BABY FAE, the infant who received a baboon's heart. Associated Press photo

Baby Fae dies

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — Baby Fae, who made medical history and generated ethical questions as she fought for life for three weeks with the heart of a baboon beating in her tiny chest, died after her kidneys began to fail. She was barely a month old.

The 5-pound infant, outlived by more than two weeks any of the four adults whose hearts had been replaced with animal hearts. She had lived longer with the transplanted heart than she had with her own. "Baby Fae died at 9 p.m.," Ed Wines, vice president for public relations and development for Loma Linda University Medical Center, said Thursday night, reading from a doctors' statement. Her parents, who kept the identity of their daughter secret throughout the three weeks of intense publicity that surrounded the surgery and forced them into counseling, were consoled by doctors and clergy after their daughter died, Wines said. Baby Fae had been in serious but stable condition Thursday, but her kidney function deteriorated and around 7 p.m. she required dialysis, Wines said. Doctors had been saying Baby Fae was recovering from an attempt by her body to reject the baboon heart she received on Oct. 26. She was on a respirator and had been receiving immunosuppressant drugs, including one that affects kidney function, but Wines did not say what caused her kidney problems. "Although her immunological studies had not changed significantly, her heart became unstable and failed to respond to intensive measures including closed cardiac massage," Wines said. "Her parents were with her as

Safeway strike growing

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

Union members of three Safeway Stores in East Texas joined the picket lines today in the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen Local No. 540 strike against the Dallas division of Safeway Stores Inc.

Joining the strike — which includes stores in Big Spring, Colorado City, Snyder and Sweetwater — were union members at two stores in Longview and one in Jacksonville, according to Safeway public relations representative Vicki Flannery of Dallas.

Safeway has been asking employees in stores participating in the strike to accept a three-year wage freeze and, in some cases, as much as $1.69-an-hour cut in wages with the freeze.

Members of the union, also known as the United Food and Commercial Workers Local No. 540, have said they will accept a one-year freeze on wages and two 55-cent-an-hour raises the following two years, the same contract granted to employees at Safeway stores in the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

The meat cutters average wage starts at $13.34 an hour, according to Safeway officials.

In Big Spring, employees are being asked to accept a three-year freeze. In Colorado City and Sweetwater, employees are being asked to take a $1.69-an-hour cut and a three-year freeze and to give up five holidays and time-and-a-half on Sundays.

"Meat cutters make anywhere from $11.35 to $14.50 an hour," Ms. Flannery said. "Our top people are making $30,000 a year and some $3,800 in benefits."

The $30,000 salary doesn't include paid vacations, premium pay, pension contributions, Social Security contributions, overtime and medical benefits that Safeway provides its cutters, she said. "They add up to a very fair compensation package," she said.

Safeway has brought in management and temporary non-union workers to cut meat during the strike.

Justice department films Big Spring's prison camp

By SCOTT FITZGERALD Staff Writer

Big Spring and its Federal Prison camp are being captured on videotape.

"The value of a site visit is undeniable, but with videotape — you can extend it a lot more," said Jerome Bird of Capitol Communication Systems Inc., of Crofton, Md.

Bird and a production crew of four people arrived in Big Spring Thursday afternoon to begin filming a video documentary for the Federal Prison System.

Also accompanying the crew was James Jones, site acquisition coordinator for the U.S. Dept. of Justice.

The documentary will be used by the Federal Prison System in its efforts to acquire new prison sites across the nation. "The federal bureau has needs to site new facilities, and residents in those prospective communities have concerns. They want to know how a prison affects local property values or the economy," Jones said.

JEROME BIRD directed prison videotape.

"Now we can give first-hand information and an impression of what has been the affect," he added.

The film crew was scheduled to depart Big Spring sometime this afternoon. Local figures filmed for interviews included Don Davis, city manager; Johnnie Lou Avery, civic leader and businesswoman; Sue Brown, local realtor; Rick Turner, chief of police; Leroy Tillery, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce; Hal Boyd, Airpark manager; and the Rev. Mike Mullins, pastor of the New Life Covenant Chapel.

About her interview, Mrs. Avery said: "The nicest thing has been the cooperative spirit... it would be hard for me to find any negatives."

She referred to prisoners participating in cleanup projects and soccer activities the prison holds for the local community as some of the cooperative spirit that exists.

"Safety, security and property value are normal concerns for residents of communities where federal prisons are located," Jones said about community-prison relations in Big Spring. He said the documentary would "hopefully alleviate fears" in other cities.

Judges, politics don't mix, survey shows

Harte-Hanks News Service Most Texans favor changing the method by which the state's judges are chosen, according to a Texas Poll released today. Texans currently elect judges at the same times as other state officials. Judicial candidates generally qualify for the November elections as most other candidates do: by adopting a party label and campaigning to be a party's nominee. That's easier than trying to get the signatures to run as an independent.

But the Texas Poll found that the state's residents favor changing those practices.

Fifty-three percent of the respondents would like to see judicial candidates run without party labels, while 29 percent favor the status quo.

Among the alternatives to direct election of judges is the so-called "judicial retention plan" or "Missouri plan," under which voters don't choose judges, but instead exercise veto power over them. Under the plan, the governor appoints judges, who then campaign for re-election at specified times. But instead of choosing between candidates for the judgeship, voters decide whether a judge should be retained; if not, the old judge is out, and the governor appoints a replacement.

The Texas Poll asked respondents, "In some states judges are appointed by the governor or the legislature. Then, every few years each judge must face a special kind of election in which voters decide to keep the judge or have him leave office. Would you support or oppose such a system in Texas?"

Presented with this question, the poll's respondents favored it by a margin of 57 percent to 23 percent. See Poll page 2-A

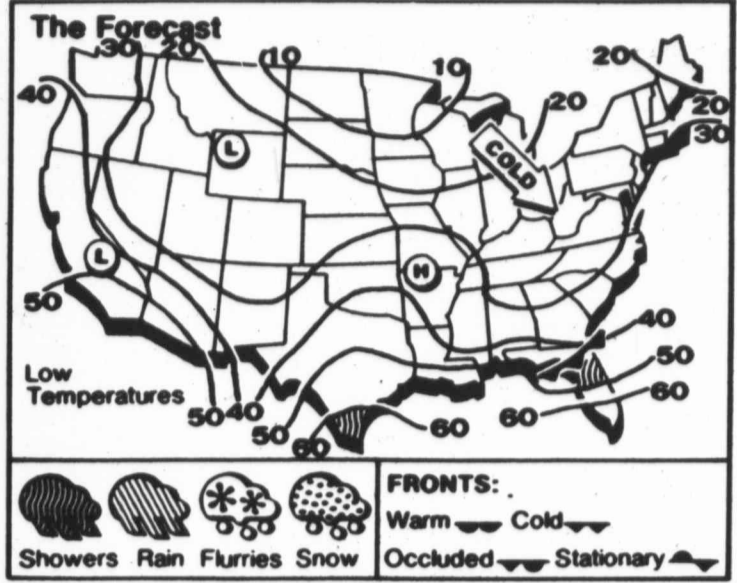

Independents, Republicans favor judge elections without party labels

Q. In Texas, state and county judges are elected as Democrats and Republicans like candidates for governor or the Legislature. Do you support this method of electing judges, or would you favor a different system in which candidates run without party labels like candidates for mayor or school board?

Source: Fall Texas Poll 1984. Note: Maximum sampling error for sub-groups is ±4%. Percentages are of those voting. Republican, 38% respondents; Independent, 32% respondents; Democrat, 13% respondents. Among Republicans, 57% favor no party labels, 43% favor party labels. Among Independents, 16% favor no party labels, 84% favor party labels. Among Democrats, 16% favor no party labels, 84% favor party labels.

