Auto insurance costs to drop

County drivers expect 6 percent decrease; liability up

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Howard County drivers who buy only the basic auto liability insurance required by law will see a $7 increase in annual premiums next year, starting with policies written or renewed on Feb. 1.

But those drivers who buy the typical policy that includes collision coverage will see a 6 percent decrease in annual premiums from $619 to $582 under a staff recommendation accepted Wednesday by the State Insurance Board.

The insurance industry had asked for the typical policy to increase 1.3 percent to $625.

Under the new rates, the present basic policy will increase from $149 a year to $156. The industry had asked for $171.

"I think you could say we are disappointed," said Rick Gentry, manager of the Insurance Information Institute's Austin office.

No industry appeal of the decision is expected, Gentry said, noting individual insurance companies could elect to contest the ruling.

The industry was surprised at the commission's quick action on auto insurance rates. Gentry said the three-member panel has had proposed changes in state property insurance rates under review since June 14.

Exact rates will vary with the driver's age, sex, marital status and driving record, as well as type of coverage purchased, make and model of car and how the car is used.

However, those typical rates quoted for Big Spring will be the same for Ector, Midland and Scurry counties.

Other Big Spring area counties, and the new rates are Mitchell, Sterling, Glasscock, Martin, Dawson, Borden — an increase from $106 to $112 for basic coverage and a 4.9 percent, or $26, decrease for a typical policy. Those rates assume a motorist drives a 1984 low- to medium-priced Buick, Chevrolet, Ford, Honda, Mazda, Nissan, Oldsmobile, Plymouth, Renault or Volkswagen. They also assume the driver is a male over age 25 or a female at least 21 who does not use the car on the job but drives it to and from work.

Basic coverage required by law includes minimum liability only — $15,000/$30,000 for bodily injury and $15,000 for property damage.

In addition to minimum liability, coverage under the higher-priced typical insurance plan required by most new car finance companies includes $5,000 in personal injury protection, $50 deductible other than for collisions and $200 deductible on collisions.

The cost of automobile insurance statewide will go down an average of 3.8 percent, reducing premiums by about $100 million. The industry wanted a 5.5 percent increase.

The Texas Automobile Insurance Service Office, which represents insurance agencies across the state, said its proposal for a 5.5 percent increase was the smallest recommended by the industry in a decade.

PD breaks theft ring

Two men arrested

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

A burglary and theft ring responsible for as many as eight crimes in the city may have been broken with the arrest of two persons Tuesday afternoon, Police Lt. Jerry Edwards said today.

City police made the arrests following a one-week investigation, Edwards said. He said two to three more arrests are pending.

The two arrested are Ricky Heffington, 26, of 1412 W. Third and Aaron Dean Davis, 24, of 1211 E. Sixth.

Heffington has been charged with theft of stolen property and is free on $15,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

Davis remains in the city jail on a charge of burglary. He also is being held in connection with a fugitive warrant from Missouri for revocation of probation, Edwards said.

Edwards said police believe the ring has been operating all over the city during the last two or three months.

The police investigation, conducted mostly by officers Bill King and Robert Yeager, recovered about $3,500 of stolen property in

A STEP DOWN — Braniff Inc. President William D. Slattery — pictured here as he talked about his hopes for the company when it resumed service after a 22-month reorganization — resigned Wednesday from his post at the financially troubled airline. With Slattery's departure, the airline will institute new cost-cutting measures the company to stem its losses.

Faltering Braniff lays off workers

DALLAS (AP) — Huge losses are forcing struggling Braniff Inc., born of the 1982 bankruptcy of its predecessor, to eliminate service to 10 cities, sell 20 of its 30 airplanes, and lay off employees, airline officials say.

In addition, Braniff president William D. Slattery has resigned, and Braniff will sell nine of its twelve gates at its home base, Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport, to rival American Airlines.

"We really have no alternative at this point but to implement these changes," Chairman Jay Pritzker and vice chairman Patrick Foley told Braniff employees Wednesday night.

The executives said Braniff has lost more than $80 million since resuming service in March. They said the austerity measures are designed to head off additional losses of $4 million to $7 million a month.

"Obviously, that level of loss cannot be sustained indefinitely by anyone, no matter how committed," Foley and Pritzker said.

They made the announcements at a hastily-called meeting of Braniff employees, many of them veterans of the 1982 bankruptcy of Braniff's predecessor, Braniff International.

The meeting at Dallas Love Field was closed to news media and the public, but copies of an announcement and a joint letter from Pritzker and Foley were obtained by The Associated Press.

The gate transfer, which Braniff officials described as a key element in their plan to save the troubled airline, raises $20.5 million in cash, officials said.

Effective Nov. 5, Braniff will suspend service to Austin, Texas; Detroit; Houston; Kansas City, Mo.; Miami; Newark, N.J.; New Orleans; Oklahoma City; Philadelphia; and San Antonio, Texas, said the statement, prepared for release today to the general public.

"We are hopeful our actions will enable Braniff to survive and succeed," the announcement said.

Braniff will reduce its fleet from 30 to 10 airplanes and reduce the work force "consistent with the overall reduction in our operations," the statement said. No specifics on the number of workers to be laid off were given.

Swinging Hoyle Nix fiddles to fame

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

Fiddle player Hoyle Nix of Big Spring is traveling to Hastings, Neb. today.

It's not just any old trip to Hastings.

Nix is going to be inducted into the Nebraska Cowboy Hall of Fame for his contributions and still active career in country music.

"He's a legend in his own time. He's a real tribute to country music," Barry Doss, a promotional agent for country music from Nevada, said by phone Tuesday.

"We're just tickled to death that he's coming. Hoyle is going to enjoy himself," Doss said.

Part of that enjoyment will come from participating in the annual awards banquet being held Saturday night. Nix will be formally inducted then and honored as the oldest, active fiddle player in Texas.

Other activities that Nix will participate in Hastings include: performing in a local television studio and playing in a five-hour radio special about Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys, another western swing band led by a late musician who had a profound influence on Nix.

"I was on the last album that Bob Wills produced. He called me from Ft. Worth the year before he passed away (1974) and asked me to play with his band," Nix said.

"I thought this was the greatest — to play and be with this old boy," Nix said about producing an album with Wills.

The Hall of Fame plans to hang an 8" x 10" photograph of Nix in its pioneer section. A tape of Nix's song, "Big Ball in Cowtown" will accompany the shrine.

"I'm enthused about being one of the top boys," says Nix. "I've learned about it (western swing music) all these years — sitting up nights and days playing it."

Nix said he's been in the business of producing country swing music for 38 years come Nov. 11th.

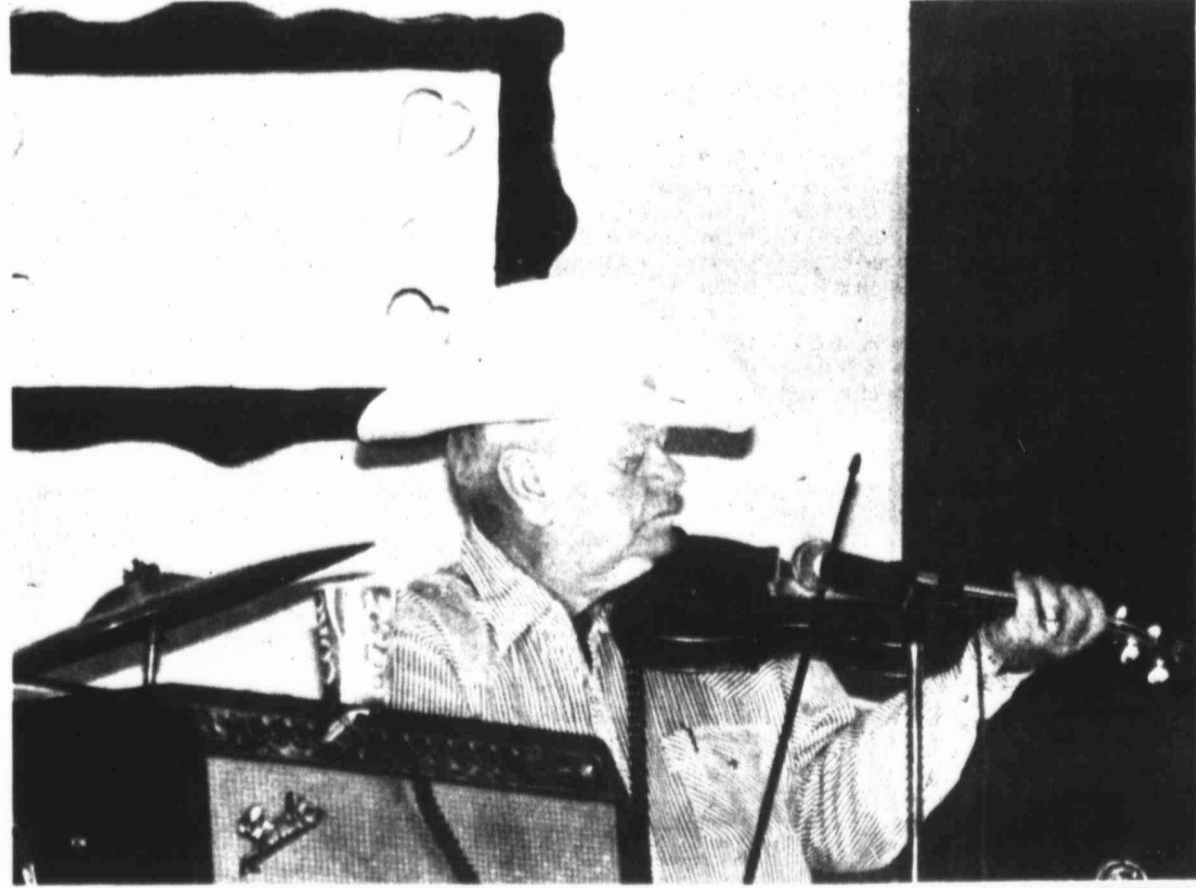

"I got about the oldest organized band in Texas," Nix said.

