'85 farm bill crucial to Texas farmers

State farms can survive Reagan's veto on emergency aid, analysts say

Harte-Hanks Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — The 1985 farm bill, sent to Congress by the Reagan administration in late February, will be even more important to most Texas farmers than emergency farm aid vetoed Wednesday by President Reagan, according to agricultural analysts.

While many farmers in Texas carry heavy credit burdens, most will be able to continue operating without emergency loans, unlike a higher percentage of growers in the Midwest, they said.

The administration's proposal would break a 12-year tradition in which farm bills have been adopted by Congress every four years and directed farm policy for the same period.

Reagan's plan, an ambitious but controversial attempt to revamp the entire relationship between the federal government and farmers, would last until the end of the century.

The administration's aim would be to get the federal government out of the domestic farming business, virtually eliminating direct payments to farmers over a five-year period, and stimulating export markets to bring up the price of commodities.

"The expectation is that we'd create a whole new trade environment," said Gail Updegraff, senior staff economist for the Agriculture Department. The "trade environment" would be expected to make up the loss of direct payments, he said.

The administration would continue current appropriations for export credits at about $5 billion per year through 1991, allowing foreign countries to borrow from the federal government for the import of U.S. crops. The program also would expand negotiations to attempt to reduce restrictive trade practices of other countries.

The heart of the domestic policy would be in the five-year "transitional period" in which the program would wipe out most direct payments to farmers for price supports and loans. Currently, those payments are scheduled to total $14.1 billion in 1985, including more than $2 billion for Texas farmers.

The administration would attempt to reduce government involvement in the agricultural market by phasing in market-oriented price support and loan levels for commodities.

Price support and loan rates would be set at 75 percent of a three-year average for all agricultural products.

The rites of Spring

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

The mention of spring triggers thoughts of warm weather, windy days and shaved heads.

Shaved heads?

Big Spring is home to a quirky spring ritual that has been going on for decades. Every spring eighth grade boys are pounced upon by high school teens and shaved bald. It can happen on the way home from school, at the movies, or at a dozen places where one least suspects it. For some it's a joke. For others it's an unpleasant ordeal.

Lynn Hise, superintendent of Big Spring schools, doesn't know where the odd tradition got its start.

"Students were doing it when I came here 19 years ago," he said.

"It's a rite. I don't know how it originated."

Janice Rosson, secondary curriculum coordinator for the Big Spring schools, thinks the tradition started among school athletes.

"It's predominantly athletes who have been shaved," she said. Mrs. Rosson attended Big Spring schools and has been with the school system for more than 20 years. She remembers a number of athletes being shaved throughout the years.

Harold Bentley, an assistant superintendent for Big Spring schools, thinks the tradition has been going on "for 30 years, in varying degrees."

The rules of the game say that in order to shave someone, you must first have been shaved yourself. You should get the permission of the person you plan to shave. The rules are often broken.

Throughout the years freshmen and sophomores in high school shave eighth graders during the spring semester or early summer. The tradition has a dark side. Injuries have been reported and the police have been called in to put a stop to the prank.

"Some people are hurt in the process," Bentley said.

But the ritual continues despite the warnings from police and local school officials.

"We don't condone it," Hise said. "We do everything we can to discourage it. We advise parents to file charges with the police" if a student is roughed up.

Bentley said few boys are shaved on school property. "We can take care of it on the campus."

But most shaving incidents occur off campus.

"We've struggled with it" throughout the years. "We've done the best we can with it," Bentley said.

Hise said he worries because, "This can be dangerous."

"Some students think it is an honor," Bentley said. "Others resist. Whenever you use scissors and a razor, there is danger involved."

In order to avoid being jumped by older students, many boys ask someone to shave their head. In order to adhere to tradition, they must ask someone who has been shaved to shave them.

Three Big Spring boys who requested that their heads be shaved said they did so to avoid a confrontation away from school with older students.

Daniel Freshour, 13, Alan Cox, 13, and Jason Eyskens, 14, all attend Runnels.

Jason said he asked an older boy to shave his head because, "I

House axes pari-mutuel horse racing

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — The Texas House, led by conservatives angered over concessions to minorities, voted overwhelmingly Wednesday against legislation paving the way for legalized horse race betting in Texas.

The measure was defeated, 52-95. House members then voted by a similar margin to ban any further pari-mutuel horse race votes this legislative session.

Senate backers of pari-mutuel horse racing, however, claimed the fight is far from over. "It ain't the end of the hunt," said Sen. Ike Harris, R-Dallas, who is carrying the bill in the Senate. Attempts will be made, he said, to force the House to decide the issue again. It may, he indicated, be under the guise of another legislative proposal.

House defeat came more than three hours after pari-mutuel supporters defeated — by six votes — efforts to table the proposal.

Those voting against pari-mutuel horse racing included Reps. Larry Don Shaw, D-Big Spring, and Rudd, D-Brownfield, and Dickson, D-San Angelo.

"I don't think this issue is going to go away," said bill sponsor House Speaker Pro Tem Hugo, D-Corpus Christi. "I think it will come back next session. It's back to the drawing board."

Beflanga and other backers of the proposal as an economic bonanza that could ease the state through its current lean economic times. Estimates, they said, indicated that Texas coffers would reap nearly $100 million annually by 1990.

Opponents, led by state Rep. Gary Thompson, D-Abilene, called it "predatory industry" that is "based on the fact there are more losers than winners."

The stunning defeat, marred by a Texas Senate in 1983 only to fail two years shy of House approval. They claimed a razor-thin vote edge entering the Wednesday's debate.

Thompson said conservatives could not live with provisions that would have guaranteed minorities 15 percent ownership in all race tracks constructed in Texas and 15 percent of the construction contracts.

Efforts to delete that provision, directed by Rep. Barry Connelly, R-Houston, were rejected 101-43.

Shaw argued against deleting that provision, noting "it doesn't hurt to give a lifting hand" to minorities.

In the final analysis, Thompson said, "many of the Republican conservatives could not live with the affirmative action language."

Thompson said minorities didn't think they were offered enough under the proposal. "It didn't please either of those two extremes," he concluded.

Minority lawmakers split on the proposal despite the minority provisions. Bill backers also courted minorities with suggestions that state proceeds from betting would go to child welfare programs.

Beflanga acknowledged minority guarantees spawned the defeat, but he chastised his colleagues for not deleting that provision when given the chance.

"It is most unfortunate that we took such a resounding defeat simply because of people not being willing to get up and really vote their conscience as to how they felt exactly," he said.

Businessmen file for city council

Manuel Arsiaga City Council

Local businessman Manuel Arsiaga filed late Wednesday afternoon as a candidate for a position on the Big Spring City Council.

Arsiaga, 28, and his wife, Linda Arsiaga, are the owners of Amigos Private Club. The couple, who live at 813 W. 6th St., have three children Robby 15, Gina 14, and Manuel Antonio 5.

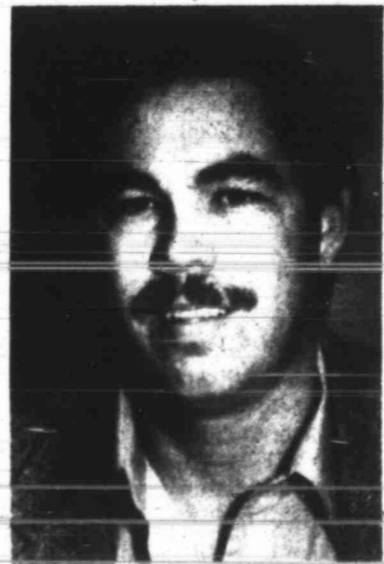

"It wasn't on impulse (decision to run)," said Arsiaga, who is currently serving on the city's Planning and Zoning Board. "It took a lot of consideration and thought."

"I'm not going to make any promises; I'm just going to do my best."

Arsiaga, a Big Spring native, is also assistant treasurer of the local League of United Latin American Citizens chapter. He was elected in February 1985. Wednesday he became the 12th person to file for a place on the council ballot.

DANNY HECKLER

Danny Heckler City Council

Bail bondsman Danny Heckler, 32, of 4202 Parkway filed late Wednesday afternoon for his second try at a city council seat.

Heckler last year ran for a single-member seat in District 3, losing in a run-off to Councilman Harold Hall. He also was involved in the campaign for an elected police chief, which resulted in a special election last August in which the measure was defeated.

"I think the petition drive for an elective police chief won't affect my campaign," he said today. "It's good to get people out to exercise their right to vote."

He also said "positive" things had happened as a result of the election.

Heckler said he wanted to concentrate on supporting businesses operating in Big Spring. "We need to support what we have got because they are struggling."

Businessmen plan final petition push

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

Businessmen backing a petition for an election on allowing local option liquor-by-the-drink in Big Spring are conducting a final petition drive this weekend.

Deadline for submitting the petition to the county is 5 p.m. Monday, organizers said today.

Sponsors of the petition have gathered approximately 1,500 of the 2,421 signatures necessary to place the issue on the ballot, spokesman Micheal Russell said today.

Calling the petition a chance for voters to express their freedom of choice by allowing the issue to reach the ballot, Russell said, "I hate to see any idea being denied a chance to be voted upon."

