on the Antarctic in 1980 and has sent 32 researchers to the region as members of foreign expeditions.

Eight wounded in attack

TEL AVIV, Israel — Eight people in a Galilee village home were wounded in a grenade attack that stemmed from a squabble among Israeli Arab children, according to Israel television.

The attack occurred Thursday in the village of Rama after a quarrel between Druse and Christian children. An unidentified assailant threw a grenade at the home of a Christian family and wounded seven adults and a child, the report said.

Police reinforcements were rushed to Rama to restore calm and six suspects were detained, the television said.

The village has a long history of feuding between its Christian residents and the Druse, whose sect is an offshoot of Islam.

10 killed in train wreck

LISBON, Portugal — Three freight trains collided in Angola, killing 10 people and injuring seven, the African country's official news agency reports.

The Angop agency's report quoted the director-general of the Benguela Railroad as saying the crash last Saturday was caused by the excessive speed of one of the three trains.

The Portuguese-language report, monitored in Lisbon, said the crash destroyed two locomotives and two carriages.

Astronomers spot comet

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Halley's Comet, a visitor every 76 years, has been spotted again by two California astronomers at Kitt Peak National Observatory as it approaches its 1986 swing through the solar system, a spokesman says.

Carl Posey of the National Optical Astronomy Observatories in Tucson said Thursday that Hyron Spinrad and Stanislav Djorgovski, both of the University of California at Berkeley, described the comet as active and brighter than expected.

They said the comet's icy nucleus is surrounded by a bright, nebulous veil, or coma, which indicates that its activity already has begun, Posey said.

Comets, sometimes called "dirty snowballs," are believed to be made up of ice and dust.

MEETING OF THE MINDS — Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko starts his talk with President Ronald Reagan Friday in the Oval Office of the White House. The two will have lunch after the morning meeting.

Reagan rhetoric

U.S. 'means no harm' Reagan tells Gromyko

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, who has made friends of many world leaders, was trying his persuasive powers today on a skeptical Andrei A. Gromyko, the Soviet foreign minister, to convince him the United States "means no harm" and wants improved relations with Moscow.

Gromyko, who at age 75 has been foreign minister for 27 years and has met with nearly every American president since World War II, is regarded here as a hard-nosed diplomat who is the chief architect of the Soviet Union's hard-line stance toward Washington.

As for Reagan, he is 73, it is his first meeting as president with a senior Kremlin official and comes just 39 days before the presidential election. Aides say he read a number of books about the Soviet Union to prepare for the meeting and had briefings from Henry Kissinger and Richard Nixon, among others.

Reagan and Gromyko were scheduled to meet for two hours in the White House Oval Office, to be followed by a 90-minute lunch in the White House State Dining Room — a total of three and one-half hours.

There was to be no arrival ceremony and no departure statements, although that could change.

Reagan was to be accompanied in the meetings by Secretary of State George P. Shultz and National Security Adviser Robert C. McFarlane. Shultz met for three hours with Gromyko in New York on Wednesday.

Photographers were being given an opportunity to photograph the president with Gromyko in a number of different White House settings, evidence that the president's advisers were aware of the potential political gain to be derived from the meeting.

There was no question Reagan and his advisers were anxious for a good result that will help to win over voters who have been concerned about Reagan's past harsh anti-Soviet rhetoric. Reagan said one purpose of the meeting was to show the Soviets the United States "means no harm."

Officials cautioned against expecting any breakthroughs in relations, and said the meeting would be a success if it paved the way for improved communications with the Soviet leadership.

Larry Speakes, the White House spokesman, said the United States wasn't expecting "immediate results." He said Reagan would propose some ideas and it would take Moscow a while to react.

But officials hoped the meeting would help set the stage for a resumption of arms control talks next year, although it was too soon to expect a firm decision to be made.

The Democratic presidential hopeful, Walter F. Mondale, had some encouraging words about the meeting following his own 90-minute meeting with Gromyko in New York on Thursday.

Mondale said Gromyko spent most of his time talking about arms control, and that Mondale came away with the impression that there was an opportunity for "significant progress" in Friday's meeting.

But Mondale acknowledged it was an impression only. "No assurances, no guarantees, nothing of that kind was given me."

He said he urged Gromyko to go into the meeting with Reagan with a "positive attitude."

Besides arms control, other subjects on the agenda included a discussion of human rights and regional problems in the Middle East, Central America and Southeast Asia.

Rate continues drop

NEW YORK (AP) — The prime lending rate offered by America's biggest commercial banks may continue to fall for the rest of the year, after a slight decline to 12.75 percent, analysts said.

Major banks nationwide cut the prime rate a quarter of a point from the 13 percent level Thursday.

Kathleen Cooper, economist with Security Pacific National Bank in Los Angeles, said there is "a good chance" the prime rate may drop soon to 12.5 percent or slightly lower. But, she added, "next year will be on the rise again."

William Welsh, bank analyst with the Wall Street firm of Sanford C. Bernstein & Co. Inc., said his organization also foresaw higher rates next year.

Former ambassador dies

BRATTLEBORO, Vt. — Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam during the latter stages of the Vietnam War and a diplomat whose career spanned 35 years, died Thursday at age 90.

He had been hospitalized since Sept. 13. Bunker died at 6:20 p.m. at Brattleboro Memorial Hospital, according to hospital spokeswoman Cathy Oliver. The hospital did not give a cause of death, but Bunker had been admitted for shingles and suffered complications, his daughter Margery Bunker said last week.

Church gets tax refund

GARDEN GROVE, Calif. — The Crystal Cathedral, a church that lost its tax exemption and paid $473,185 in taxes under protest, has received $247,922 in refunds but says it may press for the remainder.

The church, site of televised Christian services by the Rev. Robert Schuller, got the refund Wednesday after the Board of Equalization restored a partial exemption the church had lost for holding commercial events in its sanctuary.

Michael Nason, a church spokesman, said the church board would decide whether to challenge the refund decision.

Train crash kills students

PORT ST. LUCIE, Fla. — A private school suspended today's classes after two of its students were killed when their bus apparently stalled at a railroad crossing and a freight train smashed into it.

The bus driver was injured in the accident Thursday, but the other two students on the bus jumped out and escaped injury, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

"There has been a certain amount of grief," said Ed Lounds, chairman of the Indian River Academy in Fort Pierce, who announced Friday's closure.

2 arrested in theft case

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. — Two of three men charged with stealing $40,000 from malfunctioning automatic teller machines were arrested as they tried to buy plane tickets to Hawaii, authorities say.

A late-model car allegedly bought with the illicit bonanza from the thefts Sunday and Monday also was seized when the third man charged in the theft was arrested, police said.

"There apparently was a malfunction with the bank card they were using or the computer running the machine," and the money-counting system didn't work, said Detective Capt. Ernest Stelzer said. "The machines kept spitting out the money."

SAT score upturn holds some hope

Test scores taken this year by college-bound high school seniors showed a significant increase for the first time in 20 years.

