Look for highs near 80 and southerly to southwesterly winds, 5 to 15 miles per hour. Tonight's lows are forecast in the mid 60s.

Off the wall: Family tree

BIG SPRING — Call it coincidence or heredity. Either way Big Spring's Mrs. Michael Lombardo has a family tree that stems into the unusual if not the bizarre.

Mrs. Lombardo's twin sons and one of her two daughters and her five grandchildren all have birthdays that fall within 18 days of each other (on different years of course).

Gary Carey and his twin Terry were born Jan. 24, 1961. Gary's two children Jason and Jamie were born on Sept. 9, 1981 and Sept. 9, 1982. Coincidence? Maybe.

Terry's son, Randy, was born Sept. 25, 1983. Terry's sister, Mrs. Johnny Christian, has a daughter, Cassie, who was born Sept. 25, 1984. Mrs. Christian was born Jan. 16, 1963, eight days after her brothers' birthdays and 18 days before her sister's birthday.

Her sister, Debbie Carey, was born Dec. 29, 1965, and lives in Oklahoma. It will be up to the last sibling to carry on an old and unusual family tradition.

Jobless rate down again

DALLAS (AP) — Unemployment statistics released today show Texas' economy making "a remarkable improvement" as the jobless rate continues its year-long plummet, a federal official says.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics in Washington, unemployment in Texas dropped only 0.1 percent between August and September.

But over the last 12 months, the seasonally adjusted jobless figure fell almost three percentage points from 8.4 percent in Sept. 1983 to 5.6

percent last month. "This is a remarkable improvement and shows long-term improvement in the economy," said Nick Santangelo, chief of economic analysis for the Bureau of Labor Statistics in Dallas. "Texas and the U.S. economies are following the same patterns of stability."

More than 200,000 new jobs were added to the state's economy since Aug. 1983, Santangelo said.

For both Texas and the nation, the monthly change in unemployment was insignificant, Santangelo said. The nation's jobless figure dropped from 7.5 percent in August to 7.4 percent, while in Texas the figure went from 5.7 percent in August to 5.6 percent.

Mining was the fastest growing industry in September showing a 4.3 growth followed by manufacturing and services, which increased 4 percent, Santangelo said.

Texas is expected to continue on its present course over the next few months, with additional hirings expected in November in time for Christmas, according to Santangelo.

"The businessman should expect a good Christmas," he said.

The overall national unemployment rate has fallen 1.8 percentage points since September 1983, from 9.2 percent to 7.4 percent. In June, however, the rate stood at 7.1 percent. Unemployment was 7.5 percent when President Reagan took office in January 1981.

The total number of Americans with jobs in September climbed to 105.2 million.

Drug, homicide cases go to trial

Jury selection begins Monday

Two criminal cases have been scheduled for jury trials before District Judge Jim Gregg next week, according to the 118th District Clerk's office.

Attorneys will select jurors for a vehicular homicide case and for a drug-delivery case Monday in 118th District Court.

Joseph William Diliberto, 23, of Route 1 is charged with involuntary manslaughter in the March 27 death of Helen Ziegler, 60, of 4100 Connally.

Mrs. Ziegler died as the result of severe injuries she suffered in a March 19 accident involving Diliberto in the 2700 block of Wasson.

Mrs. Ziegler was a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, 29-year-old Patti Ziegler of 4100 Connally, that collided with a car driven by Diliberto, according to police reports of the accident.

Diliberto was arrested on suspicion of driving while intoxicated at the time of the accident. He was later charged with involuntary manslaughter, according to arrest records in the sheriff's office.

Also injured in the accident were Patti Ziegler and 12-year-old David Ziegler, police reports said.

In the other case, David Joseph Licastro, 37, of 200 S. Goliad is accused of a second-degree felony charge of delivery of a controlled substance.

According to the sheriff's office, deputies arrested Licastro April 20 in the Coronado Plaza parking lot after undercover officers bought about 250 hits of a substance that Midland lab reports indicate is LSD.

Each unit of the drug would have a street value of about $20 to $25, making the total value of the suspected contraband between $5,000 and $6,250, deputies said.

Federal workers here back on job

By KEELY COGHLAN
 Staff Writer

Federal workers in Big Spring were back on the job today following a partial shutdown of the government, but Congress still must approve an emergency spending bill to avert further disruptions and allow the 98th Congress to adjourn.

Government offices were opening today thanks to a stopgap measure Congress passed Thursday to keep most government departments and agencies solvent until 6 p.m. tonight.

About 15 employees of federal offices in Big Spring were furloughed for a half day, according to agency supervisors.

About six scientists and employees of the U.S. Big Spring Field Station, five people at the Soil Conservation Office, and five or six Social Security employees were furloughed Thursday, supervisors and employees said.

"I didn't think too much of it, really. You hope these things could be worked out in an orderly fashion," said Bill Fryrear, director of the field station.

According to Fryrear, his scientists left the station while its state employees, not affected by Congress' action, remained at work.

"Most scientists are looking at doing a job. They are going to go ahead and work if they have jobs to do. But they aren't going to be paid for it," Fryrear said.

Both he and Jerry Stanford, the acting supervisor and an engineer at the Soil Conservation office, were critical of the furlough.

"I'm not very optimistic about the progress they're making," Fryrear said. "Sometimes I feel like Congressional and political people are using us as a pawn to raise a point. It doesn't help the morale of federal employees."

IRON AGE MAN — The British Museum in London is preparing these 2,500-year-old remains of a man's body for display to the public. The man's skin, hair and facial structure were preserved by his peat bog burial ground.

Bogman

2,500-year-old corpse found in England

LONDON (AP) — Part of the body of a red-bearded Iron Age man, preserved in a peat bog for 2,500 years, was displayed at the British Museum, revealing for the first time the face of a prehistoric Briton.

The corpse, found in a peat bog in central Britain in August, was briefly shown to reporters Thursday.

The skin, red-trimmed moustache and manicured fingernails are still intact. The corpse, nicknamed "Bogman" by scientists, was 5 feet, 6 inches tall and 20 to 30 years old when he died.

"We have a face of prehistoric man in Britain," said an exuberant Ian Stead of the British Museum.

A string of animal sinew was tied around the ancient man's neck, and several of his neck vertebrae were broken, indicating he died an unnatural death.

The man appeared to have mousy-colored hair, slightly balding on top, a prominent forehead, full red beard, moustache and sideburns. His fingernails appeared to have been manicured, suggesting that he was not a manual laborer.

Many of the facial features were distorted over the centuries, while the corpse lay suspended, slowly sinking in the mushy grave near Wilmslow, 10 miles south of Manchester.

"It's squashed, but the side of the nose and left cheek are visible. His ear is bent forward ... It's a face rather like mine or anyone's here," said

Stead. He said the man probably died around 500 B.C.

"He doesn't look like a working man," Stead said. "He comes from a time before there were written documents, so it's difficult to tell what his lifestyle was."

Historians do know that mass migrations of Celtic people in the 5th Century B.C. brought the use of iron into Western Europe and the British Isles. In this era, called La Tene, villages were fortified, warfare was conducted on horseback, ox-drawn plows and wheeled vehicles became widespread in agriculture.

"We've never before had sight of an individual from the Iron Age ... This is a very important find," said Stead.

Peat is well known as a preservative, and human bodies thousands of years old with recognizable facial features have been discovered in bogs in Denmark. The chemicals in the peat bog, plus the lack of oxygen, prevents the growth of bacteria and decomposition of the flesh. Also, a body buried in peat sinks slowly over the years, but otherwise lies completely undisturbed.