April 6 elections draw 25 candidates

Big Spring City Council

Twelve candidates will vie for three city council seats in Big Spring municipal elections next month, one of the largest slates in recent years, according to City Secretary Tom Ferguson.

The number of candidates, however, is comparable to the number that would file when voters would choose at-large candidates from one slate, prior to 1971, Ferguson said.

Since then, when the city charter was amended so at-large candidates had to run for a particular place, the two or three candidates would file for each seat, he said.

The 12 candidates include two incumbents, Mayor Pro Tem Jack V. Smith and Councilman Russ McEwen.

Also running are challengers: Texas Oil Co. electrical foreman Dan Laws of 2524 Albrook; former city water distribution supervisor D.W. Overman of 2719 Larry, now employed at Sid Richardson Carbon Co.; former candidate Michael Russell of 603 Bucknell, the director of operations at H.W. Wright Oil Co. of Big Spring; and hairdresser Gary Don Carey of 2501 Alabama, owner of La Contesa Beauty Salon.

Other candidates include: Dolphin Pools owner Johnny Rutherford of 3010 Rutgers; Manuel Arsiaga of 813 W. Sixth, owner of Amigo's private club; Don Mobley, a 23-year employee of Trailways Bus System; Jim Hicks of 404 Dallas, a nurse's aide at the Big Spring State Hospital; D.D. Johnston of 600 E. 16th, owner of James and D.D. Johnston Construction and Paint Co.; and Danny Heckler of 4202 Parkway, owner of Danny's T-Top and Danny's Bail Bonds.

Big Spring school board

Four candidates, including two incumbents, are seeking two seats on the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees.

Trustees are elected to three-year terms. Elections are April 6. Seeking election to the District 2 seat are:

JERRY FORESYTH
Jerry Foresyth, incumbent, Foresyth announced that he would seek re-election Jan. 31. He has served on the school for the past five years.

Foresyth cited a concern for students as his reason for seeking re-election. He said he is interested in education reforms and House Bill 72 which mandates changes in the educational system.

He has served on the Heritage Museum board, the YMCA board, the Howard County Fair Association and the Parks and Recreation Board. Foresyth graduated from Texas A&M University. He is an employee of Fiberflex, Inc.

FORD FARRIS
Ford Farris is the owner of Patterson Insurance Agency. He is seeking his first term on the school district board. Farris said he feels Big Spring schools represent the city. "The better the system, the better the opinion is of Big Spring."

Farris has two school age children.

He is a graduate of Southwestern Oklahoma State University. He has lived in Big Spring for a total of 20 years and has worked in the business community the past six years.

He is on the board of the YMCA and is a member of the Downtown Lions Club and the First Baptist Church.

Seeking election to District 4 are:

JIMMY ANDERSON
Anderson is an incumbent on the Big Spring Independent School District board, a native of Howard County and a resident of Big Spring for more than 25 years.

He is owner of Professional Pharmacy, past president of the Rotary Club and a member of several other civic organizations. He has also worked with the United Way, the YMCA and the Arthritis Foundation.

He has four children. Two are enrolled in Big Spring schools.

Anderson said, "My special interest is the betterment of the Big Spring schools by working with the administration and teachers."

WAYNE HENRY
Wayne Henry, an employee of Fiberflex, Inc., is seeking his first term on the school district board. Henry cited the enactment of House Bill 72 as the main challenge facing the local district.

Henry has lived in Big Spring for 25 years. He and his wife have three children, including one child enrolled in the BSISD.

He has served on boards for the American Cancer Society, the Downtown Lions Club and is active in the First Baptist Church. He has also been active with the American Little League Baseball program for 20 years, and the Big Spring Quarterback Club.

Coahoma Council

COAHOMA — Nine people, including five former councilmen and one incumbent, have filed for the City Council positions.

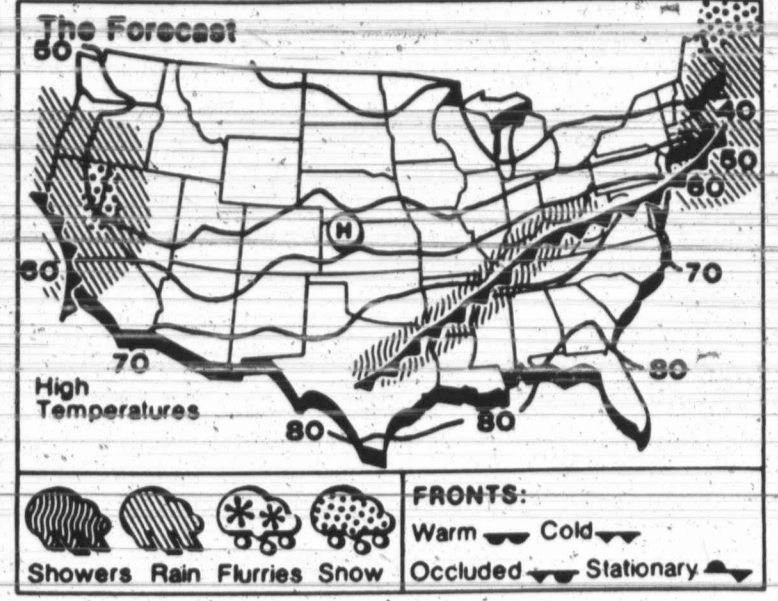

Former Coahoma mayor Joe Swinney, who served two elected terms on the council, and retired teacher Eleanor Garrett have filed for the mayor's position. Mrs. Garrett, 69, of 300 High School Drive is a retired Coahoma teacher. Swinney is employed by Harding Well Service.

Others filing for the two-year post includes incumbent mayor Pat Harrison, Barbara L. Robertson of 609 Culp and former councilmen Ronnie Dodson and Billy Sullivan.

Dodson is employed by Petro-Lewis and Sullivan is employed by Walsh and Watts Inc.

Former councilmen Roy Metcalf and Bobby Sullivan are seeking the one-year term up for election this year. Also seeking the post is Gladys Young, retired Coahoma resident, of 412 S. Adams.

Items reported missing

An internal investigation at the Wal-Mart store at 2600 Gregg uncovered evidence of more than $750 in goods and cash missing since Aug. 8, 1984, Police Lt. Jerry Edwards said today.

The missing items include cash, clothing, a television set, a radio and household goods, store employee Tom Harig told police.

Charles Wasson of 1702 Yale told police someone forged a check on his account Saturday at the Super Save Grocery at 1610 S. Gregg. The offense is a third-degree felony.

Wasson also told police someone stole five personalized checks from his business at 604 W. Third on two separate occasions. The thefts occurred at 8 a.m. last Thursday and at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

Wesley Hart of 1708 Donley told police that someone took $3,200 of appliances and furniture from his house between 5:30 and 6:45 a.m. Wednesday.

Pearl Sparks of 1300 Mesquite told police two women took two blank personalized checks from her at 2 p.m. Wednesday. The checks were valued at $300.

Gloria Marion of 411 Trades told police a woman came to her house at 8:50 a.m. Wednesday, threatened to beat her up, struck her in the face and pulled her hair.

James Balios of 1709 Alabama told police that a man took a package containing an American Eagle commemorative folding pocket knife from the top of the counter at the post office at 501 S. Main. The theft occurred at 8:30 a.m.

Police Wednesday night arrested Albert Garza Aguiar, 32, of San Angelo at 1800 Gregg on a theft warrant, and suspicion of driving while license suspended and second offense of failure to carry liability insurance.

Police also arrested Ralph DeWayne Hilton, 21, of 1404 Tucson in the 700 block of Sixth on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Police also arrested Leslie Robert Lloyd, 19, of 2308 Roberts in the 600 block of W. Fourth on suspicion of DWLS.

Police arrested Anna-Maria Jones, 31, of 1506 State at the intersection of Interstate 20 and N. Highway 87 on suspicion of DWI.

Air slips stolen from unit

Bobby Ellis of Machen Construction told members of the Howard County sheriff's department that a set of 50 ton air slips were stolen from a pulling unit last Tuesday night.

The unit is located one mile west of FM 2599.

Jimmy Sanchez Aleman, 32, of P.O. Box 2921 was released to Williamson County sheriff's deputies on their warrant for revocation of probation.

Aleman had been placed on probation after being convicted of aggravated assault.

Curtis Roy McGriff, 35, of Lamesa was released from county jail after serving time for a driving while intoxicated conviction from county court on Feb. 12.

A Texas Department of Public Safety trooper arrested Stephen Audra Gregory, 27, of 703 Edwards for DWI and driving while license suspended Wednesday night.

Gregory was released on bonds totaling $1,500 set by Justice of the Peace Lewis Heflin.

Police transferred Leslie Robert Lloyd, 19, of 2308 Roberts to county jail after he was arrested for DWLS. He was released on $500 bond.

A DPS trooper arrested David Joe Villareal, 20, of 703 Douglas Wednesday night. He was charged with DWLS and possession of marijuana after being stopped at Gregg and FM 700.

Rev. Bell of Coahoma Presbyterian Church told sheriff's deputy Carl Thurman that someone kicked and damaged a door frame between the Fellowship Hall and his office.

Damage was estimated to be $100.

Sherrill West, left, and Marilyn Corwin, right, take a short break between rounds of the annual Howard County Spelling Bee Tuesday. Marilyn won first place in the annual bee and will advance to regional competition in Lubbock. Sherrill is the county's runnerup.