The average score earned on the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test remains far below those recorded in the early 1960s, but as the famous abolitionist Sojourner Truth once said, "We ain't where we oughta be, we ain't where we wanna be and we ain't where we're gonna be. But thank goodness we ain't where we was."

"Where we was" was terrible; thus the much-discussed "crisis in education."

And we have a long way to go to regain the ground lost during the past two decades. The SAT, a test of verbal and math skills taken each year by about one-third of all high school seniors, offers a perfect score of 800 in each category. In 1963, math scores averaged 502; this year's scores, although three points higher than last year's, averaged only 472. The average verbal score in 1963 was 478; this year's (one point higher than last year's) was 471.

Still, the scores finally are going up instead of falling down. It would be premature to call a one-year increase in the SAT scores a reversal of the downward trend, but the scores are the highest recorded since 1976. And, they offer some encouragement that the students earning this year's higher scores may play a significant role in making the improvement permanent.

Those high school seniors expressing an interest in becoming teachers made dramatic increases in their scores — an average seven points in math skills and four points in verbal performance. If these would-be teachers are challenged in college so their own skills continue to improve, they may be in a position a few years from now to help other students improve in the classroom.

Now there's something to hope for.

A flap over storks

With all the controversy going on about abortion and contraceptive devices, it's time to have a Remedial Sex Education course for adults.

As everyone is aware, a baby is delivered by a stork.

The question is, how does the stork know if the person wants a baby or not? The answer is, it doesn't.

The stork is a very dumb bird and never questions when it drops a baby on somebody's mat whether it is welcome or not.

Sometimes it dumps a baby at a teenager's house, other times it may deposit one with a family that doesn't have enough to eat, and on many occasions it delivers its package to somebody who doesn't even like children.

The stupid stork never thinks that an unwanted baby can grow up to be an unwanted adult, lacking in love and mad at the whole damn world. The bird doesn't hesitate to leave one at a door where there is no father, and the mother is forced to raise it all alone.

Years ago women got angry at the stork making so many mistakes. They demanded "stork control" and protection from unwelcome bundles on their steps. Bowing to pressure, American industry developed an entire array of anti-stork devices to scare the bird away. While not completely stork proof, the devices did cut down on the number of indiscriminate deliveries the stork had been making.

Since the anti-stork mechanisms did no harm to the bird, they were sold in drug stores and were even made available free to those who couldn't afford them.

You would think that everyone would be happy to have devices on the market that could keep a stork from depositing an unwelcome baby on a doorstep.

But this doesn't seem to be the case. There are well meaning people in this country who fervently believe that storks should be permitted to deliver babies anywhere they please, no matter how much havoc it will cause in the future.

They are angry with anyone interfering in the stork delivery program. While no one challenges their belief that storks should be permitted to drop babies willy nilly all over the place, many people are disturbed that they want to impose their views on others who feel differently about the matter.

The pro-storkers accuse people who don't want babies of being stork killers, and they demand all anti-stork remedies be taken off the market.

They want to close down any private or government agency that advises women on how to keep the stork away from their door. They refuse to accept the fact that while their teachings have made the stork infallible, other people in the world may have some reservations about the bird swooping down unannounced on a stoop or tenement apartment.

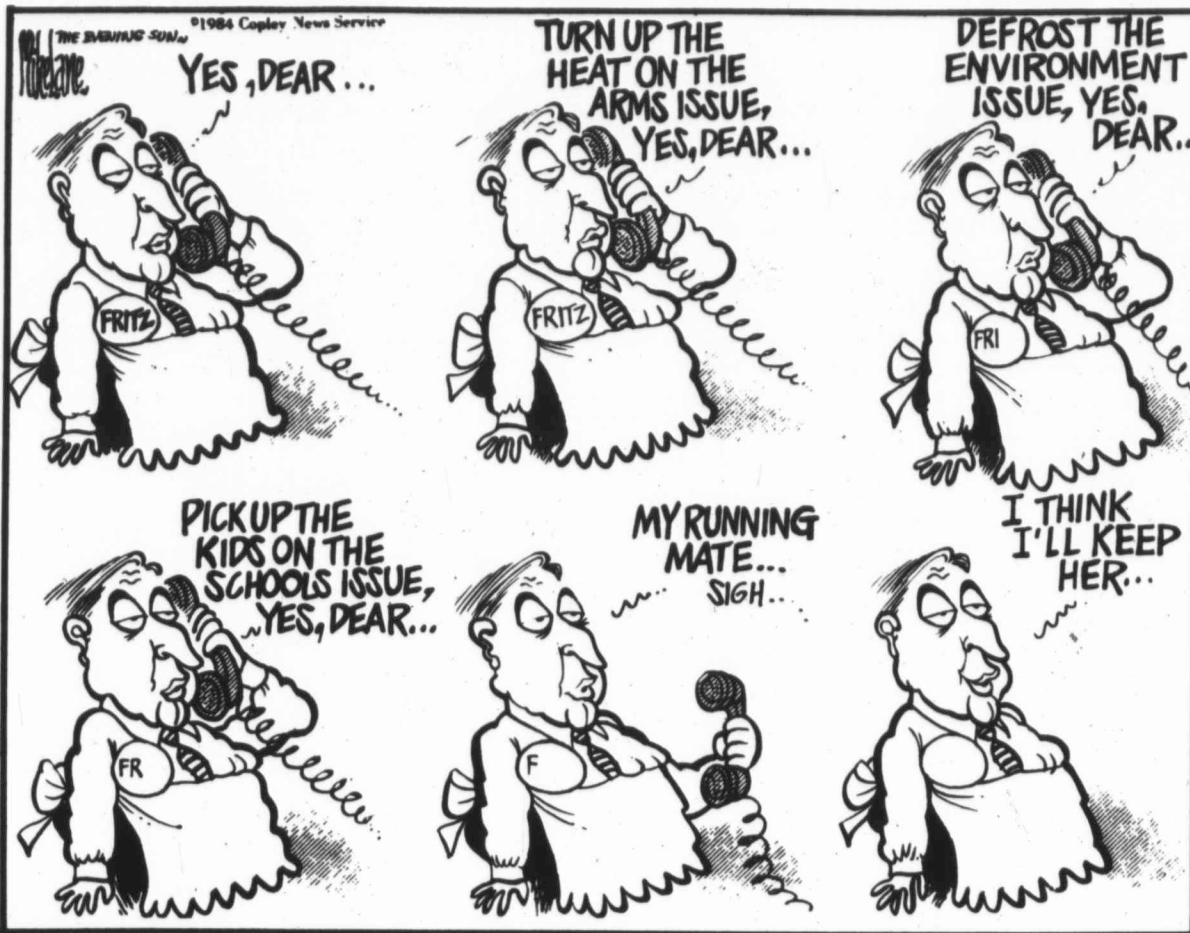

The stork issue has become the most emotional one in the American political campaign. The pro-stork and anti-stork factions are splitting the country. Those politicians who advocate "stork control" have been put on hit lists and attacked from the pulpit.

