How's that?

Deliveries

Q. Do you know of a local grocery store that will deliver groceries? This would be a big help to the elderly or shut-ins incapable of doing their grocery shopping.

A. A check with some of Big Spring's supermarkets revealed no such delivery service. However, the Big Spring Senior Citizen's Center, located in the Industrial Park, Building 487, offers a similar program.

Center director Carolyn McCarty said, "If someone is not physically able to do their shopping," then arrangements can be made for someone from the center to pick up items and deliver them.

The Senior Citizen's Center also offers transportation to and from the grocery store. "We will go with the shopper," Mrs. McCarty explained. For more information, call the Senior Citizen's Center at 267-1628.

Shooting probe widens

Department of Justice joins inquiry in teen's death

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
Staff Writer

A U.S. Department of Justice specialist from Dallas will appear in Big Spring later in the week to investigate the recent shooting death of a San Angelo youth, said a justice department official Wednesday morning.

Hector Flores with the U.S. Department of Justice office in Dallas said Richard Everts, a conciliation specialist with the community relations branch of the justice department, had been assigned the Howard County shooting case.

Joe Garza, 16, was fatally shot by Howard County sheriff's deputy O.D. Majors when the youth attempted to run a roadblock on Highway 87 south of Big Spring on Nov. 26.

Flores said Everts was in Oklahoma today and was scheduled to appear in Big Spring sometime this week.

The FBI at the request of the Department of Justice is conducting an investigation of the shooting death. The Texas Rangers also are conducting a separate investigation at the request of Howard County Sheriff A.N. Standard.

District Attorney Rick Hamby said on Monday that he will not participate in the investigations.

The district attorney sent a letter on Tuesday to the Prosecutor's Council in Austin requesting it appoint a prosecuting attorney to

Two injured in gas leak

By CAROL BALDWIN

A gas leak from what may have been a faulty furnace at the home of Trini and Elvira Arsiaga of 710 N. Scurry has left the couple in Hall-Bennett Hospital today in satisfactory condition.

Witnesses at the scene said the gas leak probably was caused by a defective furnace at the home. Gas leaked into the home during the night, causing both Mr. and Mrs. Arsiaga to become ill, witnesses said.

According to witnesses, Mrs. Arsiaga felt ill this morning as she awoke. Her husband, Trini, was not able to get out of bed.

Mrs. Arsiaga called her daughter to report the situation and Bob Lester of the Big Spring Police Department was driving by the residence when he saw the Arsiaga's daughter running into the home.

Lester stopped to offer assistance. Members of the Big Spring Fire Department and Shafter Ambulance were called to the scene. Police radioed for oxygen masks for the Arsiagas.

Fire department personnel cut off the gas supply to the home.

TRINI ARSIAGA is taken from his home by members of Shafter Ambulance after inhaling gas fumes.

Drug sting nets 1

Staff reports

Big Spring police have a warrant out for the arrest of a 33-year-old Big Spring man indicted Tuesday on drug-related charges in federal district court in Abilene, Big Spring Police Chief Rick Turner said Tuesday afternoon.

Jessie Marquez, 33, of 1300 Kinde was indicted by a federal grand jury in Abilene on two counts of delivery of a controlled substance, according to the federal district clerk's office.

Marquez, an employee of T. Marquez Jr. & Sons Radio and Television Service at 1010 Lamesa, is accused in the indictments of delivering one-quarter ounce of cocaine to undercover officers on two different occasions, on Sept. 15 and Sept. 29, 1983.

According to Police Lt. Jerry Edwards, Marquez has not yet been arrested. However, police agreed to release information on the indictment about 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Marquez' indictment is a continuation of the FBI undercover operation started two years ago, Turner said. Both Big Spring police and FBI agents were involved in the undercover "sting," Turner said.

No date has been set yet in federal district court in Abilene for the trial of a civil rights lawsuit against Big Spring Police Chief Rick Turner, a city jailer and two police officers, according to a district court spokeswoman.

According to Federal District Court Judge Halbert Woodward's secretary, Ruth Wood, a specific trial date has not been set but the case is on 24-hour notice.

The civil lawsuit, filed last year by former Big Spring Federal Prison Camp inmate Arthur Carson, names Turner, jailer Iris Blackmon and officers Ralph Howell and Juan Palacios.

According to Carson's suit, he claims the four defendants conspired to deprive him of his civil rights while he was incarcerated in the city jail for 48 days awaiting transfer to another federal prison camp.

According to City Attorney Doyle Curtis, Carson was in the city jail between July 17, 1983, and Sept. 3 or Sept. 4, 1983, because he had violated his contract with the minimum security prison camp here and was being transferred to a higher security level federal prison.

In the lawsuit, Carson claims that Howell and Blackmon tore up his mail, refused to give him medication, gave him non-nutritious meals prepared under non-hygienic conditions and incarcerated him in a "roach-infested" cell that had a leaking

Judge OKs Fiberflex rule delay

Retired 118th District Judge Ralph Caton Tuesday night ruled in favor of Fiberflex Products Inc.'s corporate management in a three-hour hearing in the complicated litigation surrounding a hostile takeover bid of the company.

Caton agreed to a request by attorneys for five members of the corporation's board of directors who support corporate management — Tom Rutledge, Russ Rutledge, John Freeman and Fred Morrow — to delay enforcing his recent judgment in the original stock control trial until after all appeals issues in that trial are settled.

Caton had ruled in the August trial that former O.I.L. manager Charles "Chris" Christopher, who together with dissatisfied shareholders is trying to obtain control of the company through its stock, had the right to vote 20,000 shares of company stock purchased at a Hobbs, N.M., bank foreclosure sale.

The bank sold the stock when its owner, former corporate patent attorney Guy Matthews of Houston, failed to pay off a $400,000 loan on which the stock served as collateral.

Caton also ruled Tuesday that the directors supporting corporate management named in the suit were required to post $20,000 bond.

Veterans get Christmas help

By LUIS RIOS
Staff Writer

A special organization in Big Spring has been wrapped up in the spirit of Christmas for the past 24 years.

Christmas comes early for many of the relatives of patients at the Big Spring Veteran's Administration Medical Center — thanks to Vera Leigh, Lila Holland and their host of workers.

Mrs. Holland, along with 60 other volunteer workers from the area

American Legion Auxiliaries, epitomize the almost-forgotten spirit of Christmas by giving rather than receiving.

Ten volunteer workers were hard at work Tuesday afternoon, wrapping and taking gift orders from patients at the annual American Legion Auxiliary gift shop at the veterans hospital.

Mrs. Holland is the chairman for the project.

Lupe Dominguez, chief of volunteer services at the hospital, said this year marked the 24th year the gift shop has been in existence.

The shop is set up for patients who cannot go out and shop for Christmas, Mrs. Dominguez said.