And he's still at it. Nix performs regularly at The Stampede, which he owns and operates, on the Snyder Highway every Saturday night. The band includes his two sons, Larry and Jody, Tommy Harvell and Gerald Cox.

He performs on other weeknights in a 300-mile area radius around Big Spring. For the last 28 years, he has performed Thursday nights in Sweetwater.

Weather

Floods hit Central Texas

By The Associated Press

A flash flood warning was issued today for Brazos County after heavy rains caused flash flooding on Texas 30 near the Navasota River in the Central Texas county.

The National Weather Service also issued a flood watch and a flash flood watch for portions of Central Texas and the coastal plains and a flash flood watch was issued for the eastern third of North Texas.

The flash flood watches were issued after a warm front moved inland into Central Texas during the night and heavy thunderstorms formed along the front.

The flood watch and flash flood watch for Central Texas and the coastal plains was enclosed within a line from College Station to Palacios to Beeville to Austin and back to College Station.

Forecasters warned that flash flooding may result from the heavy thunderstorms and flooding may result many miles away from the area of heavy rainfall.

The flash flood watch for the eastern third of North Texas covered an area along and east of a line extending from the Red River north of Bonham to Groesbeck.

The warm front extended early today from the Red River north of Greenville southward to near Palacios along the Texas coast.

Light drizzle and fog was reported over all but West Texas early today.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 50s and 60s with readings dropping into the 40s over the plains and in far West Texas. Some areas in Southeast Texas reported readings in the low 70s. Extremes ranged from 43 at Amarillo to 74 at Houston.

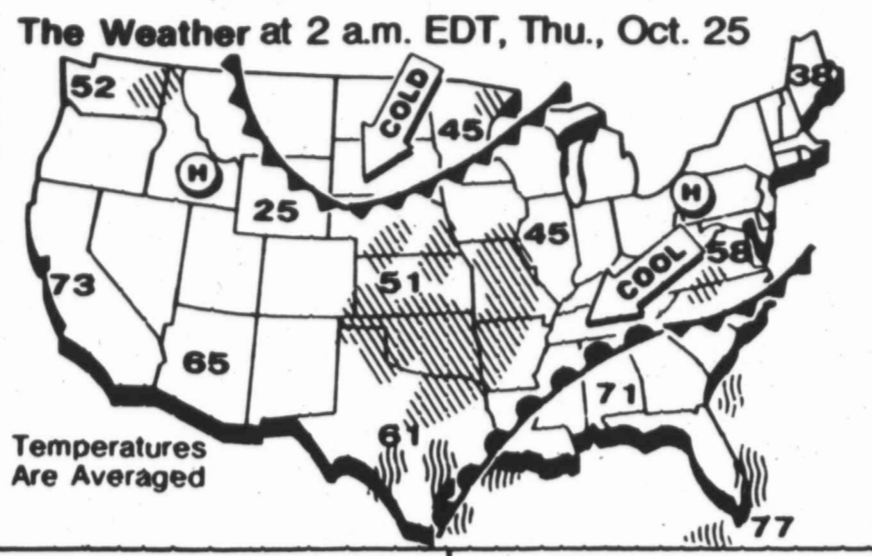

Other readings around the state included 50 at Wichita Falls, 55 at Dallas-Fort Worth, 57 at Waco, 61 at San Antonio, 66 at Corpus Christi, 72 at Brownsville, 52 at San Angelo, 44 at Lubbock, 48 at Midland and 45 at El Paso.

Forecasts called for thunderstorms, some heavy, in North Texas. Thunderstorms were expected in South Texas. Rain, drizzle and a few thunderstorms were being forecast for West Texas. Highs were to range from the upper 40s in the Panhandle to near 80 in the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas.

Louisiana and Mississippi were drying out from days of heavy rain and flooding today as the warm front that deluged them headed slowly north, pushing showers and thunderstorms into Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Rain extended across east Texas and much of Oklahoma and into southern Kansas, Arkansas and Missouri.

WEST TEXAS - Rain and drizzle and a few thunderstorms likely tonight. Scattered showers and thunderstorms Friday. Warmer Friday. Lows tonight near 40 mountains and Panhandle to low 50s extreme south. Highs Friday 60s except to low 80s extreme south.

The persons threw rocks at the car and struck with an unknown object while the car was parked in the 300 block of N.E. Eighth about 4:15 a.m. today, Joe Thomas Rodriguez of 501 N.E. Ninth told police.

Earl Lusk, the owner of Lusk Paint and Frame at 1601 Scurry told police someone broke the glass and damaged the door frame at his business between 5:30 p.m. Tuesday and 7:15 a.m. Wednesday. The amount of damage is unknown, the report stated.

treatment, according to the police report.

Phil Barber, an employee of the Coors Plant at Interstate Highway 20, told police that someone took about $50 of beer from his truck around 11:30 p.m. Wednesday, when his truck was parked in the 300 block of N.W. Fourth Street.

Police arrested Glen Wilms, 27, of 800 Marcy at about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at his home on suspicion of possession of a controlled substance and of possession of drug paraphernalia.

Police also arrested Tommy Campbell, 29, of 1711 Monticello on suspicion of driving while intoxicated after a three-car accident at 2:30 a.m. at the intersection of Grafa and S. Monticello, according to reports.

Police also arrested George Fauntleroy, 25, of the Thrifty Lodge at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday at 1000 W. Fourth on a theft warrant. He was transferred to the county sheriff's office.

Man pleads guilty to theft

A 23-year old Boca Raton, Fla., man pleaded guilty Wednesday to a charge of theft over $200 and less than $10,000 in 118th District Court.

District Judge Jim Gregg sentenced Micheal Elden Price to serve five years deferred adjudication probation.

A Big Spring man was arrested by Howard County Sheriff's Deputies for a capias pro-fine warrant served by the sheriff's office in San Angelo.

Jessie D. Perez, 25, 201 N.E. Sixth, paid his fine and was released.

George R. Fauntleroy, 25, of the Thrifty Lodge, was transferred from the Big Spring Police Department to county jail on a charge of theft.

He was released on $1,000 bond set by the police.

Steven Olivias, 58, of Stanton was arrested on a revocation of probation warrant.

According to Howard County sheriff's records, Olivias pleaded guilty to a sexual abuse of a child charge on Dec. 23, 1981.

the arrests and searches of an eastside and westside residence, Edwards said.

Among the business burglaries and thefts police believe they have solved are ones at D & C Sales Inc at 3910 W. Highway 80 and at Honda Cycle Sales at 906 E. Fourth, Edwards said.

Among the items recovered are a 22-caliber rifle, furniture, and a motorcycle and accessories, Edwards said. Police are unsure how much more stolen property may be recovered in the investigation, he said.

The burglary ring was not involved in fencing as far as police are aware, Edwards said. "Mostly, it appears they were using the items for their own use," he said.

Braniff

will let Braniff passengers who bought tickets on or before Wednesday fly on American without paying additional charges, officials said.

Financial health has proved elusive for Braniff. Braniff International folded on May 12, 1982, under a $1 billion debt.

At that time, the airline grounded its fleet, laid off its 7,000 employees and filed for protection from creditors under Chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code.

A $70 million bailout by the Hyatt Hotel chain enabled a resurrected Braniff to inaugurate service out of Gate 13 at Dallas-Fort Worth International in March as a premium carrier aiming at business travelers.

Under mounting losses, Braniff last month became a discount airline, a move that required barebones fare cuts, layoffs among its 2,500 employees and reductions in in-flight services.

ing," says Nix. "We go wherever we're booked."

Though the recognition is coming late in his career, Nix doesn't mind. In fact, the ceremony in Hastings may set off a chain of future inductions into other cowboy hall of fame.

About his Nebraska induction, Nix says, "It sure beats playing all your life and not getting into one."

When he thinks further recognition, he refers to what the events in Hastings may bring.

"If I live long enough, they gonna put me and the Playboys (the remaining members of Bob Wills' band) in different Hall of Fames."

The promoters in Hastings will try," Nix said.

Doss, the promotional agent from Nevada, plans to add more surprises to Nix's honors.