Shave

The three have heard about the dark side of the tradition. Jason said, "I've heard stories about people getting their eyes poked out."

Jason asked a sophomore to come over to his home and shave him and a few friends. Jason adds, "We didn't have much choice. He told us he was going to shave us."

Daniel arrived later, saw Jason and Alan with their heads shaved, and asked the pair to shave his head. He wanted friends to do it because he had an older brother who was "beaten up" several years ago during the hazing.

Daniel's friends obliged. "We buzzed him down," Jason said. They have since shaved the heads of about eight of their friends.

Jason decided to ask someone to shave his head when he saw a classmate run from older students. "He was hiding and running," Jason said. The student didn't get away, however, and, "Now he's a cueball just like us," Jason said.

Alan said that a shaved head is a good way to receive notoriety. The shaved head is a good conversation piece among kids at school, he said.

There are other advantages. "It saves a lot of time in the morning," Jason said.

And there are disadvantages. The boys found the style a little embarrassing recently. "Big Spring is the only city that does it," Alan said of the tradition. During recent basketball playoffs, "students from other cities laughed at us," Daniel said.

The quirky tradition has slowed down in recent years but hasn't stopped. Bently said, "The people who resented it the most have been ringleaders the following year."

Jason has an idea as to why the tradition has survived several decades. "If you get shaved, you're going to want to shave other. It just keeps going on."

And Daniel has a solution for those who don't want to be shaved. "There's a good chance you won't get shaved if you stay at the house."

Woman remains in critical condition following assault

An 81-year-old woman assaulted in her home Tuesday night remains in critical condition in a Lubbock hospital following surgery Wednesday morning.

Maurine Terrell of 1400 Scurry remains unconscious in the intensive care unit of Lubbock General Hospital, according to a hospital spokeswoman.

Ms. Terrell suffered severe head injuries and face lacerations in the assault, according to police and hospital spokeswomen.

She was found conscious in her apartment at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday by police who were answering a report of a burglary in progress. Police had been called by a neighbor who heard Ms. Terrell banging on the wall.

Police say Ms. Terrell knew her assailant and say they have a suspect.

A suspect was questioned by police Tuesday night but was released without being arrested, Edwards said. According to Police Chief Rick Turner, the person questioned Tuesday had the same name as the suspect police are looking for.

Chemical spill investigated

Big Spring Fire Department officials are continuing their investigation into a small chemical spill Tuesday evening on W. Highway 80, Fire Chief Carl Dorton said Wednesday.

Firemen found a 100-pound sack of potassium chloride ruptured at 7:21 p.m. in the 3700 block of W. Highway 80, according to a fire department report.

"It looked like it fell off the back of a flatbed truck," Dorton said.

Firemen picked up the chemical and are storing it at the Central Fire Station, according to the report. "We're trying to determine who dropped it and how strong the dilution is," Dorton said. "It's in dry chemical form."

Fire Marshal Jim Ryals is trying to determine who the manufacturer of the chemical is.

"I don't feel like it's that hazardous," he said. "If it was a liquid in concentrated form, I might be worried more."

The department's book on hazardous materials warns against letting the chemical get into a waterstream, he said.

Deaths

Garland Conway

Garland G. "Ted" Conway, 59, died Thursday morning in a local hospital following a sudden illness. Services will be at 3 p.m. Friday at Nalley-Pickle and Welch Rosewood Chapel with Royce Clay, minister at 14th and Main Church of Christ officiating.

Burial will be at Mount Olive Memorial Park.

He was born July 8, 1925, in Caradan, Texas. He married Jacquelyn Flynt Jan. 10, 1948, in Big Spring. He moved to Big Spring from Winters in 1938. He was a member of the 14th and Main Church of Christ. He had worked at Cosden Oil and Chemical Refinery for 34 years before retiring March 1, 1982.

According to law, 35 percent of the voters in the last gubernatorial election in the precinct must sign the petition to force a referendum.

If liquor-by-the-drink eventually passes, it would benefit Big Spring by stimulating growth, Russell said.

Boy shoots self in head

LYNN, Mass. — A 14-year-old boy fired a bullet into his head while baby-sitting for a sister, killing himself less than 14 hours after a youth in another Massachusetts city shot himself in the head in a high school classroom.

The body of William Curtis was found slumped over a bed at the home of his sister, Judy LeClair, when she returned Wednesday evening, said police officer Robert Hill.

"He shot himself in the right side of the head," Hill said. He said police found a handgun at the boy's feet.

The gun was owned by Mrs. LeClair's husband, who apparently is a security worker, Hill said.

He said police were calling the death a suicide.

7 escape from prison

CASTAIC, Calif. — Seven prisoners awaiting trial on charges ranging from burglary to murder escaped from a maximum-security dormitory at the Peter J. Pitchess Honor Rancho in the mountains north of Los Angeles, authorities said early today.

It was not immediately known if the inmates, regarded as dangerous, had succeeded in escaping completely from the 20,000-acre Los Angeles County jail facility in the San Gabriel Mountains, 40 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles, sheriff's Deputy Bob Stoneman said.

More than 45 deputies using dogs and a helicopter were searching a wide area around the facility early today, he said.

The inside of the complex was being searched to make certain that none of the prisoners was hiding inside the facility.

Heart patient listed OK

TUCSON, Ariz. — Surgeons early today transplanted a human heart into a man who was kept alive for 11 hours by the emergency implant of an artificial heart that has not received federal approval and has never before been used in a human, officials said.

Sharon Kna, a University of Arizona spokeswoman, said at about 3:15 a.m. that the operation was complete. She declined to elaborate.

The unidentified 32-year-old man on Wednesday received the first implant of a mechanical pump called the Phoenix Heart, which was designed by a dentist who specializes in reconstructive surgery. The patient had suffered cardiac arrest after his body rejected a transplanted human heart.

Doctors said that the patient would have died if he had not been put on the artificial heart until a natural heart could be found.

Civil rights leader lead several thousand marchers across the Edmund W. Pettus Bridge in Selma Sunday in a re-enactment of the historic voting rights march from Selma to Montgomery. The march was interrupted by a bomb scare Wednesday.

March threatened

Selma-to-Montgomery walk delayed by bomb

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Marchers recreating the historic 1965 Selma-to-Montgomery walk for voting rights found what may have been an explosive beside the road Wednesday as they neared the state capital, state troopers said.

But the Rev. Joseph Lowery, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and a coordinator of the event, said the incident would not derail the march.

"Whatever it was, it won't work," he said. "We will not be deterred."

In remarks to marchers at a rally at The City of St. Jude, a Roman Catholic center where paraders stopped marching for the day Wednesday, Lowery told demonstrators that there "ain't nobody going to turn us around."

"Fire hoses, jail, billy clubs, Ronald Reagan, Governor Wallace, (Montgomery) Mayor Emory Folmar and bomb scares can't turn us around," he said.

Montgomery Police Chief Charles Swindall discounted the incident.

"I think somebody was trying to disturb the police and the marchers with a big firecracker," he said.

Troopers detonated the device, but Lt. Fred Patterson said authorities would not know what it was until laboratory tests are complete.

"They found a device which might have been an explosive, detonated a charge next to it and the resulting explosion sounded loud enough" for the device to be real, Patterson said.

The device, a 12-inch object wrapped in duct tape, was found beside the road by Lee Talmadge, a member of the security force for the march.

Talmadge, who was walking ahead of the main group of 130 marchers, said that on first glance he thought it was nothing. But as he got closer he said the object "appeared to be a pipe bomb."

Talmadge said he kicked the device down the 50-foot embankment and told authorities, who detonated a charge next to it after marchers passed.

He said it did not disrupt the march.

As the marchers neared the city limits Wednesday, Gov. George C. Wallace said he planned to meet with the leaders as he did 20 years ago.

The group stopped just inside the city limits Wednesday as marchers prepared to walk the final leg of the route taken in the 1965 protest that led to passage of the Voting Rights Act.

The commemorative demonstration will resume Thursday, and end with a rally on the Alabama Capitol steps about noon. The march leaders, including Lowery, are expected to meet with Wallace at 2 p.m.

"I am going to tell them I am very proud race relations are so much better, but this is not a Utopia," Wallace told a news conference Wednesday.

The governor opposed the voting rights crusade in 1965, but in 1982, it was crucial black votes that helped to elect him. He now calls for racial harmony.

Gunmen kill 4 police

SAN FERNANDO, Mexico — Gunmen driving a tanker-truck loaded with marijuana killed four policemen and a civilian, then wounded three officers who gave chase along a highway, a judge said Wednesday.

"The police didn't have time to shoot because they still had the safety on their weapons," Judge Dagoberto Martinez Becerra said in a telephone interview.

Two men suspected of shooting the policemen were arrested and being interrogated in Reynosa, 12 miles south of the border, a secretary at the district attorney's office in San Fernando said. She said the truck also was in Reynosa, but gave no other details.

He said there were two men in the truck. The first group of officers tried to stop the tanker Tuesday on the outskirts of San Fernando, a town about 70 miles south Brownsville, Texas. But a wounded policeman involved in the chase and gunfight that followed said he saw at least three men in the truck.

