12-year-old dies in 'cycle wreck

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer
Twelve-year-old Charlie Hoganmiller, a 7th-grade student at Goliad Middle School, was "a fine fellow," said his school principal, Jim Holmes.

Before his death Thursday night as the result of a motor vehicle accident, Charlie, who lived at 1310 Baylor, was a normal 12-year-old boy, his football coach said. "He wasn't an outstanding athlete but he tried real hard and gave his best," said Goliad football coach E.C. Robertson. Charlie had been a wide receiver and a defensive halfback for the school's A-team, Robertson said.

"He wasn't a problem student or anything like that. He did the things he was supposed to,"

Holmes said. "He was a reasonable 7th-grade student. He didn't have any special problems."

Last night, Charlie was driving his 1982 yellow Yamaha dirt bike west on the eastbound shoulder of F.M. 700 when his motorcycle collided with a pickup truck in the driveway of the Do-It Center, according to police reports. Charlie was taken to Malone-

Hogan Hospital in critical condition at 5:36 p.m. He was pronounced dead after surgery at 11:17 p.m. at the hospital by Dr. Don Crockett.

According to Crockett, death was caused by massive internal and head injuries.

Graveside services will be at 3:30 p.m. Saturday in Trinity Memorial Park, with the Rev. Logan Peterson, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, officiating. The driver of the pickup truck, Samuel Richard Read, 54, of 1517 E. 17th, was uninjured. Read was driving east in the eastbound lane of F.M. 700 and turned into the parking lot where the collision occurred, police reports state.

Charlie was wearing a motorcycle helmet when the accident oc-

GM ups requirements for automotive plant

Specifications don't pose problem for city

By CAROL BALDWIN
Staff Writer

Big Spring should have no trouble meeting increased specifications for a proposed General Motors automotive plant, according to LeRoy Tillery, executive director of the local Chamber of Commerce.

GM is seeking increased water, electricity, natural gas and wastewater capabilities. The increased specifications will take some cities out of contention for the plant, according to Texas Economic Development Commission employees.

Beky Hefflin, associate director of the commission, said, "Water is going to be the critical thing."

According to Dan Graham of the Texas Economic Development Commission, GM is requesting between 3 to 5 million gallons of water per day for the plant. That is up over the 3 to 4 million gallons per day originally requested.

In a bid proposal forwarded to GM, Tillery said Big Spring stated that up to 6 million gallons of water per day could be channeled to the plant. Tillery said Owen Ivie, manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, "designed a water plan that would provide 6 million gallons per day."

The new plant will also require between 500 to 1,000 mcf (thousand cubic feet) of natural gas be supplied to the plant each day. The original specification was for 600 to 800 mcf per day, Tillery said.

The increased natural gas requirement is no problem for Big Spring because a Midland oil and gas supply company is willing to sell a gas surplus to the plant should the plant locate in the West Texas area. The natural gas is from a wellhead at Sterling City, Tillery said.

Another requirement for the plant was the accessibility of 80,000 tons of coal per year.

"We don't have any coal but we (said in the proposal) that we had an oil and gas company that would provide gas sufficient to cover that requirement at a competitive rate," Tillery said.

Another increase in specifications for the plant was for kilowatt hours of electricity. The original

Panel bids for more college aid

Staff and bureau reports
AUSTIN — A House panel on Thursday proposed to fund Texas universities at an average of 96 percent of current levels rather than some 75 percent as proposed earlier.

Junior colleges would be funded at 100 percent of their current levels, said Rep. Tom Uher, D-Bay City, chairman of the House Higher Education Committee's budget panel. Earlier, a cut of more than 10 percent was suggested.

Dr. Bob Riley, president of the Howard County Junior College District, said, "what comes out of this committee are recommendations for funding."

Riley is "pleased that Rep. Uher has this posture" on the funding situation. "We hope that he can get this accomplished. It is my understanding that once the amount comes out of the committee, it can not be increased. We know it will be decreased."

"Tom Uher is a real supporter of community colleges," Riley said. Uher "had assured us that he was going to come in as high as he could, knowing that we would not be able to increase his recommendation."

Riley was in Austin Tuesday talking with state Legislators on the funding situation. Riley said Legislators and budget personnel said the "best we can hope for" is to remain at current levels of

White calls for assault on drugs

AUSTIN (AP) — The federal government's war on drug smuggling should be a full-scale assault, not a half-hearted effort, Gov. Mark White says.

"We have declared, in a sense, war on narcotics at the national level. What I want us to do is send more than a battalion of men into the fight," White told his weekly news conference Thursday.

But, White said, federal officials haven't done all they should so far.

"I know of no invasion that's ever taken place in this country's history that has created so much turmoil, so much heartache, so much hardship and so much of a threat to our national security as the invasion of narcotics,"

White said. "I think it's time for the national government to get about its job. We have the resources available; we've paid for those resources. They're called 'national defense.'"

White said the drug-related crime occurring in Mexico has spilled over into Texas.

"Many of the problems we face and the deaths that have occurred, the kidnappings that have occurred, are directly related to narcotics trafficking in this state and this nation," he said.

The governor downplayed Thursday's announcement in Washington that the military is using sophisticated AWACS — airborne radar — planes to detect aircraft carrying drugs into the United States.

Despite the use of AWACS, he said, equipment hasn't been made available to pursue smugglers who are spotted.

"You're putting a $100 million out there on the front line and you have no backup responsibility," White said.

"If we don't have the pursuit planes to follow up the aircraft they may detect through the use of that surveillance effort, in a sense we're playing very expensive video games. They can go up there and see the planes coming in, and yet we don't have any mechanism out there to go apprehend those planes."

White also criticized some AWACS operations which have taken place.

Board studies 'no pass, no play' rule

AUSTIN (AP) — A State Board of Education committee says it will wait to hear from the House before it acts on a Senate resolution demanding that the no-pass, no-play eligibility rule be revised.

The full 15-member state board will review the action of its Student Committee on Saturday.

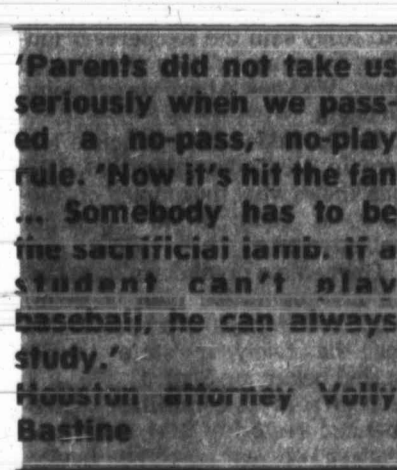

The five-member committee agreed on a reply to a Senate resolution passed 24-5 Thursday, but was sharply divided on whether to revise the controversial rule.

"Some injustices are being done," Sen. Carl Parker, D-Port Arthur, said of the board's ruling that bars students with a failing grade in one course from taking part in athletics or other extracurricular activities for at least six weeks. Upset parents, coaches and school administrators protested at a Senate committee hearing Wednesday that school teams were being broken up, students were dropping out of school and at least one boy considered suicide because of the rule.

"This rule has caused a great deal of confusion and heartbreak in Texas schools," Katherine Raines of Cleburne said Thursday. She favors week-by-week checking of students' grades to determine if they are eligible for athletics and other extracurricular activities.