At the moment, the law of the land is that if you want to keep a stork from dropping a baby on you, you can legally do so. But the pro-storkers are working feverishly to change this, so you have to take delivery whether you want to or not.

The majority of women in the country insist they should decide for themselves whether they want a bundle of joy from the big bird or not.

The majority of men couldn't care less because when they're out to have a good time the last thing they think about is a stork.

Emergency power is dictatorial

WASHINGTON — Civil defense has come a long way, baby, since World War II, when volunteer air-raid wardens would ring neighborhood doorbells to report cracks of light showing during blackout tests.

The successors to the friendly air-raid wardens want nothing less than to run the country along the lines of a military dictatorship in case of an emergency.

Federal Emergency Management Agency Director Louis Giuffrida, a California National Guard general who likes to be addressed by his military title, has already been slapped down for his pretensions by Attorney General William French Smith.

Giuffrida's proposal to give FEMA authority over every other governmental agency in a crisis would make him an "emergency czar," Smith wrote.

The idea of the little-known head of a little-known federal agency running the country in time of war or natural disaster isn't as funny as it sounds. Certainly it's being taken seriously at FEMA.

My associates Donald Goldberg and Andy Badhwar have obtained FEMA's blueprint for the takeover: a draft of "standby" legislation "to provide the Executive Branch with the authorities necessary to meet various conflict contingencies."

Titled the Defense Resources Act, the law would vest unprecedented power in the president — who would presumably delegate his authority to Gen. Giuffrida and his glorified air-raid wardens.

The proposal legislation would suspend the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, effectively eliminate private property, abolish free enterprise and generally clamp the American people in a totalitarian vise. Here are some of the specific outrages FEMA has in store for us, according to the standby legislation:

- Instant confiscation of real estate or personal property "that shall be deemed necessary for national defense purposes." No dicker, no delays: "Upon or after the condemnation petition, immediate possession may be taken and the property may be occupied." There goes the neighborhood.

- Throw hoarders in jail. Accumulation of goods "in excess of reasonable demands" by businesses, families or individuals would bring a $10,000 fine or a year in prison.

- Nationalize the means of production. If a factory owner fails to produce what the government dictates, the president "may take immediate possession of such plant, mine or facility and operate it for the production of such materials or services as may be necessary."

- Freeze all wages, prices, fees, commissions and rents, and control all consumer credit by presidential decree.

- Nationalize all jobs. Employment would be limited to "activities essential to the national health, safety or interest." Anyone caught lying to a government official about the availability of manpower would draw a $10,000 fine or a year in prison.

- Outlaw strikes. All workers covered by the emergency legislation — which, as noted, means all workers, period — would be made to sign affidavits that they had never engaged in a strike against the government and are not members of any employee group that asserts the right to such a strike.

Along with persons who advocate the violent overthrow of the government, strikers would be fined up to $1,000 and/or imprisoned for a year.

Footnote: Since FEMA's draft legislation is a standby proposal, it will not be offered to Congress ahead of time — when it could be thoroughly debated — but only in the event of a national emergency, when Congress would supposedly be panicked into voting for a dictatorship.

TIGER ISLAND REVISITED:

The Marines have quietly returned to Tiger Island, the Honduran outpost in the Gulf of Fonseca from which they were removed last May after a six-month tour of duty. A Marine Corps spokesman said they won't stay longer than six months this time, either.

The Rim

Just looking

By RICK BROWN

I've been flipping through women's magazines all my life — in an off-hand sort of way.

Not that I buy them myself. Certainly not. They're just always there in places where I've got time on my hands. At hair-cutting shops, for example, in dentists' offices, or — for some strange reason — at car repair shops.

You know the magazines I'm talking about — Women's Day, McCalls. I've never had a very serious attraction for them. I'm usually just looking for something to read. I've always wondered what kind of mind the editors of these magazines think they're appealing to.

Women always do things like "fuss" and "count pennies" in these periodicals. Weird things tend to happen. Smiling air freshener "solids" sprout arms and lift their own lids as if to say "Looky!"

Some of their advertisements are truly offensive. "This is no place for ordinary bleach," says one, focusing in on the sweaty armpit of a polo-shirted man.

Also, the ads don't get too far away from the people that readers are supposedly working hard to please. One sees lots of smiling kids enjoying whatever product the ad is pushing. But I hope mothers aren't working too hard to please their families. That kind of attention can really drive someone wild. I must admit that some of their articles are really important.

A recent Family Circle had this article: "Teen Alcoholics Speak Out: What Every Parent Must Know."

"In this exclusive interview, four recovering alcoholics shed light on this alarming teenage epidemic. Their stories will shock you; their advice may save someone you love."

It certainly touched all the right chords to make you want to read further.

But sometimes the headlines bother me. "A is for Apple," reads another article from the same magazine. "Always Appetizing, Absolutely Appealing," it continued. I think this is excessive.

"Great Sweaters to Knit and Crochet," reads another headline, which makes me think "Great Magazine to Throw Out and Forget."

In other articles, it really concerns me how editors sensationalize the trivial.

One magazine's Beauty and Fashion Hotline is a good example. "Question: How do I get beautiful lashes? I use mascara, but it doesn't make much difference." "Well, you'll get it down someday, honey, but don't you have more important things to worry about?" I want to answer.

The one thing I really like about these magazines are their recipe pages — especially the big, full-color pages of food. Maybe they should consider a fold out. It's an idea that might sell.

CCC signature marks park

 tempts at Roman wall construction appear. The mortarless stone buttresses elevated road beds.
 ● 11. The troops usually prized rocks from the mountain's surface to use in construction. They also had two quarries. The largest is located in isolated area on the southern crest. Wedge and drill marks are clearly visible in the rocks there.
 ● 12. Two decrepit picnic tables and two dismantled cooking pits are all that's left of the great camping area planned for the top of the mountain. The cottages were never built, and the picnicking facilities were left unfinished.
 ● 13. The broad scenic drive on the northwestern rim was blasted and chiseled about 20 feet into the side of the mountain.

 ● 14. Once a popular dance hall, the open-air pavilion is the only untouched CCC structure on the mountain.
 ● 15. What now serves as the park headquarters and museum was a concessions house topped with a watchtower. The tower's cylindrical, stone staircase is located in the building's storeroom.
 ● 16. The public latrine, the last structure completed, was extensively remodeled by the state.
 ● 17. East of the latrine, a large open area covers septic tanks buried in the mountainside.
 ● 18. The CCC left behind a tennis court and croquet field at the top of their main path, now the nature trail. Both courts quickly deteriorated and were later cleared.

 ● 19. The large shelf on the reverse side of the northern rim was planned to hold a large swimming pool. The area was cleared, but no construction was done.
 ● 20. The most impressive piece of park architecture is the Roman wall supporting the descending drive. Fitted with great precision, the boulders required no mortar.
 ● 21. A small mound bordered by a curve in the road is the best example of terracing done by the troops. Greenery planted here died, but the terraces still check soil erosion.
 ● 22. The park's exit is also its entrance. The stone work was a last-minute project. Park plans originally called for two "massive stone entrances."

