How's that? Heritage

Q. How many years have we had the Heritage Museum in Big Spring?
A. The museum was organized in 1970. The museum features a number of exhibits and is housed in the historic home of Dora Roberts at 510 Scurry.

Calendar: Festival

TODAY

• The Big Spring Arts and Crafts Festival continues at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

• The GFWC-TFWC Big Spring Junior Women's Club will provide a babysitting service at the Arts and Crafts festival. Cost is $1 per hour per child.

• The Western Sportsman Gun Club will sponsor a big bore pistol match at 1 p.m. nine miles west of Big Spring on Andrews Highway. Hand loads must not be loaded more than 1100 fps.

MONDAY

• A course in martial arts will be offered at Howard College. It meets every Monday and Wednesday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Cost is $60. Instructor is Erwin Ballarta. Call 267-6311, ext. 315.

• Skateland will host a PTA Elementary Skate Night from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

• The Hillcrest Christian School will host a parent-teacher fellowship at 6:45 p.m. at Hillcrest Baptist Church.

TUESDAY

• The NAACP will hold a voters forum from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at Lakeview Elementary School.

• Spring City Senior Citizens Center will host its annual chili supper. Chili, stew, drinks and dessert will be served for $2 for adults and $1 for under 12. Serving is from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. in building 487, Industrial Park.

Tops on TV: Debate

Ronald Reagan and Walter Mondale debate again at 7 p.m. on all networks from Kansas City, Mo. After the debate look for the New Orleans Saints and the Dallas Cowboys on channel 2.

Outside: Cool

Highs today will reach the mid 60s with northeasterly winds, 5 to 15 miles per hour. A 20 percent chance of rain is in the forecast. Tonight, look for lows in the mid 40s.

Late News

Fire extinguished

A vacant motel building near the intersection of Gregg and Third streets was damaged by fire Saturday night.

Firemen said the blaze, which destroyed one motel room and caused smoke damage to another, was extinguished within five minutes after they arrived at the scene about 10:30 p.m.

The building, located behind the Roy Ford Law Office at 204 Gregg, is one of four buildings of an old motel no longer in business. The name of the motel was not known.

Three fire trucks responded to the blaze, which covered downtown blocks with a cloud of smoke. No injuries were reported, and the cause of the fire was not immediately known, firemen said.

OPEC faces oil price cut

By The Associated Press

OPEC, a cartel that for a decade called the shots on world oil prices, appears to have found itself at the mercy of outsiders for the second time in as many years.

The surprise turnabout comes at a time when OPEC had been expecting cooler weather to increase demand for oil, enabling it to increase production and revenue.

But an unexpected wave of price-cutting, which spread even to one of the cartel's 13 members last week, now threatens to force the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries to confront again what was once an unthinkable option — cutting prices.

So far, several OPEC ministers have said the cartel is more likely to lower production than cut prices.

But analysts said consumers in the United States could benefit by savings at the pump of as much as a dime a gallon if OPEC tosses in the towel on defending its official prices at an emergency meeting set for Oct. 29. Many analysts said savings of at least 3 cents a gallon were likely.

A burst of optimism that falling oil prices would spur new economic growth without the pain of increased inflation sparked an explosive rally late last week in U.S. financial markets.

"The markets are viewing this as a time for the crashing and burning of OPEC," said Donald Marsh Jr., senior vice president for energy at Chemical Bank in New York.

But Marsh said he disagreed with that view.

He said he interpreted the price cuts announced by OPEC-member Nigeria as a signal to independent oil producers Norway and Britain, the two nations that initiated the price-cutting, that attempts to steal cartel customers by undercutting prices would be met head-on, and that "one of OPEC's members and maybe more are ready to play hardball."

The price cuts on comparable blends of crude oil from the North Sea and West Africa were described by various analysts as the "three bombs" or the "three dominoes."

Norway moved first, saying Monday it would sell substantial portions of its oil at prices pegged to the going rate on the open market, resulting in cuts of up to $1.50 a barrel from the official price of $30. Britain followed Wednesday by cutting its price by $1.35 a barrel, to $28.65.

That prompted OPEC on Thursday to summon ministers to a special meeting on Oct. 29 in Geneva, Switzerland, to "discuss ways and means to defend the present OPEC price structure."

But within hours, debt-ridden Nigeria announced unilateral cuts of $1 to $2 a barrel, lowering its chief export blend to $28.

Insurance may rise for autos

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Howard County drivers who buy only the basic auto liability insurance required by law could see at least a $7 increase in annual premiums next year.

But those drivers who buy the "typical" policy that includes collision coverage would see a 6 percent decrease in annual premiums from $619 to $582 under a proposal released Friday by the State Insurance Board staff.

The insurance industry also released its recommendations Friday, under which the "typical" policy rate would go up 1.3 percent to $625.

The present basic rate of $149 a year would increase to $156 under the staff proposal. Under the insurance industry recommendation, that basic rate would climb to $171 a year.

Those rates would be the same for Ector, Midland and Scurry counties.

Other Big Spring area counties, and the proposed increases and decreases, are Mitchell, Sterling, Glasscock, Martin, Dawson, Borden — an increase from $106 to $112 for basic coverage and a 4.9 percent, or $26, decrease under the staff proposal and an increase from $106 to $125 for basic coverage and a 3.2 percent, or $17, increase under the insurance industry recommendation.

Those rates assume a motorist drives a 1984 low- to medium-priced Buick, Chevrolet, Ford, Honda, Mazda, Nissan, Oldsmobile, Plymouth, Renault or Volkswagen. They also assume the driver is a male over age 25 or a female at least 21 who does not use the car on the job but drives it to and from work.

Basic coverage required by law includes minimum liability only — $15,000/$30,000 for bodily injury and $15,000 for property damage.

The board has scheduled a hearing for Wednesday on the proposed rates, which were released Friday.

The eighth annual Arts and Crafts Festival got off to a picture perfect start Saturday as hundreds of people filed past the 187 booths lining the street level and main floors of the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

The festival continues today from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Mel Prather, organizer of the event, said he expects a larger crowd today than Saturday as individuals scurry to see crafts and paintings from artists who have traveled here from around the Southwest.

Prather could be found Saturday wandering through the festival, keeping an eye on booths and greeting patrons of the event. Putting together the festival "is not as much work as you might think," he

Taxes strike oil

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — As one of the state's biggest taxpayers, the oil and gas industry will be digging into its pocketbook to finance education reforms and highway repair recently approved by the Texas Legislature.

The industry accounts for about 30 percent of the sales tax revenues for the state, according to the state comptroller's office. Projecting that figure on the one-eighth cent sales tax increase, the industry will pay roughly $27.9 million of the $38.8 million raised during the first year of the sales tax hike.

In addition, the franchise tax increase approved by the Legislature will cost the industry about $24 million a year, said Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association President Bill Abington.

Even the nickel-a-gallon gasoline tax, which Abington said will be borne by consumers, is viewed by some other petroleum business spokesmen as a tax on the industry.

Local school district tax hikes are expected to take a big chunk of the industry's money as some school districts raise taxes to meet new mandates under the education reform legislation. Oil and gas producers pay about 24 percent of local property taxes statewide, an

Striking early blows before their final television debate, President Reagan charged Saturday that Walter Mondale's foreign policy record is one of "exposing us to dangerous, unnecessary risks," while the Democratic challenger accused Reagan's administration of illegal war actions in Nicaragua.

The two men limited their public remarks to paid political radio talks one day before their second and last face-off of the presidential campaign — a debate Mondale is hoping will help him chip away at Reagan's big lead in opinion polls as the campaign heads into its final two weeks.

Rains flood S. Texas

At least 500 homes in the South Texas town of Sinton were heavily damaged by flooding after a torrential downpour dumped 15 inches of rain in less than two hours, the Department of Public Safety said today.

In nearby Odem, at least 50 homes were damaged by flooding in low-lying areas and another 900 residents left their homes, authorities said. Three units of the National Guard were activated to assist in the evacuations, said DPS Trooper J.D. Kaelin.

However, the heavy rains mostly bypassed drought-stricken Corpus Christi and did not fall on a nearby watershed, located to the northwest of the city, officials said.

The violent storm, which hit Friday, spawned five tornadoes and was blamed for at least one death, Kaelin said today.

Richard Robling, of Odem, was killed Friday night when a tractor he was using to assist stranded cars hit a hole that had washed out of the pavement, Kaelin said. He suffered a broken neck when he was thrown from the tractor, the trooper said.

"There are still numerous cars abandoned on the road between Sinton and Odem, but we don't know if all the drivers are accounted for," Kaelin said.

At least 15 inches of rain drenched Sinton between 3:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. Friday, but most of the rainfall had ended by today, Kaelin said.

"We haven't had any significant rainfall since daylight," he said, adding that up to five feet of water covered U.S. Highway 77 between Sinton and Odem at the height of the downpour.

But the thundershowers, which dumped between nine and 20 inches of rain over wide areas of South Texas only reached the fringes of drought-plagued Corpus Christi and did not fall in the watershed, located to the northwest of the city.

"As best we know right now, it's all south and east of the watershed," said Doug Matthews, Corpus Christi public utilities director.

Corpus Christi is under a mandatory water rationing plan due to an almost two-year drought.

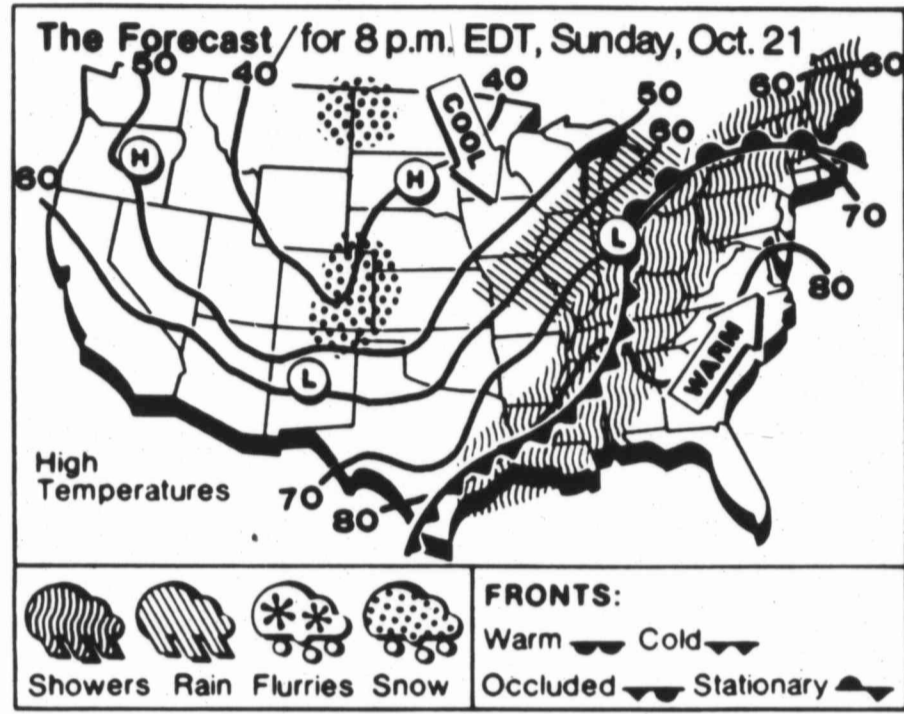

Students on their way to football games in Mathis, Orange Grove and Odem were stranded Friday in buses.

DPS commissions resident

AUSTIN — A 22-year-old Big Spring resident was one of 84 new troopers commissioned by the Department of Public Safety in Austin this month.

Trooper Curtis Becker of Big Spring, formerly a member of the Big Spring police department, has been assigned to the Andrews Highway Patrol station.

Becker underwent an 18-week course at the DPS academy in Austin before he was presented with his commission by DPS director Col. Jim Adams at a special graduation ceremony.

Rules asked on handicapped

Howard County Commissioners will consider new regulations for the handicapped in county buildings that could require renovation of existing restrooms and public telephones.

Linda Arsiaga, former secretary to Justice of the Peace Bobby West, also will appear before the court Monday. She said she will request severance pay if commissioners approve Lee Winchester's severance pay request. Ms. Winchester was fired last month by the Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

Other items on the agenda include the county engineer's discussion of Fairchild Petroleum in Midland and the county clerk's discussion of an appointment of the assistant election judge in Precinct 203.

The meeting begins at 9 a.m. Monday.

Kevin Hamlin, 17, and his younger brother, Duncan Hamlin, 14, of Big Spring have been accepted as junior members of the American Hereford Association, according to AHA Executive Vice President H.H. Dickenson.

The American Hereford Association, whose headquarters are in Kansas City, is the world's largest beef breed registry organization. More than 18 million head have been entered in its herd book since its founding in 1881.

Firemen list Halloween tips

The Big Spring Fire Department has suggested several lifesaving ideas for parents to keep in mind while planning for Halloween.

Among the department's suggestions for parents are:

- Avoid making costumes from paper or old sheeting — like for witches and ghosts — because they are extremely flammable.
- Look for labels in store-bought costumes that indicate they are flame proof.

• Be careful with Halloween and harvest season decorations. Keep them away from heat sources, candles and fireplaces.

The department also invites children on Halloween night to stop by neighborhood fire stations for treats.

Two killed in chopper crash

FORT STOCKTON (AP) — Both men aboard a U.S. Customs Service helicopter were killed Saturday when the aircraft crashed and burned, the Department of Public Safety said.

The Cobra helicopter, based in El Paso, went down at 12:12 p.m., one-half mile west of here, said DPS spokesman Larry Todd in Austin.

The victims were identified as Morley Miller, 52, and John E. Hollingsworth, 37, said U.S. Customs Service spokesman Charles Conroy.

"The probable cause of the crash was a malfunctioning engine," Conroy said. "We have investigators at the scene now to determine the actual cause."

He said Miller was stationed in El Paso and Hollingsworth in the Big Bend area.