Doss said Nix was the first name everyone thought of when the Nebraska Cowboy Hall of Fame made plans to include a pioneer section.

"His peers honor him so much. It should have been done long ago."

"You've got a real legend down there," said Doss.

Three killed in shootout

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — A police raid on an apartment to arrest two suspects triggered a three-hour shootout in which two officers, both suspects and an elderly neighbor died.

At the height of the gun battle Wednesday, 150 officers were at the downtown apartment building. In the final assault, police hurled tear gas grenades through windows that had been shattered by gunfire.

Gestapo officer acquitted

HEIDELBERG, West Germany — A former Gestapo officer has been acquitted of charges that he fatally beat a Yugoslav resistance member in 1942. The court ruling said the death may have been caused by an "unfortunate kick."

Clemens Druschke, 68, was accused of whipping and kicking Lavro Azman, treasurer of the Slovenian Resistance Front in 1942. At the time, Druschke was head of the Nazi secret police office in Jesenice, a town in northern Yugoslavia.

Azman died in prison of kidney failure caused by the beating, according to testimony.

Notorious criminal dies

IRAPUATO, Mexico — Maria Gonzalez Valenzuela, one of Mexico's most notorious criminals three decades ago, was found dead in her prison cell, police report.

Police said Wednesday that her age was not known, nor was the cause of her death, but that her body showed no sign of violence.

She had not been seen out of her cell since Sunday, and guards found her body Tuesday.

Miss Gonzalez Valenzuela and her two sisters were members of a gang blamed for the deaths of at least 12 women. They operated in the central state of Guanajuato and were convicted of murdering women after forcing them into prostitution.

11 killed in bus rollover

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — At least 11 people were killed in central Brazil when a bus went out of control and flipped over, police said.

Divino Batista de Paulo, a state police trooper, said in a telephone interview that the bus overturned outside the farming town of Itumbiara, 700 miles northwest of Rio. The cause of the crash was not known.

The bus had been en route from Santo Andre, a southeastern industrial suburb of Sao Paulo, to the resort town of Caldas Novas, 91 miles from Itumbiara.

AMBASSADOR CHARGES — Nicaragua's ambassador to the United Nations Javier Chamorro charged in the U.N. National Assembly Wednesday that a CIA manual for rebels was not an isolated incident but a printed confirmation of U.S. intent to overthrow the Sandinista government.

A bishop's beliefs

Catholic leader criticizes leftist government

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A leading Roman Catholic bishop has harshly criticized Nicaragua's leftist Sandinista government, saying it uses violence and repression and disregards "the fundamental rights of man."

Monignor Pablo Antonio Vega, head of the national bishops' conference, said his statement Wednesday reflected his personal opinion, and he was not speaking for the church or the bishops.

Vega, the second most influential religious leader in the country after Archbishop Miguel Obando y Bravo, described his 16-page statement as "an invitation to Christian reflection."

"Nicaragua, after five years of euphoric illusions, revolutionary myths and painful deviations, is now a living lesson for the whole continent," said Vega. "It has been proved once again that ideological dogmatism and materialistic schemes do not fulfill human needs. They are mechanisms for domination ... which disregard the fundamental rights of man."

He called the Sandinistas' slogan "Power to the Workers" a myth, and condemned their alleged use of "violent and repressive methods."

"To what imperialism belong those who internally impose a regime that plunders, imprisons and constantly calls people to arms?" he asked.

Relations between the church and the Sandinistas, who came to power in 1979 after toppling the rightist government of Anastasio Somoza, have grown increasingly tense in recent months. They reached a low point when the ruling junta expelled 10 foreign priests in July for allegedly participating in anti-government activities.

In another development, ABC News reported that a Bulgarian ship began offloading sensitive military gear, perhaps high-performance aircraft, at a Nicaraguan seaport Wednesday. The network quoted unidentified State Department analysts as saying unusually heavy security precautions were taken for an unloading at the Atlantic port of El Bluff.

The Nicaraguan Embassy in Washington issued a statement Wednesday night denying that "MiG airplanes" were being unloaded. The ABC report did not specifically mention MiGs but quoted the analysts as saying there's "some chance" that high-performance aircraft were included in the shipment.

Police nab illegal aliens

COACHELLA, Calif. — Police noticed a pickup truck with a camper top tilting sharply when it negotiated a turn 150 miles east of Los Angeles, and found 27 undocumented aliens stuffed inside the camper.

The 27 aliens and a man riding in the truck's cab were deported to Mexico, but the driver fled through a field, Gordon Schneider, a supervisory U.S. Border Patrol agent, said Wednesday.

Woman remains in coma

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — A man charged with shooting a woman may not intervene in a decision on whether to remove her from life-support equipment, in part because he's not acting in her best interest, a judge has ruled.

Justice John Tenney of the state Supreme Court, which is a lower trial court in New York, on Wednesday rejected Harold Hall's request for an order preventing the removal of the equipment from Sandra Sweeting, 26, who is comatose.

Diseased trees destroyed

MIAMI — State officials say they're pleased with a ruling they may burn citrus trees at a nursery where no evidence of citrus canker has been found. The nursery received stock from a supplier affected by the disease.

Circuit Judge Fredricka Smith on Wednesday denied Edward C. Tietig's bid to halt the planned burning, saying the program to eradicate suspect trees must go forward.

1-way fares drop to $19

NEWARK, N.J. — One-way fares on four East Coast routes drop to as low as $19 today, People Express Airlines Inc. has announced.

One-way fares between Newark International Airport and Baltimore, Boston, Hartford, Conn., and Washington's Dulles Airport will be $29 during peak hours and $19 in off-peak periods. The fares were $45 peak and $29 off-peak.

One charged in incident

LINCOLN, Neb. — A woman was charged with attempted murder after authorities found an insecticide in the coffee her boyfriend took to work. He had felt ill, and noticed a strange odor coming from his thermos.

Carolyn Kay Westfall, 34, who is free on bond pending arraignment, said when arrested that she was only trying to get Phillip Wade, 34, to quit smoking and drinking, said Cass County Sheriff Fred Tesch.

FBI bugged office to get indictment

NEW YORK (AP) — FBI agents posed as crooked businessmen and bugged a pasta importer's offices to get indictments against the "entire top echelon" of one of the city's five major organized crime families, authorities said.

Meanwhile, hooded witnesses testifying anonymously told the President's Commission on Organized Crime on Wednesday that a new crime society, the Japanese Yakuza, is moving into the United States.

U.S. Attorney General William French Smith, who told the commission Tuesday that law enforcement efforts had traditional U.S. criminal organizations on the run, said Wednesday that organized crime had been "mortally wounded" by the indictments against the Colombo crime family.

It was one of the few times in law enforcement history "that the entire top echelon of a major organized crime family has been charged in a single federal indictment," Smith said in a news conference.

The 51-count federal racketeering indictment returned Wednesday named 11 men, including Carmine Persico, Gennaro Langella and Thomas DiBella. Federal authorities described Persico as the Colombo family boss, Langella as underboss and DiBella as adviser and a former family head.

The Colombo family "controls no fewer than seven key union organizations" in New York and "strongly influences both the construction and restaurant industries in this city," Smith said.

The indictment alleges "extortion and payoffs, mob control of labor unions, embezzlement of union funds, trafficking in heroin and other drugs, multimillion-dollar thefts, illegal gambling, loansharking and bribery."

Meanwhile, in the second day of testimony before the commission, witnesses described the Yakuza as a network of groups whose members cover their bodies with tattoos as a sign of discipline and chop off fingers to atone for mistakes.

Peace prize gives spur to S. Africa

Last year, the Nobel Committee awarded its prestigious peace prize to Lech Walesa, symbol of the non-violent struggle for human rights in the face of communist oppression in Poland. This year, the committee made a comparable choice, selecting South Africa's Anglican bishop, Desmond Tutu, a bitter but non-violent foe of South Africa's system of racial segregation and discrimination.

The moral symmetry of these two choices is obvious enough, and no doubt part of the message the Nobel Committee sought to convey. But it is equally obvious that political analogies between South Africa and Poland are limited at best. Communism is a system of universal political and economic oppression whereas South Africa's apartheid oppresses selectively by race.

Most white South Africans must know in their hearts that majority blacks in that country cannot forever be denied a significant share of political power. South Africa's prime minister, P.W. Botha, has told his countrymen that their nation must "change or die." The question for South Africa is no longer whether to change, but how much and at what rate.

Despite "constitutional reforms," the increasing violence between whites and blacks in South Africa makes Bishop Tutu's message and example more important than ever. He preaches non-violence, partly because he interprets it as a Christian imperative in present circumstances and partly because he recognizes that a race war would mean disaster for black and white South Africans alike.

Unlikely as it may seem today, there is reason for Bishop Tutu to hope and expect that a measure of justice for South Africa's majority black population can be achieved without resort to violence. The fitting award of the Nobel Peace Prize will greatly amplify the bishop's voice within South Africa and beyond its borders. And that, in turn, should mean better odds for the cause of peaceful change and evolutionary reform in a nation vitally important to the West.