"Parents did not take us seriously when we passed a no-pass, no-play rule. Now it's hit the fan. Somebody has to be the sacrificial lamb. If a student can't play baseball, he can always play. Somebody has to be the sacrificial lamb. If a student can't play baseball, he can always study." Committee chairman Jack Strong of Longview was authorized to write a letter to Parker, author of the Senate resolution which directed the state board to revise the rule.

"The letter will express our deep concern of the Legislature's interest and let the Senate know when we get strong directions from both houses we will give it immediate consideration," Strong said.

He said he made his suggestion for the letter after talking with Jon Brumley of Fort Worth, chairman of the state board.

Strong said he also talked with House Speaker Gib Lewis after the Senate resolution was passed 24-5

Thursday. The Senate action came after the House had adjourned for the weekend.

"The speaker said the issue (no-pass, no-play rule) was hotly contested in the House and he did not know the outcome," Strong said. "I think without any House action we would be remiss to take any action now."

He said Brumley has talked with Parker and assured the senator that if any emergency was indicated in the future, Brumley could call an emergency session of the state board.

Committee member Charles Duncan of Houston said he was a strong proponent of the six-weeks rule.

Warships leave port

MADRID, Spain — Two U.S. warships, the Eisenhower and the Mississippi, abruptly left Mallorca island three days before their official liberty was to end, leaving about 100 crew members stranded, a U.S. Embassy spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the ships departed due to "a change in program." He refused to elaborate.

The spokesman said the crew members were left behind late Thursday when the aircraft carrier Eisenhower and the guided missile cruiser Mississippi set sail from the Balearic island in the Mediterranean.

The embassy spokesman, who cannot be identified by name under embassy rules, said he did not know where the ships were heading.

Officers study gay law

WELLINGTON, New Zealand — Legislation was introduced into Parliament today to legalize male homosexuality and allow sexual relations between men over the age of 16.

The homosexual law reform bill was introduced by member Fran Wilde of the ruling Labor Party and referred to Parliament's statutes revision committee on a vote of 51 votes to 24 votes.

"This bill is a serious attempt to reform the law in what I acknowledge is still a contentious area, despite amazing progress in attitude change," Ms. Wilde said in introducing the bill.

"People have moved steadily away from knee-jerk, hysterical opposition to a position of more informed, considered acknowledgment that there is no evidence in favor of the punitive criminal codes which deals with this area of consenting adult sexual activity," she said.

Vietnamese driven out

PUNG TUK, Thailand — Soldiers expelled Vietnam's forces from Thai territory today, but the Vietnamese still sought a foothold in Thailand to press their attack on a Cambodia-based resistance camp, the armed forces commander said.

Earlier in the day the Cambodian guerrillas said waves of Vietnamese troops backed by heavy artillery had launched another assault on the camp of non-Communist resistance forces loyal to former Cambodian ruler Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

Terrorists' bombs kill 8

BOCHUM, West Germany — Three bombs damaged buildings in Bochum, Essen and Hamburg early today some 12 hours after left-wing terrorists bombed a department store in Dortmund, injuring eight people, police said.

An anonymous caller threatened more attacks in a 7 a.m. call to Essen police several hours after the latest explosions, which caused no injuries.

Reagan vow buildup if USSR won't cut arsenal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, ready to dispatch American arms negotiators to Geneva, vows the United States will continue building up its military muscle unless the Soviet Union agrees to scale down nuclear arsenals.

While declaring he seeks the reduction and eventual elimination of nuclear arms, Reagan said, "At the same time, we are not going to allow ourselves to drift into inferiority. If we can't get reductions, we will have to continue our modernization of our defense forces."

In a sendoff for his negotiators, Reagan arranged a breakfast meeting in the State Dining Room today with his bargaining team, congressional observers of the Geneva talks, Secretary of State George P. Shultz, Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and National Security Adviser Robert McFarlane.

The ceremony was a prelude to the opening in Geneva next Tuesday of the first U.S.-Soviet arms control talks in more than a year. The two sides seem far apart, particularly on the issue of space weapons and the U.S. "Star Wars" program that envisions the use of space-based lasers and other high-technology systems to shoot down enemy missiles in flight.

McFarlane said Thursday "if the past is any guide our job will be extremely difficult."

He said U.S. negotiators would be ready to offer tradeoffs in offensive weapons systems "which provide very powerful inducements for an agreement right now."

The U.S. bomber and submarine forces are considered superior, while the Soviets have an edge in heavy ground-based missiles. McFarlane provided no details of the shape of an American proposal to reduce all three types of strategic weapons.

He said Reagan was "nearing a decision" on the U.S. position on both strategic and intermediate-range nuclear weapons. He said it would be a "flexible" stand.

In a preview of today's ceremony, Reagan defended Star Wars and the MX missile during an Oval Office meeting on Thursday with a high-ranking Soviet official, Vladimir V. Shcherbitsky, a member of the policy-making Politburo.

It was "a lively give and take," White House deputy press secretary Larry Speakes said.

Shcherbitsky called it "interesting, frank and, I consider, useful, although our viewpoints do not coincide on all subjects."

By all accounts, the biggest differences were over Star Wars, or as the administration calls it, the Strategic Defense Initiative, which is now in the research stage.

Speakes said Reagan underscored that "none of the steps that we're taking are meant to be threatening."

Offering his view of the arms talks, Shcherbitsky said, "If we look at all the previous agreements, all of them were sums of compromises, and we are ready to agree to a number of compromises."

'Trooper' is a real hero

MINNEAPOLIS — Trooper, a police dog, may be the next member of the city force to earn a medal for bravery after he was gashed in the chest during the arrest of a man wanted in a child-custody dispute, police say.

When an arrest warrant was issued Wednesday for Steven Todd, 19, officers were told to expect he would be armed, probably with a butcher knife. Todd was sighted late Wednesday by private security officers, who notified police.

Patrolman Luke Koerner, patrolling with Trooper, a two-year veteran, spotted Todd in a parking lot, Koerner said. "I got up close to him (with the car) and I said, 'Stop or I'll send the dog.'"

"I decided to send the dog instead of pulling my gun because he (Todd) wasn't showing a weapon, but he was known to have a knife. I thought he would stop, but he refused. I warned him again but he took off, so I sent Trooper."

Writers reach contract

LOS ANGELES — Negotiators for striking scriptwriters and movie and television producers reached a tentative agreement today on a new contract after a marathon bargaining session, a spokesman for the producers said.

"A tentative contract agreement between the Writers Guild of America and the Alliance of Motion Picture and Television producers was reached today at 6:15 a.m. after a 16 1/2-hour bargaining session convened by Leonard Farrell of the Federal Mediation Board and Conciliation service," said Chuck Weisenberg, an alliance spokesman.

"The tentative agreement will be presented and recommended to a WGA membership meeting to be scheduled Monday evening, March 11," Weisenberg said, reading a statement by Naomi Gurian, director of the Writer's Guild, and J. Nicholas Counter, president of the alliance.

"Details of the agreement will be not discussed publicly until the WGA membership votes on the agreement," he said.

Jobless rate decreases

WASHINGTON — Civilian unemployment nationwide edged down to 7.3 percent in February as continuing economic strength created nearly 300,000 new jobs, the government said today.

The number of unemployed Americans, however, remained about the same, with 8.4 million people listed as out of work, down just 85,000 from January.

Moreover, the jobless rate for black workers rose by 1.4 percentage points to 16.3 percent, largely as a result of increased joblessness among adult black men. The rate for whites, meanwhile, was off, from 6.4 percent to 6.2 percent.

