Four more years

Tax appraisal time changed

By SCOTT FITZGERALD Staff Writer

Howard County's tax appraisal board, still feeling the heat from recent controversial valuations, voted Wednesday to reappraise property every four years rather than remain with an optional two-year program.

State law mandates a minimum four-year reappraisal program.

Board member Rob Roberson, outlining a biennial reappraisal, said a two-year program would keep property values closer to market value.

"It's more fair to a taxpayer, since the economy is on the decline," Roberson said.

Roberson said one of the advantages of a four-year program is that it would give the staff more time to check and double check figures.

He also said that for a four-year program, "you have to tie...the assessed value to the national figure of inflation."

Board member Arnold Marshall reminded his colleagues that regulations permitted them to change the schedule of the reappraisal program at anytime.

Gene Pereira, chief appraiser of the Howard County Consolidated Tax Appraisal District, said, "anytime we have a natural disaster, I have to reappraise. You're required by law to go in and reappraise the property involved with the disaster."

The board voted 4-2 to adopt the

HEAVY CARGO — Crew members of a C-130 aircraft from Dyess Air Force Base unload a truck which will be used at the Federal Prison

Camp. The plane landed at the Big Spring Airpark today and is spending some of today in a training mission in the area.

Air Force delivers truck to prison

By CAROL BALDWIN Staff Writer

A massive C-130 Air Force cargo plane on a good will mission touched down at the Big Spring Airpark about 10:30 a.m. today to deliver an 12,000-pound International Harvester dump truck to the Federal Prison Camp.

The plane, painted in camouflage green and brown, is based at Dyess Air Force Base near Abilene. Col. John Butterfield, commander of the 463 Tactical Airlift Wing at Dyess, accompanied the flight.

The plane was met locally by John Gluch, superintendent of the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp, and several of his men. Crew members quickly unloaded the truck and took off again for a training mission around the Big Spring area. Col. Butterfield stayed behind with Gluch to visit the prison camp.

Gluch said the Air Force volunteered to bring the aging, disabled truck to Big Spring. He said Dyess Air Force Base offers excess equipment to other government agencies on a regular basis, and Gluch discovered the truck during a visit to the base.

"To them, it's not worth repairing," Gluch said of the truck. "But it's valuable to us. It will have to be rebuilt." Gluch said men from the camp will rebuild the truck.

Once repaired, the truck will be used for various tasks around the camp and will also be used to haul surplus equipment from Dyess.

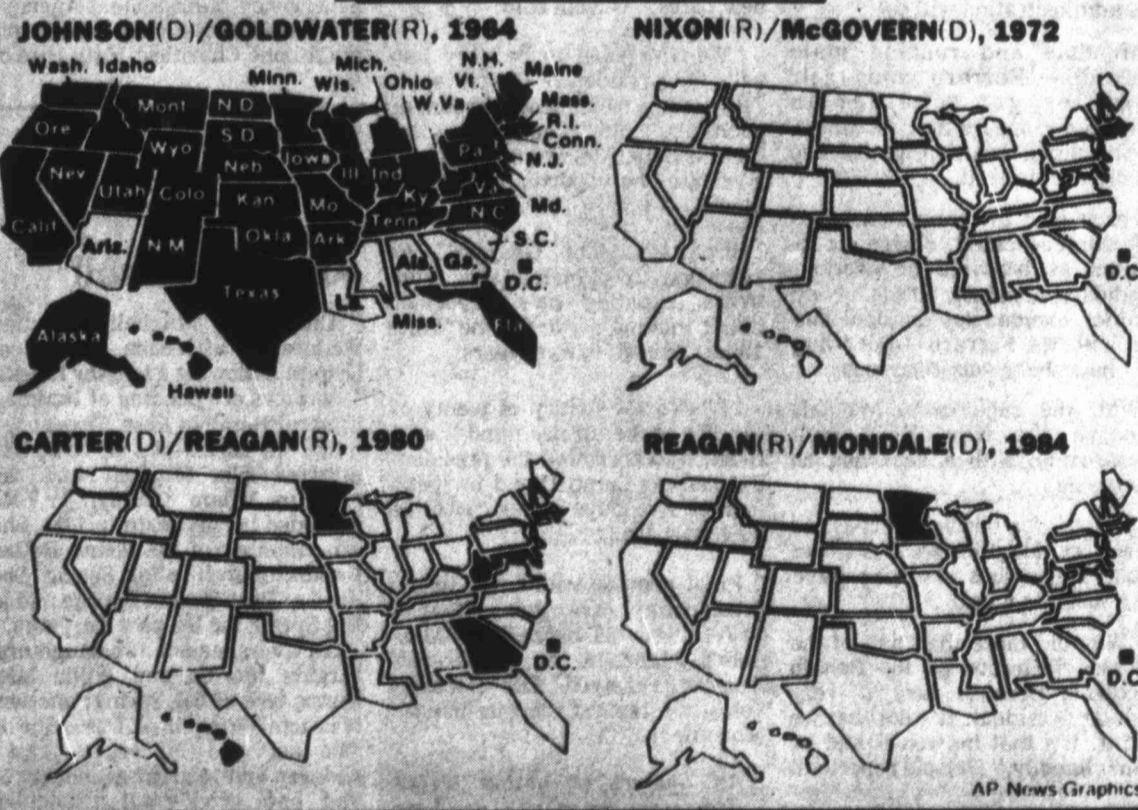

Gluch said: "The Air Force went out of their way to help us out. They are good neighbors."

Gluch said he had originally planned to rent a truck and tow the International Harvester to Big Spring. But because he was familiar with training flights in

Election '84

Reagan popularity vs. strength of Democrats

By The Associated Press President Reagan and the Democratic opposition in Congress are losing no time drawing partisan battle lines, with Reagan calling his re-election landslide proof of public approval of his conservative program and the Democrats pledging opposition to "any wild ideas" for new budget cuts.

"People made it very plain that they approve of what we are doing, approve of the fact that things are better, the economy is expanding, and that's what we are going to continue to do," the president told a news conference in Los Angeles on Wednesday.

Reagan, who defeated Walter F. Mondale in an unprecedented electoral vote landslide, vowed to continue fighting for his conservative program and said that if Congress tries to block it "we'll take our case to the people."

However, the election also put in doubt the extent of Reagan's coattails.

While he was winning easily,

Democrats picked up two Senate seats and held Republican gains in the House to 14 seats with three more to be decided. Republicans were leading in two of those and a Democrat in the other.

Republican Leader Robert Michel of Illinois complained that Reagan could have done more to extend his victory to other GOP candidates, particularly in the House.

"As good a communicator as the president is, he really never, in my opinion, enjoined that issue of what it really means to have the numbers in the House," said Michel, adding that Reagan's campaign concentrated too much on a personal victory.

Mondale also met with reporters in St. Paul, Minn., before flying to Washington, and he sounded some of the themes of his unsuccessful campaign.

He predicted Reagan would be forced to call for a tax increase and said the administration also will

Prime rate drop may lower mortgages

Wire and staff reports Chemical Bank in New York today joined a move in the banking industry to reduce the prime lending rate to 11.75 percent, the lowest level since early April.

The decline in the prime lending rate may "represent a trend," Charles Beil, president of First Federal Savings, said today.

Beil said as national rates begin to soften, that decline may show up in mortgage rates. However, mortgage rates generally "trail the prime rate on the down trend and on the up trend," Beil explained. "Mortgage rates are generally less sensitive and take longer to find their way," Beil said.

"I'm hopeful that we may begin to see some slight reduction" in mortgage rates, Beil said. He added, "I'm very pleased to see reducing rates. I hope it is a lasting trend."

However, Beil said he has been hearing grumblings by financial experts saying the rates may be on the rise again in 1985.

"They have been anticipating higher rates, and it may still come to pass," he said. "I hope their fears are unfounded."

The move by Chemical Bank, the nation's sixth-largest bank, came a day after No. 2 Citibank initiated the cut from the 12 percent level, which had prevailed since Oct. 26. Citibank was followed later Wednesday by No. 3 Chase Manhattan, No. 7 First National Bank of Chicago and several regional banks.

Light rain enters state

By The Associated Press
A few light rain showers developed in Southeast Texas early today and forecasters called for thundershower activity in Southeast Texas and western portions of North Texas today.

In addition to the early morning shower activity in Southeast Texas, heavier showers were reported off the Texas coast in the Gulf of Mexico between Port O'Connor and Galveston.

The main feature on the Texas weather map was a trough of low pressure extending from west of Childress southward to Sanderson in the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas. And a weak cold front moved into the Panhandle, dropping temperatures into the 40s.

Winds were southerly over the eastern two-thirds of the state and from the west and southwest elsewhere.

Early morning temperatures were on the warm side, mostly in the 50s and 60s, ranging from the middle 70s in South Texas to the mid 40s in the Panhandle. Extremes ranged from 46 at Amarillo to 76 at Corpus Christi.