Explosion rocks station

MANAGUA, Nicaragua — An armory that serves as headquarters of Nicaragua's state security police exploded in a series of shattering blasts, sparking a fire that spread to a nearby military hospital.

More than 200 firemen battled overnight to control the blaze.

President Daniel Ortega said the explosions and fire at El Chipote armory caused extensive damage but no casualties.

The series of explosions late Wednesday night led to initial reports that the explosions occurred all around the city, including an oil refinery on Managua's west side.

However, authorities said later that at least five explosions occurred at the armory, and that the sound of those blasts led to an inaccurate report on state radio that the explosions occurred throughout the city.

Tourist graves found

HARARE, Zimbabwe — Prime Minister Robert Mugabe announced today his government has positively identified the remains of some foreign tourists, including at least one American, who were abducted by anti-government rebels in July 1982.

Six skeletons were found last week in three graves in the western Lupane district of the troubled Matabeleland province.

Five of the victims were shot dead and the sixth was strangled three days after the July 23, 1982 capture of the six foreign tourists, Mugabe told a news conference.

Postal clerk kills 2 employees

ATLANTA (AP) — A postal clerk armed with a handgun opened fire Wednesday in a mail sorting area of the main Atlanta post office, killing two fellow employees and wounding a third, authorities said.

The gunman was subdued by other workers and arrested by Atlanta police, postal officials said. Atlanta Postmaster William G. Hanna identified him as Steven W. Brownlee, who had worked for the service for 12 years.

Brownlee, 30, of Atlanta, was charged with murder and two counts of aggravated assault, said Parthenia Jefferson, a spokeswoman for the Atlanta Department of Public Safety. The charges were filed before the second victim was declared brain dead.

"We haven't established any kind of motive yet," said Atlanta Police Lt. B.L. Neikirk. "We don't know if these were targeted people or if he was simply shooting at random and they got in the path of the projectiles."

Philip T. Sciarone, 32, of metro Atlanta, an eight-year postal veteran died in the shooting, said postal spokeswoman Kay Loggins. Warren Bailey, 45, of Marietta, was declared brain dead about three hours later at South Fulton Hospital, said hospital spokesman Pat Sandor. Doctors turned off the life support system at 10:30 p.m. after they removed his kidneys, liver, eyes and bone marrow, Sandor said.

He was hit by a single bullet in the back of the head.

The other wounded man was Douglas M. Adams, 42, of Woodstock, who was in stable condition at Grady Memorial Hospital, Ms. Loggins said.

Bailey was a supervisor at the post office, although Neikirk said it wasn't clear whether he was Brownlee's supervisor.

Brownlee had just reported for the start of his shift and was working at a mail sorting machine when the shooting occurred about noon, said Postal Inspector Leo Shatzel. One witness, postal employee Jimmie Blossomgame, remembered hearing four shots. After the last two shots, people started running and others got down on the floor, he said.

"I saw Adams fall and grab his head," Blossomgame said. "He looked like he was laughing; he had kind of an amazed look on his face. Then he fell back and I realized he had been shot."

Blossomgame said one supervisor, Jackie Spence, told him she saw Brownlee running for a door shouting, "I've got to get out of here. They're shooting people in here."

Ms. Spence then yelled, "He's leaving and he's the one who did the shooting."

Mob is deserving of cement shoes

The indictment of nine men on federal racketeering charges is a loaded pistol held to the head of the New York mob.

The new federal indictment goes to the top. The leaders of the mob families are charged with conspiracy to murder and other racketeering charges. The FBI and other law enforcement officials deserve credit for going after the leaders, not just the lieutenants, of the mob.

The Mafia has been romanticized by Hollywood as a spicy part of the folklore of America. Marlon Brando, playing "The Godfather," cast Mafia dons in an eloquent, almost noble, light.

The paunchy gray men arrested and on bail showed little of the Brando image. The folklore says the Mafia never touched drugs, but the indictments involve marketing hard drugs in New York.

Posing as strength, the Mafia capitalizes on human weakness. It organizes savagery and uses fear and cruelty to seize power. It is an organization that takes advantage of the freedom of America to corrupt America, seeking to make crime respectable.

The mob deserves to die, by the hand of the law.

El gigante egoista

Por LUIS RIOS

Hace mas de dos meces que me pregunto una senora que si por favor le podia decir de unos cuantos o ensayos para los chicos de su clase. Pero ella queria que estos cuentos serian al estilo mexicano o espanol.

Esto ocurrio cuando yo cada vez en do ensenaba una clase de espanol. Pues me puse a pensar, "Que cuento les gustaria a la palomia de estos dias?"

Y luego me acorde del cuento "El Gigante Egoista."

Estaba que chico cuando mi papa nos juntaba a todos nosotros, mis tres hermanas y mi hermano, y nos contaba de este gran gigante de vivia en el centro de un pueblo.

El castillo donde vivia este gigante no era cualquier castillo. El jardin siempre florecia con las plantas y flores mas hermosas que habia en esos dias. El castillo tambien tenia gran arboles.

La cosa extrana de este jardin era que hasta en el invierno florecia. Venia la nieve y el frio y las flores, plantas y arboles siempre florecian.

El castillo y el jardin eran el orgullo del gigante egoista.

Pero el nunca sabia por que era esto.

La palomia del pueblo siempre se mantenian jugando en el jardin hermoso del gigante egoista. Se miraban todas clases de muchachitos y muchachitas por los arboles y flores. Pero al gigante no le gustaba que la palomia se metiera en su jardin; dia tras dia le corria del jardin y salia la palomia a perderse cuando miraban al gigante.

Pues un dia cerro el gigante las puertas de su castillo para que nunca entraran los muchachos otra vez.

Desde ese dia nunca paso un dia cuando no nevaba o pasaba una tormenta fea sobre el castillo el jardin del gigante. El jardin casi se volvio salvaje. Y el gigante se comenzo a morir.

Pero cada vez en cuando se metia la palomia al jardin nomas a mirar. Estos muchachos eran hijos de los otros muchachos que jugaban en el jardin en anos pasados.

Y cada vez que se metian en el jardin los muchachos cambiaba algo; una flor salia por donde estaba escondida en la tierra o un arbol florecia. Y por fin, el gigante se fijo. Pero cada vez que salia a decirles a la palomia que se quedaran a jugar salian corriendo para sus casa. Ellos sabian el cuento del gigante egoista.

Por fin un dia salio el gigante para su jardin; ya estaba viejo y feo y casi muerto. Pues salio la palomia corriendo pero un muchachito se callo y se lastimo la perna.

Temblano miro que el gigante se le acerco. Pensaba que lo iba a matar.

Pero el gigante levanto al muchachito y lo puso sobre una rama de un arbol. Y el arbol florecio. La palomia miro todo lo que habia ocurrido y se entraron al jardin con el gigante egoista.

Y desde es momento se dice que el jardin florecio y se puso mas hermoso que nunca. Y tambien se dice que hasta este dia se oye la riza del gigante y la palomia jugando en el jardin.

Today

Today is Thursday, March 7, the 66th day of 1985. There are 299 days left in the year. Today is the Jewish holiday of Purim.

Today's highlight in history: On March 7, 1965, civil rights demonstrators attempting to march to Montgomery, Ala., were confronted in Selma by state troopers and a sheriff's posse who used whips, clubs and tear gas to break up the demonstration.

On this date: In 1849, horticulturist Luther Burbank was born in Lancaster, Mass.

In 1850, in a three-hour speech before the U.S. Senate, Daniel Webster endorse the Compromise of 1850 as a means of preserving the Union.

In 1875, composer Maurice Ravel was born in Gibourne, France.

Letting Uncle Bob RIP in outer space

Attention, earthlings. It won't be long before you can "bury" your loved ones in outer space. Deke Slayton, a former astronaut, is working in tandem with a consortium of companies that will orbit the ashes of a deceased person 1,900 miles above the earth. Funeral services should begin in late 1986.

The Department of Transportation has enthusiastically approved the plan and said "it represents a creative response to the president's initiative to encourage the commercial use of space."

As I understand it, the remains of your Uncle Sidney will be compressed by a secret process in a special two-inch tall, lipstick-shaped titanium capsule, which will then be placed into a 300-pound, shiny sphere, along with the ashes of 10,330 of the recently departed. The sphere will be launched into the heavens where it's guaranteed to remain in orbit for at least 63 million years, or you get your money back.

While Mr. Slayton's consortium will provide the rocket and the capsule, they prefer to leave actual sales and arrangements to funeral directors and undertakers around the country.

This might lead to some problems.

"Please have a chair."

"Thank you. I would like to cremate my Uncle Sidney and put him in celestial orbit."

"You're in luck. We have a launch in one month, and we can reserve a place for him."

"Wonderful. I noticed in your advertisement that the price for the service was $3,900."

"That's the base cost just to get him up there. Did you love your Uncle Sidney?"

"Very much."

"Then I wouldn't advice you to put his ashes in the standard titanium capsule."

"Why not?"

"I'm not supposed to tell you this, but although the containers are advertised to last for 65 million years, some of them fall apart after 30 million. You wouldn't want your uncle's ashes all over the sky, would you?"

"I guess not?"

"Then I'd recommend this upgraded 'From Here to Eternity' model. Notice the outside is twice as strong as titanium, and the inside is lined with French satin."