Coca-Cola magnate dead at 95

ATLANTA (AP) — Robert W. Woodruff, who built the Coca-Cola company into an international financial empire and amassed a personal fortune large enough to donate more than $200 million to the college he left out of boredom, has died at age 95.

Woodruff, a former president and chairman of the board of the soft drink company, died Thursday night after a 10-day stay at Emory University Hospital, said spokeswoman Julia Hoye.

At the age of 33, Woodruff quit as president of a trucking company to take over the helm of the soft drink company his father, Ernest Woodruff, had purchased four years earlier for $25 million.

That was in 1923 when the company "was largely a soda-fountain business, heavily in debt. I took the company and spread it around the world — with the help of a lot of fine people," Woodruff said in a 1981 interview.

Woodruff also was a philanthropist who contributed millions to education and cultural institutions in Atlanta and elsewhere. He was an "anonymous donor" to causes all over the state.

Known as "the boss" by Coca-Cola employees, Woodruff "considered himself an excellent salesman — that's all," said Joe Jones, his personal secretary, whom Woodruff had appointed to the Coke board of directors in 1980 by flexing the muscle resulting from his control of 17 percent of the company's stock.

He chose Roberto C. Goizueta as

Coca-Cola chairman over another man reputed to be the favorite of company officers at the time.

"I'm free to do pretty much as I please now," Woodruff said then. "I come and go. I have a very nice understanding with the company."

Woodruff "retired" as president of the company in 1939 and served as chairman of the board from 1939 to 1942 and as chairman of the executive committee from 1939 to 1954.

He retired in 1955, but remained as a director and chairman of the finance committee of the board of directors until 1981, when he became chairman emeritus of the committee.

In April 1984, following a change in the company's by-laws that barred the election of directors age 71 or older, Woodruff retired from the board, ending a 61-year association with Coca-Cola. He was 94 at the time.

Dear Abby

Conversation to spicy for lunchtime

DEAR ABBY: We often have lunch at a coffee shop near our office. The acoustics there are such that conversations at nearby booths or tables are very audible. More than once we have had to listen to vulgar and profane language because we could not help overhearing.

Today I heard a vulgar expression I've never heard before (I'm 58). These are not arguments, just business people discussing their office or jobs.

If you were sitting there, would you:

1. Suffer in silence. (After all, this sort of thing is not uncommon and is therefore tolerated.)
2. Ask the manager to speak to these people. (That hardly seems fair, asking him to do your dirty work, when he probably does not want to offend other regular customers.)

3. Go up to the booth or table and say something like: "Pardon me, but perhaps you are unaware that your conversation is being heard at the nearby tables."

If you print a better solution, I'll keep copies in my purse to hand out.

OFFENDED IN L.A.

DEAR OFFENDED: I would write a note saying something like: "Your language is offensive. Please clean up your act, or keep your voice down. Thank you. — The Lunch Bunch"

Then I would either ask the waitress to deliver it to the offending table, or I'd deliver it myself.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a unique problem with no visible way to solve it without losing a friendship.

We have friends with whom we play cards at least once a week. Both my husband and I have seen Mr. X palm a wild card off the table onto his lap to be used when he needs it in order to win. We do not play for high stakes, so neither my husband nor I can comprehend why Mr. X does this.

Needless to say, Mr. X is always the big winner — the total rarely amounts to $5.

Now when we play, I am all tense, always looking to see if Mr. X is going to palm another card.

We don't want to mention this to his wife or to his other friends, as we really care for them.

What should our game plan be?

CHEATED IN FLORIDA

DEAR CHEATED: Your game plan should be "truth or consequences." When you see Mr. X palm a card, call him on it in a jocular way — "I didn't know you were a sleight-of-hand artist; let's see you palm another card!" Then let him take the consequences.

Dr. Donohue

Heart pacemaker can be twisted

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: I am a 68-year-old woman with a doctor smart enough to diagnose my heart problem as one that needed a pacemaker installed. So today I write to you in excellent health. Now my doctor has taken a long-needed extended vacation (I guess I did him in), so I have no one to ask this. My pacemaker is working fine, with one exception. I am getting the strangest twitching sensation under the skin in the area where it is and up my shoulder. Do you think it is my pacemaker? The battery is okay. — Mrs. E.N.

Some pacemakers can do this. They may become twisted around under the skin. It is more of a problem in older people whose skin might be a tad looser than it should be. This allows the pacer to get turned around to the point where it can discharge little shocks into the pectoral muscle. Call the physician who is standing in for your regular doctor while he's on vacation.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: Our doctor is treating my 16-year-old daughter's acne. My daughter has learned from some of her peers about the drug called isotretinoin, which she is told is absolutely a must. I spoke with our doctor, but he says he'd rather hold back on that and keep her on her present plan. Is this drug really effective or is it too dangerous to use? — P.W.J.

Isotretinoin is very helpful in acne control, but it is usually reserved for the more severe forms — the cystic type. I think your doctor has the right to withhold the stronger medicine until he can measure the success of the present ones. Isotretinoin can have undesired side effects in some patients.

DEAR DR. DONOHUE: How does being overweight bring on high blood pressure, which I am told brings it on? — Curious.

Theories abound. One theory is that increased body weight demands a greater amount of blood oxygen, and this in turn causes the heart to increase its blood output with each beat. This may lead to greater blood plasma volume with resulting hypertension.

Acne is a terrible problem for anyone growing up. If you are afflicted with it, or have children who are, write to Dr. Donohue in care of the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 11210, Chicago, IL 60611, for a copy of his booklet, "Controlling Acne, Blackheads and Pimples." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 50 cents.

Dr. Donohue welcomes reader mail but regrets that, due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

The Golden Glory Gang is looking for Liberty Hill. A group of senior adults at College Baptist Church organized in May of 1984, the 3Gs will travel to Liberty Hill March 21 to sing in a revival at Liberty Hill Baptist Church. Following their performance, the 3Gs will travel for three days and two nights, touring Georgetown, Austin, Johnson City, Fredericksburg and Junction. The Rev. Bobby Fuller, pastor of College Baptist, will preach at the revival. To raise money for the trip, the church is having an inside sale Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the church's old auditorium. Heaters, air conditioners, clothes, toys and "everything in between" will be for sale, said Clayton Hicks, College Baptist's senior adult minister. "When we organized our senior adults here, they wanted to have a choir," said Hicks. There are 20 members of the choir, ranging in age from 60 to 83, that meet the second and fourth Thursday of each month. To be a member, a person must be at least 60 years old. Orville Bryant is the director of the group, and Norvelle Hoggard is the assistant director. Pianist is Tacoma Draper with Deena Smith as assistant. Ms. Smith also is the director of the tour to Liberty Hill. "It's just a live bunch," says Hicks.

Campus minister to lead spiritual seminar

Dean Overton, campus minister at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, N.M., will lead a seminar titled "Spiritual Growth 1985" at College Heights Christian Church Sunday through Wednesday.