Kevin Hattenbach of 1806 E. 15th told police Saturday afternoon that someone had damaged his 1978 Pontiac while it was parked at his residence between midnight Friday and 10 a.m. Saturday.

Hattenbach said about $600 in damages to the vehicle was caused in the incident.

David Smith of 508 E. 12th told police that tools were stolen from his vehicle while it was parked outside of his house sometime Friday night. Reports show about $378 in tools were taken from the vehicle.

Chris Graham of 1309 Gregg told police a man he didn't know grabbed his clothes and threatened to hurt him outside of Taco Villa at 1501 S. Gregg shortly after 11 p.m. Saturday.

Enrique Garcia of 803 W. 18th told police early Saturday morning that someone painted over two of his vehicles while they were parked outside his residence late Friday night.

Garcia told police a 1973 Pontiac received about $400 in damages and a 1981 Chevrolet received about $400 in damages in the incident. Nothing else was bothered in the incident, Garcia said.

Police alerted repairmen from Energas at 5:10 a.m. Saturday to a major gas leak in the area of McDonalds on Interstate 20 and Highway 87. Police stood by to offer assistance while repairs were being made, reports show.

Kathy McDaniel of 1709 Aylford told police Friday night that someone had broken into her home and taken $375 in miscellaneous items and about $40 in currency and change.

Arrested Friday night was Robert Platte, 22, of Route 1. Platte was arrested for failure to maintain financial responsibility.

Police arrested Lisa Gayle Fryar, 19, of Lamesa for making alcohol available to a minor. She was transferred to Howard County Jail and placed under a $200 bond, which was later posted.

Police arrested Kelly Dean Chesworth, 19, of 3205 Drake for making alcohol available to a minor. He was transferred to county jail, placed under a $200 bond and released.

The Sillings have been traveling the 500 miles to Big Spring yearly because of the quality conditions here, Mrs. Sillings said.

"This is a good show and well run. People here are friendly. I go to a lot of shows where conditions are not so pleasant," she said.

The Sillings travel around the Southwest to about 15 such shows a year and are planning to expand their traveling schedule. They make their living working with stained, beveled and etched glass.

It wasn't always that way. Mrs. Sillings, who is confined to a wheelchair because of a traffic accident during her youth, was a police dispatcher for many years. Her husband was an electrician.

"This began as a hobby," she said. "We were interested in it, and it grew from there. We took classes in it, then went on to find out all we could about it. We've studied with different people."

Seated inside her booth surrounded with samples of her craft, Mrs. Sillings remembered: "We live in the area where Hurricane Allan struck in August of 1980. It destroyed our home."

Sillings decided rebuild most of the home himself. It was so time-consuming that the couple decided to quit their jobs and try their hand at being professional craftsmen.

"We had wished that we had enough courage to make a business out of it," Mrs. Sillings said, looking up at a piece of glittering glass hanging near her. "We decided to give it a try, and so far, it's gone well."

She admits that the couple struggled in the beginning to make a living with their craft. But today they have a studio at home and are getting by as comfortably as before they quit their jobs.

And being a craftsman herself, she said, "When you do a craft, the time you spend on it alone is staggering. I don't see how anyone could not be interested" in the art show.

There is no charge to view the arts and crafts displayed at the festival. All booth space was sold out this year, and Prather managed to squeeze in an additional five booths for people who have been on waiting lists for several months.

And next year's event is guaranteed, Prather said, because participants have already purchased every booth space available.

Taxes

industry spokesman said. Since many legislative changes are phased in, some spokesmen said it is too early to calculate the related local tax hikes.

"We don't know yet what the impact of the local property taxes will be," Abington said.

In addition to being a big property taxpayer, oil and gas property has been valued at levels much higher than other categories. In 1983, single family residences in Howard County were taxed at 79 percent of their market value while oil, gas and mineral property were taxed at 106 percent, according to a State Property Tax Board study.

Also, wealthy districts — generally those with a lot of oil and gas property — lose state money through the new school finance formula. Since many of them will raise taxes instead of cutting their budgets to compensate, much of the brunt again will fall on the industry, said Dr. Tom Haywood of the North Texas Oil and Gas Association.

"It's clear from a simple analysis that (the industry) will be paying a disproportionate share" of the legislation's cost, he said.

But none of the industry spokesmen seemed bitter.

Haywood said his group brought Ross Perot, who led the Select Committee on Public Education, in to speak about the reforms before they were approved by the Legislature.

"He turned the members of the association on. They realized immediately what the fiscal implications were and they supported, by-and-large, the education package," Haywood said.

"I have not heard any regret from non-educators," Haywood said.

dale came across better in the earlier confrontation. Since then, Mondale has gained ground in some polls, with a new CBS News-New York Times survey saying the Reagan lead has been halved from 26 to 13 points and with the Louis Harris poll putting the margin at 9 points.

However, polls for NBC News and USA Today still show a huge, 25 percentage point lead for the Republican president.

Spokesmen for both camps say the final face-to-face confrontation isn't vital for their chances in the election. But in light of Reagan's big lead, whatever the margin, Mondale would seem to face a very tough effort in catching Reagan by Nov. 6 if the president bounces back from his earlier performance and emerges a clear winner Sunday night.

The two men broke little new ground in their Saturday remarks. Mondale said he didn't doubt Reagan's good intentions in foreign policy.

"But good intentions are not enough — as the record makes tragically clear," he added. "Virtually every day brings new evidence that nobody's in charge."

Forever lost

Ghost of Beirut haunts Marine bomb attack

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — "Forever lost." The words are scrawled in spray paint on a basement wall that still stands. All around is litter — bits of things that once were personal belongings — and thousands of sandbags disintegrating in the sun and rain, the sand seeping out of them to become part of the bloodstained soil.

This is what remains of the U.S. Marine camp in Beirut a year after a suicide truck bomber killed 241 Americans as they slept that sunny Sunday morning Oct. 23, 1983.

Just one story remains of the four-story headquarters of the Marines' Battalion Landing Team. Scattered in the rubble — still there after a year — are remnants of fatigue uniforms, torn plastic bags from packaged military meals, and scraps of government forms, newspapers and books.

Lying in one pile of debris, the front page of the Opelika-Auburn News in Alabama carries the big story of Oct. 3, 1983 — a flood in Arizona. Nearby is a decaying paperback book, The Executioner 21 by Don Pendleton.

On the walls, next to scribbled messages of bravado, anger or confusion, some men left nicknames and hometowns: "Louie R., South Philly;" "Big Orgy, Detroit, Mich.;" and the inevitable "Kilroy was here."

The fighters from the Shiite militia Amal have removed many of the sandbags to use elsewhere and broke apart some of the Marines' bunkers for no apparent reason. Some sandbags have simply fallen victim to the blistering sun, and others are falling apart in autumn rains that came earlier this year than last, putting a chill in the October air.

The encampment is deserted, except for four Lebanese army soldiers living in a building where the Marines once had their main offices.

It was 6:20 a.m. a year ago when the suicide driver crashed his cargo into the lobby of the landing team headquarters, reducing it to a single story of rubble. More than 300 men had been asleep in the building.

Reporters who arrived minutes after the explosion found that Marines digging for buried comrades had already been joined by British and Italian troops, who with the Americans and French made up the multinational peacekeeping force. Even Shiite Moslem militiamen, who had sometimes fought the Marines, sent ambulances.

Maj. Robert Jordan, the Marine's chief spokesman at the time, emerged from the dust and smoke to talk to reporters. He had been helping in the rescue work and his arms were spattered with blood.

"I haven't seen carnage like that since Vietnam," the 45-year-old Marine officer said.

It took days to sort out the names of the dead and wounded because the building had been used as a sort of dormitory for servicemen in transit and because some Marine records were buried in the rubble.

Once the search for victims was over, the Marines began digging ditches and putting up earth mounds around the rest of the camp. Tar-filled barrels and more piles of earth created twisting roads to keep any car bombers from reaching targets. Some Marines lived in bunkers dug below ground, and steel shipping containers were sunk to serve as shelters.

Everything was surrounded by piles of sandbags. Before the Marines pulled out of Lebanon altogether in late February, Staff Sgt. Edward Peerenboom, 27, of Milwaukee, Wis., jokingly estimated the men had filled "about a million sandbags."

Mortician steals bodies

LINCOLN CITY, Ore. — A mortuary owner was charged with first-degree theft Friday after 16 bodies that were supposed to have been cremated or buried were found by authorities in the garage at the mortuary.

Dale Omsberg, 34, owner of Omsberg Pacific Mortuary, was charged but later released to be transported to Portland Adventist Medical Center for psychiatric evaluation.

Syrup suspect charged

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. — A 21-year-old man who confessed to emptying 400,000 gallons of corn syrup from railroad tankers has been charged with 34 counts each of criminal mischief and conspiracy, police said.

James Francis Polarine said he and two juveniles emptied the 27 cars on Sept. 3 so they would "remember this Labor Day," police said Friday. The quarter-mile sticky mess that resulted has cost seven companies about $840,000, authorities said.

Fired worker kills boss

CHICAGO — A man who was fired from his job at a tire store returned with a handgun and a butcher knife and killed the assistant manager and wounded two other employees, authorities said. One survivor had to pull the knife from his body before crawling to a phone to call police.

Grenada invasion questioned 1 year later

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. invasion of Grenada? That tiny, Marxist-run island of nutmeg and sugar, somewhere north of Venezuela? The very idea, said White House spokesman Larry Speakes, was "preposterous."

But the next day, Oct. 25, 1983, President Reagan announced that American forces had landed on Grenada in a "rescue mission" to save hundreds of medical students and other Americans, and to restore law and order to a country run by "leftist thugs."

Since then, Reagan has rarely missed a chance to point to the exercise as the foreign policy triumph of his presidency. When Vice President George Bush debated Geraldine Ferraro earlier this month, he called the Grenada operation "a proud moment" of the Reagan administration.

But that moment had its dark side.

The invasion forces killed 24 Grenadian civilians, including 21 in what the State Department called the "unfortunate" bombing of a mental hospital. An estimated 280 civilians were wounded.

Oil price cuts mixed blessing

Physics tells us that for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. Consumers are rejoicing in the wake of oil prices cuts and erosion of the cartel that has propped them up. But in oil-producing centers such as ours, the news brings concern for jobs and local economies.

Nigeria's government-owned oil industry cut its oil export prices by $1-$2 a barrel on Thursday, following the lead of rivals Norway and Britain earlier last week. The rest of Nigeria's cartel — the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries — may be forced to match these cuts. If so, world oil will have dropped in price by about 5 percent.

Oil price cuts are cause for consumer rejoicing. Who wouldn't welcome lower gasoline and utilities costs? Nations, too, are celebrating. Economists are predicting newfound financial health for Europe. The U.S. stock market soared in what was called an "explosive rally" Friday and a vice president for Chemical Bank in New York alluded to "the crashing and burning of OPEC."

Rejoicing is not universal, however. Independent oil producers know that oil drilling costs won't drop. Since profit is the difference between what a product costs and what it sells for, lower oil profits will mean a reduced margin of profit. Less profit makes oil exploration less attractive to investors, and thus oilfield activity drops. Reduced oilfield activity means less money to the economy and fewer jobs.

When oil prices skyrocketed in the 1970s, nations and individuals responded to "OPEC blackmail." Fuel efficient automobiles became popular, home temperatures were kept at more economical levels and energy consciousness became the new buzzword. Nuclear and other substitute power sources gained attention and producing nations stepped up their search for oil.

Independents — such as in the Permian Basin — were able to explore almost at will because the payoff on producing wells was so great. Activity was feverish and the industry rich. But as energy-conservation and exploration efforts paid off, and as a cooling economy dampened general industrial activity, demand for oil dropped. Other factors came into play, too: the windfall profits tax, and the move toward refining overseas rather than in U.S. refineries.

The 1980s bonanza in the oilfields ended, and with it went many of the new jobs that had been created by the boom. Erosion of oil prices would spell new sluggishness in the local oil economy. Basic physics once again proves itself: The good news brings a measure of bad.

Myth makers

The spectacle of political candidates squabbling about Social Security is not one to strengthen the case for democracy, or even the case for evolution. But, like the falling leaves, it does spare witnesses the need for calendars. Thanks to the spat between Ronald Reagan and Walter Mondale on this subject, we know the election is nigh.

How do you know when a politician is misleading you? Easy: any time he utters the words "Social Security" or "Medicare." Sometimes, granted, what he or she says will be true — but it won't be the whole truth.

First, there's the question of who cut what. Mondale blustered that Reagan had tried "to cut Social Security benefits by 25 percent, reducing the adjustment for inflation, cutting out minimum benefits for the poorest on Social Security, removing educational benefits for dependents ... with widows trying to get them through college."

Mondale knows any politician who proposed to cut retirement checks by 25 percent, as his statement implied, would be committed to a mental ward. The 25 percent refers to the total reduction of costs in the three Social Security programs: from all the cuts the President has ever proposed, and wouldn't amount to that much for several years. Over the first five years, the cuts would have been less than 10 percent.

Reagan did propose cutting benefits to people retiring before age 65 (a group that wasn't covered at all until 1966) in an attempt to stop the costly epidemic of early retirements, but Congress balked. He also asked for abolition of the minimum benefit, a notorious windfall to federal retirees.

The minimum benefit was scrapped for new retirees, and student survive: benefits were eliminated — both with the agreement of Congress, one house of which is controlled by Mondale's party, but which somehow escaped the candidate's wrath. And what's wrong with these cuts? Well-to-do families can protect their kids against the death of the breadwinner with insurance; poor ones can get other kinds of federal student aid.

The administration was brusquely refused when it asked to postpone the 1982 cost-of-living adjustment for three months. But Congress and the president postponed the 1983 adjustment by twice that long.

Reagan, however, is also guilty of torturing the facts. He vowed never to permit "a reduction of the Social Security benefits to the people that are now getting them," a promise later broadened to include future recipients. But he knows that, thanks to inflation, real benefits can be cut without cutting dollar benefits — and, in fact, were cut in 1983 by the president and Congress. And Reagan falsely denied trying to pare Medicare spending.

