Cops crack kids' burglary ring

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

Big Spring police this month solved 40 burglaries and thefts that occurred since 1981, Police Lt. Jerry Edwards said today in a news conference.

The burglaries and thefts police say they solved included between 20 and 25 offenses committed by a "professional" burglar on parole in Big Spring, and 12 thefts and burglaries committed by a ring of five juvenile boys, he said.

Roy Dean Boyd, 29, of 104 Algerita — who police say is a suspect in 20 to 25 burglaries in Howard County, Midland and Garden City — remains in custody in the city jail on a parole violation warrant for terroristic threats, according to police and parole officer David Harman.

Boyd, who was first arrested

Dec. 28, 1984, at Fox's Pawn Shop, has made statements to police concerning the crimes, Edwards said. He was arrested on the parole warrant on Jan. 24.

He was on parole for three counts of burglary of a habitation and was sentenced to 15 years, according to Harman.

He is scheduled to be transferred to the Texas Department of Corrections next week, Edwards said.

Police said there is a possibility Boyd could help them solve more burglaries before his transfer.

Police say they expect little property to be recovered from the string of burglaries, which stretch back almost two years, they said. Items taken in the burglaries were mostly guns, silver, coin collections and jewelry, which is usually melted down and sold, Edwards said.

Most of the property already has been "funneled out of the Big Spring area," and some has left the state, Edwards said.

According to Sgt. Bud Jones, the minimum amount of property taken in the string of burglaries is between $40,000 and $45,000.

Drug suspects won't get bail

Three locked up in Lubbock

By KEELY COGHLAN Staff Writer

Three men, arrested Jan. 26 in Big Spring on federal drug-related offenses by undercover officers, will remain in jail in Lubbock until their trials.

U.S. Magistrate J.Q. Warnick Jr. of Lubbock ruled Thursday that the three men — two of whom were on parole and the other on probation — posed a "threat to society," as defined by a federal law enacted last year.

Warnick said he detained Robert Marquez, 39, of Gail Route; Christine T. Munoz, 29, of Midland; and Ynez Yanez III, 31, of 509 W. 11th in jail without bond after the Thursday hearing.

Marquez and Munoz were arrested at the Holiday Inn parking lot in Big Spring after they allegedly sold 6 ounces of what officers say is cocaine to undercover agents, Big Spring Police Chief Rick Turner said.

The undercover operation was a joint effort by the Midland Department of Public Safety narcotics division, the Midland office of the Drug Enforcement Agency, a DEA task force from Lubbock and the Big Spring Police Department, Turner said.

Warnick said each of the three men detained were charged with an offense under the federal Controlled Substances Act that carries a potential punishment of more than 10 years in prison. A person charged under the Controlled Substances Act is presumed to be "a threat to society," Warnick said.

Marquez is being detained on an indictment of delivery of a controlled substance for the Oct. 22, 1984, sale of 4 ounces of cocaine to undercover officers, Warnick said.

"During the hearing, the testimony also showed he was the seller of 6 ounces of cocaine on Jan. 26, 1985, (when he was arrested)," Warnick said. "I found him to be a threat to the community."

Marquez, who listed his occupation on police records as a housebuilder and an employee of T. Marquez Jr. and Sons TV and Radio Repair, was on state parole for a three-year felony theft conviction in Howard County at the time of his arrest, according to police and his parole officer, David Harman of Big Spring.

He also was convicted in 1978 in 118th District Court on felony possession of 19 ounces of marijuana, for which he received a probation sentence. The probation was revoked when he was convicted on the theft charge, Warnick said.

Munoz' hearing also was based on federal indictments on drug-related charges that stemmed from incidents before his arrest Jan. 26, Warnick said.

Munoz was indicted for two counts of delivery of a controlled substance — for the Oct. 2, 1984, sale of 6 grams and the Oct. 30, 1984, sale of 4 ounces of cocaine, Warnick said.

In May 1979, Munoz was on federal parole for a conviction in U.S. District Court in Phoenix, Ariz., on two counts involving the cocaine, Warnick said. He also faces five indictments in Midland County for five separate charges of delivery of cocaine. The indictments were returned Jan. 30, he said.

In addition, Munoz had been convicted twice for misdemeanor possession of marijuana, in Alpine in 1976 and in Midland in 1977, Warnick said.

Munoz listed his occupation as an electrician with Crow Electric of Midland, according to Big Spring Suspects page 2-A

N-plant to get outside help

ARLINGTON (AP) — The Comanche Peak nuclear power project has a history of construction and engineering mistakes, and changes at the plant will be made under the direction of independent consultants, a top official of Texas Utilities says.

"Comanche Peak has been down a rather rocky road in the last several months," said Michael Spence, president of Texas Utilities Generating Co. "Construction has been under way for 10 years now. Over that 10-year period of time, there have been construction and engineering deficiencies that arose, and we have aggressively worked to clear those up."

Spence made the comments Thursday at a public meeting before a panel of six senior Nuclear Regulatory Commission officials.

Spence said that resumption of licensing hearings on the plant will be delayed because of a consultants' appraisal, which will increase the estimated $4.56 billion cost of the plant.

JIM HIGHTOWER, Texas agriculture commissioner, says President Reagan doesn't understand farm finance.

Farm genocide

Texas ag boss blasts administration cutbacks

AUSTIN (AP) — President Reagan and his budget director don't understand farmers or their problems, and the administration's new farm proposals prove it, the Texas agriculture commissioner says.

"It isn't just a matter of budget and numbers and statistics and (budget director) David Stockman's madness. It's a deliberate policy of economic genocide," Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower said Thursday.

"It's a killer. At least a third of the commercial operators in this state and across the country will be bankrupt within a year under that program. It's going to destroy the family farm sector," he said in an interview.

Reagan's plans, presented this week to Congress, aim to cut, limit or eliminate price supports, income and loan subsidies, federal farm loans, soil and water conservation, cost-sharing funds, acreage set-asides and many other farm programs.

If adopted, farm state legislators say the Reagan plan would reduce federal outlays to agriculture by 37 percent.

In addition, Stockman made a stinging attack on farm loan aid, saying he can't understand why the government should "refinance bad debt that was willingly incurred by consenting adults." He said farm state congressmen "blackmailed" the administration into action on farm credit problems.

Hightower said Stockman's criticism and the Reagan program demonstrate that they don't understand farm economics.

The agriculture commissioner noted that grain embargos and other federal policies made the federal government a key player in the farm economy.

Stockman's criticism, Hightower said, "is a typical pointy headed bureaucratic sort of view. It's, 'Well, damn the farmers.' It's typical."

The federal government "establishes an economic policy that drives them out of business" and then government officials "point the finger of blame at them," Hightower said. "That's been done before. That's what (President Herbert) Hoover did during the Depression."

Bye-bye blackbirds

Dallas crews battle swarms of grackles

DALLAS (AP) — Lately, when the sun begins to set in downtown Dallas and the stream of rush-hour traffic empties the city's streets, swarms of blackbirds are singing in the dead of night.

Like clockwork, the grackles loom above the historic Texas Schoolbook Depository, where Lee Harvey Oswald allegedly fired the shot that killed President John F. Kennedy. They loop around nearby Dealey Plaza and invade City Hall.

But city officials aren't using chemicals or sonic waves to tackle the grackle problem that has left city parks smelly and full of cackling. Instead of such high-tech tactics, park workers decked in raincoats sneak up behind the blackbirds, banging boards and yelling.

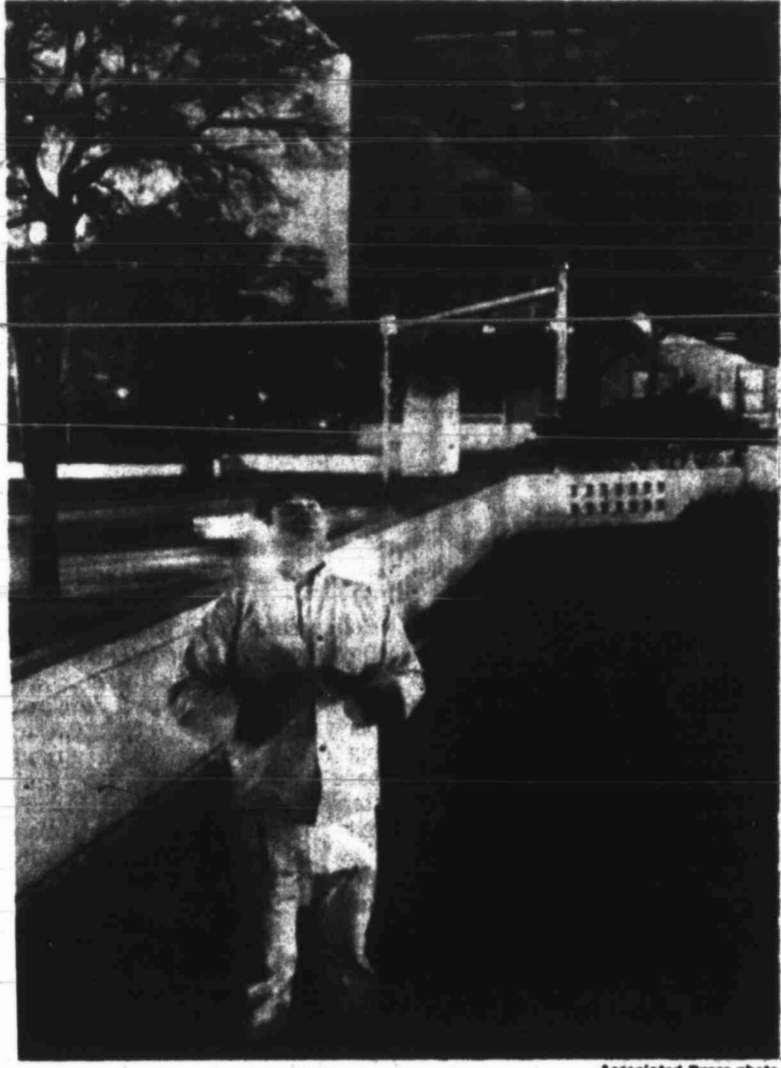

"At 6:15 they'll be here. Thousands of 'em. You wait," said James Trollingier, a worker with the Park and Recreation Department who spent a good part of Thursday evening trying to keep the birds from landing on the rows of live oak trees lining the sidewalks.