FIRM FOUNDATION — Almost hidden by dirt and cactus are the remains of the field headquarters and motor pool office at the CCC campsite on Scenic Mountain. The foundation is located south of the park road near the entrance.

CCC had boxing, dance class

One of "a few Mexican kids" who helped build Big Spring's State park, Joe Gomez remembers settling many differences in the boxing ring at the Civilian Conservation Corps camp on Scenic Mountain.
 "But I really liked the CCC," says Gomez, 65, a Big Spring native who joined Co. 1857 in 1935 and remained with it when it transferred to Sweetwater. "I even liked the food."
 Gomez, now a paint contractor, was a stonemason in the company, cutting rock for the pavilion on Scenic Mountain's peak. "We worked real hard, I remember that," he said.
 At the Big Spring camp, Gomez took tap dancing lessons and sang in a trio.
 "It kept me out of trouble," Gomez said about his CCC days. "And I sure learned a lot."

Kid says 'tanks' to USSR for plans

MILFORD, Mich. (AP) — A 16-year-old high school student who asked the Soviet Mission at the United Nations for help for a class project received a package that contained microfilmed specifications for U.S. tanks, authorities said.
 FBI agents are trying to determine how and why the microfilm — which was not classified — got into a damaged package received by Christopher Foley, a junior at Milford High.
 One agent said the material could have come accidentally from either the Soviets or from a U.S. agency, and said there were other possibilities, which he would not specify.
 The Soviet Mission today said it had not sent the film to Foley.
 "We never sent microfilm," said Ludmila Delyaeva, public relations officer for the mission.
 "I myself sent it (the package) and I know I never sent microfilm," she laughed. "We sent brochures, books and magazines. Usually we send only this kind of information."
 John Anthony of the FBI's Detroit office said the microfilm, which was clipped to computer cards found in the retaped package received by Foley at his home Sept. 17, are not classified as confidential, secret or top secret.
 "They were not plans," he said. They were something any contractor wanting to bid on a job could receive.

Interim pastor teaches own brand of 'Marx'

By KIM KIRKHAM
Church Editor

The First Presbyterian Church of Big Spring is getting lessons in Marxism. Not socialism, but the Gospel according to David Marx, interim pastor at the church.

His philosophy is "to entice people to respond to God's love."

"As interim pastor, my job is to be a bridge of continuity to prepare the congregation for the new minister," said Marx, who has been serving the church since the first of August. He will leave the first of November when the new pastor, Flynn V. Long, arrives.

REV. DAVID MARX

The Baptist church Marx attended in his hometown of Cheyenne, Wyo. was a stepping stone in his ministry. During his senior year of high school, the pastor let Marx read the Scripture for the church's Sunday morning radio program. "I learned from him something about what a minister does," he said.

The pastor, Dr. George White, was a "role model" in Marx's ministry. "He liked people and he emphasized God's love for people, which is an emphasis of mine in my preaching." He also received a scholarship from the church to attend Baylor University.

Marx became interested in the ministry through a course in religion at Baylor. "It was an Old Testament course on the prophets," he said. "I learned that a prophet was not so much one who predicts the future, but a spokesman for God."

After being licensed by the Columbus Avenue Baptist Church in Waco, Marx began preaching at little churches around Baylor during his junior and senior year. He received a bachelor's degree in 1960.

Marx attended seminary at Colgate Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, N.Y. He received his master of divinity degree in 1967.

While attending seminary, Marx served an internship as associate minister at a Methodist church in Palmyra, N.Y., for two years and a two-year internship at the United Church of Christ in Attica, N.Y. The idea behind serving in other denominations was that students would learn aspects about Christianity other than what they found in their own church, he said.

"After seminary, I became a Presbyterian," Marx said. He was received by the Presbytery of the Southwest, which is now called Presbytery of Texas.

Jokingly, Marx said the reason he became a Presbyterian was that "I learned to spell Presbyterian and I didn't want that much learning to go to waste."

For his doctor of ministry degree, Marx did his dissertation on preparing parents to talk to children about death and dying. He earned the degree from Princeton Theological Seminary in 1983.

Marx also serves as a chaplain in the Navy Reserve and is assigned to a Marine Corps unit headquartered in Jacksonville, Fla. He recently attended a chaplains conference in Camp Lejeune, N.C., during Hurricane Diana. "I guess that one of the thoughts I had in leaving was that I wish I could have brought the excess water back to Big Spring," he said.

Marx served active duty from 1969 to 1972 in the Navy, spending one year in recruit training command in Orlando, Fla. He was assigned to sea duty for two years in an amphibious squadron that includes both Navy and Marine Corps.

Marx and his wife, Diane, are the area contact couple for ACME — Association of Couples for Marriage Enrichment. The national organization emphasizes making good marriages better. "She chooses to work with me in that way rather than taking on the undefined role as the pastor's wife," he said. They have two children, Charlotte, 17, and David, 14.

"I like the older people because they have enough life experience not to be shook up by changes," Marx said. "I like young people and especially young couples because they are hopeful and optimistic about the future."

"I think a person's work ought to be rewarding and enjoyable, and my work here has been fun," said Marx, who combines his hobbies with his ministry. "I'm a shutter bug. I take candid shots at church gatherings and post them around the church."

When he leaves the church, Marx said he will miss "the warmth of fellowship. People have been very cordial and helpful. I've made some friendships that I think will continue even after I leave the church."

'People Reaching People' Nazarene fall theme

The fall emphasis at the First Church of the Nazarene is "People Reaching People" — a concentrated effort by the congregation to see increased attendance and participation during the year.

The theme continues through October with a rally day culminating the thrust Oct. 28. Cotton Mize, Christian life director, said there is excitement and concern being evidenced which "is bound to result in growth."

Sunday School classes begin at 9:45 a.m. with fully departmentalized classes offering opportunities for all age groups. The 10:50 a.m. worship service features kinder church for four and five year olds and a worship experience for youngsters in grades one through five. Steve Powers is the children's pastor.

Teens and adults meet in the sanctuary to hear a sermon by Dr. Carl Powers, pastor. The sanctuary choir, directed by Jerry McGuire, provides music.

This week's evening service at 6 p.m. will be a songspiration featuring solos, ensembles, congregational singing and readings, all geared to the theme.

Phillips Memorial conducts revival

Phillips Memorial Baptist Church will conduct a revival Sunday through Wednesday. Sunday services will meet at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Services will be held at 7 p.m. Monday through Wednesday.

The evangelist will be Ferris Akins. He is the director of missions for the Brady-Coleman-Runnels Baptist Area. He and his wife, Ramona, reside in Ballinger.

Jack Williams will lead music for the services. He and wife Mary have lived in Big Spring for 10 years. He has been active in the music programs of several area churches.

Religion roundup

Denominations to file lawsuit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Protestant denominations and the National Association of Evangelicals plan a lawsuit, challenging the sending of a U.S. ambassador to the Vatican.

The groups involved — the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), the American Baptist Churches, the Church of the Brethren and the black Progressive National Baptist Convention — say that diplomatic recognition of the Vatican favors "one religion over others," violating the principle of separation of church and state.