"It was back in 1960 when it (gift shop) was started," said Mrs. Leigh, who drives in from Midland every day to work at the gift shop. "I enjoy every minute of it."

All the items in the shop are new, said Mrs. Dominguez. The patients from the different wards in the

P&Z board reverses Scurry vote

By KEELY COGHLAN

City Planning and Zoning Commission members voted 4-1 Tuesday night to overturn a prior decision to close Scurry Street between 23rd and 24th Streets.

The request for the advisory commission to recommend to the city council that the street be closed was made by Furr's. According to Patti Horton of Sun Country realtors, speaking on behalf of Furr's, the company is planning to operate a discount grocery store at the site if the street is closed.

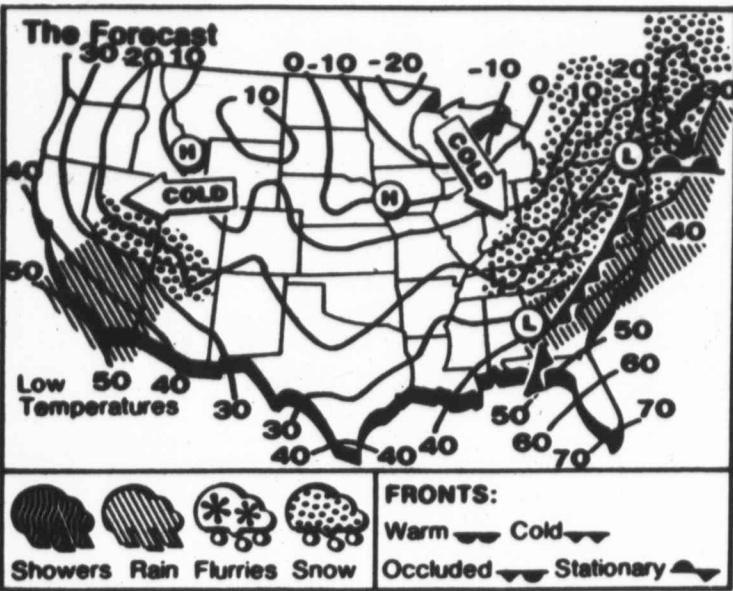

Members were concerned about setting a precedent for closing streets at the request of businesses, they said.

The commission also conducted a public hearing on the manufactured housing ordinance. Most speakers at the hearing, including city Public Works Director Tom Decell, spoke favorably of the ordinance.

The commission unanimously approved a change in the ordinance that defined a Type I manufactured house to be new, have more than 1,200 square feet or occupied space equal to or greater than the average occupied space of houses on contiguous lots before it could be placed in a neighborhood with site-built homes.

The ordinance change must be approved by the City Council.

Warmer temperatures and partly cloudy skies are forecast this afternoon. Look for highs in the upper 40s and northwesterly winds, 5 to 10 miles per hour. Tonight, skies will be fair and lows in the low 20s with northerly winds, 5 to 10 miles per hour. On Thursday, the forecast calls for highs in the upper 40s.

State

Ice and light snow frosted the Texas Panhandle and South Plains overnight, but Oklahoma took the brunt of a brisk winter storm, the National Weather Service said Wednesday.

"Generally, most of the Panhandle and the South Plains to just north of Wichita Falls received one inch of snow overnight," said forecaster Michael Mach.

Mach said Oklahoma had more snow than Texas. "The (storm) system tracked a little bit to the north so Oklahoma took the brunt of the storm last night," he said.

Sheriff's Log

Investigation leads to arrests

Howard County sheriff's deputy George Quintero headed an investigation that led to the arrest of two male juveniles Tuesday afternoon.

The youths were charged with committing a series of thefts that began in mid-November. The thefts are offenses that include burglarizing automobiles, unauthorized use of motor vehicles and various shoplifting incidents.

A Big Spring police officer observed two youths running in an area near FM 700 and Yamaha-Big Spring on Marcy. Quintero was notified because he had been looking for the youths who live in the Sand Springs area on Sunday. The youths were reported missing on Monday by their parents.

Quintero said he received information from the general public concerning the youths and did some followup work. The sheriff's deputy said the department made several inquiries into the investigation and "all our inquiries led us to believe this was set," Quintero said.

The youths' cases will be referred to the Howard County Juvenile Department.

"It worked out for us real fine," Quintero said, "and we cleared at least five offenses that had not even been reported."

Stolen items remain in custody of the sheriff's office and will be returned soon to the owners, Quintero said.

In other sheriff's reports:

- Big Spring police transferred Amado Rey Molina, 40, 501 N.E. Ninth to county jail on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.
- Joe Thomas Rodriguez, 19, 501 NE Ninth began serving 10 days in county jail for a DWI conviction.

Restaurant reports burglary

About $1,100 in cash was stolen Monday night from the Crossroads Restaurant at 1810 S. Gregg, manager Cynthia Kothman told Big Spring police.

The money, which was in local bank bags, was taken after the restaurant closed at 9 p.m. Monday and before it reopened at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday, according to police reports.

Employees discovered the theft when they found there was no money with which to open the restaurant, the report stated. The $1,000 was in a First National Bank bag and $100 in coins was in a State National Bank bag.

In other police reports:
• About $250 of damage was done to a 1977 Ford Pinto when an unknown object was hooked onto its wheels and the car was pulled sideways, police reports stated.

The car is owned by Phillip Higginbotham of 2609 Langley. The incident occurred between Sunday and Monday.

• A .22-caliber automatic long rifle was taken at 9:45 p.m. Tuesday, according to owner Curtis White of 1213 Mobile. The rifle and a full clip of .22-caliber shells were taken from the vehicle parked in front of his house.

The gun is valued at $100.
• Letha Lang of 809 Wyoming told police someone she knew hit her in the face with his fist about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday in the 400 block of N.W. Fourth.

• Police arrested Amado Rey Molina, 40, of 501 N.E. Ninth at about midnight Tuesday in the 200 block of Scurry on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

• Police arrested Coronado Abelardo, 33, of Zapata at 2:30 a.m. in the 200 block of Scurry on suspicion of driving while license suspended.

• Police arrested Alan Meredith, 29, of Monahans at 7 p.m. at the intersection of Interstate Highway 20 and State Highway 350 on suspicion of DWI.

• Frank Meadows of San Angelo told police that persons used company credit cards for Western Mattress at 1301 Gregg without permission for work on their personal vehicles.

The credit card abuse occurred between Oct. 8 and Oct. 29, the report stated.

Securities dealer ordered to open books

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Securities dealer J. Lynn Jones must open his books and records for state inspection as ordered by a district court in Lamesa, the Texas Supreme Court agreed Wednesday.

Jones has resisted State Securities Board efforts to examine the records of his firm, Union Exploration, regarding the sale of oil and gas securities.