The body of "Bogman" was sliced in half by a peat-cutting machine. The upper half, lying in a fetal crouch with the head twisted onto the shoulder, and a severed leg were all that was recovered. The hands and arms were poorly preserved.

House leader claims immigration bill dead

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
 WASHINGTON — House Majority Leader Jim Wright Thursday pronounced the controversial Simpson-Mazzoli immigration reform bill "dead" for this year.

In a press conference at the U.S. Capitol, he said it is not possible for House-Senate conferees to pass a compromise version of the bill that President Reagan would sign.

Wright, however, expressed "hope" that the bill can be revived next year. The measure proposes amnesty for millions of illegal aliens and fines against employers who knowingly hire undocumented workers.

The Senate has passed the measure twice and the House adopted a version in June by a five-vote margin, but conferees have been unable to reach a compromise.

"I hope that next year we can sit down early with a broad-based group of people, including Hispanics, to work out something that will be acceptable," he said of the measure which drew stiff opposition from Hispanic groups.

"It was devilish, hard thing for us to come up with a compromise," Wright said. He said opposition from special interest groups led to

Weather

Texas remains cloudy

By The Associated Press
A blanket of moist Gulf air continued today to flow North across the eastern half of Texas, while a trough of low pressure moved East from the Panhandle, producing scattered rain statewide.

Isolated heavy thunderstorms and scattered light rain were detected over portions of Central Texas between Junction and Mineral Wells, while other showers were noted near Greenville. Widely scattered showers also damped parts of the southeast.

Drier air, meanwhile, pushed its way into West Texas, bringing mostly clear skies to the northwest and some high clouds in the southwest.

Low-level clouds were the rule over the remainder of Texas, except for some patchy light fog in the deep South.

Just before daybreak, temperatures ranged from the upper 50s over the Plains to the lower 70s along the coast and north central Texas. A reading of 55 degrees in Amarillo was the state's coolest, while Brownsville hit the high mark with 75 degrees.

Southerly winds of 5 to 15 mph raced through most of the state.

The forecast in North Texas called for some decreasing cloudiness and scattered thundershowers in central and eastern regions. Isolated thundershowers were predicted in West Texas and around the Hill Country. Highs today will be mostly in the 80s, rising to the 90s in the Big Bend.

A wet storm — heavy with moisture gathered by hurricane Polo — crawled across Colorado on Thursday, dumping steady, heavy rain on the Plains and snow in the mountains, where an advisory for up to 8 inches was issued.

About 2 inches of rain fell in 24 hours at Evergreen, Canon City and Colorado Springs, with an inch at Brighton and Denver. The snow advisory was for higher elevations in the state.

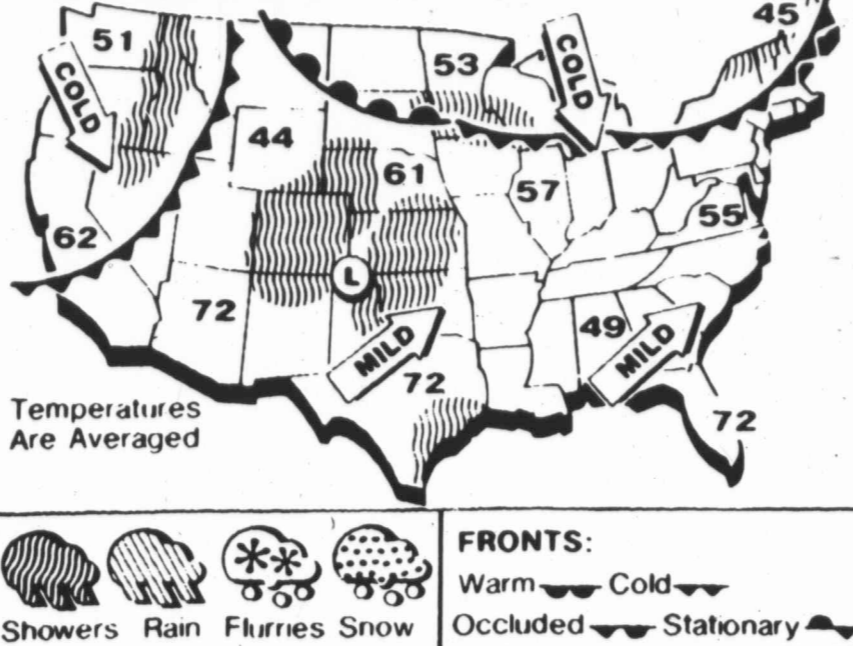

At Echo Lake, near Mount Evans, at about 10,700 feet elevation, nine inches of snow was reported.

About 3 inches of snow fell at Mount Washington, N.H., and winds up to 35 mph blew across New England on Thursday afternoon.

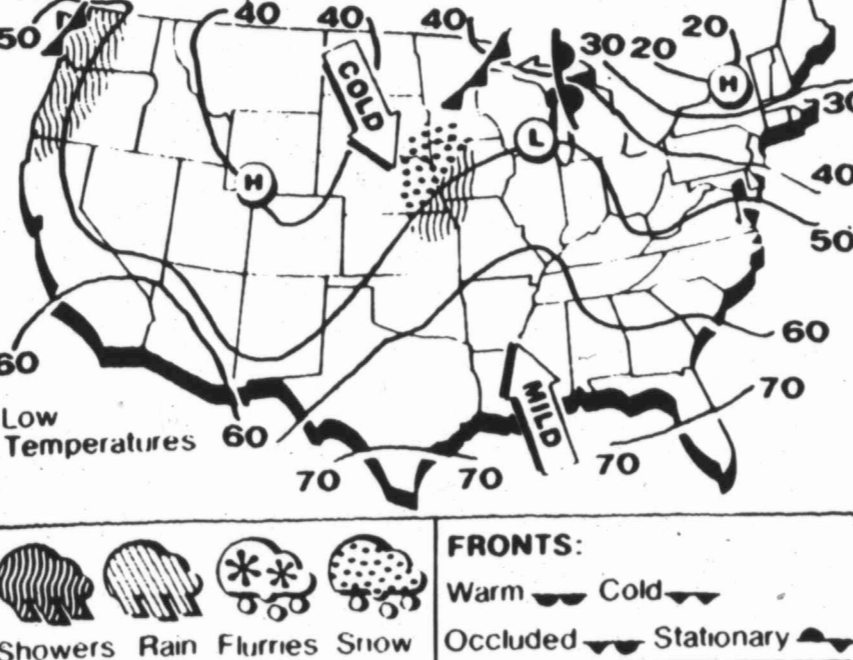

Thunderstorms were scattered from western and southwest Texas to the upper Mississippi Valley.

WEST TEXAS — Mostly fair. A little cooler central and southeast Sunday. Panhandle highs lower 70s. Lows upper 40s. South Plains highs mid 70s. Lows near 50. Permian Basin and far west highs near 80. "Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 7-13, is an ideal time to have your furnace and chimneys professionally serviced and repaired," said

Fire Inspector Burr Lea Settles.

Settles also cautioned residents to make sure they are familiar with instructions for fueling and operating portable heaters, wood-burning stoves and other heating devices.

Settles invited residents to call the fire department for free home inspections. The number is 263-8311, ext. 501.

Attorneys seek law changes

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell County attorney Pat Barber, who recently attended the TDCAA annual meeting said the Prosecutor Council was asking for changes in the certain areas of the criminal law procedure.

Barber is a board member of the Texas District and County Attorney's Association and a board member of the Prosecutor Council. The Prosecutor Council was created by the Texas Legislature as a judicial state agency with two major purposes, to continue education and discipline of Texas prosecutors.