On Sunday, he will speak at 10:45 a.m. Monday through Wednesday, the program will begin at 7 p.m. Music will be by Joe Whitten and "His Children" on Sunday morning, and a gospel concert will be given at 6 p.m. Sunday. Parker Heights Christian Church of Odessa will provide music on Monday evening. "New Direction" from Big Spring will sing during the Tuesday session. Nita Sweeden of Odessa will sing Wednesday. Overton has been campus minister since the late 1960s and a faculty member for 12 years. He is a graduate of Midwest Christian College and has a master of arts degree and an education specialist degree from ENMU. Overton teaches Old Testament Survey, New Testament Survey, Acts, Introduction to Philosophy, Logic and Christian Counseling. College Heights Christian Church, 2100 Goliad, is an independent Christian church with the Rev. Keith Gibbons as pastor. For more information, call 263-2241 or 267-7113.

"Prayer to God is essential in building a strong Christian faith," he says. "We must allow God to guide our steps and maintain faith in Jehovah and in his provision through Jesus Christ."

Midland rector to give Lenten series

Dr. Joseph Hastings Schley Jr., rector of St. Nicholas' Episcopal Church of Midland, will speak at the Lenten series Wednesday at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 1001 Goliad.

Evening prayer begins at 6 p.m. and is followed by a parish supper and an address on spirituality by Schley.

Having served churches in Florida, Texas and Virginia, Schley also is a former lawyer, judge and businessman. He served as a captain in the United States Air Force.

Schley has done additional work with the College of Preachers in Washington, D.C.; St. George's College in Jerusalem, Israel; the University of Pennsylvania Psychiatric Institute; and various churches in England.

Schley is president of the Council on Alcoholism, and director of the United Way and Families-in-Action in Midland. Other work has includ-

Canadian minister to lead services

The Rev. and Mrs. R.H. Oldridge will lead services at Gospel Tabernacle, 1907 Scurry, March 10, 17 and 24.

The Oldridges of Canada are musical missionaries with Global Missions. They have traveled throughout the world.

Ministers are being flown in from Canada to fill-in for the Rev. Jack Crawford, pastor, who was recently transferred to Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas.

Religion roundup

Baptists gain churches, not baptisms

In 1984, Texas Baptists gained more members and churches but showed a decline in the amount of people baptized by the churches according to the denomination's statistical services department.

The number of churches increased by 39 during the year to a total of 4,056, and mission congregations increased from 781 to 805.

Totals were affected by the Minnesota-Wisconsin Southern Baptist Fellowship becoming a state convention, and its 76 churches no longer are included in the statistics of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, said Statistician W.E. Norman. Texas Baptists have helped support pioneer missions work in the two northern states since 1956.

Baptisms reported by the churches were down from 66,323 in 1983 to 62,581 in 1984.

Total membership of the 4,861 churches and missions grew by 39,000, to 2,361,089. Sunday School enrollment grew by more than 23,000 to 1,267,780.

Enrollment in Texas Baptist Men increased by 533 to a total of 69,750 while Woman's Missionary Union decreased from 136,044 to 135,836.

Missions gifts by the churches through the Cooperative Program grew from $50.4 million in 1983 to $53.5 million in 1984, and total missions giving gained by about $4 million to more than $107 million.

American Jews unhappy with parties

Many American Jews, "unhappy with both parties," feel "politically homeless," a well-known observer of the Jewish community says.

American Jewish Committee's Washington representative Hyman Bookbinder said that Jews "are worried about a Democratic party largely influenced by Jesse Jackson or other left-of-center elements." He was speaking at the American Jewish Committee's San Francisco Bay Area Chapter at the Levi Strauss Auditorium.

But, he added, "They are also worried about a Republican party largely influenced by hard-line right-of-center and fundamentalist elements." Jews are not the only ones concerned about the extremist elements in both major parties, Bookbinder said. The health of the democratic, pluralistic society and the welfare of the Jews would be best served by giving the American people a choice between a left-of-center and a right-of-center party.

Missionary to speak at Sunday service

The Rev. O.K. Perkinson will speak at the 6 p.m. Sunday service at the First Church of the Nazarene. The Perkinsons were appointed as Nazarene missionaries in 1952, serving in Uruguay for almost 20 years.

In Uruguay, the Perkinsons founded and directed a Bible school. In 1971, they were assigned to Argentina, serving there until 1981 when they moved to Puerto Rico. In Puerto Rico, they served until their recent return to the United States for a furlough. The Perkinsons are spending a year in deputation work, speaking from coast to coast.

A spring Sunday School drive is in progress with the theme "There's Room for You in Our Sunday School." Cotton Mize, director of Christian life, says enthusiasm is running high in the effort.

Morning worship and Children's Church begin at 10:50 a.m. Dr. Carl Powers, pastor, will begin a pre-Easter sermon series using the seven final words from the cross as a base. The sanctuary choir also will sing.

Women present program on Korea

A third study program in a series, "The Praying Church in Korea", was presented to Women of the First Church of God at a meeting Monday.

The religions of Korea, current situations of the Christian communities, and the importance of prayer in the Korean Church were emphasized in the program.

Plans were made for the 13th annual Spring Convention March 14-16 at the Holiday Inn in Kerrville. The guest speaker will be Dr. Ann Smith, missionary coordinator for missions work in Asia.

Korean church life. She was assisted by Renae Loy, a pastor's wife, and Kathryn Thomas, a church member.

Mrs. Eula Phillips was appointed membership and attendance chairman. The group selected prayer partners for the coming year.

Bartell gives public Bible lecture

Jehovah's Witnesses concluded their religious assembly Sunday at the high school in Sweetwater. According to William A. Bronaugh, 1,335 people attended the two-day gathering.

Highlighting the assembly was the public Bible lecture by Frank R. Bartell, district overseer from the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in Brooklyn, N.Y. In developing the assembly theme, "Be Stabilized in the Faith," Bartell spoke on the subject "Basis for Faith in An Unbelieving World."

"We are living in an age of doubt," he said. "Skepticism has become fashionable. People question everything, even God's existence, as well as the truthfulness of the Holy Bible."

A large number of school board and city council candidates met the March 8 filing deadline Wednesday hoping to win positions during the April 8 elections.

Candidates running in the Crossroads Country area numbered 42, according to spokesmen from the two entities.

Three Coahoma school board member incumbents will face three challengers at the polls this year. Incumbents Ronnie K. Wood, Stanley Phillips and Warren Geter will vie for the three posts against Mrs. Shannon Boyles Sr., Arnulfo Hernandez and Ken Cobb. The winners will serve a three-year term.

Stanton also witnessed a fair turnout for the city's school board and city council election.

Vying for the two-year terms are incumbents Albert H. Baker and William "Bill" Wheeler. The two will face Kenneth "Butch" Haggard and Thomas C. Miller.

Incumbents Terry Franklin and Mike Hall will vie for their positions and candidates Robert Adkins and Clemente Villa will battle for the third seat. The candidates are seeking three-year terms. Four candidates will be seeking two, three-year terms on the Colorado City Council this year. Incumbent mayor Elmer Martin and councilman Dee Hearn will be seeking re-election. The other candidates are Jack Green, Donald Webb and Tom Carlock.

In the race for the school board, four incumbents will be seeking two, three-year terms in April. The candidates are incumbent Dr. Billy Bridgford, Kathy Bassham, Bobby Calloway and Joe Weaver. Only one candidate, Ronnie Aston, filed for the one-year term on the school board. Incumbent Joe Kirschbaum will not be seeking re-election and Dr. Pat Thomas resigned earlier this year.

Two incumbents will also be seeking re-election to the Garden City school board in April. Incumbent Barbara Halfmann of St. Laurence will be vying for her post. The two other candidates include Glenda Blalock, who lives north of the city, and Dennis Fuchs, of St. Laurence.