WEST TEXAS: Widely scattered to isolated showers tonight and Saturday. Warmer tonight. Lows tonight 35 mountains to 37 Panhandle to 52 south. Highs Saturday 56 Panhandle to 82 Big Bend.

Cold, rain rack state

By The Associated Press

Scattered thunderstorms were reported across Texas today as a cold front moved slowly southward over the state.

Skies were mostly cloudy except for the Panhandle and South Plains and the Rio Grande Valley, where skies were clear.

Winds were north to northeast behind the front, although for southerly breezes that developed over the Panhandle. Ahead of the front, winds were light and variable. Most wind speeds statewide were only 5 to 10 mph.

Overnight, temperatures were mostly in the 40s and 50s. At 5 a.m., the readings ranged from 33 at Amarillo to 68 at Victoria.

The National Weather Service said temperatures should be cooler over the state today under partly cloudy skies. Scattered thunderstorms were forecast for Southeast Texas.

Davis Mountains offer a refreshing oasis to West Texas

FORT DAVIS (AP) — Driving Interstate 20 toward Pecos, the Davis Mountains appear on the distant southern horizon like a mirage.

Unlike the harsh extremes of the Rocky Mountains, the Davis range has been a gentle oasis for West Texas travelers since long before the state was named.

The mountains are a product of volcanic activity about 65 million years ago. There are rolling foothills and intriguing rocky peaks in the most extensive range of mountains in Texas.

Janice Moore, 43, has been living in Fort Davis for about 1 1/2 years.

"This has always been my favorite place," she said.

Mrs. Moore moved from Odessa with her husband, Joe, and opened a gift shop, service station and four guest cottages with plans for a "good" fast-food restaurant.

"Winter is not very long, it's not a real serious winter," Mrs. Moore said. "In the spring everything flowers. Summers have a few days in the 90s, not anything uncomfortable. The fall is beautiful."

Visitors to the area can find information about the past at Fort Davis National Historic Site.

By 1891, the area was settled by ranchers and farmers, said John Sutton, superintendent of rangers at the site. "By that time most of the Indians had been coerced into living on reservations," he said.

The fort, which opened in 1854, was closed in 1891 and did not come under National Park Service direction until 1963.

When the fort was established, the area through the mountains was a travel stop between San Antonio and El Paso and on the route south from Fort Smith in Arkansas.

"The fort was established as a police station. The army patrolled the area to make it safe from Indians. The travelers came through, because of the availability of water," Sutton said.

The discovery of gold in California popularized the mountain course since it provided year-round opportunity for travel, Sutton said. One of the primary East-West mail routes also came through Fort Davis.

When the Civil War began, troops from Fort Davis were pulled eastward — all the forts in West Texas were abandoned. Confederate troops trying to invade New Mexico used the fort as a base to support their attempts at a takeover.

Parts of the fort have been restored, Sutton said. A visit to the site during the summer can include Living History Programs with volunteers in period garb.

While Fort Davis emphasizes the past, McDonald Observatory atop Mount Locke speaks of the future.

The observatory was founded fifty years ago through W.J. Parker's will, said Mary Dutchover, 36, supervisor for the visitor center.

The observatory is part of the University of Texas in Austin and is involved in numerous research projects. The large telescope is open to the public one night every month, Ms. Dutchover said. Reservations need to be made six months in advance for the viewing.

There are five telescopes on top of Mount Locke, including a 107-inch, 82-inch, and 36-inch. The 107-inch telescope was the third largest in the world when completed in 1969.

McDonald's latest project is a 300-inch telescope, Ms. Dutchover said. It will be the largest in the world when completed.

During the summer, the observatory conducts "star parties" in Fort Davis State Park, 13 miles from McDonald, with an 8-inch celestron telescope and slide shows.

Driving down from the observatory to Fort Davis State Park the countryside is varied with emory and gray oak and one-seed juniper. During wet years, the hillsides are filled with wildflowers.

valued at $200 each.

Robert King of Arthron, Calif., told police he was hit in the face with a blunt object at about 9 a.m. at Rip Griffin's Truck Stop. King was taken to the Veterans Administration Hospital for treatment for cuts on his face, nose and lips.

In other police reports:

Police arrested William Berry, 33, for assault at 9:39 a.m. at Rip Griffin's.

Local guilty of possession

A Big Spring man pleaded guilty in 118th District Court Thursday to possession of more than five but less than 50 pounds of marijuana.

The court then enacted a notice of seizure and intended forfeiture against Federico Martinez, 26, of Gail Route. Martinez had to forfeit his pickup to the county besides receiving a six-year probation charge for possession of marijuana and paying court costs of $101.

District Attorney Rick Hamby said that the seizure and intended forfeiture statute is part of the Texas Controlled Substance Act that is altered periodically.

Hamby said this was the second or third time this year that the court has enacted the law. The vehicle will be utilized by the Big Spring Police Department or sold by the county to recoup undercover operation expenses, Hamby said.

Big Spring Police transferred William Berry, 33, of Meridian, Miss. to Howard County jail Thursday on suspicion of assault.

Berry was released on $500 bond set by Judge Melvin Darratt.

A Howard College dormitory student was arrested on suspicion of issuing a bad check.

Mark Harmon, 19, was released on $500 bond set by Judge Lewis Hefflin.

Police transferred Curtis Roy McGriff, also known as Curtis Roy Lockhart according to sheriff's reports, to county jail on a bondsmen off bond warrant.

Judge Darratt set the suspect's new bond at $1,000.

Mitchell County Sheriff's deputies arrested Randall Lee Anderson, 29, of Westbrook on a Howard County peace bond warrant.

He was later released on $1,000 bond.

Carl Warren Hall, 49, of Lorraine was arrested on two counts of issuing bad checks.

He was released on bonds totaling $700.

Rene Joseph Fernandez, 20, 1107 Sycamore was released from custody of county jail after serving two days of a three day sentence in jail. He was given credit for one day by the sheriff's department.

Baby Fae received the heart at the Seventh-Day Adventist university in an operation pioneered by Dr. Leonard Bailey.

Although Bailey had refused to predict how long Baby Fae might live, he said in an interview published today by the American Medical Association that he believed Baby Fae might be able to leave the hospital in three months and never need a human heart.

Democrats, who as the majority party traditionally benefit more from straight-ticket voters in Texas, were less likely to favor making judicial candidates run without party labels. Among Democrats, 44 percent favored no party labels, while 37 percent favored the present system; among Republicans 54 percent favored the change, while 30 percent opposed it.

cidents have reported in the week-long strike by either side, according to both union leaders and Safeway officials.

Although the strike has been free of violence, it has not been free of accusations. Union leaders say Safeway has violated part of the Taft-Hartley Act of 1947.

Local No. 540 representative Jackie Byrne, in town earlier this week to meet with striking union members, said the store had asked employees to sign "yellow-dog" contracts and had used scare tactics trying to convince union members not to strike.

Safeway officials denied the claims by the union. "They are absolutely untrue," Ms. Flannery said. "We have been engaged in good-faith bargaining with the union for several months. We are trying to keep the store in Big Spring competitive."

According to Byrne and some local union members, employees were asked to sign letters saying, in effect, that they understood that if they joined the strike or honored picket lines, they could lose their jobs.

Group gets funds for van

Pat Lawliss of West Texas Opportunities Inc. in Big Spring has reason to be happy.

The Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission in the words of planning director Jerry Tschauer "recommended favorable comment to funding of Section 18 Rural Transportation Program."

"I'm glad that makes me so happy," said Ms. Lawliss who was a major proponent of the program that includes a proposal for funding of a public transportation van that would serve Howard County.

The program had been turned down twice before by the planning commission — the last time being in August.

Tschauer said the program would now be submitted before the Texas State Highways and Public Mass Transportation funding agency for final approval.

Besides the 15-passenger van for Howard County, the plan also contains proposal for a 15-passenger van to serve Lamesa.

"Our goals for the vans are to improve access for the handicapped and elderly to urban centers for jobs, medical care, shopping and appointments to local helping agencies," Ms. Lawliss said earlier about use of the vans.

Library to sponsor art show

Works by Peter Hurd will be displayed at the Howard County Library from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Judith Gray, librarian, said.

Hurd painted the large mural which decorates the entrance to the library. The touring art show is sponsored by the Friends of the Library and will be brought to Big Spring by the Front Porch Gallery in Ruidoso, N.M.

The collection will feature a variety of originals and prints by the late western artist who for many years lived in New Mexico.

A private, invitational fundraising event sponsored by the Friends of the Library is scheduled for 7 p.m. Friday. The library will close at noon Friday to prepare for the event. More than 500 invitations have been sent out for the showing,

Mrs. Gray said.

"Anyone interested in art or who collects prints should 'give us a call,'" Mrs. Gray said, if they would like to attend the private showing Friday night.

All library patrons are invited to view the show Saturday, Mrs. Gray said.

The library has several copies of "Peter Hurd: The Lithographs," which will be sold for $15 as part of the fund-raising effort. The book, printed in black and white, features lithographs done by Peter Hurd in the 1930s. Many are out of print and available only in private collections.

Mrs. Gray said the Friends of the Library are planning several fund-raising events to acquaint the public with the needs for expanded library facilities in Howard County.

Libya says exile killed

CAIRO, Egypt — Libya's state-run radio said today that Libyan "suicide squads" had "executed" former Libyan Prime Minister Abdel-Hamid Bakoush, who has been in exile in Egypt since 1977.

A relative here said Bakoush's family had not heard from him for four days.

The Libyan radio broadcast, monitored in Cairo, said the attack on Bakoush took place on Monday, but gave no further details.

Libyans remain in Chad

PARIS — President Francois Mitterrand today admitted that Libyan troops had not completed their pullout from Chad, despite an announcement six days ago that France and Libya had withdrawn all their forces from the central African nation.

Mitterrand said the Libyan withdrawal was continuing.

The president spoke at a news conference at the Elysee Palace following his return Thursday night from a surprise meeting with Libyan leader Col. Moammar Khadafy on the Greek island of Crete.

10,000 march in Manila

MANILA — Some 10,000 protesters marched to President Ferdinand E. Marcos's tightly guarded palace today and burned effigies of Marcos and Uncle Sam fashioned to symbolize a dying government propped up by the United States.

Police, who had threatened to stop the march, relented as dusk fell, allowing protesters to hold a 90-minute rally at the foot of a bridge leading to the palace.

Israel limits troop talks

TEL AVIV, Israel — Prime Minister Shimon Peres and Defense Minister Yitzhak Rabin have set a three-month deadline for Israel's troop withdrawal talks with Lebanon, the newspaper Maariv reported today.

The newspaper said Israeli officials concluded after the first two sessions of military level talks in the border village of Naqura that the Lebanese "aren't serious" and the negotiations will fail.

India withdraws envoy

NEW DELHI, India — India summoned home its ambassador to Pakistan following accusations that Pakistan allowed Sikh separatists to assault an Indian official, government spokesmen said today.

The incident could signal a new strain in relations between the two longtime enemies, despite pledges by India's new prime minister, Rajiv Gandhi.

Baby Fae's death resurrects transplant debate

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — Just a few hours after doctors completed their historic transplant of a baboon's heart into the infant Baby Fae, skeptics in the medical and animal rights communities began questioning the controversial operation.

Baby Fae's death at 9 p.m. Thursday, three weeks after the surgery at Loma Linda University Medical Center, is not likely to end debate over use of the animal heart that beat in her longer than did her own congenitally deformed organ.

Only four people previously had their hearts replaced by animal hearts. All the patients were adults and the longest any lived was 3½ days.

Doctors at Loma Linda and others in the medical community defended the operation as a necessary step to save the baby's life, asserting that the method was the most likely to give her a long life.

But other experts raised ethical questions.

"I think that they did not make any effort to get a human infant heart because they were set on doing a baboon," said Dr. Paul I. Terasaki, professor of surgery at UCLA and director of the California Regional Organ Procurement Agency.

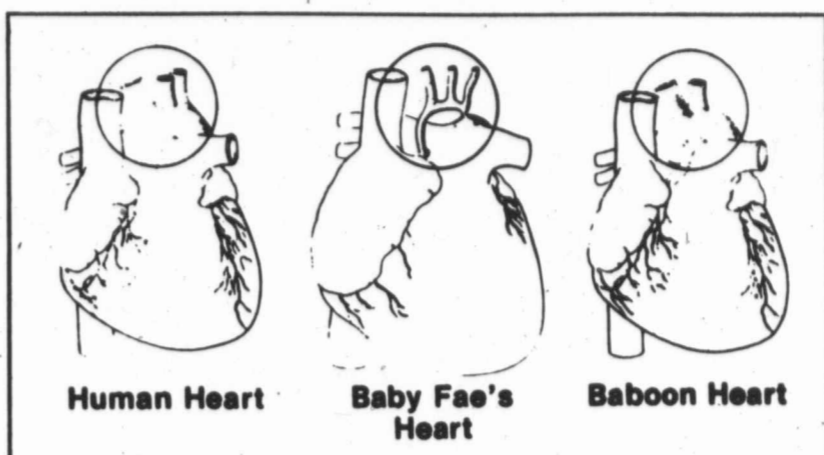

Dr. Leonard Bailey, who led the team that performed the transplant Oct. 26, said he did not know a human heart was available at the time.

But he said the focus of years of lab research had been on xenotransplantation, the science of developing animal hearts that are compatible in cell and tissue structure with the recipient.

"Science must develop hand-in-hand with ethics," Bailey said in an interview with the American Medical Association Publication released Thursday.

"From the start of this formal project 14 months ago, we have clearly insisted upon a therapeutic intent. This is not simply experimentation for experimentation. For the first time, it appears possible to do a xenograft not by random chance, but with science aforesight.

"I suppose we could have used a human heart that was outsized and that was not tissue-matched, and that would have pacified some people, but it would have been poor science," he added.

In Dallas, the American Heart Association issued a statement expressing hope "that Baby Fae will survive and live a long life."

Dr. Robert J. Levine, a Yale University medical ethics expert, said the chances of finding compatible human hearts for infants born with congenitally deformed hearts "has a very low likelihood."

"Most heart donors are accident victims, and most infants don't drive cars," Levine said.

"Somewhere along the line, somebody has to take the leap," said Dr. Jack Provonsna, director of Loma Linda's Center for Christian Bioethics.

"I think it is a very significant accomplishment," said Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, who performed the first U.S. first heart operation, on an infant. "I must say in all honesty that I didn't expect this baby to live this long."

But he said in an interview today on the "CBS Morning News" that he wouldn't try an animal-to-human transplant.

"I think there are human infant hearts available," he said, noting that about 1,000 babies are born without brains each year. "The interesting thing is that if there are 1,000 human hearts available, it's hard to see how one couldn't be found if you looked very hard."