The Prosecutor Council is a nine-member group includes four laymen and five state prosecutors, which are elected statewide for six-year terms. The council contracted with the TDCAA to present proposals during the meeting in Galveston last month.

The proposed changes are in the punishment verdicts, where the council is seeking to allow for a non-unanimous verdict on punishment only, for both felonies and misdemeanors, Barber said in a release.

Such a move would disallow for a retrial whenever a mistrial is declared during the punishment stage and not the guilty or innocence stage, he said.

Another change the council is asking for is in indictment and information defects. The new proposal would require the defense to make objections to indictment or information defects prior to trial, or waive further objection on the defects.

The last change Barber and the Prosecutor Council members are seeking is to amend the Speedy Trial Act

2 explosives experts dismantle hoax bomb

Explosives experts from Ft. Hood Army Base Thursday afternoon determined that a device resembling a grenade and confiscated by the Howard County sheriff's department earlier this week was not a functioning weapon.

According to Sheriff A.N. Standard, the two Army ordnance experts dismantled the hoax bomb in a few minutes and found the grenade empty of any explosive.

However, according to Standard, "the mere fact that the grenade had been tampered with is itself a violation. It is a federal violation to so design an instrument of that nature as well as a state violation."

The district attorney's office is examining the evidence in the case to determine what state charges can be filed against Bobby Joe Sowell, 32, of 2912 Cherokee, in whose possession the hoax bomb was found. Sowell was released on bond.

Deputies Thursday morning arrested a Big Spring man on suspicion of possession of marijuana under two ounces and possession of narcotic paraphernalia.

Standard said three of his deputies, Bill Shankles, George Quintero and Bennie Green arrested Walter Glen Johnson, 23, of 810 Andree at a residence after discovering four baggies of marijuana and assorted paraphernalia in a search. The paraphernalia included scales, papers, clips and an item that the office has sent to the lab for examination to determine what it is.

Johnson was released on $1,500 bond on the drug possession charge and $1,000 on the paraphernalia charge. Bond was set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

Deputies Quintero, Shankles and Texas Ranger Charles Brune Thursday night arrested the second suspect in a recent burglary in the Tubbs Addition. Arrested was Donald Frank Atkinson, 35, of 2706 S. Monticello. He was released on $15,000 bond set by Heflin.

Alfred Frank Zipperer, 20, of 1501 Scurry was transferred Thursday to the sheriff's office from the Department of Public Safety on suspicion of making alcohol available to a minor. He was released on $1,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

Angel A. Viera, 28, of 113 N.E. Ninth was transferred Thursday to the sheriff's office by the DPS on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. He was released on $1,000 bond set by Daratt.

Two men were transferred from the police department to the sheriff's office Thursday on suspicion of assault on a police officer. Both Lee Roy O'Brien, 36, of Route 3 and Steven O'Brien, 22, of Farmington, N.M., were released on $2,500 bond each set by Daratt.

Erick Paul Babin, 33, of General Delivery was transferred Thursday to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of criminal mischief. He was transferred to the Big Spring State Hospital.

Two women were transferred Thursday to the sheriff's office from the police department after being arrested in separate incidents on suspicion of DWI. Released on $1,000 bond each were Diane Jane Dow, 23, of 1506 Owens and Lisa Thompson, 18, of Route 3. Bond was set by Daratt.

Vincent Otto Peters, 19, of 1011 Rannels, was transferred Thursday to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of DWI. He was released on $1,000 bond.

Alicia Hernandez, 21, of 1002 N. Main was transferred Thursday to the sheriff's office from the police department on suspicion of second offense of failure to maintain financial responsibility. She was released on $200 bond set by Heflin.

Stanford, who said the furlough affected about 40 employees in SCS regional offices, said it "really disrupts a lot of ongoing operations. It would be better if it was possible to work it out before the deadline."

"It goes down to the wire or we get furloughed every year," Stanford said.

Both men were federal employees when the government furloughed employees for a half day in 1981 before Christmas because an appropriations bill was stalled in Congress.

Neither were optimistic that appropriations bills would be signed before next week, they said.

At the Social Security office, about five employees remained to help the public, while the remaining five or six were furloughed, according to a federal employee.

Supervisors at the Social Security office declined to comment, referring queries to its national press office.

Both the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and the Farmers Home Administration doors stayed open, their directors said. Both agencies are under the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"For once, they considered us essential employees," ASCS director Tim Hall said. The state office was closed, but the agency's county offices remained open because the agency is preparing for another sign-up deadline on Oct. 15 and must prepare groundwork, he said.

"Surprise! They considered us essential," said Steve Kelley, director of the two-person FHMA office in Big Spring. His clerk was on leave anyway, but would not have been affected by the furlough, he said.

After word that President Reagan would sign the temporary measure came from the White House, the word went out for all furloughed workers to report for work as usual today. And a House-Senate conference committee agreed the workers should be paid for their day off Thursday.

Dissident's health poor

MOSCOW — Zakhar Zunshein, a Jewish dissident serving three years in a prison camp on a charge of anti-Soviet activity, has lost 44 pounds and is in poor health, according to dissident sources.

The sources said Thursday they spoke to Zunshein's family after they visited him in the camp in Riga, capital of the Latvian republic.

Zunshein, 33, was sentenced in June by a Riga court on charges stemming from an incident in March when he, his wife and two other Jewish dissidents staged a brief street protest in Moscow at the Karl Marx statue opposite the Bolshoi theater.

Zunshein and his wife have been trying to emigrate to Israel since 1979.

Strike closes mass transit

REYKJAVIK, Iceland — A strike by public employees shut down Iceland's mass transit, closed liquor stores and disrupted contact with the outside world.

Most telephone and telex links with the North Atlantic island were cut Thursday, postal services were suspended and all schools and government offices were closed.

The state television and radio was off the air, and the only news from the outside came from a U.S. Army radio station on the island and a pirate station that was broadcasting news, music and advertisements. Newspapers have been closed for three weeks by a printers' strike.

Air services were operating and police, fire departments and hospitals were not on strike.

Rioters kill 10 in attack

DHAKA, Bangladesh — At least 10 people were killed, hundreds injured and thousands left homeless when rioters attacked Bihari relief camps, witnesses said today.

Police and government officials, however, said 11 people were hospitalized for injuries and no one was killed.

Man fined for fleeing

GLASGOW, Scotland — A Scotsman who fled to the United States in 1960 rather than face trial was fined 1,000 pounds Thursday after returning to Glasgow.

"What a relief it's all over," Frank McCafferty, 47, said of his 24 years as a fugitive. "I can stop looking over my shoulder for the first time in all those years."

McCafferty decided to move back to his hometown to begin a new life after he discovered that assault charges he had denied had been dropped.

McCafferty, who returned from New York in August a married man with three children, pleaded guilty at Glasgow's Sheriff Court to charges that he attempted to thwart the law.

43 seek asylum to West

BONN, West Germany — West Germany has barred visitors from its embassy in Czechoslovakia until Monday and says it cannot help the East Germans who have packed the building "to capacity" in hopes of gaining political asylum in the West.

In Prague, more than a dozen Czechoslovaks and East Germans stood outside the embassy's ornate iron gate today and read handwritten signs in German and Czech saying the embassy will be closed through Sunday.

Czechs who telephoned to ask about visas were told to try again Monday when the office reopens. Czechoslovak police guarded the building as usual, and it did not appear they had been reinforced.

West German spokesman Peter Boenisch said Thursday night that negotiations were under way with East Germany about the asylum-seekers, who reportedly number at least 43.

CHALLENGING OUTER SPACE — The space shuttle Challenger is launched from Kennedy Space Center early Friday morning and heads into space on its eight-day journey.

