Meat cutters strike

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

All six meat cutters who work for the two Big Spring Safeway stores joined a union strike today against 55 Safeway stores in the Dallas division.

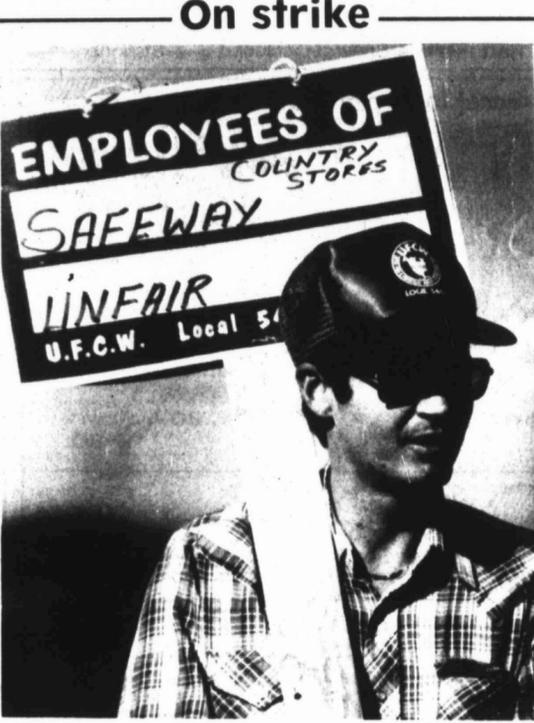

The meat cutters are members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen Local No. 540, which has its headquarters in Dallas.

Also included in the strike against Safeway Stores, Inc. are stores in Sweetwater and Snyder, according to company and union officials.

According to union officials, union members at the Safeway store in Colorado City also are supposed to be out on strike, but store manager Randy Couch said the meat cutters were still at work.

The meat cutters were picketing both Big Spring stores today, asking shoppers to boycott the store because of the strike. The stores

Nicaraguans assigning war duties

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — A Soviet freighter may have brought three military transport helicopters to Nicaragua, a source said Friday, as the Sandinista government readied its defenses against what it said was a threat of a U.S. invasion.

The leftist government issued urgent calls for blood donations, and Nicaraguans held neighborhood meetings to assign war duties, care for children, prepare trenches and harvest the coffee crop in case of attack.

But the capital was calm and no actual military preparations were evident on the streets or outskirts. At about 8:30 a.m. a loud boom was heard in Managua, like others that the government has blamed on U.S. planes breaking the sound barrier in flights through Nicaraguan airspace.

The Nicaraguan government, filing another protest to the United States, alleged that the boom heard on Friday was caused by a U.S. spy plane.

Relations between the Sandinista and the U.S. government grew more tense this week after the Soviet freighter docked at the Pacific port of Corinto. The Reagan administration said the ship's cargo might include Soviet MiG-21 fighter planes, but the Soviet Union denied that the jets were being delivered to Nicaragua.

Nicaragua's foreign minister also denied the Soviet vessel was carrying aircraft.

A source who spoke on condition of he remain anonymous said large wooden and metal crates at Managua's Sandino International Airport contained one or two Soviet-made Mi8 helicopters and perhaps one Mi24 helicopter. There were also some smaller crates at the airport, he said.

"It is my understanding that the larger crates that were in the ship ended up at the Sandino Airport," he said, adding that the crates were probably taken to the airport on Thursday.

He said identification of the crates' possible contents was based on their shape and size.

Mi8s and Mi24s form the standard equipment of Soviet tactical helicopter regiments, some of them carrying extremely heavy weapon loads, according to Jane's All The World's Aircraft.

The source said the Sandinistas already have up to a dozen Mi8s but that many have been sidelined because of lack of spare parts.

The source also said there were reports that a Bulgarian freighter had been unloading helicopters at the Caribbean port of El Bluff. See Invasion page 2-A

Texas oil supply worries brokers

By WILLIAM GARLAND
Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — When Midland oil and gas consultant Robert F. Bailey landed in New York City in mid-September, he was hit with a quick question before he got away from La Guardia Airport.

"What the heck are we doing out there raising money to drill with when Texas is running out of oil?" Bailey was asked by a panicky oil and gas broker whose clients were underwriting some of the drilling costs for Bailey's Alta Energy Corp.

The broker's source of concern was a three-page article leading that day's Sunday New York Times business section with a bold pronouncement that "The Great Oil Era Ends in Texas."

"At the present rate at which oil is being pumped, that reserve (of oil in Texas) would be gone in about nine years... Many believe there is not enough undiscovered oil left in this huge state to keep the Texas oil industry going strong much beyond the year 2000," said the Times article.

Bailey, an engineering consultant for 20 years in the Permian Basin and president of the Alta firm, said he told the broker that "the article to me was pretty well one-sided. We've got a heck of a lot of oil left (and) we're sure not on the verge of running out."

"In the foreseeable future we're going to have the most concentrated drilling activity of any state in the United States because we've got a lot (of oil) here," he said.

In Midland, surrounded by thousands of oil and gas wells in the 100,000 square miles of the Permian Basin, Bailey looked at the industry somewhat differently than a New-York based reporter.

He said there were new reserves to find, even in the well-explored basin area, and that new and existing technologies would continue to extend the state's proved reserves beyond the current base of 7.5 billion barrels, even if the ratio of new discoveries to reserves decreased gradually.

The Times article took a pessimistic view of producing much of the state's oil and gas that would require enhanced production techniques, those methods of producing petroleum after primary production has siphoned about 15 percent of an oil and gas field.

"Geologists do acknowledge that Texas probably has an additional 100 billion barrels somewhere underground, but they say this 100 billion barrels is beyond recovery — an almost imaginary resource too costly to pump..." said the Times article.

Bailey and others in the industry noted that, after another 15 percent of the oil and gas is produced through traditional secondary recovery (pumping water into the field), up to 30 percent could still be produced through tertiary recovery, pumping such fluids into the field as carbon dioxide. At least one pipeline, bringing carbon dioxide to the Permian Basin from Northern New Mexico, currently is in operation.

"I think (the oil and gas industry in Texas) is going to get stronger," said Ed Thompson, who heads the Permian Basin Petroleum Association. He noted that the rig count See Supplies page 2-A

Oil pricing cuts continue

By STEVEN P. ROSENFELD
AP Business Writer

Exxon Corp. said Friday it had cut the price it is willing to pay for the top grade of domestic crude oil by $1 a barrel, and Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), the remaining big holdout from price cutting, also lowered the price of West Texas Intermediate, the benchmark blend, to $29 a barrel from $30.

Marathon Oil Co., a unit of U.S. Steel Corp., announced its second round of price cuts in as many weeks, dropping the price of West Texas Intermediate another 25 cents, to match the $29 price.

A cut of $1 a barrel would bring down the price of refined petroleum products, such as gasoline and heating oil, by about 2 1/2 cents a gallon if entirely passed on to consumers.

In commodity trading Friday on the New York Mercantile Exchange, crude oil for December delivery fell 15 cents to $28.53 a barrel. The exchange trades South Louisiana Sweet crude, another light grade. It said that gasoline for December delivery edged up to 71.15 cents a gallon from 71.13 Thursday and that heating oil fell to 78.71 cents a gallon from 79.38. Exxon's move "is very significant because it is the biggest producer in the United States and by far the biggest oil company," said William Randol, an analyst who follows the oil industry for the investment firm of First Boston Corp. "It is a major domino in the whole domestic oil pricing scheme."

The price cutting reflects a shift in preference away from light crude oils by refiners. Ever since the explosive rise in oil prices, especially for the light grades produced in the Middle East, refiners have spent billions of dollars remodeling to handle cheaper and lower-quality heavy oils for the production of gasoline, jet fuel and heating oil.

The continuing oversupply of oil on world markets led Norway, Britain and Nigeria to cut their prices for light grades by up to $2 a barrel last month.

In an attempt to defend its benchmark price of $29 a barrel for Arabian Light crude oil, the Organization of Petroleum Export-

Weather

Cloudy skies noted

By The Associated Press

Skies were partly cloudy over the eastern half of the state Friday while widely scattered thunderstorms hit regions of East Texas as a weak cold front moved in from the south.

Skies were sunny west of the cold front, where west winds were gusting to more than 30 mph from the Midland area northward through the Panhandle.

Afternoon temperatures were in the 80s east of the front and dropped to the 70s west of the trough. But in the Panhandle and West Texas, the mercury reached only into the 60s.

Both McAllen and Kingsville registered the high for the state Friday with a reading of 88 degrees.

The forecast for the weekend calls for fair weather in North Texas. Highs Saturday will be 62 in the northwest to 75 in the southeast. Lows Saturday night will dip to the mid 30s and low 40s.

Mostly fair weather is expected to continue in West Texas, where highs Saturday will vary from 55 in the Panhandle to 76 in the Big Bend. Lows will sink to 32 in the northern Panhandle to 48 in the Big Bend.

Clear and cooler temperatures will dominate the weather picture in South Texas and highs will generally be in the 70s. Lows will be in the 30s and 40s, climbing to the 50s along the coast.

Heavy snows pummeled the mountains of Colorado, Nevada and the Northwest on Friday, dumping more than 2 feet in some areas, while high winds, showers and freezing rain punished parts of the nation's midsection.

The National Weather Service posted a heavy snow warning for the Oregon mountains, and travelers' advisories were in effect over parts of South Dakota, Colorado, Idaho, Washington state and California.