So did Felix Thomas and Ramiro Tiliano. Together, the trio watched the sky above Dealey Plaza and knowingly waited for the grackles' prompt arrival.

When the sky blackened and the gawking noise of birds deafened the men's ears, the three workers, armed with 12-inch wooden boards strapped and taped to their wrists, split up into separate areas.

Thomas took the book depository building. Trollingier manned Dealey Plaza and Ramiro headed toward the Old County Courthouse. They weren't the only ones. Another crew of workers manned Ferris Plaza, while another armed City Hall.

"It's like if you got robbed in one place, you would never go back there again," said Trollingier. "What we're trying to do is upset their roosting patterns — just like starving them. Eventually they get the message."

A DALLAS CITY employee bangs together two pieces of plywood to scare off the thousands of grackles that have made a habit of roosting in Dallas.

They clapped their boards together, ran back and forth and they yelled. It got to be a contest of wills.

The birds yelled back. Sometimes they landed. But not for long. "They'll never land as long as there's a racket," said Trollingier, who was ready for anything in his yellow rubber rain suit and matching boots. "Sometimes they get you."

As tourists and passersby walk in front of the site where Kennedy was assassinated, Trollingier raises a few eyebrows. "A lot of people think we're a bunch of nuts," he said. "They must think Dallas is strange."

But Trollingier can tolerate that misconception. He'd rather live with that for a couple of hours a night than scrape two inches of bird-droppings in the morning.

"That's the worst part. Can you imagine people eating lunch with that around them?" asked Trollingier. "I'd rather do this."

The hundreds of thousands of blackbirds struttled into the city Tuesday. Where they came from is apparently a mystery. "We think it's the Trinity River bottom," said Richard Zavala, general supervisor of Parks and Recreation.

All year, the grackles live together. But at nesting time, they separate into smaller groups and make colonies of nests in trees. This appears to be their current aim.

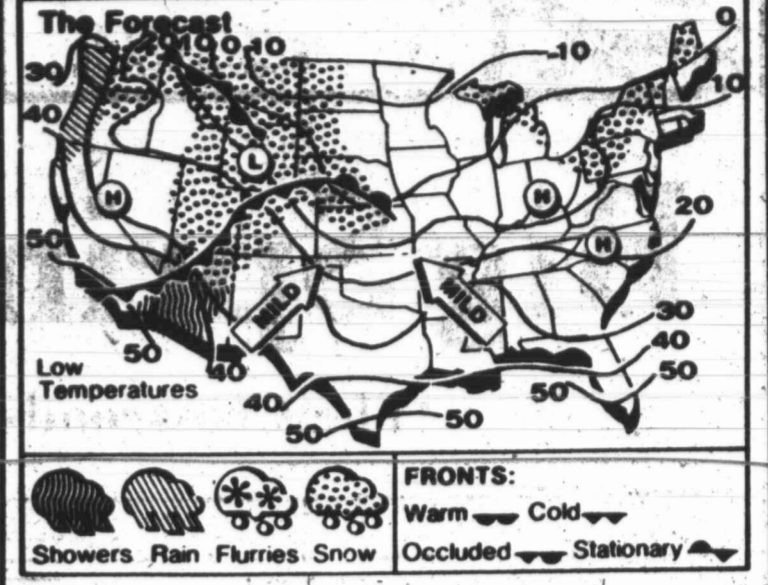

Zavala estimated the blackbird operation will last until Saturday. By then, the grackles should have gotten the message that shiny downtown Dallas is not a roosting place.

"It got to be a cost thing. Cleaning up was costing the city about $2,500 a day," said Zavala, who researched the subject extensively before deciding on the scarecrow method.

"We called the National Parks Service. The birds did the same thing in the White House," said Zavala. "They tried putting long rubber snakes in the trees."

But snakes don't work. "We did the barbaric thing," Zavala said facetiously. "In Denton about two years ago people got out and actually shot the birds, but I think it worked."

Weather

Local

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy Sunday through Tuesday. Not so cold south Sunday morning, cooler all sections Monday. Lows in the 20s and 30s, highs in the 50s and 60s on Sunday, cooling to the 40s and 50s on Monday and Tuesday.

State

Clear to partly cloudy skies and warmer temperatures were forecast for all of Texas today. Skies were clear over the eastern two-thirds of the state as well as in far West Texas early today. Some low clouds were along a thin strip of the state northward from the Lower Rio Grande Valley along the Rio Grande to the Permian Basin and South Plains during the early morning hours.

A ridge of high pressure extended from Northeast Texas southwestward to the Big Bend area. A trough of low pressure was along the Texas-New Mexico border. Winds were light and variable statewide.

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 20s over the northern half of the state and in the 30s and 40s in the southern half. Extremes ranged from 22 at Wichita Falls to 50 at Brownsville.

Forecast

Big Spring and vicinity will see sunny skies and highs in the upper 50s today. Lows tonight will fall into the low 30s. By Saturday, look for sunny skies and highs near 70 degrees. Winds will be southerly.

Bomb threat unfounded

A bomb threat made early today to a family on Algerita was unfounded, police Lt. Jerry Edwards said. "We found no sign of explosives," he said.

E.T. Reynolds of 2206 Algerita told police that someone telephoned him at 1:45 a.m. and told his wife that a bomb was set to explode in his house in 20 minutes.

A 22-year-old Refugio man surrendered to police Thursday on suspicion of being absent without leave from the U.S. military.

Ross Steven Stone remains in custody at the police station while officers confirm whether he left the military, according to Lt.

Edwards. Mary Ann Hefington of 1011 W. Sixth told police that someone stole a red 20-inch bicycle worth $129 from her backyard. The theft occurred between 5 p.m. Wednesday and 7 p.m. Thursday.

Delane Akin of 3301 Cornell told police that someone stole a AM-FM cassette car stereo from her silver 1974 Chevrolet between 8:20 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Thursday while it was parked at Big Spring High School.

Police Thursday also arrested Lorinzo Jackson Jr., 19, of 906 N.W. Second on a robbery warrant.

Suspects

Yanez has not been indicted, but was charged by complaint, for delivery of a controlled substance, specifically 6 ounces of cocaine. He is on probation for a 1980 conviction in 118th District Court in Howard County on felony possession of marijuana and a 1981 conviction in state court in Dallas County for possession of cocaine, Warnick said.

The Howard County conviction carried an eight-year sentence, and the Dallas County conviction a 10-year sentence, Warnick said. Yanez is a barber at the Big Spring State Hospital, according to police records.

Charges stemming from the Jan. 26 arrest will be presented to a federal grand jury in Abilene, Warnick said.

A fourth man arrested Jan. 26 on a federal indictment for conspiracy to deliver cocaine, Tony Marquez, 30, of 1105 E. 15th was released on $15,000 bond last week. Tony Marquez had no prior arrests or convictions, Warnick said.

Firemen extinguish trash fire

A vacant house at 1615 Cardinal, which was burned last weekend in what fire department officials suspect is arson, suffered another $50 of damage from a small trash fire set Thursday afternoon.

Firemen arrived at the house at 3:55 p.m. to find a small pile of trash on fire in the living room, according to department reports. They used five gallons of water to extinguish the fire.

According to Arson Investigator Burr Lea Settles, the fire Thursday was set by neighborhood children. Settles said he had talked to the children and their parents and did not intend to prosecute.

He is still investigating the early Saturday morning fire at the same house, owned by attorney Bob Miller. According to department reports, firemen arrived to find the residents gone from the house, the living room furniture on fire and the television set on.

Settles estimated that $4,000 damage was done in the first fire, which destroyed the kitchen and living room.

On the way back to the station house from the Thursday afternoon fire, firemen spotted another small fire in the back yard of 1108 W. Sixth.

Fire fighters used five to 10 gallons of water to douse the small trash and grass fire, and then returned to the station.

According to the report, the house and property, owned and occupied by Lewis Martinez, suffered no damage.

Farmers

Hightower, who was a close adviser to Democratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale on farm policy, also criticized the Reagan administration's plan to expand federal aid to financially strapped farmers.

The plan would allow bankers to offer farmers lower interest rates on loans backed by federal guarantees. About $625 million of the $650 million in loan guarantees unveiled by Reagan last autumn have gone unused as many lenders refused to accept the requirement that they write off 10 percent of the value of the troubled loans.

Under the new plan, a lender can lower the restructured loan's interest rate, or use a combination of interest reduction and loan capital write off. But the lender's loss must still equal the value of forgiving 10 percent of the loan's value.

Hightower called the plan a "joke" because banks won't do it and farmers still aren't getting high enough prices for crops to make money to repay loans.

"You go ask any banker. Bankers aren't going to do that. And even if they do, you can't just do a sort of restructuring of loans if you don't deal with the need to get prices up for farmers," Hightower said.

"No matter how stretched out your loan payment is, you still have to be able to make an income to pay that loan off. You've got to couple the two."

Burglaries

electricity and little food, to be the ringleader of a juvenile theft and burglary ring that has been active since 1981.

The boy was arrested Feb. 5, Edwards said.

Four other boys, whose ages range up to 16 years, and two adults were also implicated in the crimes, Edwards said.

All the juveniles have been detained by the county juvenile probation officer, but police still are investigating the adults involved in the case, Edwards said.

Because of the time that has expired since the commission of some of the thefts and burglaries, police expect to recover very little property, Jones said.

Crimes the youth engaged in varied from theft, house burglaries and burglaries of service stations to strong-arm robbery, Edwards said.

Welfare agencies in town had been unable or refused to place the 10-year-old because of his violent nature, according to Edwards and police Chief Rick Turner.

The boy, who police said did not regularly attend school, but often ate his only meals at school.

"After we released him, we had to return him to the same environment that probably contributed to his behavior," Edwards said. "We fed him here, but we were unable to keep him because he is a juvenile."

Police also arrested three men suspected in the robbery of a 71-year-old man at Allen's Grocery last week, Edwards said.

Arrested were Lorenzo Jackson Jr., 20, of 906 N.W. Second; Robert Valentine, 25, of 205 N.W. Third; and a 14-year-old boy suspected of participating in the juvenile theft ring, Edwards said.

The two adults were arrested Thursday on robbery warrants, Edwards said.