Forsan school board members Larry Bristo and Fred Holguin will be seeking re-election for two, three-year terms. Their opponents are Mary Litner and Terry Wooten. Councilmen Gary Burton and Owen Rauls and candidate Benny Pickett will be vying for the two-year term council spots in April.

Three incumbents on the Sands school board will be seeking re-election and will face challenger Keith Nichols for the three, three-year terms. The incumbents are Ed Billingsley, Joe Barnes and Eddie Hern.

Rob Dyess and Bill Phinzy, incumbents on the Borden County school board, will battle Kent Holmes for the two, three-year terms up for re-election.

The Grady school board has three posts up for re-election this year. Incumbents Mike Black and Charles McKaskle will face Tahita Holloway in the voting-at-large election.

Father, family perish in Dallas house blaze

ROWLETT (AP) — Four persons died early today when a wind swept fire roared through their brick home in this Dallas suburb, fire officials said.

Rowlett Fire Department Lt. James Cunningham said the victims included a Rowlett man, his two daughters, ages 11 and 9, and an unidentified man.

The mother of the two children and an 11-month-old infant escaped, Cunningham said.

The names of the victims were being withheld pending notification of relatives, officials said.

"There was a strong south wind, about 30 mph, and the fire had engulfed the house by the time we got there," Cunningham said.

The father led his wife and the infant from the burning home and went back in to help the others escape, but the fire, swept by 30 mph winds, was burning so fast he was unable to return to safety.

"That's how fast it went up," said Cunningham, who said firemen found the mother and child in the yard. "She was in shock," he added.

The mother was taken to Garland Memorial Hospital for treatment of shock, but the infant was not believed to be hurt, Cunningham said.

The home was a total loss and an investigation was underway to determine the cause of the fire, he added.

Rowlett fire officials were being aided by the Dallas County fire marshal's office and a Dallas County medical examiner's office field agent.

First reports indicated that only three had died in the fire, but firemen said they were not aware that the unidentified man was in the house and they had accounted for all members of the family.

Rowlett is located in northeastern Dallas County, near Garland.

It was the worst fire in the history of the town, said a police spokesman who declined to give his name.

Texaco shuts down refinery

AMARILLO (AP) — An effort to "remain competitive" in a changing market has forced the shutdown of one of Texaco's smallest refineries, leaving 150 people jobless here by the end of the year.

Meanwhile, Gov. Mark White says an effort should be made to help the workers find new jobs.

Texaco U.S.A. officials announced Thursday that the closure will take effect by the end of the year.

No time line has been set for the shutdown, but plant operations will stop by the end of 1985, said Paul Weeditz, spokesman for the Mid-Continent Region of Texaco.

The closure is an effort by the oil company to "remain competitive in the marketplace," Weeditz said. White said he's concerned about the loss of jobs.

"We must address the needs of these workers and their families and help them find other jobs as rapidly as possible," White said.

But Weeditz said the prospect of transferring employees to other Texaco facilities is remote because of the scarcity of jobs.

In addition to closing the Amarillo facility, Texaco also is shutting down its Lawrenceville, Ill., plant, Weeditz said. He said the changing market has forced the company to review its domestic operations and make them more efficient.

The continuing drop in demand for petroleum products and the abundant supply of distillates in the United States are major reasons the company decided to close out some operations, Weeditz said.

"This plant, as well as the industry and the company as a whole, is experiencing very difficult economic times and demand levels are substantially below peak levels of just a few years ago," he said.

Texaco regards information on refinery operation levels as "proprietary" so no figures are available for the Amarillo facility, Weeditz said.

The Amarillo refinery, built in 1918 and purchased by Texaco 10 years later, has a rated capacity of 20,000 barrels of crude oil per day, making the plant one of the firm's smallest.

Of the three Texaco refineries in Texas, only the El Paso operation, with a capacity of 17,000 barrels a day, is smaller. Weeditz said he doesn't know of plans to close the El Paso facility.

The third Texas plant, at Port Arthur, has a capacity of 200,000 barrels a day. Its capacity was cut in 1984 from 402,000 barrels a day and the work force cut from 3,000 to 1,250.

The Lawrenceville plant has a capacity of 65,000 barrels a day and employs 375 workers, Weeditz said.

White said he has asked the Texas Economic Development Commission, the Texas Department of Community Affairs and the Texas Employment Commission to help the affected employees.

"The oil and gas industry has been a mainstay of our state's economy for decades, but evidence continues to mount that underscores the need to diversify our economic base and create new jobs for Texas' rapidly expanding population," White said.

Company officials informed employees at both the Amarillo and Lawrenceville plants Thursday of the decision to cease operations, according to Weeditz.

SWC tournament gets underway today

DALLAS (AP) — "Stall ball" is a nasty phrase that is striking fear in the hearts of Southwest Conference coaches going into the 10th annual Post-Season SWC Basketball Classic that starts today.

There will be no 45-second clock as there has been during the regular season.

"It will certainly make for a different approach," said Texas Christian Coach Jim Killingsworth. "We'll live in fear of what the other guy will do if he gets ahead."

Killingsworth said nobody had to worry about the Horned Frogs taking the air out of the ball.

"All the crowd has to do is starting yelling 'Boring' and our players put the ball up," Killingsworth said.

No. 4 seed Texas A&M and No. 5 seed Texas Christian were set to open the tournament quarterfinals at 12:06 p.m. today, followed by Texas Tech, the SWC regular season champion, and No. 8 Baylor at 2:06 p.m.

At 7:06 p.m., No. 2 seed Arkansas and No. 7 seed Texas meet, while third-seeded Southern Methodist plays sixth-seeded Houston at 9:06 p.m.

The winner of the tournament gets an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

"This tournament could be anybody's," said Red Raider Coach Gerald Myers. "This is a brand new challenge for us. Any team can get hot and win it."

Tech's Red Raiders did not automatically win a berth into the NCAA Tournament with their first SWC title since 1973.

But "I think we will probably get an invitation from what I've heard even if we don't win the tournament," Myers said.

Texas will miss senior Carlton Cooper, who tore a ligament last week and will have skip the rest of his final season.

"You don't replace a guy like Cooper," Texas Coach Bob Weltlich said. "It will hurt, but we beat Southern California without him last Sunday."

Tech comes into the tournament with an eight-game victory streak after closing fast over the final two weeks of the season to beat out SMU, Arkansas and Texas A&M for the title.

"We're coming into the tournament with a good feeling," said Myers. "You build up your confidence when you win a lot of games in a row and it puts you in a good frame of mind."

"However, sometimes you play better in a nasty frame of mind and that's what we are worried about with some of the other teams."