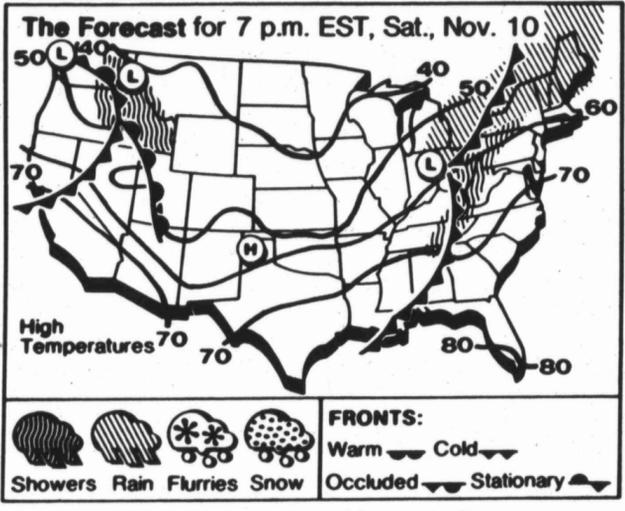

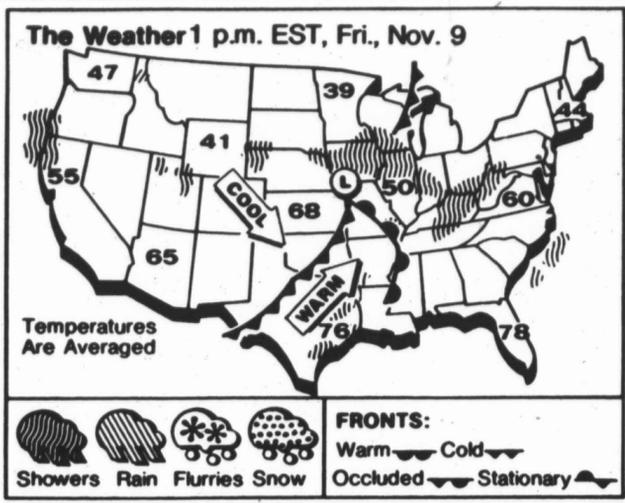

More than 2 1/2 feet of snow fell in the mountains of Utah on Friday, and forecasters predicted another storm Saturday that could dump 6 more inches at high elevations.

Wind-whipped snow cut visibility in the Colorado Rockies, where 8 inches fell Friday and another 8 inches were forecast for Saturday. The storm was good news for ski areas in Colorado and Nevada, many of which already are at least partially open ahead of the traditional Thanksgiving date.

This week's storm also brought the season's first significant snowpack in the Sierra Nevadas, where 21 inches of snow blanketed the ground in some spots.

Local advisories were posted in the upper Missouri Valley and across the northern Rockies.

West Texas — Fair and dry Monday through Wednesday. Warmer Monday and cooler especially north Wednesday.

had been on the rise in West Texas for nine months and probably would continue to do so. The count was about 340 one week in September, compared to 282 for the same week the year before.

"I think it'll be a continual slow growth," said Thompson. "We're not agitating to get up to 500 or so rigs because that's what brought us to where we were last year (during the slump for the industry)."

During the first six months of 1984, Texas produced 421.7 million barrels of crude oil, 2.6 percent less than the 433 million barrels produced during the first half of 1983.

"We have been using more than we've been finding, but part of that was because of government interference," said Thompson.

"Nobody can say positively how long it (Texas oil and gas production) is going to last," he added, noting that engineers like Bailey "know more about it than anybody else."

Julian Martin, executive director of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said pessimistic projections about the oil and gas industry in Texas ignore increasing technological breakthroughs for enhanced oil recovery (such as with carbon dioxide) and "the vast reserves of natural gas in the state."

"Those two items alone should engender optimism (about the oil and gas industry in Texas) rather than overall pessimism," said Martin.

Even if new technologies do not allow increased production from the 100 billion barrels of known additional oil reserves, Martin said a prediction that Texas production would drop dramatically by the year 2000 was inaccurate even though he acknowledged the gradual decline of production.

"In 16 years, if nothing else happens, (oil production) will still be a substantial percentage of what we have now. If we were just able to double our recovery (of oil in Texas) we would have another 50 billion barrels," Martin said.

Strike

are hiring non-union labor to take the strikers' places.

"They've hired people to take our jobs," said Larry Sparks, a striking employee of the Gregg Street Safeway store. "We hope Big Spring people will honor our pickets."

According to Local No. 540 Vice President Hugh Leake of Dallas, who has been handling negotiations with Safeway for union members since Nov. 1983, he called for the strike after negotiations failed Monday and Tuesday with a Safeway representative from Oakland, Calif.

The union gave a four-week notice of the strike and has been working without a contract since Jan. 21, Leake said. He said he was able to get contracts for union members at 111 of the 170 stores he represents.

The company has not made any effort to restart the negotiations, he said.

According to Leake, the company broke a 25- or 30-year practice of granting the same contract to all stores in the division. "This time, they chose to break up the contracts," he said.

Vicki Flannery, a public relations representative for the Dallas division of Safeway said she could not provide details, but said "different areas were offered different contracts."

"We've made every reasonable effort to reach a fair settlement," Ms. Flannery said.

According to Ms. Flannery, the union rejected the company's final offer made in October.

That offer, she said, included a three-year wage freeze, but holidays, health benefits and other benefits would be maintained.

Not so, said Leake and strikers in Big Spring.

According to Leake, Big Spring, Sweetwater and Colorado City meat cutters are being offered a $1.69 cut in hourly wages and a three-year wage freeze.

Other areas are being offered contracts that call for a $1.19 cut and a freeze; Snyder and other stores are being offered a three-year freeze.

At other stores, the company is trying to take away five holidays, time-and-a-half overtime on Sundays, premium pay for work on holidays and overtime when a meat cutter works a six-day week.

"They're trying to take away things that we've had for the 15 years I've worked here," said Lonnie Pounds, a meat cutter picketing the Gregg Street store.

"There's no reason to offer different contracts. Safeway doesn't charge less for food in Big Spring; in fact, they charge more because they have to transport it from Dallas," Leake said.

He also said the company refused an offer he made earlier this week to give up about $806,000 in excess pension money for employees to get uniform contracts. "Their cost for uniform contracts would be about $300,000. They would get more than $500,000 in profits," Leake said.

Local Safeway meat cutters said the decision to strike was a hard one. "The holidays are coming up, Thanksgiving's almost here and my baby needs a new pair of shoes," Pounds said.

"We'd like to go back to work. But we'll stay out here until the company starts negotiating again," Sparks said.

The union struck now because the holiday season is Safeway's busiest time of the year, Leake said. He said he does not know how much effect the strike is having in Big Spring, but "in some areas, business has been cut by 40 to 50 percent."

"Some people have seen the signs and got in their cars and left," said Sara, another meat cutter picketing the Gregg Street Store who would not give her last name. "But most people don't understand what's going on."

ting Countries agreed last week to reduce its production ceiling to 16 million barrels a day from 17.5 million. OPEC ministers said they hoped that with the onset of winter and the seasonal increase in demand for oil that accompanies cooler weather, oil supplies would become scarcer and prices would level off.

Iran, an OPEC member that depends heavily on oil revenue to finance its more than 4-year-old war with Iraq, threatened Friday to try to disrupt oil shipments in the Persian Gulf if a price-cutting war erupts.

Iran made similar threats to Gulf shipping earlier this year, when its Kharg Island oil terminal was threatened by Iraqi attacks. But so far it has not stopped the flow of petroleum from a region that meets 20 percent of the non-communist world's oil needs.

Following the 1978 revolution in Iran, the flow of oil from OPEC's second-largest producer was disrupted. Those cutbacks led to worries over shortages, sent oil prices soaring and led to long lines of motorists at gas stations around the United States.

Dan Lundberg, a publisher of gasoline price information, said Thursday that because of limited gasoline storage facilities in the United States, an oil shortage now would have a worse impact on the nation than the Arab oil embargo of 1973-74.

Skilled-care bed request OK'ed

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Golden Plains Care Center of Big Spring has been given the go-ahead to change 50 intermediate-care beds at the facility to skilled-care beds.

Unanimous approval came from the three-member Texas Health Facilities Commission on Thursday. There was no opposition to the request.

Officials with the facility estimated the only cost associated with the conversion would be $6,000 for the purchase of an emergency generator.

Approval of the request means the facility will operate with 100 intermediate-care beds, 50 skilled-care beds and 50 custodial-care beds.

about 170 miles east of Managua. The government has refused to let journalists into that area.

He added that another Soviet freighter was waiting "not too far off" the Pacific coast.

The source said there was no firm evidence that MiG fighters had been aboard the freighter that docked.

Javier Chamorro, the Nicaraguan ambassador to the United Nations, asked for an emergency meeting of the Security Council to protest alleged acts of aggression by the United States — spy plane flights, deployment of naval forces near Nicaragua and movements at military bases within the United States.

In Washington, the Pentagon said two large-scale military exercises in Georgia and in the Caribbean weren't a prelude to military action against Nicaragua.

"These have been in the works for a long time and have nothing to do with Nicaragua," said Air Force Col. Robert O'Brien.

The Sandinistas have been predicting a U.S. invasion for several months, and the government said it had begun arming civilians, including 20,000 student volunteers who normally harvest coffee, Nicaragua's principal export.

Wheelock, who is also an army colonel.

The latest war scare was caused by reports from Washington that the Soviet ship that docked Wednesday at Corinto might be carrying MiG-21s. Foreign Minister Miguel d'Escoto vehemently denied the ship carried aircraft, but insisted that the government has the right to acquire planes for defensive purposes.

The Soviet U.N. ambassador, Oleg A. Troyanovsky, also denied on Friday that his country had shipped MiG warplanes to Nicaragua.

Neither the Soviet Union nor Nicaragua has said what is on the ship.

"We prefer the loss of the coffee than the loss of the country," said Agriculture Minister Jaime

Peoria bans books

PEORIA, Ill. — Three books by award-winning writer of children's stories have been banned from the city's public elementary school libraries because of their sexual content or strong language, officials said Friday.

The three works by Judy Blume, who has written 14 children's books and three novels for adults, were removed Monday.

Elementary school libraries are open to children from kindergarten through eighth grade, and the books were deemed inappropriate for pre-seventh-grade readers, said Associate Superintendent Dennis Gainey.

Couple ordered out

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — A judge ruled Friday that a couple must move out of their home of seven years in a predominantly "adults only" section of a development because their 15-month-old daughter violates a no-child restriction in their deed.

"The question in this case is whether the age restriction is reasonable," Circuit Judge Miette Burnstein ruled. "The court will find as a matter of fact that the age restriction is reasonable."

The Woodlands Homeowners Association, representing the Tamarac community, took Bonnie and Ron Pomerantz to court, claiming they violated a deed restriction requiring that all residents in their adult section be at least 16. The association also claimed the Pomerantzes infringed on their mostly older neighbors' choice to live in a child-free area.

The Pomerantzes argued, however, the eviction attempt violated their civil rights through age discrimination in housing.

Suicide pact completed

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. — An elderly couple who enjoyed dancing and daily Jacuzzis until she suffered a stroke and he had a heart attack carried out a suicide pact so they could die with dignity, police said Friday.

"We feel very certain there had been a long-standing agreement, at least an understanding, between the two of them that they would end their lives together, in a dignified way," Palm Springs police Sgt. Jon Clem said of Saul Garell, 89, and his wife Hilda, 85, who had been married 69 years.