Tough-guy role

The recent report on Soviet arms control violations by a presidential advisory committee will never be a topic for "The Phil Donahue Show." Discussions of SS-X-25 missiles and telemetric encryption can make even the most determined layman drowsy. But the report deserves attention, both for what it claims about Soviet conduct and for what it reveals about American attitudes.

The report itself is classified; only a summary of its findings has been made public. This document is a truculent polemic, not a calm evaluation of the evidence. It goes well beyond what even the Reagan administration has charged in the past, finding flagrant abuses in all sorts of conduct that is not clearly proscribed by the various treaties or clearly substantiated by the available evidence.

Nowhere does the General Advisory Committee acknowledge the roll paradox of an American government body griping about Soviet fudging on treaties that the United States has refused to ratify. No fewer than nine of the committee's 12 members are present or former members of the board of directors of the Committee on the Present Danger, which counts the demise of SALT II among its noblest achievements. Yet they solemnly condemn the Soviets for insufficient deference to the agreement.

Looking at some of the arcane and antique charges in the report, it becomes plain that the point is not to advance arms control by enforcing its provisions, but to destroy it by holding it to an absurd standard.

Several of the alleged breaches already have been raised formally by the U.S. and resolved — at least to the satisfaction of previous presidents, presumably duped by such credulous left-wingers as James Schlesinger and Harold Brown. Others involve "unilateral commitments," real or imagined, that the Soviets aren't obliged to honor. When the report charges the Soviets with failing to comply with the 1936 Montreux Convention's prohibition on the passage of aircraft carriers through the Turkish Straits, we know we are in the Twilight Zone.

This is not to say the Soviets are guiltless; they rarely are. At least four of the accusations made by the committee are both serious and plausible: (1) They have concealed electronic data in missile tests, which is needed to verify compliance with the SALT agreements; (2) they have tested two new ICBMs, though only one is allowed; (3) they are building a radar in Siberia that, if completed, might be part of an antiballistic missile system; and (4) they have used chemical weapons and produced biological ones.

The importance of these charges can't be dismissed. But in none of these instances is there definitive evidence of a violation. Moreover, every past dispute of this sort has been resolved through the Standing Consultative Committee set up in SALT I, and an administration less hostile to arms control could most likely resolve these there, too.

Unfortunately, the Reagan administration is hamstrung by its refusal to seek ratification of SALT II, under which the first two violations fall, and by its eagerness to scrap the ABM treaty, which is involved in the third. The conventions on biological and chemical weapons are harder to enforce, because they — unlike the SALT accords — contain neither sound verification provisions nor good means of settling disputes.

There is a serious question at stake here, namely whether Soviet behavior under past agreements has been bad enough to warrant abandonment of arms control efforts. In answering that question, any substantial violations that have occurred demand attention. But so does the longer record of the Soviets' compliance with their treaties.

Valid though these four charges may be, the committee weakens its case by equating them with trivial instances of supposed misbehavior.

If the Reagan administration plans to stop negotiating entirely in a second term, it will no doubt use trumped-up Soviet violations as the pretext. Given its record, the convictions of the president and the contents of this report, no one can say we haven't been warned.

Lobbyist sports a yacht-for-loan

WASHINGTON — Embattled Labor Secretary Ray Donovan's chief of staff, Daniel K. Benjamin, knew just where to look last summer when he wanted to go off on a weekend sailing jaunt. He borrowed a lobbyist's 32-foot yacht.

Benjamin's benefactor was James "Mike" McKeivitt, president of the National Federation of Independent Businesses, a major trade association that deals regularly with the Labor Department.

Labor spokesman Michael Volpe denied that the personal relationship between Benjamin and McKeivitt would give the small-business group any better access to Labor Department policy makers than it already enjoys.

McKeivitt told my associate Tony Capaccio that he and Benjamin were introduced by Donovan last May. He said the labor secretary wanted the support of McKeivitt's organization for the administration's proposal to encourage youth employment by allowing below-minimum wages.

Learning that Benjamin, a former economics professor at the University of Washington, is an avid sailor, McKeivitt took him for a cruise on his sloop, "Navajo Chief." The lobbyist said he was so impressed with Benjamin's seamanship that he broke precedent: For the first time since he acquired the boat 10 years ago, he let someone else take it out on his own when Benjamin asked to use it on the weekend of July 27-29.

"They returned it in beautiful condition," he said. Benjamin's two crewmen on the weekend sail were former students of his. One was reporting to the Labor Department the following week for a 10-day, $2,432 sole-source consulting contract Benjamin had arranged two weeks earlier. The other crewman was a department employee who did the paperwork on the contract award.

Skipper Benjamin did some tacking on the job last year in an effort to raise his $56,945-a-year government salary by $3,000. He did this by claiming that his government salary did not match his last civilian salary.

But a paper trail left by Benjamin himself raises questions about his claim:

- In February 1982, when he was under consideration for a post at the department, Benjamin signed a 171 resume form stating that his final salary at the University of Washington was $5,000 a month. He went to work as a consultant in June of that year, and became a deputy assistant secretary in September.

- In May 1983, on his official department financial disclosure form, Benjamin reported that he had made $17,927 in university salary during 1982, plus $6,106 in consulting fees earned in 1981 — nowhere near $60,000.

- Last November, during an FBI check in expectation of Benjamin's promotion to assistant secretary, his disclosure form was reviewed by the White House. It contained the later, lower figures on his last civilian earnings.

- Asked by my associate Tony Capaccio about the conflicting figures, the Labor Department's chief legal officer, Francis Lilly, checked and reported that a new disclosure form that Benjamin said he had filed some time ago apparently was lost.

- Two weeks ago, Benjamin filed a new form putting his pre-government income closer to $60,000 a year.

Though he failed to get his $3,000 raise last year or his promotion to assistant secretary, he was promoted to chief of staff last May. He now makes $66,400 a year.

CITIZENS WATCH: Gloria Anderson is a Marine Corps widow who has spent the last seven years trying to learn the truth about the death of her husband. The heavily loaded helicopter he was piloting crashed in the Philippines in 1977. What she has learned is not pleasant.

The chopper Marine Sgt. Charles Anderson was flying, a Sikorsky CH-53D, had a problem that was known to the Navy as early as 1970.

Sikorsky warned the Navy that year that the additional power the Navy had installed "can create conditions where there is insufficient tail rotor control to maintain heading." This could tip the chopper into an uncontrollable dive.

The pilots knew something was wrong. In fact, Anderson's last letter home — read and re-read by his widow with undiminished anguish over the years — was eerily prophetic. It said:

"Gloria, I'm the operations chief of a CH-53 squadron. ... Well, this may sound good but it's really a mess — the squadron lost four aircraft here in the past six months. All crashed with pilot mishap killing all crew. What a mess. As you can guess, I'm not going to fly unless I really have to."

But Anderson did have to fly — on a training mission to pick up 33 infantrymen and an empty water trailer. The maneuver required a "maximum power climb," the very circumstance Sikorsky had warned against seven years before. The chopper crashed.

At first, the Navy blamed "pilot error." But then it acknowledged that if the tail-rotor control problem had been remedied, it "likely would have prevented this tragic accident." A follow-up cable from one of Anderson's superiors was even blunter, saying: "The entire CH-53 community must bear the blame..."

Eventually, the Navy fixed the problem in its 94 CH-53D helicopters — for a total of $27,000. It was too late for the Andersons.

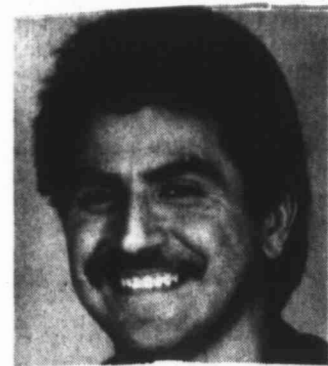

Footnote: My associates Indy Badhwar and Donald Goldberg sued the Pentagon for the release of accident reports it doesn't want the public to know about.

Anyone who knows of a serious breach of safety by the military should write to me at P.O. Box 2300, Washington, D.C., 20013. You might help to prevent future tragedies.

Los cambios en el hogar

Por LUIS RIOS
Escritor

La frase "Hay, como ha cambiado los tiempos," siempre ha sido una favorita de mucha gente entre los años.

Muchos de los cambios han sido por el mejoramiento de nuestras vidas y modo de vivir. Tenemos la televisión, la radio y varios aparatos que hacen el trabajo de la casa mas facil. La ama de casa no pasa un solo dia sin utilizar la lavaplatos, la aspiradora y el horno moderno.

Ya podemos viajar 100 kilometros en una hora y media por un artefacto ingenioso — el automovil. Y si queremos viajar largas distancias tenemos el avion.

Dicen muchos que los tiempos han cambiado tanto que una senorita no tiene que casarse para poder soportarse. La mujer en estos tiempos es tan independiente que ha cambiado el pensar de la sociedad americana.

Pero si viera, no son tanto los tiempos que cambian — son mas los individuos que son responsables por lo que ha pasado. Y al contrario, no todos los cambios han sido tan buenos.