All three cases were investigated by officers William King, Tony Chavez, Victor Brake, Rick Burt and Sgt. Jones, Edwards said.

No injuries reported in wreck

Big Spring police said no injuries resulted from a two car collision that occurred at Third and Brown this morning.

Drivers involved in the accident were Otto Fredrick May, 80, of Roscoe and Kenneth Gene Hinklin, 21, of 1208 Ridgeroad.

Sheriff's Log

Shooting investigated

Howard County sheriff's deputies are investigating a Lomax man's claim that his wife was shot at Thursday.

The incident occurred south of Lomax on FM 818 early Thursday night, according to Troy Croft of the Garden City Route. Croft said his wife was driving home from work when she was shot at as she passed a light blue vehicle.

According to sheriff's reports, the driver's window was shattered. Estimated loss is $100.

No injuries were reported. Sheriff's deputies are investigating a burglary that occurred between 2 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. Thursday at the A.K. Guthrie Ranch in Forsan.

According to sheriff's reports, someone entered the ranch property by vehicle after cutting the padlock on the gate with bolt cutters.

A 19-inch color TV was reported missing from the house and two saddles were missing from the barn.

According to reports, the house and barn doors were closed, but not locked.

U.S. Border Patrol Agent Al Garcia said that Alejandro Rodriguez, also known as Alex Rios Lopez, 25, of Midland will appear before U.S. Magistrate Darrell Frank Smith in Midland this morning to be arraigned on a felony charge of reentering the United States after deportation.

Garcia said that Rodriguez had been deported last June.

Rodriguez was arrested last week by a Texas Department of Public Safety trooper and cited for DWI, evading arrest, possession of no operator's license, failure to maintain financial responsibility and speeding.

He remained in county jail until yesterday when he was released to U.S. Border Patrol agents.

According to sheriff's reports, county charges against Lopez were withdrawn.

Big Spring police transferred William Jay McNew, 26, of 1008 W. Sixth to county jail after he was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to maintain financial responsibility. He was released on bonds totaling $1,500 set by Municipal Judge Melvin Daratt.

Police transferred William Douglas Graham, 45, of 605 McNew to county jail after he was charged with DWI and driving while license is suspended.

He was released on bonds totaling $1,500 set by Daratt.

Nolan County sheriff's deputies arrested Bobby Boyd, 58, of 1000 E. 20th on a Howard County warrant charging him with issuing a bad check. He was released on $200 bond.

Jamie Escobedo Hernandez, 30, of San Angelo was arrested on a warrant charging him with capias pro fine for his prior DWI judgment.

He began serving a 30-day jail sentence.

Richard Wayne Rains, 18, of Thorndale was released from county jail after serving a 20-day jail sentence ordered by Howard County Judge Milton Kirby.

Rains had earlier been arrested and charged with revocation of probation for DWI.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Maria Rodriguez, 25, of 3311 11th Place on a Presidio County warrant charging her with theft by check. She was released on a $1,000 bond.

Jail shakedown nets knives

EL PASO (AP) — El Paso County Sheriff Leo Samaniego has banned across-the-board contact visits for inmates in the wake of a jail shakedown that netted a raft of contraband, including numerous types of homemade knives, or shanks.

"We can no longer jeopardize the lives of the people who work here and the inmates," Samaniego said Thursday in announcing an end to the monthly contact visits allowed to each inmate.

The sheriff's ban on the visits came after a three-hour cell-to-cell search of the county jail Thursday morning.

Samaniego said the shakedown was prompted by the discovery Tuesday of a or homemade knife in a crawl space above the jail's basement kitchen. Contraband was found in virtually every cell Thursday, the sheriff said.

Included in the confiscated material were shanks, four gallon jars of "moonshine," tattooing devices fashioned from a pen and radio parts, pills and opium pipes, Samaniego said.

State judge errs in ruling

CHATTANOOGA, Ten. — A state judge erred in allowing a self-proclaimed racist to confess to a 1977 synagogue bombing, say defense lawyers seeking to set aside the guilty verdict.

Joseph Paul Franklin, 34, was sentenced to 21 to 31 years in prison after he interrupted closing arguments to admit bombing the Beth Shalom "synagogue of Satan."

His lawyers said Wednesday that the judge's ruling caused "extreme prejudice" for Franklin, who is accused of the 1978 shooting of Hustler magazine publisher Larry Flynt and is serving four life terms for fatally shooting two black men in Utah in 1980.

Bargain met in sex case

MINNEAPOLIS — A plea bargain ended the Minneapolis Children's Theater child sex abuse case with one year's probation for a 23-year-old man who admitted having sex with a 15-year-old girl.

The third-degree criminal sexual conduct charge against former student-apprentice Sean McNellis will be dismissed in one year, a defense lawyer said Wednesday.

Seven people were charged in the case, including the theater's founder, John Clark Donahue, who pleaded guilty to having sex with three 15-year-old male students and is serving a one-year sentence.

Other charges ended in two acquittals, two dismissals and one guilty verdict.

Judge approves awards

HARRISBURG, Pa. — A $1 million award to a 5-year-old boy born with Down's syndrome nine months after the Three Mile Island nuclear accident was among 47 settlements totaling $3.9 million approved by judge.

The parents of Bradley Johnson were among 62 plaintiffs in a 1981 suit that sought damages for injuries allegedly linked to the emission of radioactive gas from the TMI power plant in March 1979, the nation's worst nuclear accident.

Man faces 200 charges

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. — Prosecutors are agreeing to plea bargains for a 28-year-old businessman charged in a gold bullion scam because it would be difficult to try him on the more than 200 charges he faces.

Any trial for James Alderidge would be "extremely long, enormously expensive, and complicated," defense lawyer Thomas Scalfani said Thursday, after judges here and in New York set April sentencing dates on eight plea-bargained charges.

Custom agents escort three men charged Thursday with conspiracy to transport more than $10,000 out of the United States. Altogether $5.8 million was confiscated along with a $3 million twin-engine jet.

Men held without bond following arrests

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Three men arrested while allegedly trying to leave the country with more than $5 million cash were held without bond today pending a federal court hearing.

The three — Gus Maestrales, 38, Oscar Rodriguez-Feo, 48, and Francisco Guirola-Beeche, 34 — made an initial appearance Thursday before U.S. Magistrate Eduardo de Ases who ordered them held until a bond hearing Monday morning.

A federal complaint said the three last month took the same plane to El Salvador after filing a flight plan from Texas to Florida.

A fourth man, Arturo Guerra, 50, was released after being questioned Thursday by federal officials, U.S. Customs spokesman Charles Conroy of Houston said.

"We determined he had no knowledge of the situation and was just hired as a co-pilot," said Ernest Allison of Brownsville, resident district agent in charge of criminal investigation for the U. S. Customs Service.

Maestrales gave his residence as Boca Raton, Fla. Rodriguez-Feo is a native of Cuba, but now lives in Miami. Francisco Guirola-Beeche, gave addresses in Albuquerque, N.M., and Costa Rica, a clerk in the magistrate's office said.

The three are in the Nueces County Jail. They were arrested by U.S. Customs and Immigration and Naturalization Service agents about midnight

Wednesday at Kleberg County Airport as they boarded a T-39 Sabreliner.

They were charged with violating the Currency and Foreign Transaction Reporting Act, which requires anyone taking more than $10,000 in or out of the country to report it to customs agents, Conroy said.

He said customs agents, acting on a tip as well as on information from an on-going investigation of drug smuggling and currency violations, arrested the men.

Department of Public Safety agents and Kleberg County Sheriff's deputies also participated in the arrests.

In addition to the cash, government officials also seized the aircraft, worth an estimated $3 million.

Reports on the exact amount carried by the four differ. DPS records show $5,818,000 was seized, while McAllen Border Patrol headquarters chief Silvestre Reyes said the amount was $5,625,000.

The money displayed at the Customs Service office in Corpus Christi Thursday was packed in seven large suitcases, each guarded by federal agents carrying M-16 rifles.

Each suitcase contained a number of brown paper packages with $10 and $100 bills.

Maestrales was identified as the owner of the Commercial Aviation Enterprises in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and is believed to be the owner of the confiscated T-39 Sabreliner twin-engine jet.

78 killed in rebel attack

KHARTOUM, Sudan — Government troops battled southern rebels who attacked two villages near the Ethiopian border and 78 people were killed in the fighting, the military headquarters said in a statement.

The statement, carried by the official Sudan News Agency, quoted an unidentified military spokesman as saying the rebels attacked the villages of Malwal and Ajiko in Upper Nile province with machine guns on Tuesday.

Sixty rebels, 17 civilians and one soldier were killed in the battle, the source said.

The Sudan People's Liberation Army has been fighting troops in the south since 1963. Rebel grievances against the regime of President Jaafar Nimeiri include the lack of economic development and the imposition of Moslem law. Most of the rebels are Christian or adhere to tribal religions.

Woman faces execution

LAGOS, Nigeria — An American businesswoman who could be sentenced to death before a firing squad in Nigeria if convicted of illegally trafficking in oil will learn her fate on Feb. 27, a special military tribunal announced.

The announcement came after summations by the prosecution and defense Thursday in the trial of Marie Lee McBroom, 59, of Jersey City, N.J.

Mrs. McBroom has pleaded innocent to six counts of exporting petroleum products without a license. The charges are based on a decree published in July, five months after her arrest. Her trial before Judge Adebayo Desalu opened Dec. 10.

Indians clear jungle areas

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — More than 100 Amazon Indians, upset over government delays in demarcating tribal lands, have begun clearing jungle in areas of the northern Amazon claimed by wealthy landowners.

Film shown on the Globo television network Thursday showed the Indians, many wearing war paint and carrying bows and arrows, clearing dense jungle with machetes and axes near Tocantinopolis, 1,620 miles north of Rio de Janeiro.

Church denounces move

DUBLIN, Ireland — Contraceptives would be available to anyone over the age of 18 in the Republic of Ireland under a government bill introduced in Parliament. The Roman Catholic Church immediately denounced the move.

Soviets confirm leader ailing

MOSCOW (AP) — Hours after Soviet officials confirmed Soviet leader Konstantin U. Chernenko was ailing, the official news agency Tass reported he addressed the nation's ruling Politburo.

The 73-year-old Chernenko has not been seen in public or photographed since a televised awards ceremony Dec. 27, leading to speculation that he might be seriously ill.