New frontiers

Challenger soars into orbit with seven aboard

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Shuttle Challenger soared spectacularly into orbit today with a record crew of seven on an Earth-surveying mission that includes the first space walk by an American woman.

During eight days in space, the crew of five men and two women will use radar, sensors and cameras to study the Earth's atmosphere and oceans and search for ancient lost cities. The space walk by astronauts Kathy Sullivan and David Leestma will allow them to practice refueling a satellite in orbit for the first time.

The spacecraft thundered away from its launch pad on time at 7:03 a.m. EDT, 14 minutes before dawn — its smoketrail brilliantly illuminated by the rising sun — and sped into the sky on a northeast path up the East Coast of the United States.

Challenger's ascent was traced by a bright flare arching through the sky seen 160 miles to the south in Miami.

As Challenger settled into orbit at 17,400 mph, mission commander Robert Crippen said, "That launch team did a really nice job. This is really a nice vehicle."

Astronaut Sally Ride, making her second space trip, added, "The consensus of the rookies on board is that the ride was worth three 'E' tickets." The reference was to the way Disneyland once charged for its rides, with an "E" ticket being the most valuable. On her first flight,

Ms. Ride said that the launch was worth one "E" ticket.

Liftoff came exactly one month after sister ship Discovery returned from its inaugural flight. That's the quickest turnaround yet between shuttle launches and is good news to NASA, which plans to send the space planes into orbit at a one-a-month rate for the next 14 months, accelerating that to 16 flights in 1986.

"We're off and running on a launch a month," said launch director Bob Sieck, who reported the countdown was near-perfect, with Challenger taking off just 43 milliseconds late.

The launching, as usual, thrilled tens of thousands gathered to view the fiery departure. Many will be back here on Oct. 13 when Challenger is to return to a landing on a runway just three miles from the launch pad. It will be only the second shuttle touchdown here.

On two occasions, bad weather forced the shuttle to divert its landing from Cape Canaveral to Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The commander both times was Crippen, and he vows, "We'll make it this time."

The seven crew members, equal in number America's original astronaut corps, the men who blazed the trail into space in tiny one-man Mercury capsules two decades ago.

Teen burns herself, dies

LATTINGTOWN, N.Y. — A 15-year-old girl who apparently committed suicide by setting herself on fire was popular, a varsity field hockey player and a member of the National Honor Society, according to officials at her school.

Nancy McCarthy was found burned to death in the backyard of her family's home in this wealthy New York suburb, police said Thursday. She apparently doused herself with rubbing alcohol, oil polish remover and gasoline before setting herself on fire Wednesday.

"She was very popular, and had a 100 percent attendance before yesterday," Louis Barlow, the assistant principal at Locust Valley High School, said Thursday.

Cadets get rule changes

COLLEGE STATION — New rules restricting punishment of underclassmen in Texas A&M's corps of cadets may lower the quality of the organization, the student leader of the group says.

The guidelines, instituted after a sophomore died of heat stroke Aug. 30 during a hazing incident, limit immediate punishment to 20 pushups, rather than the unlimited number permitted previously.

"A lot of the pressure has disappeared and a lot of respect has gone with it," corps commander Chuck Rollins said in a speech Wednesday.

Four students have been indicted on misdemeanor charges in the sophomore's death.

Convicted killer set free

VACAVILLE, Calif. — A man twice denied parole for refusing to agree to stay away from Stanford University, where he killed a professor with a hammer in 1978, could go free without restrictions next September.

The California parole board Thursday affirmed a second denial of parole for Theodore Stresleski, 48. Stresleski was freed on parole in March, imprisoned hours later for refusing to sign a pledge to stay away from the school, and denied parole a second time for another refusal to sign in September.

Stresleski's next parole hearing is set for March; he could again be denied parole then, but must be freed without restrictions on Sept. 8, 1985, when his prison term expires.

2 charged with murder

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Two men charged with murdering, kidnapping, and robbing two teen-age boys whose bodies were found in a vacant lot have pleaded innocent and face preliminary hearings Oct. 12.

George Ellis Wade, 23, and Victor Dewayne Taylor, 24, both of Louisville, were charged Thursday and ordered held in lieu of $500,000 bond.

The bodies of the youths, both 17, were found at the ankles and wrists when discovered Sunday.

Fairness issue is raised unfairly

There they go again. For the umpteenth time, critics of the Reagan administration are trotting out what some Democrats call the fairness issue: the charge that Reagan administration policies have enriched the wealthy and further impoverished the poor.

This time, it's a joint study by two subcommittees of the House of Representatives. The two Democrats who are chairmen of the subcommittees said the study indicates that disposable income has declined for poor families in the past four years because of the Reagan administration's tax and budget policies.

A news service story on the study said the Democrats' report was the latest in a series of skirmishes in a battle over why the poverty rate increased from 15 percent in 1982 to 15.2 percent in 1983.

The increase in the poverty rate that is so often cited by administration critics was determined by the Census Bureau through sampling techniques. An increase of two-tenths of 1 percentage point was described by the Census Bureau as not being statistically significant.

No one's taxes were raised by the 1981 tax cut approved by President Reagan and Congress, economists Martin and Kathleen Feldstein noted in an article recently. Martin Feldstein is the former chairman of the president's Council of Economic Advisers.

"To assess the impact of the Reagan tax act, the effect of the changes in the tax law must be separated from the effects of rising incomes, and that's just what Reagan's critics have failed to do," the Feldsteins wrote.

In addition, the critics can't escape the fact that no tax or budget policy adopted during the Reagan term could have become law without the approval of the Democratically controlled House.

Decisions by the independent Federal Reserve Board also influence the economy and, in turn, the financial condition of individuals. So do market forces that can't — and shouldn't — be controlled by government.

To gloss over such consideration in accusing the administration of catering to the wealthy at the expense of the poor is simplistic and unfair.

Beating the news

Michael Jackson's concert in Washington was really no big deal unless you turned on a television set or picked up a newspaper.

This is how all the local TV news programs seemed to play it.

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. Here is the news. Michael Jackson has just returned to his hotel room, after a visit to a record store in Northwest Washington. For a live report we take you to Brent Studebaker at the Regent Hotel where the singer is staying."

"Brent, do you have any information as to what Michael is doing right now?"

"Grady, our latest information is Michael is in his suite taking a nap before his concert tonight. We're going to get you a shot of the window of Jackson's suite on the fifth floor. There it is, Grady."

"Good work, Brent, we'll get back to you later in the program. And now for other news. Five thousand people were drowned in a tidal wave in Atlantic City, New Jersey, this morning. But before we give you further details on that story, Brent Studebaker has a bulletin from the Regent Hotel."

"Grady, I've received information from an impeccable source that Jackson has awakened from his nap and is taking a shower."

"Thanks, Brent, stay with it and let us know what he does when he comes out of the shower. In other news, Fidel Castro arrived in Miami today and asked for political asylum. The dictator escaped from Havana after cadets from the military school took over the government. We have a special report from Miami — no, delay that, we're going back to Brent Studebaker at the Regent Hotel. How does the situation look now?"

"Grady, it's quite calm here for the moment. Thousands of people have gathered in front of the hotel to get a glimpse of anyone from the Jackson family. Here is a T-shirt I just bought from a vendor and a Michael Jackson button."

"Thanks, Brent. Now this just in from Capitol Hill. A crazed gunman has taken over the floor of the U.S. Senate and is holding all 100 senators hostage until they meet his demands that they pass a bill outlawing seat belts on commercial airplanes. If we have time we'll try to get more information on the story. In the meantime, let's go back to Brent Studebaker who informs us that Michael Jackson is eating dinner."