Nuestra sociedad fue formada por gente como Ud. y yo. Hemos visto los cambios pasar dia a dia. Y uno de estos cambios es uno que necesita nuestra atencion y tambien una solucion, aqui en Big Spring y tambien en el resto de nuestro pais.

De los males que aquejan a la sociedad actualmente se pueden artibuir, muchos de ellos, al desmoronamiento del hogar y la familia.

Este problema que, en principio, no se le ha dado importancia, va adquiriendo dia a dia proporciones alarmantes.

Cuando el hogar se deshace por separacion de los esposos o cuando los esposos no le dan la debida atencion, pierde ese calor hogareno que mantiene unida a la familia, dice un comentario en el periodico Temas.

Por supuesto, los hijos reclaman su independencia y se dispersan a edades muy tempranas exponiendose a muchos riesgos que solo la madurez y la experiencia de los padres puede precaver.

La familia mexicana siempre ha tenido mas precaucion con los ninios. Pero degradadamente, la independencia de los chicos ya es mas fuerte que los consejos de los padres.

Una prueba de las consecuencias de ese resquebrajamiento del hogar y la familia se puede hallar en la estadista de los ninios que anualmente nacen de madres solteras. Esto no es solo un problema en Big Spring que tambien en cada ciudad.

De los mas de 100,000 ninios que nacieron en Nueva York el ano pasado, 37 por ciento de ellos fueron de madres solteras, dice el articulo en Temas. El comentario tambien dice que el por ciento es mas en la mayorida de las ciudades.

Bueno seria no contemplar este grave problema por mas tiempo, sino buscar alguna solucion para evitarlo. Y esta solucion comienza en nuestras propias casas.

Opiniones expresadas en este articulo son ideas del autor y no reflejan las ideas de la administracion de esta prensa.

Parents, It's Time To Talk

The Parent Support Task Force (Chemical People), in conjunction with the March of Dimes, the County Extension Agency, and the Texas Department of Human Resources, will present a seminar entitled "Parents, It's Time to Talk."

This seminar promises to enlighten parents on how best to communicate with their children during all phases of adolescence. Subjects to be covered will range from active listening to peer pressure, with special emphasis on boy and girl sexuality.

Dr. Rick Stafford, a clinical psychologist, will be present to answer questions and to aid in group discussions.

If you, as a parent, have ever found it difficult to talk with your children, to communicate with them, or to honestly answer some of the pressing adolescent questions all children have, this seminar is highly recommended for you.

The seminar will be held on Saturday, October 27, 1984, from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Goliad Middle School cafeteria. Admission is free. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Dear Abby

Policy gets attacked by shopper

DEAR ABBY: A friend told me that the best department stores in Boston have installed two-way mirrors in their dressing rooms so they can watch for shoplifters.

I think this is terrible! I would feel very uncomfortable undressing to try on clothes knowing that a detective (male or female) was watching me. And when I think of trying on bathing suits and lingerie, it really disturbs me.

Is this practice legal? I can't believe it's really going on in Boston.

APPALLED IN BOSTON
DEAR APPALLED: I checked with the best department stores in Boston and was assured that there are no two-way mirrors in their dressing rooms. Your friend is full of beans.

DEAR ABBY: I nearly fainted when I read the letter signed "Needs Advice." Our situations were identical! I was a 21-year-old girl, dating a 23-year-old guy who told me he was living with "Diane," a 30-year-old woman, but it was just a platonic relationship. He told me he loved me, but he didn't want Diane to know he was dating anyone else because she had a crush on him, and he felt he "owed" her.

Key Club

to sponsor
Rock-A-Thon

Chad Wash, Key Club president, has announced the Key Club of Big Spring is conducting its annual March of Dimes Rock-A-Thon, Nov. 16-17. It is being held as part of Key Club International's "Mankind for Mankind" campaign and in conjunction with Key Club Week, Nov. 4-10.

Key Club Week is an observance to dramatize the service work performed by Key Clubs in their schools and communities. Key Club International is a high school service organization sponsored by Kiwanis.

He also told me if I called him and a woman answered to hang up. I did as he asked until one day instead of hanging up, I talked to the woman, told her who I was and asked if we could meet and talk. She invited me over, and I found out in a short time what a fool I'd been.

This so-called "30-year-old woman" who had a crush on him was a beautiful 27-year-old woman to whom he had been married for four years! They had three children — the baby was 3 months old.

She told me her husband had a bad drinking problem and she was seeking help for him and their family. It was very plain to me that she really loved this man.

The next time my "boyfriend" called me, I told him I had met his wife and saw his children and he never should come near me again.

4-Hers discuss carnival plans

The Forsan 4-H Club discussed plans for the Halloween Carnival during its meeting at Elbow Elementary School, Oct. 16.

The 4-Hers have the Cap Walk at the carnival this year. Workers are needed to work the carnival, which will be held Saturday at Elbow

I also told him what I thought of him for cheating on a beautiful family like his.

I am very thankful to Diane for inviting me over and opening my eyes.

NEVER AGAIN
DEAR ABBY: So "Celeste, Texas" thinks that only virgins have a right to wear white wedding gowns and marry in a church. Who gave "Celeste" the right to act as God's judge on earth?

If women are expected to save themselves for marriage, so should men. In fact, if men would try to save themselves for marriage, then more women would be able to!

As for wearing white, if a bride wants to wear purple and a bone in her hose, and walk up the aisle to "Shake Your Booty," that's her business. And whether she's a virgin or not is strictly between her, her husband and God.

Dr. Donohue

Grand mal differs from focal seizure

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My dad had a grand mal seizure. What kind of seizure is that? The doc treated it with a Valium shot. — J.T.

Any seizure results from sudden abnormal discharge of electrical brain activity. If the area of brain activity is small the seizure is in one area of the body, like an arm. It begins twitching uncontrollably. That is called a focal seizure because there is a specific focal point of the brain involved.

In grand mal seizure, what your dad experienced, the electrical activity was widespread. The person suddenly stops all motion and loses consciousness. Then there is stiffening of the arms and legs, followed by jerking movements. The entire episode lasts two to five minutes, after which the person is quite groggy.

Mrs. E.P. asked me (letter unpublished) if stroke can be involved in such a seizure. Yes, it can if brain scars from the stroke set off future abnormal brain discharge. But even a head injury can cause it, as can low blood sugar, growths, or even abnormal heart rhythm — anything that can precipitate the brain discharge.

Valium is often used to terminate a generalized seizure, but it isn't used to prevent one from occurring. J.T. (above) asks in another part of his letter about the advisability of using Valium. It is a valuable drug, but it does have a potential for misuse and overuse. So we all have to be cautious about it and try not to depend on it for long periods for frivolous reasons, such as to cope with normal anx-

Nicotine has a narrowing effect on arteries, including those that serve the heart. A recent study confirmed this. People with angina who smoked were found to have in-

7-3A lead on line in classic contest

By STEVE BELVIN

BALLINGER — When two high powered offenses like the Ballinger Bearcats and Colorado City Wolves meet Friday night in a District 7-3A clash of unbeaten, how can anyone say the game will be a defensive contest?

That is what Colorado City coach Tom Ramsey thinks the contest will turn into while Ballinger mentor Randy Allen is hoping that is what the contest will be.

First place and playoff aspirations will be on the line when the two long time rivals square off here at 7:30 p.m.

Both teams enter the contest with perfect 7-0 marks. The Harris Poll ranks Colorado City ninth and Ballinger 13th. For the season Wolves are averaging 45 points while the Bearcats are averaging 32.

The only common opponents each team has faced is Abilene Wylie and Ozona. Ballinger downed Wylie 16-7 while Colorado City defeated the Bulldogs 34-13. Ballinger destroyed Ozona 68-0 and the Wolves beat the Lions 46-0.

Both squads are senior laden with Allen having 17 seniors on his team while Ramsey and the Wolves total 20.

So why should this game be a defensive struggle? If past history has anything to do with it, it will be. Over the last five years the winner of this game hasn't scored over two touchdowns.

"I think it's going to be a defensive game," said Ramsey. "Friday night it will be two of the top defenses in AAA." The facts back up Ramsey's statement — The Wolves has given up 41 points while Ballinger has allowed 35 points. "I hope it's a defensive struggle," said Allen. "It will be more to our liking. Colorado City is a finesse team, they like to get in front and run away. We want to keep them from the big play."

Both teams have big play artists. Colorado City has West Texas' leading passer in quarterback

Doug Chitsey who has passed for 1,401 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Ballinger counters with sophomore quarterback Eric Lugo who has thrown for almost almost 800 yards.

Chitsey's favorite receiver this season has been tight end Don Randle who has 32 catches for 508 yards. Perry Conner and Armando Rivera have 13 and 12 catches respectively. Lugo likes to go to senior receiver Terry Francis who has snagged 13 passes for 262 yards. He also can go to wingbacks Terry Strambler, the fastest player on the team, or senior Gary Elliot.