The mystery of his health deepened Thursday when a Soviet journalist told NBC News that Chernenko was ill but in stable condition.

Also, French television reported a source with the Soviet delegation to the French Communist Party Congress said Chernenko had "an accident of health" on Jan. 14 and lost the use of his speech. In Soviet parlance, an accident of health implies a stroke or heart attack.

But the Tass report said Chernenko had addressed the Politburo meeting on spring agricultural planting. It did not say when the meeting was held but its story was dated Thursday, the day the policy-making body usually meets.

The account of the meeting, though, was unusual in not mentioning the Soviet leader prominently. His name appeared well into the story and after a list of five government officials whose reports were heard.

Tax reform: let the work begin

In the name of sanity, the Congress must simplify American taxation. Over the years, the attempts to make taxation fairer with a labyrinth of loopholes has appeased the wounded interests. But it has nearly killed the taxpayer under a mound of calculations, technicalities and paperwork.

For the harried taxpayer, the system just isn't working anymore.

President Reagan vowed in his state of the union address Wednesday that tax simplification would not be a tax increase in disguise. With that given, the proposals to establish three brackets of taxation and streamline the deductions should get hurrahs from the American worker.

Statistic: In 1979, only 25 percent of all money given to charity was deducted on federal income taxes. Reason: It was simply too much trouble to claim the contribution. That leads to two conclusions: 1) the tax loophole is serving people unevenly and 2) since so little charity is deducted, the loss of the deduction shouldn't cripple philanthropy.

There will be screams more blood-curdling than in the scariest horror show when tax loopholes are tossed out. Each special interest — from the most complicated narrow-purpose enterprise to the homeowner who takes an interest deduction — will wail about the legitimacy of his claim. But Congress should put on the earmuffs and cut away the layers of tax rules which have made the voluntary American tax system unwieldy — and which threaten to cripple it under a crush of paper.

Art Buchwald Journalism faces the readers' scorn

The thing I enjoy most about being a newspaperman is that the public holds me personally responsible for every sin committed by someone in my profession.

Lately I've found myself defending such varied media outlets as Time magazine, CBS and the Wall Street Journal.

What happens is that Americans tend to lump all journalists together, and when somebody goes, anyone who carries a press card must answer to the charges.

Some years back, when I was on the road lecturing, I took the coward's way out by claiming I had nothing to do with a particular story that the public was enraged about. But I noticed how disappointed the people were when I pleaded not guilty.

So recently I decided to make people feel better by admitting I was part of the national media conspiracy to delude the American public.

My last trip to Arizona coincided with the Sharon-Time magazine libel suit verdict. While Time was found innocent of maliciously libeling General Sharon, the jury ruled it was guilty of shoddy reporting.

At a small dinner in Phoenix, I was asked to explain how something like this could happen.

"We ran the story in good faith," I protested. "But the Israelis refused to let us see their secret documents. You have to realize that I write a column, and I can't read everything before it appears in Time magazine. In the past they have had a very good record about their facts, and I've accepted them. But I assure you when I get back home I'm going to make certain the Time editors get their act(s) together."

I thought this would satisfy them, but they weren't going to let me off that easily.

"Where do you stand on the Westmoreland libel trial?" someone asked.

"I wasn't in Vietnam at this time," I replied. "But I have to assume the intelligence figures were fudged to make them acceptable to people on the homefront."

"You people at CBS should have checked before you libeled an American general."

"Since the trial is still going on I'd rather not comment any further about it, other than to say although I had nothing to do with the show, I will take full responsibility if CBS is found to be in error. When it comes to TV news, the buck stops here."

"Can you guarantee us," another person asked, "that it will never happen again?"

"You have my word on it," I assured the entire group. "I have given all three networks instructions that when they produce a documentary, I want to see not only what goes on the air, but what wound up on the cutting room floor."

"You people are drunk with power," a man told me.

"Not all of us," I said defensively. "Some of us are just drunk. But we have a job to do, and although we make mistakes they are never done with malice."

"One more question. Why did you permit a Wall Street Journal columnist to profit from inside information gathered on his job?"

"If he did it — and until his trial is over we have to presume innocence — then I will shake up The Wall Street Journal from top to bottom to see it never happens again."

I made a lot of people in Phoenix happy last weekend. Not only did they have a chance to voice their grievance to someone in the elite Eastern media establishment, but by my behavior I was able to reassure them that their perception of the arrogance and bias of the national press was justified.

Jack Anderson Side effects of AT&T's fallout

WASHINGTON — Few Americans need to be told that the Justice Department's breakup of the Bell System was a blunder that is costing average consumers both money and inconvenience. Rates have gone up; monthly bills are almost indecipherable.

For the pure sport of attacking a monopoly, the department's antitrust division disrupted the best telephone system in the world simply because it was big, efficient and profitable. President Reagan, with his unerring feel for the pulse of America, expressed the consumer's bewilderment succinctly when he was briefed on the divestiture order. He asked: "If it isn't broken, why are we fixing it?"

The situation now, unfortunately, is beyond repair. Like Humpty Dumpty's sad case, there's no way the Bell System can be put back together again. It's now the formidable chore of individual telephone customers to decide which service or combination of services is best for them.

Buy a phone? Lease it from the telephone company? Pay Ma Bell a monthly fee for maintenance or take a chance that nothing will break or wear out? Stick with the company's long-distance service or opt for one of the competitors that, like American Telephone & Telegraph, make their slick patches on television? Whom do you believe — Burt Lancaster? Cliff Robertson? Andy Griffith? What do they know?

I have another question: Where is the government now that we need it? Having caused the problem, the Justice Department's irresponsible trustbusters have offered consumers absolutely no help in solving it. A government that instructs its citizens on everything from burping a baby to building a back porch somehow hasn't found the time or the energy to give telephone users proper guidance on dealing with the AT&T breakup.

There should have been the largest consumer information campaign in the history of the country to go along with the breakup of the largest consumer service in the country," Sam Simon, executive director of TRAC, the Telecommunications Research and Action Center, told my reporter Scott Barrett.

Long-distance service is hopelessly confusing. Pity the poor consumer who tries to check out the various possibilities. In three calls to Western Union, for example, TRAC was given three different answers to a fairly simple and important question: "What is the number of cities from which your service can be used?"

The answers TRAC got were "20," "269" and "128." If the providers of a service don't know what they're offering, how can the poor consumer make a sensible decision?

The confusion over long-distance options is probably hardest on the elderly. Not only do they generally have less money to throw around, but they grew up in an era when the English language was more straightforward than the obfuscatory, pseudo-scientific jargon favored by the phone companies' hucksters today.

Ironically, the confusion has been to the advantage of the Big Bad Wolf of the Justice Department set out to defang. According to the American Association of Retired Persons, the perplexing options have helped convince more than nine out of 10 elderly phone customers to give up the quest for an alternative and stick with AT&T's long-distance service.

The chaos in the marketplace is being exacerbated by the Reagan administration's anti-regulatory philosophy. According to sources, the competing companies are banking on lax or non-existent enforcement of the law by the Federal Communications Commission.

This confidence is not misplaced. When 17 senators signed a letter to the FCC asking it to develop a standard disclosure form for long-distance companies, commission Chairman Mark Fowler replied with a lecture on "the concept of a competitive, unregulated marketplace."

The attitude at the Justice Department — the original source of all the trouble — is equally laissez-faire. "We want to make this as non-regulatory as possible," said Rick Rule, a top antitrust official. Suing action to words, the staff that handles complaints about the divestiture has been cut from about 12 to three in recent months.

The results of this relaxation of enforcement efforts are predictable: The customer will be left pretty much defenseless.

Footnote: The one discernible effort the government has made to cope with the problem it unleashed with the Bell breakup is a modest booklet entitled "A Consumer's Guide to Telephone Service." It was put together by Bell Atlantic for distribution in its area.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
AP White House Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — While asking Congress for action this year on legislation to simplify the income tax system, President Reagan has stepped deftly away from the plan his own Treasury Department proposed on his orders after nearly a year of study.

In his State of the Union address Wednesday night, Reagan pledged support for the concepts presented just two months ago, but he backed off or ignored its most controversial elements.

The Treasury Department has produced an excellent reform plan whose principles will guide the final proposal we will ask you to enact," Reagan told members of the House and Senate.

However, when he specified the elements to be included in an eventual bill, only a shadow of the original remained.

It was one year ago, in his State of the Union address, that Reagan called for "a plan for action to simplify the entire tax code so all taxpayers, big and small, are treated more fairly."

On Wednesday, he adopted the plan he had ordered — but only as a guide to eliminating most brackets in the 15-tiered progressive tax system, and most deductions as well, in order to ensure that all but the poorest wage earners bear a share of the tax burden.

Reagan announced he was directing his new Treasury Secretary, James A. Baker III, to begin working with congressional committees and authors of other so-called "flat tax" plans to draw up bipartisan legislation incorporating these principles:

—A maximum tax rate of 35 percent, "and possibly lower," down from the current 50 percent and equal to the Treasury Department's proposal.

—Preservation of "the mortgage interest deduction families need," which would not set any limits on interest deductions for primary residences.

—A total exemption from federal income taxes for "individuals living at or near the poverty line."

—A significant but unspecified increase in the personal exemption, which the Treasury Department proposed to double from its current $1,000.

—Reduction of corporate tax rates "while maintaining incentives for capital formation."

—Removal of "many tax preferences" and addition of at least two new ones: tax breaks for businesses that open or expand in depressed areas and tax credits for parents who pay tuition to send their children to private or parochial schools.

But Reagan never mentioned the most controversial elements of the Treasury Department plan, such as strict limits on deductions for charitable contributions, elimination of the accelerated depreciation formulas for businesses adopted during his first term and cancellation of the investment tax credit.

Nor was there any mention of Treasury's proposal to do away with the deduction for state and local taxes.

Employers objected to a proposal to tax some health insurance premiums and other fringe benefits, such as group term life insurance and education aid provided by some employers.

Reagan didn't mention them either.

So tax simplification is back on the drawing board with the administration still hoping to produce a bill next month for a major overhaul of the system.

Even if that effort succeeds, Senate Majority Leader Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., says it's going to be "very difficult" to focus congressional attention on tax revision this year, when reining in federal spending to cut record deficits is being given top priority by both parties in both houses.