"I really hate to classify it as a murder-suicide, but legally that's what it is," Clem said.

Until recently, the Garells had gone ballroom dancing every Saturday night and would walk arm-in-arm every day to a Jacuzzi at the El Dorado Mobile Country Club where they lived, 110 miles east of Los Angeles.

Neighbors said the Garells "danced just like a dream."

Gorilla needs counselor

TOLEDO, Ohio — Toledo Zoo officials are calling in a "sort of marriage counselor" for Max, a 19-year-old gorilla who has ignored all efforts to get him to breed.

If that doesn't succeed, zoo officials working to expand the species fear they may have to trade Max in on a more amorous gorilla.

The 400-pound gorilla is healthy and able to reproduce, and has plenty of opportunity to do so with his two live-in female companions, Happy, 15, and Malaika, 13, says Glenous Favata, curator of mammals at the zoo.

Dr. Terry Maple, director of the Atlanta Zoo and an expert on the behavior of great apes, said he is visiting Toledo as "a sort of marriage counselor for gorillas."

"Much like a marriage counselor for humans, you try to objectively find the problem and seek a solution," Maple said. "The difference is that humans can tell you what they think is wrong. And with gorillas, only observation can tell you."

"We'll discuss what the Toledo Zoo has tried in encouraging breeding, and how we might alter the structure of the gorilla group," said Maple, whose $250-per-day fee will be split by the zoo and the American Association of Zoo Keepers.

BLACK WORKERS FIRED — Thousands of black workers fired by South Africa's huge synthetic fuel company, SASOL, wait outside their barracks to be paid before being repatriated to their homelands. They had participated in a two-day strike to protest grievances including rent and bus fare hikes.

South African protests

Union president detained after strike

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The president of one of South Africa's largest black trade union organizations was detained Friday, three days after his federation joined a protest strike in Transvaal province, union officials said.

Chris Dlamini, president of the Federation of South African Trade Unions, was the eighth person reported held without charge by security police since hundreds of thousands of workers stayed home Monday and Tuesday.

Jay Naidoo, general secretary of the Sweets, Food and Allied Workers Union, told a news conference Dlamini was picked up at the Kellogg cereal plant where he works. Kellogg South Africa, a subsidiary of the U.S. cereal maker, is in Springs, east of Johannesburg.

The federation's member unions, with about 110,000 black members nationwide, joined the protest walkout by 37 unions, student groups and other opposition organizations. Their grievances included rent and bus fare increases, the quality of black schools, and the use of army troops to quell unrest in black townships.

Police said 25 blacks were killed in clashes between police and rioters in townships during this week's protest strike. According to groups monitoring the unrest, before this week's deaths about 130 blacks had been killed since August in almost daily rioting in the townships triggered by frustrations over the country's system of apartheid or race separation.

Naidoo said federation leaders held an emergency meeting Thursday to discuss the firing by the huge Sasol synthetic fuel company of 6,000 black workers who took part in the strike. He said member unions would decide by next week whether to launch a boycott of Sasol fuels, including gasoline.

He also said leaders had agreed to declare a "black Christmas" this year, and to buy only essential goods, not presents. "We find there is nothing to celebrate," he said.

Trevor Manuel, acting general secretary of the United Democratic Front coalition, said security police searched, and seized documents from, at least three offices of black trade unions and groups opposed to South Africa's policy of racial separation. Black unions have about 300,000 members nationwide.

Manuel called the detentions and searches "blatant intimidation" by the white-minority government.

Home Affairs Minister F.W. De Klerk has warned that black unions would not be allowed to turn the labor and industrial spheres into "a political battlefield."

Most affected companies docked workers' pay for the two days, but Sasol, which produces oil from coal, fired about 6,000 workers — 90 percent of its black work force.

Robin Hugo, Sasol's assistant general manager, said all but a few hundred of the nearly 6,000 dismissed black workers at the facility in Secunda, 80 miles east of Johannesburg, had gone back to their black homelands. He said there was no chance of Sasol rehiring the workers and that the white, Asian and mixed-race work force of 5,000 was maintaining normal operations.

Sasol, 30 percent government-owned, produces oil from coal under a program designed to reduce South Africa's dependence on imported oil.

Launch slows shuttle space chase

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Discovery's astronauts interrupted their chase of two errant satellites Friday to launch a Canadian orbiter into deep space storage now to take advantage of NASA's bargain trucking rates.

Mission commander Rick Hauck and pilot David Walker fired rocket bursts to keep Discovery on track for a rendezvous Monday with the first of two orphan satellites, and then lined up the shuttle to deliver the Canadian Anik D2 satellite into orbit.

"The deploy went on time without any problems at all," said astronaut Joe Allen who started the automatic launch sequence by entering numbers in a computer. "The satellite counted down and deployed itself without a hitch."

The sequence caused the 2,700-pound satellite to spin at 50 rpm on a rotating table. Then springs ejected the craft into independent orbit. Forty-five minutes later, a rocket engine fired automatically to drill Anik D2 into an elliptical orbit with a high point of about 22,300 miles. Later, this orbit will be made more circular.

The Canadian company does not plan to use the satellite for awhile, but is sending it up now to take advantage of low launch fees by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Next year, NASA will double the charge for launching satellites, bringing the fees closer to actual costs.

Telesat said the Anik D2 will be "stored" in orbit above Medicine Hat, Alberta, until it is actually needed.

"The storage orbit allows us to be responsive to customers," said Telesat President Eldon Thompson. "Anik D2 can be moved into an operational orbit in about three days. If we stored it on Earth, it might take months or years to get a launch date."

Telesat paid NASA $10 million for delivery of the Anik. It is the eighth satellite put up by Telesat since the Canadian company launched history's first commercial communications satellite in 1972.

Another new satellite, owned by Hughes Aircraft and leased to the U.S. Navy, will be launched from Discovery on Saturday. Hughes is paying NASA $17 million to launch this satellite, which is larger than the Anik.

Conspiracy studied

NEW DELHI, India — Police and intelligence officials on Friday began an investigation into a possible conspiracy in the assassination of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

The investigation is headed by S. Anand Ram, former director of the Central Industrial Security Force. He is expected to report his findings to a special inquiry commission headed by a Supreme Court judge. The panel is expected to be named soon.

Several Indian newspapers have reported what they described as a "deep-rooted" conspiracy behind the slaying of Mrs. Gandhi on Oct. 31. The papers reported, with little substantiation, that the suspected conspiracy may have involved Sikh military officials or Sikh separatists based in foreign countries.

The Indian army, meanwhile, began escorting thousands of Sikh riot victims out of refugee camps.

Spanish workers riot

BILBAO, Spain — Workers protesting government plans to restructure the shipbuilding industry fought riot police Friday and initial reports said at least six people were hurt, including two policemen.

Witnesses said police hurled about 500 smoke cans to prevent hundreds of shipyard workers from marching into downtown Bilbao in the third day of protests. The witnesses said the demonstrators responded with gasoline bombs.

Three passersby were injured while trying to cross a bridge into town while the clashes were going on.

Workers' representatives protested Friday's police action, claiming about 50 demonstrators were injured.

Protesters caused traffic chaos by running six public transportation buses onto the bridge and by setting afire some barricades they had erected.

Strikes continue

TORONTO — Workers at three of Ford Motor Co.'s nine Canadian plants staged wildcat walkouts Friday for the second day in a row, but United Auto Workers officials said the unauthorized strikes didn't endanger ratification of a tentative national contract.

"There's no indication of the workers being mad at their union or mad at the bargaining team," UAW Canadian director Robert White said at a news conference.

He said the walkouts stemmed from workers "taking a long weekend," without any connection to the terms of the proposed contract.

Ratification votes were scheduled Sunday on the tentative agreement, announced Thursday. It is nearly identical on money issues to a contract reached with General Motors Corp.'s Canadian subsidiary after a 12-day strike last month.

Bargainers cleared up the last local issues Friday, White said.

Car assembly plants at St. Thomas and Oakville, Ontario, and a truck assembly plant at Oakville resumed work Friday morning despite hundreds of absentees, but had to shut down later in the day when other workers left, Ford spokesman James Hartford said.

Walesa wants reforms

WARSAW, Poland — Solidarity leader Lech Walesa on Friday accused Poland's security forces of "violence and lawlessness" and demanded reforms in the Interior Ministry following the kidnap-murder of a pro-Solidarity priest.

The government has charged a secret police captain and two lieutenants with kidnapping and murdering the Rev. Jerzy Popieluszko, and an Interior Ministry colonel is charged with "aiding and abetting" the three police officers.

The Interior Ministry controls Poland's uniformed and plainclothes police.

"We know too many examples of violence and lawlessness perpetrated by Interior Ministry functionaries which were never punished and revealed to the public," said Walesa in the letter to the Polish Parliament.

A spokeswoman at Walesa's apartment in the Baltic port of Gdansk read the text of two letters, one to the Parliament and the other to the presidium of the Parliament.

Progress cited in cancer treatment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Researchers say the marriage of two new technologies has brought an "explosion of progress" in breast cancer treatment and promises to improve the chances of surviving a disease that kills 40,000 American women each year.

The technologies — monoclonal antibodies and nuclear magnetic resonance scanning, or NMR — are making possible a rapid advance in diagnostic technique, said doctors at the International Workshop on Monoclonal Antibodies and Breast Cancer on Thursday.

The monoclonal antibodies, which when injected into the body will gather at a tumor, can be loaded with tiny bits of metal. An NMR examination of the area gives a brilliant contrast, providing doctors with a more detailed picture than previously possible.

The man-made monoclonal antibodies "will mean a turning point in the diagnosis and treatment of breast cancer," said Dr. Roberto L. Ceriani, a research endocrinologist with the John Muir Cancer and Aging Institute in Walnut Creek, Calif.

Monoclonal antibodies, similar to the antibodies all animals make naturally to fight disease, can be injected into the blood to search out cancer cells and, researchers believe, to kill them.

Unlike radiation and chemotherapy, Ceriani said, "the use of these antibodies will permit the attack of the breast tumor directly. They can pinpoint the attack and leave the rest of the body healthy."

There are three ways the antibodies can attack, he said. They can induce the cancer cells to kill themselves through a mechanism in the blood or they can search for lymphocytes in the blood to go kill the cancers.

"A third way, which is an experimental one we are all extremely interested in, is that you can put toxins, or poisons, on the antibodies that will kill the cancer," said Ceriani.