These measures are nothing to apologize for. Retirement benefits rose much faster than inflation during the 1970s, so an adjustment makes sense — particularly when the federal budget is growing so fast. Social Security is not insurance but a transfer program, which should be subject to the same constraints as others.

Medicare is especially in need of a fiscal overhaul. Its costs have quadrupled in the last 10 years, and it is expected to run out of money within the next 10. The Reagan administration has offered some needed changes.

Let cameras in the courtroom

An infamous Texas case is to blame for much of the lingering stigma against cameras in courtrooms. The courtroom circus called State of Texas vs. Billy Sol Estes so marred the thought of photographic trial coverage that cameras have been slow to regain acceptance. But that was two decades ago. When will photojournalism be forgiven?

The Estes case is probably what the Judicial Conference of the United States called to mind when it decided to continue the ban on television and still photo coverage of federal court proceedings.

Cameras in the courtroom, the report said, "risk the transformation of judicial proceedings into media events and jeopardizes the required sense of solemnity, dignity and the search for truth."

A "media event" precisely describes Estes' 1962 pre-trial hearing. The trial judge allowed the hearing and trial to be photographed and televised. He did so over Estes' objection and with little control. The New York Times described the scene at the pre-trial hearing in Smith County this way: "A television motor van, big as an intercontinental bus, was parked outside the courthouse and the second-floor was a forest of equipment. Two television cameras (were) set up inside the bar and four more marked cameras were aligned just outside the gates. ... Cables and wires snaked over the floor."

Photographers reportedly "roamed unchecked about the courtroom." When Estes' attorney moved that all cameras be excluded from the courtroom, a cameraman walked behind the judge's bench and snapped his picture.

Such was the scene at the celebrated trial and because of the media's overpowering presence, the Supreme Court ruled that Estes had been deprived a fair trial. Chief Justice Warren declared, "The right of communications media to comment on court proceedings does not bring with it the right to inject themselves into the fabric of the trial process to alter the purpose of that process."

Precisely. The news media is there to record a public trial, not to shape or alter it. To assume, however, that to allow photo coverage of trials is to invite a return to the nightmare of 1962 is to ignore the advances in technical sophistication in two decades.

Sensible ground rules, established by good faith cooperation between the media and the courts, have produced workable arrangements for intelligent coverage in many states' courts — 41 to be exact — while retaining courtroom decorum.

The truth is that cameras these days don't have to be intrusive. They can operate without flood lights and with focusing lengths that cover a wide range of activity from a fixed position.

People need more access to the court system, not less. If every individual attended at least one public trial in his lifetime, the fear of the courts and the mystique of the judicial system would be sharply reduced. Too often, the courts are viewed as places to avoid. They are where you go if you're in trouble. And that's a shame. Because the courts are the essence of the human experiment.

The courts are a short course in American jurisprudence, taught like no textbook ever can. They embody basic American principles — justice, fair play and basic human rights — and dissect human frailty as no sociology lecture could ever hope to.

As public events, all trials in the country are open to reporters of any news medium. And since people normally don't attend, news accounts are their only source of trial information. For the print media armed only with pen and notepad, there is no coverage limitation; for newspaper cameramen and television news reporters, and radio reporters who wish to record proceedings, the instruments of their work are prohibited, and thus the medium is effectively excluded.

But public scrutiny — based on print, TV (sans film) and radio reports — is sometimes national in scope and this has not "inhibited (witnesses) from coming forward," as the conference report claims camera coverage would.

Given proper guidelines, self-restraint and the state of the art in photography, courtrooms can be opened to all media — with all their trappings — without jeopardizing trial proceedings. In 1984, I can think of no valid reason for excluding photographic coverage of trials — except, perhaps, the convenience of the court.

Cheating yourself

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: There is a boy who sits next to me in class who is always cheating. As a result, he always gets a lot higher grades than I do, and with a lot less work. I don't suppose you would be in favor of me cheating, but is there really all that much wrong with it? — K.J.

DEAR K.J.: Don't give in to the temptation to cheat. For one thing, on a practical level, it can only hurt you in the long run. For example, if you were discovered cheating, it could have serious consequences and would always be held against you. But even if you never got caught by your teacher, eventually you would be caught by life. This boy will someday face a situation in which he needs to know how to do something — and he won't be able to do it because he cheated and never learned the skill in school. In

Around The Rim

Vote for me

By KEITH BRISCOE

Keith Briscoe for president. I like the sound of that. I hadn't seriously thought of running for the chief executive's job until a colleague mentioned the possibility earlier this week in her column.

On inauguration day in 1988, I'll be 35 years old. That makes me qualified on one point at least.

What about substantive issues? I don't understand the national debt, but then neither does Reagan. I've been to Eastern Europe, Cuba and Israel. Reagan can't say that.

I don't have as much hair as Reagan sports, but Ford and Eisenhower had a paucity on their pates, too.

Platform? You bet. Socialized medicine, guaranteed employment, nationalized utilities, luxury taxes and windfall profit taxes, restricted capital investment, compulsory union labor, a trillion-dollar defense budget, strict environmental protection measures, complete separation of church and state and freedom of choice in all truly individual matters.

A gefilte fish in every pot! By God, I'm getting excited about this. I mean, why not? I'll be 35, I've never committed a crime (at least never been convicted of one), and I've got a college degree.

I'm the grandson of immigrant families, my father and uncle both are World War II vets and former professional baseball players, and my mother became a bank executive long before anyone heard of the Equal Rights Amendment.

I'm as American as Matzoh ball soup. Isn't it about time this country had an atheist, socialist government?

If Reagan wins re-election, I'm a shoe-in for the job in '88. After four more years of this Administration, the American people will be so ragged from poverty and hunger, privilege and elitism that they'll be crying out for a new vision.

And I've got vision. At least with my glasses on. I don't have much money, but a grassroots campaign started right now in Howard County could propel me in four years to my rendezvous with destiny.

Come on. Jump on the Briscoe bandwagon. You won't regret it. Cast your ballot now.

Briscoe in '88.....

ST. LOUIS, S.D. (AP) — Geore Cunningham, the Democratic U.S. Senate candidate in South Dakota, got some foreign aid recently. But it wasn't any help at all in his bid to unseat Republican incumbent Larry Pressler — in fact, it ended up costing him.

The Cunningham campaign received a contribution in the form of an Israeli check for 10,000 shekels, sent by an old friend of the candidate who now works in the Mideast, said Cunningham aide Sondra Carter.

A shekel isn't worth much these days, as Ms. Carter found out when she checked at the library. What with the poor state of the Israeli economy, the 10,000 shekels equaled about $11.

She took the check to the bank anyway, "and it cost me $15 to find out that it was not redeemable outside Israel," Ms. Carter said.

WEST MINERAL, Kan. (AP) — Big Brutus is back in business — and heading for a life of leisure instead of hard labor.

When the giant coal shovel was shut down in 1974 and left idle next to a strip-mine pit it had dug, it looked like its useful life was over.

But on Monday, a group of southeast Kansas residents will begin cleaning, fixing and painting Big Brutus, which was turned over to the group last week by the Pittsburg and Midway Coal Co.

The residents, who call themselves Big Brutus Inc., says the shovel is the world's second-biggest at 5,500 tons and 160 feet high — big enough to become a tourist attraction.

Invasion of girls' athletics

The BSHS volleyball team is tied with Midland Lee for third place in the district championship. To support our winning girls, you are encouraged to attend the last home game of the season. It will be Tuesday at 6 p.m., hosting Abilene High.

So, who's the outstanding player? The team Coach Susan Sharp explains, "I have no one outstanding player. At one time or another, each is outstanding. These girls are consistent, good at playing team ball."

In 1945, Coach Arah Phillips, now named "Mother of modern-day girls' athletics", started the first volleyball team at BSHS. In the Phillips Era BSHS had 175 wins, 72 losses, six district titles, two regional titles and one State title.

Explainer Ellouise Carroll Swinney and her teammates, playing in 1951-1954, were first to win three district titles. Swinney reminisces, "Miss Phillips was a strong moral coach. She cared for each of us. She made sure we always appeared like ladies and taught us good sportsmanship. She really mother-henned us!"

Arah Phillips transferred to Howard College to begin a volleyball team there and Anna Smith continued in her winning ways at BSHS for four years after. Arah Phillips is now in Cowper Hospital after suffering a severe stroke.

Says Swinney, "Volleyball has come a long way since I played at BSHS 35 years ago. Girls who played volleyball were the only girl athletes in school. Girls have a broader choice of sports to participate in now."

Now women have invaded every man's sport available except football. But don't be too shocked, guys, if someday...Time is running out. The quarterback takes the snap from center, drops back into the pocket and with no time to subterfuge, fires a long, long pass aimed at the goaline, at a spot where his wide receiver is sprinting a fly pattern and the ball should converge. The ball comes down, the wide receiver goes up...and...she's got it! She's got it! She darts into the end zone—the first Super Bowl heroine!

New Grapefruit 'Super Pill' Gives Fast Weight Loss

No Dieting - Eat All You Want Pill Does All the Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special) An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

"Pill Does All the Work" According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs." It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately.

Pill Has ALL Daily Vitamins The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill". It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Contains Japanese 'Glucomannan' Each pill also contains an amazingly effective amount of "glucomannan", the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public You can order your supply of these highly successful "super" grapefruit pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail order only) by sending $12 for a 14-day supply (or $20 for a 30-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Citrus Industries, 9903 Santa Monica Bl., Dept. 842, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. FHA sponsors Halloween Dance

There will be a Halloween carnival on Saturday at Elbow elementary. A pre-carnival dinner will be offered in the cafeteria at 5:30. The menu will be turkey and dressing. Dinner tickets will be sold for $4. The carnival will begin at 6:30, lasting until 9 p.m. It will be in the Elbow gym. Tickets are 25 cents each or five for a dollar. Some booths that will be at the carnival are the cap wald, football toss, shuffle board, and many more.

Friday night, FHA sponsored the Halloween Dance. Members are asked to meet today at 2 p.m. to clean up the cafeteria. There was an Industrial Arts club meeting to elect officers. The following students are chapter officers of the Texas and American Industrial Arts student association: Presidents, Vance Gaston and Louis Howell; vice presidents, Jon Tindol and Shelley Scott; secretaries, Billy Nelson and Tera Gaskins; treasurers, Michael Chandler and Gina Jennings; reporters, Mike Creel and Dale Coates; and sergeant-at-arms, John Roman and Roland Rosas.

Seniors are selling M&M's as fundraisers for their senior trip. Please support the Class of '85 and buy from a senior. All students competing in UIL events attended a UIL seminar and play at Texas Tech university on October 13. The Theater Arts class will have auditions Monday for "A Clown's Christmas Party".

The Junior varsity football team will play Lorraine there, Oct. 25 at 6 p.m. The JV team will play a home game against Coahoma Oct. 25. Varsity will play Lorraine beginning at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 26, in Forsan. This will be the team's third district game, and their last home game. Football Sweetheart, Band Favorite, Mr. Buffalo and Buffalo Gal will be announced during half-time activities.

COAHOMA PLAYERS - Coahoma Elementary School faculty members rehearse "Frankenstein Slept Here," to be presented Oct. 27 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. for the Halloween Carnival.

Cadets suspended in Aggie death

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Texas A&M University officials have suspended three members of the Corps of Cadets and disciplined a former member in connection with the Aug. 30 death of a 20-year-old cadet, according to a published report Saturday. The Bryan-College Station Eagle reported that Bill Kibler, A&M's disciplinary hearings officer, on Friday notified three juniors they had been suspended from the university until the 1985 fall semester. The students were Anthony D'Alessandro and Jason Miles, both of Houston, and Louis Fancher III of San Antonio, the newspaper reported. On Sept. 28, the three juniors and Cuadra were indicted on a charge of hazing, a misdemeanor.

HEAD-ON — The twisted, burned out remains of a pickup lie on Highway 59 38 miles east of Laredo where the truck slammed into a church tour bus, killing 3 and injuring 46.

3 killed, 46 injured in crash

LAREDO (AP) — Three people were killed and 46 members of a Houston church group injured when a pickup truck swerved out of its lane and slammed head-on into a tour bus Saturday, the Department of Public Safety said.

The accident, which occurred about 5 a.m. on U.S. Highway 59 about 40 miles east of Laredo, killed the driver of the bus and two people in the pickup, state trooper said.

The bus was carrying 46 members from the Greater New Hope Baptist Church in Houston to a shopping trip in Mexico, said the Rev. John H. Wilbran, pastor of the church.

"Everybody was asleep when the truck came out of the other lane and hit us head on," Wilbran told The Associated Press in a telephone interview from a Laredo hospital. "The bus driver was killed, the truck driver was killed and the truck exploded."

Those injured in the accident were trapped in the bus for 30 minutes before help arrived, while those not injured were able to crawl out windows, said Wilbran, who escaped with minor injuries.

DPS Trooper Robert Guerra said officials were still investigating the cause of the accident and no official report would probably be released for several days.

"We have a trooper here who is going to reconstruct the accident, but as far as we know, the pickup swerved into the westbound lane and both vehicles struck head-on," Guerra said.

Although severe storms pelted sections of South Texas on Friday and early Saturday, clear weather was reported at the time of the accident and the two-lane road was dry, authorities said.

Those killed were identified as bus driver Roy Lee Nowlin, 42, of Houston; Mario Adrian Garcia, 27, of Freer, a passenger in the truck; and William Timothy Sinclair, 31, the driver of the truck, of Corpus Christi.

Wilbran said at least 11 members of one Houston family were aboard the bus.

Hance may run for governor

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — U.S. Rep. Kent Hance, who narrowly lost his bid for the Democratic Senate nomination last spring, says he may run for governor of Texas in 1986.

Hance, of Lubbock, made his comments to the Wichita Falls Record News Friday while campaigning for Democratic Senate candidate Lloyd Doggett.

"I'm looking at all three: attorney general, lieutenant governor and governor," Hance said.