Other early morning temperatures included 59 at Wichita Falls, 67 at Dallas-Fort Worth and Waco, 70 at San Antonio, 73 at Brownsville, 71 at Houston, 61 at San Angelo, 48 at Lubbock, 52 at Midland and 61 at El Paso.

Forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies statewide today with widely scattered thundershowers expected across Southeast Texas and western portions of North Texas. Highs were to be mostly in the 80s except in the Big Bend area of Southwest Texas where the mercury was expected to approach the 90-degree mark.

Two storms packing snow and gusting winds threatened parts of California and Oregon today and a high pressure system lowered temperatures in the eastern quarter of the nation.

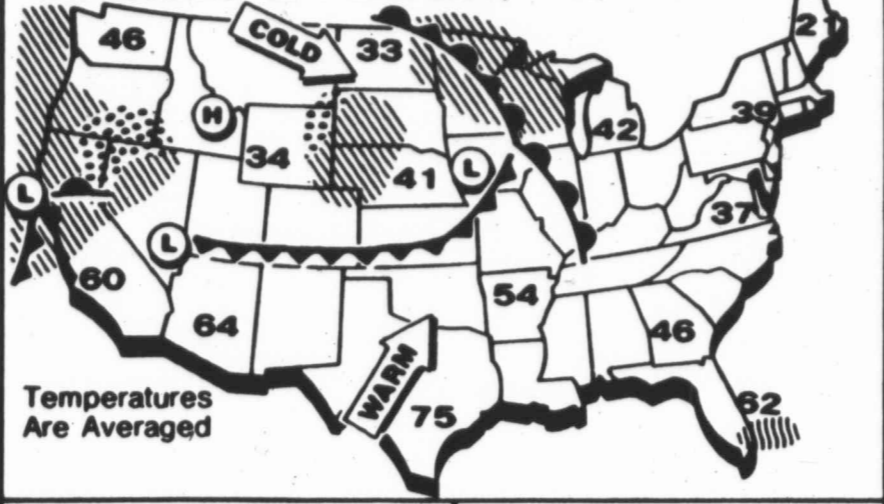

A low pressure system off the northern California coast brought snow and gusting winds to the central Plateau. Travelers' advisories were posted for parts of northern California and at higher elevations of Nevada's Lake Tahoe Basin.

A second storm system off the central British Columbia coast threatened parts of Oregon. Heavy snow warnings were in effect for Oregon's Cascades, where up to a foot of snow was expected today.

The high pressure system holding its grip on the eastern quarter of the country caused unseasonably cool weather along with clear skies over the Atlantic Coast states and upper Ohio Valley.

WEST TEXAS — Mostly sunny days and fair at night through Friday. Cooling Friday. Windy and gusty eastern mountain passes tonight and Panhandle Friday. Lows tonight near 40 Panhandle to mid 40s far west and Permian Basin to mid 50s Concho Valley. Highs Friday lower 60s Panhandle to near 70 South Plains with mid 70s Concho Valley and Permian Basin and upper 80s Big Bend.

Police Beat

Local man stabbed last night

A man was stabbed last night in an aggravated assault that occurred at 1004 W. Third, according to police.

The victim, John Lynn Maddox of 806 1/2 Nolan, was treated and released from Cowper Clinic for cuts on his right hand and his left side, according to police reports.

The incident occurred at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. Police do have a suspect in the assault, Police Lt. Jerry Edwards said.

A pedestrian crossing the 200 block of Gregg St. was treated at Malone-Hogan Hospital for minor lacerations to his knee after he was hit by a car.

Because both the car and the pedestrian left the scene, police were unable to determine more details of the accident, which occurred about midnight Tuesday. There were no witnesses, according to the accident report.

A white 1986 Chevrolet was taken from the driveway at 3701 Connally earlier this week, according to police reports.

The car was taken between 6:30 p.m. Sunday and noon Monday, according to Wanda Sue Fletcher, the owner.

Bill Goines, the manager of Western Choice at 700 E. F.M. 700 told police someone took four cases of small ribeye steaks and one case of large ribeye steaks from the restaurant. The theft occurred between Nov. 18 and Saturday, he said.

The missing steaks are valued at about $445, and may have been taken by someone the manager knows.

Three windows were broken on the east side of the First Presbyterian Church at 701 Runnels, Patty Johnke told police.

The windows were broken about 4 p.m. Tuesday.

The windshield of a 1984 Mack truck owned by Interstate Truck Leasing of Albany, Ga., was broken when a rock thrown from an overpass on Interstate Highway 20 hit the windshield.

The driver, Johnny Kennedy of Parrott, Ga., told police the incident occurred when he was driving east on the highway near mile marker 178. Damage is estimated at $200.

Ray Krauss of Kerrville told police his windshield was broken while he was at the Shamrock Station on S. Highway 87 near Whipkey. According to the police report, Krauss said a rock thrown up from a parks employee who was mowing along Whipkey might have caused the damage.

The board also:

- Agreed to keep its deposits in the State National Bank. The First National Bank had submitted a bid and list of interest rates for its services.
- Discussed the current policy for homestead application. Howard County Tax Assessor Dorothy Moore told the board she was in favor of keeping the policy of having homestead owners file an exemption every year.

- Agreed to set a date at its next meeting for a work session to prepare a district policy manual containing information such as job descriptions.

Butterfield said he was glad to drop off the truck in Big Spring, and he explained the mission of his command.

"We have 48 C-130s at Dyess. We fly all over the world carrying cargo and personnel. We generally work with the Army, special forces and the Rangers, dropping equipment and personnel."

The C-130 is capable of a maximum gross transport weight of 155,000 pounds, Butterfield said. The plane weighs 80,000 pounds when empty. He called today's cargo, the truck, "a pretty light load."

tainly show they want both the Democratic House and Democrats in the Senate to be a safety net against any wild ideas the president of the United States may have out there about Social Security or new taxes," O'Neill said.

Mondale and running mate Geraldine Ferraro and their families got together in Washington and for the first time in their political relationship the two publicly embraced.

Throughout the campaign, after his unprecedented choice of a woman as his vice presidential candidate, Mondale, on the advice of aides, avoided any physical contact with Ms. Ferraro — not a hug or a handshake was ever seen.

With the race over, Mondale greeted the New York congresswoman with a bear hug on Wednesday.

Earlier, at a news conference in New York, Ms. Ferraro was asked about suggestions she may have cost Mondale votes.

"Why did more than half of the female electorate go for Ronald Reagan? Because he's a very popular president. It's not that we lost it. It's that he won it and he won it handily," she told reporters.

"No one ever said we'd win an election because there was a woman on the ticket," she said. "Am I disappointed in American women? Absolutely not. We're on our way. We are not monolithic. We have wonderfully independent minds. We assess our votes carefully just like everybody else."

Vice President George Bush returned to Washington from Texas insisting he's undecided about making a run for the White House himself in four years.

"I have the luxury of plenty of time to make up my mind," said Bush, who borrowed the presidential retreat Camp David to spend four or five days of rest with his wife Barbara.

Final popular vote totals in the presidential race gave Reagan 53,314,171 or 59 percent, to Mondale's 36,862,510, or 41 percent. Reagan received 525 electoral votes, the highest total in history. Mondale had 13.

An analyst of voting trends estimated that 92 million Americans voted and that the turnout was 52.9 percent of the voting age population, a three-tenths of 1 percent increase over 1980, the first time participation had gone up since the Kennedy-Nixon election of 1960 when the turnout was 62.8 percent.

Curtis Gans, director of the non-partisan Committee for the Study of the American Electorate, blamed early television projections of winners for reducing the turnout in the West. He said states where the polls closed earliest tended to have the highest turnout.

House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., challenged any suggestion that Reagan had a mandate for his program.

"While there may be a mandate on the popularity of the president of the United States, the people cer-

United Way drive extended

Organizers of the United Way campaign will extend the fund drive two weeks, to Nov. 15, in an effort to close a $100,000 gap between contributions and the 1984 goal.

Hooper Sanders, vice-president of the campaign, told directors at a special called meeting Wednesday that contributions have reached 56 percent of the goal. The United Way drive was scheduled to last two months and close Oct. 31.

In explaining the extension, Sanders said several divisions of the United Way "got started late. There are still quite a few cards out," he said.

Overall, Sanders said, "We're going to have a tough time reaching the goal." He asked directors to volunteer for a three-day telephone blitz after the drive closes on Nov. 15 to make sure all businesses are contacted for contributions.

As of Wednesday, the United Way had collected $114,321 in contributions and pledges, Sanders said. The 1984 goal is $202,500.

Area retail sales on decline

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Area retail sales declined slightly last month, reversing a trend over recent months of increased business activity.

Howard County received $192,181 this week from State Comptroller Bob Bullock. The money was part of $99.5 million in local tax payments to the 985 cities that levy the 1-percent local sales tax.

A breakdown of the money shows that Big Spring received $187,173, Coahoma received $4,016, and Foran received $991.

Howard County to date this year has received $1,393,482. By this time last year, the county had received $1,439,743.

Overall, the payment to the county this year is down by 3.21 percent over the same time last year.