"Grady, I've been in touch with room service, and Jackson ordered a grilled cheese sandwich, a glass of milk and apple pie a la mode. He gave the waiter a $5 tip."

"Did he sign the check himself, Brent?"

"We're trying to find that out now."

"And knowing you, Brent, I'm sure you will. Now this from the United Nations in New York. Taft Hiebner is standing live with Andrei Gromyko who has just announced the Soviets will come back to the Geneva arms talks under certain conditions. Come in, Taft."

"Mr. Gromyko, what exactly do you expect to tell the president when you see him?"

"Taft: Mr. Gromyko, forgive me for interrupting, but we have just received word that Michael Jackson is now leaving the hotel to go to RFK Stadium. We'll try to get back to you if we can ... Brent, is it true Michael is about to depart?"

"Here he comes now. Michael Jackson is in the second limousine exiting from the garage and should be at the stadium in 15 minutes."

"I can't see too well here, but did Jackson actually wave to the crowd?"

"Yes, Grady. He waved with his sequined glove. I think our camera crew was the only one who had it."

"Thanks, Brent, once again you've done a fantastic job. We'd like to advise our listeners that President Reagan's press conference, in which he plans to announce a shaking up of his Cabinet, will not be seen tonight so we can bring you Michael Jackson's arrival live from RFK Stadium."

The Navy's beachhead in Nevada

WASHINGTON — Land grabs by powerful, well-armed interests with scant regard for the law were fairly common in the Old West. Unfortunately, the practice still exists. Just ask the people of Nevada.

This time the land grabbers aren't railroad tycoons or cattle barons, but the military services of the United States. They're armed, not with six-guns, but with helicopters and supersonic fighters and bombers. Their arrogance and might are more than any latter-day "Shane" could overcome.

I've already reported how the Air Force illegally appropriated 139 square miles of the government-owned Groom Mountains in southwestern Nevada and set up "No Trespassing" signs, armed guards and helicopter patrols. The Air Force finally admitted to Congress that it had never obtained legal right to the property from the Bureau of Land Management — but no one has been so much as reprimanded for this violation of the law.

Now the Navy has steamed full speed ahead after its share of the Nevada desert. The admirals have asked for 21,576 acres of public land near the Fallon Naval Air Station to go with the 183,000 acres they sought there two years ago. The Navy is still drafting an environmental impact statement on the earlier request.

The Navy has also gained a foothold in public lands that are theoretically under wilderness-law protection. It has put radar stations in "wilderness study areas"

— public land that is supposed to remain untouched until Congress decides what to do with it.

The radar, installed by helicopter to minimize disruption to the wild area, helps Navy pilots keep score in practice dogfights. A Bureau of Land Management official told my associate John Dillon the Navy was given permission to put in the radar because the environmental impact was considered slight.

Perhaps the Navy's most ambitious expansion proposal is not a land grab but an "air grab." It wants the skies over 5,600 square miles of central Nevada closed to civilian air traffic for a "supersonic operations area." This patch of sky will be reserved for F-18 fighter planes based at Fallon.

Although much of the area the Navy wants the exclusive right to fly over is public land, it also includes privately owned ranches and towns, whose desert solitude will be shattered by as many as 100 sonic booms a day.

Dr. Richard Borgen of Fallon, who runs a flying health service, has gone to court to block the Navy's plan, which he suspects is a reincarnation of the 1974 Air Force-Navy proposal to restrict airspace in a triangle formed by Fallon and the Air Force's Nellis and Hill bases.

"A major project with major health implications for the entire state is being implemented in a piecemeal fashion," Borgen said, "without really addressing the need for it or what impact it will have on people. It's really a matter of doing to a few people what you can't do to a lot of people."

From a physician's point of view, he said, the sonic booms "amount to an uncontrolled experiment on human beings."

There have already been instances of military planes bombing the wrong targets — including an accidental attack in 1973 on a Fish and Wildlife Service headquarters near the Nellis base. And the Navy's own documents concede that any person straying into the restricted area — or any wildlife living there — would be in peril.

"Any structure, person or animal in the area could be exposed to possible destruction from air-launched ordnance," one report noted.

The Nevada State Parks Division described the expected sonic-boom impact with understatement, saying: "The flying of supersonic aircraft, in substantial increasing numbers, to within 100 feet above ground level will surely impact impact wilderness values."

PREDICTION OF THE WEEK: Confidential Federal Reserve Board sources warn that thousands of the nation's 14,700 banks could fail or be forced into mergers. This would cause an unhealthy concentration of the banking industry, with a handful of conglomerates controlling the nation's credit. Fed officials don't think this ominous possibility is far-fetched.

Resist temptation to sin

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: Will God forgive you if you break one of the Ten Commandments? I've always thought they were in a special category that we should be especially careful about breaking. — Mrs. B.N.

DEAR MRS. B.N.: First, let me say that I am curious about why you have asked this question. From what you say in the rest of your letter, I suspect that you are secretly being tempted to commit a sin that you know is forbidden by God in the Ten Commandments. (You will find the Ten Commandments in the Old Testament in Exodus 20).

You are hoping (in the old expression) "to be able to have your cake and eat it too" — that is, you hope you can get by with committing this sin, and yet still be forgiven by God later on so you will not suffer any consequences.

But this is a foolish policy, and I sincerely pray you will not yield to whatever temptation you are facing right now. It is foolish, first of all, because God gave the Ten Commandments (and His other eternal laws) to use for our good. When we break them, we eventually harm ourselves.

One of Satan's greatest lies is that breaking God's law will make you happier than keeping it. Another of his lies is that you can break God's law and never pay any consequences for it. Don't be deceived by these temptations. Yes, God can forgive us of any repentance there is no forgiveness. Yield your life to Jesus Christ, and determine in your heart that you will follow God's way. When temptations come, don't concentrate on them and think about them, but turn your mind to Christ and seek His strength.

Around The Rim

Nostalgic nonsense

Mr. Rockefeller's daughter said as she was boiling water, "They've got a lot of coffee in Brazil."

Nonsense. What utter nonsense. Frank Sinatra sang that song to a rhumba beat years and years ago. The only reason I know it is because my folks have it on one of those old, scratchy 78-rpm records.

My brother and I used to pull it out on rainy days along with "Shoofly Pie and Apple Pan Dowdy" and "Get up those stairs, Mademoiselle (whatever do you think you're doin' to me)." We loved them all.

At first, when contemplating today's column, I was going to point out there are no great nonsense songs these days. But friends said that Ray Stevens has been doing them for years. Remember "The Streak," "Ahab the Arab" and "Guitarzan"?

Then I was going to qualify it by saying there are no witty nonsense songs anymore, but friends came up with Weird Al Yankovic's Michael Jackson parody, "Eat it" ("You don't get no dessert 'til you clean off your plate, so ..."). Yankovic's song provoked a lot of wry smiles. But still, it's just not the same.

What could replace the Andrews Sisters singing "Rum and Coca-Cola"? Or the outrageousness of anything by Carmen Miranda?

Admitting that nonsense songs "back then" (meaning the '30s, '40s and '50s) were not all supreme examples of wit (remember "Mairzy Dotes and Doazy Dotes" and "How Much is that Doggie in the Window?") They weren't so much nonsense as outright silliness, I think the great majority of good nonsense songs owed a lot to their beat, which was usually jazz-based and latin. And the best ones dealt with what would be called "mature themes" these days, rather like a good Noel Coward play.

The fact is that it's hard to be scintillating with a driving tomtom backbeat like that of rock-and-roll.

This is not to take anything away from rock, but it represents a much more serious business than what music used to be. Teenage rebellion is rarely a laughing matter — at least it's not to teenagers, who buy most of the records.