According to court records,

Jones maintained that the records are privileged under the U.S. Constitution's 5th Amendment protection against self-incrimination. The state argued, however, that such privilege applies only to personal records.

According to court records, Jones applied in 1978 for a state license as an individual dealer in oil and gas interests only. He signed a statement noting that he had to keep records and make them available for state inspection. He was registered as a dealer on April 12, 1978, and salesmen working for him began selling oil and gas programs for Union Exploration in 1980.

On Feb. 16, 1983, the state securities commissioner attempted to subpoena certain business books and records "as a part of an investigation by the commissioner to detect and prevent violation of the Securities Act."

On March 31, 1983, the commissioner filed an application in Dawson County for a court order to enforce his earlier administrative subpoena, and Judge George H. Hansard issued the order in 106th District Court on Sept. 22, 1983.

Jones appealed the decision, but it was affirmed by a court of appeals and the Supreme Court said Wednesday it found no reversible error in those earlier decisions.

hospital are allowed to select gifts for every member of their immediate family - at no cost, she said. Over 572 gifts were mailed out last year, said Mrs. Leigh.

The workers then wrap the gifts and mail them to the patients' relatives, she said. The handling and postage costs also are paid by the workers themselves. The patients pay nothing from their own pockets, she said.

The various American Legion posts and auxiliaries from District 19 contribute items, money and time to make the gift shop a success, said Mrs. Leigh. Last year over $10,000 was spent in gifts and postage, she said.

Some of the volunteers working the three-day spree at the gift shop include Mrs. Leigh, June Wiggins, Sylvia Flores, Lila Holland, Carol Trevino and Annie Branson.

"Last year we had 187 patients come in, and we anticipate the same number this year," Mrs. Dominguez said.

The gifts go to places such as Stamford, Odessa, Midland, Terlingua, Hobbs and Carlsbad, N.M., and Heritage, Colo., to list a few.

Although only 10 volunteers run the gift shop, it takes approximately 50 others to set up everything, Mrs. Dominguez said. The volunteers set up the shop Saturday and Sunday, she added. The shop was open until today and Thursday will be a cleanup day, she said.

After Thursday, it will be back to normal for the volunteers; but the spirit of Christmas will not soon be forgotten.

United Way nears 1985 goal

The United Way has reached 86 percent of its $202,500 goal for this year with a total of $174,642.49 as of Monday, according to Sherrie Bordsfske, drive chairman.

The figure reported Friday was incorrect, Ms. Bordsfske said. The figure indicated 88 percent of the goal had been met.

A breakdown of the contributions shows:

the jail when Carson asked him his name.

"He looked at my name tag, and said, 'Howell, huh? I'll be seeing you in court,'" Howell said Tuesday. He said he was in the jail that day as a rookie to observe jail procedures. "I was to be Iris' shadow."

Carson has offered to settle the lawsuit for $10,000, Curtis said.

Carson is currently in jail in Abilene on a bench warrant awaiting the trial of his lawsuit, after being transferred from prison in Talladega, Ala., Curtis said.

Carson was kept in the jail 48 days, three days longer than that allowed, but that was the federal prison's fault and not the city's, Curtis said Tuesday.

Carson was originally placed in the Big Spring city jail, Curtis said, because he beat up his roommate, who walked on the cell floor Carson had just waxed to answer head count.

Carson has been convicted of mail theft, burglary of a habitation, forgery by check and three assaults on police officers, Curtis said.

Another civil lawsuit filed by Carson and alleging civil rights violations by the Big Spring Federal Prison Camp and its former director, John Allman, was dropped, Curtis said.

Howell, speaking to reporters Tuesday afternoon, said he was delivering medication to Carson in favor of allocating Howard County funds to pay expenses incurred in the process.

Commissioner Bill Crocker said that an initial fee of $1,500 had been allocated to Hamby's request. Crocker also said that if the expenses amounted to more than $1,500, the Prosecutor's Council would assume the balance.

Pat DeAnda of the Big Spring chapter of the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC) said the organization had requested the Department of Justice to conduct an investigation of the shooting.

"The reason we contacted the Justice Department is that the shooting occurred in Howard County and we would want to prevent it from happening again," Ms. DeAnda said.

"We feel that the Justice Department will be level-headed, best qualified and most objective in carrying out its investigation," DeAnda said.

She also said that Sheriff Standard had been cooperative and had offered LULAC access to any information the sheriff's department had about the case.

"I'm not qualified to review the case," DeAnda said. "But I respect the man (Standard)."

THE QUICK AND THE DEATH — While mourning the death of his wife, the father is feeding his child after leak of poisonous gas from the Union Carbide pesticide factory in India Monday.

The aftermath

Doctors say disease may spread from corpses

BHOPAL, India (AP) — Doctors today warned disease could spread from the corpses of thousands of people and animals killed by a poison gas leak at a pesticide plant, and a newspaper reported that four previous accidents occurred at the facility.

Doctors and officials at cremation grounds and mortuaries said at least 1,200 people were killed and more than 200,000 were affected by the leak early Monday. They said 20,000 people may suffer serious aftereffects, such as blindness.

The United News Of India news agency reported the death toll had risen to 1,250.

Police and rescue workers searched house-to-house today for bodies and assisted in mass burials and cremations during the night that lit up the sky of Bhopal, a central Indian city of 900,000.

UNI said nearly 800 bodies were buried at the city's main Firdaus Manzil graveyard or cremated at the Chola Vishram Ghar cremation ground.

The news agency quoted a gravedigger, Mubarak Shah, as saying: "Bodies are still being brought in by the dozens (and) we are in fact digging out old graves to bury them."

Arjun Singh, chief minister of the Madhya Pradesh state, told reporters he could confirm 620 deaths and said an estimated 50,000 residents had been treated for gas exposure. Most suffered chest pains, nausea, red eyes and breathing difficulties, he said.

Indian technical experts today began an investigation to pinpoint blame for the gas leakage, inspecting the U.S.-built Union Carbide India Ltd. plant where the leak occurred.

Environmental Minister T.N. Khoshoo said investigators have yet to determine the cause of the leak.

A Union Carbide spokesman in Bombay said his company was negotiating with Indian authorities on compensation to the victims. P. K. Akerkar, the spokesman, said the company would pay compensation but declined to specify if the government had requested payment.

Union Carbide Corp. has halted production and shipment of methyl isocyanate, the gas that leaked, in Bhopal and at its plant in West Virginia.

Most of the dead were children and old people who could not withstand the poisonous gas that leaked from an underground tank at the Union Carbide plant.

Gas explosion traps 96 in mine

TAIPEI, Taiwan (AP) — An explosion believed caused by leaking gas ripped through a coal mine near Taipei today, trapping 96 miners deep in a tunnel, police reported.

One miner scrambled to safety unharmed moments after the explosion at the Haishan Yikeng Mine and joined rescue teams trying to reach the miners believed trapped in a tunnel 1.2 miles from the mine's entrance, police reported.