Despite his loss in a runoff with Doggett, Hance said he "came out smelling like a rose" and the name recognition he gained during the campaign should help his political future.

"You know, I wasn't supposed to finish any better than third in that race," he said. "But now (Phil) Gramm's people know I would have beaten him. This is one of the few times someone has lost the way I did and come out smelling like a rose," Hance said.

MacArthur's GIs mark Leyte invasion

RED BEACH, Philippines (AP) — One remembered the beach and another, with tears in his eyes, recalled his landing craft. They were among scores of American World War II veterans who on Saturday marked the 40th anniversary of one of history's greatest naval invasions.

"I could see myself 40 years ago coming in on the same kind of boat," said Ralph Myers of San Diego, Calif., tears filling his eyes. "I was 19 years old," said Myers, now a retired insurance agent. "There were thousands of us ... We were all young men coming in."

William (Ed) Hartman's memory was of the beach. Now 66, Hartman, a former cannoner of the U.S. Army's 24th Division, pointed to a strip of grassy land which once formed part of the beach where he landed with 174,000 other men under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The Oct. 20, 1944, Leyte invasion, backed by 700 vessels, began a decisive battle that killed 80,000 Japanese and more than 3,000 Allied troops. It led to the wresting of the Philippines from Japanese rule and signalled the fall of the Japanese military empire in Southeast Asia.

Scores of veterans from the United States, Australia and the Philippines commemorated the landing Saturday by watching a rehearsal of a re-enactment of the invasion to be staged officially on Sunday.

The re-enactment was set for Saturday but was postponed until Sunday after the presidential palace in Manila said a tropical storm prevented President Ferdinand E. Marcos, the main guest, from coming. He will try to attend Sunday. The re-enactment is to take place on a strip of beach in the town of Palo, 350 miles southeast of Manila. Red Beach, the codename given Palo for the 1944 landing, has been kept as the name for the strip of sand where MacArthur fulfilled his famous "I shall return" pledge to Filipinos.

A giant olive-colored statue of MacArthur, erected on a stone platform, overlooks the sea. It depicts him striding to shore with six other people, including Filipino wartime President Sergio Osmena.

About 2,000 local residents huddled on the beach to view the rehearsal by several hundred Filipino and U.S. Marines in full battle gear, who came ashore aboard four World War II LSTs (landing ship, tanks). Several T-28 planes roared overhead to provide mock air cover.

Fountains of water 20 feet high shot up from the sea as explosive charges, planted by frogmen, went off to simulate U.S. naval bombardment.

Playing the role of MacArthur, Col. Barry Howard, deputy commander of the U.S. 13th Air Force at Clark Air Base near Manila, walked ashore to a microphone where he read the speech MacArthur gave upon his return.

"People of the Philippines, I have returned," the 6-foot-5 Howard intoned. "By the grace of almighty God our forces stand again on Philippine soil, soil consecrated in the blood of our two peoples ... The hour of your redemption is here."

Cheers rose from villagers and veterans, many of whom were misty-eyed.

First Chad peace talks open

BRAZZAVILLE, Congo Republic (AP) — Both sides in Chad's 20-year-old civil war made conciliatory statements on Saturday, hours before they sat down for the opening of their "preliminary peace talks" in the Congolese capital.

Official delegations from the French-backed N'Djamena government of President Hissene Habre, the Libyan-backed rebel regime of former President Goukouni Oueddei, and other Chad political groups came to Brazzaville for the talks.

Sassou-Nguesso's Marxist regime officially recognizes Goukouni as president of Chad, but a spokesman for the Congolese leader said the host government would not allow its own political views to hinder prospects of a Chad settlement.

Goukouni's "vice president," Abdelkader Kamougue, led the delegation of the rebel "Government of Chad National Unity" based in Bardai, in Libyan-controlled northern Chad.

Steers are no quitters

If you have seen the movie "The Bear" then you are familiar with the old coaching cliché — "Quitters are losers and losers are quitters."

And while clichés, especially those in the world of sports, have tended to become a trite overused and overrated, the already mentioned phrase could very well easily have been applied to the Big Spring Steers.

Note the term could have been! The Steers found themselves down 24-0 last Friday night against a good, but not overly impressive, bunch of Midland Lee Rebels. Losers could have quit then and there, but we are discussing the Big Spring Steers — not a bunch of losers.

If you were one of the few (very few) in attendance at the game you know of whence I speak. Big Spring came back in the second half, limited Lee to only one touchdown (that coming with three minutes left in the game) and generally displayed the fire, spirit, guts and determination that was a factor in early season victories.

Hopefully those same characteristics will continue through the entire game with Odessa High this week, Abilene High (homecoming) the next, and will not stop being displayed until the Black and Gold makes the "Angry Orange" of San Angelo Central black and blue.

FANS FEW BUT SPIRITED FOR MOST PART

While the Steers are to be commended highly for their efforts in containing the state's seventh ranked 5-A team through the last half of their contest, another group proved their mettle in the stands.

With a little inspiration from the BSHS cheerleaders the crowd stood, clapped and shouted encouragement to the Steers offense in the first half.

Friday's stellar defensive turnaround was aided by those same fans standing when the Big Spring defenders took the field in the second half.

The show of spirit was refreshing and a welcome sound from the Steers' three previous 4-5A outings.

Friday's home crowd was still smaller that the road crew that made the trip from Midland. Big Spring is no Midland, but Steers fans still are not faced with the dilemma of a two high school system that can sometimes take away from a large base of fan support.

It's almost a certainty that those at Friday's game will make the trip to Odessa this week. It would be so nice to at least see Friday's home crowd doubled. And with a little gumption and want to, it can be done.

Cougars 'kick' Ponies out of first

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Mike Clendenen kicked five field goals and quarterback Gerald Landry hit tight end Carl Hilton with a 68-yard scoring pass Saturday, giving the Houston Cougars a 29-20 upset of sixth-ranked Southern Methodist and the Southwest Conference leadership.

Houston, defeating a top 20 team for the first time in its last 12 tries, is now 4-3 and 3-0 in the conference.

Previously unbeaten and untied SMU is 2-1 in the league and 5-1 overall.

Houston built a 16-0 halftime lead but SMU's Reggie Dupard sprinted 71 yards for a touchdown to close the gap.

Leading only 26-20, the Cougars put the game away when Gary McManus recovered a fumbled punt by SMU's Frank Thomas at the Mustang 16.

Clendenen, who had earlier field goals of 37, 48, 23, and 25 yards, then kicked a 25-yard field goal. It tied his school record of five field goals in a game.

It was the most points scored against SMU since Bobby Collins became the coach in 1981.

After Clendenen capped off Houston's opening drive with a 37-yard field goal, the Cougars' Winn Bryant recovered a Jeff Atkins fumble at the SMU 44.

Six plays later senior Clendenen kicked the longest field goal of his career, a 48-yarder for a 6-0 Houston lead.

Kevin Alexander's recovery of a King fumble set in motion a 53-yard drive capped by Raymond Tate's one-yard scoring run on fourth down.

Landry completed 12 of 17 passes for 193 yards and rushed 12 times for 44 more. Hilton caught 4 passes for 103 yards.

SHALL WE DANCE? — Houston Cougar quarterback Gerald Landry, right, gets pulled for a loss during first quarter action by SMU linebacker Anthony Beverly Saturday afternoon at Texas Stadium. The Cougars upset the number five team, 29-20.

Saturday in a rain-drench Southwest Conference football game.

Leading 16-13 midway through the final period, but facing third-and-11 at its own 10, Texas A&M tried to surprise Baylor with a quick kick. But Bears' defensive tackle Paul Mergenhenget got a hand on the kick by Anthony Toney and the ball fluttered into the hands of linebacker Kevin Hancock just beyond the line of scrimmage.

and advanced to the Texas three yard line as time expired.

Texas, held to only 116 yards rushing, fashioned its narrow victory on the passing of quarterback Todd Dodge, who threw two touchdown passes and set up another with two completions to split end Brent Duhon.

Arkansas trailed 24-3 before starting a furious fourth-quarter rally that turned on Carl Miller's 36-yard kickoff return to the Arkansas 46

40-30 Saturday.

Hargis ran for 157 yards while Smith added 101 yards as the Lions rolled through Eastern's defense for 350 yards rushing.

Eastern New Mexico, which has lost three of its last four games after being ranked No. 1 in the NAIA, did most of its damage with the passing arm of senior quarterback Kevin Kott.

TCU 34

North Texas State 3

FORT WORTH, (AP) — Texas Christian running back Kenneth Davis, rushing for 219 yards and scoring twice, bolted 82 yards for a record-tying touchdown Saturday as the Horned Frogs pounded out a 34-3 non-conference football victory over North Texas State.

Davis, the nation's No. 3 rusher, struck for a pair of second-quarter TDs as the Frogs, 5-1, mounted a 17-3 halftime lead and went on to match their best start in 26 years.

The 1958 Frogs jumped off to a 5-1 start en route to their sixth and last Southwest Conference title and a Cotton Bowl date with the Air Force.

Texas Colleges

Muecke needed only three plays to cover 16 yards for the winning touchdown with 6:39 remaining.

Marty Jimmerson added field goals of 22 and 34 yards for Baylor.

and a fumble by Texas' Terry Orr at the Arkansas one.

A final completion to Jamie Lueders carried 18 yards to about the Texas three as time expired.

Texas Tech 30

Rice 10

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Tech's Robert Lewis scored his first two touchdowns of the year and Rickey Gann kicked three field goals to lead the Raiders to a 30-10 victory over Rice Saturday.

Lewis, appearing in his fourth game this season, rushed 129 yards on 27 carries to share offensive honors with Gann, who had field goals of 25, 19 and 26 yards.

The Raiders took a 17-3 halftime lead on Lewis' runs of 23 and nine yards and a 25-yard field goal by Rickey Gann on the first drive of the game.

WBC strips 'Marvelous' of middleweight title

MONTREAL (AP) — The World Boxing Council voted unanimously Saturday to strip Marvelous Marvin Hagler of his world middleweight title for disregarding its rule limiting championship fights to 12 rounds.

Until the decision, Hagler had been an undisputed champion, recognized by both the WBC and the World Boxing Association.

The action came one day after the Brockton, Mass., fighter knocked out No. 1 challenger Mustafa Hamsho in the third round of a title defense at Madison Square Garden in New York. The fight was scheduled as a 15-rounder and was sanctioned by the WBA.

WBC President Jose Sulaiman said Hagler had repeatedly been asked to conform to the 12-round rule but had never responded to the council's numerous requests.

Hagler was still in New York but declined to take telephone calls in his hotel room.

His co-manager, Goody Petronelli, said from his Brockton, Mass., home: "I'll be darned. I don't know if they can do it legally."

Mountaineers rally past Boston College

MORGANTOWN, W.Va (AP) — Tailback John Gay rammed 5 yards for a touchdown with 4:52 remaining Saturday as 20th-ranked West Virginia roared back in the second half for a stunning 21-20 upset of No. 4 Boston College.

Gay's scoring run culminated a 10-play, 80-yard drive as the 6-1 Mountaineers rallied from a 20-6 halftime deficit.

West Virginia's defense stopped a last-ditch BC drive after quarterback Doug Flutie had moved the Eagles to the Mountaineer 38-yard line in the final minutes. West Virginia linebacker Fred Smalls took the momentum from the drive by sacking Flutie for an 11-yard loss with just 2:55 left.

BC, 4-1, built its halftime cushion with two big second-quarter plays. Steve Strachan rambled 24 yards for a score with 3:11 to go in the period, and Flutie hit Kelvin Martin with a 42-yard scoring pass on the next series as the Eagles broke a 6-6 tie.

Strachan's touchdown run followed a controversial play on a fourth and two at the West Virginia 34 when Flutie's perfect fake prompted an inadvertent official's whistle. It was ruled that BC had made enough yards for the first down before the whistle, and two plays later Strachan broke loose off the right side for the touchdown to give BC a 13-6 lead.

In the fourth quarter — two series before West Virginia's game-winning drive — BC was shortchanged when officials apparently lost count of downs, and the Eagles punted after just three downs.

West Virginia fullback Ron Wolfley banged in from the 1-yard line on fourth down, on the first play of the fourth quarter, as the Mountaineers moved to 20-15 with a 68-yard scoring drive.

No. 2 Oklahoma 12

Iowa State 10

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Spencer Tillman took a pitchout from quarterback Danny Bradley and circled left end on a 7-yard touchdown run with 3½ minutes left in the game to give second-ranked Oklahoma a 12-10 victory over fired-up Iowa State in Big Eight Conference football Saturday night.

Iowa State, which was a 27-point underdog, shocked the unbeaten Sooners by taking a 10-3 lead early in the fourth quarter, but Steve Sewell's 56-yard run on a reverse ignited a comeback that allowed Oklahoma to continue its mastery of the Cyclones.

Tillman ripped off a 13 yard run during the drive and Bradley threw passes of 11 and 10 yards to Derrick Shepard. Shepard's second reception gave the Sooners a first down at the ISU 4 and three plays later, after Oklahoma was moved back by an off-side penalty, Bradley slipped the ball to Tillman just as he was being tackled on third down and the 209-pound sophomore darted into the end zone with 3:34 remaining.

No. 1 Washington 17

Oregon 10

SEATTLE (AP) — Washington's top-ranked Huskies had only three first downs and 109 total yards Saturday but used a third-quarter blocked punt by Tim Peoples for a touchdown in a 17-10 Pacific-10

Conference victory over the Oregon Ducks.

Oregon's rugged defense held Washington to 73 rushing yards on 28 carries and 36 passing yards.

Washington got what proved to be the winning score when Peoples blocked Mike Preacher's punt and Mike Gaffney fell on the ball in the Oregon end zone with 10:55 gone in the third quarter. That put Washington ahead 17-7.

The Ducks were punting from their own 17 and Preacher was standing near his own 5 when Peoples got his critical block.