Perhaps I should stop here before I'm accused — like the intellectual author who wrote several hundred pages on what makes people laugh, of "getting humor down and breaking its arm."

But still, it would be nice to turn on the radio and hear a song that doesn't take itself so seriously.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Dear Abby

Grandma says sex is price to pay for marriage

DEAR ABBY: "Mismatched" said that her husband would be satisfied with sex three times a week, but twice a month was enough for her.

With all the frank talk about sex these days, I'm surprised "Mismatched" didn't know that men are every-nighters, and women are once-a-weekers.

Her grandmother could have told her that marriage is the price a man pays for sex, and sex is the price a woman pays for marriage.

GRANDMA DEAR GRANDMA: "Mismatched" was not speaking for all women — only for herself. She didn't "know" that men are every-nighters and women are onceweekers because it's not a fact — it's hogwash that's been handed down from mother to daughter along with, "No decent woman really enjoys sex; it's just something she has to put up with." Also, "Men need sex more often than women do."

Grandma, sexual appetites vary. Not all men are once-a-nighters; some are once-a-weekers, once-a-monthers, and some not-at-allers. Nor are all women once-a-weekers. Women range from once-a-nighters and once-a-weekers, to once-in-a-blue-mooners.

Furthermore, the person who says that marriage is the price a man pays for sex must have been unconscious for the last 25 years. It is not necessary for men to marry to obtain sex. And to say that sex is the price women pay for marriage labels all women as prostitutes.

Today's woman marries because she wants to — not because she needs a meal ticket. And women no longer submit to sex — they are equal partners.

Letters and forms have been mailed to representatives of more than 140 clubs in the Howard County area. To ensure that each club or organization is represented in the directory, the form must be completed and sent in to the Lifestyle Department of the Herald by Oct. 22. A studio portrait of the club president may be published along with club information in the directory.

Dr. Donohue

Meniere's has many 'triggers'

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Please let me have your opinion as to what triggers attacks of Meniere's disease. — Mrs. H.B.N.

There are many known triggers for attacks of Meniere's, a problem involving the canal system of the inner ear that produces episodes of incapacitating dizziness, loss of hearing and ear-ringing. Sometimes an allergy is involved and attacks may follow exposure to the particular allergen. Allergy is a rare cause, however.

In some patients excessive use of salt leads to attacks. Other potential triggers include infections, thyroid disorders, pituitary gland disorders, and physical damage to the ear, as from injury.

But the great majority of Meniere's disease cases occur without any specific known cause. That's idiopathic Meniere's. Drugs such as meclizine, cyclizine, and atropine are used to treat the disease. If attacks become quite severe, surgery can be performed to drain the excess ear fluid.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Is hydrophobia the same illness as rabies? A Hydrophobia means fear of water. What is the connection? — F.L.

They mean the same. Hydrophobia was the old name, reflecting the severe throat spasms the victim developed when he tried to swallow anything, including water. While you don't hear the word hydrophobia anymore, rabies is still around. It has become much rarer because of the emphasis on pet vaccination against it in this century. There were less than five cases on average per year over the past 24 years.

The rabies virus lives on in wildlife, especially animals like skunks, foxes, racoons and bats. For those concerned about rats, rodents in general seldom have the virus; that's also true of rabbits. But even so, any animal bite should be reported to the local health agency as soon as possible.

One is not loneliest number for Dever

JOHN DEVER

By KIM KIRKHAM
Church Editor

John Dever wants to show young adults of Big Spring that one is not the loneliest number.

Dever, the 26-year-old leader of Young Singles Fellowship Club, says the reason he gets along with young singles is "it's where I am at." He, too, is single; however, he gets along with all people in all age groups, he says.

The club, a ministry of Christ Fellowship Church, is open to the community and began last spring. At first, "it was real slow" getting people to participate, Dever said. "I think it has been hindered partly because of the lack of unity in the community."

The club "is a very important part of what's needed in the community," said Dever. "It's gonna be people that make this thing work. Our church needed something like this," he said.

The club also ministers to the elderly. "The people in the nursing home appreciate it," said Dever. The club also ministers to people in jail and on the street. "What's really bold is going into a bar and literally preaching Jesus inside."

"It's time we were out literally cleaning the street off," he said. "We are young people that are going to be taking over the church (in the future)."

The club offers young singles a time to have fun. It also teaches them to be bold in witnessing for Jesus Christ, Dever said. People interested in participating in the group can contact Dever at 263-3168.

"I have contemplated going to an official (minister) training school in Tulsa called Rhema," Dever said. He previously served as a part-time junior high level Sunday School teacher at the First Baptist Church of Coahoma.

Raised in the Big Spring area, Dever says he came from a good home. "(My parents) had quit a bit of influence on my Christian life." He is a 1977 graduate of Coahoma High School and attended Howard College. He is a truck driver for Sunshine Express of Big Spring. He also enjoys repairing things. "Tinker is what I like to do," he said.

Women study 'The World's Uprootedness'

"The World's Uprootedness" was the second lesson in the fall study by the Women of the First Church of God. The group met Monday in the church sanctuary. The study was led by Betty Reagan, missionary education director.

The lesson's objective was to help the women catch a glimpse of the vast population of uprooted persons across the world, in the United States and in other communities.

The workshop was given by Ranea Loy, spiritual life director. She emphasized appropriate responses for people as they attempt to help uprooted people in their own areas of work and Christian responsibility.

Big Spring Women will host the West Texas District Prayer Retreat Oct. 26-27 at Camp Inspiration in Eastland. The first session will meet at 7 p.m. Oct. 26. Mickie Harrington will lead the first session. Ranea Loy will direct the group at 9 a.m. Oct. 27. The retreat's theme is "The Bible Speaks to Today's World."

The next meeting will be Nov. 5 in the church sanctuary.

Hymn title to be theme of revival

"I've Found the Answer", a hymn's title, will be the revival theme at East Fourth Street Baptist Church next week.

The revival will begin Monday and continue through Wednesday. Service times are 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday, and 12 p.m. to 1 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. Monday through Wednesday. A nursery will be provided.

Dr. Jerold McBride, pastor of the First Baptist Church of San Angelo, will be the evangelist. Kevin and Toni Warner will lead the music. Warner is the outreach missionary for East Fourth Street Baptist Church.

Members urged to bring families

The First Church of the Nazarene will continue its "People Reaching People" fall campaign with this Sunday's implementation to be "Reaching My Family."

Members are urged to bring as many family members as possible to share in the learning experience of the Sunday School hour at 9:45 a.m. and the worship services at 10:50 a.m. Featured in the morning service will be music by the Sanctuary Choir and a sermon by the Rev. Carl Powers.

A service at 6 p.m. will revolve around congregational singing, personal testimonies, music, prayer and a sermon by Powers.

Presbyterian Women to host meeting

The Coahoma Presbyterian Women will host the annual District meeting Oct. 20. Linda Goddard from Grace Presbyterian Church in Midland will speak on "Helps for Bible Studies".

Coffee and donuts will be served at 9 a.m. and the meeting will convene at 10 a.m. Afternoon workshops will begin after a luncheon in the church's Social Hall. Mary Martha Gerhardt of Marfa will lead a workshop on "committees", and Roberta Davis of Midland will lead the other on "aging".

Bible guide to oil

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A Salt Lake-based company claims the Bible will lead it to hidden oil reserves in Israel.

"What we are saying is, if there is no oil in Israel, then we don't have a Jesus, do we? If there is no oil, then the word (of the Bible) isn't true, is it?" said James Groover, president of Messenger III Corp. which is a major shareholder of Ford Oil and Development Inc.