Six hours after the early afternoon explosion, rescuers said they had reached a point only one-quarter of the distance to the miners because their progress was being hampered by cave-ins and debris that had blocked sections of the tunnel.

Radio stations, quoting unidentified rescuers, said there were fears the miners were trapped in an area of heavy poisonous carbon monoxide gas. They said radio communications with the miners had suddenly ceased.

The radio broadcasts could not be immediately confirmed.

Families of the trapped miners, many weeping and praying silently, converged on the mine, 16 miles southwest of Taipei, minutes after news of the explosion. They were later joined by Taiwan Provincial Gov. Chiu Chuang-huan.

In July, 103 miners were killed in Taiwan's worst mining disaster when a fire swept through a mine near Taipei. This resulted in a government investigation of safety measures, the closure of 70 mines considered unsafe, and orders to several others to install safety equipment before being allowed to resume operations.

Slain passenger is U.S. official

according to Kuwaiti hijackers

By The Associated Press

Hijackers holding a Kuwaiti airliner at Tehran's airport say the passenger they shot and killed was a U.S. diplomat, Iran's official news agency reported today. U.S. officials, however, said they could not confirm the report.

The armed hijackers commandeered the Kuwait Airways Airbus A-300 with 161 people aboard Tuesday on a flight from Kuwait to Pakistan. They diverted the plane to Tehran's Mehrabad Airport, where the shooting reportedly occurred shortly after landing.

The wounded passenger was dumped out the door of the plane, and Iran's Islamic Republic News Agency said he was declared dead upon arrival at an airport medical center.

About 70 people, mostly women passengers and a few crew members, were reported released Tuesday night and today. Kuwait Airways said 120 of the 150 passengers were Pakistanis.

U.S., Mexican firemen fight blaze in Tijuana

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — Firefighters overcame a severe water shortage to contain a spectacular blaze that sent flames crackling through a city block, destroying four commercial buildings, authorities said today.

"The city block is gone," said Denis McNeill, a spokesman for the San Diego Fire Department, which rushed personnel and equipment to help fight the Tuesday night blaze one-half mile across the border.

More than 200 U.S. and Mexican firefighters battled the inferno for about six hours before it was declared contained at midnight, McNeill said. Firefighters remained to extinguish pockets of flames that continued to burn in the buildings, he said.

There were no reports of injuries among civilians, but two Tijuana firefighters were overcome by smoke.

Two Mexican firefighters narrowly escaped injury.

Volcano erupts in Hawaii

VOLCANO, Hawaii (AP) — Red-hot glowing lava roared skyward in fountains up to 1,500 feet high before tapering off and abruptly halting Tuesday in the latest eruption of Kilauea Volcano on the island of Hawaii, scientists said.

The volcano, which has erupted intermittently since Jan. 3, 1983, broke a 13-day quiet period Monday night, when molten rock spewed 1,200 to 1,500 feet in the air. By Tuesday, the fountains had shrunk to 600 to 800 feet, then halted at 9:41 a.m.

Geologists flying over the eruption site in a helicopter reported the main lava flow had moved to within about two miles of the Royal Gardens subdivision, where previous flows have destroyed 18 houses with an estimated value of $4 million.

The leading edge of the flow had been advancing at a rate of 150 yards per hour.

Simpler tax plan complicates oil

Approval of the Treasury Department's tax simplification plan could write obituary notices for independent oil and gas producers who already are walking thin ice to remain in operation. Treasury Secretary Donald Regan acknowledged as much this week in discussing his tax plan in Washington.

Regan insists that "if there's an economic reason for drilling... there still will be plenty of drilling for oil." That is good theory, but practice dictates that as the economic incentive for drilling declines, so does the pace of drilling.

There is inherent risk in oil exploration. Independents, being the hardy breed they are, will run those risks in search of more crude if there is sufficient reward should the expensive drilling venture bear fruit. In recent years, the risk of a dry hole has increased the wariness of investors because the rewards have declined.

President Carter's punitive windfall profits tax was the first fence thrown up. Sputtering oil prices of late have taken their toll. Tax disincentives would be one more burden, and for some, the proverbial straw.

Tax policy should be viewed in the light of overall worth, not from the glare of special interests. But in the case of the independent producer, the guy who makes his money in a cause that benefits a nation that runs on oil, another tax shock is counterproductive to the whole.

War left up to generals

NEW YORK — In 1962 we lived across the street from the Dean Achesons. The former secretary of state was asked to address a seminar at the Military Academy at West Point. I was a bit player on the same program. The Academy sent a plane to pick up Mr. Acheson, and he invited me along for the ride.

On arrival we were met by the superintendent and an honor guard of cadets. The superintendent was a handsome general of impressive military bearing. He had a trick of arching his neck backward, as if straining at the tightness of his collar. That habit imparted to him the aspect of a commander peering through the fog battle to distant vistas. He looked the picture of every great strategist, from Alexander through George Marshall.

Until he opened his mouth. As soon as he began presenting Acheson to the cadets, he became flustered and started to mix up the names. Before long, he was referring to Cadet Acheson.

William Westmoreland was the name of the general, and he went on to become the commander in Vietnam. Nobody who knew him, and who also knew Lyndon Johnson, could seriously entertain the notion that Westmoreland deceived Johnson on the progress of the war. If wool were pulled over anybody's eyes, if anybody were led around by the nose, it was the other way around. So the question raised by Gen. Westmoreland's libel suit against CBS for its television documentary, "The Uncounted Enemy," is how the program could have gotten the personal relation so upside down.

The impulse came from George Crile, producer of the show. Mr. Crile is a brilliant journalist of extraordinary tenacity who emerged from school in the late 1960s. Like many of his generation he abhorred the war and was prone to look for conspiracy in its genesis and unfolding. As an editor for Harpers magazine, Crile came across an intelligence officer, Sam Adams, who believed data had been suppressed to make the hostile forces seem less potent. Crile believed that story, and he eventually put it on the air for CBS.

A second element is the dramatic nature of TV documentaries, exemplified in this case by the narrator, Mike Wallace. Mr. Wallace is probably the best interviewer on the air, and a large part of his special skill derives from the capacity to set up adversary situations. In the program he telescoped the intelligence data, the Tet offensive of Jan. 30, 1968, and Lyndon Johnson's decision not to seek reelection in March of that year. According to a forthcoming study by Stephen Klaidman and Tom L. Beauchamp of Georgetown University, the program thus left the impression that doctored intelligence data caused Johnson not to seek reelection — which in turn prolonged the war for seven more years.

But how did CBS, with one of the best professional news organizations in the world, become so imprudent in editing a program that tilted so sharply on such a sensitive question? A hint as to the lack of caution is beginning to emerge from the Westmoreland trial, and from the trial of another libel case also being conducted here in New York — the case against Time magazine of Ariel Sharon, the Israeli general who was defense minister at the start of the Lebanese war.