Bullock said, "We'll be getting...extra money later in November and sending it to the city halls in December" due to the taxes for items that became taxable Oct. 2.

Stanton received $7,392 this payment, compared with $8,957 at this time last year. This year to date Stanton has received $43,866, compared to $45,508 at this time last year.

Mitchell County received a payment of $34,562. A breakdown shows Colorado City received $31,342, Lorraine received $1,212, and Westbrook received $2,008.

Payments to date this year for Mitchell County total $247,602, compared to $217,373 paid out thus far in 1983.

Sterling County received a payment this period of $5,200, compared to $5,973 at this time last year. 1984 payments to date for Sterling County amount to $46,100, up from 1983 payments to date of $36,158.

November checks represent taxes collected on sales made in September and the third quarter and reported to the comptroller by Oct. 20.

City construction holds even

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

The number of building permits granted during October is holding steady this year as the figure remained the same as in Oct. 1983, according to Big Spring municipal records.

The city granted 27 permits this October and the year before, records show. In 1982, the city granted 33 building permits in October.

However, the amount of fees collected and construction costs for the permits granted this October are down slightly from 1983.

The city collected $744 in fees this October, compared to $784 last October. Construction costs projected for the building permits granted last month were estimated at $240,873, compared to $287,342 in October last year.

Because October is the first month in the fiscal year, figures for the month are the same as figures for the year-to-date.

This October, permits were granted for three industrial buildings, six buildings with additions, four garages and carports, one mobile home, two other non-residential structures, two other structures — one was a flagpole — and one demolition of a building.

Non-profit organizations eligible for new program

Monies will be distributed to voluntary organizations for emergency food and shelter programs providing organizations submit a request as to the manner the monies will be spent to chairperson, Judge Milton Kirby, by 8 a.m. Friday.

Forms may be obtained from Judge Kirby's office in the Howard County Courthouse. All non-discriminatory organizations interested in applying must be non-profit, have an accounting system and conduct annual audits.

The local board is composed of: Chairperson Kirby; Drew Mouton and Sherrie Bordofsky of United Way; Pat Lawlis of Federal Emergency Management Agency; Bill Sneed of National Conference of Catholic Charities; Katy Hise of Howard County Welfare Department; Boyd Carson of HUD; John Avery of the American Red Cross and Hooper Sanders of the Salvation Army.

Board members will meet in Judge Kirby's office at 9:30 a.m. to decide allocations and plans of action for further distribution of the $11,384 total.

Due to the United Way not having a special program for the allocations of these monies, the agency will not submit a request for money, said Ms. Bordofsky of the United Way.

This program is separate from the Campaign, therefore, no money from this special "government" program will be added to the campaign in any way, Mrs. Bordofsky said.

Navy ships end exercises

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt — U.S. Navy ships have left Egyptian waters after three days of joint maneuvers with Egypt that prompted an angry protest from Libya.

A military spokesman said the exercises, code-named Sea Breeze, ended successfully Wednesday and participating U.S. units from the 6th Fleet, including the aircraft carrier Independence, left Egyptian waters after a mock search-and-destroy mission against an enemy submarine.

Officer, Polish head meet

WARSAW, Poland — West German opposition leader Hans-Jochen Vogel is in Poland for a four-day official visit that is expected to include a meeting with Polish leader Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski.

Vogel, the Social Democratic Party parliamentary leader, arrived Wednesday and is scheduled to meet Communist Party, government and Roman Catholic Church officials during his visit, a West German Embassy spokesman said.

Students, police clash

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic — Students and police clashed during a protest over the university budget and negotiations with international bankers. Authorities said there were arrests, but gave no figure.

The trouble occurred Wednesday near the campus of the Autonomous University of Santo Domingo, the largest public institution of higher learning in the Caribbean island republic.

China gains Court seat

UNITED NATIONS — China has won a seat on the World Court for the first time since the Peking government gained admission to the United Nations 13 years ago.

American-educated Ni Zhengyu, legal council in the Chinese Foreign Ministry, was elected simultaneously Wednesday by the U.N. General Assembly and Security Council to fill one of five World Court seats that became vacant on Feb. 5.

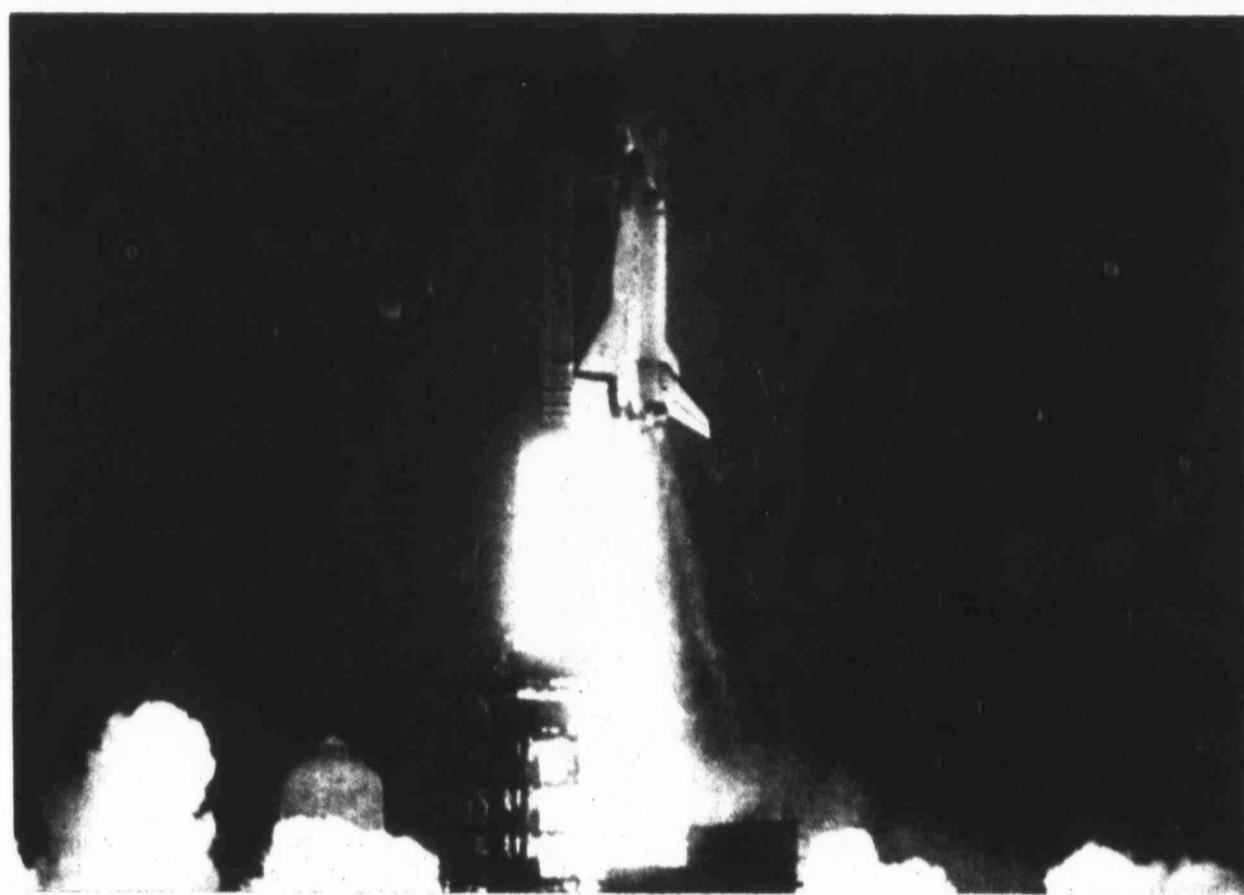

Guerrillas kill 5 officials

LIMA, Peru — Shining Path guerrillas killed five government officials and a community leader and ransacked an election registration center in attacks on jungle towns, police report.

Police said Wednesday that about 40 guerrillas from the Maoist-oriented movement struck the jungle towns of Jivia and Jesus in the state of Huanuco in central Peru.

The rebels dragged a justice of the peace and four other government officials from their houses and shot them dead, police said. The guerrillas also killed a community leader, they said.

Armed forces took up positions in the area in mid-July as part of the government's fight against the rebels, who have announced they want to disrupt the process for presidential elections scheduled for April 14.

MISSION LIFTOFF — Mission 51A of the Space Shuttle project lifts off from pad 39A at the Kennedy Space Center early Thursday after a one-day delay because of wind shears Wednesday.

Day of Discovery

Space shuttle vaults on daring salvage mission

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Shuttle Discovery vaulted spectacularly into orbit today and began pursuit of two wayward satellites that free-flying jet-propelled astronauts are to retrieve in a daring salvage mission.

During eight days in orbit, the crew of four men and one woman also is to deploy two communications satellites for paying customers and conduct crystal-growing experiments that could lead to a major new industry in space.

With tens of thousands watching, Discovery roared away from this spaceport at 7:15 a.m. EST and rose swiftly through partly cloudy skies on 7 million pounds of thrust, darting eastward over the Atlantic Ocean.