Washington, 7-0 overall and 3-0 in the Pac-10, snapped a 7-7 tie when run by Charles Crawford, an 18-yard touchdown pass from Rusty Hilger to Jamie Harris and Zachary's cross-country run, in which he outran two defenders.

Oklahoma State's defense, ranked ninth nationally, continually throttled Kansas, holding the Jayhawks to a 29-yard first-quarter field goal by Dodge Schwartzburg and a 14-yard touchdown run by Mike Rogers.

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Ken Zachary raced 87 yards for one touchdown as 12th-ranked Oklahoma State used the big play to build a 31-3 halftime lead and went on to defeat Kansas, 47-10, in a Big Eight Conference game Saturday.

The Cowboys, 5-1 and 1-1 in the Big Eight Conference and held to one field goal in a loss two weeks ago to Nebraska, scored on five of their seven possessions in the first half, including a 38-yard scoring picked off two passes to set up an Iowa field goal and a touchdown as the No. 18 Hawkeyes handed Michigan a 26-0 Big 10 Conference college football loss Saturday.

Mitchell, a junior redshirt from Brooklyn, N.Y., then set up Tom Nichol's second quarter field goal by picking off a pass by Michigan quarterback Russell Rein and returning it 20 yards.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Dalton Hilliard rushed for 164 yards and an LSU record-tying four touchdowns Saturday as the 10th-ranked Tigers overcame five first-half turnovers and rolled to a turnover-filled 36-10 Southeastern Conference victory over previously unbeaten No. 16 Kentucky.

B-County drops from unbeaten ranks

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

In Crossroads Country Football this week Colorado City and Forsan remained undefeated while Borden County dropped out of the undefeated ranks.

BORDEN COUNTY was upended by IRA 38-12 and it was BC coach Duke Frisbee's Coyotes first loss of the season. The game will put even more emphasis on the upcoming loop game versus defending state six-man champion Highland. The loss drops BC's loop slate to 1-1, tied with Ira for third behind Grady (1-0) and Highland.

The Coyotes were blown away by a 24 point barrage in the final quarter by Ira. Ira managed to hold the tough Borden County running game in check, allowing them 169 yards. Running back Chris Cooley was averaging over 200 himself.

FORSAN romped over SANDS 54-0 as the Buffaloes moved to within three games of a perfect regular season.

As usual the Buffalo rushing attack was awesome, accumulating over 400 yards. Mitch Hays led the way with 138 yards. Fullback Wayne Wright added three touchdowns and Todd East fired a 49 yard scoring pass to Bobby Headricks.

Meanwhile on defense, the Buffaloes allowed just 58 total yards, moving their season slate to 7-0 and 2-0 in district play.

Sands head coach Jim White said he and his team would just like to forget about the game.

0-2 in district play. COLORADO CITY drilled OZONA 46-0 as coach Tom Ramsey's

Gary Marsh, Ronnie Hernandez, Jay Piland and Perry Conner also collected interceptions.

LUIS GONZALES

WAYNE WRIGHT

ARMONDO RIVERA

"Everything that could go wrong, did go wrong," said White. "We had no fire, no enthusiasm, we were flat. I don't think we got a good lick in during the whole first half."

"Offensively we have to look at the film and see what the problem is and correct it. We've got the top two teams out of the way (Roscoe and Forsan) but we'll still have to fight and scratch to win the rest of our games."

The loss drops Sands to 2-5 and Wolves rolled to their seventh consecutive win, including their fourth shutout of the season.

"It was a good overall showing," said Ramsey after his crew's second district win. "The toughest thing was getting mentally prepared."

The Wolves defense displayed another stellar performance, limiting the Lions to 100 yards total offense, including a team-high seven interceptions. Safety Armando Rivera had three thefts himself.

"They got behind 21-0 in the first quarter and they had to throw the ball, I don't think they wanted to put it up 30 times."

Wide receiver Chris Aguillon has emerged as one of the Wolves deep threats over the past two weeks. This week he hauled in two catches for 61 yards. Sammy Rivera churned out 128 yards while Bill Jackson added 72.

BSHS swimmers outduel Andrews

ANDREWS — The Big Spring High School boys and girls swim team both stoked their way to victory in a duel meet versus Andrews.

Both of coach Harlin Smith's crews pulled out decisive victories, losing only two events the entire meet including one on disqualification.

The boys outscored Andrews 95-73, thanks to a 1-2 finish in the 100 yard butterfly by Cade Loftin (1:04.75) and Don Defitch (1:11.82) and a 1-2-3 sweep by Brigham Martin (1:00.5), Robert Chase (1:02.63) and Wimley White (1:03.64) in the 100 yard freestyle.

Other individual first place finishes by Big Spring included Louis Morelion winning his third consecutive diving title, Scott Ferguson in the 500 yard freestyle (6:02.22) and Mitch Houghton in the 100 yard breast stroke (1:13.37).

Other second place finishers were Charles Morse in the 200 yard freestyle, White in the 50 yard freestyle and Chase in the 100 yard breast stroke.

Third place finishers were Shamir Caplan in the 200 yard individual medley, Charles Morse in the 500 yard freestyle and caplan in the 100 yard breast stroke.

The A team of Houghton, Chase, Loftin and Martin won the 200 medley relay in a time of 2:00.28 while the foursome of Martin, Don DeFitch, Ferguson and Morse won the 400 yard freestyle in 4:05.69.

GIRLS OVERWHELM ANDREWS

The girls dominated Andrews 79-16, winning first in all events.

First place finishers were Rose Meir in the 200 yard freestyle (2:44.32), Hartley Newell in the 50 yard freestyle (29.44), Lisa Salazar in the 500 yard freestyle (9:06.43) and Tori Logan in the 100 yard backstroke.

The 200 yard medley relay team of Newell, Salazar, Tiffany Milch and Meir won first in 2:02.80 while 400 relay team also took first in 6:18.72.

The boys are now 2-1 in head-to-head competition while the girls are 1-2.

NFL Roundup

49'ers try to rebound versus Oilers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After losing their first game of the National Football League season last week, the San Francisco 49ers hope to get back on the track Sunday. The Miami Dolphins and Washington Redskins, meanwhile, will try to keep rolling.

The 49ers, beaten 20-17 by Pittsburgh last Sunday after six straight victories, would seem to have the easiest task of the three NFL powerhouses in facing the winless Houston Oilers, 0-7.

It's the 7-0 Dolphins and the 5-2 Redskins, who have won five straight games, who will have their work cut out for them. The Dolphins play the New England Patriots and the Redskins the St. Louis Cardinals, both on the road.

A victory for the Cardinals, tied for second place in the National Football Conference East at 4-3 with Dallas and the New York Giants, would put them even with the Redskins atop the division. A victory for the Patriots, 5-2, would move them within a game of the Dolphins in the American Football Conference East.

In other NFL games Sunday, Chicago is at Tampa Bay, Cleveland is at Cincinnati, Denver is at Buffalo, Detroit is at Minnesota, the Giants are at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh is at Indianapolis, Seattle plays Green Bay at Milwaukee, Kansas City is at the New York Jets, the Los Angeles Raiders are at San Diego and New Orleans is at Dallas in a night game. The Los Angeles Rams play at Atlanta Monday night.

San Francisco Coach Bill Walsh said he's wary of Houston, a 28-10 loser at Miami last week. The Oilers have allowed the most yardage and the most points in the NFL and have gained the least yardage and scored the fewest points, but "they've been improving and improving and seem right on the verge of breaking through. Unfortunately, we could very well be the breakthrough team, so we're going to really have to be at our best."

"But having been through the same thing that (Houston Coach) Hugh (Campbell) is going through, I just am reminded that when you finally break through those things, your team begins to really get into sync. So we're naturally concerned."

The Dolphins, who beat the Patriots 28-7 at Miami this season, lead the AFC East by two games over New England and the Jets. But as successful as they've been against the Patriots at Miami — 17 straight victories dating back to 1966 — they've been bad at Foxboro, losing seven of their last eight there.

"I don't need to be reminded that we haven't done too well up there lately," Dolphins Coach Don Shula said. "But I'm not going to dwell on the past. If we've beaten somebody six times in a row, I wouldn't go in to the game any differently."

Cardinals Coach Jim Hanifan said he wasn't "concerned about the emotional aspect" of the game with the Redskins. "The big thing is to know what you're supposed to do and then go out and do it. The Redskins have done well the past couple of years. Our people know that. When you play a division team and you know them well, you really shouldn't have to motivate your people."

The Cards gave up 83 points in two losses to the Redskins last season and have had to reshuffle their secondary several times because of injuries. But they have few problems on offense — their 215 points in seven games are second to Miami in the NFL.

The Bears, 4-3, are coming off a 38-21 drubbing by the Cards. The Bucs, 3-4, lost their shot at tying the Bears for first place in the NFC Central when they lost a 13-7 overtime decision to Detroit.

"If we don't play any better than we did Sunday, we will get waxed badly," Bucs Coach John McKay said.

The Raiders-Chargers game is a rematch of a Monday night game three weeks ago that the Raiders won 33-30, coming from 10 points down in the last seven minutes on two drives engineered by quarterback Jim Plunkett. Plunkett is on injured reserve now, and Marc Wilson will take his place for the Raiders, 6-1.

Philadelphia, 3-4, is seeking its first three-game winning streak since 1981, in its game against the Giants. "This game means a lot to us," Eagles Coach Marion Campbell said. "It's a division rival and we can pull our record to 4-4."

The Giants, 4-3 and still in contention for the NFC East title, are "kind of like a roller coaster," Coach Bill Parcells said. "Some games we're consistent; some games we're not."

The Jets and Kansas City are facing each other for the second time in three weeks. But this time the Chiefs will have veteran quarterback Bill Kenney, who will be making his first start of the season after recovering from a broken right thumb.

LOOKING BACK

The rear view mirror was inadvertently invented in 1911 at the first Indianapolis 500. That day, a crowd of 75,000 witnessed the first fatality at the speedway. Riding mechanic Sam Dickson lost his life when driver Arthur Greiner ran out of control and hit the wall. Roy Harroum, a late entry who emerged as the winner, had the only single-seater in the lot. (A riding mechanic used to serve as a look-out for other cars). To compensate for this handicap, Harroum ingeniously mounted an eight-inch by three-inch mirror on a tripod attached to his hood. He introduced an innovation that soon became a motoring standard and won the $35,000 first prize with an average speed of 74.59 miles per hour.

sophomore wide receiver Chris Parker made his varsity debut a successful one by hauling in a 30 yard scoring pass from Brian Calaway. Parker was moved up from the junior varsity this week to take Calaway's place, who stepped in for injured John Swinney.

The Coahoma defense played tough, allowing 140 yards total offense and the secondary combination of Calaway and Swinney proved fatal to the Golden Cranes. Swinney picked off two passes for his safety spot, giving him eight for the season. Calaway added another theft bringing his season total to six.

Bulldog mentor Bruce Mitchell took the blame for the first Crane score. "It was really my fault, I had Brian trying a screen pass deep in our territory, they picked it off and turned it into an easy touchdown." The second Crane TD was aided by 45 yards in penalties. "The kids did a good job, especially the defense. Our two tackles have been playing super the past three weeks. It's good to get that first win under our belt (1-1), the kids feel we still have a shot. As long as they feel that way, they will play hard."

Coahoma are now 3-3-1 for the season. KLONGDIKE won its zone opener by whitewashing ROPESVILLE 21-0, thanks to the long runs by tailback Tim Cope.

Cope scored on runs of 67, 54 and 83 yards to pace the Cougars.

Meanwhile the Cougars defense limited their opponents to 120 total offensive yards.

Klondike coach Jimmy Thomas was pleased with the play of his defense since Ropesville ran off 52 plays compared to his squad's 34. This was mainly due to six Klondike turnovers.

"Mitch Mitchell, Tim Cope and Brent Airhart all had standout defensive games," said Thomas. "But as a whole the entire defense played well. I just don't know what to do about the turnovers. Our big test will be against Wilson this week."

Klondike is now 4-2 for the season.

GRADY soundly whipped McCauley 42-26 in six-man zone action. The win was the district opener for coach Currie McWilliams' squad and prompted the first year coach to say if his team beats Ira next week, they will get into the playoffs.

"We are determined that we can get into the playoffs, but we must beat Ira this week. I am real proud of the defense, they have shutout opponents for five consecutive quarters. Coach Lynn Maxwell has done a great job with them."

The Wildcats offense was pretty good also. A balanced attack produced 148 yards passing and 187 via rushing. Quarterback Luis Gonzales had a good night connecting on 12 of 17 passes for 138 yards. Dennis Sawyer got 94 yards rushing while Fred Garza added 71. Terry Deatherage snagged seven passes for 92 yards.

"That good balance in our offense is what we've been looking for," said McWilliams.

Grady is now 3-4 for the season. GARDEN CITY turned back ROBY 24-8 giving coach Tony Stricklin's Bearkats their first loop win against one loss.

Like it has done so many times this season, the Garden City defense rose to the occasion, limiting the Lions to 155 yards total offense. Two times Roby was inside their 10-yardline and came up empty-handed.

The G-City rushing game, paced by Doug Hoelscher, racked up 216 yards. Stricklin said the key was "pretty good play from our offensive line," but added, "we didn't take advantage of six Roby turnovers."

The Bearkats are now 2-4-1 for the season. STANTON fell to GREENWOOD 15-0, dropping the Buffaloes district slate to 0-2.

The Stanton offense moved the ball at times but could not push it in. Twice the Buffs were deep in Greenwood territory and came away with nothing, prompting Ruth to say "we must some way to move it in. We drive it down but just can't get it in."

"We got after them, the boys didn't get their heads down and didn't give up. We have three games left, in this district we still have a chance."

HOCKEY SEASON IS HERE — Hockey season is now in its second week as the new York Islanders and Los Angeles Kings go after it Saturday night. Islander goaltender Brent Sutter (21) checks Kings Anders Hakasson in first period action.

Player Profile

TAMMI GREEN

Tammi Green has been one of the key players on the Lady Steers volleyball team this season.