Though entirely different in style and outlook, the two generals have one thing in common. They were highly publicized military commanders in wars that went sour for the same reason. Just as opinion in the U.S. refused to accept the losses sustained in Vietnam, so public opinion in Israel balked at the losses incurred in Lebanon.

As it happens, a single firm — Cravath, Swaine & Moore — represents the defendants in the two cases. In court papers lawyers for the defendants evoked the argument that the two generals were in effect the two governments. The lawyers said that Westmoreland was "inevitably, totally identified with the United States war effort." Any attack on him was "indistinguishable from an attack on the government's military conduct of the war."

The cogency of the argument I leave to others. But at the very least it announces special circumstances. A war that goes sour is not your everyday, garden event. It happens very rarely. It does not, therefore, provide a solid base for establishing guidelines on what becomes the general law of the land. Wise judges will surely want to avoid drawing from the Westmoreland case conclusions that define, in a hard and fast way and for a long time to come, the rights and wrongs of a matter so delicately poised as libel.

Secret Soviet super-poisons

WASHINGTON — High on the agenda of any future disarmament negotiations should be a subject that the Soviets probably won't discuss: their continuing development of biological weapons.

These include the germs and gases that you might expect to find in their forbidden arsenal. But something much more menacing has been added: The Soviets are developing biogenetically engineered poisons.

I first alerted you to this grisly threat last February, when I quoted from one of the grimmest reports to come out of the National Security Council. It warned the president that the Soviets have mastered "gene-splicing techniques as ominous as the atom-splitting discoveries that led to the nuclear bomb."

Now I have more information: The Soviets have hidden their offensive biological warfare program in the Defense Ministry's seventh main directorate, headed by Gen. V.I. Ogarkov. The CIA has determined that the program operates research and production facilities at eight different sites.

Classified CIA reports, obtained by my associate Dale Van Atta, give these chilling assessments of the Soviets' progress in germ warfare:

• The Soviets maintain active research projects on natural poisons far more extensive than would be needed to guard against agricultural infestations or epidemics among the population. One secret CIA report states, "The research is well-supported, involves both military and civilian investigators, and in many cases has been linked with facilities associated with BW (biological warfare) research and development."

• The CIA has learned that the Soviets are investigating a number of specific compounds "which appear to have considerable potential as BW agents." These include "biological active silicon-containing and organofluorine compounds... (and) marine neurotoxins and blue-green algae neurotoxins."

• The CIA has figured out some of the features the Soviet scientists are looking for in their biological agents. These properties include persistence, stability, adaptability to special carrier solutions and the ability to be disseminated in such tiny particles that the poison will penetrate gas masks.

• "Extremely rapid-acting incapacitants are also of growing concern," the CIA reports. Already these knockout gases have been used in Afghanistan, where they are known as "the silent killer" because victims appear to have been flash-frozen without even knowing what hit them.

• The CIA has received reports that describe "Soviet research on a sleep-inducing peptide," which raises the possibility that they're developing other peptides as well for biological-weapons use.

• The CIA has gotten a wealth of information on Soviet biological-weapons operations straight from the horse's mouth — a key Soviet source who was extensively debriefed after defecting.

Some help through life's maze

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: I am facing some big decisions in the next few months. Hopefully I will make the right choices, but how can I know if I am doing the right thing in advance? If I do the wrong thing, I know it will hurt me. — J.W.

DEAR J.W.: The most important thing I can tell you is that God has a plan for your life, and the most important thing you can do is discover his plan and then do it. And remember: God has a plan for your life because he loves you, and wants you to know what is right and best for your life.

What is God's will for your life? First of all, God wants you to commit your life to Jesus Christ as your personal savior and lord. Trust him for your eternal salvation, and follow him each day of your life. Jesus said, "For my Father's will is that everyone who looks to the Son and believes in him shall have eternal life" (John 6:40). Have you asked Christ to come into your life by faith, and are you seeking to put him first in your life?

Then God has a very specific plan for you, and as you face decisions you can turn to him and seek his will. How does God show us his will? First of all, he shows it to us in the Scriptures. Some decisions in life are clear, because God has told us in his word how we are to live. Second, God will guide us by circumstances in our lives. We have to be very sensitive to him in this, but God has given us certain abilities and opportunities, and often God will open a door — an opportunity — for us when we are trusting him. Finally, God often guides us through an inner conviction about the right way to go, which is from the Holy Spirit.

God has promised, "I am the Lord your God, who teaches you what is best for you, who directs you in the way you should go" (Isaiah 48:17). Commit your life to Christ, and he will guide you as you turn to him for wisdom.

Justices meditate over prayer in school

By RICHARD CARELLI
WASHINGTON (AP) — The legitimacy of setting aside daily moments of silence for student prayer or meditation in the nation's public schools was debated Tuesday before a sharply divided Supreme Court.

In a case as politically charged as any on their docket, the justices must decide whether state laws allowing public schools to provide such periods may mention "prayer" as one possible activity during the silence.

Numerous political candidates this year — including President Reagan — called for a return of organized prayer in public schools. As Sen. Jeremiah Denton, R-Ala., told reporters Tuesday, school prayer is one way of restoring "morality and ethics as a centerpiece of American democracy."

Reagan administration lawyer Paul Bator told the high court that laws such as Alabama's "enhance the opportunity for students to bring silent prayer as part of their activities at school" as he defended an Alabama law that allowed moments of silence for "meditation or voluntary prayer."

At least 22 other states have moment of silence laws, but not all of them mention prayer.

Baton Rouge, La., lawyer John Baker Jr., defending the Alabama law for Gov. George Wallace, said it does not coerce students to pray. "No one knows whether fellow students are praying, meditating or vegetating," he said.

But Mobile, Ala., lawyer Ronnie Williams portrayed the law as a "blatant attempt" to get around a 1962 Supreme Court decision banning organized prayer sessions from public schools.

A federal appeals court struck down the Alabama law, ruling that it violated the constitutionally required separation of church and state.

But Baker said the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals was wrong, and added that the invalidated 1961 law merely "accommodates those who by conscience feel compelled to open their school day with prayer."

When Justice John Paul Stevens pressed Baker to explain why a 1978 Alabama moment of silence law — which does not mention prayer — would not suffice as well, Baker said many people did not realize they could spend the silent time praying.

"Many people are under the impression that students don't have the right to pray silently," Baker said. "Certainly it cannot be unconstitutional for a statute to merely inform students about the possibility of prayer during this period."

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger appeared sympathetic to Baker's contention, at one point asking Williams, "Is a teacher telling students anything more than what the Constitution guarantees — that they have a right to pray silently?"

But Justice Thurgood Marshall, suggesting that the law's real purpose was to promote prayer, asked Bator: "Didn't (students) have the right to pray silently before this statute was passed?"