Catholics urged to stop contributions

WASHINGTON (AP) — A journal of the Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms has urged Catholics to stop contributions to Catholic churches because the U.S. Catholic Conference favors eventual elimination of handguns from society. John M. Snyder, editor of Point Blank, writes in an editorial that Catholics in protest "put spent shell casings into the Sunday collection baskets so they'll really get the message."

Pharmacist executed by Islamics

WILMETTE, Ill. (AP) — Officials of the Baha'i faith say that Manuchehr Ruhi, 52, a pharmacist, has been executed by Islamic authorities in Iran because of his faith, the latest of more than 170 Baha'is slain there.

More than 750 others are reported in prison. "Mr. Ruhi was a highly respected member of his community and of his profession," says Robert Henderson of the National Spiritual Assembly of Baha'is in the U.S.

Churches give sanctuary to refugees

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An assembly of the Conference of Major Superiors of Men in Roman Catholic orders has applauded the approximately 150 churches and synagogues in the country giving sanctuary to political refugees from El Salvador and Guatemala even though it means violating the law. The assembly also questioned recent Vatican actions in forcing withdrawal of two Catholic books, saying there "is suspicion of injustice to authors and publishers" and "concern about adequate consultation" with American bishops on the matter.

'Heaven's Heroes' to be presented

A film titled "Heaven's Heroes" will be shown at 8 p.m. Saturday night at the Upper Room, 313

Runnels. A true story, the film tells of a Des Moines, Iowa police officer who was shot and killed on the job. Using the technique of flashbacks, the film depicts the officer and his wife as they really were — with the same dreams and the same frustrations as other people.

Because the producers used police departments as consultants, the film achieves a degree of accuracy not normally found in commercially-produced police films.

Under-tongue clipping rarely done

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My daughter is tongue-tied. It used to be the practice to clip it in the nursery before the baby was discharged. When I questioned my pediatrician about doing it he said that they don't do it because the condition doesn't cause speech impairment. What is your opinion on this? — G.P.A.

I agree with your pediatrician. We all have a strand of tissue extending from the floor of the mouth to the underside of the tongue, the frenulum. In some babies it may extend right up to the tip of the tongue.

This is seldom, probably never, a cause of faulty speech development. The tissue tends to stretch with time. Clipping, that is cutting that strand early, can be dangerous for the baby. There can be bleeding and infection. In the extremely rare instance when it is necessary, clipping is done after 8-10 months.

I haven't heard of clipping being done in many years. Your pediatrician will watch the baby's progress in this regard for you.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: A doctor recently told my husband that he has a deviated septum. He does have trouble breathing out of one nostril and always complains of it feeling closed, especially at night. Can you explain exactly what this is? Is there a surgical procedure to correct it? Is it dangerous? — B.L.

The septum is the cartilage wall separating the two nostrils. If the wall starts to list to right side, for example, then breathing out of the right nostril can be difficult. In fact, deviated septum is the most common cause of nasal obstruction. When necessary, the septum can be straightened surgically. My nephew had it done recently. It is a safe procedure.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. For a copy of the booklet, "How You Can Control Arthritis," which discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications, write to Dr. Donohue, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611. Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Abby

Will daughter tarnish anniversary?

DEAR ABBY: My parents will soon celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary, and we, their children, are planning a grand reception for them at our country club.

We are six children, three sons and three daughters. The problem is the youngest sister — the beauty of the family. She's been on the fast track since her teen-age years and has humiliated and disgraced us many times, but our parents seem always to forgive her.

She was arrested for shoplifting in high school. Later, she was kicked out of college for stealing. At 23, she eloped with a wealthy young boy of 19. A year later, he caught her in bed with a 16-year-old caddy she dragged home from the country club.

She's on her second marriage now, and this husband doesn't have the big bucks her first husband had, so she's a hooker. Everybody in town knows this but our parents.

Do we have to include her at the 50th? I'm afraid she'll hustle men at the party. I spoke to our minister about this and he said, "I stands in the middle of pride," but then he doesn't have a hooker for a sister. Please advise us.

THE ELDEST DEAR ELDEST: The purpose of the celebration you're planning is to bring joy to your parents, so don't mar it by excluding your sister. Listen to your minister. Wise man, he.

DEAR ABBY: Who designed those gross swimsuits that reveal so much of a woman's body that she's practically naked? Could the manufacturers of depilatories have had a hand in this?

To those sweet young things who say, "I'm not ashamed of my body," I would ask, "Then why are you going to so much trouble and torment to remove body hair so you can wear one of those things?"

And if they say, "That's all the store had," I'd say, "Baloney!"

Nature has materials for winter bouquets

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Late summer and autumn are the time to gather materials for dried flower and plant arrangements, but the results will be best if you plan varieties to sow in the spring.

Along roadsides and in the fields, as well as in your garden, nature provides abundant material for processing into lasting, colorful winter bouquets.

An easy way to dry flowers is by air drying. Select plants that are suitable — milkweed pods, thistles, seed heads of sumac, ornamental grasses, hibiscus seed pods, fern fronds, bayberry, rose hips, cat-tails, bittersweet, lilac seedheads, tansy, Queen Anne's lace and even goldenrod.

Among annual flowers are strawflowers, Bells of Ireland, cockscomb or celosia, statice, spirea, baby's breath, zinnias, or a handful of oats.

Other annuals that can be dried by hanging upside down are beebalm, butterfly weed, calendula, castor bean pods, Chinese lantern, chives, dusty miller, everlastings, gaillardia, globe amaranth, honesty, annual larkspur, lavender, lemon verbena, marigold, okra, plume poppy, sage, salvia and yarrow.

Choose a dry, dark place with good air circulation. An attic is good; a basement may be too damp.

Harvest before the flowers are fully open and strip foliage from stems. The small flowers in bunches so their heads do not touch, and hang upside down. Most will dry in 2-3 weeks.

Strawflowers are excellent, growing two feet tall with flowers in shades of red, pink and gold. So are globe amaranth with ¼-inch-round flower heads, purple statice and sea lavender. Rattailed statice has 18-inch-long, pencil-thin spikes of tiny lilac-colored blossoms that should be cut when the flowers are fully expanded.

For yellows, golds and reds, grow calendula, marigolds, yarrow and celosia. They'll retain their colors.

Among ornamental grasses are animated oats, quaking grass, squirrel-tail grass and rabbit-tail.

The display of dried flower arrangements in winter will remind you to select flowers for next season's planting as spring approaches.

Florists offer many plants with fine textures, forms and patterns to add to your arrangements.

The trick is to keep the flowers dry. This is especially important if you have collected and saved cones, pods and branches. Since dried bouquets do not require water, they can be arranged on wooden or stone slabs, in baskets, and in conventional bowls and vases.

For small arrangements, a pyramid of floral clay will hold materials in place. Try arrangements on small blocks of Styrofoam fastened to a needle-point holder, or vase arrangements in sand-filled containers.