"I, if I were the surgeon, would not repeat this procedure," said Dr. Isadore Rosenfelt of New York Hospital, also interviewed on the program. Before doctors rush to do more such transplants, he said, "one has to really study what we have learned from this operation."

Immunologist Dr. Sandra Nehlsen-Cannerella, who conducted six days of testing to select the right baboon donor, said doctors felt confident about making the historic move.

"We felt comfortable that we didn't have any indication of an impending disaster," she said. "We offered the best technology that would be offered in any human transplant."

Further ethical questions arose over whether the infant's parents were completely informed about the transplant procedure when they co-signed consent forms to allow the surgery.

Chemical blast kills 2

PHOENIX, Ariz. — An explosion ripped through a chemical storage tank as firefighters using a power saw tried to rescue a worker trapped inside, and the worker and one firefighter were killed, authorities said.

Sixteen other firefighters were injured in the blast at 3:40 p.m. Thursday at Western States Petroleum Inc. The cause of the blast was under investigation.

Fire Capt. Doug Tucker said the firefighters were using a power saw to try to cut through a 24-foot-tall tank and reached Elias M. Zetino, Zetino, a 22-year-old company worker, had been cleaning the inside of the empty tank when he apparently was overcome by fumes, said Tucker.

Pentagon detects arms

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon says more ships loaded with Soviet or Soviet bloc weapons may be headed for Nicaragua in a continuation of what the Reagan administration calls a dramatic and troubling arms buildup in the Central American nation.

And a Sandinista official confirmed that Nicaragua has obtained Soviet-made Mi-24 combat helicopters and says they will be deployed against U.S.-backed rebels fighting to overthrow the government.

The new ships would be in addition to three spotted earlier and the much-publicized visit last week of a Soviet freighter that U.S. officials at first said might have been carrying MiG fighters. They later said the cargo was other military equipment.

Pilotless plane crashes

TITUSVILLE, Fla. — A small plane apparently took off on its own from an airport here, leaving its pilot standing in astonishment on the runway, officials said.

The single-engine Cessna, last seen Thursday heading toward the Atlantic Ocean, was found at 6:40 a.m. today, about eight hours after its surprise departure from the Titusville-Cocoa Airport.

Kidnapped baby killed

PAWTUCKET, R.I. — The bludgeoned body of a baby tentatively identified as a girl who disappeared from her crib five days ago was found in an alley a block from her parents' home, and authorities said they have no suspects.

The body was tentatively identified Thursday night as that of 4-month-old Jerri Ann Richard, the daughter of Ralph and Donna Richard, who reported Sunday the infant had been snatched from her crib in the middle of the night.

Discovery completes successful mission

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Discovery, "brighter than a shooting star" on its homeward plunge, glided triumphantly back to Earth today with two satellite prizes plucked boldly from orbit during history's first space salvage mission.

The 104-ton space plane, its final dash across Florida heralded by twin sonic booms, dropped out of a partly cloudy sky and onto a 15,000-foot concrete runway after a journey of 3.3 million miles

Dam procedure is water torture

Building a dam is not for the weak of will. Stacy Dam, for instance, has been in the making for better than seven years. Yet, with the action of the Texas Supreme Court this week, construction of a much-needed reservoir to supply water to seven West Texas cities is no closer than ever.

Texans are growing evermore conscious of water as a limited resource. With that awareness, they grow more rabid in coveting what they have. Further, the litigation process which ties up new projects is simply too time-consuming.

It's not enough to prove need and convince the state to allow a new reservoir. A grandfather clause says that whoever stakes first claim to water from a public source will never face the possibility of giving any of it up. That approach ignores some practical concerns like population growth, demographic changes, and redistribution of a smaller pie.

Never mind that in times of high flow the existing dams' spillgates are opened wide to let unneeded water course to the Gulf. Never mind that existing users may have staked out more water than they really need. Never mind that another area of the state may, over time, develop a more pressing need for a new source of water. Never mind that water comes from the heavens, and that common sense and good manners dictate that as populations and needs change, so does the allocation of this vital resource.

An exhaustive permitting process is but the first step. It is intensely frustrating that once this hurdle is passed, the courts can tie up the permit for five years and in one day send the application back to square one, which the Texas Supreme Court did this week. Meanwhile, the clock continues to run on existing water supply and costs continue to mount.

Frank Booth, attorney for the Colorado River Municipal Water District here, said he will ask the Supreme Court to reconsider. If that fails, he will refine his permit request and send it back through channels. Diligence is required these days in water project proposals. But the whole procedure is in dire need of streamlining. As demand for a finite resource grows, so does the time involved in building new reservoirs. The day will come when time alone serves as an effective barrier to growth. One day, cities will not be able to endure a decade-long wait for more water.

After Reagan — the deluge

I had no sooner finished reading my morning newspaper concerning President Reagan's win over Fritz Mondale when I got a call from Shorty Courtwright. "Well, what do you think?" he wanted to know. "It was an awesome victory and personal triumph of unbelievable magnitude," I said. "Reagan's landslide in 1984 is one for the history books." "I'm not talking about 1984," Courtwright said. "I'm asking you what do you think about 1988?" "Frankly, I haven't given much thought to 1988," I admitted. "I'm still trying to figure out the ramifications of yesterday's election." "That's over," Courtwright said. "Your readers all want to know what's going to happen four years from now, when Ronald Reagan finishes his second term." "They do?" "Of course. You must be aware as well as I am, that once a president is elected the only concern Americans have is who is going to be their next president. How long do you expect us to stay with yesterday's news?" "I was going to hold off until Reagan's inauguration before I started writing about 1988," I said. "Do you think that's too long to wait?" "It is for me. After all, Reagan is a lame duck president. Since he can't run again, you should be speculating about '88." "You're probably right," I said. "But I've been so busy this morning reading the election results, I haven't been able to devote much time to who the next president could be." "That's the trouble with you people in the media. You're all involved in pack journalism. Instead of looking ahead you're still writing stories about Reagan and what he'll do for the next four years." "It might have some relevance," I said defensively. "Possibly to a few people. But the majority of us would rather know who's coming after Reagan. It's going to be a wide-open race in 1988, and a lot more exciting than this year's election." "Shorty, you may be onto something," I said. "Maybe I ought to give the president credit for carrying 49 states, and then go up to New Hampshire and find out how they're going to vote four years from now." "I would if I were you. A few exit polls in New Hampshire could decide how the wind is going to blow for George Bush and Jack Kemp." "Is that how you see the Republican lineup?" "It should be close, because no matter what Bush thinks, Reagan's personal popularity is not transferable to him. And if things don't go right the next four years, Bush could be tarnished with Reagan's administration. This would give Kemp an opportunity to appeal to all the conservative voters who have never trusted Bush because he was once a middle-of-the-roader." "How do you see the Democratic race?" "It will probably be fought out between Gov. Mario Cuomo and Teddy Kennedy. I can't wait to see them debate each other in Iowa." "I wonder who the networks will decide was the winner?" I said. "The Kennedy people are already putting out the word their man won." "Well, I'm glad you called. There is no sense writing about Reagan when 1988 is just around the corner."

Armageddon and jug ears

I have received a barrage of questions about President Reagan, stimulated no doubt by the election. Here are some of them:

- How can Reagan claim to be religious if he doesn't attend church?
- The president's closest associates insist, with a unanimity that is persuasive, that Reagan's religious convictions sharpened after his survival of an assassin's bullet.
- Does the president believe in a literal Armageddon?