"How much is it?"

"It's only $900 more, but if you insist on the cheap, tacky one, I'm sure your uncle would understand."

"No no. I'll take the 'From Here to Eternity' capsule. Will that do it?"

"There is the placement of the ash container in the sphere. I assume you would want your Uncle Sidney as close to the skin as possible, facing toward the earth."

"Certainly."

"Then there is a premium charge of $600, to guarantee his ashes won't be thrown in the middle with all the economy class passengers. Will you want to bid a fond adieu to your loved one as he is launched into space?"

"Of course."

"We can give you a package tour to Cape Canaveral with complimentary breakfast before liftoff, at a group rate of $1,500 per person."

"Sending Uncle Sidney up into orbit is costing me more than I planned on."

"But it's worth it. Every time you look up to the heavens, you will see your Uncle Sidney and know he is smiling down on you because you booked him first class."

Targeting biological weapons

WASHINGTON — In past columns I've reported on the threat posed by the Soviet Union's persistent efforts to develop new and ever-grislier biological weapons. Now I have even more frightening evidence obtained from the most secret documents.

"The intelligence evidence indicates that the Soviets have maintained an offensive biological warfare program and capability since the (1971) Biological Weapons Convention," one CIA report states.

Though the Soviets signed the resulting treaty, they have consistently violated it — and just as consistently lied about their violations.

But the CIA has managed to penetrate the Kremlin's best efforts to cover its tracks, on germ warfare testing and production. CIA sources told my associate Dale Van Atta the agency's experts on Soviet military organization have even been able to identify the unit responsible for all aspects of the Soviet program.

This "covert administrative and organizational apparatus" is hidden deep inside the Ministry of Defense and is called the "Seventh Main Directorate."

In fact, a separate division of the Microbiological Industry Organization — a supposedly civilian agency — was created by 1976 to help the directorate in its deadly work. The division, headed by a general, includes heavily guarded, military-sponsored facilities for the development and storage of small quantities of micro-organisms until they are needed for rapid, large-scale production of germ-war agents.

The CIA has also identified nine locations where the Soviets carry on their program.

The two primary sites — and the ones that have been confirmed beyond question as biological weapons facilities — are at Sverdlovsk and Zagorsk. Sverdlovsk, the Siberian city known as Ekaterinburg in 1918 when the Bolsheviks shot Czar Nicholas II and his family there, was the scene of a biological weapons plant accident that killed anywhere from 200 to 1,000 people in April 1979.

The Zagorsk facility, masquerades under the title of Scientific Research Institute of Sanitation. Not far from Moscow, Zagorsk is where the germ weapons boss, Gen. V.I. Ogarkov, spends much of his time.

Both plants were completed in 1968, with new construction continuing through last year. Both are known to be under military control, and a secret National Security Council report states that "of particular interest at Sverdlovsk and Zagorsk are highly secure special storage areas which are designed for weapons assembly and storage."

Despite their obvious military significance, the situation at Sverdlovsk and Zagorsk is somewhat confused — perhaps as a deliberate cover — by the fact that portions of the two facilities are engaged in legitimate research and production connected with the medical-pharmaceutical, agricultural and food processing industries.

The third most important biological-weapons facility, at Berdsk in Siberia, was completed in 1970, with further construction in 1984. The CIA's evidence indicates that the Berdsk plant is a backup for production and a storage facility. A new molecular biological institute, linked to Berdsk and genetic-engineering projects, has been identified at Koltsovo.

The urgency of the CIA's intelligence efforts directed at suspected Soviet biological-weapons facilities is explained in the conclusion of the secret NSC report to the president:

"Some of the compounds developed under this program may now be available in sufficient quantities to permit extensive testing for their usefulness as field agents. Sufficient quantities for initial munitions testing and weaponization could become available within the next five years."

THE CASE THAT WILL NOT DIE: It was more than 21 years ago that John F. Kennedy was gunned down in Dallas, but facts about the assassination keep floating to the surface like flotsam from some long-sunken ship.

Recently, some fascinating fragments have turned up in an unnoticed federal appeals court filing by Harold Weisberg. The indefatigable, 71-year-old former newsmen has been trying for years to force a reluctant Justice Department to come clean on the JFK murder.

Jack Anderson's investigative report from Washington is distributed by United Feature Syndicate.

Americans see decline in divorce

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of divorces in America has dropped for the first time since 1962, new government statistics disclose.

The National Center for Health Statistics reported Tuesday that the number of divorces in the country fell by 43,000 to 1,170,000 in 1982, the most recent year for which detailed information is available.

There had been a record 1,213,000 divorces in 1981 culminating two decades increases since a slight dip of 1,000, to a total of 413,000 divorces in 1962.

In addition to the decline in the total number of divorces, the divorce rate per 1,000 people also fell, from 5.3 in 1981 to 5 in 1982.

"This drop of 6 percent was more precipitous than any annual decline since those recorded following the steep, but temporary, surge in marriages and divorces in the aftermath of World War II," according to the report by Barbara Wilson of the health statistics center.

The rate had dipped slightly, from 5.3 to 5.2 between 1979 and 1980 as population increase outstripped the growth of divorces over that period. The last rate drop before that was in 1962 when it fell from 2.3 per 1,000 to 2.2.

The rate decline between 1981 and 1982 was the largest drop since 1948 when it fell from 3.4 per 1,000 people to 2.7.

Government statisticians who collect the numbers are reluctant to speculate on reasons for the changes.

Larry Bumpass of the Center for Demography and Ecology at the University of Wisconsin, however, said the changing composition of the nation's population is likely an important factor.

Young people seeking education and careers are increasingly delaying marriage, resulting in fewer married persons overall and many of those who do wed do so at later ages.

He noted marriages among the young tend to be highly unstable, so delaying marriage may lead to fewer divorces because the partners are more mature.

In support, the study reported that most divorces occur relatively early in marriage — half within seven years. The average duration of marriages in the United States was 9.4 years in 1982, the study added, the same as in 1972.

The divorce rate for women is highest in ages 15 to 19, at 45.6 divorces per 1,000 women, according to the report.

In the 20 to 24 age group it is nearly as high at 44.5 per 1,000, but then drops to 35.9 in ages 25 to 29 and 28.5 in the 30 to 34 age group. The rate is 22.9 per 1,000 in ages 35 to 39; 17.7 in the 40 to 44 group, and for those aged 45 to 49 the rate is 11.8.

For men the highest rate is in the 20 to 24 age group, declining after that in line with the experience of women.

"Divorces at the older ages are rare: Only 10 percent of divorcing men and 7 percent of divorcing women were 50 years of age and over," the study said.

The report noted that with the decline in number of divorces, and the shrinking size of families, the number of children affected by divorce fell.

The number of children affected by divorces fell from 1,180,000 in 1981 to 1,108,000 in 1982, the study said.

The decline in divorce rates was reported across most of the nation, with declines of 10 percent or more reported in Nevada, Kansas, Mississippi, Idaho and Iowa.

Increases in divorce rates were reported only in Vermont, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Delaware, Virginia and Utah. Statistics were incomplete for Ohio, Kentucky, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Regionally, the West has the nation's highest divorce rate at 6.0 per 1,000 persons, although that is down from 6.3 in 1981.

The South is second at 5.7, down from 6.1, followed by the North Central states, 4.6, down from 4.9, and the Northeast, 3.7, up from 3.6.

Here is a rundown of the number of divorces in the United States, and the divorce rate per 1,000 persons, in recent years:

Year	Divorces	Rate
1982	1,170,000	5.0
1981	1,213,000	5.3
1980	1,189,000	5.2
1975	1,036,000	4.8
1970	708,000	3.5
1965	479,000	2.5
1960	393,000	2.2
1955	377,000	2.3
1950	385,000	2.6
1945	485,000	3.5
1940	264,000	2.0

Dear Abby

Solicitors say sign is invitation to sale

Dr. Donohue

Poor posture can cause tailbone pain

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I have tailbone pain, and I now must use special pillows to make sitting even possible. I don't recall having had any injury to my tailbone. What could have caused my problem? I've been told that one's posture can be to blame. — J.O.

Here's how poor seated posture can bring on coccyx misery. In a proper sitting position the fleshy cushion surrounding the coccyx (tailbone) provides adequate shock absorbing effect to keep the area healthy. But a slumping posture over many years can change the alignment of the bones and cushioning. The coccyx, which actually is a fusing of several small bones, begins to absorb damaging pressures.

From this you have your inflammation and its consequences — greater pain, deposits forming, etc. This is a long way of going about telling you that poor posture throughout your life may well have led you to this.

For some people, arthritis enters the picture, adding its own woes. If pain from this becomes debilitating and if medicines cannot help, then surgery to remove the bone is sometimes done.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is at the same time vital to human life. For a copy of his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly," write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to the letter signed "Sick of Solicitors," who was upset because her sign saying "No Soliciting" didn't help.

We had the same problem and discovered that some people don't know what the words "solicitor" and "soliciting" mean. In England, a "solicitor" is a lawyer. And in the United States some people call what prostitutes do "soliciting."

We finally took down our "No Solicitors" sign and put up one that said "No Door-to-Door Salespeople." It worked.

ALSO SICK OF SOLICITORS
DEAR ALSO: Read on for an explanation of why experienced door-to-door salespeople ignore that sign.