Let it snow, a whole lot more

By SCOTT FITZGERALD
It is a local topic that has trended more mileage than a used tire. But I can't resist. Yet another view of last week's snowfall.

My attitude towards harsh winter snowfalls is best reflected in a popular Doc Watson song titled "Deep River Blues."

"Let it rain, let it pour, let it rain a whole lot more..." Change "rain" to "snow" for me. I've lived in other areas such as Big Spring where snowfall is the talk of the town because it rarely happens.

When it snows, something metaphysical occurs to me. I accomplish job duties or personal tasks that I normally thought impossible. Sometimes with ease and good luck.

In 1978, New York City received a few unexpected blizzards. The only compliment I received from my boss at Columbia University Press was when I was one of the few who made it to work one morning amidst a blizzard.

"It looks as though you'll work under any condition, Mr. Fitzgerald," he said to me.

If it had only snowed that April, maybe I wouldn't have been laid off from Columbia.

Last Friday's snowfall was another example. As local citizens hibernated, I donned my white sneakers, gracefully glided across the county courthouse lawn and completed all my responsibilities for deadline. That included public records.

Impossible if it had not snowed. Of course I had a little help from considerate people who work in the district clerk's office.

And I can't forget Judge Jim Gregg's generosity in offering his time and services to help us with art work for a Sunday feature story.

Sheriff A.N. Standard initially inspired me when he saw my ridiculous winter garb and said, "I'd provide a man like you a cup of hot chocolate if I was your supervisor at the Herald."

Of course, you've got to be lucky also. When a freak snowfall hit El Paso in the spring of 1963, I — a resident of El Paso at the time — handled it with ease.

I was out-of-town on vacation. A thousand miles away.

Opinions expressed in this column are those of the staff writer and do not necessarily reflect the views of the newspaper's management.

Today

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Feb. 8, the 39th day of 1985. There are 326 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On Feb. 8, 1910, the Boy Scouts of America was incorporated in Washington, D.C.

On this date: In 1587, Mary, Queen of Scots was beheaded after being accused of conspiring against England's Queen Elizabeth I.

In 1693, a charter was granted for the College of William and Mary in Williamsburg, Va.

In 1837, for the only time in its history, the U.S. Senate chose the vice president of the United States. Richard Mentor Johnson was selected after none of the candidates received a majority of electoral votes.

In 1904, the Russo-Japanese War began as Japan besieged Port Arthur in Manchuria.

In 1915, the motion picture "The Birth of a Nation," directed by D.W. Griffith, premiered at Clune's Auditorium in Los Angeles.

To the editor:
I really did enjoy the write-up about Elbow in Sunday's Herald, Jan. 27. My husband and I taught school there 1928-1938.

Then in 1968 when Bill Tonn Hale was killed in Vietnam Oct. 10, 1968 the Herald had so many nice things to say about him. Yes, he was a paper boy and we loved it all.

Thank you so much,

Rules on medical deductions change

Dear Abby

Little boy has bad mouth

DEAR ABBY: Several of us mothers have a common problem. It concerns a boy (I'll call him Billy) who is a bad influence on our children. They are all in the third grade, but this Billy is wise beyond his years. He gets his information (about sex) from hanging around his older brother, then spreads around what he has heard to the boys in his class. He tells them things about sex that most adults have never experienced, and his language is pure filth!

Our sons want to invite Billy to stay overnight, but we're afraid of what Billy might teach them. Besides, most of us have younger children at home, and we don't want Billy here talking about Lord knows what.

I understand Billy's parents are very liberal-minded, so don't suggest we talk to them. Maybe if they read this, they will understand why their son is shunned by his peers.

STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: If your son and his classmates want Billy to stay overnight, then obviously Billy isn't "shunned by his peers" — it's their parents who don't want him around.

Liberal-minded parents love their children as much as you love yours, so please share your concerns with Billy's parents.

It's not unusual for a child to entertain his peers with X-rated information in a bid for popularity. Don't panic; it's neither contagious nor fatal.

Dr. Donohue

X-ray: How much is too much?

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: My 3-year-old daughter recently had a bladder infection and the doctor found blood in her urine. An IVP and a cystogram were recommended. I felt strongly against this, but we proceeded to have these X-rays. They were all negative. The exposure to radiation still has me worried. She also had chest X-rays. I don't know how much radiation she got from that. Please answer, because this is causing me much guilt and I feel I was rushed into unnecessary X-rays. — J.K.W.

Now, let's put your daughter's exposure into perspective. She has not received lethal amounts. In an edited portion of your letter you express fears of cancer. There is strong evidence that cancer risk increases only when there is a lifetime accumulation of doses greater than 40 to 80 rems, a rem being the basic unit of exposure. Her IVP (intravenous pyelogram) represents a dose of about one half of a rem. Her chest X-ray gives about a hundredth of a rem.

A wise suggestion for people is to keep a list of all X-rays done. This can be shown to the doctor to help him judge if the person has received too many. One problem occurs when a person has changed doctors and finds that for whatever reason the new physician wants duplication of X-rays already taken. You can help by keeping such a list and where they were taken. Your daughter will not be hurt by the rather limited use of diagnostic X-rays. Mrs. W.

I do appreciate your concern. The fear of radiation from X-rays is expressed to me weekly.

We all respect radiation. Please be assured that doctors, too, share those concerns and strive to keep X-rays to a minimum and their use within parameters of reasonable need. Blood in the urine, especially of a young girl, definitely demands close investigation.

Shower honors mother and daughter

Mrs. Rondel Brock and her daughter, Courtney Ann, were honored at a baby shower at the Fellowship Hall of East Fourth Street Baptist Church, Saturday.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Craig Rhoton, Mrs. Mike Evans, Mrs. Kevin Warner, Mrs. Mike West, Mrs. Randy Gee, Mrs. Roy Hester, Mrs. Jerry Oliphant, Mrs. Dick Davis, Mrs. Jimmy Shanks, Mrs. M.L. Kirby, Mrs. David Rhoton, Mrs. Bob Shaffer and Mrs. Terry Nichols. The hostesses presented the honorees with a pink nursery lamp.

Special guests at the shower included the infant's grandmothers, Mrs. Bob Brock and Mrs. Martha Arons of Houston. Guests were registered and served from tables covered with pink cloths and lace overlays. The guest book was made by Mrs. Kirby. Pink flowers in crystal vases decorated the tables along with pink candles in crystal holders.

Courtney was born Dec. 19.

By ROBERT METZ
(Eighth of series)

The government giveth and the government taketh away. For some taxpayers who qualify for medical-expense deductions this year, the government has a small gift. But there was a major taking away in medical deductions in 1983. That's when deductions for qualifying expenses were limited to sums in excess of 5 percent of adjusted gross income. (Previously, the limit had been 3 percent.)

First, let's look at the new facet of the medical-expense section. You may now include in the 5 percent calculation sums paid for lodging while away from home. The travel must be essential to the medical care.

CUT YOUR OWN TAXES AND SAVE

The medical care may be provided in a hospital or an outpatient clinic. If another person must accompany the patient, as, for example, a parent who goes with a dependent child, the companion's lodging could also be deductible.

If the travel is a holiday, no deduction is allowed. And this deduction is limited — the government has no intention of offsetting lavish expenses. The maximum deduction is $50 per night for each eligible person. No deduction is allowed for other expenses — not even food.

On the negative side, some helpful facets of the old law are canceled. Even so, the medical deduction is an important one.

Tax tip: You will have to use the form 1040 — the long form — and itemize deductions to claim unreimbursed medical expenses. Here are the kinds of expenses that can be used to qualify for the medical deduction: payments to physicians, surgeons, dentists, ophthalmologists, optometrists, chiropractors, osteopaths, chiropodists, podiatrists, psychiatrists, psychologists and Christian Science practitioners.

Tax trap: Only prescription drugs and insulin are included. That's a change. Until this year drugs were subject to a separate 1 percent offset from adjusted gross income. Now they must be included with other medical expenses.

Hospital charges for room and board, therapy nursing services, ambulance hire, laboratory services, surgical obstetrical, diagnostic, dental and X-ray fees are included. So are payments for legal abortions, vasectomies and acupuncture treatment. You may also include the cost of cosmetic surgery and hair transplants.

Under some circumstances, you may include the cost of maintaining someone in a nursing home due to a physical condition.

Tax trap: Room and board are not deductible if the patient is in a nursing home primarily for personal or family convenience. Then, only charges relating to nursing and medical care are deductible.

Tax tip: You need documentation such as a letter from the patient's physician to prove physical condition dictates nursing home care.

Transportation to obtain medical care is a legitimate medical expense. This includes the actual cost of bus, taxi, train or plane fare. When your own car is used, you may charge out-of-pocket expenses for gas, oil, tolls and parking charges, or you may charge a standard rate of 9 cents a mile — plus parking and turnpike tolls, of course.

The cost of special foods prescribed solely to treat an illness is deductible — but only if the food does not replace a normal diet.

Costs for guide dogs for the blind, motorized wheelchairs, and special equipment installed in automobiles for use by the physically handicapped are deductible.

Payments for treatment at a therapeutic center for drug addicts or alcoholics qualify under the rules for medical expense deductions.

If a nurse is retained to care for a sick person in your home, the fees are deductible and so is the cost of meals furnished to the nurse.

Tax trap: But if domestic services are also performed by a prac-

Pastor stresses people aspect of ministry

By KIM KIRKHAM
Religion Editor

When Midway Baptist Church was looking for a new pastor, they wanted someone who could minister to all age groups. And with Larry Ashlock, that's exactly what they got.

"My main focus is to make sure not one group is isolated," he said. Ashlock, 29, moved to Big Spring Jan. 2. He plans to stress the people aspect of ministry.

In a world of numbers — social security numbers, drivers license numbers, credit card numbers, bank account numbers — a person can sometimes get lost, explained Ashlock. But Midway Baptist is "a place where you'll be called by your name. The church has maintained a family-oriented atmosphere."

"I have no right to stand in a pulpit as their pastor week after week unless I have stood in their midst, feeling their pain, meeting their needs, sharing their joy, all during the week," he said. "That's part of a Biblical understanding of what it is to be a pastor."