A good thing about dried arrangements is that they can be dismantled and rearranged, mixed with other materials for new forms.

Another way to preserve the beauty of summer's flowering plants is a pressed-flower picture, an old art.

Some flowers can be dried in sand, clean and dry, to prevent spotting. Borax also can be used.

Place several thicknesses of newspapers in the bottom of a sturdy cardboard box and add four inches of sand. Remove foliage from flower stems and trim stems to desired length. Stand flowers upside down on the sand, making sure heads don't touch. Pour sand gently over flowers, making sure sand is between all petals and in trumpets. Dry one to two weeks. When flowers are dry, brush sand off with soft brush or tissue, pack flowers in boxes, label and store in dry place until ready to use.

Drying with silica gel is much like sand-drying but faster, and flowers retain colors better.

Hospital honors honors Green for 25 years of service

Hall-Bennett Hospital employees and staff recently honored Nathaniel Green with a party for completing 25 years of uninterrupted service, Sept. 20.

Green spent his entire tenure of service in the Dietary Department where he is one of the head cooks and is considered by many to be rather expertise in the culinary arts. The reception was held in the hospital's dining room. Green was awarded a plaque by hospital administrator, Charles A. Weeg.

In making the presentation, Weeg pointed out that it is not the physical plant alone which makes for an effective organization, but rather those individuals who work within the walls caring for those who are ill and in need of help.

Weeg mentioned that Green was one of those dedicated individuals who make the institution go. Weeg expressed the board of directors and hospital staff's appreciation for his many years of service. As Green accepted the plaque, he said that 25 years is not such a long time when one has fine people to work with.

BSHS spikers tied for 2nd

ABILENE — Lady Steers volleyball coach Susan Sharp says her team might have been looking forward to its next game as her team had to come from behind to down upset-minded Abilene 7-15, 15-5, 15-12 here Thursday night.

The next game Sharp referred to is Tuesday night at Steer Gym when her troops battle undefeated San Angelo Central which will bring a sparkling 26-0 record into the game.

The Bobcats are 6-0 in district and firmly in first place. Big Spring is currently tied for second with Abilene Cooper with a 4-2 mark, thanks to Midland High's upset over the Cougars last night.

"We really didn't play well," said Sharp of Thursday's win. "In the first match we thought they were going to be pushovers like last year. We got only 10 hits in the first game. In the second and third games we started hitting and we got some balls off the net that we couldn't have touched at the first of the season."

Sophomores Tab Green and Shelia Chatman led the way with seven service points each. Sharp also praised the all-around play of spikers Green, Monique Jones, Trelle Clemons and senior setter Debbie Holguin. "In the last two games Debbie has not played that well. Last night she played a terrific game."

Sharp call the game with Central the team's biggest game of the year. "I think we are capable of beating them because the other teams in the district have taken them to three matches. The kids are fired up about it. They were thinking ahead to Central last night."

The win ups Big Spring's season record to 12-11.

JV KEEP ROLLING

The JV Lady Steers pushed their district slate to 6-0 with a 15-5, 15-12 win over Abilene in a quick 30 minute game.

GUNNING FOR SAN ANGELO — Tammi Green and her Big Spring Lady Steers teammates will be trying to do what no other team has done this season — defeat San Angelo Central Bobcats. BSHS takes on Central Tuesday night at 7 p.m. in Steer Gym. After last night's win over Abilene High, the Lady Steers are currently 4-2 in District 4-5A, tied with Abilene Cooper. Central is 6-0 and 26-0 for the season.

last 13.

Lisa Hale served five points in the first match while Sonya Evans served six points in the second match. The Lady Steers season record is now 13-6. The JV's will be hosting a tournament Saturday at Steer Gym. Teams entered are Colorado City, San Angelo Lake View, San Angelo Central, Lamesa and Snyder.

The championship game begins at 4 p.m.

Sub-varsity roundup

JV whips Midland; Frosh win

It was the best and worst of times for Big Spring High School sub-varsity football teams Thursday night at Blankenship Field.

The Steers junior varsity squad is 2-2 after whipping the Midland High JV 27-6.

According to coach John Velasquez the offense displayed a knack for the long offensive as well as the quick strike while the defense showed a flair for the big play.

The scoring started when Midland snapped a punt out of the endzone, resulting in a safety for the Steers. Quarterback-defensive back Hugo Hernandez intercepted a pass two series later and ran it in from 68-yards out. Randy Hayworth added the point after and Big Spring led 9-0 at halftime.

In the second half the offense struck fast with a 72-yard pass and run play from Hernandez to Kim Anding. After a failed point after, Midland roared back to make the score 15-6. Big Spring answered with a 61-yard march that was capped when Stacey Kilgore scored on a six yard plunge. A try for two points failed.

The final score for Big Spring was set up when Midland committed a turnover at its own 33. Hernandez tossed his second touchdown pass of the game when he found Kevin Freeman for 10 yards and six points.

Other players singled out for playing well offensively included fullback James Johnson and the entire offensive line.

Defensively, the JV was led by Freeman with 11 tackles and an interception and Jose Hilario with six stops, two quarterback sacks and an interception. Anding, Hayworth and Kevin McKeown all registered sacks too. Luis Davila, Vance Cole, Jackie Johnson and Tim Green also helped make the big plays against Midland with each being responsible for at least one turnover.

The next game for the JV will be Thursday, Oct. 4 in Odessa against Permian.

SOPHS SUFFER

In the sophomore game Midland administered what Big Spring coach Roland Atkins called, "a good old country whipping," as the ADDED POINT AFTER — Randy Hayworth runs for yardage from the Big Spring JV's 27-6 win over Midland Thursday night at Memorial Stadium. Hayworth added a point after kick to the final margin as the JV went to 2-2.

Steer Sophs fell 41-18. The sophomore team is 2-2.

Things started well for Big Spring when Harry Marquis went over from the two yard line and a 6-0 lead with barely three minutes gone in the game.

Midland scored 20 unanswered points before John Hart responded with a 10-yard run right before halftime that cut Midland's score to 20-12.

Deeg Young finally got the final score of the game for the Steers when he caught a 15-yard pass from Paul Decker.

Andy Dominguez was singled out as also playing well at quarterback.

The sophomores will also be in Odessa next Thursday to play Permian.

FRESHMEN GET FIRST WIN

The Steer freshmen chalked up their first mark in the win column in three tries by defeating San Angelo Edison 14-0 at Blankenship.

Big Spring struck in the opening quarter when a 70-yard drive was capped off with a 15-yard scoring pass from Brian Mayfield to Rocio Yanez.

Danny Williams scored the final TD with a 45-yard run. Mayfield ran in the two point conversion. Williams led Big Spring rushers with 101 yards on eight carries. Mayfield added 40 yards on two tries. Williams is the team's leading rusher with 286 yards on 29 carries.

The freshmen A will play San Angelo Glenn Thursday, Oct. 4 at 7 p.m. in San Angelo while the B team plays Coahoma at 7 p.m. at Blankenship Field.