DEAR ABBY: When I worked for an insulation company as a canvasser, we were instructed to ignore all "No Solicitors" signs and ring the bell anyway.

We were told that only people who had a hard time saying no to a salesperson needed to put up a sign like that, and after working in the field for three years, I found it to be true.

DON'T BELIEVE IN SIGNS

DEAR ABBY: Did that letter signed "Sick of Solicitors" ever bring back memories to this 65-year-old salesman? Forty years ago I was a member of a crew of door-to-door salesmen who used to cover an entire county in a couple of days, then we'd move on to the next county.

Our crew chief told us on our first day that "No Salesmen" signs were often used by people with low sales resistance, and we should pay no attention to them.

Abby, he was right. Behind such signs was either a quick cursing or a fast sale. Neither cost us much time, and it sure added to our sales. Thanks for the memories.

RETIRED IN COLORADO

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "Sick of Solicitors" made me smile. All good salespeople know that "No Solicitors" signs are put up by people who realize their sales resistance is practically nil.

When they open the door, after they bark, "Didn't you see the sign?" comes the next question, "OK, so what are you selling?"

Governor declares March 11-16

'Hire the Older Worker Week'

Governor Mark White has declared March 11-16 as "Hire the Older Worker Week" in Texas to recognize contributions and capabilities of older workers throughout the state.

Senior Texans Employment Program (STEP) and other senior community service employment programs are encouraging organizations to use the resources of Texas' older citizens. STEP Director Bob Girard says the week is an annual event set aside for spotlighting the potential value to employers of hiring these workers.

"We're very pleased that Governor White recognized the wealth of experience that abides within the senior community," Girard said. He also emphasized that every week should be considered "Hire the Older Worker Week."

STEP is administered by the Texas Farmers Union and funded through the Texas Department of Aging, Texas Legislature and the U.S. Department of Labor. It is one of the largest older workers programs in Texas and provides workers, age 55 and older, with job training opportunities by placing them with nonprofit organizations.

The goal is to place these older workers in unsubsidized positions within both public and private sectors. Workers enrolled in STEP must meet poverty level income guidelines.

"Hire the Older Worker Week" is an excellent time to "get in the habit" of considering older workers for employment, says Girard. "Then continue to consider older workers for jobs throughout the year. People should be judged on their abilities and what they can contribute to an operation. It's just good business to hire older workers."

Local churches help Girl Scouts celebrate birthday

Sunday is Girl Scout Sunday, and scouts throughout the United States will celebrate the 73rd birthday of their organization.

Several local churches will join in the celebration in many ways during their regular services. Those participating will be Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, St. Paul Lutheran Church, First Baptist Church, First Methodist Church and First Presbyterian Church.

Among the events happening will be flag ceremonies, a litany reading of the Girl Scout Law, and recognizing the girls, leaders and parents for their involvement in Girl Scouting.

The girls and leaders will wear their uniforms and pins for the services. All Girl Scouts and the public are invited to attend these services and join in the celebration of another year of Girl Scouting.

Stanton boy wins show

Cattle from the V Bar Ranch in Stanton this year took awards at both the Houston Livestock Show and the San Antonio Livestock Exposition.

Also winning awards in the San Antonio show were two Sterling City youths and a Colorado City boy.

In the San Antonio show's Hereford breeders competition, the V Bar Ranch exhibited the grand champion female, V Bar Miss L1 18401. The calf, which also was named class-winning junior heifer calf and calf champion, is the Jan. 5, 1984, daughter of L1 Pacester, the 1983 and 1984 National Western Champion Hereford bull.

A winter heifer calf from the ranch, V Bar Classy 15302, was named grand champion female in the open and junior Hereford competition Friday at the San Antonio show.

Color guard wins meet

Big Spring's color guard Mariah won first place in class A last weekend in Dallas at the Southwest Regional Meet, according to Linda Woodley of Howard College.

Mariah is composed of 20 members from Howard College and Big Spring High School. Tracy Burch, Cheri Sparks and Ms. Woodley are among sponsors of the group.

Class A is an open division consisting of community color guards such as Mariah, Ms. Woodley said.

Nova, a color guard from Denver, Colo., took second place.

Argonne, a color guard from Kansas, was third, and Opus III, from College Station, was fourth.

Six teams competed in the Class A division. Ms. Woodley said a total of 16 color guards from around the southwest attending the meet.

Mariah will attend another competition March 16 in Denver, Colo. They will also attend state competition in San Antonio March 23.

Volunteers recognized

Malone-Hogan hosted a breakfast for employees Tuesday in recognition of their participation in the city's blood drive.

According to hospital officials, 76 Malone-Hogan employees have reached the gallon-donor status. Malone-Hogan donated 26 percent of the total collected in Big Spring during 1984.

Inducted into the gallon-donor group, called the Quiet Ones, were Brenda Oliver, Sammie Sullivan, Linda Lee, Ophelia Alcantar, Judy Pherigo, Brenda Gariepy, Linda Holmes, Bobby Baker, Stella Seamans, Tammy Thomas, Amy Cox, Cindy Vickers, Laverne Savell and Cindy Hernandez.

Bridges elected officer

Jesse Bridges, a member of the Big Spring High School Key Club, has been elected lieutenant governor of Division 22.

Bridges will have supervisory and communicative duties which will encompass Alpine, Odessa, Midland, Lamesa, Snyder, Colorado City and his home club.

Bridges will be trained in Fort Worth this month and will attend the Texas-Oklahoma District Convention, also in Fort Worth, in April.

Officials find agent's body

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexican and American officials tried Wednesday to identify two bodies wrapped in plastic bags found at a ranch where a weekend shootout took place between police searching for a kidnapped American drug agent and suspected narcotics traffickers.

Although there were no positive identifications, the major newspaper Excelsior reported in its afternoon edition that the bodies were those of Enrique Camarena Salazar, 37, of Calexico, Calif., and Alfredo Zavala Avelar, a Mexican pilot kidnapped the same day.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman, who asked not to be identified for security reasons, said Mexican and American officials traveled by helicopter from Guadalajara to Zamora, the city closest to the site where the bodies were found before dawn, to work on the identification process.

Camarena, an agent for the Drug Enforcement Administration, was abducted Feb. 7 within sight of the U.S. Consulate in Guadalajara, Mexico's second largest city 332 miles northwest of the capital.

Zavala Avelar, a Mexican Agriculture Department pilot working with the anti-drug authorities, was kidnapped several hours later in the same city.

The kidnappings brought new attention to the problem of narcotics trafficking in Mexico and caused friction in U.S.-Mexican relations with extra searches of vehicles crossing the U.S. border put into effect last month and then lifted after the kidnapping.

A handful of smaller border stations then were closed again this week after anonymous death threats were received by the U.S. Customs Service.

Manuel Beltran, commander of the federal judicial police in Guadalajara, said in a telephone interview the bodies were found during the night at the ranch and brought to a morgue. He said it was not known if the bodies were those of the two missing men.

There were unconfirmed reports that the bodies were found after a massive search of a citrus grove by police and hired hands Monday.

The electric company can help me take care of myself.
(If I ever need any help.)

Let's face it, at my age things can sneak up on you, and you may need some help. The electric company understands that.

That's why they'll arrange it so your bill payment can wait until your social security check arrives. And their Special Friend Program makes sure someone doesn't overlook monthly bills. There's even a program to help provide essential energy services in a real emergency.

Right now, I don't need all this help to take care of myself. But I get a kick out of knowing it's there.

District 4-5A boys and girls have competed in two track meets this year, and here are some of the Big Spring tracksters who are among the top qualifiers in the league.

For the boys, Dax McCracken has the 3rd-best 800-meter time at 2:02.68. Brian Reid has the 5th-best 300-meter hurdles time at 40.51. Brian Mayfield is the district's 2nd-best high jumper with a leap of 6-3. The Big Spring mile-relay squad has the 7th-fastest time so far with a 3:36.46 effort.

The Steers women's thinclads are currently led by shot-putter Paula Jolley, who is ranked 2nd with a 37-3 effort. Amanda Solis also is ranked 2nd in the discus with a toss of 105. Solis is ranked 4th in the shot put at 35-9. Connie Swinney is the 5th-rated 100-meter hurdler with a 17.81 time. The Lady Steers 400-meter relay squad is ranked 7th with a time of 52.02.

The Big Spring varsity boys and girls tennis teams recently defeated the Garden City Bearkats in a non-district match Monday at Big Spring.

For the boys team, the Steers won 10-1. Singles' winners for the Steers included: Jeff Readles, Taff Wennik, Jackie Lewis, Sumatikumar Sand, Jignish Bhokto and Sumatikumar Sand.

Victorious doubles teams for the Steer boys were: Jeff Needles and Quade Weaver, Taff Wennik and Aaron Allen, Sumatikumar Sand and Jignish Bhokto, and Mark Slate and Charlie Bott.

The Lady Steers singles victors were: Kendra Mandry, Stacey Parks, Amber Logback and Angie Wilson. The doubles winners were: Stacey Parks and Lara Cunningham, Kendra Mandry and Angie Wilson, and Amber Logback and Kristie Grimes.

Garden City's top seeded singles' girl, Danette Holdampf, won the only match of the day for Garden City defeating Lara Cunningham 9-7.