Ashlock began doing revival work at the age of 14. "Our youth director had trained 12 teenagers in preaching and that sort of thing," he said. He worked in the he said.

Presnell Wood, Ashlock's pastor during his youth, had much influence on his career. "He taught me the practical side of ministry — caring for people, pastoring people. He taught me compassion," he said. Wood is now the editor of the Baptist Standard.

Ashlock and wife Shawna work as a team. "We go visiting together. We pray together. We talk together. She's my best friend," he said. "She makes me likable." They have one daughter, Lauren, 14 months.

Ashlock attended undergraduate school at Baylor University and received his masters degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. He is now completing his doctorate at Southwestern.

His first pastorate was at Tanglewood Baptist Church in Lexington, where he served for 3½ years. He moved here from Axtell where he was the pastor of Williams Creek Baptist Church for 2½ years.

In his spare time, Ashlock enjoys hunting, fishing and reading.

Winter attendance emphasis in full swing

A winter Sunday School attendance emphasis is in full swing at the First Church of the Nazarene according to Cotton Mize, Christian life director. All age levels are involved in the thrust, which has been tagged "Operation Snowball."

Captains this week are Jay and Jonel Smallwood. They are featuring a Winter Parade which will be at 9:45 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall with all adult Sunday School classes meeting there for the "parade" then dispersing to their class areas at 10 a.m.

The morning worship service is at 10:50 a.m. with Carl Powers, pastor, bringing the morning sermon. The Sanctuary Choir also will be featured. During the same hour Kinder Church and Children's Church sessions in Kid's Korner will be provided for children ages 4 through 5th grade. Evening services begin at 6 p.m.

Korean missionary topic of meeting

The second program on Korea, "Dear Diary, Here I Am, in Korea", was presented to the Women of First Church of God at a meeting Monday.

The Diary, written by a young missionary in Korea, was read by Betty Reagan, program director. The study's objective was to acquaint the group with Korean customs, culture, and personality, as well as ways of ministering to people of different cultures.

Members shared pictures, clothing, various items made in Korea, newspaper clippings — showing that to a certain degree Americans are dependent on Korea for many things used every day.

The World Convention of the Churches of God will be held in Korea in August of 1986. The next meeting will be March 4 in the Sanctuary of the First Church of God.

Kerley's to perform at First Assembly

The Kerley Family of Duncan, Okla. will appear at 6 p.m. Sunday at the First Assembly of God.

Founders and directors of Teen Round-up Inc., the family has been traveling, singing and conducting services since 1965. They have recorded many albums, singing some of their own compositions. Teen Roundup is a retreat they operate on their own 40-acre farm west of Duncan.

They were awarded the Liberty Bell Award in 1971 by the County Bar Association for work with young people in their community.

JOY AND BUD KERLEY to perform

Hillcrest to host brotherhood meeting

An Associational Brotherhood Meeting will be at 7 p.m. Feb. 18 at Hillcrest Baptist Church. The theme will be "Christ the Center of the Home."

Dr. Bailey Stone of the First Baptist Church in Odessa will speak. Music will be by Randy Anderson.

A catered meal, including ham, chicken fried steak, two vegetables, salad, hot rolls, drinks and desserts, will be served. Cost is $4.

Churches wanting to attend should make reservations by Feb. 13. For more information, contact Carl Johansen at 263-8216.

Baptist gifts exceed basic budget

In a year of economic setbacks, Southern Baptist churches of Texas raised their 1984 Cooperative Program missions giving to $54.5 million, increasing at almost twice the inflation rate, denominational leaders in Dallas said.

Church gifts through the Cooperative Program increased about $4 million (8 percent) over the previous year, exceeding the basic budget goal by $783,000.

"Many people and churches gave sacrificially despite being effective by such problems as the oil recession, the freeze in the Rio Grande Valley and major industrial layoffs," said William M. Pinson Jr., executive director of the 2.3-million-member Baptist General Convention of Texas.

More than one-third of the total Texas Baptist Cooperative Program budget is devoted to worldwide Southern Baptist mission causes including support of 7,000 missionaries, six seminaries and the Radio and Television Commission in Fort Worth. State missions causes receiving Cooperative Program support include eight universities, four child care homes, eight hospitals, nine homes for the aging, and programs to help churches expand and begin new missions.

"The increase in giving reflects a growing concern of Texas Baptists for mission expansion," said Pinson. "This missions spirit is reflected in the challenge of Mission Texas, a five-year plan to reach people, develop believers and strengthen missions."

Mission Texas goals include at least 10 percent increases in baptisms each year, a minimum of 4 percent increase in Bible Study enrollment each year, and the establishment of 2,000 new churches and missions by Sept. 30, 1990.

Special missions offerings also set new records. The Mary Hill Davis Offering for State Missions surpassed $3 million for the first time with total gifts of $3,227,887; world hunger gifts totalled $1,193,771; the Lottie Moon Offering for Foreign Missions reached $10,987,691; and the Annie Armstrong Offering for Home Missions was $3,897,596.

This week

SUNDAY
• At 3 p.m. the Midland Area Mass Choir will present a musical at Mt. Bethel Baptist Church, 630 N.W. 4th.
• The Kerley Family will perform at the First Assembly of God at 6 p.m.

Young performers offer lighter side of religion

MADISON LAKE, Minn. (AP) — To Tom Leech and Harold Armstrong, religion can indeed be a laughing matter.

Leech and Armstrong, who make up a Christian-oriented comedy team called the New Life Players, see laughter and wit as a way to entertain young adults while spreading the word of Jesus Christ.

The two 25-year-olds formed the New Life Players, based in Madison Lake, and began performing for junior and senior high school youth groups in December 1982.

"Our priority is to show that religion can be fun," Leech said. "We leave behind a message of the best way to do that is through entertaining."

Their shows include scores of one-liners, mock musical acts, and a couple of standard underdog characters who overcome self-doubt through faith.

One such character is a nerd-like high school student, played by Armstrong, who is encouraged by his macho-type friend, Leech, to get with the flow of everyone else — ditch his Bible and start wearing some decent shoes.

"The act's funny," Leech said, "and yet it's about liking yourself enough to stand up for your religious beliefs."

Through such characters, the New Life Players address the problem of peer pressure and how their audience can deal with it.

"Years ago the family was the main influence on teen-agers," Armstrong said, "but now it's the peer group, and some groups go to drugs and alcohol. It's a positive peer group we'd like to encourage."

program until he was 20 years old.

"When I really sensed that (ministry) was going to be my life's profession, I was 19, a freshman at Baylor," said Ashlock, the first minister in his family. "It was not something I was pushed to be. This is what God had prepared me to do in life."

Ashlock credits his parents with his Christian training. "I came from a very good Christian home,"

Leech says that reactions to the duo have been good. He says the performances are done for religious-instruction groups and other youth groups, "and once you get a high school audience on your side, it goes great."

The act is interdenominational, Leech emphasized, and he and Armstrong "don't preach doctrine," just fundamental faith.

"We're very sensitive as to what goes into our comedy," he said. "Otherwise, you can step on too many toes."

Both players see their different religious affiliations (Leech is a fundamentalist, Armstrong a Catholic) as helpful in keeping their "church" as their "common denominator" in their presentations.

The pair have been writing and performing skits together since the seventh grade. They inserted Christianity into their act in 1982 when Leech suggested Armstrong accompany him to a Teens Encounter Christ retreat in Sleeping Eye, which Leech had been helping conduct.

Armstrong consented and, with a little inspiration, the two discovered their ability to make the crowd laugh while maintaining a Christian perspective. The New Life Players was born.

Since 1983, Leech and Armstrong have given 44 shows, excluding practice runs for trying out new material.

On the side, Leech is an assistant manager of a hardware store in St. Peter, while Armstrong is a full-time Mankato State University student finishing up a social work degree.

Stabbed man rebounds from death, doctors say

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Six nights ago, Chris Valva was stabbed through the heart. He lapsed into a coma and his heart stopped. Today he's awake and recovering — but doesn't remember being stabbed.

"He essentially bled to death and lived to tell about it," said Dr. Eugene Rumsey Jr., the trauma surgeon on duty early last Saturday when Valva was brought to Mercy Hospital after trying to stop three youths who were tampering with cars in his North Park neighborhood.

"It was just incredible. I saw him die," said Valva's mother.

Police say the stabbing occurred Friday night when Valva, 19, and co-worker Tom Bowman were driving home after working a late shift at a print shop.

According to Bowman, Valva stood in the front yard of his home and shouted at the youths to get out of the neighborhood. One of them strolled up to Valva and said, "Brother, you just been stabbed."

He then plunged a knife into Valva's chest.

Interviewed at his hospital bedside Thursday night, Valva couldn't remember what led to his hospitalization. No one has been arrested in the attack.

"Was I stabbed?" he asked his mother.

"Yes, you were stabbed sweetheart," his mother replied. "And you were very, very sick, and you came to the hospital and you're just getting better now."

Despite the memory loss, Valva is alive — which is far more than he should be, Rumsey said.

"When he was rolled in here, his whole blood volume had either come out through the stab wound or filled his left chest until the heart no longer had anything to pump," he said. "I've worked with some real trauma experts in my training, and they've never seen a case like this."

CHRIS VALVA, 19, is comforted by his mother, Irene FERGUSON, while he miraculously recovers from a heart puncture.

Woman, 86, carries dead fetus 60 years

CIUDAD JUAREZ Mexico (AP) — Doctors say they've discovered that an 86-year-old woman has been carrying a full-term, mummified fetus in her abdomen for about 60 years.

When Margarita Valenzuela entered the Juarez Seguro Social Hospital this week with digestive complaints, doctors took routine X-rays.

They say the woman has a mummified, two-pound fetus in her abdomen.

Dr. Daniel Garcia Saldana, head of the surgery department at the hospital, said Mrs. Valenzuela told them she had symptoms of pregnancy when she was 27, but that a child was never born and she never suffered a miscarriage. Garcia said her menstrual periods stopped at that time.

Although she suspected she might have something in her uterus, Garcia said the woman told them she never went to a doctor because she never felt ill.

Postal mutt retirement causes flap

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — Dogs and mail carriers are often not the best of friends. But Zipcode, the mascot at this town's post office, is another matter.