Bator acknowledged that it is impossible to prevent someone from praying silently, but added that the Alabama law is an attempt to create a moment of tranquility for students who want to do so.

Return local control of schools

To the editor:

I feel it's time that the people of Texas finally rise up and expose our statist-minded Governor, who is influenced or controlled by an out-of-work computer magnate. People, as a Texas educator and experienced implementer of the now "inefficient education reform plan," I beg you to find out what is happening in your local schools. (Actually, they are not yours now, because you have lost most of your local control).

The Governor and Mr. Perot pushed through a finance bill which now, several months later, (San Angelo Standard Times, October 9, 1984) is full of paper work problems. According to Gov. White, it is because of professional educators. How can that be? The Governor wrote the law, dictated it to our schools, cursed us for dragging our feet, and now says it's our fault. Mark White, get your story straight!

I believe our government felt outside pressure to implement something. It turns out that it is going to cost taxpayers a lot of money, and the measured outcome, if any, will not justify the cost. Parents, if you care about your child's future, visit your local school and see what's going on. It's time that we the people stand up and fight for our rights as American citizens to decide at our local level what is best for our children. That is the way our forefathers intended it to be conducted. That is our right; give it up and we invite socialism. I stand ready to fight for my rights.

School reform is ungodly idea

To the Editor:

One half of our State budget (9.5 billion) is spent on education, without a direct voice in how it is to be spent, due to the fact that we now have an appointed State Board of Education. Local superintendents and school boards are merely assigned the task of carrying out the mandates of the State. Who will now listen to us parents?

Out of the 94 pages of H.B. 72, only 3 1/2 lines are attributed to "getting back to basics." Much of it is anti-family, and is counterproductive to good education. As of Sept. 1986, we parents will be told to "understand AND CONSENT to the responsibilities... of the district." Parental "involvement" will require attending parent training workshops of the State. Extracurricular activities are to be set up to encourage weekend activities. In past years, our children could participate in piano, educational and Christian activities, and be allowed excused absences. This year these are unexcused. With five unexcused absences, they would fail the semester.

Texans must let their legislators know that they should "eat the meat and spit out the bones" of H.B. 72. Unfortunately, we have only a few short weeks left to speak up, that they can voice our wishes concerning the upcoming amendments in the January session.

During the past summer special session, a Senator from El Paso proclaimed that "children are the wards of the State until they are eighteen." Would you be willing to stand against such an ungodly philosophy as this? Get involved immediately.

Dear Abby

Parents' will gets in way of children

DEAR ABBY: My brother, sisters and I are trying to deal with an issue I'm sure you hear about often: Our parents do not have a will.

I am 52 and the oldest of eight children. My father is 78 and in very poor health. My mother is 71, and she is also in poor health and failing fast.

Over the years when they were in better health, we tried to get them to draw up their wills, but they wouldn't even discuss it. Now that they're both ailing, it's even more difficult to get them to face reality. Two of my brothers tried to bring it up last Christmas, but Mom and Dad both pretended they didn't hear. My sister mentioned it again last August, but the folks refused to talk about it.

I know I'm not alone in this dilemma, but that doesn't help me. Do you, or any of your readers, have any suggestions?

FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Perhaps if your parents' lawyer were to tell them what would happen to their estate should they die without leaving a will, they would make one. (Maybe not.)

I think you children have said enough. Quit nagging them about it, or they might call in a food taster.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter (educated, attractive, poised mid-20s) told me two years ago that she is gay. (I don't want to go into details for fear of detection.)

"Mary" spoke to a therapist at my suggestion, who told her, "It's your life, you are over 21, and if you're happy, you don't have a problem."

I spoke to another therapist at the same time who told me, "Learn to accept it or lose your child."

My husband and I refuse to accept it. We love our daughter very much and have always been supportive of her, but this is too much. It is affecting everything we do.

Is there hope for a reversal? We can't get her to see another therapist. I guess I'm looking for a miracle. Is there a support group for parents? Will they send information in a "plain brown wrapper"? I have many unanswered questions. Please don't use my name or city, either.

DISTRAUGHT MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I can't give you any better advice than the therapist gave you. If your daughter is happy, she has no problem. If you can't accept her, then you have a problem. Don't look for a miracle and don't hope for a reversal.

Dr. Donohue

Flat feet need muscle strength

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My feet have been as flat as pancakes since I was a kid. I remember an aunt telling me to pick up marbles with my toes and that would give me an arch. I did it for years, I mean years. It didn't help. Now here I am a "born-again" athlete. I wonder if I should give the marble routine another chance and put more into it. Will it help at my age? — Mrs. D.S.Z.

Your aunt had the right idea, but for the wrong reason. Exercise won't help you build an arch.

The foot arch is formed and held in position by ligaments, which are dense fibers in more or less permanent position. Think of them as being like supporting cables on a suspension bridge. Some people have ligaments that permit the flattening of the foot bottom. The arch isn't formed. Foot exercises won't change that.

That's one part of the story. The other part has to do with the problem flat feet pose. The person with the fallen arch has trouble keeping his foot in perfect alignment with his leg when the sole strikes the ground. That can lead to lots of trouble with both the foot and leg. You can overcome such problems with shoe inserts, and I'd advise you to see a doctor about that.

Now, about the exercises. They are good for people with flat feet. The foot has 38 muscles involved in maintaining that alignment I mentioned. The more you strengthen them, the better you'll be able to move around athletically to overcome the flatness. Using the toes to pick up marbles is one of the recommended exercises. Your aunt was right.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am 87. I really suffer from insomnia, so I take wine every night to help me. I start with a 4-ounce glass. Then if I still cannot sleep I will have a little more, about three ounces. Now lately, I have noticed broken blood vessels in my arms. I want to know if the wine is doing this. — Mrs. J.S. I can't find anything to support the idea that wine would do this. I doubt it very much. Let me take the opportunity, though, to comment on your sleep difficulty.

Neither wine nor any alcohol will really help you get the sleep you need. It might make you a bit drowsy, but it tends to cause a rebound awakening. That's especially so if the amount of liquid involved is as much as you mention — close to a pint. That's imposing a nocturnal burden on your kidneys.

Now, everybody's different. I can't argue with your sleep aid if it is really helping you. But as I said, I cannot relate the wine to your broken skin blood vessels. You should probably report that.

Perhaps your doctor will see fit to prescribe a very mild medication to let you get to sleep. I don't want you sitting up all night sipping wine.

There's an old saying — if your feet hurt, you hurt all over. Dr. Donohue's booklet, "Relief and Care of Your Feet," shows you how to avoid and take care of foot problems. Pokes 'fired up' for Washington

DALLAS (AP) — Tom Landry's emotions are usually hidden under a thick skin, but Washington Redskins week is always special for the 25-year veteran coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

"You always get fired up for the great teams," Landry said on Tuesday.