Arthur Palomino, president of the ALSA Car Club, reported that the organizations flag football tournament this past weekend raised $426 to benefit Clara Rangel.

The Brown Raiders team of Coahoma were the champions. Second place went to Los Carnales and team Larry Duran took third place.

Offensive MVP of the tournament was the Brown Raiders Freddie Moron. Adam Yanez of Los Carnales was tabbed as the defensive MVP.

The Big Spring junior varsity baseball team won its opening game with a 3-1 victory over visiting Abilene High School this past weekend.

Starting pitcher Clyde Frazier pitched a complete game and allowed only three hits in seven innings. Raymond Ontiveros had two hits and an RBI for the Steers. Charlie Ogle scored the winning run off a Teddy Molina hit. Marcus Ramos also had an RBI single for the Steers.

Coach John Valasquez cited Ramos and Eric Thompson for their defensive contributions in the win. The Steers are now 1-0 for the year. They will face Snyder in a doubleheader scheduled for this weekend.

Lamesa looking for 4A title

AUSTIN — Lamesa is making its first trip to the state tournament in a decade and hopes to repeat the championship effort of the 1975 team. The Golden Tornadoes are led by the Mason brothers, senior Chris and junior Jerry. Chris is averaging 30 points a game, while Jerry is not far behind at 24 points per game.

Snook, the king of the hill in small-school basketball, will try to extend its own record of 10 state championships, including seven in a row, at the schoolboy tournament today.

Snook is making its 18th appearance in the state tournament since its first trip in 1962. The Bluejays play the second semi-final game in Class A against Larue LaPoyner, 29-6, which won three state titles in the 1970's.

Walter Martin, who has grown an inch to 6'8" since he made the all-tournament as a freshman last year, is the only starter returning for Snook, 33-5.

Nazareth, 39-30 losers to Snook in the 1984 finals, returns starters Chris Gerber and Russell Hoelting for the Class A semifinal game against Munday, who is making its first appearance in the state tournament.

Nazereth coach Joe Lombard coached the Nazareth girls to the Class A championship last weekend. Houston Madison, a 1979 semifinalist, has the most impressive record at 38-0. The Marlins have scored over 100 points in 17 games, and their closest game — a 66-52 victory over Pasadena Dobie — also was their lowest scoring game. Madison plays in the Friday night semifinal game against Fort Worth Southwest, 30-8. Conroe, 33-2 and Corpus Christi King, 26-9, are matched in the Friday afternoon 5A game.

Other former champions in the three day tournament include Morton in 2A, Seminole, Brownsboro and Sweeny in 3A; and Lamesa in 4A.

Tournament fans will also get a look at Texas' No. 1 football recruit, 6-4 receiver Hart Lee Dykes, who starts for Bay City, 33-1, a 4A semifinalist. Dykes signed a football scholarship with Oklahoma State.

The Black Cats, who have failed to make the finals in three previous appearances, open tonight against Dallas Seagoville, 20-11, which could reportedly lose a starter to grades for the finals.

Coach Richard Bacon refused to name the player but the Austin

American-Statesman identified him as senior John Tenison, who has averaged 18 points and 14 rebounds a game.

No. 3 Wolverines want streak alive

By The Associated Press
With the NCAA tournament coming up, Coach Bill Frieder of No. 3 Michigan has his own idea on how to prepare.

Keep winning.
"There's no better way to get ready," Frieder said Wednesday night after the Wolverines extended the nation's longest winning streak to 15 games by beating Ohio State 77-72.

Michigan, which raised its overall record to 24-3 and its Big Ten Conference mark to 15-2, has already clinched the league crown and has an accompanying automatic bid to the NCAA tournament because the Big Ten does not have post-season playoffs.

"This was a great victory for us," Frieder said after the triumph in Columbus, Ohio. "It's OK to be on the road because we're going to be on the road for the rest of the way."

Michigan was the only Top Twenty team that played Wednesday night, although there were several games in conference tournaments.

Junior center Roy Tarpley led Michigan with 23 points and 16 rebounds and helped spark an 11-3 spree at the end of the first half and a 16-8 burst that opened the second half. The Wolverines led by 17 points before Ohio State pulled within three in the final 42 seconds, but sophomore guard Antoine Joubert made six straight foul shots to seal the victory.

"We're much more together this year," the 6-foot-11 Tarpley said. "We've matured a lot, and we're playing great defense."

Senior guard Ron Stokes led Ohio State with 18 points, and also was impressed with the opposition.

"Michigan is the best team we've played," he said. "They have that winning streak, they're Big Ten champions and they're playing the best basketball in the league."

Ohio State, at 18-9 overall, is still hoping to get an at-large bid to the NCAA tournament. The Buckeyes play their final-regular season game Saturday at home against Michigan State.

"It comes down to this time and this game, and you find out what you've got," Ohio State Coach Eldon Miller said.

Elsewhere, the Big East Conference tournament began at New York's Madison Square Garden with a good game. Keith Lomax scored 24 points, including the game-winning basket with 34 seconds left in overtime, to give Providence a 77-75 victory over Seton Hall.

That means Providence Coach Joe Mullaney, who has led the Friars for 18 years and has announced his resignation effective at the end of the season, gets to coach at least one more game. Providence's reward for beating Seton Hall is a matchup tonight with No. 2 St. John's.

The Big Eight Conference continued with first-round tournament play and Missouri, behind 19 points from Derrick Chievous, knocked off Kansas State 68-50 while Barry Stevens scored 25 points as Iowa State routed Colorado 76-52.

Michigan's GARY GRANT takes an outside shot over Wisconsin's JOHN PLOSS (50) and SCOTT ROTH in a recent Big Ten game. GRANT accounted for 19 points and the 68-68 victory gave the Wolverines the Big Ten Championship and an NCAA berth.

And in the first round of the Southeastern Conference tournament, Chuck Person scored 26 points as Auburn beat Mississippi 68-60 and Anthony Richardson tallied 19 points to lead Tennessee past Vanderbilt 71-51.

In non-tournament action, Notre Dame raised its record to 19-8 and boosted its drive for an NCAA tournament spot by downing Marquette 66-60. Donald Royal led the host Irish by scoring 15 points, all of them from the foul line.

Conley jumping for a 'double'

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Mike Conley, the man with the silver spikes, already is in the same class with the great Bob Beamon ... and this weekend he hopes to leap ahead of the track and field Hall of Famer, in at least one respect.

Conley became only the second athlete to win the long jump and triple jump titles in the same NCAA Indoor Championships.

"That's a hard track, about the hardest around," Conley said of the men's jumping area in the Dome.

The board track, to be used by the women for jumping, "gives you 20 more feet than Madison Square Garden, and that's a lot of speed," said Conley.

"On the floor, I could get injured going full speed, so I'm not really thinking of jumping really well," he added.

Just well enough to win, said Conley, who again will be jumping in his silver spikes.

"I had the silver spikes made because people never remember second place," he explained. "I got them so people will remember who finished second in the Olympics. I'm proud of my silver medal and I just want people to remember."

The idea for the silver spikes came after the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics, when Joe Drago of Converse sent Conley a silver shoe as a gift.

"It was a memento to hang on the wall," recalled Conley. "It said, 'USA Olympic Silver Medalist 1984.' I looked at it and it gave me an idea.

"I asked him if he could make me a pair of jumping shoes like that. He said he wasn't sure if the material would hold up. But so far, the shoes have been fine."

when Tommy Haynes did it. "I hadn't pushed myself all season and I decided that no matter what, I would jump my best there."

Conley had planned to jump his best in the NCAA Championships, but he changed his mind when he learned that the men will be using the track, instead of the boards, for the jumping competition.

"That's a hard track, about the hardest around," Conley said of the men's jumping area in the Dome.

The board track, to be used by the women for jumping, "gives you 20 more feet than Madison Square Garden, and that's a lot of speed," said Conley.

"On the floor, I could get injured going full speed, so I'm not really thinking of jumping really well," he added.

Just well enough to win, said Conley, who again will be jumping in his silver spikes.

"I had the silver spikes made because people never remember second place," he explained. "I got them so people will remember who finished second in the Olympics. I'm proud of my silver medal and I just want people to remember."

The idea for the silver spikes came after the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics, when Joe Drago of Converse sent Conley a silver shoe as a gift.

"It was a memento to hang on the wall," recalled Conley. "It said, 'USA Olympic Silver Medalist 1984.' I looked at it and it gave me an idea.

"I asked him if he could make me a pair of jumping shoes like that. He said he wasn't sure if the material would hold up. But so far, the shoes have been fine."

What if Conley had won a gold medal? Would he have wanted gold shoes?

"There's no need for gold," he said. "Everyone remembers who came in first."

Conley has been coming in first virtually all season. He has triple-jumped four times, winning all four, and he has long-jumped three times, winning twice. In addition to the USA Championships, he doubled in the Southwest Conference Championships, clearing 26-1 1/4 in the long-jump, his first jump over 26 feet indoors.

Outdoors, he has gone over 27 feet five times, and thinks he has a shot at beating Olympic champion Carl Lewis, winner of 40 in a row, this year.

"If he jumps the same as he did last year, I can beat him," said Conley. "But if he's improved, he'll be tough."