Nine minutes after liftoff, mission control center in Houston reported the winged ship was in orbit 184 miles above the globe, speeding along at 17,400 mph.

"We look good," said astronaut Rick Hauck, mission commander.

Within an hour, the astronauts triggered Discovery's maneuvering engines in the first of 44 firings designed to track down two off-course satellites for the rescue attempts next week. They were to capture the first payload Monday after a chase of 1.6 million miles, 64 times around the globe.

Liftoff was a day late. The flight was postponed Wednesday, just 32 minutes before the planned launch time, because of strong high-altitude crosswinds which could have severely damaged the shuttle.

Shuttle managers decided later Wednesday to proceed with a new count after analysis of balloon and radar data showed the wind threat had vanished.

The flight is the 14th in the shuttle program, the second for Discovery.

Hauck predicted in advance the flight would be one of "pure excitement."

The others in Hauck's crew are pilot David Walker and mission specialists Anna Fisher, Joe Allen and Dale Gardner. Gardner's 36th birthday is today, and Hauck said after Wednesday's scrub that the astronauts were looking forward to giving him "the biggest birthday candle of his life."

Mrs. Fisher, a physician, is the fourth American woman and first mother named to a space flight. She and her astronaut-physician husband, Bill, are parents of a 14-month-old daughter, Kristin.

The astronauts' goals during eight days in orbit are to deploy two commercial communications satellites for paying customers and to track down and capture the Palapa B2 and Westar 6 payloads, which have been drifting in useless orbits since last February.

They also will operate an experiment for 3M Company, exploring the properties and behavior of organic chemicals in space weightlessness.

3M recently signed a multimillion dollar contract with NASA to conduct experiments on 72 shuttle missions over the next decade and to develop an industrial chemical research laboratory aboard the space station planned for the early 1990s.

On Friday and Saturday, the crew is to release into separate orbits the commercial satellites for Telesat of Canada and Hughes Communications Services Inc.

Officer faces prison term

LOS ANGELES — A former Raytheon Corp. executive who agreed to testify in a related case faces fines and up to 12 years in prison after pleading guilty to accepting $237,000 in bribes in the awarding of subcontracts.

Chester E. Adamsky entered the pleas Wednesday to mail and wire fraud counts and accepting bribes to defraud the federal government in a plea-bargain under which prosecutors would not pursue other charges against him.

Murderers face life terms

NEW YORK — Two men face life in prison when they are sentenced Nov. 27 on charges they murdered a 96-year-old Orthodox Jew, who was asphyxiated in 1974 when his yarmulke was shoved down his throat during a robbery.

Andrew Harris and James Jackson, both 33, were convicted Wednesday, mainly on the testimony of Harris' former girlfriend, who told authorities last year he confessed to her on Dec. 20, 1974, one day after Nathan Friedler's death.

Terrorist linked to death

EWING TOWNSHIP, N.J. — An alleged terrorist at large in the 1981 killing of a New Jersey state trooper became a "No. 1 priority" when a gun found in his Ohio home was identified as the murder weapon, police said.

The 9mm Browning semi-automatic pistol was seized from a trunk in Thomas W. Manning's bedroom, said state police Col. Clinton Pagano on Wednesday. A nationwide manhunt is on for Manning and his wife, Carol Ann, who reportedly fled before the raid.

Five strike settlement

PORTLAND, Maine — A group of shipyard workers who claimed their illnesses were caused by asbestos have reached a settlement in their $3 million damage suit against two asbestos makers, their attorney says.

Four workers from the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard and the estate of a fifth had sued Raymark Industries Inc. and H.K. Porter Co. Inc. A judge ordered that terms of the settlement not be disclosed, but the plaintiffs were "very satisfied," attorney William Mulvey said Tuesday.

Man faces death penalty

LOS ANGELES — An alleged gang member faces the death penalty if he is convicted on charges of being one of two men who broke into the wrong home and mistakenly killed the family of former football star Kermit Alexander.

Horace Edwin Burns, 20, was charged with four counts of murder by the District Attorney's office on Tuesday under special circumstances that could bring the death penalty.

Chilean government clamps on restrictions

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The military government clamped sweeping restrictions on public gatherings and the press today that effectively ban opposition political activity throughout Chile during a 90-day state of siege. One decree banned six opposition magazines, imposed prior censorship on a seventh, and restricted political reporting and commentary by all other news media to official communiques. Another measure outlawed all gatherings that lack previous authorization.

Apartheid ballot deserved a vote

"Excesses of language" — that was the official explanation by Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick of why the United States abstained on a U.S. Security Council vote on a resolution condemning South Africa's policy of apartheid. The resolution — which called for the most basic of civil rights in South Africa, an end to apartheid and to restrictions on political activity and a stop to the racist relocation "homeland" program — was approved by a 14-0 vote.

The American abstention appears craven in the light of the fact that South African police forces recently finished the largest yet dragnet sweep of a black township. The raid followed the worst outbreak of rioting since Soweto in 1976. Some 80 civilians have been killed in this latest round of black protest. The U.S. action looks even more shabby given that South African Bishop Desmond Tutu, this year's Nobel Peace Prize winner, made an impassioned anti-apartheid plea directly to the Security Council before the vote.

Ambassador Kirkpatrick is fond of denouncing Third World delegates for rank hypocrisy and knee-jerk anti-Americanism; and some of her criticism rings true. However, when the United States sides with the racist minority white regime in South Africa and offers up lame excuses for why it has done so, then America loses respect and legitimacy in the eyes of the world.

It appears that the United States does not believe in its own most important political principles of democracy and liberty. The U.S. abstention benefits no one — except the enemies of freedom and human rights.

The bottom line

I went to my favorite haberdashery in Boston, Efreim Weinreb & Son, and was surprised to see a new sign over the store — Roger Weinreb & Father.

When I walked in I found Efreim back in the stockroom rearranging boxes.

"I see you changed the name of the store."

"I didn't change it. My son Roger did," he replied. "He's now president of the company."

"Roger?" I said. "But I just went to his graduation at the Harvard Business School in 1980. I remember how proud you were when he got his MBA. You told him you were going to make him a full partner, but I had no idea you were going to appoint him president."

"Frankly, neither did I. Roger started out in the mailroom, and then worked himself up to underwear and socks. After two weeks he became restless so I made him vice president of merchandising. Before I knew it, he put in a whole new computer system, renovated all three floors, added a ladies' line, and found a way of earning 13 percent interest over the weekend on our cash flow by paying our suppliers through a bank in Hong Kong. Roger said the one thing he learned at Harvard was you either expand or die."

"How old is Roger?" I asked.

"He's 28. He came to me about eight months ago and said he felt he wasn't moving fast enough up the ladder. He told me most of the kids who graduated in his class were already chief executives of their companies and he didn't want to wait until he was 32 years old before he reached the top."

"Did you point out you were only 49 years old?" I asked.

"I did mention it, and he said, 'No wonder you're burned out. Maybe it would be a good time to slow down, and hand the torch to the yuppies who have the management skills that are required to deal with the future.'"

"Young Harvard MBA's don't mince words," I said. "Did you tell him this business was your whole life, and your dream had always been for you and Roger to work as a team?"

"Yes, and he said from a family standpoint he understood it, but as an executive of a corporation he had to think of the stockholders first."

"What stockholders? I thought you owned the store."

"I forgot to tell you. Roger took us public last year. He told me it was the only way he could raise enough capital to buy out Brooks Brothers."

"He's trying to buy Brooks Brothers?"

"Either that or Bloomingdale's. I didn't understand the details, except that he plans to use Roger Weinreb as a holding company to threaten takeovers of other companies. His roommate, who is 27, is now an investment banker who specializes in leveraged buyouts, whatever the hell that means."

"Okay, I can understand Roger wanting to get ahead, but why would he change Efreim Weinreb & Son to Roger Weinreb & Father?"

"Roger said if we wanted to be in the big time we had to change our image, and the name Efreim Weinreb was too associated in our customers' minds with the late Seventies. I don't want to be too hard on him though. He worked out a 'Golden Parachute' deal with me before we went public. He said I could stay on at my present salary as a consultant and have an office until I reached 55, providing I didn't work for a competing store."