CAPRICORN (Jan. 22 to Jan. 30) Situations arise with others so use tact and take time to study them before handling.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 31 to Feb. 19) You had better keep promises you have made and don't permit a co-worker to interfere who may be under tension of some sort.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Some plan you had made of a recreational nature may go awry, but don't try to force anything.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY...he or she will easily have to be taught not to take comments and actions by others as though they were directed specifically toward him or her; if they were general, and so prevent a martyr complex from developing. Then life becomes constructive and successful.

Chain saw safety tips

This time of year a lot of interesting homeowners are busy cutting firewood either for their own use or as a business venture.

A chain saw is one of the most potentially dangerous power tools on the market today. Individuals using lightweight chain saws for trimming trees, cutting firewood or clearing land should be aware of hazards associated with their use.

Each year some 23,000 persons require hospital emergency room treatment for chain saw injuries. Two of every three chain saw injuries to operators and bystanders are caused by inadvertent direct contact with the chain saw blade due to a failure to follow recommended operating procedures.

Chain saw accidents occur in many different ways. For instance, an operator may reach across or hold work too near the moving saw. Or he may lose control of the saw through loss of footing, sudden turns, climbing above ground level, shifting of the saw's weight while cutting at or above waist level, or through chain saw "kickback."

Kickbacks can occur when the saw grabs in the wood, pushing it backwards, or when something touches the top of the saw blade, causing the saw to jump or kick at the operator. Kickbacks may also occur when the chain is misfiled or loose, when a cut is started too slowly, or when the blade nose strikes another object.

In addition, if the bumper at the rear end of the blade is not against the wood being cut, the chain riding across the wood may jerk the saw forward and out of the operator's hands.

These tips for safe chain saw operation are offered:

Hold the saw securely with both hands and close to your body to provide maximum control. Keep your left elbow locked. Place one foot comfortably behind the other to provide a firm footing for maximum balance.

Cut with the lower part of the saw blade. This is the safest and least tiring position. If you cut with the top of the saw, the risk of kickback is greatly increased.

Studies show kickback is responsible for about one-third of all serious chain saw injuries each year. To avoid kickback, take these precautions:

- Keep a firm two-hand grip on the saw.

- Grip the top handle with the thumb under and around it.

- Never stand directly in back of a cut. Stand to the side of the cutting line. When limbing, stand on the opposite side of the tree trunk from the cut.

- Saw only with the bottom part of the chain, close to the bumper, never with the nose of the chain.

- Watch for obstructions, limbs or twigs that could inadvertently catch the upper chain or nose of the saw.

- Maintain high saw speed when entering or leaving a cut.

- Do not allow the bar to be pinched in a cut and do not twist the bar while cutting.

- Saw only at waist level and below.

- Keep the chain properly sharpened, tensioned, lubricated and tuned. A wide kerf, fine sawdust instead of chips, or a need to use force indicates sharpening is due.

- Choose a saw with a chain brake, nose guard, anti-kickback chain and guide bar, and other anti-kickback devices.

Protective equipment is important to safe operation of a chain saw. We suggest protecting the eyes, head, ears, feet and hands from injury by wearing protective eyewear, a bump cap, heavy shoes and light, non-slip gloves. Ear protectors are also a good investment for prolonged use of a chain saw.

As a minimum precaution, study and understand the owner's manual before making the first cut.

Next week we will discuss the subject of firewood and how to buy it and what kind to buy.

Howard County Pecan Show begins Dec. 4

The Howard County Pecan Show will be held December 4, at the Highland Shopping Mall. The show is an annual event sponsored by the County Urban Agriculture Committee to provide education in the selection of improved varieties and utilization of established and native pecan trees, and to promote the pecan industry in the county. Exhibits will include pecan variety divisions and a foods division.

The pecan variety divisions are subdivided into In-Shell, Shelling and Native categories.

Pecan Division Rules:
1. At least 40 pecans must be entered for judging.
2. All entries become property of the Howard County Pecan Show.
3. Entries must be delivered to the County Extension Office by 5:00 p.m., November 30, 1984.
4. Ribbons will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners in each category and a trophy will be awarded to the champion in the In-Shell, Shelling and Native Categories.

Food Division Of Pecan Rules:
The foods division will be subdivided in two classes: Adult — 20 years of age and over; and youth — 19 years of age and under. The food categories are: breads, pies, cakes, cookies, candies and other foods for each age group.

Entries:

1. Pecans must be used in the recipe for all categories.
2. There is no limit on the number of entries, but the recipe must accompany each entry.
3. Food entries should be brought to Highland Mall between 9:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m. on Tuesday, December 4.
4. Recipes must accompany food entry and will be displayed with each entry.

Recipes should be submitted on standard 8½x11-inch paper with name of contestant, age group, and food category listed in the upper right corner. All ingredients should be listed in order used. Complete instructions should be given including pan size (where applicable), oven temperature, cooling time and yield (number of servings or number of pieces). Recipes become property of the Howard County Pecan Show.

5. Display — The contestant will display the food prepared in a serving dish containing the amount of the recipe that is appropriate. Contestants are not required to exhibit the entry recipe. For example, if a recipe makes two loaves of bread, it may be simpler and more appropriate to display only one loaf.
6. To reduce cost to participants no public tasting will be held. During judging, a small portion of the dish will be tasted.

7. Foods will be displayed for viewing from 12 noon until 2:30 p.m.
8. Contestants should pick up food entries at 2:30 p.m.
9. Awards — Ribbons will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners in each food category of both youth and adult divisions. Trophies will be awarded to the champion adult and youth entries.

If you have any questions you can call the County Extension office at 267-8469.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic levels, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Dr. Donohue

Stretchmarks

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have a serious problem. I am 14 and have stretchmarks all over my thighs and chest. I've had them for two years and I can't wear shorts or anything. I hate going to gym class. Please tell me, will they ever go away? How do I go about getting rid of them? Please, anything you can tell me would be appreciated. I am not really heavy, but I have a habit of putting weight on and then taking it off.—J.B.O.

I have to be honest. There isn't a pill or a lotion or a cream that removes stretchmarks. One thing you can do to help is stop your yo-yo weight gain and loss. Get where you should be and try to stay there. Stretchmarks are really hairline scars, fault lines that form when skin is drawn past its elastic limits.

You do have the advantage of youth. Your skin is still elastic. When you get to your proper weight and stay there the redness of the scarring will fade and blend in with surrounding skin. The scars will become almost invisible in time, not overnight, but in a reasonably short time, like by next summer.

For G.G.—Please be patient about the aspirin answer. I can tell you that this is being investigated and as soon as there is general agreement, I'll let you know.

The question about how well it works in preventing clot formation in vessels and how much is needed is not yet known. Some say a single dose of 160 milligrams is enough. Others state that 325 mg. is the dose. I know you have read a lot about this, but most doctors I know are taking a cautious wait-and-see attitude about the matter until some good studies are completed.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have been having scary symptoms. When I have a meal, my heart starts racing. If I have a couple of drinks at night, I will be up half the night with my heart racing. My doctor has put me on Tenormin. I am 38. The medicine hasn't stopped the racing yet.—J.A.R.

It sounds like you have paroxysmal atrial tachycardia, a usually harmless but frightening thing. Eating, alcohol, carbonated beverages, nicotine and stress can cause attacks. The beta-blocker drug (Tenormin) usually works. Digitalis, quinidine and verapamil are also used. Other beta-blockers are available. If an attack lasts too long, the doctor has a way to terminate it. So long as there is no heart disease like angina present, the rapid heart does no harm.

Herpes may be killing the sexual revolution, but having it doesn't mean the end of your life. Or the end of your sex life. In his new booklet, Dr. Paul Donohue separates the truth from the fiction about this controversial health problem. For your copy of "Herpes: Don't Panic," send one dollar and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Donohue in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Dear Abby

DEAR READERS: This is from a best-selling book written by an 88-year-old man:

NINE WAYS TO MAKE YOUR WIFE HAPPY

1. When you get home from work, don't tell her about your problems at the office, let her talk about her problems. And if you're one of her problems, don't listen.

2. Surprise her with a sweater two sizes too small. She'll be flattered, she'll love you for it, and since she can't wear it, give it back to your secretary.

3. When you're with her watching a Bo Derek movie, say, "Come on, sweetheart, let's get out of here. I don't know what they see in her."

4. Instead of reading the newspaper at the kitchen table, try talking to your wife. You might learn a few things, like your kids have grown up and moved out.

5. Remember those important dates: her birthday, Valentine's Day, your anniversary, your first date together, your first trip together, and above all what happened the day you forgot one of those days you were supposed to remember.

6. Praise her in public. Let her hear you telling others how much you depend on her judgment and value her intelligence.

7. Call her from the office three or four times a day to chat. Take her to a long lunch once or twice a week. And never bring your work home with you. You might miss a promotion or lose your job, but your wife will be happy.
8. Take her on a second honeymoon. And this time it won't matter if she hides in the bathroom.

9. If all of the above have failed and you still want to make her happy, try leaving her.

(NOTE: If she's working, or if she's working and you aren't, Nos. 1 and 7 may not apply. If neither of you is working, you shouldn't be reading this book, you should be out looking for a job.)

The book is "Dr. Burns' Prescription for Happiness" by George Burns. It promises instant relief from aches and pains. After you've read it, give it to a friend who could use a few laughs. You won't have to look far.

(Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send your name and address clearly printed with a check or money order for $2.50 (this includes postage) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038.)

CHOLESTERHOLICS EAT LIKE THERE'S NO TOMORROW
Cholesterholics love rich, fatty foods. They can't seem to get through a day without lots of meat dripping in gravy. Cream always goes into their coffee. One sweet dessert leads to another. But the fact is, these foods can increase the level of cholesterol in the blood which can lead to heart disease.
But there's a way to help yourself. By cutting down on the fatty foods in your diet, you could reduce your blood cholesterol level and perhaps reduce your chance of heart disease.
So if you think you might be a cholesterholic, contact your American Heart Association for a diet good for life.

VIEWS SOUGHT — Kathleen Cooper, an economist for Security Pacific Bank, is shown in her Los Angeles office, and Michael Evans is shown in his Washington-based Evans Economics

Inc. consulting firm. Views of private economists are sought repeatedly and their names often appear in many newspapers.

Economists' views sought often

WASHINGTON (AP) — Listen, E.F. Hutton. When Donald Ratajczak, Kathleen Cooper, Michael Evans, Allen Sinai, Donald Straszheim, Thomas Thomson and Edward Yardeni speak, people pay attention.