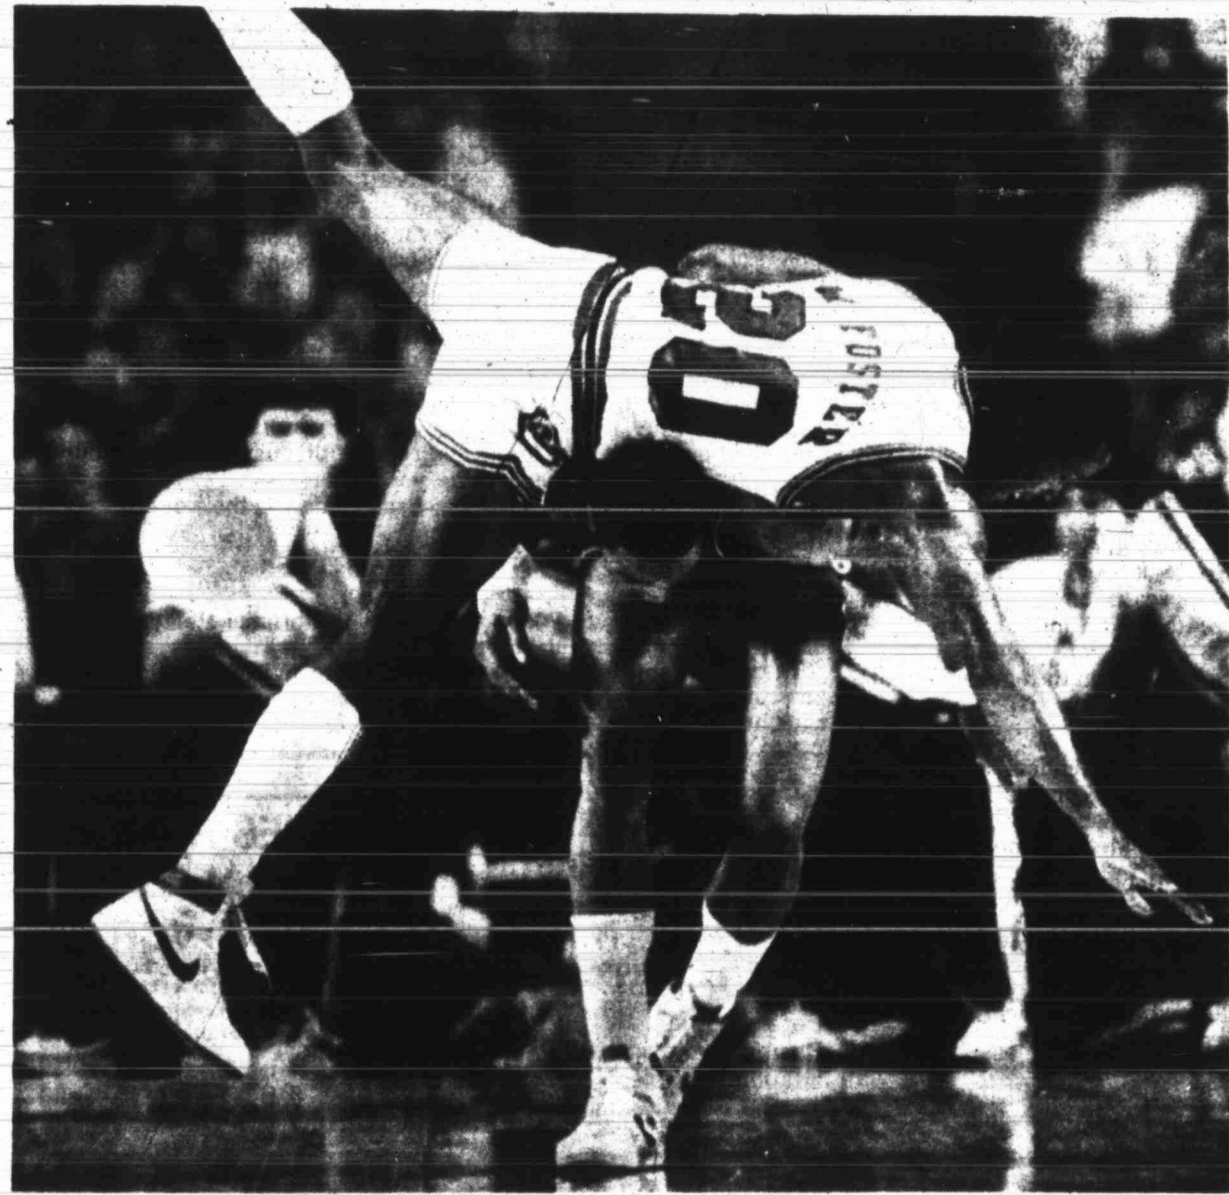

Houston defeated Arkansas 57-56 last year to win the tournament and advanced all the way to the NCAA Final Four for the third consecutive year.

The SWC is hoping to land four teams in the NCAA playoffs.

"Our conference deserves four teams in the NCAA playoffs," said Arkansas Coach Eddie Sutton.

SMU Coach Dave Bliss said he hopes his Mustangs will overcome their fast fade that saw them lose six of their final nine games.

"The highlight of my week so far has been going to the dentist," said Bliss. "I hope we shake out of our slump."

Snook's dynasty comes to end; Lamesa advances to 4A finals

AUSTIN (AP) — A schoolboy basketball dynasty of sorts fell in the Class A state schoolboy basketball semifinals as LaRue LaPoyner upset Snook 60-52, ending Snook's bid for an eighth straight state title and a national record for the most consecutive state titles.

The upset came in one of six semifinal games played here Thursday. The finals in all classes will be played Saturday and semifinals in Class 2A and 5A were to be played today.

In semifinal games Thursday, Nazareth edged Munday in the other Class A semifinal; Brownsboro beat Seminole, 63-56, and Sweeney defeated Ingleside 58-48 in Class 3A; Bay City walloped Seagoville, 89-64, and Lamesa slipped past New Braunfels, 67-64, in Class 4A.

Semifinal games today had Grapeland meeting Temple Academy and Pilot Point vs. Morton in Class 2A while Conroe met Corpus Christi King and Fort Worth Southeast met Houston Madison in Class 5A.

Kerry Pettie scored 24 points to lead LaRue LaPoyner to the upset victory over Snook that left Snook coach Donnie Victorick "hurt."

"It doesn't shock me, but it hurts. It hurts tremendously," the coach said following the loss.

Turnovers proved to be the key in the upset victory as the winners turned 13 turnovers into points while making only seven turnovers themselves. LaPoyner also hit 18 of 26 free throw attempts.

LaPoyner, 30-6, will meet Nazareth, a 44-42 winner over Munday, in Saturday's title game. Snook ended its season 33-6.

Walter Martin had 20 points and nine rebounds for Snook.

Sophomore LaBradford Smith was 12 of 12 from the field and 5 of 5 from the free throw line for Bay City in the 4A semifinal. Hart Lee Dykes, acclaimed as one of the best schoolboy football athletes in Texas during the past season, added 18 points for the winners despite sitting out much of the second half with four fouls. John Tenison hit 12 of 21 for Seagoville for 31 points.

Bay City is now 34-1, and Seagoville bowed out with a 20-12 record.

Lamesa was led by brothers Jerry and Chris Mason, which had to overcome an eight-point halftime deficit. Jerry scored 24 points and Chris 20, and each pulled down 10 rebounds. Tilo Schmidt led New Braunfels with 22 points.

Lamesa raised its record to 28-5, while New Braunfels ended its season at 19-13.

The 3A semifinal between Seminole and Brownsboro 3A game looked like a rout when Seminole built a 27-7 lead with 3:08 to go in the first half.

But the Bears came back, outscoring the Indians 45-27 in the state playoffs page 2-B

Hatalsky takes Bay Hill lead

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — It was a delighted Morris Hatalsky who considered the 5-under-par 66 that staked him to the first round lead in the $500,000 Hertz Bay Hill Classic.

"No complaints. I'm as pleased as I can be," Hatalsky said Thursday after he had scored an eagle-2 on his way to a two-shot lead.