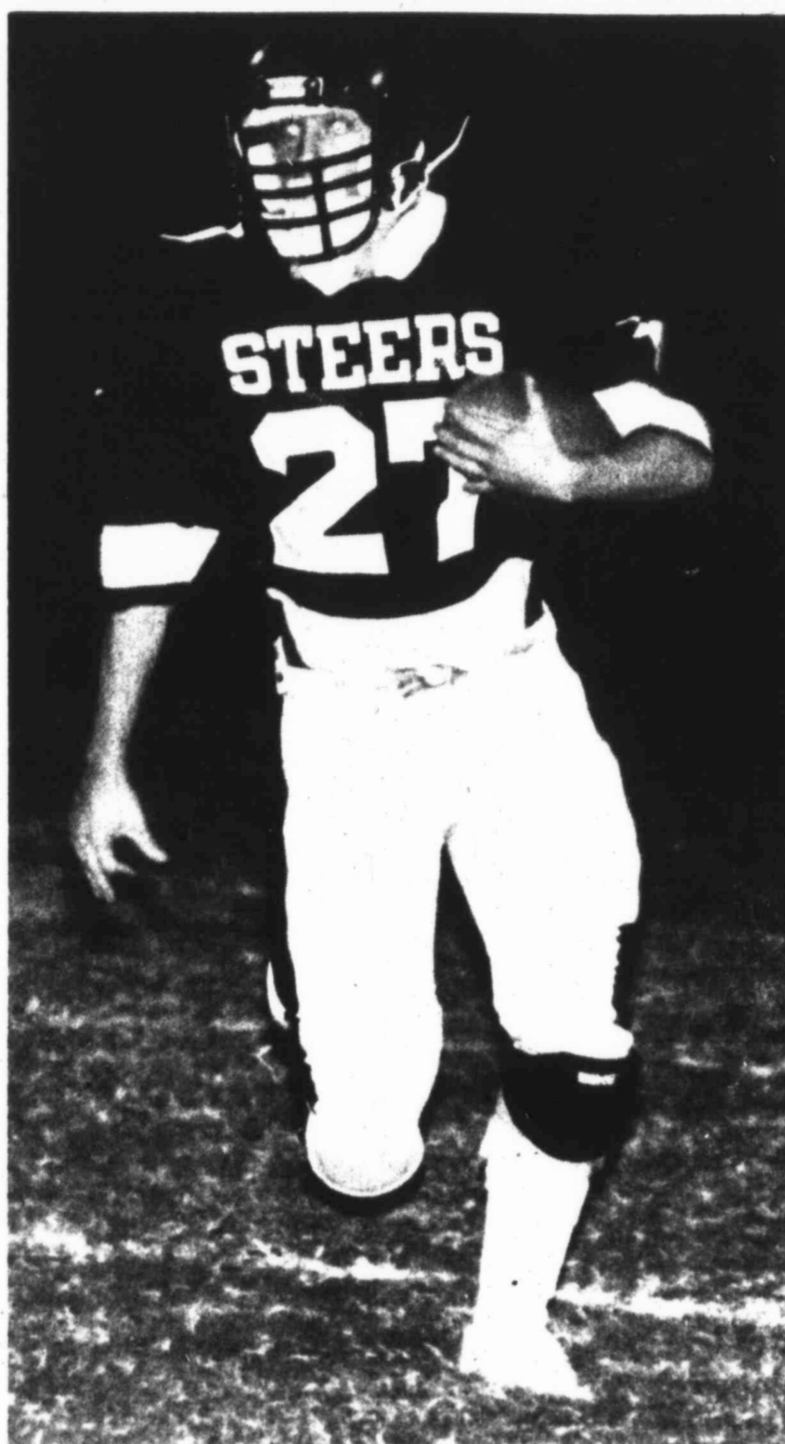

Both teams also provide strong rushing attacks. The Colorado City duo of Sammy Rivera and Bill Jackson has rushed for 714 and 500 yards respectively. Ballinger has a host of good runners in Eddie Galvan (500 yards) and Terry Olge, who got 149 yards rushing in his first start last week. Brent Brevard is also a top-notch runner.

Defensively the Wolves secondary of Armondo Rivera, Ronnie Hernandez, Gary Marsh and Joey Ritchey will put Lugo and company to the test. In the last three games C-City's deep four has come up with 13 interceptions, including seven versus Ozona.

Francis' four thefts heads an experienced Ballinger secondary while linebackers David Eckert and Scotty Zertuchee head the stingy Bearcats defense.

Ramsey said the tale of the game will be in the line. "I think it's going down to the trenches, whoever plays better in the line will win." When asked about the home field advantage Ramsey replied, "It doesn't mean a thing, we like playing in Ballinger, we'll have a lot of fans there."

Is this Ballinger team better than the one that downed C-City 14-7 last season? "With all their returning players I would say they are better with the exception of quarterback. Last year they had a great one, this year they have a good one," said Ramsey.

LEADING RUSHER — Colin Carroll is the leading rusher for the Big Spring Steers this season with over 270 yards. He is also the second leading scorer for the 2-5 Steers who will travel to Odessa for a game Friday against the Bronchos of Odessa High. Both teams are winless in District 4-5A competition.

Steers geared to break Bronchos

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

ODESSA — Call it the battle of the cellar dwellers.

That is about the long and short of how Friday's District 4-5A match shapes up here between the Big Spring Steers and Odessa High Bronchos.

First place definitely won't be on the line when the Steers invade Ratliff Stadium for an 8 p.m. kickoff. But a move out of last place will be at stake.

That is because both the Steers and Bronchos enter the game still seeking that elusive first loop win. Both are 0-4 and both are also 2-5 for the season. So, the winner of Friday's battle moves ahead in the race to keep from finishing last.

And despite the records of both teams, a good game is expected.

"It should be a real physical game," said Big Spring head coach Quinn Eudy. "Both teams should be playing with a lot of intensity because they know what's at stake."

Defensively the Bronchos offer up a look not seen by the Steers this year — namely an eight man front.

That type of attack leaves Odessa susceptible to the pass, "providing you get the time to throw," according to Eudy. Eudy emphasized that Odessa's style of attack usually means, "feast or famine."

Eudy countered that remark by saying, "Against the eight man front, if you hit a seam just right, you're gone." The third year Steers boss added he hopes to break more than a few runs.

"We've been working extremely hard on getting our running game back to where we would like it. I really want to establish the rush against Odessa."

Noble thoughts indeed, but it remains to be seen just how productive the Steers infantry is. In the last three games Big Spring has tallied only 48 rushing yards. And while Odessa is not exactly beating a path to the top of the district, the Bronchos do boast of the league's fifth best defense, allowing an average of 276 yards per game. The Steers are averaging only 174 and giving up 337. Odessa is cranking out 232 per game, second lowest in the district.

While most of Big Spring's offensive problems can be traced to a terribly anemic rushing attack, Odessa's woes have come as the result of nagging injuries and several ineligibilities according to Eudy.

When they do have the ball, however the Bronchos can offer a test, particularly to Big Spring cornerbacks Matt Garrett and Jimmy Rodgers and linebackers Jerry Anderson and Mike Cahill.

That is because the Bronchos line up in a wishbone. In doing so, Odessa will come with sweeps, several counter plays and the always dangerous option on the outside. When that is slowed down, "They'll throw to their backs a lot," said Eudy. He noted in particular halfback Edward Lewis. "Lewis has some speed," said Eudy.

Odessa coach Jerry Millsaps is one prone toward some trickery also — perhaps moreso than the previous seven teams faced by the Steers. Eudy noted that the Bronchos really like to run the halfback option pass and can always be counted on for a fake punt sometime during a game.

He then said his own team will have to do a good job on its specialty teams. "Odessa will come hard trying to block your punt," he said.

Overall Eudy said, "Workouts have been very good this week. We've had to practice in the rain and mud, but we'll probably be See Steers pg. 2B

New England Patriots 'Berry' Meyer

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — Ron Meyer was fired this morning as coach of the New England Patriots and was replaced immediately by former Baltimore Colts receiver Raymond Berry, a former assistant coach of the football team, Patriots spokesman Tom Hoffman said.

Billy Sullivan, owner of the team, confirmed the firing by his son Patrick, general manager, and said, "We are taking the action and I think the important thing here is Pat acted decisively."

"Ron took it hard," Patrick Sullivan said.

A news conference was scheduled for 11:30 a.m. to formally announce the action.

Berry, a member of the NFL Hall of Fame since 1973, was an assistant coach for the Patriots from 1978 to 1981. He earned his place in the Hall of Fame as a receiver for 13 years with the Baltimore Colts. He is a native of Paris, Texas.

"Berry is the low-key kind of guy who should be able to fit in right away," Patrick Sullivan said.

Meyer was hired as head coach in 1982, replacing Ron Erhardt.

RON MEYER

Meyer's firing came the day after the coach stunned his team and defensive coordinator, Rod Rust, by firing the popular assistant in an unexpected move, citing "unreconcilable differences" in defensive philosophies.

Rust's wife, Jean, said this morning that her husband had been rehired and would attend the morning news conference.

"What's best of all," she said, "He's going to have a new boss."