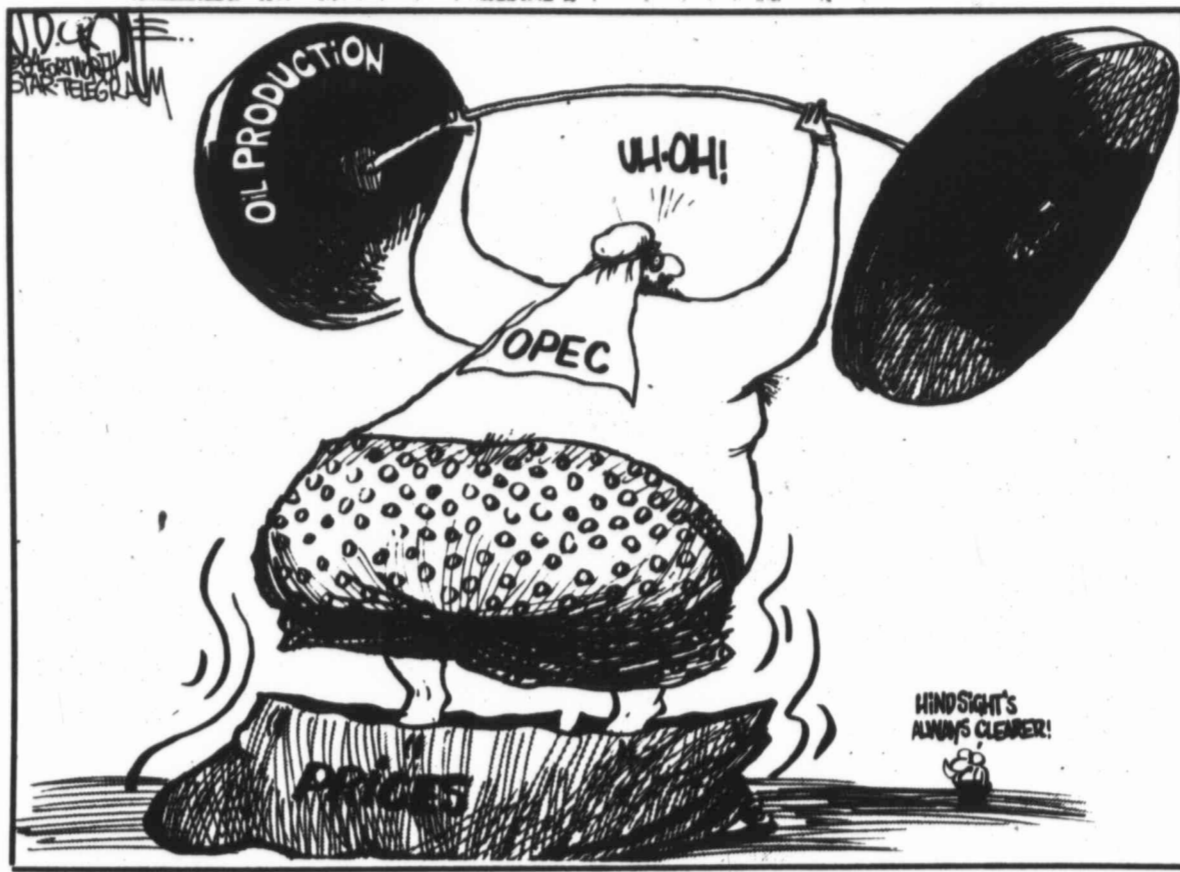

"Did he say you had to work in the stockroom?"

"No, that was my own choice. It's easier to work back here than to explain to everyone why we changed the name of the store."

"I think Roger's an ingrate."

"I don't blame him and I don't blame Harvard. I understand the first thing they teach you at any top business school is that if you have to choose between net profits and your own flesh and blood, you go for the bottom line."

Nazi gets the silent treatment

WASHINGTON — Why hasn't Klaus Barbie, the notorious Nazi war criminal, been brought to trial by the French? Some of my intelligence sources doubt he will ever be.

The reason is simple and scandalous. The "Butcher of Lyon" has acquired a new title: "The Man Who Knew Too Much." Barbie has hinted from the start that he could blow the whistle on a number of Frenchmen — living and dead — who attained high positions in France after secretly collaborating with the Nazi occupation forces during World War II.

And the sad truth, I'm told, is that the deeper French investigators have dug into Barbie's grisly past, the more they've become convinced that his threats are not idle boasts.

The list of targets Barbie and his defense attorney have promised to expose as closet collaborators reportedly covers the political spectrum from far left to far right.

When Barbie was extradited from Bolivia early last year, the French raised howls of outrage over disclosures that U.S. Army counterintelligence officers had helped Barbie escape France after the war. The Justice Department investigated, confirmed the charges, and issued an official apology to the people of France.

But the French press, so quick to point the finger of shame at the United States, has become strangely quiet about the Barbie case. In a country where virtually all the major publications are identifiably loyal to one political party or another, this suggests that Barbie is believed capable of embarrassing every political group in France, from Gaullists to Socialists and Communists, if he were brought to trial.

France went through a long, agonizing period of soul-searching after the war, and eventually came to live with the undeniable fact that many French men and women had collaborated with the Nazis to one degree or another. The trial of a man as cynical as Barbie — and with so little to lose — could open up the old wounds.

President Francois Mitterrand's Socialist government at first was eager for a public trial of Barbie, believing he would embarrass only its political rivals. Now they're not so sure.

In fact, my associate Lucette Lagnado was told by some of the Americans who "ran" Barbie as an intelligence informant that he often boasted of the ease with which he had recruited French spies for the Nazis. He even bragged that he had agents inside the resistance movement itself.

Barbie's lawyer has hinted that some of the clandestine traitors his client knows about rose to prominence in postwar France. But it would be easy to bluff. Even high officials who know they are clean can't be sure that one of their colleagues wasn't a hiring of Barbie during the occupation. It's not a secret likely to be shared.

So Barbie sits in jail while the government ostensibly takes more time to prepare the prosecution case. The trial, at first scheduled for late 1983, then for sometime this year, is now vaguely planned for 1985.

Some State Department sources suspect the French are stalling in hopes that Barbie, now 71 and reportedly in frail health, will do them the favor of dying before he can start telling what he claims to know in open court.

Footnote: Beate Klarsfeld, the international Nazi hunter who tracked Barbie down, disagreed strongly with the view that French authorities are delaying Barbie's trial out of fear of his revelations.

"He has no names to reveal," she said. Ms. Klarsfeld said the trial would take place next year. STRICTLY PERSONAL: How did the House Intelligence Committee know what was in the now-famous CIA training manual for the anti-Sandinista guerrillas? Do the members read Spanish?

Some of them may, but to be sure of their facts, the booklet was sent to the Congressional Research Service, where a professional translator, Deanna Hammond, put it into English. Was she excited by the assignment? "I was simply doing my job," Ms. Hammond said.

• What on earth led the State Department to move the U.S. Embassy to East Beirut, where it was promptly bombed?

It seemed like the right move at the time, thought 20-20 hindsight proved that East Beirut was no safer than strife-torn West Beirut. The United States wasn't alone in viewing the suburban area of East Beirut as a place of refuge for threatened diplomats.

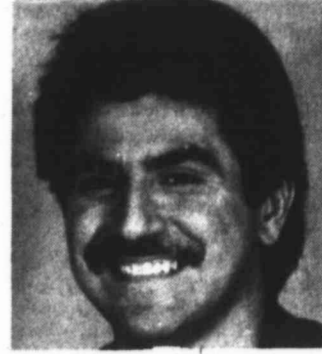

Most other embassies had also been moved to the eastern section of the city. And it wasn't just timorous Western nations, either. Saudi Arabia and Iraq had also moved their embassies to East Beirut. The unnerving truth seems to be that the American embassy would have been a target for terrorists no matter where it was located.

• Is it true that the Soviets offer more scholarships to foreign students than the United States?

The Soviets bring seven times as many foreign exchange students into their country as we do. Needless to say, the Kremlin sees to it that the foreigners get a solid dose of Marxist dialectic with their other subjects.

There's also a "class gap" involved. The Soviets take exchange students from the working classes; the United States usually takes them from the affluent strata. Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md., offered a bill to correct this imbalance by providing scholarships for Third World students. Unfortunately, it got nowhere.

El cuento de La Llorona es una de las muchas supersticiones y creencias de que me acuerdo desde chico.

Pues diga, que es una superstición? Sera ficción de la imaginación o algo que nos decian nuestros padres para calmarnos y asustarnos?

Sean lo que sean — siempre es algo que de mexicanos todavia nos acordamos. Cada familia tiene sus supersticiones y creencias que les pasan a sus hijos.

El cuento de La Llorona es un favorito donde vengo yo. Me acuerdo que cuando queriamos ir al rio (que quedaba cerca nuestra casa) mi madre nos decia que tuvieramos mucho cuidado con la Llorona.

Este cuento es de una mujer que tenia varios hijos que no queria. Pues la infiel los llevo al rio y los ahogo. Murio la condenada mujer y para su castigo El Senor la mando al mundo a buscar y reclamar sus hijos. El cuento sigue que donde queda agua, aparece esta mujer lamentando sus hijos y su condicion.

Hay personas que juran que la han mirado cerca un rio o una playa. Su cabello negro le llega a sus pies y anda en un vestido blanco roto. Tambien ha oido dicho que tiene el mirado y cara de la muerte.

Tambien hay supersticiones que vienen de Mexico. Una de que me acuerdo, nomas ocurre el primer dia de enero — me decia mi madre que uno no debia mirarse la cara en el espejo antes de medio dia el primer dia del ano. Le preguntaba porque, y me decia que si uno no se reflejaba la cara en el espejo en ese dia, iba uno a morir durante el ano.

Hay, y los sueños! No es tanto que todos nosotros queiren interpretarlos, pero en mi familia es una desgracia contar un sueno o una pesadilla al amanecer en los sabados. Si uno lo cuenta, esta uno en peligro que le ocurra lo que sueno.