Hal Sutton also was pleased. He scored his second hole-in-one of the season.

But he definitely had a complaint. The ace, with a 3-iron on the 17th hole at the Bay Hill Club came three days too early.

The sponsors have offered a $1 million prize, $500,000 to the player and an equal amount to charity, for a hole-in-one on the 17th. But only if it comes in Sunday's final round. Sutton, who finished with a 73, was not alone in considering what might have been.

Tom Watson, for example, was in position to challenge for the lead until he hit into the water and made a triple-bogey 7 on the 13th hole. He, too, finished with a 73.

"But I'm more excited about playing now than I was earlier in the year. I'm more excited because I'm hitting the ball better than I have all year," Watson said.

And then there was Buddy Gardner, who was 4-under-par, a single shot out of the lead, until he hit into the water on the 18th and made double bogey.

"I hate to finish like that, but it's one of those things," he said after his 2-under-par 69.

Steers Spotlight

Tracksters head to W.T. Relays

By STEVE BELVIN
Staff Writer

ODESSA — The Big Spring Steers boys and girls track teams will both have their hands full this weekend when they participate in the West Texas Relays.

The field will include a host of schools including all 4-5A opponents and schools from Amarillo, Lubbock and El Paso. This year there will be one division for 4-A and 5-A schools in the girls division, prompting Big Spring coach Randy Britton to call this the "most competitive meet until district."

Both the Steers and Lady Steers were hit hard by the new eligibility rules of the new school reform bill. Five girls and two key boy performers will be lost for the next six weeks.

The girls were affected the hardest with the loss of twin-sisters and sprinters Latresa and Aretha Cork along with sister and shot-putter Taylissa Cork. Also missing will be long jumper Priscilla Banks and 800 meter runner Lisa Bacon.

The loss of the Corks have put the 400 meters in jeopardy. This week Britton will have junior Jo Ann Ezell, freshman Katrina Thompson, junior Monique Jones and sophomore Monica Lockridge. "I just hope we get the stick around," said Britton. "At least we'll know who will be running for the next six weeks."

The Lady Steers will probably get the bulk of their points from their weight people. Last week Paula Jolley and Amanda Solis finished second and third in the shot put while Solis took second in the discus. Britton is also expecting good performances from hurdler Connie Swinney and Kari Brooks in the 400.

Top key boys performers missing from this six weeks will be 500 hurdler Bobby Madigan and 400 runner Jim Rogers.

Last week Coach Britton saw improvement from his boys team, especially in the relays. The 400 relay team will consist of juniors Dewayne Sherman, Charles White, Alex Minter Wes Matthews or freshman Charles White. Last week the Steers posted a time of 44.5, which equalled their best time last season.

"I think with hard work and good handoffs these kids can go 42.6 by the end of the season," commented Britton.

The 1600 relay team of Shawn Jackson (53.0), Brian Reid (53.1), Cedrick Banks (54.9), Sherman or Dax McCracken (54.2) will be trying to improve the time 3:36.40 last week. They are just two seconds off Big Spring's best time last year.

Reid in the 300 hurdles and McCracken in the 800 are Big Spring's top running hopefuls. Reid will be out to break the 40-second barrier while McCracken hopes to go under two minutes. Sherman, who is suffering from a strained leg muscle, could be a factor in the 300 hurdles.

The top Steers field event people will be high jumper-long jumper Brian Mayfield and long jumper Wimberly White. Mayfield just missed 6-4 last week while White jumped a season best 19-4.

"We have a young team," said Britton of his boys squad. "Hopefully they'll keep pushing themselves and getting better."

All field events are scheduled for Friday beginning at 1 p.m. Running prelims start at 2:30. Finals begin at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Steers golfers 13th at San Angelo

SAN ANGELO — The Big Spring Steers varsity golf team is competing this week in the San Angelo Classic being hosted by San Angelo Central High School. The Steers golfers finished the first round with a team total of 360, good for 13th place. The opening round was played at the San Angelo Country Club. Abilene Cooper was leading the team competition with an opening day total of 319.

Individually for the Steers, Steve Ross was leading the Big Spring contingent with an 82, good enough to tie for fifth place after the first round. Robert Gilbert was next in with a 90 for the day. Freshman Jeff Rhodes fired a 93 and Marc Couch had a 95 on the day. Larry Garcia rounded out the Steer squad showing with a 99.

Arnie Burttschell of Cooper was leading the pack for medalist honors with an opening round of 76.

Today's last round will be played at Bentwood Country Club.

Tech, Texas in women's finals

DALLAS (AP) — Top-ranked Texas used 19 points from Fran Harris to coast past Arkansas 104-62 Thursday night and gain a berth in the finals of the Southwest Conference women's basketball tournament.

Texas raised its records to 26-2 overall and 17-0 in conference play. Arkansas fell to 20-8 and 11-6. Texas never trailed in winning its 97th straight game against SWC opponents. The Longhorns led by 28 at the half, 51-23.

The Longhorns will play in the Saturday's finals against 19th-ranked Texas Tech, which defeated Houston 81-67 in semifinal play Thursday.

Lisa Logsdon scored a game-high 20 points to pace Texas Tech, which improved its record to 22-6.

Houston, which fell to 21-8, led by 36-35 at the half and stretched the advantage to as much as seven points early in the second half.

But Texas Tech held the lead for good after Sharon Cain scored an 18-foot jump shot with 4:13 remaining.

Logsdon's 20 points were matched by teammate Tricia Clay.

Odessa edges WTC for Region V crown

SNYDER — Odessa College remained unbeaten on the year as the number one ranked women's junior college team in the nation slipped by the Western Texas Dusters 56-55 in the finals of the Region V women's basketball tournament here Thursday.

All-tournament selection Dee Conwell scored three points in the last 20 seconds to give the Lady Wranglers their one point edge after trailing the Dusters 55-53. Conwell hit a bucket to tie the game and a foul call on WTC's Clara Campbell sent Conwell to the line where she hit the game winner.

WTC had possession of the ball with 5 seconds remaining when Conwell stole the inbound pass to seal the victory for the Lady Wranglers.

Rhonda Hoelting missed an attempt to push the WTC lead to 56-53 before Conwell's performance when she missed a free throw attempt.

Conwell finished with 17 points while teammate Sharon Blair, the tournament MVP, scored 20.

Clara Campbell and Renny Evans were both named to the all-tournament squad, led WTC with 25 and 10 points respectively.

Other all-tournament selections were: Debbie Jones of Amarillo College, Valerie Barnett of Cisco, Sharon Burchenfeld of Clarendon, Paula Crutcher of Grayson and Julie Cardenale of Grayson.

In men's first round action Amarillo College downed Grayson 75-63, McLennan edged New Mexico Junior College 96-93, Odessa topped TSTI 90-78 and Midland downed Cisco Junior College 75-60.

Suns nip Spurs at buzzer

By The Associated Press

Some say it's better to be lucky than to be good. As the Phoenix Suns learned, it's best to be both.

Trailing the San Antonio Spurs 117-116 with four seconds left to play, Phoenix Coach John MacLeod called two timeouts and designed a play to shake loose Kyle Macy for a potential game-winning jump shot.

But Macy was covered and the inbound pass went to Walter Davis, who calmly swished a three-point shot at the buzzer for a 118-117 National Basketball Association victory.

"We were really looking for Macy along the baseline," MacLeod said. "But Walter was wide open."