One of American Express' often-repeated "Do you know me?" television commercials showed Landry in cowboy garb surrounded by Washington Redskins.

"I imagine they'll dust that thing off one more time," Landry said. "I guess they'll have one more run of it."

Landry uses the Redskins as a measuring stick for his own team. "Washington is better overall than they were last year," Landry said. "That's why we will have to play with them from the first. You can't let them get on you."

Landry had some good news from the Cowboy team physicians on Tuesday. Injured offensive tackle Phil Pozderac may play this Sunday against Washington.

"We feel there is a good chance Pozderac will be ready to go," Landry said.

Landry also has given Danny White a starting vote of confidence at quarterback although the Cowboys' veteran quarterback. White suffered four interceptions and completed only 32 per cent of his passes in a 26-10 victory over Philadelphia Sunday.

"Danny didn't have a good day but he's a professional and we expect him to play well this week," Landry said. "It didn't change my opinion of him."

Also, Landry said starting right guard Kurt Petersen, who has missed the last two weeks, "might be available for spot play."

The Cowboys and Redskins, two of three teams tied atop the National Conference Eastern Division race with 9-5 records, tangle at 3 p.m. in Texas Stadium. Oddsmakers have rated the game even.

Landry admitted the Cowboys were "a very unpredictable team."

He said the Cowboys had an outside shot at going to the Super Bowl.

"We're capable of it but we can't beat any of the teams left on our schedule (Washington and Miami) playing the way we did Sunday," Landry said.

The Redskins whipped the Cowboys 34-14 on Oct. 14 in Washington with Gary Hogeboom as the starting quarterback.

"We played a strong emotional game but made three or four mistakes that killed us," Landry said of the prior meeting.

Landry said the Dallas defense was holding the team together.

"We have played extremely well the last couple of weeks," Landry said. "We have the type of defense that can win a Super Bowl."

COWBOYS ARE READY — Dallas Cowboys wide receiver Tony Hill gives the number one sign after Dallas had defeated Philadelphia last Sunday. This week the Cowboys face the Washington Redskins in a battle for first place in the NFC East.

Lamesa holds off last quarter Steers rally

LAMESA — The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes held off a furious fourth quarter comeback by the Big Spring Steers to take a 83-82 victory.

Trailing 71-57 going into the final stanza, the Steers fashioned a spirited comeback, led by Arthur Jackson and Bernard Williams; only to see their effort fall short when Lamesa's Jerry Mason hit the winning baskets with 40 seconds remaining in the contest.

Mason, a 6-3 junior ripped the Steers defense for 36 points.

The Steers had a balanced scoring attack which saw four players score in double figures. Mike Leuschner and Jackson led the way with 18 points each. Williams added 16 and freshmen Brian Mayfield added 13.

Mayfield also pulled down six rebounds while Leuschner and Billy Cole grabbed eight caroms each.

Big Spring is now 1-5 for the season, three of those losses have been by a combined total of five points.

The Steers next competition will be Thursday at 2:45 p.m. when they

Lubbock Dunbar trips Lady Steers, 61-55

LUBBOCK — In a contest of fouls and turnovers, the Lubbock Dunbar Panthers defeated the Big Spring Lady Steers 61-55 in non-district play.

Despite being whistled for 27 fouls and having three players foul out, the Panthers won the battle of numbers with the Lady Steers.

The Lady Steers, which only seven players on the squad, lost three players to fouls and had to play the final two minutes of the contest with only four players.

The Lady Steers opened up a 21-20 first quarter lead as they connected on eight of 13 shots from the field. In the second period they cooled off, connecting on just two of 12 shots as Dunbar took a 37-30 halftime lead.

Neither team took very good care of the ball; Big Spring committed 41 turnovers, compared to 38 for the Panthers.

Going into the final quarter the Lady Steers trailed 47-41 and they started their comeback bid.

Sophomore Sheri Myrick led the way as she gunned in nine points in the final quarter before fouling out. Myrick led all scorers with 23 points; a season-high for the 6-0 post player. She was also top rebounder for Big Spring with eight.

Neither team shot very well from the line, Big Spring made just 13 of 31 attempts while Dunbar: now 3-4 for the season, connected on 14 of 28 attempts.

The Lady Steers record are now 0-6 for the season.

Their next competition will be Friday at 6:45 p.m. in the Midland tournament versus Del Rio.

Lendl upset in Australia

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — South African Kevin Curren knocked top seed Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia out of the $1.28 million Australian Open Tennis Championships and advanced to the quarterfinals.

In another match two-time former champion Johan Kriek, the fourth seed romped into the semifinals with a straight sets victory over No. 5 seed Pat Cash of Australia 7-5, 6-1, 7-6.

Curren, who had never before beaten Lendl, won the fourth round match 6-1, 7-6, 6-4.

UNLV in California Bowl

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Pacific Coast Athletic Association has decided to allow the University of Nevada-Las Vegas to participate in the California Bowl, despite some questions concerning eligibility of four players.

The four, including three defensive starters, were held out of last Saturday's regular season final game after the eligibility question arose last week. An anonymous letter was sent to the NCAA, the league's eight athletic directors and at least one media outlet.

The letter raised questions about when the four players took the General Education Development test, a high school equivalency exam.

NEW YORK (AP) — Doug Moe, who guided the Denver Nuggets to their best National Basketball Association start and the best record in the Western Conference at 12-3, was named as November's NBA Coach of the Month.

Grady, B-County place 11 on All-District squad

District champs Highland Hornets dominated the All-District 4-A Six-Man South Zone selections with 10 Hornets being named to the elite squad.

District runner-up Grady placed seven selections on the squad while Borden County had five selections to the team.

Grady was paced by junior quarterback Luis Gonzales who completed over 80 percent of his passes for over 500 yards while leading his team to post season play. He was joined on the first squad by junior receiver Terry Deatherage who caught 42 passes for 790 yards and senior running back Dennis Sawyer who gained 909 yards in regular-season play.

Sawyer was joined in the backfield by Borden County junior Chris Cooley who led all rushers with 2,080 yards. Senior punter Dennis Buchanan were also named to the first team.