Postal officials who evicted the dog after nine years at the post office have responded to protests by workers there by saying they will hold a ceremony to retire the mutt.

and erect a plaque in her honor, says Gorden Hensley, a spokesman for U.S. Rep. Joseph DioGuardi.

WTC Dusters crown Queens, 91-81

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

SNYDER — The Western Texas Dusters used some hot shooting to hand the Howard College Hawk-Queens a 81-71 Western Junior College Athletic Conference loss her last night.

Led by forwards Clara Campbell and Renvy Evans, the Dusters shot a hot 56 percent from the field and 71 percent from the free throw line.

Campbell and Evans were instrumental in the win scoring 23 and 18 points respectively. Campbell, WTC's leading scorer and rebounder, got off to a slow start from the field, connecting on 2 of 8 shots in the first half. She did most of her damage via free throws the first half, sinking 7 of 11. Evans had only four points at the half.

In fact, free throws played an important role in the Duster's 41-33 halftime lead. WTC went to the line 19 times, connecting on 13 attempts.

The rest of the Dusters heated up along with Campbell and Evans in the second half. Campbell hit her last shot of the first half and went on to connect on all seven tries in the second half. Evans was 6-8 from the floor in the period.

Western Texas made a scorching 23-32 attempts in the second half for 71 percent.

Coach Don Stevens' Queens didn't shoot best themselves, connecting on 50 percent of the field goals and 70 percent of their free throws. But they couldn't overcome the hot-shooting Dusters.

COACH DON STEVENS
...disappointed with defense

TAMMY WINNSMAN
...14 points off bench

HC forward Alex Provencio ended her shooting slump by scoring a team-high 21 points, sinking 8-17 shots. She and Diane Dickson tied for rebounding leadership with five each. Howard guard and leading scorer Molly Early pumped in 16 points while Tammy Winnsman came off the bench and added 14 points.

HC freshman point guard Lorri French felt right at home as she went head-to-head with sister Lyndy, a sophomore point for the Dusters. Both Sonora natives turned in good performances.

Lorri scored 13 points and recorded two steals and two assists before fouling out with 5:40 remaining. Lyndy ran the WTC offense smoothly, collecting three steals, five assists, a team-leading seven rebounds while scoring four points.

Howard took a 6-1 lead when Allison Dickson, Provencio and Early scored baskets. WTC came back to score 13 unanswered points, mostly on long bombs by guard Rhonda Hoelting, who ended the game with 14 points, including 10 in the first half.

The Dusters never trailed after that. Howard pulled to within 30-26 at the 3:40 mark after baskets by Allison Dickson and Tammy Winnsman. But the hosts ran off a 11-7 spurt to take a 41-33 halftime lead.

The Dusters' free throw shooting in the first half was the key to our downfall, said coach Stevens. "Those 19 free throws killed us," he said after the contest. I'm disappointed in our defense. No one has scored this many points on us since the break. They (WTC) played real well, they didn't let Molly (Early) have her shots. They did a good job defending her."

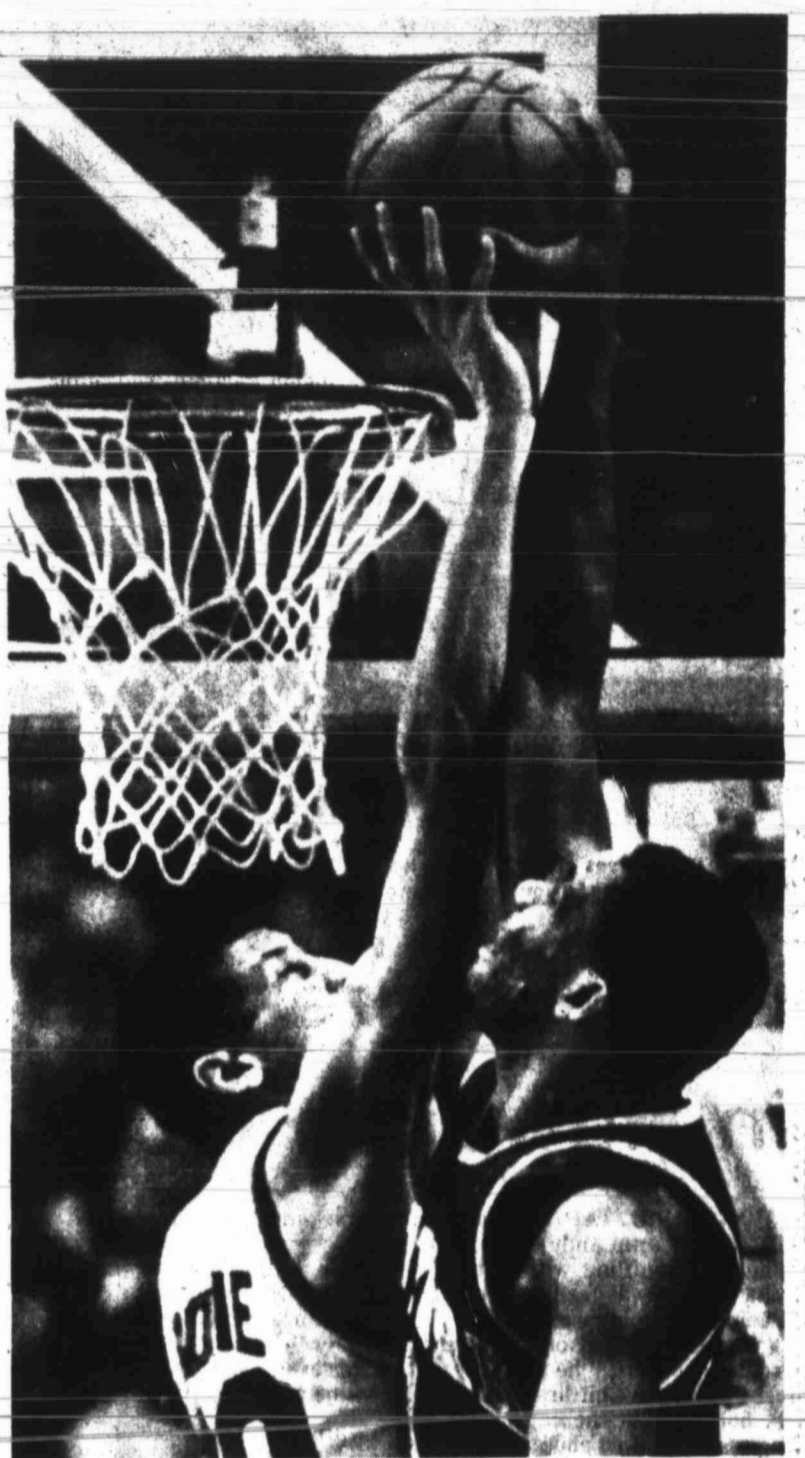

With its hot shooting WTC quickly vaulted out to a 51-37 lead after four minutes of play and stretched it to 71-53 after 11 minutes of play.

Showing they were down but not out the Queens slowly battled back into contention. Behind the shooting of Provencio, early and Winnsman, Howard narrowed the margin to 84-73 with 2:35 remaining. But it was not enough to overthrow the second place Dusters, who now own a 8-1 conference slate.

Howard fell to 4-5. Stevens said his team was steadily progressing. "We are getting consistent. Alex, Tammy and Lorri all played good games tonight. One thing is for sure, these girls never quit."

Portland Trail Blazers' SAM BOWIE blocks an attempted dunk by New York Knicks' KEN BANNISTER in Thursday night NBA action. Bowie scored a career-high 22 points, headed down 22 rebounds and dished out five assists in leading Portland to a 133-122 win.

Top seeds win in Lipton tennis action

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The No. 1 seeds, Ivan Lendl of Czechoslovakia and Martina Navratilova, continued on the express tracks Thursday, while Kim Shaefer derailed the women's fourth seed, Manuela Maleeva, in the second round of the $1.8 million Lipton International Players Championships tennis tournament.

Lendl was forced into a first-set tiebreaker before he eliminated John Sadri 7-6, 6-0 on the windy, sun-drenched stadium court, while Navratilova ripped off the first nine games enroute to a 6-0, 6-3 victory over Robin White.

Shaefer, a 27-year-old right-hander who posted her biggest career victory in 1983 when she won the U.S. Women's Indoors, ousted the 17-year-old Bulgarian, one of the upcoming stars in women's tennis 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

Maleeva, who upset Chris Evert Lloyd to capture the 1984 Italian Open and also took the U.S. Clay Courts and Swiss Open titles last year, followed her younger sister, Katerina, out of this inaugural two-week event. Katerina Maleeva, 15, lost in the first round.

In other night matches, No. 6 Johan Kriek downed India's Vijay Amritraj 6-4, 6-0; No. 9 Yannick Noah of France defeated Terry Moor 6-2, 6-4 and No. 13 Stefan Edberg of Sweden eliminated Poland's Wojtek Fibak 6-2, 6-0.

Besides Navratilova and Lendl, other seeds posting second-round victories in day matches were No. 4 Anders Jarryd and No. 8 Joakim Nystrom, both of Sweden; No. 7 Hana Mandlikova of Czechoslovakia, No. 10 Carling Bassett of Canada, No. 11 Bonnie Gadusek; No. 14 Pam Casale and

No. 15 Catarina Lindqvist of Sweden.

Noah broke Moor in the opening game of their match, then ran off a five-game string that gave him the first set and a 2-0 lead in the second. He broke Moor only once in the second set, but it was all the Frenchman needed to advance to the third round.

Sadri, a Wimbledon quarter-finalist last year, jumped to a 2-0 lead over Lendl. But the powerful Czech right-hander took the next two games to tie the match, then the two battled evenly, forcing the first set into a tiebreaker.

Again Sadri, a right-hander from Charlotte, N.C., took a 2-0 lead. And again Lendl rose to the challenge, winning three of the last four points to take the tiebreaker 7-5.

By then, Lendl was in full gear and Sadri never threatened the top seed in this unique two-week event.

"I got caught by surprise," Lendl said. "In the morning when I was out, it was not windy, and I didn't think it would be windy. But it was."

"He's a difficult player," the winner said of Sadri. "In my opinion, he felt he had the first set."

But when Sadri let Lendl back in to the point, Lendl proceeded to win the next four points to pull even at 5-5 in the first set. Sadri never had another chance, except for the "mini-break" in the tiebreaker.