Ford Oil, with no capital assets or recent operating history, says its common stock is selling well in the penny stock market among "churchgoers" who are hearing through word-of-mouth of the firm's plans.

"A guy will stand up in church and tell about it and maybe 10 people will respond and invest," said Groover, who said his Florida-based Messenger III deals in satellite transmission of religious television programs.

Groover said his firm is affiliated with several other Florida companies involved in the production and dissemination of religious material.

Despite Ford Oil's lack of assets and the long-term inability of geologists to find any significant oil reserves in Israel, the company's stock is selling at about 20 times its price of less than two months ago. The firm has about 32 million outstanding shares of common stock which were trading recently at about 50 cents a share.

Groover said in a telephone interview that most of the new stock owners are "people of like Christian belief" who have been persuaded that biblical research holds the key to the whereabouts of huge hidden oil reserves in Israel.

Gonzalez named to Texas Supreme Court

AUSTIN (AP) — Raul A. Gonzalez, the newest justice of the Texas Supreme Court and the first Mexican-American, promised Gov. Mark White that he would bring two things to the job.

"I'll give you hard work and honest decisions," Gonzalez said Thursday as White named him to the high court bench.

In making the appointment, White noted that Gonzalez is the son of migrant farmworkers.

"Raul Gonzalez remembers his earliest experiences as a migrant worker in Texas, and his appointment to the state's highest court demonstrates that the doors of opportunity are open to all persons in our state," White said.

"I am delighted that Judge Gonzalez has accepted this appointment, making this a historic day in Texas," White said.

Gonzalez, 44, has been an associate justice on the 13th Court of Appeals. He will complete the unexpired term of Charles Barrow, who stepped down from the Supreme Court last month to become dean of the Baylor University Law School. The term extends until Dec. 31, 1988.

The Texas Supreme Court is the highest state appellate court for civil and constitutional cases. Criminal cases go to the Court of Criminal Appeals. White said that Gonzalez, as the second of five children, worked with his parents harvesting apples in Washington, cotton in Arkansas, and tomatoes and apricots in California before the family settled in Weslaco, where Gonzalez completed high school.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Gonzalez received his law degree from the University of Houston Law School in 1966 and currently is working on a master's degree in judicial process from the University of Virginia Law School.

He was appointed to the 13th Court of Appeals in 1981. Before that, Gonzalez was a judge of the 103rd state District Court at Brownsville, a post he held from 1978 to 1980.

From 1969 to 1973, Gonzalez was an assistant U.S. attorney for the southern district of Texas, and was chief of the U.S. attorney's Brownsville division. He also worked as an assistant city attorney for Houston.

"His legal and judicial experience makes him uniquely qualified to serve on the Texas Supreme Court," White said.

White had been under some pressure to appoint a minority to the Supreme Court bench. In announcing the appointment of Gonzalez, the governor's office noted that White has named 153 Mexican-Americans to state boards, commissions and other positions.

Asked if he had specifically sought a Hispanic judge, White said he was looking only for "a quality appointment."

The governor said everyone he consulted about Gonzalez "said he was first class, and that's why I made the appointment." Gonzalez, who said he was a Democrat and would seek election when his Supreme Court term expires in 1988, was named to the 13th Court of Appeals by then-Gov. Bill Clements, a Republican.

"I did not ask to be appointed to that," Gonzalez said. "I did not know Gov. Clements at the time. I am a Democrat ... but when the brass ring came by, I hung on

Home sweet home proves strong tonic for San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Maybe changing from road uniforms to the home whites did it. The Padres suddenly played like the Cubs had, and for that matter, Chicago now was troubled by the same shortcomings which tripped San Diego when it was the visiting team.

San Diego's 7-1 victory Thursday over Chicago in Game Three of the National League Championship Series was a reversal of the Cubs' victories in Games 1 and 2 in just about every way:

—Alan Wiggins and Tony Gwynn, the Padres' one-two hitters, were 2 for 16 in the Padres' 13-0 and 4-2 losses at Wrigley Field. They were five for eight Thursday, with Gwynn collecting three hits and scoring a run and Wiggins knocking one in.

—Bob Dernier and Ryne Sandberg, the Cubs' first two batters, had one hit, a walk and a fielder's choice to show for their eight trips to the plate. In their first two games, they had combined for seven hits and seven runs.

—San Diego, hitting .183 after two games, raked Chicago pitchers for 11 hits. The Cubs, 24 of 67 (.358) in the first two outings, were checked on five hits by Ed Whitson and, in the ninth inning, Rich Gossage, who was called upon for the first time in the playoffs.

—In the first two games, no San Diego pitcher lasted more than four innings. Whitson went eight, walking only two and striking out six. His counterpart, Dennis Eckersley, was chased after five and a third inning, nine hits and five runs.

As a result, there is new life in San Diego, where the Padres were left for dead and face the herculean task of trying to win a championship after losing the first two games.

"I can't explain it," said Graig Nettles, who contributed an RBI single to the Padres' four-run sixth inning, tying a championship series career record of 18 RBI shared with Reggie Jackson. "It's a psychological game in some respects, and it may get to them. I hope it does."

"We knew it wouldn't be easy," Cubs' shortstop Larry Bowa said. "We know we have to come out Saturday and play well."

The Cubs still are in the enviable position of being one game away from a championship with a maximum of two left to play. Only one team in playoff history — the 1982 Milwaukee Brewers — has come back from a two-games-to-none disadvantage to win a best-of-five league championship.

Jody Davis followed with singles, but Whitson got Bowa and Eckersley to pop up and Dernier to line out to Garry Templeton, who made a diving stab that saved at least one run.

Whitson then settled down, using an effective palm ball to help set down 17 of the last 20 batters he faced.

"I think we have a little momentum going for us now," said Whitson, 14-8 during the regular season. "It's a chain reaction. You can see what happens."

His teammates, bats silenced by Chicago pitchers for 22 innings, blasted Eckersley in the fourth.

"We're going to start over tomorrow," said Chicago Manager Jim Frey. "If the score is 2-1 or 13-1, I don't think it has any effect at all. We beat them pretty good in Chicago, but it didn't seem to have any effect on them tonight, so I don't think this will have any effect on us Saturday."

The Padres did everything in Game 3 that the Cubs had done in the first two outings, getting key hits, Whitson's solid pitching and an errorless defensive effort.

The Cubs rapped out three hits in the second inning, but got home only one run. Keith Moreland led off with a double, and Ron Cey and Terry Kennedy and Kevin McReynolds led off with singles — the first hits of the playoff for each — and Templeton brought them home with a one-out double to left-center.

After Whitson popped up, Wiggins lifted a single to center, scoring Templeton to make it 3-1.

With Eckersley, 10-8 during the regular season, tiring in the sixth, the Padres broke it open. Gwynn led off with a single, took second on a groundout by Garvey and scored on Nettles' single, which prompted Frey to replace Eckersley with George Frazier.

CELEBRATING HOMERUN — San Diego Padres Kevin McReynolds (center) is congratulated at home plate by teammates Terry Kennedy (left) and Graig Nettles after knocking them home with his sixth-inning three-run homer Thursday night in San Diego. The Padres beat the Cubs, 7-1 in the third game of the National League playoffs. Chicago holds a 2-1 advantage.

Midland spikes Lady Steers' chances in district volleyball

MIDLAND — "We beat ourselves", were the words of a dejected Lady Steers coach Susan Sharp after her team blew a 13-8 lead in the deciding match and let Midland win 7-15, 15-13, 13-15 here Thursday night in a District 4-5A volleyball match.

It marked the second time in as many games that the Lady Steers have blown a large lead. Tuesday they had San Angelo down 10-2 in the first match, only to lose 15-12.