Defensively Grady placed senior lineman Stacy Stribling, senior linebacker Charlie Perez and Sawyer at safety on the first team. Borden County was paced by sophomore lineman Tommy Soto on the first defensive squad.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR THURSDAY, DEC. 6, 1984

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day to keep your feet on the ground and to look into and have your activity along those lines where you can gain practical benefits. After an early delay, you have a good time.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Avoid taking up some monetary affair with another during the morning. Talk to a bigwig about any needs you may have.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You may feel upset about gaining a personal wish, but soon forget all about it and can have a good time at amusements.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You may get a late start because of another person's wishes, but later can see those individuals who can be of help to you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) A pal could keep you from getting an early start on that plan you have in mind! Later go right through with it.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) You have career tasks to perform, so get right at them. Accomplish a good deal with less trouble than usual.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make sure you know what recreations will cost before you set up any appointments for same. Socialize this evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Plan how to rid yourself of obligations you have assumed and start a more workable budget for yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Compromising with an associate who is stubborn can result in a fine agreement today. Study public happenings.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You may get a slow start at work, but will later organize it will and accomplish a good deal today.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You may not be able to afford some pleasure you have in mind, so look for something less expensive to do.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get practical matters at home nicely handled and don't permit some financial affair to deter your progress at home.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study data you need so that you can make your routines operate more efficiently and profitably. See advisors who can help.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be highly magnetic and will be thinking of fame and fortune and should have a good education, but at schools where the finest tenets and principles will be taught. Teach early to be more broad-minded for greatest success during the lifetime.

Travel enthusiasts submit recipes for favorite dishes

By TINA STEFFEN
Lifestyle Editor

The Big Spring Western Drifters members submitted a few of their favorites recipes for today's Herald Recipe Exchange.

The Western Drifters, a branch of the Good Sam Club, is a travel club. All the members have recreational vehicles and gather together for meetings, pot luck suppers, and to make monthly camping trips at various locations. They play games and have fellowship during the campouts and meetings.

When they take a camping trip, the club tries to go camping within a 200 mile radius of Big Spring because some members work. Once a year, the club goes camping at places such as Cloudford, N.M. or Ruidoso, N.M. for two weeks.

The club has 42 active members. They will celebrate the holidays with an all-day Christmas Party at Kentwood Center, Dec. 15. Anyone interested in meeting with the club is invited to come by the party that afternoon. For more information about Western Drifters, call Ellen Miller, secretary, at 263-3474.

David Taylor wants recipes for any dish that contains almonds, including a recipe for how to blanch almonds. If you have a recipe for Mr. Taylor or any recipe you would like to share, send it to the Herald Recipe Exchange, Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

CORN BREAD SALAD

Ruth Bennett
1 pkg. corn bread mix
Cook mix according to directions, cool and break into small pieces. Mix with:
3/4 cup fine chopped green peppers
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tsp. prepared mustard
1 cup real mayonnaise
Add just before serving:
1 cup fine chopped tomatoes
Very good served with fried chicken.

ELLEN'S HOMEMADE CHILI

Ellen Miller
2 lbs. ground meat (coarse)
1 can tomatoes (16 oz.)
1 can tomato soup
1 (4 oz.) can mushrooms
1 medium onion, chopped
1 medium green pepper, chopped
2 Tbsps. chili powder
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. Tabasco sauce
1 #2 can pinto beans
2 Tbsps. bacon fat

In large pan put bacon fat, meat, onion. Cook 15 minutes. Add all other ingredients and simmer 30 minutes. This is real good served with rice. Serves 6.

LAZY DAISY CAKE

Maxine Barkley
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup milk
1 Tbsp. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
Beat eggs and sugar, add dry ingredients. Scald milk, add butter, beat into above mixture. Mix well, add vanilla. Bake in 9 x 13 pan at 325 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

FILLING

3/4 cup brown sugar
5 Tbsps. butter
4 Tbsps. sweet cream
1 cup coconut
Put in pan and melt butter and sugar, mix well and spread on cooked cake. Brown under broiler for a few minutes.

ELECTRIC SKILLET MEAT LOAF AND POTATOES

Jo Anna Marshall
1 lb. meat (ground)
6 potatoes, cubed
1 onion, chopped
1/4 cup oatmeal
1 can onion (clear) soup (not creamed)
1 small can Carnation milk
1 1/2 Tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
Salt
Pepper
Seasoned salt
Combine ingredients except soup and potatoes. Form in two large patties. Brown in small amount of oil, on both sides. Place cubed potatoes around patties, pour soup over all of it and simmer until done. Use electric skillet for best results.

CHEESECAKE

Sandy Wright
2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/2 cup margarine, softened
1 1/2 cup sugar
3 (8 oz.) pkgs. cream cheese
2 tps. vanilla extract
3 eggs
1 cup sour cream
1 (21 oz.) can cherry pie filling
Thoroughly blend first two ingredients and 1/2 cup sugar. Press firmly against bottom and 2 1/2 inches up sides of an 8-inch springform pan. Beat cream cheese until fluffy. Gradually add remaining 1 cup sugar and vanilla extract. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Blend in sour cream. Spread in prepared pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 60 to 70 minutes or until firm. Turn off oven. Leaving door ajar, allow cheesecake to remain in oven for one hour. Cool in pan. Chill 4 hours, or overnight. Remove side of pan. Top with cherry pie filling. Makes 10 wedges (2 1/4 inches).

FROZEN CRANBERRY SALAD

Marie Nichols
1 can whole cranberry sauce
2 bananas, mashed
1 (8 oz.) can crushed pineapple
1 cup chopped pecans
1 pkg. unflavored gelatin
1/2 pt. whip cream
Small marshmallows if desired
Combine cranberry sauce, bananas, pineapple and pecans. Sprinkle gelatin over fruit, and fold whipped cream into mixture. Pour into bowl or mold and freeze overnight.

FRENCH TOAST

Mary Olson
2 Tbsps. corn syrup (light or dark)
1/2 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 loaf unsliced bread
5 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tsp. vanilla
Pinch of salt
Combine syrup, butter, brown sugar, and simmer until syrupy. Pour into 9 x 13-inch pan. Slice bread thick and put on top of mixture. Beat eggs, milk, vanilla, salt and pour over bread. Cover pan and refrigerate overnight. Preheat oven to 350 degrees and bake uncovered for 45 minutes.

SQUASH PATTIES

Mildred Hoch
3 cups grated squash
3 Tbsps. bell pepper (more if you wish)
1 grated onion
Dash of pepper
Mix together. In separate bowl, mix:
1 egg
1 cup flour
1/2 cup milk
2 Tbsps. oil
2 Tbsps. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
Mix together and add above ingredients. Drop by spoonful in hot oil and fry until done. Drain and serve warm.

BANANA NUT BREAD

Nelene Wright
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup chopped pecans
1/2 cup oleo or butter
1 cup mashed bananas
2 1/2 cup sifted flour
1 tsp. soda in 1/2 cup buttermilk
1 tsp. vanilla
Mix together sugar, eggs, butter and bananas. Then add flour, stir. Then add buttermilk and soda. Add pecans and vanilla. Mix well. Bake in 350 degree oven for 50 minutes in loaf pan. VARIATION: Pumpkin or applesauce may be used in place of bananas

COKE SALAD

Virginia Bryant
8 oz. coke
1 family size cherry Jello
1 #2 can crushed pineapple (15 1/2 oz. size)
1 can dark sweet pitted cherries
1 cup chopped nuts