Their views are sought repeatedly and their names appear frequently in newspapers around the country, often on the front page.

Sometimes their words land them in a bit of hot water — when they're at odds with their bosses' opinions or too outrageous.

The seven economists work for banks, securities firms, investment houses and consulting firms.

They're routinely questioned to help put the daily gyrations of the economy into perspective for a public increasingly more sophisticated about business and finance.

Hundreds of private economists give advice to their clients and firms. But a relatively small number of names pop up regularly in economics coverage.

"Economics is not a dismal science, it's poorly marketed by economists," says Yardeni, 34, chief economist at Prudential-Bache Securities Inc. in New York.

These analysts can get as many as 20 calls on a day the government releases a major economic report like unemployment or inflation, or when an unexpected change occurs in the economy, such as banks raising their prime lending rate. On a day like that, they might appear on TV's evening news.

In talking to reporters, they insist they keep their political leanings a secret — even in an election year.

Straszheim, 42, vice president for U.S. services at Wharton Economics in Philadelphia, takes pride in having been accused, based on his printed remarks, of being both an extreme liberal and an extreme conservative.

"We are analysts, we are not advocates. It's the kiss of death to allow personal political views to contaminate ... your analysis," he says.

Sinai, 45, chief economist at Shearson Lehman-American Express in New York, says, "I absolutely and unequivocally stay out of politics." Even discussing government policy can be touchy.

Thomson, 48, senior vice president and chief economist at Crocker National Bank in San Francisco, recalls dismissing former President Carter's anti-inflation program as a "marshmallow" — only to find out his bosses spoke favorably of it. "I'm much more cautious in policy statements than before," he says.

At least one found it can hurt be too quotable. "I made a mistake early in the game — I confused notoriety with fame," says Evans, 46, who heads his own consulting firm here.

"After a while I decided that it just wasn't working out right," he recalls. "I really wanted to be quoted as an economist and not a comedian."

But in general they say they like giving out their views — "It makes my day," says Evans.

Some feel they serve an educational purpose. "I like economics," says Ratajczak. "I enjoy conveying it."

Ms. Cooper, 39, first vice president and senior economist at Security Pacific National Bank in Los Angeles, says it forces her to think about "what it all means."

They have few complaints, perhaps out of politeness, about being misquoted.

"People charge they're misquoted more than it happens," contends Ratajczak, 42, director of the economic forecasting project at Georgia State University in Atlanta who carved out a niche for himself on inflation surveys.

Pre-industrial program OK'ed

Approval for funding for a pre-industrial program through Howard College was recently granted to the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp, Linda Woodley, office of college information, said.

John Gluch, superintendent of the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp, along with John Pavolich, outgoing industrial superintendent, Wayne Marlow, incoming industrial superintendent, and Gary Walls, supervisor of education, met with Howard College officials to write the proposal.

The program will be pre-industrial training accomodating approximately 150 students year year, Ms. Woodley said. Students will receive 30 hours of classroom instruction the first week, 15 hours the following four weeks, and four weeks of student/teacher class contact and experiments demonstrating and reinforcing concepts presented in lectures.

The course is designed to function under the direction of Howard College. Jim Davis is instructor.

Industrial assembly operations require workers with at least minimal skills and practice experience. Recognition of the need for workers already possessing basic work skills was acknowledged by the Electronics Cable Factory at the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp.

The pre-industrial program will give on-the-job training to familiarize new employees with the operation of hand and powered tools and machinery, assembly techniques, industrial safety and routine work flow along with mathematics and blueprint reading.

The vocation training course will consist of two weeks of instruction to familiarize students with both basic work skills and industrial safety, cable assembly, industrial mathematics and tolerances, rubber molding, blueprint reading, tools, use of adhesives, packaging, quality assurance, and to those students showing aptitude, high reliability soldering.

All students completing the course will earn credentials certifying a marketable job skills, Ms. Woodley said.

New owner buys several theaters

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Several moviehouses in Big Spring have a new owner this week.

The Ritz Theater Corp. of Midland, represented by Jim Wilmes, assumed the leases on the Ritz, the old R-70 and the Jet Drive-in from former owner Keith Pherigo of Coahoma. Pherigo was leasing all the Big Spring theaters from the "Ike" Robb estate.

Pherigo will continue to run the Cinema in College Park Shopping Center, he said.

Pherigo said he wanted to spend more time on another project, a new theater in Andrews that he is opening. "I was spreading myself too thin," he said.

The old R-70 has been renamed the Palacio, and will bring in first-run releases in Spanish, Wilmes said.

The Ritz and the Cinemas will continue to be first-run houses, both theater managers said.

The type of movie shown at the Ritz will not change, Wilmes said. Neither will ticket prices go up. He also said the Ritz would continue to have a bargain night.

The Ritz Theater Corp. owns four other theaters besides the three in Big Spring, Wilmes said.

Questioned about possible violations of the city code at the Ritz, Wilmes said he understood the building was in compliance with city health and building codes. "But whatever the theater is in violation of, we will have fixed," Wilmes said.

Wilmes said he planned to put new seats in and fix up the marquees of both the Ritz and the Palacio.

The Jet Drive-in will reopen in the spring, Wilmes said.

Both theater operators said they would have a good working relationship. "We're not trying to compete with each other," Pherigo said.

New psychologist joins BSSH staff

Dr. Charlsie Ladley began work recently at Big Spring State Hospital as coordinator of patient education, according to hospital officials.

Dr. Ladley came to Big Spring following a one-year assignment as educational consultant at the Region 18 education service center in Midland.

Working under the supervision of Dr. Ann Mann, director of rehabilitation services, Dr. Ladley will be responsible for in-patient education development. She will supervise inservice training for employees who work with patients.

She will also work with the Big Spring Independent School District and its employees who teach on the hospital grounds.

Dr. Ladley has worked as agency psychologist/consultant for Exceptional Persons Inc., in Northeast Iowa. There she designed and conducted educational programs for professionals in mental health, retardation and handicapping conditions.

Her training includes a bachelor's degree from California State University; a master's from Arizona State University, specializing in counseling; and a PhD from Michigan State University with specialization in administration and labor and industrial relations.

Energas honors local employees

Several Big Spring residents were honored Wednesday at a service awards dinner in Midland sponsored by the Energas Company.

Charles Vaughan, chairman and chief executive officer from Amarillo, presented the awards. He was joined by B.J. Hackler of Midland, manager of the Southern Division, and managers of the district offices from Big Spring, Midland and Odessa.

Joe E. Parker was honored for 25 years of service. Roy E. New and Shirley Ryals were honored for 20 years of service.

Kenneth Kesterson was honored for 15 years of service, and Barbara Caffey was honored for 10 years of service.

While in Chicago last month for a True Value Hardware Convention, Richard Atkins registered at the Crosby Supply booth for one of the door prizes. When he got back to Big Spring he was notified that he'd won it — a round trip to Orlando, Fla., to play golf for two days with Jack Nicholas. Magnanimous Richard gave the trip to his father Jasper.

Jasper just returned from the dream trip. Jack gave lessons and pointers and rode in the golf cart but didn't actually play because of recent knee surgery, but Jasper played with two of Jack's pros who work at the Nicholas-designed Grand Cypress Golf Course.

Robert and Sue Barnes Angel were in Big Spring for high school homecoming activities. They graduated in 1964 and Robert is now a widely known heart specialist in Waco. Sue was recognized as the "coming home" queen at halftime of the football game. The ironic twist to this story is that 30 years ago she was crowned homecoming queen by the president of the school board, Clyde Angel — who was many years later to become her father-in-law. Another interesting note is that she was the first BSSH homecoming queen.

Gail Little was spending a week in New York City with daughter Irene, who works for SSC&B Advertising Agency. Gail learned that Felicia Ford and her mother Gerry Dunbar would be in the Big City for Felicia to audition for Star Search. Gail took time to go to their hotel and show them how and where to go and get the most out of their visit to NY. I wish I'd had a knowledgeable person to help me when I first went to NY. By the way, Gail got to see Irene run in the New York marathon.

Recently there was a news article about a rope drawn elevator in a store somewhere in south Texas. Many Big Springers don't know that Big Spring Hardware also has a rope drawn elevator that has been in constant operation since the building was built and is still used regularly. It is an Otis elevator.

Western Container Co. has made some changes in their top leadership roles, according to Karen Craft, personnel director.

Bob Jackson has been promoted to executive vice president, a new position. Bob's position as the general manager has been filled by Gene McKinney, formerly from Jackson, Mississippi. Gene's old job as plant manager has been filled by Ted Coffman, from Bedford, N.H.

Western Container is a strong, steadily growing major industry located in the Industrial Park.

SA Central demolishes Steers 62-0

By BILLY NABOURS Sports Editor

SAN ANGELO — About the only thing the San Angelo Central Bobcats did wrong here Friday night was miss one extra point kick.

Not that it mattered, however, because the Bobcats were clicking on just about all other cylinders in a 62-0 rout of the Big Spring High School Steers in a District 4-5A contest that closed the season for each team.

Central finishes the year 8-2 overall and 5-2 in District for third place. The Steers finished with a 7 game losing streak, all coming in District play and a 2-8 mark for all games played.

Central scored 21 points in the opening period and 48 in the first half, led by Tim Reibe's three touchdown performance.

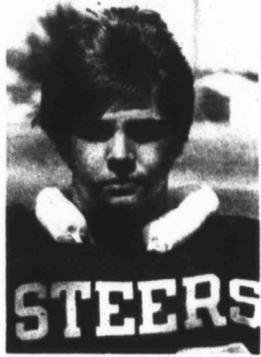

Reibe started things rolling with 8:05 in the first quarter with a 4-yard run. Richard McKnight kicked the extra point and Central had all the points they would really ever need. Central struck again via the airwaves following an interception by Brett Mullins at the Steers' 44. Central used only three plays to make the score 13-0 when quarterback Mario Martinez found Craig Hook for 13 yards and 6 points. McKnight's kick made the score 14-0 with 5:49 left in the first quarter.

Still in the first quarter the Bobcat's got their third score when Martinez found Willie Blakey for 34-yards and again McKnight made good on the extra point.

Central got the ball back with 1:23 left in the first quarter after the Big Spring punt and continued the drive into the second quarter where Reibe picked up a second touchdown on a 32-yard run with 11:51 left to play before halftime. McKnight was four for four and the score stood at 28-0.

After stalling out at their 23-yard line the Steers were forced to punt and the end result was a 50-yard return by Rodney Anthony and a 35-0 lead after the extra point kick at the 10:04 mark.