Yes. As I've reported in the past, Reagan believes the end of the world will come in a final battle between good and evil in the Middle East. These references to Armageddon dismay his chief of staff, James Baker, who has tried to suppress them.

- Does the president have a sense of humor, or does someone write his jokes for him?

He has a sharp and spontaneous sense of humor. When Cabinet member Margaret Heckler reminded him that it was National Secretary Week, the president lamented, "I just can't get George Shultz (secretary of state) to wear a corsage." And after Gary Hart's early victories in the Democratic presidential primaries, Reagan cracked to aides, "If we have to go against Hart, all we'll need is a barber to win the election." This was a reference to Hart's jug ears, concealed by some expert hair styling.

A Steer says thanks

To the editor: I want to express my appreciation for all the support local business people extended to the Steer Football team this year. Thanks especially go to Julie Shirey who organized the entire thing — she got local supporters to send food, cards, and whatever to the team members week after week. My dedicated supporters (and providers as they kept me from starving each week with goodies) were Nancy and Keith Wiseman. Not only are they big Steer boosters but are fantastic boosters of our community. To them I say "thanks." You made each week exciting for me. Others I say thanks to are Jessica Hamby and her helpers (don't know who they are) who decorated my locker and left encouraging signs, goodies, and neat gold shoes. Keep up the good work, girls. Others who helped me through the trying times were Dr. & Mrs. Matthews, Sue Brown, and the Don Stabeno family. This may be my last year with the Steers, but I want to encourage the community to continue backing all the Steer teams. You have demonstrated a positive attitude, and the team's win-loss records are gonna improve. We have a bunch of great kids coming up. I am proud to have been associated with the team and the community. Good memories are with me. Boosters keep yelling... the boys notice it. It helps to have the backing of spirit, yelling, and the band playing. Thanks for four good years.

Bailing out the bond story

To the editor: The article on bail bonds companies published in the Big Spring Herald Nov. 12 (and again Nov. 14 in the Window Shopper) omitted some important facts. The story left out that B&M Bail Bond Co. is owned by Bonnie Bennett and is the oldest bonding company in Big Spring. We are the only insurance-licensed surety bondsmen in this area and the only federal court approved bonding company for the area. I think this is important information that should have been included in any story about bail bonding in Big Spring.

Why your taxes will go up — or down

By JIM LUTHER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two months before the 99th Congress gets down to work, a big part of the lawmakers' agenda is already set: taxes, taxes and taxes.

There are two major issues: Should taxes be increased to reduce the record federal deficit and should the individual income tax be overhauled in an effort to make it simpler, fairer and more efficient?

Here are answers to some questions about those issues.

Q. Taxes were cut in 1981, then raised in 1982 and in 1984. Why not leave the system alone?

A. Tax lawyers and accountants are pleading with the government to do just that. But many economists and members of Congress say it is essential that taxes be increased to bring down the deficit. And lawmakers are told constantly by voters that the income tax is too complex and unfair.

Q. Hasn't President Reagan ruled out any tax increase?

A. "Over my dead body," he said at one point in his re-election campaign. He made similar — though less dramatic — pledges in 1982 and 1984, yet signed tax increases in both years.

Q. But they called those "revenue enhancement." Isn't that different?

A. That's a politician's phrase for a tax increase. There's no magic way for the government to raise money; unless a new tax is enacted, the only sources for revenue are the income tax, Social Security taxes, excises (such as on liquor and cigarettes), estate taxes, tariffs on imports, and such miscellaneous sources as offshore oil leases. A big chunk of the 1982 and 1984 bills was from tighter enforcement of the tax laws and elimination of some accounting tricks, but they were still tax increases.

Q. Is Congress likely to force Reagan to accept a tax increase next year?

A. Reagan insists continued growth in the economy will produce enough revenue to cut the deficit without a tax increase. Very few professional economists buy that. But Democrats, who control the House, say they are not about to vote a tax increase unless Reagan asks them for it. That's because the president campaigned so hard against Democrats as tax raisers.

Q. So a tax increase is out?

A. Not necessarily. A sharp rise in interest rates could scare Congress and the president into an increase. Or, any tax-overhaul plan may end up raising taxes.

Q. Tax overhaul — is that the same as tax reform?

A. The dictionary defines reform as a change for the better, so politicians label most of their bills as reform. Call it reform, overhaul or simplification, the president and a majority of Congress seem to agree that major surgery on the tax system is required.

Q. What are the options?

A. There are four broad concepts under review by Congress and, independently, by the Treasury Department:

- 1. A "flat tax" — everybody would pay the same rate regardless of earnings. This would require junking the present "progressive" system that is based on ability to pay; the more you make, the greater share the government takes from each dollar. Most deductions, exemptions, credits and exclusions would be repealed. The single rate could be as low as 10 percent, depending on how much tax-free income is allowed the poor.
- The Kemp-Kasten bill would increase the personal exemption and standard deductions, allow most wage earners to exclude about one-fifth of their salaries from tax, and tax everything else at a 25 percent rate.
- 2. Keep the ability-to-pay concept but make considerably more income subject to tax by reducing some of the dozens of deductions and other tax breaks. The extra revenue generated by those changes would allow a cut in tax rates.

Along these lines, the Bradley-Gephardt proposal would keep some of the popular deductions — such as mortgage interest — at a reduced level, and most people would pay a 14 percent tax. The maximum tax rate would be 30 percent, compared with the present 50 percent. This is sometimes called a flat tax but it isn't; there would be three tax rates depending on income.

- 3. Tax only income that is spent, exempting what you save or use to pay debts. This is called a tax on consumed income.
- 4. Impose a federal sales tax.

Q. Which plan will be approved?

A. There's no certainty any will. It won't be easy wiping out the deduction allowed, for example, for union dues or making Social Security recipients pay tax on their full government pension. But if major change is approved, something akin to the Bradley-Gephardt plan would be a good bet.

Q. The president says any "reform" must bring in the same amount of money as the present system but he insists that nobody's taxes will go up. How can that be done?

A. It would be next to impossible to devise a tax system that could do both those things. Any wholesale change in the present system will end up cutting taxes for some people and raising taxes for others.

Q. So what are the prospects?

A. The Treasury Department will send its recommendations to the president early next month. Reagan would be expected to forward his plan to Congress as early as January. Then, the House and Senate will hold public sessions to hear from all sides.

Hope for the disillusioned

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: A dozen or so years ago I thought I had all the answers to make the world a better place. I got involved in lots of anti-war activity on my campus, and thought radical politics would save the world. Now I have gotten disillusioned as the years have gone by. I don't think the world will ever be a better place, and I feel like my life is a waste. I've never thought about God, however, and wonder what difference it would make if I believed in God. — M.W.

DEAR M.W.: God does not want you to throw away your life. In fact, God has a plan for your life (just as He does for every life), and there could be no higher goal for you than discovering God's will and then spending the rest of your life doing it. In other words, if you came to know God personally — not just believing vaguely that he exists, but honestly committing yourself to him and coming to know him in a personal relationship — it would completely change your life.

What is God's will for you? First of all, God's will is that you would yield your life to his son, Jesus Christ. In the past, you were caught up in events that you undoubtedly thought were historic and important. But the most important event in all human history was the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. The reason is because Christ came to deal with the greatest problem of the human race — sin. We have turned our backs on God our Creator, and because we have refused to follow his perfect way of living we have torn our world apart and ruined our lives. But Christ came to take away our sins and restore us to God.

There is much I wish I could say to you, but in this limited space let me focus on the most important thing: Christ wants to enter your life and give you hope, and he will right now if you will simply ask him to come in as your savior and lord.