"I know I've improved." Conley's improvement stems from a weight-training program suggested by new assistant coach Ted King.

"I'm a lot stronger than I was last year," said Conley. "I can lift twice as much as I did in 1984. Last year, I could squat 225 (pounds) maybe one time. This year, my normal workouts are 400 to 450, and I've done 500."

"I can feel the difference between this year and last year. Now, things are coming a lot easier."

Besides the added strength, Conley is healthier for this meet than he was in 1984. Then, he was favoring a sprained right arch he had suffered when he stepped in a hole while walking his Doberman, and during the opening day's qualifying for both jumps, he strained a tendon on the outside of his right ankle.

"I'm healthy now," he said. He also said there is not as much pressure to win both events again, "because now I know I can get the job done."

Bulls gore Celts for 107-104 win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
When the Chicago Bulls cut a 14-point deficit to six in the last 2:16 of the first half, it gave them an idea that they could do what they hardly expected — beat the Celtics in Boston.

"They started making steals and we started making turnovers on the break," Boston Coach K.C. Jones said after Chicago's 107-104 victory Wednesday night. "That gave them confidence and they came out and played like it was their home court."

The Celtics led 61-47 late in the second quarter, but over the next nine minutes Chicago outscored the defending NBA champions 28-6 for a 75-67 advantage. Then rookie sensation Michael Jordan scored 15 of his 33 points in the fourth period to spark Chicago's stretch run.

Boston rallied from eight points down to tie the game at 96-96, but Orlando Woolridge, who scored 29 points, hit four free throws to put the Bulls ahead to stay.

Five points by Robert Parish, who led the Celtics with 26 points and 13 rebounds, cut the margin to one, but four free throws by Jordan made it 106-101. Dennis Johnson's three-point goal and a missed free throw gave Boston one last chance to tie, but Danny Ainge's 60-foot heave rimmed the basket at the buzzer.

76ers 96, Hawks 86
Philadelphia narrowed Boston's margin to 1½ games in the Atlantic Division as Andrew Toney scored 21 points, including a four-point play, against injury-plagued Atlanta.

Charles Barkley scored 10 of his 15 points in the second quarter, including eight during a 14-3 spurt in the final four minutes of the period that gave the 76ers a 57-42 halftime lead. Toney's three-point goal and free throw, the second of his career, came in the fourth quarter.

Atlanta, playing without injured starters Dominique Wilkins and Tree Rollins, was led by Glenn Rivers with 24 points. Philadelphia center Moses Malone's streak of 526 consecutive games in double figures ended when he managed only seven points.

NBA

Bullets 127, Trail Blazers 121
Jeff Malone outscored the entire Portland team 8-6 in the second overtime and finished with a career-high 40 points for Washington.

It was the first 40-point performance by a Bullets player since Elvin Hayes reached that figure against New York nearly four years ago.

Rookie Steve Colter, starting his third straight game in place of injured Darnell Valentine, scored a season-high 35 points for the Trail Blazers, now 2-18 in games decided by seven or fewer points. Gus Williams added 27 for the Bullets.

Cavaliers 114, Clippers 112
Cleveland, formerly 2-19, won its sixth straight game and its seventh consecutive road outing behind World B. Free's 23 points and Phil Hubbard's 20, spoiling the coaching debut of Los Angeles' Don Chaney. Chaney, named earlier in the day to replace Jim Lynam, saw the Clippers cut a 72-54 deficit to 91-88 at the end of the third period. Derek Smith scored 15 of his game-high 29 points and James Donaldson added 13 in the quarter for Los Angeles.

Lakers 145, Golden State 119
Los Angeles continued to dominate Golden State, registering its fourth straight lopsided victory as backups Mike McGee and Larry Spriggs scored 29 and 20 points, respectively.

Jazz 94, Houston 90
Mark Eaton hit the go-ahead basket for Utah, then blocked a potential go-ahead shot by Houston's Mitchell Wiggins with 12 seconds remaining.

Eaton, who had eight blocked shots in the game, put the Jazz ahead 91-89 with his basket with 1:24 left. A free throw by Rodney McCray cut the deficit to one, and after Wiggins rebounded McCray's next attempt, Eaton blocked the ball and the Jazz gained possession, setting up three game-clinching free throws.

Darrell Griffith led Utah with 27 points, while Akeem Olatunwo paced the Rockets with 21.

Nets 129, SuperSonics 108
Micheal Ray Richardson had 23 points and 10 assists and Buck Williams added 20 points and 20 rebounds as New Jersey beat Seattle for its fifth victory in six outings. Otis Birdsong scored six of his 10 first-quarter points during a 12-4 streak that gave the Nets a 37-25 lead, and the SuperSonics got no closer than eight points thereafter. An 8-2 run at the end of the first half made it 69-55 at halftime.

Tim McCormick paced Seattle with 27 points and 12 rebounds.

Spurs 108, Pacers 102
Artis Gilmore scored 22 points, including three in the final 24 seconds, to help San Antonio hold off a late Indiana rally.

The Spurs led by as many as 16 points in the second quarter and still had an eight-point advantage with 3:51 left. After the Pacers scored seven straight points to cut the margin to 103-102 with 39 seconds to go, Gilmore hit a hook shot with 24 seconds remaining and added a free throw when the Pacers turned the ball over on the inbounds pass.

Mike Mitchell led all scorers with 29 points for the Spurs, while Steve Stipanovich had 27 points for the Pacers.

Pistons 114, Knicks 90
Vinnie Johnson scored 17 of his 21 points in the second quarter in Detroit's rout of New York.

The Pistons led 33-16 at the end of the first period before Johnson hit all seven of his field-goal attempts in the second quarter en route to a 68-42 advantage at halftime.

Bernard King finished with a game-high 28 points for the Knicks, while Bill Laimbeer had 20 points and 16 rebounds for Detroit.

San Antonio Spurs guard JOHNNY MOORE (00) steals the ball from Indiana Pacers JERRY SICHTING during Wednesday night NBA action.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1985

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Your relations with other persons today is important and it is odd that at one moment you will seem to be getting along fine and the next moment some problems arise.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Try to come to a better understanding with partners over some agreement to be made and all works out well.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Co-workers may work in a different fashion than you, so do not interfere. Show that you are understanding and kind.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Friends may not agree on which pleasures or sports to enjoy, but let the majority rule and you can have a good time.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to Jul. 21) The situation at home keeps changing from pleasant to not so pleasant, but take this in your stride.

LEO (Jul. 22 to Aug. 21) Give much thought to the communications at hand since they are important and you do not want to make any mistakes.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You understand how to improve your property and should also listen to suggestions of others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make revisions to that personal plan you had formulated if you want it to work well. Gad about town in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A quiet plan you have to gain a cherished goal can only work if you are willing to make certain revisions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure you know what new acquaintances expect of you and don't be pressured into anything.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You had better recheck your civic duties since there may be ramifications you had not counted on.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have a plan that is sound but needs further study before you can put it in operation successfully.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You had better work out that new plan sensibly since your intuition is apt to fluctuate. Be affable.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she is innately gentle and can understand others very well and must have good cause before lending assistance to anyone. Your progeny will do well in whichever vocations call for precision. Teach not to procrastinate nor to vacillate, but to persevere intelligently.

Women's Region V tourney

Odessa, WTC set for finals clash

SNYDER — Odessa College moved into the finals of the Region V Women's Basketball Tournament with a 87-62 victory over Grayson County here Wednesday night.

The Lady Wranglers, now 33-0 and No. 1 in the nation, will play host school Western Texas College tonight at 7 p.m. The winner will advance to the national finals.

Grayson scored first in the game and the contest was tied 15-15 with 15 minutes remaining in the first half. Odessa, however, regained the lead in the next minutes and bolted to a 41-29 halftime lead.

OC's pair of All-Conference forwards 6-2 Sharon Blair and 6-3 Dee Conwell, combined for 52 points. Blair had 12-rebounds while Conwell added a game-high 14.

Paula Crutcher led Grayson with 19 points while Julie Cardinale had 14 and Viloot Lee 11.

CLARA CAMPBELL...powers Dusters attack

Johnson should give Rangers power punch

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cliff Johnson played a power game on the field for the Toronto Blue Jays last season, hitting a career high .304, clubbing 16 home runs and 109 hits.

Johnson finished third among American League designated hitters in average and second in slugging percentage.

Then Johnson tried another power play in contract negotiations and this time he struck out.

"I really kind of signed to go free agent to bring the Blue Jays around," Johnson said. "Since they didn't, I was left with the choice. But I'm happy."

After the Blue Jays balked at his long-term proposal, Johnson signed with the Texas Rangers, who hope the much-traveled slugger will fill a void as a designated hitter. "Apparently, Paul Beeston and Pat Gillick (Toronto executive vice presidents) lacked some confidence in me somewhere because they wouldn't go the longevity of the contract that I felt I had to have."

So Johnson packed up and moved on to his seventh stop on the major league circuit after previous stops at Houston, New York Yankees, Cleveland, Chicago Cubs, Oakland and Toronto.

"It's going to be a matter of me picking up and carrying on from last year and anticipating the changes," Johnson said. "If I was a rookie I might anticipate some problems. But for someone who's been around as long as I have, you learn how to make adjustments."