Tie emerges at LaJet Classic

Black, Upper speak of experience

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Ronnie Black and rookie Brett Upper both spoke of experience, of the maturing process necessary on the PGA Tour, after they moved into a tie for the first-round lead in the $350,000 LaJet Golf Classic.

"I have gained immeasurable experience in the last two years," said Black, now in his third season on the tour and a two-time winner.

"It's just experience. My game has matured. I'm a better driver, a better putter, I hit the ball better," Black said Thursday after his 6-under-par 66 had given him a tie for the lead with Upper and Jodie Mudd.

"The first half of the year I was just getting adjusted to the tour. It has been a learning experience for me. As the year went on, the more I learned, the more confidence I got, the better I played," said Upper, who has had a couple of eighth-place finishes in the last two months.

But Tom Watson, trying to nail down a record sixth Player of the Year title, spoke of a problem that has nothing to do with experience — a reluctant putter.

"It's just putting — just like it was at Milwaukee," said Watson, who made a last-minute entry in this event in an effort to protect his two-point lead on the Player of the Year standings.

"I made a couple of no-brainers (a 35-footer for birdie and a 45-footer for eagle-3), but the putts I needed to make, I either mis-hit or misread," Watson said after his 70 in the chilly, cloudy weather.

PGA champion Lee Trevino had the same total on the 7,166-yard

Fairway Oaks Golf Club course that was robbed of its natural defenses by the absence of wind.

A single stroke off the pace at 67 were Curt Byrum, Howard Twitty, Canadian Dan Halldorson, Mark Brooks, Dan Forsman, Jim Simons and Vance Heafner.

Upper finished off his effort with birdies on the last two holes. Black, a winner in the Anheuser-Busch earlier this year, rebounded from a tee shot into the water on the 10th with birdies on the 11th and 12th.

And Mudd, attempting to gain the 125th spot on the money-winning list and an exemption for next year, missed only one fairway, hit 16 greens and was in the fringe on the other two. He didn't even come close to making a bogey.

Chicago takes care of own as chase begins for World Series

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernie Banks says his selection as an honorary member of the 1984 National League East champion Chicago Cubs "is actually much higher than the Hall of Fame."

"It's a special honor because we're playing in October at Wrigley Field," said Banks, a Hall of Famer who played for the Cubs from 1953-1971, but never participated in the World Series or playoffs.

He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1977, the first year he was eligible.

Banks was named an honorary member of the Cubs on Thursday, and will sit on the team's bench during the National League Championship Series against San Diego next week.

Banks, 53, said he was "extremely happy, proud and honored." The Cubs' last title team was in 1945.

"I stand here representing 39 years of Cubs' players who didn't have an opportunity to be on a championship team, and millions and millions of fans who suffered during that time," Banks said.

Banks also will throw out the first ball before the first game of the championship series Tuesday, said General Manager Dallas

Green. Longtime sportscaster Jack Brickhouse, a vice-president of the team and a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, will throw out the first ball before Wednesday's second playoff game.

"We haven't forgotten the people who helped build this organization," said Green.

He said the baseball commissioner's office and the Padres' management had agreed to let Banks sit on the bench and be on the field during warmups. Banks will wear his old No. 14.

"The temptation will be great if we get into trouble to run him out there (into the game), but they won't allow that," Green joked.

"I'm not taking any batting practice," Banks joked. "I'm just going to watch and be close to the players and just be there."

Banks was a member of the 1969 team that led the National League East for much of the season before losing the title to the New York Mets.

But he said there were no similarities between the 1969 Cubs and the 1984 team.

"This is a stronger team. It's a well-balanced team with good pitching, good power hitting and defense and good leadership on the field," he said.

Banks, perhaps best known for his comment, "Let's play two," said the key attraction of the 1984 Cubs is the players' love of the game.

"The fans see that and want to be a part of it," he said.

Banks hit a team-record 512 homers in his career and won the 1958 and 1959 NL Most Valuable Player awards, even though the team finished in fifth place both years.

He holds team records with 2,583 hits, 1,636 runs batted in, 2,528 games, 9,421 at-bats and 407 doubles.

Brickhouse, who began broadcasting in 1940, was inducted into baseball's Hall of Fame in 1983.

Goliad 'B' registers third straight zero

MONAHANS — The Goliad B team defense remained as stingy as ever with a 26-0 whitewashing of Monahans, but the Goliad A team suffered their first loss of the season to Monahans while the Goliad C team fell to Greenwood — all in Thursday evening action.

It was the B team's third consecutive shutout as they preserved their scoreless string by holding Monahans four times from the two yard line late in the fourth quarter.

The running of Jean Paulette proved fatal to Monahans as he darted through the Lobos defense for 175 yards on 12 carries including TD runs of 24, 9 and 62. For the season he now has 348 yards on 28 carries.

Quarterback Michael Hilario added the other Goliad TD when he scored from 28 yards out. Coach David Drake singled out Danny Alonzo, Dusty Davis, Eric Dorton and Gary Watkins as outstanding offensive players. Trey Smith, Joe Hernandez, Johnny Douglass, Frank Luera, Roy Lang, Gilbert Gamboa, Pat

Rios, Stan Solis, Terry Bailey, Clay Atkinson and Ken Everett played good defense, according to Drake. The win ups Goliad B's record to 3-0.

A TEAM SUFFERS FIRST LOSS
The A team had its string of scoreless quarters stopped at 10 as Monahans came away with a 6-0 win, dropping the A record to 2-1.

It was a case of no offense and too many penalties in the loss as Goliad managed only 82 total yards and was flagged for 150 yards in penalties.

The lone score of the contest came in the third quarter on a 20-yard pass play.

Coach E. C. Roberson singled out the defensive play of Peter Buske, Sammy Carrillo and Juan Samora. In the other contest the Goliad C team fell to Greenwood 18-0 in a game played at Blankenship Field. Goliad's next game will be next Thursday when the B team faces Brownfield and the A team takes on Runnels C at Blankenship at 3:30 and 5 p.m. respectively.

Coahoma JV loses first game of year

Coahoma sent its freshman and junior varsity football teams in opposite directions Thursday night and the results were somewhat, although not quite, similar.

The Freshmen Bulldogs traveled to Snyder and stayed unbeaten with a 0-0 tie that puts the frosh 'Dogs at 2-0-2.

Willie Gutierrez led the Coahoma offense with 60 yards on 10 carries. Sammy Kerby picked up 55 in seven and Donnie Paige had 31 on just three totes.

Defensive standouts included Anthony Hernandez with 16 tackles, Tate West with eight and Gutierrez.

The Coahoma Freshmen will be in Big Spring Friday, Oct. 4 for a game with the Steers Frosh B team. Game time at memorial Stadium is 7 p.m.

JV SUFFERS FIRST LOSS
At Big Lake the Coahoma junior varsity was suffering its first loss after three wins as Big Lake went to 4-0 with a 22-14 win.

Big Lake led 7-0 at halftime, but Coahoma came back to take an 8-7 advantage at the start of the third quarter. Chris Parker did the touchdown honors with a one yard run and then passed to Craig Wallace for two points.