Big Spring made an uncharacteristic number of 19 errors and missed 16 serves as the Lady Bulldogs managed to dodge several bullets. Sharp said her team usually averages two or three errors per game.

Big Spring, which was tied for second in district play two games ago, has now dropped to fourth with a 4-4 record. Midland, which was not expected to be in the title chase moves to third with a 5-3 slate.

San Angelo Central leads the pack with a 8-0 mark while Midland Lee and Abilene Cooper are tied for second with 6-2 marks.

Big Spring will catch Lee in the confines of Steer Gym, but will have to battle Cooper and San Angelo on their home courts.

"Maybe it was a letdown from San Angelo," said Sharp. "We ran and tripped over each other, missed serves and made mistakes. Tab Green did the best job, no one else was into the game."

Green and Debbie Holguin were leading servers with nine points each. Tonya Ferguson and Shelia Chatman added seven each.

"We still have a chance to get in to the playoffs, but we'll have win the rest."

JV REMAIN PERFECT

The junior varsity Lady Steers kept their district slate unblemished 8-0 as they won in two straight, 15-8, 15-4.

Priscilla Banks and Sheri Myrick served seven and six points respectively.

The JV season record is 17-7 for the year and includes 15 wins in the last 18 contests. The team's last defeat came to San Angelo at a tournament last week.

Coach Elaine Stone cited "total team effort" for the victory.

Big Spring will be back in action Tuesday at Steer Gym when they host Odessa Permian. JV action starts at 6 p.m. while varsity play gets underway at 7.

Permian rolls over Sophs, 23-7

ODESSA — Big Spring's sophomores fell victim to Permian's second half rally here Thursday night, dropping to 2-3 with a 23-7 loss against the Panthers' sophomore team.

The Soph Steers lit up the scoreboard first when John Hart scampered 67 yards on the second play from scrimmage. The 7-0 margin held up throughout the first half.

In the second half Permian knotted things at 7-7 before exploding for 16 fourth quarter points.

Singled out for providing Hart's run with their blocking were offensive linemen John Moore, Mark Gomez, Robert Sumner, John Ramirez, John Meyer and Joe Beasley.

Defensively the Sophs were led by Meyer, Dan Wise, Sumner and Harry Marquis.

PERMIAN DOWNS JV STEERS
Fumbles, interceptions and penalties hampered the Steers as Permian won a 38-0 decision in junior varsity action.

The longest drive the Panthers had, covered only 55 yards. The Steers didn't manage much offense as James Johnson was leading rusher with 62 yards in 14 carries. Brad Hanlon caught three passes for 43 yards.

Linebacker Kevin Freeman led the Steers defense with 12 tackles. End Todd Badgett had 10 tackles. Stacy Kilgore, Vance Cole and Hanlon were also credited with good games.

Big Spring's JV record falls to 2-3 for the season.

FRESHMEN A LOSE HEARTBREAKER

The Freshmen A team got in a defensive battle with San Angelo Glenn in a game played in San Angelo that Big Spring dropped 6-0.

The lone score came in the second quarter when a Glenn defensive back picked off a pass and returned it 46 yards to paydirt.

The score was a big turnaround from last year when Glenn won in a slaughter, 62-0.

TOP BULLDOG — Danny Gambol threw and ran the Coahoma Freshmen Bulldogs past the Big Spring Freshmen B team Thursday night, 38-0. Gambol threw two touchdown passes and had an interception for another. See related story on page 2B.

Defensive heroes for the Steers were Matt Burrow, Brad Smith, Kyle Carroll, Joe Luis Peredez, Brad Smith and Danny Williams.

The Steers drop to 1-3 for the season. In other freshmen action Coahoma downed Big Spring B 38-0.

In a defensive struggle Coahoma tied Greenwood 12-12 in junior varsity football action Thursday night. The stalemate leaves Coahoma with a 3-1-1 record.

Coahoma did rally from a 6-0 halftime deficit to tie things at 6-6 in the third period. Jimmy King and Chris Parker teamed up for the score with Parker throwing to King for seven yards. The Rangers did go back on top, 12-6 just before the fourth quarter began. Parker once again went to the air and found Frank Galaviz for 46 yards and six points. Parker intercepted a pass for an apparent touchdown with two minutes to play, but the score was disallowed because of a penalty.

Parker led the charge with 99 yards on eight carries. Craig Wallace chipped in 75. Mike Sepeda, Scott Earnest and Randy Gee were cited for good offensive line work and defensive accolades were handed to Randle Crawford (15 tackles), Ismo Ontiveraz (13 stops), Gabe Morales, Paul Gonzales and Chris Wilson.

Runnels 'A' gets first victory

The Runnels A team notched its first win of the year, 30-0 over Brownfield Thursday at Blankenship Field in a fine offensive and defensive performance.

Runnels, 1-3, ran up 310 yards of offense while limiting Brownfield to 59. The Yearlings gained 282 on the ground. All of Brownfield's yardage came from rushing.

Runnels scored in every quarter and was led by Dennis Hartfield's three touchdowns. Hartfield, a flanker, rushed seven times for 121 yards. His first td came at the end of a 50-yard drive. Carlton Clark ran across the two extra points.

Hartfield also concluded a 70-yard march with a 10-yard run. Kiley Jones scored two and a 16-0 lead.

Jason Phillips, in his first start at quarterback, passed to Chris Covington for 25 yards a touchdown to end a 90-yard offensive. Kevin Pirkle scooted in for two.

Hartfield shifted to tailback in the final quarter and went 27 yards for Runnels' last points of the game.

Singled out for defensive effort were Doug Howell, Kevin Pirkle, Jeff Leal, Luz DeLa Santos, Margarigo Yanez, Kiley Jones, Marcus Rocha, Arterto Lopez, Kneel Stalings, Chris Mason and Fred Reid. Ed Urias, Chris Crownover and Jose Tovar were offensive standouts in addition to Hartfield, Clark, Jones, Phillips, Covington and Pirkle.

GOLIAD A TRIPS RUNNELS B — Terry Sanders scampered in from 24 yards in the third quarter and Goliad A downed Runnels B 14-8.

Goliad struck first in the opening quarter when Chris Cole scored from two yards out. Cole also added the two point conversion following Sanders' run.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SAT., OCTOBER 6, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early part of the day is good for getting at all of those chores of Saturday nature awaiting your attention, for shortly after, you will find some unusual situation arising.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Early handle personal affairs since later one from a distance can propose new interest for you to get into.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Early make appointments with friends, though later some delays could arise, but take them in your stride.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Early take care of any outside or civic tasks important to your welfare and then you can gab about town in the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Make sure you keep any promises you made to a new contact and later you can gain backing you want.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Study your books of account and get busy making collections and paying bills, and they will soon be behind you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Discuss moot points with another and come to a fine understanding at long last. Don't neglect to get your shopping done early.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 19) Study those duties you have neglected to do of late and polish them off very quickly and efficiently.

SCORPIO (Oct. 20 to Nov. 19) You need recreation today so plan it early and you can have a fine time, especially in the evening.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 20 to Dec. 21) Use your energy to get your home in tip-top condition now so that the future can be brighter there.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Make those visits quickly in the morning and use good judgment; then take it easy in the afternoon.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Important that you are very practical where finances are concerned today. Study your home and see what repairs you can make.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get at those personal affairs in the morning, when you are thinking clearly and are energetic. Enjoy friends in the evening.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will comprehend how best to turn imaginative thoughts into working realities, therefore it is important that your progeny have as fine an academic education as possible in order to make the most of the natural ability here. Don't push too hard at studies or there could be a martyr complex developed.