In other NBA games, Kansas City got past Denver 142-140 and Utah tripped Detroit 122-114.

Davis, who scored 21 points, was playing in just his 16th game this season after missing the first 47 because of a knee injury. But San Antonio Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons said Davis looked to be in fine shape.

Alvan Adams paced Phoenix with 22 points, Charles Pittman added 16, Maurice Lucas 14, Charles Jones 13 and James Edwards 10.

Mike Mitchell led the Spurs with a game-high 36 points. Johnny Moore had 18, Alvin Robertson 16 and Artis Gilmore 15 for San Antonio. George Gervin scored nine points — 13 under his team-leading average.

Kings 142, Nuggets 140 ... Larry Drew, who scored 30 points, sank a jump shot with 55 seconds remaining and J.C. Meriweather, who scored 20 points off the bench, added a late foul shot to lift host Kansas City over Denver.

Drew's jumper made it 141-139 and Meriweather's free throw completed the Kansas City scoring.

Denver's Mike Evans missed a three-point shot at the buzzer. Calvin Natt scored 36 points and Alex English 29 for the Nuggets.

Jazz 122, Pistons 111 ... In Detroit, Darrell Griffith scored 31 points and Utah used a late surge to beat the Pistons.

NBA

The Jazz got a dunk from 7-foot-4 Mark Eaton to take a 117-114 lead with 1:06 left, and then John Stockman made a jump shot and a foul shot to increase the margin to five points with 26 seconds remaining.

Thurl Bailey added 22 points for the Jazz, who were playing on the anniversary of their 11th year in the league.

Favorites roll in Big East matches

By The Associated Press

The top-ranked Georgetown Hoyas and second-ranked St. John's Redmen won big, as expected, but No. 13 Syracuse barely survived an upset bid by Boston College in Thursday's quarterfinals of the Big East basketball tournament.

Patrick Ewing overcame first-half foul trouble to score 20 points as Georgetown opened defense of its Big East tournament title with a 93-62 rout of Connecticut in an afternoon game.

St. John's then routed Providence 90-62 in night action behind Walter Berry, Chris Mullin and Bill Wennington, who combined for 66 points. St. John's twice led by 34 points in the second half in the runaway victory.

Syracuse, meanwhile, had to struggle to beat Boston College 70-69 Thursday afternoon in the competition at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Dwayne "Pearl" Washington's jump shot with 22 seconds remaining provided the Orangemen with their winning points and Syracuse clinched it when a last-second shot by the Eagles' Troy Bowers rolled around the rim and fell out.

In Friday night's semifinals, Georgetown will take on Syracuse while St. John's will face Villanova, which downed Pittsburgh 69-61 behind 19 points apiece from Dwayne McClain and Harold Pressley.

In other tournament action Thursday night involving the nation's ranked teams, No. 5 Memphis State defeated pesky Southern Mississippi 68-58 in the Metro Conference tourney as forward Keith Lee scored 17 points.

At Birmingham, Ala., Buck Johnson scored 15 points, including a key basket in the last minute, to help Alabama post a 42-31 victory over Mississippi State in the quarterfinals of the Southeastern Conference tournament.

Andrew Moten converted a go-ahead three-point play with 2:06 remaining and added two crucial free throws in the final minute as Florida knocked off Kentucky 58-55 in Thursday afternoon's other quarterfinal game.

At night in SEC quarterfinal play, No. 17 Georgia built a 12-point lead with less than four minutes remaining and then had to hold off a Tony White-led rally to edge Tennessee 67-61.

Auburn, with Chuck Person making four clutch foul shots, beat No. 19 Louisiana State 58-55 in the last SEC game of the night.

On Friday, Florida will play Auburn while Alabama meets Georgia.

Steve Harris nailed 27 points as No. 15 Tulsa breezed past Bradley 85-77 to set up a Tulsa-Wichita State championship game Saturday in the Missouri Valley Conference tournament. Wichita State blasted Indiana State 92-65 in the other MVC semifinal game Thursday night.

In late action, Andre Battle matched his career high of 34 points to lead No. 16 Loyola, Ill., to a 100-85 victory over Oklahoma City in the Midwestern City Conference tournament at Tulsa, Okla. Earlier in the day at the tournament, Walt McBride's three-point play broke a tie with 1:15 left as Xavier went on a 16-2 game-ending spurt to oust Detroit 77-69, while Evansville center Richie Johnson hit two free throws with nine seconds left to give the Purple Aces a 73-72 overtime victory over Butler.

At Louisville, Alton Lee Gipson scored 33 points and David Speights came off the bench with 23 more to lead Florida State to a 97-93 upset of second-seeded Virginia Tech in the opening round of the Metro Conference tournament.

Roger McClendon scored 16 points in the second half as Cincinnati beat Tulane 58-44 in another first-round Metro game.

Dave Robinson scored 33 points and snared 13 rebounds as Navy overpowered East Carolina 94-73 in a first-round game of the ECAC South tournament at Williamsburg, Va. Richmond, the tournament's No. 2 seed, disposed of American University 74-68 in the tournament's second game behind Kelvin Johnson's 25 points.

surgery, agreed with Gardner. Fuzzy made bogey-5 on the hole.

"I can sleep on a 5," he said. "But a 6 or a 7 or an 8 would be a little hard to handle."

Mark McCumber, a winner two weeks ago in the Doral-Eastern Open, was two strokes back of the leader with a 68. Gardner was alone at 69 with Zoeller and five others at 70, the only others of the select, invitational field able to break par 71 in the gusty, blustery winds.

Tied with Zoeller were Nick Faldo of England, Nick Price of South Africa, Bob Lohr, Billy Glasson and Tim Simpson.

British Open champ Seve Ballesteros and Australian Greg Norman were in a large group at 71. Masters titleholder Ben Crenshaw took a 76. Host Arnold Palmer struggled to a 78.

The highlight to Hatafsky's effort was his 2-iron shot dead into the wind that found the cup for an eagle on the 10th hole. But he said the "key, in the sense of finishing off a good round," was a 15-foot putt for bogey on the 13th, where he hit his second shot in the water.

"That kept me going," said Hatafsky, who dropped 20 strokes for birdie on two of the next four holes.

State

second half of the sloppy game.

Seminole finished with 30 turnovers. Brownsboro had 24.

Terry Bailey scored 20 points for Seminole, 30-3. Jonathan Bell added 19. Bryan Bragg and Ricky Banks each had 16 for Brownsboro, 30-4.

Donald Lemons had 19 points and six rebounds to pace Sweeny's 58-48 win over Ingleside. Chuck Wiginton led Ingleside, 29-4, with 24 points.

Senior Chris Gerber hit two free throws with eight seconds to play to give Nazareth the 44-42 win over Munday. The win gave Nazareth Coach Joe Lombard a chance for a double — his girls team won the state title here last week.

Munday ran off seven straight points at the end of the third quarter to build a 35-28 lead. But Nazareth, 28-5, tied it at 37 halfway through the fourth quarter.

Sophomore guard J.B. Jones hit a 17-foot jumper with 12 seconds to play to pull Munday into a 42-42 tie. Gerber then hit the winning free throws.

Six seconds later, Gerber blocked Jones' final shot.

Gerber led the Swifts with 11 points. Russell Hoelting added 10. Dent Offutt, quarterback on Munday's state champion football team, had 13 for the Mugsuls, 18-6.