Westerners shoot down Howard Hawks, 105-87

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

SNYDER — The weather may have been cold outside the confines of Scurry County Coliseum, but inside it was burning up, thanks to the hot-shooting Western Texas Dusters who registered a 105-87 win over the Howard College Hawks.

Behind a 63 percent shooting percentage from the floor, and a relentless halfcourt press the Westerners registered their fifth Western Junior College Athletic Conference win in 11 games. It didn't come easy.

Howard battled tooth and nail with the home team, Western Texas held a 78-71 lead with seven minutes remaining in the contest. But the Westerners hot shooting and press got the best of the Hawks.

WTC's press proved fatal to the Hawks, causing an uncharacteristic 21 turnovers. At times the press resembled a army of ants swarming all over their prey.

Sometimes Howard would break the press easily, resulting in slam dunks. But Howard ended up with more turnovers than uncontested slams.

Lamesa native Victor Spenser led the WTC press with a game-high five steals. The sophomore guard also had a good night from the floor.

Coming off the bench he hit 10 of 16 field goals for a team-leading 22 points. He along with fellow guard Alvin Hick, who recorded four steals, hounded Howard ballhandlers throughout the game.

The Hawks shot a respectable 53 percent from the floor and 74 percent from the line. In fact it was free throws that kept Howard in the contest the first half. While the Dusters were sinking 24 of 38 attempts from the floor, HC was 15-17 from the line.

About the only thing WTC didn't do well last night was shoot free throws. They sank only one of six attempts in the first half and finished the game 7-16 for a dismal 44 percent.

Howard took a 6-2 lead in the opening minutes on a basket by Martin Jenkins and two scores by Michael Porter. Unfortunately it would be the last time the Hawks would lead as WTC roared back to take a 10-8 lead. The Westerners quickly built the margin to 29-20 before HC made a comeback of their own. Porter and Jenkins scored baskets, Walt Reynolds added a three-point-play and Porter added another basket cutting the deficit to 31-29 at the eight minute mark.

From then on the teams traded baskets. Eric Singleton's basket right before the buzzer gave WTC a 49-45 halftime lead.

The Hawks battled back and for the first 15 minutes of play. Guard Bruce Kimble kept HC in the contest with his outside shooting. Kimble ended up with 20 points, including 16 in the second half, when he made 8 of 12 points. He also led his team in rebounds with seven.

Leading 78-71 with 7:38 remaining, the Westerners made their move. In two minutes they outscored Howard 10-4 to take a 88-75 lead and for all practical purposes, the game was over.

Porter led Hawks in scoring with 21 points, Benard Bell and Reynolds added 14 and 12 points respectively. Alvin Hicks and James Dawn scored 19 and 14 for WTC.

Howard's conference record fell to 4-8 for the season.

HOWARD (87) — Walt Reynolds 4 4 12; Marty Jenkins 5 0 10; Bruce Kimble 10 0 20; Michael Porter 9 3 21; Joe Burney 3 0 6; Bernard Bell 4 6 14; Al Willis 1 0 2; Isaac Varnado 1 1 3; totals 35 17 87.

WESTERN TEXAS (105) — James Dawn 7 0 14; Teal 4 0 8; Victor Spenser 10 2 22; Chambers 2 1 5; Alvin Hicks 9 1 19; Jeff Gibson 6 0 12; Floyd Singleton 6 1 13; Smith 0 2 3; White 4 0 3; totals 49 7 105.

HAL SUTTON tees off on the first hole in Thursday's morning round of the Hawaiian Open. Sutton finished the round with a 66 to share the lead with ANDY NORTH.

North shares lead in Hawaiian Open

HONOLULU (AP) - Former U.S. Open champ Andy North, sniffling and snuffling with a heavy cold, said he was feeling so poorly it helped him play well.

"I was just kind of staggering around out there," he said after a fast finish — five birdies on the last six holes — put the cap on a no-bogey round of 66 and gave him a share of the first round lead Thursday in the $500,000 Hawaiian Open golf tournament.

"It often happens that when I'm not feeling well I play better. I just kind of forget about how I stand and what anybody else is doing and just play the one shot at a time," North said.

"I didn't start thinking about it until the 15th. I was thinking, 'hey, I'm three under and if I birdie 18 I can finish four under.'

"Then I realized I already was four under."

And he followed with a pair of 10-foot birdie putts on the last two holes that lifted him into a share of the top spot with Hal Sutton, Scott Simpson and Canadian Dan Hallorsen.

Mark O'Meara, winner of last week's Bing Crosby National Pro-Am, led a group at 67, five under par on the Wai'ale Country Club

YMCA to host open house

The Big Spring YMCA will host an open house Sunday, February 10, from 2:00 till 4:00 p.m. reports Wallace Gill, executive director of the YMCA.

The local "Y" has taken a new appearance with the completion of over $150,000 worth of renovations including repairs to both swimming pools, lobby, and weight training facilities. In addition, the new gymnastics facility will be open to the public with demonstrations to be performed by the youth gymnasts and aerobic dancers.

There will also be Scuba displays and swimming exhibitions. A drawing for a family membership will be held following the exhibitions.

course and a single shot off the lead.

Also at that figure were Fred Couples, Dan Pohl, Vance Heafner, Larry Mize and Mike Smith.

Andy Bean, who often plays well in this event, and Craig Stadler topped the big group at 68.

With soft greens, temperatures reaching near 80 and the prevailing trade winds making the par 5s play a little shorter, the scores were extremely low. More than 30 players were locked within three shots of the lead.

Masters champion Ben Crenshaw as among them, with a 69. Tom Watson was not. After going four under par on his front side, he had putting problems on the back, required 39 strokes coming home and had to settle for a 71. Jack Renner, who has finished first and second in this event in the last two years, also was one under par.

The Big Spring Steers and Lady Steers tennis squads turned in a fine performance Thursday by defeating Odessa Permian in the opening 4-5A match of the year. The boys handled the Mojos 6-3 and the Lady Steers tied 5-5 with the Panthers.

In boys singles action, Big Spring number 1 seed Quade Weaver was upset by Roger Thomas 3-6, 3-6. No. 2 Mark Slate defeated Isack Gallegos 6-3, 3-6, 7-5. Jeff Needles defeated Joe Bauman of Permian 6-2, 7-6. 4th seed Taff Wennik fell to Wes Cope 7-5, 7-5. Charlie Bott swept Todd Tane 7-5, 7-5. Arron Allen defeated Mike Minjarez 7-5, 6-4 to give the Steers a commanding lead going into double competition.

The Steers two top seeded doubles team fell to the Mojos, Slate and Weaver losing to Thomas and Gallegos 3-6, 7-5, 4-6 and Needles and Bott fell to Bauman and Cope 3-6, 6-3, 4-6. Third seeded doubles team of Coots and Allen sealed the Big Spring victory with a sweep over Tane and John Foust 6-1, 6-3.

In girls action, first seed Linda Arroyo lost her match 2-6, 5-7 as did second seed Kendra Madry 6-7, 5-7. Third seed Kristi Grimes won 6-2, 6-3. Amber Logback was defeated 4-6, 4-6. Angie Wilson won by default and Stacy Parks 7-6, 6-1. 7th seed Jessica Hamby rounded up the singles with a 6-3, 3-6, 7-5 victory.

In girls doubles action, Big Spring's top seeded team fell 6-2, 6-3 as did second seed Madry and Wilson 4-6, 4-6. Grimes and Logback forced the tie with a 6-4, 6-2 doubles victory in the final match of the day.

If you swear by the bourbon you drink now, keep an open mind, then open a bottle of Weller.

The better the bourbon you're now drinking, the better the chances you'll like Weller.

Pour some Weller and add a splash of water. Then taste our 130 years of experience and our "whisper of wheat" formula. That's what makes Weller and Water wonderful.

We're very sure of our bourbon. That's why we're talking to people who are sure they're already drinking the best bourbon money can buy.

Just keep an open mind before you open a bottle of Weller.

DENNIS THE MENACE

MOM, WILL YOU BE SORRY WHEN I'M THROUGH BEING A KID?

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR SATURDAY, FEB. 9, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is an unusually good day and evening to go to anyone with whom you presently have or wish to have future association and get them to coordinate their efforts toward mutual goals.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A good day to have a meeting with associates and come to a far better understanding with them.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Try to agree with co-workers and all goes more smoothly than heretofore. Be more precise in handling your own work.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A fine day for enjoying amusements with friends. Show more affection for your mate and get the right kind of response.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) Home is your best bet today where you can find greater happiness and can improve the conditions there.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Join efforts with those of allies so that you can handle routines more enjoyably and efficiently.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A good day to get your property improved and make it look more charming and functional. Use care in motion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are very magnetic today and can gain some cherished wish very quickly. Accept any invitations that come your way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Delve into the right sources and come up with the truth of any situation and then you know how to proceed.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be very outgoing and see as many persons as you can today and make new contacts of worth.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Bring your talents to the attention of bigwigs who can help you to commercialize on them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take a little trip with one who is congenial and you can gain some cherished aim very easily.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be with that person who is like a magnet for you, and you can have a wonderful time together.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will appeal to the good side of other's natures and should have a fine education so that the most can be made of this fine aptitude. One who can become quite successful and famous due to the fact that there is also much precision and neatness in the chart.

Cabbage Patch Kids sprout new product line

NEW YORK (AP) - The Cabbage Patch Kids have sprouted into a new line of products, ranging from ponies to designer diapers to twins, because some owners aren't satisfied with just one doll, a company executive says.

And lest anyone think the Cabbage Patch has been overplanted, Coleco Industries Inc. said Thursday it expects 1985 sales to exceed the total of all previous sales of the dolls.

"In just one year and a half, the Cabbage Patch Kids program has become totally integrated into the American lifestyle," said Alfred Kahn, Coleco's executive vice president for toys, as the new "kids" were paraded before a news conference. "Cabbage Patch Kids show the signs of being the most successful toy ever produced."

How successful? Coleco said it had delivered 20 million Cabbage Patch Kids by the end of 1984 - the equivalent of one for every boy and girl age 3 to 8 in the United States and Canada. Coleco's Cabbage Patch sales in 1984 topped $500 million, up from $65 million in 1983, when the "kids" were born.

Demand, according to a market survey produced for the company, remains strong and is not limited to a narrow age group.