The 5-6 junior spiker is the daughter of Nate and Anna Green and has been playing volleyball for the past five years.

"Volleyball is a very interesting sport. I play because it keeps me in shape and it may also help me later on in life," she said.

Green credits former BSHS star Shell Rutledge with being the most influential person toward her in the her chosen sport.

Green enjoys softball, bowling and skating in her spare time and lists her favorite subjects as English and child development. She is a member of Future Homemakers of America and YPD.

Her future plans include training to be a nurse.

Friends look after Library's needs

By KIM KIRKHAM
Lifestyle Writer

The Howard County Library is looking for a few good friends. And the Friends of the Library have been looking after the downtown facility since 1947.

"The Friends of the Library is just a support group," said Kelly Draper, president of the organization. "It provides things that the Library needs."

Other officers of the organization include Eldred Grey, vice president; Debra Day, treasurer; and Novella Grizzard, secretary.

"Our main thrust was to give the Library the frills,

'A library cannot exist without a good, active Friends group. They are an organization that works to improve and expand library services, materials, programs and facilities.'

sort of the icing on the cake, that the county wasn't able financially to provide for them," said Polly Mays who served as treasurer of the organization for 10 years.

Howard County Librarian Judith Gray feels that the Library has become more successful with the help of Friends. "A library cannot exist without a good, active Friends group. They are an organization that works to improve and expand library services, materials, programs and facilities. We couldn't get along without them," she said.

"I always say we have friends with a capital F and small f," said Ms. Gray, who has been involved with Friends since 1980. "Capital 'F' are the ones that join the Friends group and help out. The small letter 'f' friends are not joiners, but they are the ones who bring the books back on time, don't damage the books, and if they have a fine, they pay it without complaining. We certainly couldn't do without either one," she said.

"An awful lot of the nice things in the Library have been purchased by the Friends of the Library," Mrs. Mays said. "It was really one thing after another."

"The reason they (Friends) are rather successful is because a number of years ago they purchased a copier," said Mrs. Mays. Friends purchased a second copier less than year ago and there already have been over 100,000 copies made on it. Friends own the two machines at the Library and take care of all servicing and supplies for them. Money raised from the machines is used to buy things for the Library.

Some of the purchases made by Friends include: a Minolta microfiche reader printer, cabinets for microfiche, an opaque projector, two 16mm projectors in rental program, index's to census of genealogy collection, cassette player and recorder, printer for microcomputer, Christmas tree, art prints and sculptures, books and book funds, clocks, sign in front of building, and more. They also paid for half of the Library's TRS 80 model three microcomputer and printer.

"We've helped pay for trips to conventions for the Librarians, and we sent a Friend to one of the conventions," said Draper.

Friends of the Library also tries to "alert the community that we (Library) are still approaching the need for a new building," said Ms. Gray. "They are working on fund raising projects so that we will have some extra money if we do move." The bulk of the funds go to the new building project, she said.

Friends also sponsor the book sales, Halloween face painting (which will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Oct. 30), summer reading programs, Silver Tea (held during National Book Week) and the Christmas Open House. "We're about to start a major fundraiser and an art show to focus on the Library and the mural down there," said Draper.

The upcoming Peter Hurd Art Show will be Nov. 16 and 17. Hurd painted the mural in the Library during the early 1930s, when the building was used as a post office. A wine and cheese party for the art show will be held by invitation, Nov. 16. The Library will close at 12 p.m. for the party. On Nov. 17, the show will be open to the public. A Peter Hurd print, "Eve of Saint John", will be given away. Frances Slatton of the Front Porch Gallery in Ruidoso, N.M., will supply Hurd prints and oils for the show.

There are 25 to 30 members of Friends. "We're always looking for new members," said Draper. "All you have to do is come to the meetings." The meetings are held in the Library at 12 p.m. the first Thursday of each month.

BOOKS, BOOKS, BOOKS — Kelly Draper, president of the Friends of the Library organization, and Donna Jackson, children's librarian at the Howard County Library, prepare for the book sale held Friday and Saturday. The book sale is one of many fundraisers held by the Friends to raise money for the Library. They also will sponsor Halloween face painting Oct. 30 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Library.

Show to feature Costa fashions

PUTTIN' ON THE GLITZ — Victor Costa's holiday fashions will put the glitz in Big Spring during the Big Spring Symphony Association's Benefit Style Show and Luncheon, Nov. 8. Dresses in flirty, feminine shapes, rich fabrications and dazzling colors will be featured with fur coats. Costa is shown above with models displaying two of his creations.

Victor Costa's holiday designs reflect the mood of the season — festive party dresses in flirty, feminine shapes, rich fabrications and dazzling colors. His creations will take center stage at the Big Spring Symphony Association's Benefit Luncheon and Style Show, Nov. 8 at noon.

The audience will view Costa's glittering original holiday designs at the Big Spring Country Club. "We wanted to bring in Victor Costa's evening wear and the furs ... and do a full evening fashion show," said Joyce Wash of J.W. Charde. J.W. Charde is presenting the show to raise money for the Symphony Association. All proceeds will benefit the organization.

Mrs. Wash and Johnnie Lou Avery are coordinating the event. At this time the two are unsure whether Costa himself will be able to accompany his designs for the show. His entire holiday line, about 20 pieces, will be featured along with about 20 fur coats.

The Symphony Association's goal is to raise $5,000 from ticket sales and a percent of clothing sales. Two hundred tickets will be available at $20 each, which includes the luncheon and show. Tickets are available at Big Spring Country Club, J.W. Charde and Avery and Associates.

Costa's talents have won him five major awards: "The American Designer Award" presented by the May Company in 1967, "The Young Designer Award" presented in 1967, "The Wild Basin Award" presented by the state of Texas in 1979 and 1982, "The Flying Colors Award" presented in 1980 by buyer voting on nominees, and "The Golden Fashion Award" presented in 1975 by Stix, Baer and Fuller.

Costa attributes his success to the fact that he is aware of the fashion business and never loses touch with consumer or their changing needs. He appears at charity fashion shows throughout the country to add his personal touch with the influential women who set the fashion trends.

Costa, a Houston native, rose to prominence in the fashion world in New York and Paris. He has now returned to Houston to live.

Combining work and family is complex task

By CAROL DEEGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — When she was 41 years old, Nancy Halloran Hutter went back to school to get her college degree. She was the mother of eight children. The youngest child was 9.

Today, at the age of 51, Mrs. Hutter is an assistant staff attorney in the technical planning staff of the City Council of Philadelphia. She received her law degree from Villanova Law School.

At a recent conference held here on "Work and the Family," Mrs. Hutter gave credit to the women's movement and women like Betty Friedan, the author of "The Feminine Mystique," published in 1963, for breaking down the barriers to traditionally male-dominated jobs.

But, she said, just as society in the '50s expected women to marry and produce wonderful, adoring, happy families, society in the '80s is demanding that women combine work and careers.

"In my opinion, you can't raise a family on the side. A family is not an avocation. So what is being demanded of women today is that they carry not one, but two, full-time careers simultaneously," Mrs. Hutter said.

She said women must not feel guilty or apologetic if they choose to take a few years off from their jobs to spend at home with their children, or if they decide to work part time while raising their children.

"If the freedom to make choices gained at considerable expense by women in the '60s and '70s is not to be lost in the '80s, I think we have to become aware of what direction we're going in and take steps to deal with it," she said.

Just as important, Mrs. Hutter said, working and non-working mothers should not be antagonists.

"Women leaving the work force today to raise families have just as many fears and insecurities as we who left the home to embark on careers. Working mothers are overwhelmed with responsibility. We need each other and we need each other's support. In understanding this, maybe we will be able to revive that spirit that made the women's movement so effective."

Mrs. Hutter was one of the top 10 Clairol Loving Care Scholarship Program winners honored at the conference. The program has awarded more than $500,000 to a total of 997 women during its 10-year history, the program's sponsors said. The scholarship program is designed for women 30 and older.

Also attending the conference were Betty Friedan and Sally Wendkos Olds, the author of numerous books including "The Working Parents Survival Guide."

Ms. Friedan stressed the importance of individuality in combining work and the family.

"Instead of indulging in cross arguments — feminism or the family, work or the home — we know now that all women are going to put together their lives now and in the future in complex ways. The pattern will not be the same woman to woman," she said.

Mrs. Olds told the conference that when she went out to work 20 years ago, with three children at home under the age of 7, a lot of people criticized her, but a lot of people also felt sorry for her because they knew it was hard to do both jobs.

"Recently, the difficulties in handling both career and family have seemed to have melted into the myth that it's easy to do it all, that it's easy to soar to the top of your profession and to raise wonderful children at the same time. And I think those of us here today know that either one of these goals is difficult, and when you combine them, the difficulty increases geometrically," Mrs. Olds said.

She said today's mother should not set unrealistic goals for herself, but should realize that many conflicting pressures and problems arise when a woman combines work and family.

Today's furniture, tomorrow's antique?

By HOUSE BEAUTIFUL
A Hearst Magazine

Today's high quality furniture may become tomorrow's high-priced antique, which makes buying fine furniture a sound investment.

Investment decorating is the term used in a layout in the magazine that takes a close look at today's influential home design trends — American Country, Art Deco, Neo Classic, Japanese and '80s Contemporary — showing the reader how to spend wisely for home furnishings.

"You should know how to recognize excellence in workmanship, comfort and enduring value," says Debbie Brown, the magazine's home furnishings director. "It's important to know why things cost what they do and what sets one product apart from another."

Whether working on your own or through a decorator, here are some tips from the magazine's editors on recognizing quality as an investment in your home.

- The appearance and durability of upholstery fabric is related to its fiber content, weave and finish. Generally, a close woven fabric will wear the longest; patterns and medium or dark colors will show the least soil. Look, too, for fabrics treated to resist soil.

- When shopping for sofas and chairs, make sure cushions are properly sized and shaped to fit snugly and evenly. Unzip a cushion cover. If it has a sturdy cotton ticking and feels substantial, it is more likely to be of good quality.

- Better furniture is built with coil springs that add to comfort and durability. You can feel the springs by putting your hand under the cushion seat. The higher the number of coil rows, the better the piece. Three rows are good; four is best.

- Wood furniture usually is more expensive because of higher material costs and the amount of hand craftsmanship required. Sometimes 25 steps are required for a wood piece, including sanding, rubbing, glazing and padding.

- Finishes should feel smooth to the touch, with no rough or uneven edges. They should be clear to reveal the figure or grain of the wood. They should exhibit a glowing depth of patina.

- Inlays and marquetry are two of the aesthetically pleasing effects achieved through veneer construction with solid woods. Veneers do not indicate inferior finishings — antiques with intricate veneer patterns currently are bringing record prices at auction.

- Drawers are a key to the quality of furniture. Look for consistency in size between the drawer front and the sides. The drawer bottoms should be clean with no glue residue.

- Furniture to hold home entertainment equipment and electronics are a major new thrust in the design field. Many are constructed with built-in electrical outlets to conceal wires and cords. Quality units will have a leveling feature in bottom corners to provide proper alignment and compensate for uneven floors.

- When shopping for carpet, a good rule of thumb is the denser the carpet, the better. One way to determine relative density is to run your fingertips through the pile to see how much backing you feel. The denser the carpet, the less visible backing.

- When shopping for beds, remember that mattress prices are determined by size, materials and construction of both mattress and foundation. Always buy the two together. If a mattress needs replacement, so does the foundation.

Weddings

Hernandez-Ruiz

The Rev. Dalia Hernandez of Robstown and Alejandro Ruiz Jr. were united in marriage during an afternoon wedding, Oct. 6, at Templo Jerusalem in Robstown. The Rev. Salvador De La Rosa of Robstown and Presbyter Rev. Lauro Hernandez of Lubbock officiated at the rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hernandez of Robstown. The bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Alejandro Ruiz of Big Spring.

Margaret Velasquez of Lubbock, pianist, and David Ornebs of Amarillo, vocalist, provided music for the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

MRS. ALEJANDRO RUIZ JR.

Robstown and Jessica Hernandez of Lubbock, both nieces of the bride. Candlelighters were the bride and bridegroom's mothers.

Groomsmen were Manuel Ruiz, brother of the bride, Santos Vargas of San Antonio, Eddie De La Rosa, Paul Gonzales, Johnny Gonzales, Tony Recio, Amos Zavala and Lupe Hernandez, brother of the bride, all of Robstown. Ring bearers were Rosali Hernandez of Robstown and Isai Hernandez of Lubbock, niece and nephew of the bride.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception at the KC Hall in Robstown.

The bride is a graduate of Robstown High School and Latin American Bible Institute in San Antonio. She is an evangelist for Gulf Latin American District of the Assemblies of God. The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Latin American Bible Institute in San Antonio. He is employed by Town and Country as an assistant manager.

Following a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will live in Big Spring.

The bride wore a white chiffon gown fashioned with a high neckline and yoke accented with embroidery and Venice lace. The bodice featured a Schiffler lace ruffled flounce, and Venice lace formed the natural waistline. Victorian sleeves were covered in ribbon lace accented with a satin bow. Her full skirt fell into a chapel-length train. Embroidered medallions and Venice lace appliques adorned the skirt with a ribbon lace ruffled flounce accenting the hem and extending into the train. To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a matching Victorian hat covered in Venice lace and accented by a bustle. The rolled-edge veil fell to a waltz length.

The bride carried a bouquet of burgundy roses, crystal flowers, ivory flowers and dusty pink and white ribbons. It included the bouquet from her fifteenth birthday.