JERRY ANDERSON

Anthony came back 4 plays later on another punt by the Steers speciality team and this time went 40-yards to the endzone. The only bright spot was the extra point kick being blocked by Todd Coker of the Steers.

A lost fumble with 8 minutes in the second quarter was recovered by Central's Sam Beam at the 24-yard line of the Steers. That set the stage for Reibe's final touchdown of the game, a 17-yard scamper and again McKnight boosted the score to 48-0.

Central coach Jimmy Keeling flooded the field with reserves in the second half with the second string notching a touchdown in each of the remaining two quarters.

Tony Vargas did the honors in the third period with a 2-yard touchdown and Don Hall went 75-yards in the fourth quarter for the final points of the night.

Big Spring had two bright offensive moments that were tarnished by turnovers to put a blemish on a sincerely good effort. The Steers drove to the Bobcat 10 once only to be intercepted by Brian Ross and they had a 16-play drive stopped at Central's 25 when the football dropped on the ground.

The game marked the end of the Big Spring football careers for 20 seniors. They include Tommy Gartman, Jay Pirkle, Clark Dunnam, Shane Forrest, Terry Spears, Tommy Rodriguez, Billy Russell, Ernest Moreno, Blair Richardson, Mike Webb, Jerry Anderson, Jerry Myer, Doug Walker, Eugene Vanderbilt, Tony Fuentes, Mike Deperto, Clayton Franklin, Sam Baucham, Derek Logback and Greg Miller.

Coyotes stop 'Cats 44-40

Borden County takes Grady in scoring spree

By STEVE BELVIN Staff Writer

LENORAH — It was too different halves of football but when it was all over the Borden County Coyotes outpointed the Grady Wildcats 44-40 in South Zone 4-6 man competition.

The win forced a three-way tie for second place between the two teams and Ira. All have 2-2 district records.

A coin flip will be conducted Saturday to determine which team will advance to post season play along with District champion Highland.

The contest was two different games rolled into one. The first half belonged to Borden County who held a seemingly commanding 36-6 lead with 23 seconds left in the first half.

Michael Mitchell brought some hope to Grady supporters when he fielded a kickoff at the goal line and rambled 80 yards for the score. The touchdown cut the lead to 36-12 at the half.

Coach Duke Frisbee Coyotes played almost flawless ball in the first period, thanks mainly to the legs of junior runningback Chris Cooley.

Cooley, who finished the night with 354 yards in 35 carries, scored all five Borden County first half touchdowns. By intermission, he had 214 yards in 19 carries.

Meanwhile, the Coyote offense rolled, scoring five of seven possessions in the half. They got on the scoreboard forwarding a Grady fumble at the Coyote 22-yard line. Four plays later Cooley went in from 25-yards out. The conversion kick failed and Borden County lead 6-0.

Following Robin Hood's second fumble recovery at the Borden County 34, the Coyote offense went to work again.

Early in the second period, Cooley went around right end for a 48-yard score. The conversion kick by Kirby Williams put Borden County up 14-0 with 9:50 remaining in the half.

Following a stalled Grady drive at the Borden County 28, Cooley went back to his old tricks. This time he broke around the right end and dashed 52-yards for the score. The conversion kick was blocked.

Borden County reeled off its 4 scoring drives starting from its own 21. Several plays later it ended with fullback Dennis Buchanan hitting Cooley with an 11-yard scoring strike.

Williams conversion kick upped the lead to 28-0 with 2:22 left in the half.

Grady roared back with a 55 yard, six play scoring drive of its own. The big plays were passes of 19 and 29 yards to Charlie Perez and Terry Deatherage. Deatherage was Grady's leading receiver with 5 catches for 93 yards.

Dennis Sawyer scored from 4 yards out. The conversion kicked failed, and with 1:49 left, Borden County lead 28-6.

Borden County came right back with a 5 play, 45 yard scoring drive. Cooley got the honors from 8 yards out and with 23 seconds remaining, Williams' conversion kick put the score at 36-6.

That's what Mitchell added hopes to Grady's cause with his kickoff return. The second half was all Grady as the Wildcats simply kept the ball out of Cooley and Co. hands. So dominating was Grady that Borden County made only two first downs and had the ball for less than four minutes in the half.

Grady scored on their second possession when Fred Garza scored from the five. Perez' conversion kick cut the lead to 36-20 with 4:17 remaining in the third quarter.

Grady came back for more as they launched a nine-play, 60 yard scoring drive. The big plays were quarterback Luis Gonzales connecting with Perez and Garcia for 15 yard gains. Gonzales had a good night completing 12 of 20 passes for 180 yards.

Garza, who ended tonight with 93 yards and 23 carries, scored from the 2-yard line.

Perez' kick cut the deficit to 36-28 with 8:40 remaining in the game.

Grady had two possible scoring chances stopped in the second half. The first came in the third quarter when Garza was stopped on a fourth and goal situation from the Borden County two yard line. The second came when Garza was hit hard at the Borden County 1-yard line and the ball was recovered in the endzone by the Coyotes.

The Wildcats drew closer when Sawyer fielded a punt at the 40-yard line, broke two tackles and scampered down the sidelines for the score. Sawyer also had a productive night, catching four passes for 60 yards while gaining 90 yards on the ground.

A high snap on the conversion kick prevented the Wildcats from tying the game and a once big Borden County lead was now 36-34.

Cooley, who had been relatively quiet in the second half, made some noise on Borden County's next possession. He took the pitch from quarterback Mickey Burkett and scampered 55-yards for the score. Williams' conversion kick gave Borden County a 44-34 lead with 1:44 remaining.

Grady's final score came on a 15-yard halfback pass from Mitchell o Sawyer. The conversion kick failed, ending the game at 4-40.

Table with 3 columns: Grady, Statistics, Borden Co. Rows include First Downs, Rushing, Passing, Punting, Pen., Yards, Fumbles Lost, and Score by Quarters.

Borden County running back Chris Cooley breaks away from the defenders during Friday night's contest between Borden County and Grady. Grady defender Dean McClure (50) gives chase on the play. The Coyotes defeated Grady 44-40.

HC hoopsters drop tourney games

• HC Queens lose 54-53

ODESSA — The Howard College Hawk Queens suffered their first defeat of the young basketball season Friday night losing a 54-53 squeaker to Kilgore in the Odessa College Women's Classic.

The Queens led through most of the first half, but Kilgore narrowed the gap in the second half before pulling away. Queens coach Don Stevens said. The score was knotted at 38-38 with 4:41 left in the contest, he said.

The deciding points came on two Kilgore free throws as it took a three point lead late in the game. The Queens added a quick field goal to narrow the score to one point, but a last-minute shot by Joyce Boudreaux to win the game fell short.

The Queens defeated Barton College 80-65 in the first round of the tournament Thursday night. Kilgore fell to host Odessa 86-56 in their tourney opener.

The Queens, playing an error-filled game most of the night, had 31 turnovers for the night, Stevens said. Howard College will face Ranger Junior College at 5 p.m. today, Stevens said.

Joyce Boudreaux

Stevens said it was a game the Howard College team should have won, but let get away. The Queens held a slim 27-26 going in at halftime.

Most of the Queens mistakes during the night were mental, Stevens said. Howard College had the edge in rebounding 49-37, but shot a "horrible" 34 percent from the field, he said. The Queens made 9 of 20 attempts from the free throw for a 45 percent clip.

"It was one of those games that comes early in the season and we had ours tonight," Stevens said. "They put a little press on us. But we were just throwing the ball away. We played better when they put pressure on us."

Leading the way for Howard College were Boudreaux with 13 points and Vicki Wade with 15 points.

The Queens led by as much as five to seven points through the entire game, Stevens said. He said the team would come out and play a better game the second half, but it was not to be the case.

• Hawks fall to OC 88-79

MIDLAND — It was not a good night for Howard College basketball teams.

The Howard College Hawks fell to the Odessa College Wranglers 88-79 Friday night for their first loss of the year at the Midland College Chaparral Classic. The Hawk Queens earlier lost to Kilgore 54-53 in the Odessa College Women's Classic.

The Hawks, who upended the Weatherford College Coyotes 109-81 Thursday night, ran into a wall with the tough Wrangler team. The Wranglers defeated Barton College 64-60 Thursday night. The win gave the Odessa team a right at the Classic Championship at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The loss gave the HC Hawks a 3-1 season record. The Hawks will battle the Garden City, Kan., Busters at 5:30 p.m. today.

Wrangler forward Mark Benoit burned the Hawks' nets for 31 points to lead all scorers. The

The Hawks fell behind at halftime as the Wranglers took a quick 36-34 lead into the dressing room. The OC Wranglers came back out on the second half and stormed out to a nine point lead.

Forsan destroys Lions 67-0

ROBY — The Forsan Buffaloes pounded the Roby Lions into the earth Friday night as the Buffaloes scored 10 touchdowns, including four in the third quarter and blanked the Lions 67-0.

The Buffaloes, now 9-1 on the season and 4-1 in District 7-A South Zone, are headed to the playoffs next week. Roby fell to 1-9 for the season and 0-5 in district play for the year.

Three Forsan players had more than one touchdown apiece. Mitch Hays ran for three and had more than 100 yards just on his scoring carries, while Wayne Wright and Rodney McMillan both had a pair of TDs.

QB Todd East ran one score in on his own and combined with Lee Morris on a pass for another TD. Hays led the first half off with a boom as he scored two touchdowns in the first quarter, the first on an 11-yard run and the second on a 21-yard carry. The kick failed on the first TD, but East hit Gary Little with a pass for the two-point conversion on the second score, to give the Buffs a 14-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

In the second quarter, East took off on his own and ran 25 yards for his first TD of the night. He also kicked the PAT. He was followed by Wright who ran 12 yards for his first score; East's PAT kick again was good.

Hays scored his final TD of the night on a 73-yard run at the beginning of the third quarter to lead a four-TD offensive effort by the Buffs that literally destroyed the Lions' chances of comeback victory.