Muchas personas les cae chiste las supersticiones y creencias. Piensan que estan muy educados para creer tonterias.

Pero diga, es verdad que creemos todo lo que oimos? A veces, me pongo a pensar de las supersticiones que he oido y no es que las creo. Pero tambien, las he oido tantas veces que eso es bastante para convencerme.

Por ejemplo, cuando pasa un torbellino, sin pensar, hago la sena de la cruz, por que dicen que el diablo anda entre los torbellinos. Y tambien cuando relampaguea digo, "Santa Barbara Doncella, libranos de un mal rayo y una mala centella!"

Pero como digo, no es que creo todo lo que oigo y todo lo que miro, incluyendo las supersticiones.

Bueno hasta otro dia — y tenga mucho cuidado que no le vayan hacer el mal ojo.

Dr. Donohue

Cirrhosis

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My husband has cirrhosis of the liver. Along with this he has swelling in the stomach area. Water collects there. The doctor is giving him diuretics, but we wonder if you know of anything else to remove some of the excess water there. — Mrs. J.C.

Conservative methods are usually sufficient to control this problem of fluid retention. Your husband should watch his salt intake the way people with high blood pressure must. Salt (sodium) is a great promoter of fluid retention. If his current diuretic isn't doing the job, he might ask his doctor if another kind would help. Spironolactone and triamterene are two often used for this condition.

There is another way of diverting the excess fluid from the abdominal cavity and into circulation, but it is used mostly for patient comfort when ascites (the medical name for fluid accumulation) is causing great distress. A small plastic tube is implanted with one end inserted into the abdominal cavity and the other attached to a vein. Please remember that it is not necessary or desirable to remove the last vestige of fluid. You can make a person too dry.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Mother had a stroke and is getting along well, making slow but good improvement. Her problem lies in use of her wheelchair. She just cannot get around the way she wants to. She does use a walker, but that is limited. I think it's the chair itself. It was given to us by another member of the family. It seems too bulky. Isn't it true that not all wheelchairs are meant to suit all bodies? If you confirm this, we could pass it on to the person who donated it and ease any feelings. — S.A.V.

You are correct. Not all chairs are for every patient. They are made in various sizes to accommodate a few basic body types. Because the wheelchair is so important for the non-ambulatory person, investment in a custom-fitted chair can pay off richly. Arm and seat height are important, as is chair weight and width of the seat.

I am sure the relative involved will readily understand when you explain this.

Dear Abby

Patriot thinks America should change tunes

DEAR ABBY: I think it's time we changed our national anthem because "The Star-Spangled Banner" is practically unsingable. Also the tune was taken from an old English drinking song.

At the last presidential inauguration, Willie Nelson left out "the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air."

Abby, if professional singers goof up, how can we expect school children to remember the words?

Some alternatives: "America the Beautiful." But with all those references to God, I suppose the atheists would object.

"The Battle Hymn of the Republic" would be wonderful; the "Glory, glory, hallelujah" part is very inspirational. Children would love it.

"God Bless America" would be the easiest to sing, but the atheists wouldn't approve of that one either.

How did "The Star-Spangled Banner" get to be our national anthem, anyway? And what would it take to change it?

PATRIOTIC

DEAR PATRIOTIC: An act of Congress was signed into law by President Hoover in 1931 making "The Star-Spangled Banner" our national anthem.

In order to change it, that law would have to be repealed and another law passed to replace it.

In the past, attempts have been made to oust "The Star-Spangled Banner," but they fell flat, so the melody lingers on.

DEAR ABBY: This letter concerns the Pennsylvania Dutchman's 80-year-old cousin who fathered a son by his 24-year-old wife.

A rather reliable source once told me of this big-game hunter on a safari who wandered away from camp with only a walking cane. He was confronted by a huge tiger ready to pounce on him, so he raised his cane, aimed it between the tiger's eyes and the beast fell dead at his feet! There was another hunter behind him with a real gun.

Perhaps the 24-year-old wife encountered another hunter with a real gun, too.

Sandinistas claim U.S. violated boundaries

CORINTO, Nicaragua (AP) — The Sandinista government claims U.S. warships, aircraft and speedboats violated Nicaraguan territorial waters while shadowing a Soviet freighter that the United States said may have brought MiG warplanes to Nicaragua.

The United States declared that it would view with "utmost concern" any delivery of Soviet-made advanced MiG 21 aircraft to the leftist-ruled country.

The Soviet freighter Bakuriani docked Wednesday at Corinto, a Pacific coast port 105 miles northwest of Managua. U.S. officials have said that intelligence data suggest the ship is carrying advanced MiG 21 warplanes, but that the data is inconclusive.

A Pentagon spokesman denied that any U.S. military ships or aircraft had been deployed in Nicaraguan waters or airspace in response to the freighter's arrival.

Nicaraguan security forces kept reporters from approaching the vessel as it unloaded, but journalists saw from a distance hundreds of sacks labeled "powdered milk" being unloaded and stacked onto trucks parked near the ship.

Dock workers told reporters that the cargo included dynamite. However, that report that could not be confirmed because of the security measures.

Foreign Minister Miguel d'Escoto denied that Nicaragua had received any MiGs, but he did not say what the Soviet ship was carrying. He made public the text of a diplomatic note he sent to U.S. Secretary of State George P. Shultz protesting what he called a "flagrant violation of the national sovereignty" of Nicaragua by the United States.

The note said two U.S. Navy frigates "harassed" the Bakuriani "between 10 and 11 a.m. seven miles off the Nicaraguan coast."

Earlier, d'Escoto and Defense Ministry officials in Managua claimed that speedboats unloaded from U.S. Navy warships and North American aircraft harassed the Bakuriani and a Nicaraguan patrol boat inside territorial waters. A Nicaraguan military spokesman said a plane from a U.S. Navy warship was shadowing the Bakuriani as it neared Corinto, and was chased away by Nicaraguan gunfire but not hit. The note from d'Escoto said the aircraft was a C-130.

Townpeople, who spoke on condition that they not be identified, told an Associated Press reporter that they heard a small aircraft flying around the area and that it was fired upon by Sandinista artillery. They said the plane was not hit.

D'Escoto's note demanded "the end of these provocative acts that could bring unseen consequences for international peace and security."

In Washington, Pentagon spokesman Navy Cmdr. Richard Schram denied that any U.S. military ships or aircraft were in the area or were involved in any incidents with the Nicaraguans.

"There are no United States Navy ships operating in Nicaraguan waters and any contention that ships are offloading small ships in Nicaraguan waters is totally false," he told reporters.

Schram said he was speaking only of U.S. military ships and acknowledged that his comment would not cover ships with U.S. connections operated by anti-Sandinista rebels.

President Reagan said he would regard the delivery of advanced combat aircraft to Nicaragua as a serious matter and a "threat" to Central America.

In a post-election news conference in Los Angeles, Reagan declined to say how the United States might respond if the delivery contains MiGs. Other officials said, however, that the United States is considering air strikes to destroy any such planes.

The State Department said it had sent private warnings to Moscow about the gravity with which Washington would view the introduction of advanced combat aircraft into Nicaragua.

Steers finale is set vs. Central

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

SAN ANGELO — What do you do if you are this year's district cellar dweller and faced with the prospect of playing the pre-season favorite in the final game of the year — on the road at that.

In the case of the Big Spring Steers 2-7, 0-10 it is simply a case of, "finding the desire to play hard regardless of the circumstances," according to head coach Quinn Eudy as his team ends the season in San Angelo against the Central Bobcats (7-2, 4-2).

It hasn't been the type of year either team would like to remember.

The Steers entered the year with high hopes and those hopes were borne out in three non-district games of which the Steers won two with gutsy fourth quarter comebacks. In the world of District 4-5A, however things turned quickly sour. The closest Big Spring has come to knocking off a loop foe was against Odessa. Big Spring led at halftime only to eventually lose, 28-17.

Central is no slouch with its record, but bigger and much better things were forecast for the Bobcats who Eudy said, "have the best size and talent in the district."

After posting shutouts in all three non-district games, the Bobcats were blown away by a second half blitz in the district opener by Midland Lee, 49-20. Then two weeks ago Central and Permian hooked up in one of the greatest games in 4-5A history with Mojo topping Central, 33-24.

"If our kids play as well as they can, then we'll be alright," said Eudy. Indeed, the Steers ought not be awed by Central's record and the fact the Bobcats boast the second most potent offense and third tightest defense. The history of the series bears this out.

In 1980 Central won, barely, 22-21. In 1982 the Steers came up two points shy of a playoff berth when Central managed to win, 15-14.

And despite the obvious advantage to the Bobcats, on paper at least, Friday's finale should be a good game and Eudy knows a win will go a long way in building momentum for next season.