Susan Gonzales of Carlsbad, Calif. was matron of honor. Cynthia DeLeon of San Antonio was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were: Sylvia Antuna of Lubbock, Gene Garza of San Antonio, Liz Gomez of Abilene, Mary Jo Moran of Coahoma, Noemi Pina of Crosbyton, Ruth Salinas of Laredo, Belinda Flores of Austin, and Esmeralda Ortiz of Robstown. Flower girls were Melissa Avila of

Pittman-Emerson

Katrina Marie Pittman became the bride of Ralph David Emerson during a Saturday evening ceremony at First Baptist Church Chapel. The Rev. Mike Perry, chaplain at Big Spring State Hospital, officiated at the ceremony before a 15-branch candelabrum forming a half circle in between two 15-branch spiral candelabra. The candelabra were decorated with greenery and bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Petersen of Rocklin, Calif. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Emerson, 2711 Rebecca.

Mrs. W.W. Grimes, instrumentalist, performed music for the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her parents.

The bride wore a handmade, white taffeta gown overlaid with embroidered organza. The gown was fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline trimmed in lace flowers and pearls, long, full sleeves with fitted cuffs trimmed with pearl buttons, and an empire waistline. The skirt fell into a chapel-length train trimmed in embroidered organza. A handmade veil of white tulle and pearls held from a cap of white lace and pearls completed her ensemble.

The bride carried a bouquet of pink, white and burgundy rosebuds and other flowers. The bouquet was accented with lace and ribbon streamers.

Cheryl Hollis of Sand Springs was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Brenda Emerson Steinmetz of Alto, N.M., and Darlene Justice of San Angelo, both sisters of the bridegroom. Amanda Sehat was flower girl. David Garcia was best man.

Ring bearer was Karl Petersen, brother of the bride. Groomsmen were Kurtis Pittman, brother of the bride, and Benny Malentino.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception in the Parlor of First Baptist Church. The bride's table featured a two-tiered white cake decorated with pink sweetpeas. It was topped with a glass figurine of two swans forming a heart. The figurine was sitting on a white base covered in pink and burgundy flowers.

The bride is a graduate of Shawnee Mission North West High School in Kansas. She is employed by the Big Spring State Hospital. The bridegroom is a graduate of Big Spring High School. He also is employed by the Big Spring State Hospital.

MRS. RALPH D. EMERSON

Vegas, the couple will live in Big Spring.

RSVP volunteers honored at annual Recognition Dinner

Retired Senior Volunteer Program held its annual Fall Covered Dish Recognition Dinner at Garrett Hall of First United Methodist Church, Tuesday.

RSVP volunteers averaged approximately 4,100 hours per month and set a record with 4,844 volunteer hours last month. Many of the volunteers who attended the dinner have been with RSVP for almost six years.

Lucile Hollice was recognized for her service of six hours a day in ceramics at the Senior Citizen Center. She teaches ceramics and manages the ceramic room.

Music was provided by Helen Green. There are 323 RSVP volunteers and about 22 volunteer stations. Volunteer opportunities at several stations were mentioned, giving choices of types of volunteer service available.

Anyone interested in joining the RSVP may contact the office at 267-2580 or 267-2589.

Update

The Parent Support Task Force, in conjunction with the March of Dimes, the County Extension Agency, and the Texas Department of Human Resources, will present a seminar entitled "Parents, It's Time to Talk." The Seminar will be held on Saturday, October 27, 1984, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the Goliad Middle School cafeteria. Admission is free.

Among seniors who graduated in 1983, 5.5% said they smoked marijuana daily and 16 percent used cocaine occasionally, 42% had tried marijuana and 63% had tried some sort of illegal drug. (National Institute on Drug Abuse)

When someone is into drugs, they can't tell how much harm those drugs are doing to them. So the only way they can realize how badly they've been abusing themselves is to stop using those drugs for a matter of months. Only after they've stopped using drugs can they begin to learn to realistically cope with the problems they thought they were solving with drugs. And then they'll remember what really "feeling good" means again.

The first thing a parent can do in the fight to have a drug-free child, is learn about the kind of drugs kids abuse. Then you're in a good position to have frank, open discussions with your children — the kind of dialogue you both need. So you can impress upon your child that they are being sold a bill of goods by the drug culture. That they are being led to believe that drugs are "cool" when in fact they represent a tremendous health hazard. Armed with the proper information, you can give your kids the help they need to say "no" to drugs. (Pharmacists Against Drug Abuse)

Overpacking most common cause for luggage damage

NEW YORK (AP) — Overpacking checked luggage is the most frequent cause of luggage damage, according to airport baggage handlers.

In a national survey of 1,000 handlers, some 72 percent blamed overstuffed baggage for most damage, 19 percent also noted that poor quality luggage, either hard or softside, is most vulnerable to damage caused by normal wear and tear of handling.

The survey, conducted by Samsonite Luggage, found 87 percent of the baggage handlers recommended the 24- or 26-inch suitcase as the most functional size to check when traveling. Sixty percent said they preferred hardside luggage with molded shell exteriors when they themselves travel.

Children Welcome Here!

Youngsters like to shop at Spoiled Rotten. There's a play house where children are welcome to enjoy toys and games while their parents shop. The store is filled with cheerful merchandise, chosen with careful thought by Kae Wise who owns the shop.

She opened Spoiled Rotten in 1979 to fill the need for a Boutique type selection of unusual, sophisticated and unique clothing and gifts for children. Kae buys quality merchandise from reputable manufacturers. Although she prefers to buy products that are made in the United States, Kae has turned toward imports for some of her more sophisticated clothing for girls. She has hand made designs from Portugal, knits from Italy and dolls from Spain. They're becoming the leaders in the industry and Kae has stocked some most unusual collector's dolls along with wonderful cuddly baby dolls and of course stuffed animals.

The Bear is the most wanted animal this year in every form possible. They're made of sheepskin or cotton, used as hair accessories and there's even a special bear chair that rocks! Kae has several different kinds of rocking animals that have been lovingly created by a Florida company that adds a touch of whimsy to each piece in the form of bright flowers and colors.

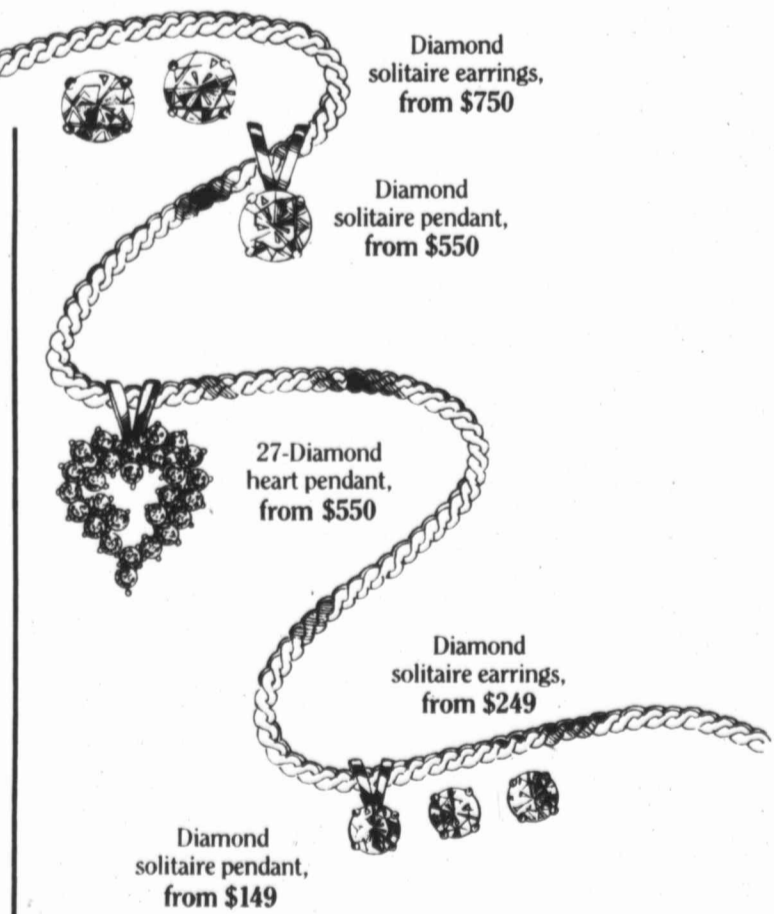

This year Kae doubled the size of Spoiled Rotten and has added Capezio and Jumping Jack shoes to her inventory. She enjoys working with children and pays particular attention to fashion trends, hair accessories and caps. Sox and purses all reflect a keen sense of fun and good taste.

Gloria Ristelli, Helen Bateman and Shirley Warren share Kae's determination that the customer needs lots of TLC and she attributes much of Spoiled Rotten's success to their cooperation and genuine love of the merchandise they offer.

Kae came to Big Spring to play volleyball for Howard College. She met and married Warren Wise who is from a pioneer Coahoma family. They have two girls; Kristi, 17, a senior at Big Spring High School and Kappi, 9, a third grader at St. Mary's. Warren is the co-owner of Broughton and Wise Implement and they also farm. This busy family shares a strong faith in God and a love of people. It's the sweet, wonderful people Kae meets through Spoiled Rotten that give her the most satisfaction in the store. Kae is a home town merchant... Part of the special friendly feeling you'll always get when you shop at Highland Mall.

Dunn-Sweatt

The Midway Baptist Church was the setting for the Saturday evening wedding of Jonetta Dunn and Roger Sweatt of Lubbock. The Rev. Jerry Lewis, associate pastor, officiated at the 7:30 p.m. rite before one 15-branch candelabrum and two spiral candelabra, which were decorated with greenery and flowers. Two large bouquets of red and white flowers and a unity candle completed the setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chestine Dunn, Rt. 1. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sweatt of Colorado City are parents of the bridegroom.

Bill Schaffner, organist, and Terry Dunn, vocalist and brother of the bride, provided music for the wedding. The bride was given in marriage by her parents.

The bride wore a formal-length white gown of Chantilly and Wedgewood lace. The bodice was fashioned with a ruffled high V-yoke and was accented with sequins and seed pearls. Sleeves of sheer lace extended to points over the fingers. The A-line skirt fell into a chapel-length train. The skirt and train were bordered by rows of lace and small white bows. To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a hat fashioned with matching lace and illusion.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and baby's breath atop her father's Masonic Bible. The bouquet was accented with red ribbon.

Fay Dunn of Odessa served her sister-in-law as matron of honor. Amy Dunn, sister-in-law of the bride, and Pat Condray were bridesmaids. Lori Dunn and Cindy Dunn, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Lisa Chambers of Snyder, niece of the bridegroom, and Melinda Hallmark were candlelighters.

Sam Smelser was best man. Groomsmen were Ken Hallmark and Victor Brake. Ushers were Dennis Dunn of Odessa and Mike

MRS. ROGER SWEATT

Dunn, brothers of the bride, and Shane Schaffner.

Following the ceremony, the couple was feted with a reception at the church's Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was draped with a white lace cloth and a red underlay and centered with a bouquet of peppermint carnations and the bride's bouquet. The table featured a four-tiered cake with a fountain and a winding staircase going to two smaller cakes, which were decorated with red roses. The bridegroom's table was draped with a red cloth and featured a chocolate cake.

The bride graduated from Lefors High School in Lefors, and attended Howard College. She is employed by Malone-Hogan Hospital. The bridegroom graduated from Colorado City High School, Western Texas College in Snyder and Police Academy in Midland. He is employed by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission as a state police officer.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed location, the couple will live in Lubbock.

Anniversaries

The Keith T. Crawfords

Mr. and Mrs. Keith T. Crawford, 511 Benton, will be honored by their family with a 35th wedding anniversary reception at 7 p.m. Tuesday at their home.

Crawford, originally of Winslow, Ariz., met the former Lois D. Wilbourn of Vernon on a blind date in Las Cruces, N.M. in May 1949. They were married Oct. 23, 1949 in the Nazarene Church. The Rev. W.M. McMahon officiated.

Lifestyle policies

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement, wedding, silver or golden anniversary in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this.

The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form must include a name and telephone number of a person whom we can reach during the day for more information.

We will use a picture of the couple in the announcements. Or in the case of engagement announcements where a picture of the couple is not available, we will use one of the bride-elect. The picture must be a professional quality studio photograph. We prefer a 5 x 7 glossy black and white print. We ask for this kind of photograph so that it will reproduce well in the newspaper. Following the picture's publication, it may be picked up at the Lifestyle department.

The information for the story may be brought to the Lifestyle department of the Herald, which is located at 710 Scurry. Or it may be mailed to Lifestyle Department, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Call us at (915) 263-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

ENGAGEMENTS

Information on engagement announcements must be submitted to the Lifestyle department of the Herald anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks prior to the wedding. Anything closer than three weeks will not be published. The engagement form must be submitted no later than Wednesday noon prior to the Sunday it is to be published.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to the Herald. If only grandparents live in our area, please, give their names and addresses.

WEDDINGS

If a wedding writeup is submitted to the Herald after the wedding has occurred, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

BIRTHS

Local hospitals supply information for Storkclub. If a child is born elsewhere in the newspaper's circulation area, or is born to out-town parents with local or area grandparents, please contact the Herald Lifestyle Department with Storkclub information.

Information needed for Storkclub is: newborn's name, sex, time and date of birth, weight, place of birth, parents' name and address. If the baby is born outside the circulation area but has local grandparents, please include their name and address. The local grandparents serve as the area connection for the information.

Dear Abby

Marriage Encounter is way to scratch the itch

DEAR ABBY: I know you must get tons of mail from people who say, "I just need to tell someone." Well, here's another one. I'm a happily married woman, but I've come across a man I feel I've got to have. (Not to keep — just to have.) When we met about a year and a half ago, I knew instantly the feeling between us was mutual. Although neither of us has ever come right out and said, "Let's get together," we drop hints and kid about it. I don't see him often, but when I do, I melt like a schoolgirl. I don't know if one good romp in the sack would satisfy me or not, but I keep wondering what it would be like. Abby, I'm 28 and have children. He is also a family man. I'd never risk losing my husband. He had a brief office affair a few years ago. I was bitter at first, but I got over it, so I don't think I'm considering having an affair to even the score. I need help in handling my feelings. MIXED UP DOWN SOUTH DEAR MIXED UP: You are very wise to ask for help. You need it. Forget the "one good romp in the sack" — it's habit-forming and could be hazardous to your marriage. Have you ever heard of Marriage Encounter? It's a weekend counseling course for couples who have grown apart, lost the spark and want to reaffirm their commitment to each other. It's a spiritual and romantic shot in the arm. Over the years I've had glowing reports about Marriage Encounter. There are Catholic, Protestant and Jewish groups, but one need not belong to any church to participate. Ask any clergyman. Age doesn't matter. Couples married 40 years and longer have benefited from it. In the words of a lovely old song, "You'll find your happiness lies right under your eyes, back in your own back yard."