Meyer's unilateral decision to fire Rust was instrumental in his own ouster. Meyer said Wednesday that he had not discussed his move with General Manager Pat Sullivan or Player Development Director Dick Steinberg.

Meyer said he told Sullivan of his decision Wednesday morning and Sullivan interrupted his trip to National Football League meetings in New Orleans and rushed back to meet with Meyer Wednesday night.

Patrick Sullivan said this morning that Meyer's firing of Rust "surprised all of us and we had to get it straightened away as soon as possible."

He said Meyer had the right to hire and fire coaches, but, "You have to discuss the ramifications of something like that with all of us before it's done. Timing is important."

The firing follows Sunday's 44-24 loss to Miami, which dropped the Patriots' ranking to 5-3.

The move also came 19 days after Sullivan met with players who spent part of the session complaining about Meyer. On Wednesday, players flocked to the defense of Rust, praising him as a coach and a person.

Meyer came to the Patriots after six years as head coach of Southern Methodist University, where he had turned a losing program into a consistent winner. He orchestrated a similar turnaround in his three years as head coach of Nevada-Las Vegas from 1973-1975.

In his first season with the Patriots, Meyer assumed control of a team that had gone 2-14 the previous year and led them into the playoffs with a 5-4 record in a strike-shortened season.

New England was 8-8 last year and was eliminated from playoff contention on the final day of the regular season.

Steers of the Week

A double award winner and two of his teammates make up the Steers of the Week for their efforts in Big Spring's latest game, a 31-0 loss to Midland Lee.

Defensive back Jay Pirkle was selected as Top Steer and Hawk by the Big Spring coaching staff.

Top Steer goes to the defensive player making the biggest contribution in a Steers' contest.

Pirkle tallied 11 tackles (eight solos), recovered a fumble and intercepted a pass as the Steers slowed the Rebels considerably in the second half last week. As part of his efforts, Pirkle also garnered the Hawk award which goes to an outstanding Steers' defensive back or linebacker.

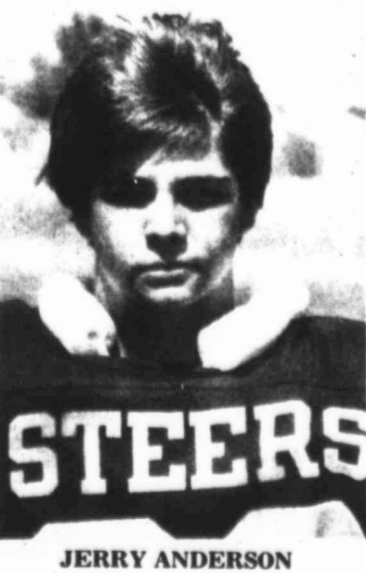

Carl Speck, Big Spring's quarterback, is the Express winner after throwing for over 100 yards for the third consecutive game and completing seven of 21 passes. Three of those completions went to Pirkle for 89 yards.

The Silver Bullet, awarded to a standout on specialty teams, goes to senior linebacker Jerry Anderson. Anderson tallied 13 tackles during the game (10 solos) and is the Steers leading tackler for the season.

Big games on tap in area

It is make or break time for some of the teams in Crossroads Country this eighth week of the high school football season since the playoffs are only four weeks away.

One of those games which will make or break a season is HIGHLAND (7-0, 2-0) at BORDEN COUNTY (5-1-1, 1-1). Borden County coach Duke Frisbee labels this 4-6-man contest a must game for his Coyotes. It won't be easy though against the two time defending state six-man champs who currently own a 35-game winning streak.

"This is definitely our toughest test. We've got to win this game. If we don't we don't make the playoffs, it's as simple as that," said Frisbee of his team that is engaged in a two-way tie for third with Ira, a team that beat their 38-12 last week.

Grady is currently in second behind Highland with a 1-0 slate. See Big pg. 2B

 "Highland is a good football team they line up and play football, nothing fancy. The kids know what they have to do. I told the kids if you are going to play your best, do it against the defending state champions."

Highland ranked number one has top performers in three-time All-State running back and safety Dwayne Hyde and All-State wide receiver Cortney Gothard.

Chris Cooley continues to lead the Coyotes in rushing with 1,432 yards on 164 carries.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.
GRADY (3-1, 1-0) is at IRA (4-1-1, 1-1) and Grady coach Currie McWilliams is calling this his team's biggest game of the season.

"This is it, if we can beat Ira I feel we'll make it to the playoffs," said McWilliams.

McWilliams has reason to be optimistic after his squad soundly whipped McCaulley 42-26 in its 46-man opener last week to move into second place behind undefeated Highland and ahead of third place Borden County and Ira.

McWilliams says he is very pleased with the way his starting defense has been playing. It has a string of five consecutive shutout quarters.

Meanwhile his offense has started to blossom, racking up over 500 yards total offense behind the passing of Luis Gonzales, rushing of Dennis Sawyer and Fred Garza and the receiving of Terry Deatherage.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.
SONORA (4-1, 1-1) is at COAHOMA (3-3-1, 1-1) in 7-3A action and Coahoma coach Bruce Mitchell is also calling this his team's biggest game of the season.

A Coahoma win over the Broncos and a win next week over Ozona will set up a showdown with highly regarded Ballinger in the last game of the season. The winner of that clash would have a definite lock on any playoff hopes.

"Sonora is a real basic football team," said Mitchell. "They run the Wing-T and line up and run right at you. They pass when they have to. Their quarterback is Scott Miller, an ex-Coahoma boy, so that should add a little rivalry to the game."

Sonora took a 34-7 whipping from Ballinger last week while the Bulldogs got past Crane 15-12. Wide receiver Chris Parker, moved up from the junior varsity last week, led the Bulldogs with five catches for 80 yards.

Brian Calaway again filled admirably at quarterback while Jimmy Yanez gained most of Coahoma's 49 rushing yards.

"Yes this is the biggest game of our season because of the situation surrounding it. I feel we have a good chance to win this game and Ozona, then we'll be fighting for a spot in the playoffs," concluded Mitchell.

Game time is 8 p.m.
KLONDIKE (4-2, 1-0) is at WILSON (4-2, 1-0) in 7-A North Zone action and Klondike coach Jimmy Thomas is calling this his team's biggest game of the season.

"This will be the test," said Thomas. "If we can get past Wilson, then we'll have a good shot at making the playoffs."

If the Klondike offensive line does the job it did in last week's 21-0 romp over Ropes then the Cougars have a good chance. So dominant was their charge that Tim Cope carried 20 times for 238 yards and all three touchdowns, bringing his season total to 761 yards.

It will also take another sterling defensive performance to stop the Mustangs. Last week the Cougars allowed only 120 yards LORLAINE (3-3, 1-1) is at FOR-SAN (7-0, 2-0) against the 7-A South Zone co-leading Buffaloes.

Forsan head coach Jan East and his squad are leary of Loraine and know they can't be looking ahead to next week's clash with Roscoe.

"Loraine is a much improved team from last season. They are sound offensively and have good speed and size," said East.

The Buffaloes seem to be playing better each week. In recording their second shutout of the year last week, they are now allowing five points per game.

Meanwhile the offense is on a roll. Mitch Hays rushed for 138 yards and three TD's last week, giving him 760 yards for the season. Wayne Wright and Bryon McElreath each gained 96 yards while scoring two touchdowns. Quarterback Todd East passed for two TD's, giving him four TD passes in his last five attempts.

Loraine is paced by senior running backs Tony Morris (700 yards) and Aundra Rose (500 yards).

 "We can't be looking ahead to Roscoe," said East. "If we do Loraine has the kind of team that will come out and beat us."

GARDEN CITY (2-4-1, 1-1) is at SANDS (2-5, 0-2) and both teams need wins to stay in the 7-A South Zone race.

A win for coach Tony Stricklin's Garden City team would more than likely keep the Bearkats in second place behind Forsan and Roscoe. Sands coach Jim White and his Mustangs need a win after last week's 54-0 shellacking from Forsan.

The Bearkat defense has played well all season long, allowing only 10 points per contest.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.
STANTON (2-4-1, 0-2) is at REAGAN COUNTY (4-3, 1-1) and coach Dale Ruth's Stanton Buffaloes need desperately to get back in the win column after last week's 15-0 loss to Greenwood.

Meanwhile the Owls lost their first 8-2A contest last week to Eldorado 14-10.

As in the past few week the Buffaloes offense has struggled in dropping the last three contests, scoring only six points. Ruth says his team must find a way to get into the endzone. "We have moved the ball well at times, but we just can't get it in for the score."

Last week the Buffaloes had two scoring chances go awry after penetrating deep in Greenwood territory.

The Buffalo defense hasn't played too shabbily, however, allowing an average of 12 points in both district outings. Last week Derek Sorley, John Zugg, Benny Tarango, Bobby Alamager and Mark Gonzales all had good defensive games for the 'Buff.
 Game time is 7:30 p.m.

California will get serious

The California Angels apparently will make a serious attempt to re-sign free-agent outfielder Fred Lynn, although his agent says "it's impossible at this point to predict where he will play in 1985."