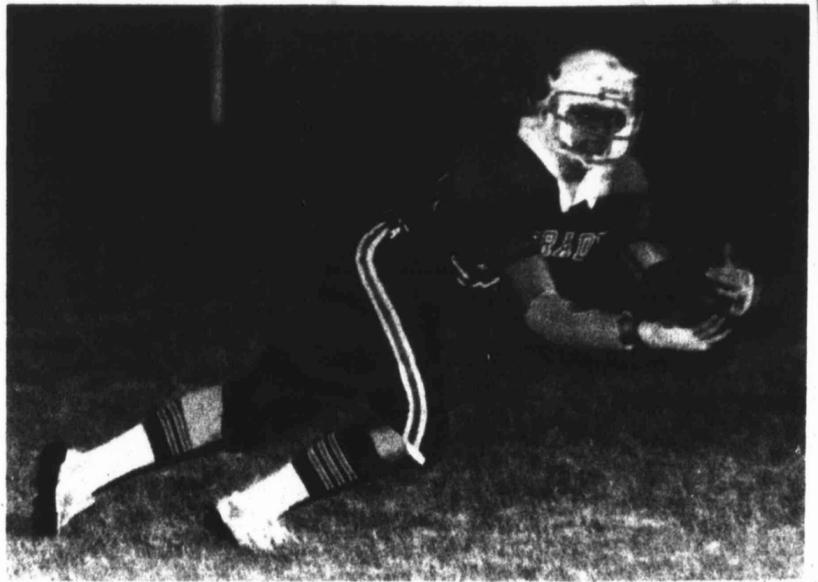

The kick on Hays' third quarter TD failed, but East threw a 29-yarder to Lee Morris for only passing TD of the night. East's kick was good.

McMillan then ran in for the score on a seven-yard scramble and Brant Nichols picked up the last score of the quarter on a one yard run. The kick on McMillan's TD failed, but Craig Creel's kick on the Nichols touchdown was good.

In the fourth quarter, the Buffs continued their domination, scoring twice. Wright ran 14 yards and McMillan three for their second TDs of the night. Creel's kick was good on the Wright score, but failed on McMillan's.

Badgers outscore Buffs 33-20

McCAMEY — The McCamey Badgers rallied from a 20-14 deficit and scored 19 points in the final period to defeat District 8-2A opponent 33-20 Friday night.

The Buffaloes ended District 8-2A play with a 0-5 record and McCamey had a 2-3 district record.

It was a see-saw battle from the start as the Badger jumped out to a 14-0 lead before a 20-point burst by the Buffaloes in the third quarter alone.

Buffaloes tailback John Zugg led the Stanton attack with 157 yards on 15 carries. Fullback Danny Koonce had 42 yards on 10 carries.

McCamey opened the scoring on a 12-yard run by tailback Rodney Terry. The score culminated a 60-yard scoring drive The PAT by Andy Zarate was good with 7:29 left in the first period. The second Badger's score came with 11:56 left in the second quarter. Quarterback Heath Stevens plunged in from three yards out and Zarate added the PAT.

The Badger's might have led at halftime, but the Buffaloes came storming back in the second half, scoring 20 unanswered points to take the lead.

Zugg scored the first touchdown on an 85-yard scamper on the first play from scrimmage in the third period. Bobby Almagar missed the PAT. Zugg later added the second touchdown on a 2-yard run. The drive covered 53 yards on 8 plays. The score was set up by a 17-yard pass play from QB Kevin Glaspie to fullback Koonce. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

Zugg added his third touchdown of the night when he rumbled in from three yards out to give the Buffaloes the lead. The two-point conversion pass play from Koonce to Glaspie was good.

But unfortunately, for the Buffaloes, the Badgers had planned more scoring before the night was over.

Steven began the Badger barrage with a 21-yard pass scoring strike to end James Kennedy. Zarate added the PAT as the Badgers regained the lead.

Ballinger rips Coahoma 42-7

BALLINGER — An injury-ridden Coahoma Bulldog team — missing five of its key players because of previous game injuries — failed to capitalize on Ballinger mistakes and suffered a 2-7 season-ending loss Friday night.

Coahoma's only score came in the fourth quarter with four seconds left in the game when David Yanez ran one yard for the touchdown. The PAT kick by David Shaw was good.

On defense, Coahoma tackle Shawn Justiss, defensive end Shaw and back John Swinney and Dale Hodnett were the outstanding Bulldogs.

Bearcat quarterback Eric Lugo threw twice to end Kirk Francis for scores in the first and third quarters, on long passes of 66 and 29 yards.

Other Bearcats who scored were halfback Brant Brevard on a one-yard run, fullback Eddie Galvan on a three-yard run, wingback Terry Strambler on a 15-yard dash and David Ueckert, who returned a interception from Coahoma's QB for 35 yards. Scott Flanagan successfully kicked all five PATs.

Ueckert, defensive tackle Steve Ocker and defensive lineman Flanagan also turned in good performances.

Lugo and Francis opened scoring with 9:59 in the first quarter; the duo would score again with 1:07 in the third quarter.

At 2:11 in the first quarter, Brevard ran in for the second score of the night. He was followed by Galvan, whose scoring run came with 1:57 in the second quarter, giving the Bearcats a halftime lead of 21-0.

The Cats had three touchdown drives in the third quarter. Strambler, Ueckert and the second Lugo-Francis combo pass scored.

Roscoe runs over 'Kats 54-20

ROSCOE — The Plowboys, undefeated in District 7-A South Zone play this year, buried the Garden City Bearkats, 54-20, Friday night as the 'Kats end their season this year.

Roscoe, who ends the regular season at 9-1 and 5-0 in district, has gained a berth in next weekend's playoffs. The Bearkats end up 3-6-1 and 2-3 in district play.

Garden City put forth a good offensive effort, scoring more points on the Plowboys than any other team in district this year, but 'Kat fullback Doug Hoelscher's 170 yards rushing and one TD just wasn't enough.

Teammates Abbie Madrid, a tailback, had 67 yards and a TD and quarterback Bryan Thompson had 43 yards rushing and one TD as well for the 'Kats 20 points.

The Plowboys controlled the football and the hashmarks in the first half, scoring six times, including a second-quarter safety when a Garden City player missed a bad snap on a punt.

Roscoe's Kevin Reed scored two touchdowns in the first quarter, on 19- and one-yard carries. Danny Herrera also scored a Roscoe first-quarter touchdown on a two-yard run. Nathan Richburg's kicks were good on all three tries.

In the second quarter following the Plowboys' score on the safety, QB Matt Denman had the first of five touchdowns as he ran 12 yards to the end zone. He hit paydirt again with :40 in the half as he tossed a 10-yard pass to split end Darren Kight to lead at halftime, 35-0. Both kicks in the second quarter were blocked by the Garden City defense.

Denman led off the third quarter points with a 22-yard scoring pass to Kight; Denman's kick was good. Garden City tailback Madrid then had a three yard TD, but Thompson's kick was blocked.

Denman broke away from the field on a 56-yard run to score again, but his kick was blocked.

Bearkat Hoelscher then got his only score of the night on a three-yard run with 3:36 in the third quarter.

Lorraine drubs Mustangs 33-6

LORLAINE — Lorraine showed the Bulldogs didn't eat quiche Friday night as they stormed over the Sands Mustangs, 33-6, in District 7-A South Zone play.

The Bulldogs end the season 5-5 and 3-2 in district play. The Mustangs' season record fell to 4-6 and 2-3 in district.

The game could have been titled "The Andrea Rose Show" as the Lorraine Bulldog ran in three of the 'Dogs five scores and passed to Freddy Benites for the fourth to lead Lorraine past a stunned Sands team.

Rose scored first on a 20-yard run in the first quarter, but the kick failed. Rose's effort was followed by Joe Espinoza's 10-yard rushing score. Espinoza threw to Dell Halton for the two-point conversion and the Bulldogs were in business, 14-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Rose scored again in the second quarter on a 65-yard breakaway run, scoring the only other points before the half. The PAT kick failed.

He scored again in the third quarter on a one-yard carry; John McAdams' kick was successful this time.

Rose went to the air in the fourth quarter on pass to Benites for the Bulldogs' final score. The kick failed. Sands scored, but it was more than a little too late when Mustang David Ybarra got the team's only touchdown late in the fourth quarter on a one-yard run. The two-point conversion failed, as did the team's rally.

O'Donnell romps Coogs 42-8

O'DONNELL — The Eagles' Jay Edwards let loose Friday night for 107 yards on 20 carries and three scores in O'Donnell's 42-8 sweep of the Klondike Cougars in the final game of the season for Klondike in District 7-A South Zone play.

Edwards had two rushing TDs in the second quarter after a scoreless first half to allow the Eagles to go into the second half with a 14-0 lead. Edwards scored on carries of six and four yards, respectively. David Olvera made both kicks.

O'Donnell came back after halftime to score again. This time Bobby Sanchez ran the football nine yards; Olvera's kick was good again. Eagle quarterback Kyle Summers then threw 32 yards to Edwards for the running back's third score of the night. Sanchez ran in for the two-point conversion.

Klondike led off the fourth quarter with their only score of the night, as Cougar QB Scott Runge tossed a 46-yard pass to split end Leo Amador for the six points. Amador, who was the leading receiver for the Cougars with two catches for 62 yards, ran in for the extra two points.

The late score didn't ruffle the Eagles, as Summers returned to run four yards this time for another score. The PAT run failed, but O'Donnell's Ken Burris put the last score on the board when he returned an interception 27 yards for the final touchdown of the night. Olvera's last kick was good.

Edwards, with 20 carries for 107 yards, paced the Eagles' rushing.

C-City crushes Cranes 34-7

COLORADO CITY — The Colorado City Wolves earned a Class 3A playoff berth Friday night defeating the Crane Golden Cranes 34-7.

The Wolves led by 1,000 yard rusher Sammy Rivera pounced on the Cranes in the second half after being down 7-0 at halftime.

The Wolves will meet 8-3A representative Gatesville in San Angelo Saturday.

The Cranes score on their first possession on a 21-yard run by running back Gerald Mitchell early in the first quarter. The PAT by Kenny Walker was good.

The Wolves fireworks did not begin until after halftime. All-West Texas quarterback Doug Chitsey, who has been plagued with a shoulder injury for three weeks, hit end Chrs Aguilon, with a 52-yard strike with 10:20 left in the third quarter. The PAT by Chitsey failed.

Rivera and Chitsey, both bothered by late-season injuries, showed their early season form against the Cranes. Chitsey threw 3 touchdown passes and rushed 11 times for 77 yards. Rivera, who became a 1,000 yard rusher as a junior, had 17 carries for 121 yards and two touchdowns.

Rivera scored two of the Wolves last three TDs on runs of 12 yards and 1 yard. Chitsey found receivers Armando Rivera for a 31-yard strike and Don Randle with a 34-yard scoring pass. The final score came when neman Freddy Pineda fell on loose fumble in the endzone to close out the scoring.