Big Lake managed a late score in the period and led 15-8 after three. In the fourth quarter Parker used a quarterback sneak for a one yard touchdown, but the try for two failed, leaving the score at 15-14.

Big Lake scored once more with 59 seconds left in the game. Coahoma managed to get the ball back to midfield before time ran out.

The JV 'Dogs will travel to Greenwood next Thursday for a 7 p.m. kickoff.

Being singled out for their contributions in the Big Lake game were offensive linemen Scott Earnest, Mike Sepeda, Cesar Gellido, Butch Wood and Frank Galaviz. For the defense, coach Kim Nichols said Randle Crawford with 16 tackles, Sepeda with a dozen and secondary men Ray Yranga and Brannon Henderson all played well.

It's official: Angels to farm Cubs team

MIDLAND, Texas (AP) — The California Angels will be the new parents of the Midland Texas League franchise, Midland co-owner Bernard Lankford said Thursday.

The signing of two-year contract between Midland Sports Inc. and the Angels ends Midland's 12-year relationship with the Chicago Cubs.

"We were looking for someone with more dedication to their farm system and an organization that would field, if not necessarily a winning team, a competitive team," Lankford said.

He said the Class AA team will become the Midland Angels. Coincidentally, Chicago's departure from Midland comes as the major league club celebrates winning the National League East division title.

Lankford said a change in affiliation was first considered "seriously" when the Midland Cubs collapsed in the second half race this year.

Allen brings coaching career to an end

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — George Allen, calling himself "a pioneer" and "the last founding father left" in the United States Football League, says he resigned as the Arizona Wranglers' head coach partly because of his wife.

"City stayed in California all last year and it was hard on her. She even started smoking again," Allen said at a news conference here Thursday. "I'd like to spend more time with her. We've had to postpone a trip to Europe for two years now. But Saturday, we're leaving for Scotland, the Netherlands, Lisbon, Madrid and Paris."

Allen, 66, said it was "a day of sadness and a day of pride" as he apparently ended his 14-year pro head coaching career.

However, he said he would remain with the Wrangler organization as chairman of the board and part owner, and named assistant coach and offensive coordinator Paul Lanham as his head coaching successor.

"This is a time of great mixed emotions for me. How do you replace a legend?" said the 53-year-old Lanham, who has no previous head-coaching experience.

Although Allen did not completely close the door toward his possible return to coaching, he said he would "be there to help" Lanham. "He won't falter. Paul will do a good job. He's an old friend and a colleague who's been with me since way back in my days with the Washington Redskins in the National Football League," Allen said. "I'll be here every day trying to make this franchise successful. I'm not leaving football. I'm just changing jobs."

Allen, who led the Wranglers to the Western Conference championship last season, said he reached his decision to step down about midnight Wednesday and informed team owner Dr. Ted Diethrich over dinner.

"I left the table in tears," said Diethrich, a noted Phoenix heart surgeon. "I knew it was the end of a coaching relationship and I was deeply saddened to see that. But Coach really isn't leaving. He'll be advising us on a daily basis." Diethrich also announced that "there are no plans to merge the Wranglers with any other USFL team at this time" and that the team hierarchy would stay intact with Allen's 28-year-old son, Bruce, remaining as general manager.

"Everything is set for this franchise to continue to win," Allen said. "I'll miss being on the sidelines, but there are areas within the franchise that are more critical at this point that what is happening on the football field, like league meetings. I'm anxious to lend my expertise in those matters."

The resignation came as a complete surprise since Allen was last seen here at a Wranglers' tryout camp Aug. 25 and told The Associated Press he was returning as head coach and honoring the final year of his $300,000 contract.

"My problem is I'm ready to go as soon as I hear the burr of the projector. I just got caught up with being back," Allen said Thursday. "I've really been tossing this idea (of resigning) around since the championship game against Philadelphia."

Arizona lost 23-3 to the Stars in the USFL title game July 15 in Tampa, Fla. It ended a storied season in which the Wranglers rallied from a 6-8 record in late May to finish 12-9 and keep from becoming Allen's first losing team.

"I wouldn't go through last year again for $20 million, $30 million or $40 million," said Allen, who came to Arizona after the Wranglers and Chicago Blitz swapped franchises last Sept. 30. "It was a disastrous transition. But we turned what looked like a disastrous season into a conference championship. It may have been the best coaching job I've ever done."

SHEILA CHATMAN

As a member of the Big Spring Lady Steers varsity volleyball team, sophomore Sheila Chatman is one of the main reasons the Lady Steers are currently making some noise in the District 4-5A race.

The 5-8 spiker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Chatman Jr. and has been playing the sport since the seventh grade. Chatman says "volleyball is an exciting game. I like playing it because I enjoy it and love working with other people."

Chatman says her present coach, Susan Sharp, has been the most influential person in her volleyball career because, "she motivates me to play the best I possibly can. This helped me to reach my goal of making the varsity."

Chatman is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and lists her favorite subjects as math, english and science. Her hobbies include reading, tennis and listening to music while her favorite sport to play is volleyball and favorite to watch is basketball.

Chatman's long term plans include attending college once completing her education at Big Spring High School. She said she hopes to continue her volleyball career.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SAT. SEPTEMBER 29, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Startling and dramatic conditions can exist to take you away from some investigation in which you are engaging, so be prepared for and expect them.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study your responsibilities and handle them well, even though you may have interruptions. Forget any depressing conditions.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be on the alert for some unexpected event to occur and handle the matter well. You may have to revise some plan you have made.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Take a little time from your work and when you return to it, you have more vigor and can handle it better.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) While making plans for new outlets and pleasures, be sure you do so in a more modern vein.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to buy something new for your home and to make your family happy. Invite only those persons into your house who are cheerful.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Read over your correspondence so that you will know exactly how to respond and get the right results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be more modern in the handling of money and don't get so bogged down with work ahead of you that you fail to count the profit.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Get out of that rut and into something more interesting and profitable as well. Also make new friends who can be very stimulating.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You may have to handle secret matters today that require time and thought, so use new methods and all is well.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do some personal angling that can gain you a cherished wish. Some group affair could be rather dull, but you can gain needed data.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be more ingenious in handling in civic affairs and get the right results. Save time and effort by making some changes in careers.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study into new outlets that can better bring you your finest aims and get ahead very fast.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will use much tenacity at whatever project he or she is interested in. Teach early that new inventions and improvements are constantly going on and to be sure to learn about them before tackling some job. Teach also to be more flexible in views.

THE ERA BUYER PROTECTION PLAN CAN MAKE THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN "FOR SALE" AND "SOLD."

One of the biggest worries a home buyer has is unexpected repair bills hitting an already overstretched budget.

The ERA Buyer Protection Plan protects your buyer against repair or replacement costs on working components in your home. Including the water heater and softener, furnace, built-in appliances, electrical wiring, central air conditioning, exposed duct work... even swimming pool components.

Plus, our Buyer Protection Plan protects you from repair bills while your home is still on the market.