Offensively Eudy said Big Spring quarterback Carl Speck, who has thrown for almost 700 yards, "should be able to throw the ball on Central." Speck will have his favorite target back this week in Jay Pirkle which should open up the offense a little. Pirkle sat out most of last week's loss to Abilene with a sprained ankle. The senior has caught 11 passes for 185 yards. He is also Big Spring's first string punter with a 35.6 average and the second leading rusher on the team. Instead of playing strong safety, however Pirkle will lineup at left cornerback.

"Jay is ready to go and will be at cornerback because he is one of the quickest and strongest players we have. He forces the run real well," said Eudy.

One of those runners he will be forcing is fullback C.L. Bowman. Bowman leads District 4-5A in rushing with 1,069 yards and in scoring.

Defensively the Bobcats are tough in their 4-3 alignment which is bolstered by a pair of "All-World," performers in Eudy's eyes, linebacker Brian Ross and free safety Rodney Anthony. Joining the pair is Ottaway Perryman who happens to lead the district in interceptions with five.

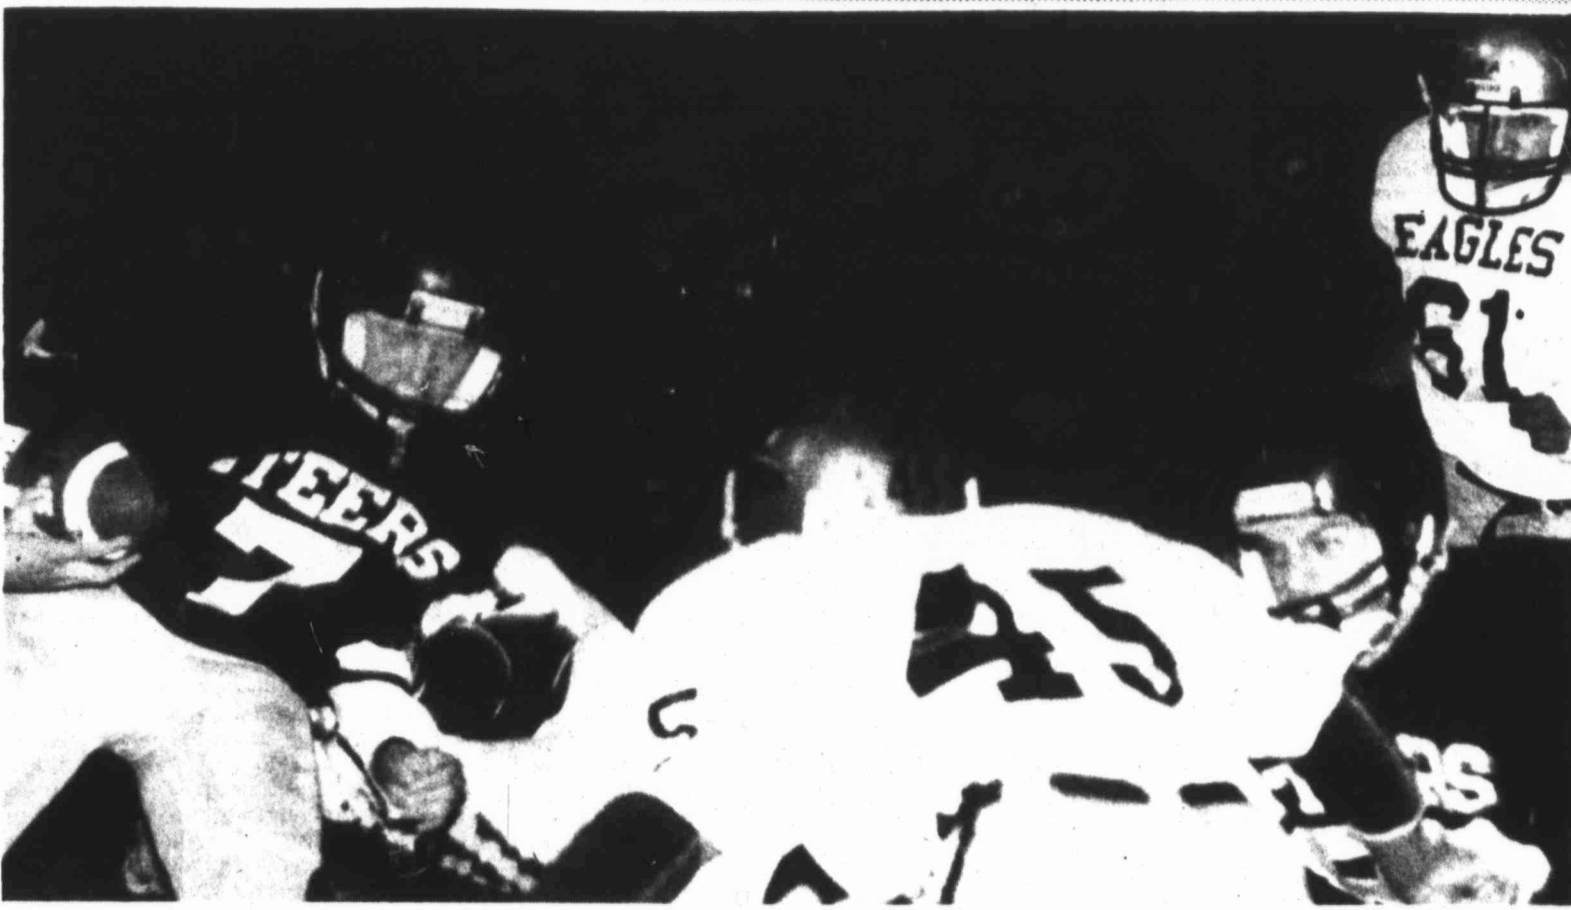

Central's overall defensive scheme calls for, "quite a bit of stunting and sic'em, go get 'em action," said Eudy. "They have a good front line," he added, noting the size of left defensive tackle Harvey DeWitt at 218 pounds.

While last week's Big Spring lineup was juggled considerably along the offensive line of scrimmage the lineup for the season finale will be intact with the exception of strong safety and right defensive end.

Sophomore Paul Decker was moved up last week to fill in at Pirkle's safety spot and, "played well," said Eudy. "I was very pleased with Paul. He is aggressive and is going to be a good football player for Big Spring." Victor Pruitt will move to defensive end since regular starter Billy Russell will miss his final game due to a badly bruised kneecap against Abilene. Pruitt is a sophomore and and, "a good athlete," according to Eudy.

During the past 10 years Central High owns a 9-1 record against the Big Spring Steers. Listed are scores for the past 10 meetings between the two teams.

Playoff awaits Grady-BC winner

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

LLENORAH — When you get right down to it, the Grady Wildcats-Borden County Coyotes clash Friday night has both team's destiny riding on it.

Both members of District 4-6-man need a win to have any hopes of post-season play — and it all boils down to the last regular season game.

Grady's road is a bit easier than B-County. All the Wildcats have to do is win and they are automatically in the playoffs, having only one district loss to powerful Highland. If Borden County wins then it would create a three-way tie for second between the Coyotes, Grady and Ira, all with 2-2 records.

A coin flip would determine who advances to the state playoffs.

Grady's first year coach Currie McWilliams makes it no secret he doesn't want to get in via coin flip. "To tell you the truth if we don't win the ballgame, I don't want to win the coin flip. I don't want to back our way into the playoffs."

Borden County coach Duke Frisbee and his squad know what task is in front of them. "This is the biggest game of the year," said Frisbee. "We have to win this game to even have a 33-and-a-half percent chance to reach the

Jansen achieves first for Stanton

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

GEORGETOWN — Lorrie Jansen has already accomplished a first first and now would like nothing better than to achieve a second first.

That's what the personable junior cross country runner from Stanton High School will be striving for when she joins the ranks of Class 1A and 2A runners here on the campus of Southwestern University for the Girls UIL State Cross Country Meet.

Jansen is the first girl from Stanton's cross country program to advance past regional and the road to state has been a long, if not painful one.

Jansen has had to overcome back and hip problems and tendonitis in her right ankle to reach her goal of state. "I would really like to win. I'll just run my best and see what happens," she said.

Her injuries forced her to sit out exactly half of Stanton's six meets. During her first two years at SHS Jansen did not have to prove herself on the district level since Stanton was the only school to field a team. When Greenwood entered the district this year the Rangers fielded a program also, thus making a district meet a necessity.

Therein lay another challenge. During her first two years at SHS Jansen did not have to prove herself on the district level since Stanton was the only school to field a team. When Greenwood entered the district this year the Rangers fielded a program also, thus making a district meet a necessity.

"I had to work harder," said Jansen, "not only because of some competition within the district, but because of the layoff."

She won her trip to the Region-I Meet with a personal best of 12:41. At regional Jansen's district best would have gotten her second, but she slowed instead to 13:10. Still the time was good for ninth place out of 82 runners. The top 10 finishers and top two teams advance to state.

Jansen is also adept at regular track and field competition, running the 800 meters and at least two relay races for the Buffs. "I really prefer regular track to cross country, but cross country helps prepare me for track and it's a sport that helps fill the gap between cheerleading during football season and track in the spring."

Jansen said she prefers a combination surface for running. "Too many hills makes things real hard. Too much of a flat surface makes running boring."