Randle led all receiver with 4 catches for 98 yards.

TCU, Horns favored in SWC

By The Associated Press Third-ranked Texas and No. 15-rated Texas Christian were heavily favored Saturday to emerge victorious from Southwest Conference scrapes, clearing the way for their showdown for the Cotton Bowl in two weeks.

Texas, unbeaten but once tied, was a 14-point pick at home over the University of Houston although the Longhorns have had to produce weekly "Mandrake the Magician" escapes.

The Horned Frogs, beaten only by Southern Methodist and the NCAA's Division I most improved team, were 10-point choices over Texas Tech in Fort Worth. Texas has a 4-0 SWC ledger while TCU is 4-1. All other league teams have two losses and no team has ever made it to the Cotton Bowl with that many SWC setbacks.

In other games, Baylor celebrates homecoming in Waco by hosting the bowl-minded Arkansas Razorbacks and SMU, which has post-season hopes of its own, will play the winless Rice Owls in Houston.

Odds-makers made Arkansas a five-point favorite over the Bears and SMU was rated a 22-point choice over the Owls, who've lost 23 consecutive SWC contests.

The Longhorns have been winning on defense and Jeff Ward's field goal kicking but Burnt Orange partisans were heartened by the return of running back Edwin Simmons to practice.

Simmons hasn't played since last year but the sputtering Longhorn running game needs him, particularly if Kevin Nelson's ankle doesn't heal.

Texas has gone down to the wire to beat Arkansas, SMU and Texas Tech after tying Oklahoma on a last-second field goal.

The TCU-Tech series has been bizarre. Tech has won the last two games played in Amon Carter Stadium. The last three played in Lubbock ended in ties.

TCU has a slender 13-18-3 all-time lead.

4-5A Roundup

AHS takes Cooper

ABILENE — Senior Abilene tailback Guy Sims rushed 115 yards and scored two touchdowns as the Abilene High School defense shut down Cooper's dangerous passing game and blanked the Cooper Cougars 23-0.

The win allows the AHS Eagles to finish the year at 6-4 and 4-3 in district. Cooper falls to 5-5 and 3-4.

The Eagle defense pressured Cooper quarterback Doug Hadley throughout the night, picking off three of the Cougar's passes. Hadley completed 7 of 28 passes for 84 yards and Cooper was held to only nine yards rushing.

Mojo romps OHS

ODESSA — The Permian Panthers continued their roll onto the playoffs this weekend as they kept their record clean at 10-0 and 5-0 after roughing up the Odessa High Bronchos, 34-7, in the final regular season game.

Lee nips MHS 14-6

MIDLAND — The Lee Rebels squeaked by the Midland Bulldogs in a 14-6 win that will send Lee into the playoffs against Plainview with a victory when the teams meet at 8 p.m. Friday in Jones Stadium at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

Lee's Walter Jones scored had 130 yards on 15 carries and a fourth-quarter insurance TD to lead the game's rushers. Rebel Tyrone Thurman scored the other Lee TD, and Craig Kamradt's kicks were both good. Bulldog Darren Thorpe scored his first touchdown of the season in Midland's loss Friday on a 22-yard pass from Matt Marcum for the 'Dogs only score.

Top-rated Washington to make Rose Bowl bid

By The Associated Press
Everything comes up roses Saturday — but for whom? The No. 1-ranked Washington Huskies, 9-0 for the first time in the school's 95-year football history and 5-0 in the Pac-10 Conference, visit No. 14 Southern California (7-1, 6-0), with the winner representing the conference in the Rose Bowl. A tie prolongs the race another week and throws it open to many possibilities, most of which favor Washington.

"It's always a great game when everything is on the line, and I don't think we've ever played one that has so much on the line," said Washington Coach Don James, whose Huskies have been No. 1 for four weeks, longer than any team this season. "That's part of the excitement of being in this business, and that's probably why guys stay in this business so long."

Two other games also pair members of The Associated Press Top Twenty — No. 11 Florida State at fifth-ranked South Carolina and eighth-ranked Georgia vs. No. 10 Florida at Jacksonville.

Meanwhile, runner-up Nebraska visits Kansas, third-ranked Texas entertains Houston and No. 4 Brigham Young is home against San Diego State.

The rest of the Top Ten finds Maryland at No. 6 Miami, Missouri at No. 7 Oklahoma State and No. 9 Oklahoma at Colorado.

In the Second Ten, 12th-ranked LSU meets Alabama at Birmingham, No. 13 Ohio State is at Northwestern, Texas Tech at No. 15 Texas Christian, Army at No. 16 Boston College, No. 17 Southern Methodist at Rice, Michigan State at No. 18 Iowa, No. 19 West Virginia plays Rutgers at East Rutherford, N.J., and Cincinnati is at No. 20 Auburn.

Although Washington has withstood the pressure of being No. 1 for a month now, James said he doesn't think it will have any effect on the Pac-10 showdown.

"I just can't believe Southern Cal is going to be worried about where they're ranked this week, and we're sure not going to be worried about where we're ranked," he said. "We've stayed in the race the last seven years — finishing either first or second — so we expected to be in it, but I don't know that any of us expected to be 9-0 at this point."

And hardly anyone expected Southern Cal to be 7-1, especially after last year's 4-6-1 disaster.

"USC is the most physical team we will have played," James said.

"They'll run that I-formation offense and try to knock it down your throat. USC has the biggest offensive line in college football, and maybe the best. We'll go in knowing we'll have to defend the run, but I'm sure Coach (Ted) Tollner will mix it up."

For his part, Tollner said that "it's an exciting feeling to be in contention for the Rose Bowl at this late stage. Now, the key is to make the most of the opportunity. Washington is the No. 1 team in the country, and we can't be intimidated by that."

"Our styles on both sides of the ball are similar, but they've been a much more dominant team than we have so far. The strength of both teams is defense. Washington is very solid and we think we're solid. I'm sure everyone is predicting a low-scoring game, but Washington creates a lot of scoring situations for its offense by aggressive defensive play."

"Offensively, the statistics are close. We're both physical, run similar plays, like to come at you and show a willingness to throw. Their offense is much more effective than people think."

The Big Ten berth in the Rose Bowl also could be decided if Iowa (5-1-1) beats Michigan State and Ohio State and Purdue (5-2) both lose. That's unlikely since Ohio State plays ninth-place Northwestern.

The Big Eight, whose champion goes to the Orange Bowl, is a three-way race among Nebraska (5-0), Oklahoma and Oklahoma State (each 3-1), who rank first, second and fourth nationally in total defense.

"It's like comparing the Atlantic with the Pacific — you're going to get drowned any way you go," said Kansas State Coach Jim Dickey.

Nebraska has won 26 conference games in a row and is heavily favored over Kansas. But the Jayhawks are the only team to beat Oklahoma — Nebraska meets Oklahoma next week — and Coach Tom Osborne said that "no one is thinking about Oklahoma this week, not the way Kansas has been improving. We can clinch a tie for the Big Eight championship with a win at Kansas and that is what we are concentrating on, nothing else."

Texas leads its series with Houston 6-2-2, but the Longhorns have had trouble at home with a slim 3-2-1 edge. However, since the start of the 1983 season Texas is an overwhelming 82-6-1 at Austin.

Coach Fred Akers said that

Houston "is a talented team and they are very dangerous because of their great physical ability. They can play with anyone and played us as tough or tougher as anybody we faced last year."

Brigham Young was the first team to clinch a bowl berth, earning its seventh consecutive trip to the Holiday Bowl last week. San Diego State Coach Doug Scovil said the Cougars "don't appear to have any weaknesses. They are very balanced in every area. They're a fine football team that deserves their rating. Everything they do is pretty straight-forward. They're so good they don't have to depend on anything complicated."

Having become just the fourth team in South Carolina's 91-year football history to win eight games, the Gamecocks go for a record ninth victory against Florida State. "South Carolina is now the biggest game on our schedule," says Florida State's Bobby Bowden. "If we win, it could mean a New Year's Day bowl game, or at least a chance at one. If they win, a possible national championship is in store for them."

Carolina's Joe Morrison called the Seminoles "one of the most explosive football teams in the country. They have some mighty talented skill people, with a fine offensive line to get them started. They've given up some points this year, but all you have to do is look at their score against Miami (38-3) and know they can put the halt on a good offensive unit. They will be the best football team we have faced to date."

Georgia is in command for the Sugar Bowl, but Florida, which has a six-game winning streak, is a major stumbling block, especially after last week's 24-3 drubbing of Auburn.

Georgia Coach Vince Dooley said the Gators "have all the ingredients of a championship team. They've got the second-biggest offensive line in America and, as a group, maybe three of the best running backs. It's quite obvious they are using their talent better than ever. It's probably the best Florida team we've ever seen."

With the exception of 1943, these teams have played every year since 1930, with Georgia enjoying a 39-20-2 advantage and having won six in a row. Coach Galen Hall promises Florida "will be ready to play" despite reports the Southeastern Conference will soon declare the Gators ineligible for the championship.

Holmes retains title with TKO

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Larry Holmes, showing signs of age and looking rusty, kept the International Boxing Federation heavyweight title and at the same time gained respect for inexperienced James "Bonecrusher" Smith.

Before Friday night's fight, Holmes had said, "I don't need to be as sharp against this guy."

The 35-year-old champion was anything but sharp, but he had enough experience and weapons to overcome Smith's punching power and a bad cut over his left eye to keep the crown when the ringside physician ruled that a cut over Smith's left eye was too bad for him to continue. The fight was stopped at 2:10 of the 12th round.

"I told everybody that this guy was tough, that he punches hard," said Holmes, who was hurt by a punch to the head in the fifth round and another right to the head in the eighth.

"There were a lot of critics there tonight, saying this guy ain't nothing," Holmes said. "He's a puncher. Every fighter is a fighter and I worked hard for Bonecrusher."

Holmes appeared a little heavy around the middle and his timing was off in what was his first fight since he knocked out Marvin Frazier in the first round of his 17th and last defense of the World Boxing Council title Nov. 25, 1983.

Holmes relinquished that title in a dispute with promoter Don King, who promoted Friday night's fight before a sellout crowd of 5,000 in an outdoor arena at the Riviera Hotel and Casino.

Smith, fighting for only the 16th time as a pro, said, "I wanted to keep on fighting. I'm not a crybaby. I'm a fighter."

But Smith, who had trouble talking because of a punch to his throat, did complain that Holmes thumbed him throughout the fight.