Dear Abby

Pastor shocked by policies

DEAR ABBY: Recently my wife and I stopped at a restaurant while driving to Savannah, Ga. After ordering, I asked the waitress for a glass of water to take some pills — one for my heart, the other for diabetes.

The waitress said, "I will have to charge you 10 cents for the water, sir." I was shocked. I replied, "Ten cents for a glass of water?" She said, "Yes, for the paper cup you will be using."

I said, "Well all right, I will pay the 10 cents, but suppose a customer is eating and starts to choke; do you mean to tell me if he didn't have 10 cents for a glass of water, he would just have to choke?" She didn't say anything, but she brought the water, and I took my pills.

Later, I asked her for a spoon to stir my coffee. She said, "Sorry, sir, we don't serve spoons with coffee, but I can let you have a plastic knife." I said, "Remind me never to eat here again."

Was I wrong to pay my bill without leaving a tip for the waitress?

A SOUTHERN PASTOR
DEAR PASTOR: Yes. Assuming the waitress wasn't also the owner, she didn't make the rules; she was only carrying out the boss's orders. If the service was good, you should have left a tip.

Dr. Donohue

Common age for chicken pox

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: At what age can a parent begin to look for appearance of chicken pox in a child? — Mrs. T.Z.

The most common age for acquiring chicken pox is 5 to 9 years, although some may escape exposure until later or be exposed at younger ages, even during the mother's pregnancy, should she contract it then. About 33 percent of children get in between 1 and 4 years. Chicken pox is highly contagious, accounting for the high incidence during the January-May period, when children are most likely to be together in confined quarters.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: How much caffeine, if any, is there in chocolate? — L.L.

Milk chocolate is relatively caffeine-free. There are only about 5 milligrams of caffeine to the ounce. Caffeine content goes up for the more concentrated types, like the bittersweet used in cooking. That can have from 25 to 35 mgs. in an ounce. For comparison, a cup of drip brewed non-decaffeinated coffee contains approximately 150 mgs. of caffeine.

Couple begins career doing album

By KIM KIRKHAM
Religion Editor

When Jim and Debi Grimes of Big Spring were wed two years ago, they were recording a gospel album together. The duo then began performing a religious road show, and the love birds have been singing ever since.

The couple recorded "Jesus My Savior, Jesus My Friend," in 1982. Grimes, 36, said he had planned to go into the music ministry when he called Debi, 25, to join him on the album. Because they had met previously in Big Spring, Jim knew of Debi's musical abilities.

"We felt led to go into full-time music evangelism; so we left San Antonio and came to Big Spring about 1 1/2 years ago," he said. "We just talked with Sammy Sims (pastor Crestview Baptist Church) and decided to move to Big Spring and base out of a home church here. We just both know that we've been called into the music ministry."

"Debi is a very talented pianist and keyboard player," said Grimes. "She plays anything. If she hears it she can play it. Therefore, it's easy for us to learn music." Grimes plays the guitar, and the couple also sings.

JIM AND DEBI GRIMES
...music evangelists

The Grimes perform for revivals, concerts, retreats and revivals. Their ministry has taken them to East Texas, Louisiana and New Mexico, but "most of our things have been right in the West Texas area," Grimes said. "We do everything totally by love offering. "We've both been involved in music all our lives," said Grimes.

"Our families have been more supportive (financially) than anything."

Debi's mother, Patsy Scott, is pianist at Crestview Baptist Church, and her brother, David Scott, is music director. Her father, Billy Scott, is a deacon at Crestview. Jim's mother, Joy Grimes, is pianist at First Baptist Church of Big Spring.

"As far as anyone who has influenced my life, it's probably my dad, because he's the finest man I ever met," said Grimes. "There was a time in my life when I left my home and family, and his death brought me home to my family and to a new relationship with God."

The couple's favorite group is "Dallas Holmes and Praise." "He (Dallas Holmes) has inspired and influenced our music," said Grimes. However, "I guess there's not one kind of music we like more than others, as long as you can understand the words. We feel if you can't understand the words, then you're just wasting your time," he said.

They plan to make another record "whenever we can find the funds for it," said Grimes. Currently, they are forming an Evangelistic Association. "It's just to help with our ministry and broaden it," he said. "We're just open right now to any type of evangelism."

Grimes is a graduate of Midland Lee High School and has a bachelor of arts degree in sociology from Texas Tech University. Debi is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Howard College.

Church news briefs

First Christian to have 'balloon' day, Sunday

Sunday is "balloon" day at First Christian Church. It is a celebration of Thanksgiving.

Members will be greeted by the children and given a piece of paper as they enter the church sanctuary for the morning worship service. During the service, each one will write their prayer of Thanksgiving on the paper.

As the final hymn is sung, the church's youths will give balloons to everyone. The papers on which the prayers are written will be attached to the balloons, and participants will congregate outside for the final benediction.

As the choir leads the membership in the final choral response, everyone will release the balloons at once in hope that the individuals that find the balloons will be reminded of the many things for which to be thankful.

St. Paul Lutheran sets special service

The congregation of St. Paul Lutheran Church, 9th and Scurry, will observe Thanksgiving Day at a service at 10 a.m. Thursday. The public is invited.

The Rev. Carroll C. Kohl will lead the service during which holy communion will be celebrated. Music will be presented by Ned, Richard and Karen Crandall.

Creel places first in chili cookoff

The youth group of Central Baptist Church in Elbow sponsored the church's first Chili Cookoff, Nov. 3.

Winning first place was Robert Creel. Paula Dare was the second place winner. Third place went to Linda Walker.

In desserts, Ruby Clanton won first place for taste. Second place went to Kelli Ballard. Ethel McKinnon placed third.

Baptists to meet for annual celebration

Big Spring area Baptist churches will meet for their seventh annual Thanksgiving Celebration tomorrow at the Howard County Fair Barns. Activities will begin at 3 p.m. and include recreation for all ages. Following the free Thanksgiving feast at 5:30 p.m., music will be presented by local churches.

The 31 churches in the association stretch north to Knott, south to Garden City, east to Coahoma and west to Stanton.

First Presbyterian to install pastor

THE REV. FLYNN V. LONG
First Presbyterian Church

The Rev. Flynn V. Long Jr. will be installed as pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Sunday at 7 p.m. The public is invited. A reception will follow in the Fellowship Hall.

Long recently was the associate stated clerk of the General Assembly of Presbyterian Churches in Atlanta, Ga.

College Baptist to have holiday bazaar

College Baptist Church will have a Christmas Holiday Bazaar from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., tomorrow. Home craft items will be sold in the church's Activity Building.

Each person with a booth will donate money toward the Mission Trip Fund. Items for sale include: crochet, knitting, sewing, wood crafts and photography. They can be Christmas gifts.

College Baptist Cookbooks also will be for sale. A concession stand will provide refreshments.

Church has sale to benefit missions

First Presbyterian Church will sell items from many countries from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Nov. 23-24. Proceeds go to missions. The church receives no profit.

Prices range from $1 to $35. Merchandise includes dolls, wearing apparel, decorating items, Christmas decorations, leather goods and others. Some countries the items are from are India, Bangladesh, Hong Kong, Jordan and Kenya.

Guy White Jr. gives ministers tax tips

Guy White Jr., C.P.A., spoke at the Oct. 15 meeting of the Howard County Ministerial Fellowship.

White's address concerned ministers' taxes, liability and payments. A booklet about applicable tax information for ministers was handed out. The Bible Fund has received $13,924.75 in contributions. The next meeting will be at 12 p.m. Monday at the Golden Corral.