Lynn, who hit 23 homers and drove in 79 runs this year, filed for free-agency Wednesday along with Angels pitcher Don Aase, reliever Tug McGraw of Philadelphia and outfielder-designated hitter Oscar Gamble of the New York Yankees.

Jerry Kapstein, Lynn's agent, said he had talked with several clubs about Lynn already. He said he also had talked with the Angels General Manager Mike Port on Wednesday and probably would talk him again on Thursday.

Lynn was platooned in the Angels outfield until August. He finished with a .270 average in 518 at-bats.

"There are places where Fred could go that he would be playing every day, based on my conversations with other clubs," Kapstein said.

Clubs have until Nov. 5 to re-sign free-agent players. Those who do not sign will go through the re-entry draft on Nov. 8 in New York. Players have until Monday to file for free agency. Until the draft, players may contact other clubs, but they may not discuss actual financial terms of a proposed contract.

Wednesday's filings brought to 44 the number of players signifying they intended to go through the re-entry draft.

The 32-year-old Lynn would join pitchers Rick Sutcliffe of the Chicago Cubs and Bruce Sutter of the St. Louis Cardinals, designated hitter Andre Thornton of the Cleveland Indians and infielder Jim Gantner of the Milwaukee Brewers as Type A-rated free agents, based on their performance over the past two seasons.

Compensation for the loss of a Type-A free agent is a pick from a pool of professional players unprotected by teams participating in the re-entry draft.

Lynn played six seasons with the Boston Red Sox before he was traded on Jan. 23, 1981 to California along with pitcher Steve Renko for Joe Rudi, Frank Tanana and Jim Dorsey. Lynn led the American League with a .333 average in 1979, and he won the Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player awards in 1975 with Boston.

"The only certainty is that, based on my discussions since Fred filed, there is strong interest from various sources, from a number of clubs, who are interested in Fred Lynn," Kapstein said in a telephone interview from his San Diego office.

Aase was used primarily as a reliever by the Angels last season. He appeared in 23 games (39 innings), posting a 4-1 record with eight saves and a 1.61 earned-run average.

McGraw, bothered most of the season by elbow problems, made 24 appearances (35 2-3 innings) for the Phillies, finishing at 2-0 with no saves and a 4.04 ERA. Gamble, told by the Yankees recently that they would not be re-signing him, appeared in 54 games, batting .183 with 10 homers and 27 RBI.

Player Profile

Lisa Phillips has given the Lady Steers volleyball team some strong play coming off the bench.

The 5-8 junior has been playing volleyball for five seasons and is the daughter of Rodney and Donnette Phillips.

Phillips said the most influential person in Phillips' volleyball career is former Big Spring Lady Steers Monette Wise. "She is a good example to follow with her great personality and attitude."

Phillips added that, "Volleyball is a good sport to gain coordination and quick reflexes. I play because I enjoy the people in the game." Her hobbies include water and snow skiing and camping. Her favorite sport to watch is the Steers football team while science is her favorite subject.

Phillips is a member of Stu-

He added, "The kids know what they have to do. They win and they are no longer a last place team. In fact I think beating Odessa can be the start of something great. I think we have an excellent chance to win our final three games (Odessa, Abilene, Central) and Odessa is a good place to start."

During the past 10 years Odessa High owns a 9-1 record against the Big Spring Steers.

The Broncos won eight straight at one time in the series. Listed are scores for the past 10 meetings between the two teams.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RICHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon there can be considerable confusion about the best means by which you acquire data. Later, happy influences enter the picture and all works out well.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Study some obligation well before you handle it. Be alert to the fine progress that can be made during the day.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You find an agreement confusing, but by further study, all ends up all right. Pursue romance in the evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Get rid of problems at work. Much pleasure can be yours in the outside world after lunch. Have concern for kin in the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Get busy at work and accomplish a good deal. Although creativity is not very high, your efforts pay off.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Try not to disturb the harmony at home in any way. Take your loved one along at some special amusement and have some fun.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't get confused by some communication you receive during the morning. Invite guests in for the evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle a confusing financial affair early. Then visit with persons who have done you big favors. Drive carefully.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Make sure you are not forceful in going after a personal aim or you lose out. Study your financial status for possible improvements.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) A private anxiety could deter some vital interest in the morning. Meet with helpful persons that you like.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do what you can to soothe a friend who is disturbed. Later, make that plan to gain your first aims.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You may have a problem to solve in the morning, but be patient and it is soon accomplished.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Confer with a bigwig who can help you to get ahead. Get your work done with a flair and feel satisfied tonight.

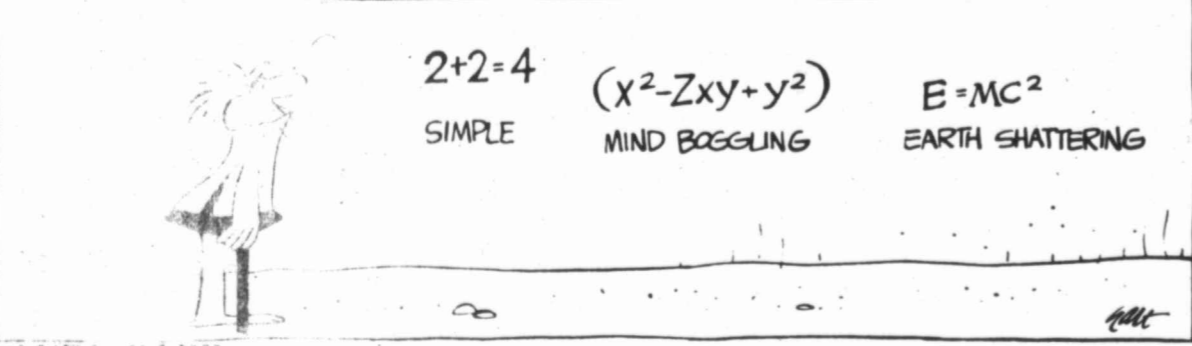

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will want to delve into matters that have a hidden meaning and will be able to decipher them admirably. Equip with a fine education. There will be much travel in this lifetime, so add foreign language study.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Younger Kennedy caused 'uproar' according to report

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — David Kennedy caused "an incredible uproar" in his family by trying to visit his ailing grandmother while under the influence of drugs or alcohol, according to documents detailing the days before his death.

Kennedy, found dead in a hotel room April 25, told a drug counselor that security guards had asked him to leave the Palm Beach estate of his grandmother on April 23 because of his condition, the counselor said in the document.

According to Cal Scheidegger, who treated the son of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy at the St. Mary's Rehabilitation Center in Minneapolis, the young Kennedy told him in an April 24 telephone call that he had had "up to nine or 10 drinks in combination with extensive cocaine use."

However, the document did not make clear what day Kennedy supposedly ingested the alcohol or cocaine.

Scheidegger's recollection of his conversation with Kennedy was included in an 18-page report released by authorities Wednesday.

The Scene Investigation Report was compiled by Palm Beach County investigator Bill Miller after Kennedy's body was discovered in his $250-a-day suite at the Brazilian Court Hotel in Palm Beach.

A medical examiner's autopsy showed that Kennedy died of "combined drug intoxication" from cocaine, the painkiller Demerol and the tranquilizer Mellaril.

Scheidegger told Miller he was "aware of an incredible uproar" in the Kennedy clan over David's use of drugs after his grandmother, 94-year-old family matriarch Rose Kennedy, had a stroke on April 20.

Kennedy had left the Minnesota rehabilitation center April 19.

Miller's report also indicated that Sen. Edward Kennedy, David's uncle, asked Miller to move the body to a hospital "as quickly as possible ... so that the investigation could be conducted in a less public setting." Miller said he told the senator from Massachusetts that several agencies, including the FBI, were involved and that the investigation would take at least 90 minutes.

Telephone calls to Sen. Kennedy's office in Washington, D.C., were not answered late Wednesday. The senator was in Los Angeles campaigning for the Democratic presidential ticket, and calls to his aides at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel, where they reportedly were staying, also went unanswered.

Miller, who interviewed David Kennedy's cousins, Caroline Kennedy and Sydney Lawford, wrote in his report that the Kennedy clan had gathered in Palm Beach "for the express purpose of seeing their grandmother prior to her expected death" after Mrs. Kennedy suffered the stroke. She is still alive.

The 18-page report also included one page of scrawled handwriting which said "missing liquid Demerol taken from patient or given to Kennedy." Demerol is prescribed for some forms of heart disease.

Miller's report was not among those released under a court order Oct. 12. After several newspapers requested Miller's report, Circuit Judge John E. Born ordered Bludworth on Wednesday to release it.

The steady flow of information on Kennedy's death could continue Friday, the day Born said he will rule on whether to release videotaped testimony.

Born on Monday ordered Bludworth to release the tape to attorneys representing two former bellhops accused of selling cocaine to Kennedy.

But later Monday, Born reversed his decision and said that, unless he decided the tape is essential to the defense, the state attorney's office did not have to release it under rules of pretrial evidence discovery.

Under a standing court order, documents given defense attorneys must be made available to the news media.