Singer auditions for Starsearch, Wednesday

Grand prize winner of the Permian Basin Fair and Exposition Talent Show, Felecia Ford leaves for her audition for Starsearch Wednesday at Midland Regional Airport.

Felecia, along with her mother Jerrie Dunbar, will arrive at the airport via limousine to catch her flight. Mrs. Dunbar will accompany her on the trip. Felecia will be greeted at the Airport by the board of directors of the Permian Basin Fair and Exposition and two Midland TV reporters. Felecia will audition for Starsearch Thursday at 3:20 p.m. at Top Cat Rehearsal Studio in New York City.

If she makes it, she will be on the show sometime the next week or so, her mother said. Felecia will sing "What a Fool Am I". There certainly was no reason to get bored this weekend with so many things to do all at one time. The Big Spring Symphony Association kicked off the 1984-85 concert season with a performance by the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra Friday evening. Following the performance, the Orchestra was honored at a reception. The orchestra was under the direction of John Giordano. Also Friday evening was the Big Spring Steer's game against Midland Lee. Saturday featured the annual Arts and Crafts Fair at the Coliseum, Monte Carlo Night at the Dora Roberts Community Center, and the Friends of the Library Book Sale. The Monte Carlo Night benefited the March of Dimes while it provided exciting entertainment for those participating.

Last weekend was much the same way. It featured the Blue

Blazer's Women's Conference and the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs annual Fall Luncheon and Book Review. Annie Matt Angel and Kelly Draper were the featured entertainers at the Garden Club's luncheon. The women's conference was quite successful as more than 200 area women participated in the workshops and other events. The George Strait concert was exciting as well.

That's where everyone in Big Spring pitches in for four hours to clean up Big Spring's entry ways into the city. Call the Chamber tomorrow to volunteer yourself for this worthwhile effort. The number is 263-7641.

Get ready for Operation Blitz Blight next Saturday morning.

Q: We are considering purchasing a house in which the seller has agreed to include items such as curtains and rods, a free standing fireplace and refrigerator, stove, etc. Should any contract provision for these items be made at closing?
A: Yes. The agreement of sale should state, item-by-item and in detail, each piece of personal property which the seller has agreed to include in the transaction for the house. This may even include such items as light fixtures, mirrors attached to walls, fuel oil, carpets, etc. In the contract, the seller should warrant he has good title to the items listed, and should execute a bill of sale for the personal property at closing which you, the buyer, should retain with the agreement of sale, deed and other important documents.

Research aims at less bitter juices

If you find frozen orange juice bitter-tasting, help is on the way. Dr. Philip Shaw and his colleagues at the U.S. Department of Agriculture in Winter Haven say they have found a way to take the bitter out.
 Their process was reported in a recent issue of the American Chemical Society's Journal of Agricultural and Food Chemistry.
 "Getting rid of the bitter tastes could solve a tremendous problem, Shaw, a research chemist, says. "I know of one producer who puts 100,000 gallons of concentrated grapefruit juice into storage each year because it's too bitter to sell. Diluted to normal strength, that's enough juice to fill 50 Olympic (size) swimming pools.

To avoid high economic losses, bitter orange and grapefruit juice, which is primarily from August to December crops, is blended into juices from less bitter crops, according to Shaw. "This means you get some bitter taste in frozen juices all year long, he adds.
 The scientists report that currently there is no commercial process for removing the bitter components of citrus juices without also removing desirable compounds such as vitamin C and sugars. However, Shaw says if all goes well, a new process may be available in three to five years.
 "We've found a carbohydrate that selectively attracts the bitter components. By passing juice through a long tube that contains this carbohydrate, we can remove the bitter components and leave the desirable compounds in the juice. We can then wash the bitter components off the carbohydrate, and use it to debitter a new batch of juice."

 Before the new process can be implemented, the carbohydrate must be approved for human use. The process will also have to be inexpensive to use. Shaw and his colleagues are aiming for a tenth of a cent per gallon.
 "Getting the price down depends upon our ability to reuse the carbohydrate, Shaw says. "It would have to withstand 100 debittering-washing cycles. So far we've demonstrated that it can survive 20, as many as we've tested, with no apparent change.

Book review

'The Miracle' is intriguing, dramatic

THE MIRACLE. By Irving Wallace. Dutton. 436 Pages. $17.95.

Taking as his theme the famous grotto of Lourdes, Irving Wallace has produced a dramatic novel about four afflicted people lured to the shrine by an announcement that the Virgin Mary would return there.

This was discovered in a diary kept by Bernadette, the French peasant girl who claimed to have seen the Virgin back in 1858. In the diary, Bernadette said the Virgin had told her she would return to Lourdes almost 130 years later.

When the church breaks the news of the expected visit, thousands of sick and crippled persons from all over the world converge on Lourdes, hoping for miraculous cures.

They include:

- A young American lawyer suffering from an advanced form of bone cancer which might possibly be cured by surgery.
- A beautiful young Italian actress stricken with blindness.
- A top Soviet diplomat suffering from an incurable form of muscular dystrophy.
- An English woman who had been stricken with a malignant tumor of the legs, but during a visit to Lourdes had suddenly been cured.

She had been proposed as a recipient of a miracle, but suddenly the disease returns.

Problems also face the Russian minister, who had made the trip posing as an American professor and is convinced the Soviet hierarchy would never countenance his visit to a religious shrine in the West.

The book revolves around these four people and the problems caused by their pilgrimage to Lourdes. The account of their fate is intriguing, even though the author has found it necessary to strain credulity at times to get a point across.

Tea's taste improves when spring water ice cubes are used

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A key to making better-tasting coffee, tea, formulated frozen citrus juices, soups and even ice cubes is to use bottled spring water, according to home economists at this world famous spa.

WAXING BEAUTIFUL

Waxing works on legs, arms, underarms, bikini line, chest, shoulders, face and back. The procedure leaves skin silky smooth for about two to five weeks. Although waxing can be a bit uncomfortable in sensitive spots, the procedure, usually done with warm wax, is quick. The skin is first washed and powdered and the temperature of the wax is tested on the inside of the wrist. The wax is then applied and the hair becomes embedded in it. A piece of cloth is then pressed onto the wax until it adheres. A quick pull of the cloth whisks the wax away along with the unwanted hair. The skin is then soothed with alcohol and powder or a moisturizer.

Look to LA CONTESA for quality hair care. Our operators offer you the total look for hair design and fashion. Come in soon and let us pamper you. Men, women and children are invited to our shop. We look forward to serving you. You will find us conveniently located at 1508 Marcy. We are open to service you Tues.-Sat. Call us at 267-2187.

McCann explains sculpturing techniques

Coy McCann, a native of Big Spring, gave a program to the Big Spring Art Association Tuesday on "Sculpturing Techniques". He has been painting since age six and sculpturing for about 10 years.

McCann showed some of his works at the Center De Art De Contemporain in Paris, France, this past summer by invitation and has been invited to exhibit at the University of Belgraad in Yugoslavia next year.

He told the members and guests that he has learned mostly by trial and error. He exhibited his bronze sculpture "The Singing Wire" and explained how it was done from the beginning.

He closed his program by reminding the audience that art is in everything — clothes, cosmetics, household furnishings, etc. He said somebody has to think of it, somebody has to plan it, and somebody has to draw it.

Guests were Isabell Rusking from Longview, Gloria Roe, La Rue DeViney, Susan Lewis and Amy Christensen.

President Doris Vieregga outlined rules for the upcoming area craft and miniature art show. The show will be Nov. 18 at Highland Mall. Art work will be judged by La Rue DeViney.

Entries for the show will be accepted from 8 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. on Nov. 18 and must be picked up at 5:30 p.m. An entry fee of $5 will be charged with no limit on the number of entries. Division I will include miniature paintings not to exceed 35 square inches and Division II for miniatures from 36 to 80 square inches.

An art sale will be held in conjunction with the show. The Art Association is charging a $3 hanging fee plus 10 percent commission on all art work sold. There is no limit on number of entries, but work must not exceed 80 square inches. Booth space is available for craft items. Interested persons should sign up for booth space by contacting Marjerie Tipton at 267-1170 or Doris Vieregga at 263-3224.

Mrs. Vieregga also urged members to view the exhibit of 150 years of Western Art on display at the Museum of the Southwest in Midland. A guided tour of the exhibit is scheduled for 3 p.m. today.

The next meeting of the Art Association will be at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 16 in the art department at Howard College. All persons interested are invited to attend.

Divorce and taxes

The tax aspects of divorce are somewhat simplified under the 1984 Tax Act. While its divorce provisions are not necessarily fairer than under the old law, they are considerably less vague and confusing.

Under prior law, property settlements in divorce were taxable events and could catch the divorcing taxpayer by surprise at tax filing time. A common situation illustrates the problem. A husband transferred to a wife property that he had purchased for $40,000. If at the time of the divorce the property's market value had risen to $100,000, the husband was liable for income tax on the $60,000 of "gain." The wife then had a tax basis of $100,000 in the property and had no income taxes to pay if she later sold the property for the same amount. Under the new law, such transfers will be treated as non-taxable gifts with the husband having no income tax to pay at the time of transfer and the wife having the $60,000 of gain to recognize if she later sells the property for $100,000.

The new law continues to treat alimony as deductible by the payer and as taxable income by the recipient. However, the "definition" of alimony changes. Now alimony must be in cash, cannot vary in amount with the status of a child (for example, the child's age or status in school), and must terminate at the payee's death. To prevent property settlements which are not deductible from being disguised as deductible alimony, alimony payments must be made for at least six years and the amounts cannot vary in any of those years by more than $10,000.

All controversy over which parent gets the dependency exemption for a child is ended with the tax bill. The parent who has custody of the child gets the exemption unless that parent signs a waiver giving the exemption to the other parent. This waiver must be attached to the non-custodial parent's tax return.

Toxic substances in supplies may pose health hazards

Some arts and crafts materials contain toxic substances, so they may pose health hazards if appropriate safety precautions are not taken, says the American Council on Science and Health.

"It is particularly important for professional artists and individuals who select art materials for preschool and school-age children to be aware of potential hazards," says ACSH research associate Alan L. Fellman.

"Professional artists often work extraordinarily long hours when preparing for a show," Fellman said. "As a result, their exposure to potentially harmful substances may be prolonged."

Artists who work in home studios need to be especially aware of safety precautions since their workplaces may not provide the usual protections against occupational hazards. Important precautions include keeping art utensils separate from kitchen utensils, practicing good hygiene in the work area, reading and following label directions on all supplies, ensuring adequate ventilation, and keeping art materials beyond children's reach.

"There are numerous non-toxic art materials available for children's use, so there is no need for the very young artist to be exposed to harmful substances," says ACSH executive director Dr. Elizabeth M. Whelan.

"Parents, teachers and school boards should be aware, however, that some art products are made with substances such as lead, which are toxic, especially to children," Dr. Whelan said. "Therefore, it is important to select children's art supplies carefully. The Art and Craft Materials Institute labeling program is very helpful in this regard."

The ACMI's AP (approved product) or CP (certified product) rating on a product label means that the product is non-toxic. Art materials which do pose potential hazards, but which have adequate cautionary statements and chronic health hazard warnings on their labels, may receive ACMI's CL (certified label) rating.

"Few people think of arts and crafts as activities which may expose them to toxic chemicals," Fellman said. "We need to be more aware of the possible hazards, so that we can learn to avoid them, and pursue our artistic endeavors in a risk-free environment. We certainly don't have to give up the many benefits of art. We just have to learn about the necessary safety precautions, most of which are simple and basic."

Penny Hollar demonstrates wreaths

Penny Hollar, the Big Spring Art Association's September Artist of the Month, presented a program on holiday wreath decorating at the GFWC-TFWC Big Spring Junior Woman's Club meeting Monday.

The meeting was in the home of Lynne Chalker. Mrs. Hollar demonstrated making of corn-husk wreaths dressed with autumn and Christmas ornaments and colors.

The 1984-85 yearbooks, designed and compiled by Judi Johnson, were distributed to club members. Members will have a autumn bake sale at the Big Spring Mall Nov. 17. The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Nov. 19 in the home of Pam Mitchell. Members are asked to bring one canned good for a holiday food basket.

Northside Center to receive club's quilt

A quilt was tacked and completed during the October meeting of the Sew and Chatter Club. The meeting was held recently in the home of Mrs. Charles Robinson.

The quilt will be given to the Northside Center. Instructions were given for items to be made for nursing home residents.

New yearbooks were distributed, and cards were sent to members who were ill. Mrs. C.Y. Clinkscales' birthday was celebrated.

The next meeting will be a Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mrs. Lee Porter, Nov. 14.

NOVEMBER RITE — Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cannon, Forsan, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, DeAnn, to Steve Hector. Hector is the son of David Hector, Gail Rl., and Barbara Hix of Monahans. The couple will wed Nov. 29 at Hillcrest Baptist Church. Dr. Lee Butler, retired minister, will officiate.

Dr. Donohue

Abdominal muscles

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Can you say something about abdominal muscles and their importance in running. I try to stress this in my runners, but it needs emphasis. — P.E.A.

Sure. According to some experts the abdominals take on added significance near the end of a long run, when it is important to maintain good running posture in the face of near exhaustion. Weak abdominals can detract from the ability to exert the "kick" so important very late in a race. Abdominal and back muscles work together for maintaining good running posture. There are many good abdominal builders — the common sit-up, for example (done with knees bent).

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple — write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of the booklet, "How to Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.