Sports Nighbourhood

By BILLY NABOURS
Sports Editor

Closing statements

Where do you start?

At the beginning is usually the best way to reflect on something, but what about the middle and finish?

That about sums up the way yours truly feels about his time spent in Big Spring and at the Herald. Most of my time spent in this area since Jan. 16, 1984 has been filled with nothing but good things, good people and good sports. That time is fast coming to a close though.

After this Sports Nighbourhood this mug won't be gracing the sports section in Big Spring. Saturday marks the final workday at this newspaper. As the statement from the movie Bear so perfectly sums up, "Mama's calling." That's the only reason for my departure. Sports editors and writers are a lot like the coaches they cover. Move is inevitable except in rare instances. Furthering one's self is a goal that hopefully everyone has, sometimes even if it means trading in Big Spring Black and Gold for Angleton Purple and White.

Before the rhetoric gets too mundane there are just a few things, actually more than a few, that need to be said:

The coverage wasn't always the best and could have and should have been better, but hopefully there were more times when we had something for everyone.

Helping make my job and Steve's job easier are all the coaches in Crossroads Country. Everyone is a treat to work with and the replacement, whom ever he or she may be, will indeed be fortunate to work with the folks within the Big Spring High School and Howard College athletic departments and at the other schools in the area.

Everyone has favorite's and while I can't speak for all five schools that Steve primarily covers, I will always carry some good memories of Grady, Borden County, Stanton and Garden City plus BSHS and Coahoma. The records do not indicate it in all instances, but the youngsters and coaches at the mentioned schools are all winners.

And I wish the very best for the Queens and Hawks. It should be a good year for both. I've already reminded Queens coach Don Stevens that I plan on coming in from the coast to watch the gals play in Regional Tournament action — after they win the Western Junior College Athletic Conference of course. You have been a pleasure ladies.

The Hawks are a little different story. Only one starter is back and with a new coach in Ed Sparling the team is not being touted as a repeat for the WJCAC championship. Sparling is smart, however and he has a fairly good bunch to build with. It won't be a long year in Hawklund by any means.

It won't be a long season in 1985 as far as the Steers are concerned either. The Black and Gold is as competitive as they come and coach Quinn Eudy's tenure should start paying dividends within the next two years. That is when players who actually began playing in the lower grades under Eudy's philosophy and foundation become upperclassmen. Some light was already shed on the subject this past season with the Freshmen going 6-3 and splitting with the six San Angelo junior highs and the Sophomores evening off at 5-5, but 4-3 against 4-5A competition.

This column could go on for days and days and pages and pages, but unfortunately all things come to an end. There are so many folks out there among the readership I would like to say, "See you somewhere down the line." Goodbye isn't in this boy's vocabulary. I think those folks know who they are and it's hoped that only the best comes to them.

Maybe I'll blow back in with the first hurricane that hits the coast. You never can tell.

In a foul-plagued contest the Howard College Hawk Queens scored a 109-82 win over the Angelina College Roadrunners Thursday night.

The victory, that featured a total of 60 fouls and 83 free throws by both teams, was part of opening round action in the Hawk Queen Classic being held at the Dorothy Garrett Coliseum through Saturday.

The 9-1 Queens were never threatened by the 2-3 Roadrunners, leading 31-13 after the game's first 10 minutes. Things cooled off after that as the flow of HC's game was broken up by substitution upon substitution. "The first 10 minutes was some of the best basketball I've seen played," said Queens coach Don Stevens. The Queen sank 11 of their first 14 field goals during that time and defended Angelina to the tune of a four of 12 showing. Angelina was also forced into 26 turnovers.

Stevens admitted the continuity of things was somewhat ragged as the game dragged on, but he added, "I got to play a lot of folks." He attributed HC's 21 turnovers to the number of players trading playing time.

Among the regulars Joyce Boudreaux registered 19 points, six rebounds and two blocked shots. Her postmate Vicki Wade scored 11 and had a whopping 14 rebounds and intimidated the all freshmen Roadrunners by blocking four shots. Guard Molly Early continued her game-by-game progress after returning from preseason surgery by scoring 14 points and handing out eight assists. Sue Van Hooser and Alex Provencio rounded out the starters with 18 and six points respectively.

Stevens implemented his own version of the "Twin Towers" when he had 6-3 twin sisters Allison and Diane Dickson in the contest at the same time for a good part of the second half. The duo combined for 15 points, including making seven of 10 free throws, before both fouled out late. Sonora freshman Lorri French had her best game under the boards by pulling in nine rebounds.

The number of fouls gave the Queens plenty of free throw practice, something Stevens really wanted in light of some less than stellar charity tries during the past several games. Against Angelina the Queens made 27 of 44 attempts. Angelina sank 20 of 39 tries.

The point total against the Roadrunners was HC's highest since a 110-96 win over New Mexico Junior College in a WJCAC contest last December.

QUEENS (109) — Barry 2-2-6; Provencio 2-2-6; Joyce Boudreaux 5-7-19; Sue Van Hooser 2-8-18; French 2-1-4; Molly Early 7-0-14; Winsmann 3-2-7; Eitner 3-3-9; Vicki Wade 4-3-11; Allison Dickson 4-3-11; D. Dickson 0-4-4.

ANGELINA (82) — Mozell Brooks 6-5-17; Angela Teagle 9-2-20; White 2-4-8; Bonnet 1-0-2; Pinner 0-3-3; Deanne Cobb 5-3-13; Sandie 2-1-4; Robinson 4-1-9; Miller 2-2-6. Halftime: Queens 47, Angelina 25. Records: Queens (9-1); Angelina (2-3).

INTIMIDATOR — Hawk Queen Vicki Wade (50) played a game of intimidation against Angelina by blocking four shots by the Roadrunners. She guards Kelly Pinner during this moment from the Queens Classic opening win.

Long playoff wait over for Wolves

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

SAN ANGELO — It's been a six year wait but the Colorado City Wolves have found their way back into the state playoffs.

Now that they have reached the elusive goal, the Wolves and coach Tom Ramsey will try to stay around for another week when they battle the Gatesville Hornets in Class 3-A Area play in San Angelo's Bobcat Stadium at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Wolves bring a 9-1 slate into the contest with their only loss coming to 7-3A district champion Ballinger, 28-6.

It's been an even longer wait for coach Les Reaves' Central Texas Hornets (Gatesville is located about 40 miles west of Waco) bring a 5-3-2 slate into the contest. The Hornets won their first district title since 1970 with a 4-0-1 mark in District 8-3A. The slate was blemished by a 7-7 tie with Marble Falls. They played a couple of 4A schools and a 5A outfit during the year.

Ramsey's five-year wait at C-City is over. "It's good to be back again. I almost forgot what it felt like. It's a great feeling, especially for the kids."

The Hornets are a team just getting their act together after having early season problems with injuries. Reaves had no less than nine players go down with hurts, including six to knee injuries.

A defense that has allowed just 31, has paced the team through the rough times, according to Reaves. "We are just now getting to where we can play. We should still be on game nine. The defense has kept us in games all year. We have had 10 points in district scored on us."

Even with his strong defense Reaves is still worried about quarterback Doug Chitsey and the strong Colorado City offensive attack. "Chitsey is an excellent quarterback. He is the key to the Veer offense. Stopping him is they key."

Not only must the Hornets contend with stopping Chitsey, who has passed for over 1,800 yards and 18 touchdowns, they must stop 1,000 yard rusher Sammy Rivera. Other Colorado City threats include tight ends Don Randle and Perry Conner who have 41 and 17 catches respectively and wide receivers Armonda Rivera and Ron Hernandez who have 29 catches between them.