Said coach Wilma Stirl, "Lorrie has worked hard and is a competitor. She'll do well."

Klondike needs win to figure in picture

Most high school football teams in Crossroads Country will be out to finish their seasons this Friday, although two will simply be prepping for playoff competition and a third will take its final shot at reaching post-season action.

STANTON (0-4, 2-6-1) is at McCAMEY (1-3, 6-3) where both teams will try to close out dismal seasons.

Coach Dale Ruth's Stanton Bulldogs have lost four District 8-2A games by a total of 31 points. Last week was no exception — Wall nipped Stanton 13-12.

McCamey, which advanced to quarter-finals play last season, was picked by many to win the district hands down. Instead the Badgers won all five non-district slates, but have faltered in District 8-2A. Last week they fell to undefeated Eldorado 21-15.

The Buffaloes offense finally got untracked last week, racking up over 300 yards total offense.

SANDS (1-3, 3-6) is at LORLAINE (2-2, 4-4) and Coach Jim White's Sands Mustangs will be trying to close out the District 7-A South Zone season with a second consecutive win.

Last week, behind the 115-yard performance of running back Arnold Velasco, the Mustang offense exploded for 20 points in a shutout win over Roby. The Sands defense limited Roby to only 61 yards on the ground.

Loraine is coming off a 12-7 upset win over Garden City that knocked G-City from the playoff picture. The Bulldogs are led by running backs Tony Morris (850 yards) and Aundra Rose (780 yards).

GARDEN CITY (3-5-1, 2-2) is at ROSCOE (8-1, 4-0) in another 7-A South Zone affair where the stiff Bearkat defense (9.5 points per game) will get its sternest test against the Plowboys who handed Forsan its first loss last week, 27-13.

CRANE (0-3-1, 1-7-1) is at COLORADO CITY (8-1, 3-1) and C-City coach Tom Ramsey wants his squad to end the 7-3A season with a win while gaining momentum for the playoffs.

The Wolves had a hard time squeaking past Sonora 21-17. The Wolf Pack was hampered by three fumbles. Their offense did get back into gear by gaining almost 300 yards total offense, including an 86-yard scoring pass from Doug Chitsey to tight end Don Randle.

Junior running back Sammy Rivera had his biggest game of the season with 193 yards. He needs 60 yards against Crane to gain 1,000 yards for the season.

FORSAN (3-1, 8-1) is at ROBY (0-4, 1-8) and Forsan coach Jan East says his biggest job this week is getting his troops mentally prepared for their 7-A South Zone finale before beginning the playoffs next week. "We are comming off an emotionally high ball game against Roscoe," explained East.

Last week a tough Roscoe defense gave the Buffs problems, limiting their potent rushing attack to less than 100 yards. Forsan leading rusher Mitch Hays was held to 56 yards and needs 88 yards to reach the 1,000 yard plateau.

The Buffs will be without the services of wide receiver Bobby Headrick for three weeks. Headrick suffered strained ligaments in a knee in the loss to Roscoe. Freshman Bryon McElreath will take his place.

COAHOMA (2-2, 4-4-1) is at BALLINGER (4-0, 9-0) in a 7-3A contest and coach Bruce Mitchell's Bulldogs will end the season with the not-so-easy task of beating the state's number eight team with a third string quarterback.

The Bulldogs lost second team signal-caller Brian Calaway with a seperated shoulder in last week's 15-13 win over Crane. The 'Dogs will also miss Calaway at cornerback. His seven interceptions were second only to teammate John Swinney's eight.

This week Mitchell will counter with sophomore Chris Parker who had been playing wide receiver for the Bulldogs. He is also Coahoma's leading receiver the past three weeks with nine catches for 160 yards.

KLONDIKE (2-1, 5-3) is at O'DONNELL (3-0, 6-3) and coach Jimmy Thomas' Klondike Cougars need a victory to force a coin flip to decide which teams reach post-season play.

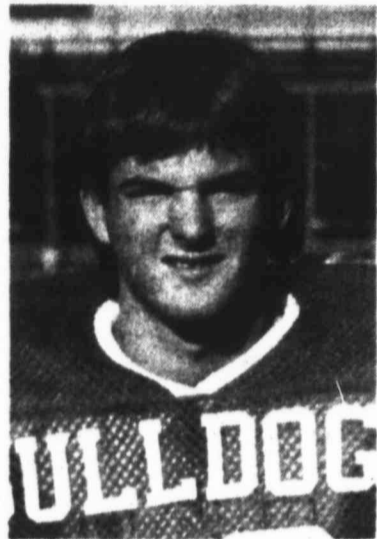

If the Cougars can defeat the Eagles and Wilson downs winless Ropes, Klondike, O'Donnell and Wilson would be tied for first with 3-1 records.

Thomas says his team is gearing up for the battle. "We have been having more spirited workouts this week," said Thomas. "The kids are hitting and working hard and they feel like they can win."

The Klondike mentor cautions that they key to victory is his team's ability to hang on to the football. In all three Cougars losses they have committed an incredible 26 turnovers.

Last week they committed only two turnovers as they rolled past Meadow 56-18. Tim Cope and Robert Guerra each gained over 100 yards. Cope needs 61 yards to reach the 1,000-yard mark.

O'Donnell has the best offensive line in the district, including one tackle that is 6-2 and weighs 280 pounds. They run a lot of power sweeps, bootlegs and traps up in the middle out of the T."

BRIAN CALAWAY

Playoff

"Our game plan won't change," said Frisbee. "We'll run Cooley and get the yards on the ground."

The Wildcats employ a more balanced attack with quarterback Luis Gonzales, who has guided the 'Cats to a 3-1 mark since taking over the starter's role, running backs Dennis Sawyer, Michael Mitchell and Fred Garza.

Sawyer leads the trio with 819 yards while Perez has churned out another 561.

Gonzales' arm has given the Wildcats offense more firepower with his 65 percent completion ratio. His favorite receiver has been Terry Deatherage with 35 catches for 636 yards.

Coach Williams also says he won't mess with success. "The key is execution. We won't change anything. We'll use our balanced attack. We don't have the type of runner as Cooley where we can give him the ball all the time."

The return of fullback-linebacker Bric Turner from a broken finger will be a big boost for the Coyote pass defense. "Their passing attack is their strong point," said coach Frisbee. Bric is a good pass defender and it will help a lot to get him back in the lineup. We haven't played good of pass defense since he's been out."

Surprisingly, both Frisbee and McWilliams thinks the contest will be low scoring in six-man terms.

"I think it will be in the 35-45 range," said Frisbee. McWilliams went even one better and said "I think the team that scores 35 points will win."

Whatever the outcome, both squads have an entire season riding on one game.

Suit challenges 4A zone champ

AUSTIN (AP) — The fate of schoolboy football playoffs for teams in Class 4A remained in limbo today after the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals heard arguments concerning a controversial University Interscholastic League eligibility rule.

The court heard arguments in the case Wednesday, but it is uncertain when a ruling will be made.

The UIL plans to study ways to develop an unusual five-team football playoff system between the north and south zones of district 6-AAAA.

Bailey Marshall, UIL athletic director, says he will ask the District 12-AAAA executive committee to decide exactly how five teams — two in the north and three in the south — will conduct eliminations to produce two teams to enter the state playoffs. In past years, the playoffs involved two teams from each zone.

The special playoff situation in the zone is an attempt to handle the controversy involving unbeaten Austin Westlake whose quarterback, Todd Maroney, is playing despite being declared ineligible by the UIL.

The UIL ruled that Maroney was ineligible to play because he was considered a fifth-year player.

If Westlake does remain in the playoffs as 6-AAAA South Zone champion, with runnerup Georgetown and the third place team, probably Taylor, also in the field, the two state playoff entries from the 12-team district would not be determined until Nov. 23.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 9, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You have an especially good early morning to get into whatever practical and worldly ambitions impel you forward and to make big strides during the whole day toward your success.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can complete some financial affair that is important and gain fine benefits. Get your property in better order, also.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Early get your appearance improved and then you can get into monetary affairs and handle them very wisely.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You can complete private anglings today and then you can pursue personal goals. Some special thought for your mate is wise.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Complete that work you have been doing to gain personal goals during the day and then be happy at romance.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Morning is fine for handling outside activities precisely and later you can pursue personal aims and get good results.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Fine morning for getting a new interest in operation so don't procrastinate, and later a bigwig can give you backing you need.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get your practical matters handled efficiently during the daytime and tonight study into new interests.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Important you listen with care to one who is vital to your well being so that you understand ideas expounded.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can handle that work you have agreed to do in a most clever way, so carry through until it is finished.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A good day to be of help to your friends but also gain assistance for your own objectives.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study what it is you can do to bring more happiness to your family, even if it means a little trouble for you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Early handle that important business with others, and tonight you can enjoy home and family to the very fullest.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she can be very active in business and banking circles upon reaching adulthood, and the education should be slanted along such lines for best results. Early be certain that your progeny does not build up any prejudices that could minimize the potential here.

"The Stars impel; they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!