The Wolves defense has been pretty itself, allowing nine points per contest.

They will be put to the test by Gateville's Wing-T attack which features a balanced running attack. Quarterback Kevin Clark and running backs Charles Mayberry and Paul Griffith all have gained over 500 yards.

The coaches differ on the nature of the game.

Reaves figures it to be low scoring. "It's hard to say the outcome of a game in the playoffs. With the two defenses I think it will be low scoring."

Meanwhile Ramsey thinks the game will take a different route. "I don't think it will be low scoring. We haven't been in too many of those."

WOLVES ON THE PROWL — Colorado City running back Bill Jackson gains yardage in a recent game. Jackson is C-City's second leading ground gainer with 565 yards in 108 carries. He and his teammates will get their first taste of playoff competition when they go against Gatesville in San Angelo Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in AAA bi-district action.

WJCAC wins two of three

Coupled with the Queens thrashing of Angelina, it was a good opening day for the Western Junior College Athletic Conference in the Hawk Queen Classic as the WJCAC won two out of three games on Thursday.

Odesa College whipped Tyler JC, 88-68 behind 26 and 20 points respectively from Sharon Blair and Dee Commell. The Lady Wranglers face Angelina at 4 p.m. today and play McLennan Community College Saturday at 4 p.m.

MCC handed the third WJCAC team entry, South Plains, an 82-78 overtime loss despite Sally Walling's 30 points for South Plains.

The hosting Queens play their final game Saturday at 6 p.m. versus Tyler.

Olympians win in contrasting styles

NEW YORK (AP) — Ultimately, they accomplished what they set out to do.

Not necessarily with all the flair they might have displayed, nor with all the power. But the six young men who only three months ago gave the United States Olympic medals, walked out of Madison Square Garden Thursday night with their records untarnished after their first professional bouts.

"Winning is what matters. How you do it isn't always all that important," Mark Breland of Brooklyn, N.Y., the crown jewel in this Night of Gold, said after going six rounds to score a unanimous decision over Dwight Williams of Syracuse, N.Y., a tenacious but undersized opponent.

Heavyweight Tyrell Biggs of Philadelphia, heard the same boos he had heard en route to his gold in Los Angeles, when he failed to score a knockout. He failed to score one this time too, going the full six rounds for a unanimous decision over Mike Evans of Los Angeles. But it was hardly Biggs' fault. No one did. Evans never really boxed. He rarely threw a punch — a far cry from his role as the champ in a beer commercial. "It takes two to fight," Biggs said. "I tried to get the guy to commit himself so I could do something I trained for. If they get someone in there who fights, then the best of me will come out."

The other four Olympians to get off on the right foot were:

- Lightweight Pernell Whitaker of Norfolk, Va., who repeatedly tattooed the face of Farrain Comeaux of Nederland,

Texas, and stopped him at 2:50 of the second round.

- Junior lightweight Meldrick Taylor of Philadelphia, who floored Luke Lecce of Pittsburgh three times to stop him at 2:31 of the first round.
- Light heavyweight Evander Holyfield of Atlanta, the controversially disqualified Olympian bronze medalist, who scored a unanimous six-round decision over Lionel Byarm of Philadelphia.
- Super middleweight and silver medalist Virgil Hill of Grand Forks and Williston, N.D., who decked Arthur Wright of New York in a scheduled four-round bout stopped at 2:05 of the second.

This clearly was Breland's crowd, hardly surprising considering it was Breland's idea that all 21,000 or so seats be given away as a thank-you to the fans who cheered him during his reign as five-time New York Golden Gloves winner.

Breland received $100,000, Holyfield, Whitaker and Biggs $75,000 apiece and Taylor $50,000. Hill, who wasn't part of the promotion and doesn't have a piece of the four-year ABC television contract packaging the five other Olympians, received $5,000, about what some of the Olympians' opponents earned.

The 6-foot-2½ Breland didn't have to wait long to mix it up with the 5-7 Williams. The former resident of Green Haven Correctional Facility in Stormville, N.Y. came across the ring like an Olympic sprinter when the bell rang and tried to overwhelm Breland.

Cisco whips HC 89-75

CISCO — The Howard College Hawks could not overcome a cold night from the floor here Thursday night as the Cisco Junior College Wranglers beat the Hawks, 89-75.

Howard is 4-2 after the loss and will play next in the Weatherford Classic Nov. 23-24.

Michael Porter paced the Hawks with 23 points and Joe Burney added 20. Bruce Kimble was the only other Hawk in double figures with 10 points.

The Hawks will face Laredo JC at 6 p.m. on Nov. 23 in the first game of the Weatherford Tournament and play Navarro JC on Nov.

24 at 6 p.m.

CISCO (89) — Harper 21-5; Ellis 8-2-18; Howard 0-2-2; Murray 1-0-2; Robinson 12-3-27; MacArthur 1-0-2; Bryant 2-0-4; Jones 7-1-15; McCrimmon 3-0-8; Sears 1-0-2; White 3-0-6. TOTALS: 40-8-86.

HAWKS (75) — Bruce Kimble 4-2-10; Reynolds 3-2-4; Joe Burney 9-2-20; Michael Porter 9-5-23; Rogers 3-1-7; Bell 2-3-7; TOTALS 30-15-75.

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved:

DENNIS THE MENACE

"YOU PUT THESE FINGERS IN ITS EYES AN' YOUR THUMB IN ITS NOSE."

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

"I think he was expectin' you to be our OTHER grandma."

Your DAILY HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, NOV., 17, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is certainly a day to double-check and then redouble-check all facts and figures and whatever you do, for errors in speech, writings or contracts are apt to slip by to you.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) No matter what your work may be today, be sure you handle it precisely otherwise you'll have much loss.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Make sure you know how much amusement will cost you and avoid a partner who wants to change your plans.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Getting your home in fine operative order today is wise, and if any repairs are needed, ask advice of elders.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Do not argue with any clerks, etc., while out shopping and drive with utmost care. Visit only with good, trustworthy friends.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Be most careful in handling practical affairs otherwise you could make a costly mistake. An advisor may not be on the beam today.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You may be discontented today and could make radical changes at the drop of a hat, which would not be wise.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have many little duties to perform so get at them early and they are soon behind you. Don't lose your temper.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You seem to find many blockages in gaining some aim that means much to you, but persevere, and by evening it is yours.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Get your affairs in better order privately, since the outside world is not your oyster today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You may feel restless and want to dash off anywhere at all, but simmer down and then handle shopping and home affairs.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study your obligations well and show that you are attending them to the best of your ability. Don't change your methods as yet.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Long talks with partners will not gain you very much during the day, so await the evening for this.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she can easily comprehend the woes of others and will know how best to solve them, so slant the education along lines of problem solving in order to make the most of this fine quality. A discriminating person here who is very neat and precise.

IF SOMETHING GOES WRONG AFTER YOU BUY, ERA REAL ESTATE PAYS FOR REPAIRS.

ERA pays for all the surprises homeowners insurance doesn't always cover... like the interior plumbing and fixtures, built-in appliances, the hot water heater, furnace, electrical wiring, exposed duct work, the central air conditioning, water softener... even swimming pool components.

The ERA Buyer Protection Plan covers more homes and more working components than any other home protection plan. And it's available from ERA in all 50 states.

So if you're in the market to buy, call the qualified professionals at your neighborhood ERA office.

We've got what it takes to protect home buyers... even after the sale.

There really is a difference in real estate companies.
